Main Points

- What is Shared Shelf?
- Images collections for teaching at IU
- Fine Arts Library's Artists' Books Collection
- Workflows and metadata
- Short- and long-term goals

What is ARTstor?

- A digital image library of over 1.5 million images and growing
- Power functionalities to save, annotate, download, upload
- Interdisciplinary with a wide range of images

Shared Shelf

- ARTstor service
 - <http://www.artstor.org/shared-shelf/s-html/shared-shelf-home.shtml>
 - Subscription levels based on storage size
 - Basic level: 500 gb = 15,000 to 20,000 images

DIDO=Digital Images Delivered Online

- In-house pedagogical image collection
- ~76,000 images
- Based on the curriculum
- Around since the 90's

“Experts know what to look for and how to organize data so that they can see significance. For novices, it is important to surround the use of visual images with instructional strategies that help them “see the strange in the familiar.” The result is that students develop an increased ability to appreciate the world’s complexity and experience the satisfaction of understanding more deeply the routine features of everyday life.”

- Thomas, E., Place, N., & Hillyard, C. (2008). Students and Teachers Learning to See: Part 1: Using Visual Images in the College Classroom to Promote Students' Capacities and Skills. College Teaching, 56(1), 23-27.

Shared Shelf Content

- Collections are not limited to images for art and art history
- Illustrations, diagrams, charts, graphs, tables, maps, models, blueprints...
- IUB collections are searchable in ARTstor

Collections Beyond Images

- Shared Shelf Workspace can house collections of video, audio, and other digital media
- Includes PDFs, PPTs, spreadsheets, and other documents for searching and downloading

IU Teaching Collections

- OnCourse and Shared Shelf work together
- Using Shared Shelf for material at a glance
- Project catalogers and administrators

Sample Teaching Collections

- Shared Shelf Commons

Artist's Books at the Fine Arts Library

A collection of over 1,500 artist's books held at the Fine Arts Library of Indiana University Bloomington. Artists' books are books created as original works of art that push the boundaries of the traditional book form. Artists' books include varied formats such as flip books, tunnel and accordion-fold books, and even decks of cards. The artist controls both the form and content of the book during the entire process of creation and production whether it is a unique object or a work published in multiple copies. This collection includes books created by IU professors and students.

Creating the Collection

- Covers and select pages photographed in 2009
- Excel document of bibliographic information
- Includes call numbers and library locations

Metadata Template

- Excel template provided by Shared Shelf Implementation Manager
- Customizing field names and sequence
- Creating controlled lists

ARTstor/Shared Shelf Policies

- Institutional policies for use in teaching
- Liabilities
- Copyright

Getting Faculty Involved

- Survey faculty on their use of image/media management systems
- Work with individual faculty members from various departments to pilot a project
- Gather feedback for these pilot projects

Long-term Goals

- Improve workflows and offer training workshops to faculty, graduate students, and other potential collection catalogers
- Ensure consistency metadata, if not across campus, at least across departments
- Partner!
- Make it a campus-wide tool and resource for teaching
