1992-93 SCHOOL YEAR NOTED AS A YEAR OF FIRSTS, BEGINNINGS

Gardner-Webb closed out the 1991-92 school year with a celebration of the past. May Commencement 1992 noted the 50th anniversary of the naming of Gardner-Webb. Former Governor O. Max Gardner and his wife, Fay Webb Gardner, were remembered for their contribution to the institution. Retired professor Lansford Jolley was named historian and commissioned to write the history of Gardner-Webb, beginning where "Lengthened Shadows" left off and continuing through the present.

It was a time for looking back — discovering where we had been and renewing our appreciation of what we had become.

Standing on that foundation, Gardner-Webb launched a new era ... one that would see the school open a new chapter of her history in becoming Gardner-Webb University.

Jan. 1, 1993 was the day the school made its transition, with formal convocation ceremonies beginning a semester-long celebration. That recognition culminated with spring commencement exercises graduating the first class of Gardner-Webb University.

The 1992-93 year has been a year of firsts, a year of beginnings.

* Trustees, with the blessings of the North Carolina Baptist State Convention, approved the initiation of the Gardner-Webb School of Divinity. Devoted to the education of those men and women who plan service in the ministry, the School of Divinity has been met with tremendous interest.

* The School of Divinity is housed in Noel Hall, dedicated this year and declared "the postcard site" of campus. Made possible by the generosity of Mrs. Marguerite Noel and her family, Noel Hall also contains the departments of religion, philosophy and business.

* On the graduate level, Gardner-Webb introduced the School of Business and added the Masters of Business Administration to the curriculum. Classes began this semester with impressive enrollment figures.

* Overall campus enrollment numbers reached an historic high for spring semester and numbers have climbed for fall as well.

* The University is studying plans to establish a Bachelor of Science in Nursing program (BSN) on the Boiling Springs campus. The advanced-level degree has only been offered on the Statesville campus in the past.

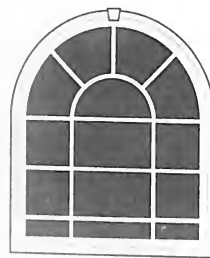

* A new dimension in international relations, coupled with the existing transfer program with Dohto University of Japan, is Gardner-Webb's participation in the Study Abroad Program. The program, introduced this summer, will allow Gardner-Webb students and interested community persons to study for a semester in one of a number of foreign countries.

* In the sports arena, the Gardner-Webb R u n n i n ' B u l l d o g s advanced to the NAIA national playoffs. The Bulldogs battled to the end only to lose the championship in the last 30 seconds of the final game.

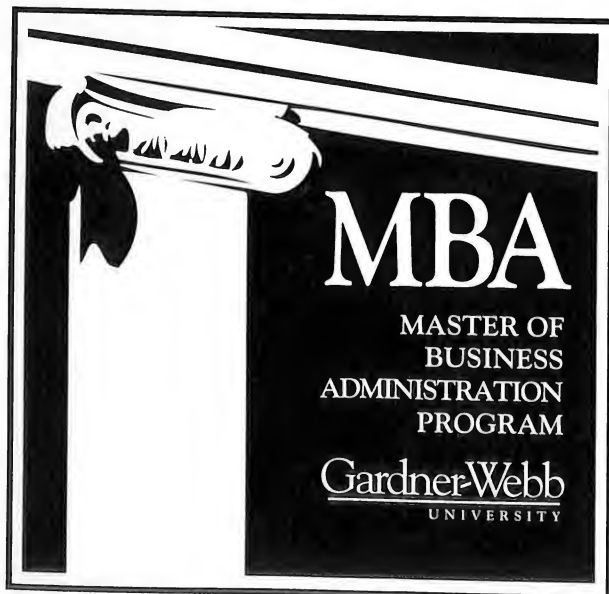

* In the way of physical changes, the Gardner-Webb campus has taken on a new appearance this year with the addition of Lake Hollifield. Clearing for the lake is complete, the dam is in place and the filling is underway. Made possible by Wyndolyn and Hughy Hollifield, Lake Hollifield promises to be a focal point of campus activities.

The 1992-93 year, a year of firsts, has been marked with physical and programmatic changes. All are historic. All find the institution prepared for another exciting year on the horizon.

SCHOOL OF DIVINITY

LOCAL GRADUATES FIRST RECIPIENTS OF FREEMAN EDUCATION FUND

Two local graduates have been named as the first recipients of the Joseph B. Freeman Jr. Education Fund.

Shelby High graduate Dana Lynn Hogan and Burns High graduate Teresa Kaye Cook have been named to receive the award.

Miss Hogan is the daughter of Dennis and Denise Hogan of Shelby. She plans to attend North Carolina State University to major in engineering. Miss Cook is the daughter of Bobby and Wanda Cook of Lawndale. She plans to attend Gardner-Webb University in the area of nursing.

The selections were made on the basis of financial need, personal motivation and initiative, academic standing, personal influences and extracurricular and leadership activities.

Miss Hogan has been active in drama, band and on the swim team at Shelby High School. She is a member of the Thespian Society, National Honor Society and Beta Club. Community activities include Girl Scouts of America and the Humane Society.

A member of Hoyle Memorial United Methodist Church, she has served on the Pastor/Parrish Relations Committee and as a participant in Carolina Cross Connection.

Miss Cook has been active in Health Occupations Students of America and Youth Environmental Awareness. Community activities include volunteering at the Life Enrichment Center and Linville Manor. She has been active in church youth rallies and has served as captain of her Bible Quiz team.

Each of the young women has faced extenuating circumstances and family hardships that would otherwise make financing higher education an impossibility.

The Joseph B. Freeman Education Fund, which now has an endowment of $93,000, is designed to provide freshman year scholarships for promising Cleveland County high school graduates who do not have the financial resources to attend college. The financial award is intended for those few extraordinary individuals whose academic ability and motivation are good, but whose personal circumstances prohibit college.

The fund will be used to provide tuition, housing and meals for the recipients. This year's recipients were each presented with a $3000 award.

Ed Hamilton, president of First National Bank of Cleveland County, is one of the businessmen who has been involved in the effort in honor of the late Joe B. Freeman Jr., a long-time Shelby businessman. Freeman was the head of the Interstate Johnson Lane office in Shelby.

"This fund is for the ones who can't get help from the government, through the college they want to attend or other sources," said Hamilton. "It is for those who are about to fall through the cracks," he added.

The education fund is part of the permanent endowment of Gardner-Webb University. Although students may attend other institutions, at least half of the recipients will attend Gardner-Webb. For those who do attend Gardner-Webb as full-time students in the undergraduate program, the University will match, dollar for dollar, the amount awarded by the Joseph B. Freeman Jr. Educational Fund.

"We at Interstate feel that the scholarship fund represents a unique opportunity to honor a very fine former employee — recognizing the achievements made during his life, both personal and professional," said Todd Newton, assistant vice president at Interstate Johnson Lane in Shelby.

Newton also noted that the fund provides a fine opportunity to help support local students in their efforts to achieve college educations, especially for those who may find themselves in financial positions that would otherwise prohibit college.

The amount of each scholarship and the number of recipients will vary each year, depending upon income generated by the fund and the number of students with these special needs. The corpus of the fund is not to be spent.

"This will help them get that first year under their belts," noted Hamilton, "We want to help the folks who are helping themselves."

He added, "Hopefully, after the first year in school, if the recipients work hard and make the grades, they will be able to work out a financial arrangement with the college or obtain a job to pay for future years in school."

HONALEE FOUNDATION DONATES ARKENSTONE SCANNER TO NOEL PROGRAM

Sharon Jennings, director of the Noel Program for the Handicapped at Gardner-Webb University, sat at her desk eyeing the figures. It was hard to believe that the pages translated into Braille last year had topped 20,000.

Mrs. Jennings is quick to note that over 6,700 pages were done in-house, by she and the other members of the Noel Program staff. The remaining pages were done by an outside service.

This aptly met the needs of last year's six Braille readers, including two deaf and blind students. As the 1993-94 school year unfolds, Mrs. Jennings is relaxing a bit, thanks to the generosity of local businessman L.B. Izzi and the philanthropic Honalee Foundation.

Late this spring, the Honalee Foundation made possible the reality of an Arkenstone Scanner for the program. The scanner allows regular print to be scanned into the computer translated into Braille and saved on a disk. This saves the staff countless hours of typing the copy by hand. In addition, the scanner holds the translated copy in its memory, allowing it to be used over and over.

"L.B. Izzi and the Honalee Foundation have been quite generous to our program," said Mrs. Jennings. "We appreciate their awareness of the great needs that arise in working with the handicapped and their kindness in helping meet these needs."

NATIONAL AUTHORITY ON DATE, MARITAL RAPE TO SPEAK AT GARDNER-WEBB

Gardner-Webb University will sponsor a program by Laura X, noted authority on date and marital rape, Tuesday, Nov. 9. The program, "When a Woman Says NO, It's Rape: The social, legal, political, religious, psychological, historical and economic meaning of Date/Marital Rape," will be held in the Dover Theatre.

Laura X is the director of the National Clearinghouse on Marital and Date Rape in Berkeley, Calif. She founded and directed the Women's History Research Center throughout its 21 years. The Clearinghouse began in 1978 as a project of the Research Center.

The speaker notes that the X is symbolic of the anonymity of women's history and the legal ownership of women. That legal doctrine permits Marital "and thus Date Rape."

A graduate of the University of California, Laura X has spoken extensively in North America for the past 18 years. She has been cited many times for her work, including a Woman of Achievement Award from Mademoiselle magazine, a World Congress of Victimology Award for Innovative Programs and Services and commendations by the American Library Association and Surgeon General Koop.

Laura X directed the successful 1979 California campaign to make marital rape a crime and served as consultant to 45 other state campaigns on the subject. She has appeared as a guest on Phil Donahue, Sally Jesse Raphael, Gary Collins' Hour Magazine and Geraldo Rivera shows.

The presentation includes a 23-minute video clip of interviews with survivors of marital rape as well as a dynamic debate on marital rape between Laura X and an attorney. The clip has been featured on CBS's "60 Minutes" with Ed Bradley as moderator.

The program is free and the public is invited to attend.

GARDNER-WEBB TO PARTICIPATE IN STUDY ABROAD PROGRAM

Study abroad has now become a reality for Gardner-Webb University students.

Gardner-Webb has announced plans to participate in the College Consortium of International Studies Study Abroad Program.

According to Carolyn McKinney, assistant director of admissions for international studies at Gardner-Webb, eligible students will be able to spend a summer, a semester or an academic year studying in one of 19 countries. Participating countries include Canada, China, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cyprus, Ecuador, England, France, Germany, Greece, Ireland, Israel, Italy, Jamaica, Japan, Mexico, Portugal, Spain and Switzerland.

The summer and semester-long programs do not have prerequisites and are open to current university students as well as adults in the community, whether or not they have previous college experience.

The programs are taught in English, many with an intensive language component. Students are placed in the appropriate level language course by the host institutions. For those who are fluent in the language of the institution of choice, mainstream courses are available, offering the best way to experience the culture of a foreign country.

All Federal, State and institutional financial aid programs will be made available to students enrolled at Gardner-Webb University. In addition, credits earned in the program are fully transferable to Gardner-Webb.

For additional information about the Study Abroad Program, contact the Carolyn McKinney, Gardner-Webb University Study Abroad Program, at 1-800-253-6472, ext. 457 or write P.O. Box 817, Boiling Springs, N.C. 28017.

Gardner-Webb University has responded to the needs of South Carolina students with a State Grant Matching Program. The program is in response to recent changes in the South Carolina State Grant Program that have significantly reduced annual award to the State's students.

Currently, South Carolina's State Grant Program allows needy students maximum grants of up to 42 percent of tuition and fees to attend independent colleges within the state. The resulting awards are often further reduced by the number of students attending in-state schools.

Although the South Carolina grant will vary by college, the projected average award for eligible needy students for 1993-94 will be approximately $2500.

"Gardner-Webb University is committed to making a quality education affordable," said Ed Clark, associate vice president for enrollment. "We are also committed to diversity."

Gardner-Webb is guaranteeing these same needy students the dollars to meet their needs, matching at least $2500 in grant assistance, according to their need. Students with needs of less than $2500 will have their need met by the grant.

These awards, open to all full-time undergraduate students who meet the criteria, will be renewable for four years as long as the student remains in good academic and social standing at the University.

For information, contact Beth Lindemann, P.O. Box 817, Boiling Springs, N.C. 28017 or call (800) 253-6472.

LECTURESHIP TO HONOR REV. AND MRS. C.O. GREENE

Recently a group of about 15 individuals gathered at Double Shoals Baptist Church. They had one thing in common — their love and deep regard for the Rev. C.O. Greene and an aim to portray this in some tangible way.

The gathering included several members of Rev. Greene's former Cleveland County churches — Double Shoals Baptist, Lawndale Baptist, New Bethel Baptist and Norman's Grove Baptist — friends, and Gardner-Webb officials. What they developed was the Rev. and Mrs. C.O. Greene School of Divinity Lectureship at Gardner-Webb.

The lectureship was established with a base of $50,000, with intentions of gathering contributions to meet the goal. An initial gift has launched the endowment, which will be added to by others interested in assisting with the honor. The lectureship will enable the School of Divinity to bring in noted guest lecturers to enhance the educational opportunities for its students.

Rev. Greene has made a number of contributions to the area churches he has served over the years, both as a pastor and as a preacher. The lectureship is a fitting tribute to this contribution.

"Preacher Greene has a preaching style that has a lot of original thought," says Carl Spangler, a member of Double Shoals Baptist Church.

Another former church member writes in a poem to Rev. Greene, "Your sermons are sermons that touched life."

Rev. Greene merely says that he has always tried to preach in such a way that he could meet the needs of people. "I try to bring a message that you can carry home with you."

The Cleveland County native began his pastoral career after graduating summa cum laude from Wake Forest University in 1938. He served churches in Pineville and Cary before returning to his home county. In 1948 Rev. Greene returned to Upper Cleveland County to serve New Bethel, Lawndale and Double Shoals Baptist churches.

During the eight and one-half years he was with the three churches, each was recognized throughout the state for having met the advanced standard for Sunday School work and each completed a building program.

Rev. Greene is also noted for having started a Brotherhood at all three churches. At Double Shoals, the church's giving to missions through this effort increased 1000 percent. Today, half the dollars are used for foreign missions and half for scholarships through the Christian Service Organization at Gardner-Webb University.

In 1957 he earned the honor of being named Rural Minister of the Year for North Carolina by Progressive Farmer and Emory University.

Upon his retirement in 1959, Rev. Greene was named Director of Missions for the Kings Mountain Baptist Association. He served in this capacity until 1972. Since, he has served a number of interim pastorates in Cleveland County.

Rev. Greene is also quite accomplished at his avocation of woodworking, having built 110 grandfather clocks, 30 grandmother clocks and more than 200 mantle, shelf and wall clocks as well as most of the furniture for his Double Shoals home.

Although Rev. Greene was declared legally blind earlier this year, the 84-year old doesn't plan to slow down. "I'll be involved in a number of things for the blind," he says.

The minister has touched many lives with his thousands of sermons. These days, he says he reflects on two favorites, "Acceptance", which he has preached 56 times, and "Before the Winter". The latter stresses that a lot of things, if not done before winter, won't get done. Rev. Greene parallels this message to his life and notes the things that he wants to continue doing, such as a recent sermon at Double Shoals Baptist.

The lectureship at Gardner-Webb will be another way that the Lord's message will be spread through the Rev. C.O. Greene.

"After the life of service that I've had, to have it recognized in that way (with the lectureship), to help others serve the Lord, is wonderful," Rev. Greene says. "The best way to serve the Lord is to serve others, this will help these students meet the needs of people."

Anyone interested in contributing to the Rev. and Mrs. C.O. Greene Lectureship should contact Carl Spangler at 538-0062 or the Rev. Bruce Rabon at Gardner-Webb University at 434-5246.

WALKER NAMED NURSE SCHOLAR

Veronica Walker of Boiling Springs has been selected as a nurse scholar for 1993-94 by the North Carolina State Education Authority.

Selection for the honor is based on academic performance, leadership, extracurricular activities and the promise of service as a nurse in North Carolina.

Mrs. Walker plans to enter the Gardner-Webb University Associate Degree in Nursing program this fall. She and her husband, Michael, have two children.

STUDENT EARNS SUPPORT OF CAMPUS LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS

Tracey L. Hackett of Advance, a junior psychology major at Gardner-Webb University, has been awarded a $500 scholarship by the International Association of Campus Law Enforcement Administrators.

Scholarship selection is limited to those students who are employed by campus law enforcement agencies. A student must have a 3.0, or higher, grade point average and demonstrate merit and need deserving the association's support.

Miss Hackett has been employed in the Gardner-Webb University Police Department as a student telecommunications officer for more than two years. David Helton, who heads University Police, said, "Tracey has proven to be a much valued employee. She has demonstrated the ability and desire to take the initiative and more than satisfactorily complete any assignment."

In addition to her work, Miss Hackett is a member of the Gardner-Webb Concert Choir, Baptist Student Union, Fellowship of Christian Athletes and Fellowship of Christians United in Service. She holds awards from the National Beta Club, Who's Who and is a participant in the Gardner-Webb Honors Program.

Dr. Chris White is shown presenting a Gardner-Webb University mug to Mr. Joe Wright of Shelby. President and Mrs. White were hosts in their home for a 90th birthday party honoring Wright. Mr. Wright, a long-time friend of the University, has recently made a gift to the institution.

SUMMER COMMENCEMENT HIGHLIGHTED BY KATHRYN HAMRICK'S KEYNOTE ADDRESS

Quoting Progressive Farmer, Calvin Coolidge, the Baptist Hymnal and the Holy Bible, Kathryn Hamrick flung wit and wisdom at will.

In the audience sat cap-and-gown-adorned students from Gardner-Webb University at summer commencement exercises on July 31st. Hamrick, the occasion's keynote speaker, serves as president for the general board of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina.

A total of 187 graduates had degrees conferred at the ceremony, held at the Lutz-Yelton Convocation Center on campus.

A Boiling Springs resident, Hamrick relayed her message to graduates of mastering the two "V" words — vision and venture.

Examples of Christian fortitude filled her speech to those about to experience life after college.

Recalling one of her favorite verses from the New Testament, she told graduates that Jesus once said, "I am the vine, you are the branches. If a man remains in me and I in him, he will bear much fruit; apart from me you can do nothing."

At a crossroads in their lives, graduates can choose the "Personal I Plan," with emphasis on self and selected family members. Or — she calls this the more excellent way to live — destiny can be placed in the hands of a higher power.

"Marked by love, it is the authentic response to the call of God. Daily. It is the way of discipleship. Listen to your calling, make that your vision, and venture toward it in the courage that comes from faith."

One hundred sixty-three graduates received bachelor of sciences degrees, 12 earned bachelor of arts degrees, 10 received master of arts degrees and two earned associate of arts degrees.

FOOTBALL PREVIEW

Gardner-Webb is ranked 19th in the NCAA Football Preview's Division Two Pre-Season Poll, which hit the newsstands in July. This is the Bulldogs' first season of competition in NCAA Division Two.

Five returnees received honorable mention pre-season All-America recognition in the magazine. They include Gabe Wilkins, a 6-6 325 lb. defensive lineman; Raymond Jennings, a 6-3 265 lb. linebacker; and James Harbison, a defensive back with 12 interceptions a year ago. All are returning seniors and defensive standouts.

Also making the list were junior quarterback John Craven, who completed 306 passes for 4,089 yards and 37 touchdowns as a sophomore, and senior placekicker Andre Kwasnik, who led the entire NAIA in kick scoring with 97 points in 1992.

All five were first team NAIA All-Americans last season as Gardner-Webb rolled to a 12-2 record.

QB John Craven, named NAIA "Player of the Year" by Don Hansen's Football Gazette, returns after throwing for over 4,000 yards as a sophomore.

Homecoming '93

From Continental to Down Home
There's Something for Everyone

This year's Homecoming celebration will take visitors on campus from the glitz and glamour of Broadway to the charm of an outdoor French cafe on Friday evening.

Then, there's Saturday. The down home, kick-up-your-heels fun of an outdoor barbecue starts the day's activities down by the stadium. Beach music by Ocean Boulevard will be the backdrop, with clowns, musicians and snappy cheerleaders entertaining as well.

There will be the traditional Homecoming Parade, a class reunion, department reunions, a soccer tournament and The Game — with Gardner-Webb going up against arch rival Lenoir-Rhyne College. Dinner Friday evening will be held at 6:30 in the Banquet Hall of the Charles I. Dover Campus Center. At 8:30 guests will be invited to stroll across campus to the patio of the O. Max Gardner Fine Arts Building for a European cafe setting with coffee and pastries.

Saturday's activities begin at 10 a.m. At 11:15 all activity will move to the stadium area, where the band will play and lunch will be served. The parade will begin at 1 p.m., leading to the game at 2 p.m. in Spangler Stadium.

For information, please contact Mickey Sharpe, Director of Alumni Relations, Gardner-Webb University, Boiling Springs, N.C. 28017.

Annual Report

Dear Friends:

On the following pages you will find information that reflects the 1992-93 year of giving at Gardner-Webb University.

We have listed for your review the University's Honor Roll of Donors, Endowed and Annual Scholarships, a list of those persons remembered or honored this year and highlights of the most recently endowed scholarships.

The information included represents gifts made to the University between July 1, 1992 and June 30, 1993.

Gardner-Webb University is truly grateful for the continued support and consideration of our alumni and friends. Your loyalty to this institution is appreciated. Each of the persons or establishments listed here has assisted in allowing us to maintain the quality for which we have become recognized. Each is very special.

We have made a diligent effort to be accurate in our presentation of names and information. If we have made any mistakes, please forgive us, yet inform us. We always need your help and understanding in such matters.

Gardner-Webb has been truly blessed with special people who are willing to invest in its future.

Respectfully,

Bests Honor, Remember Family Members in the Ministry

Herman and Margaret Best of Shelby have established the first Christian Service Organization Endowed Scholarship to be used for students entering the Gardner-Webb University School of Divinity.

The McInnis-Smith-Best Scholarship has been initiated by the couple in memory of Mrs. Best's father, the late Rev. Neill McInnis, and in honor of her brother-in-law, the Rev. Rockwell Smith, and the couple's son, the Rev. David Herman Best.

The Bests say they see this endowment as an opportunity for developing those young people who have chosen to commit their lives to full-time Christian service.

The couple say this effort is a way of providing for tomorrow. "Investing in character, in spiritual values and in persons who can spread the gospel will go on and on," says Best.

In addition, the Bests, who are active members of the Christian Service Organization, say they hope others will respond with gifts to the organization's ministerial scholarship fund. The Christian Service Organization, while continuing to provide scholarships for undergraduate students studying for full-time Christian ministries at Gardner-Webb, recently voted to provide scholarship aid to School of Divinity students as well.

Mrs. Best's father, the late Rev. McInnis, served in the ministry for over 25 years. A graduate of Davidson College and Columbia Theological Seminary in Decatur, Ga., he served in the Robeson County area.

Rev. Rockwell Smith is a graduate of Hamden Sidney College in Virginia and Columbia Theological Seminary. He now serves in Cedar Bluff, Va.

Rev. David Herman Best, the couple's son, is a 1975 cum laude graduate of Gardner-Webb University and holds the M.Div. from Southeastern Seminary. He serves as minister of education at First Baptist Church in Kernersville.

Endowed Scholarship Honors Dixon, Remembers His Wife

An endowed scholarship has been established at Gardner-Webb University in honor of Ralph W. "Scoot" Dixon Jr. and in memory of his wife, Robbie, by the members of the University Relations staff at the institution.

Robbie Dixon succumbed Nov. 20, 1992, after a six-year struggle with cancer.

Mrs. Dixon was the daughter of Robert and Blanch Warlick of Belwood. A graduate of Appalachian State University with a degree in education, she was a middle school teacher for 17 years, having taught in the Catawba County, Stanly County, Durham City and Granville County schools. Most recently, she had taught at Shelby Middle School.

Dixon is the Vice President for University Relations at Gardner-Webb. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Dixon Sr. of Fallston, he is a graduate of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

The scholarship is designed to provide financial assistance to academically worthy students attending Gardner-Webb. In recognizing the honor, Dixon noted that an endowed scholarship in the area of academics is a special tribute. With a background in education, Mrs. Dixon spent her career educating students and encouraging them to be at their academic best. Dixon, who is the chief development officer at the University, also noted that he has a special interest in attracting academically gifted students to Gardner-Webb.

 Organization

Gardner-Webb University Trustee
 John Hendrick and his wife, Osteen, have aided the Christian Service Organization with the John and Osteen Hendrick Endowed Scholarship.

The scholarship is designed for those students who have committed their lives to full-time Christian service.

The Hendricks, residents of Shelby, have been active members of the Christian Service Organization at Gardner-Webb for 17 years. They are also members at Pleasant Grove Baptist Church, where Hendrick serves as Sunday School director.

Hendrick is founder, owner and president of Hidden Acre Farms, Inc., a Cleveland County turkey production operation.

Jolley Honored by Colleagues

Members of the Department of Social Sciences at Gardner-Webb honored one of their own upon his retirement from the University.

The M. Lansford Jolley Endowed Academic Fellows Scholarship was initiated by the department to honor Jolley and "to recognize his commitment to Christian higher education and the values held by Gardner-Webb."

Jolley taught at Gardner-Webb for 33 years until his retirement in 1992.

The scholarship is directed toward full-time undergraduate students who have demonstrated superior academic performance in high school and/or college.

"They (recipients) should exemplify Mr. Jolley in their everyday life and be committed to the Christian way of life," stated Department Chair Tony Eastman upon establishing the honor.

Trustee Begins Academic Scholarship

Due to the generosity of Dr. Betty Emmett Knox, female students who are preparing for careers in education have additional scholarship dollars to assist with their training.

Dr. Knox of Raleigh, a long-time friend of the University and member of the Gardner-Webb Board of Trustees, established the Dr. Betty Emmett Knox Endowed Academic Scholarship Fund in 1992.

Dr. Knox is employed with STM Systems Corp. in Raleigh. She serves on the educational affairs committee of the Board of Trustees.

Herbert Fund Launched To Benefit Natural Sciences

Mrs. Winifred Herbert Lindsay of Rutherfordton has established the Dr. Fred Lee and Nancy Bristol Herbert Endowed Academic Program Fund at Gardner-Webb.

The endowed fund, dedicated to the memory of Mrs. Lindsay's parents, is designed to provide supplemental financial assistance to the Department of Natural Sciences and is to be used for the purchase of equipment and supplies.

Mrs. Lindsay, who has provided two past endowments in the areas of academics and athletics, says the most recent endowment speaks to her desire to help young people receive a quality education.

President and Mrs. White Begin 4th Scholarship

Dr. M. Christopher and Linda White of Shelby have established a Christian Service Organization Endowed Scholarship for the School of Divinity at Gardner-Webb University.

The endowment is the fourth made by the University President and his wife. They first initiated the Fleming-White Award for Excellence in Teaching, awarded annually to an outstanding faculty member. A Christian Service Organization Scholarship for undergraduate students and an athletic scholarship for the men's tennis program followed.

"The best way to lead is to show that you are committed to the project," said Chris White. "I am absolutely committed to endowment." He noted that he and Mrs. White try to focus much of their giving in the area of endowments.

In discussing the School of Divinity, for which the endowment is aimed, Dr. White said, "It could easily turn out to be one of the most significant program additions our school has ever had. The School of Divinity has caused more excitement than anything I have ever been a part of, particularly in Baptist circles."

With a background in the ministry, Dr. White has a strong belief in the education of ministers. "Linda and I are determined to do for the School of Divinity what we have done in the past for the undergraduate program."

Divinity School Endowment Follows Young's Plans

The H. Fields and Ruth B. Young Jr. School of Divinity Endowed Scholarship Fund has been established at Gardner-Webb University in memory of Young and in honor of Mrs. Young.

In announcing the scholarship Mrs. Young noted that her husband was very interested in helping young people attain their goals in attending divinity school. Of three young men he assisted in the past, two have become Baptist ministers and one an evangelist.

"We always talked about Gardner-Webb being so close and being such a wonderful college," she recalls, noting that both she and Mr. Young had been interested in seeing a divinity school established at the University.

The Shelby couple have been active friends and supporters of Gardner-Webb since discovering the institution about 40 years ago. Young, who passed away September 1992, was recognized for his many benevolent acts in the community.

"I hope this endowment will help some young person who otherwise cannot afford to go to school to get a good foundation," said Mrs. Young. She added her desire that any young person who is a recipient of the Young Scholarship also be interested enough to continue with his education "until he is in a church".

In accepting the endowment, Gardner-Webb President Chris White noted the important role such a gift will make in the impact the Gardner-Webb School of Divinity has on the lives of young people interested in entering the ministry. "The generosity of such an endowment is indicative of the commitment that Fields Young Jr. had to helping young people. That Mrs. Young has continued with this commitment is a blessing to those who both need and deserve their assistance," he said.

Divinity School Scholarship
 Honors CSO Co-Founder

An anonymous donor recognized the efforts of Rev. Charles W. "Buddy" Freeman this year with the establishment of a Christian Service Organization Scholarship.

The endowment is specifically designed to assist students enrolled in the Gardner-Webb School of Divinity.

Rev. Freeman currently serves as admissions counselor for the School of Divinity.

A co-founder of the Christian Service Organization, Rev. Freeman has remained an integral part of the organization since the early years. He has been instrumental in the growth of the organization and keeps close ties with many of the student recipients.

Cook Scholarship Aids Education Majors

When Mr. and Mrs. Franklin C. Cook wanted to remember their daughter's memory, they decided to endow a scholarship at Gardner-Webb University.

The Susan Renae Cook Scholarship memorializes the Gardner-Webb alumnus, who died of cancer in 1989. It was established to provide financial assistance to worthy and needy full-time education majors. It specifies that the scholarship recipients commit their lives to careers in teaching.

Preference for the scholarship is given to students from the Clover, S.C., area.

"We felt we wanted to do it," said Mrs. Cook, "We don't want her memory to die. She was a friend to so many people, we want her name to be remembered."

Endowed Scholarships

Endowed scholarships have been a major source of financial aid for literally thousands of students throughout Gardner-Webb's 87-year history.

Endowed scholarships are established by donors who wish for only the annual earnings from their invested contributions to be awarded as scholarship aid. This provides a permanent fund from which future students will benefit indefinitely.

While scholarships are fully endowed when a fund reaches or exceeds $10,000, many donors choose to initiate scholarship funds with lesser amounts, making additions to the funds until they become fully endowed.

We are grateful to the donors for their generosity in endowing the following scholarship funds:

Terrell Scholarship Assists Those Planning Teaching Careers

Earlier this year Rubye Reynolds Terrell of Boiling Springs established the Dr. James Orville "Dean" Terrell and Rubye Reynolds Terrell Endowed Scholarship Fund at Gardner-Webb.

Designed to assist needy and deserving students, the scholarship is aimed at those students preparing for full-time teaching careers.

Dr. Terrell taught 21 years in the public schools and served 27 years as a professor of history at Gardner-Webb. In addition, Dr. Terrell filled the roles of Dean and Vice President at the University.

Recognized as "Dean Emeritus" at Gardner-Webb, he was also presented with an honorary doctorate by the institution.

Also devoted to education, Mrs. Terrell taught in the public schools for 21 years.

The Christian Service Organization

The Christian Service Organization is a special endowed scholarship fund which provides financial support to students who are preparing for vocational Christian service.

Within the larger fund are individual endowed scholarship funds, established by interested donors. Christian Service Organization scholarships are fully endowed when the total contributions to the fund reach or exceed $10,000. Many donors establish funds and make additions to the fund until it is fully endowed.

The Christian Service Organization is governed by its own Board of Directors which interviews each scholarship recipient and recommends awards. Donors who establish endowment funds within this organization express their commitment to assisting students in the high calling of the Christian ministry.

Loan Funds

Countless students have benefitted from funds available in the form of educational loans which are repaid and made available to students on a perpetual basis. Loan funds have been provided by donors who wish to assist students through this avenue of financing their education.
