

A Holmes and Doyle Bibliography

Volume 9
All Formats—Combined Alphabetical Listing

Compiled by Timothy J. Johnson

Minneapolis
High Coffee Press
2018

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

INTRODUCTION

This bibliography is a work in progress. It attempts to update Ronald B. De Waal's comprehensive bibliography, The Universal Sherlock Holmes, but does not claim to be exhaustive in content. New works are continually discovered and added to this bibliography. Readers and researchers are invited to suggest additional content.

This volume contains all listings in all formats, arranged alphabetically by author or main entry. In other words, it combines the listings from Volume 1 (Monograph and Serial Titles), Volume 3 (Periodical Articles), and Volume 7 (Audio/Visual Materials) into a comprehensive bibliography. (There may be additional materials included in this list, e.g. duplicate items and items not yet fully edited.) As in the other volumes, coverage of this material begins around 1994, the final year covered by De Waal's bibliography, but may not yet be totally up-to-date (given the ongoing nature of this bibliography). It is hoped that other titles will be added at a later date. At present, this bibliography includes 12,594 items.

The compiler wishes to thank Peter E. Blau, Don Hobbs, Leslie S. Klinger, and Fred Levin for their assistance in providing additional entries for this bibliography.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1. "10 People Who Mattered 2008." Time 172, no. 26 (2008): 100-114.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article discusses U.S. celebrities from 2008. Includes Robert Downey Jr. and mention of Holmes. "...Next year Downey will attempt to breathe new life into Sherlock Holmes. After what he's been through, it should be elementary."

2. 25 Mystery Classics. [Hallandale, FL]: Global Access Entertainment, 2010. Visual Material 2 videodisc.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. 25 movie classics collectors edition; Best of the best collectors edition; DVD. 2 double-sided DVD". //

3. "32-year index, part 1: Articles and notes." Studies in Short Fiction 32, no. 4 (1995): 521.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents an index of articles and notes, arranged alphabetically by literary subject and author name, published in 'Studies in Short Fiction' from 1963 to 1995. Includes entry for: Hall, Jasmine Yong. "Ordering the Sensational: Sherlock Holmes and the Female Gothic." 28: 295-303.

4. "32-year index, part 2: Book reviews." Studies in Short Fiction 32, no. 4 (1995): 623.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents an index of book reviews, arranged alphabetically by the name of author, editor, or translator of the book reviewed, published in 'Studies in Short Fiction' from 1963 to 1995. Includes entries for: Cox, Don Richard: Arthur Conan Doyle. (George Monteiro, rev.) 23: 218-19; Doyle, Sir Arthur Conan: Tales of Terror and Mystery. (Howard Lachtman, rev.) 15: 117-19; Paul, Robert S.: What Ever Happened to Sherlock Holmes?: Detective Fiction, Popular Theology, and Society. (A. Nicholas Fargnoli, rev.) 29: 405-06.

5. "35-Year Index, Part 1: Articles and Notes." Studies in Short Fiction 36, no. 1 (1999): 1-110.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The section presents an index of articles and notes published in the Studies in Short Fiction since 1964. Includes entries under: Hall, Jasmine Yong. "Ordering the Sensational: Sherlock Holmes and the Female Gothic." 28: 295-303; and "hook" reviews under Doyle.

6. "35-Year Index, Part 2: Book Reviews." Studies in Short Fiction 36, no. 2 (1999): 121-198.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This section presents an index of book reviews published in Studies of Short Fiction since 1963 and listed alphabetically by the name of the author, editor, or translator of the book reviewed. Includes entries under: Cox, Don Richard: Arthur Conan Doyle. (George Monteiro, rev.) 23: 218-19; Doyle, Sir Arthur Conan: Tales of Terror and Mystery. (Howard Lachtman, rev.) 15: 117-19; Paul, Robert S.: What Ever Happened to Sherlock Holmes?: Detective Fiction, Popular Theology, and Society. (A. Nicholas Fargnoli, rev.) 29: 405-06.

7. 50 Mystery Movies. [Ultimo, N.S.W.]: Payless Entertainment [distributor], 2000. Visual Material 12 videodiscs (DVD).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w. ; 12 cm. // 1 Bulldog Drummond's Revenge · 2 Bulldog Drummond Escapes · 3 Bulldog Drummond in Africa · 4 Bulldog Drummonds' Secret Police · 5 Bulldog Drummond Comes Back · 6 Bulldog Drummond's Peril · 7 Dick Tracy, Detective · 8 Dick Tracy Meets Gruesome · 9 Dick Tracy vs Cue Ball · 10 The Shadow Strikes · 11 The Shadow: International Crime · 12 Mr. Moto's Last Waning · 13 The Mysterious Mr. Wong · 14 Mr. Wong, Detective · 15 Sherlock Holmes: The Sign of Four · 16 The Triumph of Sherlock Holmes · 17 Sherlock Holmes: Murder at the Baskervilles · 18 Sherlock Holmes: The Woman in Green · 19 Sherlock Holmes: A Study in Scarlet · 20 Sherlock Holmes and the Secret Weapon · 21 Sherlock Holmes: Terror by Night · 22 Sherlock Holmes: Dressed to Kill · 23 Nancy Drew, Reporter · 24 The Kennel Murder Case · 25 The Death Kiss · 26 Suddenly · 27 Impact · 28 He Walked by Night · 29 Quicksand · 30 Eyes in the Night · 31 The Man on the Eiffel Tower · 32 Topper Returns · 33 The Green Glove · 34 The Second Woman · 35 Fog Island · 36 They Made Me a Criminal · 37 Jigsaw · 38 Algiers · 39 Murder With Pictures · 40 The Stranger · 41 Murder at Midnight · 42 Kansas City Confidential · 43 Detour · 44 Too Late For Tears · 45 Mystery Liner · 46 Scarlet Street · 47 Midnight Manhunt · 48 Murder by Television · 49 The Moonstone · 50 Great Guy.

8. "50 Years Ago." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 2, no. 2 (1998): 3.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Highlights the 1948 publication of The Client's Case-Book by The Illustrious Clients of Indianapolis.

9. "50 Years Ago." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 2, no. 3 (1998): 3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Highlights the founding of the Norwegian Explorers scion society in 1948.
10. "50 Years Ago." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 2, no. 4 (1998): 4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Highlights the 1948 publication of The Adventure of the Blue Carbuncle by the Baker Street Irregulars.
11. "50 Years Ago: 'We may need an interpreter.'" Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 2, no. 1 (1998): 5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Notes French, German, and Spanish titles from the Holmes Collections, especially La casa vacia (The Empty House) purchased by Dr. Philip Hench in 1961.
12. "50 Years Ago: 'you will send for a hansom'." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 1, no. 2 (1997): 5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses The Second Cab and other "Cab" publications of the Speckled Band of Boston. Also discusses Vincent Starrett's short story, "A Picture for Ronald Colman."
13. "50 Years Ago: 'Cadaver in the Roman Toga' by Edith Meiser airs on November 9, 1947." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 1, no. 1 (1997): 3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A brief biographical sketch of actress and writer Edith Meiser. Includes a photograph of Meiser and a reproduction of page one of the script for "Cadaver in the Roman Toga."
14. "50 Years Ago: From the archives of the Norwegian Explorers." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 1, no. 4 (1997): 5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports on material in the Norwegian Explorers archive related to its inaugural meeting in 1947 and first general meeting in 1948.
15. "50 Years Ago: Howard Haycraft and Ellery Queen's Mystery Magazine." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 1, no. 3 (1997): 5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Highlights Howard Haycraft's contributions to Ellery Queen's Mystery Magazine and reprints part of a 1947 column by Haycraft in EQMM. Includes a reproduction of a cover of EQMM from the John Bennett Shaw Collection and the first page of an article by Haycraft in the November 1947 EQMM (from the Haycraft Collection).
16. 50th Running Chicago Silver Blaze Congratulations From Sherlockian Scions. Chicago: The Watsonians, 2009.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
17. "60th Anniversary Weekend Activities." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 1 (1994): 49-50.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Recap on the Annual Christopher Morley New York Memorial Walk, the Mrs. Hudson Breakfast, the William Gillette Memorial Luncheon, and the reception
18. "The 60th Anniversary Weekend Continued: The Woman." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 2 (1994): 117.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Photograph, with caption, of Theresa Thomalen, The Woman at the 1994 BSI dinner.
19. "72nd Syndicate Directory Section." Editor & Publisher 130, no. 31 (1997): 17S.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a directory of syndicates in the United States. Includes The Games Afoot-Sherlock Holmes Crime Scene Chronicles -- Jack Harris/Howard Bender; Modern Sherlock Holmes (Mystery) -- J. Sherrod.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

20. "100 Years." Time 148, no. 1 (1996): 10.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a photographic retrospective of the Olympic Games starting with the first successful modern Olympics in Athens, Greece on April 6, 1896. Caption with Doyle reference for 1908 games in London. "The eruption of Mount Vesuvius forced a move from Rome. There was another eruption when Italy's Dorando Pietri finished the marathon first--with the help of officials, one of whom may have been Arthur Conan Doyle."
21. "100 Years Ago." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 2, no. 2 (1998): 2.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Highlights the 1898 edition of William Gillette's play "Held By The Enemy."
22. "100 Years Ago." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 2, no. 3 (1998): 2.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Highlights the 1898 publication of "The Sign of the Four" in Pitman's shorthand.
23. "100 Years Ago." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 2, no. 4 (1998): 2.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Highlights Sherlockian James Montgomery (b. 1898) and his writings.
24. "100 Years Ago: 'The Press....is a most valuable institution'." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 1, no. 2 (1997): 2.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reprint of a letter written by Doyle to The Times, October 20, 1897 from Morley's Hotel, Trafalgar Square, London, WC
25. "100 Years Ago: 'To Ada, from her old friend Arthur Conan Doyle, Jan. 18, '97'." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 1, no. 3 (1997): 2.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses a photograph taken of Doyle in New York, during his 1894 tour of the United States and Canada and the mysteries associated with the inscription on the back of the photograph. Includes a reproduction of the photograph and inscription.
26. "100 Years Ago: Ada and the Napoleon of Photography." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 1, no. 4 (1997): 2.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A follow-up article on the mysteries presented in an inscription on the back side of a photograph taken of Doyle in New York. The photographer is identified as Napoleon Sarony, known for his photographs of celebrities in the late 19th century. The identity of the "Ada" of the inscription is still unknown, Ada Waller and Ada Pasby being the most likely candidates.
27. "100 Years Ago: For a Song?". Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 2, no. 1 (1998): 2.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Highlights publication of Songs of Action, a collection of poetry and "The Song of the Bow," sheet music based on the same ballad of the outland bowmen found in Doyle's The White Company.
28. "The 100-Year-Old Secret: The Sherlock Files, Book 1." Kirkus Reviews 76, no. 7 (2008): 352-352.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "The 100-Year-Old Secret: The Sherlock Files," vol. 1, by Tracy Barrett.
29. "125 years of MTNA." The American Music Teacher 51, no. 1 (2001): 16-55.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A special section celebrating 125 years of the Music Teachers National Association (MTNA). The section focuses on MTNA presidents and MTNA chief staff executives through the years, the MTNA Scholarship Foundation, the MTNA Professional Certification Program, the MTNA Competitions Program, and the MTNA Composer Commissioning Program. The section includes a timeline of notable or historical events that took place during the 125-year history of the MTNA. Included in this timeline is a reference for 1892--Conan Doyle: Adventures of Sherlock Holmes.
30. 1950s TV's greatest detectives. [Shaumburg, IL]: Falcon Picture Group, 2002. Visual Material 3 videodiscs.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. "Digitally Restored"--Container. // 12 episodes from television programs that originally aired in the 1950's. Disc 1. Dragnet : The big seventeen / with Jack Webb;

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

(11-06-52). Peter Gunn : Let's kill Timothy / with Craig Stevens; (01-19-59). Treasury men in action : The case of the shot in the dark / with Carles Bronson; (06-09-55). Mystery theatre presents. Mark Saber of the homicide squad : The casde of the hair of the dog / with Tom Conway (1952) -- Disc 2. Dick Tracy : Shaky's secret treasure / with Ralph Byrd; (1952). Mr. & Mrs. North : Weekend Murder / with Richard Denning and Barbara Britton; (10-03-52). Sherlock Holmes : The case of the Cunningham heritage / with Rondald Howard; (1954). The Lone Wolf : The Werewolf story / with Louis Hayward; (1954) -- Disc 3. Gangbusters : Dillinger / with Myron Healey; (1955). I am the law : The killer / with George Raft; (06-19-53). Man against crime : The victim is Venus / with Ralph Bellamy; (11-12-59). Martin Kane, Private eye : Movie theatre murder / with William Gargan; (02-15-51).

31. "1995 Study Tour Roundup." American Libraries 26, no. 3 (1995): 254.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Lists several study tours which may be of interest to librarians and educators. One tour includes a reference to Holmes. "British Myth and Mystery Tour. Participants will follow the trail of Sherlock Holmes, visit London's Old Bailey, and learn about some of the myths and legends of King Arthur."
32. "2001 Selected Videos, DVDs, and Audiobooks for Young Adults." School Library Journal 47, no. 4 (2001): 59.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents the winners of the 2001 Selected Videos, DVD and Audiobooks for Young Adults, selected by the Young Library Services Association. Includes Sherlock's Secret Life, by Ed Lang. Read by Karl Malden and performed by N.Y. State Theatre Institute. 2 cassettes. 1:43 hrs. ISBN 1-892613-03-4. 1999. $16.95. New York State Theatre Institute. "The young Sherlock Holmes, and his familiar cohorts, Dr. Watson and Professor Moriarty, are portrayed in this original and fully dramatized story about an early case that brought the detective to the brink of lovelorn heartbreak."
33. "2003: The Crap So Far." Rolling Stone, no. 916 (2003): 68.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews several motion pictures released in the year 2003. Includes "Shanghai Knights" with the following remark: "The sequel moves the boys to London, where they do the same shtick (Chan somersaults, Wilson wisecracks). They also try to catch the killer of Chon's father with the help of the young Charlie Chaplin and police inspector Artie Doyle, who likes Roy's name for a fictional detective: Sherlock Holmes."
34. "2004: Best, Notable & Recommended." Teacher Librarian 31, no. 4 (2004): 8-18.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a list of recommended books, software online subscription service, videos and sound recordings for children and young adults. Lists The Great Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Arthur Conan Doyle. Penguin Putnam. 0-14-036689-X.
35. "Abbey National Unveil Bronze of Sherlock Holmes." Birmingham Post, October 9, 1999: 32.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "In the detective's shadow: Abbey National has tried to dilute the image of banks as soulless organisations, whose only driving force is the creation of profit, by unveiling a three-metre high bronze of Sherlock Holmes as part of its 150th anniversary celebrations. The move commemorates the bank's 'association' with the detective, dating back to 1932, when Abbey's head offices moved to Baker Street and incorporated Holmes' fictional address of 211b. Abbey still receives letters addressed to the crime-buster, which are answered by his 'secretary' who works for the bank."
36. Abbreviated Bibliographic Check List of A. Conan Doyle. Canterbury, Kent: Tiger Books, 1993.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The information is restricted to first appearances of his articles and stories in magazines and newspapers and to the first editions of his books, and relies to a great extent on the Green/Gibson bibliography. The checklist is certainly much handier for the collector to carry along to bookshops than the more detailed bibliography, but has one serious defect: there is no index, and magazines are reported chronologically according to the first appearances of Conan Doyle item, so anyone finding a run of Pearson's, for example, will locate the check list of ACD's contributions to the magazine only by searching a three-page table of contents."
37. About a hundred years. East Barnet, Hertfordshire: Symposium, 1997. Sound Recording (CD) 1 sound disc (79 min., 40 sec.).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. A history of sound recording, illustrated by vocal, instrumental, and spoken word recordings and examples of various recording devices. Compact disc. Program notes ([18] p. ; 12 cm.) on container insert. Recorded 1889-1943. //

38. "About London." New Statesman 129, no. 4481 (2000): 4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents information related to London, England, including a quote from Doyle. "London, that great cesspool into which all the loungers of the Empire are irresistibly drained." in A Study in Scarlet (1887).
39. "Abstracts of the AMEE Conference, Vienna, Austria, 31 August to 3 September 1997, part 1." Medical teacher 20, no. 1 (1998): 49-65.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Part I. Presents the abstracts from the Association for Medical Education in Europe (AMEE) conference held in Vienna, Austria, from August 31 to September 3, 1997. Includes a passing reference to Holmes in the abstract for "Teaching Clinical Decision Making." "...There are masters who can combine these techniques to achieve success in clinical decision making. The best master to study is Sherlock Holmes. When examined critically, his methodologies mimic closely those of very good educators. An illustrative case will be presented."
40. "Acquisitions." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 5, no. 1 (2001): 7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Highlights recent acquisitions from David Hammer, Ted Friedman, J. Randolph Cox, John and Inez Bergquist, and Hugo Koch. Includes photographs of Richard Sveum with Ted Friedman, John Bergquist with Tim Johnson and Michael Meer, and Ted Friedman's stamp moulage.
41. "Acquisitions." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 5, no. 2 (2001): 8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Notes gifts to the Collections from Christopher and Barbara Roden (a copy of their latest publication, The Haunted Grange of Goresthorpe); Dale Ahlquist, President of the American Chesterton Society, and his donation of a copy of Sherlock Holmes Meets Father Brown and His Creator; Dr. William A. S. Sarjeant, M. Bt, and his gift of several items during his visit; and Daniel Morrow's gift of several journal clippings and articles regarding Sherlock Holmes and radio.
42. "Acquisitions." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 5, no. 3 (2001): 10.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Notes recent additions to the Collections including donations from Caroline Bryan, Steve Clarkson, Don Hobbs, Charles Press, Allen J. Heiss, Doug Wrigglesworth, Les Klinger, and Ed Christenson.
43. "Acquisitions." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 4, no. 2 (2000): 4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Notes the acquisition of cigars from C Us 4 Cigars in Aurora, Illinois; Brad Keefauver's gift of materials related to the "Sherlock Holmes for President" campaign, and other materials from Philip Sherman, Geoff Jeffrey, Ted Bergman, and John Bergquist. Includes photos of Keefauver and the cigars.
44. "Acquisitions." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 4, no. 4 (2000): 7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Notes the donation of Arthur M. Axelrad's Hot on the Scent, A Visitor's Guide to the London of Sherlock Holmes and the purchase of a new archive of Eve Titus, to be featured in a later issue of the newsletter.
45. "Acquisitions." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 2, no. 3 (1998): 4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Highlights the acquisition of "On Grimpen Mire," a bronze sculpture donated by the sculptor Lynette Yencho and her husband Michael.
46. "Acquisitions." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 2, no. 4 (1998): 5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Highlights some recent acquisitions by the Sherlock Holmes Collections.
47. "Actor Jeremy Brett Dies at 59; Sherlock Holmes on 'Mystery'." The Washington Post, September 16, 1995: B04.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Jeremy Brett, 59, the actor who since 1984 had brought the legendary detective Sherlock Holmes to life in 41 episodes of public television's "Mystery" series, died of a heart ailment Sept. 12 at his home...."

48. The adventure of Sherlock Holmes' smarter brother. Beverly Hills, CA: Twentieth Century Fox Home Entertainment, 2006. Visual Material 1 videodisc (91 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, widescreen (1.85:1) and full screen (1.33:1) presentations; Dolby Digital stereo, mono. Released in 1975 as a motion picture. Special features: Full-length audio commentary by Gene Wilder; original theatrical trailer. Participants: Gene Wilder, Madeline Kahn, Marty Feldman, Dom DeLuise, Leo McKern. Audience: MPAA rating: PG. 20th Century-Fox ; producer, Richard A. Roth; writer-director, Gene Wilder. Music, John Morris. // Sigerson Holmes, brother of Sherlock, plays super detective in a plot against Queen Victoria.
49. "The Adventure of the Baffled Critic." The Camden House Journal 21, no. 11 (1999): 2-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
50. "The Adventure of the Sussex Vampire." Scholastic Voice 64, no. 16 (1980): 14-17, 23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Illustrated.
51. "An adventure with books." Reading Today 19, no. 5 (2002): 25.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a list of books recommended to school children. Entries under "Eighth Grade" include The Hound of the Baskervilles by Arthur Conan Doyle (Signet).
52. Adventures in Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's The lost world. [Volume one]. [Quebec?]: BrandXtensions Films, 2001. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 132 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Five episodes of the television program based on the book "The lost world" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Vivavision ; Vivatoon ; directed by Francois Brisson. Animated //
53. Adventures in Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's The lost world. [Volume two]. [Quebec?]: BrandXtensions Films, 2001. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 133 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Five episodes of the television program based on the book "The lost world" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Vivavision ; Vivatoon ; directed by Francois Brisson. Animated //
54. "The Adventures of Arthur Conan Doyle: A Biography." Kirkus Reviews 76, no. 20 (2008): 1104-1104.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "The Adventures of Arthur Conan Doyle: A Biography," by Russell Miller. "Balanced, highly readable biography of Sherlock Holmes's phenomenally prolific creator, who began his career as a hardheaded physician and ended it with a daffy devotion to Spiritualism and an adamant advocacy for existence of fairies."
55. The adventures of Sherlock Holmes. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2004. Visual Material 1 videodisc (82 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD video; region 1, full screen presentation; Dolby Digital. Originally released as a motion picture in 1939. Based on the play "Sherlock Holmes" by William Gillette; based on characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Special features: audio commentary with Richard Valley; selected theatrical trailers; production notes by Richard Valley; photo gallery. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, George Zucco, Ida Lupino, Alan Marshall. Audience: MPAA rating: Not rated. Twentieth Century-Fox ; King World Productions, Inc. ; screen play by Edwin Blum and William Drake ; directed by Alfred Werker. // Professor Moriarty has at long last been brought to trial for murder, but is acquitted after the court finds a lack of sufficient evidence. Moriarty wastes no time in plotting his next crime, but he must first divert the attention of the Great Detective.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

56. The adventures of Sherlock Holmes. [Oak Forest, IL]: MPI Home Video, 1995. Visual Material 5 videocassettes (260 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS format. Videocassette release of the 1983-84 television films. Participants: Jeremy Brett, David Burke. Granada Television Ltd. //
57. The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. [Orland Park, Ill.]: MPI Home Video, 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (3 1/2 hrs.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD; Dolby Digital. Videodisc release of first four episodes, c1983, of the television series. Based on the stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Special features include Sherlock Holmes series promo, Sherlock Holmes photo gallery, Jeremy Brett biography, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle biography. Participants: Jeremy Brett, David Burke. Granada Television Limited. // Scandal in Bohemia -- Dancing Men -- Naval treaty -- Solitary cyclist.
58. The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. [Oak Forest, Ill.]: MPI Home Video, 2002. Visual Material 5 videodiscs (690 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Videodisc release of episodes and excerpts from the television program. Originally produced in 1984-1985 by Granada Television. Participants: Jeremy Brett, David Burke. // v. 1. A scandal in Bohemia -- The dancing men -- The naval treaty -- The solitary cyclist -- v. 2. The crooked man -- The speckled band -- v. 3. The blue carbuncle -- The copper beeches -- v. 4. The Greek interpreter -- The Norwood builder -- v. 5. The resident patient -- The red headed league -- The final problem.
59. The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Phoenix, AZ: Grapevine Video, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (105 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- si., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Based on the stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: 1st feature: Georges Treville. 2nd-4th features: Eille Norwood, Hubert Willis. 1st feature: no credits given. 2nd-4th features: photography, Germain Burger. // The copper beaches (1912) -- The dying detective / Stoll Picture Productions Ltd. presents ; Maurice Elvey production ; scenario, William J. Elliott (1921) -- The devil's foot (1921) / Stoll Picture Productions Ltd. presents ; Maurice Elvey production ; scenario, William J. Elliott -- The man with the twisted lip (1921) / Stoll Picture Productions Ltd. presents ; Maurice Elvey production ; scenario, William J. Elliott.
60. The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. [s.l.]: [s.n.], 2002. Visual Material 1 videocassette (82 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS format. Based on the novel by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and the play by William Gillette. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Ida Lupino, Alan Marshall. Screenplay, Edwin Blum ; director, Alfred Werker. // Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson help a desperate woman who has a curse on her family and something's trying to do her in. At the same time--and not unrelated--someone (Dr. Moriarty) is attempting to steal the Crown Jewels, including the priceless Star of Delhi.
61. The adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Disc 1 [volume 1]. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (230 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, full screen presentation; Dolby Digital. Special features: Sherlock Holmes series promo; photo gallery; Jeremy Brett biography; Sir Arthur Conan Doyle biography. Participants: Jeremy Brett, David Burke. Granada Television series ; Granada Media. // Contains 4 episodes from the complete thirteen episode collection. Scandal in Bohemia -- Dancing men -- Naval treaty -- Solitary cyclist.
62. The adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Disc 2 [volume 2]. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (230 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, full screen presentation; Dolby Digital. Special features: photo gallery; actor biographies and filmographies; Sherlock & Brett societies. Participants: Jeremy Brett, David Burke. Granada Television series ; Granada Media. // Contains 2 episodes from the complete thirteen episode collection. Crooked man -- Speckled band.
63. The adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Disc 3 [volume 3]. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (230 min.).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, full screen presentation; Dolby Digital. Special features: photo gallery; Paget's drawings part I; Sherlock & Brett societies part II. Participants: Jeremy Brett, David Burke. Granada Television series ; Granada Media. // Contains 2 episodes from the complete thirteen episode collection. Blue carbuncle -- Copper beaches.

64. The adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Disc 4 [volume 4]. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (230 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, full screen presentation; Dolby Digital. Special features: photo gallery; Paget's drawings part II; Sherlock & Brett societies part III. Participants: Jeremy Brett, David Burke. Granada Television series ; Granada Media. // Contains 2 episodes from the complete thirteen episode collection. Greek interpreter -- Norwood builder.

65. The adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Disc 5 [volume 5]. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (230 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, full screen presentation; Dolby Digital. Special features: photo gallery; Paget's drawings part III; Sherlock & Brett societies part IV. Participants: Jeremy Brett, David Burke. Granada Television series ; Granada Media. // Contains 3 episodes from the complete thirteen episode collection. Resident patient -- Red-headed league -- Final problem.

66. Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Vol. 2. Solana Beach, CA: Television Classics, 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (78 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, digitally remastered/sound enhanced. Based on the stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. "3 full-length episodes." // Case of the Eiffel Tower -- Case of the French interpreter -- Case of Harry Crocker.

67. The adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Vol. 2. [Ultimo, NSW, Australia]: Payless Entertainment, 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (DVD) (76 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. All regions, PAL. DVD. PEL125. Participants: Ronald Howard, H. Marion Crawford. // The case of the Eiffel Tower -- The case of the shy ballerina -- The case of the royal murder.

68. The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Vol. 3. [Ultimo, NSW, Australia]: Payless Entertainment, 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (DVD) (76 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. All regions, PAL. DVD. PEL126. Participants: Ronald Howard, H. Marion Crawford. // The case of the perfect husband -- The case of the reluctant carpenter -- The case of the Texas cowgirl.

69. Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Volume 2. [Dunellen, NJ]: Digiview Productions, 2004. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 75 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Participants: Cast: Ronald Howard. // Three episodes of the series The new adventures of Sherlock Holmes from 1954-1955.

70. The adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Volume 2. [Oak Forest, Ill.]: MPI Home Video, 2001. Visual Material 1 videodisc (110 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, Dolby digital stereo. Based on the books by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Features: Sherlock Holmes series promo, Sherlock Holmes photo gallery, Jeremy Brett biography, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle biography. Participants: Jeremy Brett, David Burke. Originally broadcast on television 1984. Audience: MPAA rating: Not rated. Granada Television International ; developed for television by John Hawkesworth ; produced by Michael Cox. Production credits vary by episode. // Two episodes of the television series dramatising the works of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.

71. Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Volume 3. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2001. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 100 min.).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, Dolby Digital. Videodisc release of episodes 7 & 8, c1983, of the television series. Based on the stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Jeremy Brett, David Burke. Granada Television Limited. //

72. Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Volume 3. Solana Beach, CA: Television Classics. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 100 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, Dolby Digital. Digitally remastered/sound enhanced./ Based on the stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle./ "4 full-length episodes." // The case of the deadly prophecy -- The case of the exhumed client -- The case of the belligerent ghost -- the case of Harry Crocker -- Bonus cartoon: Popeye "I don't scare".

73. The adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Volume 4. [Oak Forest, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2001. Visual Material 1 videodisc (100 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, Dolby digital stereo. Based on the books by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Features: photo gallery, Paget's drawings pt.2, Sherlock and Brett societies pt.3. Participants: Jeremy Brett, David Burke. Originally broadcast on television 1984. Audience: MPAA rating: Not rated. Granada Television International ; developed for television by John Hawkesworth ; produced by Michael Cox. Production credits vary by episode. // Two episodes of the television series dramatising the works of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.

74. The Adventures of Sherlock Homes, Vol. 1. [Canada?] : Media, Movies & More, 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 120 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. // The case of the impromptu performance -- The case of the split ticket.

75. The adventures of Sherlock Homes; Dragnet. [Mississauga, Ontario]: Disc Plaza Entertainment, 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (120 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. 2 double feature movies; DVD. The adventures of Sherlock Holmes is based on the story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Videodisc release of four episodes of the television programs, The adventures of Sherlock Holmes and Dragnet. // The adventures of Sherlock Holmes: The case of the impromptu performance -- The case of the split ticket -- The case of the deadly prophecy -- The case of the neurotic detective. Dragnet: The big Betty -- The big crime -- The big family -- The big counterfeit.

76. The adventures of the great mouse detective. Burbank, CA: Walt Disney Home Video : Distributed by Buena Vista Home Entertainment, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (74 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, Dolby digital surround. Based on the Basil of Baker Street book series by Eve Titus and Paul Galdone. Originally released as a motion picture in 1986. Features: making of The great mouse detective, "Clock cleaners" animated short, "Donald's crime" animated short, The world's greatest criminal mind, The great mouse detective scrapbook. Participants: Voices: Vincent Price, Barrie Ingham, Val Bettin, Susanne Pollatschek, Candy Candido, Diana Chesney, Eve Brenner, Alan Young. Walt Disney Pictures in association with Silver Screen Partners II ; produced by Burny Mattinson ; directed by John Musker ... [et al.] ; story adapted by Pete Young ... [et al.]. Art director, Guy Vasilovich; animators, Matthew O'Callahan ... [et al.]; editors, Roy M. Brewer, Jr., James Melton; music, Henry Mancini. // Basil, the rodent Sherlock Holmes, investigates the kidnapping of a toymaker and uncovers its link to a conspiracy to commit high treason.

77. Adventures of the lost world. [s.l.]: ILC Prime [distributor], 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (DVD) (106 min).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. "Special features. 6 interactive chapter points"---cover. IPD10678. Based on a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Peter McCauley, Rachel Blakeley, David Orth, William Snow. Director: Richard Franklin. // Travelling through the uncharted Amazon Jungle, professor Edward Challenger and his companions must defend themselves against incredible dangers. Trapped between the present and the past, their attackers are from an age unknown and long forgotten: ape man, immense crocodiles and flesh devouring dinosaurs.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

78. "Adventuresses at Saratoga." The Serpentine Muse 20, no. 1 (2003): inside rear cover.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
79. "Adventuresses at the Silver Blaze, Delaware 2005." The Serpentine Muse 21, no. 4 (2005): inside rear cover.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
80. "Afterword(s): The Great Variety of Readers." Critical Survey 14, no. 1 (2002): 111.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Offers a perspective on the history of literacy in early modern England. Discussion on the use of plural nouns in literature; Characteristics of literacies; Reason behind the spread of literacy during the period. Opening quote at head of article: "You know my method. It is founded upon observation of trifles." (Sir Arthur Conan Doyle)
81. "Agony Column." Baker Street West I 10, no. 1 (2004): 51-53.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
82. "Agony Column." Baker Street West I 10, no. 2 (2004): 47-48.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
83. "Agony Column." Baker Street West I 9, no. 1 (2003): 50.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
84. "Agony Column." Baker Street West I 9, no. 2 (2003): 47-48.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
85. "Agony Column." Baker Street West I 8, no. 1 (2002): 54-55.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
86. "Agony Column." Baker Street West I 8, no. 2 (2002): 42-45.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
87. "Agony Column." Baker Street West I 7, no. 1 (2001): 51.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
88. "Agony Column." Baker Street West I 7, no. 2 (2001): 51-53.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
89. "Agony Column." Baker Street West I 6, no. 2 (2000): 51-52.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
90. "Air Commandant Dame Jean Conan Doyle." The Times (London), January 30, 1998: 22.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Princess Alice Duchess of Gloucester was represented by Dame Jean Maxwell-Scott at a service of thanksgiving for the life of Air Commandant Dame Jean Conan Doyle held yesterday at St Clement Danes, Strand. The Rev David Mackenzie, Resident Chaplain, officiated. Air Chief Marshal Sir Michael Stear, President of the Naval 8/208 Squadron Association, and Air Commodore C.R. Fowler, Adviser Women Royal Air Force, also representing the Chief of the Air Staff, read the lessons. Air Chief Marshal Sir Lewis Hodges gave an address. The Lord-Lieutenant of Greater London and Lady Bramall attended. Among others present were: Mr and Mrs Michael Pooley, Mr Charles Foley, Mr Peter Foley, Mr and Mrs Robert Foley, Mrs John Doyle, Mr and Mrs Michael Beggs, Mr Richard Doyle, Mr and Mrs Richard Pooley, Mrs Marcus Humphrey....Mr B Wright (Sherlock Holmes Festival, Crowborough) and Mrs Wright, Mrs G Nassau (Conan Doyle Trust, Crowborough), Mrs F Brown, Miss T Lunn, Mr J Thrift, Mr G Budd (Conan Doyle Society) Mr A D Howlett and Mr S Davies (Sherlock Holmes Society) Mr J Berwanger (Chicago Sherlock Holmes Society), Mrs R O Kennee (Sherlock Holmes Society of London, USA), Miss D Watherspoon (Sir Arthur Conan Doyle Trust), Mr and Mrs Payne (Sir Arthur Conan Doyle Study Group), Mr P Harkness (

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Sherlock Holmes Detective Magazine), Mr N Utechin (Sherlock Holmes Journal), Mr D Harris (Crowborough Council)...."

91. "ALA Book Picks 2004." School Library Journal 50, no. 3 (2004): 58-66.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The American Library Association's book picks for 2004 are listed, including: Doyle, Arthur Conan. The Great Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Puffin. 1991. $5. ISBN 0-14-036689-X.
92. "ALA conference preview. (Cover story)." American Libraries 29, no. 4 (1998): 106.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents information on the American Library Association (ALA) annual conference in Washington, D.C. from June 25 to July 1, 1998. Includes "Sherlock Holmes In Washington." Peter E. Blau of The Red Circle of Washington and the infamous "Black Peter" of the Baker Street Irregulars, will be our host for Sherlockian presentation toasts, and canonical discussion at the National Press Club on the 13th floor of the National Press Building. Speakers: Gayle T. Harris, past-pres., libn., Lib. of Congress, "Skeletons in the Stacks"; Peter E. Blau, "Insights and Revelations on the World of Sherlockian Scholarship and Conviviality"; Francine Morris Swift, sr. surviving member of Sublibns., member, Baker Street Irregulars, Sherlock Holmes Society of London, "The Good Old Days of the Sublibrarians Scion."
93. "ALA/CLA Annual Conference." American Libraries 34, no. 3 (2003): 97.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents the schedule and highlights for the 2003 American Library Association/Canadian Library Association Annual Conference, held in Toronto, Canada. Notes "Sherlock Holmes in Toronto" and The Sub-Librarian Scion of the Baker Street Irregulars in the ALA meeting with an invitation to "come and tour the Arthur Conan Doyle Collection at the Toronto Reference Library. This is one of the world's finest collections of materials by and about Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Victoria Gill, Curator, will give an introduction to the Collection, emphasizing Sherlock Holmes. Afterwards, there will be a complimentary 'Coffee and Sticky Buns' light reception, hosted by the Bootmakers of Toronto, the local Sherlock Holmes scion society. Meet the Bootmakers and the Friends of the Arthur Conan Doyle Collection. Speaker: Victoria Gill, Curator of the Arthur Conan Doyle Collection"
94. "All 3 shows have their own angle." USA Today, December 6, 2002: E.02.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Need a scorecard to keep track of NBC's multiplying Law & Orders? Most fans know what distinguishes the 'mother' series, which premiered in 1990...Then came the spinoffs: Special Victims Unit...launched in 1999.... Criminal Intent...goes into the mind of the perpetrator and often leads up to the crime rather than following its aftermath. 'From the very first day, we said (Criminal Intent) is Sherlock Holmes,' Wolf says. 'That's the archetype. And that's what attracted (star) Vincent (D'Onofrio). Because Sherlock Holmes is, while very procedural, the most idiosyncratic of the major detectives. It's a voyage of discovery through his eyes. Kate (Erbe) is Dr. Watson. Jamey (Sheridan) is Lestat [sic]. It kind of breaks down very evenly.'..."
95. "All I want for Christmas." Newsweek 126, no. 23 (1995): 78.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a gift guide of music, books and other items for Christmas 1995. Photo caption reference to Rathbone as Holmes along with another Holmes reference. "Men who like their mayhem sedate and their detectives celibate will like Baker Street Studies (Otto Penzler. $8), first published in 1934: another anthology of gloriously stodgy essays in the Otto Penzler Sherlock Holmes Library. One essay defends Holmes against imputations of misogyny, and blames the sexless sleuth's cocaine habit on "frustrated desire." We've got our doubts: seems to us they could say the same thing about guys who watch eight hours of football every Sunday. Normal guys."
96. "American Literature." Reference & Research Book News 22, no. 3 (2007): 273-278.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews several books including The Beautiful Cigar Girl; Edgar Allan Poe, Mary Rogers, and the invention of murder. Stashower, Daniel. Dutton Books, 326 p. $25.95 "Stashower (mystery writer and Edgar Award-winning biographer of Arthur Conan Doyle) tells the sensational real-life story of the 1841 murder of Mary Rogers, New York City's 'beautiful cigar girl'--along with the real-life story of how Edgar Allen Poe transformed the crime into the short story that would invent modern detective fiction and that he hoped would turn his failing career around. During the decline of his wife's health and particular

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

personal hardship, Poe expanded his character C. Auguste Dupin's passion and talent for deductive reasoning to compose the longer-than-usual 'The Mystery of Mary Roget,' debuting the formula that would find its literary legacy in Sherlock Holmes and others."

97. "American Literature." Reference & Research Book News 22, no. 2 (2007): 260-266.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A list of items related to American literature that were published in several journals is presented including: The Origins of the American detective story. Panek, LeRoy Lad. McFarland & Co., ©2006. 227 p. $35.00 (pa). This volume traces the development of American detective fiction and its evolution from the nineteenth to the twentieth century. Panek explores factors that contributed to it, such as the popularity of Sherlock Holmes, the rise and fall of the police and detectives in society, the publication of treatises on criminality, the birth of 'crusading' newspaper reporters, the beginning of forensic science, and changes in rules of evidence and judicial procedures. He also discusses the role of women and other characters. Panek (English, McDaniel College) has written several books about crime fiction."
98. "American Literature." Reference & Research Book News 18, no. 3 (2003): 237-241.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Lists books on American literature. Lists Durkheim is Dead!: Sherlock Holmes is Introduced to Sociological Theory by Arthur Asa Berger (AltaMira Press, 2003) 172p. ISBN 0-7591-0299-6. "In a mystery novel featuring detective Holmes and his trusty sidekick Dr. Watson, Berger...explores the ideas of some of the most influential sociologists and social thinkers of the 19th and 20th centuries..."
99. "And here's one for Sherlock Holmes." Canadian Holmes 30, no. 1 (2006): 6-8.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
100. "The Anglo-Swiss Naval Treaty of 1895." Cliff Notes on Mrs. Hudson's Cliffdwellers 2, no. 2 (2000): 29-32.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
101. "Annual Bibliography of Works about Life Writing, 2002 --2003." Biography: An Interdisciplinary Quarterly 26, no. 4 (2003): 625-711.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Features books on biography. Includes following reference: Simmons, Diane. "The Curse of Empires Grandiosity and Guilt in the Stories of Arthur Conan Doyle." Psychoanalytic Review 89.4 (2002): 533-56. "Examines Doyle's history of loss and his 'narcissistic dualism' to gain an understanding of the psychic life of the British public during the high point of imperialism."
102. "Annual Dinner, The Morse Hudson Endeavour, 17th January 1998." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 23, no. 4 (1998): 148-150.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
103. "aNonYmouS uS." Canadian Holmes 19, no. 4 (1996): 34-36.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
104. "Anthony Howlett." The Times (London), September 16, 2003: 31.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Barrister who started the Sherlock Holmes Society but had a soft spot for the detective's nemesis, Moriarty. Anthony Howlett, Remembrancer of the City of London and founder of the Sherlock Holmes Society of London, was born on December 30, 1924. He died on August 21, 2003, aged 78....He revived the society under its present name after the Second World War, and acted for more than 30 years as secretary, chairman and, finally, president. Under his management, its membership grew from 130 to more than 1,000 members, acquiring in the process a long waiting list...."
105. "Antiques & Collecting: Collecting Dates." Birmingham Post, December 12, 1998: 47.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "...Next Thursday at Sotheby's sale rooms in New Bond Street, London, letters, photographs and other documents are being sold which show that this literary giant of extraordinary intellect and maturity was completely and utterly fooled by two small schoolgirls. The documents are among a magnificent collection of Sherlockiana which is being dispersed at an auction, efforts having failed to keep the entire collection - hundreds of books and thousands of other documents together. The collection was formed by

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Mr Norman L Rosenbaum who began when he was a student at London University, scouring the bookshops of Charing Cross Road and Cecil Court for the author's works...."

106. "APA announces Audie winners." Billboard 108, no. 28 (1996): 89.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports on the winners of the first Audie Awards, which were presented on June 14, 1996 by the Audio Publishers Association. "Best new voice: 'Sherlock Holmes: Tales Of Suspense,' by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, read by Edward Hardwicke, Tangled Web Audio."
107. "An appetising spread." Economist 389, no. 8606 (2008): 89-89.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article examines the market for corporate bonds. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "Sherlock Holmes might have called it 'the curious case of the corporate-bond market'. Most commentators agree that bonds issued by companies offer spreads over treasuries that more than compensate for the risk that the issuer might default. But few investors are tempted to buy...."
108. "Archive: on this Day." Birmingham Post, July 7, 2001: 8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // 1930: Death of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, creator of Sherlock Holmes: Born in Edinburgh in 1859, Doyle had completed his medical studies at the the University of Edinburgh before Holmes appeared for the first time in 1887 in the story A Study in Scarlet in Beeton's Christmas Annual...
109. "Arguments through the ages ; Conan Doyle: 'On the contrary, Watson, you can see everything'." Star Tribune (Minneapolis), Nov 4, 2002: 17.A.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Editor's note: Sir Arthur Conan Doyle (1859-1930), himself an amateur detective, is best known as the creator of the fictional consulting detective Sherlock Holmes and his associate, Dr. John Watson. Conan Doyle was so successful in constructing the character of Holmes that he came to be resented by fans who saw him as proof that their hero was mere fiction. Holmes, like Conan Doyle, was adept at deducing facts from seemingly inconsequential clues, a talent he demonstrated in such stories as 'The Adventure of the Blue Carbuncle,' excerpted here. In this passage, Holmes and Watson are discussing the identity of a man who, assaulted while carrying home a goose, fled the scene - leaving behind his hat and the goose."
110. "Around the State." Texas Monthly 32, no. 12 (2004): 34-58.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents the schedule of art and sports events in Texas from November 2004 to January 2005. Passing reference to Sherlock Holmes in the listing for the Houston Center for Photography show "Identifying Marks." Various photographers "play Sherlock Holmes with their camera, investigating the subjects on the other side of the lens."
111. "Around Town." The Statesman (India), December 8, 2006: 1.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Where's Watson Dear Watson, I am back. This December History Channel will show the adventures of Sherlock Holmes and his trusted aide Dr John Watson through the new series The Adventure of Sherlock Holmes. Indian viewers now have a chance to see Jeremy Brett's brilliant interpretation of Sherlock Holmes in the classic series that airs on 12 December at 9 p.m. An adaptation of the original stories, The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes brings alive mysteries such as A Solitary Cyclist, The Speckled Band, The Naval Treaty and many others...."
112. "Arthur Conan Doyle: A Life in Letters." Publishers Weekly 254, no. 32 (2007): 52-52.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book Arthur Conan Doyle: A Life in Letters, edited by Jon Lellenberg, Daniel Stashower and Charles Foley.
113. "Arthur Conan Doyle: A Life in Letters." Kirkus Reviews 75, no. 18 (2007): 973-973.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "Arthur Conan Doyle: A Life in Letters," by Jon Lellenberg and edited by Daniel Stashower and Charles Foley.
114. "Arthur Conan Doyle: A Life in Letters." Library Journal 132, no. 20 (2007): 114.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of Arthur Conan Doyle: A Life in Letters. Penguin Pr: Penguin Group (USA). 2007. c.608p. ed. by Jon Lellenberg & others, index. ISBN 978-1-59420-135-6. $37.95.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

115. "Artists in the Canon." Baker Street West 19, no. 2 (2003): 39-41.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
116. "Arts, Briefly; Ms. Rowling Drops a Hint." New York Times, July 10, 2007: 2.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // J. K. Rowling, describing herself as "euphoric" and "devastated" after 17 years of writing seven novels devoted to the adventures and travails of the boy wizard Harry Potter, tantalized millions of fans by hinting that one day she may return to the magical realm of the Hogwarts School of Witchcraft and Wizardry, Reuters reported. In an interview with the BBC, Ms. Rowling said: "I think that Harry's story comes to quite a clear end in Book Seven. But I have always said that I wouldn't say never. I can't say I will never write another book about that world, just because I think, 'What do I know, in 10 years' time I might want to return to it.' But I think it is unlikely." Meanwhile, thousands of fans have signed a petition urging the author to keep the series going after the publication of "Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows" on July 21. Despite speculation that Harry might die in the novel, the Waterstone's book chain, which established the petition, said his demise would be no obstacle to further adventures. "Sir Arthur Conan Doyle famously killed off Sherlock Holmes, yet brought him back after years of demand from his fans and publishers," said Wayne Winstone of Waterstone's. "Couldn't the same happen for Harry Potter?" But at least one person said he was happy that the series is ending. Daniel Radcliffe, who portrays Harry on screen, described himself in an interview in the August issue of Details as "the only kid in the world who doesn't want an eighth Harry Potter book." [Abstract from publisher]
117. "As DVD approaches, video CD questions and actions grow." CD-ROM Professional 9, no. 1 (1996): 15.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports that Hollywood Select has released a line of MPEG-1 CD-ROMs featuring classic Hollywood films, cartoons and documentaries. Holmes is mentioned, but no specific titles given.
118. "ASH at Mycroft's League." The Serpentine Muse 19, no. 4 (2003): inside rear cover.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
119. "ASH at the BSI Silver Blaze in Saratoga." The Serpentine Muse 22, no. 4 (2006): 12.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
120. "ASH at the Watsonian Weekend." The Serpentine Muse 18, no. 4 (2002): inside rear cover.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
121. "ASH goes to London." The Serpentine Muse 23, no. 2 (2007): 16.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
122. "ASH in Chicago." The Serpentine Muse 19, no. 3 (2003): inside rear cover.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
123. "The Ashenpoof Song." The Serpentine Muse 24, no. (2008): inside rear cover.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
124. "The Ashenpoof Song." The Serpentine Muse, no. (2007): inside rear cover.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
125. "The Ashenpoof Song." The Serpentine Muse, no. (2006): inside rear cover.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
126. "The Ashenpoof Song." The Serpentine Muse, no. (2005): inside rear cover.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
127. "The Ashenpoof Song." The Serpentine Muse, no. (2004): inside rear cover.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

128. "The Ashenpoof Song." The Serpentine Muse, no. (2003): inside rear cover.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
129. "The Ashenpoof Song." The Serpentine Muse, no. (2002): inside rear cover.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
130. "The Ashenpoof Song." The Serpentine Muse, no. (2001): inside rear cover.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
131. "The Ashenpoof Song." The Serpentine Muse, no. (2000): inside rear cover.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
132. "The Ashenpoof Song." The Serpentine Muse, no. (1999): inside rear cover.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
133. "The Ashenpoof Song." The Serpentine Muse, no. (1998): inside rear cover.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
134. "Ask Mary." Instructor 111, no. 1 (2001): 18.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Answers some queries on teaching in the United States as of August 2001. Passing reference to Holmes. "More advanced students can read Nancy Drew, or even Sherlock Holmes."
135. "Ask the Globe." The Boston Globe, April 19, 1997: B6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // An answer to the following reader question: Was the creator of master sleuth Sherlock Holmes a physician?
136. "Audio Reviews." Library Journal 125, no. 15 (2000): 130.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews several audio tapes. 'The Cliff Walk: A Memoir of a Job Lost and a Life Found,' by Don J. Snyder; 'Checkmates,' by Ron Miller; 'The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes II,' by Arthur Conan Doyle; 'Before I Say Good-Bye,' by Mary Higgins Clark; Others.
137. "Audio reviews." Publishers Weekly 244, no. 1 (1997): 29.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the sound recording 'The Lost World,' by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.
138. "Auld Lang Syne." Canadian Holmes 30, no. 3 (2007): 44.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
139. "Auld Lang Syne." Canadian Holmes 30, no. 1 (2006): 50.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
140. Authors in depth. Silver level. Sacramento, CA: Clearinghouse for Specialized Media and Technology ; Princeton, N.J. : distributed by Recording for the Blind & Dyslexic, 2005. Sound Recording (CD) 1 sound disc.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital, mono. ; 4 3/4 in. Prentice Hall literature library. Originally published: Upper Saddle River, N.J. : Prentice Hall, c2000. Includes bibliographical references. Distribution is restricted to RFB&D members who have a documented print disability such as a visual impairment, learning disability or other physical disability. //
141. "Awards & Prizes." American Theatre 24, no. 7 (2007): 18-19.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article discusses awards and prizes received by individuals in the theater industry including the Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) award, which was awarded to Portland Center Stage's Gerding Theater at the Armory, the Rising Star Award, which was granted to Sean Montgomery, Roderick Justice, and Anthony Darnell, and McKnight Advancement Grants, which were awarded to playwrights David Adjmi and Christina Ham. Includes a reference to Holmes. "...More playwrights

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

- with winning scripts: Steven Dietz's Sherlock Holmes: The Final Adventure received the 2007 Edgar Allan Poe Award for best play from the Mystery Writers of America (see sidebar, page 45)"
142. "Awards and Honors." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 1 (1994): 54-55.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Recap, with photographs, of honorees receiving their Irregular Shilling or Two Shilling awards.
143. "Back Page." Professional safety 48, no. 8 (2003): 64.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes short piece My Dear Watson that reads in full: "A stockbroker received notice from the IRS that he was to be audited. He showed up at the appointed time with all his financial records, then sat for what seemed like hours as the accountant pores over them. Finally, the IRS agent looked up and said, 'You must have been a tremendous fan of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.' 'Why would you say that?' the broker replied. 'Because you've made more brilliant deductions on your last three returns than Sherlock Holmes made in his entire career.'"
144. "Baker Street Inventory." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 1 (1994): 58-61.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews The Oxford Sherlock Holmes, The Universal Sherlock Holmes, The Really Ragged Shaw, Baker Street and Beyond, Baker Street Briefs, Sherlock in Love, and Otto Penzler's Sherlock Holmes Library Series.
145. "Baker Street Inventory." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 2 (1994): 125-126.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Notes on The Wind and the Wizard by Richard Roberts, Otto Penzler's Mysterious Bookshop catalog, and You Know My Method by J. K. Van Dover.
146. "Baker Street Inventory." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 3 (1994): 183-184.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Provides information on Back to Baker Street, Sherlock Holmes: Screen and Sound Guide, 'A Case of Hide 'N' Tea,' 'Quotations for Baker Street,' and the fourth issue of The Whitechappel Gazette.
147. "Baker Street Inventory." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 4 (1994): 240-241.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Information on The Death of an Old Man Rice: A True Story of Criminal Justice in America by Martin L. Friedland, The New Good Old Index by William D. Goodrich, My Dear Watson: Being the Annals of Sherlock Holmes by Angus McClaren (David Hammer), The Musgrave Papers issue number 7, and The Whitechapel Gazette number 5.
148. "Barrister was Sherlock Holmes fanatic: 'I've spent my life being pompous,' he said. He relaxed with the great detective." The Gazette (Montreal), August 30, 2003: E5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Obituary of Anthony Howlett. "'I've spent my life being pompous,' he said. He relaxed with the great detective. Anthony Howlett, who died on Aug. 21 aged 78, was a barrister at the Board of Trade and Remembrancer of the City of London; but he was more widely known as founder and presiding inspiration of the Sherlock Holmes Society of London. The original Sherlock Holmes Society, founded by A.G. Macdonell in 1934, had been a casualty of the war (and of the founder's indiscretion with the wife of the president). The origins of the new society were laid in 1951 at the time of the Sherlock Holmes Exhibition, which was mounted by Marylebone Public Library as its contribution to the Festival of Britain. Tony Howlett, then a newly fledged barrister with too much time on his hands, had haunted the Marylebone library to lend what help he could; the frequency of his visits was not uninfluenced by the presence of Freda Pearce, the assistant librarian who, a year later, became his wife...."
149. Basil Rathbone as Sherlock Holmes. St. Laurent, Quebec: Madacy Video, 1995. Visual Material 3 videocassettes (209 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Based on characters of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. "TRV-7603"--Container. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

150. Basil Rathbone double feature. Dressed to kill. Woman in green. St. Laurent, Québec: Madacy Video, 1994. Visual Material 2 videocassettes (141 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Universal Pictures Corporation. b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS. Based on characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally produced as motion pictures in 1946 (1st work) and 1945 (2nd work). "DF2-036" Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. Director of photography, Maury Gertsman (1st work), Virgil Miller (2nd work) ; film editor, Saul A. Goodkind (1st work), Edward Curtiss (2nd work) ; music, Milton Rosen (1st work) ; Mark Levant (2nd work). //
151. Basil Rathbone double feature. Terror by night. The secret weapon. St. Laurent, Québec: Madacy Video, 1994. Visual Material 2 videocassettes (VHS) (128 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Universal Pictures Corporation. b&w ; 1/2 in. Based on characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally produced as motion pictures in 1946 (1st work) and 1943 (2nd work). "DF2-042"--Container. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. Roy William Neill, director. // 152. Batman, the Brave and the Bold. Volume 4. Neutral Bay, N.S.W.: Warner Bros. Entertainment Australia [distributor], 2010. Visual Material 1 videodisc (DVD) (ca. 88 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. PAL ; Region 4. "Y27338". Originally broadcast on Cartoon Network as episodes of the television series in 2009. Copyright DC Comics and Warner Bros. Entertainment Inc. Audience: Rated: PG. // "Nothing will stop Batman from cracking a case ... not even history! "Bats" swoops back to 19th century London and partners with the original World's Greatest Detective Sherlock Holmes to save an innocent man from death. But their victory destroys another man, creating a ghostly villain to join the Dark Knight's Rogue Gallery. Back in the future, Batman meets Equinox, battles the immortal caveman Kru'll and transits through space to save an alien planet from an oppressive general. Meanwhile, fellow DC Super Hero Blue Beetle needs guidance on a teenage crush, Aquaman needs a jug and Booster Gold needs a life lesson, all reminding Batman why he prefers to work alone!" --Container.
153. "BBC's new line in repeats." Daily Mail (London), February 9, 2004: 7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Even Sherlock Holmes might struggle to solve it the strange case of the repeats that aren't repeats. It's like this, Watson: The BBC is showing old ITV detective series . . . but claiming they are not repeats because it is the first time they have been screened by the corporation. Hardly fiendishness of Moriarty standards, you'll agree but perhaps a matter for the semantics police to look into. The acclaimed Sherlock Holmes series, starring the late Jeremy Brett and originally broadcast in the 1980s, is among the sleuth series being shown, along with Murder She Wrote and The Father Dowling Mysteries...."
154. The Beeman's Christmas annual : a publication of The Occupants of the Empty House, a scion of the Baker Street Irregulars. 1986- vols. DuQuoin, IL: Camden House & Co., 1986-.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Annual. ill. ; 22 cm. Geology in the canon (1999) -- Flora and fauna in the canon (2000) -- Geography in the canon (2001) //
155. "Been there." The Daily Telegraph (London), December 1, 2001: 17.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Skiing in Meiringen, Switzerland. The Bernese Oberland and the Alps looked like meringues and whipped cream as we flew over them, but Meiringen, we were assured, has every reason to look like a meringue - they were invented here. Our genial host at the Park Hotel du Sauvage extolled the virtues of this pretty little town. Everyone from the Kaiser downwards paid a visit here in the last century and it was from here that Sherlock Holmes set out to meet Moriarty at the nearby Reichenbach Falls. There is even a Sherlock Holmes museum, a bronze statue and a hotel bearing his name...."
156. Belligerent ghost and, Lady Beryl. St. Laurent, Quebec: Distributed by Madacy Music, 1998. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 55 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Sherlock Holmes collection; Videocassette release of 2 episodes of the 1954-55 British television series, based on the stories of Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Ronald Howard (Sherlock Holmes), Howard Marion Crawford (Dr. Watson), Archie Duncan (Inspector Lestrade, other roles). produced & written by Sheldon Reynolds ; director, Jack Gage. Music, Paul Durand ; cinematography, Raymond Clunie. // Belligerent ghost: Dr. Watson plays the Good Samaritan to a man

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

stricken in the street, who later dies in his home. Leaving his pub after a restorative drink, Watson is attacked by the "dead" man ; Lady Beryl: Holmes & Watson investigate a murder at the home of Lord Beryl.

157. Beowulf Theater Company. [Skokie, IL]: Library Cable Network, 1994. Visual Material 1 videocassette (61 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Skokie Public Library (Ill.) ; Library Cable Network. color. 1/2 in. VHS format.
 Theater company reads and acts script of Arthur Conan Doyle's Adventure of the speckled band. Producer, Dave Evans. //
158. Berle's Buick hour. Chatsworth, CA: Image Entertainment, 1997. Visual Material 6 videodiscs (110 min. each).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- NBC Television Network. ; Best Film & Video Corp. sd., b&w ; 43/4 in. 1997.
 Participants: Milton Berle, Dagmar, Carol Channing, Mickey Spillaine, the Hilltoppers, Peter Lawford, Maria Riva. Director, Greg Garrison; producer; Irving Gray; writers Goodman Ace ---[et al.]; music, Jerry Seelen, Phil Charig. //
159. "The Best and Wisest Man." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 4, no. 2 (2000): 1.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Notes the passing of Erret W. "Mac" McDiarmid on April 27, 2000. Includes a photograph of McDiarmid and Bryce Crawford.
160. "The best of Brickish; Japanese flock to admire our building blocks of history." Daily Mail (London), May 5, 1998: 25.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Squat and solid, they are regarded with hushed awe by the visitors who file past every day. Treasured for their shape and texture and marvelled at for their lasting quality, these are the precious prize exhibits in a Japanese museum. British bricks, it seems, are building up a reputation for themselves. Back home, they can be found cluttering up back gardens, littering building sites or even propping open doors. But the Japanese believe our bricks deserve more respect. At the World Brick Museum in Maizuru, north-west of Kyoto, specimens are kept lovingly in glass cases and treated as works of art. More than 10,000 visitors a month go to look at them. The Japanese fascination with British bricks probably has something to do with the rarity of brick buildings in Japan. The high risk of earthquakes has made building with bricks a risky business. So when the museum hosted an exhibition of just 16 bricks, titled 'Sherlock Holmes and English Bricks', record numbers of visitors flocked through the doors. They feasted their eyes on a collection of clay from Covent Garden, Scotland Yard, the Royal Albert Hall, St Pancras Station and 221B Baker Street - the detective's home address. The museum curators enlisted the help of the city of Portsmouth to compile the exhibition after discovering that Sir Arthur Conan Doyle created the character of Sherlock Holmes while living there in 1887...."
161. "Bibliography: Relations of Literature and Science, 1989-1990." Configurations 1, no. 2 (1993): 283-319.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Doyle listed.
162. "Biennial Spring Conference." Australasian Journal of Dermatology 48, no. (2007): A69-A139.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article presents abstracts related to dermatology. Includes "Sherlock Holmes in contact dermatitis" by A. Goossens, Contact Allergy Unit, Department of Dermatology, University Hospital, Katholieke Universiteit Leuven, Belgium.
163. "Big Mac Not Palatable to Sherlock Holmes Fans." Chicago Tribune, Dec 9, 1999: 18.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "An 18th Century Scottish mansion where Sir Arthur Conan Doyle once lived was saved from a Big Mac attack Wednesday when the city of Edinburgh slapped a preservation order on it. Fans of the Sherlock Holmes creator, alarmed to discover that McDonald's planned to build a burger restaurant on the site, appealed to city hall and won...."
164. "Bill Rabe material comes to Sherlock Holmes Collections." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 1, no. 4 (1997): 1-3, 5.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses acquisition and contents of the Bill Rabe Collection acquired by the University of Minnesota Libraries.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

165. Billy Wilder DVD Collection. [s.l.]: Metro Goldwyn Mayer Home Entertainment, 2003. Visual Material 9 videodiscs (1131 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Release date: Jul. 15, 2003. // Includes nine classic films by Billy Wilder: Avanti!, Kiss Me Stupid, One, Two, Three, The Private Life Of Sherlock Holmes, The Apartment, Fortune Cookie, Irma La Douce, Witness For The Prosecution and the special edition of Some Like It Hot.
166. "Billy Wilder: A death in the Hollywood family (Movie)." Rolling Stone, no. 895 (2002): 79.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews several motion pictures directed by Billy Wilder, including "The Private Life of Sherlock Holmes."
167. "Bimetallic Question, Obituary for Charles Purdon." Canadian Holmes 26, no. 1 (2002): 27.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
168. "The Black Dove." Kirkus Reviews 76, no. 1 (2008): 16-16.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "The Black Dove," by Steve Hockensmith. Passing references to Doyle and Holmes. "...Hockensmith's third Holmes on the Range mystery is buoyant and consistently entertaining...."
169. "The Black Dove." Publishers Weekly 255, no. 17 (2008): 133-133.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the audiobook "The Black Dove," by Steve Hockensmith. Read by William Dufres. Tantor Audio, unabridged, nine CDs, 10.5 hrs., $34.99 ISBN 978-1-4001-0605-9. "William Dufres provides an appealing down-home delivery to his narration of Hockensmith's third adventure featuring the Sherlock Holmes and Doctor Watson-emulating brothers, Gustov 'Old Red' and Otto 'Big Red' Amlingmeyer...."
170. "The Black Dove: A Holmes on the Range Mystery." Publishers Weekly 254, no. 44 (2007): 46-46.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "The Black Dove: A Holmes on the Range Mystery," by Steve Hockensmith.
171. The Blue carbuncle. [Oak Forest, IL]: MPI Home Video, 1995. Visual Material 1 videocassette (52 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd. (mono.), col. ; 1/2 in. The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. VHS. Videocassette release of the 1984 television film. Based on: The blue carbuncle, by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Jeremy Brett, David Burke, Brian Miller, Rosalie Williams. Granada Television Ltd. Director, David Carson ; producer, Michael Cox ; screenplay, Paul Finney ; music, Patrick Gowers ; developed for television by John Hawkesworth ; dramatised by Paul Finney. // The "blue carbuncle," a precious stone with a sinister history, has been stolen from the hotel room of its owner, the Countess of Morcar. But when a Christmas goose and a battered hat fall into Holmes' possession, he and Watson follow a trail that leads them to suspect that the wrong man has been imprisoned for the crime.
172. The Blue Carbuncle. Burtonsville, MD: Sign Media, Inc., 1996. Visual Material 1 videocassette (53 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Adventures of Sherlock Holmes; VHS format [NTSC]. Videocassette release of a 1996 production. Signed in American Sign Language with English translation and voice-over. Date on cassette label and container: 1995. Based on the story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Patrick Graybill, Gilbert C. Eastman. produced by Sign Media, Inc. Directors, Dennis Cokely, Patrick Graybill ; camera, Verden Ness ; voice-over translation, Dennis Cokely. // Details of each case is given in sections by Dr. Watson and then each step of the mystery is unraveled by Holmes. Also contains brief biography of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.
173. "Bobbi Tichenor; [Fourth Edition]." The Oregonian (Portland, OR), December 4, 1994: F05.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Owner of Annie Bloom's Books Currently Reading: "The Art of the Personal Essay" by Phillip Lopate. Just finished "The List of Seven" by Mark Frost. What They're About: "The Art of the Personal Essay" is a collection of essays by writers starting with the Roman philosopher Seneca and including Dorothy Parker, Robert Benchley, E.B. White, Annie Dillard and many others.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

174. "Boers and Britons." Economist 353, no. 8139 (1999): 92-94.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews books about the Anglo-Boer war in light of the October 1999 observation of the centenary of its outbreak. Passing reference to Doyle. 'The Boer War,' by Thomas Pakenham; 'The War Correspondents: The Anglo-Boer War,' by Raymond Sibbald; 'The Boy,' by Pat Hopkins and Heather Dugmore; 'Goodbye Dolly Gray,' by Rayne Kruger; 'The Mafeking Diary,' by Sol T. Plaatje; 'Commando,' by Deneys Reitz; 'Ladysmith,' by Giles Foden.
175. The boldest hoax. Boston: WGBH Video, 2005. Visual Material 1 videodisc (60 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. with b&w sequences ; 4 3/4 in. DVD; Dolby digital.; System requirements to access DVD-ROM features: Computer capable of reading PDF documents; Internet connection. Originally produced by the BBC in 2003. Special DVD-ROM features: teaching materials, link to Nova web site. Participants: Narrator: Richard Donal. Original PBS Broadcast Date: January 11, 2005. Audience: MPAA rating: Not rated. produced and directed by Kate Bartlett ; produced for NOVA by Gary Glassman ; a BBC production ; additional production for NOVA by Providence Pictures, Inc. for WGBH/Boston. Editors, Peter Norrey, Rick Widmer. // "Who Created Piltdown Man-Science's Most Notorious Fraud? For 40 years, a fossil skull discovered in Piltdown, England, was hailed as the missing link between apes and humans. Then, in 1953, new scientific tests revealed the shocking truth-"Piltdown Man" was a fake! But who could have perpetrated the hoax? Was it the amateur archaeologist, Charles Dawson, who dug up most of the bones? Or the eminent museum curator, Sir Arthur Smith Woodward of Britain's Natural History Museum, who won fame by presenting the reconstructed skull to an eager public in 1912? Could it even have been Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, the creator of Sherlock Holmes, who lived near Piltdown? With more red herrings and false trails than an Agatha Christie whodunit, The Boldest Hoax digs into intriguing new clues from archives at the Natural History Museum, and delves into the skullduggery and national pride that led a handful of faked bones to hoodwink a generation of leading scientists. Go deep into the archives of Britain's Natural History Museum, where intriguing documents shed new light on this notorious case."--Container.
176. "Bond Villain Charles Gray Dies Aged 71." Birmingham Post, March 9, 2000: 10.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Actor Charles Gray, best known for playing arch-villain Ernst Stavros Blofeld in James Bond movie Diamonds are Forever, has died at the age of 71. The star, who played a string of villains and colonial types in everything from Hammer horror films to TV series such as Hannay and the recent Longitude, died at London's Brompton Hospital on Tuesday. In a theatrical career spanning five decades, Bournemouth-born Gray's steely persona and lip-curling delivery made him a familiar face on stage and screen....With credits including Upstairs Downstairs, Tales of the Unexpected, Porterhouse Blue, and Dennis Potter's Blackeyes, he cropped up again and again as sadistic generals and old-school men of property. In 1976, he starred as Mycroft Holmes alongside fellow thespian Nicol Williamson and Hollywood star Robert Duvall in revisionist Sherlock Holmes movie The Seven Per Cent Solution. He returned to the same role years later, alongside the late Jeremy Brett, in ITV's Adventures of Sherlock Holmes, and The Return of Sherlock Holmes...."
177. "Book & tape review." Total Health 20, no. 5 (1998): 13.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the compact-disc (CD) 'Junk Food Nation,' written, directed and produced by Robert Crayhon. Includes a reference to Holmes. "Crayhon and company regale listeners with sharp routines like the Sherlock-Holmes-talkalike in 'Murder by Refined Food'..."
178. "Book Bag #845." The Washington Post, July 16, 1995: X10.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The game is afoot! Name the following: 1) One of his Oxford lectures virtually established Sherlock Holmes's "career" as a topic for "scholarly" investigation. 2) This witty novelist scandalously suggested that Dr. Watson might actually be a woman. 3) His introduction to a standard collected edition of Sherlock Holmes may be the best known appreciation of the canonical stories ever written. 4) Though noted for his interest in Sherlock Holmes, he was also the author of treatise on binomial theorem and of the once highly regarded "Dynamics of an Asteroid." 5) A friend of Aldous Huxley, he composed novels and tales about a Sherlockian figure known as Mr. Mycroft. 6) Among his books are "Chaldean Roots in the Ancient Cornish Language" and "Polyphonic Motets of Lassus." 7) To Sherlock Holmes, she is always the woman. All entries (one per person) must be clearly written on postcards and mailed to: Book Bag, The Washington Post...

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

179. "Book fetches pounds 15,000 at auction." Daily Post (Liverpool), May 21, 2008: 8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "A first edition of a Sherlock Holmes story discovered in an Oxfam shop has sold for more than pounds 15,000 after a bidding war between buyers in the US and the UK yesterday. The rare first edition of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's first Sherlock Holmes story, A Study In Scarlet, broke its upper reserve price of pounds 9,000 to fetch pounds 15,500 at the Bonhams Auction in Oxford. The story was discovered inside a book called Beeton's Christmas Annual for 1887 by two volunteers at an Oxfam shop in Harrogate, North Yorkshire...."
180. "A book in a day." Economist 369, no. 8355 (2003): 120-121.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article describes a workshop conducted by Joe DiVanna, a consultant, with the purpose of writing a book in a day. Reference to Holmes. "Strategic Thinking", with the subtitle "So what can you do for me this quarter?", will be published by Palgrave Macmillan in March. Jacky Kippenberger, the editor for business- and management-research books, says the result is "very accessible". It will sell for GBP 50 with an initial print run of 500. "It's part of my list of monographs," she says. Sherlock Holmes wrote monographs, which he researched himself, on subjects such as tobacco ash, and the different types of mud on people's shoes. Mr DiVanna completed a monograph which began as the work of many hands. But did it really finish that way?"
181. "Book Notes." Bulletin of the History of Medicine 77, no. 2 (2003): 482-483.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a reference to Doyle. Todd Savitt, ed. Medical Readers' Theater: A Guide and Scripts. Iowa City: University of Iowa Press, 2002. xix + 192 pp. $44.95 (cloth, 0-87745-798-0), $22.95 (paperbound, 0-87745-799-9). "The concept behind our reader's theater program is simple," writes Todd Savitt: 'adapt short stories about medicine to scripts, invite medical students to serve as the readers (actors), perform the stories to public and medical audiences, and hold postperformance discussions about the issues raised by the stories with the audiences and the cast' (p. xi). The result is an exchange of ideas and perceptions that, according to the author, has a profound effect on participants on both sides of the stage. The fourteen scripts--based on stories by William Carlos Williams, Richard Selzer, Susan Onthank Mates, Pearl S. Buck, Arthur Conan Doyle, Katherine Anne Porter, Mary E. Wilkins Freeman, and Margaret Lamb--are divided into four sections: 'Physicians and Patients,' 'Being a Physician,' 'Ethical and Social Issues,' and 'Aging and Chronic Illness.' Each script includes instructions for placing the characters on stage, and questions for discussion."
182. "Book Review--Ron de Waal's TUSH." Baker Street Miscellanea, no. 76 (1994): 51.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of The Universal Sherlock Holmes bibliography.
183. "Book Reviews: Arts & Humanities." Library Journal 125, no. 15 (2000): 64.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews books relating to arts and humanities, including Visions of Adventure: N.C. Wyeth and the Brandwine Artists. A passing reference to Doyle in the review. "Earlier in the previous century, adventure novels by such writers as Raphael Sabatini, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, Robert Louis Stevenson, and James Branch Cabell needed illustrations to describe the action and locales."
184. "Booklines." Birmingham Post, February 3, 2001: 52.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "West Midlands lawyer Barrie Roberts impersonating Conan Doyle in his latest Sherlock Holmes narrative, Sherlock Holmes & The Crosby Murder (Constable Crime, pounds 16.99)."
185. "Bookmarkit." Teacher Librarian 34, no. 5 (2007): 9-56.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews several books, including The fall of the amazing Zalindas: Sherlock Holmes and the Baker Street Irregulars. Tracy Mack, Orchard Books, 2006, $16.99. 978-0-439-82836-9. Grades 4-6. "Sherlock Holmes owed much of his success to the Baker Street Irregulars (the ragged gang of neighborhood kids that ran his errands and collected information for him), as this collection of stories demonstrates."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

186. "Books." Science news 171, no. 23 (2007): 367-367.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article reviews the books "Mind In Life: Biology, Phenomenology, and the Sciences of the Mind," by Evan Thompson, "The Science of Sherlock Holmes: From Baskerville Hall to the Valley of Fear, the Real Forensics behind the Great Detective's Greatest Cases," by E. J. Wagner and "The Happiness Trip: A Scientific Journey," by Eduardo Punset.
187. "Books for Christmas." Community Care, no. 12/8 (2005): 44-44.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article presents information on several books, including Untold Stories by Alan Bennett, Arthur and George by Julian Barnes, Munch by Himself by Iris Muller Westermann, Kite Runner by Khaled Hosseini, Never Let Me Go by Kazuo Ishiguro, Leadership by Peter Gilbert and Human Traces by Sebastian Faulks.
188. "Books for Summer Reading." Phi Delta Kappan 85, no. 10 (2004): 777-781.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Brief reviews and suggestions for books to read during the summer. Includes one book with a reference to Doyle and Holmes. "...Unlike Albom's tranquil little book, The Da Vinci Code (Doubleday, 2003), by Dan Brown, is an unsettling and frenetically paced big book. Set aside a day and an entire night to read this blockbuster. You will not sleep until you finish. I'm a sucker for conspiracy theories, and Brown's fiction is so intricately researched and crafted that I am still convinced that the secrets he reveals about some of the greatest thinkers of our time, ancient Christian relics and societies, and Jesus Christ Himself are completely and utterly ... true. While the novel is steeped in Western theological history, Brown is careful to make the subject matter effortlessly accessible. He ingeniously and cleverly makes his readers feel as smart as, and sometimes smarter than, his Dynamic Duo. Until The Da Vinci Code I had always felt more like Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's Watson whenever attempting to solve riddles and puzzles. However, Brown leaves just enough clues for the semi-careful reader to figure out various cryptic codes, sometimes just a hair's breadth before Langdon and Neveu. I found myself racing them through the pages, racing them through Paris and London to the next clue and solution. Sometimes, I was Holmes, and sometimes ... well, you know, the other fellow." -- Shana Brown, English teacher, Shorecrest High School, Shoreline, Wash.
189. "Books in brief." Skeptic 4, no. 3 (1996): 103.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews a number of books including one with a passing reference to Doyle. Martin Gardner. The Night Is Large: Collected-Essays, 1938-1995. 1996. St. Martin's Press. 672 pp. $29.95. HB "The problem with reading such prolific authors as Isaac Asimov and Martin Gardner is, given limited time, which of their numerous books do you choose to read to get a good sampling? Asimov's Foundation Series is a must, of course. But in Gardner's case he is so diverse in his interests and talents that it has not been possible to read one work and feel you understand the man and how he thinks--until now. The Night is Large is the definitive Martin Gardner on just about everything in the physical sciences (relativity, quantum mechanics, time, infinity, cosmology, superstrings), the social sciences (Adam Smith, the Laffer Curve, H. G. Wells, cultural relativism, artificial languages), pseudoscience (spiritualism, phrenology, Conan Doyle, Wilhelm Reich, Freud, William James, alien abductions), mathematics, the arts (Coleridge, Lewis Carroll, Oz, Ulysses, Shakespeare), philosophy ('nothing,' 'everything,' free will and determinism, Isaiah Berlin, realism, pragmatism, Popperism), and religion, including why Gardner believes in God."
190. "Books on TV." Bookseller, no. 5212 (2006): 43-43.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article presents information on certain books that will be serialized in television in Great Britain. "Sherlock Holmes and the House of Fear" will be shown on January 14, 2006, on BBC2 at 1 pm. Basil Rathbone stars in this 1945 adaptation of author Conan Doyle's sleuth yarn. "Johnny and the Bomb" will be shown on January 15, 2006, on BBC1 at 5:35 pm. It is a three-part dramatization of Terry Pratchett's time-travel fantasy, with Zoe Wanamaker. "Balderdash & Piffle" will be shown on January 16, 2006, on BBC2 at 9 pm.
191. "Books published recently with NEH support." Humanities 16, no. 4 (1995): 45.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a list of National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH)-supported books published in the United States. Includes New York University Joseph A. Callaway Prize for best theater book of the year: King, W. D. Henry Irving's Waterloo: Theatrical Engagements with Arthur Conan Doyle, George

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Bernard Shaw, Ellen Terry, Edward Gordon Craig, Late Victorian Culture, Assorted Ghosts, Old Men, and History. Los Angeles and Berkeley: University of California Press, 1994.

192. "Books Received." Folklore 118, no. 3 (2007): 356-363.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A list of books received by the journal is presented, including Conan Doyle, Sir Arthur. The Coming of the Fairies. Introduction by John M. Lynch. Lincoln, Nebr.: Bison Books, 2006. Extraordinary World series. xv, 189 pp. Illus. $9.95 (pbk). ISBN 0-8032-6655-3, ISBN-13: 978-0803266551.
193. "Books Received." SEL Studies in English Literature 1500-1900 43, no. 4 (2003): 998-1017.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes reference to Doyle. Wynne, Catherine. The Colonial Conan Doyle: British Imperialism, Irish Nationalism, and the Gothic. Contributions to the Study of World Literature 114. Westport CT and London: Greenwood Press, 2002. Pp. ix + 212. $61.95. ISBN 0-313-32005-5.
194. "Books Received." SEL Studies in English Literature 1500-1900 41, no. 4 (2001): 880-898.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes reference to Doyle. Barsham, Diana. Arthur Conan Doyle and the Meaning of Masculinity. The Nineteenth Century. Aldershot and Burlington VT: Ashgate, 2000. Pp. viii + 312. $84.95. ISBN 1-85928-264-4.
195. "Books, Multimedia, and Web Sites: Grades 4-8." School Library Journal 3, no. 1 (2006): 49-52, 54-6, 58-60, 62, 64, 66-9.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // An annotated directory of books, multimedia products, and Web sites for students in grades 4 to 8 is provided. Includes a number of entries with Holmes or Doyle connections. Down the Rabbit Hole: An Echo Falls Mystery (unabr.). 6 cassettes. Stirs. Recorded Books (recordedbooks.com). 2005. ISBN 1-4193-5747-6. $37.75; read-along pack: $59.95. "...Peter Abrahams's splendid mystery (Laura Geringer, 2005) is ripe with allusions to Lewis Carroll's Alice's Adventures in Wonderland, Arthur Conan Doyle's stories about Sherlock Holmes, and Alfred Hitchcock's Dial M for Murder...."; SPRINGER, Nancy. The Case of the Missing Marques: An Enola Holmes Mystery. 213p. Philomel/Sleuth, 2006. Tr $10.99, ISBN 0-399-24304-6. "When her mother mysteriously disappears on her 14th birthday, Enola Holmes reluctantly turns to her adult brothers, Sherlock and Mycroft, for help, but soon learns that she must take charge of her own destiny. The clever girl heads for London where she dons different disguises, solves a mystery or two, and gets herself into and out of a number of sticky situations. An appealing and resilient heroine takes the Victorians by storm."
196. "Books, Multimedia, and Web Sites: Grades 9-12." School Library Journal 2, no. 2 (2005): 81.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A directory of print, multimedia, and online resources for grades 9-12 is provided. Includes Abrahams, Peter. Down the Rabbit Hole: An Echo Falls Mystery. 375p. CIP. HarperCollins/A Laura Geringer Bk. 2005. Tr $15.99. ISBN 0-06-073701-8; PLB $16.89. ISBN 0-06-073702-6. LC 2004014778. Gr 6-9 "Thirteen-year-old Ingrid, an avid fan of Sherlock Holmes mysteries, is drawn into a murder investigation. Plot twists, building tension, and riveting adventures combine to make this a first-rate story."
197. "Bookshelf." BizEd 7, no. 2 (2008): 70-71.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews several books including "Think Smart, Act Smart," by Jim Nightingale. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...In one sense, this isn't a business book at all. For instance, a chapter on how 'wishful thinking' can derail individuals and organizations includes a long disquisition on author Arthur Conan Doyle's obsession with spiritualism...."
198. "Bookshelf." Canadian Holmes 26, no. 4 (2003): 44-47.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews of Index to Canadian Holmes Volumes 1-25 (1973-2002), Beaton's Christmas Annual, The Norwegian Explorers of Minnesota Christmas Annual 2002, the Hounds Collection, Ellery Queen's Mystery Magazine
199. "Bookshelf." Natural History 107, no. 9 (1998): 11.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents information on several books on natural history. Includes reference to Doyle. "French paleontologist Taquet, director of Paris's Natural History Museum, recalls his thirty-year career

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

searching for dinosaur skeletons and other fossil treasures, inspired, he tells us, by the fictional adventures of Conan Doyle's Professor Challenger in The Lost World."

200. "Bookshelf: Suspense then & Now." Scholastic Scope 51, no. 4 (2002): 16.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents several classical books and novels. 'And Then There Were None,' by Agatha Christie; 'The Westing Game,' by Ellen Raskin; 'Stories,' by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.
201. "A Bootmaker in Space." Canadian Holmes 20, no. 4 (1997): 30-31.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
202. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 30, no. 3 (2007): 38-43.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
203. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 30, no. 4 (2007): 43-48.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
204. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 29, no. 3 (2006): 23-27.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
205. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 29, no. 4 (2006): 36-43.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
206. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 30, no. 1 (2006): 47-49.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
207. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 30, no. 2 (2006): 45-49.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
208. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 28, no. 3 (2005): 28-34.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
209. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 28, no. 4 (2005): 28-34.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
210. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 29, no. 1 (2005): 29-32.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
211. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 29, no. 2 (2005): 39-45.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
212. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 27, no. 3 (2004): 33-40.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
213. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 27, no. 4 (2004): 44-48.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
214. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 28, no. 1 (2004): 41-44.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
215. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 28, no. 2 (2004): 30-35.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
216. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 26, no. 3 (2003): 49-55.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

217. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 26, no. 4 (2003): 37-43.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
218. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 27, no. 1 (2003): 32-34.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
219. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 27, no. 2 (2003): 27-31.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
220. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 25, no. 3 (2002): 34-41.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
221. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 25, no. 4 (2002): 39-41.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
222. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 26, no. 1 (2002): 38-43.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
223. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 26, no. 2 (2002): 39-44.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
224. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 24, no. 3 (2001): 47-54.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
225. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 24, no. 4 (2001): 22-27.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
226. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 25, no. 2 (2001): 33-36.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
227. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 23, no. 3 (2000): 46-53.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
228. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 23, no. 4 (2000): 31-38.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
229. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 24, no. 1 (2000): 37-47.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
230. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 24, no. 2 (2000): 34-44.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
231. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 22, no. 4 (1999): 43-46.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
232. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 23, no. 1 (1999): 43-47.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
233. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 23, no. 2 (1999): 39-45.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
234. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 21, no. 3 (1998): 40-45.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

235. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 21, no. 4 (1998): 40-43.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
236. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 22, no. 1 (1998): 40-43.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
237. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 22, no. 2 (1998): 32-39.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
238. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 22, no. 3 (1998): 42-47.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
239. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 20, no. 3 (1997): 40-42.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
240. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 20, no. 4 (1997): 36-41.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
241. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 21, no. 1 (1997): 46-48.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
242. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 21, no. 2 (1997): 39-42.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
243. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 19, no. 3 (1996): 35-41.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
244. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 19, no. 4 (1996): 38-40.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
245. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 20, no. 1 (1996): 38-41.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
246. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 20, no. 2 (1996): 49-55.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
247. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 18, no. 3 (1995): 36-45.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
248. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 18, no. 4 (1995): 44-47.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
249. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 19, no. 1 (1995): 51-60.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
250. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 19, no. 2 (1995): 36-43.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
251. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 17, no. 3 (1994): 36-43.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Diary of events in the lives of the Bootmakers of Toronto from November 23,
1993 to March 5, 1994. Includes photographs.
252. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 17, no. 4 (1994): 37-46.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Notes the activities of various Bootmakers from January 7, 1994 through May 24, 1994.

253. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 18, no. 1 (1994): 35-44.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

254. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 18, no. 2 (1994): 37-44.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

255. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 17, no. 1 (1993): 32-39.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

256. "Bootmaker's Diary." Canadian Holmes 17, no. 2 (1993): 34-40.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

257. "'Boxed In' Semantic Indifference to Atrocity." Case Western Reserve Journal of International Law 40, no. 1 (2008): 137-145.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...Under King Leopold II of Belgium, an economic enterprise evolved in the Congo that, by the turn of the twentieth century, saw the deaths of untold millions. Largely ignored, it took the likes of novelists, such as Joseph Conrad, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, and Mark Twain to call attention to what was taking place in central Africa...."

258. "Breakups." People 70, no. 26 (2008): 121.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to the new Holmes movie. "Amid rumors of a romance with Yankees star Alex Rodriguez, Madonna kept busy on her Sticky & Sweet tour while Ritchie shot Sherlock Holmes...."

259. "Brief Mention." American Literature 74, no. 3 (2002): 687-701.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes reference to Doyle. The Devil Himself: Villainy in Detective Fiction and Film . Ed. Stacy Gillis and Philippa Gates. Westport, Conn.: Greenwood. 2002. viii, 217 pp. $62.00. "What does the fictional villain reveal about the cultural context that created him or her? With essays on topics such as 'The Arch-Villainess in Victorian Popular Fiction,' 'The Conflict of the Imperial and the Anti-Imperial in Conan Doyle,' and 'The Bond Villains and Cold War Heroism,' this collection endeavors to answer that question. Texts under discussion range from Charles Brockden Brown's Weiland (1798) to the 1995 film Seven."

260. "Brief reviews: Books." Fantasy & Science Fiction 92, no. 1 (1997): 23.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'Otherwhere,' edited by Laura Anne Gilman and Keith R. A. DeCandido, with a passing reference to Doyle and Holmes. "...Esther M. Friesner's 'The Strange Case of Ludwig the Unspeakable' is a spectacularly loony homage to Arthur Conan Doyle's Sherlock Holmes stories."

261. "Briefly." The Ottawa Citizen, July 11, 1995: C6.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "One of the finest collections of Sherlock Holmes material ever offered for sale is expected to fetch $150,000 at auction in London this month. The July 24 auction will feature first editions, papers and memorabilia relating to one of the world's most famous fictional detectives and his creator, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. The collection, amassed by Stanley Mackenzie, a former custodian of London's Sherlock Holmes Society who died earlier this year, includes the pipe used by Peter Cushing in his film portrayal of the Victorian detective and a gold cigarette case inscribed, by Conan Doyle, 'Sherlock Holmes.'"

262. "Briefly Noted." Electronic Media 19, no. 37 (2000): 4.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports developments in the television broadcasting industry in the United States as of September 2000. Reference to Holmes series on the Odyssey Network. "The Odyssey Network greenlighted three more original movies based on the classic Sherlock Holmes detective novels. Odyssey

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

President Margaret Loesch said the network is developing a program franchise based on the detective series....
The network is also looking at developing Holmes into a network series."

263. "Britain honors Sherlock Holmes." Xinhua News Agency - CEIS, October 17, 2002: 1.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The great fictional detective Sherlock Holmes received a posthumous honorary fellowship on Wednesday from Britain's Royal Society of Chemistry. The honor marks the centenary of Holmes' most celebrated case, The Hound of the Baskervilles. The Royal Society of Chemistry is the United Kingdom's professional body for chemical scientists. Usually such honorary fellowships are reserved for Nobel Laureates and other distinguished academics, and industrialists. Holmes is the first fictional character to be awarded the fellowship...."
264. The Bruce Partington plans. Oak Forest, IL: MPI Home Video ; [S.I.] : DVS Home Video, 1997. Visual Material 1 videocassette (50 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Return of Sherlock Holmes. VHS format. Videocassette release of the 1984 television program. Dramatized from the story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. "MP 1791." Described for the visually handicapped. DVS version. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke. Granada Television in association with WGBH Boston ; executive producer, Michael Cox ; producer, June Wyndham Davies ; director, John Gorrie ; music, Patrick Gowers. Developed for television and dramatized by John Hawkesworth; Ray Freeman, graphics; Barry Bowmer, film editor. // Who is the young man that is found murdered and savagely beaten on a railway line leading from the underground? Why does he have plans for a secret submarine in his pocket? Is he a hero, or a traitor? Aided and abetted by brother Mycroft, Holmes and Watson follow a trail through fog-shrouded London to find the truth and a murderer.
265. "Buy a Top Book for Only GBP3." Birmingham Evening Mail, February 18, 2005: 32.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Sherlock Holmes was introduced in 1887's A Study in Scarlet and his popularity grew with each new story. The Hound of the Baskervilles is just the latest of our Great Family Reads. Future titles include Hans Christian Anderson's charming Fairy Tales and The Rainbow by DH Lawrence."
266. "Caleb Carr." Entertainment Weekly, no. Issue 227 (1994): 48.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Cites author Caleb Carr's book preferences, with a passing reference to Holmes. "When people leave me alone long enough, I read [a] big, two-volume collection of Sherlock Holmes."
267. "Calendar." New York Times, June 17, 2007: 11.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A guide to cultural and recreational goings-on in and around Westchester and Putnam Counties during this week. Includes "Sherlock Holmes Takes the Case," interactive theater by Traveling Lantern. June 23 at 2:30 p.m. Free. Croton Free Library, 171 Cleveland Drive.
268. "Calendar." Publishers Weekly 254, no. 48 (2007): 9-9.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A calendar of events related to book publishing for December 9-15, 2007 is presented, including "Quirk's interactive Sherlock Holmes mystery The Crimes of Dr. Watson offers removable clues to solve a new who-dunit (featuring arson and murder) by Duane Swierczynski."
269. "Calendar." Publishers Weekly 253, no. 20 (2006): 12-12.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article presents information on notable events in the month of May, involving prominent persons. In May 21, 2000, Barbara Cartland died at the age of 98. She is a popular romance writer. HighBridge Audio celebrates Arthur Conan Doyle's birth (1859-1930) by reissuing "Sherlock Holmes: A Baker Street Dozen" with John Gielgud as Holmes and Ralph Richardson as Dr. Watson on May 22, 2006. May 23, 2006, seven months after releasing "Predator," Patricia Cornwell is back with a new mystery "At Risk," originally serialized for 15 weeks in the New York Times Magazine.
270. "Calling all Scion Societies." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 1, no. 1 (1997): 3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Call for materials from scion societies for the University of Minnesota Libraries' Sherlock Holmes Collections.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

271. "Campus Round-Up." Times Higher Education, 11/20, 2008: 12-13.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This section offers news briefs on issues related to higher education in Great Britain as of November 2008....Third-year publishing students at Napier University in Edinburgh, England has republished a new edition of Arthur Conan Doyle's novel "The Hound of the Baskervilles'...."

272. "Can an attribution assessment be made for Yellow Rain?: Systematic reanalysis in a chemical-and-biological-weapons use investigation." Politics & the Life Sciences 26, no. 1 (2007): 24-42.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a reference to Doyle and Holmes (p. 27). "...We also tested our ability to evaluate evidence and successfully choose correct explanations using a series of cases analyzed fictionally by Sherlock Holmes, as described in the short stories of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle; we repeated this exercise using evidence and story lines in multiple episodes of the American television drama series, Law and Order. In each case, our methodology proved successful, even when evidence led the reader or viewer down a false inferential path prior to a twist in story line and a surprise ending...."

273. "'Capturing the 'Real' Sherlock Holmes' from The Guardian December 10, 2009." The Illustrious Clients News 32, no. 9 (2009): 5-6.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

274. The cardboard box. [London?]: Granada Video, 1994. Visual Material 1 videocassette (50 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. The memoirs of Sherlock Holmes.; VHS. Hi-fi stereo.
 Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke, Rosalie Williams. Granada Television in association with WGBH/Boston. //

275. The cardboard box. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 1995. Visual Material 1 videocassette (50 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. The memoirs of Sherlock Holmes / by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.
 VHS. Hi-fi stereo. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke, Rosalie Williams. screenplay by T.R. Bowen ; produced by June Wyndham Davies ; directed by Sarah Hellings ; executive producer, Sally Head ; made by Granada Television of England in association with WGBH/Boston. //

276. "Cars of the Future." Professional safety 53, no. 12 (2008): 72-72.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The focuses on the initiatives of several auto manufacturers to create cars of the future. Includes a quote from Holmes along with a cameo illustration of the great detective. "'When you have eliminated the impossible, whatever remains, however improbable, must be the truth.'"

277. "Cartoon." The Serpentine Muse 14, no. 4 (1998): inside front cover.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

278. Case Closed, One Truth Prevails. Movie: The Phantom of Baker Street. [Fort Worth, TX]: FUNimation Productions, 2010. Visual Material 1 videodisc (110 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, widescreen presentation; Dolby Digital stereo., NTSC. Based on the comic books created by Gosho Aoyama. Audience: Rating: 13UP; rating on container: TV-PG. Japanese version: produced by TMS Entertainment ; producers, Michihiko Suwa & Masahito Yoshioka ; directed by Kenji Kodama ; English version: FUNimation Productions, Ltd. ; producers, Carly Hunter, Justin Cook. // The game is afoot! Conan Edogawa may look like he's only in elementary school, my dear Watson, but he possesses perhaps the keenest eye for detail of any living detective. His latest case finds him trapped in a virtual recreation of 19th century London and pitted against none other than Jack the Ripper. To save his friends, Conan must follow in the footsteps of his hero, Sherlock Homes, and crack a case that's gone unsolved for over a hundred years.

279. "The Case of Bizarre Bouquets." Kirkus Reviews 75, no. 22 (2007): 1205.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "The Case of Bizarre Bouquets," by Nancy Springer. "In this third Enola Holmes mystery, the younger, teenage sister of Sherlock Holmes is determined to find the missing Dr. Watson on her own by deciphering the clues in the bizarre bouquets sent to his wife. As in the previous two titles, Enola uses disguises, codes, false names and her familiarity with London's seamy side to solve the case...."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

280. "The Case of Doyle's Lost Works is Finally Solved." Birmingham Post, March 17, 2004: 8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "A lost hoard of personal papers belonging to Sherlock Holmes creator Sir Arthur Conan Doyle has been discovered in the offices of a legal firm in London. The collection of 3,000 items, which went missing 40 years ago during a legal dispute over his estate, includes personal letters, notes and hand-written manuscripts -80 per cent of which have never been published. The collection will go on display in May before being auctioned by Christie's for an estimated pounds 2 million...."
281. "The case of the Conan Doyle papers." The Hindu, May 20, 2004: 1.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The [Arthur Conan Doyle] archive, including his unpublished first novel, a rich cache of family letters and handwritten notebooks full of research and musings about works in progress, was expected to bring in about GBP1 million to 1.5 million, according to Christie's, which is handling the sale. But even as the auction house has attracted a stream of Conan Doyle enthusiasts thrilled at the newly released material, it has also been sharply criticised by some scholars and Members of Parliament for allowing the sale because they say crucial legal questions remain unresolved. They also say the material is too important to be sold off piecemeal. Adding to the sense of unease is the mysterious death of Richard Lancelyn Green, a leading Conan Doyle scholar, private collector and a vociferous opponent of the sale."
282. "The case of the immortal detective." Economist 333, no. 7895 (1994): 107-108.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Tells of the 'Strand,' a magazine published in Britain from 1891 to 1950. Some of the authors who appeared in it, including Arthur Conan Doyle; Some of the illustrators, including Sidney Paget; Obsequious treatment accorded to royalty; Lack of coverage of current affairs, except for politics.
283. "The Case of the Left-Handed Lady." School Library Journal 54, no. (2008): 55-55.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the audiobook "The Case of the Left-Handed Lady," by Nancy Springer.
284. "The Case of the Missing Marquess: An Enola Holmes Mystery." Kirkus Reviews 73, no. 24 (2005): 1328-1328.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article reviews the book "The Case of the Missing Marquess: An Enola Holmes Mystery," by Nancy Springer.
285. "The Case of the Peculiar Pink Fan." Kirkus Reviews 76, no. 16 (2008): 203-203.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "The Case of the Peculiar Pink Fan: An Enola Holmes Mystery," by Nancy Springer. "Although their own eccentricities are legendary, Mycroft and Sherlock Holmes fully expect their very much younger sister to take on the attributes of the stereotypical Victorian female. She will be schooled in womanly endeavors with an eye to a future as someone's wife--but 14-year-old Enola has ideas of her own...."
286. The case of the Whitechapel vampire. La Crosse, WI: Platinum Disc, 2005. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 90 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, full screen presentation; Dolby surround sound. Originally produced for television 2002. Based on the characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Matt Frewer, Kenneth Welsh. Hallmark Entertainment presents a Muse Entertainment production ; written and directed by Rodney Gibbons. // A fly-by-night killer is leaving Sherlock Holmes in the dark.
287. "Case Study - Sherlock Holmes, Consulting Detective: A study in DVD." Journal of Engineering and Applied Science 13, no. 3 (2000): 26.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
288. The casebook of Sherlock Holmes DVD collection. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2004. Visual Material 3 videodiscs (390 min.).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD; Dolby Digital. Special features: commentary track with director John Madden; 'Daytime live', an interview with Jeremy Brett and Edward Hardwicke; production notes. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke. Granada Television. //

289. "The Casebook of Sherlock Holmes Volume 2." Publishers Weekly 255, no. 21 (2008): 59-59.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "The Casebook of Sherlock Holmes," Volume 2, by Arthur Conan Doyle. Read by David Timson. Naxos AudioBooks, unabridged, four CDs, 5.5 hrs., $28.98 ISBN 978-962-634-862-8. "After 10 years, 57 stories, four novels and 60 CDs, David Timson's monumental task of recording every word of Conan Doyle's Sherlock Holmes stories for Naxos concludes. Timson even contributes a Holmes-Watson adventure of his own, 'The Wonderful Toy.' Timson reads energetically, throwing himself into the stories' spirit of elegant deduction and head-long adventure. The dulcet tones of Timson's Watson are frequently interrupted by a panoply of other voices: Cockney ladies of the night, harried businessmen and, of course, the clipped public school staccato of Holmes himself."
290. "Castles of New England." Yankee 68, no. 7 (2004): 114-114.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Lists castles found in New England. Hammond Castle Museum in Massachusetts; Castle in the Clouds in New Hampshire; Gillette Castle State Park in Connecticut; Belcourt Castle in Rhode Island.
291. "Cecil Helman." Lancet 361, no. 9376 (2003): 2252.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Growing up in a family of a dozen doctors in South Africa, the author, Cecil Helman, learned early on that medicine was not just about science. In medical practice, one never quite knows who might walk through the door next: the problems they may bring, the stories they may tell...." Passing reference to Doyle: "As Dr Foster, the general practitioner in Arthur Conan Doyle's story A Medical Document, puts it: 'There's no need for fiction in medicine, for the facts will always beat anything you can fancy.'"
292. "A Century of Cycling." Saturday Evening Post 280, no. 3 (2008): 12-12.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The author reports on the popularity of cycling in 1908 and 2008. Comparisons which have been made between cycling practices of 1908 and 2008 are discussed, including the impact which bicyclists have on commuters. Quotations by celebrities regarding cycling are presented including winner of the Tour de France bicycle race Lance Armstrong, women's rights activist Susan B. Anthony and author Ernest Hemingway. One of the quotes is from Doyle. "'A good cyclist does not need a high road.' -- Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, writer and creator of Sherlock Holmes, 1859-1930."
293. "A century of good books." Library Journal 123, no. 14 (1998): 147.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Requests alternatives to the July 1998 Random House Modern Library list of the 100 Best Novels of the Century. Includes a passing reference to Doyle and Holmes. "Why James Dickey but not Flannery O'Connor? Where were Zora Neale Hurston's Their Eyes Were Watching God and Harper Lee's To Kill a Mockingbird? Dashiell Hammett's Sam Spade made it while Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's sleuth was forgotten?..."
294. "Character Shows Its True Colors." Psychology Today 38, no. 2 (2005): 62-63.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents information on personality traits that are expressed either as personality styles or as personality disorders. Paranoid; Borderline; Avoidant. Sherlock Holmes listed under the schizoid trait.
295. "Charles Gray." The Scotsman, March 9, 2000: 22.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Obituary of the actor.
296. "The Charm of Variety." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 1, no. 2 (1997): 5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Call for letters written by John Bennett Shaw for addition to the Holmes Collections.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

297. "A Chat With Conan Doyle." The Ritual, no. 18 (1996): 51-59.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
298. "Chattering class." New Statesman & Society 7, no. 331 (1994): 37.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents several books compiled by Sebastian Knight. Includes 'Tibor Fischer: The Thought Gang'; Arthur Conan Doyle: 'The Complete Sherlock Holmes'; Keith Oatley: 'The Case of Emily V'.
299. Cheap eats in London. 3rd ed. San Francisco: Chronicle Books, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 96642563. Availability: Chronicle Books, 275 5th St., 3rd Floor, San Francisco, CA 94103 // A picture of the Sherlock Holmes Pub on the cover.
300. "Cheat's Guide to the Classics: 2." Daily Mail (London), July 30, 1999: 59.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Short summary of The Hound of the Baskervilles, Doyle, and Hound movies.
301. "Children's Bookbag." Publishers Weekly 246, no. 32 (1999): 213.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents news briefs on children's books as of August 1999. Features the book series called Aladdin Classics which includes The Hound of the Baskervilles.
302. "Children's Books for Fall." Publishers Weekly 254, no. 28 (2007): 34-127.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A list of children's books for fall 2007 is presented. Included is one related to Holmes. "The Boy Sherlock Holmes debuts with His 1st Case: Eye of the Crow by Shane Peacock ($19.95, 10-14)."
303. "Children's Books for Spring." Publishers Weekly 255, no. 7 (2008): 27-116.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // List includes Nancy Springer's The Case of the Bizarre Bouquets (the Enola Holmes Mysteries) ($14.99, 9-up); The Boy Sherlock Holmes continues with Death in the Air by Shane Peacock ($19.95, 10-14); The Sherlock Files debuts with The 100-Year-Old Secret by Tracy Barrett ($15.95.8-12).
304. "Children's Books for Spring." Publishers Weekly 245, no. 7 (1998): 128.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents an extensive listing of books planned for publication in spring, 1998, according to publisher, title, and author. Brief summaries of each book.
305. "Children's Choices for 1999." Reading Teacher 53, no. 2 (1999): 169.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents lists of children's and young adult's trade books selected by school children in the United States for the year 1999. Includes an anthology of werewolf and vampire stories collected by Alan Durant. Included are stories by popular authors such as Arthur Conan Doyle, Bram Stoker, Woody Allen, and Jane Yolen.
306. "China in the Cases of Sherlock Holmes." Shoso-In Bulletin 9, no. (1999): 53-55.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Translated by Margarine Lau.
307. "Chinese chequers." Canada & the World Background 61, no. 4 (1996): 23.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports on China's foreign relations with the United States, with a passing reference to Holmes. "The world of international diplomacy can sometimes make a Sherlock Holmes plot look transparent and easy to solve."
308. Christmas pudding and, Deadly prophecy. St. Laurent, Quebec: Distributed by Madacy Music, 1998. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 55 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Sherlock Holmes collection; Videocassette release of 2 episodes of the 1954-55 British television series, based on the stories of Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Ronald Howard (Sherlock Holmes), Howard Marion Crawford (Dr. Watson), Archie Duncan (Inspector Lestrade, other roles) ; introduction by Christopher Lee. produced by Sheldon Reynolds ; directed by Steve Previn & Sheldon Reynolds. Music, Paul Durand ; cinematography, Raymond Clunie. // Christmas pudding: a condemned man vows to break out of prison and murder Sherlock Holmes ; Deadly prophecy: a young boarding school pupil has been sleepwalking to church in the night ... with deadly results for the town's elite citizens!

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

309. "Christmas TV: the Dark Side of Sherlock Holmes." Belfast News Letter (Northern Ireland), December 20, 2002: 6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Sherlock Holmes and his loyal companion Dr Watson are back on the trail of The Hound Of The Baskervilles. But those fans expecting a quaint, pipe-smoking detective in this new production might be in for a few surprises. The well-known detective will be hounding out the culprit on BBC One on Boxing Day and viewers will get to see him injecting morphine into his arm. Australian actor Richard Roxburgh, who plays Holmes, thinks that there is nothing wrong in revealing the super sleuth's darker side...."
310. "Chronology." CQ Researcher 13, no. 38 (2003): 927-927.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents chronology of events regarding serial killers. First modern-age serial killer; Publication of first modern scientific account of sexual serial murder; Arthur Conan Doyle's publication of 'Sherlock Holmes'; Preparation of first modern profile by psychiatrist James Brussel of bomber suspect George Metesky; Popularity of the term serial killer; DNA Identification Act; Trial for sniper John Allen Muhammad.
311. "CIA Photomontage." The Serpentine Muse 17, no. 3 (2001): 19.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
312. "City Gets Conan Doyle Collection; Portsmouth, England, receives Sherlock Holmes memorabilia worth $3.6 million." Los Angeles Times, Aug 8, 2004: A.9.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "[Richard Lancelyn Green] was the foremost [Arthur Conan Doyle] scholar and a leading Sherlock Holmes specialist. His collection was acknowledged to be the finest in private hands,' said Nicholas Utechin, Lancelyn Green's friend and editor of the 'Sherlock Holmes Journal.' Lancelyn Green, a prominent figure in the Sherlock Holmes Society, spent more than 40 years collecting material related to Conan Doyle and Holmes. His will stipulated that the collection should be housed together and that he wanted it offered first to Portsmouth's library service."
313. "Class Transit." People 55, no. 22 (2001): 140.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports on the efforts of Alexander Waugh to sell short stories by famous authors in vending machines in the London Underground, with reference to Doyle. "Since January the first three of Waugh's Travelman dispensers have discreetly sprouted at the Tube station in London's affluent South Kensington. For a one-pound (about $1.50) coin, riders can purchase the selection of the week, chosen from the works of literary masters such as Arthur Conan Doyle, Muriel Spark, F. Scott Fitzgerald and, naturally, Evelyn Waugh."
314. Classic Detective Stories. a collection. Vol. 2. Newport Beach, CA: Books on Tape, 1996. Sound Recording 9 sound cassettes (90 min. each).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog. Unabridged. Volume 2, of two volumes. Read by various readers. //
315. "Classic Returns." Library Journal 132, no. 17 (2007): 104-104.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Short review of Davies, David Stuart. Starring Sherlock Holmes. 208p. ISBN 978-1-84576-537-8. Hearn, Marcus & Alan Barnes. The Hammer Story: The Authorised History of Hammer Films. 192p. ISBN 978-1-84576-185-1. ea. vol: Titan. Oct. 2007. illus. filmog. $35.
316. Classic Sherlock Holmes. Charlotte, NC: Ovation Home Video, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (200 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. "Triple DVD Feature." Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Patricia Morrison, Edmund Breon, Patrica Cameron, Tom Dillon, Alan Murphy, Dennis Hoey, Renee Godfrey, Hilary Brooke, Paul Cavanagh. // Dressed to kill - music boxes made in a penitentiary lead to stolen bank plates; Terror by night - the theft of a precious gem and murder aboard a train lead to a complicated scheme; The women in green - investigation of series of murder victims with missing fingers.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

317. Classic TV episodes from Christmas past. Carlsbad, CA: Bridgestone Multimedia, 1994. Visual Material 3 videocassettes (260 min. ea.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. & b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS format. Participants: George Burns, Gracie Allen, Betty White, Jack Webb, Bob Cummings, Jack Benny, Lon Chaney, Jr., Charles Ruggles, Charles Boyer, Maureen O'Sullivan, Ray Bolger, Dwayne Hickman, Buster Crabbe, Helen Hayes, Burgess Meredith, Raymond Burr. Producer, director: Dave Holden. // Bridgestone Multimedia presents this compilation of the best uncut classic TV episodes from Christmas past.
318. "Classics for Pleasure." Publishers Weekly 254, no. 33 (2007): 57-57.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book 'Classics for Pleasure,' by Michael Dirda. Includes a reference to Holmes. "In this casually brilliant collection of 'great book' recommendations, Dirda, a Pulitzer Prize-winning critic for the Washington Post Book World, discusses titles ranging from well-known favorites such as Sherlock Holmes and Beowulf to more obscure writers such as Jaroslav Hasek and John Masefield...."
319. "The Classics, Revisited." School Library Journal 52, no.: 9-9.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book series "Scholastic Classics" published by Scholastic that features illustrations and forewords by well-known children's and young adult authors such as Eoin Colfer on Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's "The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes," Katherine Paterson on Jane Austen's "Pride and Prejudice," Jack Gantos on J. M. Barrie's "Peter Pan," and Philip Pullman on Edgar Allan Poe's "The Raven and Other Poems and Stories."
320. "Classification of Syndicated Features by Subject Matter." Editor & Publisher 136, no. 29 (2003): 84S.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a classification of syndicated features by subject matter. Lists Bender, Howard Games Afoot, The-Sherlock Holmes Crime Scene Chronicles, Harris, Jack Games Afoot. The-Sherlock Holmes Crime Scene Chronicles and Summer, E. Modern Sherlock Holmes (Mystery)
321. "Classification of syndicated features by subject matter." Editor & Publisher 132, no. 32 (1999): 103S.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents newspaper syndicated features classified by subject matter. Includes Modern Sherlock Holmes (Mystery)--J. Sherrod.
322. "Classification of syndicated features by subject matter." Editor & Publisher 131, no. 31 (1998): 102S.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Lists by-lined syndicated features by subject matter. Includes The Games Afoot, The-Sherlock Holmes Crime Scene Chronicles -- Jack Harris/Howard Bender; Modern Sherlock Holmes (Mystery)--J. Sherrod.
323. "Classifications of syndicated features by subject matter." Editor & Publisher 129, no. 31 (1996): 101S.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Lists syndicated newspaper features by subject matter. Includes advice columns; Astrology; Automotive; Beauty; Books; Business; Children's features; Comics; Commentary; Consumerism; Editorial art; Education; Entertainment; Family; Fashion; Food and wine; Health; Hobbies; Legal.
324. "Classifications of syndicated features by subject matter." Editor & Publisher 128, no. 30 (1995): 119S.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a listing of syndicated features in the United States classified by subject matter. Includes frequency; Size of feature; How feature is furnished.
325. "Colin Firth to Play Sherlock Holmes in a New Hollywood Blockbuster." Sunday Mirror, November 10, 1996: 15.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Hollywood bosses want Pride and Prejudice star Colin Firth to play Sherlock Holmes in a new blockbuster about the detective...."
326. "Columnist's Choice." Booklist 102, no. 9/10 (2006): 78-78.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article presents the author's top ten list of series, sets, and multivolume works from 2005 and earlier. Topping the list are "The Complete Calvin and Hobbes," by Bill Watterson, "The Complete Peanuts," by Charles Schulz, "The New Annotated Sherlock Holmes," edited by Leslie S. Klinger, "Oxford Illustrated Dickens," and the "Oxford Illustrated Jane Austen."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

327. "Come Together, Fall Apart." Texas Monthly 34, no. 4 (2006): 56-56.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Brief interview [on sidebar] with Susan Wittig Albert with question about retiring or killing off her character, China Bayles. "Like Conan Doyle and Sherlock? Push her over the falls because I get tired of her? I don't think so. I'd miss her."
328. "Competition." New Statesman 125, no. 4301 (1996): 52.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents humorous captions and anecdotes submitted by readers. References to both Doyle and Holmes.
329. The complete Sherlock Holmes collection. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2006. Visual Material 5 videodiscs (ca. 16 hr., 14 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Originally produced as motion pictures, 1939-1946. Based on the stories or characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. All films were restored by the UCLA Film & Television Archive except for Adventures of Sherlock Holmes and The hound of Baskervilles. Special features: six audio commentaries; scene selection. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. Hound of the Baskervilles: director, Sidney Lanfield. Adventures of Sherlock Holmes: director, Alfred Werker. Voice of terror: director, John Rawlins. Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon, Sherlock Holmes in Washington: director, Roy William Neill. Sherlock Holmes faces death, The spider woman, The scarlet claw, Pearl of death, House of fear, The woman in green, Pursuit to Algiers, Terror by night, Dressed to kill: producer/director, Roy William Neill. // Basil Rathbone portrays the deductive genius, Sherlock Holmes and Nigel Bruce his mystified colleague, Dr. Watson in these fourteen classic films.
330. "Comprehensive Bibliography." Book Links 17, no. 3 (2008): 61-63.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A list of books that appear in the articles published in this issue is presented. The list includes "Eye of the Crow: The Boy Sherlock Holmes, His First Case." By Shane Peacock. 2007.
331. "Comprehensive Bibliography." Book Links 17, no. 4 (2008): 61-63.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // References for the articles published in the March 1, 2008 issue of "Book Links" are presented. Under "Best New Books for the Classroom" is listed Eye of the Crow: The Boy Sherlock Holmes, His First Case. By Shane Peacock. 2007.
332. "Conan Doyle story may fetch GBP250,000." The Herald (Glasgow), April 16, 2007: 8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The original revised manuscript of one of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's last Sherlock Holmes stories could fetch GBP250,000 at auction. The Scottish writer made more than 100 changes in black ink to his handwritten copy of The Adventure of the Three Gables, which appeared in The Strand Magazine in October 1926. The following year, the 31 page story of intrigue, theft, deception and deduction appeared as the fourth of his final, 12- story collection entitled The Case Book of Sherlock Holmes. In some cases, Conan Doyle crossed out the odd word, replacing it with another. In others, he replaced whole phrases or sentences. Complete manuscripts of Sherlock Holmes stories with such extensive alterations 'are of the utmost rarity', said Marsha Malinowski of auctioneers Sotheby's, who have put an estimate of dollars350,000 (GBP176,000) - dollars500,000 (GBP252,000) on it for their New York sale on June 21. The document was once owned by the Marquis of Donegall and has been in a private American collection since the 1970s. Among those interested in purchasing it may be Edinburgh University...."
333. "Conan Doyle, Detective: True Crimes Investigated by the Creator of Sherlock Holmes." Publishers Weekly 253, no. 38 (2006): 55-55.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "Conan Doyle, Detective: True Crimes Investigated by the Creator of Sherlock Holmes," by Peter Costello.
334. "Conan Doyle, man of action." The Gold Coast Bulletin, Apr 22, 2006: 18.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Reading about the infamous Dreyfus Case, the celebrated incident in which writer Emile Zola came to the aid of a French military officer wrongly accused of treason, author [Julian Barnes] discovered parallels to an incident in the life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, creator of Sherlock Holmes. While

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Conan Doyle believed that Edalji was the victim of bigoted police, Edalji himself did not see it as an issue of colour, something that made the story all the more interesting for Barnes. Barnes' research involved reading about Conan Doyle and relying on tour guides to evoke certain settings for the story. Conan Doyle is said to have come up with endings for his complex whodunnits before writing them and Barnes recalls using a similar approach."

335. "Conan the Librarian." New Zealand Archivists 15, no. 2 (2004): 17-18.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article presents information on Sir Arthur Conan Doyle a writer. A fascinating account of the story of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's personal archives is related in the Weekend Australian Magazine for 17-18 April 2004. The author, Philip Norman, recounts how the whereabouts of Conan Doyle's papers had been a mystery, but that the papers had now come to light and were to be auctioned on 19 May 2004 at Christie's in London.
336. "A Concept-Structured Life." Russian Social Science Review 47, no. 2 (2006): 79-108.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reference to genre of "comic" or ironic detective stories and Sherlock Holmes Magazine awarding "prestigious annual prizes in three categories, that being one of them."
337. "A Concept-Structured Life." Russian Studies in Literature 41, no. 4 (2005): 66-95.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reference to genre of "comic" or ironic detective stories and Sherlock Holmes Magazine awarding "prestigious annual prizes in three categories, that being one of them."
338. "Consumptive." Economist 330, no. 7849 (1994): 91-91.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the exhibition 'The Davos Phenomenon,' at the Strauhof Museum, Zurich with a reference to Doyle. "...Arthur Conan Doyle was not ill but arrived with his sick wife in 1893. For the next two years the Doyle family lived in the Villa Am Stein once occupied by Symonds. Doyle wrote little in Davos. He was too busy with the English billiards club, sledging, attending masked balls and learning the newly imported art of skiing. He left it to Symonds's daughter, Katherine Furse, to write the pioneering treatise, "Ski-Running", in 1924...."
339. "The Content of Our (Textual) Characters or Who's Afraid of Postmodern Ethics?". Humanist 54, no. 1 (1994): 29-31.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes multiple references to Doyle and Holmes, with an opening quote from The Hound of the Baskervilles.
340. "Contents of the Crowded Box-Room." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 1, no. 1 (1997): 1-2.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Describes the origins and nature of the Sherlock Holmes Collections at the University of Minnesota.
341. "Contributors." Literature and Medicine 24, no. 2 (2006): 332-334.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a reference to Doyle in the note for one of the contributors. "James Krasner is an associate professor of English at the University of New Hampshire. His recent work includes a study of grief and phantom limb pain, published in PMLA, and a discussion of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle as a medical writer, published in Mosaic."
342. "Contributors." Journal of Narrative Theory 35, no. 1 (2005): 133-134.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a reference to Doyle. "Nils Claussøn received his Ph.D. from Dalhousie University and has taught at the University of Regina (Regina, Saskatchewan, Canada) since 1984. He teaches courses on Victorian and modern British literature, popular fiction, literary genres, and literary theory. He has published articles on Benjamin Disraeli, D. H. Lawrence, Edmund Blunden, Seamus Heaney, Susan Glaspell, G. K. Chesterton, Wilfred Owen, Oscar Wilde, and Arthur Conan Doyle. He is currently working on a book on the theory and practice of genre criticism, tentatively entitled "How to Do Things with Genres," of which the present article on The Hound of the Baskervilles will form a chapter."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

343. "Contributors." Victorian Studies 46, no. 2 (2004): 381-385.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a reference to Doyle under one of the contributors. "Robert Fraser is Senior Research Fellow in Literature at the Open University in the United Kingdom. His Victorian publications include The Making of The Golden Bough: The Origins and Growth of an Argument (1990, 2002), Sir James Frazer and the Literary Imagination (1990), Proust and the Victorians (1994), and Victorian Quest Romance: Stevenson, Haggard, Kipling and Conan Doyle (1998)."
344. "Contributors." Victorian Studies 43, no. 4 (2001): 843-848.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes reference to Doyle under contributor note. "Edward S. Lauterbach is Professor Emeritus of English at Purdue University. His interests include Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and the Sherlock Holmes stories."
345. "Contributors." Victorian Studies 42, no. 4 (1999): 877-881.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes Doyle reference in contributor note. "Edward S. Lauterbach is Professor Emeritus of English at Purdue University. His interests include Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and the Sherlock Holmes stories."
346. "Core Collection: Historical Mystery Timeline." Booklist 103, no. 17 (2007): 14-15.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article presents reviews of books that are set between the year 80 BC and 1901. Includes a couple of Holmes references. "1881 Irene Adler series, by Carole Nelson Douglas (Forge). The beautiful opera singer who outwitted Sherlock Holmes takes center stage in a series of crime-solving capers....1915 Mary Russell and Sherlock Holmes series, by Laurie R. King (Bantam). The famous detective's brilliant young apprentice becomes his partner in both mystery and marriage...."
347. Corn : a national renewable resource. St. Louis, MO: National Corn Growers Association, 1994. Visual Material 1 videocassette, 60 Captain Cornelius Magazines, 6 activity sheets, 1 poster, 1 booklet, 4 teacher's guides, 4 golf tees, packaging material, 3 cards ; in container 23 x 32 x 6 cm.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- VHS format. Videocassette title: Sherlock Holmes & the mystery of the pollution solution. Booklet title: The world of corn. "The Ohio corn marketing program"--Cassette label. // Designed to help students recognize corn as a reservoir of energy and a renewable substitute for anything made from expendable fossil fuels.
348. "Correction." The Sunday Telegraph (London), Dec 19, 2004: 02.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Last Sunday we published a picture, stating that it was Richard Lancelyn Green, who died in March this year. It was, in fact, a picture of his brother, Scirard Lancelyn Green, who is very much alive. We apologise for this error."
349. "Corrections." American Theatre 24, no. 9 (2007): 6.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article presents corrections to articles in previous issues including: "In a News in Brief (Sept. '07) item, Geva Theatre Center's first production of the season was incorrectly identified. Dial M for Murder began the 2006-07 season; this season kicked off with Sherlock Holmes: The Final Adventure."
350. "Crime solvers challenged at Whodunnit?". The Press (Christchurch, New Zealand), April 19, 2001: 9.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Whodunnit? gives visitors the opportunity to live out their favourite Sherlock Holmes fantasies as they try to solve a murder mystery. A victim, a knife, and three suspects provide the main clues."
351. "Criticism, Theater, Film, Journalism, etc." Reference & Research Book News 23, no. 3 (2008): 292-304.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews several books including one with a reference to Doyle. Blood on the stage; milestone plays of crime, mystery, and detection; an annotated repertoire, 1900-1925. Kabatchnik, Arnon. Scarecrow Pr., ©2008 417 p. $100.00 "Kabatchnik, a retired theater professor from SUNY Binghamton, Stanford U., Ohio State U., Florida State U. and Elmira College, offers this chronology of plays containing themes of crime, mystery and criminal investigation. Plot summaries and reviews are supplied for these plays, which include works from such noted playwrights as Eugene O'Neill, Arthur Conan Doyle,

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Jacinto Benavente and John Galsworthy. The author gives thorough criticism for the benefit of theater students on why each work is noteworthy, and why the appeal of this genre endures."

352. "Critic's Choice; It's Elementary for Dr Bell." Daily Record, December 18, 1999: 61.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Murder Rooms BBC 2. Filmed in Glasgow and Edinburgh last summer, this edgy - and somewhat spooky - thriller is inspired by the real life relationship between writer Arthur Conan Doyle and his tutor at Edinburgh University, pioneer forensic pathologist Dr Joseph Bell. The pair become embroiled in a hunt for a serial killer, a journey which reveals the stinking underbelly of Victorian society and inspires Doyle to create the most memorable detective of all time - the one and only Sherlock Holmes. This two-part drama stars a whole host of Scottish talent lead by the excellent Ian Richardson - best known at the scary PM Francis Urquhart in the BBC's House of Cards trilogy and recently seen in Gormenghast and The Magician's House - as Joseph Bell, with Robin Laing (Joey in both series of Jimmy McGovern's The Lakes) as the young Arthur Conan Doyle...."
353. The crucifer of blood. Purchase, NY: Phoenix Theatre Company, 1994. Visual Material 2 videocassettes (140 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. NTSC ; 3/4 in. (U-matic). Copy of program available. Participants: Matthew Loney (as Sherlock Holmes), Matthew E. Beisner, Billy Crudup, Anthony Dodge, Walter Hudson, Bram Lewis, Noble Shropshire, Stephen Turner, Edward Yankie, I. Jordan, Melvin Lum, and Rachel York. Videotaped by The New York Public Library's Theatre on Film and Tape Archive at the Performing Arts Center, Purchase College, Purchase, N.Y., Aug. 5, 1994. Funding: Recorded with the financial assistance of The Ford Foundation Fund for the Theatre on Film and Tape Archive at The New York Public Library for the Performing Arts. The Phoenix Theatre Company, Bram Lewis, artistic director, Joel Warren, managing director, presents ; [written] by Paul Giovanni ; directed by Marcia Milgrom Dodge ; [video prod. company] Parker/Hodges Productions ; [video producer] Theatre on Film and Tape Archive, Betty L. Corwin, director. Sets and lighting, James F. Tilton ; costumes, Gail Brassard ; original music by Steven M. Alper ; sound, Aural Fixation ; prod. stage manager, Pamela Edington. //
354. The Crucifer of Blood. Burbank, CA: Distributed by Warner Home Video, 2010. Visual Material 1 videodisc (103 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD; region 1; Dolby digital 2.0; widescreen. Based on the play by Paul Giovanni. Originally released as a motion picture in 1991. Participants: Charlton Heston, Richard Johnson, Susannah Harker, John Castle, Clive Wood, Simon Callow, Edward Fox. Audience: Not rated. Turner Pictures presents an Agamemnon Films production ; in association with British Lion ; written, produced and directed by Fraser C. Heston. Director of photography, Robin Vidgeon ; editor, Eric Boyd-Perkins ; music, Carl Davis. // A treat for Sherlock Holmes fans: A maharajah's treasure, the British soldiers who stole it and swore a blood oath of secrecy, and 30 years later, the consequences: death. Is the treasure cursed? Or is a very human murderer at work? Only one man can unravel the mystery, Sherlock Holmes.
355. "Current Wisdom." American Spectator 37, no. 4 (2004): 68-69.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents summaries of articles published in "The New York Review (NYR) of Books" periodical in the U.S. from February 2004 to April 2004. Reference to Holmes in the March 25, 2004 New York Review of Books. From the notes: "An engage reviewer for the incomparable NYR contemplates two tomes devoted to poofter ideology and identifies one of the hitherto unrecognized giants of the 19th century erotic ghetto, Sherlock Holmes!... Art, aestheticism, and homosexuality made a rich trio in the nineteenth century, with mystery and detection as their friends and allies. 'Like a true Decadent,' writes Robb, Holmes enjoys 'introspective' German music and listens to it with 'languid, dreamy eyes.'... 'Art for art's sake' is one of his mottoes--applied, not to poetry, but to the incongruously useful art of criminal detection...."
356. Cursed creatures. North American ed, (Ghost stories). Milwaukee, WI: Gareth Stevens Publishing, 2007.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2006012442. Contents: What was it? / Fitz-James O'Brien -- The story of Baelbrow / E. and H. Heron -- Dracula / Bram Stoker -- Man-size in marble / E. Nesbit -- The hound of the Baskervilles / Sir Arthur Conan Doyle -- Carmilla / J. Sheridan Le Fanu -- The masque of the Red

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Death / Edgar Allan Poe -- The picture of Dorian Gray / Oscar Wilde -- Ghosts that have haunted me / J. K. Bangs //

357. "Dame Jean Conan Doyle 1912-1997." The Ritual, no. 21 (1998): 50-52.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

358. The Dancing men. [Oak Forest, IL]: MPI Home Video, 1995. Visual Material 1 videocassette (52 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS format. Videocassette release of the 1983 television film.

Based on: The dancing men, by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Jeremy Brett, David Burke, Betsy Brantley. Granada Television Ltd. Director, John Bruce ; producer, Michael Cox ; screenplay, Anthony Skene ; music, Patrick Gowers. //

359. "A Dangerous Affair." Publishers Weekly 255, no. 48 (2008): 31-31.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "A Dangerous Affair," by Caro Peacock. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "Liberty Lane returns in Peacock's newest Victorian London melodrama....The mystery flows smoothly, with well-placed red herrings, excellent reveals and pleasing surprises. Readers should look forward to their next meeting with Liberty and her friends, particularly gruff, wise groom Amos, the Watson to Liberty's would-be Sherlock Holmes."

360. Dark Detectives: adventures of the supernatural sleuths. 1st ed. Minneapolis: F&B Mystery, 1999.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- In Egypt's land/Kim Newman -- Our lady of death/Peter Tremayne -- The mummy's heart/Kim Newman -- The horse of the invisible/ William Hope Hodgson -- The magician and the matinee idol/Kim Newman -- The adventure of the crawling horror/Basil Copper -- The trouble with Barrymore/Kim Newman -- Rouse him not/Manly Wade Wellman -- De Marigny's clock/Brian Lumley -- The Biafran bank manager/Kim Newman -- Someone is dead/R. Chetwynd-Hayes -- Vultures gather/Brian Mooney -- Lost souls/Clive Barker -- Mimsy/Kim Newman -- The man who shot Liberty Valence/Jay Russell -- The Dog story/Kim Newman -- Bay wolf/Neil Gaiman -- The duel of seven stars/Kim Newman. //

361. "Datebook." American Libraries 36, no. 7 (2005): 90-91.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a calendar of conferences, exhibits and other events in library science scheduled for 2005. Under the "Exhibits" section, note is made of the ongoing online exhibit at the Indiana University Lilly Library, "Bloomington by Gaslight: Sherlock Holmes in the Lilly Library."
<http://www.indiana.edu/~liblilly/holmes/index.shtml>

362. "Datebook." American Libraries 34, no. 3 (2003): 95.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents the calendar for events related to the American Library Association for March-April 2003. Reference and photo from Newberry Library exhibit, "Sir Arthur Conan Doyle: Beyond Sherlock Holmes."

363. "David K.C. Cooper." Lancet 361, no. 9360 (2003): 886.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Interviews British physician David K.C. Cooper. Notes that he is reading an unspecified biography of Doyle.

364. De speurneuzen. [s.l.]: Buena Vista Home Entertainment, 1996. Visual Material (71 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- kleur, geluid. hifi-stereo. Disney classics; Videoversie van de gelijknamige film. - Verenigde Staten van Amerika : The Walt Disney Company, cop. 1986. - Nederlands gesproken. - Gebaseerd op de 'Basil of Baker street' boeken-serie van Eve Titus en Paul Galdone. [met de stemmen van] Bill van Dijk ... [et al.] ; prod. Karin Bakker, Wim Pel ; dialogen, liedjes en regie Harrie Geelen ; mus. Henry Mancini ; prod. by Burny Mattinson ; dir. by John Musker ... [et al.]. // Basil uit Bakerstreet, de Sherlock Holmes onder de muizen, neemt het op tegen de schurk Professor Ratbout Rattatoei om de vader van het muisje Olivia uit zijn handen te redden.

365. De speurneuzen. [Amsterdam]: Walt Disney Studios Home Entertainment, 2010. Visual Material 1 dvd-video (71 min.).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- kleur, geluid, breedbeeld. Walt Disney Classics ; 29. 4 talen gesproken waaronder Nederlands, 5 talen ondertiteld waaronder Nederlands/ Videoversie van de tekenfilm: Verenigde Staten : The Walt Disney Pictures, cop. 1986. prod. by Burny Mattinson ; dir. by John Musker ... [et al.] ; [Nederlandse versie met medewerking van Lisa Boray ... [et al.]. //

366. "Death a case for Sherlock." The Gold Coast Bulletin, Dec 14, 2004: 6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "According to friends of Richard Lancelyn Green, he appears to have dressed up his suicide as murder in an attempt to get at an enemy from beyond the grave,..."
367. "Death still a mystery." Journal (Newcastle-upon-Tyne), Apr 24, 2004: 14.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Richard Lancelyn Green, 50, who co-edited a book about Holmes creator Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, was found garrotted in his bed surrounded by cuddly toys and a bottle of gin. The tin was created for Berkshire biscuit manufacturers Huntley and Palmers in the 1970s by a mischievous artist."
368. "Deaths of Fellows." Astronomy & Geophysics 48, no. 6 (2007): 6.37-6.38.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article lists the names of Royal Astronomical Society Fellows who died from March 2006 to July 24, 2007 which includes Bernard Pagel (and a passing reference to Holmes). "...He will be remembered with great affection by several generations of colleagues and students, particularly for the beady-eyed look over his pipe and the quick and brilliant intelligence that would put even one of his heroes, Sherlock Holmes, to shame."
369. "The December Holiday Meeting." The Illustrious Clients News 32, no. 9 (2009): 3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
370. "December on Stage." American Theatre 21, no. 10 (2004): 76-87.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a list of theatrical productions scheduled for December 2004 in the U.S. Includes The West End Horror: The New Sherlock Holmes Mystery! playing at the ASOLO Theatre Company of Sarasota.
371. "Deduction." Baker Street West 15, no. 2 (1999): 4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
372. "Delivering a healthy dose of health education: An interview with Betsy Aumiller." Curriculum Review 45, no. 8 (2006): 14-15.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // An interview with Betsy Aumiller, director of adult education and e-learning at the Susan P. Byrnes Health Education Center, which provides on-site health education for schools in central and southern Pennsylvania and northern Maryland. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...We wanted to create a superhero group of senses. Because that was so well-received, we worked with our animation company to come up with characters for each of the five senses. For the other two kits, we just brainstormed. We have a Sherlock Holmes theme in Tobacco and Inhalants, and in Adolescence we have the Coach and Gang..."
373. Delo o kresle fotografa. [S.l.] : Central Partnership ; [Moscow, Russia?] : Polygon Video ; St. Petersburg, Fla. : Distributed by Rosexportfilm, 2002. Visual Material 1 videocassette (90 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS. At head of title on container: Khroniki Konan Doilia. Participants: Ian Richardson, Charles Edwards, Simon Chandler, David Hayman, Clare Holman, Roger Lloyd Pack, Tim Woodward. BBC ; screenplay, Paul Billing ; producer, Alison Jackson ; director, Paul Marcus. // Murder rooms: Mysteries of the real Sherlock Holmes.; Photographer's chair; Mysteries of the real Sherlock Holmes; Photographer's chair
374. Delo o tsarstve kostei. [s.l.]: Central Partnership ; St. Petersburg, Fla. : Distributed by Rosexportfilm, 2002. Visual Material 1 videocassette (90 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS; stereo. At head of title on container: Khroniki Konan Doilia. Participants: Ian Richardson, Charles Edwards, Crispin Bonham-Carter, Caroline Carver, Warwick Davis, Jan McNeice, John Sessions. BBC ; screenplay, Stephen Gallagher ; producer, Alison Jackson ; director, Simon

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

- Langton. // Russian; In English with Russian voice-over translation. Murder rooms :: Mysteries of the real Sherlock Holmes.; Kingdom of bones; Mysteries of the real Sherlock Holmes; Kingdom of bones
375. "Denny's Challenges a 'Real' Breakfast Straw Man and Loses." Brandweek 49, no. 6 (2008): 21-21.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The author discusses a television advertisement from the chain restaurant Denny's. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...The print and in-store promotion delivers the "Real breakfast 24/7" tagline but in equally tired fashion. A stanchion sign gives 'clues' to spotting a tare breakfast complete with a photo of 'ye ole Sherlock Holmes spy cap...."
376. "Department of Corrections." New Republic 232, no. 2 (2005): 9-9.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a correction to the article "CSI: Baker Street," published in the Correspondence section of the December 20, 2004 issue of "The New Republic," which properly cites a reference to Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's short story "Silver Blaze."
377. Der Hund von Baskerville. Chicago: International Historic Films, 1997. Visual Material 1 videocassette (78 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Historic film classics; VHS. Originally produced as a motion picture in 1936. "Den Ondra-Lamac Film." Nach dem Roman von Conan Doyle. Participants: Peter Voss, Friedrich Kayssler, Fritz Odemar, Alice Brandt, Bruno Güttner. Spielleitung, Carl Lamac ; Drehbuch, Carla von Stackelberg. Komposition und musikalische Leitung, Paul Hühn. // Sherlock Holmes solves a murder at the Baskerville castle in this film based on Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's famous tale.
378. "Detective Fiction: It's Quite Elementary, My Dear Nigel; The Great Detectives BBC2, 8.00pm." Daily Record, May 15, 1999: 29.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Detective fiction is the most popular genre of literature. Fictional detectives Sherlock Holmes, Hercule Poirot, Philip Marlowe and Inspector Maigret have not only stood the test of time, but have also been the inspiration for countless detectives who populate today's fiction on film and television. In tonight's episode, The Mysterious Affair Of Sherlock Holmes And The Visionary Doctor, [Nigel] Williams sets out to investigate why, over 100 years since his first appearance, Sherlock Holmes remains so popular."
379. Detectives Gangbusters ; Mr. & Mrs. North ; Sherlock Holmes. Schiller Park, IL: MediaBay, 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 180 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. TV from yesteryear; DVD. Videodisc release of episodes of detective television programs from the 1950s along with episodes from the radio programs of the same title from the 1930s and 1940s. Participants: Jay Novello, Frank Readick, Richard Denning, Barbara Britton, Joseph Curtin, Alice Frost, Ronald Howard, Howard Marion Crawford, Carlton Hobbs, Norman Shelley. // Gangbusters: The; case of Willie "the actor" Sutton"; (TV) ; The; case of the triple treat bandits; (Radio) -- Mr. & Mrs. North;; Target; (TV) ;; Who killed Mr. Stefano?; (Radio) -- Sherlock Holmes: The; case of Lady Beryl; (TV) ; The; three Garridebs; (Radio).
380. "A dialectic of didactics." South African Journal of Science 91, no. 8 (1995): 390.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a dialogue regarding academic staff development, and includes one line with Holmes reference. "But this is hard: what Sherlock Holmes would class as a problem requiring a three-cigar solution."
381. "Dickens on the Metropolitan Police." The Ritual, no. 22 (1998): 24-26.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
382. "Did Conan Doyle play Dr Watson, on the case with a real Sherlock Holmes?". Daily Mail (London), January 3, 2000: 27.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Shortly before the black flag above the jail let the crowds swarming over Calton Hill know justice had been done, the condemned man made a remarkable request. Turning to Dr Henry Littlejohn, Edinburgh's chief medical officer who had come to witness the hanging, wife murderer Eugene Chantrelle said coolly: 'Give my compliments to Joe Bell. He did a good job in bringing me to the scaffold.' In 1878 the remark was widely reported, yet it remains a mystery. Joseph Bell was an eminent Victorian surgeon at Edinburgh's Royal Infirmary, who would amuse medical students by deducing the occupation of his patients from small clues in their appearance. This habit would later inspire a certain student called Arthur Conan Doyle to create the world's most famous detective in Sherlock Holmes. But could there have been more to it than that? Chantrelle's remark suggests Bell solved the murder, not those who took credit at the trial for proving the womanising alcoholic had disposed of his wife with a large dose of opium. If Bell was a real-life Sherlock Holmes, solving crimes that baffled the police, who was the real Doctor Watson who assisted in his secret detective work? The creator of a new BBC drama claims the model for Watson was Doyle himself, and that he and Bell were actively involved in solving crimes. In uncovering the evidence, screen writer David Pirie had to wrestle with mysteries that would have taxed even Holmes. Bell and Doyle were very private men and would in any case have been sworn to secrecy if they did special detective work for the Crown Office...."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

383. "Disciplinary Classification." ISIS: Journal of the History of Science in Society 95, no. (2004): 24-50.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a bibliography on disciplinary classification of science. Lists Sherlock Holmes in Babylon and other Tales of Mathematical History, ed. by Marlow Anderson, Victor J. Katz, and Robin J. Wilson. (The Mathematical Association of America, 2003) ISBN 0883855461
384. "Discount the body count." Economist, no. (1997): 2p.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews several mystery stories. Reference to Doyle and Holmes in the review of 'Unnatural Exposure,' by Patricia Cornwell. "If Sir Arthur Conan Doyle were writing today, Sherlock Holmes would surely share Scarpetta's obsession with forensic detail, her enthusiastic meanderings down the Internet and her flashes of intuitive insight. But Sir Arthur, like Ms Cornwell, would be aware of the danger in this writing: the use of technology becomes so overpowering that it destroys the human element."
385. Discovering cinema. [Los Angeles]: Flicker Alley, 2007. Visual Material 2 videodiscs (104 min).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. with b&w sequences; 4 3/4 in. DVD, all regions; Dolby digital stereo. Special feature titles & production dates from disc menus, durations from program notes. Originally produced separately for French television as: Premiers pas du cinema : á la recherche du son & Premiers pas du cinema : un rêve en couleur. Special features (ca. 174 min.): unique or historically-significant short films & film excerpts. Program notes include further discussion of the special features. Participants: Interviewees on Learning to talk: Julien Anton, Paolo Cherchi Usai, Maurice Gianati, Stephen Herbert. Interviewees on Movies dream in color: Paolo Cherchi Usai, Gian Luca Farinelli, Maurice Gianati, Stephen Herbert, Anthony L'Abbate, Dominique Paini. // Learning to talk: A historical survey of the development of sound in motion pictures. Movies dream in color: A historical survey of the development of color in motion pictures.
386. "Discovering Guyana." Geographical 80, no. 12 (2008): 18-18.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article offers information on the Discovering Guyana conference sponsored by the Royal Geographical Society and Institute of British Geographers to be held on December 10, 2008 in London, England. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...Guyana is home to some of the most varied landscapes in South America - from lush tropical rainforest in the highlands to spectacular mountainous vistas - including the table-top mountains that inspired Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's The Lost World...."
387. "A dispute that would challenge Holmes himself." The Ottawa Citizen, September 16, 1999: F3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses Doyle copyright issues. "Almost 70 years after the death of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, the creator of Sherlock Holmes, England's greatest fictional detective is poised for a comeback. A new series of Holmes stories, written by modern authors, is likely to follow the conclusion of one of Conan Doyle's most impenetrable mysteries -- the case of his disputed copyrights. After a six-year legal wrangle for control of Conan Doyle's literary legacy, the New York state supreme court delivered a verdict last year on a bruising copyright case that began with a British bankruptcy and was complicated by an American divorce. And now a Hungarian former socialite who runs a guesthouse in New York's Catskill mountains claims she owns the rights to not only the fictional cast of Holmes characters such as Dr. Watson, but also the likenesses and images associated with the detective, right down to his famous deerstalker hat and distinctive pipe. The copyright that 60-year-old Andrea Plunket claims gives her control to the Holmes legacy is due to expire next year, but she is trying to extend her grip by licensing the characters and registering them as trademarks...."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

388. "Do you know your Holmes?". The Musgrave Papers, no. 12 (1999): 39, 67, 77, 89, 120-123.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
389. A dogged expose. [New York?]: Big Feats! Entertainment, 1995. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 30 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Wishbone; VHS. Inspired by Arthur Conan Doyle's A Scandal in Bohemia. Participants: Larry Brantley as the voice of Wishbone; Jordan Wall as Joe; Christie Abbott as Sam; Adam Springfield as David; Mary Chris Wall as Ellen, Angee Hughes as Wanda. Director of photography, Bert Guthrie ; musical director, Tim Cissel ; producer, Betty Buckley ; supervising producer, Stephanie Simpson; creator and executive producer, Rick Duffield ; written by Vincent Brown, ; edited by Julie Dunn ; directed by Ken Harrison. // An Oakdale "mastermind" puts Samantha in the middle of a tabloid scandal. At the same time, Wishbone as Arthur Conan Doyle's top detective, Sherlock Holmes, races to foil a mastermind who threatens to cause A Scandal in Bohemia.
390. "Don't Bug Me." USA Today Magazine 128, no. 2660 (2000): 77.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Features the electromagnetic and ultrasonic technology called PestContro for pest control, with a reference to Holmes. "In a classic Sherlock Holmes tale, the master detective bases his deduction on the fact that a dog didn't bark. That sort of negative inference also can apply when it comes to ridding your home of ants, spiders, roaches, waterbugs, and other insects, as well as mice, bats, and various critters that might take up residence in your residence, maintains Lentek International, Orlando, Fla. The method to control these pests is through electromagnetic and ultrasonic technology with PestContro."
391. "Dottles." Baker Street West 1 10, no. 1 (2004): 48-50.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
392. "Dottles." Baker Street West 1 10, no. 2 (2004): 44-46.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
393. "Dottles." Baker Street West 1 9, no. 1 (2003): 47-49.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
394. "Dottles." Baker Street West 1 9, no. 2 (2003): 44-46.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
395. "Dottles." Baker Street West 1 8, no. 1 (2002): 50-51.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
396. "Dottles." Baker Street West 1 8, no. 2 (2002): 40-41.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
397. "Dottles." Baker Street West 1 7, no. 1 (2001): 48-50.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
398. "Dottles." Baker Street West 1 7, no. 2 (2001): 45-47.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
399. "Dottles." Baker Street West 1 6, no. 1 (2000): 49.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
400. "Dottles." Baker Street West 1 6, no. 2 (2000): 52-53, 56.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
401. "Dottles." Baker Street West 1 5, no. 1 (1999): 30-31.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

402. "Dottles." Baker Street West 1 5, no. 2 (1999): 23-24.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
403. "Dottles." Baker Street West 1 4, no. 1 (1998): 11.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
404. "Dottles." Baker Street West 1 4, no. 2 (1998): 25.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
405. "Dottles." Baker Street West 1 4, no. 3 (1998): 23-25.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
406. "Dottles." Baker Street West 1 3, no. 1 (1997): 30-31.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
407. "Dottles." Baker Street West 1 3, no. 2 (1997): 26-27.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
408. "Dottles." Baker Street West 1 3, no. 3 (1997): 25-29.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
409. "Dottles." Baker Street West 1 2, no. 3 (1996): 34-37.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
410. "Dottles." Canadian Holmes 17, no. 3 (1994): 3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
411. "Down but not out. (Cover story)." Economist 335, no. 7909 (1995): 21-23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Looks at the effects of sanctions on Iraq, with a passing reference to Doyle. "But Mr Ekeus, whose sleuthing methods Conan-Doyle would have admired, worries about the past in order to be sure about the future..."
412. "Downey to play Sherlock Holmes." The Toronto Star, July 11, 2008: E02.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Robert Downey Jr. is trading Iron Man's metal suit for Sherlock Holmes's deerstalker hat. Downey is following his action blockbuster Iron Man with the title role in Sherlock Holmes, a mystery drama based on Arthur Conan Doyle's detective and an upcoming comic-book about Holmes by Lionel Wigram, one of the movie's producers. Madonna's hubby Guy Ritchie (Lock, Stock and Two Smoking Barrels) is directing the Warner Bros. film, which is set to begin shooting in October, the studio said. That should put it ahead of the schedule for a Sherlock Holmes comedy in development at Sony, which will star Sacha Baron Cohen as the detective and Will Ferrell as his partner, Dr. Watson."
413. "Doyle drama." Bookseller, no. 5187 (2005): 50.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reports that author Arthur Conan Doyle is to be the subject of a new BBC 2 feature-length drama. To be screened during the week commencing 23rd July, "The Strange Case of Sherlock Holmes and Arthur Conan Doyle" will dramatise the life of the writer and his struggle with the detective he created. It features a strong cast of British and Irish acting talent including Douglas Henshall, Emily Blunt and Sinead Cusack.
414. "Dr House, I presume." The Dominion Post (Wellington), March 8, 2005: 3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Series creator [David Shore] says part of the inspiration for the House character was Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's fictional 19th-century detective Sherlock Holmes, who was highly observant and frequently more interested in solving cases than in social niceties. When Shore and [Hugh Laurie] first met, they discussed the similarities between House and Holmes....Though Laurie's comedy background might seem an odd fit for a dramatic character, Shore says it's good training for an offbeat doctor on a show with comedic touches, including House's Sherlock Holmesian diagnoses of clinic patients."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

415. "Dr House, I presume." The Press (Christchurch, New Zealand), March 8, 2005: T4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "When doctors can't solve a case they turn to a special team of dedicated medical professionals led by a controversial doctor, whose determination and sleuthing skills bring to mind Sherlock Holmes, in House....Series creator David Shore says part of the inspiration for the House character was Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's fictional 19th-century detective Sherlock Holmes, who was highly observant and frequently more interested in solving cases than in social niceties. When Shore and Laurie first met, they discussed the similarities between House and Holmes...."
416. Dr. Bell and Mr. Doyle the dark beginnings of Sherlock Holmes. Richmond Hill, Ontario: BFS Video, 2003.
Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 116 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, Region 1 encoding. Originally released as a motion picture in 2000. Special features: selected bibliographies; cast profiles; production notes; DVD-ROM special features: "The adventure of Sherlock Holmes" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle; Sir Arthur Conan Doyle biography. Participants: Ian Richardson, Sean Wightman, Robin Laing, Dolly Wells, Charles Dance, Ralph Riach, Aly Bain, Andrew John Tait, Alan Sinclair. BBC ; BBS Films ; The Television Production Company ; WGBH Boston ; producer, Ian Madden ; writer, David Pirie ; director, Paul Seed. Director of photography, John Kenway ; art director, Anna Rackard ; editors, Martin Brinkler, Mark Day ; original music, Jim Parker ; costume designer, Frances Tempest ; production designer, Tom McCullagh. // In 1878, when Mr. Doyle meets the brilliant teacher, Dr. Bell, the young medical student is drawn into a new world of crime investigation. As he assists Bell in solving gruesome police cases, Doyle becomes fascinated with his tutor's uncanny talent for outwitting the most clever criminals. But, one particularly vicious cat-and-mouse game has a different ending. Doyle finds his life completely changed ... and even Dr. Bell's agile mind cannot predict the outcome.
417. Dr. Bell and Mr. Doyle the dark beginnings of Sherlock Holmes. Richmond Hill, Ontario: BFS Video, 2003.
Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 116 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS. Originally released as a motion picture in 2000. Participants: Ian Richardson, Sean Wightman, Robin Laing, Dolly Wells, Charles Dance, Ralph Riach, Aly Bain, Andrew John Tait, Alan Sinclair. BBC ; BBS Films ; The Television Production Company ; WGBH Boston ; producer, Ian Madden ; writer, David Pirie ; director, Paul Seed. Director of photography, John Kenway ; art director, Anna Rackard ; editors, Martin Brinkler, Mark Day ; original music, Jim Parker ; costume designer, Frances Tempest ; production designer, Tom McCullagh. // In 1878, when Mr. Doyle meets the brilliant teacher, Dr. Bell, the young medical student is drawn into a new world of crime investigation. As he assists Bell in solving gruesome police cases, Doyle becomes fascinated with his tutor's uncanny talent for outwitting the most clever criminals. But, one particularly vicious cat-and-mouse game has a different ending. Doyle finds his life completely changed ... and even Dr. Bell's agile mind cannot predict the outcome.
418. Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Holmes. [S.l.]: Caliber Comics, [1998].
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
419. The Dr. John H. Watson Annual Prize Essay Competition. Letchworth, England: The Friends of Dr. Watson, 1999-2000.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: Dr. Watson's Medical Abilities, Knowledge and Skills / John Hall; John H. Watson, MD -- A Dossier / Tim Healey; Holmes and Watson: A Remarkable Friendship / Joe Marino //
420. "Dracula Unleashed: Interactive movie with a bite." PC Magazine 13, no. 3 (1994): 422.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Features Viacom New Media's 'Dracula Unleashed' interactive CD-ROM. Setting; Comparison with Sherlock Holmes series; Video and sound quality; Price and availability; Contact information.
421. Dressed to kill. Narberth, PA: Distributed by Alpha Video Distributors, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (71 min.).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Videodisc release of the 1946 motion picture. Based on characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. "This DVD is formatted for worldwide distribution"--P. [4] of cover. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Patricia Morison, Edmond Breon, Carl Harbord, Tom Dillon. Directed by Roy William Neill ; written by Leonard Lee. // "The master detective (Basil Rathbone) and his companion Dr. Watson (Nigel Bruce) become enmeshed in a case of murder involving a series of music boxes which harbor some strange significance. The twisting and turning trail leads Holmes to the maker of these precious musical objects, a man behind bars. A group of thugs headed by the seductive Hilda Courtney (Patricia Morison) is willing to kill to acquire them. Holmes must resist the devilish femme-fatale in his race to uncover the clues that will solve the mystery and put the underworld mob out of business"--P. [4] of cover.

422. Dressed to kill. St-Laurent, Quebec: Madacy Music Group, 1994. Visual Material 1 videocassette (VHS)(73 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Hollywood classics; Madacy Music Group: HCV-3-6028.
Originally released as a motion picture in 1946. Adapted from a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.
Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Patricia Morison. Universal ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill. // Sherlock Holmes finds a music box holds the key to plates stolen from the Bank of England.

423. Dressed to kill. Piscataway, NJ: Alpha Video Distributors, 1995. Visual Material 1 videocassette (71 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Sherlock Holmes mystery classics. VHS. Based on a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Videorecording of the 1946 motion picture. "A Sherlock Holmes mystery"--Cover.
"Sherlock Holmes mystery collection"--Label. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Patricia Morrison, Edmond Breon, Frederic Worlock, Carl Harbord, Patricia Cameron, Holmes E. Herbert, Harry Cording, Leyland Hodgson, Mary Gordon, Ian Wolfe. Universal Pictures ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Leonard Lee ; adapted by Frank Gruber. Director of photography, Maury Oertsman ; film editor, Saul A. Goodkind. // Three music boxes are the only clues that Holmes has to work with to find the location of bank notes stolen from the Bank of England.

424. Dressed to kill. [S.I.]: BMG Australia, 1995. Visual Material 1 videodisc (71 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. Based on a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Videorecording of the 1946 motion picture. "Sherlock Holmes mysteries"--case. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce.
Audience: Rated : PG. Directed by : Roy William Neill. //

425. Dressed to kill. [S.I.]: BMG Australia, 1995. Visual Material 1 videocassette (72 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Released in Britain under the title: Sherlock Holmes and the secret code. VHS. Based on a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Videorecording of the 1946 motion picture.
"Sherlock Holmes mysteries"--case. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Patricia Morrison, Edmond Breon, Frederic Worlock, Carl Harbord, Patricia Cameron, Holmes E. Herbert, Harry Cording, Leyland Hodgson, Mary Gordon, Ian Wolfe. Audience: PG. Universal Pictures; produced and directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Leonard Lee ; adapted by Frank Gruber. Director of photography, Maury Oertsman ; film editor, Saul A. Goodkind. // In this final Rathbone-Bruce classic, Holmes and Watson are menaced by a very appealing villainess. The plot involves counterfeiting, specifically a Bank of England plate hidden in one of three music boxes.

426. Dressed to kill. [S.I.]: Liberty Home Video, 1996. Visual Material 1 videocassette (72 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS format. Videocassette release of the 1946 motion picture.
"A Universal picture." Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Patricia Morison. Screenplay by Leonard Lee ; adaptation by Frank Gruber ; adapted from a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle ; produced & directed by Roy William Neill. Director of photography, Maury Gerstman; art direction, Jack Otterson, Martin Obzina; film editor, Saul A. Goodkind; musical director, Milton Rosen. // Plates have been stolen from the Bank of England and the fate of Britain's international trade is threatened. Holmes faces a female adversary, having to discover how three identical music boxes hold the key to solving this mystery.

427. Dressed to kill. St. Laurent, Quebec: Madacy Entertainment Group, 1996. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 73 min.).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Mystery and suspense; Hollywood classics; VHS. Originally produced as motion picture in 1946. "Recorded in EP Mode"--Container. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Patricia Morison, Edmond Breon, Carl Harbord, Tom Dillon. director, Roy William Neill. // Lively Sherlock Holmes adventure in which the super-slueth is in hot pursuit of stolen counterfeit Bank of England plates. Music boxes made in prison hold the key to their whereabouts. Final entry in Universal's popular Rathbone/Bruce Sherlock Holmes series.

428. Dressed to kill. Charlotte, NC: United American Video Corp., 1997. Visual Material 1 videocassette (72 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. A Sherlock Holmes film classic.; VHS format. Videocassette release of the 1946 motion picture. "A Universal picture." Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Patricia Morison. Screenplay by Leonard Lee ; adaptation by Frank Gruber ; adapted from a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle ; produced & directed by Roy William Neill. Director of photography, Maury Gerstman; art direction, Jack Otterson, Martin Obzina; film editor, Saul A. Goodkind; musical director, Milton Rosen. // Three music boxes are the only clues that Holmes has to work with to find the location of bank notes stolen from the Bank of England.
429. Dressed to kill. New York: Goodtimes Home Video, 1998. Visual Material 1 videocassette (70 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS format. "05-09680." Adapted from a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Videocassette release of the 1946 motion picture. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Patricia Morison, Edmond Breon. Universal Pictures. Producer-director, Roy William Neill. // A twisted tale of murder, blackmail and revenge revolving around a cache of mysterious music boxes. Sherlock Holmes, with Dr. Watson in tow, emerges one last time from the flat at 221-B Baker Street to put his marvelous deductive powers to work and crack the case.
430. Dressed to kill. St. Laurent, Quebec: Distributed by Madacy Entertainment Group, 1998. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 73 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS format. Based on the story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally released as a motion picture by Universal Pictures in 1946. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Patricia Morison, Edmond Breon, Carl Harbord, Tom Dillon. produced and directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay by Leonard Lee ; adaptation by Frank Gruber. // Three music boxes are the only clues that Holmes has to work with to find the location of bank notes stolen from the Bank of England.
431. Dressed to kill. Eugene, OR: Dastar Corp/Marathon Music & Video, 1998. Visual Material 1 videocassette (70 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. The Sherlock Holmes Trilogy; VHS format. "#33913." Adapted from a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Videocassette release of the 1946 motion picture. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Patricia Morison, Edmond Breon. Universal Pictures. Producer-director, Roy William Neill. // A twisted tale of murder, blackmail and revenge revolving around a cache of mysterious music boxes. Sherlock Holmes, with Dr. Watson in tow, emerges one last time from the flat at 221-B Baker Street to put his marvelous deductive powers to work and crack the case.
432. Dressed to kill. Toronto: Audiovision Canada, 1999. Visual Material 1 videocassette (73 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS format. Adapted from a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Videocassette release of the 1946 motion picture. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Patricia Morison, Edmond Breon. Universal Pictures. Producer-director, Roy William Neill. // Sherlock Holmes' interest is piqued by the seemingly trivial theft of a music box purchased for a few pounds at auction. When murder ensues, he discovers the box holds the key to a plot which could bankrupt Great Britain.
433. Dressed to kill. Scarborough, ME: Focusfilm Entertainment, 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 72 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD; mono. Special features: chapter stop; re-created theatrical trailer; still gallery; 7 original radio broadcast of "The new adventures of Sherlock Holmes" (3.30 hrs.). Videocassette release of the 1946 motion picture. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Patricia Morison, Edmond Breon, Carl Harbord, Patricia Cameron, Tom Dillon. Universal Pictures. Producer and director, Roy

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

William Neill ; screenplay, Leonard Lee ; edited by Saul A. Goodkind. // Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson investigate the theft of a friend's music boxes.

434. Dressed to kill. Solana Beach, Calif. : Movie Classics, 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 72 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Videodisc release of the 1946 motion picture. Digitally remastered. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. produced and directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay by Leonard Lee. // A British prison inmate has incorporated stolen Bank of England engraving plates into several music boxes and Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson must find them before the criminals do.
435. Dressed to kill. [s.l.]: Orbit Media, 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (72 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. Hollywood Screen Classics; DVD PAL.; Produced for regions 1-6. Originally released as a motion picture in 1946. Adapted from a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Special feature include the documentary, The many faces of Sherlock Holmes. Participants: Cast: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Patricia Morison, Edmond Breon, Carl Harbord, Patricia Cameron, Tom Dillon. Produced and directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay by Leonard Lee. // Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson investigate the theft of friend's music boxes.
436. Dressed to kill. Prior Lake, MN: Distributed by Leisure Entertainment, Inc., 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (168 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Videodisc release of two 1946 motion pictures. Based on characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Dressed to kill: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Patricia Morison ; Terror by night: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Alan Mowbray. Directed by Roy William Neill. // In Dressed to kill the master detective Holmes and his companion Dr. Watson become enmeshed in a case of murder involving a series of music boxes which harbor some strange significance. The twisting and turning trail leads Holmes to the maker of these precious musical objects, a man behind bars. A group of thugs headed by the seductive Hilda Courtney (Patricia Morison) is willing to kill to acquire them. Holmes must resist the devilish femme-fatale in his race to uncover the clues that will solve the mystery and put the underworld mob out of business. In Terror by night, Holmes and Watson find themselves up against a brutal murderer who has just stolen an extremely rare diamond. Their search puts them on a train with a collection of characters, any one of whom could be the killer. They must deduce who is the killer before they reach the station and he can escape.
437. Dressed to kill. [s.l.]: s.n., 2002. Visual Material 1 videocassette (72 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS. Videocassette release of the 1946 motion picture by Universal. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Patricia Morison, Edmond Breon, Carl Harbord, Patricia Cameron, Tom Dillon. Producer and director, Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Leonard Lee ; edited by Saul A. Goodkind. // Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson investigate the theft of a friend's music boxes.
438. Dressed to kill. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 72 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. Sherlock Holmes collection; v. 3; DVD, Region 1, full screen presentation; Dolby Digital mono. Videodisc release of the 1946 motion picture. Based on a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Patricia Morrison, Edmond Breon, Frederic Worlock, Carl Harbord, Patricia Cameron, Holmes E. Herbert, Harry Cording, Leyland Hodgson, Mary Gordon, Ian Wolfe. Universal Pictures ; produced by Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Leonard Lee ; adapted by Frank Gruber ; directed by Roy William Neill. Director of photography, Maury Oertsman ; film editor, Saul A. Goodkind. // Three music boxes are the only clues that Holmes has to work with to find the location of bank notes stolen from the Bank of England.
439. Dressed to kill. Charlotte, NC: Ovation Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 72 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. Sherlock Holmes classic mystery; DVD, worldwide use ; Dolby Digital mono ; high quality MPEG 2 compression. Videodisc release of the 1946 motion picture. Based on a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Features: Interactive menus ; Scene access ; Biography ; Filmography ; Production notes ; Photo gallery. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Patricia Morrison, Edmond Breon, Frederic Worlock, Carl Harbord, Patricia Cameron, Holmes E. Herbert, Harry Cording, Leyland

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Hodgson, Mary Gordon, Ian Wolfe. Universal Pictures. Producer, Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Leonard Lee ; adapted by Frank Gruber ; directed by Roy William Neill ; director of photography, Maury Oertsman ; film editor, Saul A. Goodkind. // Three music boxes are the only clues that Holmes has to work with to find the location of bank notes stolen from the Bank of England.

440. Dressed to kill. [s.l.]: CATCOM Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 72 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. Sherlock Holmes collection; DVD, Region 1, full screen presentation; Dolby Digital mono. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Patricia Morrison, Edmond Breon, Frederic Worlock, Carl Harbord, Patricia Cameron, Holmes E. Herbert, Harry Cording, Leyland Hodgson, Mary Gordon, Ian Wolfe and Executive Producer: Kenneth R. Bennett. executive producer, Kenneth R. Bennett ; producer, Jake Lamb. Director of photography, Maury Oertsman ; film editor, Saul A. Goodkind. // "Basil Rathbone stars as super sleuth Sherlock Holmes, and Nigel Bruce co-stars as the loveable but slightly bumbling Dr. Watson in this last installment of the extremely popular detective series. In this episode Holmes and Watson face their toughest and most sinister adversary to date, a beautiful woman who is definitely Dressed to Kill! She's after three music boxes and won't stop at anything, including murder, to get a hold of them..."
441. Dressed to kill. Canoga Park, CA: Unicorn Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 72 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, Region 1, full screen presentation; one English soundtrack with Dolby Digital 5.1 surround, the other with Dolby 2.0 mono. "Digital gold collection." Videodisc release of the 1946 motion picture. Based on a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Patricia Morison, Edmond Breon, Frederic Worlock, Carl Harbord, Patricia Cameron, Holmes E. Herbert, Harry Cording, Leyland Hodgson, Mary Gordon, Ian Wolfe. Universal Pictures ; produced by Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Leonard Lee ; adapted by Frank Gruber ; directed by Roy William Neill. Director of photography, Maury Oertsman ; film editor, Saul A. Goodkind. // Three music boxes are the only clues that Holmes has to work with to find the location of bank plates stolen from the Bank of England.
442. Dressed to kill. [Australia]: Force Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (71 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. Region 4, PAL. Force Video: FV1392. Videodisc release of the 1946 motion picture. Based on a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Patricia Morrison, Edmond Breon, Frederic Worlock, Carl Harbord, Patricia Cameron, Holmes E. Herbert, Harry Cording, Leyland Hodgson, Mary Gordon, Ian Wolfe. Universal Pictures. Producer, Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Leonard Lee ; adapted by Frank Gruber ; directed by Roy William Neill ; director of photography, Maury Oertsman ; film editor, Saul A. Goodkind. // Three music boxes are the only clues that Holmes has to work with to find the location of bank notes stolen from the Bank of England.
443. Dressed to kill / The woman in green. Rockport, MA: Marengo Films, 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (173 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Originally produced as motion pictures in 1946 (1st work) and 1945 (2nd work). Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. a Universal Picture. Dressed to kill: Director of photography, Maury Gertsman ; film editor, Saul A. Goodkind ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay by Leonard Lee ; adaptation by Frank Gruber ; adapted from a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Woman in green: Director of photography, Virgil Miller ; film editor, Edward Curtiss ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill ; original screenplay by Bertram Millhauser ; based on characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. // Dressed to kill. Music boxes made in a penitentiary lead to stolen bank plates. ; Woman in green. Sherlock Holmes investigates a series of murder victims with missing fingers.
444. Dressed to kill and, Terror by night. Walnut, CA: Diamond Entertainment, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (132 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD (Dual layer). "Sherlock Holmes double feature"--Container. Videodisc release of two 1946 Universal films. Includes special features. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. // In Dressed to kill, the story revolves around three music boxes that contain printing plates for counterfeiting money and the race between Holmes and the criminals who want these plates. In Terror by night, the story takes place almost entirely on a train. Holmes is hired to protect an extremely valuable diamond but is up against Colonel Moran, a master of disguise who is an ally of Holmes' archenemy Moriarity.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

445. Dressed to kill Night train to Munich. St. Laurent, Quebec: Madacy Entertainment Group, 1996. Visual Material 2 videocassettes (ca. 167 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Mystery and suspense; Hollywood classics; VHS. Videocassette release of the 1946 motion picture Dressed to kill and the 1940 picture Night train to Munich. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Patricia Morison (Dressed to kill) ; Rex Harrison, Margaret Lockwood, Paul Henreid (Night train to Munich). Roy William Neill, director (1st work) ; Carol Reed, director (2nd work). // In Dressed to kill Sherlock Holmes is in hot pursuit of stolen counterfeit Bank of England plates. Music boxes made in prison hold the key to their whereabouts. Final entry in Universal's popular Rathbone/Bruce Sherlock Holmes series. In Night train to Munich, a British intelligence agent tries to rescue a Czech scientist who escaped from the Gestapo to London only to be kidnapped back to Berlin. Based on Gordon Wellesley's novel "Report on a fugitive."
446. Dressed to kill The woman in green. Rockport, MA: Marengo Films, 2001. Visual Material 1 videodisc (65, 108 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Titles reversed on container and disc surface. Originally produced as motion pictures in 1946 (1st work) and 1945 (2nd work). Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. A Universal Picture. // Dressed to kill. Music boxes made in a penitentiary lead to stolen bank plates ; Woman in green. Sherlock Holmes investigates a series of murder victims with missing fingers.
447. "Dunbar and the Science of Lynching." African American Review 41, no. 2 (2007): 303-311.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Contains two passing references to Doyle.
448. "DVM duties conflict in ownership case." DVM: The Newsmagazine of Veterinary Medicine 35, no. 4 (2004): 40-41.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Raises the ethical issue and the veterinarian's duty associated with a case where a client adopts a stray pet that is microchipped by its previous owner. Debate on the course of action that the DVM should take when faced with dual ownership of a pet; Highlights of a case faced by Melinda Striyle. Passing reference to Sherlock Holmes by Dr. Warren Kaplan.
449. The dying detective. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 1995. Visual Material 1 videocassette (50 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. The memoirs of Sherlock Holmes / by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. VHS. Hi-fi stereo. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke, Rosalie Williams. screenplay by T.R. Bowen ; produced by June Wyndham Davies ; directed by Sarah Hellings ; executive producer, Sally Head ; made by Granada Television of England in association with WGBH/Boston. //
450. The dying detective. [London?]: Granada Video, 1994. Visual Material 1 videocassette (50 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. The memoirs of Sherlock Holmes.; VHS. Hi-fi stereo. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke, Rosalie Williams. Granada Television in association with WGBH/Boston. //
451. Echec et mat : Une anthologie de nouvelles policières. Paris: Gallimard - Losfeld, 2004.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Proposée par Xavier Legrand-Ferrenière ; [nouvelles de Arthur Conan Doyle, Fredric Brown, George C. Chesbro ... et al.]. //
452. "Editorial." Antioch Review 66, no. 2 (2008): 205-206.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...There is even an excellent anthology of work about medicine that Iain Bamforth brought together in 2003 under the rubric The Body in the Library: A Literary Anthology of Modern Medicine. It contained a varied array of essays, commentaries, and poems from writers as diverse as Anton Chekhov (a physician), Conan Doyle (another doctor), George Orwell (Eric Blair), Philip Larkin (librarian), and Susan Sontag (who died recently)...." The Doyle piece in Bamforth's anthology is "Curse of Eve."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

453. "Editorial Notes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 28, no. 2 (2007): 38-42.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
454. "Editorial Notes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 28, no. 3 (2007): 83-84.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
455. "Editorial Notes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 27, no. 4 (2006): 142-144.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
456. "Editorial Notes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 28, no. 1 (2006): 3-7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
457. "Editorial Notes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 27, no. 2 (2005): 46-48.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
458. "Editorial Notes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 27, no. 3 (2005): 90-92.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
459. "Editorial Notes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 26, no. 4 (2004): 118-121.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
460. "Editorial Notes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 27, no. 1 (2004): 2-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
461. "Editorial Notes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 26, no. 2 (2003): 42-44.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
462. "Editorial Notes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 26, no. 3 (2003): 78-80.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
463. "Editorial Notes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 25, no. 4 (2002): 118-122.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
464. "Editorial Notes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 26, no. 1 (2002): 2-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
465. "Editorial Notes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 25, no. 2 (2001): 34-39.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
466. "Editorial Notes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 25, no. 3 (2001): 82-84.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
467. "Editorial Notes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 24, no. 4 (2000): 114-116.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
468. "Editorial Notes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 25, no. 1 (2000): 2-4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
469. "Editorial Notes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 24, no. 2 (1999): 38-41.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
470. "Editorial Notes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 24, no. 3 (1999): 78-80.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

471. "Editorial Notes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 23, no. 4 (1998): 110-112.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
472. "Editorial Notes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 24, no. 1 (1998): 2-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
473. "Editorial Notes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 23, no. 2 (1997): 43-44.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
474. "Editorial Notes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 23, no. 3 (1997): 70-73.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
475. "Editorial Notes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 22, no. 4 (1996): 106-108.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
476. "Editorial Notes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 23, no. 1 (1996): 2-4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
477. "Editorial Notes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 22, no. 2 (1995): 38-39.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
478. "Editorial Notes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 22, no. 3 (1995): 70-72.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
479. "Editorial Notes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 21, no. 4 (1994): 107-108.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
480. "Editorial Notes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 22, no. 1 (1994): 3-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
481. "Editorial Notes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 21, no. 3 (1993): 66-69.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
482. "Editorials." Nation 271, no. 10 (2000): 3-38.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This editorial highlights some social and political issues in the U.S. Includes passing reference to Holmes. "The forces behind his [George W. Bush's] campaign are like the solution to the famous Sherlock Holmes mystery--the dogs that aren't barking."
483. "Edmund Hartmann." The Times (London), January 2, 2004: 39.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Edmund Hartmann, film writer, was born on September 24, 1911. He died on November 28, 2003, aged 92....Although Hartmann was known primarily as a gagman, he also worked in other genres and scripted two of the best Sherlock Holmes films, Sherlock Holmes and the Secret Weapon (1942) and The Scarlet Claw (1944), with Basil Rathbone as the famous detective...."
484. El Mundo Perdido. [Barcelona]: Filmax Group [distributor], 1995. Visual Material 1 videocassette (VHS) (69 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. El cine mudo; Originally released: 1925. Participants: Cast: Bessie Love, Lloyd Hughes, Lewis Stone, Wallace Beery. Credits: Photography, Arthur Edeson ; research, technical director, Willis O'Brien. // Summary: "El profesor George Edward Challenger (Wallace Beery) dirige una expedicion hacia la selva, convencido de que en ese punto del planeta, una meseta del Mato Grosso, sobreviven animales prehistoricos. En su expedicion, el profesor Challenger va acompanado de un periodista (Lewis Stone) y de la hija de cieto explorador perdido (Bessie Love)"--Container.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

485. El mundo perdido = The lost world. Valladolid: Divisa Home Vídeo, 2003. Visual Material 1 dvd-video (ca. 60 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- zw.w./ geluid. Orígenes del cine; Videoversie van de oorspronkelijk Engelstalige film. - [Verenigde Staten van Amerika], 1925. - Spaans of Engels gesproken, niet ondertiteld. Gebaseerd op de roman van Arthur Conan Doyle. 1001: Beschr. gebaseerd op doos. dir. por Harry Hoyt, Willis O'Brien ; [starring] Bessie Love ... [et al.]. //
486. "Elementary My Dear Holmes." Birmingham Evening Mail, October 31, 2001: 11.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The life of master fictional detective Sherlock Holmes will be centre stage at Stourbridge Town Hall on November 17. Sherlock Holmes - The Last Act sees Conan Doyle's creation return from retirement for the funeral of Dr Watson and reminisce about his life in a one-man show."
487. "Elementary, My Dear Watson." American Theatre 19, no. 6 (2002): 74.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the play 'The West End Horror,' written by Nicholas Meyer and to be performed by Anthony Dodge through July 7, 2002.
488. "Elementary, My Dear Watson." Environment 42, no. 10 (2000): 7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on a report regarding premature deaths caused by motor vehicle emissions in London, England according to the National Health Service of Great Britain. Includes a reference to Holmes. "As any mystery reader can tell you, London's famous fog has concealed many a foul deed. Now, however, it is becoming a sinister force in a way never envisioned by Sherlock Holmes."
489. "Elementary: Science Group Honours Sherlock Holmes." Birmingham Post, October 17, 2002: 7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Victorian supersleuth Sherlock Holmes has become the first fictional character to be granted an honorary fellowship by Britain's prestigious Royal Society of Chemistry, for bringing scientific methods into detective work."
490. The eligible bachelor. [London?]: Granada Video ; [Oak Forest, Ill. : Distributed in the United States by] MPI Home Video, 1995. Visual Material 1 videocassette (105 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS. Hi-fi mono. Based on The noble bachelor / Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Running time on cassette label, 120 min. Actual running time, 104 min. Originally produced as a made for TV film in 1992 as part of the Sherlock Holmes series. Originally broadcast Feb. 2, 1993. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke, Simon Williams, Anna Calder-Marshall, Joanna McCullum, Marry Ellis. Granada Television in association with WGBH/Boston ; director, Peter Hammond ; screenplay, T.R. Bowen. Director of photography, David Odd ; film editor, Paul Griffiths-Davies ; production designer, Chris Truelove ; music, Patrick Gowers. //
491. The eligible bachelor. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material; Computer File Date of Entry: 20070816.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Mode of access: World Wide Web.; System requirements: Recorded Books' MyLibraryDV player. Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke, Simon Williams, Anna Calder-Marshall, Joanna McCallum, Mary Ellis. Based on Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's The noble bachelor. Downloadable video file. Digital content provided by Recorded Books; access may be restricted to users at subscribing institutions. Sherlock Holmes (Television program : 1987-1993). Granada Television in association with WGBH/Boston ; producer, June Wyndham Davies ; screenplay, T.R. Bowen ; director, Peter Hammond. Director of photography, David Odd ; film editor, Paul Griffiths-Davies ; music, Patrick Gowers ; production designer, Chris Truelove. // Dramatization of a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. The most eligible bachelor in London, Lord St. Simon, has just married a wealthy American woman. The young couple's wedding day turns to tragedy when an unwelcome guest arrives at the wedding breakfast and the bride disappears. Sherlock Holmes is plagued with terrible nightmares, which cause him to regard the plight of Lord St. Simon with contempt. Will Holmes take the case?
492. The eligible bachelor. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 105 min.).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. Sherlock Holmes; The Sherlock Holmes feature film collection ; disc 4; Based on: The noble bachelor / Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally produced as an episode of the television program Sherlock Holmes in 1992. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke, Simon Williams, Anna Calder-Marshall, Joanna McCallum, Mary Ellis. Granada Television presents ; screenplay by T.R. Bowen ; produced by June Wyndham Davies ; directed by Tim Sullivan ; WGBH. Director of photography, David Odd ; film editor, Paul Griffiths-Davies ; music, Patrick Gowers. // Sherlock Holmes investigates the disappearance of a former eligible bachelor's new bride.

493. "Empress of India: A Professor Moriarty Novel." Publishers Weekly 252, no. 45 (2005): 46-46.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of the Empress of India: A Professor Moriarty Novel by Michael Kurland (St. Martin's Minotaur) $24.95 (320p) ISBN 0-312-29144-2

494. "Encourage dramatic play with a prop box activity." Curriculum Review 42, no. 4 (2002): 7.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents information on activities to encourage the imagination of young children from the book 'Prop Box Play: 50 Themes to Inspire Dramatic Play.' In the "Detective Prop Box" a "Sherlock Holmes pipe" is listed as an additional prop.

495. "English-Language Literatures." Reference & Research Book News 23, no. 2 (2008): 329-341.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews several books including London eyes; reflections in text and image. Ed. by Gail Cunningham and Stephen Barbe. (Polygons; cultural diversities and intersections) Berghahn Books, ©2007 228 p. $60.00 978-1-84545-407-4. "This collection of 12 nimble essays holds London in space and time in the Victorian and Edwardian era and again in the modern age, commenting through text and image. Victorian London topics include the rise of the suburbs, John Thomson's London in photographs, the displacement of urban man in Sherlock Holmes, the Aesthetic set, agoraphobia and the Bildungsroman in Dorothy Richardson's Pilgrimage, and Conrad's The Secret Agent on foot in literature and film. Modern London takes its turn as a blur on film and as an altered landscape in Britain's 1960s auteur cinema, represented in the lack (or not) of a map, as the dystopia of the film city, as container of class and suburban trajectories in gay London, and as the soul in Derek Jarman's Soho."

496. "English-Language Literatures." Reference & Research Book News 22, no. 2 (2007): 253-260.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A list of items related to English language literatures that were published in several journals is presented. Includes some articles with reference to Doyle and Holmes including: The narcissism of empire; loss, rage, and revenge in Thomas De Quincey, Robert Louis Stevenson, Arthur Conan Doyle, Rudyard Kipling, and Isak Dinesen. Simmons, Diane. Sussex Academic Press, ©2007 148 p., $57.50. "The five Victorian writers were instrumental in popularizing the imperial agenda of power and dominance, says Simmons (English, City U. of New York-Manhattan Community College), but were themselves deeply scarred, and as adults bolstered their fragile emotional states through fantasies of empire. She looks not only as the youthful experiences of the writers themselves, but also at child rearing attitudes during the British imperial period. Distributed in the US by ISBS." Modernist literature; challenging fictions. Mahaffey, Vicki. Blackwell Publishing, ©2007 242 p. $74.95 "Mahaffey (modern literature, U. of York) dares reader's to think of modern fiction not only as challenging to read but as a challenge to the fictions by which they live. She confronts a range of authors, from Doyle to Joyce, Woolf, Eliot, Djuna Barnes, Wilde and Rhys to explore modern occupations in partnering, whether as Holmes and Watson, author and reader, lover and loved, or husband and wife, in opacity and the uncontrollable urge to block understanding, and in those dark reaches within the reader's soul that are in fact the most opaque features of all. Combining commentary on literary works with that on art, gender, and society's restless for meaning after the decline of the need to be understood, Mahaffey provides a far-seeking and challenging read for those who nevertheless must be further challenged by the work in hand." Heidegger's bicycle; interfering with Victorian texts. Ebbatson, Roger. (Critical inventions) Sussex Academic Press, ©2006 172 p. $67.50 "Ebbatson (Loughborough U.) juxtaposes German philosopher Heidegger's notion of existence as a practical investment in the world that allows things to show up--among them a bicycle too rickety to ride--with the murder of a cycling German teacher named Herr Heidegger in the Sherlock Holmes canon. In each, he argues, the echo or mask is broken or cut adrift so that, for example, Holmes' forensic skill on an English moorside foreshadows the evil of the Final Solution so beloved by Heidegger a half century later. Distributed in the US by ISBS."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

497. "English-Language Literatures." Reference & Research Book News 20, no. 3 (2005): 261-269.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents several books on English-language literatures. Includes a brief review of Jill Sharp's Written In Stone that notes "Castles, churches, abbeys, and other sites are presented in alluring color photos accompanied by a lively text describing their literary lives and associations in the works of such writers as Malory, Tennyson, Swinburne, Walter Scott, and Conan Doyle, with quotes from each." (English Heritage, 2005) 150p. ISBN 1-85074-929-9
498. "English-Language Literatures." Reference & Research Book News 18, no. 4 (2003): 245-252.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Lists several books on English literature including The Alternative Sherlock Holmes: Pastiches, Parodies and Copies by Peter Ridgway Watt and Joseph Green. (Ashgate Publishing Co., 2003) 359p. ISBN 0-7545-0882-4
499. "Entertainment king." Architecture 86, no. 9 (1997): 73.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents an interview with entertainment architect David Rockwell, including a passing reference to Holmes. "I worked for Roger Morgan, a lighting designer and theater consultant while he was doing a show called 'Crucible of Blood,' which is a Sherlock Holmes piece...."
500. "Eve Titus Update." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 5, no. 2 (2001): 7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Notes Eve Titus's investiture in the Baker Street Irregulars in 1993 as "Young Master Rucastle" along with two photographs.
501. "Even Sherlock Holmes." The Daily Telegraph (London), January 23, 2001: 29.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Even Sherlock Holmes, the former occupant of Abbey National's Baker Street headquarters, would need a few more clues to assess whether the former building society's bid for Bank of Scotland is better than Lloyds TSB's approach for Abbey...."
502. An Evening with Sherlock Holmes. Scarborough, ME: Focusfilm Entertainment, 2000. Visual Material 4 videodiscs (262 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, mono. Originally released as motion pictures from 1942 to 1946. Based on works by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. Universal Pictures. //
503. "Events." Nation 265, no. 17 (1997): 33-33.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article presents information on various events that took place in the U.S. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Bidart insists: 'Sherlock Holmes was somebody or something before cracking its first case but not Sherlock Holmes, act is the cracked mirror not only of motive but self, no other way, tiny mirror that fails to focus in small the whole of the great room.'..."
504. "Everett steps into Sherlock's 'Stocking'." USA Today, October 21, 2005: E1.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of production.
505. "The evidence on Holmes." The Guardian (London), October 16, 1999: 21.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Five letters to the editor in response to an earlier article, ("The Plot Thickens," October 13) on Holmes.
506. "Examination procedure, examination method, and examination principle." Apmis 112, no. s117 (2004): 57-59.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses and defines the concepts of examination procedure, examination method and examination principle. Definitions of principle of measurement, method of measurement and measurement procedure; Relations between the concepts defined. Opening quote from CROO at head of article: "You know my methods, Watson."
507. "Excess Baggage." The Dominion Post (Wellington), December 24, 2002: A9.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Sherlock Holmes fans can immerse themselves in the fictional detective's world, spending a weekend at the Sherlock Holmes Hotel in Baker St, London. The two-night break includes entry to Madame Tussaud's waxworks and a guided walk in the footsteps of Holmes with Historical Walks of London...."

508. "The Execution of Sherlock Holmes." Kirkus Reviews 75, no. 7 (2007): 312-312.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "The Execution of Sherlock Holmes," by Donald Thomas.

509. "The Execution of Sherlock Holmes and Other New Adventures of the Great Detective." Publishers Weekly 254, no. 11 (2007): 40-40.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "The Execution of Sherlock Holmes and Other New Adventures of the Great Detective," by Donald Thomas.

510. Exhumed client and, Violent suitor. St. Laurent, Quebec: Distributed by Madacy Music, 1994. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 55 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Sherlock Holmes collection; Videocassette release of 2 episodes of the 1954-55 British television series, based on the stories of Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Ronald Howard (Sherlock Holmes), Howard Marion Crawford (Dr. Watson), Archie Duncan (Inspector Lestrade, other roles). produced by Sheldon Reynolds ; directed by Steve Previn. Music, Paul Durand ; cinematography, Raymond Clunie. // Exhumed client: Holmes investigates the death of an aristocratic client, who had predicted that his demise would be due to foul play ; Violent suitor: the young male author of a newspaper "agony column" gives the wrong advice to a young woman with an unbalanced fiance!

511. Exhumed client and, Violent suitor. St. Laurent, Quebec: Distributed by Madacy Music, 1998. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 55 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Sherlock Holmes collection; Videocassette release of 2 episodes of the 1954-55 British television series, based on the stories of Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Ronald Howard (Sherlock Holmes), Howard Marion Crawford (Dr. Watson), Archie Duncan (Inspector Lestrade, other roles). produced by Sheldon Reynolds ; directed by Steve Previn. Music, Paul Durand ; cinematography, Raymond Clunie. // Exhumed client: Holmes investigates the death of an aristocratic client, who had predicted that his demise would be due to foul play ; Violent suitor: the young male author of a newspaper "agony column" gives the wrong advice to a young woman with an unbalanced fiance!

512. "Exit Music." Kirkus Reviews 76, no. 15 (2008): 26-26.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "Exit Music," by Ian Rankin. Includes a passing reference to Doyle and Holmes. "...One can only hope that as Conan Doyle revived Holmes and John Harvey brought back Charlie Resnick, Rankin will allow Rebus (The Naming of the Dead, 2007, etc.) several encores. Meanwhile, he goes out with panache and his usual ability to see through flummery."

513. "Expensive, My Dear Watson. Sherlock Holmes Fans Gathered at an Auction in London." The Philadelphia Inquirer, July 25, 1995: E06.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "A private collector from Chicago paid $33,000 yesterday for the 1887 edition of an annual Christmas publication that printed the first Sherlock Holmes story. The story, 'A Study in Scarlet,' was written by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle in 1886 when he was a physician making little or no money. The publishers of Beeton's Christmas Annual paid $40 for the copyright after it was rejected by several other houses. The book was part of a collection of memorabilia relating to the world-famous fictional detective. The collection was amassed by Stanley MacKenzie, who died this year aged 82. It fetched a total of $235,600, a representative of the Sotheby's auction house said...."

514. "Expert's death linked to Holmes story: Suicide plot." National Post, Dec 13, 2004: A.11.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "According to friends of Richard Lancelyn Green, he appears to have dressed up his suicide as murder in an attempt to get at an enemy from beyond the grave, a notion lifted from one of [Holmes]'s adventures, the Sunday Times said. According to the report, Mr. Lancelyn Green had become

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

bitterly depressed after learning that a collection of papers belonging to the creator of Holmes, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, was to be broken up and sold at auction."

515. "Exploring the far distant past." South African Journal of Science 93, no. 10 (1997): 485.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Features the Raman spectrograph facility at the physics department of the University of Witswatersrand in South Africa, with a passing reference to Holmes. "Until fairly recently, an understanding of geological history was, to a large extent, based on observation of rock formations, analysis of rock chemistry, Sherlock Holmes-like deduction, and a touch of guesswork."
516. "The Extraordinary Gentlemen." School Library Journal 49, no. 8 (2003): 26.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports on the comic-book series created by Alan Moore and Kevin O'Neill in which the film 'The League of Extraordinary Gentleman,' starring Sean Connery, is based. "Set during the waning days of the Victorian era, the original series tells the story of five disenfranchised agents charged with saving England. Who the group works for is uncertain. But the team's leader, Miss Murray, believes it's the famed detective Sherlock Holmes, back from the dead. Moore and O'Neill have created a drama that is inviting and suspenseful."
517. Fairy tale a true story. Hollywood, CA: Paramount, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 97 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. Widescreen DVD collection; DVD, Region 1 encoding, widescreen version (1.85:1), Dolby digital 5.1 surround. Originally released as a motion picture in 1997. Participants: Florence Hoath, Elizabeth Earl, Paul McGann, Phoebe Nicholls, Peter O'Toole, Harvey Keitel, Bill Nighy, Bob Peck, Anton Lesser. Awards: BAFTA Awards, 1998: BAFTA Childrens' Award - Best Children's Film (Wendy Finerman, Bruce Davey, Charles Sturridge). Paramount Pictures presents an Icon Productions/Wendy Finerman production ; produced by Wendy Finerman and Bruce Davey ; screenplay by Ernie Contreras ; directed by Charles Sturridge. Director of photography, Michael Coulter; art director, Sam Riley; editor, Peter Coulson; music, Zbigniew Preisner; costume designer, Shirley Russell; production designer, Michael Howells. // Young Frances and Elsie believe in fairies. The photographs the girls take of the winged beings put them at the center of a real-life controversy that sweeps through a recovering World War I England during 1917. Everyone is caught up in the excitement, including two of the era's most renowned men: Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and master illusionist Harry Houdini. Are the photographs real or just a clever hoax?
518. "Fairytale." Baker Street West 1 3, no. 3 (1997): 15-16.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
519. "Fall 2003 Hardcover." Publishers Weekly 250, no. 32 (2003): 144.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a listing of hardcover books published in the U.S. in fall 2003 including Carroll & Graf, Sherlock Holmes and the Hapsburg Tiara (Feb., $25) by Alan Vanneman. "Winston Churchill calls in Holmes and Watson, charging that Archduke Josef of Austria is an imposter."
520. "Fall 2006 Sneak Previews." Publishers Weekly 253, no. 8 (2006): 120-129.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Note on Scholastic/Orchard publication of Sherlock Holmes and the Baker Street Irregulars, Casebook No. 1: The Fall of the Amazing Walendas by Tracy Mack and Michael Citrin, "a new series about Holmes and his young band of ragtag assistants..."
521. "Fall 2008 Hardcover." Publishers Weekly 255, no. 26 (2008): 40-121.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews several books including one from Bloomsbury USA--Sherlock Holmes Was Wrong: Reopening the Case of the Hound of the Baskervilles (Nov., $20) by Pierre Bayard "playfully recreates the classic detective story." 50,000 first printing.
522. "Fall 2008 Trade Paperbacks." Publishers Weekly 255, no. 26 (2008): 122-157.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews several books including Oscar Wilde and a Game Called Murder (Touchstone, Sept., $14) by Gyles Brandreth. "Imagines Wilde as a detective aided by Arthur Conan Doyle."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

523. The fall & rise of Sherlock Holmes. [S.l.]: Dic Entertainment, 2001. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 78 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Lions Gate Home Entertainment. ; Trimark Home Video (Firm). sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in.
The incredible world of Dic; Sherlock Holmes in the 22nd century; DVD. Special features: four complete episodes; interactive game; trailers. Audience: Not rated by the MPAA; ages 6 and up. // In the futuristic world of the 22nd century, anti-social behavior has become a thing of the past until an unprecedented crime wave rocks New London! Inspector Beth Lestrade pins it on evil criminal mastermind James Moriarty. Only one problem: he's been dead for two centuries! To fight fire with fire, Beth rejuvenates the greatest crime-fighter of all time - the amazing Sherlock Holmes.
524. The fall & rise of Sherlock Holmes. [S.l.]: Lions Gate Home Entertainment : Trimark Home Video, 2001. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 60 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. The incredible world of Dic; VHS. Stereo. Based on the stories of Arthur Conan Doyle. "Feature length"--Container. Participants: Voices: Jason Gray-Stanford (Sherlock Holmes), John Payne (Watson), Akiko Morrison (Inspector Beth Lestrade), Richard Newman (Moriarty). Audience: Not rated by the MPAA; ages 6 & up. Scottish Television Enterprises and Dic Entertainment. // "In the futuristic world of the 22nd century, anti-social behavior has become a thing of the past until an unprecedented crime wave rocks New London! Inspector Beth Lestrade pins it on evil criminal mastermind James Moriarty. Only one problem: he's been dead for two centuries! To fight fire with fire, Beth rejuvenates the greatest crime-fighter of all time - the amazing Sherlock Holmes!"--Container.
525. Family classics. Disk 12. [Minnesota]: Treeline Films, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd. & si, col. ; 4 3/4 in. Variation: 50 movie pack.; Family classics. DVD - NTSC; double sided. The iron mask based on Three Musketeers by Alexandre Dumas. Lost world based on the novel by Arthur Conan Doyle. "50 movie pack DVD collection."--Container of set. Videodisc release of 4 motion pictures released 1925-1933. The iron mask is a silent film. Participants: The iron mask / Douglas Fairbanks, Sr. ; The lost world / Wallace Beery ; The fatal glass of beer / W.C. Fields ; War babies / Shirley Temple. The iron mask / directed by Allan Dwan, Alexandre Dumas novel ; The lost world / directed by Harry O. Hoyt, novel by Arthur Conan Doyle ; The lost world / directed by Clyde Bruckman ; War babies / directed by Charles Lamont. // The iron mask: the true dauphin is kidnapped and imprisoned, but the villains fail to take into account D'Artagnan and the three musketeers. The lost world: Professor Challenger and a team of explorers go deep into South America to verify his theory that prehistoric life still exists there. The fatal glass of beer is a satire on old melodramas set in the Yukon. Field tells the story of the young man who went to the city and naively drank "the fatal glass of beer." War babies is a send-up of the World War I movie "What price glory". Shirley plays Dolores Del Rio playing Charmaine.
526. "Family movie guide." Christian Science Monitor, Nov 28, 1997: 13.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews several motion pictures which are either family films, potential blockbusters or movies which might interest young people. Reference to Doyle in the review of "Fairytale: A True Story."
527. "Fantastic Voyages." Discover 19, no. 12 (1998): 62.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Lists books that inspired gifted science thinkers such as author Arthur Clarke and virtual-reality visionary Jaron Lanier. Includes a reference to Holmes by Marc Hauser, psychologist and anthropologist at Harvard.
528. "Father Brown." British Heritage 28, no. 2 (2007): 59-59.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews "Father Brown, DVD 2-vol. boxed set," a collection of the episodes of the television program "Father Brown," released on DVD format. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...Neither is it surprising that, like the celebrated sleuths of Agatha Christie, Dorothy Sayers, P.D. James, Conan Doyle and such, Father Brown should have made his way to the screen. What is surprising, however is that it has taken such a time for these clever tales to be widely available in video for fans of the genre. Originally aired in this country on PBS Mystery! in 1982, Acorn Media has gathered and released this set of seven Father Brown stories, starring Kenneth More as the skillful clergyman-detective...."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

529. "Features by Author, Artist." Editor & Publisher 136, no. 29 (2003): 71S.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a list of authors of syndicated articles and columns in the U.S. Lists Bender, Howard Games Afoot, The-Sherlock Holmes Crime Scene Chronicles, Harris, Jack Games Afoot. The-Sherlock Holmes Crime Scene Chronicles and Summer, E. Modern Sherlock Holmes (Mystery)
530. "Features by authors, artists." Editor & Publisher 132, no. 32 (1999): 87S.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents newspaper syndicated features by authors and artists. Includes The Games Afoot, Sherlock Holmes Crime Scene Chronicles--Jack Harris/Howard Bender and Modern Sherlock Holmes (Mystery)--J. Sherrod.
531. "Features by authors, artists." Editor & Publisher 131, no. 31 (1998): 74S.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Lists authors and artists of syndicated features. Includes The Games Afoot, The-Sherlock Holmes Crime Scene Chronicles -- Jack Harris/Howard Bender; Modern Sherlock Holmes (Mystery)--J. Sherrod.
532. "Features by Title." Editor & Publisher 136, no. 29 (2003): 38S.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a list of syndicated articles and columns in the U.S. as of August 2003. Lists Games Afoot, The-Sherlock Holmes Crime Scene Chronicles and Modern Sherlock Holmes (Mystery) Summer, E.
533. "Feet in the trough." Economist 381, no. 8509 (2006): 88-90.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The article discusses the history, merits, and procedures of various ancient cultures preservation methods of meat. The technique of salting and drying meat predates the Romans (who may have learnt it from the Gauls and Celts), and existed in cultures in the Far East who had no direct contact with Rome. The article points out that tracing the history of the methods of salting and curing meats means tracing the history of man as carnivore." Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Listen in on the reunion between two former shipmates--a wealthy reformed criminal and a poor, bitter shipmate--in the Sherlock Holmes thriller 'The Gloria Scott': 'Why, it's 30 year and more since I saw you last,' sneers Hudson, the mate, strolling onto the expansive estate of his old rival. 'Here you are in your house, and me still picking my salt meat out of the harness cask.'"
534. "A few ribs short of a picnic." Economist 330, no. 7849 (1994): 91-92.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'The Man In the Ice,' by Konrad Spindler with a passing reference to Holmes. "Sherlock Holmes could not have asked for a better bunch of clues."
535. "Fiction." Library Media Connection 22, no. 3 (2003): 50.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article presents description of various books based on child fiction. Under "Graphic Books" listing is one for Ruse. "Imagine a detective with skills of observation and insight equal to Sherlock Holmes and a partner much more attractive and clever than Watson (and a bit more magical, as well), up against enemies with more than a little supernatural influence, in a Victorian setting that is unsettling like, yet not like, London; and you have Ruse."
536. The fighting eagle. Phoenix, AZ: Grapevine Video, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (81 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD-R. Silent film with intertitles and musical accompaniment; color tinted. Based on The exploits of Brigadier Gerard by Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally produced as a motion picture in 1927. Also includes the short film The Plumber's helper (1924) with Bobby Dunn. Participants: Rod La Rocque, Phyllis Haver, Sam De Grasse, Max Barwyn, Julia Faye; Sally Rand, Clarence Burton, Alphonse Ethier. C. Gardner Sullivan presents a Donald Crisp production ; produced by De Mille Pictures Corporation. Director, Donald Crisp; adaptation/continuity, Douglas Z. Doty; titles, John Krafft; photography, Arthur Miller; art direction, Mitchell Leisen; film editor, Barbara Hunter; assistant director, Emile De Ruelle; costumes, Adrian ; original distributor was Pathé Exchange. // Adventures of a young man who teams up with a pretty spy for Napoleon to prove that Talleyrand is a traitor.
537. "Fingering the Culprit: Scotland Yard's Fingerprint Bureau." Baker Street West 17, no. 2 (2001): 23.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

538. "The First Shoso-in Bulletin Award is Presented to Starring Sherlock Holmes by David Stuart Davies." Shoso-In Bulletin 12, no. (2002): 8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
539. "Fish and chips, Monty Python and Sherlock join icons of England." Daily Post (Liverpool), August 1, 2006: 22.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Fish and chips, the Oxford English Dictionary and the pint have joined Monty Python and Robin Hood as 'icons' of England. The newest set of national treasures, which also include Sherlock Holmes and the bowler hat, were drawn up by experts and voted for by the public as part of the Icons - A Portrait of England collection....The vote is part of the Icons project, which aims to encourage people to explore and celebrate the country's cultural treasures online and in the real world. People can view the unveiled icons online at www.ICONS.org.uk"
540. "Food Notes." Sunday Gazette - Mail, Dec 29, 1999: 3.D.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "In this case, you could say McDonald's didn't have a clue. An 18th century Scottish mansion where Sir Arthur Conan Doyle once lived was saved from a Big Mac attack when the city of Edinburgh slapped a preservation order on it. Fans of the Sherlock Holmes creator, alarmed to discover that McDonald's planned to build a burger restaurant on the site, appealed to city hall and won. 'This is wonderful news,' said Richard Lancelyn Green, a Conan Doyle expert and former chairman of the London-based Sherlock Holmes Society. 'Sherlock Holmes still has his magic, it seems.'"
541. "Fool's mate." Economist 343, no. 8015 (1997): 18-18.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Comments on the 1997 chess match between world champion Garry Kasparov and Deep Blue, a computer built by International Business Machines Corp. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "There is certainly room, as Sherlock Holmes observed to his biographer, for scheming in chess."
542. "Forecasts: Fiction." Publishers Weekly 247, no. 19 (2000): 208.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'The Problem of the Evil Editor: A Charles Dodgson/Arthur Conan Doyle Mystery,' by Roberta Rogow.
543. "Forecasts: Fiction." Publishers Weekly 245, no. 18 (1998): 207.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'The Secret Cases of Sherlock Holmes,' by Donald Thomas.
544. "The Forgotten Adventures of Sherlock Holmes: Based on the Original Radio Plays by Anthony Boucher and Denis Green." Kirkus Reviews 73, no. 18 (2005): 1003.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book "The Forgotten Adventures of Sherlock Holmes: Based on the Original Radio Plays by Anthony Boucher and Denis Green," by H. Paul Jeffers.
545. "Forward into Fall." Publishers Weekly 254, no. 31 (2007): 45-124.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A list of several books. Includes an item from Quirk Books: The Crimes of Dr. Watson: An Interactive Sherlock Holmes Mystery (Nov., $24.95) by John H. Watson, M.D., edited by Duane Swierczynski, allows readers to solve the mystery when Holmes goes missing and Watson is framed for murder.
546. "Foth revisited (2) Who Was Who at Footprints of the Hound." Canadian Holmes 25, no. 4 (2002): 28-30.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
547. "Framing Rudy and Photography." Journal of Modern Literature 22, no. 2 (1999): 265-290.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes multiple references to Doyle.
548. "Francis Crick." Economist 372, no. 8387 (2004): 71-71.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article profiles the life and work of scientist and DNA research pioneer Francis Crick, who died on July 28th, 2004. Passing reference to Holmes: "Ultimately, however, as Sherlock

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Holmes observed, you need data to test a hypothesis. You cannot make bricks without straw. And in the case of DNA, that straw was X-ray photographs."

549. "Freeze frames." Christian Science Monitor, Oct 24, 1997: 13.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews several motion pictures in theaters as of October 24, 1997. Includes reference to Doyle in review of "Fairytale: A True Story."
550. "From Al-Afghānāi to Bin Laden." Interventions: The International Journal of Postcolonial Studies 4, no. 1 (2002): 1-6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on resentments and anticolonial movements against western nations. Passing reference to Holmes. "Sherlock Holmes' Dr. Watson was wounded but rescued from 'the hands of the murderous Ghazis' at the battle of Maiwand in the course of the Second."
551. "From the Bootbox." Canadian Holmes 17, no. 3 (1994): 52.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents an unidentified photograph and asks for assistance with its identification.
552. "From the Bootbox." Canadian Holmes 17, no. 4 (1994): 52.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes the logo of the Arts & Letters Club of Toronto with a drawing of Holmes playing the violin. "The verso of this notice invited Bootmakers and their guests to a free evening of 'The music enjoyed by Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson' at the Arts & Letters Club of Toronto on 17 April, 1985. Isadore Desser was the featured violinist, accompanying soprano Marianne Karklins."
553. "From the Cobbler's Bench." Canadian Holmes 22, no. 3 (1999): 48-51.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
554. "From the Cobbler's Bench." Canadian Holmes 21, no. 3 (1998): 50-51.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
555. "From the Cobbler's Bench." Canadian Holmes 21, no. 4 (1998): 44-47.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
556. "From the Cobbler's Bench." Canadian Holmes 22, no. 1 (1998): 46-51.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
557. "From the Cobbler's Bench." Canadian Holmes 22, no. 2 (1998): 48-50.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
558. "From the Cobbler's Bench." Canadian Holmes 20, no. 3 (1997): 48-51.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
559. "From the Cobbler's Bench." Canadian Holmes 20, no. 4 (1997): 45-51.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
560. "From the Cobbler's Bench." Canadian Holmes 21, no. 1 (1997): 49-51.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
561. "From the Cobbler's Bench." Canadian Holmes 21, no. 2 (1997): 45-50.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
562. "From the Cobbler's Bench." Canadian Holmes 20, no. 1 (1996): 46-51.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
563. "From the Cobbler's Bench." Canadian Holmes 20, no. 2 (1996): 57-59.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

564. "From the Editor's Commonplace Book." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 2 (1994): 127.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Peter Blau's report on Doyle manuscripts offered at Sotheby's, The Scowrers and Molly Maguires Third International Seminar, the passing of Patsy Dalton, and The Watsonian Weekend III.
565. "From the Editor's Commonplace Book." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 3 (1994): 186-187.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Comments on the fire that struck "The Shadows of the Elm" in Santa Fe, New Mexico, the Fortesque Symposium, the 2nd annual "Games Afloat Sherlockian Symposium," the Sherlock Holmes Society of London Christmas card, and the "Third Occasional Sherlockian Cruise."
566. "From Universal Studios Home Entertainment: Five Feature-Length Installments of the Genre-Busting TV Crime Series Starring Primetime Emmy(R) Winner Peter Falk, 'Columbo Mystery Movie Collection 1989'; An All-New Collection Featuring TV's Most Disarming Detective Comes to DVD April 24, 2007." PR Newswire, no. (2007).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // With his perpetually disheveled attire and trademark stubby cigar, Lt. [Columbo] of the LAPD hunts down some of the city's most resourceful criminals in this all-new DVD collection of movies from 1989.... After lulling suspects into a false sense of security, the shambling Sherlock closes in with razor sharp insights that prove that appearances can be deceiving...."
567. Fu chou zhe : Sherlock Holmes and a study in scarlet. Shenzhen: Shenzhen yin xiang, 1994. Visual Material 1 videocassette (VHS).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Fuermosi zhen tan xi lie.; Translation of: Sherlock Holmes : a study in scarlet. Producer: Tom Stacey, George Stephenson. Animation. //
568. Fuermosi tan an quan ji The Sherlock Hommes collection. Shenzhen Shi : Dong fang li ren wen hua chuan bo you xian gong si, 2000. Visual Material 23 videodiscs.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. VCD format. Originally released as a TV series in England. Participants: Jeremy Brett. Granada Media. //
569. Fu'ermosi tan an xi lie Sherlock Holmes. Beijing: Beijing zhong lu tong fang yin xiang chu ban she, 2000. Visual Material 2 videodiscs (210 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Animated //
570. Fu'ermosi zhen tan dian ying Sherlock Holmes. Jiayi Shi : Ming hua guo ji qi ye you xian gong si, 2000. Visual Material 3 videodiscs.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD; all regions. Based on the novels written by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Basil Rathbone as Sherlock Holmes, Nigel Bruce as Dr. John H. Watson. // A collection of 10 classic Sherlock Holmes films. disc 1. Kong bu zhi sheng = Sherlock Holmes and the voice of terror ; Mi mi wu qi = Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon ; Mian dui si wang = Sherlock Holmes face death -- disc 2. Ti dao bian yuan = Sherlock Holmes dressed to kill ; Fu'ermosi zai Huashengdun = Sherlock Holmes in Washington ; Lü yi nǚ zi = The woman in green -- disc 3. Kong bu wu = The house of fear ; Zhui dao A'erji'er = pursuit to Algiers ; Hong zhua zi = The scarlet claw ; Kong bu zhi ye = Terror by night.
571. "G2: Lawson on TV: The man who wouldn't die." The Guardian (London), July 25, 2005: 17.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Just a few weeks after the publication of Julian Barnes's splendid novel about [Arthur Conan Doyle] as a real-life detective comes David Pirie's drama The Strange Case of Sherlock Holmes and Arthur Conan Doyle. This is the latest biographical variation from Pirie who explored in a previous film Doyle's relationship with the apparent model for [Holmes]: the Scottish doctor, Sir Joseph Bell."
572. "A gaggle of games." USA Today Magazine 126, no. 2630 (1997): 79.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Spotlights board games being released for the 1997 Christmas season. Green Eggs and Ham and The Cat in the Hat from University Games; 221B Baker Street: The Master Detective Game and Medical Monopoly from John N. Hansen Co.; Bethump'd With Words from Mamopalire Inc.

573. "The Game's Afloat." The Serpentine Muse 17, no. 4 (2001): 20.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

574. "The Game's Afoot! Hot on the Trail of a Deerstalker." The Toronto Star, July 10, 1999: 1.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // In response to a reader query, some suggested places in London from which to buy (or order) a deerstalker hat.

575. "Gaslight Grimoire: Fantastic Tale of Sherlock Holmes." Publishers Weekly 255, no. 36 (2008): 39-39.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "Gaslight Grimoire: Fantastic Tale of Sherlock Holmes," edited by J. R. Campbell and Charles Prepolec. Edge (www.edgewebsite.com), $16.95 paper (336p) ISBN 978-1494063-17-3. "In his foreword, David Stuart Davies asserts that the authors of these 11 stories pitting Holmes against the supernatural 'are very well-versed in the world of Sherlock Holmes and Doctor Watson.' Unfortunately, this authority fails to come through. The eloquence of the one standout, Barbara Roden's 'The Things That Shall Come Upon Them,' only emphasizes what the others lack. Roden effortlessly involves Holmes in a mystery derived from M.R. James's classic tale of terror, 'Casting the Runes,' featuring psychic sleuth Flaxman Low. By contrast, Martin Powell's 'Sherlock Holmes in the Lost World' sees Holmes battling ape-men and dinosaurs without any display of his remarkable intellect, and M.J. Elliott's 'The Finishing Stroke' pays so much homage as to neglect originality. As a whole, this mixed bag fails to differentiate itself from other similar anthologies."

576. The Gaucho. New York: Kino on Video, 2001. Visual Material 1 videodisc (96, 26 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- si., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. Special features include newly mastered version of Fairbanks's 1916 cult comedy The mystery of the leaping fish (26 min.) and excerpts from the original souvenir program. The Gaucho originally released as a motion picture in 1927. The Mystery of the Leaping Fish originally released as a motion picture in 1916. Full-frame format (aspect ratio 1.33:1). Participants: The Gaucho: Douglas Fairbanks (The Gaucho), Lupe Velez (The Mountain Girl), Joan Barclay (The Girl of the Shrine) (as Geraine Greear), Eve Southern (The Girl of the Shrine), Gustav von Seyffertitz (Ruiz, The Usurper), Michael Vavitch (The Usurper's First Lieutenant), Charles Stevens (The Gaucho's First Lieutenant), Nigel De Brulier (The Padre), Albert MacQuarrie (Victim of the Black Doom), Mary Pickford (Virgin Mary). The Mystery of the Leaping Fish: Douglas Fairbanks (Coke Ennyday), Bessie Love (The Little Fish Blower), Alma Rubens (His Female Accomplice), Allan Sears (Gent Rolling in Wealth (as A.D. Sears), Charles Stevens (Japanese Accomplice), Tom Wilson (Police Chief I.M. Keene). The Elton Corporation ; United Artists. The Gaucho: Director, F. Richard Jones ; written by Lotta Woods, based on a story by Elton Thomas [i.e. Douglas Fairbanks] ; photography by Tony Gaudio ; original music, Sydney Jill Lehman. The Mystery of the Leaping Fish: Directed by Christy Cabanne and John Emerson ; written by Tod Browning and D.W. Griffith (as Granville Warwick); titles by Anita Loos ; cinematography by John W. Leezer ; D.W. Griffith, supervisor. // The Gaucho and his men take over the City of the Miracle, carousing and planning to steal from the shrine there. A Mexican mountain girl falls for him and fights every woman who looks his way. The Gaucho tries to seduce the Girl of the Shrine, but her innocence and piety, combined with a miracle cure when he is infected with leprosy, reform him. When an evil gang threatens to execute the priest and the Girl of the Shrine, the Gaucho saves them at the last moment with a diversionary cattle stampede and rides off with his mountain girl. The second title is a strange little comedy featuring Coke Ennyday, a cheerfully addicted cocaine-using "scientific detective" (in a parody of Sherlock Holmes), and his pursuit of a gang of opium smugglers.

577. "GBP148,000 is paid by fans of the great detective." The Times (London), July 25, 1995: 1.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Addition, not deduction, is clue to Sherlock Holmes sale. A Twitch of a deerstalker or the tap of a Meerschaum pipe was enough to catch the auctioneer's eye at Sotheby's yesterday as an outstanding Sherlock Holmes collection was sold for Pounds 148,000. Magazines, books, papers and memorabilia collected by Stanley MacKenzie, a renowned Sherlockian and Basil Rathbone-lookalike who died aged 82 in February, fetched more than double the estimated value...."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

578. "Get away-with murder." Travel Weekly: The Choice of Travel Professionals (Reed), no. 1768 (2005): 85.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article informs about two nights of murder mystery -- one with a Sherlock Holmes theme and the other featuring Chicago gangsters -- left travel agents well and truly stumped at hospitality industry firm Cendant Vacation Rental Group's event, held to present the group's fourth annual awards.
579. "Get this Classic Detectives DVD Free Today." Daily Mail (London), January 20, 2006: 40.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Today, you can get another free Classic Detectives DVD with a feature-length episode of Sherlock Holmes. Simply take the voucher printed here to your nearest WHSmith store* TODAY and they'll swop it for a FREE DVD of Sherlock Holmes, one of the world's greatest and most popular fictional detectives. Adapted from Arthur Conan Doyle's original stories and novels, Sherlock Holmes has consistently been one of Britain's top overseas exports, has been honoured twice with awards from the Mystery Writers of America and has received accolades from all over the world. It stars Jeremy Brett, David Burke and Edward Hardwicke...."
580. "Getting Into The Act." Stage of the Art 15, no. 1 (2002): 17-23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Six practitioners of participation theater discuss their experiences. One of the practitioners, Bernice Bronson, who developed original scripts in participatory theater during her ten years as artistic director of the Looking Glass Theatre in Providence, Rhode Island, mentioned an experience with a Holmes reference. "...For instance, in Sherlock Holmes, a red-headed actress arrived as President of the Red Headed League. She told the children they were all members of The Red Headed League and were going to be in a fashion parade with her. She distributed red mop-heads for them to wear, saying, 'Let me see some of the things you're going to do.' They experimented and then 'The League' proceeded to the performance room. Other groups were prepared as felons, the Baker Street Irregulars, merchants of London, Scotland Yard, and the streets and alleys of London. One child would play Watson and would be supported by Sherlock Holmes and Mrs. Hudson, played by actors of the company. Watson would have lots to discuss, order and report, so the actors had to make sure to phrase their questions so that however little Holmes replied, it would be appropriate and helpful. For example, instead of asking the young actor 'Is this man dead or alive?' the company actors would ask, 'When did this man die?' The field was now open to him. At one of the early performances, I was worried that the young audience members might be jealous of one person being chosen to be Watson. Instead they felt he was their hero and they carried him out on their shoulders. By and large we had a wonderful time...."
581. "The Ghosts of Baker Street." Publishers Weekly 252, no. 47 (2005): 26-26.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of The Ghosts of Baker Street. Edited by Martin H. Greenberg, Jon Lellenberg and Daniel Stashower (Carrol & Graf), $16.95 paper (240p) ISBN 0-7867-1400-X
582. "The Ghosts of Baker Street: New Tales of Sherlock Holmes." Kirkus Reviews 73, no. 22 (2005): 1213.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of the book.
583. "Global Briefs." American Libraries 33, no. 7 (2002): 33.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Offers world library news for August 2002. Resolution to the theft of materials from the locked abbey library at Mont Sainte-Odile near Saverne, France, which had a secret passageway. "How did the suspect discover the secret passage? Apparently he had read about the library in a rare journal he found in the Strasbourg University library. Charles Dass, a former director of the abbey library, told the Associated Press May 24, 'Very few people knew of the passage. It was a real enigma. Sherlock Holmes would have torn his hair out.'"
584. "Global Reach." American Libraries 38, no. 6 (2007): 42-42.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article offers news briefs about libraries. Includes a reference to Doyle. "Scottish celebrities, including actor Sir Sean Connery and author Ian Rankin, have joined the National Library of Scotland's campaign to purchase the archive of Edinburgh-born publisher John Murray, which includes manuscripts and letters from Charles Dickens, Jane Austen, Lord Byron, and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. The

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Heritage Lottery Fund and the Scottish Executive provided the bulk of the funding, but the library must raise GBP6.5 million to close the deal. The National Library plans to make the archive widely accessible through exhibitions that will travel the country...."

585. "Global Reach." American Libraries 36, no. 3 (2005): 22-22.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents updates on libraries as of March 2005. Under the entry for Scotland, notes "Thanks in part to a GBP7.7-million ($33.2 million) grant from the Heritage Lottery Fund, the National Library in Edinburgh has purchased the literary archives of the John Murray publishing house, founded in London in 1768. Hailed as the most historically significant literary archive to become available in the past 100 years, the collection contains some 150,000 letters by such authors as Lord Byron. Charles Darwin, Jane Austen. Benjamin Disraeli, Arthur Conan Doyle, and Edith Wharton."
586. "Global Reach." American Libraries 35, no. 8 (2004): 23-23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents world news briefs on libraries as of September 2004. "What may be the world's largest collection of Arthur Conan Doyle memorabilia was donated August 6 to the Portsmouth Library' by the estate of writer Richard Lancelyn Green. The collection includes a full-size recreation of Sherlock Holmes's Baker Street study, and first editions of all Conan Doyle's works."
587. Globe Fearon literature. Purple level. Princeton, NJ: Recording for the Blind & Dyslexic; Globe Fearon Educational Publisher, 2002. Sound Recording 1 sound disc.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital, mono. ; 4 3/4 in. Originally published: Upper Saddle River, N.J. : Globe Fearon, c2001. Audience: Grades 6-10. IL: 6-12. Distribution is restricted to RFB & D members who have a documented print disability such as a visual impairment, learning disability or other physical disability. //
588. Godzilla and other movie monsters. North Hollywood, CA: Passport Video, 1998. Visual Material 1 videodisc (115 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Cult classic bonus: "Bambi vs. Godzilla," "Godzilla Rap" music video, Featurette: Lost world (1948). // Scenes from the various Godzilla movies and dozens of other favorites including Gorgo, Reptilicus and The Giant Claw. Includes rare and never-before-seen footage showing how the monsters are created.
589. "The Golden Jubilee Dinner." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 25, no. 2 (2001): 66-67.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
590. The golden pince-nez. [Oak Forest, IL]: MPI Home Video, 1995. Visual Material 1 videocassette (50 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. The memoirs of Sherlock Holmes / by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. VHS. Hi-fi stereo. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Frank Finlay, Charles Gray, Rosalie Williams, Anna Carteret, Patricia Kerrigan, Nigel Planer. screenplay by Gary Hopkins ; produced by June Wyndham Davies ; directed by Peter Hammond ; executive producer, Sally Head ; made by Granada Television in association with WGBH/Boston. //
591. The golden pince-nez. [London?]: Granada Video, 1994. Visual Material 1 videocassette (50 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. The memoirs of Sherlock Holmes.; VHS. Hi-fi stereo. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Frank Finlay, Charles Gray, Rosalie Williams. Granada Television in association with WGBH/Boston. //
592. "Gourmandise." Buffalo News, Jan 9, 2000: E.3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Fans of the Sherlock Holmes creator, alarmed to discover that McDonald's planned to build a burger restaurant on the site, appealed to City Hall and won. 'This is wonderful news,' said Richard Lancelyn Green, a Conan Doyle expert and former chairman of the London-based Sherlock Holmes Society. 'Sherlock Holmes still has his magic, it seems.'"
593. "The Grand Bard goes online." Economist 373, no. 8406 (2004): 90-90.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article focuses on the Cornish language. Passing reference to Holmes: "Sherlock Holmes, the fictional detective, was fascinated by the language, believing (wrongly) that it was a legacy of Phoenician tin-traders."

594. "Grapevine." New Scientist 174, no. 2349 (2002): 53.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on the political issues of 'earthquakes' on the Yucca Mountain in Nevada. Interest of the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) on nuclear test site of the Nevada mountain; Analysis on the features of the mountain; Comments of the Nevadans about the DOE scheme. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "We'd almost forgotten about Yucca Mountain. Then a curious statement arrived from the US Department of Energy. 'There was not an earthquake at Yucca Mountain today,' it began. Readers of Sherlock Holmes will be well aware of the significance of dogs that don't bark...."

595. "Great American Skeptics." Skeptic 14, no. 3 (2008): 81-91.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article provides information on the great American skeptics. Includes a section on Houdini and Arthur Conan Doyle (p. 84).

596. "Great Britain, Europe." Reference & Research Book News 19, no. 4 (2004): 35-43.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents abstracts of books on Great Britain and Europe selected from the 2004 issues of "Reference and Research Book News" and "SciTech Book News". Lists A Traveller's Companion to London, ed. by Thomas Wright. (Interlink Publishing Group, 2004) 410p. From the review: "Diary entries, letters, newspaper stories, and eyewitness accounts from authors such as Tacitus, Conan Doyle, and Crisp are among these nearly two hundred short readings about the places, people, and events that shaped London."

597. Great British Stories. Princeton, NJ: Recording for the Blind & Dyslexic, 2007. Sound Recording Sound disc.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital, mono ; 4 3/4 in. Originally published: Austin, TX : Holt, Rinehart and Winston, [2000]. Audience: Grades 9-12. Distribution is restricted to RFB&D members who have a documented print disability such as a visual impairment, learning disability or other physical disability. // A collection of British favorites, these nineteenth- and early twentieth-century tales set the standard for storytelling in the English tradition. Ranging from Hardy's tale of chilling coincidences to Dahl's subtle treatment of war trauma, these stories reflect the vitality of England's literary arts. Youth, colonialism, class structure, and wish fulfillment are among the many themes cleverly teased out by such masters as Saki, Kipling, Woolf, and Maugham. Entertaining and instructive, this collection by some of England's finest writers would make a ... supplement to any study of British literature. -Publisher description.

598. "The great deception." Discover 21, no. 1 (2000): 57.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Cites the scientific hoax involving a doctored human skull discovered at Piltdown Common in Sussex, England in 1912. Doyle mentioned.

599. Great Detectives Anthology. [s.l.]: A&E Home Video ; New York : New Video, 2010. Visual Material 12 videodiscs (ca. 1601 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Release date: Oct. 5, 2010. Bonus features: biographies of Agatha Christie and the casts ; index of Marple and Poirot stories; Sherlock Holmes: the great detective bonus documentary. Participants: Peter Cushing, Joan Hickson, David Suchet. // There's a murderer on the moors. Terror on the train. Villains in the village! Only the world's greatest deductive minds can save the day. Fortunately, Arthur Conan Doyle's Sherlock Holmes and Agatha Christie's Hercule Poirot and Miss Jane Marple are together, for the first time ever, to confront their most confounding cases.

600. Great detectives Hollywood classics. Del Mar, CA: Genius Entertainment, 2003. Visual Material 2 videodiscs (288 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. AMC Movies; DVD. // Disc 1. Ellery Queen in the Mandarin mystery (1936, 66 min., starring Eddie Quillan) -- Sherlock Holmes in the triumph of Sherlock Holmes (1935, 84 min., starring Arthur Wontner) -- Disc 2. Bulldog Drummond in Bulldog Drummond escapes (1937, 67 min., starring Ray Milland) -- Mr. Moto in Mr. Moto's last warning (1939, 71 min., starring Peter Lorre).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

601. "The Great Indoors and Sherlock Holmes." The Irish Times, February 15, 1997: 15.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "A change: from the great out doors of yesterday, and fishing for trout, to one of the greatest indoors men of all: Sherlock Holmes. A turnout of books brought to the surface three heavy volumes, bound copies of the Strand Magazine of over a century ago. Six months of the magazine per volume; blue hard cover, January to June 1893, in which are six of Conan Doyle's famous short stories about the detective. The previous owner bought these three at sixpence apiece from sixty years ago...."
602. The Great Mouse Detective. [s.l.]: Walt Disney Studios Home Entertainment, 2010. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 74 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. Disney DVD; DVD, region 1, widescreen (1.78:1, enhanced) presentation; Dolby Digital 5.1 surround. Originally produced as a motion picture in 1986. Based on the children's book series, Basil of Baker Street by Eve Titus and Paul Galdone. Bonus feature: So you think you can sleuth? -amusing, animated look at the history of detective work through the ages with a crime-solving challenge. Participants: Voiceovers: Vincent Price, Barrie Ingham, Val Bettin. Audience: MPAA rating: G ; CHV rating: G. Music, Henry Mancini ; story adapted by Pete Young ... [et al.] ; editors, Roy M. Brewer, Jr., James Melton ; art direction, Guy Vasilovich. // The story of a clever little hero on a great big adventure. Join the Sherlock Holmes of Mousedom on a heroic journey unraveling clues through London.
603. "Grounds." Starr Report: Independent Counsel's Report to the United States House of Representatives, no. (1998): 134.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents information obtained by the Office of the Independent Council of the United States which may provide grounds for the impeachment of President Bill Clinton. Note 181 includes a Holmes reference. "These included a Sherlock Holmes game sometime after Christmas 1996..."
604. "Guilty Pleasures Alec Baldwin." Film Comment 39, no. 5 (2003): 8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents the favorite films of actor Alec Baldwin. 'Midnight Lace,' starring Doris Day and Rex Harrison; Favorite comedies; 'Woman in Green,' starring Basil Rathbone. "My favorite movies of all time? Nothing takes me back to my childhood better and quicker than Basil Rathbone as Sherlock Holmes. Give me Woman in Green or Voice of Terror any day."
605. "The Gullible Creator of Sherlock Holmes." The Toronto Star, May 16, 1999: 1.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of Daniel Stashower's Teller of Tales. "...As a London bookseller told American Daniel Stashower, author of Teller Of Tales: The Life Of Arthur Conan Doyle, 'Doyle went a bit potty at the end, didn't he?' Certainly it's intriguing, to say the least, that the creator of the world's ultra-rational detective and thinking machine ended up seeing fairies at the bottom of his garden. Not at all elementary, you might say (which Holmes wouldn't, since it turns out he never used that much abused phrase). Yet there must surely be something in the connection between Sherlock Holmes and his incongruous author. After all, both are spun from the same ectoplasm (Doyle, I mean). So it was in anticipation of a daring and maybe even creepy ride that I turned to Teller Of Tales, which spends about a quarter of its bulk on the issue. Only to be disappointed...."
606. "Guns were silenced and it was time to celebrate." The Vancouver Sun, December 24, 1994: D2.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The book quotes Tilley's letter, and another by German Lieut. Johannes Niemann of the 133rd Saxon Regiment. Includes a reference to Doyle. "...Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, creator of Sherlock Holmes and a historian of the war, called the Christmas truce 'one human episode amid all the atrocities.'" 607. "A Guy Thing." Wall Street Journal - Eastern Edition, 10/10, 2008: W2.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // An interview with filmmaker Guy Ritchie is presented. Ritchie believes that the film "RocknRolla" will make it as good as other British films did in the American film industry like James Bond, Harry Potter, and Sherlock Holmes. When asked how his career would have been different if he was not married to Madonna, Ritchie says that it would have been the same outcome in the end. Though other people say that all publicity is good publicity, Ritchie thinks otherwise.
608. Hands of a murderer. Richmond Hill, Ontario: BFS Video, 1995. Visual Material 1 videocassette (97 min.).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS. Participants: Edward Woodward, John Hillerman, Anthony Andrews. Storke Enterprises, Inc. and Green Pond Productions Inc. in association with Yorkshire International Films, Ltd. Written by Charles Edward Pogue ; executive producer, Robert E. Fuisz ; produced by William F. Storke ; co-produced by Norman Foster ; directed by Stuart Orme. // When Sherlock Holmes' arch-enemy Moriarty is allowed to escape the noose, the great detective launches himself into a tangled web of intrigue and double bluff.

609. Hands of a murderer a Sherlock Holmes mystery. [S.l.]: Lance Entertainment, Inc. : Granada ; New York, NY : Distributed by Wellspring, 2004. Visual Material 1 videodisc (97 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1; Dolby Digital. Originally broadcast on television in 1990. Special features: biographies, cast & credits; weblink. Participants: Edward Woodward, John Hillerman, Anthony Andrews. Audience: MPAA rating: Not rated. a production of Storke Enterprises, Inc. and Green Pond productions in association with Yorkshire Television Enterprises, Ltd. ; producer, William F. Storke ; writer, Charles Edward Pogue ; director, Stuart Orme. // After months of painstaking investigation, Sherlock Holmes finally jailed his arch-enemy, Professor Moriarty. Now the bungling Inspector Lestrade has allowed him to escape the noose.
610. Haunted Gainsborough and, Winthrop legend. St. Laurent, Quebec: Distributed by Madacy Music, 1994. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 55 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Sherlock Holmes collection; Videocassette release of 2 episodes of the 1954-55 British television series, based on the stories of Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Ronald Howard (Sherlock Holmes), Howard Marion Crawford (Dr. Watson), Archie Duncan (Inspector Lestrade, other roles) ; introduction by Christopher Lee. produced & written by Sheldon Reynolds ; director, Jack Gage. Music, Paul Durand ; cinematography, Raymond Clunie. // Haunted Gainsborough: a man's attempts to sell a family portrait (in order to raise money for a mortgage) are continually foiled by the appearance of a ghost ; Winthrop legend: two heirs to a large fortune receive unsettling signs that they will be the next victims of a family curse.
611. Haunted Gainsborough and, Winthrop legend. St. Laurent, Quebec: Distributed by Madacy Music, 1998. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 55 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Sherlock Holmes collection; Videocassette release of 2 episodes of the 1954-55 British television series, based on the stories of Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Ronald Howard (Sherlock Holmes), Howard Marion Crawford (Dr. Watson), Archie Duncan (Inspector Lestrade, other roles) ; introduction by Christopher Lee. produced & written by Sheldon Reynolds ; director, Jack Gage. Music, Paul Durand ; cinematography, Raymond Clunie. // Haunted Gainsborough: a man's attempts to sell a family portrait (in order to raise money for a mortgage) are continually foiled by the appearance of a ghost ; Winthrop legend: two heirs to a large fortune receive unsettling signs that they will be the next victims of a family curse.
612. "He seems a quiet, meek-mannered man enough": the Cinematic Adventures of Sir Hugo Baskerville." The Holmes & Watson Report 7, no. 4 (2003): 39-42.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
613. "Heads Up." NEA Today 17, no. 2 (1998): 32.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Provides information on resources and events of interest to teachers and educators. Includes a Doyle reference. "Do your students have a flair for the dramatic? Treat them to Mystery Plays: 8 Plays, for the Classroom Based on Stories by Famous Writers. Tom Conklin adapts great tales by Hawthorne, O. Henry, Conan Doyle, and more for kids in grades 4-8...."
614. "Healthcare industry symptoms indicate dealmaking overdose." Modern healthcare 28, no. 32 (1998): 42.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Editorial. Comments on the mergers of healthcare companies. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "If Buffett follows the health care industry, he must be as suspicious as Sherlock Holmes at a murder scene...."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

615. "Heard the one about." The Press (Christchurch, New Zealand), December 21, 2001: 1.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A joke about Sherlock Holmes and Dr Watson, submitted by Geoff Anandappa, from Blackpool, emerged the over-all winner, with a top rating from 47 per cent of those taking part.
616. "Heart of Holmes drama." The Evening Post (Wellington), January 22, 2001: TV3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The world of Sherlock Holmes is reinvented in Dr Bell And Mr Doyle: The Dark Beginnings Of Sherlock Holmes, a story inspired by the real-life relationship between Arthur Conan Doyle (Laing) and his tutor at Edinburgh University, pioneer forensic pathologist, Dr Joseph Bell (Richardson), this week's Summer Mystery. Set in Edinburgh in 1878, the pair become embroiled in a hunt for a serial killer, a journey that reveals the underbelly of Victorian society and inspires Doyle to create the most memorable detective of all time - Sherlock Holmes. Writer David Pirie says this mystery is based on a true story...."
617. "The Hellfire Conspiracy." Publishers Weekly 254, no. 21 (2007): 38-38.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "The Hellfire Conspiracy," by Will Thomas. Includes a reference to Holmes. "At the start of Thomas's well-crafted fourth Barker and Llewelyn mystery to feature a London detective duo clearly modeled on Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson (after 2006's The Limehouse Text), a distraught guardsman, Major DeVere, consults Cyrus Barker, a smugly intellectual private enquiry agent, and his young apprentice, ex-con Thomas Llewelyn. The major's 12-year-old daughter has disappeared, and DeVere fears she has fallen victim to white slavers, though the sleuths suspect a serial killer may be at work...."
618. Herlock Shomes at it again. 1st ed, (Mysterious Sherlock Holmes). New York: The Mysterious Bookshop, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Added Title: Wipers times // "Shomes and Dr. Hotson (or is it Jotson? Or Flotsam?) go to work in this six-chapter parody that originally appeared in Wipers Times in 1918. Limited to 221 copies." (From the Mysterious Bookshop website)
619. "His Last Bow: Thomas L. Stix, Jr." The Musgrave Papers, no. 11 (1998): 140.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
620. "The History & Traditions of Fact-Based Crime Literature." Legal Studies Forum 29, no. 2 (2005): 957-999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Addresses the history and traditions of fact-based crime literature. Varieties of fact-based crime literature; Background of the strong British interest in true crime; Advantages of the study of criminal cases by historian or novelist. Includes passing references to Doyle and Holmes.
621. "History in the Making. (Cover story)." University Business 11, no. 6 (2008): 58-62.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Finding the right materials for a historic building can turn project team members into detectives. Here's where project teams at four institutions, searching a la Sherlock Holmes, had to go:..."
622. "History of Civilization, Archaeology, Biography." Reference & Research Book News 20, no. 4 (2005): 31-33.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article presents a list of books on the history of civilization, archaeology, biography. The list includes "European Notebooks: New Societies and Old Politics 1954-1985," by Francois Bondy, a collection of essays that include observations on Sherlock Holmes and socialist realism. (Transaction Publishers, 2005) 364p. ISBN 0-7658-0271-6
623. "History's dirty secret." Geographical 76, no. 4 (2004): 44-45.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Deals with the lack of political will to clean up urban air pollution in London, England. Passing reference to Holmes. "The smog -- caused by a temperature inversion that trapped thousands of tonnes of exhaust from domestic coal fires -- wasn't a new phenomenon. Since the 19th century, these 'London's particulars' had furnished the city with an air of mystery. Central to the tales of Sherlock Holmes and captured by artists such as Turner and Monet, the dense fog was accepted as a fact of life -- so much so that bronchitis became known as the 'British disease'."
624. The Holmes & Watson report. Peoria, IL: B. Keefauver, 1997-.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

625. "The Holmes & Watson Report 2004 Fact-Finding Survey." The Holmes & Watson Report 8, no. 2 (2004): 20-23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

626. "The Holmes & Watson Report Election 2000 Fact-Finding Poll." The Holmes & Watson Report 4, no. 1 (2000): 20-23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

627. "The Holmes & Watson Report's Annual Survey for 2003." The Holmes & Watson Report 7, no. 2 (2003): 36-40.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

628. "Holmes at his very best in dark tale of a hound from hell." Daily Mail (London), February 20, 2004: 56.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "...At the beginning of his investigative career, the denizens of Scotland Yard may have been sceptical. Not any more. 'I saw at once from the reverential way in which Lestrade gazed at my companion that he had learned a great deal since the days when they had first worked together.' In the real world there never has been an amateur detective whose brilliance leaves policemen in a state of perpetual bafflement. Conan Doyle invented the species. Holmes defined the character. A Study in Scarlet defined the genre and The Hound of the Baskervilles developed it to perfection."

629. "Holmes collection left to library in southern England." Xinhua News Agency - CEIS, Aug 6, 2004: 1.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "[Arthur Conan Doyle] was born in Edinburgh. He moved later to Portsmouth and then London. While in Portsmouth, he wrote 'A Study in Scarlet' (1887), which introduced [Holmes] and his sidekick, Dr. Watson. '[Richard Lancelyn Green] was the foremost Arthur Conan Doyle scholar and a leading Sherlock Holmes specialist. His collection was acknowledged to be the finest in private hands,' said Nicholas Utechin, editor of the 'Sherlock Holmes Journal.'"

630. "Holmes Creator's House Saved." The Toronto Star, January 1, 2000: 1.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "An 18th-century Scottish mansion where Sir [Arthur Conan Doyle] once lived has been saved from a Big Mac attack. The city of Edinburgh has slapped a preservation order on the house after an appeal from fans of the Sherlock Holmes creator, alarmed to discover that McDonald's planned to build a burger restaurant on the site...."

631. "Holmes 'First Draft' is Printed." Birmingham Evening Mail, March 31, 2001: 9.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "A short story thought to be the first ever written by Sherlock Holmes creator Sir Arthur Conan Doyle has been published for the first time. The Haunted Grange of Goresythorpe was originally rejected for publication by an Edinburgh-based magazine almost 125 years ago, when Conan Doyle was an 18-year-old medical student. The hand-written book, which featured an early version of the author's most famous creation, Sherlock Holmes, remained in the archive of Blackwoods Magazine because Doyle did not include a stamped self-addressed envelope when he sent it in...."

632. "Holmes loan fraud; [3 Edition]." The Independent (London), December 7, 1994: No page citation.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "John A-----, 37, a businessman, of Belgravia, central London, who was behind the Sherlock Holmes museum in Baker Street, was convicted at Southwark Crown Court of founding it with the proceeds from a pounds 1.2m mortgage fraud. He will be sentenced next month."

633. "Holmes Made Me Buy It." Baker Street West 1 6, no. 2 (2000): 25-34.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

634. "Holmes man's death riddle." The Sun (London), Apr 24, 2004: 28.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Mr [Richard Lancelyn Green], of Kensington, West London, was upset about an auction of items belonging to [Holmes]' creator Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and wanted it stopped. He also feared he was going to be smeared."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

635. "Holmes Museum Owner is Accused of Mortgage Fraud." The Guardian (London), November 16, 1994: 5.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "A businessman turned to fraud to help develop a museum dedicated to fictional detective Sherlock Holmes, a court heard yesterday. John A----- raised further mortgages on the building as part of a pounds 1.2 million fraud, Southwark crown court heard. A-----, who owns the three-storey museum at 239 Baker Street, is representing himself in the case. He is using a metal dustbin to store thousands of pages of documents served on him by the Crown Prosecution Service. The building is in Baker Street, where the fictional detective lived, and was one of three used by A-----, aged 37, to obtain eight mortgages, said Charles Miskin, prosecuting...."
636. "Holmes' place." The Evening Standard (London), August 4, 1999: 12.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Lord Tugendhat is hoping the cash registers of the Abbey National will be going ching! ching! over the Abbey's links with Sherlock Holmes. The bank, of which he is chairman, is sponsoring a statue of Conan Doyle's great detective as part of its 150th anniversary celebrations. 221b Baker Street, where Holmes and Watson were so capably looked after by Mrs Hudson, has been occupied by Abbey National since 1932, and the Sherlock Holmes Society has long pleaded for a statue there...."
637. "Holmes' Statue is on the Case!". Birmingham Evening Mail, September 24, 1999: 37.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "A bronze statue of the world's best-known fictional detective was unveiled in London. The statue of Sherlock Holmes stands outside Baker Street underground station, near to where the detective lived at the fictional number 221b. Abbey National, whose head office is located on the site of what would be 221b Baker Street, has sponsored the work to mark its 150th anniversary...."
638. "Holmes Thoughts From Abroad/Rogues Gallery Susan Rice." The Ritual, no. 24 (1999): 16-19.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
639. "Holmes's popularity elementary." The Ottawa Citizen, November 18, 1995: H9.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Here's a mystery Sherlock Holmes would love. In a world of DNA testing, forensic pathology and court television, why does a century-old fictional detective armed only with deductive reasoning still hold readers spellbound? 'Partly it's the same appeal that any superhero has,' says Chris Redmond of University of Waterloo, author of In Bed With Sherlock Holmes. 'And partly, it's just the joy of reading very well-written stories.' About 100 fans of the late 19th-century London sleuth will gather today at a downtown Indianapolis hotel for a two-day Sherlock Holmes symposium...."
640. Home safety with Sherlock Homes. Seattle, WA: Hope Heart Institute, 1994. Visual Material 1 videocassette (5 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS. produced by the International Health Awareness Center, Inc. and Lawrence Productions, Inc. // Is your home safe? This video provides tips on how to prevent: stairway accidents, hot water and microwave burns, home fires, bathroom falls, poisonings, and more.
641. Home safety with Sherlock Homes. Eugene, OR: Distributed by New Dimension Media, 1994. Visual Material 1 videocassette (5 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. with b&w sequences ; 1/2 in. VHS. Closed-captioned for the hearing impaired. produced by the International Health Awareness Center, Inc., and Lawrence Productions, Inc. ; the Hope Heart Institute, Seattle, Washington. // Is your home safe? This video provides tips on how to prevent stairway accidents, hot water and microwave burns, home fires, bathroom falls, poisonings, and more.
642. "Hot Deals." Publishers Weekly 249, no. 43 (2002): 14.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents updates on several deals between authors and publishers, as of October 28, 2002. Neil Gaiman at HarperCollins and Bloomsbury. Also note on Michael Capuzzo's The Arms of Angels. "The new book is a true tale about a mysterious group of skilled detectives who use their skills to solve only the most despicable of crimes, led by a figure who seems to be a contemporary Sherlock Holmes."
643. "Hotstuff." Newsday, Oct 23, 2005: C.04.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Sherlock Holmes and the Case of the Silk Stocking. The body of a woman in rags lies on the muddy shore of the Thames, and Holmes is prompted out of retirement by Dr. Watson, who suspects a more complex kind of foul play than the simple murder of a prostitute. Screenplay by Allan Cubitt, who adapted 'The Hound of the Baskervilles' for 'Masterpiece Theatre' in 2003. Rupert Everett stars as Holmes...."

644. A hound it was projecting the Baskerville curse. New York: On-the-Fly Video Productions, 2001. Visual Material 1 videocassette (64 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col., with b&w sequences ; 1/2 in. VHS. Produced by Maribeau Briggs and Paul Singleton ; written and narrated by Paul Singleton ; edited by Maribeau Briggs and Wolfgang Busch. // Surveys film adaptations of Arthur Conan Doyle's "The Hound of the Baskervilles", including television productions, foreign language films, and animations. Portrayals of Sherlock Holmes include those by Basil Rathbone, Jeremy Brett, Tom Baker, Peter Cushing, Ian Richardson, and others.

645. "The Hound of the Baskervilles." Scholastic Scope 57, no. 6 (2008): 14-19.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article presents the script of the play "The Hound of the Baskervilles," based on the novel by Arthur Conan Doyle, adapted by Zach Jones.

646. The hound of the Baskervilles. [S.l.]: Distributed by Lyrick Studios, 1997. Visual Material 1 videocassette (30 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Wishbone; VHS. Based on Arthur Conan Doyle's The hound of the Baskervilles. Videorecording of program with copyright of 1995. Participants: Larry Brantley as the voice of Wishbone; Jordan Wall as Joe; Christie Abbott as Sam; Adam Springfield as David; Mary Chris Wall as Ellen, Angee Hughes as Wanda. Big Feat! Entertainment ; producer, Betty Buckley ; directed by Fred Holmes ; written by Vincent Brown. Director of photography, Bert Guthrie ; musical director, Tim Cissel ; supervising producer, Stephanie Simpson ; creator and executive producer, Rick Duffield ; editor, Michael Coleman. // A big bad dog is on the loose in Oakdale and is tearing the place apart. Wishbone needs to find the corrupt canine as otherwise he is taking the blame. Then young Sir Henry Baskerville is haunted by the family curse, death by hound. As the great detective, Sherlock Holmes, Wishbone tries to save him.

647. The hound of the Baskervilles. [Sacramento, Calif.] : MPI Home Video ; Boston : DVS Home Video, 1994. Visual Material 1 videocassette (VHS) (ca. 120 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. The Return of Sherlock Holmes; "This is film is described for people who are blind or have low vision."--Cover. Includes labels in braille. "Hi-fi, mono." Dramatised from the story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Videocassette release of an episode from the 1984 television series. Participants: Jeremy Brett. Granada Television Ltd. Director, Brian Mills. //

648. The Hound of the Baskervilles. Chatsworth, CA: Distributed by Image Entertainment, 1999. Visual Material 1 videodisc (100 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Based on the novel by Arthur Conan Doyle. Videodisc release of the 1983 television motion picture. Participants: Ian Richardson, Donald Churchill. Audience: Not rated by the MPAA. Investors in Industry ; directed by Douglas Hickox ; produced by Otto Plaschkes. // Sherlock Holmes travels to the wild, fog-bound moors of the English countryside where the legend of a centuries-old curse has been blamed for the horrific death of the heir to the House of Baskerville.

649. The Hound of the Baskervilles. Hollywood, CA: Paramount Pictures, 1999. Visual Material 1 videodisc (100 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Not rated. For specific features see interactive menu. Videodisc release of the 1983 television motion picture. Based on the novel by Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Ian Richardson, Donald Churchill. Investors in Industry ; directed by Douglas Hickox ; produced by Otto Plaschkes. // Holmes emerges once again, blaffing follower Dr. Watson with canny insight as the two investigate Baskerville deaths by the legendary hound.

650. The Hound of the Baskervilles. [s.l.]: Orbit Media Ltd., 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (80 min.).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, all regions. Based on the story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally released in 1939. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Richard Greene, Wendy Barrie, Lionel Atwill, John Carradine, Barlowe Borland. Darryl F. Zanuck in charge of production ; directed by Sidney Lanfield ; associate producer Gene Markey ; screenplay by Ernest Pascal. // When Sir Charles Baskerville is killed outside of Baskerville Hall, Dr. Mortimer fears that the curse of the Baskervilles has struck again. He enlists the help of Sherlock Homes, before another Baskerville can succumb to the evil legend.

651. The Hound of the Baskervilles. Chatsworth, Calif.: Distributed by Image Entertainment, 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (96 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Based on the novel by Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Ian Richardson. directed by Douglas Hickox. // Sherlock Holmes travels to the wild, fog-bound moors of the English countryside where the legend of a centuries-old curse has been blamed for the horrific death of the heir to the House of Baskerville.
652. The Hound of the Baskervilles. [U.K.]: Visual Corporation Ltd., 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 96 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD ; 4? ; PAL. Based on the novel by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally produced for television in 1983. Participants: Ian Richardson, Martin Shaw, Glynis Barber, Denholm Elliot, Connie Booth. [written by Charles Edward Pogue ; produced by Otto Plaschkes ; directed by Douglas Hickox]. // Sherlock Holmes comes to the aid of his friend Henry Baskerville, who is under a family curse and menaced by a demonic dog that prowls the bogs near his estate and murders people.
653. The hound of the Baskervilles. [S.I.]: Hallmark Home Entertainment ; Santa Monica, Calif. : Distributed by Artisan Home Entertainment, 2001. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 90 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS, stereo. Based on the novel by Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Matt Frewer, Emma Campbell, Robin Wilcock, Leni Parker, Arthur Holden, Gordon Masten, John Dunn-Hill, Jason London, Kenneth Welsh. Audience: Not rated. A Muse Entertainment Production ; producer, Irene Litinsky ; written by Joe Wiesenfeld ; directed by Rodney Gibbons. Music composer, Marc Quellerre ; editor, Vidal Béique. // Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson investigate the reappearance of a seemingly supernatural hound, bent on destroying the House of the Baskervilles in accordance with an ancient curse.
654. The Hound of the Baskervilles. Richmond Hill, Ont.: BFS Video, 2001. Visual Material 1 videocassette (VHS) (101 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS. Videocassette release of the 1983 television production. Based on the novel by Arthur Conan Doyle. "30254-V." Participants: Ian Richardson, Donald Churchill, Denholm Elliott, Glynis Barber, Brian Blessed, Eleanor Bron, Edward Judd, Ronald Lacy, Martin Shaw, Connie Booth, Eric Richard, Michael Burrell, Cindy O'Callaghan, Peter Rutherford, Francesca Gonshaw, David Langton, Nicholas Clay. Audience: Not rated. Investors in Industry. Producers, Otto Plaschkes, Eric Rattray, Alan Rosefelde, Sy Weintraub ; original music, Michael J. Lewis ; cinematography, Ronnie Taylor ; editor, Malcolm Cooke ; casting, Sue Whatmough ; director, Douglas Hickox ; screenplay, Charles Edward Pogue ; writer, Arthur Conan Doyle. // The lord of the baskervilles is dead, seemingly killed by the slaver jaws of a supernatural monster of the moors.
655. The Hound of the Baskervilles. [London]: BBC Video ; Burbank, CA : Distributed by Warner Home Video, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 100 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, 5.1 Surround Sound. Based on the novel by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. "A terrify new adaptation. A daring new version of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's masterpiece of mystery, suspense and terror ..."--Container. Includes "Making of" documentary, interviews with the cast and crew. Participants: Richard Roxburgh, Ian Hart, John Nettles, Geraldine James, Matt Day, Neve McIntosh, Liza Tarbuck and Richard E. Grant. Screenplay: Allan Cubitt ; Stills photography: John Rogers ; composer: Rob Lane ; producer: Christopher Hall ; director: David Attwood. // Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson investigate the reappearance of a seemingly supernatural hound, bent on destroying the House of the Baskervilles in accordance with an ancient curse.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

656. The hound of the Baskervilles. Santa Monica, CA: MGM Home Entertainment Inc., 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (86 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, widescreen presentation; stereo. Originally released as a motion picture in 1959. Based on the novel by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. For specific features see interactive menu. "1003429"--Container. Participants: Peter Cushing, Andre Morell, Christopher Lee. Metro Goldwyn Mayer ; United Artists ; Hammer Film Productions ; screenplay by Peter Bryan ; produced by Anthony Hinds ; directed by Terence Fisher. Director of photography, Jack Asher ; editor, Alfred Cox ; music, James Bernard. // Returning to his family's manor house on the lonely moors after his father dies under mysterious circumstances, Sir Henry Baskerville is confronted with the mystery of the supernatural hound that supposedly takes revenge upon the Baskerville family. The famous detective Sherlock Holmes and his assistant Dr. Watson are brought in to investigate.
657. The Hound of the Baskervilles. [London]: BBC Video ; Burbank, CA : Distributed by Warner Home Video, 2002. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 100 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS. Based on the novel by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. "A terrify new adaptation. A daring new version of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's masterpiece of mystery, suspense and terror ..."--Container. Closed-captioned for the hearing impaired. Participants: Richard Roxburgh, Ian Hart, John Nettles, Geraldine James, Matt Day, Neve McIntosh, Liza Tarbuck and Richard E. Grant. Screenplay: Allan Cubitt ; Stills photography: John Rogers ; composer: Rob Lane ; producer: Christopher Hall ; director: David Attwood. // Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson investigate the reappearance of a seemingly supernatural hound, bent on destroying the House of the Baskervilles in accordance with an ancient curse.
658. The Hound of the Baskervilles. [London]: CDA Entertainment, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (73 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD PAL.; Produced for region 2 (Eurasia). Originally released as a motion picture in 1978. Based on the novel by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Cast: Peter Cook, Dudley Moore, Spike Milligan, Keeneth Williams. produced by John Goldstone ; directed by Paul Morrissey ; screenplay by Peter Cook, Dudley Moore & Paul Morrissey. // Watson, on his first solo case, investigates the strange goings-on at Baskerville Hall. Frustrated at every step, he has to call for the great detective, Sherlock Holmes to help him out.
659. The Hound of the Baskervilles. [London]: BBC Video : ABC Video [distributor], 2002. Visual Material 1 videocassette (VHS) (ca. 100 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. Based on the novel by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. "A terrify new adaptation. A daring new version of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's masterpiece of mystery, suspense and terror ..."--container. Participants: Richard Roxburgh, Ian Hart, John Nettles, Geraldine James, Matt Day, Neve McIntosh, Liza Tarbuck and Richard E. Grant. Screenplay: Allan Cubitt ; Stills photography: John Rogers ; composer: Rob Lane ; producer: Christopher Hall ; director: David Attwood. // Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson investigate the reappearance of a seemingly supernatural hound, bent on destroying the House of the Baskervilles in accordance with an ancient curse.
660. The Hound of the Baskervilles. London: BBC Worldwide, 2003. Visual Material 1 videocassette (VHS) (91 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. B00697. Participants: Richard Roxburgh, Ian Hart, John Nettles, Geraldine James, Richard E. Grant, Matt Day. Produced by Christopher Hall ; directed by David Attwood. // Sherlock Holmes solves the mystery of a supernatural hound threatening the life of a Dartmoor baronet.
661. The hound of the Baskervilles. Amsterdam: Memphis Belle, 2003. Visual Material 1 dvd-video (ca. 99 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Videoversie van de gelijknamige televisiefilm. - Groot-Brittannië : BBC, cop. 2003. - Engels gesproken, Nederlands ondertiteld. - Naar het gelijknamige boek van Arthur Conan Doyle. starring Richard Roxburgh ... [et al.] ; dir. David Attwood ; prod. by Christopher Hall. // Meesterspeurder Sherlock Holmes en zijn assistent trachten een misdaad met occulte achtergronden op te helderen.
662. The hound of the Baskervilles. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material; Computer File.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Mode of access: World Wide Web.; System requirements: Recorded Books' MyLibraryDV player. Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke, Kristoffer Tabori, Ronald Pickup, James Faulkner, Rosemary McHale, Neil Duncan, Ronald Adamson. Originally produced as a television program in 1984. Dramatized from the story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Downloadable video file. Digital content provided by Recorded Books; access may be restricted to users at subscribing institutions. Return of Sherlock Holmes (Television program). producer, June Wyndham Davies ; director, Brian Mills ; made by Granada Television of England in association with WGBH Boston. Cameraman, Michael B. Popley ; editor, Alan Ringland ; music, Patrick Gowers. // When Sir Charles Baskerville arrives at his family's estate from America, he finds a death threat awaiting him and a curse hanging over the family. He calls in Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson to solve the mystery.

663. The hound of the Baskervilles. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 DVD (ca. 120 min.). NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. Sherlock Holmes; The Sherlock Holmes feature film collection ; disc 1; Based on the novel by Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally produced as an episode of the television program Sherlock Homes in 1988. Includes Paget's drawings. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke, Kristoffer Tabori, Ronald Pickup, James Faulkner, Rosemary McHale, Neil Duncan. Granada Television presents ; by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle ; developed for television by John Hawkesworth ; dramatised by Trevor Bowen ; producer, June Wyndham Davies ; director, Brian Mills ; in association with WGBH Boston. Camera operator, Andy Stephen ; editor, Alan Ringland ; music by Patrick Gowers. // Sherlock Holmes investigates the death of Charles Baskerville and rumors of a hound that haunts the moors around the family's ancestral home.

664. The Hound of the Baskervilles. Part 1. Medford, OR: Sinister Cinema, 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc. NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 3 3/4 in. DVD; Dolby digital. Based on the novel by Arthur Conan Doyle. Videodisc release of Season 2, Episode 4 of the Sherlock Holmes television show. Participants: Peter Cushing, Phillip Bond, Gary Raymond, Gabriella Licudi, Gerald Flood, Nigel Stock. [presented by] BBC TV, Hammer Firm Production ; produced by William Sterling ; directed by Hugh Leonard. Cinematography, John Baker ; music, Max Harris ; script editors, John Barber, Anthony Read, Donald Tosh. // Returning to his family's manor house on the lonely moors after his father dies under mysterious circumstances, Sir Henry Baskerville is confronted with the mystery of the supernatural hound that supposedly takes revenge upon the Baskerville family. The famous detective Sherlock Holmes and his assistant Dr. Watson are brought in to investigate

665. The Hound of the Baskervilles: a play in two acts. [Clearwater, FL]: [Clearwater Christian College], 2003. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 120 min.). NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sb., col. ; 1/2 in. Title supplied by cataloger from printed program. Participants: Stephanie Auger, Mallory Alexander, Dustin Black, Michael Morgan, Betsy Buchanan, Philip Bowen, Mike Rambo, Jessica Stephens, Tim Bjorgan, Matthew Auger, Shannon Hitchcock. from the classic thriller of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle ; adapted and dramatized by Tim Kelly. Robert S. Cundiff, director ; Paul Radford, Production designer ; Melissa Frame, Costumes; Karin Lovik, Lighting; Phil Dennis, Makeup. // Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson travel to the wild fog-bound moors of the English countryside to investigate the reappearance of a seemingly supernatural hound and the death of the heir of the House of Baskerville.

666. The Hound of the Baskervilles; The Canterville ghost. [Richmond South, Vic.]: Visual Entertainment [distributor], 2010. Visual Material 2 videodiscs (DVD) (ca. 182 min.). NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. PAL ; All Regions. "VEGD703". The Canterville Ghost is based on the novel by Oscar Wilde. Participants: The Hound of the Baskervilles: Tracey Murphy, Jason London, Kenneth Welsh, Max Headroom. The Canterville Ghost: Patrick Stewart, Neve Campbell, Joan Sims. Audience: Censorship classification: PG. // The Hound of the Baskervilles: "This is an inspired interpretation of the 1902 Sir Arthur Conan Doyle masterpiece featuring the enigmatic sleuth faithful to the original, and original in its own right. There's plenty of intrigue, droll wordplay airtight plot twists and nail-biting suspense. This is the story of a deadly family curse, a supernatural beast and the very human evil that's behind it all"--Container. The Canterville Ghost: "When Professor Hiram Otis gets a research grant to study in England, his family is thrilled to learn that they will live in a real castle called Canterville Hall. The castle's most notable feature turns out to be the ghost of Sir Simon de Canterville who died 400 years ago, visible only to Virginia Otis, 16, and her two younger brothers"--Container.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

667. House of fear. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (69 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. Sherlock Holmes collection ; v. 2; DVD. Videodisc release of the 1943 motion picture. Based on "The Adventure of the Five Orange Pips" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Special features: Introduction by Robert Gitt, Preservation Officer at the UCLA Film and Television Archive; audio commentary with David Stuart Davies; production notes by Richard Valley; photo gallery/original movie posters. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Aubrey Mather, Dennis Hoey, Paul Cavanagh, Holmes Herbert, Harry Cording, Sally Shepherd. Universal presents; produced by Roy William Neill ; screenplay by Roy Chanslor ; directed by Roy William Neill. // Sherlock Holmes is called in to solve the mystery of why the members of "The Good Comrades" club are being hideously mutilated and murdered.
668. The House of fear. [Tulsa, OK]: Liberty Home Video, 1996. Visual Material 1 videocassette (69 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Sherlock Holmes Mystery collection; VHS format. "#4603." Videocassette release of the 1945 motion picture. Based on: The Adventure of the five orange pips by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Paul Cavanaugh, Dennis Hoey. Universal Pictures Company Inc. ; [presented by] VCI Home Video. Produced and directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Roy Chanslor; director of photography, Virgil Miller ; film editor, Saul A. Goodkind. // Sherlock Holmes is called in to solve the mystery of why the members of "The Good Comrades" club are being hideously mutilated and murdered.
669. The House of fear. [S.I.]: VCI Home Video, 1999. Visual Material 1 videocassette (69 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Sherlock Holmes Mystery collection; VHS format. "#4603." Videocassette release of the 1945 motion picture. Based on: The Adventure of the five orange pips by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Paul Cavanaugh, Dennis Hoey. Universal Pictures Company Inc. ; [presented by] VCI Home Video. Produced and directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Roy Chanslor ; director of photography, Virgil Miller ; film editor, Saul A. Goodkind. // Sherlock Holmes is called in to solve the mystery of why the members of "The Good Comrades" club are being hideously mutilated and murdered.
670. The House of Fear. [UK]: Orbit Media, 2000. Visual Material 1 DVD video (PAL region 2) (69 mins.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w. Originally released as a motion picture in 1945. Directed and produced by Roy William Neill. Based on the story "The adventures of the five orange pips" by Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. //
671. The house of fear. [S.I.]: s.n., 2002. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 69 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS. Based on: The Adventure of the five orange pips by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Videocassette release of the 1945 motion picture. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Paul Cavanaugh, Dennis Hoey. Universal Pictures. Produced and directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Roy Chanslor ; director of photography, Virgil Miller ; film editor, Saul A. Goodkind. // Sherlock Holmes is called in to solve the mystery of why the members of "The Good Comrades" club are being hideously mutilated and murdered.
672. The House of fear. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videocassette (69 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Sherlock Holmes collection ; v. 2; VHS, full screen presentation; hi-fi stereo. Originally released as a motion picture in 1945. Based on: The Adventure of the five orange pips by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. "Digitally restored in 35mm." "Preserved by UCLA Film and Television Archive." Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Aubrey Mather, Dennis Hoey, Paul Cavanagh, Holmes Herbert, Harry Cording, Sally Shepherd. Universal Pictures ; produced by Roy William Neill ; screenplay by Roy Chanslor ; directed by Roy William Neill. Director of photography, Virgil Miller ; editor, Saul A. Goodkind. // Sherlock Holmes is called in to solve the mystery of why the members of "The Good Comrades" club are being hideously mutilated and murdered.
673. "How not to save the pound." Economist 359, no. 8223 (2001): 56-56.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses the issue of adopting the euro currency in England, in regard to election campaigns. Begins with a passing Holmes reference. "As you can imagine, many absorbing press releases about this and that have landed on Bagehot's desk since the start of the present election campaign. But only one has been significant in the way that Sherlock Holmes found the failure of the dog to bark in the night significant. This was the one whose sender promised to say nothing until the campaign was over."

674. "I hear of Sherlock everywhere since you became is chronicler'." Canadian Holmes 28, no. 2 (2004): 14.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

675. "I So Don't Do Mysteries." Publishers Weekly 255, no. 42 (2008): 50-51.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "I So Don't Do Mysteries," by Barrie Summy. Includes a reference to Holmes. "About to be shipped off to San Diego while her widower dad goes on his honeymoon, seventh-grader Sherry (short for Sherlock) Holmes Baldwin prepares to put up a fight when she is contacted by her mother's ghost. Killed in the line of duty, her cop mother is flunking out of an afterlife law-enforcement academy, and she needs Sherry's help to crack a case at the San Diego Wild Animal Park...."

676. "I so Don't do Mysteries." Kirkus Reviews 76, no. 22 (2008): 1208-1208.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "I So Don't Do Mysteries," by Barrie Summy. Delacorte (272 pp.) $15.99 PLB $18.99. Dec. 9, 2008. ISBN: 978-0-385-73602-2 PLB: 978-0-385-90583-1. "In life, Sherry and her work-obsessed cop mother weren't much of a team, but when Sherry's deceased mom returns as a spirit several months after her death, Sherry can't deny her request to join forces in her quest to move on in the spirit world. It seems she's in danger of flunking out of the Academy of Spirits, a ghostly institution that trains the departed to watch over the living. Despite being named after Sherlock Holmes, Sherry feels more comfortable hanging out at the mall and generally shies away from mysteries and challenges, but as she gets drawn into her mother's task, Sherry finds that she can persevere under pressure, be incredibly resourceful and even shine in the limelight...."

677. Il mastino di Baskerville. Milano: Medusa, 2002. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 90 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Based on the novel written by Arthur Conan Doyle. //

678. "Il pasticciaccio di gadda e l'imbroglio di germi: letteratura e cinema noir a confronto. (Italian)." Symposium 59, no. 2 (2005): 84-99.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // In Italian. Reference to "sherlockholmismo," and "conandoyliano."

679. "The Illustrious Film Festival." The Illustrious Clients News 32, no. 6 (2009): 3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

680. "In Brief." Women's Studies 36, no. 4 (2007): 303-307.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "The Triumph of the Thriller: How Cops, Crooks, and Cannibals Captured Popular Fiction," by Patrick Anderson, among others and includes a passing reference to Doyle. "Anderson begins The Triumph of the Thriller with a brief history of crime fiction. He touches on the writings on Edgar Allen Poe, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, and Agatha Christie...."

681. "In Brief: New Fellow." Chemical & Engineering News 80, no. 44 (2002): 7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports on the grant of an honorary fellowship award upon the fictitious [sic] character in mystery films and stories, Sherlock Holmes. Use of chemical science for solving detective mysteries; Details about the award.

682. "In His Own Words: G.K.'s silly and serious sides." Christian History 21, no. 3 (2002): 16.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents an excerpt from the book 'The Autobiography of G.K. Chesterton.' Includes the following: "I used to say that my autobiography ought to consist of a series of short stories like those about Sherlock Holmes; only that his were astonishing examples of observation, and mine astonishing examples of lack of observation. In short, they were to be 'Adventures' concerned with my absence of mind, instead of his presence of mind."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

683. "In Memorial Anthony Howlett." Baker Street West 19, no. 2 (2003): 28-30.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
684. "In Memoriam Brant Lopez and Ronald Weyman." Canadian Holmes 30, no. 4 (2007): 41-42.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
685. "In Memoriam Dr. Tom Draisey." Canadian Holmes 30, no. 1 (2006): 44.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
686. "In Memoriam Marian Grudeff." Canadian Holmes 30, no. 2 (2006): 49.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
687. "In Memoriam Mary McMahon." Canadian Holmes 30, no. 3 (2007): 56-57.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
688. "In Memoriam William E. (Bill) Ricker." Canadian Holmes 25, no. 2 (2001): 38.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
689. "In Memory of Richard Moore." Canadian Holmes 17, no. 3 (1994): 46.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
690. "In Search of Bounty." Geographical 77, no. 11 (2005): 36-37.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article focuses on rainforests and rainforest products as of 2005. From the earliest times, the jungle's bounty came in plant form. Some of the earliest voyages of the conquistadors to the Americas had, as a subsidiary aim to the discovery of El Dorado, the penetration of the cinnamon forests. The people of the Amazon were equally assiduous plant collectors. A favourite was the coca plant. It is, of course, the source of cocaine, and today it is probably South America's most profitable crop. The article notes that "Back in Europe, coca only became popular during the 1860s, after German chemist Albert Niemann isolated the alkaloid cocaine and a Corsican entrepreneur called Angelo Mariani added it to wine to make Vin Mariani. The wine was celebrated by everyone from Buffalo Bill to Emile Zola, Queen Victoria to the cardinals of the Vatican and Jules Verne to Arthur Conan Doyle."
691. "In Short." New York Times, Mar 4, 1984: A.22.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Uncollected Stories: The Unknown Conan Doyle. Compiled and introduced by John Michael Gibson and Richard Lancelyn Green. (Doubleday, $14.95.) This attractive collection of magazine stories demonstrates once again that Sherlock Holmes was by no means the only thing Arthur Conan Doyle was up to during his half-century career. Although tales like 'Uncle Jeremy's Household' and 'The Cabman's Story' have enticing hints of Holmesian ratiocination, most of these 33 excursions into melodrama, horror, history and satire travel far beyond the circumscribed world of drawing room mystery....the book contains enough forgotten stories to make it valuable...."
692. In the footsteps of Sherlock Holmes. Derry, NH: Chip Taylor Communications, 1998. Visual Material 1 videodisc (45 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w & col. ; 4 3/4 in. European studies series (Chip Taylor Communications); England ; 3; DVD. produced by Associated Television International. // Actor Patrick Macnee guides us to all the places Holmes was written to have visited throughout London and unravels some intriguing mysteries about the fictional detective's life and times.
693. In the Footsteps of Sherlock Holmes. Derry, NH: Chip Taylor Communications, 2000. Visual Material 1 videocassette (45 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Celebrity journal series; VHS. Narrated by Patrick Macnee. produced by Associated Television International. // Actor Patrick Macnee guides us to all the places Holmes

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

was written to have visited throughout London and unravels some intriguing mysteries about the fictional detective's life and times.

694. In the footsteps of Sherlock Holmes. [s.l.]: Front Row Entertainment, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (45 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD; Dolby surround stereo. Narrated by Patrick Macnee.
Associated Television International. Director, David McKenzie; producer/writer, Monica M. Cushman. // Actor Patrick Macnee guides us to all the places Holmes was written to have visited throughout London and unravels some intriguing mysteries about the fictional detective's life and times.
695. "Inane Discussions Twenty Years Ago, The Bootmaker's Second Year." Canadian Holmes 17, no. 2 (1993): 30-31.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
696. "The Inaugural Shoso-in Bulletin Award 2002 to David Stuart Davies for Starring Sherlock Holmes." Shoso-In Bulletin 13, no. (2003): 6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
697. "Individual Authors." Journal of Modern Literature 22, no. 3 (1999): 489-544.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes reference to Doyle and Holmes. Otis, Laura. "The Empire Bites Back: Sherlock Holmes as an Imperial Immune System." Studies in Twentieth Century Literature XXII:1 (Winter 1998), 31-60.
698. "Influences Roger Angell." New York 39, no. 19 (2006): 71-71.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article presents an interview with Roger Angell, author of "Let Me Finish." His favorite authors when he was young were Conan Doyle, Will James, Joseph A. Altsheler, and Raymond L. Ditmars. He thinks that there is no single young writer who has influenced people in recent years; someone will come along and suddenly everyone will shift over and begin writing like that.
699. "Integrated activities for a who-dun-it unit." Teaching PreK-8 26, no. 8 (1996): 66.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports on the teaching unit created by the students of Stamford, Connecticut's Rogers Elementary Magnet School. Suggestion of possible themes; election of 33 do-able activities; Activities for fingerprinting and playing detectives. Passing Holmes reference. "Make detective hats from felt or paper. Use Sherlock Holmes' cap as a model."
700. "Internal Medicine, Psychiatry." SciTech Book News 29, no. 3 (2005): 79-100.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Lists books on internal medicine and psychiatry. Two references are made in the reviews to Holmes and Doyle, first in Michael Fitzgerald's The Genesis of Artistic Creativity: Asperger's Syndrome and the Arts, and secondly, in the Visual Ergonomics Handbook, edited by Jeffrey Anshel.
701. "Into the falls." Economist 319, no. 7706 (1991): 88-88.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports on the re-enactment by the London Sherlock Holmes Society of the tragic struggle between the literary detective Holmes and his arch-rival, Professor Moriarty, at Reichenbach Falls on May 4, 1991, exactly 100 years after the event. Description of the centenary pilgrimage; Familiarity with the canon of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's work; Details.
702. "Isolated scores or music & effects tracks on laserdisc." Films in Review 47, no. 3/4 (1996): 22.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Lists scores or music and effects tracks on films on laserdisc. Includes entry for The Private Life of Sherlock Holmes, Miklos Rozsa.
703. "It was in a city in Russia..." (Golden Pince-Nez)." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 1, no. 3 (1997): 1-2, 4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses John Bennett Shaw's acquisition of the Czarina's Tauschnitz editions of The Hound of the Baskervilles, A Study in Scarlet, and The Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes. Includes photographs of the Tauschnitz editions and the Czarina.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

704. "The Italian Secretary: A Further Adventure of Sherlock Holmes." Publishers Weekly 252, no. 14 (2005): 44.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book "The Italian Secretary: A Further Adventure of Sherlock Holmes," by Caleb Carr, with an afterword by Jon Lellenberg.
705. It's a mystery, Charlie Brown. Hollywood, CA: Paramount, 1997. Visual Material 1 videocassette (25 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS. Videocassette release of the television special by United Feature Syndicate, Inc. United Feature Syndicate, Inc. Written by Charles M. Schulz ; director, Bill Melendez ; producer, Lee Mendelson. // The crime: Woodstock's nest is gone, vanished, missing, stolen! The suspects: Charlie Brown, Linus, Lucy, Pig Pen and more. Whoever took the nest will be found by that talented crime dog who wears a Sherlock Holmes-like cap and cape: Snoopy!
706. "It's not nice to fool Father Time." Electronic Media 20, no. 46 (2001): 6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Editorial. Comments on the fraud regarding the television coverage of KDKA TV station of a live Pittsburgh Steelers game broadcast in the United States, with a passing Holmes reference. "A local newspaper columnist happened to be listening to the game on the radio while watching the 'live' TV picture on KDKA and noticed that the video was running behind the audio. It didn't take Sherlock Holmes to deduce that something was amiss."
707. "It's official: fish and chips are a national treasure." Birmingham Post, August 1, 2006: 4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Fish and chips, the Oxford English Dictionary, the pint and The Archers have joined off-beat comedians Monty Python and the mythical Robin Hood as 'icons' of England. The newest set of national treasures, which also include Sherlock Holmes and the bowler hat, were drawn up by experts and voted for by the public as part of the Icons - A Portrait of England collection...."
708. "It's the way he tells them!; Mail reporter Tony Collins hits the streets with Britain's funniest joke." Birmingham Evening Mail, December 20, 2001: 23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "I say, I Say, I Say...have you heard the one about Britain's funniest joke? Scientists investigating the psychology of laughter today revealed the comic tale most likely to tickle the ribs of the nation's population. A total of 100,000 people were invited both to submit and rate jokes as part of a huge experiment called 'Laughlab'. From a collection of 10,000, one joke emerged the winner, with a top rating from 47 per cent of those taking part. The joke, submitted by Geoff Anandappa, from Blackpool, goes like this: Sherlock Holmes and Dr Watson go camping, and pitch their tent under the stars. During the night, Holmes wakes his companion and says: 'Watson, look up at the stars, and tell me what you deduce....'" 709. "January on Stage." American Theatre 22, no. 1 (2005): 126-143.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents the schedule of events for member theatres of the Theatre Communications Group in the U.S. for January 2005. Production of The West End Horror: The New Sherlock Holmes Mystery! by the Asolo Theatre Company, Sarasota, Florida.
710. "Japanese Build on Holmes Legend." The Guardian (London), July 5, 1996: 9.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "A Japanese museum has launched a bizarre search for bricks from buildings featured in the adventures of Sherlock Holmes. The World Brick Museum, based in Maizaru, Japan, has targeted New Scotland Yard, Covent Garden, the Royal Albert Hall and St Pancras Station for an exhibition of British building bricks - particularly those from buildings which feature in the novels and short stories of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. The legend of Sherlock Holmes was born when Sir Arthur lived in Portsmouth, where there is concern at the methods that may be used by Japanese tourists to obtain the bricks."
711. "Jazz up your class with a yearlong theme: an interview with Ann Litzler Coyne." Curriculum Review 41, no. 5 (2002): 14-15.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // In an interview, Ann Litzler Coyne, a teacher and the author of Creating A Year Long Theme: A Teacher's Journey, discusses the use of a yearlong theme in the classroom. Includes a reference to Holmes. "...The next year, when I moved from Illinois to Ohio and taught in a single-age classroom, I had a mystery theme, and that was neat. I had big magnifying glasses and Sherlock Holmes--it was the mystery of learning. So every topic we covered, there was some sort of mystery behind it. For instance, we had to study the skeletal system. So for the mystery, I came in with a mysterious bone and we explored that...."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

712. "JCE at NSTA 2004." Journal of chemical education 81, no. 6 (2004): 790.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // JCE staff researchers Diana Mason, Erica Jacobsen, Kevin Cunningham, Faith Yarberry and Christina Forsbach were on hand on April 1, 2004 to April 4, 2004 at the NSTA 2004 National Convention in Atlanta to speak to attendees about benefits of becoming a journal subscriber. Researchers spoke to several hundred educators as they stopped by the JCE booth on their trek through the multiple football field sized exhibit hall. NSTA was one of the first chances to see and purchase JCE's most recent reprint "The Chemical Adventures of Sherlock Holmes." Many teachers were happy to see a collection of chemistry and forensics based stories to share with students.
713. "JCE Online Store Grand Opening." Journal of chemical education 82, no. 1 (2005): 176-176.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reports on the opening of Journal of Chemical Education (JCE) Online Store, for buying JCE products online. At the convenience of a desktop one can purchase subscription renewals and software. Products currently available from the JCE Online Store are journal subscriptions, JCE Software CD-ROMs, videotapes, and videodiscs, and the JCE Books Chemical Adventures of Sherlock Holmes and TA Handbook. The JCE Online Store uses open source e-commerce software and VeriSign security technology so one can be assured that online transactions are safe and secure. Future plans for the JCE Online Store include the ability to purchase and immediately download selected JCE Software titles.
714. "Jekyll and Hyde: A Literary Forerunner to Freud's Discovery of the Unconscious." Modern Psychoanalysis 30, no. 1 (2005): 92-106.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reference to Doyle. From the article: "Various English writers--the Brontes, Charles Dickens, Thomas DeQuincey, Arthur Conan Doyle, as well as Stevenson--were working through to a literary and cultural understanding of intrapsychic processes that Freud would extrapolate from, develop, refine, and eventually define as the unconscious."
715. "Jeremy Brett." U.S. News & World Report 119, no. 12 (1995): 30.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Comments on the death of Jeremy Brett, an actor who played Sherlock Holmes and other characters. His death of heart failure at the age of 59.
716. "Jeremy Brett and The Final Four." The Washington Post, December 31, 1995: Y03.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "'Mystery!' begins the last of four Sherlock Holmes stories starring Jeremy Brett, who for many viewers was the definitive detective for a decade. Edward Hardwicke is Dr. Watson, his friend and confidante...."
717. The Jezail bulletin: a publication of the Maiwand Jezails, a scion society of the Baker Street Irregulars. Lincoln, NE: Maiwand Jezail Press, 1997-.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
718. "Jottings by Saquarrah." Medical teacher 28, no. 8 (2006): 753-754.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article provides information on several publications related to medical education. It includes "Getting Education Right: First Step in Quality Assurance for Tutors and Students," a handbook which developed for higher education tutors in the countries, by Imelda Bates, Helen Nabwera and Sue Purnell, "Evidence-Based Medicine in Sherlock Holmes' Footsteps," an introduction to EBM for medical students and other healthcare professionals, by Jorgen Nordenstorm, and "Medical Hypothesis," an editorial edition by Bruce Charlton.
719. "The journal of Lynton Charles MP." New Statesman 127, no. 4375 (1998): 13.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Opinion. Presents the author's views on the politics in Great Britain. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "So here I am, dressed in a borrowed Barbour, a deerstalker and large, sensible shoes, looking like a cross between William Hague and Sherlock Holmes...."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

720. "Jude Law to be new Sherlock." The Evening Standard (London), February 25, 2002: 6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "He will appear as the detective in 'Sherlock Holmes and the Vengeance of Dracula.' A movie source said today: 'With his great looks and accent, Jude will be perfect for the role of Holmes. This will be the darkest Sherlock Holmes project ever made.' In 1990, before he became famous, the 29-year-old actor had a bit part in the TV series The Casebook Of Sherlock Holmes, with Jeremy Brett as Holmes."
721. "Justice Blackmun and the Little People." Human Life Review 30, no. 3 (2004): 86-127.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Profiles the late Harry A. Blackmun, a Supreme Court justice of the U.S. Description of his personality and character; Discussion of his family and career background; Views of people regarding him and his work. Passing reference to Holmes. "While often unavailable to family because of his workaholic ways, Blackmun was a good father when he was paying attention to that role. His daughter Nancy recalled that when she was in the eighth grade, 'a difficult year for most new teenagers, he smoothed my path by reading me Sherlock Holmes and helping me prepare for, of all things, home economics quizzes. We got an A, of course."
722. "King William's College Quiz Pupils of King William's College, Isle of Man, had just one hour to complete the general knowledge paper, and will resit it next term to improve their marks. Answers in January." The Guardian (Manchester), December 24, 1994: Guardian Weekend Page.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Holmes mentioned as part of quiz.
723. Klejnot Mazarina. [Great Britain] : Granada International ; [Warsaw] : GM Records, 1994. Visual Material 1 videodisc (55 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. Wielcy detektywi.; Sherlock Holmes ;; [disc] 26; Pamiętniki Sherlocka Holmesa; DVD, Region 2, PAL, Dolby digital. Adaptation of short story from The Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes by Arthur Conan Doyle. Videodisc release of episodes and excerpts from the television program. Disc menu in Polish. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke, Charles Gray. Granada Television in association with WGBH/Boston. Screenplay, Gary Hopkins ; director of photography, Doug Hallows ; executive producer, Sally Head ; music, Patric Gowers //
724. Kong bu gu : Sherlock Holmes and the valley of fear. Shenzhen: Shenzhen yin xiang, 1994. Visual Material 1 videocassette (VHS) (ca. 50 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Fuermosi zhen tan xi lie; Translation of: The Valley of Fear. Producer: Tom Stacey. Animation. //
725. "Korean Holmes: The Failures of Sherlock Holmes (and of Canadian Holmes readers?)." Canadian Holmes 17, no. 3 (1994): 4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a challenge to readers to identify certain Holmes stories contained in a Korean edition.
726. "L'Affaire du chien des Baskerville." World Literature Today 82, no. 3 (2008): 73-74.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A review by Warren Motte, University of Colorado, of Pierre Bayard. L'Affaire du chien des Baskerville. Paris. Minuit. 2008. 166 pages. 14.50. isbn 978-2-7073-2021-6. "Having already succored the falsely accused in Shakespeare's Hamlet and Christie's The Murder of Roger Ackroyd, Pierre Bayard now addresses himself to a miscarriage of justice in Conan Doyle. It is the third volume of his 'detective criticism' cycle -- a series of works that seeks to rock the foundations of the genre -- in which Bayard places some of the most renowned and cherished hermeneuts in our fictional culture dramatically on trial...."
727. "Language Arts." School Library Journal 45, no. 8 (1999): 91.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a directory of audio-visual materials about language arts. Includes Sherlock Holmes: A Study in Scarlet. 2 cassettes. Prod. by BDD Audio. Dist. by Random House. ISBN 0-553-52553-0. $18. "Gr 7-12-In the first of the Sherlock Holmes stories, Dr. Watson, discharged from military service after suffering wounds, is at loose ends until a chance encounter leads him to take rooms with Sherlock

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Holmes. When Watson is drawn into the investigation of a bizarre murder in which Holmes is involved, he is unaware that it is the beginning of the most famous partnership in the history of criminal detection." Sherlock Holmes: The Sign of the Four. 2 cassettes. Prod. by BDD Audio. Dist. by Random House. ISBN 0-553-52640-5. $18. "Gr 7 Up-Holmes and Watson accompany a woman on a quest which leads them through the dark heart of London to a one-legged man, a mysterious and terrifying creature, and an incredible tale of greed and revenge." Sherlock Holmes: The Valley of Fear. 2 cassettes. Prod. by BDD Audio. Dist. by Random House. ISBN 0-553-52622-7. $18. "Gr 7 Up-A coded warning of imminent danger sends Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson to the country house of the reclusive Jack Douglas. When they arrive too late to prevent a tragic death, they must follow bewildering clues and find a murderer." The Sharp Wits in the Extraordinary Case of the Essay Test. video. 12 min. with tchr's, guide. Media Inc. ISBN 1-89305807-7. price unavail. "Gr 3-5-An alien has abducted Sherlock. Only the rest of the Sharp Wits can rescue him. It will take steely nerves, quick minds and the answer to an essay question. Join them as they uncover the keys to answering an essay question and save their friend."

728. "Language arts: literature and drama." School Library Journal 46, no. 8 (2000): 99.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Lists The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes, Vol. III. 3 cassettes or 3 CDs. 3:30 hrs. Prod. by Naxos AudioBooks. Dist. by Naxos of America. cassette, ISBN 9-62634-6914: $17.98; CD, ISBN 9-62634-191-2: $19.98; Historical Recording: Writers & Actors. 2 cassettes or 2 CDs. 2:30 hrs. Prod. by Naxos AudioBooks. Dist. by Naxos of America. cassette, ISBN 9-62634-700-7: $13.98; CD, ISBN 9-62634-200-5: $15.98. Includes some of the greatest historical recording of the works of writers such as Tennyson, Joyce, Shaw, Doyle, Wallace and Tolstoy, as well as actors, Bernhardt, Gielgud, and Olivier; The Hound of the Baskervilles. 2 cassettes. 3 hrs. Prod. by HarperCollins UK Audiobooks. Dist. by Trafalgar Square. ISBN 0-00-104674-8. $14.95. Tony Britton reads the abridged version of Doyle's classic.

729. "Language, Literature." Reference & Research Book News 22, no. 3 (2007): 236-251.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews several books including one with a passing reference to Holmes. Much Ado About Nonexistence; fiction and reference. Martinich, A.P. and Avrum Stroll. Rowman & Littlefield, ©2007 147 p. $29.95 (pa) "Martinich (philosophy, U. of Texas, Austin) and Stroll (philosophy, U. of California at San Diego) present existing and novel theories of fiction, discussing how that genre is distinct from history, pretending, and makebelieve, and how philosophers embrace or reject the axiom of existence when discussing 'non-existent' entities such as the characters Hamlet and Sherlock Holmes. The authors' theory of fiction is based on the speech act theory of H.G. Grice, and the volume also includes critical discussions of two versions of the theory of definite descriptions: those of Frege and Russell."

730. Large print classics library. Manhattan Beach, CA: Virginia M. Woolf Foundation, 2000. Visual Material 1 video disc.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. 89 books in 28 and 48 point type print. // The 9/11 commission report -- Adventures of Sherlock Holmes / Sir Arthur Conan Doyle -- Alice in Wonderland / Lewis Carroll -- Andersen's Fairy Tales / Hans Christian Andersen -- Androcles and the lion / George Bernard Shaw -- Animal Farm / George Orwell -- Anthem / Ayn Rand -- Autobiography of Benjamin Franklin -- Babbitt / Sinclair Lewis -- The Beautiful and the damned / F. Scott Fitzgerald -- The Bible, Old Testament (King James Version -- The Bible, New Testament (King James Version) -- Billy Budd / Herman Melville -- Black Beauty / Anna Sewell -- Brave new world / Aldous Huxley -- The call of the wild / Jack London -- Candide / Voltaire -- Captains Courageous / Rudyard Kipling -- A Christmas carol / Charles Dickens -- Crime and punishment / Fyodor Dostoyevsky -- Crome yellow / Aldous Huxley -- The Da Vinci code / Dan Brown -- Deenie / Judy Blume -- The deerslayer / James Fenimore Cooper -- a doll's house / Henrik Ibsen -- Dubliners / James Joyce -- English-Spanish vocabulary for healthcare workers / English-Spanish vocabulary for library workers -- The Federalist papers / Hamilton, Jay, Madison -- The five people you meet in heaven / Mitch Albom -- Flatland / Edwin Abbott -- Gulliver's Travels / Jonathan Swift -- Hard times / Charles Dickens -- Heart of darkness / Joseph Conrad -- Howards End / E. M. Forster -- Huckleberry Finn / Mark Twain -- The Iliad / Homer -- The importance of being Earnest / Oscar Wilde -- In defense of women / H. L. Mencken -- The invisible man / H. G. Wells -- The island of Doctor Moreau / H. G. Wells -- Jokes for seniors or the visually impaired -- The jungle / Upton Sinclair -- Kidnapped / Robert Louis Stevenson -- Kim / Rudyard Kipling -- Klondike tales / Jack London -- The land that time forgot / Edgar R. Burroughs -- The large print calendar / Woolf Foundation

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

staff -- Leaves of grass / Walt Whitman -- Little women. / Louisa Mae Alcott -- Macbeth / William Shakespeare -- Main Street / Sinclair Lewis -- Man and superman / George Bernard Shaw -- The man who knew too much / G. K. Chesterton -- Metamorphosis / Franz Kafka. Moby Dick / Herman Melville -- Mom's mid-America cookbook / Virginia Woolf -- Nineteen eighty-four / George Orwell -- One faith, one Lord: a study of basic Catholic belief -- O pioneers / Willa Cather -- Parnassus on wheels / Christopher Morley -- Penrod / Booth Tarkington -- Phantom of the opera / Gaston Leroux -- Plunkitt of Tammany Hall / William L. Riordan -- Pragmatism / William James -- Preparing for College and beyond / Dote-Kwan & Senge -- Pride and prejudice / Jane Austin -- Pygmalion / George Bernard Shaw -- Red Badge of courage / Stephen Crane -- The return of the native / Thomas Hardy -- Riders of the purple sage / Zane Grey -- Robinson Crusoe / Daniel Defoe -- The scarlet letter / Nathaniel Hawthorne -- The screwtape letters / C. S. Lewis -- Silas Marner / George Eliot -- The souls of black folk / W. E. B. Du Bois -- The story of Doctor Dolittle / Hugh Lofting -- The story of my life / Helen Keller -- Summer / Edith Wharton -- A tale of two cities / Charles Dickens -- Tarzan of the apes / Edgar Rice Burroughs -- This side of paradise / F. Scott Fitzgerald -- Tom Sawyer / Mark Twain -- Treasure Island / Robert Louis Stevenson -- 20,000 leagues under the sea / Jules Verne -- The voyage out / Virginia Woolf -- Walden / Henry David Thoreau -- Winesburg, Ohio / Sherwood Anderson -- The wizard of Oz / L. Frank Baum -- Wuthering Heights / Emily Bronte.

731. Larry Millett. [Minneapolis, MN]: Produced by Minnesota Center for the Book, Metronet and Metro Cable Network, 1997. Visual Material 1 videocassette (30 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Northern lights ; 378; VHS format. Participants: Interviewers: David Wiggins and Bruce Southworth. // Interview with Larry Millett, author of Twin Cities then and now, and a mystery, Sherlock Holmes and the red demon.
732. "Last Bow." The Ritual, no. 16 (1995): 61.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
733. The last vampyre. [Oak Forest, Ill.]: MPI Home Video, 1995. Visual Material 1 videocassette (120 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS. Hi-fi mono. Based on Arthur Conan Doyle's The Sussex vampire. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke, Keith Barron, Roy Marsden, Maurice Denham, Elizabeth Spriggs, Freddie Jones. Originally broadcast by ITV Jan. 27, 1993. Granada Television ; screenplay, Jeremy Paul ; producer, June Wyndham Davies ; director, Tim Sullivan. //
734. The last vampyre. [Oak Forest, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material (DVD) 1 videodisc (105 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Based on Arthur Conan Doyle's The Sussex vampire. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke, Keith Barron, Roy Marsden, Maurice Denham, Elizabeth Spriggs, Freddie Jones. Originally broadcast by ITV Jan. 27, 1993. Granada Television ; producer, June Wyndham Davies ; screenplay, Jeremy Paul ; director, Tim Sullivan. //
735. The last vampyre. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material; Computer File.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Mode of access: World Wide Web.; System requirements: Recorded Books' MyLibraryDV player. Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke, Keith Barron, Roy Marsden, Maurice Denham, Elizabeth Spriggs, Freddie Jones. Based on Arthur Conan Doyle's The Sussex vampire. Originally broadcast by ITV Jan. 27, 1993. Downloadable video file. Digital content provided by Recorded Books; access may be restricted to users at subscribing institutions. Sherlock Holmes (Television program). Granada Television ; producer, June Wyndham Davies ; screenplay, Jeremy Paul ; director, Tim Sullivan. // Holmes and Watson battle a direct descendant of the St. Clair family, burned as a suspected vampyre 100 years before.
736. "Leaves from the Note-Book of a New York Detective: The Private Records of J.B." Publishers Weekly 255, no. 33 (2008): 48-48.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "Leaves From the Note-Book of a New York Detective: The Private Records of J. B.," by John Babbington Williams. "First published in 1865, this story collection featuring New York City private detective James Brampton will intrigue Sherlock Holmes fans, given the number of eerie parallels between the two characters. For example, Brampton remarks, 'It is the observation of small things that makes a good detective, for it is often the most trivial circumstance which supplies the first link in the chain,' a comment quite similar to one of Holmes's...."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

737. The legendary Sherlock Holmes. [Australia]: Umbrella Entertainment : AV Channel [distributor], 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (videodisc) (ca. 200 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. DAVID0067. All region. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. //
738. Legendary Sherlock Holmes movies. [S.l.]: Distributed by American Home Treasures, 2001. Visual Material 1 videodisc (197 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, Dolby digital. Adapted from the stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Special features: interactive menus; scene selection; biographies; selected filmographies; Sherlock Holmes trivia. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. Audience: MPAA rating: Not rated. Universal Pictures Company, Inc. ; producer, Roy William Neill (Dressed to kill ; The woman in green ; Terror by night) ; screenplay writers, Leonard Lee (Dressed to kill), Bertram Millhauser (The woman in green), Frank Gruber (Terror by night) ; director, Roy William Neill (Dressed to kill ; The woman in green ; Terror by night). Directors of photography, Maury Gertsman (Dressed to kill; Terror by night), Virgil Miller (The woman in green) ; editors, Saul A. Goodkind (Dressed to kill; The woman in green; Terror by night), Edward Curtiss (Dressed to kill) ; music directors, Milton Rosen (Dressed to kill; Terror by night), Mark Levant (The woman in green) ; production designers, Russell A. Gausman (Dressed to kill, The woman in green, Terror by night), Edward R. Robinson (Dressed to kill), Ted von Hemert (The woman in green), Carl Lawrence (Terror by night). // Dressed to kill: When unsuspecting purchasers of music boxes start turning up dead, Holmes and Watson discover an even bigger problem - their prime suspect is already behind bars. The woman in green: A series of bizarre, seemingly unconnected murders leads Holmes and Watson to a society of hypnotists and a mysterious, glamorous woman. Terror by night: Holmes thinks he can prevent the theft of an enormous diamond, the Star of Rhodesia ... that is until a gruesome murder derails the case.
739. Legendary Sherlock Holmes movies. [Ontario, Canada]: BFS Entertainment & Multimedia, 2001. Visual Material 1 videocassette (200 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS. Adapted from the stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. // Dressed to kill: When unsuspecting purchasers of music boxes start turning up dead, Holmes and Watson discover an even bigger problem - their prime suspect is already behind bars. The woman in green: A series of bizarre, seemingly unconnected murders leads Holmes and Watson to a society of hypnotists and a mysterious, glamorous woman. Terror by night: Holmes thinks he can prevent the theft of an enormous diamond, the Star of Rhodesia ... that is until a gruesome murder derails the case.
740. Legendary Sherlock Holmes movies. Dressed to kill. [Ontario, Canada]: BFS Entertainment & Multimedia, 2001. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 72 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS. Adapted from the stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. // When unsuspecting purchasers of music boxes start turning up dead, Holmes and Watson discover an even bigger problem - their prime suspect is already behind bars. A series of bizarre, seemingly unconnected murders leads Holmes and Watson to a society of hypnotists and a mysterious, glamorous woman.
741. Legendary Sherlock Holmes movies. Terror by night. [Ontario, Canada]: BFS Entertainment & Multimedia, 2001. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 60 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS. Adapted from the stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. // Holmes thinks he can prevent the theft of an enormous diamond, the Star of Rhodesia ... that is until a gruesome murder derails the case.
742. Legendary Sherlock Holmes movies. The woman in green. [Ontario, Canada]: BFS Entertainment & Multimedia, 2001. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 68 min.).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS. Adapted from the stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. // A series of bizarre, seemingly unconnected murders leads Holmes and Watson to a society of hypnotists and a mysterious, glamorous woman.

743. "Leonardo Reviews." Leonardo 38, no. 1 (2005): 67-81.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews several books, periodicals, audio compact discs and Web sites. Includes a review of Neurology of the Arts: Painting, Music, Literature, edited by F. Clifford Rose. Imperial College Press, London, U.K., 2004. 452 pp., illus. Trade. ISBN: 1-86094-368-3, with a passing reference to Doyle. "...The section on literature relates to Shakespeare, Dostoyevsky, Conan Doyle, James Joyce and the poetry of one of England's most famous neurologists, Henry Head...."

744. Les nouvelles aventures de Lucky Luke. [France]: Citel Vidéo, 2001. Visual Material 1 videodisc (132 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD; PAL, region 2. With the voices of Antoine de Caunes and Francis Perrin. // Six episodes of the Lucky Luke television series.

745. "Let's Practise in Portsmouth." Pulse 65, no. 37 (2005): 77-77.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Features the historic naval port in Portsmouth, England. Number of general practitioners in the area; Schools established; Details of various leisure and activities available. Mention made of famous residents, including Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.

746. "Letters." Canadian Holmes 17, no. 3 (1994): 49-51.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Letters to the editor.

747. "Letters from Readers." Commentary 113, no. 3 (2002): 3.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes the following letter: To the Editor: Terry Teachout's article on Miklos Rozsa was, as usual, profound and well researched, and deserved by this marvelous composer. But Mr. Teachout fails to mention the most challenging and innovative film Rozsa ever had anything to do with, as well as one of the best: Alain Resnais's Providence (1977), starring the late Sir John Gielgud. Rozsa also incorporated his 1956 Violin Concerto into the score for the underrated Billy Wilder film, The Private Life of Sherlock Holmes (1970), which featured, I believe, the composer's single on-camera appearance, conducting in London's Albert Hall.

748. "Letters from Readers." Commentary 112, no. 1 (2001): 3.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents several letters to the editor regarding socio-economic and political events around the world as of July 2001. Passing reference to Holmes in one letter. "A bit more Sherlock Holmes effort on Mr. Halkin's part and he could have discovered that, too."

749. "Letters to Baker Street." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 1 (1994): 56-57.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Letters from Donald K. Pollock, Wayne and Francine Swift, Robert A. Moss

750. "Letters to Baker Street." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 2 (1994): 118-119.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Letters from Jon Lellenberg, Tina Rhea, and Brad Keefauver.

751. "Letters to the Editor." Addiction 95, no. 11 (2000): 1705-1717.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents several editorial letters on alcoholism. Strategies for reducing alcohol-related harm in remote communities in Australia; Risk of injury for alcohol consumption; Evaluation of the driving-under-the-influence risk screening instruments. Includes a reference to Doyle. "SIR--In 'Scandal in Bohemia' Sir Arthur Conan Doyle wrote, 'It is a capital mistake to theorize before one has data' (1892). Morgenstern and Longabaugh's outstanding paper (2000) is likely to stir up a bit of a scandal itself by pointing out that the existing data supporting theoretical mechanisms of action of CBT is, at best, rather thin...."

752. "Librarians Choose A Century of Good Books." Library Journal 123, no. 19 (1998): 34.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a chart of the 150 best 20th century fiction books voted on by readers of 'Library Journal.' Includes The Hound of the Baskervilles.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

753. "Libraries around the country." Civilization 2, no. 5 (1995): 92.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a calendar of events for libraries in the United States. Includes "University of Minnesota--Sherlock Holmes and John Bennett Shaw: The Detective and the Collector. Celebrates the university's establishment of Shaw's personal library as a source for Holmes research. October 13 through November 30 at the Wilson Library..."
754. "Library gets Sherlock trove ; Conan Doyle collection includes first editions, full-size replica of detective's study." San Antonio Express-News, Aug 7, 2004: 16A.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "One of the world's greatest collections of memorabilia from Sir Arthur Conan Doyle was handed over Friday to a library in the port city where the author once had a medical practice and wrote the first two Sherlock Holmes adventures. When he died in March, writer and collector Richard Lancelyn Green, left the 20,000-item collection worth more than $3.6 million to the Portsmouth library service. The collection includes a full size recreation by Lancelyn Green of the study at 221B Baker Street, Holmes' fictional London address...."
755. "Library's Sherlock Holmes gift." The Herald (Glasgow), July 1, 2006: 10.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // An original Sherlock Holmes manuscript was yesterday donated to the National Library of Scotland (NLS). The Adventure of the Illustrious Client, published in 1927, was gifted by the late daughter of the detective's creator Sir Arthur Conan Doyle....The manuscript from Dame Jean Conan Doyle will join the library's collection of Conan Doyle material, which contains around 60 letters and another short story manuscript....The manuscript was handed over by Charles Foley, executor of Dame Jean's estate."
756. "The List." Rolling Stone 973, no. (2005): 35.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article presents current developments in the field of mass media in the United States. Includes the observation in the list: "Extreme Victorian makeover! Alienist author Caleb Carr brings his twisted eye for historical detail to the Sherlock Holmes franchise in The Italian Secretary (due out May 10th), which takes the coke-addled sleuth to the streets of Scotland."
757. "Literary city." Writer 118, no. 2 (2005): 8-8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports that the United Nations named the city of Edinburgh, Scotland as the world's first city of literature in late 2004. Writers who participated in the campaign for the city's designation; Expected impact of the award on the city. "The campaign was based not only on the city's contemporary authors, but on the fact that Edinburgh was also the home of such literary notables as Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, Sir Walter Scott, Robert Louis Stevenson and Robert Burns."
758. "Locating haunting: a ghost-hunter's guide." Cultural Geographies 15, no. 3 (2008): 297-312.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes passing references to Doyle and Holmes.
759. "Londoner's Diary; Reform Club is reeling from spate of thefts." The Evening Standard (London), January 26, 2006: A15.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "It's one for Sherlock Holmes and Watson. The Reform Club on Pall Mall, of which Sherlock Holmes creator Sir Arthur Conan Doyle was a member, has suffered an outbreak of larceny. The most recent issue of the in-house magazine, the Reform Review, carries a letter from the editor, Chris Underwood, warning members of a spate of thefts in the club...."
760. "A long and winding trip." Economist 358, no. 8206 (2001): 83-84.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses the portrayal of drug abuse in motion pictures and includes a passing reference to Holmes. "From the silent era, when few police adventures were complete without a chase through a Chinatown opium den, Hollywood has treated drugs with an unstable mixture of fear and fascination, moralism and concern. In 1930 came outright denial in the form of a self-censorship code which, among other strictures, forbade depiction of drug takers or makers in any light whatsoever. Film producers almost all complied. Even in Sherlock Holmes films you had to be a detective yourself to intuit that the demon sleuth liked cocaine."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

761. Los casos misteriosos de Charlotte Holmes. [Los Angeles, CA?]: Century Home Video : Distributed by Nova Film and Video, 1994. Visual Material 1 videocassette (60 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Los amiguitos; VHS. Doblada en español. Caricaturas animadas para niños. Translation of: The casebook of Charlotte Holmes. "El archivo de Charlotte Holmes"--Title from voice-over. Based on the film produced in 1980. Participants: Michael Allison como Sherlock Holmes, Bernard Fox como el Dr. Watson. Basado en Sherlock Holmes and me, de Glen Taylor ; producido por Karen Tyler ; escritor y director, John Newton. Partial animation. //
762. "The Lost City of Z: The Tale of Deadly Obsession in the Amazon." Kirkus Reviews 76, no. 23 (2008): 1241-1241.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "The Lost City of Z: The Tale of Deadly Obsession in the Amazon," by David Grann. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...As New Yorker staff writer and debut author Grann notes, the British explorer Percy Fawcett's exploits in jungles and atop mountains inspired novels such as Arthur Conan Doyle's The Lost World, and his character is the tutelary spirit of the Indiana Jones franchise. Fawcett in turn was nurtured by his associations with fabulists such as Doyle and H. Rider Haggard, whose talisman he bore into the Amazonian rainforest...."
763. "The Lost World." Publishers Weekly 255, no. 13 (2008): 57-57.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the audiobook The Lost World, by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and read by Glen McCready. Naxos Audio, unabridged, seven CDs, 8.5 hrs., $34.98 ISBN 978-962-634-852-9.
764. The lost world. Chatsworth, CA: Image Entertainment, 2001. Visual Material 1 videodisc (93 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- si., b&w (tinted) ; 4 3/4 in. Blackhawk Films collection; DVD. "Based upon the novel by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle." Originally released as a motion picture in 1925. Silent film with music accompaniment. "Copyright 2000 by Film Preservation Associates, Inc."--Container. Special features include audio commentary by Roy Pilot, author of The Annotated Lost world ; restored and remastered footage ; two alternate orchestral scores ; more than 13 min. of animation outtakes ; reproduction of the original souvenir program. Participants: Wallace Beery, Lewis Stone, Bessie Love, Lloyd Hughes. First National Pictures, Inc. ; screenplay and editorial direction, Marion Fairfax ; dramatic direction, Harry O. Hoyt. Research and technical director, Willis H. O'Brien ; photographed by Arthur Edeson ; new music composed and performed by the Alloy Orchestra ; "traditional" music compiled and conducted by Robert Israel. // Professor Challenger, the man of vision, persuades his skeptical colleagues to return with him to a remote South American plateau where he has discovered living dinosaurs. Resisting danger and death, Challenger's party return to London in triumph with a captive Brontosaurus. But the beast escapes, turning the city into a shambles and standing the 20th century on it's head.
765. The lost world. Beverly Hills, CA: 20th Century Fox Home Entertainment, 2007. Visual Material 2 videodiscs (96 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, widescreen (2.35:1) presentation; Dolby Digital 4.0 surround, Dolby Digital stereo., Dolby Digital mono., dual layer (disc 1), single layer (disc 2), NTSC. Based on the novel by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally released as a motion picture in 1960. Special features: Disc 1: "The lost world: footprints on sands of time" featurette; Fox Movietone news; original theatrical trailer; comic book; still gallery ; Disc 2: "The lost world" (1925) black & white silent film. Participants: Michael Rennie, Jill St. John, David Hedison, Claude Rains, Fernando Lamas, Richard Haydn, Ray Stricklyn, Jay Novello, Vitina Marcus, Ian Wolfe. Audience: Not rated. These DVDs are copy protected. Saratoga Productions ; Twentieth Century Fox presents a Cinemascope picture ; an Irwin Allen production ; screenplay by Irwin Allen and Charles Bennett ; produced and directed by Irwin Allen. // English zoology professor George Edward Challenger discovers a "lost world" of Jurassic reptiles isolated within the thick, unexplored Amazon. To prove their existence, he organizes a group expedition with playboy Lord Roxton, American socialites Jennifer Holmes, her brother David Holmes, news writer and photographer Ed Malone and Challenger's colleague and rival Professor Walter Summerlee. Local pilot Gomez and travel guide Costa lead the pack on an awesome havoc-wreaking adventure where dinosaurs from long ago still roam free.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

766. The lost world. [S.I.]: Video Distributors International, 1995. Visual Material 1 videocassette (VHS) (60 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Originally produced as a motion picture in 1925. "121"
Distributor: Golden Press Video. Based on a story by Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Wallace Beery,
Lewis Stone. Directed by Harry Hoyt. //
767. The Lost world. Miami, FL: Video Entertainment Corp., 1996. Visual Material 1 videocassette (66 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- si., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS format. Based on the novel by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.
Videocassette release of the 1925 motion picture. Participants: Wallace Beery, Bessie Love, Lewis Stone,
Lloyd Hughes, Arthur Hoyt, Bull Montana. First National Pictures ; directed by Harry Hoyt and Willis
O'Brien. // An expedition discovers a forgotten plateau in South America where dinosaurs are still a reality.
They finally return to London with the living proof of their discovery, a Brontosaurus that proceeds to run amok in the London streets.
768. The lost world. Los Angeles: Republic Pictures, 1997. Visual Material 1 videocassette (99 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS. Based on the story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally produced as motion picture in 1992. Participants: John Rhys-Davies, David Warner, Eric McCormack, Nathania Stanford, Darren Peter Mercer, Tamara Gorski. Harmony Gold Pictures in association with Silvio
Berlusconi Communications ; screenplay by Peter Welbeck ; producers, Frank Agrama, Norman Siderow, Daniele Lorenzano ; directed by Timothy Bond. // A maverick scientist and his skeptical rival discover a spectacular, unexplored realm of towering dinosaurs and native tribes deep in the African interior.
769. The lost world. Denver: Lumivision Corp., 1997. Visual Material 1 videodisc (90 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. "By arrangement with the International Museum of Photography at George Eastman House"--Container. DVD release of the 1925 film. Based on the story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Contains music accompaniment. "DVD0897." Includes original theatrical trailer, promotional film, excerpts from Willis O'Brien's earliest films, still frame library and 2 audio tracks.
Participants: Wallace Beery, Lewis Stone, Bessie Love, Lloyd Hughes. Executive producer, Jamie White ; producer, Scott MacQueen. // Professor Challenger, the man of vision who persuades his skeptical colleagues to return with him to a remote South American plateau where he has discovered living dinosaurs. Resisting danger and death, Challenger's party return to London in triumph with a captive Brontosaurus. But the beast escapes, turning the city into a shambles and standing the 20th century on it's head.
770. The lost world. [Rochester, NY]: George Eastman House, 1998. Visual Material 1 videodisc (90 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Title from disc label. DVD release of the 1925 film. Based on the story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Contains music accompaniment. Includes original theatrical trailer, promotional film, excerpts from Willis O'Brien's earliest films, still frame library and 2 audio tracks.
"DVD9819." Participants: Wallace Beery, Lewis Stone, Bessie Love, Lloyd Hughes. Executive producer, Jamie White ; producer, Scott MacQueen. // Professor Challenger, the man of vision who persuades his skeptical colleagues to return with him to a remote South American plateau where he has discovered living dinosaurs. Resisting danger and death, Challenger's party return to London in triumph with a captive Brontosaurus. But the beast escapes, turning the city into a shambles and standing the 20th century on it's head.
771. The lost world. Los Angeles: Rhino Home Video, 1998. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 45 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Participants: Alien Voices: Roxann Biggs-Dawson ; John de Lancie
; Richard Doyle ; Marnie Mosiman ; Leonard Nimoy ; Ethan Phillips ; Dwight Schultz ; Armin Shimerman. //
Filmed in front of a live theater audience as a radio broadcast complete with foley artists and live music. A scientific expedition into the Amazon jungle is cut off from the outside world on a primeval plateau where dinosaurs have evolved beside ape-men. The fate of the human race hangs in the balance.
772. The lost world. Phoenix, AZ: Grapevine Video, 1998. Visual Material 1 videocassette (65 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sl., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS. Based on Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's classic The lost world.
Originally released as a motion picture in 1925. Participants: Lloyd Hughes, Bessie Love, Wallace Beery,

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Lewis Stone. First National Pictures, Inc. ; directed by Harry Hoyt. Score, Jack Hardy. // A group of explorers visits a world inhabited by prehistoric animals and an ape man.

773. The Lost world. New York: Goodtimes, 2000. Visual Material 1 videocassette (52 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Hollywood movie greats; "Dinosaurs" series No.2. Based on Arthur Conan Doyle's The Lost world. Participants: Wallace Beery, Bessie Love. // Professor Challenger and a team of explorers go deep into South America to verify his theory that prehistoric life still exists there.
774. The Lost World. [s.l.]: ILC Film, 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (videodisc) (ca. 91 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. DVD/ (0) PAL. Originally released as motion picture. Participants: Patrick Bergin, David Nerman, Jayne Heitmeyer. Trimark Pictures ; directed by Bob Keen. // Deep inside the hills of Northern Mongolia an international scientific expedition, led by a famed zoologist, has come in search of "the lost world", a mythical land where dinosaurs still roam free.
775. The lost world. Chatsworth, CA: Image Entertainment, 2001. Visual Material 1 videocassette (93 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- si., tinted b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS. Based upon the novel by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. "Restoration of the 1925 film"--Container. Special features: restored footage -- presented with new stereo score by The Alloy Orchestra -- over 13 minutes of animation outtakes./ New music composed and performed by the Alloy Orchestra./ Participants: Bessie Love, Lewis Stone, Wallace Beery, Lloyd Hughes. Audience: Not rated. First National Pictures. Director, Harry O. Hoyt ; special effects, Willis O'Brien ; screenplay and adaptation by Marion Fairfax ; photographed by Arthur Edeson ; this edition produced for video by Serge Bromberg and David Shepard ; restoration editor, Mathieu Duboscq. // A group of British scientists journey to South America to explore a remote plateau inhabited by dinosaurs and apemen and return to London with a brontosaurus.
776. The lost world. New York: GoodTimes DVD, 2001. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 63 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- si., b/w 4 3/4 in. DVD, Dolby mono. Based on the novel by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally released as a motion picture in 1925. Features: scene selection. Participants: Bessie Love, Lewis Stone, Wallace Beery, Lloyd Hughes, Alma Bennett, Arthur Hoyt, Margaret McWade, Bull Montana. Audience: MPAA rating: Not rated. First National Pictures ; [screenplay by Marian Fairfax ; produced by Earl Hudson ; director, Harry O. Hoyt]. Cinematography, Arthur Edeson; film editor, George McGuire. // Adventurers travel to the Amazon in South America to validate the existence of prehistoric creatures, one of which they bring back to London.
777. The lost world. New York: GoodTimes Entertainment, 2001. Visual Material 1 videodisc (63 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- si., b&w (tinted) ; 4 3/4 in. Blackhawk Films collection; DVD. "Based upon the novel by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle." Originally released as a motion picture in 1925. Silent film with music accompaniment. "Copyright 2000 by Film Preservation Associates, INC."--Container. Special features include audio commentary by Roy Pilot, author of The Annotated Lost world ; restored and remastered footage ; two alternate orchestral scores ; more than 13 min. of animation outtakes ; reproduction of the original souvenir program. "05-81222." Participants: Wallace Beery, Lewis Stone, Bessie Love, Lloyd Hughes. Audience: Not rated by MPAA. First National Pictures, Inc. ; screenplay and editorial direction, Marion Fairfax ; dramatic direction, Harry O. Hoyt. Research and technical director, Willis H. O'Brien ; photographed by Arthur Edeson ; new music composed and performed by the Alloy Orchestra ; "traditional" music compiled and conducted by Robert Israel. // Professor Challenger, the man of vision who persuades his skeptical colleagues to return with him to a remote South American plateau where he has discovered living dinosaurs. Resisting danger and death, Challenger's party return to London in triumph with a captive Brontosaurus. But the beast escapes, turning the city into a shambles and standing the 20th century on it's head.
778. The lost world. [Australia]: Eureka Video, 2001. Visual Material 1 videodisc (DVD) (ca. 93 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. From the story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. DVD. VFC 24941. FV662. Participants: Wallace Beery, Bessie Love, Lewis Stone. Audience: Censorship rating: PG. Directed by Harry Hoyt ; special effects by Willis O'Brien. // When romance threw down the gauntlet to Edward Malone, not only did he realise another young woman's dreams and open the door to Professor Challenger to take a party deep into the unforgiving Brazilian jungle, he found himself in terrifying danger, in a pre-historic time, with no hope of escape.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

779. The lost world. [Australia]: Distributed by Force Video, 2001. Visual Material 1 videodisc (DVD) (93 min.). NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. "FV662" From the story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. First released in 1922. Includes special features. New music composed and performed by The Ally Orchestra. Participants: Wallace Beery, Bessie Love, Lewis Stone. Audience: Censorship classification: PG. Directed by Harry Hoyt; special effects by Willis O'Brien. // Explorer Professor Challenger is taking quite a beating in the London press thanks to his claim that living dinosaurs exist in the far reaches of the Amazon. Newspaper reporter Edward Malone learns that this claim originates from a diary given to him by fellow explorer Maple White's daughter, Paula. Malone's paper funds an expedition to rescue Maple White, who has been marooned at the top of a high plateau. Joined by renowned hunter John Roxton, and others, the group goes to South America, where they do indeed find a plateau inhabited by pre-historic creatures, one of which they even manage to bring back to London with them.
780. The lost world. Chatsworth, CA: Film Preservation Associates : Image Entertainment, 2001. Visual Material 1 videodisc (93 min.). NOTE // ABSTRACT --- si., b&w (tinted) ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. "Based upon the novel by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle." Originally released as a motion picture in 1925. Special features: Audio commentary by Roy Pilot, author of The Annotated Lost world ; restored and remastered footage ; two alternate orchestral scores; more than 13 min. of animation outtakes ; reproduction of the original souvenir program. Participants: Cast: Wallace Beery, Lewis Stone, Bessie Love, Lloyd Hughes. First National Pictures, Inc. ; screenplay and editorial direction, Marion Fairfax ; dramatic direction, Harry O. Hoyt. Research and technical director, Willis H. O'Brien ; photographed by Arthur Edeson ; new music composed and performed by the Alloy Orchestra ; "traditional" music compiled and conducted by Robert Israel. //
781. The Lost World. [s.l.]: A & E Home Video : Distributed by New Video, 2002. Visual Material 2 videocassettes (ca. 200 min.). NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS. release date: October 29, 2002. Based on the novel by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Bob Hoskins, James Fox, Tom Ward, Matthew Rhys, Elaine Cassidy, Peter Falk. Also issued on DVD. a BBC/A & E Network co-production in association with RTL ; producer, Christopher Hall ; adapted by Tony Mulholland, Adrian Hodges ; director, Stuart Orme. Director of photography, David Odd ; editor, David Yardley ; music, Rob Lane ; costume designer, James Keast ; production designer, Rob Harris. // At the turn of the century, an expedition is led by a brilliant, but combative professor, sets out from London. It is bound for the Amazon where dinosaurs are rumored to have survived on a forgotten plateau deep in the jungle. They discover the stories are true, but the thrill of discovery is quickly overshadowed by a desperate struggle for survival.
782. The Lost World. [s.l.]: A & E Home Video : Distributed by New Video, 2002. Visual Material 2 videodiscs (ca. 200 min.). NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD; Dolby digital stereo. Originally released as a motion picture for television in 2001. Based on the novel by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Includes interactive menus, scene selection and bonus features: The making of the lost world, and: Dinosaur secrets revealed. Participants: Bob Hoskins, James Fox, Tom Ward, Matthew Rhys, Elaine Cassidy, Peter Falk. a BBC/A & E Network co-production in association with RTL ; producer, Christopher Hall ; adapted by Tony Mulholland, Adrian Hodges ; director, Stuart Orme. Director of photography, David Odd ; editor, David Yardley ; music, Rob Lane ; costume designer, James Keast ; production designer, Rob Harris. // At the turn of the century, an expedition led by a brilliant but combative professor sets out from London, bound for the Amazon, where dinosaurs are rumored to have survived on a forgotten plateau deep in the jungle.
783. The lost world. [London]: BBC Worldwide, 2002. Visual Material 1 videocassette (VHS) (ca. 150 min.). NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. BBC Worldwide: B00566. Adapted from the novel by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Bob Hoskins, Peter Falk, James Fox, Tom Ward, Matthew Rhys, Elaine Cassidy. Directed by Stuart Orme ; produced by Christopher Hall. // At the end of the 20th century, an expedition leaves

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

foggy London to explore a secluded plateau in the impenetrable jungles of the Amazon. They find a world where time has stopped, and man battles not only with savage dinosaurs, but also with his own primitive ancestors. In crisis, the carefully nurtured mores of Victorian England - social standing, scientific truth - and love, all break down and fall away, creating a new order in a remote and unknown world.

784. The lost world. [London]: BBC Worldwide, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (DVD) (ca. 145 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. Region 4, PAL. DVD. BBC Worldwide: B00566-9. Adapted from the novel by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Bob Hoskins, Peter Falk, James Fox, Tom Ward, Matthew Rhys, Elaine Cassidy. Directed by Stuart Orme ; produced by Christopher Hall. // At the end of the 20th century, an expedition leaves foggy London to explore a secluded plateau in the impenetrable jungles of the Amazon. They find a world where time has stopped, and man battles not only with savage dinosaurs, but also with his own primitive ancestors. In crisis, the carefully nurtured mores of Victorian England - social standing, scientific truth - and love, all break down and fall away, creating a new order in a remote and unknown world.

785. The Lost World. [Narberth, PA]: Alpha Video Classics, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (63 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- si., sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. "Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's stupendous story of adventure and romance." "The 1925 silent classic"--Container. Participants: Bessie Love, Lewis Stone, Wallace Beery, Lloyd Hughes, Alma Bennett, Arthur Hoyt, Margaret McWade, Bull Montana, Finch Smiles, Jules Cowles, George Bunny, Charles Wellsley, Jocko. First National Pictures, Inc. presents ; by arrangement with Watterson R. Rothacker. Directed by Harry O. Hoyt ; screenplay, Marion Fairfax ;from the novel by Arthur Conan Doyle. // A scientific team journeys to an uncharted plateau, where they encounter people and animals thought to have been extinct for millions of years.

786. The lost world. New York: Alpha Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (63 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- si., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. Silent Classics collection; DVD. Alpha Video: ALP 4064D. "Based upon the novel by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle." Originally released as a motion picture in 1925. Silent film with music accompaniment. Participants: Wallace Beery, Lewis Stone, Bessie Love, Lloyd Hughes. // Professor Challenger, the man of vision who persuades his skeptical colleagues to return with him to a remote South American plateau where he has discovered living dinosaurs. Resisting danger and death, Challenger's party return to London in triumph with a captive Brontosaurus. But the beast escapes, turning the city into a shambles and standing the 20th century on it's head.

787. The lost world. [S.l.]: Front Row Entertainment, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 63 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- si., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. "Based upon the novel by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle." Originally released as a motion picture in 1925. Participants: Wallace Beery, Lewis Stone, Bessie Love, Lloyd Hughes. // Professor Challenger, the man of vision who persuades his skeptical colleagues to return with him to a remote South American plateau where he has discovered living dinosaurs. Resisting danger and death, Challenger's party return to London in triumph with a captive Brontosaurus. But the beast escapes, turning the city into a shambles and standing the 20th century on it's head.

788. The lost world. St. Laurent, Quebec: Madacy Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Based on the book The lost world by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally produced as a motion picture in 1992. 2.0 Dolby stereo. Bonus features: direct scene access ; theatrical trailer ; cast and crew biographies ; Dino facts. Participants: John Rhys-Davies, David Warner, Eric McCormack, Nathania Stanford, Darren Peter Mercer, Tamara Gorski. Harmony Gold Pictures, Inc. in association with Silvio Berlusconi Communications ; screenplay by Peter Welbeck ; produced by Frank Agrama, Norman Siderow, and Daniele Lorenzano ; directed by Timothy Bond. Music, Larry Wolff, Gerard Shadrack, Isaiah Sanders ; director of photography, Paul Beeson ; editor, Stephen Lawrence ; executive producer, Harry Alan Towers. // A maverick scientist and his skeptical rival discover a spectacular, unexplored realm of towering dinosaurs and native tribes deep in the African interior in this special-effects-filled fantasy adventure.

789. "Lost World Mapped." Geographical 75, no. 2 (2003): 71.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Offers information on a map produced by natural-history filmmaker Adrian Warren for Mount Roraima adventurers. Passing reference to Doyle. "Until it was first climbed in 1884, after almost 50 years of unsuccessful attempts, there was speculation that South America's Mount Roraima was home to prehistoric life - rumours that inspired Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's Lost World."

790. The lost world. Season three, disc 2. Chatsworth, CA: Distributed by Image Entertainment, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (176 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, widescreen (1.78:1) presentation; Dolby Digital 5.1 or 2.0 surround. Originally broadcast on television during the 2001-2002 season. Participants: Peter McCauley, Rachel Blakely, David Orth, Jennifer O'Dell, Will Snow, Lara Cox. New Line Television. // Contains episodes 5-8 from the 3rd season of the Lost World.

791. The lost world. Season three, disc 3. Chatsworth, CA: Distributed by Image Entertainment, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (176 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, widescreen (1.78:1) presentation; Dolby Digital 5.1 or 2.0 surround. Originally broadcast on television during the 2001-2002 season. Participants: Peter McCauley, Rachel Blakely, David Orth, Jennifer O'Dell, Will Snow, Lara Cox. New Line Television. // Contains episodes 9-12 from the 3rd season of the Lost World.

792. The lost world. Season three, disc 4. Chatsworth, CA: Distributed by Image Entertainment, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (176 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, widescreen (1.78:1) presentation; Dolby Digital 5.1 or 2.0 surround. Originally broadcast on television during the 2001-2002 season. Participants: Peter McCauley, Rachel Blakely, David Orth, Jennifer O'Dell, Will Snow, Lara Cox. New Line Television. // Contains episodes 13-16 from the 3rd season of the Lost World.

793. The lost world. Season three, disc 5. Chatsworth, CA: Distributed by Image Entertainment, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (176 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, widescreen (1.78:1) presentation; Dolby Digital 5.1 or 2.0 surround. Originally broadcast on television during the 2001-2002 season. Participants: Peter McCauley, Rachel Blakely, David Orth, Jennifer O'Dell, Will Snow, Lara Cox. New Line Television. // Contains episodes 17-20 from the 3rd season of the Lost World.

794. The lost world. Season three, disc 6. Chatsworth, CA: Distributed by Image Entertainment, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (88 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, widescreen (1.78:1) presentation; Dolby Digital 5.1 or 2.0 surround. Originally broadcast on television during the 2001-2002 season. Participants: Peter McCauley, Rachel Blakely, David Orth, Jennifer O'Dell, Will Snow, Lara Cox. New Line Television. // Contains episodes 21-22 from the 3rd season of the Lost World.

795. The lost world. The complete first season. [S.l.]: Liberty International Entertainment, 2003. Visual Material 6 videodiscs (990 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, Region 1, full screen (1.33:1) presentation; 5.1 Dolby Digital. Originally broadcast during the 1999-2000 season. Based on the novel by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Special features: photo galleries; biographies; bloopers and more./ Participants: Peter McCauley, Rachel Blakely, David Orth, Jennifer O'Dell, Will Snow, Michael Sinelnikoff. New Line Television ; Coote Hayes Productions ; St. Clare Entertainment ; Telescene Film Group Productions ; producers, Guy Mullally, Darryl Sheen ; writers, Nick Jacobs ... [et al.] ; directors, Colin Budds ... [et al.]. // Determined to prove the existence of 'The lost world', dashing adventurer and scholar Professor George Challenger mounts a British expedition team of consisting of a mismatched group of enthusiasts, all with less than selfless reasons for making the journey. Traveling through the uncharted Amazon jungle to this prehistoric plateau, the group encounters tribal head hunters, vicious apemen, giant crocodiles and terrifying dinosaurs.

796. Lost worlds life in the balance. [s.l.]: Razor Digital Entertainment, 2010. Visual Material 1 videodisc (40 min.).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. Blu-ray, Dolby Digital 5.1, widescreen; requires Blu-ray player. Narrated by Harrison Ford. Audience: Not rated. // Tunnel into a metropolis of microorganisms beneath New York, swim through the kelp forests of the Pacific, and climb to the top of the mountains in Venezuela that inspired Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's novel 'The Lost World'.

797. "Lyceum Theatre, 10 September 1901; On This Day." The Times (London), September 10, 1996: 1.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reprint of an article from 1901 beginning: "We wonder whether it was quite politic of Dr. Conan Doyle, even with the assistance of Mr. William Gillette, to bring Sherlock Holmes upon the stage. Surely no playhouse is large enough to hold that colossal figure? You might as well attempt to get the Djinn into the bottle. And, then, the stage is fatal to mystery. The mythopoeic tendency has been busy with Sherlock Holmes. He has become the centre of a legend. To see him in the flesh, under the glare of the footlights, is to substitute intimacy for awe...."
798. "M2: the Secret of Sherlock Holmes." Birmingham Evening Mail, September 20, 2002: 47.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Husband-and-wife team Stephen and Sue Downing are at the heart of Oldbury Rep's production of the Secret of Sherlock Holmes, by Jeremy Paul, which opens tomorrow at the Barlow Theatre, Langley...."
799. "M2: Travel: It's Elementary!". Birmingham Evening Mail, August 20, 2002: 44.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Finding a decent hotel in London is, to pinch a phrase from Sherlock Holmes, a three-pipe problem. Either you need to negotiate a second mortgage just to pay the bill or you arrive in an airless identi-kit concrete block with all the charm of a multistorey carpark. And you still get charged a small fortune. It was, then, with some trepidation that I headed for the Sherlock Holmes Hotel in Baker Street. The name alone conjured up visions of gullible American tourists being fleeced...."
800. "M2: Travel: the Holmes Trail." Birmingham Evening Mail, February 27, 2003: 21.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "'It is a hobby of mine to have an exact knowledge of London,' said world-famous sleuth Sherlock Holmes. Now 'Sherlock's Discovery' is the name given to a package offered by the new boutique-style Sherlock Holmes Hotel on Baker Street which involves history and culture, luxury, good food and a lie-in on Sunday...."
801. MAD about the fifties. 1st ed. New York: MAD Books, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2006279822 //
802. Mad about the fifties. 1st ed. Boston: Little, Brown, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 97004376 // "Contents include a reprint of Bill Elder's 'Shermlock Shomes!' (from the Oct.-Nov. 1953 issue of Mad).
803. "Mahathir's high hopes." Economist 336, no. 7922 (1995): 30-31.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Looks at the planned completion of the Petronas Tower in Kuala Lumpur, a monument to industrialization and growth in Malaysia. Views of Mahathir Mohamad, the Malaysian prime minister, with a Holmes reference. "Dr Mahathir is an intellectual, still a rarity in Malaysia. He is a solver of problems: for relaxation he likes to read Sherlock Holmes stories...."
804. "Majestic mystery novels: Are you a fan of murder and intrigue?". The Gazette (Montreal), July 19, 1998: C4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The Top 50 Mystery Novels of All Time (as selected by Mystery Writers of America members in The Top 100 Mystery Novels of All Time, published by Crown Trade Paperbacks): 1) The Complete Sherlock Holmes, 1887-1927, by Arthur Conan Doyle. Considered the most consistently brilliant mystery works ever, this collection includes his most popular four - The Hound of the Baskervilles; A Study in Scarlet; The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes; and The Sign of Four...."
805. "The Mammoth Book of Vintage Whodunnits." Kirkus Reviews 74, no. 1 (2006): 18-19.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "The Mammoth Book of Vintage Whodunnits," edited by Maxim Jakubowski. The review comments that "Readers will look in vain for Agatha Christie, Ellery

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Queen and John Dickson Carr, though Jakubowski includes a negligible locked-room puzzle by E. Charles Vivian, superfluous stories from Poe and Conan Doyle and unclassifiable curios by M.P. Shiel and C. Daly King." The Doyle story is "The Adventure of the Three Students."

806. "A man divided." Economist 385, no. 8549 (2007): 98-99.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article reviews the books "Conan Doyle: The Man Who Created Sherlock Holmes," by Andrew Lycett and "Arthur Conan Doyle: A Life in Letters," edited by Jon Lellenberg.
807. "A Man of Many Mysteries." Wall Street Journal - Eastern Edition, 09/20/, 2000: A24.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on the accusations of writer Rodger Garrick-Steele that novelist Sir Arthur Conan Doyle stole the idea for the 1901 Sherlock Holmes novel 'The Hound of the Baskervilles' from his friend Bertram Fletcher Robinson. Reaction from the Sherlock Holmes Society.
808. "The Man Who Created Sherlock Holmes: The Life and Times of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle." Publishers Weekly 254, no. 41 (2007): 53-53.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of the Doyle biography by Andrew Lycett. Free Press, $30 (416p) ISBN 978-0-7432-7523-1
809. "The Man Who Created Sherlock Holmes: The Life and Times of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle." Kirkus Reviews 75, no. 19 (2007): 1037-1037.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "The Man Who Created Sherlock Holmes: The Life and Times of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle," by Andrew Lycett.
810. The man who disappeared. [S.l.]: Blowout Entertainment, Inc., 1998. Visual Material 1 videocassette (23 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS format. "1060." Videocassette release of the 1951 film with the title The man with the twisted lip. Based on a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: John Longden, Campbell Singer, Hector Ross, Ninka Dolega, Beryl Baxter, Walter Gotell. Dryer & Weenolsen Productions, Inc. present ; directed by Richard M. Grey. // Sherlock Holmes is consulted by a distraught wife whose husband is missing. She is sure she saw him in the window of an opium den, but when the police arrive and search the premises, they find only a beggar and an Indian seaman.
811. Mandatory sentence. London, Ont: M. Duncanson, 1995-.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
812. The many faces of Sherlock Holmes. Richmond Hill, Ontario: BFS Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (126 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col., with b&w sequences ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Documentary originally broadcast on PBS television in 1985. Participants: Documentary: Presenter, Christopher Lee. The secret weapon: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Lionel Atwill, William Post, Jr. Avery Productions, in cooperation with International Tele-Film Enterprises and Scott Entertainment, inc. ; producers, Ray Atherton, Michael R. Avery ; director, Michael Muscal. Documentary: Directors of photography, Peter Kreklow, Steve Haskitt ; writer, Bob Greenburg ; editor, Stuart C. Shook. The secret weapon: Director, Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Edward T. Lowe, W. Scott Darling, Edmund L. Hartmann. // Christopher Lee hosts an overview of Sherlock Holmes as Arthur Conan Doyle wrote of him, as portrayed on the stage, on radio, television, and in the motion pictures by dozens of actors from 1900 to 1985. Includes complete presentation of the 1942 motion picture, The secret weapon, starring Basil Rathbone.
813. The many faces of Sherlock Holmes: the men behind the the man of mystery. Richmond Hill, Ontario: BFS Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videocassette (126 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. & b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS. Documentary originally broadcast on PBS television. Special features: also included is The Secret Weapon, starring Basil Rathbone, the definitive Sherlock Holmes. Participants: Presenter, Christopher Lee. Avery Productions Inc. ; RPH Productions ; Scott Entertainment, Inc. // Meet the men who gave life to fiction's greatest sleuth, from a rare interview with creator Sir Arthur Conan Doyle to in-depth looks at the screen stars who portrayed Holmes in hundreds of films.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

814. "March on Stage." American Theatre 22, no. 3 (2005): 60-71.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a schedule of theatrical performances in the U.S. for March 2005. Lists Asolo Theater Company, Sarasota, Florida production of The West End Horror: The New Sherlock Holmes Mystery! and the Red Barn Theatre, Key West, production of Sherlock's Secret Life.
815. "Mark Moffet." Natural History 109, no. 10 (2000): 102.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents an article on nature photography, with a passing reference to Doyle. "...being among the first to visit one of Venezuela's flat-topped tepui mountains (subject of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's Lost World)..."
816. "Mark Your Calendar." Writing 28, no. 6 (2006): 5-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Notes Doyle's birthday on May 22, 1895.
817. "Mark Your Calendars." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 1, no. 1 (1997): 4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Announcement of the 1998 membership meeting of the Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections in conjunction with the 50th anniversary celebration of the Norwegian Explorers, August 7-9.
818. "Mark Your Calendars." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 1, no. 2 (1997): 6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Announcement of the 1998 membership meeting of the Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections in conjunction with the 50th anniversary celebration of the Norwegian Explorers, August 7-9.
819. "Mark Your Calendars." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 1, no. 3 (1997): 6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Announcement of the 1998 membership meeting of the Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections in conjunction with the 50th anniversary celebration of the Norwegian Explorers, August 7-9.
820. "Mark Your Calendars." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 1, no. 4 (1997): 6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Announcement of the 1998 membership meeting of the Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections in conjunction with the 50th anniversary celebration of the Norwegian Explorers, August 7-9.
821. "The master detective on screen." The Times (London), September 2, 2002: 19.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Sherlock Holmes has been played by nearly 100 actors in more than 200 films. Ellie Norwood, a hit as Holmes in 47 films in the early 1920s, tackled the role with a De Niro-like intensity. He read all the stories, learnt to play the violin (presumably badly) and wore a dressing gown given to him by Arthur Conan Doyle. But he grew weary of the part. Basil Rathbone, partnered by Nigel Bruce's amiable old buffer of a Watson, made the role his own in the 1940s....Most post-Rathbone Holmeses have been a rather dreary lot. Perhaps the role's need for both restraint and flamboyance cancel each other out....Their old foe Moriarty features in the forthcoming The League of Extraordinary Gentlemen, in which he does battle with Dr Jekyll and Captain Nemo. Holmes's big-screen future currently looks as if he'll have to play second fiddle. As we know already, that's not a sweet- sounding prospect."
822. "Master Sleuths." The Statesman (India), March 20, 2001: 1.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Inspired by Sherlock Holmes and his acute powers of observation and reasoning, Satyajit Ray created his own Bengali super sleuth. Prodosh Chandra Mitter or Feluda to his fans and his cousin Topse, was a master sleuth...."
823. "Math, Computers." SciTech Book News 28, no. 2 (2004): 12-33.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Lists several books related to mathematics and computers. "Concurrent and Distributed Computing in Java," by Vijay Kumar Garg; "Foundations of Algorithms Using Java Pseudocode,"

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

by Richard E. Neapolitan and Kumarss Naimipour; "Sherlock Holmes in Babylon and Other Tales of Mathematical History," edited by Marlow Anderson et al.

824. The mazarin stone. [Oak Forest, IL]: MPI Home Video, 1995. Visual Material 1 videocassette (50 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. The memoirs of Sherlock Holmes / by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.
VHS. Hi-fi stereo. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke, Charles Gray, Rosalie Williams.
screenplay by Gary Hopkins ; produced by June Wyndham Davies ; directed by Peter Hammond ; executive producer, Sally Head ; made by Granada Television of England in association with WGBH/Boston. //
825. The mazarin stone. [London?]: Granada Video, 1994. Visual Material 1 videocassette (50 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. The memoirs of Sherlock Holmes.; VHS. Hi-fi stereo. Participants:
Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke, Charles Gray, Rosalie Williams. Granada Television in association with WGBH/Boston. //
826. "McCormick's Quick Takes on Biographies." U.S.Catholic 65, no. 4 (2000): 38.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents information on four books on biographies, including 'The Professor and the Madman,' by Simon Winchester, with a passing reference to Holmes. "Simon Winchester's fascinating account of Professor James Murray and Dr. William Chester Minor has all the elements of a Sherlock Holmes adventure."
827. "McCormick's Quick Takes on Memorable Detectives." U.S.Catholic 70, no. 1 (2005): 44-45.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the performance of several detective characters in motion pictures.
Performance of Jeremy Brett in the film "The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes" and other Sherlock Holmes movies; Physical description of the character Poirot portrayed by David Suchet in the film "Poirot"; Portrayal of detective Jane Tennison by Helen Mirren in the film "Prime Suspect."
828. "McDonalds Toy with Conan Plan." Daily Mail (London), January 15, 2000: 31.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Burger chain McDonald's last night accepted for the first time that a historic Scottish house due to be flattened for a fast food restaurant was once the home of Sherlock Holmes' creator Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. In a statement the company said after advice from archaeological and heritage experts it agreed Conan Doyle had lived in the house between the ages of five and seven. But despite the acceptance of the 'cultural value of this heritage asset' the company has not abandoned plans to sell hamburgers from the site of the 18th century house at Nether Liberton, Edinburgh...."
829. "The Medea of Kew Gardens Hills." Legal Studies Forum 29, no. 2 (2005): 659-674.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports on the mysterious disappearance and homicide of Eddie Jr., and his four-year-old sister Alice also known as Missy, children of Eddie and Alice Crimmins. Description of both parents;
Highlights of the criminal investigation on the case; Information on the prosecution case of Alice Crimmins.
Reference to Doyle. From the article: "The court was influenced by the affiant's seven year delay in coming forward, and commented scathingly that the affidavit 'offers an imaginative alternative hypothetical explanation [of the crime], worthy of concoction by an A. Conan Doyle."
830. "Meet the Editorial Board." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 2, no. 3 (1998): 6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents short biographical profiles of the editorial board of the Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections newsletter: Julie McKuras, Bruce E. Southworth, and Richard J. Sveum.
831. Meitantei Holmes Famous detective Holmes. [Long Beach, Calif.]: Pioneer Entertainment, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (125 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. TMS DVD collection; DVD, Dolby digital mono. Title appears in Kanji and Katakana on opening credits screen. English dubbed episode titles: 1. The four signatures -- 2.
The crown of Mazalin -- 3. A small client -- 4. Mrs. Hudson is taken hostage -- 5. The adventure of the blue carbunkle [sic]. Features: interactive menus, scene selection. Participants: Japanese voices: Taichio Hirokawa, Kousei Tomito, Chikao Otsuka; English voices: Larry Moss, Lewis Arquette, Pat Parris, Hamilton Camp.
Originally broadcast on Japanese television beginning 1984. produced by RAI, Rever, TMS Entertainment,

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Ltd. ; produced by Yoshimitsu Takahashi ; chief directors, Hayao Miyazaki, Kyosuke Mikuriya ; scripts, Hayao Miyazaki ... [et al.] ; original concept, Marco Pagot. Director of photography, Akio Wakana ; art directors, Nizo Yamamoto, Jin Kageyama ; animation directors, ; animators, ; editor, Shuichi Kakesu ; music, Kentaro Haneda. // Sherlock Hound and his canine companion Dr. Watson battle the evil Professor Moriarty.

832. Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes. [Oak Forest, IL]: MPI Home Video : Distributed by PBS, 1994. Visual Material 6 videocassettes (300 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS. Hi-fi stereo. "MP7085-MP7090"--Labels. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke, Rosalie Williams. Granada Television in association with WGBH/Boston. Producer, Michael Cox. //
833. The memoirs of Sherlock Holmes. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 1995. Visual Material 6 videocassettes (306 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS. Based on The memoirs of Sherlock Holmes by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally broadcast on television. Hi-fi, stereo. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke, Rosalie Williams. screenplay by T.R. Bowen, Jeremy Paul, Gary Hopkins ; produced by June Wyndham Davies ; directed by Sarah Hellings, Peter Hammond ; Granada Television in association with WGBH/Boston. Director of photography, Doug Hallows ; camera operator, Gordon MacGregor ; art director, Bill Crutcher ; graphic design, Keith Aldred ; film editor, Charles Alexander ; music, Patrick Gowers. //
834. The memoirs of Sherlock Holmes DVD collection. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2004. Visual Material 3 videodiscs (ca. 330 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, full screen (1.33:1) presentation; Dolby Digital. Originally released as television motion pictures in 1991. Based on the novels by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Special features: commentary with screenwriter Jeremy Paul and Holmes expert David Stuart Davis; an interview with Adrian Conan Doyle; production notes. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke, Rosalie Williams. Audience: MPAA rating: Not rated. produced by Granada Television ; WGBH Boston ; producer, June Wyndham-Davies ; writers, T.R. Bowen, Gary Hopkins, Jeremy Paul ; directed by Peter Hammond, Sarah Hellings. Director of photography, Doug Hallows ; editor, Paul Griffiths-Davies ; music, Patrick Gowers ; costume designer, Esther Dean. //
835. The memoirs of Sherlock Holmes. The cardboard box. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 1995. Visual Material 1 videocassette (50 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. The memoirs of Sherlock Holmes; MP7087. Stereo. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke, Rosalie Williams. Sarah Hellings, director ; June Wyndham Davies, producer ; Sally Head, executive producer ; T.R. Bowen, screenplay ; Patrick Gowers, music. //
836. The Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes. Volume two. [London]: Granada Television, 2003. Visual Material 3 videocassettes (VHS) (ca. 300 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Based on a collection of stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Distributors: Granada Video, Universal (2001). Granada: 9061393. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke. produced by June Wyndham Davies. // Adapted from the original collection of short stories and presented here as six full length stories of the exploits of the world's greatest detective.
837. "The Merchant of Menace [Advertisement]." Canadian Holmes 17, no. 3 (1994): 33.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Advertisement for the Sleuth of Baker Street in Toronto.
838. "The Merchant of Menace [Advertisement]." Canadian Holmes 17, no. 4 (1994): 27.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Advertisement for the Sleuth of Baker Street in Toronto.
839. Merriam-Webster's encyclopedia of literature. Springfield, Mass: Merriam-Webster, 1995.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 94042741; Scuttlebutt Jan 1996 // "Has entries for Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, Sherlock Holmes, and The Hound of the Baskervilles; the anonymous author of the entry on

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Conan Doyle didn't confirm the titles of all the Sherlock Holmes book, but it's nice to see continuing attention paid to the Canon and its author."

840. "Midwest Bookends." Publishers Weekly 249, no. 33 (2002): 46.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on trade shows and congresses of booksellers associations in the U.S. in September 2002 including the congress of the Upper Midwest Booksellers Association in Saint Paul, Minnesota. "On Saturday morning, the tried-and-true UMBA Book and Author Breakfast features regional writers Jerry Apps (Stormy), Larry Millett (The Disappearance of Sherlock Holmes)..."

841. "Milngavie to Nowhere." The Herald (Glasgow), July 31, 2007: 10.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The good burghers of Milngavie, to the north-west of Glasgow, were given a glimpse of the future in July 1930, when George Bennie unveiled a full-size working prototype of his innovative Railplane....Bennie's prototype, which was built above a railway sidings on the London and North-Eastern Railway Company line at Kilmardinny, ran for around a quarter of a mile. The overhead monorail track was constructed by The Teeside Bridge and Engineering Works, and the aluminium-sheathed carriage was built by William Beardmore of Dalmeir....In the same month that the Bennie Railplane entered public life, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, creator of Sherlock Holmes and Dr Watson, exited. Sir Arthur, who was born in Edinburgh in 1859, died at his home near Crowborough, Sussex, on July 7, 1930. Doyle, who trained as a doctor at Edinburgh University, worked as a ship's surgeon before beginning general practice in Portsmouth, where he began writing the Sherlock Holmes stories. The first of these, A Study in Scarlet, brought the impecunious young medic L20. The Herald's obituary, published on July 8, 1930, summed up his career as a writer: 'None of Conan Doyle's work was literature of the first class, and he was never taken very seriously by the critics; but in Sherlock Holmes he created a genuine character and produced a genuine atmosphere.'"

842. Milton Berle's Buick hour. Hicksville, NY: Distributed by Best Film & Video Corp., 1997. Visual Material 6 videocassettes (ca. 110 min. each).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS format. "C1997 DCC compact classics." Participants: Milton Berle, Frank Sinatra, Tallulah Bankhead, Martha Raye, Vic Damone, Dagmar, Jackie Cooper, Denise Darcel, Carol Channing, Peter Lawford, Maria Riva, Robert Cummings, Gertrude Berg, Jane Froman, Charlie Applewhite, Sid Caesar, Judith Anderson, Jack Webb, Lisa Kirk, Steve Allen, Janet Blair, Ezzard Charles. NBC Television. Director, Greg Garrison ; producer, Irving Gray ; writers, Goodman Ace ... [et al.] ; music and lyrics, Jerry Seelen, Phil Charig. // Includes 12 episodes of the Buick-Berle variety show originally shown in [1953?] on NBC.

843. Milton Berle's Buick hour. Volume three. Hicksville, NY: Image Entertainment, 1999. Visual Material 1 videodisc (110 min. each).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. DVD; Dolby Digital mono; NTSC. "ID5468BFDVD." Participants: Milton Berle, Dagmar, Carol Channing, Mickey Spillaine, the Hilltoppers, Peter Lawford, Maria Riva. Director, Greg Garrison; producer, Irving Gray; writers, Goodman Ace ... [et al.]; music and lyrics, Jerry Seelen, Phil Charig. // Includes 2 episodes of the Buick-Berle variety show on NBC.

844. Minnesota's resource treasures, special library collections. University of Minnesota Special Collections, Sherlock Holmes Collection [sic]. [Saint Paul, MN]: Metronet, 1999. Visual Material 1 videocassette (27:20).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS format. Title from container. Participants: Narrators: Tim Johnson and Jamie Hubbs. //

845. "MIP-TV listings." Electronic Media 18, no. 15 (1999): 42.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents information on television programs offered at the 1999 MIP TV gathering. Includes two listings for Doyle's The Lost World.

846. "Miscellaneous Book Awards." World Almanac & Book of Facts, no. (2008): 256-256.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article announces the recipients of book awards in 2007 including and Edgar awards for Best Critical/Biographical: The Science of Sherlock Holmes: From Baskerville Hall to the Valley of Fear, E. J. Wagner; Best Play: Sherlock Holmes: The Final Adventure, Steven Dietz.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

847. "Miscellany." Writer 117, no. 4 (2004): 8-10.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Features several writers and the factors that they consider in making a good story. Reason behind the success of Mary Higgins Clark... Passing reference to Holmes. "When I was 15, I was picking out clothes that I would wear when I became a successful writer," Mary Higgins Clark says. Often dubbed the "queen of suspense," she offers this tip for writers who hope to become successful: "Turn around, look at your shelves and ask yourself, 'What do I like to read?' I'd started with Nancy Drew. I remember reading The Bobbsey Twins when I was 6. Then I went on to Agatha Christie, of course, and Sherlock Holmes, and I was always trying to keep up with the author."

848. "Miscellany." Writer 116, no. 7 (2003): 10.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Provides information on topics and issues related to literature as of July 2003. Includes reference to Doyle and Holmes under entry for Laurie R. King. "Had Laurie R. King known just how dedicated fans of Sherlock Holmes could be to the sanctity of Arthur Conan Doyle's stories, she wonders if she would have been so eager to invent Mary Russell, Holmes' investigative equal and eventual lovestruck. 'No, come to think of it, I probably wouldn't have [hesitated],' she tells Mystery Readers International. Holmes, she says, 'needed a change, of the sort that opened up the aspects of his personality not previously explored during his Baker Street days.'...King's Mary Russell novels begin with The Beekeeper's Apprentice, when Holmes retires from his investigations to raise bees in the country. King points out that historically, 'Holmes responds to strong, capable women,' noting that the only female known to have 'tweaked his interest' was Irene Adler, the one person who was able to outwit him in a case. Holmes needed a challenge, says King--and in Mary Russell, 'he got one.'"

849. "Mixed company." New Yorker 70, no. 42 (1994): 42.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Criticizes the article from the 'Times Book Review' entitled 'The Joy of Compulsion' evaluating the tones of various specialties of celebrities. Writer Anne Perry on Sherlock Holmes; Museum director Thomas Hoving on collectors; Claus von Bulow on Newport mansions.

850. "Modern Fiction Studies Biannual Index: Volumes 48 (2002) and 49 (2003)." MFS Modern Fiction Studies 50, no. 2 (2004): 542-549.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a reference to Doyle. Huh, Jinny. "Whispers of Norbury: Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and the Modernist Crisis of Racial (Un)Detection." 49.3: 550-80.

851. "The Monitor's 1997 movie guide." Christian Science Monitor, Dec 26, 1997: B1.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents the 'Christian Science Monitor' guide to movies for 1997. An alphabetical listing of the motion pictures released in 1997 with reviews for each one; Includes Fairytale--A True Story. "Two girls snap a photo of fairies in their family's English garden, sparking different responses from interested parties, including the author Arthur Conan Doyle, who believes in supernatural beings, and the magician Harry Houdini, who takes a skeptical view of such matters. Charles Sturridge's fantasy is slow and complicated for very young viewers, but others will enjoy its wholesome story and detailed depiction of the World War I era, not to mention the fairyland scenes, which are truly magical. The strong cast includes Peter O'Toole as the celebrated writer and Harvey Keitel as the world's greatest escape artist....Heartwarming, intricate, marvelous fairy effects."

852. "The Monitor's Annual Best of Books / 2008." Christian Science Monitor, 12/02, 2008: 13-15.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes one entry with a passing reference to Doyle: The Black Tower by Louis Bayard. (William Morrow, 368 pp., $24.95). "In this thriller, which reads like Alexandre Dumas with a little Conan Doyle mixed in, Louis Bayard borrows from Edgar Allan Poe, appropriating the real-life inspiration for Poe's very first detective story, protagonist Eugene Francois Vidocq, a criminal who became one of the first private detectives and the first director of France's Sûreté Nationale. " 853. Monster blood. Beverly Hills, CA: 20th Century Fox Home Entertainment, 2008. Visual Material 1 videodisc (87 min.).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, full screen (1.33:1) presentation; Dolby Digital 2.0 stereo. Based on the books by R. L. Stine. Special features: Goosebumps HorrorLand game for Wii, DS & PS2; Goosebumps HorrorLand: what to expect in HorrorLand; Garfield's fun fest; Garfield pet force. Participants: Hosted by R. L. Stine ; Episode 1. Kyle Labine (Evan), Sarah Podemski (Andy), Corinne Conley (Aunt Katherine) ; Episode 2. Kyle Labine (Evan), Ashley Dawn Brown (Julia), Charles Boyland (Conan) ; Episode 3. Courtney Hawkrigg (Gretchen), Ricky Mabe (Clark) ; Episode 4. Deborah Scorsone (Lucy), Eugene Lipinski (Mr. Mortman), Christopher Tuah (Aaron). Audience: Not rated. a Protocol Entertainment Production in association with Scholastic Productions, Saban International ; producer, Steve Levitan ; co-producer Patrick Doyle. Director of photography, Brian R. R. Hebb (episodes 1, 2, & 4), Barry Berghthorson (episode 3) ; editors, Peter Light (episodes 1 & 2), Robert K. Sprogis (episodes 3 & 4) ; music by Jack Lenz. // The girl who cried monster: Lucy is obsessed with monster stories. She tells so many that her family and friends are getting sick of it, especially her brother Randy. So her mom tells her goes to the library to fill up her time during summer with her friend, Aaron. Lucy finds the librarian, Mr. Mortman somewhat eccentric. But she cannot quite put the finger on it.

854. The moonstone. 1997. Visual Material.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Mobil masterpiece theatre. From the novel by Wilkie Collins. Copyright notice on videocassette: c1996 by BBC and 1997 by WGBH Educational Fund. Participants: Greg Wise (Franklin Blake); Antony Sher (Sgt. Cuff); Patricia Hodge, Peter Vaughan, Peter Jeffrey, Lesley Sharp, Paul Brooke, Scott Handy, Anton Lesser, Keeley Hawes (Rachel); Terrence Hardimann, Mellan Mitchell, Rachel Lumberg, Nicholas Lane, Surinder Duhra, Kacey Ainsworth, Roger Walker, Janet Henfrey, Elizabeth Berrington, Bobby Bernard, Anthony Cumber, Carl Forgione, Andy Devine. Host: Russell Baker. Produced: United States ; Great Britain. Version: U.S. PBS broadcast version. BBC Television and WGBH Boston in association with CTE (Carlton Ltd.) ; executive producers, George Faber, Rebecca Eaton ; producer, Chris Parr ; director, Robert Bierman ; writer, Kevin Elyot. Editor, Frances Parker; photography, John Daly; music, Rick Wentworth. // "A faithful adaptation of Wilkie Collins' 1868 novel, characterized by host Russell Baker as a 'literary landmark' that introduced elements of the classic mystery story as well as a brilliant and eccentric sleuth--20 years before Arthur Conan Doyle created Sherlock Holmes. As the story opens, Franklin Blake delivers to his cousin Rachel the precious diamond she's inherited from an uncle (who stole the stone from a Hindu shrine). But the morning after she receives it, the gem vanishes--and its disappearance triggers a strange chain of events that seems to confirm its reputation for being cursed. Enter the venerable detective, Sgt. Cuff"--TV guide, November 2, 1997.

855. "'more impressive in imagination'." Canadian Holmes 18, no. 1 (1994): 22-30.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

856. "The most complex case for Sherlock; coffee break Preview Sherlock Holmes Torch Theatre, Milford Haven." The Western Mail, October 1, 2008: 26.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "One of the world's greatest fictional detectives confronts the most complex case of all - his own psyche - in a new Sherlock Holmes production which comes to Wales this week. In this staged fantasy based on fiction, Arthur Conan Doyle tires of his famous sleuth and creates arch-villain Professor Moriarty to dispose of him....Funny, engaging and dark, this tale of murder, mystery and the occult is a play which is packed with ideas - and it's also the perfect form of entertainment....The play features Roger Llewellyn as Holmes....Following his international success in Sherlock Holmes...The Last Act, the new play has been created and directed by the renowned author David Stuart Davies, directed by Gareth Armstrong and it features original music from the Royal Shakespeare Company's composer Simon Slater."

857. "Most Improved...Robert Downey, Jr." Maclean's 121, no. 45 (2008): 90-90.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reports on an incident that befell Robert Downey Jr., an actor, on the set of the motion picture "Sherlock Holmes," directed by Guy Ritchie. According to the piece, a tobacco pipe being used as a prop in the film fell into Downey's lap, igniting a fire on his crotch which was extinguished by co-star Jude Law.

858. "Movies." New Yorker 81, no. 35 (2005): 26-32.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This section presents information on the latest movies playing in various theaters in New York City, as of November 7, 2005. Included is a listing at the Museum of the Moving Image for the November 5-6 showing of "The Private Life of Sherlock Holmes."

859. "MPAA ratings." Variety 355, no. 3: 20.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Lists the Motion Picture Association of America's (MPAA) ratings for various movies. Includes 'Arizona Dream'; 'The Last Party'; 'One Night Stand'; 'Silent Fall'; 'Warriors'; 'Beverly Hills Cop III'; 'Dark Secrets'; 'Eden 6'; 'White'; 'Sioux City'; 'Wyatt Earp'; 'The Cowboy Way'; 'The Private Life of Sherlock Holmes'; 'Renaissance Man'; 'The Wedding Gift'; 'French Silk'; 'Maverick'.

860. "Multimedia source guide." T H E Journal 22, no. 10 (1995): 1.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Offers a listing of multimedia sources for 1995-96. Computers; CD-ROM drives; Presentation Devices; Video & graphics devices; Audio products; Networks; Mass storage devices; Distributors and vendors. Includes entry for Creative Multimedia Corp. "Sherlock Holmes on Disc."

861. "Mummies and Rocket Ships Blast Off for Reading." American Libraries 28, no. 8 (1997): 23-23.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Shows participants in summer 1997 reading programs at several public libraries. Includes a photo caption with reference to Holmes. "A Sherlock Holmes exhibit attracted Grace Kim and Jolina Warren to Fullerton (Calif.) Public Library's 'Library Detectives, Inc.'"

862. Murder by decree. Troy, MI: Anchor Bay, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (124 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, widescreen presentation. DVD release of the 1978 motion picture. Features include: audio commentary with co-producer/director Bob Clark; theatrical trailer; still gallery; talent bios; DVD-ROM with original screenplay. Participants: Christopher Plummer, James Mason, David Hemmings, Susan Clark, Anthony Quayle, John Gielgud, Frank Finlay, Donald Sutherland, Genevieve Bujold. producers, Rene Dupont and Bob Clark ; screenplay, John Hopkins ; director, Bob Clark. Music, Carl Zittler and Paul Zaza. //

863. Murder by decree. [S.l.]: Momentum Pictures, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (118 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd, col. Released in 1978. director, Bob Clark. //

864. The murder of Sherlock Holmes. Terre Haute, IN: Columbia House, 1997. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 105 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Murder, she wrote; VHS. Closed-captioned for the hearing impaired. Participants: Angela Lansbury. The pilot episode of the television series "Murder, She Wrote" originally broadcast on Sept. 30, 1984. Universal Home Video ; created by Peter S. Fischer, Richard Levinson and William Link. Produced by Robert F. O'Neill. // This two-hour pilot tells how English teacher Jessica becomes a best-selling mystery author with a knack for solving real murders.

865. Murder rooms. [s.l.]: Australian Broadcasting Corporation, 2002. Visual Material 2 videocassettes (VHS) (ca. 179 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. 103411. Participants: Ian Richardson, Charles Edwards. Directed by Tim Fywell, Paul Marcus ; produced by Alison Jackson ; written by David Pirie, Paul Billing. // Misteries of the real Sherlock Holmes. Dr Bell and his young protegee Doyle strive to unravel some of the most puzzling and gruesome crimes known to police.

866. Murder rooms the dark beginnings of Sherlock Holmes. Orland Park, IL: MPI Home Video, 2006. Visual Material 2 videodiscs (ca. 360 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- anamorphic, sd., col. and b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, all regions, widescreen (1.78:1) presentation; Dolby Digital 2.0 stereo. Originally broadcast on television in 2001. Participants: Charles Edwards, Ian Richardson. British Broadcasting Corporation. // The story of the relationship between the young Arthur Conan Doyle and his real-life mentor and noted forensic scientist, Dr. Joseph Bell, as they unite to solve the most baffling murder cases in Victorian Scotland.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

867. Murder rooms. The kingdom of bones. [Hertfordshire, U.K.]: IMC Vision, 2001. Visual Material 1 videodisc (90 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD (PAL ; area code: 2); Dolby Digital 2.0; aspect ratio 4:3. Originally broadcast on television in September 25, 2001. Participants: Ian Richardson, Charles Edwards, Ian McNeice./ Audience: Rating: 12. Produced in association with the Television Production Company plc. ; a BBC Films, WGBH Boston Co-production ; director, Simon Langton ; producer, Alison Jackson ; writer, Stephen Gallagher. // Doyle assists his friend Reuben Proctor who has recently acquired an Egyptian mummy. They arrange for a gala evening at the museum where two eminent professors - Doyle's mentor Dr. Bell being one of them - will unveil the embalmed remains of the Egyptian princess and perform an autopsy. To everyone's surprise, they find not a princess but a man who was recently murdered. As they investigate, Doyle and Bell uncover a group of expatriate rebels plotting to create havoc. They work frantically to stop them before they spread terror among the population of London.
868. Murder rooms. The photographer's chair. [Hertfordshire, U.K.]: IMC Vision, 2001. Visual Material 1 videodisc (90 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD (PAL ; area code: 2); Dolby Digital 2.0; aspect ratio 4:3. Originally broadcast on television in September 18, 2001. Participants: Ian Richardson, Charles Edwards, Henry Goodman. Audience: Rating: 15. Produced in association with the Television Production Company plc. ; a BBC Films, WGBH Boston Co-production ; director, Paul Marcus ; producer, Alison Jackson ; writer, Paul Billing. // Drs. Arthur Conan Doyle and Joseph Bell investigate when the police find two bodies floating in the river. Both seemed to have victims of the same killer as they have similar bruising and were similarly strangled. One of the victims is identified by her brother Charles and he is a suspect as they had a recent falling out. When a third body is found, it's identified as Dr. Ibbotson, the local coroner who was a drunk and discredited as a member of the medical profession. Meanwhile Doyle continues to grieve for his murdered fiancée and believes he saw her outside a hypnotist show. When Charles asks Doyle to attend a séance in an attempt to speak to his dead sister, he again sees his fiancée. Doyle is drawn to the world of spiritualism, but it is Bell who discovers a connection with a local photographer.
869. Murder rooms. The white knight stratagem. [Hertfordshire, U.K.]: IMC Vision, 2001. Visual Material 1 videodisc (90 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD (PAL ; area code: 2); Dolby Digital 2.0; aspect ratio 4:3. Originally broadcast on television in October 2, 2001. Participants: Ian Richardson, Charles Edwards, Rik Mayall, Anton Lesser and Annette Crosbie./ Audience: Rating: 12. Produced in association with the Television Production Company plc. ; a BBC Films ; WGBH Boston Co-production ; producer, Alison Jackson ; writer, Daniel Boyle ; director, Paul Marcus. // When Sir John Starr complains that the investigation into his son's murder is not producing results, the Chief Constable asks Dr. Joseph Bell to assist. Bell agrees but there is some animosity with the officer in charge of the case, Lt. Blaney, as they had recently clashed on a different case. Bell enlist the help of Dr. Doyle who is in Edinburgh to visit his father. The younger Starr was a money lender and he had recently foreclosed on an account resulting in a young woman committing suicide. For the first time however, Bell and Doyle do not see eye to eye on the case and Doyle finds himself siding with Lt. Blaney. When a suspect is killed, Bell begins to question his own abilities and feels that his time may have passed.
870. "Murder Short & Sweet." Kirkus Reviews 76, no. 18 (2008): 980-980.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "Murder Short & Sweet," edited by Paul D. Staudohar. "Arranged in no particular order, these 25, winnowed from an archive of thousands similarly gore-drenched, compose an anthology that had every chance to be better than it is....Stanley Ellin, Lawrence Block and Ellery Queen provide solid entries, but you've seen them all before. Also represented are those anthology warhorses Poe, Conan Doyle, Christie, Sayers and Dahl. No clinkers among them, of course, but their very inevitability gives the collection that unfortunate thrice-told feeling." The selected Doyle contribution is "The Adventure of Abbey Grange."
871. Murder, she wrote. The complete first season. [Universal City, CA]: Universal, 2005. Visual Material 3 videodiscs (1114 min.).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, widescreen presentation; Dolby Digital; double-sided. Originally broadcast on television during the 1984 season. Participants: Angela Lansbury, Jerry Orbach, Leslie Nielsen, Joaquin Phoenix, Andy Garcia. Audience: MPAA rating: Not rated. // Includes all 21 episodes from the unforgettable first season plus the pilot movie The Murder of Sherlock Holmes. Join super sleuth Jessica Fletcher and investigate every entertaining episode of Murder, She Wrote.

872. Murder, she wrote. The complete first season. [Universal City, CA]: Universal, 2004. Visual Material 3 videodiscs (1114 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, full frame (1.33:1); Dolby Digital; double-sided. Originally broadcast on television during the 1984 season. Participants: Angela Lansbury, Jerry Orbach, Leslie Nielsen, Joaquin Phoenix, Andy Garcia. // Includes all 21 episodes from the unforgettable first season plus the pilot movie The Murder of Sherlock Holmes. Join super sleuth Jessica Fletcher and investigate every entertaining episode of Murder, She Wrote.

873. Murder, she wrote. The complete first season, disc 1. [Universal City, CA]: Universal, 2005. Visual Material 1 videodisc.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, widescreen presentation; Dolby Digital; double-sided. Originally broadcast on television during the 1984 season. Participants: Angela Lansbury, Jerry Orbach, Leslie Nielsen, Joaquin Phoenix, Andy Garcia. // Includes 6 episodes from the unforgettable first season plus the pilot movie The Murder of Sherlock Holmes.

874. Murdoch Mysteries. Season 2. Silver Spring, MD: Acorn Media, 2010. Visual Material 4 videodiscs (ca. 598 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, widescreen presentation ; Dolby digital stereo. Characters adapted from the novels by Maureen Jennings. Contains all 13 episodes from the second season. Participants: Yannick Bisson, Hélène Joy, Thomas Craig, Jonny Harris. Audience: PG. a Shaftesbury Films Production in association with Granada International. Music, Robert Carli. // In the 1890's, Detective William Murdoch adopts modern techniques like 'finger marks' and forensics to track Toronto's most sinister killers. Though derided by his skeptical boss, Murdoch finds friends and allies in a lovely pathologist and an eager-to-learn constable. Along the way they cross paths with some of the era's most famous figures, including Nikola Tesla, Arthur Conan Doyle, and Prince Alfred.

875. "My Apologies, Watson: Our Corrections Department." The Holmes & Watson Report 5, no. 2 (2001): 14-15.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

876. My dear Uncle Sherlock. Troy, MI: Video Treasures ; distributed by Anchor Bay Entertainment, 1997. Visual Material 1 videocassette (24 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Spooky special; VHS. Originally shown on the television series ABC weekend specials. Adapted from the story of the same title by Hugh Pentecost. Participants: John Karlen, Vaughn Armstrong, John Milford, John Carter, Inga Swenson. Audience: Not rated. ABC ; made by ABC Circle Films. Producer, Allen Ducovny; director, Arthur H. Nadel; writer, Manya Starr. // A 12-year-old boy solves a mystery in his community using the powers of deductive reasoning he developed while playing Sherlock Holmes games with his uncle.

877. My dear Uncle Sherlock. Troy, MI: Video Treasures : Distributed by Anchor Bay Entertainment, 1999. Visual Material 1 videocassette (24 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. After school mystery theatre; VHS format. Not rated. Originally shown on the television series ABC weekend specials (1977). Adapted from the story of the same title by Hugh Pentecost. Participants: John Karlen, Vaughn Armstrong, John Milford, John Carter, Inga Swenson. ABC ; made by ABC Circle Films. Producer, Allen Ducovny; director, Arthur H. Nadel; writer, Manya Starr. // A 12-year-old boy solves a mystery in his community using the powers of deductive reasoning he developed while playing Sherlock Holmes games with his uncle.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

878. "Mysteries Reveal Message of Christmas; [Fourth Edition]." The Oregonian (Portland, OR), December 15, 1994: 06.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Something mysterious is going on in Bethlehem, and Sirlock and Watstein get to the bottom of it in "The Inn Kaper," a Christmas musical by St. Stephen Lutheran Church in Gladstone.; The musical will follow the indefatigable detective, Sirlock, and his trusty assistant, Watstein, as they uncover the meaning of Christmas, said Troy Lutz, youth director of the play. The characters are based on the Sherlock Holmes stories and placed in biblical times, he said.

879. Mysterious Circumstances. Princeton, NJ: Recording for the Blind & Dyslexic, 2005. Sound Recording Sound disc.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital mono. ; 4 3/4 in. Literature & thought. Originally published: Logan, IA : Perfection Learning, c2000. Audience: Grades 6-12. Distribution is restricted to RFB&D members who have a documented print disability such as a visual impairment, learning disability or other physical disability. // [This book] contains literature that challenges the reader, promotes critical thinking, and encourages independent exploration of genres, themes, and issues. -Back cover.

880. "Mystery." Publishers Weekly 249, no. 44 (2002): 30.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Features several mystery books on the best seller list in the U.S. as of November 2002. Mention of Doyle and Holmes. "In the most notable Sherlock Holmes pastiches, the great detective was essentially off-stage: Laurie King's seventh Mary Russell mystery, Justice Hall (Bantam), and David Pirie's The Patient's Eyes (St. Martin's Minotaur), with a young Conan Doyle playing Dr. Watson to Dr. Joseph Bell's Holmes."

881. Mystery & Intrigue. Novato, CA: Soundelux Audio ; [Petaluma, CA] : Mind's Eyes Audio, 1996. Sound Recording 4 sound cassettes (135 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog. Classic author collection. Title from container. //

882. Mystery classics 50 movie pack DVD collection. [s.l.]: Treeline Films, 2003. Visual Material 12 videodiscs.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w, col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD; double-sided. // A collection of 50 mystery films with intrigue and suspense. Most seem to be from the 1930s through the 1950s.

883. Mystery classics. Disk 4. [s.l.]: Treeline Films, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 284 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, double sided. "50 movie pack DVD collection."-- Container of set. Videodisc release of 4 motion pictures released 1932-1945. Part of a 12-disk set packaged in a single container. Participants: [Cast for Sherlock Holmes: the sign of four]: Arthur Wontner, Isla Bevan, Ian Hunter, Graham Soutten, Miles Malleon, Herbert Lomas, Gilbert Davis ; [Cast for Triumph of Sherlock Holmes]: Arthur Wontner, Lyn Harding, Leslie Perrins, Jane Carr, Ian Fleming, Charles Mortimer, ; [Cast for Sherlock Holmes: murder at the Baskervilles]: Arthur Wontner, Ian Hunter, Lyn Harding, John Trumbull, Robert Horton, Lawrence Grossmith ; [Cast for Sherlock Holmes: the woman in green]: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Hillary Brooke, Henry Daniell, Paul Cavanagh, Matthew Boulton, Eve Amber. Directors: Graham Cutts [Sherlock Holmes: the sign of four] ; Leslie S. Hiscott [Triumph of Sherlock Holmes] ; Thomas Bentley [Sherlock Holmes: murder at the Baskervilles] ; Roy William Neill [Sherlock Holmes: the woman in green]. // [Sherlock Holmes: the sign of four]: Holmes and Watson are determined to protect Mary Morstan who is threatened by an escaped murderer. The killer is looking for a stolen fortune and revenge on the man who stole it. [Triumph of Sherlock Holmes]: Holmes, retired to Sussex, is drawn into a last case when his arch enemy Moriarty arranges with an American gang to kill one John Douglas, a country gentleman with a mysterious past. Holmes' methods baffle Watson and Lestrade, but his results astonish them. In a long flashback, the victim's wife tells the story of the sinister Vermissa Valley. [Sherlock Holmes: murder at the Baskervilles]: Sherlock Holmes takes a vacation and visits his old friend Sir Henry Baskerville. His vacation ends when he suddenly finds himself in the middle of a double-murder mystery. Now he's got to find Professor Moriarty and the horse Silver Blaze before the great cup final horse race. [Sherlock Holmes: the woman in green]: Holmes and Watson investigate a series of bizarre and apparently unconnected murders, and the death of a possible suspect. The trail leads to a society of hypnotists and a mysterious, glamorous woman. The fiendish Dr. Moriarty, though reported hanged in Montevideo, is believed to be involved.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

884. Mystery classics. Disk 5. [S.l.]: Treeline Films, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 267 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, double sided. "50 movie pack DVD collection."--
 Container of set. Videodisc release of 4 motion pictures released 1933-1946. Part of a 12-disk set packaged in a single container. Participants: [Cast for Sherlock Holmes: a study in scarlet]: Reginald Owen, Anna May Wong, June Clyde, Alan Dinehart, John Warburton, Alan Mowbray, Warburton Gamble ; [Cast for Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon]: Rasil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Lionel Atwill, Kaaren Verne, William Post Jr, Dennis Hoey, Holmes Herbert, Mary Gordon ; [Cast for Sherlock Holmes: terror by night]: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Alan Mowbray, Dennis Hoey, Mary Forbes, Renee Godfrey ; [Cast for Sherlock Holmes: dressed to kill]: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Patricia Morison, Edmund Breon, Frederick Worlock, Carl Harbord. Directors: Edwin L. Marin [Sherlock Holmes: a study in scarlet] ; Roy William Neill [Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon] ; Roy William Neill [Sherlock Holmes: terror by night] ; Roy William Neill [Sherlock Holmes: dressed to kill]. // [Sherlock Holmes: a study in scarlet]: Members of an underground crime ring are being murdered. Holmes' investigation leads him to the beautiful Mrs. Pyke and to a stately ancestral home -- complete with screams in the foggy night, cloaked figures moving through secret passages, and a sinister Asian butler. The story bears little resemblance to the original A. Conan Doyle mystery. [Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon]: Starting in Switzerland, Sherlock Holmes rescues the inventor of a bomb-sight which the allies want to keep from the Nazis. Back in London it seems that the inventor is not all that he seemed. [Sherlock Holmes: terror by night]: Holmes is hired by Roland Carstairs to prevent the theft of the Star of Rhodesia, an enormous diamond owned by Carstairs' mother, Lady Margaret. Believing the diamond will be stolen on a train trip from London to Edinburgh, Holmes deftly switches diamonds with Lady Margaret while in her compartment. Soon after, Roland is murdered and the fake diamond is stolen. Red herrings abound as Holmes, aided by Dr. Watson and Inspector Lestrade, discover the murderer's hiding place and deduce that long-time foe Moriarty's henchman Colonel Sebastian Moran is somehow involved in the crime. [Sherlock Holmes: dressed to kill]: A convicted thief in Dartmoor prison hides the location of the stolen Bank of England printing plates inside three music boxes. When the innocent purchasers of the boxes start to be murdered, Holmes and Watson investigate.
885. "Mystery Notes." Publishers Weekly 252, no. 50 (2005): 45-46.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Notes publication of The Mammoth Book of Vintage Who-dunnits, edited by Maxim Jakubowski. (Carroll & Graf, $13.95 paper 512p ISBN 1-59058-169-5) "The usual suspects are there of course, spinning their tales effortlessly and effectively, like Wilkie Collins with The Biter Bit, Baroness Orczy with The Dublin Mystery, Alexandre Dumas with Markheim, and the inevitable Edgar Allan Poe with The Purloined Letter and Arthur Conan Doyle with The Adventure of the Three Students -- not the best Sherlock Holmes mystery, but not a bad pick for this compilation...."
886. "Mystery Notes." Publishers Weekly 251, no. 14 (2004): 45-46.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a list of mystery books. Murder Is No Mitzvah: Short Mysteries About Jewish Occasions, edited by Abigail Browning, collects a dozen Jewish-themed crime stories, 11 of which first appeared in either Ellery Queen's Mystery Magazine or Alfred Hitchcock's Mystery Magazine. The one classic tale, "The Jew's Breastplate," is by Arthur Conan Doyle. (St. Martin's Minotaur/Dunne, $23.95 288p ISBN 0-312-32506-1)
887. "Mystery of Sherlock Holmes' missing papers." The Irish Times, March 20, 2004: 20.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Forty years after their disappearance, the lost personal papers of the author of Sherlock Holmes, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, have been found in London. They will be put up for auction by Christie's in May of this year and are sure to generate interest from his fans worldwide. They are expected to make about (pounds) 2 million. The collection consists of the contents of Sir Arthur's writing desk at the time of his death, personal letters to his family, handwritten manuscripts (the bulk of which were never published) and various memorabilia relating to his life. The collection, which was lost in a lawyer's office in London, caused great excitement in Christie's Books and Manuscripts Department when it had the job of opening the dozen or so cardboard boxes which contained it. Many of these papers were listed in the 1949 biography of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle by Dickson Carr but they were lost fairly soon afterwards and as a result, have been unavailable to contemporary researchers...."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

888. The mystery of the fabulous hat. New York: Sony Wonder, 1997. Visual Material 1 videocassette (30 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Puzzle Place ; Program 147; VHS. Hi-fi Dolby stereo on linear tracks. KCET Los Angeles ; Lancit Media Productions, Ltd. // "In this program Leon learns that playing Sherlock Holmes isn't enough to solve a mystery. He needs Dr. Watson, his teammate Ben. Everyone learns that being part of a team means respecting your teammates and appreciating their unique contributions. " (Container.)

889. "Mystery surrounds 'murder' of Sherlock Holmes fan." Liverpool Echo, Dec 13, 2004: 3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Wirral-born Richard Lancelyn Green, 50, a biographer of author Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, was discovered garrotted with a shoelace tightened around his neck with a wooden spoon. John Gibson, who co-edited a Conan Doyle bibliography with Mr Lancelyn Green in 1983, believes his colleague set up a false trail of clues to make his death look like foul play."

890. Mystery theatre. Toronto: Scenario Productions, 1999. Sound Recording 4 sound cassettes (ca. 2 hr each).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog. SP audio classics. "From the archives of CBC Radio Canada"--Container. In container (18 cm). Contents: v. 1. The tell-tale heart / by Edgar Allan Poe. The kitchen table / by Alan King. Sight unseen / by Dorothy Davis. Adventures of the noble bachelor / by Arthur Conan Doyle -- v. 2. The hitch hiker / by Alan King. A perfectly happy life / by Ted Ferguson. The signal man / by Charles Dickens. The duel / by Alexandre Dumas -- v. 3. The monkey's paw / by W.W. Jacobs. The mines of falun / by E.T.A. Hoffmann. The sandman / by E.T.A. Hoffmann. Double strip / by Otto Lowy -- v. 4. Dr. Heidegger's experiment / by Nathaniel Hawthorne. Mr. Higginbottom's catastrophe / by Nathaniel Hawthorne. The strange history of David Swann / by Nathaniel Hawthorne. The cable car incident / by Frederick Spoerly. //

891. "The Mythmaker." New Republic 238, no. 4 (2008): 46-50.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "Arthur Conan Doyle: A Life in Letters," by Jon Lellenberg, Daniel Stashower and Charles Foley.

892. "Natpe Notes." Electronic Media 22, no. 3 (2003): 79.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents news briefs related to the National Association of Television Program Executives's convention in the U.S. as of January 2003. Mentions 'Sherlock Holmes in the 22nd Century.'

893. "Natural World Viewed from 29 Directions." Phoenix Gazette (Phoenix, AZ), no. (1994): D7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Unknown Doyle or Holmes reference. Compiled by William Porter.

894. The naval treaty. [Oak Forest, IL]: MPI Home Video, 1995. Visual Material 1 videocassette (52 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS format. Videocassette release of the 1983 television film. Based on: The naval treaty / Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Jeremy Brett, David Burke, David Gwillim, Gareth Thomas, Alison Skilbeck. Granada Television Ltd. Director, Alan Grint ; producer, Michael Cox ; screenplay, Jeremy Paul ; music, Patrick Gowers. //

895. Nero Wolfe. The complete classic whodunit series. [New York]: A&E Home Video : Distributed by New Video, 2006. Visual Material 8 videodiscs (ca. 1496 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, widescreen presentation; Dolby Digital stereo. Based upon the works by Rex Stout. Originally broadcast on A&E television in 2001-2002. Contains all 20 episodes of the A&E series, including the feature-length series pilot "The golden spiders." Special features: Vol. 3: Cast biographies and filmographies ; V. 8: The golden spiders: a Nero Wolfe mystery [series pilot] / produced in association with Pearson Television International by Jaffe/Braunstein Films and A&E Television Networks ; producer, Randi Richmond ; teleplay by Paul Monash ; directed by Bill Duke; "The making of 'Nero Wolfe'"; "The silent speaker" (double episode): special encore presentation in 16:9 letterbox format; cast biographies and filmographies. Participants: Maury Chaykin, Timothy Hutton./ Audience: Not rated. produced in association with Fremantle International Distribution by Jaffe/Braunstein Films and A&E Television Networks ; producers, Susan Murdoch, Randi Richmond. // Like Sherlock Holmes and Watson before them, the brilliant but curmudgeonly Nero Wolfe and his streetwise sidekick Archie Goodwin are crime's greatest nemeses. With Nero preferring to solve crimes at home amid his orchid collection, it is Archie who does the legwork about town to allow Wolfe to unravel the most confounding crimes. Together the duo cracks cases of murder, deception, blackmail, and more, resulting in an unforgettable confection of mystery, suspense, and style.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

896. "The New Annotated Dracula." Publishers Weekly 255, no. 34 (2008): 48-48.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "The New Annotated Dracula," by Bram Stoker and edited by Leslie S. Klinger. Norton, $39.95 (624p) ISBN 978-0-393-06450-6. "Klinger brings the same impressive breadth of knowledge that distinguished The New Annotated Sherlock Holmes to this definitive examination of one of the classic horror novels of all time. Adopting the conceit that Stoker's narrative is based on fact, Klinger elucidates the plot and historical context for both Stoker devotees and those more familiar with Count Dracula from countless popular culture versions. Because he had privileged access to the typescript Stoker delivered to his publisher, Klinger is able to note changes between it and the first edition and comment on the reasons for them. Through close reading, Klinger raises questions about such matters as the role of lead vampire-hunter Van Helsing and whether the villainous count is actually dispatched at book's end. An introduction by Neil Gaiman, numerous illustrations, essays on topics ranging from Dracula in the movies to the academic response, and much more enhance the package. 8-city author tour."
897. "The New Annotated Sherlock Holmes (Book)." Publishers Weekly 251, no. 36 (2004): 48-48.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book "The New Annotated Sherlock Holmes," by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, compiled by Leslie S. Klinger.
898. "The New Annotated Sherlock Holmes: The Novels." Publishers Weekly 252, no. 35 (2005): 37.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book "The New Annotated Sherlock Homes: The Novels," by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, edited by Leslie S. Klinger.
899. "New books." Physics Today 50, no. 9 (1997): 74.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Introduces several books on Materials Science, Nonlinear Science and Chaos, Nuclear Physics and other topics in physics. Includes The Strange Case of Mrs. Hudson's Cat and Other Science Mysteries Solved by Sherlock Holmes. C. Bruce. Helix Books (Addison-Wesley), Reading, Mass., 1997. 254 pp. $23.00 hc ISBN 0-201-46139-0
900. "New entries to the National Film Registry." American Cinematographer 80, no. 1 (1999): 28-29.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // For the tenth year in a row, 25 films have been designated by the Library of Congress for preservation in the National Film Registry in recognition of their cultural, historical, or aesthetic significance. Given the recent expansion of the Registry's dictate about the type of films that are eligible, the entries are quite varied in terms of style, genre, and subject matter: They include silent pictures such as The Lost World (1925), based on the novel by Arthur Conan Doyle; works that evidence the Registry's eclectic taste, such as Dead Birds (1964), an ethnographic study of a tribe in Western New Guinea; and more modern fare, such as Dennis Hopper's counterculture classic Easy Rider (1969).
901. "A new home for Sherlock Holmes." Daily Mail (London), August 6, 2004: 19.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "A collection of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle memorabilia, including a hint of how Sherlock Holmes got his name, is moving. Writer Richard Lancelyn Green, who died in March, has left the 20,000 items, worth more than Pounds 2million, to Portsmouth library...."
902. "The New New Media." New Republic 239, no. 12 (2008): 45-47.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "The Future of the Internet (And How to Stop It)" by Jonathan Zittrain. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...During this decade, the fates of the Internet and the media industries have become as linked as Sherlock Holmes and Professor Moriarty during their Swiss hike. The two industries are in the midst of an epic struggle between two competing economic systems that are almost as different as communism and capitalism...."
903. "New on DVD." St. Petersburg Times (Florida), May 12, 2000: 6W.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Fans of Sherlock Holmes can rejoice with the release of An Evening With Sherlock Holmes. Actually, it should be titled several evenings because this boxed set contains four movies - Sherlock Holmes and the Secret Weapon (1942), Woman In Green (1945), Terror By Night (1946) and Dressed To Kill (1946). And that's not all. It also includes an interview with Holmes creator Sir Arthur Conan Doyle filmed in 1927 and 30 original radio broadcasts starring the film's leads, Basil Rathbone and Nigel Bruce...."

904. "New products." Telephony 227, no. 19 (1994): 42.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Introduces information and communications equipments and products in the United States. Includes DominoLAN and DominoWAN network analyzers from Wander and Goltermann; Testing equipment for digital cellular telephones from IFR Systems Incorporated; Fiber optic temperature sensor from Photonic Power Systems Incorporated; Sherlock 54770 WAN monitor and protocol analyzer from International Data Sciences Incorporated.

905. "New Scholarly Books." Chronicle of Higher Education 54, no. 21 (2008): B24-B25.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article lists scholarly books released in January 2008 including Oscar Wilde as a Character in Victorian Fiction, by Angela Kingston (Palgrave Macmillan; 304 pages; $79.95). Examines Wilde-like characters in works by Joseph Conrad, Arthur Conan Doyle, Henry James, Bram Stoker, and other famous and lesser-known contemporaries.

906. "New Scholarly Books." Chronicle of Higher Education 54, no. 31 (2008): B19-B21.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews several books including "Anxieties of Empire and the Fiction of Intrigue," by Yumna Siddiqi (Columbia University Press; 290 pages; $45). "Analyzes works of detection, policing, and espionage by two British writers of the colonial era, Arthur Conan Doyle and John Buchan, and South Asian writers of recent decades, including Amitav Ghosh and Arundhati Roy."

907. "New Sherlock software is elementary." Birmingham Post, July 3, 2003: 8.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Detectives who are stumped by a murder case could soon get help from a software Sherlock Holmes. Researchers in Scotland have programmed a computer to investigate suspicious deaths. Like Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's famous Victorian sleuth, the software uses lateral thinking to solve mysteries. It is specifically designed to avoid obvious lines of inquiry and make the kinds of connections that so amazed Holmes's assistant Dr Watson...."

908. "News & Announcements." Journal of chemical education 84, no. 4 (2007): 593-595.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article offers news briefs related to chemistry in the U.S. A compendium of 15 stories by Thomas G. Waddell and Thomas R. Rybolt titled "The Chemical Adventures of Sherlock Holmes" has been translated into French by Paul Depovere. The American Chemical Society (ACS) Division of the History of Chemistry (HIST) has been soliciting nomination for its award, Citation for Chemical Breakthroughs. The Department of Chemistry at the University of Michigan is commemorating its 150th anniversary.

909. "News & Notes." Canadian Holmes 26, no. 3 (2003): 56-59.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

910. "News & Notes." Canadian Holmes 25, no. 3 (2002): 44-47.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

911. "News & Notes." Canadian Holmes 25, no. 4 (2002): 44-47.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

912. "News & Notes." Canadian Holmes 26, no. 1 (2002): 44-47.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

913. "News & Notes." Canadian Holmes 26, no. 2 (2002): 45-47.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

914. "News & Notes." Canadian Holmes 25, no. 2 (2001): 37-40.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

915. "News & Notes." Canadian Holmes 23, no. 3 (2000): 54-59.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

916. "News & Notes." Canadian Holmes 24, no. 1 (2000): 48-51.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

917. "News & Notes." Canadian Holmes 22, no. 4 (1999): 47-49.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

918. "News & Notes." Canadian Holmes 23, no. 1 (1999): 48-50.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

919. "News & Notes." Canadian Holmes 23, no. 2 (1999): 46-47.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

920. "News and Notes." Canadian Holmes 30, no. 4 (2007): 38-40.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

921. "News Digests." Nation's Restaurant News 39, no. 3 (2005): 14.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article discusses news related to restaurant industry in the United States. Big Boy Restaurants in Michigan and Ohio launched a "Three-Point Play" promotion, which features a meal comprising three of the chain's signature products; A chain of 10 Sherlock Holmes-theme restaurants in Texas launched a Mardi Gras-theme promotion, which will culminate in what they bill as a "festive shopping-cart parade"; Finz seafood restaurant joined with a local beauty spa in a cross-promotion designed to generate business for both operations during the sluggish winter months in this tourist town.

922. "News in Brief." Nature 419, no. 6909 (2002): 770.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents international news briefs as of October 24, 2002. Presentation of a silver medal to the statue of Sherlock Holmes in London, England.

923. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 30, no. 3 (2007): 59-63.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

924. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 29, no. 3 (2006): 39-43.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

925. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 29, no. 4 (2006): 44-46.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

926. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 30, no. 1 (2006): 56-59.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

927. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 30, no. 2 (2006): 51-55.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

928. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 28, no. 3 (2005): 42-45.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

929. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 28, no. 4 (2005): 38-42.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

930. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 29, no. 1 (2005): 37-38.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

931. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 29, no. 2 (2005): 53-59.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

932. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 27, no. 3 (2004): 42-43.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

933. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 27, no. 4 (2004): 49-52.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

934. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 28, no. 1 (2004): 47-51.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

935. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 26, no. 4 (2003): 49-51.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

936. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 27, no. 1 (2003): 49-51.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

937. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 27, no. 2 (2003): 42-43.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

938. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 24, no. 3 (2001): 55-59.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

939. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 24, no. 4 (2001): 35-39.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

940. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 25, no. 1 (2001): 56-59.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

941. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 23, no. 4 (2000): 41-42.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

942. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 24, no. 2 (2000): 46-47.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

943. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 19, no. 3 (1996): 42-47.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

944. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 19, no. 4 (1996): 44-46.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

945. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 18, no. 3 (1995): 47-51.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

946. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 18, no. 4 (1995): 48-51.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

947. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 19, no. 1 (1995): 62-63.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

948. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 19, no. 2 (1995): 46-49.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

949. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 17, no. 3 (1994): 44-47.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News of various events. Includes an obituary notice for Richard Moore of Oak Park, Illinois.

950. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 17, no. 4 (1994): 49-51.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

951. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 18, no. 1 (1994): 49-51.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

952. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 18, no. 2 (1994): 47-51.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

953. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 17, no. 1 (1993): 44-47.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

954. "News Notes." Canadian Holmes 17, no. 2 (1993): 44-47.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // News and notes from the Sherlockian world.

955. "Newsbrief: Sherlock's home." The Independent (London), May 19, 1994: no page citation.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "A plaque commemorating the creator of Sherlock Holmes, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle is to be unveiled this month by his daughter, Lady Bromet, at 2 Upper Wimpole Street, where her father wrote several books, including 'A Scandal in Bohemia' and 'The Red Headed League'."

956. Nicholson London Pub Guide. 5th ed. London: Nicholson, 1994.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Jan 1996 // "Visitors to London can choose from a variety of guides to London pubs (and they still are wonderful places to see London and Londoners at their best). John Baesch notes that the Guide (1995) has cover art showing the Peter Cushing side of the sign for The Sherlock Holmes."

957. "Nicos Sampson." Economist 359, no. 8222 (2001): 87-87.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents an obituary of Nicos Sampson, the former president of Cyprus, who died on May 9, 2001. His work as photographer and reporter for the 'Cyprus Times,' and ties with EOKA, a militant group which demanded union of Cyprus with Greece. With a passing reference to Holmes. "It did not take a Sherlock Holmes in the British security forces to suspect that Mr Sampson was a member of EOKA and involved in the killings."

958. "A Night in an Opium Den." The Ritual, no. 28 (2001): 33-37.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

959. "A Night with the Thames Police." The Ritual, no. 22 (1998): 27-36.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

960. Nightmare! the birth of Victorian horror. [S.l.]: A&E Television Networks ; New York : Marketed in the U.S. by New Video Group, 1996. Visual Material 2 videocassettes (ca. 200 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. with b&w sequences ; 1/2 in. VHS format, SP playback mode. With Christopher Frayling. //

961. "No Man Is An Island: The Axiom of Subjectivity." Journal of Consciousness Studies 13, no. 5 (2006): 17-42.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Western thought since the seventeenth century has been dominated by methodological solipsism (Krieger, 1991). The famous sound-bite of Rene Descartes 'cogito, ergo sum': 'I think, therefore I am', became the starting point for most discourse on the nature of things. This dictum does not advocate idealism. It does not assert that everything is necessarily a construct of the human mind. But it assumes that the world of things and beings is surveyed and interpreted from the point of view of a single individual. Nowhere is this stance more entrenched than in the philosophy of science. To a remarkable degree the scientist is represented as studying the natural world as if alone in it, served only by mindless assistants who might as well be replaced by machines. Scientific theories are presented as systems of thought conjured up and tested by that same individual in a further series of single-headed operations. Research results are formulated and treated philosophically as the independent findings of lone explorers, each reporting the evidence of their own eyes and their rational inferences concerning the hidden mechanisms by which these personal percepts might be generated. Our epistemological role models are Robinson Crusoe and Sherlock Holmes, self-sufficient intellectuals to whom their human companions, Friday and Watson, are mere stooges." [Abstract from Author]

962. "No place for Holmes." The Evening Standard (London), December 7, 1999: 12.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The motive would puzzle even Sherlock Holmes. The oldest known home of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle is being demolished to make way for a McDonald's. The fact that the stone cottage in Edinburgh once housed the writer who gave us the world's most celebrated opium-smoker hasn't saved it from being sacrificed on the altar of 'progress'...."
963. "The Northern Musgraves Crown a new Sherlockian award." The Musgrave Papers, no. 7 (1994): 123.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
964. "No-Sweat Test Prep." Scholastic Scope 57, no. 6 (2008): 20-20.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A quiz is presented after reading the play "The Hound of the Baskervilles," based on the novel by Arthur Conan Doyle, adapted by Zach Jones.
965. "'Not some sinister secret society. . .' Twenty years ago: The Bootmaker's Third Year." Canadian Holmes 18, no. 2 (1994): 45-46.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
966. "Notable films/videos, recordings & computer software, 1994." School Library Journal 40, no. 4: 34.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a selection of audiovisuals based on their commendable quality for young people through age 14. Includes Mystery! Mystery! Performed by Jim Weiss. 60 min. cassette (#1124-14), $9.95. Greathall Productions. "The exciting worlds of Edgar Allen Poe, G. K. Chesterton, and Arthur Conan Doyle are seamlessly recreated by a master storyteller as he recounts the adventures of three brilliant detectives- Auguste Dupin, Father Brown, and Sherlock Holmes."
967. "Notes." Publishers Weekly 250, no. 41 (2003): 29-29.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents news briefs related to children's audio and video materials in the U.S. as of October 2003. Launch of the first six titles in the Family Listening Series of Oasis Audio. Oasis has entered an arrangement to distribute at retail dramatizations that were originally produced for the California Artists Radio Theatre program. CART features such performers as Michael York, Roddy McDowall, Samantha Eggar, Lynn Redgrave, William Windom and many others. Each title contains two CDs and two bonus cassettes. Initial releases include Peter and Wendy by James M. Barrie, Little Women by Louisa May Alcott, Treasure Island by Robert Louis Stevenson, Alice in Wonderland by Lewis Carroll, Sherlock Holmes and Selecting a Ghost by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and Hobson's Choice by Harold Brighouse. (Each 2.5 hours, $17.99, ISBN 1-58926-165-8; -180-1; -169-0; -167-4; -184-4; -325-1, all ages, Sept.)
968. "Notes." Publishers Weekly 245, no. 16 (1998): 68.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Offers brief reviews of some children's books. Includes Doyle in Detective Stories, compiled by Philip Pullman (Kingfisher) 244p. ISBN 0-7534-5157-3

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

969. "Notes." Publishers Weekly 241, no. 29 (1994): 239.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Lists publications for August 1994. Ivan Concharov's 'The Precipice and 'An Ordinary Story'; 'Shattered Heart,' by Meg Buchanan; 'Secrets in the Attic,' by Sita Mann; 'The Unopened Casebook of Sherlock Holmes,' by John Taylor; 'Highpockets,' by Douglas Savage; 'Personal Recollections of Joan of Arc; 'King of the World,' by Celia Fremlin.
970. "Notes on contributors." Nineteenth-Century Contexts 26, no. 3 (2004): 305-306.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Provides information on contributors to the September 2004 issue of the journal "Nineteenth-Century Contexts." Passing reference in notes on contributors. "Joseph A. Kestner is the McFarlin Professor of English at the University of Tulsa, where he specializes in nineteenth-century British literature and art. His books include Masculinities in Victorian Painting (1995), Sherlock's Men: Masculinity, Conan Doyle, and Cultural History (1997), and The Edwardian Detective 1901-1915 (2000)."
971. "Notes on current books: Fiction." Virginia Quarterly Review 74, no. 2 (1998): 59.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'The Best American Mystery Stories, 1997,' edited by Robert B. Parker. Reference to Doyle and Holmes. "Series editor Otto Penzler reminds us that the short story, not the novel, is the natural form of the traditional mystery and, when Parker observes that Conan Doyle's invention of Sherlock Holmes created the very category of the mystery, he validates Penzler's claim, since the best Holmes fiction comes in the form of the short story."
972. "Notes on current books: Fiction." Virginia Quarterly Review 73, no. 3 (1997): 93.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews several books about fiction. Includes Doyle reference in Vampires, Wine & Roses, edited by John Richard Stephens. "If a good late-night read is one that haunts you in your dreams, can there be a better book to keep on the night stand than an anthology of vampire tales? In this stylistically diverse yet strangely titled collection (the reference to wine and roses remains a mystery to the end), Stephens serves up a delicious dose of mostly Anglo-French poems and short stories, all of which explore the allure of the vampire. On the Anglo side there is, of course, a passage from Stoker's Dracula, but also some charming ditties from Arthur Conan Doyle, Edith Warton, William Shakespeare, and Woody Allen."
973. "Notes on current books: General." Virginia Quarterly Review, no. (1997): 2p.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'Who in Hell: A Guide to the Whole Damned Bunch,' by Sean Kelly and Rosemary Rogers, with a reference to Doyle. "Part historical reference, part hysterical parody, this articulate little ditty is a witty inventory of every noteworthy soul ever condemned to hell. Arranged alphabetically.... One of the book's charms is its thoroughness; the Ds alone include Don Juan, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, John Dillinger, Jeffrey Dahmer, Salvador Dalf, and Walt Disney."
974. "Notes on current books: Literary studies." Virginia Quarterly Review, no. (1997): 1/9p.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'Fictions of Loss in the Victorian Fin de Siecle,' by Stephen Arata, with a reference to Doyle. "...Focusing in a series of core studies on R. L. Stevenson, Oscar Wilde, Brain Stoker, Conan Doyle, and Rudyard Kipling, Arata deftly analyzes the "degeneration" of literature and "decline" of imperialism...."
975. "Notices (Announcements and Advertisements)." Postmodern Culture 4, no. 3 (1994).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Doyle and Holmes reference under "English Literature Sublist." Arthur Conan Doyle, four disks, $10 each, $40 for the set Disk #1 (1.1 Mbytes) --The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes, The Casebook of Sherlock Holmes Disk #2 (1.1 Mbytes) -- The Return of Sherlock Holmes, A Study in Scarlet, The Poison Belt Disk #3 (1.1 Mbytes) -- Through the Magic Door, The Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes, The Sign of the Four Disk #4 (1 Mbyte) -- His Last Bow, The Hound of the Baskervilles, The Valley of Fear
976. Nouvelles policières. 1, Le crime n'est jamais parfait : [Maurice Leblanc, l'écharpe de soie rouge ; Arthur Conan Doyle, la crinière du lion ; G.K. Chesterton, l'oracle du chien ; S.A. Steeman, le mort dans l'ascenseur]. (Gf). Paris: Flammarion, 2002.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Présentation, chronologie, notes et dossier par Yveline Beaup. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

977. "November on Stage." American Theatre 21, no. 9 (2004): 106-119.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a schedule of plays in the U.S. for November 2004. Includes The West End Horror: The New Sherlock Holmes Mystery! playing at the ASOLO Theatre Company of Sarasota.
978. "Nuclear diaper." Modern healthcare 37, no. 32 (2007): 36-36.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "The radioactive diaper tipped them off. It sounds like the start of a twisted thriller, but truth is stranger than fiction sometimes, especially at the troubled Martin Luther King Jr.-Harbor Hospital in Los Angeles. The adult diaper, used by an intensive-care patient in a routine test, set off a radiation-detection alarm at a nearby recycling and waste transfer facility in July, alerting the county Public Health Department to the illegal dumping. Tracing the offending diaper back to the hospital didn't take Sherlock Holmes. Whoever disposed of it threw personal patient information into the same trash bag...."
979. O Xangô de Baker Street. [Brazil]: Columbia TriStar Home Entertainment do Brasil, 2001. Visual Material 1 videodisc (118 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD (Region 4). "Uma produção Sky Light Cinema."--Container. Widescreen format. "Baseado no romance de Jô Soares." Special features: Trailers, photo gallery, filmographies, production notes, making-of scenes, interactive quiz. Originally produced as a motion picture in 2001. Participants: Joaquim de Almeida, Marco Nanini, Anthony O'Donnell, Maria de Medeiros, Cláudia Abreu, Cláudio Marzo, Thalma de Freitas, Caco Ciocler, Leticia Sabatella, Marcelo Anthony, Emiliano Queiroz, Martha Overbeck, Antonio Pompêo. Audience: "Recomendável para maiores de 14 anos."--Container. uma co-produção Sony Corporation of America ... [et al.] ; roteiro de Patrícia Melo ; colaboração de Marcos Bernstein, Miguel Faria Jr. ; produtor Bruno Stroppiana ; director Miguel Faria Jr. Editing, Diana Vasconcellos ; music, Edu Lobo ; director of photography, Lauro Escorel. // "Para Sherlock Holmes aquele seria mais um caso como outro qualquer, a não ser por um pequeno detalhe-- aconteceu no Brasil. Agora, ele precisará muito mais do que sua formalidade britânica, faro apurado e seu fiel ajudante ao descobrir que neste país nada é elementar."--Container. "Rio de Janeiro, 1886. Actress Sarah Bernhardt performs at the city's Municipal Theater, captivating the local audience enthralled by French culture. The city is at her feet, and even the Emperor Dom Pedro II comes to pay his respects. He confides a secret to her: the disappearance of a precious Stradivarius violin presented by him to the charming widow Baroness Maria Luiza. The actress suggests he hire her friend, the legendary British detective Sherlock Holmes, to solve the case. Under the heat of the tropical sun, the lives of Holmes and Watson are changed forever, as they find themselves knee-deep in a cultural hodgepodge that includes all the standard Brazilian tourist fare."-- www.imdb.com.
980. O Xangô de Baker Street. [Brazil?] : Sky Light Cinemas, 2001. Visual Material 1 videodisc (118 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. Sky Light Cinema. ; Columbia TriStar Home Entertainment (Firm). Title from container. Bruno Stroppiana apresenta uma produção Sky Light Cinema ; um filme de Miguel Faria ; baseado no romance de Jô Soares. // 981. "O. J. Simpson: America's Newest Crime of the Century." Legal Studies Forum 29, no. 2 (2005): 711-722.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Explains the murder trial of O. J. Simpson. Designation given by journalists to the case; Comparison between O. J. Simpson and Roscoe Arbuckle, the silent-film comedian who faced charges stemming from the death of Virginia Rappe at a San Francisco party in 1921; Trouble with real-life celebrity murder mysteries in the U.S. Reference to Doyle and Holmes. From the article: "One feature of the case for the prosecution has evoked memories of Sherlock Holmes. I refer, of course, to testimony regarding the dog that, unlike its famous predecessor in 'Silver Blaze,' barked in the night time. Dick Thornburgh, former United States Attorney General, was among the first to note that the man exculpated by Arthur Conan Doyle's silent dog was another Simpson, Mr. Fitzroy Simpson."
982. "Obituaries." Opera News 67, no. 10 (2003): 79.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Pays tribute to several opera artists who died in 2002 and 2003. Entry under Mary Ellis notes "She retired from the stage in 1970, but continued to act on television until 1994, when she appeared with Jeremy Brett in The Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

983. "Obituaries." St. Petersburg Times (Florida), November 20, 1997: 7A.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Brief notice on the death of Dame Jean Conan Doyle.
984. "Obituaries Jeremy Brett 1935-1995 and Sir Robert Stephens 1931-1995." Baker Street West 1 2, no. 1 (1996): 42.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
985. "Obituaries Richard Lancelyn Green and Steve Clarkson." Baker Street West 1 10, no. 2 (2004): inside rear cover.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
986. "Obituary for Charles Haines." Canadian Holmes 22, no. 1 (1998): 31.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
987. "Obituary for Jeremy Brett." Canadian Holmes 19, no. 1 (1995): 47.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
988. "Obituary for Josee Morgan." Canadian Holmes 22, no. 1 (1998): 39.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
989. "Obituary for Marlene Aig." Canadian Holmes 19, no. 4 (1996): 32-33.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
990. "Obituary for Peter Cushing." Canadian Holmes 18, no. 1 (1994): 51.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
991. "Obituary for W. A. S. (Bill) Sarjeant." Canadian Holmes 26, no. 1 (2002): 47.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
992. "Obituary Fraser Smyth 8 February 1928 - 15 October 1996." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 23, no. 1 (1996): 34.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
993. "Obituary of Anthony Howlett Barrister who restarted the Sherlock Holmes Society and re-enacted the encounter at Reichenbach Falls." The Daily Telegraph (London), August 27, 2003.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Anthony Howlett, who died on August 21 aged 78, was a barrister at the Board of Trade and Remembrancer of the City of London; but he was more widely known as founder and presiding inspiration of the Sherlock Holmes Society of London. The original Sherlock Holmes Society, founded by A G Macdonell in 1934, had been a casualty of the war (and of the founder's indiscretion with the wife of the president). The origins of the new society were laid in 1951 at the time of the Sherlock Holmes Exhibition, which was mounted by Marylebone Public Library as its contribution to the Festival of Britain. Tony Howlett, then a newly-fledged barrister with too much spare time on his hands, had haunted the Marylebone library to lend what help he could; the frequency of his visits was not uninfluenced by the presence of Miss Freda Pearce, the assistant librarian who, a year later, became his wife...."
994. "Obituary of Patsy Dalton." The Daily Telegraph (London), May 3, 1994: 23.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "...The most celebrated recreation was at the Reichenbach Falls in 1968, when, watched by a large crowd of bemused Swiss, the society staged the desperate struggle between Holmes and Moriarty (played by Lord Gore-Booth and Charles Scholefield, QC, respectively). Her editor, Barbi Boxall, recognised her qualities, and Dalton quickly became an associate editor, deputising for Boxall, who appreciated her eye for detail. Dalton stayed on for more than a decade and continued to work part-time until her retirement. Dalton was infuriated when rheumatoid arthritis confined her to a wheelchair. She hated to be thought an invalid and was as active as her painful debility permitted. At the time of her death she was planning a trip to Madeira...."
995. "Obituary: Richard Gordon Lancelyn Green." Daily Post, Apr 12, 2004: 11.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Green was an honorary member of the [Arthur Conan Doyle] Society and, from 1996 to 1999, was chairman of the Sherlock Holmes Society of London. In 2001, his Christmas cards were based on a cover of The Strand Magazine which serialised Doyle stories. [Holmes] was his passion. He worked with another enthusiast, John Michael Gibson, on producing the Doyle Bibliography, and he compiled a volume by other writers of parodies and imitations of Doyle, The Further Adventure of Sherlock Holmes."

996. "Off the Shelf: Murder and a Che Mystery." Birmingham Evening Mail, April 16, 2001: 27.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Short review of "Sherlock Holmes and the Crosby Murder" by Barrie Roberts (Constable, pounds 16.99) "...This is the sixth Sherlock Holmes mystery penned by Barrie Roberts, a criminal lawyer with West Midlands firms and one of the men involved in the appeals of the Birmingham Six. For Holmes' fans the series is great fun, although the novels, understandably, never quite capture that special Arthur Conan Doyle atmosphere. Particularly impressive is the way Roberts explains his research and supports his theories with extensive editor's notes at the end of the story...."

997. "On Stage." American Theatre 25, no. 6 (2008): 88-95.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes listing of Parkway Playhouse, Burnsville, North Carolina, "Sherlock Holmes: The Final Adventure," Steven Dietz; dir: Andrew Gall. Aug 29-Sep 6, 2008; The People's Light & Theatre Company, Malvern, Pennsylvania, "Sherlock Holmes & the Case of the Jersey Lilly," Katie Forquette; dir: Steve Umberger. Thru Jul 13, 2008.

998. "On Stage." American Theatre 25, no. 7 (2008): 108-119.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A directory of theater productions throughout the United States during September 2008 is given, which includes: Theatre in the Square, Marietta, Georgia, Sherlock Holmes: The Final Adventure, Steven Dietz; dir: Jessica Phelps West. Thru Sep 21.; Indiana Repertory Theatre, Indianapolis, Sherlock Holmes: The Final Adventure, adapt: Steven Dietz from Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Sep 16-Oct 11.; New Stage Theatre, Jackson, Mississippi, Sherlock Holmes: The Final Adventure, Steven Dietz; dir: Francine Thomas Reynolds. Sep 9-21.; Parkway Playhouse, Burnsville, North Carolina, Sherlock Holmes: The Final Adventure, Steven Dietz; dir: Andrew Gall. Thru Sep 6.; Peninsula Players Theatre, Fish Creek, Wisconsin, Sherlock Holmes: The Final Adventure, adapt: Steven Dietz; dir: Jim Corti. Sep 3-Oct 19.

999. "On Stage." American Theatre 25, no. 10 (2008): 90-103.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A calendar of performances in December 2008 at U.S. theaters belonging to the Theatre Communications Group is presented. A reference to Holmes: NACL Theatre, Highland Lake, NY. The Uncanny Appearance of Sherlock Holmes, book and dir: Brad Krumholz; lyrics: Brett Keyser; music: ensemble, Glenn Hall, Tannis Kowalchuk. Dec 5-21. Co-production with HERE Arts Center, NY.

1000. "On Stage." American Theatre 24, no. 7 (2007): 92-103.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article presents reviews of a collection of plays with the Theatre Communications Group, which are performing nationwide including "Death Trap," by Ira Levin at Cyrano's Theatre Company in Anchorage, Alaska, from September 7, 2007 to September 30, 2007, "Man of La Mancha," by Dale Wasserman at the Lyric Stage Company of Boston in Boston, Massachusetts, from September 7, 2007 to October 13, 2007 and "The Forgiving Harvest," at the Omaha Theater Company for Young People in Omaha, Nebraska, from September 14, 2007 to September 30, 2007. Includes a Holmes/Doyle listing: The Jungle Theater, Minneapolis, (612) 822-7063, www.jungletheater.com Sherlock Holmes: The Final Adventure, adapt: Steven Dietz from Arthur Conan Doyle, William Gillette; dir: Joel Sass. Sep 7-Oct 14.

1001. "On Stage." American Theatre 24, no. 5 (2007): 76-87.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article presents a list of plays being performed at Theatre Communications Group locations around the country. Includes a Holmes reference. "B Street Theatre, Sacramento, (916) 443-5300, www.bstreettheatre.org The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes, Jerry Montoya; dir: Buck Busfield. Thru May 27."

1002. "On Stage." American Theatre 24, no. 9 (2007): 82-95.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article presents a list of theatrical productions by members of the theater communications group, which were being performed in November 2007. Productions on the list include Meadow Brook Theatre, Rochester, (248) 377-3300, www.mbttheatre.com Sherlock Holmes: The Final Adventure, Steven Dietz; dir: David Regal. Thru Nov 4.; The Cleveland Play House, (216) 795-7000, www.clevelandplayhouse.com Sherlock Holmes: The Final Adventure, Steven Dietz; dir: Tim Ocel. Thru Nov 4. Co-production with Geva Theatre Center, NY.

1003. "On Stage." American Theatre 23, no. 3 (2006): 80-95.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article presents a list of theatrical productions shown at several TCG theaters in the U.S. The productions include the Arizona Theatre Company (Tucson) production of Sherlock Holmes: The Final Adventure, adapt: Steven Dietz from Arthur Conan Doyle, William Gillette; dir: David Ira Goldstein.

1004. "On stage." American Theatre 12, no. 9 (1995): 85.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a schedule of theatrical productions in the United States for November 1995. Lists Pioneer Theatre Company, Salt Lake City, production of Sherlock Holmes and the Crucifer of Blood, adapt: Paul Giovanni; and PA Stage, Allentown, Pennsylvania production of Sherlock's Last Case, Charles Marowitz; dir: Dennis Delaney.

1005. "On Stage November 08." American Theatre 25, no. 10 (2008): 98-111.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article reviews theatrical productions from U.S. theater companies associated with the Theatre Communications Group, including Hedgerow Theatre, Wallingford, Pennsylvania's production of Sherlock Holmes: The Final Adventure, Steven Dietz; dir: Janet Kelsey. Thru Nov 16.

1006. "On the literary front." TLS, no. (2005): 12-13.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents commentary on the role of leading British writers in the war of words and ideas that coincided with the First World War. How unpublished files in the National Archives provide insight into the careers of Arnold Bennett, John Buchan, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, Rudyard Kipling and H.G. Wells; Examples of the writings.

1007. "On the Trail of Sherlock Holmes." British Heritage 24, no. 3 (2003): 10.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on a package tour 'Sherlock Discovery,' organized by the Sherlock Holmes Hotel in London. Places to be visited in the tour; Duration of the package; Contact information for the package tour.

1008. "On the Wrong Track." Publishers Weekly 254, no. 26 (2007): 56-56.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "On the Wrong Track," by Steven Hockensmith. Includes references to Holmes.

1009. "One German, at least, is retiring." Economist 346, no. 8049 (1998): 48-48.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports that the German television program 'Derrick' will end in September of 1998. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "The hero, played by Horst Tappert, now 74, rarely does anything exciting, like pulling a trigger. Much of the time he looks pensively sorrowful like a basset-hound denied a bone. Batman is niftier, Sherlock Holmes cleverer, by far."

1010. "One Hundred Years Ago: "...a considerable mansion" (ACD)." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 1, no. 1 (1997): 2.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses Doyle's home, Undershaw. Includes two photographs, one of Undershaw during construction and the other of Doyle's other home, Windlesham (miscaptioned as Undershaw in the article).

1011. "One Pipe Problems." The Ritual, no. 17 (1996): 33-39.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1012. "One-trick ponies: Professional, personal success hinges on balancing strengths, weaknesses." Ophthalmology Times 33, no. 9 (2008): 4-4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...There are a few people I know who, whatever it is they do, do it extremely well....The key word, however, is 'few.' With some people, everything they do is done extremely well. But with most people, there are one or two things they do incredibly well, and the rest is about average. Others--the one-trick ponies--are great in one or two things, and terrible at many others. History gives us some striking examples....The famous English ophthalmologists Arthur Gonan Doyle (creator of Sherlock Holmes) and Thomas Young (established the wave theory of light, proved accommodation resided in the lens) were unable to build successful ophthalmology practices...."
1013. "Online." Chronicle of Higher Education 48, no. 40 (2002): A29.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports on the online-writing project of Nottingham Trent University in England. Notes that "participants who want more involvement can enter the story by adopting characters from English history and literature, such as Richard the Lion-Hearted and Sherlock Holmes."
1014. "Onstage." American Theatre 25, no. 4 (2008): 86-95.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A calendar of theatrical productions playing at Theatre Communications Group theatres across the U.S. is presented including a listing related to Holmes: Arkansas Repertory Theatre, Little Rock, Sherlock Holmes: The Final Adventure, Steven Dietz; dir: Robert Hupp. Apr 11-27.
1015. "Onstage." American Theatre 25, no. 5 (2008): 84-95.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews theatrical productions being performed by members of the Theatre Communications Group including Park Square Theatre, St. Paul, Minnesota. "Sherlock Holmes: The Final Adventure," Steven Dietz; dir: Peter Moore. May 30-Jun 22, 2008. The People's Light & Theatre Company, Malvern, Pennsylvania. "Sherlock Holmes & The Case of the Jersey Lily," Katie Forgette; dir: Steve Umberger. Jun 18-Jul 13, 2008.
1016. "Onstage November 05." American Theatre 22, no. 9 (2005): 112-127.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This section presents a list of theatrical productions in the U.S. in November 2005. Included is Salt Lake City's Pioneer Theater Company production of Sherlock Holmes and the West End Horror.
1017. "Opening Shots." Film Comment 39, no. 5 (2003): 6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Looks at various developments in the motion picture industry as of September 2003. Sidebar article with reference to Holmes--Guilty Pleasures Alec Baldwin: "My favorite movies of all time? Nothing takes me back to my childhood better and quicker than Basil Rathbone as Sherlock Holmes. Give me Woman in Green or Voice of Terror any day."
1018. "The original Granada TV Series on videotape starring: Jeremy Brett [Advertisement]." Canadian Holmes 17, no. 3 (1994): 27.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Advertisement from Creative Enterprise for the Granada series.
1019. "Oscar Wilde and a Death of No Importance." Kirkus Reviews 76, no. 4 (2008): 4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "Oscar Wilde and a Death of No Importance," by Gyles Brandreth. Includes passing references to Doyle. "...When a beautiful boy of the streets is brutally murdered and then his body disappears, Wilde enlists the investigative help of Robert Sherard, his faithful biographer, and Arthur Conan Doyle, a brilliant young author Wilde has just met. The challenge--and the excitement--has been to create a truthful portrait of Wilde, an atmospheric evocation of London and Paris in the late 1880s and an exciting murder mystery all at the same time,' says the author. 'Being a biographer has helped, I think. I want my portrait of Oscar Wilde--and Conan Doyle and their circle--to be accurate, truthful, human, sometime humorous and revealing.'..."
1020. "Oscar Wilde and a Death of No Importance." Publishers Weekly 254, no. 40 (2007): 38-38.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Short review of the book by Gyles Brandreth (Touchstone), $14 paper (368p) ISBN 978-1-4168-3483-9 with a passing reference to Doyle. "Oscar Wilde makes a stylish sleuth in this is clever series debut from Brandreth, a British author best known as a biographer (John Gielgud: An Actor's Life, etc.). Narrating the tale from his old age, poet Robert Sherard enjoys recalling the summer of 1889, when his friend Wilde was still celebrated and happily married. After discovering the butchered body of handsome young Billy Wood, Wilde fetches Sherard and his new friend Arthur Conan Doyle, but upon returning to the scene, they find neither body nor blood...."

1021. "Oscar Wilde and a Death of no Importance." Kirkus Reviews 75, no. 23 (2007): 1220-1220.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "Oscar Wilde and a Death of No Importance," by Gyles Brandreth.

1022. "Oscar Wilde and a Game Called Murder." Publishers Weekly 255, no. 27 (2008): 40-40.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "Oscar Wilde and a Game Called Murder," by Gyles Brandreth. "...At a May 1892 meeting of the Socrates Club, a group founded by Wilde and including such luminaries as Arthur Conan Doyle and Bram Stoker, the members play "murder," a game that involves writing the name of a "victim" on a piece of paper and trying to guess who chose whom and why...."

1023. "Oscar Wilde and a Game Called Murder." Kirkus Reviews 76, no. 14 (2008): 43-43.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "Oscar Wilde and a Game Called Murder," by Gyles Brandreth. "As in Oscar Wilde and a Death of No Importance (2008), he enlists the assistance of Doyle, who ironically plays Watson to the playwright's Holmes."

1024. "An ounce of prevention. (Cover story)." Canada & the World Backgrounder 62, no. 3 (1996): 28.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses crime detection and prevention in Canada, including references to Doyle and Holmes. "Sherlock Holmes, the great fictional detective, could study a single footprint and declare that the person who left it was bald, left-handed, spoke with a Russian accent, had recently eaten a supper of mutton curry, and carried a pearl-handled pocket knife in his blue, Harris tweed jacket. Such power of deduction may have been elementary in the make-believe world of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle who created Holmes; in real life, crime detection is a bit more complicated. Today's detectives have high-tech wizardry available to them that would amaze even Mr. Holmes. The venerable old detective might also disapprove of the way in which police sometimes rely on this technology."

1025. "Our Annual Dinner." Canadian Holmes 29, no. 3 (2006): 28-29.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

1026. "Our Readers Speak." The Holmes & Watson Report 2, no. 2 (1998): 6, 15, 22.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

1027. "Outrage as McDonald's Eyes Home of Sherlock Holmes' Creator." Birmingham Post, December 6, 1999: 6.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Sherlock Holmes fans yesterday protested at plans to demolish the oldest surviving home of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and replace it with a burger restaurant. The house where the creator of the fictional detective spent part of his childhood faces the threat of being demolished to make way for a McDonald's restaurant, they said. Campaigners have banded together to persuade Edinburgh council to refuse the application when it is considered next year...."

1028. "Overview: Film music. (Cover story)." American Record Guide 61, no. 2 (1998): 51.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents several composers who wrote music for various films. Mentions the film Young Sherlock Holmes under the note for composer Bruce Broughton. "...It is worth viewing Baby's Day Out and Young Sherlock Holmes just to hear Broughton's ravishing music and ponder why they cannot be had on disc."

1029. The Oyster V. New York: Carroll & Graf, 1991.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt July 1995 // "'Unless I am very much mistaken, said the great detective, 'we are about to have a visitor. A woman of some standing in society who has just enjoyed a prolonged and vigorous bout of sexual congress.' That's the opening of 'The Remarkable Adventures of Porlock Holmes', a story published in the British pornographic magazine The Oyster in the 1890s and reprinted in The Oyster V...."

1030. "Papers of Sherlock Holmes creator sell for half of what auction house expected." National Post (Canada), May 20, 2004: A15.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "A collection of long-lost papers giving a rare glimpse into the private life of Sherlock Holmes' creator, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, was sold at auction in London for almost (ps)1-million ($2.3- million) yesterday, about half of what had been estimated. The 3,000 letters, notes and manuscripts fetched (ps)948,546, auction house Christie's said....The auction has ignited a furor among politicians and Holmes enthusiasts, with some saying the collection should have been bequeathed to the nation rather than sold off piecemeal. It took place against the backdrop of the bizarre death of a leading Holmes expert...."
1031. Parish magazine (Chester, England): The Parish magazine the newsletter of the Arthur Conan Doyle Society. Chester England: The Society, 1989.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Citations: De Waal C12587 //
1032. "Part II of the Untold Pictorial Adventures of Sherlock Holmes." The Serpentine Muse 23, no. 4 (2007): 24.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1033. "Part III of the Untold Pictorial Adventures of Sherlock Holmes." The Serpentine Muse 24, no. 1 (2007): 24.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1034. "Part III. Nature of Archaeology." Acta Archaeologica 72, no. 1 (2001): 32.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on the methodological nature of archaeology. Detective activities performed by archaeology. Passing reference to Holmes. "Like the disciples of Sherlock Holmes he seeks to recover the activities of men in past time from clues which compensate for their incomplete and often vestigial character by abundance and diversity." (p.40)
1035. "Part IV of the Untold Pictorial Adventures of Sherlock Holmes." The Serpentine Muse 24, no. 2 (2008): 24.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1036. "Part V of the Untold Pictorial Adventures of Sherlock Holmes." The Serpentine Muse 24, no. 3 (2008): 24.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1037. "The Parting." The Holmes & Watson Report 7, no. 1 (2003): 10.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1038. "Passings Edwin H. Blum, Eric Porter, Miklos Roza." Baker Street West I 1, no. 3 (1995): 35.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1039. "Passings Leo McKern and Leslye Wintrob." Baker Street West I 8, no. 2 (2002): inside rear cover.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1040. "Passings Paul Landres." Baker Street West I 8, no. 1 (2002): 58.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1041. "Passings Syd Goldberg, John J. Brousch, Donald O'Connor." Baker Street West I 9, no. 2 (2003): 46.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1042. The Pearl of death. [s.l.]: [s.n.], 2002. Visual Material 1 videocassette (69 min.).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS format. Based on "The Six Napoleons", by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Videocassette release of the 1944 motion picture. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Evelyn Ankers, Dennis Hoey. Universal Pictures. Producer/director, Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Bertram Millhauser. // Holmes and Dr. Watson tackle the mystery of a killer nicknamed the "Creeper" and his connection with the "Pearl of Death", a treasure as priceless as it is dangerous to own.

1043. The Pearl of Death. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (69 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. Sherlock Holmes collection; v. 2; DVD. Videodisc release of the 1944 motion picture. Based on "The Six Napoleons" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. DVD extras include: Introduction by Robert Gitt, Preservation Officer at the UCLA Film and Television Archive; audio commentary with David Stuart Davies; production notes by Richard Valley; photo gallery/original movie posters. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Dennis Hoey, Evelyn Ankers, Miles Mander, Ian Wolfe, Charles Francis. Universal presents ; produced by Roy William Neill ; screenplay by Roy Chanslor ; directed by Roy William Neill. // Sherlock Holmes is called in to solve a series of murders involving busts of Napoleon and a gem that has caused murder and trouble since the days of the Borgias.
1044. "Peter Cushing at 80." The Musgrave Papers, no. 6 (1993): 92.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1045. "Peter Haining Writer and anthologist whose industrious output included horror, crime, cricket and history." The Daily Telegraph (London), December 28, 2007: 31.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Peter Haining, who has died aged 67, was a prolific writer and editor of more than 130 anthologies on subjects ranging from crime to horror, witchcraft and fantasy. In all, Haining produced more than 200 books, including what one critic acclaimed as 'some of the best anthologies of fantasy and horror of our time'....As well as his collections of other people's writing, Haining wrote history and biographies of fictional historical characters such as Sweeney Todd and Spring-Heeled Jack. He wrote an early novel under his own name and produced several crime anthologies using the pseudonyms Ric Alexander and Richard Peyton....Haining also published several reference books about the television series Doctor Who, notably Doctor Who: a Celebration; Two Decades in Time and Space (1983) and Doctor Who: the Key To Time, a Year-by-Year Record (1984). Another area of Haining's expertise was the Sherlock Holmes oeuvre, of which he had an encyclopaedic knowledge; he edited A Sherlock Holmes Compendium (1980) and several further books on the detective. Other film and television tie-ins featuring characters from literature included books on Maigret, Poirot and James Bond. Eccentrically given to outrageous shirts and silly hats, Haining habitually clipped and tore items out of newspapers and magazines and filed them away, a magpie habit that yielded ideas for many of his books....While working on his horror collections, Haining was told by a book dealer about four boxes of cuttings and scrapbooks on Sherlock Holmes, the lifetime collection of a solicitor who had started it in about 1910. This became The Sherlock Holmes Scrapbook (1975), a pull-together of articles, clippings and illustrations supporting the myth of Conan Doyle's character. The book prompted interest from Granada Television, which was making a series starring Jeremy Brett as Holmes, and Haining was invited to produce a book on the making of it, The Television Sherlock Holmes (1991)....Haining assembled 28 pieces on cricket by, among others, Trollope, Travers, Conan Doyle and John Arlott in LBW - Laughter Before Wicket (1986)...."
1046. "Peterborough: Recipe for life." The Daily Telegraph (London), December 30, 1994: 17.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Dear, wonderful, gutsy, throaty Fanny Cradock will be missed at Earsham House nursing home near Hailsham, Sussex, where she spent her last days. It was while there, defying pneumonia, that she cooked her last dish - a caramelised onion tart. Unknown reference to Doyle or Holmes.
1047. "The petrodollar puzzle." Economist 383, no. 8541 (2007): 86-86.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reports on the question of where the member Arab states of the Gulf Cooperation Council (Bahrain, Kuwait, Oman, Qatar, the United Arab Emirates, and Saudi Arabia) invest their vast surplus of oil wealth. Research from international banking groups is presented showing that most petrodollars probably end up invested in the U.S., then Europe, then the Middle East and Asia. Includes a

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

- passing reference to Doyle. "There is no crime involved, but the mystery of the petrodollar billions is worthy of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle...."
1048. "Photography of the Paranormal." USA Today Magazine 134, no. 2726 (2005): 64-68.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article provides information on the exhibition "The Perfect Medium: Photography and the Occult." The exhibit brings together some 120 photographs culled from public and private archives throughout Europe and North America, focusing primarily on the period from the 1860s through World War II, when occult and paranormal phenomena were a hot topic of debate and supporters and skeptics summoned photographs as evidence. Approaching the material from a historical perspective, the exhibition presents the photographs on their own terms, without authoritative comment as to their veracity. Included in the exhibition will be Mumler's portrait of Fanny Conant, a well-known Boston medium, who appears in the photograph with her control spirit. The Perfect Medium is organized in three sections, emphasizing different roles photography has played in its encounters with the occult. The article notes that "As the Spiritualist movement gained momentum in the late 19th century, spirit photography became a hotly debated topic, attracting the attention of major intellectual figures, including psychologist William James, scientists Alfred Russell Wallace and Charles Richet, and author Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, the latter best known for his tales of Sherlock Holmes."
1049. "Photomontage I. Birthday 2001." The Serpentine Muse 17, no. 2 (2001): 6-7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1050. "Photomontage II. Bash 2001." The Serpentine Muse 17, no. 2 (2001): 10.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1051. The pipe dream continues-- Sherlock Holmes in Minnesota. Edina, MN: Salamander Co., 1998. Visual Material 1 videocassette (59 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS format. "An irregular look at Sherlock Holmes in Minnesota"--Container. Written and directed by Rolf J. Canton. // "Salutes the 50th anniversary of the Norwegian Explorers of Minnesota ... Interviews of the four living founders [E.W. McDiarmid, Bryce Crawford, E.W. Ziebarth, and Ray Shove] and several other members are intercut with a dramatization of an older Holmes and Watson preparing to visit Minneapolis, Minnesota, for the anniversary conference"--Container.
1052. "Pluck a flamingo." Economist 389, no. 8611 (2008): 140-142.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // In this article the author discusses cookbooks, noting that a significant number are published every year. A variety of issues are discussed including the history of cookbooks the domestic management taught by Isabella Beeton in 19th century Great Britain and the impact of Fannie Farmer on American cookery. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Although the recipes in one book are often similar to those in another, their presentation varies wildly. There are Lutheran cookbooks, Wiccan cookbooks, feminist vegetarian cookbooks ('The Political Palate') and satirical cookbooks. There are instructions on cooking the food that Jane Austen, Sherlock Holmes and Thomas Jefferson might have eaten...."
1053. "Pocket-Sized Paradise." Geographical 75, no. 4 (2003): 96.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Describes the ecotourism industry of Ecuador as of April 2003. Passing reference to Doyle. "Discover Conan Doyle's Lost World in Venezuela..."
1054. "Poetics of Clay." Ceramics Monthly 50, no. 1 (2002): 45.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents the 'Poetics of Clay' exhibition held at the Philadelphia Art Alliance in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Passing reference to Holmes with the following observation: "'Poetics of Clay' related to the mnemonic role that places and images serve, according to Drutt English. 'It connected strongly to the art of memory as one moves through one's imagination, recalling the works observed during the past four decades and, like Sherlock Holmes, searching for their current places of residence.'"
1055. "Pollution wizards." Machine Design 66, no. 11 (1994): 167.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports on the systems used by the United Kingdom's National Rivers Authority against water pollution. Merlin system to monitor stretches of waterway; Sherlock transportable bankside system to monitor discharge outlets; Response to abnormal changes.

1056. "Pop Chart." Time 172, no. 4 (2008): 19-19.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A chart of events in popular culture is presented, including "recovering addict Robert Downey Jr. to play remorseless addict Sherlock Holmes."

1057. "Popular Paperbacks for Young Adults." School Library Journal 50, no. 3 (2004): 64-66.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a list of paperback books for young adults. Includes Doyle, Arthur Conan. The Great Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Puffin. 1991. $5. ISBN 0-14-036689-X.

1058. "Postcards From Peregrinating Bootmakers." Canadian Holmes 29, no. 4 (2006): 10-15.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

1059. "The Post-War Dream." Kirkus Reviews 76, no. 1 (2008): 5-5.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "The Post-War Dream," by Mitch Cullin. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "Cullin's fiction has ranged widely, and results have been mixed, but he seemed to have found his footing in A Slight Trick of the Mind (2005), a dazzling fictional portrayal of Sherlock Holmes in old age...."

1060. "PowerGen news international." Power Engineering, no. (1995): 8p.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports on 1995 conferences related to the electric power industries. Includes the 1995 Power-Gen America Conference and Exhibition, with a reference to Holmes in the form of a product locating device: "As a visitor to POWER-GEN, are you tired of walking the aisles searching for that one company that has specific solutions to your problems? Great, because you're just the person Sherlock is looking for! Sherlock, the product locator (electronic touch-screen monitor), provides solutions by pinpointing the exhibitor(s) that can best fulfill your requirements. Sherlock will be located in the registration area, lobby, PennWell Power Team House Booth, and throughout the exhibit area. Details on how to use and benefit from Sherlock will be available at each product locator station. Just look for the big kiosk with a silhouette of Sherlock Holmes on the side!"

1061. "Preface." Legal Studies Forum 29, no. 2 (2005): 591-596.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Introduces a series of articles which deals with crime. Reference to Doyle. From the Preface: "The noble tradition of the writer in combat for justice has embraced the crusades of Emile Zola and Arthur Conan Doyle, and in our own times the campaign of Arthur Miller to vindicate Peter Reilly."

1062. "Prepub Alert." Library Journal 126, no. 20 (2001): 90.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Provides a listing of books due to be published in April 2002, including Laurie R. King's Justice Hall.

1063. Prikliucheniia Sherloka Kholmsa i doktora Vatsona. Moskva: "Krupnyi Plan" ; New York : Distributed by St. Petersburg Pub. & Entertainment Group, 1997. Visual Material 1 videocassette (193 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Populiarnye kinofil'my; VHS format. "X04-188"--Container. Originally released as a motion picture by kinostudiia "Lenfil'm" in 1980. Based on the short stories "His last bow", "The empty house", and "Charles Augustus Milverton" by Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: V. Livanov, V. Solomin, R. Zelenaiia, B. Brondukov, V. Panina. Lenfil'm ; avtor stsenarii V. Valutskii ; rezhisser-postanovshchik, I. Maslennikov. Screenplay by V. Valutskii ; director/producer, I. Maslennikov ; music, V. Dashkevich. //

1064. Prikliucheniia Sherloka Kholmsa i doktora Vatsona. Moskva: "Krupnyi Plan", 2001. Visual Material 2 videocassettes (ca. 386 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Populiarnye kinofil'my; Lenfil'm antologiiia; VHS. Originally released as a motion picture by kinostudiia "Lenfil'm" in 1980. Po motivam rasskazov Artura Konan Doilia

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

- "Poslednee delo Khomsa", Pustoi dom", Konets Charl'za Ogastesa Milvertona." Khudozhestvennyi fil'm./ 3 serii. "Artikul 240"--Containers. Participants: Vasilii Livanov, Vitalii Solomin, Rina Zelenaiia, Borislav Brondukov, Aleksandr Zakharov, Boris Kliuev, Nikolai Kraiukov. Lenfil'm ; avtor stsenarii Vladimir Valutskii ; rezhisser-postanovshchik, Igor' Maslennikov. Operatory-postanovshchiki, IUrii Veksler, Anatolii Lapshov ; khudozhnik-postanovshchik, Mark Kaplan ; kompozitor, Vladimir Dushkevich. //
1065. Prikliucheniia Sherloka Kholmsa i doktora Vatsona. [s.l.]: Rosteleradiofond, 2002. Visual Material 2 videodiscs (DVD) (192 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. Dolby digital 5.1 surround ; All regions NTSC. Participants: V. Livanov, V. Solomin, R. Zelenaiia, Viktor Evgrafov, Igor' Dmitriev, Borislav Brondukov. Gosteleradio SSSR ; rezhisser, Igor' Maslennikov. //
1066. Prime time TV from the early days. Sherlock Holmes ; Racket squad. Encinitas, CA: Nostalgia Ventures, Inc., 2002. Visual Material 2 videodiscs (180 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. "6 complete TV shows"--Container. Originally produced as episodes of the television programs Adventures of Sherlock Holmes in 1954 and Racket Squad in 1951-1953. Participants: Sherlock Holmes: Ronald Howard. Racket Squad: Reed Hadley, Sam Hearne, James Gleason, Byron Foulger. presented in association with National Film Museum, Inc. Racket Squad directed by Howard Bretherton, James Tinling, James Flood ; teleplays by Marianne Mosner, Francis Rosenwald, Arthur Orloff. // Racket Squad was the first series to portray the gritty reality of criminal investigation and was twice nominated for an Emmy award. disc 1: Sherlock Holmes: The belligerent ghost -- The careless suffragette -- The unlucky gambler. disc 2: Racket Squad: One more dream -- The raccoon hunt -- Blessed expense.
1067. The private life of Sherlock Holmes. Santa Monica, CA: Distributed by MGM Home Entertainment, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (125 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD; mono. Based on the characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Special features: "Christopher Lee: Mr. Holmes, Mr. Wilder" featurette, interview with editor, Ernest Walter, deleted sequences, photo gallery, original theatrical trailer. Participants: Robert Stephens, Colin Blakely, Geneviève Page, Christopher Lee. Audience: MPAA rating: PG13. the Mirisch Production Company presents ; a production of Mirisch Films Limited in association with Sir Nigel Films Ltd. ; written by Billy Wilder and I.A.L. Diamond ; produced and directed by Billy Wilder. Director of photography, Christopher Challis ; editor, Ernest Walter ; music, Miklos Rozsa. // Holmes travels to Scotland to help a woman search for her missing husband.
1068. The private life of Sherlock Holmes. Santa Monica, CA: MGM/UA Home Video, 1994. Visual Material 1 videocassette (VHS) (125 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Originally produced as a motion picture in 1970. Based upon the characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Robert Stephens, Colin Blakely. Phalanx Productions, inc., and Mirisch Productions. Producer and director, Billy Wilder ; writers, Billy Wilder and I.A.L. Diamond. //
1069. The private life of Sherlock Holmes. Chatsworth, CA: MGM/UA Home Video, 1994. Visual Material 2 videodiscs (125 min. feature running time).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 12 in. Originally released as motion picture in 1970. "LaserDisc." Supplementary features: (1) digital film transfer in the original 2.35:1 Panavision aspect ratio ; (2) Miklos Rozsa's score isolated on right digital and analog tracks ; (3) complete video for The dreadful business of the naked honeymooners ; (4) complete audio for The curious case of the upside down room ; (5) interview with editor Ernest Walter ; (6) production stills ; (7) the complete script ; (8) music cue sheets ; (9) pressbook materials ; and, (10) theatrical trailer. Based on the characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle./ Participants: Robert Stephens, Colin Blakely. Phalanx Productions, Inc., and Mirisch Productions. Producer and director, Billy Wilder ; writers, Billy Wilder and I.A.L. Diamond. //
1070. The private life of Sherlock Holmes. [S.l.]: MGM/UA Home Video, 1998. Visual Material 2 videodiscs of 2 (laser) (ca. 125 min.).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col., letterboxed ; 12 in. viewing copy. Originally released by United Artists in 1970. Includes pressbook from the original theatrical release, theatrical trailer, music cue sheets, complete script, production stills, interview with editor Ernest Walter, and two episodes cut from the final release version: audio for The curious case of the upside down room, and subtitled video for The dreadful business of the naked honeymooners. Running time does not include additional material. Videodisc is presented in original Panavision 2.35:1 aspect ratio. On videodisc jacket: ID7413MG. Two videodiscs in one jacket. Based on the character created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Robert Stephens, Colin Blakely, Genevieve Page. Produced: U.S. Mirisch Production Company ; director, producer, Billy Wilder ; written by Billy Wilder, I.A.L. Diamond. //

1071. The private life of Sherlock Holmes. Santa Monica, CA: MGM/UA Home Video, 2000. Visual Material 1 videocassette (125 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Originally produced as a motion picture in 1970. Based upon the characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Robert Stephens, Colin Blakely. Phalanx Productions, inc., and Mirisch Productions. Producer and director, Billy Wilder ; writers, Billy Wilder and I.A.L. Diamond. // Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson embark on an adventure involving the Loch Ness Monster, a secret submarine, and a group of pious monks.

1072. "Product Briefs." Architectural Record 189, no. 11 (2001): 221.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents several architectural products including models of Timothy Richards, with a passing Holmes reference. "Richards has been commissioned by the Victoria & Albert Museum, Sir Terence Conran, and the Royal Ontario Museum. His repertoire in miniature includes precise replications of such famous architectural structures as 10 Downing Street, Twin Towers of Wembley, Kensington Palace, The Hoover Building, Charlotte Square, and the Temple of Four Winds, along with the homes of Sherlock Holmes, Jane Austen, and Charles Dickens."

1073. "Production, Industry, Commerce." Reference & Research Book News 23, no. 2 (2008): 124-158.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews several books including one with a passing reference to Holmes. Forensic procedures for boundary and title investigation. Wilson, Donald A. John Wiley & Sons, ©2008 448 p. $90.00 978-0470-11369-1. "A land and boundary consultant in New Hampshire, Wilson has stopped being embarrassed about admitting the influence Sherlock Holmes has had in his life and work as an investigator. He explains standard techniques, but more importantly general approaches and inspirations, to using science to solve legal problems involving real estate. His topics include the thought process, directions and distances, interviewing and interrogation, water-related problems, and ethics."

1074. Professor Challenger: 5 Fantastic Tales. Morrisville: Lulu, 2004.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Sept 2005. Also available as a downloadable book at the Lulu site. // "A collection with a short introduction by Ron Hanna."

1075. "Professor Moriarty's not invited." The Gazette (Montreal), January 20, 2001: W1.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "You don't have to be a member of the Sherlock Holmes Society to appreciate the legendary amateur sleuth. The Bimetallic Question, Montreal's chapter of the international group dedicated to promoting Holmes, celebrates the fictional detective's 147th birthday today at 6 p.m. at the Vieux Port Restaurant, 39 St. Paul St E. in Old Montreal. $35."

1076. "Professor Richard Chorley." The Times (London), July 19, 2002: 32.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Bill Bailey writes: As a loyal Fellow, and former Vice Master of Sidney Sussex College, Cambridge, Professor Richard Chorley (obituary, June 24) achieved further distinction by exploring the possible undergraduate career of Sherlock Holmes at Cambridge. The results of his study are published in his pamphlet, Sherlock Holmes at Sidney Sussex College 1871-1873. An Imaginative Reconstruction. This research extended the original proposition by Dorothy L. Sayers that 'of all the Cambridge colleges, Sidney Sussex perhaps offered the greatest number of advantages to a man in Holmes's position and, in default of more exact information, we may tentatively place him there'. The improbable project to which you refer, whereby Professor Chorley dispatched a housebrick (known affectionately as 'Dick's Brick') to Japan, is embedded in college folklore. This eccentric act of generosity arose from a request from the World Brick Museum in Maizuru, Japan, for an artefact for a special theme on 'The Bricks of Great Britain and Sherlock Holmes'. Professor Chorley responded by sending the housebrick by special delivery. It was subsequently included in an exhibition where Holmes featured as an eminent Victorian...."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1077. "Publishing, Library Science, Bibliography." Reference & Research Book News 23, no. 3 (2008): 336-342.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews several books including Sherlock Holmes on stage: a chronological encyclopedia of plays featuring the great detective. Kabatchnik, Amnon. Scarverow Pr., ©2008 197 p. $55.00 "Retired from teaching theater at various prestigious US universities, Kabatchnik cites and describes each of the four plays Arthur Conan Doyle himself wrote about the Victorian London detective he created, along with 38 written by others, some of them one-act plays. Each article describes the context in which the play was written, points out references and other connections to the published stories, summarizes the action, discusses the production history and reception, and identifies the playwright."

1078. "Pulp Fiction in Bangladesh: Super Spies and Transplant Authors." World Literature Today 82, no. 3 (2008): 39-42.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...The 1960s generation and the ones that followed were not the first to flock to thrillers in the Bangla language. Going back to the late 1800s, Bengal has a tradition of crime fiction. The mystery genre known here as rohossho also includes horror stories, pretty much anything that can't be explained by simple logic and reason. A century ago, inspired by the arrival of Conan Doyle's books in Calcutta, a local writer created a fictional character known as Sorolakkho Hom...."

1079. Pursuit to Algiers. [s.l.]: [s.n.], 2002. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 65 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS. Based on the characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Videocassette release of the 1945 motion picture by Universal. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Marjorie Riordan, Rosalind Ivan, Morton Lowry, Leslie Vincent, Martin Kosleck, Rex Evans, John Abbott, Gerald Hamer, Wee Willie Davis, Frederic Worlock. a Universal picture ; original screenplay by Leonard Lee ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill. Executive producer, Howard Benedict ; director of photography, Paul Ivano ; film editor, Saul A. Goodkind ; musical director, Edgar Fairchild. // Who murdered the King of Rovenia? Can they be stopped before they kill his heir? When Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson board a ship to protect the young man, they find themselves up against notorious jewel thieves as well as royal assassins.

1080. Pursuit to Algiers. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (65 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. Sherlock Holmes collection.; v. 3; DVD, region 1, full screen presentation; Dolby Digital. Videodisc release of the 1945 motion picture. Based on characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Restored in 35MM by UCLA Film and Television Archive. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Marjorie Riordan, Rosalind Ivan, Morton Lowry, Leslie Vincent, Martin Kosleck, Rex Evans, John Abbott, Gerald Hamer, Wee Willie Davis, Frederic Worlock. Universal Picture ; King World Productions, Inc. ; original screenplay by Leonard Lee ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill. Director of photography, Paul Ivano ; editor, Saul A. Goodkind ; music, Edgar Fairchild. // Who murdered the King of Rovenia? Can they be stopped before they kill his heir? When Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson board a ship to protect the young man, they find themselves up against notorious jewel thieves as well as royal assassins.

1081. Pursuit to Algiers. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 85 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS. Videocassette release of the 1945 motion picture. Based on characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. "Digitally restored in 35mm." Universal presents a King World Production ; screenplay by Leonard Lee ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill. // Holmes and Watson learn that the King of Ravenia has been assassinated and his son Nikolas is now a marked man. They board the SS Friesland in order to safeguard the young heir. The ship makes an unexpected stop in Lisbon and Holmes is presented with three mysterious passengers.

1082. "Puzzle It Out." Scholastic Scope 57, no. 6 (2008): 32-32.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A crossword puzzle related to the vocabulary of terms published within the issue is presented. A few of the clues relate to Holmes and Watson.

1083. "Q&A." Curriculum Review 41, no. 5 (2002): 14.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents an interview with teacher Ann Litzler Coyne with a passing reference to Holmes. "The next year, when I moved from Illinois to Ohio and taught in a single-age classroom, I had a mystery theme, and that was neat. I had big magnifying glasses and Sherlock Holmes--it was the mystery of learning. So every topic we covered, there was some sort of mystery behind it."
1084. "Q&A." Electronics Now 65, no. 10 (1994): 8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents answers to reader's questions on electronics, with a passing reference to Holmes. "When you're faced with a problem like this, the best approach to solving it is the Sherlock Holmes method--the process of elimination."
1085. "Q+A with a Pain Guru." Health 14, no. 6 (2000): 32.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Interviews neurosurgeon Frank Vertosick on his views about pain. Includes reference to Holmes. "As a doctor, I'm like Sherlock Holmes: I need clues."
1086. "Quarks don't bark." Economist 330, no. 7856 (1994): 103-103.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Speculates that physicists who work with the CDF particle detector at Fermilab (outside Chicago) are canceling their presentations at conferences because they have seen an exceptionally heavy top quark. Opens with quote: "Is there any other point to which you would wish to draw my attention?" "To the curious incident of the dog in the night-time." "The dog did nothing in the night-time." "That was the curious incident," remarked Sherlock Holmes.
1087. "Quiz: A question of medicine and sport." Lancet 366, no. (2005): S66-S67.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article offers a quiz about sports medicine. Includes the question "Which doctor became famous as the creator of perhaps the best known of all fictional detectives, and still found time to play in goal for Portsmouth Football Club?"
1088. "Quiz--'Police Court'." The Holmes & Watson Report 3, no. 6 (2000): 28-29, 39.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1089. "Quiz--'Police Court'." The Holmes & Watson Report 3, no. 3 (1999): 38-39, 60.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1090. "Quiz--'The Police Court Transposals'." The Holmes & Watson Report 5, no. 1 (2001): 9-10, 15.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1091. "Quiz--'The Police-Court Transposals'." The Holmes & Watson Report 5, no. 2 (2001): 28-29, 37.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1092. "Rage over civil servant's fun." The Independent (London), January 1, 1999: 7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Richard Crossman, the crusty Lord President in Wilson's government, nearly choked with rage when he saw a photograph of Sir Paul Gore-Booth, the head of the Foreign Office, in his Daily Telegraph on 1 May 1968. Sir Paul and his wife were dressed as Sherlock Holmes and Irene Adler. They were pictured at the airport with the Sherlock Holmes Society. Mr Crossman condemned Sir Paul's 'antics' at a meeting in Downing Street. The dismissive reply to his complaint angered him further."
1093. "Rathbone, the Good Baddie; Answers to Correspondants." Daily Mail (London), August 6, 1999: 70.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A brief biography of Basil Rathbone is given in answer to a reader query.
1094. "Read-Alikes: Victorian Mysteries for Youth." Booklist 104, no. 17 (2008): 50-50.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article reviews a number of books including The Case of the Missing Marquess: An Enola Holmes Mystery. By Nancy Springer. 2007. Philomel, $10.99 (9780399243042). "Clues and ciphers abound in true Holmesian fashion when Sherlock's younger sister, possessing keen powers of observation herself, is enmeshed in a double mystery after bicycling off to London to avoid boarding school and investigate the disappearance of her mother."

1095. Reading 6 for Christian schools. As full as the world. Princeton, NJ: Recording for the Blind & Dyslexic, 2007. Sound Recording Sound disc.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital, mono. ; 4 3/4 in. Originally published: Greenville, SC : BJU Press, c2003. 2nd ed. Includes Redheaded league from The adventures of Sherlock Holmes / Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. //

1096. "Recent Work in Critical Theory: Feminist and Gender Studies." Style 34, no. 4 (2000): 598.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Provides information on several books on feminist and gender studies. Includes Paula M. Krebs' Gender, Race, and the Writing of Empire (Cambridge University Press, 1999). "Through the writings of Arthur Conan Doyle, Olive Schreiner, H. Rider Haggard, and Rudyard Kipling, Krebs addresses the Boer War of 1899-1902 and the struggles to maintain an imperialist hegemony in a twentieth-century world."

1097. "The Record." Report / Newsmagazine (National Edition) 29, no. 17 (2002): 50.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a number of obituaries for notable Canadians as of September 2, 2002. Included is paleontologist, geologist and naturalist William A.S. (Bill) Sarjeant, 66; of liver cancer, in Saskatoon, July 8, who "once co-authored a book arguing that Sherlock Holmes was actually a woman."

1098. "Recordings." Rolling Stone, no. 754 (1997): 70.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the music recording 'Animal Rights,' by Moby. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "East coast DJ, producer and techno giant Moby is painfully aware of his surroundings. His major-label debut, Everything Is Wrong, reflected his need to fix the world's ills. Similarly, it doesn't take Sherlock Holmes to decipher the theme of Moby the vegan's fourth LP, Animal Rights...."

1099. The red circle. [Oak Forest, IL]: MPI Home Video, 1995. Visual Material 1 videocassette (50 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. The memoirs of Sherlock Holmes / by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. VHS. Hi-fi stereo. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke, Rosalie Williams. screenplay by Jeremy Paul ; produced by June Wyndham Davies ; directed by Sarah Hellings ; executive producer, Sally Head ; made by Granada Television in association with WGBH/Boston. //

1100. The red circle. [London?]: Granada Video, 1994. Visual Material 1 videocassette (50 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. The memoirs of Sherlock Holmes.; VHS. Hi-fi stereo. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke, Rosalie Williams. Granada Television in association with WGBH/Boston. //

1101. "Reflections on Literary Darwinism." Style 42, no. 2 (2008): 244-246.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...I would also suggest that the research Don Symons and I conducted on slash stories (romantic/erotic narrative, written almost exclusively by women and for women, in which both protagonists are expropriated male media characters, the stars of various cop, spy, and science fiction television shows and movies as well as literary works, think Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson, or Kirk and Spock from Star Trek) and their readers (Salmon and Symons, 'Slash Fiction' and Warrior Lovers) demonstrates the new perspective that evolutionary minded thinking brings to a study of literature, reinforcing Carroll's argument that the Darwinist framework is useful to literary studies...."

1102. "Relations of Literature and Science, 1991-1992." Configurations 2, no. 2 (1994): 373-431.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes references to Doyle and Holmes. Roden, A. E., et al. "Humanism and Values in the Medical Short Stories of Arthur Conan Doyle." South Med J 85 (May 1992): 528-537; Westmoreland, B.F. "Arthur Conan Doyle, Joseph Bell, and Sherlock Holmes: A Neurologic Connection." Arch Neurol 48 (1991): 325-329.; Oderwald, A. K. "The Physician and Sherlock Holmes." J R Soc Med 84

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

- (1991): 151-152; Roszell, Calvert. "The Devil's Foot and the Dweller at the Threshold." BSJ 41 (1991): 100-103.
1103. "Remembrances." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 5, no. 1 (2001): 8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Notes the contributions made by donors in supporting the Sherlock Holmes Collections, either in honor or in memory of special persons.
1104. "Remembrances." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 5, no. 2 (2001): 8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Notes the contributions made by donors in supporting the Sherlock Holmes Collections, either in honor or in memory of special persons.
1105. "Remembrances." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 5, no. 3 (2001): 12.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Listing of those who have given gifts to support the Collections in honor or memory of special persons.
1106. "Remembrances." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 4, no. 1 (2000): 8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Lists donors who have made contributions in memory or honor of a special individual.
1107. "Remembrances." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 4, no. 2 (2000): 8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Notes donors who have made contributions in honor or memory of special persons.
1108. "Remembrances." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 4, no. 3 (2000): 12.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // List of donors who made contributions in memory or honor of a special individual. Includes a photograph of Peter Blau, E. W. McDiarmid and Mike Whelan and another of three of the founders of the Norwegian Explorers: E. W. Ziebarth, Mac McDiarmid, and Bryce Crawford.
1109. "Remembrances." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 3, no. 1 (1999): 8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // List of recent donors to the Collections.
1110. "Remembrances." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 3, no. 2 (1999): 8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A list of recent donors to the collections, in memory or honor of certain individuals.
1111. "Remembrances." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 3, no. 3 (1999): 8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // List of donors with gifts given in memory or honor of certain individuals.
1112. "Remembrances." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 3, no. 4 (1999): 8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // List of donors who made contributions in honor of or memory of certain individuals.
1113. "Resources." Earth 3, no. 6 (1994): 72.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents products about dinosaurs and crystallized minerals with a passing reference to Holmes. "...castings of original sculptures by Jay Davis, whose work has been featured in such films as Steven Spielberg's Explorers and Young Sherlock Holmes...."
1114. "Resources for the classroom." Curriculum Review 39, no. 9 (2000): 12.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Offers information on teaching and educational resources. Includes mention of both Doyle and Holmes in notice of Arthur Conan Doyle: Beyond Baker Street. "Whenever there was excitement or danger, wherever important events were taking place, wherever he felt he could be useful, Arthur Conan Doyle (1859-1930) could be found near the front lines, enthusiastically doing twice as much work as anyone else, having a wonderful time. And helping to lift everyone else's spirits. Nevertheless, whether he was harpooning whales in the Arctic, competing with German officers in a road race, introducing skis to the Alps, stitching wounds on the front lines, or fighting to save a wrongly condemned man from the gallows, in the eyes of the public, he was always the creator of Sherlock Holmes, and the public never let him forget it. But as readers of Arthur Conan Doyle: Beyond Baker Street will learn, the Holmes tales were only a tiny part of the author's literary output and something he never took very seriously. This first biography of the man written for young adults takes a seriously engaging look at Doyle." (Oxford University Press)

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1115. "Restorations." Cinema Journal 38, no. 2 (1999): 118-119.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // George Eastman House has sponsored the restoration of the 1925 First National version of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's novel The Lost World. From 8,000 to 8,500 surviving feet of footage have been reassembled to resemble the original as closely as possible. In addition, tinting has been done, and new intertitles have been created using a script. First shown in 1997, the restoration is being exhibited in various specialized venues for silent-movie fans worldwide.
1116. "The Results of the Holmes & Watson Report's 2002 Fact-Finding Poll." The Holmes & Watson Report 6, no. 1 (2002): 48-52.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1117. "The Retired Colourman's Rendezvous." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 23, no. 2 (1997): 62-63.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1118. The Return of Sherlock Holmes. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 5 videodiscs (ca. 7 hr., 30 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col.; 4 3/4 in. DVD collection.; Director's commentary with John Madden. Originally broadcast on television. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke. made by Granada Media Television of England; by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle; developed for television by John Hawkesworth. Music, Patrick Gowers. // Vol. 1., episode 1 The empty house; episode 2 The abbey grange -- vol 2., episode 3 The second stain; episode 4 The six Napoleons; -- vol 3., episode 5 The priory school; episode 6 Wisteria lodge -- vol 4., episode 7 The devil's foot; episode 9 Silver blaze -- vol 5., episode 10 The Musgrave ritual; episode 11 The man with the twisted lip.
1119. The return of Sherlock Holmes. [Millers Point, N.S.W.]: Universal Pictures (Australasia), 2003. Visual Material 3 videodiscs (307 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col.; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Videodisc release of the complete 6 episodes from the 1985-1986 television series "The return of Sherlock Holmes", adapted from Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's detective novels. "Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's Sherlock Holmes, volume five"--Container. 4:3, original full frame aspect. Participants: Starring Jeremy Brett and Edward Hardwicke. a Granada Television production; dramatised by Jeremy Paul, T.R. Bowen, John Hawkesworth; produced by June Wyndham Davies; executive producer, Michael Cox; directed by David Carson ... [et al.]. //
1120. The return of Sherlock Holmes. Vol. 1. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (110 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col.; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Originally broadcast on television 1985-1988. Based on the stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Special features: Director's commentary with John Madden; "Elementary, my dear Watson: an interview with Edward Hardwicke. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke. Made by Granada Media Television of England; by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle; developed for television by John Hawkesworth. Music, Patrick Gowers. // Empty house.; Abbey grange.
1121. The return of Sherlock Holmes. Vol. 2. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (110 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col.; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Originally broadcast on television 1985-1988. Based on the stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke. Made by Granada Media Television of England; by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle; developed for television by John Hawkesworth. Music, Patrick Gowers. // The second stain -- The six Napoleons.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1122. The return of Sherlock Holmes. Vol. 3. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material (DVD) 1 videodisc (110 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Originally broadcast on television 1985-1988. Based on the stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke. Made by Granada Media Television of England ; by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle ; developed for television by John Hawkesworth. Music, Patrick Gowers. // The Priory School -- Wisteria Lodge.
1123. The Return of Sherlock Holmes. Vol. 3. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material (DVD) 1 videodisc (100 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Based on the character by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally shown on television in 1984 and 1986. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke, Freddie Jones, Kika Markham, Donald Churchill, Alan Howard, Christopher Benjamin. Granada Television Ltd. & WGBH ; produced by June Wyndham Davies ; directed by Peter Hammond, John Madden ; dramatised by Jeremy Paul, T.R. Bowen. Director of photography, David Odd, Jon Woods; production design, Tim Wilding, Margaret Coombes; editor, Andrew Sumner, David Reese; music, Patrick Gowers. // Holmes investigates a murder involving a pretty English governess, a foreign gentleman and a police inspector.
1124. The return of Sherlock Holmes. Vol. 4. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (150 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Originally broadcast on television 1985-1988. Based on the stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke. Made by Granada Media Television of England ; by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle ; developed for television by John Hawkesworth. Music, Patrick Gowers. // The devil's foot -- Silver blaze -- The Bruce Partington plans.
1125. The return of Sherlock Holmes. Vol. 5. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (110 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Originally broadcast on television 1985-1988. Based on the stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke. Made by Granada Media Television of England ; by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle ; developed for television by John Hawkesworth. Music, Patrick Gowers. // The musgrave ritual -- The man with the twisted lip.
1126. Return to the lost world. Los Angeles: Republic Pictures, 1997. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 99 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS format. "6094." Rated PG. Based on the original story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Closed captioned for the hearing impaired. Videocassette release of 1992 motion picture. Participants: John Rhys-Davies, David Warner, Eric McCormack, Nathania Stanford, Darren Peter Mercer, an introducing Tamara Gorski. Republic Entertainment Inc. ; Harmony Gold Pictures, Inc. Produced by Frank Agrama, Norman Siderow, Daniele Lorenzano; directed by Timothy Bond; screenplay by Peter Welbeck. // "A 'Lost World' of majestic dinosaurs and primitive natives is threatened with destruction when a villainous businessman comes looking for oil- and unleashes the wrath of a fiery volcano! Vowing to defend the endangered animals and people, rival scientists Challenger and Summerlee team up with a spirited female photographer, a valiant newspaper reporter and a courageous young boy and set off for deepest Africa. Arriving on the remote, hidden plateau of the Lost World, they begin a heroic quest to save this prehistoric paradise from the evil forces scheming to exploit it."
1127. Return to the lost world. [s.l.]: Lion's Gate Home Entertainment, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Based on the original story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally produced as a motion picture in 1992. Participants: John Rhys-Davies, David Warner, Eric McCormack, Nathania Stanford, Darren Peter Mercer, Tamara Gorski. produced by Frank Agrama, Norman Siderow, Daniele Lorenzano ; directed by Timothy Bond ; screenplay by Peter Welbeck. // "A 'Lost World' of majestic dinosaurs and primitive natives is threatened with destruction when a villainous businessman comes looking for oil- and unleashes the wrath of a fiery volcano! Vowing to defend the endangered animals and people, rival scientists Challenger and Summerlee team up with a spirited female photographer, a valiant newspaper reporter and a courageous young boy and set off for deepest Africa. Arriving on the remote, hidden plateau of the Lost World, theny begin a heroic quest to save this prehistoric paradise from the evil forces scheming to exploit it."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1128. Return to the lost world. St. Laurent, Quebec: Madacy Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Based on the book The lost world by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally produced as a motion picture in 1992. 2.0 Dolby stereo. Bonus features: direct scene access ; theatrical trailer ; cast and crew biographies ; Dino facts. Participants: John Rhys-Davies, David Warner, Eric McCormack, Nathania Stanford, Darren Peter Mercer, Tamara Gorski. Harmony Gold Pictures, Inc. in association with Silvio Berlusconi Communications ; screenplay by Peter Welbeck ; produced by Frank Agrama, Norman Siderow, and Daniele Lorenzano ; directed by Timothy Bond. Music, Larry Wolff, Gerard Shadrack, Isaiah Sanders ; director of photography, Paul Beeson ; editor, Stephen Lawrence ; executive producer, Harry Alan Towers. // The "lost world" of majestic dinosaurs and primitive natives is threatened with destruction when a villainous businessman comes looking for oil and unleashes the wrath of a fiery volcano. Vowing to defend the endangered animals and people, rival scientists Challenger and Summerlee team up with a spirited female photographer, a valiant newspaper reporter and a courageous young boy and set off for deepest Africa on a heroic quest to save this prehistoric paradise from the evil forces scheming to exploit it.

1129. "Review--'And to think I saw it on Mulbaker Street' by Wiggins." The Holmes & Watson Report 8, no. 1 (2004): 20.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

1130. "Reviewed Elsewhere." Biography: An Interdisciplinary Quarterly 31, no. 4 (2008): 776-820.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A passing reference to Holmes. The article reviews several books including Simon Fraser: In Search of Modern British Columbia. Stephen Hume. Madeira Park, BC: Harbour, 2008. 336 pp. $36.95. "'Simon Fraser: In Search of Modern British Columbia' is an impressive book, studded with historic paintings and contemporary photos, and driven by the passion of a quest. . . . Hume is a history buff 's Sherlock Holmes, following in the footsteps . . . of the fur trader who trekked across Canada to reach the Pacific in 1808. . . ."

1131. "Reviewed Elsewhere." Biography: An Interdisciplinary Quarterly 30, no. 4 (2007): 670-723.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews several books from different sources including Conan Doyle: The Man Who Created Sherlock Holmes. Andrew Lycett . London: Weidenfeld and Nicolson, 2007. 525 pp. "In the public mind Conan Doyle is forever associated with his cerebral detective and loyal assistant Dr. Watson. Yet throughout his productive life Doyle considered himself foremost as the author of medieval tales and historical novels. For him, the Sherlock Holmes short stories and the ghostly Hound of the Baskervilles were a welcome source of additional income until he tired of his own creation and had the detective conveniently killed, only to have to resuscitate him at the urging of his many readers, including Queen Victoria. But the reality of Doyle's life was much darker. As Lycett points out in his excellent biography, Doyle spent all his life pulled between the factual and the imaginative. The central paradox of his life was his 'becoming a spiritualist so soon after creating the quintessentially rational Sherlock Holmes.' Through spiritualism, Doyle sought to contact the recently bereaved but also to insulate himself from daily reality. Much of his later writing was marked by strange theories such as The Coming of the Fairies and The Case for Spirit Photography. Nevertheless, he was a shrewd investor, and died both famous and wealthy. Guardian Weekly, Oct. 5-11, 2007: 34-35.

1132. "Reviewed Elsewhere." Biography 23, no. 3 (2000): 583-638.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes Doyle reference. Doyle, Arthur Conan. Teller of Tales: The Life of Arthur Conan Doyle. Daniel Stashower. London: Allen Lane/Penguin, 1999. 472 pp. GBP18.99. "Stashower is wonderfully gentle and quite sympathetic to Doyle. . . ." He is "particularly good at describing the way in which Conan Doyle . . . entered into the weird world of the paranormal. . . . [T]his is a good, solid and above all sympathetic introduction" to the life. A. N. Wilson. TLS, Feb. 25, 2000: 36

1133. "Reviewed Elsewhere." Biography 23, no. 1 (1999): 264-301.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes Doyle reference. Teller of Tales: The Life of Arthur Conan Doyle. Daniel Stashower. New York: Holt, 1999. 472 pp. $32.50. "Daniel Stashower's rather jaunty biography returns us to the days of George Gissing and New Grub Street, the age of an awakening mass literacy and of popular fiction magazines like The Strand, the perhaps latent connection between Victorian optimism and the stirrings of science fiction." Christopher Hitchens. NYRB, Nov. 4, 1999: 25

1134. "Reviews." Contemporary Review 272, no. 1584 (1998): 52.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews several books. Includes reference to Doyle in British Literary Culture and Publishing Practice 1880-1914 by Peter D. McDonald. (Cambridge University Press. GBP37.50/US$59.95. ISBN 0-521-57149-9.) "This volume is part of the 'Cambridge Studies in Publishing and Printing History' and tackles the period which saw the collapse of mid-Victorian publishing (serialisation, part issues and subscription libraries) and the emergence of a style of publishing largely still with us. To tell his story the author first describes the 'literary field in the 1890s' and then concentrates, in three chapters, on three writers: Joseph Conrad, Arnold Bennett and Arthur Conan Doyle...."

1135. "Review--'The Somnambulist and the Detective' by Susan Rice." The Holmes & Watson Report 4, no. 6 (2001): 45.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

1136. "Richard Lancelyn Green." The Times (London), April 14, 2004: 27.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Obituary of RLG. "... As the foremost expert on Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's fictional detective, Lancelyn Green travelled widely, giving lectures to Sherlock Holmes societies around the world. While his knowledge of the [Holmes] canon was encyclopaedic, he never failed to treat the subject with a light and entertaining touch. If difficult to approach at first, he was a brilliant raconteur and showed flashes of theatrical inspiration, whether he was playing the role of a Victorian music hall master of ceremonies for a Sherlock Holmes Society event or dressing up in period costume for a pilgrimage to the Reichenbach Falls, where Sherlock Holmes, temporarily, met his end...."

1137. The Rivals of Sherlock Holmes. Set 2. Silver Spring, MD: Distributed by Acorn Media, 2010. Visual Material 4 videodiscs (ca. 11 hr.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, full screen (1.33:1) presentation; Dolby Digital, NTSC. Vol. One stories by Baroness Orczy, George Griffith, Jacques Futrelle, and E. Phillips Oppenheim. Vol. Two stories by Robert Barr, Palle Rosenkrantz, and Jacques Futrelle. Vol. Three stories by Baldwin Grollen, R. Austin Freeman, and William LeQueux. Vol. Four stories by C.J. Cutcliffe Hyne, Fergus Hume, and John Oxenham. Originally broadcast on Thames Television as individual episodes in 1973. Contains 13 episodes from the series. Special features: Vol. one: Profiles of Polly Burton, Insp. Lipinzki, Prof. Van Dusen, and Mr. Laxworthy. Vol. two: Profiles of Eugène Valmont and Lt. Holst. Vol. three: Profiles of Dagobert Trostler, Dr. Thorndyke, and William Drew. Vol. four: Profiles of Mr. Harrocks, Hagar, and Charles Dallas. Participants: Vol. one cast: Judy Greeson, Barry Keegan, Douglas Wilmer, Bernard Hepton. Vol. two cast: Charles Gray, John Thaw, Douglas Wilmer. Vol. three cast: Ronald Lewis, Barrie Ingham, Derek Jacobi. Vol. four cast: Ronald Fraser, Sara Kestelman, Robin Ellis. Audience: Not rated. Freemantle Media Enterprises ; a Thames Television production ; produced by Reginald Collin and Jonathan Alwyn. Dramatized by Alan Cooke, Alexander Baron, Julian Bond, Gerard Kelsey, Michael Meyer, Anthony Steven, Reginald Collin, Ian Kennedy Martin, Owen Holder, John Hawkesworth ; directed by Graham Evans, Jonathan Alwyn, Reginald Collin, Derek Bennett, Peter Duguid, Dennis Vance, and Don Leaver. Executive producer, Kim Mills. // Crime abounded in late Victorian and Edwardian times--from the streets of London to the country houses of nobility; from the royal apartments of Vienna to the hotel rooms of quiet Copenhagen. Sherlock Holmes took on many of the era's crooks, killers, blackmailers, and schemers, but so did the fictional sleuths of other celebrated writers of the time. (from container.).

1138. The Rivals of Sherlock Holmes. Set 2. Vol. 1. Silver Spring, MD: Distributed by Acorn Media, 2010. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 205 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, full screen (1.33:1) presentation; Dolby Digital, NTSC. Stories by Baroness Orczy, George Griffith, Jacques Futrelle, and E. Phillips Oppenheim. Originally

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

broadcast on Thames Television as individual episodes in 1973. Set contains 13 episodes from the series. Special features: Profiles of Polly Burton, Insp. Lipinzki, Prof. Van Dusen, and Mr. Laxworthy. Participants: Judy Greeson, Barry Keegan, Douglas Wilmer, Bernard Hepton. Audience: Not rated. Freemantle Media Enterprises ; a Thames Television production ; produced by Reginald Collin and Jonathan Alwyn. // Crime abounded in late Victorian and Edwardian times--from the streets of London to the country houses of nobility; from the royal apartments of Vienna to the hotel rooms of quiet Copenhagen. Sherlock Holmes took on many of the era's crooks, killers, blackmailers, and schemers, but so did the fictional sleuths of other celebrated writers of the time. (from container.)

1139. The Rivals of Sherlock Holmes. Set 2. Vol. 2. Silver Spring, MD: Distributed by Acorn Media, 2010. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 151 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, full screen (1.33:1) presentation; Dolby Digital, NTSC. Stories by Robert Barr, Palle Rosenkrantz, and Jacques Futrelle. Originally broadcast on Thames Television as individual episodes in 1973. Set contains 13 episodes from the series. Special features: Profiles of Eugène Valmont and Lt. Holst. Participants: Charles Gray, John Thaw, Douglas Wilmer. Audience: Not rated. Freemantle Media Enterprises ; a Thames Television production ; produced by Reginald Collin and Jonathan Alwyn. // Crime abounded in late Victorian and Edwardian times--from the streets of London to the country houses of nobility; from the royal apartments of Vienna to the hotel rooms of quiet Copenhagen. Sherlock Holmes took on many of the era's crooks, killers, blackmailers, and schemers, but so did the fictional sleuths of other celebrated writers of the time. (from container.)
1140. The Rivals of Sherlock Holmes. Set 2. Vol. 3. Silver Spring, MD: Distributed by Acorn Media, 2010. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 154 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, full screen (1.33:1) presentation; Dolby Digital, NTSC. Stories by Baldwin Grollen, R. Austin Freeman, and William LeQueux. Originally broadcast on Thames Television as individual episodes in 1973. Set contains 13 episodes from the series. Special features: Profiles of Dagobert Trostler, Dr. Thorndyke, and William Drew. Participants: Ronald Lewis, Barrie Ingham, Derek Jacobi. Audience: Not rated. Freemantle Media Enterprises ; a Thames Television production ; produced by Reginald Collin and Jonathan Alwyn. // Crime abounded in late Victorian and Edwardian times--from the streets of London to the country houses of nobility; from the royal apartments of Vienna to the hotel rooms of quiet Copenhagen. Sherlock Holmes took on many of the era's crooks, killers, blackmailers, and schemers, but so did the fictional sleuths of other celebrated writers of the time. (from container.)
1141. The Rivals of Sherlock Holmes. Set 2. Vol. 4. Silver Spring, MD: Distributed by Acorn Media, 2010. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 149 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, full screen (1.33:1) presentation; Dolby Digital, NTSC. Stories by C.J. Cutcliffe Hyne, Fergus Hume, and John Oxenham. Originally broadcast on Thames Television as individual episodes in 1973. Set contains 13 episodes from the series. Special features: Profiles of Mr. Harrocks, Hagar, and Charles Dallas. Participants: Ronald Fraser, Sara Kestelman, Robin Ellis. Audience: Not rated. Freemantle Media Enterprises ; a Thames Television production ; produced by Reginald Collin and Jonathan Alwyn. // Crime abounded in late Victorian and Edwardian times--from the streets of London to the country houses of nobility; from the royal apartments of Vienna to the hotel rooms of quiet Copenhagen. Sherlock Holmes took on many of the era's crooks, killers, blackmailers, and schemers, but so did the fictional sleuths of other celebrated writers of the time. (from container.)
1142. "Robert Ludlum." Economist 358, no. 8215 (2001): 83-83.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents an obituary for United States mystery writer Robert Ludlum, who died on March 12, 2001, at the age of 73. Includes references to both Doyle and Holmes. "His apocalyptic messages were a part of the thriller tradition that dates back at least to Sherlock Holmes. Conan Doyle was rather more sparing with the exclamation marks, but like Robert Ludlum he was a persuasive storyteller. And he too made his readers feel they were getting a privileged glimpse into how the real world was run. In 'A Scandal in Bohemia' the enthralled reader learns that the problem challenging Holmes 'is of such weight that it may have an influence on European history.' It is possible that Robert Ludlum once played Sherlock Holmes. He did not take up writing until he was 40. For some 20 years before that he was cast in many roles in the theatre and on television. He appeared in some 200 television dramas...."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1143. "Rogue's Gallery Dr. Hirayama Yuichi, BSI." The Ritual, no. 26 (2000): 21-22.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1144. "Rogue's Gallery, Potted Biographies of Noted Sherlockians, Alfred A. Levin, BSI." The Ritual, no. 19 (1997): 50-52.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1145. "Rogue's Gallery, Potted Biographies of Noted Sherlockians, Robert W. Hahn, BSI; The Five Hundred Year Old Sherlockian: An Interview by Mike Malice, CBS*." The Ritual, no. 22 (1998): 51-54.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1146. "Rogue's Gallery, Potted Biographies of Noted Sherlockians, William Hyder." The Ritual, no. 20 (1997): 48-50.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1147. "Rollers take Sony BMG to court over royalties." Music Week, no. (2005): 4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on the lawsuit between the Bay City Rollers against their producer Phil Wainman regarding a court battle with Sony BMG over the claim for unpaid royalties in Great Britain. Efforts of Wainman to secure his pensions; Issuance of a writ against the publishing administration company Sherlock Holmes Music which claims that it did not collect royalties derived from the music tracks Wainman produced; Terms and conditions of the writ.
1148. "Ron Unz, swimming instructor." Economist 346, no. 8066 (1998): 32-32.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Highlights Ron Unz for his ballot initiative that would abolish California's practice of teaching immigrant children mainly in their native tongues for several years, until they are deemed ready to join normal classes in English. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "The mystery is why, just one month before the vote on June 2nd, the Clintonites have come out against a measure that is both wise and popular. It does not take Sherlock Holmes to unravel this one."
1149. "Ronald De Waal signing galley proofs [photograph]." Canadian Holmes 17, no. 3 (1994): 35.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Photograph of Ronald De Waal signing galley proofs for The Universal Sherlock Holmes, in New York City, with many other Sherlockians looking on.
1150. "Rudyard Kipling unburdened." New Criterion 26, no. 8 (2008): 22-26.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...Kipling was pals with H. Rider Haggard. Arthur Conan Doyle came to visit and give Kipling a golf lesson when he was ensconced with his American wife in Bratzenboro, Vermont, in the early 1890s. But by and large, he consorted with politicians, generals, and magnates...."
1151. "Sarcastically My Dear Holmes." Canadian Holmes 29, no. 2 (2005): 38.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1152. "Sarcastically, My Dear Holmes, Some Recent Sightings." Canadian Holmes 27, no. 3 (2004): 26.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1153. "Sarcastically, My Dear Holmes, Some Recent Sightings." Canadian Holmes 25, no. 3 (2002): 33.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1154. "Satellite Pick of the Day." Daily Record, March 19, 2004: 54.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "...Murder Rooms: The Dark Beginnings Of Sherlock Holmes UKTV Drama, 9.00pm This murder mystery does exactly what it says on the tin, traces the beginnings of fictional detective hero Sherlock Holmes. Dr Joseph Bell, the Victorian forensic doctor widely recognised as the inspiration for

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Sherlock Holmes, teams up with the young doctor and budding author Dr Arthur Conan Doyle to form a formidable detective duo....With Ian Richardson, Charles Edwards and Alexander Armstrong...."

1155. "Save those love letters!". Writer 117, no. 11 (2004): 10-10.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents information on personal papers and love letters owned by writers that were sold at several auctions. Love letter from James Joyce to his wife; Collection of personal papers of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle; Family photo album belonging to A. A. Milne.
1156. "A Savvy List of the Season's Best." Publishers Weekly 248, no. 33 (2001): 173.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a list of bestseller hardcovers including Carroll & Graf title Murder in Baker Street: New Tales of Sherlock Holmes (Oct., $25), edited by Martin Greenberg et al., "collects stories by Anne Perry and 10 other mystery writers."
1157. A scandal in Bohemia. [Oak Forest, Ill.]: MPI Home Video, 1995. Visual Material 1 videocassette (52 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS format, hi-fi mono. Videocassette release of the 1983 television film. Based on: A scandal in Bohemia, by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Jeremy Brett, David Burke, Gayle Hunnicutt. Granada Television in association with WGBH Boston ; director, Paul Annett ; producer, Michael Cox ; dramatized by Alexandre Baron. Music, Patrick Gowers ; film editor, Jack Dardis ; camera, Jon Woods ; developed for TV by John Hawkesworth. // 1158. "The Scandal in Bohemia Meeting." The Illustrious Clients News 32, no. 8 (2009): 3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1159. The Scarlet Claw. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material (DVD) 1 videodisc (74 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. Sherlock Holmes collection; v. 2; DVD. Videodisc release of the 1944 motion picture. Based on characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Special features: Introduction by Robert Gitt, Preservation Officer at the UCLA Film and Television Archive; audio commentary with David Stuart Davies; production notes by Richard Valley; photo gallery/original movie posters. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Gerald Hamer, Paul Cavanagh, Arthur Hohl, Miles Mander, Kay Harding. Universal presents ; produced by Roy William Neill ; screenplay by Edmund L. Hartmann ; directed by Roy William Neill. // Sherlock Holmes is called in to solve a series of murders in Canada that the locals are attributing to a legendary marsh monster.
1160. The scarlet claw. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material (VHS) 1 videocassette (74 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. [Sherlock Holmes collection]; VHS. Based on characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Videocassette release of the 1944 motion picture. "Digitally restored in 35mm." Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Gerald Hamer, Paul Cavanagh, Arthur Hohl, Miles Mander, Kay Harding. Universal presents a King World Production ; screenplay by Edmund L. Hartmann ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill. // Sherlock Holmes is called in to solve a series of murders in Canada that the locals are attributing to a legendary marsh monster.
1161. Scarlet Street: the magazine of mystery and horror. Glen Rock, N.J.: R. H. Enterprises, 1991-.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1162. "The Science of Sherlock Holmes: From Baskerville Hall to the Valley of Fear, the Real Forensics behind the Great Detective's Greatest Cases." Physics Teacher 45, no. 3 (2007): 190-190.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "The Science of Sherlock Holmes: From Baskerville Hall to the Valley of Fear, the Real Forensics Behind the Great Detective's Greatest Cases," by E.J. Wagner.
1163. "The Science of Sherlock Holmes: From Baskerville Hall to the Valley of Fear, the Real Forensics Behind the Great Detective's Greatest Cases." Publishers Weekly 253, no. 3 (2006): 49-49.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of The Science of Sherlock Holmes: From Baskerville Hall to the Valley of Fear, the Real Forensics Behind the Great Detective's Greatest Cases, by E. J. Wagner (published by Wiley).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1164. "The Science of Sherlock Holmes: From Baskerville Hall to the Valley of Fear, the Real Forensics behind the Great Detective's Greatest Cases." Science news 169, no. 17 (2006): 271-271.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "The Science of Sherlock Holmes: From Baskerville Hall to the Valley of Fear, the Real Forensics behind the Great Detective's Greatest Cases," E. J. Wagner.
1165. "Scientific Notebook." Science news 174, no. 3 (2008): 4-4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article presents various items related to science. A quotation is presented from developmental psychologist Uta Frith on her image of a scientific hero that includes a passing reference to Holmes. "[Dr.] Frankenstein is so incredibly courageous and ambitious as to want to find the secret of life. He works very hard and with great imagination, and he tragically fails.... Sherlock Holmes is the opposite of romantic, and he never fails. He shows the dash of autism that may be as vital for the genius detective as for the genius scientist.... The deeply romantic and the obsessively pedantic are both part of my image of a scientific hero."
1166. "Scone heads." Minneapolis/St. Paul 22, no. 12 (1994): 54.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A man wonders why people eat scones when they cannot pronounce them and they don't taste half as good as a doughnut. He views scones as an evil device of a conspiracy to deprive him of his favorite morning-time treat. Unknown reference to Doyle or Holmes.
1167. "Scottish mansion wins preservation; escapes plans for a McDonald's." Journal Record (Oklahoma City, OK), Dec 10, 1999: 1.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "An 18th-century Scottish mansion where Sir Arthur Conan Doyle once lived was saved from a Big Mac attack Wednesday when the city of Edinburgh slapped a preservation order on it. Fans of the Sherlock Holmes creator, alarmed to discover that McDonald's planned to build a burger restaurant on the site, appealed to city hall and won. 'This is wonderful news,' said Richard Lancelyn Green, a Conan Doyle expert and former chairman of the London-based Sherlock Holmes Society. 'Sherlock Holmes still has his magic, it seems.'"
1168. "Search for England's first king." Earthwatch: The Journal of Earthwatch Institute 17, no. 1 (1998): 111.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses the Earthwatch project lead by Dr. Eric Klingelhofer, and Kenneth Qualmann. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "Winchester, England--You are about to enter on a search for a quarry as elusive and as sought-after as the Holy Grail itself. Whether you just read this story or take the plunge and join this project, you'll be diving into a mystery so sunk in the distant past and so riven with historical complexities that it would have left Sherlock Holmes declaring it a "three-pipe mystery," for the number of pipes he would have to smoke to work his way through it. It is the search for the tomb of Alfred the Great, the first King of England."
1169. The Search for Sherlock Holmes. [S.l.]: BFS Entertainment & Multimedia Limited, 2010. Visual Material 1 videodisc (149 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, widescreen. Release date: Oct. 26, 2010. Participants: David Hayman. // A fascinating investigation into the enduring appeal and real-life inspiration behind Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's Sherlock Holmes. Presented by actor and director David Hayman.
1170. "Searching For Traces: How To Connect the Sciences and the Humanities by a Peircean Theory of Indexicality." Transactions of the Charles S. Peirce Society 44, no. 1 (2008): 1-25.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes passing references to Doyle and Holmes. "For about 20 years, a new methodological paradigm in culture studies, art history, philosophy and the humanities has been developing. In conferences in Germany, Italy and France scholars from the humanities, philosophy and from archeology, art history and history of science have developed a methodology of traces, clues, hints, indices or markers concentrating on the specific and concrete details of their fields or drawing bold parallels to neuroscience and genetics. One of the starting points for this development--the one I want to concentrate on--is a paper by Ginzburg from the eighties titled 'Clues: Morelli, Freud and Sherlock Holmes'. Ginzburg's paper paints a bold, comprehensive picture that includes Sherlock Holmes who is looking for footprints and ashes fallen to the floor and Freud interpreting unconscious gestures and slips of the tongue...."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1171. "Season Preview 1999-2000." American Theatre 16, no. 8 (1999): 35.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a comprehensive listing of theater productions, complete with directors and dates at Theater Communications Group constituents and associate theaters in the United States for the 1999-2000 season. Includes Sherlock Holmes and the Curse of the Sign of Four at the Lifeline Theater, Chicago.
1172. "Season Preview 2007-2008." American Theatre 24, no. 8 (2007): 47-100.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes listings with Holmes references. Arkansas Repertory Theatre, Little Rock: Sherlock Holmes: The Final Adventure, Steven Dietz; dir: Robert Hupp. Apr 11-27; Meadow Brook Theatre, Rochester, Michigan: Sherlock Holmes: The Final Adventure, Steven Dietz; dir: David Regal. Oct 10-Nov 4; Park Square Theatre, St. Paul, Minnesota: Sherlock Holmes: The Final Adventure, Steven Dietz; dir: Peter Moore. May 30-Jun 22; The Cleveland Play House, Ohio: Sherlock Holmes: The Final Adventure, Steven Dietz; dir: Tim Ocel. Oct 12-Nov 4. Co-production with Geva Theatre Center, NY; People's Light & Theatre Company, Malvern, Pennsylvania: Sherlock Holmes & The Case of the Jersey Lily, Katie Forgette; dir: Steve Umberger. Jun 18-Jul 13.
1173. "Season Preview 2008-09." American Theatre 25, no. 8 (2008): 46-96.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article lists U.S. theatrical productions in the 2008 and 2009 season including: Indiana Repertory Theatre, Indianapolis, Sherlock Holmes: The Final Adventure, adapt: Steven Dietz from Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Thru Oct 11.; NACL Theatre, Highland Lake, New York, The Uncanny Appearance of Sherlock Holmes, Brad Krumholz (also dir); lyrics: Brett Keyser; music: ensemble, Glenn Hall, Tannis Kowalchuk. Dec 5-21. Co-production with HERE Arts Center, NY.; Hedgerow Theatre, Wallingford, Pennsylvania, Sherlock Holmes: The Final Adventure, Steven Dietz; dir: Janet Kelsey. Oct 14-Nov 16.; Peninsula Players Theatre, Fish Creek, Wisconsin, Sherlock Holmes: The Final Adventure, adapt: Steven Dietz; dir: Jim Corti. Thru Oct 19.
1174. "The Second Shoso-In Bulletin Award Is Presented to Alan C. Olding." Shoso-In Bulletin 13, no. (2003): 3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1175. The secret weapon. New York: GoodTimes Home Video, 1998. Visual Material 1 videocassette (70 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS. Based on the story "The dancing men" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Videocassette release of the 1942 motion picture by Universal Pictures Company, Inc. "05-09681"--Container. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Lionel Atwill, Dennis Hooey, Harold DeBecker. [Universal Pictures]. Director, Roy William Neill; screenplay, Edward T. Lowe, W. Scott Darling, Edmund L. Hartmann. // Sherlock Holmes vs. his arch rival, Professor Moriarty, who has kidnapped the inventor of a new bombsight.
1176. Secret Weapon. Solana Beach, Calif.: PMB 421, 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (68 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. Movie classics; DVD, digitally remastered. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Lionel Atwill. Director, Roy William Neill. // A Sherlock Holmes thriller. Holmes and Watson must prevent the Germans from gaining the "secret weapon" plans from the British.
1177. "Selected Books." Southern medical journal 94, no. 6 (2001): 588.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Enumerates several books on osteoporosis, the list ending with an interesting quote: "I have no data yet. It is a capital mistake to theorize before one has data. Insensibly, one begins to twist facts to suit theories, instead of theories to suit facts." Arthur Conan Doyle, A Scandal in Bohemia, 1891.
1178. "Selected videos, DVDs and audiobooks for young adults 2001." School Library Journal 47, no. 4 (2001): 59-61.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Annotated reviews of notable young adults' videos, DVDs, and audiobooks, compiled by the Young Adult Library Services Association, are presented. Included is Sherlock's Secret Life. By Ed Lange; read by Karl Malden and performed by N.Y. State Theatre Institute. 2 cassettes. 1:43 hrs. ISBN 1-892613-03-4. 1999. $16.95. New York State Theatre Institute. "The young Sherlock Holmes, and his familiar cohorts, Dr. Watson and Professor Moriarty, are portrayed in this original and fully dramatized story about an early case that brought the detective to the brink of lovelorn heartbreak."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1179. "The September Society." Publishers Weekly 255, no. 23 (2008): 34-34.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "The September Society," by Charles Finch. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "As in Conan Doyle's The Sign of Four, a crime committed in India has consequences in England years later in Finch's less than successful second Victorian whodunit to feature amateur detective Charles Lenox (after 2007's A Beautiful Blue Death)...."
1180. The Seven-per-cent solution. Universal City, CA: MCA Home Video, 1996. Visual Material 1 videocassette (1 hr., 53 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS. Based on: Seven-percent-solution / Nicholas Meyer. Originally produced as motion picture in 1976 by Universal Pictures. "55064"--Container label. Participants: Alan Arkin, Vanessa Redgrave, Robert Duvall, Nicol Williamson, Sir Laurence Olivier, Joel Grey, Samantha Eggar, Charles Gray, Georgia Brown, Regine, Jeremy Kemp. Audience: MPAA rating: R. [screenplay by Nicholas Meyer ; produced and directed by Herbert Ross.] Director of photography, Oswald Morris; production designer, Ken Adam; costume designer, Alan Barrett; editorial supervision, William Reynolds; music, John Addison. // Sherlock Holmes meets Sigmund Freud--and the father of modern psychology joins the famous detective in the search for the real Professor Moriarty.
1181. The seven-per-cent solution. [S.l.]: Universal Home Video ; Chatsworth, CA : Distributed by Image Entertainment, 1998. Visual Material 1 videodisc (114 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Originally released as a motion picture in 1976. Based on the novel of the same title by Nicholas Meyer. Participants: Alan Arkin, Vanessa Redgrave, Robert Duvall, Nicol Williamson, Laurence Olivier, Joel Grey, Samantha Eggar, Charles Gray, Georgia Brown, Regine, Jeremy Kemp. Audience: PG rating. Universal Pictures. Screenplay, Nicholas Meyer ; producer-director, Herbert Ross ; music, John Addison. // Sherlock Holmes and Sigmund Freud work together to solve a mystery.
1182. "The sex trade in colonial West Africa." New African, no. 466 (2007): 80-82.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...It does not take a Sherlock Holmes to spot a French lady of easy virtue when she arrives at Dover. But I doubt whether even the eagle eye of Capt. Nottingham [commissioner of police in the Gold Coast] could discern the difference between a Calabar petty trader and a Calabar prostitute,' argued Blackall...."
1183. "SF/Fantasy/Horror Notes." Publishers Weekly 253, no. 3 (2006): 41-41.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Notes Terrors by Richard A. Lupoff, who "gathers 16 diverting imaginative tales, each a pastiche in tribute to a popular author like Edgar Rice Burroughs, Arthur Conan Doyle or H.P. Lovecraft."
1184. "SF/Fantasy/Horror Notes." Publishers Weekly 247, no. 44 (2000): 52.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents list of books released in November and December 2000 in the United States, including The Mammoth Book of Haunted House Stories. "Peter Haining has edited The Mammoth Book of Haunted House Stories, which includes stories by such classic authors as M.R. James, L.P. Hartley and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and by such modern masters as Ramsey Campbell, Basil Copper and James Herbert. As to be expected from a distinguished anthologizer like Haining, this is a top-drawer collection." (Carroll & Graf, $11.95 paper 512p ISBN 0-7867-0791-7)
1185. "The Shadow of Reichenbach Falls." Publishers Weekly 255, no. 18 (2008): 47-48.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A review of the book by John R. King. Forge, $25.95 (352p) ISBN 978-0-7653-1801-5. "King's muddled alternate version of the epic final battle between Sherlock Holmes and Professor Moriarty teams the Baker Street sleuth with William Hope Hodgson's Thomas Carnacki, a detective who often contends with the supernatural....Despite the author's obvious affection for the characters, he fails to provide a plot that does justice to his intriguing premise."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1186. "The Shadow of Reichenbach Falls." Kirkus Reviews 76, no. 11 (2008): 34-34.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "The Shadow of Reichenbach Falls," by John R. King. "It takes two fictional sleuths to engineer Professor Moriarty's comeuppance. In a letter to Dr. Watson written 20 years after Holmes met Moriarty at Reichenbach Falls, Thomas Carnacki, the detective who solved supernatural cases using the principle of the electric pentacle, recounts how an apparently chance encounter with one Anna Schmidt led to their picnicking at the Falls just in time to rescue one man who had been pushed over by the other.....Sherlockians may quibble at their hero's fallibility, but King (The Angel of Death in Chicago, 2008, etc.) could well create new fans for William Hope Hodgson's early sci-fi tales of Carnacki."
1187. "The Shadow Year." Fantasy & Science Fiction 114, no. 5 (2008): 31-34.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book The Shadow Year by Jeffrey Ford. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Mary, the youngest child, is able to predict where Mr. White will strike next, and this concession to the mechanics of supernatural fiction gives The Shadow Year a passing similarity to works like King's Hearts in Atlantis, the stories in Joe Hill's 20th Century Ghosts, and in particular Glen Hirshberg's spooky, underrated The Snowman's Children. Yet The Shadow Year is better than all of these, because it is a more nuanced, far more delicate novel. 'Delicate' seems an odd word to describe a book wherein Sherlock Holmes appears as a leitmotif, described thus: 'The great detective came across to me like a snob, the type my father once described as 'believing that the sun rose and set from his asshole;'..."
1188. "Shakespeare and Popular Culture." College Literature 31, no. 4 (2004): insert4-insert5, 1-170.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A special issue investigates the place of Shakespeare in the contemporary popular culture of the United States. Includes a reference to Holmes in the article by Donald Hedrick. "...I want to gesture finally toward the appropriateness of this genre of film noir, in its relevant theoretical formulation. Here I adopt the approach of Slavoj Zizek (1993), drawing on a distinction that he makes using the history of detective fiction. Our traditional image of the scholar is, it seems, that of the independent, and therefore objective, investigator, the traditional and typical model for which is Sherlock Holmes. As explorer, the Holmesian detective is an excavator of truth; his literary scholar counterpart uncovers latent meaning, ironies, structures, social and historical contexts, all within the 'objective' text. The Holmesian detective, then, is essentially an overviewer of the crime. The noir detective, by way of contrast, becomes enmeshed in the crime itself, like the example of Raymond Chandler's Philip Marlowe. Often this entanglement with the shady occurs through the fascination or involvement with a femme fatale, but in any case the noir investigator is 'immersed in the destructive element,' as it were, rather than probing it, at a distance, and with dean hands. Drawing from theories of postmodernism, we might describe this in Linda Hutcheon's description of the political postmodern as complicit critique (1988)...."
1189. Sharokku homuzu himitsu no ittan : beikagai nihyaku niyuichi bi karano chosa hokoku. Tokyo: Seishunshupansha, 2000.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. //
1190. Sherlock a new sleuth for the 21st century. London: Hartwood Film Production : Distributed by Zentertain Video, 2010. Visual Material 2 videodiscs (266 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Originally released as a BBC TV series. a Hartwood Film Production ; produced by Sue Vertue ; directed by Paul McGuigan and Euros Lyn. // A contemporary update of Arthur Conan Doyle's Sherlock Holmes detective stories. Produced by Hartwood Films for BBC Wales, co-produced with WGBH Boston for its Masterpiece anthology series.
1191. "Sherlock Holmes." The News of the World (England), October 19, 2008: 19.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The classic point-and-click adventure Sherlock Holmes gets a facelift on Thursday with the release of the Awakened Remastered Edition of the PC hit by Ascaron and 93 Games....Players can now choose between stepping into the first person mode of Sherlock Holmes himself or the new third person mode."
1192. Sherlock Holmes. [Dunellen, NJ]: Digiview Productions, 2004. Visual Material 1 videodisc (75 min.).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

- NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Participants: Main cast for all three episodes: Ronald Howard (Holmes), H. Marion Crawford (Watson), Archie Duncan (Lestrade). Supporting cast for The case of Harry Crocker: Eugene Deckers, Harris Towb, Aki Yanai. Supporting cast for The case of the Cunningham heritage: Meg Lemonnier, Ursula Howells, Rowland Bartrop. Supporting cast for The case of Lady Beryl: Paulette Goddard, Peter Copley, K. Richard Larke. Sheldon Reynolds production ; a Motion Pictures for MPTV television release. For all three episodes: Director of photography, Raymond Clunie ; editor, George Gale. // Three episodes of the series The new adventures of Sherlock Holmes from 1954-1955.
1193. Sherlock Holmes. [London?]: Granada Television, 1994. Visual Material 3 videocassettes (VHS) (ca. 300 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Sherlock Holmes.; Volume 2; Distributed in Australia by Universal Pictures (Australasia). Based on the novels of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. The master blackmailer based on his, Charles Augustus Milverton and The last vampyre based on his, The Sussex vampire. Participants: Starring Jeremy Brett (Sherlock Holmes) and Edward Hardwicke (Dr Watson). Marcom Projects Pty Ltd ; UMA9061393. Dramatised by Jeremy Paul ...[et al.]. // Volume 2 in the memoirs of Sherlock Holmes. With Jeremy Brett as Sherlock Holmes. Contains: The Mazarin Stone The Cardboard Box The Golden Pince-Nez The Red Circle The Three Gables The Dying Detective.
1194. Sherlock Holmes. [Minneapolis]: [WCCO Television], 1996. Visual Material 1 videocassettes (15 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- WCCO-TV (Television station : Minneapolis, Minn.) sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Beta and VHS formats. Broadcast Jan. 21, 1996 on KTCB-TV, St. Paul, Minn. [program narrated by Dave Moore]. // In an episode of Moore on Sunday, James Hubbs reveals the extent of the Holmes materials, donated in part by John Bennett Shaw, in the Special Collections at the University of Minnesota Libraries.
1195. Sherlock Holmes. Burbank, CA: Warner Home Video, 2010. Visual Material 1 videodisc (128 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD; NTSC, region 1; widescreen presentation; Dolby Digital 5.1. Originally released as a motion picture in 2009. Special feature: "Sherlock Holmes reinvented" featurette. Participants: Robert Downey, Jr., Jude Law, Rachel McAdams, Mark Strong, Eddie Marsan, Kelly Reilly, James Fox, Hans Matheson, Geraldine James. Audience: MPAA rating: PG-13; for intense sequences of violence and action, some startling images and a scene of suggestive material. a Warner Bros. Pictures presentation in association with Village Roadshow Pictures ; a Silver Pictures production ; a Wigram production ; directed by Guy Ritchie ; screenplay by Michael Robert Johnson and Anthony Peckham and Simon Kinberg ; screen story by Lionel Wigram and Michael Robert Johnson ; produced by Joel Silver, Lionel Wigram, Susan Downey, Dan Lin ; executive producers, Michael Tadross and Bruce Berman ; director of photography, Philippe Rousselot ; a Guy Ritchie film. Co-producer, Steve Clark-Hall ; production designer, Sarah Greenwood ; editor, James Herbert ; music by Hans Zimmer ; costume designer, Jenny Beavan ; visual effects supervisor, Chas Jarrett. // After finally catching serial killer and occult 'sorcerer' Lord Blackwood, legendary sleuth Sherlock Holmes and his assistant Dr. Watson can close yet another successful case. After his execution, Blackwood mysteriously returns from the grave and resumes his killing spree, Holmes must take up the hunt once again. Contending with Watson's new fiancée and the dimwitted head of Scotland Yard, the determined detective must unravel the clues that will lead him into a twisted web of murder, deceit, and black magic, not to mention the deadly embrace of temptress Irene Adler.
1196. Sherlock Holmes. Burbank, CA: Distributed by Warner Home Video, 2010. Visual Material 1 videodisc (128 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. Blu-ray disc, widescreen presentation; Dolby Digital, 1080p High Definition; requires Blu-ray player. Originally released as a motion picture in 2009. Participants: Robert Downey, Jr., Jude Law, Rachel McAdams, Mark Strong. Audience: MPAA rating: PG13; for intense sequences of violence and action, some startling images and a scene of suggestive material. Warner Bros. Pictures presents in association with Village Roadshow Pictures, a Silver Pictures production in association with Wigram Productions, a Guy Ritchie film ; produced by Joel Silver, Lionel Wigram, Susan Downey, Dan Lin ; screen story by Lionel Wigram and Michael Robert Johnson ; screenplay by Michael Robert Johnson and Anthony Peckham and Simon Kinberg ; directed by Guy Ritchie. Music, Hans Zimmer. // After finally catching serial killer and occult 'sorcerer' Lord Blackwood, legendary sleuth Sherlock Holmes and his assistant Dr. Watson can close yet another successful case. After his execution, Blackwood mysteriously returns from the grave and resumes his killing spree, Holmes must take up the hunt once again. Contending with Watson's new fiancée and the dimwitted head of Scotland Yard, the determined detective must unravel the clues that will lead him into a twisted web of murder, deceit, and black magic, not to mention the deadly embrace of temptress Irene Adler.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1197. Sherlock Holmes. [Burbank, CA]: The Asylum Home Entertainment, 2010. Visual Material 1 videodisc (90 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD; widescreen; surround sound. Special features: The making of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's Sherlock Holmes ; bloopers ; cast and crew commentary ; trailers. Participants: Gareth David-Lloyd; Ben Syder; Dominic Keating. produced by David Michael Latt, David Rimawi [and] Paul Bales ; screenplay by Paul Bales ; directed and edited by Rachel Lee Goldenberg. // Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's famous detective faces the ultimate challenge when enormous monsters attack London. -- Container. "The "Mockbuster" rival edition of the Guy Ritchie blockbuster with the same title, following the tradition established by The Asylum (2000). "--IMDB 1198. Sherlock Holmes. [s.l.]: Distributed by BBC Worldwide Americas, Inc. ; Burbank, CA : Distributed in the USA and Canada by Warner Home Video, 2010. Visual Material 2 videodiscs (550 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, NTSC, Dolby Digital Mono. Based on characters created by Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally released as episodes of the television series in 1964 on the BBC. Release date: Sep. 14, 2010. Participants: Douglas Wilmer, Nigel Stock. Written by Giles Cooper... [et al.] ; directed by Robin Midgley... [et al.] ; produced by David Goddard. // Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's famous detective has enthralled generations since his first appearance in 1887. Includes some of the best stories from the canon. Whether it's the horrifying case of The Speckled Band or the fascinating story behind The Red Headed League, this is a DVD must-have for all Sherlock and mystery fans.

1199. Sherlock Holmes. Burbank, CA: Distributed by Warner Home Video, 2010. Visual Material 1 videodisc (128 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD ; 1080p High Definition 16x9 1,85:1, DTS-HD Master Audio: English 5.1 Dolby Digital, French 5.1, Spanish 5.1. Originally released as a motion picture in 2009 ; 2010 DVD release. Participants: Robert Downey, Jr.; Jude Law; Rachel McAdams; Mark Strong. Warner Bros. Pictures presents in association with Village Roadshow Pictures, a Silver Pictures production in association with Wigram Productions, a Guy Ritchie film ; produced by Joel Silver, Lionel Wigram, Susan Downey, Dan Lin ; screen story by Lionel Wigram and Michael Robert Johnson ; screenplay by Michael Robert Johnson and Anthony Peckham and Simon Kinberg ; directed by Guy Ritchie. Music, Hans Zimmer. // After finally catching serial killer and occult 'sorcerer' Lord Blackwood, legendary sleuth Sherlock Holmes and his assistant Dr. Watson can close yet another successful case. After his execution, Blackwood mysteriously returns from the grave and resumes his killing spree, Holmes must take up the hunt once again. Contending with Watson's new fiancée and the dimwitted head of Scotland Yard, the determined detective must unravel the clues that will lead him into a twisted web of murder, deceit, and black magic, not to mention the deadly embrace of temptress Irene Adler.

1200. Sherlock Holmes. [Pyrmont, N.S.W.]: Roadshow Entertainment, 2010. Visual Material 1 videodisc (DVD) (ca. 123 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd. col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, PAL, region 4. Original theatrical release in 2009. Participants: Robert Downey Jr., Judd Law, Rachel McAdams, Mark Strong. Audience: Classification: M. Directed by Guy Ritchie. // Detective Sherlock Holmes and his stalwart partner Watson engage in a battle of wits and brawn with a nemesis whose plot is a threat to all of England.

1201. Sherlock Holmes. Singapore: Distributed by Scorpio East Entertainment, 2010. Visual Material 1 videodisc (128 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, Region 3; widescreen (2.40:1); Dolby digital. Originally released as a motion picture in 2009. "7000022476"--Disc label. Participants: Robert Downey, Jr.; Jude Law; Rachel McAdams; Mark Strong. Audience: Board of Film Censors, Singapore: PG (Violence). Warner Bros. Pictures presentation in association with Village Roadshow Pictures, a Silver Pictures production in association

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

- with Wigram Productions, a Guy Ritchie film ; produced by Joel Silver, Lionel Wigram, Susan Downey, Dan Lin ; screenplay by Michael Robert Johnson and Anthony Peckham and Simon Kinberg ; directed by Guy Ritchie. Music, Hans Zimmer ; director of photography, Philippe Rousselot ; editor, James Herbert ; screen story by Lionel Wigram and Michael Robert Johnson. // After finally catching serial killer and occult 'sorcerer' Lord Blackwood, legendary sleuth Sherlock Holmes and his assistant Dr. Watson can close yet another successful case. After his execution, Blackwood mysteriously returns from the grave and resumes his killing spree, Holmes must take up the hunt once again. Contending with Watson's new fiancée and the dimwitted head of Scotland Yard, the determined detective must unravel the clues that will lead him into a twisted web of murder, deceit, and black magic, not to mention the deadly embrace of temptress Irene Adler.
1202. Sherlock Holmes. Hong Kong: Distributed by Deltamac (Hong Kong) Co., Ltd., 2010. Visual Material 2 videodiscs (128 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD; Region 3; Dolby digital; dual-layer format; widescreen 16:9. Originally released as a motion picture in 2009. Special features: Sherlock Holmes reinvented. Participants: Robert Downey Jr., Jude Law, Rachel McAdams, Mark Strong ; Eddie Marsan, Kelly Reilly. Audience: Category IIA. directed by Guy Ritchie ; screenplay by Michael Robert Johnson and Anthony Peckham and Simon Kinberg ; screen story by Lionel Wigram and Michael Robert Johnson ; produced by Joel Silver ... [et al.] ; executive producers, Michael Tadmor and Bruce Berman ; a Warner Bros. Pictures presentation in association with Village Roadshow Pictures ; a Silver Pictures production ; a Wigram production ; a Guy Ritchie film. Director of photography, Philippe Rousselot ; editor, James Herbert ; music, Hans Zimmer. // "Robert Downey Jr. and Jude Law put memorable imprints on Holmes and Watson in this bold new reimagining that makes the legendary sleuth a daring man of action as well as a peerless man of intellect. Baffling clues, astonishing Holmesian deductions, nimble repartee, catch-your-breath scenes of one slam thing after another--director Guy Ritchie helms the excitement reintroducing the great detective to the world. Meet the new Sherlock Holmes!"--Container.
1203. Sherlock Holmes 2 tape set The woman in green ; Dressed to kill. Westlake Village, CA: Brentwood Home Video, 1997. Visual Material 2 videocassettes (165 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w. ; 1/2 in. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Hillary Brooke, Patricia Morison. // The woman in Green (1945): Holmes and Watson stalk the villain behind the most atrocious murders since Jack the Ripper. Dressed to Kill (1946): Holmes and Watson pursue stolen Bank of England bank plates.
1204. Sherlock Holmes & the secret weapon. St. Laurent, Quebec: Distributed by Madacy Entertainment Group, 1998. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 68 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS format. Originally released as a motion picture by Universal Pictures in 1943. Based on the story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Lionel Atwill, William Post Jr. Karen Verne. Directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay by Edward T. Lowe and W. Scott Darling. // Holmes and Watson must prevent the Germans from gaining the "secret weapon" plans from the British.
1205. "Sherlock Holmes (Book Review)." Publishers Weekly 247, no. 51 (2000): 58.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'Sherlock Holmes: The Missing Years: The Adventures of the Great Detective in India and Tibet,' by Jamyang Norbu.
1206. Sherlock Holmes : The hound of the Baskervilles. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 DVD video disc, 120 Minutes.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. The Sherlock Holmes feature film collection. Cast : Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke, Kristoffer Tabori, Ronald Pickup. Originally shown on television, c1984. Granada Television, Ltd. ; WGBH Boston ; produced by June Wyndham Davies ; directed by Brian Mills ; dramatised by Trevor Bowen. Director of photography, Michael B. Popley; production design, Christopher J. Bradshaw, James Weatherup; editor, Alan Ringland; music, Patrick Gowers. // Sherlock Holmes is called in to investigate the death of Sir Charles Baskerville and the threats sent to Sir Henry.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1207. Sherlock Holmes [in] "Dressed to kill". [U.K.]: Orbit Films, 2000. Visual Material 1 videocassette (72 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b/w. Screen classics ; SVC 0005; Original: Original film: 1946. directed by Roy William Neill. // 1208. Sherlock Holmes [in] "Woman in green". [U.K.]: Orbit Films, 2000. Visual Material 1 videocassette (66 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b/w. Screen classics ; ORB 0005; Original film: 1945. directed by Roy William Neill. // 1209. Sherlock Holmes [Series]. New York: Goodtimes Home Video, 1998. Visual Material 5 videocassettes.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Based on story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. Universal Pictures. Produced and directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay by Edward T. Lowe, W. Scott Darling, Edmund L. Hartmann. //
1210. "'Sherlock Holmes' A Melodrama in Four Acts at The Shaw Festival, Niagara-on-the-Lake [Advertisement]." Canadian Holmes 17, no. 3 (1994): 5.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Advertisement for "a convocation of Sherlockians sponsored by The Bootmakers of Toronto and An Irish Secret Society at Buffalo 1211. Sherlock Holmes and clinical reasoning. Grand Forks, ND: University of North Dakota, Division of Biomedical Communications, 1996. Visual Material 1 videocassette (VHS).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Dean's hour ; no. 96-0319; "Presented March 19, 1996."
 Audience: Medical profession, other interested personnel. // In this presentation Dr. Hunter discusses clinical reasoning. The best account of clinical reasoning is Sherlock Holmes' methods of solving mysteries.
1212. "Sherlock Holmes and the Adventure of the Faithful Fusilier." PS: Preventive Maintenance Monthly, no. 647 (2006): 27-34.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The comic strip "Sherlock Holmes and the Adventure of the Faithful Fusilier" is presented.
1213. "Sherlock Holmes and the American Angels." Publishers Weekly 254, no. 25 (2007): 38-38.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "Sherlock Holmes and the American Angels," by Barrie Roberts.
1214. Sherlock Holmes and the Baker Street Irregulars. Silver Spring, MD: Distributed by Acorn Media, 2007. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 114 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, widescreen (16:9) presentation; Dolby Digital stereo. Based on characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally broadcast on the BBC in 2007. Special features: A bio of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle; photo gallery; cast filmographies. Participants: Jonathan Pryce, Bill Paterson, Anna Chancellor, Michael Maloney. produced by RDF Television for the BBC ; written by Richard Kurti and Bev Doyle ; producer, Andy Rowley ; director, Julian Kemp. // Kids are disappearing, policemen are being poisoned and Sherlock Holmes is under house arrest, falsely accused of crimes he didn't commit. Enter the Baker Street Irregulars. This savvy, street-smart team of teens become the great detective's eyes, ears and legs. But can these kids really help Holmes stop a mastermind from stealing England's gold, the good name of her greatest sleuth, and the lives of two of their own?
1215. "Sherlock Holmes and the Baker Street Irregulars: The Fall of the Amazing Zalindas, Casebook No. 1." Kirkus Reviews 74, no. 17 (2006): 907-907.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "Sherlock Holmes and the Baker Street Irregulars: The Fall of the Amazing Zalindas, Casebook No.1," by Tracy Mack and Michael Citrin and illustrated by Greg Ruth.
1216. "Sherlock Holmes and the Case of the Silk Stocking." People 64, no. 18 (2005): 42.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the television program "Sherlock Holmes and the Case of the Silk Stocking," starring Rupert Everett.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1217. Sherlock Holmes and the case of the silk stocking. Burbank, CA: Warner Home Video, 2005. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 90 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, widescreen (16:9) presentation; Dolby Digital stereo., MCPS. Originally released as a motion picture in 2004. Special features: Commentary by director Simon Cellan Jones and producer Elinor Day; cast bios. Participants: Rupert Everett, Ian Hart. Audience: MPAA rating: Not rated. a co-production of BBC and WGBH ; produced by Tiger Aspect Productions ; produced by Elinor Day ; original screenplay by Allan Cubitt ; directed by Simon Cellan Jones. // When the murder of a penniless shopgirl is linked to the body of debutante Lady Alice Burnham, legendary sleuth Sherlock Holmes (Rupert Everett) immediately begins to piece together the clues.
1218. Sherlock Holmes and the deadly necklace. Chicago: Facets Multimedia, 1994. Visual Material 1 videocassette (85 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS. "S09533." Videocassette release of the 1964 motion picture. Participants: Christopher Lee, Hans Sohnker, Hans Nielsen, Senta Berger, Ivan Desny. CCC Studios, Berlin ; Omnia Deutsche Film Export, GMBH. Screenplay, Curt Siodmak ; producer, Arthur Brauner ; director, Terence Fisher, Frank Winterstein ; english version, Peter Riethop. //
1219. Sherlock Holmes and the deadly necklace. Burbank, CA: Hollywood's Attic, 1996. Visual Material 1 videocassette (23 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS. Participants: Christopher Lee, Hans Söhnker, Senta Berger, Terence Fisher, Frank Winterstein, Curt Sidomak. // Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson battle Moriarty who is after a valuable necklace.
1220. Sherlock Holmes and the Deadly Necklace. Jamestown, MO: I.S. Filmworks, 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (85 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. "AR9497D." DVD release of the 1964 motion picture. Participants: Christopher Lee, Senta Berger. directed by Terence Fisher. // Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson again battle the evil Moriarty who's after a valuable necklace.
1221. Sherlock Holmes and the Deadly Necklace. Jamestown, MO: I.S. Filmworks, 2000. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 90 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS. Video release of the 1964 motion picture. Participants: Christopher Lee, Senta Berger. directed by Terence Fisher. // Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson again battle the evil Moriarty who's after a valuable necklace.
1222. Sherlock Holmes and the deadly necklace. North Hollywood, CA: Retromedia Entertainment, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (86 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Based on the novel, The valley of fear by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally produced as a motion picture in 1962. Special features: scene selection. Participants: Christopher Lee, Hans Söhnker, Hans Nielsen, Senta Berger, Ivan Desny. produced by CCC Filmkunst GmbH, Berlin ; world distribution, Omnia Deutsche Film Export, GmbH. Screen play, Curt Siodmak ; music, Martin Slavin ; producer, Artur Brauner ; directors, Terence Fisher, Frank Winterstein ; English version, Peter Riethof. // The game is afoot! Master criminal Professor Moriarty is seeking priceless gems once belonging to Cleopatra, and the world's greatest detective is on his trail!"--Container.
1223. "Sherlock Holmes and the King's Governess." Publishers Weekly 252, no. 24 (2005): 36.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book "Sherlock Holmes and the King's Governess," by Barrie Roberts.
1224. Sherlock Holmes and the Leading Lady. Richmond Sth, Vic.: Visual Entertainment Group, 2010. Visual Material 1 videodisc (120 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. All region, NTSC. Filmed on location in Vienna, London, Luxembourg. Participants: Christopher Lee, Patrick McNee. Audience: Censorship rating: M. // Our intrepid

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

heroes, Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson are out of crimes to solve, that is, until they are summoned to recover a stolen bomb detonator Holmes fears will be used to kill Austro-Hungarian Emperor Franz Joseph.

1225. Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon. St. Laurent, Quebec: Distributed by Madacy Music Group, 1994. Visual Material 1 videocassette (68 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS. Based on the story "The dancing men" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Lionel Atwill. a Universal picture ; directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Edward T. Lowe, W. Scott Darling, Edmund L. Hartmann. Cinematography by Les White ; film editing by Otto Ludwig ; original music by Frank Skinner. // Professor Moriarty has kidnapped the inventor of a new bombsight, which Holmes is trying to keep from Nazi Germany.
1226. Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon. [St-Laurent, Quebec, Canada]: Madacy Music Group, 1995. Visual Material 1 videocassette (68 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS format. Based on the story "The dancing men" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Videocassette release of the 1942 motion picture. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Lionel Atwill, Kaaren Verne, William Post Jr., Dennis Hoey, Mary Gordon, Holmes Herbert. Universal Pictures ; director, Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Edward T. Lowe, W. Scott Darling, Edmund L. Hartmann. Music, Frank Skinner ; film editor, Otto Ludwig ; director of photography, Les White ; adaptation, W. Scott Darling, Edward T. Lowe. // Sherlock Holmes battles his arch rival, Professor Moriarty, who has kidnapped the inventor of a new bombsight.
1227. Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon. [S.l.]: Liberty Home Video, 1996. Visual Material 1 videocassette (68 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS. Based on the story "The dancing men" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Videocassette release of the 1942 motion picture. "4604." Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Lionel Atwill, Kaaren Verne, William Post Jr., Dennis Hoey, Mary Gordon, Holmes Herbert. Universal Pictures. Director, Roy William Neill; screenplay, Edward T. Lowe, W. Scott Darling, Edmund L. Hartmann. // Sherlock Holmes vs. his arch rival, Professor Moriarty, who has kidnapped the inventor of a new bombsight.
1228. Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon. Piscataway, NJ: Alpha Video Distributors, 1997. Visual Material 1 videocassette (70 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Sherlock Holmes mystery classics; VHS. Based on the story "The dancing men" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Videocassette release of the 1942 motion picture. "A Sherlock Holmes mystery"--Label. "A Sherlock Holmes mystery"--Cover. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Lionel Atwill, Kaaren Verne, William Post Jr., Dennis Hoey, Mary Gordon, Holmes E. Herbert. Universal Pictures ; director, Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Edward T. Lowe, W. Scott Darling, Edmund L. Hartmann. Music, Frank Skinner ; film editor, Otto Ludwig ; director of photography, Les White. // Sherlock Holmes battles his arch rival, Professor Moriarty, who has kidnapped the inventor of a new bombsite.
1229. Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon. New York: Goodtimes Home Video, 1998. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 70 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Originally released as a motion picture in 1942. Based on "The dancing men" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. "05-09681." Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Kaaren Verne, Lionel Atwill, Dennis Hoe, William Post, Jr. Universal Pictures. Produced and directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay by Edward T. Lowe, W. Scott Darling, Edmund L. Hartmann. // During this wartime thriller, Moriarty kidnaps a noted government scientist and it's up to Holmes to rescue him.
1230. Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon. Eugene, OR: Dastar Corp/Marathon Music & Video, 1998. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 70 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. The Sherlock Holms Trilogy; Originally released as a motion picture in 1942. Based on "The dancing men" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. "#33893." Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Kaaren Verne, Lionel Atwill, Dennis Hoe, William Post, Jr. Universal Pictures. Produced and directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay by Edward T. Lowe, W. Scott Darling, Edmund L. Hartmann. // This 1942 wartime classic is set on the gripping stage of intrigue as Basil Rathbone, the immortal

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Holmes, battles Professor Moriarty, played by Lionell Atwill, for control of an Allied secret weapon. Holmes must stop his nemesis, Moriarty, before he sells the secret to Nazi agents.

1231. Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon. [S.l.]: VCI Home Video, 1999. Visual Material 1 videocassette (68 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Sherlock Holmes mystery collection; VHS. Based on the story "The dancing men" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Videocassette release of the 1942 motion picture. "4604." Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Lionel Atwill, Kaaren Verne, William Post Jr., Dennis Hoey, Mary Gordon, Holmes Herbert. Universal Pictures. Director, Roy William Neill; screenplay, Edward T. Lowe, W. Scott Darling, Edmund L. Hartmann. // Sherlock Holmes vs. his arch rival, Professor Moriarty, who has kidnapped the inventor of a new bombsight.
1232. Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon. Toronto: Audiovision Canada, 1999. Visual Material 1 videocassette (68 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS. Based on the story "The dancing men" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Videocassette release of the 1942 motion picture. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Lionel Atwill, Kaaren Verne, William Post Jr., Dennis Hoey, Mary Gordon, Holmes Herbert. Universal Pictures. Director, Roy William Neill; screenplay, Edward T. Lowe, W. Scott Darling, Edmund L. Hartmann. // Sherlock Holmes vs. his arch rival, Professor Moriarty, who has kidnapped the inventor of a new bombsight.
1233. Sherlock Holmes and the Secret Weapon. Scarborough, ME: Focusfilm Entertainment, 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 68 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD; mono. Special features: chapter stop; re-created theatrical trailer; still gallery; 8 original radio broadcast of "The new adventures of Sherlock Holmes" (4 hrs). Based on the story "The dancing men" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Videocassette release of the 1942 motion picture. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Lionel Atwill, Kaaren Verne, William Post Jr., Dennis Hoey, Mary Gordon, Holmes E. Herbert. Universal Pictures ; director, Roy William Neill. // Sherlock Holmes battles his arch rival, Professor Moriarty, who has kidnapped the inventor of a new bombsite.
1234. Sherlock Holmes and the Secret Weapon. [s.l.]: Vina Distributor, 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (68 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, Dolby Digital. Based on the story "The dancing men" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally released as a motion picture in 1942. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Lionel Atwill, Kaaren Verne, William Post Jr., Dennis Hoey. Universal ; screenplay by Edward T. Lowe, W. Scott Darling, Edmund L. Hartmann ; directed by Roy William Neill. // Sherlock Holmes battles his arch rival, Professor Moriarty, who has kidnapped the inventor of a new bombsite.
1235. Sherlock Holmes and the Secret Weapon. [s.l.]: Orbit Media, 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (68 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. Hollywood Screen Classics; DVD PAL.; Produced for regions 1-6. Originally released as a motion picture in 1942. Based on the story The dancing men by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, adapted by W. Scott Darling and Edward T. Lowe. Special feature include the documentary, The many faces of Sherlock Holmes. Participants: Cast: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Lionel Atwill, Kaaren Verne, William Post Jr., Dennis Hoey, Mary Gordon, Holmes E. Herbert. Universal Pictures Company ; directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Edward T. Lowe, W. Scott Darling, Edmund L. Hartmann. // The inventor of a secret weapon and its prototype are abducted, leaving the wartime Allies in dire need of assistance. Sherlock Holmes is called and begins to do battle with Professor Moriarty, who is later to become an arch-enemy.
1236. Sherlock Holmes and the Secret Weapon. [s.l.]: 23rd Century, 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (68 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. "DV300" Originally released as a motion picture in 1942. Based on the story The dancing men by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, adapted by W. Scott Darling and Edward T. Lowe. Participants: Cast: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Lionel Atwill, Kaaren Verne, William Post Jr., Dennis Hoey, Mary Gordon, Holmes E. Herbert. Universal Pictures Company ; directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Edward T. Lowe, W. Scott Darling, Edmund L. Hartmann. // The inventor of a secret weapon and its prototype are abducted, leaving the wartime Allies in dire need of assistance. Sherlock Holmes is called and begins to do battle with Professor Moriarty, who is later to become an arch-enemy.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1237. Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon. Narberth, Penn: Alpha Video Distributors, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (68 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Originally released as a motion picture in 1942. Based on the story The dancing men by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, adapted by W. Scott Darling and Edward T. Lowe. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Lionel Atwill, Kaaren Verne, William Post Jr., Dennis Hoey, Mary Gordon, Holmes E. Herbert. Universal Pictures Company ; directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Edward T. Lowe, W. Scott Darling, Edmund L. Hartmann. Director of photography, Les White ; editor, Otto Ludwig ; music, Frank Skinner. // The inventor of a secret weapon and its prototype are abducted, leaving the wartime Allies in dire need of assistance. Sherlock Holmes is called and begins to do battle with Professor Moriarty, who is later to become an arch-enemy.
1238. Sherlock Holmes and the Secret Weapon. [s.l.]: CATCOM Home Video, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon was based on the story The dancing men by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon was originally released as a motion picture in 1942. Participants: Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Lionel Atwill, Dennis Hoey, Harold DeBecker. executive producer, Kenneth R. Bennett ; producer, Jake Lamb. Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon: Director, Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Edward T. Lowe, W. Scott Darling, Edmund L. Hartmann. // Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon: Sherlock Holmes must battle the Nazis and protect Her Majesty's latest secret weapon, a state of the art bomb sight.
1239. Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (68 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, full screen presentation; Dolby Digital. Originally broadcast in 1942. Based on "The Dancing Men" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Restored in 35mm by the UCLA Film and Television Archive and digitally remastered. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Lionel Atwill, Dennis Hoey. King World Productions, Inc. ; produced by Howard Benedict ; screenplay by Edward T. Lowe, W. Scott Darling, Edmund L. Hartman ; directed by Roy William Neill. // Starting in Switzerland, Sherlock Holmes rescues the inventor of a bomb-sight which the allies want to keep from the Nazis. Back in London they find the inventor is not what he seemed.
1240. Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videocassette (68 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS, hi-fi stereo. Based on the story "The dancing men" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally produced as a motion picture in 1942. "Digitally restored in 35mm"--Container. "Preserved by UCLA Film and Television Archive"--Container. / Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Lionel Atwill, Kaaren Verne, William Post Jr., Dennis Hoey. Universal ; screenplay by Edward T. Lowe, W. Scott Darling, Edmund L. Hartmann ; directed by Roy William Neill. // Sherlock Holmes battles his arch rival, Professor Moriarty, who has kidnapped the inventor of a new bombsite.
1241. Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (68 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Based on the story "The dancing men" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally produced as a motion picture in 1942. "Digitally restored in 35mm"--Container. "Preserved by UCLA Film and Television Archive"--Container. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Lionel Atwill, Kaaren Verne, William Post Jr., Dennis Hoey. Universal ; screenplay by Edward T. Lowe, W. Scott Darling, Edmund L. Hartmann ; directed by Roy William Neill. // Sherlock Holmes battles his arch rival, Professor Moriarty, who has kidnapped the inventor of a new bombsite.
1242. Sherlock Holmes and the Secret Weapon. [S.l.]: CATCOM Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 68 min.).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon was based on the story The dancing men by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Lionel Atwill, Dennis Hooey, Harold DeBecker. executive producer, Kenneth R. Bennett ; producer, Jake Lamb. Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon: Director, Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Edward T. Lowe, W. Scott Darling, Edmund L. Hartmann. // "Basil Rathbone and Nigel Bruce star as Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson in this installment of the classic tale of the world's greatest detective and his loveable, bumbling sidekick. In this episode, Sherlock must battle the Nazis and protect the country's latest secret weapon, a state of the art Bomb Sight. Filmed entirely in London during the height of World War II, this great thriller will leave you on the edge of your seat, especially when Holmes' arch rival Professor Moriarty makes his screen appearance. Critics agree that The Secret Weapon is a top-notch espionage tale of wartime deception and intrigue. It's elementary my dear Watson!"

1243. Sherlock Holmes and the Secret Weapon / The many faces of Sherlock Holmes. [UK]: Orbit Media, 2000. Visual Material 1 DVD video (PAL region 2) (120 mins.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w. "Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon" originally released as a motion picture in 1943. Film directed by Roy William Neill. Based loosely on the story "The dancing men" by Arthur Conan Doyle. With documentary: The many faces of Sherlock Holmes. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. // 1244. Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon and The woman in green. Walnut, CA: Diamond Entertainment, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (136 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD (Dual layer). Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon was based on the story The dancing men by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. The Woman in green was originally released as a motion picture in 1945. Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon was originally released as a motion picture in 1942. "Sherlock Holmes double feature movie." -- Container. Participants: The woman in green : Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Hillary Brooke, Henry Daniell, Paul Cavanagh, Matthew Boulton, Eve Amber. Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Lionel Atwill, Dennis Hooey, Harold DeBecker. The woman in green: Produced and directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Bertram Millhauser. Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon: Director, Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Edward T. Lowe, W. Scott Darling, Edmund L. Hartmann. // The woman in green: The clues left at the scene of the crime point a finger at a prominent member of Parliament, but Holmes believes there's something a bit odd going on and perhaps his arch nemesis, Professor Moriarty might somehow be involved! Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon: Sherlock Holmes must battle the Nazis and protect Her Majesty's latest secret weapon, a state of the art bomb sight.

1245. Sherlock Holmes and the voice of terror. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 66 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, Region 1. Originally produced as a motion picture in 1942. Based on the story His last bow by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. "Digitally restored in 35MM"--Container. "Preserved by UCLA Film and Television Archive"--Container. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Evelyn Ankers, Henry Daniell, Thomas Gomez, Reginald Denny, Montagu Love. Universal Pictures ; associate producer, Howard Benedict ; screenplay, Lynn Riggs, John Bright ; story adapted by Robert D. Andrews ; director, John Rawlins. Cinematographer, Elwood Bredell; art director, Jack Otterson ; editor, Russell F. Schoengarth ; music, Frank Skinner, Ludwig van Beethoven ; costume designer, Vera West. // "When taunting saboteurs warn of a Nazi invasion of the British Isles through their horrific radio menace the Voice of Terror, the British intelligence's Inner Council calls in Sherlock Holmes to help in the crisis"--Container.

1246. Sherlock Holmes and the voice of terror. [s.l.]: [s.n.], 2002. Visual Material 1 videocassette (65 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS. Based on the story "His Last Bow" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, adapted by Robert D. Andrews. Videocassette release of the 1942 motion picture by Universal. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. Producer, Howard Benedict ; director, John Rawlins ; screenplay, Lynn Riggs, John Bright. // The first of the popular World War II Sherlock Holmes thrillers, this film takes

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Holmes and Dr. Watson through a London rich in wartime atmosphere to find out who is behind several destructive enemy attacks.

1247. Sherlock Holmes and the Voice of Terror. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 66 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS, hi-fi stereo. Based on the story His last bow by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally produced as a motion picture in 1942. "Digitally restored in 35MM"--Container. "Preserved by UCLA Film and Television Archive"--Container. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Evelyn Ankers, Henry Daniell, Thomas Gomez, Reginald Denny, Montagu Love. Universal. Screenplay, Lynn Riggs, John Bright ; story adapted by Robert D. Andrews ; associate producer, Howard Benedict ; director, John Rawlins. // "When taunting saboteurs warn of a Nazi invasion of the British Isles through their horrific radio menace the Voice of Terror, the British intelligence's Inner Council calls in Sherlock Holmes to help in the crisis"--Container.

1248. Sherlock Holmes case files. [S.l.]: Brentwood Home Video : Distributed by BCI Eclipse, 2003. Visual Material 5 videodiscs (ca. 744 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD ; double sided discs. Participants: Sherlock Holmes and the deadly necklace: Christopher Lee ; The triumph of Sherlock Holmes: Arthur Wontner, Ian Fleming ; Sign of the four: Arthur Wontner, Ian Hunter ; The speckled band: Raymond Massey ; Bonus TV series episodes: Ronald Howard. // Terror by night: Holmes is hired to protect a diamond that is being transported by train. Woman in green: Holmes is called in to solve a baffling series of murders. Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon: Prof. Moriarty is working with the Nazis to create a superweapon. Dressed to kill: The owners of music boxes are being murdered and Holmes is called in to find the killer. Sherlock Holmes & the deadly necklace: Holmes & Watson investigate the theft of Cleopatra's necklace. A study in scarlet: Holmes investigates a secret society whose members are being murdered. The triumph of Sherlock Holmes: Holmes emerges from retirement to solve the murder of a miner. Murder at the Baskervilles: Holmes investigates the theft of a racehorse and murder of its owner. Sign of the four: A woman hires Holmes to protect her from an escaped criminal. The speckled band : A doctor is trying to steal his stepdaughter's inheritance.

1249. Sherlock Holmes classic mysteries. [S.l.]: Vintage Home Entertainment, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 213 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD; Dolby Digital sound, AC-3 Stereo. Dressed to kill released in 1946; Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon released in 1943; Woman in green released in 1945. Based on a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Patricia Morrison, Patricia Morrison, Lionel Atwill, Hillary Brooke, Henry Daniell. Universal Pictures. // Dressed to Kill: Three music boxes are the only clues that Holmes has to work with to find the location of bank notes stolen from the Bank of England. Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon: Holmes tries to keep Professor Moriarty away from a newly developed bomb sight the English hope to use on Hitler. Woman in green: Moriarty is found to be involved in a series of mutilation murders of young London women.

1250. Sherlock Holmes collection. St. Laurent, Quebec: Madacy Video, 1994. Visual Material 8 videocassettes (60 min. each).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS. Based upon the characters created by Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally broadcast on television. Participants: Ronald Howard, H. Marion Crawford, introduction by Christopher Lee. produced by Sheldon Reynolds ; directed by Jack Gage, Steve Previn ; screenplay by Charles and Joseph Early ... [et al.]. Director of photography, Raymond Clunie ; editors, George Gale ... [et al.] ; music, Paul Durand. // 20 30-minute television episodes featuring the cases of Sherlock Holmes.

1251. The Sherlock Holmes Collection. [s.l.]: Tot@l Content, 2000. Visual Material 4 videodiscs (approx. 360 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Digitally restored in 35mm. DVD extras: 4 bonus episodes from the Sherlock Holmes TV series. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. Produced and directed by Roy William Neill. // Terror by night -- The secret weapon -- The woman in green -- Dressed to kill.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1252. Sherlock Holmes collection. Narberth, PA: Alpha Video Distributors, Inc., 2002. Visual Material 5 videodiscs (272 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Films originally produced, 1943-1946. "ALP0901D." Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. Director, Roy William Neill. // A DVD release of four Sherlock Holmes films from the 1940's, and a 1927 video of Arthur Conan Doyle talking about Sherlock Holmes and Doyle's psychic experiences.
1253. The Sherlock Holmes collection. Santa Monica, CA: Artisan Entertainment, 2003. Visual Material 2 videodiscs (180 min. each).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD ; Dolby surround sound. Originally made for television. Participants: Matt Frewer, Kenneth Welsh. Family Home Entertainment. // The hound of the Baskervilles -- The sign of four -- The case of the Whitechapel vampire -- The royal scandal.
1254. "Sherlock Holmes collection sold." The Toronto Star, July 25, 1995: C7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "American bidders pushed up prices yesterday at an auction of Sherlock Holmes memorabilia from the late British Holmes expert, Stanley MacKenzie, which sold for nearly $236,000 at Sotheby's. That figure was nearly double pre-auction estimates."
1255. Sherlock Holmes Collection vol. 1. Fair Lawn, NJ: Alpha Video Distributors, 2002. Visual Material 2 videodiscs.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. Sherlock Holmes collection.; DVD. Based on the stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. //
1256. Sherlock Holmes Collection vol. 2. Fair Lawn, NJ: Alpha Video Distributors, 2002. Visual Material 2 videodiscs.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. Sherlock Holmes collection.; DVD. Based on the stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. //
1257. Sherlock Holmes Collection, Vol. 1. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 4 videodiscs (270 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Preserved and digitally restored in 35mm to original condition by the UCLA Film and Television Archive. DVD extras include: commentary from British author David Stuart Davies ; photo gallery ; original movie posters. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. // 1258. The Sherlock Holmes Collection. Vol. 1. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material (VHS) 4 videocassettes (300 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS, region 1. Originally released between 1942 and 1943. Digitally restored in 35mm. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. King World Productions, Inc. // The master detective Sherlock Holmes and his faithful cohort Dr. Watson are back.
1259. The Sherlock Holmes Collection. Vol. 1. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material (DVD) 4 videodiscs (270 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVDs. Based on the stories by Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally released as individual motion pictures, 1942-1943. Features: commentary by British author David Stuart Davies, photo gallery, original movie posters. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. UCLA Film and Television Archive. Various personal production credits. // Sherlock Holmes and the voice of terror / directed by John Rawlins ; adaptation by Robert D. Andrews, John Bright, and Lynn Riggs -- Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon / directed by Roy William Neill ; adaptation by Scott Darling, Edmund L. Hartmann, and Edward T. Lowe, Jr. -- Sherlock Holmes in Washington / directed by Roy William Neil ; adaptation by Bertram Millhauser and Lynn Riggs -- Sherlock Holmes faces death / directed by Roy William Neill ; adaptation by Bertram Millhauser.
1260. The Sherlock Holmes Collection. Vol. 3. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 4 videodiscs (4 hr., 25 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Digitally restored in 35mm. DVD extras: Introduction by Robert Gitt, preservation officer at the UCLA Film and Television Archive; audio commentary with David

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

- Stuart Davies; production notes by Richard Valley; photo gallery/original movie posters. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. King World Productions, Inc. Produced and directed by Roy William Neill. //
1261. The Sherlock Holmes collection. Volume 1. St. Laurent, Quebec: Madacy Entertainment : Rainbow [distributor], 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (2 hrs. 10 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. Based on the novels by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Ronald Howard, H. Marion Crawford. Produced by Sheldon Reynolds. // The case of the Eiffel Tower -- The case of the jolly hangman -- The case of the Cunningham heritage -- The case of the diamond tooth -- The case of the neurotic detective.
1262. The Sherlock Holmes collection. Volume 2. St. Laurent, Quebec: Madacy Entertainment : Rainbow [distributor], 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (2 hrs. 13 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. Based on the novels by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Ronald Howard, H. Marion Crawford. Produced by Sheldon Reynolds. // The case of the red-headed league -- The case of the vanished detective -- The night-train riddle -- The case of the Pennsylvania gun -- The case of the Baker Street bachelors.
1263. The Sherlock Holmes collection. Volume one. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 4 videodiscs (270 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. + 1 guide ([14] p. : ill. ; 19 cm.) DVD, region 1, full screen presentation; Dolby Digital. Special features: introduction by Robert Gitt, preservation officer at the UCLA Film and Television Archive; audio commentary with David Stuart Davies; production notes by Richard Valley; photo gallery/original movie posters. Digitally restored in 35mm. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. King World Productions, Inc. ; produced by Howard Benedict and Roy William Neill ; directed by John Rawlins and Roy William Neill. // Sherlock Holmes and the voice of terror -- Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon -- Sherlock Holmes in Washington -- Sherlock Holmes faces death.
1264. The Sherlock Holmes collection. Volume three. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 4 videodiscs (4 hr., 25 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Digitally restored in 35mm. DVD extras: Introduction by Robert Gitt, preservation officer at the UCLA Film and Television Archive; audio commentary with David Stuart Davies; production notes by Richard Valley; photo gallery/original movie posters. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. King World Productions, Inc. Produced and directed by Roy William Neill. //
1265. The Sherlock Holmes collection. Volume two. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material (DVD) 4 videodiscs (275 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, full screen presentation; Dolby Digital. "Digitally restored in 35mm." "Preserved by UCLA Film and Television Archive." Special features: introduction by Robert Gitt, preservation officer at the UCLA Film and Television Archive; audio commentary with David Stuart Davies; production notes by Richard Valley; photo gallery/original movie posters. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. King World Productions, Inc. ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill. //
1266. The Sherlock Holmes collection. Volume two. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material (DVD) 4 videodiscs (275 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, full screen presentation; Dolby Digital. "Digitally restored in 35mm." "Preserved by UCLA Film and Television Archive." Special features: introduction by Robert Gitt, preservation officer at the UCLA Film and Television Archive; audio commentary with David Stuart Davies; production notes by Richard Valley; photo gallery/original movie posters. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. King World Productions, Inc. ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill. // The master detective Sherlock Holmes and his faithful cohort Dr. Watson are back.
1267. The Sherlock Holmes collection. Volume two. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material (VHS) 4 videocassettes (240 min.).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS, full screen presentation. "Digitally restored in 35mm."
"Preserved by UCLA Film and Television Archive." Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. King World Productions, Inc. ; [produced and directed by Roy William Neill]. // The master detective Sherlock Holmes and his faithful cohort Dr. Watson are back.

1268. The Sherlock Holmes Collector's Classics. [s.l.]: Reader's Digest, 2000. Visual Material 1 videocassette (180 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. // The voice of terror (1942)-- The secret weapon (1942) -- Sherlock Holmes faces death (1943) 1269. Sherlock Holmes Collector's edition. Quebec: Madacy Entertainment, 1995. Visual Material 1 videocassette (360 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Sherlock Holmes collection. VHS. Participants: Ronald Howard, H. Marion Crawford. Producer, Sheldon Reynolds ; directors, Jack Gage, Steve Previn. // 1270. "Sherlock Holmes Creator Helps Unlock Home Rule Mystery." Belfast News Letter (Northern Ireland), May 21, 2004: 20.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Personal papers belonging to Sir Arthur Conan Doyle have given an insight into his views on Home Rule for Ireland. The letters, notes and manuscripts went under the hammer this week at Christie's, fetching pounds 1m. Doyle - famous as the creator of the world's most famous detective, Sherlock Holmes - stood twice for Parliament as a Unionist, the Conservative Party having changed its name after the first Home Rule Bill, endorsing tariff reform and supporting one parliament for the UK. By 1912, the year of the Ulster Covenant, he had a change of heart...."
1271. "Sherlock Holmes creator's home saved from McDonald's." Pantagraph (Bloomington, IL), Dec 9, 1999: C.4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "An 18th-century Scottish mansion where Sir Arthur Conan Doyle once lived was saved from a Big Mac attack Wednesday when the city of Edinburgh slapped a preservation order on it. Fans of the Sherlock Holmes creator, alarmed to discover that McDonald's planned to build a burger restaurant on the site, appealed to city hall and won. 'This is wonderful news,' said Richard Lancelyn Green, a Conan Doyle expert and former chairman of the London-based Sherlock Holmes Society. 'Sherlock Holmes still has his magic, it seems.'"
1272. Sherlock Holmes double feature. [s.l.]: CATCOM Home Video, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (135 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon was based on the story The dancing men by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. The Woman in green was originally released as a motion picture in 1945. Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon was originally released as a motion picture in 1942. "Double feature 2 movies." Includes a cartoon, breakdowns of 1938 & some old-fashioned TV commercials. Participants: The woman in green : Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Hillary Brooke, Henry Daniell, Paul Cavanagh, Matthew Boulton, Eve Amber. Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Lionel Atwill, Dennis Hooey, Harold DeBecker. executive producer, Kenneth R. Bennett ; producer, Jake Lamb. The woman in green: Produced and directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Bertram Millhauser. Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon: Director, Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Edward T. Lowe, W. Scott Darling, Edmund L. Hartmann. // The woman in green: The clues left at the scene of the crime point a finger at a prominent member of Parliament, but Holmes believes there's something a bit odd going on and perhaps his arch nemesis, Professor Moriarty might somehow be involved! Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon: Sherlock Holmes must battle the Nazis and protect Her Majesty's latest secret weapon, a state of the art bomb sight.
1273. Sherlock Holmes Double Feature. [s.l.]: MPI Home Video, 2010. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 139 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Special features: Still gallery ; audio commentary on Sherlock Holmes faces death. Based on the stories or characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Sherlock Holmes in Washington: Originally produced as motion picture in 1942. Sherlock Holmes faces death: Originally released as a motion picture in 1943. "Restored in 35mm"--Container. Participants: Sherlock Holmes in Washington: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Henry Daniell, George Zucco, Marjorie Lord, John

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Archer. Sherlock Holmes faces death: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Hillary Brooke, Dennis Hoey, Arthur Margetson, Halliwell Hobbes, Mina Phillips, Milburn Stone. Audience: MPAA rating: Not rated. Sherlock Holmes in Washington: Produced by Howard Benedict; directed by Roy William Neill; written by Bertram Millhauser and Lynn Riggs. Sherlock Holmes faces death: Cinematographer, Charles Van Enger ; art directors, John B. Goodman, Harold H. MacArthur ; editor, Fred R. Feitshans Jr. ; costume designer, Vera West. // Sherlock Holmes in Washington: A British secret service operative carrying top-secret microfilm from England to Washington disappears while traveling to his destination. Filmed during WWII, this film pits Holmes and Watson against Nazi enemy agents. Sherlock Holmes faces death: Dr. Watson, tending recuperating soldiers housed at centuries-old Musgrave Manor, summons Sherlock Holmes to investigate strange happenings. What follows is a bizarre series of events, including murders, secret passages, a game of chess and a mysterious family ritual.

1274. Sherlock Holmes double feature #1. [S.l.]: Critics' Choice Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (136 min.). NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. Critics' Choice classic movie collection; DVD. Secret Weapon originally released in 1942 ; Woman in Green originally released in 1945. Based on stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Secret weapon: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Lionel Atwill, Holmes Herbert ; Woman in green: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Henry Daniell. //
1275. Sherlock Holmes double feature #2. [S.l.]: Critics' Choice Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (132 min.). NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. Critics' Choice classic movie collection; DVD. Both films originally released in 1946. Based on stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Dressed to kill: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Dennis Hoey ; Terror by night: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Patricia Morison. // Dressed to kill: Three music boxes are the only clues that Holmes has to work with to find the location of bank notes stolen from the Bank of England ; Terror by night: On a train from London to Edinburgh, Mr. Holmes is confronted with a baffling diamond robbery and the murder of the gem's owner.
1276. Sherlock Holmes double feature Dressed to kill ; Terror by night. [S.l.]: CATCOM Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (122 min.). NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Both films originally released in 1946. Includes: Superman cartoon, Hollywood home videos, and classic television commercials. Based on stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. // Dressed to kill: Three music boxes are the only clues that Holmes has to work with to find the location of bank notes stolen from the Bank of England ; Terror by night: On a train from London to Edinburgh, Mr. Holmes is confronted with a baffling diamond robbery and the murder of the gem's owner.
1277. Sherlock Holmes dressed to kill. [s.l.]: Front Row Entertainment, Inc., 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (77 min.). NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD format ; remastered to AC-3 Dolby Digital for surround sound. "3727." Based on the story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Videodisc release of the 1946 motion picture. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Patricia Morrison. Producer-director, Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Leonard Lee. // "Holmes finds a music box that holds the key to plates stolen from the Bank of England. Along with Dr. Watson, Holmes tracks down the gang of bank robbers and recovers the valuables."-- Container.
1278. Sherlock Holmes DVD double feature. Rockport, MA: Marengo Films, 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 173 min.). NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, Digitally remastered. Based on stories by Arthur Conan Doyle. The woman in green based on The Adventure of the Empty House./ The woman in green originally produced as a motion picture in 1945; Dressed to kill, in 1946; both by Universal Pictures. Cast: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Henry Daniell. Director, Roy William Neill. // The woman in green: Holmes and Watson investigate a series of bizarre and apparently unconnected murders, and the death of a possible suspect. The trail leads to a society of hypnotists and a mysterious, glamorous woman. The fiendish Dr Moriarty, though reported hanged in Montevideo, is believed to be involved. Dressed to kill: A convicted thief in

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Dartmoor prison hides the location of the stolen Bank of England printing plates inside three music boxes. When the innocent purchasers of the boxes start to be murdered, Holmes and Watson investigate.

1279. Sherlock Holmes et le signe de la fiction. (Signes). Fontenay-aux-Roses: ENS, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 21 cm. Includes bibliographical references. Textes réunis par Denis Mellier. //
1280. Sherlock Holmes exhibit at the Shaw Festival Theatre, June 1994. 1994. Visual Material 1 portfolio (4 items).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill., map, photo. ; 41 x 33 cm. + 1 descriptive list ([3] leaves ; 28 x 22 cm.) Copies of a map and photograph from the Buffalo & Erie County Public Library (Buffalo, N.Y.) and a clipping and a photocopy of newspaper articles from a private collection, all originally part of an exhibit at the Shaw Festival Theatre, Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ontario, celebrating the premiere at Buffalo's Star Theatre on Oct. 23, 1899 of the play, "Sherlock Holmes," written by and starring William Gillette. //
1281. "The Sherlock Holmes exhibition." Festival Times 1, no. 5 (1990): 10-12.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A report on the Festival of Britain 'Sherlock Holmes' exhibition, held at Abbey House, Baker Street, London, 22 May-22 September 1951.
1282. Sherlock Holmes Faces Death. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (68 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, Region 1. Based on "The Musgrave ritual" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally released as a motion picture in 1943. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Hillary Brooke, Dennis Hoey, Arthur Margetson, Halliwell Hobbes, Mina Phillips, Milburn Stone. Reproduction: "Digitally restored in 35mm ; preserved by UCLA Film and Television Archive."--Container. Universal Pictures, King World Productions ; produced by Roy William Neill ; screenplay by Bertram Millhauser ; directed by Roy William Neill. Cinematographer, Charles Van Enger ; art directors, John B. Goodman, Harold H. MacArthur ; editor, Fred R. Feitshans Jr. ; costume designer, Vera West. // "Dr. Watson, tending recuperating soldiers housed at centuries-old Musgrave Manor, summons Sherlock Holmes to investigate strange happenings. What follows is a bizarre series of events, including murders, secret passages, a game of chess and a mysterious family ritual."--Container.
1283. Sherlock Holmes faces death. [s.l.]: [s.n.], 2002. Visual Material 1 videocassette (68 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS. Based on Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's The Musgrave Ritual. Videocassette release of the 1943 motion picture. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. Universal Pictures. Producer/director, Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Bertram Millhauser. // Murder takes place in an old house turned into a sanatorium filled with war victims. A giant chessboard holds the key to the murders and huge hidden fortune.
1284. Sherlock Holmes Faces Death. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videocassette (68 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS, hi-fi stereo. Based on "The Musgrave ritual" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally released as a motion picture in 1943. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Dennis Hoey, Arthur Margetson, Hillary Brooke, Halliwell Hobbes. Reproduction: "Digitally restored in 35mm ; preserved by UCLA Film and Television Archive."--Container. Universal ; screenplay by Bertram Millhauser ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill. // "Dr. Watson, tending recuperating soldiers housed at centuries-old Musgrave Manor, summons Sherlock Holmes to investigate strange happenings. What follows is a bizarre series of events, including murders, secret passages, a game of chess and a mysterious family ritual"--Container.
1285. The Sherlock Holmes feature films collection. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 5 videodiscs (ca. 525 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, Region 1 encoding. release date: March 25, 2003. Originally produced as television motion pictures in 1987-1993. Based on the stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke. Granada Television [and] WGBH Boston ; producers, Michael Cox, June Wyndham-Davies ; writers, T.R. Bowen, Jeremy Paul, John Hawkesworth ; director, Brian

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Mills, Tim Sullivan, Peter Hammond. Director of photography, David Odd ; editor, Kim Horton ... [et al.] ; music, Patrick Gowers ; costume designer, Esther Dean ; production designer, Christopher Bradshaw ... [et al.]
//

1286. Sherlock Holmes Gazette. Wargrave, England: (various), 1991-.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

1287. Sherlock Holmes in A Study in Scarlet. Narbeth, Penn: Alpha Video, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (77 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. "Suggested by the book by A. Conan Doyle." Videodisc release of the 1933 film. Cast: Reginald Owen, Anna May Wong, Warburton Gamble, June Clyde, Alan Mowbray, John Warburton. a KBS production ; directed by Edwin L. Marin. Credits: screenplay Robert Florey ; photography Arthur Edeson ; film editor Rose Loewinger. // Members of an underground crime ring are being murdered. Holmes' investigation leads him to the beautiful Mrs. Pyke and to a stately ancestral home -- complete with screams in the foggy night, cloaked figures moving through secret passages, and a sinister Asian butler. The story bears little resemblance to the original A. Conan Doyle mystery.

1288. "Sherlock Holmes in many languages." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 2, no. 1 (1998): 1-3, 5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Profile of Fred Levin's interest in Yiddish language versions of the Sherlock Holmes stories. Includes photograph of Bruce Southworth, Fred Levin, and Dr. Richard Sveum.

1289. Sherlock Holmes in Pearl of Death. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videocassette (69 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS, full screen presentation. Originally released as a motion picture in 1942. Based on "The six Napoleons" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. "Digitally restored in 35mm." "Preserved by UCLA Film and Television Archive. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Evelyn Ankers, Dennis Hoey. King World Productions, Inc. ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Bertram Millhauser. // The Pearl of Death, a gem with a history of bringing murder and misfortune to its owner, reaches a museum in London where before long, it is stolen. A series of murders begins with the victims left in a mass of smashed china. Holmes must outwit two criminals in a case that could lead to his own death.

1290. Sherlock Holmes in Pearl of Death. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (69 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. Sherlock Holmes collection; DVD, region 1, full screen presentation. Originally produced as a motion picture in 1942. Based on "The six Napoleons" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. "Digitally restored in 35mm"--Container. "Preserved by UCLA Film and Television Archive." Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Evelyn Ankers, Dennis Hoey. Universal ; King World Productions, Inc. ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay by Bertram Millhauser. // The master detective must solve a series of horrible murders involving busts of Napoleon and a missing gem that has caused murder and misfortune since the days of the Borgias.

1291. Sherlock Holmes in the 22nd century Out of this world. Fort Mill, SC: Sterling Entertainment Group, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (88 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. Animation station; DVD. // The sign of four -- The adventures of the dancing men -- Silver blaze -- Bonus episode: The 'Gloria Scott'.

1292. Sherlock Holmes in the case of the haunted Gainsborough. St. Laurent, Quebec: Distributed by Madacy Entertainment Group, 1998. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 23 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS format. Based on the story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Ronald Howard, H. Marion Crawford. Directed by Steve Previn ; produced by Sheldon Reynolds ; original screenplay by Charles and Joseph Early. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1293. Sherlock Holmes in the courtroom. Springfield, MO: SMSU Television Services, 1998. Visual Material 1 videocassette (30 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Common purpose ; show #064; VHS format. Presented by Southwest Missouri State University. Videocassette version of a segment from an SMSU television series, Common purpose, broadcast on cable channel 24, Springfield, Mo., May 11, 1998. Participants: Hosts, Don Landon, Lisa Prejean ; with Jim O'Brien, Willa Garrett. producers, Don Landon, Lisa Prejean ; producer-director, Tom Carter. Executive producers, John H. Keiser, Paul Kincaid ; camera, Rae Swan, Steve Wynn, Richard Schuldt ; editors, Rae Swan ... [et al.]. // Part of a weekly television series discussing issues facing Springfield, Mo. The series is an outgrowth of the Good Community Movement in Springfield which began in 1995. This segment looks at how science is used in solving crime, with a focus on the Sherlock Holmes stories. Today's police investigators rely heavily on science to help them solve crime. Methods range from fingerprinting from an actual finger to "fingerprinting" from DNA. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, the English writer, was an early proponent of the scientific method in criminal investigation was. His Sherlock Holmes mysteries were filled with legitimate and innovative scientific sleuthing. Interviews SMSU chemistry professor Jim O'Brien, who has developed an SMSU Capstone course investigating how science is used to solve crime, with several examples from Sherlock Holmes. Also interviews Willa Garrett, assistant professor, SMSU Dept. of Library Science, who has joined with Dr. O'Brien in researching the use of science in solving crime.
1294. Sherlock Holmes in The Spider Woman. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (63 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, Region 1, full screen presentation; Dolby Digital mono. Originally released as a motion picture in 1942. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Gail Sondergaard, Dennis Hoey, Vernon Downing, Alec Craig, Arthur Hohl, Mary Gordon. Universal Pictures ; producer, Roy William Neill ; writer, Bertram Millhauser ; director, Roy William Neill. Director of photography, Charles Van Enger ; art directors, John B. Goodman, Martin Obzina ; editors, William Austin, James Gibbon ; original music, Hans J. Salter ; costume designer, Vera West. Based on the stories "The sign of four" and "The final problem" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. // London is in a panic over a series of apparent "Pajama Suicides." Sherlock Holmes, however, is more inclined to believe that they are calculated murders. It is up to the detective and his partner, Dr. Watson, to discover the motive and the means of these crimes and to quickly unmask the murderer. Miss Adria Spedding is an intoxicating woman of character whom Holmes is convinced is behind the killings. A series of masquerades and deadly game playing ensues as Holmes and Watson enter a battle of wits with The Spider Woman.
1295. Sherlock Holmes in The Spider Woman. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 63 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS, full screen presentation; mono. Originally released as a motion picture in 1942. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Gail Sondergaard, Dennis Hoey, Vernon Downing, Alec Craig, Arthur Hohl, Mary Gordon. Universal Pictures ; producer, Roy William Neill ; writer, Bertram Millhauser ; director, Roy William Neill. Director of photography, Charles Van Enger ; art directors, John B. Goodman, Martin Obzina ; editors, William Austin, James Gibbon ; original music, Hans J. Salter ; costume designer, Vera West. Based on the stories "The sign of four" and "The final problem" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. // London is in a panic over a series of apparent "Pajama Suicides." Sherlock Holmes, however, is more inclined to believe that they are calculated murders. It is up to the detective and his partner, Dr. Watson, to discover the motive and the means of these crimes and to quickly unmask the murderer. Miss Adria Spedding is an intoxicating woman of character whom Holmes is convinced is behind the killings. A series of masquerades and deadly game playing ensues as Holmes and Watson enter a battle of wits with The Spider Woman.
1296. Sherlock Holmes in Washington. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (71 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. Sherlock Holmes collection; DVD, region 1, full screen presentation; Dolby Digital. Originally produced as a motion picture in 1942. Based on "The dancing men" / by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. "Digitally restored in 35mm."--Container. "Preserved by UCLA Film and Television Archive."--Container. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Henry Daniell, George Zucco,

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

- Marjorie Lord. Universal ; King World Productions, Inc. ; screenplay by Bertram Millhauser, Lynn Riggs ; produced by Howard Benedict ; directed by Roy William Neill. // In WWII a, a British secret agent carrying a vitally important document is kidnapped en route to Washington. The British government calls on Sherlock Holmes to recover it.
1297. Sherlock Holmes in Washington. [s.l.]: s.n., 2002. Visual Material 1 videocassette (81 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS. Originally produced as motion picture in 1942. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Henry Daniell, George Zucco, Marjorie Lord, John Archer. Universal Pictures. Produced by Howard Benedict; directed by Roy William Neill; written by Bertram Millhauser and Lynn Riggs. // Sherlock Holmes flies west and prevents Nazi spies from grabbing a microfilmed document concealed in a match folder.
1298. Sherlock Holmes in Washington. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videocassette (71 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS, hi-fi stereo. Original story by Bertram Millhauser; based on characters created by Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally produced as a motion picture in 1942. "Digitally restored in 35mm"--Container. "Preserved by UCLA Film and Television Archive"--Container. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Henry Daniell, George Zucco, Marjorie Lord. Universal ; screenplay by Bertram Millhauser, Lynn Riggs ; directed by Roy William Neill. // 1299. "Sherlock Holmes investigates the EPR paradox." Physics World 8, no. 4 (1995): 39.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1300. "Sherlock Holmes is centre stage." Birmingham Evening Mail, April 1, 2008: 18.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Theatre goers will get an insight into the mind of the world's greatest fictional detective this month. Roger Llewellyn stars in 'Sherlock Holmes - The Last Act', a solo play that will be performed at the Lichfield Garrick Theatre on April 12 from 7.30pm. Set in 1916, Holmes is drawn out of his retirement in Sussex for the funeral of his good friend, Dr Watson, and returns to Baker Street to resolve the last act of his epic career - understanding his own psyche...."
1301. "'Sherlock Holmes is not Dead' say The Baker Street Irregulars." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (1989): 6-11.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1302. "Sherlock Holmes items to be sold." The Gazette (Montreal), July 11, 1995: C7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "One of the finest collections of Sherlock Holmes material ever offered for sale is expected to fetch $150,000 Canadian at auction in London this month, Sotheby's said yesterday. The July 24 auction will feature first editions, papers and memorabilia relating to one of the world's most famous fictional detectives and his creator, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. The collection was amassed by Stanley Mackenzie, a former custodian of London's Sherlock Holmes Society, who died this year. The items for sale include the pipe used by Peter Cushing in his film portrayal of the Victorian detective and a gold cigarette case inscribed, by Conan Doyle, 'Sherlock Holmes.'" 1303. The Sherlock Holmes Joke Portfolio. London: Cadds Printing, 1995.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Dec 1995 // "There are 32 black-and-white cartoons by Peter Rochford, with captions by Hugh Scullion and Joel Senter, looseleaf in a leatherette cover..."
1304. Sherlock Holmes mystery stories. [Burtonsville, MD]: Sign Media, 1996. Visual Material 3 videocassettes.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS. Additional copyright date on cassette label and container: 1995. "The adventures of Sherlock Holmes"--Container. Participants: Patrick Graybill, Gilbert C. Eastman. produced by Sign Media, Inc. ; directed by Dennis Cokely, Patrick Graybill. Camera, editing, graphics, Verden Ness ; Voice-over traslation, Dennis Cokely ; Voice-over talent, Dennis Cokely, Peter Llewellyn-Jones. // A sign language version of the Sherlock Holmes mystery that allows the viewer to try and solve the case along with Holmes and Watson.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1305. Sherlock Holmes mystery stories: the adventure of the blue carbuncle. [Burtonsville, MD]: Sign Media, Inc., 1996. Visual Material 1 videocassette (80 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS format. Additional copyright date on container: 1995. Title on container: The adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Participants: Patrick Graybill, Gilbert C. Eastman. produced by Sign Media, Inc. ; directed by Dennis Cokely [and] Patrick Graybill. Camera, editing, and graphics by Verden Ness ; voice-over translation, Dennis Cokely. // A sign language version of the Sherlock Holmes mystery that allows the viewer to try and solve the case along with Holmes and Watson.
1306. Sherlock Holmes mystery stories: the red-headed league. [Burtonsville, MD]: Sign Media, Inc., 1996. Visual Material 1 videocassette (80 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS format. Additional copyright date on container: 1995. Title on container: The adventures of Sherlock Holmes./ Participants: Patrick Graybill, Gilbert C. Eastman. produced by Sign Media, Inc. ; directed by Dennis Cokely [and] Patrick Graybill. Camera, editing, and graphics by Verden Ness ; voice-over translation, Dennis Cokely. // A sign language version of the Sherlock Holmes mystery that allows the viewer to try and solve the case along with Holmes and Watson.
1307. "Sherlock Holmes on the Stage." Canadian Holmes 20, no. 2 (1996): 47-48.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1308. "Sherlock Holmes Readers Rejoice!". Journal of chemical education 81, no. 5 (2004): 634-634.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // In 1989 Thomas G. Waddell and Thomas R. Rybolt published their first story in "Journal of Chemical Education" (JCE) in "The Chemical Adventures of Sherlock Holmes series", "Sherlock Holmes and the Yellow Prisms". That one story has now grown to 15 with the publication of "Autopsy in Blue" in the April 2004 issue. By popular request JCE has gathered all 15 stories into a single volume. The formatting has been standardized so that there is consistency among all stories, making it easier for educators to make photocopies for students that include only the stories and not the solutions.
1309. "Sherlock Holmes Statue to Appear in Moscow." 2006, no. (2006): 1.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "He never visited Russia over the course of his fictitious life, but Sherlock Holmes will soon grace Moscow in statue form, authorities are quoted by DPA news agency as saying. '(Moscow City Hall's) Monuments Committee has decided that there needs to be a monument of Sherlock Holmes and Doctor Watson in Moscow,' Sergei Petrov, head of the committee, said in remarks carried by the Interfax news agency. The statue is to open near the British Embassy on the banks of the Moscow River under the auspices of the Moscow-based non-profit foundation Cultural Dialogue/One World. The organisation has said it wants to unveil the monument later this year or early 2007...."[excerpt]
1310. "'Sherlock Holmes still has his magic,' and Edinburgh still has author's home." Star Tribune (Minneapolis), Dec 9, 1999: 09.A.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "An 18th-century Scottish mansion where Sir Arthur Conan Doyle once lived was saved from a Big Mac attack Wednesday when the city of Edinburgh slapped a preservation order on it. Fans of the creator of Sherlock Holmes, alarmed to discover that McDonald's planned to build a restaurant on the site, appealed to City Hall and won. 'This is wonderful news,' said Richard Lancelyn Green, a Conan Doyle expert and former chairman of the London-based Sherlock Holmes Society. 'Sherlock Holmes still has his magic, it seems.'"
1311. Sherlock Holmes The collection, 1-4. St. Laurent, Quebec: Madacy Music, 1994. Visual Material 2 videocassette (VHS)(110 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Sherlock Holmes collection.; Introduction by Christopher Lee. Participants: Ronald Howard, H. Marion Crawford. Producer, Sheldon Reynolds ; directors, Jack Gage, Steve Previn. // Episode 1: Haunted Gainsborough ; Episode 2: Winthrop Legend ; Episode 3: Exhumed client ; Episode 4: Violent suitor.
1312. Sherlock Holmes The collection, 1-20. St. Laurent, Quebec: Madacy Music, 1994. Visual Material 10 videocassette (ca. 550 min.).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Sherlock Holmes collection.; Introduction by Christopher Lee. Participants: Ronald Howard, H. Marion Crawford. Producer, Sheldon Reynolds ; directors, Jack Gage, Steve Previn. // Vol. 1, episode 1 Haunted Gainsborough ; episode 2 Winthrop legend -- vol. 2, episode 3 Exhumed client ; episode 4 Violent suitor -- vol. 3, episode 5 Christmas pudding ; episode 6 Deadly prophecy -- vol. 4, episode 7 Belligerent ghost ; episode 8 Lady Beryl -- vol. 5, episode 9 Pennsylvania gun ; episode 10 Baker Street bachelors -- vol. 6, episode 11 Split ticket ; episode 12 Blindman's bluff -- vol. 7, episode 13 The neurotic detective ; episode 14 Red headed league -- vol. 8, episode 15 Vanished detective ; episode 16 Night train riddle -- vol. 9, episode 17 Eiffel Tower ; episode 18 Jolly hangman -- vol. 10, episode 19 Cunningham heritage ; episode 20 Diamond tooth.

1313. Sherlock Holmes The collection, 5-8. St. Laurent, Quebec: Madacy Music, 1994. Visual Material 2 videocassette (VHS)(110 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Sherlock Holmes collection.; Introduction by Christopher Lee. Participants: Ronald Howard, H. Marion Crawford. Producer, Sheldon Reynolds ; directors, Jack Gage, Steve Previn. // Episode 5: Christmas pudding ; Episode 6: Deadly prophecy ; Episode 7: Belligerent ghost ; Episode 8: Lady Beryl.

1314. Sherlock Holmes The collection, 9-12. St. Laurent, Quebec: Madacy Music, 1994. Visual Material 2 videocassette (VHS) (110 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Sherlock Holmes collection.; Introduction by Christopher Lee. Participants: Ronald Howard, H. Marion Crawford. Producer, Sheldon Reynolds ; director, Steve Previn. // Episode 9: Pennsylvania gun ; Episode 10: Baker Street bachelors ; Episode 11 : Split ticket ; Episode 12: Blindman's bluff.

1315. Sherlock Holmes The collection, 13-16. St. Laurent, Quebec: Madacy Music, 1994. Visual Material 2 videocassette (VHS)(110 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Sherlock Holmes collection.; Introduction by Christopher Lee. Participants: Ronald Howard, H. Marion Crawford. Producer, Sheldon Reynolds ; directors, Jack Gage, Steve Previn. // Episode 13: The neurotic detective ; Episode 14: Red headed league ; Episode 15: Vanished detective ; Episode 16: Night train riddle.

1316. Sherlock Holmes The collection, 17-20. St. Laurent, Quebec: Madacy Music, 1994. Visual Material 2 videocassette (VHS)(110 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Sherlock Holmes collection.; Introduction by Christopher Lee. Participants: Ronald Howard, H. Marion Crawford. Producer, Sheldon Reynolds ; directors, Jack Gage, Steve Previn. // Episode 17: Eiffel Tower ; Episode 18: Jolly hangman ; Episode 19: Cunningham heritage ; Episode 20: Diamond tooth.

1317. Sherlock Holmes the detective magazine. Wargrave: P. Harkness, 1997-.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

1318. Sherlock Holmes the great detective. New York: A&E Home Video, 1995. Visual Material 1 videocassette (50 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. with b&w sequences ; 1/2 in. VHS. Produced for broadcast on the television program Biography. Participants: Narrator, Anthony Valentine ; Dr. Watson played by David Burke. A Satel Documentary production for A&E Television Networks ; produced and directed by Peter Swain ; executive producer, Rod Caird. Music, Guy Michelmore. // The life of the world's most famous detective is examined side-by-side with that of his creator, Arthur Conan Doyle. Holmes' greatest cases, his most brilliant deductions, and his notorious weaknesses are featured along with Doyle's own tale of how Jack the Ripper helped boost sales of the first Sherlock Holmes story ever published.

1319. Sherlock Holmes the great detective. [New York]: A & E Home Video, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 50 min.).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. Produced for broadcast on the television program Biography. Participants: Narrator, Anthony Valentine ; Dr. Watson played by David Burke. a Satel Documentary production for A & E Television Networks ; produced and directed by Peter Swain ; executive producer, Rod Caird. Music, Guy Michelmore. // The life of the world's most famous detective is examined side-by-side with that of his creator, Arthur Conan Doyle. Holmes' greatest cases, his most brilliant deductions, and his notorious weaknesses are featured along with Doyle's own tale of how Jack the Ripper helped boost sales of the first Sherlock Holmes story ever published.

1320. Sherlock Holmes the later years. Baker City, OR: Nostalgia Family Video, 1996. Visual Material 1 videocassette (85 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- b&w and col. ; 1/2 in. Video scrapbook ; #55; VHS. Videocassette release of films originally shown between 1950 and 1980. // A collection of made for TV films, an animated short and trailers for feature films released through the 1970s.

1321. Sherlock Holmes the secret weapon : terror by night. [s.l.]: Marengo Films, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 125 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD format. The Secret Weapon is based on the story "The dancing men" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Secret weapon: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Lionel Atwill, Kaaren Verne, William Post Jr., Dennis Hoey, Mary Gordon, Holmes E. Herbert. Terror by night: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Alan Mobray, Dennis Hoey, Mary Forbes, Renee Godfrey, Billy Bevan. // In The secret weapon, Sherlock Holmes battles his arch rival, Professor Moriarty, who has kidnapped the inventor of a new bombsite. Terror by night finds Holmes preventing the theft of an enormous diamond, but unable to prevent the murders that surround the attempt.

1322. Sherlock Holmes the true story. Sydney, N.S.W.: Discovery Channel, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisk (53 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. Broadcast date: 16/11/2003. DVD. Director/producer: Christopher Rowley. // Dr Joseph Bell, whose character, physical appearance and diagnostic genius Sir Arthur Conan Doyle adopted in 1886 to create the character of detective Sherlock Holmes, one of the most recognisable figures in world literature.

1323. Sherlock Holmes the woman in green. New York: Goodtimes Home Video, 1998. Visual Material 1 videocassette (68 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS. Based on a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Henry Daniell. //

1324. The Sherlock Holmes trilogy. Eugene, OR: Dastar Corp./Marathon Music & Video, 1999. Visual Material 3 videocassettes (68-72 min. each).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd. ; 1/2 in. VHS. Adapted from stories by Arthur Conan Doyle. "33893", "33903", "33913." Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. Directed by Roy William Neill. // 1325. Sherlock Holmes TV Classics. Narberth, PA: Alpha Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. Classic tv series; DVD. Based on the characters created by Arthur Conan Doyle. Episodes from the 1954 television series. Participants: Ronald Howard, H. Marion Crawford. Producer, Sheldon Reynolds ; director, Steve Previn. // The case of the Baker Street Bachelors -- The case of the Baker Street Nursemaids -- The case of Lady Beryl -- The case of Harry Crocker.

1326. Sherlock Holmes TV Classics. [S.l.]: Alpha Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (videodisc).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The Case of the Baker Street Nursemaids, The Case of Lady Beryl, The Case of Harry Crocker.

1327. Sherlock Holmes TV Classics. [Volume two]. Narberth, PA: Alpha Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. Classic tv series; DVD. Based on the characters created by Arthur Conan Doyle. Episodes from the 1954 television series. Participants: Ronald Howard, H. Marion

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

- Crawford. Producer, Sheldon Reynolds ; director, Steve Previn. // The case of the night train riddle -- The Mother Hubbard case -- The case of the unlucky gambler -- The case of the Cunningham heritage.
1328. The Sherlock Holmes video Tour the England of Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson. Somerset, England : Countryside TV Productions, 1995. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 60 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col.; 1/2 in. // "The Sherlock Holmes Video finds the detective and his companion Dr. Watson existing as literary ghosts in their old rooms at 221b Baker Street. They set out to rediscover their past and through the eyes of the camera are able to view many of the sights, scenes, and locations relevant to their celebrated career."... [container]
1329. Sherlock Holmes Volume four, The return of Sherlock Holmes. [England] ; [Australia] : Granada Television : Universal Pictures (Australasia), 2003. Visual Material 3 videocassettes (VHS) (ca. 311 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS, PAL format. Based on The return of Sherlock Holmes by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Distributors: Granada Video, Universal Pictures (Australasia) 2003. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke. produced by June Wyndham Davies. // Adapted from the original novels and presented here are the complete 6 episodes taken from the series 'The return of Sherlock Holmes' 1330. "Sherlock Holmes Was Wrong: Reopening the Case of the Hound of the Baskervilles." Publishers Weekly 255, no. 35 (2008): 45-45.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "Sherlock Holmes Was Wrong: Reopening the Case of the Hound of the Baskervilles," by Pierre Bayard and translated by Charlotte Mandell. Bloomsbury, $20 (208p) ISBN 978-1-59691-605-0. "French literature professor and psychoanalyst Bayard (How to Talk About Books You Haven't Read) returns to the close reading and iconoclastic analysis of classic detective fiction he did in Who Killed Roger Ackroyd? with this audacious revisionist view of one of the best-known mysteries of all time. As always, Bayard playfully counters the ways literary academics read with the way real people read as he explains his theory of 'detective criticism.' Arguing that Sherlock Holmes often drew false conclusions, Bayard picks apart the apparently airtight case Holmes assembled in The Hound of the Baskervilles and offers an alternative solution. He goes a step further than with the Agatha Christie whodunit by suggesting that Holmes erred in his identification not only of the murderer but of the murder victim. Readers may be more impressed with Bayard's cleverness than his tongue-in-cheek arguments, but his logic will lead many to hope that his opinion on who really killed Hamlet's father (in Enquête sur Hamlet) will be translated into English as well."
1331. Sherlock Holmes, consulting detective. Volume I. Philomont, VA: Infinite Ventures ; Mountain Lakes, NJ : Distributed by DVD International, 1999. Visual Material 1 videodisc.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD video. Compatible with all DVD video players displaying the DVD logo. An Infinite Ventures Production in association with Dynamic Media Inc. ; producer, Duane Tucker. // Video game based on an original design by Sleuth Times and featuring characters from the stories of Sherlock Holmes, by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.
1332. "Sherlock Holmes, Geometry Proofs, and Backward Reasoning." Mathematics Teacher 96, no. 8 (2003): 544-546.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents information on backward reasoning developed by Sherlock Holmes for searching knowledge and solving geometric proofs. Example of a problem on geometry; Benefit obtained from backward thinking skills; Application of backward reasoning on product development.
1333. "Sherlock Holmes, Paleographer." Biblical Archaeology Review 30, no. 5 (2004): 19-19.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses the fictional [sic] character Sherlock Holmes' activities in paleography as contained in the book "The Hound of the Baskervilles" by Arthur Conan Doyle. Definition of paleography; Excerpt of "The Hound of the Baskervilles" which attests to Holmes as a paleographer.
1334. Sherlock Holmes. Dressed to Kill. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videocassette (72 min.).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS, region 1, full screen presentation; Hi-fi stereo. Originally released as a motion picture in 1946. From a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Restored in 35mm by the UCLA Film and Television Archive and digitally remastered. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Patricia Morison. King World Productions, Inc. ; produced by Roy William Neill ; screenplay by Leonard Lee ; directed by Roy William Neill. // Holmes and Watson recover valuables stolen from the bank of England, with only a series of music boxes providing clues. This is the final film in the Rathbone/Holmes series.

1335. Sherlock Holmes. The House of Fear. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (69 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. Sherlock Holmes collection; DVD, region 1, full screen presentation. Originally released as a motion picture in 1945. Based on "The adventures of the five orange pips" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. "Digitally restored in 35mm"--Container. "Preserved by UCLA Film and Television Archive. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Aubrey Mather, Dennis Hoey, Paul Cavanagh. Universal ; King World Productions, Inc. ; directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay by Roy Chanslor. // The Good Comrades are a collection of varied gentlemen residing at Drearcliff House, ancestral home of their eldest member. All seems serene until one by one the members begin to perish in the most grisly of manners. Foul play is suspected and Holmes is asked to investigate.

1336. Sherlock Holmes. Dressed to kill. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (72 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. Sherlock Holmes collection; DVD, region 1, full screen presentation. Originally produced as a motion picture in 1946. Based on a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. "Digitally restored in 35mm"--Container. "Preserved by UCLA Film and Television Archive." Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Patricia Morison. Universal ; King World Productions, Inc. ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay by Leonard Lee ; adapted by Frank Gruber. // Three identical music boxes manufactured by an inmate at Dartmoor Prison are sold to three random collectors at an auction house in London. A female antagonist (Patricia Morison) and her accomplices attempt to recover the music boxes using all means possible, even murder.

1337. Sherlock Holmes. Dressed to kill. Terror by night. Prior Lake, MN: Leisure Entertainment, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodiscs (128 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w., double sided ; 1/2 in. DVD ; digitally remastered, Dolby digital, digital 5.1 surround, Dolby digital stereo. "Digital Gold Double Feature"--Container. Based on characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally produced as motion pictures in 1946 (1st work) and 1946 (2nd work). Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. Roy William Neill, director. // Two classic mysteries featuring that infamous sleuth Sherlock Holmes and his faithful companion, Doctor Watson.

1338. Sherlock Holmes. Terror by night. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (60 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, full screen presentation; Dolby Digital. Originally released in 1946. Restored in 35mm by UCLA Film and Television Archive. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Alan Mowbray, Renee Godfrey, Dennis Hoey. King World Productions, Inc. ; produced & directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay by Frank Gruber. // Sherlock and Watson investigate the murder on a train from London to Edinburgh and how it might be connected to an attempted jewel theft.

1339. Sherlock Holmes. Terror by night. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (60 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, full screen presentation; Dolby Digital. Originally released in 1946. Restored in 35mm by UCLA Film and Television Archive. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Alan Mowbray, Renee Godfrey, Dennis Hoey. King World Productions, Inc. ; produced & directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay by Frank Gruber. // Sherlock and Watson investigate the murder on a train from London to Edinburgh and how it might be connected to an attempted jewel theft.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1340. Sherlock Holmes. Terror by night. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videocassette (60 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS. Originally released in 1946. Restored in 35mm by UCLA Film and Television Archive. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Alan Mowbray, Renee Godfrey, Dennis Hoey. King World Productions, Inc. ; produced & directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay by Frank Gruber. // Sherlock and Watson investigate the murder on a train from London to Edinburgh and how it might be connected to an attempted jewel theft.
1341. Sherlock Holmes. The Eligible Bachelor. [London] : Granada TV ; Sydney, N.S.W. : Direct Holdings/Time Life ; [Northcote, Vic.] : Distributed by Shock Records, 2010. Visual Material 1 videodisc (DVD) (ca. 103 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. PAL ; Region 4. Based on the work of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally broadcast in 1991, as part of the series "The Casebook of Sherlock Holmes" / Part of 3-disc set: Jeremy Brett is Sherlock Holmes by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, Vol. 7. Time Life: SHC 01 20. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke. Directed by Peter Hammond ; produced by June Wyndham Davies. // Sherlock Holmes is worried by a recurring dream. Solving the mystery of a missing wife may also resolve the riddle of this dream.
1342. Sherlock Holmes. The master blackmailer. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (105 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, Region 1 encoding. Originally produced as a television motion picture in 1992. Based on the story "The adventures of Charles Augustus Milverton" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke, Robert Hardy, Norma West, Gwen Ffrangcon Davis, Colin Jeavons, Serena Gordon, Sarah McVicar, David Mallinson. Also issued on VHS. Granada Television [and] WGBH Boston ; producer, Juen Wyndham-Davies ; teleplay writer, Jeremy Paul ; director, Peter Hammond. Director of photography, David Odd ; music, Patrick Gowers ; production designer, Chris Truelove. // For years a blackmailer has been preying on the weaknesses of others throughout London. When Holmes hears of the utter misery this mystery man is creating, he adopts a campaign to thwart his evil scheming. The campaign astonishes Dr. Watson by its strangeness and finds that Holmes is falling in love.
1343. Sherlock Holmes. The Red Circle. [London] : Granada TV ; Sydney, N.S.W. : Direct Holdings/Time Life ; [Northcote, Vic.] : Distributed by Shock Records, 2010. Visual Material 1 videodisc (DVD) (ca. 51 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. PAL ; Region 4. Based on the work of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally broadcast in 1994, as part of the series "The Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes" / Part of 3-disc set: Jeremy Brett is Sherlock Holmes by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, Vol. 7. Time Life: SHC 01 19. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke. Directed by Sarah Hellings ; produced by June Wyndham Davies. // A member of "The Red Circle" commits a murder and Sherlock Holmes is on the case.
1344. Sherlock Holmes. The Three Gables. The Dying Detective. [London] : Granada TV ; Sydney, N.S.W. : Direct Holdings/Time Life ; [Northcote, Vic.] : Distributed by Shock Records, 2010. Visual Material 1 videodisc (DVD) (ca. 102 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. PAL ; Region 4. Based on the work of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally broadcast in 1994, as part of the series "The Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes" / Part of 3-disc set: Jeremy Brett is Sherlock Holmes by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, Vol. 7. Time Life: SHC 01 21. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke. Directed by Peter Hammond (The Three Gables) and Sarah Hellings (The Dying Detective) ; produced by June Wyndham Davies. // Sherlock Holmes is on the case of two mysterious deaths.
1345. Sherlock Holmes. Volume Seven. Sydney, N.S.W. : Direct Holdings/Time Life ; [Northcote, Vic.] : Distributed by Shock Records, 2010. Visual Material 3 videodiscs (DVD) (ca. 256 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. PAL ; Region 4. Based on the novels by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally broadcast 1991-1994, as part of the series "The Casebook of Sherlock Holmes" & "The Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes" / Time Life: SHS 01 07. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke. Audience: Rated: M. Directed by Sarah Hellings, Peter Hamond ; Produced by June Wyndham-Davies. // "Jeremy Brett has been hailed for his spellbinding portrayal of Sherlock Holmes in these most acclaimed adaptations of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's classic whodunit stories"--Container.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1346. Sherlock Holmes. Woman in Green. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (68 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, full screen presentation; Dolby Digital. Originally released as a motion picture in 1945. Based on the characters created by Sir Arthur Doyle. Restored in 35mm by the UCLA Film and Television Archive and digitally remastered. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Hillary Brooke, Henry Daniell, Paul Cavanagh. King World Productions, Inc. ; produced by Roy William Neill ; screenplay by Bertram Millhouse ; directed by Roy William Neill. // Holmes and Dr. Watson investigate a series of murders that are linked only by a missing finger on each victim.
1347. Sherlock Holmes. Woman in Green. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videocassette (68 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS, region 1, full screen presentation. Originally released as a motion picture in 1945. Based on the characters created by Sir Arthur Doyle. Restored in 35mm by the UCLA Film and Television Archive and digitally remastered. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Hillary Brooke, Henry Daniell, Paul Cavanagh. King World Productions, Inc. ; produced by Roy William Neill ; screenplay by Bertram Millhouse ; directed by Roy William Neill. // Holmes and Dr. Watson investigate a series of murders that are linked only by a missing finger on each victim.
1348. "Sherlock Holmes: A Baker Street Dozen." Publishers Weekly 253, no. 23 (2006): 56-56.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the audiobook "Sherlock Holmes: A Baker Street Dozen," by Arthur Conan Doyle.
1349. "Sherlock Holmes: The Unauthorized Biography." Publishers Weekly 253, no. 35 (2006): 38-38.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "Sherlock Holmes: The Unauthorized Biography," by Nick Rennison.
1350. "Sherlock Holmes: Victorian Sleuth to Modern Hero [advertisement]." Canadian Holmes 17, no. 3 (1994): 48.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Announcement of a conference held at Bennington College in Vermont, June 23-26, 1994. Featured speakers include Nicholas Meyer and Edward Hanna.
1351. "Sherlock homes in on London address." The Evening Standard (London), September 21, 1999: 19.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The final touches are being put to a 9ft statue of the great sleuth Sherlock Holmes which will stand outside Baker Street Tube station - close to the fictional detective's London address. The bronze, by Essex sculptor John Doubleday, has been commissioned by the Sherlock Holmes Society whose chairman Lord Tugendhat will unveil it on Thursday...."
1352. Sherlock Hound. [S.l.]: Pioneer Entertainment, 2002. Visual Material videodiscs (125 min. each side).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. Episodes of the 1984 TV series Meitantei Holmes. Based on the original stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Audience: Suggested Ages 7 & up. Pioneer Entertainment (USA) Inc. in association with New Generation Pictures. // Case file 1.; episodes 1-5 --; case file 2.; episodes 6-10 --; case file 3.; episodes 11-14. Animated.
1353. Sherlock Hound. Case file I. [S.l.]: Pioneer Entertainment, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (125 min. each side).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, Region 1 encoding. Based on the original stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Digitally remastered dual side DVD. producer, Yoshimitsu Takahashi ; chief director, Hayao Miyazaki, Kyosuke Mikuriya ; production, RAI, TMS. //
1354. Sherlock Hound. Case file II. Long Beach, CA: Pioneer Entertainment, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (125 min.).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, Dolby digital stereo. Loosely based on the character Holmes, created by Arthur Conan Doyle. Features: interactive menus, scene selection. Participants: Japanese voices: Taichiô Hirokawa, Kousei Tomito, Chikao Ôtsuka; English voices: Larry Moss, Lewis Arquette, Pat Parris. Audience: Ages 7 and up. directed by Tatsuo Hayakawa, Takashi Yanagisawa, Hayao Miyazaki ; written by Tsunehisa Itô ... [et al.] ; produced by Yoshimitsu Takahashi. // Sherlock Hound and his canine companion Dr. Watson battle the evil Professor Moriarty. The green balloon -- A sacred image disappears -- The specked band -- Treasure under the sea -- White cliffs of Dover.

1355. Sherlock Hound. Case file III. Long Beach, CA: Pioneer Entertainment, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (100 min. each side).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. Digitally remastered dual side DVD. Title and episode titles (with English subtitles) from container. Based on the original stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally produced for television in 1981. Special features (side 2): creditless opening ; creditless ending. TMS Entertainment, Ltd. ; RAI ; producer, Yoshimitsu Takahashi ; chief directors, Hayao Miyazaki, Kyosuke Mikuriya. Music, Kentaro Haneda. // Episode 11: The sovereign gold coins, or The targeted giant coin bank -- Episode 12. The stormy getaway, or The professor's big failure in the storm -- Episode 13. The runaway freight car, or Missing freight car!? : The professor's big magic trick -- Episode 14. The Coral lobsters.

1356. Sherlock Hound. Case file IV. Long Beach, CA: Pioneer Entertainment, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (100 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. Sherlock Hound; DVD, Dolby digital stereo. Loosely based on the character Holmes, created by Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Japanese voices: Taichio Hirokawa, Kousei Tomito, Chikao Otsuka; English voices: Larry Moss, Lewis Arquette, Pat Parris./ Audience: Ages 7 and up. directed by Tatsuo Hayakawa, Takashi Yanagisawa, Hayao Miyazaki ; written by Tsunehisa Ito ... [et al.] ; produced by Yoshimitsu Takahashi. // Episode 11: The sovereign gold coins, or The targeted giant coin bank -- Episode 12. The stormy getaway, or The professor's big failure in the storm -- Episode 13. The runaway freight car, or Missing freight car!? : The professor's big magic trick -- Episode 14. The Coral lobsters. Animated.

1357. Sherlock Hound. Case file V. Long Beach, CA: Pioneer Entertainment, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (100 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, Region 1 encoding, Dolby digital, mono. Based on the original stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally produced for television in 1981. TMS Entertainment, Ltd. ; RAI ; producer, Yoshimitsu Takahashi ; chief directors, Hayao Miyazaki, Kyosuke Mikuriya. Music, Kentaro Haneda. // Episode 19: The Rosetta Stone -- Episode 20: The white silver getaway -- Episode 21: The disappearance of the splendid royal horse -- Episode 22: Disturbance, the World Flight Championship. Animated.

1358. Sherlock Hound. Case file VI. Long Beach, CA: Pioneer Entertainment, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (100 min. each side).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, Region 1 encoding, Dolby digital, mono. Based on the original stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally produced for television in 1981. TMS Entertainment, Ltd. ; RAI ; producer, Yoshimitsu Takahashi ; chief directors, Hayao Miyazaki, Kyosuke Mikuriya. Music, Kentaro Haneda. // Episode 23: The secret of the parrot -- Episode 24: The bell of Big Ben -- Episode 25: The priceless French doll -- Episode 26: The missing bride affair. Animated.

1359. "Sherlock on the prowl again." New Straits Times (Malaysia), February 18, 2001: 18.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The Hound Of The Baskervilles, which premiered on Hallmark was the first story to resurrect Sherlock Holmes. The story is an inspired interpretation of the 1902 Doyle masterpiece that re-imagines the inscrutable Holmes and his latest case in a style faithful to the original. In the fifth re-telling of The Hound Of The Baskervilles there's plenty of vintage Doyle intrigue, amusing wordplay, plot twists, and nail-biting suspense to satisfy both the hardcore Holmes fan and newcomers alike....Matt Frewer, a classically trained actor, turns in a surprisingly accomplished performance as the Baker Street detective, delivering lines with the modest irony that Holmes fans love. Frewer is supported by Kenneth Welsh (as the amenable Dr

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Watson) and Jason London, last seen in Hallmark's Jason And The Argonauts, as Sir Henry, the latest heir apparent to the Baskerville estate - and whose life is on the line...."

1360. Sherlock, Jr. s.l.: Joseph M. Schenck Productions, Distributed exclusively by Image Entertainment, 1994. Visual Material.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- The art of Buster Keaton ; v. 1; Silent feature. Credits were supplied from: AFI catalog, 1921-1930. Footage on release was 4,065 ft., according to: AFI catalog, 1921-1930. Copyright: Joseph M. Schenck; 22Apr24; LP20125. Copyright notice on videodisc sleeve: renewed 1952, Loew's Incorporated. Special contents of this edition, c1995, Film Preservation Associates. Artwork and summary, c1994, Kino International Corp. and c1995 Film Preservation Associates. Laserdisc package design c1994, Image Entertainment, Inc./ Eighth on The art of Buster Keaton, vol. 1 with: The saphead -- The high sign -- One week -- The goat -- Three ages -- My wife's relations -- Our hospitality./ Participants: Buster Keaton (Sherlock, Jr.); Kathryn McGuire (the girl); Ward Crane (the rival); Joseph Keaton (the father); Horace Morgan, Jane Connelly, Erwin Connelly, Ford West, George Davis, John Patrick, Ruth Holly. Version: Videodisc version is the David Shepard restoration, with music track featuring a contemporary score by the Club Foot Orchestra. Buster Keaton Productions ; presented by Joseph M. Schenck ; director, Buster Keaton ; story, Clyde Bruckman, Jean Havez, Joseph Mitchell. Photographer, Byron Houck, Elgin Lessley; art director, Fred Gabourie; costumes, Clare West. // "Dramatizing the uproarious exploits of a meek theater projectionist-turned-amateur-sleuth, the film blends the knockabout physical comedy normally linked to slapstick with amazing stunts and subtly crafted moments of humor--such as the sequence in which Buster leaps through the silver screen and lands in the midst of the action. Packed within its modest length is enough comic material for several ordinary features, but Keaton and uncredited co-director Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle have compressed it all into a dazzling display of cinematic inventiveness that characterizes the timeless art of Buster Keaton"-- Videodisc sleeve.
1361. Sherlock. Case of evil. [S.l.]: Screen Media Films ; Universal City, CA : Distributed by Universal Studios Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (90 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, widescreen presentation; Dolby Digital. Originally released as a motion picture in 2002. Based on the characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: James D'Arcy, Roger Morlidge, Nicholas Gecks, Gabrielle Anwar, Vincent D'onofrio, Peter Hugo Daly, Straun Rodger, Richard E. Grant. Sherlock Holmes Films presents a Box Film/Pueblo film production ; producer, Tim Bradley ; written by Piers Ashworth ; directed by Graham Theakston. Director of photography, Lukas Strebel ; editor, Pamela Power ; original music, Mike Moran ; costume designer, Oana Paunescu ; production designer, Chris Roope. // A young Sherlock Holmes is in pursuit of England's most notorious serial killer. Things are never as they seem when dealing with drugs, sex, and murder. The diabolical Professor Moriarty has meet his match with London's newest dynamic duo, Dr. Watson and Sherlock Holmes.
1362. Sherlock. Case of evil. [s.l.]: Screen Media Films ; Universal City, CA : Distributed by Universal Studios Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videocassette (90 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS, widescreen presentation. Originally released as a motion picture in 2002. Based on the characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: James D'Arcy, Roger Morlidge, Nicholas Gecks, Gabrielle Anwar, Vincent D'onofrio, Peter Hugo Daly, Straun Rodger, Richard E. Grant. Sherlock Holmes Films presents a Box Film/Pueblo film production ; producer, Tim Bradley ; written by Piers Ashworth ; directed by Graham Theakston. Director of photography, Lukas Strebel ; editor, Pamela Power ; original music, Mike Moran ; costume designer, Oana Paunescu ; production designer, Chris Roope. // A young Sherlock Holmes is in pursuit of England's most notorious serial killer. Things are never as they seem when dealing with drugs, sex, and murder. The diabolical Professor Moriarty has meet his match with London's newest dynamic duo, Dr. Watson and Sherlock Holmes.
1363. Sherlock. Season One. [United States] : British Broadcasting Corporation : BBC Video, 2010. Visual Material 2 videodiscs (461 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, full screen presentation; stereo. Release date: Nov. 9, 2010. Originally broadcast in 2009. Participants: Benedict Cumberbatch, Martin Freeman. Audience: Not rated. // A contemporary take on the classic Arthur Conan Doyle stories, Sherlock is a thrilling, funny, fast-paced adventure series set in present-day London. The iconic details from Conan Doyle's original books remain: they live at the same address, have the same names, and, somewhere out there, Moriarty is waiting for them. And so across three thrilling, scary, action-packed, and highly modern adventures, Sherlock and John navigate a maze of cryptic clues and lethal killers to get at the truth.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1364. Sherlock. Season One. [England] : BBC Video ; [United States] : Distributed by Warner Bros. Entertainment, 2010. Visual Material 2 videodiscs (461 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. Blu-ray ; stereo ; fullscreen version (4x3) ; Requires Blu-ray player. Originally broadcast in 2009 on the BBC. Participants: Benedict Cumberbatch, Martin Freeman, Rupert Graves. Audience: Not rated. BBC ; created by Steven Moffat and Mark Gatiss. // A contemporary take on the classic Arthur Conan Doyle stories, Sherlock is a thrilling, funny, fast-paced adventure series set in present-day London. The iconic details from Conan Doyle's original books remain: they live at the same address, have the same names, and, somewhere out there, Moriarty is waiting for them. And so across three thrilling, scary, action-packed, and highly modern adventures, Sherlock and John navigate a maze of cryptic clues and lethal killers to get at the truth.
1365. "Sherlockian Cinema Update." The Illustrious Clients News 32, no. 6 (2009): 11.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1366. "Sherlockian Doings in Victoria Regina's City." Canadian Holmes 32, no. 1 (2009): 20-23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1367. "Sherlockian London." British Heritage 21, no. 1 (1999): 19.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on the Sherlock Holmes Memorabilia Co. shop in London, England. Showcase of the set from the Sherlock Holmes television series starring Jeremy Brett; Exhibition prices.
1368. "Sherlockian Periodicals Received." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 2 (1994): 120-122.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // List of current publications received, along with editorial contact information.
1369. "Sherlockiana, Survey Results--The Proudest Sherlockian Mothers of All Time." The Holmes & Watson Report 3, no. 2 (1999): 31-33.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1370. Sherlok Kholms i Doktor Vatson krasnym po belomu. Moskva: Tornado Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (DVD) (134 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. Ves' Sherlok Kholms ; no.1; Translated title: Sherlock Holmes and Doctor Watson : the red on white. Participants: Vasilii Livanov, Vitalii Solomin, Rina Zelenaiia, Borislav Brondukov. Rezhisser: Igor' Maslennikov. // Russian television programme, originally produced in 1979. Featuring a retelling of some of the intriguing adventures of the redoubtable sleuth, Sherlock Holmes, and his tireless assistant, Doctor Watson.
1371. Sherlok Kholms i doktor Vatson. Krasnym po belomu. [s.l.]: Rosteleradiofond, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (134 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD; Dolby digital, 5.1 surround. Originally produced as motion picture in 1979. Participants: V. Livanov, V. Solomin, R. Zelenaiia, Nikolai Karachentsov, Igor' Dmitriev, Borislav Brondukov. Gosteleradio SSSR ; rezhisser, Igor' Maslennikov. //
1372. Sherlok Kholms i doktora Vatson. Moskva: "Krupnyi Plan" ; New York : Distributed by St. Petersburg Pub. & Entertainment Group, 1997. Visual Material 1 videocassette (134 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Populiarnye kinofil'my; VHS format. "X04-187"--Container. Originally released as a motion picture by kinostudiia "Lenfil'm" in 1979. Based on short stories by Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: V. Livanov, V. Solomin, R. Zelenaiia, N. Karachentsov, B. Brondukov, G.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Bogachev. Lenfil'm ; avtor stsenariia IU. Dunsii, V. Frid ; rezhisser-postanovshchik, I. Maslennikov.
Screenplay by IU. Dunsii, V. Frid ; director/producer, I. Maslennikov ; music, V. Dashkevich. //

1373. Ship in a bottle Aquiel. [S.l.] : Paramount Pictures ; Terre Haute, IN : Columbia House Video Library, 1995. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 96 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Star Trek: the next generation; Columbia house video; VHS.
"13040." Participants: Patrick Stewart, Jonathan Frakes. Paramount Pictures. Created by Gene Roddenberry.
// Ship in a bottle: Professor Moriarty appears during a Sherlock Holmes fantasy on the Enterprise. Moriarty claims he is human and Beverly examines him and tells Picard it's true. Aquiel: Riker, Geordi, and Beverly discover the remains of Auqiel Unhari while at a remote relay station. The crew on the Enterprise, meanwhile, is introduced to Aquiel, who is alive.
1374. "The Shoehorn Scroll." Canadian Holmes 28, no. 3 (2005): 3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1375. "Shop front." New Statesman & Society 8, no. 359 (1995): 38.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a list of best selling books in Great Britain for the week of June 23-30, 1995. Includes Matthew Benson: The Sherlock Holmes Encyclopedia (Pavilion)
1376. Short story criticism: excerpts from criticism of the works of short fiction writers. Vol. 12. Detroit, Mich: Gale Research Co, 1988.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 88641014 //
1377. "Sidekicks edition." Civilization 4, no. 1 (1997): 32.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Features history's great sidekicks who have outshone their masters. Includes Plato's Socrates; Dr. Frankenstein's Igor; Sherlock Holmes' Dr. Watson.
1378. "Sightings." Canadian Holmes 29, no. 3 (2006): 37-38.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1379. The sign of four. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (120 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Dramatised from the story of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Jeremy Brett. Granada Television Ltd. //
1380. The Sign of Four. Chatsworth, CA: Image Entertainment, 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (97 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Originally released in 1983 by Roth & Partners (Securities) Limited as a motion picture for television broadcast. Participants: Ian Richardson, David Healy, Joe Melia, Terence Rigby, Richard Heffer, Clive Merrison, Darren Michael, Michael O'Hagan, Cherie Lunghi, Thorley Walters. Zia Film Distributors LLC ; a Sy Weintraub presentation ; screenplay, Charles Edward Pogue ; producer, Otto Plaschkes ; director, Desmond Davis. Editor, Timothy Gee ; composer, Harry Robinowitz ; executive producer, Sy Weintraub. // Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson investigate the disappearance of a woman's father. She shows them a number of clues: a box of pearls, a newspaper advertisement, a map of an Indian fortress and a note telling her to keep an appointment that evening, when she will learn something to her advantage.
1381. The sign of four. [S.l.]: Hallmark Entertainment ; Santa Monica, Calif. : Distributed by Artisan, 2001. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 120 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS. Not rated. Participants: Matt Frewer, Kenneth Welsh. //
1382. The Sign of four. Richmond Hill, Ont.: BFS Video, 2001. Visual Material 1 videocassette (VHS) (97 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS. Videocassette release of the 1983 television production. Based on the novel by Arthur Conan Doyle. "30253-V." Participants: Ian Richardson, David Healy, Thorley Walters, Cherie Lunghi, Joe Melia, Terence Rigby, Clive Merrison, Richard Heffer, John Pedrick, Michael O'Hagan, Robert Russell, John Benfield, Moti Makan, Kate Binchy, Gordon Rollings, Merelinda Kendall,

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

- Darren Michael, Peter J. Cassell. Audience: Not rated. Investors in Industry. Producers, Otto Plaschkes, Eric Rattray, Alan Rosefielde, Sy Weintraub ; original music, Harry Rabinowitz ; cinematography, Dennis C. Lewiston ; director, Desmond Davis ; screenplay, Charles Edward Pogue ; writer, Arthur Conan Doyle. // A savage murder, a missing fortune in jewels and a plea for help from a beautiful stranger lead Holmes through back streets and boatyards and the bizarre sideshows of a seedy carnival in a race to decode the mysterious "sign of four."
1383. The Sign of four. Narbeth, PA: Alpha Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (74 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Participants: Arthur Wotner, Ian Hunter. Based on the story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. // A beautiful young woman seeks the help of Holmes and Watson when the mysterious benefactor who has been sending her a pearl each year since her father disappeared wants to meet her. Involved are a priceless hoard of Indian treasure and a murderer, whose trademark is "the sign of four."
1384. "Signs That an Adolescent Is Using Narcotics." Russian Education & Society 43, no. 11 (2001): 29.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Interviews Iurii Aleksandrovic Zakharov, director of the Scientific Research Center and a medical specialist in reflexotherapy, regarding the signs that an adolescent is using narcotics. Passing reference to Holmes. "In general, you have to act like Sherlock Holmes: if the adolescent's behavior has started to make you suspicious, you ought to check the contents of his pockets and his backpack, and the drawers in his desk."
1385. Silver blaze. [S.l.]: Allied Artists Entertainment, 1997. Visual Material 1 videocassette (70 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w. ; 1/2 in. Allied artists classics; Sherlock Holmes collection; VHS. From a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Videocassette release of the 1941 motion picture. Release also under the title : Murder at the Baskervilles. "41096" Participants: Arthur Wotner, Ian Fleming, Lyn Harding, Judy Gunn, Lawrence Grossmith, Arthur Macrae. Produced by Julius Hagen at Twickenham Studios, England. Directed by Thomas Bentley. // Sherlock Holmes clears a racehorse of having killed its trainer.
1386. "The Silver Swan." Kirkus Reviews 76, no. 4 (2008): 3-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "The Silver Swan," by Benjamin Black. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...In real life we know very little of the motives of others, possibly because we are too busy trying to discover what our own might be. Quirke is a bit of a dope, just like the rest of us. I suppose if you wanted the opposite of Sherlock Holmes, Quirke would be it.'..."
1387. "'A Singular Set of People...'" Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 2, no. 1 (1998): 2.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Notes the decisions by two scion societies of the Baker Street Irregulars to make contributions to the Sherlock Holmes Collections at the University of Minnesota, The Arthur Conan Doyle Collection at The Metropolitan Toronto Library, and The Sherlock Holmes Collection at the Marylebone Library in London.
1388. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's The hound of the Baskervilles. [Orland Park, Ill.]: MPI Home Video, 2004. Visual Material 1 videodisc (80 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. + 1 booklet. Sherlock Holmes; DVD ; Region 1 ; full screen presentation; Dolby Digital. Based on the story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally released in 1939. Special features: audio commentary with David Stuart Davies, selected theatrical trailers, production notes by Richard Valley, photo gallery. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Richard Greene, Wendy Barrie, Lionel Atwill. Audience: MPAA rating: Not rated. Twentieth Century-Fox presents ; Darryl F. Zanuck in charge of production ; directed by Sidney Lanfield ; screenplay by Ernest Pascal. // The first of the fourteen Sherlock Holmes films starring Basil Rathbone and Nigel Bruce.
1389. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's The hound of the Baskervilles. Los Angeles, CA: Mike Le Bell's Video, 2002. Visual Material 1 videocassette (80 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS. Based on the novel by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Videocassette release of the 1939 motion picture released by Twentieth Century-Fox Film Corporation. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Richard Greene, Wendy Barrie. Twentieth Century-Fox ; producer,

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Darryl F. Zanuck ; screenplay, Ernest Pascal ; director Sidney Lanfield. Screenplay, Ernest Pascal ; director, Sidney Lanfield ; photography, Peverell Marley ; film editor, Robert Simpson ; music, Cyril Mockridge. // Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson investigate the reappearance of a seemingly supernatural hound, bent on destroying the House of the Baskervilles in accordance with an ancient curse.

1390. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's The lost world. Beverly Hills, CA: 20th Century Fox Home Entertainment, 1998. Visual Material 1 videocassette (92 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS. "This film has been modified from its original version. It has been formatted to fit this screen." Originally released as a motion picture in 1960. Participants: Michael Rennie, Jill St. John, David Hedison, Claude Rains, Fernando Lamas. Twentieth Century-Fox ; screenplay by Irwin Allen and Charles Bennet ; produced and directed by Irwin Allen. Director of photography, Winton Hoch ; film editor, Hugh S. Fowler ; music, Paul Sawtell, Bert Shefter. // A team of explorers travels to the Amazon to a distant plateau where prehistoric creatures still prowl the jungle.
1391. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's the lost world. [S.l.]: Trimark Home Video, 1998. Visual Material 1 videocassette (96 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS. Based on the book by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Patrick Bergin. Audience: Rated R. Produced by Danny Rossner and Murray Shostak; directed by Bob Keen; screenplay by Leo St. Pierre and Jean Lafleur. // The original tale of prehistoric terror. Deep inside the hills of Northern Mongolia an international scientific expedition, led by famed zoologist George Challenger, has come in search of "the lost world," a mythical land where dinosaurs still roam free. With only one way to get in and no way out, Challenger's party quickly learns why some secrets are better left undiscovered.
1392. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's The Lost world. [Kirrawee, N.S.W.]: Flashback Entertainment, 1998. Visual Material 1 videodisc (DVD) (100 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. Participants: Patrick Bergin, Jayne Heitmeyer. Directed by Bob Keen. //
1393. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's The lost world. [s.l.]: A & E Network : Distributed by New Video, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 200 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD; Dolby digital. Based on the novel by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Special features: interactive menus, scene selection. Participants: Bob Hoskins, James Fox, Tom Ward, Matthew Rhys, Elaine Cassidy, Peter Falk. a BBC/A & E Network co-production in association with RTL. Adapted by Tony Mulholland, Adrian Hodges ; producer, Christopher Hall ; co-producer, Tim Haines ; A & E executive producer, Delia Fine ; director, Stuart Orme ; executive producers, Kate Harwood, Jane Tranter. // "At the turn of the 20th century, Professor George Challenger leaves London for the Amazon on a mission to prove his maverick theory that dinosaurs still survive. He is joined by a rag-tag group of adventurers that includes a professor who believes that Challenger is mistaken, a young reporter, a big game hunter, a zealous reverend and a missionary's daughter"--Container.
1394. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's The lost world. [s.l.]: A&E Network : Distributed by New Video, 2002. Visual Material 2 videocassettes (200 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. VHS. Videocassette release of the 2001 television mini-series. Based on the novel by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Bob Hoskins, James Fox, Tom Ward, Matthew Rhys, Elaine Cassidy, Peter Falk. a BBC/A&E Network co-production in association with RTL ; producer, Christopher Hall ; co-producer, Tim Haines ; director, Stuart Orme ; adapted by Tony Mulholland and Adrian Hodges. A&E executive producer, Delia Fine ; executive producers, Kate Harwood, Jane Tranter. // At the turn of the 20th century, Professor George Challenger leaves London for the Amazon on a mission to prove his maverick theory that dinosaurs still survive. He is joined by a rag-tag group of adventurers that includes a professor who believes that Challenger is mistaken, a young reporter, a big game hunter, a zealous reverend and a missionary's daughter.
1395. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's The lost world. Chatsworth, CA: Image Entertainment, 2003. Visual Material 6 videodiscs (ca. 968 min.).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, Region 1, full screen (1.33:1) presentation; 5.1 Dolby Digital. Originally aired during the 1999-2000 season. Based on the novel by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Special features: each case highlights a different personality. Participants: Peter McCauley, Rachel Blakely, David Orth, Jennifer O'Dell, Will Snow, Michael Sinelnikoff. New Line Television ; Coote Hayes Productions ; St. Clare Entertainment ; Telescene Film Group Productions ; producers, Guy Mullally, Darryl Sheen ; writers, Nick Jacobs ... [et al.] ; directors, Colin Budds ... [et al.]. Director of photography, Ben Nott ; art director, J.D. Wingrove ; editors, Jean Beaudoin ... [et al.] ; music, Garry McDonald, Lawrence Stone ; costume designer, Anna Baulch ; production designer, Eugene Intas ; visual effects supervisor, Trevor Hawkins. // Determined to prove the existence of 'The lost world', dashing adventurer and scholar Professor George Challenger mounts a British expedition team of consisting of a mismatched group of enthusiasts, all with less than selfless reasons for making the journey. Traveling through the uncharted Amazon jungle to this prehistoric plateau, the group encounters tribal head hunters, vicious apemen, giant crocodiles and terrifying dinosaurs.

1396. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's The lost world the complete collection. St. Laurent, Quebec: Madacy Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 2 videodiscs (3 hrs., 19 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Videodisc release of the 1992 film. Includes bonus features. Participants: John Rhys-Davies, David Warner, Eric McCormack, Tamara Gorski. Audience: Rated PG-13. Harmony Gold Pictures in association with Silvio Berlusconi Communications ; directed by Timothy Bond. // Professor Challenger leads an expedition to investigate sightings of prehistoric life thriving in the African jungle. Joined by a journalist, his arch-rival, and a rich beauty, they discover dinosaurs, pterodactyls and primitive people. Then their investigation takes a turn and they must band together for survival. The sequel takes up the story years later when The Lost World is in danger of extinction and Professor Challenger must outwit powerful forces, including a volcano, to save the land and themselves.
1397. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's the lost world. Season one, disc 1, episodes 1-4. Chatsworth, CA: Image Entertainment, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (176 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, Dolby digital surround. Videodisc release of four episodes from the 1999 television series. Participants: Peter McCauley, Rachel Blakely, Will Snow, David Orth, Jennifer O'Dell, Michael Sinelnikoff. New Line Television. // Determined to prove the existence of The Lost World, adventurer and scholar Professor George Challenger mounts a British expedition team of mismatched enthusiasts to make the journey. The group encounters incredible adventures including dinosaurs.
1398. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's the lost world. Season one, disc 2, episodes 5-8. Chatsworth, CA: Image Entertainment, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (176 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, Dolby digital surround. Videodisc release of four episodes from the 1999 television series. Participants: Peter McCauley, Rachel Blakely, Will Snow, David Orth, Jennifer O'Dell, Michael Sinelnikoff. New Line Television. // Determined to prove the existence of The Lost World, adventurer and scholar Professor George Challenger mounts a British expedition team of mismatched enthusiasts to make the journey. The group encounters incredible adventures including dinosaurs.
1399. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's the lost world. Season one, disc 3, episodes 9-12. Chatsworth, CA: Image Entertainment, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (176 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, Dolby digital surround. Videodisc release of four episodes from the 1999 television series. Participants: Peter McCauley, Rachel Blakely, Will Snow, David Orth, Jennifer O'Dell, Michael Sinelnikoff. New Line Television. // Determined to prove the existence of The Lost World, adventurer and scholar Professor George Challenger mounts a British expedition team of mismatched enthusiasts to make the journey. The group encounters incredible adventures including dinosaurs.
1400. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's the lost world. Season one, disc 4, episodes 13-16. Chatsworth, CA: Image Entertainment, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (176 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, Dolby digital surround. Videodisc release of four episodes from the 1999 television series. Participants: Peter McCauley, Rachel Blakely, Will Snow, David Orth, Jennifer O'Dell, Michael Sinelnikoff. New Line Television. // Determined to prove the existence of The Lost

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

World, adventurer and scholar Professor George Challenger mounts a British expedition team of mismatched enthusiasts to make the journey. The group encounters incredible adventures including dinosaurs.

1401. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's the lost world. Season one, disc 5, episodes 17-20. Chatsworth, CA: Image Entertainment, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (176 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, Dolby digital surround. Videodisc release of four episodes from the 1999 television series. Participants: Peter McCauley, Rachel Blakely, Will Snow, David Orth, Jennifer O'Dell, Michael Sinelnikoff. New Line Television. // Determined to prove the existence of The Lost World, adventurer and scholar Professor George Challenger mounts a British expedition team of mismatched enthusiasts to make the journey. The group encounters incredible adventures including dinosaurs.
1402. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's the lost world. Season one, disc 6, episodes 21-22. Chatsworth, CA: Image Entertainment, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (88 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, Dolby digital surround. Videodisc release of four episodes from the 1999 television series. Participants: Peter McCauley, Rachel Blakely, Will Snow, David Orth, Jennifer O'Dell, Michael Sinelnikoff. New Line Television. // Determined to prove the existence of The Lost World, adventurer and scholar Professor George Challenger mounts a British expedition team of mismatched enthusiasts to make the journey. The group encounters incredible adventures including dinosaurs.
1403. "Sir Hugo's Rowdy Radiophonic Reveries--Stolen Cadavers, Dissolving Fat, and the Daily Coffee Problem: Unearthing Old-Time Radio's 'Murder by Proxy'." The Holmes & Watson Report 8, no. 6 (2005): 29-34.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1404. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--A Hound Without Hugo is Like a Moor Without Moonshine." The Holmes & Watson Report 7, no. 1 (2003): 11-15.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1405. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--A Little known Twist on TWIS: Looking for The Man Who Disappeared." The Holmes & Watson Report 4, no. 3 (2000): 25-29.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1406. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--A Phat Phantasy from '44: The Case of the Screaming Bishop." The Holmes & Watson Report 7, no. 3 (2003): 5-9.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1407. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--A Walking, Talking Paget Illustration: Peter Cushing's Quarter Century with the Master." The Holmes & Watson Report 6, no. 1 (2002): 43-47.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1408. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--Adding a Little Vi to the Agra; or, Whetted Wontner Solves The Sign of Four." The Holmes & Watson Report 3, no. 4 (1999): 18-23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1409. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--'Admiration of the French Savant' Georges Treville and The Copper Beeches." The Holmes & Watson Report 3, no. 5 (1999): 16-20.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1410. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--And Now for Something Completely Lame: Sheep-dip, Kicks in the Groin, and the End of Civilization." The Holmes & Watson Report 4, no. 6 (2001): 55-60.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1411. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--Because We Can: Fun With Sherockian DVD Extras." The Holmes & Watson Report 8, no. 1 (2004): 7-11.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1412. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--'Brown as a Nut and Fit as a Lathe': The Stately Homes of Baker Street." The Holmes & Watson Report 5, no. 4 (2001): 31-36.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1413. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--Captain Kirk vs. Old Surehand: Showdown on Dartmoor." The Holmes & Watson Report 2, no. 5 (1998): 12, 30-32.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1414. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--'Elementary, My Dear Steed': The Avenger's Sherlockian Adventure." The Holmes & Watson Report 5, no. 2 (2001): 21, 24-27.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1415. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--For He's a Jolly Good Marionette: or, You Can't Go Wrong With Herlock Sholmes." The Holmes & Watson Report 8, no. 4 (2004): 21-25.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1416. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--From Gene Wilder to Rolf Becker: A review of Alan Barnes's Sherlock Holmes on the Screen." The Holmes & Watson Report 6, no. 5 (2002): 16-20.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1417. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--Hair Growth Formula, Swinging Gals, and the Stately Hat Company; or, How Sir Hugo Got His First Deerstalker." The Holmes & Watson Report 8, no. 3 (2004): 10-13.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1418. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--'I have in my pocket a manuscript': The Curse of The Hound of London." The Holmes & Watson Report 5, no. 3 (2001): 11-14.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1419. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--Investigating the Williamsburg Forgeries; or, When Sir Hugo Donned Fore-and-Aft." The Holmes & Watson Report 7, no. 5 (2003): 24-28.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1420. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--Milking Sacred Cows: Revisiting Brett Bash '95." The Holmes & Watson Report 4, no. 2 (2000): 22-27.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1421. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--Of Sleeping Cardinals, Air guns, and One-Armed Colonels: Revisiting Twickenham's Empty (Starter) House." The Holmes & Watson Report 6, no. 1 (2002): 18-23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1422. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--Sir Hugo's BSI Weekend (Y2K Edition)." The Holmes & Watson Report 4, no. 1 (2000): 4-8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1423. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--'Suggested by the book by A. Conan Doyle': Revisiting Edwin L. Marin's A Study in Scarlet (1933)." The Holmes & Watson Report 7, no. 2 (2003): 9-13.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1424. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--Teutonic: A Night (Not) to Remember." The Holmes & Watson Report 2, no. 2 (1998): 32-36.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1425. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--That '70s Sherlock: One Rakejell's Memories of the Great Revival." The Holmes & Watson Report 5, no. 6 (2002): 4-8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1426. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--The 2000 Sir Hugo awards." The Holmes & Watson Report 3, no. 6 (2000): 30-35.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1427. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--The 2001 Sir Hugo Awards: Watsons We've Known and Loved." The Holmes & Watson Report 5, no. 1 (2001): 4-8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1428. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--The First Holmes-Dracula Connection; or, Bram Stoker's Gilligan's Island." The Holmes & Watson Report 6, no. 3 (2002): 32-37.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1429. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--The Fox(hunter) and the Hound: Oxley the Hammer Hugo." The Holmes & Watson Report 3, no. 3 (1999): 4-8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1430. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--The Priapic Adventures of Young (Johnny) Holmes or Baker Street Boogie Nights." The Holmes & Watson Report 6, no. 6 (2003): 35-40.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1431. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--The Second Most Dangerous Administrative Assistant in London: Moran of the Movies." The Holmes & Watson Report 4, no. 5 (2000): 5-10.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1432. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--the Seventy-Per-Cent Solution: Investigating The Mystery of the Leaping Fish." The Holmes & Watson Report 3, no. 2 (1999): 17-21.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1433. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--Their Last Bows: Alpha Presents Three Omegas on DVD." The Holmes & Watson Report 8, no. 5 (2004): 25-28.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1434. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--'There are unexplored possibilities about you'; or, A Rose for Watson." The Holmes & Watson Report 8, no. 2 (2004): 4-7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1435. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--There But for the Grace of Doyle Go We." The Holmes & Watson Report 5, no. 5 (2001): 22-23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1436. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--'We have had some dramatic entrances': First Impressions of the Great Sherlock." The Holmes & Watson Report 8, no. 6 (2005): 4-9.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1437. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--When Holmes Was a Household Word: Revisiting The Sherlock Holmes Scrapbook." The Holmes & Watson Report 7, no. 6 (2004): 8-13.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1438. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--You're So Wethervane: Blinker 'n' Sherl Meet the (Laughing) Mummy." The Holmes & Watson Report 6, no. 4 (2002): 38-43.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

1439. The slobbery hound. New York: Polygram Video, 1995. Visual Material 1 videocassette (30 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS. Based on Arthur Conan Doyle's The hound of the Baskervilles. "Big feats entertainment." Participants: Larry Brantley as the voice of Wishbone; Jordan Wall as Joe; Christie Abbott as Sam; Adam Springfield as David; Mary Chris Wall as Ellen, Angee Hughes as Wanda. producer, Betty Buckley ; directed by Fred Holmes ; written by Vincent Brown. Creator and executive producer: Rick Duffield ; costume design by Stephen Chudje ; Caris Palm Turpin, visual effects supervisor ; director of photography, Bert Guthrie; musical director, Tim Cissel; supervising producer, Stephanie Simpson; edited by Michael Coleman. //
1440. "Slumming with T.S. Eliot." Wilson Quarterly 19, no. 3 (1995): 145.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Comments on the article 'T.S. Eliot and the Cultural Divide' by David Chinitz in the March 1995 issue of 'PMLA' periodical. Includes Doyle reference. "One of Eliot's lasting enthusiasms," Chinitz writes, "was for detective fiction, from Arthur Conan Doyle to Georges Simenon and Raymond Chandler."
1441. "Snippets from the non-Sherlockian Press." Canadian Holmes 20, no. 1 (1996): 24-26.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1442. Sobaka Baskervilei. Moskva: "Krupnyi Plan" ; New York : Distributed by St. Petersburg Pub. & Entertainment Group, 1997. Visual Material 1 videocassette (147 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Populiarnye kinofil'my; VHS format. "X04-189"--Container. "Iz seriala Priklucheniia Sherloka Kholmsa i doktora Vatsona." "Khudozhestvennyi fil'm po motivam odnoimennoi povesti." Participants: V. Livanov, V. Solomin, R. Zelenaiia, I. Kupchenko, I. Mikhalkov, A. Demidova, O. IAnoskii. "Lenfil'm" ; avtor stsenarii i rezhisser-postanovshchik I. Maslennikov. Screenplay and direction by I. Maslennikov ; music, V. Dashkevich. //
1443. Sobaka Baskervilei. Moskva: "Krupnyi Plan", 2001. Visual Material 1 videocassette (147 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Populiarnye kinofil'my; VHS format. "X04-189"--Container. "Iz seriala Priklucheniia Sherloka Kholmsa i doktora Vatsona." "Khudozhestvennyi fil'm po motivam odnoimennoi povesti." Participants: V. Livanov, V. Solomin, R. Zelenaiia, I. Kupchenko, I. Mikhalkov, A. Demidova, O. IAnoskii. Vasilii Livanov i Vitalii Solomin v fil'me Igoria Maslenniklova ; Krupnyi'i Plan ; avtor stsenarii i rezhisser-postanovshchik I. Maslennikov. Screenplay and direction by I. Maslennikov ; music, V. Dashkevich. //
1444. Sobaka Baskervilei Hound of the Baskervilles. Medford, OR: Sinister Cinema, 1997. Visual Material 1 videocassette (147 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS format. Based on the novel by Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally produced for Russian television in 1981. "Iz seriala Priklucheniia Sherloka Kholmsa i doktora Vatsona." "Khudozhestvennyi fil'm po motivam odnoimennoi povesti." Participants: V. Livanov, V. Solomin, R. Zelenaiia, I. Kupchenko, I. Mikhalkov, A. Demidova, O. IAnoskii. "Lenfil'm" ; avtor stsenarii i rezhisser-postanovshchik I. Maslennikov. Screenplay and direction by I. Maslennikov ; music, V. Dashkevich. // 1445. "Sociology." Reference & Research Book News 23, no. 3 (2008): 158-193.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews several books on sociology, including one with an opening passing reference to Holmes. Ballistic imaging. Ed. by Daniel L. Cork et al. National Academies Press, ©2008 322 p. $59.00 (pa) "From the times of Sherlock Holmes, analysis of spent cartridge cases and bullets has been essential to crime scene investigations and has served as significant pieces of evidence...."
1446. Sokrovishcha agry. Moskva: "Krupnyi Plan" ; New York : Distributed by St. Petersburg Pub. & Entertainment Group, 1997. Visual Material 1 videocassette (145 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Populiarnye kinofil'my; VHS format. "X04-190"--Container. Originally released as a motion picture by kinostudiia "Lenfil'm" in 1983. Based on the short stories "The sign

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

- of four" and "A scandal in Bohemia" by Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: V. Livanov, V. Solomin, R. Zelenaiia, B. Brondukov, E. Zinchenko, P. Kadochnikov, S. Shakurov. Lenfil'm ; avtor stsenariia i rezhisser-postanovshchik, I. Maslennikov. Screenplay and direction by I. Maslennikov ; music, V. Dashkevich. //
1447. Sokrovishcha agry. Moskva: "Krupnyi Plan" ; New York : Distributed by St. Petersburg Pub. & Entertainment Group, 2001. Visual Material 1 videocassette (145 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS format. Originally released as a motion picture by kinostudiia "Lenfil'm" in 1983. Based on the short stories "The sign of four" and "A scandal in Bohemia" by Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: V. Livanov, V. Solomin, R. Zelenaiia, B. Brondukov, E. Zinchenko, P. Kadochnikov, S. Shakurov. Lenfil'm ; avtor stsenariia i rezhisser-postanovshchik, I. Maslennikov. Screenplay and direction by I. Maslennikov ; music, V. Dashkevich. // 1448. The solitary cyclist. [Oak Forest, IL]: MPI Home Video, 1995. Visual Material 1 videocassette (52 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS format. Hi-fi mono. Made by Granada Television of England in association with WGBH/Boston. Date on program, c1984. Date of program given on container, c1983. Videocassette release of a segment of a 1984 television series, The adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Participants: Jeremy Brett, David Burke, Barbara Wilshire, John Castle, Michael Siberry, Ellis Dale. developed for television by John Hawkesworth ; dramatised by Alan Plater ; producer, Michael Cox ; directed by Paul Annett. Camera, Andy Stephen ; film editor, Jack Dardis ; music, Patrick Gowers. //
1449. "Somewhere over the rainbow." Economist 386, no. 8564 (2008): 27-29.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article presents the author's perspective on the state of the world. He feels that politicians and the public are generally unjustifiably pessimistic. He cites the dramatic decrease in world poverty, increase in health and sanitation, technological progress, and widespread educational gains as quantifiable evidence of global progress. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...As Sherlock Holmes remarked of the curious incident of the dog at night ('The dog did nothing in the night-time...That was the curious incident'), events that do not happen can be as revealing as those that do...."
1450. "A song up his sleeve." American Theatre 14, no. 10 (1997): 57.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Announces the Goodspeed Opera House's staging of 'Houdini, the Musical,' by the team of James Racheff and William Scott Duffield, through December 14, 1997 in Connecticut. Background on the story of Harry Houdini.
1451. "A space oddity." Economist 349, no. 8087 (1998): 81-82.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports that a tiny error in the paths of two spacecraft may require the rewriting of some of the laws of physics. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "As Sherlock Holmes observed: when you have eliminated the impossible, whatever remains, however improbable, must be the truth. In this case, the improbable conclusion-given that the anomalous acceleration is towards the sun-is that the laws of gravity need an extra post-Einsteinian tweak."
1452. "Sparks fly in a lost world." Economist 360, no. 8235 (2001): 27-27.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports on the construction of power lines in Venezuela, with a passing reference to Doyle. "The ugly steel pylons march across what was virgin rainforest; they mar the landscape of the Gran Sabana region, a wilderness so geologically ancient and remote that it inspired Arthur Conan Doyle's dinosaur fantasy, 'The Lost World.'"
1453. "Spawn of Cthulhu!" Booklist 104, no. 2 (2007): 53.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the books "The Children of Cthulhu: Chilling New Tales Inspired by H. P. Lovecraft," edited by Joh Pelan and Benjamin Adams, "Move under Ground," by Nick Mamatas, and "A Night in the Lonesome October," by Roger Zelazny. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Zelazny and collaborating illustrator Gahan Wilson, the dean of horror cartoonists, don't know when to stop pastiche-ing in this Lovecraft-cum-Sherlock Holmes-cum-monster-movie parody that, since it's told by a watchdog, honestly merits the rubric shaggy dog story."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1454. "Speakers' Corner." British Heritage 24, no. 7 (2003): 6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article presents letters to the editor published in December 2003 issue of the journal "British Heritage." In some aspects, the few particulars mentioned above do indeed seem to describe Craigmillar Castle, located just south-east of central Edinburgh, Scotland. Reference to Doyle and Holmes. "Memories can be imprecise, and perhaps the name that Ms Murray recalls from her days in the service was not that of the building, but of the local residential development of Cragmillar that took its name from the castle. The neighborhood dates from the 1920s and it could be that a local boarding school was indeed commandeered, as were so many public buildings, for use by the military. In fact, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, the creator of the Sherlock Holmes stories, attended a boarding school in the general vicinity and the Craigmillar Park Association is currently engaged in efforts to help save from demolition the nearby house in which he also lived."
1455. "A Special Canadian Holmes Cover." Canadian Holmes 28, no. 2 (2004): 19-21.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1456. "Special Gifts." People 64, no. 23 (2005): 76.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article recommends several one-of-a-kind gifts to give for the holidays. Books that are mentioned include "The New Annotated Sherlock Holmes: The Novels," by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, and "The Complete Calvin & Hobbes," by Bill Watterson.
1457. The speckled band. [Oak Forest, IL]: MPI Home Video, 1995. Visual Material 1 videocassette (52 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS. Videocassette release of the 1983 television film. Based on: The speckled band / by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Jeremy Brett, David Burke, Rosalyn Landor, Jeremy Kemp. Granada Television Ltd. Director, John Bruce; producer, Michael Cox; screenplay, Jeremy Paul; music, Patrick Gowers. //
1458. The speckled band. [Burtonsville, MD]: Sign Media, 1996. Visual Material 1 videocassette (76 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Sherlock Holmes mystery stories; VSH. Additional copyright date on cassette label and container: 1995. "The adventures of Sherlock Holes"--Container. Participants: Patrick Graybill, Gilbert C. Eastman. Produced by Sign Media, Inc. ; directed by Dennis Cokely, Patrick Graybill. Camera, editing, graphics, Verden Ness ; Voice-over traslation, Dennis Cokely. // A sign language version of the Sherlock Holmes mystery that allows the viewer to try and solve the case along with Holmes and Watson.
1459. "Spider Dance: A Novel of Suspense Featuring Irene Adler and Sherlock Holmes (Book)." Publishers Weekly 251, no. 48 (2004): 27.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book "Spider Dance: A Novel of Suspense Featuring Irene Adler and Sherlock Holmes," by Carole Nelson Douglas.
1460. The Spider woman. [s.l.]: s.n., 2002. Visual Material 1 videocassette (62 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS. Based on a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Videocassette release of the 1944 motion picture. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Gail Sondergaard, Dennis Hoey. Universal Pictures. Producer/director, Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Bertram Millhauser. // Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson must solve the mystery of what (or who) is behind the rash of "pajama suicides" in London.
1461. The Spider Woman. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 63 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. Sherlock Holmes collection ; volume two; DVD. Originally released as a motion picture in 1944. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. Universal Pictures ; producer, Roy William Neill ; writer, Bertram Millhauser ; director, Roy William Neill. // London is in a panic over a series of apparent "Pajama Suicides."
1462. "[Spiderman, Sherlock Holmes, Al Capone, Robin Hood and Cruella De Ville joined an assortment of fairytale characters at West Island School ...]." South China Morning Post, Feb 26, 2005: 1.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Spiderman, Sherlock Holmes, [Al Capone], [Robin Hood] and Cruella De Ville joined an assortment of fairytale characters at West Island School this week in a literary character dress day as part of reading week.

1463. The spoken word. historic recordings of writers born in the 19th century / Writers. London: British Library, 2003. Sound Recording 1 sound disc.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- National Sound Archive. digital ; 4 3/4 in. "Historic recordings from the British Library Sound Archive"--Container. Compact disc. // "This CD offers a survey of the earliest generation of English-language writers whose voices have survived for posterity. The writers selected for inclusion were all born before 1900 and are arranged here in the chronological order of their births"--Container insert. Contents: Bernard Shaw -- Arthur Conan Doyle -- Rudyard Kipling -- H.G. Wells -- Max Beerbohm -- G.K. Chesterton -- W. Somerset Maugham -- Edgar Wallace -- John Buchan -- Harley Granville Barker -- E.M. Forster -- P.G. Wodehouse -- Virginia Woolf -- James Joyce -- Compton Mackenzie -- Hugh Walpole -- Agatha Christie -- Vita Sackville-West -- J.R.R. Tolkien -- Rebecca West -- Aldous Huxley -- J.B. Priestley -- Noël Coward.
1464. "Spooky tale of supersleuth Sherlock." Daily Post (Liverpool), January 23, 2009: 21.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The character of Sherlock Holmes is the main talking point in a spiningtling new drama about Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's great detective. The man in the deerstalker is played by Roger Llewellyn in Sherlock Holmes...the Death and Life. In this story at Theatr Colwyn, the supersleuth is becoming somewhat arrogant and so malevolent Moriarty is brought in to take him on. But Doyle's dangerous strategy, combined with his passion for raising the spirits of the dead, has rather more surreal and dramatic consequences than he bargains for....The new play, written by David Stuart Davies and directed by Gareth Armstrong, is billed as a fantasy based on a fiction. Davies, a playwright and author, specialises in adaptations of the Conan Doyle canon. And there's original music by Simon Slater. Sherlock Holmes...the Death and Life, Theatr Colwyn, Colwyn Bay, Wednesday, February 4, 7.30pm."
1465. "Spring Audio Blooms." Publishers Weekly 253, no. 6 (2006): 26-38.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article presents a list of audio books including Sherlock Holmes: A Baker Street Dozen by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, read by John Gielgud, Ralph Richardson and Orson Welles.
1466. "Spring Hardcover. (Cover story)." Publishers Weekly 255, no. 3 (2008): 40-110.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews several hardcover books, including Gotham Books The Murder Room: The Heirs of Sherlock Holmes Gather to Solve the World's Most Perplexing Cold Cases (May, $27.50) by Michael Capuzzo. Studies the real-life crime fighters who meet monthly in Philadelphia. Ad/promo. Author tour.
1467. "'Stand with me here upon the terrace. . .' September 11, 2001." The Serpentine Muse 17, no. 4 (2001): inside rear cover.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1468. "The star licensed to chill as Blofeld." Daily Mail (London), March 9, 2000: 27.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Charles Gray, who played James Bond's arch-enemy Blofeld in Diamonds are Forever, died yesterday at 71. With his strapping 6ft 2in frame, lip-curling menace and steely persona, the actor was often cast as the villain in a stage, film and TV career spanning five decades. His most recent appearance was in Channel 4's miniseries Longitude. His TV credits included Upstairs Downstairs, Tales of the Unexpected, Porterhouse Blue, and Dennis Potter's Blackeyes. Again and again, he cropped up in roles ranging from sadistic generals, colonial types and old-school men of property. In 1976, he starred as Mycroft Holmes alongside Nicol Williamson and Robert Duvall in the revisionist Sherlock Holmes movie The Seven Per Cent Solution. He returned to the same role years later, alongside Jeremy Brett, in ITV's Adventures of Sherlock Holmes and The Return of Sherlock Holmes. But it was as the sibilant narrator in The Rocky Horror Picture Show and later as Ernst Stavro Blofeld that Gray became best known...."
1469. Star trek, the next generation. Episode 138, Ship in a bottle. Hollywood, CA: Paramount Home Video, 1998. Visual Material 1 videocassette (46 min.).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

- NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS format. Episode number from container. Originally telecast the week of 1/25/93. Stardate: 46424.1. Participants: Patrick Stewart, Jonathan Frakes, LeVar Burton, Michael Dorn, Gates McFadden, Marina Sirtis, Brent Spiner, Daniel Davis, Stephanie Beacham, Dwight Schultz. Paramount Pictures ; produced by Peter Lauritson ; directed by Alexander Singer ; written by Rene Echevarria. Director of photography, Jonathan Rush ; production design, Richard D. James ; editor, David Ramirez ; music, Dennis McCarthy. // While enjoying a Sherlock Holmes mystery on the holodeck, Data and Geordi accidentally release Professor Moriarty. He refuses to go back without his love (Beacham) and holds the Enterprise captive until they find a way to keep them alive outside the holodeck.
1470. Star trek, the next generation. Ship in a bottle ; Aquiel. [S.l.]: Paramount Home Video ; Terre Haute, IN : Columbia House Video Library, 1996. Visual Material 1 videocassette (96 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS. Originally telecast the weeks of 01/25/93 and 02/01/93. Participants: Patrick Stewart, Jonathan Frakes, LeVar Burton, Michael Dorn, Gates McFadden, Marina Sirtis, Brent Spiner. Guest stars : [episode 1] Daniel Davis, Stephanie Beacham, Dwight Schultz, Clement Von Franckenstein, Majel Barrett ; [episode 2] Renee Jones, Wayne Grace, Reg E. Cathey, Majel Barrett. Paramount Pictures. [Episode 1] produced by Peter Lauritson ; directed by Alexander Singer ; written by Rene Echevarria ; [episode 2] produced by Peter Lauritson ; directed by Cliff Bole ; teleplay by Brannon Braga & Ronald D. Moore. // Ship in a bottle (stardate 46424.1, episode 138) : While enjoying a Sherlock Holmes mystery on the holodeck, Data and Geordi accidentally release Professor Moriarty. He refuses to go back without his love (Beacham) and holds the Enterprise captive until they find a way to keep them alive outside the holodeck. Aquiel (stardate 46461.3, episode 139) : When an away team finds the apparent remains of Lieutenant Aquiel Uhnari, Geordi discovers her personal log and quickly becomes infatuated. After the crew finds out that she is still alive, they suspect her of murdering her commanding officer, and Riker fears that Geordi's feelings may interfere with the investigation.
1471. "Stock and Science." Farmers Weekly 147, no. 18 (2007): 24.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // An interview with Hugh Pennington that includes a passing reference to Homes. "...In your spare time how do you relax? I enjoy Sherlock Holmes and Lord of the Rings and I watch TV dramas based on forensic science - mainly to spot the mistakes!"
1472. "The Stormy Petrels of British Columbia cordially invite you to the Sixth International Holmesian Games [advertisement]." Canadian Holmes 17, no. 4 (1994): 24.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Advertisement for the upcoming games, 17-18 September, 1994.
1473. The Strand magazine (Birmingham, Mich.). Birmingham, Mich: Strand Magazine, 1998-.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: sn 99003524 //
1474. The strange case of the end of civilization as we know it. West Long Branch, NJ: White Star, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (55 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, full screen, Dolby digital. Originally produced as a motion picture in 1977. Participants: John Cleese, Arthur Lowe, Stratford Johns, Connie Booth. a Shearwater Films production in association with London Weekend Television ; written by Jack Hobbs, Joseph McGrath, John Cleese ; producer, Humphrey Barclay ; director, Joseph McGrath. // Unlike his grandfather, a descendant of Sherlock Holmes succeeds only in bungling every job he organizes. He plans to capture Moriarty before he gains control of the world. From then on nothing goes right.
1475. "Strictly Personal: Trevor Scott Raymond." Canadian Holmes 30, no. 3 (2007): 34-35.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1476. "Students in Footsteps of Sherlock Holmes." Birmingham Post, January 1, 2001: 4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Students at a Midland college are to be given the chance to become super-sleuths by enrolling on one of the first crime-busting courses in Britain. Scholars will follow in the footsteps of Sherlock Holmes by studying the art of solving murders. The Forensic Science and Criminal Psychology course at Sutton Coldfield College consists of how to search murder files and hunt for vital clues through fire-

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

damaged buildings. Students will also learn the gory reality of a real murder hunt away from the fictional detective TV shows. So far, some 70 students have signed up for the two-year diploma...."

1477. A study in scarlet. Burbank, CA: Hollywood's Attic, 1996. Visual Material 1 videocassette (72 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS format. Based on the novel by A. Conan Doyle.
Participants: Reginald Owen, Anna May Wong, June Clyde, John Warburton, Warburton Gamble. EW Hammons presents a KBS Production, produced at the California Tiffany Studios ; World Wide Pictures ; directed by Edwin L. Marin ; screenplay by Robert Florey. Photography, Arthur Edson ; film editor, Rose Loewinger. // Holmes and Watson investigate the mysterious deaths of members of a secret society involved with Chinese jewels.
1478. A study in scarlet. Baker City, OR: Nostalgia Family Video, 1996. Visual Material 1 videocassette (72 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS format. Based on the novel by A. Conan Doyle. Originally produced as a motion picture in 1933. Participants: Reginald Owen, Anna May Wong, June Clyde, John Warburton, Warburton Gamble. A KBS Production ; screen play by Robert Florey ; directed by Edwin L. Marin. Photography, Arthur Edson ; film editor, Rose Loewinger. // Holmes and Watson investigate the mysterious deaths of members of a secret society involved with Chinese jewels.
1479. A study in scarlet. Sandy Hook, CT: Video Yesteryear, 1996. Visual Material 1 videocassette (072 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Video yesteryear ; 567; VHS format. "The golden age of television"--Container. Originally released as a motion picture in 1933. Participants: Reginald Owen, Alan Mowbray, Anna May Wong. // Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson solve a murder.
1480. A study in scarlet The Kennel murder case. Etna, NH: Rumbleseat Video, 1995. Visual Material 1 videocassette (150 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS. A videocassette release of two 1933 motion pictures. 1st film suggested by the story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle ; the 2nd film is based on the book by S.S. Van Dine. Participants: 1st film: Reginald Owen, Anna May Wong, Warburton Gamble, June Clyde, Alan Mowbray ; 2nd film: William Powell, Mary Astor, Eugene Pallette, Ralph Morgan, Robert McWade, Jack LaRue. 1st film / EW Hammons presents a KBS Production, produced at the California Tiffany Studios ; World Wide Pictures ; directed by Edwin L. Marin ; screenplay by Robert Florey ; photography, Arthur Edson ; editor, Rose Loewinger. 2nd film / by S.S. Van Dine ; Warner Bros. Pictures & the Vitaphone Corp. ; directed by Michael Curtiz ; screenplay by Robert N. Lee & Peter Milne ; editor, Harold McLernon ; photography, William Reese. // Two mystery films. In the first, an American visiting London is murdered & Sherlock Holmes is determined to find the murderer. In the 2nd, a corpse is found in a room locked from the inside. The police call it suicide, but detective Philo Vance is sure it's murder.
1481. "Subject Index." College Literature 31, no. (2004): 32-46.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Doyle and Holmes listed in the index.
1482. "Suicide plot based on Holmes story, report says." National Post (Canada), December 13, 2004: A14.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The mysterious death of Britain's leading Sherlock Holmes expert appears to have been a bizarre suicide plot deliberately based on one of the cases tackled by the fictional detective himself, a report said yesterday. According to friends of Richard Lancelyn Green, he appears to have dressed up his suicide as murder in an attempt to get at an enemy from beyond the grave, a notion lifted from one of Holmes's adventures, the Sunday Times said...."
1483. "Summer gifts." World of Hibernia 4, no. 1 (1998): 169.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Suggests several Irish gift items, including smoking products. "For over 130 years Peterson of Dublin have been manufacturers and purveyors of fine smoking products. For further information on the Sherlock Holmes Collection and the many other fine Peterson products...."
1484. "Super sleuths." The Evening Post (Wellington), October 22, 2001: 15.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Detective fiction is the most popular genre of literature. The Great Detectives explores the world's most famous sleuths and their creators. Fictional detectives Sherlock Holmes, Hercule Poirot, Philip Marlowe and Inspector Maigret have been the inspiration for a myriad of detectives who populate today's fiction. Author Nigel Williams believes detective fiction has gripped readers throughout the world for more than 100 years. 'From the Victorian world of Sherlock Holmes, through to the hard-boiled mean streets of Philip Marlowe, to the best-selling contemporary crime stories, the genre - and the detectives - have endured. In The Great Detectives we look at the founding fathers, the inspiration for generations of detectives and detective writers,' he says. This episode looks at Philip Marlowe...."

1485. "Superb Take Holmes Pay; Job Vacancy for Sherlock Holmes Lookalike at Museum." The Mirror, January 29, 1998: 34.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Looking for a job with a difference? It's elementary, dear Watson. The Baker Street Museum has a vacancy for a Sherlock Holmes lookalike at its famous address in London. It is just one of a range of opportunities you'll find in Summer Jobs Britain '98 and Summer Jobs Abroad '98 (both GBP 8.99)...."
1486. "Susan Wittig Albert." Texas Monthly 34, no. 4 (2006): 56-56.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Brief interview [on sidebar] with Susan Wittig Albert with question about retiring or killing off her character, China Bayles. "Like Conan Doyle and Sherlock? Push her over the falls because I get tired of her? I don't think so. I'd miss her."
1487. "The Suspicions of Mr. Whicher." Publishers Weekly 255, no. 51 (2008): 49-49.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Kate Summerscale, read by Simon Vance. HighBridge Audio, unabridged, eight CDs, 10 hrs., $34.95 ISBN 978-1-59887-849-3. "Simon Vance does a fine job reading this unusually detailed and thoughtful true crime investigation into a notorious child murder case in 1860 London. At the time, there were only eight detectives working in England. Scotland Yard's top man was Insp. Jonathan Whicher, and he headed the investigation. Intertwined with the tale of detection in its infancy is a fascinating examination of the role played by this case and its inspector in the creation of the detective novel genre by the likes of Wilkie Collins, Edgar Allan Poe, Charles Dickens and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle...."
1488. "Syllabus." Chronicle of Higher Education 49, no. 13 (2002): A12.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Features chemistry associate professor Bradley T. Jones who uses fiction [sic] detective Sherlock Holmes to teach analytical reasoning to freshmen. Personal data that can be determined from an empty wallet; Assignments given to students.
1489. "Syndicated features listed by authors, artists." Editor & Publisher 129, no. 31 (1996): 85S.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents an alphabetical listing of authors and artists of syndicated features. Reference: Sherrod, J. -- Modern Sherlock Holmes (Mystery).
1490. "Syndicated features listed by authors, artists." Editor & Publisher 128, no. 30 (1995): 95S.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a listing of syndicated features by authors and artists in the United States. Includes "Sherrod, J. -- Modern Sherlock Holmes (Mystery)" 1491. "Table of Contents." Library Journal 131, no. 7 (2006): 3, 5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Listing of the table of contents. Includes Holmes reference on page 128 The Reader's Shelf, Beyond Sherlock Holmes: British Crime Fiction 1492. Tales from the darkside the movie. Hollywood, CA: Paramount Pictures, 2001. Visual Material 1 videodisc (93 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. Widescreen DVD collection; DVD; Dolby digital; 5.1 or Dolby surround; enhanced widescreen version. Special features include theatrical trailer and commentary by director John Harrison and screenwriter George A. Romero. Videodisc release of the 1990 feature film. Participants: Deborah Harry, Christian Slater, David Johansen, William Hickey, James Remar, Rae Dawn Chong. Audience: Rated R. Paramount Pictures ; directed by John Harrison. Make-up effects consultant Dick Smith ;

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

co-producer David R. Kappes ; "Lot 249" screenplay by Michael McDowell, inspired by a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle ; "Cat from Hell" screenplay by George A. Romero, based on a story by Stephen King ; "Lover's Vow" written by Michael McDowell ; produced by Richard P. Rubinstein and Michael Galin. // In this horror anthology, a little boy tells three stories to distract a modern-day witch who wants to pop him in the oven. "Lot 249" screenplay by Michael McDowell, inspired by a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.

1493. "A tangled skein." Economist 371, no. 8376 (2004): 77-78.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The author reports on a controversial auction of private papers of author Sir Arthur Conan Doyle at Christie's in London this week. The long unseen collection shows that Conan Doyle was not only one of the most popular writers of the 20th century--he has still outsold J.K. Rowling and J.R.R. Tolkien put together--but a public figure who took an active interest in politics and war, championed many private causes and gave GBP250,000 (millions in today's money) to further the interests of spiritualism. Befittingly, the auction has not been without controversy, not least thanks to the mysterious death of Richard Lancelyn Green, a former chairman of the Sherlock Holmes Society of London, who was found garrotted in his locked bedroom in March. There was not enough evidence for the coroner to rule it was suicide, but enough for believers in the "Conan Doyle curse" to suspect foul play worthy of Holmes's attention. Lancelyn Green believed that some of the papers in the auction had rightfully been left to the British Library, and he told the Times newspaper that he had written to Christie's asking them not to go ahead with the sale, which Christie's denies. Would-be Conan Doyle biographers, as well as the British Library, have expressed disappointment that the material in the auction has now been dispersed.
1494. "Tearing up phone-books." Economist 334, no. 7897 (1995): 71-71.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Tells of the work of Pro CD of Danvers, Massachusetts, with a couple of reference to Holmes. "The enterprising villains whose scheme Sherlock Holmes foiled in 'The Red-headed League' put their dupe to work transcribing the first volume of the Encyclopedia Britannica while they tunneled from his cellar into the vaults of a neighbouring bank. A century later, American entrepreneurs have set 450 computer scribes at the Beijing Aviation and Aeronautical University an equally painstaking task-copying 4.5m telephone directory entries a week-while they go after the even richer coffers of the world's telephone companies...."
1495. "Teddies and gin death of Holmes expert." Coventry Evening Telegraph, Apr 24, 2004: 5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Richard Lancelyn Green, 50, who co-edited a book about Holmes creator Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, was found garrotted in his bed surrounded by cuddly toys and a bottle of gin."
1496. "Teller of Tales (Book)." Publishers Weekly 246, no. 11 (1999): 41.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'Teller of Tales: The Life of Arthur Conan Doyle,' by Daniel Stashower.
1497. "Tellers' Tales." New Statesman 128, no. 4453 (1999): vi.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents several trivia related to the banking industry. Includes reference to Holmes and 221B Baker Street. "Abbey House, the Baker Street headquarters of Abbey National, receives about 100 letters a week addressed to Sherlock Holmes, 221b Baker Street. They are fielded by a special secretary to Sherlock Holmes."
1498. "Terms of Use: The Rules Have Changed." Information Today 24, no. 9 (2007): 1-37.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses terms of use found on Internet web sites. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Users should not have to be Sherlock Holmes to discover the new terms that apply to them...."
1499. "Terrestrial Pick of the Day." Daily Record, May 3, 2004: 23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes BBC2, 11.00am. The master sleuth sets out to scupper arch-villain Moriarty's dastardly plan to steal the crown jewels. Compelling detective caper, one of the best Holmes adventures, starring Basil Rathbone....Sherlock Holmes Returns five, 1.35pm. A doctor encounters a man claiming to be Sherlock Holmes in London, and is drawn into the adventure of a lifetime. Crime drama, starring Anthony Higgins...."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1500. Terror by Night. Narberth, PA: Alpha Video, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (60 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. At head of title: Sherlock Holmes. Adapted from a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally issued as a motion picture in 1946. "ALP6024D"--Container.
Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. Universal ; screenplay by Frank Gruber ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill. Director of photography, Maury Gertsman ; film editor, Saul A. Goodkind ; musical director, Milton Rosen. // Sherlock Holmes boards a train from Edinburgh to Scotland in order to find out who murdered Sir Ronald Carstairs and stole his fabulous Star of Rhodesia diamond. On the train, the detective finds himself pitted against a gang of disguised jewel thieves.
1501. Terror by night. St. Laurent, Quebec: Medacy Music Group, 1994. Visual Material 1 videocassette (60 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS. Videocassette release of the 1946 motion picture by Universal Pictures. Adapted from "The Adventure of the Empty House" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.
Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Alan Mowbray. Produced and directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay by Frank Gruber. // 1502. Terror by night. Los Angeles: Spotlite Video, 1994. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 60 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS. Adapted from a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally produced as a motion picture in 1946. "No. 7820"--Cassette label./ "VHS V7820"--Container.
Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Alan Mowbray, Dennis Hoey, Renee Godfrey, Frederick Worlock, Mary Forbes, Skelton Knaggs, Billy Bevan, Geoffrey Steele. Republic Pictures ; screenplay by Frank Gruber ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill ; a Universal picture. Photography, Maury Oertsman ; editor, Saul A. Goodkind ; music, Milton Rosen. // A "cursed" diamond is the object of a determined thief and at the center of murder while being transported on a train from London to Edinburgh.
1503. Terror by night. Fair Lawn, NJ: Distributed by Alpha Video Distributors, 1994. Visual Material 1 videocassette (60 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Greatest film classics; VHS. "Sherlock Holmes collection." Videocassette release of the 1946 motion picture. // Holmes must guard a famous diamond during a train trip from London to Edinburgh.
1504. Terror by night. Piscataway, NJ: Alpha Video Distributors, 1995. Visual Material 1 videocassette (60 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2. Sherlock Holmes mystery classics. VHS. Originally released as motion picture in 1946. Adapted from a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. "A Sherlock Holmes mystery"--Cover. Sherlock Holmes mystery collection"--Label. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Alan Mowbray, Dennis Hoey, Renee Godfrey, Mary Forbes, Frederic Worlock, Skelton Knaggs, Billy Bevan, Geoffrey Steele. Universal Pictures; produced and directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay by Frank Gruber. Director of photography, Maury Oertsman ; film editor, Saul A. Goodkind. // Sherlock Holmes mystery involving the theft of a precious gem and murder aboard a train bound from London to Edinburgh. Holmes unravels a complicated scheme based on false identities and murder performed with poison darts.
1505. Terror by night. [Tulsa, OK]: Liberty Home Video, 1996. Visual Material 1 videocassette (60 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Sherlock Holmes mystery collection.; VHS format. Based on "The Adventure of the empty house" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Videocassette version of the 1946 motion picture. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. Universal Pictures Company ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill. Screenplay, Frank Gruber. // Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson are pitted against a mastermind killer locked aboard a chilling train ride of suspense. The mystery begins when a diamond, the Star of Rhodesia, disappears. When its carrier is brutally slain in his cabin, everyone on board becomes a prime suspect in the crime.
1506. Terror by night. Fort Mill, SC: Distributed by UAV Entertainment, 1997. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 61 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Sherlock Holmes film classic; VHS format. Based on the story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally released as a motion picture by Universal Pictures in 1946. Participants:

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. Universal Pictures Company ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay by Frank Gruber. // Holmes and Watson climb aboard a train bound for Scotland to guard a priceless diamond, "The Star of Rhodesia." When the jewel disappears and its owner is murdered, Holmes interrogates a number of likely suspects.

1507. Terror by night. New York: Goodtimes Home Video, 1998. Visual Material 1 videocassette (60 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Originally released as a motion picture in 1946. Colorized version. Based on the story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. "05-09682." Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Alan Mowbray, Dennis Hoey. Universal Pictures. Produced and directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay by Frank Gruber. // An attempt to steal a diamond is unsuccessful; as Holmes and Watson accompany the jewel back to Edinburgh, the train becomes a setting for jewel theft, poison darts, and murder at the hands of a killer dwarf.
1508. Terror by night. St. Laurent, Quebec: Distributed by Madacy Entertainment Group, 1998. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 60 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS format. Based on the story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally released as a motion picture by Universal Pictures in 1946. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. Produced and directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay by Frank Gruber. // A train to Scotland carrying Sherlock Holmes, Dr. Watson and Inspector Lestrade is the scene of a puzzling jewel theft and murder.
1509. Terror by Night. Scarborough, ME: Focusfilm Entertainment, 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. DVD; mono. Special features: chapter stop; theatrical trailer; still gallery; rare on-camera interview with Holmes creator Sir Arthur Conan Doyle; 7 original radio broadcast of "The new adventures of Sherlock Holmes" (3.30 hours). Adapted from a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally produced as a motion picture in 1946. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Alan Mowbray, Dennis Hoey, Renee Godfrey, Frederick Worlock, Mary Forbes, Skelton Knaggs, Billy Bevan, Geoffrey Steele. Republic Pictures ; screenplay by Frank Gruber ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill. // A "cursed" diamond is the object of a determined thief and at the center of murder while being transported on a train from London to Edinburgh.
1510. Terror by Night. [Australia]: Force Video, 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (59 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Colour recording system: PAL ; Region 4. Originally produced as a motion picture in 1946. "FV1393"--Container. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Alan Mowbray, Dennis Hoey, Renee Godfrey, Frederick Worlock, Mary Forbes, Skelton Knaggs, Billy Bevan, Geoffrey Steele. Executive producer, Howard Benedict. Universal Pictures. // Sherlock Holmes mystery involving the theft of a precious gem and murder aboard a train bound from London to Edinburgh. Holmes unravels a complicated scheme based on false identities and murder performed with poison darts.
1511. Terror by Night. [s.l.]: Orbit Media, 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (60 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. Hollywood Screen Classics; DVD PAL.; Produced for regions 1-6. Originally released as a motion picture in 1946. Adapted from a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Special feature include the documentary, The many faces of Sherlock Holmes. Participants: Cast: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Alan Mowbray, Dennis Hoey, Renee Godfrey, Frederick Worlock, Mary Forbes, Skelton Knaggs, Billy Bevan, Geoffrey Steele. Universal Pictures Company; produced and directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay by Frank Gruber. // A "cursed" diamond is the object of a determined thief and at the center of murder while being transported on a train from London to Edinburgh.
1512. Terror by night. [S.l.]: VCI Entertainment, 2001. Visual Material 1 videocassette (59 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Sherlock Holmes mystery collection.; VHS format. Based on "The Adventure of the empty house" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Videocassette version of the 1946 motion picture. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. Universal Pictures Company ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill. Screenplay, Frank Gruber. // Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson are pitted against a mastermind killer locked aboard a chilling train ride of suspense. The mystery begins when a diamond, the Star

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

of Rhodesia, disappears. When its carrier is brutally slain in his cabin, everyone on board becomes a prime suspect in the crime.

1513. Terror by Night. [Ultimo, N.S.W.]: Payless Entertainment [distributor], 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (PAL)(60 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w. ; 12 cm. The golden age of cinema; Adapted from a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Special features include: scene selection. 600229. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Alan Mowbray, Dennis Hoey. produced and directed by Roy William Neill. Producer/director, Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Frank Gruber. // Sherlock Holmes is hired by Roland Carstairs to prevent the theft of the Star of Rhodesia, an enormous diamond owned by Carstairs' mother, Lady Margaret. Believing the diamond will be stolen on a train trip from London to Edinburgh, Holmes deftly switches diamonds with Lady Margaret while in her compartment. Soon after, Roland is murdered and the fake diamond is stolen. Red herrings abound as Holmes, aided by Dr. Watson and Inspector Lestrade, discover the murderer's hiding place and deduce that long-time foe Moriarty's henchman Colonel Sebastian Moran is somehow involved in the crime. Disc characteristics: DVD Region 4.
1514. Terror by Night. [Orland Park, IL]: MPI Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 60 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. Sherlock Holmes collection.; v. 3; DVD, region 1, full screen presentation; Dolby Digital. Videodisc release of the 1946 motion picture. Restored in 35mm by UCLA Film and Television Archive. Videodisc release of the 1946 motion picture. Based on characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Alan Mowbray, Renee Godfrey, Dennis Hoey. Universal Picture ; King World Productions, Inc. ; original screenplay by Leonard Lee ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill. Director of photography, Paul Ivano ; editor, Saul A. Goodkind ; music, Edgar Fairchild. // Sherlock and Watson investigate the murder on a train from London to Edinburgh and how it might be connected to an attempted jewel theft.
1515. Terror by Night. [S.I.]: CATCOM Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Originally released in 1946. Based on story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. // On a train from London to Edinburgh, Mr. Holmes is confronted with a baffling diamond robbery and the murder of the gem's owner.
1516. Terror by night. Toronto: Audiovision Canada, 2003. Visual Material 1 videocassette (56 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS. Audio description added for people with visual disabilities. Includes braille title label affixed to the cassette. Described video release of the 1946 motion picture. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Alan Mowbray, Renee Godfrey, Dennis Hoey. Universal Pictures ; King World Productions, Inc. ; original screenplay by Leonard Lee ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill. Director of photography, Paul Ivano ; editor, Saul A. Goodkind ; music, Edgar Fairchild. // Sherlock and Watson investigate the murder on a train from London to Edinburgh and how it might be connected to an attempted jewel theft.
1517. Terror by night. Charlotte, NC: Ovation Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 60 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, Dolby digital; Bonus features include interactive menus, filmography, scene access, production notes, biography, and photo gallery. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Alan Mowbray, Dennis Hoey, Renee Godfrey, Mary Forbes. Ovation Home Video. Directed by Roy William Neill. // "Holmes and Watson climb aboard a train bound for Scotland to guard a precious diamond, "The Star of Rhodesia." When the jewel disappears and its owner is mysteriously murdered, the sleuth interrogates a slew of likely suspects. The suspense steams ahead as Holmes uncovers the secret of the killer and dodges death to find the true mastermind of the crime."--container.
1518. Terror by night. [S.I.]: CATCOM Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (60 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Adapted from a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally issued as a motion picture in 1946. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. executive producer, Kenneth R. Bennett ; producer, Jake Lamb. Director of photography, Maury Gertsman ; film editor, Saul A. Goodkind ; musical director, Milton Rosen, Executive Producer: Kenneth R. Bennett., Producer: Jake Lamb. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

"Sherlock Holmes and his ample bodied sidekick, Dr. Watson, are hired to protect a rare duck egg sized diamond of near priceless value. There is a reason for hiring the world's greatest detective because as soon as Holmes is on the job, someone tries to steal the valuable gem and kills an innocent young lad in the process..."

1519. "That great cesspool." Economist 354, no. 8162 (2000): 8-8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'London 1900: The Imperial Metropolis,' by Jonathan Schneer. References to both Holmes and Doyle.
1520. "Theater." The Washington Times, August 14, 1997: M9.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Sherlock Holmes and Gilbert and Sullivan are a better match than you'd guess in Nick Olcott's clever Sherlock Holmes and the Case of the Purloined Patience. The common ground is language: Holmes' smug intellectualism fits right in with the erudite wordsmithery of W.S. Gilbert's lyrics. Mr. Olcott and Interact Theatre Company director Catherine Flye lay on just the right amount of silliness, and a crack musical-comedy cast takes things from there. At the Folger Shakespeare Library through Aug. 31."
1521. "Then and now: what's in Sherlock Holmes... a Victorian Cracker." The Guardian (Manchester), December 28, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Shows a printed table of "then" and "now"--1895 and 1995.
1522. "They Look so Good on the Shelf." Advocate, no. (2003): 1/3p.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents brief descriptions of boxed sets of movie DVDs. "The sophisticated Billy Wilder DVD Collection (MGM Home Entertainment, $129.96) contains two of the legendary writer-director's queerest--Some Like It Hot and The Private Life of Sherlock Holmes--along with seven other classics..."
1523. They might be giants. Troy, MI: Anchor Bay Entertainment, 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (98 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. Based upon the play by James Goldman. Videodisc release of the 1971 motion picture by Universal Pictures Company, Inc. and Newman-Foreman Company, Inc. Features: Widescreen presentation (1.85:1), theatrical trailer, featurette: Madness--it's beautiful. Participants: George C. Scott, Joanne Woodward, Jack Gilford. Universal Pictures Company, Inc. and Newman-Foreman Company, Inc. ; directed by Anthony Harvey ; produced by John Foreman ; screenplay by James Goldman. // A wealthy New York judge believes he is Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's famed sleuth. When his brother and sister-in-law attempt to get him committed, he is put under the care of analyst Dr. Mildred Watson. To her amazement, she finds there is something very real in his delusion and the two take to the streets of Manhattan to seek out the detective's arch-enemy, Professor Moriarty.
1524. They might be giants. Troy, MI: Anchor Bay Entertainment, 2000. Visual Material 1 videocassette (98 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS format. "SV10917." Based upon the play by James Goldman. Videocassette release of the 1971 motion picture by Universal Pictures Company, Inc. and Newman-Foreman Company, Inc. Features: Widescreen presentation (1.85:1), digitally mastered, theatrical trailer, featurette: Madness--it's beautiful. Participants: George C. Scott, Joanne Woodward, Jack Gilford. Universal Pictures Company, Inc. and Newman-Foreman Company, Inc. ; directed by Anthony Harvey ; produced by John Foreman ; screenplay by James Goldman. // A wealthy New York judge believes he is Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's famed sleuth. When his brother and sister-in-law attempt to get him committed, he is put under the care of analyst Dr. Mildred Watson. To her amazement, she finds there is something very real in his delusion and the two take to the streets of Manhattan to seek out the detective's arch-enemy, Professor Moriarty.
1525. "This joke is low on festive cheer." Birmingham Evening Mail, December 20, 2001: 23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Shoppers in Birmingham were hardly rolling about with laughter after we tried out the UK's so-called funniest joke on the city's streets [i.e. Holmes and Watson camping.]
1526. "Thomas L. Stix, Jr, BSI." Shoso-In Bulletin 8, no. (1998): 233.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1527. The three gables. [Oak Forest, IL]: MPI Home Video, 1995. Visual Material 1 videocassette (50 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. The memoirs of Sherlock Holmes / by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.
 VHS. Hi-fi stereo. Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke, Rosalie Williams. screenplay by Jeremy Paul ; produced by June Wyndham Davies ; directed by Peter Hammond ; executive producer, Sally Head ; made by Granada Television of England in association with WGBH/Boston. //
1528. The three gables. [London?]: Granada Video, 1994. Visual Material 1 videocassette (50 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. The memoirs of Sherlock Holmes.; VHS. Hi-fi stereo.
 Participants: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke, Rosalie Williams. Granada Television in association with WGBH/Boston. //
1529. "Thrillers in the Canon: Diemert on Graham Greene and Modernism." Papers on Language & Literature 34, no. 4 (1998): 437.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'Graham Greene's Thrillers and the 1930s,' by Brian Diemert, with two passing references to Doyle.
1530. Thru the pages ... [Week in history]. Winnipeg: University of Manitoba, 1994. Visual Material 20 videocassettes (570:09 min.) ; 1/2 in.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Faculty of Arts.; Film Studies Program. "A week in history", as seen through the University of Manitoba, Elizabeth Dafoe Library Archival holdings./ The body of the programs consists of Dr. Bennett, University of Manitoba Archives, scanning the pages of the newspapers from the week that is being featured. Dr. Bennett reads and introduces various items from international and local news, social news and classified ads. The Narration is continued by students from the Film Studies Program at the University. //
 These programs depict historical and cultural events in Manitoba, Canada and the world from a Manitoba point of view. The programs also recognize and acknowledge the unique and essential role played by the Archives & Special Collections Department of the Libraries of the University of Manitoba.
1531. "Titles." CD-ROM Professional 8, no. 11 (1995): 24.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents titles of books on various topics. The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes listed under the Entertainment section.
1532. "Titles of by-lined features." Editor & Publisher 132, no. 32 (1999): 55S.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents titles of syndicated by-lined newspaper features. Includes The Games Afoot, Sherlock Holmes Crime Scene Chronicles--Jack Harris/Howard Bender and Modern Sherlock Holmes (Mystery)--J. Sherrod.
1533. "Titles of by-lined features." Editor & Publisher 131, no. 31 (1998): 54S.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Lists the titles of by-lined syndicated features. Includes The Games Afoot, The Sherlock Holmes Crime Scene Chronicles -- Jack Harris/Howard Bender; Modern Sherlock Holmes (Mystery)--J. Sherrod.
1534. "Titles of by-lined features." Editor & Publisher 129, no. 31 (1996): 53S.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents the titles of by-lined syndicated features in newspapers and their corresponding authors. Includes "Modern Sherlock Holmes (Mystery)-- J. Sherod"
1535. "Titles of by-lined features." Editor & Publisher 128, no. 30 (1995): 81S.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents an alphabetical listing of by-lined features in periodicals in the United States. Includes "Modern Sherlock Holmes (Mystery)" - J. Sherrod and "Sherlock Holmes Quiz."
1536. Tom and Jerry Meet Sherlock Holmes. [Burbank, Calif.] : Warner Home Video, 2010. Visual Material 1 videodisc (75 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD ; fullscreen presentation ; Doby surround 5.1. Audience: Not rated. Warner Bros. ; Turner Entertainment Co.; directors, Spike Brandt, Jeff Siergey. // Tom and Jerry team up with Sherlock Holmes to solve a mystery involving some sinister felines.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1537. Tom and Jerry Meet Sherlock Holmes. [Burbank, Calif.] : Warner Home Video, 2010. Visual Material 1 videodisc (50 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD; region 1, Dolby surround 5.1. Special feature: How to draw Tom and Jerry. Participants: Starring voice talents of: Malcolm McDowell, Michael York, John Rhys Davies, Grey DeLisle, Jeff Bergman, Phil Lamarr, Greg Ellis, Jess Harnell, Richard McGonagle, Kath Soucie. Audience: Not rated. Warner Bros. ; Turner Entertainment Co.; written by Earl Kress ; directed by Spike Brandt & Jeff Siergey. // Tom and Jerry team up with Sherlock Holmes to solve a mystery involving some sinister felines.
1538. Tom and Jerry Meet Sherlock Holmes. Neutral Bay, N.S.W. : Distributed by Warner Bros. Entertainment Australia, 2010. Visual Material 1 videodisc (DVD) (ca. 48 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. WB kids; Region 4. "Y27335" Includes special feature: How to draw Tom and Jerry. Based on characters created by William Hanna and Joseph Barbera. Audience: Rated: G. Directed by Spike Brandt & Jeff Siergey ; written by Earl Kress. // "Jewel heists around the city of London befuddle Scotland Yard, and the beautiful singer Red is framed for the crook. Only the legendary Sherlock Holmes can find the real thief with the help of his assistant Dr. Watson - and of course, Tom and Jerry. But finding clues and cracking the case will be elementary compared to keeping the peace between these raucous rivals as they scamper, scurry, scoot and speed along the streets, alleys and rooftops in the name of justice!"--Container.
1539. "Top 10 Biographies." Booklist 104, no. 19 (2008): 29-29.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article reviews the books "The Man Who Created Sherlock Holmes: The Life and Times of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle," by Andrew Lycett, "The Pirate Queen: Queen Elizabeth I, Her Pirate Adventures, and the Dawn of Empire," by Susan Ronald, and "The Tenth Muse: My Life in Food," by Judith Jones.
1540. "Top 10 Crime Fiction for Youth." Booklist 104, no. 17 (2008): 47-47.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article reviews the books "The Diamond of Drury Lane," by Julia Golding, "Evil Genius," by Catherine Jinks, and "Eye of the Crow," by Shane Peacock. Includes a reference to Holmes. "This first entry in Peacock's The Boy Sherlock Holmes series stars a 13-year-old Sherlock, whose curiosity is piqued after an Arab youth insists that he has been wrongly arrested for a vicious London murder."
1541. "Top 100 Sherlockian Writers of All Time." The Holmes & Watson Report 1, no. 7 (1998): 3-5.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1542. "Totally Weird and Wonderful Words/Gallimaufry: a Hodgepodge of our Vanishing Vocabulary." Touchstone: A Journal of Mere Christianity 20, no. 7 (2007): 40-40.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews Totally Weird and Wonderful Words edited by Erin McKean Oxford University Press, 2006 (270 pages, $14.95, paperback) and Gallimaufry: A Hodgepodge of Our Vanishing Vocabulary by Michael Quinion Oxford University Press, 2006 (272 pages, $25.00, hardcover). Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "Have you ever wondered why the friends of Shakespeare's Bottom call him 'bully Bottom' or puzzled over exactly what Sherlock Holmes is calling for when he calls for a 'hackney carriage'? Erin McKean, editor in chief of the New Oxford American Dictionary, and the popular language enthusiast Michael Quinion are here to help...."
1543. "Trade Paperbacks." Publishers Weekly 248, no. 33 (2001): 233.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a list of paperbacks including Sound & Vision (dist. by Firefly) Quotable Alice and Quotable Sherlock (Dec., $14.95 each), edited by David W. Barber, "collect quotes from the works of Lewis Carroll and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle." Berkley Prime Crime's More Holmes for the Holidays (Oct., $13), edited by Martin H. Greenberg, Jon L. Lellenberg and Carol-Lynn Waugh, "features the famous detective."
1544. "Trader Vic's Tonga Punch." The Serpentine Muse 14, no. 2 (1998): 20.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

1545. "Travel: Grand Tour; Holmes falls for Moriarty (literally)." Independent on Sunday (London), May 5, 2002: 24.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Great writers and their adventures in Literature. This week, Arthur Conan Doyle kills off his hero....Arthur Conan Doyle, below, later resurrected his most famous character after protests from fans. Includes a brief biographical sketch of Doyle, an excerpt from "The Final Problem" and tourist information on London and tours to Switzerland.
1546. "Tried and Terrific Explore London up close with guided walking tours." Providence Journal (Providence, RI), November 30, 1994: H-25.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a reference to Holmes. "...We had been intrigued by brochures in our hotel lobby advertising two-hour guided walking tours with various themes, ranging from the sedate (London's gardens) to the literary (the London of Dickens and Sherlock Holmes) to the macabre (an evening tour of the spots where Jack the Ripper's victims were found)...."
1547. Triple feature. Vol.4, Horror classics. [New Hope, MN]: Navarre, 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (203 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b? 4 3/4 in. DVD. Originally released as motion pictures from 1942 to 1956. // The indestructible man (1956, 71 min.) -- Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon (1942, 68 min.) -- Dead men walk (1943, 64 min.)
1548. The Triumph of Sherlock Holmes. Sandy Hook, CT: Video Yesteryear, 1996. Visual Material 1 videocassette (83 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS format. "1071." Videocassette release of the 1935 motion picture. Based on "The valley of fear" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Arthur Wontner, Ian Fleming, Lyn Harding, Jane Carr, Leslie Perrins, Minnie Rayner, Michael Shepley. Video Images presents a Video Yesteryear recording ; Gaumont-British Picture Corp. Director, Leslie S. Hiscott ; producer, Julius Hagen ; sceenplay, H. Fowler Mear, Cyril Twyford ; cinematography, William Luff ; film editing, Jack Harris, Ralph Kemplen. // Holmes, retired to Sussex, is drawn into a last case when arch enemy Moriarty arranges with an American gang to kill John Douglas, a country gentleman with a mysterious past. Holmes' methods baffle Watson and Lestrade, but his results astonish them. In a long flashback, the victim's wife tells the story of the sinister Vermissa Valley.
1549. The Triumph of Sherlock Holmes. New York: Goodtimes Home Video, 1998. Visual Material 1 videocassette (83 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS. Based on "The valley of fear" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Videocassette release of the 1935 motion picture. Participants: Arthur Wontner, Lyn Harding, Ian Fleming. Gaumont-British Picture Corp. ; produced by Julius Hagen ; directed by Leslie S. Hiscott. // 1550. The Triumph of Sherlock Holmes. Solana Beach, CA: Movie Classics, 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (84 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Based on "The valley of fear" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally released as a motion picture in 1935. Participants: Arthur Wontner, Lyn Harding, Leslie Perrins, Jane Carr, Ian Fleming. Gaumont-British Picture Corp. ; produced by Julius Hagen ; directed by Leslie S. Hiscott ; screen adaptation, H. Fowler Mear, Cyril Twyford. Photography, William Luff ; editor, Ralph Kemplen. //
1551. The Triumph of Sherlock Holmes. Narberth, PA: Alpha Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (75 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. Participants: Arthur Wontner, Ian Fleming. Based on "The valley of fear" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle; videodisc release of the 1935 motion picture. // Holmes becomes involved with a murder in the country and his old foe, Prof. Moriarity.
1552. The Triumph of Sherlock Holmes. [S.l.]: VCI Entertainment, 2003. Visual Material 1 videocassette (84 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS format. Based on the novel "The valley of fear" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. This is the longer British version. Participants: Arthur Wontner, Lyn Harding, Ian

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Fleming, Leslie Perrins, Jane Carr. Gaumont-British Picture Corp. Produced by Julius Hagen ; directed by Leslie S. Hiscott. // Holmes is drawn out of retirement when arch enemy Moriarty plots with an American gangster to kill a Pinkerton agent responsible for breaking up the "Scowlers," a secret American society of coal miners.

1553. "Truly enchanted. (Cover story)." Time 149, no. 21 (1997): 97.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Relates several events taking place in New Mexico in the summer of 1997. A passing reference to Holmes. "Also in Santa Fe, from June 3 through Aug. 16, is Santa Fe Stages: the International Theater Festival, for which the city will be host to everything from Canadian avant-gardists (a brochure warns of "brief nudity") to a women-in-drag version of Sherlock Holmes from Britain."

1554. TV from radio a rare collection of TV's greatest shows. Carlsbad, CA: LALA Productions, 1998. Visual Material 6 videocassettes (ca. 720 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS. Title from videocassette label. // This classic collection features 24 television shows that were originally created and produced as radio shows during the 1930s and 1940s and successfully made the transition to television, captivating America in the early 1950s.

1555. TV from radio. v. 6 a rare collection of TV's greatest shows. Carlsbad, CA: LALA Productions, 1998. Visual Material 1 videocassettes (ca. 120 min.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS. // This classic collection features 4 television shows that were originally created and produced as radio shows during the 1930s and 1940s and successfully made the transition to television, captivating America in the early 1950s.

1556. TV from Yesteryear. Schiller Park, IL: MediaBay, 2000. Visual Material videodiscs.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Videodisc release of episodes of television programs from the 1950s along with episodes from the radio programs of the same title from the 1940s and 1950s. // V 1 Detectives, Ellery Queen / Boston Blackie / Dragnet : The Adventures of Ellery Queen, Murder to music / One diamond -- Boson Blackie, 1952 / The disappearing plane -- Dragnet, The big producer / The big run.; V 2 Comedies, Ozzie and Harriet / Duffy's Tavern / Jack Benny : The adventures of Ozzie and Harriet, the Halloween Party / Antique vase -- Duffy's Tavern, Grand opening / Half a racehorse -- The Jack Benny Program, The Violin lesson.; V 3 Comedies, Fibber McGee and Molly / Burns and Allen / Great Gildersleeve : Fibber McGee and Molly, Trouble paying bills -- The George Burns and Gracie Allen Show, 15th Wedding Anniversary -- The Great Gildersleeve, The bard of Summerfield / Smitten by an unknown lady.; V 4 Comedies, Bergen and McCarthy / Life of Riley / Our Miss Brooks : The Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy show, Nov. 23, 1950 episode / Nov. 16, 1947 episode -- The life of Riley, Bab's school election / Riley and Gillis spend a week at the lake -- Our Miss Brooks, Home cooked meal / Stretch the basketball star.; V 5 Detectives, Dangerous assignment / Philip Marlowe / Richard Diamond : Dangerous Assignment, The bloodstained feather / Assignment in the islands -- Philip Marlowe, Murder is a grave affair / The Anniversary gift -- Richard Diamond, Picture of fear / The Gibson murder case.; V 6 Detectives, Gangbusters / Mr. And Mrs. North / Sherlock Holmes : Gangbusters, The case of Willie "the actor" Sutton / The case of the triple treat bandits -- Mr. & Mrs. North, Target / Who killed Mr. Stefano? -- Sherlock Holmes, The case of Lady Beryl / The three Garridebs.; V 7 Adventure, Flash Gordon / Lone Ranger / Roy Rogers : Flash Gordon, The planet of Death / On the Planet Mongo -- The Lone Ranger, Finders keepers / Set a thief -- The Roy Rogers Show, Bad neighbors / Going after the coonterfeit.; V 8 Favorites, Halls of Ivy / Mr. District attorney / The Third Man : The Halls of Ivy, The Umbrella Man / 15 year old Genius -- Mr. District Attorney, Rehearsed robberies / Lovers' Lane Killing -- The third man, listen for the sound of a witch / Cigarettes.

1557. "TV Holmes, Jeremy Brett dies." The Toronto Star, September 14, 1995: D4.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Jeremy Brett, the actor who brought the legendary detective Sherlock Holmes to life on TV died of heart failure Tuesday at his London home. He was 59...."

1558. "Tv Mail: Conan the Holmes Wrecker." Birmingham Evening Mail, July 27, 2005: 17.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The Strange Case of Sherlock Holmes and Arthur Conan Doyle (BBC2, 9pm) dramatises the birth of the sleuth. Written by David Pirie (Murder Rooms, The Woman In White), this is an

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

exploration of the dark family past which drove Arthur Conan Doyle to create the world- famous detective...and then murder him!..."

1559. "The TV series we could see only parts of." The Daily Yomiuri (Tokyo), March 1, 1997: 1.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Passing reference to Holmes. "...So in an attempt to unlock the secret of this little mystery, I put on my Sherlock Holmes cap, not realizing just how terribly appropriate it was, and called NHK the next morning. It seemed the case bore a striking resemblance to last year's famed 'Case of the Misfiled X-Files,' in which TV Asahi decided to air that show, not in order, but in the order network executives preferred....That catchall excuse 'scheduling' was offered, as well as the fact that there was much greater demand for Sherlock Holmes, which will return in March, sometime between sumo and Diet debates...."
1560. "Tv Tips." NEA Today 19, no. 6 (2001): 41.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews several television programs shown in the United States as of March 2001. Includes "The Sign of Four." "An Englishwoman calls upon Sherlock Holmes to investigate an anonymous gift of pearls that she has received along with a letter promising to right wrongs done to her, in this original presentation of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's classic mystery."
1561. "Tv Tips." NEA Today 19, no. 2 (2000): 44.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews several television programs in the United States. Includes Odyssey's production of the Hound. "Sir Henry Baskerville returns to his ancestral home after his uncle suffers a mysterious death, and while many in the village believe his death was the result of a Baskerville family curse, Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson hurry to sort through the suspects and save Sir Henry from an untimely death. KIDSNET is producing free educator guides designed for high school English teachers."
1562. "TV: Pick of the Day: Holmes Death Drama Worth a Closer Look." The Mirror, July 27, 2005: 1.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The Strange Case Of Sherlock Holmes And Arthur Conan Doyle, BBC2, 9pm. His death made headline news. But what prompted Arthur Conan Doyle to kill off Sherlock Holmes at the very height of the fictional detective's popularity? As David Pirie's gripping, feature-length drama suggests, Holmes sprang from the most troubled secret corners of Doyle's mind. With death threats and letters from outraged readers pouring in, his publisher despairs of Doyle's (played by Douglas Henshall) decision to kill his golden goose...."
1563. "Twentieth Century Literature's Andrew J. Kappel Prize in Literary Criticism, 1997." Twentieth Century Literature 43, no. 2 (1997): 123.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports on the selection of the literary work 'Miniaturization and Anticlimax in Evelyn Waugh's 'Sword of Honour,' by Steven Trout as 'Twentieth Century Literature' journal's recipient of the 1997 Andrew J. Kappel Prize in Literary Criticism. Assessment by judge William Pritchard. Includes Doyle reference. "The essay usefully relates Waugh's novel to its "imperialist" ancestors in Gunga Din, G. A. Henty, Conan Doyle, and Kipling..."
1564. Twilight Zone, the movie. [S.l. : s.n.], 1999. Visual Material 1 cassette (101 min).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- son., coul. ; 1/2 po. Production originale américaine réalisée en 1983. D'après l'oeuvre d'Arthur Conan Doyle. Organization: Visonnement privé (14614-RV) Warner Bros. Inc. Réalisation, John Landis, Steven Spielberg, Joe Dante, George Miller ; scénario, George Clayton Johnson ... [et al.]. // Fiction. Film à sketches fantastique. Quatre épisodes de la célèbre série Twilight Zone diffusée de 1959 à 1964 sur les ondes de CBS, revisités par quatre réalisateurs . Le prologue et l'épisode 1 sont signés John Landis, Steven Spielberg a réalisé l'épisode 2, Joe Dante l'épisode 3 et George Miller l'épisode 4. Un homme qui en veut à la terre entière se retrouve subitement plongé dans un monde de haine. Un vieux magicien invite les pensionnaires d'une maison de retraite à retourner en enfance. Une institutrice en transit fait la rencontre d'une jeune garçon qui va changer sa vie. Le passager d'un avion est sujet à de violentes hallucinations, mais est-il vraiment fou? Avec Dan Aykroyd, Albert Brooks, Scatman Crothers, John Lithgow, Vic Morrow, Kathleen Quinlan.
1565. "Two Chinese Prefaces of the Canon." Shoso-In Bulletin 7, no. (1997): 7-11.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Translated by Margarline Lau.

1566. "Two pipes, a pile of earth." USA Today, July 12, 1995: 09A.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Two pipes, a pile of earth . . . and a cigarette case? What can it all mean? Elementary: one of the most comprehensive collections of Sherlock Holmesia is going on sale later this month, Sotheby's auction house announced. The collection, from the estate of Stanley MacKenzie, a senior member of the Sherlock Holmes Society, includes a rare edition of Beeton's 1887 Christmas Annual."
1567. "Under new management." Economist 333, no. 7884 (1994): 21-23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on some of the successes of Russian capitalism, but suggests that progress may be impeded by erratic government policy-making. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...You do not have to be Sherlock Holmes,' he thinks, 'to work out that the directors of the refinery and of the shell company are splitting the money' which is made when the shell company sells the products on to real customers...."
1568. "The Universal Holmes." Publishers Weekly 254, no. 18 (2007): 143-143.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "The Universal Holmes," by Richard A. Lupoff. "The affection of prolific fantasy author Lupoff (Marblehead: A Novel of H.P. Lovecraft) for Conan Doyle's Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson lifts this collection of five previously published tales, one of which, 'The God of the Naked Unicorn,' has a new ending. The strongest entry is 'The Adventure of the Voorish Sign,' in which the great detective and his Boswell pursue a cult planning to liberate H.P. Lovecraft's monstrous Old Ones. 'The Adventure of the Boulevard Assassin,' written in the style of Jack Kerouac, is a curiosity perhaps best appreciated by Kerouac fans. The volume concludes on a light note with a recipe for 'Giant Rat of Sumatra Stew' (chicken is an acceptable substitute). While these stories may fall short of the standard set by such masters of the Holmes pastiche as Denis Smith and Donald Thomas, Lupoff, as ever, consistently entertains."
1569. "The unsuccessful ophthalmologist." Ophthalmology Times 33, no. 4 (2008): 4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A brief article on technology that may be replacing observation and deduction in treating patients. Mention made of both Holmes and Doyle (and his career as an ophthalmologist).
1570. "The Untold Pictorial Adventures of Sherlock Holmes." The Serpentine Muse 23, no. 3 (2007): 24.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1571. "Using the Sherlock Holmes Collections." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 5, no. 1 (2001): 8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Notes the recent visit of Luci Zahray accompanied by her good friend who writes under the name Mary Monica Pulver. Mary Monica also has a current mystery series written under the name of Monica Ferris, which includes Crewel World, Framed in Lace, and A Stitch in Time, and features her character Betsy Devonshire. While touring the Collections, Mary Monica was inspired, and has planned a future book featuring the Elmer L. Andersen Library and Betsy Devonshire. Randall Stock's return research visit in December is also noted. Includes a photograph of Mary Monica Pulver, Luci Zahray, and Tim Johnson.
1572. "Using the Sherlock Holmes Collections." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 5, no. 2 (2001): 8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Notes the visit of Dr. William A. S. Sarjeant to the Collections in April, along with a photograph from his visit.
1573. "Using the Sherlock Holmes Collections." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 4, no. 2 (2000): 8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Notes work by Courtney Andersen and tours of the Collections during the opening festivities. Includes a photograph of Tim Johnson, Phil Bergem, John Bergquist, and Pj Doyle.
1574. "Using the Sherlock Holmes Collections." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 4, no. 3 (2000): 8.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

- NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Notes research and visits by Steve Robinson (Gilbert, Arizona), Larry and Ann Koppers of Leawood, Kansas, and Angelo Barratta and Laura Leigh Mason, of Phoenix, Arizona. Includes a photograph of the Koppers.
1575. "Using the Sherlock Holmes Collections." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 4, no. 4 (2000): 8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Notes the visits of Randall Stock and Adam Sveum, with photographs of both.
1576. "Using the Sherlock Holmes Collections." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 2, no. 4 (1998): 5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Notes recent visits to the Collections by Catherine Cooke, Susan Dahlinger, and Randall Stock
1577. The Valley Of Fear. [s.l.]: Tantor Media Inc, 2005. Sound Recording.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1578. "The Valley of the Shadow of Death (Cover story)." Texas Monthly 36, no. 3 (2008): 112-210.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article focuses on the alleged role of Crossroads Baptist pastor Matt Baker in the death of his wife, Kari in Waco, Texas. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Periodically, the women met for lunch at their favorite Mexican restaurant, notebooks in hand, and asked one another Sherlock Holmes-like questions. Why would Kari leave two pills in her Unisom bottle? Wouldn't she have taken all the pills, to make sure she would die?..."
1579. "Value deal: Holmes defeats an arch-villain." York Daily Record, Dec 29, 1999: D.01.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "An 18th-century Scottish mansion where Sir Arthur Conan Doyle once lived was saved from a Big Mac attack when the city of Edinburgh slapped a preservation order on it. Fans of the Sherlock Holmes creator, alarmed to discover that McDonald's planned to build a burger restaurant on the site, appealed to city hall and won. 'This is wonderful news,' said Richard Lancelyn Green, a Conan Doyle expert and former chairman of the London-based Sherlock Holmes Society. 'Sherlock Holmes still has his magic, it seems.' So does good, old red meat. Agricultural officials say consumers are returning to meat counters, buying more pork and beef to put on their tables as a strong economy puts more money in their pockets to spend at the grocery store."
1580. "Vanity fair and fairies." Skeptic 5, no. 3 (1997): 27.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Applauds essay written by Christopher Hitchens published in the October 1997 issue of 'Vanity Fair' magazine about the motion picture 'Fairy Tale: A True Story.' "The October issue of Vanity Fair featured an essay by Christopher Hitchens about a new film released from Paramount entitled Fairy Tale: A True Story, starring Harvey Keitel as Harry Houdini and Peter O'Toole as Sir Arthur Conan Doyle...."
1581. "Venus on the Half-Shell and Others." Publishers Weekly 254, no. 48 (2007): 54-54.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "Venus on the Half-Shell and Others," by Philip José Farmer. Includes references to Doyle and Holmes. "Farmer appends his own name at last to his stories written under pen names borrowed from other authors' characters, most famously Venus on the Half-Shell, a novel allegedly by Kurt Vonnegut's fictional science fiction writer, Kilgore Trout. As Harry Manders, created by E.W. Horning, Farmer pens the suspenseful 'The Problem of the Sore Bridge--Among Others.' As Rex Stout's psychologically and physically maimed Paul Chapin, he offers the violent 'The Volcano.' A story by Harlan Ellison's Cordwainer Bird, 'The Last Rise of Nick Adams,' discloses that Bird was related to Farmerian heroes the Shadow and the Spider. Finally, after demonstrating how Tarzan might have sounded had he been written by William S. rather than Edgar Rice, Farmer dons the mantle of Conan Doyle's Dr. Watson and introduces Tarzan to Holmes in 'The Adventure of the Peerless Peer.' Only a writer as mature as Farmer could have pulled this stunt off so successfully."
1582. "Vice rewarded." Economist, no. (1997): 2/3p.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews two books pertaining to crime. 'The Napoleon of Crime: The Life and Times of Adam Worth, Master Thief,' by Ben Macintyre; 'Allan Pinkerton: The First Private Eye,' by James Mackay. Includes reference to Holmes. "Worth was the prototype for Sherlock Holmes's arch-enemy, Professor Moriarty; another Sherlock Holmes story, 'The Valley of Fear', was inspired by the Pinkerton agency's infiltration and destruction of the Molly Maguires, a ruthless gang that operated in the coal fields. Pinkerton's son, William, did much to bring Worth to justice and later became a close friend of the rogue. Worth's son eventually worked for the Pinkerton agency."

1583. "Victorian Detective Fiction and the Nature of Evidence: The Scientific Investigations of Poe, Dickens, and Doyle." Victorian Studies 47, no. 4 (2005): 609-611.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of book by Lawrence Frank, with remark "Applying methods of close reading to both scientific and literary texts, Frank argues that Edgar Allen Poe, Charles Dickens, and Arthur Conan Doyle 'promoted a new, emerging worldview that was secular and naturalistic.'"
1584. "Victorian Studies: Index to Volume 44 (2001-2002)." Victorian Studies 44, no. 4 (2003): 743-753.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes two references to Doyle. Sussman, Herbert. Review: Barsharn, Arthur Conan Doyle and the Meaning of Masculinity; Barsharn, Diana, Arthur Conan Doyle and the Meaning of Masculinity, 536-39.
1585. "Victorian Studies: Index to Volume 46 (2003-2004)." Victorian Studies 46, no. 4 (2005): 723-731.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Two references to Doyle. Valente, Joseph. Review: Wynne, The Colonial Conan Doyle: British Imperialism, Irish Nationalism and the Gothic, 694-96.; Wynne, Catherine. The Colonial Conan Doyle: British Imperialism, Irish Nationalism and the Gothic, 694-96.
1586. "Video." Library Journal 131, no. 6 (2006): 125-127.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // An annotated bibliography of video titles, soon to be published or recently published, is provided. The "trailers" section contains a reference to Doyle and Holmes. Murder Rooms: The Beginnings of Sherlock Holmes. 2 vols. color. 6 hrs. MPI Media. Jun. 2006. DVD ISBN 0-7886-0726-X. $39.98. "The young Conan Doyle and his mentor, a forensic scientist, turn the tables on Victorian criminals."
1587. "View From City Road:; [3 Edition 1]." The Independent (London) 1994: NOPGCIT.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Meanwhile, outside the department's budget, the Treasury will receive an estimated pounds 5bn from the privatisation of Railtrack, though you need to be a bit of a Sherlock Holmes to deduce this from the figures. The amount Railtrack is worth depends crucially on the level of subsidy the Government grants to the rail operating companies. Lo and behold, the long-term forecasts show that the level of government expenditure on the railways soars back to former levels in 1997/8. All this spending will be subsidy to private sector companies. No matter, because by then the Government will either be returned to power on the back of an orgy of tax cuts or it will be out of office with Labour left to pick up the pieces.
1588. "Vint Cerf on the World Wide Web." Educom Review 31, no. 4 (1996): 42.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Interviews Vinton Cerf, senior vice president of data architecture for MCI Engineering. Passing reference to Doyle (in online/electronic form). "I read all of Arthur Conan Doyle."
1589. "Vintage Victorian Christmas Cards." The Norwegian Explorers of Minnesota Christmas Annual, no. (2009): 24-25.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1590. "The virtues of a Cambridge history." New Criterion 23, no. 9 (2005): 1-3.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article presents information on the book "Cambridge History of Twentieth-Century English Literature," edited by Laura Marcus and Peter Nicholls. The book assures that the category of English literature has now become "suspect." If English literature were what this book describes, it should be admitted that English literature never really existed as literature but only as an appendage of politics and sociology. It describes a parallel universe, one that exists alongside, but without ever touching, the real universe of literary and cultural experience. Notes that Doyle did not make it into this "authoritative" history.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1591. "The War for Talent, Part 2." Business Week Online, no. (2002): N.PAG.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents an excerpt from the book 'The War for Talent,' by Ed Michaels, Helen Handfield-Jones and Beth Axelrod, which focused on employee recruitment. Includes the following: "There's another good reason to put your best people on recruiting: The people doing the recruiting are setting the standard for talent for the company. The caliber of talent they have in their minds is going to determine how high your organization will fly. As Sir Arthur Conan Doyle said, 'Mediocrity knows nothing higher than itself, but talent instantly recognizes genius.'"
1592. "The War for Talent, Part 2." Business Week Online, no. (2001): N.PAG.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents excerpt from the book 'The War for Talent,' by Ed Michaels, Helen Handfield-Jones and Beth Axelrod, which focused on recruitment. Passing reference to Doyle. "There's another good reason to put your best people on recruiting: The people doing the recruiting are setting the standard for talent for the company. The caliber of talent they have in their minds is going to determine how high your organization will fly. As Sir Arthur Conan Doyle said, 'Mediocrity knows nothing higher than itself, but talent instantly recognizes genius.'" 1593. War without end. [Alexandria, Va.]: PBS Home Video, 1996. Visual Material 1 videocassette (58 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. with b&w sequences ; 1/2 in. The Great War and the shaping of the 20th century ; episode 8. VHS format. Originally presented as an episode of the television mini-series The Great War and the shaping of the 20th century. "A KCET/BBC co-production in association with the Imperial War Museum." Closed captioned. Participants: Narrator: Salome Jens. directed by Blaine Baggett ; written by Blaine Baggett & Margaret Koval & Jay Winter ; produced by Margaret Koval. // Broken hopes, broken families, broken lives: the world at the end of the Great War was full of them. This final episode explores the aftermath of the war and the failed peace. For the "lost generation", the war would be without end. Living reminders were everywhere: men with missing limbs, mutilated faces, and shaking bodies. And then there were the dead, most who remained hundreds, sometimes thousands of miles away on the battlefields where they fell. The question "Why did they have to die?" would haunt the generation of survivors. People dealt with grief in different ways. Artists painted what they had seen. Writers tried writing it out of their systems. Millions of the bereaved sought relief from their ghostly memories through spiritualism -- communicating with the dead. Among the main proponents was Arthur Conan Doyle, creator of Sherlock Holmes, who gave up writing to devote himself to the movement. For some German soldiers, a bitter memory was the march home from the war. They had come back as an army, defeated but unbowed. Many of them believed they had been betrayed at home -- "stabbed in the back". This accusation would launch the political career of Adolf Hitler and bring on the second global war of the 20th century.
1594. "Was the creator of Sherlock Holmes a scheming poisoner?". Daily Mail (London), July 25, 2005: 72.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "...Mr [Spiring] said: 'We're not saying she was necessarily a coconspirator, more of a patsy.' Holmes experts have dismissed the claims as 'bunkum'. Sarah Bromet, a distant relative of Sir [Arthur Conan Doyle], said: 'Even if Mr [Fletcher Robinson] did die in the most horrific way possible, how could you ever prove that Conan Doyle was behind it?' In his book, Mr [Rodger Garrick-Steele], who moved into Park Hill House in the 1980s, claims Sir Arthur colluded with his publishers to deny Mr Robinson recognition for devising the plot and supplying much of the local detail...."
1595. "The Watson Conundrum." Wilson Quarterly 28, no. 4 (2004): 11-11.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Analyzes the short story "The Man With the Twisted Lip," in "The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes." Overview of the story; Conflict regarding the character John H. Watson in the story.
1596. "The way it is." Lancet 356, no. 9231 (2000): 777.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Introduces two anecdotes that contain medical humor, with a passing reference to Holmes.
1597. "The Week." National Review 57, no. 1 (2005): 4-12.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses political and social developments around the world during the preceding week. Passing reference to Sherlock Holmes. Notes passing of Guy Davenport, professor of English at the University of Kentucky. "In his spare time, he translated Heraclitus and Diogenes, and illustrated Hugh Kenner's Counterfeiters. (Sherlock Holmes and Karl Marx in the same picture? Why not.)"

1598. "The Week." National Review 55, no. 13 (2003): 6-12.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article offers news briefs of political issues in the United States as of July 14, 2003. One item concerns J.K. Rowling, with a passing reference to Doyle. "...What she has built is a story of families, fathers and sons; of growing in wisdom and stature; of choosing good over evil. It is also a story of rich imagination and essential simplicity, in the manner of the greatest storytellers-Defoe, Swift, Arthur Conan Doyle...."

1599. "The Weekend at a Glance." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 4 (1994): 248-249.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Schedule of events surrounding the 141st birthday weekend in New York.

1600. "Welcoming Gala celebrates 'Adventures in Books'." Reading Today 22, no. 2 (2004): 24-24.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on the Welcoming Gala for the 2005 International Reading Association Convention, held on May 2, 2005 at the Henry B. Gonzalez Convention Center in San Antonio, Texas. Passing reference to Doyle: "The brave souls willing to 'undertake' the mystery/horror adventure will be 'buffed' in fun! A haunted house--complete with characters from the dark imaginations of Mary Shelley, Bram Stoker, Stephen King, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, and Edgar Allan Poe--will be frighteningly welcoming to arriving guests."

1601. "We're not making this up." CMAJ: Canadian Medical Association Journal 159, no. 12 (1998): 1451.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents several interesting topics relating to medicine as of December 1998. The possible reason for the death of Lord Carnarvon in 1922 after he entered the 3200-year-old tomb of the Pharaoh Tutankhamen includes a reference to Doyle. "Dr. Sylvain Gandon, a researcher at the Laboratoire d'acologie in Paris, has shown that microscopic spores can become extremely potent and are capable of surviving for long periods outside a living host body. 'The death of Lord Carnarvon could potentially be explained by infection with a highly virulent and very long-lived pathogen,' says Gandon. His findings, which recently appeared in Proceedings of the Royal Society, support Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's conviction that Carnarvon died after breathing germs in Tutankhamen's burial chamber. Doyle, the creator of the Sherlock Holmes mysteries, suggested that spores were deliberately placed there by priests to punish grave robbers."

1602. "What Are You Reading This Summer?". Imagine 6, no. 5 (2003): 23.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Included in this summer reading list is The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes by Arthur Conan Doyle.

1603. "What the world is reading." Economist, no. (1997): 4/5p.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Looks at the bestselling non-fiction in America and in Great Britain as of June 21, 1997. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "For Sherlock Holmes it would have posed a three-pipe problem: What makes readers of newspapers so different from readers of books?..."

1604. "What the world is reading." Economist, no. (1996): 4/5p.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Looks at lists of bestselling books in Mexico and Brazil, with Holmes reference. "O Xango de Baker Street by Jo Soares transplants Sherlock Holmes to fin-de-siecle Rio de Janeiro in a comic detective tale."

1605. "What's going on: Theatre." Performing Arts & Entertainment in Canada 32, no. 2 (1999): 43.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents updates on theater in Canada. Includes the Shaw Festival production of Doyle's Waterloo.

1606. "What's going on: Theatre." Performing Arts & Entertainment in Canada 28, no. 4 (1994): 39.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports on developments concerning theater in Canada, as of April 1994.
Mentions the Shaw Festival production of Sherlock Holmes by William Gillette.

1607. "When Visiting." British Heritage 23, no. 3 (2002): 39.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents information on Edinburgh, Scotland. Location of the Conan Doyle Pub; Hotels and restaurants; Landmarks.
1608. "When We Were Orphans (Book Review)." Publishers Weekly 247, no. 49 (2000): 32.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the audiobook 'When We Were Orphans,' by Kazuo Ishiguro and read by John Lee. Includes a reference to Holmes. "Set in Shanghai on the eve of World War II, Ishiguro's Booker-nominated novel follows the surreal predicament of Christopher Banks, an English expatriate whose overwrought state is perfectly rendered by narrator John Lee. After his parents are mysteriously kidnapped, nine-year-old Christopher is shipped off to England, where he grows up to become the Sherlock Holmes of his times-a man able to right wrongs, restore order."
1609. "Where to Sell Manuscripts." Writer 113, no. 4 (2000): 27.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents information on several periodicals where a writer can sell her manuscript. Passing reference to Doyle under "Mystery and Suspense."
1610. "Where wizards stay up late." Educom Review 31, no. 5 (1996): 53.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents an excerpt from the book 'Where Wizards Stay Up Late: The Origins of the Internet,' by Katie Hafner and Matthew Lyon, providing a profile of Joseph Carl Robnett Licklider, whose vision inspired computer networking. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "The idea was that you take this powerful computer and feed it all this qualitative information, such as 'The air force chief drank two martinis,' or 'Khrushchev isn't reading Pravda on Mondays,'" recalled Ruina. "And the computer would play Sherlock Holmes and conclude that the Russians must be building an MX-72 missile or something like that."
1611. "Which the Justice which the Thief? the Life and Influence of Eugène-François Vidocq." Legal Studies Forum 29, no. 2 (2005): 825-837.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Explores the life of Eugène-François Vidocq, one of the founders of the French detective police service. His influence on detective fiction and nineteenth-century French literature; Family background; Accomplishments as a detective.
1612. "While We Were Out." Yankee 67, no. 2 (2003): 98.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Provides information on several tourist destinations in the New England region. Passing reference to "the Sherlock Holmes mysteries" as something gaining popularity in 1891.
1613. "Who Is Sakamoto Ryoma?". Wilson Quarterly 31, no. 3 (2007): 87-88.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews a survey titled "History's 100 Most Influential People, Hero Edition," by Nippon Television Network on April 1, 2007 at www.japanprobe.com. The author states that the number one position on the survey went to Sakamoto Ryoma, a nineteenth century Japanese samurai warrior. Includes a reference to Doyle. "...There are, however, some eyebrow-raising entries: Walt Disney (40), Audrey Hepburn (46), Freddy Mercury (from the rock group Queen, at 52), and Elvis Presley (70). William Shakespeare--highly regarded in some literary circles--languishes at number 87, well behind Arthur Conan Doyle (69), the creator of Sherlock Holmes..."
1614. "Who Was Who at ACD@35." Canadian Holmes 30, no. 3 (2007): 50-51.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1615. "Who Was Who at Lasting Impressions." Canadian Holmes 21, no. 2 (1997): 18-20.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1616. "Whodunit?". Economist 347, no. 8073 (1998): 100-100.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews three economics related books. 'Hidden Agenda: In the Eyes of the Tiger,' by Lim Kok Wing, Robert Ho You Chai, and Yee Mee Fah; 'Asia Falling,' by Callum Henderson; 'Asia Under Siege: How the Asian Miracle Went Wrong,' by Ranjit Gill. Passing reference to Holmes. "It is not the authors' intention, they say, to 'play Sherlock Holmes in dusting for fingerprints in order to catch the culprit.'"

1617. "Whose body of evidence?". Economist 348, no. 8076 (1998): 78-80.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses forensic science's place in the courtroom and the need for better scientific methods. Reference to Doyle and Holmes. "Forensic science has a lot of romantic literature behind it, with many fictional detectives stalking the pages of whodunnits-magnifying glass in hand and nicotine-source in mouth. One pertinent early example is in Conan Doyle's 'The Sign of Four', in which Sherlock Holmes reveals to the admiring Dr Watson that he has written several monographs on technical subjects, one of them entitled 'Upon the distinction between the ashes of various tobaccos'. In this work (complete with colour plates), Holmes shows how to identify the ash of 140 forms of tobacco from pipes, cigars and cigarettes-information, he says, that may sometimes be of supreme importance in solving a crime."
1618. Winter spirits: a collection of ghost stories for the holidays and beyond. Grand Haven, MI: Brilliance Corp., 1994. Sound Recording 6 sound cassettes (9 hrs.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog, 1 7/8 ips. Subtitle from publisher's label on container. Unabridged. In container (23 cm.) Read by Tom Cassaletto, Sandra Burr, Leanor Reizen, Jim Bond, Roger Dressler, and Michael Page. //
1619. The Wipers Times a facsimile reprint of the trench magazines:--the Wipers times--the New Church times--the Kemmel times--the Somme times--the B. E. F. times. London: H. Jenkins limited, 1918.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 18001180; Scuttlebutt 1994 // "The newspaper (which eventually became The B.E.F. Times) was published by British soldiers at the front during World War I, and it contained three parodies featuring Herlock Shomes. Brian Pugh notes that the 24th Division List of Staff Officers 28 September 1915 (on p. 375) includes Lt.-Col. J.F.I.H. Doyle (Arthur Conan Doyle's brother Innes); his full name was John Francis Innes Hay Doyle."
1620. The Wipers Times including for the first time in one volume a facsimile reproduction of the complete series of the famous wartime trench magazines. London: E. Nash & Grayson limited, 1930.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 31024185; Scuttlebutt 1994 // "The newspaper (which eventually became The B.E.F. Times) was published by British soldiers at the front during World War I, and it contained three parodies featuring Herlock Shomes. Brian Pugh notes that the 24th Division List of Staff Officers 28 September 1915 (on p. 375) includes Lt.-Col. J.F.I.H. Doyle (Arthur Conan Doyle's brother Innes); his full name was John Francis Innes Hay Doyle."
1621. The Wipers Times: The Complete Series of the Famous Wartime Trench Newspaper. London: Little Books, 2006.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt 1994 // "The newspaper (which eventually became The B.E.F. Times) was published by British soldiers at the front during World War I, and it contained three parodies featuring Herlock Shomes. Brian Pugh notes that the 24th Division List of Staff Officers 28 September 1915 (on p. 375) includes Lt.-Col. J.F.I.H. Doyle (Arthur Conan Doyle's brother Innes); his full name was John Francis Innes Hay Doyle."
1622. "Wired up: Classic Books." The Independent (London), January 16, 1999: 81.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Comments on a few literary web sites including: members.tripod.com/msherman/holmes.html "Slightly closer to the present day - indeed so much that some of the work is still legally protected - are the adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Although all the stories are out of copyright in Britain, the 12 short stories published after 1919 are still protected in the US, which means that they are unavailable on this site. Although the chore of reading dense text off a computer screen has become less gruelling over recent years, it can still be a chore to wade through long stories. But if 'free' is your thing, this site is still difficult to beat. It also contains many original illustrations from the Strand magazine where the stories were originally published, as well as links to other Sherlock Holmes sites...."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1623. Wishbone. New York: Polygram Video, 1995. Visual Material videocassettes (30 min. each).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS. Based on Arthur Conan Doyle's The hound of the Baskervilles. "Big feats entertainment." Participants: Larry Brantley as the voice of Wishbone; Jordan Wall as Joe; Christie Abbott as Sam; Adam Springfield as David; Mary Chris Wall as Ellen, Angee Hughes as Wanda. Producer, Betty Buckley ; directed by Fred Holmes ; written by Vincent Brown. Creator and executive producer: Rick Duffield ; costume design by Stephen Chudje ; Caris Palm Turpin, visual effects supervisor ; director of photography, Bert Guthrie; musical director, Tim Cissel; supervising producer, Stephanie Simpson; edited by Michael Coleman. //
1624. Wishbone Coloring and Activity Book: Canine Classics. New York: Modern Publishing, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt July 1998 // "Includes eight pages on Wishbone's investigation of the Hound of the Baskervilles; it's a coloring book with puzzles and mazes and other fun for fans of the television series."
1625. Wishbone Jumbo Fun Book. New York: Modern Publishing, 1998.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Apr 1998 // "Includes eight pages on Wishbone's investigation of the Hound of the Baskervilles; it's a coloring book with puzzles and mazes and other fun for fans of the television series."
1626. "Witch Hunt." People 42, no. 24 (1994): 13.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the television program 'Witch Hunt,' starring Dennis Hopper and Penelope Ann Miller, on HBO. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "This is sort of a second-cousin sequel to HBO's 1991 movie Cast a Deadly Spell, which was a savory parfait of mystic fantasy and hard-boiled detective yarn, a shadow world where shaman meets shamus, where warlock meets Sherlock."
1627. "With all due respect." New Criterion 26, no. 9 (2008): 76-80.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of Great Victorian Lives, edited by Ian Brnskill; 704 pages. Times Books. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...Great Victorian Lives isn't designed to be used as a textbook, still less as a work of reference. It is a book to browse in--and one in which, once you have started, you are liable to go on browsing for longer than you intended....Arthur Conan Doyle, paying tribute to the prodigious, (and prodigiously bearded) cricketer W. G. Grace, is able to describe what it was like to play with die great man from personal experience...."
1628. Without a clue. Santa Monica, CA: Distributed by MGM Home Entertainment, 2004. Visual Material 1 videodisc (107 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, region 1, Dolby digital stereo. surround. Videodisc release of the 1988 motion picture. Includes theatrical trailer. Participants: Michael Caine, Ben Kingsley, Jeffrey Jones, Lysette Anthony, Paul Freeman, Nigel Davenport, Pat Keen, Peter Cook. Audience: MPAA rating: PG. ITC Entertainment Group ; written by Gary Murphy and Larry Strawther ; produced by Marc Stirdivant ; directed by Thom Eberhardt. Music by Henry Mancini. // "Dr. John Watson (Kingsley) is secretly a crime-solving genius. But to protect his reputation as a physician, he hires bumbling, boozy, out-of-work actor Reginald Kincaid (Caine) to play the part of his fictional creation, Sherlock Holmes. The charade works until Watson mysteriously disappears, forcing the baffled, seriously inept 'Holmes' to crack the biggest case of Watson's career on his own"--Container.
1629. Without a clue. [England]: Carlton ; Carlton Video [distributor], 2001. Visual Material 1 videocassette (VHS)(102 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. The Michael Caine collection / distributed by Carlton Video. [England], Carlton, 2001; Videotape release of the 1988 motion picture. Part of boxed set, The Michael Caine collection including: The Ipcress File ; The eagle has landed ; Educating Rita ; Without a clue. Participants: Michael Caine, Ben Kingsley, Jeffrey Jones, Lysette Anthony, Paul Freeman, Nigel Davenport, Pat Keen, Peter Cook. ITC Entertainment Group ; an Eberhardt Stirdivant production. Producer, Marc Stirdivant ; director, Thom Eberhardt ; writers, Gary Murphy and Larry Strawther ; music, Henry Mancini. // "With deerstalker cap perched smartly on his head, and Inverness cape hanging smoothly from his frame, master

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

sleuth Sherlock Holmes faces the press with elegant ease. He is about to reveal the clues which eluded Scotland Yard and now enabled him to close another baffling case. There is only one small hitch. ... he hasn't got a clue how to solve a crime." -- case.

1630. Without a clue. [S.I.]: Umbrella Entertainment, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (DVD) (102 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. All regions, PAL. DVD. Umbrella Entertainment: DAVID0229. Originally produced as a motion picture in 1988. Participants: Michael Caine, Ben Kingsley, Peter Cook. Produced by Marc Stirdivant ; directed by Thom Eberhardt. // Suppose that the greatest detective the world has ever known was Dr. John Watson of 221-B Baker Street. Suppose further that his companion, Sherlock Holmes was a simpleton a drunk, degenerate, unemployed actor hired so the doctor could dabble in detection without disturbing the medical community. Watson solved the crimes. Holmes took the credit. It should have been the perfect arrangement. It wasn't. Summary from container insert.
1631. "Without Conscience: A Johnny Hawke Novel." Publishers Weekly 255, no. 37 (2008): 48-48.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "Without Conscience: A Johnny Hawke Novel," by David Stuart Davies. St. Martin's Minotaur/Dunne, $23.95 (224p) ISBN 978-0-312-38210-0. "Sherlock Holmes expert Davies relies too much on contrived plot twists in his second WWII novel to feature PI Johnny Hawke (after 2007's Forests of the Night)....Davies repeatedly sets up coincidences to advance the plot, including a link between Hawke and Jenkins that leads to Blake's being taken hostage. Those looking for a nuanced view of the English home front on a par with, say, TV's Foyle's War may be disappointed."
1632. The woman in green. Narberth, PA: Alpha Video, 2001. Visual Material 1 videodisc (68 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Based on characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally released as a motion picture in 1945. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Hillary Brooke, Henry Daniell, Paul Cavanaugh, Matthew Boulton, Eve Amber. Universal Pictures Company ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill. Original screenplay, Bertram Millhauser ; director of photography, Virgil Miller ; editor, Edward Curtiss. // Hypnotism, blackmail and fiendish murders lead Holmes and Watson straight to the evil Professor Moriarty and his lovely accomplice.
1633. The woman in green. S.I.: Republic Pictures : Spotlite Video, 1994. Visual Material 1 videocassette (approx. 68 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS. Videocassette release of the 1945 motion picture. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Hillary Brooke, Henry Daniell, Paul Cavanagh, Matthew Boulton, Eve Amber. Producer-director, Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Bertram Millhauser. //
1634. The Woman in green. Piscataway, NJ: Alpha Video Distributors, 1995. Visual Material 1 videocassette (68 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Sherlock Holmes mystery classics. VHS. Videocassette release of the 1945 motion picture. Adapted from: The Adventure of the Empty House / by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. "A Sherlock Holmes mystery"--Cover. "Sherlock Holmes mystery collection"--Label. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Henry Daniell, Paul Cavanagh, Matthew Boulton, Eve Amber, Hillary Brooke. Universal Pictures ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Bertram Millhauser. Director of photography, Virgil Miller ; film editor, Edward Curtiss. // Sherlock Holmes hunts for the missing link in a series of bizarre murders. The trail leads straight to the fiendish Professor Moriarty.
1635. The woman in green. [St. Laurent, Quebec]: Distributed by Madacy Music Group, 1995. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 68 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS. Based on characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally released as a motion picture by Universal Pictures in 1945. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Hillary Brooke, Henry Daniell, Paul Cavanagh, Matthew Boulton, Eve Amber. Universal Picture Company, Inc. ; original screenplay by Bertram Millhauser ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill. Director of photography, Virgil Miller ; art direction, John B. Goodman, Martin Obzina ; film editor, Edward Curtiss ; musical director, Mark Levant. // A series of ghastly murders in which all the victims are young women who have their forefingers cut off. Just as Holmes gets close to the truth he comes under the spell of

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Professor Moriarty's hypnotic henchwomen, a fiendish female who leads the entranced detective to the brink of death.

1636. The woman in green. St. Laurent, Quebec: Madacy Entertainment Group Inc., 1996. Visual Material 1 videocassette (68 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Henry Daniell. Directed by Roy William Neill. // Sherlock Holmes hunts for the missing link in a series of bizarre murders. The trail leads straight to the fiendish Professor Moriarty.

1637. The woman in green. [Fort Mill, S.C.?]: UAV Entertainment : [Distributed by?] Sterling Entertainment Group, 1997. Visual Material 1 videocassette (67 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Sherlock Holmes film classic; VHS format. Based on characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally issued as a motion picture in 1945. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Hillary Brooke, Henry Daniell, Paul Cavanagh, Frederic Worlock, Mary Gordon, Bill Bevan. Audience: Not rated. UAV Entertainment. Directed by Roy William Neill. // Sherlock Holmes comes to the rescue as Scotland Yard is stumped by the crimes of a blackmailing murder ring, with the help of his assistant Dr. Watson will Holmes solve the crime and capture the criminals?

1638. Woman in green. St. Laurent, Quebec: Madacy Entertainment Group, 1997. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 68 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Hollywood classics; VHS format. Based on characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally issued as a motion picture in 1945. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Hillary Brooke, Henry Daniell, Paul Cavanagh, Frederic Worlock, Mary Gordon, Bill Bevan. Audience: Not rated. Universal ; original screenplay by Bertram Millhauser ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill. Director of photography, Virgil Miller ; film editor, Edward Curtiss ; musical director, Mark Levant. // Sherlock Holmes comes to the rescue as Scotland Yard is stumped by the crimes of a blackmailing murder ring, with the help of his assistant Dr. Watson will Holmes solve the crime and capture the criminals?

1639. The woman in green. New York: Goodtimes Home Video, 1998. Visual Material 1 videocassette (68 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd, b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS format. "Loosely based on Conan Doyle's The adventure of the empty house"--Container. "05-09683." Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Hillary Brooke, Henry Daniell, Paul Cavanaugh, Matthew Boulton, Eve Amber. Videorecording of the 1945 motion picture. Universal Pictures. Director of photography, Virgil Miller ; film editor, Edward Curtiss ; musical director, Mark Levant ; screenplay, Bertram Millhauser ; producer and director, Roy William Neill. // Scotland Yard is baffled by a wave of murders. All the victims are attractive girls, and when found, each is missing her right forefinger. Holmes faces threats, blackmail, and hypnotism before a devilishly clever trap catches the criminal.

1640. Woman in green. St Laurent, Quebec: Distributed by Madacy Entertainment Group, 1998. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 68 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS format. Based on the story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally released as a motion picture by Universal Pictures in 1945. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. Produced and directed by Roy William Neill ; original screenplay by Bertram Millhauser. // Sherlock Holmes solves the "finger" murders involving blackmail, hypnotism and Professor Moriarty.

1641. The Woman in Green. Scarborough, ME: Focusfilm Entertainment, 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 68 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD; mono. Special features: chapter stop; re-created theatrical trailer; still gallery; 8 original radio broadcast of "The new adventures of Sherlock Holmes" (4 hrs). Videocassette release of the 1945 motion picture. Based on the story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle./ Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Henry Daniell. Universal Pictures. Producer/director, Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Bertram Millhauser. // In this film, freely adapted from "The Adventure of the Empty House", by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, Sherlock Holmes hunts for the missing link in a series of bizarre murders. The trail leads straight to the fiendish Professor Moriarty.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1642. The Woman in Green. Toronto: Audiovision Canada, 2000. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 68 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. VHS. Based on characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Originally issued as a motion picture in 1945. Video description by Audiovision Canada. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Hilary Brooke, Henry Daniell, Paul Cavanagh, Matthew Boulton, Eve Amber. Universal ; original screenplay by Bertram Millhauser ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill. Director of photography, Virgil Miller ; film editor, Edward Curtiss ; musical director, Mark Levant. // Sherlock Holmes comes to the rescue as Scotland Yard is stumped by the crimes of a blackmailing murder ring, with the help of his assistant Dr. Watson will Holmes solve the crime and capture the criminals?
1643. The Woman in Green. [s.l.]: Orbit Media, 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (66 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. Hollywood Screen Classics; DVD PAL.; Produced for regions 1-6. Originally released as a motion picture in 1945. Based on the original screenplay by Bertram Millhauser. Based on the characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Special feature include the documentary, The many faces of Sherlock Holmes. Participants: Cast: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Henry Daniell. Universal Pictures Company ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill. // A series of strange murders baffle the police. Holmes is called onto the case discovering the existence of a blackmail ring that uses a lady hypnotist to further their skulduggery. The man behind the evil plot is Holmes's deadly enemy Moriarty This film marks the last appearance of the character of Professor Moriarty.
1644. The woman in green. Tulsa, OK: VCI Home Video, 2001. Visual Material 1 videocassette (68 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Sherlock Holmes mystery collection; VHS. Based on the characters created by Sir Arthur Doyle. Originally issued as a motion picture in 1945. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Hillary Brooke, Henry Daniell, Paul Cavanagh, Frederic Worlock, Mary Gordon, Matthew Boulton, Eve Amber. Universal Pictures Company ; original screenplay by Bertram Millhauser ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill. Director of photography, Virgil Miller ; film editor, Edward Curtiss ; musical director, Mark Levant ; art direction, John B. Goodman, Martin Obzina. // Sherlock Holmes comes to the rescue as Scotland Yard is stumped by the crimes of a blackmailing murder ring, with the help of his assistant Dr. Watson will Holmes solve the crime and capture the criminals?
1645. Woman in green. [S.l.]: Dastar Corp/Marathon Music & Video ; Eugene, OR : produced and distributed by Entertainment Distributing, 2001. Visual Material 1 videocassette (68 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 1/2 in. Sherlock Holmes Trilogy; VHS format. Adapted from a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Videocassette release of the 1945 motion picture. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Hillary Brooke, Henry Daniell, Paul Cavanagh, Frederic Worlock, Mary Gordon, Matthew Boulton, Eve Amber. Universal Pictures ; original screenplay by Bertram Millhauser ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill. Producer-director, Roy William Neill ; director of photography, Virgil Miller ; film editor, Edward Curtiss ; musical director, Mark Levant. // With the help of his assistant, Dr. Watson, Sherlock Holmes comes to the rescue as Scotland yard is stumped by the crimes of a blackmailing murder ring.
1646. The Woman in Green. Edison, NJ: Front Row Entertainment, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 78 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Videodisc release of the 1945 motion picture. Based on characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Special features included. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Hillary Brooke, Henry Daniell. Universal ; original screenplay by Bertram Millhauser ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill. Director of photography, Virgil Miller ; film editor, Edward Curtiss ; musical director, Mark Levant. // Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson become involved in a serial murder in which all of the victims are young women--all missing a finger.
1647. The woman in green. Charlotte, NC: Oviation Home Video, 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc (200 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, interactive menus, scene access. Cataloging from container. Bonus features include biography, filmography, production notes, and photo gallery. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Hilary Brooke, Paul Cavanagh. Directed by Roy William Neill. // Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson become involved in a serial murder in which all of the victims are young women--each missing a finger.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1648. The Woman in Green. [S.l.] : CATCOM Home Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. The Woman in green was originally released as a motion picture in 1945. Participants: The woman in green : Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Hillary Brooke, Henry Daniell, Paul Cavanagh, Matthew Boulton, Eve Amber. executive producer, Kenneth R. Bennett ; producer, Jake Lamb. The woman in green: Produced and directed by Roy William Neill ; screenplay, Bertram Millhauser. // The woman in green: The clues left at the scene of the crime point a finger at a prominent member of Parliament, but Holmes believes there's something a bit odd going on and perhaps his arch nemesis, Professor Moriarty might somehow be involved!
1649. Women in green; Sherlock Holmes and the Secret Weapon. [s.l.]: Treasure Box Collection, 2000. Visual Material 1 videodisc (140 min.): digital; 4 3/4 in.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- DVD. "2 feature films on one disc. Digitally remastered. " -- from container. //
1650. "Women in physics, did Sherlock Holmes solve the EPR paradox?, a scientific look at dowsing." Physics World 8, no. 5 (1995): 19.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1651. "The World." The Augusta Chronicle, Aug 7, 2004: A.02.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "One of the greatest collections of memorabilia from Sir Arthur Conan Doyle was given Friday to a library in Portsmouth, England, where he wrote the first Sherlock Holmes adventures. The 20,000- item collection of Richard Lancelyn Green includes a full-size model of the study at 221B Baker St., Holmes' fictional address."
1652. "The World of Paperbacks." Contemporary Review 290, no. 1691 (2008): 521-524.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Lists a few titles related to Doyle and Holmes. "Also from Phoenix we have...Andrew Lycett's Conan Doyle: The Man Who Created Sherlock Holmes (GBP10.99) whose hardback edition was hailed in this journal as 'the best and . . . certainly the fullest' biography of the writer...Vintage Classics have brought out Arthur Conan Doyle's famous novel. The Hound of the Baskervilles and have included with it not only the short story, The Adventure of the Speckled Band, which Doyle judged his best story, but an introduction by Ruth Rendell and all for GBP5.99....The life of Arthur Conan Doyle is arguably best seen in his correspondence and Harper Perennial has brought out Arthur Conan Doyle: A Life in Letters (GBP12.99), edited by Jon Lellenberg, Daniel Stashower and Charles Foley. The review of the hardback edition praised this 'valuable collection', based on Doyle's letters to his mother, letters which were 'frank and revealing'and which showed his 'many and varied interests'...."
1653. "The world of paperbacks." Contemporary Review 272, no. 1587 (1998): 220.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Lists some paperbacks released as of April 1998. Includes a passing reference to Doyle in entry for Edwardian Fiction: An Oxford Companion. Sandra Kemp, Charlotte Mitchell and David Trotter. Oxford University Press. GBP30.00. ISBN 0-19811760-4. "The 'Edwardian period' strictly speaking that between January 1901 and May 1910 - saw the publication of many famous works by Conan Doyle, Barrie, Kipling, Galsworthy, D. H. Lawrence, Henry James and Arnold Bennett...."
1654. World's most famous detectives, Volume 4. La Crosse, WI: Platinum Disc Corp., 2002. Visual Material 1 videodisc.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., b&w ; 4 3/4 in. TV classics; DVD. Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon originally released as a motion picture in 1943; The woman in green originally released as a motion picture in 1945; the television series Sherlock Holmes originally aired in 1954-1955. Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon based on the story The dancing men by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: The woman in green: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Hillary Brooke, Henry Daniell ; Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Lionel Atwill, Kaaren Verne, William Post Jr., Dennis Hoey ; Sherlock Holmes: Ronald Howard, H. Marion Crawford, Archie Duncan. The woman in green: screenplay by Bertram Millhauser ; produced and directed by Roy William Neill ; Sherlock Holmes and the secret weapon: screenplay, Edward T. Lowe, W. Scott Darling, Edmund L. Hartmann ; directed by Roy William Neill ;

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

- director of photography, Les White ; editor, Otto Ludwig. // Contains two Sherlock Holmes films from the 1940s, plus two episodes of the 1954-1955 television series Sherlock Holmes.
1655. "Writer leaves pounds 2m Conan Doyle collection to library." Daily Post, Aug 7, 2004: 7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "[Richard Lancelyn Green], who died in March this year, was a prominent figure in the Sherlock Holmes Society and spent more than 40 years collecting everything he could find that related to [Arthur Conan Doyle] and Sherlock Holmes."
1656. "Writers of the Past." World Almanac & Book of Facts, no. (2008): 188-192.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // An almanac entry for renowned writers of the past is presented. Includes an entry for Doyle.
1657. "WWI enemies called a Christmas truce in trenches; [Metro Edition]." Cincinnati Post (Ohio), December 24, 1994: 4A.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The book quotes [Oswald Tilley]'s letter, and another by German Lt. Johannes Niemann of the 133rd Saxon Regiment. Includes a reference to Doyle. "...Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, creator of Sherlock Holmes and a historian of the war, called the Christmas truce 'one human episode amid all the atrocities.'..."
1658. "YALSA awards." Journal of Youth Services in Libraries 14, no. 3 (2001): 63-68.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // An annotated list of recipients of Young Adult Library Services Association awards is provided. Included in the list is Sherlock's Secret Life, by Ed Lange, narrated by Karl Malden and performed by the New York State Theatre Institute, New York State Theatre Institute, 1999, 2 cassettes, 1 hour and 43 mins., 1-892613-03-4. "The young Sherlock Holmes, and his familiar cohorts Dr. Watson and Professor Moriarty, are portrayed in this original and fully dramatized story about an early case that brought the detective to the brink of lovelorn heartbreak."
1659. "The Year in Books 2001: Mystery." Publishers Weekly 248, no. 47 (2001): 36.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a list of mystery books. 'The Wooden Leg of Inspector Anders,' by Marshall Browne; 'Six-Pound Walleye,' by Elizabeth Gunn; 'The Great Game,' by Michael Kurland; 'Samurai Boogie,' by Peter Tasker; 'Strawman's Hammock,' by Darryl Wimberley.
1660. "You know my methods." Economist 332, no. 7873 (1994): 81-81.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Asserts that recent technological advances have made it possible for detectives to perform their jobs much more effectively. Includes a reference to Holmes. "Dr. Watson did not record the forum in which his friend's 'little monograph on the ashes of 140 different varieties of pipe, cigar, and cigarette tobacco' appeared. Had Sherlock Holmes been writing today, however, it would no doubt have appeared in the Journal of the Forensic Science Society, next to 'The examination of black wax shoe polish stains after ageing and weathering,' or the more gruesome 'Analysis of opiates in fly larvae sampled on a putrefied cadaver.'"
1661. "You may have read of the remarkable explorations of a Norwegian named Sigerson..." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 1, no. 2 (1997): 1-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Biographical profile of E.W. "Mac" McDiarmid. Includes photograph of McDiarmid and Dorothy Rowe Shaw, reproduction of McDiarmid bookplate for the University of Minnesota Libraries Sherlock Holmes Collections
1662. Young Sherlock Holmes. Hollywood: Paramount Home Entertainment, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 108 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD, Region 1 encoding, Dolby digital 5.1 surround, Dolby digital surround, Dolby digital mono. Originally released as a motion picture in 1985. Suggested by characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Nicholas Rowe, Alan Cox, Sophie Ward, Anthony Higgins, Susan Fleetwood, Freddie Jones, Nigel Stock, Roger Ashton-Griffiths, Earl Rhodes. A Paramount Pictures presentation ; an Amblin Entertainment production in association with Henry Winkler/Roger Birnbaum ; Steven Spielberg presents ; producer, Mark Johnson ; writer, Chris Columbus ; director, Barry

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

- Levinson. Director of photography, Stephen Goldblatt ; film editor, Stu Linder ; original music, Bruce Broughton ; costume designer, Raymond Hughes ; production designer, Norman Reynolds ; visual effects produced by Industrial Light & Magic. // When assorted people start having inexplicable delusions that lead to their deaths, a teenage Sherlock Holmes investigates.
1663. Young Sherlock Holmes. [Hollywood, CA]: Paramount, 1996. Visual Material 1 videocassette (109 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col., stereo. ; 1/2 in. VHS. Videocassette release of the 1985 motion picture by Paramount Pictures Corp. and Amblin Entertainment, Inc. Based on the characters of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Nicholas Rowe, Alan Cox, Sophie Ward, Anthony Higgins. Audience: MPAA rating: PG-13. Steven Spielberg presents an Amblin Entertainment production in association with Henry Winkler/Roger Birnbaum ; written by Chris Columbus ; produced by Mark Johnson ; directed by Barry Levinson. Cinematography by Stephen Goldblatt, Stephen Smith ; film editing by Stu Linder ; original music by Bruce Broughton. // Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson meet as schoolboys and when a plague of bizarre, puzzling murders grips London, young Holmes and his newfound friend Watson, find themselves unwittingly entangled in the dark mystery.
1664. Young Sherlock Holmes. Hollywood, CA: Paramount, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (109 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. Widescreen DVD collection; Sherlock Holmes [Film Series]; DVD NTSC.; Produced for Region 3 (South Korea, Taiwan, Hong Kong, Parts of South East Asia). Originally released as a motion picture in 1985. Participants: Nicholas Rowe, Alan Cox, Sophie Ward, Anthony Higgins, Susan Fleetwood, Freddie Jones, Nigel Stock, Roger Ashton-Griffiths, Earl Rhodes. Paramount Pictures presents an Amblin Entertainment production in association with Henry Winkler/Roger Birnbaum ; produced by Mark Johnson ; directed by Barry Levinson ; written by Chris Columbus. // When assorted people start having inexplicable delusions that lead to their deaths, a teenage Sherlock Holmes investigates.
1665. Young Sherlock. Mystery of the manor house. Thousand Oaks, CA: Goldhil Media, 2003. Visual Material 3 videodiscs (approx. 230 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD ; 2.0 Dolby digital ; 5.1 Dolby digital. DVD release of the nine-part mini-series originally broadcast in 1982 by Granada Television. Special features include: interactive full motion menus, chapter selections, web links and photo gallery. Participants: Guy Henry, Heather Chasen, Eva Griffith, June Barry, Andrew Johns, Tim Brierley, Zuleika Robson, David Ryder-Futcher, John Fraser, Christopher Villiers, Jane Lowe, Ian McCurrach, Michael Irwin, Marina McConnell. Granada Colour Production ; produced by Pieter Rogers ; written by Gerald Frow ; directed by Nicholas Ferguson. Music specially composed by Paul Lewis. // A typhoid epidemic forces a 17-year-old Sherlock Holmes to come home from school early. While at home he uncovers a conspiracy to steal a precious diamond from Queen Victoria, and only he can stop it.
1666. Young Sherlock. Mystery of the manor house. [Thousand Oaks, CA]: Goldhil Video, 2003. Visual Material 3 videocassettes (252 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS. Originally produced for television broadcast in 1982. Participants: Guy Henry, Heather Chasen, Eva Griffith, June Barry, Andrew Johns, Tim Brierley, Lewis Fiander, Jon Fraser, Jane Lowe, David Ryder-Futcher, Christopher Villiers. Granada Television ; producer, Pieter Rogers ; writer, Gerald Frow ; director, Nicholas Ferguson. // A typhoid epidemic forces a 17-year-old Sherlock Holmes to come home from school early. While at home he uncovers a conspiracy to steal a precious diamond from Queen Victoria, and only he can stop it.
1667. Abbott Jr, John B. "The Diving Horse." Writing 30, no. 1 (2007): 12-13.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article presents the author's experience as a school boy. He narrates that he enjoyed reading comic books and books of authors like Daniel Defoe, Washington Irving, Mark Twain and Arthur Conan Doyle. He recalls that at the beginning of a school year, he was assigned to write an essay about summer vacation.
1668. Abel, Allen. "The Death of Death." Maclean's 118, no. 41 (2005): 160-168.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents the prediction of the author about the future life of his daughter in the year 2105. Three possible ways for life to progress, including the ability of living forever; Way that brains can be stored into computers; Principles created by Nick Bostrom, director of the Future of Humanity Institute at Oxford University; Thoughts about cryonics and freezing one's head; Questions about whether our children can remember their past lives; Description of the book "Life Before Life--A Scientific Investigation of Children's Memories of Previous Lives," by Jim Tucker. Inset: Freeze Frames. Opens with a quotation from Doyle: "Preoccupations of food, money, pain, etc. are of the body and are gone. Music, the arts, intellectual and spiritual knowledge and progress have increased. The people are clothed, as one would expect. . . . People live in communities, as one would expect if like attracts like, and the male spirit still finds his true mate. These, roughly speaking, are the lines of the life beyond." (Maclean's, February 1918)

1669. Abend, Sander M. "Unconscious Fantasy and Modern Conflict Theory." Psychoanalytic Inquiry 28, no. 3 (2008): 117-130.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article traces the evolution of the concept of unconscious fantasy from its origins in Freud's early clinical writings to its place in the theory and practice of modern conflict theory. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...It will come as no great surprise to add that my inner preferences and tendencies also contribute to important recreational interests of mine, like my devotion to the literature of espionage and detective stories, to codes and ciphers, and so on. I certainly thought of the model typified by Sherlock Holmes in my pleasurable immersion in the challenge of medical diagnostics during my preparatory education, and this imagery, reinforced to be sure by its childhood antecedents, carried over quite naturally to my early conceptualization of the work of psychoanalysis...."

1670. Abrahams, Peter. Behind the curtain : an Echo Falls mystery. 1st ed. New York: Laura Geringer Books, 2006.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 22 cm. Sequel to: Down the rabbit hole. // An avid Sherlock Holmes fan, eighth grader Ingrid Levin-Hill is kidnapped while investigating mysterious happenings in her home town.

1671. ———. Down the rabbit hole : an Echo Falls mystery. New York: Laura Geringer Books, 2005.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 1st ed. 22 cm. Scuttlebutt Apr 2005 // Like her idol Sherlock Holmes, eighth-grader Ingrid Levin-Hill uses her intellect to solve a murder case in her hometown of Echo Falls.

1672. ———. Into the dark : an Echo Falls mystery. 1st ed, (Echo Falls mysteries). New York: Laura Geringer Books, 2008.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 22 cm. // Thirteen-year-old Sherlock Holmes aficionado Ingrid Levin-Hill tries to clear her grandfather's name when he is accused of murdering an environmental activist found dead on his farm.

1673. ———. The tutor. 1st ed. New York: Ballantine Books, 2002.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 25 cm. Accelerated Reader/Renaissance Learning; UG; 4.5; 15. Scuttlebutt Oct 2005. // "Suspense, featuring girl-in-peril precocious 11-year-old Ruby Gardner, who is passionate about Sherlock Holmes (published as a paperback in 2003)."

1674. ———. The tutor. Center Point large type ed. Thorndike, ME: Center Point Pub.: Melbourne, Australia: Bolinda Publ, 2003.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 22 cm. //

1675. ———. The tutor. London: Penguin, 2003.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 19 cm. //

1676. Abuk, Christina. "Urbanisation's long shadows: Mariama Bă's So Long A Letter." Journal of Ethnic & Migration Studies 29, no. 4 (2003): 723.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This paper explores the text and context of Miriama Bă's 1979 novel, So Long A Letter, as a view of globalist and localist approaches to migration expressed in the popular cultural form of narrative fiction. Includes reference to Doyle.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1677. Accardo, Pasquale. "Get Me to the Church On Time." Baker Street West 13, no. 2 (1997): 18-20.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1678. ———. "The Hedgehog and the Fox: Higher Criticism, Canonical Fundamentalism, and the Transcendental Anthropology of Sherlock Holmes." Shoso-In Bulletin 7, no. (1997): 50-56.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1679. ———. "I Wed Three Wives." The Norwegian Explorers of Minnesota Christmas Annual, no. (2007): 39.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1680. ———. "More French Blood for Holmes!" The Norwegian Explorers of Minnesota Christmas Annual, no. (2003): 43-45.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1681. ———. "Mr. Holmes Comes to Tea." Shoso-In Bulletin 12, no. (2002): 144-147.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1682. ———. "Second Thoughts on the Second Stain." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 49, no. 1 (1999): 47-50.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1683. ———. "This Lady's Not For Burning." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 52, no. 1 (2002): 24-26.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1684. ———. "The Unclear Saint: Reflections on the Phenomenon of Mirroring in 'The Man with the Twisted Lip'." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 50, no. 4 (2000): 14-16.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1685. ———. "Watson Wrote Fiction." Shoso-In Bulletin 8, no. (1998): 37-40.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1686. ———. "A Wooden Narrative." The Norwegian Explorers of Minnesota Christmas Annual, no. (2005): 22-26.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1687. ———. "Yes, Virginia, There Is a Mrs. Sherlock Holmes." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 50, no. 1 (2000): 31-34.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1688. Accardo, Pasquale J. Diagnosis and Detection : the medical iconography of Sherlock Holmes. Rutherford : Fairleigh Dickinson University Press: London, 1987.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 25 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. 134-136) and index. Also issued online. //
1689. Accardo, Pasquale J, and Claire Accardo. The Spenserian Holmes being the annotated manuscript of "The hell of the Baskervilles". Shelburne, Ont, Sauk City, Wisconsin: Battered Silicon Dispatch Box, 1998.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references (p. lxxviii-lxxix) and index //
1690. Accardo, Pasquale J., and Arthur Conan Doyle. Poetry could be versh. Shelburne, Ont.: Battered Silicon Dispatch Box, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Illustrated by Claire Accardo. // Poems based on the Sherlock Holmes stories. "Presented to the Baker Street Irregulars on the occasion of Christmas 2003 and the 2004 BSI birthday celebration. This edition is limited to 221 copies..."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1691. Ackroyd, Peter. "London : the biography." Nan A. Talese, 2000.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 1st ed. ill. (some col.), maps ; 25 cm. Originally published: London : Chatto & Windus, 2000. Includes bibliographical references (p. [761]-773) and index. // "'The image of London as a human body is striking and singular,' Ackroyd notes, and his book is full of anecdotes and insight and fine writing (and there are occasional mentions of Conan Doyle and Holmes, of course)."
1692. ———. "London : the biography." Chatto & Windus, 2000.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. (some col.) ; 24 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. 781-793) and index. //
1693. ———. London : the biography. New York: Anchor Books, 2001.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. (some col.), maps ; 24 cm. Originally published: London : Chatto & Windus, 2000. Includes bibliographical references (p. [761]-773) and index. //
1694. ———. London : the biography. 1st Anchor Books ed. New York: Anchor Books, 2003.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. (some col.) ; 24 cm. Includes bibliographical references and index. //
1695. ———. London : the biography. London: Vintage, 2001.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. (some col.), facsim. (some col.), maps (some col.), ports. (some col.) ; 24 cm. Originally published: London : Chatto & Windus, 2000. Includes bibliographical references and index. //
1696. Ackroyd, Peter, and Thomas Wright. The collection. London: Chatto & Windus, 2001.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 25 cm. Includes index. edited and with an introduction by Thomas Wright. // "Reviews and essays, including his review of 'Young Sherlock Holmes' in The Spectator (1985)."
1697. ———. The collection. London: Vintage, 2002.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 24 cm. Originally published: London: Chatto & Windus, 2001. "Journalism, reviews, essays, short stories, lectures"--Cover. Includes index. Edited and with an introduction by Thomas Wright. //
1698. Adamovich, Marina. "Judith with the Head of Holofernes." Russian Studies in Literature 38, no. 1 (2001): 85.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Examines pseudoclassicism in Russian literature during the 1990s. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "By persisting in calling his Seagull a 'comedy,' Akunin is therefore not imitating the genre of Chekhov's piece in the same way that Fandorin imitates Sherlock Holmes."
1699. Adams, Guy. "Pandora." The Independent (London), August 24, 2004: 10.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "...Fans of Arthur Conan Doyle will be keeping a beady eye on The Return of Sherlock Holmes, which is being made by the BBC. Its leading man, Rupert Everett...looks sure to upset traditionalists...."
1700. Adams, James Eli. "Recent Studies in the Nineteenth Century." SEL Studies in English Literature 1500-1900 41, no. 4 (2001): 827-879.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes multiple references to Doyle and Holmes.
1701. Adams, Michael. "Audio." Library Journal 131, no. 5 (2006): 108-110.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // An annotated directory of audiobooks is provided including Carr, Caleb. The Italian Secretary: A Further Adventure of Sherlock Holmes. 4 cassettes, unabridged. 7 hrs. S. & S. Audio. 2005. ISBN 0-7435-5003-X [ISBN 978-0-7435-5003-1]. $26. "When two men are killed during the renovation of the royal palace at Holyrood in Scotland, Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson are summoned. Mycroft Holmes, the famous detective's brother, is a trusted advisor to Queen Victoria and wants to prevent a possible assassination attempt. Clues point to the involvement of David Rizzio, but the Italian secretary of Mary, Queen of Scots, was murdered at Holyrood 300 years earlier. Carr seems a natural to try his hand at a Holmes adventure since the psychologist hero of The Alienist, his best-known novel, uses methods similar to those of the consulting detective. As with The Alienist, this book offers plenty of period detail and is written in a slightly stiff style, approximating that of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Carr's Sherlock seems a bit vague, with Watson and Mycroft being much more specific and interesting. Simon Prebble, one of the best readers of mysteries, employs a variety of voices and accents to heighten the Victorian verisimilitude. Recommended for all popular collections."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1702. ———. "Audio." Library Journal (1976) 130, no. 20 (2005): 183.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // An annotated bibliography of fiction and nonfiction audiobooks is provided. Includes Cullin, Mitch. A Slight Trick of the Mind. 6 CDs. unabridged. 7 1/4 hrs. HighBridge Audio. 2005. ISBN 1-56511-950-9. $29.95. "Cullin takes an unusual approach to Sherlock Holmes by creating a character study of the elderly detective instead of having him solve a traditional mystery. A Slight Trick of the Mind alternates between three narratives: the 93-year-old Holmes in retirement, keeping bees at his cottage on the Sussex coast; a visit to Japan shortly after World War II; and flashbacks to a case of a missing wife years earlier. The author smoothly ties the three strands together to present Holmes's regret over his underdeveloped emotional nature. A death for which Holmes bears some responsibility results in the cold, distant old man seeking forgiveness. The sections depicting the detective in his prime and the sojourn to Japan are full of colorful period detail. Cullin's moving story of the necessity and pain of love is brilliantly handled by Simon Jones, who creates a wonderfully evocative, gruff voice for Holmes. Recommended for all collections."
1703. ———. "Holmes on the Range." Library Journal 132, no. 12 (2007): 130-130.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the audiobook "Holmes on the Range," by Steve Hockensmith.
1704. ———. "The Italian Secretary: A Further Adventure of Sherlock Holmes." Library Journal 131, no. 5 (2006): 108-108.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the audiobook "The Italian Secretary: A Further Adventure of Sherlock Holmes," by Caleb Carr.
1705. ———. "On the Wrong Track." Library Journal 132, no. 13 (2007): 129-129.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book on tape "On the Wrong Track," by Steve Hockensmith.
1706. Addy, John. "Arsene Lupin Versus Sherlock Holmes." The Musgrave Papers, no. 10 (1997): 35-43.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1707. ———. "'The Cardboard Box' Lost in Transit." The Musgrave Papers, no. 11 (1998): 21-29.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1708. ———. "Echoes of Holmes and Watson." The Musgrave Papers, no. 9 (1996): 112-117.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1709. ———. "Holmes and Watson: Situation Comedy at its best." The Musgrave Papers, no. 8 (1995): 7-11.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1710. ———. "Joseph Bell -- The Original Good Doctor." The Musgrave Papers, no. 7 (1994): 72-82.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1711. ———. "Parliamentary, My Dear Watson." The Ritual, no. 21 (1998): 31-39.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1712. ———. "Review--Sherlock Holmes in Orbit edited by Mike Resnick and Martin H. Greenberg." The Ritual, no. 16 (1995): 59-60.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1713. ———. "Review--The Bedside, Bathtub, Armchair Companion to Sherlock Holmes by Dick Riley and Pam McAllister." The Ritual, no. 23 (1999): 56-57.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

1714. ———. "Review--The Sherlock Holmes I.Q. Book by Eamonn Butler and Madsen Pirie." The Ritual, no. 15 (1995): 53-54.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

1715. ———. "Second Shelf Collecting." The Ritual, no. 27 (2001): 12-15.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

1716. ———. "Two Lost Sherlockian Tales? An Examination of The Lost Special and The Man With the Watches." The Ritual, no. 23 (1999): 39-43.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

1717. Adey, Robert. As it might have been: a collection of Sherlockian parodies from unlikely sources. Ashcroft, B.C.: Calabash Press, 1998.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Dec 1999 // The thirty-eight short stories in this collection originally appeared in various, mostly obscure, papers and magazines dating back to 1893. "His research in humor magazines from the 1890s onward has uncovered many previously unreprinted examples of what writers have done with and to Sherlock Holmes."

1718. Adler, Jonathan E. "Surprise." Educational Theory 58, no. 2 (2008): 149-173.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // 'Surprise is of great value for learning, especially in cases where deep-seated preconceptions and assumptions are upset by vivid demonstrations. In this essay the author explores the ways in which surprise positively affects us and serves as a valuable tool for motivating learning.' Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "In the Sherlock Holmes story 'Silver Blaze,' there is a famous exchange beginning with Watson's question to Holmes: 'Is there any other point to which you would wish to draw my attention?... The dog's doing nothing is 'curious' because were the perpetrator to have been a stranger the dog would have barked. Given that expectation, the dog's doing nothing becomes a surprise, from which Holmes 'deduces' that the perpetrator is the dog's owner...."

1719. Adrian, Jack. "Obituary: Richard Lancelyn Green; Collector and Bibliographer of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle." The Independent (London), April 8, 2004: 34.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Richard Lancelyn Green devoted his life to one of the great icons of popular culture of the 20th century, the most celebrated fictional detective of all, Sherlock Holmes. Over a period of nearly 40 years he accumulated not just the bedrock of any collection, the books by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, but masses of material relating to both Holmes and Doyle - from examples of the author's personal correspondence to items such as the cigarette case inscribed 'From Sherlock Holmes' and presented by Doyle to Sidney Paget, the illustrator of the Holmes stories. At the same time he turned his hobby into a full-time occupation by producing books and articles on Holmes, and co-authoring one of the most comprehensive bibliographies of any writer...."

1720. Agathocleous, Tanya. "London Mysteries and international conspiracies: James, Doyle, and the aesthetics of cosmopolitanism." Nineteenth-Century Contexts 26, no. 2 (2004): 125-148.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses the striking commonalities between the writings of British fiction writers Henry James and Arthur Conan Doyle. Authors' fascination with aesthetic perception, international conspiracy, and the mysteries of urban life; Their literary depiction of the city of London, its contrast of wealth and poverty, and its place in world history; Association between the concept of cosmopolitanism and aestheticism.

1721. Ahlberg, Allan, and Fritz Wegner. The better Brown stories. New York: Viking, 1995.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 96138447; Scuttlebutt July 1996 // Unhappy with the stories that are shaping their lives, the members of the Brown family go to see the writer responsible. "A grand existentialist story for children, about 'a monstrous dog, a monstrous Milkman, free money, some Mysterious Men, a forgotten baby, baffled police, and a bewildered town.' The monstrous dog isn't our Hound, but the author does thank Sir Arthur Conan Doyle in the Acknowledgements, and rightfully so. Ahlberg is British,

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

and with his wife Janet has written many other childrens' books that are reported to be just as good, if not as Sherlockian, as this one."

1722. Aig, Marlene. "Bootmaker Meeting, 22 January 1994." The Serpentine Muse 12, no. 4 (1994): 7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1723. Aiken, Bruce. "Does 'The Resident Patient' Prove That There are Fictional Elements in the Sherlockian Canon?" Canadian Holmes 28, no. 4 (2005): 25-27.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1724. ———. "In Re Bruce-Partington Plans." Canadian Holmes 18, no. 3 (1995): 4-9.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1725. ———. "Letter to the Editor: Hono(u)r Among Sherlockians." Canadian Holmes 26, no. 4 (2003): 5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1726. ———. "Poisonous Pottery of The Case of the Toxic Teacups." Canadian Holmes 29, no. 3 (2006): 4-7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1727. ———. "Some Comments of Vitriol and Some Vitriolic Comments on ILLU." The Serpentine Muse 15, no. 3 (1999): 14-18.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1728. ———. "Some Comments on Class, Race and Ethnic Prejudice in the Sherlockian Canon." Canadian Holmes 22, no. 1 (1998): 18-24.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1729. Aitchison, Ellay. "ACD Sonnet the Fifth." Canadian Holmes 23, no. 4 (2000): 23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1730. ———. "ACD Sonnet the Fourth." Canadian Holmes 22, no. 1 (1998): 15.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1731. ———. "ACD Sonnet the Ninth." Canadian Holmes 22, no. 4 (1999): 32.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1732. ———. "ACD Sonnet the Sixth." Canadian Holmes 23, no. 2 (1999): 5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1733. ———. "ACD Sonnet the Tenth." Canadian Holmes 18, no. 2 (1994): 36.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1734. ———. "ACD Sonnet XVIII." Canadian Holmes 20, no. 2 (1996): 46.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1735. ———. "ACD Sonnet XXVI." Canadian Holmes 25, no. 1 (2001): 19.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1736. ———. "A Sonnet." Canadian Holmes 18, no. 1 (1994): 14.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1737. Aitchison, Ellay, Arthur Conan Doyle, and Leonard A Haffenden. The Adventure of the awful apparition: a play in three acts (and an encore). 1st ed, (Premium petrel). North Vancouver, B.C: Hansom Press Limited, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1738. Akbar, Arifa. "Sherlock Holmes and the case of the Hollywood duel." The Independent (London), July 3, 2008: 6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Sherlock Holmes, the pipe-smoking Victorian super-sleuth with a penchant for drugs, is to become the subject of a face-off by two Hollywood studios which are both bringing out films about Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's literary hero. In one camp is Columbia Pictures, which has announced the making of an as yet untitled comedy starring Sacha Baron Cohen as Holmes and Will Ferrell as his sidekick, Watson. Squaring up to Columbia is Warner Brothers, whose Guy Ritchie-directed project Sherlock Holmes, which will portray the legendary detective as a punching, sword-jousting comic book-style adventure hero...."
1739. Akst, Daniel. "The Forgotten Plague." American Heritage 51, no. 8 (2000): 72.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Details United States doctor Joseph Goldberger's discovery of the cure for pellagra in 1915. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "The conquest of pellagra was a triumph of epidemiology over an affliction perhaps as ancient as the Bible, but it was also a triumph of one remarkable man, a medical Sherlock Holmes who fought ignorance, politics, and injustice as well as the disease."
1740. Akunin, Boris, and Andrew Bromfield. Murder on the Leviathan : a novel. New York: Random House, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 1st ed. 25 cm. Translated by Andrew Bromfield. // "Erast Fandorin, a young Russian detective/diplomat, travels to India in 1878 on the maiden voyage of the Leviathan, and there are murders to solve (Dennis Drabelle reviewed the book in the May 16 issue of the Washington Post and noted echoes of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle in 'the detective's ability to fill in a character's background by noticing what is lost on less keen-eyed observers')."
1741. Albanese, Andrew. "UVA library's free E-books a success." Library Journal 125, no. 19 (2000): 14.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The University of Virginia's (UVA) new e-book program has been a success. Officials at the Electronic Text Center at UVA say that since 1,200 of its 50,000 online texts were released for download in August 2000, there have been over 600,000 downloads of free e-books. According to the director of the center, the validation of the concept of the e-book has been greatly assisted by the popularity of its e-book holdings. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...E-books currently available range from the Bible and all of Shakespeare, to classic authors like Charles Dickens, Lewis Carroll, Robert Frost, Arthur Conan Doyle, Shelley, Charles Darwin, and Jane Austen...."
1742. Alberge, Dalya. "Holmes archive row ends in GBP2m bequest." The Times (London), August 6, 2004: 11.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The world's leading authority on Sherlock Holmes, who was found garotted on his bed three months ago, has bequeathed his Pounds 2 million collection of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's papers to the nation. Richard Lancelyn Green was found dead at 50 after trying in vain to stop the sale of another Pounds 2 million collection of Doyle papers, some of which he felt should have been left to the British Library. An open verdict on his death was recorded. Mr Lancelyn Green left more than 20,000 Doyle manuscripts and memorabilia, amassed over more than 40 years, to Portsmouth, where Dr Conan Doyle had his medical practice and where he created his legendary detective...."
1743. ———. "Holmes archive row ends in Pounds 2m bequest." The Times (London), Aug 6, 2004: 11.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Mr [Richard Lancelyn Green] left more than 20,000 [Arthur Conan Doyle] manuscripts and memorabilia, amassed over more than 40 years, to Portsmouth, where Dr Conan Doyle had his medical practice and where he created his legendary detective. Doyle's daughter, Dame Jean, died in 1997 at the age of 84. She stipulated in her will that Sherlock Holmes manuscripts were to go to the British Library and museums in Edinburgh, Doyle's birthplace, and Southsea or Portsmouth, where he worked as a doctor and where he created [Holmes]. Mr Lancelyn Green's brother, Scirard, said yesterday: 'It's truly fitting that Richard's life work should go to Portsmouth. Conan Doyle wrote the first two Sherlock Holmes stories there, so in some way his work is going home.'"
1744. ———. "The spirited beginning of Sherlock Holmes." The Times (London), September 15, 2007: 28.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Sherlock Holmes may have been the epitome of scientific reason, but Arthur Conan Doyle, his creator, was obsessed by seances and spiritualism. Notebooks describing his earliest contact

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

with mediums and psychic phenomena have emerged this week, 120 years after he wrote them, proving that his interest in seances had started 30 years earlier than previously thought. The author was working as a doctor in Portsmouth when he attended his first seance in 1887, the year that he published his first Sherlock Holmes story, A Study in Scarlet....The contents of the notebooks, which date from 1885 to 1889, are disclosed in a new biography, Conan Doyle: The Man Who Created Sherlock Holmes, by Andrew Lycett...."

1745. Alberstat, Mark. "The Papers of Lasting Impressions Sherlock Holmes, Arthur Conan Doyle, and Sport." Canadian Holmes 22, no. 2 (1998): 5-8.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1746. ———. "Sherlock Holmes and Rugby." Canadian Holmes 18, no. 3 (1995): 16-18.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1747. Alberti, Samuel J. M. M. "Conversazioni and the Experience of Science in Victorian England." Journal of Victorian Culture 8, no. 2 (2003): 208.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses the role of social gatherings held by the learned and art societies called, 'conversazione,' on the experience of science during England's Victorian period. Includes reference to Doyle and drawing by Richard Doyle. "In Arthur Conan Doyle's 1891 short story 'The Voice of Science', for example, a conversazione is held in a private residence..."
1748. Albrecht, Bob, and Paul Davis. "Elemental, my dear Holmes, elemental." Learning and Leading with Technology 27, no. 8 (2000): 22-27.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Web sites and activities that invite students to examine some of the mysteries of Mars and the human body are presented. The Web sites offer information on the percentages by mass of the elements of the human body, the atmospheres of the Earth and some other planets, and the structures of Earth and Mars. The activities encourage students to make a table and bar chart showing the masses in kilograms of the elements in their bodies and create a table and bar chart showing the percent by mass of water, fats, carbohydrates, proteins, and bone in the human body of their choice. The introduction and concluding sections of the article contain multiple references to Holmes and Doyle. The last section includes information on the first appearance of the phrase "elementary, my dear Watson, elementary." There are additional references to the timeline created by Les Klinger as part of his research.
1749. Aldrich, Fred. "On the Birthday of Sherlock Holmes: Some Thoughts About Oysters." Canadian Holmes 28, no. 2 (2004): 15-17.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1750. ———. "The Terror of Tender-Skinned Bathers." Canadian Holmes 26, no. 1 (2002): 6-8.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1751. Aldrich, Gary. "Modernizing the FBI Is an Open-and-Shut Case." Human Events 57, no. 32 (2001): 10.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Urges the modernization of the United States Federal Bureau of Investigation, with a passing reference to Holmes. "And who can dispute the tremendous advances in technology that enables law enforcement agencies to find records and persons with a rapidity that would make Sherlock Holmes' head spin?"
1752. Alexander, Arthur M. Hot on the scent: a visitor's guide to the London of Sherlock Holmes. Rev. and expanded ed. Ashcroft, B.C: Calabash Press, 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references (p. 267-272) and index //
1753. Alexander, David. "Early ghostbusters." Skeptic 4, no. 4 (1996): 42.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents information on the early works of spirit paintings and how the mystery behind such paintings were revealed. Includes reference to Doyle and Holmes. "Spiritualism was championed by many of the leading lights of the age, including the naturalist Alfred Russel Wallace, the physicists William Crookes and Oliver Lodge, and even Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, who demonstrated none of his literary alter-

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

ego's legendary deductive reasoning skills when confronting the supernatural. (Doyle gave hundreds of thousands of pounds to the British Society for Psychical Research and thought it would be for his support and defense of spiritualism that he would be remembered, not his creation of Sherlock Holmes.)"

1754. Alexander, Marlene. "While in London, Lunch with the Great Detective." The Toronto Star, November 4, 2000: 16.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "...The Sherlock Holmes Public House and Restaurant proves an irresistible lure for a long-time fan of the Great Detective. My husband and teenage daughter agree, in view of its being the noon hour, that the situation bears further investigation. Ha, the game is afoot! Inside, we find that the lower floor is devoted to the bar. It seems the typical English pub except for the memorabilia that adorns the walls, among them Dr. Watson's service revolver and the stuffed and mounted head of the Hound of the Baskervilles...."

1755. Alexander, Neal. "Mapping junkspace: Ciaran Carson's urban cartographies." Textual Practice 21, no. 3 (2007): 505-532.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The article discusses the status and function of maps and mapping within the field of cultural theory. It reflects on positions in cultural theory and spatial analysis as a means of examining the ways in which Ciaran Carson's representations of Belfast, Northern Ireland serve to dislocate habitual frameworks for apprehending the city attending to its multiple articulations across time and space." Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...But if Irish -- which is his first language -- flows beneath the surface of Carson's writing in English like an underground river, then his Irish has also taken on the colouring of the latter's more pervasive general influence. In The Star Factory, he relates how his father would cull stories from The Arabian Nights, the Brothers Grimm, Robert Louis Stevenson and Arthur Conan Doyle, then retell them to his children in Irish, which is emphatically designated as 'the language of the home'...."

1756. Ali, Lorraine, and Rob O'Connor. "Recordings." Rolling Stone, no. 735 (1996): 46.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the music recording 'To the Faithful Departed' by The Cranberries. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "Among the best potential hit material is 'Free to Decide' (it shouldn't take Sherlock Holmes to guess what this song is about), which moves along gracefully despite O'Riordan's need to be extra meaningful."

1757. Alkally, Rachel. "United by a common quest." The Gazette (Montreal), Jan 22, 2005: H6.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Fortunately, I was not alone on my quest; I was the tag-along of Professor Graeme Decarie, who had been invited as a result of his Sherlockian-related comments in the newspaper. A lone fan of the Victorian detective since childhood, lost in a sea of Nancy Drew and Hardy Boys aficionados, I was looking forward, apprehensively, to meeting like-minded folk. Would they be a wizened group of doddering old men and women, dressed in 19th-century costume, querulously picking at the 56 short stories and four novels that make up The Canon, the 'bible' of Sherlockian scholars? Or a collection of ex-hippies living in fantasyland? The current hot topic - sure to be debated at several meetings - is the mysterious death, in London, England, of Richard Lancelyn Green, the foremost Sherlockian scholar, a mystery worthy of the best detecting abilities of Sherlock Holmes, who, as every devotee knows, is alive and well and tending his bees on the Sussex Downs. Which is why every world-wide Sherlockian society from London to Tokyo celebrates his Jan. 6 birthday sometime this month with festive dinners - Victorian costumes welcome."

1758. Alkon, Paul. "The Tale of the Next Great War, 1871-1914: Fictions of Future Warfare and of Battles Still-to-come (Book Review)." Utopian Studies 8, no. 1 (1997): 147.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book The Tale of the Next Great War, 1871-1914: Fictions of Future Warfare and of Battles Still-to-come, edited by I.F. Clarke. Includes a reference to Doyle. "We go below to experience submarine warfare in George Griffith's 'The Raid of Le Vengeur' (1901) and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's 'Danger! Being the Log of Captain John Sirius' (1914)."

1759. Alldritt, Keth. "Sherlock in Summer: The Northern Musgraves' Garden Party, Saturday 20 July 1966." The Musgrave Papers, no. 9 (1996): 118-119.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1760. Allen, Brooke. "Adventures in Pop Culture." New Leader 88, no. 3 (2005): 36-38.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents information on the plot of two adventure-related fiction books. "The Mysterious Flame of Queen Loana," by Umberto Eco; "Zorro," by Isabel Allende. Includes passing reference to Holmes.
1761. Allen, Conrad. Murder on the Celtic. 1st ed. New York: St. Martin's Minotaur, 2007.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2006048685 // "A dangerous fugitive and a series of thefts mar a voyage the Celtic makes in 1910 from New York to London in Allen's satisfying eighth shipboard mystery to feature the husband-wife detective team of Bostonian George Porter Dillman and Englishwoman Genevieve Masefield (after 2006's Murder on the Oceanic). While the lovely Genevieve fends off suitors vying for her affections (the pair conceal their marriage supposedly for more efficient sleuthing), she and George are on the lookout for Edward Hammond, a thief wanted for murder who might have sneaked on board. Among the legitimate first-class passengers is novelist Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, whose cherished first edition of his novel A Study in Scarlet—which introduced the character of Sherlock Holmes—goes missing. The light, well-executed plot will live up to the expectations of Allen's fans."
1762. Allen, Grant. An African millionaire : episodes in the life of the illustrious Colonel Clay. Maryland, Rockville: James A. Rock & Co., 2002.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 23 cm. Reprint of the 1897 ed. published by G. Richards, London. //
1763. Allen Jr, John L. "Power, secrecy feed conspiracy theories in Vatican City. (Cover story)." National Catholic Reporter 34, no. 35 (1998): 15.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents information on deaths, money scandals and descendants of Jesus. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "According first to Hugh Schonfield in his 1967 book, The Passover Plot, and expanded later into a near-cosmic conspiracy stretching over two millennia by Michael Baigent, Richard Leigh and Henry Lincoln in Holy Blood, Holy Grail (Dell, 1982), those events are indeed mysteries, but of the Sherlock Holmes rather than the supernatural sort."
1764. Allen, Moira. "@Deadline." Writer 114, no. 6 (2001): 12.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Covers issues related to writing and writers as of June 2001. Includes reference to the publication of The Haunted Grange of Goresthorpe by Doyle.
1765. Allen, Mel. "Springtime's Savory Gift." Yankee 69, no. 4 (2005): 96-104.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Highlights the shad season in Connecticut River Valley. Habitat of shads; Factors that contributed to the special attributes of shads in Connecticut; Traditional way of cooking shads. Mention made, under "What Not to Miss," of Gillette Castle: "Gillette Castle, 860-526-2336. 67 River Rd., East Haddam. One of the more unforgettable sights on the river is your first glimpse of the castle, the former home of actor William Gillette, the first American Sherlock Holmes. Now a state park, the grounds are open year-round, while self-guided castle tours begin Memorial Day weekend. A special way to arrive is to cross the river on the historic little ferry from Chester. dep.state.ct.us/stateparks/parks/gillettecastle.htm"
1766. Allen-Mills, Tony. "Curious case of the return of Sherlock." The Sunday Times (London), March 15, 1998: 14.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Almost 70 years after the death of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, the creator of Sherlock Holmes, England's greatest fictional detective is poised for a literary comeback. A new series of Holmes stories, written by modern authors, is likely to follow the conclusion of one of Conan Doyle's most impenetrable mysteries - the case of his disputed copyrights. After a six-year legal wrangle for control of Conan Doyle's literary legacy, Judge Eliot Wilk of the New York state supreme court delivered his verdict last week on a bruising copyright case that began with a British bankruptcy and was complicated by an American divorce...."
1767. Alleva, Richard. "Cheaper Than Crack: Keeping us hooked on TV." Commonweal 127, no. 17 (2000): 17.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents information on the intervention of politicians in the business and labor disputes of television networks in the United States. Includes a passing reference to Doyle and Holmes.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

- "...Before 1980, the literary prototype for the typical dramatic or comic TV series was the sort of thing Conan Doyle did with the Sherlock Holmes short story: each episode was a complete experience, and the audience would keep watching if they liked being in the company of Marshal Dillon or Ralph and Alice Kramden...."
1768. ———. "I Read the Book." Commonweal 128, no. 5 (2001): 23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'Hannibal,' by Thomas Harris. Includes reference to Doyle and Holmes.
1769. ———. "'A' is for appalling." Commonweal 122, no. 20 (1995): 20.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents information on the movies 'The Scarlet Letter' and 'To Die For'. Includes a passing reference to Holmes (in the person of Brett). "Edward Harwick (Dr. Watson to the late Jeremy Brett's Sherlock Holmes on PBS) makes the Puritan governor a recognizable human being, but the rest of the supporting cast is spurious, with even the great Joan Plowright reduced to dimpling and twinkling."
1770. Allington, Daniel. "How to Do Things with Literature: Blasphemous Speech Acts, Satanic Intentions, and the Uncommunicativeness of Verses." Poetics Today 29, no. 3 (2008): 473-523.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Literature has at times been theorized in terms of a message passing from author to reader, and this has often been done by reference to general theories of language use: the work is the vehicle of intentions that are realized (or not) in the reader's responses; the work is a "speech act" that operates on the reader and causes his or her responses. Although this article argues that such theorizations mistake the role of communication in literature, it suggests that they nonetheless reflect prevalent ways of talking about literary texts, which should be investigated as tactically useful techniques employed in discourse between readers (and nonreaders) of those texts...." Footnote 1 makes the following mention of Doyle and Holmes: "...All works of fiction, verse, and drama will here be referred to as 'literary works,' regardless of distinctions that might be made between 'literary' and 'nonliterary' fiction, verse, and drama. (Cf. Searle [1979: 59-60]: 'The Sherlock Holmes stories of Conan Doyle are clearly works of fiction, but it is a matter of judgement whether they should be regarded as a part of English literature.')
1771. Allison, Graham, and Andrei Kokoshin. "The New Containment." National Interest, no. (2002): 9p.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Assesses the Alliance Against Nuclear Terrorism of the U.S. and Russia, with a passing reference to Holmes. "Contemplating the possibility of a criminal act, Sherlock Holmes investigated three factors: motive, means and opportunity."
1772. Aloff, Mindy. "Dance in Film." Chronicle of Higher Education 49, no. 49 (2003): B15.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on the presentation of dance in U.S. motion pictures, with a reference to Billy Wilder's The Private Life of Sherlock Holmes.
1773. Alspector-Kelly, Marc. "Pretending to See." Philosophical Psychology 19, no. 6 (2006): 713-728.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "There are three distinct projects--ontological, phenomenological, and conceptual--to pursue in the philosophy of perception. They are, however, rarely distinguished. Failure to distinguish them has resulted in their being pursued as one. Their completion then requires that they admit of the same solution, while accommodating the existence of misperception and the scientific facts concerning the perceptual process. The lesson to learn from misperceptions and those facts is, however, that no such common solution is possible, and that the projects must, and can, be pursued separately. Pursuit of the phenomenological and conceptual projects then requires a context in which discourse concerning objects of perception is permitted without ontological commitment to such objects. This is supplied by treating certain uses of perceptual locations as within a context of pretense." [Abstract from author] Includes references to Doyle and Holmes.
1774. Alter, Jonathan. "Big Media Gets Even Bigger." Newsweek 135, no. 4 (2000): 42.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses the problems with objectivity which occur when media and journalism companies are owned by larger corporations. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "It's like the Sherlock Holmes story of the dog that didn't bark."
1775. ———. "A call for Chinese walls." Newsweek 126, no. 7 (1995): 31.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Examines that the culture clash between journalists and business is becoming a source of major discomfort. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "It's like that Sherlock Holmes story-the dog that didn't bark."

1776. ———. "The dog that barked." Newsweek 130, no. 3 (1997): 53.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Opinion. Offers insights into how media companies try to suppress stories that may hurt them. With a passing reference to Doyle and Holmes. "Arthur Conan Doyle once wrote a famous Sherlock Holmes story about 'the dog that didn't bark.' That's the way it usually is with the suppression of information by media giants."

1777. Altman, Steven-Elliot, Michael Reaves, Bong Dazo, Simon Bowland, and Ben Templesmith. The Irregulars. 1st ed. Milwaukie, OR: Dark Horse Books, 2005.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A killer lurks in the shadows of Whitechapel and the police have a suspect, John Watson. To save his friend from the gallows, Sherlock Holmes enlists a band of street urchins to act as his eyes and ears on the streets 1778. Alvarez, Marino C. "Sherlock Holmes as College Professor." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 51, no. 1 (2001): 44-48.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

1779. Alvarez, Tom. "Elementary, My Dear Giacoia." Baker Street Miscellanea, no. 76 (1994): 19-26.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

1780. Alves, Abel. "Humanity's Place in Nature, 1863 - 1928: Horror, Curiosity and the Expeditions of Huxley, Wallace, Blavatsky and Lovecraft." Theology & Science 6, no. 1 (2008): 73-88.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a reference to Doyle. "...Even as Sherlock Holmes' creator, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, in the 1920s was promoting through a series of lectures on spiritualism in the United States the notion that one can contact the dead, Lovecraft was writing letters recoiling at the metaphysical notions of spiritualism and Theosophy, as well as Christian fundamentalism. While some people might 'give tremendous weight to the cunningly doctored reports of 'occult' phenomena popularized by men like Lodge, Doyle, and Flammarion,' there were others who 'refuse to think about such things at all...'"

1781. Amateur Mendicant Society (Madrid, Spain). The Amateur Mendicant Society's third case-book (Holmesian studies). Madrid: The Amateur Mendicant Society, 1996.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references //

1782. ———. Tercer Anuario de la Sociedad de Mendigos Aficionados. Madrid: the Society, 1997.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Feb 1997 // "The third casebook of The Amateur Mendicant Society of Madrid, and nicely done, with 296 pages of Sherlockian scholarship and pastiches by members of the society, with an interesting exploration of 'El Sultan de Turquia' and a section of studies devoted to 'La Finca 'Copper Beeches' and much more. It's all in Spanish."

1783. Amato, Ivan. "Bird's-Eye View." Fortune 151, no. 7 (2005): 34-36.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on people who have ultraviolet vision. Reference to the book Ms. Holmes of Baker Street, by Alan Bradley, another person with ultraviolet vision.

1784. Amend, Bill. May the force be with us, please a FoxTrot collection. Kansas City: Andrews and McMeel, 1994.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 94074264 // The six Sherlockian daily "Fox Trot" comic strips that ran in various newspapers on Mar. 8-13, 1993, are reprinted 1785. American Association for the History of Medicine, Meeting. "American Association for the History of Medicine: Report of the Seventy-First Annual Meeting." Bulletin of the History of Medicine 72, no. 3 (1998): 496-511.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- (71st : Toronto,Canada) // Includes a session with reference to Doyle. "Session B: Readers Theater as a Tool in Teaching History of Medicine (including a performance of Arthur Conan Doyle's 'The Doctors of Hoyland')"

1786. Amiel, Barbara. "Hitting below the belt." Maclean's 114, no. 33 (2001): 16.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Responds to media criticism of the late Canadian writer Mordecai Richler, with a passing reference to Holmes. "Eliminate the impossible, as Sherlock Holmes would say, and whatever remains, however improbable, must be the truth."
1787. Amirthanayagam, Guy. "His American Bow." The Washington Post, January 2, 2000: X07.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of Larry Millett's Sherlock Holmes and the Rune Stone Mystery.
1788. Amo, Michael F. "Incident investigations." Nursing Homes: Long Term Care Management 46, no. 9 (1997): 28.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on several approaches used in the incident investigation process by nursing homes in the United States, with a passing reference to Holmes.
1789. Amos, Ilona. "Television: Looking for Clues." Scotland on Sunday, July 24, 2005: 39.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "It's said that you must suffer for your art, but you must surely have to be passionate about your work to grow a moustache in order to perform your duties. It seems that a dislike for glue and heavy make-up meant that this is exactly what our Dougie Henshall did for his latest role, as Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, creator of the legendary sleuth Sherlock Holmes. We know that Doyle, a trained doctor, was fascinated by the macabre, but most of us probably picture him as a traditional Victorian gentleman, getting on in years and enjoying the success of his penmanship. But in The Strange Case of Sherlock Holmes and Arthur Conan Doyle, which is largely based on fact, we find the writer as an energetic 33-year-old struggling to deal with a dark secret that threatens to destroy him...."
1790. Ancèle, Jean-Pierre. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle : two famous Sherlock Holmes stories : "A scandal in Bohemia", "The red-headed league", (Référence). Paris: Ellipses, 1996.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 19 cm. Scandal in Bohemia -- Red-headed league. Présentation et notes de Jean-Pierre Ancèle. //
1791. Anders, Peter. "Hauntings: Ghosts, Technology and the Observer's Domain." Leonardo Electronic Almanac 12, no. 12 (2004): N.PAG.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Explores parallels between spiritualist and electronic communications technologies in the nineteenth century, and the manifestation of ghosts or other abstract, remote presences. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "Harriet Beecher Stowe, Arthur Conan Doyle and Horace Greeley attended spiritualist events and gatherings."
1792. Anderson, Carol M. "An Update for the Real New Millennium." Family process 40, no. 1 (2001): 1.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Editorial. Focuses on articles in the March 2001 issue of the 'Family Process' journal. Includes the Holmes joke that begins: "On a camping trip, Mr. Holmes and Dr. Watson set up their tent and fall asleep..."
1793. Anderson, Digby. "The Great Tradition." National Review 46, no. 7 (1994): 56-57.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article presents information on several authors who wrote books about moral adventure. Reference to Doyle and The White Company.
1794. Anderson, Daryll. "Physicians as Detectives in Detective Fiction of the 20th Century." Southern medical journal 95, no. 10 (2002): 1134.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Surprisingly few detectives are physicians in 20th-century detective fiction...." Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "Dr. John Evelyn Thorndyke, probably the most renowned physician-detective, appears in about 30 novels and a number of short-story collections by R. Austin Freeman.... His broad knowledge of dust, fibers, decomposition, and jewels far exceeds that of Sherlock Holmes."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1795. Anderson, David R. "Art and the Arbitrary." Baker Street Miscellanea, no. 75 (1994): 11-13.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1796. Anderson, Elijah. "The Ideologically Driven Critique." American Journal of Sociology 107, no. 6 (2002): 1533-1550.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Responds to sociologist Loic Wacquant's review and criticisms of the author's book entitled Code of the Street: Decency, Violence and the Moral Life of the Inner City. Opens with a quote from Holmes: "It is a capital mistake to theorise before one has data. Insensibly one begins to twist facts to suit theories, instead of theories to suit facts."
1797. Anderson, Linda. "A Ballad of Beryl." The Holmes & Watson Report 5, no. 5 (2001): 36-37.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1798. Anderson, L. M. "'A Present from a Certain Gracious Lady'." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 45, no. 1 (1995): 33-38.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1799. Anderson, Linda P. "The Dog's Tale." The Serpentine Muse 13, no. 2 (1997): 7-10.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1800. Anderson, Michael. "R. W. B. Lewis: an appreciation." New Criterion 25, no. 9 (2007): 77-70.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "The American Adam," by R. W. B. Lewis. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...A writer's voice is never stilled. Dick's books will illuminate the treasures of Henry James, Whitman, Edwin Arlington Robinson, Poe with the incidental delights of a reference to Sherlock Holmes (as befits a man devoted to murder mysteries)..."
1801. Anderson, Marlow, Victor J. Katz, and Robin J. Wilson. Sherlock Holmes in Babylon : and other tales of mathematical history, (Spectrum series). Washington, DC: Mathematical Association of America, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill., maps ; 28 cm. // "Has imaginative Sherlockian cover art, but only the artwork and title are Sherlockian. The original article appeared in the American Mathematical Monthly (May 1980) and was written by R. Creighton Buck, who started with an explanation: 'Let me begin by clarifying the title 'Sherlock Holmes in Babylon.' Lest some members of the Baker Street Irregulars be misled, my topic is the archaeology of mathematics.' And that was (and is) the only mention of Sherlock Holmes in the article and book.'
1802. Anderson, Poul. "Creeping in Camford." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 49, no. 2 (1999): 39-44.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1803. ———. "Ideas for science fiction." Writer 111, no. 9 (1998): 23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Opinion. Examines how the ideas for writing science fiction is generated, questioning where writers get their ideas. Reference to Holmes in the note on the author. "Among his many honors are seven Hugo and three Nebula Awards, the Tolkien Memorial Award for lifetime achievement in fantasy, and two Morley-Montgomery Awards for year's best essay on Sherlock Holmes."
1804. Anderson, Poul, and Karen Anderson. "An Asteroid Revisited." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 45, no. 4 (1995): 199-203.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1805. Anderson, William W. "Establishing a Protocol for Evaluating Prosocial Merit in Children's E/I Television Programs." Simile 7, no. 2 (2007): 1-14.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "This study used content analysis methodology to examine difference in levels of prosocial elements within similar E/I classified children's television series, Nickelodeon's Rugrats and PBS's Arthur, and compare them against levels of prosociality in two non E/I programs, The Cosby Show and The

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Simpsons, established in a previous research study." Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...A quick sampling of what broadcasters exhibit as 'educational' or 'informative' (E/I) children's television in 2007 can truly be an eye-opening experience. Few would question the merit of offerings such as Mister Roger's Neighborhood or Liberty's Kids displaying E/I badges. Indeed, programs such as The Littles and Sherlock Holmes in the 22nd Century arguably could qualify for inclusion due to their respective roots in classic literature. However, when broadcasters (who, themselves, assign E/I status to their offerings) slip in programs such as Saved by the Bell, The Smurfs, and Archie's Weird Mysteries, it becomes patently obvious that rules for membership within the E/I club are lax, to say the least...."

1806. André, Didierjean, and Gobet Fernand. "Sherlock Holmes -- an expert's view of expertise." British Journal of Psychology 99, no. 1 (2008): 109-125.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // In recent years, there has been an intense research effort to understand the cognitive processes and structures underlying expert behaviour. Work in different fields, including scientific domains, sports, games and mnemonics, has shown that there are vast differences in perceptual abilities between experts and novices, and that these differences may underpin other cognitive differences in learning, memory and problem solving. In this article, we evaluate the progress made in the last years through the eyes of an outstanding, albeit fictional, expert: Sherlock Holmes. We first use the Sherlock Holmes character to illustrate expert processes as described by current research and theories. In particular, the role of perception, as well as the nature and influence of expert knowledge, are all present in the description of Conan Doyle's hero. In the second part of the article, we discuss a number of issues that current research on expertise has barely addressed. These gaps include, for example, several forms of reasoning, the influence of emotions on cognition, and the effect of age on experts' knowledge and cognitive processes. Thus, although nearly 120-year-old, Conan Doyle's books show remarkable illustrations of expert behaviour, including the coverage of themes that have mostly been overlooked by current research. [Abstract from author]

1807. Andrae, Christopher. "The Case of the Tricky, Scene-Stealing Spouse." Christian Science Monitor, Nov 12, 1998: 9.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Recounts the author's experiences trying to tell a joke to his wife. Joke about Sherlock Holmes on a camping trip; Questions his wife asks to interrupt the joke; Her analysis of the joke.

1808. Andreoli, Richard. "Broadcast steps up." Advocate, no. (2005): 4p.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article presents an overview of several television programs and films about gays and lesbians. Includes reference to Sherlock Holmes and the Case of the Silk Stocking (PBS). "Rupert Everett stars as Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's famous Victorian detective in this new original story."

1809. Andrew, D. T. "Arthur Conan Doyle's Sherlock Holmes available on CD-ROM." PC Magazine 11, no. 11 (1992): 481.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the CD-ROM computer game Sherlock Holmes on Disc! from CMC Research. Features; Purchase price and address.

1810. Andrews, Crispin. "Starter Holmes." The Times Educational Supplement, no. 4566 (2004): 14-15.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A unit of work on observation and logical deduction that invites students to emulate Sherlock Holmes, the fictional detective created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, is provided.

1811. Andrews, D. K. "The Case of 'J': A Psychoanalytic Case Study with Particular Attention to 'Marriage Neurosis'." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 53, no. 3 (2003): 25-34.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

1812. Andrews, Marke. "Booking time for 10 great reads this year: The Best of Books; [Final Edition]." Dec 28, 1994: C4.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "...The Case of Emily H. By Keith Oatley. An ingenious novel from Toronto author Oatley that has a depressed Sherlock Holmes seeking out Sigmund Freud, then investigating a death that involves one of Freud's young patients. Freud's character is enriched by a personal crisis; he is tormented by self-doubt. A literary mystery...."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1813. Andrews, Val. Sherlock Holmes and the Baker Street dozen a collection of thirteen short stories. London: Breese Books, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: The Kinema mystery -- The Strange case of the Burmese jungle fowl -- The Incident of the baker's watch -- All this and the giant rat of Sumatra! -- The Lobster quadrille -- Sherlock Holmes and the gypsy switch -- The Gantry Point wreckers -- The South Downs railway mystery -- The Case of the flying messengers -- Sherlock Holmes and a fraud in Baker Street -- The Teacup mystery -- The Maestro's problem -- The Baker Street conjurer //
1814. ———. Sherlock Holmes and the circus of fear. London: Breese Books, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1815. ———. Sherlock Holmes and the Egyptian Hall adventure. London: Breese Books, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Here is another wonderful Sherlock Holmes Pastiche from the prolific pen of Val Andrews. The author has a vast knowledge of conjuring and of Sherlockiana and in this exciting mystery he is able to combine both of his lifelong interests." "The Egyptian Hall, Maskelyne's theatre of mystery, forms the perfect backdrop for this the most exciting and unusual adventure ever embarked upon by the famous sleuth and his faithful Boswell, Dr. Watson." "The loss of an article of great value - the property of a titled lady - by a conjurer during the course of a stage trick is but the prelude to intrigue, mystery and murder most foul. But hush we can say no more...the game is afoot! Be sure that you are fully prepared for adventure before jumping into a hansom and returning to an age when the old Queen was still upon her throne and the fogs swirled through Baker Street." "Here is a real scorpion of a story with a sting in its tail to confound all concerned save Sherlock Holmes!". "Should you wish to receive details of other Sherlock Holmes books in advance of publication please contact the publishers at the address below."--Book jacket 1816. ———. Sherlock Holmes and the Greyfriars school mystery. London: Breese Books, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "In this exciting adventure, leading writer Val Andrews combines the amazing detective Sherlock Holmes and Billy Bunter, the famous overweight schoolboy, into one fast moving story. At Greyfriars School, the senior master has lost the manuscript of the history of the famous school. The headmaster calls in old boy, Dr Watson and seeks his influence to engage Sherlock Holmes to solve the mystery. During his investigations, the master detective not only traces the missing manuscript but is able to solve a number of other related puzzles - including a murder case - for the local constabulary."--Cover, p. [4]
1817. ———. Sherlock Holmes and the Holborn emporium. London: Breese Books, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1818. ———. Sherlock Holmes and the Houdini birthright. London: Breese Books, 1995.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Here's another Sherlock Holmes pastiche from the fertile pen of Val Andrews. Again two areas of mystery are linked: the exploits of Sherlock Holmes and the secrets of master escapologist, Harry Houdini. Doctor Watson's collaborator, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, finds himself drawn into the world of the fake psychics and Houdini is anxious for Holmes to unmask the perpetrators who prey on the innocent believers." "Once he has been torn away from his bee-keeping activities, Holmes's investigations lead him to some surprising locations including a Ruritanian castle. Sherlockians, historians and magic buffs will all be intrigued and delighted with this classic detective story which links fact and a little fiction to suggest what may have happened to Houdini after his death." "Again the game is afoot."--Book jacket 1819. ———. Sherlock Holmes and the Long Acre vampire. London: Breese Books, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 22 cm. Cover and spine title: Sherlock Holmes and the Longacre vampire //
1820. ———. Sherlock Holmes and the man who lost himself. London: Breese Books, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "A distinctly unfortunate inventor discovers that he doesn't exist. Finding himself in this nightmare situation he consults Sherlock Holmes and presents the sage of Baker Street with one of his most baffling challenges. Is it a simple case of amnesia or something far more sinister? The story involves

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

some hair-raising transcontinental adventures and nightmare dealings with the hazardous flying machines of the day. Dr Watson lends a little light relief when forced into door to door commerce."--Cover p. [4]

1821. ———. Sherlock Holmes and the Sandringham House mystery. London: Breese Books, 1998.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1822. ———. Sherlock Holmes and the secret seven. London: Breese Books, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1823. ———. Sherlock Holmes and the theatre of death. London: Breese Books, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1824. ———. Sherlock Holmes and the tomb of terror. London: Breese Books, 2000.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1825. ———. Sherlock Holmes and the Yule-tide mystery. London: Breese Books, 1996.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1826. ———. Sherlock Holmes at the varieties. London: Breese Books, 2000.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1827. ———. Sherlock Holmes on the western front. London: Breese Books, 2000.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1828. ———. The torment of Sherlock Holmes. London: Breese Books, 2000.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1829. Andrews-Leslie, Coral. "Unsung Heroes: The Supporting Players." Performing Arts & Entertainment in Canada 34, no. 1 (2002): 16.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Features several supporting actors and their views on being a good character actor in the theater field. Includes Jim Mezon's "starring roles in such works as The Petrified Forest and Sherlock Holmes."
1830. Andronik, Catherine M. "Fiction--grade 5 & up." Library Talk 11, no. 1 (1998): 24.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews fiction for children in the intermediate grades. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Chinese-American Ellen tanks like Sherlock Holmes, whose stories she loves, much to the (understandable) ridicule of her classmates...."
1831. ———. "A profile: Philip Pullman: his wonderful materials." Book Report 20, no. 3 (2001): 40-45.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "A profile of British writer Philip Pullman is presented. Pullman established himself as a master of historical thrillers in the 1980s with his trilogy featuring Sally Lockhart, which is set primarily in Victorian London. Pullman's remarkable trilogy, His Dark Materials, fantasies on an epic scale that create an entire mythology and cosmology, has captured the attention, imagination, and admiration of young readers and critics. These novels, as well as Pullman's shorter works, are rich in intricate plotting, vivid in visual detail, and overflowing with references to sources ranging from classical mythology to penny-dreadfuls, providing examples of a true storyteller's craftsmanship." Includes a passing reference to Doyle and Holmes. "...Pullman is a devotee of that greatest of Victorian mystery mongers, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, and his creation Sherlock Holmes. Pullman has even penned a play featuring that ultimate sleuth. Called Sherlock Holmes and the Limehouse Horror, it's about the Giant Rat of Sumatra, one of Holmes's investigations for which Dr. Watson felt 'the world was not yet ready.'..."
1832. Andros, Phil. A century of gay erotica. 1st ed. New York: Masquerade Books, 1998.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 22 cm. Includes "The sexual adventures of Sherlock Holmes" by Larry Townsend. Also issued online. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1833. Angell, Judie. The case of the Blazing Star and The case of the King of Hearts. New York: Bantam Doubleday Dell Books, 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 98036113 /AC // Shirley Holmes, the great great grandniece of Sherlock, solves two mysteries, one revolving around a racehorse guaranteed to win against all odds and one involving a scheme to swindle the principal of her school 1834. ———. The case of the burning building and, The case of the ruby ring. New York: Bantam Doubleday Dell Book for Young People, 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 98029782 /AC // With the assistance of Bo, her classmate at Sussex Academy, twelve-year-old Shirley proves her skill at solving crimes in the same manner as her ancestor, the legendary Sherlock Holmes 1835. Ansen, David, and Yahlin Chang. "Building a Better Dinosaur. (Cover story)." Newsweek 135, no. 20 (2000): 58.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports on the development of the movie 'Dinosaur' by the Walt Disney Co. and reviews its use of computer graphics (CG). Includes a reference to Holmes. "...1985 Young Sherlock Holmes: Barry Levinson's revisionist take on the duke of deduction marked the first use of an all-CG character in a movie. The sequence, in which a stained-glass knight comes to life, still holds up extremely well...."
1836. Ansfield, Jonathan, Melinda Liu, and Grace Liu. "Gumshoes and 'Mistress-Killers'." Newsweek 145, no. 19 (2005): 33-33.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports on growth of private investigators after the 2001 amendment of China's Marriage Law which allowed married women to receive a fair divorce settlement if solid evidence was presented that their husbands were being unfaithful. Includes a reference to Holmes in the form of an investigative firm's name: the Sherlock Holmes agency.
1837. Antrim, Minna Thomas. "Tips for Aging Adventuresses." The Serpentine Muse 14, no. 4 (1998): inside rear cover.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1838. Apelian, Diran. "ASM News." Advanced Materials & Processes 158, no. 6 (2000): 213.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents updates related to the American Society for Metals (ASM) International as of December 2000. Includes a photo caption with reference to Holmes. "The Air Products and Chemicals booth at the entrance to the 2000 Heat Treat Show attracted crowds of attendees with a magic show performed by a gentleman dressed as Sherlock Holmes."
1839. Apfelbaum, Jim. "Summer Reading List." Golf Magazine 44, no. 8 (2002): 86.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a lists of books related to golf including Unplayable Lie: A Chief Inspector St. George Mystery, by Peter Jamesson (Sleeping Bear Press, $22.95). "A man who never kids about his golf, Chief Inspector St. George of Scotland Yard tackles a complex whodunit in the grand tradition of Agatha Christie and Conan Doyle."
1840. Apollinaire, Guillaume, Edgar Allan Poe, Oscar Wilde, Amado Nervo, Lewis Carroll, E. T. A. Hoffmann, Bram Stoker, Guy de Maupassant, Arthur Conan Doyle, Anton Pavlovich Chekhov, Ana María Shua, Auguste Villiers de L'Isle-Adam, I. A. Ireland, and Ana Padovani. Clásicos de suspenso y de terror. [Buenos Aires], Argentina: Ediciones Sonoras, 2002. Sound Recording 2 sound discs (113 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Participants: Cuentos narrados por Ana Padovani. //
1841. Appelboom, Thierry, and Julien Struyven. "Medical imaging of the Peruvian mummy Rascar Capac." Lancet 354, no. 9196 (1999): 2153.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on paleopathology and the use of computed tomographic scan imaging. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...This story is a pastiche of elements drawn from different sources: The curse of Tutenkamon, published in the press of the time, the serial The three circles of fear with Harry Dickinson (the American Sherlock Holmes) and his assistant Tom Wils..."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1842. Apple, William. "The Holmes Retirement Plan." Shoso-In Bulletin 8, no. (1998): 30-33.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1843. Appleby, Louis. "Doctoring the evidence: Famed physician was model for Sherlock Holmes." The Ottawa Citizen, August 20, 1995: C2.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "...Our chief at that moment resembled no one more than Sherlock Holmes. No one, that is, except Joseph Bell. Bell was the most brilliant of Edinburgh's teachers of medicine in the second half of the 19th century, when that city's medicine led the world. Arthur Conan Doyle was among his students...."
1844. Applegate, Debby. The most famous man in America: the biography of Henry Ward Beecher. 1st ed. New York: Doubleday, 2006.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2005054842. Includes bibliographical references (p. 495-503) and index //
1845. Archer, David. "Who Threw That Snowball?" Science 302, no. 5646 (2003): 791-792.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Climatological article with a passing reference to Doyle. "The geological record of Earth's climate resembles Arthur Conan Doyle's curious incident of the dog that didn't bark in the night."
1846. Ardagh, Philip. The silly side of Sherlock Holmes a brand new adventure using a bunch of old pictures. London: Faber, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1847. Arendt, Dieter. "Günter Grass: Hundejahre oder La diabolica commedia germanica. (German)." Orbis Litterarum 61, no. 6 (2006): 461-476.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Hundejahre- der Titel ist beredt: Jahre der Not und des Elends, etwa Kriegsjahre oder Nachkriegsjahre. Hunde spielen ihren Part, nicht zuletzt ein Hund, ein schwarzer deutscher Schäferhund. Assoziationen sind vielfältig: Rannte nicht ein schwarzer Hund durch Saat und Koppeln und entpuppte sich als diabolischer Scholastikus? Hält nicht ein schwarzer Hund Wache vor den Toren des Orkus? Und hatte nicht ein oberster Kriegsherr einen schwarzen Schäferhund? Die Hysteron-Proteron-Erzählweise ist ein adäquater Kunstgriff für die schleichende Dämonisierung des kleinbürgerlichen Alltags an der Weichsel. Die Rollen-Erzähler waren dort Kinder und kennen sich bestens aus hinter den Deichen und als Gymnasiasten in der nahen Stadt - und hinter ihnen steht ein orts- und zeitkundiger Autor. An den Fäden des halbjudischen Redakteurs und Regisseurs Brauxel oder Brauchsel - wie Weichsel - hängen und agieren die tagblindten Primaner-Soldaten und die bramarbasierenden Partei-Bonzen. Sie erinnern sich genau, aber ihr Gedächtnis ist ein blinder Spiegel. Brauxel fabriziert in seinem Bergwerk - wie als Junge schon an der Weichsel - Scheuchen als gespenstische Karikaturen der historischen und zeitgenössischen Heroen. Erst als er im Bergwerk seinen Scheuchen-Reigen vor Augen führt, dämmert im Zwielficht der Karbidlampe die deutsche Historie als Karneval der Welt-Geschichte. Dem Titel Hundejahre korrespondiert in spiegelbildlicher Analyse der wortkarge Epilog: „Der Orkus ist oben.“ [Abstract from author] Note 15 includes a reference to Doyle and Holmes. "Zur Farbe schwarz des Hohenhundes vgl. etwa: A. Conan Doyle: Sherlock Holmes. Der Hund von Baskerville. Ubs. V. H. Kotthaus. 1959. S. 43: „Ein Hund war's, ein riesiger kohlpechschwarzer Hund, wie ich ihn noch nie gesehen hatte. Feuer brach aus seinem weit offenen Maul, die Augen glühten, von Leffzen, Nackenhaaren und der Wamme zu ngelten Flammen. Es war ein Geschoß pf wie aus den Fiebertraumen eines Wahnsinnigen. Die Nase dicht am Boden folgte die Bestie der Spur des Barouets.“
1848. Arenofsky, Janice. "What Mentors & Role Models Can do for You." Career World 27, no. 3 (1998): 6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Offers advice on how to find a mentor or role model who can inspire toward career success. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "How can you find a mentor? Where should you look for clues? Try thinking like detective Sherlock Holmes."
1849. Argument, Barbara. "There may be just NOTHING to it for Sherlock Holmes but finding this address in Baker Street isn't easy." Middlesbrough Evening Gazette, January 13, 2009: 13.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Tracking down Michelle Hudson's Middlesbrough jewellery shop is just the job for legendary detective Sherlock Holmes. Customers need all the cunning of the ace sleuth to find her glitzy little gem of a business. That's because Michelle's place has one of the weirdest addresses. It's based at Number 0, Baker Street, Middlesbrough...."

1850. Armstrong, Linda. "McKinley Henderson sinks his teeth into Van Helsing role." New York Amsterdam News, Sept 23, 2004: 21.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article presents information about the actor Stephen McKinley Henderson, with a passing reference to Holmes. "...The actor prepared for the role by listening to the original Bram Stoker version on tape, recalling the book he read in grad school and added that being a Sherlock Holmes fan helped because Van Helsing is part detective...."
1851. Armstrong, Rebecca. "Computer Games." The Independent (London), September 4, 2004: 66.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of the computer game "Sherlock Holmes: The Case of the Silver Earring," Publisher: Digital Jesters. "Get out your deerstalker: this is a Sherlock Holmes adventure for anyone who has ever dreamt of stepping into the famous sleuth's shoes. Unfortunately, unless you've dreamt of asking question after question after question of dull characters with limited AI, you may wish to avoid this otherwise enjoyable romp...."
1852. Armstrong, Walter P., Jr. "The Art of Induction." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 45, no. 2 (1995): 114-123.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1853. Armstrong, Walter P. Holmes' range. New York: Magico Magazine, 1993.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1854. Armstrong, Walter P., Jr. "The Literary Holmes." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 3 (1994): 135-140.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents evidence that Watson revised his opinion of Holmes literary knowledge from his original "nil" to something more comprehensive.
1855. Arney, Chris. "Conned Again Watson!" Mathematics and Computer Education 39, no. 2 (2005): 160-161.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book Conned Again, Watson!: Cautionary Tales of Logic, Math, and Probability by Colin Bruce (Cambridge, MA: Perseus Publishing, 2001), 290 pp.
1856. Arnold, Martin. "Serial Sleuths, Spreading Glee." New York Times, October 8, 1998: E3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Deals with the depiction of private investigators in American novels, including reference to Holmes.
1857. Arnold, Neala. "Murder & Mystery/Travel & Adventure." School Library Journal 53, no. 7 (2007): 126-126.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the books "Murder & Mystery," adapted by Shannon and Suzette Haden Elgin, illustrated by Mike Vosburg and Dan Spiegle and "Travel & Adventure," adapted by Seymour Reit, illustrated by Ernie Colon and Richard Rockwell. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "Each book includes adaptations of three classic stories that were first printed in Boys' Life. Much-abbreviated versions of The Hound of the Baskervilles, Macbeth, and The Legend of Sleepy Hollow appear in Murder. Travel includes The Travels of Marco Polo, Moby-Dick, and Gulliver's Travels. Each one is only about 15 pages long and moves quickly, with little narrative to provide context beyond the dialogue and images. Because of this, some of the selections may be confusing to readers unfamiliar with the original works. The artwork is action-filled and attention-grabbing. Any bloodshed in Murder takes place 'offstage.' Images are well chosen. Lady Macbeth's bloodstained hands and Banquo's ghost are sufficient to create a sense of horror and suspense. The colors and type help to set the mood for each tale. Brief biographical information about the classic writers includes an account of how the work was received during its time. There is at least one inaccuracy: Sir Arthur Conan Doyle could hardly have died before he was born. Overall, these volumes are satisfying additions."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1858. Arnold, Sue. "Review: Audio: Sue Arnold's Choice: The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes." The Guardian (London), October 4, 2008: 9.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of the audiobook The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes: Six Unabridged Stories, Vol 1, by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, read by Edward Hardwicke. (7hrs, CSA Word, GBP19.99)
1859. Arnow, Paul, and William Chamberlin. "Debugging computer-assisted antibiotic prescribing." Lancet 345, no. 8944 (1995): 207.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Opinion. Focuses on the use of computers in prescribing antibiotics, with a passing reference to Doyle and Holmes. "In the framework of Conan Doyle's fictional world, computer systems will not turn the pedestrian Inspector Lestrade into another Sherlock Holmes but can nevertheless sharpen Lestrade's reasoning so that he does not so often go astray."
1860. Aron, Leon. "A Champion for the Bourgeoisie." National Interest, no. (2004): 9p.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Examines virtue and citizenship in Boris Akunin's novels. Description of Fandorin, a character in Akunin's novels who is the descendant of a German knight, with a passing reference to Holmes. "In the tradition of Sherlock Holmes, Hercule Poirot and Lord Peter Wimsey, Fandorin is an individualist, fiercely guarding his independence."
1861. Arosio, Elisabetta. "An Interview with Jaakko Hintikka." Diogenes (Blackwell Publishing Limited) 48, no. 4 (2000): 71.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Interviews Finnish philosopher Jaako Hintikka and includes a passing reference to Holmes. "In one sense I believe it is true that the popular conception of logic which is called the Sherlock Holmes's conception of logic and according to which logic is the secret of the gist of all good reasoning is essentially correct. I think Sherlock Holmes is right as always!!"
1862. Arthuhta. "Dinky Dinkerton Secret Agent 6 7/8." Baker Street West 1 8, no. 2 (2003): 50.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1863. Arthur, Joanna. "Review--Sherlock Holmes and the Man Who Lost Himself by Val Andrews." The Ritual, no. 20 (1997): 57-58.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1864. ———. "The Seventeenth Century Hound." The Ritual, no. 18 (1996): 38-44.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1865. Ashbacher, Charles. "ProMath: crime stoppers." Mathematics and Computer Education 33, no. 1 (1999): 95.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // ProMath: Crime Stoppers ($175), from HRM Video, is an approximately 26-minute video that features a state prosecutor, a chief of police, and a noted forensic criminologist describing how math is used in their work. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "Given the popularity of crime novels from the exploits of Sherlock Holmes to police shows on television, many of us no doubt harbor a secret desire to be a crime fighter."
1866. Ashley, Michael. The Mammoth Book of Historical Detectives. New York: Carroll & Graf, 1995.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Aug 1995 // "Offers reprints of two pastiches: Jack Adrian's Sherlock Holmes story 'The Phantom Pistol', and an expanded version of Basil Copper's Solar Pons story 'The Adventure of the Frightened Governess.' The anthology is a companion volume to Ashley's The Mammoth Book of Historical Whodunnits and includes some fine stories, one of them being Ashley's candidate for the earliest-ever setting for a locked-room mystery: Australia, about 37,000 years ago."
1867. ———. The Mammoth Book of Historical Detectives. London: Robinson, 1995.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Aug 1995 // "Offers reprints of two pastiches: Jack Adrian's Sherlock Holmes story 'The Phantom Pistol', and an expanded version of Basil Copper's Solar Pons story 'The Adventure of the Frightened Governess.' The anthology is a companion volume to Ashley's The Mammoth

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

- Book of Historical Whodunnits and includes some fine stories, one of them being Ashley's candidate for the earliest-ever setting for a locked-room mystery: Australia, about 37,000 years ago."
1868. ———. The mammoth book of historical whodunnits. London: Robinson, 1993.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: The case of the Deptford Horror / Adrian Conan Doyle (pp. 471-488) //
1869. ———. The mammoth book of new Sherlock Holmes adventures. 1st Carroll & Graf ed. New York: Carroll & Graf Publishers, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 20 cm. The bothersome business of the Dutch nativity / Derek Wilson -- The affray at the Kildare Street Club / Peter Tremayne -- The case of the incumbent invalid / Claire Griffen -- The adventure of Vittoria the Circus Belle / Edward D. Hoch -- The Darlington substitution scandal / David Stuart Davies -- The adventure of the suspect servant / Barbara Roden -- The adventure of the Amateur Mendicant Society / John Betancourt -- The adventure of the silver buckle / Denis O. Smith -- The case of the sporting squire / Guy N. Smith -- The vanishing of the Atkinsons / Eric Brown -- The adventure of the fallen star / Simon Clark -- The adventure of the Dorset Street lodger / Michael Moorcock -- The mystery of the Addleton curse / Barrie Roberts -- The adventure of the Pasisian gentleman / Robert Weinberg & Lois H. Gresh -- The adventure of the inertial adjustor / Stephen Baxter -- The adventure of the touch of god / Peter Crowther The adventure of the persecuted painter / Basil Copper -- the adventure of the suffering ruler / H. R. F. Keating -- The repulsive story of the red leech / David Langford -- The adventure of the grace chalice / Roger Johnson -- The adventure of the faithful retainer / Amy Myers -- The case of the suicidal lawyer / Martin Edwards -- The legacy of Rachel Howells / Michael Doyle -- The adventure of the Bulgarian diplomat / Zakaria Erzincioğlu -- The enigma of the Warwickshire vortex / F. Gwynplaine MacIntyre -- The case of the last battle / L. B. Greenwood. "First published in the UK by Robinson Publishing, 1997"--T.p. verso. "The tales of Sherlock Holmes": p. [506]-517. // After Arthur Conan Doyle created the detective, Sherlock Holmes, many writers borrowed him to be the hero of their stories. The anthology offers a selection, old and new.
1870. ———. The mammoth book of new Sherlock Holmes adventures. London: Robinson, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 20 cm. //
1871. ———. New Sherlock Holmes adventures. Edison, NJ: Castle Books, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 22 cm. The bothersome business of the Dutch nativity / Derek Wilson -- The affray at the Kildare Street Club / Peter Tremayne -- The case of the incumbent invalid / Claire Griffen -- The adventure of Vittoria the Circus Belle / Edward D. Hoch -- The Darlington substitution scandal / David Stuart Davies -- The adventure of the suspect servant / Barbara Roden -- The adventure of the Amateur Mendicant Society / John Betancourt -- The adventure of the silver buckle / Denis O. Smith -- The case of the sporting squire / Guy N. Smith -- The vanishing of the Atkinsons / Eric Brown -- The adventure of the fallen star / Simon Clark -- The adventure of the Dorset Street lodger / Michael Moorcock -- The mystery of the Addleton curse / Barrie Roberts -- The adventure of the Parisian gentleman / Robert Weinberg & Lois H. Gresh -- The adventure of the inertial adjustor / Stephen Baxter -- The adventure of the touch of god / Peter Crowther. The adventure of the persecuted painter / Basil Copper -- The adventure of the suffering ruler / H.R.F. Keating -- The repulsive story of the red leech / David Langford -- The adventure of the grace chalice / Roger Johnson -- The adventure of the faithful retainer / Amy Myers -- The case of the suicidal lawyer / Martin Edwards -- The legacy of Rachel Howells / Michael Doyle -- The adventure of the Bulgarian diplomat / Zakaria Erzincioğlu -- The enigma of the Warwickshire vortex / F. Gwynplaine MacIntyre -- The case of the last battle / L.B. Greenwood. "Originally published as The mammoth book of new Sherlock Holmes adventures. First published in the UK by Robinson Publishing, 1997"--T.p. verso. "The tales of Sherlock Holmes": p. [506]-517. // After Arthur Conan Doyle created the detective, Sherlock Holmes, many writers borrowed him to be the hero of their stories. The anthology offers a selection, old and new.
1872. ———. Sherlock Holmes und der Fluch von Addleton : neue Sherlock-Holmes-Geschichten. Dt. Erstveröff., vollst. Taschenbuchausg., 1. Aufl. ed, (Bastei Lübbe). Bergisch Gladbach: Bastei Lübbe, 2003.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 19 cm. German translation of The mammoth book of new Sherlock Holmes stories. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1873. Ashley, Michael, and Arthur Griffiths. The mammoth book of historical whodunnits. 1st Carroll & Graf ed. New York: Carroll and Graf, 1993.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- "The chroniclers of crime : the forerunners of Sherlock Holmes": p. [514]-522 // "A selection of stories featuring detectives from the entire history of the civilised world"--P. [xiii]
1874. Ashline, William L. "The problem of impossible fictions." Style 29, no. 2 (1995): 215.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses the problem of impossible fictions, with a reference to Doyle. "...[David] Lewis cites Conan Doyle's inconsistency in locating Watson's war wound on his body...."
1875. Ashman, Mike. "Friday Review: Singing Detectives." The Guardian (London), September 17, 2004: 7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Inspector Morse likes his Wagner, Sherlock Holmes was a mean violinist and Philip Marlowe discussed pianists with police officers. Mike Ashman investigates the curious connection between crime and classical music....What is it with detective stories and classical music? From The Woman in White, via the adventures of Sherlock Holmes, Lord Peter Wimsey and Tintin, to Inspector Morse and the gay sleuths of Phillip Scott or Grant Michaels, there are hundreds of novels in which the two come together...."
1876. Ashworth, Peter. "Review--From Netley to Maiwand: An Account of the Army Career of Dr. John H. Watson MD by Dr. Tim Healey." The Ritual, no. 27 (2001): 64.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1877. ———. "Review--Sherlock Holmes and the Abbey School Mystery and Sherlock Holmes and the Hammerford Will by John Hall." The Ritual, no. 28 (2001): 54-56.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1878. ———. "Review--The Somnambulist and the Detective, Vincent Starrett and Sherlock Holmes Musgrave Monograph Number Ten by Susan Rice." The Ritual, no. 27 (2001): 56-57.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1879. ———. "Review--The Torment of Sherlock Holmes by Val Andrews." The Ritual, no. 26 (2000): 68.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1880. Aslami, Zarena. "The Material Interests of the Victorian Novel." Modern Philology 104, no. 3 (2007): 455-459.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article reviews the book "The Material Interests of the Victorian Novel," by Daniel Hack. Includes references to Doyle and Holmes. "...One thinks of those nineteenth-century cases in which a character's runaway success became a battleground between author and public, as in readers' complaints when Dickens abandoned the provision of detachable characters like Mr. Pickwick in order to compose more 'artistic,' symbolically integrated works, or in Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's vain attempt to kill off Sherlock Holmes when he threatened to usurp his creator's career. Copyright remains crucial to the possibilities of character migration. Holmes and Watson, for example, are now back on a tight leash since a speculative acquisition of the Conan Doyle literary estate coincided with the extension of UK copyright under European Union law in the late 1990s...."
1881. Atchison, Marc. "A date with history." The Toronto Star, November 15, 2003: K22.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Hotel du Louvre offers as many thrills as famous Paris museum. From room 131 in the historic Hotel du Louvre, I could see three semi-naked women staring stone-faced into the darkness of night....I was looking into the world famous Musee du Louvre- at a statue standing in a window directly across the street from my room...The next morning, I made it a priority to find out who the three women were. However, finding that particular sculpture among the thousands on display at the incredible Louvre would no doubt take the sleuthing skills of a Sherlock Holmes, who, by the way- according to his creator Sir Arthur Conan Doyle- preferred the Hotel du Louvre to all other Paris properties. There's even a plaque in the hotel's lobby from the Sherlock Holmes Society verifying that fact...."
1882. Atkinson, Michael. The secret marriage of Sherlock Holmes, and other eccentric readings. Ann Arbor: University of Michigan Press, 1996.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 96010299. Includes bibliographical references // "Easily refutes the widely-held belief that pop-cult lit-crit must be deadly dull and packed with academic jargon. The eccentric aspect of his approaches to nine Canonical stories is that he offers an intriguing starting-point for his discussion of each story, such as the kundalini-yoga serpent for 'The Speckled Band' and Nietzschean iconoclasm for 'The Six Napoleons.' Atkinson explains what he's doing, in critical appendices and readable end-notes; three of the chapters are revised and expanded from earlier articles, and six are new, and all are interesting."

1883. ———. "Type and text in "A Study in Scarlet": Repression and the textual unconscious; Jungian literary criticism." no. (1992): 328-342.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "...relies primarily on Jung but draws as well upon Freud and deconstructive criticism to discuss how a text might be governed by an unconscious element that acts like the unconscious does in a personality, providing hidden motivation to explain behavior at the conscious level / uses this concept to examine not only Watson, Holmes, and other characters in Arthur Conan Doyle's first archetypal Sherlock Holmes mystery ["A Study in Scarlet"], but also the subgenre itself..."
1884. Attwell, Phil. "Caped Crusaders Sherlock Holmes and Batman." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 27, no. 4 (2006): 145-148.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1885. Atwood, Brett. "VH1 adds original music programs." Billboard 108, no. 19 (1996): 1.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports on cable television network VH1's scheduling of original programming for the summer of 1996, which it hopes will bring new viewers to the channel at a time when networks are offering reruns. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "I feel kind of like Sherlock Holmes," says [Bill] Flanagan. "Tracking these things down is difficult."
1886. Aubert, Rosemary. "The Dum-Dum Speaks." Canadian Holmes 21, no. 2 (1997): 25-27.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1887. ———. "Fleeting Impressions of Lasting Impressions." Canadian Holmes 21, no. 1 (1997): 24-38.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1888. Auerbach, Erich. Dante, poet of the secular world, (New York Review Books classics). New York: New York Review Books, 2007.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 21 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. 181-191) and index. National bibliography no: GBA698927 Translated by Ralph Manheim ; introduction by Michael Dirda. Uniform Title: Dante als Dichter der irdischen Welt. //
1889. Ault, Susanne. "Familiarity breeds success." Broadcasting & Cable 131, no. 3 (2001): 74.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Features the company New Line Television in the United States. Conversion of rejected scripts of movies into television syndicated series; Production of the action series 'Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's The Lost World'; Introduction the series 'Hard Knox.'
1890. Ault, Susan. "Lost World Isn't." Broadcasting & Cable 131, no. 38 (2001): 4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports the status of television program 'Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's The Lost World' in the United States. Impact of the bankruptcy of production partner Telescene; Role of Over the Hill Gang on the series; Selling of the off-syndication rights to TNT television network.
1891. Austin, Beth. Irene's cabinet: results of the literary and artistic aspirations of the membership in the form of essays, poetry, and art with particular regard for the Victorian era, in honor of all things Sherlockian. Eldersburg, MD: Watson's Tin Box, 2008.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. (some col.) ; 22 cm. Lyrics by April / April Curnow -- Jack the Ripper: a Sherlockian approach / John C. Sherwood -- Chair à canon / Andy Solberg -- The girl from Charlington / Jacquelynn Morris -- The faux Philistine / John C. Sherwood -- Toast to The Woman / Evelyn Herzog -- The

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

- Clarkson Prize Essay Contest -- Essay contest winner / Emily Espey -- The Sherlock Holmes Essay Contest / Bruce Eberle -- Toast to Pietro Venucci / Paul Churchill -- Sherlock Holmes, author / April Curnow -- The Queens victorious: legend, history and British perceptions / Jacquelynn Morris. Cover title./ Limited to 50 copies./ Cover art by Paul Churchill./ Includes bibliographical references. editor, Beth Austin. //
1892. Austin, Beth, and Watson's Tin Box. Irene's cabinet results of the literary and artistic aspirations of the membership. Eldersburg, MD: Watson's Tin Box, 2003.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references //
1893. Austin, John M. "Letter to the Editor ('Escott and Agatha')." Shoso-In Bulletin 6, no. (1996): 156.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1894. ———. "Letter to the Editor ('Holmes and Prime Ministers')." Shoso-In Bulletin 6, no. (1996): 157.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1895. Auswaks, Alex. "Crime Briefs." The Jerusalem Post, July 2, 1999: 12B.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of The Secret Documents of Sherlock Holmes by June Thomson. London, Allison & Busby. 233 pp. 5.99. "Avid readers of the Sherlock Holmes canon used to bemoan the fact that Dr. Watson frequently referred to cases which he said were still secret or he hadn't got round to reporting to the fans. Out of this came the numerous Sherlock Holmes pastiches, each of which is an attempt to guess what happened in that particular case. The very best of such pastiches is the work of June Thomson, who has recreated so accurately the world of Baker Street....I have a personal confession to make. I was never ever a Conan Doyle fan, but I love these pastiches."
1896. Avrane, Patrick. Sherlock Holmes & Cie : détectives freudiens. Paris: Audibert, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 23 cm. Includes bibliographical references. //
1897. Axel-Lute, Melanie. "Masterworks of Crime & Mystery (Book)." Library Journal 107, no. 17 (1982): 1899.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'Masterworks of Crime and Mystery,' by Arthur Conan Doyle. "These are non-Sherlock Holmes stories, some of them only marginally criminal or mysterious, and probably more interesting to students of literature than to casual mystery readers. On the whole, however, an interesting, unusual, occasionally humorous collection."
1898. Axford, W. Scott. "Toast for 'The Six Napoleons'." The Holmes & Watson Report 4, no. 2 (2000): 8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1899. Ayala, Francisco, and Laurence de Looze. "The breach." Antioch Review 56, no. 1 (1998): 61.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Relates the story of a lieutenant at war who killed a Republican soldier who happens to be his countryman. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...While the other soldiers played cards, Santolalla killed time by reading for the hundredth time a Sherlock Holmes novel...."
1900. Aykroyd, Clarissa. "Did Sherlock Holmes have a Canadian Background?" Canadian Holmes 20, no. 3 (1997): 5-9.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1901. ———. "Theatre." Canadian Holmes 26, no. 1 (2002): 36-37.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1902. Aykroyd, Clarissa, and Bob Coghill. "The Hound on Stage." Canadian Holmes 25, no. 1 (2001): 53-55.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1903. Aykroyd, Clarissa, and Trevor S. Raymond. "'Bookshelf': Reviews of The Poems of Sherlock Holmes and The Mark of the Gunn and Other Untold Tales." Canadian Holmes 24, no. 3 (2001): 45-46.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1904. Aykroyd, Clarissa et al. "'Bookshelf' Reviews of A Letter of Mary, The Sherlock Holmes Victorian Cookbook, The Shoso-in Bulletin, Five Sherlockian Walks in London and Mr. Doyle and Dr. Bell." Canadian Holmes 21, no. 2 (1997): 32-35.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1905. Aykroyd, Lucas. "The Musgrave Ritual: Who was Rachel Howells?" Canadian Holmes 19, no. 1 (1995): 12-16.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1906. Aykroyd, Lucas, Clifford S. Goldfarb, and Brian S. Brodie. "'Bookshelf' Reviews of The Abominable Wife and Other Unrecorded Cases of Mr. Sherlock Holmes, The Spenserian Holmes: Being the Annotated Manuscript of the Hell of the Baskervilles, Teller of Tales: The Life of Arthur Conan Doyle and The Hounds Collection: Volume IV." Canadian Holmes 23, no. 1 (1999): 38-42.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1907. Ayoub, Nina C. "New Scholarly Books." Chronicle of Higher Education 51, no. 38 (2005): A16-A19.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents information on scholarly books published in the U.S. in 2005. Includes item with reference to Doyle. Representing Scotland in Literature, Popular Culture, and Iconography: The Masks of the Modern Nation, by Alan Riach (Palgrave Macmillan; 280 pages; $69.95). "Explores images of Scottishness in media from the canonical literature of Scott, Conan Doyle, and other writers to such contemporary British television programs as Edge of Darkness."
1908. ———. "New Scholarly Books." Chronicle of Higher Education 49, no. 47 (2003): A16.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents information on several books, including one with a reference to Doyle. Capital Offenses: Geographies of Class and Crime in Victorian London, by Simon Joyce (University of Virginia Press; 288 pages; $39.50). "Describes how Conan Doyle, Dickens, Wilde, and other writers of the period challenged social commentators' views of the relationship among crime, class, and neighborhood."
1909. ———. "New Scholarly Books." Chronicle of Higher Education 47, no. 19 (2001): A17.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a list and summaries of several books including Arthur Conan Doyle and the meaning of Masculinity, by Diana Barsham (Ashgate Publishing; 312 pages; $84.95). "Discusses Doyle's life, writings, and personal rivalries in a study of the author's attempts to embody the ideals of British manhood; topics include the relationship between Doyle's histories of the Boer War and World War I and his Sherlock Holmes stories, here read as a secret autobiography."
1910. ———. "New Scholarly Books." Chronicle of Higher Education 46, no. 29 (2000): A24.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Lists books including Modernism, Romance, and the "Fin de Siecle": Popular Fiction and British Culture, by Nicholas Daly (Cambridge University Press; 228 pages; $59.95), with reference to Doyle. "Links the 'romance revival' of the late 19th and early 20th centuries to Britain's efforts to come to terms with a 'new imperialism'; focuses on such writers as Arthur Conan Doyle, H. Rider Haggard, and Bram Stoker."
1911. ———. "New Scholarly Books." Chronicle of Higher Education 45, no. 30 (1999): A25.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews scholarly books including Membranes: Metaphors of Invasion in Nineteenth-Century Literature, Science, and Politics, by Laura Otis (Johns Hopkins University Press; 248 pages; $45). "Uses examples from literary, political, and scientific texts to argue that the biological cell became a major metaphor in 19th-century culture; focuses on works by four physician-writers: Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, S. Weir Mitchell, Santiago Ramon y Cajal, and Arthur Schnitzler."
1912. Babbitt, Jed. "Blame McCain's Aides For His Speech." Human Events 64, no. 21 (2008): 7-7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The author comments on the presidential campaign of U.S. Republican candidate John McCain. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "What's going on inside the McCain campaign? Maybe I've read too much Conan Doyle and Le Carre. Maybe too much of my young professional life was spent in the company of people who built satellites to detect faint electronic signals in enemy lands. Nevertheless, there are too many faint signals coming out of McCain's inner circle to ignore. And they do not bode well for the candidate...."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1913. Babel, Isaac, Nathalie Babel, and Peter Constantine. Red Cavalry. New York: W.W. Norton, 2003.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill., map ; 21 cm. The Red Cavalry stories -- The Red Cavalry cycle : additional stories -- A letter to the editor -- Diary -- Sketches for the Red Cavalry stories. Includes bibliographical references. Edited by Nathalie Babel ; translated with notes by Peter Constantine ; introduction by Michael Dirda. Uniform Title: Konarmia. English. //
1914. Bach, Caleb. "Wizard of the World of Words." Americas 51, no. 3 (1999): 44.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Profiles Alberto Manguel, a writer. Includes reference to Doyle. "...Together we coauthored our first book, The Dictionary of Imaginary Places, which appeared in 1980. This extensive traveler's guide to places in literature--Shangri-La, Oz, Ruratania, and Celesteville among them--met with immediate success. Particularly appealing were its illustrations, which included drawings of literary structures like the Circular Ruins of Borges and Baskerville Hall of Conan Doyle and detailed maps of places like the Island of Doctor Moreau, Narnia, and Utopia."
1915. Baden-Powell of Gilwell, Robert Stephenson Smyth Baden-Powell. Scouting for boys : a handbook for instruction in good citizenship. Oxford; New York: Oxford University Press, 2004.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Originally published: London : Horace Cox, 1908. National bibliography no: GBA4-Z4629. Edited with an introduction and notes by Elleke Boehmer. // "It's not known whether Arthur Conan Doyle and Major-General Robert Baden-Powell actually met, in South Africa or elsewhere, but Baden-Powell is mentioned in Conan Doyle's history of The Great Boer War, and Conan Doyle is mentioned in Baden-Powell's Scouting for Boys. Baden-Powell suggested that Scouts read the Sherlock Holmes stories to learn observation and deduction, in what Christopher Hitchens has called (in the June issue of The Atlantic Monthly) 'one of the very few books of the twentieth century that actually led to the formation of a worldwide movement.'"
1916. Baden-Powell, Robert. "Sherlock Holmes and the Girl Guides or No Badge for Sherlock Holmesing." Canadian Holmes 30, no. 3 (2007): 36-37.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1917. Badoe, Yaba. "Christmas with aunt Ama." Critical Quarterly 39, no. 4 (1997): 56.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents an anecdote about a Christmas which the author spent with an aunt known as Ama. Includes a reference to Holmes. "...Yet the memory of my aunt remains vivid for the same reason I brough Seanie Richards over to peek at her. She was British. When she spoke I saw the Trooping of the Colour. I heard Sherlock Holmes patronising his sidekick Watson..."
1918. Baesch, John F. "All at Sea With Sherlock Holmes." The Holmes & Watson Report 2, no. 4 (1998): 20-21.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1919. ———. "A Different Kind of Sherlockian Gathering." The Holmes & Watson Report 2, no. 2 (1998): 5-6.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1920. ———. "It's Not just a Dinner and a Cocktail Party: On the Fringe of the New York Celebration." The Holmes & Watson Report 1, no. 7 (1998): 6-8.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1921. ———. "Now Let Us Drink to Famous People." The Holmes & Watson Report 2, no. 2 (1998): 16-17, 20-21.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1922. ———. "Paul and John's Excellent Adventure: The Things We Do for Holmes." The Holmes & Watson Report 1, no. 7 (1998): 32-34.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1923. ———. "Sherlock Holmes Visits America." The Holmes & Watson Report 2, no. 4 (1998): 9-10.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1924. ———. "So What's a Wiffenpoof Anyway." The Serpentine Muse 21, no. 4 (2005): 17-18.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1925. ———. "A Toast to Sherlock Holmes." The Serpentine Muse 20, no. 1 (2003): 7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1926. ———. "The Underground Adventures of Sherlock Holmes." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 54, no. 4 (2004): 14-17.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1927. ———. "Where Martha Hudson Feeds the Street Urchins." The Holmes & Watson Report 8, no. 6 (2005): 10-11.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1928. Bagamery, Anne. "Few Sleuths Cracked Quarter's Market Mysteries." International Herald Tribune, May 6, 2000: 15.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // An erroneous attribution in a financial report. "In Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's novel "The Hound of the Baskervilles," the detective Sherlock Holmes cracked a murder case by deciphering the clue of "the dog that barked in the night." [sic] The key to the case was that on the night in question, the dog should have barked [sic], but didn't proving, Sherlock Holmes said, that what is not there is often as important as what is. In the case of the 118 stocks recommended by analysts and money managers in The Money Report during the first quarter, clues to whether they would rise or fall could often be found buried in corporate strategy or the profit-and-loss statements at the back of the annual report and it took some clever sleuthing to find them...."
1929. Baggs, Chris. "How Well Read Was My Valley? Reading, Popular Fiction, and the Miners of South Wales, 1875-1939." Book History 4, no. (2001): 277-301.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a reference to Doyle in the Appendix.
1930. Baig, Barbara. How to be a Writer : building your creative skills through practice and play. 1st ed. Cincinnati, Ohio: Writer's Digest Books, 2010.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 22 cm. Beginnings. What is writing practice (and how do I do it)? -- Starting the journey -- Waking up the content-mind : the basic practices -- A writer's powers. Creativity -- Memory and expertise -- Observation -- Imagination -- The subconscious -- Curiosity -- The Sherlock Holmes school of writing -- Moving towards readers. Tools for developing your material -- Your relationship with readers -- Telling stories -- Voice -- A few words on words -- Required writing. Do I have to write that? -- Getting it written -- Staying on the path. Walking the writer's way -- A writer's bookshelf. Includes bibliographical references and index. //
1931. Bailey, Hilary. The strange adventures of Charlotte Holmes. London: Constable, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1932. Bailey, Lionel W, and Richard Lancelyn Green. The scandal behind the "Scandal" and other attacks of Sherlockomania. Shelburne, Ont, Sauk City, Wis: Battered Silicon Dispatch Box, 2000.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references: p. 71 //
1933. Bailey, Paul. "Television: Holmes Flares Up again." The Guardian (London), March 8, 1994: 9.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The great amateur detective is back, and I rather wish he wasn't. The Memoirs Of Sherlock Holmes (Granada) is still being attributed to Arthur Conan Doyle, but any fool can ascertain that it's the work of Jeremy Paul, who used to adapt Doyle's stories but now writes his own. The scripts have become coarser and so has the acting. The first episode in the new series, The Three Gables, tells of a wicked lady, Isadora Klein, who likes her lovers young, athletic and titled...."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1934. Baird, John D. "Humanities." Letters in Canada 67, no. 1 (1997): 308.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book, 'Graham Greene's Thrillers and the 1930s,' by Brain Diemert, with a passing reference to Holmes. "In a familiar tale, Sherlock Holmes rejects the story of the Red-Headed League, and replaces it with a story of attempted bank-robbery, which he confirms by capturing the robbers in the act."
1935. Baker, Abbey Pen. In the dead of winter. 1st ed. New York: St. Martin's Press, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 22 cm. // Myrl Adler Norton, professor of logic, investigates the murder of the landlady who always sat at her window, until her drapes closed and she would play the same record. It turns out the landlady was killed and stuffed, the drapes and record operated by pulleys.
1936. ———. In the Dead of Winter. Cambridge, [England]: Irregular Special Press, for Baker Street Studios Ltd., 2010.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 22 cm. Pastiche featuring a daughter of Sherlock Holmes./ "A Myrl Adler Norton mystery"--cover. //
1937. Baker, Abbey Pen, and Keiko Takada. Fuyuno sanakani. Tokyo: Tokyo Sogensha, 1996.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 15 cm. In the dead of winter.; Japanese. // Myrl Adler Norton, professor of logic, investigates the murder of the landlady who always sat at her window, until her drapes closed and she would play the same record. It turns out the landlady was killed and stuffed, the drapes and record operated by pulleys.
1938. Baker, Jody. "Baynes on - Mr. and Mrs. Stapleton." Shoso-In Bulletin 8, no. (1998): 139-140.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1939. ———. "In the Beginning Was Ronald Knox." Shoso-In Bulletin 8, no. (1998): 7-9.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1940. ———. "Mrs. Baynes and the Afghan Wars." Shoso-In Bulletin 9, no. (1999): 45-57.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1941. ———. "Mrs. Baynes on the Date of the Red Headed League." Shoso-In Bulletin 8, no. (1998): 160-162.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1942. Baker, Josiah. "Murray." Shoso-In Bulletin 7, no. (1997): 109-111.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1943. Baker, John F. "Hot Deals." Publishers Weekly 251, no. 50 (2004): 12-12.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents news briefs on deals between authors and publishers in the U.S. as of December 13, 2004. Includes a reference to Holmes. "...Military historian and novelist Caleb Carr is writing his next novel, a Sherlock Holmes tale involving murder in the entourage of Queen Victoria, for Carroll & Graf, where Will Balliett bought North American rights from agent Suzanne Gluck at William Morris; it's called The Italian Secretary and will appear in May..."
1944. ———. "Hot Deals." Publishers Weekly 250, no. 45 (2003): 14-14.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Offers updates on book deals in the U.S. as of November 10, 2003 with a reference to Holmes. "A new novel that portrays Sherlock Holmes, in retirement at 93, suffering some loss of his fabled memory, uncharacteristically subject to emotion and struggling to come to terms with a mysterious case from his past, was signed as part of a two-book deal by Coates Bateman, a new editor at Nan Talese's Doubleday imprint. The author is L.A.-based Mitch Cullin, who has been a devoted Sherlockian ever since childhood, and the North American rights deal was made with agent Peter Steinberg at JCA Literary. Steinberg said that both Bateman and Talese had 'flipped' for the book, called The Moon Reflects the Sun, and offered a two-book buy, which helped clinch the deal against strong auction opposition from other publishers."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1945. ———. "Hot Deals." Publishers Weekly 249, no. 26 (2002): 14.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents updates on deals in the book industry in North America as of July 1, 2002 with a reference to Holmes. "Britain's Mark Haddon is best known as a children's author, but many years ago he used to work with autistic children, and the experience is the basis for his first adult novel, just preempted by editor-in-chief Bill Thomas at Doubleday after a string of European sales at auction. The book is The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night-Time, and if that sounds like a Sherlock Holmes sort of title, it's because the book's hero, young Christopher Boone, is obsessed with Holmes...."
1946. ———. "Hot Deals." Publishers Weekly 247, no. 30 (2000): 16.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports on some book rights deals as of July 24, 2000 with a reference to Doyle. "...That's the next book project for Daniel Stashower, who won both the Edgar and the Agatha awards for last year's Holt biography of Arthur Conan Doyle, Teller of Tales. His agent, Donald Maass, has just sold his proposal for A Gleaning of Light for a six-figure bid (including bonuses) for world rights to Charles Conrad at Broadway.... Stashower's tale centers on Philo T. Farnsworth, a 15-year-old technological genius who built the first prototype of a TV set in his San Francisco garage some 80 years ago, and on the long patent battle with RCA's David Sarnoff that eventually followed."
1947. Baker, Simon. "The Character Who Refused to Die." Spectator 299, no. 9254/9255 (2005): 64-64.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews books "The New Annotated Sherlock Holmes, Volume III: The Novels," by Arthur Conan Doyle and "Sherlock Holmes: The Unauthorized Biography," by Nick Rennison.
1948. Baker, Stephen, and Bremen Leak. "Math (will rock your world)." Business Week, no. 1/23/2006 (2006): 54-62.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article looks at the effect of math in today's world of increasing data and the ways to process it in all sectors of the economy including consulting, advertising, police and intelligence, media, and other areas. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Whether in law, journalism, or criminal detective work, sleuths have relied for centuries on the human brain to pick through strands of disparate evidence and to find patterns. Sherlock Holmes sometimes looked for them in plumes of pipe smoke...."
1949. Baker Street, Wannabees. "The Canonical Mystery, Part Three." The Holmes & Watson Report 6, no. 3 (2002): 38-44.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1950. ———. "A Canonical Mystery, Part Two." The Holmes & Watson Report 6, no. 1 (2002): 22-25, 28.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1951. Baker, William, and Kenneth Womack. "Recent Work in Critical Theory." Style 33, no. 4 (1999): 508.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a bibliography annotates of published books based primarily on materials coming into the Northern Illinois University libraries between August 1998 and August 1999. Includes entries with reference to Doyle and Holmes. Silver, Carole G. Strange Secret Peoples: Fairies and Victorian Consciousness. Oxford: Oxford UP, 1999. "Silver examines the hidden web of connections between the Victorian fascination with fairies and the dominant preoccupations of Victorian culture. Using works by such writers and artists as Thomas Carlyle, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, Charlotte Mew, and Aubrey Beardsley, among others, Silver assesses the anthropological, folkloric, legal, historical, and medical aspects of the place of fairies in the Victorian consciousness. Silver identifies a pervasive eroticism and a sense of sexual anxiety in the Victorian social, literary, and cultural approach to the world of fairies and folklore." Kendrick, Stephen. Holy Clues: The Gospel According to Sherlock Holmes. New York: Pantheon, 1999. "Kendrick argues that Sherlock Holmes functions as a spiritual guide and master, as a character whose Zen-like techniques of awareness and observation provide religious insight for modern, cynical readers. In addition to exploring the stories of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle for religious and metaphysical lessons, Kendrick demonstrates the ways in which the methods of investigating crimes are the same methods that yield religious insight when applied to the world and to the human heart. Kendrick draws upon both Eastern and Western religious tradition while addressing issues of justice and mercy, good and evil, guilt and innocence."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1952. ———. "Recent Work in Critical Theory." Style 32, no. 4 (1998): 535.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a bibliography of published books based on materials coming into Northern Illinois University libraries between August 1997 and August 1998. Includes entries for Doyle and reference to Holmes. Booth, Martin. The Doctor, the Detective, and Arthur Conan Doyle: A Biography of Arthur Conan Doyle. London: Hodder and Stoughton, 1997. "Booth offers a new study of the biographical and literary lives of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Booth devotes particular attention to Conan Doyle's formative years in which he suffered a poverty-stricken childhood at the hands of an alcoholic father. After abandoning his medical training, Conan Doyle finally pursued the literary career which earned him great wealth and fame. Booth also discusses the qualities that ensured Conan Doyle's success, including his enormous self-confidence and stubbornness, as well as his refusal to pass up any opportunity for adventure." Kestner, Joseph A. Sherlock's Men: Masculinity, Conan Doyle, and Cultural History. Aldershot: Ashgate, 1997. "Kestner examines constructions of masculinity throughout Conan Doyle's nine volumes of short stories from 1887 through 1927 and the publication of The Case Book of Sherlock Holmes. In addition to discussing the manner in which popular culture conveys the masculine gender, Kestner demonstrates Conan Doyle's interest in addressing masculinity in social, historical, legal, literary, educational, marital, and aesthetic contexts. Kestner explores such concepts as the notion of the gentleman, the role of reason, the nature of heroism, the ideology of chivalry, and the functions of law and punishment." McDonald, Peter D. British Literary Culture and Publishing Practice, 1880-1914. Cambridge: Cambridge UP, 1997. "McDonald examines the radical transformation of British literary culture from 1880 to 1914. Using works by such figures as Joseph Conrad, Arnold Bennet, and Arthur Conan Doyle, McDonald discusses the cultural politics inherent in the period. McDonald demonstrates that the discursive qualities of their texts cannot be fully appreciated without understanding the material conditions of their production." Thoms, Peter. Narrative and Power in Nineteenth-Century Detective Fiction. Athens: Ohio UP, 1998. "Thoms argues that some of the most significant nineteenth-century works of detective fiction not only helped to establish the genre, but also to subvert its structural conventions as well. Using works by Godwin, Poe, Dickens, Collins, and Conan Doyle, Thoms contends that the detective's figurative writing emerges out of a desire to exert control over others and occasionally over himself. Additionally, Thoms reveals the manner in which early detective fiction grapples with the very issue of storytelling itself."

1953. ———. "Recent work in critical theory." Style 30, no. 4 (1996): 584.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents an alphabetically arranged bibliography that annotates several books on critical theory, published between June 1995 and July 1996. Includes entries with reference to Doyle. Belford, Barbara. Bram Stoker: A Biography of the Author of Dracula. New York: Knopf, 1996. "Belford traces the life of Bram Stoker through her analysis of his public and private faces. In addition to discussing Stoker's life as the innovative manager of London's Lyceum Theatre and his place among Victorian society's glitterati, Belford explores the writer's private obsessions in his novels with such forbidden subjects as seduction, rape, necrophilia, incest, and voyeurism. Belford also examines Stoker's place among the writers of his day, including Mark Twain, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, James Whistler, Alfred Lord Tennyson, and George Bernard Shaw." Kerrigan, John. Revenge Tragedy: Aeschylus to Armageddon. Oxford: Oxford UP, 1996. "Kerrigan investigates the centrality of revenge tragedy in Western culture from the works of Homer and Nietzsche through Greek drama and Sylvia Plath. In addition to interpretive forays into film and postmodernism, Kerrigan provides close readings of revenge tragedy, using the works of Shakespeare, Samuel Richardson, and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, among others. Kerrigan also demonstrates the ways in which evolving attitudes toward retribution continue to shape and reconstitute tragedy in Western culture."

1954. ———. "Recent work in critical theory." Style 29, no. 4 (1995): 568.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a listing of four hundred eighty-seven published monographs and articles that treat on critical theory, including an entry that reference Doyle. Orel, Harold. The Historical Novel from Scott to Sabatini: Changing Attitudes Toward a Literary Genre. London: Macmillan, 1995. "Orel survey the genre of historical fiction in the works of a wide range of literary figures. including Sir Walter Scott, Sir Walter Besant, Richard Doddridge Blackmore, Sir Arthur Quiller-Couch, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, Stanley John Weyman, Anthony Hope, Sir Henry Rider Haggard, and Rafael Sabatini. Orel discusses the relationship between research and imagination in the composition strategies of these novelists, while also assessing the significance of language and character in their works."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1955. ———. "Recent work in critical theory." Style 28, no. 4 (1994): 549.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a bibliography of recent works in critical theory, including reference to Doyle. Greenslade, William. Degeneration, Culture, and the Novel, 1880-1940. Cambridge: Cambridge UP, 1994. "Greenslade confronts the late nineteenth-century belief among many affluent and educated people that destitution, insanity, criminality, and homosexuality were symptoms of the degeneration of the human race. Drawing upon the contrasting, progressive texts by such writers as Hardy, Gissing, Conan Doyle, Conrad, Wells, Forster, and Woolf, Greenslade examines the propagation of 'degenerationism' in the work of popular authors such as Warwick Deeping and John Buchan." Paul, Robert S. Whatever Happened to Sherlock Holmes?: Detective Fiction, Popular Theology, and Society. Carbondale: Southern Illinois UP, 1991. "Paul examines the immense popularity of detective fiction, particularly among the most intellectual readers, and offers close readings of works by Edgar Allan Poe, Wilkie Collins, and Conan Doyle, among others. Paul also explores the work of contemporary writers in an effort to understand their revelations about modern culture, its religion, and its ethical standards."
1956. Balaban, Alexandru T. "Mathematical Chemistry: (3,g)-Cages with Girth g, Topological Indices, and Other Graph-Theoretical Problems." Fundamenta Informaticae 64, no. 1/4 (2005): 1-16.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This essay contains personal views about mathematical chemistry -- mainly with nonnumerical and non-quantumflavor, including a reference to Doyle and Holmes. "Mathematical Chemistry (or the Sherlock Holmes Approach to Chemistry). Sir Arthur Conan Doyle created the well-known character of Sherlock Holmes, whose method consisted in the following principle that he stated repeatedly: 'when you have eliminated the impossible, whatever remains, no matter how improbable, must contain the truth.' This principle was applied in all the above graph-theoretical approaches to chemical problems."
1957. Balaguer, Mark. "Realistic Rationalism [1998]: Can We Know That Platonism is True?" Philosophical Forum 34, no. 3/4 (2003): 459-476.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Book reviewed: Jerrold J. Katz, Realistic Rationalism, including references to Doyle and Holmes.
1958. Balas, Janet L. "Of iPhones and Ebooks: Will They Get Together?" Computers in Libraries 27, no. 10 (2007): 35-38.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article discusses various electronic book resources for iPhone. Developers can only create Web-based applications for the smart telephone through the Safari Web browser that is included in the iPhone's installed software. BooksoniPhone and Readdle are Web sites that offer e-books which could be uploaded to the smart telephone. Reading e-books from BooksoniPhone and Readdle requires Internet connection. Books.app, the unauthorized e-book reader maintained by Zach Brewster-Geisz, is also cited. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...Free storage space of 50 MB, referred to as the Bookshelf, is available to registered users. In addition to a personal Bookshelf, you also have access to titles in Readdle's Public Library. When I checked, that included selections by Charles Dickens, H. P. Lovecraft, O. Henry, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, and William Shakespeare."
1959. Baldick, Chris. The Oxford book of gothic tales. Princeton, NJ: Recording for the Blind & Dyslexic, 2006. Sound Recording Sound disc.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital, mono. ; 4 3/4 in. Originally published: Oxford ; New York : Oxford University Press, 2001. Originally published: 1992. Distribution is restricted to RFB&D members who have a documented print disability such as a visual impairment, learning disability or other physical disability. edited by Chris Baldick. // "Brimming with tales of terror, suspense, and the uncanny, this work offers the first collection devoted to the Gothic genre. Each story contains the common elements of the gothic tale--a warped sense of time, a claustrophobic setting, a link to archaic modes of thought, and the impression of a descent into disintegration. Yet taken together, they reveal the progression of the genre from stories of feudal villains amid crumbling ruins to a greater level of sophistication in which writers brought the gothic tale out of its medieval setting, and placed it in the contemporary world. Bringing together the work of such writers as Eudora Welty, Thomas Hardy, Edgar Allan Poe, William Faulkner, Arthur Conan Doyle, Joyce Carol Oates, and Jorge Luis

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Borges, The Oxford Book of Gothic Tales presents a wide array of the sinister and unsettling for all lovers of ghost stories, fantasy, and horror."

1960. Baldwin, Carol Margaret. "Teaching Self-Reflection and Meta-Cognition." ETC: A Review of General Semantics 59, no. 1 (2002): 71.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses strategies for teaching self-reflection and meta-cognition, with a passing reference to Holmes in footnote 6.
1961. Balkin, Jack M. "Humanities." Letters in Canada 74, no. 1 (2004): 305-610.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews several books about humanities including Mariana Valverde. Law's Dream of a Common Knowledge Princeton University Press. xii, 248. US$35.00 The review includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...There has been much recent focus on how scientific and expert knowledges have invaded and transformed the practice of law. Valverde takes a contrarian position, arguing that a large part of legal regulation still eschews scientific expertise in favour of a melange of so-called 'common sense,' social stereotype, and what she calls the 'forensic gaze' -- searching for clues or signifiers of social disorder in the style of Sherlock Holmes...."
1962. Ball, David. "Book and Media Reviews." Addiction Biology 8, no. 4 (2003): 473-475.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews three books on addiction. Includes reference to Doyle in entry for Doctors and Patients: an Anthology, ed. by Cecil Helman (Oxford: Radcliffe Medical Press, 2002) ISBN 1857759931 The reference is to Doyle's 'A Medical Document,' one of the items included in the anthology.
1963. Ballew, Hunter. "Sherlock Holmes, master problem solver." Mathematics Teacher 87, no. (1994): 596-601.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The writer discusses the connections between Sherlock Holmes's methods and mathematical problem solving. Holmes investigated deductively, reasoned mathematically, used many different strategies, liked to solve mathematics problems, and often used a type of indirect proof. Like Holmes, students need to make observations and then test to see if these observations lead toward a solution. They should consider a problem, but they should take a break if they cannot see a solution after some time; they should gather data and look for patterns; they should question obvious facts; they should learn from errors by taking the time to look for them and correct them; and they should use indirect proofs. The writer suggests that mathematics teachers need to promote imagination, observation, and curiosity in students."
1964. Ballew, William. "Dining With Sherlock Holmes on the West Coast." The Holmes & Watson Report 2, no. 2 (1998): 7-8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1965. ———. "How Rascally Was That Lascar?" Shoso-In Bulletin 6, no. (1996): 75-77.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1966. ———. "Review--The Strange Case of Mrs. Hudson's Cat and Other Mysteries Solved by Sherlock Holmes by Colin Bruce." The Holmes & Watson Report 1, no. 4 (1997): 18-19.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1967. ———. "The Snake, the Pension and Watson's Traveling War Wound." The Holmes & Watson Report 1, no. 3 (1997): 11-12, 20.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1968. ———. "Two-Gun Watson? or 'The Curious Incident of the Bull Dog in the Medical Bag'." The Holmes & Watson Report 1, no. 2 (1997): 31-34.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1969. Ballinger, Jim. "First Encounters." Canadian Holmes 25, no. 1 (2001): 45.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1970. ———. "Letter to the Editor." Canadian Holmes 28, no. 4 (2005): 43.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1971. Ballinger, Jim, and Metropolitan Toronto Reference Library. Singalong with Sherlock Holmes. Toronto, Ont: Metropolitan Toronto Reference Library. Distributed by Battered Silicon Dispatch Box, 1995.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: cn 94930877. //
1972. Ballinger, Lee. "To Irene Adler." The Serpentine Muse 23, no. 3 (2007): 16.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1973. Bamber, David, and Chris Hastings. "Q: When, according to the BBC, is a repeat not a repeat? A: When it appeared on ITV first." Sunday Telegraph (London), February 8, 2004: 10.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "What does the BBC do when it runs out of old programmes to repeat? Elementary, my dear Watson, it buys some older ones from ITV. In a new twist on the policy of padding out its daytime schedules with 20-year-old BBC dramas, the corporation is now filling such slots with old ITV hits including Sherlock Holmes, The Father Dowling Mysteries and Murder, She Wrote...."
1974. Bamigboye, Baz. "Elocutionary, Dr Watson; It's Friday!" Daily Mail (London), October 3, 2008: 56.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Guy Ritchie has assembled a thoroughly British cast for his Sherlock Holmes movie. But what, you might well ask, about Robert Downey Jr, the all-American star who plays Holmes? 'His accent is perfect!' Kelly Reilly insisted. Kelly plays Mary, the girlfriend of Dr Watson (Jude Law) in Sherlock Holmes, as the film is simply titled...."
1975. Banash, David. "From Advertising to the Avant-Garde: Rethinking the Invention of Collage." Postmodern Culture 14, no. 2 (2004).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a reference to Doyle. "... In another scrapbook collage (see Figure 16), Burroughs brings together two moonscapes, a fragment of prose, and an image of the Mary Celeste, the nineteenth-century ghost ship made famous by Arthur Conan Doyle...."
1976. Bandrapalli, Suman. "Secret signals." Christian Science Monitor, Jan 7, 1997: 16.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents information on the origins of secret messages. Includes a reference to Doyle and Holmes. "For some fictional stories that involve secret codes, try 'The Gold Bug,' a short story by Edgar Allen Poe; 'The Adventure of the Dancing Men,' by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle (a Sherlock Holmes story); or 'Journey to the Center of the Earth,' a science-fiction novel by Jules Verne."
1977. Bange, Stephanie. "Multimedia Review." School Library Journal 51, no. 12 (2005): 81.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a review with a reference to Holmes. Arthur King and the Curious Case of the Time Train (unabr.). 4 cassettes. 3:57 hrs. Prod, by Oliver's Children's Audio Books. Dist, by BBC Audiobooks America. 2005, ISBN 1-4056-5050-8. $32.95. Gr 5-8 "Arthur King channels Sherlock Holmes in this second tale about the nerdy boy by Dean Wilkinson (published in the UK by Scholastic Ltd, 2003). Strange occurrences are the norm at Basselton School this year, Rips in the fabric of time are leaving bewildered people hours out of sync with their lives. Cavemen mug Arthur's best friend in the restroom at school. Nightly rumblings are heard beneath the town; some say it's the sound of a ghost train. Arthur believes there is a link between the unsavory new physics teacher and these unusual incidents, Arthur enlists the help of several people, including the girl he has a crush on, to help him solve the mystery. British actor Steven Pacey employs different British accents for the characters, some so thick that they are difficult to understand. Boys will especially enjoy the toilet humor found here. British slang is used liberally throughout the book, and some of the strong language may be offensive."
1978. Bangs, John Kendrick. The dreamers : being a more or less faithful account of the literary exercises of the first regular meeting of that organization. 1st ed. Berkeley Heights, NJ: Wildside Press, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. The mystery of Pinkham's diamond stud (pp. 185-206). "A Wildside Press Mystery Classic." // "A trade paperback with Edward Penfield's illustrations, and Bangs' parody 'The Mystery of Pinkham's Diamond Stud.'"

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

1979. ———. The mystery of Pinkham's diamond stud A Sherlock Holmes adventure dreamed by Fulton Streete. 1st separate ed, (Mysterious Sherlock Holmes). New York: The Mysterious Bookshop, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references //
1980. ———. R. Holmes & Co being the remarkable adventures of Raffles Holmes, Esq., detective and amateur cracksman by birth, (Otto Penzler's Sherlock Holmes library). New York: O. Penzler Books, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 93038798. Added Title: R. Holmes and Company. Added Title: Raffles Holmes and Company //
1981. ———. R. Holmes & Co. : being the remarkable adventures of Raffles Holmes, Esq., detective and amateur cracksman by birth, (Otto Penzler's Sherlock Holmes library). New York: O. Penzler Books, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 18 cm. Illustrated by Sydney Adamson. //
1982. ———. Raffles Holmes & co being the remarkable adventures of Raffles Holmes, esq., detective and amateur cracksman by birth. 1st Wildside Press ed, (Wildside mystery classics). New York: Wildside Press, 2002.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1983. ———. Raffles Holmes & co. : being the remarkable adventures of Raffles Holmes, esq., detective and amateur cracksman by birth. 1st Wildside Press ed, (Wildside mystery classics). New York: Wildside Press, 2002.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 23 cm. Introduction by John Gregory Betancourt. //
1984. ———. Sherlock Holmes again. 1st separate ed, (Mysterious Sherlock Holmes). New York: The Mysterious Bookshop, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1985. Bangs, John Kendrick, and Jon L. Lellenberg. Shylock Homes: his posthumous memoirs. 1st ed, (Dispatch-Box Press publication). Arlington, Va.: Dispatch-Box Press, 1973.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 73162788. Bibliography: p. 97-102. Citations: De Waal C21770 //
1986. Bangs, John Kendrick, and Otto Penzler. A Pragmatic Enigma. First separate ed, (Mysterious Sherlock Holmes). New York, Los Angeles, London: The Mysterious Bookshop, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 20 cm. Limited edition of 221 copies. "Being a chapter from The Failures of Sherlock Holmes"--cover./ Originally published in the magazine section of The New York Herald, April 19, 1908. It was collected in book form in "Potted fiction", published by Doubleday, Page & Co., 1908. Introduction by Otto Penzler. by A. Conan Watson, M.D. [i.e. John Kendrick Bangs]. //
1987. Banks-Smith, Nancy. "Television: TV review: These ghoulish things." The Guardian (London), September 5, 2001: 22.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "In Baker Street I once heard a tourist say 'But where's the fog?' I was fairly befogged in Murder Rooms: the Dark Beginnings of Sherlock Holmes (BBC 1), which featured Dr Bell (Ian Richardson), the inspiration for Sherlock Holmes, and young Dr Doyle (Charles Edwards)...Posh production values have been poured over the film like warm brandy over plum pudding. The writing and acting are better than strictly necessary, the lighting is downright seductive and where did they find those charming bats? Someone has taken a lot of trouble. Being an Anglo-American production, all this is largely for the benefit of the disappointed American tourist in Baker Street. Who will not be disappointed with this drama...."
1988. Bannerman, Lucy. "For sale: Sherlock Holmes rarity in the author's hand." The Times (London), June 6, 2008: 11.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The name of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle on a manuscript usually spreads feverish chequebook writing among book collectors. But the latest to come on the market will test the bank balance of even the most ardent fan. The complete manuscript of a Sherlock Holmes short story, written in Conan Doyle's elegant hand and bound for the author himself, will be one of the highlights of the Antiquarian Book Fair in

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

London today, with a price tag of Pounds 250,000. The 28-page edition of The Disappearance of Lady Frances Carfax, written in 1911, is one of the few complete Sherlock Holmes stories to survive the squabbles, scandals and mysterious deaths that have cursed the Conan Doyle estate...."

1989. Baranowski, Don W. Sherlock Holmes the adventure of the Frankenstein monster. West Conshohocken, Pa: Infinity, 2006.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1990. Barber, David W. Quotable Sherlock, (Quotable). Toronto: Quotable Press, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- [Garsington : Windsor] (distributor). ill. ; 22 cm. Includes bibliographical references and index. illustrated by Sidney Paget. //
1991. Barday, Dave. "Who Put the Science in Forensic Science?" IEE Review 49, no. (2003): 6-8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on the use of scientific process and technology in forensic science. Use of nuclear DNA to establish identities of people involved in the crime; Establishment of the profiles of criminals. Includes a passing reference to Holmes.
1992. Barham, Andrea. The pedant's revolt know what know-it-alls know. Delacorte Press hardcover ed. New York: Delacorte Press, 2006.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2006040159. Includes bibliographical references (p. 147-148) //
1993. ———. The pedant's revolt: why most things you think are right are wrong. London: Michael O'Mara Books, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1994. Baring-Gould, William Stuart. 2001 Sherlockian calendar featuring dates established by William S. Baring-Gould. S.l: s.n, 2000.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1995. ———. Sherlock Holmes of Baker Street: the life of the world's first consulting detective. New York: Wing Books, 1995.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Sept 1995 //
1996. Baring-Gould, William Stuart, Mark Alberstat, Frank Wiles, Arthur Twidle, Sidney Paget, A Gilbert, and H. K Elcock. 2005 Sherlock Holmes calendar featuring dates established by William S. Baring-Gould. Dartmouth, NS, Canada: Mark Alberstat, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1997. Barker, Adam. "The Hypocrisy of Society, In Relation to the Criticism of Sherlock Holmes From a 'Moral' Viewpoint." Shoso-In Bulletin 8, no. (1998): 56-57.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
1998. Barker, John W. "Guide to Records: Lassus." American Record Guide 66, no. 1 (2003): 144.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews several music recordings composed by Orlandus Lassus, with a reference to Doyle and Holmes. "Commentators have tended to stress the superiority of Lassus' motets over his masses. (Lovers of the Sherlock Holmes stores will recall that Conan Doyle had his versatile detective write a definitive monograph on 'The Polyphonic Motets of Lassus!')" 1999. Barlay, Nick. "Statues of the London." The Times (London), May 15, 2004: 31.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Unveiled by Harold Wilson in 1966, Mohandas Karamchand Gandhi's serene sculptural presence in Tavistock Square Gardens has become a focal point for peace memorials and events, just as his strategy of non-violent non-cooperation (satyagraha) has become a byword for peaceful resistance. Pandit Nehru, the former Prime Minister of India, planted a copper beech tree near by to commemorate his visit to London in 1953, and a cherry tree was planted in 1967 for the victims of Hiroshima. Each year on October 2, Gandhi's birth is celebrated with a huge display of flowers. To find Gandhi's statue, the great man's own instructions will help: "There is no way to peace. Peace is the way." The recent murder of Lancelyn Green, the renowned Sherlock Holmes expert, only fuels the transatlantic excitement of American and British fans: is there a Conan Doyle curse? What is true, of course, is that Holmes lived at 221b Baker Street, which is now a museum complete with very real souvenirs. Around the corner in front of Baker Street station is a statue of the famous detective by the sculptor John Doubleday, who is responsible for a number of London's more populist enterprises. The statue was unveiled in 1999 by Lord Tugendhat, the chairman of Abbey National Bank. The association with Holmes goes back to 1932, when the company built its headquarters at 200 Baker Street. Soon, a "secretary to Sherlock Holmes" had to be appointed to deal with the constant letters addressed to 221b. A permanent memorial to the world's most translated and performed playwright after Shakespeare was first proposed by the film director Derek Jarman, but it wasn't until 1998 that Oscar Wilde secured a place in Central London. Maggi Hambling's bronze in Adelaide Street near Trafalgar Square was unveiled by Stephen Fry and is less formal than the blue plaque at Wilde's residence in Tite Street in Chelsea. Entitled A Conversation with Oscar Wilde 1854-1900, the memorial consists of a sarcophagus, out of which pokes the writer's head. According to Hambling, the sculpture is "completed" when a member of the public sits down on the sarcophagus to have a chat with the author. In addition, the rebellious Wilde is depicted smoking, once a symbol of moral decay. Inscribed on the memorial is that wonderful quote by Wilde: "We are all in the gutter, but some of us are looking at the stars."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2000. Barloon, Jim. "A Private Eye: Surveillance and Selflessness in Martin Chuzzlewit." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 50, no. 3 (2000): 35-43.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2001. Barnaby, Paul. "Three into One: Twentieth-Century Scottish Verse in Translation Anthologies." Translation & Literature 9, no. 2 (2000): 188.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses the need for a translation anthology to reflect the trilingualism of Scottish literature and the polyvocal, synthetic character of 20th century verse in all three of Scotland's languages. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "The nontranslation of Catholic Scotland is unique to anthologies; it is perhaps not sufficiently remarked that four of Scotland's five most translated twentieth-century prose fiction writers (Conan Doyle, Cronin, Bruce Marshall, and Muriel Spark) are of Catholic background or faith."
2002. Barnes, Alan. Sherlock Holmes on Screen : the complete film and TV history. 5th, Rev. and updated ed. Richmond: Reynolds & Hearn, 2010.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Previous ed.: 2008. //
2003. ———. Sherlock Holmes on screen: the complete film and TV history. 2nd ed. London: Reynolds & Hearn, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references //
2004. Barnes, Bill. The Hounds collection : an anthology by members of the Hounds of the Internet : "Tales from the CyberKennel" in celebration and appreciation of Mr Sherlock Holmes, the world's first and foremost consulting detective. 1st ed. Manly, NSW: The Hounds of the Internet, 1996.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 30 cm. "The Hounds of the Internet is a discussion group conducted by electronic mail on matters associated with Sherlock Holmes"--(v. 1, p. 116). Compiled and edited by Langdale Pike. //
2005. ———. "Interview with Alan Olding BSI." Shoso-In Bulletin 14, no. (2004): 10-13.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2006. ———. "Letter to the Editor, 'Sherlockianalyst'." Canadian Holmes 26, no. 3 (2003): 4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2007. ———. "Letter to the Editor, 'The Man Who Read the East Wind'." Canadian Holmes 22, no. 3 (1999): 40-41.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2008. ———. "Report on Sherlockian Activities in Australia for 2002." Shoso-In Bulletin 13, no. (2003): 147-150.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2009. Barnes, Clive. "Making an Evening of It." Dance Magazine 75, no. 7 (2001): 90.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Deals with creating a full-evening narrative ballets, with a passing reference to Holmes.
2010. Barnes, Julian. Arthur & George. 1st British ed. London: Jonathan Cape, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Sept. 2005. // "It's a novel, offering a joint biography of Arthur Conan Doyle and George Edalji from their childhoods onward, and it is well-written and imaginative, firmly grounded on the facts of the case of George Edalji, but also thoroughly inventive when it comes to thoughts and conversations. And it's a handsome book, with an attractive decorated-cloth cover that one seldom sees on commercial books today."
2011. ———. Arthur & George. 1st American ed. New York: Knopf, 2006.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2005048771 //
2012. Barnes, Jon. "A beast just for Christmas." Tls, no. (2002): 16.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the television film 'The Hound of the Baskervilles,' starring Richard Roxburgh and Ian Hart as Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson.
2013. Barnes, John. "Henry Lawson and the 'Pinker of Literary Agents'." Australian Literary Studies 23, no. 2 (2007): 89-105.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article focuses on the relationship between literary agent James Brand Pinker and novelist Henry Lawson. Doyle is mentioned in passing. A. P. Watt also noted.
2014. Barnes, Jon. "The Rivals of Sherlock Holmes." TLS, no. 5494 (2008): 30-30.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "The Rivals of Sherlock Holmes: An Anthology of Crime Stories 1890-1914," edited by Nick Rennison.
2015. ———. "Shadows and slapstick." TLS, no. 5439 (2007): 18-18.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article discusses the film and theater adaptations of two Victorian melodramatic stories including "Gaslight," starring Ingrid Bergman, Charles Boyer and Joseph Cotten in the film version, and the book "The Hound of the Baskervilles," by Arthur Conan Doyle, which has been produced on both stage and screen. Details relating to the summary of each and their various productions are provided.
2016. Barnes, Julian. "Sherlock Holmes and the case of the property developers." The Guardian (online edition: The Guardian Unlimited), July 8, 2006.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Article discusses the attempt of the Victorian Society, by application to English Heritage, to have Doyle's house, Undershaw, in Hindhead, Surrey listed as Grade I in response to a planning application to break up Undershaw into several smaller homes.
2017. Barnes, Julian, and Nigel Anthony. Arthur & George. Hampton, NH: Sound Library/BBC Audiobooks America, 2006. Sound Recording (CD) 14 sound discs (ca. 17 hrs. 17 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Compact disc. Complete & unabridged. Title and description from container. Read by Nigel Anthony. // 2018. ———. Arthur & George. [Hampton, N.H.]: BBC Audiobooks America, 2006. Sound Recording (CD) 4 sound discs (5 hrs.).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Abridged. Compact discs. Read by Nigel Anthony. // Chronicles the lives of two boys--one who is forgotten by history, and one who becomes the creator of the world's most famous detective--as they pursue their separate destinies until they meet in a remarkable alliance.

2019. ———. Arthur & George. Hampton, NH: Chivers Audio Books/BBC Audiobooks America, 2006. Sound Recording (CD) 14 sound discs (17 hr., 13 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Compact discs. Unabridged. Read by Nigel Anthony. // Chronicles the lives of two boys--one who is forgotten by history, and one who becomes the creator of the world's most famous detective--as they pursue their separate destinies until they meet in a remarkable alliance.
2020. ———. Arthur and George. Kingstown, RI: BBC Audiobooks America, 2006. Sound Recording (cassette) 12 sound cassettes (17 hr., 17 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog, digitally mastered. Complete & unabridged. Read by Nigel Anthony. // 2021. Barnes, Trevor J. "History and philosophy of geography: life and death 2005-2007." Progress in Human Geography 32, no. 5 (2008): 650-658.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A personal narrative is presented which explores the author's experience of doing her first progress report on the history and philosophy of geography. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Keighren (2006) makes the point in his wonderful case study of Influences of geographic environment by Ellen Churchill Semple. With Sherlock Holmes' astuteness, Keighren (2006: 525, 532) tracks down the geography of the varied reactions to the book, and which are varied indeed (and in deed): from the Glasgow Herald's a 'monument of erudition and arrangement' to the anonymous Oxford undergraduate's (or maybe School of Geography staff member's) scribbled marginal comment, 'bunkum!'..."
2022. Barnhardt, Randall. "The Detective & the Zoologist: Sherlock Holmes and George Edward Challenger." Canadian Holmes 24, no. 4 (2001): 5-7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2023. Barolsky, Paul. "Leonardo, Satan, and the mystery of modern art." Virginia Quarterly Review 74, no. 3 (1998): 393.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on fables about art, with a passing reference to Holmes. "...As with Sherlock Holmes and Professor Moriarity, the detective and the criminal are each the double of the other...."
2024. Barr, Jean. "Universities after postmodernism." International Journal of Lifelong Education 21, no. 4 (2002): 321-333.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // With reference to Holmes in the bibliography. Ginzburg, C. "Morelli, Freud and Sherlock Holmes: clues and scientific method. History Workshop Journal, 9: 5-36.
2025. Barr, Robert. The triumphs of Eugène Valmont, (Oxford popular fiction). Oxford England, New York: Oxford University Press, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 96044449. Includes bibliographical references (p. [xxiv]-xxv) // "With an introduction by Stephen Knight and as a bonus, two of Barr's Sherlockian parodies: 'The Adventures of Sherlaw Kombs' and 'The Adventure of the Second Swag' (first published in The Idler in May 1892 and Dec. 1904, as by Luke Sharp).
2026. Barrett, Mike. "Review -- 'The Seventh Bullet' by Daniel D. Victor." The Musgrave Papers, no. 7 (1994): 121-122.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2027. ———. "Review--My Dear Holmes: A Study in Sherlock by Gavin Brend." The Ritual, no. 14 (1994): 55-57.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2028. ———. "Review--Sherlock Holmes and the Masquerade Murders by Frank Thomas." The Ritual, no. 14 (1994): 54-55.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2029. Barrett, Tracy. The 100-year-old Secret. 1st Square Fish ed, (Sherlock files). New York : Square Fish ; Harrisonburg, Va. : Distributed by R.R. Donnelley, 2010.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill., map ; 20 cm. // Xena and Xander Holmes, an American brother and sister living in London for a year, discover that Sherlock Holmes was their great-great-great grandfather when they are inducted into the Society for the Preservation of Famous Detectives and given his unsolved casebook, from which they attempt to solve the case of a famous missing painting.
2030. ———. The Beast of Blackslope. 1st ed. New York: Henry Holt and Co., 2009.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 22 cm. Sherlock files ; 2 // Xena and Xander Holmes, an American brother and sister spending a year in England, use clues in their ancestor Sherlock Holmes' casebook as they try to solve the mystery of a monster threatening a peaceful country village where a documentary film is being made.
2031. ———. The Case that Time Forgot. 1st ed, (The Sherlock files). New York: Henry Holt and Co., 2010.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 22 cm. // Xena and Xander Holmes, an American brother and sister who are living in England, use clues from their ancestor Sherlock Holmes' casebook when they are asked by a classmate to find an ancient Egyptian artifact that has been missing for many years.
2032. Barrett, Wayne M. "Beavis and Butt-head." USA Today Magazine 123, no. 2592 (1994): 86.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Comments on the social content of the television program 'The Beavis & Butthead Show' with a passing reference to Holmes. "...Moreover, it is parents' responsibility to monitor their children's TV viewing habits, and no one yet has shown a direct link to seeing violence on television and then acting on it. If that were so, then kids shouldn't be watching the nightly news or, for that matter, such public television staples as 'Masterpiece Theatre' and 'The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes.'"
2033. ———. "The Truth About the Sleuth." USA Today Magazine 133, no. 2716 (2005): 68-69.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the DVD release of the television series Mystery, "about detective Sherlock Holmes and his sidekick John Watson, starring Jeremy Brett and Edward Hardwicke.
2034. Barro, Robert J. "Mysteries of the Gaping Current-Account Gap." Business Week, no. 12/13 (2004): 32-32.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Considers the high U.S. current-account deficit, with a passing reference to Holmes. "Fed Chairman Alan Greenspan recently expressed concern about the stubbornly high U.S. current-account deficit. I share his concern, but I find that understanding it is like unraveling a Sherlock Holmes mystery. There are lots of clues, but I am not enough of a sleuth to put them all together...."
2035. Barrow, Andrew. "Similarity is Almost Invariably a Clue." Spectator 279, no. 8821 (1997): 35.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the books 'The Doctor, the Detective and Arthur Conan Doyle,' by Martin Booth and 'Playing the Game: A Biography of Sir Henry Newbolt,' by Susan Chitty.
2036. Barry, Donald T. "Mathematics in search of history." Mathematics Teacher 93, no. 8 (2000): 647-650.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Part of a special section on mathematics history and history in the mathematics classroom. Bibliography includes a reference to Holmes. Buck, R. Creighton. "Sherlock Holmes in Babylon." American Mathematical Monthly 87 (May 1980): 338-45.
2037. Barry, Martin. "The Crown Diamond: A Radio Play in One Act." Canadian Holmes 18, no. 4 (1995): 19-26.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2038. Barry, Rebecca Rego. "The Neo-Classics: (Re)Publishing the "Great Books" in the United States in the 1990s." Book History 6, no. (2004): 251-275.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Mentions Doyle's The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes.
2039. Barsham, Diana. Arthur Conan Doyle and the meaning of masculinity, (Nineteenth century). Aldershot, England, Burlington, VT: Ashgate Pub, 2000.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 00042047. Includes bibliographical references and index // "A valued icon of British manhood, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle has been the subject of numerous biographies since his death in 1930. All his biographies have drawn heavily on his own autobiography, Memories and Adventures, a collection of stories and anecdotes themed on the subject of masculinity and its representation." "Diana Barsham's new study offers a challenging reinterpretation of Doyle's literary career, covering the full range of his work as novelist, historian, war correspondent, legal campaigner, propagandist, and, after his conversion to Spiritualism, as religious leader. In particular, she investigates the fascinating relationship between the popular Sherlock Holmes stories, read here as secret autobiography, and Doyle's formal histories of the Boer War and of World War One." "Situating Doyle's writing within the biographical traditions of the nineteenth century to which Dr. John H. Watson contributed his memoirs of Sherlock Holmes, this book charts the stages of Doyle's determination to become a great name in the culture of his day. His progress is charted through a series of dialogic contestations with rival figures such as Dr. George Budd, Thomas Hardy, Winston Churchill, Harry Houdini and St. Paul." "This original and thought-provoking work will be of interest to scholars and students of the nineteenth century and to Doyle's many readers and admirers throughout the world."--Book jacket 2040. Bartelt, Kathryn R. "Sherlock Holmes Was Wrong: Reopening the Case of the Hound of the Baskervilles." Library Journal 133, no. 17 (2008): 69-69.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "Sherlock Holmes Was Wrong: Reopening the Case of the Hound of the Baskervilles," by Pierre Bayard, translated by Charlotte Mandell.
2041. Bartolomeo, Joey. "For Better Or for Worse." People 70, no. 4 (2008): 60-61.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article discusses the singer Madonna and husband Guy Ritchie. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "In a few weeks Madonna, Ritchie and their three kids will head back to London so the singer can put the final touches on her tour (which kicks off in Wales on Aug. 23). Come fall they will be leading separate lives again: In October Madonna returns to the U.S. to tour for two months, while Ritchie begins filming Sherlock Holmes with Robert Downey Jr. in London...."
2042. ———. "How They're Coping." People 70, no. 19 (2008): 67-68.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article discusses how the singer Madonna is handling the separation from her husband film director Guy Ritchie. "In the U.K., where Ritchie is shooting Sherlock Holmes, life seems brighter...."
2043. Bartolomeo, Joey, and Rennie Dyball. "How it fell apart. (Cover story)." People 70, no. 18 (2008): 54-59.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article looks at the events leading to the divorce of musician Madonna and film director Guy Ritchie. "...A pal says Ritchie, who has been shooting Sherlock Holmes in England, 'is throwing himself into his filmmaking.'..."
2044. Bartusiak, Marcia. "The new dark age of astronomy. (Cover story)." Astronomy 24, no. 10 (1996): 36.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on the existence of dark matter in the universe, with a passing reference to Holmes. "I have this dream that there will be a sort of Sherlock Holmes event," says Princeton astrophysicist James Peebles. 'Someone will look at this great pyramid of evidence that is building up and exclaim. 'Yes, Watson, I think I see it. By Jove, that must be it.'" 2045. Barwell, Ismay. "Levinson and the resisting reader: Feminist strategies of interpretation." Journal of Gender Studies 4, no. 2 (1995): 169.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Compares the philosophical and authorial intention approaches in determining the textual meaning of The Resisting Reader, by Judith Fetterley. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Often these fictional narrators have names and are fully characters in the story. For example, Ishmael in Moby Dick, Dr Watson in the Sherlock Holmes stories and the narrator of Tom Jones...."
2046. Barzun, Jacques. From dawn to decadence : 500 years of western cultural life : 1500 to the present. 1st ed. New York: HarperCollins, 2000.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 25 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. [803]-828) and indexes. Scuttlebutt Aug 2000. // "So vivid are [Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson] that they have become the object of a worldwide cult coupled with a make-believe scholarship: The members of the dozens of Sherlock Holmes societies pretend that Holmes and his friend were historical persons whose lives are recorded in minutest details in the sixty stories. Since these were not written to be consistent or complete, inferences from the data are the subject of endless argument, much of it carried on with the subdued humor that is itself an engaging aspect of Doyle's narratives. This manifestation of modern pedantry does not differ from that shown in the single-author societies and collectors' bibliographical concerns. But the Holmes-and-Watson 'findings' show how easy it is to draw plausible conclusions from verbal hints when the truth is in fact unknowable."

2047. Baskerville, Beaver. "Sir Hugo's Wild and Profane Sinema--The Case of the Cunningham Heritage: A Book Report." The Holmes & Watson Report 4, no. 4 (2000): 10-14.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2048. Baskerville, Mrs Pierre Pierpont. "Holmes Under the Arch: A Tale of Sherlockian Survival in the Face of a Ridiculously Wonderful Time." The Holmes & Watson Report 3, no. 5 (1999): 5-8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2049. Baskin, Barbara. "Media: Audiobooks." Booklist 97, no. 2 (2000): 263.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews two audio books written by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. 'The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes II'; 'The Case Book of Sherlock Holmes.'
2050. Bassett, Jennifer, and Arthur Conan Doyle. Fu'ermosi yu sai ma = Sherlock Holmes and the sport of kings. Di 1 ban. ed, (Shu chong, Niu jin Ying Han shuang yu du wu). Beijing Shi: Wai yu jiao xue yu yan jiu chu ban she : Niu jin da xue chu ban she, 2006.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 20 cm. //
2051. Bassett, Jennifer, Arthur Conan Doyle, and Haiyan Chen. Fu'ermosi he gong jue de er zi = Sherlock Holmes and the Duke's son. Di 1 ban. ed, (Shu chong, Niu jin Ying Han shuang yu du wu). Beijing Shi: Wai yu jiao xue yu yan jiu chu ban she : Niu jin da xue chu ban she, 2003.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 20 cm. //
2052. Bassett, Jennifer, Arthur Conan Doyle, and Ron Tiner. Sherlock Holmes and the sport of kings. [Simplified]. ed, (Oxford Bookworms Library ; Stage 1, Crime & Mystery). Oxford, New York: Oxford University Press, 2008.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 20 cm. A horse called Silver Blaze -- Monday night at King's Pyland -- John Straker's pockets -- Looking for a horse -- A day at the races -- Holmes has the answers. "First published in Oxford Bookworms, 2003"--T.p. verso. retold by Jennifer Bassett ; illustrated by Ron Tiner. // 2053. Bassett, Jennifer, Ron Tiner, and Arthur Conan Doyle. Sherlock Holmes and the Duke's son, (Oxford bookworms library. Crime & mystery. Stage 1). Oxford: Oxford University Press, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill., 1 map ; 20 cm. Arthur Conan Doyle ; retold by Jennifer Bassett ; illustrated by Ron Tiner. //
2054. ———. Sherlock Holmes and the duke's son, (Oxford bookworms library.; Crime & mystery.; Stage 1). Oxford: Oxford University Press, 2008.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill., maps ; 20 cm. + 1 sound disc (CD). Arthur Conan Doyle ; retold by Jennifer Bassett ; illustrated by Ron Tiner. // 2055. ———. Sherlock Holmes and the sport of kings, (Oxford bookworms library.; Stage 1.; Crime & mystery). Oxford: Oxford University Press, 2003.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 20 cm. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle ; retold by Jennifer Bassett ; illustrated by Ron Tiner. //
2056. Bassett, Karey L. "Spring events." Florist 27, no. 12 (1994): 12.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports on events about floriculture in the United States scheduled in May and June 1994, including Doyle's birthday. "Observe the birthday of the creator of Sherlock Holmes, literature's most famous detective. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, an English physician and novelist, was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, in 1859. Appeal to book-worms and Sherlock Holmes fans with a shop display fashioned after an English study. Display antique copies of Holmes' mysteries with men's accessories and silk arrangements suitable for offices and dens. Such a display encourages customers to plan Father's Day gift purchases."

2057. Bassett, Patrick F. "Class, Popular Media, and Independent Schools." Independent School 65, no. 2 (2006): 9-12.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article describes the relationship between social class and U.S. private schools, with a passing reference to Holmes. "...I would say that CSI, as well as the clones it has spawned, is far less Dragnet or Dirty Harry and much more Sherlock Holmes -- i.e., the triumph of the rational over the irrational...."
2058. Bassett, Troy J., and Christina M. Walter. "Booksellers and Bestsellers: British Book Sales as Documented by The Bookman, 1891-1906." Book History 4, no. (2001): 205-236.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes multiple references to Doyle.
2059. Basu, Partha. The curious case of 221B : the secret notebooks of John H. Watson, MD. New Delhi: HarperCollins Publishers India, a joint venture with The India Today Group, 2009.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 20 cm. //
2060. Batail, Jacques. "The Engineer's Thumb or Sherlock Holmes on the trail of 'the uncanny.'" International Journal of Psycho-Analysis 78, no. 4 (1997): 801-812.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Freud identified 'primal phantasies' (life in the womb, 'primal scene,' seduction, castration). It is argued that 'The Engineer's Thumb,' a short story from The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes, draws its uncanniness from the fact that it is underpinned by all the primal phantasies described by Freud. 'The Engineer's Thumb' therefore illustrates what analytical interpretation can contribute to the understanding of certain literary works..... In addition, in this short story, Conan Doyle, by setting up a 'talking cure,' anticipates the creation of psychoanalysis and highlights in a striking way certain aspects of what was to become psychoanalytical treatment."
2061. Bates, Jane. "Whodunnit?" Nursing Standard 19, no. 13 (2004): 27-27.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article focuses on disappearance of medical equipment, spoons, from hospital department. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...There is more to being a detective than meets the eye. Perhaps I should listen to Puccini and drink whisky like that Oxford sleuth Morse, or go all Sherlock Holmes on the violin--and then let fly with the accusations...."
2062. Bateson, Jean. "Review -- 'In the Footsteps of a Gigantic Hound, Multi-Society Meeting, Granada Studios 11 June 1994.'" The Musgrave Papers, no. 7 (1994): 97-98.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2063. ———. "Review--Sherlock in Summer." The Ritual, no. 14 (1994): 43-44.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2064. Batory, Dana M. The Federation Holmes, casebook number one a baker's dozen of Sherlock Holmes-Star Trek parodies. Shelburne, Ont, Sauk City, Wisc: Battered Silicon Dispatch Box, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Jan 2002. // "It has twelve of his Sherlock Holmes/Star Trek parodies first published in The Holmesian Federation from 1978 to 1991, and one new story." Contents: The Captive Bride; The Chalice of Skorr; The Color of Death; Everything Comes in Circles; The Fairy Thieves; The Interrupted Game; The Mechanical Pup; A Nostalgic Country of the Mind; A One Pipe Problem; Quadrumvirate; Watson Comes Through; Xenolith; Zindernuff's Treasure
2065. Batory, Dana Martin. "Out of the Woodwork." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 52, no. 3 (2002): 15-17.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2066. ———. "Parker's Sherlock Holmes." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 54, no. 2 (2004): 21-25.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2067. Batschelet, Margaret. "The Vanished Child and the Deconstruction of the Classic Detective." Journal of Popular Culture 40, no. 5 (2007): 764-784.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "The Vanished Child," by Sarah Smith. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...This 'gifted amateur' is the hero of the novel, Alexander von Reidsen, an Austrian scientist and exemplar of the rationalist, empirical approach (he is introduced in the first chapter dissecting frogs in his Swiss laboratory). Reidsen, like Sherlock Holmes, is a master of various disciplines: he is a gifted and widely sought-after biochemist, a trained diplomat, an accomplished dancer, actor, driver, theatrical director, rider, and marksman...."

2068. Batten, Jack. "If Robert Service had written The Hound of the Baskervilles." Canadian Holmes 25, no. 1 (2001): 26-29.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2069. Battista, Kathy, Brandon LaBelle, Barbara Penner, Steve Pile, and Jane Rendell. "Exploring 'an area of outstanding unnatural beauty': a treasure hunt around King's Cross, London." Cultural Geographies 12, no. 4 (2005): 429-462.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes references to Doyle and Holmes.

2070. Bauer, Susan Wise. "Satan with a stethoscope." Christianity Today 42, no. 11 (1998): 58.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // States that greed is the greatest factor that could corrupt doctors and the medical profession, with a passing reference to Holmes. "'When a doctor does go wrong,' Sherlock Holmes once remarked to Watson, 'he is the first of criminals. He has nerve and he has knowledge.' This view of the doctor as occupying a plane above common humanity (Holmes's opponent in 'The Speckled Band,' Dr. Grimesby Roylott, can bend a poker double with his bare hands) persists."

2071. Bauers, Sandy. "Readers will get vocal over these stocking stuffers; [Morning Edition]." Orange County Register, Dec 11, 1994: F32.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This version of Dickens' classic is read by Patrick Stewart. Although my annual favorite still is the Caedmon recording by Sir John Gielgud, this is the one that gets more hype, and Simon & Schuster has just released it in a fancy new CD version.; With the publication of this recording, Simon & Schuster has completed its series of vintage Holmes radio broadcasts starring Basil Rathbone and Nigel Bruce. The series is available singly or in packaged sets.; The novelized version of the Battle of Gettysburg is read by George Hearn with an afterword by [Michael Shaara]'s son Jeffrey. This is not only a great recording, it also has an elegant box and a four-page folder with a map.

2072. Bayard, Pierre. L'affaire du chien des Baskerville, (Paradoxe). Paris: Minuit, 2007.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 22 cm. Includes bibliographical references. //

2073. ———. L'affaire du chien des Baskerville, (Paradoxe). Paris: Minuit, 2008.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 22 cm. //

2074. Baylen, Joseph O. "London 1900: The Imperial Metropolis (review)." Victorian Studies 43, no. 4 (2001): 680-682.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes reference to Doyle. "...Schneer cites the fiction of Arthur Conan Doyle, whose propagation of racist ideas and sentiments justified the imperialist sentiment prevalent in London in 1900. Here his acerbic view of Conan Doyle differs somewhat from the verdict of Daniel Strashower's recent biography of the writer...."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2075. Bayliss, Rebecca A. "Watson's Surprise Christmas Gift." Shoso-In Bulletin 11, no. (2001): 131-133.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2076. Beacom, Brian. "Sherlock Holmes The Last Act." Evening Times (Glasgow), September 3, 2004: 29.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Roger Llewellyn appears as the world's greatest fictional detective as he confronts his most complex case of all - his own psyche. Set in 1916, this top-rated one-man play sees Holmes returning to London, after two years retirement in Sussex, to attend the funeral of his friend and colleague Dr Watson. Combining wit, humour, drama and pathos, Sherlock Holmes - The Last Act, takes Holmes back to Baker Street. And in the process it explores the mind of the man, not the detective. What we come to discover is a passionate man with a cutting sense of humour. This vivid dramatisation also examines the close relationship between Holmes and Watson, as Llewellyn moves seamlessly through a gallery of Conan Doyle's characters. The play has toured the world to packed houses and rave reviews."
2077. Beadle, Jeremy. "10 Questions a Quiz by Jeremy Beadle (Answers on Page 52)." The Independent (London), December 18, 2004: 9.52.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // First question in the quiz reads: "What links Napoleon, Sherlock Holmes, Edmund Hillary and Utah?"
2078. Beam, Thelma. "Bookshelf: The Return of Sherlock Holmes." Canadian Holmes 17, no. 4 (1994): 32-33.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews "The Return of Sherlock Holmes" from The Oxford Sherlock Holmes.
2079. ———. "Ladies: What Will You Bid For His Lordship?" Canadian Holmes 20, no. 4 (1997): 5-11.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2080. Beam, Thelma, and Clarissa Aykroyd. "'Bookshelf' Reviews of The Hound's Collection Volume 5 and A Study in Celluloid: A Producer's Account of Jeremy Brett as Sherlock Holmes." Canadian Holmes 24, no. 2 (2000): 31-33.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2081. Bear, Greg. Dinosaur summer. New York: Aspect, 1998.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 97012318 // "Conan Doyle's 'Lost World' was a factual account of the Challenger expedition, but by 1947 nobody cares about dinosaurs any more, and the last dinosaur circus in America is closing, and there's an attempt to return the dinosaurs to the Lost World, filmed for National Geographic by John Ford."
2082. Beard, Charles Austin. "The quest for academic power." The Journal of Higher Education (Columbus, Ohio) 70, no. 5 (1999): 572-578.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "An article originally published in the 1930s is presented. Members of the American Association of University Professors are attempting to determine the future direction of higher education. A brief history of the university is presented." Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "A music-hall wit who has taken London by storm recently tore his audience wide open by saying in true English drawl: 'Darwin has told us where we came from, Conan Doyle has told us where we are going, and if Stanley Baldwin will tell us where we are, I'll buy him a new top hat.' In the kingdom of higher education we have no Darwins or Conan Doyles, and it is doubtful whether there are any Baldwins among us to win shiny plugs...."
2083. Beard, Matthew. "An Elementary Explanation for Sherlock Holmes." The Independent (London), July 11, 2002: 1.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The inspiration for the characters in Sherlock Holmes books has intrigued devotees of the detective novel for nearly two centuries. The explanation behind their creation seems elementary. The Scottish author's alma mater, Stonyhurst College, near Clitheroe in Lancashire, has revealed Doyle may have taken names from the school register....The author may even have drawn inspiration for the setting of The Hound of the Baskervilles from the school building, which bears a startling resemblance to Baskerville Hall. Details of Doyle's schooldays emerged after Stonyhurst recruited a curator to compile a permanent archive to the writer, which will open in September...."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2084. Beare, Geraldine. "'The Hound of the Baskervilles': Background, Inspiration and Connections." The Musgrave Papers, no. 14 (2001): 20-26.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2085. ———. "The Strand Magazine - 1891-1950." Imaginative Book Illustration Society Newsletter, no.9, suppl, no. 9 (1998): 31-33.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A history of 'The Strand Magazine', a literary and general interest magazine published by George Newnes which made its first appearance in January 1891 and ran for nearly sixty years, being absorbed into 'Men Only' in 1950. The author discusses the writers and illustrators whose work was published in the magazine. Authors who wrote for 'The Strand' included Conan Doyle, E.W. Raffles, P.G. Wodehouse, H.G. Wells, John Buchan and Agatha Christie. Among the many illustrators whose work featured in the pages of the magazine were Charles Pears, Frank Reynolds, W.H., Charles and T.H. Robinson, E.H. Shepard, Gordon Browne, Dudley Hardy, Edward Ardizzone, Mervyn Peake, Robin Jacques, Ronald Searle and John Farleigh.
2086. Beare, Geraldine, and Sherlock Holmes Society of London. Index to the Sherlock Holmes journal, 1952-2002. Shelburne, Ont: Battered Silicon Dispatch Box, 2003.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2087. Beattie, Ann. "Buried Treasure." Ploughshares 22, no. 2/3 (1996): 9.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents Ann Beattie's 'Buried Treasure,' a short story about three estranged friends who were reunited after one of them received a letter that leads to where a chest of music equipment is buried. Includes a passing reference to Holmes.
2088. Beaumont, O. "Review--Meet the Musgraves." The Ritual, no. 24 (1999): 54-55.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2089. Beauregard, Sue-Ellen. "Audiobook Preview." Booklist 100, no. 19/20 (2004): 1769-1772.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Offers a preview of audiobooks to be released from June through December 2004. Lists The Return of Sherlock Holmes II. Read by David Timson. Naxos.
2090. Beauregard, Sue-Ellen, Candace Smith, and Jeff Dick. "Videos and DVDs: Adult Travel." Booklist 98, no. 2 (2001): 239.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews several videotapes on adult travel. 'In the Footsteps of Sherlock Holmes,' by Chip Taylor; 'The Keepers of Cana Island Light'; 'New Mexico: The Land of Excitement.'
2091. Beaver, Patrick. The Wipers Times a complete facsimile of the famous World War One trench newspaper, incorporating the New Church Times, the Kemmel Times, the Somme Times, the B.E.F. Times, and the Better Times. London: P. Davies, 1973.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 74154717; Scuttlebutt 1994 // "The newspaper (which eventually became The B.E.F. Times) was published by British soldiers at the front during World War I, and it contained three parodies featuring Herlock Shomes. Brian Pugh notes that the 24th Division List of Staff Officers 28 September 1915 (on p. 375) includes Lt.-Col. J.F.I.H. Doyle (Arthur Conan Doyle's brother Innes); his full name was John Francis Innes Hay Doyle."
2092. Beavin, Kristi. "Audiobooks: Hear! Hear!" Horn Book Magazine 72, no. 1 (1996): 105.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Mention of Doyle and Holmes. "...Another inspired match between locale and narrator is Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's The Red-Headed League, read by the oh-so-properly-British Charles Keating...."
2093. Bechtel, Mark, and Stephen Cannella. "Go Figure." Sports Illustrated 101, no. 16 (2004): 16-16.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article presents figures related to the sports world. Includes reference to Holmes. "...2,7000: Miles former soccer player Lloyd Scott of England will pedal across Australia on a 119-year-old bicycle, while dressed as Sherlock Holmes, to raise money for leukemia research...."

2094. Becker, Alan. "Schumann: Symphonic Etudes; Abegg Variations; Kinderszenen; Toccata (Music)." American Record Guide 67, no. 6 (2004): 178-179.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews a piano music release, featuring works composed by Robert Schumann and performed by Ivo Janssen. Includes work by Scott that refers to Doyle. "Scott: Symphony 3; Piano Concerto 2: Neptune. Cyril Scott was an English mystic, eccentric if not so dotty as Scriabin....He shared with Arthur Conan Doyle a belief in spiritualism, a popular fad at the time...."

2095. Becker, Jill, and Sheri Fowler. "Around the state." Texas Monthly 23, no. 2 (1995): 16.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a guide to various entertainment and cultural events to be organized in Texas during 1995, with a reference to Doyle. "When the Harry Ransom Humanities Research Center in Austin receives a writer's archive, items such as letter openers, ash-trays, and checkbooks often accompany the manuscripts and letters. These personal effects make up the center's new permanent display, 'Worldly Possessions.' Among the articles exhibited are Isaac Singer's typewriter (complete with Yiddish characters), Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's metal-rimmed glasses (below, bottom left), a pair of moccasins worn by D. H. Lawrence, and a plate bearing Charles Dickens' initials and seal."

2096. Becker, Lucille Frackman. "Celebrating the Georges Simenon Centennial." World Literature Today 77, no. 3/4 (2003): 59-61.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on the literary works of French-language novelist Georges Simenon who celebrated a centenary of his birth in 2003. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "Maigret is unimaginable without his city--it is as tightly linked to him as is London to Sherlock Holmes."

2097. Beech, Anthony. "Offender profiling." Journal of Mental Health 4, no. 1 (1995): 5.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Editorial. Discusses the changes in the public perception of the discipline of psychology. Includes a reference to Holmes in the notes. "Canter, D. (1994b). The death of Sherlock Holmes. Division of Criminological and Legal Psychology Newsletter, 367, 5-7."

2098. Beedle, Andrew. "Modal fatalism." Philosophical Quarterly 46, no. 185 (1996): 488.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Examines the claim that David Lewis' modal realism should change the way in which we care about what happens. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...If we think of worlds as stories, our world may be a Sherlock Holmes tale or a Kafka short story...."

2099. Beeman, Herbert. "Some Adventures of Mr. Surelock Keys." Canadian Holmes 19, no. 1 (1995): 5-7.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2100. Beerbohm, Nonie. "Literary supplement: A Gallimaufrey of essays." Contemporary Review 264, no. 1540 (1994): 278.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'Literary Essays and Reviews, With Some Ellen Terry Letters,' by John Whitehead. Includes references to Doyle.

2101. Begley, Sharon. "Critical Thinking: Part Skill, Part Mindset And Totally Up to You." Wall Street Journal - Eastern Edition, 10/20, 2006: B1-B1.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article discusses the difference between having critical thinking skills and applying them. The writer offers an example from the book "The Science of Sherlock Holmes" by E.J. Wagner. Cognitive psychologist D. Alan Bensley at Frostberg State College in Maryland argues that application of critical thinking is determined by character traits not intelligence.

2102. Begley, Sharon, and Adam Rogers. "Disturbing the universe." Newsweek 131, no. 10 (1998): 54.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

- NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports on two studies concluding that the universe is pervaded by a bizarre force. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Once the researchers eliminated mundane explanations for this, they had to heed Sherlock Holmes: 'Whatever remains, however improbable, must be the truth.'"
2103. Begley, Sharon, Karen Springen, and Kurt Soller. "Why we Believe." Newsweek 152, no. 18 (2008): 56-60.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article discusses why people believe in paranormal phenomena. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...As scientists began studying belief in the paranormal, it quickly became clear that belief requires an open mind--one not bound by the evidence of the senses, but in which emotions such as hope and despair can trump that evidence. Consider the Tichborne affair. In 1854, Sir Roger Tichborne, age 25, was reported lost at sea off the coast of Brazil. His inconsolable mother refused to accept that her son was dead. Twelve years later a man from Wagga Wagga, in New South Wales, Australia, got in touch with her. He claimed to be Sir Roger, so Lady Tichborne immediately sent him money to sail to England. When the claimant arrived, he turned out to be grossly obese, E.J. Wagner recounts in her 2006 book 'The Science of Sherlock Holmes.'..."
2104. Beiderwell, Bruce, and Jeffrey M. Wheeler. The Literary Experience. Princeton, NJ: Recording for the Blind & Dyslexic, 2007. Sound Recording Sound disc.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital, mono. ; 4 3/4 in. Originally published: Boston, MA : Thomson/Wadsworth. c2008. Compact ed. Distribution is restricted to RFB&D members who have a documented print disability such as a visual impairment, learning disability or other physical disability. Bruce Beiderwell, Jeffrey M. Wheeler. // In [this volume], you will find literary selections and discussion of literary elements grouped in a way that facilitates the discussion that leads to thoughtful writing about the texts. [It] address[es] the sorts of basic questions and essential elements that one encounters in nearly any text (questions of story, character, theme, and so on). -Pref.
2105. Beidler, Paul Gorman. "Membranes: Metaphors of Invasion in Nineteenth-Century Literature, Science, and Politics (review)." Literature and Medicine 19, no. 2 (2000): 297-300.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a reference to Doyle and Holmes. "...Otis calls Arthur Conan Doyle's Sherlock Holmes 'an imperial leukocyte' who 'succeeds so often in reaching his target because he moves freely throughout the imperial body' (p. 110)...."
2106. Beiman, Nancy. "Toast to Mrs. Hudson." The Holmes & Watson Report 4, no. 2 (2000): 9.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2107. Beinart, Peter. "Quiet Time." New Republic 226, no. 18 (2002): 6-6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Deals with the contributions of the administrations of former U.S. President Bill Clinton and President George W. Bush to the anti-immigrant sentiment in the country. Includes a reference to Holmes. "In the short story 'Silver Blaze,' Sherlock Holmes draws Inspector Gregory's attention to 'the curious incident of the dog in the night-time.' 'The dog did nothing in the night-time,' insists the confused Inspector. 'That,' Holmes responds, 'was the curious incident.' Last month in France, a dog barked at the top of its lungs: Jean-Marie Le Pen placed second in the first round of voting for the French presidency....The 'curious incident'--the dog that hasn't barked--is the United States."
2108. Beland, Nicole, and Mike Zimmerman. "Ask the Girl Next Door." Men's Health (Rodale Inc.) 19, no. 3 (2004): 26-26.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents questions from men about women. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...So I recommend that you ask the direct, but always welcome, question 'Did you come?' instead of trying to play Sherlock Holmes during a shagfest...."
2109. Bell, A. Craig. "The rise and fall of the detective novel." Contemporary Review 272, no. 1587 (1998): 197.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Explores the popularity and decline of the detective fiction, with multiple references to Doyle and Holmes.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2110. Bell, Frederick, and Marc Schepers. "Frederick Bell & Marc Schepers: the deconstructed image." Artefactum 11, no. 53 (1994): 30-31.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The artists Frederick Bell and Marc Schepers comment briefly on their photographic project The Deconstructed Image and provide a history of photomontage and collage. They explain the choice of the title, noting that it contains a reference to collage and montage, and examine the philosophy behind these art forms, with reference to the writings of Conan Doyle, Walter Benjamin and Sigmund Freud, and to pioneering work in the field by artists such as George Grosz, Hannah Höch and Raoul Hausmann. He draws a parallel between montage and an increasingly fragmented society, and analyses the confusion between reality and representation caused in the viewer by such art works."
2111. Bell, Hazel K. Indexers and indexes in fact and fiction. Toronto: University of Toronto Press, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 22 cm. Includes index. Edited by Hazel K. Bell ; with a foreword by A.S. Byatt. Scuttlebutt Nov 2002. // "The contents include an interesting essay on 'Indexing in Baker Street' by Margaret D. Anderson, who concludes that 'Holmes was a successful indexer. He was industrious and painstaking, as all indexers must be, and, aided by his remarkable memory, his filing system never failed him. A modern practitioner would no doubt have made a master card-index for all the encyclopaedic volumes, but Holmes did very well without.'"
2112. ———. Indexers and indexes in fact and fiction. London: British Library, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 22 cm. Includes bibliographical references and index. Edited by Hazel K. Bell ; with a foreword by A.S. Byatt. //
2113. Bell, H. W. Baker Street studies, (Otto Penzler's Sherlock Holmes library). New York: O. Penzler Books. Distributed by Simon & Schuster, 1995.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 94022580. Includes bibliographical references //
2114. Bell, Ian F. A. "Membranes: Metaphors of Invasion in Nineteenth-Century Literature, Science, and Politics (review)." Modernism/modernity 8, no. 2 (2001): 375-377.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes multiple references to Doyle and Holmes.
2115. Bell, Joseph. "Mr. Sherlock Holmes (reprint)." The Musgrave Papers, no. 7 (1994): 83-87.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2116. Bell, Kenny. "It's elementary." Economist 385, no. 8551 (2007): 23-23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A letter to the editor is presented in response to the article "A Man Divided" published in the October 6, 2007 issue. Letter reads in full: Sir -- It is unlikely that Arthur Conan Doyle was "one of the best-known Englishmen in the world", as he was a Scot ("A man divided", October 6th). Anyone who views the extant film interviews with him at Surgeons' Hall Museums in Edinburgh will be left in no doubt. Surgeons' Hall also houses a fascinating exhibition on Dr Joseph Bell, Doyle's inspiration for Sherlock Holmes.
2117. Bell, Millicent. "James, The Audience of the Nineties, and The Spoils of Poynton." The Henry James Review 20, no. 3 (1999): 217-226.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...In the last decade of the century, the English literary marketplace was being transformed by the increase of readers, by the proliferation of one-volume adventure thrillers and romances written not only by forgotten hacks but by gifted writers like Rider Haggard, Conan Doyle, and Marie Corelli...."
2118. Bell, Robert H. "'Preparatory to anything else': Introduction to Joyce's 'Hades'." Journal of Modern Literature 24, no. 3/4 (2001): 363.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Comments on the Hades episode of the book 'Ulysses in Hypermedia,' by James Joyce. Unknown references to Doyle or Holmes.
2119. Bell, Susan. "A case for Holmes intrigues French." The Times (London), May 27, 1995: 1.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The King and Queen of Bohemia were there, as was the chief of police and a certain Inspector Valentine. Whispers that the evil Professor Moriarty and his accomplice Colonel Moran were in the vicinity sent a frisson through the crowd. Sixty in all, resplendent in Victorian frock coats and crinolines, they had gathered on Thursday afternoon beneath the clock at the Gare du Nord to investigate the case of the missing suitcases, sent to the station's left- luggage office by Sherlock Holmes in April 1891, and never reclaimed. Founded three years ago, La Quincaillerie Franco-Midlands, the French equivalent of the Sherlock Holmes Society, already boasts 135 branches with more than 300 members in France...."

2120. Belzen, Jacob A. "The Historicocultural Approach in the Psychology of Religion: Perspectives for Interdisciplinary Research." Journal for the Scientific Study of Religion 36, no. 3 (1997): 358.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...In his exposition of the 'indication paradigm,' Ginzburg (1986/1989) puts both groups of practitioners of the individualizing approach in the same category as Sherlock Holmes...."
2121. Bemrose, John. "Cynics and sybarites." Maclean's 107, no. 24 (1994): 45.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on the Shaw Festival, in integral part of summer at Niagara-on-the Lake, Ontario, for 33 years. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...As well, most of the works being presented later in the summer, from the Victorian melodrama Sherlock Holmes, by William Gillette, to J. B. Priestley's 1934 tale of a disillusioned actress, Eden End, feature authors or kinds of drama that have been successful draws in the past...."
2122. ———. "A life with Sherlock." Maclean's 109, no. 6 (1996): 60.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the biography Conan Doyle, by Michael Coren.
2123. Bencivenga, Jim. "Hillerman's mystery writing scales the heights of fiction." Christian Science Monitor, Jan 6, 1997: 13.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses the book The Fallen Man, by Tony Hillerman, beginning with a reference to Doyle. "With the publication of 'The Fallen Man,' his 12th in the Leaphorn-Chee detective series, Tony Hillerman's place alongside such great mystery writers as Agatha Christie and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle is certain...."
2124. Bender, Pat. "In the footsteps of Sherlock Holmes." School Library Journal 47, no. 8 (2001): 80.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "In the Footsteps of Sherlock Holmes ($159.99), from Associated TV International, is a 45-minute video that visits the settings of the fictional crimes investigated by Arthur Conan Doyle's Victorian detective. Amid descriptions of late 19th-century London and shots of the British city today, the narrator summarizes the plots and settings of the Sherlock Holmes tales. Suitable for students in grade 7 and up, this video would be a delight for all Holmes fans and could supplement a unit on Victorian history or literature."
2125. Benedict, David. "Edinburgh Festival: Good heavens, they're alive!" The Independent (London), August 25, 1998: 12.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Sherlock Holmes and Doctor Watson are more than 100 years old and still in the detective business. In an exclusive interview, David Benedict talks to the World's Greatest Detective and his chum....As visitors to the University of Minnesota (repository of the world's largest collection of Sherlock Holmes memorabilia) will attest, there's the nasty business of the needles: Holmes is a self- confessed addict....Maggie Fox and Sue Ryding, aka Lip Service, play Holmes and Watson in 'Move Over Moriarty at the Assembly Rooms...."
2126. Benesley, Janet. "Hidden Meanings." The Serpentine Muse 23, no. 1 (2006): 16-22.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2127. Benfey, Theodor. "Wish List." Chemical Heritage 25, no. 4 (2008): 43.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews several books including "Ghostwalk," by Rebecca Stott, "The Cartoon Guide to Chemistry," by Larry Gonick and Craig Criddle, and "The Science of Sherlock Holmes:

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

From Baskerville Hall to the Valley of Fear, the Real Forensics Behind the Great Detective's Greatest Cases," by E. J. Wagner.

2128. Benford, Gregory. "Alt.fans." Reason 27, no. 8 (1996): 43.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports on the evolution of science fiction fandom in the Internet, with a reference to Holmes. "...Well before the 1970s, fandoms devoted to other areas had begun, including the Baker Street Irregulars for Sherlock Holmes, 'zines for the mystery and romance genres, even for model railroaders...."
2129. Bengtsson, Hans-Uno. "It Needs Careful Handling." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 2 (1994): 82-90.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Some thoughts and observations on The Adventure of the Illustrious Client and Dr. Watson's 24-hour cramming on Chinese porcelain as a part of the tale.
2130. Benner, Laurence A. "Protecting Constitutional Rights in an Age of Anxiety: A New Approach." Human Rights: Journal of the Section of Individual Rights & Responsibilities 29, no. 2 (2002): 11.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Like the dog that didn't bark in the famous Sherlock Holmes mystery, perhaps the most significant factor, never mentioned by the Court in Arvnu, was that the family in the minivan was Hispanic...."
2131. Bennett, Nigel, and P. N. Elrod. His father's son. Riverdale, NY, New York, NY: Baen. Distributed by Simon & Schuster, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 00065092 // "P. N. Elrod (better known in Sherlockian circles as Patti Nead Elrod, the creator of the 'Baker Street Irregulars') began her paperback series The Vampire Files for Ace in 1990, featuring Jack Fleming (formerly a reporter and now a vampire) and his private-detective friend Charles Escott (whose name is not the only Sherlockian echo in the six-book series). Patti has other books in print, a fan club, and a Jack Fleming short story in the Martin H. Greenberg anthology Vampire Detectives, and another in the Greenberg anthology Celebrity Vampires. She is getting ready to return to The Vampire Files with a novel Dark Sleep that will focus on Charles Escott, who (as it happens) is the natural son of Sherlock Holmes."
2132. ———. Keeper of the king. Riverdale, NY: Baen Books, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 96036663 // "P. N. Elrod (better known in Sherlockian circles as Patti Nead Elrod, the creator of the 'Baker Street Irregulars') began her paperback series The Vampire Files for Ace in 1990, featuring Jack Fleming (formerly a reporter and now a vampire) and his private-detective friend Charles Escott (whose name is not the only Sherlockian echo in the six-book series). Patti has other books in print, a fan club, and a Jack Fleming short story in the Martin H. Greenberg anthology Vampire Detectives, and another in the Greenberg anthology Celebrity Vampires. She is getting ready to return to The Vampire Files with a novel Dark Sleep that will focus on Charles Escott, who (as it happens) is the natural son of Sherlock Holmes."
2133. ———. Siege perilous. Riverdale, NY: Baen Books, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2004014349 // "P. N. Elrod (better known in Sherlockian circles as Patti Nead Elrod, the creator of the 'Baker Street Irregulars') began her paperback series The Vampire Files for Ace in 1990, featuring Jack Fleming (formerly a reporter and now a vampire) and his private-detective friend Charles Escott (whose name is not the only Sherlockian echo in the six-book series). Patti has other books in print, a fan club, and a Jack Fleming short story in the Martin H. Greenberg anthology Vampire Detectives, and another in the Greenberg anthology Celebrity Vampires. She is getting ready to return to The Vampire Files with a novel Dark Sleep that will focus on Charles Escott, who (as it happens) is the natural son of Sherlock Holmes."
2134. Bennett, Suzy. "Scenes of the crime." The Daily Telegraph (London), May 12, 2007: 13.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "...For fans of Britain's original detective, the Sherlock Holmes Museum at 221b Baker Street, London, is an obvious place to visit...along with the Sherlock Holmes pub on nearby Northumberland Avenue, which exhibits props used in the films. Further afield, in Devon, mist-wreathed

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Dartmoor was the inspiration for Arthur Conan Doyle's The Hound of the Baskervilles, although most of the 2002 film version of the story took place in Glen Maye, Jurby and Druidale on the Isle of Man...."

2135. Bensley, David. "The Adventure of the Beryl Coronet -- A Case of Identity." The Camden House Journal 28, no. 7 (2006): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2136. ———. "The Adventure of the Noble Bachelor -- 'Poor St. Simon'." The Camden House Journal 31, no. 9 (2009): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2137. ———. "The Adventure of the Norwood Builder -- The Architecture of a Crime." The Camden House Journal 28, no. 12 (2006): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2138. ———. "The Adventure of the Retired Colourman." The Camden House Journal 29, no. 9 (2007): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2139. ———. "The Adventure of the Speckled Band -- an Eley No. 2?" The Camden House Journal 16, no. 2 (1994): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2140. ———. "Ballarat Gold." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (1999): 20-22.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2141. ———. "'Half crowns by the thousand': An Investigation into the 'Adventure of the Engineer's Thumb'." The Camden House Journal 28, no. 2 (2006): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2142. ———. "Holmes's Swan Dive." The Camden House Journal 23, no. 5 (2001): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2143. ———. "'How to Claim Your Bride' or 'The Perils of Hatty'." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (1999): 23-26.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2144. ———. "'How to claim your bride' or, 'The Perils of Hatty'." The Camden House Journal 20, no. 5 (1998): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2145. ———. "Hugo and the Burning Hound of the Baskervilles." The Camden House Journal 27, no. 8 (2005): 2-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2146. ———. "Maiwand." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (2001): 9-46.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2147. ———. "The Musgrave Ritual or 'Musgrave's First Bank and Trust'." The Camden House Journal 25, no. 7 (2003): 2-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2148. ———. "'Twas a Week Before New Year's...'" Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (1996): 23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2149. ———. "The Twisted Plot...The Game is Afoot." The Camden House Journal 29, no. 5 (2007): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2150. Bensley, David, and Janet Bensley. "'One Rather Intricate Matter...'" The Camden House Journal 16, no. 11 (1994): 2-3.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2151. ———. "Red Circle, Red Herring?" The Camden House Journal 19, no. 5 (1997): 2-6.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2152. ———. "A Scandal in Bohemia: A Picture of 1,000 Words?" The Camden House Journal 31, no. 11 (2009): 2-7.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2153. ———. "Wines of the Canon or Sipping Through the Tales." The Camden House Journal 20, no. 1 (1998): 2-3.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2154. Bensley, D. Alan. "Why great thinkers sometimes fail to think critically." Skeptical Inquirer 30, no. 4 (2006): 47-52.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // It is somewhat paradoxical that Sherlock Holmes was a literary creation of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, says D. Alan Bensley, an associate professor of psychology at Frostburg State University, in an essay about critical thinking. After all, he says, Sherlock Holmes was a shrewd detective with uncanny reasoning abilities, while Conan Doyle often exhibited "dramatic lapses in his own critical thinking."
2155. Bensley, D. F. "A Question of Ballistics?" Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 3 (1994): 173-78.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents some observations on Holmes' interest in firearms, munitions, and marksmanship as related in a number of the tales and during the time of the Great Hiatus.
2156. Bensley, Janet. "25 Years in the Empty House: A Crossword Puzzle." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (2002): 17-18, 37.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2157. ———. "The Bait." The Camden House Journal 19, no. 9 (1997): 2-3.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2158. ———. "Behind the Scenes of 'The Veiled Lodger'." The Camden House Journal 29, no. 2 (2007): 2-3.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2159. ———. "Building 'The Door to Camden House'." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (2002): 19-21.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2160. ———. The Camden House Cookbook 2: Recipes From The Empty House. Zeigler, IL: Occupants of The Empty House; Stan Tinsley, 2002.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2161. ———. "A Choice of Weapons." The Camden House Journal 23, no. 2 (2001): 2-3.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2162. ———. "The Commissionaire's Review: The Man From Beyond by Gabriel Brownstein." The Camden House Journal 27, no. 10 (2005): insert.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2163. ———. "Crossword Puzzle 'The Hound of the Baskervilles'." The Camden House Journal 21, no. 10 (1999): 2-3.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2164. ———. "Falling Leaves." The Camden House Journal 24, no. 3 (2002): 2-3.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2165. ———. "Good House-keeping." The Holmes & Watson Report 7, no. 4 (2003): 25-29.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2166. ———. "The Greek Interpreter: A Crossword Puzzle." The Camden House Journal 15, no. 10 (1993): insert.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2167. ———. "I say 'est-ce vous parlez Francais?' Do You Speak French?" The Camden House Journal 22, no. 5 (2000): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2168. ———. "Keepin' Bees-y." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (2000): 17-20.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2169. ———. "Let the Games Begin!!" The Camden House Journal 29, no. 7 (2007): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2170. ———. "Let's Break the Rules." The Camden House Journal 30, no. 8 (2008): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2171. ———. "Let's Raise the Flag." The Camden House Journal 29, no. 8 (2007): 2-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2172. ———. "My Ancestors Were." The Holmes & Watson Report 3, no. 3 (1999): 14-17.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2173. ———. "Pedaling Down the Road With the Solitary Cyclist." The Camden House Journal 28, no. 10 (2006): 2-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2174. ———. "A Pip of a Tale." The Camden House Journal 32, no. 1 (2010): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2175. ———. "Plans and Plots." The Camden House Journal 28, no. 5 (2006): 2-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2176. ———. "Renovating Baker Street." The Camden House Journal 23, no. 9 (2001): 2-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2177. ———. "The Sherlock Holmes Triviography and Quiz Book -- a review." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (2000): 28.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2178. ———. "Thar's Gold in Them Thar Hills." The Camden House Journal 27, no. 10 (2005): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2179. ———. "What to Do With Retirement." The Camden House Journal 25, no. 3 (2003): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2180. Bensley, Janet, and David Bensley. "A Crowning Toast." The Camden House Journal 15, no. 5 (1993): 2.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2181. ———. "Letter to the Editor." The Holmes & Watson Report 2, no. 3 (1998): 21-22.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2182. ———. "The Murderer Unseen." The Camden House Journal 17, no. 12 (1995): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2183. ———. "Theories, Theories and More Theories." The Camden House Journal 23, no. 3 (2001): 2-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2184. Bensley, Janet, and Occupants of the Empty House. A blue Christmas. Zeigler, Ill: The Camden House Journal, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references. Contents: Watson and the mystery of observation / by Gordon R. Speck -- The adventure of the blue carbuncle / by Randall Risley -- Dr. Watson wasn't a cook / by "Mrs. Turner" -- 'Tis the season? / by Joseph J. Eckrich -- The devil's pet baits / by Lise Winer -- So pretty a toy / by Jack Crelling -- It's THE precious stone, or is it? / by Janet Bensley -- Catherine's diary, 1887 / by Catherine Cusack // 2185. Bensley, Janet, Debbie Tinsley, and Occupants of the Empty House. The Camden House cookbook. Shaw special ed. DuQuoin, Ill: William R. Cochran, 1995.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Citations: De Waal C11,385 //
2186. Bensley, Janet (ed). A Blue Carbuncle. [Zeigler, IL]: The Occupants of the Empty House, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Jan 2005 // "An interesting collection of papers about the gem, and the story."
2187. Benstock, Bernard. "The 'Art' of Sherlock Holmes Elementary, My dear Watson." Baker Street Miscellanea, no. 75 (1994): 14-20.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2188. Bentata, David, and Linda Smith. "What's the Use of Wherring? Sail and steam in Norfolk: 8-10 September 2000." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 25, no. 1 (2000): 19, 22.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2189. Bentley, Dawn, and Siobhan Dodds. Sherlock's Missing Bone : a picture puzzle board book. Santa Monica, CA: Piggy Toes Press, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Distributed by Andrews McMeel Pub. col. ill. ; 16 cm. On board pages with 12 jigsaw puzzle pieces contained in box attached to p. 3 of cover. Illustrated by Siobhan Dodds ; [written by Dawn Bentley]. Scuttlebutt Dec 1999 // As a detective dog, on the trail of his missing biscuit, questions his friends, they each reply that they eat only a particular food, such as a mouse who eats only cheese. A 12-piece jigsaw puzzle helps children help a dog dressed in Sherlockian costume solve a mystery.
2190. ———. Sherlock's Missing Bone : jigsaw puzzle and board book. Bath: Mustard, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 16 cm. Written by Dawn Bentley./ Title from cover./ Box with jig-saw attached to back cover. illustrated by Siobhan Dodds. Scuttlebutt Dec 1999 // As a detective dog, on the trail of his missing biscuit, questions his friends, they each reply that they eat only a particular food, such as a mouse who eats only cheese. A 12-piece jigsaw puzzle helps children help a dog dressed in Sherlockian costume solve a mystery.
2191. Berdan, Marshall S. "Adventure of the Mazarin Stone." Shoso-In Bulletin 8, no. (1998): 125-133.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2192. ———. "The Adventure of the Overreaching Adventuress." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 51, no. 2 (2001): 13-22.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2193. ———. "Costa a Little Less Rica - or - How Rodger Stapleton, Jr. Followed in His Father's Footsteps and Made Costa Rica Too Hot to Hold Him." Shoso-In Bulletin 12, no. (2002): 36-42.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2194. ———. "Curtains in Baker Street. Yet Another Solution to the Authorship of 'The Mazarin Stone'." Shoso-In Bulletin 8, no. (1998): 125-133.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2195. ———. "Elementary, My Dear Tourist: 100 years after his official retirement, Sherlock Holmes still draws supporters and supplicants to London's Baker Street." Shoso-In Bulletin 13, no. (2003): 31-36, 43.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2196. ———. "Haji Holmes or You, Too, Have Been in Afghanistan, We Perceive." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 52, no. 4 (2002): 19-24.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2197. ———. "Hong Kong 1997: The Lingering Legacy of Mycroft Holmes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 23, no. 3 (1997): 78-82.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2198. ———. "On Certain Evidence of Hibernophobia in the Canon." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 49, no. 2 (1999): 7-18.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2199. ———. "The Ones That Got Away." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 50, no. 3 (2000): 23-30.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2200. ———. "Sherlock Holmes 101." The Washington Post, January 11, 2004: 2.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "WHAT: Tracing the Victorian London of Sherlock Holmes; his colleague and biographer, Dr. John H. Watson; and his creator, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. WHY NOW: Because as devotees of Holmes -- 'the world's first and still most famous consulting detective' -- have collectively deduced, he was born Jan. 6, 1854, thus making 2004 his sesquicentennial celebration. SHERLOCKIAN SITES: The exact site of Holmes's 221B Baker St. residence remains a matter of debate. Because the entire Portman Square neighborhood in which it was located was reduced to rubble in World War II, the 'modern' world of Sherlock Holmes has been relocated to the northern end of the extended -- and renumbered -- Baker Street. Highlights include: "The Great Detective." Standing vigil outside the Marylebone Road exit of the Baker Street tube station is this statue, erected in 1999 by the Abbey National Bank (the residents of 221 Baker since 1932)....Sherlock Holmes Museum....Sherlock Holmes Memorabilia Co...."
2201. ———. "The Signs of the Two: What Chinese Astrology Tells us About the Characters of Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson, With Some Observations on the Dynamics of Their Binomial Relationship." Shoso-In Bulletin 10, no. (2000): 75-84.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2202. ———. "A Three-Continent Problem." Shoso-In Bulletin 14, no. (2004): 26-30.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2203. ———. "Two years in Tibet? Dear Me, Mr. Holmes." Shoso-In Bulletin 11, no. (2001): 63-73.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2204. ———. "Wigmore Street Postbag, Hong Kong Holmesians?" The Sherlock Holmes Journal 23, no. 1 (1996): 39-40.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2205. Berendt, John. "Sherlock Holmes Does Venice." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 54, no. 2 (2004): 6-14.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2206. Berenstain, Stan, and Jan Berenstain. The Bear detectives the case of the missing pumpkin, (I can read it all by myself). New York: Beginner Books, 1975.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 75001603. Citations: De Waal C23393 // When Farmer Ben's discovers his prize pumpkin is missing, the Small Bears don their brand-new detective gear and Papa Bear brings his dog Snuff and a lot of misguided enthusiasm as they all work to solve the mystery of the missing prize pumpkin
2207. ———. The Berenstain Bears and the galloping ghost, (A Big chapter book). New York: Random House, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 94002772; Scuttlebutt Jun 1997 // Brother Bear learns about fear and getting back in the saddle when a ghost haunts the riding academy
2208. ———. The Berenstain Bears and the Green-eyed Monster, (First time books). New York: Random House, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 93050109 // Sister is overcome with jealousy when Brother gets a shiny new ten-speed bike for his birthday. Grizzlock Holmes in a deerstalker on one page.
2209. ———. The big book of Berenstain Bears beginner books. New York: Random House, 1996.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt July 1996 // "With reprints of two stories about the Bear Detectives."
2210. Bergan, Ronald. "Hillary Brooke; Sherlock's favourite film star." The Guardian (London), June 10, 1999: 22.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Although the tall, beautiful, blonde actress Hillary Brooke, who has died aged 84, did appear in a number of A-movies, and was seen a few times in Technicolor, she will always be associated with the small, monochrome second features that were the staple of picture-going in the 1940s and early 1950s. As such she retained the affection of the many collectors of cinema arcana. Brooke's fame, such as it was, came mainly from her appearances in a couple of the pacy and atmospheric Sherlock Holmes films, starring the witty duo of Basil Rathbone and Nigel Bruce, and as comic foil to a less sophisticated pair, Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, in their popular TV series...."
2211. Bergem, Phillip G. "The 1887 Beeton's Christmas Annual: A History and Current Census." The Norwegian Explorers of Minnesota Christmas Annual, no. (2002): 8-18.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2212. ———. "Arthur Conan Doyle: Connections to the Latter-Day Saints and Other Matters." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 54, no. 1 (2004): 39-42.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2213. ———. A bibliographic listing of stories, poems, and other writings of A. Conan Doyle. 1st ed. Minneapolis, Minn: Privately printed, 2007.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2214. ———. "David Henry Friston: First Artist of the Canon." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 53, no. 4 (2003): 23-25.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2215. ———. A Doylean and Sherlockian checklist of The Strand Magazine. 1st ed. Minneapolis, Minn: Privately printed, 2007.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references (p. 16) //
2216. ———. The family and residences of Arthur Conan Doyle. 2nd ed. St. Paul, Minn, 2003.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references (p. 51-54) // An organized list of Arthur Conan Doyle's ancestral and descendant information in non-text format, with added text. Conflicting information from various authorities is cited as found. Includes a chronological list of Doyle family residences, military service, and grave markers

2217. Bergem, Phillip G., Michael V. Eckman, and John Bergquist. The Norwegian Explorers omnibus. Standard ed. Minneapolis, Minn: Norwegian Explorers of Minnesota, 2007.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references. Contents: General introduction -- Cultivating Sherlock Holmes : review / by Elmer L. Andersen -- The crowded box-room / by Theodore C. Blegen -- Sherlock Holmes : master detective -- Exploring Sherlock Holmes / edited by Theodore C. Blegen and E.W. McDiarmid -- Cultivating Sherlock Holmes / edited by Bryce L. Crawford and Joseph B. Connors -- Afterword // 2218. Bergen, Lara Rice, David Koepp, and Michael Crichton. Find your way to The lost world, Jurassic Park. New York: Grosset & Dunlap, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 96080492 // The reader is invited to choose among different plot endings for the story of a trip to the island where the dinosaurs of Jurassic Park still survive
2219. Berger, Arthur Asa. Durkheim is dead! Sherlock Holmes is introduced to sociological theory. Walnut Creek, CA: Altamira Press/Rowman & Littlefield Publishers, 2003.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2002151885. Contents: I had seen a patient early that afternoon -- When she had left -- Just as I was about to leave -- I had just begun what I believed would be -- Holmes and I arrived at Claridge's hotel -- Max Weber knocked on the door -- We were to meet Sigmund Freud -- The next professor we interviewed -- The last setting for breakfast -- The famous black american social thinker -- We were surprised by a knock on the door -- One of Lestrade's men -- We left the room -- Beatrice Webb's party at Claridge's. Includes bibliographical references (p. 163-166) and index // "Durkheim Is Dead is a unique introduction to theories of sociology, as it presents the theories of W. E. B. Du Bois, Sigmund Freud, Vladimir Lenin, Beatrice Webb, and others in the unique format of a Sherlock Holmes mystery novel. Tracking Holmes and Watson as their latest case brings them to a 1910 conference in London on the new science of sociology, Holmes and Watson learn the theories and lives directly from the individuals who have proposed them in the workings of history. Durkheim Is Dead is a unique, original, entertaining, and educationally impressive means of teaching the reader about social science -- and will prove fascinating reading to all Sherlock Holmes mystery enthusiasts."
2220. Berglas, Steven. "Know when to fold." Inc. 20, no. 3 (1998): 31.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses the perseverance entrepreneurial people. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...There are more subtle, pernicious factors than hubris that block successful entrepreneurs from seeing or hearing warnings that they need to change course. Sherlock Holmes once remarked to Watson, 'You see, but you do not observe.' That's what is at issue here...."
2221. Bergquist, John. "50 Years Ago." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 5, no. 3 (2001): 3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Some notes and observations on Gavin Brend and the 1951 publication of his My Dear Holmes, "the most complete 'biography' of Holmes to date."
2222. ———. "50 Years Ago." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 4, no. 2 (2000): 3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses John Bennett Shaw's 1950 notebook that contains a political cartoon that appeared that year in the January 27 Chicago Tribune. "The White House Sleuth" depicts President Harry S. Truman in Sherlockian garb peering through a magnifying glass. Truman is standing in a coal field atop a lit stick of dynamite labeled "miners' revolt" while saying in effect "What coal crisis?" Additional information is given on the coal crisis and President Truman. Also includes a photo of the cartoon.
2223. ———. "100 Years Ago." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 5, no. 1 (2001): 2.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses a letter in the December, 1901 issue of The Strand magazine (#132, Vol. 22, labeled "Grand Christmas Double Number") contained in the "Curiosities" section titled "Where Sherlock

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Holmes Died" dealing with the Reichenbach Falls (along with additional comment on Dr. Philip Hensch's later interest in the Falls).

2224. ———. "221Bs: A Survey of Recreations of the Sitting Room." The Norwegian Explorers of Minnesota Christmas Annual, no. (2007): 19-26.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2225. ———. "Allen Mackler's 221B Room: A Photographic Appreciation." The Norwegian Explorers of Minnesota Christmas Annual, no. (2007): 10-18.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2226. ———. "A Canonical Toast to Hungary." The Serpentine Muse 19, no. 1 (2002): 8-9.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2227. ———, ed. Christmas annual. Minneapolis, Minn: The Norwegian Explorers of Minnesota, 2002-.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2228. ———. "The Curious Incident of the Policemen's Wives." The Norwegian Explorers of Minnesota Christmas Annual, no. (2006): 23-26.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2229. ———. "E. W. McDiarmid: A Friend to All Who Knew Him." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 4, no. 3 (2000): 9.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Based on a spoken appreciation delivered at the Annual Meeting of the Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections at the University of Minnesota on August 2, 2000.
2230. ———. "The London Mini-Festival Weekend April 6-9, 2006." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 27, no. 4 (2006): 164-167.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2231. ———. "Mr Henry Baker and the British Museum." The Norwegian Explorers of Minnesota Christmas Annual, no. (2002): 29-31.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2232. ———, ed. The Norwegian Explorers of Minnesota Christmas Annual. Minneapolis: The Norwegian Explorers of Minnesota, 2002-.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 2002: The 1887 Beeton's Christmas Annual: A History and Current Census / Phillip G. Bergem; Mr Henry Baker and the British Museum / John Bergquist; The Home of the Heart / Robert Brusic and Lucy Brusic; A Canonical Twelve Days / Michael Eckman; Chocolate: Food of the Gods / Judith Freeman; The Blue Carbuncle Crossword Puzzle / Julie McKuras; Watson's Books / Gary Thaden -- 2003: More French Blood for Holmes! / Pasquale Accardo; About That Reichenbach - Did Holmes Really Fall There? An Astonishing Discovery / Robert Brusic; The Case of the Holiday Hypotheses / Michael Eckman; Frederic Dorr Steele and the Limited Editions Club Edition of the Canon: Six Elusive Drawings Rediscovered / Andrew Malec; Norwegian Explorations - The Private Press Publications of The Norwegian Explorers of Minnesota: A Salute to the Sumac Press / C. Paul Martin -- 2004: A Dome Deduced While Strolling in the Park One Day / Robert Brusic; Canonical Holmes / Michael Eckman; Welcome to the Hotel Irregular / Derham Groves; The Missing Amati / Regina Harris; An Odd Place for a Tool Shed and Other Architectural Anomalies of Ridling Thorpe Manor / Karen Murdock -- 2005: A Wooden Narrative / Pasquale Accardo; A Lock Without a Key: Holmes and Hair / Robert Brusic; A Toast to Violet Hunter / Stephen J. Cribari; Holmes on Tour? / Michael Eckman; Mythos Draconis / Regina Harris; How I Met Sherlock Holmes / Cecelia Heffron; An Interesting William Gillette Letter / Andrew Malec; Sound and Sense Onomatopoeia in the Canon / Karen Murdock -- 2006: The Curious Incident of the Policemen's Wives / John Bergquist; Sherlockian Phantoms / Ruth Berman; The Wild West, Victoria Regina, and Sherlock Holmes / Robert Brusic; The Woman / Stephen J. Cribari; Finding Miss Hunter / Michael Eckman; Moriarty's Reprise / Regina Harris; Canonical Word Search / Francine

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

- Kitts; Victorian Villainesses: Accessories and More / Dayna McCausland; The Luncheon / Julie McKuras; Georgiana, The Duchess of Devonshire: An Unusual Mother in the Canon / Sue Visoskie -- 2007: I Wed Three Wives / Pasquale Accardo; Allen Mackler's 221B Room: A Photographic Appreciation / John Bergquist; 221Bs: A Survey of Recreations of the Sitting Room / John Bergquist; Blessed be the Blade That Binds / Robert Brusic; 221A: Belowstairs at Baker Street / Pj Doyle; Sherlock Slept Here? / Michael Eckman; Hell Hath No Fury / Mary Loving; Our Friend Allen Mackler and His Room / C. Paul Martin; Now You See It: A Matching quiz on the Contents of the Sitting Room at 221B / Karen Murdock //
2233. ———. "The Paton Collection Comes to Minnesota." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 4, no. 4 (2000): 1, 6.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Highlights the arrival of Jennie Paton's audio-visual collection to Minnesota.
2234. ———. "Wigmore Street Postbag, 'The Best of. . .' and the Journal." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 28, no. 1 (2006): 35.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2235. Bergstrom, Jenne. "The Somnambulist." Library Journal 133, no. 2 (2008): 59-59.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A review is presented of the book "The Somnambulist," by Jonathan Barnes. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...A reader of Edgar Allan Poe, Arthur Conan Doyle, and Wilkie Collins is likely to find plenty to wink at, but the story works on many levels...."
2236. Berkove, Lawrence I. "The Psychoscope: Frontier realism." Atq 11, no. 1 (1997): 7.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Offers insights into 'The Psychoscope,' a play composed by Joseph Thompson Goodman and Rollin Mallory Dragett and produced in Virginia City, Nevada. Includes reference to Doyle and Holmes. "In its use of detective, science fiction, and psychological motifs, as well as of realism, The Psychoscope was clearly in the forefront of American literary trends, anticipating by a decade or more their popularization. Written in 1871, the play stands between Poe, who might be said to have invented the ratiocinative detective story in the 1840s, and Arthur Conan Doyle, who greatly popularized it beginning with the publication of 'A Study in Scarlet' (1887). Captain McNabb in this play is somewhere between the kind of central character that C. Auguste Dupin and Sherlock Holmes are in the stories of Poe and Doyle, and the stock policeman who appears in most previous fiction and drama...."
2237. Berlyne, Alex. "There's No Police Like Holmes." The Jerusalem Post, August 22, 1997: 27.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "...Judging by the endless stream of dotty pronouncements that issues forth from this Home for the Bewildered, any Member of the Flat Earth Society has about the same grasp of reality as the average Member of the Knesset. The only place that can compare with our legislative assembly's free-floating fantasies, however, is London's Baker Street which has to be seen to be believed. Recently there was some talk of turning Hechal Shlomo into a sort of theme park - presumably featuring Mickey Mouse with peyot. Let the north end of Baker Street serve us as a dreadful warning. The Sherlock Holmes Hotel, for example, includes 'Dr. Watson's Bar and Lounge,' and 'Moriarty's Restaurant.' A double room can set you back 170 while The Reichenbach Suite is 200 a night - which seems to indicate that the owners are nowhere near as daft as the guests...."
2238. Berman, David. "Mytec's secret identity." Canadian Business 70, no. 11 (1997): 19.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses the efforts of Mytec Technologies Inc. in using fingerprint technology as a security measure to protect against credit card fraud and Internet scams as of September 1, 1997. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...The idea dates back to long before the first Sherlock Holmes novel, but now biometrics is moving beyond a life of crime and is set to radically change the way we perform many of our most basic transactions..."
2239. Berman, Milton. "Time Lord: Sir Sandford Fleming and the Creation of Standard Time." Magill Book Reviews, no. (2001).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A study of the man who convinced the world to adopt a unified standard for telling time. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...However, some assertions--such as claiming the success of Sherlock Holmes detective stories rested on the concept of standard time--seem farfetched."

2240. Berman, Ruth. "100 Years Ago." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 3, no. 4 (1999): 2.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Observations on William Gillette's work with Conan Doyle on the play "Sherlock Holmes."
2241. ———. A Case of double identity William Gillette and Sherlock Holmes on stage in the Twin Cities. S.l.: Norwegian Explorers of Minnesota, 1995.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references //
2242. ———. "Sherlockian Phantoms." The Norwegian Explorers of Minnesota Christmas Annual, no. (2006): 37.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2243. Bernard, André. Madame Bovary, c'est moi! : the great characters of literature and where they came from. New York: W.W. Norton, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 1st ed. 19 cm. // Sherlock Holmes is included.
2244. Bernstein, Paula. "Murder, She Wrote Former Sex Crimes Prosecutor Linda Fairstein Turns a Gritty Career Into Bestsellers." Biography 7, no. 8 (2003): 80.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Features former New York sex crimes prosecutor Linda Fairstein who devoted herself to writing full time. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...I started out with The Hardy Boys before Nancy View [sic] because I had a brother who is three years older, so they were already in the house. Then I moved on to the classics like Edgar Mien [sic] Poe and Conan Doyle...."
2245. Bernstein, Rob. "Find it." Yahoo! Internet Life 7, no. 7 (2001): 57.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Features the Internet search engine of Vivisimo.Com in the United States, with a passing reference to Holmes. "...This new metasearch tool attacks the link overload problem by organizing Web pages into folders, which it calls 'clusters' For instance, if you run a search on the word Holmes, the site will divvy up the results into such categories as 'Sherlock Holmes,' 'Katie Holmes,' and 'Oliver Wendell Holmes'...."
2246. Berry, John. "Program picks & pans." Library Journal 120, no. 10 (1995): 46.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Previews the American Library Association's 114th Annual Conference in Chicago, June 22-28, 1995, with reference to Doyle and Holmes. Ely M. Liebow (Dr. Joe Bell: Model for Sherlock Holmes); Let a Woman in Your Life: The Women in Conan Doyle's Life and Fiction. Sublibrarians Scion of the Baker Street Irregulars.
2247. Berry, John Stevens. "The Strange Case of George Edalji." Shoso-In Bulletin 5, no. (1995): 106-108.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2248. Bershady, Harold. "Detectives Stories and City Life." Society 44, no. 5 (2007): 70-76.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Detective stories take place mainly in two settings, constantly changing, many faceted big cities filled with strangers, and stable, fairly homogeneous, innocent small towns whose members know one another. The differences in each clarify the qualities of the other. In solving the mystery of the small town, the detective provides moral instruction and restores the town's innocence. In solving the mystery in the big city the detective reveals the city as part of the mystery and provides the reader with temporary orientation to the city. Mysteries have grown with the growth of the cities and now appear in every country of the world." [Abstract from author]. Contains one reference to Doyle and multiple references to Holmes.
2249. Bertens, Hans. "Fleeing forwards." Paragraph 21, no. 1 (1998): 121.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews books related to postmodern culture including Postmodern Wetlands: Culture, History, Ecology, by Rod Giblett, with a passing reference to Doyle. "...With only a few exceptions,

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

western writers have maligned wetlands as sources of miasma, melancholy, madness, disease, the monstrous, in short, of everything evil. Quotations from Wilkie Collins, Sarah Orne Jewett, Dickens, J. G. Ballard, Milton, Sir Rider Haggard, John Bunyan, Conan Doyle, Charles Kingsley and a host of others more than sufficiently make the point...."

2250. Berube, Michael. "Anxious Academics." American Literature 75, no. 1 (2003): 169-178.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review and discussion of Anxious Intellectuals: Academic Professionals, Public Intellectuals, and Enlightenment Values. By John Michael. Durham, N.C.: Duke Univ. Press. 2000. x, 218 pp. Cloth, $54.95; paper, $18.95. Academic Instincts. By Marjorie Garber. Princeton, N.J.: Princeton Univ. Press. 2001. xi, 187 pp. $19.95. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...Garber's is the kind of book in which one refers lightly and gracefully to Woolf, Sartre, Sidney, Conan Doyle, Kant, George Eliot, Flaubert, David Mamet, and Dilthey in the space of six or seven pages..."

2251. Bessman, Jim. "Words & Music." Billboard 114, no. 46 (2002): 82.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Provides an update on the music recording and publishing industry as of November 16, 2002 with reference to Sherlock Holmes Music. "...Music Sales has also entered into an agreement with Sherlock Holmes Music to sub-publish the Moody Blues' Justin Hayward's Nightswood BV catalog in the U.S., Canada, France, Scandinavia, Spain, and Portugal...."

2252. ———. "Words & Music." Billboard 114, no. 8 (2002): 37.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents news briefs related to the songwriting and publishing industries as of February 23, 2002, including reference to Holmes. "...Keyboardist Ray Manzarek stopped by the Bottom Line in New York last month to perform solo and to promote his new novel, The Poet in Exile--A Journey Into the Mystic (Thunder's Mouth Press), whose central character is his not-even-thinly disguised late Doors bandmate Jim Morrison....It turns out that Manzarek and Carroll first got together five years ago and commenced work on an album project. 'We recorded about half a dozen tunes, including 'Street of Crocodiles,' 'Shapeshifter,' and 'Just Like Sherlock Holmes,' Manzarek says."

2253. Bethune, Brian. "Men of the Deep." Maclean's 116, no. 47 (2003): N.PAG-0.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book "The Far Side of the World," by Patrick O'Brien, opening with a reference to Holmes. "'Here, though the world explode, these two survive / And it is always 1895,' wrote the American author Vincent Starrett about his fictional heroes, Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson, and their world of gaslit intrigue. Some historical eras, illuminated as much by their literary characters as their inherent drama, never die...."

2254. Bethune, Brian, and Patricia Treble. "But she can't kill Harry! (Cover story)." Maclean's 120, no. 26 (2007): 62-68.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The author reports on the book "Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows," the last book in the "Harry Potter" book series written by author J.K. Rowling which will be released on July 21, 2007. Questions have been raised whether or not a main character will be killed in the book. Ideas on how the series will end are given in the article. Includes references to Doyle and Holmes. "...Paranooids range from novelist Stephen King, who pleaded with Rowling not to do a Sherlock Holmes with her character and shove him over the Reichenbach Falls as Arthur Conan Doyle did in 1891 with his over-mighty creation, to 10-year-old Kelly McKibbin of Ottawa. Evidently a close reader of the sacred text--known collectively, like the Holmes stories among their devotees, as 'the canon'--Kelly wants her hero to survive hut tears the worst....Horror master and fifth-grader have each zeroed in on one of the two commonly cited reasons--as opposed to pure, quasi-parental anxiety to fear for Harry. Conan Doyle killed Holmes essentially to keep his wildly popular character under control, because the demand for stories about him kept the author from his historical novels, which Conan Doyle--virtually alone in the world--valued over Holmes. Rowling evidently has control issues, too....'I can completely understand the mentality a fan author who thinks 'Well, I am going to kill them off because that means there can be no nonauthor written sequels, as they call them, so it will end with me.' [Otherwise] after I am dead and gone, they would be able to bring back the character and write a load of...' That, of course, is exactly what happened to Holmes after Conan Doyle's death. Since he entered the public domain, the Sleuth of Baker Street has flourished in a surreal Victorian world where he interacts with contemporaries both real

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

(Sigmund Freud, Jack the Ripper) and fictional (Dr. Jekyll, Mr. Hyde, Dracula). Rowling must know the same will happen to Harry regardless of what she does with him, should the boy wizard's entrenchment in popular consciousness prove enduring...."

2255. Betzner, Ray. "Arthur Conan Doyle in Society." Baker Street Miscellanea, no. 76 (1994): 6-11.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2256. ———. "Sherlock Holmes-Coward? The Great Hiatus Reconsidered." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 50, no. 4 (2000): 28-30.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2257. ———. "Three Telegrams and a Funeral: Speculation on the Events Following the 'Death' of Sherlock Holmes." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 49, no. 4 (1999): 36-41.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2258. ———. "To Dr. Mortimer's Wife." The Holmes & Watson Report 5, no. 5 (2001): 37-38.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2259. Beveridge, A. "What Became of Arthur Conan Doyle's Father?: The Last Years of Charles Altamont Doyle." Journal of the Royal College of Physicians Edinburgh 36, no. (2006): 264-270.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "This paper examines the fate of Arthur Conan Doyle's father, Charles Altamont Doyle, a Victorian illustrator, who spent his last years as an asylum inmate. Based on new archival research, it looks at the reasons for his institutionalisation and what befell him during his stay. It will consider Doyle's claim that he was wrongfully confined and also the suggestion that his family were responsible for having him committed. Finally, the paper will examine the nature of Doyle's condition and the creative work he produced whilst an asylum inmate."
2260. Bevilacqua, Joe. The Mis-adventures of Sherlock Holmes. [Napanoch, NY]: Waterlogg Productions, 2000. Sound Recording 5 sound discs (ca. 60 min. each).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital ; 4 3/4 in. Compact discs. Participants: Vernon Morris, Henry J. Quinn, Jan Meredith. Producer/director, Joe Bevilacqua. // Parody of the characters of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.
2261. Beydt, Bruce. "The Adventure of the Cottingley Fairies." British Heritage 25, no. 2 (2004): 20-25.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "This article describes an incident in which two girls in England who claimed to have seen fairies and also had photographic evidence to prove it. One of the most respected men in England -- Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, the creator of Sherlock Holmes -- believed that the girls could literally see and photograph fairies that frolicked in their back yard.... The girls, Frances Griffiths and Elsie Wright struck to their story until as late as the 1980s, when they finally admitted that four of the five famous photographs, at least, were fakes."
2262. Beyer, Rick. The greatest stories never told : 100 tales from history to astonish, bewilder, & stupefy. 1st ed. New York: HarperResource, 2003.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 19 cm. Based on the television program: Timelab 2000. Includes bibliographical references (p. 200-208). Scuttlebutt Apr 2005. // "Based the History Channel's 'Timelab 2000' series, and offers two pages on 'the curious case of the doctor who gave birth to a superstar' (the doctor being Joseph Bell, and the superstar being Sherlock Holmes); it's certain not a story never told, but it might astonish, bewilder, and stupefy someone."
2263. Bhattacharjee, Yudhijit. "Two Cultures." Science 307, no. 5710 (2005): 671-671.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article presents information about the television program "Numb3rs."
Unknown reference to Doyle or Holmes.
2264. Bianco, Robert. "Critic's corner." USA Today, May 18, 2000: 12D.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "PBS's Mystery! has Murder Rooms: The Dark Origins of Sherlock Holmes.... The film supposes that writer Arthur Conan Doyle based Sherlock Holmes on his university tutor -- and then sends Conan Doyle and the professor (Ian Richardson of House of Cards) on a hunt for a serial killer."

2265. ———. "He's a winner, this Sherlock Holmes." USA Today, Oct 25, 2002: D.17.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Now this week, USA offers a new take on an old detective favorite, Sherlock Holmes, cracking his first big crime in Case of Evil. What better lead-in could you have for Monk than Holmes, the frighteningly observant character who turned doing the 'detecting, deducing thing' into a popular genre. A bit overly impressed by his own now-celebrated skills, Holmes moves on to London's latest crime spree: the systematic elimination of the city's opium dealers. For help, he turns to the city's initially reluctant coroner, Dr. Watson (Roger Morlidge), who soon becomes Sherlock's greatest fan. He also must rely on his brother, Mycroft (Richard E. Grant), his mentor and the guiding force behind his sleuthing...."

2266. Biemiller, Lawrence. "The Road Once Taken." Chronicle of Higher Education 51, no. 43 (2005): A40-A40.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Mr. Liebs has a sharp eye for roadside relics like tourist cabins and gravity-feed gas pumps. He tells the students to work 'almost like Sherlock Holmes, going down the street and looking for evidence....'"

2267. Bigelow, S. Tupper, Donald Aitcheson Redmond, Peter Calamai, and Metropolitan Toronto Reference Library. An irregular Anglo-American glossary of more or less unfamiliar words, terms and phrases in the Sherlock Holmes saga. 2nd, with additional writings by the author ed. Toronto, Sauk City, Wisconsin: Battered Silicon Dispatch Box, 1998.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references //

2268. Bihl, Martin. "The Moriarty Complex." Adweek 42, no. 5 (2001): 16.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Compares the manner by which United States advertisers view their competition to Moriarty, a character in Arthur Conan Doyle stories who masterminded all the bad things that happens. Failure of companies to consider competitors' perspectives; Efforts of brand managers to improve sales; Recommended ways of enhancing a brand's potential."

2269. Bilchik, Gloria Shur. "Are You The Problem?" H&HN: Hospitals & Health Networks 76, no. 5 (2002): 38.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on chief executive officers (CEO) of hospitals as obstacles to personnel management. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "Paging Sherlock Holmes..."

2270. Billen, Andrew. "Not just tolerated, but loved." New Statesman 131, no. 4596 (2002): 46.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the television program 'Shipman.' Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Once the investigation started, it was relatively quick, for the equally boring reason that you did not need to be a Sherlock Holmes to work out what was happening...."

2271. ———. "Space oddity." New Statesman 135, no. 4775 (2006): 48-48.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the television program "Life on Mars," starring Philip Glenister and John Simm. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...In the three episodes I have seen of this eight-part series, Sam, with his newfangled ways, is right a little too often and is in danger of becoming a smart-arse Sherlock Holmes to Gene's garbage-mouthed Dr. Watson...."

2272. Billen, Andrew, and Lisa Allardice. "Kiss and sell." New Statesman 132, no. 4648 (2003): 33-33.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the television program 'James Hewitt: Confessions of a Cad,' directed by Mike Warner and Ariel White. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Hewitt was intermittently taken with the concept of portraying himself as Terry-Thomas. In his chalet in Switzerland, he was interviewed sitting in a bubble bath. There were extra bubbles, he explained, extracting a curly, Sherlock Holmes-type pipe from his mouth, 'because I'm a big boy....'"

2273. Billen, Stephanie. "Pick of the day a tale of mystery: The Strange Case of Sherlock Holmes." The Observer, no. (2005): 81.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "This handsome drama by David Pirie (Murder Rooms, The Woman in White) ultimately fails to live up to its considerable promise. The opening scene, a rich Fanny and Alexander -style family Christmas, introduces us to the young Conan Doyle, basking in his popularity as the creator of Sherlock Holmes. His world is about to fall apart, however, with the death of his father in an asylum and the shock diagnosis of consumption in his wife. Convinced that he is being followed and haunted by images of severed ears (a motif from one of his stories), Doyle becomes increasingly paranoid and determines to kill off his fictional detective: 'If I don't finish him, he could finish me.'..."

2274. Billington, Michael. "Away with the fairies; What's wrong with Snoo Wilson's story about Sherlock Holmes , the sun god and the giant meteorite?" The Guardian (London), October 27, 1999: 14.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "How did it happen? No sooner had it opened than Snoo Wilson's Moonshine was dubbed 'Stinker of the Year' and 'unwatchable' by normally temperate critics. Guaranteed to empty Hampstead Theatre faster than a powerful laxative, it already has the makings of a myth, and, as with any play that sinks in the water, one wonders why anyone thought it seaworthy in the first place. My own suspicion is that Wilson made a seductive pitch to his director, Simon Stokes, and to Jenny Topper, who runs Hampstead Theatre. 'Look,' says Snoo, 'I've got this idea for a play about Conan Doyle. Did you know he was a dedicated spiritualist? And that, after he'd killed off Sherlock Holmes, he came to feel haunted by his own creation? I'm going to write this piece in which Doyle is projected into another world and I'll work in some topical stuff about global destruction and Rupert Murdoch.' 'Wowee!' say Stokes and Topper. 'Go ahead and write it.' But, given his head, Wilson proceeds to lose it...."

2275. Bilton, Karen T. "The Case of the Left-Handed Lady." School Library Journal 53, no. 12 (2007): 67-67.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the audiobook "The Case of the Left-Handed Lady," by Nancy Springer, the second title in a series featuring Enola Holmes, the famed detective's younger sister.

2276. Bin Adam, Aziz. "Sherlock Holmes and the Tibetan Healing: Tibet Revisited." Shoso-In Bulletin 9, no. (1999): 10-12.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2277. ———. "A Sherlockian Doggerel." Shoso-In Bulletin 9, no. (1999): 104-105.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2278. ———. "Wigmore Street Postbag: See Serpents Again." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 29, no. 4 (2008): 162-163.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2279. Binelli, Mark. "Coldplay." Rolling Stone, no. 864 (2001): 39.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Features the music group Coldplay. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. Band member Chris Martin indicates that one of his influences is Holmes. "...Those stories made me want to move to London. They glamorize London the same way Woody Allen glamorizes New York...."

2280. Binyon, Tj. "If only he'd listened to Holmes." The Evening Standard (London), February 21, 2000: 56.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of Teller of Tales: The Life of Arthur Conan Doyle by Daniel Stashower (Allen Lane/The Penguin Press, 18.99). "...Stashower's book is certainly a worthy addition to the long shelf of Conan Doyle biographies. Elegant and scholarly, it is, perhaps, the sanest and most balanced of all...."

2281. Birch, Dinah. "Elementary love." TLS, no. 5458 (2007): 3-5.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the books "Conan Doyle: The Man Who Created Sherlock Holmes," by Andrew Lycett and "Arthur Conan Doyle: A Life in Letters," edited by Jon Lellenberg, Daniel Stashower, and Charles Foley.

2282. Bird, Gail. "The Importance of Waton's Moustache." The Ritual, no. 28 (2001): 27-32.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2283. ———. "Review--Collectable Holmes." The Ritual, no. 26 (2000): 61-62.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2284. ———. "Review--Holmes and Hostelryes." The Ritual, no. 23 (1999): 48-49.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2285. ———. "Review--The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes Footloose Theatre." The Ritual, no. 28 (2001): 61.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2286. Bird, Margaret. "The Oscar Wilde Society Debate." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 22, no. 2 (1995): 22-24.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2287. ———. A study in dark blue : studies compiled to accompany the summer expedition of the Sherlock Holmes Society of London [to] Pembroke College, Oxford, 23-25 September, 1988. [London, Eng.]: Sherlock Holmes Society of London, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill., maps. ; 22 x 30 cm. Cover title: A study in dark blue : Sherlock Holmes and Oxford. Bibliography: p. 98-99. //
2288. Bird, Margaret, and Sherlock Holmes Society of London. An East wind the east coast expedition of the Sherlock Holmes Society of London, 4-6 July 1997 : a practical handbook to the setting of His Last Bow. London: Sherlock Holmes Society of London, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references (p. 131) //
2289. Birinyi Jr, Laszlo. "Hit-and-run advice." Forbes 158, no. 2 (1996): 331-331.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Opinion. Criticizes people who offer financial advice and are not held accountable. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Someone once recommended a new book which was thought to have useful trading approaches. But early on, the book referred to the famous Sherlock Holmes story about the nonbarking dog and said it was from The Hound of the Baskervilles. We all know that this was not the case and if the writer had done so little or such sloppy work regarding English literature, what assurance did I have that his market efforts were researched?"
2290. Birkerts, Sven. "Read at Your Own Risk." Esquire 132, no. 3 (1999): 118.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses information on adventure books, with a passing reference to Holmes. "For me most of the original reading thrills, before Sherlock Holmes or James Bond or items more furtively imported into the home, were all about man and nature--and disaster..."
2291. Birkinshaw, Linda. It was a dark & stormy night: a pop-up mystery whodunit. New York: Dial Books, 1991.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 92239880 //
2292. Birmingham. "The fourth estate." Editor & Publisher 132, no. 52 (1999): 11.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports on developments in newspaper publishing in the United States as of December 25, 1999. Under "Amusements" section, a reference to a production of Sherlock Holmes at the Garrick Theater.
2293. Bisla, Sundeep. "The Return of the Author: Privacy, Publication, the Mystery Novel, and The Moonstone." boundary 2 29, no. 1 (2002): 177-222.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes reference to Doyle. "...Here, in Collins's most popular story, we have the insightful and intelligent detective, the crime defying his ingenious attempts at solution, the red herring, and so forth, all before Sir Arthur Conan Doyle would come along to enshrine them in Anglo-American literary practice...." Also mention of Doyle in note 44. "...Ian Ousby writes, 'Though Ablewhite was the real villain, Franklin was the original thief of the diamond, if only in a technical sense' (Bloodhounds of Heaven: The Detective in English Fiction from Godwin to Doyle [Cambridge: Harvard University Press, 1976], 119)..."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2294. Bittner, Thomas. "Consciousness: Essays from a Higher-order Perspective - By Peter Carruthers." Philosophical Books 48, no. 1 (2007): 84-86.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "Consciousness: Essays From a Higher-Order Perspective," by Peter Carruthers. Includes passing references to Doyle and Holmes. "...In what sense can we say that non-being has a determinate structure? Priest's answer seems to be that, insofar as nonexistent objects can be characterized in distinct ways, they have distinctive qualities. But, of course, this is just to say that they have some qualities solely by virtue of being objects of thought. Where, in the end, does Sherlock Holmes use cocaine: in his rooms at 221b Baker Street, on p. 227 of my edition of Conan Doyle's stories, or in my representations of him? Certainly he is described as doing so on the page and he does so in my mind; and, if Holmes had existed, also at Baker Street. Now, according to Priest, 'non-existent objects do not have some inferior mode of being, such as 'subsistence'. They have no mode of being whatever...."
2295. Bjarnason, Jóhann Magnús, and Jan B. Steffensen. An Icelandic Sherlock Holmes. Aalborg, Denmark: Pinkerton, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "A short story first published in Icelandic in 1903, has been translated into English by Jan B. Steffensen; the story isn't a Sherlockian pastiche, but rather involves a young Icelandic immigrant in Nova Scotia, where he solves a minor mystery."
2296. Black, Edward. "Holmes's Formula for a Fellowship." The Scotsman, October 17, 2002: 3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "For Sherlock Holmes, the use of chemistry to help him catch his Victorian adversaries was elementary, but now the master sleuth has become the first fictional character to be awarded a scientific honorary fellowship for his pioneering efforts. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's creation has been honoured by the Royal Society of Chemistry for his use of forensic science that was way ahead of its time and prefigured such modern techniques as DNA fingerprinting...."
2297. Black, Elliott M. "The Battered Tin Dispatch Box." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 53, no. 1 (2003): 38-40.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2298. ———. "Beryl Stapleton." Shoso-In Bulletin 7, no. (1997): 25.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2299. ———. "Colonel Sebastian Moran." Shoso-In Bulletin 7, no. (1997): 12.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2300. ———. "Irene Adler." Shoso-In Bulletin 7, no. (1997): 20.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2301. ———. "The Original Odd Couple." Shoso-In Bulletin 7, no. (1997): 16.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2302. Black, M. C. "Review -- Milverton on the Moor, Joint Sherlockian Meeting with The Poor Folk Upon the Moor and The Northern Musgraves June 22, 1996." The Musgrave Papers, no. 9 (1996): 120-121.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2303. Blackwell, Bonnie. "The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Narrative." College Literature 31, no. 1 (2004): 1-26.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "...This article will trace the connections between narrative and mortality as propounded by Mark Renton to show that the film's social critique is not a facile pro- or anti-drug statement, but an intricate proposal for resacralizing language outside exhausted narrative templates...." Includes multiple references to Doyle and Holmes.
2304. Blair, Victor. "'The Six Napoleons' and Parallels Between Napoleon, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and Sherlock Holmes." Canadian Holmes 21, no. 4 (1998): 17-19.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2305. Blake, Anthony. "Helping young children to see what is relevant and why: supporting cognitive change in earth science using analogy." International Journal of Science Education 26, no. 15 (2004): 1855-1873.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This experimental study explores how 60 primary-age children's (9-11 years old) understanding of rocks was effected by instruction that used the conceptual structure of the rock cycle together with the analogy of aluminium can recycling. Includes opening quote and passing reference to Holmes. "'Not invisible, but unnoticed, Watson. You did not know where to look, and so you missed all that was important.' (A. Conan Doyle, A Case of Identity) Sherlock Holmes' gentle rebuke of Watson reminds us that children's progress towards understanding scientific concepts involves teachers directing their students' attention towards what is significant in a particular domain of knowledge..."
2306. Blake, A. L. "The Adventure of the Whitrow Inheritance." Sherlock Holmes - The Detective Magazine, no. 23 (1998): 22-26.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2307. Blake, Robin. "Hutton-le-Moors." TLS, no. (2005): 15-15.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a letter to the editor about the birthplace and ancestral manor accorded to Sherlock Holmes by his latest biographer.
2308. Bland, Joellen. "The Mummy." Plays 60, no. 5 (2001): 55.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents the play 'The Mummy.' "From a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle Adapted for round-the-table reading..."
2309. Blankenship, Marshall L. "Sherlock Holmes in marine biology literature." International Journal of Dermatology 39, no. 11 (2000): 879.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Discusses the interest of clinical dermatologists in the dermatological diagnoses featured in Sherlock Holmes novels created by Arthur Conan Doyle."
2310. Blatner, Adam. "Perspectives on Wisdom-ing." ReVision 28, no. 1 (2005): 29-33.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses components of wisdom. Includes a passing reference to Doyle and Holmes. "...what needs to be known as basic knowledge in one field is fairly irrelevant in another. For example, in one of the Conan Doyle stories about Sherlock Holmes, this legendary detective expressed his indifference as to whether the sun went around the earth or vice versa, as it did not really have an impact on his interest in solving crimes...."
2311. Blau, Peter E. "About Bill Rabe." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 1, no. 4 (1997): 3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Biographical information and personal reflections and insights about Bill Rabe.
2312. ———. "About Golf, and Rudyard Kipling, and Vermont, and Other Things." Shoso-In Bulletin 5, no. (1995): 8-13.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2313. ———. "The Adventure of the Acephalous Agronomist." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 4, no. 1 (2000): 1.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Provides some background on Vincent Starrett's parody, first published in 1944, in a limited edition of the three copies.
2314. ———. "Book review--'A Sherlock Holmes Handbook' by Christopher Redmond." Baker Street Miscellanea, no. 75 (1994): 43-44.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2315. ———. "East and West Have Met -- Sherlockian Friendships Between the United States and Japan." Shoso-In Bulletin 8, no. (1998): 223-228.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2316. ———. "From One Collector to Another." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 5, no. 2 (2001): 1, 6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses the acquisition and gift of a rusty paperclip, now set in a paperweight, that once belonged with Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's papers.
2317. ———. "Letter to the Editor." Canadian Holmes 17, no. 2 (1993): 33.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2318. ———. "Letter to the Editor, 'Where were Edmonton Sherlockians?'" Canadian Holmes 20, no. 4 (1997): 33.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2319. ———. "A Spring Sampler." The Serpentine Muse 13, no. 3 (1997): 6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2320. ———. "'Stand with me here upon the terrace...': John Bennett Shaw." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 4 (1994): 243.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Brief obituary of the pre-eminent Sherlockian, John Bennett Shaw who died on Oct. 2 of a heart attack.
2321. ———. "To a Unique Woman." The Serpentine Muse 21, no. 1 (2004): 22-23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2322. ———. "To a Unique Woman in the Sherlock Holmes Stories." The Serpentine Muse 19, no. 3 (2003): 15-16.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2323. ———. "Toast to a Unique Canonical Woman." The Serpentine Muse 22, no. 2 (2006): 12-13.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2324. ———. "Wigmore Street Postbag, And More G B." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 27, no. 2 (2005): 88.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2325. ———. "Wigmore Street Postbag, Oldhams Identified." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 25, no. 1 (2000): 32.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2326. ———. "Wigmore Street Postbag, Wrist Slapped?" The Sherlock Holmes Journal 26, no. 1 (2002): 40.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2327. Bledsoe, Glen, and Karen E Bledsoe. Classic mysteries II a collection of mind-bending masterpieces, (Lowell House classics). Los Angeles: Roxbury Park/Lowell House Juvenile, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 99071488. Contents: The absence of Mr. Glass / G.K. Chesterton -- The mysterious death on The Underground Railway / The Baroness Orczy -- The beetle hunter / Sir Arthur Conan Doyle -- The black narcissus / Fred M. White -- The arrest of Arsène Lupin / Maurice Leblanc // A collection of mystery stories which feature unusual central characters, including a gentleman burglar and a figure known only as the "Old Man."
2328. Bledsoe, Wayne. "CD fun & games; [Metro Edition]." Cincinnati Post (Ohio), November 26, 1994: 1B.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // CD players are multifunctional. A CD drive on your computer or video game will also play audio CDs. A CD-I (Interactive) player will play CD-I discs, audio CDs, CDs with graphics and CD movies.; CD drives are becoming more portable. The "Library of the Future" disc from World Library features an astounding 1,750 complete works on one CD - including the complete works of Shakespeare, most of the classics of Greek and Roman literature, the complete Sherlock Holmes stories, the complete tales of the

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Brothers Grimm, three novels by John Steinbeck, the King James Bible, the Koran, the Bhagavad Gita and The Book of Mormon.

2329. Blessed, Brian. Quest for the Lost World. London: Boxtree, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. (some col.), ports. ; 25 cm. TV tie-in. Includes index. Scuttlebutt Apr 2000 // "Brian Blessed was in Venezuela, filming 'The Lost World' for BBC television; it would appear that he was exploring rather than acting. Blessed has written a fine account of his expedition and notes that he first fell in love with the romance of the Lost World as a schoolboy, when he had a chance to listen to the BBC radio dramatization of the book."
2330. ———. Quest for the Lost World. London: Boxtree, 2000.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- col. ill., ports. (chiefly col.) ; 20 cm. Includes Index. // "Brian Blessed was in Venezuela, filming 'The Lost World' for BBC television; it would appear that he was exploring rather than acting. Blessed has written a fine account of his expedition and notes that he first fell in love with the romance of the Lost World as a schoolboy, when he had a chance to listen to the BBC radio dramatization of the book."
2331. Bliss, Laurel M. "Book Reviews: Arts & Humanities." Library Journal 124, no. 3 (1999): 152.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'Teller of Tales: The Life of Arthur Conan Doyle,' by Daniel Stashower.
2332. ———. "The Dark Water: The Strange Beginnings of Sherlock Holmes." Library Journal 131, no. 13 (2006): 62-62.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "The Dark Water: The Strange Beginnings of Sherlock Holmes," by David Pirie.
2333. ———. "Locked Rooms: A Novel of Suspense Featuring Mary Russell and Sherlock Holmes." Library Journal 130, no. 8 (2005): 67.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book "Locked Rooms: A Novel of Suspense Featuring Mary Russell and Sherlock Holmes," by Laurie R. King.
2334. Block, Ira. "The Adventure of the Purloined Letter." The Holmes & Watson Report 6, no. 4 (2002): 12-21.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2335. ———. "The Star-Crossed Lovers." Shoso-In Bulletin 12, no. (2002): 110-124.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2336. ———. "Who Is the Real Trelawney Hope?" Shoso-In Bulletin 10, no. (2000): 30-34.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2337. Blom, K. Arne, and Mattias Boström. Rip Britannia : med en liten bibliografi över K. Arne Bloms sherlockianska produktion, (Ystads Antikvariat). Ystad, [Sweden]: Ystads Antikvariat, 1996.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 21 cm. Limited ed. of 100 copies. First published as part of the collection "Slutet på början" in 1978. cf: De Waal 4172c. A Holmes-Jack the Ripper pastiche. //
2338. Bloodworth, Denis. "Wigmore Street Postbag, Yet More Music." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 26, no. 2 (2003): 75.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2339. Bloom, Clive. Creepers: British horror and fantasy in the twentieth century. London, Boulder, Colo: Pluto Press, 1993.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 92036706. Includes bibliographical references and index // "With Victor Sage's essay on 'The Speckled Band.'"
2340. Bloom, Harold. "Stories and poems for extremely intelligent children of all ages." Scribner, 2001.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 24 cm. // A collection of stories and poems, arranged in four sections corresponding to the four seasons. Includes (in the section for "Autumn") "The Problem of Thor Bridge".

2341. ———. Stories and poems for extremely intelligent children of all ages. 1st Touchstone ed. New York: Simon & Schuster, 2001.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 24 cm. Includes index. // A collection of stories and poems, arranged in four sections corresponding to the four seasons. Includes (in the section for "Autumn") "The Problem of Thor Bridge".

2342. Bloomfield, David C. "Life Imitates Pokemon: The Virtues and Necessities of Technology-Based Peer Education in Today's Schools." Social policy 30, no. 1 (1999): 13.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article focuses on the virtues and necessities of technology-based education peer education in today's schools and includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Deeply engaged in productive play, the team is both process- and end-driven since, as Sherlock Holmes might exclaim, 'The game's afoot!' and even the Watson-like learner can contribute companionship and the odd insight...."

2343. Blowen, Michael. "Video Watch." The Boston Globe, May 7, 2000: C9.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "...Fans of Sherlock Holmes can rejoice with the release on Tuesday of 'An Evening With Sherlock Holmes.' Actually, it should be titled several evenings because this boxed set contains four movies - 'Sherlock Holmes and the Secret Weapon' (1942), 'Woman In Green' (1945), 'Terror by Night' (1946), and 'Dressed To Kill' (1946). And that's not all. It also includes an interview with Holmes creator Sir Arthur Conan Doyle filmed in 1927 and 30 original radio broadcasts starring the film's leads, Basil Rathbone and Nigel Bruce...."

2344. Blum, Jonathan. "The Tell-Tale Heart." Scholastic Scope 51, no. 4 (2002): 13.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents the short story 'The Tell-Tale Heart' and includes a passing reference to Doyle and Holmes. "Poe invented the first detective story with 'The Murders in the Rue Morgue.' Sir Arthur Conan Doyle used Poe's brilliant detective, C. August Dupin, as a model to create Sherlock Holmes."

2345. Blumberg, Jess. "Abandoned Ship." Smithsonian 38, no. 8 (2007): 20-24.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article focuses on the abandoned ship Mary Celeste, which was found 400 miles east of the Azores on December 5, 1872 by the British Brig Dei Gratia. A discussion of various theories, including those that focused on mutiny, pirates, sea monsters and killer water spouts, is presented. A 2007 investigation into the mystery which was performed by Anne MacGregor and Phil Richardson, which resulted in the documentary "The True Story of the Mary Celeste", which was partly funded by Smithsonian Networks, is discussed. Includes references to Doyle. "...Arthur Conan Doyle's 1884 short story based on the case posited a capture by a vengeful ex-slave...The story of the Mary Celeste might have drifted into history if Conan Doyle hadn't published 'J. Habakuk Jephson's Statement' in 1884; his sensationalistic account, printed in Cornhill Magazine, set off waves of theorizing about the ship's fate. Even Attorney General Solly-Flood revisited the case, writing summaries of his interviews and notes. But the mystery remained unsolved...."

2346. Bobrow, Davis B. "The US and ASEM: why the hegemon didn't bark." Pacific Review 12, no. 1 (1999): 103.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Holmes.

2347. Boddy, Kasia. "Edwin Morgan's Adventures in Calamerica." The Yale Journal of Criticism 13, no. 1 (2000): 177-194.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Doyle mentioned in note 22. "'Poetry about anything' (interview with W. N. Herbert) in Nothing Not Giving Messages, 113. In the same volume, Morgan includes a list of 'Books I Have Read (1927-1940)'--in other words, between the ages of seven and twenty (264-72). Other well-represented authors include, perhaps unsurprisingly, Edgar Rice Burroughs, H. Rider Haggard, Jules Verne, and Arthur Conan Doyle."

2348. Body, William. "Wigmore Street Postbag, Membership Issues." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 25, no. 2 (2001): 79-80.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2349. ———. "Wigmore Street Postbag, 'The Best of . . .' and the Journal." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 28, no. 1 (2006): 35.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2350. ———. "Wigmore Street Postbag, Why 'The' Woman?" The Sherlock Holmes Journal 22, no. 3 (1995): 102-103.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2351. Boehm, Alan D. "The House of Blackwood: Author-Publisher Relations in the Victorian Era (review)." Libraries & Culture 39, no. 1 (2004): 103-104.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...As Finkelstein points out, accordingly, across the late 1800s and early 1900s the firm either refused or failed to publish works by George Bernard Shaw, H. G. Wells, Thomas Hardy, Robert Louis Stevenson, and Arthur Conan Doyle...."

2352. Boehmer, Elleke. "Global and textual webs in an age of transnational capitalism; or, what isn't new about Empire." Postcolonial Studies 7, no. 1 (2004): 11-26.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses three representative instances of cross-continental or globalized contact circa 1900 and the political, cultural, and metaphoric exchanges constituted through them. Includes references to Doyle and Holmes.

2353. Boetschi, Marianne. "The Adventure of the Lost Companion." Shoso-In Bulletin 7, no. (1997): 152-155.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2354. ———. "Drawing -- 'A Scandal in Bohemia'." Shoso-In Bulletin 11, no. (2001): 205.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2355. ———. "Drawing -- 'Abbey Grange'." Shoso-In Bulletin 11, no. (2001): 62.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2356. ———. "Drawing -- 'Baker Street 221B, London; Holmes and Moriarty'." Shoso-In Bulletin 11, no. (2001): 10.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2357. ———. "Drawing -- 'Devil's Foot'." Shoso-In Bulletin 11, no. (2001): 120.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2358. ———. "Drawing -- 'East Wind (His Last Bow); von Bork and Altamont'." Shoso-In Bulletin 11, no. (2001): 133.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2359. ———. "Drawing -- 'East Wind (His Last Bow); von Bork, tied'." Shoso-In Bulletin 11, no. (2001): 163.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2360. ———. "Drawing -- 'Eastwind (sic); Harwich Harbor'." Shoso-In Bulletin 11, no. (2001): 218.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2361. ———. "Drawing -- 'Lady Carfax'." Shoso-In Bulletin 11, no. (2001): 75.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2362. ———. "Drawing -- 'The (sic) Silver Blaze'." Shoso-In Bulletin 11, no. (2001): 108.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2363. ———. "Drawing -- 'The Blue Carbuncle'." Shoso-In Bulletin 11, no. (2001): 126.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2364. ———. "Drawing -- 'The Dying Detective; Culverton Smith'." Shoso-In Bulletin 11, no. (2001): 24.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2365. ———. "Drawing -- 'The Red Headed League'." Shoso-In Bulletin 11, no. (2001): 226.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2366. ———. "Drawing -- 'The Second Stain'." Shoso-In Bulletin 11, no. (2001): 111.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2367. ———. "Drawing -- 'The Second Stain'." Shoso-In Bulletin 11, no. (2001): 117.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2368. ———. "Drawing -- 'The Speckled Band'." Shoso-In Bulletin 11, no. (2001): 222.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2369. ———. "Drawing -- 'The Tree Barridebs' (sic)." Shoso-In Bulletin 11, no. (2001): 98.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2370. ———. "The Master in Front of Police Headquarters." Shoso-In Bulletin 10, no. (2000): 44.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2371. Bogan, Jesse. "The Night In Question." Texas Monthly 36, no. 4 (2008): 130-137.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article describes the result of criminal investigation pertaining to the murder of Texas Border Patrol agent Jose Gamez Jr., whose body was dumped in an irrigation canal on April 21, 1978. In South Texas, Gamez's disappearance made headlines for days, a few of them hinting that the killer could have been his fellow Border Patrol agent Frank Lugo. It did not help that he seemed to change his story each time he told it. He contradicted himself about the events leading up to the encounter with the immigrants. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...As we talked, Lugo lounged on a sofa. I quickly realized what investigators meant about his being hard to follow. His thoughts seemed to bounce in every direction. Sometimes he closed his eyes and scanned the inside of his skull while he spoke. One minute he was telling me about how his partner's death had helped him discover who he really was, the next minute he was rambling on about the definition of 'truth' according to Sherlock Holmes...."

2372. Bogomoletz, Wladimir V. "The Case of the Two Coptic Patriarchs: A Reappraisal." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 52, no. 2 (2002): 5-13.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2373. ———. "The Creeping Man: Some Canonical and Medical Aspects." The Musgrave Papers, no. 12 (1999): 68-76.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2374. ———. "The Curious Incident of the Strasburg Salle-à-Manger (On the Way to Meiringen)." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 50, no. 1 (2000): 15-21.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2375. ———. "The Hotel Dulong in Lyons (A Case of Eponyms)." Shoso-In Bulletin 10, no. (2000): 154-158.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2376. ———. "The Indian Mutiny, The Fort of Agra and 'The Sign of Four'." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 26, no. 2 (2003): 45-51.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2377. ———. "The Odessa File (Sherlock Holmes and Imperial Russia)." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 23, no. 1 (1996): 5-12.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2378. ———. "Paris in the Canon (1890-1902): Facts, People and Places (A short guided tour), part one." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 23, no. 4 (1998): 113-120.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2379. ———. "Paris in the Canon (1890-1902): Facts, People and Places (A short guided tour), part two." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 24, no. 1 (1998): 17-21.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2380. ———. "Professor Edmond Locard (1877-1966)." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 22, no. 2 (1995): 4-6.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Supplement to Volume 22, no. 2
2381. ———. "A Russian Golden Pince-Nez: Sergius, Anna, Alexis and the others." Shoso-In Bulletin 11, no. (2001): 138-151.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2382. ———. "A Study in Human Creeping (A Simian Analogue)." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 25, no. 1 (2000): 5-9.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2383. ———. "Who Was François le Villard? Sherlock Holmes and the Paris Detective Service." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 51, no. 3 (2001): 14-23.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2384. ———. "Wigmore Street Postbag, Bahrain Pub." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 23, no. 2 (1997): 67.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2385. Bohem, Hilda, and Dayna McCausland. Jabberland : a Whiffle through the tulgey wood of "Jabberwocky" imitations. Shelburne, Ontario: George A. Vanderburgh, 2002.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Includes reproductions from the Houghton Collection of Morgan mss. AAH 603 and AAH 641. Includes bibliographical references (p. 269) and indexes. // "Published in 2002 for the Lewis Carroll Society of Canada, offering more than 200 parodies, pastiches, burlesques, and imitations of the famous poem that have appeared since 1872. And two of them are Sherlockian, one composed by Ruth Berman and Ron Whyte (1957), and the other by Steve Tolins (1992)."
2386. Bold, Valentina. "The Year's Publications 2003: a Selected List." Scottish Studies Review 5, no. 1 (2004): 136-152.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a list of Scottish publications in 2003. Included in list are: Arthur Conan Doyle. The Tragedy of the Korosco. London: Hesperus. ISBN 1 8439 1039 X pbk; Lawrence Frank. Victorian Detective Fiction and the Nature of Evidence: The Scientific Investigations of Poe, Dickens and Doyle. Basingstoke: Palgrave Macmillan. ISBN 1 4039 1139 8 hbk.
2387. Bollen, Rebecca. "The New Annotated Sherlock Holmes. 2 vols. (Book)." Library Journal 129, no. 19 (2004): 60-60.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book "The New Annotated Sherlock Holmes," by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.
2388. Bollinger, Marty. "Did a Soviet Merchant Ship Encounter the Pearl Harbor Strike Force?" Naval War College Review 60, no. 4 (2007): 92-110.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Holmes (p. 95). "...In 1990, Michael Slackman went farther, claiming without reservation that the ship 'of a third nation' encountered on 5 December (Hawaii

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

time) was in fact Uritskii citing Agawa and Layton as his sources. Slackman further argues, in the spirit of Sherlock Holmes, that the absence of a radio transmission from Uritskii following this encounter raises the possibility of collusion, as put forward by Layton, though it 'by no means prove[s] that the Soviets knew of the Japanese plans.'..."

2389. Bolonik, Kera, and Jeff Zaleski. "Illuminating the Darkness." Publishers Weekly 250, no. 10 (2003): 53.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Interviews author Anthony O'Neill about the book The Lamplighter with a reference to Doyle. "What inspired you to become a writer? Nineteenth-century novelists like Stevenson, Alexandre Dumas, Jules Verne, the Brontes and Arthur Conan Doyle. All of those influences come through in The Lamplighter...."
2390. Bolt, David. "Disability and the Rhetoric of Inclusive Higher Education." Journal of Further & Higher Education 28, no. 4 (2004): 353-358.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...Indeed, canonical representations of persons with impaired vision have been created by...H.G. Wells, Arthur Conan Doyle, Andre Gide..."
2391. Bond, Jon R. "The Scientification of the Study of Politics: Some Observations on the Behavioral Evolution in Political Science." Journal of Politics 69, no. 4 (2007): 897-907.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article examines the evolution of the discipline of political science over the century since its founding in the early 20th century. The ongoing debate as to whether politics is an art or a science is surveyed, with the author favoring a scientific approach. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Thus, the scientific method proceeds not by the scientification of the study of politics proving what is true, but rather by eliminating what is false. It is much like Sherlock Holmes' description of how he solved mysteries: 'when you have eliminated all which is impossible, then whatever remains, however improbable, must be the truth.'..."
2392. Bond, Scott. "Art in the Blood." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 1 (1994): 4.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Cartoon, linked to editorial, with caption "Si monumentum quaeris, circumspice"
2393. ———. "Art in the Blood." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 2 (1994): 68.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A cartoon with the caption "Better get your service revolver, Watson! I have a feeling this adventure isn't over yet."
2394. ———. "Art in the Blood." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 3 (1994): 132.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Cartoon with the caption "Astounding, Holmes! Your most impenetrable disguise yet!"
2395. ———. "Art in the Blood." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 4 (1994): 196.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Cartoon with the caption "I say, Holmes, what time is it?" "1895, Watson, same as last year."
2396. Bond, Scott, and Bill Starr. The Sons of the Copper Beeches 50th anniversary commemorative commonplace book. Philadelphia: Sons of the Copper Beeches, 1998.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2397. Bonn, Ferdinand, and Arthur Conan Doyle. Sherlock Holmes Detektivkomödie in vier Aufzügen : Frei nach Motiven aus Conan Doyles Romanserie. 1. Aufl ed, (Baskerville Bücher). Kempen: Michael Ross Verlag, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2398. Bonnell, William. The Sherlock Holmes Victorian cookbook: favourite recipes of the great detective & Dr. Watson. Toronto: Macmillan Canada, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Nov 1997 //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2399. Bonte, Benoît. De bloedige ster, (Holmes, 7; Collectie detective strips, 35; Collectie detective comics, 35). Brussel: Lefrancq, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Dutch. naar de personages van Arthur Conan Doyle. scenario: Jean-Pierre Croquet. tek.: Benoît Bonte kleuren: Cécile Vergult vert. [uit het Frans] en lettering: Van der Heide // Ballonstrip.
2400. Boot, William. "The shop that could not Foyle Holmes." Bookseller, no. 5086 (2003): 19.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article presents the portion of story omitted from Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's final volume of Sherlock Holmes stories, 'His Last Bow.'
2401. Boote, Henry. A Baker Street workbook. S.l: s.n., 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references (leaves 87-88) // Covers the sixty Sherlock Holmes stories with information about each one, a listing of articles from the Baker Street Journal having to do with it and pages for the reader to make notes 2402. ———, ed. Cliff Notes on Mrs. Hudson's Cliffdwellers. Old Tappan, NJ: Mrs. Hudson's Cliffdwellers, 2000-2001.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2403. ———. "ECHOES From the Cliffs - Happy Anniversary!" Cliff Notes on Mrs. Hudson's Cliffdwellers 3, no. 1 (2001): 4.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2404. ———. "ECHOES From the Cliffs - Tim Flies When You're Having Fun." Cliff Notes on Mrs. Hudson's Cliffdwellers 2, no. 2 (2000): 4-5.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2405. ———. "The Game is Afoot: The Name Game." Cliff Notes on Mrs. Hudson's Cliffdwellers 2, no. 2 (2000): 25.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2406. ———. "What's in a Name?" Cliff Notes on Mrs. Hudson's Cliffdwellers 3, no. 1 (2001): 28-30.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2407. Booth, Matthew. "The Abbey Grange Vox populi, vox Dei." The Musgrave Papers, no. 13 (2000): 101-105.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2408. Booth, Martin. The doctor and the detective: a biography of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. 1st U.S. ed. New York: St. Martin's Minotaur, 2000.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references (p. [355]-357) and index //
2409. ———. The Doctor and the Detective: a biography of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. New York: Thomas Dunne Books, 2000.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 24 cm. Originally published: The doctor, the detective, and Arthur Conan Doyle. London : Hodder and Stoughton, c1997. Includes bibliographical references (p. [355]-357) and index. //
2410. ———. The Doctor, the Detective and Arthur Conan Doyle : a biography of Arthur Conan Doyle. 1st U.S. ed. New York: St. Martin's, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 24 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. [355]-357) and index. //
2411. ———. The Doctor, the Detective and Arthur Conan Doyle : a biography of Arthur Conan Doyle. London: Coronet, 1998.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill., ports. ; 18 cm. Originally published: London: Hodder & Stoughton, 1997. Includes bibliographical references and index. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2412. ———. The Doctor, the Detective and Arthur Conan Doyle : a biography of Arthur Conan Doyle. London: Hodder & Stoughton, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 24 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. [355]-357) and index. //
2413. Booth, Matthew. "My Favorite Sherlock: Christopher Plummer." The Ritual, no. 24 (1999): 36-37.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2414. ———. "'The Reigate Squires': The Adventure of the Missing Opportunities." The Musgrave Papers, no. 11 (1998): 63-69.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2415. ———. "Review -- 'Sherlock Holmes and the Hellbirds' by Austin Mitchelson & Nicholas Utechin." The Musgrave Papers, no. 8 (1995): 110-112.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2416. ———. "Review--Sherlock Holmes and the Somerset Hunt by Rosemary Michaud." The Ritual, no. 11 (1993): 49-50.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2417. ———. "Review--The Private Life of Sherlock Holmes by Michael and Mollie Hardwick." The Ritual, no. 11 (1993): 51.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2418. ———. "Review--The Return of Sherlock Holmes." The Ritual, no. 19 (1997): 58-60.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2419. ———. "Review--The Scroll of the Dead: A Sherlock Holmes Adventure by David Stuart Davies." The Ritual, no. 22 (1998): 64-65.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2420. ———. "Review--The Shadow of the Rat by David Stuart Davies." The Ritual, no. 24 (1999): 62-64.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2421. ———. "Review--The Travels of Sherlock Holmes by John Hall." The Ritual, no. 21 (1998): 71-72.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2422. ———. Sherlock Holmes and the giant's hand and other stories. Cambridge, UK: Irregular Special Press, 2004.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: The adventure of the giant's hand -- The adventure of the York Place prophecy -- The adventure of the hollow bank. Scuttlebutt Apr 2005 // "Has Holmes solving murders from three of the unrecorded cases, in Cornwall (the Addleton tragedy), Kent (Colonel Warburton's madness), and Wiltshire (the dreadful business of the Abernetty family)."
2423. ———. "A Study in Holmeslessness." The Ritual, no. 20 (1997): 35-37.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2424. Boothe, Gary F. The Secret of Sherlock Holmes. Pasco, Washington: Press Craft Inc, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Dec 1997 // "A new pastiche that brings Holmes out of retirement in 1907 to help forestall a threat to the economic security of the United States; he's assisted by his daughter Alice rather than by Watson."
2425. Borchard, David C. "The Future High-Tech Career Center." Futurist 34, no. 3 (2000): 22.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses the innovation of services designed to assist the growing number of adults needing professional career counseling. Includes a passing reference to Holmes.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2426. Bornstein, Melvin. "What Freud Did Not Write About Dora." Psychoanalytic Inquiry 25, no. 1 (2005): 54-70.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...In this paper, you create a narrative with a plot of discovery that progresses like a Sherlock Holmes novel and brings clarity to Dora's life..."
2427. Borysenko, Joan. "Coping with a Critical Mom." Prevention 57, no. 5 (2005): 113-116.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Offers suggestions for daughters dealing with critical mothers. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Some mothers are more observant than Sherlock Holmes about your hair, your recent weight gain, or that blotch on your skin...."
2428. Borzillo, Carrie. "Syndicators present shows for holidays." Billboard 106, no. 49 (1994): 100.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports on shows planned by radio syndicators in the United States for the 1994 Christmas season. Includes a reference to Holmes. "Beverly Hills, Calif.-based Charles Michelson is offering a dozen of radio's most-famous drama and comedy programs for the holidays. The half-hour specials are "The Jack Benny Christmas Special,"..."The Sherlock Holmes Christmas Show,"..."
2429. Bos, Jaap. "Everyday life objectivity." Social Epistemology 18, no. 2/3 (2004): 123-138.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Bibliography includes Holmes reference. Reve, K. van het. 1994. Dr. Freud und Sherlock Holmes. Frankfurt: Fischer.
2430. Boschetti, Egisto, Bernard Monsarrat, and Pier Giorgio Righetti. "The "Invisible Proteome": How to Capture the Low-Abundance Proteins Via Combinatorial Ligand Libraries." Current Proteomics 4, no. 4 (2007): 198-208.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // References at end of article include one related to Holmes: Righetti, P.G. and Boschetti, E. (2007). Sherlock Holmes and the proteome - a detective story. FEBS J. 274: 897-905.
2431. Bose, Claire. "Bestseller hall of fame." Europe, no. (1998): 3p.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a glance at European novels from the ancients to the modern. Includes a reference to Doyle. "...One field where the British seem destined to excel is that of the murder mystery. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle may well have been a forerunner to the crown, but Agatha Christie has long been considered the queen of crime...."
2432. Bose, Meena. "Words as signals: Drafting Cold War rhetoric in the Eisenhower and Kennedy Administrations." Congress & the Presidency 25, no. 1 (1998): 23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Examines the speech-writing processes of two United States presidents, Dwight D. Eisenhower and John F. Kennedy, who began their terms during the Cold War. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Like the dog that did not bark of Sherlock Holmes fame, Kennedy's drafting processes are most significant for what they did not contain...."
2433. Boshra, Basem. "Baskerville hound barks again: First-class actors star in BBC adaptation of the classic Sherlock Holmes mystery." The Gazette (Montreal), November 18, 2002: D6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "What to watch: Richard Roxburgh (Moulin Rouge) stars as the legendary Sherlock Holmes and Ian Hart (Harry Potter and the Philosopher's Stone) is his loyal sidekick, Dr. Watson, in a faithful, stylish new BBC adaptation of The Hound of the Baskervilles.... A bevy of top-shelf Brit character actors, including Richard E. Grant, Matt Day and John Nettles, provides admirable support in this delightful version of the Sir Arthur Conan Doyle tale...."
2434. Bosteels, Bruno. "The Truth is in the Making: Borges and Pragmatism." Romanic Review 98, no. 2 (2007): 135-151.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Holmes in the text and notes. Text reads: "...Carlo Ginzburg, for example, has written some illuminating pages about the coincidence of new, indexical types of information such as fingerprints and other clues in the work of police detectives, or lapsus and inadvertent little gestures in the kind of case-study that is central to psychoanalysis. In both lines of work and in the absence of ready-made rules or laws, the need arises to think on the spot in terms of creative hypotheses or conjectures by which to interpret the unique fact of a crime or a singular perversion. Sherlock Holmes and Sigmund Freud

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

thus are strict contemporaries, not just in terms of history or biographical coincidences but also for their place in the larger paradigm shift toward a generalized epistemological model of abduction, as was to have been theorized by Peirce...." Note is: Ginzburg, Carlo. "Clues: Morelli, Freud, and Sherlock Holmes." The Sign of Three: Dupin, Holmes, Peirce. Ed. Umberto Eco and Thomas A. Sebeok. Bloomington: Indiana University Press, 1988. 81-118.

2435. Boström, Mattias, ed. Sherlock Holmes 150 år : en jubileumsbok från the Baskerville Hall Club of Sweden. Bromma: Baskerville Hall Club of Sweden, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 20 cm. // "A handsome 185-page anthology of Swedish scholarship (with translations of contributions from Roger Johnson and Stephen Fry)."
2436. Boström, Mattias. Sudoku med bokstäver : avslöja det dolda ordet! : med ledtrådar presenterade av Sherlock Holmes. Stockholm: Känguru, 2006.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2437. ———. Tretton kriminella klassiker : författarporträtt : [John Dickson Carr, Raymond Chandler, G. K. Chesterton, Agatha Christie, Conan Doyle, Dashiell Hammett, Ross Macdonald, Ellery Queen, Dorothy Sayers, Georges Simenon, Sjöwall/Wahlöö, Rex Stout, Stieg Trenter], (Deckarserien). Lund: BTJ förlag, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. //
2438. Boström, Mattias, and Per Olaisen. Sherlock Holmes i Skåne, (Mungo-serien, 2). Växjö: P. Olaisen, Chapmanskolans tr., 1995.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Skånska deckarsällskapet ; editors: Mattias Boström and Per Olaisen. //
2439. Bottum, Joseph. "Children's Books, Lost and Found." First Things: A Monthly Journal of Religion & Public Life, no. 188 (2008): 13-16.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article presents the author's reflections on the nature of children's literature. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Genre fiction has always had a tendency to slide down the scale from popular adult book to children's classic. Many Victorian and Edwardian stories made this move from the grown-ups' shelves to the juvenile section-- Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea, The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes, The Count of Monte Cristo, King Solomon's Mines, The Prisoner of Zenda--but the same process was at work as late as The Lord of the Rings, published in 1954...."
2440. Boucher, Anthony. The Adventure of the Black Angus ; and, The Adventure of the Elusive Emerald. Grand Haven, Mich: Brilliance Corp, 1996. Sound Recording (cassette) 1 sound cassette (ca. 1 hr.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Performer Note: Starring Nigel Bruce and Tom Conway. Added Title: Adventure of the elusive emerald // In The adventure of the black angus, Holmes and Watson begin a search for a missing bridegroom and end up in a castle in Scotland where people believe in a five-hundred-year-old legend of a werewolf. In The adventure of the elusive emerald, the priceless Kratzoff Emerald is stolen, the Duchess of Penfield is suspected and Holmes must use all his ability to find the real thief 2441. ———. The adventure of the Carpathian horror ; and, The Lion's mane. Grand Haven, MI: Brilliance, 1996. Sound Recording (cassette) 1 sound cassette (ca. 1 hr.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Performer Note: Starring Nigel Bruce and Tom Conway. Added Title: Lion's mane // In The adventure of the Carpathian horror, Holmes and Watson travel to an ancient castle deep in the Carpathian mountains to investigate why Count Romany is going mad and if the legends of vampires in his family history could possibly be true. In The lion's mane, a dying man mutters the words, "the lion's mane" and Holmes and Watson must discover if this is clue to his death or if something much more sinister is at play 2442. ———. The Adventure of the Devil's Foot ; and, The Adventure of the Dying Detective. Grand Haven, Mich: Brilliance Corp, 1995. Sound Recording (cassette) 1 sound cassette (ca. 1 hr.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Performer Note: Starring Nigel Bruce and Tom Conway. Added Title: Adventure of the dying detective // "In The adventure of the devil's foot, the investigation into the death of a family and the return of devil worship must be solved before Holmes and Watson become the next victims. In the adventure

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

of the dying detective, Watson finds Holmes suffering from a terrible disease for which Watson knows no cure and he must find the mysterious owner of a rubber plantation and get his help before Holmes dies."

2443. ———. The adventure of the genuine guarnarius ; and, The adventure of the submerged nobleman. Grand Haven, Mich: Brilliance Corp, 1997. Sound Recording (cassette) 1 sound cassette (ca. 1 hr.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Performer Note: Starring Nigel Bruce, Tom Conway. Event Note: Originally broadcast Nov. 16, 1946 (The adventure of the genuine guarnarius) and May 26, 1947 (The adventure of the submerged nobleman). Added Title: Adventure of the submerged nobleman //
2444. ———. The adventure of the Grand Old Man ; and, The singular affair of the white cockerel. Grand Haven, Mich: Brilliance Corp, 1995. Sound Recording (cassette) 1 sound cassette (ca. 1 hr.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Performer Note: Starring Nigel Bruce and Tom Conway // "In The adventure of the Grand Old Man, Holmes is asked to investigate a ghost haunting 'The Grand Old Man' of the theater on his death bed. In The singular affair of the white cockerel, Holmes investigates the theft of a chicken only to find something extremely sinister behind this act."
2445. ———. The Adventure of the Haunted Bagpipes ; and, The Adventure of the Horseless Carriage. Grand Haven, Mich: Brilliance Corp./Nova Audio, 1995. Sound Recording (cassette) 1 sound cassette (ca. 1 hr.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Performer Note: Starring Nigel Bruce and Tom Conway //
2446. ———. The adventure of the innocent muddress ; and, The adventure of the iron maiden. Grand Haven, Mich: Brilliance Corp, 1997. Sound Recording (cassette) 1 sound cassette (ca. 1 hr.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Performer Note: Starring Nigel Bruce, Tom Conway. Event Note: Originally broadcast June 30, 1947 (The adventure of the innocent muddress) and July 7, 1947 (The adventure of the iron maiden) // "In The adventure of the innocent muddress, Holmes and Watson observe an unwanted visitor shoot the emissary from Groznia, but there is evidence that the emissary was poisoned at exactly the same time so who is the real murderer or murderess? In The adventure of the iron maiden, Holmes and Watson are asked to investigate strange happenings at a torture museum in Germany where a corpse was found in an iron maiden."
2447. ———. The Adventure of the Sally Martin ; and, The strange death of Mrs. Abernety. Grand Haven, Mich: Brilliance Corp, 1995. Sound Recording (cassette) 1 sound cassette (ca. 1 hr.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Performer Note: Starring Nigel Bruce and Tom Conway // "In The strange adventure of the Sally Martin, Holmes is drawn into a perplexing murder mystery when George Byron is found dead in his bunk on the schooner Sally Martin. In The Strange death of Mrs. Abernety, murder is committed in the presence of Holmes in one of the most diabolical murders he ever encountered."
2448. ———. The Clue of the Hungry Cat ; and, The Singular Affair of the Dying Schoolboys. Grand Haven, MI: Brilliance Corp, 1995. Sound Recording 1 sound cassette (ca. 1 hr.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Performer Note: Starring Nigel Bruce and Tom Conway // "In The clue of the hungry cat, Holmes agrees to help a man who is condemned to die prove his innocence, but what is the clue provided by a hungry cat that can bring the true murderer to justice? In The singular affair of the dying schoolboys, Lord Landers asks Holmes to investigate the death of his younger brother and Holmes finds that five students have been murdered and the rest are living in terror. Is the school being used to murder unwanted relatives?"
2449. ———. Death in the North Sea ; and, The Adventure of the Speckled Band. Grand Haven, MI: Brilliance Corp, 1997. Sound Recording 1 sound cassette (ca. 1 hr.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Performer Note: Starring Nigel Bruce, Tom Conway. Event Note: Originally broadcast June 16, 1947 (Death in the North Sea) and June 23, 1947 (The adventure of the speckled band) //
2450. ———. The Haunting of Sherlock Holmes ; and, The Baconian Cipher. New York: Simon & Schuster Audioworks, 1994. Sound Recording 1 sound cassette (ca. 60 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Performer Note: Basil Rathbone (Sherlock Holmes) and Nigel Bruce (Dr. Watson) // "Presents two previously lost original broadcasts of the popular radio drama, Sherlock Holmes. In The haunting of Sherlock Holmes, a beautiful opera singer accused of spying visits Holmes and Watson shortly

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

after her execution. In The Baconian cipher, Holmes detects a strange message in the "Agony Column" of the London Times, leading to a curious plot of murder and intrigue."

2451. ———. The new adventures of Sherlock Holmes. New York: Simon & Schuster Audioworks, 1995 4 sound cassette (ca. 240 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Featuring Basil Rathbone (Sherlock Holmes) and Nigel Bruce (Dr. Watson).
Contents: Tape1. The Great Gandolfo -- The adventure of the original Hamlet -- tape 2. Murder by moonlight -
- The singular affair of the coptic cross -- tape 3. The gunpowder plot -- The babbling butler -- tape 4. The accidental murderess -- The adventure of the Blarney Stone //
2452. ———. New adventures of Sherlock Holmes : the haunting of Sherlock Holmes and the Baconian Cipher. New York: Simon & Schuster, 1994. Sound Recording 1 sound cassette (approx. 1 hr.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2453. ———. The new adventures of Sherlock Holmes audio gift set. New York: Simon & Schuster Audioworks, 1994
4 sound cassette (ca. 240 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Featuring Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce and Tom Conway. Contents: Tape1. The living doll -- The disappearing scientists -- tape 2. The adventure of the speckled band -- The purloined ruby -- tape 3. The book of Tobit -- Murder beyond the mountains -- tape 4. The Manor House case -- The adventure of the stuttering ghost //
2454. ———. The night before Christmas ; and, The Darlington substitution. New York: Simon & Schuster
Audioworks, 1994 1 sound cassette (60 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Starring Basil Rathbone as Sherlock Holmes and Nigel Bruce as Dr. Watson //
"Presents two previously lost broadcasts of the popular radio program entitled Sherlock Holmes. In the first story, a simple mistake puts everyone's life in danger when Dr. Watson plays Santa for a group of children on Christmas Eve and Holmes must act to prevent the tragedy and solve a puzzling crime at the same time. In the second tale, Holmes must devise a test to determine who is heir to the Darlington fortune and who is the real mother to Lord Darlington's son."
2455. ———. The strange case of Professor Presbery, or, The creeping man ; and, The adventure of the scarlet worm.
Grand Haven, MI: Brilliance Corp, 1996 1 sound cassette (ca. 1 hr.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- More new adventures of Sherlock Holmes; v. 9. Starring Nigel Bruce and Tom Conway // "In The strange case of Professor Presbery, Holmes must solve a mystery whose only clues are a small engraved wooden box, some strange letters and a scream in the night. In The adventure of the scarlet worm, Mycroft Holmes sends Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson to Paris to foil an international spy ring, but when Watson goes undercover to trap a beautiful female spy, who really is falling into a trap?"
2456. Boucher, Anthony, Denis Green, Nigel Bruce, and Tom Conway. *The Clue of the Hungry Cat ; and, the Singular
Affair of the Dying Schoolboys*. Uniform Title: Clue of the hungry cat. Grand Haven, MI: Brilliance Corp.,
1995. Sound Recording 1 sound cassette (ca. 1 hr.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog. More new adventures of Sherlock Holmes ; v. 1. Container title./ At head of title: Nova Audio Books presents./ "Cassette introduction and closing comments by "Golden Age" radio performer Elliott Reid"--Container./ Originally broadcast October 26, 1946 (The clue of the hungry cat) and November 9, 1946 (The singular affair of the dying schoolboys)/ "Original dramas from the golden age of radio"--Container./ "Based on incidents in the original Sherlock Holmes stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle"-- Container./ Participants: Starring Nigel Bruce and Tom Conway. [by Anthony Boucher and Denis Green].
Produced by Ken Greenwald and Dick Mullins. // "In The clue of the hungry cat, Holmes agrees to help a man who is condemned to die prove his innocence, but what is the clue provided by a hungry cat that can bring the true murderer to justice? In The singular affair of the dying schoolboys, Lord Landers asks Holmes to investigate the death of his younger brother and Holmes finds that five students have been murdered and the rest are living in terror. Is the school being used to murder unwanted relatives?"

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2457. ———. The Island of Death ; and, The remarkable affair of the pointless robbery. Uniform Title: Island of death. Grand Haven, MI: Brilliance, 1996. Sound Recording 1 sound cassette (ca. 1 hr.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog, stereo. More new adventures of Sherlock Holmes ; v. 11. Container title. At head of title: Nova Audio books presents. "Cassette introduction and closing comments by "Golden Age" radio performer Elliott Reid"--Container. Originally broadcast April 28, 1947 (The island of death) and May 5, 1947 (The remarkable affair of the pointless robbery). "Original dramas from the golden age of radio"--Container. "Based on incidents in the original Sherlock Holmes stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle"--Container. Starring Nigel Bruce and Tom Conway. [by Anthony Boucher and Denis Green]. Produced by Ken Greenwald and Dick Mullins. // "In The island of death, a circus fat lady, a group of midgets and a contortionist ask Holmes and Watson to accompany them to a deserted island deep in the Scottish Lake District where they have been invited by a scientist whose intentions are unknown. In The remarkable affair of the pointless robbery, Holmes is asked to investigate the ransacking of a rectory and the death of the local chemist which have some common sinister force behind them."
2458. ———. The red headed league ; and, Murder in the locked room. Grand Haven, MI: Brilliance Corp., 1997. Sound Recording 1 sound cassette (ca. 1 hr.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog. More new adventures of Sherlock Holmes ; v. 14. Container title. At head of title: Nova Audio Books presents. "Cassette introduction and closing comments by "Golden Age" radio performers Parley Baer, Harry Bartell, Elliott Reid and Peggy Webber"--Container. "Original dramas from the golden age of radio"--Container. "Based on incidents in the original Sherlock Holmes stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle"--Container. Starring Nigel Bruce, Tom Conway. Originally broadcast June 2, 1947 (The red headed league) and June 9, 1947 (Murder in the locked room). Produced by Ken Greenwald and Dick Mullins. Uniform Title: Red headed league. // "In The red headed league, Holmes wonders what is the reason for the unusual bequest to certain redheaded Londoners and does it mean that a fantastic crime is about to be committed? In Murder in the locked room, Holmes must decide whether an writer working on a "locked room" mystery story has committed suicide in a 'locked room' or if it really is murder."
2459. ———. The strange case of the persecuted millionaire ; and, the adventure of the Maltree Abbey. Grand Haven, MI: Brilliance Corp., 1995. Sound Recording 1 sound cassette (ca. 1 hr.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog. More new adventures of Sherlock Holmes ; v. 4. Container title. At head of title: Nova Audio Books presents. "Original dramas from the golden age of radio"--Container. "Cassette introduction and closing comments by "Golden Age" radio performer Elliott Reid"--Container. Originally broadcast February 10, 1947 (The strange case of the persecuted millionaire) and March 31, 1947 (The adventure of Maltree Abbey). "Based on incidents in the original Sherlock Holmes stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle"--Container. Starring Nigel Bruce and Tom Conway. Produced by Ken Greenwald and Dick Mullins. Uniform Title: Strange case of the persecuted millionaire. // "In The strange case of the persecuted millionaire, John B. Harden is being driven mad with death threats found in the most unusual places and Holmes is asked to prevent a shocking tragedy. In The adventure of Maltree Abbey, Holmes must unlock the mystery of a priceless treasure which will be lost should he should fail."
2460. ———. Wysteria Lodge ; and, The Harley Street murders. Grand Haven, MI: Brilliance, 1996. Sound Recording 1 sound cassette (ca. 1 hr.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog, stereo. More new adventures of Sherlock Holmes ; v. 12. Cover title. At head of title: Nova Audio books presents. "Cassette introduction and closing comments by "Golden Age" radio performer Elliott Reid"--Container. Originally broadcast May 12, 1947 (Wysteria Lodge) and May 19, 1947 (The Harley Street murders). "Original dramas from the golden age of radio"--Container. "Based on incidents in the original Sherlock Holmes stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle"--Container. Starring Nigel Bruce and Tom Conway. Produced by Ken Greenwald and Dick Mullins. Uniform Title: Wysteria Lodge. // "In Wysteria Lodge, can Holmes solve the mystery of the scream in the night and the disappearance by morning of everyone at the lodge but Mr. Eckles? In The Harley Street murders, Holmes must find the sinister force behind the deaths of five physicians."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2461. Boucher, Anthony, Denis Green, Nigel Bruce, Tom Conway, and Ben Wright. Queue for murder ; and, The singular affair of the ancient Egyptian curse. Grand Haven, MI: Brilliance Corp., 1996. Sound Recording 1 sound cassette (ca. 1 hr.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog. More new adventures of Sherlock Holmes ; v. 8. Container title. At head of title: Nova Audio Books presents. "Cassette introduction and closing comments by "Golden Age" radio performers Parley Baer, Harry Bartell, Elliott Reid and Peggy Webber"--Container. Originally broadcast March 4, 1947 (Queue for murder) and March 10, 1947 (The singular affair of the ancient Egyptian curse). "Original dramas from the golden age of radio"--Container. "Based on incidents in the original Sherlock Holmes stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle"--Container. Starring Nigel Bruce, Tom Conway and Ben Wright. Produced by Ken Greenwald and Dick Mullins. Uniform Title: Queue for murder. // "In Queue for murder, Dr. Watson attends a dying man whose last words are a death threat to a wealthy physician and Holmes must determine how these two are linked before it is too late. In The singular affair of the ancient Egyptian curse, the curse of the tomb of Ha Sha Bit not only kills Lord Cranwood but his son dies mysteriously in the British Museum right in front of Sherlock Holmes."
2462. Boucher, Anthony, Denis Green, Arthur Conan Doyle, Basil Rathbone, and Tom Conway. The new adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Volume 23. New York: Simon & Schuster Audio, 1994. Sound Recording 1 sound cassette (ca. 60 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog, 1 7/8 ips, stereo., Dolby processed. "The original radio broadcasts! Never before available!" Based on characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Tom Conway. // "The gunpowder plot (broadcast November 5, 1945): On a Guy Fawkes holiday, Holmes and Watson encounter a murder plot with an amazing similarity to a case that is almost 300 years old. The babbling butler (broadcast January 27, 1947): Holmes and Watson find themselves drawn into an investigation of two tragic deaths."
2463. Boucher, Anthony, Denis Green, Basil Rathbone, and Nigel Bruce. In Flanders Field ; and, The Eyes of Mr. Leyton: The new adventures of Sherlock Holmes. New York: Simon & Schuster Audioworks, 1990. Sound Recording 1 sound cassette (60 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ID: 4536; 9780671690823; 69082-5; [sound recording]. Anthony Boucher and Denis Green. analog. Basil Rathbone and Nigel Bruce. Recording of the original radio broadcasts on May 14 and Sept. 24, 1945. In container (18 cm.). Sherlock Holmes (Radio program); In Flanders field; Eyes of Mr. Leyton. // "Presents two previously lost original broadcasts of the popular radio drama, Sherlock Holmes. In the first, Holmes and Dr. Watson investigate the disappearance of a Shakespearean actor. In The eyes of Mr. Leyton, they search for someone who preys on opium users."
2464. ———. The mystery of the headless monk ; and, the strange case of the demon barber: The new adventures of Sherlock Holmes. New York: Simon & Schuster Audioworks, 1989 Sound Recording.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ID: 4537; 9780671680886; 076714009950; 1 sound cassette (60 min.) : analog; Starring Basil Rathbone as Sherlock Holmes and Nigel Bruce as Dr. Watson. "The original radio broadcast!"--Container. The mystery of the headless monk was broadcast on April 15, 1946 and The case of the demon barber was broadcast on Jan. 28, 1946 over the Mutual Broadcasting System. "Complete with original radio narration, commercials and an introduction and conclusion by the golden age of radio performer, Ben H. Wright"--Container. // "Presents two previously lost broadcasts of the popular radio drama, Sherlock Holmes. In The mystery of the headless monk, a leading expert on the supernatural has been murdered in a haunted chapel and the suspect is the ghost of a beheaded monk. In The strange case of the demon barber, an actor awakes to find fresh blood stains on his hands and clothes and asks Holmes to prove that he is responsible for a string of unsolved murders."
2465. ———. The new adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Murder by moonlight & other mysteries. Volumes 19-24. [S.l.]: Simon & Schuster Audio, 2005. Sound Recording 6 sound discs.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital ; 4 3/4 in. Adapted for radio by Anthony Boucher and Denis Green. Compact disc. Previously released, 1988-1999. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, other performers. Broadcast between 1945 and 1946. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2466. ———. The new adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Murder in the Casbah & other mysteries. Volumes 13-18. [S.l.]: Simon & Schuster Audio, 2005. Sound Recording 6 sound discs.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital ; 4 3/4 in. Adapted for radio by Anthony Boucher and Denis Green.
 Compact disc. Previously released, 1988-1999. Participants: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, other performers.
 Broadcast between 1945 and 1946. //
2467. ———. A scandal in Bohemia ; and, The second generation: The new adventures of Sherlock Holmes. New York: Simon & Schuster Audioworks, 1990 Sound Recording.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ID: 4491; 69081-7; 1 sound cassette (60 min.) : analog. Starring Basil Rathbone & Nigel Bruce. Originally broadcast Dec. 10, 1945 (1st selection) and Dec. 17, 1945 (2nd selection) over the Mutual Broadcasting System. The first selection adapted from the story by Arthur Conan Doyle for radio by Anthony Boucher and Denis Green ; the second an original radio play. // "Presents two original radio episodes featuring Basil Rathbone as Sherlock Holmes with Nigel Bruce as Dr. Watson. In the first story, Holmes goes undercover to save the king of Bohemia from scandal, but he must confront a beautiful and dangerous adversary. In the sequel, Holmes and Watson return to Bohemia twenty years later to discover that old crimes never die."
2468. ———. The tell tale pigeon feathers and, The indiscretion of Mr. Edwards: The new adventures of Sherlock Holmes. New York: Simon & Schuster Audioworks, 1990 Sound Recording.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ID: 4539; 69083-3; 1 sound cassette (60 min.) : analog. Recording of the original radio broadcasts from Jan. 21 and Jan. 4, 1946. Starring Basil Rathbone and Nigel Bruce. In container (18 cm.). Program notes on container. // "Presents two original radio episodes featuring Basil Rathbone as Sherlock Holmes with Nigel Bruce as Dr. Watson. In the first story, Holmes is put to work by his brother and discovers a man who can turn himself into a bird or a spy, while Watson lands in jail. In the sequel, a member of the royal family is seduced by a beautiful circus performer. When Watson goes undercover to break the affair, he finds a dead body and a very disturbing clue."
2469. Boucher, Anthony, Denis Green, Basil Rathbone, and Tom Conway. The strange case of Professor Presbery, or, The creeping man ; and, the adventure of the scarlet worm. Grand Haven, MI: Brilliance Corp., 1996. Sound Recording 1 sound cassette (ca. 1 hr.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog, stereo. More new adventures of Sherlock Holmes ; v. 9. Container title. At head of title: Nova Audio books presents. "Cassette introduction and closing comments by "Golden Age" radio performer Elliott Reid"--Container. Originally broadcast March 17, 1947 (The strange case of Professor Presbery) and March 24, 1947 (The adventure of the scarlet worm). "Original dramas from the golden age of radio"--Container. "Based on incidents in the original Sherlock Holmes stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle"--Container. Starring Nigel Bruce and Tom Conway. Produced by Ken Greenwald and Dick Mullins. Uniform Title: Strange case of Professor Presbery. // "In The strange case of Professor Presbery, Holmes must solve a mystery whose only clues are a small engraved wooden box, some strange letters and a scream in the night. In The adventure of the scarlet worm, Mycroft Holmes sends Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson to Paris to foil an international spy ring, but when Watson goes undercover to trap a beautiful female spy, who really is falling into a trap?"
2470. Boucher, Anthony, and Otto Penzler. The case of the Baker Street Irregulars. 2nd ed. New York: Carroll & Graf Publishers, Inc, 1995.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2471. Bould, Mark. "The Incomplete Projects: Marxism, Modernity and the Politics of Culture." Historical Materialism 14, no. 4 (2006): 233-243.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "The Incomplete Projects: Marxism, Modernity and the Politics of Culture," by Carl Freedman. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Unlike such detectives as C. Auguste Dupin and Sherlock Holmes, who are little more than ratiocination devices, the hardboiled detective -- like Hammett's Op and Sam Spade, Raymond Chandler's Philip Marlowe -- does not proceed by the painstaking gathering and piecing together of clues. Instead, he stirs thing up..."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2472. Bourne, Leah. "Modern Pastoral." Time 172, no. (2008): 14-14.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The author reports on the various articles of men's clothing which are being made out of tweed during the Fall of 2008. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "Sherlock Holmes became a tweed icon at the turn of the last century after sporting nubby wool capes while on the trail of London's miscreants...."
2473. Bousquet, Robert J. "The De Reszkes: Operatic Legends." The Serpentine Muse 22, no. 3 (2006): 12-16.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2474. ———. "Domestic Violence in Late Victorian England as Depicted in Two Cases of Sherlock Holmes." The Serpentine Muse 23, no. 4 (2007): 17-23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2475. ———. "Dr. John H. Watson, the Mystery Man of the Canon." The Serpentine Muse 23, no. 2 (2007): 14-16.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2476. ———. "Fred Porlock: His True Identity and Related Issues." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 27, no. 4 (2006): 150-151.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2477. ———. "The Operatic Roles of Irene Adler." The Serpentine Muse 21, no. 4 (2005): 19-23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2478. ———. "The Solution to the Long Island Cave Mystery." The Serpentine Muse 22, no. 1 (2005): 20-24.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2479. ———. "The Strange Tongue of the Mulatto of Wisteria Lodge: A Linguistic Investigation of the Mulatto's Speech." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 2 (1994): 75-81.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Some thoughts and observations on the unnamed mulatto who appears in this tale.
2480. Bowen, Richard. "Further Lessons in Baritsu." The Ritual, no. 20 (1997): 22-26.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2481. Boyce, Duncan. "Enough, already, with the questions Just kidding Your phone calls are appreciated . . . mostly." Toronto Star (Toronto, Ont.), no. (1994): B1.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Unknown reference to Doyle or Holmes. "...One of the most romantic places (to me anyway) is the Le St. Tropez Bar-Grill, 315 Queen St. W....Q: I'm sitting at the bar right now and I've bet the bar tab on whether . . . It's usually a question about TV trivia from the early '60s or even harder to check, the 1940s....There's a hard-core group of trivia fans out there who can't rest until they find out how many times Spock fell in love (and the name of each episode) or what Mr. Bojangles' real name was. When their trivia reference guide and memories fail, they tend to call The Star."
2482. Boyd, Kelly. "Reviews." Contemporary British History 21, no. 3 (2007): 389-403.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews several books including "Relocating Britishness" Manchester University Press, 2004 275 pp., ISBN 0 7190 7026 0 (GBP50.00). Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Chapman and Hilton explore the meaning of several popular fictional creations who radiate Britishness: Sherlock Holmes, Bulldog Drummond, The Saint and James Bond. All embodied stereotypes which reflected certain aspects of male middle-class Britishness...."
2483. Boyd, Martin. "Fictional fiddlers." Strad 107, no. 1273 (1996): 514.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses the portrayal of violinists and violins in literature, with multiple references to Holmes and Doyle.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2484. Boyer, Rick. A Sherlockian quartet. Alexander, NC, New York: Alexander Books. Distributed to the trade by Midpoint Trade Books, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 99062051. Contents: The adventure of Zolnay the Aerialist -- The adventure of Bell Rock light -- The adventure of the Eyrie cliff -- The giant rat of Sumatra //
2485. Boyer, Rick, and Yves-Charles Fercoq. Le rat géant de Sumatra, (Collection Sherlock Holmes). Paris: Éd. Mycroft's brother, Impr. Jouve, 2003.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill., 21 cm. Translated by Yves-Charles Fercoq. //
2486. Boyer, Skip. "The Masonic Game is Afoot: Was Sherlock Holmes a Brother?" Shoso-In Bulletin 12, no. (2002): 98-101.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2487. Boyle, Maryann. "'Should I Ever Marry ...': A Speculation on the Year 1896." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 45, no. 4 (1995): 204-209.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2488. Brackin, Ronald E. "In the Wake of the Lone Star." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 23, no. 3 (1997): 83-86.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2489. Bradbury, Ray. Dinosaur tales. New York: Barnes & Noble, 1996.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Jul 1996 // "A fine collection of stories by Ray Bradbury, illustrated by Gahan Wilson, Steranko, and others; the book was first published by Byron Preiss in 1983, and is now available in a new edition. Bradbury dedicated the book to Willis O'Brien, 'who animated the beasts in 'The Lost World' in 1925, and so changed my life, forever.' Ray Harryhausen tells in his foreword of seeing the same film when he was five; he worked with Bradbury on 'The Beast from 20,000 Fathoms' (based on the story 'The Fog Horn', which is included in the book.)"
2490. ———. "The Finnegan." Fantasy & Science Fiction 91, no. 4/5 (1996): 109.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents the short story 'The Finnegan,' by Ray Bradbury, about a giant spider. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Soon after, Sir Robert Merriweather, pretender to the throne of Sherlock Holmes but modestly refusing the claim, moved through the ten dozen doors of his antique house to come forth to search for this terrible thief of life...."
2491. Bradford, James C. "The Missing Link: Expeditionary Logistics." Naval History 20, no. 1 (2006): 54-61.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Perhaps most significant for the history of expeditionary warfare -- like the failure of Sherlock Holmes' dog to bark in the night -- is the lack of evidence that either the Army or the Navy studied the problems that beset the forces sent to Russia in order to find lessons for the conduct of similar expeditionary warfare in the future...."
2492. Bradley, Alan, and William A. S. Sarjeant. "The Woman." Baker Street West 1 1, no. 2 (1995): 6-10.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2493. Bradley, Alan et al. "Remembering W. A. S. (Bill) Sarjeant." Canadian Holmes 26, no. 2 (2002): 14-20.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2494. Bradley, C. Alan, and William A. S. Sarjeant. Ms. Holmes of Baker Street the truth about Sherlock. 2nd ed. Edmonton: University of Alberta Press, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references (p. 191-194) and index // "With a new introduction by Barbara Roden. When their book was first published 15 years ago, the authors' careful and well-written examination of evidence that Holmes was female, twice pregnant, and possibly once a mother, was met with outrage from critics who apparently had never heard John Bennett Shaw explain that the one thing Sherlockians should be serious about is not taking themselves seriously."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2495. Bradley, Paul, and Pamela Bradley. "The case of the missing lawyer (as if anyone cares), with apologies (this time) to Sir Arthur Conan Doyle." Medical education 36, no. 12 (2002): 1155-1159.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a short story related to medical education, with reference to Doyle and Holmes.
2496. Bradway, Jeffry Alan. "Author or Agent: A Literary Proof." The Holmes & Watson Report 1, no. 3 (1997): 5-6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2497. ———. "The Curious Coincidence of the Bogus Laundry Affairs." The Holmes & Watson Report 2, no. 5 (1998): 21-24.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2498. Bradway, Jeffrey A. "The Problem of Greville's Threat." Baker Street West 1 6, no. 2 (2000): 11-16.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2499. ———. "Siblings or Spouses? Dartmoor Couple Exposed." The Serpentine Muse 22, no. 2 (2006): 8-9.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2500. Bradway, Jeffry Alan. "'That Was No American! or The French Connection'." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 45, no. 3 (1995): 175-183.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2501. Bradway, Jeffrey A. "A Toast to Dr. Watson." The Serpentine Muse 24, no. 1 (2007): 8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2502. Bradway, Jeffry Alan. "Upon the True Provenance of Sherlock Holmes's Stradivarius." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 46, no. 3 (1996): 30-33.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2503. Brady, James. "Brady's Bunch." Advertising Age 73, no. 6 (2002): 38-38.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Comments on current events relating to media, with a reference to Holmes.
"...How delicious. That know-it-all Bill Safire in The New York Times of Jan. 24 got an entire column out of the Sherlock Holmes line about the curious incident of 'the dog in the night time' (which didn't bark) in the story of 'Silver Blaze.' Mr. Safire then informed readers the dog was named 'Silver Blaze.' The dog, to my knowledge, and perhaps even to Holmes', had no name. 'Silver Blaze' was a racehorse...."
2504. ———. "Derisive snickers from Europe." Advertising Age 76, no. 40 (2005): 50-50.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents news briefs on the advertising industry as of October 2005. Includes a reference to Doyle and Holmes. "...London's Times did a two-page expose suggesting Sherlock Holmes' creator, Conan Doyle, plagiarized 'Hound of the Baskervilles' from Daily Express Editor Fletcher Robinson and may have bumped Fletcher off, 'with a massive dose of laudanum,' in 1907. Fleet Street strikes again!..."
2505. Brady, Lois Smith. "Love at Last!" Good Housekeeping 230, no. 2 (2000): 90.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents four happy brides and how they met their match. Includes a reference to Holmes. "...No one thought Mike Riezenman, now 59, would ever get married. He had many passions-- Sherlock Holmes, Gilbert and Sullivan, wry jokes, and Chinese food--but domesticity was not one of them...."
2506. Brady, Michael J. "The Case of the Missing Bridge." Shoso-In Bulletin 14, no. (2004): 14-18.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2507. ———. "The Inspiration for the Boy Scouts: Sherlock Holmes, Wiggins and The Baker Street Irregulars." Shoso-In Bulletin 8, no. (1998): 78-89.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2508. ———. "The Irish Civil War of 1914 In reference to His Last Bow." Shoso-In Bulletin 7, no. (1997): 39-44.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2509. ———. "Philosophy 110 Critical Thinking With a Sherlockian Twist." Shoso-In Bulletin 10, no. (2000): 138-148.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2510. ———. "The Reverend Williamson: Precursor of Modern Day Troubles." Shoso-In Bulletin 9, no. (1999): 32-37.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2511. ———. "Sherlock Holmes The Father of Modern Critical Thinking." Shoso-In Bulletin 11, no. (2001): 121-126.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2512. Bragg, Michael E. "A Few Trivial Reflections on 'The Adventure of the Speckled Band'." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (1994): 12-13.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2513. Braham, Persephone. "Violence and patriotism: La novela negro from Chester Himes to Paco Ignacio Taibo II." Journal of American Culture 20, no. 2 (1997): 159.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents information focusing on the violence and patriotism within Mexico. Endnote 4 contains a reference to Doyle. "The historic construction of the detective story as an exercise in logic is usually based on analyses of Edgar Allen Poe's detective, C. Auguste Dupin, while the emphasis on empiricism is usually attributed to Arthur Conan Doyle...."
2514. Braid, Barbara. "Review--The Pip Anniversary." The Ritual, no. 11 (1993): 23-25.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2515. Brainard, Dulcy. "Forecast: Mystery." Publishers Weekly 241, no. 8 (1994): 236.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'The Game is Afoot: Parodies, Pastiches and Ponderings of Sherlock Holmes,' edited by Marvin Kaye.
2516. Brainard, Dulcy, and Sybil Steinberg. "Forecasts: Fiction." Publishers Weekly 244, no. 47 (1997): 57.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Mentions the release of two mystery books for December 1997. 'The Mammoth Book of New Sherlock Holmes Adventure,' by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle; 'The Clark Gable and Carol Lombard Murder Case,' by George Baxt.
2517. Bramham, Peter. "Hard and Disappearing Work: Making Sense of the Leisure Project." Leisure Studies 25, no. 4 (2006): 379-390.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article discusses the difficulty of scholarly attempts to provide authoritative commentary on the development and trajectory of leisure studies. When traditional disciplines specialize or subdivide, academics generally cooperate and knowledge production and dissemination follow traditional lines. When a new field of study is formed by academics from different disciplinary backgrounds, knowledge generation is fiercely contested and more politicised and marginalised. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...The four stages in the leisure project and their distinctive research questions have not been resolved. In the words of Sherlock Holmes, there are strange anomalies, 'curious incidents' of dogs that do not bark in the night...."
2518. Brandon, Ruth. The life and many deaths of Harry Houdini. 1st ed. New York: Random House, 1993.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 94004080. Includes bibliographical references and index //
2519. ———. The life and many deaths of Harry Houdini. London: Secker & Warburg, 1993.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: gb 93052655. Includes bibliographical references (p. 327-330) and index //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2520. Brandreth, Gyles Daubeney. Oscar Wilde and the candlelight murders. London: John Murray, 2007.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2521. Brandt, D. Scott. "1997 Buyer's Guide and Consultant Directory." Computers in Libraries 17, no. 7 (1997): 40.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a buyer's guide and consultant directory of automated library products.
Includes listing for E-Codex--The Complete Works of Arthur Conan-Doyle, Insight Engineering.
2522. Braus, Patricia. "Strokes and the South." American Demographics 20, no. 5 (1998): 26.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents statistical information on the percentage of death risk from stroke in the Southern part of the United States. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...The failure to find a satisfactory explanation for the stroke belt has driven researchers to speculate. 'It's sort of like Sherlock Holmes. If all the common things have been discussed, you look at the uncommon things,' says Howard...."
2523. Bray, Christopher. "Is there anybody there?" New Statesman 137, no. 4900 (2008): 58-59.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "Servants of the Supernatural: the Night Side of the Victorian Mind," by Antonio Melechi. Includes a reference to Doyle. "...Meanwhile, in the decidedly less pious London of the 1870s, the conjuror John Nevil Maskelyne had his work cut out for him convincing people the mediums were talking hooey. You might be able to replicate their miracles, he was told, but that doesn't mean the spiritualists get their effects the same way. A few years later, no less a figure than Sir Arthur Conan Doyle - who in the shape of Sherlock Holmes was creating one of the enduring emblems of the rationalist enlightenment -- would be a sucker for the sorcerers. His friend Harry Houdini had an explanation for every huckster's hocus-pocus, but Doyle was having none of it. His wife was dead and he needed to believe there were people who could help him commune with her...."
2524. Bredin, Hugh. "Onomatopoeia as a Figure and a Linguistic Principle." New Literary History 27, no. 3 (1996): 555-569.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a reference to Doyle and Holmes. "...Who has not experienced a frisson of horror at learning that Arthur Conan Doyle considered naming his detective Sheridan Holmes?..."
2525. Breeden, John, II. "Awakened: The Game Is Afoot." The Washington Post, October 19, 2007: WE53.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "It has been a while since Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's famous detective, Sherlock Holmes, and his loyal sidekick, Dr. Watson, have solved mysteries on our computer screens. In Sherlock Holmes: The Awakened, they battle unholy minions created by another famous writer, Howard Phillips Lovecraft, including the elder god Cthulhu and the crazy cultists who worship him. Fans of either writer should feel at home. Holmes is top-notch at solving mysteries with attitude, and the Lovecraft angle makes the game creepy. The Awakened, played in first person, features extremely good-looking 3-D environments....The game features traditional puzzles...; physical puzzles...; and even the analysis of chemicals and other substances in Holmes's laboratory....Combining the worlds of two great writers into one game is ingenious. And although at first they don't seem to go together, it ultimately works."
2526. Breese, James. "Your Money: Focus On; a Study in Scarlet Treasure Hunters." Sunday Mirror, June 1, 2008: 46.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "A book handed in to a branch of Oxfam in Harrogate has just gone under the hammer for a small fortune. What made it so desirable was the special connection to Sherlock Holmes. However, it is not a mystery why the book made so much....The book in which the story first appeared - Samuel Beeton's Christmas Annual 1887 - is thought to be one of the most desirable titles for collectors of fine fiction. There are rarer editions that have commanded over pounds 50,000 in the past. Only a handful of these are thought to exist."
2527. Breit, William, and Kenneth G. Elzinga. "Economics as detective fiction." The Journal of Economic Education 33, no. 4 (2002): 367-376.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes multiple references to Doyle and Holmes. "Almost all good economic analysis is structured like classical detective fiction. This relationship goes well beyond the obvious fact that both detective fiction and economic analysis involve puzzles. The economist's epistemology, presented in the form of scientific narratives, runs parallel to the puzzle-solving processes of the mastermind sleuth presented in the form of fictional narratives. The family resemblance between economic analysis and the classic whodunit becomes even more transparent by noticing another important characteristic they share: the concept of equilibrium. Examples chosen from recent economic literature bring the argument into sharper focus. In each instance, the solution to the puzzles that lie at the heart of their respective domains must be ingenious and surprising in order to be persuasive."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2528. Breitman, Gregory, and Benjamin Block. The marriage of Sherlock Holmes. 1st separate ed, (Mysterious Sherlock Holmes). New York: Mysterious Bookshop, 1999.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Added Title: Beau book //

2529. Bremner, Charles. "A mademoiselle Maigret." The Times (London), Dec 7, 1994: 16.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "In the mid 1970s, women graduates were finally allowed to compete in the tough examinations for the high-flyer level of entry, at commissaire level, and Mlle Monteil, with a law degree, was one of the few selected. At the Quai des Orfevres (the PJ headquarters) lots of the old inspectors when I joined remembered me as a kid, she says. She worked her way up from local officer to a senior job at the Stupes, or drug squad, and then, in 1989, to the head of la Mondaine, the old name for the prostitution squad, a fixture of Paris folklore.; She is, she says, a devoted detective. I am a complete fan of the PJ, everything that's Sherlock Holmes, she says. I couldn't conceive of the police any other way. Others prefer the intelligence side or keeping public order. What I love is the investigation. It means starting out with a jigsaw puzzle, a body, and working backwards. You have to put together the pieces, follow people around. It's a hunt and it's up to you to be sly and have flair and intuition, which all makes it impossible to get bored...."

2530. Brenchley, Fred, and Elizabeth Brenchley. "Gallipoli's deep secret." Australian Geographic, no. 89 (2008): 60-69.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article presents information on the Royal Australian Navy submarine AE2, which is 73 meters below the surface of the Sea of Marmara ever since the Gallipoli, Turkey invasion in the World War I. All crew members of the submarine died in the invasion. The invasion took place on the night of April 24, 1915. AE2 created history by being the first submarine to penetrate the Dardanelles underwater as well as the first Australian Navy vessel to attack an enemy warship. The AE2 story is the story of the passion of three men including the Lieutenant Commander Dacre Stoker. Before conceding defeat, Stoker and the AE2 harassed Turkish shipping by firing off pot shots, frightening fishing boats and generally getting out the message that Marmara was no longer a Turkish lake. Article inset, "The Forgotten Crew," includes a passing reference to Holmes. "Prison life had its brighter moments. Inmates organised entertainment such as plays, and it was acting in the POW camp that inspired Stoker to start a successful stage and film career after the war. Through the 1920s and '30s, he carved out a career in niche character roles on stage (left) and film, playing the professional, whether officer, doctor or even Watson to Sherlock Holmes. In a late 1930s movie he played the part of a British naval captain ordering his crew to abandon ship under German fire -- a role he knew only too well."

2531. Brend, Gavin. My dear Holmes a study in Sherlock, (Otto Penzler's Sherlock Holmes library). New York: O. Penzler Books, 1994.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 93042878 //

2532. Brennan, Bonaventure R. S. M. It commenced with two: the story of Mary Ann Doyle, first companion of Catherine McAuley. Dublin: Sisters of Mercy, 2001.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Jul 2002. // "The Doyles were an interesting family. James and Catherine Tynan Doyle of Dublin had six children, one of them the artist John Doyle (the grandfather of Arthur Conan Doyle); another was a daughter, Anna Maria Doyle, who isn't mentioned in any of biographies of Sir Arthur. But his grand-aunt now has her own biography....Anna Maria was born in Dublin in 1801; she met Catherine McAuley in 1827, and they became nuns in 1831, Anna Maria taking the name Sister Mary Ann. She helped found the Sisters of Mercy, and served the poor in Ireland until her death in 1866."

2533. Brennan, Mary Kate. "Betty Jane Kraemer." The Serpentine Muse 23, no. 2 (2007): 7.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2534. Brereton, Matt. "Review: Sherlock Holmes : Murder in the Garden." The Scotsman, August 21, 2007: 11.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "For sheer perseverance in the face of appalling weather, the cast of this promenade play almost earned an extra star. It was certainly an enthusiastic effort from Frantic Redhead Productions, but, rather than investigating the less-than-baffling murder here, Sherlock Holmes would have been better employed in the strange case of the dodgy Scottish accents and the erratic wardrobe master."
2535. Brett, Jeremy. "Message to the Musgraves." The Ritual, no. 16 (1995): 23-27.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2536. Brett, Simon. "Return to Baker Street." Daily Mail (London), October 31, 2003: 58.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "I hadn't touched a copy of The Hound Of The Baskervilles since my schooldays. I had enjoyed it then - which was surprising, since it was an O- level set text - but to reread the book recently was unalloyed pleasure. I was once again immediately immersed in the ghoulish, misty shadows of Dartmoor, and in Sherlock Holmes's race against time to save the new heir to Baskerville Hall from the ghastly fate which had destroyed his predecessors. But while I was reading, I was also deeply struck by how much Conan Doyle had got right by the time this Sherlock Holmes adventure was published in 1902, and by how much his creation has influenced all subsequent crime fiction...."
2537. Brieady, Joan. "Beekeeper." The Serpentine Muse 15, no. 4 (1999): inside front cover.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2538. ———. "The Consultant." The Serpentine Muse 15, no. 2 (1999): inside front cover.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2539. ———. "Violin." The Serpentine Muse 16, no. 1 (1999): inside rear cover.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2540. ———. "Waterfall." The Serpentine Muse 16, no. 3 (2000): inside front cover.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2541. Briefel, Aviva. "Hands of Beauty, Hands of Horror: Fear and Egyptian Art at the Fin de Siècle." Victorian Studies 50, no. 2 (2008): 263-271.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This essay examines the gothicization of Egyptian manual productions in late-Victorian mummy narratives. Includes a reference to Doyle. "...Victorian observers were fascinated by the intricate manual labor required to eviscerate, embalm, and adorn the body and ornament its sarcophagus and various accoutrements. When a group of Oxford scholars in Arthur Conan Doyle's short story 'Lot No. 249' (1894) discovers a mummy, one of them expresses his admiration for the embalmer's skill: 'A very conscientious worker he must have been. I wonder how many modern works will survive four thousand years?'....I want to suggest that the aesthetic horror of the hand in mummy narratives emanates from its ambiguous position as an artifact that is itself a source of production. The hand reminds its viewers both of the impressive (and now obsolete) manual craftsmanship that produced it and of the hand's own creative capacities. It is a human-made thing that exhibits its own ability to make. As one of the characters in Conan Doyle's 'Lot No. 249' observes regarding the mummy, 'Perhaps these very hands helped to build the stones into the pyramids'...."
2542. ———. "Sacred Objects/Illusory Idols: The Fake in Freud's 'The Moses of Michelangelo'." American Imago 60, no. 1 (2003): 21-40.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reference to Doyle and Holmes in note 4. "For a further discussion of the analogy between the techniques of connoisseurship and psychoanalysis, see Ginzburg (1989, 96-125). Ginzburg compares the methods of three of the most famous 'detectives' of the period, Freud, Morelli, and Arthur Conan Doyle's Sherlock Holmes. He writes that, in 'The Cardboard Box' (1892), Holmes 'morellizes' to Watson when he is faced with a case involving severed ears sent by mail to an innocent woman: 'Each ear is as a rule quite distinctive, and differs from the other ones. . . . I had, therefore, examined the ears in the box with the eyes of

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

an expert, and had carefully noted their anatomical peculiarities. Imagine my surprise then, when, on looking at Miss Cushing, I perceived that her ear corresponded exactly with the female ear which I had just inspected. . . . There was the same shortening of the pinna, the same broad curve of the upper lobe, the same convolution of the inner cartilage' (quoted in Ginzburg 1989, 98)...."

2543. Brieger, Gert H. "Bodies and Borders: A New Cultural History of Medicine." Perspectives in Biology and Medicine 47, no. 3 (2004): 402-421.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes reference to Doyle. "...Furst compares these novels with British counterparts (including a story by Arthur Conan Doyle), all published at about the same time....Laura Otis, who turned from graduate work in the neurosciences to literary studies, became intrigued by physicians who not only wrote about their medical or scientific work but also wrote fiction. She discusses the work of Ramon Y. Cajal, S. Weir Mitchell, Arthur Conan Doyle, and Arthur Schnitzler...."
2544. Briggs, Asa. "Victorian Culture and the Idea of the Grotesque (Book)." Literature & History 11, no. 2 (2002): 121.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'Victorian Culture and the Idea of the Grotesque,' edited by Colin Trodd, Paul Barlow and David Amigoni. Includes a passing reference to Holmes.
2545. Briggs, Maribeau. "King of Wines, and Wine of Kings." Cliff Notes on Mrs. Hudson's Cliffdwellers 2, no. 2 (2000): 14.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2546. ———. "Marilyn (Lynn) Willis." The Serpentine Muse 15, no. 3 (1999): 4-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2547. Briggs, Pamela Beere, and Natalie Cole. "Women of Mystery." American Libraries 34, no. 10 (2003): 44-47.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents information on the film "Women of Mystery: Three Writers Who Forever Changed Detective Fiction," completed by filmmakers Pamela Beere Briggs and William McDonald and librarian Natalie Cole. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "... I remember seeking fun-to-read, engaging mystery fiction following my graduation from college in 1980, but all I found were the books I had already read as a teenager: Sherlock Holmes, Miss Marple, and thrillers. By the time Sara Paretsky's and Sue Grafton's books first appeared in 1982, I had given up my search and gone on to other kinds of books and then to graduate film school, where my schedule no longer allowed any time to read fiction...."
2548. Briggs, Thomas H., Charles Madison Curry, and Leonidas Warren Payne, Jr. Literature For the Junior High School. Vol. 3. Chicago/New York/San Francisco: Rand McNally & Company, 1929.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The Adventure of the Blue Carbuncle" is on pp. 507-528.
2549. Brimacombe, Peter. "A walk on the wildside." In Britain 4, no. 2: 10.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Features the Dartmoor National Park in England, with a passing reference to Doyle. "...This menacing legend was the inspiration for Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's Hound of the Baskervilles, partially written in the Duchy Hotel at Princetown, now the High Moorland Visitor Centre...."
2550. Bringnull, Alyson. "Review--Travels With Sherlock." The Ritual, no. 22 (1998): 60-61.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2551. Brisben, J. Quinn. "Spinning wheels of home." Progressive 58, no. 11 (1994): 40.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book Women's Work, the First 20,000 Years: Women, Cloth, and Society in Early Times, by Elizabeth Wayland Barber. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Like Sherlock Holmes, she repeatedly makes brilliant deductions from evidence that previous students have seen but not observed...."
2552. British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC). BBC radio presents sampler: Bantam Doubleday Dell Audio Pub., 1999. Sound Recording (cassette) 1 sound cassette (ca. 60 min.).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Dolby system. BBD Audio. //

2553. Britt, Leone. "Terror Australis Incognito." Meanjin 64, no. 1/2 (2005): 233-242.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents the short story "Terror Australis Incognito," by Leone Britt. Unknown reference to Doyle or Holmes.
2554. Brocklebank, Jonathan. "What price Conan Doyle? An elementary GBP250,000." Daily Mail (London), June 7, 2008: 41.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The slim volume contains only 28 pages and the story told on them is far from the author's most celebrated. But the 97-year-old manuscript in Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's own meticulous hand went on sale yesterday for [pounds]250,000. The short story, The Disappearance of Lady Frances Carfax, is one of 56 Sherlock Holmes mysteries written by the Edinburgh-born author, but manuscripts in his handwriting are rare and highly prized. The tale comes a long way down the list of favourite Sherlock Holmes adventures but experts say the handwritten text with pencilled corrections gives a fascinating insight into the working methods of the prolific author. Conan Doyle had the volume bound for himself in 1911, although the story was not seen by the public until it was serialised in the pages of The Strand magazine. It was later published in a collection of Sherlock Holmes short stories entitled His Last Bow. The book went on sale at the Antiquarian Book Fair in London with a price tag of [pounds]250,000 - but vendor Alex Hime, from Beverly Hills, California, said he might be prepared to consider a small reduction to a good customer...."
2555. Brodie, Brian S. "Bookshelf' Review of The Parlour Games of Sherlock Holmes." Canadian Holmes 21, no. 1 (1997): 45.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2556. ———. "Reverberations." Canadian Holmes 28, no. 1 (2004): 3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2557. Brodie, Brian S., and Mark Alberstat. "Bookshelf' Reviews of The Case Files of Sherlock Holmes: The Speckled Band and Shades of Sherlock." Canadian Holmes 21, no. 3 (1998): 46-47.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2558. Brodie, Robert, and Warren Randall. The log of the "Gloria Scott" the practical book of Sherlock Holmes with some observations upon the segregation of the irregular. Shelburne, Ont, Sauk City, Wisconsin: Battered Silicon Dispatch Box, 1998.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2559. Brody, Howard. "Book review--'Conan Doyle's Tales of Medical Humanism and Values,' edited by Alvin E. Rodin and Jack D. Key." Baker Street Miscellanea, no. 70 (1992): 35-37.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2560. ———. "Good Old What-Do-You-Call-Him: The Watson/Doctor Problem and the Evolution of a Literary Friendship." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 52, no. 1 (2002): 33-36.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2561. Brogaard, Berit O. "Peirce on Abduction and Rational Control." Transactions of the Charles S. Peirce Society 35, no. 1 (1999): 129.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Highlights Charles Peirce's abduction theory as a form of reasoning distinct from deduction and induction. Includes references to Holmes.
2562. ———. "Span operators." Analysis 67, no. 1 (2007): 72-79.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article discusses the use of span operators in tensed statements. Span operators, a type of tense operator, are discussed in regards to presentism and eternalism. David Lewis has claimed that span operators cause problems for presentists. This author believes that presentist can use span operators to address ambiguities in sentences with embedded contradictions. Includes passing references to

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Doyle and Holmes (p. 75). "...However, the standard modal operators do not exhaust the realm of intensional operators to which the span operators could be likened. Story prefixes, such as according to the Conan Doyle stories, are hyperintensional: the intension of 'according to the Conan Doyle stories, Sherlock Holmes lives on Baker Street' is not a function of the intension of 'Sherlock Holmes lives on Baker Street'. The former expresses a (complete) proposition, the latter does not. The presentist who likens her span operators to story prefixes can thus wholeheartedly buy into their hyperintensionality...."

2563. ———. "Two Modal-isms: Fictionalism and Ersatzism." Philosophical Perspectives 20, no. 1 (2006): 77-94.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article offers information on two modalisms, which are fictionalism and ersatzism. Ersatzism or ersatz modal realism is a bundle of views which have in common the fact that they deny that there is plurality of concrete worlds. Fictionalism is a collection of views denying that there is a plurality of concrete worlds. Charges against the modalisms are discussed. Includes passing references to Doyle and Holmes. "...Talk of merely possible worlds and their inhabitants is to be treated on a par with talk of fictional objects, such as Sherlock Holmes. Both kinds of talk are literally untrue but true according to a certain fiction. For example, it is literally false, but true in the Conan Doyle stories, that there is a brilliant detective at 221b Baker Street....Fictionalism, as Gideon Rosen originally formulated it, maintains that modal claims can be explicated in terms of talk of possible worlds. But rather than taking possible world talk at face value, fictionalists treat it on a par with talk of fictional objects, such as Sherlock Holmes. Both kinds of talk are untrue but true according to a certain fiction. For example, it is literally false, but true in the Conan Doyle stories, that there is a brilliant detective at 221b Baker Street...."
2564. Brogdon, Philip R. A poetical tribute to Baker Street. 1st ed. Shelburne, Ont, Sauk City, Wisconsin: Battered Silicon Dispatch Box, 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references //
2565. ———. Sherlock in black: being profiles of past and present real life black Sherlockians. Toronto: Metropolitan Toronto Reference Library, 1995.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references //
2566. Bromley, Carl. "In the Lost Realm of the Real. (Cover story)." Nation 286, no. 22 (2008): 26-32.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the books "Vendetta" and "Dirty Tricks" by Michael Dibdin. Includes passing references to Doyle 2567. Bronaugh, Whit. "Looking for Georgia's Lost Franklina." American Forests 113, no. 4 (2008): 30-33.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article presents the author's experience of searching for the Franklina plant in North America. Includes passing references to Holmes. "...The search for something lost or unknown is always powered by an engine of hope, based on a mixture of fact, faith, and fantasy, whether you are Sherlock Holmes or Ponce de Leon. When I first researched and considered this quest, Sherlock shook his head. But when I read, 'Perhaps wild specimens will be rediscovered,' in my field guide. Ponce pushed me out the door...."
2568. Brons, Martijn R. E., Henri L. F. De Groot, and Peter Nijkamp. "Growth Effects of Governmental Policies: A Comparative Analysis in a Multi-Country Context." Growth & Change 31, no. 4 (2000): 547.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a reference to Holmes in the notes: McAleer, M. 1994. Sherlock Holmes and the search for truth: A diagnostic tale, Journal of Economic Surveys 8:327-351.
2569. Brooke, Bob. "A Lost World." Hispanic 12, no. 9 (1999): 92.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a travel guide to Camp Canaima in Venezuela, with a passing reference to Doyle. "If you dream about a lost island filled with exotic plants and animals, it may be because you're on your way to Angel Falls deep in the Guayana Highlands of southeastern Venezuela. After all, it inspired Sir Arthur Conan Doyle to write The Lost World, a novel about a South American mountain peak populated by dinosaurs...."
2570. Brookhiser, Richard. "Acts of Mercy." National Review 60, no. 15 (2008): 58-58.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The author reflects on health workers in his neighborhood who work at a dialysis outpatient facility. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Researchers interrogate the life force for cures; physicians strain to apply knowledge to the mysteries of specific cases (in his profession, every Dr. Watson is a Sherlock Holmes); and the men and women on the sidewalk draw the blood, take the pulse, push the gurneys, and check the drips...."

2571. ———. "The Final Analysis." National Review 50, no. 22 (1998): 41-44.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article focuses on the Culture and Conflict show which featured the works of artist Sigmund Freud, on view in Washington D.C. in 1998. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...This is not just offering explanations in the manner of Sherlock Holmes...."

2572. Brooks, Robert. The Solar Pons encyclopedia. Toronto: Metropolitan Toronto Reference Library, 1996.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Feb 1997 //

2573. Brooks, Walter R, and Kurt Wiese. Freddy the detective. New York: Overlook Press, 1997.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 97010214 // Freddy the pig does some detective work in order to solve the mystery of a missing toy train 2574. Broster, D. K., and M. Croom Brown. The questionable parentage of Basil Grant. Ashcroft, B.C.: Calabash Press, 2004.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- geneal. tbl. ; 22 cm. Front cover: by R. Bostoun Cromer. "'The Questionable parentage of Basil Grant' was first published in The Monthly Review, July 1905. It appeared under the byline 'R. Bostoun Cromer'." Scuttlebutt Feb 2004. // As detectives Lang and Logan try to discover the family history of their twin-brother clients, an unexpected visitor, the sister of Mycroft and Sherlock Holmes, provides the necessary but startling facts they need. "A wide-ranging literary parody, written by D. K. Broster and M. Croom Brown and published under a pseudonym, and Andrew Lang, Arthur Conan Doyle, Robert Louis Stevenson, and G. K. Chesterton are only a few of the authors who works are parodied."

2575. Brottman, Mikita. "Nutty Professors." The Chronicle of Higher Education, no. (2005): B7.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "Ask anybody what adjective goes best with the word 'professor,' and the answer will almost certainly be 'absent-minded,' or possibly 'nutty.' Popular culture is full of addlebrained academics, whether they be villainous madmen like Professor Morbius in Forbidden Planet or Sherlock Holmes's archenemy Professor Moriarty; crazy cranks like Professor Emmett Brown in Back to the Future, or well-meaning but harebrained eccentrics like Professor Brainard in The Absent-Minded Professor, Professor Branestawm in Norman Hunter's children's television series, Professor Pat Pending in the Hanna Barbera cartoon Wacky Races, or Professor Dumbledore of Harry Potter fame...."

2576. Brotton, Jerry. The sale of the late King's goods Charles I and his art collection. London: Macmillan, 2006.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2006445054. Includes bibliographical references and index // Possibly of interest for those investigating aspects of 'The Musgrave Ritual.'

2577. Brousch, John. "Cartoons." The Holmes & Watson Report 4, no. 6 (2001): 23-24, 38.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2578. ———. "Cartoons." The Holmes & Watson Report 5, no. 3 (2001): 4, 10, 24.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2579. ———. "Ships Ahoy!--Vessels Within the Canon." The Holmes & Watson Report 5, no. 1 (2001): 11-15.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2580. ———. "A Watson Nightmare." The Holmes & Watson Report 5, no. 5 (2001): 34.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2581. Brown, Allan. "The curious case of old Conan Doyle." Sunday Times (London), August 22, 2004: 4.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Observations on Doyle, Edinburgh, the fate of various Doyle papers, the Christie's auction, Richard Lancelyn Green, Owen Dudley Edwards, and Charles Foley.

2582. Brown, Barry S. The Unpleasantness at Parkerton Manor : a novel, (Mrs. Hudson of Baker Street series). Santa Fe: Sunstone Press, 2010.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2583. Brown, Craig. "Clued up; Avast tome that pores over every detail of Sherlock Holmes's life means you'll always be." Mail on Sunday (London), January 1, 2006: 59.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of The New Annotated Sherlock Holmes by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, edited with notes by Leslie S. Klinger. "...The Annotated Sherlock Holmes is a mad and magnificent undertaking: 3,500 beautiful pages, spread across three weighty volumes, containing every Sherlock Holmes story ever written, hundreds of apposite pictures, ranging from film stills to maps to contemporary illustrations, plus acres of witty and scholarly (and how rarely those two adjectives go together!) notes...."

2584. ———. "Winston Churchill? He never existed." The Scotsman, February 4, 2008: 13.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "He was one of Britain's greatest leaders: a man who guided the country through its darkest hour with iron determination and unshakeable resolve. But for a significant number of people nowadays, it seems Winston Churchill is merely a fictional figure who exists in films and books about history. This is one of the claims of a new survey that shows Britons may be starting to lose their grip on reality, with nearly one in four believing Churchill and Florence Nightingale are mythical figures, and more than half thinking the fictional detective Sherlock Holmes actually existed...."

2585. Brown, Donald E. "Human Nature and History." History & Theory 38, no. 4 (1999): 138.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Text and note include a reference to Holmes: Carlo Ginzburg, "Morelli, Freud and Sherlock Holmes: Clues and Scientific Method," History Workshop 9 (1980), 5-36.

2586. Brown, Douglas M. "CMCC's persistent pursuit of university affiliation Part III: the push for union with the University of Victoria, BC, 1988 to 1992." Journal of the Canadian Chiropractic Association 40, no. 2 (1996): 87.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Perhaps Sherlock Holmes could help to solve the mystery of who or what killed CMCC's changes to affiliate with University of Victoria...."

2587. Brown, Frederick. "The Typist." New Republic 217, no. 16 (1997): 32-36.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book "Simenon: A Biography," by Pierre Assouline and translated by Jon Rothschild. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...Under Henriette's jaundiced eye, he read novels voraciously, wolfing down much of Dumas, Dickens, Conrad, Arthur Conan Doyle, and Robert Louis Stevenson...."

2588. Brown, Geoff. "Arts." The Times (London), May 18, 2000: 2.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Brief review of "Sherlock Holmes and the Deadly Necklace," Orbit Screen Classics, 12, 1962. "'Sherlock Holmes, Detective,' says the nameplate above the Baker Street doorbell. Inside live Christopher Lee (just right for pipe, deerstalker and logical reasoning) and Thorley Walters's bumbling Dr Watson. But this is a German film, dubbed into English by unknown Americans, none of whom can pronounce Moriarty. The story is not canonical, but there's fun of a kind watching the hunt for an old necklace of Cleopatra's in a vaguely 1920s London...."

2589. Brown, Jeanette. "Gifts for Budding Astronomers." Astronomy 26, no. 12 (1998): 86.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Features gift suggestions for budding astronomers in the United States. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...The search for answers to these and other questions will make a little Sherlock Holmes of your child..."

2590. Brown, Jeff. The Sherlock Holmes book of magic. Colorado Springs, Colo: Piccadilly Books, 2000.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 00036684. Includes bibliographical references (p. 87).
Scuttlebutt Jul 2000 // "Offers explanations of almost 30 magic tricks, all related in some way to Holmes, Watson, or other Canonical characters (but if you're planning to put on a Sherlockian magic show, remember that everyone who has read the book will know what your secrets)."

2591. Brown, Kerry, Gerald Chan, Kenneth C. Walker, Michael Sheringham, J. E. Hoare, Reinhard Drifte, and David Secher. "East Asia." Asian Affairs 39, no. 1 (2008): 153-166.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews several books including Okamoto Kido, translated by Ian Macdonald. The Curious Casebook of Inspector Hanshichi: Detective Stories of Old Edo, University of Hawai'i Press, Honolulu, Hawai'i, 2007. pp. xxxvii þ 335. Bibliog. Notes. Map. Pb. $24. ISBN 9 7808 2483 1004. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "In Japan, the Hanshichi stories are well known and have retained their popularity since they first began to appear in 1916. The author, Okamoto Kido, was the son of a samurai, Okamoto Keinosuke, who worked for many years until his death in 1902 for the British Legation in Tokyo, and who arranged for his son to be taught English by the legation staff. Okamoto Kido began his career as a journalist but he always wanted to write for the kabuki theatre, and indeed achieved success in this field. But it was Inspector Hanshichi who really made his name. Although there are echoes of other detectives, including Sherlock Holmes, in the depiction of Hanshichi, what gives the stories their special flavour, as Ian Macdonald, the translator of this collection, points out in his introduction, is that the setting is wholly in pre-modern Japan, a world that was already remote by the time Hanshichi appeared in print...."
2592. Brown, K. C., and Wayside Theatre. Sherlock's veiled secret [program]. Middletown, Va.: Wayside Theatre, 1995.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2593. Brown, K. C., and Arne Zaslove. Sherlock's veiled secret. New York: Dramatists Play Service, 1996.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2594. Brown, Kent R., and Arthur Conan Doyle. The Hound of the Baskervilles : a comic thriller starring Shirley Holmes and Jennie Watson. Woodstock, IL: Dramatic Pub., 2010.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 19 cm. adapted and dramatized by Kent R. Brown ; inspired by the novel by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. // Sherlock Holmes and his faithful sidekick. Dr. John Watson, have left on an extended holiday throughout Europe, leaving their nieces--Shirley Holmes and Jennie Watson--to keep an eye on the famous flat at 221B Baker Street. Shirley, studying logic, and Jennie, studying medicine, are busy preparing for upcoming exams when there's a knock on the door ... Shirley and Jennie follow the trail of evidence and intrigue until, at last, they are confronted by the ravenous Hound itself!
2595. Brown, Lloyd W., Jr. "The Final Sting." The Holmes & Watson Report 3, no. 3 (1999): 43-58.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2596. ———. "The London Connection." The Holmes & Watson Report 4, no. 3 (2000): 39-48.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2597. ———. "Quiz--A Canonical Quiz on 'The Adventure of the Golden Pince-nez.'" The Holmes & Watson Report 3, no. 2 (1999): 34-35, 40.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2598. ———. "Quiz--A Canonical Quiz on 'The Adventure of the Norwood Builder.'" The Holmes & Watson Report 3, no. 5 (1999): 35-36, 40.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2599. ———. "A Toast Given at the Hansom Wheels." The Holmes & Watson Report 4, no. 3 (2000): 30-31.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2600. ———. "The Unfinished Unknown Sherlock Holmes." The Holmes & Watson Report 5, no. 5 (2001): 30-33.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2601. Brown, Richard. "More 'Sherlockholmesing' in Joyce's Ulysses." Notes & Queries 55, no. 1 (2008): 66-68.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A literary criticism of the book "Ulysses," by James Joyce is presented. It explores various references to the Sherlock Holmes stories of Arthur Conan Doyle surrounding the secret letter from Martha Clifford to "Ulysses'" hero Leopold Bloom in the 'Sirens' episode. The common theme of extra-martial indiscretions in 'Sirens' and the Sherlock Holmes stories in question is highlighted and the author attempts to trace the origins of Sherlock Holmes stories in Joyce's cultural framework.

2602. Brown, Rich, and Tricia Harris. "Quick Clips." PC Magazine 22, no. 9 (2003): 137.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents several computer games used in different parts of life. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Post Mortem (from the company that brought us last year's terrific adventure game Siberia) offers enough plot twists to keep the story interesting, and the beautiful graphics set the right mood. But you won't feel like Sherlock Holmes cracking this case; solve some mostly simple puzzles and you're done...."

2603. Browne, Ray B. "Book Reviews." Journal of American Culture 21, no. 3 (1998): 103.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book The Secret Marriage of Sherlock Holmes and Other Eccentric Readings, by Michael Atkinson.

2604. ———. "Dorothy Quick: Mark Twain's 'Little Fish.'" Journal of American & Comparative Cultures 23, no. 1 (2000): 35.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on the influence of writer Mark Twain on literary style of novelist Dorothy Quick in the United States. Overview of the book The Stolen White Elephant by Mark Twain with a passing reference to Holmes. "...Meanwhile, one detective, an obvious satire on Sherlock Holmes whom Twain envied and despised for his success, telegraphs from Monroe, Michigan, that he is on to some fresh tracks and will have the elephant back within a week...."

2605. ———. "The Triumph of the Thriller: How Cops, Crooks, and Cannibals Captured Popular Fiction by Patrick Anderson." Journal of American Culture 30, no. 3 (2007): 374-375.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "The Triumph of the Thriller: How Cops, Crooks, and Cannibals Captured Popular Fiction," by Patrick Anderson. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...Playing on the innate desire to solve puzzles--especially those as fundamental as murder and death--Poe and A. Conan Doyle invented the detective story. It was an immediate and lasting success...."

2606. Browne, Ray Broadus, and Lawrence A. Kreiser. The detective as historian : history and art in historical crime fiction. Bowling Green, OH: Bowling Green State University Popular Press, 2000.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 24 cm. Includes bibliographical references. Preface by Robin W. Winks. // "Sherlock Holmes and Arthur Conan Doyle are mentioned in essays by Judy Ann Ford ('Umberto Eco: The Name of the Rose') and by Gary Hoppenstand ('Elizabeth Peters: The Last Camel Died at Noon as Lost World Adventure Pastiche')."

2607. ———. The detective as historian : history and art in historical crime fiction. Vol. 2. Newcastle: Cambridge Scholars Publishing, 2007.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 22 cm. David Wishart: democratizing Roman culture through crime fiction / Ray B. Browne -- Rosemary Rowe: crime fiction chronicler of Roman Britain / Ray B. Browne -- Sharon Kay Penman: the plantagenets and the detective connection / Linda J. Holland-Toll -- Caroline Roe: Isaac the outsider / Christiane W. Luehrs, Robert B. Luehrs -- Sleuthing for the Union: the Civil War mysteries of Michael Kilian / Lawrence A. Kreiser, Jr. -- A murderous regiment of women / Jean Culp Flanigan -- Robin Paige and Dianne Day: The "new woman" detective / Jennifer S. Palmer -- Charles Todd: the guilt-ridden in pursuit of the guilty / Rita Rippetoe -- Barbara Hambly: and the mix of New Orleans / Donna B. Smith -- Margaret Coel: crime and history in the Arapaho world / Edward J. Rielly. // 2608. Browning, Abigail. Murder is no mitzvah. 1st ed. New York: Thomas Dunne Books/St. Martin's Minotaur, 2004.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2003062544. Contents: The bread of affliction / Michael Kahn -- Comes the revolution / Gregory Fallis -- A Sabbath flame / Ronald Levitsky -- The Rabbi and the Sorcerer / Russell William Asplund -- The Lipkin-Wexler affair / Louis Weinstein -- Kaddish / Batya Swift Yasgur -- Funny story / Larry Beinhart -- The Jew's breastplate / Arthur Conan Doyle -- Kaddish for the kid / Max Allan Collins -- Where does a Golem go? / Bernice F. Weiss -- Mom remembers / James Yaffee -- The Christmas mitzvah / Doug Allyn //

2609. Brownstein, Gabriel. The man from beyond: a novel. 1st ed. New York: W.W. Norton, 2005.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2005011982 // "Inspired by the complex relationship between Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, the celebrated author and champion of spiritualism, and Harry Houdini, the famed magician and escape artist, Brownstein's uneven first novel reimagines the consequences of the séance, held in 1922 after a chance meeting on the New Jersey shore, in which the spirit-writing Lady Doyle delivered a message from Houdini's late mother to her skeptical son. While the author does a good job of getting inside the heads of his two historical protagonists with their opposing philosophies, much of the story focuses on the admirable but less interesting 22-year-old Molly Goodman, an intrepid reporter who follows the two great men's activities. In a vivid scene, after Houdini barely escapes from a locked box under the Hudson far down river from where he was supposed to emerge, he realizes that, like Sherlock Holmes after surviving his struggle with Professor Moriarty at the Reichenbach Falls, everyone believes he's dead. After this delicious twist, however, the story rushes to a hasty climax involving an insufficiently developed villain. Brownstein's story collection, The Curious Case of Benjamin Button, Apt. 3W (2002), won the PEN/Hemingway Award. "

2610. Brtnik, Craig. "The Dying Detective: A Musical Interlude." Canadian Holmes 30, no. 1 (2006): 38-39.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2611. ———. "The Reigate Squires: A Musical Interlude." Canadian Holmes 29, no. 1 (2005): 24-25.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2612. ———. "The Second Stain: A Musical Interlude." Canadian Holmes 28, no. 1 (2004): 36-37.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2613. Bruccoli, Matthew J., and Richard Layman. Hardboiled mystery writers : Raymond Chandler, Dashiell Hammett, Ross Macdonald : a literary reference. 1st Carroll & Graf trade pbk. ed. New York: Carroll & Graf Publishers, 2002.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 26 cm. Includes bibliographical references and index. edited by Matthew J. Bruccoli and Richard Layman. // "The Sherlockian parody 'The South Sea Soup Company' (1931) was the first published story written by Kenneth Millar (aka Ross Macdonald);" reprinted in this volume.

2614. Bruce, Colin. Conned again, Watson! : cautionary tales of logic, math, and probability. New York: Basic Books, 2001.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21. The case of the unfortunate businessman -- The case of the gambling nobleman -- The case of the surprise heir -- The case of the ancient mariner -- The case of the unmarked graves -- The case of the Martian invasion -- Three cases of unfair preferment -- The execution of Andrews -- Three cases of relative honor -- The case of the poor observer -- The case of the perfect accountant -- Three cases of good intentions. Includes bibliographical references (p. 287) and index. // In these cautionary tales of greedy gamblers, reckless businessmen, and ruthless con men, Sherlock Holmes uses his deep understanding of probability, statistics, decision theory, and game theory to solve crimes and protect the innocent.

2615. ———. Conned again, Watson! : cautionary tales of logic, maths and probability. London: Vintage, 2002.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 20 cm. Includes bibliographical references and index. //

2616. ———. Conned again, Watson! cautionary tales of logic, math, and probability. Cambridge, Mass: Perseus Books, 2001.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: The case of the unfortunate businessman -- The case of the gambling nobleman -- The case of the surprise heir -- The case of the ancient mariner -- The case of the unmarked graves

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

-- The case of the Martian invasion -- Three cases of unfair preferment -- The execution of Andrews -- Three cases of relative honor -- The case of the perfect accountant -- Three cases of good intentions // In these cautionary tales of greedy gamblers, reckless businessmen, and ruthless con men, Sherlock Holmes uses his deep understanding of probability, statistics, decision theory, and game theory to solve crimes and protect the innocent

2617. ———. The Einstein paradox and other science mysteries solved by Sherlock Holmes, (Helix books). Reading, MA: Perseus Books, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 98087055 //
2618. ———. Elémentaire mon cher Watson! : douze enquêtes policières résolues grâce à la logique, aux mathématiques et aux probabilités. [Paris]: Flammarion, 2002.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Includes index. Conned again Watson! French. Traduit de l'anglais par Martine Devillers-Argouarc'h et Daniel Paget. //
2619. ———. Novas aventuras científicas de Sherlock Holmes : casos de lógica, matemática e probabilidade. Rio de Janeiro: Jorge Zahar Ed., 2003.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 23 cm. Tradução Helena Londres. Uniform Title: Conned again, Watson!: (cautionary tales of logic, math and probability). Portuguese. //
2620. ———. The strange case of Mrs. Hudson's cat and other science mysteries solved by Sherlock Holmes, (Helix books). Reading, MA: Addison-Wesley Pub, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 97006866 //
2621. ———. Su zi de xian jing : jie kai 12 ge shu xue de mi huo. Chu ban ed, (Next). Taibei Shi: Shi bao wen hua, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Uniform Title: Conned again, Watson! : cautionary tales of logic, math and probability. Chinese. Includes bibliographical references: p. 291-292. Kelin Bulusi zhu ; Sheng Fengshi yi. // 2622. Bruce, Colin, and Yukiko Fuse. Mata damasaretana watosun kun. Tokyo: Kadokawashoten, 2002.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 20 cm. Translation of Conned again, Watson! //
2623. Bruce, Colin, and Murat Saglam. Mantik ve olasilik hikayeleri. Istanbul: Güncel Yayıncılık, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. Conned again, Watson! Türkçesi Murat Saglam. //
2624. Bruckner, Martin, and Kristen Poole. "The Plot Thickens: Surveying Manuals, Drama, and the Materiality of Narrative Form in Early Modern England." ELH 69, no. 3 (2002): 617-648.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "...In this essay, we will consider the ways in which the terminology and practice of narrative plot developed out of early modern geodetic discourse...." Includes reference to Doyle and Holmes. "...Brooks, for instance, singles out a case of Sherlock Holmes in which the sleuth, recovering the missing crown of Charles I, 'literally plots out on the lawn the points to which the ritual, read as directions for plotting points, refers him, thus realizing the geometrical sense of plotting and the archaic sense of plot as a bounded area of ground.' But while theorists recognize the relationship of plot and plot (here graphically realized in Arthur Conan Doyle's tale), the connection they instinctively perceive is often considered as no more than coincidental or the clever alliance of etymological cousins...."
2625. Brundage, Paul H. "Wigmore Street Postbag, Collecting." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 21, no. 3 (1993): 103-104.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2626. Brundage, Paul H., and Peter E. Blau. "Canonical Ontario. . . and a Newfoundland Perplexity." Canadian Holmes 17, no. 2 (1993): 16-18.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2627. Brunner, John. Muddle Earth. New York: Ballantine/Del Rey, 1993.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2628. Brunsdale, Mitzi. Icons of Mystery and Crime Detection : from sleuths to superheroes. 2 vols, (Greenwood icons). Santa Barbara, CA: Greenwood, 2010.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 27 cm. v. 1. Batman: the Herculean detective -- James Bond: the byronic spy -- Father Brown: the clerical sleuth -- Charlie Chan: "the first nonwhite popular detective" -- Agatha Christie: creator of Hercule Poirot, the foreign sleuth, and Miss Jane Marple, the elderly sleuth -- Inspector Clouseau: the detective as buffoon -- Columbo: the disheveled detective -- Dragnet: television's most famous police drama -- Nancy Drew: the girl detective -- Jessica Fletcher: the mystery writer snoop -- Mike Hammer: a very imperfect, far from gentle knight -- Dirty Harry: the vigilante cop -- v. 2. Tony Hillerman : creator of ethnic detectives Joe Leaphorn and Jim Chee -- Alfred Hitchcock : cinemas master of suspense -- Sherlock Holmes : the genius detective -- Inspector Jules Maigret : the gallic gumshoe -- Philip Marlowe : the detective as knight errant -- Perry Mason : the legal sleuth : Edgar Allan Poe : The father of detective fiction -- Dorothy L. Sayers : creator of Lord Peter Wimsey, the aristocratic sleuth -- Sam Spade : the hard-boiled private eye -- Dick Tracy : the first comic strip police detective hero -- Nero Wolfe : the armchair sleuth -- Zorro : the masked avenger. Includes bibliographical references and index. //
2629. Brusic, Lucy McTeer, ed. Sherlock Holmes the detective & the collector : essays on the John Bennett Shaw Library. Minneapolis: University of Minnesota Library, Special Collections and Rare Books, 1995.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: Preface / Austin J. McLean -- Editor's note / Lucy M. Brusic -- John Bennett Shaw : A remembrance / Thomas L. Stix Jr. -- Labrynth : the worlds of Sherlock Holmes / Lawrence Frank -- Holmes by any other name : translating the Sherlock Holmes stories / Nils Nordberg -- Holmes and Watson among the scholars : when the game is really afoot / J. Randolph Cox --The writings about the writings : being a requiem for the great game / David L. Hammer -- Turn the dial to Sherlock Holmes on radio / William Nadel -- I see Sherlock everywhere : Holmes on film / Jennie C. Paton -- If it sticks to the ceiling it must be done : the Holmes pastiche / Robert Brusic -- Elementary Holmes : Sherlockian children's literature / Ruth Berman -- Sherlock Holmes meets Batman : the great detective in American comic books / Charlotte A. L. Erickson (cont.) Contents: The Art and craft of Sherlock Holmes, and I don't mean detection / Derham Groves -- I never believed there was a society such as yours : Sherlockian Societies / Peter E. Blau -- Contributors. Includes bibliographical references. //
2630. Brusic, Lucy McTeer, James Hubbs, William Nadel, and Cy Harrice. Edith Meiser and her adventures with Sherlock Holmes a guide to the Edith Meiser Collection at the University of Minnesota. Minneapolis: Sherlock Holmes Collections, Special Collections and Rare Books, University of Minnesota, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references //
2631. Brusic, Robert. "About That Chasm Reichenbach - Did Holmes Really Fall There? An Astonishing Discovery." The Norwegian Explorers of Minnesota Christmas Annual, no. (2003): 50-55.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2632. ———. "A Baker Street Visit From St. Nicholas." The Norwegian Explorers of Minnesota Christmas Annual, no. (2009): 40-41.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2633. ———. "Beyond the Third Pillar: Sherlock Holmes's Belated Encounter with Sir Henry Irving." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 50, no. 3 (2000): 32-34.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2634. ———. "Blessed be the Blade That Binds." The Norwegian Explorers of Minnesota Christmas Annual, no. (2007): 35-38.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2635. ———. "A Dome Deduced While Strolling in the Park One Day." The Norwegian Explorers of Minnesota Christmas Annual, no. (2004): 51-54.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2636. ———. "A Lock Without a Key: Holmes and Hair." The Norwegian Explorers of Minnesota Christmas Annual, no. (2005): 38-42.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2637. ———. "The Wild West, Victoria Regina, and Sherlock Holmes." The Norwegian Explorers of Minnesota Christmas Annual, no. (2006): 33-36.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2638. Brusic, Robert, and Lucy Brusic. "The Home of the Heart." The Norwegian Explorers of Minnesota Christmas Annual, no. (2002): 7.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2639. Bruxner, Pamela. In Beds with Sherlock Holmes a day excursion by the Sherlock Holmes Society of London. London: The Sherlock Holmes Society of London, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2640. ———. "Obituary: Patsy Dalton." The Guardian (London), May 10, 1994: 19.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Patsy Dalton, first woman to chair the Sherlock Holmes Society of London, has died aged 75. She was a journalist and writer of short stories who began her working life as a film continuity girl before joining the Daily Sketch and eventually becoming associate editor of Woman. Although her professional life was successful and satisfying, much of her energy in later years was devoted to the Sherlock Holmes Society of London which she joined with her husband Pip in 1952 shortly after its formation. They were in their element..."
2641. ———. "Review -- Aspects of Holmes II: Scrutinizing Holmes, York 11-13 June 1993." The Musgrave Papers, no. 6 (1993): 98-103.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2642. Bruxner, Pamela, and Bob Ellis. Colour it Prussian blue: a day excursion to Retired Colourman and His Last Bow territory, Sunday 4th September 2005. London: Sherlock Holmes Society of London, 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2643. ———. Fetlocks, femurs and phalanges : a day excursion by the Sherlock Holmes Society of London. [London]: Sherlock Holmes Society of London, 1995.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill., maps ; 30 cm. Edited by Pamela Bruxner ; produced by Bob Ellis. //
2644. ———. A gaggle of governesses : a day excursion by The Sherlock Holmes Society of London, 7 September 1997. [London]: [The Society], 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill., maps, port. ; 30 cm. Introduction / by Pamela Bruxner -- Three distressed gentlewomen / by Bernard Davies -- "I had to cycle to the Station" / by Rick Grandia -- San Pedro / by Cindy Stevens -- You remind me of a man / by John Hall -- Conan Doyle's sisters in their governess days / by Richard Lancelyn Green -- Musicians in the family / by Geoffrey Stavert -- A gaggle of literary governesses / by B. J. Rahn -- Selected list of fictional governesses / by B. J. Rahn -- "With a spud, a tin box, and an elementary book on botany--" / by Cindy Stevens. Edited by Pamela Bruxner ; produced by Bob Ellis. //
2645. ———. Going for a soldier : a day excursion by the Sherlock Holmes Society of London to the Royal Military Academy Sandhurst and Undershaw. [London]: Sherlock Holmes Society of London, 1996.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 30 cm. Edited by Pamela Bruxner ; produced by Bob Ellis. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2646. Bryan, Caroline, and David H Galerstein. A singular sense of humor a compilation of stuff and nonsense by and for Sherlockians. New York: Magico, 2002.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: To Modern Men Be, Vinnie Starrett -- A gustatory frolic, Dorothy Belle Pollack -- A letter, Sherlock Holmes -- A quiz on the titles, John Bennett Shaw // A collection of toasts, papers, poems, and other items presented at various scion meetings, together with a few documents not generally available to the public, including correspondence between two U.S. Presidents and Edgar Smith, "Buttons" Secretary of the Baker Street Irregulars 2647. Bryans, John. "The London Book Fair 2001." Information Today 18, no. 5 (2001): 56.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on the annual London Book Fair, which is the smallest of the three major international book-publishing events. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "When one considers the British literary tradition, the mind reels. From Shakespeare to Dickens to Kipling, from Jane Austen and the Bronte sisters to Mary Shelley, Lewis Carroll, Arthur Conan Doyle, D. H. Lawrence, Graham Greene, John LeCarre, and beyond, England is a land of words and wordsmiths without peer. In all the world, what better place for a book fair than Londontown?..."
2648. Bryant, Eric, and Ahmad Wright. "Book reviews: Fiction." Library Journal 123, no. 12 (1998): 134.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'The Coffin Dancer,' by Jeffery Deaver, with a passing reference to Holmes. "If you could imagine James Bond as Brenda K. Starr and Sherlock Holmes as a quadriplegic with a penchant for solving arcane forensic clues, this suspenseful cat-and-mouse exercise should be easy to enjoy...."
2649. Bryant, Mark. "Britannia's Victorian War Artist." History Today 57, no. 5 (2007): 58-59.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article profiles Sir John Tenniel, whose illustrations of the Sepoy Rebellion for Punch magazine made him England's most famous cartoonist. He later would provide the artwork for "Alice in Wonderland," and capture many other Victorian icons. In 1893 he became the first cartoonist to be knighted. Includes a reference to Richard Doyle and to ACD. "...To supplement his income from painting Tenniel also worked as an illustrator, and an introduction by Leopold Martin to the publisher John Murray led to a commission to draw plates for a new edition of Aesop's Fables. This caught the eye of Douglas Jerrold, one of the founders of Punch magazine, who suggested him to the Editor, Mark Lemon, as a possible replacement for Richard Doyle (Deputy Cartoonist to John Leech), who had recently resigned from the magazine....Tenniel was knighted by Gladstone in 1893 and when he retired in 1901, the future Prime Minister Arthur Balfour (then Leader of the House of Commons) presided over a celebrity banquet in his honour. Amongst the 200 or so guests were various dukes, knights and ambassadors as well as figures from the arts such as Arthur Conan Doyle, George Meredith, J.M. Barrie, Bram Stoker and W.S. Gilbert...."
2650. Brynko, Barbara. "Generate: Introducing the g2 Toolbar." Information Today 25, no. 2 (2008): 32-32.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Announcement of a new technology tool, with a passing reference to Holmes. "Generate, Inc. unleashed its latest on-demand business intelligence application, turning the new Version 3 into a virtual Sherlock Holmes of enterprise data...."
2651. Buard, Jean-Luc, and Arthur Conan Doyle. Bibliographie des Traductions d'Arthur Conan Doyle dans les periodiques 1894-1914. S.l.: Visage Vert, 1995.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2652. Buchan, John, Orson Welles, and Arthur Conan Doyle. The 39 steps and, Sherlock Holmes. [United States]: Nostalgia Arts, 2005. Sound Recording (CD) 2 sound discs.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Compact disc. Title from container. Sherlock Holmes from the play by William Gillette. Participants: 39 Steps: Orson Welles ; Sherlock Holmes: Orson Welles, Ray Collins, Mary Taylor, Brenda Forbes, Edgar Barrier, Morgan Farley, Richard Wilson, Eustace Wyatt. 39 Steps originally broadcast August 1, 1938 and Sherlock Holmes on September 25, 1938 on the CBS Network. [by John Buchan and Arthur Conan Doyle]. //
2653. Buchlotz, Chris. "Whos, whats and wheres of the Web." Telephony 233, no. 9 (1997): 38.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on a new generation of Web analysis tools that give Web site creators the ability to know their audiences better and provide Internet service providers (ISPs) with a new value-added service. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "... 'With a little 'Sherlock Holmes,' you can find out a lot of cool stuff about how a site has been used,' said Shank...."

2654. Buck, R. Creighton. "Sherlock Holmes in Babylon." The American Mathematical Monthly 87, no. 5 (1980): 335-345.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Let me begin by clarifying the title 'Sherlock Holmes in Babylon.' Lest some members of the Baker Street Irregulars be misled, my topic is the archaeology of mathematics and my objective is to retrace a small portion of the research of two scholars...."

2655. Buckinx, Boudewijn. Sherlock Holmes--etudes violino solo. Pescara, New York: Chiola Music, 1995.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: The adventure of the little finger -- Index -- Miss Sutherland's love -- Wessex Cup -- Julia & Helene -- The dancing men -- Lady Eva -- The five orange pips -- Cooee! -- Shoscombe Old Place -- The solitary cyclist -- Tapanuli fever -- Encyclopaedia Britannica -- X-mas -- Copper beeches -- Catalepsy -- Arthur! -- A swamp adder -- The crooked man -- Anthropological journal -- Castlotte -- The empty house -- Garrideb -- His last bow //

2656. Buckley Jr, William F. "James Clavell, RIP." National Review 46, no. 19 (1994): 23-24.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article presents an obituary for novelist James Clavell. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...We very much enjoyed our fax camaraderie. Feb. 19, 1994: 'To: the guru of gurus. M'aidez si vous plait. Could you press THE button and tell me did King Kong come out of Conan Doyle's Lost World? cir 1912? J.'" 2657. Buddle, Judith. "The Ballad of Hatty Doran." Varieties of Ash 2, no. 1 (1994): 32-34.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2658. Budiansky, Stephen. "One more leap for nuttiness." U.S. News & World Report 119, no. 16 (1995): 14.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses the derailment of an Amtrak passenger train in Arizona in October 1995. Includes references to Doyle and Holmes. "In Arthur Conan Doyle's first Sherlock Holmes mystery, A Study in Scarlet, the murderer scrawls in blood upon the wall beside his victim the word rache -- German for "revenge." His aim is to cloak a simple act of personal vengeance in shadowy suggestions of political intrigue and secret socialist societies. Needless to say, the press and the police, eager to blame 'foreigners' and sucked in by the drama of the murder scene, fall for it. No matter whether the person who derailed an Amtrak passenger train in Arizona last week, killing one and injuring more than 100, was a psychopath, a disgruntled employee or someone trying to make a bizarre political statement, the eagerness of everyone from the local sheriff to the president of the United States to label the tragedy an act of 'terrorism' bespeaks a human foible that too many these days share with Doyle's flat-footed officials and sensation-seeking journalists...."

2659. Buechner, Frederick. Wishful thinking a theological ABC. 1st ed. New York: Harper & Row, 1973.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 72009872. Scuttlebutt Nov 1995 // Includes this quotation: "It is as impossible for man to demonstrate the existence of God as it would be for even Sherlock Holmes to demonstrate the existence of Arthur Conan Doyle."

2660. Buggé, Carole. The haunting of Torre Abbey. 1st ed. New York: St. Martin's Press, 2000.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 22 cm. //

2661. ———. The star of India: a novel of Sherlock Holmes. 1st ed. New York: St. Martin's Press, 1998.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 97039833 // "It is 1894, and Holmes and returned from the Reichenbach to find that Moriarty also survived the battle there, and is plotting revenge."

2662. Buitenhuis, Peter. "The First World War and the Language of Fiction." European Contributions to American Studies [Netherlands] 10, no. (1986): 99-111.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Contrasts the work of old-school authors Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, Sir Edmund Gosse, and Rudyard Kipling, who worked as propagandists during World War I, with that of Ernest Hemingway, Charles Harrison, John Dos Passos, and E. E. Cummings, all of whom experienced the war directly. The language of the propagandists reaffirmed and reasserted old values and covered the reality of the war with a romantic and patriotic facade. The younger writers faced the problem of finding a way to express the disparity between reality and propaganda. Using romantic language and romantic images as a springboard, the younger writers replaced nationalism, patriotism, and imperialism with self-reliance, skepticism, irony, and aestheticism.

2663. ———. The great war of words : British, American, and Canadian propaganda and fiction, 1914-1933. Vancouver: University of British Columbia Press, 1987.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 24 cm. Includes index. Bibliography: p. [193]-194. Scuttlebutt Jan 2001. // "Includes discussion of Conan Doyle's writing about the Boer War and the Great War."
2664. ———. The great war of words : British, American, and Canadian propaganda and fiction, 1914-1933. Vancouver: University of British Columbia Press, 1988.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 24 cm. Paper reprint of 1987 ed. Includes bibliographical references (p. [183]-194) and index. // "Includes discussion of Conan Doyle's writing about the Boer War and the Great War."
2665. ———. The great war of words : literature as propaganda, 1914-18 and after. London: B.T. Batsford, 1989.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill., ports. ; 23 cm. First published: Vancouver : University of British Columbia Press, 1987. // "Includes discussion of Conan Doyle's writing about the Boer War and the Great War."
2666. ———. "The great war of words British, American and Canadian propaganda and fiction, 1914-1933." In (Canadian electronic library), xviii, 199 p. : ill., ports. ; 24 cm. Vancouver, BC: University of British Columbia Press, 1987.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Grande Prairie Regional College Internet Access
<http://site.ebrary.com/lib/gprc/Doc?id=10210514> University of Alberta Access <http://site.ebrary.com/lib/albertacel/Doc?id=10210514> Includes bibliographical references and index.
 Reproduction: Electronic document. // "Includes discussion of Conan Doyle's writing about the Boer War and the Great War."
2667. Bujold, Lois McMaster. Dreamweaver's dilemma. 1st ed. Framingham, MA: NESFA Press, 1995.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Edited by Suford Lewis. // "Includes 'The Adventure of the Lady on the Embankment'; it's a Sherlockian pastiche, written after the author graduated from college and hitherto unpublished."
2668. ———. Dreamweaver's dilemma. 1st trade paperback ed. Framingham, MA: NESFA Press, 1995.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- "Includes 'The Adventure of the Lady on the Embankment'; it's a Sherlockian pastiche, written after the author graduated from college and hitherto unpublished." Edited by Suford Lewis. // 2669. Bukoski, Anthony. "Report of the Guardian of the Sick." War, Literature & the Arts: An International Journal of the Humanities 19, no. 1 (2007): 47-56.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article presents the short story "Report of the Guardian of the Sick," by Anthony Bukoski. Contains a passing reference (p. 52) to Holmes.
2670. Bull, Andy. "Travel: Home from Holmes; Deep in Conan Doyle country, something stirs. No hellhound, no mystery; it's a festival." The Independent (London), June 20, 1998: 21.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Even for Sherlock Holmes, this would have been a real two-pipe puzzler. After all, the peeling sign on the side door at the Crowborough Cross declared that this was the Conan Doyle Bar. So it would be reasonable to deduce - given the generally accepted concept of the theme pub, and that that the little hilltop Sussex town of Crowborough will play host in just two weeks' time to the annual Sherlock Holmes Festival - that there would be a spot of branding inside...."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2671. Bull, Glen, Gina Bull, and Laura Blasi. "Electronic texts in the classroom." Learning and Leading with Technology 27, no. 4 (1999): 46-9+.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...A rich array of quotes using 'law' can be prepared before class for the students or compiled by students in class. 'I have found the law of my own poems,' writes Walt Whitman. 'I am the law!' exclaims Sir Arthur Conan Doyle....Students could interpret these examples within the context of each text, then conduct their own searches on abstract nouns, research in dictionaries for word origins, and follow with their own explanations or uses of a concept in nonfiction essays. Students also can develop fiction using abstract nouns, for example, while modeling the writing style of Doyle, Shakespeare, Pliny, or the other authors available through the Center...."
2672. Bullimore, Tom. Baker Street puzzles. Partridge Green: Ravette, 1992.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Citations: De Waal C18159 //
2673. ———. Baker Street puzzles. New York: Sterling Pub. Co, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 94017217 //
2674. ———. Sherlock Holmes' mini-mysteries. New York: Sterling Pub. Co., 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Includes index. Illustrated by Ian Anderson. // Collection of logic, word, and math puzzles featuring characters from the Sherlock Holmes stories.
2675. ———. Sherlock Holmes' puzzles of deduction. New York: Sterling Juvenile, 2000.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Illustrated by Ian Anderson. //
2676. Bullimore, Tom, and Ian Anderson. Baker Street whodunits. New York: Sterling Pub. Co., 2001.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Includes index. Illustrated by Ian Anderson. //
2677. ———. Sherlock Holmes' puzzles of deduction. New York: Sterling Pub. Co, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 96049893 //
2678. Bullimore, Tom, and Martin Jansen in de Wal. Denk mee met Sherlock Holmes : puzzels voor speurneuzen. Gravenhage: BZZTôH, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Vert. van: Baker Street puzzles. - Partridge Green : Ravette, 1992. [vert. uit het Engels: Martin Jansen in de Wal ; ill.: Ian Anderson]. //
2679. Bunce, Kim. "Review: Books." The Observer, February 15, 2004: 18.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of the audiobook "Return of Sherlock Holmes," Vol. 1, read by David Timson. Running time 3.5 hours. Naxos, 3 tapes unabridged, GBP9.99
2680. Buncombe, Andrew. "Adulterers watch out! India's No.1 ladies' detective agencies are on the case." The Independent (London), Sep 26, 2008: 38.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "'We are seeing a new trend now,' says Ms [Lahiri], sitting in the offices of the detective agency she heads in south Delhi. 'It is not just the men who are involved in these activities.' There have been cases where women were seen 'parking their car in one place, getting out and then into getting into somebody else's car. They are very smart,' she said. Later, sitting down with the 27-year-old woman whose elaborate marriage ceremony was scheduled to take place within two weeks, MsPaliwal handed her a box of tissues and broke the bad news. Then she had to confront the young man's family. At first they refused to believe it, but the detective had secretly videoed the maid's confession. The marriage was immediately called off. 'All the preparations for the wedding were ready,' said Ms [Paliwal], who keeps a copy of Sherlock Holmes detective stories on the desk in her Delhi office....'The private detective has now become just another part of India's vast wedding industrial complex.'" 2681. Bunson, Matthew. Encyclopedia Sherlockiana an A-to-Z guide to the world of the great detective. 1st ed. New York: Macmillan, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 94010714. Includes bibliographical references (p. 325-326) //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2682. ———. The Sherlock Holmes encyclopedia. London: Pavilion, 1995.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2683. Bunson, Matthew, and Masamichi Higurashi. Sharokku Homuzu hyakka jiten = Encyclopedia Sherlockiana. Tokyo: Hara Shobo, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references (p. 460-470) //
2684. Burges, Dennis. Graves gate. 1st Carroll & Graf ed. New York: Carroll & Graf, 2003.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Distributed by Publishers Group West, Berkeley, CA. map ; 24 cm. // "A mystery that features Arthur Conan Doyle in London in 1922."
2685. Burgess, Anthony, and Ben Forkner. One man's chorus the uncollected writings. 1st Carroll & Graf ed. New York: Carroll & Graf, 1998.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "A genuine master of the mot and the anecdote, Burgess rarely fails to amuse in this generous selection of essays on topics as various as oranges (not only of the clockwork variety), Marilyn Monroe, God, and Yiddish humor (his favorite one-liner, the Jewish matron's response to her son's psychiatrist: "Oedipus Schmoedipus - what's it matter so long as he loves his mother?")."--Book jacket. "In other of these candid and sometimes cantankerous pieces written over the past two decades Burgess revisits his youth in Manchester, reconsiders his experiences among British colonials in Malaysia, and reevaluates his literary exile in Monaco. He examines his craft, he carps at critics, he reflects upon literature and litterateurs, from such twentieth-century giants as James Joyce, T. S. Eliot, and Virginia Woolf to the eccentric Sitwells to fellow novelists Evelyn Waugh and Graham Greene."--Book jacket. Includes his essay "Our Eternal Holmes."
2686. ———. One man's chorus the uncollected writings. 1st Carroll & Graf trade paper ed. New York: Carroll & Graf, 2000.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references // "A genuine master of the mot and the anecdote, Burgess rarely fails to amuse in this generous selection of essays on topics as various as oranges (not only of the clockwork variety), Marilyn Monroe, God, and Yiddish humor (his favorite one-liner, the Jewish matron's response to her son's psychiatrist: "Oedipus Schmoedipus - what's it matter so long as he loves his mother?")."--Book jacket. "In other of these candid and sometimes cantankerous pieces written over the past two decades Burgess revisits his youth in Manchester, reconsiders his experiences among British colonials in Malaysia, and reevaluates his literary exile in Monaco. He examines his craft, he carps at critics, he reflects upon literature and litterateurs, from such twentieth-century giants as James Joyce, T. S. Eliot, and Virginia Woolf to the eccentric Sitwells to fellow novelists Evelyn Waugh and Graham Greene."--Book jacket. Includes his essay "Our Eternal Holmes."
2687. Burgi, Michael. "Arts & Entertainment revamps format." Adweek Western Edition 44, no. 6: 12.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports on changes in the Arts & Entertainment network of cable television. Includes a reference to Holmes. "...The term 'Mysteries' refers to the increasing number of whodunit-type shows on the schedule: Lovejoy Mysteries, Sherlock Holmes Mysteries, A&E Mystery Movie, etc...."
2688. Burka, Paul, and Patricia Kilday Hart. "The best and the worst legislators 1997." Texas Monthly 25, no. 7 (1997): 90.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Suggests the best and worse Texas legislators in 1997. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Remember the Sherlock Holmes story in which the great detective solves a mysterious death case because a dog did not bark at a thief in the night? The lesson is that what doesn't happen can be just as important as what does happen--in crime or in the Legislature...."
2689. Burke, James. "Barryville or Baskermore? A Clarification of the Facts." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 51, no. 2 (2001): 33-40.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2690. ———. "Connections." Scientific American 278, no. 1 (1998): 113.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Look at the views of James Burke as he relate to the question on who came up first with the idea of evolution. Includes reference to Doyle and Holmes. "...McParlan's work was not, however, to go totally unrecognized. In 1914 he became the internationally acclaimed hero of a novel entitled Valley of Fear. Well, he would have been such but for the fact that the author ended up naming the book's detective protagonist something else. McParlan's heroics were fictionally appropriated by (the already internationally famous) Sherlock Holmes. Given McParlan's fate, it's ironic that Valley of Fear was to be Sherlock's last case, too. After which his creator, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, turned to expressing himself through a different medium. The kind that sat around tables and got up to what I was playing at the other night. Because in 1914 Doyle stopped writing and took over where Wallace and Lodge had left off: he became a leading light in the Society for Psychic Research...."

2691. ———. Connections 3. Bethesda, MD: Discovery Communications, Inc., 1998. Visual Material 5 videocassettes (ca. 50 min. each).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Discovery Channel (Firm) ; Langham Productions. ; TLC Video (Firm) ; Learning Channel (Firm) ; sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS, NTSC 3.58. "TLC Video"--Container. In title, 3 is superscript. A production of Discovery Channel in association with James Burke and Langham Productions. Producer, James Burke ; director, Charles Mapleston ; executive producer, Michael Latham ; director of photography, Jim O'Donnell ; sound, Tom Oliver. // In touch: A nuclear scientist ponders the problem of fusion in 1951, unleashing a series of connections that encompass superconductors, the Eiffel Tower, the Statue of Liberty, King George III, modern oceanography, the Versailles gardens, Pagoda Mania, and handwriting analysis, to arrive at the Global Net. Through this chain of unexpected connections, you can "stay in touch". Hit the water: Start in the cockpit of a Tornado fighter bomber, dip into the history of margarine and plankton, travel to 18th century Turkey to investigate small pox inoculations, dance at the ballet Coppelia, spend time with Voltaire, blow up a dam in Norway with a British commando team and end up, through the intimate world of unexpected connections, discovering exactly why Hitler never managed to harness the power of the atomic bomb. Fire from the sky: Go from the majestic beauty of Iceland's geysers to the Allies firebombing of Hamburg in World War II, stop by Stonehenge, chat with Kaballists, visit with Martin Luther, Ozcander, Tycho Brahe, and Mary, Queen of Scots, then head to the magnetic North Pole. The invention of gin and tonic will set you back on course to the discovery that mixing rubber with gasoline makes it burn slower--an integral component of any firebombing. A special place: Journey 400 years into the past to connect famous sleuths and popular destinations through Dutch wind tunnels and aristocratic World War I fighter aces. Discover how Caribbean smugglers and bird-painters led to Russian skullduggery, and ultimately to a final beauty spot where hundreds of Americans get drenched every day. Elementary stuff: Begin the journey with miracles and spiritualism and end with the greatest detective of them all. Some of the clues connect 20th century thought-transference and radio with banana republics and postage stamps. Learn how Scottish rebels and North Carolina pine trees revolutionized the French navy, and how contextual perception led to Sherlock Holmes. Life is no picnic: Learn the connection between coffee served during World War II and 19th century theories of evolution through the invention of nylon and the Star Spangled Banner. Discover how a new method for calculating astronomical dates and the death of Descartes led to the creation of the Royal Society, and how the jellyfish made Charles Darwin famous. An invisible object: Travel 500 years into the past to connect mysterious black holes in space with modern fast food, via thrills and spills on the Pony Express and the capture of Joan of Arc. Learn how a gift for Catherine de Medici led to modern techniques for pasteurization and, eventually, the first vending machine. Drop the apple: With the discovery of calamine, James Smithson, the benefactor of the Smithsonian Institution, did a lot for sunburns, poison ivy and diaper rash. Calamine is one of the most useful and unusual minerals because it gives off electricity, leading to Einstein's theory of relativity and to the creation of the atomic bomb. What's in a name?: A good breakfast leads to corn cob garbage--which isn't garbage at all. It is used to create resin for bonding. Learn how this led to the creation of the tractor and the diesel engine and, surprisingly, the Smithsonian Institution in Washington D.C. Feedback: Look at the use of feedback in the 21st century. Learn how the concept originated in the vineyards of France and how the Humane Society, drowning, shipping, a new diet and Kellogg's Corn Flakes are all related.

2692. ———. Connections 3. [v. 3]. New York: Ambrose Video Pub., 1999. Visual Material 1 videocassette.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 1/2 in. VHS. Issued as part of 5-videocassette boxed set. On case and cassette label, in title "3" is in superscript. Ambrose Video Publishing Incorporated ; hosted and produced by

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

James Burke ; director, John Black. // Host James Burke explores the connections among coffee in World War II, nineteenth century ideas of evolution, nylon, the Star Spangled Banner, a new method for calculating astronomical dates, the death of Descartes, the creation of the Royal Society and how jellyfish made Darwin famous. Then explore miracles and spiritualism, radio, banana republics, postage stamps, Scottish rebels, Carolina pine trees, the French navy and how they connect to Sherlock Holmes.

2693. ———. Connections 3. Elementary stuff. Bethesda, MD: The Learning Channel, 1998. Visual Material 1 videocassette (ca. 50 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. with b&w sequences ; 1/2 in. VHS. In title "3" is in superscript.
 Participants: James Burke. producer, James Burke ; a production of Discovery Channel in association with James Burke and Langham Productions. Director of photography, Jim O'Donnell ; executive producer, Richard J. Wells. // Host James Burke explores the origins and effects of those inventions that shape our modern world. Elementary stuff discusses miracles, spiritualism, and Sherlock Holmes.
2694. ———. Elementary stuff. New York: Ambrose Video, 2003. Visual Material on 1 videodisc (52 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. Connections3 [6]; DVD. In title "3" is superscript. With Life is no picnic. Hosted by James Burke. a production of Discovery Channel in association with James Burke and Langham Productions ; a production of The Learning Channel. Producer, James Burke ; director, Charles Mapleston ; director, John Black ; writer, James Burke ; editor, Mike Crozier. // Explore history's intricate web of commonalities: spiritualism and the device that makes radio reception possible; Scottish oppression and the creation of turpentine; the debate over modern literature and the creation of Sherlock Holmes.
2695. ———. "Survivals." Scientific American 283, no. 5 (2000): 126.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Traces the influence of Victorian adventurer Edward Burnett Tylor, considered to be the father of cultural anthropology, on later events. Includes reference to Doyle and Holmes. "...Arthur Conan Doyle's Sherlock Holmes turned into such a cult that to this day thousands fetch up at his 'home' (now a museum) on Baker Street, London, where he 'lived' with his medical straight man, Dr. Watson. Later in life Doyle dreamed up another winner: Professor Challenger, explorer-anthropologist hero of The Lost World, who finds a mysterious, isolated plateau in the South American jungle that is inhabited by living prehistoric animals and half-ape, half-human 'missing links.'" 2696. Burke, James, and Charles Mapleston. Connections 3. Disc 3. New York: Ambrose Video, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (104 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. ; 4 3/4 in. DVD. Program content c1997. written & presented by James Burke ; director, Charles Mapleston ; producer, James Burke ; a production of Discovery Channel in association with James Burke and Langham Productions ; The Learning Channel. // "Life is no picnic: Examine the interwoven histories of freeze dried coffee and soldier ration packs in WWII; the Star Spangled Banner and a Greek poem; and Europe's Romantic movement and Darwin's theory of evolution."--Container. "Elementary stuff: Explore histories [sic] intricate web of commonalities: spiritualism and the device that makes radio reception possible; Scottish oppression and the creation of turpentine; and the debate over modern literature and the creation of Sherlock Holmes."--Container.
2697. Burke, Ken. "Charting relationships in American popular film, part 1." International Journal of Instructional Media 24, no. 4 (1997): 341-361.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // As an extension of some of the author's previous writings on American popular cinema, this study presents and explains several diagrams showing the evolution of significant film genres in context of each other and relevant historical trends. Figure 3 includes Sherlock Holmes by way of The Hound of the Baskervilles (1939) and the series of films with Basil Rathbone and Nigel Bruce.
2698. ———. "Charting relationships in American popular film. part II." International Journal of Instructional Media 25, no. 1 (1998): 87-109.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // As an elaboration of Part I on the confluence between American history and popular film genres, this section explores Schatz's concept of genre evolution through the experimental, classic, refinement, and deconstructivist phases. Includes reference to Doyle and Holmes. "... I hope are fairly clear

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

based on the films that constitute my understanding of the periods, although there are a few interesting wrinkles: (1) TV shows of the late 1950s to present either continue the classic phase of the detective, or they may well bring about a real classic II period in that so many of the TV protagonists reassert the older Sherlock Holmes 'sleuth' tradition (although the hardboiled model, such as 'Magnum, P. I.', is still to be found); (2) although almost all of the genres (except musicals) have precursors in literature and many (including musicals) come from theatre as well, the detective genre is unique in taking its classic antecedents so effectively from novels (from Arthur Conan Doyle's Holmes to Dashiell Hammett's Nick and Nora Charles and Sam Spade) into film that we must look to the printed page for this genre's experimental phase..."

2699. Burke, Peter. "Picturing History." History Today 51, no. 4 (2001): 22.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on the importance of visual sources on the range of men's historical inquiry with a passing reference to Holmes. "...In the reading of images, historians may be well advised to follow the model of Sherlock Holmes, Sigmund Freud and the connoisseur Giovanni Morelli (as described by Carlo Ginzburg in his famous essay on 'clues'), and concentrate their attention on significant details, especially the details which the artists took for granted - on what they did not know they knew...."
2700. Burkey, Mary. "The Case of the Bizarre Bouquets." Booklist 104, no. 17 (2008): 97.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the audiobook "The Case of the Bizarre Bouquets" by Nancy Springer. Read by Katherine Kellgren. 2008. 4hr. Recorded Books, CS, $30.75 (9781428182523); CD, $30.75 (9781428182578).
2701. Burnip, Richard. "Review, Sherlock Holmes and the Hound of the Baskervilles." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 29, no. 3 (2009): 113.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2702. Burns, Ann. "Audio Reviews." Library Journal 125, no. 12 (2000): 161.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews several audio tapes, including O Jerusalem by Laurie R. King. 9 cassettes. unabridged. 13 1/2 hrs. Recorded Bks. 1999. ISBN 0-7887-3746-5. $80. "King has received both the Edgar and the John Creasey Award. O Jerusalem is the newest in a series about Sherlock Holmes and his young apprentice, Mary Russell. It is a flashback to a chapter in the Beekeeper's Apprentice in which Holmes and Russell flee danger in London, traveling to Palestine in the service of Mycroft, Holmes's older brother. When Holmes and Russell reach Palestine, they join Mahmoud and Ali, all four traveling in the garb of Bedouins. Their journey begins with the investigation of a murder and ends with preventing the destruction of Jerusalem. The narrator, Jenny Sterlin, is most convincing as the arrogant and condescending older Holmes, and the voices she uses for each character are distinct and believable. Essential for listeners or readers of the Holmes and Russell series."
2703. ———. "Audio Reviews." Library Journal 125, no. 9 (2000): 141.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews several audio books including 'Memories and Adventures,' by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.
2704. ———. "Best Audiobooks of 2003." Library Journal 129, no. 3 (2004): 44-45.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // An annotated directory of the best audiobooks of 2003 is provided. Included is Haddon, Mark. The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night-Time. Recorded Bks. 5 cassettes, 61/4 hrs. ISBN 1-4025-5978-X. $45. "This first novel captures 'without sentimentality the joy and pain' of a child with Asperger's syndrome. Christopher, a 15-year-old with an interest in Sherlock Holmes, tries to solve the murder of his neighbor's dog. Jeff Woodman's 'voice and tone are totally convincing as those of a working-class English adolescent.' The print version was selected as one of LJ's Best Books of 2003. (LJ 1/04)" 2705. ———. "Forthcoming Debuts." Library Journal 128, no. 16 (2003): 42-44.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a list of books slated for launch in October 2003. Includes Ted Riccardi, The Oriental Casebook of Sherlock Holmes (Random).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2706. Burns, Ann, and Theresa Connors. "The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes VI (Book)." Library Journal 129, no. 1 (2004): 183-183.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the audiobook "The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes VI," by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.
2707. ———. "His Last Bow." Library Journal 125, no. 8 (2000): 168.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the audio tape 'His Last Bow,' by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.
2708. Burns, Ann, Kristin M. Jacobi, and Wry Martinis. "Audio Reviews." Library Journal 123, no. 16 (1998): 148.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents numerous brief reviews of audio recordings including The Moor by Laurie R. King. 8 cassettes, unabridged. 11 hrs. Recorded Bks. 1998. ISBN 0-7887-1979-3. $72. "In this fourth Mary Russell novel, read by Jenny Sterlin, King takes us back to Dartmoor, scene of The Hound of the Baskervilles, again on the trail of a spectral hound. Shedockians have been amused or horrified by King's misappropriation of Holmes. Holmes, who had stated that love is 'an emotional thing...opposed to true cold reason' and 'I should never marry myself, lest I bias my judgment,' is in the King books married to an American half his age. Not satisfied with changing Holmes's misogynistic nature, King also robs him of his trusty biographer, Dr. Watson. Pastiche, in its truest sense, tries to resemble the style of the original work. Libraries wanting Sherlock Holmes mysteries would do better with any of the BBC series (The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes, Audio Reviews, LJ 2/15/97). Not recommended."
2709. Burns, Ann, and R. Kent Rasmussen. "The Land That Time Forgot (Sound recording)." Library Journal 127, no. 4 (2002): 159.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the sound recording "The Land That Time Forgot," by Edgar Rice Burroughs, with a passing reference to Doyle. "Deserving a place in the small but popular submarine-adventure genre, this novella may be described as 'U-571 meets Conan Doyle's The Lost World...'" 2710. Burns, Barbara. "Adolf Müllner's Der Kaliber: The First German Detective Story ?" German Life & Letters 58, no. 1 (2005): 1-12.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article examines Adolf Müllner's novel Der Kaliber and includes a reference to Doyle and Holmes. "...The literary establishment has broadly united on the view that the first detective story as a discrete genre was Edgar Allan Poe's The Murders in the Rue Morgue of 1841, while at the same time highlighting the landmark qualities of Francois Eugene Vidocq's Memoires of 1829, Emile Gaboriau's L'Affaire Lerouge of 1866 and Arthur Conan Doyle's The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes of 1892. Nowhere, except in the most detailed works of German scholarship on the subject, is there any mention of a German precursor of all these prominent works, namely Adlof Müllner's novel of 1828, Der Kaliber...."
2711. Burns, Connie Tyrrell. "The Faceless Fiend: Being the Tale of a Criminal Mastermind, His Masked Minions and a Princess with a Butter Knife, Involving Explosives and a Certain Amount of Pushing and Shoving." School Library Journal 53, no. 11 (2007): 139.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "The Faceless Fiend: Being the Tale of a Criminal Mastermind, His Masked Minions and a Princess with a Butter Knife, Involving Explosives and a Certain Amount of Pushing and Shoving," written by Howard Whitehouse and illustrated by Bill Slavin. Includes a reference to Holmes. "In this sequel to The Strictest School in the World (Kids Can, 2006), 14-year-old Emmaline and Princess Purnah have escaped from St. Grimelda's School for Young Ladies and are living in Yorkshire in the autumn of 1894 with batty but lovable Aunt Lucy. Princess Purnah is heir to the throne of Chiligrat, a tiny, savage, mountainous place in the middle of Asia. The girls, along with Rubberbones, the indestructible errand boy, spend their days with the lunatic Professor Bellbuckle, trying to fly, since Emmaline aspires to design a flying machine. But trouble awaits. A terrifying master criminal who works for the Russian secret police and whose face below his eyes is a white mass of scar tissue wants to kidnap the princess. With the help of Aunt Lucy, the professor, the butler Lal Singh, and Sherlock Holmes and the Baker Street Irregulars, the villainous schemes are foiled, but not before things go wrong-a lot. The gothic overtones and menacing situations are all goofy, over-the-top, and humorously handled. The author's voice slips in with sly, wry humor. Think Lemony Snicket meets Roald Dahl. Slavin's frequent pen-and-ink sketches add just the right touch of whimsy. Princess Purnah is particularly bloodthirsty (even with just a butter knife) and her lack of mastery of the English language and her own exclamations ('Glekk!' 'Porok!') add to the fun. While many references are made to the previous novel, they are explained in context, allowing this book to stand alone."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2712. Burns, Jeffrey. "Sherlock Holmes and Psychological Types." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 51, no. 1 (2001): 15-22.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2713. Burns, Timothy. "The Rationalism of Father Brown." Perspectives on Political Science 34, no. 1 (2005): 37-45.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents information on a study about the Father Brown stories by G. K. Chesterton with multiple references to Holmes.
2714. Burr, Bob. "Letter to the Editor, 'Tonga and Adair'." Canadian Holmes 18, no. 1 (1994): 48.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2715. ———. "Letter to the Editor, 'Truepennies?'" Canadian Holmes 26, no. 1 (2002): 34-35.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2716. Burr, Robbie. "What Really Happened at the Reichenbach Falls?" The Camden House Journal 25, no. 5 (2003): 2-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2717. Burr, Robert C. "Interlude at Baker Street I." The Holmes & Watson Report 1, no. 5 (1997): 9-10.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2718. ———. "Letter to the Editor." The Holmes & Watson Report 2, no. 3 (1998): 23-24.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2719. ———. "Review--Commanding Views From the Empty House edited by William R. Cochran and Gordon R. Speck." The Holmes & Watson Report 1, no. 1 (1997): 15.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A delightful anthology of essays, puzzles, cartoons, and even a play, by the members of one of the most active and dedicated Sherlockian societies, The Occupants of the Empty House.
2720. ———. "Review--Sir Arthur Conan Doyle at the Cinema by Scott Allen Nollen." The Holmes & Watson Report 1, no. 2 (1997): 24.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The major adaptations of all of Conan Doyle's literary works are fully covered here, as is a 1927 one-reel documentary in which the author talks about his work and his psychic beliefs. The focus is on how faithful each adaptation is to the author's own work and the overall effectiveness of the film.
2721. ———. "Review--The Case Files of Sherlock Holmes: The Speckled Band edited by Christopher Roden and Barbara Roden." The Holmes & Watson Report 1, no. 3 (1997): 28.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2722. Burr, Ty. "Discovering Columbus." Entertainment Weekly, no. 219 (1994): 64.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews several motion pictures created by Chris Columbus, with mention of his screenplay Young Sherlock Holmes.
2723. ———. "Video; (Cover story)." Entertainment Weekly, no. 255/256 (1995): 132.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a list of the best and worst videos of 1994. Billy Wilder's The Private Life of Sherlock Holmes is listed under the "Honor Roll" category.
2724. Burrows, Lynette. "Britain's Cultural Conspiracy?" Human Life Review 26, no. 2/3 (2000): 99.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Looks at the concerns of the book The Sex Change Society: Feminised Britain Neutered Mate, by Melanie Phillips, regarding the culture of divorce and illegitimacy in Great Britain. Includes

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

a passing reference to Holmes. "...However, it would not take Sherlock Holmes to work out that with homosexuals at 2% of the population and committed feminists at probably about the same, they are far too few in number to have wrought such havoc on public life unless there was some other power using them as a front...."

2725. Bush, Ronald. "T.S. Eliot and the Cultural Divide (review)." Modernism/modernity 12, no. 1 (2005): 198-200.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of T. S. Eliot and the Cultural Divide . David E. Chinitz. Chicago, IL: University of Chicago Press, 2003. Pp. x + 264. $35.00 (cloth). Doyle and Holmes mentioned in quotation. "...He was always promising to attempt a serious critical evaluation of the detective story, but he probably failed, as he did in his essay on Kipling, to find the right tools for dissecting what, being merely good, was the enemy of the best. He admired Conan Doyle's Sherlock Holmes stories but did not see how they could be literature From popular art he did not expect too much...."
2726. Bush, Vanessa, Daren Fonda, Andy Lewis, and Sora Song. "Life & Times." Life 22, no. 7 (1999): 43.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents news briefs relating to people as of June 1999. Includes a passing reference to Holmes under the "Crime" heading. "...The 18 eerily realistic dioramas (among them: a dark bathroom, a disheveled bedroom) were built in the '30s and '40s by a New Hampshire socialite fascinated with Sherlock Holmes and unsolved crimes..."
2727. Butler, Allen. "Sherlock Holmes and Euclid's Fifth Postulate." Canadian Holmes 22, no. 2 (1998): 24-25.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2728. Butler, Anthony. "Sherlock Holmes and the Relaxing Factor." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 27, no. 4 (2006): 149.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2729. ———. "Sherlock Holmes in Tibet." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 23, no. 4 (1998): 123-125.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2730. Butler, Eamonn, Madsen Pirie, and Mensa. The Sherlock Holmes IQ book. 1st Carroll & Graf ed. New York: Carroll & Graf Publishers, 1996.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 96020656 //
2731. Butler, Tamara. "An Opened Grave: Sherlock Holmes Investigates His Ultimate Case." Library Journal 131, no. 18 (2006): 62-62.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "An Opened Grave: Sherlock Holmes Investigates His Ultimate Case," by L. Frank James.
2732. Byfield, Eli. "Bad news Ralph." Report / Newsmagazine (National Edition) 29, no. 8 (2002): 24.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses taxation on tobacco products and liquor under the political leadership of Premier Ralph Klein in Alberta. Passing reference to the Sherlock Holmes Pub in West Edmonton Mall.
2733. Byfield, Virginia. "The man who created Holmes." Alberta Report / Newsmagazine 23, no. 20 (1996): 39.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'Conan Doyle,' by Michael Coren.
2734. Byrne, Alex. "How Hard Are the Sceptical Paradoxes?" Nous 38, no. 2 (2004): 299-325.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...We do not consider sceptical hypotheses in everyday life, but the sceptic charges that in this respect we are like detectives who have understandably overlooked a bizarre but powerful rival explanation of the evidence--say, as in Conan Doyle's 'The Lion's Mane,' that the victim died in an accidental encounter with a large jellyfish...."
2735. Byrne, Bob. "Sherlock Holmes and the Case of Ineffable Twaddle." The Holmes & Watson Report 6, no. 5 (2002): 46-52.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2736. Byrne, John A., and Ben Elgin. "Cisco Behind the Hype. (Cover story)." Business Week, no. 1/21 (2002): 54-61.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article deals with the financial woes facing Cisco amid questions surrounding its aggressive accounting practices. Inset includes reference to Holmes. "Howard Schilit, a former American University accounting professor, has been dubbed 'the Sherlock Holmes of accounting.' As the director of the Maryland-based Center for Financial Research & Analysis, he and his team of forensic accountants attempt to unravel financial results for major investors. But Cisco's latest quarterly results confused even him. If the most prominent forensic accountant couldn't get it right, what chance do investors have?"
2737. Byrne, Terry. "Uncovering the mystery behind the Holmes-Watson relationship." The Boston Globe, September 28, 2007: E5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Sherlock Holmes and his faithful friend Dr. Watson are the literary equivalent of Batman and Robin, a dynamic duo everyone knows. But the cornerstone of 'The Secret of Sherlock Holmes,' a stage drama about the two sleuths, is how well they know each other. Dave Demke plays Watson in Shakespeare & Company's US premiere of 'The Secret of Sherlock Holmes,' which starts previews tonight....The play will probably attract fans of the Conan Doyle stories, the Rathbone films, and the British TV series starring Jeremy Brett....'The Secret of Sherlock Holmes' was commissioned by Brett, who played Holmes in the 1980s TV series with such brittle brilliance he is considered the definitive Holmes of his generation. To honor the Holmes centenary in 1987, Brett asked series writer Jeremy Paul to create a new script, with dialogue taken almost exclusively from Conan Doyle's original stories. Brett and Edward Hardwicke (who played Doctor Watson to Brett's Holmes on TV), performed the roles in the play, which references many of the crimes Holmes and Watson solved but ultimately focuses on the friendship between the two men...."
2738. Cable, Harold. "Big Red Riding Hood." Plays 56, no. 5 (1997): 13.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents the play 'Big Red Riding Hood,' by Harold Cable. Includes multiple references to Holmes.
2739. Cabrera Infante, G. Holy smoke. Woodstock, New York: Overlook Press, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 96049493; Scuttlebutt June 1998 // "A fascinating, expert, and humorous discussion of the history of cigars (and cigarettes and pipes) with occasional references to the Canon."
2740. ———. Puro humo. Madrid: Alfaguara, 2000.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2001378236. Includes filmography (p. 495-503) // "A fascinating, expert, and humorous discussion of the history of cigars (and cigarettes and pipes) with occasional references to the Canon."
2741. Cadwallader, Sharon, and Patrick O. Chapin. Cookie McCorkle and the case of the crooked key, (An Avon Camelot book). New York: Avon Books, 1993.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 92097473 // Cookie McCorkle and her friend Walter work on a case that has been unsolved for more than 100 years, one that involves strange noises in the middle of the night and a light burning in a house with no electricity
2742. ———. Cookie McCorkle and the case of the mystery map, (An Avon Camelot book). New York: Avon Books, 1993.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 93090225 //
2743. Cagnat, Jean-Pierre. "Drawing -- 'How are you? You have been in New Mexico, I Perceive'." Shoso-In Bulletin 5, no. (1995): 7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2744. ———. "Drawing -- 'The Editor'." Shoso-In Bulletin 3, no. (1993): 98.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2745. ———. "Drawings -- 'A Visit at my Great-Uncle, Horace Vernet'." Shoso-In Bulletin 13, no. (2003): 47-54.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2746. ———. "Drawings -- 'Baker Street Irregulars Dinner 1993'." Shoso-In Bulletin 3, no. (1993): 23-28.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2747. ———. "Drawings -- 'Baker Street Irregulars Dinner 1994'." Shoso-In Bulletin 4, no. (1994): 47-50.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2748. ———. "Drawings -- 'Baker Street Irregulars Dinner 1996'." Shoso-In Bulletin 6, no. (1996): 93-96.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2749. ———. "Drawings -- 'Baker Street Irregulars Dinner 1999'." Shoso-In Bulletin 9, no. (1999): 93.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2750. ———. "Drawings -- 'Barbizon'." Shoso-In Bulletin 8, no. (1998): 121-124.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2751. ———. "Drawings -- 'Montpelier 1993'." Shoso-In Bulletin 4, no. (1994): 15-18.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2752. ———. "Drawings -- 'Some Graves in the Churchyard of Pere Lachaise'." Shoso-In Bulletin 10, no. (2000): 24-25.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2753. ———. "Drawings -- 'The Unauthorized Pictures What I Discovered'." Shoso-In Bulletin 11, no. (2001): 127-130.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2754. ———. "Drawings -- 'Thirty Minutes at the Monument'." Shoso-In Bulletin 7, no. (1997): 140-141.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2755. ———. "For John Bennett Shaw, 7th October 1994." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 4 (1994): 244.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Memorial cartoon for Shaw with the caption "How are you John? You have been in Sante Fe, I perceive."
2756. ———. "Impressions of the BSI Dinner, 1993." Baker Street Miscellanea, no. 71 (1992): 22-23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2757. Cagnat, Jean-Pierre, Christilla Cagnat, Wladimir Bogomoletz, Nissa Bogomoletz, and Thierry Saint-Joanis. It is always a joy to meet an American, a Briton, a Japanese, a Canadian, a Swiss. Paris: Mycroft's Brother, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Jan 2001. // "Jean-Pierre Cagnat is a splendid French illustrator and political cartoonist, and he has been attending Sherlockian gatherings for 15 years, and of course rendering what he has seen in his unique style. His tour 'around the world of Sherlock Holmes' is now available, in full color and with text in English..."
2758. Cagnat, Jean-Pierre, and Société Sherlock Holmes de France. Calendrier 2009. [Paris]: [Société Sherlock Holmes de France], 2009.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 30 x 21 cm. Illustrations de Jean-Pierre Cagnat (SSHF, BSI). Spiral bound at top edge, middle when opened. "Imprime a Paris en 50 exemplaires." Signed and dated on cover by illustrator. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2759. Cahill, Bryon. "Michael Chabon: A writer with many faces." Writing 27, no. 6 (2005): 16-19.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article focuses on writer Michael Chabon and includes a reference to Holmes. "...I asked him if he could pinpoint a time in his life when he knew that he wanted to be a writer. He said that when he was just 10 years old, he had to write a short story for a class assignment. The result was a tale about Sherlock Holmes. It was a grand success, receiving an A and flattering kudos from his parents. Interestingly, 30 prolific years later, Chabon's most recent book, The Final Solution, is a novella centered on the character of Holmes as an old man (though the author never actually names the famous detective)...."
2760. Cahill, Tim. "Modern immaturity." Men's Health 12, no. 8 (1997): 60.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a narrative about the maturity of an adolescent with passing references to Doyle and Holmes. "...About the same time, I came upon The Lost World, a book by Arthur Conan Doyle, the man who created Sherlock Holmes. The book was about an area of Venezuela where great coffinlike mountains rose several thousand feet above the surrounding grassy plain. Conan Doyle's character, Professor Challenger, travels to this area--the lost world--because he believes dinosaurs may have survived atop the highest of these mountains. Hey, wait a minute: It occurred to me that Angel Falls plummets from the flat-topped summit of one of those dinosaur mountains. The local Indians call these mountains tepuis, and the highest waterfall in the world forms near the summit of Ayan Tepui, which was, hey again, not far from Mount Roraima, the tepui Conan Doyle probably wrote about in The Lost World. And so my dream, one rainy afternoon in my 15th year, was to travel to Mount Roraima. and climb that bugger...."
2761. Cairns, John. "Sustainability, Exceptionalism, and Exemptionalism." Ecosystem Health 7, no. 3 (2001): 147-154.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...As fictional detective Sherlock Holmes is reputed to have said (his apprentice quotes him on p. 300 of King 1996), 'When faced with the unthinkable one chooses the merely impossible.'"
2762. Cairo, Robert F., Jr. "From South Africa, I Perceive." Baker Street West 17, no. 2 (2001): 14-17.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2763. ———. "How Did Watson Meet His Literary Agent?" Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 52, no. 1 (2002): 37-38.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2764. ———. "The Misidentified Poison." Baker Street West 15, no. 2 (1999): 21-22.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2765. ———. "The Secret of the Arcadia Mixture." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 50, no. 1 (2000): 22-25.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2766. Cairo, Robert F. Jr et al. "Wigmore Street Postings." Baker Street West 16, no. 1 (2000): 4-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2767. Calamai, Peter. "The Birth of a Relatively Special Theory." Canadian Holmes 29, no. 4 (2006): 5-7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2768. ———. "Despatches from the Moor: Newspapers and The Hound of the Baskervilles." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 51, no. 4 (2001): 5-11.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2769. ———. "For Sherlockians, one's masterful, the other's a cardboard cutout." The Ottawa Citizen, March 20, 1994: C3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of The Beekeeper's Apprentice Or; On the Segregation of the Queen By Laurie R. King, St. Martin's Press; 347 pages; $31.99; and The Case of Emily V. By Keith Oatley, Reed Books; 407 pages; paperback; $17.99. "Everything Laurie King does right, [Keith Oatley] does wrong...."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2770. ———. "A Gasogene at the Shaw Festival -- and a find in Australia." Canadian Holmes 21, no. 3 (1998): 36-38.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2771. ———. "Holmes's attraction? Elementary." The Ottawa Citizen, September 16, 1995: B6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "In 1891, when Sherlock Holmes plunged over Reichenbach Falls in Switzerland to his seeming death, the news didn't reach the London newspapers for four days. When Jeremy Brett, his most memorable portrayer, died this week in London, the news didn't make papers here for three days. Appearances, however, are deceiving. Brett's death may have seen print in the New York Times and the Citizen only on Thursday, but it flashed around the world via the Internet at 3:28 p.m Tuesday. And the recipients of that first message, a group called the Hounds of the Internet, reacted just as Londoners had a century earlier. They put on black armbands of mourning...."
2772. ———. "'I have heard something of the kind'." Canadian Holmes 27, no. 3 (2004): 4-7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2773. ———. "Immoral, odious and unethical." Beaver 77, no. 4 (1997): 44.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book Profits & Politics: Beaverbrook and the Gilded Age of Canadian Finance by Gregory P. Marchildon. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...Anyone wanting to know how a not-very-promising youth from New Brunswick was transformed within 10 years into the first financier in the Michael Milken mold -- How Max Did the Trick, as Arthur Conan Doyle would have titled it -- will find the answers in this book..."
2774. ———. "In Memoriam: Wayne Bradley Swift, May 9, 1927-January 15, 2001." Canadian Holmes 25, no. 2 (2001): 41-42.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2775. ———. "'It's Their Birthday Too-Yeah'." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 53, no. 4 (2003): 15-21.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2776. ———. "Letter to the Editor, 'Poston & Marylebone'." Canadian Holmes 24, no. 3 (2001): 42-43.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2777. ———. "Letter to the Editor, 'That Bull Pup'." Canadian Holmes 22, no. 3 (1999): 41.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2778. ———. "Masterly inactivity" the Canadian Baskervilles : the country's first Sherlockian scion, 1945 to 1961. Rev. 2nd printing, Dec. 2001 ed, (Bootmakers of Toronto occasional papers). Shelburne, Ont, Sauk City, Wis: Battered Silicon Dispatch Box, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references //
2779. ———. "The Missing Missives of Colonel Moriarty." Canadian Holmes 19, no. 4 (1996): 5-7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2780. ———. "The Papers of Lasting Impressions: A Peek in Mrs. Hudson's Scrapbook." Canadian Holmes 23, no. 3 (2000): 4-30.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2781. ———. "Tracking Down the Authentic Sherlock Holmes." The Toronto Star, January 24, 1999: 1.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Baffled by the talk of fellow passengers on an elevator at the fabled Algonquin Hotel, the 30-something woman blurted out, 'Are you here for some sort of conference?' 'Yes,' replied Dr. George Vanderburgh, a family physician from Shelburne, northwest of Toronto. 'We're all Sherlockians, people who admire Sherlock Holmes.' The woman scrunched her brow. 'You mean, you sit around and read the

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

stories together?" Not quite. This annual gathering of several hundred devoted Sherlockians every January in New York is much more an exercise in contemporary idolatry than a study of Victorian literature...."

2782. ———. "Wigmore Street Postbag, Membership Issues." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 25, no. 2 (2001): 77-78.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2783. Calamai, Peter, and Ralph Willsey. "London Daily Chronicle." Canadian Holmes 18, no. 4 (1995): 28-29.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2784. Calamai, Peter, Peter H. Wood, Trevor S. Raymond, and Cameron Hollyer. "'Bookshelf' Reviews of As It Might Have Been, The Final Solution, The Adventure of the Awful Apparition, City of Ice, Call Me True: A Biography of True Davidson and The Baker Street Irregulars in The War of the Worlds Mystery." Canadian Holmes 23, no. 2 (1999): 31-36.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2785. Calhoon, Kenneth S. "The detective and the witch: Local knowledge and the aesthetic pre-history of detection." Comparative Literature 47, no. 4 (1995): 307.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses the predilection among certain narrative theorists for the classical detective story. Includes multiple references to Doyle and Holmes.
2786. Callan, Paul. "House of Horror on Welsh Border; Hotel of the Baskervilles." The Mirror, July 31, 2001: 6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Baskerville Hall suddenly looms, grey and gloomy, from the end of an avenue of towering trees. There is an eerie, even forbidding look about the big house - as though it has witnessed something terrible. It is not too surprising. Baskerville Hall - now the Baskerville Hall Hotel, near the Welsh border village of Clyro, and Hay-on-Wye - was the real life country house that featured in Sherlock Holmes's most famous adventure, The Hound of the Baskervilles. The story, which made its author, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, a rich man, is 100 years old...."
2787. Callen, Anthea. "Doubles and Desire: Anatomies of masculinity in the later nineteenth century." Art History 26, no. 5 (2003): 669-699.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article focuses on anatomies of masculinity in the later nineteenth century. Contains references to Doyle and Holmes.
2788. Callister, T. A., Jr., and Nicholas C. Burbules. "Just Give It To Me Straight: A Case Against Filtering The Internet." Phi Delta Kappan 85, no. 9 (2004): 648-655.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Notes that Internet filtering prevented students and library patrons from seeing such things as "the complete texts of famous works, including the Bible, Moby-Dick, The Book of Mormon, and The Complete Adventures of Sherlock Holmes....Needless to say, a great deal is sacrificed when a young person cannot access information about Marx, anti-hate speech, Sherlock Holmes, or the Declaration of Independence...."
2789. Callow, Simon. Orson Welles. 1st American ed. New York: Viking, 1996.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 95037138. Includes bibliographical references and index. Includes filmography. Contents: [1] The road to Xanadu //
2790. ———. Orson Welles hello Americans. London: Jonathan Cape, 2006.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2006282090. Includes bibliographical references (p. 461-489) and index. Includes lists of stage productions, radio broadcasts, films, writings, and sound recordings (p. 445-460) //
2791. ———. Orson Welles the road to Xanadu. London: Jonathan Cape, 1995.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references (p. 611-613) and index. Includes filmography: p. 584. Scuttlebutt Apr 1996 // "An excellent biography of a man known best to many Sherlockians as the answer to a trivia-quiz question (name an actor who played both Sherlock Holmes and Prof. Moriarty). The book

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

covers only the first 26 years of Welles' life and career, and there was plenty to cover (at the age of 18 he played Mercutio to Basil Rathbone's Romeo, and by the time he was 26 he had broadcast his alarming 'The War of the Worlds' and launched his film career with 'Citizen Kane'). Callow is himself a director and an actor (he played Inspector Lestrade in Charlton Heston's 'The Crucifer of Blood' for TNT cable in 1991), and offers splendid insight into what made Welles such a phenomenon."

2792. ———. Orson Welles the road to Xanadu. New York: Penguin USA, 1997.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Mar 1997 // "An excellent biography of a man known best to many Sherlockians as the answer to a trivia-quiz question (name an actor who played both Sherlock Holmes and Prof. Moriarty). The book covers only the first 26 years of Welles' life and career, and there was plenty to cover (at the age of 18 he played Mercutio to Basil Rathbone's Romeo, and by the time he was 26 he had broadcast his alarming 'The War of the Worlds' and launched his film career with 'Citizen Kane'). Callow is himself a director and an actor (he played Inspector Lestrade in Charlton Heston's 'The Crucifer of Blood' for TNT cable in 1991), and offers splendid insight into what made Welles such a phenomenon."

2793. Caluori, Marco. "Welcome Address to the Sherlock Holmes Society." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 27, no. 3 (2005): 124.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2794. Camargo, Graciliano. "Drawing -- 'Sherlock Holmes'." Shoso-In Bulletin 10, no. (2000): 182.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2795. ———. "Drawing -- 'Sherlock Holmes'." Shoso-In Bulletin 10, no. (2000): 190.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2796. Cameron, Amy. "Books." Maclean's 116, no. 5 (2003): 50.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book The Little Friend, by Donna Tartt and includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Although her book is for adults, Tartt wanted to recapture that 'really deep, dreamlike state of childhood reading -- breathlessness and having your heart pound.' So the author, who wrote both her novels in longhand, returned to well-crafted favourites of her youth, such as Treasure Island and Sherlock Holmes to create the right atmosphere for The Little Friend...."

2797. Cameron, Lucinda. "Sherlock Holmes and Amazing Case of the Doctor Who Inspired Him; Conan Doyle Archive Material to Go on show for First Time." Daily Mail (London), April 17, 2006: 28.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses new exhibit in Edinburgh. "'A fantastically observant man', he was a doctor rather than a detective, though he did wear a deerstalker hat and cloak. Dr Joseph Bell even used a magnifying glass, although it is not clear whether he ever smoked a pipe. Now, fascinating archive material about to go on public display for the first time has revealed just how much of an inspiration he was for Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's famous detective...."

2798. Cammarata, J. R. Flat at 221B Baker Street : Holmes meets Watson. Denver, CO: Outskirts Press, Inc., 2006.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 22 cm. //

2799. Campanella, Linda. "Less Is More." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 53, no. 1 (2003): 46-48.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2800. Campbell, J. R., Charles V. Prepolec, and Philip Cornell. Curious incidents 2 being a collection of the further adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Calgary, AB: Mad for a mystery, 2003.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: Introduction: Water, water, everywhere, by Charles V. Prepolec -- The puzzle of the vanishing laboratory, By Peter Calamai -- Art in the blood, revealed, by Regina Stinson -- The missing coppertop, by J. R. Campbell -- The adventure of the hanging tyrant, by M. J. Elliott -- Green and red trappings, by Valerie J. Patterson -- The problem of the Sussex scalping, by David N. Cisler -- Mrs. Farintosh and the opal tiara, by James R. Stefanie //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2801. ———. Curious incidents being a collection of the further adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Calgary: Mad for a Mystery Publications, 2002.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: The case of Vamberry, the wine merchant / by James R. Stefanie -- The adventure of the lodger's secret / by Kristin Vichich -- A slaying in suburbia / by G. Kelly -- The first mate's jacket / by J.R. Campbell -- The case of Lady Sannox / by Peter H. Wood -- The adventure of the tired captain / by Bob Byrne // "Offers six new pastiches (six Sherlockian and one Gillettean) and artwork by Philip Cornell."
2802. Campbell, Karen. "The Dying Detective: A Musical Interlude." Canadian Holmes 30, no. 2 (2006): 14-15.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2803. ———. "Letter to the Editor, 'Bishop Sherlock'." Canadian Holmes 25, no. 1 (2001): 45.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2804. ———. "The Old Vermissa Mine." Canadian Holmes 29, no. 4 (2006): 31-32.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2805. ———. "Television." Canadian Holmes 24, no. 2 (2000): 39-44.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2806. Campbell, Karen, and Craig Brtnik. "Bad Dog Howling: A Musical Interlude." Canadian Holmes 30, no. 3 (2007): 32-33.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2807. Campbell, Mary. "The Disappearance of Lady Frances Carfax." Canadian Holmes 23, no. 1 (1999): 6-8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2808. ———. "A Grace Before Eating." Canadian Holmes 24, no. 3 (2001): 11.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2809. Campbell, Mark. "Hot on Sherlock Holmes's Trail; Mark Campbell Sniffs Out the London Haunts of Conan Doyle's Legendary Sleuth." The Independent (London), October 27, 2001: 7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "One of the most famous literary addresses in London is 221b Baker Street. There's only one problem - the cosy rooms of amateur detective Sherlock Holmes and his friend, John H Watson, don't actually exist. The 'real' 221b, subsumed by the head office of the Abbey National, is not a worthy place of veneration. However, down the street in the Sherlock Holmes Museum..., you'll find a mock 221b frontage and a frighteningly accurate rendition of the dark and cluttered Victorian interior of Conan Doyle's stories. But for every fictitious address in the Canon (the official term for the four novels and 56 short stories featuring Holmes and Watson), you'll find plenty of bona fide locations in the capital. To begin with, turn the corner into Wigmore Street and you pass the post office that Holmes magically deduced Watson had visited in The Sign of Four (1890)...."
2810. Campbell, Mary. "The Hound in Hamilton, A Review." Canadian Holmes 20, no. 3 (1997): 43-44.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2811. ———. "Images of Mycroft." Canadian Holmes 29, no. 4 (2006): 16-30.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2812. ———. "January 1999 The Bootmakers of Toronto Celebrate Sherlock Holmes, A Photo Album." Canadian Holmes 22, no. 4 (1999): 23-27.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2813. Campbell, Mark. Sherlock Holmes, (Pocket essentials). Harpenden: Pocket Essentials, 2001.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2814. Campbell, Mary. "Sherlock Holmes and Scotland Yard." Canadian Holmes 26, no. 4 (2003): 28-32.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2815. ———. "Sherlock Holmes and Scotland Yard." Canadian Holmes 27, no. 1 (2003): 23-29.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2816. ———. "Sherlock Holmes: Diabetic." Canadian Holmes 21, no. 3 (1998): 4-19.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2817. ———. "Subject: Hounds -- 1." Canadian Holmes 18, no. 4 (1995): 25-36.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2818. Campbell, Mary, and Bob Coghill. "Footprints of FOTH, A Reminiscence." Canadian Holmes 25, no. 2 (2001): 4-12.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2819. Campbell, Mark, and Richard Lancelyn Green. The pocket essential Sherlock Holmes, (Pocket essentials.Literature). Harpenden: Pocket Essentials, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. Includes bibliographical references. // "Provides an interesting introduction to the world of Sherlock Holmes for newcomers (a 'modern equivalent of the old Baedeker Guide,' Richard Lancelyn Green suggests in his introduction), with discussion of each of the 60 stories, an annotated list of actors who have played Holmes, and other reference material.
2820. Campbell, Patrick. "Author! Author! A Selection of Pseudoepigraphical Sherlockinisms." Canadian Holmes 22, no. 1 (1998): 26-28.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2821. ———. "Beyond the Orontes." Canadian Holmes 20, no. 1 (1996): 13-16.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2822. ———. "Boxes Within Boxes." Canadian Holmes 17, no. 2 (1993): 26-28.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2823. ———. "The Bull's-Eye Lantern of 1877." Canadian Holmes 23, no. 2 (1999): 12-19.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2824. ———. "The Curious Case of the Canonical Commas." Canadian Holmes 29, no. 3 (2006): 17-19.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2825. ———. "Death in the Coop? A quiz on 'The Adventure of Black Peter'." Canadian Holmes 30, no. 3 (2007): 49.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2826. ———. "Grant Allen: The Bootmaker Connection." Canadian Holmes 26, no. 3 (2003): 21-23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2827. ———. "In Search of Troopship Orontes." Canadian Holmes 18, no. 1 (1994): 6-10.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2828. ———. "Letter to the Editor, 'Cricketeers, Wickets and Emperor Trajan'." Canadian Holmes 22, no. 3 (1999): 40.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2829. ———. "Letter to the Editor, 'Hones'." Canadian Holmes 20, no. 4 (1997): 32.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2830. ———. "Letter to the Editor, 'Old School Number'." Canadian Holmes 18, no. 4 (1995): 42.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2831. ———. "Letter to the Editor, 'That New Hound (2)'." Canadian Holmes 24, no. 3 (2001): 43.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2832. ———. Shades of Sherlock. Shelburne, Ont: Battered Silicon Dispatch Box, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: cn 97930176 //
2833. ———. The tides of the Wight the gentlemen go by. Shelburne, Ont, Sauk City, Wisconsin: Battered Silicon Dispatch Box, 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references //
2834. ———. "Wigmore Street Postbag, Bahrain Pub." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 23, no. 2 (1997): 66-68.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2835. ———. "Wigmore Street Postbag, Bletchley Matters." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 24, no. 2 (1999): 76.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2836. ———. "Wigmore Street Postbag, Holroyd Holographs." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 24, no. 1 (1998): 36.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2837. Campbell, Patty. "The young adult perplex: visiting the locale of The Final Problem." Wilson Library Bulletin 62, no. (1987): 66-67.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2838. Campbell, Patrick, Catherine Cooke, Barbara Roden, Dayna McCausland, and Peter E. Blau. "Letters to the Editor, 'Still Having Fun'." Canadian Holmes 18, no. 1 (1994): 47-48.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2839. Campbell, Paul J. "Reviews." Mathematics Magazine 69, no. 1 (1996): 76.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the article "Sherlock Holmes: Master Problem Solver," by Hunter Ballew in the November 1994 edition of the Mathematics Teacher.
2840. Campbell-Lee, Sally A. "The future of red cell alloimmunization." Transfusion 47, no. 11 (2007): 1959-1960.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article discusses various reports published within the issue including the case-control study which examines potential clinical predictors of alloimmunization in red blood cells (RBC) transfusion, and another one about the concept of animal models of hemolysis. The article opens with a quote from Doyle: "The past and the present are within the field of my inquiry, but what a man may do in the future is a hard question to answer." No other references to Doyle or Holmes.
2841. Canevet, Sébastien. L'affaire du terrible assassin d'après un inédit du Dr Watson, (Collection les inédits de Sherlock Holmes). [S.l.]: Pareiasaure Theromorphe Editions, 1995.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2842. Cannadine, David. "John Buchan." American Scholar 67, no. 3 (1998): 85.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Examines the work of author John Buchan. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...When Buchan wrote The Thirty-Nine Steps, stories dealing with spies, espionage, great-power rivalries, and worldwide conspiracies had already been pioneered and popularized by such writers as William Le Queux, Erskine Childers, and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle in the era of growing international tensions and 'invasion scares' before 1914...."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2843. Cannon, Peter. "The Magic of Martin Gardner." Publishers Weekly 253, no. 38 (2006): 39-40.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article features author Martin Gardner. To his fans, Gardner, a 91-year-old widower, is revered as a genius. He has written or edited more than 70 books. A lover of Sherlock Holmes, the Oz books and other literary classics, he does not care for poetry that lacks rhyme or meter. He has used a literary agent only once on his first book, In the Name of Science. His book, The New Ambidextrous Universe, is an example of how Gardner has challenged mainstream as well as fringe science.
2844. ———. "The Problem of the Surly Servant (Book Review)." Publishers Weekly 248, no. 28 (2001): 51.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'The Problem of the Surly Servant: A Charles Dodgson/Arthur Conan Doyle Mystery,' by Roberta Rogow.
2845. Cannon, Peter, and Jeff Zaleski. "Mystery Notes." Publishers Weekly 249, no. 12 (2002): 46.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a list of several mystery books. They Died in Vain: Overlooked, Underappreciated and Forgotten Mystery Novels, edited by Jim Huang; The Sir Arthur Conan Doyle Reader: From Sherlock Holmes to Spiritualism, edited by Jeffrey Meyers; Angels of Darkness: A Drama in Three Acts, by Arthur Conan Doyle.
2846. Cannon, P. H., and Jason C. Eckhardt. The Lovecraft papers. United States: GuildAmerica Books, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: Pulptime -- Scream for Jeeves. Added Title: Pulptime. Added Title: Scream for Jeeves //
2847. Cannon, P. H., and J. C. Eckhardt. Scream for Jeeves a parody. 1st ed. New York: Wodecraft Press, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 96224120 //
2848. Canton, Rolf J. The Moriarty principle an irregular look at Sherlock Holmes. 1st ed. Lakeville, Mn: Galde Press, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 96040346; Scuttlebutt Jul 1997 // Rolf J. Canton has contributed often to the newsletter of The Norwegian Explorers, and his essays and poems have been collected here; along with new material that includes the scripts for two radio plays and a fine assortment of photographs taken at Explorers' meetings and conferences."
2849. Cantor, Murray. "The Eternal Feminine Rides Again." Baker Street Miscellanea, no. 70 (1992): 25-27.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2850. Cape, G. S. "Addiction, stigma and movies." Acta Psychiatrica Scandinavica 107, no. 3 (2003): 163-169.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a reference to Holmes. "...One of the earliest movies (The Mystery of the Leaping Fish, supervised by D.W. Griffith, 1916) depicting drug use shows the antics of Douglas Fairbanks, Sr. as private detective Cokennyday (a parody of Sherlock Holmes) burying his face in a mountain of cocaine or injecting himself whenever his energy is waning...."
2851. Caplan, Lincoln, and Peter Annin. "And now, for the defense." Newsweek 125, no. 24 (1995): 70.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Holmes. Focuses on the lead defense lawyers in the Oklahoma City bombing case and asserts that they share tenacity, a flair for the theatrical and a strategy that puts the government, not their clients, on trial. Mike Tigar, attorney for Terry Nichols. "...Tigar, the Joseph D. JAmail Professor of Law at the University of Texas...had already quoted Shakespeare, the Bible and Sherlock Holmes at one preliminary hearing...."
2852. Caplan, Richard M. "Dr. Watson, Mr. Sherlock Holmes" the adventures of young Stamford and other Sherlockiana. Shelburne, Ont: Battered Silicon Dispatch Box, 1996.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references (p. 167); Scuttlebutt Feb 1997 // "Offers a fine demonstration of how much fun a Sherlockian can have mixing the Canon with an area of expertise: Caplan's area of expertise is dermatology, and he has over the years discussed that aspect of the Sherlock Holmes stories in articles in medical journals and in The Baker Street Journal, all reprinted here. But there is much more in this book: a series of letters from written by Young Stamford to his wife, from 1882 to 1913, and tells some fine stories about his travels and the people he meets (including Holmes and Watson, more than once)."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2853. Capolupo, Maria. "Review--Sherlock in Summer, The Mini Tonga Cruise--Part II." The Ritual, no. 22 (1998): 58-59.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2854. Caps, John. "Soundtracks 101." Film Comment 39, no. 6 (2003): 31.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Features several motion picture scores from 1933 to 2001, including "The Seven-Per-Cent Solution."
2855. Capuzzo, Mike. The Murder Room : the heirs of Sherlock Holmes gather to solve the world's most perplexing cold cases. New York: Gotham Books, 2010.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 24 cm. Contents: The connoisseurs of murder -- The man who got away with murder -- The knights of the Café Table -- A little child shall lead them -- Cops and robbers -- The man who saw dead people -- Shades of the dark knight -- Guardians of the city -- Cold eyes from the past -- On the trail of the assassin -- Death of a B-girl -- The visual detective -- The man with the bad stomach -- On the trail of the warlock -- The reluctant knight errant -- The perfect mass murder -- The mask of the invisible man -- The return of Vidocq -- The gathering of detectives -- Busted -- The detective of souls -- The death artist -- Dreams of Morpheus -- A case they can't let go -- The butcher of Cleveland -- Imploring God -- The end of the affair -- Catch me if you can -- The case of the shoeless corpse -- The case of the prodigal son -- The sage of Scotland Yard -- Think therefore on revenge -- Murder in the cathedral -- What I want to hear are handcuffs -- The consulting detectives -- Take me to the psychopath -- The stranger in Biddle House -- City of brotherly mayhem -- Wrath sweeter by far than the honeycomb -- The worst mother in history -- The boy who never died -- The eight babies called "it" -- Murder in triplicate -- From heaven to hell -- The descent -- In the world which will be renewed -- "Congratulations, you've found your killer" -- Interrogation -- The haunting of Mary -- The case of the missing face -- The killer angels -- The ghost -- The ninth circle of hell -- Death in the time of bananas -- The miracle on South Street -- Knights of the round tables. Includes bibliographical references. // Documents the efforts of the Vidocq Society, an elite trio of gifted investigators, to solve such notorious cold cases as those of JonBenet Ramsey, the Butcher of Cleveland, and Jack the Ripper, and details their work with the world's top forensic specialists.
2856. ———. The Murder Room : the heirs of Sherlock Holmes gather to solve the world's most perplexing cold cases. Waterville, ME: Thorndike Press, 2010.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- The connoisseurs of murder -- The man who got away with murder -- The knights of the Café Table -- A little child shall lead them -- Cops and robbers -- The man who saw dead people -- Shades of the dark knight -- Guardians of the city -- Cold eyes from the past -- On the trail of the assassin -- Death of a B-girl -- The visual detective -- The man with the bad stomach -- On the trail of the warlock -- The reluctant knight errant -- The perfect mass murder -- The mask of the invisible man -- The return of Vidocq -- The gathering of detectives -- Busted -- The detective of souls -- The death artist -- Dreams of Morpheus -- A case they can't let go -- The butcher of Cleveland -- Imploring God -- The end of the affair -- Catch me if you can -- The case of the shoeless corpse -- The case of the prodigal son -- The sage of Scotland Yard -- Think therefore on revenge -- Murder in the cathedral -- What I want to hear are handcuffs -- The consulting detectives -- Take me to the psychopath -- The stranger in Biddle House -- City of brotherly mayhem -- Wrath sweeter by far than the honeycomb -- The worst mother in history -- The boy who never died -- The eight babies called "it" -- Murder in triplicate -- From heaven to hell -- The descent -- In the world which will be renewed -- "Congratulations, you've found your killer" -- Interrogation -- The haunting of Mary -- The case of the missing face -- The killer angels -- The ghost -- The ninth circle of hell -- Death in the time of bananas -- The miracle on South Street -- Knights of the round tables. Includes bibliographical references. // Documents the efforts of the Vidocq Society, an elite trio of gifted investigators, to solve such notorious cold cases as those of JonBenet Ramsey, the Butcher of Cleveland, and Jack the Ripper, and details their work with the world's top forensic specialists.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2857. Cardwell, James Moss. Mrs. Hudson?-- Mrs. Hudson!! a conceptual narrative treatment of an original musical. Shelburne, Ont, Sauk City, Wisconsin: Battered Silicon Dispatch Box, 2000.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2858. Carey, Benedict. "Chance of a lifetime." Health 8, no. 3 (1994): 90.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports on pre-implantation genetic diagnosis which allows doctors to fertilize an egg in the laboratory and examine its genes before inserting it back to the uterus. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...For another, interpreting a PCR pattern--which looks a little like the bar code on a cereal box--requires knowledge, lots of practice, and, sometimes, a detective's intuitive eye. Where one doctor sees a normal pre-embryo, another may sense something out of whack. Where Dr. Watson sees only footprints, Sherlock Holmes sees a six-foot-tall man who walks with a limp...."
2859. Carey, John. "Outwitted by his own creation." The Sunday Times (London), August 26, 2007: 39.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of Conan Doyle: The Man Who Created Sherlock Holmes by Andrew Lycett and Arthur Conan Doyle: A Life in Letters edited by Daniel Stashower, Jon Lellenberg and Charles Foley.
2860. Carhart, Jo-Ann. "Multimedia Review." School Library Journal 52, no. 1 (2006): 80-81.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews of audio-visual materials including one with reference to Doyle and Holmes. Down the Rabbit Hole: An Echo Falls Mystery (unbar.). 6 cassettes. 8 hrs. Recorded Books. 2005. ISBN 1-4193-5747-6. $37.75; read-along pack: $59.95. Gr 6-9 "Peter Abrahams' splendid contemporary mystery (Laura Geringer Book, 2005) is ripe with allusions to Lewis Carroll' Alice's Adventures in Wonderland, Arthur Conan Doyle's stories about Sherlock Holmes, and Alfred Hitchcock's Dial M for Murder. It all stars when 13-year-old Ingrid Levin-Hill's mother is late picking her up from the orthodontist and Ingrid decides to walk to soccer practice. She gets lost and ends up on the wrong side of town in the house of a well-known poor woman, Cracked-up Katie. Katie is murdered shortly after Ingrid heads home, leaving her red soccer cleats behind. Ingrid isn't sure that the two men who are arrested actually committed the murder, so she becomes deeply entrenched in investigating what happened, while she tries to maintain her grades in math, get to soccer practice on time, learn her role as Alice in the Prescott Player's production of Alice in Wonderland, and sort out how to act around Joey, her potential first boyfriend and the police chief's son. Ingrid is an impressive heroine who learns that there are consequences to her actions and that her extremely busy parents and quirky grandfather care about her very much. This is the first young adult novel by Edgar Award nominated Peter Abrahams. His third person account is rich with red herrings and pop culture references. This works well as an audiobook because actress Mandy Siegfried hits just the right note in portraying Ingrid and her varied cast of supporting characters. Tension builds throughout the story as Ingrid's dread becomes palpable. The denouement is a masterful mix of derring-do and smart thinking. Although this mystery is solved, there is a feeling that a sequel might follow. A good choice for those who like Sammy Keyes and Nancy Drew mysteries."
2861. Carhart, Jo-Ann, and Phyllis Levy Mandell. "Down the Rabbit Hole: An Echo Falls Mystery." School Library Journal 52, no. 1 (2006): 80-81.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "Down the Rabbit Hole: An Echo Falls Mystery," by Peter Abrahams. Includes a passing reference to Doyle and Holmes. "Peter Abrahams' splendid contemporary mystery... is ripe with allusions to Lewis Carroll's Alice's Adventures in Wonderland, Arthur Conan Doyle's stories about Sherlock Holmes, and Alfred Hitchcock's Dial M for Murder...."
2862. Carlile, David. "The 'Hamish' Question." The Nezire Zanmai International 1, no. (1991): 11.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2863. ———. "The Notorious Wilson - A Literary Influence?" The Nezire Zanmai International 2, no. (1992): 58.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2864. ———. "Pensive Holmes (illustration)." Shoso-In Bulletin 9, no. (1999): 123.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2865. Carlin, John. "A little bit of Che, a little bit of Posh." New Statesman 130, no. 4529 (2001): 14.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on the virtual warfare launched by Subcomandante Marcos or Rafael Guillen, leader of the Zapatista National Liberation Army in Mexico. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...French, Italian and Spanish intellectuals make pilgrimages to see Mexico's answer to Robin Hood. They marvel at his wise words; thrill to his masked Zorro get-up, his Sherlock Holmes pipe..."
2866. Carlson, Larry A. "Isn't Justice Always Unfair?: The Detective in Southern Literature (Book)." Journal of American Culture 21, no. 2 (1998): 91.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'Isn't Justice Always Unfair?: The Detective in Southern Literature,' by J.K. Van Dover and John F. Jebb. Includes a passing reference to Holmes.
2867. Carlson, Scott. "Do-It-Yourself Journalism." Chronicle of Higher Education 50, no. 27 (2004): A48-A48.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on the collection of zines by several librarians in Minneapolis Community and Technical College in Minneapolis, Minnesota. Includes a reference to Doyle. "...Other zines in the college's collection are just plain odd. Totally amateur and absolutely earnest, Voices From Spirit Magazine caters to those who talk with the dead. The March 1988 issue includes an interview from beyond with Arthur Conan Doyle, which reads like a celebrity feature you might find in Entertainment Weekly. Nearly the entire interview goes by before the mediums bother to ask how Doyle is passing his time in the spirit world. 'I am a representative in our local parliament,' he replies...."
2868. Carlton, Michael. "Inside Yankee." Yankee 68, no. 3 (2004): 6-6.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Recounts the bird watching experience of a journalist in Highlands, Scotland. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "I was on assignment for the Los Angeles Times/Washington Post News Service, writing various stories from the U.K., ranging from Princess Diana's first trip to Balmoral, the magnificent country house of the Windsors, to interviewing the man who actually lived at 221b Baker Street, the fictional home of Sherlock Holmes...."
2869. Carmichael, Montgomery, and Otto Penzler. On the threshold of the chamber of horrors. 1st separate ed, (Mysterious Sherlock Holmes). New York: The Mysterious Bookshop, 2000.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 20 cm. "First limited edition limited to 221 copies"--t.p. verso. Originally published in: The Illustrated sporting and dramatic news, 27 Oct. 1894. "The great detective at Madame Tussaud's"--cover. Introduction by Otto Penzler. //
2870. Carnes, Mark C. Past imperfect history according to the movies. 1st ed, (A Henry Holt reference book). New York: H. Holt, 1995.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 95000354. Includes bibliographical references and index. Scuttlebutt Oct 1995 // "The contents include a four-page essay by David Cannadine on "Murder by Decree" (1979) that compares fact and fiction.
2871. Caron, Claude. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, 1859-1930 impérialisme, criminalité et société dans la littérature populaire, (Mémoires et thèses). Montréal: Université du Québec à Montréal, 2003.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Comprend des réf. bibliogr. Thesis/dissertation (deg). //
2872. Carpenter, Humphrey. "Give us a clue." The Sunday Times (London), November 12, 1995: 1.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of Michael Coren's biography of Doyle.
2873. Carr, Caleb. The Italian Secretary: A Further Adventure of Sherlock Holmes. New York: St. Martin's Paperbacks, 2006.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2874. Carr, Caleb, and Jon L. Lellenberg. The Italian secretary a further adventure of Sherlock Holmes. 1st Carroll & Graf ed. New York: Carroll & Graf, 2005.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Apr 2005. // "Brings Holmes and Watson to Edinburgh to assist Mycroft in defending Her Majesty against a plot that involves Holyrood and David Rizzio (who was Queen Mary's secretary and met his death at Holyrood. There's an afterword by Jon Lellenberg, who has hopes of some day reading a pastiche in which Sherlock Holmes meets Laszlo Kreizler."

2875. Carr, John Dickson. The curse of the bronze lamp. 2nd Carrol & Graf ed. New York: Carroll & Graf, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Aug 1997 // "The book is dedicated to Ellery Queen, with a cryptic reference to Mr. James Phillimore and his umbrella."

2876. ———. Kenan Dao'er di yi sheng. 1st ed, (Fu'ermosi tan an quan ji). Taibei Shi: Lian pu wen hua shi ye gu fen you xian gong si, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Cover title./ Translation of: The life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Kenan Daoer de yi sheng Yuehan Dikesheng Ka'er zhu ; Wang Zhiyi yi = The life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle / by John Dickson Carr. / Uniform Title: Life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Chinese // 2877. ———. The life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. New York: Barnes & Noble, 1994.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- "Bibliographical archives": p. 285-295 //

2878. ———. The Life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Princeton, NJ: Recording for the Blind & Dyslexic, 2007. Sound Recording Sound disc.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital, mono, ; 4 3/4 in. Originally published: New York : Carroll & Graf, 2003, c1949. 2nd Carroll & Graf trade paperback ed. Includes bibliographical references (p. 285-295). Distribution is restricted to RFB&D members who have a documented print disability such as a visual impairment, learning disability or other physical disability. // [This book] takes Doyle from his school days at Stonyhurst to Edinburgh University and eventually a medical practice at Southsea, where he invented the eccentric and brilliantly scientific criminal investigator Holmes.... [The book] also explores the private tragedy of Doyle's first marriage, his forays into politics, his infatuation with spiritualism, his literary ambitions, and intimate dinner-table conversations with friends like H.G. Wells and King Edward VII. -Back cover.

2879. Carr, John Dickson, and Daniel Stashower. The life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. 2nd Carroll & Graf ed. New York: Carroll & Graf, 2003.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes biographical references (p. 285-295) and index //

2880. Carraher, Philip J. The adventure of the New York Ripper a novel. West Conshohocken, PA: Infinity, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Terror is stalking women on the streets of New York City in 1893, taking lives in a manner reminiscent of the Jack the Ripper murders in London five years earlier. Is it a copycat murderer or has the killer made his way to New York City? Simon Hawkes (the alias used by Sherlock Holmes in New York) finds clues on both sides of the Atlantic 2881. ———. Sherlock Holmes : the adventure of the Dead Rabbits Society the lost reminiscence of John H. Watson, MD : a novel. Bloomington, Ind.: 1stBooks Library, 2001.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Oct 2001. // "Has Holmes in disguise in the United States during the Great Hiatus (without Watson, who managed nevertheless to write the story in 1908 and tuck it away for discovery now)."

2882. Carraher, Philip J., and Arthur Conan Doyle. Alias Simon Hawkes : further adventures of Sherlock Holmes in New York, based on the lost notebook of John H. Watson, MD. Bloomington, IN: 1stBooks, 2002.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 23 cm. Adventures of the magic alibi -- Adventure of the captive forger -- Adventure of the glass room -- Adventure of the talking ghost. On cover: "Based upon the character created by A. Conan Doyle." //

2883. Carrier, David. "How can Art History use its History?" History & Theory 46, no. 3 (2007): 468-476.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "Chaos and Cosmos: On the Image in Aesthetics and Art History," by Karen Lang. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...But the failure of this part of Lang's

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

analysis says nothing one way or the other about objectivity of interpretation in art history. (Indeed, other scholars have given plausible arguments against objectivity, but she does not deal with their concerns.) She quotes the extensive literature, discussing what Berenson learned from the pioneering Italian connoisseur Giovanni Morelli, and citing Carlo Ginzburg's fascinating speculations about the relation among connoisseurship, Arthur Conan Doyle's detective stories, and psychoanalysis, without really extending the discussion...."

2884. Carrigan, Henry L. "Arts & Humanities." Library Journal 131, no. 6 (2006): 90, 92-4, 96-100, 102.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // An annotated bibliography of arts and humanities titles, published or soon to be published, is provided. Includes an entry of note. Dirda, Michael. Book by Book: Notes on Reading and Life. Holt. May 2006. c.192p. ISBN 0-8050-7877-0. pap. $17. "Once we're finished reading all those books our teachers required us to read, where do we turn for counsel on reading and life? Pulitzer Prize-winning critic Dirda (An Open Book) affectionately offers up this bouquet of thoughts and quotations from novels, poems, and essays as a guide to discovering the meaning of our experiences. Dirda's thoughtful little meditations conduct us through all aspects of life from work, leisure, and love to art, spiritual matters, and death and grief. He imagines the ideal guest room library filled with "familiar, cozy, browsable, and soothing" books, ranging from the mysteries of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and G.K. Chesterton to the humor of P.G. Wodehouse and James Thurber and the maxims of Francois de La Rochefoucauld. In the section on love, Dirda provides a minicourse on the subject in the Western world, beginning with Sappho's poetry and coursing through Ovid and Horace, Tristan and Isolde, Dante's The Divine Comedy, Gustave Flaubert's Madame Bovary, Philip Roth's The Dying Animal, and Zadie Smith's On Beauty. Finally, Dirda sums up the value of a life lived book by book: "The beauty of words, the sound and fall of sentences, a writer's distinctive voice rising from the page--these, in the end, provide the greatest and most lasting pleasures of a reading life." A lovingly crafted volume, this is recommended for all libraries."

2885. Carrió, Ignasi. "Highlights of the annual meeting of the European Association of Nuclear Medicine: Glasgow 1997: The Flowering of Science and Art of Nuclear Medicine in Europe." European Journal of Nuclear Medicine 24, no. 12 (1997): 1527.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Highlights the annual meeting of the European Association of Nuclear Medicine in Glasgow, Scotland. Includes a reference to Doyle and Holmes. "...One of the great Scottish writers, Arthur Conan Doyle, wrote in The Valley of Fear (1914) something that seems to apply to nuclear medicine: Watson: The temptation to form premature theories upon insufficient data is the bane of our profession. Holmes: Brilliant Watson, you are scintillating this morning!..."

2886. Carson, Ciaran. Shamrock tea. London, New York: Granta Books, 2001.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 20 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. 304-307). // "The latest novel from this acclaimed Belfast writer is an absorbing fantasy centred round a van Eyck painting. Shamrock tea allows its drinker to pass through the painting into another world. The narrator meets Ludwig Wittgenstein and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, and enters a magical universe where time is suspended. A fairytale for adults, which contains a miscellany of facts."

2887. Carson, Ciarán. Shamrock tea. London: Granta, 2002.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 20 cm. Originally published: 2001. Includes bibliographical references. // "The latest novel from this acclaimed Belfast writer is an absorbing fantasy centred round a van Eyck painting. Shamrock tea allows its drinker to pass through the painting into another world. The narrator meets Ludwig Wittgenstein and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, and enters a magical universe where time is suspended. A fairytale for adults, which contains a miscellany of facts."

2888. Carter, Adrienne, Jonah Freedman, Megan Johnston, Tara Kalwarski, and Stephanie D. Smith. "Book Picks." Money 33, no. 12 (2004): 152.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "This article recommends several books for holiday gift-giving. Picks by Todd Stewart and Bridget Warren. "The Complete Aubrey/Maturin Novels," by Patrick O'Brian. Last year's "Master and Commander" film spawned a whole new set of rabid fans of O'Brian's 20-book series of sea adventures. "McSweeney's Enchanted Chamber of Astonishing Stories," edited by Michael Chabon. This "pulp fiction"

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

collection includes tales from Stephen King, Margaret Atwood and Joyce Carol Oates. "The New Annotated Sherlock Holmes." Dr. Watson, Moriarty, the hound: All here in a two-volume illustrated collection of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's 56 detective stories...."

2889. Carter, Bill, and Merri Sue Carter. "Simon Newcomb, astronomer and personality." Physics Today 61, no. 2 (2008): 12-12.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A letter to the editor is presented in response to the article "Simon Newcomb: America's Unofficial Astronomer Royal," by Bradley Schaefer from the February 2007 issue. Includes a reference to Doyle. "...We did not mention in our book that some have suggested Newcomb as the 'intentional prototype for Arthur Conan Doyle's arch-villain Professor James Moriarty' or as the 'learn'd astronomer' in Walt Whitman's famous 'When I heard the Learn'd Astronomer,' because we found only speculations but no credible evidence that either claim is true. In fact, several scientists have been suggested as possible models for Professor Moriarty, among them Carl Friedrich Gauss. But the model that Doyle seems to imply in The Valley of Fear is the London arch criminal of the 18th century, Jonathan Wild. Why would Doyle choose as his prototype for Moriarty a relatively remote American astronomer rather than Wild, the locally well-known British villain and criminal?..."
2890. Carter, Ian. "The lady in the trunk: railways, gender and crime fiction." Journal of Transport History 23, no. 1 (2002): 46.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Endnotes contain references to Doyle and Holmes.
2891. Cary, Alice. "Harry Houdini: Best of a vanishing breed." Biography 2, no. 10 (1998): 94.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Profiles that late Hungarian magician, Harry Houdini. Includes Inset, "Houdini's duel with Doyle."
2892. ———. "Midnight Missions, Abducted Authors & Super Sleuths." Biography 5, no. 12 (2001): 26.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a question-and-answer advisory relating to celebrities. Includes one Q & A dealing with Doyle and Holmes. "Q: Is the character Sherlock Holmes based on a real detective? A: Not a detective, but he is based on a real person--a Scottish surgeon named Joseph Bell. The young Arthur Conan Doyle studied with Dr. Bell at the University of Edinburgh Medical School in 1877 and later worked as his assistant. Whenever Bell met a patient, he would use his powers of observation and deduction to determine the person's medical problem before examination or questioning. Often Dr. Bell would startle patients by correctly guessing their habits, occupation, nationality, and sometimes even their name. Conan Doyle noted: 'Dr. Bell would sit in his receiving room... and diagnose the people as they came in, before they even opened their mouths. He would tell them details of their past life; and hardly would he ever make a mistake.' Conan Doyle dedicated The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes to his mentor and literary inspiration."
2893. Casaletto, Tom, Sandra Burr, Leonor Reizen, Jim Bond, Roger Dressler, and Michael Page. Dark Holidays: a collection of ghost stories. Grand Haven, MI: Brilliance Audio, 1994. Sound Recording 8 sound discs (9 hrs.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Brilliance Audio on compact disc. Read by Tom Casaletto, Sandra Burr, Leonor Reizen, Jim Bond, Roger Dressler, and Michael Page. // "Sixteen unabridged tales of spirits to playfully darken the holidays and add chill to a winter's night."
2894. Casals, F., and A. Navarro. "Chromosomal evolution: Inversions: the chicken or the egg?" Heredity 99, no. 5 (2007): 479-480.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The author reflects on chromosomal evolution. The article ends with a reference to Holmes. "...As Sherlock Holmes said while solving the Boscombe Valley Mystery [sic], 'Evidence is a very sticky thing...it may seem to point very straight to one thing, but if you shift your own point a little, you may find it pointing in an equally uncompromising manner to something entirely different.'"
2895. Case, David, Edgar Allan Poe, Arthur Conan Doyle, and G. K. Chesterton. Great Detective Stories. Falls Church, VA: Sound Room Publishers, 2001. Sound Recording 2 sound discs (2 hr., 14 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Commuters library. Unabridged. Read by David Case. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2896. ———. Great Detective Stories. Falls Church, VA: Sound Room Publishers/In Audio, 2001. Sound Recording 2 sound discs (2 hr., 14 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Unabridged. Read by David Case. //
2897. ———. Great Detective Stories. Falls Church, VA: Sound Room Publishers/In Audio, 2003. Sound Recording; Computer File Date of Entry: 20040514 1 sound disc (2 hrs., 14 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Compact disc; MP3 format.; System requirements: CD/MP3 player or PC with CD-ROM, sound card, and MP3-compatible playback software. Unabridged. Narrated by David Case. //
2898. ———. Great Detective Stories. Falls Church, VA: In Audio/Sound Room Publishers, 2002. Sound Recording 2 sound discs (134 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Unabridged classics in audio. Read by David Case. //
2899. Case, James. "Paradoxes Involving Conflicts of Interest." American Mathematical Monthly 107, no. 1 (2000): 33.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses paradoxes involving conflicts of interest in the book 'The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes.'
2900. Case, Thomas E. "World literature in review: Spanish." World Literature Today 68, no. 2 (1994): 345.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'Respiracion artificial,' by Ricardo Piglia. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "The author of several novels and collections of essays, Ricardo Piglia is a convincing Sherlock Holmes or G. Chesterton in the weaving of his intriguing discourses."
2901. Casella, Ronnie. "Pedagogy as view sequence: popular culture, education, and travel." Anthropology & Education Quarterly 30, no. 2 (1999): 187-209.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "A study examined the economic and cultural construction of Latin America as an educational site. It involved the analysis of brochures advertising educational tours in the region, fieldwork in an educational tour organization, and interviews with educational travelers in the U.S. and Mexico. Results revealed the manipulation of representations to define U.S. travelers as omniscient, sophisticated, and invisible and to define Latin America as colorful, exotic, and pristine." Includes references to Doyle and The Lost World.
2902. Cassada, Jackie. "Book reviews: Fiction." Library Journal 119, no. 21 (1994): 139.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'Sherlock Holmes in Orbit.'
2903. ———. "Gaslight Grimoire: Fantastic Tales of Sherlock Holmes." Library Journal 133, no. 17 (2008): 60-60.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article reviews the book "Gaslight Grimoire: Fantastic Tales of Sherlock Holmes," edited by J.R. Campbell and Charles Prepolec. "...Unlike other anthologies featuring Conan Doyle's eccentric detective, this one, edited by Campbell and Prepolec, posits encounters between Holmes and the supernatural that cannot be explained by logic alone. Introductory essays by the editors and an evocative full-page illustration by Phil Conell for each story round out an excellent addition to the Holmesian apocrypha. A good addition to any library."
2904. Castle, Mort. "Comic books grow up." Writer 115, no. 12 (2002): 27.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on the growth of comic books and comic-book writing. Includes a reference to Doyle. "...Classic stories by Arthur Conan Doyle and Edgar Allan Poe have recently been published by Rosebud Graphic Classics and illustrated by such noted artists as Gahan Wilson, Spain Rodriguez, Matt Howarth and Mark A. Nelson..."
2905. Castors, Phil. "A Study in Scandal." Baker Street West 13, no. 2 (1997): 21-25.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2906. Caswell, Jonathan. "Death of Writer; Body of Conan Doyle expert discovered at home by sister." Liverpool Echo, Apr 9, 2004: 17.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "A Wirral man regarded as a world authority on Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, the creator of Sherlock Holmes, has been found dead at his London home. Richard Lancelyn Green, 51, was discovered by his sister Cilla in his South Kensington flat last week. An inquest has been opened...."

2907. Cate, Alan C. "Book Reviews." Military Review 77, no. 3 (1997): 97.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'Dereliction of Duty: Johnson, McNamara, the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the Lies that Led to Vietnam,' by H.R. McMaster. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "The best-known incident in the Sherlock Holmes series occurs when, at a crime scene, the great detective calls Dr. Watson's attention to the curious incident of the dog in the night. 'The dog did nothing,' replies his puzzled colleague. 'That,' says Holmes, 'was the curious incident.' The behavior of the Joint Chiefs of Staff (JCS) was similarly curious when the United States mired itself in Vietnam. This is the mystery author H.R. McMaster seeks to solve...."
2908. Cathcart, Brian. "Baiting the goody-goody." New Statesman 136, no. 4848 (2007): 17-17.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The author reflects on a recent headline stating "BBC guilty of liberal bias" and how it might not be exactly true. He mentions several members of the British Broadcasting Corp. (BBC) including John Humphrys and Jeremy Clarkson whom the author implies are not liberally biased. He mentions that the BBC is required by law to be impartial and that its bias varies according to time, place, and type of program and that impartiality is not necessarily found in the middle ground. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...A few weeks ago Ingrams himself referred in the column to 'Haines's account'. (When I spotted that I said 'Aha!' aloud, just as Sherlock Holmes would on finding a vital clue with his magnifying glass. Perhaps I need a holiday.)"
2909. ———. "Nothing like Sherlock Holmes." New Statesman 127, no. 4387 (1998): 30.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on the 1998 murder trial into the racially inspired death of Stephen Lawrence in Great Britain. Includes references to Holmes and the computer software "Home Office Large Major Enquiry System or Holmes (if the acronym is a little forced, it is in homage to Sherlock)...."
2910. Caudell, Marcia. "Sherlock Holmes and Women of the '90s: A Feminist Perspective." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 50, no. 4 (2000): 37-43.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2911. Cavallaro, Rosanna. "Solution to Dissolution: Detective Fiction from Wilkie Collins to Gabriel García Márquez." Texas Journal of Women & the Law 15, no. 1 (2005): 1-41.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article examines the detective fiction written by Wilkie Collins and Gabriel Garcia Marquez. Includes multiple references to Doyle and Holmes.
2912. Cavalluzzi, Carol. "The Gaslight Gala 2008, Damsels in Distress." The Serpentine Muse 24, no. 2 (2008): 7-8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2913. ———. "Toast to Irene Adler." The Serpentine Muse 25, no. 4 (2009): 14.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2914. Cavendish, Richard. "Publication of The Hound of the Baskervilles." History Today 52, no. 3 (2002): 57.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Recalls the publication of the book 'The Hound of the Baskervilles: Another Adventure of Sherlock Holmes,' by Arthur Conan Doyle, on March 25, 1902.
2915. Cawley, Janet. "Gene Wilder: twice blessed." Biography 3, no. 1 (1999): 80.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Profiles United States-based comedian Gene Wilder. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Wilder's current project is Murder in a Small Town, an original A&E movie scheduled to air this month. A self-described 'longtime mystery fan and Sherlock Holmes nut,' Wilder cowrote the script with his brother-in-law, Gilbert Pearlman..."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2916. ———. "In Her 70s, Author Suddenly Becomes Mother of Three." Greensboro New Record (Greensboro, NC), Dec 4, 1994: D11.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Until she became a septuagenarian surrogate mom, [Liz Carpenter] was best known as a journalist and author, Lady Bird Johnson's press secretary (and writer of the speech President Lyndon Johnson gave at Andrews Air Force Base after flying back from Dallas with John Kennedy's body), a founder of the National Women's Political Caucus and an activist for the Equal Rights Amendment...." Holmes or Doyle reference uncertain.
2917. Cawley, Janet, and Michael Todd Boyer. "Freeze Frame." Biography 4, no. 11 (2000): 18.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Profiles actors Basil Rathbone and Jack Lemmon and actress Ginger Rogers. Reference to Rathbone's 14 Holmes films.
2918. Cechura, Rudolf. Dr. Sherlock Holmes v Cechach. Prague: Nase Vojsko, 1993.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2919. Cefalu, Stephen. "Slidell Little Theater Puts Comedic Spin on Mystery [St. Tammany Edition]." Times - Picayune (New Orleans, LA), Dec 8, 1994: 8H1.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Uncertain reference to Doyle or Holmes.
2920. Centrone, Rosie. "Worth a thousand words." Child Life 73, no. 2 (1994): 16.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents pictograph puzzles, or pictures that stand for words, of famous fictional characters. Holmes is one of the answers to the puzzle.
2921. Chabon, Michael. The final solution: a story of detection. 1st U.S. ed. New York: Fourth Estate, 2004.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2004053343 //
2922. ———. Maps and Legends : reading and writing along the borderlands. San Francisco [Calif.]: McSweeney's Books, 2008.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 23 cm. Trickster in a suit of lights: thoughts on the modern short story -- Maps and legends -- Fan fictions: on Sherlock Holmes -- Ragnarok boy -- On daemons & dust -- Kids' stuff -- Killer hook: Howard Chaykin's American Flagg! -- Dark adventure: on Cormac McCarthy's The road -- The Other James -- Landsman of the lost -- Thoughts on the death of Will Eisner -- My back pages -- Diving into the wreck -- Recipe for life -- Imaginary homelands -- Golems I have known, or, Why my elder son's middle name is Napoleon. // A series of linked essays in praise of reading and writing, with subjects running from ghost stories to comic books, Sherlock Holmes to Cormac McCarthy. Throughout, Chabon energetically argues for a return to the thrilling, chilling origins of storytelling, rejecting the false walls around "serious" literature in favor of a wide-ranging affection.
2923. ———. "You Must Read This: Charmed by a dashing brigadier." 2008, no. Jan 31: 1.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Author Michael Chabon writes about one of Doyle's other creations, Brigadier Gerard. An excerpt from the article: "...But did you know that in between gleefully killing off Holmes and somewhat reluctantly reviving him, Arthur Conan Doyle created another great fictional character, one who easily rivals Holmes -- if not for intelligence, then for heroism, bravery and dash? A character who exceeds Holmes in the one trait in which the great detective, by his own admission, was always deficient: a rich and lovable humanity. This hero, a handsome, charming and resourceful cavalry officer serving in the Grand Army of Napoleon, has only one tragic flaw, though in his own eyes, of course, it is his glory and his single greatest advantage in life: He is a Frenchman. His name is Brigadier Etienne Gerard, and he starred in 17 short stories that Conan Doyle wrote, with a palpable sense of liberation, after pushing Holmes off that Alpine ledge...." Includes an excerpt from chapter one of The Exploits and Adventures of Brigadier Gerard.
2924. Chabon, Michael, and Toshiyuki Kurohara. Sharokku homuzu saigo no kaiketsu, Shincho bunko. Tokyo: Shinchosha, 2010.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 16 cm. Final solution. Japanese. Saigo no kaiketsu. Kurohara Toshiyuki yaku. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2925. Chabot, Bruce G. "Was Sherlock Holmes a Mason?" Shoso-In Bulletin 8, no. (1998): 117-120.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2926. Chadwick, Peter. "Review--Canines in the Canon, or a Hound in Huddersfield." The Ritual, no. 27 (2001): 50-52.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2927. ———. "Review--'Sherlock Holmes: The Last Act' by David Stuart Davies." The Ritual, no. 24 (1999): 56-58.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2928. Chakwin Jr, Stephen D. "Wagner: Tristan & Isolde." American Record Guide 68, no. 3 (2005): 193-194.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the orchestral music release "Tristan & Isolde," featuring works composed by Richard Wagner and both performed by the Bulgarian Festival with conductor Glen Cortese and the Philadelphia Grand Opera with conductor William Smith. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...The great surprise of this set is the conducting of William Smith, the perennial assistant conductor of the Philadelphia Orchestra (and an expert on Sherlock Holmes), who sounds like a musical giant here...."
2929. Chalmers, John. "You write the festival reviews." The Independent (London), August 7, 2006: 20.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of the exhibit in Edinburgh, "Conan Doyle and Joseph Bell: The Real Sherlock Holmes," Surgeons' Hall Museums. "This is a small but fascinating exhibition on Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and his teacher, the surgeon Joseph Bell, who was his inspiration for Sherlock Holmes. Bell's ability to learn much about his patients simply from his powers of observation is legendary, and several examples are given in this show...."
2930. Chambers, Paul. "Rock idol." New Scientist 188, no. 2519 (2005): 31-33.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...In late 1915 Brown was approached by Willis O'Brien and Herbert Dawley, amateur film-makers and pioneers of stop-motion animation, who wanted to recreate battling dinosaurs on screen. The result was a jerkily animated T. Rex in the 1919 movie The Ghost of Slumber Mountain, followed by a small walk-on part in the screen adaptation of Conan Doyle's The Lost World...."
2931. Chambers, Tod. "Sick detectives." Lancet 364, no. (2004): 56-57.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Highlights mystery novels and films that feature detectives who are limited by their own physical or mental states. Includes multiple references to Doyle and Holmes.
2932. Champkin, Julian. "Elementary! This is the real Sherlock Holmes." Daily Mail (London), May 20, 1999: 13.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "...And if that sounds like Sherlock Holmes, it is because the young medical student was Arthur Conan Doyle and his teacher was Dr Joseph Bell - the man who inspired the creation of the great fictional detective. But new research seems to show that Bell was rather more than just an Edinburgh doctor - he may have been a real-life detective....But now the BBC would have us believe otherwise. David Pirie, script editor for a BBC series on Bell to be shown in the autumn, claims to have evidence that Bell was not only a doctor when Conan Doyle met him - he was a consulting detective as well...."
2933. ———. "Print of True Genius." Daily Mail (London), November 6, 2004: 40.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Since the arrival of Sherlock Holmes, created by the celebrated Edinburgh author Arthur Conan Doyle, the world has been aware that something as slight as a fingerprint can be used to catch countless criminals. In The Case of the Norwood Builder, Doyle showed his detective hero taking a keen interest in one particular piece of evidence....But few are aware of the convoluted case of the man who invented fingerprints or rather was first to suggest their use as forensic evidence. The story involves a heap of ancient musselshells, a Japanese ceramic tea-service, slightly flawed, and eventually a worldwide database, infallible, unbeatable, of use to detectives everywhere. All three lead, in a trail Sherlock Holmes would have been pleased to follow, to the unveiling next weekend in Beith, Ayrshire, of a statue of Dr Henry Faulds. Faulds is a name that should make wrongdoers quake in their shoes, or perhaps tremble in their gloves, since he was the first to suggest catching them by their fingerprints...."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2934. Champlin, Tim. Deadly Season. Bath: Gunsmoke, 2010.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 20 cm. Originally published: Unity, Me.: Five Star, 1997. // In 1880s San Francisco, detective Fred Casey teams up with visiting detective Sherlock Holmes to solve a murder in Chinatown. A tale of opium smuggling.
2935. Chandler, Carrie. "Annual Dinner 2007." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 28, no. 2 (2007): 72-73.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2936. ———. "Annual Dinner 2008: Bohemian Rhapsody." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 29, no. 4 (2008): 152-153.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2937. ———. "Transactions 2006." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 28, no. 2 (2007): 70-71.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2938. ———. "Wigmore Street Postbag, Switzerland." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 27, no. 3 (2005): 138-139.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2939. Chandler, David. "From Sparky to Boney." History Today 50, no. 8 (2000): 62.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents an article about a military historian with a reference to Doyle. "...For the rest, I drank deeply from Sir Nigel (1906) and The White Company (1891) by Arthur Conan Doyle, and also his Historical Romances, especially the pair Gerard's Exploits and Adventures...."
2940. Chandran, K. Narayana. "Reviews." Studies in Short Fiction 31, no. 3 (1994): 514.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the books 'Folktales From India: A Selection of Oral Tales From Twenty-two Languages,' edited by A.K. Ramanujan and 'The Penguin Book of Indian Ghost Stories,' edited by Ruskin Bond. Includes a reference to Doyle. "...Ruskin Bond collects 21 ghost stories, nine of them by non-Indians (mostly British) and the rest by Indian-English writers. All of the stories are set in India except A. Conan Doyle's 'Brown Hand' in which an Indian ghost stalks the foggy streets of London..."
2941. Chaney, Lisa. Hide-and-seek with angels: a life of J. M. Barrie. London: Hutchinson, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2005434852. Includes bibliographical references (p. [375]-389) and index //
2942. ———. Hide-and-seek with angels: a life of J.M. Barrie. 1st ed. New York: St. Martin's Press, 2006.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2006042355. Includes bibliographical references (p. [387]-391) and index. Contents: 'It's no' him, it's just me...' -- The happiest years of his life -- 'Literature was my game...' -- 'To be forever known...' -- A serious purpose -- 'Genius in him...' -- Mary -- 'You must decide...' -- Dreams and reality -- American and fame -- Sylvia -- The boy castaways -- A second chance -- Origins -- Making a masterpiece -- 'I'm youth I'm joy...' -- Disquiet -- 'The saddest most terrible night...' -- The end of a marriage -- A kind of family -- War -- 'Something in ourselves...' -- Cynthia and Michael -- Beyond the reach of time -- Release //
2943. Chapman, Felicity. "The Game is Afoot." Teaching PreK-8 35, no. 2 (2004): 60-61.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a classroom activity which allows students to explore the world of mystery through projects in the areas of reading, writing, art and research. References to Doyle and Holmes.
2944. Chapman, Paul M. "The Country Holmes." The Ritual, no. 25 (2000): 26-30.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2945. ———. "'The Crooked Man': The Depths of Deception." The Musgrave Papers, no. 11 (1998): 71-77.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2946. ———. "'The Golden Pince-Nez' Romantics and Revolutionists." The Musgrave Papers, no. 13 (2000): 89-95.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2947. ———. "His Last Bow, Charles Gray 1928-2000." The Ritual, no. 25 (2000): 47-48.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2948. ———. "His Last Bow, Michael Williams." The Ritual, no. 27 (2001): 47-48.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2949. ———. "'I Really Cannot Congratulate You': Weddings in the Canon." The Ritual, no. 17 (1996): 8-14.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2950. ———. "A Literary Mosaic: Arthur Conan Doyle as Literary Pioneer and Synthesizer." The Ritual, no. 27 (2001): 34-46.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2951. ———. "The Original Charles Augustus." The Ritual, no. 20 (1997): 27-30.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2952. ———. "'A Real Creeper': The Hound of the Baskervilles and the Gothic Tradition." The Musgrave Papers, no. 14 (2001): 13-19.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2953. ———. "Review -- 'The Hampstead Poisonings' by Glen Petrie." The Musgrave Papers, no. 8 (1995): 115-116.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2954. ———. "Review -- 'The Resurrected Holmes' by Arvin Kaye." The Musgrave Papers, no. 9 (1996): 125-127.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2955. ———. "Review--'Sherlock Holmes and the Chinese Junk Affair and Other Stories' by Roy Templeman." The Ritual, no. 23 (1999): 62-63.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2956. ———. "Review--'The Case of the Scarlet Woman: Sherlock Holmes and the Occult' by Watkin Jones." The Ritual, no. 25 (2000): 55-57.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2957. ———. "Review--'The Doctor, The Detective and Arthur Conan Doyle' by Martin Booth." The Ritual, no. 20 (1997): 66-68.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2958. ———. "Review--'The League of Extraordinary Gentlemen' by Alan Moore and Kevin O'Neill." The Ritual, no. 24 (1999): 65-67.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2959. ———. "Review--The Maiwand Luncheon Monograph." The Ritual, no. 26 (2000): 66-67.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2960. ———. "Review--'The Mandala of Sherlock Holmes' edited by Jamyang Norbu." The Ritual, no. 26 (2000): 69.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2961. ———. "Review--The Oscar Slater Murder Story: New Light on a Classic Miscarriage of Justice by Richard Whittington-Egan." The Ritual, no. 27 (2001): 58-59.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2962. ———. "Review--The Penguin Sherlock Holmes." The Ritual, no. 28 (2001): 51-53.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2963. ———. "Review--'The Sherlock Holmes Reference Library: The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes' by Leslie S. Klinger." The Ritual, no. 22 (1998): 71-72.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2964. ———. "Review--'The Sherlock Holmes Reference Library: The Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes' by Leslie S. Klinger." The Ritual, no. 25 (2000): 63-64.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2965. ———. "Review--'The Victorian Underworld' by Donald Thomas." The Ritual, no. 22 (1998): 75-76.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2966. ———. "A Study in Friendship: Conan Doyle and Bram Stoker." The Musgrave Papers, no. 8 (1995): 71-81.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2967. ———. "'These Relics Have a History': Sir Philip Musgrave and the English Civil Wars." The Ritual, no. 28 (2001): 42-48.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2968. ———. "Through the Stage Door: The Dramatic Ventures of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle." The Ritual, no. 24 (1999): 38-45.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2969. ———. "To escape from the commonplaces of existence." The Musgrave Papers, no. 10 (1997): 107-113.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2970. ———. "The Woman in Electric Blue, 'The Adventure of the Copper Beeches,' the Sensation Tradition and Wilkie Collins." The Musgrave Papers, no. 9 (1996): 93-101.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2971. Charles, J. C. Lady Brackenstall's Lord and Master. Scarsdale, N.Y: Filmoods Co, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2972. Charlesworth, J. J. "Shahin Afrassibi." Art Monthly, no. 274 (2004): 30-31.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews an exhibition by Shanin Afrassibi at the Project Gallery in Dublin, Ireland from January 28 to March 26 2004. Includes a reference to Doyle. "...With Madge Gill's cubistic line drawing Untitled (dedicated to Conan Doyle), these works immediately conform to the stereotype of Outsider Art..."
2973. Charnock, Ian A. "Concerning Mr. D. Martin Dakin: Being a Reprint from the Reminiscences of Ian A. Charnock, B.A., etc." The Ritual, no. 22 (1998): 21-23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2974. Charnock, Ian Alfred. The Elementary cases of Sherlock Holmes. London: Breese Books, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: Prelude: the great exhibition of '51 -- Part one: Expositions from the Musgrave ritual. The record of the Tarleton murders -- The case of Vamberry, the wine merchant -- The adventure of the old Russian woman -- The singular affair of the aluminium crutch -- A Full account of Ricoletti of the club foot and his abominable wife -- Part two. Mrs. Farintosh and an opal tiara -- Matilda Briggs and the giant rat of Sumatra // 2975. Charnock, Ian Alfred, and Alan Swan. Watson's last case. London: Breese Books, 2000.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: Pt.1. Doctor's orders -- Pt.2. Watson's last case -- Pt.3.A Scholar's appendix //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

2976. Chatman, Seymour. "Whatever happened to literary theory?" Southern Review 34, no. 2 (1998): 367.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Provides information on literary theory, opening with a quote attributed to Doyle: "It is a capital mistake to theorize before one has data."
2977. Chatzky, Jean Sherman. "Wall Street Irregulars." Money 32, no. 1 (2003): 124.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses the book 'Detective and the Investor,' by author and mutual fund manager Robert Hagstrom. Includes multiple references to Holmes.
2978. Chechile, Richard A. "Books received for review." Journal of Mathematical Psychology. Print; 49, no. 1 (2005).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a list of books to be reviewed in the field of mathematics including "Sherlock Holmes in Babylon and Other Tales of Mathematical History," edited by M. Anderson, V. Katz and R. Wilson (2004).
2979. Chelminski, Rudolph. "Warning: Log-o-phil-ia is Addictive." Smithsonian 31, no. 9 (2000): 66.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Profiles Anu Garg, creator of A Word A Day (AWAD), a Web site that provides daily electronic-mail with definitions for unusual words. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...Garg is a computer engineer by academic training and vocation-he now works as a consultant for AT&T in Columbus-but his real passion is literature, language and art, and it shows in his themes: words from classical mythology, words from Hindi and Sanskrit, words from chess, words from Catch-22, from William Faulkner, from Scott Joplin songs, from Jonathan Swift, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, Patrick O'Brian, Tintin comics, Maya Chandrasekaran...."
2980. Chen, Anne. "Digital Detectives Track Hacks." eWeek 18, no. 16 (2001): 58.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports on the increasing demand for digital detectives adept in solving hacking and intellectual property cases in the United States. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "If e-business had a modern-day Sherlock Holmes, his name would be David Dittrich...."
2981. Chen, Qiufan, Arthur Conan Doyle, and Minjie Chen. Hei se mo chuan. Ge xin 7 shua. ed, (Fu'ermosi tan an quan ji). Taibei Shi: Taiwan dong fang chu ban she, 1995.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Text accompanied with zhu yin fu hao. Kenan Dao'er yuan zhu ; Chen Qiufan gai xie ; Chen Minjie nei wen hui tu. //
2982. Chen, Qiufan, Arthur Conan Doyle, and Zhulang You. Shi zi de zhua zi. Ge xin 5 shua. ed, (Fu'ermosi tan an quan ji). Taibei Shi: Taiwan dong fang chu ban she, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Text accompanied with zhu yin fu hao. Shi zi de zhua zi Kenan Dao'er yuan zhu ; Chen Qiufan gai xie ; You Zhulang nei wen hui tu. // 2983. Chen, Qiufan, Arthur Conan Doyle, and Youfu Yu. Shen mi de ren xiang. Ge xin 6 shua. ed, (Fu'ermosi tan an quan ji). Taibei Shi: Taiwan dong fang chu ban she, 1995.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Text accompanied with zhu yin fu hao. Shen mi de ren xiang Kenan Dao'er yuan zhu ; Chen Qiufan gai xie ; Yu Youfu nei wen hui tu. //
2984. ———. Wang guan zhi mi. Ge xin 7 shua. ed, (Fu'ermosi tan an quan ji). Taibei Shi: Taiwan dong fang chu ban she, 1995.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Text accompanied with zhu yin fu hao. Wang guan zhi mi Kenan Dao'er yuan zhu ; Chen Qiufan gai xie ; Yu Youfu nei wen hui tu. //
2985. ———. Za se de sheng zi. Ge xin 6 shua. ed, (Fu'ermosi tan an quan ji). Taibei Shi: Taiwan dong fang chu ban she, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Text accompanied with zhu yin fu hao. Za se de sheng zi Kenan Dao'er yuan zhu ; Chen Qiufan gai xie ; Yu Youfu nei wen hui tu. // 2986. Chen, Tina. "Towards an Ethics of Knowledge." Melus 30, no. 2 (2005): 157-173.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article focuses on the ethics of knowledge. Includes two references to "the Sherlock Holmes of a letter."

2987. Cheng, Henry P. "Chinese Articles on Sherlock Holmes." Shoso-In Bulletin 14, no. (2004): 50-52.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2988. ———. "P.I.: Sherlock Holmes' Profession." Shoso-In Bulletin 11, no. (2001): 112-117.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2989. ———. "Sherlock Holmes in China." Shoso-In Bulletin 12, no. (2002): 32-35.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

2990. Chesney, George Tomkyns. La bataille de Dorking : roman. Montréal: Éditions du Colporteur, 2005.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 14 cm. La bataille de Dorking / Sir George T. Chesney -- La bataille / J.-H. Rosny, aîné -- Danger! / Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Traduction de: The battle of Dorking./ Tirage limité à 35 ex. //

2991. Chesterton, G. K., Steven Doyle, Baker Street Irregulars, and Bloomington) Lilly Library (Indiana University. G.K. Chesterton's Sherlock Holmes original illustrations : a facsimile of the original unpublished drawings, (Baker Street Irregulars manuscript series). New York, Bloomington, Ind: The Baker Street Irregulars in cooperation with the Lilly Library, Indiana University, 2003.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2003279281 // "Offers a facsimile of Chesterton's illustrations for a never-published edition of the stories, scholarly articles on Chesterton by Dale Ahlquist and Pasquale Accardo, commentary on the artwork by Scott Bond, and reprints of four Sherlockian essays by Chesterton."

2992. Chevallier, Jim. "The Spoken Word: Writers. Historic Recordings of Writers Born in the 19th Century (review)." Libraries & Culture 40, no. 1 (2005): 98-100.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of The Spoken Word: Writers. Historic Recordings of Writers Born in the 19th Century. Compiled by Steve Cleary, Richard Fairman, and Toby Oakes. London: British Library, 2003. CD-ROM. GBP9.95. ISBN 0-7123-0516-5. Includes a reference to Doyle and Holmes. "...To a modern American ear most of the voices in this collection share a cultured but bland upper-class English inflection. There are some vivid exceptions: Conan Doyle's slight Scottish burr, James Joyce's dense music, Agatha Christie's down-to-earth exposition, and Noel Coward's theatrical yet distinctive diction. Overall, though, this is not one of those spoken word collections that offer rich auditory pleasures. Still, the content is well chosen and nicely varied. Roughly half the writers read from (or, in Coward's case, perform) their own work. The others offer ideas about writing or other subjects that are, in general, succinct and enlightening. Bernard Shaw begins with an account of the touring companies that were his early bread and butter. Arthur Conan Doyle follows, first with the relatively well-known story of how a medical professor inspired Sherlock Holmes, then with reflections on how Holmes changed not only the mystery genre but also forensics...."

2993. Chevreière, J. P., and J. G. Munisteri. "Why many experts are wrong in forecasting capital investments and other emerging events." Hydrocarbon Processing 87, no. 2 (2008): 127-130.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...As Sherlock Holmes would say: Rex ipsa loquitur (Let the facts speak for themselves)...."

2994. Childers, Joseph W. "Recent studies in the Nineteenth Century." Studies in English Literature (Rice) 38, no. 4 (1998): 761.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Talks about studies on nineteenth-century English literature. Includes multiple references to Doyle and Holmes.

2995. Childs, Elizabeth C. "Robert Smithson and film; the Spiral Jetty reconsidered." Arts Magazine LVI, no. 2 (1981): 68-81.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Considers the relationship of Smithson's only completed sculpture-related film, Spiral Jetty, to the earthwork Spiral Jetty which he constructed in the Great Salt Lake of Utah in 1970. The narrative structure of the film is related to Smithson's travelogue essays of the 1960s which document both the

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

artist's itinerary and his personal reflections on various excursions to predetermined sites. The incorporation of series of photographs into the documentation of these trips evidences Smithson's cinematic sensibility. The system of site documentation developed in his non-site projects of 1967-1969 also links to the concerns of his film in which he similarly documents his trip and the physical make-up of the site with maps and photographs. The medium of film permits Smithson the ordered juxtaposition of objective, physical facts with his own personal associations with the site. The film addresses these concerns of the physical and the conceptual in both the present time and the geological past through contrasting models of space and time. Sources of these models are suggested in scientific models and dioramas at the Museum of Natural History, New York, and in the various scientific texts and in science fiction, such as Conan Doyle's The lost world, which are explicitly referred to in the film. (Author)

2996. Chipman, Ian. "The Black Dove." Booklist 104, no. 8 (2007): 28.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book "The Black Dove" by Steve Hockensmith.
2997. Chipuk, Jerry E., and Douglas R. Green. "Opinion: Do inducers of apoptosis trigger caspase-independent cell death?" Nature Reviews Molecular Cell Biology 6, no. 3 (2005): 268-275.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a reference to Doyle and Holmes in the text and notes, under the section "The curious case of the mutant mice."
2998. Chism, Stephen. The Afterlife of Leslie Stringfellow: A Nineteenth-Century Southern Family's Experience with Spiritualism. Fayetteville, AK: University of Arkansas Press, 2006.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
2999. Chism, Stephen J. "'The very Happiest Tiding': Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's Correspondence with Arkansas Spiritualists." Arkansas Historical Quarterly 59, no. 3 (2000): 299-310.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "In 1919, Fayetteville, Arkansas, spiritualist Lessie Stringfellow Read and her adoptive mother, Alice Stringfellow, contacted Sir Arthur Conan Doyle in hopes of receiving assistance in publishing Leslie's Letters to His Mother, eventually published by the Fayetteville Democrat in 1926. Said to be a product of automatic writing, the book consisted of messages allegedly received between 1886 and 1912 from Alice's son, Leslie, who had died in 1886, and described the afterlife from his point of view as a new arrival. While Doyle is famous for his Sherlock Holmes mysteries, he had a keen interest in spiritualism throughout his career and, by 1919, had become England's foremost public advocate for it. Surviving correspondence indicates that he believed the document to be authentic and was impressed not only because it reflected ideas and images from other spiritualist writings, but because it described the afterlife in very specific terms."
3000. Chittenden, Maurice. "Holmes solves death of a fan." Sunday Times (London), December 12, 2004: 6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The mystery of how Britain's leading expert on Sir Arthur Conan Doyle came to be lying garrotted to death on his own bed may have been solved by the author's greatest creation, Sherlock Holmes. Amateur sleuths probing the unsolved death of Richard Lancelyn Green believe he took a leaf out of one of the Victorian detective's adventures. In one inquiry Holmes deduces that a woman arranged her suicide to look like murder. Friends of Lancelyn Green now believe he might have tried the same tactic in an attempt to get revenge from beyond the grave for an imagined deception...."
3001. Chorley, Jennifer. "Wigmore Street Postbag, Agatha and this Society." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 24, no. 1 (1998): 36.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3002. Chorley, Richard J. Sherlock Holmes at Sidney Sussex College 1871-1873 an imaginative reconstruction. S.l: s.n, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references. Scuttlebutt Jul 2002. // "A carefully-researched, illustrated, and footnoted pastiche published in 1997."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3003. Christensen, Bryce. "The Man Who Created Sherlock Holmes: The Life and Times of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle." Booklist 104, no. 5 (2007): 14.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book "The Life and Times of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle: The Man Who Created Sherlock Holmes" by Andrew Lycett.
3004. Christianson, Eric S. "The Big Sleep: Strategic Ambiguity in Judges 4-5 and in Classic film noir." Biblical Interpretation 15, no. 4 (2007): 519-548.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Describing Raymond Chandler's Philip Marlowe, Andrew Spicer suggests that unlike 'Sherlock Holmes, Marlowe realizes that although he may solve an individual case, it is part of a wider corruption that is too deep to be eradicated'..."
3005. Christie, Agatha, G. K. Chesterton, Arthur Conan Doyle, Fabio Camero, and Hernando Iván Cano. Tres grandes detectives. Bogotá: Yoyo Libros ; N. Miami Beach, FL ; Yoyo USA [distributor], 2005. Sound Recording 3 sound discs (3 hr.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital ; 4 3/4 in. Compact discs. "Unabridged"--Container. "Audio libros : literatura para oír"--Container. Read by Fabio Camero (cd 1) and Hernando Iván Cano (cd 2-3). Uniform Title: Triangle at Rhodes. Spanish. //
3006. Christman, Ed. "Grabbing Sales By The Long Tail. (Cover story)." Billboard 118, no. 9 (2006): 22-22.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article deals with the application of statistical theory Long Tail to the music industry. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Also, the original source masters need to be located and cleaned up, which in the words of Rhino's Dorn, can 'really turn into a Sherlock Holmes expedition.'"
3007. Church, Ellen Booth. "Motivating Children at Group Time." Early Childhood Today 19, no. 6 (2005): 43-44.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Suggests ways to motivate children to participate in group-time meetings. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Just for fun, you can pass out magnifying glasses to add a Sherlock Holmes effect to the investigation...."
3008. Churcher, Sharon, and Adam Luck. "Solved the Last Sherlock Holmes Mystery." Mail on Sunday, Dec 12, 2004: 47.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "On March 26, [Richard Lancelyn Green] dined with a former lover, Lawrence Keen. It was then, according to Keen, that Green confided that 'an American was trying to bring him down'. After they left the restaurant in Kensington High Street, Green agitatedly told his friend they were being followed...."
3009. Churchill, Winsoar, and Alan Klehr. "London's Gentlemen's Clubs." British Heritage 21, no. 3 (2000): 50.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on clubs in London, England with a quote from the Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes: "We had reached Pall Mall as we talked, and were walking down it from St. James's end. Sherlock Holmes stopped at a door some little distance from the Carlton, and cautioning me not to speak, he led the way into the hall. Through the glass panelling I caught a glimpse of a large and luxurious room, in which a considerable number of men were sitting about and reading papers, each in his own little nook. Holmes showed me into a small chamber which looked out into Pall Mall, and then, leaving me for a minute, he came back with a companion whom I knew could only be his brother...."
3010. Cillpam, Polly. "New multimedia products." Compute! 16, no. 6 (1994): 72.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews new multimedia products, including Holmes software. "...The Sound Blaster Edutainment CD 16 kit is aimed at the high-technology-entertainment enthusiast. It has a Sound Blaster 16; The Software Toolworks Multimedia Encyclopedia; Aldus PhotoSyler SE Photo CD software; Secret Weapons of the Luftwaffe; The Secret of Monkey Island; Loom; Lemmings; Indianapolis 500: The Simulation; and Sherlock Holmes, The Simulation...."
3011. Cirillo, Vincent J. "Wigmore Street Postbag, A Wayward Son Redeemed." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 27, no. 1 (2004): 44.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3012. Cirillo, Vincent J., and Paul L. Cirillo. "Sherlock Holmes and the Beginnings of Forensic Science." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 29, no. 4 (2008): 127-132.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3013. Cirone, Nino. "Agents and Independents: Watching the Detectives." Shoso-In Bulletin 12, no. (2002): 168-173.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3014. ———. "Agents and Independents: Watching the Detectives." The Ritual, no. 26 (2000): 14-20.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3015. ———. "Futures Past." Canadian Holmes 25, no. 1 (2001): 20-24.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3016. ———. "The Importance of Being Illustrious or Would the Real Illustrious Client Please Stand Up." Canadian Holmes 27, no. 1 (2003): 5-11.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3017. ———. "An Interview with a Baker Street Cabby." Shoso-In Bulletin 12, no. (2002): 125-127.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3018. ———. "Naval Gazing." The Ritual, no. 28 (2001): 6-9.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3019. ———. "No Guns Please, We're British." Shoso-In Bulletin 12, no. (2002): 29-31.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3020. ———. "Not Only, But Almost." Shoso-In Bulletin 13, no. (2003): 17-18.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3021. ———. "'The Priory School': A Three Pipe Story." The Musgrave Papers, no. 13 (2000): 57-67.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3022. ———. Sherlock Holmes's personal journals six short stories. Shelburne, Ont: Battered Silicon Dispatch Box, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3023. ———. "To What End?" The Sherlock Holmes Journal 26, no. 2 (2003): 55-57.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3024. ———. Upon the distinction between the ashes of the various tobaccos. Romford, Essex: I. Henry, 2000.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Jul 2000 // "Is not Sherlock Holmes' long-lost monograph, but rather an interesting collection of interesting descriptions of 60 tobaccos, one for each of the Canonical tales, accompanied by appropriate period artwork."
3025. ———. "Vampire Dating." The Ritual, no. 28 (2001): 38-41.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3026. ———. "What Really Happened to Mary Morstan?" Canadian Holmes 25, no. 4 (2002): 20-22.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3027. ———. "What Really Happened to Mary Morstan?" The Ritual, no. 27 (2001): 6-11.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3028. ———. "Why Norway?" Canadian Holmes 24, no. 2 (2000): 6-8.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3029. Cisler, David N. The adventure of the wish hounds of Candlemere. 1st ed, (Mysterious Sherlock Holmes). New York: Mysterious Bookshop, 2001.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3030. Citron, Paula. "A little too elementary, my dear Watson." The Globe and Mail (Toronto), March 15, 2000: R4.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Promising Sherlock Holmes play is hampered by direction, cast and a need to explain just how the great detective outwitted his worthy foe. Written by Doug Warwick Directed by Anne Butler Starring Michael Hanrahan, Sean Mulcahy and Catherine Vaneri At St. Vlad's Theatre in Toronto....Composer/jazzman/rock musician Doug Warwick has turned his hand to play-writing, and his ambitious maiden effort, Sherlock Holmes & The First English Gentleman, is now on view at St. Vlad's Theatre in Toronto. The play has already been running for two weeks and word-of-mouth has made it a near sell-out...."
3031. Clair, Guy. De oude Russische dame, (Holmes, 8; Collectie detective strips, 42; Collectie detective comics, 42). Brussel: Lefrancq, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Dutch. naar de personages van Arthur Conan Doyle. scenario: André-Paul Duchâteau. tek. en kleuren: Guy Clair. vert. [uit het Frans] en lettering: Van der Heide Produkties. // Ballonstrip.
3032. Clapperton, Guy. "Unusual Holmes." The Times (London), December 18, 2004: 10.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Rupert Everett? As Sherlock Holmes? On Boxing Day? Guy Clapperton unearths some even stranger incarnations including Tom Baker, Charlton Heston, Roger Moore, Leonard Nimoy, Michael Caine, and Larry Hagman.
3033. Clark, Mike. "The DVD watch." USA Today, May 12, 2000: E08.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Though the hoopla for An Evening With Sherlock Holmes (1942-46, FOCUSfilm, unrated, $70) claims the four films in the box set have been restored, the prints look like dupes, and one of them -- 1946's Terror by Night (seven chapters) -- is a truncated 54-minute version. For those who can overlook this, the collection -- which also includes 1942's Sherlock Holmes and the Secret Weapon, 1945's Woman in Green and 1946's Dressed to Kill (all unrated and with 12 chapters) -- has its rewards. The Basil Rathbone-Nigel Bruce series of Holmes films remains one of the most enjoyable in Hollywood history. The set includes 30 good-sounding Holmes radio shows from the '40s (with wine commercials), and a rare 1927 on-camera chat with Holmes creator Sir Arthur Conan Doyle."
3034. ———. "New on DVD." USA Today, November 7, 2003: E09.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Brief review of "Sherlock Holmes in Washington." "Universal's Basil Rathbone-Nigel Bruce Holmes series delighted over and over on early-'60s TV, and some of the most amusing entries were time-machine affairs in which Holmes and Watson got involved in World War II espionage. Check out Rathbone's weird hair curls, some fractured Washington, D.C., geography....Also new: Sherlock Holmes and the Voice of Terror and Sherlock Holmes and the Secret Weapon (both 1942), plus Sherlock Holmes Faces Death (1943). Like Washington, they were preserved by the UCLA Film and Television Archive and look their best in years."
3035. ———. "This week's platinum picks." USA Today, Sep 14, 2007: E4.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Brief reviews of new releases including one related to Doyle. The Lost World. 1925/1960, Fox, unrated, $20 Though Fox isn't ballyhooing it, the bonus inclusion of Willis O'Brien's original movie is what makes this twofer worth it. The pioneer effects maestro also was the genius behind King Kong in 1933. Back story: Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's yarn deals with dinosaurs amid a jungle expedition. The '25 version offers Bessie Love (1929's Oscar winner for The Broadway Melody), Lewis Stone (Andy Hardy's judge father) and Wallace Beery. In 1960, the year after its box-office smash Journey to the Center of the Earth, Fox mounted a CinemaScope/color remake that plunked Jill St. John into the Amazon with Michael

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Rennie, Fernando Lamas, The Fly's David Hedison, tight pink Capri pants and Frosty the Poodle -- a nutty, nutty mix that heads deep into the Amazon. Extras, extras: Very minor.

3036. Clark, Pete. "Seasonal choices." Daily Mail (London), December 23, 2004: 2.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Brief note on "Sherlock Holmes and the Case of the Silk Stocking." "Television viewers feel snugly at home in the fog-filled streets of Sherlock Holmes' London. The fog, widely reviled at the time, is a crucial part of the chilling atmosphere. Even if nothing is happening, it seems that it might at any moment, and if anything does happen, it will be bad. We meet Holmes, icily played by Rupert Everett, in the middle of an extended drugs bender."
3037. Clark, Ross. "The miracle of medicine." Social Alternatives 18, no. 2 (1999): 70.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents the short story 'The Miracle of Medicine.' Includes a reference to Doyle. "...It gives me time to go around with my camera, taking portraits of people in the street for my collection. It's passed beyond being a hobby, having become somewhat of an obsession: I've got over 4000 candid portraits now, after eight years in practice. Still, Conan Doyle had more to show for a decade's slow practice, and eventually was able to give up the practice for the passion...."
3038. Clark, Stuart. "Cannibal stars." New Scientist 194, no. 2598 (2007): 32-36.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...The differences between Retter and Soker remain unresolved, but most astronomers are now ready to consider cannibal models. 'It's a bit like Sherlock Holmes: when you have eliminated everything else, you have to consider what's left,' says Bond. 'Maybe Retter and Soker are right: it is not a nova but a merger.'..."
3039. Clark, Samantha. "Dino might." Video Business 23, no. 43 (2003): 20-20.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on television programs in the U.S. to be released on DVD. Release date of "Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's The Lost World: Season One," from Image; Price of the disc set of "Jeremiah" from MGM; DVD offerings of Paramount.
3040. Clarke, I. F. "The Evolution of an Evolutionist: H. G. Wells Revealed in his Letters." Journal of Social & Evolutionary Systems 21, no. 3 (1998): 327.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'The Correspondence of H. G. Wells,' edited by David C. Smith and Patrick Parrinder. Doyle and Holmes mentioned in the first endnote.
3041. Clarke, Roger. "Cinema: the Best Films." The Independent (London), December 11, 2002: 16.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Brief review of "The Private Life of Sherlock Holmes" (PG, Billy Wilder, 125mins). "Made in 1970, when the great director was in his sixties, this 'Sherlock Holmes investigates the Loch Ness monster' yarn was butchered down from its three-hour length by the studio, which then threw away all the discarded negatives. Even in its shortened form, though, it remains a Holmes classic. Robert Stephens stars. Limited release."
3042. ———. "Reviews: Llewellyn's excellent role is elementary; Sherlock Holmes...The Death and Life, Lichfield Garrick Theatre." Birmingham Evening Mail, February 13, 2009: 83.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Roger Llewellyn produces an acting masterclass in this sequel to his first venture into Holmes' world. Sherlock Holmes ... the last act, written like the new production by David Stuart Davies, has been touring the world since 1999 and with Holmes killed off and resurrected the new production could be following in its footsteps. Llewellyn, on stage alone for the best part of an hour-and-a-half, plays ten characters living a conflict between Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and the creation he has come to hate, Sherlock Holmes. Into the mix comes Prof James Moriarty, arch villain of his age destined to kill the finest detective of his generation - until the characters develop a mind of their own. The play examines Doyle's frustration at the lack of success of his historical novels, his passion for spiritualism, his letters to his mother, his father's incarceration in an asylum and his relationship with Holmes. It is a test of the actor's art which Llewellyn passes with distinction."
3043. Clarkson, Steven. "The Barghest of the Baskervilles." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 49, no. 2 (1999): 33-38.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3044. Clarkson, Stephen. The canonical compendium. Ashcroft, British Columbia: Calabash Press, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references (p. 429). Scuttlebutt Jan 2001. // "The product of more than 30 years of research (it started as a joint project with the late Bill Fleischauer), and the results of the research are both interesting and useful: there's a topical index of the Canon, with 80 categories and 144 subcategories, and story indexes for each of the 60 tales, with page numbers noted for five different editions (Baring-Gould's Annotated Sherlock Holmes and the Doubleday, Heritage Press, John Murray, and Oxford Press editions), plus intriguing introductory notes and 'miscellaneous' citations for each story."
3045. ———. First magazine appearances of the Sherlock Holmes stories. Berkeley Springs, WV: Kennington Press, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // All but one of the Sherlock Holmes stories first appeared in magazines, chiefly in the Strand Magazines. Titles often appeared on both sides of the Atlantic within days of each other. This index tracks which magazine edition, English or American, was the "first first" appearance of each Holmes story 3046. Clarkson, Steven. "To the Hound of Odin." The Holmes & Watson Report 5, no. 5 (2001): 38.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3047. Clausen, Christopher. "Up and down with Stephen and Jack." New Leader 79, no. 9 (1997): 22.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Features Captain John Aubrey and Dr. Stephen Maturin, co-protagonist of Patrick O'Brian's novels about life on the seas during the Napoleonic War. How Aubrey and Maturin were compared with the characters in Sherlock Homes by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle; Why the turn of events in the novel were tragic and comical; Disadvantages of a historical novel following the chronology of events.
3048. ———. "Up and down with Stephen and Jack." New Leader 79, no. 9 (1996): 22.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Features Captain John Aubrey and Dr. Stephen Maturin, co-protagonist of Patrick O'Brian's novels about life on the seas during the Napoleonic War. Includes reference to Doyle and Holmes. "...Another antecedent is Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's Sherlock Holmes. In this case the Holmes character is Dr. Maturin, whose position as a brilliantly overqualified naval surgeon of ambiguous origins provides cover for a career in espionage. Like Holmes, he suffers from wild swings of mood and takes drugs; in times of leisure he practices "natural philosophy" (high-class amateur biology) and delivers papers at the Royal Society. Captain Aubrey is a more developed Watson: a man of action whose intellectual attainments are lower than Maturin's, yet is unrivaled as a commander of naval vessels in time of war...."
3049. Clausson, Nils. "Arnold's Coleridgean Conversation Poem: "Dover Beach" and "The Eolian Harp."." Papers on Language & Literature 44, no. 3 (2008): 276-304.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Cites Nordon, Pierre. Conan Doyle. Trans. Frances Partridge. London: John Murray, 1966. Note at end of article states that the author "is completing a book on Arthur Conan Doyle and working on a study of the theory and practice of genre criticism."
3050. ———. "Degeneration, Fin-de-Siecle Gothic, and the Science of Detection: Arthur Conan Doyle's The Hound of the Baskervilles and the Emergence of the Modern Detective Story." Journal of Narrative Theory 35, no. 1 (2005): 60-87.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3051. ———. "Sassoon's Prose Trench Lyric and the Romantic Tradition: The Ending of Memoirs of a Fox-Hunting Man." War, Literature & the Arts: An International Journal of the Humanities 19, no. 1 (2007): 165-172.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A literary criticism of the book "Memoirs of a Fox-Hunting Man," by Siegfried Sassoon is presented. No reference to Holmes or Doyle beyond note about the author: "Nils Clausson has taught at the University of Regina since 1984. He has published articles on Benjamin Disraeli, D. H. Lawrence, Oscar Wilde, H. G. Wells, Wilfred Owen, G. K. Chesterton, Arthur Conan Doyle, and Susan Glaspell. He is completing a book on Arthur Conan Doyle."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3052. ———. "The Simple Art of Stealing: The Case of Raymond Chandler's Purloined 'Rats behind the Wainscoting.'" ANQ 19, no. 3 (2006): 32-34.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This essay states that novelist Raymond Chandler had borrowed some of his ideas for the novel 'The Big Sleep' from 'The Mystery of Cloomber,' a novella by Arthur Conan Doyle. Rats behind the wainscoting, one of the most famous images in Chandler's novel 'The Big Sleep' was taken from 'The Mystery of Cloomber.' 'The Big Sleep' is about the Sternwoods, a doomed family over whom death hovers ominously. What Chandler borrowed from Doyle's novella is the mood of inevitable doom that is beyond the characters' power to prevent or even understand.
3053. Clayton, Jay. "Networking: Communicating with Bodies and Machines in the Nineteenth Century (review)." Victorian Studies 45, no. 4 (2004): 775-777.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of Networking: Communicating with Bodies and Machines in the Nineteenth Century, by Laura Otis; pp. x + 268. Ann Arbor: University of Michigan Press, 2001, $49.50. Includes a reference to Doyle. "... The influence of the semaphore telegraph may be detected in Jane Austen's fiction and William Hazlitt's essays; the electrical telegraph plays a role in nearly all of Anthony Trollope's novels and especially his story 'The Telegraph Girl' (1877); the same is true of the fiction of Mary Elizabeth Braddon, Wilkie Collins, and Arthur Conan Doyle; Charles Dickens's novels contain provocative observations on the telegraph from the 1850s onward; and Thomas Hardy's A Laodicean (1881) employs the telegraph as major symbol...."
3054. Clayton, Mark. "The joys of reading aloud." Christian Science Monitor, July 7, 1998: B1.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports on the benefits of reading aloud, with a reference to Doyle and Holmes.
3055. Clegg, Dave. The pagemaster who's in the library with Richard? 1st ed. Atlanta: Bedrock Press, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 95148167. Scuttlebutt July 1995 // The reader must help Richard find his way through the Kingdom of Books by identifying six characters and the stories they come from and locating the exit in the illustrations. "It's like a 'Where's Waldo?' book, but based on the recent animated film, and one of the challenges is devoted to 'The Land of Mystery: 221B Baker Street' (with readers challenged to find keys to a dozen Sherlock Holmes stories in the picture). Jeanne is not sure, however, whether the purplish hippo in the tree is supposed to be one of the clues."
3056. Clej, Alina. "High Anxieties: Cultural Studies in Addiction (review)." Modernism/modernity 11, no. 2 (2004): 360-361.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of High Anxieties: Cultural Studies in Addiction. Janet Farrell Brodie and Marc Redfield, eds. Berkeley and Los Angeles: University of California Press, 2002. Pp. 232. $60.00 (cloth); $24.95 (paper). Includes a reference to Doyle. "...The first chapter, 'Constructions of Addiction,' includes an article by Stacey Margolis, which reexamines the ghoulish possession narratives of late-nineteenth-century authors like Arthur Conan Doyle and Bram Stoker...."
3057. Cleveland, Ceil. "Murder and Mirth at 'Ghoul School'." Chronicle of Higher Education 49, no. 41 (2003): B5.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Talks about the experience of attending a mystery writing seminar attended by members of the Mystery Writers of America and other academics, held in the National Arts Club on Gramercy Park South in New York City. Includes a reference to Holmes and Judge Andrew Peck. "...Among the classmates with whom I've shared the corpse of a Cornish hen and a bottle of Chianti are an epidemiologist, an international lawyer, and a judge -- Andrew J. Peck, who wrote an important reference work on Sherlock Holmes, The Date Being ... ? (Magico Press, 1996)."
3058. Clifford, Carolyn M. "'A loyal friend and a chivalrous gentleman': The Illustrious Client -- Identified at Last." Canadian Holmes 27, no. 3 (2004): 14-25.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3059. Clinch, Minty. "The Snow Special: Short Breaks - in Search Of...; Conan Doyle in the Swiss Alps; did You Know, the Creator of Sherlock Holmes was also a Pioneer of Skiing?" Independent on Sunday (London), November 2, 2003: 4.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Conan Doyle? On skis? I thought he'd be a pipe and slippers man. Even in the world of eminent Victorians, Dr Arthur Conan Doyle stood out as a Renaissance man, a natural extrovert with diverse talents fuelled by huge reserves of energy, enthusiasm and wit. Less well charted is his flirtation with skiing, an intensive two-year fling that established him as a winter sports prophet and pioneer. The affair reached its zenith on 23 March 1894, when the creator of Sherlock Holmes became the first Englishman to cross the 2,440m Maiefelder Furka pass above Davos and ski down to Arosa on the other side. Rising before 4am, he headed for the village of Frauenkirch, accompanied by his guides, Tobias and Johannes Branger, making the trip for a second time...."

3060. Clinton, Dan. "Looking Back." Popular Science 266, no. 1 (2005): 108-108.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Recalls some articles about science and technology featured in the March 1931 issue of "Popular Science" magazine. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "No Sherlock Holmes of fiction ever disguised himself with more versatility" than wildlife photographer Arthur N. Pack, we wrote. Clad as a succulent, Pack enticed shy desert animals to let him approach and take pictures...."

3061. Coady, Roxanne, and Joy Johannessen. The book that changed my life 71 remarkable writers celebrate the books that matter most to them. New York: Gotham Books, 2006.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2006023179. Introduction / Roxanne J. Coady -- Dorothy Allison on Toni Morrison's The Bluest Eye -- Kate Atkinson on Robert Coover's Pricksongs and Descants -- Atlas on Gwendolyn Brooks's Selected Poems -- Robert Ballard on Joseph Campbell's The Power of Myth -- Gina Barreca on Jean Kerr's The Snake Has All the Lines -- Nicholas A. Basbanes on the Works of Shakespeare -- Graeme Base on J.R.R. Tolkien's The Lord of the Rings -- Jeff Benedict on The Little Engine That Could -- Elizabeth Berg on J.D. Salinger's The Catcher in the Rye -- Amy Bloom on The Most of P.G. Wodehouse -- Harold Bloom on John Crowley's Little, Big -- Lary Bloom on John Hersey's Hiroshima -- Chris Bohjalian on Joyce Carol Oates's Expensive People and More -- Steven Brill on Theodore H. White's The Making of the President, 1960 -- Benjamin Cheever on Ernest Becker's The Denial of Death -- Da Chen on Alexandre Dumas' The Count of Monte Cristo -- Harriet Scott Chessman on Gertrude Stein's Ida -- Brother Christopher on Thomas Merton's The Seven Storey Mountain -- Carol Higgins Clark on Mary Higgins Clark's A Stranger Is Watching -- Billy Collins on Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings' The Yearling -- and Vladimir Nabokov's Lolita -- Claire Cook on the Nancy Drew Mysteries -- Caroline B. Cooney on Caesar's Gallic Wars -- Patricia Cornwell on Harriet Beecher Stowe's Uncle Tom's Cabin -- Maureen Corrigan on Charles Dickens' David Copperfield -- Nelson DeMille on Ayn Rand's Atlas Shrugged and More -- Tomie dePaola on Sigrid Undset's Kristin Lavransdatter -- Anita Diamant on Virginia Woolf's A Room of One's Own -- Dominick Dunne on Anthony Trollope's The Way We Live Now -- Carlos Eire on Thomas á Kempis's The Imitation of Christ -- Linda Fairstein on Arthur Conan Doyle's The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes -- Doris Kearns Goodwin on Barbara W. Tuchman's The Guns of August -- Linda Greenlaw on Sebastian Junger's The Perfect Storm -- David Halberstam on Cecil Woodham-Smith's The Reason Why -- Alice Hoffman on J.D. Salinger's The Catcher in the Rye -- Sebastian Junger on Dee Brown's Bury My Heart at Wounded Knee -- Tracy Kidder on Ernest Hemingway's Collected Stories -- Robert Kurson on Ernest Becker's The Denial of Death -- Wally Lamb on Harper Lee's To Kill a Mockingbird -- Anne Lamott on Ram Dass's The Only Dance There Is and More -- Barbara Leaming on Sigmund Freud's The Interpretation of Dreams -- Senator Joe Lieberman on the Bible -- Margot Livesey on Charlotte Brontë's Jane Eyre -- Senator John McCain on Ernest Hemingway's For Whom the Bell Tolls -- Frank McCourt on Shakespeare's Henry VIII -- Faith Middleton on F. Scott Fitzgerald's The Great Gatsby -- Jacquelyn Mitchard on Betty Smith's A Tree Grows in Brooklyn -- Leigh Montville on Ed McBain's 87th Precinct Series -- Sara Nelson on Herman Wouk's Marjorie Morningstar and Susan Isaacs' Compromising Positions -- Sherwin B. Nuland on William Lewis Nida's Ab the Cave Man -- Laura Numeroff on Kay Thompson's Eloise -- Stewart O'Nan on William Maxwell's So Long, See You Tomorrow -- Jacques Pépin on Albert Camus' The Myth of Sisyphus -- Anne Perry on G.K. Chesterton's The Man Who Was Thursday -- Jack Prelutsky on Robert Louis Stevenson's A Child's Garden of Verses and More -- Ian Rankin on Anthony Burgess's A Clockwork Orange -- Richard Rhodes on Albert Schweitzer's Out of My Life and Thought and Hugh Lofting's Doctor Dolittle Series -- Frank Rich on Moss Hart's Act One -- SARK on Maya Angelou's I Know Why the Caged Bird Sings -- Lisa Scottoline on Frank McCourt's Angela's Ashes -- Bernie S. Siegel on William Saroyan's The Human Comedy -- Liz Smith on Christopher Morley's Kitty Foyle and Guy Endore's Voltaire! Voltaire! -- Edward Sorel on Stendhal's The Red and the Black -- Jane Stern on

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

John Barth's The End of the Road -- Michael Stern on the Sears Catalogue -- Alexandra Stoddard on Rainer Maria Rilke's Letters to a Young Poet -- Paco Underhill on C.S. Forester's Horatio Hornblower Series -- Susan Vreeland on Harper Lee's To Kill a Mockingbird -- Kate Walbert on E.B. White's Charlotte's Web -- Katharine Weber on Steven Millhauser's Edwin Mullhouse -- Jacqueline Winspear on F. Scott Fitzgerald's The Great Gatsby -- The Books That Changed Their Lives : A Reading List of the Books Selected by the Contributors -- Roxanne's Very Opinionated Reading List -- Joy's Very Opinionated Reading List -- Acknowledgments. // Linda Fairstein on Arthur Conan Doyle's The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes

3062. Cobern-Kullman, Dana. "Sherlock Holmes: The Unauthorized Biography." School Library Journal 53, no. 2 (2007): 149-149.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews "Sherlock Holmes: The Unauthorized Biography," by Nicholas Rennison.
3063. Cochran, William R. "Across Six April's." The Camden House Journal 17, no. 9 (1995): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3064. ———. "The Adventure of the Speck Led Band." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (1998): 18-21.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3065. ———. "Ah, There You Lay Your Finger Upon the Point." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (1994): 29.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3066. ———. "All Good Things Must Pass." The Camden House Journal 28, no. 3 (2006): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3067. ———. "The Allusions of Lady Frances Carfax." The Camden House Journal 30, no. 4 (2008): 2-7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3068. ———. "The Anglo-American case of Identity." The Camden House Journal 30, no. 7 (2008): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3069. ———. "As Cunning as the Evil One." The Camden House Journal 29, no. 10 (2007): 2-7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3070. ———. "At the End of His Rope: A Discussion of STOC." The Camden House Journal 22, no. 2 (2000): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3071. ———. "Bartlett D. Simms, BSI." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (1992): 1-2.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3072. ———. "Before the World Went All Awry." The Camden House Journal 25, no. 4 (2003): 2-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3073. ———. "'The best and wisest man whom I have ever known'." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (1991): 9-14.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3074. ———. "The Birthplace of Sherlock Holmes." The Holmes & Watson Report 3, no. 1 (1999): 23-25.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3075. ———. "The Camden House Genesis: The First Ten Years." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (1998): 1-7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3076. ———. The Camden House journal, 1979-2003 an index to the monthly musings between the doors of The Camden House Journal, celebrating over 25 years of publication. S.l.: Occupants of the Empty House, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3077. ———. "A carrion crow among the eagles." The Camden House Journal 30, no. 2 (2008): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3078. ———. "Confronting the Chronology Complications." The Camden House Journal 28, no. 1 (2006): 2-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3079. ———. "The Curious Incident of the Hysterical Housekeeper." The Camden House Journal 27, no. 5 (2005): 2-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3080. ———. "Dayton and the Revelation of the 'Door to Camden House'." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (2002): 22-23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3081. ———. "The Editor's Gas-lamp." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 1 (1994): 5-6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Comments on Sherlockians "of the first order--one who was fond of socializing with literary types," "of the second order--one who exhibits total devotion to the cause," and "of the third order" of "often think of themselves as non-Sherlockians" who were all present in New York for the 60th anniversary gathering.
3082. ———. "The Editor's Gas-lamp: 1895 plus 100." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 4 (1994): 197-198.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Some reflections on Vincent Starrett, his sonnet "221B," and the BSI.
3083. ———. "The Editor's Gas-lamp: A Thought About That Thought." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 2 (1994): 69-70.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Thoughts on The Final Problem, Walter P. Armstrong's article about this tale, and The Adventure of the Empty House.
3084. ———. "The Editor's Gas-lamp: 'If I have one quality upon earth it is common sense'--Houn." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 3 (1994): 133-134.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Highlights two points from a letter sent out by 'Wiggins' of the BSI: the status and importance of the Watson Fund and the status of scion societies recognized by the BSI.
3085. ———. "An Event: Dating of The Valley of Fear." The Camden House Journal 21, no. 3 (1999): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3086. ———. "The example of patient suffering is in itself the most precious of all lessons to an impatient world." The Camden House Journal 18, no. 2 (1996): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3087. ———. "Fahrenheit 2004." The Holmes & Watson Report 8, no. 2 (2004): 28-32.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3088. ———. "The Father of Sherlock Holmes." The Holmes & Watson Report 3, no. 3 (1999): 18-19.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3089. ———. "Fearful Valley." The Camden House Journal 26, no. 11 (2004): 2-7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3090. ———. "A Few Trivial Reflections on DANC." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (1993): 12-14.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3091. ———. "The Five Orange Pips,' Chronology and 'A' Woman." The Camden House Journal 27, no. 1 (2005): 2-7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3092. ———. "Forging a Scion: Meeting Number Two." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (2002): 10-11.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3093. ———. "A Fresh Start." The Holmes & Watson Report 8, no. 1 (2004): 4-6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3094. ———. "From the Editor's Commonplace Book." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 1 (1994): 62-63.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // On the demise of the periodical Baker Street Miscellanea, Julie and Al Rosenblatt's 4-day mini-course on Holmes at Vassar College, an article in MHQ by Thaddeus Holt, the Folio Society's version of the Canon, the 25th anniversary of the Noble Bachelors of St. Louis, the Sherlock Holmes Society of London's "Back to Baker Street" festival, and the Books of Michael Harrison.
3095. ———. "Further Glimpses into Occupancy: Being a Record of Significant Moments in OEH History." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (2002): 12-14.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3096. ———. "The Game Can Never Die If Those Things the Heart Believes Are True." The Holmes & Watson Report 2, no. 3 (1998): 3-8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3097. ———. "Grave Matters." The Camden House Journal 31, no. 12 (2009): 2-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3098. ———. "The Greatest Conundrum in 'The Blue Carbuncle'." The Camden House Journal 26, no. 10 (2004): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3099. ———. "He would Have made a Doctor, and a Rare One." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (1997): 7-9.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3100. ———. "Hopeless Study." The Camden House Journal 25, no. 9 (2003): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3101. ———. "Hunting for Crows: The Camden House Legend." The Camden House Journal 27, no. 6 (2005): 2-7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3102. ———. "'I consider it the greatest privilege to have been permitted to study your methods of working...'" The Camden House Journal 26, no. 2 (2004): 2-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3103. ———. "In re: Nicholas Meyer." The Holmes & Watson Report 8, no. 3 (2004): 14-15, 18-20.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3104. ———. "In the Footsteps of Michael Harrison." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (1988): 1-9.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3105. ———. "Murray: Harbinger of Holmes." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (1995): 4-6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3106. ———. "' -- My Dear Bruce -- ' ' My Dear Hardwick -- '." The Camden House Journal 26, no. 7 (2004): 2-3.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3107. ———. "My Favorite Canonical Place." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (2001): 47-48.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3108. ———. "The Naval Treaty: The Case is an Extra." The Camden House Journal 27, no. 12 (2005): 2-5.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3109. ———. "NIDW." The Holmes & Watson Report 8, no. 6 (2005): 20-23.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3110. ———. "The Night of The Blue Carbuncle." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (2002): 31-33.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3111. ———. "The Nihilist and Biblical Studies: The Conundrums of Gold." The Camden House Journal 28, no. 8 (2006): 2-5.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3112. ———. The Occupants within the Sherlock Holmes reference library. S.l: Occupants of the Empty House, 2004.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references // The collection comprises reprints of studies of 6 titles, or of selections from the titles by Doyle: A study in scarlet, The adventures of Sherlock Holmes, The memoirs of Sherlock Holmes, The return of Sherlock Holmes, The hound of the Baskervilles, The sign of four. All articles are by members of the scion, Occupants of the Empty House, and have been cited in Leslie Klinger's The Sherlock Holmes Reference Library
3113. ———. "Occupying an Empty House: So Excellent a View." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (1996): 19-22.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3114. ———. "One Trifling Question Presented by Watson's Narrative of 'The Adventure of the Crooked Man'." The Camden House Journal 22, no. 7 (2000): 2-3.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3115. ———. "Only Four Gables Shy of a Classic." The Camden House Journal 19, no. 7 (1997): 2-3.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3116. ———. "The Painful Predicament of Sherlock Holmes: or, Every Writer Needs a Literary Agent." The Camden House Journal 24, no. 11 (2002): 2-3.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3117. ———. "Re: The Sherlockian, Dr. Gray C. Briggs." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (1989): 1-5.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3118. ———. "A Review of The New Annotated Sherlock Holmes: The Novels by Leslie Klinger." The Camden House Journal 27, no. 10 (2005): insert.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3119. ———. "'A rose by any other name...' is not Remembered--Unless it is Important." The Camden House Journal 20, no. 3 (1998): 2-3.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3120. ———. "The Sage of Sante Fe." Baker Street West 1 2, no. 2 (1996): 8-10.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3121. ———. "Saving Grace." The Camden House Journal 29, no. 12 (2007): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3122. ———. "Sham Flies and Data." The Camden House Journal 27, no. 2 (2005): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3123. ———. "Sherlock Holmes on Death and DYIN." The Camden House Journal 21, no. 1 (1999): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3124. ———. "Slings and Arrows From an Irritated Detective." The Camden House Journal 22, no. 12 (2000): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3125. ———. "Sorry I Done It." The Camden House Journal 17, no. 1 (1995): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3126. ———. "Spent Sherlock: or, There's No Police Like Holmes for the Holidays." The Camden House Journal 16, no. 1 (1994): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3127. ———. "A Strange Anomaly." The Camden House Journal 19, no. 3 (1997): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3128. ———. "Survivor, The Reality Series I: The Basic Library and John Bennett Shaw." The Holmes & Watson Report 8, no. 4 (2004): 17-20, 25.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3129. ———. "Survivor, The Reality Series II: Some Survivors from List 1." The Holmes & Watson Report 8, no. 5 (2004): 5-8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3130. ———. "...this rose is an extra Lucy Sommerfield': Peoria's Sherlockian of the First Water." The Camden House Journal 26, no. 4 (2004): insert.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3131. ———. "...this rose is an extra.' Her name was Patricia King." The Camden House Journal 27, no. 9 (2005): insert.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3132. ———. "...this rose is an extra.' obituary for Raymond L. Holly." The Camden House Journal 25, no. 7 (2003): insert.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3133. ———. "Thomas L. Stix Jr.: The Man, The Mission." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (1998): 24-28.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3134. ———. "'Those who know the substance and the Shadow as the Shadow, arrive at reality, and follow right aims'." The Camden House Journal 30, no. 5 (2008): 2-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3135. ———. "Twenty-Five Years of Occupancy." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (2002): 4-6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3136. ———. "Twin Sons of Different Mothers?" The Camden House Journal 24, no. 4 (2002): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3137. ———. "Two Centennials: A Look at the Sentinels of Sherlock Holmes -- The OEH." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (2002): 34-36.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3138. ———. "Two Wrongs Do Make a Right: or How About the Singular Adventures of James Writer?" The Camden House Journal 21, no. 5 (1999): 2-5.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3139. ———. "Unveiling the Veiled Author of 'His Last Bow'." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 54, no. 4 (2004): 28-34.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3140. ———. "'Vic'." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (2002): 1-3.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3141. ———. "'What shall a [wo]man give in exchange for [her] soul?'" The Camden House Journal 21, no. 12 (1999): 2-3.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3142. ———. "When a Man is Lost." The Camden House Journal 29, no. 4 (2007): 2-3.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3143. ———. "When the World Went All Awry: A Brief Discussion of LAST." The Camden House Journal 19, no. 11 (1997): 2-3.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3144. ———. "Why the ?" The Camden House Journal 26, no. 3 (2004): 2-7.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3145. Cochran, William R., and Shannon King. "The Worst Witness: The Eyewitness." The Camden House Journal 19, no. 1 (1997): 2-3.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3146. Cochran, William R., and Gordon R. Speck, eds. Commanding views from the Empty House: collected writings by the Occupants of the Empty House. 1st ed. Indianapolis, IN: Gasogene Books, 1996.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Feb 1997. Contents: A Question of Ballistics? / D. F. Beasley; The Empty House: A Puzzle / Janet Beasley; The Final Problem: A Puzzle / Janet Beasley; The Great Hiatus: A Puzzle / Janet Beasley; Tiger, Tiger / Janet Beasley; The Persistent Enemy: Further Thoughts on Col. Moran / Jack Crelling; Conferment by the Sign of Four / William R. Cochran; For the Sake of a Trust / William R. Cochran; An Irregular Experience / William R. Cochran; Sixteen Years in an Empty House / William R. Cochran; The Death and Resurrection of Sherlock Holmes: Some Questions Raised / Joe Eckrich; A Full House / Joe Eckrich; The Red-Headed League: Key to the Empty Head / Joe Eckrich; A Laboratory at Montpelier / Raymond L. Holly; The New Beginning / Raymond L. Holly; So You Think Coal-Tar Derivatives Are Boring? Not So! / Brad Keefauver; The Adventure of the Failed Falls / Mary Jo Kostya; Memorials in Meiringen / Alfred A. Levin; The Race to Victoria, or How Did the Professor Ever Find Out? / Alfred A. Levin; The Final Red-Headed Problem / Michael W. McClure; When Doyle Visited Baker Street / Michael McClure and Susan McClure; Earlier and for Another Reason / Glen S. Milner; Holmes's Mistake: the Case of the Empty Head / Glen S. Milner; A Short but Interesting Visit / Ed Moorman; A Long as There Are Sherlockians, the Problems Will Never Be Final / Randall Risley; Holmes and Watson: A Play in Two Acts / Lee Eric Shackelford; The Curious Incident of the Press in the Springtime / Gordon R. Speck; 'The Final Problem' Solved / Gordon R. Speck; Holmes, Heroics, Hiatus: A Man to Match Swiss Mountains / Gordon R. Speck; Key(s) to EMPT: Having Pun in the Empty House / Gordon R. Speck; A Measure of the Master / Gordon R. Speck; The Provenance of Parker, the Garroter / Gordon R. Speck; 'A Week Later I was in Florence'

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

/ Gordon R. Speck; Sherlock Holmes's Problems / Newton M. Williams; The Vacant Pad Caper / Newton M. Williams; The Archetypal Sherlock Holmes / Lloyd Worley // "Is just what the subtitle states; the best papers from the society's 16 years of monthly meetings are scholarly, unscholarly, and occasionally scandalous, and there's a reprint of the script for Lee Eric Shackelford's two-act play 'Holmes and Watson.'"

3147. Cockburn, Lyn. "Women of mystery." Herizons 8, no. 2 (1994): 21.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on women mystery writers in Canada. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "[Frances Shelly] Wees, originally from Toronto, introduced her suave sleuth, Dr. Jonathan Merrill in the dirty '30s and not until the '50s did she retire him. While not indulging in her passion for world travel, she chronicled the adventures of her debonair Canadian Sherlock in over 20 books, much to the delight of her many avid fans...."
3148. Cockey, Linda, and Kathryn Kalmanson. "Annotated Bibliography on Musician Wellness." The American Music Teacher 52, no. 6 (2003): 34-49.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // An updated annotated bibliography of literature and an updated list of videos, Web sites, and professional organizations relating to musician wellness are provided. The entry for Westney, William The Perfect Wrong Note and Other Musical Breakthroughs, Amadeus Press (2003) includes a reference to Holmes in Chapter 10. "Chapter Ten, 'Adventurous Amateurs,' is really about 'grown-up practicing' and maturing as a student and a teacher. The comparison to Sherlock Holmes and Albert Einstein and what they have in common make for fun reading."
3149. Cocks, H. G. "Smoking in British Popular Culture 1800-2000 (Book)." Social History 28, no. 1 (2003): 111.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the non-fiction book 'Smoking in British Popular Culture 1800-2000,' by Matthew Hilton. Unknown references to Doyle or Holmes.
3150. Cody, Liza, and Crime Writers' Association (Great Britain). 2nd culprit: an annual of crime stories. London: Chatto & Windus Ltd, 1993.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3151. Cody, Liza, Michael Z. Lewin, H. R. F. Keating, and Crime Writers' Association (Great Britain). 3rd culprit an annual of crime stories. London: Chatto & Windus Ltd, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: Mr. Idd / H.R.F. Keating (p. [27]-36). Added Title: Mr. Idd //
3152. Cody, Liza, and Michael Z. Lewin Lewis, eds. 1st Culprit: A Crime Writers' Association Annual. Toronto: Worldwide Library, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Originally published in Great Britain last year, the 26 tales in this Crime Writer's Association annual exemplify the best in contemporary mystery writing in England and the U.S., showcasing humor, suspense, intricate puzzles and deft innuendo."
3153. Coe, Jonathan. 9th & 13th, (Pocket Penguin). London: Penguin, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. Ivy and her nonsense -- 9th & 13th -- V.O. -- Diary of an obsession. Scuttlebutt May 2005. // "A collection of fiction and non-fiction, including an essay (published in The Guardian on Apr. 30) about his life-long obsession with Billy Wilder's film 'The Private Life of Sherlock Holmes'."
3154. Coetzer, Owen. "After suffering defeat at Spioenkop, Maj. Gen. Sir Charles Warren had to endure a humiliating." Military History 16, no. 6 (2000): 18.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Profiles Major General Sir Charles Warren and his defeat at Spioenkop. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "The war had cost an appalling 3.23 billion pounds sterling and thousands of lives, and King Edward VII wanted to know why. Lord Roberts, Buller, Warren, ... Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, William Gatacre, Paul Sanford (third Baron Methuen) and Henry Charles Keith (fifth Marquess of Lansdowne) were among a host of British military men and politicians who attended the inquiry...."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3155. Coffee Jr, John C. "Can Lawyers Wear Blinders? Gatekeepers and Third-Party Opinions." Texas Law Review 84, no. 1 (2005): 59-74.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article focuses on the duty of the lawyer to inquire into the legitimacy of finance transaction. Unknown reference to Doyle or Holmes.
3156. Coffen, Robert. "The Case of the Ageless Detective." The Sherlock Holmes Gazette, no. 11 (1995): 34-35.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3157. Coffin, Jim. "Humor and Playing the Game." Baker Street West 1 2, no. 2 (1996): 11-13.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3158. Coffin, James A. "Festival Memories (1) The Case of the Missing Brown Bag." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 22, no. 2 (1995): 38-39.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3159. ———. "The Mystery of the Unusual Pencil." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 23, no. 4 (1998): 121-122.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3160. ———. "Wigmore Street Postbag, Congratulations!" The Sherlock Holmes Journal 22, no. 1 (1994): 36.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3161. Coffman, Frank. "The Fantastic Formula." The Holmes & Watson Report 7, no. 6 (2004): 40.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3162. ———. "The Magic Portal for ACD." The Holmes & Watson Report 7, no. 5 (2003): 32.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3163. ———. "The Repetitious Client for ACD." The Holmes & Watson Report 7, no. 5 (2003): 9.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3164. Coghill, Bob. "The Blessing for the Annual Dinner of the Bootmakers of Toronto." Canadian Holmes 22, no. 3 (1999): 17.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3165. ———. "Bookshelf: His Last Bow." Canadian Holmes 17, no. 4 (1994): 34-36.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3166. ———. "Lessons Learned from the Theological College of St. George's." Canadian Holmes 29, no. 2 (2005): 5-14.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3167. ———. "Remembering Mary in Manhattan." Canadian Holmes 29, no. 3 (2006): 32-33.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3168. ———. "Sherlockismus." Canadian Holmes 20, no. 4 (1997): 16-20.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3169. Coghill, Bob et al. "Letters to the Editor, 'Kudos'." Canadian Holmes 26, no. 3 (2003): 4-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3170. Cohen, Edward H. "Victorian Bibliography for 1998." Victorian Studies 42, no. 4 (1999): 719-873.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes multiple references to Doyle and Holmes.
3171. ———. "Victorian Bibliography for 1999." Victorian Studies 43, no. 4 (2001): 699-839.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes Doyle references. --Baccolini, Raffaella, Carla Comellini, & Vita Fortunati, eds. Culture di lingua inglese a confronto. Bologna: CLUEB, 1998. 256 pp. Includes Barrie, Doyle, and Stevenson; --Baxter, Kent B. "Identity in Crisis: Modernism and the Texts of Adolescence." DAIA 59:2972. Includes Doyle and Kipling; --Calanchi, Alessandra. Quattro studi in rosso: I confini del privato maxchile nella narrativa vittoriana. Cesena: Societa Editrice "Il Ponte Vecchio," 1997. 216 pp. Includes Collins, Doyle, and Stevenson; --Cockerell, Hugh. "Tobacco and Victorian Literature," in IIIsc, Lock, Reynolds, & Tansey, pp. 89-99. Includes Dickens, Doyle, and A. Trollope; --Drever, Tiffany E. "Medical Mysteries: Dragging the Victorian Hysteria into the Machine Age." DAIA 59:3827. Includes Collins, Dickens, and Doyle; --Fraser, Robert W. Victorian Quest Romance: Stevenson, Haggard, Kipling, and Conan Doyle. Plymouth: Northcote, 1998. 93 pp.; --Hendershot, Cyndy. The Animal Within: Masculinity and the Gothic. Ann Arbor: U of Michigan P, 1998. 281 pp. Includes C. Bronte, Conrad, Doyle, Stevenson, and Stoker; --Hennessey, Rosemary, & Chrys Ingraham, eds. Materialist Feminism: A Reader in Class, Difference, and Women's Lives. London: Routledge, 1997. 430 pp. Includes Doyle; --Krebs, Paula M. Gender, Race, and the Writing of Empire: Public Discourse and the Boer War. Cambridge UP. 205 pp. Includes Doyle, Haggard, Kipling, and Schreiner; --Otis, Laura. Membranes: Metaphors of Invasion in Nineteenth-Century Literature, Science, and Politics. Baltimore: Johns Hopkins UP. 210 pp. Includes Doyle; --Ramirez, Luz E. "Empire and Americanism: British Representations of Latin America." DAIA 59: 3468. Includes Conrad and Doyle; --Reitz, Caroline W. "The Necessary Detective: Police, Empire and Victorian National Identity." DAIA 60:1576. Includes Burton, Collins, Dickens, Doyle, and Kipling; --Baker Street Inventory." BSJ Mar:59-63; Jun:53- 55; Sep:58-61; Dec:59-61. --Calanchi, Alessandra. "'Others Will Follow': Lo strano caso di Jekyll, Hyde e Sherlock Holmes." RdSV 3, 5(1998):133-43. --Calanchi, Alessandra. "Rovinare le sacre simbiosi: Rosencrantz, Guildenstern e Sherlock Holmes." Poetiche: Letteratura ed Altro 4/5(1996):145-55. --Edwards, Owen Dudley. "Arthur Conan Doyle," in V, Winks & Corrigan, pp. 301-30. --Frank, Lawrence. "The Hound of the Baskervilles, the Man on the Tor, and a Metaphor for the Mind." NCL 54:336-72. --Genis, Aleksandr. "Zakon i poriadok: Moi Sherlock Holmes." Znamia Dec:195-201. --Goldfarb, Clifford. The Great Shadow: Arthur Conan Doyle, Brigadier Gerard and Napoleon. Ashcroft, BC: Calabash, 1997. 232 pp. Rev. by N. Dames in VPR 32:181-82. --Hennessey, Rosemary, & Rajeswri Mohan. "The Construction of Women in Three Popular Texts of Empire: Toward a Critique of Materialist Feminism," in V, Hennessey & Ingraham, pp. 186-206. Includes "The Speckled Band." --Holland-Toll, Linda J. "Holmes the Prole: Or, a Marxist, Definitely Manque." Clues 20, 1:37-48. --Jenkins, William D. The Adventure of the Detected Detective: Sherlock Holmes in James Joyce's "Finnegan's Wake". Westport, CT: Greenwood, 1998. 149 pp. --Jurkowska-Krupa, Beata. "Modes of Storytelling: A Rhetorical Analysis of Film and Television Adaptations of Arthur Conan Doyle's The Hound of the Baskervilles and Leo Tolstoy's Anna Karenina." DAIA 59:3265. --Keep, Christopher, & Don Randall. "Addiction, Empire, and Narrative in Arthur Conan Doyle's The Sign of Four." Novel 32:207-21. --Kestner, J. Sherlock's Men. . . . See VB 1997, 794. Rev. by E. Lauterbach in ELT 42:212-16; by R. Jann in VS 42:314-16. --McConchie, R. W. "Privileged and Displaced Persons: Henry Lawson in Sherlock Holmes's England." CE&S 21, 2:83-100. --Otis, Laura. Membranes: Metaphors of Invasion in Nineteenth-Century Literature, Science, and Politics. Baltimore: Johns Hopkins UP. 210 pp. Includes Doyle. --Schumacher, Hans. "Sherlock Holmes und der Höllenhund: Mythologie der Detektivgeschichte," in V, Chiarini, Kruse, & Todini, pp. 265-84. --Stashower, Daniel. Teller of Tales: The Life of Arthur Conan Doyle. London: Pan; NY: Holt. 512 pp. Rev. by A. Lejeune in NRev 31 May:68-69.

3172. Cohen, Emily Jane. "The fairy machine." Art Issues, no. 51 (1998): 24-29.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Discusses the late 19th and early 20th century quest to produce photographic evidence of the existence of fairies, with particular reference to the images faked by two girls, Elsie Wright and Frances Griffiths, in Cottingley, England, in 1917. The author notes the interest of Arthur Conan Doyle in the Cottingley fairy photographs, outlines his theories regarding them, and comments on the recent film Fairy Tale: a True Story by Charles Sturridge. She concludes by examining the place of electricity in the depiction of fairies and in art works by Marinetti, Picabia and Raoul Dufy."

3173. Cohen, George. "Dr. Joe Bell: Model for Sherlock Holmes." Booklist 103, no. 16 (2007): 17.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'Dr. Joe Bell: Model for Sherlock Holmes,' by Ely M. Liebow.

3174. Cohen, Jack, and Ian Stewart. "Beyond all reasonable DNA." Lancet 345, no. 8965 (1995): 1586.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Opinion. Comments on the alternative explanations needed to prove the validity of DNA fingerprinting. Includes reference to Holmes. "'Once you have eliminated the impossible, then whatever remains, however improbable, must be the truth.' So said Sherlock Holmes, and so do prosecutors argue in criminal cases that hang upon the evidence of DNA fingerprints. The difficulty, which the great fictional detective swept under the carpet, is in deciding what remains....The uncertainties associated with DNA fingerprinting, especially when exaggerated by lawyers, have left juries in a state of mind very different from Sherlock Holmes's certainties. Once you have eliminated the impossible, then whatever remains, however improbable, may well be false--because what you think is impossible might actually be commonplace...."

3175. Cohen, Karen. "Sherlock Holmes is their Man Club Members Say there is no Mystery to their Passion. Nothing is Too Arcane for those on the Great Detective's Trail." The Philadelphia Inquirer, December 17, 1995: A17.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "One by one, the club's members materialize out of a dark and stormy Washington night to talk of murder most foul and detection most sublime. The club's vice president disappeared long ago and two other officers are dead, but that does not stop the Red Circle Sherlockian Society, where Sherlock Holmes, his loyal companion Doctor Watson and their adventures are analyzed and savored over and over again...."
3176. Cohen, Paula. "Barbara Iris Ulan Van Buskirk: A Remembrance." The Serpentine Muse 22, no. 4 (2006): 5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3177. ———. Das Haus am Gramercy Park. Frankfurt an Main: Scherz, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. Translation of: Gramercy Park. Aus dem Amerikanischen von Tatjana Kruse. //
3178. ———. Gramercy Park. London: Fourth Estate, 2002.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 20 cm. Scuttlebutt Oct 2001. // "Paula calls the book 'historical suspense,' closest in spirit to Daphne du Maurier's Rebecca, but set in Edith Wharton's New York. The novel opens in New York in 1894, when Mario Alfieri, the world's greatest tenor, moves into an elegant mansion facing Gramercy Park and encounters a bewitching orphan named Clara Adler. Paula is 'Lady Mary Brackenstall' amongst the Adventuresses of Sherlock Holmes."
3179. ———. Gramercy Park. Large type ed. Leicester: Ulverscroft, 2003.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 26 cm. Originally published: London : Fourth Estate, 2002. //
3180. ———. Gramercy Park. 1st ed. New York: St. Martin's Press, 2002.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 24 cm. // "Paula calls the book 'historical suspense,' closest in spirit to Daphne du Maurier's Rebecca, but set in Edith Wharton's New York. The novel opens in New York in 1894, when Mario Alfieri, the world's greatest tenor, moves into an elegant mansion facing Gramercy Park and encounters a bewitching orphan named Clara Adler. Paula is 'Lady Mary Brackenstall' amongst the Adventuresses of Sherlock Holmes."
3181. ———. Gramercy Park. Large type ed. Hampton Falls, NH: Beeler Large Print, 2002.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 24 cm. //
3182. ———. Gramercy Park. Barcelona: Umbriel Editores, 2002.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 23 cm. Translated by Juanjo Estrella. //
3183. Cohen, Robin. "Book reviews." International Affairs 82, no. 5 (2006): 989-1035.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Among the books reviewed is one in which the review contains a reference to Holmes. Ethnicity and cultural politics: The illusion of cultural identity. By Jean-François Bayart. "...Bayart correctly argues that civil wars in Yugoslavia, the Caucasus and Central Asia will 'lead one to worry about the exacerbation of ethno-nationalism' (p. 63), but he immediately downplays this, talking of the dog that did not bark in the night (one up for Sherlock Holmes), the amicable divorce between the Czechs and the Slovaks, and the acceptance of diversity in the European Union...."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3184. Cohen, Sacha. "Digital detective." Training & Development 51, no. 6 (1997): 16.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses how companies can use the Internet for competitive intelligence. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "Even if you don't aspire to be another Sherlock Holmes or Kinsey Millhone, you still may want to use the Net for competitive intelligence...."
3185. Cohen, Susan. "Recollections of Sherlock Holmes." The Serpentine Muse 16, no. 2 (2000): 14.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3186. Cohen, Saul. "Sherlock Holmes and Robert Storm Peterson." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 49, no. 2 (1999): 27-31.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3187. Cohen, William A. "Trollope's Trollop." Novel: A Forum on Fiction 28, no. 3 (1995): 235-256.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Examines the overt sexuality in Anthony Trollope's book 'The Eustace Diamonds.' Includes references to Doyle and Holmes.
3188. Coker, David. Every Dark Cloud. [S.l.]: [privately printed], 1998.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3189. Colatrella, Carol. "Crossing Disciplines." Configurations 2, no. 2 (1994): 353-363.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews William J. Berg. The Visual Novel: Emile Zola and the Art of His Times. University Park, Penn.: Pennsylvania State University Press, 1992. 308 pp. $39.50. Marie-Christine Leps. Apprehending the Criminal: The Production of Deviance in Nineteenth-Century Discourse. Durham, N.C.: Duke University Press, 1992. 288 pp. $45.00, 15.95. Larwence Rothfield. Vital Signs: Medical Realism in Nineteenth-Century Fiction. Princeton, N.J.: Princeton University Press, 1992. 250 pp. $27.50. Richard Dean Smith. Melville's Complaint: Doctors and Medicine in the Art of Herman Melville. New York: Garland Publishing, 1991. 213 pp. $32.00. Includes multiple references to Doyle and at least one passing reference to Holmes.
3190. Cole, Bruce. "On Learning from the Greeks." Humanities 26, no. 3 (2005): 4-41.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Interviews Donald Kagan, historian and recipient of the 2005 Jefferson Lecturer in the Humanities award, about the teaching of history. Includes a reference to Holmes. "...The truth of the matter is I read widely among detective stories until I ran into Nero Wolfe. He was so much better than everybody else that I lost interest in all the others. I never much cared about whodunit. I don't love to guess who did it or work the solution. I enjoy the characters. Nero Wolfe and Archie are what those books are for me--the interplay between these two personalities. It's a more sophisticated and enjoyable version of the Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson relationship...."
3191. Colebatch, Hal G. P. "World Narrowing: Notes on Britain's Culture-War." National Observer, no. (2002): 15p.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Explores the status of popular culture and publications in Great Britain, with a passing reference to Holmes.
3192. Coleman, Alexander. "Fantastic Argentine." New Criterion 13, no. 2 (1994): 65.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on the fictional works of Argentine novelist Adolfo Bioy Casares. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...The two collaborated in five works of fiction, most of them parodies of detective stories modeled on their avid readings in Chesterton and Conan Doyle...."
3193. Coleman, Andy. "Folk: Sherlock Holmes Helped." Birmingham Evening Mail, April 22, 2005: 35.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Singer songwriter Edwina Hayes found herself on the road to musical success when she delivered a car to one of America's southern states....With the car safely handed over to the new owner in Georgia, Edwina paid a visit to neighbouring state, Tennessee, and America's Music Capital, Nashville. 'I came across the Sherlock Holmes, an English pub that put on music nights. When I returned to the UK I kept in touch with the people I'd met in Nashville and went back there in 2002. A job in the kitchen of the

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Sherlock Holmes meant that Edwina could regularly perform her music at the pub as well as earn a wage. It also led to her big break...."

3194. Coleman, Peter. "Review--'The Unopened Casebook of Sherlock Holmes' BBC Radio Five." The Ritual, no. 11 (1993): 31-33.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3195. Coles, Bill. "Sherlock Holmes Still Lives." Wall Street Journal - Eastern Edition, 02/24, 2007: P16.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article features writer Arthur Conan Doyle and his Sherlock Holmes detective stories.

3196. Collier, Ellen Mansoor. "The children's crusader." Biography 2, no. 2 (1998): 70.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Features Mark Miller, founder of the American Association for Lost Children. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Like a modern-day Sherlock Holmes, Miller maps out a game plan for each case, tracking clues and leads that have taken him from Florida to California, Hawaii, Germany, and Lebanon...."

3197. Collins, Anne, and Arthur Conan Doyle. The speckled band and other stories. Oxford: Heinemann International, 1998. Sound Recording 1 sound cassette.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog + Includes: 1 book (2002, 79 p. : ill. ; 20 cm.). Heinemann guided readers.; Intermediate level. Book illustrated by Kay Dixey. Arthur Conan Doyle ; retold by Anne Collins. //

3198. Collins, Charles, John Nieminski, and Ely Liebow. Sherlock in the Trib being references to Sherlock Holmes and things Sherlockian as originally recorded by Chicago tribune staffer Charles Collins in his column A line o' type or two (1939-1951). New York: Magico Magazine, 2000.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Jun 2001. // "While it's true that The Baker Street Irregulars were born and nourished in the pages of the Saturday Review of Literature, it's also a fact that the pages of the Chicago Tribune offered its readers a splendid opportunity to discover just how much fun Sherlockians have. Vincent Starrett wrote for the paper for many years, of course, but there was another stalwart Sherlockian on its staff: Charles Collins, who for more than two decades edited and wrote a daily column called 'A Line o' Type or Two' and provided a forum for his fellow enthusiasts. And you can now see just how much they all had, thanks to the late John Nieminski, who discovered more than 300 separate items of interest in the Collins' column, and assembled and annotated them for a book that was not published while he lived; and thanks to Ely Liebow, who has contributed two informative and enthusiastic introductions, about John Nieminski and Charles Collins, and who presided over publication."

3199. Collins, Max Allan. The history of mystery. 1st American ed, (Art fiction series). Portland, OR: Collectors Press, 2001.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- col. ill. ; 32 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. 194) and index. // "The History Of Mystery's text, by the fine mystery writer Max Allan Collins, is a joy to read. It's not hard to tell when a writer, rather than a scholar, is doing the writing. Inevitably, because of the enormous range covered between these covers, it mostly skims the surface of the entire genre, but it's all nicely presented."

3200. Collins, Mary Ellen. "Stuart M. Kaminsky." Writer 121, no. 1 (2008): 66.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article introduces Stuart M. Kaminsky, author of the books "Always Say Goodbye," "The Dead Don't Lie," and "People Who Walk in Darkness." Kaminsky offers advice to writers by discussing why he writes, his daily routine, and evaluates his writing process. Kaminsky also describes the environment in which he writes and mentions what stories and authors have influenced him. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Influences: Dostoevsky is number one. The obvious ones, Chandler more than Hammett. And you can go back to the TV series The Rockford Files and Harry O. I don't necessarily remember what the mysteries were; I remember the characters. The Brothers Karamazov is kind of a dopey story, but the characters are all wonderful. I think people obsess ridiculously over plot. I reread Sherlock Holmes for Holmes and Watson, not the plot. With so many popular writers, I just don't care about their characters."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3201. Collins, Randall, and Masamichi Higurashi. Sharokku Homuzu tai okaruto kaijin aruiwa "Tetsugakusha no wa" jiken : Jon H. Watosun cho. Shohan ed, (Kawade bunko). Tokyo: Kawade Shobo Shinsha, 1996.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3202. Collins, Tony. "It's elementary, my dear Big Joe!" Birmingham Evening Mail, October 25, 2008: 3.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "...Big Joe' Egan, who was also a former sparring partner of ex-world champion Mike Tyson, has landed a part in film director Guy Ritchie's latest movie, Sherlock Holmes, which is due for release in 12 months' time...."
3203. ———. "Review: Menacing Adaptation." Birmingham Evening Mail, June 10, 2004: 3.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Brief review of the play "The Hound of the Baskervilles," Highbury Theatre, Sutton Coldfield. "Tim Kelly's adaptation of the classic Arthur Conan Doyle story may not feature an actual hound, but that does not detract from the menace of his play. The supposedly supernatural beast is heard rather than seen in this stage version, written long after Conan Doyle's death in 1930....Rob Phillips and Wiley Bowkett are a double delight as Holmes and his faithful sidekick Dr Watson in this Highbury Players production....Kelly's adaptation adds one or two twists to Conan Doyle's original, but Sherlock Holmes' mastery still shines through."
3204. Colmeiro, Jose F. "The Hispanic (Dis)Connection: Some Leads and a Few Missing Links." Journal of Popular Culture 34, no. 4 (2001): 49.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article explores the connections suggested by two images between popular culture and high culture and between detective fiction in the English-speaking nations and in the Spanish-speaking nations. Includes a reference to Doyle.
3205. Colmer, Bevis! Elementary, my dear Watson. London: Minerva, 2000.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references and index //
3206. Colvin, Geoffrey. "Deflation? Get a Grip." Fortune 138, no. 8 (1998): 289.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on the fear of deflation in the United States economy as of October 26, 1998 and the impact the prospect is having on investors. Includes a reference to Holmes. "Sherlock Holmes knew the evil that deflation can rouse. 'I have seen the will of the deceased wife. To determine its exact meaning I have been obliged to work out the present prices of the investments with which it is concerned,' he tells Watson in 'The Adventure of the Speckled Band.' Mrs. Stoner had left her second husband investments that had once yielded some 1,100[pounds] a year, of which her twin daughters could claim a fixed amount if they married. But 'now, through the fall in agricultural prices,' Holmes finds, the income is 'not more than 750[pounds].' Thus, as a result of the late 19th century's steadily falling commodity prices, the sum left for Mrs. Stoner's husband, the deranged Dr. Grimesby Roylott of Stoke Moran, would be intolerably small if his stepdaughters were to marry. When they plan to do so, as I need scarcely remind you, he murders one and attempts to murder the other by means of a swamp adder, the deadliest snake in India. If this is what comes of deflation, then you can't blame those who are suddenly sounding almost panicky about its prospect...."
3207. ———. "Xerox's Inventor-In-Chief." Fortune 156, no. 1 (2007): 65-72.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article presents an interview with Sophie Vandebroek, chief technology officer at Xerox Corp. Color photograph in article includes a caption with reference to Holmes. "Show Me Fortune's Geoff Colvin makes a point as Vandebroek displays a Sherlock Holmes story printed using Xerox's digital microprinting technology."
3208. Combs, Richard. "Talking Cure." Film Comment 44, no. 5 (2008): 78-78.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of "Have you seen...?" by David Thomson. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Actually, the account is fairly typical of Thomson's method throughout, since he mixes everything into his analyses--production histories, anecdotes, surmises about small but significant failings, and gossip. Jean Simmons, we're told, can be seen smiling secretly at the camera in Spartacus, hoping that someone else is in on the joke; Billy Wilder's nagging on The Private Life of Sherlock Holmes drove the star Robert Stephens to attempt suicide...."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3209. Conant, Susan. The Barker Street regulars. Large type ed, (Wheeler large print book series). Rockland, MA: Wheeler Pub., 1998.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3210. ———. The Barker Street regulars. New York: Bantam Books, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3211. ———. The Barker Street regulars a dog lover's mystery. 1st ed. New York: Doubleday, 1998.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 97012751 // "Involves amateur sleuth Holly Winter and her malamutes Rowdy and Kimi with some Boston Sherlockians, an animal psychic, and a murder; it's an amusing story: Conant knows and loves dogs, and had Sherlockian assistance from Bruce Southworth."
3212. Concar, David. "Death of old age. (Cover story)." New Scientist 150, no. 2035 (1996): 24.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Investigates the potentials of aging research. Storyline of Arthur Conan Doyle's 'The Creeping Man'; Geron Corp.'s devotion to developing drugs and therapies for aging; Genetic and physiological basis of aging; Approaches to preventing aging due to damaged DNA and proteins; Studies on the molecular mechanisms underlying the effects of caloric restriction.
3213. Conley, Carolyn A. "Reviews." Journal of Social History 27, no. 4 (1994): 880.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'Apprehending the Criminal: The Production of Deviance in Nineteenth-Century Discourse,' by Marie-Christine Leps. Includes a reference to Holmes. "...After analyzing several French novels, the Sherlock Holmes stories and finally Stevenson's The Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde Leps concludes that literature challenged these presuppositions..."
3214. Conlon, John J. "The Execution of Sherlock Holmes." Magill Book Reviews, no. (2007): no page citation.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Writing in the person of Dr. Watson, Donald Thomas carries on the great tradition of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle by presenting five new cases featuring the world's most famous consulting detective, Sherlock Holmes. Sherlockians will revel in the level of accurate detail from the original stories while those who are not as familiar with the early cases will not be disadvantaged thanks to the clarity of Thomas's writing. The title case features the plot to destroy Holmes in which his would-be assassins appear to have thought of everything but Holmes's vast array of intellectual resources. Watson's earlier account of Holmes's death at Reichenbach Falls was erroneous: that four additional stories follow is a clue to this one's ending. 'The Case of the Greek Key' presents an ingenious exercise in code-breaking involving the British Admiralty, German spies, and Kaiser Wilhelm. 'The Case of the Peasenhall Murder' contains a seemingly impossible series of events and conflicting stories to untangle. 'The Case of the Phantom Parlor Maid' takes Holmes into the supernatural realm until he can reason out the problem, and 'The Queen of the Night' is a compelling tale of jewel thieves, duplicity, and the preparations for the coronation of Edward VII. In each of these cases Holmes and Watson live again exactly as they had in the writings of Conan Doyle but into a future Thomas, as a masterful story-teller, articulates splendidly. One could not hope for a better re-creation of the Baker Street duo."
3215. Connell, David J. "Reviews: Book." British Heritage 19, no. 6 (1998): 61.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'The Napoleon of Crime: The Life and Times of Adam Worth, Master Thief,' by Ben MacIntyre. Includes a reference to Doyle. "...In addition to his lavish attire, Worth was an articulate and self-educated man who was often seen at the best London parties. He was so renowned as a master criminal, that Sir Arthur Conan Doyle fashioned the fictional master criminal, Moriarty, after him...."
3216. Connelly, Michael, and Otto Penzler. The best American mystery stories 2003, (The best American series). Boston: Houghton Mifflin Co., 2003.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 22 cm. Foreword -- Introduction / Michael Connelly -- The jukebox king / Doug Allyn -- Aardvark to aztec / Christopher Chambers -- The pickpocket / Christopher Cook -- After you've gone / John Peyton Cooke -- Hostages / James Crumley -- Death on denial / O'Neil de Noux -- The jeweler / Pete Dexter -- Thug : signification and the (de) construction of self / Tyler Dilts -- War can be murder / Mike

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

- Doogan -- Richard's children / Brendan Dubois -- When the women came out to dance / Elmore Leonard -- The Confession / Robert Mckee -- Lavender / Walter Mosley -- The skull / Joyce Carol Oates -- The dead their eyes implore us / George P. Pelecanos -- Sockdolager / Scott Phillips -- The adventure of the agitated actress / Daniel Stashower -- Home sweet home / Hannah Tinti -- Controlled burn / Scott Wolven -- That one autumn / Monica Wood -- Contributor's notes -- Other distinguished mystery stories of 2002.
 edited and with an introduction by Michael Connelly ; Otto Penzler, series editor. // Includes Daniel Stashower's "The Adventure of the Agitated Actress."
3217. Connor, Neil. "Baskerville Claim Rubbished." Birmingham Post, June 2, 2004: 4.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Claims that one of the most famous Sherlock Holmes' tales had its origins in the Midlands have provoked a furore among tourist officials in Devon. The Hound of of Baskervilles is traditionally known to have been set on the foggy landscapes of Dartmoor. But thriller writer Phil Rickman has caused anger by claiming that Herefordshire may have played an important part in Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's story. Speculation about the Midland roots are 50-years-old, but Rickman's claims, which are due to be published in a magazine dedicated to the detective, have also received an angry response from fans of Sherlock Holmes...."
3218. Connors, Joanna. "She-devil Takes Over in 'Disclosure'." The Plain Dealer (Cleveland, OH), Dec 9, 1994: 11.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Unknown Doyle or Holmes reference.
3219. Connors, Theresa. "Audio reviews." Library Journal 119, no. 17 (1994): 102.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the sound recording 'Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes. Volume 2: Four More Classic Stories,' by Arthur Conan Doyle, read by Clive Merrison, Michael Williamson, Peter Davison and others.
3220. ———. "Sherlock Holmes and the Hapsburg Tiara." Library Journal 130, no. 4 (2005): 125.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the audiobook "Sherlock Holmes and the Hapsburg Tiara," by Alan Vanneman.
3221. ———. "The Sign of Four (Book)." Library Journal 129, no. 16 (2004): 118-118.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the audiobook "The Sign of Four," by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.
3222. Connors, Theresa, and Mark Annichiarico. "The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes." Library Journal 122, no. 3 (1997): 174-174.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the sound recording 'The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes,' volume 1, by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.
3223. ———. "Audio reviews." Library Journal 121, no. 6 (1996): 138.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the sound recording 'The Hound of the Baskervilles,' by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.
3224. ———. "Audio reviews." Library Journal 121, no. 13 (1996): 134.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the sound recording 'The Lost World,' by Arthur Conan Doyle.
3225. ———. "Audio reviews." Library Journal 117, no. 19 (1992): 124.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the sound recording 'Sherlock Holmes Casebook,' by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. 2 cassettes. Unabridged. 2 hrs. Buckingham Classics, Chicago, IL. ISBN 1-882071-28-9. Presents "The Priory School" and "The Man With the Twisted Lip" narrated by John Barnes.
3226. Conrad, Hy, and Tatjana Mai-Wyss. Whodunit crime puzzles. New York: Sterling Pub., 2002.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Includes index. Scuttlebutt Jan 2005 // "Sherman Oliver Holmes is the great-great-grandson of Sherlock Holmes, and poses 29 mystery puzzles for readers to solve (one of them being a sequel to 'The Blue Carbuncle'). Some of the Sherman Oliver Holmes puzzles (but not the sequel to

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

'The Blue Carbuncle') have been reprinted in Mensa Whodunits, by Bill Wise, Hy Conrad, and Bob Peterson (New York: Sterling Publishing, 2004)

3227. Conrad, Hy, Tatjana Mai-Wyss, and Albert Solé. Tras las huellas del crimen, (Desvela el misterio). Barcelona: Ediciones Oniro, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Translation of: Whodunit crime puzzles. Translation by Albert Solé. // Presents twenty-five brief mysteries as investigated by Sherman Holmes, a brilliant but eccentric sleuth who believes he is descended from the legendary Sherlock Holmes; solutions in the back.
3228. Conrad, Mark. "One of Mrs. Hudson's Cronies." The Holmes & Watson Report 5, no. 6 (2002): 12-15.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3229. Conroy, James C. "Morals for the millennium: The 25th anniversary conference at University College of St Martin." Journal of Moral Education 25, no. 4 (1996): 480.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports on the 25th anniversary conference of the editorial board of the 'Journal of Moral Education' at the University College of St. Martin, Lancaster on July 15-19, 1996. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...Like Conan-Doyle, Williams tells a ripping good yarn; unlike him, however, all is not resolved at the end..."
3230. Conroy, Scott. "Elementary." The Guardian (London), October 14, 1999: 23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Letter to the editor. "'Was Sherlock Holmes French?' asks John Henley (The plot thickens, G2 October 13) because he refuses a knighthood and accepts the Legion d'Honneur - 'would a true Englishman do that?' No, but a Scotsman would. He speaks perfect French, always the most-favoured foreign language of educated Scots. His grandmother was French - it doesn't take much to picture his grandfather, a Jacobean Scot perhaps (remember the auld alliance). He wears a deerstalker and a macfarlane coat. Oh, and his creator was a Scotsman. You are left with the not at all improbable likelihood that Holmes was Scottish. N'est-ce pas?"
3231. Conway, Cheryl. "The First of Criminals." Canadian Holmes 25, no. 3 (2002): 26-31.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3232. Conway, William H., and Linda L. Conway. Canonical Crime Scenes and Investigations. Vol. 1. Cincinnati: Classic Specialties Books, 1995.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Feb 1996 // "Offers a new approach to the Canon: summaries of 14 cases done as official crime-scene reports..."
3233. Cook, William. "Close to home: A bit more than naval-gazing: When you think of Portsmouth, what comes to mind? Its redoubtable historic warships, perhaps. Chances are, it's not designer shopping, contemporary art - or Portsmouth FC's first goalkeeper, Arthur Conan Doyle." The Guardian (London), Apr 12, 2008: 2.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "From the crow's nest of Portsmouth's new Spinnaker Tower, you get a great view of the Isle of Wight, but the most spectacular sight is right beneath your feet, more than 100 metres below. Portsmouth's Historic Dockyard is a slice of living history, featuring several fascinating museums, housed in the original dockside buildings that were the powerhouse of the royal navy for several centuries. Most riveting is Nelson's flagship, HMS Victory, moored beside the Victorian battleship HMS Warrior, and Henry VIII's favourite warship, the Mary Rose. [Richard Lancelyn Green]'s bequest has provided a cultural catalyst for a city with a far more varied cultural life than its robust public image as a military harbour would suggest. Portsmouth was also the birthplace of Britain's greatest novelist, Charles Dickens. The handsome house where he was born is now a museum. And if you prefer fine art to literature, the local artist WL Wyllie was one of the finest maritime painters of the late 19th and early 20th centuries. There are some splendid examples of his work Portsmouth's City and Royal Naval Museums, most notably his epic panorama of the Battle of Trafalgar. There's first class stand-up comedy at Jongleurs and the Wedgwood Rooms, and the cathedral is a gem. 'It was a place in which a man might very well spend a happy life,' wrote [Arthur Conan Doyle], of Portsmouth. Or, he might have added, a very enjoyable weekend."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3234. ———. "The dog that barked in the night." New Statesman 130, no. 4568 (2001): 118.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'The Hounds of the Baskervilles,' by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.
3235. ———. "Holmes, sweet Holmes." New Statesman 131, no. 4602 (2002): 31.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses the success experienced by film adaptations of books on Sherlock Holmes. Main attraction of the silent films on Sherlock Holmes played by Eille Norwood; Actors who played the role of Sherlock Holmes; Overview of film adaptations of books.
3236. ———. "Overdrawn." New Statesman 135, no. 4785 (2006): 40-42.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article reviews the art exhibition "The Man Who Hated Pooh!" at the Political Cartoon Gallery, London, from March-May, 2006. Includes multiple references to Doyle and Holmes.
3237. Cook, William, and Lisa Allardice. "Back to the future." New Statesman 132, no. 4650 (2003): 26-27.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses the way that the sci-fi TV show "Dr. Who" reflected the social cultural history of Great Britain. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...But it was Tom Baker (1974-81) who hit the intergalactic jackpot, playing him as a dippy hippy with an unfeasibly long scarf, a fondness for jelly babies and just a dash of Sherlock Holmes...."
3238. Cooke, Catherine. "Back to Baker Street 1894 A Centenary Celebration of Holmes's Return to London." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 22, no. 1 (1994): 24-28.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3239. ———. "The Case of the Baker Street Counterpart." The Musgrave Papers, no. 6 (1993): 53-62.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3240. ———. "The Classics Reassessed 1. -- 'In the Footsteps of Sherlock Holmes' by Michael Harrison." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 22, no. 4 (1996): 113-117.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3241. ———. "A Cooke's Tour: An account of the Society's Baltic Cruise." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 25, no. 3 (2001): 96-100.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3242. ———. "A Fearful Weekend: The Irregulars in Vermissa Valley." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 27, no. 1 (2004): 40-42.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3243. ———. "Guest Editorial: 'I can assure you that the adequate cataloguing of one of those cabinets would take me three good months'." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 28, no. 3 (2007): 81-82.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3244. ———. "Illustrating the Hound." The Musgrave Papers, no. 14 (2001): 36-44.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3245. ———. "Keeping the Lumber-Room." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 22, no. 2 (1995): 13-15.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3246. ———. "Lasting Impressions: The Bootmakers of Toronto Silver Anniversary Weekend, June 26-29, 1997." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 23, no. 3 (1997): 95-96.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3247. ———. "Letter to the Editor." Varieties of Ash 2, no. 1 (1994): 20.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3248. ———. "Mrs. Hudson: A Legend in Her Own Lodging House." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 55, no. 2 (2005): 13-23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3249. ———. "Sherlock Holmes Returns to Baker Street: A Statue Festival Diary." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 24, no. 3 (1999): 81-84.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3250. ———. "The Sign of Four, Three, Ten and Rather a Lot of Other Numbers As Well." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 27, no. 2 (2005): 60-63.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3251. ———. "Vintage 1951 - a Festival, a Society and a Collection." Shoso-In Bulletin 8, no. (1998): 186-198.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3252. ———. "Why Fear the Valley? The Historical Story, Part One." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 28, no. 2 (2007): 52-55.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3253. ———. "Why Fear the Valley? The Historical Story, Part Two." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 28, no. 3 (2007): 91-94.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3254. ———. "Wigmore Street Postbag, A Bell Story." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 22, no. 3 (1995): 103.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3255. ———. "Wigmore Street Postbag, That Debate." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 24, no. 3 (1999): 112.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3256. ———. "Wigmore Street Postbag: Bonnie Birlstone." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 29, no. 3 (2009): 125-126.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3257. Cooke, Catherine, and Heather Owen. "The Case of the Portsmouth Doctor." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 28, no. 1 (2006): 26-27.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3258. Cooke, Catherine, and Alvin E. Rodin. "Arthur Conan Doyle in London, Part I, In Baker Street and Beyond." Baker Street Miscellanea, no. 73 (1993): 16-27.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3259. Cooke, Catherine, and Nicholas Utechin. "'I Am an Omnivorous Reader': reviews of Dubious and Questionable Memories: A History of the Adventuresses of Sherlock Holmes, Looking Over Sir Arthur's Shoulder--How Conan Doyle Turned the Trick, Sherlockian Heraldry--221 Coats of Arms Pertaining to Sherlock Holmes and The Giant's Hand." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 27, no. 2 (2005): 85-87.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3260. Cooke, Jason. Sherlock Holmes and the morphine gambit. Cambridge: Breese Books, 2009.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 22 cm. // In 1912, Sherlock Holmes is asked by Mycroft to investigate the burglary of a German financier, living in Norfolk. Holmes quickly determines a spy ring is in operation, but Mycroft's subsequent behavior raises doubt in Sherlock's mind about his brother's intentions.
3261. Cooksey, Thomas L. "Book Reviews: Arts & Humanities." Library Journal 125, no. 1 (2000): 102.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'The Doctor and the Detective: A Biography of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle,' by Martin Booth.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3262. Cooper, Beryl E, Tom Cooper, and Mycroft Holmes Society of Syracuse. Sherlockian jumbles a silver anniversary edition. Fayetteville, NY: The Mycroft Holmes Society Press, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3263. Cooper, Barbara Roisman. "Douglas Wilmer: A Study in Sherlock." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 52, no. 3 (2002): 27-34.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3264. ———. "Patricia Morison: Still Dressed to Kill." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 55, no. 3 (2005): 42-47.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3265. ———. "Stage by Stage: London's Historic Theaters." British Heritage 26, no. 6 (2006): 34-40.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article focuses on various historic theaters in London, England. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...When I was in Kiss Me, Kate,' remembers Patricia Morison, who starred in the musical in 1951, 'the back door of the Coliseum opened onto a street that looked like a set of a Sherlock Holmes movie, gas lamps and fog swirling.'" 3266. ———. "Strolling Down Baker Street with Jerome Coopersmith." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 54, no. 3 (2004): 37-43.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3267. Cooper, Ilene. "Adult books." Booklist 90, no. 18 (1994): 1668.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'The Angel of the Opera: Sherlock Holmes Meets the Phantom of the Opera,' by Sam Siciliano.
3268. ———. "The Case of the Peculiar Pink Fan: An Enola Holmes Mystery." Booklist 105, no. 4 (2008): 36.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book "An Enola Holmes Mystery: The Case of the Peculiar Pink Fan" by Nancy Springer. "Enola Holmes, the younger sister of Sherlock Holmes, returns in her fourth mystery.... A rousing read with plenty of terrific Victorian detail."
3269. Cooper, Molly, and Barbara Kiwak. Classic mysteries a collection of mind-bending mysteries. Los Angeles: Lowell House Juvenile, 1996.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 96000140; Scuttlebutt July 1996 // A collection of mystery stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and others
3270. ———. Classic mysteries: a collection of mind-bending mysteries. Los Angeles: Lowell House Juvenile, 1996.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Adventure of the veiled lodger / Sir Arthur Conan Doyle -- Safety match / Anton Chekhov -- Stir outside the Cafe Royal (A story of Miss Van Snoop, Detective) / Clarence Rook -- Ruby and the Caldron / Anna Katharine Green -- Curious experience / Mark Twain -- Oblong box / Edgar Allen Poe. //
3271. Cooper, Natasha. "Crime fiction." The Times (London), November 19, 2003: 3.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "A poll designed to test the nation's taste in crime fiction has put Conan Doyle's The Hound of the Baskervilles at the top of the list, although Sherlock Holmes could make only third place among the detectives. It's an odd result. I don't like Holmes myself, finding his arrogance and bullying of Watson a turn-off, but then I'd never pick any of Conan Doyle's stories as my favourite....A glance through The Penguin Complete Sherlock Holmes will tell you whether you'll like the brilliant eccentric who stalks its thousand pages. If you don't, you should skip quickly on...."
3272. Cooper, Scott. Sticks and stones : 7 ways your child can deal with teasing, conflict, and other hard times. New York: Three Rivers Press, 2000.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Includes index. Scuttlebutt Aug 2000. // "With an interesting section about a 'Sherlock Holmes technique' that children can use in starting conversations and keeping them going."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3273. ———. "Sticks and stones : 7 ways your child can deal with teasing, conflict, and other hard times." New York: Times Books, 2000.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 1st ed. ill. ; 21 cm. Includes bibliographical references and index. Scuttlebutt Aug 2000. // "With an interesting section about a 'Sherlock Holmes technique' that children can use in starting conversations and keeping them going."
3274. Cooper, Sam W. "The Curs of the Baskerville." The Nezire Zanmai International 2, no. (1992): 20.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3275. ———. "His Last Bow Wow." Shoso-In Bulletin 11, no. (2001): 19-21.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3276. Cooper-Posey, Tracy. The case of the reluctant agent a Sherlock Holmes mystery. Winnipeg: Ravenstone, 2001.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3277. ———. Chronicles of the lost years a Sherlock Holmes mystery. Winnipeg, Man: Ravenstone, 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 00274261. Scuttlebutt Jun 2000 // "Offers quite a bit of adventure and romance: Holmes is involved with a mysterious and accomplished woman named Elizabeth Sigerson before, during, and after the Great Hiatus, but there's mystery, too, and the adventures are interesting."
3278. Copeland, Rebecca. "Woman uncovered: pornography and power in the detective fiction of Kirino Natsuo." Japan Forum 16, no. 2 (2004): 249-269.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "This article considers the way Kirino Natsuo's Tenshi ni misuterareta yoru (The night overlooked by angels, 1994) uses pornography to unsettle readers and, by so doing, to force a critical consideration of contemporary social structures as well as the gendering of the detective genre itself." Includes a passing reference to Holmes.
3279. Copper, Basil. The recollections of Solar Pons. 1st ed. Minneapolis: Fedogan & Bremer, 1995.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 96113414. Contents: The adventure of the mad millionaire -- The adventure of the cursed curator -- The adventure of the Hound of Hell -- The adventure of the singular sandwich //
3280. Copper, Basil, and Leslie M Edwards. Solar Pons : the final cases. Kidwelly, Carmarthenshire, Wales: Sarob Press, 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: The adventure of the haunted rectory -- The adventure of the ignored idols -- The adventure of the horrified heiress -- The adventure of the baffled baron -- The adventure of the anguished actor -- (A 'Sherlock Holmes' case) The adventure of the persecuted painter //
3281. Copper, Basil, and Stefanie Kate Hawks. The exploits of Solar Pons. 1st ed. Minneapolis, Minn: Fedogan & Bremer, 1993.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 93073410. Contents: The adventure of the verger's thumb -- The adventure of the phantom face -- Death at the Metropole -- The adventure of the callous colonel // 3282. Coppola, Elaine. "The 2007 Gaslight Gala." The Serpentine Muse 23, no. 2 (2007): 11-12.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3283. Coppola, Joseph A. "Optics and Sherlock Holmes: A Detective's Tool." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 45, no. 2 (1995): 106-113.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3284. ———. A Silver jubilee 25 years of the Mycroft Holmes Society of Syracuse. Fayetteville, NY: Mycroft Holmes Society Press, 1997.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references; Scuttlebutt Feb 1997 // "Offering a collection of announcements, articles, papers, reminiscences, poetry, and puzzles from the society's archives."

3285. ———. "To Bradley's." The Holmes & Watson Report 5, no. 5 (2001): 38-39.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3286. Coppola, Joseph A., Stu Shiffman, and Nancy Beiman. Occasionally the British government. Fayetteville, NY: Mycroft Holmes Society Press, 2000.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Aug 2000. // "Offers 156 pages of scholarship, poetry, pastiche, and artwork devoted (appropriately) to Mycroft Holmes."

3287. Coren, Michael. "Alas the Women's Television Network--a sad and sorry waste of air time." Alberta Report / Newsmagazine 22, no. 34 (1995): 37.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Criticizes the Women's Television Network (WTN). Includes a reference to Doyle in the note on the author. "Michael Coren, biographer of H.G. Wells, G.K. Chesterton and C.S. Lewis, is currently chronicling the life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle..."

3288. ———. "Anyone may be seized with an evil idea--what counts is change and contrition." Alberta Report / Newsmagazine 22, no. 26 (1995): 44.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Deals with European literary intellectuals' ideas of population control. Includes a reference to Doyle in the note on the author. "Michael Coren, biographer of H.G. Wells, G.K. Chesterton and C.S. Lewis, is currently chronicling the life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle..."

3289. ———. "Are gossip/satire magazines justified? Yes--if they are really good at their job." Alberta Report / Newsmagazine 22, no. 30 (1995): 33.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Questions the justification behind gossip/satire magazines in Canada. Includes a reference to Doyle in the note on the author. "Michael Coren, biographer of H.G. Wells, G.K. Chesterton and C.S. Lewis, is currently chronicling the life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle..."

3290. ———. "Can Canadian TV satirists break through the PC barrier? Are pigs stunt-fliers?" Alberta Report / Newsmagazine 22, no. 22 (1995): 58.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Recalls the author's enjoyment of the television comedy show 'Monty Python's Flying Circus' and considers television humor in Canada in 1995. Includes a reference to Doyle in the note on the author. "Michael Coren, biographer of H.G. Wells, G.K. Chesterton and C.S. Lewis, is currently chronicling the life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle..."

3291. ———. "Censorious liberaldom chokes on Limbaugh--so what would they make of Voltaire?" Alberta Report / Newsmagazine 22, no. 20 (1995): 38.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Opinion. Presents arguments against censorship in the media. Includes a reference to Doyle in the note on the author. "Michael Coren, biographer of H.G. Wells, G.K. Chesterton and C.S. Lewis, is currently chronicling the life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle..."

3292. ———. "Charting the winds of change, so to speak, in the contentious profession of biography." Alberta Report / Newsmagazine 22, no. 49 (1995): 40.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Opinion. Criticizes the recent wave of revisionist biography for its commitment to nothing more than making money for its authors and publishers. Includes a reference to Doyle in the note on the author. "Michael Coren, biographer of H.G. Wells, G.K. Chesterton and C.S. Lewis, is currently chronicling the life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle..."

3293. ———. "Children's literary views are unvarnished, but they are also wonderfully untarnished." Alberta Report / Newsmagazine 22, no. 42 (1995): 39.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Opinion. Discusses the literary argument that professionals, rather than the young readers themselves, ought to be the ones to review books for children and young adults. Includes a reference to

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Doyle in the note on the author. "Michael Coren, biographer of H.G. Wells, G.K. Chesterton and C.S. Lewis, is currently chronicling the life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle..."

3294. ———. Conan Doyle. London: Bloomsbury, 1995.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references (p. 206-207); Scuttlebutt Nov 1995 // "It's both entertaining and informative. Authors aren't responsible for publisher's blurbs, so don't be put off by claims that it's a definitive biography, or that Conan Doyle was an atheist, or that Conan Doyle loved another woman throughout his marriage (Coren notes in the text that he did not have access to the family archives, and does not suggest that Conan Doyle was an atheist, and reports that Conan Doyle married Louise Hawkins in 1885 and first met Jean Leckie in 1897). Coren has some new information discovered in G. K. Chesterton's papers, but otherwise depends greatly on previous biographers (but there also is some evidence that Coren wrote more than his publisher was willing to publish, perhaps aiming at a general public more than at Sherlockians and Doyleans, who may be disappointed at finding little material that is truly new)."
3295. ———. "Coren on the arts." Alberta Report / Newsmagazine 22, no. 31 (1995): 39.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Comments on the libertarian ideas of author Sir Karl Popper. Includes a reference to Doyle in the note on the author. "Michael Coren, biographer of H.G. Wells, G.K. Chesterton and C.S. Lewis, is currently chronicling the life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle..."
3296. ———. "Cynics notwithstanding, PEI's Anne ought to be relished, not rubbished." Alberta Report / Newsmagazine 22, no. 36 (1995): 29.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Comments on the Anne of Green Gables character popularized by Prince Edward Island author Lucy Maude Montgomery. Includes a reference to Doyle in the note on the author. "Michael Coren, biographer of H.G. Wells, G.K. Chesterton and C.S. Lewis, is currently chronicling the life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle..."
3297. ———. "Discrediting Buchan for anti-Semitism is (a) a lie and (b) an irrelevancy." Alberta Report / Newsmagazine 22, no. 24 (1995): 35.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Comments on the irrelevancy of the racist charges against John Buchan on the brilliance of his work. Includes a reference to Doyle in the note on the author. "Michael Coren, biographer of H.G. Wells, G.K. Chesterton and C.S. Lewis, is currently chronicling the life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle..."
3298. ———. "For a case study on a hatchet job, see media coverage of the Reform Party." Alberta Report / Newsmagazine 22, no. 23 (1995): 35.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents instances of media unfairness to conservative causes in Canada. Includes a reference to Doyle in the note on the author. "Michael Coren, biographer of H.G. Wells, G.K. Chesterton and C.S. Lewis, is currently chronicling the life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle..."
3299. ———. "Frowsting among his musty, dusty volumes, the bibliophile makes a vital statement." Alberta Report / Newsmagazine 22, no. 33 (1995): 37.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Opinion. Asserts that booklovers have a place in the world of the 1990s. Includes a passing reference to Doyle in the text and in the note on the author. From the text: "...In a 1973 essay on antiquarian bookstores, Graham Greene explained the delightful quintessence of the book-lover: 'The value of a collection to a collector lies less in its importance, surely, than in the excitement of the hunt, and the strange places to which the hunt sometimes leads... I prefer the badly organized bookshops where Topography is mixed up with Astronomy and Theology with Geology, and stacks of unidentified books litter the staircase to a room marked Travel, which may contain some of my favourite Conan Doyles.'" 3300. ———. "Is anyone more likely to go astray than literary men who embrace politics?" Alberta Report / Newsmagazine 22, no. 37 (1995): 37.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Comments on some writers' tendency to become overtly political to the point of allying themselves to a political party. Includes a reference to Doyle in the note on the author. "Michael Coren, biographer of H.G. Wells, G.K. Chesterton and C.S. Lewis, is currently chronicling the life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle..."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3301. ———. "It is time to stand up and be counted against censorship's multifaceted forms." Alberta Report / Newsmagazine 22, no. 46 (1995): 39.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Argues that literary censorship can occur in more subtle and insidious ways than straightforward banning. Includes a reference to Doyle in the note on the author. "Michael Coren, biographer of H.G. Wells, G.K. Chesterton and C.S. Lewis, is currently chronicling the life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle..."
3302. ———. "Lest civility entirely perish in our times, it behooves us to cherish eccentricity." Alberta Report / Newsmagazine 22, no. 43 (1995): 42.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Opinion. Relates the author's experiences at a one-day conference on Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and Sherlock Holmes at a Toronto library. View that eccentrics, such as Holmes aficionados, help defend the right to be different; Their fight against political correctness; Analysis of the psychology of eccentrics; Problems that the modern age has with eccentrics and with Conan Doyle's books.
3303. ———. "Literary prizes certainly have their uses--but maybe the currency's being devalued." Alberta Report / Newsmagazine 22, no. 44 (1995): 45.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Opinion. Considers benefits and disadvantages of literary prizes. Includes a reference to Doyle in the note on the author. "Michael Coren, biographer of H.G. Wells, G.K. Chesterton and C.S. Lewis, is currently chronicling the life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle..."
3304. ———. "Odd, isn't it, how the arts flourish under the capitalism the arts deplore?" Alberta Report / Newsmagazine 22, no. 25 (1995): 31.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on the growth of art under capitalism. Includes a reference to Doyle in the note on the author. "Michael Coren, biographer of H.G. Wells, G.K. Chesterton and C.S. Lewis, is currently chronicling the life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle..."
3305. ———. "There is indeed a happy median between subsidized sneezes and zero arts funding." Alberta Report / Newsmagazine 22, no. 47 (1995): 37.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on the debate in Canada over state funding of the arts, particularly in literature. Includes a reference to Doyle in the note on the author. "Michael Coren, biographer of H.G. Wells, G.K. Chesterton and C.S. Lewis, is currently chronicling the life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle..."
3306. ———. "Unaware Leacock was a German pawn? You need The Canada Nobody Knows." Alberta Report / Newsmagazine 22, no. 38 (1995): 35.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Previews the content of the author's book entitled 'Just Beyond Libel: The Canada Nobody Knows Because I Just Made It Up'. Includes a reference to Doyle in the note on the author. "Michael Coren, biographer of H.G. Wells, G.K. Chesterton and C.S. Lewis, is currently chronicling the life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle..."
3307. ———. "We fret about the deficit and the CBC, and evade the crisis central to it all." Alberta Report / Newsmagazine 22, no. 21 (1995): 24.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Looks at the issue of whether or not Canada can survive as a meaningful cultural identity. Includes a reference to Doyle in the note on the author. "Michael Coren, biographer of H.G. Wells, G.K. Chesterton and C.S. Lewis, is currently chronicling the life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle..."
3308. ———. "We owe a great debt to Aldous Huxley--semi-blind but a colossal visionary." Alberta Report / Newsmagazine 22, no. 32 (1995): 37.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Opinion. Asserts that we owe a great debt to English writer Aldous Huxley, who prophesied about a possible totalitarian state in his 1932 novel 'Brave New World.' Includes a reference to Doyle in the note on the author. "Michael Coren, biographer of H.G. Wells, G.K. Chesterton and C.S. Lewis, is currently chronicling the life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle..."
3309. ———. "Why Canadian authors and publishers should stop being so very, very sensitive." Alberta Report / Newsmagazine 22, no. 40 (1995): 44.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Opinion. Declares that authors and publishers in Canada should stop being so sensitive when their works receive bad reviews. Includes a reference to Doyle in the note on the author. "Michael Coren, biographer of H.G. Wells, G.K. Chesterton and C.S. Lewis, is currently chronicling the life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle..."

3310. ———. "William Morris failed to reach 'workers' but speaks volubly to his artistic heirs." Alberta Report / Newsmagazine 22, no. 27 (1995): 38.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Features the biographical book 'William Morris: A Life For Our Times,' by Fiona MacCarthy. Includes a reference to Doyle in the note on the author. "Michael Coren, biographer of H.G. Wells, G.K. Chesterton and C.S. Lewis, is currently chronicling the life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle..."
3311. ———. "With Catholic literature in abysmal decline, it's all up to the pope and the converts." Alberta Report / Newsmagazine 22, no. 28 (1995): 37.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Comments on the decline of Catholic literature in Canada. Includes a reference to Doyle in the note on the author. "Michael Coren, biographer of H.G. Wells, G.K. Chesterton and C.S. Lewis, is currently chronicling the life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle..."
3312. ———. "Writing a book may be a tough proposition; but 'launching' it has horrors all its own." Alberta Report / Newsmagazine 22, no. 35 (1995): 39.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Examines the peculiarities of book launches. Includes a reference to Doyle in the note on the author. "Michael Coren, biographer of H.G. Wells, G.K. Chesterton and C.S. Lewis, is currently chronicling the life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle..."
3313. Corliss, Richard. "7 Sharpest Detectives on DVD." Time 166, no. 4 (2005): 72-72.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents information about several older classic sleuth films now or soon to be available on DVD. Includes Sherlock Holmes, the Collection. "Hawk-visaged Basil Rathbone embodied Conan Doyle's detective in 14 B movies, some transporting him from Victorian to modern London to outwit the Nazis. As Dr. Watson, Nigel Bruce was an ideal foil for the great man."
3314. Corliss, Richard, and Jeffrey Ressler. "Peter Pan grows up but can he still fly? (Cover story)." Time 149, no. 20 (1997): 74.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Profiles director Steven Spielberg. Includes a reference to Doyle. "...Spielberg came up with the theme of The Lost World at the end of a meeting with David Koepp, a screenwriter of the first Jurassic Park....Spielberg suggested that Koepp watch the 1925 film of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's The Lost World, which tells of an expedition to a South American jungle habitat where dinosaurs still roam, and Howard Hawks' 1962 Hatari!, starring John Wayne as a safari hunter on a game preserve...."
3315. Cornell, John E., and Christine Laine. "The Science and Art of Deduction: Complex Systematic Overviews." Annals of Internal Medicine 148, no. 10 (2008): 786-788.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The article focuses on the growing frequency of complex systematic overviews. Systematic overviews are used in describing systematic reviews that incorporate previous systematic reviews to develop an evidence base. This process also needs proper comprehension, transparency and objective to reduce the risk of deduction in assessing the quality of any review article." Sections of article open with quotations from Holmes. "Like all other arts, the science of deduction and analysis is one which can only be acquired by long and patient study . . . let the inquirer begin by mastering the more elementary problems." (Sherlock Holmes, A Study in Scarlet); "It is not really difficult to construct a series of simple inferences, each dependent upon its predecessor and each simple in itself. If, after doing so, one simply knocks out all the central inferences and presents one's audience with the starting-point and the conclusion, one may produce a startling, though possibly a meretricious, effect." (Sherlock Holmes, "The Dancing Men"); "It is of the highest importance in the art of deduction to be able to recognize, out of a number of facts, which are incidental and which are vital." (Sherlock Holmes, "The Reigate Squires"); "Circumstantial evidence is a very tricky thing . . . It may seem to point very straight to one thing, but if you shift your own point of view a little, you may find it pointing in an equally uncompromising manner to something entirely different." (Sherlock Holmes, "The Boscombe Valley Mystery").

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3316. Cornish, Edward. "How We Can Anticipate Future Events. (Cover story)." Futurist 35, no. 4 (2001): 26.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Provides information on the concept of anticipating and shaping the future. Holmes reference found in photo caption: "How can we know the future? Conjure it like Merlin, study it like an astronomer, or divine it like a fortune teller? Perhaps we can only deduce it, like Sherlock Holmes."
3317. Cornog, Martha, and Timothy Perper. "Non-Western Sexuality Comes to the U.S.: A Crash Course in Manga and Anime for Sexologists." Contemporary Sexuality 39, no. 3 (2005): 1-6.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article informs that Japanese comics called "Manga" seem similar to American comics but are rooted in Japanese art and history. Includes passing reference to Holmes. "...The closest U.S. equivalent is non-commercial 'slash' fiction written by female fans about homosexual romances between known characters, like Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson..."
3318. Cornwell, Bob. "Book Review (Krimis im Fadenkruzl)." Shoso-In Bulletin 11, no. (2001): 219-220.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3319. Cornwell, Tim. "'Scotland 'Should Retake Holmes'." The Scotsman, March 19, 2005: 19.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Scotland is to be urged to exploit Sherlock Holmes as a national cultural icon in an effort to promote Scottish writing worldwide. The chairman of Scotland's cultural commission will next week single out Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's fictional detective as a prime example of 'Scottish rationalism'. James Boyle will outline his vision of how Scotland can promote its arts and culture around the world in a lecture at the Scottish Parliament...."
3320. ———. "Sherlock Holmes and the Case of the Writer's Vanishing Treasures." The Scotsman, May 14, 2004: 7.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Scotland's foremost expert on Sir Arthur Conan Doyle has launched a last-minute campaign to ensure that recently-discovered papers by the Sherlock Holmes author, which are due to be auctioned by Christie's, are saved for the British nation. Owen Dudley Edwards, a historian at Edinburgh University and editor of The Oxford Sherlock Holmes, is calling on the government to step in to ensure that a key part of the Edinburgh-born author's legacy is saved for researchers and the public. 'When this sale was announced there was tremendous surprise and anger,' he said. 'I am thinking about posterity - for the next 100 to 200 years.' The Edinburgh South MP, Nigel Griffiths, has taken up Professor Edwards' cause, calling on Estelle Morris, the UK culture minister, to block the auction and explore ways of saving the Doyle archive...."
3321. Costa, Newton C. A. Da, and Otavio Bueno. "Quasi-Truth, Supervaluations and Free Logic." History & Philosophy of Logic 20, no. 3/4 (1999): 215-226.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Holmes.
3322. Costa, Richard Hauer. "A Slight Trick of the Mind." Magill Book Reviews, no. (2005).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Mitch Cullin has written a loving, sad tale of Sherlock Holmes in the era of Hiroshima--a Holmes who, while no longer sure of his powers, has come into his own humanity."
3323. Costello, Peter. Conan Doyle, Detective: True Crimes Investigated by the Creator of Sherlock Holmes. New York: Carroll & Graf, 2006.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3324. Cotner, Robert, C. Frederick Kittle, Eli Liebow, and Vincent Starrett. Caxtonian. vol. 5, no. 3, March 1997, [Holmesiana periodical articles. Chicago, Ill.: Caxton Club, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill., ports. ; 28 cm. Dr. Kittle and Dr. Doyle : kinsmen through medicine and belle letters / RC [Robert Cotner] -- There's more to Doyle than Holmes / by C. Frederick Kittle -- Doyle influenced by English and American literature / [Eli] Liebow -- A chronology of books by Arthur Conan Doyle 1859-1930 / C. Frederick Kittle -- Caxtonian's classic poem salutes Holmes and Watson : Sonnet 221B / Vincent Starrett. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3325. Cotter, Thomas F. "Gutenberg's Legacy: Copyright, Censorship, and Religious Pluralism." California law review 91, no. 2 (2003): 323.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses the copyright law for religious literary works. Includes a passing reference to Holmes.
3326. Cottesloe, John. "Percy Metcalfe 1920-2004." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 27, no. 1 (2004): 43.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3327. Couchman, Jason. "Sherlock Holmes and Opium Use: Detecting Holmes's Mystery Narcotic." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 3 (1994): 149-51.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A discussion of Holmes use of the drug as related in some of the tales.
3328. Coughlan, Gilles. "Elementary, my dear Gayle." The Globe and Mail (Toronto), January 3, 2002: A16.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Letter to the editor. "It is unfortunate that, in an otherwise excellent article on Sherlock Holmes, Gayle MacDonald chose to bring out the tired cliché that 'no one, it is generally agreed, can touch Basil Rathbone and Nigel Bruce' in portraying Holmes and Watson (The Case Of The Perennial Sleuth -- Jan. 2). While that might have been true 20 years ago, since the mid- to late-1980s, the Sherlockian/Holmesian community has been divided by a friendly debate as to which actor has best portrayed the great detective. For many fans, Jeremy Brett, who appears in the Granada TV series, deserves the title. As far as Nigel Bruce is concerned, most Sherlockians I know agree that the actor's performance had little to do with what the real Dr. Watson was like. As far as I am concerned, his performance in the 1939 Adventures of Sherlock Holmes was atrocious."
3329. Couldry, Nick. "The view from inside the 'simulacrum': visitors' tales from the set of Coronation Street." Leisure Studies 17, no. 2 (1998): 94-107.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The social significance of visits to television and film locations has been little studied. This article concentrates on Granada Studios Tour (GST) - home of the external set of Coronation Street - and uses as its main source interviews with visitors to GST, conducted on site and in visitors' homes, to explore the complex significance of this site." Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Elsewhere there are sets from other Granada programmes (for example, the Baker Street set from Sherlock Holmes)..."
3330. Coules, Bert. "Damn the man anyway: thoughts on 'A Scandal in Bohemia'." The Musgrave Papers, no. 9 (1996): 9-11.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3331. ———. "Making a Drama Out of a Canon." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 52, no. 3 (2002): 5-14.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3332. ———. "Review--Sherlock Holmes Screen and Sound Guide by Gordon E. Kelly." The Ritual, no. 15 (1995): 52-53.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3333. ———. "Review--The Oxford Sherlock Holmes, The Sign of Four edited with an introduction by Christopher Roden." The Ritual, no. 12 (1993): 46-48.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of the book.
3334. Coules, Bert, John Addy, and Northern Musgraves Sherlock Holmes Society. 221 BBC writing for the world's first complete dramatised canon (with some observations upon previous radio appearances of Mr. Holmes and Dr. Watson), (Musgrave monograph). S.I: Northern Musgraves, 1998.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3335. Coules, Bert, Clive Merrison, Michael Williams, and Arthur Conan Doyle. BBC Radio presents Sherlock Holmes, sign of the four. New York: BBD Audio ; Distributed under exclusive license from BBC Worldwide Ltd., 1998. Sound Recording (cassette) 2 sound cassettes (110 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog, Dolby processed. "An audio dramatization"--Container. Participants: Clive Merrison (Sherlock Holmes), Michael Williams (Dr. John Watson) ; supporting cast ; Alexander Balanescu, violinist. [dramatized by Bert Coules]. //
3336. Coules, Gaynor. "Review--'Not Necessarily Sherlock'." The Musgrave Papers, no. 9 (1996): 122-125.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3337. Coulson, Seana. "Constructing Meaning." Metaphor & Symbol 21, no. 4 (2006): 245-266.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "This article reviews cognitive neuroscience research on visual and language processing to suggest an analogy between the neural interpolation mechanisms in perceptual processing and the constructive processes that underlie meaning construction in language." Includes references to Doyle and Holmes. "...Similarly, Sinha (2005) argued that real world knowledge is an important prerequisite for understanding fictional discourse such as Conan Doyle's Sherlock Holmes stories. Quoting an excerpt in which Holmes asks Watson to bring his service revolver along on an expedition, Sinha noted that a proper understanding of this fictional discourse relies on the reader's knowing that it was quite common in 19th century England for retired military officers, such as Watson, to retain their guns for use in civilian life. Readers are not troubled by the interleaving of fact and fiction in stories about Sherlock Holmes. On the contrary, this forms an important component of their aesthetic appeal....In the case of detective stories, one blends fictional characters such as Watson and Holmes from the story space with information in the 19th century England space...."
3338. Cowan, David. "Beware superficial theorising." Brand Strategy, no. 195 (2005): 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reveals why the approach of Sherlock Holmes is needed to link marketing to profit and market share.
3339. ———. "Holmes' place." Brand Strategy, no. 195 (2005): 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reveals why the approach of Sherlock Holmes is needed to link marketing to profit and market share.
3340. ———. "Identifying the right problem." Brand Strategy, no. 195 (2005): 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reveals why the approach of Sherlock Holmes is needed to link marketing to profit and market share.
3341. ———. "Innovative strategies are rare." Brand Strategy, no. 195 (2005): 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reveals why the approach of Sherlock Holmes is needed to link marketing to profit and market share.
3342. ———. "Understanding sponsorship." Brand Strategy, no. 195 (2005): 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reveals why the approach of Sherlock Holmes is needed to link marketing to profit and market share.
3343. Cowan, James. "Conan Doyle saw greatness in Canada: Toronto library acquires collection of author's notes during visits here." National Post (Canada), November 18, 2004: A9.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Sir Arthur Conan Doyle loved Canada -- its landscape, its government, its literature. The creator of Sherlock Holmes came to North America three times between 1894 and 1922, travelling for different reasons but almost exclusively by private rail car. In 1914, he was headed to the National Reserve in Jasper, Alta., as an invited guest of the Canadian government. He stopped at Canadian Clubs along the way -- in Winnipeg, Fort William, Ont., and Hamilton, among other cities -- delivering speeches on literature....Doyle's speaking notes were among the items acquired last spring by the Toronto Public Library at an auction at Christie's in London and directly from the Doyle estate. Toronto has the only

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

public library collection in the world dedicated to Arthur Conan Doyle, contained in a wood-panelled room on the fifth floor of the Toronto Reference Library...."

3344. Cowan, Mark. "Elementary to Beat a Burglar; Computer Program on Trail." Birmingham Evening Mail, April 11, 2002: 17.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "An advanced computer program which acts like a virtual Sherlock Holmes by sifting through clues has been developed to help police target burglars. The software can also identify burgled houses most likely to suffer a second visit from thieves...."
3345. Cowdrey, Albert E. "Danny's Inferno." Fantasy & Science Fiction 105, no. 6 (2003): 142-158.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents the short story "Danny's Inferno," by Albert E. Cowdrey. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...We opened this issue with a mention of a new anthology that merges the great detective Sherlock Holmes with the nightmarish cosmos imagined by H. P. Lovecraft...."
3346. Cowen, Rob. "E(14 trillion electron-volts)=m(?)c(close to the speed of light)2. (Cover story)." Science news 174, no. 2 (2008): 16-21.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article discusses the Large Hadron Collider, an underground research facility below the border of France and Switzerland. Details are included about the facility, which will test the energy generated from high speed proton collisions and may be groundbreaking in the field of physics research. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...The lightest supersymmetric particle is thought to have no charge and to interact only weakly, which is why it is a candidate for the invisible dark matter. 'As such, these particles would not be seen in a detector, hence the energy it carries would be missed,' notes Ellis. It's like the curious incident of the dog that did nothing in the nighttime, from the Sherlock Holmes story, he notes. Its what's missing that counts."
3347. Cowie, Helen, and Petruska Clarkson. "Narratives of psychotherapy in modern English literature." Counselling Psychology Quarterly 16, no. 3 (2003): 249-263.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Explores how novelists portray counseling in contemporary fiction. Includes a reference to Holmes. "...Sherlock Holmes and Sigmund Freud meet through their connection with Emily V. Holmes suspects that she may have been involved in the death of her guardian..."
3348. Cowley, Jason, Nicki Household, Alison Burns, Hazel Leslie, and Lucy Lethbridge. "New In Paperback;Books." The Times (London) 1994: No page citation.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Unknown reference to Doyle or Holmes.
3349. Cox, Ann M. "Correspondence." Lancet 361, no. 9373 (2003): 1984.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents letters to the editor concerning topics in medicine, including a one letter with a reference to Doyle. "Sir--5 months after Egyptologist Howard Carter discovered the tomb of the pharaoh Tutankhamen, his benefactor, George Edward Stanhope Molyneux Herbert, fifth Earl of Carnarvon, aged 57, died. His sudden death within weeks of the tomb's official opening, coupled with the fertile imagination of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, lead to speculations of a curse...."
3350. Cox, Don Richard. "The Artistic Failure of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle." Baker Street Miscellanea, no. 75 (1994): 11-27.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3351. Cox, Jim. "Book Review Teller of Tales by Daniel Stashower." Baker Street West 1 6, no. 2 (2000): 35-40.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3352. ———. "Holmes by the Bay." Baker Street West 1 2, no. 1 (1996): 20-21, 28-31.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3353. ———. "Holmes West Dispatch: A review of the September '97 Los Angeles Holmes Conference." Baker Street West 1 4, no. 1 (1998): 27-29, 31.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3354. ———. "A Journey of Spiritualism." Baker Street West 14, no. 2 (1998): 14-19.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3355. Cox, Michael. "Back to the Glosses." The Ritual, no. 25 (2000): 32.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3356. ———. "Eric Porter 1928-1995 (and James Moriarty)." The Musgrave Papers, no. 8 (1995): 122-124.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3357. ———. "Jeremy Brett." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 22, no. 3 (1995): 90-92.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3358. ———. "The Mancunian Candidate." The Musgrave Papers, no. 10 (1997): 28-30.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3359. ———. "Review--Back to Baker Street, An Evening with the Northern Musgraves, The Charing Cross Hotel 21 May 1994." The Musgrave Papers, no. 7 (1994): 99-103.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3360. ———. Victorian tales of mystery and detection: The Oxford book of Victorian detective stories. Oxford England, New York: Oxford University Press, 2003.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2003269376. Includes bibliographical references (p. [576]-578) //
3361. ———. "Wigmore Street Postbag, More Music and Mis-spellings." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 26, no. 2 (2003): 74-75.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3362. ———. "Wigmore Street Postbag, Re Pastiches." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 21, no. 3 (1993): 104.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3363. Cox, Michael, Stuart Doughty, and Nicky Cooney. The Baker Street File: a guide to the appearance and habits of Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson specially prepared for the Granada Television series The adventures of Sherlock Holmes. New ed. Ashcroft, British Columbia : Calabash Press, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "There were many things that made the Granada 'Sherlock Holmes' series such a great success, and one of the most important was careful preparation and attention to detail on the part of producer Michael Cox. Part of that preliminary work was the creation by Cox, associate producer Stuart Doughty, and researcher Nicky Cooney, of an 80-page detailed production guide, extracted from the Canon and issued as a stapled handbook to those who worked on the series. And now that background bible is available to those who would like to see their work, with a new foreword by Cox."
3364. Cox, Michael, and Arthur Conan Doyle. Victorian tales of mystery and detection an Oxford anthology. Oxford England, New York: Oxford University Press, 1992.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 91046719. Includes bibliographical references (p. [576]-578). Contents: The adventure of the blue carbuncle / Sir Arthur Conan Doyle (pp. 195-213) -- The lost special / Sir Arthur Conan Doyle (pp. 493-507) //
3365. Cox, Michael, and R. Dixon Smith. Remembering Jeremy Brett, (Rupert Books monograph series). Cambridge, England: Rupert Books, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references (p. 31) //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3366. Cox, Michael, and Nicholas Utechin. "Review--The Oxford Sherlock Holmes, The Case-book of Sherlock Holmes, edited with an introduction by W. W. Robson." The Ritual, no. 12 (1993): 66-67.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3367. Coxe, Donald. "They done Him Wrong." Maclean's 116, no. 31 (2003): 33.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses Bank of Canada governor David Dodge and the aftermath of the sell-off of the Canadian dollar after the Bank cut its rate. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...What made the day memorable was what a latter-day Sherlock Holmes would identify as the dogs that didn't bark. There were no screams of rage at currency traders from prominent Liberals and New Democrats...."
3368. Coyle, Karen. "Catalogs, Card--and Other Anachronisms." The Journal of Academic Librarianship 31, no. 1 (2005): 60-62.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The writer describes how a library catalog based on the technology of computing and freed from the constraints of the card could revitalize the library for current and future generations. She highlights the need for libraries to move beyond the card metaphor and suggests what an alternative bibliographic display could look like. Doyle is used in an example on headings, sorting, and index forms.
3369. Coyne, Pat. "Dielectrics." New Statesman & Society 8, no. 360 (1995): 30.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on the debate concerning creationism and evolution. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Of the second question, in the words of Sherlock Holmes, 'These are deep waters, Watson'. Complexity theory would indicate that reality, while it may be deterministic, is essentially chaotic...."
3370. Craig, Amanda. "World of wonders." New Statesman 128, no. 4438 (1999): 49.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews several children's books, with a passing reference to Holmes. "...The new genius of children's fiction, Philip Pullman, seemed to spring fully formed out of nowhere with Northern Lights. Yet he has been writing for years -- his books, thanks to Penguin, were not so much published as concealed from the public. The Ruby in the Dust, The Shadow in the North and The Tiger in the Well (all reissued by Scholastic, GBP 5.99), are violently enjoyable, displaying a dark foretaste of the visionary who blossoms in Northern Lights. The heroine, Sally, is beautiful, brave, uneducated and a crack shot. Her battles against the criminal powers of Victorian London read like a cross between Sherlock Holmes, Wilkie Collins and Jack London's masterpiece, People of the Abyss...."
3371. Craig, Amanda, and Lisa Allardice. "This summer's No 1." New Statesman 132, no. 4650 (2003): 39-39.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses the book series the No 1 Ladies' Detective Agency written by Alexander McCall Smith. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...The consolation offered by the detective novel in its original conception - with protagonists such as the rationalist Sherlock Holmes, the cynical Marlowe, the intuitive Miss Marple and the formidable Lord Peter Wimsey - has been abandoned in favour of psychological quirks, kinks and social realism...."
3372. Craig, Amanda, and Jason Cowley. "Why I hate Hannibal Lecter." New Statesman 130, no. 4525 (2001): 57.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses views on Hannibal Lecter, a fictitious character in the motion pictures 'Silence of the Lambs' and 'Hannibal.' Includes passing references to Holmes. "...Lecter is not the first highly intelligent murderer in fiction (consider Sherlock Holmes's adversary, Moriarty), although he is the most extravagantly so...If Sherlock Holmes once offered the consolations of showing how superstition and evil could be worsted by outstanding forensic intelligence on the side of good, Lecter plays to the fantasies of those who are powerless, and very angry, by switching sides...."
3373. Craig, Gregory B. "Defending The President." Vital speeches of the day 66, no. 19 (2000): 598.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a speech by Gregory B. Craig, the chief counsel for the President of the United States, including an extended reference to Doyle and Holmes. "... In an early draft [sic] of the Hound of the Baskervilles, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle had Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson camping out on the Dartmoor for the night. In the middle of the night, Holmes woke up and shook Watson declaring: 'Look at the sky Watson. What do you see?' Watson replied, 'I see stars, millions and millions of stars.' 'And what does that tell you, Watson?' Dr. Watson paused for a moment. 'Astronomically, it tells me that there are millions of galaxies

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

and countless planets in them. Horologically, it tells me that the time is a quarter past three. Astrologically, it tells me that Saturn is in Leo: Theologically, it tells me that God is all powerful and that we are small and insignificant. Meteorologically, it tells me that we will have a nice day tomorrow.' Holmes said nothing. Watson finally asked, 'Well Holmes, what does all this beauty and grandeur tell you?' The detective snapped, 'Watson, you idiot, it tells me that someone has stolen our tent.'

3374. Craig, Patricia. "Elementary." New Statesman & Society 9, no. 385 (1996): 40.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book, 'Conan Doyle,' by Michael Coren.
3375. Craig, Philip R. "Character and locale in crime fiction." Writer 111, no. 5 (1998): 13.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Relates the author's experiences as a crime fiction writer. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...It's worth noting that when recalling favorite stories and books, most of us remember a lot more about the characters than about the plots. We have vivid mental pictures of James Bond, Sherlock Holmes, and Scarlett O'Hara, but we are hard pressed to retell their stories in any but the most general ways, even though we remember that we enjoyed them...."
3376. Crandall, Richard E. "The challenge of large numbers." Scientific American 276, no. 2 (1997): 74.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on the challenges faced by mathematicians in solving problems that involve large numbers. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...For instance, the number 10 to the three-millionth power begins to make some intuitive sense if we ask how long it would take a laboratory parrot, pecking randomly and tirelessly at a keyboard, with a talon occasionally pumping the shift key, say, to render by accident that great detective epic, by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, The Hound of the Baskervilles. To witness a perfectly spelled manuscript, one would expect to watch the bird work for approximately 103,000,000 years...."
3377. Crane, John. "Inside the criminal mind." New Statesman & Society 8, no. 340 (1995): 29.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses the work and views of forensic psychologist David Canter on offender profiling as a criminal investigation method. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Canter was widely hailed in the press as a latter-day Sherlock Holmes...."
3378. Crawford, David. "Something for the end of the year?" Mathematics in School 29, no. 4 (2000): 21-2, 40.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Two activities that teachers can use during the last lesson of the year or term are suggested. The first activity is a mathematical bingo game and the second consists of a list of clues linking a number to a well-known phrase for which only the initial letter of each key word and a small linking word are provided. Samples of the second exercise, an everyday version and a mathematical version, are offered, along with solutions. Holmes and Baker Street are part of the answer to question 14 in the "Everyday Version."
3379. Crawford, MaryAnn Krajnik. "Introduction: Shaw Scholarship: 'Here and Now' and at the 2004 International Shaw Society (ISS) Conference." SHAW The Annual of Bernard Shaw Studies 25, no. (2005): 1-8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes conference paper with reference to Doyle. "Papers were given by Lagretta Lenker ('Shaw's Best Play?')...Alan Andrews ('Shaw and Conan Doyle'), Rodelle Weintraub ('What Makes Johnny Run? Man and Superman as Pre-Freudian Dream Play')..."
3380. Crawford, Walt. "Pc Monitor." Online 24, no. 6 (2000): 72.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses issues related to personal computing for the year ending June 2000. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "It's been a surprisingly calm year for personal computing because many of the developments haven't mattered all the much. The Dogs That Did Not Bark. Since this is the last PC Monitor for 2000, I planned to discuss the year's hot topics in personal computing--or, given the realities of publishing, the hot topics for the year ending in June 2000. As I was going over the possibilities, however, I found an interesting commonality--expressed in this column's title (with apologies to Sherlock Holmes). It's been a surprisingly calm year for personal computing--not because technology hasn't kept developing, but because many of the developments haven't mattered all that much...."
3381. Crawley, Geoffrey. "Fairy tales, and true stories." British Journal of Photography, no. 7165 (1998): 12-13.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "A discussion of the story of the Cottingley Fairies, the greatest photo hoax of all time. The photographs were taken in 1917 by two young girls, Elsie Wright and Frances Griffiths, and included an image of Frances behind an array of cut-out fairies in a glen. They came to public notice when published by the novelist Arthur Conan Doyle in the December 1920 issue of Strand magazine; Doyle had an abiding interest in the paranormal. The images were actually taken using a Midg box quarterplate magazine camera and a developing and contact printing kit."

3382. ———. "Photographing fairies." British Journal of Photography, no. (2000): 71-74.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The writer describes his involvement in a project to expose the 20th century's longest-running photography hoax--the Cottingley fairy photographs. He details how the five pictures of fairies were staged in 1917 and 1921 by two girls, Elsie Wright and Frances Griffiths, using cardboard figures. Recalling how he later became friends with the elderly Elsie, he explains how the girls were reluctant to expose the fraud for fear of showing up the famous men who became interested in the case, particularly Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, then an accomplished photographer. Noting the longevity of the hoax and of media interest in it, he describes how the hoax came to an end with confessions from the two women in the 1980s."
3383. ———. "Pixies, not pixels." British Journal of Photography, no. 7166 (1998): 12-13.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "By 1920, the hoax of Conan Doyle's pictures of the Cottingley Fairies divided Britain into believers and skeptics. The pictures were taken by two girls who claimed that they had seen the fairies. In the baffling final picture, the Fairy Sunbath, the girls conveniently placed six fairy cutouts along a grassy bank. The girls' story defied disproof until 1983."
3384. Crelling, Jack. "A Canonical Toast." The Camden House Journal 15, no. 5 (1993): 2.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3385. ———. "A Canonical Toast to Dr. John H. Watson." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (1997): 24.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3386. ———. "The Case of the Phoenicians in Cornwall." The Camden House Journal 29, no. Special Issue 1 (2007): 2-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3387. ———. "Clergymen, Vicars and Priests in the Canon." The Camden House Journal 25, no. 12 (2003): 2-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3388. ———. "Diversified Speculations About The Stockbroker's Clerk." The Camden House Journal 27, no. 11 (2005): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3389. ———. "The Dogs in the Night." The Camden House Journal 28, no. 6 (2006): 2-7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3390. ———. "Dr. John H. Watson, M.D. -- An Assistant Consulting Detective." The Camden House Journal 26, no. 6 (2004): 2-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3391. ———. "Facets and Points About the Mazarin Stone and Other Canonical Diamonds." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (1999): 17-19.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3392. ———. "Facets and Points of the Mazarin Stone and Other Canonical Diamonds." The Camden House Journal 19, no. 8 (1997): 2-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3393. ———. "Illustrious Characters and the Turkish Bath." The Camden House Journal 30, no. 6 (2008): 2-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3394. ———. "Indelible Holmes: Some Notes on the Adventure of the Retired Colourman." The Camden House Journal 23, no. 12 (2001): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3395. ———. "Inspector Lestrade of Scotland Yard -- A Friend of Sherlock Holmes." The Camden House Journal 24, no. 2 (2002): 2-7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3396. ———. "Inspectors Gregson, Bradstreet and Hopkins of Scotland Yard." The Camden House Journal 26, no. 4 (2004): 2-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3397. ———. "The Location of the Valley of Fear." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (1999): 8-9.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3398. ———. "The Nautical Holmes -- Some Notes of The Adventure of the Gloria Scott." The Camden House Journal 25, no. 6 (2003): 2-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3399. ———. "Observation, Deduction and Atavism." The Camden House Journal 27, no. 3 (2005): 2-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3400. ———. "The Remarkable Miss Hunter." The Camden House Journal 27, no. 9 (2005): 2-7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3401. ———. "Scrutiny of the Second Stain." The Camden House Journal 31, no. 10 (2009): 2-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3402. ———. "Sherlock Holmes -- Coal Petrologist and Coal Chemist." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (1999): 10-12.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3403. ———. "Sherlock Holmes: The Roommate From Hell?" The Camden House Journal 16, no. 4 (1994): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3404. ———. "Sherlock Holmes: The Roommate From Hell? Part II." The Camden House Journal 16, no. 5 (1994): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3405. ———. "Ships, Harpoons, and Flotsam and Jetsam." The Camden House Journal 28, no. 11 (2006): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3406. ———. "'So pretty a toy': Some thoughts on the nature of the 'Blue Carbuncle'." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (1994): 18-21.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3407. ———. "Soldiers in The Crooked Man." The Camden House Journal 28, no. 4 (2006): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3408. ———. "Some Points of Light in The Valley of Fear." The Camden House Journal 17, no. 4 (1995): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3409. ———. "Sussex Vampire Déjà Vu." The Camden House Journal 29, no. 3 (2007): 2-5.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3410. ———. "Taking Tea as the Green Gables." The Camden House Journal 30, no. 9 (2008): 2-5.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3411. ———. "Three Points About the Three Garridebs." The Camden House Journal 30, no. 3 (2008): 2-7.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3412. ———. "Three Rotten Professors." The Camden House Journal 25, no. 2 (2003): 2-3.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3413. ———. "Thumbing through Victorian Engineering: some notes on the Adventure of the Engineer's Thumb." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (1999): 27-31.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3414. ———. "Toast -- Dr. John Watson." The Camden House Journal 15, no. 10 (1993): 2.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3415. ———. "The Tutor and the Three Students." The Camden House Journal 28, no. 9 (2006): 2-5.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3416. ———. "What Black Pearl of the Borgias?" The Camden House Journal 29, no. 11 (2007): 2-5.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3417. ———. "The World of Mr. Victor Hatherly -- Hydraulic Engineer." The Camden House Journal 22, no. 6 (2000): 2-7.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3418. ———. "You know my methods." The Camden House Journal 21, no. 4 (1999): 2-5.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3419. Cribari, Stephen J. "A Toast to Violet Hunter." The Norwegian Explorers of Minnesota Christmas Annual, no. (2005): 27.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3420. ———. "The Woman." The Norwegian Explorers of Minnesota Christmas Annual, no. (2006): 27.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3421. Crichton, Michael. The lost world: a novel. 1st trade ed. New York: Knopf. Distributed by Random House, 1995.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 95032034 //
3422. ———. Michael Crichton's Jurassic world. 1st ed. New York: Knopf, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 97073821. Contents: Jurassic Park -- The lost world //
3423. Crignon, Hélène. De Sherlock Holmes au professeur Challenger : inquietant, fantastique et fiction speculative dans l'oeuvre de Sir Arthur Conan Doyle (1859 - 1930). S.l.: s.n., 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3424. Croll, Andy, Chris Evans, and Julie-Marie Strange. "VIII Nineteenth Century." Annual Bulletin of Historical Literature 86, no. 1 (2002): 96.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Provides information on several books on British history. Includes a reference to Doyle. "...In a similar vein, L. Hapgood, 'The literature of the suburbs: versions of repression in the novels of

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

George Gissing, Arthur Conan Doyle and William Pitt Ridge, 1890-1899' (J. Victorian Culture, 5) is an interesting comparison of the three writers who appealed to that every more significant reader--the suburbanite...."

3425. Crom, Scott. "Holmes as Thinker versus Holmes as Logician." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 2 (1994): 91-96.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Offers some clarifications on deductive and inductive reasoning, logic, and Holmes views on his own methods.
3426. Crombleholme, Sarah. "Review--The British Empire Bash." The Ritual, no. 19 (1997): 55-57.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3427. Crosby, Robert, and Leslie Crosby. "'Monstrous' Indeed." The Camden House Journal 29, no. 6 (2007): 2-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3428. Cross, Charles B. "Max Black on the identity of indiscernibles." Philosophical Quarterly 45, no. 180 (1995): 350.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the opinion of Max Black on the 'Principle of the Identity of Indiscernibles.' Contains multiple references to Doyle and Holmes.
3429. Crossman, Craig. "Citizen Comes Through with Small Printer." The Salt Lake Tribune (Salt Lake City, UT), Dec 25, 1994: E7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Sirius has packaged 10 CD-ROM disks in a small square bundle called the '5-Ft. 10-Pak' that zigzag opens into a five-foot-long flat plastic streamer. One side is opaque; the transparent sleeve side shows off the colorful printed face of each disk. The new Volume II contains Battle Chess Enhanced; Space Quest IV; Rock Rap 'N Roll; Sherlock Holmes; Arts & Letters Warbirds; Movie Select; PC Karaoke; Family Fun; Fantasia's 2000 Fonts; Microsoft Multimedia Jumpstart and The Home Medical Advisor...."
3430. ———. "Citizen releases tiny portable printer that produces big results." Austin American Statesman (Austin, TX) 1994: D5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Unknown reference to Doyle or Holmes.
3431. Crowley, Bill. "Association of the German Petroleum Industry." Hydrocarbon Processing 80, no. 2 (2001): 21.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on the Association of the German petroleum industry's Web site. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "This month's puzzle. Speaking of the deep Web, here's our Sherlock Holmes Internet challenge for this month. The two-part question: What country had the largest annual percentage increase in refining capacity in 1997 How much of an increase was it in thousands of barrels per day?"
3432. ———. "Mine's bigger than yours!" Hydrocarbon Processing 80, no. 1 (2001): 17.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents results of a study by the School of Information Management and Systems at the University of California at Berkeley that attempted to measure how much information is produced in the world each year. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "So, as my favorite detective, Sherlock Holmes, says: "The game's afoot!" Here is a challenge to you...."
3433. Crowley, John R. "Seeking Psychic and Spiritual Truth." Journal of Religion & Psychical Research 18, no. 2 (1995): 71.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Part II. Discusses three attempts at proving paranormal experiences. Citation to Doyle in the notes.
3434. Crowther, M. A., and Marguerite Dupree. "The Invisible General Practitioner: The Careers of Scottish Medical Students in the Late Nineteenth Century." Bulletin of the History of Medicine 70, no. 3 (1996): 387-413.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reference to Doyle in note 9. "...Reminiscences by GPs who were also famous Scottish writers include Arthur Conan Doyle, Memories and Adventures (London: Hodder & Stoughton, 1924); and A. J. Cronin, Adventures in Two Worlds (London: Gollancz, 1952)."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3435. Crupe, Peter. "Exploring With the Norwegian Explorers." The Serpentine Muse 12, no. 1 (1993): 9-10.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3436. ———. "Ten Reasons to Like the Naval Treaty." Cliff Notes on Mrs. Hudson's Cliffdwellers 2, no. 2 (2000): 21-22.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3437. Cruze, Karen. "The 100-Year-Old Secret." Booklist 105, no. 4 (2008): 81.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book "The 100-Year-Old Secret" by Tracy Barrett. Read by David Pittu. 2008. 3hr. Listening Library, CD, $24 (9780739367636). Gr. 4-6. "This first Sherlock Files mystery-series title rests on the conceit that 12-year-old Xena Holmes and her 10-year-old brother, Xander, are direct descendants of Sherlock Holmes. Transplanted to England with their parents, the American sleuths investigate an unsolved Sherlock Holmes case involving a missing painting.... A fun, fast listen for young mystery lovers."
3438. Cubitt, Allan. "Holmes is where the heart is." Daily Mail (London), December 11, 2004: 6.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Although I read and hugely enjoyed The Hound Of The Baskervilles, and many other Sherlock Holmes stories as a child, Holmes is actually a very adult character. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle created the great detective as a manic-depressive with a brooding darkness within him. And that complexity is one of the reasons Holmes has become a classic role on stage and screen. The late Jeremy Brett was Sherlock Holmes on TV for a decade, and described the role as tougher than Hamlet or Macbeth. Brett became so obsessed with playing Holmes that he was once discovered outside Doyle's former London house, begging to be released from the spirit of the master detective. In the 1940s, Basil Rathbone made the role his own in radio broadcasts and Hollywood films. For Christmas 2002, I adapted The Hound Of The Baskervilles for BBC television with Richard Roxburgh playing Holmes. This Christmas, my offering is Sherlock Holmes And The Case Of The Silk Stocking, with Rupert Everett in the lead role. He is a fascinating choice...."
3439. Culley, Maureen. "Fry adds weight to the role of Sherlock Holmes." Daily Mail (London), March 31, 2004: 37.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "It is a mystery to tax even the legendary powers of the master detective himself. For almost 120 years, fans of Sherlock Holmes have known him as a tall, hawk-nosed man whose rigorous studies have left him, in the words of his trusty companion Dr Watson, 'excessively lean'. So when makers of a Pounds 2million TV adaptation of the famous sleuth's adventures cast rather more robustly proportioned comedian Stephen Fry as their new Holmes, it seemed a strange choice to say the least. To confuse matters further, Dr Watson often portrayed on screen as a plump and bumbling Victorian gentleman is to be played by Fry's perennially slim comic partner Hugh Laurie...."
3440. Cullin, Mitch. Les abeilles de monsieur Holmes, (Fictions). Paris: Naïve, 2007.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Traduit de l'américain par Hélène Collon. Translation of Slight Trick of the Mind //
3441. ———. Sherlock Holmes : misteri yang tak terpecahkan / Uniform Title: A slight trick of the mind. Indonesian. Cet. 2. ed. Jakarta: Voila Books, 2007.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. Translation of: A slight trick of the mind. Misteri yang tak terpecahkan. [alih bahasa, Rika Farihah]. //
3442. ———. A slight trick of the mind. Large type ed, (Thorndike Press large print senior lifestyles). Waterville, ME: Thorndike Press, 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 23 cm. //
3443. ———. A slight trick of the mind a novel. New York: Knopf Publishing Group, 2006.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // 1947 finds Holmes living in a Sussex farmhouse at 93 with a housekeeper and her son, Roger, who discovers evidence of a case never before reported, a case involving a Mrs. Keller, the long-ago object of Holmes's affection 3444. ———. A slight trick of the mind a novel. 1st ed. New York: Nan A. Talese/Doubleday, 2005.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2004046038 // 1947 finds Holmes living in a Sussex farmhouse at 93 with a housekeeper and her son, Roger, who discovers evidence of a case never before reported, a case involving a Mrs. Keller, the long-ago object of Holmes's affection

3445. Cullin, Mitch, and Yong-mi Paek. Syollok Homju majimak naldul = Sherlock Holmes a slight trick of the mind / Uniform Title: Slight trick of the mind. Korean. 1-p'an. ed, (Saeroun Syollok Homju iyagi). Soul: Hwanggum Kaji, 2007.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 22 cm. Translation of: A slight trick of the mind. Paek Yong-mi omgim. // 3446. Cummings, Pat. Jimmy Lee did it. New York: Harper-Trophy, 1995.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Sept 1995 // Artie keeps telling his sister that the messes all over their house are the work of the elusive Jimmy Lee. Angel plays detective (wearing a deerstalker).

3447. Cuningham, Henry. "Sherlock Holmes and the Case of Race." Journal of Popular Culture 28, no. 2 (1994): 113-125.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "This article discusses the case of racism in the Sherlock Holmes story, The Yellow Face. The publication of a short story defending the marriage of a black man to a white woman would not be too unusual for the 1990s, but the widespread distribution of a similar story in the 1890s is a historical oddity. One hundred years ago, the Sherlock Holmes stories were some of the most popular and widely read in print. The Yellow Face brought before the reading public the volatile topic of just such an interracial couple, the prejudice they encountered, and the precarious fate of their mulatto child. Because of some improbable and illogical developments in the narrative, this case ranks among some of the poorer in the Sherlock Holmes cannon when viewed strictly as a detective story. But when examined as a vehicle for delivering a didactic message on racial attitudes that was half-a-century ahead of its time, The Yellow Face reveals itself to be shrewdly constructed. In the opinion of mystery writer John Dickson Carr, only an ardent Sherlockian can find high merit in The Yellow Face. The story certainly supports the view that a didactic intention may undermine artistry, at least when the tale is evaluated solely as a mystery."

3448. Cunneen, Joseph. "An absorbing girls' story, two plots less convincing." National Catholic Reporter 34, no. 5 (1997): 18.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews three motion pictures including 'Fairy Tale: A True Story'. Includes reference to Doyle and Holmes. "...Even better, 'Fairy Tale' follows the case on which it was based by having Gardner pass them on to Arthur Conan Doyle (Peter O'Toole) who, known to all as the creator of the super-logical Sherlock Holmes, had lost his son in the war and become an ardent spiritualist. Doyle in turn was a close friend of the skeptical Houdini, who is shown exposing a seance as an elaborate hoax...."

3449. Cunningham, David S. "Summer Reading." Commonweal 135, no. 12 (2008): 26-28.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "...Love and loss are also at the heart of my current favorite series of mystery novels. Mary Russell, the young protagonist of Laurie R. King's series, was sent to live with her English aunt after her parents died (in an accident for which Mary had always blamed herself). She buried her grief in scholarship on ancient languages and theological texts, until one day--wandering through the Sussex Downs--she met an avid beekeeper lately retired from detective work. How many men fit that description? He is, of course, Sherlock Holmes, whose powers of observation, deduction, and perseverance are well matched by the young Mary. The Beekeeper's Apprentice launched a series of finely wrought mysteries in which the two pursue their craft in tandem. Particularly noteworthy is King's deft grasp of Conan Doyle's narrative voice and characterization of his hero; those who know Holmes well will find him alive again in these pages, but more interesting for being forced to work with (rather than against) his intellectual equal, who is (egad!) a woman. The books often wrestle with theological elements, whether a text (A Letter of Mary), a place (O Jerusalem), or a charismatic preacher (A Monstrous Regiment of Women). The eighth and latest installment, Locked Rooms (Bantam, $6.99, 528 pp.), is set in Prohibition-era San Francisco, with flashbacks to the 1906 earthquake, allowing us to learn gradually where the secret past of Mary's family--and untimely deaths--has been locked away...."

3450. Cunningham, Sophie. "Alien Star." Meanjin 62, no. 1 (2003): 100.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Interviews Peter Nicholls, the science fiction encyclopedist about his international career and about prospects of the genre in literary fields. Unknown reference to Doyle or Holmes.

3451. Curchin, L. A. "Sherlock Holmes: Classicist." Canadian Holmes 22, no. 2 (1998): 9-10.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3452. Curious Collectors of Baker Street, and Tigers of San Pedro. Baker Street West I. Los Angeles: Curious Tiger Press, 1995.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3453. Curran, Peggy. "Hound of the Baskervilles puts a new leash on Holmes, Watson." The Gazette (Montreal), October 25, 2000: G7.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The Hound of the Baskervilles has lost one of his contact lenses. Eno, a large German shepherd who snarls and growls on cue, has been made up to look like Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's fictional 'monstrous hound from Hell.' With his coat matted and eyes glowing with the magic of red contacts, he does a pretty convincing job. Until one of the lenses pops out, and crew members have to get down on all fours to search for it while their canine star naps in his trailer. Ah, the glamour of film-making. The first instalment in CTV's new take on the classic Sherlock Holmes mysteries, The Hound of the Baskervilles, airs Saturday at 9 p.m., one of a slew of spooky specials on tap to coincide with Halloween. Matt Frewer plays Sherlock Holmes to Kenneth Welsh's Dr. Watson...."

3454. Currie, Gregory. "Visible traces: Documentary and the contents of photographs." Journal of Aesthetics & Art Criticism 57, no. 3 (1999): 285.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Analyzes the documentary and nondocumentary elements within a documentary. Holmes mentioned in note 9: "Sherlock Holmes simulates the criminal in 'The Musgrave Ritual.'"

3455. Currier, Jameson. "News." Lambda Book Report 13, no. 1/2 (2004): 50-50.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents an update on issues in the entertainment and media sectors relevant to the gay community as of August 2004. Includes reference to Doyle and Holmes. "...Two of Britain's most famous gay actors will soon be dueling Sherlocks. Stephen Fry will star as Arthur Conan Doyle's quintessential British detective, Sherlock Holmes, in a movie that will air on ITV at Christmastime. Fry's longtime comedy partner, Hugh Laurie, will co-star as Dr. Watson....Rupert Everett will also star as Sherlock Holmes in another TV-movie version which will be shown earlier in the year on BBC, a follow-up to their successful Hounds of the Baskerville feature. This production will have an original screenplay and will not be based on an Arthur Conan Doyle story; Ian Hart will co-star as his Dr. Watson...."

3456. Curry, Andrew, Holly J. Morris, Art Samuels, Maggie ShROUT, Anne Bradley, Nora Keating, Amy Kost, Lee Neville, and Sheila Thalhimer. "Hoaxes of the Ages." U.S. News & World Report 129, no. 4 (2000): 74.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a list of archaeological discoveries which were later discovered to be hoaxes. Includes reference to Doyle and Holmes. "...There were fairies in the garden in pictures taken in 1917 by two girls, 10 and 16, in Cottingley, England. Experts determined the photos had not been tampered with. Sherlock Holmes creator Sir Arthur Conan Doyle saw the images as proof little people were returning to the world and defended them in his book The Coming of the Fairies...."

3457. Curtis, Donald E. "Canonical Quote Quiz." The Illustrious Clients News 32, no. 7 (2009): 1, rear cover.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3458. ———. "Canonical Quote Quiz." The Illustrious Clients News 32, no. 8 (2009): 1, rear cover.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3459. ———. "Canonical Quote Quiz." The Illustrious Clients News 32, no. 9 (2009): 1, rear cover.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3460. ———. "Canonical Quote Quiz." The Illustrious Clients News 32, no. 6 (2009): 1, rear cover.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3461. ———. "Clues From the Client." The Illustrious Clients News 32, no. 6 (2009): 1.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3462. ———. "Clues From the Client." The Illustrious Clients News 32, no. 7 (2009): 1.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3463. ———. "Clues From the Client." The Illustrious Clients News 32, no. 8 (2009): 1.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3464. ———. "Clues From the Client." The Illustrious Clients News 32, no. 9 (2009): 1.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3465. ———. "An Examination of 'The Resident Patient'." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 50, no. 2 (2000): 41-43.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3466. Cushing, Peter. An Autobiography and Past Forgetting. Baltimore: Midnight Marquee Press, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Aug 1999 // "A new one-volume edition combining both volumes of Peter Cushing's autobiography (first published in 1986 and 1988), with many fine stories about his Sherlockian and other roles (among them the fact that the ugly false teeth he used in 'Tales from the Crypt' in 1971 were the same ones he had used as Sherlock Holmes in the earlier BBC television series) and a new afterword by Joyce Broughton, who was his secretary from 1959 until his death in 1994."
3467. Cushman, Doug. Aunt Eater's mystery Halloween, (An I can read book). [New York]: HarperTrophy, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Story and pictures by Doug Cushman. // Aunt Eater the anteater finds plenty of mysteries to solve when she attends a Halloween costume party.
3468. ———. Aunt Eater's mystery Halloween, (An I can read book). New York: HarperCollins, 1998.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Story and pictures by Doug Cushman. // Aunt Eater the anteater finds plenty of mysteries to solve when she attends a Halloween costume party.
3469. ———. Aunt Eater's mystery Halloween, (An I can read book). Columbus, OH: Atlas Editions, 1998.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Story and pictures by Doug Cushman. // Aunt Eater the anteater finds plenty of mysteries to solve when she attends a Halloween costume party.
3470. ———. Aunt Eater's mystery Halloween. New York: Scholastic, 1998.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- "This edition is only available for distribution through the school market." Story and pictures by Doug Cushman. // Aunt Eater the anteater finds plenty of mysteries to solve when she attends a Halloween costume party.
3471. ———. Aunt Eater's mystery Halloween, (I can read book.; Level 2). New York: HarperCollins World ; London : Hi Marketing, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3472. Cuthbertson, James. "Wigmore Street Postbag, Mycroft--Fact or Fiction?" The Sherlock Holmes Journal 22, no. 4 (1996): 136.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3473. Cutrer, Emily Fourmy. "Visualizing Nineteenth-Century American Culture." American Quarterly 51, no. 4 (1999): 895-909.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews A Measure of Perfection: Phrenology and the Fine Arts in America. By Charles Colbert. Chapel Hill: The University of North Carolina Press, 1997. 441 pages. $55.00 (cloth). $24.95

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

(paper). Inventing the Modern Artist: Art and Culture in Gilded Age America. By Sarah Burns. New Haven: Yale University Press, 1996. 380 pages. $40.00 (cloth). $19.95 (paper). Art and the Higher Life: Painting and Evolutionary Thought in Late Nineteenth-Century America. By Kathleen Pyne. Austin: University of Texas Press, 1996. 416 pages. $50.00. Angels of Art: Women and Art in American Society, 1876-1914. By Bailey Van Hook. University Park: Pennsylvania State University Press, 1996. 280 pages. $65.00 (cloth). $34.95 (paper). Creating Picturesque America: Monument to the Natural and Cultural Landscape. By Sue Rainey. Nashville: Vanderbilt University Press, 1994. 383 pages. $34.95. Frederic Remington and Turn-of-the-Century America. By Alexander Nemerov. New Haven: Yale University Press, 1995. 244 pages. $47.00. Includes a reference to Doyle and Holmes. "...Most suggestive--as well as most difficult to follow--is the connection that Nemerov ultimately draws among the following: his touchstone image, The Last Stand; a study of hands Remington completed in preparation for the painting; severed human ears in a Sherlock Holmes story, 'The Adventure of the Cardboard Box'; indexical marks, or trails, in several of Remington's paintings of Indians; the development of fingerprinting; Remington's sense of unease about the written word; and turn-of-the-century interest in primitive writing or pictograms, particularly in the fiction of Rudyard Kipling and Arthur Conan Doyle..."

3474. Cynkin, Thomas. "A Few Salacious Tid-Bits Which Watson May Have Omitted." The Holmes & Watson Report 1, no. 4 (1997): 11-14.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3475. ———. "James Watson, M. D." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 51, no. 4 (2001): 25-29.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3476. ———. "Moriarty's Fingerprints." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 50, no. 1 (2000): 41-45.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3477. Czarnecki, Larry. "Sleuths (Pastel Painting of Holmes and Watson)." The Norwegian Explorers of Minnesota Christmas Annual, no. (2009): 26-27.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3478. Czarniawska, Barbara. "Management She Wrote: Organization Studies and Detective Stories." Studies in Cultures, Organizations & Societies 5, no. 1 (1999): 13.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes multiple references to Doyle and Holmes. The author notes "It has been postulated that social sciences in general and organization theory in particular can profit from parallels and analogies with fiction literature. As the main form of expression in social sciences, like in literature, is a written product, inspired imitation can visibly improve the literary forms of organization theory, without diminishing its specificity. This essay argues that one genre in fiction literature is especially suitable for such comparisons. This is the genre of the detective story, where the detective, much like the researcher, must untangle the social tissue to arrive at an explanation."

3479. D.S. "NB." TLS, no. (1996): 16.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Comments on BBC2's televised literary program, Bookmark, that has begun a new series with reference to the "literary deprivation of Crowborough, the town where Sir Arthur Conan Doyle lived...."

3480. Dabney, Lewis M. "Edmund Wilson, Jr." Sewanee Review 103, no. 2 (1995): 198.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Profiles American writer Edmund Wilson Jr. Childhood, with a reference to Holmes. "...He would want to be a novelist, and would regularly publish short stories in the school and college magazines, but no boyhood fiction has survived, though Sandy and he 'wrote and illustrated a series called The Adventures of Colonel Mellow,' based on Sherlock Holmes. The critical temperament already stood in Wilson's way...."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3481. D'Agneau, Marcel. The curse of the Nibelung: being the last case of Lord Holmes of Baker Street and Sir John Watson. London: Royal National Institute for the Blind, 1983.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Braille. //
3482. DaGroomes, Kathy Vilim. "My favorite books." Boys' Life 84, no. 7: 30.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents the responses of some famous guys who were asked, 'When you were a boy, what were your favorite books?' Includes reference to Doyle in one response. Stan Lee, creator of Spider-Man; Chairman, Marvel Films: "Favorite book: Minute Biographies by Nisenson and Parker. 'Each page contained a very brief, excitingly written biography of one of the 100 most famous people in history. This book instilled in me a fascination for the lives of great people and also provided me with heroic role models who gave me goals to strive for while I was growing up.' Favorite authors: Arthur Conan Doyle, O. Henry, Mark Twain, H. G. Wells and Edgar Rice Burroughs."
3483. Dahlin, Robert. "Publishers Are Getting Really Series-ous." Publishers Weekly 249, no. 16 (2002): 38.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents remarks from several editors of mystery books regarding the popularity and the challenges in launching mystery books. Includes reference to Holmes from Otto Penzler (Otto Penzler Books, Carroll & Graf). "...I believe that we all have a sense of extended family in our lives--this includes our friends, the colleagues we work with, all of the people we look forward to seeing on a regular basis. That sense of family applies to mystery characters as well. When writers create characters that we really enjoy being with, we're happy to go back and visit them again and again in a series. This is especially true when there is a coterie of others surrounding that character. They become family too. It's like visiting Sherlock Holmes at 221B Baker Street or Nero Wolfe in his New York apartment...."
3484. ———. "Scene 2: Making short work of crime." Publishers Weekly 246, no. 17 (1999): 46.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on book publishers' marketing strategies for mystery anthology books as of April 26, 1999. Includes a reference to Doyle and Holmes. "...Over the years, there have been a number of collections based on further exploits of the great denizen of London's Baker Street. One of the latest is The Confidential Casebooks of Sherlock Holmes, edited by Marvin Kaye, which St. Martin's is reprinting in July as a Griffin trade paperback. 'As a subject, Holmes is different from those in many other short stories,' says SMP senior editor Keith Kahla. 'Almost all of what Conan Doyle wrote were short stories, and Holmes fans are devoted readers. They'll read anything from actual Conan Doyle to the pastiches.'" 3485. ———. "Soup's On: A Selection of Forthcoming Cookbooks." Publishers Weekly 246, no. 30 (1999): 44.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Enumerates several cookbooks, one with a reference to Holmes. "Jo Grossman has not personally sampled every morsel served up in A Taste of Murder: Diabolically Delicious Recipes from Contemporary Mystery Writers (DTP), which she compiled with Robert Weibezahl....In total, more than 140 mystery authors supplied recipes and brief introductions to their fare. 'There are more recipes than that, because we wanted to include a sidebar with recipes from two Sherlock Holmes pubs, one in London, the other in Carmel,' says Grossman."
3486. Dahlin, Robert, Natalie Danford, Charles Hix, Karole Riippa, and Laurele Riippa. "Fall 2004 Hardcovers: Fiction/General & Collections." Publishers Weekly 251, no. 32 (2004): 157-161.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Features several fiction books, including a Holmesian title. "The Final Solution (Dec., $16.95) by Michael Chabon turns to the great master of detection: Sherlock Holmes. 60,000 first printing."
3487. ———. "Fall 2004 Hardcovers: Fiction/Mystery & Suspense." Publishers Weekly 251, no. 32 (2004): 161-164.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Features several mystery and suspense books including a Holmes citation: "The New Annotated Sherlock Holmes (Nov., $75, boxed), Edited by Leslie S. Klinger, is an illustrated two-volume edition that reassembles 56 classic stories in chronological order, and includes biographies, historical and cultural details."
3488. ———. "Fall Trade Paperbacks: Fiction/Mystery & Suspense." Publishers Weekly 251, no. 32 (2004): 206-206.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents several mystery and suspense fiction books available in the U.S. as of August 2004. Included, from Berkley Prime Crime, is Mrs. Hudson and the Spirits' Curse (Dec., $13) by Martin Davies. "[F]eatures the brilliant housekeeper for Sherlock Holmes."

3489. Dahlinger, Susan E. "The Annual Picnic and Victorian Tea Party of The Three Garridebs of Westchester County." The Holmes & Watson Report 1, no. 5 (1997): 20.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3490. ———. "CCC 1997." The Holmes & Watson Report 1, no. 5 (1997): 10-11.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3491. ———. "The...Dweller on the Threshold." Shoso-In Bulletin 13, no. (2003): 13-17.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3492. ———. "For Ms Adler." The Serpentine Muse 20, no. 1 (2003): 14-15.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3493. ———. "Of 'The Illustrious Client'." Baker Street Miscellanea, no. 73 (1993): 12-15.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3494. ———. "'The Old Sweet Song'." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 53, no. 3 (2003): 44-47.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3495. ———. "Quartering the Maple Leaf with the Stars and Stripes." The Holmes & Watson Report 1, no. 7 (1998): 18-19.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3496. ———. "A Remembrance: Paul Smedegaard, BSI, 1941-2007." The Serpentine Muse 24, no. 3 (2008): 7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3497. ———. "The Sherlock Holmes We Never Knew." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 49, no. 3 (1999): 7-27.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3498. ———. "Sherlock Holmes, a centenary essay." Friends of the Sherlock Holmes Collections Newsletter 3, no. 4 (1999): 1, 6, 8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // An essay on the life and work of the actor, William Gillette, on the centennial of his first performance of the play "Sherlock Holmes," the art of Frederic Dorr Steele (who fixed Gillette's image of Holmes in the minds of many), Vincent Starrett's work with Gillette on the publication of the script, and the materials related to all three of these men in the Holmes Collections.
3499. ———. "A Very Merry Unbirthday." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 53, no. 4 (2003): 8-10.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3500. Dahlinger, S. E. Violets & vitriol essays: about Sherlock Holmes and Conan Doyle. Ashcroft, B.C: Calabash Press, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references. Contents: Aspects of Ballarat / Karen Anderson; Exploited Women in The Hound of the Baskervilles / Beth Austin; Lunar Ladies: Sherlock Holmes and His female clients / Diana Barsham; Russian Roulette a SCANDalous Discussion / Nancy Beiman and Mia Stampe; A Perennial Toast / Paula S. Cohen; Mrs. Hudson, The Woman of Baker Street / Deborah Clark; The Bedside Manner / Catherine Cooke; The . . . Dweller on the Threshold / Susan E. Dahlinger; Canonical Scribbles / Roberta Davies; Science and Sir Arthur (or D is for Dinosaur) / Judith Freeman; Christian Names / Naomi

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Hayashi; Holmes's Wardrobe / Naomi Hayashi; Plum's Sherlock: Conan Doyle's Influence on Pelham Grenville Wodehouse / Marilyn MacGregor; How the Brigadier Wooed the Ladies / Dayna McCausland; The Compliments of the Season / Julie McKuras; Old Woman Be Damned / Rosemary Michaud; Past Remembering / Sarah Montague; Autolycus in Chicago / Susan Rice; Through a Glass Darkly / Barbara Roden; Mrs. Beeton / Julia Carlson Rosenblatt; The Monster Within: Pseudo-Gothic Tales of the Canon / Barbara Rusch; The Yellow Face / Hiromi Sasabe; The Long Island Cape (Re) Visited / Marina Stajic; Adversarial Women: Worthy and Unworthy Opponents / Lynne E. Walker // In a volume timed to coincide with the 150th anniversary of the birthday of Sherlock Holmes, a collection of essays written entirely by women on Holmes and his creator, on Irene Adler, on Mrs. Beeton, on Vincent Starrett, on P.G. Wodehouse, and on many more topics 3501. Dahlinger, Susan E., and Leslie S. Klinger. "Arthur Conan Doyle, Fletcher Robinson & The Hound." Canadian Holmes 25, no. 1 (2001): 7-16.

 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3502. Dalby, Stewart. "Play dough: Hot on the trail of the man who never was: Sherlock Holmes was a fictional character but that doesn't stop people collecting anything to do with him." The Guardian (London), July 15, 2000: 24.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Sherlock Holmes never existed, of course. Nor did his much-loved dwellings at 221b Baker Street in London. But try telling Kazie Kamaza, one of the thousands of visitors who flock to the Sherlock Holmes Memorabilia Company in Baker Street each year....Almost exactly opposite is the Sherlock Holmes Museum, housed in a former Victorian lodging house. A blue plaque on the wall claims that this is the original 221b Baker Street. Not so, says the Abbey National Bank. Its modern, 60s built former headquarters a few doors along is where numbers 205 to 229 Baker Street used to be. And Abbey National still gets mail, as does the museum, addressed to Sherlock Holmes and asking him to help with a problem. They are reluctant to tell you at the museum just how many visitors they receive. In fact, they are disinclined to tell you anything if they suspect you have been across the road talking to the Memorabilia Company. The two see themselves as strong competitors...."

3503. Dale, Doris. "The Bust of Napoleon Fact or Fiction?" The Camden House Journal 18, no. 10 (1996): 2-3.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3504. ———. "The Dancing Men Alphabet -- A Puzzle." The Camden House Journal 18, no. 7 (1996): 5.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3505. ———. "The Gems of the Canon: Precious Toys, or the Devil's Bait." Baker Street West 13, no. 1 (1997): 13-15.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3506. ———. "Palimpsests: Before and After or From Caves and Clay Tablets to CD ROMs and World Wide Webs." The Camden House Journal 17, no. 7 (1995): 2-5.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3507. ———. "Sherlockian Allusions by Agatha Christie." The Holmes & Watson Report 6, no. 6 (2003): 28-30.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3508. ———. "To Your Health! Salud! Prosit!" The Camden House Journal 17, no. 10 (1995): 2-5.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3509. ———. "Toast to Irene Adler." The Camden House Journal 18, no. 5 (1996): 2.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3510. ———. "What is Sherlock Holmes's Favorite Color? A Preliminary Study." The Camden House Journal 16, no. 10 (1994): 2-5.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3511. Dale, Doris, and Richard Dale. "The game is afloat." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (2001): 1-8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3512. ———. "A Kinder, Gentler Holmes." Beeman's Christmas Annual, no. (1995): 18-20.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3513. Dale, Jenny, and Mick Reid. Sherlock's home, (Puppy patrol). New York: Scholastic, 2003.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2003588273 //
3514. Dale, Richard. "Sherlock Holmes O.H.M.S., The Blanched Soldier, and the Second Anglo-Boer War: The Case of the Post-Hiatus Hiatus." The Camden House Journal 19, no. 6 (1997): 2-4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3515. ———. "Sherlock Holmes, the Old School Tie, and the Priory School: The Singular Case of the Nineteenth Century British Public School." The Camden House Journal 18, no. 12 (1996): 2-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3516. ———. "Toast -- William Stuart Baring-Gould." The Camden House Journal 15, no. 10 (1993): 3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3517. Dalglish, Cass. "Details, details." Women's Review of Books 15, no. 2 (1997): 22.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'A Crime in the Neighborhood,' by Suzanne Berne. Includes a reference to Holmes. "...It is a story told by a now-adult woman, gazing back at the details of her own life, focusing on the summer of 1972 when she was a ten-year-old who so admired Sherlock Holmes that she roamed around with a notebook labeled 'Evidence,' in which she wrote down exactly what she saw...."
3518. Dalrymple, Theodore. "Crudity beyond belief." New Criterion 19, no. 1 (2000): 77.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on New Art Gallery in the town of Walsall in Black Country, England. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...but since in my hospital we occasionally treat rattlesnake bites, it must be presumed that the unregulated sale and harboring of venomous snakes continues. No one in my city can know for certain, therefore, where the speckled band--the dreaded Indian swamp adder that put paid to the cunning and evil Dr. Grimesby Roylott--may not strike again. Sherlock Holmes scotch'd the snake, he did not kill it...."
3519. ———. "Holmes and his commentators." The New Criterion 24, no. 3 (2005): 4-8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Avid Sherlock Holmes fan Theodore Dalrymple takes issue with the annotations in three canonical editions of Arthur Conan Doyle's work. The three are William S. Baring-Gould's of 1967; the Oxford Sherlock Holmes of 1993; and the just published The New Annotated Sherlock Holmes: The Novels, edited by Leslie S. Klinger.
3520. ———. "Sheer delight in doing evil." BMJ: British Medical Journal 334, no. 7607 (2007): 1325-1325.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article presents the author's reaction to having read the book "The Resident Patient," by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, which centers on a doctor named Trevelyan who visits Sherlock Holmes and Watson to discuss a patient named Blessington. A discussion of the story's plot, which centers on the fact that Blessington is really a criminal named Sutton, is presented. The author's involvement in being a witness in a case where a man hanged another man and attempted to make the incident look like suicide is discussed.
3521. Daly, Caroline. "Trainee English teachers and the struggle for subject knowledge." Changing English: Studies in Reading & Culture 11, no. 2 (2004): 189-204.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Recalls the challenges that confronted teacher trainees in teaching the English language in London's secondary schools. Includes references to Holmes. "...She is disturbed that the essay title given to the class was chosen because it fulfils SATs criteria, and asks herself 'how can it be that we have managed to make Sherlock Holmes so boring?' She is concerned that the teaching of literary 'techniques' for assessment purposes is encouraging students to masquerade in knowledge they do not properly own. 'Is it possible that he could find these characteristics himself, if we encouraged an enthusiasm for these stories?... (in)--creating drama, watching some of the lovely TV adaptations of Holmes, researching the Victorians, creating his own detective hero and dasstardly villain....'"

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3522. Daly, Dan. "Recalling Payne, rethinking Tiger." The Washington Times, October 31, 1999: A1.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "I don't know about you, but I can't wait to read more about Matt Turk's finger injury. If you look back over NFL history, you'll find that a lot of championships have been lost because of finger injuries to punters. In fact, in the standard player's contract, there's a clause strictly prohibiting thumb wrestling during the season. Seriously, it would make a good Sherlock Holmes episode, don't you think? You could call it 'Sherlock Holmes and the Voice of Terror' (because of the way Dan Snyder reacted to the injury). No, wait, that's already been done. How about 'Sherlock Holmes in Washington?' No, that's been done, too. I've got it: 'Sherlock Holmes Hounds the Basketball-Playing Punter.'..."
3523. Daly, Lorraine. Sherlock Holmes and the Lusitania. Romford, Essex: Ian Henry Publications, 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 98040038; Scuttlebutt Jul 1999 // "Extends Holmes' career beyond his capture of Von Bork, and involves Holmes and Watson in an investigation of the sinking of the 'Lusitania' and in a battle against German saboteurs."
3524. Daly, Nicholas. "That Obscure Object of Desire: Victorian Commodity Culture and Fictions of the Mummy." Novel: A Forum on Fiction 28, no. 1 (1994): 24-51.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Studies the use of mummy fiction to articulate the changes in the material culture in late 19th and early 20th century Great Britain. Includes multiple references to Doyle and Holmes.
3525. Dam, Julie K. L., and John Hannah. "A Friend in Deed." People 54, no. 14 (2000): 149.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on professional stuntwoman Jeannie Epper and her donation of a kidney to actor Ken Howard. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...And Howard is determined to take full advantage of his new lease on life. Anxious to get back in shape, he walks on a treadmill for 45 minutes every day ('He has so much more energy,' says Linda), and this fall he'll begin shooting a movie in which he plays Sir Arthur Conan Doyle...."
3526. Damant, David. "Wigmore Street Postbag, Grand Old Men." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 28, no. 3 (2007): 118.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3527. Damrosch, David. The Longman Anthology of British literature. Volume 2B, The Victorian Age. Princeton, NJ: Recording for the Blind & Dyslexic, 2003. Sound Recording 1 sound disc.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital, mono. ; 4 3/4 in. Originally published: New York : Longman, c2003. 2nd ed. One of three volumes. Also published: 2A. Romantics and their contemporaries, 2C. The twentieth century. Includes bibliographical references. Distribution is restricted to RFB & D members who have a documented print disability such as a visual impairment, learning disability or other physical disability. David Damrosch, general editor. // The goal of this anthology is to present a wealth of poetry, prose, and drama from the full sweep of the literary history of the British Isles, and to do so in ways that will bring out both the works' original cultural contexts and their lasting aesthetic power.-Pref.
3528. ———. "World Literature Today: From the Old World to the Whole World." symploke 8, no. 1 (2000): 7-19.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes references to Doye. "...This crossover evangelism in turn informs the collection's advocacy on behalf of the difficult, elite works it presents side by side with the work of Conan Doyle and C. S. Forester...Whereas both Charles Eliot and Henry Cabot Lodge had focused exclusively on established major authors, Magill freely mixed popular work in with established classics: Arthur Conan Doyle and Pearl Buck appear as early as Volume 1, along with Homer and Shakespeare--taking places that might otherwise have been used for Ovid's Metamorphoses or for Goethe's Wilhelm Meister, both of which appear only in Volume 3...."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3529. Damrosch, David, and Kevin J. H. Dettmar. Masters of British literature. David Damrosch and Kevin J.H. Dettmar, general editors. Volume B, The Romantics and their contemporaries / Susan Wolfson and Peter Manning ; The Victorian Age / Heather Henderson and William Sharpe ; The twentieth century / Kevin J.H. Dettmar. Princeton, NJ: Recording for the Blind & Dyslexic, 2008. Sound Recording Sound disc.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital mono. ; 4 3/4 in. Originally published: New York : Pearson/Longman, c2008. Also published: v. A. The Middle Ages / Christopher Baswell and Anne Howland Schotter -- The early modern period / Constance Jordan and Clare Carroll -- The Restoration and the 18th century / Stuart Sherman. Distribution is restricted to RFB&D members who have a documented print disability such as a visual impairment, learning disability or other physical disability. // [This] anthology features comprehensive coverage of the enduring works of the British literary tradition from the Romantics through the twentieth century. Major works by the most influential authors - Barbauld, Bake, Wollstonecraft, Wordsworth, Coleridge, Keats, Barrett Browning, Browning, Tennyson, Yeats, Woolf, Joyce, Eliot, Walcott, Heaney, and Rushdie - are offered alongside shorter pieces in contextual groups that add insight to the work and its themes. -Back cover.
3530. Dandrew, Thomas. "Victor and Violet: Symbolic Siblings?" Canadian Holmes 19, no. 4 (1996): 17-18.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3531. Danford, Natalie. "Publishing the Write Stuff." Publishers Weekly 250, no. 50 (2003): 33-33.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents writing advice for aspiring authors, from several reference books. Includes a passing reference to Doyle and Holmes. "...Know your history. It Takes a Certain Type to Be a Writer: Facts from the World of Writing and Publishing (Red Wheel/Weiser/ Conari Press, Aug. 2003) by Erin Barrett and Jack Mingo offers tidbits, from filmmaker Lawrence Kasdan's assertion that "Being a writer is like having homework every night of your life" to Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's original name for his detective: Sherrinford Hope...."
3532. Danford, Natalie, Lucinda Dyer, Karen Holt, and Judith Rosen. "Toujours l'Amour." Publishers Weekly 250, no. 48 (2003): 26-36.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses the expansion of the genre of romance fiction. Includes reference to Holmes. "...As a child, Jove's Christine Feehan read not her trademark paranormal books, but Sherlock Holmes. 'I think I had them memorized. I dreamed of growing up to write books with a heroine who was female Sherlock Holmes--she'd have a smart mouth, great sense of humor, a bad attitude and the ability to back it up with brains and a solid martial arts background.'..."
3533. Dangling Prussian Amateur Press Association. The daily dangler official news organ of the Dangling Prussian Amateur Press Association. Peoria, Ill.?: B. Keefauver, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Citations: De Waal C12495 //
3534. ———. The dangling Prussian files. Peoria, Ill.?: B. Keefauver.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Citations: De Waal C12495 //
3535. Daniels, Anthony. "The man who made Scouting." New Criterion 22, no. 10 (2004): 22-27.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Examines the life of Robert Baden-Powell, founder of the Boy Scout world-wide movement. Includes a passing reference to Doyle and Holmes. "Boy Scouts were to observe so that they might serve in the fashion of Sherlock Holmes's Baker Street Irregulars. Baden-Powell repeatedly recommends the close study of Conan Doyle's stories as a means of training."
3536. Danila, Florin Leodor. "Wigmore Street Postbag, A Romanian Holmesian." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 23, no. 2 (1997): 68.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3537. Dao, Er, and Arthur Conan Doyle. Zui hou yi an. 1st ed, (Fu er mo si tan an). Tai bei xian zhong he shi: You fu wen hua, 2006.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- bu fen cai tu ; 23 cm. Guo yu zhu yin./ Ti ming qu zi ban quan ye. Ya se. ke nan dao er zuo. //

3538. Dao er Fang, Qing Qiu Jin-li Yan Ting-hua, and Arthur Conan Doyle. ba si ke wei er de lie quan. 1st ed. 3 vols, (fu er mo si tan an). tai nan shi: da qian wen hua chu ban : qi e tu shu zong dai li, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- cai tu ; 22 cm. 1, jiao yin--2, mo sheng ren--3, hui xiang. guo yu zhu yin. ke nan dao er yuan zhu ; fang qing, qiu jin li bian yi ; yan ting hua hui. // 3539. ———. lan bao shi an. 1st ed, (fu er mo si tan an). tai nan shi: da qian wen hua chu ban : qi e tu shu zong dai li, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- cai tu ; 22 cm. guo yu zhu yin. ke nan dao er yuan zhu ; fang qing, qiu jin li bian yi ; yan ting hua hui. // 3540. Dao Er Luo, Xiao-chuan, and Arthur Conan Doyle. zui hou yi an. 1st ed, (fu er mo si tan an ji). tai bei xian zhong he shi: da bu wen hua : zhao ri wen hua zong jing xiao, 2000.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- tu ; 21 cm. zhu zhe gai yi wei dao er. ya se. ke nan dao er yuan zhu ; luo xiao chuan bian yi. //
3541. Dao Er Tong, Yun Li Lin, and Arthur Conan Doyle. Fu chou tian shi. 1st ed, (Fu er mo si tan an quan ji). [Tai bei xian xin dian shi]: Ming tian wen hua chu ban : Ye qiang zong jing xiao, 2002.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- tu ; 22 cm. Guo yu zhu yin. Ke nan dao er zhu ; Tong yun yi ; Li lin cha tu. //
3542. ———. Lan bao shi zhi mi. 1st ed, (Fu er mo si tan an quan ji). Tai bei xian xin dian shi: Ming tian wen hua chu ban : Ye qiang zong jing xiao, 2002.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- tu ; 22 cm. Guo yu zhu yin. Ke nan dao er zhu ; Tong yun yi ; Li lin cha tu. //
3543. ———. Xie zi yan jiu. 1st ed, (Fu er mo si tan an quan ji). Tai bei xian xin dian shi: Ming tian wen hua chu ban : Ye qiang zong jing xiao, 2002.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- tu ; 22 cm. Guo yu zhu yin. Ke nan dao er zhu ; Tong yun yi ; Li lin cha tu. //
3544. Darak, Greg. "The Adventure of Holmes' Shortest Case." The Serpentine Muse 24, no. 1 (2007): 23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3545. ———. "A Delayed Retirement." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 50, no. 1 (2000): 26-30.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3546. ———. "Grit in a Sensitive Instrument." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 2 (1994): 98-107.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Some thoughts on Holmes' attitude toward the world of emotions, countering the stereotypical view of Holmes as a cold and rational machine.
3547. ———. "In Defense of Henry Baker's Hat." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 53, no. 4 (2003): 33-38.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3548. ———. "The Return and Retirement of Sherlock Holmes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 29, no. 3 (2009): 101-104.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3549. ———. "A Unique Record." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 28, no. 2 (2007): 57-59.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3550. ———. "Watson, Doyle and the American Civil War." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 24, no. 2 (1999): 51-53.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3551. Darby, Robert. "Captivity and Captivation: Gullivers in Brobdingnag." Eighteenth-Century Life 27, no. 3 (2004): 124-139.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews Linda Colley. Includes reference to Doyle. Arthur Conan Doyle. The Tragedy of the Korosko (1898; rep., London: Hesperus, 2003). Pp. 112. (paper). ISBN 184391039x "...It was the more popular works of lower or middlebrow culture that tended to embody the orientalist typecasting in its full colors--the novels of H. Rider Haggard or G. A. Henty, the ambiguous examples of Kipling, or Arthur Conan Doyle's oddly topical story, The Tragedy of the Korosko (1898), recently republished by a small English press. This is a most hackneyed and predictable adventure tale about a party of tourists on a Nile steamer who are kidnapped by "Dervishes" (the Islamic extremists of the 1890s)...."

3552. Darlay, V, Henry Joseph Auguste de Gorsse, Frank J Morlock, and Arnaud Demaegd. Arsène Lupin vs. Sherlock Holmes the stage play. Encino, CA: Black Coat Press, 2005.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // When Arsène Lupin was bold enough to steal the Sultan Diamond out from under the nose of the French Police, Sherlock Holmes announced he would not only recover the diamond but would arrest Lupin within the week. After the episode at Reichenbach Falls, Watson is closing the apartment at 221b. He is surprised by the appearance of Irene Adler, who reveals a dark side of Holmes that Watson never knew 3553. Darling, Donald. "Some Thoughts on The Hound of the Baskervilles." The Camden House Journal 27, no. 7 (2005): 2-7.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3554. Darlington, Frank. "And This Be Our Motto." Canadian Holmes 21, no. 4 (1998): 23.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3555. ———. "Arma Virumque Cano." Canadian Holmes 25, no. 1 (2001): 17-18.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3556. ———. "Bookshelf: The Sign of The Four." Canadian Holmes 17, no. 4 (1994): 30-31.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of "The Sign of the Four" from The Oxford Sherlock Holmes.

3557. ———. "Letter to the Editor, 'Troopship Orontes'." Canadian Holmes 18, no. 2 (1994): 34.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3558. ———. "The Problem of the Missing Datum." Canadian Holmes 26, no. 4 (2003): 13-16.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3559. Darlington, Frank, George A. Vanderburgh, Thelma Beam, Doug Wigglesworth, Bob Coghill, and Trevor S. Raymond. "Bookshelf" Reviews of Oxford's The Sign of the Four, The Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes, The Case Book of Sherlock Holmes, The Return of Sherlock Holmes, The Valley of Fear, His Last Bow and The Books of Michael Harrison. " Canadian Holmes 17, no. 4 (1994): 30-36.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3560. Daugherty, Mary Ellen. Sigerson at the pole. Santa Maria, CA: Scion of the Green Dragon, 1997.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3561. Davenport, Gary. "American noir fiction of three decades." Sewanee Review 107, no. 1 (1999): 126.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on the struggle for respectability of the genre of mystery, detective, and crime fiction particularly the darker sort that is classified as noir. Includes reference to Holmes. "...The genre--if indeed that is the appropriate term--of mystery, detective, and crime fiction presents an even greater problem; for, like pornography, it frankly sets out to produce a particular emotion in the reader rather than to elevate or transform him: Rilke's archaic statue of Apollo might command us to change our lives, but The Case-Book of Sherlock Holmes does not....The ratiocinative powers of a Holmes or Poirot are irrelevant in such a world....The fact that the author is able to enlist the reader on the psychotic Ripley's behalf subverts even more profoundly the Holmesian ideal of justice restored by reason. (I hasten to point out that I am by no means the first reader to feel thus enlisted.)..."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3562. ———. "Taking crime seriously." Sewanee Review 104, no. 3 (1996): 461.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on crime story books. Includes multiple references to Doyle and Holmes.
3563. Davey, Peter. "Back in the picture." Strad 110, no. 1315 (1999): 1188.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Offers a look at musical concertos for motion pictures in the United States. Overview of composers for American films with a focus on Miklos Rozsa. Includes a reference to Holmes and a photo of Wilder and Rozsa. "...When Hollywood director Billy Wilder first heard Rozsa's composition, he liked it so much he decided to construct a film around it. The result was The Private Life of Sherlock Holmes (1970). The composer remodelled his concerto to the needs of the film. The first movement pointed up the introspective character of the cocaine-addicted, violin-playing detective; the beautiful slow movement proved ideal for highlighting the relationship between Holmes and the spy Gabrielle; and the tense, dynamic third movement set the mood as the film moved towards its dramatic Loch Ness climax. Never short of inspiration, Rozsa then added a march - 'Elgarian' in spirit - to accompany the arrival of Queen Victoria at Balmoral. Finally, as if to put his personal stamp on it all, he makes an appearance in the film, conducting the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra in a performance of Swan Lake."
3564. David, Brett. "Scientists Elbow For Shot at Hubble Peep Show." The Plain Dealer (Cleveland, OH) 1994: 7E.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "Just like Sherlock Holmes, what we need is a big magnifying glass, and that is the Hubble telescope," said Duccio Macchetto, an astrophysicist who has been affiliated with the Hubble program since 1975...."
3565. David, Deirdre. "Gender, Race, and the Writing of Empire: Public Discourse and the Boer War (review)." Victorian Studies 45, no. 1 (2003): 163-165.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of Gender, Race, and the Writing of Empire: Public Discourse and the Boer War, by Paula Krebs; pp. xii + 205. Cambridge and New York: Cambridge University Press, 1999, GBP40.00, $60.00. Includes references to Doyle.
3566. David, Daniela. "Making tracks in the snow." The Evening Post (Wellington), March 4, 2002: 15.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "A winter train journey through Switzerland catches the alpine towns at their snowy best and avoids the crowds....Near the expanse of Lake Brienz is Meiringen, the next stop on the rail tour. British author Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, who created Sherlock Holmes, stayed many times at the old Parkhotel du Sauvage. He used the residence as the backdrop for his book The Final Problem. The death of Sherlock Holmes' arch enemy, Moriarty, takes place at the Reichenbach Waterfalls...."
3567. David, Grainger. "Clueing In Investors." Fortune 146, no. 13 (2002): 186-186.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents an interview with Robert Hagstrom and his view of the stock market according to mystery fiction, with details of his book, "The Detective and the Investor." Includes references Holmes. "...Sherlock Holmes is the most well known and popular of the detectives. He had attributes that were identified--hold on [rustles around his office]--on page 206. He is very objective and has an unemotional viewpoint. He pays attention to detail. Finally--and this is hard for investors--he remains open to new or contrary information....There are rules of fair disclosure in investing too. With Enron, I'm not sure that even Holmes could have figured it out."
3568. Davidson, Avram. The other nineteenth century. New York : Tor; Godalming : Melia, 2003.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 21 cm. //
3569. Davidson, Avram, Grania Davis, and Henry Wessells. The other nineteenth century : a story collection. 1st ed. New York: TOR, 2001.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 22 cm. "A Tom Doherty Associates book." Edited by Grania Davis and Henry Wessells. Scuttlebutt Jan 2002. // "Contents include 'The Singular Incident of the Dog on the Beach' (reprinted from Alfred Hitchcock's Mystery Magazine, Dec. 1986)."

3570. Davidson, A., and I. Filatova. "Russian Sources on the Anglo-Boer War." S.A.Archives Journal 41, no. (1999): 56.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses Russian sources on the Anglo-Boer War or the South African War of 1899-1902. Includes reference to Doyle's 'The Great Boer War.'
3571. Davies, Bernard. "The Memoirs of an Occasional Mummer: Dramatic Moments in the Society's History." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 25, no. 2 (2001): 59-61.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3572. ———. "Mycroft Country." The Musgrave Papers, no. 12 (1999): 78-88.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3573. ———. "Nourishing Marylebone Jelly." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 22, no. 2 (1995): 10-12.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3574. ———. "Obituary: Frank Allen." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 23, no. 4 (1998): 143-144.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3575. ———. "Wigmore Street Postbag, Rail Correction." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 22, no. 3 (1995): 104.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3576. Davies, Catriona. "Mysterious death of Holmes expert." The Daily Telegraph (London), Apr 24, 2004: 13.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Mr [Richard Lancelyn Green]'s friend Nicholas Rathbone Utechin, a relative of the Sherlock Holmes actor Basil Rathbone, said his death had revived rumours of 'the curse of [Arthur Conan Doyle]', that several people associated with the late author have suffered breakdowns or untimely deaths."
3577. ———. "Sherlock Holmes heritage threatened by homes plan." The Daily Telegraph (London), July 6, 2006: 5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Article discusses the attempt of the Victorian Society, by application to English Heritage, to have Doyle's house, Undershaw, in Hindhead, Surrey listed as Grade I in response to a planning application to break up Undershaw into several smaller homes.
3578. ———. "Sherlock Holmes heritage threatened by homes plan." The Daily Telegraph (London), July 6, 2006: 5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Developers and conservationists are in dispute over plans to convert Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's Surrey house, where he wrote The Hound of the Baskervilles and The Return of Sherlock Holmes, into four homes. Campaigners say that the unique history of Undershaw, built at Hindhead in 1897, is under threat if permission is granted to divide it...."
3579. Davies, David Stuart. "The Adventure of the Spotted Dick." The Musgrave Papers, no. 10 (1997): 91-99.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3580. ———. "The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes--Another stab at them!" The Ritual, no. 18 (1996): 3-10.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3581. ———. "Air Commander Dame Jean Conan Doyle DBE Lady Bromet." The Ritual, no. 20 (1997): Insert, 3 pages.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3582. ———. Bending the willow Jeremy Brett as Sherlock Holmes. Penryffordd, Chester: Calabash Press, 1996.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Mar 1997 // "A splendid tribute to the actor and to the Granada series and the people who worked on it; there are many grand stories about how the series was conceived and brought to the screen, about problems and resolutions, about successes and occasional failures, all told by an author who is a fine writer and who talked often with those who worked on the series."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3583. ———. Bending the willow Jeremy Brett as Sherlock Holmes. Rev. ed. Ashcroft, British Columbia: Calabash Press, 2002.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references and index; Scuttlebutt Mar 1997 // "A splendid tribute to the actor and to the Granada series and the people who worked on it; there are many grand stories about how the series was conceived and brought to the screen, about problems and resolutions, about successes and occasional failures, all told by an author who is a fine writer and who talked often with those who worked on the series."
3584. ———. "A Case of Infidelity: Exposing 'A Case of Identity'." The Musgrave Papers, no. 9 (1996): 18-21.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3585. ———. "Conan Doyle and the Actors." The Ritual, no. 16 (1995): 46-50.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3586. ———. "DSD has...The Last Word." The Musgrave Papers, no. 12 (1999): 124.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3587. ———. "'The Final Problem': Time With Watson." The Musgrave Papers, no. 11 (1998): 103-107.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3588. ———. "Goodbye to all this." The Musgrave Papers, no. 13 (2000): 119-120.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3589. ———. "His Last Bow: Peter Cushing OBE." The Musgrave Papers, no. 7 (1994): 124-126.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3590. ———. "It's Goodbye From Me & It's Goodbye From Her." The Musgrave Papers, no. 11 (1998): 139.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3591. ———. "Keeping up appearances: an investigation into Sherlock Holmes' use of disguise." The Musgrave Papers, no. 7 (1994): 49-60.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3592. ———. "The Missing Three-Quarter: Mining the Incidentals." The Musgrave Papers, no. 13 (2000): 97-99.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3593. ———. "Murder Rooms." The Ritual, no. 25 (2000): 65-68.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3594. ———, ed. Musgrave Papers. Huddersfield, England: The Northern Musgraves, 1987-.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3595. ———. "Obituary: Peter Cushing 1913-1994." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 22, no. 1 (1994): 30.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3596. ———. "Review--A Sound Achievement: a consideration of Radio Four's Sherlock Holmes series." The Ritual, no. 15 (1995): 40-44.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3597. ———. "Review--'Anno Dracula' by Kim Newman." The Ritual, no. 11 (1993): 51.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3598. ———. "Review--'Conan Doyle' by Michael Coren." The Ritual, no. 17 (1996): 75-76.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3599. ———. "Review--Douglas Wilmer, A Vintage Holmes." The Ritual, no. 14 (1994): 49-50.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3600. ———. "Review--'Nightmare: the Birth of Horror' by Christopher Frayling." The Ritual, no. 19 (1997): 66.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3601. ———. "Review--Penguin Audio Tapes: 'Four Great Adventures of Sherlock Holmes' read by Douglas Wilmer, 'The Hound of the Baskervilles' read by Freddie Jones." The Musgrave Papers, no. 8 (1995): 107.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3602. ———. "Review--'Peter Cushing: The Gentle Man of Horror and His 91 Films' by Deborah Del Vecchio and Tom Johnson." The Ritual, no. 12 (1993): 39.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3603. ———. "Review--'Sherlock Holmes, The Speckled Band and The Illustrious Client' BBC Video." The Musgrave Papers, no. 9 (1996): 132-133.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3604. ———. "Review--Sotheby's Auction, The Stanley MacKenzie Collection." The Musgrave Papers, no. 8 (1995): 212.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3605. ———. "Review--'The Blood-Stone Tragedy' by Arthur Conan Doyle, edited by Christopher and Barbara Roden." The Musgrave Papers, no. 8 (1995): 117.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3606. ———. "Review--'The Folio Society Sherlock Holmes Short Stories'." The Musgrave Papers, no. 6 (1993): 113-114.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3607. ———. "Review--'The Oxford Sherlock Holmes: The Hound of the Baskervilles,' edited with an introduction by W. W. Robson." The Ritual, no. 12 (1993): 55-56.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3608. ———. "Review--'The Return of Sherlock Holmes,' a play by J. E. Harold Terry and Arthur Rose." The Ritual, no. 13 (1994): 48-49.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3609. ———. "Review--The Return of Sherlock Holmes, BBC Radio Four." The Ritual, no. 11 (1993): 28-31.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3610. ———. "Review--'The Secret Journals of Sherlock Holmes' by June Thomson." The Musgrave Papers, no. 6 (1993): 110.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3611. ———. "Review--'The Sherlock Holmes Handbook' by Christopher Redmond." The Ritual, no. 13 (1994): 44-45.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3612. ———. "Review--'The Sherlock Holmes Video,' Countryside TV Productions." The Ritual, no. 15 (1995): 57.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3613. ———. "Review--'The Worth of the Game' by David L. Hammer." The Musgrave Papers, no. 6 (1993): 108.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3614. ———. The scroll of the dead: a Sherlock Holmes adventure. Ashcroft, B.C.: Calabash Press, 1998.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The pastiche is a nicely-plotted mystery that has Holmes and Watson involved in pursuing and thwarting a villain who hopes to find the secret of immortality."
3615. ———. The shadow of the rat: a Sherlock Holmes adventure. Ashcroft, British Columbia: Calabash Press, 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3616. ———. Shadows of Sherlock Holmes. Ware: Wordworth Classics, 1998.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 20 cm. Purloined letter / Edgar Allan Poe -- Biter Bit / Wilkie Collins -- Stolen cigar-case / Brett Harte -- Princess's vengeance / C.L. Pirkis -- Absent-minded coterie / Robert Barr -- Swedish match / Anton Chekhov -- Secrets of the black brotherhood / Dick Donovan -- Episode of the diamond links / Grant Allen -- Clever capture / Guy Clifford -- Nine points of the law / E.W. Hornung -- Stir outside the Café Royal / Clarence Rook -- Duchess of Wiltshire's diamonds / Guy Boothby -- Problem of Dressing Room A / Jacques Futrelle -- Hundred-thousand-dollar robbery / Hesketh Prichard -- Surrey cattle-maiming mystery / Herbert Jenkins -- Ghost at Massingham Mansions / Ernest Bramah -- Sexton Blake and the time-killer / Anonymous -- One possessed / E.W. Hornung -- Great pearl mystery / Baroness Orczy. // "Anthology of 19 stories written by Conan Doyle's predecessors and successors, from Edgar Allan Poe and Wilkie Collins to E. W. Hornung and Baroness Orczy, selected by David Stuart Davies, who also contributed a perceptive introduction."
3617. ———. "Sherlock Holmes and the Pursuit of Knowledge." Shoso-In Bulletin 3, no. (1993): 68-71.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3618. ———. Sherlock Holmes and the Reichenbach secret. Huddersfield: Thumbprints, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. //
3619. ———. "Sherlock Holmes and the Reichenbach Secret." Sherlock Holmes - The Detective Magazine, no. 46 (2001): 21-27.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3620. ———. Sherlock Holmes, the last act. Ashcroft, British Columbia: Calabash Press, 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3621. ———. "Shooting Sherlock on location for the filming of Granada's version of 'The Three Gables'." The Ritual, no. 12 (1993): 13-18.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3622. ———. Starring Sherlock Holmes. 1st ed. London: Titan, 2001.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references. Scuttlebutt Aug 2001. // "The coverage runs from the earliest silent films to the latest television films starring Matt Frewer, and the discussion of films and programs, and actors and directors and producers, is both interesting and perceptive; the illustrations are just as important, and the book is full of them, many in full color and some of them quite hard to find (you will be able to see Jackie Coogan towering over Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, in Hollywood in 1923) (well, Coogan is standing on a table). There's an extra benefit for those who can't decide between Basil Rathbone and Jeremy Brett as the ideal Holmes: the publisher has provided a 'Janus' dust jacket, and you can decide for yourself which actor belongs on the front of the book."
3623. ———. Starring Sherlock Holmes. Rev. ed. London: Titan, 2007.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. (some col.) ; 30 cm. Previous ed.: 2001. Includes bibliographical references. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3624. ———. "Suspense in The Hound of the Baskervilles." The Ritual, no. 15 (1995): 3-7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3625. ———. The tangled skein. Long Preston: Dales, 2000.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3626. ———. The tangled skein. 1st paperback ed. Ashcroft, BC: Calabash, 1998.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- foreword by Peter Cushing //
3627. ———. The tangled skein. Penryffordd, Chester: Calabash, 1995.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- foreword by Peter Cushing //
3628. ———. The tangled skein. Toronto: Metropolitan Toronto Reference Library, 1995.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3629. ———. The tangled skein. Ware: Wordsworth Editions, 2006.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- foreword by Peter Cushing //
3630. ———. "'The Television Sherlock Holmes' by Peter Haining." The Ritual, no. 13 (1994): 52.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3631. ———. "Ten Years of Musgravia." The Musgrave Papers, no. 8 (1995): 16-21.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3632. ———. "The Toasts of New York: The BSI Celebrations, January 1994." The Ritual, no. 13 (1994): 32-36.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3633. ———. The veiled detective. London: Robert Hale, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // In 1880, a young Sherlock Holmes arrived in London to create his career. His successes were noted by a criminal mastermind, James Moriarty, who began a duel with young Holmes--a duel that played out at Reichenbach Falls, but not quite in the way Watson first reported it to the world
3634. Davies, David Stuart, Paul M. Chapman, and Kathryn White. "Pastiche or Not Pastiche--that is the question." The Ritual, no. 18 (1996): 16-26.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3635. Davies, David Stuart, and Roger Johnson. "Stanley Mackenzie 1913-1995." The Musgrave Papers, no. 8 (1995): 125-126.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3636. Davies, David Stuart, Roger Llewellyn, Gareth Armstrong, Jay Productions, and Salisbury Playhouse. Sherlock Holmes the last act! : [program]. Ashcroft, B.C.?: Jay Productions in association with Salisbury Playhouse, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3637. Davies, David Stuart, and Kathryn White. The final spooking, (The annals of Skelington Bones spook detective). S.l.: Thumbprints, 1998.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3638. ———. "'Port and Lemon' by John Cargill Thompson." The Ritual, no. 14 (1994): 53.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3639. Davies, Hunter. "And it's a 3-3 draw." New Statesman 127, no. 4390 (1998): 48.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews various soccer (football to everyone outside the U.S.) books including 'Flat Back Four,' by Andy Gray, 'The Beautiful Team,' by Garry Jenner and 'The Beautiful Game,' by Chis Taylor. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...It was when I got to Francis Hodgson that it became unexpectedly exciting. He is some sort of art lecturer but happens to play park football as a goalkeeper, which has inspired him to take us through the history of goalkeeping and atone for all the put-downs and dismissals goalies have had to suffer. Oh you know, you have to be daft to be a goalie, that sort of thing. You just have to think of the Pope, Basil Hume, Nabokov, Camus, Alistair Cooke, Conan Doyle, Julio Iglesias, all goalies in their time, to realise they're not all stupid. Not sure about Julio...."

3640. Davies, Ioan. "Theorizing Toronto!" Topia, no. (2000): 23p.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses the existence of Toronto as a cultural unit in Ontario. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...Robertson Davies's bourgeoisie are the British in disguise, those ghostly echoes on paper who pull Toronto back to the BBC, PBS, and Conan Doyle (draped in the pseudo-psychology of Jung)...."

3641. Davies, Martin. Mrs. Hudson and the spirits' curse. New York: Berkley Prime Crime, 2004.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2004054425 // "Mrs. Hudson takes an interest in one of Holmes' cases, and with Flottie, the orphan girl in her care, is determined to solve the mystery."

3642. Davies, Robertson. The manticore, (Penguin classics). New York: Penguin Books, 2006.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 20 cm. Sequel to: Fifth business. Sequel: World of wonders. Includes bibliographical references (p. xxi-xxii). Introduction by Michael Dirda. //

3643. Davies, Richard T. "The CIA and the Polish Crisis of 1980-1981." Journal of Cold War Studies 6, no. 3 (2004): 120-123.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews Douglas J. MacEachin, U.S. Intelligence and the Confrontation in Poland, 1980-81. University Park: Pennsylvania State University Press, 2002. 256 pp. $45.00. Includes a passing reference to Doyle and Holmes. "...In Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's story 'Silver Blaze,' about a case solved by Sherlock Holmes, one of the principal clues is 'the curious incident of the dog in the night-time.' The tip-off was that a watchdog 'did nothing in the night-time' when it could have been expected to bark and alert the staff of a racing stable as a prize racehorse was stolen. This image of a dog that failed to bark resurfaced in 1981 when, as MacEachin writes, 'for more than six weeks prior to the imposition of martial law, the U.S. government had been notably silent on all aspects relating to a possible military crackdown in Poland' (p.211)...."

3644. Davies, Thomas Y. "Recovering the Original Fourth Amendment." Michigan law review 98, no. 3 (1999): 547.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses the provisions of the original Fourth Amendment law in the United States. Reference made to Doyle and Holmes in note 105: "People rarely write down what they do not think; hence, unexpected silences in historical statements indicate aspects of contemporary thought without analogs in historical thought. One can learn a good deal about what the Framers did not think about search and seizure by tracing modern concepts backwards in time -- and finding they sometimes disappear from the historical record. Of course, the classic statement on significant silences comes from Sherlock Holmes, who perceived that the theft of a horse must have been an "inside job" because the stable watchdog had not barked the night the horse was taken. See Arthur Conan Doyle, "Silver Blaze," in Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes 1, 27 (1930). Dogs that do not bark in the night are essential guides to the past."

3645. Davis, Alan. "Road Trips." Hudson Review 58, no. 2 (2005): 344-351.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Critiques several novels including 'The Final Solution,' by Michael Chabon. Includes reference to Holmes.

3646. Davis, August Jordan. "Suspect (Alphabet City Magazine No. 10) by John Knechtel (Ed.)." Art Book 13, no. 4 (2006): 41-42.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "Suspect (Alphabet City Magazine No. 10)," edited by John Knechtel. Includes a reference to Doyle. "...Mark Kingwell's 'Who is the suspect?' is a well-considered

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

investigation of the structural logic of the detective novel, e.g. Conan Doyle and Chandler, and of narrative itself, exploring its philosophical assumptions and Freudian operations...."

3647. Davis, Brian. "Wigmore Street Postbag, More Coding." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 27, no. 1 (2004): 44.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3648. Davis, Colin. "Psychoanalysis, Detection, and Fiction: Julia Kristeva's Detective Novels." Sites: Journal of the Twentieth-Century/Contemporary French Studies 6, no. 2 (2002): 294.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Provides a critical analysis on the detective novels written by Julia Kristeva with a passing reference to Holmes.
3649. Davis, J. Madison. "The 10 Greatest Crime Novels of All Time?" World Literature Today 80, no. 1 (2006): 6-8.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Offers information on several crime novels with reference to Doyle and Holmes.
3650. ———. "It's Over When the Soprano Eats Onion Rings." World Literature Today 82, no. 1 (2008): 9-11.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The author focuses on the last episode of the television program "The Sopranos." Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Harry Potter was widely rumored for much of the year to be doomed in the final novel of the series in order to prevent anyone from reviving the character. (Evidently, rumormongers were unfamiliar with the resurrections of Sherlock Holmes, Bobby Ewing, and even Superman, who was killed and brought back in 1993.)..."
3651. ———. "Mix and Match: Michael Chabon's Imaginative Use of Genre." World Literature Today 82, no. 6 (2008): 9-11.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A literary criticism of the book "The Yiddish Policemen's Union," by Michael Chabon is presented. The author comments on how Chabon writes novels that present variations on popular genres. The author discusses how the book combines elements and archetypes of mystery novels with an alternate history and comments on surreal elements of the book's plot.
3652. ———. "Thoughts on a New Grandmaster." World Literature Today 81, no. 3 (2007): 16-19.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reports on fiction author Stephen King's reception of the National Book Award's "Distinguished Contribution to American Letters" award and the Mystery Writers of America's "Grandmaster" award. The article also discusses King's lack of respect as a writer, the nature of mystery writing, and several of King's books. Includes references to Doyle and Holmes.
3653. Davis, Mary Hay. "A Treasure Hunt, the High-Tech Way." Christian Science Monitor, 7/16, 2007: 18.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Sherlock Holmes would no doubt have excelled at geocaching. I can image him--GPS in hand--scouring the moors around the Baskerville estate in search of an elusive clue-in-a-cache...."
3654. Davis, Norman. "A Letter to the Editor." The Serpentine Muse 18, no. 2 (2002): 6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3655. Dawes, Steve. "Pioneer of television design Obituary: Michael Grimes." The Guardian (Manchester), Dec 17, 1994: NOPGCIT.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Mike is said to have invented the job on a succession of live entertainment shows. He went on to produce his richest work in the sixties and seventies during his association with Peter Eckersley, producer and head of drama at Granada. This led on to Maupassant, The Nearly Man, A Family At War, dozens of episodes of Country Matters and films directed by the likes of Michael Apted, Ken Russell and Mike Newell.; The least pretentious of men, he was impatient only with pretentiousness and prevarication. His generosity was tempered by abhorrence of self-appointed prefects - and a sometimes wicked sense of humour. He would deliver verdicts on the mighty with apparent innocuous finality. 'Yes I remember him,' he said quietly of someone of para-executive importance in the BBC, currently an ITV baron. 'Was a trainee in the sixties. Nice man. Not a scintilla of talent.'; When he left Granada in 1989 it was to go to France to work with directors like Claude Goretta and Jose Pinhero and to recreate Maigret for French television. [Mike Grimes]

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

took the French back to the France of the early fifties, detail by detail. They loved it. He bore his illness with typical fortitude and humour."

3656. Dawson, Carrie. "The Slaughterman of Wagga Wagga': Imposture, National Identity, and the Tichborne Affair." Australian Literary Studies 21, no. 4 (2004): 1-13.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Cited works include a reference to Doyle. Jaffe, Audrey. 'Detecting the Beggar: Arthur Conan Doyle, Henry Mayhew, and "The Man with the Twisted Lip".' Representations 31 (1990): 96-116.
3657. Day, Barry. Sherlock Holmes and the Alice in Wonderland murders. London: Oberon Books, 1998.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. // Holmes and Watson encounter American newspaper boss, John Moxton, whose yellow press, The Clarion, is beginning to threaten and undermine political stability in Victorian England. At the same time, public figures are humiliated and then murdered, each incident having a parallel in "Alice in Wonderland", and each time The Clarion is conveniently on hand. Holmes and Watson race against time to discover Moxton's master plan and thwart him.
3658. ———. Sherlock Holmes and the apocalypse murders, (Sherlock Holmes "Murders" series). [Palm Beach]: Second Opinion, Inc, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Sep 2001. // "The fourth in his series of pastiches; Holmes (and Watson and Mycroft and Irene) are involved in a battle against a serial killer who intends to destroy London."
3659. ———. Sherlock Holmes and the Shakespeare Globe murders. London: Oberon, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 18 cm. //
3660. ———. Sherlock Holmes in his own words and in the words of those who knew him. Lanham Md.: Taylor Trade Pub, 2003.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2002154598 // "An interesting literary biography, based on quotations from the Canon, with commentary by Day and illustrations from The Strand Magazine, and it's an excellent introduction to the Canon (and to some of its more important other characters)."
3661. Day, Barry, and Andrzej Klimowski. Sherlock Homes and the copycat murders. S.L.: Second Opinion, Inc, 2000.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3662. ———. Sherlock Homes and the seven deadly sins murders. S.L.: Second Opinion, Inc, 2002.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3663. Day, Elizabeth. "Case of the Sherlock Holmes fanatic 'who killed himself but made it look like murder'." Sunday Telegraph (London), December 12, 2004: 05.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "A leading authority on Sherlock Holmes took his own life in a way meant to suggest that a rival had murdered him, it is claimed. Richard Lancelyn Green, 50, a prolific author and collector of memorabilia relating to the fictional detective, was found garotted on his bed by police in March after trying to stop a pounds 2million auction of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's papers. Although the coroner returned an open verdict, friends and relatives of Mr Lancelyn Green now claim that the evidence suggests he took his own life in a manner that would implicate an American rival...."
3664. ———. "Case of the Sherlock Holmes fanatic 'who killed himself but made it look like murder'." The Sunday Telegraph (London), Dec 12, 2004: 05.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "In an interview with The New Yorker magazine, James Gibson, who co-edited the first comprehensive Conan Doyle bibliography with Mr [Richard Lancelyn Green] in 1983, concludes that his colleague had 'wanted [his death] to look like murder', and that he had set up a trail of 'false clues'. Mr Lancelyn Green's body was found in his flat in Kensington, west London, on March 27 with a shoelace tied round his neck and a wooden spoon, which had been used to tighten the noose, still entangled in the cord. In the weeks leading up to his death, Mr Lancelyn Green had expressed concern that a forthcoming auction of Conan Doyle's papers at Christie's, consisted mostly of items that the author's daughter, Dame Jean Conan

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Doyle, had left as a bequest to the British Library. Mr Lancelyn Green, a former chairman of the Sherlock Holmes Society, wanted access to the papers to research a biography of Conan Doyle. The puzzle of the answering machine message was solved by Mr Lancelyn Green's sister, who said that the machine had been made in America and had a built-in automated message. When her brother took off his message, a pre-recorded American voice answered all calls. The three telephone numbers proved to be unimportant. Two of them were reporters Mr Lancelyn Green spoke to and the other was someone at Christie's. If the theory is proved correct, Mr Lancelyn Green's death would echo the plot of one of the last Sherlock Holmes mysteries, The Problem of Thor Bridge (1922), in which a wife is found lying dead on a bridge, shot in the head at point-blank range. All the evidence points to the governess with whom the husband had been flirting but [Holmes] shows that she had killed herself to frame her rival."

3665. de Freitas, Leo. "The art of the illustrated book: the illustration of contemporary adult fiction." Journal, The, no. 12 (2002): 15-19.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The author charts the decline in the illustration of adult fiction from the 1830s to the present day. The heyday for adult fiction illustration is generally acknowledged to be the middle of the nineteenth century - the author cites as examples the illustration of books written by Charles Dickens, William Makepeace Thackeray, Anthony Trollope and George Du Maurier - however, with the exception of the illustration of Conan Doyle's Sherlock Holmes stories by Sydney Paget in the 1890s, the inclusion of illustrations in adult fiction is the exception rather than the rule. The exceptions he cites include William Kermode's cut illustrations to 'The Patriot's Progress' (1930), John Farleigh's illustrations to George Bernard Shaw's 'Black Girl in Search of God' (1932), McKnight Kauffer's interpretation of W.H. Hudson's 'Green Mansions' (1944), Edward Bawden's 'Death and the Dreamer' (1944), Anthony Gross's illustrations for 'The Forsyte Saga' (1950), Peter Blake's illustrations for 'The Sun on the Water' (1969), Ralph Steadman's accompaniments to J. Hunter Thompson's book 'Fear and Loathing' (1972), Brad Holland's illustrations for 'The Geek' (1976), Ian Pollock's 'Brothers of the Head' (1977), Marshall Arisman's illustrations for 'Dr Marr' (1990), Andrew Davidson's illustrations for Ted Hughes' 'The Iron Woman' (1993). The reasons for the shift away from illustration in the twentieth century are explored at length in the article. He notes that, while recently there have been interesting examples of the marriage of illustration and adult fiction, not all attempts to have been successful. [An edited version of a paper read at the Victoria & Albert study day, 10 February 2001]

3666. de la Torre, J. C. "Alzheimer's disease: How does it start?" Journal of Alzheimer's Disease 4, no. 6 (2002): 497.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Doyle and Holmes. "...What is 'smoking gun' evidence? It is a term we will borrow from Arthur Conan Doyle's usage in a Sherlock Holmes story, and more recently, from American political 'speak', meaning, evidence that is hard to refute...."

3667. de Lint, Charles. "Books to look for." Fantasy & Science Fiction 88, no. 4 (1995): 34.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Recommends several books including 'Lady Cottington's Pressed Fairy Book,' by Brian Froud and Terry Jones. Includes reference to Doyle. "...he text begins with an entry dated July 6th, 1895, when the child Lady Cottington was could barely string words together into a sentence, little say spell them, through to December 1912 when the faeries have disappeared from her life. At once poking fun at Froud's earlier work, the faerie photographs "authenticated" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle in the early part of this century (a premise wonderfully explored in Steve Szilahyi's 1992 novel Photographing Fairies), and perhaps even Edith Holden's The Country Diary of an Edwardian Lady, in the end, the text proves to have more resonance than buffoonery."

3668. ———. "Books to look for." Fantasy & Science Fiction 87, no. 1 (1994): 36.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the books 'The Gift of Story,' by Clarissa Pinkola Estes, 'Unconquered Countries,' by Geoff Ryman and 'The Willows in Winter,' by William Horwood. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...The book Horwood has written is diverting, but ultimately unsatisfying. As is usually the case, readers who wish to spend more time with favorite characters, be they animals from The Wind in the Willows, Sherlock Holmes, or Robert E. Howard's various creations, are always better off returning to the original work and rereading it...."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3669. De Pina Cabral, Maria João Cardoso. "John Von Neumann's Contribution to Economic Science." International Social Science Review 78, no. 3/4 (2003): 126-137.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article explores the contribution of economist Jon von Neumann to economic science. Includes a reference to Holmes in both note and text. The text reads: "...In the early stages of his career, Morgenstern was a typical fourth generation Austrian economist. His work focused on business cycles and methodological critique. He was particularly interested in such issues as the relationship of time and foresight to general equilibrium theory. Morgenstern's interest in logic led to a presentation of the Holmes/Moriarty problem at Karl Menger's Mathematical Colloquium...." The note (number 51) reads: "The Holmes-Moriarty game, which is included in TGEB, can be described as follows: Sherlock Holmes, the famous London detective, is being pursued by his nemesis, the evil genius, James Moriarty. Holmes leaves London's Victoria Station on a train to Dover. The train has one stopover at Canterbury. Holmes saw Moriarty at the train station intending to leave on the same train. From Moriarty's behavior, Holmes is convinced that Moriarty knows that he will be on the train to Dover. Once aboard the train, each of the protagonists has two alternatives: to get off at Canterbury or to continue to Dover. If they choose different stations, Holmes wins since he gets away with his life, otherwise Moriarty wins. The problem is how should Holmes play the game? The solution to the Holmes-Moriarty game is an infinite regress of prediction, reaction, and revised prediction from which there is no escape (you know that I know that you know that I know...)."
3670. De Vita, Sharon. Sherlock's home, (Silhouette romance). New York: Silhouette Books, 1988.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2001573680 //
3671. De Waal, Ronald B. "Acceptance Speech in Absentia." Canadian Holmes 18, no. 3 (1995): 31.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3672. ———. "Days and Thoughts in the Life of Mr. Ron. A Bibliography of Published and Unpublished Writings." Shoso-In Bulletin 10, no. (2000): 35-43.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3673. ———. "Days and Thoughts in the Life of Mr. Ron. A Weekend With the Baker Street Irregulars January 13-16, 2000." Shoso-In Bulletin 10, no. (2000): 191-195.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3674. ———. "Pages From the Journal of Ron De Waal Holmes, Watson and de Waal." Shoso-In Bulletin 14, no. (2004): 54-55.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3675. ———. "Pages From the Journal of Ron De Waal. Collecting and Writing About Sherlock Holmes." Shoso-In Bulletin 14, no. (2004): 19-20.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3676. ———. "Pages from the Journal of Ronald B. De Waal. Peter E. Blau in Town for Geology and Sherlock Holmes Meetings May 12-14, 2003." Shoso-In Bulletin 13, no. (2003): 98-99, 118.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3677. ———. "Tribute to the Master Collector John Bennett Shaw, 1914-1994." Shoso-In Bulletin 5, no. (1995): 6.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3678. De Waal, Ronald Burt, and George A. Vanderburgh. The universal Sherlock Holmes. Toronto, Ont., Shelburne, Ont., Canada: Metropolitan Toronto Reference Library. G.A. Vanderburgh, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 95118755 //
3679. De Waal, Ronald Burt, George A. Vanderburgh, and Timothy J. Johnson. "The universal Sherlock Holmes." Minneapolis: University of Minnesota Libraries, 1999.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The Universal Sherlock Holmes web version is based on the Universal Sherlock Holmes (1994), the third in a series of bibliographies documenting the world of Sherlock Holmes by Ronald Burt De Waal, and is intended as a reference tool for those interested in the Sherlock Holmes Collections at the University of Minnesota

3680. De Wyze, Virginia. "Classroom Critters." Teaching PreK-8 29, no. 7 (1999): 48.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses critter activities for the middle grades through junior high students. Includes references to Holmes. "...Critters I have met include Dracula, Sherlock Holmes, Batman and other super-heroes, cartoon characters from Bugs Bunny to the Roadrunner and the Peanuts gang, spacemen, power rangers, rock stars and numerous sports figures....Sherlock Holmes wrote to Watson telling him that his vacation landed him right in the middle of a missing person's case...."
3681. Deacon, Theodore, and William Dunlop. "The Case of the Downloaded Diva." Opera News 68, no. 4 (2003): 46-48.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents an excerpt from the book "The Case of the Downloaded Diva," by John H. Watson. "A hitherto unpublished fragment from the memoirs of John H. Watson, M.D. Transcribed by Theodore Deacon and William Dunlop, with the generous assistance of Brian Bailey."
3682. Deak, Jon, A. A. Milne, Arthur Conan Doyle, and D. H. Lawrence. Musical Fantasies. Baton Rouge, LA: Centaur, 1996. Sound Recording 1 sound disc.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Instrumental works with spoken texts taken from literary works; the 1st work for viola, double bass, piano; the 2nd for double bass; the 3rd for violin, viola, cello, double bass, piano. Text of the 1st work by A.A. Milne; text of the 2nd work by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle; text of the 3rd work by D.H. Lawrence. Compact disc. Program notes by composer and texts inserted in container. Participants: Apple Hill Chamber Players. The 1st work recorded at Congregation Ahavas Achim in Keene, N.H., Dec. 11-12, 1991 and Mar. 26, 1992; the 2nd work recorded at Sound Design, Brattleboro, Vt., Nov. 1986; the 3rd work at Congregation Ahavas Achim in Keene, N.H., Jan. 13, 1992. Jon Deak. // Eeyore has a birthday : chapter 6 of Winnie the Pooh (21:51) -- The adventures of Sherlock Holmes (16:44) -- Lady Chatterly's dream (14:42).
3683. Dean, Christopher. "The Joint Meeting With the Dorothy L. Sayers Society." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 22, no. 2 (1995): 22.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3684. Dean, Nancy Minogue. "Toast to Watson." The Serpentine Muse 20, no. 4 (2004): inside rear cover.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3685. Dean, Tacita. "W.G. Sebald." October, no. (2003): 15p.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Deals with an article written by German author W. G. Sebald about the life of German envoy Roger Casement during World War I. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...Any pleas for clemency, which came from many quarters in Britain and America because of his distinguished career, were dissipated by the circulation of the so-called Black Diaries, an alternative journal he wrote alongside his public White Diaries that graphically documented a hitherto unimagined homosexuality. Copies were sent to the Archbishop of Canterbury and Arthur Conan Doyle, among others, and were also used to discredit him in the Congo and quash any likely uprising there if he were executed...."
3686. DeAndrea, William L, Juha Lindroos, and Jane Haddam. Murder--all kinds. 1st ed, (Crippen & Landru lost classics). Norfolk, Va: Crippen & Landru Publishers, 2003.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2005272293. Contents: (Matt Cobb, special projects) Snowy reception -- Killed top to bottom -- Killed in midstream -- Killed in good company -- (Other stories) Hero's welcome -- Sabotage -- A friend of mine -- The adventure of the cripple parade -- The adventure of the Christmas tree -- Prince Charming -- Murder at the end of the world. Includes bibliographical references (p. 208) //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3687. DeAngelo, Carol. "Adult books for young adults: Fiction." School Library Journal 44, no. 6 (1998): 175.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'Time Machines: The Best Time Travel Stories Ever Written,' edited by Bill Adler. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "Even readers who generally avoid science fiction can find something enjoyable in this anthology. The 22 stories represent a wide range of authors and time periods. Edgar Allan Poe, Rudyard Kipling, Issac Asimov, Rod Serling, Ray Bradbury, Connie Willis, and Robert Sawyer are among the writers included. The quality of the stories is exceptional; each tale is a thought-provoking experience. From the transportation of Sherlock Holmes to the 21st century to solve an enigma, to a time traveler who refuses to die, to a graduate history student doing his practicum in World War II London, all of the stories are readable, enjoyable, and stimulating...."
3688. ———. "Adult books for young adults: Fiction." School Library Journal 43, no. 12 (1997): 152.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'A Crime in the Neighborhood,' by Suzanne Berne. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "In the summer of 1972, a suburban neighborhood of Washington, DC, is rocked by the molestation and murder of a 12-year-old boy. Marsha Eberhardt, then 10, begins to gather clues and information. Told by the adult Marsha, the story uncannily depicts the reasoning and thought processes of a vulnerable and confused girl. As the nation sifts through the Watergate disillusionment and Spring Hill tries to deal with the gruesome murder, Marsha is trying to accept the fact that her father has deserted the family for her mother's youngest sister. Struck by the observational powers of Sherlock Holmes, Marsha decides she will begin recording facts, observations, and clues about her family and neighborhood...."
3689. DeChancie, John. From Prussia with love: a Castle Falkenstein novel. Rocklin, Calif.: Prima Pub, 1996.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 94080150; Scuttlebutt Apr 1996 // "A spin-off from the Castle Falkenstein role-playing game created by R. Talsorian Games. The game and the novel are set in a magical Victorian alternate universe that includes fairies, dwarves, steam engines, and dragons, and Prof. Moriarty makes a brief but villainous appearance in the novel."
3690. ———. Masterminds of Falkenstein: a castle Falkenstein novel. Rocklin, CA: Prima Pub, 1996.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 95072962; Scuttlebutt Apr 1996 // "Moriarty turns up again in a magical Victorian alternate steampunk universe."
3691. Decker, Charlotte. "Science Fiction and Fantasy Roundup." Book Report 20, no. 5 (2002): 21.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents several science fiction and fantasy books. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...While the aforementioned books are suitable for readers in grades three through six, others are more suited for older readers. A book that may be the first of a series is Artemis Fowl by Eoin Colfer. Twelve-year-old Artemis comes from a long line of criminals. When his father dies in an explosion and his mother takes to her bed with depression, it's up to Artemis to replenish the family's coffers. With the astuteness of Sherlock Holmes, the cunning of Moriarty, the sangfroid of James Bond, and the ruthlessness of Attila the Hun, Artemis kidnaps Captain Holly Short, a fairy in the LEPrecon Unit, and holds her for a ransom of fairy gold...."
3692. Decker, Jeff. "Cartoon--'Deep Waters'." Baker Street Miscellanea, no. 76 (1994): 49.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3693. ———. "Cartoons." The Musgrave Papers, no. 11 (1998): 14, 20, 30, 40, 48, 56, 62, 70, 78, 84, 92, 102.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3694. ———. "Tales from Dartmoor." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 1 (1994): 33.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Cartoon by Jeff Decker.
3695. ———. "Tales from Dartmoor, with apologies to Claude Rains." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 2 (1994): 97.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Cartoon with the caption "Sherlock Holmes investigating the Invisible Man for cheating at poker."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3696. ———. "Tales from Dartmoor: 'A Night at the Opera'." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 3 (1994): 161.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Cartoon featuring two characters arguing between Verdi and Wagner...and Brett or Rathbone.
3697. ———. "Tales from Dartmoor: John Bennett Shaw, 1913-1994." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 4 (1994): 245.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Memorial cartoon for John Bennett Shaw.
3698. Dedman, Stephen. "Never Seen by Waking Eyes." Fantasy & Science Fiction 91, no. 2 (1996): 133.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents the short story 'Never Seen by Waking Eyes,' by Stephen Dedman, dealing with a vampire little girl who was acquainted with the author Lewis Carroll. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...They were easily gulled in those days. Arthur Conan Doyle even believed in fairies..."
3699. Dee, James H. "Black Odysseus, White Caesar: When Did 'White People' Become 'White'?" The Classical Journal 99, no. 2 (2003): 157-167.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The writer examines the extent to which Greeks and Romans regarded themselves as 'white people' or part of a 'white race' and the classical terms, if any, for 'white' in this context. He argues among other things that the idea of a 'white race' has no historical or scientific basis and that it was not entertained by Caesar or his colleagues." Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...On the general issue of 'black' and 'white' in today's lexicon: as with Sherlock Holmes' 'curious incident of the dog that did nothing' (from Silver Blaze), the most remarkable aspect of all this material is the absence of the kind of obsessive and corrosive concern with 'whiteness' and 'blackness' that so disfigures our modern world...."
3700. DeFino, Dean. "Lead Birds and Falling Beams." Journal of Modern Literature 27, no. 4 (2005): 73-81.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes reference to Doyle and Holmes. "...Considering the heavy damage done to Great Britain in that war, it isn't surprising so many writers turned their gaze back to the genre that Conan Doyle had popularized in the nation's Victorian ascendancy, looking for some source of redemption...."
"...Their heroes are odd looking (obese Nero Wolfe, Professor Van Dusen with the tiny body and the size-eight head) and eccentric (Auguste Dupin enshrouding himself in continual darkness, Philo Vance affecting strange accents), with habits that run from the quaint (Miss Marples' constant knitting) to the corrupting (Sherlock Holmes' addiction to cocaine), but these features only attest to their genius (like the unkempt scientist with the tangled explosion of hair) and their charm. Readers of the classic detective story do not want to nurse Holmes back from his addiction or chastise Wolfe for his absurd eating habits, since these are the charms against which their own wits define the challenge of the story, which is solving the puzzle before these extraordinary analysts do....Fitzstephan takes the novelistic/aesthetic view, where "truth" is the revelation of order, a position that mimics such classic detectives as Sherlock Holmes and Philo Vance." Note 3 also mentions Doyle. "Poe's "Murders in the Rue Morgue" does away immediately with "preternatural" suppositions, as does Doyle's Hound of the Baskervilles and hundreds of other stories that might be cited."
3701. DeHart, Robyn. A study in scandal, (Avon historical romance). New York: Avon Books, 2006.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2006576198 //
3702. Dekoning, Ivo A. "A Case of Vital Interest." Shoso-In Bulletin 13, no. (2003): 53-56.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3703. ———. "The Curious Incident of the Dog The Ultimate Sherlock Holmes Story Completely True to the Canon of Conan Doyle." Shoso-In Bulletin 11, no. (2001): 152-163.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3704. ———. "In the Footsteps of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle." Shoso-In Bulletin 12, no. (2002): 153-167.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3705. ———. "A Sketch of Belgian Sherlockian Comics." Shoso-In Bulletin 13, no. (2003): 100-105.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3706. Del Bianco, Mauro, and Gianfranco De Turris. Sherlock Holmes eroe solare esoterismo e spiritismo in Arthur Conan Doyle, (La bottega delle meraviglie). Roma: Il Torchio, 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references //
3707. DeLamotte, Eugenia. "'Collusions of the Mystery': Ideology and the Gothic in Hagar's Daughter." Gothic Studies 6, no. 1 (2004): 69-79.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Delamotte examines the representation of race in Pauline Hopkins's 'Hagar's Daughter' (1901/2). She argues that the novel provides a revision of the Female Gothic and also exploits narrative devices familiar from detective fiction. The solving of the 'mystery' that lies at the heart of the novel is one which explodes the ideological 'mystery', and the national crime of slavery, which separates Black and White, masculine and feminine, home and state, and African American and Euro-American families." Includes references to Doyle and Holmes.
3708. Delay, Vincent. "Jack Thorne and the Sherlock Holmes Exhibition." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 28, no. 2 (2007): 55-56.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3709. ———. "The Swiss Sherlock Holmes: Rudolphe-Archibald Reiss (1875-1929)." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 27, no. 1 (2004): 6-10.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3710. ———. "Wigmore Street Postbag, Museum of Lucens." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 26, no. 3 (2003): 116.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3711. Delay, Vincent, Christian Macherel, and Persano Isadora. Conan Doyle, Sherlock Holmes et la Suisse, (Mémoires et documents / Société d'études holmésiennes de la Suisse romande). [Lausanne]: Société d'études holmésiennes de la Suisse romande, [V. Delay], 2003.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Société d'études holmésiennes de la Suisse romande. 21 cm. Par Vincent Delay. Isadora Persano / par Christian Macherel. //
3712. Delfino, Erik. "Looking for the grails." Online 22, no. 1 (1998): 39.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents information on the changes which have taken place in the personal computer (PC) industry. Includes passing reference to Doyle and Holmes. "Every year at this time, the folks at ONLINE ask us to take a look at the year just past, and to take a peek forward at what may be in the year to come. As I was pondering this task, I found myself recalling some lines from Conan Doyle: 'Is there any other point to which you would wish to draw my attention?' 'To the curious incident of the dog in the nighttime.' 'The dog did nothing in the nighttime.' 'That was the curious incident,' remarked Sherlock Holmes. (from Silver Blaze) At first I couldn't think what this had to do with computers. Then it came to me-what I was really hearing was this: 'Think of the curious developments in the PC industry in the last year.' 'But there haven't been any developments in the PC industry in the last year.' 'That's what's so curious.'" 3713. DeMille, Nelson, and Otto Penzler. The best American mystery stories, 2004, (The Best American series). Boston, MA: Houghton Mifflin, 2004.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 22 cm. Bet on red / Jeff Abbott -- Stonewalls / Jeffrey Robert Bowman -- Height advantage / William J. Carroll -- Evolution / Benjamin Cavell -- All through the house / Christopher Coake -- Where beautiful ladies dance for you / Patrick Michael Finn -- How Wendy Tudhope was saved from sure and certain death / Rob Kantner -- Snake eyes / Jonathon King -- Harvey's dream / Stephen King -- Smash and grab / Michael Knight -- Bank of America / Richard Lange -- Lids / Tom Larsen -- Low tide / Dick Lochte -- The incident of the impecunious chevalier / Richard A. Lupoff -- Doll: a romance of the Mississippi / Joyce Carol Oates -- The swag from Doc Hawthorn's / Jack O'Connell -- Best man wins / Frederick Williams -- Something about Teddy / Timothy Williams -- El Rey / Scott Wolven -- Green heat / Angela Zeman. edited and with an

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

introduction by Nelson DeMille ; Otto Penzler, series editor. // "Includes Richard Lupoff's Holmes/Dupin pastiche 'The Incident of the Impecunious Chevalier'"

3714. DeMont, John. "Murder, he wrote." Maclean's 107, no. 44 (1994): 56.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Profiles Elliott Leyton, a Newfoundland anthropologist who is also an expert on serial killers. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Professionally, that is mostly what he does--sit and work. He is not a swashbuckling Indiana Jones or a street-smart Sherlock Holmes stalking evildoers in foggy London...."
3715. Den Boggende, Bert. "The Fellowship of Reconciliation's Propaganda and Theodora Wilson Wilson's Literary Contribution 1914-1917." Quaker Studies 12, no. 1 (2007): 107-128.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // During World War I Theodora Wilson Wilson, who shortly before the war had returned to her ancestral Quaker faith, made a unique contribution to the Fellowship of Reconciliation's (FOR) propaganda. Instead of the usual expository writings aimed at the well educated, she wrote simple stories directed at casual readers. They emphasised the kind of activity, 'doing', the FOR leadership had decided to curtail after an attempt at tramping in the Midlands in the summer of 1915 had resulted in a near riot. Her perspective reflected that of many Friends. Some very limited attention has been given to these stories, but their contexts have not been explored adequately. This essay attempts to correct this deficiency and provides insight into an important Quaker stream within the FOR. [Abstract from author]. Includes a reference to Doyle. "...Wilson's use of war imagery, however, conflicted with the government's propaganda. On 2 September 1914 C.F.G. Masterman, Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster and Chairman of the National Health Insurance, had called a meeting of a group of eminent authors, including G.K. Chesterton, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, H.G. Wells, and George Trevelyan, for the purpose of producing literary war propaganda...."
3716. Dent Jr, George W. "Stakeholder Governance: a Bad Idea Getting Worse." Case Western Reserve Law Review 58, no. 4 (2008): 1107-1144.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- M3: Article // The article explores the traditional objections to stakeholder governance along with other trends which should influence thoughts about such governance in the U.S. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...My students know that one of my favorite allusions is the story Silver Blaze, in which Sherlock Holmes solves a crime in part by noting the dog that did not bark. The dog's silence showed that the intruder was an insider; had it been an outsider, the dog would have barked. It is interesting in this case to notice the dogs that are not barking. Professor Greenfield touts his proposal as beneficial to employees. If he were right, we should see groups of employees forming firms and hiring capital...." The footnote for this passage (note 37) reads: "When Holmes refers to 'the curious incident of the dog in the night-time,' Inspector Gregory says, 'The dog did nothing in the night-time.' Holmes replies, 'That was the curious incident.' Arthur Conan Doyle, Silver Blaze, in 1 The Complete Sherlock Holmes 335, 347 (Doubleday & Co. 1930) (1893)."
3717. Denton, Sally. "What Happened at Mountain Meadows?" American Heritage 52, no. 7 (2001): 76.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on the September 11, 1857 mass murder of California-bound immigrants in Utah. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...Despite all the agitation over the last 144 years, despite the volatility of the issues, and despite the connection with a religion of 11 million adherents, amazingly little has been written on the subject, and the event has been dealt with literarily mainly in fiction and in a handful of nineteenth-century anti-Mormon screeds. The original 1871 edition of Mark Twain's Roughing It contained an appendix about the massacre that was deleted from most later editions. A few authors wrote of the 'Avenging Angels,' most notably Sir Arthur Conan Doyle in A Study in Scarlet, but without mention of the massacre."
3718. Derbyshire, David. "Holmes was right, women will rescue the photos first." The Daily Telegraph (London), December 27, 2004: 11.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "A piece of folklore that helped Sherlock Holmes solve one of his earliest and most famous cases still holds true after a century: women will choose to save the photograph of a loved one above anything else from a burning house. A survey has shown that, given the choice of saving just one precious thing from their home, most women will rescue a family picture. The findings confirm the plot twist

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's A Scandal in Bohemia, the first of the Sherlock Holmes short stories which was published in The Strand magazine in 1891...."

3719. Derbyshire, John. "Dads and Cads." National Review 55, no. 3 (2003): 55-56.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article presents views of the author on parenting and includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...For some centuries now, every Englishman who could afford to do so has sent his children away from home to be raised by paid professionals. None of the parents concerned doubts for a moment that he is doing the right thing, nor is there any reason to think that he is deficient in affection. I am looking at a photograph from the early 1920s of the Conan Doyles standing in a family group on the platform at Waterloo Station, whither they have gone to see their two boys back to boarding school after the summer break. Their parental affection is plain to see; indeed, after Sir Arthur's death, his sons went to much trouble and expense in attempting to get in touch with him through spiritualist mediums...."

3720. ———. "The Specter of Difference." National Review 57, no. 20 (2005): 40-42.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article discusses the implications of recent scientific discoveries, particularly in relation to understanding the human genome and what the author calls "the dethronement of humanity." Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...At this point, however, the dethronement process was getting personal, and our resistance to it stiffened. It is, as Sherlock Holmes said, really nothing to us whether the earth goes around the sun or the sun around the earth; but to suggest that we, our precious selves, are no more than a very clever kind of monkey, is a dethronement too far for most of us..."

3721. Deresiewicz, William. "The Imaginary Jew." Nation 284, no. 21 (2007): 44-48.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the books "The Yiddish Policemen's Union," by Michael Chabon, and "The Ministry of Special Cases," by Nathan Englander. Includes a reference to his Holmes title. "...Chabon's detective novella The Final Solution centers on the relationship between a young German-Jewish refugee and Sherlock Holmes...."

3722. Derleth, August William. The Solar Pons omnibus edition (original text). Shelburne, Ont.: Battered Silicon Dispatch Box, 1998.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Jan 2001 // "A new collection of all of August Derleth's Solar Pons stories...with an introduction by Peter Ruber, and text taken from book collections published by Derleth (an earlier omnibus published in 1982 had text edited by Basil Copper, who corrected 'errors' he had perceived in Derleth's text)."

3723. ———. The Unpublished Solar Pons. Shelburne, Ontario: Battered Silicon Dispatch Box, 1994.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Jan. 1995 //

3724. Derleth, August William, and August Derleth Society. A Derleth collection. Sauk City, WI: Geranium Press, 1993.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3725. Derleth, August William, and James P. Roberts. Return to Derleth selected essays. Madison, Wis: White Hawk Press, 1993.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 93240396; Scuttlebutt May 1997. Includes bibliographical references // "With Basil Copper's six-page 'The Game's Afoot: August Derleth and Solar Pons' (about Derleth's stories and Copper's continuation of the saga) and essays by other enthusiasts on Derleth's life and work in other genres."

3726. Derleth, August William, Peter Ruber, and George A. Vanderburgh. The original text Solar Pons omnibus edition. 2 vols. Shelburne, Ontario; Sauk City, WI: Battered Silicon Dispatch Box, 2000.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 29 cm. "A Mycroft & Moran book." Introduction by Peter Ruber ; collected and edited by George A. Vanderburgh. Scuttlebutt Jan 2001. // "A new collection of all of August Derleth's Solar Pons stories...two volumes (with a total of 826 pages), with an introduction by Peter Ruber, and text

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

taken from book collections published by Derleth (an earlier omnibus published in 1982 had text edited by Basil Copper, who corrected 'errors' he had perceived in Derleth's text)."

3727. Derleth, August William, and Peter A. Ruber. The final adventures of Solar Pons. First ed. Shelburne, Ont, Sauk City, Wisconsin: Mycroft and Moran, 1998.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3728. Derrick, Thomas. "Cartoon: 'A Literary Event'." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 23, no. 2 (1997): 4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3729. Desai, R. W. "England-Sherlock Holmes-India as Signified in The Sign of Four." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 21, no. 4 (1994): 109-111.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3730. Desmond, Edward W. "Playing catch up in the cyber race." Time 145, no. 9 (1995): 66.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses the advantage of the United States in multimedia and reports that Japan is determined to make up for its lag on the information highway. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Shortly after the Kobe quake, Tomoji Ohta, a college student whose parents' home had collapsed, approached TIME reporters on the rubble-strewn streets with an urgent request: 'Please get on the Internet and notify the Baker Street Irregulars that all our members in Kobe are all right.' Sherlock Holmes fans around the world were reassured. Indeed, some enthusiasts compare the Internet with the kurofune, the 19th century 'black ships' of U.S. Commodore Oliver Perry that forced Japan to open up to the world...."
3731. Deutsch, James. "Book notes: Popular culture." American Studies International 32, no. 1 (1994): 120.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'Metatop: Self-referentiality in Contemporary American Popular Culture,' by Michael Dunne. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Accordingly, Dunne, devotes a chapter to the self-referential film parodies of Woody Allen and Mel Brooks, but readers who are familiar with film history may wonder if The Purple Rose of Cairo (1985) is any more central to American culture than Buster Keaton's Sherlock, Jr. (1924), which featured the same testing of cinematic space, or even Edison's Uncle Josh at the Moving Picture Show (1902), perhaps the earliest film to mock cinematic artifice...."
3732. Devereaux, Elizabeth. "'Tis the Season to Be Selling." Publishers Weekly 246, no. 39 (1999): 47.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Lists several books about holidays, including one Halloween book with a Holmes reference: Aunt Eater's Mystery Halloween by Doug Cushman. HarperTrophy, $3.95 ISBN 0-06-444266-7. "Dressed like Sherlock Holmes for a costume party, Aunt Eater has her hands full; an I Can Read book. Ages 4-8."
3733. Devitt, Allan. "BASH 2002 -- Boffo at the Box Office!" The Serpentine Muse 18, no. 2 (2002): 7-9.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3734. ———. "Holmes, You Old Goat!" The Serpentine Muse 22, no. 4 (2006): 13-16.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3735. ———. "A Toast to Mr. Sherlock Holmes." The Serpentine Muse 22, no. 3 (2006): 17.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3736. Devitt, Allan, and Susan Z. Diamond. "Sherlock Holmes, The World's Greatest Consulting Detective???" The Serpentine Muse 23, no. 3 (2007): 12-15.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3737. Dewberry, David R. "Unions, Vitamins, Exercise: Unionized Graduate Students." College Student Journal 39, no. 4 (2005): 627-636.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "After the turbulent labor history of America in the early to mid twentieth century, there has been a general decline of unions. Nevertheless, many graduate school teaching assistants are

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

unionizing in attempts to gain better pay and benefits and remove themselves from an 'Ivory Sweatshop.' This article discusses a history of unions within graduate schools and the arguments of graduate assistants as student or employee." Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...In assistantships, graduate students teach introductory classes and assist professors in their research and large classes. The research assistants, in return for their effort, get a good workout from running down books and articles. A quest that would often leave Sherlock Holmes baffled...."

3738. Dexter, Colin. Morse's greatest mystery, and other stories. London: Macmillan, 1993.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: Morse's greatest mystery -- Evans tries an O-level -- Dead as a dodo -- At the Lulu-Bar Motel -- Neighbourhood watch -- A case of mis-identity (pp. 91-122) -- The inside story -- Monty's revolver -- The carpet-bagger -- Last call // 3739. ———. Morse's greatest mystery, and other stories. 1st American ed. New York: Crown Publishers, 1995.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 95052667. Contents: As good as gold -- Morse's greatest mystery -- Evans tries an O-level -- Dead as a dodo -- At the Lulu-Bar Motel -- Neighbourhood watch -- A case of mis-identity -- The inside story -- Monty's revolver -- The carpet-bagger -- Last call. Scuttlebutt Oct 1995 //
3740. Dhénaut, Alain, and Patrick Pesnot. The scene of the crime. Princeton, NJ: Films for the Humanities & Sciences, 2003. Visual Material 1 videodisc (ca. 54 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- sd., col. with b&w sequences ; 4 3/4 in. On the trail of crime; DVD. [presented by] IÍNA ; a film by Alain Dhénaut ; written by Patrick Pesnot and Alain Dhénaut ; co-producers, INA ... [et al.]. "Co-producers, INA, France 3, To Do Today Productions, RTBF (Belgium Television), with support from the Center for Cinema and Television of Belgium's French community, in association with La Cinquième." Original music, May Simona. // Profiles crime scene investigation history from the time of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Discusses the contributions of Reiss and Locard to crime scene analysis, along with Godart's role in the 1927 Sacco and Vanzetti investigation. Describes how technological advances in forensic sciences have affected crime investigation. Includes scenario of a murder investigation.
3741. Di Ciolla, Nicoletta. "Roma in Noir -- The Eternal City as Dystopia. Or Perfect Imperfection." Romance Studies 25, no. 4 (2007): 297-307.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "This essay looks at the representation of the city of Rome in contemporary noir fiction, focusing in particular on the 2005 novel Un giorno perfetto by the award-winning novelist Melania G. Mazzucco." Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "The crime genre has always held a privileged relationship with the city. From the Paris mapped by Poe and Simenon, to the London of Conan Doyle, to the contemporary Glasgow, Edinburgh, Manchester of McIlvanney, McBain, and McDermid respectively, the genre has often drawn some of its impact from what has been defined as a 'realist production of place'...."
3742. Di Filippo, Paul. "Plumage from Pegasus." Fantasy & Science Fiction 87, no. 3 (1994): 73.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Provides information on science fiction and their authors. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...Arthur Conan Doyle received a gold-inlaid ouija board with platinum planchette for his autobiography, Don't Call Me Conan the Barbarian! (1915)...."
3743. Di Sano, B. De reuze rat van de Sumatra, (Holmes, 6; Collectie detective strips, 31; Collectie detective comics, 31). Brussel: Lefrancq, 1995.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Dutch. naar de personages van Arthur Conan Doyle. scenario: A.-P. Duchâteau. tek.: B. Di Sano. kleuren: Martine De Bast. vert. [uit het Frans] en lettering: Van der Heide Produkties. // Ballonstrip.
3744. Diamond, Edwin, and Stephen Bates. "Law and order comes to cyberspace. (Cover story)." Technology Review (1899) 98, no. 7 (1995): 22.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on the issues arising from efforts to impose rules and regulations on the Internet. Includes a passing reference to Doyle and Holmes. "...Laws and moles differ among towns, states, and countries. Whose rules apply in cyberspace? Say that a New York City user downloads a favorite Sherlock

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Holmes story from a London computer. The works of Arthur Conan Doyle are in the public domain in the United Kingdom but some are still under copyright in the United States. Which country's law prevails?..."

3745. Diamond, Susan Z. 50th Running Chicago Silver Blaze, A History of the Race. Chicago: The Watsonians, 2009.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3746. ———. "As Our WHIMSEY Takes Us." The Serpentine Muse, no. (2007): 14.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3747. ———. "A Century and a Half." The Serpentine Muse, no. (2004): 1-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3748. ———. "DLS: Requiescat in Pace." The Serpentine Muse 12, no. 3 (1993): 20-21.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3749. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 25, no. 4 (2009): 3-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3750. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 26, no. 1 (2009): 3-6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3751. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 24, no. 2 (2008): 3-6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3752. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 24, no. 3 (2008): 3-4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3753. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 23, no. 2 (2007): 3-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3754. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 23, no. 3 (2007): 3-4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3755. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 23, no. 4 (2007): 3-4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3756. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 24, no. 1 (2007): 3-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3757. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 22, no. 2 (2006): 3-4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3758. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 22, no. 3 (2006): 3-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3759. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 22, no. 4 (2006): 3-4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3760. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 23, no. 1 (2006): 3-6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3761. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 21, no. 2 (2005): 3-6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3762. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 21, no. 3 (2005): 3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3763. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 21, no. 4 (2005): 3-4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3764. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 22, no. 1 (2005): 3-6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3765. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 20, no. 2 (2004): 3-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3766. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 20, no. 3 (2004): 3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3767. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 20, no. 4 (2004): 3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3768. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 21, no. 1 (2004): 3-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3769. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 19, no. 2 (2003): 3-6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3770. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 19, no. 3 (2003): 3-6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3771. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 19, no. 4 (2003): 3-6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3772. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 20, no. 1 (2003): 3-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3773. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 18, no. 2 (2002): 3-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3774. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 18, no. 3 (2002): 3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3775. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 18, no. 4 (2002): 3-4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3776. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 19, no. 1 (2002): 3-6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3777. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 17, no. 1 (2001): 3-4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3778. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 17, no. 2 (2001): 3-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3779. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 17, no. 3 (2001): 3-4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3780. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 17, no. 4 (2001): 3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3781. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 18, no. 1 (2001): 3-7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3782. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 16, no. 2 (2000): 3-6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3783. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 16, no. 3 (2000): 3-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3784. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 16, no. 4 (2000): 3-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3785. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 15, no. 2 (1999): 3-4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3786. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 15, no. 3 (1999): 3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3787. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 15, no. 4 (1999): 3-4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3788. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 16, no. 1 (1999): 3-4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3789. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 14, no. 2 (1998): 3-4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3790. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 14, no. 3 (1998): 3-4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3791. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 14, no. 4 (1998): 3-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3792. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 15, no. 1 (1998): 3-4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3793. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 13, no. 2 (1997): 3-6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3794. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 13, no. 3 (1997): 3-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3795. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 13, no. 4 (1997): 3-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3796. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 14, no. 1 (1997): 3-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3797. ———. "Editors' Commonplace Book." The Serpentine Muse 13, no. 1 (1996): 3-5.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3798. ———. "If you have a fancy to see your name in the next honours list. . . ." The Serpentine Muse, no. (2001): 1-4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3799. ———. "It is always 1895'." The Serpentine Muse, no. (2005): 1-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3800. ———. "The Lady and the Tiger." The Serpentine Muse 14, no. 3 (1998): 12.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3801. ———. "Millennium Muse-ings." The Serpentine Muse, no. (2000): 1-4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3802. ———. "Muse-ing on a Milestone." The Serpentine Muse, no. (2005): 1-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3803. ———. "An a-MUSEing Year." The Serpentine Muse, no. (1998): 1-2.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3804. ———. "Muse-ings." The Serpentine Muse, no. (2002): 1-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3805. ———. "Muse-ings Past and Present." The Serpentine Muse, no. (2006): 1-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3806. ———. "The Noblest Bachelor: An Interview with Mr. Sherlock Holmes." Varieties of Ash 2, no. 1 (1994): 25-31.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3807. ———. "One Hundred Issues and Still Going Strong." The Serpentine Muse Special Edition, no. (2010): 1-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3808. ———. "Reminiscences About Sherlock Holmes." The Serpentine Muse 26, no. 1 (2009): 9-16.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3809. ———. "Review - A Distinct Touch, Watson by David L. Hammer." The Serpentine Muse 21, no. 4 (2005): 24.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3810. ———. "Review - Cases of Identity: Real People in the Sherlock Holmes Canon." The Serpentine Muse 22, no. 2 (2006): 11.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3811. ———. "Review - Ladies, Ladies by Patricia Guy and Kate Carlson." The Serpentine Muse 24, no. 1 (2007): 17.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3812. ———. "Review - Radical Rethinks on Hound and Horse: The Handbook of the Dartmoor Expedition, Shirely Purves, Editor." The Serpentine Muse 19, no. 2 (2003): 20.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3813. ———. "Toast, 'The Lone Star'." The Serpentine Muse 14, no. 4 (1998): 9.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3814. ———. "Watson's Secret." The Serpentine Muse 16, no. 3 (2000): 16-20.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3815. ———. "We Hope You've been A-Mused." The Serpentine Muse, no. (2008): 1-3.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3816. ———. "Wigmore Street Postbag, Congratulatory Notes." The Sherlock Holmes Journal 24, no. 2 (1999): 76.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3817. Diamond, Susan Z., and Paul Churchill. Seventeen steps to slimness: a Sherlock Holmes diet manual. Shelburne, Ont, Sauk City, Wisc: The Battered Silicon Dispatch Box, 2000.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3818. Diamond, Susan Z., and Marilynne McKay. Serpentine muse-ings: an anthology from the journal of the Adventuresses of Sherlock Holmes. 1st ed. 2 vols. Indianapolis: Gasogene, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 2 volumes. Scuttlebutt Jan 2005. Contents: Volume 1: Is There a Doctor in the House? / Kathleen Alvarez; A Toast to Beryl Stapleton With a Shocking Revelation / Linda Anderson; A Sainly Toast / Peter E. Blau; A Holmesian Quartet / Joan Brieaddy; Holmes' Hideaways / Robert N. Brodie; Watson and the Landladies of the Canon / Mary Campbell; Sonnet to Sherlock Holmes / Linda Crane; Watson's Secret / Susan Z. Diamond; A Case of Delusion / Henry W. Enberg; A Toast to Irene Adler / Joseph Fink; Gold King & Silver King / Patricia Dodd Flynn; The Mistress and the Miadservant / Patricia Dodd Flynn; Watson, a British Jury? / Dennis France; The Perfect Crime or The Mystery of the Maligned Medic / Marie Gibb; So Old a Shiikari / Jim Goehmann; They Don't Call Them 'Falls' for Nothing / Jim Goehmann; My Collection of Esses / Alexian Gregory; The Lady of 221B / Margaret H. Henry; Elementary, My Lovely / Sarah Montague Joffe; Holmes the Rambler: or a few trifling observations on The Master's income sources / Kate Karlson; Irene / Sandy Kozinn; Some Thoughts on the Ethnicity of Sherlock Holmes / Sandy Kozinn; Toast to Sherlock Holmes / Sandy Kozinn; What Would Holmes and Mrs. Hudson Do if 221 Baker Street Were on Fire? / Sandy Kozinn; Alice & The Professor / Marilynne McKay; April Fool, Godfrey! / Marilynne McKay; Canonical Doctore / Marilynne McKay; La Belle Dame in Le Belle Epoque / Marilynne McKay (as Isadora Klein); Canonical Ladies / Julie McKuras; Toast to Colonel Moran / Patricia Moran; A Toast to Mrs. Hudson / Harold Niver; Investigating an Investiture / Teddie A. Niver; About Miss Mary Sutherland / Lenore Glen Offord; To Dr. John H. (or James) Watson A Much-Admired Gentleman / Trish Pearlman; Canonical Compilations / Dorothy Belle Pollack; Introducing the Woman / Dorothy Belle Pollack; That 'Dominant Mind' / Dorothy Belle Pollack; Sherlock Holmes 1994: 'non omnis Moriarty!' / Dorothy Belle Pollack; Take Moriarty, for Example / Dorothy Belle Pollack; The Heavenly Taxi / Shirley Purves; Cut Out the Poetry / Warren Randall; What Watson Was or His Limits / Warren Randall; No John on Chicago / Warren Randall (as Sandy Carlburg); Entirely to Be Trusted / Susan Rice; Anonyma / Mary Ellen Rich; The Woman: A Toast at the 1999 Spring Dinner; Toast to Mycroft / Myrtle Robinson; A Letter From Mary: Discovered in a Dispatch Box / Mary Schroeder; The Discomforted Detective / Philip A. Shreffler; A Toast to the Untrustworthy / Philip A. Shreffler; Toast to Irene Adler / Marina Stajic; The Top Ten Reasons Why John Watson is a Good Husband / Jan Stauber; The Most Winning Woman Hunt / Ruthann Stetak; Lucy Hebron: The Later Years / Jeanne Thelwell; To Irene Adler / Stephen Tolin; Archy Writes / Jean Upton; The True History of Violet Hunter / Thom Utecht; Sherlock, Sherlock, Burning Bright / Ben Vizoskie; First Meeting / Ben Vizoskie (as Lord Robert St. Simon); Think Small / Susan Vizoskie; Toast to John Watson, M.D. / Susan Vizoskie; Rosalie Williams on Mrs. Hudson / Rosalie Williams; Expression of Regret / Gahan Wilson; Volume 2: The Ashenpoof Song; The Uffan Carol; Some Comments on Vitriol and Some Vitriolic Comments on ILLU / Bruce D. Aiken; To a Unique Woman in the Sherlock Holmes Stories / Peter E. Blau; Lady Mary's Cope Book / Paula S. Cohen; A Perennial Toast / Paula S. Cohen; '...my correspondence has certainly the charm of variety...' / Susan Conant and Evelyn Herzog; Laws of Sherlock Murphy / Norman Davis; The Reindeer Song / Norman Davis; A Tale of a Prince, The King, and the Master / Susan Z. Diamond; Canonical Fools / Pj Doyle; A Not So Trifling Monograph On the Origins of ASH / Joseph Fink; Passion, Primates, the Canon & Dorothy (but no Toto) / Judith Freeman; Speculation on the Speckled / Judith Freeman; A Family of Friends / T. Michelle Fromkin; In Memoriam 'In Memoriam Sherlock Holmes' / Alexian Gregory; Just What the Doctor Ordered: Victorian Medicinal Imbibing / Patricia Guy; Culinary Institute Presentation May 4, 1991 / Evelyn Herzog; Mere Amateurs / Evelyn Herzog; Roasting Tom Stix / Evelyn Herzog; On Being as ASH Versus Being an 'ASH' / Jane Hinckley; Moriarty Sank the Titanic / Peter Horrocks; A Brief Argument for The Blue

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

Carbuncle / Donald B. Izban; In Which Pooh and Piglet Track a Heffalump With the Help of a Very Great Friend / Andrew Joffe; Speaker's Corner / Sarah Montague Joffe; The Gentle Art of the Fan / Karen Johnson; A Sherlockian Adventure in Serendipity / Irving Kamil; D-I-V-O-R-C-E or what the Bristol Barmaid knew / Kate Karlson; Sherlockian Mixology / Kate Karlson; A Toast to the Engineer's Thumb / Kate Karlson; The Doyle/Wodehouse Connection? / Francine Kitts; Neville St. Clair's Improbable Lifestyle / Francine Kitts; How I Made a Mutt of Myself Over a "Toast to the Hound" / Sandy Kozinn; 'Plumming' Sherlock Holmes / Marilyn MacGregor; A Ditty / Gertrude Mahoney; A Case of Makeup / Laurie Fraser Manifold; We Never Called Him Sherlock / Edith Meiser; The Exciting Conclusion / Angela Mitchell; A Toast to Sir Arthur Conan Doyle / Joseph W. Moran; History of the Adventuresses / Patricia Moran; A Modest Sherlockian Proposal / Patricia Moran; The Picketing / Linda L. Patterson; A Scandal in Kent / Roberta Pearson; Citrus Aurantium Curassuviensis: The Golden Orange of Curacao / Rivkah Peller; Westbury to Hunter / Dorothy Belle Pollack; The Man Who Was John Watson: Dr. Doyle, I Presume / Warren Randall; Pastichary / Donald Redmond; The Darlington Scandal / Tina Rhea; Vincent Starrett: The Chicago Columns / Susan Rice; To Shakespeare / Mary Ellen Rich; The Uffian Way / Mary Ellen Rich; A Question About 221B / William P. Schweickert; The Opposite Window / Philip A. Shreffler; A Case of Numbers / Linda Spessotti; A Chemical Toast / Marina Stajic; The Identity of the Perfect Roommate / Marina Stajic; Being Married to the Head of the BSI / Dorothy Stix; The Depths To Which What Will Sink / Francine Morris Swift; Why the Dog Did Nothing in the Night-Time / Francine Morris Swift; The Queen Empress / Wayne B. Swift; Baker Street Wardrobes / Patricia Ubaldi; The ASH Constitution and Buy-Laws / Bill Vande Water; In Celebration: January 1992 / Bill Vande Water; Georgiana, the Coquettish Duchess of Devonshire: Adjective or Adventuress? / Susan Vizoskie; A Toast to Sir Arthur Conan Doyle / Susan Vizoskie; The Adventure of the Inverted Reindeer / John H. Watson; Cruising and Crossing On Board Ship with Sherlock Holmes / Joanne Zahorsky-Reeves // "Anthology of scholarship, speculation, and toasts from archives of The Adventuresses of Sherlock Holmes and their journal The Serpentine Muse."

3819. Dibdin, Michael. The last Sherlock Holmes story. 1st Vintage crime/Black Lizard ed, (Vintage crime/Black Lizard). New York: Vintage Books, 1996.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 96129583; Scuttlebutt Feb 1996 //
3820. Dick, Archie L. "Send your books on active service': The books for troops scheme during the Second World War, 1939-1945." South African Journal of Library & Information Science 71, no. 2 (2005): 115-126.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "During the Second World War, the South African Library Association coordinated the Books for Troops Scheme that distributed thousands of books and magazines to soldiers in the Union Defence Force. The scheme presented the chance to demonstrate the democratic values of books and libraries, and to improve the social standing of the library profession. This article argues that personal squabbles, regional tensions, racialism and the regulation of reading by the Army Education Services prevented the South African Library Association from making a more forceful impact on the South African public." Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...One commentator (Bressler 19343: 19) was surprised to discover among the books collected from the public some valuable works and early editions of George Bernard Shaw, Alexander Dumas...Arthur Conan Doyle and William Thackerary...."
3821. Dicostanza, Frank. "Metacom Inc.'s marketing anything but conventional." Billboard 108, no. 1 (1996): 43.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Looks at multimedia company Metacom Incorporated marketing strategy. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Yet it wasn't until the company began marketing vintage live radio programs, such as Abbott & Costello's 'Who's On First' in 1972, 'The Comedy Of Burns And Allen,' 'The Lone Ranger Adventures,' and 'The Sherlock Holmes Mysteries,' sold in six-pack slipcases, that business grew exponentially. 'Our sales in that area are in the seven figures,' says Levin. 'We're probably the biggest producer of golden-age radio in the country.'..."
3822. Diemert, Brian. "The pursuit of justice: Graham Greene's refiguring of the detective story in 'It's a battlefield'." Papers on Language & Literature 30, no. 3 (1994): 285.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Describes Graham Greene's 'It's a Battlefield' as evidences of his attempts to make the thriller the vehicle of both entertainment and 'serious' purpose. Includes multiple references to Doyle and Holmes.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3823. ———. "The Waterworks: E. L. Doctorow's Gnostic Detective Story." Texas Studies in Literature & Language 45, no. 4 (2003): 352.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses E.L Doctorow's use of the metaphysical detective story to meditate upon the questions of humanity's relationship to the cosmos in his 1994 novel 'The Waterworks.' Includes multiple references to Holmes and Doyle. Presentation of a vision that is heavily marked by gnostic thinking; Suggestion that gnosticism has become the basic religion of 20th-century America; Ways in which Doctorow uses the genre of the detective story to explore metaphysical and spiritual issues.
3824. Dietz, Linda, and Elizabeth Skopik. "The Patient Patients of Dr. Watson." Canadian Holmes 21, no. 1 (1997): 18-23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3825. Dietz, Steven. Sherlock Holmes, the final adventure based on the original 1899 play by William Gillette and Arthur Conan Doyle. New York: Dramatists Play Service, 2007.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3826. Diez-Alegria, Manuel. La Pequena Complicacion Domestica de las Tres Segundas Manchas. Madrid: The Amateur Mendicant Society, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Jan. 1995 //
3827. Digabriele, James A. "An Empirical Investigation of the Relevant Skills of Forensic Accountants." Journal of Education for Business 83, no. 6 (2008): 331-338.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The author investigated whether views of the relevant skills of forensic accountants differ among forensic accounting practitioners, accounting academics, and users of forensic accounting services. References include one with a mention of Holmes: Kahan, S. (2006). Sherlock Holmes enters accounting: Dramatic increase in fraud brings more CPA sleuths into the industry. Accounting Today, 20, 8.
3828. D'Ignazio, Fred. "Beyond multimedia: the student as Sherlock Holmes." Computing Teacher 21, no. (1994): 38-40.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Unknown reference to Doyle or Holmes beyond title.
3829. Dillman, Joanne Clarke. "Minority Report: Narrative, Images, and Dead Women." Women's Studies 36, no. 4 (2007): 229-249.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article discusses the two major female characters in the film "Minority Report." Includes a passing reference to Doyle in footnote 3. "In another reflexive gesture, and as several critics point out, the cogs are named Agatha (after Christie), Dashiell (after Hammett), and Arthur (after Conan Doyle)."
3830. Dillon, David A. "Conan Doyle (Book)." Library Journal 102, no. 22 (1977): 2501.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'Conan Doyle: A Biographical Solution,' by Ronald Pearsall.
3831. Dillon, Frank. "Letter to the Editor, 'Parizeau?'" Canadian Holmes 17, no. 1 (1993): 40.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3832. Dillon, Sarah. "Palimpsesting: Reading and Writing Lives in H. D.'s 'Murex: War and Postwar London (circa A.D. 1916-1926).'" Critical Survey 19, no. 1 (2007): 29-39.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The author discusses a story from the book "Palimpsest," by Hilda Doolittle. Palimpsests are parchments that writing has been erased from and replaced. The author comments that Doolittle uses palimpsests as a metaphor for history. Note 5 includes a passing reference to Doyle: "Since De Quincey's essay, the figure of the palimpsest has been employed by writers as varied as Thomas Carlyle, Arthur Conan Doyle, D. H. Lawrence, Umberto Eco, George Orwell and Jeanette Winterson. For a more detailed account of the history of the palimpsest and its diverse employment see my study The Palimpsest: Literature, Criticism and Theory (London: Continuum, 2007)."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3833. Dillon, Steve. "Victorian Interior." MLQ: Modern Language Quarterly 62, no. 2 (2001): 83-115.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Contains multiple references to Doyle and Holmes.
3834. Dillstone, Don. "Arthur Conan Doyle and Irene Adler." Canadian Holmes 24, no. 2 (2000): 9-13.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3835. Dilts, Robert. Vinci et Homes, (Les Stratégies du génie). Paris: La Méridienne : Desclée de Brouwer, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 22 cm. Robert Dilts ; traduit de l'américain par Gérard Bénéjean et Marie-Cécile Baland. / Uniform Title: Strategies of genius. French. //
3836. Dimendberg, Edward. "From Berlin to Bunker Hill: Urban Space, Late Modernity, and Film Noir in Fritz Lang's and Joseph Losey's M." Wide Angle 19, no. 4 (1997): 62-93.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...The decay of the city center, controversies around downtown urban renewal precipitated by passage of the Housing Act of 1949, public apartment projects, and the growth of pedestrian zones in response to the spread of the automobile define the conditions of what I call 'centripetal space' of the postwar American city: the navigable metropolis whose fabric of neighborhoods, public landmarks, and zones of safety, danger, and transgression form an unbroken chain from the nineteenth-century urban fictions of Emile Zola and Arthur Conan Doyle to twentieth century works by Alfred Döblin, Dashiell Hammett, and Raymond Chandler that culminates in film noirs such as The Naked City (1948) and Criss Cross (1949)...."
3837. Dingus, Anne. "December 1899." Texas Monthly 27, no. 12 (1999): 274.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports on the social condition of Texas in December 1899 and other international issues. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...A dollar buys a pair of baby shoes, a month of phone service, a bottle of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, a bushel and a third of sweet potatoes, a six-volume set of Arthur Conan Doyle, two crockery slop pails, a set of toy instruments (fiddle, horn, and drum), five pounds of redfish, twelve pounds of cotton, fourteen bars of Sapolio soap, or five dozen bottle rockets to usher in the new century with a bang...."
3838. ———. "Walker, Texas writer." Texas Monthly 23, no. 10 (1995): 74.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Features author Mary Willis Walker. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Another problem that plagues the genre is the series character, the creation of which is inherently problematic. Few have the staying power of a Sherlock Holmes or an Hercule Poirot; as a result, after a few adventures, the hero or heroine's idiosyncrasies become tedious to all but die-hard fans...."
3839. Dingus, Anne, and Mary Willis Walker. "Whodunit? Who Cares?" Texas Monthly 28, no. 11 (2000): 134.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Criticizes modern mystery novels. Includes multiple references to Doyle and Holmes.
3840. Dirda, Michael. Book by book : notes on reading and life. 1st Owl Books ed. New York: Owl Books/Henry Holt, 2007.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Preface : at home in the world -- 1. Life lines -- 2. The pleasures of learning -- 3. Work and leisure -- 4. The books of love -- 5. Bringing it all back home -- 6. Living in the world -- 7. Sights and sounds -- 8. The interior library -- 9. Matters of the spirit -- 10. Last things -- A selective and idiosyncratic who's who. "Originally published in hardcover in 2006 by Henry Holt and Company."--T.p. verso. // 3841. ———. Book by book : notes on reading and life. New York: Henry Holt, 2006.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 20 cm. Preface : at home in the world -- 1. Life lines -- 2. The pleasures of learning -- 3. Work and leisure -- 4. The books of love -- 5. Bringing it all back home -- 6. Living in the world -- 7. Sights and sounds -- 8. The interior library -- 9. Matters of the spirit -- 10. Last things -- A selective and idiosyncratic who's who. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3842. ———. Book by book: notes on the reading life. 1st ed. New York: Henry Holt, 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3843. ———. "Book World; Clues to Sherlock Holmes." The Washington Post, April 11, 1994: B02.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of The Game is Afoot: Parodies, Pastiches & Ponderings of Sherlock Holmes. Edited by Marvin Kaye. St. Martin's. 512 pp. $24.95
3844. ———. Bound to please : an extraordinary one-volume literary education : essays on great writers and their books. 1st Norton pbk. ed. New York: W.W. Norton, 2007.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 24 cm. Includes bibliographical references. // Surveying the whole world of books, literary essayist Michael Dirda opens with an impassioned critique of modern reading habits, then presents many of the great, and idiosyncratic, writers he loves the most. He starts with ancient classics and ends with groundbreaking science fiction; in between, he writes about everything from Renaissance intellectual history and Russian literary theory to spaghetti westerns and neglected modern masters.--From publisher description.
3845. ———. Bound to please : an extraordinary one-volume literary education : essays on great writers and their books. 1st ed. New York: W.W. Norton, 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 25 cm. Includes bibliographical references. // Surveying the whole world of books, literary essayist Dirda opens with an impassioned critique of modern reading habits, then presents many of the great, and idiosyncratic, writers he loves the most. He starts with ancient classics and ends with groundbreaking science fiction; in between, he writes about everything from Renaissance intellectual history and Russian literary theory to spaghetti westerns and neglected modern masters.--From publisher description.
3846. ———. Caring for your books. New York: Book-of-the-Month Club, 1990.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 18 cm. Bibliography: p. 63-64. // Offers suggestions on how to maintain and preserve one's collection of the printed word, with hints on the proper care and feeding of new and not-so-new books and other related materials.
3847. ———. "A Case for Langdale Pike." Canadian Holmes 30, no. 4 (2007): 22-34.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3848. ———. Classics for pleasure. 1st ed. Orlando: Harcourt, 2007.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2007003029. Contents: Playful imaginations. Lucian -- Denis Diderot -- Thomas Love Peacock -- Max Beerbohm -- Jaroslav Hasek -- Ivy Compton-Burnett -- S. J. Perelman -- Italo Calvino -- Edward Gorey -- Heroes of their time. Beowulf -- Abolqasem Ferdowsi -- The Icelandic sagas -- Christopher Marlowe -- Émile Zola -- Ernst Jünger -- James Agee -- Love's mysteries. Sappho -- Arthurian romances -- Marie-Madeleine de La Fayette -- Sören Kierkegaard -- George Meredith -- C. P. Cavafy -- Georgette Heyer -- Anna Akhmatova -- Daphne du Maurier -- Words from the wise. Lao-tse -- Heraclitus -- Cicero -- Erasmus -- The English religious tradition -- Benedict de Spinoza -- Samuel Johnson -- - Everyday magic. Sir Gawain and the Green Knight -- The classic fairy tales -- E. T. A. Hoffmann -- Prosper Mérimée -- Frances Hodgson Burnett -- E. Nesbit/John Masefield -- Walter de la Mare -- - Lives of consequence. Plutarch -- Girolamo Cardano -- John Aubrey -- Alexander Pope -- Jean-Jacques Rousseau -- Frederick Douglass -- Jacob Burckhardt -- Henry James -- W. H. Auden -- The dark side. John Webster -- Mary Shelley -- James Hogg -- Sheridan Le Fanu -- Bram Stoker -- M. R. James -- William Roughead -- H. P. Lovecraft -- Traveler's tales. Thomas More -- Daniel Defoe -- Xavier de Maistre -- Jules Verne -- J. K. Huysmans -- Isak Dinesen -- Robert Byron -- The way we live now. Petronius -- Elizabeth Gaskell -- Ivan Goncharov -- José Maria Eça de Queiros -- Anton Chekhov -- Jean Toomer -- Willa Cather -- Louis-Ferdinand Céline -- Zora Neale Hurston -- Eudora Welty -- Realms of adventure. H. Rider Haggard -- Arthur Conan Doyle -- Rudyard Kipling -- H. G. Wells -- G. K. Chesterton -- Agatha Christie -- Dashiell Hammett -- Encyclopedic Visions. Ovid -- Robert Burton -- Edward Gibbon -- J. G. Frazer -- H. W. Fowler -- Ezra Pound -- - André Malraux -- Philip K. Dick // In these delightful essays, Pulitzer Prize winner Michael Dirda introduces nearly ninety of the world's most entertaining books

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3849. ———. Classics for Pleasure. s.l.: Harvest Books, 2008.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3850. ———. "Excursions." The Washington Post, February 6, 2000: X15.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A report on the BSI Birthday Weekend festivities by an honored speaker and Sherlockian. "The game is afoot' as our intrepid reporter encounters the Baker Street Irregulars, meets admirers of Irene Adler, 'of dubious and questionable memory,' and learns a story for which the world may not yet be prepared...."
3851. ———. "James Bond as Archetype (and Incredibly Cool Dude)." Chronicle of Higher Education 54, no. 41 (2008): B20-B21.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // An essay is presented on the fictional character James Bond. The author examines the character in books such as "Devil May Care" by Sebastian Faulks writing as the novelist Ian Fleming and in motion pictures such as "Casino Royale." The heroic attributed of Bond are explored and the psychology of men wishing to be heroes is discussed. The popularity of James Bond is also analyzed. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Still, James Bond lives on, for he has outgrown the books, and even the movies can scarcely contain him. A half-dozen actors have played him, and there will be more in the future: Bond has become as archetypal as Hamlet or Sherlock Holmes, a hero with a thousand faces -- and among them are yours and mine."
3852. ———. Looking for a good time : reading, libraries, and the world of books : an address at the annual dinner of the Friends of the Oberlin College Library, September 28, 2002. [Oberlin, Ohio]: Friends of the Oberlin College Library, 2003.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 28 cm. //
3853. ———. "'On Glancing Over My Notes': Some Reflections on Sherlock Holmes and the Baker Street Irregulars." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 50, no. 2 (2000): 6-17.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3854. ———. An open book : coming of age in the heartland. 1st [pbk.] ed. New York: W.W. Norton, 2004.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 25 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. [323]-326) and index. //
3855. ———. "An open book : coming of age in the heartland." New York: W.W. Norton, 2003.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 1st ed. ill. ; 25 cm. Learning to read -- Turning the pages -- Adult material -- A liberal education -- Epilogue -- Michael Dirda's book list. Includes bibliographical references (p. [323]-326) and index. // "All that kid wants to do is stick his nose in a book," Michael Dirda's steelworker father used to complain, worried about his son's passion for reading. In this memoir, acclaimed literary journalist and Pulitzer Prize-winning critic Dirda re-creates his boyhood in rust-belt Ohio, first in the working-class town of Lorain, then at Oberlin College. In addition to his colorful family and friends, An Open Book also features the great writers and fictional characters who fueled Dirda's imagination: from Green Lantern to Sherlock Holmes, from Candy to Proust. The result is an affectionate homage to small-town America in the 1950s and 1960s--Slavic wedding feasts, catechism classes, summer jobs in the steel mill, school fights, sweepstakes contests, first dates, and a canary-yellow Mustang--as well as to what could arguably be called the last great age of reading.-- From publisher description.
3856. ———. Readings : essays & literary entertainments. New York: W.W. Norton & Co., 2003.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 24 cm. //
3857. ———. Readings : essays and literary entertainments. New York, London: W.W. Norton, 2004.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 21 cm. //
3858. ———. Readings : essays and literary entertainments. Bloomington: Indiana University Press, 2000.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 24 cm. The crime of his life -- The quest for Scrivener -- Talismans -- Maxims, etc. -
 - Heart of the matter -- Bookman's Saturday -- Supplementary materials -- Listening to my father -- Romantic

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

scholarship -- Weekend with Wodehouse -- An abecedary -- Mr. Wright -- Heian holiday -- Childhood's end -- The one and the many -- Commencement advice -- Four novels and a memoir -- The October country -- Bookish fantasies -- Pages on life's way -- A garland for Max -- Read at whim! -- Comedy tonight -- Light of other days -- Data daze -- Four-leaf clovers -- Sez who? -- Lament for a maker -- Clubland -- The learning channels -- Guy Davenport -- Eros by any other name -- Frank confessions -- Mememormee -- Tomes for tots -- Three classics -- Vacation reading -- One more modest proposal -- Shake scenes -- After strange books -- Awful bits -- Turning 50 -- Blame it on books -- On the road not taken -- Excursion -- Millennial readings. //

3859. Dirda, Michael Damian. On Beyle's strand : a study in autobiography. Ann Arbor, Mich.: University Microfilms International, 1980.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 21cm. "78-9797." //
3860. ———. "On Beyle's strand : a study in autobiography." v, 203 leaves ; 29 cm. Dissertation: Thesis (Ph. D.)-- Cornell University, Aug., 1977.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Photocopy of typescript. Includes bibliographical references (leaves 198-203). //
3861. Disley, Jan. "Sherlock Holmes Expert Garrotted." The Mirror, April 24, 2004: 28.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The world's leading expert on fictional detective Sherlock Holmes and his creator Sir Arthur Conan Doyle was found garrotted in bed, an inquest heard yesterday...."
3862. ———. "Sherlock Holmes Expert Garrotted." The Daily Mirror, Apr 24, 2004: 28.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The world's leading expert on fictional detective Sherlock Holmes and his creator Sir Arthur Conan Doyle was found garrotted in bed, an inquest heard yesterday. A shoelace had been tightened around Richard Lancelyn Green's neck using a wooden spoon. In the days before his death, Mr Green, 50, was paranoid and thought a member of the American Sherlock Holmes Society was trying to discredit him, the inquest heard. Close friend Lawrence Keen said: 'He felt that his flat was bugged. He wasn't his normal self.' Mr Green, who wrote up to 10 books on Conan Doyle, was also upset to learn an archive of the author's private papers was to be auctioned. He had wanted to use them to write a definitive biography. Mr Green, from Kensington, London, died from asphyxia. Westminster coroner Dr Paul Knapman said he could not rule out suicide, murder or a deviant sexual act taken too far. Verdict: Open."
3863. Dixie, Steve (trans.). De Damn Case of Sherlock Holmes. S.l.: Privately printed, n.d.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- This is a parody of Holmes and Ebonics. This is certainly not a real translation.
Contents: His Last Bow, Dying Detective, Final Problem. Don Hobbs: Galactic Sherlock Holmes //
3864. ———. Free Advenfures uh Sherlock Holmes. S.l.: Privately printed, n.d.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- This is a parody of Holmes and Ebonics. This is certainly not a real translation.
Contents: His Last Bow, Dying Detective, Final Problem. Don Hobbs: Galactic Sherlock Holmes //
3865. Dixit, Avinash. "Restoring Fun to Game Theory." The Journal of Economic Education 36, no. 3 (2005): 205-219.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The author suggests methods for teaching game theory at an introductory level, using interactive games to be played in the classroom or in computer clusters, clips from movies to be screened and discussed, and excerpts from novels and historical books to be read and discussed." Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...In the early days of game theory, even the mathematicians who created its foundations showed a sense of fun. Von Neumann and Morgenstern (1953, 176-78) expounded mixed strategy equilibria using the story of Sherlock Holmes trying to evade the pursuing Professor Moriarty, Williams (1966) gave an exposition of two-person zero-sum minimax theory by using many amusing examples, although they verged on the trivial because of the restricted scope...."
3866. Dixon, Franklin W. The giant rat of Sumatra. New York: Pocket Books, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Joe Hardy has joined the cast of a musical play based on a Sherlock Holmes investigation, but he has to call in his brother Frank to collaborate when someone tries to stop the show before it can go on.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3867. Dixon, Peter, and Marisa Bortolussi. "Text Is Not Communication: A Challenge to a Common Assumption." Discourse Processes 31, no. 1 (2001): 1-25.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "In much of the theoretical analyses of text processing, it is assumed that text should be thought of as a form of communication between the author and the reader. This conception is analogous to the communicative model used for analyzing conversation. We argue that this text-as-communication model is inappropriate for many forms of written discourse and for fictional narrative in particular. Unlike oral communication, the author is not physically present, the author is usually not the implied speaker of the text, and recovering the author's intended message can be problematic. Consequently, we feel it is more productive simply to view the text simply as a stimulus. In trying to understand how readers process that textual stimulus, it is important to specify the features and characteristics that can be objectively found in the text, but it is not important to know what the author may or may not have intended." [From author] Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...For example, the Sherlock Holmes stories are narrated by Watson, but if anyone is a spokesman for the author's views, it must be Holmes--not Watson...."
3868. Dixon, Tex W. "Ghost story." Texas Monthly 23, no. 9 (1995): 60.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Features teenage adventure heroes and heroines created by Edward Stratemeyer. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Although Frank, as the bible describes him, is 'a Sherlock Holmes in jeans' and Joe 'a devil-may-care swashbuckler with a short fuse,' the bros today are hip to fast cars, rock music, and the latest computer and video gadgets...."
3869. Dodd, Adam. "Wigmore Street Postbag, And Another Sign!" The Sherlock Holmes Journal 23, no. 2 (1997): 68.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3870. ———. "Wigmore Street Postbag, New Man In No 10 Shock!" The Sherlock Holmes Journal 22, no. 3 (1995): 104.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3871. Dodd, Mike. "Praising the unsung hero." USA Today, April 3, 2006: 1e.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "Little things. They are, as Sherlock Holmes pontificated, 'infinitely the most important,' whether solving a murder case or winning a World Series, as the Chicago White Sox demonstrated last year...."
3872. Dodson, Larry. The philatelic adventures of Sherlock Holmes, (ATA handbook). Albuquerque, NM: American Topical Association, 2000.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references //
3873. Doherty, Paul, and Pat Murphy. "Glimpsing Titan." Fantasy & Science Fiction 109, no. 4/5 (2005): 195-203.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents information on Titan, the largest moon of the planet Saturn, discovered in 1655. Includes a passing reference to Doyle and Holmes. "...In Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's short story 'Silver Blaze,' Sherlock Holmes comments on the [sic] 'the curious incident of the dog in the night time.' What was curious about the dog's activity was the absence of activity. When a racehorse was stolen, the stable dog never barked. Scientists, like Sherlock Holmes, must always be aware of what isn't there...."
3874. Dolan, James, and Charles Drake. "Will the Read Dr. Watson Please Step Forward?" The Sherlock Holmes Journal 26, no. 1 (2002): 10-13.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3875. Dolezel, Lubomir. "Possible Worlds of Fiction and History." New Literary History 29, no. 4 (1998): 785-809.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes multiple references to Doyle and Holmes.
3876. Dollar, Mark. "Ghost Imagery in the War Poems of Siegfried Sassoon." War, Literature & the Arts: An International Journal of the Humanities 16, no. 1/2 (2004): 235-245.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The article focuses on the war poems of Siegfried Sassoon. Sassoon speak on behalf of his peers who fought and died in the First World War, even though twenty-seven years had passed

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

since the war ended. His ardent pacifism during the war led him to denounce England's continued involvement in a conflict he deemed unjust and he saw those killed in battle as sacrificed unjustly. Their ghosts seem to have haunted Sassoon and caused him to regret mightily the cause of their deaths. Sassoon conceives of these ghosts as scarred, eyeless figures deformed by the hell of battle." Note 2 includes a passing reference to Doyle. "Winter notes how even such a well-regarded figure as Sir Arthur Conan Doyle attended seances and was fascinated by 'spirit photography' (a practice based on the idea that a camera can capture a ghostly spirit on film) after the death of his son, Kingsley, from wounds received at the Somme (58)."

3877. Donahue, Dick. "Child 44." Publishers Weekly 255, no. 3 (2008): 37-37.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article features debut novelist Tom Rob Smith and his book "Child 44." He was born and still lives in London, England. Among the authors who have influenced his book are Thomas Harris, Graham Greene and Arthur Conan Doyle. Information is provided on the plot of the novel and the toughest challenge the author faced in writing the novel. The publisher's take on the book is also presented.

3878. ———. "Fiction/mystery & Suspense." Publishers Weekly 252, no. 31 (2005): 182-183.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents information on mystery and suspense books. "Easy Street: A Lillian Byrd Crime Story," by Elizabeth Sims; "By the Sword," by Mike Yorkey; "The Sherlock Holmes Mysteries," by Arthur Conan Doyle.

3879. Donahue, Deirdre. "'Union': Original but overwrought." USA Today, May 1, 2007: D4.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Review of The Yiddish Policemen's Union by Michael Chabon. HarperCollins, 414 pp., $26.95. Other works listed, including The Final Solution. "The 2004 novella features an elderly Sherlock Holmes."

3880. Donald, Ann. "Who's that cat in the deer hat?" The Herald (Glasgow), July 8, 2000: 19.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Sherlock Holmes ranks alone in the distinguished genre of crime fiction creations - if only for his class A drug habit and eccentric apparel of deerstalker and pipe. This week's celebration of the Baker Street clever clogs and his creator, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, hung on the flimsy premise that Doyle popped his clogs 70 years ago. Given the riches languishing in the BBC's own radio drama vaults, it was remiss of the powers-that-be to deprive us of at least one rendition of Basil Rathbone's blinding interpretation of the great detective. However, Radio 4 was obviously intent on plunging into the real-life mire with The Secret History of Conan Doyle and The Real Sherlock Holmes. The mystery clouding Doyle's own life was pierced by Humphrey Carpenter's investigation...."

3881. Donald, James. "Greasing the Channels." Novel: A Forum on Fiction 40, no. 3 (2007): 312-315.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // A review of Modernism, Media and Propaganda: British Narrative from 1900 to 1945 by Mark Wollaeger. (Princeton: Princeton UP, 2006), pp. 364, cloth, $35.00. Includes a reference to Doyle. "...Whether Baldwin knew it or not, and he probably did, it was the British war-time Government that authorized the invention of the twentieth century's most effective arts of propaganda. Wollaeger repeatedly returns to a defining event that provides the backdrop to his study. On 2 September 1914 the man of letters, former Liberal MP, and now Government propaganda chief C.F.G. Masterman invited to his office at Wellington House the elite of English letters, among them J.M. Barrie, Arnold Bennett, Robert Bridges, G.K. Chesterton, Arthur Conan Doyle and on through the alphabet to Israel Zangwill. The purpose of the meeting was to devise a new approach to propaganda, one that rejected the opportunistic use of lies and misrepresentations in favor of the strategic dissemination of factual information and the covert management of the media of communication. The Wellington House meeting, characteristically, looked both backward and forward. Masterman's instinctive cultural conservatism meant that the printed word was initially the preferred medium, with secret subsidies being paid to respectable commercial and university presses, and that the authors being co-opted were the aging lions of late Victorian and Edwardian literature rather than any emerging modernists...."

3882. Donaldson-Evans, Mary. "Medical Progress and Social Reality: A Reader in Nineteenth-Century Medicine and Literature (review)." Nineteenth Century French Studies 30, no. 1 (2001): 176-177.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews Furst, Lilian R., ed. Medical Progress and Social Reality: A Reader in Nineteenth-Century Medicine and Literature. Albany: State U of New York P, 2000. Pp. 314. ISBN 0-7914-4804-5 Doyle mentioned within contents of the book under review. "...In all but two cases, the texts are excerpted from longer works. Two short stories ('The Steel Windpipe,' by Mikhail Bulgakov, and 'The Doctors of Hoyland,' by Arthur Conan Doyle) are reproduced in their entirety...."

3883. Dondis, Harold, and Patrick Wolff. "Chess Notes." The Boston Globe, May 20, 2002: C8.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "The matter of how to handle women's chess has been a dilemma for American chess for years. Women have traditionally been weaker players than men and there has been much debate over this subject. There has been the feeling that women shy from head-to-head competition and, perhaps, from defeating men. However, by winning at chess, they will earn respect. One role model must surely be Irene Adler, the only person in the works of Conan Doyle ever to outwit Sherlock Holmes. In the short story 'A Scandal of Bohemia,' Dr. Watson wrote of Adler, 'To Sherlock Holmes, she was always the woman. I have seldom heard him mention her under any other name. In his eyes she eclipses and predominates the whole of her sex.'...Still, the only person to outwit Sherlock Holmes would not be able to join the Speckled Band, which is the Sherlock Holmes Club that meets annually on Boylston Street. The popular Speckled Band simply does not admit women."

3884. Donegall, Edward Arthur Donald St. George Hamilton Chichester. Baker Street and beyond: essays on Sherlock Holmes. London: Westminster Libraries. Sherlock Holmes Society of London, 1993.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: gb 94013716 //

3885. Doniger, Wendy. "The Mythology of Masquerading Animals, or, Bestiality." Social Research 71, no. 3 (2004): 711-732.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Analyzes the mythology of masquerading animals or bestiality. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Carlo Ginzburg has argued persuasively that the human experience underlying our most basic classificatory system is that of the hunter tracking an animal by its footprints...(As humankind began to stand upright, we moved from the footprints tracked by Neolithic hunters to the fingerprints tracked by Sherlock Holmes.)..."

3886. ———. "The Mythology of Masquerading Animals, or, Bestiality." Social Research 62, no. 3 (1995): 751-772.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article considers the myths of bestial masquerade and what they say about the ways in which humans have fantasized about their relationships with animals. According to the author, cultures throughout the world represent our deceptive relationships with animals as masquerades, which operate in both directions: in our rituals, humans often masquerade as animals, but in our myths we imagine that animals masquerade as humans. The most intense version of this universal theme is the tale of the bestial deception, the masquerade of an animal as a human in the most intimate of all relationships. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...Carlo Ginzburg has argued persuasively that the human experience underlying our most basic classificatory system is that of the hunter tracking an animal by its footprints...(As humankind began to stand upright, we moved from the footprints tracked by Neolithic hunters to the fingerprints tracked by Sherlock Holmes.)..."

3887. ———. "The Reluctant Transvestite." Nation 261, no. 12 (1995): 436-439.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article focuses on two books "Monsieur D'Eon Is a Woman," by Gary Kates and "The Arabian Nights." The double cross-dress, or sexual switchback, explains how D'Eon got away with it. People later remarked, with surprising surprise, that he had actually looked more feminine in his uniform than he did later in a dress. For D'Eon's autobiography is a fairy tale in more ways than one. D'Eon's idea that one must become a woman in order to become virtuous is a commonplace in Hinduism, where male worshipers impersonate women in order to be close to God, and saints like Ramakrishna and Gandhi became women in their hearts. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "'Qamar al-Zaman' illuminate the case of the Chevalier d'Eon through both its similarity and its difference. In its similarity, it suggests darker psychological levels that are inaccessible to us in the documentation of the Chevalier but that may well be quite relevant to it. Yet in its difference, it also shows us what Sherlock Holmes referred to as the dog that did not bark: The French case

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

reveals an assumption that is not present in the Arabian story or in most of the thousands of variants of the same plot..."

3888. Donnelly, Brian. "Doors open free for St Andrew's Day." The Herald (Glasgow), November 14, 2007: 7.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "More than 60 of Scotland's top visitor attractions will open their doors free of charge on St Andrew's Day, it was announced yesterday. Castles, museums, gardens and abbeys from Orkney to Dumfries and Galloway will all take part in the initiative designed to encourage Scots and tourists to celebrate Scotland's heritage and culture. Culture Minister Linda Fabiani, announcing the joint initiative by the National Trust for Scotland, Historic Scotland and the Association of Visitor Attractions, said: 'St Andrews Day is a day to celebrate Scotland.'...Ms. Fabiani made the announcement at the Royal College of Surgeons in Edinburgh which is hosting the Real Sherlock Holmes exhibition, one of the free attractions on St Andrew's Day...."
3889. Donnelly, Pat. "Sherlock Holmes's finest hour." The Gazette (Montreal), June 5, 2000: B4.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "You don't have to be a card-carrying member of a Sherlock Holmes club to enjoy Sherlock Holmes...the Last Act!, a one-man show starring Roger Llewellyn, which has just dropped into Centaur Theatre...."
3890. Donovan, Lori E. "Whodunit?: Detective Stories." School Library Journal 53, no. 11 (2007): 135.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article reviews the book "Whodunit?: Detective Stories," edited by Philip Pullman. "Pullman's love of the genre is obvious in this collection of 16 stories by authors from around the world. In his introduction, Pullman briefly outlines the history of the detective story from the Bible to its rise in popularity 60 years after the first Sherlock Holmes story and the advent of movies as well as why he likes this particular genre. Readers who enjoy whodunits from such classic writers as Arthur Conan Doyle and Agatha Christie will love more contemporary selections from Damon Runyon, whose story 'Butch Minds the Baby' has a funny side, in contrast to the normally dark stories that are so prevalent now. Those who like logic puzzles with a police theme will appreciate Raymond Smullyan's selections 'From the Files of Inspector Craig,' in which readers are given a scenario and encouraged to determine who the culprit is (answers are provided at the back of the book). Each selection comes with a brief introduction setting the stage and an interesting fact about the author and/or the story."
3891. Donovan, Paul. "Radio." Sunday Times (London), December 21, 2003: 72.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "With Great Pleasure At Christmas (R4, 2.15pm). Scott of the Antarctic's diaries, a Spike Milligan cat poem and Sherlock Holmes are among the announcer Brian Perkins's...choices...."
3892. ———. "So good, it's elementary." The Sunday Times (London), June 21, 1998: 30.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "History is about to be made on Radio 4. For the first time anywhere in the world and on any medium, the entire Sherlock Holmes canon of 56 short stories and four novels has now been dramatised with the same two actors - Clive Merrison as Holmes and Michael Williams as Dr Watson. The Hound of the Baskervilles, which begins next Sunday as a two-part Classic Serial, completes a project that started nine years ago and is unlikely ever to be replicated...."
3893. Donovan, Stephen. "Dead Men's News: Joyce's 'A Painful Case' and the Modern Press." Journal of Modern Literature 24, no. 1 (2000): 25.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Discusses the hostility of writer James Joyce to the newspaper press. Includes a reference to Doyle. "...In the extremest case, a novelist could even reveal what newspapers had reported as rail suicide to be in fact foul play, as happens in the Conan Doyle stories 'The Adventure of the Bruce-Partington Plans' (1908) and 'The Man with the Watches' (1908)...."
3894. Donway, Roger. "Neper, Neper, Neper, Neper, Neper." Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 50, no. 4 (2000): 5-13.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3895. Doolan, Paul. "First Europeans in Australia." History Today 49, no. 6 (1999): 3.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Explores facts regarding the settlement of the Dutch nation in Australia even before the British. Includes a passing reference to Holmes. "...More recently, however, some hard evidence of early Dutch habitation in Australia has come to light. In 1963 the British medical doctor Geoffrey Dean published The Porphyrrias, in which he describes his Sherlock Holmes-like attempt to unravel the mystery of a rare disease, porphyria variegata (PV), which he had encountered among Afrikaners in South Africa...."

3896. Doonan, Jane. "Drawing Out Ideas: A Second Decade of the Work of Anthony Browne." The Lion and the Unicorn 23, no. 1 (1999): 30-56.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...One might say at this stage that Anthony Browne, like Sir Arthur Conan Doyle before him, has killed off his hero. But Willy is saved by the wink. The idea of 'Ceci n'est pas un chimp' and the wink act in mutual cancellation...."

3897. Doran, Amanda-Jane. "Hodder Headline Acquires John Murray." Publishers Weekly 249, no. 20 (2002): 13.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reports on the acquisition of John Murray, an independent publisher in Great Britain, by Hodder Headline. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...Currently run by the seventh generation of the family, John Murray was the most quintessentially British publishing house. Its backlist reads like a who's who of great British writers. Jane Austen entrusted Emma to John Murray in 1815, and Murray's first bestseller was Childe Harold's Pilgrimage, purchased from Lord Byron in 1811. Other world famous authors included Charles Darwin and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, but in recent years the firm's fortunes have foundered, as it was unable to compete, particularly in the fiction market, with the huge advances paid by publishing conglomerates...."

3898. Dorey, Helen. "Review--'The Strange Adventures of Charlotte Holmes, Sister of the More Famous Sherlock' by Hilary Bailey." The Musgrave Papers, no. 7 (1994): 117-119.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3899. Dorler, Susan. "Analysis of Sherlock Holmes's handwriting." Varieties of Ash 2, no. 1 (1994): 56-58.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3900. Dorn, Jennifer. "Simpson's-in-the-Strand." British Heritage 26, no. 4 (2005): 16-166.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article presents the author's view that for two decades now, London, England has enjoyed one of the most vital and diverse restaurant scenes in the world. Includes a passing reference to Doyle and Holmes. "...Simpson's has frequently been mentioned in literary works as well. Arthur Conan Doyle was particularly partial to the restaurant, using it as a meeting place in many of his books. In The Adventure of the Dying Detective, Doyle has his famous detective Sherlock Holmes fast so as to appear ill. After the criminal is caught, Holmes proposes dinner at Simpson's-in-the-Strand: 'When we have finished at the police station, I think that something nutritious at Simpson's would not be out of place.' Obviously, year after year many diners have followed this suggestion...."

3901. ———. "Streetlights of London." British Heritage 27, no. 5 (2006): 11-12.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article presents information on the Marylebone neighborhood in London, England. The address 221B was not there in Baker Street, Marylebone during the years of the Sherlock Holmes stories. But Baker Street was extended and renumbering of the buildings was done in 1930. 221B became a real address and the popular Sherlock Holmes Museum was made there. The beautiful Regent's Park is the famous residential area of Marylebone. Medical services are offered in Wimpole and Harley streets.

3902. Dorn, Jennifer, and Alex Saunderson. "The literary world of Jerome K. Jerome." British Heritage 18, no. 6 (1997): 50.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Focuses on the late Jerome K. Jerome who was an actor, a well-known playwright, editor of a literary magazine and an author. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...Jerome's office provided the setting for Friday afternoon tea parties attended by George Bernard Shaw, J.M. Barrie, Arthur Conan Doyle, and other great writers who contributed to The Idler...."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3903. Dorn, William S. "Bill Dorn Continues His Fixation with Important Dates: Adventurous Appointments With The Three Gables." Baker Street West 1 6, no. 2 (2000): 22-24.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3904. ———. Cooking for Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson : British recipes for two persons. Denver: Pencil Productions, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 23 cm. Each recipe is preceded by a quotation from the 1960 Doubleday edition of The complete Sherlock Holmes by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle with page no. in brackets./ Includes index. British recipes for two persons; Recipes for two persons. // "Is sufficiently up-to-date to have nutritional values for each of the 60 recipes, many of them (including ships biscuits, toad in the hole, and Sussex fritters) not found in more traditional cookbooks; it is spiral-bound to open flat, with coated pages to allow spills to be wiped off easily."
3905. ———. "Did Watson Write The Case of the Man Who Was Wanted?" Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 44, no. 4 (1994): 233-239.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Using the work of statisticians Mosteller and Wallace on literary "fingerprints," the author presents information on the possibility of Watsonian authorship.
3906. ———. "I Have Been Looking Up the Dates..." Baker Street West 1 6, no. 2 (2000): 17-21.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3907. ———. The limericks of Sherlock Holmes. Denver: Pencil Productions Ltd, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes 64 new limericks about A. Conan Doyle's creations: 1 for Sherlock Holmes, 1 for Dr. Watson, 1 for each of the original stories, 1 of each of the two apocryphal stories
3908. ———. "Quite a Little Parlour Game." Baker Street West 1 3, no. 1 (1997): 8-12.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3909. ———. A study guide to Sherlock Holmes. Denver, CO: Pencil Productions, 2000.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references and indexes. Contents: v.1. The novels, the adventures, and the memoirs -- v.2. The return, his last bow, and the case book //
3910. ———. "Sundry Overlooked Dates in the Canon." Baker Street West 1 9, no. 1 (2003): 17-19, 35.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3911. ———. "When Was the Gasfitters' Ball?" Baker Street Journal: An Irregular Quarterly of Sherlockiana 53, no. 1 (2003): 41-43.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3912. Dorn, William S., Nancy Beiman, Philip Cornell, J. F. Christ, and Ernest Bloomfield Zeisler. A day-by-day chronology of Mr. Sherlock Holmes according to Zeisler and Christ. Denver, CO: Pencil Productions, Ltd, 2002.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2002094349. Includes bibliographical references (p. 49) and indexes //
3913. Dorn, William S., and Ian Malcolm Earlson. The dogs of Sherlock Holmes. Denver: Pencil Productions Ltd, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references (p. 99-100) // Offers the dog's side of the story for 20 of the 60 dogs which appear in the Canon. Quite often, as the dogs reveal, Holmes' deductions were based on faulty logic and less than the full story. Was the Hound of the Baskervilles a vicious monster or a children's playmate?
3914. Dorn, William S., and Kathryn Elliott. The graven images of Sherlock Holmes 2006 calendar. S.l: s.n, 2005.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references. Contents: Calendar -- Alphabetical listing of the 60 cases with event dates -- Sources and acknowledgements // The calendar is illustrated with photographs of various Holmsian three-dimensional artifacts, including busts, steins, statues, etc., walking stick grips 3915. ———. The many places of Sherlock Holmes Sherlock Holmes calendar 2002. Denver, CO: The Sherlock Store, 2001.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references //

3916. ———. Sherlock Holmes 2004 calendar. S.l, 2003.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references //

3917. ———. Sherlock Holmes calendar 2000. Denver, CO: Elliott/Dorn, 1999.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references //

3918. Dougherty, Stephen. "Foucault in the House of Usher: Some Historical Permutations in Poe's Gothic." Papers on Language & Literature 37, no. 1 (2001): 3.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Interprets the poem 'The Fall of the House of Usher,' by Edgar Allan Poe in the context of race relations and a biological nightmare scenario. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...Indeed, the pattern has been revisited and reworked by countless Gothic stylists since Poe. Nathaniel Hawthorne, George Washington Cable, Arthur Conan Doyle, Charlotte Perkins Gilman, Ambrose Bierce, H. P. Lovecraft, William Faulkner, Eudora Welty, Angela Carter, Joyce Carol Oates, Isabel Allende, and others would all write fictions that effectively pay homage to Poe's 'Usher.'"

3919. Douglas, Carole Nelson. The adventuress : an Irene Adler novel. 1st mass market ed. New York: Tom Doherty Associates, 2004.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill., map ; 17 cm. "A Tom Doherty Associates book." Originally published in 1991 as "Good morning Irene". Map illustrations by Darla Tagrin ; maps by Carole Nelson Douglas. Includes selected bibliography. //

3920. ———. Another scandal in Bohemia: an Irene Adler novel. New York: Tom Doherty Associates Book, 1994.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 93043825 //

3921. ———. Castle Rouge: an Irene Adler novel. 1st ed. New York: Forge, 2002.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2002026057. Includes bibliographical references (p. [537]-538) //

3922. ———. Chapel noir : an Irene Adler novel. 1st mass market ed. New York: Forge, 2002.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 17 cm. "A Tom Doherty Associates book." "A novel of suspense featuring Irene Adler and Sherlock Holmes, and Jack the Ripper"--book cover. Includes bibliographical references and publisher's advertisements at the end. "Forge mystery"--spine. // 3923. ———. Chapel noir : an Irene Adler novel. 1st ed. New York: Forge, 2001.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- map ; 22 cm. "A Tom Doherty Associates book." Includes bibliographical references. //

3924. ———. Chapel noir : an Irene Adler novel. 1st ed. New York: Tom Doherty Associates Book, 2001.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 22 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. (491]-492) //

3925. ———. Chapel noir : an Irene Adler novel. 1st mass market ed. New York: Tom Doherty Associates Book, 2002.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. An excerpt from the author's book, "Castle rouge" appears on pages [473]-485. "A Forge book." Includes bibliographical references (p. (469]-470). // "The story thrusts readers into one of the darkest periods of criminal fact and fiction when two courtesans are found brutally slaughtered in the lavish boudoir of a Paris house that dare not speak its name. No woman should ever see such horrors,

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

authorities declare, but a powerful sponsor has insisted that Irene investigate the case, along with her faithful companion, sheltered parson's daughter Penelope Huxleigh. Yet does anyone really seek the truth, or do they wish only to bury it with the dead women?" "For there is a worse horror that will draw Irene and her archrival, Sherlock Holmes, into a duel of wits with a fiendish opponent: These Paris killings mimic a series of gruesome murders that terrorized London only months before. In a dangerous and disreputable part of town known as Whitechapel."--BOOK JACKET.

3926. ———. Femme fatale an Irene Alder novel. 1st ed. New York: Forge, 2003.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2003046851 //
3927. ———. Good night, Mr. Holmes. New York: Forge, 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 19 cm. Scuttlebutt May 2005. //
3928. ———. Irene's last waltz. 1st ed. New York: Forge, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3929. ———. Midnight Louie's pet detectives. 1st mass market ed. New York: Forge, 2000.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 98012431. Daisy and the silver quail / Anne Perry -- Where does a herd of elephants go? / Toni L. P. Kelner -- The dark one / Lilian Jackson Braun -- Dr. Couch saves a bird / Nancy Pickard -- Fetch / Dorothy Cannell -- Kittens take detection 101 / Jan Grape -- El lobo rides alone / Bill Crider -- A hamster of no importance / Esther M. Friesner and Walter J. Stutzman -- Mandy: "Free to good home" / J. A. Jance -- On the take / Carolyn Wheat -- Harbinger / Jean Hager -- Final reunion / Lisa Lepovetsky -- Go to the devil / Barbara Paul -- A Baker Street irregular / Carole Nelson Douglas -- Masked marauders of the mossbelt / Bruce Holland Rogers -- Final vows / Elizabeth Ann Scarborough -- The cage / Ed Gorman. // An anthology comprising seventeen mystery stories with animals as sleuths. The heroes and heroines range from cats to birds, to an elephant. Each entry is accompanied by an introduction. "Contents include her own story 'A Baker Street Irregular' (in which Midnight Louie meets Irene Adler and solves a mystery for Sherlock Holmes)."
3930. ———. Midnight Louie's pet detectives. 1st ed. New York: Forge, 1998.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 98012431. Daisy and the silver quail / Anne Perry -- Where does a herd of elephants go? / Toni L. P. Kelner -- The dark one / Lilian Jackson Braun -- Dr. Couch saves a bird / Nancy Pickard -- Fetch / Dorothy Cannell -- Kittens take detection 101 / Jan Grape -- El lobo rides alone / Bill Crider -- A hamster of no importance / Esther M. Friesner and Walter J. Stutzman -- Mandy: "Free to good home" / J. A. Jance -- On the take / Carolyn Wheat -- Harbinger / Jean Hager -- Final reunion / Lisa Lepovetsky -- Go to the devil / Barbara Paul -- A Baker Street irregular / Carole Nelson Douglas -- Masked marauders of the mossbelt / Bruce Holland Rogers -- Final vows / Elizabeth Ann Scarborough -- The cage / Ed Gorman. // An anthology comprising seventeen mystery stories with animals as sleuths. The heroes and heroines range from cats to birds, to an elephant. Each entry is accompanied by an introduction. "Contents include her own story 'A Baker Street Irregular' (in which Midnight Louie meets Irene Adler and solves a mystery for Sherlock Holmes)."
3931. ———. Spider dance a novel of suspense featuring Irene Adler and Sherlock Holmes. 1st ed. New York: Tom Doherty Associates/Forge, 2004.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2004053282 //
3932. Douglas, Carole Nelson, and Glenn Harrington. A soul of steel. New York: Forge, 2006.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Irene Adler and her husband, Godfrey Norton, are enjoying coffee at a Parisian sidewalk cafe, when a stranger collapses at their feet. When he recovers, he reveals that he is looking for the doctor who treated him at the battle of Maiwand, whose life is in danger and whose name is John H. Watson 3933. Douglas, J. Yellowlees, and Andrew Hargadon. "The pleasures of immersion and engagement: schemas, scripts and the fifth business." Digital Creativity 12, no. 3 (2001): 153.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "Presently, designers of interactive narratives and video games have only a slender understanding of the aesthetic experiences their audiences and users seek. Using schema theory, this study articulates the two varieties of aesthetic pleasures that users of interactive works enjoy: immersion and engagement. It uses schema theory to define the characteristics of immersion and engagement in both conventional and new media." Includes a reference to Holmes. "...Sherlock Holmes, famously, had Watson to bounce ideas off and to help him unravel clues, often unwittingly, and even Inspector Morse had the much-put-upon Sergeant Lewis. Both Watson and Lewis performed, like every good agent, the function of sniffing down false leads and interviewing suspects while their respective bosses got down to the real detective work and eventually solved the case--significantly, never without some intervention from their sidekicks. Of course, both agents also function as narrative foils to their bosses. Watson and Lewis are famously dim where their superiors are quick-witted, badly read and poorly mannered where Holmes and Morse are educated, cultured men of the world..."

3934. Douglass, Paul. "Reading the wreckage: De-encrypting Eliot's aesthetics of empire." Twentieth Century Literature 43, no. 1 (1997): 1.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents an analysis of the book 'The Waste of Land,' by T.S. Eliot. Includes a passing reference to Doyle. "...Most of all, the curse motif presents a strong parallel between the Tut story and The Waste Land. Five months after entering the tomb, in April 1923, Lord Carnarvon died. Rumors of a "curse" ("Death shall come on swift wings to him that toucheth the tomb of the pharaoh") sprang up immediately and have refused to die. Fear of occult revenge was so strong that two days after the news of Lord Carnarvon's death, the Daily Express ran this headline: 'Egyptian Collectors in Panic / Sudden Rush to Hand Over their Treasures to Museum / Groundless Fears' (April 7, 1923). Arthur Conan Doyle fed curse fears that spring of 1923 by crediting them (el-Mallakh 95)...."

3935. Dover, Caitlin. "Books." Print 61, no. 5 (2007): 22-22.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // This article offers information on the cover of the book "The Boy's Own Paper." The covers of Penguin's "Boys Own" book series, comprised of titles from the likes of Arthur Conan Doyle, revive that brio with bold, monochromatic illustrations and inventive hand lettering. Art director Coralie Bickford-Smith worked with four illustrators, plus lettering artist Stephen Raw, and carefully researched period publications and ephemera.

3936. Dow, Jeffery F. Fatal habits: an appreciation of the literary Sherlock Holmes. Holmes Beach, Fla.: The Pleasant Places of Florida, 1997.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references //

3937. Dow, Wanda, and Pleasant Places of Florida. City ablaze. Trinity, Fla.: The Pleasant Places of Florida, 2004.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Dr. Watson is alone at 221B when he is drugged and kidnapped. When he recovers, he finds himself in Buckingham Palace, where he is asked to help with an unusual problem 3938. Dowling, Linda C. "Recent Studies in the Nineteenth Century." SEL Studies in English Literature 1500-1900 39, no. 4 (1999): 791-825.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Includes passing references to Doyle and Holmes. "...Laurie Langbauer's Novels of Everyday Life: The Series in English Fiction, 1850-1930 begins by telling us how reading nineteenth-century novels beguiled the 'empty Illinois summers' of her 'lonely and uncertain adolescence' (p. 1). Her argument explores the notion of 'the ordinary' both as a political category used to confine and demean women and as it plays out (no less politically) in a group of mostly late-Victorian and Edwardian series novels. Among her more predictable choices for analysis are Anthony Trollope's Palliser and Barsetshire series, Arthur Conan Doyle's Sherlock Holmes stories, Margaret Oliphant's Carlingford chronicles, Dorothy Richardson's Pilgrimage series, and John Galsworthy's Forsyte saga; more surprising selections are the novels of Charlotte Yonge and Virginia Woolf....Carole G. Silver's Strange and Secret Peoples: Fairies and Victorian Consciousness announces itself as an 'archaeology,' but it is obviously and attractively a labor of love. The dreariness of the compulsory race-class-gender organization into chapters on dwarves, changelings, the fairy host or slaugh, and the swan-maiden or fairy-bride is, as it were, magically dispelled as soon as one realizes that these are merely occasions for discussing the choicest discoveries--from the agogwe, the mysterious man-

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

faced monsters from Africa (p. 141) to the all-but-suburban English wood sprites--Silver has culled from her vast reading in fairy lore and the Victorian folklorists. The book is handsomely illustrated. A concluding chapter bids 'Farewell to the Fairies' by recounting the curiously pathetic story of a celebrated hoax, the Cottingley fairy photographs of 1917. Defended by Doyle, undone by their too-fashionable frocks, and betrayed by one of their two creators, these fairies, like all fairies, according to Silver, are 'never quite believed in.' They are 'always leaving but never gone' (p. 192)...."

3939. Downie, Richard. "Carruthers at the crease." The Daily Telegraph (London), June 11, 2001: 20.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "While England resumed hostilities with Australia on the cricket field yesterday, an equally keenly-contested fixture was being resolved on the green at West Wycombe, Buckinghamshire. Hal Cazalet, the grandson of P G Wodehouse and a member of the Wodehouse XI, took to the field against Rik Grandia and his Sherlock Holmes team in the annual game between the two sides. The teams, sporting Victorian costumes and playing to the 1895 laws of cricket, contested a rain-affected game. Flapping beards, unwieldy hats and a stiff breeze combined to keep flowing shots to a minimum. Dutch-born Mr Grandia, who dressed as Carruthers, a character from the Sherlock Holmes novels, admitted that he hardly understood the rules."
3940. Downing, Ben. "An old gypsy nature." New Criterion 16, no. 10 (1998): 69.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Reviews the book 'Selected Letters of Robert Louis Stevenson,' edited by Ernest Mehew. Includes a reference to Doyle. "...Spanning the years from September 1868, when R.L.S. was seventeen, right up to a few days before his death in 1894, the 317 letters chosen by Mehew range across the broad spectrum of moods, from the goofball to the saturnine, in which Stevenson operated. No less diverse is the roster of his recipients: Stevenson's parents, cousin, oldest friends, and adored ex-nurse, Cummy, at the homier end of the list, and, at the more glamorous pole, a group of luminaries that includes Twain, Yeats, Rodin, Hardy, Henry James, J. M. Barrie, Edmund Gosse, George Meredith, George Saintsbury, John Addington Symonds, Arthur Conan Doyle, and William Dean Howells. For each correspondent, whether famous or obscure, Mehew provides a concise footnote explaining his or her relationship to R.L.S. Even more helpfully, his footnotes apprise us of the circumstances surrounding and prompting the letters..."
3941. Downing, Eric. "Paraphotography and the Ent-wicklung of Bildung in Thomas Mann's Der Zauberberg." Germanic Review 76, no. 2 (2001): 172.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Examines how the properties of German novels within the Bildungsroman genre are reconfigured with the insinuation of photography in the theme of the book 'Der Zauberberg,' by Thomas Mann. Includes reference to Doyle. "...Fragwürdigstes' does not, of course, initiate Hans Castorp into the esoteric machinations of an eighteenth-century secret society but rather into those of a quite topical and recognizably twentieth-century one, one that famously occupied such figures as Conan Doyle, Houdini, Yeats, Rilke (and even, let it be said, Freud): spiritualism, or rather, 'mediumistic studies.' Mann based his chapter on the work of Dr. Freiherr Albert von Schrenck-Notzing, a Munich-based doctor of sexual pathology whom Freud cites and whose seances featuring the well-known medium 'Eva C.' both Conan Doyle and Houdini attended...." Doyle also mentioned in notes 15, 17, and 39.
3942. Doyle, Adrian, and John Dickson Carr. The exploits of Sherlock Holmes a collection of Sherlock Holmes adventures based on unsolved cases from the original Sir Arthur Conan Doyle stories. New York: Gramercy Books, 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 98033251 //
3943. Doyle, Adrian, John Dickson Carr, and Cristian de la Maza. Las hazañas de Sherlock Holmes, (Club Diógenes). Madrid: Valdemar, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: La aventura de los siete relojes ; La aventura de la hacienda Trelawney ; La aventura de los jugadores de cera ; La aventura del milagro de Highgate ; La aventura del Baronet Atezado ; La aventura de la habitación cerrada // 3944. Doyle, Arthur Conan. The Adventure of Silver Blaze: a Sherlock Holmes adventure. Paisley: Gleniffer Press.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3945. ———. The adventure of the creeping man. Niagara Falls, New York: Durkin Hayes, 1997. Sound Recording (cassette) 1 sound cassette (82 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 1 7/8 ips. Read by Edward Raleigh. //
3946. ———. The Adventure of the Empty House. Paisley: Gleniffer Press, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Limited edition of 200 copies //
3947. ———. The Adventure of the Engineer's Thumb. Paisley: Gleniffer Press, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Limited edition of 210 copies //
3948. ———. The adventures and memoirs of Sherlock Holmes. 2001 Modern Library ed. New York: Modern Library, 2001.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 00054815. Includes bibliographical references. Introduction by John Berendt. //
3949. ———. The adventures and memoirs of Sherlock Holmes, (Penguin classics). London: Penguin, 2001.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 20 cm. Introduction by Ian Pears ; notes by Ed Glinert. //
3950. ———. The Adventures Of Gerard. Library Edition: Tantor Media Inc, 2005. Sound Recording.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3951. ———. Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. New York: Book-of-the-Month Club, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3952. ———. The adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Edited by Anonymous. 1st ed. Norman, OR: Blacks Magic Classics, 2006.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ID: 4493; Arthur Conan Doyle ; [edited by] Alexander Black, Troy D Cherry.; 0607; p. cm //
3953. ———. The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Edited by Leslie S. Klinger, (The Sherlock Holmes Reference Library). Indianapolis: Gasogene Books, 1998.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Introduction by Jon L. Lellenberg. //
3954. ———. The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. s.l.: Aerie Books, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes a foreword and afterword by R. L. Fisher; Scuttlebutt Dec. 1994 //
3955. ———. The adventures of Sherlock Holmes, (Scholastic classics). New York: F. Watts, 2007.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2006005820. Contents: A scandal in Bohemia -- The red-headed league -- A case of identity -- The Boscombe Valley mystery -- The five orange pips -- The man with the twisted lip -- The blue carbuncle -- The speckled band -- The engineer's thumb -- The noble bachelor -- The beryl coronet -- The copper beeches //
3956. ———. The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes, (Kennebec Large Print perennial favorites collection). Waterville, ME: Kennebec Large Print, 2010.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 24 cm. A scandal in Bohemia -- The red-headed league -- A case of identity -- The Boscombe Valley mystery -- The five orange pips -- The man with the twisted lip -- The blue carbuncle -- The speckled band -- The engineer's thumb -- The noble bachelor -- The Beryl coronet -- The copper beeches. //
3957. ———. The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes, (Arcturus classics). London: Arcturus, 2010.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
3958. ———. The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes, (Fireside series; Qualitas classics). Calgary: Qualitas Pub., 2010.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 23 cm. Originally publ.: London : G. Newnes Ltd., 1892. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3959. ———. The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Vancouver, BC: AD Classic/Engage Books, 2010.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 24 cm. A scandal in Bohemia -- The Red-Headed League -- A case of identity -
 - The Boscombe Valley mystery -- The five orange pips -- The man with the twisted lip -- The adventure of the blue carbuncle -- The adventure of the speckled band -- The adventure of the engineer's thumb -- The adventure of the noble bachelor -- The adventure of the beryl coronet -- The adventure of the copper beeches. First published by George Newnes Ltd. in 1892. //
3960. ———. The adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Beverly Hills, Calif.: Publishing Mills, 2002. Sound Recording (cassette) 4 sound cassettes (6 hr.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog. Unabridged. // "The famous detective uses his skills to rescue a king from blackmail, capture an ingenious bank robber, and save an innocent son accused of patricide, in a collection that includes 'A Scandal in Bohemia,' 'The Red-Headed League,' 'The Blue Carbuncle,' and 'The Speckled Band.'" //
3961. ———. The adventures of Sherlock Holmes radio dramatization. Hampton, NH: BBC Audiobooks America,
 2000. Sound Recording (CD) 12 sound discs (9 hrs.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. BBC radio collection. Compact discs. Title from container.
 Issued in three containers. Participants: "A BBC Radio 4 full cast dramatization"--Container cover insert. //
3962. ———. The adventures of Sherlock Holmes. [Volumes 1-3]. New York: BDD Audio, 2001. Sound Recording (cassette) 6 sound cassettes (ca. 9 hrs.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog, Dolby processed. At head of title: BBC Radio presents. "Full cast dramatization."--Container. Originally released in 1991 in three separate volumes. //
3963. ———. The adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Vol. 1. [New York]: BBC Worldwide; Hampton, NH : BBC
 Audiobooks America, 2000. Sound Recording (CD) 4 sound discs (ca. 3 hrs.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. BBC audio radio collection. Compact disc. "The finest in audio drama"--Container. Title and description from container. Participants: A BBC Radio 4 full cast dramatization.
 //
3964. ———. The adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Vol. 2. [New York]: BBC Worldwide ; Hampton, NH : BBC
 Audiobooks America, 2000. Sound Recording (CD) 4 sound discs (ca. 3 hrs.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. BBC audio radio collection. Compact disc. "The finest in audio drama"--Container. Title and description from container. Participants: A BBC Radio 4 full cast dramatization.
 //
3965. ———. The adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Vol. 3. [New York]: BBC Worldwide ; Hampton, NH : BBC
 Audiobooks America, 2000. Sound Recording (CD) 4 sound discs (ca. 3 hrs.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. BBC audio radio collection. Compact disc. "The finest in audio drama"--Container. Title and description from container. Participants: A BBC Radio 4 full cast dramatization.
 //
3966. ———. The adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Vol. 3. London: BBC Worldwide, 2005. Sound Recording (CD) 4 sound discs (CD) (2 hr., 55 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. BBC Radio collection. Unabridged. // "Arthur Conan Doyle's fictional detective is one of the most enduring popular sleuths of all time. On 3 November 1989, Sherlock Holmes was given a new voice by Clive Merrison in 'A Study in Scarlet', co-starring Michael Williams as the faithful Doctor Watson. Nearly nine years later the same two lead actors, team of dramatists and directors completed a unique project: the dramatisation of the complete canon of 56 Sherlock Holmes short stories and four novels. Now for the first time, 12 of these ever-popular adventures are available individually on CD."
3967. ———. The Adventures of Sherlock Homes. Ware: Wordsworth, 1995.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Sept 1995 //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

3968. ———. Basike cun lie quan = The hound of the Baskervilles. 1st ed, (Fu'ermosi tan an quan ji). Taipei Shi: Lian pu wen hua shi ye gu fen you xian gong si, 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Translation of: The hound of the baskervilles. Basike cun lie quan [Yase Kenan Dao'er jue shi zhu ; Wang Zhiyi yi]. / Uniform Title: Hound of the Baskervilles. Chinese // 3969. ———. Basikewei'er di lie quan. 1st ed, (Fu'ermosi tan an ji xi lie). Xianggang: Li wen chu ban she : Fa xing Li yuan shu bao she, 1998.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 20 cm. / Uniform Title: Hound of the Baskervilles. Chinese //
3970. ———. Baskervilles hund. [Copenhagen]: Sesam, 2002.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Danish. oversat og bearbejdet af Arne Herløv Petersen. //
3971. ———. Baskervilles hund, (Mine første klassikere). [Copenhagen]: Sesam, 2003.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Danish. oversat og bearbejdet af Arne Herløv Petersen. //
3972. ———. Baskervilles hund. Translated by Lene Ewald Hesel, (Klassiske historier). Holte: Flachs, 2001.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Danish. Illustreret af Mark Oldroyd //
3973. ———. Baskervilles hund, (Gyldendals udødelige, 38). [Copenhagen]: Gyldendal, 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Danish. på dansk ved Ellen Kirk. [illustrationer: Robert Jensen]. //
3974. ———. BBC Radio presents Sherlock Holmes, the valley of fear. New York: BDD Audio ; Prince Frederick, MD ; [Distributed by] Recorded Books Inc., 1998. Sound Recording (cassette) 2 sound cassettes (180 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog, Dolby system. "An audio dramatization"--Container. Abridged. //
3975. ———. BBC Radio presents The casebook of Sherlock Holmes. Volume 1. New York, N.Y.: Bantam Doubleday Dell Audio Pub., 1996. Sound Recording (cassette) 2 sound cassettes (180 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog, Dolby processed. //
3976. ———. BBC Radio presents The casebook of Sherlock Holmes. Volume 2. New York, N.Y.: Bantam Doubleday Dell Audio Pub., 1996. Sound Recording (cassette) 2 sound cassettes (175 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog, Dolby processed. //
3977. ———. BBC Radio presents The return of Sherlock Holmes. Vol. 2. New York: Bantam Doubleday Dell Audio Pub., 1994. Sound Recording (cassette) 2 sound cassettes (180 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog, Dolby processed. //
3978. ———. BBC Radio presents The return of Sherlock Holmes. Vol. 3. New York: Bantam Doubleday Dell Audio Pub., 1994. Sound Recording (cassette) 2 sound cassettes (180 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog, Dolby processed. //
3979. ———. Beroemde avonturen van Sherlock Holmes, (Werelds meest geliefde boeken, dl. 70). Amsterdam [etc.]: The Reader's Digest, 2002.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Dutch. met ill. van David Johnson. [vert. uit het Engels Hans Dorrestijn ... et al.]. //
3980. ———. The best of Sherlock Holmes. New Rochelle, N.Y.: Great American Audio Corp., 1994. Sound Recording (cassette) 4 sound cassettes (ca. 3 hrs.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog, Dolby processed. "Original broadcasts from radio's golden age"--Container. //
3981. ———. The best Sherlock Holmes stories chosen by the author. Munslow, Shropshire: Hearststone, 1995.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 96134056; Scuttlebutt Nov 1995 // "With the twelve stories that Conan Doyle selected for a competition set by The Strand Magazine in 1927, plus two later stories that he regretted were too recent to qualify, and his explanation of 'How I Made My List'."

3982. ———. The Boscombe Valley Mystery from the Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. [S.l.]: Post Productions, 2005. Sound Recording 1 sound disc (ca. 60 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. "Adapted for audio" //
3983. ———. The Boscombe Valley Mystery from The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Uniform Title: Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Selections. Chesapeake, VA: Post Productions; Distributed by Greenbrier International, 2006. Sound Recording 1 sound disc.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. "Adapted for audio." // "A nail-biting mystery is for all to enjoy in this classic tale from the Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. The ever faithful companion, Watson, tells of his travels with Holmes to the Boscombe Valley to investigate the murder of a local farmer. The victim's son has been accused of this terrible crime but his behavior leads Holmes to suspect there is more to this case than the local authorities have been able to determine. Holmes investigation broadens the search resulting in shocking revelations and the most unpredictable conclusions. Listeners of all ages will be intrigued by this tale from the greatest detective of all time" -- container.
3984. ———. A Brixtoni rejtély. Budapest: Hunga-print, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- A Study in Scarlet. Hungarian. Sherlock Holmes történetei //
3985. ———. A Case of identity and other stories. New York: Optimus Printing Company, 1919.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Citations: De Waal C443. Contents: A case of identity -- A scandal in Bohemia -- The man from archangel -- The captain of the "Pole-Star." -- John Barrington Cowles //
3986. ———. The Casebook of Sherlock Holmes. New York: BDD Audio, 1998. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog. // "Sherlock Holmes and his sidekick, Dr. Watson, venture into the bowels of Victorian London to investigate a series of crimes in a collection of short stories."
3987. ———. The Case-Book of Sherlock Holmes. Edited by Leslie S. Klinger, (The Sherlock Holmes Reference Library). Indianapolis: Gasogene Books, 2006.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Introduction by Christopher Redmond. //
3988. ———. The Casebook of Sherlock Holmes. Vol. 1. London: BBC Worldwide, 2005. Sound Recording 4 sound discs (CD) (2 hr., 55 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. BBC Radio collection. Unabridged. // "Arthur Conan Doyle's fictional detective is one of the most enduring popular sleuths of all time. On 3 November 1989, Sherlock Holmes was given a new voice by Clive Merrison in 'A Study in Scarlet', co-starring Michael Williams as the faithful Doctor Watson. Nearly nine years later the same two lead actors, team of dramatists and directors completed a unique project: the dramatisation of the complete canon of 56 Sherlock Holmes short stories and four novels. Now for the first time, 12 of these ever-popular adventures are available individually on CD."
3989. ———. The Casebook of Sherlock Holmes. Vol. 2. London: BBC Worldwide, 2005. Sound Recording 4 sound discs (CD) (2 hr., 55 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. BBC Radio collection. Unabridged. // "Arthur Conan Doyle's fictional detective is one of the most enduring popular sleuths of all time. On 3 November 1989, Sherlock Holmes was given a new voice by Clive Merrison in 'A Study in Scarlet', co-starring Michael Williams as the faithful Doctor Watson. Nearly nine years later the same two lead actors, team of dramatists and directors completed a unique project: the dramatisation of the complete canon of 56 Sherlock Holmes short stories and four novels. Now for the first time, 12 of these ever-popular adventures are available individually on CD."
3990. ———. The Casebook of Sherlock Holmes. Vol. 3. London: BBC Worldwide, 2005. Sound Recording 4 sound discs (CD) (2 hr., 55 min.).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. BBC Radio collection. Unabridged. // "Arthur Conan Doyle's fictional detective is one of the most enduring popular sleuths of all time. On 3 November 1989, Sherlock Holmes was given a new voice by Clive Merrison in 'A Study in Scarlet', co-starring Michael Williams as the faithful Doctor Watson. Nearly nine years later the same two lead actors, team of dramatists and directors completed a unique project: the dramatisation of the complete canon of 56 Sherlock Holmes short stories and four novels. Now for the first time, 12 of these ever-popular adventures are available individually on CD."

3991. ———. Challenger and company : the complete adventures of Professor Challenger and his intrepid team. [England?]: Leonaur, 2007.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 22 cm. The lost world -- The poison belt -- The land of mists -- The disintegration machine -- When the world screamed. // The lost world. In Maple White's sketch book are drawings of the prehistoric beasts, birds and ape men which he has seen on his travels. Professor Challenger, excited when he sees the drawings, decides to find out if there is a Lost World in the Amazon forest where dinosaurs, pterodactyls and ape men still exist. The poison belt. "Nothing could be done. The thing was universal and beyond our human knowledge or control. It was death--painless but inevitable--death for young and old, for weak and strong, for rich and poor, without hope or possibility of escape." Just returned from his famous adventure in the Lost World, the resourceful Professor George Challenger faces his greatest danger yet: the planet will pass through a belt of poisonous ether, and mankind might not survive. Despite the professor's dire warnings about the coming catastrophe, no one listens. As the poison enters the atmosphere, terror and madness sweep the globe. Cities are wracked by riots, societies crumble, and soon all communication ceases. Professor Challenger and his friends, barricaded in a sealed room, can only watch their planet die. The land of mists. The death of his wife brings Malone, Enid, and Professor Challenger into the realm of spiritualism, both real and fake. The disintegration machine. Malone and Professor Challenger interview a Latvian scientist who has invented a machine which breaks down human bodies into molecular clouds and then reassembles them. Professor Challenger sets off to prove that the Earth itself is a living entity by giving it a painful shock.
3992. ———. Classic adventures of Sherlock Holmes. New York: Barnes & Noble, 1998.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Oct 1998. Red-headed league -- Case of identity -- Boscombe Valley mystery -- Beryl coronet -- Copper beeches -- Scandal in Bohemia -- Speckled band. //
3993. ———. The collected Brigadier Gerard stories. Munslow, Shropshire: Hearthstone, 1995.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 96127611; Scuttlebutt Nov 1995 // "Has an informative introduction by John Whitehead and presents the saga in chronological order."
3994. ———. The coming of the fairies. Bison Books ed. Lincoln: University of Nebraska Press, 2006.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2006013101. Contents: How the matter arose -- The first published account, Strand, Christmas number 1920 -- Reception of the first photographs -- The second series -- Observations of a clairvoyant in the Cottingley Glen, August 1921 -- Independent evidence for fairies -- Some subsequent cases -- The theosophic view of fairies. Includes bibliographical references //
3995. ———. The coming of the fairies. London: Pavilion, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Originally published: London : Hodder and Stoughton, 1922. //
3996. ———. The complete Brigadier Gerard, (Barnes & Noble Library of essential reading). New York: Barnes & Noble Books, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2006271648. Contents: The exploits of Brigadier Gerard -- The adventures of Brigadier Gerard. Includes bibliographical references (p. 383-384) //
3997. ———. The complete Brigadier Gerard. Edited by Owen Dudley Edwards, (Canongate Classics 57). Edinburgh: Canongate Books, 1995.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: The exploits of Brigadier Gerard -- The adventures of Brigadier Gerard. Edited and introduced by Owen Dudley Edwards. //
3998. ———. The Complete Brigadier Gerard Stories. Edinburgh: Canongate, 2010.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

3999. ———. The complete Professor Challenger stories. the lost world, the poison belt , the land of mist, the disintegration machine, when the world screamed. Amsterdam, The Netherlands: Fredonia, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 21 cm. The lost world.--The poison belt.--The land of mist.--The disintegration machine.--When the world screamed. [First published in 1952]. //
4000. ———. The Complete Sherlock Holmes: Barnes & Noble, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Dec. 1994 //
4001. ———. The Complete Sherlock Holmes. Lexington, KY: Sherlock Holmes Collection, 2010.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 26 cm. A study in scarlet -- The sign of four -- The hound of the Baskervilles -- The valley of fear -- The adventures of Sherlock Holmes -- The memoirs of Sherlock Holmes -- The return of Sherlock Holmes -- His last bow. Four novels and four short story collections in one volume. // 4002. ———. Das Fiasko von Los Amigos : gesammelte Abenteuergeschichten. Translated by Reinhard Hillich, (Haffmans-Kriminalroman). Zürich: Haffmans, 2000.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 19 cm. Hrsg., übers. sowie mit einem Nachw. von Reinhard Hillich. // 4003. ———. Das Tal der Angst. Translated by Hans Wolf, (Sherlock Holmes; Bd. 4). Zürich: Kein und Aber, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Neu übers. von Hans Wolf. //
4004. ———. Das Zeichen der Vier. Translated by Leslie Giger, (Sherlock Holmes; Bd. 2). Zürich: Kein und Aber, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Neu übers. von Leslie Giger. //
4005. ———. De complete avonturen van Sherlock Holmes. Oud-Beijerland: Classic Press, 2006.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Dutch. [vert. uit het Engels door Mariëlla Snel ... et al. bew. door Els Musterd-de Haas]. //
4006. ———. De fires tegn. [Copenhagen]: Aschehoug, 2006.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Danish. på dansk ved Verner Seemann. //
4007. ———. De hond van de baskervilles : een Sherlock Holmes-mysterie in 5 bedrijven en een epiloog. Alkmaar: Vink, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Dutch. Omslag vermeldt: 1187. bew. door Luc Vandaele. //
4008. ———. De terugkeer van Sherlock Holmes, (Werelds meest geliefde boeken, dl. 80). Amsterdam [etc.]: The Reader's Digest, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Dutch. met ill. van David Johnson. [vert. uit het Engels door Mariëlla de Kuyper]. // Vijftien speurdersverhalen over de beroemde Engelse detective.
4009. ———. De verloren wereld en andere verhalen, (Werelds meest geliefde boeken, dl. 98). Amsterdam [etc.]: The Reader's Digest, 2007.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Dutch. Table of Contents: Bevat: De verloren wereld. - Oorspr. Nederlandse uitg.: Amsterdam : Van Looy, 1925. - Vert. van The lost world. - 1912 ; De gifgordel. - Vert. van: The poison belt. - 1913 ; De desintegratiemachine. - Vert. van: The disintegration machine. - 1927 ; Toen de wereld gilte. - Vert. van: When the world screamed. - 1928. [vert. uit het Engels door Cornelis Helling ... et al.]. // Bundeling van een roman, een novelle en 2 korte verhalen waarin de avontuurlijke maar eigenzinnige Schotse zoöloog en ontdekkingsreiziger professor Challenger centraal staat.
4010. ———. Den røde cirkel og andre noveller. [Copenhagen]: Aschehoug, 2006.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Danish. på dansk ved Verner Seeman. Oversættelse i udvalg af: His last bow ; The return of Sherlock Holmes. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4011. ———. Der blaue Karfunkel. Stäfa: Th. Gut Verlag, 1996.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 19 cm. illustriert von Roland Thalmann. Uniform Title: Adventure of the blue carbuncle. German. // 4012. ———. Der blaue Karfunkel. 1. Aufl., Erstmals als Omnibus-Taschenbuch ed, (Omnibus; Sherlock Holmes). München: Omnibus, 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 183 mm x 125 mm. Das gesprenkelte Band. Die fünf Orangenkerne. Der blaue Karfunkel. //
4013. ———. Der blaue Karfunkel, (Manesse-Bibliothek der Weltliteratur). Zürich: Manesse-Verl., 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 17 cm. Aus dem Engl. übers. von Trude Fein. Nachw. von Werner Morlang. Uniform Title: The adventure of the blue carbuncle. German. // 4014. ———. Der blaue Karfunkel Erzählung. Translated by Trude Fein. Zürich: Manesse-Verl., 2007.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Aus dem Engl. übers. von Trude Fein. Nachw. von Werner Morlang. //
4015. ———. Der Hund der Baskervilles. Translated by Gisbert Haefs, (Sherlock Holmes; Bd. 3). Zürich: Kein und Aber, 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Neu übers. von Gisbert Haefs. //
4016. ———. Der Hund von Baskerville. 1. Aufl., Erstmals als Omnibus-Taschenbuch ed, (Omnibus; Sherlock Holmes). München: Omnibus, 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 183 mm x 125 mm. //
4017. ———. Der Hund von Baskerville : Roman. Translated by Heinz Kotthaus. Ungekürzte Ausg., 21. Aufl. ed, (Ullstein-Buch). Frankfurt/M: Berlin, 1995.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. Hrsg. von Nino Ern . [Ubers. von Heinz Kotthaus]. Uniform Title: Hound of the Baskervilles. German // 4018. ———. Die Abenteuer des Sherlock Holmes. 1. Aufl. ed, (Reclam-Bibliothek). Leipzig: Reclam, 2001.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 19 cm. //
4019. ———. Die Abenteuer des Sherlock Holmes. Translated by Gisbert Haefs, (Sherlock Holmes; Bd. 1). Zürich: Kein und Aber, 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Neu übers. von Gisbert Haefs. //
4020. ———. Die Abenteuer des Sherlock Holmes. Translated by Silvia B cking, (Reclam-Taschenbuch; Nr. 21726). Stuttgart: Reclam, 2007.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Aus dem Engl.  bers. von Silvia B cking ... Nachbemerkung von Alexander Reck. //
4021. ———. Die Abenteuer des Sherlock Holmes. D sseldorf: Albatros, 2003.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. Aus dem Engl. neu  bers., mit einem Nachw. von Klaus Degering. Uniform Title: The adventures of Sherlock Holmes. German. // 4022. ———. Die Abenteuer von Sherlock Holmes. Translated by Karin Sichel. Erlangen: Boje-Verl., 1996.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- zahlr. Ill. ; 29 cm. Aus dem Engl.  bers. Ill. von Eric Kincaid. Dt. von Karin Sichel. //
4023. ———. Die Abenteuer von Sherlock Holmes [Doppelband ; zwei Krimis in einem Band]. 1. Aufl. ed, (Aufbau-Taschenb cher; 2256). Berlin: Aufbau-Taschenbuch-Verl., 2006.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Aus dem Engl. von Alice und Karl Heinz Berger. //
4024. ———. Die avonture van Sherlock Holmes. Pretoria: Humans & Rousseau, 2005.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- New translations by Janie Oosthuysen. Afrikaans. Don Hobbs: The Galactic Sherlock Holmes //

4025. ———. Die Fälle des Sherlock Holmes : Erzählungen. Erfstadt: Area, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 21 cm. Lizenz des Verl. Kiepenheuer, Leipzig. [Basiert auf der Ausg. Arthur Conan Doyle: Sämtliche Sherlock-Holmes-Erzählungen, Bd. 1 - 5, übers., hrsg., mit einem Vorw. und Anm. vers. von Alice und Karl-Heinz Berger]. //
4026. ———. Die Gespikkelde Band. Shelburne: The Battered Silicon Dispatch Box, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Translated by Trilby Kent. Contents: The Speckled Band. Afrikaans. Don Hobbs: The Galactic Sherlock Holmes //
4027. ———. Die Memoiren des Sherlock Holmes. Translated by Nikolaus Stingl, (Sherlock Holmes; Bd. 2). Zürich: Kein und Aber, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Neu übers. von Nikolaus Stingl. //
4028. ———. Die Rückkehr des Sherlock Holmes. Translated by Werner Schmitz, (Sherlock Holmes; Bd. 3). Zürich: Kein und Aber, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Neu übers. von Werner Schmitz. //
4029. ———. Die vergessene Welt. Translated by Werner Engel. 1. Aufl. als Arena-Taschenbuch. ed, (Arena-Taschenbuch). Würzburg: Arena, 2000.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 19 cm. Aus dem Engl. von Werner Engel. Uniform Title: The lost world. German. // 4030. ———. Die vergessene Welt [Roman]. Translated by Karl Soll, (Ueberreuter Grossdruck). Wien: Ueberreuter, 2006.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Aus dem Engl. von Karl Soll. //
4031. ———. Die verlorene Welt. Riedenberg [Germany]: Ehapa Verlag, 1995.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- col. ill. ; 19 cm. In: Walt Disney's lustiges Taschenbuch. Nr. 213. Adaptation in comic book format of Doyle's "The lost world." //
4032. ———. Dobrodružství Sherlocka Holmese, (Příběhy, sv. 17). Brno: Jota, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Czech. Edicní pozn./ Vysvetl./ Na predtitulním listu souborný název: Příběhy Sherlocka Holmese po 26 a 105 letech, v tiráži: Příběhy Sherlocka Holmese, označení 2. [z anglického originálu preložila Zora Wolfová] //
4033. ———. Dobrodružství Sherlocka Holmese. Vyd. 1 ed, (Knihovnicka.cz). Brno: Tribun, 2007.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 21 cm. Preloženo z anglictiny. //
4034. ———. Doiru kessakusen. Tokyo: Shoeisha, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese. Table of Contents: 1. Misuterihen. -- 2. Hora SFhen. Asa Konan Doiru cho, Kitahara Naohiko, Nishizaki Ken hen //
4035. ———. Doiru shu, (Meiji honyaku bungaku zenshu.; Shinbun zasshi hen, 8). Tokyo: Ozorasha, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese. Collections of translations from newspapers and magazines published during Meiji period. henshu Kawado Michiaki, Sakakibara Takayoshi. //
4036. ———. Eine Studie in Scharlachrot. 1. Aufl., Erstmals als Omnibus-Taschenbuch ed, (Omnibus; Sherlock Holmes). München: Omnibus, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 183 mm x 125 mm. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4037. ———. Eine Studie in Scharlachrot. Translated by Gisbert Haefs, (Sherlock Holmes; Bd. 1). Zürich: Kein und Aber, 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Neu übers. von Gisbert Haefs. //
4038. ———. El signo de los cuatro ; El perro de los Baskerville, (Misterio). S.l.: Ediciones Avesta, 1980-1995?
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4039. ———. En studie i rødt, (Den komplette Sherlock Holmes udgave). [Copenhagen]: Aschehoug, 2006.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Danish. på dansk ved Verner Seemann. //
4040. ———. "En studie i rött." Stockholm: Lind & Co [eLib [distributör]], 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Första svenska upplaga 1893 med titeln: Förföljd. Första upplaga i denna översättning 2004. E-bok (PDF (182 p.)); Adobe Reader. Translation and commentary by Mattias Boström ; illustrations by George Hutchinson. // Electronic book.
4041. ———. Estudio en escarlata, (Punto de lectura). Madrid: Punto de Lectura, 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. Translation of: A study in scarlet. //
4042. ———. Estudios del natural: los casos que Sherlock Holmes no pudo resolver. Barcelona: Grijalbo Mondadori, 1995.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Apr 1995 // A Spanish translation of Strange Studies From Life and Other Narratives: The Complete True Crime Writings of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, edited by Jack Tracy and published by Gaslight in 1988
4043. ———. Etiud v bagrovykh tonakh. Moskva: Terra, 1998.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Russian. Table of Contents: Etiud v bagrovykh tonakh -- Priklucheniia Sherloka Kholmsa. Translation of: Study in scarlet and Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Zolotaia biblioteka priklucheniiv //
4044. ———. Exploits of Brigadier Gerard. [S.l.]: General Books, 2010.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4045. ———. The Extraordinary Cases of Sherlock Holmes, (Puffin classics). London: Puffin, 2010.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. Introduced by Jonathan Stroud. //
4046. ———. "A fine sprit [sic] of tolerance". Spokane, Wash.: Arthur H. Clark Co., 2006.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Introduced by Michael W. Homer. // "This keepsake containing the accounts of Arthur Conan Doyle on the Mormons has been produced to accompany the collector's edition of On the way to somewhere else: European sojourners in the Mormon West, 1834-1930, volume 8 of the Kingdom in the West series, published by the Arthur H. Clark Company. Only 55 copies have been printed, signed and numbered..."-P. [23]. Includes bibliographical references.
4047. ———. The Five Orange Pips. Wigtown: Gleniffer Press.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Limited edition of 260 copies //
4048. ———. Four penny shockers : [englisch-deutsch] = Vier kurze Krimis. Translated by Angela Uthe-Spencker. Neuübers., 5. Aufl. ed, (dtv). München: Dt. Taschenbuch-Verl., 1995.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. Übers. von Angela Uthe-Spencker und Richard Fenzl. //
4049. ———. Fu er mo si tan an quan ji. Di 1 ban. ed. Beijing: Jun cong chu ban she, 2000.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 20 cm. [Ying] A. Kenandao'er zhu. //
4050. ———. Fu'ermosi ban an ji = Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. 1st ed, (Fu'ermosi tan an quan ji). Taibei Shi: Lian pu wen hua shi ye gu fen you xian gong si, 1999.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Translation of: Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Fuermosi ban an ji [Yase Kenan Dao'er jue shi zhu ; Wang Zhiyi yi]. //

4051. ———. Fu'ermosi dang an bu = The case book of Sherlock Holmes. 1st ed, (Fu'ermosi tan an quan ji). Taibei Shi: Lian pu wen hua shi ye gu fen you xian gong si, 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Translation of: The case book of Sherlock Holmes. Fuermosi dang an bu [Yase Kenan Dao'er jue shi zhu ; Wang Zhiyi yi]. //
4052. ———. Fu'ermosi gui lai ji = The return of Sherlock Holmes. 1st ed, (Fu'ermosi tan an quan ji). Taibei Shi: Lian pu wen hua shi ye gu fen you xian gong si, 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Translation of: The return of Sherlock Holmes. Fuermosi gui lai ji [Yase Kenan Dao'er jue shi zhu ; Wang Zhiyi yi]. //
4053. ———. Fu'ermosi hui yi ji = Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes. 1st ed, (Fu'ermosi tan an quan ji). Taibei Shi: Lian pu wen hua shi ye gu fen you xian gong si, 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Translation of: Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes. Fuermosi hui yi ji [Yase Kenan Dao'er jue shi zhu ; Wang Zhiyi yi]. //
4054. ———. Fu'ermosi tan an. Di 1 ban. ed, (Er tong jing dian kuai du;). Hangzhou: Zhejiang shao nian er tong chu ban she, 2001.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 14 cm. Chinese adaptation of: Sherlock Holmes. Kenan Dao'er zhu ; Ru Nanyang, Jiang Nan bian yi ; Huang Yunsong hui hua. / Uniform Title: Sherlock Holmes. Chinese // 4055. ———. Fu'ermosi tan an jing xuan, (Shi jie zhen tan tui li ming zhu jing xuan;). Beijing: Qun zhong chu ban she, 2004.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 21 cm. A. Kenandao'er zhu. //
4056. ———. Fuermosi tan an quan ji. 1st ed, (Shi jie bu xiu chuan jia jing dian). Taibei Shi: Yuan liu chu ban shi ye gu fen you xian gong si, 2000.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- col. ill. ; 21 cm. Fu-erh-mo-ssu t'an an ch'üan chi Arthur Conan Doyle zhu ; Ding Zhonghua yi. / Uniform Title: Complete Sherlock Holmes. Chinese // 4057. ———. Fuermosi tan an quan ji. Di 1 ban. ed. 4 vols. Guangzhou Shi: Guangzhou chu ban she, 2002.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. [Translation of: The complete Sherlock Holmes]. A Kenandao'er zhu ; Xu Qingyi yi. / Uniform Title: Complete Sherlock Holmes. Chinese // 4058. ———. Fu'ermosi tan an quan ji. Xiu ding 1 ban. ed. 8 vols. Taibei: Shi jie shu ju, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. [1] Xie zi de yan jiu -- [2] Si qian ming -- [3] Gu di zhi guai -- [4] Kong bu gu -- [5] Mao xian shi -- [6] Hui yi lu -- [7] Gui lai ji -- [8] Xin tan an. Fu-er-mo-si tan an quan ji. Kenan Dao'er zhu ; Cheng Xiao qing yi. //
4059. ———. Fu'ermosi tan an quan ji. Suo yin ben. ed. Beijing: Jun cong chu ban she, 1995.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Pinyin ; Fuermosi tan an quan ji A Kenandao'er zhu. //
4060. ———. Fu'ermosi tui chang ji = His last bow. 1st ed, (Fu'ermosi tan an quan ji). Taibei Shi: Lian pu wen hua shi ye gu fen you xian gong si, 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Translation of: His last bow. Fuermosi tui chang ji [Yase Kenan Dao'er jue shi zhu ; Wang Zhiyi yi]. //
4061. ———. Fu'ermosi zhen tan xiao shuo quan ji : cha tu ben. Di 2 ban. ed. 3 vols. Guangzhou Shi: Hua cheng chu ban she, 2003.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Translation of: The complete Sherlock Holmes. A Kenandao'er zhu ; Xini Peijite cha tu = The complete Sherlock Holmes. / Uniform Title: Complete Sherlock Holmes. Chinese //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4062. ———. The further adventures of Sherlock Holmes, (World's best reading). Pleasantville, N.Y: Reader's Digest Association, 1993.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 93085284. Contents: The adventure of Wisteria Lodge -- The adventure of the Bruce-Partington plans -- The adventure of the devil's foot -- The adventure of the red circle -- The disappearance of Lady Frances Carfax -- The adventure of the dying detective -- His last bow -- The story of the man with the watches -- The story of the lost special -- The field bazaar -- How Watson learned the trick. Afterword by Philip A. Shreffler. //
4063. ———. The Great Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Carson, CA: Educational Insights, 1999. Sound Recording; Book Date of Entry: 19991123 1 sound cassette (ca. 60 min.) + 1 book (61 p).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Illustrated classics series; //
4064. ———. The Great Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Belmont, CA: Lake Education, 1994. Sound Recording 1 sound cassette.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog + Includes: 1 paperback book (62 p. : ill. ; 21 cm.) Lake illustrated classics read-along; Collection 2; Lake illustrated classics.; Collection 2. Paperback is an abridged version in comic book format. //
4065. ———. The Great Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Irvine, CA: Saddleback Educational Publishing, 2006. Sound Recording; Book Date of Entry: 20070727 1 sound disc (ca. 45:23) + 1 paperback book (61 p).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Saddleback's illustrated classics; [illustrator, Nestor Redondo]. // "A graphic novel featuring two Sherlock Holmes adventures, accompanied by a read-along compact disc."
4066. ———. Gui lai ji. 1st ed. 2 vols, (Fu'ermosi tan an ji xi lie). Xianggang: Li wen chu ban she, 1998.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 19 cm. Cover title./ Translation of: The return of Sherlock Holmes. PINYIN;; Gui lai ji Ase Kenan Dao'er zhu. //
4067. ———. Hakui no kishidan. 001. Tokyo: Harashobo, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese //
4068. ———. Hakui no kishidan. 001. Tokyo: Harashobo, 2002.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese //
4069. ———. Hakui no kishidan. 003. Tokyo: Harashobo, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese //
4070. ———. Hakui no kishidan. 003. Tokyo: Harashobo, 2002.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese //
4071. ———. The haunted grange of Goresthorpe. Ashcroft, BC: Arthur Conan Doyle Society, 2000.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 24 cm. //
4072. ———. Het aapje : horrorverhalen. [Amsterdam]: HMP, 2000.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Dutch. Uitg. in samenw. met Loeb. //
4073. ———. Hiiro no kenkyu : shinyaku sharokku homuzu zenshu = A study in scarlet. Tokyo: Kobunsha, 2006.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese. Translated from the English: A study in scarlet. Higurashi, Masamichi yaku. //
4074. ———. His Last Bow. Edited by Leslie S. Klinger, (The Sherlock Holmes Reference Library). Indianapolis: Gasogene Books, 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Introduction by Steven Rothman. //
4075. ———. His Last Bow. Old Saybrook, CT: Tantor Media Inc, 2005. Sound Recording.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

4076. ———. His Last Bow. London: BBC Worldwide, 1995. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes (175 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Performer Note: Sherlock Holmes, Clive Merrison ; Dr. Watson, Michael Williams.
Leonard Friedman, violin. Contents: Wisteria lodge -- The cardboard box -- The red circle -- The Bruce Partington plans //
4077. ———. An hong se yan jiu = A study in scarlet. 1st ed, (Fu'ermosi tan an quan ji). Taipei Shi: Lian pu wen hua shi ye gu fen you xian gong si, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Translation of: A study in scarlet. An hong se yan jiu [Yase Kenan
Dao'er jue shi zhu ; Wang Zhiyi yi]. //
4078. ———. The hound of Baskervilles. 1st ed. Jackson Hole, WY: Archeion Press, LLC, 2007.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2007942279 //
4079. ———. The hound of the Baskervilles. New York: Book-of-the-Month Club, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4080. ———. The hound of the Baskervilles, (New York Post family classics library). New York: New York Post, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Sir Charles Baskerville is found dead at his manor house in Devon, surrounded by footprints of a large hound reminding people of an ancient legend that has haunted the family for generations 4081. ———. The Hound of the Baskervilles. Edited by Leslie S. Klinger, (The Sherlock Holmes Reference Library).
Indianapolis: Gasogene Books, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Introduction by Nicholas Meyer. Scuttlebutt Feb 2002. // "As with previous volumes in the series, the annotations draw upon old and new Sherlockian scholarship, and on the manuscript for Chapter XI, and there's discussion of the many candidates for Baskerville Hall."
4082. ———. The hound of the Baskervilles, (Dover thrift editions). New York: Dover, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 94026077 //
4083. ———. The hound of the Baskervilles, (Oxford children's classics). Oxford, New York: Oxford University Press, 2007.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2007281878 //
4084. ———. The hound of the Baskervilles. Braille ed. Nanaimo, B.C.: I Can See Book, n.d.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Braille. Printed on Demand. Don Hobbs: Galactic Sherlock Holmes //
4085. ———. The hound of the Baskervilles. Translated by Stephanie Jakobs, (Anaconda zweisprachig). Köln:
Anaconda, 2007.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Text German and English. Aus dem Engl. von Stephanie Jakobs. //
4086. ———. The hound of the Baskervilles. Large type ed. Bath: Chivers, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 23 cm. //
4087. ———. The hound of the Baskervilles, (The art of the novella; Melville House classics). Hoboken, N.J.: Melville
House Pub., 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. //
4088. ———. The hound of the Baskervilles, Puffin classics. London/New York: Puffin Books, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 20 cm. Complete and unabridged. //
4089. ———. The hound of the Baskervilles. Moskva: Raduga, 2004.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Translated from the English. Arthur Conan Doyle = Sobaka Baskervillei / Artur Konan Doil ; [per. s angl. N. Volzhinoi]. //

4090. ———. The Hound of the Baskervilles. Lexington, KY: Sherlock Holmes Collection, 2010.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 23 cm. //
4091. ———. "The Hound of the Baskervilles." Scholastic Scope 49, no. 8 (2000): 6.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a script of the play about Sherlock Holmes, entitled 'The Hound of the Baskervilles,' by Arthur Conan Doyle.
4092. ———. The Hound of the Baskervilles. Navato, CA: Soundelux Audio, 1996. Sound Recording 1 sound cassette.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog. Mystery & intrigue. Sound cassette. Participants: Full cast dramatization. //
4093. ———. The Hound of the Baskervilles. [Paramus, NJ]: Globe Fearon, 1995. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog + Includes: 1 book (92 p. : ill. ; 21 cm.) Pacemaker classics on tape. Audiocassette. An audio adaptation of the novel. Abridged. "Has been carefully adapted to be accessible by special-needs readers"--Container. Program notes inserted into container. "A Pacemaker classic." //
4094. ———. The Hound of the Baskervilles. Nashville, TN: Clever Factory, 2006. Sound Recording 1 sound disc.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Audio CD classics collection. Compact discs. //
4095. ———. The Hound of the Baskervilles. [Oxford]: Oxford University Press, 2000. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Oxford bookworms library; Stage 4. //
4096. ———. The Hound of the Baskervilles. Belmont, CA: Lake Education, 1994. Sound Recording 1 sound cassette.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog, mono. + Includes: 1 paperback book (62 p. : ill. ; 21 cm.) Lake illustrated classics read-along; Collection 3. Paperback is an abridged version in comic book format. //
4097. ———. The Hound of the Baskervilles. [Ismaning]: Hueber, 2005. Sound Recording 1 CD ; 12 cm.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Retold by Stephen Colbourn. //
4098. ———. The Hound of the Baskervilles. Princeton, NJ: Recording for the Blind & Dyslexic, 2003. Sound Recording 1 sound disc.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital, mono. ; 4 3/4 in. Originally published: New York : Signet Classic, [2001]. Distribution is restricted to RFB & D members who have a documented print disability such as a visual impairment, learning disability or other physical disability. With an afterword by Anne Perry. // The country doctor had come to 221B Baker Street, the famous lodgings of Sherlock Holmes, with an eerie tale - the legend of the Hound of the Baskervilles, the devil-beast that haunted the lonely moors around the Baskervilles' ancestral home. The tale warned the descendants of that ancient family never to venture out on the moor "in those dark hours when the powers of evil are exalted." But one of the most recent Baskervilles, Sir Charles, was now dead - and the footprints of a giant hound had been found near his body. Would the new heir of the Baskervilles meet the same dreadful fate? Sherlock Holmes and his faithful friend, Dr. Watson, are faced with their most terrifying case in this wonderful classic of masterful detection and bone-chilling suspense.-Back cover.
4099. ———. The hound of the Baskervilles ; The valley of fear. London: Collector's Library, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 15 cm. //
4100. ———. The hound of the Baskervilles another adventure of Sherlock Holmes. London: T. Nelson & Sons, 1919.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Citations: De Waal C365, C365V, C366 //
4101. ———. Hruzostrasné príbehy = tales of terror. Praha: Vodnár, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Czech. Preloženo z anglictiny. [preložil Ivan Gellner] //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4102. ———. Hui yi lu. 1st ed. 2 vols, (Fuermosi tan an ji xi lie). Xianggang: Li wen chu ban she, 1998.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 20 cm. Feng mian fu ti;; Duan pian tui li gu shi ji [Ase kenandao'er zhu]. /
 Uniform Title: Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes //
4103. ———. Hui yi lu. 1st ed. 2 vols, (Fu'ermosi xi lie). Taibei Xian Xindian Shi: Shu hua chu ban shi ye you xian gong si, 1998.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 19 cm. Ase kenandao'er zhu. //
4104. ———. Il mastino dei Baskerville : Sherlock Holmes scioglie un'inquietante maledizione / Uniform Title: Hound of the Baskervilles. Italian. [Ferlina]: Demetra, 1996.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 20 cm. traduzione e presentazione di Luca Michellini. //
4105. ———. Il ritorno delle fate. [Carnagno, Italy]: SugarCo Edizioni, 1992.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Italian. Translation of: The coming of the fairies. //
4106. ———. Im leeren Haus. 1. Aufl., Erstmals als Omnibus-Taschenbuch ed, (Omnibus; Sherlock Holmes).
 München: Omnibus, 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 183 mm x 125 mm. Enth. u.a.: Die einsame Radfaherin. Die tanzenden Männchen.
 //
4107. ———. Im Zeichen der 4 : ein Hörspiel für Kinder ; ein Sherlock-Holmes-Roman. Hamburg: Polydor, 1995.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 12 cm. Schallpl.-Fassung und Regie Andreas Scheinert. //
4108. ———. Kong bu gu. 1st ed, (Fu'ermosi tan an ji xi lie). Xianggang: Li wen chu ban she : Fa xing Li yuan shu bao she, 1998.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 20 cm. Ase Kenan Dao'er zhu. / Uniform Title: Valley of fear. Chinese //
4109. ———. Kong ju zhi gu = The valley of fear. 1st ed, (Fu'ermosi tan an quan ji). Taibei Shi: Lian pu wen hua shi ye gu fen you xian gong si, 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Translation of: The valley of fear. [Yase Kenan Dao'er jue shi zhu ;
 Wang Zhiyi yi]. //
4110. ———. Koshmarnata staia. [Bulgaria]: Izdatelska kushta "Trud", 2007.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Bulgarian. Table of Contents: Kak stana vsichko -- Prustenut na Tot -- Igra s ognia -- Kozhenata funiia -- Koshmarnata staia -- Iziavlenieto na Dzh. Khabakuk Dzhefsun -- Tova kvadratno sanduche -- Zlopoluchieto na Dzhon Khaksfurd -- Saipriun Ovurbek Uels. Translation of: Tales of unease. prevod ot angliiski, Violeta Chushkova, Teodor Mikhailov. //
4111. ———. Kyoryu no sekai = The lost world, (Kodomo no tame no sekai bungaku no mori, 23). Tokyo: Shueisha, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese. Asa C. Doiru saku. Uchida Chikashi yaku. [e, Ikeda Tatsuo].
 //
4112. ———. La grande ombre, (Collection l'Aube poche). [La Tour-d'Aigues]: Éditions de l'Aube, 2006.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Traduit de l'anglais./ Trad. de: The great shadow. / Uniform Title: Great shadow.
 French. //
4113. ———. Le chien des Baskerville, (La bibliothèque Gallimard .; Texte & dossier). Paris: Gallimard, 2001.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Traduction et lecture accompagnée par Jean-Pierre Naugrette. //
4114. ———. Le chien des Baskerville, (Le livre de poche). Paris: Paris R. Laffont, 2003.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. Sur la couv.: Sherlock Holmes. Trad. de Bernard Tourville. Uniform Title:
 Hound of the Baskervilles. French. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4115. ———. Le chien des Baskerville : Sherlock Holmes, (Castor poche). [Paris]: Castor poche Flammarion, 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 18 cm. "Texte intégral"--P. [4] de la couv. Traduit de l'anglais par Bernard Tourville. //
4116. ———. Le crime du Congo belge : Suivi par au Congo français, de Félicien Challaye. Paris: Nuits rouges, 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill., map ; 20 cm. "23"--Spine./ Includes bibliographical references. Postface de Colette Braeckman ; trauction nouvelle de Jean-Claude Lamoureux. / Uniform Title: Crime of the Congo. French. // 4117. ———. Le Monde perdu, (Science-fiction (éditions J'ai lu)). Paris: J'ai lu : Pierre Lafitte, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. / Uniform Title: Lost world. French. Traduit de l'anglais par Louis Labat. //
4118. ———. Le monde perdu, (De l'autre côté...). Clermont-Ferrand: Éditions Paleo, 2003.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. Trad. de: The lost world. Traduit de l'anglais par Gilles Vauthier ; illustré par Zaïtchick. / Uniform Title: Lost world. French. // 4119. ———. Les aventures de Sherlock Holmes. Éd. intégrale bilingue. ed. Paris: Omnibus, 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 20 cm. Nouv. trad. //
4120. ———. Les aventures de Sherlock Holmes. 1, Une étude en rouge = A study in scarlet. Le signe des quatre = The sign of four. Les aventures de Sherlock Holmes = The adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Les mémoires de Sherlock Holmes, 1 = The memoirs of Sherlock Holmes, 1 : Edition bilingue. Paris: Omnibus, 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Nouvelle traduction d'Eric Wittersheim. //
4121. ———. Les aventures de Sherlock Holmes. Tome 1, (Milan poche junior). Toulouse: Milan Poche, 2000.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. Translation of: The adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Nouvelle traduction par Stéphanie Benson. //
4122. ———. Les aventures de Sherlock Holmes. Tome 2, (Milan poche junior). Toulouse: Milan Poche, 2001.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. Translation of: The adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Nouvelle traduction par Stéphanie Benson. //
4123. ———. Les cinq pépins d'orange, (Les aventures de Sherlock Holmes). [S.l.]: Le Livre de Poche, 1996.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. / Uniform Title: Five orange pips. French. Traduction de Bernard Tourville. //
4124. ———. Likovi plesaca, (Biblioteka Odabrana kriminalisticka dela). Apatin: Kraj beline, 1996.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 17 cm. Translation of: The return of Sherlock Holmes. [preveli Ruzica Vlaskalin, Aleksandar Vlaskalin]. / Uniform Title: Return of Sherlock Holmes. Serbian //
4125. ———. The lost world. 1st ed. Jackson Hole, WY: Archeion Press, LLC, 2007.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2007942280 //
4126. ———. The lost world. New York: Barnes & Noble Books, 2004.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. 215). Introduction by Allen Grove. //
4127. ———. Lost World. [S.l.]: General Books, 2010.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4128. ———. The Lost World. [Oxford]: Oxford University Press, 2002. Sound Recording 1 sound cassette.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Dominoes.; 2. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4129. ———. The lost world / the poison belt. Sandy, Utah: Quiet Vision Pub., 2000.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 23 cm. //
4130. ———. The lost world ; and, The poison belt, (Pocket classics). Stroud: A. Sutton, 1995.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- maps ; 20 cm. //
4131. ———. The Lost World and other stories. Ware: Wordsworth Editions, 1995.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Sept 1995 //
4132. ———. The lost world being an account of the recent amazing adventures of Professor George E. Challenger, Lord John Roxton, Professor Summerlee, and Mr. E.D. Malone of the "Daily-Gazette". 2002 Modern Library paperback ed ed. New York: Modern Library, 2003.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2002026306. Includes bibliographical references. Scuttlebutt Feb 2004. // "With an introduction by Michael Crichton and notes by Julia Houston. It's taken almost ten years since Crichton's own The Lost World was published, for him to comment at length on Conan Doyle's book, and the commentary is insightful and interesting. 'Conan Doyle did something far more influential than invent a character,' Crichton suggests, 'he invented a particular kind of fantasy story, and demonstrated a successful way to tell it.'"
4133. ———. The lost world being an account of the recent amazing adventures of Professor George E. Challenger, Lord John Roxton, Professor Summerlee, and Mr. E.D. Malone of the Daily Gazette, (Oxford popular fiction). Oxford, New York: Oxford University Press, 1995.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 94027530 //
4134. ———. The man with the twisted lip : and other adventures of Sherlock Holmes = L'homme à la lèvre tordue et autres aventures de Sherlock Holmes, (Collection Folio bilingue). Paris: Gallimard, 1996.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. Homme à la lèvre tordue et autres aventures de Sherlock Holmes. Traduit de l'anglais par Julie Pujos en collab ; avec Marie-Pierre Coutelle. //
4135. ———. The man with the twisted lip ; and, The adventure of the Devil's foot, (Penguin 60s). London: Penguin, 1995.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4136. ———. Mao xian shi. 1st ed. 2 vols, (Fu'ermosi tan an ji xi lie). Xianggang: Li wen chu ban she, 1998.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Translation of: A adventure of Sherlock Holmes. [Ase Kenan Dao'er zhu. //
4137. ———. The Maracot Deep and Other Stories. Newcastle: CSP Classic Texts, 2010.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4138. ———. Meijiki sharokku homuzu honyaku shusei. 001. Tokyo: Aiarudikikaku, 2001.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese //
4139. ———. Meitantei Homuzu: Akage Kumiai, (Aoi tori bunko, 190-1). Tokyo: Kodansha, 1996.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese. Table of Contents: Akage Kumiai -- Enshin -- Aoi ganetto -- Ginseigo jiken. Konan Doiru saku, Higurashi Masamichi yaku. Wakana Hitoshi + Ki e. //
4140. ———. Meitantei Homuzu: Buna Yashiki no nazo, (Aoi tori bunko, 190-5). Tokyo: Kodansha, 1998.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese. Table of Contents: Buna Yashiki no nazo -- Dokushin no kizoku -- Orenji no tane itstu -- Kiiroi kao. Konan Doiru saku, Higurashi Masamichi yaku, Wakana Hitoshi + Ki e. //
4141. ———. Meitantei Homuzu: Hiiru no kenkyu, (Aoi tori bunko, 190-4). Tokyo: Kodansha, 1997.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese. Konan Doiru saku. Higurashi Masamichi yaku. Wakana Hitoshi + Ki e. //

4142. ———. Meitantei Homuzu: Kieta hanamuko, (Aoi tori bunko, 190-3). Tokyo: Kodansha, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese. Table of Contents: Kieta hanamuko -- Boemia o no sukyandaru -- Bosukomu Tani no nazo -- Masugurebu-ke no gishiki. Konan Doiru saku, Higurashi Masamichi yaku, Wakana Hitoshi + Ki e. //
4143. ———. Meitantei Homuzu: Madara no himo, (Aoi tori bunko, 190-2). Tokyo: Kodansha, 1996.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese. Table of Contents: Madara no himo -- Gishi no oyayubi -- Ryokuchuseki no hokan -- Kaigun joyaku bunsho. Konan Doiru saku, Higurashi Masamichi yaku, Wakana Hitoshi + Ki e. //
4144. ———. Meitantei Homuzu: Pita Sencho no shi, (Aoi tori bunko, 190-11). Tokyo: Kodansha, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese. Table of Contents: Yusuri no osama -- Puraiari Gakko yukai jiken -- Burakku Pita Sencho no shi -- Muttsu no Naporeon-zo -- Sannin no daigakusei. Translation of the selections from: The return of Sherlock Holmes. Konan Doiru saku, Higurashi Masamichi yaku, Wakana Hitoshi + Ki e. //
4145. ———. Meitantei Homuzu: Yottsuo no shomei, (Aoi tori bunko, 190-6). Tokyo: Kodansha, 1998.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese. Konan Doiru saku. Higurashi Masamichi yaku. Wakana Hitoshi + Ki e. //
4146. ———. Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes. New York: Book-of-the-Month Club, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4147. ———. The Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes. Edited by Leslie S. Klinger. 1st ed, (Sherlock Holmes reference library). Indianapolis: Gasogene Books, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references (p. 291-303). Introduction by Peter E. Blau. //
4148. ———. Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes. London: Warner Books, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: The adventure of the three gables -- The adventure of the dying detective - - The adventure of the golden pince-nez -- The adventure of the Red Circle -- The adventure of the Mazarin stone -- The adventure of the three Garridebs -- The adventure of the cardboard box //
4149. ———. The Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes. Braille ed. Nanaimo, B.C.: I Can See Book, n.d.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Braille. These books are printed on demand. Don Hobbs: Galactic Sherlock Holmes //
4150. ———. The Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes, (Dover thrift editions). Mineola, NY: Dover Publications, 2010.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 21 cm. //
4151. ———. The Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes, volume 2. New York: Bantam Doubleday Dell Audio Pub., 1994.
Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes (175 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog, Dolby processed. BBC Radio presents. "Originally conceived for BBC broadcast." // Presents full cast dramatizations of four classic Sherlock Holmes mysteries--"The Musgrave Ritual," "The Reigate Squires," "The Crooked Man," and "The Resident Patient."
4152. ———. The Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes, Volumes 1-3. New York: Bantam Doubleday Dell Audio, 1997.
Sound Recording 6 sound cassettes (480 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog, 1 7/8 ips, Dolby processed. Previously released in 1991 and 1992. Title from container. // Twelve stories in which Sherlock Holmes and his friend, Dr. Watson, prove that when trouble is afoot, high intelligence, keen observation and proper method provide the key to the most puzzling cases.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4153. ———. Misteret e Sherlok Holmsit. Translated by Manushaqe Bako. Tiranë: Dritan, 2007.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: The Speckled Band, The Red-Headed League, The Blue Carbuncle.
 Albanian. Don Hobbs: Galactic Sherlock Holmes. //
4154. ———. Mughamarat Sharluk Hulmz: Sharluk Hulmz. Bayrut: Dar al-Bihar, 2004.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Arabic; Parallel text in English and Arabic on facing pages. Table of Contents: v. 1. `Asabat al-ruus al-hamra -- v. 2. Mushkilah al-akhirah -- v. 3. al-Wahaj al-fiddi. Added t.p. in English. The Red-headed League. The final problem. Silver blaze. // Bilingual Arabic-English version of selected Sherlock Holmes mysteries.
4155. ———. Musgrave Ritual. New York: Durkin Hayes, 1995. Sound Recording 1 sound cassette.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4156. ———. The Mystery of Cloomber. Mineola, NY : Dover; Newton Abbot : David & Charles [distributor], 2010.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- With a new introduction by Mike Ashley. //
4157. ———. Napoleon no kage. Tokyo: Harashobo, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese //
4158. ———. Návrat Sherlocka Holmese, (Knihovnicka.cz). Brno: Tribun, 2007.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Czech. Preloženo z anglickiny //
4159. ———. Návrat Sherlocka Holmese, (Příběhy Sherlocka Holmese, 5; Příběhy, sv. 20). Brno: Books, 1998.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Czech. Na obálce nad názvem: Příběhy Sherlocka Holmese po 25 a 93
 letech. [z anglického originálu ... preložil Frantisek Jungwirth] //
4160. ———. The New Annotated Sherlock Holmes. Edited by Leslie S. Klinger. 1st ed. New York: W.W. Norton, 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2004007890. Includes bibliographical references. Contents: v.
 1. The adventures of Sherlock Holmes; The memoirs of Sherlock Holmes -- v. 2. The return of Sherlock Holmes; His last bow; The case-book of Sherlock Holmes -- v. 3. A study in scarlet; The sign of four; The hound of the Baskervilles; The Valley of Fear. Introduction by John LeCarré. // 4161. ———. The new revelation. 1st ed. Jackson Hole, WY: Archeion Press, LLC, 2007.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2007942281 //
4162. ———. The new revelation. Cambridge: Rupert Books, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 19 cm. // Facsimile reprint of the ed. published: Chicago : Progressive Thinker
 Press, 1917.
4163. ———. The new revelation. Garden City Park, NY: SquareOne Classics, 2001.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 22 cm. Includes index. With introduction and afterword by George J. Lankevich. //
 Originally published: New York : G.H. Doran, c1918. With new introd.
4164. ———. Nhu'ng cuoc phiêu lưu của thám tu' Sherlock Holmes, (Truyen trinh thám the gio'i chon loc). Hà Nội:
 Nhà xuất bản Nhân Dân, 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Vietnamese //
4165. ———. Nhu'ng cuoc phiêu lưu của thám tu' Sherlock Holmes, (Truyen trinh thám the gio'i chon loc). Hà Nội:
 Công An Nhân Dân, 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Vietnamese //
4166. ———. Nhu'ng vu phá án lý ky của thám tu' Sherlock Holmes. [TP. HCM]: Nhà xuất bản Tre, 2004.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Vietnamese. Table of Contents: 6 bu'c tu'o'ng Na-pô-lê-ông -- Bu'c thu' cua dòng họ Mo'-xgrây -- Vu án giết ngu'o'i phóng hoa o' No-ut -- Gu'o'ng mat màu vàng. Ban biên dịch First News. //

4167. ———. Nieuwe avonturen van Sherlock Holmes, (Werelds meest geliefde boeken, dl. 62). Amsterdam [etc.]: Reader's Digest, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Dutch. Table of Contents: Bevat: Een studie in rood. - Vert. van: A study in scarlet. - Oorspr. uitg.: 1887 ; De hond van de Baskervilles. - Vert. van: The hound of the Baskervilles. - Oorspr. uitg.: 1902 ; De vallei der verschrikking. - Vert. van: The valley of fear. - Oorspr. uitg.: 1915. met ill. van Greg Spalenka. [vert. uit het Engels door Frank Berserik ... et al.]. // Drie korte romans over de speurdersavonturen van Sherlock Holmes.
4168. ———. Një skandal në Bohemë. Translated by Elta Deveja. Tiranë: Shtypur në shtypshkronjën, 2002.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: A Scandal in Bohemia. Albanian. Don Hobbs: Galactic Sherlock Holmes. //
4169. ———. Our African winter. London: Duckworth, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // "It's an interesting account of the family's tour of eastern and southern Africa in 1928-1929."
4170. ———. Our reply to the cleric: Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's lecture in Leicester, October 19th, 1919, following the church congress., (Rupert Books monograph series, no. 5). Cambridge [England]: Rupert Books, 1998.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Afterword by Michael W. Homer./ Facsimile reprint. First published: Halifax [England] : Spiritualists' National Union, 1920./ Limited ed. of 400 copies./ Includes bibliographical references //
4171. ———. Pes baskervillský, (Knihovnicka.cz). Brno: Tribun, 2007.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Czech. Preloženo z anglictiny //
4172. ———. Phantastische Romane und Geschichten. Vollst. Taschenbuchausg. ed, (Bastei Lübbe). Bergisch Gladbach: Bastei Lübbe, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 19 cm. Aus dem Engl. von Bernd Seligmann //
4173. ———. The poison belt. Thirsk: House of Stratus, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 21 cm. //
4174. ———. The poison belt, (Modern voices). London: Hesperus, 2008.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4175. ———. The poison belt : being an account of another adventure of Professor George E. Challenger, Lord John Roxton, Prof. Summerlee, and Mr. E.D Malone, the discoverers of 'The Lost World', (An Alan Rodgers Book). Doylestown, PA: Wildside Press, 2000.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 24 cm. //
4176. ———. The poison belt : being an account of another amazing adventure of Professor Challenger, (Bison frontiers of imagination series). Lincoln: University of Nebraska Press, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 20 cm. Introduction to the Bison Books edition by Katya Reimann. //
4177. ———. Poslední poklona Sherlocka Holmese, (Scarabeus, sv. 40). Praha: Academia, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Czech. [z anglických originálu ... preložila Eva Kondrysová] //
4178. ———. Poslední poklona Sherlocka Holmese, (Knihovnicka.cz). Brno: Tribun, 2007.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Czech. Preloženo z anglictiny //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4179. ———. Poslední poklona Sherlocka Holmese, (Príbehy, sv. 22; Príbehy Sherlocka Holmese, 7). Brno: Books, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Czech. Doslov Jan Zábrana/ Na obálce nad názvem: Jota uvádí Príbehy Sherlocka Holmese po 24 a 82 letech. [z anglického originálu ... preložila Eva Kondrysová] //
4180. ———. Qeni I Baskervilëve. Translated by Vjollca Shtylla. Tiranë: Botime Çabej, 2007.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: The Hound of the Baskervilles. Albanian. //
4181. ———. Quatre aventures de Sherlock Holmes, (Librio, 34). Paris: EJM, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 21 cm. Le rituel des Musgrave -- L'interprète grec -- Une affaire d'identité -- Le mystère de la vallée de Boscombe. [trad.par L. Maricourt]. //
4182. ———. Quatre aventures de Sherlock Holmes, (Librio). Paris: EJM, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Un scandale en Bohême -- Peter le Noir -- L'école du Prieuré -- Le détective mourant. //
4183. ———. Quatre aventures de Sherlock Holmes : La bande mouchetée, suivi de, L'Association des Hommes roux, L'escarboucle bleue, Les cinq pépins d'orange, (Librio). [Paris]: Texte intégral, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Bande mouchetée; Association des Hommes roux; Escarboucle bleue; Cinq pépins d'orange. //
4184. ———. Quatre aventures de Sherlock Holmes : La cycliste solitaire, suivi de, Charles Auguste Milverton, Le Gloria Scott, Le trois-quart aile manquant, (Librio). [Paris]: Texte intégral, 1996.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Cycliste solitaire; Charles Auguste Milverton; Gloria Scott; Trois-quart aile manquant. //
4185. ———. Quatre aventures de Sherlock Holmes : Le problème final, précédé de, La face jaune, Un estropié, Le malade à demeure, (Librio). [Paris]: Texte intégral, 1998.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Problème final; Face jaune; Estropié; Malade à demeure. //
4186. ———. Quatre aventures de Sherlock Holmes : Le rituel des Musgrave ; suivi de L'interprète grec, Une affaire d'identité, Le mystère de la vallée de Boscombe, (Librio). Paris: EJM, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 21 cm. Le rituel des Musgrave -- L'interprète grec -- Une affaire d'identité -- Le mystère de la vallée de Boscombe. //
4187. ———. Quatre aventures de Sherlock Holmes : Le rituel des Musgrave, suivi de, L'interprète grec, Une affaire d'identité, Le mystère de la vallée de Boscombe, (Librio). [Paris]: Texte intégral, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 21 cm. Le rituel des Musgrave (The Musgrave ritual) -- L'interprète grec (The Greek interpreter) -- Une affaire d'identité (A case of identity) -- Le mystère de la vallée de Boscombe (The Boscombe Valley mystery). //
4188. ———. Quatre aventures de Sherlock Holmes : Les hommes dansants, suivi de, L'entrepreneur de Norwood, Les trois étudiants, Le pince-nez en or, (Librio). [Paris]: Texte intégral, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Hommes dansants; Entrepreneur de Norwood; Trois étudiants; Pince-nez en or. // 4189. ———. Quatre aventures de Sherlock Holmes : Les six Napoléons, suivi de, L'homme à la lèvre tordue, Silver blaze, Le traité naval, (Librio). [Paris]: Texte intégral, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Six Napoléons; Homme à la lèvre tordue; Silver blaze; Traité naval. // 4190. ———. The refugees : a tale of two continents, Huguenot inheritance series. Neerlandia, Alta. ; Pella, Iowa: Inheritance Publications, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Illustrated by T. de Thulstrup. // A small band of religious-freedom-seeking Huguenots escape France, only to hazard dangerous sea voyages, stranding on an iceberg, and a perilous trek through Canadian forests, to avoid both Catholic Frenchmen and Indians.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4191. ———. The Return of Sherlock Holmes. Edited by Leslie S. Klinger, (The Sherlock Holmes Reference Library). Indianapolis: Gasogene Books, 2002.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Introduction by David Stuart Davies. //
4192. ———. The Return of Sherlock Holmes. Braille ed. Nanaimo, B.C.: I Can See Book, n.d.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Braille. These books are printed on demand. Don Hobbs: Galactic Sherlock Holmes //
4193. ———. The return of Sherlock Holmes. Renton, WA: TOPICS Entertainment, 2001. Sound Recording 8 sound cassettes (ca. 11 hours).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog, Dolby processed. "Audio book collection"--Container. // Sherlock Holmes, the consulting detective, returns to solve 13 more crimes and mysteries.
4194. ———. The return of Sherlock Holmes radio dramatization. Hampton, NH: BBC Audiobooks America, 2000. Sound Recording 12 sound discs (9 hr., 25 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- BBC Radio 4. Digital ; 4 3/4 in. BBC radio collection. Compact discs. Title from container cover insert. Issue in three containers. "A BBC radio 4 full cast dramatization"--Container cover insert. Participants: Clive Merrison as Holmes, Michael Williams as Dr. Watson, and a full cast. //
4195. ———. A scandal in Bohemia. [Harlow, Essex, Eng.]: Pearson Education Ltd./Longman, 1999. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog. Penguin readers.; Level 3; Penguin readers audio pack. Copyright Penguin Books Ltd., 1999. //
4196. ———. Schandaal in Bohemen. [Amsterdam]: Cossee, 2006 1 compact disc (59'25 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Dutch. Omslag vermeldt: Cossee CD luisterboek. voorgelezen door Hans Croiset. regie: Christoph Buchwald. // Detective Sherlock Holmes wordt te hulp geroepen door de koning van Bohemen, die wordt afperst door een geliefde.
4197. ———. Seine Abschiedsvorstellung. Translated by Leslie Giger, (Sherlock Holmes; Bd. 4). Zürich: Kein und Aber, 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Neu übers. von Leslie Giger. //
4198. ———. Selected adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Princeton, NJ: Recording for the Blind & Dyslexic, 2005. Sound Recording Sound disc.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital, mono. ; 4 3/4 in. Core classics. Originally published: Charlottesville, VA : Core Knowledge Foundation, c2001. Audience: Grades 4-6. Distribution is restricted to RFB&D members who have a documented print disability such as a visual impairment, learning disability or other physical disability. //
4199. ———. Sharokku Homuzu, (Sekai no meitantei.; Korekushon 10, 1). Tokyo: Shueisha, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese. Table of Contents: Masugureva-ke no gishiki -- Aoi ganetto -- Gishi no oyayubi -- Meiba Shiruva Bureizu -- Ryokuchuseki no hokan -- Kaigun joyaku jiken. Doiru Higurashi Masamichi yaku. //
4200. ———. Sharokku homuzu no boken, (Kobunsha bunko, to (2) (1); Shinyaku sharokku homuzu zenshu). Tokyo: Kobunsha, 2006.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese //
4201. ———. Sharokku Homuzu no boken = The adventures of Sherlock Holmes, (Kodomo no tame no sekai bungaku no mori, 15). Tokyo: Shueisha, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese. Asa C. Doiru saku. Nakayama Tomoko yaku. [e, Suzuki Yoshiharu]. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4202. ———. Sharokku homuzu no kikan: Level 3 (1600 word), (yohan rada shirizu). [S.l.]: aibishipaburissshingu, 2007.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese //
4203. ———. Sharokku homuzu no seikan, (Kobunsha bunko, to (2) (4); Shinyaku sharokku homuzu zenshu). Tokyo: Kobunsha, 2006.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese //
4204. ———. Sharokku Homuzu saigo no jiken, (Iwanami shonen bunko, 522). Tokyo: Iwanami Shoten, 2000.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese. Konan Doiru saku. Hayashi Katsumi yaku. //
4205. ———. Sharokku homuzu zenshu. 001. Tokyo: Kawadeshoboshinsha, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese. Table of Contents: Hiiro no shusaku. //
4206. ———. Sharokku homuzu zenshu. 002. Tokyo: Kawadeshoboshinsha, 1998.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese. Table of Contents: Yottsu no sain. //
4207. ———. Sharokku homuzu zenshu. 003. Tokyo: Kawadeshoboshinsha, 1998.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese. Table of Contents: Sharokku homuzu no boken. //
4208. ———. Sharokku homuzu zenshu. 004. Tokyo: Kawadeshoboshinsha, 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese. Table of Contents: Sharokku homuzu no omoide. //
4209. ———. Sharokku homuzu zenshu. 005. Tokyo: Kawadeshoboshinsha, 2002.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese. Table of Contents: Basukaviruke no inu. //
4210. ———. Sharokku homuzu zenshu. 006. Tokyo: Kawadeshoboshinsha, 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese. Table of Contents: Sharokku homuzu no kikan. //
4211. ———. Sharokku homuzu zenshu. 007. Tokyo: Kawadeshoboshinsha, 2001.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese. Table of Contents: Kyofu no tani. //
4212. ———. Sharokku homuzu zenshu. 008. Tokyo: Kawadeshoboshinsha, 2000.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese. Table of Contents: Sharokku homuzu saigo no aisatsu. //
4213. ———. Sharokku homuzu zenshu. 009. Tokyo: Kawadeshoboshinsha, 2002.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese. Table of Contents: Sharokku homuzu no jikenbo. //
4214. ———. Shen tan Fu'ermosi. [Tianjin Shi]: Tiianjin yin xiang gong si, 2000. Sound Recording 2 sound discs.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital ; 4 3/4 in. Xiao xiao shao nian bi du Zhong wai ming zhu xi lie. Compact discs. Title from disc label. Program notes on container insert. //
4215. ———. Sherlock Holmes. Zürich: Haffmans, 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Bd. 1, Eine Studie in Scharlachrot. neu übers. von Gisbert Haefs. //
4216. ———. Sherlock Holmes. Remseck bei Stuttgart: RVG-Interbook, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 22 cm. 29 Sherlock Holmes short stories. Translated by R. Lautenbach and U. Kleiner. "Kurzgeschichten mit Illustrationen der Originalausgabe"--Dust jacket. Stories appeared originally in "The Strand magazine." //
4217. ———. Sherlock Holmes. Köln: Parkland-Verl., 1996.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Ill. ; 19 cm. Mit Ill. der Orig.-Ausg. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4218. ———. Sherlock Holmes. Zürich: Haffmans, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Bd. 2, Das Zeichen der Vier. neu übers. von Leslie Giger. //
4219. ———. Sherlock Holmes. Zürich: Haffmans, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Bd. 4, Das Tal der Angst. neu übers. von Hans Wolf. //
4220. ———. Sherlock Holmes. Zürich: Haffmans, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Bd. 3, Der Hund der Baskervilles. neu übers. von Gisbert Haefs. //
4221. ———. Sherlock Holmes. Zürich: Haffmans, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Bd. 1, Die Abenteuer des Sherlock Holmes. neu übers. von Gisbert Haefs. //
4222. ———. Sherlock Holmes. Zürich: Haffmans, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Bd. 2, Die Memoiren des Sherlock Holmes. neu übers. von Nikolaus Stingl. //
4223. ———. Sherlock Holmes. Zürich: Haffmans, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Bd. 4, Seine Abschiedsvorstellung. neu übers. von Leslie Giger. //
4224. ———. Sherlock Holmes. Zürich: Haffmans, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Bd. 5, Sherlock Holmes' Buch der Fälle. neu übers. von Hans Wolf. //
4225. ———. Sherlock Holmes 1. Die Abenteuer des Sherlock Holmes. Translated by Gisbert Haefs. Zürich: Kein & Aber, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4226. ———. Sherlock Holmes 1. Eine Studie in Scharlachrot. Translated by Gisbert Haefs. Zürich: Kein & Aber, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4227. ———. Sherlock Holmes 2. Das Zeichen der Vier. Translated by Leslie Giger. Zürich: Kein & Aber, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4228. ———. Sherlock Holmes 2. Die Memoiren des Sherlock Holmes. Translated by Nikolaus Stingl. Zürich: Kein & Aber, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4229. ———. Sherlock Holmes 3 tales of intrigue. Auburn, CA: Audio Partners Publishing Group, 2001 2 sound cassettes (ca. 90 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Read by Edward Hardwicke. Contents: The crooked man -- The Greek interpreter -- The naval treaty // "In The crooked man, a long lost love returns, horribly changed, revealing an awful treachery that has been kept secret for decades. In the Greek interpreter, Sherlock Holmes' brother, Mycroft, leads Holmes and Watson to a hideous murder and the betrayal of a foreign heiress. In The naval treaty, an innocent man's honor, position, and health are at stake when an important treaty is stolen from his office."
4230. ———. Sherlock Holmes 3. Der Hund der Baskervilles. Translated by Gisbert Haefs. Zürich: Kein & Aber, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4231. ———. Sherlock Holmes 3. Die Rückkehr des Sherlock Holmes. Translated by Werner Schmitz. Zürich: Kein & Aber, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Rückkehr des Sherlock Holmes. //
4232. ———. Sherlock Holmes 4. Das Tal der Angst. Translated by Hans Wolf. Zürich: Kein & Aber, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4233. ———. Sherlock Holmes 4. Seine Abschiedsvorstellung. Translated by Leslie Giger. Zürich: Kein & Aber, 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4234. ———. Sherlock Holmes 5. Sherlock Holmes' Buch der Fälle. Translated by Hans Wolf. Zürich: Kein & Aber, 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4235. ———. Sherlock Holmes - der Hund von Baskerville Roman. Limitierte Sonderausg. ed, (Fischer; 17381). Frankfurt: M. Fischer-Taschenbuch-Verlag, 2007.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- [Einzig berecht. Übertr. aus dem Engl. von Renate Wyler]. //
4236. ———. Sherlock Holmes - der Hund von Baskerville Roman. Ungekürzte Ausg. ed, (Fischer; 90066 : Fischer Klassik). Frankfurt: M. Fischer-Taschenbuch-Verl., 2008.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Aus dem Engl. von Renate Wyler. //
4237. ———. Sherlock Holmes : de complete avonturen. Amsterdam: Uitgeverij 521, 2003.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Dutch. Omslag- en rugtitel: De complete avonturen van Sherlock Holmes. //
4238. ———. Sherlock Holmes : Étude en rouge, (Le livre de poche). Paris: R. Laffont, 2003.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Étude en rouge. Traduction de Pierre Baillargeon. / Uniform Title: Study in scarlet. French. //
4239. ———. Sherlock Holmes : his greatest cases, (Pocket classics). London: White's, 2010.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4240. ———. Sherlock Holmes : la cycliste solitaire ; suivi de Charles Auguste Milverton, Le Gloria Scott, Le Trois-quarts aile manquant, (Librio. Policier). Paris: Librio, 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Traduit de l'anglais par Louis Chantemele, Lucien Maricourt et Michel Le Houbie. //
4241. ———. Sherlock Holmes : la cycliste solitaire suivi de trois autres récits, (Librio). Paris: E JL, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 21 cm. //
4242. ———. Sherlock Holmes : More mysteries : Silver Blaze, the Three Garridebs, His last bow, (Langues pour tous). Paris: Pocket, 2000.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 21 cm. Collection bilingue. More mysteries : Silver blaze, Three Garridebs, His last bow. Choix, traduction et notes Frédérique Coste. //
4243. ———. Sherlock Holmes : späte Rache : Roman. Translated by Carl Bach, (British crime classics). Bern: Scherz, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. Übertragung as dem Englischen von Carl Bach. Translation of "A study in scarlet". // 4244. ———. Sherlock Holmes : une étude en rouge. [S.l.]: P & T Production, 1995.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- chiefly col. ill. ; 31 cm. Etude en rouge; Study in scarlet. // 4245. ———. Sherlock Holmes a study in scarlet. Hampton, NH: BBC Audiobooks America, 2000. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes (1 hr., 50 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog. BBC Radio collection. In container (22 cm.). Title from container. "Radio Dramatization"--Container. "Digitally Mastered"--Container. Issued also on compact disc. // The arrogant, irascible Sherlock Holmes is a master chemist, a talented musician and an expert on all aspects of crime--but, despite his best efforts, new roommate Watson is in the dark about his roommate's profession. Finally Holmes reveals that he is a consulting detective, and soon Watson is drawn into the investigation of a bizarre murder in which Holmes is involved, unaware that it is the beginning of the most famous partnership in the history of criminal detection. An unmarked corpse, a wedding ring and a mysterious message scrawled in blood are the intrepid pair's only clues as they follow the trail of a man to fulfill a terrible oath, which he swore more than twenty years before.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4246. ———. "Sherlock Holmes and the Copper Beeches." Plays 62, no. 2 (2002): 59.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents the script of the mystery play 'Sherlock Holmes and the Copper Beeches,' adapted by Paul T. Nolan.
4247. ———. Sherlock Holmes and the mystery of Boscombe Pool. Harlow: Longman/Pearson Education, 2001.
 Sound Recording 1 sound disc (67 min., 24 sec.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital. Penguin readers. Level 3; Penguin readers audio CD. Compact disc. // Who killed Charles McCarthy? And why? Was it really his son? Sherlock Holmes, the famous English detective, must answer these questions. His friend, Dr. Watson, helps him to find the murderer.
4248. ———. Sherlock Holmes' Buch der Fälle. Translated by Hans Wolf, (Sherlock Holmes; Bd. 5). Zürich: Kein und Aber, 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Neu übers. von Hans Wolf. //
4249. ———. Sherlock Holmes classic mysteries. Falls Church, VA: Commuter's Library, 1996. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes (3 hrs.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog, Dolby processed. Unabridged. Read by Ralph Cosham. //
4250. ———. Sherlock Holmes der Hund von Baskerville : Roman. Limitierte Sonderausg. ed, (Fischer-Taschenbücher; 17381). Frankfurt am Main: Fischer-Taschenbuch-Verl., 2007.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4251. ———. Sherlock Holmes i Likovi plesaca, (Biblioteka Triler, knj. 1). Zagreb: CID, 1996.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Croatian; Text in Serbo-Croatian (roman). Table of Contents: Prazna kuca -- Poduzetnik iz Norwooda -- Likovi plesaca -- Usamljeni biciklist -- Priorijska skola -- Crni Peter -- Charles Ogistes Milverton. [prijevod, Ljerka Hrdjok]. //
4252. ———. Sherlock Holmes i Likovi plesaca, (Biblioteka Triler). Zagreb: CID, 1996.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 20 cm. Prazna kuca -- Poduzetnik iz Norwooda -- Likovi plesaca -- Usamljeni biciklist -- Priorijska skola -- Crni Peter -- Charles Ogistes Milverton. [prijevod, Ljerka Hrdjok]. / Uniform Title: Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Croatian. Selections //
4253. ———. Sherlock Holmes investigates. Frankfurt am Main: Diesterweg, 1999. Sound Recording 1 sound cassette.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4254. ———. Sherlock Holmes investigates : three stories of detection. Genoa: Cideb Editrice [prod.], cop. 1999 ; [Amsterdam : Intertaal dist.], 1999. Sound Recording 1 geluidscassette (ca. 68 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- mono. + Includes: 1 tekst (143 p.) Text adat., notes and activities by Kenneth Brodey. // Drie verhalen waarin Sherlock Holmes een mysterie op lost. Met informatie over de auteur, de Titanic, verschillende oefeningen en woordverklaringen in het Engels.
4255. ———. Sherlock Holmes investigates : three stories of detection. Genoa: Cideb Editrice [prod.], cop. 1999 ; [Amsterdam : Intertaal dist.], 2002. Sound Recording 1 compactdisc (ca. 68 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- mono. + Includes: 1 tekst (143 p.) Text adat., notes and activities by Kenneth Brodey. // Drie verhalen waarin Sherlock Holmes een mysterie op lost. Met informatie over de auteur, de Titanic, verschillende oefeningen en woordverklaringen in het Engels.
4256. ———. Sherlock Holmes mysteries. Falls Church, VA: Commuters Library, 1997. Sound Recording 6 sound cassettes.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog, Dolby processed. Great authors. Title from container. Unabridged. //

4257. ———. Sherlock Holmes reader, (Courage classics). Philadelphia: Courage Books, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 93074687. Contents: The "Gloria Scott" -- A scandal in Bohemia -- The red-headed league -- The five orange pips -- The adventure of the speckled band -- The final problem -- The adventure of the empty house -- The adventure of the dancing men //
4258. ———. The Sherlock Holmes reference library. Indianapolis, Ind.: Gasogene Books, an imprint of Wessex Press, 1998.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Table of Contents: [v. 1 (327 p.)]. The adventures of Sherlock Holmes / introduction by Jon Lellenberg. Book design by Mark Gagen & Steven T. Doyle (published in 1998) -- [v. 2 (xiv, 303 p.)]. The memoirs of Sherlock Holmes / by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle ; edited, with annotations by Leslie S. Klinger ; introduction by Peter E. Blau ; book design by Mark Gagen & Steven T. Doyle (published in 1999) -- [v. 3 (xvi, 150 p.)]. A study in scarlet (published in 2001) -- [v. 4 (xvi, 150 p.)]. The hound of the Baskervilles / by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle ; edited, with annotations by Leslie S. Klinger ; [introduction by Nicholas Meyer] -- [v. 5 (xv, 347 p.)]. The return of Sherlock Holmes / introduction by David Stuart Davies (publ. 2003) -- [v. 6 (xvii, 121)]. The sign of four / introduction by Bernard Davies (publ. 2004). Includes chronologies and bibliography./ Illustrations by S. Paget./ "These new annotations of the complete Sherlock Holmes stories are published in cooperation with the estate of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle." //
4259. ———. Sherlock Holmes short stories. [Oxford]: Oxford University Press, 2000. Sound Recording 1 sound cassette.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Oxford bookworms library.; Stage 2. //
4260. ———. Sherlock Holmes the adventures of the Sussex vampire and other stories. England: Trafalgar Square, 1999. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog. // The famous sleuth investigates a collection of mysteries.
4261. ———. Sherlock Holmes the blue diamond. [Oxford]: Oxford University Press, 2002. Sound Recording 1 sound cassette.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Dominoes.; 1; Oxford English. //
4262. ———. Sherlock Holmes the valley of fear. [London]: BBC, 2000. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes (110 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog. BBC Radio collection. Uniform Title: Valley of fear. //
4263. ———. Sherlock Holmes triumfer. Copenhagen: Sesam, 1995.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Danish. Table of Contents: Det brogede Bånd -- Skandale i Bøhmen -- De Rødhåredes Forening -- Den blå karfunkel -- Silver Blaze -- Det afsluttende problem -- Det tomme hus -- Den ensomme cyklist -- Den fornemme klient -- Spioncentralen. Translation of: Selected Sherlock Holmes stories./ Colour reproduction of a train scene with Holmes and Watson by Sidney Paget on upper cover./ Includes bibliography. illustreret med de originale illustrationer fra "The Strand Magazine" i udvalgt ved Bjarne Nielsen. //
4264. ———. Sherlock Holmes two complete adventures. Running Press miniature ed. Philadelphia, Pa.; London: Running Press, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 89060273 //r933. Contents: Introduction -- The five orange pips -- The adventure of the blue carbuncle. Citations: De Waal C2141.2 //
4265. ———. Sherlock Holmes und seine grössten Erfolge. Translated by Hans Herlin. Ungekürzte Ausg. ed, (Ullstein-Buch). Frankfurt/M: Berlin, 1996.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 19 cm. [Aus dem Engl. von Hans Herlin ...]. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4266. ———. Sherlock Holmes, der Hund von Baskerville. Translated by Werner K. Weidert. Ungekürzte Ausg., 5. Aufl. ed, (dtv). München: Dt. Taschenbuch-Verl., 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. Lizenz des Franckh-Kosmos-Verl., Stuttgart. Nach dem engl. Orig. neu erzählt von W. K. Weidert. Uniform Title: The hound of the Baskervilles. German. //
4267. ———. Sherlock Holmes, der Hund von Baskerville. Translated by Werner K. Weidert. Ungekürzte Ausg., 6. Aufl. ed, (dtv). München: Dt. Taschenbuch-Verl., 1996.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. Lizenz des Franckh-Kosmos-Verl., Stuttgart. Nach dem engl. Orig. neu erzählt von W. K. Weidert. Uniform Title: The hound of the Baskervilles. German. // 4268. ———. Sherlock Holmes, der Hund von Baskerville : Roman. Einmalige Ausg. ed, (Scherz-Krimis - das Beste aus 50 Jahren). Bern: München ; Wien, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. [Einzig berecht. Übertr. aus dem Engl. von Renate Wyler]. //
4269. ———. Sherlock Holmes, sign of the four. New York: BDD Audio ; Prince Frederick, MD ; [Distributed by] Recorded Books, 1998. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes (110 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- BBC Radio. Analog, Dolby system. Unabridged. "An audio dramatization"--Container. At head of title: "BBC Radio presents." //
4270. ———. Sherlock Holmes, the hound of the Baskervilles. New York: BDD Audio ; Prince Frederick, MD : [Distributed by] Recorded Books, 1998. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes (110 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog, Dolby system. Unabridged. "An audio dramatization"--Container. At head of title: "BBC Radio presents." //
4271. ———. Sherlock Holmes, the hound of the Baskervilles. New York, NY; Prince Frederick, MD: BDD Audio. Distributed by Recorded Books, 1999 2 sound cassettes (110 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson travel to the bleak wastes of Dartmoor to solve the mystery surrounding the late Sir Charles Baskerville and a ghostly hound 4272. ———. Sherlock Holmes, the valley of fear. New York: Bantam Doubleday Dell Audio Pub., 1998. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes (180 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- BBC Radio. Analog, Dolby system. "An audio dramatization"--Container. At head of title: "BBC Radio presents." // With the aid of a local guidebook, a missing dumbbell, and Doctor Watson's umbrella, Sherlock Holmes unravels a tangled web of clues to a murder which stretches over 15 years and two continents.
4273. ———. Sherlock Holmes. A study in scarlet. [London]: BBC, 2003. Sound Recording 2 sound discs (CD) (1 hr. 50 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- BBC radio collection. Includes: notes. // The story in which Sir Arthur Conan Doyle first unleashed the most famous partnership in the history of criminal detection. An unmarked corpse, a wedding ring and a mysterious message scrawled in blood are the only clues. Clive Merrison stars as Holmes with Michael Williams as Watson in this adventure, part of the unique fully dramatised BBC canon of Conan Doyle's short stories and novels featuring the world-famous sleuth.
4274. ———. Sherlock Holmes. The valley of fear. [London]: BBC Worldwide Ltd. ; Hampton, NH ; [Distributed by] BBC Audiobooks America, 2003. Sound Recording 2 sound discs (1 hr., 50 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital ; 4 3/4 in. BBC Radio collection. Compact discs (DDD). BBC Audiobooks America: BBCD 037. Indexed inaudibly at approximately three minute intervals and at logical junctions to facilitate the location of segments by the listeners. Participants: Clive Merrison and Michael Williams ; with full-cast dramatization. Also issued on cassette. // Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson respond to a coded warning when they arrived at a fortified country house of the reclusive Jack Douglas, too late to prevent a tragic death. They must follow a series of clues in search of a murderer and establish a connection between the corpse with a missing face and a ruthless secret society which once terrorized a desolate region of the United States.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4275. ———. Sherlock Holmes: selected stories. 1993 Borders Books ed. Oxford, New York: Oxford University Press, 1993.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4276. ———. Sherlock Holmes: selected stories. London: Folio Society, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Scuttlebutt Feb 1997 // "Selected by Joe Whitlock Blundell and with an introduction by Richard Lancelyn Green, with 11 of the stories and illustrations by Francis Mosley (reprinted from the set of the complete short stories published by the Society in 1993)."
4277. ———. "Sherlock Holmes's Christmas Goose." Plays 65, no. 3 (2005): 35-44.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // The article presents the script of the play "Sherlock Holmes's Christmas Goose," by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, adapted for school presentation by Paul T. Nolan.
4278. ———. Shochuban sharokku homuzu zenshu. 1, (Chikuma bunko). Tokyo: Chikumashobo, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese //
4279. ———. Shochuban sharokku homuzu zenshu. 2, (Chikuma bunko). Tokyo: Chikumashobo, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese //
4280. ———. Shochuban sharokku homuzu zenshu. 3, (Chikuma bunko). Tokyo: Chikumashobo, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese //
4281. ———. Shochuban sharokku homuzu zenshu. 4, (Chikuma bunko). Tokyo: Chikumashobo, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese //
4282. ———. Shochuban sharokku homuzu zenshu. 5, (Chikuma bunko). Tokyo: Chikumashobo, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese //
4283. ———. Shochuban sharokku homuzu zenshu. 6, (Chikuma bunko). Tokyo: Chikumashobo, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese //
4284. ———. Shochuban sharokku homuzu zenshu. 7, (Chikuma bunko). Tokyo: Chikumashobo, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese //
4285. ———. Shochuban sharokku homuzu zenshu. 8., (Chikuma bunko). Tokyo: Chikumashobo, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese //
4286. ———. Shochuban sharokku homuzu zenshu. 9, (Chikuma bunko). Tokyo: Chikumashobo, 1998.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese //
4287. ———. Shochuban sharokku homuzu zenshu. 10, (Chikuma bunko). Tokyo: Chikumashobo, 1998.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese //
4288. ———. Shochuban sharokku homuzu zenshu. bekkon, (Chikuma bunko). Tokyo: Chikumashobo, 1998.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese. Table of Contents: Sharokku homuzu jiten. //
4289. ———. Si ge ren de qian ming = The sign of four. 1st ed, (Fu'ermosi tan an quan ji). Taipei Shi: Lian pu wen hua shi ye gu fen you xian gong si, 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Translation of: The sign of four. Si ge ren de qian ming [Yase Kenan Dao'er jue shi zhu ; Wang Zhiyi yi]. //
4290. ———. Si qian ming. 1st ed, (Fu'ermosi tan an ji xi lie). Xianggang: Li wen chu ban she : Fa xing Li yuan shu bao she, 1998.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 20 cm. Ase Kenan Dao'er zhu. //

4291. ———. The sign of four. Peterborough, Ont, Orchard Park, N.Y: Broadview Press, 2001.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2001271867 //
4292. ———. The Sign of Four. Edited by Leslie S. Klinger. 1st ed, (The Sherlock Holmes reference library). Indianapolis: Gasogene, 2004.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references (p. 115-120). Scuttlebutt Feb 2004. // "With a delightful introduction by Bernard Davies, who offers an essay that is both personal and scholarly; as in previous volumes, the annotations and appendices are based on Sherlockian scholarship both old and new."
4293. ———. The sign of four, (Penguin classics). London, New York: Penguin, 2001.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 20 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. xviii). Introduction by Peter Ackroyd ; notes by Ed Glinert. // 4294. ———. The sign of four. Oxford: Heinemann International, 2003. Sound Recording 1 sound cassette.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog + Includes: 1 book (2002, 63 p. : ill. ; 20 cm.) Heinemann guided readers.; Intermediate level. Arthur Conan Doyle ; retold by Ann Collins ; illustrated by Kay Dixey. //
4295. ———. The sign of four. London: BBC Audiobooks, 2002. Sound Recording 2 sound discs (CDs) (2 hrs).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital ; 4 3/4 in. BBC radio collection. // Sherlock Holmes is feeling more than a little jaded and depressed when governess Mary Morstan consults him upon a curious mystery. Since her father disappeared without trace ten years ago, Mary has received annually and anonymously a valuable pearl. When she is finally requested to meet the sender she requires an escort. Holme and Watson accompany Mary to her encounter with the stranger, who relates to them a tale of secrecy, hidden treasure and sudden death. But before long, there is more than one death to account for, and only Sherlock Holmes has the skill to detect the real villain.
4296. ———. The sign of the four. New York: Book-of-the-Month Club, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4297. ———. The sign of the four. England?: BBC Worldwide, 1998 2 sound cassettes (110 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Sherlock Holmes, Clive Merrison ; Dr. Watson, Michael Williams ; Jonathan Small, Brian Blessed ; Mary Morstan, Moir Leslie ; Abdullah Khan, Amerjit deu ; Mrs. Hudson, Anna Cropper ; Thaddeus Sholto, Richard Tate ; Major Sholto, Michael Kilgariff ; Bartholomew Sholto/Mahomet Singh, John Bull ; Inspector Jones, Siôn Probert ; Sherman, John Moffatt ; Wiggins, Alan Dean ; Mrs. Forrester, Elizabeth Mansfield ; Jacobson, Vincent Brimble. Performer Note: Alexander Balanescu, violin //
4298. ———. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle : [selected works]. London: Edimat Books, 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 24 cm. A Study in Scarlet -- The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes -- The Hound of the Baskervilles. //
4299. ———. Sølvøksen. Translated by Mette Johansen. [Norway]: Interpresse, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Danish. Table of Contents: Sølvøksen -- Kaptajnen på Polystar -- Den brune hånd -- Lædertragten -- Nummer 249 -- Leg med ild. Translation of: The silver hatchet and other stories./ Full-colour pictorial paper wrappers./ Includes brief biography of the author ([1] p.) at end. //
4300. ———. Songs of the Road. [S.l.]: General Books, 2010.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4301. ———. Sous la lampe rouge : contes et récits de la vie médicale, (Un endroit où aller). Arles: Actes Sud, 2006.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Trad. de: Under the red lamp./ Bibliogr.: p. 376. Traduits de l'anglais par Christine Le Boeuf ; postface de Dominique Sassoon. / Uniform Title: Under the red lamp. French. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4302. ———. Spiritualism and rationalism: with a drastic examination of Mr. Joseph McCabe, Rupert books monograph series ; ; no.7;. Cambridge [England]: Hodder and Stoughton, 1998.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Facsimile reprint of 1920 ed./ Limited to 400 copies./ At head of title on cover: The answer of spiritualism./ Includes bibliographical references. With an afterword by Michael W. Homer. // 4303. ———. Spiritualist Pamphlets. Newcastle: CSP Classic Texts, 2010.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4304. ———. Stories of Sherlock Holmes. New York: Harper Classics, 1994. Sound Recording sound cassettes.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog. An unabridged recording of the short stories. Read by Basil Rathbone. //
4305. ———. Strakatý pás a jiné případy Sherlocka Holmese, (Svetová literatura. Krimi, 5). V Praze: Pro edici deníku Lidové noviny vydalo nakl. Euromedia Group, 2007.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Czech. Preloženo z anglicky. [preložili Zora Wolková ... et al.] //
4306. ———. Studie in Scharlachrot, (Spannung pur). [Erfstadt]: Area, 2006.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4307. ———. Studie v sarlatové, (Příběhy, sv. 16). Brno: Jota, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Czech. Na predtitulním listu souborný název: Příběhy Sherlocka Holmese po 26 a 110 letech, v tir.: Příběhy Sherlocka Holmese, označení 1. [z anglicky preložili Vladimír Henzl a Jan Zábrana] //
4308. ———. Studie v sarlatové, (Knihovnicka.cz). Brno: Tribun, 2007.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Czech. Preloženo z anglicky //
4309. ———. Studie v sarlatové, (Příběhy, sv. 16; Příběhy Sherlocka Holmese, 1). Brno: Jota, 2007.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Czech. Z anglických originálu preložili Jan Sládek (Studie v sarlatové) a Jan Zábrana (Podpis čtyř)/ Na obálce nad názvem: Jota uvádí Příběhy Sherlocka Holmese v klasické sérii //
4310. ———. A study in scarlet. New York: Book-of-the-Month Club, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4311. ———. A Study in Scarlet. Edited by Leslie S. Klinger, (The Sherlock Holmes Reference Library). Indianapolis: Gasogene Books, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Introduction by Dr. Donald Pollock. Scuttlebutt Jan 2001. // "The annotations are perceptive, and draw upon old and new Sherlockian scholarship, and there is intriguing speculation on whether the story had more than one author, and on who those authors might have been."
4312. ———. A study in scarlet. Large type ed, (World classics in large print; British authors series). Sanbornville, NH: Large Print Book Co., 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 23 cm. Large print ed. Originally published: London : Ward, Lock and Co., 1887. //
4313. ———. A study in scarlet. 1st ed, (1st World Library Classics). [Fairfield, IA]: 1st World Library, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 22 cm. //
4314. ———. A study in scarlet. [S.l.]: Quiet Vision Pub., 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 21 cm. //
4315. ———. A study in scarlet. Stilwell, KS: Digireads.com Publishing, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 21 cm. //
4316. ———. A study in scarlet. Large type ed. Cirencester [U.K.]: Echo Library, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 23 cm. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4317. ———. A study in scarlet. New York: BDD Audio, 1998 2 sound cassettes (120 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Sherlock Holmes, Clive Merrison ; Dr. John Watson, Michael Williams ; Stamford, Paul Downing ; Stangerson, Matt Zimmerman ; Alice, Jane Slavin ; Drebber, Ed Bishop ; Mrs. Hudson, Anna Cropper ; Mme. Charpentier, Marcia King ; Inspector Gregson, John Moffatt ; Inspector Lestrade, Donald Gee. P.C. Rance, Michael Kilgariff ; Wiggins, Alan Dean ; Jefferson Hope, Shane Rimmer ; John Ferrier, Christopher Good ; Brigham Young, Peter Carlisle ; Stangerson Snr., John Bull ; Lucy, Alice Arnold.
 Performer Note: Alexander Balanescu, violin // In this first Sherlock Holmes story, Dr. Watson is at a loose end until a chance encounter leads him to take rooms with a remarkable young man. The arrogant, irascible Sherlock Holmes is a master chemist, a talented musician and an expert on all aspects of crime. When Watson is drawn into the investigation of a bizarre murder in which Holmes is involved, he is unaware that it is the beginning of the most famous partnership in the history of criminal detection 4318. ———. A study in Scarlet ; and, The sign of four. London: Collector's Library, 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 16 cm. With an afterword by David Stuart Davis. //
4319. ———. A Study in scarlet: the first book about Sherlock Holmes. London: Ward Lock & Co, 1919.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Citations: De Waal C1390, C1391 //
4320. ———. Sutaku manro karano tegami. Tokyo: Kawadeshoboshinsha, 2006.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese //
4321. ———. Tajemné příběhy = (Tales of mystery). 1st ed. Praha: Vodnár, 2004.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- il. ; 17 cm. Z anglickiny preložil Ivan Gellner ; ilustrovala Pavla Hochmanová. //
4322. ———. Tales for a winter's night. Large type ed. South Yarmouth, Ma.: Curley Pub., 1991.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 22 cm. "Curley large print"--P. [4] of cover. // "Offers of eight of Conan Doyle's non-Sherlockian stories from Round the Fire Stories. (Jacques Barzun and Wendell Hertig Taylor suggested in their Catalog of Crime that the stories in that book 'are worth reading even around a radiator.'" 4323. ———. Tentativa për prabitjen e një banke. Translated by Elta Deveja. Tiranë: Shtypur në shtypshkronjën, 2007.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: The Red-Headed League. Albanian. Don Hobbs: The Galactic Sherlock Holmes. //
4324. ———. The terror of John Blue Gap. 1st. ed. Los Angeles, CA: Best Sellers Illustrated, 2006.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ID: 4494; Sir Arthur Conan Doyle ; [edited by] Stephen Stern.; 0604; p. cm //
4325. Doyle, Adrian Conan. "Thoughts From A. Conan Doyle -- the other one." Canadian Holmes 21, no. 3 (1998): 27-29.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4326. Doyle, Arthur Conan. Tragediia passazhirov "Korosko" / Uniform Title: Tragedy of the Korosko. Russian. Moskva: Geleos, 2006.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Tragediia passazhirov "Korosko" -- Rasskazy: Nachalo voennoi kar'ery Gilari Dzhoisa ; Tre korrespondenta ; Znamia svobody ; Bochonok ikry ; Khoziain Shato-Nuara ; Ten' griadushchego. [perevod s angliiskogo M.B. Antonovoi, P.A. Gelevy]. // 4327. ———. The tragedy of the Korosko. Bloomington, Ind.: Gaslight Publications, 1983.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 23 cm. "Originally published in March 1898 by Smith, Elder & Co. (London) and in May 1898 under the title 'A Desert Drama' by J.B. Lippincott Co. (Philadelphia)." Afterword by Dale L. Walker ; illustrations by Sidney Paget. //
4328. ———. The tragedy of the Korosko. London: Hesperus, 2003.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 20 cm. //

4329. ———. The tragedy of the Korosko. Amsterdam, The Netherlands: Fredonia Books, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. "Reprinted from the 1898 ed."--T.p. verso. //
4330. ———. Udolí strachu, (Knihovnicka.cz). Brno: Tribun, 2007.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Czech. Table of Contents: část I. Tragédie v Birlstonu -- část II. Brakýři. Preloženo z anglictiny //
4331. ———. Udolí strachu, (Príbehy Sherlocka Holmese, 6). Brno: Books, 1998.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Czech. Ediční poznámka/ Na obálce nad názvem: Jota uvádí příběhy Sherlocka Holmese po 24 a 83 letech/ Vysvetlivky. [z anglického originálu ... preložil Jan Zábrana] // 4332. ———. Udolí strachu. Vyd. 1. ed, (Knihovnicka.cz). Brno: Tribun, 2007.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 21 cm. část I. Tragédie v Birlstonu -- část II. Brakýři. Preloženo z anglictiny. / Uniform Title: Valley of Fear. Cesky //
4333. ———. Un scandale en Bohême, (Les aventures de Sherlock Holmes). [S.l.]: Le Livre de Poche, 1996.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. / Uniform Title: Scandal in Bohemia. French. Traduction de Bernard Tourville. //
4334. ———. Une aventure de Sherlock Holmes : le Chien des Baskerville. Paris: Libro, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 21 cm. "119"--Spine/ Translation of: The hound of the Baskervilles. Traduit de l'anglais par Lucien Maricourt. / Uniform Title: Hhound of the Baskervilles. French. //
4335. ———. Une aventure de Sherlock Holmes : le Chien des Baskerville. Paris: Libro, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 21 cm. "119"--Spine/ Translation of: The hound of the Baskervilles. Translated by Lucien Maricourt. //
4336. ———. Une aventure de Sherlock Holmes : Le signe des quatre, (Librio). [Paris]: Texte intégral, 1998.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Signe des quatre. Traduit de l'anglais par Lucien Maricourt. //
4337. ———. Une aventure de Sherlock Holmes : Une étude en rouge, (Librio). [Paris]: Texte intégral, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Étude en rouge. Traduit de l'anglais par Lucien Maricourt. //
4338. ———. Une étude en rouge : la première enquête de Sherlock Holmes, (Folio junior). [Paris]: Gallimard, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 18 cm. Editeur sur la p. de t.: Laffont. Original: A study in scarlet. Traduit de l'anglais par Pierre Baillargeon ; illustrations de Jeanne Puchol. // 4339. ———. Ushinawareta sekai: Rosuto warudo, (Hayakawa bunko SF). Tokyo: Hayakawa Shobo, 1996.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Japanese. Translation of: The lost world. Asa Konan Doiru. Kajima Shozo yaku. //
4340. ———. The Valley of Fear. Edited by Leslie S. Klinger, (The Sherlock Holmes Reference Library). Indianapolis: Gasogene Books, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Introduction by Julia Rosenblatt. Scuttlebutt Jan 2005 // "With a fine introduction by Julia Carlson Rosenblatt, whose insights on the story and its setting are as helpful to the reader as they were to those who participated in last year's excursion into the Valley; the annotations and appendices are as usual based on old and new Sherlockian scholarship."
4341. ———. The valley of fear. New South Wales, Australia: ReadHowYouWant.com, 2006.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4342. ———. The valley of fear. [London]: BBC Worldwide Ltd. ; Hampton, NH ; [Distributed by] BBC Audiobooks America, 2003. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog. BBC Radio collection. "The finest in audio drama." Participants: Clive Merrison and Michael Williams ; with full-cast radio dramatization. // Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson respond to a coded warning when they arrived at a fortified country house of the reclusive Jack Douglas, too late to prevent a tragic death. They must follow a series of clues in search of a murderer and establish a connection between the corpse with a missing face and a ruthless secret society which once terrorized a desolate region of the United States.
4343. ———. The valley of fear. Spokane, WA: Books in Motion, 1994. Sound Recording 4 sound cassettes (ca. 5.6 hrs.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog. Books in Motion: 572. "Unabridged." Read by David Sharp. // Sherlock Holmes takes on a peculiar case involving a sawed-off shotgun and a dead man clad only in a pink dressing gown.
4344. ———. The valley of fear. New York: BDD Audio, 1998 2 sound cassettes (180 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Sherlock Holmes, Clive Merrison ; Dr. Watson, Michael Williams ; John McMurdo, Iain Glen ; The narrator, Ronald Pickup ; Inspector MacDonald, Mark Bonnar ; White Mason, Timothy Bateson. Performer Note: Michael Haslam, piano ; Abigail Young, violin // With the aid of a local guidebook, a missing dumbbell, and Doctor Watson's umbrella, Sherlock Holmes unravels a tangled web of clues to a murder that stretches over 15 years and two continents
4345. ———. The valley of fear and selected cases, (Penguin classics). London, New York: Penguin, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 20 cm. Introduction by Charles Palliser ; notes by Ed Glinert. // Valley of fear -- Selected cases from The return of Sherlock Holmes: Empty house ; Dancing men ; Black Peter ; Charles Augustus Milverton ; Six Napoleons ; Abbey grange -- From His last bow: Adventure of the Bruce-Partington plans ; Adventure of the dying detective ; Disappearance of Lady Frances Carfax ; His last bow.
4346. ———. Verder avonturen van Sherlock Holmes, (Werelds meest geliefde boeken, dl. 27). Amsterdam [etc.]: The Reader's Digest, 1995.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Dutch //
4347. ———. Vier kurze Krimis. Munich: DTV, 1995.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Originally in English. Uniform Title: Four penny shockers. German. //
4348. ———. The vital message. 1st ed. Jackson Hole, WY: Archeion Press, LLC, 2007.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2007942282 //
4349. ———. Vladeteliat na Chernia zamuk. [Bulgaria]: Izdatelska kushta "Trud", 2007.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Bulgarian. Table of Contents: Vladeteliat na Chernia zamuk -- Novite katakombi -- Sluchaiat s leidi Sentuks -- Brazilska kotka -- Kafiavata dlan -- Uzhasut na visinite -- Uzhasut v peshterata "Blu Dzhon" -- Kapitanut na "Poliarna zvezda" -- Fiaskoto v Los Amigos. Translation of: Tales of unease. prevod ot angliiski, Violeta Chushkova, Teodor Mikhailov. //
4350. ———. Vzpomínky na Sherlocka Holmese, (Knihovnicka.cz). Brno: Tribun, 2007.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Czech. Preloženo z anglictiny //
4351. ———. Vzpomínky na Sherlocka Holmese, (Příběhy Sherlocka Holmese, 3). Brno: Books, 1998.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Czech. Dotisk r. 2006 vydán v nakl. Jota. [z anglictiny preložil Jan Zábrana] //
4352. ———. War in South Africa. [S.l.]: General Books, 2010.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4353. ———. The white company ; and, Sir Nigel, (Barnes & Noble library of essential reading). New York: Barnes & Noble Books, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- maps ; 21 cm. The white company -- Sir Nigel. Includes bibliographical references (p. 773-774). Introduction by Douglas Elliott. //
4354. ———. The White Company ; Sir Nigel. Common reader ed. Pleasantville, N.Y.: Akadine Press, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 24 cm. Introduction by George MacDonald Fraser. //
4355. ———. Xin tan an. 1st ed. 2 vols, (Fu'ermosi tan an ji xi lie). Xianggang: Li wen chu ban she, 1998.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 19 cm. Xin tan an [Ase Kenan Dao'er zhu]. //
4356. ———. Xin tan an, (Fu'ermosi tan an). Taibei Xian, Zhonghe Shi: Zhen cha guan, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 22 cm. Twelve short stories. Yase Kenadao'er yuan zhu ; Liao Xiaohong bian yi. //
4357. ———. Xue zi de yan jiu. 1st ed, (Fu'ermo si tan an ji xi lie). Xianggang: Li wen chu ban she, 1998.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 20 cm. Ase Kenan Dao'er zhu. //
4358. ———. Xue zi de yan jiu. 1st ed, (Fu'ermo si tan an ji). Xindian Shi: Shu hua chu ban shi ye you xian gong si : Zong jing xiao Xue ying wen hua shi ye you xian gong si, 1998.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 20 cm. Ase Kenan Dao'er zhu. //
4359. ———. Z archivu Sherlocka Holmese, (Príbehy Sherlocka Holmese, 8; Príbehy, sv. 23). Brno: Jota, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Czech. Edicní poznámku a poznámku o autorovi napsal Jan Zábřana/ Na obálce nad názvem: Jota uvádí Příbehy Sherlocka Holmese po 24 a 82 letech. [z anglického originálu ... preložila Eva Kondrysová] //
4360. ———. Z krajín soumraku. Praha: Eminent, 2007.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Czech. Preloženo z anglictiny. preložila Vera Klásková //
4361. ———. Zapomenuté případy Sherlocka Holmese, (Príbehy, 53; Príbehy Sherlocka Holmese, 23). Brno: Jota, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Czech. Na obálce nad názvem: Jota uvádí příběhy Sherlocka Holmese, které jste neznáte/ Obsahuje bibliografické odkazy. sestavil a úvod napsal Petr Haining. [z anglického originálu ... preložil Petr Pálenský] //
4362. ———. Zateriannyi mir / Uniform Title: Lost world. Russian, (Moe pervoe sobranie sochinenii). Moskva: OLMA-PRESS, 2002.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 27 cm. Zateriannyi mir -- Otravlennyi poias -- Marakotova bezdna -- Otkrytie Rafalza Khou -- Rasskazy. Translation of: The lost world ; The poison belt ; Maracot Deep ; one unidentified novel, and, Short stories. Otravlennyi poias.; Marakotova bezdna.; Otkrytie Rafalza Khou. //
4363. ———. Zateriannyi mir. Otravlennyi poias. Marakotova bezdna / Uniform Title: Lost world. Russian, (Biblioteka prikliuchenii). Moskva: EKSMO-PRESS, 2003.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Otravlennyi poias.; Marakotova bezdna. //
4364. ———. Zeme mlhy. [Praze?]: Yetti, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Czech. Translation of: The land of mist. z anglictiny preložil Karel Weinfurter. //
4365. ———. Ztracený svět, (Velká rada, c. 32). Praha: Touzimský & Moravec, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Czech. Preloženo z anglictiny. [preklad Frantisek Gel] //
4366. ———. Ztracený svět. Vyd. 1. ed, (Knihovnicka.cz). Brno: Tribun, 2007.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 21 cm. Preloženo z anglictiny. / Uniform Title: Lost world. Cesky //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4367. ———. Zui hou zhi yi. 1st ed, (Fu'ermosi tan an ji xi lie). Xianggang: Li wen chu ban she : Fa xing Li yuan shu bao she, 1998.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 20 cm. Ase Kenan Dao'er zhu. //
4368. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Elga Abramowitz. Giftige Genüsse : angerichtet von Edgar Allan Poe, Dorothy Sayers, Arthur Conan Doyle, Georges Simenon, Ruth Rendell u. a. 1. Aufl. ed. Berlin: Aufbau Taschenbuch Verlag, 1998.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. Das gefleckte Band (The speckled band) / Arthur Conan Doyle. "1446"-- spine. zusammengestellt von Elga Abramowitz. //
4369. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and James Alexander. The adventures of Sherlock Holmes / Uniform Title: Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Selections. [United States]: Post Productions ; Chesapeake, VA : Distributed by Greenbrier International, 2006. Sound Recording (CD) 2 sound discs.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Compact disc. Read by James Alexander. //
4370. ———. The Blue Carbuncle. Chesapeake, VA: Post Productions; Distributed by Greenbrier International, 2006. Sound Recording 1 sound disc.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Read by James Alexander. // A Christmas goose and a gentleman's hat, who but the great detective Sherlock Holmes could discover a crime in these lost objects.
4371. ———. A Case of Identity. Chesapeake, VA: Post Productions; Distributed by Greenbrier International, 2006. Sound Recording 1 sound disc.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Read by James Alexander. // "When Miss Mary Sutherland is left standing at the altar by Mr. Hosmer Angel, her betrothed, she is certain he has fallen in harms way. With a promise of payment from her future inheritance, Miss Sutherland hires the great detective Sherlock Holmes to discover where her fiancé has disappeared to. Was Mr. Angel the victim of a harmful crime or has the true victim not yet been discovered?" -- container.
4372. ———. The red-headed league. Chesapeake, VA: Post Productions ; Chesapeake, VA ; Distributed by Greenbrier International, 2006. Sound Recording 1 sound disc.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital ; 4 3/4 in. Compact disc. Read by James Alexander. Uniform Title: Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Selections. // "When the Red-Headed League disappears as quickly as it appeared, Sherlock Holmes is hired to solve the mystery. What is the purpose of this secret group that advertises to hire only red-headed men for their mysterious work? Is this group as strange as it would seem? Or is there a more sinister plan afoot?" -- container.
4373. ———. A scandal in Bohemia. Chesapeake, VA: Post Productions ; Chesapeake, VA ; Distributed by Greenbrier International, 2006. Sound Recording 1 sound disc.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital ; 4 3/4 in. Compact disc. Read by James Alexander. Uniform Title: Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Selections. // The King of Bohemia has hired Sherlock Holmes to recover photos of his affair with the actress Irene Adler, but Miss Adler does not want to give the photos up. What lengths will Holmes go to to retrieve the photos for the King? And how will he fair at the hands of his beautiful quarry? Join Watson as he tells the tale of his good friend and the one he will always refer to as "the woman" -- container.
4374. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and R. W. Allard. Sir Nigel : roman, (D'aujourd'hui étranger). Paris: Phébus, 1995.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 21 cm. Trad. de : Sir Nigel. Trad. de l'anglais par R.W. Allard. / Uniform Title: Sir Nigel. French. //
4375. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Alan Lance Andersen. The speckled band a Sherlock Holmes drama. Roland, Iowa: Andersen Desktop Publishing, 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4376. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Paul Bachem. The mysteries of Sherlock Holmes. New York: Grosset & Dunlap, 1996.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- The Red-Headed League -- A case of identity -- The adventure of the blue carbuncle -- The adventure of the speckled band -- The Beryl Coronet -- The Musgrave ritual -- The Greek interpreter -- The final problem -- The adventure of the empty house. //
4377. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Pierre Baillargeon, Jeanne Puchol, and Yan Nascimbene. Une étude en rouge : la première enquête de Sherlock Holmes, (Collection Folio junior). [Paris]: Robert Laffont : Gallimard jeunesse, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 18 cm. p. 157 misnumbered as "57". Last [8] p. are publisher's advertisements. Pictorial upper cover with white lettering against predominately black background, showing Holmes kneeling down, holding a magnifying glass and inspecting the word "Rach[e]". Holmes' hair and magnifying glass in yellow. French translation of A study in scarlet. Cover designed by Yan Nascimbene. Traduit de l'anglais par Pierre Baillargeon ; illustrations de Jeanne Puchol. //
4378. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Baker Street Irregulars (Organization : U.S.), and Berg Collection. The hound of the Baskervilles a facsimile of the original manuscript. New York: Baker Street Irregulars in cooperation with the New York Public Library, Berg Collection, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references. Scuttlebutt Feb 2002. // Chapter XI. "Offers a facsimile and a transcription of the only complete chapter surviving (and now in the Berg Collection at the N.Y. Public Library), with commentary on the story by ten Sherlockian and Doylean scholars. It's always a pleasure to be able to see an author at work, and manuscripts are a delightful way to do just that, watching the author change his mind, and speculating as to the reasons."
4379. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Florian Battermann. Der Hund von Baskerville Kriminalstück in sechs Bildern ; nach dem Roman von Arthur Conan Doyle = (The Hound of the Baskervilles). Als unverkäufliches Ms. vervielfältigt ed. [s.l.]: Norderstedt Vertriebsstelle und Verl. Dt. Bühnenschriftsteller und Bühnenkomponisten, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4380. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Michael J. Bennet. The Hounds [i.e. Hound] of the Baskervilles. S.l.: Stradivari Audio Books ; Englewood Cliffs, NJ : Media Books [distributor], 1999. Sound Recording 4 sound cassettes (ca. 6 hrs.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog, Dolby processed. Great mystery series. Abridged. Read by Michael J. Bennett. // The dramatic death of Sir Charles Baskerville brings Sherlock Holmes to the lonely, mysterious Devon moors to investigate the mystery.
4381. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Michael J. Bennet, and Barry Faldner. The Hound of the Baskervilles. S.l.: Stradivari Audio Books ; Englewood Cliffs, NJ : Media Books [distributor], 1999. Sound Recording 5 sound discs (ca. 6 hrs.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Great Mystery Series. Abridgment by Barry Faldner. Read by Michael J. Bennett. // The dramatic death of Sir Charles Baskerville brings Sherlock Holmes to the lonely, mysterious Devon moors to investigate the mystery.
4382. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and John Berendt. The adventures and Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes. Modern Library paperback ed. New York: Modern Library, 2002.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references //
4383. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Alice Berger. Die Wiederkehr von Sherlock Holmes. 1. Aufl. ed, (Aufbau-Taschenbücher; 1186). Berlin: Aufbau Taschenbuch, 2008.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Der letzte Streich von Sherlock Holmes. //
4384. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Ted Bergman, Sherlock Holmes Klubben i Danmark, and Solitary Cyclists of Sweden. Krondiamanten, eller, En kväll med Sherlock Holmes pjäs i en akt. Stockholm: s.n, 1976.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Citations: De Waal C2248 // "This is Conan Doyle's play 'The Crown Diamond' (translated into Swedish by Ted Bergman) and with a foreword by Mattias Bostrom (also in Swedish) discussing a production of the play in Malmo in 1994, and with photographs from the show."

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4385. Doyle, Arthur Conan, John Bergquist, Phillip G Bergem, Thomas R Tietze, Julie McKuras, Sherlock Holmes Collections (University of Minnesota), Arthur Conan Doyle Society, and Norwegian Explorers of Minnesota (Organization). The horror of the heights a facsimile of the author's holograph manuscript with commentary. Ashcroft, B.C: Calabash Press, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: Preface / by Michael Dirda -- Introduction / by Phillip Bergem -- Rationalism and imagination in Conan Doyle's 'The Horror of the Heights' / by Thomas R. Tietze -- Appendix: Manuscript description -- A note on the Sherlock Holmes Collections at the University of Minnesota / by Julie McKuras //
4386. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Elizabeth Bland, and Freddie Jones. The Hound of the Baskervilles. London: Penguin, 2000. Sound Recording 3 sound discs (ca. 180 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Penguin audiobooks. Abridged by Elizabeth Bland. Read by Freddie Jones. //
4387. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Joellen Bland. "The Hound of the Baskervilles (Drama)." Plays 60, no. 1 (2000): 59.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents the script of the play 'The Hound of the Baskervilles.'
4388. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Peter E Blau, and Baker Street Irregulars (Organization : U.S.). Angels of darkness a drama in three acts ; a facsimile of the original manuscript, (Baker Street Irregulars manuscript series). New York: Baker Street Irregulars in cooperation with the Toronto Public Library, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references. Contents: Introduction / by Peter E. Blau -- Angels of darkness / by Arthur Conan Doyle -- History of the manuscript of Angels of darkness / by Clifford S. Goldfarb -- Angels of darkness and the absence of Sherlock Holmes / by Christopher Roden -- Angels of darkness and its theatrical context / by Don B. Wilmeth -- The Mormon subplot in A study in scarlet and Angels of darkness / by Michael W. Homer. Scuttlebutt Feb 2002. // "Begun by Arthur Conan Doyle in the 1880s and never finished, now published for the first time, with a facsimile of the first scene and a transcription of the complete manuscript (now owned by the Toronto Public Library), with scholarly commentary on the play and its theatrical context, and on the Mormon subplot and the absence of Sherlock Holmes, and on the manuscript's history. And yes: Sherlock Holmes is indeed absent, but many others from 'A Study in Scarlet' (including John Watson, MD) are active participants."
4389. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and John Bolen. The ring of Thoth & other tales. [San Clemente, CA]: Tantor Media, 2002. Sound Recording; Computer File Date of Entry: 20070824 1 sound disc (8 hr., 6 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital ; 4 3/4 in. Unabridged classics. System requirements: CD/MP3 player or PC with MP3-capable software. Compact disc, MP3 format. Performed by John Bolen. "5 minute tracks." // "From the Arctic to Egypt to Australia, Doyle tells thrilling tales of crime, suspense, mysterious secrets, and humor"--Container.
4390. ———. The ring of Thoth and other tales. [San Clemente, CA]: Tantor Media, 2002. Sound Recording 7 sound discs (8 hr., 6 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital ; 4 3/4 in. Unabridged classics. Compact disc. Originally published 1890. "3 minute tracks." Performed by John Bolen. // From the Arctic to Egypt to Australia, Doyle tells thrilling tales of crime, suspense, mysterious secrets, and humor.
4391. ———. The valley of fear. [San Clemente, CA?]: Tantor Media, 2002. Sound Recording (CD) 5 sound discs (5 hr., 22 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital ; 4 3/4 in. Performed by John Bolen. //
4392. ———. The valley of fear. [Old Saybrook, CT]: Tantor Media, 2002. Sound Recording (CD) 1 sound disc (5 hrs., 22 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital ; 4 3/4 in. Compact disc, MP3 format.; System requirements: CD/MP3 player or PC with MP3-capable software. Performed by John Bolen. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4393. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and John Bollen. The adventures of Gerard. [San Clemente, CA]: Tantor Media ; Newport Beach, CA : Distributed by Books on Tape, 2001. Sound Recording (CD) 6 sound discs.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Book originally published in 1903. Unabridged. Read by John Bollen. //
4394. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Maria Grazia Bonfanti, and Roberta Formenti. Uno studio in rosso, (Il romanzo giallo classico). Milano: Garden Editoriale, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Added Title: L'avventura dei sei Napoleoni //
4395. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and H. Booraem. The sign of 4. Hendersonville, NC: The Blue Ridge Radio Players, 1997. Sound Recording 1 sound cassette.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog. Drama by H. Booraem. //
4396. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Mattias Boström, and George Hutchinson. En studie i rött. Stockholm: Lind & Co, Scandbook, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill ; 22 cm. Skyddsomslag: "Sherlock Holmes samlade bedrifter"/ Första svenska upplaga 1893 med titeln: Förföljd. Första upplaga i denna översättning 2004. Translation and commentary by Mattias Boström ; illustrations by George Hutchinson. //
4397. ———. En studie i rött. [Ny utg.] ed. Stockholm: Lind & Co, 2007.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. Omslag: "Sherlock Holmes samlade bedrifter"/ Första svenska upplaga 1893 med titeln: Förföljd. Första upplaga i denna översättning 2004. Translation and commentary: Mattias Boström ; illustrations: George Hutchinson. //
4398. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Chaz Brenchley, and Felix Bennett. The Lost World. North American ed, (Real reads). New York: Skyview Books, 2010.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- col. ill. ; 21 cm. Includes bibliographical references. retold by Chaz Brenchley ; illustrated by Felix Bennett. // In this retelling, Professor Challenger leads an expedition to explore an isolated plateau rising above the Amazon jungles where they discover dinosaurs, primitive ape-men, and prehistoric monsters-Publisher.
4399. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke, Michael Cochrane, and Stef Penney. The return of Sherlock Holmes. Watford, Herts. [England]: MCI Spoken Word, 1994. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes (ca. 2 hr.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog. "Two original TV productions with additional narration"--Container insert. Includes Jeremy Brett as Sherlock Holmes, and Edward Hardwicke as Doctor Watson. Narrative script by Stef Penney ; read by Michael Cochrane. //
4400. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke, Rosalie Williams, Granada Television, MPI Home Video (Firm), Mass.) WGBH (Television station : Boston, and Public Broadcasting Service (U.S.). Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes. Oak Forest, IL: MPI Home Video. distributed by PBS, 1995. Video Recording 6 videocassettes (300 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Performer Note: Jeremy Brett, Edward Hardwicke, Rosalie Williams. Contents: MP7085. The dying detective -- MP7086. The three gables -- MP7087. The cardboard box -- MP7088. The red circle -- MP7089. The Mazarin stone -- MP7090. The golden pince-nez // 4401. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Bruce Brooks. The hound of the Baskervilles, (Aladdin classics). New York: Aladdin Paperbacks, 2000.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 00101508 //
4402. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Hernando Ivan Cano. La aventura de los lentes de oro. Uniform Title: Adventure of the golden pince-nez. Spanish. Colombia: DisoneX ; Distribuido por YOYO Music, 2002. Sound Recording 1 sound disc.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Fono-libros; Yoyo-libros. Compact disc. Participants: Leido por Hernando Ivan Cano. //

4403. ———. La aventura de los lentes de oro. Uniform Title: Adventure of the speckled band. Spanish. Colombia: Disonex ; Distribuido por YOYO Music, 2002. Sound Recording 1 sound disc.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Fono-libros; Yoyo-libros. Compact disc. Participants: Leido por Hernando Ivan Cano. //
4404. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and David Case. The Hound of the Baskervilles. [s. l.]: Tantor Audio, 2006. Sound Recording (CD) 5 sound discs (5.5 hours).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Unabridged. Compact disc. Read by David Case. //
4405. ———. The Hound of the Baskervilles. [San Clemente, CA]: Tantor Audio, 2006. Sound Recording (CD) 1 sound disc (5.5 hr.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Unabridged classics. System requirements: MP3-CD player or PC with MP3-capable software. Unabridged. Compact disc, MP3 format. Read by David Case. //
4406. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Louis Chantemele, Lucien Maricourt, and Michel Le Houbie. Quatre aventures de Sherlock Holmes : La Cycliste solitaire, suivi de Charles Auguste Milverton ; Le Gloria Scott ; Le Trois-quart aile manquant, (Librio). [Paris]: Texte intégral, 1996.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 21 cm. La Cycliste solitaire (The Solitary cyclist) / translated by Louis Chantemele - Charles Auguste Milverton / tr. by Louis Chantemele -- Le Gloria Scott (The adventure of the "Gloria Scott") / tr. by Lucien Maricourt -- Le trois-quart aile manquant (The adventure of the missing three-quarter) / tr. by Michel Le Houbie. //
4407. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Yu Chuanming, and Liao Xiaohong. Hui yi lu = Sherlock Holmes. Zui xin ban. ed, (Fu'ermosi tan an). Taipei Shi: Hua wen wang gu fen you xian gong si, 2004.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 22 cm. Sherlock holmes Yase Kenadao'er yuan zhu ; Yu Chuanming, Liao Xiaohong bian yi. / Uniform Title: Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes. Chinese // 4408. ———. Qi and lu = Sherlock holmes. Zui xin ban. ed, (Fu'ermosi tan an). Taipei Shi: Hua wen wang gu fen you xian gong si, 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 22 cm. Selected and translated from The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Yase Kenadao'er yuan zhu ; Yu Chuanming, Liao Xiaohong bian yi. / Uniform Title: Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Chinese // 4409. ———. Zui hou de jing li = Sherlock Holmes. Zui xin ban. ed, (Fu'ermosi tan an). Taipei Shi: Hua wen wang gu fen you xian gong si, 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 22 cm. Translated from: His last bow. Sherlock Holmes Yase Kenadao'er yuan zhu ; Yu Chuanming, Liao Xiaohong bian yi. / Uniform Title: His last bow. Chinese // 4410. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Paul Churchill, and Dean Fewell. Ritulia musgraviensia. Shelburne, Ont, Sauk City, Wisconsin: Battered Silicon Dispatch Box, 1998.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4411. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Stephen Colbourn. The Hound of the Baskervilles. Oxford: Macmillan Heinemann, 2005. Sound Recording 1 sound disc (ca. 2 hrs.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. + Includes: 1 book (70 p. : ill. ; 20 cm.) Macmillan readers.; 3, Elementary. Compact disc. "British English"-- P. [4] of cover. [retold by Stephen Colbourn]. //
4412. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and John Young Cole. The sign of four, (The Library of Congress centennial bestseller series). Bedford (Mass.): Applewood Books, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 93050112 //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4413. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Evelyn Colomb. Nouvelles archives sur Sherlock Holmes : La Pensionnaire voilée, (Livre de poche). Paris: Librairie générale française, 1998.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. Recueil de nouvelles : La Pensionnaire voilée--Le Problème du Pont de Thor--L'Homme qui marchait à quatre pattes--La Crinière du lion--L'Aventure de Shoscombe Old Place--L'Aventure du marchand de couleurs qui s'était retiré des affaires. Titre de dos : la pensionnaire voilée. Traduction de Evelyn Colomb. // 4414. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Ralph Cosham. The Complete Adventures & Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes. Chagrin Falls, OH: Findaway World, 2007. Sound Recording 1 sound media player (ca. 12 hr.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 9 x 6 cm. + Includes: 1 set of earphones + 1 AAA battery. Issued on Playaway, a dedicated audio media player. Read by Ralph Cosham. // Presents twenty-three mystery stories about the adventures of the intrepid detective Sherlock Holmes, originally published in "Strand Magazine."
4415. ———. The Complete Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Falls Church, VA: Sound Room, 2006. Sound Recording 8 sound discs.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Unabridged. Read by Ralph Cosham. //
4416. ———. The Complete Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Falls Church, VA: InAudio/Sound Room Publishers, Inc., 2006. Sound Recording 8 sound discs.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Unabridged classics in audio. Unabridged. Read by Ralph Cosham. // Twelve classic tales of Sherlock Holmes.
4417. ———. The Hound of the Baskervilles. Falls Church, VA: InAudio ; Findaway, 2002. Sound Recording 1 sound media player (5 hrs.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 8 x 5 cm. + Includes: 1 set earbuds + 1 AAA battery. Unabridged. One playaway, a dedicated and portable digital player. Narrated by Ralph Cosham. // 4418. ———. The Hound of the Baskervilles. [S.l.]: InAudio, 2002. Sound Recording 1 sound media player (6 hrs.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 8 x 5 cm. + Includes: earphones + AAA battery. Issued on Playaway, a dedicated audio media player. Unabridged. Includes one braille title. Playaway is the simplest way to listen to an audio book on the go. It comes with the book already on it and a battery. Simply plug in its earphones and enjoy. No cassettes or CDs. No downloads. There's nothing left to do but listen. Functions: Bookmarks you favorite sections; adjusts the speed of the narrator's voice; remembers where you stopped; works with most headphones, speakers and car adapters. Narrated by Ralph Cosham. Use restricted to STAR clients. // After the mysterious death of Lord Baskerville and attempts on the life of his heir, rumor suggests that an ancient curse in the form of a vicious supernatural hound is once again at work to destroy the Baskerville line. Sherlock Holmes is called upon to solve the mystery.
4419. ———. The Hound of the Baskervilles. Falls, Church, VA: In Sound Room Publishers, Inc., 2002. Sound Recording 5 sound discs.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Unabridged. "A Sherlock Holmes mystery"--cover. Compact discs. Narrated by Ralph Cosham. // After the mysterious death of Lord Baskerville and attempts on the life of his heir, rumor suggests that an ancient curse in the form of a vicious supernatural hound is once again at work to destroy the Baskerville line. Sherlock Holmes is called upon to solve the mystery.
4420. ———. Sherlock Holmes classic mysteries. Falls Church, VA: Sound Room Pub., 1996. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog, 1 7/8 ips, Dolby processed. Commuters library. Unabridged. Read by Ralph Cosham. //
4421. ———. Sherlock Holmes classic mysteries. Falls Church, VA: Sound Room Pub., 2002. Sound Recording 3 sound discs (3 hr.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital ; 4 3/4 in. Compact discs. "An In Audio production"--Container. Unabridged. Read by Ralph Cosham. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4422. ———. Sherlock Holmes mysteries. Falls Church, VA: Sound Room Publishers, 2000. Sound Recording 2 sound discs (81 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital, stereo. ; 4 3/4 in. Commuter's library. Title from container. "An unabridged audio book." Compact disc. Read by Ralph Cosham. //
4423. ———. Sherlock Holmes mysteries. Falls Church, VA: InAudio, 2004. Sound Recording 4 sound discs (4 hrs., 30 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital ; 4 3/4 in. Great authors in audio. Unabridged. Compact discs. Narrator, Ralph Cosham. //
4424. ———. Sherlock Holmes mysteries. Falls Church, VA: Sound Room, 2000. Sound Recording 4 sound discs.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital ; 4 3/4 in. Commuters library. Compact discs. Unabridged. Biographical notes on the author in English on container. Read by Ralph Cosham. Uniform Title: Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Selections. //
4425. ———. Sherlock Holmes mysteries. Falls Church, VA: Commuters Library ; Arlington, TX ; Distributed by Entertainment Software, Inc., 1997. Sound Recording 6 sound cassettes.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog + Includes: 1 biography and notes insert. Great authors. Title from container and insert. In container, 23 x 24 cm. Performed by Ralph Cosham. Unabridged. Uniform Title: Selections. 1997. //
4426. ———. Sherlock Holmes mysteries. Volume 1. Falls Church, VA: Sound Room Publishers, 2000. Sound Recording 2 sound discs (103 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital, stereo. ; 4 3/4 in. Commuter's library. Title from container. "An unabridged audio book." Compact disc. Read by Ralph Cosham. //
4427. ———. Sherlock Holmes mysteries. Volume 2. Falls Church, VA: Sound Room Publishers, 2000. Sound Recording 4 sound discs (102 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital ; 4 3/4 in. Compact discs. "Commuters library." Unabridged. Biographical notes on the author in English on container. In one container. Read by Ralph Cosham. Uniform Title: Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Selections. //
4428. ———. Sherlock Holmes, the hound of the Baskervilles. Falls Church, VA: Sound Room Publishers ; Cleveland : Findaway World, 2002. Sound Recording 1 sound media player (6 hrs.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital ; 8 X 5 cm. + Includes: earphones + AAA battery. Commuters library. Narrated by Ralph Cosham. // Holmes tackles the mystery of the demonic hound, the curse of the Baskerville family.
4429. ———. Sherlock Holmes, the hound of the Baskervilles. Falls Church, VA: Sound Room Publishers, 2000. Sound Recording 5 sound discs (5 hrs. 26 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital ; 4 3/4 in. Commuters library. Book CD. Narrated by Ralph Cosham. // Holmes tackles the mystery of the demonic hound, the curse of the Baskerville family.
4430. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Bert Coules, Clive Merrison, and Michael Williams. The return of Sherlock Holmes. New York: BDD Audio, 1994. Sound Recording sound cassettes (ca. 180 min./vol.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog, Dolby processed. Participants: Clive Merrison as Sherlock Holmes, Michael Williams As Dr. Watson, etc. //
4431. ———. The return of Sherlock Holmes volume 1. New York: BDD Audio, 1994. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes (180 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog, Dolby processed. Dramatized by Bert Coules. Participants: Clive Merrison, Michael Williams. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4432. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Bert Coules, Clive Merrison, Michael Williams, and Paul Downing. A study in scarlet. [England]: BBC Worldwide, 1998. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes (ca. 130 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- BBC Radio 4. Dolby processed. BBC radio collection. "First broadcast on BBC Radio 4 on 3 and 10 November 1989"--Program guide. Program guide is inserted in container. "ZBBC 2132." Casts: Clive Merrison, Michael Williams, Paul Downing. [directed by Ian Cotterell ; produced by David Johnston] ; dramatised by Bert Coules. Credits: Illustration by Michael Frith. // Sherlock Holmes and Dr. John Watson, a famous pair of criminal detection, drawn into investigation of a bizarre murder.
4433. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Walter Covell. His Last Bow. Portsmouth, RI: JimCin Recordings, 1994. Sound Recording 6 sound cassettes (8 hrs.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog, 1 7/8 ips. Read by Walter Covell. //
4434. ———. Tales of the supernatural. Van Wyck, SC: NorthStar Pub. Co., 1996. Sound Recording 4 sound cassettes (ca. 360 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog. "Unabridged on four 90-minute cassettes"--container. Reader: Walter Covell. // Seven short stories representative of Doyle's non-Holmes work.
4435. ———. Tales of the supernatural. Newport Beach, CA: Books on Tape, 1996. Sound Recording 6 sound cassettes (1 hr. each).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog. Unabridged. Read by Walter Covell. Uniform Title: Short stories. Selections. // Fifteen stories dealing with spiritualism, Egyptian magic, psychometry, and other occult domains.
4436. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Michael S Cox, and Francis Mosley. Sherlock Holmes : complete stories. London: Folio Society, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: The valley of fear -- The hound of the Baskervilles -- The sign of four -- A study in scarlet // 4437. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Aude Crognier, and Bernard Tourville. Les aventures de Sherlock Holmes, (Castor poche). [Paris]: Castor poche Flammarion, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 17 cm. Translation of: The adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Full-colour illustrated paper wrappers; Holmes, in deerstalker and cape with pipe on upper cover (v. 1 and 2) with the skyline of London at night superimposed; brief description on lower cover with small full-colour illustration of a caleche (v. 1) and a night scene with Holmes (v. 2). Traduit de l'anglais par Bernard Tourville ; illustrations de Aude Crognier. // 4438. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Hans Croiset, and Christoph Buchwald. Schandaal in Bohemen. [Amsterdam]: Cossee, 2006. Sound Recording 1 compact disc (59'25 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Omslag vermeldt: Cossee CD luisterboek. Integrale weergave van een verhaal uit het boek: Sherlock Holmes : de complete avonturen, deel 2. - Amsterdam : Uitgeverij 521, 2003. Arthur Conan Doyle ; voorgelezen door Hans Croiset ; regie: Christoph Buchwald. // Detective Sherlock Holmes wordt te hulp geroepen door de koning van Bohemen, die wordt afperst door een geliefde.
4439. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Robert Darby. Round the red lamp and other medical writings. 1st Valancourt Books ed. Chicago: Valancourt Books, 2007.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2007006692. Includes bibliographical references //
4440. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Frederick Davidson. His Last Bow. Ashland, OR: Blackstone Audiobooks, 1999. Sound Recording 5 sound cassettes (7 hrs., 30 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog. Unabridged. Read by Frederick Davidson. //
4441. ———. His Last Bow. Ashland, OR: Blackstone Audiobooks, 1998. Sound Recording 6 sound discs.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Unabridged. Compact discs. Production date on container: p1999. Read by Frederick Davidson. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4442. ———. A study in scarlet. Ashland, OR: Blackstone Audiobooks, 1999. Sound Recording 3 sound cassettes (4.5 hr.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog. Unabridged. A Sherlock Holmes mystery. In container (25 cm.). Read by Frederick Davidson. //
4443. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and David Ian Davies. Four from the Canon. [Encino, CA]: One Voice Recordings, 2004. Sound Recording 2 sound discs.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Unabridged. At head of container title: Sherlock Holmes One Voice presents. Performed by David Ian Davies. // Presents four stories of mystery and suspense.
4444. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and D. I. Davies. The Greek Interpreter. [Encino, Calif.]: One Voice Recordings, 2004. Sound Recording; Computer File; Internet Resource Date of Entry: 20060426 Downloadable audio file.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Excerpt <http://excerpts.contentreserve.com/FormatType-25/0922-1/078526-SherlockHolmesTheGreek.wma> Requires OverDrive Media Console (file size: 8714 KB).; Mode of access: World Wide Web. Downloadable audio file. Title from: Title details screen. Unabridged. Read by David Ian Davies. Duration: 36:21. //
4445. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and David Ian Davies. The Hound of the Baskervilles. [Encino, CA]: One Voice Recordings, 2002. Sound Recording 4 sound discs.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Unabridged. At head of title: Sherlock Holmes One Voice presents. Compact discs. Performed by David Ian Davies. // Sir Charles Baskerville's sudden heart attack and death have the townspeople in shock and searching for the one to blame--the family dog--while Sherlock Holmes leads the investigation.
4446. ———. The Hound of the Baskervilles. [Encino, CA]: One Voice Recordings ; Wayne, NJ : Distributed by Audible, 2002. Sound Recording Digital audio file.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital audio file that can be played back on a portable device or suitably equipped microcomputer. Title supplied by cataloger from distributor web page. Unabridged. Duration: 4:53:00. Narrated by David Ian Davies. // Sir Charles Baskerville's sudden heart attack and death have the townspeople in shock and searching for the one to blame--the family dog--while Sherlock Holmes leads the investigation.
4447. ———. The Sherlock Holmes collection. [Encino, CA]: One Voice Recordings ; Wayne, N.J. : Distributed by Audible, 2003. Sound Recording; Computer File Date of Entry: 20030902.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Computer data. Spoken audio file that can be listened to on a portable audio device. Title supplied by cataloger. Title from homepage (viewed Aug. 22, 2003). Read by David Ian Davies. Unabridged. Duration: 05:26:00. //
4448. ———. Silver Blaze. [Encino, CA]: One Voice Recordings, 2002. Sound Recording 1 sound disc.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital ; 4 3/4 in. Compact disc. Performed by David Ian Davies. // Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson, with the aid of a dog and some sheep, solve the mystery of the disappearance of a highly-prized race horse.
4449. Doyle, Arthur Conan, John De Lancie, Leonard Nimoy, Roxann Dawson, Richard Doyle, Marnie Mosiman, Ethan Phillips, Dwight Schultz, Armin Shimerman, and Peter Erskine. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's The lost world. [New York]: Simon & Schuster Audio, 1997. Sound Recording 2 sound discs (ca. 2 hr.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital ; 4 3/4 in. Based on the novel by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Compact discs. Starring Leonard Nimoy and John de Lancie ; featuring Roxann Dawson, Richard Doyle, Marnie Mosiman, Ethan Phillips, Dwight Schultz, Armin Shimerman. Performed at Creation Entertainment's Grand Slam V Star Trek Convention in Pasadena, Calif. on March 22, 1997. Script by Nat Segaloff & John de Lancie ; music composed and performed by Peter Erskine. Uniform Title: Lost world. //
4450. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Klaus Degering. Die Abenteuer des Sherlock Holmes, (Universal-Bibliothek). Stuttgart: Reclam, 1997.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Ill. ; 15 cm. Aus dem Engl. neu übers., mit einem Nachw. von Klaus Degering.
Uniform Title: The adventures of Sherlock Holmes. German. //

4451. ———. The speckled band : four Sherlock Holmes stories, (Universal-Bibliothek). Stuttgart: Reclam, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- graph. Darst. ; 15 cm. Hrsg. von Klaus Degering. //

4452. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Vincent Delay, and Ernest Giddey. The Adventure of Shoscombe Abbey fac-similé du manuscrit original. Lausanne, Suisse: Bibliothèque cantonale et universitaire, 2002.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references //

4453. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and B. Dhuicq. Sherlock Holmes investigates = Sherlock Holmes enquête, (Langues pour tous; Bilingue). Paris: Pocket, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. Le mystère du Val Boscombe = The Boscombe Valley mystery -- Les cinq pépins d'orange = The five orange pips -- La pensionnaire voilée = The veiled lodger. Traduction et notes de Bernard Dhuicq. / Uniform Title: Short stories. French & English. Selections. 2004 //

4454. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Bernard Dhuicq. Sherlock Holmes investigates = Sherlock Holmes enquête, (Langues pour tous). [Paris]: Pocket, 1995.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. The Boscombe Valley mystery = Le mystère du Val Boscombe -- The five orange pips = Les cinq pépins d'orange -- The veiled lodger = La pensionnaire voilée. "Bilingue: anglais-français"--Cover. Traduction et notes de Bernard Dhuicq. // 4455. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Charles Dickens, and Clarence Rook. Classic Detective Stories. Frankfurt am Main: Diesterweg, 2003. Sound Recording 1 CD (74 Min.); stereo; 12 cm Includes: Beil. ([2] Bl.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

4456. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Zhonghua Ding. Fuermosi tan an quan ji. 1st ed, (Shi jie bu xiu chuan jia jing dian). Taipei Shi: Yuan liu chu ban shi ye gu fen you xian gong si, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 22 cm. Translation of: The complete Sherlock Holmes. kenan · Daoer (Sir Arther Conan Doyle) zhu ; Ding Zhonghua yi. / Uniform Title: Complete Sherlock Holmes. Chinese // 4457. ———. Fuermosi tan an quan ji. Er ban. ed. 4 vols, (Shi jie bu xiu chuan jia jing dian). Taipei Shi: Yuan liu chu ban shi ye gu fen you xian gong si, 2005.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- col. ill. ; 21 cm. Translation of: The complete Sherlock Holmes. Kenan Daoer (Arthur Conan Doyle) zhu ; Ding Zhonghua yi. / Uniform Title: Complete Sherlock Holmes. Chinese // 4458. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Lorne Dixon. Hound : Sherlock Holmes and the curse of the Baskervilles. Winnipeg: Coscom Entertainment, 2010.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

4459. Doyle, Arthur Conan, André Dommergues, Sidney Paget, and Marie-France Azéma. Le Mystère du Val Boscombe précédé de La Société protectrice des rouquins, (Classiques d'aujourd'hui). Paris: Livre de Poche, 1996.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 18 cm. La Société protectrice des rouquins (The Red-headed League) -- Le mystère du Val Boscombe (The Boscombe Valley mystery). Illustrations by S. Paget. Traduction d'André Dommergues ; préface et notes de Marie-France Azéma. //

4460. Doyle, Arthur Conan, A. P. Duchâteau, Peter Foreman, Stibane, and Luce Daniels. The Hound of the Baskervilles. Copenhagen: Alinea, 1998. Sound Recording 1 kassetebånd (72 min.); 1 bog (64 sider).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. //

4461. Doyle, Arthur Conan, André-Paul Duchâteau, and Stibane. Sherlock Holmes : der Hund von Baskerville, (Die grossen Detektive). Stuttgart: Feest Comics, 1994.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- chiefly col. ill. ; 30 cm. text, André-Paul Duchâteau ; zeichnungen: Stibane ; farben: Luce Daniels. //

4462. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Ian Duncan. The lost world being an account of the recent amazing adventures of Professor George E. Challenger, Lord John Roxton, Professor Summerlee, and Mr. E.D. Malone of the Daily gazette, (Oxford world's classics). Oxford England, New York: Oxford University Press, 1998.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 97032932. Includes bibliographical references (p. [xxiii]-xxiv) //
4463. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Ian Edginton, and Ian Culbard. A Sherlock Holmes Graphic Novel. A Study in Scarlet. London: SelfMadeHero, 2010.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 25 cm. Adapted from the original novel by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle ; illustrated by I.N.J. Culbard ; text adapted by Ian Edginton. //
4464. ———. A Study in Scarlet : a Sherlock Holmes graphic novel. New York: Sterling Pub. Co., 2010.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- chiefly col. ill. ; 25 cm. Being a reprint from the reminiscences of John H. Watson, M.D., late of the Army Medical Department -- The country of the saints. Illustrated by I.N.J. Culbard ; text adapted by Ian Edginton. // Graphic novel adaptation of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's mystery in which Dr. Watson first meets Sherlock Holmes and the two locate their apartment at 221B Baker Street in the midst of a case that spans two continents.
4465. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Owen Dudley Edwards. Complete Sherlock Holmes & other detective stories, (Collins classics). Glasgow: HarperCollins, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references (p. 1461-1468) //
4466. ———. His last bow: some reminiscences of Sherlock Holmes, (The world's classics: The Oxford Sherlock Holmes). Oxford, New York: Oxford University Press, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 94005817. Includes bibliographical references (p. xxxvii-xlii) // "'His Last Bow', the title story of this collection, tells how Sherlock Holmes is brought out of retirement to help the Government fight the German threat at the approach of the First World War. The Prime Minister himself requests Holmes's services to hunt down the remarkable German agent, Von Bork. Several of the detective's earlier cases complete the volume, including 'Wisteria Lodge', 'The Bruce-Partington Plans', and 'The Disappearance of Lady Frances Carfax'. In 'The Dying Detective', Dr Watson is horrified to discover Holmes at death's door from a mysterious tropical disease as his friend lays a trap for a murderer."--Book jacket 4467. ———. His last bow: some reminiscences of Sherlock Holmes, (The Oxford Sherlock Holmes). Oxford, New York: Oxford University Press, 1993.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 93025384. Includes bibliographical references. Citations: De Waal: C2022 //
4468. ———. A study in scarlet, (The Oxford Sherlock Holmes). Oxford, England, New York: Oxford University Press, 1993.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 93010771. Includes bibliographical references. Citations: De Waal C2022 //
4469. ———. A study in scarlet, (The world's classics: The Oxford Sherlock Holmes). Oxford England, New York: Oxford University Press, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 94005820. Includes bibliographical references (p. xl-xlv) //
4470. ———. The valley of fear, (The Oxford Sherlock Holmes). Oxford England, New York: Oxford University Press, 1993.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 93025387. Includes bibliographical references. Citations: De Waal C2022 //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4471. ———. The valley of fear, (The World's classics: The Oxford Sherlock Holmes). Oxford England, New York: Oxford University Press, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 94005816. Includes bibliographical references (p. xliv-xlix) //
4472. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Peter Egan. Arthur Conan Doyle's The Hound of the Baskervilles. [S.l.]: Orbis, 1994. Sound Recording (cassette) 2 sound cassettes (ca. 2 hr., 25 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog, Dolby processed. Talking classics, 7. Orbis: TC NCC 007. Produced by Jigga Dunn. Abridged. Digitally mastered. In container (20 cm.). Read by Peter Egan. //
4473. ———. Arthur Conan Doyle's The Hound of the Baskervilles: Talking Classics, 1994. Sound Recording (CD) 2 sound discs (ca. 2 hrs., 25 min).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital, DDD ; 4 3/4 in. Talking Classics: TC NCD 007. Read by Peter Egan. //
4474. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Maurine V. Eleder. "The Brazilian Cat." Plays 53, no. 4 (1994): 72.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents a drama adaptation of Arthur Conan Doyle's book 'The Brazilian Cat,' by Maurine V. Eleder, which deals with a man's failed attempt to murder his cousin in order to avail of the latter's inheritance.
4475. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Bob Ellis. This dark square : a Priory School examination. [London]: The Sherlock Holmes Society of London, Printed by Parchments of Oxford, 2006.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill., maps ; 30 cm. "This dark square is the Priory School" / by Jonathan McCafferty -- "...it is time that we were leaving for Euston" / by Guy Marriott -- Ham Hall / by Guy Marriott -- The Priory School prospectus / compiled by Jonathan McCafferty -- Class in 'The Priory School' / by Nicholas Utechin -- Manners are not idle / by Jonathan McCafferty -- The Fighting Cock / by Jonathan McCafferty -- A tram-car coming down a country lane: The Tramway Museum at Crich / by Guy Marriott -- Horace's sidelights on Huxtable / by Horace -- The plover and curlew are the only inhabitants / by Bob Ellis -- The Ashbourne inheritance / by Jonathan McCafferty. Includes bibliographical references. Edited by Bob Ellis. //
4476. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Maurice Bernard Endrèbe. Le chien des Baskerville, (Collection jeunes). Paris: France Loisirs, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 19 cm. Translation of: The hound of the Baskervilles. Pictorial black hardcover showing the hound, Holmes and a moon in the background; author's name in grey and title lettering in white. Traduction de Maurice-Bernard Endrèbe. // 4477. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Maurice Bernard Endrèbe, and Jean-Claude Claeys. La vallée de la peur : une enquête de Sherlock Holmes. Paris: Pocket jeunesse, 1996.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. Translation of: The valley of fear. "J251"--spine. "Pocket junior: roman"--cover. Cover ill. by Jean-Claude Claeys. Traduction de Maurice-Bernard Endrèbe. //
4478. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Nino Erne. Der hund von Baskerville : roman. Frankfurt/ M; Berlin, 2001.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. "25012" on spine. Translation of: The hound of the Baskervilles. herausgegeben von Nino Erne. //
4479. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and John Escott. Sherlock Holmes two plays. [Oxford]: Oxford University Press, 2000. Sound Recording 1 sound cassette.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Oxford English; Oxford bookworms, Playscripts. Stage 1. Text adaptation by John Escott. //
4480. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Virginia Evans. The Creeping Man : Level 3 [2] CD. Newbury, Berkshire: Express Publ., 2005. Sound Recording 1 CD; 12 cm.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Illustrated readers. Retold by Virginia Evans. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4481. ———. The Creeping Man : Level 3 [2] CD. Newbury, Berkshire: Express Publ., 2007. Sound Recording 1 CD; 12 cm.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Illustrated readers. Retold by Virginia Evans. //
4482. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Virginia Evans, and Jenny Dooley. The Hound of the Baskervilles. Newbury, Berkshire: Express Publ., 2007. Sound Recording 1 CD ; 12 cm.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Illustrated readers : level 2. Retold by Virginia Evans & Jenny Dooley. //
4483. ———. The Hound of the Baskervilles. Newbury, Berkshire: Express Publ., 2004. Sound Recording 1 CD ; 12 cm.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Illustrated readers : level 2. 3-19-822904-9. Retold by Virginia Evans & Jenny Dooley. //
4484. ———. The speckled band [2] CD. Newbury, Berkshire: Express Publ., 2004. Sound Recording 1 CD ; 12 cm.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Illustrated readers : level 2. Retold by Virginia Evans - Jenny Dooley. //
4485. ———. The speckled band [2] CD. Newbury, Berkshire: Express Publ., 2007. Sound Recording 1 CD ; 12 cm.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Illustrated readers : level 2. Retold by Virginia Evans - Jenny Dooley. //
4486. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Tadeusz Evert, and Wiktor Zborowski. Pusty dom [opowiadanie na plycie CD]. Warszawa: Mozaika, 2006. Sound Recording 1 plyta CD.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital, stereo. ; 12 cm. Sherlock Holmes i... Czas odtwarzania ok. 60 min. Tyt. z etykiety. Participants: Czyta: Wiktor Zborowski. [tl. Tadeusz Evert]. Uniform Title: Adventure of the empty house. Polish. // 4487. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Lew David Feldman, and Manson & Woods Christie. The Conan Doyle Collection, Wednesday 19 May 2004, (Catalogue of auction). London: Christie's, 2004.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: Lots 1-8, Early life -- 9-37, Literary career -- 38-51, Theatre -- 52-59, Causes and public life -- 60-65, Spiritualism -- 66-73, Military -- 74-79, Sport and travel -- 80-90, Family life -- 91-120, Correspondence -- 121-135, Biography // The titles in this catalogue are the residual material owned by Anna Doyle's beneficiaries. Cf. p. 9
4488. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Andreas Fischer. Sherlock-Holmes-Geschichten. [3. Aufl.]. ed, (Manesse-Bibliothek der Weltliteratur). Zürich: Manesse-Verl., 1995.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Ill. ; 16 cm. Aus dem Engl. übers. von Trude Fein. Ausw. und Nachw. von Andreas Fischer. //
4489. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Jeremy Fitzgerald, and Louis Vaughan. The hound of the Baskervilles. 1st ed, Reading and training.; Elementary. Barcelona: Ediciones Vicens Vives, 2004.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- il. ; 21 cm. + 1 CD-Audio. Black cat. Retold by Jeremy Fitzegarld ; activities by Louis Vaughan. //
4490. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Bob E. Flick, and Perry Jacob. The Lost World. [Topanga, CA]: Ziggurat Productions, 1997. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog. "Audio movie"--Container. Participants: Full cast production with original music sound effects and sonic soundscape imagery performed by Third Ear Radio Theatre. Produced, engineered, sound effects, and original music by Bob E. Flick ; produced, directed, and sound effects by Perry Jacob. // 4491. ———. The Lost World. [Topanga, CA]: [Star Quest Entertainment?], 1996. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog. Produced, engineered, sound effects, and sonic soundscape design, original music composed and performed by Bob E. Flick ; produced, directed, and sound effects by Perry Jacob ; cover illustration by Eleanor Kish. In one container. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4492. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Pauline Francis. The Hound of the Baskervilles, (Essential classics). London: Evans, 2010.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Retold by Pauline Francis. //
4493. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Shelly Frasier. Beyond the city. [San Clemente, Calif.]: Tantor Media, 2001. Sound Recording (CD) 4 sound discs (3 hrs., 49 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. "Unabridged classics." Compact disc. In container (14 x 16 cm.). Narrated by Shelly Frasier. // "Destiny brings three peculiar households together in the placid English country side. The desire for money and romance drives these Victorians beyond the natural boundaries of their middle class lives ... the web of lust and deceit draws these accidental neighbors closer ..."--Container label.
4494. ———. Beyond the city. [San Clemente, CA]: Tantor Media, 2001. Sound Recording (CD) 1 sound disc (3 hr., 49 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Unabridged classics; Mp3 format. System requirements: CD/mp3 player or PC with mp3-capable software. Compact disc. "5 minute tracks." Performed by Shelly Frasier. // "Destiny brings three peculiar households together in the placid English country side. The desire for money and romance drives these Victorians beyond the natural boundaries of their middle class lives. As the web of lust and deceit draws these accidental neighbors closer, a financial scandal befalls one of them"--Container label.
4495. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Christopher Frayling. The Hound of the Baskervilles : another adventure of Sherlock Holmes, (Penguin classics). London, New York: Penguin Books, 2003.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 20 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. xxxvi-xxxvii). Edited with an introduction and notes by Christopher Frayling. //
4496. ———. The Hound of the Baskervilles : another adventure of Sherlock Holmes, (Penguin classics). London, New York: Penguin Books, 2001.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 20 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. xxxvi-xxxvii). Edited with an introduction and notes by Christopher Frayling. //
4497. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Kyle Freeman. The complete Sherlock Holmes, (Barnes & Noble classics). New York: Barnes & Noble Classics, 2003.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 21 cm. Vol. I (709 p.) -- Vol. II (705 p.) Includes bibliographical references. With an introduction and notes by Kyle Freeman ; George Stade, consulting editorial director. //
4498. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Frantisek Gel. The hound of the Baskervilles = Pes baskervillský. Vyd. v dvojzajzycné verzi 1. ed, (Bilingua crimi). Praha: Garamond, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 19 cm. Pes baskervillský. [z anglického originálu ... preložil Frantisek Gel]. / Uniform Title: Hound of the Baskervilles. Czech & English //
4499. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Frantisek Gel, and Adolf Born. Pes baskervillský : další dobrodružství Sherlocka Holmese. 5. vyd. v Albatrosu ed. Praha: Albatros, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 30 cm. [ilustroval Adolf Born ; z anglickiny preložil Frantisek Gel]. / Uniform Title: Hound of the Baskervilles. Cesky //
4500. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Hubertus Gertzen. Das hund von Baskerville [sound recording]. Freiburg: Audiobuch, 1997 2 cassettes.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Running time: ca.180 mins. Narrator: Hubertus Gertzen. Uniform Title: Hound of the Baskervilles. German. // 4501. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Flo Gibson. The Lost World. Washington, D.C.: Audio Book Contractors, 1999. Sound Recording 5 sound cassettes (7 hrs.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog, 1 7/8 ips. Narrated by Flo Gibson. In container (23 cm.). //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4502. ———. A study in scarlet. Washington, DC: Audio Book Contractors, 1999. Sound Recording 3 sound cassettes (4 hrs.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog. Read by Flo Gibson. // This murder mystery involves two continents, a love story, Mormons and myriad complications.
4503. ———. Through the magic door. Washington, DC: Audio Book Contractors Inc., 2002. Sound Recording 4 sound cassettes (300 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog. Narrated by Flo Gibson. // Originally published in 1907, 'Through the magic door' is Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's heartfelt and instructive tour of his personal library.
4504. ———. The valley of fear. Washington, DC: Audio Book Contractors, 2002. Sound Recording 4 sound cassettes (ca. 360 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog. Narrated by Flo Gibson. //
4505. Doyle, Arthur Conan, John Gielgud, and Ralph Richardson. The best of Sherlock Holmes. London: Hodder Headline Audiobooks, 1994. Sound Recording (cassette) 6 sound cassettes in 3 containers (ca. 6 hr.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Golden days of radio. Dramatisations of Conan Doyle's stories first broadcast in the 1950s. [featuring] Sir John Gielgud, Sir Ralph Richardson. //
4506. ———. The best of Sherlock Holmes. München: Der Hör Verlag, 1996. Sound Recording (cassette) 2 sound cassettes (ca. 120 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- stereo. Audio books, 233. "Produktion: BBC 1951." Sir John Gielgud, Sir Ralph Richardson et al. //
4507. ———. Sherlock Holmes. Plymouth, MN: Metacom, 1994. Sound Recording 6 sound cassettes (360 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog. Nostalgia radio. Participants: Sir John Gielgud (Sherlock Holmes) ; Ralph Richardson (Dr. Watson). // Radio enactments of twelve stories featuring the sleuth Sherlock Holmes and his assistant Dr. Watson.
4508. ———. Sherlock Holmes. Volume 2. Petaluma, CA: Mind's Eye, 1999. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Title from container. Cassettes have been previously issued individually and as parts of other compilations. Date on cassettes: p1983. Participants: Starring: John Gielgud and Ralph Richardson. //
4509. ———. Sherlock Holmes. Volume 3. Petaluma, CA: Mind's Eye, 1999. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Title from container. Cassettes have been previously issued individually and as parts of other compilations. Date on cassettes: p1983. Participants: Starring: John Gielgud and Ralph Richardson. //
4510. Doyle, Arthur Conan, John Gielgud, Ralph Richardson, and Orson Welles. Sherlock Holmes [a Baker's Street dozen]. Saint Paul, MN: Highbridge, 2001. Sound Recording 6 sound cassettes.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Analog. Subtitle from container. Radio adaptations of stories by Arthur Conan Doyle. Featuring Sir John Gielgud as Sherlock Holmes, Ralph Richardson as Dr. Watson, and Orson Welles as Professor Moriarty. //
4511. ———. Sherlock Holmes: a Baker Street dozen. Minneapolis, MN: Highbridge, 2006. Sound Recording 6 sound discs (5 1/4 hr.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital ; 4 3/4 in. Licensed from Charles Michelson, Inc., ©1953. Participants: Sir John Gielgud, Ralph Richardson, and Orson Welles. //
4512. ———. Sherlock Holmes: a Baker Street dozen. St. Paul, MN: Highbridge ; Novato, CA. : Soundelux, p1983., 2002. Sound Recording 6 sound cassettes (60 min. each).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog. Title from container. Licensed from Charles Michelson, Inc. (copyright 1953). Cassettes individually produced in 1983 by Soundelux Audio Publishing. Distributed as a set under collective title by HighBridge Company. Participants: Sir John Gielgud, Ralph Richardson, and Orson Welles. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4513. ———. Sherlock Holmes: the classics. Novato, CA: Soundelux, 1997. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes (218 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog. "Full cast dramatization, with sound effects and music"--Container.
 Participants: Sir John Gielgud (Holmes), Ralph Richardson (Watson), Orson Welles (Moriarty). //
4514. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and William Gillette. Sherlock Holmes, (Theatre series). Den Haag: Sitos, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Language: Dutch. Inl. en annot. in het Nederlands. preceded by Arthur Conan Doyle's A scandal in Bohemia. Introd. [in Dutch] Wim van Houten. annot. Wim Buutveld. //
 Toneelbewerking van enkele verhalen over de Britse speurder. Met woordverklaringen Engels-Nederlands.
4515. ———. Sherlock Holmes. Carol Stream, IL: Oasis Audio, 2003. Sound Recording 2 sound discs (120 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital ; 4 3/4 in. + Includes: 2 sound cassettes : analog. Includes Selecting a ghost, a short story -- container. Performed by California Artists Radio Theatre. by Arthur Conan Doyle & William Gillette. //
4516. Doyle, Arthur Conan, William Gillette, Yuri Rasovsky, Martin Jarvis, and Kristoffer Tabori. Sherlock Holmes theatre. Ashland, OR: Blackstone Audiobooks, 2005. Sound Recording 5 sound discs (ca. 72 min. each).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital ; 4 3/4 in. Unabridged. Compact disc. Read by Martin Jarvis (Sherlock Holmes) and Kristoffer Tabori (Dr. Watson) and a full cast. // In the Napoleon of crime, Professor Moriarity plots with would-be blackmailers to have Holmes killed. And the normally love-proof Holmes falls for an exceptional woman. The play was co-authored by the American matinee idol William Gillette, who played the title sleuth. A smash hit from the beginning, the play remained in Gillette's repertoire until he retired more than thirty years after its premiere. What is the secret of the shocking death of poor Enid's sister? What did she mean by her dying words, "the speckled band? What danger does Enid face from the brutal Dr. Rylott? Only Holmes can scope out the answer and save the helpless girl from certain death. Sir Arthur adapted The Speckled band (1910) from his own short story of that name. A stage success on three continents, the play hasn't received a professional revival for eighty-four years. When Holmes turned fifty, he retired and became a beekeeper, creating a crisis for his friend Watson, whose income derived from the Holmes stories he contributes to the Strand magazine. Further, the doctor owes money to mobsters who want either their cash or his blood. The surprising upshot is, as the headlines proclaim, a Ghastly double murder in famed detective's flat, a one-act comedy by producer-director Yuri Rasovsky, here receiving its audiobook premiere.
4517. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Ed Glinert. A study in scarlet, (Penguin classics). London, New York: Penguin Books, 2001.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 20 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. xxii-xxiii). Introduction by Iain Sinclair ; notes by Ed Glinert. //
4518. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Philip Gooden. The lost world and other thrilling tales, (Penguin classics). London, New York: Penguin, 2001.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 20 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. xxvi-xxvii). Edited with an introduction and notes by Philip Gooden. // The lost world -- The poison belt -- The terror of Blue John Gap -- The horror of the heights.
4519. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Vincent Goodwin, and Ben Dunn. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's The Adventure of Abbey Grange, (The graphic novel adventures of Sherlock Holmes; Graphic planet). Edina, MN: Magic Wagon, 2010.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- col. ill. ; 24 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. 45-47). Adapted by, Vincent Goodwin ; illustrated by, Ben Dunn. // Retold in graphic novel form, Sherlock Holmes investigates what appears to be a murder committed during a burglary.
4520. ———. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's The Adventure of the Dancing Men, 9The graphic novel adventures of Sherlock Holmes; Graphic planet;). Edina, MN: Magic Wagon, 2010.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- col. ill. ; 24 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. 45-47). Adapted by, Vincent Goodwin ; illustrated by, Ben Dunn. // Retold in graphic novel form, Sherlock Holmes investigates the appearance of some strange drawings.

4521. ———. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's The Adventure of the Empty House, (The graphic novel adventures of Sherlock Holmes; Graphic planet). Edina, MN: Magic Wagon, 2010.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- col. ill. ; 24 cm. Includes bibliographical references. Adapted by Vincent Goodwin ; illustrated by Ben Dunn. // Retold in graphic novel form: After being presumed dead for three years, Sherlock Holmes returns to solve the mystery of a card-player who has been shot.

4522. ———. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's The Adventure of the Norwood Builder, (The graphic novel adventures of Sherlock Holmes; Graphic planet). Edina, MN: Magic Wagon, 2010.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- col. ill. ; 24 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. 45-47). Adapted by, Vincent Goodwin ; illustrated by, Ben Dunn. // Retold in graphic novel form, Sherlock Holmes investigates the case of a solicitor accused of murder.

4523. ———. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's The Adventure of the Red-Headed League, (The graphic novel adventures of Sherlock Holmes; Graphic planet). Edina, MN: Magic Wagon, 2010.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- col. ill. ; 24 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. 45-47). Adapted by, Vincent Goodwin ; illustrated by, Ben Dunn. // Retold in graphic novel form, Sherlock Holmes investigates a bizarre case involving a red-haired pawnbroker and his employer who has disappeared.

4524. ———. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's The Adventure of the Speckled Band, (The graphic novel adventures of Sherlock Holmes; Graphic planet). Edina, Mn: Magic Wagon, 2010.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- col. ill. 24 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. 45-47). Adapted by Vincent Goodwin ; illustrated by Ben Dunn. // Retold in graphic novel form, Sherlock Holmes comes to the aid of a client whose sister's dying words referred to a mysterious speckled band.

4525. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Richard Lancelyn Green. The adventures of Sherlock Holmes, (The Oxford Sherlock Holmes). Oxford, New York: Oxford University Press, 1993.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 93025385. Includes bibliographical references. Citations: De Waal C2022 //

4526. ———. The adventures of Sherlock Holmes, (The World's classics: The Oxford Sherlock Holmes). Oxford England, New York: Oxford University Press, 1994.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 94007786. Includes bibliographical references (p. xxxvii-xlii) //

4527. ———. The return of Sherlock Holmes, (The Oxford Sherlock Holmes). Oxford, New York: Oxford University Press, 1993.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 93025386. Includes bibliographical references. Citations: De Waal C2022 //

4528. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Janice Greene. The Hound of the Baskervilles. Irvine, CA: Saddleback Pub., 2001. Sound Recording 1 sound cassette (84 min., 35 sec.).

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog + Includes: 1 paperback book (80 p. : ill. ; 21 cm.) + 1 study guide (48 p. ; 28 cm.) Saddleback classics. Book is adapted by Janice Greene. Guide includes reproducible worksheets to review, test or enrich the student's grasp of important vocabulary and concepts. Adapted to a reading level that never exceeds grade 4.0. // The clever detective Sherlock Holmes, along with Dr. Watson, solves another case.

4529. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Josiane Grinfas. Trois aventures de Sherlock Holmes, (Classiques & contemporains). Paris: Magnard, 2003.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. "Choix de nouvelles. Collège."--Couv. Comprend des réf. bibliogr.: p. 164-165. Présentation, notes, question et après-texte établis par Josiane Grinfas. Uniform Title: Nouvelles. Français. Morceaux choisis. //

4530. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and James Hadley. A Case of Identity. [S.l.]: Digiview Entertainment, 2006. Sound Recording 1 sound disc (30 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. "Digiview Entertainment audio book series" Read by James Hadley. // Miss Mary Sutherland is engaged to the mysterious Mr. Hosmer Angel. When he disappears, she hires the great detective Sherlock Holmes to discover what has happened to her fiancé. Was Mr. Angel the victim of a harmful crime or has the true victim not yet been discovered?
4531. ———. The red-headed league. [S.l.]: Digiview Entertainment, 2006. Sound Recording 1 sound disc (30 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital ; 4 3/4 in. Compact disc. "Digiview Entertainment audio book series" Read by James Hadley. // When the Red-Headed League disappears as quickly as it appeared, Sherlock Holmes is hired to solve the mystery. What is the purpose of this secret group that advertises to hire only red-headed men for their mysterious work? Only a detective like Sherlock Holmes can find out the truth.
4532. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Gisbert Haefs. Eine Studie in Scharlachrot, (Sherlock Holmes; Bd. 1). Zürich: Kein und Aber, 2005.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 19 cm. New translation by Gisbert Haefs. //
4533. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Peter Haining, and Jeremy Brett. The final adventures of Sherlock Holmes completing the canon. New York: Barnes & Noble Books, 1995.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4534. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Edward Hardwicke. The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Episode 2. [S.l.]: CSA elltapes, 1994. Sound Recording (cassette) 2 sound cassettes (ca. 173 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Date on container: p1995. Read by Edward Hardwicke. //
4535. ———. Sherlock Holmes 3 tales of avarice. Auburn, CA: Audio Partners Pub. Group, 2000. Sound Recording (cassettes) 2 sound cassettes (3 hr.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog. Audio Editions mystery masters. Unabridged. Read by Edward Hardwicke. //
4536. ———. Sherlock Holmes 3 tales of avarice. Auburn, CA: Audio Partners Pub. Group, 2000. Sound Recording (CD) 3 sound discs (ca. 3 hr.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Audio editions. Mystery masters. Read by Edward Hardwicke. //
4537. ———. Sherlock Holmes 3 tales of betrayal. Auburn, CA: Audio Partners Pub. Group, 2000. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes (ca. 3 hr.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog. Read by Edward Hardwicke. //
4538. ———. Sherlock Holmes 3 tales of intrigue. Auburn, CA: Audio Partners Pub. Group, 2000. Sound Recording 3 sound discs (ca. 2 hr., 30 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Mystery masters. Unabridged stories. Compact disc. Read by Edward Hardwicke. //
4539. ———. Sherlock Holmes 3 tales of intrigue. Auburn, CA: Audio Partners, 2000. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes (2 hr., 30 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog. Read by Edward Hardwicke. //
4540. ———. Sherlock Holmes tales of avarice. Hamilton, Ontario, Canada ; Amherst, NY: Tangled Web Audio, 1996. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes (ca. 3 hr.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog. Read by Edward Hardwicke. Producer, Stuart Owen. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4541. ———. Sherlock Holmes tales of betrayal. Hamilton, Ontario, Canada ; Amherst, NY: Tangled Web Audio, 1996. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes (ca. 3 hr.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog. Read by Edward Hardwicke. Producer, Stuart Owen. //
4542. ———. Sherlock Holmes tales of intrigue. Hamilton, Ontario, Canada ; Amherst, NY: Tangled Web Audio, 1995. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes (ca. 2 hr., 30 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog. Read by Edward Hardwicke. Producer, Stuart Owen. //
4543. ———. Sherlock Holmes tales of suspense. Hamilton, Ontario, Canada; Amherst, NY: Tangled Web Audio, 1995. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes (ca. 180 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog. Read by Edward Hardwicke. Producer, Stuart Owen. //
4544. ———. Sherlock Holmes: 3 tales of intrigue. Auburn, CA: Audio Partners, 2001. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes (2 hr., 30 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog. Audio Editions mystery masters. Unabridged stories. "Originally published by Tangled Web Audio, Ontario, Canada"--Container. Read by Edward Hardwicke. //
4545. ———. Six great adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Carle Place, NY: Cimino Pub. Group, 1996. Sound Recording 4 sound cassettes (ca. 360 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 1 7/8 ips, stereo. Container title. Dates vary on cassettes : 1993-1994. Read by Edward Hardwicke. //
4546. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Edward Hardwicke, and Nis Jessen. A study in scarlet. 1st ed. Rønne, Denmark: Hakon Holm Publishing, 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 36 cm. Foreward / Edward Hardwicke -- "Art in the blood is liable to take the strangest forms." [Afterword] / Nis Jessen. Additional illustrations printed on the end papers. Part of the first edition was issued in a limited edition of 1000 copies, in a slip case, hand numbered and signed by the artist. illustrated by Nis Jessen. Scuttlebutt Jul 2005. // "With the original text from Beeton's Christmas Annual and more than 600 striking illustrations by Danish artist Nis Jessen....there are three versions: standard (E60.00), de-luxe (E70.00), and signed and numbered in a slip-case (E78.00), and there are two posters available."
4547. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Henry Sydnor Harrison. Das gefleckte Band. 1. Aufl. ed, (Taschenbücherei). Stuttgart; Leipzig: Klett, 2007.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Miss Hinch / Henry Sydnor Harrison. //
4548. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Paul Hecht. The Lost World. Prince Frederick, MD: Recorded Books, 1995. Sound Recording 6 sound cassettes (8.5 hrs.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog. Unabridged. Narrated by Paul Hecht. //
4549. ———. The poison belt. Prince Frederick, MD: Recorded Books, 1996. Sound Recording 3 sound cassettes (3.5 hrs.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog. Unabridged. Narrated by Paul Hecht. //
4550. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Valfrid Hedman. Haudantakainen elämä. 2. p. ed. Hämeenlinna: Karisto, 2000.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 21 cm. Uniform Title: New revelation. Seitsemännestä englanninkielisestä painoksesta suomentanut Valfrid Hedman. //
4551. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Sæmundson Helgi, Kaldadarnesi Jón Sigurdsson frá, Guðmundsson Loftur, Þórdarson Hermann, and Ólafur H Einarsson. Sherlock Holmes. Reykjavík: Sögusafn Heimilanna, 1978.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: 1. Formáli. Réttlát hefnd ; Týndi fjársjóðurinn -- 2. Dalur óttans -- 3-4. Æfintýri Sherlock Holmes -- 5-6. Afrek Sherlock Holmes -- 7-8. Endurkoma Sherlock Holmes -- 9. Baskerville hundurinn. Citations: De Waal C3270 //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4552. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Masamichi Higurashi. Meitantei Homuzu Akage Kumiai, (Kodansha aoi tori bunko). Tokyo: Kodansha, 1996.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: Akage Kumiai -- Enshin -- Aoi ganetto -- Ginseigo jiken //
4553. ———. Meitantei Homuzu Buna Yashiki no nazo, (Kodansha aoi tori bunko). Tokyo: Kodansha, 1998.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: Buna Yashiki no nazo -- Dokushin no kizoku -- Orenji no tane itsutsu -- Kiiroi kao //
4554. ———. Meitantei Homuzu Hiroy no kenkyu, (Kodansha aoi tori bunko). Tokyo: Kodansha, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4555. ———. Meitantei Homuzu Kieta hanamuko, (Kodansha aoi tori bunko). Tokyo: Kodansha, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: Kieta hanamuko -- Boemia o no sukyandaru -- Bosukomu Tani no nazo -- Masugurebu-ke no gishiki //
4556. ———. Meitantei Homuzu Madara no himo, (Kodansha aoi tori bunko). Tokyo: Kodansha, 1996.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: Madara no himo -- Gishi no oyayubi -- Ryokuchuseki no hokan -- Kaigun joyaku bunsho //
4557. ———. Meitantei Homuzu Yottsuo no shomei, (Kodansha aoi tori bunko). Tokyo: Kodansha, 1998.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4558. ———. Sharokku Homuzu, (Sekai no meitantei). Tokyo: Shueisha, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: Masugureva-ke no gishiki -- Aoi ganetto -- Gishi no oyayubi -- Meiba Shiruva Bureizu -- Ryokuchuseki no hokan -- Kaigun joyaku jiken //
4559. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Reinhard Hillich. Tatort Ägypten ein Drama in der Wüste. 1. Aufl. ed. Schweinfurt: Wiesenburg-Verl., 2008.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Tragedy of the Korosko (German). Hrsg., aus dem Engl. übers. sowie mit Anm. vers. von Reinhard Hillich. Textill. von Sidney Paget. //
4560. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Stephen Hines. The true crime files of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. 1st ed. New York: Berkley Prime Crime, 2001.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2001037517. Includes bibliographical references (p. 289-290) //
4561. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Yuichi Hirayama. The annotated Jelland's voyage. Tokyo: The Shoso-in Press, 2000.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. 20). Edited by Hirayama Yuichi. Scuttlebutt Jan 2001. // "Offers a reprint of Arthur Conan Doyle's only story set in Japan, with annotations and an interesting discussion of the historical and literary background of the story."
4562. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and John A. Hodgson. Sherlock Holmes: the major stories with contemporary critical essays. Boston: Bedford Books of St. Martin Press, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 92075302. Includes bibliographical references (p. 443-446) and index. Filmography: p. 439-441 //
4563. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Cameron Hollyer, and Dayna McCausland. Beyond the canon: four apocryphal stories. Shelburne, Ont, Sauk City, Wisconsin: Battered Silicon Dispatch Box, 2000.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references. Contents: Beyond the canon -- Via parody: The field bazaar, How Watson learned the trick -- Via rail: The story of the man with the watches, The story of the lost special -- The caboose //
4564. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Bruce Holmes. The return of Sherlock Holmes. Halifax, N.S: Bruce Holmes, [2003].

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Includes bibliographical references (leaf 22) // Reprints selected passages from the thirteen stories which comprise The Return, each illustrated with a stamp from the illustrator's collection 4565. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Patrick Horgan. Best of Sherlock Holmes. Vol. 1. Redmond, WA: Countertop Software/Topics Entertainment, 2000. Sound Recording (cassette) 10 sound cassettes.

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog. The literate listener. "3 unabridged books on 10 cassettes"--Container. "Audio book collection"--Container. Read by Patrick Horgan. //
4566. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Ch êng Hsiao-chin. Gu di zhi guai. Xiu ding yi ban. ed, (Fu'ermo-ssu tan an quan ji). Tai-bei shi: Shi jie shu ju, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Translation of: The hound of baskervilles. / Includes bibliographical references (p. 197-199). [Kenan Dao'er zhu ; Cheng Xiao-ch'êng yi]. / Uniform Title: Hound of baskervilles. Chinese // 4567. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Cheng Hsiao-ching. Xie tzu di yan jiu. Xiu ding yi ban. ed, (Fu'ermo-ssu tan an quan ji). Tai-bei shi: Shi jie shu ju, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 22 cm. Translation of: A study in scarlet. / Includes bibliographical references (p. 133-145). Pinyin: Xu zi de yan jiu [Kenan Dao'er zhu ; Cheng Hsiao-ching yi]. / Uniform Title: Study in scarlet. Chinese // 4568. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Ch êng Hsiao-ching. Hui yi lu. Xiu ding yi ban. ed, (Fu'ermo-ssu tan an quan ji). Tai-bei shi: Shi jie shu ju, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Translation of: The memoirs of Sherlock Holmes. / Includes bibliographical references (p. 255-257). [Kenan Dao'er zhu ; Cheng Xiao-ch'êng yi]. / Uniform Title: Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes. Chinese // 4569. ———. Si qian ming. Xiu ding yi ban. ed, (F-erh-mo-ssu t'an an ch'üan chi). Tai-bei shi: Shi jie shu ju, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Translation of: The sign of four. / Includes bibliographical references (p. 145-147). [Kenan Dao'er zhu ; Cheng, Xiao-ching yi]. / Uniform Title: Sign of four. Chinese // 4570. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Ch êng Hsiao-ch'ing. Kong bu gu. Xiu ding yi ban. ed, (Fu'ermo-ssu tan an quan ji). Tai-bei shi: Shi jie shu ju, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Translation of: The valley of fear. / Includes bibliographical references (p. 167-169). [Kenan Dao'er zhu ; Cheng Xiao-ch'êng yi]. / Uniform Title: Valley of fear. Chinese // 4571. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Ch êng Hsiao-ch'ing. Gui lai zhi. Xiu ding yi ban. ed, (Fu'ermo-ssu tan an quan ji). Tai-peih: Shi jie shu ju, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Translation of: The return of Sherlock Holmes. / Includes bibliographical references (p. 337-339). Pinyin: Gui lai ji [Kenan Dao'er zhu ; Cheng Xiao-ch'êng yi]. / Uniform Title: Return of Sherlock Holmes. Chinese // 4572. ———. Mao xian shi. Xiu ding yi ban. ed, (Fu'ermo-ssu tan an quan ji). Tai-bei shi: Shi chieh shu chü, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Translation of: A adventure of Sherlock Holmes. / Includes bibliographical references (p. 291-293). [Kenan Dao'er zhu ; Cheng Xiao-ch'êng yi]. / Uniform Title: Adventure of Sherlock Holmes. Chinese // 4573. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Cheng Hsiao-ch'ing. Xin tan an. Xin ding yi ban. ed, (Fu'ermo-ssu tan an quan ji). Tai-bei shi: Shi jie shu ju, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. 471-473). [Kenan Dao'er zhu ; Cheng Xiao-ch'êng yi]. //
4574. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Miguel Iven. Das Zeichen der Vier : ein Sherlock-Holmes-Roman. Unterhaching: Naxos, 2003. Sound Recording 4 CDs (257 Min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 12 cm. Klassiker der Literatur; Naxos-Hörbücher. Read by Miguel Iven //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4575. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Derek Jacobi. The Hound of the Baskervilles. Bath [England]: Chivers Audio Books; Hampton, NH : BBC Audiobooks America, 2002. Sound Recording 4 sound cassettes (6 hrs., 42 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog. "Complete & unabridged." Read by Sir Derek Jacobi. //
4576. ———. The Hound of the Baskervilles. Bath, England: BBC Audiobooks, 2007. Sound Recording 6 sound discs (6 hr. 24 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Compact discs. Read by Derek Jacobi. //
4577. ———. The sign of four. Bath [England]: Chivers Audio Books, 2006. Sound Recording 4 sound discs (ca. 4 hr. 30 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Compact discs. Read by Derek Jacobi. //
4578. ———. The sign of the four. Bath, England: BBC Audiobooks, 2006. Sound Recording 4 sound cassettes (4 hrs., 30 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 1 7/8 ips, Dolby processed, stereo ; in 1 container. Chivers audio books. BBC Audiobooks: CAB 3002. Complete & unabridged. Narrator : Derek Jacobi. // 4579. ———. A study in scarlet. Bath, England: BBC Audiobooks, 2004. Sound Recording 4 sound discs (4 hrs., 43 min.) ;; 4 3/4 in.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Chivers audio books. Compact discs. Complete & unabridged. Narrator : Derek Jacobi. //
4580. ———. The valley of fear. North Kingstown, RI: BBC Audiobooks America, 2007. Sound Recording 6 sound discs (6 hr., 17 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. In container (17 cm.). Title from container. "Sound Library"--Container. "Complete & Unabridged"--Container. "Digitally Mastered"--Container. Compact disc. Read by Derek Jacobi. // 4581. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Alexander John. Round the fire stories. Oxford, England: ISIS Audio Books ; Wrentham, MA : Sold in the United States by Dual Dolphin Pub., 1994. Sound Recording 7 sound cassettes.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ISIS Audio Books. analog, stereo., Dolby processed. // Seventeen stories of suspense and adventure, chosen by the author, dealing with murder, madness, ghosts, unsolved crimes, diabolical traps, and other horrors.
4582. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Freddie Jones. The Hound of the Baskervilles. London ; New York: Penguin Audiobooks, 1995. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes (ca. 180 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog. "Abridged"--Insert. Read by Freddie Jones. // The ancient legend of the hound of the Baskervilles persisted in family history for generations. When Sir Charles is found dead in the grounds of Baskerville Hall, it is this mystery that brings Sherlock Holmes to the scene of one of his most famous cases.
4583. ———. The Hound of the Baskervilles. London: Penguin Audiobooks, 1996. Sound Recording 2 cassettes (180 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog, stereo., Dolby processed. Children's classics; Puffin classics. Read by Freddie Jones. //
4584. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Freddie Jones, and Elizabeth Bland. The Hound of the Baskervilles. London: Penguin, 1998. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes (ca. 180 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog, Dolby processed. Puffin audiobooks. Read by Freddie Jones. [Abridged by Elizabeth Bland]. //
4585. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Kelley Jones. Sherlock Holmes. Volume 2. San Diego, CA : IDW; London : Diamond [distributor], 2010.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 23 cm. The valley of fear -- The adventure of the noble bachelor -- The yellow face -- The Greek interpreter -- The sign of four. artist, Kelley Jones. //

4586. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Kelley Jones, and Jay Fotos. The Valley of Fear & Other Sherlock Holmes Stories, (Sherlock Holmes). San Diego, CA: IDW, 2010.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- col. ill. ; 23 cm. The valley of fear -- The adventure of the noble bachelor -- The yellow face -- The Greek interpreter -- The sign of four. Illustrated by Kelley Jones ; colors by Jay Fotos. // 4587. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Bruce Joseph. The Hound of the Baskervilles. Okemos, MI: Literature on Tape, 1995. Sound Recording 4 sound cassettes (5 hr., 15 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog. Read by Bruce Joseph. //
4588. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Charles Keating. The red-headed league. Old Greenwich, CT: Listening Library, 1995. Sound Recording 1 sound cassette (67 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog, Dolby processed + Includes: 1 book (63 p. ; 23 cm.) + 1 teacher's guide (1 p., folded into 6 p. ; 22 cm.) The creative short story audio library. Based on Creative Education's creative short story book series. With the book published: Mankato, MN : Creative Education, Inc., c1990 (63 p. ; 23 cm.) Narrated by Charles Keating. //
4589. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Brad Keefauver. The Adventure of the dancing men. 1st ed. Peoria, Ill: Baker Street Digressions, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Limited to 15 copies. Light yellow cover. Don Hobbs: Galactic Sherlock Holmes // The text is in "Dancing Men" font except where the Dancing Men characters appeared in the original story, roman letters have been inserted.
4590. ———. The Adventure of the dancing men. 2nd ed. Peoria, Ill: Baker Street Digressions, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Limited to 25 copies. Light blue cover. Don Hobbs: Galactic Sherlock Holmes // The text is in "Dancing Men" font except where the Dancing Men characters appeared in the original story, roman letters have been inserted.
4591. ———. John Ferrier Talks to the Prophet. Peoria: Baker Street Digressions, 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: Part II, chapter 3 of Study in Scarlet. In Deseret alphabet. Don Hobbs: Galactic Sherlock Holmes //
4592. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Dermot Kerrigan. A scandal in Bohemia : Originaltexte mit Wortschatzhilfen im Begleitheft. Berlin ; München: Langenscheidt, 2002. Sound Recording 1 CD (58 Min.) ; 12 cm + Includes: Booklet (48 S.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Gelesen von David Timson. //
4593. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Ben Kingsley. The adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Ashland, OR: Blackstone Audiobooks, 2007. Sound Recording (CD) 4 sound discs (ca. 68 min. each).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Abridged. Compact discs. Read by Ben Kingsley. // Amateur detective Sherlock Holmes, the master of deductive reasoning, solves several mysteries with the aid of his friend, Dr. John Watson.
4594. ———. A treasury of Sherlock Holmes. Beverly Hills, CA: New Millennium Audio, 2003. Sound Recording 4 sound cassettes (ca. 4.5 hrs.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Dolby processed. "A collection of seven great stories."--Container. "Unabridged."--Container. Performed by Ben Kingsley. //
4595. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Rudyard Kipling, and Antoine de Saint-Exupéry. Baskervil'lar ete. Kazan: "Magarif", 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 23 cm. "Dlia detei i iunoshestva"--Colophon. / "Literaturno-khudozhestvennoe izdanie"--Colophon. Title in colophon.; Sobaka Baskervilei; Maugli; Malen'kii prints. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4596. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Leslie S. Klinger, and Daniel Stashower. The apocrypha of Sherlock Holmes. 1st ed. Indianapolis: Gasogene, 2009.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle ; edited, with annotations by Leslie S. Klinger. ill. ; 26 cm. The Sherlock Holmes reference library. Introduction by Daniel Stashower -- The field bazaar -- The man with the watches -- The lost special -- How Watson learned the trick -- The Stonor case -- The crown diamond: an evening with Sherlock Holmes -- The tall man: a plot for a Sherlock Holmes story -- Angels of darkness. Includes bibliographical references (p. 175-176) // "Though most [of these tales] were excluded from his collected works, Conan Doyle brought his usual skill and wit to bear...."--Introduction.
4597. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Kazuo Kondo. Yosei monogatari jitsuzaisuru yosei sekai, (Ten bukkusu shirizu =: Ten books). Tokyo,: Kosumo Ten Paburikeshon. Hatsubaimoto Taiyo Shuppan., 1989.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4598. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Juozas Kvietinskas, and Jovita Liutkute. Baskerviliu suo. Kaunas, Lithuania: Spindulys, 1997.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4599. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Francis Lacassin, and Gilles Vauthier. Les Exploits du Pr Challenger : et autres aventures étranges, (Bouquins). Paris: R. Laffont, 1995.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Traduit de l'anglais. La couverture porte en plus : "Le Monde perdu. La Ceinture empoisonnée. La Machine à désintégrer ... Contes de pirates." Notes bibliogr. Bibliogr. : p. [1147]-1150. édition établie par Francis Lacassin ; [traduit de l'anglais par Gilles Vauthier ... [et al.]]. //
4600. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Rodrigo Lacerda, and Iná Camargo Costa. A nuvem da morte Translated Title: The poison belt. São Paulo: Nova Alexandria, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //
4601. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Alberto Laiseca, and Jorge León Burgos Funes. Estudio en escarlata ; y, El signo de los cuatro, (Sherlock Homes). Madrid: Nowtilus, 2010.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 19 cm. Study in scarlet. The Sign of Four. Spanish. [edición de Alberto Laiseca ; traducción, Jorge León Burgos Funes]. //
4602. ———. Las aventuras de Sherlock Holmes, (Sherlock Homes). Madrid: Nowtilus, 2010.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 19 cm. Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Spanish. [edición, Alberto Laiseca ; traducción, Jorge León Burgos Fune]. //
4603. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Robert Latour. La Compagnie blanche : roman, (D'aujourd'hui étranger). Paris: Phébus, 1995.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 21 cm. Trad. de : The White company. Trad. de l'anglais par Robert latour. / Uniform Title: White company. French. // 4604. ———. Résurrection de Sherlock Holmes, (Livre de poche). Paris: Robert Laffont, 1998.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill., map ; 18 cm. Translation of: Return of Sherlock Holmes. Traduction de Robert Latour. / Uniform Title: Return of Sherlock Holmes. French //
4605. Doyle, Arthur Conan, J. R. Lavas, and Zdenek Burian. The lost world of Arthur Conan Doyle. Collector's anniversary ed. Auckland, N.Z.: John R. Lavas, 2002.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 22 x 30 cm. Limited ed. of 500. Illustrated by J. R. Lavas and Zdenek Burian. Scuttlebutt Oct 2003. // "A collector's edition marking the 90th anniversary of the publication of the original story, the 168-page book has many new illustrations, in color and in black-and-white."
4606. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Christopher Lee. The Case Book of Sherlock Holmes. Glasgow: HarperCollinsAudioBooks, 2000. Sound Recording 2 sound discs (135 min.).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Read by: Christopher Lee. // The masterful stories in this collection relate Holmes and Watson's involvement with the case of an eminent physiologist inexplicably savaged by his faithful wolfhound and of the priceless stolen crown diamond found in the pocket of a peer, while Holmes himself tells the story of a Boer War hero set to inherit a fortune who mysteriously disappears from the family seat.

4607. ———. The Casebook of Sherlock Holmes. London: Harper Collins, 1998. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes (ca. 180 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog, 1 7/8 ips. Unabridged. Read by Christopher Lee. //
4608. ———. Christopher Lee reads Sherlock Homes the Adventure of the Sussex Vampire & other stories. London: HarperCollins Audio Books, 1998. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes (ca. 180 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog. In container (23 cm.) Read by Christopher Lee. //
4609. ———. Valley of fear. [UK]: Leopard Audiobooks, 1996. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog, 1 7/8 ips. Read by Christopher Lee. //
4610. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Christopher Lee, and Tony Britton. Sherlock Holmes Valley of fear ; and the Hound of the Baskervilles. [Burlington, Ontario, Canada]: Durkin Hayes Pub., 1994. Sound Recording 4 sound cassettes (6 hrs.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog, Dolby-processed. Christopher Lee reads Valley of fear ; Tony Britton reads The hound of the Baskervilles. //
4611. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Michael Leighton. The Hound of the Baskervilles. [London?]: Castle Communications, 1994. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes (ca. 120 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog, Dolby. Times audio library. Abridged for audio. Narrated by Michael Leighton. //
4612. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Jon L Lellenberg, Daniel Stashower, and Charles Foley. Arthur Conan Doyle a life in letters. New York: Penguin Press, 2007.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2007014692. Includes bibliographical references and index. Contents: The schoolboy (1867-1876) -- The medical student (1876-1882) -- The struggling doctor (1882-1884) -- Cracking the oyster (1884-1890) -- "Author of Sherlock Holmes" (1891-1893) -- Putting Holmes behind him (1894-1896) -- Country life (1896-1898) -- War in South Africa (1899-1900) -- Politics and honours (1900-1902) -- The final Hindhead years (1903-1907) -- Windlesham to the outbreak of war (1907-1914) -- The World War (1914-1918) -- His last crusade (1918-1920) -- Epilogue : Conan Doyle's final decade //
4613. ———. Arthur Conan Doyle his life in letters. New York: Penguin Press, 2008.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2007014692. Contents: The schoolboy (1867-1876) -- The medical student (1876-1882) -- The struggling doctor (1882-1884) -- Cracking the oyster (1884-1890) -- "Author of Sherlock Holmes" (1891-1893) -- Putting Holmes behind him (1894-1896) -- Country life (1896-1898) -- War in South Africa (1899-1900) -- Politics and honours (1900-1902) -- The final Hindhead years (1903-1907) -- Windlesham to the outbreak of war (1907-1914) -- The World War (1914-1918) -- His last crusade (1918-1920) -- Epilogue : Conan Doyle's final decade //
4614. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Ann Margaret Lewis. "The Adventure of the Crown Diamond a.k.a. The Mazarin Stone." The Serpentine Muse 24, no. 2 (2008): 16-23.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // With editing and additional material by Ann Margaret Lewis.
4615. ———. "The Adventure of the Crown Diamond a.k.a. The Mazarin Stone." The Serpentine Muse 23, no. 4 (2007): 11-16.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // With editing and additional material by Ann Margaret Lewis.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4616. ———. "The Adventure of the Crown Diamond a.k.a. The Mazarin Stone." The Serpentine Muse 24, no. 1 (2007): 9-14.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // With editing and additional material by Ann Margaret Lewis.
4617. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Anthony Liles. Fu'ermosi tan an = Sherlock Holmes. Di 1 ban. ed, (2000 dan ci du bian shi jie ming zhu cong shu). Beijing: Zhongguo shu ji chu ban she, 2005.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 17 cm. Zhong xue sheng ying wen du wu. Shuang yu dui zhao. Sherlock Holmes Arthur Conandoye yuan zhu ; Anthony Liles gai bian. // 4618. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Li Lin. Chui si de zhen tan. 1st ed, (Fu'ermosi tan an quan ji). Taipei Xian Xindian Shi: Ye qiang chu ban she, 2000.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Kenan Dao'er zhu ; Tong Yun yi ; Li Lin cha tu. //
4619. ———. Hong fa lian meng. 1st ed, (Fu'ermosi tan an quan ji). Taipei Xian Xindian Shi: Ye qiang chu ban she, 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Text accompanied with zhu yin fu hao. Hong fa lian meng Kenan Dao'er zhu ; Tong Yun yi ; Li Lin cha tu. //
4620. ———. Lan bao shi zhi mi. 1st ed, (Fu'ermosi tan an quan ji). Taipei Xian Xindian Shi: Ye qiang chu ban she, 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Text accompanied with zhu yin fu hao. Lan bao shi zhi mi Kenan Dao'er zhu ; Tong Yun yi ; Li Lin cha tu. //
4621. ———. Lü yu huang guan zhi mi. 1st ed, (Fu'ermosi tan an quan ji). Taipei Xian Xindian Shi: Ye qiang chu ban she, 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Text accompanied with zhu yin fu hao. Lü yu huang guan zhi mi Kenan Dao'er zhu ; Tong Yun yi ; Li Lin cha tu. //
4622. ———. Ming ju shi qie ji. 1st ed, (Fu'ermosi tan an quan ji). Taipei Xian Xindian Shi: Ye qiang chu ban she, 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Text accompanied with zhu yin fu hao. Ming ju shi qie ji Kenan Dao'er zhu ; Tong Yun yi ; Li Lin cha tu. //
4623. ———. Tuo bei ren. 1st ed, (Fu'ermosi tan an quan ji). Taipei Xian Xindian Shi: Ye qiang chu ban she, 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Text accompanied with zhu yin fu hao. Tuo bei ren Kenan Dao'er zhu ; Tong Yun yi ; Li Lin cha tu. //
4624. ———. Wu ge guo he di mi mi. 1st ed, (Fu'ermosi tan an quan ji). Taipei Xian Xindian Shi: Ye qiang chu ban she, 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Text accompanied with zhu yin fu hao. 5 ge guo he di mi mi; Wu ge guo he de mi mi Kenan Dao'er zhu ; Tong Yun yi ; Li Lin cha tu. //
4625. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Tongyun Li Lin. Dan che qi yu ji. 1st ed, (Fu'ermosi tan an quan ji). Taipei Xian Xindian Shi: Ye qiang chu ban she, 2000.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. Text accompanied with zhu yin fu hao. Kenan Dao'er zhu ; Tongyun yi ; Li Lin cha tu. //
4626. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Aristarkh Livanov, Viktor Bykov, Boris Ivanov, and Larisa Naumkina. "Mednye buki" priklucheniia Sherloka Kholmsa / Uniform Title: Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Selections. Moskva: "Zvukovaia kniga", 2004. Sound Recording 1 sound disc (1 hr., 10 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Iz arkhiva Gosteleradiofonda. Compact disc. "Radiospektakl' 1994 g."--Disc label. Performed by Aristarkh Livanov, Viktor Bykov, Boris Ivanov, Larisa Naunkina. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4627. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Brendan Lynch, Malvina G. Vogel, and Louise Durocher. Les aventures de Sherlock Holmes, (Les Grands classiques illustrés; Variation: Grands classiques illustrés.). Saint-Lambert, Québec: Éditions ABC, 1997.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 20 cm. Traduction de: The adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Adapté par Malvina G. Vogel ; illustrations de Brenda [i.e. Brendan] Lynch ; traduit de l'anglais par Louise Durocher. //
4628. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Michel Marcheteau. Extraordinary tales = Histoires extraordinaires, (Langues pour tous). Paris: Pocket, 2000.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 18 cm. When the world screamed = Le jour où la terre hurla -- The lost special = Un train spécial disparaît -- The bully of Brocas Court = La brute de Brocas Court. Histoires extraordinaires. Choix, traduction et notes par Michel Marcheteau. //
4629. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Lucien Maricourt. Une aventure de Sherlock Holmes : Le Chien des Baskerville, (Livre à 10F). Paris: Libro, 1999.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 21 cm. "Texte intégral"--t.p. Translation of: The hound of the Baskervilles. Colour illustrated wrappers with a reproduction of a poster for the film "The Hound of the Baskervilles" with Peter Cushing and Christopher Lee. Traduit de l'anglais par Lucien Maricourt. //
4630. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Lucien Maricourt, and Pino Daeni. Une aventures [sic] de Sherlock Holmes : une étude en rouge, (Texte intégral). Paris: Libro : Diffusion France et étranger, Flammarion, 1995.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 21 cm. Pictorial blue wrappers with centrally located title frame with orange and white lettering and a picture showing Holmes standing by a lit street lantern and horse drawn carriage in the background; title frame surrounded by border with a repeating pattern of frames showing a horse drawn carriage and publisher/series name. Translation of: A study in scarlet. Cover ill. by: Pino Daeni. Traduit de l'anglais par Lucien Maricourt. //
4631. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Lucien Maricourt, and Michel Le Houbie. Quatre aventures de Sherlock Holmes : La bande mouchetée suivi de L'Association des Hommes roux, L'escarboucle bleue, Les cinq pépins d'orange. Paris: Libro, 1994.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- 21 cm. Sherlock Holmes : La bande mouchetée suivi de trois autres récits. Traduits par Lucien Maricourt ... Michel Le Houbie. / Uniform Title: Short stories. French. Selections //
4632. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Scott McKowen. The adventures and the memoirs of Sherlock Holmes, (Children's classics series). New York: Sterling Pub., 2004.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 21 cm. : ill. ; 21 cm. Adventures of Sherlock Holmes: Scandal in Bohemia -- Case of identity -- Red-headed league -- Boscombe Valley mystery -- Five orange pips -- Man with the twisted lip -- Blue carbuncle -- Speckled band -- Engineer's thumb -- Noble bachelor -- Beryl coronet -- Copper beeches -- Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes: Silver blaze -- Yellow face -- Stockbroker's clerk -- Gloria Scott -- Musgrave ritual -- Religate squires -- Crooked man -- Resident patient -- Greek interpreter -- Naval treaty -- Final problem. Previously published as two separate volumes entitled: The adventures of Sherlock Holmes and The memoirs of Sherlock Holmes. National bibliography no: GBA529405 // Test your own powers of deduction alongside those of the most celebrated detective ever to walk the streets of London or grace the pages of a book. Sherlock Holmes brings his extraordinary insight and intriguing quirks to every case he is called upon to solve, sometimes without even leaving the comfort of his Baker Street apartment. In this collection of 23 ingeniously plotted stories, no case is too big, too small, or too bizarre for Holmes. Whether he is foiling the grand schemes of a would-be bank robber or uncovering family secrets kept hidden away for years, Sherlock Holmes at all times proves himself a formidable adversary. With his trusted and always-admiring friend, Dr. Watson, at his side, "the most perfect reasoning and observing machine the world has ever seen" uses his unique analytical gifts to confound every criminal and unravel every mystery. This edition contains all the stories from the first two collections of Sherlock Holmes mysteries ever published, along with illustrations by Scott McKowen. Book club questions by noted educator Arthur Pober, Ed. D., further enhance the reading experience.

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4633. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Edith Meiser, John Stanley, and Alfred Shirley. The new adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Schiller Park, IL: Radio Spirits, 2001. Sound Recording 10 sound discs (10 hr.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. + Includes: 1 pamphlet. Smithsonian collection (Radio Spirits, Inc.) Stories by or inspired by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, many adapted by Edith Meiser. Original radio broadcasts from the 1947-1948 season. Compact discs. Featuring John Stanley and Alfred Shirley ; various announcers and guest stars. Adapted by Edith Meiser. // 4634. ———. The new adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Schiller Park, IL: Radio Spirits, 2002. Sound Recording 1 sound cassette.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog. World's 30 greatest mysteries. "Live radio program"--Cassette. Title on container: The adventures of Sherlock Holmes. "Free audiobook"--Container. John Stanley as Sherlock Holmes ; Alfred Shirley as Dr. Watson. Written by Edith Meiser ; produced and directed by Basil Loughrane ; production of Old Time Radio. // 4635. ———. The new adventures of Sherlock Holmes. The case of the bleeding chandelier, 06-13-48. The adventure of the veiled lodger, 06-20-48. Schiller Park, IL: Radio Spirits, 2001. Sound Recording 1 sound disc (1 hr.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Digital ; 4 3/4 in. Old-time radio blockbusters. Compact disc. Participants: John Stanley, Alfred Shirley. Producer/director, Basil Loughrane ; sound effects, Hal Reid. //
4636. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Edith Meiser, John Stanley, Alfred Shirley, and Charles D. Penman. The new adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Schiller Park, IL: Radio Spirits, 2001. Sound Recording 10 sound cassettes.
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog. + Includes: 1 booklet (32 p. : ill. ; 13 cm.). Smithsonian collection (Radio Spirits, Inc.) Stories and characters created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle with scripts by Edith Meiser. At head of title: Old-time radio. John Stanley as Sherlock Holmes ; Alfred Shirley as Dr. Watson ; Charles D. Penman as Professor Moriarty. // Twenty of Sherlock Holmes' greatest radio adventures from the long-lost 1947-48 radio season.
4637. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Clive Merrison, and Michael Williams. The Casebook of Sherlock Holmes, vol. 1. Hampton, NH: BBC Audiobooks America, 2000. Sound Recording 4 sound discs (2 hr., 55 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- BBC Radio 4. digital ; 4 3/4 in. BBC Radio collection. "A BBC Radio 4 full-cast dramatization"--Container cover insert. Participants: Clive Merrison as Holmes, Michael Williams as Dr. Watson, and a full cast. //
4638. ———. The Casebook of Sherlock Holmes, vol. 2. Hampton, NH: BBC Audiobooks America, 2000. Sound Recording 4 sound discs (2 hr., 55 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- BBC Radio 4. digital ; 4 3/4 in. BBC Radio collection. "A BBC Radio 4 full-cast dramatization"--Container cover insert. Participants: Clive Merrison as Holmes, Michael Williams as Dr. Watson, and a full cast. //
4639. ———. The Casebook of Sherlock Holmes, vol. 3. Hampton, NH: BBC Audiobooks America, 2000. Sound Recording 4 sound discs (2 hr., 55 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- BBC Radio 4. digital ; 4 3/4 in. BBC Radio collection. "A BBC Radio 4 full-cast dramatization"--Container cover insert. Participants: Clive Merrison as Holmes, Michael Williams as Dr. Watson, and a full cast. //
4640. ———. The Casebook of Sherlock Holmes. radio dramatiatiion. Hampton, NH: BBC Audiobooks America, 2000. Sound Recording 12 sound discs (9 hr., 25 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- BBC Radio 4. digital ; 4 3/4 in. BBC Radio collection. "A BBC Radio 4 full-cast dramatization"--Container cover insert. Issued in three containers. Participants: Clive Merrison as Holmes, Michael Williams as Dr. Watson, and a full cast. //
4641. ———. The Casebook of Sherlock Holmes. Volume one. London: BBC Audiobooks, 2004. Sound Recording 4 sound discs (2 hr., 55 min.).

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

NOTE // ABSTRACT --- BBC Radio 4. digital, stereo. ; 4 3/4 in. A BBC Radio 4 full-cast dramatisation. "This recording was previously released in 1996"--Container. Participants: Clive Merrison as Holmes ; Michael Williams as Dr. Watson, and a full cast. //

4642. ———. The Casebook of Sherlock Holmes. Volume three. London: BBC Audiobooks, 2004. Sound Recording 4 sound discs (2 hr., 55 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- BBC Radio 4. digital, stereo. ; 4 3/4 in. A BBC Radio 4 full-cast dramatisation. "This recording was previously released in 1996"--Container. "Also includes an interview with Adrian Conan Doyle, Sir Arthur's son"--Container. Participants: Clive Merrison as Holmes ; Michael Williams as Dr. Watson, and a full cast. //
4643. ———. The Casebook of Sherlock Holmes. Volume two. London: BBC Audiobooks, 2004. Sound Recording 4 sound discs (2 hr., 55 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- BBC Radio 4. digital, stereo. ; 4 3/4 in. A BBC Radio 4 full-cast dramatisation. "This recording was previously released in 1996"--Container. / Participants: Clive Merrison as Holmes ; Michael Williams as Dr. Watson, and a full cast. //
4644. ———. The Complete Conan Doyle Sherlock Holmes. North Kingstown, RI: BBC Audiobooks America, 2004. Sound Recording 64 sound discs (48 hr., 10 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- BBC Radio. digital ; 4 3/4 in. "Every Sherlock Holmes novel and story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, performed by a full cast"--Container. Participants: Clive Merrison, Michael Williams. //
4645. ———. His Last Bow, Vol. 1. Hampton, NH: BBC Audiobooks America ; BBC Worldwide, 2004. Sound Recording 4 sound discs (2 hr., 55 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. BBC radio collection. "A BBC Radio 4 full-cast dramatization"--Container cover insert. Compact disc. Performed by Clive Merrison (Holmes), Michael Williams (Dr. Watson), and a full cast. //
4646. ———. His Last Bow, Vol. 2. Hampton, NH: BBC Audiobooks America ; BBC Worldwide, 2004. Sound Recording 4 sound discs (2 hr., 55 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. BBC radio collection. "A BBC Radio 4 full-cast dramatization"--Container cover insert. Compact disc. Performed by Clive Merrison (Holmes), Michael Williams (Dr. Watson), and a full cast. //
4647. ———. The Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes. Hampton, NH: BBC Audiobooks America, 2000. Sound Recording 12 sound discs (8 hr., 45 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. BBC radio collection. Compact discs. Issued in three containers. "A BBC Radio 4 full-cast dramatization"--Container cover insert. Participants: Clive Merrison as Sherlock Holmes ; Michael Williams as Dr. Watson. //
4648. ———. The Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes, Vol. 1. Hampton, NH: BBC Audiobooks America, 2000. Sound Recording 3 sound discs (2 hr., 55 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. BBC radio collection. Compact discs. "Four BBC Radio 4 full-cast dramatisations." Participants: Clive Merrison as Sherlock Holmes ; Michael Williams as Dr. Watson. //
4649. ———. The Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes, Vol. 2. Hampton, NH: BBC Audiobooks America, 2000. Sound Recording 4 sound discs (2 hrs., 55 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. BBC radio collection. Compact discs. "A BBC Radio 4 full-cast dramatisation." Participants: Clive Merrison as Sherlock Holmes ; Michael Williams as Dr. Watson. //
4650. ———. The Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes, Vol. 3. Hampton, NH: BBC Audiobooks America ; BBC Worldwide, 2004. Sound Recording 4 sound discs (2 hr., 55 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. BBC radio collection. "A BBC Radio 4 full cast dramatization"--Container cover insert. Compact disc. Participants: Performed by Clive Merrison (Holmes), Michael Williams

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

(Watson), and a full cast. // Greek interpreter: Holmes' reclusive brother Mycroft makes one of his few appearances, introducing the curious case of Mr. Melas. Naval treaty: "Tadpole" Phelps is in despair after a vital government document is stolen. He calls on his old schoolmate Watson who with Holmes uncovers a dark world of espionage and murderous intent. Second stain: Holmes must find another missing document, but this time the theft might easily lead to a political crisis affecting all of Europe. Final problem: An epic intellectual struggle between Holmes and Moriarty ends high above the foaming chasm of Reichenback Falls, Switzerland.

4651. ———. The novels of Sherlock Holmes radio dramatization. Hampton, NH: BBC Audiobooks America, 2000. Sound Recording 8 sound discs (7 hr., 20 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- BBC Radio 4. digital ; 4 3/4 in. BBC radio collection. Compact discs. Title from container. "A BBC Radio 4 full cast dramatization"--Container cover insert. Issued in two containers. Clive Merrison as Holmes, Michael Williams as Dr. Watson, and a full cast. //
4652. ———. The novels of Sherlock Holmes. Vol. 1. Hampton, NH: BBC Audiobooks America, 2000. Sound Recording 4 sound discs (3 hr., 40 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. BBC radio collection. Compact discs. Title from container. "A BBC Radio 4 full cast dramatization"--Container cover insert. Clive Merrison as Holmes, Michael Williams as Dr. Watson, and a full cast. //
4653. ———. The novels of Sherlock Holmes. Vol. 2. Hampton, NH: BBC Audiobooks America, 2000. Sound Recording 4 sound discs (3 hr., 40 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. BBC radio collection. Compact discs. Title from container. "A BBC Radio 4 full cast dramatization"--Container cover insert. Clive Merrison as Holmes, Michael Williams as Dr. Watson, and a full cast. //
4654. ———. The return of Sherlock Holmes. Vol. 1. Hampton, NH: BBC Audiobooks America ; BBC Worldwide, 2004. Sound Recording 4 sound discs (2 hr., 55 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- BBC Radio 4. digital ; 4 3/4 in. BBC radio collection. "A BBC radio 4 full cast dramatization"--Container cover insert. Compact disc. Clive Merrison (Holmes), Michael Williams (Dr. Watson), and a full cast. //
4655. ———. The return of Sherlock Holmes. Vol. 2. Hampton, NH: BBC Audiobooks America ; BBC Worldwide, 2004. Sound Recording 4 sound discs (2 hr., 55 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- BBC Radio 4. digital ; 4 3/4 in. BBC radio collection. "A BBC radio 4 full cast dramatization"--Container cover insert. Compact disc. Performed by Clive Merrison (Holmes), Michael Williams (Dr. Watson), and a full cast. //
4656. ———. The return of Sherlock Holmes. Vol. 3. Hampton, NH: BBC Audiobooks America ; BBC Worldwide, 2004. Sound Recording 4 sound discs (2 hr., 55 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- BBC Radio 4. digital ; 4 3/4 in. BBC radio collection. "A BBC radio 4 full cast dramatization"--Container cover insert. Compact disc. Performed by Clive Merrison (Holmes), Michael Williams (Dr. Watson), and a full cast. //
4657. ———. Sherlock Holmes The hound of the Baskervilles. Bath: BBC Worldwide, 2001. Sound Recording 2 sound discs (110 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- BBC Radio 4. BBC Worldwide Ltd. digital ; 4 3/4 in. Compact discs. A BBC Radio 4 full-cast dramatisation. Cast: Clive Merrison and Michael Williams. //
4658. ———. Sherlock Holmes, his last bow radio dramatization. Hampton, NH: BBC Audiobooks America, 2000. Sound Recording 8 sound discs (5 hr., 50 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- BBC Radio 4. digital ; 4 3/4 in. BBC Radio collection. "A BBC Radio 4 full-cast dramatization"--Container cover insert. Issued in two containers. Compact discs. Participants: Clive Merrison as Holmes, Michael Williams as Dr. Watson, and a full cast. //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography

Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4659. ———. Sherlock Holmes, his last bow. Volume 1 & 2. Hampton, NH: BBC Audiobooks America, 2000. Sound Recording 5 sound discs (5 hr., 50 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- BBC Radio 4. digital ; 4 3/4 in. BBC Radio collection. A BBC Radio 4 full-cast dramatization.--Container. Participants: Clive Merrison as Holmes, Michael Williams as Dr. Watson, and a full cast. //
4660. ———. A Study in scarlet. Hampton, NH: BDD Audiobooks America ; London : BBC Worldwide Ltd., 2000. Sound Recording 2 sound discs (1 hr., 50 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Compact discs (DDD). BBC Audiobooks America: BBCD 031. Indexed inaudibly at approximately three minute intervals and at strategic junctions to facilitate the location of segments by listeners. Full-cast dramatization with Clive Merrison as Sherlock Holmes and Michael Williams as Dr. Watson. Issued also on cassette. //
4661. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Clive Merrison, Michael Williams, Alexander Balanescu, Bert Coules, Ian Cotterell, and David Johnston. A study in scarlet. New York: BDD Audio, 1998. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes (120 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- BDD Audio (Firm). BBC Radio. analog, Dolby processed + Includes: 1 credit list (11 cm.) At head of title: BBC Radio presents. Participants: Sherlock Holmes, Clive Merrison ; Dr. John Watson, Michael Williams ; Stamford, Paul Downing ; Stangerson, Matt Zimmerman ; Alice, Jane Slavin ; Drebber, Ed Bishop ; Mrs. Hudson, Anna Cropper ; Mme. Charpentier, Marcia King ; Inspector Gregson, John Moffatt ; Inspector Lestrade, Donald Gee. P.C. Rance, Michael Kilgariff ; Wiggins, Alan Dean ; Jefferson Hope, Shane Rimmer ; John Ferrier, Christopher Good ; Brigham Young, Peter Carlisle ; Stangerson Snr., John Bull ; Lucy, Alice Arnold. Alexander Balanescu, violin. Dramatized by Bert Coules ; director, Ian Cotterell ; producer, David Johnston. //
4662. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Clive Merrison, Michael Williams, Brian Blessed, Bert Coules, and Ian Cotterell. The sign of the four : a Sherlock Holmes mystery : radio play ; level: advanced. München: Hörverl., 2007. Sound Recording 2 CDs (120 Min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Stereo ; 12 cm. BBC audio. Produktionsjahr: 1989. Performed by Clive Merrison ; Michael Williams ; Brian Blessed and many others. Dramatised by Bert Coules. Directed by Ian Cotterell. //
4663. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Clive Merrison, Michael Williams, and Bert Coules. The Complete Conan Doyle Sherlock Holmes. London: BBC Worldwide, 1998. Sound Recording 36 sound cassettes (48 hr., 10 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- BBC Radio 4. ; BBC Worldwide Ltd. analog, stereo., Dolby processed. Radio collection BBC. Variation: BBC radio collection. Includes small guide book to the radio series by Bert Coules. Participants: Sherlock Holmes, Clive Merrison ; Dr. Watson, Michael Williams. //
4664. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Clive Merrison, Michael Williams, Bert Coules, Ian Cotterell, David Johnston, and Alexander Balanescu. The sign of the four. [England?]: BBC Worldwide, 1998. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes (110 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- BBC Radio 4. BBC Worldwide Ltd. analog, stereo., Dolby processed. Radio collection. "As heard on Radio 4"--Container. Participants: Sherlock Holmes, Clive Merrison ; Dr. Watson, Michael Williams ; Jonathan Small, Brian Blessed ; Mary Morstan, Moir Leslie ; Abdullah Khan, Amerjit deu ; Mrs. Hudson, Anna Cropper ; Thaddeus Sholto, Richard Tate ; Major Sholto, Michael Kilgariff ; Bartholomew Sholto/Mahomet Singh, John Bull ; Inspector Jones, Siôn Probert ; Sherman, John Moffatt ; Wiggins, Alan Dean ; Mrs. Forrester, Elizabeth Mansfield ; Jacobson, Vincent Brimble. Alexander Balanescu, violin. Dramatized by Bert Coules ; director, Ian Cotterell ; producer, David Johnston. //
4665. ———. The sign of the four. [England?]: BBC Worldwide, 2002. Sound Recording 2 sound discs (110 min.).
NOTE // ABSTRACT --- BBC Radio 4. BBC Worldwide Ltd. digital , stereo. ; 4 3/4 in. Radio collection BBC. Compact disc. Previously published in 1998. "As heard on Radio 4"--Container. Participants: Sherlock Holmes, Clive Merrison ; Dr. Watson, Michael Williams ; Jonathan Small, Brian Blessed ; Mary Morstan, Moir Leslie ; Abdullah Khan, Amerjit deu ; Mrs. Hudson, Anna Cropper ; Thaddeus Sholto, Richard Tate ; Major Sholto, Michael Kilgariff ; Bartholomew Sholto/Mahomet Singh, John Bull ; Inspector Jones, Siôn

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

- Probert ; Sherman, John Moffatt ; Wiggins, Alan Dean ; Mrs. Forrester, Elizabeth Mansfield ; Jacobson, Vincent Brimble. Dramatized by Bert Coules ; director, Ian Cotterell ; producer, David Johnston. //
4666. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Clive Merrison, Michael Williams, Bert Coules, Enyd Williams, Michael Haslam, and Ian Humphries. The Hound of the Baskervilles. [London?]: BBC Worldwide, 1998. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes (110 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog, stereo., Dolby processed. BBC radio collection. "As heard on Radio 4"--Container. Participants: Sherlock Holmes, Clive Merrison ; Dr. Watson, Michael Williams ; Mrs. Hudson, Judi Dench ; Sir Charles Baskerville, Donald Sinden ; Sir Henry Baskerville, Mark Leake ; Stapleton, Ian Masters ; Dr. Mortimer, Roger May ; Barrymore, Don McCorkindale./ Michael Haslam, piano ; Ian Humphries, violin. Dramatized by Bert Coules ; director, Enyd Williams. //
4667. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Clive Merrison, Michael Williams, Bert Coules, Enyd Williams, Michael Haslam, and Abigail Young. The valley of fear. New York: BDD Audio, 1998. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes (180 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- BDD Audio (Firm). BBC Radio. analog, Dolby processed + Includes: 1 credits list (11 cm.). At head of title: BBC Radio presents. "An audio dramatization"--Container. Participants: Sherlock Holmes, Clive Merrison ; Dr. Watson, Michael Williams ; John McMurdo, Iain Glen ; The narrator, Ronald Pickup ; Inspector MacDonald, Mark Bonnar ; White Mason, Timothy Bateson./ Michael Haslam, piano ; Abigail Young, violin. Dramatized by Bert Coules ; director, Enyd Williams. //
4668. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Clive Merrison, Michael Williams, Roger Danes, Bert Coules, Peter Ling, Enyd Williams, Patrick Rayner, and Leonard Friedman. His Last Bow, Vol. 1. London: BBC Worldwide, 1995. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes (175 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog. BBC radio collection. "As heard on Radio 4"--Container. Sherlock Holmes, Clive Merrison ; Dr. Watson, Michael Williams. Leonard Friedman, violin. Dramatized by Bert Coules, Roger Danes, Peter Ling ; directors, Patrick Rayner, Enyd Williams. //
4669. ———. Sherlock Holmes, his last bow. volume 1 & 2. Hampton, NH: BBC Audiobooks America, 2000. Sound Recording 4 sound cassettes (5 hr., 50 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- BBC Radio 4. analog. BBC radio collection. "As heard on Radio 4"--Container. Participants: Sherlock Holmes, Clive Merrison, Dr. Watson, Michael Williams and a full cast./ Leonard Friedman, violin. Dramatized by Bert Coules, Roger Danes, Peter Ling ; directors, Patrick Rayner, Enyd Williams. //
4670. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Clive Merrison, Michael Williams, Judi Dench, Bert Coules, and Enyd Williams. The Hound of the Baskervilles : radio play. Munich: Hörverl, 2006. Sound Recording 2 CDs (110 Min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- stereo ; 12 cm + Includes: Faltbl. ([3] p.) BBC audio. Production: BBC 1998. Performed by Clive Merrison ; Michael Williams ; Judi Dench and many others. Dramatised by Bert Coules. Dir. by Enyd Williams. //
4671. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Clive Merrison, Michael Williams, Robert Forrest, Bert Coules, Peter Ling, Enyd Williams, Patrick Rayner, and Leonard Friedman. His Last Bow, Vol. 2. London: BBC Worldwide, 1995. Sound Recording 2 sound cassettes (175 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog. BBC radio collection. "As heard on Radio 4"--Container. Sherlock Holmes, Clive Merrison ; Dr. Watson, Michael Williams. Leonard Friedman, violin. Dramatized by Robert Forrest, Bert Coules, Peter Ling ; directors, Patrick Rayner, Enyd Williams. //
4672. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Jeffrey Meyers, and Valerie Meyers. "The Sir Arthur Conan Doyle reader : from Sherlock Holmes to spiritualism." New York: Cooper Square Press, 2002.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 24 cm. A study in scarlet, part -- A scandal in Bohemia -- The los amigos fiasco -- The case of Lady Sannox -- How the brigadier came to the castle of gloom -- How the brigadier slew the brothers of Ajaccio -- From the Stark Munro letters -- The king of the foxes -- The Brazilian cat -- The brown hand -- The adventure of the empty house -- The adventure of the dancing men -- From the crime of the Congo

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

-- From the lost world -- The poison belt -- Danger! -- From a visit to three fronts -- From the wanderings of a spiritualist. Includes bibliographical references (p. 499-500). // "Offers a wide-ranging sample of his writings, from an excerpt from A Study in Scarlet (1887) to an excerpt from The Wanderings of a Spiritualist (1921), including Sherlockian and non-Sherlockian short stories, and there's an excellent introduction setting the contents in context."

4673. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Zachary Mosoti, and Hassan O. Ali. Mbwa wa familia ya Baskerville. Shelburne, Ontario, Sauk City, Wisconsin: Battered Silicon Dispatch Box, 1999.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Introduction in English.

4674. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Brian Murray. Listen & Read Sherlock Holmes stories. Mineola, NY: Dover Publications, 1997. Sound Recording 1 sound cassette (90 min.).
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- analog, Dolby processed + Includes: 1 book (107 p. ; 21 cm.) "Dover audio thrift classics"--Container. Includes book: Six great Sherlock Holmes stories Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. New York : Dover Publications, 1992. (Dover thrift editions). Read by Brian Murray. //

4675. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Sharma Navin. The hound of the Baskervilles, (Illustrated classics). Singapore: Allscript Establishment, 2004.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- ill. ; 14 cm. abridged by Navin Sharma. //

4676. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Ken Nobuhara, Ichiro Nagai, Shinji Ogawa, Banjo Ginga, and Keiko Toda. Bohemia no shubun meisaku misteri Sharokku Homuzu. Tokyo: Shinchosha, 1998. Sound Recording 1 sound disc.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Shincho CD; Meisaku misteri Sharokku Homuzu. Program notes (13 p. : map) inserted in container. Participants: Nagai Ichiro, Ogawa Shinji, Ginga Banjo, Toda Keiko. [Konan Doiru] Nobuhara Ken, yaku. //

4677. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Ken Nobuhara, Ichiro Nagai, Shinji Ogawa, Taro Ishida, and Kaneto Shiozawa. Akage kumiai meisaku misteri Sharokku Homuzu. Tokyo: Shinchosha, 1998. Sound Recording (CD) 1 sound disc.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Shincho CD; Meisaku misteri Sharokku Homuzu. Compact disc. Program notes (13 p. : map) inserted in container. Participants: Nagai Ichiro, Ogawa Shinji, Ishida Taro, Shiozawa Kaneto. //

4678. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Ken Nobuhara, Ichiro Nagai, Shinji Ogawa, Eiko Masuyama, and Nachi Nozawa. Kuchibiru no nejireta otoko meisaku misteri Sharokku Homuzu. Tokyo: Shinchosha, 1998. Sound Recording 1 sound disc.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Shincho CD; Meisaku misteri Sharokku Homuzu. Compact disc. Program notes (12 p. : map) inserted in container. Participants: Nagai Ichiro, Ogawa Shinji, Masuyama Eiko, Nozawa Nachi. Nobuhara Ken, yaku. //

4679. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Ken Nobuhara, Ichiro Nagai, Shinji Ogawa, Eiko Masuyama, Yoshito Yasuhara, Miyoko Aso, and Seizo Kato. Yottsu no shomei meisaku misteri Sharokku Homuzu. Tokyo: Shinchosha, 1998. Sound Recording 2 sound discs.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- digital ; 4 3/4 in. Shincho CD; Meisaku misteri Sharokku Homuzu. Compact discs. Program notes (13 p. : map) inserted in container. Participants: Nagai Ichiro, Ogawa Shinji, Masuyama Eiko, Yasuhara Yoshito, Aso Miyoko, Kato Seizo. [Konan Doiru] Nobuhara Ken, yaku. Uniform Title: Sign of four. Japanese. // 4680. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Paul T. Nolan. "Sherlock Holmes' Christmas goose." Plays 54, no. 3 (1994): 56.

 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- // Presents the play 'Sherlock Holmes' Christmas Goose,' by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, adapted by Paul T. Nolan.

4681. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Nils Nordberg. Hunden fra Baskerville. 1. oppl ed, (Rivertonbiblioteket). Oslo: De Norske Bokklubbene, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- //

A Holmes & Doyle Bibliography
Vol. 9, All Formats, Combined Alphabetical Listing

4682. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Francis O'Gorman. The hound of the Baskervilles another adventure of Sherlock Holmes ; with, The adventure of the speckled band, (Broadview editions). Peterborough, Ont, Orchard Park, N.Y: Broadview Press, 2006.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- LC Control Number: 2006372699. Includes bibliographical references and filmography (p. 297-300) //
4683. Doyle, Arthur Conan, Mark Oldroyd, and Ute Galter. Der Hund von Baskerville. Translated by Stefanie Schäfer, (Visuelle Bibliothek). Hildesheim: Gerstenberg, 2001.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- zahlr. ill. ; 27 cm. Ill.: Mark Oldroyd. [Aus dem Engl. von Stefanie Schäfer. Redaktionelle Bearb. der dt.-sprachigen Ausg. von Ute Galter]. //
4684. Doyle, Arthur Conan, and Enrique Ortenbach. Tres aventuras de Sherlock Holmes, (Grandes autores bolsillo). Barcelona: Editorial Lumen, 1994.
 NOTE // ABSTRACT --- Contents: Estrella de plata -- El carbunclo azul -- La liga de los pelirrojos //
