Police warn women against hitchhiking

By Barry Cleveland
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

City and SIU police Friday cautioned women against hitchhiking at night, after the seventh rape of an area woman within a month was reported Friday.

SIU police also announced the resumption of foot patrols throughout the campus during the "high traffic" hours of dusk to early morning.

Three men arrested for rape of coed

Three DuQuoin men were arrested Friday in connection with the early morning rape of an SIU coed.

Christopher E. Melvin, 22; Stanley H. Happold, 21; and Paul E. Taylor, 21, were charged with rape, aggravated battery and unlawful restraint Friday afternoon in circuit court. They were ordered held under $15,000 bond each in the Jackson County jail pending a return court date at 9 a.m. Thursday.

A fourth man, Vernon Melvin, 19, also of DuQuoin, was also arrested and charged with theft of lost or mislaid property after police discovered credit cards issued to other persons in his possession.

He is being held in Jackson County Jail under $1,000 bond.

The four men allegedly picked up two SIU coeds hitchhiking at the intersection of Main Street and Illinois Avenue in Carbondale late Thursday night, then drove north on U.S. 51 to DeSoto.

One of the women escaped at DeSoto, aided by Vernon Melvin, who also left the car. The woman then called police, relaying a description of the abductors' car and the license number.

A Jackson County deputy sheriff sighted the car about 1:20 a.m. on a country road north of DeSoto. He detained the occupants until Carbondale police arrived.

The victim told police the three men had taken turns raping her. She was treated at Doctors Hospital and released. The other woman was not injured.

Orescanin: mail stopped because CFUT is not University sponsored

By Sue Roll
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Dan Orescanin, special assistant to the President, said Friday that the decision to stop use of campus mail by the Carbondale Federation of Teachers (CFUT) was made primarily because the CFUT is not a University organization.

Under University regulations, he said, only University organizations should be permitted to use the campus mail.

He said the CFUT was trying to get a circular through the mail which would have solicited membership through money and that this was the issue that prompted foot patrols throughout the campus during the "high traffic" hours of dusk to early morning.

"Girls who hitchhike are really asking for trouble," Carbondale Police Chief Joe Dakin said Friday. "It should be obvious to everyone by now that hitchhiking is extremely unsafe."

"We're concerned and the women should be."

Five of the seven reported rapes have taken place after the victims were picked up while hitchhiking.

The Carbondale force has as many officers patrolling the streets as possible, Dakin said, but unless people take steps to protect themselves the rapes will continue.

Women who think there is safety in numbers should take note of the rape reported Friday morning, where two women were picked up by four men, Dakin said.

State law allows hitchhiking so long as the pedestrian is not standing in the roadway, and the Carbondale force will not begin arresting hitchhikers for their own safety, he said.

Dakin said the Friday rape apparently was not connected with the earlier rapes of hitchhikers, each of whom described her assailant in similar terms.

"We'll get him, but I don't know how many more girls he'll get before we do," Dakin said.

SIU Security Officer Thomas Leffler said Friday that three pairs of Saluki Patrolmen will now be permanently engaged in the nightly patrol of the campus.

The resumption of the foot patrols, cancelled late last year during an austerity drive, will necessitate the hiring of about four new patrolmen, Leffler said.

Leffler also announced several other steps to combat what he called the most serious wave of rape to hit the campus area he can remember.

The lighting system throughout the campus will be upgraded, with burned-out bulbs to be replaced, he said. In addition, police officers will visit women's living areas to warn them of the dangers involved in hitchhiking.

brought CFUT use of campus mail to the administration's attention. Orescanin said that no organization, whether a University organization or not, can use the campus mail for solicitation.

He said the CFUT's position as a bargaining unit under the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) is also related to the problem but that the CFUT would be kept from using campus mail anyway because it is not a University organization.

He said information concerning the legal aspects of the CFUT as a bargaining unit would have to come from Legal Counsel T. Richard Mager. Mager was out of town Friday.

New parking meters ready

Parking meters were installed Wednesday in this lot just west of Washington Square, and enforcement will begin Monday, Harold Hill, city streets and sanitation chief, said Friday. Three other lots near the Illinois Central Railroad tracks have also been leased by the city, and meters will be installed soon, Hill said. While this particular lot will cost the motorist a nickel per hour, the others will charge 10 cents per hour and four hours for a quarter. (Photo by John Lopinot)

SIU president to visit Germany during break

President David R. Derge said Friday he will be going to Cologne, Germany, over spring break to represent the United States Advisory Committee on International Educational and Cultural Affairs at a meeting of all cultural affairs officers of European and Mideastern countries.

Derge explained this committee was established by the Fulbright-Hays Act in 1961, and is responsible for the Fulbright Scholarship program.

Among matters to be discussed will be binational committee programs made up jointly of U.S. and foreign nationals of other countries to facilitate exchange of persons between countries.

The future development and size of America studies programs abroad will also be on the program, Derge said, as well as an international visitor's program to arrange for foreign government and other officials to visit the United States.

Derge said he will report back to the committee and the Department of State on the outcome of the Germany meeting. He will leave for Germany after Friday's SIU Board of Trustees meeting and will return the following weekend.

Witness screening to begin

Inquest of crane mishap pending

Jackson County Coroner Harry Flynn said Friday that he intends to conduct an inquest into the death of Michael G. Hayes, the SIU student who was killed Monday by a crane at the construction site of the new Humanities Building.

However, Flynn said he is waiting until the investigation by SIU and the J.L. Simmons Construction Co. is completed before he announces the date of the inquest.

In the meantime, said Flynn, he will be screening a number of witnesses. He said that he would like to hear the results of SIU's investigation before starting his own.

Unlike the SIU investigation, Flynn's inquest is required by law to be public.

The SIU investigation has been continuing since Tuesday.

Car tires slashed; damages reported

All four tires on a car parked in a University lot were slashed between March 2 and March 9, SIU security police said Friday.

The car, property of John S. Loebach, Carbondale, was parked in Lot 45 for a week when Loebach discovered the vandalism.

He estimated the loss at $100.

FAA sets new guidelines

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe suggested Friday that Congress might have to prohibit airlines from paying ransom to hijackers. His remarks came after he opened a meeting of airline officials to discuss how to deal with bomb threats and hoaxes.

At the two-hour meeting called by President Nixon, the Federal Aviation Administration set forth new security guidelines.

Volpe said he could not go into details of any proposal to prohibit airlines from paying ransom "since this is a matter of airline management and we cannot tell them what to do."

"It is possible, however, that legislation may have to be introduced to prohibit such

Jethro Tull, Bread set for performances

The Arena manager's office announced Friday the signing of contracts for spring quarter concerts by the Bread and Jethro Tull rock groups.

Bread, a popular music group, is scheduled to appear April 21 at the Arena. Jethro Tull has been scheduled to perform May 4 at the SIU Arena.

Bread was selected by considering data from a survey run in the Daily Egyptian on Feb. 1, Arena Manager Dean Justice said.

The SIU Arena Entertainment Board is still looking for live entertainment to appear in early April and later in May, Justice said.

The SIU Arena Entertainment Board is currently using three surveys assessing student preferences in live entertainment. These surveys include the one conducted in the Daily Egyptian in February, one conducted by a marketing class in late January and one by the students of a speech class.

payments," he said. As far as he knows, Volpe said, no payments have been made in the latest rash of extortion threats.

FAA Administrator John H. Shaffer said mandatory security measures matching those imposed on the airlines this week are soon to be applied to airport managements.

Shaffer said each of 521 airports served by a scheduled airline must provide for FAA approval a master security plan.

Each airport must submit for FAA approval the means used to identify each person authorized to enter an air operations area, and each vehicle authorized to be operated in such an area.

"We intend to assure complete security for an airplane at rest," Shaffer said.

"There must be no unattended plane."

On Monday the FAA published new security regulations, including

Poll shows Walker could nab 300,000 Republican votes

SPRINGFIELD, (AP) — A survey conducted for gubernatorial candidate Daniel J. Walker indicates that up to 300,000 Republicans would vote for him in the Democratic primary, the candidate said Friday.

Lt. Gov. Paul Simon claimed, however, that thousands of Republicans favor him over Walker and said that 227,000 Republicans voted for him in the 1968 general election.

A three-judge federal panel ruled Thursday that an Illinois law which prohibits voters from switching party primaries within 23 months after voting, is unconstitutional.

Acclaiming the court decision as "a real boost to my campaign," Walker said that many Republicans favor him because of Simons' proposal to increase the income tax. "It's a real victory for the people of Illinois," Walker told newsmen.

Walker again claimed that Simon's tax proposal would triple the state's income tax.

Simon denied the charge Thursday saying that he seeks "a fairer tax" and not "a greater tax bite" for the people of Illinois.

"If Simon says these figure are wrong why doesn't he come out with some figures of his own?" Walker demanded.

Simon has refused to estimate the increase his income tax proposal would mean, but he has emphasized that he would veto any income tax increase if it were not accompanied by either a reduction or an elimination of other taxes.

"These new air carrier security regulations now are being put into effect immediately," Volpe told the meeting.

"This means that passenger and baggage screening is now mandatory.

Health council told to verify abuse charge or issue will be dropped

By Sue Millen
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The Student Health Consumer Council has been told that students' complaints of mistreatment at Doctors Memorial Hospital must be verified or the issue will be dropped.

George Mace, chairman of the Health Advisory Board, made the statement at the SHCC meeting Thursday night in reply to charges made last month to the HAB by Gary Dickerson, chairman of the health consumer group.

Dickerson had said that there was evidence to indicate that there were some improper admittance standards or treatment of students at Doctors Hospital.

Mace said that some of the difficulty stems from the doctors' duty schedules at the Health Service.

"Many of the doctors at the Health Service came to SIU because they were guaranteed a four-day, seven-hour work week, with the stipulation of rotating on-call duty," he said.

Health Service physicians, he said, feel that they should not have to devote time to visiting student patients at Doctors Hospital.

"They maintain that it takes away from the other students who need care and that greater numbers can be served during the same time it takes to visit one student at Doctors Hospital," he added.

Mace explained that it wasn't logical to ask Health Service doctors to work longer hours during a time when they need to recruit more doctors. "We need to attract physicians, not drive them away," he added.

However, talks have been set up to clarify the misunderstanding and investigate whether there are grounds for the charges made by Dickerson.

Dr. John B. Taylor, director of professional affairs at Doctors Hospital, sent a letter to HAB members demanding verification of charges made by Dickerson. He said an apology is in order if the complaints prove groundless. Taylor said as things look now there seems to be no justification for the charges made.

Dickerson said the charges weren't made as personal attacks or to "get at" Doctors Hospital but rather as an attempt to clear up some old misunderstandings.

A committee was appointed to arrange a meeting with Taylor and SHCC members.

The SHCC also discussed a proposal to have a weekly health tips column in the Daily Egyptian. The feasibility of the proposal is being investigated.

Students restore log cabin; earn high school class credit

By Mary E. Healy
Student Writer

Can six high school students earn credit in history and English courses by restoring a log cabin?

At Anna-Jonesboro High School they can and do.

The six students, all juniors, are in "Type 'A' Enrichment" class which is team-taught by Miss Ellen Svec and Bruce Bell.

The cabin is owned by Larry and Bruce Bell and is six miles from the high school.

"There are two floors and five rooms in the house. The class is tearing away all the additions that have been added over the years. We are trying to get down to the original log cabin which had one room," Miss Svec said.

Instead of sitting in the classroom for six hours a week, she said, the students are learning about history first hand.

"Last fall Bruce Bell and I wanted to get the class interested in a project that would get them interested in history and English and we decided to restore the cabin. The idea was presented to the Board of Education and we were allowed to go ahead with it even though nothing like it had been tried before," Miss Svec said.

Work on the cabin was started in October 1971 and should continue until the end of next year, she said.

"The class has only been using hand tools so far, but once we get down to the basic structure, we might find things a bit expensive, such as equipment rental," she said.

The Board of Education told the class that it could not promise any money toward the restoration, Miss Svec said. "So far the students and teachers have donated the little amount of money we have needed," she said.

The class work is more than just physical, she said. In late October the entire class presented a paper and spoke before the Board of Education about the progress that was being made," she said.

The few times the weather was too bad to work on the cabin, she said, the class went to the library and the courthouse to do research.

"They have found out that the cabin is at least 140 years old and that it has had only about four different occupants," she said.

Miss Svec said that she considered the project a success even though there were days when she thought "What the hell are we accomplishing here?"

"Some of the students have told me that books are beginning to interest them. They also realized that they hadn't cut class in months."

Free films, music for finals week

Jazz, jukebox and films will be some of the finals week activities, according to Jack Wallin, co-chairman of the Student Center Programming Committee (SCPC).

The Big Muddy Room at the Center will be the scene of folk and country-blues live entertainment, provided free, through Tuesday of finals week. On Wednesday the jukebox will be paid for by the SCPC.

"Anyone who wishes to join the musicians," Wallin said, "is welcomed to bring his equipment to the big Muddy." He said the Big Muddy Room will be open all night so anyone who plays may play all night.

Saturday night David Weinstein, David Lee and David Greene will provide a variety of sounds from 8 p.m. to 2 a.m. Sunday night, "The J&B Revue" will play country-blues and folk music from 7 p.m. until midnight.

Monday night will feature three different styles of folk music. James Wearn will play from 9 p.m. to 10 p.m., Russ Campbell from 10 p.m. to midnight, and Dave Stearns from midnight to 1 a.m. Stearns will also provide Tuesday's entertainment from 9 p.m. to 11 p.m.

A Gary Cooper film fest will take place at 7:30 p.m. and 10 p.m. Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. "Springfield Rifle" will be shown Sunday, "Dallas" on Monday and "Bright Leaf" on Tuesday in the Student Center Ballrooms. Admission will be 75 cents.

Grad faculty to vote on operating paper

By Monroe Walker
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The Graduate Council voted unanimously Friday to present an unamended operating paper to the graduate faculty for a vote by mail ballot.

The proposed operating paper will go to the faculty without a recommendation to include the director of the University Museum as an ex-officio member of the Graduate Faculty.

Lon Shelby, chairman of the council, presented the operating paper to the graduate faculty two weeks ago for its review and recommendations.

The faculty voted to accept the operating paper as written following a vote to include the museum director as an ex-officio member. This suggestion was to be referred to an ad hoc committee for consideration.

The ad hoc committee, however, rejected the recommendation and the Graduate Council decided to send the operating paper without an amendment. If the graduate faculty members vote in favor of the document, it becomes the official operating paper for the Graduate School.

Keith Leasure, member of the council, moved that a statement concerning the relationship between standing committees and joint standing committees of the council and the University Senate be sent along with the operating paper as an opinion poll to determine the feelings of graduate faculty members. After much deliberation, the motion passed.

The council also passed a procedures proposal for reporting the results of program reviews. Motions were also passed to add a research and project committee and to evaluate proposals on merit only.

The next council meeting will be at 8 a.m. Friday, April 7, in one of the River Rooms of the Student Center.

Postgraduate registration, test dates set

The Counseling and Testing Center has announced final registration and exam dates for four post graduate national examinations.

On April 8, the Law School Admission Test and the National Teachers Examination will be held. Students must register for the Law School Test by March 17 and for the Teachers Exam by March 23.

These two examinations will be followed by an exam sponsored by the College Level Examination Program, which will be held April 11. The registration deadline is March 21.

The last of the four exams is the Admission Test for Graduate Study in Business which will be held April 15. Students must register for this one by March 24.

Registration packets and information about the exams may be obtained by calling 536-3303 or going to the Counseling and Testing Center in Building C of Washington Square.

When lights flash and bells ring, a pinball wizard is doing his thing

By Mike Murphy
Student Writer

"Ever since I was a young boy I played the silver ball," is the first line to the song "Pinball Wizard" by the English rock group "The Who."

"Pinball machines have suddenly become the national pastime of SIU students. No fewer than 12 locations in Carbondale now possess at least one of the electronic money-grabbers.

Whereas "The Who" wrote a song about a deaf, dumb and blind boy who they thought was England's pinball wizard, Carbondale is full of a good number of pinball players each of whom calls himself "Carbondale's Pinball Wizard."

"There's no machine in town that I can't beat," was the way junior Louis Branz of Belleville, said it.

Branz, who can usually be found in the dingy corner of The Purple Mousetrap playing one of his favorite machines, said that he has been playing pinballs since he was in third grade.

"I used to run home from school and go to the corner drug store," he said. "Back then, games only cost a nickel and I used to play until my mom dragged me home for dinner."

True, the game of pinball 15 years ago only cost pinball wizards five cents. Today, they are a dime in Carbondale or three for a quarter. But beware, in Champaign the machines now accept quarters only, and for this the player gets only two games.

The game of pinball is very basic and all machines have the same basic plan. Points are accumulated when the ball hits designated bumpers or targets. A free game is registered if the player reaches the prescribed number of points that is marked on the machine.

A player can also score a free game if he hits enough targets at the proper time. This is called "winning a special."

A third way to collect a free game is, by chance, the last digit of the final score matches the number which lights up at random on a machine. The odds of winning a game this way should mathematically be one out of 10.

"But I think they fix the machines," Branz said, "because I'm lucky to 'match' once every 20 games in Carbondale."

Down in Crazyhorse Billiards, a poolhall which sports 10 machines, John Pohlmann is "beating the hell" out of a machine called "Four Square."

"I put a quarter in here an hour ago and I'm still playing," Pohlmann boasts. "This is one of the easiest games in town to beat."

Pohlmann, a junior, said that he had never played a pinball machine until he came to Carbondale.

"I lived in Mt. Prospect, a suburb of Chicago, and I think they have some kind of law which prohibits pinball machines," he said. "I feel sorry for the kids back home because they never will have a chance to play pinball unless they come to a town like Carbondale."

Pohlmann was asked which machine was the easiest machine in Carbondale to beat.

"That's easy," he said. "There's a game at The Mousetrap called 'Target Pool.' You can walk in there any time of the day or night and see somebody playing it and winning."

"Why, once I saw a guy win 15 games on that machine inside of 15 minutes," he said. "You should have heard all those bells ringing and seen those lights flashing. It was just fantastic."

Pohlmann rated some of the other machines in Carbondale. "The 'Scuba' is a very challenging game," he said. "If you get a good score on the first ball you can beat the heck out of it."

"Super Score" in Crazyhorse is probably the oldest machine in town," Pohlmann said. "Looks like it was here during the war. But it's still in pretty good shape and easy to beat."

Branz wandered into Crazyhorse after playing, and losing to, "The Wiggler" across the street at the Mousetrap.

"I just couldn't do anything right," Branz said. "It was one bad ball after another. Then, on my last game I 'tilted' it. I was so mad I kicked it."

A "tilt" is a dirty word among pinball players. It means the machine was pushed and jerked so much, that it turned itself off with the result being a lost game.

Branz was asked which game in Carbondale was the fastest one with the most action.

"I would say the 'Strike Zone' in Crazyhorse," Branz said. "The ball is just a blur it moves so fast. But I like it. It keeps me on my toes."

The question continues. Who is the "Pinball Wizard" of Carbondale? Is it Branz or Pohlmann?

Maybe it's one of those guys who is always playing the machines down in the Varsity grill.

Or, perhaps, the "Wizard" is a resident of University Park who plays those new machines down in the basement of Trueblood Hall.

But whoever the King of Carbondale is, he would probably finish second best to the kid "The Who" sing about in "Pinball Wizard."

"Even on my favorite table, he can beat my best. That deaf, dumb and blind kid sure plays a mean pinball."

Check cashing service limited

Four armed robberies at Trueblood Hall in the past two years have caused Housing Director Samuel L. Rinella to limit the cashing of checks at Housing Business Service Desks.

Because of the risk of robberies and possible danger to service desk employees, Rinella said, checks will be accepted only from Monday through Friday between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

He said only residents, staff members and employees of the area may cash checks and only for amounts under $10.

"We suggest that all residents plan ahead to cash checks during the newly scheduled hours or plan to cash checks at the commercial establishments in downtown Carbondale," said Rinella.

Rinella said he hopes to strengthen security so that the check cashing service may again be offered in the evenings and on the weekends. "We will be studying the security of the service desk areas during the coming months," he said.

"The new check cashing policy will be reviewed at the end of the winter quarter," said Rinella.

NCAA cage tourney begins today

AP—Defending champion UCLA waits off-stage for a late appearance, befitting the status of a star performer, as the NCAA opens its annual major college post-season basketball tournament Saturday.

A total of 18 teams will play in first-round games involving four regions—the East, Midwest, West and West.

UCLA, winner of five straight NCAA titles and seven of the last eight, has drawn a first-round bye and will get a crack next week at the winner of Saturday's Weber State-Hawaii game in the West.

Along with the battle of Hawaii, 24-2, an independent power, and Weber State, 17-9, winner of the Big Sky Conference, Brigham Young, 21-4, meets Long Beach State, 23-3. Brigham Young, the Western Athletic Conference king, and Long Beach, champion of the Pacific Coast Athletic Conference, meet in the second game of that doubleheader at Pocatello, Idaho. In the Midwest regional at Las Cruces, N.M., it's a double-header pairing two independents, Southwestern Louisiana, 23-3, and Marshall, 23-3, in the first game and Southwestern Conference champ Texas, 18-7, against independent Houston, 20-6, in the second.

At-large entry Marquette, 24-2, faces Mid-American Conference titlist Ohio, 15-10, in the first game of a doubleheader in the Midwest regionals at Knoxville, Tenn. Florida State, 23-5, an independent, plays in the night-cap against Eastern Kentucky, 15-10, the Ohio Valley Conference representative. Three separate games will be played in the east: Independent Providence, 21-5, meets Ivy League champion Penn. 23-2, in New York; Villanova, 19-6, another independent, plays against East Carolina, 14-14, the Southern Conference winner, at Princeton, N.J., and independent South Carolina, 22-4, has a game with Temple, 23-7, the Middle Atlantic Conference titlist, at Williamsburg, Va.

Along with UCLA, six other conference champions will play in the second round, March 16.

They include Southeastern Conference winner Kentucky; Big Ten champ Minnesota; Kansas State, winner of the Big Eight; San Francisco, the king of the West Coast Athletic Conference and the winners of the Atlantic Coast Conference post-season tourney, and the Missouri Valley Conference.

The last two championships will be decided Saturday.

The NCAA semifinals and finals will be held at the Los Angeles Sports Arena March 23 and 25.

Cyclones lead national mat meet

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — Defending national wrestling champion Oklahoma State, minus Yoshiro Fujita, trailed Iowa State by five points here in the NCAA Wrestling Championships.

The Cyclones advanced five wrestlers past quarter final competition Friday afternoon.

Iowa State showed 33½ points at the close of competition Friday afternoon, followed by the Cowboy's 28½. Big Ten champion Michigan State was third with 25 points.

Fujita, a pre-tournament favorite to capture the 126-pound national championship was injured in an early round match with Cincinnati's Howard Fox and was forced to forfeit.

It was 'Fuji's' first defeat in two years and over thirty matches. Southern's Ken Gerdes, Midwestern Conference 126-pound champ, was also forced from competition due to an injured shoulder.

Leading Iowa State in Friday's competition was huge heavyweight Chris Taylor. The 418-pound Cyclone wrestler beat Mike McCready of Northern Iowa, 2-0.

Also advancing into later round competition were Ben Peterson, Carl Adams, Phil Parker and Bill Fetland, all of Iowa State.

Adams, a 158-pounder, beat Iowa's Jan Sanderson 4-1. Parker won his afternoon match beating Bill James of Army in a run-away 12-2.

Peterson defeated Oregon State's Kelly Bledsoe, 5-1 while Fetland decided Ohio University's Joe Zychowicz, 3-2 in the 126-pound weight class.

Southern Illinois' chances for an individual title were killed Thursday night when Andy Burge was defeated by defending NCAA champion Gregg Johnson of Michigan State, 14-5. Earlier Burge had beaten Eric Waters of Pennsylvania, 11-8.

Also gaining first round wins for Southern, but failing to advance into the quarter finals, were Jimmy Cook (134) and Loren Vantrese (150).

Vantrese beat Ashland's Dave Toth in the first round 6-5 but was later tagged by Washington's Hajimo Shingo, 16-5.

Cook stopped Tom Paptas of Maryland in the first round 8-4, but was later pinned by Iowa State's Parker. Don Stumpf was also defeated via the pinning route as he went to the mats against Mike Jones of Oregon State, at 3:43 in the opening round.

Canadiens are victims

Hockey team helps evacuate hotel

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Members of the Montreal Canadiens hockey team gave an assist to firemen Friday in evacuating teammates and about 100 additional guests from a fire at a motor hotel adjacent to Lambert-St. Louis International Airport.

The reigning National Hockey League Stanley Cup champions checked in at the Hilton Inn after a game with the St. Louis Blues. The team returned to Montreal Friday morning.

About 2 a.m. fire broke out in a room on the top floor of a four-story unit, spreading smoke through the building.

Coach Scotty Bowman and Floyd Curry, an assistant general manager, were staying in rooms on the fourth floor. The remainder of the team had rooms on the second floor.

"I saw smoke coming in the door and tried to yell to Floyd," Bowman said. He said he could not get through the entrance door to his room and was forced to break a sliding glass door leading to a balcony.

Bowman was trapped on a ledge by heavy smoke before a ladder was raised to him. "I didn't think I could make it for another five minutes. But I hung on after seeing the ladder," he said.

Bowman said Curry was rescued from his room in the same manner.

Defenceman Serge Savard suffered a four-inch gash above the right ankle when he and several other Canadiens attempted to rescue Bowman. Eighteen stitches were needed to close the wound. Trainer Bob Williams said he had not determined if Savard would have to miss any games.

Meridian, Thomson advance into semi-finals in Class A cage play

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Mounds-Meridian and Thomson, two teams relying on speed and quickness, dashed Friday into the semifinals of the Class A Illinois State High School Basketball Tournament.

Calvin Johnson's 20-foot jump shot with two seconds left boosted Meridian to a 54-52 victory over a scrappy but under-sized Elgin St. Edward team.

Don Robinson, a 6-foot senior, dumped in 29 points and broke open a tight game in the fourth quarter leading Thomson to a 72-56 victory over Streator Woodland.

Meridian boosted its record to 29-1 while St. Edward bowed out with a 25-3 record.

Meridian, tabbed the favorite going into the quarterfinals, lost this season only to Peoria Manual, one of the Class AA powers, and holds the distinction of being the last team to defeat defending state champion Thornridge.

Yet, the team from the far southern tip of the state had its hands full with the well coached St. Edward team with four starters under 6 feet, and even trailed 31-26 at the half.

Tally Hawkins and Johnson began hitting in the third quarter with Hawkins scoring three straight baskets and Johnson hitting a three-point play to give the Bobcats a 39-36 lead.

Meridian held a 43-40 lead going into the final quarter but Jeff Nolan scored six points and Carroll Alters, Elgin's 6-4 pivotman, hit a basket to make the score 50-50.

The Bobcats killed some 50 seconds off the clock and called time with nine seconds to play. Johnson got the ball on an inbounds pass and fired his game-winning basket with seconds to go.

Hawkins paced Meridian with 16 points and Johnson finished with 15. Alters topped St. Edward with 16 and Dolan finished with 13.

The Thomson-Woodland game was heading for an apparent close finish before Robinson, aided by reserve Ken Schoening and Ron Hebelner, put the finishing touches to the Warriors.

Thomson had blown several leads with its reckless, dazzling play before applying the crusher in the fourth quarter to boost its record to 27-4. Streator went out with a 25-5 mark.

Robinson put Thomson, a village of 600 in northwestern Carroll County with a school enrollment of 150, ahead 46-45 at the end of the third quarter.

The two teams battled to a 52-52 tie when Robinson lofted in a 20-footer to put the Trojans ahead to stay. Woodland came within one point at 56-57 but Robinson, Schoening and Hebelner turned the game into a rout.

Mike Hill was second to Robinson with 15 points.

Bradley and Collins voted All-America

Sporting News has honored Doug Collins of Illinois State and Northern Illinois' Jim Bradley with selection to its honorable mention All-America basketball team.

The pair were among 35 collegians cited as honorable mention All-Americans. They were the only Midwestern Conference representatives.

Collins led the Midwestern Conference with a 35.0 scoring average while Bradley was fourth at 22.8. Two other Saluki opponents of the past season also received honorable mention All-America status—Evansville's Don Buse and Weber State's Bob Davis. Carbondale native Les Taylor of Murray State received the same honor.

Evansville defeated Southern Illinois twice; Weber state turned the trick once, that in the Las Vegas Holiday Classic after Christmas.

For the first year in many, Sporting News' All-America first team was dominated by underclassmen. Only senior among the nation's top players is 6-5 forward Bud Stallworth of Kansas.

Bill Walton, sophomore center for the UCLA Bruins, was selected Player of the Year. Beside Walton and Stallworth in the front line is 6-9 Bob McAdoo of North Carolina, a junior.

Both Sporting News guards are juniors—6-6 Ed Ratleff of Long Beach State and 6-3 Brian Taylor, Princeton.

The nation's seniors weren't shut out completely, holding six of seven second team positions. Jim Chones, ex-Marquette center, was the only junior selected to the otherwise all-senior second team.

Sporting News' second team All-America forwards are 6-10 Tom Riker of South Carolina and 6-8 Travis Grant, Kentucky State.

Four second team guards were named: 6-2 Harold Fox, Jacksonville; 6-2 Fred Boyd, Oregon State; 6-4 Paul Westphal, USC; and 6-3 Jim Price, Louisville.

Sporting News All-America selections are made by the general managers and scouting directors of American and National Basketball Association teams.

UCLA's John Wooden was named Coach of the Year.
