SMU Tops Bears, Aggies Trip Owls

Southern Methodist and Baylor continued their cut-throat tactics Saturday while Texas A&M waltzed into undisputed second place in the Southwest Conference baseball race.

SMU revenged an 8-1 defeat suffered at the hands of Baylor Friday by slamming the Bears, 13-6, Saturday. The Mustangs literally walked away with the decision. Outhit by the Baptists, 10-7, they capitalized on 13 bases on balls issued by three Baylor pitchers.

Bear outfielder Buddy Parker led the game's batters with three bingles, one of them a ninthinning two-run homer, Top man at the plate for the Mustangs was TEXAS TOWN inning two-run homer, Top man at sixth. A walk to Guss Hrncir, a Charles Galey with two for three.

the lead for keeps in the sixth. A walk to Guss Hrncir, a single by Bengston set the stage for a two-run one-base knock by Burrows.

After their five run splurge in the seventh, Texas added insult to injury in the eighth when Womack, Bigham, and Frank Kana singled in order for two runs.

The plate for the Mustangs was Charles Galey with two for three.

Meanwhile, at College Station the Aggies tripped Rice, 7-2, on Pat Hubert's fine pitching.

A&M jumped into the lead in the first inning and never relinquished their advantage as Hubert allowed the Owls only one Kana singled in order for two run and two hits in the eight innings he hurled.

Maroons Monday

If past performance means anything, the Yearlings will knock off the marcons. The Frosh have lost to Baylor and St. Edwards, but roared back to take their second game with the Edsman.

The two games that the Frosh have lost this season, both by 5-4 counts, fell to opponents in the late innings. Coach Dan Watson attributed some of this inability to take and maintain a lead to inaccurate fielding by the outfield. Watson has had the lads by the chalk cliffs working hard this week, as a result.

Travis Eckhart and Ken Horton, each of whom connected for a round-trip against St. Edwards last week, will start at left field and shortstop respectively.

Bill Newberry will start at second base, Paul Mohr at first, Hib Ingrham in right field, Walker at third base, and Hendrickson in center field.

The Greater Meed

IT IS TOO LATE to return General on the American political scene. MacArthur to his throne of power in the Far East. Both the American public and the United States Congress should realize this. It is also too late to scream and demand that he be returned.

One of the saddest outcomes of the Presidential move was to show how little unity exists between the legislative and administrative branches of the government. For that matter, between members of Congress themselves. The President, for once, rose above petty politics, and in this alone lies hope.

General MacArthur contended - and still contends-that the United States should strike directly at Red China regardless of whether the British and other countries would withdraw support. He believes that the US could carry such a war alone. This is dangerous thinking, not only because it would place the the Russians to enter the war on a full scale basis.

It is very doubtful that President Truman's opponents will get very far in their present attacks against Mac-Arthur's ouster. The verbal brickbats. says one Republican representative, are for nuisance value only. The Results

THE CALIFORNIA Court of Appeals has now wisely invalidated the special anti-Communist declaration which had been imposed by the Board of Regents on the University of California's faculty.

Loyalty cannot, of course, be guaranteed by a loyalty oath-even by the regular oath required of all state employees, United States in the legal position of including the members of the California aggressor, but because it would invite faculty. But that kind of oath is simply a public avowal of loyalty, and there cannot be serious objection to it. It is the imposition of the SPECIAL test to which spokesmen for a large segment of the academic world-and the eighteen professors now reinstated by court action-take exception.

Apart from the obvious futility of a sort of super-oath - to which no real Communist would hesitate for a moment to subscribe if it served his purpose—it carries an unavoidable implication that teachers are somehow more suspect than other citizens and require special depositions to prove their honesty and their THE TEXAS SENATE can certainly innocence. All that this famous oath has done has been to throw the university into an uproar, drive some scholars of integrity and distinction away from it and lower its prestige throughout the country.

Czech Club Continues Slavonic Interests

The University Czech Club, founded 42 years ago, will have an open forum Wednesday night at 7 o'clock in the Union with Senator Gus J. Strauss of Hallets-cek, professor of Slavonic languages, the Czech Club is one of . the oldest clubs on the campus still active. When the club was founded in 1909 there were four Czech'regular students enrolled: Miloslav J. Breuer of Cameron, C. H. Chernosky of Brenham, E. E. Krenek of Dime Box, and Alois Mikeska of Caldwell. At this same time the Texas newspaper Syoboda (Freedom) reported that "our countryment care less for schooling than do Negroes . . . there are one hundred Negro students to our one. Perhaps someday it will be otherwise." The four Czech students met from time to time and on October 23, 1909, they organized a club "Cechie" for the purpose of im-

Of the founders who live in Texas and are still active are C. H. Chernosky, Dr. Josef Kopecky, and Eduard E. Krenek. All three were born in Texas and are the sons of Texas ploneers, who brought to Texas from Moravia, Silesia, and Bohemia, health, strength, honesty, thrift, industriousness, and love of freedom and

First published in 1938, it is the only publication of its kind on the campus, said Billy H. Amsted. assistant professor of mechanical engineering and editor of the journal.

This issue includes an explanation of the novel technique used in building the Commodore Perry Hotel from the top story down, as well as an article by John A. McCurdy, executive secretary of the Ex-Students' Association, explaining the position of alumni of modern institutions of higher learning. He explains that modern alumni are accepting the responsibility of helping their colleges to develop and also are helping to pay for that development.

In her book, Miss Kennelly attempts to show that Booth's loss of voice, and with it his fame and fortune as an actor, was the cause of the assassination.

John Wilkes Booth was an actor to the end. This book would show that he was not a great Southern patriot, and there was not a group of rebel conspirators behind him. The people later executed as conspirators were, in most cases, innocently involved in Booth's plot.

"The Spur" is a significant title because the spur on Booth's boot was indirectly a large factor in his capture after the assassination. He entered the president's theater box, shouted "sic semper tyrannis" (ever thus to tyrants), shot Lincoln, and jumped over the Explorers returning from the the cross.
