

Bowdoin College

Bowdoin Digital Commons

The Bowdoin Orient 1960-1969

The Bowdoin Orient

1-3-1962

Bowdoin Orient v.91, no.1-19 (1961-1962)

The Bowdoin Orient

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.bowdoin.edu/bowdoinorient-1960s>

Recommended Citation

The Bowdoin Orient, "Bowdoin Orient v.91, no.1-19 (1961-1962)" (1962). The Bowdoin Orient 1960-1969. 3.

<https://digitalcommons.bowdoin.edu/bowdoinorient-1960s/3>

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the The Bowdoin Orient at Bowdoin Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Bowdoin Orient 1960-1969 by an authorized administrator of Bowdoin Digital Commons. For more information, please contact mdoyle@bowdoin.edu.

BOARD OF EDITORS: Hunt, Woolcott, Briggs, Botelho, Halperin, Pyle... News Editor: Kenneth A. Briggs '63... Assistant News Editor: Alphonse J. Czerwinski '64...

Reaction To Peace Corps On Campus - Quiet Curiosity

The reaction to President Kennedy's Peace Corps on the campus has been one of quiet curiosity. Though enthusiastic about its possibilities for improving the country's foreign relations...

Skowhegan Wins High School One Act Play Contest Held Here

The annual state high school drama contest finals held at the Oakland Theater last Saturday were well received by a state-wide audience.

Exhibition of Modern Trends in House Design To Be At Art Museum

An exhibition illustrating modern trends in house design in California will be opened in the Walker Art Museum at Brunswick, Maine, on April 15.

IEE Offers Bulletin On Summer Study Opportunities

The Institute for Educational Research offers a bulletin on summer study opportunities. To help him answer the big question "how to get there," the Institute has devoted its educational exchange magazine...

Saturday Night Flicks

The films shown in Smith Auditorium on Saturday nights are one of the more fortunate aspects of the long dreary winter months in Maine. At the very least, the students may count on viewing one good movie to break up the monotony of week-long studying.

The Student Union Committee is to be commended for their choice of good flicks, of many different kinds, ranging from comedy ("Rally Round the Flag Boys") to serious treatment ("On the Waterfront") to near documentary ("The Three Faces of Eve").

Unfortunately, the reception given to them by the students is not nearly as commendable. The inordinate amount of yelling, whistling, and off-color comments has nearly ruined the effectiveness of the Student Union Committee's program.

Local Bowdoin Group To Hold Spring Dinner April 27th In Union

The Bowdoin Club of Brunswick will hold its annual spring dinner meeting on Thursday evening, April 27, in the Main Lounge of the Mountmorris Building.

STUDENT PATRONAGE WELCOMED

The difficulties involved with the program are being emphasized from all quarters. Senator Hickenlooper, Republican of Iowa, observed last March 21, "The whole program seems nebulous, unclear in its extent and responsibility, and indefinite in its scope."

Announcement

An Air Force selection officer, Captain Barkislaw who is at the Bowdoin Union from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m., April 20.

Leonard - Political Forum

"Because of its lack of deep commitments to traditional styles," Professor Leonard, "Call for a new architecture has often led the way in the development of modern housing."

THE HOTEL EAGLE

COLONIAL DINING ROOM EAGLE'S NEST LOUNGE PA 5-5591

"Newsweek" Discusses Present Fraternities

The following article is a reprint from the March 27th issue of Newsweek Magazine. California's Stanford University, the Alpha Tau Omega chapter is leading with its national organization. The issue: It pledged four Jewish students in violation of the national charter, now is threatened with disbarment.

Local Bowdoin Group To Hold Spring Dinner April 27th In Union

The Bowdoin Club of Brunswick will hold its annual spring dinner meeting on Thursday evening, April 27, in the Main Lounge of the Mountmorris Building.

STUDENT PATRONAGE WELCOMED

The difficulties involved with the program are being emphasized from all quarters. Senator Hickenlooper, Republican of Iowa, observed last March 21, "The whole program seems nebulous, unclear in its extent and responsibility, and indefinite in its scope."

FIRST NATIONAL

Brunswick, Maine Member of the Federal Reserve System and Member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

CUMBERLAND THEATER

WEDNESDAY, APR. 12-13 INGRAM BERGMAN'S WILD STRAWBERRIES

THE HOTEL EAGLE

COLONIAL DINING ROOM EAGLE'S NEST LOUNGE PA 5-5591

BOWDOIN DRIVE-IN THEATRE

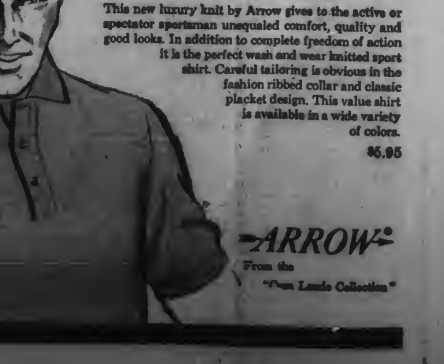

Drive Opening! New Drive-In Seaton Starts With A Bang! ONE ENTIRE WEEK Starting Friday, April 14th

"THE ABSENT MINDED PROFESSOR"

Starring Fred MacMurray The "wackiest" movie since "Shaggy Dog" Hilarious Fun For The Entire Family!

BANLON "FAR"

for the man of action The new luxury knit by Arrow gives to the active or spectator sportsman unsequaled comfort, quality and good looks.

Bowdoin Nine Loses Four Games On Journey South

The varsity baseball team started off the 1934 season unconvincingly, losing two games each to Loyola and Baltimore on a recent southern trip. Two games with Upsala were rained out.

The Polar Bears played their first game on March 27 against Loyola, losing 13-11. Four of the wins in this series were made by... Bowdoin's hitting leader was Pete Finn...

THE WRESTLING PROPOSITION, AFTER BEING PRESENTED TO THE ADMINISTRATION, WILL BE TAKEN TO THE FACULTY COMMITTEE ON PHYSICAL EDUCATION AND THEN TO THE GOVERNING BOARDS OF THE COLLEGE SOMETIME THIS MONTH.

Dekes, Zetes, And K.S. Are WinterVictors

by Phil Stone With the end of the winter sports season, a complete list of the final standings for the winter schedules has been compiled...

Table with 3 columns: Sport (Ice Hockey, Basketball, Bowling), Team, and Total Points. Lists teams like K.S., Zetes, Dekes, etc.

Polar Bearings

By John Halperin

Both recent critical and laudatory observations about the wrestling proposal have filled the air for some time now, and perhaps it would be propitious to abandon the investives and ascertain exactly what all the fuss is about.

Spring Coaches And Reporters Describe, Predict Chances Of Varsity Sports Teams

As the spring sports season gets under way, coaches and under-graduates alike are wondering exactly how the various teams will fare. Following is a report of the expectations and in some cases predictions of each coach. The sailing team is as yet uncoached.

Three returning lettermen and four others, three from last year's Freshman team, give the varsity outboard rowing team... The future of the Bowdoin varsity outdoor track squad looms as one of the big questions...

Winter's Letter And Special Award Recipients Announced

Bowdoin College's winter athletic teams named captains for the 1934 season and awarded trophies to outstanding members... President James S. Cole spoke to the assembled athletes...

- List of names and titles of award recipients: Var Varsity Swimmers, Varsity Wrestling, Varsity Basketball, Varsity Hockey, etc.

Benoit's Outfitters To Bowdoin Men

Rushing The Season can be so easy at Benoit's. Our selections of tailored clothing and sportswear invite your consideration. Bermuda Shorts 5.00 to 8.95, Knit Shirts 4.00 to 8.95, Chino Slacks 4.98 to 5.98, Sperry Topsiders 9.95, Windbreakers 7.98 to 12.98.

SINGER offers SUMMER EMPLOYMENT WITH CAREER OPPORTUNITY

A unique summer employment opportunity with challenging career possibilities, limited only by your ambition and ability, with a well-established international organization, is available to all undergraduates.

SINGER SEWING MACHINE COMPANY 149 Broadway, New York 6, New York. Attention: Mr. F. A. Kolyer, Director of Sales Promotion.

Smith Photo Shop Photo Supplies

Hallmark Greeting Cards Contemporary Cards 146 Maine St., Brunswick

PAT ON THE BACK: For collecting nine safeties (six singles, two doubles, and a triple) in thirteen trips to the plate for a .692 average on the baseball team's recent southern trip, the editor has selected Sophomore left-fielder PETE FINN this week's outstanding athlete.

Granite Farm Dairy For All Your Dairy Product Needs Brunswick, Maine Dial PA 9-3422. Coming Events Following are the only athletic events to take place at Bowdoin this week: April 14 - Fresh baseball v. Deering at 3:00. April 15 - Varsity lacrosse v. Boston Lacrosse Club at 3:00.

Fraternities (Continued from Page 3)

Students are more... think the fraternity system is going out... says Joe Salzman, editor of the Student of Southern California's student newspaper...

Sports Predictions (Continued from page 3)

The second team just before vacation... Coach MacFayden has hopes for Bob Priestly coming through on the mound...

Winners Announced For Marshall Scholarships By British Government

The names of the winners of the 24 annual Marshall Scholarships granted by the British Government to American students have just been announced...

Phil's Men's Store

Phil's Men's Store... 81 Front Street, Bath, 78 Maine Street, Brunswick

Thompson Scholarship (Continued from Page 1)

Thompson Scholarship... of the Board and Director of the successor companies...

King's Barber Shop

King's Barber Shop... Next to Campus, Bowdoin's Favorite Barbers, Six - Barbers - Six

White Mountain Oil Co.

White Mountain Oil Co. Complete Heating and Appliance Service For The Eastern Central New Hampshire Area

But have we done enough?... I, Morrow; John S. Osterweis; John A. Pope; Rodney F. Porter; John C. Beaher; James F. Reis; William C. Rounds; Sherman H. Rounsaville; Kenneth C. Smith; Peter W. Stonebraker; Managers Philip H. Beaher; Ralph P. Stone; Philip L. Swan; and Ralph T. Clarke.

Be Sociable - Have A Pepsi... PEPSI-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY Auburn-Portland, Maine

Brunswick Coal & Lumber Co. Mobileheat Fuel Oil 18 Spring Street Dial PA 9-3341

Parkview Cleaners 'The Home Of Better Cleaning'

Parkview Laundercenter 212 Maine Street

New Meadows Inn Bath Road HI 3-3921

Hotel Sedgwick Bath, Maine HI 3-3361

The 'Original' MIKE'S PLACE Swift's Premium Hot Dogs 4 Minute Pizza - Italian Sandwiches

THE RECORD OFFICE Paul K. Niven Jerry Wilcox Printers Of The Orient

LIVVERNOIS' IGA 51 HARPSWELL STREET DIAL PA 5-7122

DUNLOP TIRES Complete Line of Foreign Car Snow Tires

OAKIE'S AUTO SERVICE 51 Bath Road PA 5-5700

The Arts Center, Inc. (Across From The Campus) RECORDS Jazz - Classical - Folk - Popular

MOULTON UNION BOOKSTORE BOWDOIN POLO SHIRTS $2.95-$3.25

Ernie's DRIVE-IN BATH ROAD - BORDERING CAMPUS PINES FOR TAKE OUT ORDERS DIAL PA 9-8439

One of the best investments you'll ever make... ROTC... up the civilian ladder, advanced ROTC will still be paying off.

THE BOWDOIN ORIENT

VOL. XXI WEDNESDAY, APRIL 26, 1961

EDITORS-IN-CHIEF

Spencer C. Hunt '62 Sidney W. Woolcott '62

BOARD OF EDITORS

Hunt, Woolcott, Briggs, Botelho, Malpert, Fyle

- News Editor: Kenneth A. Briggs '62
Assistant News Editor: Michael A. Kalpakidis '62
Sports Editor: John W. Halperin '62
Assistant Sports Editor: Samuel W. Cushman '62
Copy Editor: Jonathan A. Botelho '62
Assistant Copy Editor: John Welwood '64
Photographers: Charles F. Flagg '63
Staff Cartoonists: Christopher H. Fyfe '61
Advertising Staff: William W. Conklin '64
Business Staff: George A. Smith '63
Circulation Staff: Craig F. Magner '64
Printer: Bruce N. Leonard '63

THE BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY
Prof. Albert P. Daggett
Spencer C. Hunt
Sidney W. Woolcott
REPRINTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY College Publishers Distributors

Letters To The Editor

To the Editors: My opinion is that the kind of article in the Orient that was the subject of your letter is not the kind of article that we want to see in our paper.

To the Editor: A week and a half ago the Friends of the Library met at the Chase Barn.

Dear Students, Professors, Citizens: We ask your help. Austin, Texas, is ready for further development.

As the greatest user of the library, the student should have a say in this affair. The Friends of the Library is the best organization to get as the focal point of student opinion.

Dear Editor: I am writing you to express my appreciation for the excellent job you have done in your issue on the HUAC.

Dear Editor: I am writing you to express my appreciation for the excellent job you have done in your issue on the HUAC.

Dear Editor: I am writing you to express my appreciation for the excellent job you have done in your issue on the HUAC.

Dear Editor: I am writing you to express my appreciation for the excellent job you have done in your issue on the HUAC.

News From Other Colleges

Grinnell College's senate president announced that his campaign will advocate absolute celibacy on campus.

Trinity's Honor Code is meeting opposition from students and faculty student leaders.

Trinity's Honor Code is meeting opposition from students and faculty student leaders.

Trinity's Honor Code is meeting opposition from students and faculty student leaders.

Trinity's Honor Code is meeting opposition from students and faculty student leaders.

Trinity's Honor Code is meeting opposition from students and faculty student leaders.

Trinity's Honor Code is meeting opposition from students and faculty student leaders.

Trinity's Honor Code is meeting opposition from students and faculty student leaders.

The Cargoye Operation Abolition

The most controversial film since Jack Kerouac's 'Beat Generation' was shown at the Brunswick Naval Air Station last week.

The most controversial film since Jack Kerouac's 'Beat Generation' was shown at the Brunswick Naval Air Station last week.

The most controversial film since Jack Kerouac's 'Beat Generation' was shown at the Brunswick Naval Air Station last week.

The most controversial film since Jack Kerouac's 'Beat Generation' was shown at the Brunswick Naval Air Station last week.

The most controversial film since Jack Kerouac's 'Beat Generation' was shown at the Brunswick Naval Air Station last week.

The most controversial film since Jack Kerouac's 'Beat Generation' was shown at the Brunswick Naval Air Station last week.

The most controversial film since Jack Kerouac's 'Beat Generation' was shown at the Brunswick Naval Air Station last week.

The most controversial film since Jack Kerouac's 'Beat Generation' was shown at the Brunswick Naval Air Station last week.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Illustration of a small figure standing on a campus.

Operation Abolition

Belatedly, the students will receive their chance tomorrow evening to augment the increasing number of students throughout the country.

Those responsible for procuring the film for showing on this campus are definitely to be applauded.

Press reports inform us the Wesleyan students turned out in droves last month to ridicule the showing of Operation Abolition.

Why - every year - do some 20,000 college students pack up and transfer to another campus?

Why - today - is one out of five students entering college a transfer from somewhere else?

Some time ago the Orient suggested that the Blanket Tax rate be increased for the purpose of absorbing the Ivy Dance expenses.

The financial problem of paying for the Ivy Dance was too great for the Senior Class, which was obliged to pick up the tab in the form of assessment.

It seems hardly fair to have assessed the seniors for the losses suffered at a College function such as Ivy Weekend.

If the amount of $3.50 were added to each student's Blanket Tax charge, the benefits are several.

Some time ago the Orient suggested that the Blanket Tax rate be increased for the purpose of absorbing the Ivy Dance expenses.

Transfer Students Studied In May Issue Of 'Harper's'

Why - every year - do some 20,000 college students pack up and transfer to another campus?

Why - today - is one out of five students entering college a transfer from somewhere else?

Why - every year - do some 20,000 college students pack up and transfer to another campus?

Why - today - is one out of five students entering college a transfer from somewhere else?

Why - every year - do some 20,000 college students pack up and transfer to another campus?

Why - today - is one out of five students entering college a transfer from somewhere else?

Why - every year - do some 20,000 college students pack up and transfer to another campus?

Why - today - is one out of five students entering college a transfer from somewhere else?

Why - every year - do some 20,000 college students pack up and transfer to another campus?

Why - today - is one out of five students entering college a transfer from somewhere else?

Opera House Bath, Maine

Wed. - Thurs. Apr. 26-27 "PLEASE TURN OVER"

Fri. - Sat. Apr. 28-29 "GORGON"

Sun. - Mon. - Tues. Apr. 30-May 1-3 "The One of Rachel's Cakes"

COASTAL MAINE'S LARGEST SELECTION OF Bermuda Shorts

39¢ to 69¢

Phil's Men's Store

78 Maine Street, Brunswick

BRUNSWICK GALA OPENING

3 BIG FEATURES - 3 Dora Day - Rex Harrison "MIDNIGHT LACE"

OPERA HOUSE BATH, MAINE

Wed. - Thurs. Apr. 26-27 "PLEASE TURN OVER"

ACADEMY AWARDS "BEST ACTRESS OF THE YEAR"

THURSDAY, APRIL 27 TO THURSDAY, MAY 4 2 SHOWS DAILY

Matinees at 1:30 P.M. Evenings 7:30 P.M.

Student Council Elects Coletti, McSweeney, Curtis As Officers

Gerald M. Coletti, Chi Psi Junior, was elected President of the Student Council for the next year at the Council's meeting Tuesday, May 2. Alpha Delta Phi Junior, was elected Vice-President, and Ted Curtis, Alpha Delta Phi Junior, was elected Secretary-Treasurer.

Coletti is a member of the Board of Trustees, was on the staff of the Chi Psi Newsletter. He is a Latin Major. McSweeney is Chairman of the Orientation Committee and the Student Curriculum Committee. He has been a varsity swimmer for two years and is in the Bowdoin ROTC program. He is Steward of Chi Psi Fraternity and is a Rotary Member. Curtis is Chairman of the Campus Chest Committee, has been active in the Bowdoin Republican Club and is a feature writer for the Orient. He is a Government Major.

Featured above are, left to right, Brian McSweeney, who was elected Vice-President of the Student Council, Jerry Coletti, elected President, and Ted Curtis, elected Secretary-Treasurer.

Tilly Receives Standing Ovation At Concert

A standing ovation from a standing-room-only crowd was Bowdoin's final tribute to Tilly as Director of the Bowdoin Glee Club. His usual vivacity and good humor, coupled with his excellent directing, made the Annual Campus Concert last Friday evening one of the most enjoyable ever remembered on the college campus.

Professor Tilton, beloved by generations of Bowdoin singers, has finished his 20th year as Director of the Glee Club with fourth typical of his great showmanship qualities. The Club concluded a highly successful tour of Boston, Albany, Syracuse, Buffalo, and Cleveland before its appearance the Saturday before last to a standing-room-only audience at Town Hall.

Selections of the well-known Medley and the Glee Club selections, which included a monk's hymn from the 12th century, two negro spirituals, selections from "The Happy Fella," and a humorous calypso song among others. The highlight of the evening were "Joey, Joey, Joey," with Bill Barr '61 as soloist and "Stand in the Color of My True Love's Hair," with Peter Hanson '61 as Tenor Solo, and John Lunn '61 as Bass Solo. For their usual commitment, the Glee Club chose "Standing on the Corner" with the inimitable Bill Barr '61 and Bowdoin's own showman Neil Love '62. However, before the evening was over, Tilly, Ron Cole as pianist, and the entire Glee Club got into the act making the entire evening one of many humorous surprises.

Pomeroy To Play At Dance; Ivy Ceremonies On Saturday Morning

On Friday evening, May 12, the members of the Class of 1962 will present the annual Ivy Formal Dance in the Sargent Gymnasium. This year's program will feature the thirteen piece band of Herb Pomeroy, the outstanding young Bostonian.

Associated with the "Blahs" in Boston, Mr. Pomeroy is an alumnus of the Stan Kenton and the Hampton orchestras. He studied music at Boston Conservatory while a student at Williston Academy and later at Harvard University. He studied music at Boston's famed Schillinger House and is now on the faculty of the Berkley School of Music.

He has released an album called "A Living History of Jazz" in collaboration with the Boston Symphony. The album has called this music a "stunningly produced piece of music history."

Dr. Goodrich of Oak On "U.N. In Crisis"

On Saturday morning, May 13, at 10 o'clock, couples are invited to attend the annual Ivy Dance. The winner of the Miss Ivy Queen Contest will present an award and will reward the (hopeful) winner of the Woodstock Derby.

A guest speaker from the faculty and a student will vie for the Torsador of the Year award after which the audience will be able to witness in all its panoramic glory that far-famed spectacle, the Flaming of the Ivy.

Then all will disperse to help prepare for fraternity activities in the ill-famed Maine woods!

Debaters Invited To Return To Scarsdale H. S. On May 10-11

As the result of a successful appearance last year before an assembly at Scarsdale High School, Scarsdale, New York, the College debaters have been invited to return for two exhibition debates on May 10 and 11.

On the afternoon of May 10, the debaters will appear at the Scarsdale High School for an afternoon debate and question period. The next day, May 11, they will appear at the Scarsdale High School for an afternoon debate and question period. The following morning they will appear at the Scarsdale High School for an afternoon debate and question period.

New College Chapter Initiated At College

A distinguished delegation of leaders from business education met in line with the main interest of the fraternities with interests in the college, and various clauses such as the exclusion policies.

However, society is demanding that the fraternities place themselves in line with the college's purposes. The chapter is looking at all its institutions, Bixler said, and is asking two questions: "How are you measuring up?" "What are you contributing?"

These are questions which the fraternities must answer for the fraternities must acknowledge their duty to the college, since they can do so without the college. We can not allow a fraternity to have college-second attitude," Bixler added.

These are questions which the fraternities must answer for the fraternities must acknowledge their duty to the college, since they can do so without the college. We can not allow a fraternity to have college-second attitude," Bixler added.

Thomas M. Libby To Be New Bursar; Succeeds Wolcott A. Hokanson

Thomas M. Libby, Town Manager of Brunswick, will be appointed Bursar of the College to succeed Wolcott A. Hokanson, who has resigned his position as Secretary of the College in July.

Orientation Announces New Positions For Halperin, Botelho And Czymowski

The Orient is pleased to announce the following staff changes: John Halperin, Jonathan Botelho, and Al Czymowski.

Morris Sanders Speaks To International Club; Topic: Peace Corps

At a meeting of the International Club at the Bowdoin Union on Wednesday, May 2, Morris B. Sanders, M.D., spoke on his impressions of the Peace Corps as it has developed in the past few years.

Ivy Musical, "Shenandoah," To Be Presented At Pickard, May 10, 13

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Silverman of 16 Arch Street in New York City, N. Y., Silverman is another member of the fine Bowdoin Glee Club.

Vice-President Belonging To Retire; Successor Named

Mr. Bela Norton, Vice President of the College, is going to retire at the end of this academic year, although he will remain in college service as Consultant on Development. Long an Advisor to the Board of Directors of the Orient, Mr. Norton has been Vice President since 1953.

"When Bela Norton came to the College almost eight years ago," President Coles said, "the Sequencing Program was concluding, and the College had no full-time office concerned with development and public relations. Under his direction, a continuing development program has been organized in detail to meet to rectify the public relations effort of the College has been greatly expanded, the Alumni Office Program was reorganized, and the scope of its activity enlarged."

"Tangible results indicate only in part the effectiveness of his work; but the benefits will be felt throughout the years to come. The College is grateful for all that Mr. Norton has done in organizing this work, and I am pleased that his association with it as Consultant on Development can be effectively continued."

Pres. Coles Announces Commencement Orators

Four seniors have been chosen to deliver Commencement addresses on Saturday, June 10. President James S. MacDonald of 473 Beacon Street in Lowell, Mass., is a government major and a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity. A cadet major in the Bowdoin ROTC, he has been a consistent Dean's list student throughout his four years at Bowdoin.

Town Choral Society, Chapel Choir Present Haydn's "Creation"

It seems unusual that two such excellent musical productions should be presented on the Bowdoin Campus in the same week. The general excitement created by Tilly's last concert two days before came even greater with the tremendous piece of work done by the Brunswick Choral Society and the Bowdoin Chapel Choir in their presentation of "The Creation," by Joseph Haydn.

Announcement

Resolutions for the award of the "Golden Bow" of the A.C. annually to the most popular member of the Junior Class, will be held on Friday, May 12, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Motion Union. All Juniors are urged to exercise their rights!

Debate On "U.N. In Crisis"

On the afternoon of May 10, the debaters will appear at the Scarsdale High School for an afternoon debate and question period. The next day, May 11, they will appear at the Scarsdale High School for an afternoon debate and question period.

President Coles Talks To Bowdoin Club At Annual Spring Dinner

The Bowdoin Club of Brunswick held its annual Spring dinner meeting on Thursday, April 27, at 6:45 p.m. in the Main Lounge of the Moulton Union.

Five Programs At Oak Center Settled Upon For Summer Activities

Although the College's fourth season of free public programs at the Oak Center has not yet completely set, five programs are already settled upon.

Thomas M. Libby To Be New Bursar; Succeeds Wolcott A. Hokanson

Thomas M. Libby, Town Manager of Brunswick, will be appointed Bursar of the College to succeed Wolcott A. Hokanson, who has resigned his position as Secretary of the College in July.

Orientation Announces New Positions For Halperin, Botelho And Czymowski

The Orient is pleased to announce the following staff changes: John Halperin, Jonathan Botelho, and Al Czymowski.

Announcement

Resolutions for the award of the "Golden Bow" of the A.C. annually to the most popular member of the Junior Class, will be held on Friday, May 12, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Motion Union. All Juniors are urged to exercise their rights!

Debaters Invited To Return To Scarsdale H. S. On May 10-11

As the result of a successful appearance last year before an assembly at Scarsdale High School, Scarsdale, New York, the College debaters have been invited to return for two exhibition debates on May 10 and 11.

President Coles Talks To Bowdoin Club At Annual Spring Dinner

The Bowdoin Club of Brunswick held its annual Spring dinner meeting on Thursday, April 27, at 6:45 p.m. in the Main Lounge of the Moulton Union.

Five Programs At Oak Center Settled Upon For Summer Activities

Although the College's fourth season of free public programs at the Oak Center has not yet completely set, five programs are already settled upon.

Thomas M. Libby To Be New Bursar; Succeeds Wolcott A. Hokanson

Thomas M. Libby, Town Manager of Brunswick, will be appointed Bursar of the College to succeed Wolcott A. Hokanson, who has resigned his position as Secretary of the College in July.

Orientation Announces New Positions For Halperin, Botelho And Czymowski

The Orient is pleased to announce the following staff changes: John Halperin, Jonathan Botelho, and Al Czymowski.

Announcement

Resolutions for the award of the "Golden Bow" of the A.C. annually to the most popular member of the Junior Class, will be held on Friday, May 12, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Motion Union. All Juniors are urged to exercise their rights!

Debaters Invited To Return To Scarsdale H. S. On May 10-11

As the result of a successful appearance last year before an assembly at Scarsdale High School, Scarsdale, New York, the College debaters have been invited to return for two exhibition debates on May 10 and 11.

President Coles Talks To Bowdoin Club At Annual Spring Dinner

The Bowdoin Club of Brunswick held its annual Spring dinner meeting on Thursday, April 27, at 6:45 p.m. in the Main Lounge of the Moulton Union.

Five Programs At Oak Center Settled Upon For Summer Activities

Although the College's fourth season of free public programs at the Oak Center has not yet completely set, five programs are already settled upon.

Thomas M. Libby To Be New Bursar; Succeeds Wolcott A. Hokanson

Thomas M. Libby, Town Manager of Brunswick, will be appointed Bursar of the College to succeed Wolcott A. Hokanson, who has resigned his position as Secretary of the College in July.

Orientation Announces New Positions For Halperin, Botelho And Czymowski

The Orient is pleased to announce the following staff changes: John Halperin, Jonathan Botelho, and Al Czymowski.

Announcement

Resolutions for the award of the "Golden Bow" of the A.C. annually to the most popular member of the Junior Class, will be held on Friday, May 12, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Motion Union. All Juniors are urged to exercise their rights!

THE BOWDOIN ORIENT

VOL. XXI WEDNESDAY, MAY 3, 1961 NO. 3

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF Spencer C. Hunt '62

BOARD OF EDITORS Hunt, Woolcock, Briggs, Boleto, Halperin, Pyle

- News Editor: John Wainwood '64, Robert D. Burnett '62, etc.

Advertising Manager: William W. Conklin '64

THE BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY Eastern Publishers Representative

Operation Abolition Continued

Ostensibly, Operation Abolition was shown on this campus as an example of propaganda. However, as would be expected, little was said in the discussion periods following the film concerning its effectiveness as propaganda.

It is perhaps not precise nomenclature to consider the film as government-sponsored propaganda, for while the House Un-American Activities Committee has had a hand in the requisitioning of the original films and in the distribution of the final product, Operation Abolition is legally a "documentary" produced by a commercial movie company with HUAC assistance.

But the qualification of the film as propaganda is undeniable: The cuttings, the inaccuracies, and the distortions are solely for the purpose of placing the HUAC in a favorable light, allegedly to convince Congress to continue expending funds on the Committee's activities. And it is as propaganda, as distorted documentary, that the film is most puzzling.

Colos And Fraternities

We would like to re-emphasize a position taken earlier this year in our editorial columns. In contradiction to prevalent opinion among the undergraduates, President Colos is not out to destroy the fraternity system at this college.

Letter To The Editor

Recently we were informed by a fraternalist that there would be a change in library hours. As yet, there has been no indication of the nature of the change is forthcoming. Why not?

Wilson Selects "Memoire" As Spring "Quill's" Best

The generation coming of age in college today, as described by Floyd Barbour in "It Looks Like Rain," is the so-called generation of the "diapers." This generation is characterized by the dreariness of shotgun marriages (diapers, Gerbers), with tawdry American culture (television), the problems of broken homes (the hero's mother is about to marry a man named Phah), and the discovery of psychoanalysis (the hero suffers from colitis).

Bowdoin Drive-In To Give Students 2 For 1 Price On Wednesdays

Two Bowdoin students with their blanket tag cards will be able to see the film at the Bowdoin Drive-In Theater for the price of one on Wednesday evenings, according to film manager, the theater's manager.

Climbing Trip Planned On Sunday, May 10 For Interested Students

A climbing trip is planned for all interested students as well as faculty and friends - on Sunday, May 7th, leaving from the Moulton Union at 1 p.m. Instructions will be given on the fundamentals of rock climbing; how to use the rope; where and how to drive in a place, etc.

Outing Club Sponsors Variety Of Activities During School Year

A variety of trips and activities have been sponsored by the Outing Club this year, and a few more trips are hoped for before the end of the year. In the fall two large-scale mountain hiking trips were made to the top of Mt. Jefferson, and the second, which had the fortune to be favored by feminine charm, to the top of Mt. Mansfield.

Smith Photo Shop

Photo Supplies, Hallmark Greeting Cards, Contemporary Cards

News From Gaafly

Lowell Tech The Lowell Technological Institute recently published an advertisement to join the JOHN OAK SOCIETY, a patriotic organization.

Wilson Selects "Memoire" As Spring "Quill's" Best

The owner of the antiquated (1939) engine is Edward A. "Call Me Ned," Benson of Westfield, Mass.

Bowdoin Drive-In To Give Students 2 For 1 Price On Wednesdays

Two Bowdoin students with their blanket tag cards will be able to see the film at the Bowdoin Drive-In Theater for the price of one on Wednesday evenings, according to film manager, the theater's manager.

Opera House Bath, Maine

WED.-SAT. May 3-6 THE WACKEST SHIP IN THE ARMY with JACK LEMMON and RICK NELSON

Opera House Bath, Maine

WED.-SAT. May 3-6 THE WACKEST SHIP IN THE ARMY with JACK LEMMON and RICK NELSON

Opera House Bath, Maine

SUN.-TUE. May 7-8 THE SUNDOWNERS In Technicolor

Opera House Bath, Maine

WED. May 10 THE CROWDED SKY In Technicolor

News From Gaafly

Lowell Tech The Lowell Technological Institute recently published an advertisement to join the JOHN OAK SOCIETY, a patriotic organization.

Wilson Selects "Memoire" As Spring "Quill's" Best

The owner of the antiquated (1939) engine is Edward A. "Call Me Ned," Benson of Westfield, Mass.

Bowdoin Drive-In To Give Students 2 For 1 Price On Wednesdays

Two Bowdoin students with their blanket tag cards will be able to see the film at the Bowdoin Drive-In Theater for the price of one on Wednesday evenings, according to film manager, the theater's manager.

Opera House Bath, Maine

WED.-SAT. May 3-6 THE WACKEST SHIP IN THE ARMY with JACK LEMMON and RICK NELSON

Opera House Bath, Maine

SUN.-TUE. May 7-8 THE SUNDOWNERS In Technicolor

Opera House Bath, Maine

WED. May 10 THE CROWDED SKY In Technicolor

Opera House Bath, Maine

WED. May 10 THE CROWDED SKY In Technicolor

Noted Author Richard B. Harwell Is Appointed College Librarian

Richard B. Harwell of Chicago, Illinois, has been appointed College Librarian to succeed Kenneth J. Boyer. Mr. Harwell will assume his duties on September 1, 1961.

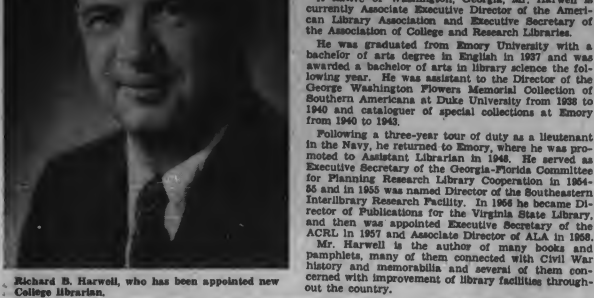

"Bowdoin is exceptionally fortunate to have secured the services of Mr. Harwell," said President C. C. Cole in making the announcement. "His outstanding background both as a librarian and as a writer make him an especially able successor to Mr. Boyer, who will assume his new duties as College Publications Editor in September."

A native of Washington, Georgia, Mr. Harwell is currently Associate Executive Director of the American Library Association and Executive Secretary of the Association of College and Research Libraries.

He was graduated from Emory University with a bachelor of arts degree in English in 1937 and was awarded a bachelor of arts in library science the following year. He was assistant to the Director of the George Washington Flowers Memorial Collection of Southern Americana at Duke University from 1938 to 1940 and cataloger of special collections at Emory from 1940 to 1943.

Following a three-year tour of duty as a lieutenant in the Navy, he returned to Emory, where he was promoted to Assistant Librarian in 1948. He served as Executive Secretary of the Georgia-Florida Committee for Planning Research Library Cooperation in 1954-55 and in 1955 was named Director of the Southeastern Interlibrary Research Facility. In 1956 he became Director of Publications for the Virginia State Library, and then was appointed Executive Secretary of the ACLRL in 1957 and Associate Director of ALA in 1958.

Mr. Harwell is the author of many books and pamphlets, many of them connected with Civil War history and several of them concerned with improvement of library facilities throughout the country.

Richard B. Harwell, who has been appointed new College Librarian.

Commencement Orators (Continued from Page 1)

government major. A member of the debating council for four years, he has been one of the leading debaters for Bowdoin's highly successful debating team. He has been a consistent winner of Bowdoin's debating prizes, participating on the winning team in the Achorn Prize Debate as a sophomore and in the Graydon Prize Debate as a junior and senior. Also on the Student Council, he is a member of Alpha Rho Upsilon fraternity.

Aschoff, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Meyer Aschoff of 416 Trapelo Road in Waltham, Mass., is an English major and a member of Alpha Rho Upsilon fraternity. Another consistent Debater, Aschoff, was a member of the Dean's List student and a James Bowdoin Scholar. He was a candidate for a Rhodes Scholarship this year. He was elected President of the Class of 1961 in the spring of 1960.

International Club (Continued from Page 1)

countries which receive these volunteers should definitely request them and not have the Peace Corps forced upon them.

About the Peace Corps worker himself, Dr. Sanders said that he must have an ability to understand and respect the points of view and aspirations of the people with whom he is working. He added that too many of us go abroad with the conception that our democracy, which has grown under only very special conditions, can be transplanted to any other country in the world without modifications. He also said that the Peace Corps worker should feel a real sense of dedication to his job and should have the ability to exploit any and all favorable circumstances which may arise. He concluded with the statement that the Corps volunteer should have the "virtues of a Chief": courage, honor, force, justice, and prudence.

PHIL'S MEN'S STORE
81 Front Street, Bath
76 Maine Street, Brunswick

White Mountain Oil Co.
NORTH CONWAY, NEW HAMPSHIRE
Complete Heating and Appliance Service For
The Eastern Central New Hampshire Area

The "Original" MIKE'S PLACE
Swift's Premium Hot Dogs
4 Minute Pizza - Italian Sandwiches
Ice Cold Beverages - Ice Cubes Newspapers

STUDENT PATRONAGE WELCOMED
FIRST NATIONAL BANK
Brunswick, Maine

For the Best in Choice Table-Rite Steer Beef Groceries - Fruit and Vegetables
SHOP AT VERNON'S MEAT MARKET
51 HARPSSWELL STREET DIAL PA 5-7122

Civil Service Job Opportunities Are "Better Than Ever" Over 100 Alumni Return For Spring Meeting Of College Teachers' Club

Over 100 alumni from the six New England states returned to the College on Saturday, April 29, to take part in the annual spring meeting of the College Teachers' Club.

The educators who came from all levels of the teaching profession, attended a luncheon, and participated in informal discussions on the relationship of colleges to the secondary schools. In the afternoon they broke up into six special seminars to concentrate on special problems in the teaching of the humanities and sciences.

The sessions started with registration and coffee in the Alumni Meeting Rooms at the Ham House from 9 to 10:45 a.m. Those teachers arriving before ten o'clock had the opportunity to hear a chapel talk by the distinguished poet, C. Wilbert Snow of the Class of 1907, Professor Emeritus at Wesleyan University.

At 11 a.m. the educators assembled in Smith Auditorium where W. Howard Nilcock '38, Principal of Winchester School, was the music major, and Paul V. Hamilton '40, Associate Professor of Education, spoke on the theme "The Schools and the Colleges: Remarks on Relationships."

Following a 12:45 luncheon in the Main Lounge of the Moulton Union, where they were greeted by President Cole, the teachers broke up into six special seminars. At the seminars met from 2:00 to 3:15 to discuss various problems in preparing young people for college work in the languages, mathematics, English, social studies, and sciences. Another group, under the direction of Professor Harwell, discussed teaching as a career.

The conference closed with an informal coffee hour at 3:30 p.m. in the Peucinian Room in the basement of Sills Hall, where the visiting teachers had an opportunity to talk with each other and with interested Bowdoin seniors about the day's program.

He is also the author of many articles in professional magazines and in leading popular magazines such as The Saturday Evening Post, The New Yorker, and The Saturday Review, and is a member of the board of review for the Civil War Book Club.

A Research Fellow at the Henry C. Huntington Library in San Marino, California, in 1961, and recipient of a Carnegie Foundation grant-in-aid that same year, Mr. Harwell has served as consultant to the University of Virginia Library, to the library of the Boston Athenaeum, and to the Coe-Cook Company.

He is currently a member of the American Civil War Round Table, the American Library Association, the Atlantic City Press Bureau, the Bibliographical Society of America, the Bibliographical Society of the University of Virginia, the Caxton Club, several other Civil War societies and associations, and Alpha Beta Alpha, Beta Phi Mu, and Phi Beta Kappa honor societies. He is also a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity.

any of Science in cooperation with the WGBH Foundation in Cambridge, Mass. They were obtained for viewing in this area by Bowdoin President James S. Harwell, who is also a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity.

This week, May 7, films on the shape of the earth, cosmic rays, space science, and "The Inconstant Air" will be shown.

Benoit's
Maine Street, Brunswick

For the Most Complete and Expert Service on Both American and Foreign Cars

OAKIE'S AUTO SERVICE
51 Bath Road PA 5-7500

We don't want all the business, just yours!

Let us help you plan your printing as well as produce it...

Our long experience in producing the following and other kinds of printing for Bowdoin men can show you short cuts in time and save you money.

TICKETS • POSTERS • STATIONERY ALUMNI LETTERS • FRATERNITY FORMS

THE RECORD OFFICE
Paul K. Niven Jerry Wilcox

Printers Of The Orient

The Arts Center, Inc.
(Across From The Campus)

RECORDS
Jazz - Classical - Folk - Popular
Motorola Stereo - Hi-Fi
Cameras - Films - Developing Complete Line of Art Materials

MOULTON UNION BOOKSTORE
To help you get those A's review with these outlines

Hymar $1.00
Littlefield TO
Adams $2.25
Barnes & Noble 79¢
Data Guide Sheets

remembered that the Masque and Gown can only continue to bring new and challenging theatre to Bowdoin so long as the College will support the efforts of the group. It has been said that the quality of Bowdoin productions is on the whole better than that of many institutions of a comparable nature. There is no better way to do this than to come to Steve Hays's Masque and Gown when it appears in Pickard Theater next week. You will be certain to enjoy yourself and remember the event for some time.

Outing Club
(Continued from page 3)

7 p.m. in conference B in the Union for the election of new officers, and for the planning of activities for next year.

There are hopes that more of the trips next year may be done with the company of women colleges, and the club has already gotten in touch with various schools for that purpose. Bradford Junior College has already invited anyone interested to play golf and tennis, etc. on the 6th of May. Very few people have shown any interest in this, probably because of poor publicity, so a post-ponement might be possible until next year.

Since the various activities of the club cover a large field of interest it is not limited in its membership. The club hopes that a large number of students will take advantage of the trips for which most of the expenses and some of the equipment will be provided. Attention is called to the climbing trip with Mr. Lembo on the 7th of May. Hope to see as many as possible at the meeting on Thursday the 18th.

Quill Review
(Continued from Page 2)

spring "this and rain, violets and Mayflowers." The poem does not need the voice of Winter - Americans see the seasons as processes, not as Renaissance personifications - but a poet might as well try every trick once.

"Memoire D'un Jour D'ete" goes through a painting to the original source - "do you remember/The archin Herald saw curied/in a wicker chair" - and then juxtaposes this French scene with an American summer day "happy as Indians." An "urchin" with a lover at "her" feet is troublesome, since an urchin is masculine and young. But the combination of French Etienne with American E. Allergier forms a lovely lyric expressing the feeling of a present moment enhanced by these two recollections from life and art. This small poem is the largest work in the Quill this Spring of 1961.

Make VACATIONLAND Your VOCATIONLAND attend Summer Sessions at UNIVERSITY OF MAINE

The University of Maine provides the finest opportunity for stimulating summer study in the invigorating atmosphere of one of our nation's choicest vacation regions. Many sunny days and cool evenings - simple opportunity to enjoy a lovely lyric expressing the feeling of a present moment enhanced by these two recollections from life and art. This small poem is the largest work in the Quill this Spring of 1961.

A. Paquette
Fine Sho Repairing
Modern Methods
Cushing Street Shopping Center

KING'S BARBER SHOP
NEXT TO CAMPUS
Bowdoin's Favorite Barbers
SIX - BARBERS - SIX

SID BERNSTEIN AND JOHN DREW Present
MUSIC AT NEWPORT
June 30, July 1-2-3

Some of the artists who will appear during the 4 day Holiday weekend.

Louis Armstrong	Joe Williams
Harold Bergerson	Cal Tjader
Lambert Hendricks & Ross	Oscar Peterson
Dave Brubeck	Art Blakey
Carmen McRae	Chico Hamilton
Benny Carter	Gerry Mulligan
Stan Getz	Benny Lewis
	Connie Basie

Tickets can be purchased now from MUSIC AT NEWPORT.
201 West 45th Street, New York, N. Y. - Circle 2-8373
Ticket prices are: $2.50; $4.50; $5.50 (tax incl.)

SIR WALTER RALEIGH
Protective Pouch Keeps Tobacco

ATTRACTIVE AND COMFORTABLE ROOMS FOR YOUR IVY DATES
THE HOTEL EAGLE
AND
COLONIAL DINING ROOM AND EAGLE'S NEST LOUNGE

Parkview Cleaners
"THE HOME OF BETTER CLEANING"
CLOTHING STORAGE DURING THE SUMMER
SUMMER STORAGE
$1.00
UNLIMITED QUANTITY
FREE MOTH PROOFING

SIR WALTER RALEIGH
FRESHER!
No spills when you fill... just dip in!

Open the pack... Out comes the Pouch!

Sooner or Later Your Favorite Tobaccos

MOULTON UNION BOOKSTORE
To help you get those A's review with these outlines

Hymar $1.00
Littlefield TO
Adams $2.25
Barnes & Noble 79¢
Data Guide Sheets

Vaillancourt Bros. Body Shop
PAINTING - SIMONIZING - WELDING
Free Estimates All Work Guaranteed
We repair foreign as well as American cars
39 JORDAN AVENUE DIAL PA 5-7908

Armitz Calls Hays' Musica "Most Beautiful" Production In Years

By Jim Armitz '61

A rebellion was commemorated on Wednesday, May 10, the calendar memorial to the Confederate States of America, and there could not have been a finer centenary north or south of the Mason-Dixon than the premiere of Stephen Hays' new musical "Shenandoah." It is the best-directed, most delicately beautiful musical ever produced on the Bowdoin campus since Dan Calder's production of "Streetcar Named Desire."

From Act I of "Shenandoah," showing Glenn McNease and Bill Barr.

The laurels go to Steve Hays, a gold-nugget talent, whose book, music, lyrics and direction have wrought a near-professional finish to a student production. June 10 should be commemorated as the "day that Bowdoin loses senior Hays' invention and virtuosity to the world."

son now, performed with the proper responsiveness. The lyrics are never precious and seldom unoriginal; at times they are beautifully poetic.

As for Hays' greatest talent, music, his songs are integrated with exceptional technique and with the music, he has his full control over the dramatic elements and tone of each scene. The inherent sadness, covered by a desperate desire to promote a better world.

Chapman, Berte Appointed Bugle Co-Editors For 1962

Appointments for the 1962 Bugle were announced this week by the present Editors, Stevens Hilliard and Robert Burnett, Vice-Chief Editors. Co-Editors will be William E. Chapman '62 and A. Paul Berte '62.

Colorful Reverend Hall To Speak In Chapel On Sunday, May 14, At 5

The Rev. Raymond S. Hall, D.D., Rector of Trinity Church in Portland, Me., who was first parish rector during World War II, will speak in chapel on Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Featured above are left to right, Alan Schiller, new co-business manager of the HU&A; Paul Berte, co-editor; Bill Chapman, co-editor; Norm Robinson, co-business manager.

Hastings '62 Appointed Research Participant For Summer By NSF

Donald W. Hastings of Mahopac, N.Y., a junior who has been appointed a National Science Foundation Research Participant in sociology at the University of North Carolina for the summer of 1961.

General Philoan To Review Cadets On Monday Afternoon

Major General Wallace C. Philoan, U.S. Army, retired, is scheduled to visit the College Cadet Corps on Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock to observe preparations for the final review on May 15.

Announcement

The Student Union Committee's new program for the summer is being made up. Look over catalogues in Union office at once and make choice. After registration, students and faculty have designated their wishes, items receiving the largest number of votes will be required for our program.

A graduate of A. B. Davis High School in Mt. Vernon, N.Y., Hastings is a Dean's List student at Bowdoin and a member of the swimming team. He is also a member of Chi Psi fraternity and Bowdoin's Army Reserve Officers Training Corps.

Dr. Uphaus To Speak May 16 Under Auspices Of Student Council

Dr. Willard Uphaus, the key figure in a famous civil rights case heard before the U.S. Supreme Court two years ago, will speak at the College Tuesday, May 16, under the auspices of the Student Council.

Dr. Uphaus received his A.B. from the University of Indiana and a Ph.D. in religion from Yale University. He has been a professor at Hastings College, Duke Divinity School, and Yale Divinity School.

Dr. Uphaus was jailed two years ago for refusing to give the Attorney General of New Hampshire, J. Lee Rankin, certain documents which he had carried on with guest speakers who attended the World Fellowship Camp.

Dr. Uphaus declined to turn it over, claiming among other things that the Fourteenth Amendment, which gives to persons tried by state courts the substantive rights which the Bill of Rights protects in federal courts, made Wyman's demand unenforceable.

When the case went to the Supreme Court in 1960 after Dr. Uphaus had been given an indefinite sentence for refusing to cooperate with a legislative investigating committee, the Justice split four to three.

Justice Brennan, who wrote for four dissenting justices, denounced the demand for the copy of the transcript as "grossly unjust."

Strange Fauna Inhabit Campus As Ivy Weekend Slips Into High Gear

Wooden Spoon

The annual Ivy Day ceremonies to be held on the steps of the Walker Art Building at 10:00 A.M. tomorrow under the supervision of the Ivy Committee, will be highlighted by the presentation of the Wooden Spoon, awarded each year at Ivy Day to the Junior voted most popular by his classmates.

Ben Famiglietti, who was chosen by the Junior Class to receive the Wooden Spoon on the steps of the Walker Art Building in Ivy Day ceremonies tomorrow.

Union Schedule

FRIDAY - MAY 12
After Ivy Dance
SATURDAY - MAY 13
After House Dances
SUNDAY - MAY 14
OPIN AT 9:30 A.M.

Weekend Schedule

Fri. May 12 8:00 Ivy Formal in the Sargent Gymnasium. Music by the Ivy Orchestra and his orchestra.

David Burt, who graduated from Bowdoin College in 1958, was elected President of the BIF for the fall of 1961.

Pianist Ronald F. Cole, '61, Awarded Standing Ovation At Recent Recital

One of Bowdoin College's most talented undergraduates gave a full-length musical recital Tuesday, May 9, in the Pickard Theater in Memorial Hall and was awarded a standing ovation.

Mr. Ronald Cole '61 of Westbrook, opened his recital on the piano with Scarlatti's Sonata No. 1 in F major. He also offered selections from Chopin, Debussy, and Tchaikovsky and played on both the piano and harpsichord.

Mr. Cole, a Dean's List student and twice winner of the coveted Academic Achievement Award, has been an outstanding member since he joined the Phi Kappa Theta Chapter at Bowdoin.

"Romeo & Juliet" To Be Presented By Masque & Gown On June Ninth

But those who are familiar with the play will know that Romeo and Juliet is not a tedious, long-winded evening of theater; the play is enlivened by some fine overplay and the expert direction of Bowdoin's fencing coach, again Professor Quincy.

Dr. Goodrich, '02, Discusses Current Problems Facing UN

Last Monday night Dr. Leland M. Goodrich, who graduated from Bowdoin College as Wednesday's was the first class of '02, spoke about "The United Nations in Crisis" before a large crowd in the Moulton Union.

Prof. Lacouriere To Lecture During Summer Institute

Professor Leo Lacouriere of Laval University in Quebec, one of the foremost experts on French-Canadian folklore, will lecture the Franco-American Institute at Bowdoin College on July 28, Dr. Gerard J. Braut, Institute Director, announced.

Union Schedule

FRIDAY - MAY 12
After Ivy Dance
SATURDAY - MAY 13
After House Dances
SUNDAY - MAY 14
OPIN AT 9:30 A.M.

THE BOWDOIN ORIENT

VOL. XXI FRIDAY, MAY 12, 1961 NO. 4

EDITORS-IN-CHIEF

Spencer C. Hunt '62 Sidney W. Woolcott '62

BOARD OF EDITORS

Hunt, Woolcott, Botohlo, Halperin, Fyle, Coffin

News Staff

Robert D. Burnett '62 Mitchell A. Pakkaplan '63 Edward P. Rindler '63 Fred M. Weber '61 Stephen F. Rusey '63 Charles G. Bridge '62 Theodore S. Curtis '62 Richard E. Benfield '62 John L. Swift '62 Peter M. Odell '64 Frederick J. Boddard '64 Donald G. Alexander '64

Sports Staff

William B. Gillies '62 Phillip A. Stone '63 Leonard C. Lee '62 Frank A. Nicolai '63 Grant T. Klopman '64 Harry L. Sherman '64 William E. Chapman '63 W. Brian Ryan '63 H. Allen Ryan '64 Russell E. Miller '64 David R. Treadwell '64 Robert M. Wick '62 Frederick C. Copeland '64

Business Staff

Bruce Leonard '63 Advertising Manager William W. Conklin '64 Circulation Managers William H. Higgins '63

Managing Editor John W. Halperin '63 Associate Editor Jonathan A. Botohlo '63 News Editor Alphonse J. Czyszewski '64 Assistant News Editor Samuel W. Cushman '63 Sports Editor John F. Coffin '64 Assistant Sports Editor George C. Hale '64 Photographers Christopher E. Michelson '61 Charles P. Flagg '63 Nancy L. Crane '64 Staff Cartoonists Christopher H. Fyle '61 Harley L. Schwadron '63 Business Staff George A. Smith '63 Circulation Staff Craig P. Magner '64 Philip N. Racine '64 Frederick F. Yannis, Jr. '64 Copy Staff David M. Nelson '64 John Welwood '64 Robert M. Christie '64 David Walker '64

Business Manager

Bruce Leonard '63

Advertising Manager

William W. Conklin '64

Circulation Managers

William H. Higgins '63

Letters To The Editor

After having read the report on "The Abolition of Fraternity Orientation Programs" which took place at the May 5 meeting of the Student Life Committee, I feel compelled to set down my own feelings. From this report, it seems obvious that the College wishes to exercise much more control over the individual fraternities. This is good. There were cases last fall in which old time hazing was closely approximated, one thing I particularly noticed was the increase in "psychological" hazing over the freshman year. The criticisms of the faculty are accurate about the orientation program and the direction it seems to be heading in, whether the fraternities will admit it or not. The faculty did not confine itself to criticisms. It made four specific suggestions, which deserve most serious consideration. The faculty apparently recognizes that the fraternities do need some corrective power, and its suggestion that initiation be dependent upon the mastery of a minimum amount of school and college work is the most sensible solution. Accept the faculty proposals, and let the freshmen study in the fall.

Goodrich has completed a distinguished record as educator, author, and advisor to the United Nations. Following two years of training in international law at the University of Brussels (1928-30) he received his doctorate from Harvard University and went into college teaching. His first post was Instructor on Government at Lafayette College in Easton, Pennsylvania. Today he is Professor of International Organization and Administration in the Columbia University School of International Affairs. During the years between Dr. Goodrich taught at Brown University, the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, and Harvard University. In 1943 he became Director of the World Peace Foundation in Boston, Massachusetts, and at the close of the War was appointed Secretary of the Committee on the Peaceful Settlement of International Disputes in the secretariat which drew up the United Nations Charter at San Francisco in 1945.

Dr. Goodrich has completed a distinguished record as educator, author, and advisor to the United Nations. Following two years of training in international law at the University of Brussels (1928-30) he received his doctorate from Harvard University and went into college teaching. His first post was Instructor on Government at Lafayette College in Easton, Pennsylvania. Today he is Professor of International Organization and Administration in the Columbia University School of International Affairs. During the years between Dr. Goodrich taught at Brown University, the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, and Harvard University. In 1943 he became Director of the World Peace Foundation in Boston, Massachusetts, and at the close of the War was appointed Secretary of the Committee on the Peaceful Settlement of International Disputes in the secretariat which drew up the United Nations Charter at San Francisco in 1945.

Dr. Goodrich has completed a distinguished record as educator, author, and advisor to the United Nations. Following two years of training in international law at the University of Brussels (1928-30) he received his doctorate from Harvard University and went into college teaching. His first post was Instructor on Government at Lafayette College in Easton, Pennsylvania. Today he is Professor of International Organization and Administration in the Columbia University School of International Affairs. During the years between Dr. Goodrich taught at Brown University, the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, and Harvard University. In 1943 he became Director of the World Peace Foundation in Boston, Massachusetts, and at the close of the War was appointed Secretary of the Committee on the Peaceful Settlement of International Disputes in the secretariat which drew up the United Nations Charter at San Francisco in 1945.

The Gargoyles

By David Walker '64

Thornton Wilder's first novel, The Gargoyles, has just been reprinted as a paperback by the Washington Square Press. It is a remarkable contrast by "our town," and for those who may have forgotten too much of that play was indeed too much of a play. The novel is a masterpiece of style, and the quality of Wilder's prose is such that it is both more complex and of higher quality. The plot of the novel is a complex of people rather than of events; it traces the heyday and disintegration of a select group of intellectual aristocrats — the Cabala — living in Rome and her environs during the early 1920's. All of the characters are fantastically wealthy, and the question which fascinates the narrator is how these people (and the quality of her personality and the perfection of Wilder's style, become apparent in passages such as the following: "She employed an unusually pure speech, a gift that went deeper than any pacifist or leftist thought proceeding complicatedly, but not less intensely, from the turn by way of climax, some sudden centralization or summary of the preceding paragraphs and she confessed that the man to whom she had been married had been a lover and terminating in a sonneto.

The Gargoyles is a masterpiece of style, and the quality of Wilder's prose is such that it is both more complex and of higher quality. The plot of the novel is a complex of people rather than of events; it traces the heyday and disintegration of a select group of intellectual aristocrats — the Cabala — living in Rome and her environs during the early 1920's. All of the characters are fantastically wealthy, and the question which fascinates the narrator is how these people (and the quality of her personality and the perfection of Wilder's style, become apparent in passages such as the following: "She employed an unusually pure speech, a gift that went deeper than any pacifist or leftist thought proceeding complicatedly, but not less intensely, from the turn by way of climax, some sudden centralization or summary of the preceding paragraphs and she confessed that the man to whom she had been married had been a lover and terminating in a sonneto.

Scuttlebutt Fenton, '31, Speaks In Chapel On "The Image Of Bowdoin"

The new president of the University of Rhode Island recently addressed the anti-Communist "Operation Abolition," which was shown at Bowdoin two weeks ago. He termed the film controversial because it "shows some people in a bad light and they don't like to be shown like that."

Mr. Alfred H. Fenton, a member of the Class of 1881, served the College during the Sequenquid Drive during the period from 1948 to 1952 as an administrative assistant in charge of public relations. He is presently associated with Ketchum, Inc., raising funds for Christchurch, Virginia.

I drew this assignment because I once said that being a Bowdoin man is better than owning a Diner's Club card — also because Mr. Wilder needed someone to fill his Chapel schedule.

Others have said in four words: Public relations is performance, proving that I tend to be verbose. However, after 14 years in college work, I am more convinced than ever that... the colleges with the highest academic standards enjoy the best reputation and raise the most money.

The Faculty And Orientation Programs

The fraternity system exists in and for the college. If it does not perform a legitimate function in the life of the college or if it obstructs rather than contributes to the larger scholastic purpose of the college of which it is a part, then there is no argument strong enough to justify its existence. Any discussion of any aspect of the fraternity program should be considered in the light of this fact. The recent debate between members of faculty of the Student Life Committee and representatives of the various fraternities, concerning the orientation program seems to indicate that the faculty were at least proceeding on a similar assumption as to the status of the fraternities within any educational system. Whether the students had thought very deeply about the matter is open to question, but it seems unlikely.

Unfortunately, the logic used by the faculty in their consideration of the orientation program is often spacious and at times borders on the absurd. With all respect to the faculty, committee, it must still be admitted that they, like the students acted and argued as persons committed to an idea and a program that should be maintained regardless of its intrinsic merit.

While it may be true that the use of force to create loyalty to the group is objectionable, some sort of coercion is necessary if the orientation is to be carried out effectively. The faculty recommends that all orientation programs include among other things "such constructive activities as the maintenance and improvement of the house and grounds." To suggest that such activities can be required of the freshmen pledges without some sort of coercion is unrealistic. If the freshmen are to be told what they must do, the fraternities need some means of coercion to make certain that the task is performed. Without some control over the freshman, little will be accomplished since the freshmen will obviously not feel as great a concern for the physical well-being of the fraternity as would the upperclassmen since the freshmen are not living in the fraternity itself. The faculty must be consistent on this point: either "maintenance and improvement of the house and grounds" has no place in the orientation program of coercion is necessary. You can't eat your cake and... In point of fact the faculty has already admitted that psychological coercion would be employed in their proposed orientation program, for they suggest that "the threat of not being initiated be made real and serious, since the present hypocritical use of this threat has obviously had little effect."

The faculty's objection that loyalty and respect are not best inculcated by methods of coercion, is well taken. To suggest the opposite is evidence of muddled thinking, a thing that the students seem to have exhibited throughout the meeting. However to imply that the upperclassmen were assuming that the freshmen were not desirous of becoming members is ridiculous. Surely the active members of the fraternity would treat their freshmen pledges with kid gloves if this were the case. Perhaps the faculty felt they were scoring a mental tour de force over the students by this suggestion, but a serious discussion is hardly the place for mental gymnastics.

The entire discussion seems to have been one in which neither side was serious in its pursuit of the best method of preparing the freshman for fraternity membership. Mr. Arr's resume of the proceedings in the discussion is titled significantly "The Abolition of Fraternity Orientation Programs. Quite obviously, the faculty came to the discussion with the preconceived idea that orientation programs should be abolished. The fraternity representatives were equally adamant that the status quo should be preserved. With such attitudes it is no wonder that the discussion became a debate rather than a serious consideration of the problem involved. Let us hope that in the future discussions of this nature will be conducted in a more receptive and less hostile atmosphere.

Commencement Schedule

- COMMENCEMENT — 1961
Sunday, June 4
4:00 p.m. Baccalaureate Service. First Parish Church.
Thursday, June 8
4:00-6:00 p.m. Class of 1960 Reception. Over Governing Boards, Faculty, College Officers, and Friends. Pickard Field House.
Friday, June 9
10:00 a.m. Annual Meeting of the Society of Bowdoin Men. Olden Hall of Music.
11:00 a.m. Commissioning of ROTC Graduates. Art Building Terrace.
12:00 noon. Chicken Barbecue Luncheon for Men (Tuna Salad alternate), followed by Meeting of the Alumni Association. Hyde Athletic Building, 6178.
12:30 noon. Chicken Barbecue Luncheon for Ladies (Tuna Salad alternate). Sargent Gymnasium, 6178.
2:00 p.m. Scholar in Politics: "Casey" Silas East for the Senate. An address by Professor Herbert Ross Brown. Pickard Theater in Memorial Hall.
3:00 p.m. Annual Meeting of Phi Beta Kappa, Alpha of Maine. Fenwick Room.
Fraternity Reunion Meetings.
4:00-5:30 p.m. Reception by President and Mrs. Coles. Moulton Union.
Class Reunion Dinners, as arranged.
8:45 p.m. Commencement Play, Romance and Juliet. Pickard Theater in Memorial Hall.
Saturday, June 10
9:30 a.m. Formation of the Commencement Procession.
10:00 a.m. The 156th Commencement Exercises in the First Parish Church, followed by the Commencement Dinner and the Luncheon for Ladies.

For detailed information, room reservations, and play tickets, address the COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC EXERCISES MARCHBURNETT'S HALL BRUNSWICK, MAINE

CUMBERLAND THEATRE BRUNSWICK, MAINE
TUESDAY-WEDNESDAY MAY 16-17
NOTE — ONE EVENING SHOW AT 7:30 P.M. MATINEE AT 1:45 P.M.
"Extraordinary evocative imagery... See it for yourself. There are no other pictures like his and they are all different." — Archer Wipfler, N.Y. Post
INGMAR BERGMAN'S THE MAGNIFICENT SEVEN
Price This Engagement MATINEE EVENING

BOWDOIN DRIVE-IN THEATRE BRUNSWICK, MAINE
TONITE THRU SATURDAY His Latest and Best! PAT BROWN WITH Buddy Hackett — Barbara Eden ALL HANDS ON DECK Cinemascope — Color SECOND TOP HIT! The whole family will love this one! FOR THE LOVE OF MIKE Cinemascope — Color A FREE PASS to see "All Hands On Deck" given with the purchase of a "PAT BROWN" record at FIELDS' RADIO & MUSIC STORE!
STARTS SUNDAY The story of a boy — the animals he loves — and the people who love him!
A FREE PASS to see "All Hands On Deck" given with the purchase of a "PAT BROWN" record at FIELDS' RADIO & MUSIC STORE!
STARTS SUNDAY The story of a boy — the animals he loves — and the people who love him!
Trevor Howard — D. Stockwell SONS AND LOVERS Cinemascope

THE HOTEL EAGLE COLONIAL DINING ROOM AND EAGLE'S NEST LOUNGE
MOULTON UNION BOOKSTORE BOWDOIN Beach Towels $3.75
VARIETY OF GIFTS FOR YOUR DATE DON'T FORGET MOTHER'S DAY THIS SUNDAY
OUTFITTERS TO BOWDOIN MEN
Bermuda Shorts In new patterns of madras, batik, and fine domestic cottons and dacron and cotton. $3.98 to $8.95
Knit Sport Shirts In stripes and smart new solid colors that wash without worry. Cottons and Banlon. $2.98 to $8.95
Slacks In cool lightweight washable fabrics — cut like expensive trousers but only $7.95
A. H. BENOIT & CO. MAINE STREET BRUNSWICK

Polar Bearings

By Jack Coffin

Spring is upon us. Ivy houseparties are here, the library is filled with students starting the grind for finals, and the athletic teams are preparing for the closing rounds of the year's intercollegiate competition.

With these thoughts in mind why not review the possible change which could be made in the athletic departments set up, the introduction of the controversial wrestling team.

Upon assuming the duties of sports editor, I find I have a great deal of freedom with the material printed in this column.

PAT ON THE BACK: For his excellent performance at the National Collegiate Weightlifting Association Championships and his first place in the middleweight class at the state weightlifting meet, BOB HAGGERTY has been selected as this week's outstanding athlete.

Frosh Golf Team Wins First Three

The freshmen golf team opened played very well for a 6-5 win their season on a highly successful Treaswell, Floom who played to a note by crushing the Maine freshman team.

PORTER - SHAW, INC.

YOUR NEW FORD DEALER

157 Pleasant St. PA 5-5555 Brunswick

SERVICE SPECIALS

Fordomatic Transmission - Adjust & Inspect

$700

Front End - Aligned & Balanced

$1095

The traditional look in

ARROW SPORT SHIRTS

The fabric, the fashion, the feeling... all lend the look of classic authenticity to these favored Arrow sport shirts.

Tailored in long sleeves $5.00 and short sleeves $4.00

From the "Com Leads Collection"

Mainline Split

Last week the Polar Bear nine consisted of five State Series players and split the doubleheaders with Bates and Maine.

In the first game against Bates on May 3, Ed Callahan pitched the Polar Bear to a 3-1 victory.

Bowdoin did all his scoring in the fifth when he bunched together four hits. Callahan helped his cause by driving in a run on a single, and then Nest Stowell delivered a two-run single to right.

The second game also turned out to be a pitcher's duel, but Bates won this time, 3-2.

With these thoughts in mind why not review the possible change which could be made in the athletic departments set up, the introduction of the controversial wrestling team.

Kelly, Haggerty Place In National Collegiate Weightlifting Contest

Bob Haggerty and Bill Kelly placed fourth and third respectively in their divisions at the National Collegiate Weightlifting Association Championship which was held in College Park, Maryland on May 6.

Cub Tennis Team Wins Around The Loop

After having their first match cancelled because of bad weather, the freshmen tennis team played well winning their opening two matches by the identical scores of 7-2.

Coming Events

Table listing upcoming events for Volleyball, Softball, and Frosh events with dates and opponents.

A. Paquette Fine Shoe Repairing

Any member of the college, student or faculty, is eligible for prize money. Your original slides will be returned. Submit entries to the Union Office before Commencement.

PICK THE RIGHT ONE... THE BRACING BRIGHT ONE!

Auburn-Portland, Maine

Stickmen Romp To Victory Over Nichols, Then Lose

The attack; Green, Finlayson, and Widmer at the midfield; Don Prince, Dave Fernald, and Craig Cleaves at the defense; and Al Prince at the goal post.

Despite this fine showing, the team was given a large setback by the M.I.T. ten. Out experienced and outplayed, the Polar Bears were able to get only one into the nets while the opponents sneaked by their matches.

Captain Fuller scored the only Bowdoin goal early in the fourth period assisted by Snyder. The M.I.T. team led the entire way with a 6-0 lead at the half.

Bowdoin's lineup was the same as against Nichols with the exception of Korper instead of Snyder at the attack, and Mason instead of Fernald at the defense.

Although the Bowdoin lacrosse team was unable to down a more experienced M.I.T. squad, the Polar Bear team came through with their first victory of the season beating M.I.T. 1-0.

Scoring for the Polar Bears in the game were Jack Adams with four goals, Ted Fuller with three goals, Bill Widmer with one goal, Jerry Roberts with two goals, Carl Von Merrens with two goals, and two assists, John Sweeney with one goal.

A warm ripple of applause drifted across the infield of Bates' Garretson field, as Maine's Pete MacPhee strode forward to receive the Hillman Award for the best performance at the Maine state track meet of last Saturday.

Although Bowdoin took its expected third and only one first place, the White produced some performance, it could well be proud of.

The Freshmen Medley relay team capped by Bill Rounds' lead off quarter took a second to Maine.

Next week the varsity travels to Worcester, Mass. for the Easterns. Dates: Maine vs. Bates 25, Bowdoin 27, Colby 29.

Following are the athletic events to take place at Bowdoin during the remainder of the academic year.

Thirty dollars in prize money will be given for 38 mm colored slides, three dollars a slide, for the ten best views of the Bowdoin Campus.

Harry Silverman is shown catching a throw to first in the Frosh game with MCL. Bowdoin was 11-1. (Photo by Flagg)

On Wednesday, May 3, the Bowdoin Frosh baseball team traveled with two runs. With one out, Dave Fitts singled, with two out, Harry Silverman then singled.

Harry Silverman is shown catching a throw to first in the Frosh game with MCL. Bowdoin was 11-1. (Photo by Flagg)

On Saturday, May 6 at home, Bowdoin Frosh easily beat Maine Central Institute, 12-1.

On Wednesday, May 3, the Bowdoin Frosh baseball team traveled with two runs. With one out, Dave Fitts singled, with two out, Harry Silverman then singled.

YANKEE-BURGER and ROOT BEER BORDERING CAMPUS PINES, BATH ROAD

On May 2 the Bowdoin Varsity Golf Team was beaten by the University of Maine by a score of 4-3.

The Polar Bear linkmen then proceeded to visit Colby at Waterville, 4-3.

This week the team will be at the University of Rhode Island for the New England Intercollegiate Golf Tournament.

The scores were: Lehigh 209, Merrimack 210, Tufts 203, Amherst 198, North Dame 197, Northeastern 189, Middlebury 165, Toronto 156, Wake-forest Tech 146.

Bowdoin's sailors have one more meet which is not listed on the annual spring sports schedule.

Robert Hale, 44, a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity, has been named the new assistant orienteer.

Bob Haggerty and Bill Kelly placed fourth and third respectively in their divisions at the National Collegiate Weightlifting Association Championship.

After having their first match cancelled because of bad weather, the freshmen tennis team played well winning their opening two matches by the identical scores of 7-2.

Following are the athletic events to take place at Bowdoin during the remainder of the academic year.

Thirty dollars in prize money will be given for 38 mm colored slides, three dollars a slide, for the ten best views of the Bowdoin Campus.

Harry Silverman is shown catching a throw to first in the Frosh game with MCL. Bowdoin was 11-1. (Photo by Flagg)

On Wednesday, May 3, the Bowdoin Frosh baseball team traveled with two runs. With one out, Dave Fitts singled, with two out, Harry Silverman then singled.

On Saturday, May 6 at home, Bowdoin Frosh easily beat Maine Central Institute, 12-1.

On Wednesday, May 3, the Bowdoin Frosh baseball team traveled with two runs. With one out, Dave Fitts singled, with two out, Harry Silverman then singled.

On Saturday, May 6 at home, Bowdoin Frosh easily beat Maine Central Institute, 12-1.

On Wednesday, May 3, the Bowdoin Frosh baseball team traveled with two runs. With one out, Dave Fitts singled, with two out, Harry Silverman then singled.

On Saturday, May 6 at home, Bowdoin Frosh easily beat Maine Central Institute, 12-1.

YANKEE-BURGER and ROOT BEER BORDERING CAMPUS PINES, BATH ROAD

Polar Bearings

By Jack Coffin

Now that the year is over, all that remains are predictions of next year's successes. Will the Polar Bears boast another season as fine as this year's? To make accurate predictions one must consider several factors. First, how have the teams done this year? This is an easy question to answer. Almost all Bowdoin athletic teams display a winning season and many have exceptionally fine records to their credit.

As the season is over, you might be interested in whose stories you have been reading:

- Varsity Baseball — Frank Nicolai
Frosh Baseball — Harry Silverman
Varsity and Frosh Track — Pete Gillies
Varsity Sailing — Bill Chapman and Jack Coffin
Frosh Sailing — John Reed and Jack Coffin
Varsity Lacrosse — Sam Cushman
Frosh Lacrosse — Al Ryan
Varsity Tennis — Fred Copeland
Frosh Tennis — Rusty Miller
Varsity Golf — Barry Wish
Frosh Golf — Dave Treadwell and Grant Kloppman
Interfraternity Sports — Phillip Stone

Stimie: 2, Lose 1; Eric: 3-4

Rounding out the seven game season this past week, the Polar Bear lacrosse team added two victories and one loss to its 1-5 record. The squad downed New England College 10-4, Nichols 11-5, and put up a battle against Tufts only to drop the game 1-7.

Scoring for the Bears were Charlie Finlayson with 1 goal, Fred Green with 2 assists, Les Korper with 1 goal and 1 assist, captain Ted Fuller with 3 goals, John Roberts with 1 goal and 2 assists, Al Berte with 1 goal and 1 assist, and Jack Adams with 1 goal. The goalsies: Al Prince starting and John MacDonald subbing, made 13 saves compared to New England's 11.

Baseball Team Wins One, Loses Three, Completes A Season With 5-13 Record

On May 10 Bowdoin resumed its State Series play with a doubleheader against Colby at Waterville. Unfortunately, the Polar Bears dropped both ends. Jim Bridgeman, Colby's ace pitcher, bested Ed Callahan 5-1. Bowdoin could only muster five hits; one of them was a home run by Dick Leeman in the fourth. Colby produced all its runs in the fifth and sixth innings on five hits and five walks.

The Polar Bears looked like a sure bet to win the second game, leading 3-0 going into the bottom of the ninth, but Colby produced seven runs to win 10-4. The Polar Bears' starting lineup and stats with the exception of shifting Venetti to sub at defense.

Charles Speleotis Named Guard In National Warner Conference All-America Scholar-Athlete Team

Charles J. Speleotis of Peabody, Mass., Co-Captain-Rect and top-flight guard on the Maine State Series Championship football team, has been selected as top defensive guard on the 1961 National Pop Warner Conference All-America Scholar-Athlete Team.

He entered Bowdoin under an Alumni Fund Scholarship and since then has won two letters in football and one in golf. This year he is also a member of the varsity baseball team. A cadet in the Bowdoin ROTC unit, he was awarded an Academic Achievement Award as a sophomore and has maintained an "A" grade in his ROTC courses this year.

Frosh Nine Lose At Maine; Colby

On Wednesday, May 10, 1960, the Bowdoin Frosh traveled to Colby and were solidly beaten 6-0. The freshmen collected only three hits, all singles, in the game. Besides poor batting, they were poor defensively, making errors and throwing the ball away with regularity. The five day delay due to inclement weather was a key factor in the Frosh's poor showing to date. The Colby team scored three runs in the first inning of Tvererson and three later in the game.

Varsity Football, Hockey, Soccer, Basketball, And Swimming Teams '60-'61 Season Summaries And Records

The resume of the season is as follows: Football: Bowdoin 0 Wesleyan 4, Bowdoin 0 Lowell Tech. 1, Bowdoin 2 Bates 0, Bowdoin 0 Colby 3, Bowdoin 3 Babson 1, Bowdoin 0 Colby 1.

Varsity Football, Hockey, Soccer, Basketball, And Swimming Teams '60-'61 Season Summaries And Records

Football: Roaring back from a disappointing start the 1960 varsity football team whipped their last five opponents and walked away with the Maine State Series Football Championship. This showed that the importance of these characteristics is often overlooked in considering intellectual qualities. It takes power and drive to overcome the temptation to loaf through college, or to attack a particularly tough academic problem.

Varsity Football, Hockey, Soccer, Basketball, And Swimming Teams '60-'61 Season Summaries And Records

Hockey: The Bowdoin hockey team, ranked ninth in the East on offense and fourth in the East on defense, has chalked up a host of team and individual honors according to final figures announced in the recently published Eastern College Hockey Year Book.

A. Paquette Fine Shoe Repairing by Modern Methods Cushing Street Shopping Center

PICK THE RIGHT ONE... THE BRACING BRIGHT ONE! PEPSI-COLA Auburn-Portland, Maine

Parkview Cleaners "THE HOME OF BETTER CLEANING" CLOTHING STORAGE DURING THE SUMMER

PSI U CAPTURES Total Point Cup Fd Upsilon captured the Total Point Cup for 1960-1961, netting their first place margin by winning the volleyball title in this spring's interfraternity athletic league.

SUMMER STORAGE $1.00 UNLIMITED QUANTITY FREE MOTH PROOFING

MOULTON UNION BOOKSTORE Welcome Alumni We invite you to visit the Moulton Union Bookstore on Commencement Weekend

PORTER - SHAW, INC. YOUR NEW FORD DEALER 157 Pleasant St. PA 5-5555 Brunswick

SMITH PHOTO SHOP Photo Supplies Hallmark Greeting Cards Contemporary Cards 146 Main St., Brunswick

SERVICE SPECIALS Fordomatic Transmission — Adjust & Inspect $700 Front End — Aligned & Balanced $1095

KING'S BARBER SHOP NEXT TO CAMPUS Bowdoin's Favorite Barbers SIX — BARBERS — SIX

FIRST NATIONAL BANK Brunswick, Maine Member of the Federal Reserve System and Member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

AWAITING YOUR ARRIVAL Clean, comfortable and reasonable accommodations for sportsmen, club members, administrators and groups in the heart of midtown New York, close to all transportation and nearby Empire State Center.

Smith Photo Shop Photo Supplies Hallmark Greeting Cards Contemporary Cards 146 Main St., Brunswick

PSI U CAPTURES Total Point Cup Fd Upsilon captured the Total Point Cup for 1960-1961, netting their first place margin by winning the volleyball title in this spring's interfraternity athletic league.

SMITH PHOTO SHOP Photo Supplies Hallmark Greeting Cards Contemporary Cards 146 Main St., Brunswick

KING'S BARBER SHOP NEXT TO CAMPUS Bowdoin's Favorite Barbers SIX — BARBERS — SIX

BILL'S Featuring 3 Minute Pizzas Italian Spaghetti — Ravelli Hot Pastries — Steaks and Chees — Regular Dinners

AWAITING YOUR ARRIVAL Clean, comfortable and reasonable accommodations for sportsmen, club members, administrators and groups in the heart of midtown New York, close to all transportation and nearby Empire State Center.

WILLIAM SLOANE HOUSE Y.M.C.A. 199 West 24th St., New York, N.Y. 10011

SMITH PHOTO SHOP Photo Supplies Hallmark Greeting Cards Contemporary Cards 146 Main St., Brunswick

PSI U CAPTURES Total Point Cup Fd Upsilon captured the Total Point Cup for 1960-1961, netting their first place margin by winning the volleyball title in this spring's interfraternity athletic league.

SMITH PHOTO SHOP Photo Supplies Hallmark Greeting Cards Contemporary Cards 146 Main St., Brunswick

KING'S BARBER SHOP NEXT TO CAMPUS Bowdoin's Favorite Barbers SIX — BARBERS — SIX

BILL'S Featuring 3 Minute Pizzas Italian Spaghetti — Ravelli Hot Pastries — Steaks and Chees — Regular Dinners

AWAITING YOUR ARRIVAL Clean, comfortable and reasonable accommodations for sportsmen, club members, administrators and groups in the heart of midtown New York, close to all transportation and nearby Empire State Center.

FOR THE BEST IN CHOICE TABLE-RITE STEER BEEF Groceries — Fruit and Vegetables SHOP AT THE VERNOS' IGA 51 HANPSWELL STREET DIAL PA 6-7122

Fellowships Received By 10 Outstanding Juniors For Research Projects

Ten of the members of the Class of 1962 at Bowdoin College will be awarded fellowships...

The purpose of the Undergraduate Research Fellowship Program at Bowdoin is to encourage outstanding students...

Eight Awarded Honorary Degrees At Commencement

Awarded the Honorary Degrees of Doctor of Letters and Doctor of Humane Letters...

WARREN GARDNER HILL, Commissioner of Education for the State of Maine...

NEAL WOODSIDE ALLEN, Master of Arts... JOHN BOWERS MATTHEWS, Master of Arts...

Institute In Radiation Biology Offered Here This Summer

A few short years ago atomic energy was considered too 'hot' for anyone but the most cautious...

EDWARD CHASE KIRKLAND, Historian, scholar, writer, and author of 'The American Revolution'...

WARREN GARDNER HILL, Commissioner of Education for the State of Maine...

NEAL WOODSIDE ALLEN, Master of Arts... JOHN BOWERS MATTHEWS, Master of Arts...

From applicants, the College has chosen 20 participants who will each receive a stipend of $400...

Working with Mr. James Wilson, director of the Bureau of Municipal Research...

Working with Mr. Walter D. Jones with 'Calculation of the Infrared Absorption Spectra of Certain of the Vibrational Modes of the Formate Ion'...

Leatherwood And Hays Given Dramatics Awards For Acting & Directing

The Faculty Committee on Awards at Bowdoin College has voted to award the Alice Merrill Mitchell Prize for Acting to Jesse C. Leatherwood...

Leatherwood was awarded the Mitchell Prize for his outstanding acting in the Student-Written One-Act Play Contest of 1959...

EDWARD CHASE KIRKLAND, Historian, scholar, writer, and author of 'The American Revolution'...

Working with Mr. Walter D. Jones with 'Calculation of the Infrared Absorption Spectra of Certain of the Vibrational Modes of the Formate Ion'...

Leatherwood was awarded the Mitchell Prize for his outstanding acting in the Student-Written One-Act Play Contest of 1959...

WARREN GARDNER HILL, Commissioner of Education for the State of Maine...

WARREN GARDNER HILL, Commissioner of Education for the State of Maine...

WARREN GARDNER HILL, Commissioner of Education for the State of Maine...

WARREN GARDNER HILL, Commissioner of Education for the State of Maine...

NEAL WOODSIDE ALLEN, Master of Arts... JOHN BOWERS MATTHEWS, Master of Arts...

NEAL WOODSIDE ALLEN, Master of Arts... JOHN BOWERS MATTHEWS, Master of Arts...

NEAL WOODSIDE ALLEN, Master of Arts... JOHN BOWERS MATTHEWS, Master of Arts...

NEAL WOODSIDE ALLEN, Master of Arts... JOHN BOWERS MATTHEWS, Master of Arts...

From applicants, the College has chosen 20 participants who will each receive a stipend of $400...

From applicants, the College has chosen 20 participants who will each receive a stipend of $400...

From applicants, the College has chosen 20 participants who will each receive a stipend of $400...

From applicants, the College has chosen 20 participants who will each receive a stipend of $400...

Brunswick Coal & Lumber Co. Mobilheat Fuel Oil 18 Spring Street Dial PA 9-3341

The Arts Center, Inc. (Across From The Campus) RECORDS Jazz - Classical - Folk - Popular Motorola Stereo - Hi-Fi Cameras - Films - Developing Complete Line of Art Materials

Benoit's To The Class Of '61 Our sincere wishes for your future. May it be as rich in its reward as it is bright with promise

To All Our Friends At Bowdoin Have a nice summer - we look forward to seeing you in the fall. A. H. BENOIT & CO. MAINE STREET BRUNSWICK

Vaillancourt Bros. Body Shop PAINTING - SIMONIZING - WELDING Free Estimates All Work Guaranteed We repair foreign as well as American cars 39 JORDAN AVENUE DIAL PA 5-7908

THE HOTEL EAGLE ORIENT Now In 91th Year IT'S A BARGAIN! COMPARE THE PRICES! ORIENT subscription 1871 $ 2 1961 $ 4 % Increase 100 Tuition, fees 180 1250 600 Room rent 30 270 800 Board 90-120 500 400 Enter Your Subscription NOW! Only $4.00

PHIL'S MEN'S STORE 81 Front Street, Bath 78 Maine Street, Brunswick Granite Farm DAIRY For All Your Dairy Product Needs Brunswick, Maine Dial PA 9-3422

"Two for the Seesaw" To Be Played in Pickard Tomorrow At 8:15 P.M.

Two for the Seesaw, a recent Broadway hit starring Fritzi Cohn and Peter Gray, two former Bowdoin players...

Originally performed by Henry Fonda and Anne Bancroft, Two for the Seesaw was called Brook Atkinson...

The performance is scheduled for 8:15 to 11 in the theater with the Bowdoin cast...

College Announces Tuition Increase; To Begin In 1962

The Governing Board of the College has voted an increase in tuition from its present level of $1,200 to $1,500 beginning in September, 1962...

President Cole emphasized that Bowdoin's financial aid program of scholarship grants and loans will be augmented to help those students whose families may not be able to pay the full charges...

"A student who is a member of the college will be able to continue his studies so long as his work is satisfactory, regardless of financial need," he said.

Philip B. Wilder, Director of Bowdoin's student aid program, pointed out that more than half of Bowdoin's present student body is receiving some form of financial aid through the Program...

"Bowdoin's continuing development program will increase the endowed funds so that they will continue to support Bowdoin's program in the total operating costs of the college," he said.

High School Teachers To Earn M.A. Degrees Under New NSF Plan

Ten men from the four corners of continental United States represent the first class of candidates for a masters degree at Bowdoin College...

Enrolled in the National Science Foundation Academic Year Institute in Mathematics under the direction of Professor Reinhard J. Kling...

Annual Meeting of Fathers Association This Weekend

The Bowdoin Fathers Association is made up of fathers of current undergraduates at the College. The group holds annual meetings on Parents Weekend held each year in October at Bowdoin.

A simple courtesy extended in a vote taken by the Fathers Association has resulted in an object lesson in world understanding which could have far-reaching effects.

Last year the Association voted honorary membership in its organization to fathers of foreign students attending Bowdoin.

Acting President of the Association, Robert Collins of Butler, R. J., expressed his appreciation for this courtesy have poured into the Association from four continents.

Treasurer's Report Emphasizes Active Support By Alumni

The importance of the nation's colleges and universities of alumni support through annual giving was soundly demonstrated at Bowdoin College during the past year, a report from College Treasurer Charles W. Allen indicates.

The 1960-61 Alumni Fund totaled $217,500 from 4,887 contributors, of which $121,210 was available for general college purposes.

Chairman of the Alumni Fund for 1961 was Frederick W. Willey '17 of Pittsburgh, Penna. Other Directors were Lloyd O. Coulter '18 of Epping, N. H., Edward F. Chase '38 of Belmont, Mass., Edward B. Egan '46 of Westport, Conn., William B. Arnold III '51 of Waterville, and Secretary of the Alumni Fund Robert M. Cross '46 of Brunswick.

Muskie Speaks Tomorrow For James Bowdoin Day

Senator Edmund S. Muskie will be the James Bowdoin Day speaker at Bowdoin College this Friday.

Named in honor of the earliest patron of the College, James Bowdoin Day was instituted in 1941 to accord recognition to those undergraduates who distinguish themselves in scholarship.

A representative to the Maine Legislature from 1947 to 1951, he was elected Governor of Maine in 1955 and holds honorary doctor of laws degrees from Bowdoin, Bates, Maine, Colby and Cornell University and an honorary D.P.A. degree from Suffolk University.

204 Pledged During Rushing; Zetes Top With Twenty-Two

Experimental theater in the Brunswick area has been moving forward recently with the formation of the Potluck Players, a new group under the auspices of the Masque and Gown of Bowdoin College.

The Players first production will be "An Evening of Chekov Fare" to be presented on Saturday evening of Homecoming Weekend.

The concept of the Players is to produce plays, on a small scale, that would attempt to draw actors and production workers from the Brunswick community as a whole...

OTC Cadets Set High Mark At Summer Camp

Bowdoin College's 52 cadets at the 1961 Army ROTC Camp at Fort Devens, Mass., set a new high mark for Bowdoin units which will serve as a challenge for succeeding groups to do even better.

Exposed to a rigorous program and stellar competition from outstanding students from other large and well-known institutions, the Bowdoin side of 1961 compared favorably with his contemporary from other colleges and frequently proved himself to be above average as superior," said Colonel Ryan.

"Summer camp, in a sense, is the crucible in determining whether the ROTC cadet has what it takes to become an Army officer," said Colonel Ryan.

Professor Whiteside Lauds Peace Corps In Recent Discussion

"Among the many critics of President Kennedy's Peace Corps program, says Professor Whiteside of the History Department, few of them seem to have any constructive criticism.

Dr. Whiteside has a personal interest in the Peace Corps since spending eight weeks at Rutgers University during the summer as one of the instructors of a group of 62 young men who are now in their final stages of their training for a crucial test in the villages of Colombia in South America.

He feels that many of these critics would be silenced if they could see at first hand the dedication and determination in cutting down the number of candidates to the 62 who were finally to go to Colombia, if a man seemed to have joined the Peace Corps because he was running away from something disagreeable in his job or personal background, his case was reviewed. Thus at least 100 "problem" candidates were discovered and dropped from the program.

"I could not help feeling that someone who had a great deal to contribute were being dropped because of the problems of nature."

"In discussing this idea with the volunteers I learned very much about the motivation that can be learned by asking them directly why they joined the Peace Corps," says Dr. Whiteside.

Spanish, and had engaged in social work among Mexican migrant farm labor. He felt himself to be both interested in and qualified for Peace Corps work in Latin America."

At Rutgers a great deal of attention was paid to the matter of motivation in cutting down the number of candidates to the 62 who were finally to go to Colombia, if a man seemed to have joined the Peace Corps because he was running away from something disagreeable in his job or personal background, his case was reviewed. Thus at least 100 "problem" candidates were discovered and dropped from the program.

Chi Psi, ARU Top House Standings; ATO Places 2nd

Table with 2 columns: Fraternity Name and Standings. Includes Chi Psi, ARU, ATO, etc.

19 States And Philippine Is. Represented In Class Of '65

Just in with straight "A" records for the past semester are George E. Christopher of Windsor, Conn., Francis B. Mancini of Dorchester, Mass., and Charles P. Foltz of Miami, Conn. Foltz was elected to Phi Beta Kappa earlier this month.

One graduating senior, three juniors and two freshmen compiled straight "A" records in all their courses during the spring semester at Bowdoin College.

The senior, who was graduated cum laude, is Christopher '65 of Phi Beta Kappa with Highest Honors in Physics, is John S. Moore of Skowhegan.

Just in with straight "A" records for the past semester are George E. Christopher of Windsor, Conn., Francis B. Mancini of Dorchester, Mass., and Charles P. Foltz of Miami, Conn. Foltz was elected to Phi Beta Kappa earlier this month.

The members of the first-year class who have earned recognition on the select list are Steven J. Wells of Jenkintown, Penna., and John H. Woodrow of Brookline, Mass.

Members of the first-year class who have earned recognition on the select list are Steven J. Wells of Jenkintown, Penna., and John H. Woodrow of Brookline, Mass.

Members of the first-year class who have earned recognition on the select list are Steven J. Wells of Jenkintown, Penna., and John H. Woodrow of Brookline, Mass.

Members of the first-year class who have earned recognition on the select list are Steven J. Wells of Jenkintown, Penna., and John H. Woodrow of Brookline, Mass.

Members of the first-year class who have earned recognition on the select list are Steven J. Wells of Jenkintown, Penna., and John H. Woodrow of Brookline, Mass.

Members of the first-year class who have earned recognition on the select list are Steven J. Wells of Jenkintown, Penna., and John H. Woodrow of Brookline, Mass.

Members of the first-year class who have earned recognition on the select list are Steven J. Wells of Jenkintown, Penna., and John H. Woodrow of Brookline, Mass.

Members of the first-year class who have earned recognition on the select list are Steven J. Wells of Jenkintown, Penna., and John H. Woodrow of Brookline, Mass.

THE BOWDOIN ORIENT

OL. XXI SATURDAY, JUNE 10, 1961 NO. 5

EDITORS-IN-CHIEF Spencer C. Hunt '62 Sidney W. Woolcott '63

BOARD OF EDITORS Hunt, Woolcott, Botelho, Halperin, Fyle, Coffin

- Managing Editor John W. Halperin '63 Associate Editor Jonathan A. Botelho '63 News Editor Alphonse J. Czuprak '64 Assistant News Editor Samuel W. Cushman '63 Sports Editor John F. Coffin '64 Assistant Sports Editor Robert C. Hale '64 Photographers Christopher B. Michelson '61 David M. Nelson '64 Sanford L. Oran '64 Staff Cartoonists Christopher H. Fyle '61 Harry L. Schwadron '63 Business Staff George A. Smith '63 Circulation Staff Craig F. Magner '64 Philip N. Racine '64 Frederick F. Yennie, Jr. '64 Copy Staff Russell E. Miller '64 John Weislow '64 Walter M. Christie '64 David Walker '64 Business Manager Bruce Leonard '63 Advertising Manager William W. Conklin '64 Circulation Managers William E. Higgins '63

THE BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY Mr. Bela W. Norton Prof. Albert P. Daggett Dr. Stephen Piper David C. McLean Spencer C. Hunt Robert L. Haggerty Sidney W. Woolcott

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY College Publishers Representative 19 BATT STREET NEW YORK, N. Y.

Published weekly when classes are held during the Fall and Spring Semesters by the students of Bowdoin College...

Potluck Players

We welcome the appearance of the Potluck Players as an integral part of the artistic activities at the college. Comment on the implications of the emergence of this experimental theatre group seems peculiarly appropriate at this time.

The Potluck Players have a semi-autonomous relationship with the venerable Masque and Gown; that is, the Players receive funds from and are normally a special committee under the auspices of the M & G.

Whether this is not the only possible direction in which the Potluck Players may develop. There is already talk about the Players forming the nucleus of what may become a community theatre of the sort that once was active in the Brunswick area.

Whether there is any real possibility of the Potluck Player's giving us some student and faculty written plays is an open question. Certainly, if a theatre group is to be truly experimental, this is desirable.

For the Most Complete and Expert Service on Both American and Foreign Cars its

OAKIE'S AUTO SERVICE 51 Bath Road PA 5-5700

Gargoyle McSweeney Lists Goals For Fall's Orientation

The Aboard in Fiction: Samuel Beckett's Molloy (New Directions, 1958)

With Waiting for Godot and Endgame now part of the contemporary student canon, close attention ought to be given Beckett's Molloy, especially his trilogy: Molloy, Malone Dies and The Unnamable. It seems unlikely that these works will find a large audience — they are difficult in the ways that the plays are difficult, and of course lack the visual impact which Beckett contrives (with so few materials) on the stage.

In 1968 the College made a large step forward with the abolition of the physical and psychological aspects of the orientation program designed to better integrate freshmen into the Bowdoin and fraternity systems.

All of you here have certainly heard the stories that many graduates still like to tell about the good old days when racoon, fire drills, pug-dog contests, onion eating, sleeping and time consuming were much in vogue. In some ways these practices may have been good in pulling a class closer together, but there are certainly better ways to make a group of men work together toward a common goal other than by creating the fear that prevailed throughout the pledge classes on this campus just four years ago.

(Continued on page 4)

Facsimile of Gutenberg Bible Given To Library

A facsimile copy of the famous Gutenberg Bible, gift of the Honorable Sumner T. Pills '35 of Lubec, has been presented to the Bowdoin College Library.

The Bowdoin copy, now on exhibition in the lobby of Frothingham Hall, is in two volumes: the first containing 646 pages, the second, 694. The page size is approximately 12 by 18 1/2 inches, and the margins, suitably illuminated, are large. The paper, off-white, 90-lb. 100 percent rag stock content made especially for this edition, has a laid finish which is smooth enough to take the quality gravure used.

To duplicate the original, two printing processes were utilized. The 68 illuminated pages were printed by a five color process, sheet fed, so that the many subtle colors and shades could be best reproduced. Color was used throughout and was protected from change and discoloration by both an undercoat and an overcoat of lacquer.

The Gutenberg Bible, of all the books the world has produced, has probably created one of the greatest lasting effects, ranking equally with the discovery of the printing invention of the word. Coming just before the Reformation, this book, the first major work printed from movable type, helped to push back into history the dark hours of the preceding centuries.

(Continued on page 4)

3 Professors Granted Sabbatical Leaves For Academic Year 1961-62

Three professors have been granted sabbatical leaves and four others leave of absence for the academic year 1961-62.

Granted sabbatical leaves for the full academic year are Dr. Albert Abrahamson, George Lincoln Eliot-Wald, Jr., Professor of Economics; and Prof. Lawrence Sargent Hall, of the English Department, Professor Albert R. Thayer, Harrison King McCann Professor of Oral Communication in the Department of English, has been granted a sabbatical leave for the first semester of the next academic year.

Granted leaves of absence for the entire academic year are Richard L. Chittim, Associate Professor of Economics; Marc W. Bodine, Jr., Assistant Professor of Geology; Giulio Pontecorvo, Assistant Professor of Zoology; and Louis O. Cozz, Pierre Professor of English.

Patronize Our Advertisers TAKE ADVANTAGE of National Review's SPECIAL STUDENT RATE FOR THE ACADEMIC YEAR Don't miss another issue!

Benoit's OUTFITTERS TO BOWDOIN MEN WELCOME BACK SPECIAL EXCELLENT VALUES IMPORTED ENGLISH WOOL CHALLIS AND PURE SILK REPP NECKWEAR Normally $2.50 3 for $5.00 $1.69 each In pattern-coloring and quality — this neckwear reflects the good taste appreciated by college men. Our Button-Down Oxford Cloth Shirts $4.50 A. H. BENOIT & CO. MAINE STREET BRUNSWICK

WON'T SHRINK EVEN IF YOU DO ADLER SC's Adler SC's are guaranteed not to shrink one of fit or your money back. Lamb's wool, in men's and women's sizes, in white and 12 other colors. Just $1 at fine stores. ADLER SC's AVAILABLE IN WHITE AND COLORS AT PHILS BENOIT'S

"Direct Action" Fraternity Clauses Topics of Mancini's 'B.S.' Response

by Frank Mancini

Whenever one accepts the privilege of speaking from such an important platform... "Mind you, the pressure to limit oneself comes from within; it is the natural desire to avoid saying things..."

However, this is a temporary feeling and fades rather quickly in some cases... "Last Spring, the fascinating documentary film 'Operation Abolition'..."

Fraternity Officers For Fall Semester

Fraternity officers for the fall semester are as follows: A.D. Pres. - Glen Saunders '62 V. Pres. - Steve Hilyard '62 Sec. - Fred Stoddard '62

Fraternity officers for the fall semester are as follows: A.D. Pres. - Glen Saunders '62 V. Pres. - Steve Hilyard '62 Sec. - Fred Stoddard '62

Cadet Steve Piper Appointed Captain Of ROTC Battalion

Lieutenant Colonel Edward A. Ryan, Professor of Military Science at Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine, has announced the appointment of Cadet William Stephen Piper as First Captain of the Bowdoin College ROTC Cadet Battalion.

Cadet Piper's selection as First Captain, cadet commanding the ROTC Battalion, was based on his demonstrated military proficiency and leadership ability.

A. I. DuPont Foundation Awards Scholarships To Sawyer, McLean

A College senior and a graduate enrolled in the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism are the first recipients of scholarships awarded under the newly-established Alfred I. DuPont Awards Foundation Communication Scholarship Program at the College.

Reviewer Finds "Two For The Seesaw" To Be Quite Enjoyable

by Dorothy Fisher Babbs

They played, they swore, they espoused... I found, my way through a crowd of people, five policemen, one fire truck, uptown freshmen and three feet of water to get to my assignment...

Looking closer at American history, we see that the agitators of the Civil War period broke laws established by their own people and government. Wendell Phillips and William Lloyd Garrison advocated direct opposition to the federal Fugitive Slave Law.

It would seem that most of the illustrious names of the Boston were direct actionists in those days. If only they were so now!

Compulsory Chapel Discussed At Student Council Meeting

Compulsory chapel was discussed at great length at the Student Council meeting held last Monday night. David Sherwood, representative of the Delta Chi proposed a resolution to be presented to the Administration requesting voluntary attendance at chapel.

The resolution read as follows: The Student Council recommends to the President, the Trustees, and the Faculty that chapel attendance be on a voluntary basis. The Administration is held to be appropriate to individual student responsibility and to be an expression of the best interest of the College.

Announcement

The Placement Bureau in cooperation with the Alumni Council is in the process of conducting a survey regarding summer job opportunities for Bowdoin undergraduates. It is requested that those of you who were employed successfully in the summer report to the Placement Bureau in Benister Hall in the Chapel concerning the type of work, area, length of time employed, and approximately how much was earned.

64 Agents Honored At Day Ceremonies; Music Peaks

Seated above are, left to right, Chris Prothman '62, who won the James Bowdoin Day Cup, and Steve Piger '62, who won the General Philoan Trophy.

In the year 1860, when the population of America will exceed one billion people, will this country have the right man to lead her, asked Senator Edmund S. Muskie in his Assembly last week. He proposed that America's future leader must be the scholar.

The big decision of this year, continued Senator Muskie, is "to press or not to press" the Atomic button. "In making such choices, infinitesimal accuracy and precision are demanded of those who navigate the course of the nation."

The traditional wreath was placed on the portrait of James Bowdoin in the Walker Art Building earlier in the morning by Mrs. Herbert Brown.

Pres. Coles Given Honorary Membership In A. I. of C.

In Western Germany interlocking enemy scientists and assessing the results of their research in terms of its effect on this country. As a result of this service he received a U. S. Navy Bureau of Ordnance Award and the President's Certificate of Merit.

Mr. Walter G. Coles of Portland has been elected President of the A. I. of C. Chapter at Bowdoin College.

$120,000 Bequest Given For Establishment Of E. L. Hill Scholarship

The Ernest Laurence Hill Scholarship Fund has been established at Bowdoin through a bequest of approximately $120,000 from the Mrs. E. L. Hill.

Mrs. Hill, who died on April 5, 1960, established the Fund at Bowdoin through a bequest of approximately $120,000 from the Mrs. E. L. Hill.

Dr. Group is currently scheduled to talk in the Bowdoin Chapel on Thursday and Friday mornings, November 9 and 10. The program will consist of a 11:00 a.m. class on November 10, according to Professor Athern F. Daggett, Chairman of the Department of Education and Dean of Studies.

Students All Wet In Traditional Rallying, Raiding, And Rioting

College Students last Friday night turned the traditional football pep rally into a traditional attempt to "raid the Cumberland," students began to think of other ways to let off some pent-up steam and hinder police, and general student.

Mr. Harold L. Berry Presents Early College Painting To The College

Mr. Harold Lee Berry of Falmonth Forensic has presented Bowdoin College with the earliest known painting of the Bowdoin campus.

Mr. Berry, a senior Vice President and Director of the Canal National Bank in Portland, presented the valuable oil painting to Dr. Gerard J. Braut of the College's Department of Romance Languages, which accepted it on behalf of the College.

Announcement

1. Listed below are the dates of testing here at Bowdoin. 2. These tests are given at other testing centers throughout the country. 3. IMPORTANT: Applications must be completed about three weeks in advance of the test date.

Dr. Stroup Will Bring Dr. Stroup To Lecture November 9 and 10

Dr. Stroup is currently scheduled to talk in the Bowdoin Chapel on Thursday and Friday mornings, November 9 and 10. The program will consist of a 11:00 a.m. class on November 10, according to Professor Athern F. Daggett, Chairman of the Department of Education and Dean of Studies.

Announcement

The Placement Bureau announces the application forms for all students expecting to participate in the Placement Bureau activity for 1961 will be available in the office of the Placement Bureau, Benister Hall, the Chapel, beginning Monday, October 16.

Announcement

The Placement Bureau announces the application forms for all students expecting to participate in the Placement Bureau activity for 1961 will be available in the office of the Placement Bureau, Benister Hall, the Chapel, beginning Monday, October 16.

THE BOWDOIN ORIENT

VOL. XXI THURSDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1961 No. 7

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF: Spencer C. Hunt '63

BOARD OF EDITORS

- Hunt, Woolcott, Botello, Halprin, Oysenwark, Collins
Managing Editor: John W. Halprin '63
Associate Editor: Jonathan A. Botello '63

THE BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY

- Prof. William D. Shipman
W. Stephen Piper
Spencer C. Hunt

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY

College Publishers Representative

Published weekly when deemed advisable by the Editor.

J. B. Day 1961

James Bowdoin Day is always a memorable occasion for those undergraduates honored at the ceremony...

Mancini's position on the efficacy and desirability of "actionism" rests on a presumption of personal morality...

The demonstration can not be dismissed as wholly a Freshmen activity. All Freshmen did not fear of this particular "conservative tradition" from last year's news reports...

Until someone comes up with a novel scheme to impart a moral consciousness to entering Freshmen...

Senior Center

In the June 1961 issue of the Altrams are printed articles by six Bowdoin men, three from the class of '61...

Torchlight Parade

One formerly impressive aspect of this collegiate pageant was the torchlight parade which preceded the Friday night football rally.

Letter To The Editor

65 Federal Street Brunswick, Maine

I should like to take the name of the readers of the ORIENT to comment on one aspect of Mr. Mancini's recent speech...

Such sentiments as Mr. Mancini expressed are fairly frequently heard and seldom answered...

In the interest of both brevity and clarity, I'll limit myself to considering the "Direct Action" at the point where they begin to approach law and its relationship to justice and injustice...

With references to 1) let me pose a moral question...

Morality, on the other hand, may be considered as an attitude about which we may talk but which it would be dangerous and perhaps needless to legislate...

Very truly yours, Joseph Gray

New Discount Program Offered To Students

A new, exclusive discount program for students and teachers has been developed by the Student Subscription Service of Los Angeles...

College Receives $1000 From E. Moore Estate

The College has received a bequest of $1000 from the estate of the late Ernest F. Moore '05 of Longmont, Colorado.

Take Advantage of National Review's Special Student Rate For the Academic Year

Modern Library $1.95-$2.95
Mentor Books $.50-$.75
English Dictionaries $6.00-$6.75

Moultin Union Bookstore

Patronize Our Advertisers
Barnes and Noble Outlines
75% DONATIONS

Cambodia

Known as "Ace" to his friends, I'm a freshman here at Bowdoin.

Being the last two years I've seen of the last time I've seen of the U. S. Since 1947 my home has been Cambodia, a slightly lawless, but highly interesting...

By Ann Smith '65
Dawn finds the land alive with activity. Men are already tilling in their rice fields...

Cambodia, as a country, is largely undeveloped. About 80% of the land is heavily forested with every type of tropical plants.

If we are to define honesty as right actions proceeding from right will in an empirical situation...

I suggest that it would be fruitful to consider law as the prohibitions of a society upon its members with a view to the preservation of the society...

Very truly yours, Joseph Gray

Thompson Estate Shall Bequest College $5000

The College will receive a bequest of $5000 from the estate of William P. Thompson, a Boston lawyer and a native of Bath.

Mr. Thompson, a graduate of Bowdoin in the Class of 1896, was the son of Mrs. Catherine Palmer Thompson of Bath and a grandson of Dr. Israel Putnam...

CUMBERLAND THEATER

Theater "THE ALAMO" Oct. 12-13-14
"THE ALAMO" with JOHN WAYNE

Patronize Our Advertisers
Barnes and Noble Outlines

Moultin Union Bookstore

Modern Library $1.95-$2.95
Mentor Books $.50-$.75
English Dictionaries $6.00-$6.75

Patronize Our Advertisers
Barnes and Noble Outlines

White Christmas

"WHITE CHRISTMAS" with ERNEST BORGINO
"PAY OR DIE" with PAUL NEWMAN

Jazz

Wake, Freshmen, Wake!

Wake, Freshmen, Wake! Wake from the slumber of your previous life. Wake up to the dawn of mind.

Upon the above a priori truths the wise, mature upperclassmen have built a system wonderful to behold in its very sage maturity...

These reflections weeks must set the pattern for the remainder of the freshmen's four years at Bowdoin...

So, you see, orientation is purely unselfish on the part of the Upperclassmen. If you will perceive the meek complete fool of them, you must not think that we do so for any reason but their own improvement...

Because, in a, I think, important to understand the personality of Mingo in order to understand his music...

An extremely colorful figure (no pun intended), Mingo is possibly somewhat of a showman in his work, but he never allows his showmanship to take precedence over his musicianship...

The overall conception of Mingo's music seems to be shaped by two main influences: Duke Ellington and Charlie Parker.

BOWDOIN DRIVE-IN THEATRE

Tonight thru Sunday THE ALAMO

THE ALAMO with JOHN WAYNE

THE ALAMO with JOHN WAYNE

THE ALAMO with JOHN WAYNE

OKIES AUTO SERVICE

FOR THE MOST COMPLETE AND EXPERT SERVICE WHEEL ALIGNMENT - ENGINE TUNE-UP

PICK THE RIGHT ONE... THE BRACING BRIGHT ONE!

THE BRACING BRIGHT ONE!

M & G Announces Cast For "The Visit," To Be Presented Nov. 16, 17.

Mrs. Constance Aldrich of Cumberland Street, Brunswick, will be featured by the musical and comedy in the first production of the season. The Visit, by Friedrich Durrenmatt.

Edward G. Ryan '68 of Scarsdale, New York, will play opposite Mrs. Aldrich in the play which is to be presented on Thursday and Friday, November 16 and 17.

Potluck Players To Give "Evening Of Chekhov" October 28 In Pickard

Several members of the Brunswick community are featured in an evening of Chekhov's work. The first production by the newly formed Potluck Players, which is scheduled for Saturday, October 28, at 7:45 P.M. in Pickard Theater.

Organized as a special committee of the Maque and Gowen to promote an experimental community theater, the Players are presenting as the first program three short plays, with a main feature, four women from the Brunswick area in key positions.

The first play, The Conqueror's Triumph, features Louis Pryor of Topsham as Kosulin. Directed by Marcus Merriman '62, the cast also includes Jeffrey Huntman '64, Bernard Ryan '65, Ben Martindale '62, Joseph Frary '61 and Robert Lingley '62.

Dr. Hanley Named Team Physician On A.A.U. Track Tour

Dr. Daniel F. Hanley, Bowdoin College Physician, was appointed team physician for the United States A.A.U. Track & Field Team which toured Europe during the last half of July.

The U. S. team performed in Moscow on July 14-15, in Stuttgart, Germany, on July 18-19, in London on July 21-22, and in Warsaw on July 23-25.

This is the second such honor for "Dan" in many summers. Last summer the popular Director of the Maine Medical Association served as one of two team physicians for the U. S. Olympic team in Rome and on a tour of Europe following the Olympic games. For that accomplishment and many other contributions to his state and community, he was honored by a testimonial dinner organized by his friends and associates last March. Over 600 people attended the dinner.

Dr. Hanley has been College Physician at Bowdoin for the past 14 years. A native of Amherst, Mass., and a graduate of Bowdoin in 1939, he received his M.D. degree from Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons in 1943 and interned at Boston City Hospital. During World War II he was a major in the United States Army Medical Corps and saw service in the China-Burma-India Theater.

Dr. Hanley, who is also editor of the Journal of the Maine Medical Association, has become an expert on athletic injuries during his tenure as Bowdoin Physician. He has conducted clinics on such injuries at Bowdoin and the Maine Medical Center in Portland.

In recent years he has headed a movement to attract doctors to the rural area of Maine and devotes much of his energy to encouraging promising young men to enter the medical profession.

Delta Sigma (Continued from page 2)

At the meeting of representatives from the National Council of 1961, the temporary name, the Delta Club of Bowdoin, was adopted for purposes of designation.

Shortly after this the undergraduate body formally informed the alumni of its withdrawal from D.U. and its new designation. This letter told the alumni: "Our new fraternity retains the same traditions and ideas as Delta Upsilon originally observed. We have provided that you graduate members of this house will continue to be alumni of this fraternity, unless you request otherwise."

The house's stand for non-discrimination was staunchly supported by President Silla, who assured the fraternity that D.U. would not be allowed to take away the house and establish a new chapter, nor could D.U. return to Bowdoin except on conditions of local autonomy, so far as discrimination went.

Wesleyan Withdraws

The Wesleyan Chapter of D.U., having also pledged a negro, withdrew from D.U. in October 1962. Following an exchange of letters, an informal meeting to discuss the possibility of the merger between Wesleyan and Bowdoin and Wesleyan was held between members of the Wesleyan organization and the Bowdoin representatives reported back to the House that such an affiliation would be advantageous and practical.

The alumni were polled and only nine objections were resolved out of the approximately one hundred and fifty cards returned. Having gained the overwhelming approval of the alumni, the House proceeded with its plan for the bilateral convention.

Confederation Formed Meeting at Bowdoin on April 25, 1963, representatives of the two houses drew up Articles of Confederation which are established on the principle of local autonomy and non-discrimination.

The officers of the two houses stated in their announcement that the reasons for this affiliation were best expressed in the preamble to the Articles of Confederation: "We, the Confederated Chapters of Delta Sigma, have united to further the concept of social equality within fraternal organizations; we believe that this concept is best achieved by common ties in principles and ideals without restricting the policies of the individual Chapters."

With this belief in mind, we have resolved the following constitution based upon the principles of local autonomy and non-discrimination. The organization of the new confederation is simple, the chairman of the group being the president of that house which serves as host for the annual meeting. There will be no necessity of annual dues; the host house will serve as the clearing house for the limited business of the confederation during that year with any necessary expenses being borne by that group.

An escape clause in the constitution was also included. It states: "A chapter may voluntarily resign from the Confederation, but upon such resignation loses the right to re-enter the Confederation."

Adler SC's are guaranteed not to shrink out of fit or your money-back Lark's wool, men's and women's sizes, in white and 12 other colors. Just $1 at fine stores.

Danny Kaye Wants "Educated Critics" On Television

Danny Kaye thinks that television criticism should be taught on every college and university campus in the country.

"Nearly everybody takes his turn at being TV," he says. "At least we might raise the level of criticism by offering degrees in the subject."

Danny has no beef with the specific, constructive criticism of television which both the critics and public are entitled. But he thinks it's time to stop the generalized knocking of the medium, which reached even into official quarters when the P.C.C. chairman recently charged television as a "wasteland."

"No doubt much of TV is a wasteland," Kaye agrees. "Yet for the selective viewer, it can be not only entertaining but enlightening."

Danny cited one week's Los Angeles TV logs in support of his position. "Every weekday on Los Angeles television, college courses are given for credit," he points out. "I'm presently watching a U.S.C. course on Ernest Hemingway's work. But since I never got past P.S. 140 and Thomas Jefferson High School in New York City, I'm much point in my earning credits for the course."

During the one week of TV programming he picked, random, Kaye also pointed up such worthwhile viewing as an Adlai Stevenson documentary on Radioactive Medicine, a "Brandenburg Gate" drama.

"Sure, there are also hours of violence, of mindless reruns, and reruns of reruns," he says. "But it's easy to escape viewing a worthless or undesirable program. Every TV set is equipped with a simple on-off knob."

Whatever the attacks on television, Danny is sure it will continue to grow, just as the motion picture has withstood similar raps. "For many years, Hollywood was criticized for allegedly catering to a twelve-year-old audience mentality," he states. "Now, the industry is condemned by many individuals and pressure groups for producing so-called 'adult' films, aimed at, say, the college age level. But good pictures are still being made."

"Why, Hollywood has even survived the publicly annually given to the Harvard Lampoon's ten members of the Student Council said, last Monday night the Student Council can suggest a solution, but cannot force one. The final decision will inevitably fall upon the members of a house."

1870 'Rebel' Sword Returns To College; Strange Story Told

The lack of central heating in the Bowdoin college dormitories of 1883 and 1847 has resulted in an unusual gift to the College in 1961, it was revealed today by President James G. Coles.

Warren Rufus Smith of the Class of 1890, who now lives at the Sign of The Sawbuck in East Leland, Michigan, has presented the College with a sword and scabbard which he found in the attic of North Winthrop Hall in the winter of 1887 or 1888 while an undergraduate at Bowdoin.

In his letter of presentation, Mr. Smith related the unusual circumstances which accompanied the finding of the sword.

"There was no central heating in the dormitories in those days," says Mr. Smith. "The rooms were heated by individual coal stoves. When the fire went out, we resorted to the attic floor for kindling."

"The attic floor was narrow and laid between the head of the stairs and the scuttle (trap door) in the roof. This floor had to be renewed every season.

"The sword was lying back of one of the sleepers so that it had escaped attention. My conjecture is that it was a relic of the Drill Regiment of the Seventies."

Mr. Smith referred to an incident in 1874 when students, particularly members of the Junior Class, rebelled against military training on the Bowdoin campus. Petitions of protest were presented to President Joshua L. Chamberlain and students refused to drill despite the threat of possible suspension. The Rebellion continued through the Seventies and eventually resulted in the temporary ending of military drills at Bowdoin in 1882. Such training did not return to Bowdoin until World War I.

The rebel of the 1870's who probably placed the sword in its resting place in the attic of North Winthrop would perhaps not appreciate the irony which enters the picture here.

His sword now resides in a place of honor in Bowdoin's Department of Military Science.

Three Teaching Fellows Join College's Biology Department

A new and possibly unique experiment in town-college cooperation in education was revealed today with the announcement of the appointment of Teaching Fellows in Biology at the College for the current academic year by President James G. Coles.

A native of Brooklyn, N. Y., Vaughan is a graduate of the University of Maine in the Class of 1968. He has attended the National Science Foundation Institute in Marine Biology at Bowdoin (1966) and has been awarded a master of education degree at Pennsylvania State University. He taught Geology and General Science at Camden High School from 1966 to 1967.

A graduate of Montana State College in 1968, Bacon recently received his master of education degree in Biological Science from Pennsylvania State University. Last summer he attended the summer session at Pennsylvania State in pursuance of a doctor of philosophy degree in Zoology. He taught Biology, Chemistry and Physics for two years at Terry, Montana, High School and is past president of the Terry unit of the Montana Education Association.

Both of these men are interested in behavior, and Bacon's thesis for the M.Ed. degree on intelligence in chickens has been accepted for publication in the British Journal of Animal Behavior. The thesis was abstracted and presented to the National Poultry Science convention in August and will be presented at the national convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in December.

Scarpino will be remembered as the student-coach of swimming at Bowdoin last year who led his team to a 5-8 record while maintaining Dean's List grades. A graduate last June as a Biology major, he is taking two courses at Bowdoin while teaching in the Teaching Fellow program.

Professor Gustafson's enthusiasm for the experimental program is shared by Mario A. Tonon, Principal of Brunswick High School. "Both the College and the High School are fortunate in having two such capable men," he said. "My first impression of the experiment after several weeks of observing it in operation is that it should work out to such an advantage that I would seriously consider the same sort of arrangement in other areas."

"The know-how of these two men in the laboratory is extremely important to us, particularly in reorganizing our science program and Refresherments are served."

Jon Hart Scarpino Receives Haldane Cup As 'Outstanding Senior'

Jon H. Scarpino of Mount Vernon, N. Y., was the recipient of the Haldane Cup in the class of 1961. The Haldane Cup is awarded each year to a member of the Senior Class who has shown "outstanding qualities of leadership and character."

Scarpino served during the past academic year as both Captain and Coach of Bowdoin's varsity swimming team in the absence of Coach Bob Miller, who was on indefinite leave before his recent retirement. While performing these duties, the former standout A. B. Davis High School athlete maintained Dean's List grades and led his team to a record of five wins and two losses.

A biology major and member of Chi Psi fraternity, he was a Gadet Captain in Bowdoin's ROTC unit and was commissioned as a second lieutenant in the U. S. Army Reserve. He was also a javelin specialist on Bowdoin's track team. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Scarpino of 173 Cray Avenue in Mount Vernon.

The Haldane Cup was given by fellow officers in the Pacific in memory of Captain Andrew A. Haldane, United States Marine Corps Reserve, of the Bowdoin Class of 1941. Haldane, who was Captain of the 1940 Bowdoin football team, fought with the Marines in the South Pacific from the landing on Guadalcanal almost continuously for two years, until his death on Peleliu Island on October 12, 1944.

Applications Now Being Accepted For 1962 Civil Service Entrance Exam

Applications are now being accepted for the 1962 Federal Service Entrance Examination. The United States Civil Service Commission has announced. This examination, open to college juniors, seniors, and graduate students regardless of major study, as well as to persons who have had equivalent experience, offers the opportunity to begin a career in the Federal Service in one of some 60 different occupational fields. A written test is required.

The positions to be filled from the FESEE are in various Federal agencies and are located in Washington, D. C., and throughout the United States. Depending on the qualifications of the candidate, starting salaries will be $4,246 or $5,535 a year. Management Internships with starting salaries of $5,355 or $6,435 a year, will also be filled from this examination.

Six additional tests have been scheduled during the year. The dates are: November 18, 1961; January 13, February 10, March 17, April 14, and May 12, 1962.

Closing date for acceptance of applications for Management Internships is January 23, 1962. For all other positions, the closing date is April 26, 1962.

Details concerning the requirements, further information about the positions to be filled, and instructions on how to apply are given in civil service announcement No. 265. These announcements and application cards may be obtained from many post offices throughout the country, college placement offices, civil service regional offices, or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

The Arts Center NEW POLICY ALL PHONOGRAPH RECORDS AT DISCOUNT PRICES JAZZ — CLASSICAL — FOLK — POPULAR See our complete selection of Travel Posters and Fine Art Reproductions at $1.98

PROJECTS OF THE BELL SYSTEM range from the reaches of space to the depths of the sea. Our job is providing communications of all kinds, wherever needed—whether in the northern snows to flash word of possible enemy missile attack; or in your home or college, or in serving the nation's business. When we can't fill a need off the shelf, then we start fresh and create the answer to the problem. We've done that hundreds of times. We began transatlantic radiotelephone service in 1927. Then we developed the world's first overseas telephone cables to speak calls between continents. We handled the world's first telephone conversation via satellite. And we have started development of an important world-wide communications system employing satellites. When industry and government needed a way of gathering huge amounts of coded information from distant points, we were ready with our vast telephone network and Data-Phone, which can transmit mountains of data at extremely high speeds. And so it goes—Long Distance service, Direct Distance Dialing, the Transistor, the Solar Battery—a succession of firsts which goes back to the invention of the telephone itself. Universal communications—the finest, most dependable anywhere—are what we deliver. Inside: for home, office, or plant. Outside: on land, under the sea, through the air, or

Patronize Our ADVERTISING ADLER SC's AVAILABLE IN WHITE AND COLORS AT PHIL'S MEN'S STORE A. H. BENNETT & CO. SMALL'S ESSO SERVICENTER WE SPECIALIZE IN Engine Tune-Up and Wheel Alignment BATH ROAD PA 0-3740

Halperin '63 Elected Editor-in-Chief of the Orient; Changes in Staff Listed

John William Halperin, a member of the junior class and Sigma Nu fraternity, has been elected Editor-in-Chief of the Orient for the coming term. The announcement of his election by the Bowdoin Publishing Company was preceded by the retirement of Co-Editors Spencer Hunt '62 and Sidney Woolcott '62. The election, marking the first time a Sigma Nu has held this position since the first chapter's founding in 1918, also elevates Halperin to chairman of the Orient's Board of Editors and gives him a membership in the Bowdoin Publishing Company.

Halperin, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Halperin of Chicago, Illinois, has held several campus and fraternity offices prior to his recent election. A dean's list student in his sophomore year, the new Editor-in-Chief has acted in three plays for the Masque and given a speech to the Executive Committee for the past two years. In addition, he has been head basketball manager for the last two seasons, and was also a member of the President's Executive Council. Halperin has been a member of the Executive Committee of the Sigma Nu's Executive Committee. He is also Secretary of the house.

Halperin, who is an English major, became a member of the Orient's Editorial Board in December of 1960 when he was appointed Sports Editor by former Editor-in-Chief David C. Maclean '61. He served in that capacity until last May when he was elected Editor-in-Chief. Halperin brought with him to the sports page as the Coming Events Box, the Fat on the Back, the weekly column on the Sigma Nu Fraternity sports ("Around the Loop"). He also campaigned for the recent wrestling team and editorial work, a proposition finally voted down by Bowdoin's governing body.

Following is a list of the new Editor-in-Chief's changes in Orient personnel:

Appointed special Assistant to the Editor, JOHN K. MARTIN of the class of 1963 is a member of Sigma Nu Fraternity. Martin, an economics major, will serve as general coordinator for the new Orient administration.

JONATHAN A. BOTELHO has been appointed Managing Editor. A member of the junior class, Botelho, a French major and member of the former Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, has served the Orient as Copy Editor and, more recently, as Associate Editor.

The Orient's newly appointed Associate Editor, ALANOWICZ C. CZYZEWSKI, moves up from the position of News Editor, Cayewski is a sophomore and a member of Delta Sigma fraternity.

Replacing Cayewski as News Editor is STEPHEN J. TYLOR, who has been appointed to head the news staff. Tylor is a Sigma Nu and a member of the former Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. This appointment is pointed the Orient's Features Editor, Walker, who has won several awards in the past. Tylor has been given the task of rejuvenating what has been recently a rather dull feature section.

Appointed the Orient's new Sports Editor, ASA F. SMITH is a member of the class of 1966 and Alpha Delta Phi.

Former Orient Sports Editor DAVID WOLFENBUTEL has been appointed Copy Editor. Wolfenbutel is majoring in English, is a junior and is also a member of Alpha Delta Phi. Wolfenbutel will be the new staff before the current Editor-in-Chief comes Sports Editor in 1968.

Also a Sigma Nu, HARLEY L. SCHWADRON of the class of 1964 has been appointed Assistant Features Editor. Schwadron served the Orient last year in the capacity of staff cartoonist, and will contribute to the Orient's news staff.

Cole, who was graduated from the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia, has appeared as a solo artist both with orchestra and on radio in the United States and Canada. He is a faculty member at the Curtis Institute and the Philadelphia Conservatory of Music.

Football Dance, Arrival of Alumni Highlight Weekend

Many Bowdoin Alumni are on the campus for the traditional Alumni Day activities, which are being held a week earlier than in past years. Sports events, highlighted by the football game with Colby at 1:30 this afternoon, and the Alumni Day Dance will be the dominant features of the weekend.

This will also mark the first year that family initiations have not been held as a part of the weekend's activities. Although the Alumni activities have been moved, these initiations have not, and pledges must wait until next weekend to gain fraternal cognate.

The busy weekend began yesterday afternoon as alumni began to arrive, and plenty of late suggestions had the opportunity to see the freshmen football team.

The busy weekend began yesterday afternoon as alumni began to arrive, and plenty of late suggestions had the opportunity to see the freshmen football team.

John W. Halperin, who has been elected the new Editor-in-Chief of the Orient.

A.T.O. Decides To Withdraw From National; Now, Phi Delta Psi

The Delta Omega Chapter of Alpha Tau Omega voted in the house-meeting on Wednesday, October 18, to withdraw voluntarily from the National Fraternity. The new local chapter was organized on October 18, 1962, at which time it joined the Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity. Phi Delta Psi is also the name of the corporation which presently owns the fraternity house.

During the 1960's, a white-Christian clause was written into the National Fraternity's Constitution. The disaffiliation in the local chapter for this "selective" clause has been steadily voted since this time. The local chapter has maintained local autonomy in bidding and initiating whom they wished since this time.

In 1960, the National objected to a Jewish student whom the local had pledged, but in the face of the chapter's firm refusal to depledge him, the National withdrew its objection.

In the most recent Fraternity Congress, held at Asheville, North Carolina in August 1960, and at which I was an alternate delegate, the National voted to amend the National Constitution to allow the chapter to withdraw in pressing cases, and an agreement put in its place, by which the local fraternity would initiate only pledges who were acceptable to every member of the National Fraternity. This agreement, which is better known as a "gentleman's agreement," it was adopted overwhelmingly by the local chapters of the Fraternity, and became a part of the National Fraternity Constitution. The members of Delta Omega Chapter voted against the inclusion of this agreement in the National Constitution, for they felt this to be a step backward instead of forward. To have this clause invoked, a local fraternity was asking for even less scrutiny than now exists, and thus would lose any vestige of local autonomy it had had.

Last spring, the National amended the charter of the Stanfield Chapter, Beta Psi, for reasons among which was the removal of local autonomy on the part of Delta Omega. However, Delta Omega was too attached to local autonomy to give it up. They wrote to other Alpha Tau Omega chapters for support of Beta Psi and also to the alumni for support of their stand on the Beta Psi case.

The response from the other chapters was disappointing. There was a violent reaction to this on the part of the National, which was expressed in several letters to the local. Although the National's reaction was unexpected, the local voted to continue its policy of pledging whom it pleased and at the same time considered it too late in the year to leave the National. The local also realized that the pledge class would be closely scrutinized this fall, and, in fact, the President of the Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity has visited the local on the Friday following the Wednesday house-meeting.

This fall no Jewish freshmen whom the local had pledged, and there was no practical reason for uneasiness over the visit of the National's president. However, the tension and distrust, which had arisen last spring, remained with the members of the local. The local's position was brought up this year by James Bowdoin Day. Since that time, both the Faculty and Student Council have been discussing the situation with regard to discrimination existing on the campus.

The freshman pledge class provided the impetus for leaving the National. Wednesday afternoon they presented the house president, Bob Briggs, with a statement in which they unanimously requested to be admitted only into the local chapter. They declared that their own principles would not permit them to join a national fraternity which discriminated on the basis of race and religion. This demonstration of unity, the last hesitation of moving away from the local, was met with a statement in which the members declared their intention to leave the National.

On Thursday the province chief came to the house and took away the Alpha Tau Omega Charter, thus putting the local, in the eyes of the National, under suspension. The local has since been busily collecting its alumni, for the National's regulations concerning voluntarily withdrawal require, besides the two-thirds vote of the local chapter and other technicalities, a two-thirds vote of the alumni in support of this move.

College Debate Council Prepares Topic For Forensic Competitions

Due to the tremendous student interest this year in the College Debate Council, Messrs. Pace and Pezire are looking forward to a great deal of activity in the coming weeks. The Council is planning to attend forensic competitions at Brown University, Harvard College, Bryn Mawr College, and Dartmouth College.

Recently, the Bowdoin Debating Council met in 117 Sills and discussed the new topic at a round table discussion. The members of the Council discussed the topic in this manner: "The right of a democratic society to acquire ideas which will be of some help to them in preparing their case."

The new topic debate council has six varsity men returning. They are: Mark Goldberg '63, Jules Levan '63, Robert S. Jones '63, Robert Farquharson '66, Philip L. Swan '64, and Peter C. Valente, the Council President. The Council is proud to announce the membership of Peter H. Aranson '63, David W. Babin '63, Keith B. Barber '63, Frank R. Ciscio '63, David J. DeMott '63, John A. Dolg '60, W. M. Hawkins '63, John A. Gibbons '64, Barry C. Williams '63, William J. Helfrecht '63, Steven J. Hines '63, Mark E. Jones '63, Donald J. Krogstad '63, Frederick M. Loxton '64, James E. MacIntyre '63, Robert E. Moxley '63, William O. Nash '63, Roger B. Sallant '63, Berle M. Schiller '63, and Thomas L. Wachs '63. It is expected that with this fine group of Bowdoin College Debate Council will have one of its finest years.

Announcement

THE VISIT, starring Constance Aldrich, to be presented by the Masque and Town of Bowdoin College in full rehearsal, directed by William W. Lannon, '63, the play which will be held in the Theatre in the Lunch-Pantheatre in New York, was written by Friedrich Durrenmat, a contemporary Swiss novelist and playwright.

Announcement

THE VISIT, starring Constance Aldrich, to be presented by the Masque and Town of Bowdoin College in full rehearsal, directed by William W. Lannon, '63, the play which will be held in the Theatre in the Lunch-Pantheatre in New York, was written by Friedrich Durrenmat, a contemporary Swiss novelist and playwright.

Announcement

THE VISIT, starring Constance Aldrich, to be presented by the Masque and Town of Bowdoin College in full rehearsal, directed by William W. Lannon, '63, the play which will be held in the Theatre in the Lunch-Pantheatre in New York, was written by Friedrich Durrenmat, a contemporary Swiss novelist and playwright.

Announcement

THE VISIT, starring Constance Aldrich, to be presented by the Masque and Town of Bowdoin College in full rehearsal, directed by William W. Lannon, '63, the play which will be held in the Theatre in the Lunch-Pantheatre in New York, was written by Friedrich Durrenmat, a contemporary Swiss novelist and playwright.

Announcement

THE VISIT, starring Constance Aldrich, to be presented by the Masque and Town of Bowdoin College in full rehearsal, directed by William W. Lannon, '63, the play which will be held in the Theatre in the Lunch-Pantheatre in New York, was written by Friedrich Durrenmat, a contemporary Swiss novelist and playwright.

Announcement

THE VISIT, starring Constance Aldrich, to be presented by the Masque and Town of Bowdoin College in full rehearsal, directed by William W. Lannon, '63, the play which will be held in the Theatre in the Lunch-Pantheatre in New York, was written by Friedrich Durrenmat, a contemporary Swiss novelist and playwright.

College Debate Council Prepares Topic For Forensic Competitions

Due to the tremendous student interest this year in the College Debate Council, Messrs. Pace and Pezire are looking forward to a great deal of activity in the coming weeks. The Council is planning to attend forensic competitions at Brown University, Harvard College, Bryn Mawr College, and Dartmouth College.

Recently, the Bowdoin Debating Council met in 117 Sills and discussed the new topic at a round table discussion. The members of the Council discussed the topic in this manner: "The right of a democratic society to acquire ideas which will be of some help to them in preparing their case."

Announcement

THE VISIT, starring Constance Aldrich, to be presented by the Masque and Town of Bowdoin College in full rehearsal, directed by William W. Lannon, '63, the play which will be held in the Theatre in the Lunch-Pantheatre in New York, was written by Friedrich Durrenmat, a contemporary Swiss novelist and playwright.

Announcement

THE VISIT, starring Constance Aldrich, to be presented by the Masque and Town of Bowdoin College in full rehearsal, directed by William W. Lannon, '63, the play which will be held in the Theatre in the Lunch-Pantheatre in New York, was written by Friedrich Durrenmat, a contemporary Swiss novelist and playwright.

Announcement

THE VISIT, starring Constance Aldrich, to be presented by the Masque and Town of Bowdoin College in full rehearsal, directed by William W. Lannon, '63, the play which will be held in the Theatre in the Lunch-Pantheatre in New York, was written by Friedrich Durrenmat, a contemporary Swiss novelist and playwright.

Announcement

THE VISIT, starring Constance Aldrich, to be presented by the Masque and Town of Bowdoin College in full rehearsal, directed by William W. Lannon, '63, the play which will be held in the Theatre in the Lunch-Pantheatre in New York, was written by Friedrich Durrenmat, a contemporary Swiss novelist and playwright.

Announcement

THE VISIT, starring Constance Aldrich, to be presented by the Masque and Town of Bowdoin College in full rehearsal, directed by William W. Lannon, '63, the play which will be held in the Theatre in the Lunch-Pantheatre in New York, was written by Friedrich Durrenmat, a contemporary Swiss novelist and playwright.

Announcement

THE VISIT, starring Constance Aldrich, to be presented by the Masque and Town of Bowdoin College in full rehearsal, directed by William W. Lannon, '63, the play which will be held in the Theatre in the Lunch-Pantheatre in New York, was written by Friedrich Durrenmat, a contemporary Swiss novelist and playwright.

Announcement

THE VISIT, starring Constance Aldrich, to be presented by the Masque and Town of Bowdoin College in full rehearsal, directed by William W. Lannon, '63, the play which will be held in the Theatre in the Lunch-Pantheatre in New York, was written by Friedrich Durrenmat, a contemporary Swiss novelist and playwright.

College Senior Center

Architectural planning for the proposed new Senior Center will be handled by Hugh Stubbins and Associates, Inc., of Cambridge, Mass. The Stubbins firm has been selected for this project by the College's Committee on Planning of Buildings after consideration of several proposals which were submitted. Preliminary estimates indicate that the project will cost between $15 and $20 million.

Numbered among the other outstanding college projects associated with the project are President James S. Coles; Trustees Widger Thomas '27 of Portland, Benjamin B. Shute '31 of New York City and John C. Pickett '22 of Wilmington, Delaware; Overseers Neil W. Allen '07 of Portland and Gerald W. Blakeley, Jr. '43 of Boston; and members of the Bowdoin faculty Professors Howard Little and William B. Beam, Jr. of Portland, Edwin F. Mr. Stubbins, a graduate of the Georgia Institute of Technology with a master of arts degree from Bowdoin University, is a Fellow of the National Academy of Design, a Fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and a Fellow of the American Institute of Architects. He has won numerous national competitions and honors in his profession and has designed outstanding American buildings.

Mr. Stubbins, a graduate of the Georgia Institute of Technology with a master of arts degree from Bowdoin University, is a Fellow of the National Academy of Design, a Fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and a Fellow of the American Institute of Architects. He has won numerous national competitions and honors in his profession and has designed outstanding American buildings.

S. C. Finds Few Fraternities With Discrimination Problem

It was apparent after the Student Council meeting last Monday night that Bowdoin national fraternity chapters have made tremendous progress in solving discrimination problems since the self study of the College in 1967. When the self study was made, it was disclosed that eight fraternities either had discriminatory clauses or "gentlemen's agreements." Only two chapters at Bowdoin still have either.

Each fraternity clearly stated its position on discrimination, as follows: T.D., A.D., A.R.U., Delta Sigma and the newly formed chapter, Phi Delta Psi are completely non-discriminatory. Beta, Chi Phi Delta, and Psi U have unwritten agreements which have, however, been violated in the past, and could be violated again without serious repercussions. Zeta has a clause which leaves discrimination up to the local chapter. The fraternities which have discriminatory clauses at Bowdoin: Kappa Sigma and Sigma Nu can pledge only whites.

Sigma Nu, with 25% of its chapters in the south, has been taking positive action for a long time and had been getting some results. It was noted that at the last convention the southern chapters made a big concession by adopting a "waters with courtesy" clause, which would allow any local chapter to pledge a negro or an oriental, an action otherwise forbidden by the charter. Yet, if this were done, it is clear that the local chapter would lose national standing.

The representative felt that perhaps in the next few years, his chapter could work out its own solution and although the College could force the fraternity to end its non-discriminatory by a certain time, or leave the national, he hoped it would not be necessary. He thought that since two fraternities were involved, it would be best to let them find their own solution.

President Coletti reported on a meeting with President Cole B. (Continued on page 8)

Potluck Payers' Initial Presentation Scheduled Tonight in Pickard At 7:45

The first appearance of the Potluck Payers' initial presentation will be held in the Pickard Theatre at 7:45 p.m. The play, "THE CONQUEROR'S TRIUMPH," shows the effects of power on a humble, ambitious man, treated with exaggeration and amusing simplicity by the author, the theme gets a stylized treatment by the playwright. The play is a comedy of manners, a farce, a satire, and a social commentary. The play is a comedy of manners, a farce, a satire, and a social commentary.

An evening of fun is in store, judging from rehearsal preview and talk over the coffee cup. For fifty cents everyone is assured of a short evening of lively entertainment. The Potluck Payers are a group of students and faculty members who are dedicated to the art of the potluck. The play is a comedy of manners, a farce, a satire, and a social commentary.

This is a picture of "The Conqueror's Triumph," one of the three plays to be presented by the Potluck Payers tonight in AN EVENING OF CHEKHOV FAÇE, at Pickard Theatre. The play is a comedy of manners, a farce, a satire, and a social commentary.

The young man in his neighbor's daughter. Between misunderstandings and misunderstandings, the play is a comedy of manners, a farce, a satire, and a social commentary.

Curtis String Quartet, Prof. Tillotson, Delight Pickard Audience In Annual Show

The Curtis String Quartet, with Director of Music Frederic Tillotson collaborating at the piano, presented a most successful concert in the Pickard Theatre Monday evening at 8:15 to a delighted audience. The concert featured selections from the works of Haydn, Walter Piston and Brahms, it was the second one in two weeks to be broadcast free of charge.

Violinists Jaecha Brendley and Robert M. Mehler, violas Andrew Arnold, cellist Orlando Cole and Professor Tillotson presented Haydn's Quartet in G minor, Opus 74, No. 3; Piston's Quartet No. 4, A. Opus 26.

Professor Tillotson was the featured performer in the latter selection. Cole, who was graduated from the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia, has appeared as a solo artist both with orchestra and on radio in the United States and Canada. He is a faculty member at the Curtis Institute and the Philadelphia Conservatory of Music.

Announcement

THE VISIT, starring Constance Aldrich, to be presented by the Masque and Town of Bowdoin College in full rehearsal, directed by William W. Lannon, '63, the play which will be held in the Theatre in the Lunch-Pantheatre in New York, was written by Friedrich Durrenmat, a contemporary Swiss novelist and playwright.

Announcement

THE VISIT, starring Constance Aldrich, to be presented by the Masque and Town of Bowdoin College in full rehearsal, directed by William W. Lannon, '63, the play which will be held in the Theatre in the Lunch-Pantheatre in New York, was written by Friedrich Durrenmat, a contemporary Swiss novelist and playwright.

Announcement

THE VISIT, starring Constance Aldrich, to be presented by the Masque and Town of Bowdoin College in full rehearsal, directed by William W. Lannon, '63, the play which will be held in the Theatre in the Lunch-Pantheatre in New York, was written by Friedrich Durrenmat, a contemporary Swiss novelist and playwright.

Announcement

THE VISIT, starring Constance Aldrich, to be presented by the Masque and Town of Bowdoin College in full rehearsal, directed by William W. Lannon, '63, the play which will be held in the Theatre in the Lunch-Pantheatre in New York, was written by Friedrich Durrenmat, a contemporary Swiss novelist and playwright.

Announcement

THE VISIT, starring Constance Aldrich, to be presented by the Masque and Town of Bowdoin College in full rehearsal, directed by William W. Lannon, '63, the play which will be held in the Theatre in the Lunch-Pantheatre in New York, was written by Friedrich Durrenmat, a contemporary Swiss novelist and playwright.

Announcement

THE VISIT, starring Constance Aldrich, to be presented by the Masque and Town of Bowdoin College in full rehearsal, directed by William W. Lannon, '63, the play which will be held in the Theatre in the Lunch-Pantheatre in New York, was written by Friedrich Durrenmat, a contemporary Swiss novelist and playwright.

THE BOWDOIN ORIENT

VOL. XXI SATURDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1961 NO. 9

EDITORS-IN-CHIEF Spencer C. Hunt '62 Sidney W. Woolliacot '62

BOARD OF EDITORS Hunt, Woolliacot, Bostel, Halperin, Czyszwski, Coffin

Managing Editor John W. Halperin '63 Associate Editor Jonathan A. Bolebo '63 News Editor Alphonse J. Czyszwski '64 Assistant News Editor Steve Beale '64 Sports Editor John F. Coffin '64 Assistant Sports Editor Robert C. Hale '64 Photographers Charles F. Flagg '63 Sanford L. Crane '64 Staff Cartoonist Harley L. Schwadron '64 Business Staff George A. Smith '63 Circulation Staff Craig F. Magner '64 Frederick F. Yannis, Jr. '64

Copy Staff John Walwood '64 David Walker '64 Asa Smith '65 Thomas Coffey '65 Richard Andrias '65 Bob Peterson '65 D. Wayne Babiniau '65 Thomas Hepp '65 Peter Saplanta '65 Sigurd Knudsen '65 John L. Swift '65 Peter M. Odeil '64 Frederick J. Stockard '64 Jeffrey G. Alexander '64 Donald Prince '65 David A. Cleaves '65 Sports Staff William B. Gillis '63 Leonard C. Lee '62 Frank A. McDonald '63 H. Allen Ryan '64 Michael L. Drees '64 Phillip A. Stone '63 Business Manager Bruce Leonard '63 Advertising Manager William W. Conkitt '64 Circulation Managers Philip N. Racine '64

THE BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY Prof. William D. Shipman Prof. Athem P. Daggett W. Stephen Piper Bruce Leonard Spencer C. Hunt Robert L. Haggerty Sidney W. Woolliacot

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY College Publishers Representative NEW YORK, N. Y. Published weekly when classes are held during the Fall and Spring Semesters by the students of Bowdoin College. Address news communications to the Editor and advertising communications to the Business Manager of The Bowdoin Publishing Company of the ORIENT Office in Moore Hall, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine. Entered as second class postage paid at the post office at Brunswick, Maine. The subscription rate for one year is four dollars.

Is BOR A Bore?

Bowdoin College's student-directed and -operated radio station, WBOR, is obviously losing both the vitality and the popularity it enjoyed in days gone by. It must be admitted initially, however, that one cause of the station's decline and imminent fall can be traced back to its disastrous switch from AM to FM, a move which was ineffectual under the circumstances. The result, of course, has been a reduction in the size of the listening audience due to the scarcity of privately owned FM radios. This much, we admit, is beyond the control of the radio station; the recent proprietors of WBOR have not, however, taken any steps to help themselves. By help, inevitably, we must mean an increment in the listening audience — for this is how any such organization must ultimately be measured.

Why is it that nobody listens to WBOR any more? The answer is indeed a simple one: that station has kept its regular number of variety shows constant while cutting down considerably on the number of sports events it broadcasts. It may very well be true that WBOR is limited in its revenues and total expenditures, but obviously enough the resources currently in existence have not been and are not being put to best use.

What we suggest is this: scrap all those banal disc jockey shows that no one listens to anyway and start broadcasting all athletic events. Recently, WBOR has been attracting its largest audiences for broadcasts of away football games; in the future all away basketball, hockey, and baseball games should also be included. Nobody dials WBOR these days to hear news or music; yet the college's radio station is potentially the only avenue for bringing students what they can get nowhere else — Bowdoin's athletic events. BOR does not have to be a bore.

Phi Delta Psi

The recent decision of the former Alpha Tau Omega chapter house on this campus to go local can only be termed, under the circumstances, commendable. The national Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity, with its white Christian cause, is easily one of the most discriminatory national organizations in the country today. Bowdoin's ATO chapter, or rather Phi Delta Psi fraternity, took the step independently of any coercion on the part of the college. Under pressure from within the brotherhood itself as well as from outside, Phi Delta Psi made the only logical move. The most significant and encouraging aspect of the whole affair is the fact that the decision was not, fortunately, forced by the school, but was rather an expression of local sentiment.

Letters To The Editor

October 28, 1961 To the Editors of the Orient: It was a pleasure to see the pages of the Orient graced with the lucid, sophisticated letter of Mr. Fray. It was particularly gratifying to observe that the Orient is still willing to print letters in full. I would merely point out what appears to be a glaring inconsistency on a point that is fundamental to Mr. Fray's remark. If there should be an inconsistency on this particular point, it might well be that his introductory sentiments can lead us only to a dead end. To quote Mr. Fray: "The line of debate to be taken on any law is on the level of expediency and effectiveness only, not on the level of morality except where the law may be prejudicial to moralities" (emphasis mine). Addition of the final phrase gives some validity to Mr. Fray's argument, but it also contradicts what seems to be the central theme of the sentence under consideration. Interestingly enough Mr. Fray dogmatically pursues the matter in the next paragraph, apparently oblivious to the fact that he himself has effectively destroyed his own argument. "Morality, on the other hand, may be considered as an attitude about which we may talk but which it would be dangerous and perhaps impossible to define." (Emphasis again mine). While it is argued that argument against Mr. Fray's Francis S. Mancini '61 To the Editors of the Orient: As the mother of one of the Pledges who refused to become a member of a National Fraternity whose constitution contained a discriminatory clause, I wish to go on record as saying that I have never been prouder of him. My overwhelming pride encompasses each and every one of the men of Bowdoin's Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity whose refusal to condone this clause resulted in their decision to treat away from the National Fraternity. These men displayed strong moral convictions, the like of which today's world is sadly in need. In their firm stand against something so wrong morally, ethically and constitutionally, these men deserve the thanks and highest regard of their fellow-men. Sincerely, (Mrs) Dorothy Fisher Babiniau

Gadfly

by John Welwood New Item: "Atom Bomb shelters to be fully equipped with all the conveniences of home..." NIGHTS IN A BOMB SHELTER: Place: Scarborough, ON. Characters: Mom, Dad, Son, Daughter, Baby. Time: A week after the Bomb. Mom: Well, what's on TV tonight, Dad? Dad: But dear, I... Mom: Just shut up, I'm sick of hearing your whining voice for the past week. "What's on TV?" "What shall we have for dinner, hash or beans?" Is that all you can ever say? Mom: Now you've waked up the baby. Dad: At least it will get you off my back. EXIT MOM Son: Dad, I'm sick of sitting around every night reading the Civil Defense Rules Manual. Son: There wasn't time. Son: Louie TV programs on tonight, too. Let's see: there's a "You've been bombed" Channel 2. "So you've been bombed." Channel 5 is repeating "On the Beach" for the seventh night in a row. And that educational station is showing a travesty of Russia. Dad: Say, why don't you go out and get some fresh air? Get me some beer from the ice box. Mom: Mom's drooling; the beer is warm. Dad: We get bombed and all your mother can think of is detouring my beer. Well, turn on the radio. Son: But all we can get is 640 and 120. You know, ATUJ sings and sings "The Star Spangled Banner" or "Rally Round the Flag Boys." Dad: Then turn on the hi-fi. Don't play "Victory at Sea" again. I'm sick of hearing it twice every day. And tell your mother to turn off that damn vacuum cleaner before it traps it around her head. ENTER MOM Mom: What are you saying behind my back? Dad: Why do you have to vacuum the shelter every day? If we can't have a little peace, I'll give you a little piece of my hat right in the old lapidary. Mom: That did it, I'm leaving. What else do you expect me to do around here, pay paracetamol all day? Son: But you can't leave, Mom. Who's going to iron my clothes? And cook? Dad: Listen, son, it takes no culinary skill to throw a frozen package into the oven. Let her go. Mom: But, but I'm not leaving. I can't go out there. It's still (gasp) hot. Dad: Go on, get out. Mom: Well, then, I will. I don't know what's happened to you. You used to be so kind. You'll be sorry. Son: (casually munching potato chips) Bye, Mom. (Mom goes outside. Dad slams the door shut.) (Continued on page 4)

Cambodia

By Ann Smith Cambodia came under French protection in 1863. A national constitution promulgated May 8, 1947, replaced the former absolutism. Becoming an associated state within the French Union (November 1949) did not satisfy the country. Therefore, it declared its independence June 1953. It was granted U.N. membership in December, 1955. The king and head of the state is Norodom Sihanouk who on June 13, 1960, succeeded his father, Norodom Suramarit. Actually, Sihanouk has been Cambodia's leader ever since her independence. At first he was Prime Minister while Aunranarit was king. Then his father left the throne and Sihanouk became the official king. Finding this position too conspicuous, he returned to his position as Prime Minister and his father became king again. When his father died last April, Sihanouk became Cambodia's monarch and will remain so until his death or retirement from politics. There is very little political dissent among Cambodians. Most of them are small idiosyncratic Sihanoukians. Small revolution started around Siem Reap, a city in western Cambodia, was quickly subdued. Other than that, Cambodia has had no serious international unrest. Parliament, composed of 61 elected members, and the various ministries also generally support his ideas. The armed forces, (approximately 25,000), and a Provincial Guard force are definitely loyal. Cambodia's political status on the international front is considered neutral. The country has been receiving large amounts of American aid, most of it for roads and irrigation projects, and some Russian aid, much of which has gone into the construction of an excellent hospital. The country's newspapers are varied in their support. Some are pro-western, but some of the most influential are pro-communists. However, there is a definite conflict between Cambodia and Vietnam. Many of the Communist guerrillas that make raids in Vietnam have their headquarters in northeastern Cambodia. Since they do nothing but re-operate in Cambodia, the border marker over the construction of an excellent border incidents have also occurred at times. For instance, a Cambodian patrol moved the border marker over a few miles from a Vietnamese patrol. The Vietnamese were angry, but the Cambodians were in the wrong position. The next day the Cambodians moved it over into Vietnamese land. When the Vietnamese tried to move it back, another member of a patrol began firing at the other. For a time the situation was very serious and it took a few weeks for semi-peaceful relations to be restored. Cambodia's relations with other countries tend to be friendly but not prejudicial. Internally, there has been some trouble with groups of bandits. Evidence has proved that some of these bandits were actually French. No other recent internal troubles have arisen.

JAZZ

Ray Charles: Living the Song by John MacKay There are a number of ways a singer may approach any song. However, in that vast and somewhat vague region known as "jazz singing" the approach of total involvement with the song has consistently been characteristic of the great artists. No contemporary jazz singer better illustrates this approach than Ray Charles. Although he often sings material from other writers, one never has the feeling that Charles is interpreting a song. When Ray sings a song, it is his. He is living the song. This statement becomes meaningful all at once if one listens to Ray's "Just For a Thrill" (Atlantic 1313), and particularly his treatment of the word "still" in the last line of the song. Here Ray squeezes all his feelings about his disenchanted love into a single word. It is not something many singers can do. To a large portion of the listening public Ray Charles represents a particular brand of jazz, hard bop, rock and roll. This is only one aspect of the singer — and a highly diversified one. Charles, of what's I say (Atlantic 1312) and the Charles of Don't Let Me Be Misunderstood (Atlantic 1312) are two very different men. On the latter selection one gets the feeling that Ray might rather be crying, instead of singing. Charles was born in Albany, Georgia, in 1927 and taken to South Florida as a child. At the age of six a childhood illness left him totally blind without hope of recovery. He attended school for blind children in St. Augustine, Florida and then began studying piano at age fifteen. He refused to become a professional musician. He was then a guitarist, piano player, saxophonist, and writer. He has since enlarged that list to include singer, bandleader, organist, and arranger. He uses a special Braille system of musical notation, then dictates his parts to a copyist. At age fifteen he was still musically handicapped. In a mass of recorded material of a highly diversified and somewhat uneven nature. He has recorded at least one glaringly innocuous album (ABC Paradoxical 855), which, nevertheless, contained one beautiful tune in Georgia on My Mind. A large part of the reason for the musical failure of this record was the choice of an amazingly banal set of songs. At his best, however, Charles is a performer who can fill the air with a joyful exuberance (Yes I Indeed on Atlantic 1309), a satirical wit in his self-playing unapologetic (Down in My Own Tears or a Fool, Yes You on Atlantic 1308), and another of Ray's moods, his hard, biting humor, is evidenced on Still Got New Feet You (Impulse 6-2) and on a single, I Believe in My Soul (Atlantic 45-2008). On the three Atlantic items his performance is skillfully supplemented by the singing of The Raylettes, four beautiful chicks — whose singing sounds straight out of a Baptist gospel meeting. The Raylettes travel regularly with Ray for his endless one-nighters throughout the country. The exciting spirit of one of these one-nighters is marvellously captured on one album, recorded as rock and roll (read rhythm and blues) (show in Atlanta, Georgia) Ray Charles in Person (Atlantic 6032). On this record one can hear the tremendous identification Ray gets and urges from his audience, and also the remarkable voice of Mrs. Marjorie Heidecker, the lead singer of The Raylettes. Ray Charles is not a gospel singer as has been suggested, nor is he a blues singer in the purest meaning of the term, but he is the blending of both of these musical genres that pervades his work. Ray has himself expressed the wish to sing with the same basic attitude that Mahalia Jackson has toward her music. Similarly, Ray's roots in the blues are deep, as they are for most any lower class Negro. For these reasons Ray Charles has become a sort of symbol or god to the musicians in the current down-home-funk-and-movement in modern jazz, a fact which sometimes surprises people who are inclined to think of him as just another rock and roller. In closing, I might just say that if this article should by chance inspire anyone to go out and buy a Ray Charles LP, pick up on The Genius of Ray Charles (Atlantic 1318) and you will have one of the most moving and perfect albums of jazz vocals ever recorded.

AAUW To Hold Annual Used Book Sale Next Week At First Parish

Don't spend all your money on Homecoming, save some of it for the book sale to be held next Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday in the vestry of the First Parish Church. We shall have on sale second-hand books ranging from five cents to two dollars, but most of the prices will be well under a dollar, said Mrs. Arthur P. Daggett, active member of AAUW, which is running the sale. Bound and paperback texts, novels, plays, and collections of poetry and essays will be on display. The books approaching the two dollar mark will be the hardcover sets. On Tuesday, October 31, and Wednesday, November 1, the sale will be going on from 9:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. The last day, November 2, will be final closing at 1:00 in the afternoon. A snack bar will be open all three days. AAUW stands for the American Association of University Women. Bowdoin Chapter. The ladies of the college's chapter will be raising money for the college's Fellowship Fund which provides for a foreign student exchange on the graduate school level. Some of the proceeds will go to the local high school for the Students Aid program.

Patronize Our Advertisers

"The world of jazz has moved on to the 'spirit' of 'cool' or 'progressive' music in the hands of rock-and-roll, and in the hands of those who hold a great art in poor reputation. The blues was a kind of Golden Age in which jazz was cut off from the roots in the blues and the dance. It's gone but not forgotten. Watson, a hard one to dis-miss." From the current issue of NATIONAL REVIEW, Write for review, 100 E. 57th, New York 16, N.Y. For free copy.

OUTFITTERS TO BOWDOIN MEN

Benoit's

MEN'S FASHION FOOTNOTES

SHOES WITH THE "BANK INTO" FEELING. Men want comfort on their leading days... they want to pamper their work-wear feet. The answer: Glove leather casuals with jumbo soles of cushion foam rubber. Light enough to float. Tough enough for long, long wear. Good for Saturday "Yard Birds" or Sunday "Patio Chefs." Shoes shown by Mansfield. AVAILABLE AT BENOIT'S 12.95 and 14.95 Famous Fishermen Knit Hose by Camp $1.50 A. H. BENOIT & CO. 120 MAINE ST. BRUNSWICK

Student Council Report

(Continued from page 1) Dean, and the town selection concerning the last and future to-college relationships. Most objection to the injury resulting from fraternities and other foreign objects. The Dean has made it clear that any student caught with firecrackers in the future will be liable to immediate expulsion, in reference to future rallies the Dean also appeared to be "interested" in a form which incoming students at Yale have to sign, promising that they will not become involved in demonstrations. It states, indirectly, that if a student is caught, he could be expelled. Cole also announced that President Cole is to speak to the Council next Monday to answer any questions concerning the establishment of Chapel exercises.

New Editor

(Continued from page 1) weekly sketches to the features department. EDGAR C. BAILEY has been appointed Assistant Sports Editor. BRUCE LEONARD '63 will stay on as Business Manager, as will WILLIAM COVENS '64 as Advertising Manager. Taking over the Orient's Circulation Department will be DOUG SCOTT and PHIL RACINE, both members of the sophomore class. GEORGE SMITH '63 will be the new Assistant Business Manager. Halperin's Editorial Board will include MARY BOYTELLO, CZEYSZWSKI, SKI, BEALE, WALKER, SMITH, and WOLLESTADT. The various departments staffs remain essentially the same.

Brunswick Film Society

To Offer Fourth Annual Season Of Fine Films

In 1959, a small group of people from the college and Brunswick formed the Brunswick Film Society, under the leadership of Mr. John Frey, Assistant Professor of Chemistry. In three years the society has had great success, the main object of the society being to "provide a limited number of films which are high in entertainment and educational value." The society opens another opportunity for closer relations with Brunswick and the college. Approximately one third to one half of the members have no connection with the college, coming from Brunswick or the nearby towns of Bath, Camden, Freeport, and Lewiston. The films are of unusual quality, not regularly available in nearby theaters. There is a good balance of old and new films and those from various countries other than the United States. The president of the society this year is Mr. Storck, Professor of Economics. A small committee handles the mechanics and finances. This committee also takes the members each year as to their film preferences. In this way a program is set for the following year. A student representative is also on the committee, so that all sides are well represented. Some of the coming attractions to be shown at Smith Auditorium are Polanski, a Russian film, The Blue Angel, The Tender Game, an Italian film, Fanny Fanchelli, and a French film entitled Mr. Hulot's Holiday.

Winning the peace is a lonely battle!

Support the USO fund through your United Fund or Community Chest. KING'S BARBER SHOP NEXT TO CAMPUS Bowdoin's Favorite Barbers SIX — BARBERS — SIX

Parkview Cleaners and Parkview Laundercenter

"The Home Of Better Cleaning" 3 HOUR SERVICE AT THE CLEANERS No worry about lost clothing at the laundercenter when you do it yourself. OPEN 24 HOURS A DAY

STUDENT PATRONAGE WELCOMED

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Smith Photo Shop

160 Maine Street, Brunswick Photo Supplies Hallmark Greeting Cards Contemporary Cards

New Meadows Inn Bath Road HI 3-3921 Hotel Sedgwick Bath, Maine HI 3-3361 The Best in Foods, Lodging, and Cocktail Lounges

Brunswick Coal & Lumber Co. Mobilheat Fuel Oil 14 Spring Street

Patronize Our Advertisers OAKIE'S AUTO SERVICE FOR THE MOST COMPLETE AND EXPERT SERVICE WHEEL ALIGNMENT — ENGINE TUNE-UP "We don't want all the business — just yours" 51 BATH ROAD PA 5-5700

Pizza and Free Root Beer ERNIE'S DRIVE-IN STUDENT PATRONAGE WELCOMED FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Smith Photo Shop 160 Maine Street, Brunswick Photo Supplies Hallmark Greeting Cards Contemporary Cards

Benoit's OUTFITTERS TO BOWDOIN MEN MEN'S FASHION FOOTNOTES SHOES WITH THE "BANK INTO" FEELING. Men want comfort on their leading days... they want to pamper their work-wear feet. The answer: Glove leather casuals with jumbo soles of cushion foam rubber. Light enough to float. Tough enough for long, long wear. Good for Saturday "Yard Birds" or Sunday "Patio Chefs." Shoes shown by Mansfield. AVAILABLE AT BENOIT'S 12.95 and 14.95 Famous Fishermen Knit Hose by Camp $1.50 A. H. BENOIT & CO. 120 MAINE ST. BRUNSWICK

Norwegian Economist Will Lecture Under Tallman Foundation Program

Dr. Ole Myrvoll, Professor of Economic Theory of the Norwegian School of Economics and Business Administration in Bergen, Norway, and Norwegian banking expert, will be at the College as Visiting Professor of Economics under the Tallman Foundation, President James S. Coles announced.

After receiving his degree of Candidate of Economics at the University of Oslo in 1935 he studied at the University of Virginia, receiving his master of arts degree in 1937. He worked for three months in the First National Bank of Chicago and then returned to Norway and a position with the Bank of Norway.

Dr. Ole Myrvoll, Professor of Economic Theory of the Norwegian School of Economics and Business Administration in Bergen, Norway, who will be the 1961-62 Tallman Lecturer.

Dr. Myrvoll will teach at Bowdoin under the Tallman Foundation and will deliver a series of lectures under the Tallman Lecture Fund. The money for this fund was given by Frank O. Tallman of Wilmington, Delaware in 1928 as a memorial to the Bowdoin members of his family.

Richard B. Harwell To Speak At State Library Meetings

Richard B. Harwell, College Librarian, will be the featured speaker at two meetings of state library associations during the next two weeks.

Mr. Harwell will be at Jekyll Island, Georgia, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, where he will address the College Library Section on the subject, "A Place of Inquiry," and the General Session of the Georgia Library Association on the subject, "The Indelible War." He will be joined in the College Section discussion by Clay R. Lyle, Emory University Librarian, and in the General Session by Ben Fortson, Georgia Secretary of State.

Mr. Harwell will then go to Detroit, Michigan, for the Friday, November 3, meeting of the Michigan Library Association. There he will address the College Library Section of the Association on the subject, "Lee."

An expert on Civil War literature, Mr. Harwell has recently had published an abridged version of Douglas Southall Freeman's biography of Robert E. Lee.

Library Presented With First Civil War Novel, Prophecying Tragedies

An anonymous donor has presented to the College Library a copy of what Librarian Richard B. Harwell has authenticated as the first Civil War novel, written by a former College Overseer and Trustee, William Jenks (1778-1868).

Entitled Members of the Northern Kingdom, written A.D. 1872, by the late Rev. William Jenks, L.L.D., in six letters to his son, Quebec, A.D. 1801, the novel was actually written by Mr. Jenks when he was a deacon in Bath in 1807 or 1808. It was published in Boston in 1808 and reprinted in Hattytown, N. Y., in 1929.

The Library of Congress index card concerning the work reads: "It purports to be an account of the breaking up of the Union by the secession of the Southern States, which had adopted a monarchical form of government, under the protection of France; while the Northern States had become annexed to Canada, under the control of an English prince, and a republic called 'Illinois' had been formed in the West."

Mr. Harwell calls the work the first of four novels predicting the Civil War, and therefore has considered the first Civil War novel. The next prophetic novel was not written until 1836.

Though no one was the winner in Mr. Jenks' novel, the South was the winner in the other prophetic novels. The South did not win the War again until a science-fiction piece, Ward Moore's Bring the Jubilee, was published in 1949, according to Mr. Harwell.

In previous research done by Mr. Harwell, the Bowdoin Librarian mentioned this novel in an article which appeared in the Pacific Northwest Library Association Quarterly earlier this year, entitled "One With Miss Ravenel's Conversion; or, Bugsle Blow Go Round: A Note on the Civil War Novel."

In the article he said, "The beginning was long ago, long before the War itself. The first Civil War novel was published in Boston in 1808, and was written by a man who lived in the West, according to the title page, the westward expansionist, and the Illinois collector all."

The author, Mr. Jenks, was a Professor of Oriental Languages and English Literature at Bowdoin from 1811 to 1818, and was an Overseer of Bowdoin from 1806 to 1811, Secretary to the Trustees and ex-officio Overseer from 1811 to 1818, and Trustee from 1818 to 1822. A graduate of Harvard, he was awarded a D. D. degree by Bowdoin in 1828. He was a clergyman in Bath from 1828 to 1841 and in Boston from 1841 to 1845. He was also an Overseer of Harvard from 1832 to 1842.

Upon receiving the copy of Mr. Jenks' novel, Mr. Harwell said, "Because of my own interest in Civil War novels and because of the book's pertinence to the Brunswick area and Bowdoin College, I am especially happy to add it to our collection."

U. Of Chicago Awards Graduate Scholarship To Alumnus Haskell

Mr. Alan Haskell, who was awarded the Bachelor of Arts degree by the College in 1961, is the recipient of a scholarship to the Graduate School of Education, University of Chicago, according to Herman O. Sweeney, dean of students. A member of the second group of graduate students to enter the new Master of Arts in Teaching program, Mr. Haskell will become a candidate for the Master of Arts in Teaching Mathematics degree.

Developed with assistance from the Ford Foundation, the Master of Arts in Teaching program is designed to produce high school teachers who will be outstanding both in scholarly competence and in teaching effectiveness. The first year of the new two-year program provides for graduate study in education and in one of twelve teaching fields: biology, Russian, chemistry, social studies, English, physics, Spanish, history, French, geography, mathematics, or German. During the second year, the Master of Arts in Teaching candidates will complete resident teaching in a selected high school at an appropriate salary.

While at Bowdoin, Haskell was active in the Masque and Gown Outing Club and Delta Sigma Sigma fraternity.

At the current rate of two cents per day, the fine would amount to about $300.

Mr. Louis Brownlow Is Guest Lecturer Here; Interviews Students

Louis Brownlow, formerly director of the Public Administration Clearing House at the University of Chicago, visited the college this past week, from Monday, October 23, through Thursday, October 26. He was here under the auspices of the Murray Goodseason Govt. Government Fund.

Mr. Brownlow formally began his visit with a Chapel talk Monday, in which he discussed the modern social revolution. He stated that the burden of leadership in the changing world today rests on the shoulders of the undergraduate student. Evidence of this revolution are a rapidly expanding technology and the consequent social adjustments which must be made.

In addition to giving a formal address before a meeting of Government, American History, and Economics majors on Tuesday, Mr. Brownlow also held individual conversations with many students during the week. In these talks, which were arranged on an appointment basis, he discussed with individuals the possibilities of careers in public service.

Throughout the week, Mr. Brownlow stimulated the interest of students in local government, discussed career opportunities in this field, and led everyone he talked with to an increasing awareness of his responsibilities as a citizen.

Mr. Brownlow formally began his visit with a Chapel talk Monday, in which he discussed the modern social revolution. He stated that the burden of leadership in the changing world today rests on the shoulders of the undergraduate student. Evidence of this revolution are a rapidly expanding technology and the consequent social adjustments which must be made.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"I KNOW HOW ANXIOUS YOU ARE TO SEE ME, FLOYD, BUT I DIDN'T THINK YOUR FEAT WOULD LET YOU PREPRESS OUT ON WEEK DATES"

White Mountain Oil Co.

NORTH CONWAY, NEW HAMPSHIRE Complete Heating and Appliance Service For The Eastern Central New Hampshire Area

CAMPUS STYLED FALL & WINTER OUTERWEAR

Quality, Variety, Economy

Phil's Men's Store

78 MAINE STREET BRUNSWICK

Kennebec Fruit Co.

Newspapers — Magazines Cigarettes — Pipes — Tobacco Ice Cold Beverages OPEN SEVEN DAYS A WEEK 142 MAINE STREET

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES SALUTE CARL HORN

How many more people will need telephone service in Illinois by 1970? How many more telephone buildings should be built, how much more equipment ordered? Helping to find the right answers (because the wrong ones could be very expensive) is the job of Carl Horn, a telephone company economist who graduated from college just last year. His studies and estimates help management make important forecasting decisions. Decisions that will bring advanced communications to the nation. Carl Horn of Illinois Bell Telephone Company, and other young men like him in Bell Telephone Companies, help make your telephone and communications service the finest in the world.

BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES

CUMBERLAND THEATER - Romanoff & Juliette with Peter Ustinov and John Gavin. Also The Young Doctors with Fredrick March and Ben Gazzara.

Isaksson Calls Bergman 'Giant Of Contemporary Swedish Film World'

At a meeting of the International Club, held last Wednesday in the Moulton Union, Hans Isaksson, a Rotary Scholar at Bowdoin from Sweden, led an informal group discussion of the Swedish Cinema. He told of the history of the Swedish film industry from its unpretentious beginnings in 1898, through its high and low points thereafter, to the present state of the industry which he characterizes as, "One but a Giant." That giant being Ingmar Bergman whom Isaksson believes to be the only contemporary Swedish film maker of any class. Following this history, Hans led a discussion centered on Mr. Bergman and the Swedish Cinema of today.

The International Club plans to hold similar lectures — discussions, in the future both with foreign students and guest lecturers. Any and all are welcome on these occasions.

GADFLY (Continued from page 2)

Dad: I thought she'd never leave. Son: But she's pounding on the door for us to let her back in. Dad: She never leaves, fellow Peace. Son: Say, Mom, could you be a little quieter? Try to have a little consideration for your relatives. Dad: Listen to her crying out there. Boy, do I hate to hear a woman cry.

ENTER DAUGHTER

Daughter: Who's saying? Dad: It's Mom. Out there. Daughter: Oh? Say, Mom, what's the view like out there? Like is it devastating? Ha, ha. Is the Jones house still standing? She isn't answering me. By the way, Dad, why don't you try to fix the toilet. The bowl overflows. Dad: That's all we needed. Daughter: And Mom took all the cosmetics with her, I see. I can't do without makeup, I tell you. How can I face myself in the mirror in the morning? Well, I will just have to go out there and get that makeup back from Mom. I'll be right back. Daughter goes outside. Son slams door. Minutes pass. Finally Daughter knocks on the door. OK, let me in.

Dad: It's too late now, son. She's 'hot' now too. Don't open the door. What took you so long, daughter? Daughter: Well, Mom had crawled away. I couldn't find her right away. Dad: Sorry, it's too late now. Son, turn on the hi-fi. It will drown out her snoring. Son: But all we have is "Victory at Sea." Dad: Forget it. She can't last much longer, anyway. (Hours pass) Dad and Son stare blankly at the four walls and at each other. Dad breaks the silence. I have never been so completely bored in all my life. And we still have another week in here. Turn on the radio. (Son turns on radio). Radio Voice: "A new bomb has just been dropped. It seems that they missed the American Legion with the first bomb. Families are warned to stay in their shelters for three more weeks." Dad: Turn it off. I can't stand it. I'm leaving. Anything is better than this. Nothing you can say will stop me. I must go. (Dad leaves. Son slams door). Son: Now at least I can hear "Victory at Sea" in peace.

CAN-CAN with FRANK SINATRA and SHIRLEY MACLAINE

HEAR YE HEAR YE! BRING YOUR FRIENDS AT THE SHOWS HOUSE. MAINE'S FINEST HISTORIC INN. MAIN ST. 2ND FLOOR. BRUNSWICK, MAINE.

SMALL'S ESSO SERVICENTER. WE SPECIALIZE IN Engine Tune-Up and Wheel Alignment. BATH ROAD PA 9-3740

MOULTON UNION BOOKSTORE. WE WELCOME THE ALUMNI TO STOP IN AT THE STORE. Bring The Family In To Browse. BOOKS, RECORDS, RECORDING TAPE, GIFTS.

The Arts Center NEW POLICY. ALL PHOTOGRAPHS, RECORDS, DISCOUNT PRICES.

WE WELCOME THE ALUMNI TO STOP IN AT THE STORE. Bring The Family In To Browse. BOOKS, RECORDS, RECORDING TAPE, GIFTS.

Polar Bearings

By Asa Smith

The goals of the compulsory physical education program at Bowdoin are basically admirable, but the realization of these goals seems in some areas to be sadly lacking.

This fall a choice was given to each student to participate in classes in swimming, tennis, football or calisthenics. In at least two of these programs the goals are not being adequately realized.

The tennis course is also plagued by an insufficient staff. One student signed up for this course in hopes of improving his week game.

These instances would seem to indicate that something must be done about the compulsory gym program. Sufficient physical exercise must be required from each student and in courses which offer instruction.

PAT ON THE BACK: The PAT ON THE BACK this week goes to MIKE PANTELEAKOS who scored four touchdowns in the varsity football game with Bates.

Football Team Ready For Maine; Booters Down Bates And Colby

Quarterback Dick Ball on his way to tackling a Colby runner in the Bowdoin Colby game, Bowdoin won 29-12.

The Polar Bears swept to a 31-20 victory over Bates on November 4. Barry Jenkins' interception of a Bobcat pass and a consequent series of runs by Jack Mibo and Mike Panteleakos gave the White a 9-0 lead early in the first quarter.

Bates was forced to punt early in the second period. A 28 yard return by Mibo and a pass from Dexter Morse to Panteleakos brought the Bears to the Bates 20. Three plays later Panteleakos scored again from the four. Then in the next six minutes Bowdoin scored twice.

Jenkins and with the fine blocking of Charlie Spiesko, Bowdoin's 9-7 halftime lead proceeded co-ordinated and winning efforts in the second half.

Bowdoin's second and third drives resulted from passes to Jack Adams. Jenkins intercepted a Colby pass in the closing minutes to tie the game for the Bears. The superb line play of Charlie Spiesko, Dave Fernald, Bill Nash, Horis Hall, and Jim Wickley opened holes for the Polar Bear offense, and on defense, they made life miserable for the Blue quarterback, Ken Bos.

The White line was superb and almost impenetrable. Excellent blocking in both the line and downfield gave the backs open runs.

This victory, plus the one over Colby the week before, gives Bowdoin a lead in the Maine State Series. The final game at Maine State week should prove to be close and hard-fought.

Bowdoin's gridiron Polar Bears unleashed a ferocious line backed by a well-balanced and running attack to whip arch rival Colby, 22-13, October 25 at Whittier Field.

A long pass and a series of runs gave Colby a touchdown early in the first period. However, Colby was forced to punt from its own 8 yard line several plays later.

The hard rush of the Bowdoin defensive line hindered a hurried pass from the Colby center into the end zone for a safety. The score then stood at 7-2.

Bowdoin's first score came on a roll-out pass to half-back Barry Jenkins and with the fine blocking of Charlie Spiesko, Bowdoin's 9-7 halftime lead proceeded co-ordinated and winning efforts in the second half.

Conference On Sports Held

It was announced yesterday that the Presidents of Amherst, Bowdoin, Wesleyan and Williams held a meeting recently at Cambridge, Massachusetts, for the purpose of reviewing the agreement governing inter-collegiate athletics activities which has been in effect among these institutions for many years.

The meeting was called for the purpose of a general review of the agreement and consideration of changes which might be desirable. The most significant change adopted at the meeting prohibited participation in postseason games, including tournaments sponsored by the N.C.A.A.

- 1. Off-campus activities by members of the Physical Education Department.
- 2. Out-of-season games and activities.
- 3. Postseason tournaments.
- 4. Location of games.

Members of the Physical Education Departments at the four institutions may visit secondary schools only on specific invitation from an appropriate school authority and assume similar scheduled functions.

Admission Officers only are authorized at any time to make any commitment to a prospective student as to admissions or financial aid.

Out-of-season practice is not approved. Practice for fall sports may not begin prior to September 1, winter sports prior to November 1 and spring sports prior to February 1.

Postseason games are not approved, including tournaments sponsored by the N.C.A.A. "All-Star" participation during the academic year is approved but provision is made for individual participation in N.C.A.A. sponsored tournaments in such sports as tennis, golf, track and swimming.

Regularly scheduled dual contests may be played only at the campus facility of one of the institutions involved except that participation in certain tournaments conducted during vacation periods may be permitted.

Students in the agreement govern correspondence with schools by members of the Physical Education Department, the exchange of information between the four institutions as to financial aid awards and approved travel expense reimbursement for members of the Physical Education Department.

During the last two weeks the Bowdoin varsity soccer team has defeated Bates and Colby, giving it a total of six victories in a row. Both games involved continuous hard play out onto the field. Even when the Bowdoin backs could not clear the ball, but time ran out on the Colby team.

On Friday, November 8, the Bowdoin soccer team registered its sixth victory in a row with a 2-1 overtime goal on a pass from Adams. This was the Polar Bears' second victory this season after the Bates eleven, but this win did not come as easily as the first, when the Polar Bears smashed the Bobcats, 6-1.

Bowdoin was forced to wage an uphill battle after Bates' center forward, Las Dudas, scored the first goal at 13:50 of the second period. Up to this time, and especially in the first period, Bowdoin had controlled the play, but the forwards were unable to hit the Bates net.

The first half ended with the Polar Bears still trailing 1-0, but at 14:45 of the third period Bowdoin connected when Las Dudas headed in a corner kick from Fred Rollinson. However, neither team was able to score in the remaining regulation time, and Bowdoin was forced into its second straight overtime game.

Alex Bonosoff provided the winning tally at 2:30 of the first overtime period when he got possession of a free ball in front of the Bates' goal and rammed it past, the help-less goalies. Bates was able to muster one last serious scoring threat, but Bowdoin goalie Steve Eller broke it up with a sensational save. Both Eller and the Bates goalie played excellently; after half 11 saves and the Bates goalie had 24.

Paul Constantine fights for possession of ball with Colby player in the third period. Bowdoin won, 1-0.

Members of the Physical Education Departments at the four institutions may visit secondary schools only on specific invitation from an appropriate school authority and assume similar scheduled functions.

Admission Officers only are authorized at any time to make any commitment to a prospective student as to admissions or financial aid.

Students in the agreement govern correspondence with schools by members of the Physical Education Department, the exchange of information between the four institutions as to financial aid awards and approved travel expense reimbursement for members of the Physical Education Department.

Kappa Sigma Takes '61 Athletic Trophy

FINAL STANDINGS - 1961	1960	Sigma Nu	1954	Sigma Nu
1 Kappa Sigma	121	1961	Sigma Nu	1955	Pal Upsilon
2 Sigma Nu	110	1958	Sigma Nu	1956	Pal Upsilon
3 Pal Upsilon	108	1957	Pal Upsilon
4 Zeta Psi	81	1958	Zeta Psi
5 Delta Kappa Epsilon	79	1959	Kappa Sigma
6 Beta Theta Pi	74	1960	Kappa Sigma
7 Alpha Delta Phi	67	1961	Kappa Sigma
8 Theta Delta Chi	62
9 Chi Psi	61	2nd
10 Delta Sigma	40	Pal Upsilon	Alpha Delta Phi
11 Alpha Tau Omega	28	Chi Psi	Alpha Delta Phi
12 Alpha Rho Upsilon	18	Zeta Psi	Sigma Nu
13 Independent	16	Pal Upsilon	Pal Upsilon
14 Pal Upsilon	15	Sigma Nu	Pal Upsilon
15 Pal Upsilon	14	Pal Upsilon	Sigma Nu
16 Pal Upsilon	13	Sigma Nu
17 Pal Upsilon	12	Zeta Psi	Delta Kappa Epsilon
18 Pal Upsilon	11	Pal Upsilon	Sigma Nu
19 Pal Upsilon	10	Alpha Delta Phi	Sigma Nu
20 Pal Upsilon	9	Zeta Psi	Alpha Delta Phi
21 Pal Upsilon	8	Pal Upsilon	Pal Upsilon
22 Pal Upsilon	7	Pal Upsilon	Pal Upsilon
23 Pal Upsilon	6	Pal Upsilon	Pal Upsilon
24 Pal Upsilon	5	Pal Upsilon	Pal Upsilon
25 Pal Upsilon	4	Pal Upsilon	Pal Upsilon
26 Pal Upsilon	3	Pal Upsilon	Pal Upsilon
27 Pal Upsilon	2	Pal Upsilon	Pal Upsilon
28 Pal Upsilon	1	Pal Upsilon	Pal Upsilon
29 Pal Upsilon	0	Pal Upsilon	Pal Upsilon
30 Pal Upsilon	0	Pal Upsilon	Pal Upsilon

Around The Loop

By Phil Stone

Having missed one week's games because of inclement weather, the teams bounced right back with some fine play. The Sigma Nu's, Pal U's, Zetas, Delta Sigs, and Betas continued their winning streaks while the Kappa Sigma house dropped a game to the Zetas.

The playoffs will comprise the first two teams in each of the two leagues.

standing as of Nov. 3:

League A	Won	Lost
SM	3	0
Zeta	3	0
KS	2	1
Chi Psi	1	2
ARU	0	3
TD	0	3

League B	Won	Lost
Pal U	3	0
DS	3	0
Beta	3	0
DEB	3	0
AD	0	3
Phi Del.	0	3

Smith Photo Shop

148 Maine Street, Brunswick

Photo Supplies

Hallmark Greeting Cards

Contemporary Cards

Benoit's
120 Maine Street Brunswick

PORTER - SHAW, INC.
YOUR NEW FORD DEALER

157 Pleasant St. PA 5-5555 Brunswick

SERVICE SPECIALS

Fordomatic Transmission - Adjust & Inspect

$700

Front End - Aligned & Balanced

$1095

Arrow Banlon "PAR"
The pullover shirt with no handicap
This slim, knitted shirt of 100% cotton is magnificently tailored to conform to natural body lines. Its comfortable good looks and swing-free action brings out the best in you at work or play. Banlon comes in 12 colors.

Short sleeves $6.95
Long sleeves $8.95

ARROW
From the "Cum Laude Collection"

Frosh Beat Morse In Cross-Country

By beating Morse High of Bath by a convincing 26-36 on October 24, the Bowdoin freshman cross-country team extended its winning streak to three and established itself as Bowdoin's finest cross-country team since 1955.

The race had considerable premeditation. For, although first place had been more or less earmarked for Burgess, a "strong stylist" with flowing power and holder of the freshman course record, his abilities had not been put to a real test in previous meets.

Burgess soon demonstrated his prowess by opening up a commanding lead which he never relinquished in his winning effort. His time of 18:02 on the 3 1/2 mile run, a full minute under his old course record, was one of the best seen in Maine.

Although Burgess finished way out in front, five Polar Bears followed him across the line to win the next five places - all within the space of 23 seconds. Bert Babcock broke the course record by 4 seconds, while Gary Brass, Chris Emmett, Tom Chamberlain, and Charles Kahill scored personal bests for the distance. Morse was unable to cope with such performances.

This meet, however, had more significance than just being a notch in the win column. After five lean years Coach Frank Sabatanski has a fine reason for elation and can look forward to what should be a promising future for the Bowdoin cross-country team.

Frosh Sports

The Bowdoin freshman soccer team suffered a 7-0 loss to an experienced Colby team at Colby on October 25. Bowdoin was kept on the defensive during most of the game, thus being unable to employ its forward line, one of the team's major assets.

The Polar euns at home smothered Colby freshmen football team on October 27 by scoring 20 to Colby's 8. Bill Sprague made two touchdowns, while Steve Ingrah, Bill Matthews, and Dan Turner accounted for one each.

Patronize Our Advertisers

White Mountain Oil Co. Complete Heating and Appliance Service For The Eastern Central New Hampshire Area

STUDENT PATRONAGE WELCOMED

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

BRUNSWICK, MAINE

Member of the Federal Reserve System and Member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

COMING EVENTS

- Nov. 10 - Frosh football at Maine, in which Bowdoin will participate.
- Nov. 8 - Varsity soccer at Colby, 2:30.
- 1:30 Frosh soccer vs. North Yarmouth.
- 2:00 Frosh cross-country vs. New North at M.I.T.
- Nov. 10 - Varsity football at Maine, 2:30.
- Nov. 11 - Varsity football at Maine, 2:30.
- Sailing at M.I.T.
- Nov. 10 - Unless listed otherwise, all events are at Bowdoin.

KING'S BARBER SHOP

NEXT TO CAMPUS
Bowdoin's Favorite Barbers
SIX - BARBERS - SIX

The Arts Center NEW POLICY

ALL PHONOGRAPH RECORDS AT DISCOUNT PRICES
JAZZ - CLASSICAL - FOLK - POPULAR

See our complete selection of Travel Posters and Fine Art Reproductions at $1.99

MOULTON UNION BOOKSTORE

"It's Time To Skate Again"

- Northland Pro Hockey Stick $ 3.75
- Northland Rambler 2.50
- Practice Puck39
- Friction Tape29
- Figure Skates 18.95
- Hockey Skates 15.95

SMALL'S ESSO SERVICENTER

WE SPECIALIZE IN
Engine Tune-Up and Wheel Alignment

BATH ROAD PA 9-3740

CUMBERLAND THEATER

Brunswick, Maine

Fri.-Sat. Nov. 10-11 ARMORED COMMAND with Howard Keel - Anita Louise

Sun.-Mon.-Tues. Nov. 12-13-14 BRIDGE IN THE SUN with Carroll Baker - James Sigma

Wed.-Thurs. Nov. 15-16 MAN IN A COCKED HAT with Peter Sellers - Terry Thomas

NOTE - Only One Evening Show at 7:30 p.m. Matinees at 1:45 p.m.

ADMISSION PRICES THIS ENGAGEMENT - ADULTS 99c

Fri.-Sat. Nov. 17-18 A THUNDER OF DRUMS with Richard Boone George Hamilton

COMING THE DEVIL AT FOUR O'CLOCK with Sponsor Tracy - Frank Sinatra

Freudian Football: Crazy!

How would football be looked to the late Dr. Sigmund Freud? What the father of psychoanalysis might have said is presented in "Freud, Football and the Marching Virgins," a November Reader's Digest article by Thomas Hornaby Ferril, Denver poet-editor-publisher.

"Obviously," he writes, "football is a syndrome of religious rites symbolizing the struggle to preserve the egg of life through the rigors of impending winter. The rites begin at the autumnal equinox and culminate on the first day of the New Year with great festivals identified with bowls of plenty; the festivals are associated with flowers such as roses, fruits such as oranges, farm crops such as cotton, and even sun worship and appreciation of great reptiles such as snakes."

"The egg of life is symbolized by what is called the oval, an inflated bladder. The convention is repeated in the architectural oval-shaped design of the vast outdoor churches in which the services are held. . . Literally millions attend. . . In anticipation of violent masculine and sadism about to be enacted by a highly trained priesthood of young men. . ."

"The ceremony begins with colorful processions of musicians and semi-nude virgins who move in and out of ritualized patterns. This excites the worshippers to rise from their seats, shout frenzied poetry in unison and chant ecstatic anthems. . ."

Dr. Freud's only visit to the United States was to lecture at Clark University, Worcester, Mass. as part of the school's 50th anniversary celebration in September of 1909. He also visited New Haven, Boston and Niagara Falls and saw New York's Chinatown, Central Park and Metropolitan Museum, but nobody took him to a football game. Mr. Ferril played sandlot football as a boy in Denver and observed it at Colorado College.

He first wrote his satire for the 191-year-old Rocky Mountain Herald, a weekly of 2000 circulation. It is Colorado's oldest weekly. He is also public relations manager and editor of two magazines for the Great Western Sugar Company. Mr. Ferril won the $10,000 Denver Post-Central City Opera House award with " . . . And Perhaps Happiness," a verse play produced there in 1958. He received the Poetry Society of America's $1,000 Robert Frost Award in 1960. He has written a book of essays and four volumes of poetry, "New and Selected Poems," published by Harper & Brothers, is now in its third edition.

Harwell To Give Talks

Richard B. Harwell, College Librarian, will be the featured speaker at two meetings of state library associations during the next two weeks.

Mr. Harwell will be at Jekyll Island, Georgia, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, where he will address the College Library Section on the subject, "A Place of Inquiry," and the General Session of the Georgia Library Association on the subject, "The Indefinite War." He will be joined in the College Section discussion by Guy R. Lyle, Emory University Librarian, and in the General Session by Ben Fortson, Georgia Secretary of State.

Mr. Harwell will then go to Detroit, Michigan, for the Friday, November 3, meeting of the Michigan Library Association. There he will address the College Library Section on the Association on the subject, "Let's."

An expert on Civil War literature, Mr. Harwell has recently had published an abridged version of Douglas Southall Freeman's biography of Robert E. Lee.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Seniors are reminded that Placement Bureau registration is necessary in order to participate in the placement interviews which will begin shortly after the Thanksgiving recess. All registration forms must be completed by candidates at an early date. All those who have registration forms are requested to return them promptly.

OPERA HOUSE
BATH, ME.
Starts Wednesday 7:00 p.m.

THE GUNS OF NAVARONE
GREGORY PECK - DAVID NIVEN
ANTHONY QUINN - CAROL REEVES
THE GUNS OF NAVARONE
COMING CLAUDELLE INGLISH

College Given $200,000 Trusts by Late Alfred B. White, Class of '98

The College will be the beneficiary of two trusts amounting to $200,000 which have been established by the late Alfred B. White '98.

One of the two trusts was established under Mr. White's will, while the other was established during the former Boston attorney's lifetime, Mr. McIntire said.

The income from the two trusts will be available for the support of the general educational program at the College.

Mr. White, a native of Lewiston, was graduated from Bowdoin in 1898 and from Harvard Law School with honors in 1901. While at Harvard he was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and the Alpha Delta Phi Club. He was also a member of the Algonquin Exchange, the University Club of Boston and the Massachusetts Bar Association.

He was an overseer of Bowdoin from 1921 to 1929 until his death in 1932. He married Mary F. Langlan in Lawrence, Mass., in 1923. The second Mrs. White died in November of 1950.

Foreign Student
(Continued from page 2)

The climate is much like our own, though. And still Finland lies far north as Alaska does. Finland lies between the 60th and 70th latitudes. (If I am right, Brunswick is situated somewhere around the 43rd latitude.) What makes the climate of Finland "human" is the Gulf stream in the Arctic Ocean. After what I have seen of Maine I am inclined to say that the scenery (excluding architecture) really resembles Finland, especially the southern part of it.

There are many things I would like to do, much that I would like to know, many places I would like to visit in the U. S. A. Until now I have not been able to do so much. I hope, however, that I will be able to "live it up" to life as much as possible of the life of American students and other Americans. One more I assert that I believe this year will be profitable to me, even though it postpones my graduation and though none of the classes I am taking will bring me any credit in my study at home. But what I get for myself will be worth the delay. I will have many pleasant memories from the time I was studying at Bowdoin.

Canada Gives College Books

Miss Laura Beattie, Consul in the Canadian Consulate General in Boston, recently presented a group of several books and pamphlets on Canadian history and by Canadian authors to the College Library.

The books were presented to Librarian Richard B. Harwell as a part of the Canada Council's program "to foster and promote the study and enjoyment of, and the production of works in, the Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences."

The Canada Council was established and ended by an Act of the Canadian Parliament in 1957. Its income derives from a fifty million dollar endowment.

The Council has supported cultural exchanges with other countries by giving grants to organizations and individuals for the representation of the Canadian arts abroad and for the proper reception of nonresident scholars and artists in Canada, by helping Canadian scholars to accept teaching engagements abroad and Canadian universities to bring visiting lecturers, and in several other ways.

In 1960 the Canada Council expanded its book distribution program. A number of books of outstanding literary merit, recently written and published in Canada were purchased by the Council for distribution in other countries.

Coles Speech
(Continued from page 1)

the citizens of Brunswick in maintaining this friendly atmosphere.

Coles said that Brunswick and Bowdoin have always been mutually beneficial to each other. From the time the college first opened its doors in 1802, Brunswick's citizens have contributed greatly in both time and money. But Bowdoin has also been helpful by encouraging industry. He stated that he was never accusing nor acquitting the students of these deeds and asked the students to be more cooperative with the townspeople in the future.

Play Review
(Continued from Page 1)

woman of passion imperfectly submerged in the passionately faithful and long suffering wife delivered her lines with real perception and moved with the conviction of a fine actress who is sure of what she is doing. Neville Powers as Luke the servant did a fine job of character acting. He succeeded in embodying the character of an aged and decrepit man who doesn't have much of anything under control. John Kirkpatrick and Anthony Paul looked sufficiently astonished as they stumbled into the end of the play and found a set of circumstances the antithesis of that which they had expected.

A Marriage Proposal, the show which most nearly fit any real definition of "farce," was quite enjoyable although somewhat less successful than the two preceding plays. One cannot help feeling that the direction was at fault. Mr. David Henahaw's staging was quite adequate, but he allowed the production to be somewhat too frenzied. He also allowed his actors too much speed of delivery and a consequent lack of clarity. Albeit that all comedy takes place in a disordered universe, Mr. Henahaw did not seem to be operating upon definitions which would adequately differentiate farce from slapstick. To be sure, he is to be given credit for producing a very funny and

Alumni Council
(Continued from page 1)

Professor Athern F. Daggett moderated a panel discussion entitled "Undergraduate Attitudes and Behavior."

Saturday's program featured a combined council and fund meeting in the Faculty Room in Massachusetts Hall from 10 to 10:30 a.m., following which President James S. Coles addressed the group on the State of the College.

Afternoon activities were at a main theater and the entire academic staff to see the Bowdoin-Bates State Series football game at Whittier Field.

DICK MALONE'S Imported Car Clinic

NSD Service

SERVICE ON ALL IMPORTED CARS

168 Pleasant Street
PA 5-2481

MEYER BLOCH

President
THE MAGICIANS CLUB
89 Avenue C
New York 9, N. Y.

A. Paquette

Fine Shoe Repairing by Modern Methods
Cushing Street Shopping Center

Vaillancourt Bros. Body Shop

PAINTING — SIMONIZING — WELDING

Free Estimates All Work Guaranteed

We repair foreign as well as American cars

39 JORDAN AVENUE DIAL PA 5-7908

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES

SALUTE: BILL PIGOT

Six years ago Bill Pigot graduated from college with an engineering degree. Today he is responsible for the performance of 12 microwave relay stations, numerous communications cables, and other equipment. He also supervises the work of some sixty transmission specialists.

Bill Pigot of Pacific Northwest Bell Telephone Company, and the other young engineers like him in Bell Telephone Companies throughout the country, help bring the finest communications service in the world to the homes and businesses of a growing America.

BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES

Shipman To Instruct Raytheon Employees

Continuing its policy of contributing to the educational and cultural advancement of the people of Maine, the College has begun an experimental course for employees of Raytheon Company in Lewiston.

To be taught by Dr. William D. Shipman, Assistant Professor of Economics, the course, offered on an experimental basis during the first semester of the current academic year, is entitled "Principles of Economics." It is the basic course in Economics at Bowdoin and is a study of fundamental economic concepts and institutions, with applications to important public policies and problems.

The course is intended to serve as a pilot offering to determine whether the College may expand further its offerings to employees of industrial firms and other Maine groups wishing to take advanced work in their fields of interest. If the experiment proves successful, the course will be continued throughout the entire academic year. Begun October, the class will meet for three hours each Monday at Lewiston High School.

Professor Shipman, a native of Glen Elyn, Ill., is a graduate of the University of Washington in the Class of 1949 and received a master of arts degree from the University of California in 1950 and a doctor of philosophy degree from Columbia University.

He was an economist with the Office of Price Stabilization in Seattle, Wash., in 1951-52 and was an investment analyst with Brown Brothers, Harriman & Co. of New York City from 1953 to 1957 when he joined the Bowdoin Faculty. He was appointed Assistant Professor of Economics in 1958.

Dr. Shipman is a member of the American Economic Association, the Economic History Association and the American Association of University Professors.

Granite Farm DAIRY

For All Your Dairy Product Needs

Brunswick, Maine
Dial PA 9-3422

"ARTHUR LARSON, the ADA's dream Republican, feels that 'World War must be based on the light traditions of all parts of the world, not just one part.' Since a large part of the world population before even while the other parts of them, presumably Mr. Larson would propose a Solomon-like arrangement which might avert the front half of the war for dinner and reserve the back half for tomorrow." — from the current issue of NATIONAL REVIEW. Write for copy, 150 E. 28 St., New York 16, N.Y., for free copy.

Granite Farm DAIRY

For All Your Dairy Product Needs

Brunswick, Maine
Dial PA 9-3422

Hear Ye! Hear Ye!
BEST YET FRIENDS AT
The Stove House
Maine's Finest Historic Inn
Maine Sear Tap Room
65 FEDERAL STREET
BRUNSWICK, MAINE

PICK THE RIGHT ONE . . .

THE BRACING BRIGHT ONE!

PEPSI-COLA

Auburn-Portland, Maine

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES

SALUTE: BILL PIGOT

Six years ago Bill Pigot graduated from college with an engineering degree. Today he is responsible for the performance of 12 microwave relay stations, numerous communications cables, and other equipment. He also supervises the work of some sixty transmission specialists.

Bill Pigot of Pacific Northwest Bell Telephone Company, and the other young engineers like him in Bell Telephone Companies throughout the country, help bring the finest communications service in the world to the homes and businesses of a growing America.

BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES

The HOTEL EAGLE

DINING ROOM
EAGLE'S NEST LOUNGE

Comfortable Accommodations
PRIVATE DINING ROOM AVAILABLE FOR PARTIES

CALL PA 5-5591

New Meadows Inn

Bath Road HI 3-3921

Hotel Sedgwick

Bath, Maine HI 3-3361

The Best in Food, Lodging, and Cocktail Lounges

FOR SALE AT HALF PRICE

Collegiate Style Man's Fur Coat

This is a brand new Alaska Wolf Fur coat which is carcoat length and medium size. Last year it was featured in the spring edition of Sports Illustrated as the latest and best. As this coat was a sample, it can be bought for half price ($139.99). The buyer should be able to recall it after college for the same price.

IF YOU ARE INTERESTED CALL MR. PAYTON AT POINTLAND AP 4 ONE OR TELEPHONE AT BRUNSWICK TP 3-4888

ENJOY A COMFORTABLE WINTER

in our warm

BOWL COAT

made in heavy wide wale corduroy with bulky knit collar and handsome wool plaid lining.

ONLY $1995

Phil's Men's Store

78 MAINE STREET BRUNSWICK

Parkview Cleaners and Parkview Laundercenter

"The Home Of Better Cleaning"

3 HOUR SERVICE AT THE CLEANERS

No worry about lost clothing at the laundercenter when you do it yourself.

OPEN 24 HOURS A DAY

Lord Takes Newspaper Post; Replaced By Kamin Educational Television Station Now Operating "The Visit" To Be Presented Tonight Pickard Play Also Set For Friday

Hugh Lord Replaced By Former Affiliate Of Associated Press

Mr. Hugh C. Lord, for two years Administrative Assistant in Charge of News Services at the College, has resigned his post to take a new position as sports editor of the Kennebec Journal. He will be replaced by Joseph D. Kamin, of Concord, N. H.

Mr. Lord, who came to the College in August, 1959, had previously served as a sports reporter for the Bangor Daily News. He has also been an English teacher at Bangor High School, Howland High School, and Lee Academy. In 1961, he received his B.A. from the University of Maine.

Mr. Kamin, who will replace Mr. Lord, comes to the College from the Associated Press. His assignment will be to reorganize the Bowdoin College News Service, which will be a foundation for an expanded public relations program designed to meet a need for coordination of public information about Bowdoin's educational accomplishments and objectives. Prior to accepting his position at the College, he had served as a reporter for the Tunstun, Mass. Daily Gazette, as a staff writer and editor for the AP Bureau in Portland, and as Correspondent in charge of the Associated Press Bureau in Concord.

President Cole issued the following statement concerning Mr. Lord's resignation:

During his two years at Bowdoin, Hugh Lord made a legion of friends at the College and he is genuinely interested in all that went on around him. His talents will take him far in his chosen career as a sports editor, and he takes with him the good wishes of the College and all who knew him.

Mr. Kamin, who will replace Mr. Lord, comes to the College from the Associated Press. His assignment will be to reorganize the Bowdoin College News Service, which will be a foundation for an expanded public relations program designed to meet a need for coordination of public information about Bowdoin's educational accomplishments and objectives. Prior to accepting his position at the College, he had served as a reporter for the Tunstun, Mass. Daily Gazette, as a staff writer and editor for the AP Bureau in Portland, and as Correspondent in charge of the Associated Press Bureau in Concord.

Council Hits Discrimination, Affirms Freedom To Choose

After the reading of the last meeting's minutes, the members of the Student Council discussed and voted in favor of the following resolution on discrimination in the fraternities on Nov. 13:

"The Student Council, confident that its views are representative of student opinion and conscience, discourages and stands firmly opposed to all discriminatory practices embodied in written clauses and gentlemen's agreements.

"We feel that discrimination is not in keeping with the spirit of a liberal arts college nor the principles upon which Bowdoin College was founded. Bowdoin is a fraternity college. The organization and attitude of its separate fraternities are an integral part of Bowdoin life. Any formal clause or gentlemen's agreement within the structure of any of Bowdoin's fraternities is in direct antithesis to the historical ideals of the college and the opinions of the present student body.

Facilities For Research Given To College By Mrs. Harold Pulsifer

Mrs. Harold Throwbridge Pulsifer has given a tract of her shore frontage at Bethel Point, East Harpswell, to the College to be used for marine and other scientific and educational studies and for the preservation of wild life.

To be known as Little Ponds Wild Life Sanctuary, the land is given in memory of her late husband, Harold Throwbridge Pulsifer, owner and editor of Outlook Magazine and well-known poet, and of Sheldon Wilcox, neighbor whose plane was lost at sea on a mission in the Pacific during World War II, and who shared Harold Pulsifer's keen interest and work in bird observation on this property.

The land, which includes a meadow, pond and woodland, provides both fresh and salt water and a variety of terrain. Anubora for the 16-foot Bluffin recently purchased by the College's biology department is available off a ledge with an iron ring embedded in it where Canadian vessels tied up a hundred years ago to trade with Indians.

In conveying this land and shore front to the College, Mrs. Pulsifer stated: "My interest in making this gift is threefold: Firstly, I see it as a most fitting memorial to my husband who realized deeply the importance of fish and wild life conservation and who had done much work to this end. Secondly, the gift is made in fulfillment of my own conviction that the prime value and destiny of this State of Maine is in the preservation of its natural beauties, its wild life and resources and that those who own land in this state own its priceless heritage and should do all that is possible for its conservation. Thirdly, the gift expresses my faith in the outstanding facilities for study and education here in Maine and in Bowdoin College which today is increasingly interested in the life and resources of our particular vicinity and neighborhood, Harpswell."

Mrs. Pulsifer comes of a family long interested in the sea and in nature. Captains of square riggers out of Salem were her ancestors. Her two older brothers sailed around the Horn several times on one of the last of these merchant ships.

Her home "Little Ponds" has for many years been a mecca for writers, poets, artists, musicians and patrons of the arts. Always interested in young people and in the furthering of their education, she has given aid and encouragement to many.

In accepting the gift of land from Mrs. Pulsifer, President Cole said: "This addition to the facilities of Bowdoin College provides significant opportunities for the enrichment of our undergraduate program in ornithology and marine biology and for further educational and research contributions by the College to the people of this region, this state and the nation. Bowdoin College is indeed grateful to Mrs. Pulsifer, not only for this generous gift, but as well for her far-reaching interest in the preservation and continued development of the educational and natural resources of the State of Maine."

Mrs. Pulsifer, a graduate of Berea Mary where she taught after graduation, has been a trustee of Oak Grove School, Vassalboro, for the past 15 years and was a member of its faculty in the English Department for 10 years. She has written for magazines and newspapers for over 30 years. Books written by Mrs. Pulsifer include "Water Colors" — South of France 1918, "Spirits of France" and others concerning this country which she knows well. She wrote "Scenes from the Hills and Woods of Woodcut," published in 1947, "A House in Time," an autobiographical book published in 1959 and "Minute Magic: Children are An ardent sailor, Mrs. Pulsifer is the owner of a 27-foot sloop, the FEM, built for racing in the Bermuda Cup Races. With her owner at the tiller it can often be seen competing in the Harpswell races each summer on Saturday afternoon.

College Debaters Wind Up With 3-3 Mark In Recent BU Contest

The past week has been a busy one for the debate club. On Saturday, November 4, Frank Ciaccio '63 and Steve Kay '63, were the affirmative team, and Peter Aranson '63 and Barry Hawkins '63 were on the negative team which Bowdoin sent to the Boston University Tournament. The overall result was a 3-3 record, with Kay and Ciaccio beating Harvard and losing to Dartmouth and Michigan. Harvard's and Aranson beating Suffolk

Meet The College's Newest Singing Group: Bowdoin's Tuneful "Bachelors"

The "Bowdoin Bachelors" is the name of the new singing group on our campus. The group is an augmented double quartet consisting of two tenors, Wayne Hubbard and Howie Levine; a bass-baritone, Jim Weidner; two baritones, Bob Duncan and Jim Garth; and four tenors, Phil Boulier, Ken Briggs, Bob Jarratt, and Neil Love (musical director of the group).

The Bachelors made their debut at the Theta Delta Chi house on Homecoming weekend, before a very responsive audience. The group's repertoire included show tunes as well as barbershop and popular songs, such as a Nell Love's arrangement of "Falling in Love is Wonderful."

Colby-Bates-Bowdoin Channel Under Way

WCBZ, the Colby-Bates-Bowdoin Television Station, began broadcasting on Monday, November 13. This new station, owned jointly by the three colleges, will be operating on channel 16.

Broadcasts of an educational nature will be seen for two hours each morning, Monday through Friday, and from 8:30 to 9:30 on the same evenings. The AM program will be directed to the grammar school level, and the evening show, to the adult level. The station will broadcast one college course, The Age of Kings.

The Age of Kings is a series of 16 short programs, each 15 minutes long, dealing with the reign of Henry IV, on Friday, November 17, at 9:00 PM. The series was first produced by Britain's BBC.

A first WCBZ will work with films prepared by NITBC, Educational Television programs originating in Boston and Durham will be repeated here.

Tryouts For M&G Play To Be Held November 19 And 20 In Memorial

Tryouts will be held next Sunday and Monday, November 19 and 20, in Room 101, Memorial Hall from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. for the Masque and Gown production of E. M. Behrman's gay comedy, The Second Man.

Books of the play are now available on closed reserve in the College Library, where actors are urged to acquaint themselves with the four parts to be cast.

This sophisticated comedy was first played by such brilliant faculty as Noel Coward and the Lumis in the 30's. It will be performed by the Masque and Gown on February 15 (for the Winter Houseparty) and 17.

No rehearsals will be scheduled during the Christmas vacation (December 18 to January 3) or during the period of midyear examinations (January 24 to February 3).

The play calls for two actors and two actresses. The male parts will be played by students at the College. Two women from the Brunswick area will be chosen to play the female leads.

Announcement

A team of Navy officers from the U. S. Navy recruiting station, 560 Atlantic Ave., Boston, will be in the Moulton Union on November 27. The purpose of this visit is to discuss with interested students (particularly seniors) the various officer programs available at OCS Newport, R.I.

India's Foremost Musician Scheduled Here

The third in a series of special concerts given at the College and open free of charge to the public will bring a unique rural experience to the audience when India's foremost musician, Ravi Shankar, appears on Thursday, November 30, at 8:15 in Pickard Theater, Memorial Hall. Only through this concert will the music of Pandit Shankar be heard in this area.

The instrument played by this artist, the Sitar, has been described by Variety as "a kind of three-in-one super guitar." In reality it is a seven-hundred-year-old stringed instrument, exotic and colorful in appearance, with a hauntingly exciting sound.

Analysts Ravi Shankar will be Kanai Datta, master of the Tabla (favorite percussion instrument of North India — a pair of hand drums made of wood or clay), and N.C. Mukherji, who performs on the Tamboura, an instrument whose function is very like that of the drone of the besgitar.

Sills Fund Given Play Also Set For Friday

The Society of Bowdoin Women has voted to establish a $1000 fund to be known as the Edith Lansing Sills Fund in honor of Mrs. Kenneth C. Sills, widow of the former President of the College, Mrs. Widger Thomas of Yarmouth, President of the Society, announced Thursday, Nov. 9.

The fund is designed to furnish expenses for one woman lecturer at the College her lecture to be in coordination with the College's program of lectures.

"The Mrs. Sills has been beloved by all who have had any connection with the College," said Mrs. Thomas, "and with this gesture it is the wish of the members of the Society to let Mrs. Sills know of their esteem and admiration."

In accepting the fund on behalf of the Trustees and Officers of the College, President Cole said, "I want to thank the Society of Bowdoin Women for the establishment of the fund and to express the appreciation of the College to the Society in honoring Mrs. Sills so appropriately."

The fund will make it possible over the years to bring a number of distinguished women to lecture at Bowdoin and will fittingly give the esteem and admiration felt for Mrs. Sills by the students and friends of the College who knew her during the many years that she and the late President Sills served Bowdoin with such warmth and distinction.

Edith Lansing Koon Sills was born in Hancock, Maryland, to the Reverend Jabez Card Koon, rector of the Episcopal Church and Mrs. Koon. She received her secondary school education at the Hannah More School for Girls in Reston, Maryland.

In 1911 she was graduated with a B.A. degree from Wellesley College, where she majored in Greek. She taught Greek and Latin at Portland High School and was a teacher of Latin at the Lenox School in New York City.

She relinquished her graduate studies for her M.A. in Comparative Philosophy at Columbia University in 1918 to marry Kenneth Sills, who had just been made President of the College.

Mr. Kamin

Mr. Kamin, who will replace Mr. Lord, comes to the College from the Associated Press. His assignment will be to reorganize the Bowdoin College News Service, which will be a foundation for an expanded public relations program designed to meet a need for coordination of public information about Bowdoin's educational accomplishments and objectives. Prior to accepting his position at the College, he had served as a reporter for the Tunstun, Mass. Daily Gazette, as a staff writer and editor for the AP Bureau in Portland, and as Correspondent in charge of the Associated Press Bureau in Concord.

Mr. Lord

Mr. Lord, who came to the College in August, 1959, had previously served as a sports reporter for the Bangor Daily News. He has also been an English teacher at Bangor High School, Howland High School, and Lee Academy. In 1961, he received his B.A. from the University of Maine.

India's foremost musician, Ravi Shankar, appears on Thursday, November 30, at 8:15 in Pickard Theater, Memorial Hall. Only through this concert will the music of Pandit Shankar be heard in this area.

Featured above are the Bowdoin "Bachelors." They are from left to right (top row): Bob Duncan '63, Delta Sigma; Phil Boulier '63, Delta Sigma; Neil Love '63, Theta Delta Chi; Ken Briggs '63, Alpha Delta Phi; Howie Levine '63, Delta Sigma; (bottom row): Wayne Hubbard '64, Sigma Psi; Jim Weidner '64, Zeta Phi; Bob Jarratt '64, Psi Upsilon; and Jim Garth '64, Delta Sigma. (Photo by Crane)

This scene from "The Visit" shows Connie Aldrich and Leon Condyke on platform (center) with (l. to r.) Bernice Ryan, Harold Hegenbogenhan, and Jim Blake watching. (Photo by Crane)

Also in the cast as the female element of the small Swiss town are Mrs. Gladys McKnight as Frau Schill, Carole Manton as her daughter, and Mary Ellen Stevens as the wife of the Burgomaster. Mrs. Stevens' three children are in the cast come. He played Charles the wretched, along with Wendy McKnight ago, and Bervolio in Romeo and Juliet last year.

THE BOWDOIN ORIENT

VOL. XXI THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1961

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
JOHN WILLIAM HALPERIN '61

ASSISTANT TO THE EDITOR
John K. Martin '63

MANAGING EDITOR
Jonathan A. Botelho '63

ASSOCIATE EDITOR
Halperin, J. W.

BOARD OF EDITORS
J. W. Halperin, Chairman, Botelho, Cypriani, Beale, Walker, Smith, and Wolstadt

News Editor
Stephen P. Beale '66

Assistant News Editor
Kelvin L. Taylor '63

Features Editor
David C. Walker '64

Sports Editor
Ann P. Smith '65

Assistant Sports Editor
Edgar C. Bailey '65

Copy Editor
David C. Wolstadt '63

Photographers
Charles F. Flagg '63
Stanford L. Crane '64

Staff Cartoonist
Harley L. Schwesron '64

Business Manager
Bruce N. Leonard '65

Assistant Business Manager
George A. Smith '63

Advertising Manager
William W. Conklin '64

Circulation Manager
M. Douglas Scott '64

Philip N. Racine '64

THE BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY

Prof. W. D. Shipman
W. Stephen Piper
Spencer C. Hunt
Robert L. Haggerty

Prof. A. P. Daggett
Bruce N. Leonard
John W. Wolstadt
John W. Halperin

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY Collier Publishers Advertising

18 EAST 37th STREET
NEW YORK, N. Y.

Published weekly when classes are held during the academic year by the students of Bowdoin College. Address your correspondence to the Editor and subscription correspondence to the Business Manager of The Bowdoin Publishing Company at the Orient Office in Morse Hall, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine. The subscription rate for one year is four dollars.

Appearance Of Mrs. Aldrich In Numerous Plays Cited By Orient

Only occasionally in amateur theater is a personality encountered who not only approaches a part with enthusiasm and skill but who fills the rest of the cast with the same enthusiasm. Such a personality is Mrs. Constance Aldrich of Cumberland Street, Brunswick, who is being starred in The Visit, to be presented by the Masque and Gown of Bowdoin College on November 16 and 17.

To be starred the actress' name must appear above the title of the play. The Masque and Gown has done this only once before. In 1961 K. T. Daggett starred in Mark Twain's comedy Yes, My Darling Daughter.

In The Visit Mrs. Aldrich portrays Madam Claire Zachanassian who returns to her native town to seek vengeance for the injustice done to her by her first lover, Anton Schill. Throughout the play Claire's will is the ultimate cause of all action. Mrs. Aldrich plays this part with a depth of feeling and power found only in the best of actresses.

Among Mrs. Aldrich's credits are such plays of the modern theater as Death of a Salesman, A Streetcar Named Desire, The Cave Dwellers, and A Touch of the Poet. In these plays, as in The Visit, she has had to follow some of the world's best actresses. As Blanche in Streetcar, Jessica Tandy; as Linda in Death of a Salesman, Mildred Dunnock; in The Cave Dwellers, Eugenie Leontovich; in A Touch of the Poet, Helen Hayes; and now in The Visit, Lynn Fontanne.

Mrs. Aldrich first became active in the theater while enrolled in the University of Wisconsin, and spent the summer of 1961 with the Straight Wharf Theater on Nantucket Island. In 1963 she became a member of the Brunswick Community Workshop Theater, playing Lavinia in The Heavens and Earth in 1964.

The spring of 1964 marked her first appearance on the Bowdoin stage with her performances in an original one-act play in March and in White the Cat's Away in May. Since then she has appeared in Death of a Salesman, A Little Boy, The Occupied Man, The Beggar's Opera, Tiger at the Gates, A Streetcar Named Desire, The Cave Dwellers, Technique of the August Moon, A Touch of the Poet and The Firefly Arcades.

Mrs. Aldrich, with Leon Condit as left, is shown during a scene from The Visit.

(Photo by Crane)

Our Bookstore Now Equipped With Formidable Array Of Paperbacks

What's different about the Union bookstore this year? The answer (the big one) is some 500 new paperback titles. These titles range from the most popular to the most obscure, from the most accessible to the most demanding. They are available in paperback form for a price that is almost always less than that of the hardcover edition. They are available in paperback form for a price that is almost always less than that of the hardcover edition. They are available in paperback form for a price that is almost always less than that of the hardcover edition.

The Winds of Evil by D. W. Babineau is a tale of murder in Australia. The story has the inevitable Sherlock Holmes-type detective, a half-caste by the name of Napoleon Bonaparte (Bony to his friends).

This detective is an interesting fellow in that he manages to talk in unimpeachably correct, high-style, yet masquerades as a simple station-hand (farm hand to the uninitiated). Interesting also is the fact that much as he talks, he manages to say very little.

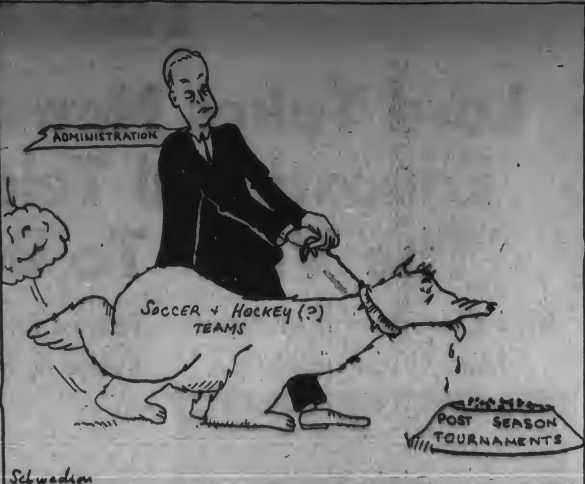

True to the tradition of mystery writing, Winds of Evil has the usual cast of characters. An overbearing police sergeant from the city, a simple country sheriff who stanches himself to Bony as a true friend, a little old lady who owns half the town, a sweet young girl and her potential lover, and a flock of suspicious characters round out the cast. We must not forget our villain, "Stranger" by name. It seems this type swings around in the trees in true ape-man style and, like the beast he is, drops from the trees to do in his unfortunate victim.

As you can see, this situation might get interesting. Not content to let events run their course, Mr. Upfield had to throw in some acres of Australian sand-storms caused, you guessed it — the Winds of Evil themselves. Why are they evil? It's simple, really; they are charged with static electricity which somehow affects certain people in an adverse manner — it drives them mad.

Getting back to our intellectual station-hand, Bony, we find that he has a nice long list of suspects with which to work. What a thrill to see the intrepid Bony cross off one name after another! So we follow our detective on his name-crossing off campaign. Finally, after the first overbearing city policeman has carried off some lead for murder, Bony himself is almost strangled. Unfortunately, the stranger fails to finish the job and Bony continues his search with his list narrowed down to five prime suspects.

Bony's agile mind conceals a clever plan for capturing the murderer. Without going into needless detail, the plan works. And guess who is captured — the wrong man!

Naturally I do not wish to divulge the surprise ending of the book. Let me say only that it has something to do with those Winds. I heartily recommend this book for lovers for had mystery — if you have nothing better to do.

Orient Reviewer Evaluates "Winds Of Evil"

By D. W. Babineau

Winds of Evil by Arthur W. Upfield, is a tale of murder in Australia. The story has the inevitable Sherlock Holmes-type detective, a half-caste by the name of Napoleon Bonaparte (Bony to his friends).

This detective is an interesting fellow in that he manages to talk in unimpeachably correct, high-style, yet masquerades as a simple station-hand (farm hand to the uninitiated). Interesting also is the fact that much as he talks, he manages to say very little.

True to the tradition of mystery writing, Winds of Evil has the usual cast of characters. An overbearing police sergeant from the city, a simple country sheriff who stanches himself to Bony as a true friend, a little old lady who owns half the town, a sweet young girl and her potential lover, and a flock of suspicious characters round out the cast. We must not forget our villain, "Stranger" by name. It seems this type swings around in the trees in true ape-man style and, like the beast he is, drops from the trees to do in his unfortunate victim.

As you can see, this situation might get interesting. Not content to let events run their course, Mr. Upfield had to throw in some acres of Australian sand-storms caused, you guessed it — the Winds of Evil themselves. Why are they evil? It's simple, really; they are charged with static electricity which somehow affects certain people in an adverse manner — it drives them mad.

Getting back to our intellectual station-hand, Bony, we find that he has a nice long list of suspects with which to work. What a thrill to see the intrepid Bony cross off one name after another! So we follow our detective on his name-crossing off campaign. Finally, after the first overbearing city policeman has carried off some lead for murder, Bony himself is almost strangled. Unfortunately, the stranger fails to finish the job and Bony continues his search with his list narrowed down to five prime suspects.

Bony's agile mind conceals a clever plan for capturing the murderer. Without going into needless detail, the plan works. And guess who is captured — the wrong man!

Naturally I do not wish to divulge the surprise ending of the book. Let me say only that it has something to do with those Winds. I heartily recommend this book for lovers for had mystery — if you have nothing better to do.

Orientation: An Editorial

"What are the goals and purposes of orientation? What are the duties of a pledge?" So reads an essay question on one house's final examination for freshmen, administered by orientation chairmen and local English majors. If one were ever in a position to grade or evaluate this question, he would certainly have to stop and think. What does orientation accomplish? What is expected of a fraternity pledge? My guess would be that to the first question our confused but alert subject would answer nothing, and to the second I don't know.

Orientation here at Bowdoin is a useless institution. Keeping this in mind, two alternatives present themselves: to return to hazing or to completely rid the campus of any pre-initiation activities of this nature whatsoever. Hazing, with all its dangerous possibilities and consequences, at least provided a way whereby freshmen could be forced to learn things of a constructive nature. Things of a constructive nature, however, ultimately were not learned; the hazing system finally degenerated into a fabulous spectacle for the delight of adistic upperclassmen. Hazing, at any rate, with all its virtues and concurrent evils, will never be brought back — we are thus left, logically enough, with the choice of continuing with orientation or getting rid of it entirely. I favor the latter approach.

Whether or not the freshmen should or should not be expected to do the sort of things orientation embodies, the orientation system itself provides no means for the enforcement of the ritual, and the whole thing inevitably descends into a chaotic emphasis upon eating without utensils and screaming at a pledge without touching him. I do not mean to suggest here that physical hazing is either necessary or desirable — rather, that without any concrete system for pledge training the whole idea and practice becomes a farce.

Finally, perhaps we should ask ourselves whether making a free eighteen year old man grovel at others' feet and jump at every command is either morally or practically efficacious. I suggest that it is not.

And so here we are: hazing is out of the question and orientation is useful to nobody. Would it really seem so blasphemous to have the freshmen come to college, go to classes, and join fraternities without all this black magic of metamorphosing them from profane youths into sophisticated brothers? I should think that any man interested enough to join a fraternity would want to find out something about its history and its membership on his own, just as he probably did his own research on the college itself before deciding where to go for his higher education. It might seem a little strange for a while treating an equal as an equal, but in time we could get used to it. Most of the rest of the civilized world has.

John W. Halperin

New Band Officers Named

The following men have been selected to represent the band for 1961-62, with an innovation of introducing co-student band directors.

William Whit, Concert Band Director (succeeding Lou); John Merrill, Drill Master and Marching Band Director; Elmer Beal, Manager (succeeding Allen).

The Concert Band will begin rehearsal on next Wednesday, November 15 in Gibson Hall at 2:30 p.m. The program will consist of the following:

- | | |
|---|--------------------|
| Prelude and Fugue | Handel |
| Hungarian Dances | Brahms |
| Regens | Sibelius |
| Victory at sea | Victory at sea |
| Concerto for the Classical Symphony | Prokofiev |
| Commando March | Shamandoff |
| Show Boat | Stephen Hay |
| Teddy Bears Picnic | Teddy Bears Picnic |
| Head and Shoulders | Head and Shoulders |
| The Band will produce an LP double face recording in the spring. Already four marches, Overland , Washington Post , Dear Susan and | |

Contestants For Speaking Competition Announced

Six members of English 32, Advanced Oral Communication, have been chosen to participate in the annual Highland Lockwood Fairbanks Prize Speaking Contest to be held on Monday, November 20, 1961, at 8:15 p.m. in the Smith Auditorium.

The finalists are: Frank Robert Ciolek, Fresh Meadows, N. Y.; Robert Mason Farquethorn, Garden City, N. Y.; Richard Sheldon Farr, Reeds Ferry, N. H.; Robert Chapman Perry, Newtonville, Mass.; Robert Love Roake, Short Hills, N. J.; and Harry Leo Silverman, Brookline, Mass.

The Fairbanks Prize was established by Captain Henry Nathaniel Fairbanks, of Bangor, in memory of his son '36. The award is given for excellence in advanced public speaking.

Thursday evening, November 9, five members of the Bowdoin Class of 1963 were chosen to participate in the annual Stanley Plummer Prize Speaking Contest for Juniors on November 29, 1961, at 8:15 p.m. in the Smith Auditorium.

The finalists are: Frank Robert Ciolek, Fresh Meadows, N. Y.; Richard Sheldon Farr, Reeds Ferry, N. H.; Thomas Joseph Giacobbe, Fair Lawn, N. J.; John Francis Miller, Jr., of Swampscott, Mass.; and Henry Richard Vaneid, of Barre, Vt.

The Stanley Plummer Prize was established in 1919 by Stanley Plummer '61, and is awarded "for excellence in original and spoken composition in the English language on the part of the members of the Junior Class."

Four Bowdoin College seniors will compete in the finals of the Ciolek Prize Speaking Contest on Wednesday, December 6, 1961, at 10:15 p.m. in the Smith Auditorium.

The finalists are: Robert Rowe Armstrong of Bangor, Me.; Theodore Small Curtis, Jr. of Orono, Me.; Robert Chapman Foster, III of Newtonville, Mass.; and Peter Charles Valente, New York, N. Y.

The 1963 Prize, established in 1963, is the second oldest undergraduate award given at Bowdoin. It is awarded annually to that member of the Senior Class who shall write and deliver the best oration.

Previous winners have included the late Kenneth C. M. Sills, the late Stanley P. Chase, U. S. Representative Robert Hale, Austin H. McCormick, noted authority on precocious penology, and Professors George H. Quinby and Athert

Features Staff Presents Catalogue Of Ingmar Bergman Films

An Ingmar Bergman Index

1918 Bergman is born, the son of a clergyman. He passes university entrance exams, and while at school engages in amateur theater work. He does some exceptional production work but leaves the university without taking a degree.

He becomes a theater assistant at the Royal Opera House in Stockholm.

1943 is employed by "Swedish Filmindustri" as a script-writer.

1944 Wrote screenplay for "Franny," directed by Alf Sjöberg, one of Sweden's great directors. At this time Bergman is a young rebel complete with beard and cynicism; typically, his first film deals with a young man who tries to find a place for himself in a disillusioning world, but he is defeated by his cruel and cold surroundings.

There follows a long series of little-known films: the fantasy "The Men with an Umbrella," the ultra-realistic re-creation of lost illusions and humiliation of creatura.

1965 "Smiles of a Summer Night" is Bergman's first comedy; he uses irony in the depiction of self-destruction.

1967 "The Seventh Seal" In a medieval setting, Bergman dramatizes the eternal struggle between life and death, good and evil.

1967 "Brink of Life" is set in a maternity hospital. Bergman probes the meaning of the creation of new life.

"Wild Strawberries" During a Journey an old man is forced to relive his entire life, and against his will comes to realize his fallings as a human being.

1968 "The Magician" shows the degrading of the artist by his environment. Can be interpreted as an allegory of a Christ crucified and redeemed.

1969 "The Virgin Spring" Here Bergman uses a medieval tale of violence as a framework for a penetrating examination of the problems of faith. Based on an old Swedish ballad, this film is perhaps the purest expression of Bergman's new clarity of vision; he has successfully synthesized the best elements of his previous work.

1960 "The Devil's Eye" a witty comedy of the struggle between Heaven and Hell over a chasty maiden. The Devil sends Don Juan to seduce her — but victory is not that easy. Apropos of this, Bergman once said, "Very early I heard people talk about the Devil, and of course I had to make him concrete." Bergman has just completed a film, and another is in production.

David Walker and Hans Jansson

Granite Farm Dairy For All Your Dairy Product Needs

Granite Farm Dairy
For All Your Dairy Product Needs
Brunswick, Maine
Dial PA 9-3422

PICK THE RIGHT ONE... THE BRACING BRIGHT ONE!

Abura-Portland, Maine

STUDENT PATRONAGE WELCOMED

FIRST NATIONAL BANK
Brunswick, Maine

Member of the Federal Reserve System and Member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

The HOTEL EAGLE DINING ROOM EAGLE'S NEST LOUNGE Comfortable Accommodations PRIVATE DINING ROOM AVAILABLE FOR PARTIES CALL 641-1111

THANKSGIVING AT THE WALDORF-ASTORIA

Spend Thanksgiving weekend at New York's "Palace on Park Avenue" — and enjoy the city in its festive, holiday mood. Feast to your heart's content in any one of the Waldorf-Astoria's many restaurants where you'll find atmosphere and food to match your good mood. Committedly in all shops, theaters, museums.

STUDENT RATES $14.00 per person, 1 is a room $18.00 per person, 2 is a room $22.00 per person, 3 is a room Reserve your room through my Reservation Service or write direct to Miss Anna Hillman, Director of Student Reservations, The Waldorf-Astoria.

George H. Ridge, President - 201 Park Ave., New York 22, N.Y.

Smith Photo Shop
144 Maine Street, Brunswick
Photo Supplies
Hallowmark Greeting Cards
Contemporary Cards

Polar Bearings

By Ann Smith

The Bowdoin sports curriculum is intended to keep the students in good physical condition throughout the year and to imbibe them with a spirit of friendly competition among both themselves and athletes from other colleges. The former is supposedly achieved by offering the students various sports in which they may participate. However, these offered sports are seasonal and provide the student few chances to continue a single sport for a long period of time. Constant practice obviously tends to produce a much better athlete than just in-season practice. Bowdoin participated at a recent sports conference held in Cambridge, Massachusetts, at which it was decided that out-of-season practice will not be permitted in future years. Specific dates were assigned for the beginning of practice in seasonal sports and postseason games were basically outlined. As a result, from now on the Bowdoin athlete will have little more than a month to actively participate in most sports. These restrictions do not always encourage the best possible performance in any sport by either the individual or the team, for quality can only result from constant practice.

The latter intent of the college — to create a spirit of competition — may be dampened by the new restrictions, but such a deterrent will not be the first. The athletic curriculum provides each student with the choice of numerous sports in which he may participate — football, swimming, soccer, hockey, and many others. However, this curriculum is sadly lacking in two respects. It does not offer several sports in which a fair number of students have expressed their interest. Among such sports are wrestling, boxing, and squash. Also it does not continue most of its offered sports for more than one season annually. These two faults have a tendency to lower the spirit of competition wanted by the college and the students. Students with a strong interest in one sport might often want to continue that sport after the season rather than constantly be participating in one sport after another. Students interested in sports not offered by the college often have little interest in the sports in which they must participate. Therefore the question arises: should the college maintain its sports curriculum and hope the wavering spirit of competition and participation improves, or should it change its curriculum and be sure of a strong and steady spirit?

PAT ON THE BACK: For their superb attempt to win the Maine State Series and their fine playing throughout the season, the editor gives this week's PAT ON THE BACK to the VARSITY FOOTBALL TEAM.

Colby, Bates Finish Behind Maine & Bowdoin; Bears Finish With 3-4 Record, 2-1 In State

Runners End Slow Season

A crowd of 2,000 watched the University of Maine down Bowdoin 13-8 to win the Maine State Series Championship on November 11 at Orono.

Maine dominated play throughout most of the game, gaining 288 yards on the ground to Bowdoin's 18. The Black Bears made 20 first downs to Bowdoin's 8. The Polar Bears were outplayed by their rivals by a slight margin, 77 yards to 66.

Maine scored the first two touchdowns of the game. "The first came in the second period on a 69 yard drive climaxed by Dale Curry's two yard rush into the end zone. Ron Boushager kicked the extra point, his 14th consecutive conversion. Early Cooper scored the second Maine touchdown on a four yard rush in the third quarter. Maine failed in the attempt for two extra points.

Bowdoin's only score came in the fourth period. The Polar Bears marched sixty-one yards and scored on Dexter Morse's seven yard pass to Bob Hooke. On the conversion (Boushager — kick); Cooper — 4 yard run.

Bowdoin: Hooke — 7 yard pass from Morse; (Hooke — pass for 2 points).

A crowd of 2,000 watched the University of Maine down Bowdoin 13-8 to win the Maine State Series Championship on November 11 at Orono.

Maine dominated play throughout most of the game, gaining 288 yards on the ground to Bowdoin's 18. The Black Bears made 20 first downs to Bowdoin's 8. The Polar Bears were outplayed by their rivals by a slight margin, 77 yards to 66.

Maine scored the first two touchdowns of the game. "The first came in the second period on a 69 yard drive climaxed by Dale Curry's two yard rush into the end zone. Ron Boushager kicked the extra point, his 14th consecutive conversion. Early Cooper scored the second Maine touchdown on a four yard rush in the third quarter. Maine failed in the attempt for two extra points.

Bowdoin's only score came in the fourth period. The Polar Bears marched sixty-one yards and scored on Dexter Morse's seven yard pass to Bob Hooke. On the conversion (Boushager — kick); Cooper — 4 yard run.

Bowdoin: Hooke — 7 yard pass from Morse; (Hooke — pass for 2 points).

The varsity cross country team traveled to Vermont last Friday and suffered a 15-41 defeat at the hands of the Putnamites. Bowdoin was never in real contention, and the best that Mark Youmans, our number one man, could do was a sixth place. Previous to the Vermont meet the White lost a tough one to the best that Mark Youmans, our number one man, could do was a sixth place. Previous to the Vermont meet the White lost a tough one to the best that Mark Youmans, our number one man, could do was a sixth place. Previous to the Vermont meet the White lost a tough one to the best that Mark Youmans, our number one man, could do was a sixth place.

Jack Milo (30) and Frank Drigotas (81) tackle Maine quarterback Wheeler in the Maine State Series championship game. Bowdoin lost to Maine, 13-8. (Photo by Plagg)

Curtis Pool Site For M.S.C.A. Clinic

The Maine Swimming Coaches Association and the College are conducting a swimming and diving officials clinic at the Curtis Pool, Bowdoin College, on Sunday, November 26 from 2 to 4 p.m.

This clinic is under the supervision of Ames Hawkes, newly elected President of the Coaches Association, Hal Paulson of the Portland Boys Club, and Charles Burt, varsity swimming coach at the College.

It is expected that all interested swimming coaches and officials in the State of Maine will be present so that many of the problems that exist in officiating will be clarified for the start of the coming season.

Some of the issues which will be discussed are:

1. The new "free position" allowed in twisting dives, plus an analysis of diving to provide a sound basis for the judging of diving.
2. Possible stroke violations.
3. Proper conduct of a meet.
4. The duties of various officials and the rules which govern their roles.
5. Disqualifications.

Loss To Colby Ends Soccer Team's Skein

On Wednesday Nov. 8 the Bowdoin soccer team journeyed to Waterville seeking its second straight win over Colby this year and seeking to extend its winning streak to seven. However, the Mules fought off the Bowdoin line and Colby prevailed 9-1.

The game was played for the most part in Colby's territory, but the Bowdoin forwards could not hit the Colby nets. Time and again the forwards appeared to have a clear shot only to have it go astray or be broken up at the last second.

The Polar Bears' only score came at 21:00 of the first period when Alex Sosensoff converted a penalty kick. The Polar Bears then pressed the attack even more vehemently, but the Colby defense, in particular the goalie, prevented any further scoring.

At 18:40 of the second period, Colby's blizzard converted a penalty kick to knot the score at 1-1. After half-time the Mules came to life, and they penetrated Bowdoin's defense time and again to get off some good shots, but Steve Ellis was able to make the necessary saves. Then at 10:30 of the third period, Colby's left-wing Doug Cooper on a beautiful cross from the right-wing Dias.

After this score Bowdoin came to life again and put the Mules on the defensive, but Colby's defense was again equal to the task and prevented any further scoring.

The Polar Bears did get some bad breaks, when in the last ten minutes of play four shots bounced off the Colby Mar. 3. NORA Sectional Mar. 27 St. Michael St. Michael Feb. 10 NEORL North Group Finals Mar. 17 NBRVY Finals

Riflery Schedule

The rifle team of the College will compete in 13 matches this year, the team's coach, Sergeant Thomas Doten, announced today.

Only one of the 13 meets will be a postal match, the December 2 match against the University of Vermont.

Captain of this year's team is C. Warren Devereux of Summitt, New Jersey, a two-year letter winner.

The complete schedule for the Bowdoin Rifle Team follows:

1961-1962 Varsity
Date	School	Place at Bowdoin
Nov. 18	Norwich	Bowdoin
Dec. 2	UNH	Bowdoin
POSTAL
Dec. 2	Vermont	Bowdoin
SHOULDER TO SHOULDER
Jan. 6	Dartmouth	Bowdoin
Jan. 13	Nassau	Nassau
Jan. 27	St. Michael	St. Michael
Feb. 10	Yankee Conference	Yankee Conference
Feb. 17	USCGA Invitation	USCGA Invitation
Feb. 24	Maine	Maine
Mar. 3	NORA Sectional	NORA Sectional
Mar. 27	NEORL North Group Finals	NEORL North Group Finals
Mar. 17	NBRVY Finals	NBRVY Finals

SCORING

	1	2	3	4
Maine	9	7	6	0
Bowdoin	0	0	0	8
Maine: Curry — 3 yard run (Boushager — kick); Cooper — 4 yard run.
Bowdoin: Hooke — 7 yard pass from Morse; (Hooke — pass for 2 points).

During first period of Maine-Bowdoin game Edson Tarbell carries the ball for a substantial gain. (Photo by Plagg)

Around The Loop

By Phil Stone

League A	League B
1 KS	1 PU U
2 SN	2 Beta
3 Zeta	2 DS (tied)
4 Chi Psi	4 Delta
3 ARU	5 AD
6 TD	6 Phi Delta

In one respect the season left a bitter taste in my mouth, as I know that many of the men that could have helped the squad had quit the team or had not even gone out for cross country this fall. It is impossible to ascertain what difference those men would have made in the overall picture, but it is true that reasons for non-participation are often deeply personal. But it seems a shame that many Bowdoin teams are not at full strength in this regard. Be that as it may, to those who struck it out in the face of discouragement and defeat — namely, Chuck Shea, Mark Youmans, Jim MacMichael, Chris Reinhart, Ken Gale, and Mitch Kalkpaign — belongs all the credit in the world. All of these men with the exception of senior Youmans should see their efforts rewarded next fall when they will be joined by our very fine freshman team. The outlook for next year is very bright and perhaps Bowdoin Varsity cross country will break strongly into the win column.

KING'S BARBER SHOP

NEXT TO CAMPUS
Bowdoin's Favorite Barbers
SIX — BARBERS — SIX

Parkview Cleaners and Parkview Laundercenter

"The Home Of Better Cleaning"

3 HOUR SERVICE AT THE CLEANERS

No worry about lost clothing at the laundercenter when you do it yourself.

OPEN 24 HOURS A DAY

PHIL'S MEN'S STORE

78 Maine Street, Brunswick

Plan now for your BERMUDA College Week 1962 bigger, busier, better than ever!

- Informal welcoming dance to start the fun.
- College Day at the Beach... the biggest beach party of the year.
- All-day cruise to historic St. George's Luncheon, Collyer music, Gumbey Dancers.
- Round Robin Tennis Tournament.
- College Week Golf Competition.
- College Talent Revue.
- Fun Festival with jazz concerts, choral groups, dance contests.
- Barbecue Luncheon.
- Sightseeing.
- Special Golf and Tennis Trophies.

ALL YOURS AT NO CHARGE

The BERMUDA Trade Development Board
620 Fifth Ave., New York 20, N. Y.

New Meadows Inn

Bath Road HI 3-3921

Hotel Sedgwick

Bath, Maine HI 3-3361

The Best in Foods, Lodging, and Cocktail Lounges

FOR THE BEST IN CHOICE TABLE-RITE STEER BEEF GROCERIES — FRUIT AND VEGETABLES

SHOP AT LIVERNOIS' IGA

51 HARPSWELL STREET DIAL PA 8-7122

PORTER - SHAW, INC.

YOUR NEW FORD DEALER

157 Pleasant St. PA 5-5555 Brunswick

SERVICE SPECIALS

Fordomatic Transmission — Adjust & Inspect $7.00

Front End — Aligned & Balanced $10.95

Frosh End Season With 28-0 Loss To Maine

The freshman football team ended its season with a loss to a powerful University of Maine team by 28-0 on November 10. The frosh were constantly hit hard by a heavy and alert defense. The Maine squad was able to field two teams that were consistently in possession of the ball. However, Tom Zilinski, Bowdoin's speedy halfback, played a good game both defensively and offensively. Brian Scriver, the team's first-string center, blocked an attempted field-goal to save a point. The frosh finished with a 1-4 record.

COMING EVENTS

- Varsity Basketball
Dec. 2 vs. Bates at 8:15
Dec. 6 vs. Colby at 8:15 (away)
Freshman Basketball
Dec. 6 vs. Bates at 6:15 (away)
Varsity Hockey
Dec. 1 vs. Dartmouth at 7:30
Dec. 2 vs. Harvard at 7:30
Freshman Hockey
Dec. 3 vs. Walpole at 4:00
Varsity Swimming
Dec. 3 vs. MIT at 3:30 (away)
Freshman Swimming
Dec. 3 vs. MIT at 2:00 (away).

MEYER BLOCH

President THE MAGICIANS CLUB
80 Avenue C
New York 9, N. Y.

The Arts Center NEW POLICY

ALL PHONOGRAPH RECORDS AT DISCOUNT PRICES
JAZZ — CLASSICAL — FOLK — POPULAR

See our complete selection of Travel Posters and Fine Art Reproductions at $1.00

MOULTON UNION BOOKSTORE

"It's Time To Skate Again"

Northland Pro Hockey Stick	$ 3.75
Northland Rambler	2.50
Practice Puck	.39
Friction Tape	.29
Figure Skates	18.95
Hockey Skates	15.95

A. Paquette

Fine Shoe Repairing by Modern Methods
Cushing Street Shopping Center

CUMBERLAND THEATER

Brunswick, Maine

Fri-Sat. Nov. 17-18
THUNDER OF DRUMS
with Richard Boone George Hamilton
also Short Subject

Sun.-Mon.-Tue. Nov. 19-20-21
THE DEVIL AT FOUR O'CLOCK with Spencer Tracy — Frank Sinatra

Wed.-Thur.-Fri.-Sat. Nov. 22-23-24-25
4-DAYS — 4
THE COMANHEROS
with John Wayne — Stuart Whitman

Sun.-Mon.-Tue. Nov. 26-27-28
BACK STREET
with Susan Hayward — John Gavin

COMING TUNES OF GLORY

NEW TABBER SNAP

Snap up your appearance with Arrow Tabber Snap.

Here's a college shirt with the distinctive tab collar... the nuisance of a collar button to hold the tabs in place. The tabs snap together under the tie knot giving you the crisp, clean "savoir faire" look. Try Tabber Snap for a change of pace in striped oxford, white and colors. Sanforized labeled. $5.00

ARROW
From the "Cum Laude Collection"

L. G. Balfour Company, Fraternity Jeweler, Now Under Antitrust Inquiry

The L. G. Balfour Co., a leading firm in the manufacture and sale of fraternity jewelry, has been accused by the Federal Trade Commission of using monopolistic practices in business dealings. The company, whose annual income is estimated to be $4.5 million, is said to have its hands in 90 percent of the Greek-letter business in the country.

The Commission is accusing L. G. Balfour, founder and past president of the firm, and his company of violating the Federal Trade Commission Act, i. e.,

1. Unreasonable foreclosure of competitors and potential competitors;
 2. Monopoly of the sale and distribution of fraternity insignia jewelry;
 3. Entrance into "sole official jeweler" exclusive-dealing contracts, agreements and understandings with most of the Greek-letter social and professional groups;
 4. Exclusive contracts with suppliers of miscellaneous equipment intended to bear "official" fraternity or sorority markings under terms of contracts.
- In an official statement, the Balfour people denied the charges by saying that they have never "engaged in any predatory business practices. In fact," the statement reads, "Balfour has for the past 35 years, operated under the national authority of the FTC, which has several times — found unobjectionable the business practices of the company."
- Most of Bowdoin's fraternities are serviced by Balfour's regional headquarters in this district. Fraternities on campus under the close scrutiny of the FTC, which has several times — found unobjectionable the business practices of the company.
- Most of Bowdoin's fraternities are serviced by Balfour's regional headquarters in this district. Fraternities on campus under the close scrutiny of the FTC, which has several times — found unobjectionable the business practices of the company.
- The representative at that time orders for jewelry and assorted trinkets. But, before any member of a house may receive his purchase, Balfour checks with the national body to see if the would-be buyer is "legit."
- A good deal of Balfour's business is sewed up by contracts on the

Debate Council (Continued from page 3)

Saturday, Nov. 11, 1961, sixty debate titles were debated at Bowdoin College. Students from Bates, Bowdoin, Colby, Dartmouth, Middlebury, New Hampshire colleges attended a practice debate tournament at Bowdoin College. Students from Bates, Bowdoin, Colby, Dartmouth, Middlebury, New Hampshire colleges attended a practice debate tournament at Bowdoin College. Students from Bates, Bowdoin, Colby, Dartmouth, Middlebury, New Hampshire colleges attended a practice debate tournament at Bowdoin College.

Bowdoin was represented by Frank R. Clacoe '63 (Fresh Meadows, N.Y.), David J. Bekos '63 (Sollitto, Mass.), Robert M. Farquharson '64 (Garden City, N.Y.), Julia M. Lerner '63 (Uphewood, N.Y.), Mark E. Goldberg '63 (Auburn, Me.), Peter G. Valente '63 (New York, N.Y.), Peter H. Arason '65 (Portland, Me.), and Thomas L. Week '64 (Darwin, Conn.).

The Visit (Continued from page 3)

Henry Martin and Jeffrey Huntsman. Claire's bodyguards are played by Jim Hastings and James Johnson; and Bobby, her enigmatic butler, is played by John Cate-wick. Claire's latest dance is played by Leon Condylis.

Said Director William Lannon, "We are attempting a great deal with this show. At times it is hard to see the play itself in a show of this size, but we'll be ready."

Commenting on the theme of the play, Lannon said, "It's a terrific play — frightening at face value and even more so when the implications are considered. It would be a shame for anyone to miss this show. It's like has never been seen in the area before."

For a startling and unforgettable view of humanity, do not miss The Visit. Thursday and Friday evenings, November 16 and 17. Tickets for the 8:15 performance are $1.50 and $2.00. Reservations may be made at the box office Monday through Friday afternoons from 1:30 to 4:00 or by calling PA 5-2271.

Announcements For Seniors

Examinations for the position of Immigration Patrol Inspector in the Border Patrol have been announced by the U. S. Civil Service Commission.

The Immigration and Naturalization Service offers a career service. Persons appointed in the Border Patrol may be promoted to all vacancies in higher grades, not only in the Border Patrol, but in other branches of the Service. As a result of experience gained in the Border Patrol officers became qualified for promotion to positions of Inspector, Immigration Inspector and supervisory positions. A splendid development and training program enables officers with ability to progress to top administrative and executive positions. Officers who have graduated from recognized law schools and are members of the bar also become eligible for promotion to General Attorney (Nationality). Promotion is based on merit and ability. This is an ideal opportunity for young men, particularly recent college graduates, to embark upon a career in government service which offers varied experience, good salary, early retirement, paid vacations, and a profession of which they can be proud. Initial positions to be filled are located in towns in the vicinity of the Southern border.

Persons selected will enter on duty at a salary of $5885 per annum, in most cases 15% compensation for overtime and night duty. In addition $160 a year is paid to purchase uniforms. Upon satisfactory completion of one year probationary period the salary is increased to $5885 per annum. During the probationary period trainees are detailed to the Border Patrol Academy, Officer Development Center, at Fort Isabel, Texas, where courses in Spanish, Law, Marksmanship, and other allied subjects are taught.

In order to qualify, applicants must be at least 20 years of age at the time of taking the examination, be a citizen or owe allegiance to the United States, possess a valid driver's license, and meet rigid physical requirements.

Mr. A. C. Dyer, Jr., Deputy Assistant Commissioner of the Immigration and Naturalization Service will be at the school November 19, 8:30 A.M. Placement Bureau to explain more fully the opportunities the Immigration and Naturalization Service has to offer to recent college graduates.

Seniors interested in talking with Mr. Dyer register at once at Placement Bureau.

A Missing Link For The Birds? Careers Open To Graduates

If you saw a sea gull today, the chances may be pretty good that it was released in some way to the wild bird (discovered by Professor Charles Huntington of the Department of Biology and his three student assistants at Kent Island this past summer).

A herring gull which lives to the age of 10 is generally considered to be eligible for whatever equivalent there is in bird civilization of an old age pension (unlimited garbage, perhaps?). Yet, what's banding gulls for? The Massachusetts Audubon Society's project to determine the movements of gulls in relation to their interference with jet aircraft at coastal airports. Professor Huntington jacked one which had been previously banded in the summer of 1958.

Thus the ancient one was found to be more than 20 years old! Only records Professor Huntington has been able to find of older herring gulls concerned gulls kept in captivity in Europe. He has been unable to find a record of an older wild gull.

Using simple mathematics which rapidly get complicated, it can readily be figured that this gull is possibly the ancestor of upwards of some two billion other gulls born during that 25-year period.

Since the gull was banded originally at the Kent Island, N. B., scientific station of Bowdoin College, and returned there for this second banding procedure, the chances become good that a goodly number of his descendants may be found along the Maine Coast.

When the gull was released to fly off into the blackness of the Atlantic night, Professor Huntington and his assistants mused on the complications of a sea gull family reunion for their feathered friend.

Foundation Announces Ethics Code Awards

The Alpha Kappa Psi Foundation, a non-profit foundation established by Alpha Kappa Psi, national professional business fraternity, announces awards for the composition of a Personal Code of Business Ethics.

Eligible to participate are students and faculty members of schools or departments of business, economics, or industrial management, or their graduates, who are citizens of the United States or Canada. Each personal code of business ethics submitted for consideration must be an original composition of not more than 2,000 words in length, but brevity is desirable, applicable for the guidance of and observance by the student of business or the individual businessman as a personal code of business ethics. Each entry should stress those ideals of personal and professional conduct in business which should be observed by the individual in order that he may be a credit and an asset to business, community, and nation as a businessman and as an American citizen.

All entries must be typed, double-spaced, dated, signed by the author, state his occupation and address, and be received by the Alpha Kappa Psi Foundation, 111 E. 38th St., Indianapolis 6, Indiana, by June '62.

The "Bachelors" (Continued from Page 1)

of singing resulted in the organization of the Bachelors at the end of the last school year. However, the group has been singing together for only eight weeks.

Since the group's formation, the Bowdoin Music Department has recognized it as an official representative of the college. And in addition to singing at Bowdoin, the Bachelors have been invited to sing at several other eastern colleges. The Bachelors intend to be a self-perpetuating organization so that their sound, which is new to the campus now, will continue for many years to come.

Annual Loveman Library Award Established

New York, New York — Under the sponsorship of the Saturday Review, The Book-of-the-Month Club and The Women's National Book Association, the ANNUAL LOVEMAN NATIONAL AWARD will be given yearly to a college student who has collected an outstanding personal library. The award, a gift of one thousand dollars, will be made each year, beginning with 1962.

Award Committees who will have selected a local winner. "How I would start building a home library. The next ten books, I hope to add to my personal library and why." My ideas for a complete home library, and an annotated bibliography of the local winners' present collection awards, the nomination for the national award.

The Judges for the AMY LOVEMAN NATIONAL AWARD will include a Saturday Review Editor, a Book-of-the-Month Club Judge, a nationally known College or University Librarian, a nationally known author, critic, or book collector.

No collection of less than 35 books will be considered. Collections are to be judged on basis of intelligent interest, scope and imagination shown in creating the collection and knowledge of the books as revealed in the annotations. Collections (excluding textbooks) of any type are eligible; whether centered in a subject or avocation, a single author or group of authors, or a general collection.

The deadline for nomination is April 30th. The award will be made to the winning student at Commencement time.

For further information concerning the AMY LOVEMAN NATIONAL AWARD, write Box 553, Times Square Post Office, New York 36, N. Y.

White Mountain Oil Co.

NORTH CONWAY, NEW HAMPSHIRE Complete Heating and Appliance Service For The Eastern Central New Hampshire Area

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES SALUTE: LOREN GERGENS

Three years ago he was an economics major in college. Today he is a salesman introducing Bell System products and services to business executives. Loren Gergens and his sales staff have improved the communications efficiency of many firms by analyzing their operations and recommending advanced Bell System products and services.

OPERA HOUSE
BATH, ME.
Nov. 16-17-18 6:30
HOUSE OF FRIGHT
and
BLACK PIT OF DR. M
Nov. 19-20-21 Sun. 3:7-9
Featuring: Fabulous Women
SUSAN HAYWARD DEAN MARTIN
Admission
Nov. 22-25 6:30
BACK STREET
In Color

DICK MALONE'S Imported Car Clinic
Sales NSU Service
SERVICE ON ALL IMPORTED CARS
168 Pleasant Street
PA 5-2481

Brunswick Coal & Lumber Co.
Mobilheat Fuel Oil
18 Spring Street
Dial PA 9-3341

Benoit's
OUTFITTERS TO BOWDOIN MEN

Vaillancourt Bros. Body Shop
PAINTING — SIMONIZING — WELDING
Free Estimates All Work Guaranteed
We repair foreign as well as American cars
39 JORDAN AVENUE DIAL PA 5-7908

The Warm Side Of Winter
In our selection of outerwear, chosen from the finest imports and the best domestic coats, you're sure to find one right for your own taste and needs.

Choose from AUTHENTIC LODEN COATS
32.95 And 39.95
CORDUROY TOUCHDOWN COAT
32.95
MAINE GUIDE JACKETS
29.95 To 45.00
REGULAR TOPCOATS — with zip-out liners
49.95 To 75.00

A. H. BENOIT & CO.
120 MAINE ST. BRUNSWICK

Kennebec Fruit Co.
Newspapers — Magazines
Cigarettes — Pipes — Tobacco
Ice Cold Beverages
OPEN SEVEN DAYS A WEEK
142 Maine Street

Let us help you plan your printing as well as produce it...
Our long experience in producing the following and other kinds of printing for Bowdoin men can show you short cuts in time and save you money.

TICKETS POSTERS STATIONERY
ALUMNI LETTERS * FRATERNITY FORMS

THE RECORD OFFICE
Paul K. Niven Stuart Sabean

Long Lost Bust Of General Chamberlain Discovered In Masque & Gown To Give "Waiting For Godot" Tonight Professor Lawrence Announces Four New Books

Statue Of Famous Soldier, Governor Of Maine, And Bowdoin President Unearthed

Combat Snaps By Life's Capa Now Being Displayed

M&G's Costumed Reading Of Beckett's Play Tonight

New Works To Appear Soon

Professor of English Lawrence S. Hall has four publications to appear in the near future.

How thinking is written, a book on the logic of language, is being published by D. C. Heath and Company a year from this January. Primarily a textbook, though designed to be used by anyone with a practical interest in understanding the organizing principles and rationale of English, the book is a departure from the traditional grammar and rhetoric. It is an effort to teach language as a living, dynamic subject, to make the study of it meaningful and the student self-reliant.

The book is arranged to develop a coherently done understanding of the standards of grammar and syntax, beginning with the parts of speech and progressing to the language of science and art. The theory is that by working out insights instead of merely memorizing mysterious rules and prescriptions the reader can rely on his own reasoning and not tied to the editorial apron-strings of others.

"More than a decade ago," says Professor Hall, "I introduced the material into a course, over little shrieks of anguish and even horror as though it had been the Communist Manifesto or some up-and-downy of Lady Chatterley's Lover, subsequently trying to interest publishers in a book, I recognized several faint-hearted queries of conventionalism that I thought to attend what might be called jumping-the-gun - but might more fittingly be called something else. I think D. C. Heath is to be congratulated for recognizing that an approach to writing problems less mystifying and more reliable than that of the old language bible is overdue."

Hawthorne: Critic of Society, a book on the democratic aspect of Hawthorne's life and writing, was originally published by the Yale University Press in 1944. Out of print since that year it is being reissued by the Yale Press a year from this coming summer.

"The Ledger," first prize O. Henry award short story of 1950 about a Maine lobsterman and two boys who drown on a ledge while duck shooting, has already been reprinted in several magazines and a collection of stories: The O. Henry Awards (Doubleday); and The Best American Short Stories: 1960 (Houghton Mifflin). It will appear again this winter in a paperback anthology published by Fawcett Publications, Ltd., Great Modern Short Stories, edited by Douglas Angus.

"Eyes in Wonderland," a chapel address at Bowdoin by the late Charles Van Doren scandal, first appeared in The Reporter, was included by Alfred Knopf last year in an anthology of religious writing in the American tradition, and is being reprinted this fall in a college anthology edited by Dr. Martha Cox of San Jose State College.

Presently on subscription leave, Professor Hall has just completed a three act comedy of wit for which he says there is no tradition whatever in the American theater, and is currently working on a novel. His first novel, Stowaway, was published last January by Atlantic-Little, Brown.

of another red-herring on the other side. It is frequently argued that under the present arrangement, some men are compelled to take part in religious services against their conscience, either because they are committed to another form of service, or because they are committed to none at all. In so far as there is a religious form to this service, it is vaguely Protestant. The College is now an American institution; all denominations are represented here in respectable numbers, and of course the Charter does not require that prayer, and the By-Law can be altered by the Governing Boards if they see fit.

The unforgettable and aesthetically satisfying pictures taken by the late Robert Capa, longtime life magazine photographer, are on exhibit at the Walker Art Museum until December 15. Capa, recognized by his colleagues as the best combat photographer in the world, photographed 29th years in 18 years, including his coverage of World War II as a life staff correspondent. He went to war for the first time in Spain in 1936. He was killed, at the age of 41, by land mine while photographing Spanish combat troops in 1954 at Thai Binh, North Vietnam. The French awarded him a posthumous Croix de Guerre with Palmes of the Army, one of France's highest honors. "He fell as a soldier among soldiers," said the French commanding general. "He deserved a soldier's honor."

Capa was the author of five books, one written in collaboration with Irwin Shaw, another with John Steinbeck. Steinbeck once said of Capa's work: "Capa's pictures were made in his brain. The camera only completed them. You can no more mistake his work than you can the work of a fine painter."

On exhibit at the Walker Art Museum are over 100 photographs, most of which have been exhibited in the New York Museum of Modern Art, and in many other well known galleries. They were most recently exhibited at the Carpenter Gallery at Dartmouth College. The Walker Art Museum is open free of charge to the public from 10-12 a.m. and from 2-4 p.m. weekdays, including Saturdays, and from 2-4 p.m. on Sundays.

Recently the CHICAGO TRIBUNE assigned one of its top reporters to conduct a poll of leading educators on the subject of colleges and universities in the United States. Bowdoin was ranked among the top ten men's colleges in the nation.

Mr. Booker, who purchased the home from the Chamberlain heirs has, through the years, given preference for the apartments there to Bowdoin faculty members and married students.

Among Bowdoin students and faculty presently residing at the residence are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hudson Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Peter R. Finn, Donald N. Parker, Charles J. Butt, coach of swimming and soccer, and Jon Hart Scarpino, teaching fellow in Biology.

When General Chamberlain died, three hundred Bowdoin students escorted the body to the First Parish Church of which his father-in-law, the Rev. George E. Adams, was pastor when Chamberlain was a Bowdoin undergraduate.

Undergraduate members of the General's college fraternity, Alpha Delta Phi, were bears and tubers. The ushers included the late Donald S. White, who served with the consular and immigration service and whose widow, Mrs. Helen S. White, lives at 6 Potter St., Brunswick, near the Chamberlain House.

Mr. Charles T. Burnett, wife of Bowdoin's late beloved professor of psychology, who resides at 232 Maine St., then Miss Sue Winchell, re-

Four Bowdoin students and a town boy have been cast to read the five parts in Waiting for Godot by Samuel Beckett, to be presented by the Masque and Gown of the College on December 8 in the Pickard Theater, Memorial Hall.

Waiting for Godot will be the fourth in a series of annual costumed readings which have been part of the dramatic program at Bowdoin, recently. Undergraduate plays have appeared in Shaw's The Apple Cart; in 1959, and Wilde's The Importance of Being Earnest, presented in 1959. A faculty cast read Shaw's Don Juan in Hell a year ago.

"These plays have all been chosen because the dialogue is of greater importance than the action. The usual experience has been that audience forget that the actors are carrying books after the first few minutes of the presentation."

Alan L. Spiller '63 of Belle Harbor, N. Y., who has played in four college productions during the past two years, has been selected for the part of Estragon or Gogo, originated in New York by Bert Lahr.

Marc Merriman of Grand Lake Strawn, Mo., who spent his junior year at the University of Edinburgh, has returned to direct and act in the Chekhov one-acts for the newly-established Poduck Players of the Masque and Gown. In Godot he will follow E. G. Marshall in the part of Vladimir or Didid.

Henry Martin '63 of Yeadon, Pa., who has recently been seen in Romeo and Juliet and Duettramatti's The Visit for the Masque and Gown, will be seen as Posso, A Freshman, Edward R. Van Vleet of Newport, R. I., will play Lucky.

The part of the Boy has been assigned to Michael Dumais of Brunswick, who appeared in Summer Playhouse shows for Vicki Crandall.

Theodore S. Curtis of Crono is stage manager and general under study. The production is under the direction of Professor George H. Quinby.

Faculty Committee Passes Ultimatum On Discrimination

The faculty Sub-Committee of the Student Life Committee has passed an ultimatum to the Bowdoin fraternities with discrimination clauses or practices of any nature whatsoever. With the sanction of a clear statement of policy by the Sub-Committee, their resolution will be the way affect the Bowdoin fraternities until such time as both the College faculty and the Governing Boards may concur in a vote. The report of the Sub-Committee is the entire report of the Faculty and the Governing Boards will be the entire report of the Sub-Committee.

The Sub-Committee of the Student Life Committee appointed to deal with the matter of freedom of choice of members by Bowdoin fraternities chapters submits the following report:

"The Report of the Self Study Committee in 1959, which was endorsed by the Faculty and the Governing Boards, points out that the inherent selectivity exercised by a fraternity in choosing its members is not only a violation of the spirit of democratic institutions; it contributes to the maintenance of a caste system of life. It is a denial by individuals in their dealings with each other of that equal protection which our constitutional requirements of the government in its dealing with all persons whosoever. Its condonation is unequivocal in the condemnation of such barriers. Anyone accepted for admission to a college should be eligible for selection as a member of any group within the College."

Announced by these convictions presumably daily prayer is meant to promote Virtus and Pietas. If we were today to conduct simply a prayer service I should be completely in favor of it. However, the prayer service of the Charter and By-Laws is an inevitable barrier to the aims of the College and to some degree in Chapel services as well. Consider Virtus and Pietas: I am enough of a Platonist to hope that in some broad sense the problem of Virtus is inseparable from the problem of education, and one would perhaps argue that Pietas in some sense is inevitably associated with Virtus. But that qualification "in some sense" is important. I dare say that if the founders of the College were to have a look at the modern College they would not consider that Pietas in the sense they intended it still among the aims of the College. There are many religious people on the Faculty and in the student body, there are also many to whom religion in any usual sense is a matter of indifference, and there are no doubt some who are in the College for no other reason than that they are even more repugnant. If we still pursue Pietas we do so in some Platonist sense that it is compatible with this mixed situation, so typical

A Replacement For Orientation? (See Page 3)

Sigma Nu Given 1961 Gibson Cup

Dean Nathaniel C. Kendrick awarded the Harvey Dow Gibson Memorial Trophy to Sigma Nu fraternity on Monday, Nov. 30. The cup, presented in chapel, is in memory of Harvey Dow Gibson, LL.D., of the class of 1902. It is given by the Bowdoin chapter of Theta Delta Chi. The cup is awarded each fall to the fraternity whose scholastic improvement over the previous year is the greatest.

A Tribute!

The ORIENT would like to salute Mr. Albert Tolman of Portland, Maine - lawyer and writer - who reached his 93rd birthday on November 29. Mr. Tolman is one of the College's oldest alumni.

Announcement

The Bates College Outing Club announces its Winter Carnival, "Blue Snow," on January 28 at Lewiston, Maine. Entertainment will include folk singing by Jackie Washington, music by the Barbary Coast Orchestra from Dartmouth, and others.

In a vigorous chapel speech on December 1, Professor Edward Potts of the Philosophy Department defined the current controversy over compulsory chapel. Below is the full text of his remarks.

Professor Potts discusses Pros And Cons Of Compulsory Chapel Attendance In Vigorous Talk

A Biography Of Our Winter House Entertainment: Meet Duke Ellington!

On February 16, 1962, the Student Senate Committee will present a winter house party weekend. The entertainment of the winter house party will be a performance by Duke Ellington. Ellington has returned as a past-president of the Phi Kappa. He has been a member of the Phi Kappa since 1934. He has been a member of the Phi Kappa since 1934. He has been a member of the Phi Kappa since 1934.

Icemen Start With 7-6 Upset Over Dartmouth, 1-6 Defeat By Harvard

Polar Bearings

By Ann Smith

This editorial could follow the normal style and thus criticize the lack of organization and serious efforts in the White Key this year, or further discuss the new regulations for season sports, or contemplate how successful a season the hockey team will have this winter. Instead, it will concern a more pressing matter — the maintenance of the sports page of the "Orient." Since the beginning of this semester, it has proved quite difficult to find sufficient students interested in contributing to the sports section. In several instances, one reporter has had to cover three or four events. If the work could be more evenly distributed, a better sports page would surely appear. Also, some college students have failed to cooperate with the staff, thus hampering its efforts.

The sports section is intended to present a complete picture of all sports involving Bowdoin and its members. In the last three issues alone six events have not been covered. Many other events have been but briefly dealt with. This is the result of too few reporters being on the sports staff.

At this point this editorial must sound like a plea — it is. For any newspaper to function efficiently and to produce excellent work, there are two requirements that definitely must be met first: (1) a sufficient and suitable staff and (2) support from its audience. These two prerequisites are the basis of my plea. If the college student is interested in learning the complete sports picture at Bowdoin, then why can he not give his full support either by co-operation or participation?

PAT ON THE BACK: This week's PAT ON THE BACK goes to ED SPALDING for scoring the winning goal, two assists, and one other goal in the hockey game with Dartmouth.

Center-wing Joe Tarbell controls puck during overtime period of hockey game between Bowdoin and Dartmouth. Bears won, 7-6.

By Tom Oliver

The 1941-42 edition of Bowdoin hockey opened its season this past weekend against perennial Ivy League powers Dartmouth and Harvard. The result of the weekend play was a 1-1 record for Bowdoin, beating Dartmouth 7-6 and losing to Harvard 6-1.

Friday night, Sid Watson's unit stomped back from a lethargic second period and scored three goals, the last coming at the 7:23 mark off the stick of winger Ed Spaulding in the ten minute sudden death overtime period to cap the victory.

Before an almost capacity crowd, both teams were playing their first contests of the season which accounted for the lack of precision at times. Bowdoin opened the scoring at 8:51 of the first period when Spen Cassoon fired a goal from twenty feet out. Dartmouth scored next on a shot from defenseman Loomis from the blue line to tie it up. At 17:58 Ken Bacon put Bowdoin ahead again with a flick shot having made nine saves and Bunting, of Dartmouth, eight.

The second period saw Bowdoin lead. Dartmouth scored three straight goals to go ahead 3-2. Leighton getting his second and Cranna and Phelan his first. Bowdoin's two goal rally ended the second period 4-2. Bowdoin fired a shot for a goal on a pass from Joe Tarbell at 16:49, and Bacon got his second at 18:08 with the second period 5-2. Bowdoin fired a blast on a pass from Joe Tarbell at 18:49, and Bacon got his second at 18:08 with the second period 5-2. Bowdoin fired a blast on a pass from Joe Tarbell at 18:49, and Bacon got his second at 18:08 with the second period 5-2.

who showed a great deal of precision in their passing and back-checking. The saves for each goal were eight apiece and there were no penalties.

The team came out in the third period fired up to notch an initial victory for the season. Dartmouth caught Bowdoin by surprise at the 0:24 mark when their center blasted a goal from thirty feet out on passes from Phelan and Leighton. Len Johnson put Bowdoin back in the game into sudden death overtime. The overtime period showed some superior hockey, Spaulding firing a winner on passes from Bacon and Stowell. Dartmouth's first line played the entire overtime period, which greatly aided Bowdoin's offense.

With a victory over Dartmouth, Bowdoin's contest with Harvard was being called the best contest of the year at the arena, though observers were careful to point out that Harvard's team was ranked as first in the East and loaded with talent. All reports had Harvard fielding three equally balanced lines and an impenetrable defense led by goalie Bob Bland. Harvard was not sold short.

A preview of the game was offered to observers who noticed that during program shows only one got by Harvard goalie Bland. The first was marked by no clear superiority by either team throughout the first 18 1/2 minutes of play. Then Alpage of Harvard put them ahead 1-0 on a pass from Jorgensen. An immediate let down allowed Harvard to score again at 18:56 on a blasting slap-shot by Kinasewich from outside the blue line. The period ended with the score 2-0 for Harvard.

The second period was much like the first with Bowdoin definitely in the game but with Harvard dominating by sheer superiority of skill. The saves for the period were four for Bland and nine for Chaffee. The Bowdoin lines seemed to keep Harvard in check until 11:47 when Kinasewich fed Taylor for the score, making it 3-0. Morse ended the scoring for the period at 13:48, taking a pass from Howell and Dwinell and driving it past Chaffee. The Bowdoin offensive couldn't get by the superb Harvard defense though they kept it in the Crimison zone well enough. The period ended 4-0 for Harvard.

The third period finally saw Bowdoin score, in the first 0:56 seconds of the period with Joe Tarbell getting the goal on passes from Adams and Don Jolly. The crowd sensed a Bowdoin comeback but the power of Harvard was too much they scored two more goals, Kinasewich getting his second unassisted and Taylor his second on a pass from Howell, to give them a final victory of 6-1.

"Between Periods" Rick Moutrom '61 engaged to be married, wedding this summer. Colby beat Dartmouth 11-0.

Colgate and Hamilton are due in town for Friday and Saturday night games respectively this coming week-end.

Christmas Tournament at Brown December 13-20. Bowdoin will play Lehigh in the first round.

The freshman hockey team needs a manager for the coming season. Colby hockey tournament at New York over Dec. 23-27; first night pits Clarkson v. Boston University and St. Lawrence v. Boston College. Bowdoin's high score so far is Ed Spaulding with 2 goals and 2 assists for 4 points.

The victory over Dartmouth was the first in the series for Bowdoin.

Varsity Wins At M.I.T.

The varsity and freshman teams held a swimming and diving meet with M.I.T. at Curtis Pool in Brunswick on December 2. The varsity team, led by Curtis Tilton, won 48-30, but the freshman team lost 24-70. The Polar Bears placed as follows:

- Varsity
 - 400 yard medley — Edwards, Davis (won), Halford, Lee; 4:05.8 (Bowdoin College record)
 - 200 yard freestyle — Seaver (1), Buchanan; 2:16.7
 - 50 yard freestyle — Tilton (1), Merrill (2); 22.2
 - 200 yard medley swim — Coots (1), Gee; 2:29.9
 - Diving — Merrill (3), Hooker; 22.2 points
 - 100 yard butterfly — Halford (1); 1:56 (Bowdoin College record)
 - 100 yard freestyle — Tilton (1), Lee (3); 5:20
 - 200 yard backstroke — Coots (1), Edwards (2); 2:18.8
 - 440 yard freestyle — Seaver (1), Wallace; 4:57.0 (Bowdoin College record)
- Freshman
 - 200 yard medley relay — Brazer (lost), Leach, Shaw, Lazarus; 1:57.7
 - 200 yard freestyle — Lynch (2), Bailey (3); 2:21.5
 - 50 yard freestyle — Downey (2), Byrne; 25.4
 - 200 yard medley swim — Elliot (2); 2:37.4
 - Diving — Zimmerman (3), Chummers; 166 points
 - 100 yard butterfly — Shaw (2); 1:58.9
 - 100 yard backstroke — Brazer (3), Dixon; 1:53.3
 - 400 yard freestyle — Bailey (2); 5:19.7
 - 100 yard backstroke — Leach (1), Lewis; 1:59.4
 - 200 yard freestyle relay — Chummers (lost), Elliot, Byrne, Lynch; 1:55.9

Around The Loop

By Phil Stone

Now that winter sports have gotten under way, an account of the standings has been possible to obtain. In the hockey league, the Sigma Nu House is holding down the lead — the Beta House is also up there percentage-wise. The Kappa Sigma and Phi U, with three wins apiece, now move up if one of the 12 is still too early to make any predictions about the basketball league.

The bowling league starts officially December 5 and 6 at the new Yankee Lane. If any house has difficulty finding transportation to and from the alleys, the management will gladly assist upon request.

All the standings are complete through December 3.

Hockey
Team	Place	W	L
1. S.N.	1	0	0
2. Beta	2	0	0
3. K.S.	3	0	1
4. Phi U	3	0	1
5. Delta	2	0	0
6. T.D.	1	1	0
7. D.S.	1	2	0
8. A.D.	1	2	0
9. A.R.U.	0	2	0
10. Chi Psi	0	2	0
11. Zeta	0	3	0
12. Phi Delta	not in league

Basketball
Team	Place	W	L
1. Chi Psi	1	0	0
2. Beta	1	1	0
3. Phi Delta	1	1	0
4. S.N.	1	1	0
5. A.R.U.	1	1	0
6. D.S.	0	1	0
7. T.D.	0	1	0
8. Zeta	0	1	0
9. K.S.	0	1	0
10. A.D.	0	1	0
11. Phi U	0	1	0
12. Delta	0	1	0

Athletes Honored At Annual Sports Banquet

Doctor Daniel F. Hanley, as Master-of-Ceremonies, opened the annual Fall Sports Banquet at Moulton Union on November 15 at 6:15 p.m. President Cole then gave a short speech in which he praised the varsity football team for its excellent season. He also congratulated the varsity soccer team on becoming unofficial champions. Dr. Hanley later introduced the guests at the Banquet, among them General W. C. Phillips.

After dinner the fall sports awards were presented. Chuck Shea was elected captain of the varsity cross-country team for next year. Frank Nicolai and Pete Best were chosen as co-captains for next year's varsity soccer team, while Joe Hickey and Bob Ford were elected co-captains of the varsity football team. Fred Rollinson was chosen the Most Valuable Player on this year's varsity soccer team. The William J. Readon Memorial Football Trophy, annually awarded to the "senior on the varsity football team who has made an outstanding contribution to his team and his college," was presented to Charlie O'Speltz. The Winslow R. Howland Football Trophy, annually awarded to a senior on the varsity football team who has shown the greatest improvement during the season, went to Dexter Morse. A trophy donated by General Phillips for the best non-letter man on the football team was presented to Fred Hanley. Bill Nash and Barry Jenkins also received tickets to the Army-Navy game, also a gift of General Phillips.

Drive by defenseman Dave Meehan in first period of Bowdoin-Harvard game. Bowdoin lost, 1-6.

(Photo by Crane)

Polar Bears Down Bates On Foul Shot By Loane

With two seconds left in the overtime period of the varsity basketball game between Bowdoin and Bates on December 3, guard Al Loane made a foul shot to give the Polar Bears a 63-62 victory. This was the climax of a close and exciting game, the first of the season.

Bowdoin trailed after the first half of the game, 30-32. The game became much closer during the second half, with the score constantly favoring first Bates and then Bowdoin. The second half finally ended with the score tied at 58 all, after Bates had stalled for two minutes at the end of the half and then missed what would have been the winning shot. During the overtime period, the Bears employed the same tactic. They froze the ball for the last few minutes, until Loane was fouled. Victory came with his shot.

Guard Bill Cohen was high scorer for Bowdoin with 16 points, while forward Rapp was high scorer for Bates with 18. Forward Ed Callahan played an excellent defensive game, holding Bates center Freeman to nine points. Loane also played a good defensive game, preventing Bates guard Pete Fisk from scoring a field goal all night.

Coming Events

- Varsity basketball — December 9 vs. Brandeis at 8:15; December 12 vs. Maine at 8:15 (away); December 14 vs. M.I.T. at 8:15 (away).
- Freshman basketball — December 9 vs. M.C.I. at 8:15; December 14 vs. M.I.T. at 8:50 (away).
- Varsity hockey — December 8 vs. Colgate at 7:30; December 9 vs. Hamilton at 7:30.
- Freshman hockey — December 12 vs. Lewiston at 4:00.
- Varsity swimming — December 9 vs. Springfield at 2:00.
- Freshman swimming — December 13 vs. Edward Little at 7:30 (away).
- Varsity track — December 9, intersclass at 1:00; December 12-14, Christmas Gambol at 4:30.
- Freshman track — December 9, intersclass at 1:00; December 13-14, Christmas Gambol at 4:30.
- Varsity skiing — December 5-15, pre-season slalom and jumping at Franconia.
- Varsity rifle — December 9 vs. M.I.T.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES SALUTE: STEVE BANKS

Because of Steve Banks, who just two years ago was an undergraduate engineering student, the Bell Telephone System is closer to wiping out the noise (or "static") that sometimes interferes with telephone conversations. On one of his first assignments, Steve examined the noise levels that had "leaked" into telephone circuits in Colorado. His findings shed new light on the source of noise, and on the important methods of measuring it. Steve Banks of Mountain States Telephone & Telegraph Company, and the other young engineers like him in Bell Telephone Companies throughout the country, help make your communications service the finest in the world.

BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES

TELEPHONE MAN-OF-THE-MONTH

Parkview Cleaners
and
Parkview Laundercenter
"The Home Of Better Cleaning"
1 HOUR SERVICE AT THE CLEANERS
No worry about lost clothing at the laundercenter when you do it yourself.
OPEN 24 HOURS A DAY

STUDENT PATRONAGE WELCOMED

FIRST NATIONAL BANK
Brunswick, Maine

Member of the Federal Reserve System and Member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

DICK MALONE'S Imported Car Clinic

Sales NSU Service

SERVICE ON ALL IMPORTED CARS
168 Pleasant Street
PA 5-2481

White Mountain Oil Co.
NORTH CONWAY, NEW HAMPSHIRE
Complete Heating and Appliance Service For
The Eastern Central New Hampshire Area

Quinby Names Cast For Masque & Gown's Winter Houseparty Play, "The Second Man"

Director of Dramatics George H. Quinby has announced the selection of a provisional cast for Bowdoin's Winter Houseparty play, "The Second Man," by America's leading writer of high comedy, S. N. Behrman.

Maria Parker, who has been seen on the stage of the Pickard Theater in Chatham's "The Crucible" this fall and appeared in two musicals and a one-act play written by undergraduates last year, will follow Lynn Poutanis and Zena Darby in the part of Mrs. Kendall Frayne. The other female lead, first played by Ursula Jeans in England and by Margalo Gillmore in New York, has been assigned to Linda Ballou, a newcomer on the Bowdoin stage.

The two men will be played by undergraduates William Lannon '68 of New York City, following Alfred Lunt and Noel Coward, and Joseph Fry '61 of Farmington, following Raymond Massey and Earle Larimore. Lannon has played in seven productions at Bowdoin during the past two years, directed "The Visit" this fall, and is on the executive committee for the Masque and Gown. Fry is playing his stock part at Bowdoin, as his second during the current year. He was seen in a Chatham one-act play with the Potluck Players in October. Both men were seen in the principal parts of "The Importance of Being Earnest" two years ago.

Following such "savvy" productions as "The Visit" and "Waiting for Godot," Behrman's delightful and witty comedy will offer Brunswick audiences a considerable change in mood. Although "The Second Man" was first played in 1937, this comedy of manners deals with such universal situations and characters as to remain fresh today. In its brittle, if not cynical, acceptance of a realistic rather than a heroic attitude toward life, it is in line with modern drama, even though it presents its message with urbanity rather than with shock.

Professor Quinby, who will direct the performance, had the opportunity of testing The Second Man with a class of university students when he was lecturing and directing in Iran in 1959. The play was then done in translation, with one of the actors serving as interpreter. To adapt its production to the comparatively retarded conditions of the academic theater in Iran, the essay and parody were simplified. This also permitted the production to be tried out in Esfahan before it played at Teheran University. An approximation of the Persian production may be used at Bowdoin, particularly if there is any possibility of touring the play.

Bernard Ryan '68 of Scarsdale, N.Y., is stage managing the play. Others contributing to the production will be David Roberts '68 of New York City, Peter Greene '68 of Newton Center, Mass., Richard Mack '64 of Springfield, Ill., and Jeffrey Humstun '64 of West Washington, Mass.

Performances are scheduled for February 15 and 17 at Pickard Theater, Memorial Hall.

Wiemert Commissioned

In a special ceremony in the office of the Professor of Literary Sciences at the College recently, Sergeant Charles E. Wiemert was formally commissioned as a warrant officer in the United States Army Reserve.

The oath of office was administered by Lieutenant Colonel Richard A. Ryan while Mrs. Wiemert and members of the ROTC staff looked on.

In addition to receiving his commission, the new warrant officer was also ordered to report active duty at the U. S. Army Military Center, Fort Bliss, Texas, on January 15, 1968.

A native of Westbrook, Warrant Officer Wiemert is married to the former Brian Berry of Gorham. They have just recently purchased the Dyer Farm in Bowdoinham.

Warrant Officer Wiemert entered the Army in August, 1946, and served in various assignments.

Play Review

(Continued from Page 2)

have been a magnificent piece of being "virtuous."

But then I really can't say that I see the part of Claire Zachanassian as a great role, per se. For while the motives of her actions are indeed rooted in the real-humanity, pregnancy, whoredom and what have you — one sort of wonders if this innocent Schill found in the hay left wearing a piece of straw could ever have been anything but out of this world.

Mrs. Aldrich was cold, hard, ruthless, yet she never seemed able to cross that thin line between being just that and being Claire Zachanassian. She was chilling, but not enough so. And I think that perhaps she was never quite certain as to just what was the person she was supposed to portray.

Bernard Ryan, in the lead male role of Schill, began rather shakily. He seemed uneasy and self-conscious in the first act. But as the play began to progress, he grew more and more into the part; he became the hunted man who saw harbingers of his doom in each new play of shoe or purchase of butter. And his development into a man accepting a fate and blaming no one only more so — while underplayed, evoked all the contempt either author or director could have wished.

In the actor-who-most-enjoyed-just-being-there category fall Leon Condylis and Tad Gaither. Condylis as Claire's latest fling almost stole the scene. No dandy ever twirled a glove, chirped "Hello," or proffered a pipe to be weighed by an obliging peasant than he; he was perfect. Tad Gaither as the Policeman also had that air of being at one with his part. He was the universal cop, shrewd, detective sergeant on his best about town.

As Gladys McKnight as Frau Schill the one man in the town who fought against the disease which she felt spreading within him, as wife who knew just when to agree with her European schoolmaster who tried to live a life of dedication, to go to the movies. That last opening and purpose, he was masculine. From a comic soul leading the lowpeople in that grisly song of a striking first entrance and continued the high level of his acting in the second station scene. But he regrettably seemed to fade away when he and the schoolmaster encountered Claire in the barn.

Another minor actor who deserves note is Peter Rhein. In every scene he was in, he was able to infuse a sense of life and energy into the action. Whether as a painter in that grim first scene or as just a member of the crowd, his very presence seemed to pick things up a bit.

John Osterwets, Henry Martin and Jeffrey Humstun all merit applause for what were consistent, even portions. As the Judge and the two blind men respectfully they had a sense of their parts which they communicated with sometimes brutal clarity.

Paul Gode as the Pastor almost brought off the church scene with skill, but I am afraid that actually it fell flat. Ben Mandelbaum as the conductor and as the reporter, on the other hand, did come through in what were essentially comic parts. As for the deluge of the other bits, they were good, bad and indifferent. And yet despite their very real awkwardness throughout much of the play, they all very tellingly came together as they should have in the final scene of their degradation. At that point they were a genuine mob, which is what they were supposed to be.

FOR THE BEST IN CHOICE
TABLE-RITE STEER BEEF
GROCERIES — FRUIT AND VEGETABLES

SHOP AT
LIVERNOIS' IGA
51 HARPSWELL STREET DIAL PA 8-7122

Drama Meeting Five Attend United Nations Conference

A meeting of the dramatic section of the recently organized group for the exchange of arts among New England colleges was held Friday, November 17, at the College.

This organization met for the first time last May at Dartmouth College with representatives for art, drama and music from each of several northern New England colleges.

At the May meeting, Professor George H. Quinby of the Department of English, and Director of Dramatics at Bowdoin, proposed an exchange of plays for the coming spring. The meeting on Friday was for the purpose of inquiring further into the possibilities of such an exchange.

Five students chosen to represent the College attended a students conference called by the Collegiate Council for the United Nations last weekend in New York.

Principal speaker to the Council was Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India, who remained in New York with a group of American student leaders and to hear their views on the United Nations during his visit to the city.

On the agenda, also, were speakers presenting the American viewpoint of the United Nations, briefings by foreign missions to the U.N. representing several world areas and panel sessions concerning the role of the nonaligned nations in international politics, African development and the United States, and the problems of Chinese representation.

Chosen to represent the College were three honor students in International Relations, senior Francis A. Mansini of Dorchester, Mass., John E. Craig of Westmont, P. Q., Canada, and Bruce A. Burns of Great Neck, New York, and two student government representatives, a Bowdoin Man student from Yokohama, Japan, and John F. Sweeney, Jr. of Ravena, New York.

Present at Friday's meeting were Professors Eric T. Volkert and Chandler A. Potter of Middlebury College, who serve as director and designer, respectively, for the dramatic department of that college. Professor John C. Edwards, newly appointed director of dramatics at the University of New Hampshire, and Professor George Sochenut, who serves as technician and designer in the dramatic department of Dartmouth College.

Before dinner at the Moulton Union, the group was entertained at the home of professor Quinby, where they were joined by Bowdoin Professors Tilloston of the Department of Music and Beam of the Art Department.

The group attended the Friday evening performance of the Masque and Gown's presentation of "The Visit" starring Constance Aldrich of Brunswick, which enabled the visitors to become acquainted with the size and equipment of Bowdoin's Pickard Theater and its flexibility under conditions of a play's performance.

Connecticut General Life Insurance Company has contributed $615 to the College under its two-part Program of Aid to Higher Education.

The program is designed to give annual assistance on an unrestricted basis to privately supported four-year colleges and universities under a plan of both direct and matching grants.

The first part of the program is a direct grant to the college whose graduates have been employed by Connecticut General for ten years or more. It is based on

THE POPOVER

The perennial campus favorite in a wide variety of plaids and checks made of 100% Virgin Wool.

Sizes Small, Medium, Large and X-Large

$98 to $1195

Phil's MEN'S STORE
78 Maine Street, Brunswick

OPERA HOUSE BATH, ME.

Wed.-Sat. 6:30, 8:30
"THE DEVIL AT 4 O'CLOCK"

Dec. 10-12 Sun. 3, 7, 9

Paris Blues

AN ELIA KAZAN PRODUCTION
SPLENDOR IN THE GRASS

Dec. 13-16 6:30, 8:30

CUMBERLAND THEATER
Brunswick, Maine

Fri.-Sat. Dec. 8-9
BREAKFAST AT TIFFANY'S
with Audrey Hepburn George Peppard

Sun.-Mon.-Tues. Dec. 10-11-12
FRANCIS OF ASSISI
with Bradford Dillman Debralee Hart

Wed.-Thurs.-Fri.-Sat. Dec. 13-14-15-16
4 DAYS 4 SPLENDOR IN THE GRASS with Natalie Wood — Warren Beatty

Sun.-Mon.-Tues. Dec. 17-18-19
HOMICIDAL
with Glenn Corbett Patricia Bredin

Wed.-Thurs. Dec. 20-21
ADA

Aid Grant To College

Connecticut General Life Insurance Company has contributed $615 to the College under its two-part Program of Aid to Higher Education.

EXCELLENT CAREER DEVELOPMENT OPPORTUNITIES

The Naval Ordnance Laboratory located at Silver Spring, Maryland, a suburb of Washington, D. C., offers excellent career development opportunities in careers involving in the physical sciences and engineering. After a year-long rotational training program, you help with your main assignment in aeroballistics... underwater air... surface temporary... explosives and chemical research... statistics, mathematics and applied research. You are encouraged to work out an advanced degree program with the University of Maryland, and to participate in society meetings and international research. You will benefit from the best of working and living conditions at NOL's modern R. & D. facilities located in an ideal suburb of Washington. These positions are in the career field service.

On-Campus interviews will be held December 13th
U.S. Naval Ordnance Laboratory
White Oak — Silver Spring, Maryland

The Arts Center

NEW POLICY

ALL PHONOGRAPH RECORDS AT DISCOUNT PRICES
JAZZ — CLASSICAL — FOLK — POPULAR

See our complete selection of Travel Posters and Fine Art Reproductions at $1.00

New Meadows Inn

Bath Road HI 8-3921

Hotel Sedgwick

Bath, Maine HI 8-4261

Brunswick Coal & Lumber Co.

Mobilheat Fuel Oil

18 Spring Street
Dial PA 9-3341

SMALL'S ESSO SERVICENTER

WE SPECIALIZE IN
Engine Tune-Up and Wheel Alignment

BATH ROAD PA 9-3740

Marlboro

campus favorite in all 50 states!

...It's a top seller at colleges from U.S.C. to Yale... and 1st in the Flip-Top box in every single state

If you think you're seeing more Marlboro men lately, you're right. More than 25,000 smokers all over the country are switching to Marlboro every month!

You'll know why when you try them. Marlboro is the filter cigarette with the unfiltered taste. The secret of the flavor is the famous Marlboro recipe from Richmond, Virginia... and the pure white Selectrate filter that goes with it.

Try Marlboro and judge for yourself. On or off campus, you get a lot to like.

Flip-Top box or King-size pack

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF JOHN WILLIAM HALPERIN '63 ASSISTANT TO THE EDITOR John E. Martin '63 MANAGING EDITOR Alphonse J. Casper '64 ASSOCIATE EDITOR David C. Wollstadt '63 BOARD OF EDITORS J. W. Halperin, Chairman, Brunswick, Maine; Walker, Smith, Wollstadt, and Martin News Editor Stephen P. Beale '64 Assistant News Editor Sigurd A. Knudsen, Jr. '65 Features Editor David C. Walker '64 Sports Editor Ann P. Smith '65 Assistant Sports Editor Edgar C. Bailey '65 Photographers Charles F. Flagg '63 Sanford L. Crane '64 Staff Cartoonist Harley L. Schwadron '64 Business Manager Bruce N. Leonard '63 Advertising Manager William W. Conklin '64 Circulation Manager M. Douglas Scott '64 Philip N. Racine '64 THE BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY Prof. W. D. Shipman Prof. A. P. Daggett Prof. W. S. Piper E. W. Woodcutt Spencer C. Hunt Robert L. Hagerty REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY College Publishers Representatives 10 EAST 80TH STREET NEW YORK, N. Y. Published weekly when classes are held during the Fall and Spring Semesters by the students of Bowdoin College. Address to the Editor and all correspondence to the Business Manager of The Bowdoin Orient, Brunswick, Maine. Second-class postage paid at the post office at Brunswick, Maine. The subscription rate for one year is four dollars ($4.00).

FEATURES

Features Editor Reviews D. Salinger's "Franny and Zooey" Best-Selling Novel, "Franny and Zooey" Orient Introduces Ingmar Bergman's Latest Release "Waiting For Godot" Lauded By Reviewer

By David Walker '64 Salinger has written what has taken three thin volumes appearing over an inordinate number of years, but he is here to stay. He manages to write bad prose, gross prose; he can be both mawkish and brilliant in the same sentence. If the solutions he offers seem too "cute," as Alfred Kazin has said, that pre-empted, Salinger's didacticism can also be interpreted as a means, not an end. What he has achieved is a few stories which better than those of any other writer describe the attitudes - the self-consciousness, the self-delusive agonies of the post-war college generation. I have said that Salinger's writing can be bad; at one point in "Zooey" a girl laughing is described thus: "Franny was delighted, and suddenly so." But such evasions can have a wonderfully off-beat flavor in Salinger. In the story described as writing up on a couch "as a fortress draws up its bridge before the siege." It is hard to call either writing either "bad" or "cute," certainly it is stalling, effective when used with precision. Franny and Zooey is the story of a girl's nervous breakdown. The breakdown which is both physical and comic (comic breakdowns are a little outside Salinger's vision; he can only write about the serious or imagines he could see). Franny, the first section of the two-part "novel" (both parts were originally in the New Yorker magazine) tells of a college girl's retreat from a conventional folk weekend. Franny's date, pseudo-intellectual Lane Caulfield, would hardly be considered Mister Sincerity, and his philistine snob-faire is made effectively effective. Here is Lane elucidating his attitude toward the situation: "I mean I didn't say anything too goddam world-shaking or anything like that... But I don't know. I think the emphasis I put on why he was so nervous attracted to the me, just wasn't too bad. I mean in the light of what we know today. Not just psychosocially and all that crap, but certain things you can't just pass over as Capital-F Freudian and let them go at that. I mean to a certain extent, I think I was perfectly justified to point out that that none of the really good boys - Tolstoy, Dostoevski, Shakespeare, for Chrissake - were such goddam world-queers. They just wrote. Know what I mean?" A few minutes afterwards Franny passes out in the restaurant where she and Lane have been eating, and we later learn that the concerned Lane shipped her safely home, where at the beginning of Zooey, she has been having attacks of hysteria for forty-eight hours. The rest of the story is told through the eyes of "Zooey" Zachery Gribble, Franny's brother, who is sitting in a bathtub rereading an old letter from another brother. As if incidentally various details create the impression of a precocious family (the seven children are all graduates of the Ivy League school). "It's A Wise Child", the parents are over shadowed by their brilliant offspring. A long dialogue between Zooey and his brother, Lane, is a teaching career to become a much sought-after TV actor and his puzzled mother emphasizes the attitude of the Ivy League school. Franny and Zooey is a novel that cannot understand. Zooey is believable in this sense because of his lack of passion in spite of his impatience with his mother. Looking over at the closed door, the door is slightly ajar and healed slowly. "Some exit lines you give yourself, buddy," he called after her - but only when he must have been sure that his voice wouldn't really reach her down the hall.

By Hans Isaksson Ingmar Bergman is a prolific artist, even before The Devil's Eye was released he had finished another film, this one called Through a Glass Darkly. Now he is engaged in shooting a third film entitled The Communion. The Devil's Eye, his most light comedy, was like a vacation; in his latest film Bergman returns to tragedy. Through a Glass Darkly is an extremely compressed film. It spans one day and night and has only four characters. The action occurs on the Swedish island of Gotland, at the summer place of a middle-aged writer. The central character is his daughter Karin, a young woman torn between the security of family life and approaching insanity. Around her are grouped the three other members of the family, and the film shows the effect on them of her growing illness and their reaction to it. Her father is seen to be torn by the problem of the illness, while her husband is secure in his love for her and her younger brother is involved in teen-age problems. In spite of the efforts her husband makes to cure her, Karin is unable to combat her sickness. In one scene she escapes from her father to gaze at a beautiful sunset which mysteriously attracts her. From behind it she seems to hear voices calling her, and her illness becomes a possible source of revelation; from behind the tapestry God will manifest himself and she will see him clearly, no longer "through a haze of illness." The film makes it make it out to be. In any case, it is certainly the most mature work yet from possibly the finest younger American author.

By David Walker '64 Friday evening, December 8th, a small but enthusiastic audience several times interrupted with applause the Marquis & Gown reading of Waiting for Godot, by the French-Irish playwright Samuel Beckett. The excellence of the production was especially apparent in two areas: direction and acting. Professor Quinby and the entire cast deserved congratulations for the fine performance. It would be difficult to single out a "finest" performance; but special praise must go to Marc Merriman's portrayal of the respectable Vladimir, and to Al Schiller for his interpretation of "Gogo." Merriman's was Vladimir suitably, alternately pompous and bedeviled, while Schiller's Estragon was continuously Vladimir's foil; a seeming Kipling who adds most illuminating comments at appropriate moments. As Eric Henry Martin (Pozzo) did not seem quite at ease as the commanding figure his part demanded, but by the time he became perplexed at how to fit down "without being affected," he had caught up with Pozzo's dilemma, and from then on was extremely convincing in his portrayal of strength making impotency. Richie VanVleet's "thinking" was a happy masterpiece of confusion (enhanced by the pantomime of the other characters). Michael Dumala was also good as the boy who accompanies Vladimir with his polio, but cry for messages from the shadowy Godot. The lighting, by Neville Powers and Dave Henahan, was excellent; perhaps the only problem was in the first scene when evening seemed to fall a little too quickly. The costumes were beyond reproach; Leda's wig was particularly unconvincing. The double-level platform served the actors well; action could occur on three levels simultaneously. Any specific interpretation of the characters in terms of Christian symbolism is likely to detract from the spontaneity of the play. Two things wait for a mysterious Godot, who they hope will give them some order, some task to perform. But they meet only a disillusioning figure who is not Godot and who weakens before their eyes. In spite of petty quarrels, they cannot bear to separate, and as they wait a tree bursts into leaf. At the end of the play they are apparently where they were at the beginning, but they are at least still together; alone they would be unable to continue living. Behind the half-farctional, half-fictitious friendship of two cranks, Beckett has drawn man's need for escaping his aloneness in a world where Godot never comes and Pozzo has only chicken bones to offer.

Compulsory Chapel: An Editorial

In the past few years, many of our so-called traditions have been attacked; compulsory chapel attendance has not escaped the attack. The purpose of this editorial is not necessarily to defend another Bowdoin tradition, but rather to point out that there is a side to the question besides the one that has been noisily and felicitously flung at us lately. I believe that there are at least seven explanations for the assertion that compulsory chapel is not just another last foothold for decrepit conservatives, as some would have us believe; this, I repeat, is not necessarily to defend chapel as such, but merely to present the other, and perhaps more calm, argument. The first point is that chapel is not useless just because the so-called liberal element tells us it is. If this is a baldly transparent defense of tradition for its own sake, so be it. - Hence nothing wrong with an institution just because it has survived for a great many years. Perhaps a more constructive attack by the anti-chapel people would be harder to refute, but mere antipathy to tradition is childish. Secondly, as one Bowdoin professor pointed out recently, there is the practical element; if daily chapel attendance was not required, the building would remain deserted most of the day. College buildings are usually donated by somebody, and if Bowdoin demonstrates that it is going to do with these gifts exactly as it likes regardless of the intended purpose, we may never see a new building on this campus after the Senior Center and the new library. The chapel is a remarkably attractive edifice anyway; here the practical and the aesthetic apparently are fused. There is, of course, the religious aspect in all this. Bowdoin's charter provides for daily prayer on the campus; while "daily" may seem excessive to some, no religious activity whatsoever would certainly seem to leave a kind of spiritual vacuum. And yet the fact that I make this my third instead of my first word indicate something of which we are all aware: chapel as it exists here is, for the most part, non-religious. Perhaps defenders of chapel are on thinnest ice at this juncture; the mere fact, however, that the daily service is non-sectarian does not necessarily make it entirely secular. Fourth, chapel serves as one of the places at which announcements of interest by the administration can be made to the student body. Few read the college's bulletin board, and often statements in chapel are carried back to the fraternities and thereby assimilated by the campus in general - statements which have no other means of circulation. Point five is that chapel affords a rare opportunity for students to get together outside their fraternity houses. There is certainly something to be said for assembling a non-fraternal melange of undergraduates at one place every day, Bowdoin leaning so heavily as it does on its fraternity system. My sixth argument is that occasionally a faculty member puts enough thought into a chapel address to make it interesting and instructive. I admit that many chapel talks are just plain dull, but occasionally a professor will come up with something challenging and well thought out, such as Professor Gresson's discussion of fraternity nationals and Professor Poles' recent treatment of chapel itself. Even more important, the chapel talk gives the opportunity to individual faculty members and thus to the entire faculty as such to voice opinions on various matters of campus interest. Undergraduates should know along what lines their instructors are thinking outside the classroom. I include point seven mostly because it is an argument that I have heard expressed on numerous occasions. It is this: the practice of the classes exiting from chapel in academic order is gratifying to the older members of the student body and is, because of the short orientation period, one of the few opportunities for seniors to be paid the respects due them by underclassmen. This point has a questionable validity, but the practice itself certainly does no harm to anybody. At any rate, this point on this particular subject is liable to vary according to his class! If there is a right answer to this whole question, it will undoubtedly not be found among the officials, and it probably has not been attacked by the substance of the editorial either.

N.D. To Have Jazz Festival

The 1962 Collegiate Jazz Festival will be held April 6-7 on the campus of the University of Notre Dame, South Bend, Indiana. The festival consists of two days of competition among 20-26 men groups made up of college students. Prizes include scholarships to the National Stage Band Campus and the Berkshire School of Music, instruments, and trophies. In order to be eligible, groups must be made up of only students now attending college, or who graduated from college in the last two years. Since it is primarily for students, membership in the union is not required. The deadline for application is February 20, 1962. An application fee of fifteen dollars is required, as well as a five to seven minute tape with two selections to be used as a basis for selection. If a group is elected, the application fee will be returned. Anyone wishing application forms on entrance information forms to write to College Jazz Festival, Box 436, Notre Dame, Indiana.

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor... I hope you don't long ago WPOR had somebody on the radio who said he was Bono the clown. Like so many things at Bowdoin I think he was the same. Anyway, when he was telling some stories, he said that Bowdoin students were just like kids all over the place. That's wrong. And it is not FAIR to us KIDS. We aren't like the Bowdoin students at all. I know, because after I skate at the arena, I go to the Union to look at the Bowdoin guys. There're three kinds: One group sits near the entrance of the cafeteria. They all wear T-shirts, even when it really is cold. But I guess they never get cold though. That means they are tough. I know that if I were only a guy T-shirt, and kept having my fingers drop on me I'd sure get sick. Golly, they never run out of jokes or stories. The aren't all like the fellows that grow beards, or their friends who since they can't grow one, just smoke and put on a stare. To me it looks like he's just a kid. I'm supposed to mean they are thinking. Whatever it means, you can tell what they think of the gray T-shirt. The smokers and the others of the other kinds of guys. Really, they don't talk to each other. Instead they give little speeches, like the new student. Whenever they say they know something it's from a book. We kids just say what we're thinking. Of course we aren't very smart. But the same, they sure can read. I guess most of the Bowdoin boys can't, or at least don't. They are like the other kind of kid. The L.C.'s of them seem in between the gray T-shirts and the blank beards. They laugh a little and talk some. They don't buy the New York Times, it sure looks good. If it had furnished the Union would have to buy the Boston Herald. These guys are experts in everything. They say so. If they are I sure hope they'll solve some of the world's problems, instead of just making up stories. The kids can't solve much, but most of us collected money for UNICEF on Halloween, instead of asking for money. Maybe the Bowdoin boys and we are alike. We all liked Bono, or whatever his name was. A Kid To the Editor... Re the feature in issue #12, a salute to Chubbie; Bullwinkle: Good God!!! Jeffrey P. Huntman, '64

Knudsen '65 Promoted

Orient Editor-in-Chief John W. Halperin announced last week that Sigurd A. Knudsen, Jr. has been appointed Assistant News Editor of the Journal by News Editor Stephen P. Beale '64. Knudsen, a Sigma Nu freshman, is replacing Kelvin L. Taylor '64, also a Sigma Nu. The fact that Knudsen was appointed while working on the News Staff is a tribute to his ability as a writer. A major part of the newspaper's operations is to advance through the Orient's ranks, the Editor-in-Chief said.

Play Contest Judges Named

The Maque and Gown announced Wednesday night, Dec. 13, that six judges have accepted the task of assisting in the 7th annual student-written one-act play contest. The executive committee of Maque and Gown said the judges, who will work in two groups, include Mrs. Athene P. Daggett, Prof. Jeffrey J. Carr, Prof. John C. Rensselaer, Mrs. Edwin Briggs, Prof. Herbert Ross Brown, and Joseph D. Karp. Mrs. Daggett, wife of Prof. Athene P. Daggett, chairman of the Department of Government, and Professors Carr and Rensselaer of the Romance Languages and History Departments respectively, will read scripts submitted by students on or before Jan. 7. They will select the three or four plays to performance and will announce their choices at the Dramatic Club's annual meeting Jan. 21. The student authors will then select directors and designers, and the plays will be cast and rehearsed through February. They will be performed March 18. Mrs. Briggs, whose husband is a visiting lecturer in English, Professor Brown, chairman of the English Department, and Mr. Kamsh, Bowdoin's Director of News Services, will judge the plays. They will select the winning and runner-up dramas, but student directors, best student director and student designer. All will receive cash prizes. D.C. CONFERENCE President James Stacy Coles of Bowdoin College has returned from a White House conference during which he was one of the nation's leading educators discussed methods by which the Federal Government can help improve American education. A major part of the two-day session was devoted to a discussion of ways of improving content and learning materials in a wide variety of subject matter fields at all educational levels. "Because of the fact that no social activity is more important than education, this part of our national life calls for continuing attention and effort," said Robert N. Krickler of the White House Staff.

Significant Shapes?

Current lingo has it that college men come in three shapes: "egg head, square and well-rounded". Well-rounded, a variety of interests, imaginative, energetic... a mature graduate who can work with people... this is the ideal description of the Engineering, Business, Science or Liberal Arts Major who will find a bright future in Boston Gas Company's Cadet Training Program leading to key supervisory and administrative positions. We select only top men to fill arising needs. Practically 90% of our cadet trainees are still with us and have found the challenge, advancement and stability in our Company to their liking. Meet the standard and you'll be working for New England's largest gas utility, a growing business where the concern is people and their goals for the future. Appointments for interviews should be made with the College Placement Office. RECRUITMENT REPRESENTATIVES WILL BE ON CAMPUS JANUARY 16. Write: L. M. Tangvik, Assistant Personnel Manager, Boston Gas Company, 100 Arlington St., Boston 16, Mass.

Play Contest Judges Named CUMBERLAND THEATRE BRUNSWICK, MAINE

SUN - MON - TUES JANUARY 14-15-16

Advertisement for the Cumberland Theatre in Brunswick, Maine. It features the play 'Waiting for Godot' by Samuel Beckett, running from Sunday to Tuesday, January 14-15-16. The ad includes a list of cast members, a list of ticket prices for various seating areas, and contact information for the theatre. The theatre is located at 100 Arlington St., Brunswick, Maine.

Polar Bearings

By Ann Smith

Favoritism can be the death of a sport. At Bowdoin a death is occurring — in basketball. This disintegration is the result of poor administrative planning and of a lack of support by the students. For one reason or another, most home basketball games have been scheduled on the same nights as hockey games. Consequently, four-fifths of the student body goes to the Arena on such nights, leaving the basketball team to play a game in front of a meager audience. One of two things should be done. Either more of the students should try to attend some of the basketball games or, if the students find hockey games more appealing, then the college administration should adjust the sports schedule. The first suggestion should be thoroughly considered since it can be put into immediate practice. However, for the basketball team to have an encouraging number of spectators, schedule changes are almost a prerequisite. A team can play a surprisingly better game if it is backed by its school.

Team sports are meant to create good athletes capable of cooperating with their teammates in order to jointly compete to the best of their capabilities. Apparently, the college sports administration does not always think this is so. In a recent freshman basketball game, five team-members were made to play the entire game. They lost by two points. Such management could not produce the best results possible for the team. For a team to play, its members, and not just a few, must participate.

Weight-lifting is an active sport at the college; however, it is not yet a sport in which the athlete can compete with other schools. Consequently, weight-lifters do not receive letters. It does not matter that those participating spend a lot of time and strenuously work out. It is a non-competitive sport at Bowdoin and apparently is not worth a letter. It is unique in this position. Why shouldn't this unique quality be replaced by a common but enjoyable one?

PAT-ON-THE-BACK: This week's PAT-ON-THE-BACK goes to RONALD FAMILIETTI, captain of the varsity hockey team, who was designated Most Valuable Player of the Christmas Tournament at Brown.

Frosh Cagers Win Over M. I. T. And Lose To Bates And M. C. I.

The freshman basketball team, they lost their lead during the second half, came back to tie it, and then lost with but a short time to go. Whitmore, with 26 points, was high scorer for Bowdoin.

The frosh played best to M.C.I. on December 8. The first half was tough-and-go, but M.C.I. later began to dominate the game. At the end, Bowdoin bowed to them 74-54. High scorer for the game was Whitmore with 26 points.

Victory came to the team on December 14 when they defeated M.I.T. 55-50. The frosh were trailing by 13 points at half-time, but they managed to end twenty with only eleven minutes left in the game.

Benoit's
130 Maine Street Brunswick

Let us help you plan your printing as well as produce it... Our long experience in producing the following and other kinds of printing for Bowdoin men can show you short cuts in time and save you money.

TICKETS • POSTERS • STATIONERY ALUMNI LETTERS • FRATERNITY FORMS THE RECORD OFFICE

Paul K. Niven Stuart Subean

Printers Of The Orient

INTERVIEWS for: Sales and Sales Management Training Program

This Program is designed to develop young men for careers in life insurance sales and sales management. It provides an initial training period of 3 months (including 3 weeks at a Home Office School) before the men move into full sales work.

Those trainees who are interested in and who are found qualified for management responsibility are assured of ample opportunity to move on to such work in either our field offices or in the Home Office after an initial period in sales.

The Connecticut Mutual is a 115-year-old company with $10,000 policyholder-members and five billion dollars of life insurance in force. Aggressive expansion plans provide unusual opportunities for the limited number of men accepted each year.

Arrange with the placement office for an interview with:

RICHARD M. BOYD, C. L. U.
TUESDAY, JANUARY 16TH

Connecticut Mutual Life
INSURANCE COMPANY - HARTFORD

PUCKSTERS WIN 5-0; COLLEGE BEARS EDGE MAINE 3-2

Upset Only Bright Spot

Forward Dick Smith (25) escapes an Amherst guard for a shot in the game which Bowdoin lost, 3-1. (Photo by Crane)

The varsity basketball team at Brown with 13 points and Ed Callahan with 10.

The Colby team built up a big lead in the first ten minutes of its game with Bowdoin on December 8 and thereafter used many fouls. At half-time Colby was ahead 38-29, and won the game 77-58. Bill Cohen was high scorer for Bowdoin with 18 points, while Ken Stone was high for Colby with 21.

Brandeis
The Brandeis Judges displayed an overall superiority by defeating the Polar Bears, 64-20, on December 9. Bowdoin was definitely in the game throughout the first half, holding Brandeis to an eight point lead. In the second half the Judges unveiled some fine shooting artistry compared to Bowdoin's 43%. High scorers for Bowdoin were Harry Williams.

Frosh Hockey

The Bowdoin freshman hockey team was shipped by Lewiston, 2-0 on Tuesday, December 12th. In Brunswick, Lewiston scored two quick goals in the first period before Bowdoin's Russ Olson broke into the scoring column at 9:46 of the first frame. Hugh Hardcastle tied the count at 7:41 of the third, but Lewiston talked once again late in the game. Bowdoin's goalie Curt Chase stopped 31 attempts.

The Polar Cubs take on Colby's freshman today.

MOULTON UNION BOOKSTORE

Bowdoin Note Paper $1.00 (Different Scenes)

Contemporary Cards 25¢

Color Reproductions Of Famous Works Of Art $.95-$1.95

PORTER - SHAW, INC.
YOUR NEW FORD DEALER

157 Pleasant St. PA 5-5555 Brunswick

SERVICE SPECIALS

Fordomatic Transmission — Adjust & Inspect $700

Front End — Aligned & Balanced $10⁹⁵

PEPSI-COLA
Auburn-Portland, Maine

PICK THE RIGHT ONE... THE BRACING BRIGHT ONE!

Pool Boasts New Hydraulic Board

A hydraulically operated diving board and platform recently installed in the Curtis Pool at Bowdoin College is stimulating greater interest in diving. Bowdoin swimming coach Charlie Butt said.

The new diving board has eliminated many problems which confronted Bowdoin swimming teams in past years.

The board, operated by a hydraulic lift, can be adjusted between one and three meters. This means that, when diving isn't taking place, the board can be raised to three meters, resulting in more deck space for the deep end.

The new apparatus has made it possible for Bowdoin to eliminate two other diving boards. The fixed platform and steeper base allow many maneuvers that were not possible in the past. Maintenance problems have also been diminished.

Butt, who also coaches Bowdoin's soccer team, said another reason for acquiring the new diving system is that, if a Bowdoin diver enters the NCAA or Eastern championships, facilities will be available to practice in the necessary dives.

The Polar Bear swim squad has upstaged its way to two consecutive victories in its first two meets of the 1949-50 season. The Bowdoin team defeated M.I.T. 46-39 and Springfield 50-38. The team resumes action Jan. 13 with a meet against Trinity at Hartford, Conn.

Butt said he's relying on John Merrill of Etneter, N. H., Bob Hooke of Short Hills, N. J., and Phil Stone of Medford, Mass., to keep the varsity squad on its winning ways. Merrill scored two points, Ken Bacon scored at 10:06 and Bisset getting the last point.

THE HOCKEY TEAM'S RECENT LOSSES TO BROWN, COLGATE, AND THE UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS' UNDERSCORE A NEED THAT HAS BEEN HURTING US HERE FOR THE LAST THREE YEARS OR SO: GOOD COACHING. THE FACT THAT BOWDOIN HAS WHAT IS OBVIOUSLY ITS BEST HOCKEY TEAM IN YEARS IS NOT ENOUGH TO ASSURE CONSISTENTLY GOOD HOCKEY; BECAUSE OF THE LACK OF SPIRIT, DRIVE, AND PERSISTENCE ON BOWDOIN'S PART, THE POOR SHOWINGS OF THE LAST FEW WEEKS ARE COMPREHENSIBLE WITHOUT BELABORING THE SUBJECT FURTHER. THE ORIENT SUGGESTS THAT MR. WATSON PUT FORTH THE EFFORT CHARACTERISTIC OF MOST OF THE COLLEGE'S COACHES; IF HE IS UNABLE TO EXTEND HIMSELF THIS YEAR, HE SHOULD NOT BE COACHING HOCKEY.

AROUND THE LOOP
By Phil Stone

Due to the anxiety of everyone to leave for vacation, several games were not played. As a result, the standings may be somewhat incomplete. However, the following issue of the Orient will have the complete standings up to date.

The White Key has decided not to publish a bowling schedule for the remainder of the season. Bowling will get under way soon and the schedule, such as it is, will be carried to the houses through the White Key representatives.

The standings in the inter-ratary hockey and basketball leagues as of January 1 are as follows:

Team	W	L	T
K.A.	5	0	1
Phi U.	4	0	1
Phi. U.	3	0	1
S.N.	4	1	0
Deke	2	1	0
D.D.	2	2	3
D.S.	1	2	0
A.D.	1	4	0
A.R.U.	0	3	0
Chi. Phi	0	4	0
Zete	0	4	0
P.D.P.	0	4	0

Team	W	L	T
Phi U.	1	0	0
Chi Phi	1	0	0
Beta	1	0	0
S.N.	3	1	0
F.D.P.	1	1	0
A.R.U.	1	1	0
A.D.	0	0	0
Deke	0	0	0
K.S.	0	1	0
Zete	0	1	0
T.D.	0	2	0
D.S.	0	3	0

Iceemen Runners-up In Tourney At Brown

The varsity hockey team won a record 4-1 record which included a second place in the Christmas tournament at Brown, Accounts of each game follow.

Colgate
Bowdoin's hockey team defeated Colgate University 4-2 on December 8 for its second victory of the season. Bowdoin opened the scoring at 18:16 of the first period with Capt. Ron FAMILIETTI getting his first goal of the season on a pass from Jack Adams. Bowdoin scored again at 12:08 with Neri Stowell scoring on a pass from Ed Spaulding. With Bowdoin leading 3-0, Colgate mounted a terrific offensive and scored at 2:18. In the second period, Joe Tarbell missed a break away with the Colgate goalie making a terrific save. The period only ended with the tying goal by Colgate at 7:49, though Bowdoin had several good opportunities. Bowdoin scored quickly in the first three minutes of the first period, McChern assisting a hard Bisset drive into the upper left hand corner of the cage. Bill Bisset scored again at 9:37 to clinch the game with FAMILIETTI getting the assist.

Hamilton
Bowdoin took to the ice on December 9 to defeat Hamilton by a score of 4-1. The first period was highlighted by a penalty shot taken by FAMILIETTI who was fouled by a beautiful save by the Hamilton goalie. Bowdoin was the distinct favorite in the rest of the night. The period ended with Ed Spaulding getting the Bowdoin goal on a rebound from a shot by Neri Stowell. Marks for Hamilton had 12 saves and Bob Chaffer for Bowdoin had five. In the second period Bowdoin scored two quick goals. Ken Bacon scored at 10:06 and Bisset getting the last point.

Swimmers Down Springfield
The varsity swimming team defeated Springfield 50-36 on December 9 at Curtis Pool. Following are the results:

Event	Swimmers (P)	Time
400 yard freestyle	Merrill (W)	4:25
100 yard butterfly	Butt (B)	1:40
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:10
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)	2:14
100 yard butterfly	Edwards (B)	1:40
100 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	2:17
100 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	2:17
200 yard breaststroke	Edwards (B)	5:13
400 yard freestyle	Edwards (B)	9:37
100 yard backstroke	Edwards (B)

COLLEGE SLOAN SPENS EXHIBITION OF NATIONAL INTEREST

Sloan Showing Starts Saturday

The College's Walker Art Museum will score a double first this Saturday with the inaugural public showing of the John Sloan paintings in the Hamlin Collection.

The exhibition, which will run until Feb. 28, will introduce the 19 Sloan paintings bequeathed to the museum by the George Olds Hamlin. These paintings represent a little known but important body of Sloan's work.

And the show, which will be enlarged to a total of 59 Sloan works by loans from 17 major national art institutions and galleries, will be the most comprehensive exhibit of the American genre master's work ever put together in New England.

Professor Bean, Director of the Bowdoin Museum, said the collection includes two of Sloan's masterpieces, "The Cot" and "Sunday in Union Square," which are the only ones in the group that have ever been seen by the public.

"The Hamlin Collection includes 19 oil paintings and drawings but these will not be hung in the exhibit, which will be limited to paintings by the many-faceted artist.

Among the loaned works to be shown are many that have national reputations, such as "The Bookkeeper," painted in 1901; "The Wake of the Ferry," 1907; "Hairdresser's Window," 1907; "Three A.M.," 1909; "Old Town Making Up," 1909; "Main Street, Gloucester," 1917; "McSorley's Cafe," 1929; "Negress With Green Apple," 1929; and others.

Two important works in the Hamlin Collection that have never previously been exhibited are "Near Sunset, Gloucester," painted in 1914; and "Clouds Over Great South Mountain," Santa Fe, 1929.

Lenders to the exhibition include Addison Gallery of American Art, Brooklyn Museum, Cleveland Museum of Art, Corcoran Gallery, Estate of John Sloan, International Business Machines Corp., Krausbach Galleries, Memorial Art Gallery, University of Rochester, Metropolitan Museum of Art, Boston Museum of Fine Arts, New Britain Museum of Art, Philadelphia Museum of Art, Phillips Gallery, University of Nebraska Art Gallery, Worcester Art Museum, Walker Art Center, and Whitney Museum of American Art.

The Hamlin, close friends and patrons of Sloan almost from the beginning of his career, in the latter part of the century, were the first to collect the artist's work. Needing pictures to decorate their New York apartment, the couple obtained what they wanted, freely, from Sloan.

This neighborly arrangement only ended when, in 1923, the sale of Sloan's paintings put fear in the Hamlin's that they might lose any of their borrowed pieces. They purchased the group of 20, one of which they later gave to a friend, for $20,000, a sale that made headlines in that day.

It was the largest single sale in Sloan's career and the collection has remained the biggest in the possession of any individual or institution.

Hamlin, a Maine native, summered at Boothbay Harbor and spent much time on the Bowdoin campus, developing an intense interest in the Walker Art Museum. His wish to bequeath the Sloan collection to Bowdoin long preceded his death in 1953. When his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Hamlin, died last year her husband's desire was fulfilled.

In addition, Mrs. Hamlin left the museum an endowment for the purchase of the works of American artists.

The exhibition at the Walker Museum will open with a preview and reception for museum associates on Jan. 20 at which Mrs. John Sloan, widow of the artist, will be an honored guest.

Public showing, which will be free, begins Jan. 21.

Leslie A. Claff '26 Gives Track Trophy To Bowdoin

President Coles has announced the establishment of the Leslie A. Claff Track Trophy.

The trophy, which will be awarded annually to Bowdoin's outstanding track and field athlete, was donated by Leslie A. Claff of Bowdoin's Class of 1926. Mr. Claff is Treasurer of M. B. Claff & Sons, Inc., a carton manufacturing firm with plants in Brockton and Randolph, Mass.

As an undergraduate, Mr. Claff was a member of the Polar Bear varsity track squad for three years. He also maintained his interest in track and for many years returned to Bowdoin to officiate at interscholastic track meets which used to close the indoor track season.

The trophy will be presented at the conclusion of the competitive year to the outstanding performer in track and field athletics who, in the opinion of the Dean, the Director of Athletics and the Track Coach, has demonstrated outstanding ability accompanied with the qualities of character and sportsmanship consistent with the aim of intercollegiate athletics in its role in higher education.

Last June Mr. Claff was elected President of the Bowdoin Class of 1926, which he has served as Reunion Chairman for several years. He is in his third year as Class Agent for the Bowdoin Alumni Fund.

Last month Mr. Claff received on behalf of his class the Class of 1926 Bowl, awarded each year to the class which has made the greatest improvement over the previous year in competition for the Alumni Fund Cup.

A Major in the Army during World War II, Mr. Claff received the Bronze Star and the French Legion of Honor. In addition, he twice received the Croix de Guerre, once for his part in the capture of the German bridge which will be in combat with French Forces of the Interior in France.

At the head of a Civil Affairs team which was advancing with the 77th Major Claff, another officer and seven enlisted men bluffed the 482 men of a German garrison into surrendering by threatening to call in a large force of tanks to shell them out of their position.

What the Germans didn't know was that the small force of Civil Affairs men had no communication with other units — and there were no tanks within 30 miles.

Major Claff also served later as Commanding Officer of a military government detachment in Bruch, Germany. He now holds the rank of Colonel in the Army Reserve.

Claff was also a member of the school and civic building committees in Randolph, Mass., and as chairman of the town finance committee, Randolph. He is also a member of the Randolph Republican Town Committee. He is a former president of the Randolph Rotary Club and the Cohasset Chamber of Commerce.

$56,220 Given To Instruct Secondary School Teachers

The U. S. Office of Education has awarded Bowdoin College a $56,220 contract for a National Defense Education Act Institute for Franco-American secondary school teachers to French to be held from June 3 to August 14, President James S. Coles announced today. This marks the second year in a row that the College has been singled out for a special institute as part of the national program to improve secondary school teachers.

The Franco-American Institute will impart advanced training in French, particularly in the use of new teaching methods and instructional materials, but will also stress ways and means of exploiting the native speaking ability of over a million New Englanders of French-Canadian extraction.

The Institute will again be directed by Dr. Gerard J. Brault, a former member of the College faculty and now Associate Professor of Romance Languages at the University of Pennsylvania. Professor Brault taught French at Bowdoin from September 1957 until June 1961. His extra-curricular interest in the early history of the College, centering upon the meaning of the sun symbol featured on the Seal and upon the origin of the Bowdoin family coat of arms, led to other investigations concerning the date the College received its name, the little-noted Massachusetts Privateer "Bowdoin" during the Revolutionary War, the Bowdoin family portrait of President Joseph McKean, Brunswick architect Samuel Melcher III, and, finally, the campus portrait before the Civil War. It is a recent request to the College by Harold Lee Berry '61.

Professor Brault is a graduate of Assumption College and holds a master of arts degree in French from Laval University and a doctorate in French from the University of Pennsylvania. From 1961 to 1963, he served with the U. S. Army and was assigned duties as a Special Agent with the Counterintelligence Corps

Senior Center Plans Imminent

A committee report, recommending a definite site and architect's plans for the forthcoming Senior Center building will be presented to the Governing Boards at its next meeting on February 3.

Should the Boards accept the recommendations, it was guessed that groundbreaking would probably take place in the Fall of 1962 or the Spring of 1963, and that the building and program would be ready for the senior year of the Class of 1966, the present freshmen.

It was pointed out, however, that a definite schedule for construction and completion would be contingent on a successful fund-raising drive. Preliminary estimates of the cost of the building were between $1.5 and $2 million, which would not include endowment for the academic program planned for and with the building.

The report to be presented was drawn up by the Boards' Committee on the Future of the Senior Center Facilities and Program, and Dining Service. They met in Boston on January 10 with the faculty committee of the same name, the faculty subcommittee on Senior Center Facilities and Program, and the architects, Hugh Stubbins and Associates of Cambridge, Mass.

The faculty Committee on Plans for Future Dormitory and Dining Space consists of Athern P. Daggett, chairman, Herbert Ross, Brown, Jeffrey Carre, Paul Haselton, William S. Whiteside, President James S. Coles, and Dean Nathaniel Kendrick.

The faculty Subcommittee on Senior Center Facilities and Program consists of Mr. Whiteside, chairman, Mr. Brown, Mr. Carre, William D. Geoghegan, Carl Schmalz, and Burton Taylor.

Athletic Department Policy: The Anatomy Of A Mistake

The practice of college newspapers criticizing college coaches is an unpleasant but a venerable one. Its longevity is not its justification — but rather the principle of a free press and criticism (if it is warranted). Freedom of the press is a peculiarly American phenomenon; false criticism, however, can be very vindictive and very damaging. The short piece in last week's Orient was not false criticism, but perhaps it put the emphasis in the wrong place.

Mr. Watson was originally hired as an assistant football coach, and it was admitted that he needed to gain experience in hockey. Why, the Orient would like to know, did the College wait until it acquired a surplus of hockey players for the first time in many years to hire a football coach to coach hockey? If the Orient was mistaken in saying that Mr. Watson lacked drive, it was not mistaken in hinting that he lacked aptitude as a hockey coach. That Mr. Watson is a football coach first and perhaps something else second is apparent, no matter how many games his exceptional team wins this year. The Orient apologizes to Mr. Watson for making what some consider to be an attack on his person; what we do emphasize is that it was a mistake to hire him to recruit for the hockey team and then to coach it. While the fault for hiring the wrong man to coach hockey perhaps lies with the administration, while the coach himself may be an energetic person, and while the Orient may have been off base in making its criticism so personal, we repeat that Mr. Watson, through no fault of his own, should not have been hired to coach hockey. And most important of all, we reiterate and insist upon our right to express our opinion, so long as it is not slanderous or libelous, in print.

Incidentally, the Orient wishes to express its disapprobation of the way in which the Portland Press-Herald handled the events of last week. The accounts published therein were, we feel, unfair to the Orient and misleading in regard to the reported reactions of both the student body and the hockey team itself.

Geoghegan College Gets $4,000 In Chapel

President Coles announced last week that the College has been awarded $4,000 by the Dupont Company of Wilmington, Del. in its annual program of aid to education.

The grant, which includes $2,500 for chemistry teaching and $1,500 for other courses, is part of the Dupont Company's $84,700 program to support teaching in scientific and related fields.

He began his talk by citing several people from President Coles, who all stated that Bowdoin is basically a Christian College, which points out the traditional value of chapel. Also, he stated that chapel was important as a forum for discussing topics of general interest to various groups of students, as mentioned in last week's Orient. Since the requirements is not exhaustive, students have the opportunity to pick out those discussions of interest to them, and avoid the rest. This is (Please turn to page 4)

Kroloff Treats Honesty And Religion In Chapel

Postulating the question, "Can I be both religious and honest?" as the basis for achieving personal religious faith, Rabbi Chaim A. Kroloff spoke to assembled students in the Bowdoin Chapel, January 14.

Rabbi Kroloff spoke under the auspices of the Jewish Chautauque Society, which seeks through education to attain a better understanding of Judaism. A former national assistant of the B'nai B'rith Hill Institute and division chairman for the Jewish Welfare Fund, Rabbi Kroloff has maintained close contact with youth groups. He has lectured college classes in history, sociology and literature.

Having received his B.A. degree from Yale University, Rabbi Kroloff was awarded in 1950 his M.H.L. from Hebrew Union College, Jewish Institute of Religion.

Rabbi Kroloff first cited his concept of religious faith as exemplified by the Russian author, Leo Tolstoy. Examined under the microscope of the Russian Orthodox Church, Tolstoy stated that although his own faith might not have application for anyone else, until he discovered one more suitable it was the best for him.

The Rabbi then contrasted Tolstoy's determined faith by discussing the doubt and uncertainty about religion which maturity brings to a great many people. He spoke of a student who had realized that life often contradicts religious teachings. Realizing that evil often does flourish and that the righteous sometimes go unrewarded, this young man was left, only two choices concerning his faith. He could either give up his religious beliefs completely or disregard what he knew to be factual for blind faith.

Rabbi Kroloff went on to question, "Is our concept of faith truth or a mere acceptance?" He then established three prerequisites for a mature faith, the first being that a mature faith must be reasonable. Faith must not contradict man's reason; nor should it be identical to reason, but rather it must confront and be consistent to man's reason in order to gain spiritual insight.

Reformed Judaism, said the Rabbi, places more emphasis on natural law than on the miracles in Hebrew history. "Thus while doubting the credibility of the miraculous parting of the Red Sea, Reformed Jews accept the status of Moses from Egypt as the turning point in man's quest for freedom. 'Reasonable,' said Rabbi Kroloff, "deepens religious faith, for it is faith consistent with the facts of life. The second criterion established by the Rabbi was that mature faith must have a degree of inflexibility. He described a degree of uncertainty which doctors experience in diagnosing sickness. With maturity, stated Rabbi Kroloff, comes the realization that medical science does not have all the answers, yet people continue to trust in their doctors' diagnoses.

In the same manner, as we mature, it becomes apparent that religion answers few questions with certainty. "Why," asked Rabbi Kroloff, "must we give up our religious faith? He went on to state that faith has fallibility and that the search for truth must be undertaken in that context.

The third aspect of mature faith discussed by Rabbi Kroloff was courageous action. "We all want peace, but what do we do in its behalf?" He asked. He cited an example of action a California woman who donated a thousand dollars to the United Nations to help preserve world peace. Believing that the current interest in bomb shelters is diverting money and interest from the quest for peace, she donated the money saved for a family shelter. "Whether we agree with her method or not," said the Rabbi, "she had the courage of her faith and acted accordingly."

The Rabbi concluded that, in order to be religious and honest, one must have the determined conviction of Tolstoy, the fallible faith of a doctor, and the courageous faith that will result in action. Faith in religion will be meaningful only when one is familiar with a passage Rabbi Kroloff quoted from the Book of John: "Know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

Dr. Brault

In Orleans, Bordeaux, and La Rochelle, France. He has been the recipient of grants from the American Council of Learned Societies, the American Philosophical Society and the Danforth Foundation, as well as a research contract from the U. S. Office of Education. He was a Fulbright Fellow to Strasbourg, France in 1956-57. Dr. Brault is the author of twenty published and forthcoming articles in leading American and European scholarly journals and numerous articles in other periodicals. His critical edition of the first French translation (1527) of the Colloquia is scheduled for publication later this year by the Wayne State University Press. He is currently serving as Chairman of the French I (Medieval) Section and Secretary of the Comparative Literature III (Arthurian) Section of the Modern Language Association of America. He is also a member of the American Association of Teachers of French, the International Arthurian Society, and the Medieval Academy of America. Mr. Brault R. Nunn, instructor in French at the College, will serve as Assistant Director in the Franco-American Institute. He will also provide instruction in phonetics and supervise the work in the language laboratory. A member of the Bowdoin College faculty for the past three years, Mr. Nunn is a graduate of Rutgers University, holds a master of arts degree in French from Middlebury College, and is presently a candidate for the Ph.D. at Columbia University. He has resided a total of three years in France, one full year of this period as a graduate student at the Sorbonne and at the Institut de phonétique in Paris. Mr. Nunn is currently Assistant to the Director of the Aural-Oral Program at Bowdoin where he is also engaged in teaching French at the elementary and intermediate level. During the summer of 1961, he taught phonetics and supervised the language laboratory in the Franco-American Institute at the College. A happy coincidence resulted in the chance meeting of the future Director and Assistant Director of the Institute in Orleans, France, in 1962, where Mr. Nunn also happened to be serving with the U. S. Army Counterintelligence Corps.

On Saturday, January 27 at Winter Carnival Bates College will host Oscar Brand, humorist and folk-singer. He will present many of the songs and witticisms that have earned him a reputation for good, modern entertainment. The concert will be held in the Alumni Gymnasium from 3-5.

A semi-formal dance with music by the Barbary Coast orchestra will be held in the evening.

On Sunday afternoon Jack Washington will make a return engagement to Bates College with a concert of folk-music.

Tickets for the entire weekend may be obtained by writing to: Pixie Noelandt, Box 488, Bates College, Lewiston, Maine. Price: $2.75. Individual events will be separately priced for those who do not wish tickets for the entire weekend.

Interfraternity Debate Competition Under Way

Troubled by lack of student interest, the Interfraternity Debate competition has gotten off to a slow start this year. Although six debates have been scheduled thus far, only three have been held due to three fraternities' cancelling because they could not get a team organized.

On December 13, the Phi Delta and the Zetas argued the topic, Resolved: That the United States should observe a unilateral ban on atmospheric-nuclear testing. The debate was held in the Phi Delta and Zetas argued the topic, Resolved: That the United States should observe a unilateral ban on atmospheric-nuclear testing. The

New College Officer

Assumed duties as a Special Agent with the Counterintelligence Corps

Ducornet To Exhibit Paintings On Saturday

On Saturday, January 20, a one man show of the paintings of French teaching fellow Guy Ducornet will open at the McKeanie Gallery. About thirty paintings in gouache will be exhibited.

Ducornet, a native of Caen, has long been involved in the arts. Besides painting, he has made brief excursions into poetry and has played professional jazz since high school. He has exhibited in three group shows in Paris and has had four previous one man shows ago, a Bard College where he studied as a Fulbright Scholar two years ago, and three in France including one at the well known Galerie de Soledad in Paris in 1959.

The works to be exhibited represent a new period for Ducornet, a long surrealist. They are free and a more abstract, though they retain a strong sense of line. For the most part the new imagery is private and (analytical) Two pictures serve as the bases for poems.

Governor Dummer Academy Honors Dr. Dan Hanley As Outstanding Graduate

Dr. Daniel F. Hanley, Bowdoin College Physician and nationally known expert on athletic injuries, has been honored by Governor Dummer Academy as one of its most outstanding graduates.

"Dr. Hanley" who was graduated from the South Byfield, Mass., academy in 1935, was one of five alumni presented with distinguished service citations and Governor Dummer Awards.

A citation described Dr. Hanley as "the epitome of the scholar-athlete during his career at Governor Dummer" and said he "went on to pursue and to achieve high and intellectual excellence at Bowdoin College."

Dr. Hanley, who was graduated from Bowdoin in 1939, has been the College's Physician for 14 years. The Governor Dummer citation said "As an accomplished football and hockey player, he devoted the days of his maturity to the art of healing."

"Beloved College Physician at Bowdoin, physician for the Olympic track team, and for the American team which last year traveled to Russia and Poland, nationally known expert in the care and treatment of athletic injuries, he has developed and expanded the interests and attributes for which he is remembered at Governor Dummer."

Dr. Hanley, a native of Amesbury, Mass., is executive secretary of the Medical Association and a member of the staffs at hospitals in Brunswick, Bath and Portland.

Orient Lists Changes In Staff; Drigotas, Ryan Sports Editors

Orient Editor-in-Chief John W. Hesperus '63 has announced several changes in staff effective this week.

Jeha R. Martin '63 an economics major and a member of Sigma Nu fraternity, leaves the post of Assistant to the Editor that he has held for the past few months to take up the post of Managing Editor. Martin, general coordinator for the Orient staff, is replacing Alphonse J. Cavanaugh '64. Replacing Aaa P. Smith '63 as Sports Editor will be Frank M. Brignone, Jr. '64, a member of Zeta Psi, and S. Allen Ryan '64, a member of Chi Psi. Drigotas '64, who will be working together as Co-Sports Editor, are no strangers to Bowdoin athletic fans. In addition, Ryan served the last year as the freshman mascot reporter, and the two Sports Editors automatically become members of the Orient's Board of Editors, chaired by the Editor-in-Chief. Smith will write for the Feature Staff, his Assistant Sports Editor, Edgar C. Bailey '65, remains as a member of the Orient's Sports Staff.

Dr. Hanley

Orient Lists Changes In Staff; Drigotas, Ryan Sports Editors

Orient Editor-in-Chief John W. Hesperus '63 has announced several changes in staff effective this week.

Jeha R. Martin '63 an economics major and a member of Sigma Nu fraternity, leaves the post of Assistant to the Editor that he has held for the past few months to take up the post of Managing Editor. Martin, general coordinator for the Orient staff, is replacing Alphonse J. Cavanaugh '64. Replacing Aaa P. Smith '63 as Sports Editor will be Frank M. Brignone, Jr. '64, a member of Zeta Psi, and S. Allen Ryan '64, a member of Chi Psi. Drigotas '64, who will be working together as Co-Sports Editor, are no strangers to Bowdoin athletic fans. In addition, Ryan served the last year as the freshman mascot reporter, and the two Sports Editors automatically become members of the Orient's Board of Editors, chaired by the Editor-in-Chief. Smith will write for the Feature Staff, his Assistant Sports Editor, Edgar C. Bailey '65, remains as a member of the Orient's Sports Staff.

Orient Lists Changes In Staff; Drigotas, Ryan Sports Editors

Orient Editor-in-Chief John W. Hesperus '63 has announced several changes in staff effective this week.

Jeha R. Martin '63 an economics major and a member of Sigma Nu fraternity, leaves the post of Assistant to the Editor that he has held for the past few months to take up the post of Managing Editor. Martin, general coordinator for the Orient staff, is replacing Alphonse J. Cavanaugh '64. Replacing Aaa P. Smith '63 as Sports Editor will be Frank M. Brignone, Jr. '64, a member of Zeta Psi, and S. Allen Ryan '64, a member of Chi Psi. Drigotas '64, who will be working together as Co-Sports Editor, are no strangers to Bowdoin athletic fans. In addition, Ryan served the last year as the freshman mascot reporter, and the two Sports Editors automatically become members of the Orient's Board of Editors, chaired by the Editor-in-Chief. Smith will write for the Feature Staff, his Assistant Sports Editor, Edgar C. Bailey '65, remains as a member of the Orient's Sports Staff.

Orient Lists Changes In Staff; Drigotas, Ryan Sports Editors

Orient Editor-in-Chief John W. Hesperus '63 has announced several changes in staff effective this week.

Jeha R. Martin '63 an economics major and a member of Sigma Nu fraternity, leaves the post of Assistant to the Editor that he has held for the past few months to take up the post of Managing Editor. Martin, general coordinator for the Orient staff, is replacing Alphonse J. Cavanaugh '64. Replacing Aaa P. Smith '63 as Sports Editor will be Frank M. Brignone, Jr. '64, a member of Zeta Psi, and S. Allen Ryan '64, a member of Chi Psi. Drigotas '64, who will be working together as Co-Sports Editor, are no strangers to Bowdoin athletic fans. In addition, Ryan served the last year as the freshman mascot reporter, and the two Sports Editors automatically become members of the Orient's Board of Editors, chaired by the Editor-in-Chief. Smith will write for the Feature Staff, his Assistant Sports Editor, Edgar C. Bailey '65, remains as a member of the Orient's Sports Staff.

Orient Lists Changes In Staff; Drigotas, Ryan Sports Editors

Orient Editor-in-Chief John W. Hesperus '63 has announced several changes in staff effective this week.

Jeha R. Martin '63 an economics major and a member of Sigma Nu fraternity, leaves the post of Assistant to the Editor that he has held for the past few months to take up the post of Managing Editor. Martin, general coordinator for the Orient staff, is replacing Alphonse J. Cavanaugh '64. Replacing Aaa P. Smith '63 as Sports Editor will be Frank M. Brignone, Jr. '64, a member of Zeta Psi, and S. Allen Ryan '64, a member of Chi Psi. Drigotas '64, who will be working together as Co-Sports Editor, are no strangers to Bowdoin athletic fans. In addition, Ryan served the last year as the freshman mascot reporter, and the two Sports Editors automatically become members of the Orient's Board of Editors, chaired by the Editor-in-Chief. Smith will write for the Feature Staff, his Assistant Sports Editor, Edgar C. Bailey '65, remains as a member of the Orient's Sports Staff.

Orient Lists Changes In Staff; Drigotas, Ryan Sports Editors

Orient Editor-in-Chief John W. Hesperus '63 has announced several changes in staff effective this week.

Jeha R. Martin '63 an economics major and a member of Sigma Nu fraternity, leaves the post of Assistant to the Editor that he has held for the past few months to take up the post of Managing Editor. Martin, general coordinator for the Orient staff, is replacing Alphonse J. Cavanaugh '64. Replacing Aaa P. Smith '63 as Sports Editor will be Frank M. Brignone, Jr. '64, a member of Zeta Psi, and S. Allen Ryan '64, a member of Chi Psi. Drigotas '64, who will be working together as Co-Sports Editor, are no strangers to Bowdoin athletic fans. In addition, Ryan served the last year as the freshman mascot reporter, and the two Sports Editors automatically become members of the Orient's Board of Editors, chaired by the Editor-in-Chief. Smith will write for the Feature Staff, his Assistant Sports Editor, Edgar C. Bailey '65, remains as a member of the Orient's Sports Staff.

Orient Lists Changes In Staff; Drigotas, Ryan Sports Editors

Orient Editor-in-Chief John W. Hesperus '63 has announced several changes in staff effective this week.

Jeha R. Martin '63 an economics major and a member of Sigma Nu fraternity, leaves the post of Assistant to the Editor that he has held for the past few months to take up the post of Managing Editor. Martin, general coordinator for the Orient staff, is replacing Alphonse J. Cavanaugh '64. Replacing Aaa P. Smith '63 as Sports Editor will be Frank M. Brignone, Jr. '64, a member of Zeta Psi, and S. Allen Ryan '64, a member of Chi Psi. Drigotas '64, who will be working together as Co-Sports Editor, are no strangers to Bowdoin athletic fans. In addition, Ryan served the last year as the freshman mascot reporter, and the two Sports Editors automatically become members of the Orient's Board of Editors, chaired by the Editor-in-Chief. Smith will write for the Feature Staff, his Assistant Sports Editor, Edgar C. Bailey '65, remains as a member of the Orient's Sports Staff.

Orient Lists Changes In Staff; Drigotas, Ryan Sports Editors

Orient Editor-in-Chief John W. Hesperus '63 has announced several changes in staff effective this week.

Jeha R. Martin '63 an economics major and a member of Sigma Nu fraternity, leaves the post of Assistant to the Editor that he has held for the past few months to take up the post of Managing Editor. Martin, general coordinator for the Orient staff, is replacing Alphonse J. Cavanaugh '64. Replacing Aaa P. Smith '63 as Sports Editor will be Frank M. Brignone, Jr. '64, a member of Zeta Psi, and S. Allen Ryan '64, a member of Chi Psi. Drigotas '64, who will be working together as Co-Sports Editor, are no strangers to Bowdoin athletic fans. In addition, Ryan served the last year as the freshman mascot reporter, and the two Sports Editors automatically become members of the Orient's Board of Editors, chaired by the Editor-in-Chief. Smith will write for the Feature Staff, his Assistant Sports Editor, Edgar C. Bailey '65, remains as a member of the Orient's Sports Staff.

Orient Lists Changes In Staff; Drigotas, Ryan Sports Editors

Orient Editor-in-Chief John W. Hesperus '63 has announced several changes in staff effective this week.

Jeha R. Martin '63 an economics major and a member of Sigma Nu fraternity, leaves the post of Assistant to the Editor that he has held for the past few months to take up the post of Managing Editor. Martin, general coordinator for the Orient staff, is replacing Alphonse J. Cavanaugh '64. Replacing Aaa P. Smith '63 as Sports Editor will be Frank M. Brignone, Jr. '64, a member of Zeta Psi, and S. Allen Ryan '64, a member of Chi Psi. Drigotas '64, who will be working together as Co-Sports Editor, are no strangers to Bowdoin athletic fans. In addition, Ryan served the last year as the freshman mascot reporter, and the two Sports Editors automatically become members of the Orient's Board of Editors, chaired by the Editor-in-Chief. Smith will write for the Feature Staff, his Assistant Sports Editor, Edgar C. Bailey '65, remains as a member of the Orient's Sports Staff.

Professor Briggs Finds "Scattered Rewards" In

Since the reading of an undergraduate literary magazine is a performance more than a reading...

esses, and the preternaturally accommodating will of all the advertisements...

Of the verse in the magazine collected about the poles of obviousness and obscurity...

(Photo by Flagg) Professor Briggs

Tallman Fund Augmented; Dr. Myrvoll 28th Lecturer

Two daughters of the founder of the College's Tallman Lecture Fund have given more than $3,000 to the fund...

and, in addition, will give a series of campus lectures on economic subjects for the general public...

M&G Presents Comedy Tonight; 7:30 In Pickard

Tonight at 7:30 in Pickard Theater the Masque and Gown proudly presents "The Second Man"... also includes some pretty curves in the two female parts opposite them. Professor Quinby will direct...

Bowdoin, UNH To Trade Plays

Student actors of Bowdoin and the University of New Hampshire will trade performances in the first drama exchange of the Arts Exchange League...

Professor Quinby announced this as the latest offering in the share-art program...

Hugh Lord Assistant News Bureau Director At Cornell

Hugh C. Lord of Brunswick, former Maine newspaperman and Bowdoin College news writer, has been appointed assistant director of the News Bureau at Cornell University...

He was principal of Weymouth (Me.) High School in 1951-53 and then joined the faculty of Lee Academy in 1953...

Prof. Ryaarsdam, Ben-Porath to Speak

Prof. J. Coert Ryaarsdam of the University of Chicago will lecture at Bowdoin College Feb. 19...

Prof. Ben-Porath was born in Jerusalem in 1922. He served in the Israeli Army Command and was a member of a border kibbutz (communal farm) in the Negev...

He was a lieutenant colonel in the American Expeditionary Force during World War I...

Dr. Veirick Warns Against Extremists In Campus Talk

In a lecture delivered on January 18 Pulitzer Prize winner Peter Veirick, Professor of European History at Mount Holyoke College...

Dr. Veirick proposed that the United States should take a middle-of-the-road government against both Communist leftists and "McCarthy-style" rightists...

He said that the United States should not be a "superpower" but rather a "middle power"...

Goldberg, Lerner, Swan, And Valente To Debate

The College has announced that Mark E. Goldberg '63, of Auburn, Maine, and Jules M. Lerner '63 of Bangor, N. J., will compete against Peter C. Valente '63 of New York, N. Y., and Philip L. Swan '64 of Lawrence, Mass., in the finals of the annual Esdras Debate Contest...

Plays By Houtsman, Mack, And Rex To Compete In Contest

The Masque and Gown has announced that four plays have been selected for performance in its 27th annual student-written one-act play contest...

Possibility Of Duplicate Bridge Tournaments Seen

At long last a concerted movement is under way to end the multiple duplicate bridge tournaments on the campus...

Bowdoin, UNH To Trade Plays

Student actors of Bowdoin and the University of New Hampshire will trade performances in the first drama exchange of the Arts Exchange League...

Interview Schedule

The following firms and organizations will be sending recruiting representatives to the campus to interview seniors during the remainder of the month of February...

Career Conference To Be Held At Bowdoin March 5th

A career conference in which Bowdoin students will have face-to-face discussions with alumni who have made their mark in the business and professional worlds will take place at Bowdoin March 5...

Summer Jobs At Placement Bureau

The Placement Bureau has received notice of desirable summer opportunities for undergraduates in industry, recreation, and summer work...

Summer Jobs At Placement Bureau

The Placement Bureau has received notice of desirable summer opportunities for undergraduates in industry, recreation, and summer work...

Six Get Straight "A's"

Those who received all A's last semester are Geoffrey Chapman '64, David Clark '65, AD; Samuel Cushman '65, AD; Harvey Eastman '65, AD; David Walker '64, AD; and Ralph Violette '65, Delta Sig.

Many Gifts And Bequests Made To College Recently

In the last several weeks the College has received many donations, gifts, and bequests. Listed below are the important new additions to Bowdoin's endowment...

President Coles has announced that the Sherman N. Shumway Scholarship Fund has been increased to more than $7,000 through an additional gift of some $1,200 from Mrs. Agnes M. Shumway of Los Angeles, Calif., widow of the distinguished Bowdoin graduate for whom the fund is named...

He was a lieutenant colonel in the American Expeditionary Force during World War I. Mr. Shumway, who died in 1954, was active for many years in Bowdoin alumni affairs, serving on the College's Alumni Council and as an officer of the Alumni Fund...

President Coles has announced receipt of a $912 gift to the College from the Gulf Oil Corp. of Pittsburgh, Pa. In a letter to President Coles, Mr. M. G. Gulley, secretary of the corporation's Education Committee, said that the gift was evidence of Gulf's "continuing interest in the support and encouragement of higher education in the United States."

Yale's Professor Peyre Will Give Cole Lecture Thursday

Professor Henri Peyre of Yale University will deliver Bowdoin's annual Annie Talbot Cole Lecture. The lecture, to which the public is invited without charge, will be held in Pickard Theater, Memorial Hall, at 8:15 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 22. Professor Peyre's topic will be "American Education at the Crossroads."

Professor Peyre, a noted authority on European literature, has written several books and articles on both contemporary and historical writers. He has lectured frequently throughout the country on postwar conditions in France.

Summer Jobs At Placement Bureau

The Placement Bureau has received notice of desirable summer opportunities for undergraduates in industry, recreation, and summer work...

He has served as President of the Modern Language Association and as president of the American Association of Teachers of French. In 1955 the French government conferred upon him the rank of Officer in the French Legion of Honor. His most widely known book is "Men and Works of the Twentieth Century" (Paris, 1958).

Summer Jobs At Placement Bureau

The Placement Bureau has received notice of desirable summer opportunities for undergraduates in industry, recreation, and summer work...

He has served as President of the Modern Language Association and as president of the American Association of Teachers of French. In 1955 the French government conferred upon him the rank of Officer in the French Legion of Honor. His most widely known book is "Men and Works of the Twentieth Century" (Paris, 1958).

ORIENT FEATURES

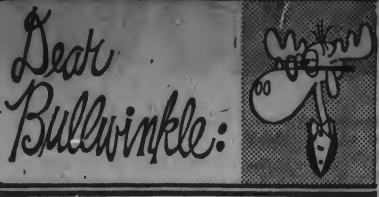

New Italian Film Labeled Equal Of "La Dolce Vita" By Orient Reviewer

by Hans Imhausen
"La Dolce Vita" is a fresco of society today and a merciless dissection of our generation.

cry for her to come, but she does not answer. They start searching the island, but she is nowhere to be found.

himself has led to further self-deterioration. The young artist almost starts a fight and sick with tension Sandro goes back to Claudia in their hotel room.

habit of self-escape and now he cannot resist it. Although Anna's disappearance never is explained you feel that she has come to understand Sandro and this revelation is the cause of her escape.

Dear Bullwinkle:
The 18-year-old girl that sits behind me in class keeps writing me love notes and I have to be interested in her at all. What can I do to discourage her?

Dear Caroline K.
I don't know but if they are wanted by the police, you should do everything in your power to get them to turn themselves in.

Dear Bullwinkle:
Last night I dreamed that I was walking down the street holding President Kennedy in a baby blanket, with a pressure-cooker on my head, a pair of hip boots with those bunny-ears on the top, a banner with "God Bless America" on it in my right hand, and roller skates on my elbows. What do you interpret this to mean?

Clarey Gets Scholarship
A College graduate has been awarded an American Machine & Foundry Co. Scholarship by the Ames Truck School of Business Administration at Dartmouth College in Hanover, N. H.

Patronize Our Advertisers
CUMBERLAND THEATER
Brunswick, Maine
Febr. 15-17 DAVID AND GOLIATH

Book Reviewer Praises New Work: "Jason"

by Wayne Babineau
Almost everyone knows a little about the legendary search for the Golden Fleece. Merit mention of the word "Argo" conjures up visions of a mighty vessel-manned by a crew of invincible heroes; all the greats of Greek mythology joined under Jason, that bold and clever captain.

According to the author, a pair of Spartan fighters. The first part of the novel is concerned with Diomedes' early life among the horses. Here he first learns upon the golden practices of the female worshippers of Hera, the Earth Mother, Diomedes was told who his mother was and given weapons by her. These weapons were supplied so that he could one day claim the kingdom that was rightfully his.

Jason finally got underway with his motley collection of crewmen. Included was Atalanta, a priestess of Hera, whose conduct hadly befitted a priestess. Jason and his crew set sail for Colchis. The trip was hardy uneventful, but then any two-year trip is found to include something exciting. Betsy, Jason's saved from death by Hercules, had a running battle with some Monogols (which lasted a few months).

After many such happenings, Jason and Atalanta are strong. I like to lift things. I like 1000 pound weights. I lift pianos all alone. Mommie says that this makes me the strongest man in the world. What do you say it makes me?

Dear Bullwinkle:
I can lift anything I am strong. I like to lift things. I like 1000 pound weights. I lift pianos all alone. Mommie says that this makes me the strongest man in the world. What do you say it makes me?

Granite Farm DAIRY
For All Your Dairy Product Needs
Brunswick, Maine
Dial PA 9-3422

KING'S BARBER SHOP
NEXT TO CAMPUS
Bowdoin's Favorite Barbers
SIX - BARBERS - SIX
The Arts Center
NEW PICTURES
ALL PHONOGRAPH RECORDS AT DISCOUNT PRICES
JAZZ - CLASSICAL - FOLK - POPULAR

FOR THE BEST IN CHOICE
TABLE-RITE STEER BEEF
GROCERIES - FRUIT AND VEGETABLES
SHOP AT
LIVERNOIS'IGA
51 HARPSWELL STREET DIAL PA 5-7122
SMALL'S
ESSO SERVICENTER
WE SPECIALIZE IN
Engine Tune-Up and Wheel Alignment
BATH ROAD PA 9-3740

Kennebec Fruit Co.
Newspapers - Magazines
Cigarettes - Pipes - Tobacco
Ice Cold Beverages
OPEN SEVEN DAYS A WEEK
142 MAINE STREET
PICK THE RIGHT ONE...
THE BRACING BRIGHT ONE!
PEPSI-COLA
Auburn-Portland, Maine

Dear Yel Dear Yel
MERT YOUR FRIENDS AT The Show House
Maine's Finest Historic Inn
Maine State Tea Room
65 FEDERAL STREET
BRUNSWICK, MAINE

STUDENT PATRONAGE WELCOMED
FIRST NATIONAL BANK
Brunswick, Maine
Member of the Federal Reserve System and of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

The HOTEL EAGLE
DINING ROOM
EAGLE'S NEST LOUNGE
Comfortable Accommodations
PRIVATE DINING ROOM AVAILABLE FOR PARTIES
CALL PA 5-5591

Benoit's MANSFIELD CLIPPERS
You don't step into Mansfield Clippers. You "sink into" them - into foam soles that cushion your feet. So light - Clippers can float on water. You get steel shank support - and true glove leather comfort.
$12.95
A. H. BENOIT & CO.
Brunswick Maine

THE BOWDOIN COLLEGE WEEKLY IN THE UNITED STATES

Emotional Conference Uproils Students Last Season's Rule Processes for a Wins 1961 Glenn, Caution Student Demonstrators

Five Presidents Reaffirm Stand

The annual meeting of the Pentagonal Conference met on the Bowdoin campus from Wednesday, Feb. 14 to Friday, Feb. 16. President James S. Cole and Bowdoin College hosted the presidents of the other four colleges composing the Pentagonal Conference.

Representatives of the colleges of the Pentagonal Conference meet annually in February to discuss various problems common to the five institutions. The annual meeting is primarily for the exchange of ideas and information. No group action or resolutions are.

SU Lists Bridge Tourneys

The Student Union Committee has announced a series of duplicate contract bridge tournaments for the Bowdoin students, faculty, and staff members.

Prof's, Seniors Change Seats?

In a chapel talk Thursday, February 24 Professor Thomas A. Riley of the German Department spoke on "Daily Chapel: A Defense."

Meddies Appear At Cambridge Concert, On TV Yesterday

The Bowdoin College Meddie-tempers recently appeared in two widely-publicized concerts. On Feb. 23, they were one of seven New England singing groups who presented "An Evening of College Double Quartets" in Cambridge, Mass.

Old Mitchell House Given To Bowdoin

A home at the edge of the campus that has had unknown ties with the Bowdoin name since 1824, when the residence was built by two faculty members, has been given to the College by William B. Hilditch, Jr., of Little River, Maine.

Bowdoin Students Addressed By Butterfield And Plimpton

President Victor L. Butterfield of Wesleyan University was the speaker at Chapel on Thursday, February 15. Dr. Plimpton discussed discrimination on college campuses and its effects on the individual and the nation.

Wesleyan's Butterfield

Dr. Plimpton discussed discrimination on college campuses and its effects on the individual and the nation. He pointed out the different types of discrimination which exist today in various organizations.

Amherst's Plimpton

Professor Beare out-manuevers Red Historians in Pakistan Battle. A Bowdoin College professor on leave says he has out-manuevered Soviet and Red Chinese historians in an academic version of a cold-war skirmish in Pakistan.

Stowaway' Judged Best First Novel By Literary Jury

"Stowaway," a dramatic sea novel written by Professor Lawrence Gertgen Hall, was unanimously selected by a three-member jury last Saturday as the winner of the 1961 William Faulkner Award.

Instructors For '62 Institute Announced

Lecturers of the first rank from some of the nation's foremost colleges and universities will staff five concurrent Summer Institutes at Bowdoin this year.

Cites Astronaut In Chapel Talk

President Cole says the epic space voyage of astronaut John Glenn "emphasizes and demonstrates the importance of the individual" in a world whose problems sometimes breed frustration.

Bowdoin's "Bachelors" List Three Additions To Group

Newly selected members of the Bowdoin Bachelors singing group are from left to right: Dick Cunningham, Delta Sigma; Bill Thawing '64, Phi Upsilon; and Dick Fontaine '64, Delta Sigma.

Interview Schedule Announced

The following firms and organizations will visit the campus during the month of March. March 1 - Parsons Corp., Lincoln, Mass.

Stowaway' Judged Best First Novel By Literary Jury

"Stowaway," a dramatic sea novel written by Professor Lawrence Gertgen Hall, was unanimously selected by a three-member jury last Saturday as the winner of the 1961 William Faulkner Award.

Instructors For '62 Institute Announced

Lecturers of the first rank from some of the nation's foremost colleges and universities will staff five concurrent Summer Institutes at Bowdoin this year.

Cites Astronaut In Chapel Talk

President Cole says the epic space voyage of astronaut John Glenn "emphasizes and demonstrates the importance of the individual" in a world whose problems sometimes breed frustration.

Bowdoin's "Bachelors" List Three Additions To Group

Newly selected members of the Bowdoin Bachelors singing group are from left to right: Dick Cunningham, Delta Sigma; Bill Thawing '64, Phi Upsilon; and Dick Fontaine '64, Delta Sigma.

Junior Year in New York
An unusual one-year college program.

Write for brochure to:
New York University
Junior Year Program
New York University
New York 2, N. Y.

OPERA HOUSE
Bath, Maine

Wed.-Thurs. 8:30

FREE! Get your single Myrtle Blank to see the movie thrill of THRILL.

A BROADWAY PRODUCTION A BROADWAY THEATRE PRODUCTION presented and directed by JOHN WATSON. (Reviewed in BOWDOIN ORIENT)

and
"BLUERKARD'S 19 MONEYMOONS"
Fri.-Sat. 3:00, 6:30
"JOURNEY TO THE 11TH PLANET"
- and -
"ALAKAZAM"
Sunday, March 4 2, 7, 9
"THE INNOCENTS"

White Mountain Oil Co.
NORTH CONWAY, NEW HAMPSHIRE
Complete Heating and Appliance Service For
The Eastern Central New Hampshire Area

KING'S BARBER SHOP
NEXT TO CAMPUS
Bowdoin's Favorite Barbers
SIX — BARBERS — SIX

PICK THE RIGHT ONE . . .
THE BRACING BRIGHT ONE!

Auburn-Portland, Maine

New Meadows Inn
Bath Road HI 3-3921

Hotel Sedgwick
Bath, Maine HI 3-3361

The Best in Foods, Lodging, and Cocktail Lounges

MOULTON UNION BOOKSTORE

PICTURE FRAME $2.95
ADDRESS BOOK 1.50
PHOTOGRAPH ALBUM 3.50
BOOK ENDS 2.75
LETTER BOX 1.50
PENCIL BOX 1.00

PORTER - SHAW, INC.
YOUR NEW FORD DEALER

157 Pleasant St. PA 5-5555 Brunswick

SERVICE SPECIALS

Fordomatic Transmission — Adjust & Inspect $700
Front End — Aligned & Balanced $10⁹⁵

The Arts Center
NEW POLICY
ALL PHONOGRAPH RECORDS at DISCOUNT PRICES
JAZZ — CLASSICAL — FOLK — POPULAR

See our complete selection of Travel Posters and Fine Art Reproductions at $1.00

Parkview Cleaners
and Parkview Laundercenter
"The Home Of Better Cleaning"

3 HOUR SERVICE AT THE CLEANERS

No worry about lost clothing at the laundercenter when you do it yourself.

OPEN 24 HOURS A DAY

The HOTEL EAGLE
DINING ROOM
EAGLE'S NEST LOUNGE
Comfortable Accommodations
PRIVATE DINING ROOM AVAILABLE FOR PARTIES
CALL PA 5-5591

Vaillancourt Bros. Body Shop
PAINTING — SIMONIZING — WELDING

Free Estimates All Work Guaranteed

We repair foreign as well as American cars

39 JORDAN AVENUE DIAL PA 5-7908

Let us help you plan your printing as well as produce it . . .
Our long experience in producing the following and other kinds of printing for Bowdoin men can show you short cuts in time and save you money.

TICKETS • POSTERS • STATIONERY
ALUMNI LETTERS • FRATERNITY FORMS

THE RECORD OFFICE
Paul K. Niven Stuart Sabean
Printers Of The Orient

Hear Ye! Hear Ye!
MEET YOUR FRIENDS AT
The Stone House
Maine's Finest Historic Inn
Main Spur Tap Room
63 FEDERAL STREET
BRUNSWICK, MAINE

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES
SALUTE: DON McCAHAN

When a new telephone building goes up in his area, Don McCahan will be found right in the center of activity. It's Don's responsibility to work closely with the architects in developing blueprints, also to follow up to be sure construction meets specifications. A lot of responsibility for a young engineer just two years out of college, but a lot of satisfaction, too. Because Don knows that his contributions lead to better telephone service for his community.

Don McCahan of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, and the other young engineers like him in Bell Telephone Companies throughout the country, help make your communications service the finest in the world.

TELEPHONE MAN-OF-THE MONTH

BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES

For College

JUNIORS

Interested In Exploring MANAGEMENT

HOME LIFE'S 10 WEEK
SUMMER INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

Junior men who are Liberal Arts majors and interested in a future BUSINESS CAREER will be interviewed. Specific major not important, but a good academic record is essential.

— also —

Sophomores or Juniors who are interested in a possible ACTUARIAL CAREER — mathematics major required, B average.

Both programs are conducted in our home office in New York City. They are designed to give you a first-hand look at business through work assignments and interviews with Home Life's top management officers. They represent a challenging investment of your time at a good salary and an excellent opportunity to appraise business management as a future career.

If you feel that you can qualify, inquire about these programs at your Placement Office.

We will be interviewing on your campus shortly.

Home Life Insurance Company
253 Broadway, New York 8, N. Y.

Professor Thayer Takes Part In College Receives Almost $9,000 From NSF Grant

Colleges Today Teach Facts, But Not "Dedication"—Coles

Next Tuesday morning Professor Albert R. Thayer will rise at 5:45 a. m., eat a hurried breakfast, and get into his automobile.

The professor will drive for two hours and at 8:30 a. m., he'll start his day's classes at Kennett High School in Conway, N. H.

Professor Thayer, Harrison King McClain Professor of Oral Communication in the English Department, leaves the Brunswick campus every Tuesday to take part in a unique educational experiment in neighboring New Hampshire.

Bowdoin is cooperating with the high school in a pilot project designed to improve the English instruction of college-bound secondary school students.

Professor Thayer works with three Kennett High School classes—sophomores, juniors and seniors. He meets frequently with members of the high school staff, and occasionally with representatives of the New Hampshire Department of Education, and visiting instructors.

What is he trying to do?

"Make it easier for these high school students to handle English courses when they come to college," says Professor Thayer.

What method does he use?

"I'm trying to stress the satisfaction of communication, the pleasure of getting what is in your own mind into the mind of the other fellow."

Professor Thayer, whose vast teaching background includes some 20 years of secondary school English and writing courses, says youngsters should be taught to enjoy writing.

"Too many people," he says "have been driven away from writing by hard-boiled, unsympathetic criticism. Too often students have felt that heavy emphasis on the teaching of mechanics was an end in itself. At the same time, modern every Tuesday evening. When he returns to New Hampshire the following week, stapled to every paper is a typed critique which includes an exhaustive analysis of the student's work.

portunity," says the professor, "and everyone is cooperating magnificently. I believe that the approach and some of the techniques we are developing could be used even in pre-high school classes."

The program is flexible and, says Professor Thayer, "when a need arises, we move in on it."

For example, some Kennett High students were found to be having trouble taking notes properly. Professor Thayer immediately devoted a lecture and drills to note-taking techniques.

The regular high school teachers work closely with Professor Thayer in a "team teaching pattern" and continue his program during the rest of the week when the busy professor is teaching his college students at Bowdoin.

One of the recent assignments given to a high school class was to write argumentative papers defending the students' literary judgments. The high school teacher read the papers from the point of view of content, while Professor Thayer concentrated on writing techniques.

The program is being supported by the building's Porter Charitable Trusts through the New Hampshire Committee for the Improvement of Instruction in English.

"Outside of our genuine interest in education at all levels," says Professor Thayer, "we in the colleges are in an exceedingly vulnerable position for criticizing secondary education if we will not get our shoulders to the wheel and offer all the assistance we can."

Professor Thayer in Action youngsters are willing to learn under challenging disciplines."

The 25 students in each of Professor Thayer's three high school classes don't lack for criticism, however. The professor brings class papers back to Brunswick with him

The unusual program, which began in mid-January, has already drawn enthusiastic responses from the high school staff and, perhaps more importantly, from the students themselves.

"I think it's a stimulating opportunity," says the professor, "and everyone is cooperating magnificently. I believe that the approach and some of the techniques we are developing could be used even in pre-high school classes."

A $9,000 grant from the National Science Foundation will enable up to three undergraduates to press independent investigations into physical phenomena this summer, President Coles announced recently.

The program, to begin June 1 and continue for 10 weeks, will be under the direction of Dr. Myron A. Jeppesen, Professor of Physics. Students who will participate will be chosen from among the most gifted in the physics field, he said.

Dr. Jeppesen said that the object of the program is to give the undergraduates experience in independent study and research in physical phenomena. Students will do research on selected publications and original abstracts in the Bowdoin library and carry out experiments in the physics laboratory under Dr. Jeppesen's supervision.

Their work will be centered on the study of optical, electrical and magnetic properties of thin evaporated films such as created by deposits of metals and compounds on various substances under vacuum.

Fundamental theory, rather than practical application, will be emphasized, Dr. Jeppesen said.

Dr. Reinhard L. Korgen, internationally known Bowdoin mathematics professor and consultant, will direct a National Science Foundation program in mathematics this summer for three outstanding Bowdoin students.

The program has also been made possible by an NSF grant to the College, President Coles stated.

The new program based on a $5,400 grant, will be an addition to Dr. Korgen's busy summer schedule.

which includes direction of a special master's degree program for high school teachers of mathematics who take Bowdoin Summer Institute courses in mathematics under NSF sponsorship.

aim of the new project, according to Dr. Korgen, is to develop independent scholarship of the participants, who will be chosen on the basis of their talents for mathematical studies.

Grants such as those of the NSF, said Dr. Korgen, "help give an early start in independent research to college students who otherwise might be forced to find jobs that keep their attention away from the fields of their choice."

This, he said, "would be particularly wasteful in the case of gifted young men."

The President of the College said that American colleges transmit facts and develop student skills superbly but "seem to miss the mark completely" in bringing students "a sense of dedication."

In an address prepared for a Washington's Birthday Corporate Communion Breakfast at St. Mark's Episcopal Church in Waterville, Dr. Coles said:

"Perhaps this lack of dedication, this easy tolerance of amoral or immoral situations we know fundamentally to be wrong is the result of our success—our material success, and our success in preserving for ourselves in the United States the strongest of democratic freedoms."

"But somehow or other we should have novelists and playwrights more representative of our society and who might realize that it is possible to go not only several hours, but several days, and probably in most cases several years through life in a drawing room or family living room without uttering a single four-letter word."

"We should have creative talent that can produce prize-winning movies involving attributes other than crime, passion and depravity. Some would say that this represents a failure of our churches and our goal," said President Coles.

"But regardless of a man's knowledge and skill and the kindness of fate, unless he is dedicated to some goal and heading along a sure course, he accomplishes nothing, and may well leave life from the same point at which he entered it, having made no port nor leaving any accomplishments."

"Too few are those who do have the necessary energies and skills and also the dedication and commitment which we must have as a people to achieve a greater goal," said President Coles.

New Photographer Hired by College

Paul M. Downing, Brunswick, has begun full-time duties as a photographer assigned to the College News Service.

Mr. Downing will also handle some of the photographic needs of other Bowdoin departments.

A reporter-photographer for The Brunswick Record for the past 10 years, he has been doing part-time photographic work for the College since last September.

He is a member of the Brunswick Finance Committee and a deputy director of Civil Defense.

Mr. Downing is a native of Auburn.

Beam Announces 3 New Paintings

Three oil paintings including "The Pond," a landscape by Corot—one of the great French pre-impressionists—have been given to the College. It was announced recently by Professor Beam, Director of the Walker Art Museum.

The gift, from Bowdoin Trustee John H. Halford, Class of 1907, and Mrs. Halford also included "Portrait of an Unknown Lady" by Sully and "Farmyard Fowl," attributed to Melchior Hondedecker.

The Corot work is a lyric representation of foggy gardens.

Dr. Beam said the three paintings are temporarily on racks in the humidified storage room. They will be placed on public display in the near future.

Another gift of seven oils by Anson Cross, well-known Boothbay Harbor artist and painter of the Maine scene who died in 1946 is now in the art museum. Dr. Beam said.

The Cross works, presented by the painter's widow, Mrs. Anson K. Cross of Boothbay Harbor, are titled "Beach Scene," "East Boothbay," "Ashland," "Boothbay Harbor," "Across Boothbay Harbor," "November," and "Harpswell Shore."

Mr. Halford is retired Vice President of James Lees & Sons Company in Norristown.

He was elected to Bowdoin's Board of Trustees in 1963 after serving as a member of the Board of Overseers for five years, and is now Chairman of the Committee on Art Interests at Bowdoin.

Medical Fund Grants Listed

President Coles announced last week that 30 medical school students have been awarded a total of $8,875 in graduate medical scholarships from the Garcelon and Merritt Funds.

In the past 40 years some $300,000 has been granted from the fund to more than 800 men who now practice medicine throughout the United States.

The fund was established in memory of Dr. Seward Garcelon and Dr. Samuel Merritt, both 19th Century graduates of the former Maine Medical School at Bowdoin College.

Mr. Wilder, Assistant to the President and Director of Student Aid at Bowdoin, said a faculty subcommittee approved awards this year to students at 12 medical schools.

Twenty-two of the recipients are graduates of Bowdoin. Other educational institutions represented on the list include University of Maine, Colby, Bates and St. Francis Xavier University.

The recipients came from Maine, Massachusetts, New York, Rhode Island, New Hampshire, Ohio and Hungary.

Dr. Merritt was a native of Harpswell, Maine.

Training Session For Model State Legislature Held Here

A Southern Maine training session for the HI-Y Tri-Hi-Y Model State Legislature was held at the College Feb. 24.

The session, one of three covering the state, took place in Smith Auditorium, in preparation for the Model Legislature itself scheduled for April 14 and 15 in the State Capitol at Augusta. About 100 youths from the southern counties of Maine attended the event.

Among state legislators who participated in the project sponsored by the State YMCA of Maine were the Hon. Vinal Good of East Sebago, Speaker of the House in the 100th Legislature; Rep. Charles Lowery of Brunswick; Rep. Cleveland P. Curtis of Bowdoinham; and Rep. T. Tarry Schullen of Woolwich.

The morning session was presided over by John Clark of Gardiner. It included a talk, "State Government and the Legislative Process," by Rep. Schullen.

After announcements by Robert J. Coe, associate state secretary of the YMCA, there were committee hearings on education, natural resources, state government and transportation.

These hearings were advised, respectively, by Rep. Curtis, Rep. Lowery, Mr. Orville T. Ranger and Rep. Schullen.

Mr. Steven Boutelle of Camden presided over the afternoon session, in which there was elected the youthful Governor, Assistant Clerk of the House, Chaplain of the Senate, Page of the House and Page of the Senate.

KING'S BARBER SHOP
NEXT TO CAMPUS
Bowdoin's Favorite Barbers
SIX — BARBERS — SIX

PICK THE RIGHT ONE . . .
THE BRACING BRIGHT ONE!

PEPSI-COLA
Auburn-Portland, Maine

FOR THE BEST IN CHOICE

TABLE-RITE STEER BEEF
GROCERIES — FRUIT AND VEGETABLES
SHOP AT LIVERNOS' IGA
51 HARPSWELL STREET DIAL PA 5-7122

Library Given $50

The Brunswick Area Coin and Stamp Club presented the College with a $50 gift to be used for the purchase of books on philately and numismatics. Club President William E. Elms announced.

Mr. Richard B. Harwell, Bowdoin's Librarian, accepted the gift for the College at a club meeting in Bowdoin's Adams Hall Feb. 22.

Mr. Elms, president of the Maine State Numismatic Association and a member of the American Numismatic Association, said the gift is in appreciation of Bowdoin's encouragement and cooperation in the club's activities and growth.

On being informed of the gift, Mr. Harwell expressed the College's gratitude to the club and noted that the money will be used to expand the library's collection of works on coins and stamps.

The meeting included, in addition to the presentation of the gift, a lecture on ancient Roman and Greek coins by Dr. Kevin Herbert, Assistant Professor of Classics.

Benoit's

120 Maine Street Brunswick

Parkview Cleaners and Parkview Laundercenter

"The Home Of Better Cleaning"

3 HOUR SERVICE AT THE CLEANERS

No worry about lost clothing at the laundercenter when you do it yourself.

OPEN 24 HOURS A DAY

Girl Watcher's Guide
Presented by Pall Mall Famous Cigarettes

The rudge is permitted when a beautiful girl is sighted in an unusual place or at an unusual time.

LESSON 3 - Concerning self-control

Although we believe that girl watching has it all over bird watching, we feel that these two hobbies do share one important characteristic. They are both gentle. They both respect the rights of the watched. A girl watcher who asks a beautiful stranger for her name and phone number is like a bird watcher who steals eggs. (If the stranger happens to have a pack of Pall Mall Famous Cigarettes, and you're dying for a good, natural smoke, you may break this rule.) Normally, the girl watcher's pleasure is warm, quiet and internal. However, there are cases when a discovery is so dazzling it must be shared. Such a case is illustrated above.

WHY BE AN AMATEUR? JOIN THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF GIRL WATCHERS NOW!

FREE MEMBERSHIP CARD. Visit the editorial office of this publication for a free membership card in the world's only society devoted to discreet, but relentless, girl watching. Constitution of the society on reverse side of card.

This ad based on the book, "The Girl Watcher's Guide," First Copyrighted by Donald J. Reiser. Drawings Copyright by Eldon Devlin. Reprinted by permission of Harper & Brothers.

Member of the Federal Reserve System and Member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

The Arts Center
NEW POLICY
ALL PHONOGRAPH RECORDS at DISCOUNT PRICES
JAZZ — CLASSICAL — FOLK — POPULAR

See our complete selection of Travel Posters and Fine Art Reproductions at $1.00

Vaillancourt Bros. Body Shop
PAINTING — SIMONIZING — WELDING

Free Estimates All Work Guaranteed

We repair foreign as well as American cars
39 JORDAN AVENUE DIAL PA 5-7906

Meet Your Friends At
The Stove House
Maine's Finest Historic Inn
Main Street Top Bowdoin
BOWDOIN, MAINE

The HOTEL EAGLE
DINING ROOM
EAGLE'S NEST LOUNGE

Comfortable Accommodations
PRIVATE DINING ROOM AVAILABLE FOR PARTIES

CALL PA 5-7001

STUDENT PATRONAGE WELCOMED

FIRST NATIONAL BANK
Brunswick, Maine

Member of the Federal Reserve System and Member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

Benoit's
120 Maine Street Brunswick

Benoit's
120 Maine Street Brunswick

Girl Watcher's Guide
Presented by Pall Mall Famous Cigarettes

The rudge is permitted when a beautiful girl is sighted in an unusual place or at an unusual time.

LESSON 3 - Concerning self-control

Although we believe that girl watching has it all over bird watching, we feel that these two hobbies do share one important characteristic. They are both gentle. They both respect the rights of the watched. A girl watcher who asks a beautiful stranger for her name and phone number is like a bird watcher who steals eggs. (If the stranger happens to have a pack of Pall Mall Famous Cigarettes, and you're dying for a good, natural smoke, you may break this rule.) Normally, the girl watcher's pleasure is warm, quiet and internal. However, there are cases when a discovery is so dazzling it must be shared. Such a case is illustrated above.

WHY BE AN AMATEUR? JOIN THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF GIRL WATCHERS NOW!

FREE MEMBERSHIP CARD. Visit the editorial office of this publication for a free membership card in the world's only society devoted to discreet, but relentless, girl watching. Constitution of the society on reverse side of card.

This ad based on the book, "The Girl Watcher's Guide," First Copyrighted by Donald J. Reiser. Drawings Copyright by Eldon Devlin. Reprinted by permission of Harper & Brothers.

Member of the Federal Reserve System and Member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

Journeymen To Rig Old Camps Chest Weekend U. S. Institute of Soviet Whiteside Home Director of New Senior Commons Music, Gambling Hope To Bring In Charity Money K. Herbert Reds To Be Studied Well Before May Day Alumni Council Has Meetings, Conducts Career Conference Professor Was Also Active In Organizing The Commons

Music, Gambling Hope To Bring In Charity Money

The Journeymen

In keeping with the Lenten Season, Bowdoin is anticipating its traditional dry weekend, Campus Chest. In the sobriety of generous giving for others, students join forces to abolish fear, hunger and disease in the world in their annual version of the United Fund drive. Although a few misguided members of the Campus Chest Committee are preparing for what they call "the biggest weekend of the year," their belief that other students have some desire for revelry in this slush-covered corner of the country is entirely unfounded. What Pete Hepburn describes as "the most spectacular musical highlight to hit the Bowdoin Campus in years" is only a jazz concert in Pickard Theater, featuring three groups from Herb Pomery's Berkeley School (mere professionals). However, it is common knowledge that the apathetic students of conservative Bowdoin don't understand, like or support Progressive, Modern or any other kind of jazz. It is hoped that the hundreds of students in Hubbard Hall pursuing convalescence will not be disturbed by the weird noise escaping from the theater.

The Journeymen, who were forced to hire their own band for a rapid succession of concerts and television appearances in the United States and Canada, a tour of the nation's colleges, and an engagement at San Francisco's "hungry 13" are being forced upon the college community by the Campus Chest Committee in conjunction with the Student Union Committee. These two radical groups have mistaken ideas that folk music and traditional satire would be welcome on campus. The students will probably continue the policy which proved so economical in past years. The sleazebag and splittin' the expenses of twelve fraternity representatives who would be willing to waste two study hours so that his fellow students might learn what they missed. Besides, one can always hear the same thing on the Journeymen's albums and forty-fives.

The musical weekend is completed by a performance of the Bowdoin and Pembroke combined Oise Clubs on Saturday evening at 7:30. We hope that not too many men will be dismayed at the necessity of hearing girls sing that they will fail to support Bowdoin's own excellent Oise Club. It is rumored that the Pembroke girls (who are remaining until Sunday) actually want dates. If this nasty rumor has val-

K. Herbert Reds To Be Studied Well Before May Day

Dr. Kevin Herbert, a member of the College faculty for seven years, has accepted an associate professorship at Washington University of St. Louis. In addition to courses in Greek, Latin and archaeology, he will teach Medieval Latin literature to graduate students of English and the European language. Among his colleagues at Washington will be Professor George Mylonas, ranking excavator of sites on the Greek mainland and author of works on Mycenae and Eleusis. Professor Herbert, who will leave Bowdoin at the end of the current semester, holds a B.A. degree from Loyola University of Chicago, and his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Harvard. He is the author of two monographs, ten articles and numerous reviews. His recently completed catalogue of 1,230 pieces of classical and ancient art in Bowdoin's Walker Art Museum will be published by the Harvard University Press. He is now preparing an annotated catalogue of Greek and Latin inscriptions in the museum and private collections of North America, a project supported by

(Turn to page 4)

Alumni Council Has Meetings, Conducts Career Conference

More than 60 Bowdoin College alumni from all corners of the nation returned to the Campus Center for the 1962 mid-winter meeting of the Bowdoin Alumni Council. Three days of committee meetings, panel discussions, and business sessions were followed by a unique Campus Career Conference Monday, March 5, and a special Alumni Council dinner for Bowdoin's graduating class that evening. The Council's business sessions were presided over by its President, Mr. Frederick P. Perkins '55 of Hartford, Conn. Other Council officers included Vice President, Dr. Ralph T. Odgen '51, also of Hartford; Secretary, Mr. Peter C. Odgen '50, of Brunswick; and Treasurer, Mr. Glenn R. McIntire '55, also of Brunswick. As part of this 17th annual meeting of the Council, one graduates held a panel discussion on student life and student attitudes, on March 3. Following the discussion, President Odgen delivered a few informal remarks to Alumni Council members and their wives. Moderating the discussion was William H. Morse, Jr. '52, of Concord, N.H., chairman of the Council's Alumni-Undergraduate Liaison Committee. The panel included Gerald E. Colett '52; Francis J. Manning '52; Wayne T. Adams '52; John F. Mills, Jr. '53; H. Allen Ryan '54; and Y. Fitzhugh Hardcastle III '55. On Monday, March 5, the much-heralded Campus Career Conference took place with an overwhelming amount of success. The turnout at the conference far exceeded the expectations of those planning the event; and those in attendance agreed that the conference was an interesting and informative affair. Sponsored by the Council in cooperation with Bowdoin's Placement Bureau, the conference gave graduates a stimulating opportunity to discuss their future.

Professor Was Also Active In Organizing The Commons

President Coles has announced the appointment of Professor William B. Whiteside as Director of Bowdoin's new Senior Center program. Professor Whiteside, a member of the History Department since 1953, will serve as resident head of the unique Center, which will give Bowdoin seniors an opportunity to live and work together in an atmosphere of common interest. The Center, plans for which are nearing completion, will also make possible an increase of some 100 in Bowdoin's current enrollment of about 800, as authorized by the College's Governing Board. The Senior Center program, which will involve new courses and other curriculum changes, was described by President Coles as "an exciting new prospect and one which could well make Bowdoin stand out among the better colleges and universities in the opportunity to offer its students for achieving to the fullest extent their individual potential for development." President Coles announced the appointment of Professor Whiteside at a meeting of the Alumni Council. Professor Whiteside has been active for several years in advance planning for the Center. He was a member of the original Bowdoin faculty committee on expansion, formed in 1950, and has served as chairman of a subcommittee on the Center's physical plant and program, established in February of 1961. A native of Cincinnati, Ohio, Dr. Whiteside spent his childhood in Evanston, Ill., and attended public schools there. He was graduated magna cum laude from Bowdoin College in 1943. While an undergraduate at Amherst, he joined Chi Psi Fraternity. He has served as an advisor to the fraternity's Bowdoin chapter. Professor Whiteside holds a Doctorate of Philosophy degree from Harvard University where he was a departmental assistant. His Ph.D. thesis on the history of the Y.M.C.A. movement has been published. Before coming to Bowdoin he returned to Amherst as an instructor and, in the summer of 1962, taught at Boston University in Deland, Fla. He has taught a variety of American history courses at Bowdoin, including a survey course in political history, an advanced course in American social and intellectual history, and a course in westward expansion. Long active in the American Association of University Professors, Professor Whiteside has served as Bowdoin's representative at several intercollegiate conferences. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, the American Historical Association and the Massachusetts Valley Historical Association. Dr. Whiteside was a member of an American Studies Association committee which surveyed American civilization programs in New England colleges and universities in 1965. He presented a paper on "Urban Social Reformers, 1855-1860" at the annual meeting of the Massachusetts Valley Historical Association two years ago. A veteran of World War II, Professor Whiteside served three years in the Army Air Force and attained the rank of First Lieutenant.

Piper and Potholm Receive Woodrow Wilson 1962 National Fellowship Foundation Grants

Two seniors — W. Stephen Piper of Worcester, Mass., and Christian P. Potholm of Maine, Conn. — have been awarded Woodrow Wilson National Fellowships for graduate study. Piper and Potholm, both members of Phi Beta Kappa and both soccer players, have compiled distinguished academic and extracurricular records at Bowdoin. Each has been awarded the James Bowdoin Cup for athletic and academic achievement. Piper, a mathematics major and member of Delta Sigma Fraternity, is an Alfred P. Sloan Foundation Scholar, and has been First Captain of Bowdoin's ROTC unit; he also holds the General Philip Tracy, awarded to the senior who has made the best record at the ROTC Summer Camp. Piper has won the Franklin Delano Roosevelt Cup, given to that member of the three lower classes

"whose vision, humanity and courage most contribute to making Bowdoin a better college." An officer of the Bowdoin Interfaith Forum, he served, as a sophomore, as editor of the Orient. Potholm, a history major and member of Phi Upsilon Fraternity, has been James Bowdoin Scholar and straight A Student since his sophomore year; he has been on the Dean's List since his freshman year. Potholm is also winner of the Almon Goodwin Phi Beta Kappa Prize. Potholm entered Bowdoin as an Alumni Fund scholar and received an Estes Scholarship during his sophomore year. Among other scholarships, he has received three Charles Irwin Travell Awards, given to students whose participation in extracurricular activities and whose campus citizenship have contributed significantly to Bowdoin.

Mr. Wilder (at right) congratulates seniors W. Stephen Piper (left) and Christian P. Potholm on winning Woodrow Wilson National Fellowships for graduate study.

Maine Music On TV Motion To Censure Orient Defeated In Council, 16-2

The television spotlight will be on Maine's colleges tomorrow (March 16) when WCHS-TV, Channel 6, will present an hour of music featuring college clubs and other musical groups from the University of Maine, Colby, Bates, Westbrook Junior, and Bowdoin. The show, scheduled for showing at 8:30 tomorrow night, will be featuring Bowdoin's musicians for forty minutes of the planned hour show. Groups representing the College will be the Bowdoin College Dance Band, the Bacheters, and a sneak preview of a forthcoming musical written by Neil Love '63. Love will direct the Bowdoin groups. The program, called "Springtime on Campus," will originate from the WCHS studios, but will be picked up by several other stations so that all of Northern New England and Northern New York State will be able to get the show. The program is featured in the national magazine TV Guide as the top attraction of the evening for these lucky enough to be in the area receiving the show.

The Orient is currently conducting a student and faculty opinion poll on its editorial policy. The results of which will be published in our next issue. Anyone who is not personally contacted by the Orient is invited to mail a statement of opinion to the ORIENT office in Moore Hall. Callings with experts, all Bowdoin alumni, in 12 occupational professions. Panelists described the negative and positive aspects of a career in their field, the attributes and training required there, compensation levels, and other concerns of job seekers. They answered questions raised by the students during the informal discussions. Alumni Council members who directed the conference were Arthur K. Orme, '36, assistant comptroller of the Peace Corps' Division in Washington, Del., and the President of the Council, Frederick P. Perkins '55. Mr. Orme, chairman of the Council's placement committee, said in Chapel Monday that the reputation and influence of the College "will always be about equivalent to the sum of achievements by its graduates."

He continued by saying this of the conference: "Why should alumni want to take this trouble? Because they know that your achievements and the attributes will depend to a great extent on your finding a field of work which suits you best — matches your talents, interests and ambitions. You and we always thrill to news that a Bowdoin man has achieved something unusual — has distinguished himself in the career of the College. The investigation will be a survey printed by the Student Council and distributed to alumni and faculty members. A second committee was formed to investigate the Blanken Zed distribution. Two committees were formed at the meeting: one to determine the amount of lack of standardization in the curriculum of the College. The investigation will be a survey printed by the Student Council and distributed to alumni and faculty members. A second committee was formed to investigate the Blanken Zed distribution.

Founder of "Bowdoin Plan" Gives Talk On Peace Corps

"The Peace Corps" reported Mr. Joseph C. Wheeler, a top ranking official of this organization, in a lecture in Smith Auditorium on Monday. This has been very successful during the past year. Each of the countries held has requested additional U. S. volunteers to work with their people." Mr. Wheeler, a Bowdoin graduate (1948) and the founder of the "Bowdoin Plan" for foreign students, accompanied his talk with color slides of projects in Africa, Afghanistan, and India. Now working on projects in India and East and West Pakistan, he is the Deputy Chief of the Peace Corps' Division of Near East, South Asia Programs. This summer the Peace Corps will train four thousand volunteers for work in thirty-two countries. Half will work in Africa, a quarter in South America, and the rest in the Near East and South Asia. Describing the criteria considered in selecting an applicant, Mr. Wheeler stated that the volunteer need not be a college graduate but an individual with a broad background and skill in a particular field. Thus, the lengthy questionnaire, which often frightens prospective applicants, seeks to discover every possible fact about him. The accepted volunteer undergoes an intensive ten week training program designed to teach him about the language and history of his assigned country and inform him about his specific task. Born at Thovaux Farm in Concord, Mass., Mr. Wheeler, an Air Corps veteran, now resides in McLean, Va. He became an early student federalist and, after founding the second local chapter in 1943, he served as president of the World Student Federalist in 1946-47. Mr. Wheeler won numerous honors and awards at Bowdoin and received a Master of Public Administration degree from Harvard University's Littauer School in 1950. In 1951 he entered public service, working on the Point IV program of the International Cooperation Administration.

Bergman's "The Devil's Eye" At Cumberland; Last Show Tonight

Ingmar Bergman's "The Devil's Eye," a widely acclaimed comedy of intellectual humor, will play at the Cumberland Theater tonight, announced William C. Murch, manager. In a special statement to the Orient, Mr. Murch said that Bowdoin College patrons will find the comedy a picture of "high intellectual gloss. In the presentation of 'The Devil's Eye,' we offer a picture of witty, entertaining comedy. It's a foreign film you should not miss," he said.

"The Devil's Eye" casts an amusing and satirical eye on the struggle between a virtuous woman and the devil. In a special statement to the Orient, Mr. Murch said that Bowdoin College patrons will find the comedy a picture of "high intellectual gloss. In the presentation of 'The Devil's Eye,' we offer a picture of witty, entertaining comedy. It's a foreign film you should not miss," he said.

ORIENTAL LEADERS

Reviewer Labels Lederer's "Nation of Sheep" Provocative, Informative

William Lederer and Eugene Burdick collaborated on the alarming best-seller, The Ugly American. This book boldly exposed the shambles created by inadequate and apathetic American representatives in some of the most critical areas of the world.

The Man Who Wasn't There

Student apathy is an ineluctable problem at almost any institution of higher learning — at some more than others, naturally. While it is probably impossible to point out a particular cause or explanation for this most destructive of all institutional phenomena, nevertheless certain trends that are becoming patented by Bowdoin undergraduates of the last several vintages are becoming solidly entrenched as habits of second nature.

Attendance at athletic contests here is usually good — except for basketball, perhaps. But then the sports crowd is not an unusual phenomenon on a college campus. It is when athletic contests are the only college drawing cards that we should start to worry just a little.

Plays, concerts, lectures — all are poorly attended here. And it is not just because Bowdoin College comes up with a known personality so rarely; rather, we seem to have a profession of what Mr. Conklin '61 referred to in his Letter to the Editor of last week as undergraduate "deadwood."

If you get out of college what you put into it — which is a meaningless phrase nowadays — Bowdoin students are not getting much out of college. There is more to college than eating, sleeping, and going to classes; there is — forgive the expression — an intellectual atmosphere here that transcends any other we may encounter in the future — except, perhaps, at graduate school. Why this sluggish indifference? We come now to the heart of the matter.

While we cannot, as I have said, ever really point to any particular cause of what I shall choose to call the Student Vacuum, we can infer, with some degree of credibility, that what is happening here is only a reflection of what is happening in society today. We are microcosmic because society's ethic of conformity pervades all its levels. The result: we are an ethnically, religiously homogeneous and "normal" race of people. Thus any aberration from the established norm is looked upon so critically that we are all horribly fearful of manifesting enthusiasm for anything that the dormant bulk of society regards as not worth our attention.

Compulsory attendance at college functions is definitely not the answer. But the man who wasn't there today probably won't be there tomorrow, either. Or the next day. Or a year from now. Or ever, for that matter. And it is against this vacuum, this disinclination for intellectual self-preservation, that we must fight if we are to survive as individuals.

Letter To The Editor
Keep up the excellent work!
I have read your excellent dated February 28th "The Vacuum" and I am glad to see it published. I am sure that you will find it interesting to read the comments of our readers.

Rex Huntsman & Powers Awarded One-Act Prizes

On Saturday March 10 the Masque and Gown presented the Annual Student Written One-Act Play Contest. Naturally the evening had its ups and downs, but as a whole it was extremely rewarding and surprising well done. The One Act Play Contest is always a real triumph that can blow up and scatter all sorts of adolescent finger exercises upon an uncomfortable audience, but fortunately, this year's edition contained some work of real dramatic significance.

The winning play, With Sory Amegy, John Rex, was an adaptation of the exemplum from Chaucer's Pardoner's Tale. If one were to read the exemplum out of context of the tale, it would be no more than a small, secluded room. Such a room is not lavishly decorated with Oriental treasures. It often contains nothing but several mats on the floor, which are used by the smokers.

Eventually a report was made on the results of American aid, and after showing disclosures resulted. The Laotian government had spread false reports of a ferocious war being carried on against their nation by Communist aggressors. The art of smoking opium is nothing difficult. It simply involves stuffing a small pellet of opium into a pipe and lying down on a mat to smoke yourself into a useless dream world. However, the Cambodian government has recently begun to

U.S. rushed to the defense of Laos; our intentions to intervene were trumpeted by our press around the world. Then a United Nations investigating committee was called in, which failed to find a war. The whole affair was a fraud perpetrated by Laos; the result of the publicity was that the U.S. was looked on by other nations with amusement mixed with fear.

The Laos Fraud is only one instance cited by Lederer where the United States was duped because it failed to get complete and accurate information. The tales spread by Laos, not to mention Thailand and Formosa, were and are greeted by our government, press and people.

According to Lederer, Chiang Kai-shek and his Chinese soldiers have taken over the dictatorship of Formosa with American aid. The Formosans hate Chiang, but they are powerless to get rid of him. Consequently they blame the United States for their troubles. Lederer's account of how Chiang has time and again tricked and scared the U.S. into doing what he wants is truly frightening. Nor is Chiang by any means an isolated case; everywhere the story is the same. Untrained, uninterested Americans are all too willing to believe what they are told by sitting minorities in these countries. Meanwhile the Communists are claiming credit for every tyrant overthrown by peoples who will stand tyrannical longer. The U.S. has done nothing to try to get unbiased facts about conditions in these countries. Instead our leaders support the tyrannies while giving our own government no clear picture of the facts.

Why is it that we know so little about foreign affairs through our press or government? Until 1960, when a Nation of Sheep was written, conditions of government secrecy were deteriorating badly; there was a problem of too much, rather than too little, secrecy. It is estimated that in 1960 there were over one million federal employees able to classify security material, or one for every one hundred and eighty people in the United States. A certain amount of secrecy is admittedly necessary, says Lederer, but the government used classification as an easy way to disguise of embarrassing facts and figures.

I will not go into detail concerning other points made by Lederer, such as the failure of the Student Program and the apathetic treatment of foreign news by our press. A Nation of Sheep is a book that should be read by every citizen, American, but not by the masses of America.

THE BOWDOIN ORIENT

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF JOHN WILLIAM HALPERIN '63
MANAGING EDITOR John K. Martin '63
ASSOCIATE EDITOR David C. Wollastad '63
BOARD OF EDITORS
J. W. Halperin, Chairman; Martin, Wollastad, Knudsen, Walker, Drigotas, and Ryan.

- News Editor Sigurd A. Knudsen, Jr. '65
Assistant News Editor Robert E. Peterson '65
Features Editor David C. Walker '64
Sports Editors Frank M. Drigotas, Jr. '64 H. Allen Ryan '64
Assistant Sports Editor Edgar C. Bailey '65
Photographers Charles F. Flagg '63 Sanford L. Crane '64
Staff Cartoonist Harley L. Schwadron '64
Business Manager William H. Higgins '63
Advertising Manager William W. Conklin '64
Circulation Managers M. Douglas Scott '64 Phillip N. Racine '64
Assistant Circulation Manager Christopher Keefe '64

THE SHIPMAN PUBLISHING COMPANY
Prof. W. D. Bidman
W. Stephen Piper
Spencer C. Hunt
Robert L. Hagertry
William H. Higgins

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY 19 EAST 57th STREET NEW YORK, N.Y.
Published weekly when classes are held during the Fall and Spring Semesters by the students of Bowdoin College. Address notice communications to the Editor and editorial staff at the ORIENT office in Moore Hall, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine. Correspondence should be addressed to the Editor at Brunswick, Maine. The subscription rate for one year is four ($4.00) dollars.

and very convincing moments, but to "would I but" by the Springs of the whole, his acting was not of the caliber that Bowdoin audiences have come to expect of him. Marcus Merriman was a picnic. The pompous General Posthumous was played to the hilt. He was always lively and intimidating with the blustering force of a powerful organizer; an excellent performance. Peter Riehm as the colonel was also quite funny. Never once did he allow one to imagine that he could possibly question why Jeffrey Huntsman appeared as the galleys slave adequately portrayed this archetype of the union man.

New Meadows Inn

Bath Road HI 3-3921
Bath, Maine HI 3-3361

The Best in Foods, Lodging, and Cocktail Lounges

STUDENT PATRONAGE WELCOMED

FIRST NATIONAL BANK
Brunswick, Maine
Member of the Federal Reserve System and Member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

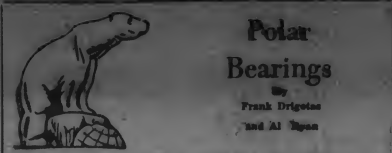

U.S. rushed to the defense of Laos; our intentions to intervene were trumpeted by our press around the world. Then a United Nations investigating committee was called in, which failed to find a war.

Gambling is all but illegal in Cambodia. Instead, national lotteries are carried throughout the year. A small amount of gambling occurs in the bars and dance halls.

In any country, prostitution flourishes in Cambodia. Rather than declare it illegal, the Cambodian government simply made prostitution illegal in cities. As a result, a two-mile long district lies just outside the boundaries of Phnom Penh, referred to as "Silkville" by its customers.

A. Paquette Fine Glass Repairing by Modern Methods Cushing Street Shopping Center
COMBERLAND THEATER Brunswick, Maine
POCKETFUL OF MIRACLES with Glenn Ford - Betty Davis
Satan Never Sleeps with William Holden - Clifton Webb
COMING CAROUSEL March 21-23
LOWER COME BACK 3 DAYS 6 Starting March 23

BABSON GRADUATE SCHOOL OF BUSINESS offers to qualified candidates a program leading to the degree of MASTER OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION
Major Fields Include: ACCOUNTING, DISTRIBUTION, FINANCE AND INVESTMENTS, MANAGEMENT AND PRODUCTION
Graduates of Liberal arts and engineering colleges can fulfill the M. B. A. requirements in two academic years. All candidates for admission are required to take the Admission Test for Graduate Study in Business.

Polar Bearings by Frank Drigman and Al Tapan

Dan MacFayden undoubtedly will be the first athletic coach to be reprimanded for a violation of the now well-known Pentagonal Conference agreement...

Unbeknown to most of the student body, Mr. MacFayden has spent a good deal of time these last few months in recruiting (please forgive the use of a dirty word) a certain addition to his spring baseball squad...

Exact figures of the financial transaction will probably not be disclosed until the trial, but at any rate, 'fireball' has made his appearance on the campus...

We wonder how long this entire incident can be kept from the ever-cognizant Presidents; when they do find out, there will undoubtedly be another Pentagonal Conference outlawing 'old fireball'...

PAT ON THE BACK: To the 440 yard medley relay team of Bill Edwards, Walt Davis, John Halford, and Lennie Lee...

Around The Loop advertisement with a list of names and points.

Table with columns for Team, W, L, and points for various sports teams.

OUTFITTERS TO BOWDOIN MEN advertisement for Benoit's.

This is the time of the year when it's nice to look ahead - to Spring. We'd like to help by offering some of our new arrivals...

LIGHT WEIGHT WASH 'N WEAR SUITS From 39.95 advertisement.

BERMUDA SHORTS From 5.00 advertisement.

MADRAS SPORT COATS 37.50 advertisement.

SPERRY TOPSIDERS 9.95 advertisement.

CHINO SLACKS From 4.98 advertisement.

SHORT SLEEVE SPORT SHIRTS From 2.98 advertisement.

A. H. Benoit & Co. 120 Maine St. Brunswick advertisement.

Team Captains Highlight Varsity Swimmers 2nd In N.E. Meet; Relay Team Breaks Regional Record

On March 10th and 11th, Bowdoin College competed in the New England Intercollegiate Swimming Championships held this year in the Pratt Pool at Amherst College...

Next year's winter sports captains are from left to right (front row) Ed Spaulding - hockey, Bill Bisset - hockey, Bruce Frost - track, (second row) Jack Coffin - rifle, Joe Brogan - basketball, Steven Barnsdollar - skiing, and Wm. Bates - rifle...

It was announced at the winter sports banquet that five varsity sports squads have chosen new captains...

The new Polar Bear leaders are basketball captain Joe Brogan of Brunswick, Maine; hockey co-captains John Coffin of Franklin, Me., and Ed Spaulding of Washington, Conn.; indoor track captain Bruce Frost of Brunswick, Maine; rifle team co-captains John Coffin of Franklin, Maine, and Charles Bates of Newton, Conn.; and ski team captain Steve Barnsdollar of Meredith, N. H. Brogan, a two-year letterman and junior, has seen service primarily as a reserve...

Bisset, an aggressive 5-6, 145 pound wing, has been Bowdoin's third highest scorer for the past two seasons. He is an economics major...

Hampered by an early season injury, Spaulding missed several games this past season, but for the second season in a row was Bowdoin's sixth highest scorer. He is baseball letterman in the shot put. He placed up first in both weight events in this year's Maine AAU meet...

Barndollar was awarded freshman numbers in tennis and golf and has been a Dean's List student.

Regardless of the fine leadership of ill-fated Captain Ron Farniglett, and Bisset (19-10) with 23 Bowdoin slipped to a somewhat disappointing record this past season...

Bowdoin outscored their opponents 98 to 77 while collecting 120 assists showing that their wasn't a lack for scoring. The high scorer for the year in total points was Stowell collecting 31 points (8-30)...

Table with columns for Name, Points, and Assists for various players.

Smith Photo Shop advertisement with an illustration of a person.

Let us help you plan your printing advertisement for The Record Office.

Sophomore Pete Beaver loved his own college record in the 400 yard freestyle, taking second place with a time of 5:39.3. He was touched out by John Morris of Brown who pulled ahead in the last 20 yards...

The high spot of the meet from the Bowdoin standpoint occurred in Saturday's finals when the Polar Bear 400 yard medley relay team of Bill Edwards, Walt Davis, John Halford, and Lennie Lee won that event in 5:53.9, a new Bowdoin College, Pratt Pool, and New England Intercollegiate record...

Whitmore Leads Frost Takes Trophy As K. S. Wins Meet advertisement.

The Freshman basketball team ended its season with a 3 and 2 record. This record doubt has been better, they lost three of their games by six or ten points. With a few breaks, they could have had a winning season...

Cub Hockey Team Has Winless Year advertisement.

In the Fortieth annual Interfraternity track meet Kappa Sigma's record was the deciding factor, with the team outpointed the Delta Omega with a 47 to 41 score...

But the eye-catching performance of the night was turned in by a relatively unpublicized Olk Kendall of Chi Psi, as he won two events and placed in three more for a 21 point tally...

Mark Youmans and Bert Bagcock staged a thriller in the two mile, which the former won a strong kick in his Alpha Delta Phi team from third to second, erasing a twenty yard deficit and missing Peter Best by an inch at the tape...

Table with columns for Name, Points, and Assists for various players.

Granite Farm Dairy advertisement for various dairy products.

WEEJUNS Donated for CAMPUS CHEST advertisement.

Bowdoin basketball and hockey teams will suffer the heaviest losses when the current senior class graduates in June. The hockey team will lose eight of the 17 players who were voted varsity letters, while basketball will be without five. Swimming also loses five, but Coach Charlie Butt will retain a strong nucleus for another year...

The basketball team loses Ed Callahan, its top rebounder and a steady scorer; Billy Cohen of Bangor, who is expected to be the best shot Bowdoin has ever seen; Jeff Milliken, Westbrook, who developed into an aggressive pivot; Woody Gillman and Pat O'Brien, a pair of guard reserves...

Varsity Swimming advertisement listing various swimmers and their achievements.

Varsity Rifle advertisement listing various riflemen and their achievements.

Varsity Track advertisement listing various track athletes and their achievements.

Callahan Leads Varsity Cagers In Three Areas advertisement.

Co-captain Ed Callahan of Peabody, Mass., led the Bowdoin College basketball team in three departments this season. Callahan, a forward and captain of this spring's basketball team, was the Polar Bear leader in total points with 249 and in rebounds with 173. His 24.9 field goal percentage was also a team high...

Mark Youmans and Bert Bagcock staged a thriller in the two mile, which the former won a strong kick in his Alpha Delta Phi team from third to second, erasing a twenty yard deficit and missing Peter Best by an inch at the tape...

Wayside Shoe advertisement for various shoe styles.

Patronize Our Advertisers advertisement for White Mountain Oil Co.

Storer, Saunders Conduct Discussion On Maine Jobs

Do most college graduates of Maine's native industry have to leave the state to find suitable employment?

"This problem, of vital importance to the economic growth and culture of the state," was explored recently by two faculty members, who are experts on Maine's economy, in a radio program (WGAN, Portland, "Maine College Review").

The discussion, titled "What Happens to Graduates of Maine's Colleges and Universities?" was between Dr. James A. Storer, associate professor of Economics and director of Bowdoin's Center for Economic Research; and Phillip Saunders, instructor in economics, who is working with Dr. Storer on a broad study of management manpower in Maine. This study is being carried out by the Center on a research grant from the Small Business Administration in cooperation with the Department of Economic Development in Augusta.

Representative of all institutions, said Mr. Saunders, was the finding at the University of Maine that of 229 native Maine graduates of the Class of 1959, only 33 took jobs in the state. Of the rest, 71 found jobs in New England and 125 were forced to take employment

Holmes To Lecture At Stanford This Summer

A Bowdoin professor will make his fourth Maine-to-California jaunt this summer.

Dr. Cecil T. Holmes, chairman of the Department of Mathematics, will make the auto trip on the invitation of Stanford University to lecture on mathematics in a National Science Foundation summer institute.

Appointed to Stanford's faculty for the project, Dr. Holmes will conduct a six-week course for high school teachers on aspects of calculus, with emphasis on history of the subject.

Dr. Holmes' course will be one of three under the direction of Professor Harold M. Bacon of Stanford, noted for his textbooks on mathematics. One course will be given by George Polya, a Stanford professor emeritus and an international expert on mathematical education.

The Bowdoin professor is well-acquainted with the Palo Alto institution's faculty members, having participated in previous summer in-

Greene Art Exhibit Now Under Way At Walker Art Museum

A retrospective exhibit of the art of Balcomb Greene, who turned from a career as writer and teacher to become one of the nation's foremost abstract painters, opened at the Walker Art Museum March 12.

The exhibition will continue through April 1 and will be open to the public.

There will be 38 paintings in the show, which was organized by the American Federation of Arts under a grant from the Ford Foundation. The exhibit is part of the Foundation's program in the Humanities and the Arts devoted to providing the public with increased opportunities to view the work of established artists.

Ladd Cites Opportunities For Average Students

The Director of the College Placement Bureau said there is a growing interest by business firms in hiring college graduates with average academic records.

"Extra-curricular activities and an attractive personality are important plus factors in job selection," said Mr. Samuel A. Ladd, Jr.

Another new trend noted this year, Mr. Ladd said, is an increasing willingness of industrial firms to recruit and make offers to students who have not yet fulfilled their military service commitments.

"Offers will be made to deserving and qualified seniors by business firms if it will be possible for them to report at least for a reasonable time for the training program of actual employment," Mr. Ladd said.

In a newly issued Bowdoin College Placement Bureau bulletin, Mr. Ladd said employment market conditions for the 1962 college graduate are generally favorable.

"Opportunities are available in most fields," he said, "and salaries are somewhat higher than a year ago. Employment offers, it appears, will be more numerous and a greater interest is noted in the liberal arts graduates."

More than 100 business and industrial firms are visiting the Bowdoin campus during this year's recruiting period. "In addition to the industrial activity," Mr. Ladd said, "the Bureau has scheduled a number of educational recruiting programs at which time headmasters, superintendents of schools and other school officials will be visiting the campus."

Courage Is Subject Of Guptill's Talk In Chapel

The Rev. Dr. Nathaniel M. Guptill, Director of the Chapel for Church and Ministry of the United Church of Christ, spoke at Chapel February 28 on the subject "All the Valiant Men." Born in Deer Island, Maine, Dr. Guptill has held parsonies at First Church, Rowley, Mass.; First Congregational Church, South Portland; and First Church, Newton, Mass. He has also served on the faculty of Andover Newton Theological Seminary. He has served as lecturer on the Christian Ministry from 1954 to 1958, and as chairman of the Committee on Christian Unity, Massachusetts Council of Churches.

G. E., Union Carbide, & Int. Nickel Make Grants

President Cole has announced that the General Electric Foundation selected Bowdoin's Mathematics Department to receive a $1,500 grant for the 1961-62 academic year.

The grant is a renewal of a similar grant which was first awarded to Bowdoin for the 1961-62 academic year.

Mr. J. Murray Brown of the General Electric Foundation said the grants are intended to help the Mathematics Department by supplementing funds currently available to it.

President Cole said the first grant has been used for the purchase of special equipment and library materials to be housed in the mathematics library in Adams Hall on the campus.

A $5,000 Physical Science Recognition Grant has been awarded to the College by The Union Carbide Educational Fund.

The fund will be used to purchase equipment for the Chemistry, Physics and Mathematics Departments of the college.

Expressing Bowdoin's gratitude for the gift to Mr. Charles J. Metz, Trustee and Secretary of The Union Carbide Educational Fund, President Cole said:

"As important as this grant is in support of our program in the physical sciences, it is also an encouragement which this sustained support of Bow-

College Indicator Reports Maine Data

Maine business reached an all-time high in December, according to figures released recently by the College's Maine Business Indicator.

And nonagricultural employment showed a gain of 1,700 over that of December, 1960, the February Indicator, published monthly by the Center for Economic Research at Bowdoin, says the Index of Maine Business stood at 110 for December, 1961, and was "the highest level the Index has yet reached."

President Cole has announced Sunday that Bowdoin has received a $3,000 grant from The International Nickel Company, Inc.

Mr. Forrest E. Allen, Administrator of International Nickel's educational program, said the grant is one of a series made by the company to private liberal arts colleges, "particularly to those institutions committed to exceptional undergraduate education."

"This grant," Mr. Allen said in a letter to President Cole, "is made in the belief that in the coming year Bowdoin College, as one of the nation's foremost independent liberal arts institutions, will continue to give leadership in high standards of education."

Expressing Bowdoin's gratitude, President Cole said the grant will be used to support the program of the college's Department of Geology.

Enlarged Facilities For Grounds And Buildings

Electricians, plumbers, mechanics, painters, carpenters and other service specialists of the College Grounds and Buildings Department are now working in new, modern shop surroundings.

Only the pulp and paper industry, banks and schools make any organized effort to absorb a share of Maine's college trained men and women, Mr. Saunders said. Many of the other firms are too small "to make use of college graduates."

Another factor, he said, is that Maine business firms make too little use of college placement offices.

"Last year, of 293 firms interviewed in our study when they made job

Scholarship And Loan Aid Given

The Student Aid Committee announced last week that it has awarded 37 students second semester scholarships totaling $11,550 and has offered loans in an additional $5,775 in loans.

Mr. Wilder, Director of Student Aid, said the new grants raise to more than $46,000 the total amount of financial aid granted to students during the current academic year. In addition, some $73,000 has been made available for students' loans.

The new scholarship awards went to 6 seniors, 13 juniors, 7 sophomores and 11 freshmen.

Newly announced grants include an award from the Joseph Whitman Spaulding Scholarship Fund to Gerald E. Rath '62.

International Club Hears Talk On European Travel

On March 6 Alexis Zosonoff, Bowdoin Plan Student from Belgium, presented the first of a series of lectures to be sponsored by the International Club dealing with travel in Europe and other parts of the World. Alex presented a half hour lecture and then some films. In his lecture he gave many tips and suggestions about travelling in Europe in general and then spoke specifically about the attraction of Belgium and Holland, the two countries with which he is most familiar.

After the lecture he showed two films showing specific points of attraction in Holland. At the close of the meeting he answered specific questions of those who wanted to know more about travelling in Belgium and Holland and Europe in general. The International Club will be presenting more illustrated lectures of this type in the future to acquaint people with what travel in Europe is like, and for those who are planning to travel to Europe to

Books By Three Bowdoin Affiliates Added To Library

Three recent books written by members of the College faculty have been added to the College library collections. Librarian Richard B. Harwell announced recently.

The books and their authors are: "British Attitudes Toward India, 1784-1884," by Dr. George D. Benson, Assistant Professor of History and Government (on leave), published by Oxford University Press, London.

"Outlines from the Outpost," by John Estlin Cooke, edited by Mr. Harwell, published by R. R. Donnelley & Sons Co., Chicago.

"Industry Comes of Age: Business, Labor and Public Policy, 1880-1897," by Dr. Edward C. Kirkland, Frank Munsey Professor of History, Emeritus, published by Holt, Rinehart & Winston, New York.

ROTC's Sgt. Smith Re-Enlists In Army

Sergeant First Class Robert M. Smith, ROTC staff member at the College and a veteran of 18 years service in America's armed forces, has re-enlisted for three years.

Sergeant Smith served with the Amphibious Forces of the Coast Guard during World War II, participating in landings on Iwo Jima and Okinawa.

He joined the Army in 1944 and has held various overseas assignments in Korea, Japan and Germany. He joined the ROTC staff at Bowdoin in September of 1960.

Two Clergymen Attend Meetings

Two prominent Episcopal clergymen were recent guest speakers at organizational meetings of the College Episcopals held at the Chase Barn Chamber and the Moulton Union.

The Rev. David C. Cargill, director of college work for the New England Province of the Episcopal Church, and the Rev. Wilbur E. Hogg, Jr., rector of the Church of St. Mary the Virgin, spoke on the National Council's Division of College Work and the work of the National Canterbury Association.

Chaplain to the 119 Episcopals enrolled as undergraduates at Bowdoin is the Rev. Llewellyn O. Diplock, rector of St. Paul's Church, Brunswick; coordinator of the meetings has been Charles D. Burt '62 who is a postulant for Holy Orders in the Episcopal Church.

George A. Erzwil, Jr., '52, former outstanding athlete who is now a veystraman at St. Paul's, is chairman of the College work program assisted by Prof. William C. Root of the faculty.

Student Sunday was observed recently at St. Paul's with a communion for students and faculty; the Rev. and Mrs. Diplock have entertained at an open house and tea for all Episcopals students and their friends.

The next meeting is scheduled for Sunday evening, April 8th, at 8 p.m. at the Chase Barn Chamber; everyone interested is invited. The guest speaker will be announced.

Noon Wine' Played Yesterday By UNH Drama Participants

Mask and Dagger, the University of New Hampshire's student dramatic organization, presented a concert version of "Noon Wine" by Katherine Anne Porter at Pickard Theatre Memorial Hall, yesterday.

The performance of the New Hampshire production at Bowdoin was part of an exchange of dramatic presentations being conducted under the sponsorship of the newly formed Arts Exchange League.

Bowdoin's Masque and Overt presented "The Second Man" at New Hampshire's new Johnson Theatre February 24.

The concert method of production used by the New Hampshire players is a relatively new form of dramatic presentation. It was created for adapting nondramatized fictional works to the stage.

The author's original point of view dialogue and narration were retained in an attempt to put the book as close to the listener and viewer as if he held it in his hands.

The concert method places great stress on the spoken text, and scenery, properties and gestures become supplementary.

Professor John Edwards, who adapted "Noon Wine" for the stage, directed the New Hampshire performance — the first such production seen on the Bowdoin stage.

Patronize Our Advertisers

KING'S BARBER SHOP
NEXT TO CAMPUS
Bowdoin's Favorite Barbers
SIX — BARBERS — SIX

MOULTON UNION BOOKSTORE

POPLIN JACKET
(White Or Black) $750

NYLON JACKET
(Navy Blue & White) $775

The Arts Center
NEW POLICY
ALL PHONOGRAPH RECORDS AT DISCOUNT PRICES
JAZZ — CLASSICAL — FOLK — POPULAR

See our complete selection of Travel Posters and Fine Art Reproductions at $1.00

Selective Service Test Applications Available From Mr. Wilder Now

Applications for the April 17, 1962 administration of the College Qualification Test are now available at Selective Service System local boards throughout the country.

Eligible students who intend to take this test should apply at once at Mr. Wilder's office for an application and a bulletin of information. The test will be given at Bowdoin.

Following instructions in the bulletin the student should fill out his application and mail it immediately in the envelope provided to selective service examining section, Educational Testing Service, P. O. Box 586, Princeton, New Jersey. Applications for the April 17 test must be postmarked no later than midnight, October 27, 1962.

According to Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the College Qualification Test for the Selective Service System, it will be greatly to the student's advantage to file his application at once. Test results will be reported to the student's Selective Service local board of jurisdiction for use in considering his deferment as a student.

SMALL'S ESSO SERVICENTER
WE SPECIALIZE IN
Engine Tune-Up and Wheel Alignment

BATH ROAD PA 9-3740

Vaillancourt Bros. Body Shop
PAINTING — SIMONIZING — WELDING

Free Estimates All Work Guaranteed

We repair foreign as well as American cars

39 JORDAN AVENUE DIAL PA 5-7908

ATTENTION — SENIORS
Insurance Training Program

We are conducting interviews Monday, March 19th for Male positions in our Training Program.

Those accepted will enter an 18 month formal program designed to prepare them for a position as a Field Representative. This is not a direct selling position.

Consult your Placement Office for a copy of our booklet "Career of a Lifetime" and to arrange for an interview.

COMMERCIAL UNION — NORTH BRITISH GROUP of Insurance Companies

FIRE AUTO CASUALTY MARINE

The HOTEL EAGLE
DINING ROOM
EAGLE'S NEST LOUNGE

Comfortable Accommodations
PRIVATE DINING ROOM AVAILABLE FOR PARTIES

Parkview Cleaners
and Parkview Laundercenter
"The Home Of Better Cleaning"

3 ROOM SERVICE AT THE CLEANERS

No worry about lost clothing at the laundromat when you do it yourself.

OPEN 24 HOURS A DAY

H-S. PIPERS
AS SEEN IN PLAY BOY

FROM $4.98

Phil's Men's Store

78 Maine Street Brunswick

PORTER - SHAW, INC.
YOUR NEW FORD DEALER

157 Pleasant St. PA 5-5555 Brunswick

SERVICE SPECIALS
Fordomatic Transmission — Adjust & Inspect

5700
Front End — Aligned & Balanced $10⁹⁵

Rex Warner, Noted British Scholar, To Be Tallman Lecturer

Rex Warner, prominent British novelist, poet, and classicist, has been chosen Visiting Professor in Classical History and Literature on the Tallman Foundation for the 1962-63 academic year.

In his appointment as Visiting Professor, Mr. Warner will give a course for undergraduates and, in addition, will hold a series of lectures for the public.

Mr. Warner has won wide critical acclaim in this country and abroad for his two-volume biographical novel of Caesar. The first volume, "The Young Caesar," was published in 1958 and the second, "Imperial Caesar," in 1960.

Other novels he has written that have created a distinctive place for him among contemporary English authors include "The Wild Goose Chase," "The Professor," "Why Was I Killed?" "The Aerodrome," and "Men of Stones."

He has also published "Poems and Contradictions," "The Cult of Power," a volume of essays: "Poems of Attica," a travel book; "John Milton," a biography; and translations of plays by Aeschylus, Euripides, Thucydides, Plutarch, Xenophon and other classical Greek writers.

Mr. Forsythe Is Leaving In June

Mr. Thomas R. Forsythe, Instructor in Russian, has accepted an assistant professorship at Roosevelt University in Chicago.

Mr. Forsythe, a member of the Bowdoin faculty since 1946, will teach courses in the Russian language and literature. He will assume his new duties in June.

Birch Society's Welch Will Give Address Here May 2

Robert Welch, founder of the ultra-conservative John Birch Society, will speak at Bowdoin in May.

Mr. Welch, whose methods of fighting communism have been both praised and assailed, will address Bowdoin's Political Forum Wednesday, May 2, according to Professor Walker, faculty advisor to the Forum.

Mr. Welch has chosen as his subject "A Brief Introduction to the John Birch Society." The program will be held at 8 p.m. in Picard Theater, Memorial Hall, and will be open to the public without charge.

Articulate Zetes Defeat TD's For Championship; Gain Mitchell Trophy

President Coles presided over the final round of the annual inter-fraternity debate competition for the Mitchell trophy on March 14. Zeta Psi, represented by Peter Valente '62 and Steven Kay '62, defeated Wayne Adams '62 and Richard Mudge '62, who debated for Theta Delta Chi. The debate topic was "Resolved, that the United States should abolish all tariff barriers."

Zeta Psi maintained the affirmative, asserting that tariffs increase the cost of living, discriminate against certain segments of the population such as the farmers, hamper foreign relations, and fail to permit specialization for maximum efficiency.

Theta Delta Chi advocated only temporary and flexible tariffs, declaring that we would not want to have our defense production in Europe and that we would always want to be able to discriminate against goods produced by slave labor.

Mr. George A. Ewelle, Jr., '47 Mr. Richard O. Hathaway, Bowdoin instructor in History and Mr. Donald W. Parks '28 split their decision two to one in favor of Zeta Psi.

Student Organization Announced

A new student organization has appeared on the campus, the Bowdoin Political Issues Committee. Advised by Messrs. Hathaway and Arp, the committee issued the following statement to the Orient last week.

"The purpose of the Bowdoin Political Issues Committee is to stimulate and initiate creative political and moral reflection, to develop and lead student activities in these areas, and to provide a vital means for the exchange of ideas and opinions. We desire to see the extension of the democratic process so that each individual man may have the chance to learn and develop his ideas freely, unrestrained by fears of war or injustice, and free to hear all sides and form opinions in an atmosphere of tolerance and sanity.

"To promote these ends, we intend to encourage debate and discussion, both public and private, on the issues of our time...."

Abraxas Award Won By Four Needham High School Grads

Mr. Shaw, Director of Admissions, has announced that Needham, Massachusetts High School has won the Abraxas award. This award, given to the high school whose representatives in the freshman class maintain the highest academic average for the first semester, was established by the Abraxas Society in 1915 and is administered now by the Student Council. In order to be considered for the award, a high school must have three or more representatives in the freshman class.

Needham High School students Richard T. Andrias, Jonathan C. Raymond, James C. Rosenfield, and David K. Stevenson compiled an average of 2.876 in winning the Abraxas plaque.

At Monday's meeting, the Student Council endorsed unanimously a committee report suggesting the establishment of an honor system at the College.

Prof. Shipman Receives Grant For Research

Professor William D. Shipman, has been awarded a 1962-63 Brookings Research Fellowship in Economics. The Brookings Institution announced last week.

The award, one of only five such professorships in the nation announced for next year, will enable Professor Shipman to carry on full-time research on "The Impact of Nuclear Power in New England."

Professor Shipman said he plans to study the effects of nuclear power generation, especially with respect to the price of electricity. Most of his work will be conducted on the Bowdoin campus, he said, but he plans to spend some time traveling in order to gather information for his study.

The professorships, awarded by Brookings under a grant from the Ford Foundation, are intended to encourage economic research at liberal arts colleges. The awards cover both salary and research expenses.

Professor Shipman, who will begin his research this summer and will be on leave from Bowdoin during the 1962-63 academic year, was selected by a committee of leading economists and business educators.

A native of Glen Elyn, Ill., he received a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Washington, his M.A. from the University of California in Berkeley, and his Ph.D. from Columbia.

Dr. Shipman was a price economist with the Office of Price Stabilization in Seattle, Wash. in 1951 and 1952, an investment analyst for Brown Brothers, Harriman & Co., New York, from 1953 to 1957, and has been a member of the Bowdoin faculty since 1957.

Professor Shipman

College Announces Five Lecturers To Appear At Next Month's National Institute On Soviet Union

The College will open its 1962 third lecture Tuesday, April 30. A specialist on Russian Science, he will discuss "Soviet Science and Education."

First in the series of five Institute lectures, which will cover Russian science, its economy, social system and culture, will be given by Dr. Harry Schwartz, member of the New York Times editorial board and an authority on the U. S. S. R.

Dr. Schwartz will speak on "The Soviet Economic Challenge" at 8:15 p.m. on April 4 in Picard Theater.

On April 5, from 9 to 10 a.m., following his lecture, Dr. Schwartz will conduct a round table conference with undergraduates in the Moulton Union Lounge.

Professor Heinrich, chairman of the faculty committee for the Institute, said the succeeding lectures will follow the same plan of evening lectures and student conferences on the mornings after the lectures.

All of the lectures will be open to the public without charge. Second lecture in the Institute series will be held Friday, April 6, when Dr. Ernest J. Simmons, who formerly occupied the Chair of Russian Literature at Columbia University, will speak of "Pasternak and the Crisis in Soviet Literature."

Dr. John Turkevich, who is Eugene Higgins Professor of Chemistry at Princeton University, will give the

4 In NSF Program

Four undergraduates were honored last week when they were selected for a special National Science Foundation mathematics program at Bowdoin this summer.

Chosen for their outstanding talents in mathematics, the students will pursue independent studies as stressed by the NSF, according to Professor Korgen, who will direct the program.

The students are Schuyler S. Sampson, Jr., '62, W. Stephen Piper '62, Thomas J. Kyrouss '62, and Robert J. Flummer '62.

Representing a new approach to the study of mathematics, the three appointees and alternate comprise the student study body for the program. They will be aided by the funds from a $4,000 NSF grant made recently to Bowdoin.

Dr. Korgen said that the students, in addition to their research, will attend some graduate courses to St. Anselm's College, and Brandeis University this summer.

Dr. Robert M. Farquharson '64, and Barry C. Hawkins '65 took part in the debate competition. The team of Farquharson and Hawkins won debates from Newton College of the Sacred Heart and Boston College.

The team of Goldberg and Lerner won debates from Eastern Nazarene, Stonehill, Providence College, St. Anselm's College, and Brandeis University this summer.

Mark Goldberg and Philip H. Hansen, III '64 participated in the extemporaneous speaking competition. Both men were finalists in this contest.

Frank R. Ciccio '63 and Louis A. Forucher '65 represented Bowdoin in the persuasive speech contest.

Mark Goldberg '63, Jules M. Lerner '63, Robert M. Farquharson '64, and Barry C. Hawkins '65 took part in the debate contest. The team of Farquharson and Hawkins won debates from Newton College of the Sacred Heart and Boston College.

The team of Goldberg and Lerner won debates from Eastern Nazarene, Stonehill, Providence College, St. Anselm's College, and Brandeis University this summer.

Mark Goldberg and Philip H. Hansen, III '64 participated in the extemporaneous speaking competition. Both men were finalists in this contest.

Frank R. Ciccio '63 and Louis A. Forucher '65 represented Bowdoin in the persuasive speech contest.

Mark Goldberg '63, Jules M. Lerner '63, Robert M. Farquharson '64, and Barry C. Hawkins '65 took part in the debate contest. The team of Farquharson and Hawkins won debates from Newton College of the Sacred Heart and Boston College.

The team of Goldberg and Lerner won debates from Eastern Nazarene, Stonehill, Providence College, St. Anselm's College, and Brandeis University this summer.

Mark Goldberg and Philip H. Hansen, III '64 participated in the Simmons

Inkeles

Schwartz

Turkevich

Davis

Debaters Place In Recent BU Tourney

Ten Bowdoin students took part in a debate tournament at Boston University March 8-10.

The group, accompanied by Dr. Charles R. Petrie, Jr., Instructor in speech, took part in several different types of speaking contests.

Mark Goldberg '63, Jules M. Lerner '63, Robert M. Farquharson '64, and Barry C. Hawkins '65 took part in the debate contest. The team of Farquharson and Hawkins won debates from Newton College of the Sacred Heart and Boston College.

The team of Goldberg and Lerner won debates from Eastern Nazarene, Stonehill, Providence College, St. Anselm's College, and Brandeis University this summer.

Glee Club Commences Spring Tour Tomorrow

A concert tomorrow at Amrose Junior High School in Philadelphia will mark the opening of the Glee Club's annual spring tour. The concert, "Moods and Contrasts," will feature the Glee Club, the Chapel Choir and the Middlebumpsters.

Over 70 members will be making the tour, according to Director Robert K. Beckwith. Travel will be mostly by buses and cars. The group will travel several thousands of miles, stopping in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Detroit, Chicago, Toledo, and Cortland, New York. According to Beckwith, this tour will be the longest ever.

On the program is a wide variety of music, from solemn Latin hymns to Broadway hits too, of course, the lively school songs.

Orient Concludes 91 Years of Publication With Campus Opinion Poll

In the light of so much interest elicited recently by the Orient's editorial policies, the news staff polled a cross-section of the campus to determine exactly what some people did think. The only suppression of opinion was in the avoidance of Orient staff members. Here are the answers given to the reporters' question, "What is your opinion of the Orient's editorial policy?"

Albert Moulton '65 — "The policies of the editor are harsh: He seems to have a grudge against Mr. Watson. If he must criticize the athletic department, there are certainly other phrases that could use the criticisms."

Richard Cobb '65 — "I don't care for some of the editor's dumps on people. He tends to be biased and, I feel, he is not representing the entire student body."

Stan Nickerson '62 — "I think that the editorial policy has been a revitalizing factor. I think it's time that someone gave some decisive opinions on subjects which are interesting and relevant and not a product of conformity."

Christos Gianopoulos '64 — "Personally I'd say that John Halperin is doing a fine job of arousing student opinion — and he does carry his arguments to extremes. That's what makes him so controversial. I don't know whether he could produce the same effect on campus if he weren't so controversial."

Louis Dorogi '63 — "Compared to the policies of previous editors, the present one at least takes sides in the issues at hand and isn't afraid to get into the issue completely. The editorials also show an awareness of the different problems facing the College."

Benjamin Fisher '65 — "I don't care for the editorials myself. They are terribly misguided and irresponsible but they're harmless."

Jeffery Chapman '64 — "I abhor the advent of sensationalism on the pages of the Bowdoin Orient."

Miles Connell '65 — "The editorials are promising but not as powerful as they should be. They ought to represent the student opinion in a more impressive fashion."

Gerry Coletti '62 — "Although I don't agree with everything he says, I think it's a perfectly legitimate undertaking. I don't find such things as signing his name offensive; this merely makes clear the fact that the editorials are the editor's personal opinions. I don't like his additions to letters that appear disagreeable to him."

Frank Mancini '62 — "With regard to make-up, two developments — one dreadful and one encouraging — seem to have appeared only recently. First of all the practice of having two or three stacked headlines is terribly confusing — please have mercy on the reader's sense of order and design. Secondly, page one stories are no longer continued on other pages. This is a good idea. Certainly the Orient is not in the position of the New York Times, which may have some reasons to disrupt orderly reading because of the great amount of news that requires prominent display. The Orient, in this matter, does well to emulate the Christian Science Monitor.

"Generally I find the Orient a much livelier paper than it was a few years ago. Of course this is in a large part due to the fact that several important matters have arisen recently. Be that as it may, John Halperin and recent editors are to be congratulated for stimulating discussion on these issues.

"From my point of view the Orient has propagated ultra-conservative views on some of the more important questions (for example, editorial responses to the issues revolving about fraternity admission procedures and a student commons). However, the editorial opinions of the Orient don't concern me as long as the editor keeps the pages open for communication from differing points of view. The editor is to be commended for doing so — or rather, he should not be condemned for not doing so."

"However, several things do disturb me. The Orient's primary raison d'être is the presentation of news of college interest. Unfortunately most of the paper's columns seem to be the work of Mr. Kamin, who is not one of the ten members of the news staff. It seems to me that the Orient should try to get behind and beyond (figuratively) the bulletin board in the corridor of the Moulton Union. I am aware of some of the difficulties, but the greater the obstacle the more glory we have in overcoming it."

"The Orient's second justification is its potential activity as a gadfly — not just to the faculty and administration but to the students. Not unexpectedly, the Orient has done little in the latter respect. And its admirable attempts to keep the faculty and administration on their toes have been compromised by occasional lapses; indecency (the stab-in-the-back comment on Bob Glover's letter), indiscretion (the squib on Sid Watson as a hockey coach), and hysteria (bewailing the possibility that the Orient will be subject to unreasonable censorship)."

"As editor of the Orient, John Halperin has kept it involved in the important issues arising on campus. This is a fine thing; as long as this is done with discretion and a sense of fair-play the Orient will be read and will not be subject to censorship. It's the editor's duty to keep the paper on this difficult path. Should Halperin tire of this responsibility, he is welcome to join the rest of us campus controversialists and nihilists who have neither the formal influence nor the formal restrictions that accompany positions of authority."

Roy Macdonald '62 — "In my mind, John Halperin, as editor of the Orient, is responsible not only for accurately recording news and opinion on this campus, but also for representing the voice of our student body. On the whole, throughout the year, he has fulfilled this obligation to a large extent. However, in the past few months, I have wondered at the change new-found power seems to have started. The editor's "Letter to the Governing Boards" was treated in Hearst fashion, and had about the same effect. Conviction seemed lacking, and his argument weakly defensive. It was not representative of campus opinion, and the editor's desire to start a crusade was the obvious reason for the omission of opposing views. If he still maintains, as he did in his editorial on the Student Council last fall, that "The Orient endeavors to be as impartial as humanly possible," I cannot help being surprised!

"Another point I will consider is the disgraceful editorial on Sid Watson. Once again, in bold, black type, the editor stuck his neck out. I am happy to remember that the Student Body gave it a good and necessary chopping. Discretion is an interesting term; in this case, the editor seemed to be contemptuous of it.

"The editorial policy is not at all bad. Mr. Halperin has enlivened the Orient; it is not the sterile news sheet it has usually been in the past. I welcome controversy, but I don't like one-sided controversy. This spring Halperin has been guilty of this, although the chosen "Letters to the Editor" would seem to disagree. Mr. Halperin seems to be desperate for recognition; if it will ease his mind any, I'd say he has it."

Mike Whalon '63 — "I think that the Orient has done an excellent job of stimulating thinking on campus, although I do feel that the editor has been a little rough at times. The newspaper is now a formidable one, and not sterile, as it has been in past years. All in all, I think that John Halperin has done a good job as editor."

Paul Bert '63 — "I think that the editorial policy is up to the editor, but he should conduct himself and his newspaper in accordance with the feelings of the campus. I feel that any remarks that come back to the campus should be favorable ones. John Halperin's policies have served to good purposes and bad purposes. Concerning the bad purposes, I think that his actions have tended to hurt only himself."

Barry Wish '63 — "Although I don't agree with everything that is said in the Orient, I think that John Halperin has taken a courageous stand. I think very highly of him for it. There haven't been very many editors that have done as much toward creating interest as he has, and I commend him highly for it. The courage he has shown is in the true spirit of journalism."

Bryan McSweeney '62 — "Although many methods of the editor's are questionable, and a lot in poor taste, I believe that the Orient is no longer sterile. The effect that it has had in raising student opinion has been good." Don Jolly '62 — "I think it's excellent."

George Eliades '64 — "I think it is good for the paper to have an opinion, whether critical or not. The Orient has a good policy and it keeps everyone talking. I don't always agree with the editorials, however."

Dave Sherwood '62 — "I think that many of the editorials are based on inaccurate information, and I don't agree with all of them. However, Halperin as editor has every right to publish what he wants."

Bob Jarret '64 — "I don't like the Orient's many criticisms of things on campus. It seems to be a paper of negatives. It should try to accentuate the positive where it can."

John Frazier '64 — "An editor can't criticize something if he doesn't know anything he is talking about. The editor of the Orient seems to demonstrate a lack of knowledge of what he criticizes."

Dave Walton '64 — "I agree with the Orient's policies wholeheartedly."

David Fitts '64 — "I think that the editor's idea of trying to create controversy is a good one, but I think that he goes too far out on a limb."

Dick Andrias '65 — "I think that the Orient should raise the controversies and express its opinions, but not try to make it appear as though its views were the Gospel, as it has done in certain instances. The Orient, through its editorial policy, seems to stir up negative views toward itself and the subject at hand, rather than presenting the subject for objective analysis."

Fred Stoddard '64 — "I think there has been better news coverage and reporting than last year. Halperin and Hearst are the only two editors in the nation who sign their names to editorials. I think Halperin is hunting for a flashy editorial for effect rather than constructive policy."

Mark Goldberg '63 — "I believe in the freedom of the press and the right of the editor to publish what he wants — but I think this right has been abused in a few cases — for instance, the editorial on Sid Watson. I think that if more discretion were used in the editorials, they would still stir up controversy, but would not create antagonism."

Tom Eccleston '62 — "I think it's all right. It stirs up interest. Overall, I think that the paper is good."

THE BOWDOIN ORIENT

THURSDAY, MARCH 22, 1962 NO. 18

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF JOHN WILLIAM HALPERIN '62
MANAGING EDITOR John R. Martin '63
ASSOCIATE EDITOR David C. Wollstadt '63
BOARD OF EDITORS J. W. Halperin, Chairman; Martin, Wollstadt, Kinross, Walker, Drigotas, and Ryan.
New Staff: Peter J. Bagshaw '65, David A. Clavin '65, Thomas F. Coffey '65, Richard A. Colermaid '65, Jeffrey R. Primm '65, Charles L. Wallace, Jr. '65, Jonathan O. Hayward '65, Richard A. Houghland '65, Donald J. Kinross '65, John A. Dalg '65, Donald G. Alexander '64, Richard T. Andrus '64, William J. Helfrecht, Jr. '65
Sports Staff: Frank A. Heston '65, Phillip A. Stone '65, William B. Gillies '65, Stephen A. Beech '65, Victor Fiascopa '65, Robert R. Harrington '65, William A. Edwards '64, Grant T. Kippmann '64
Business Staff: Ann P. Smith '65, D. Wayne Robinson '65, John MacKay '65, Hans Isakson, Henry A. Martin, Jr. '65
Circulation Staff: Nathan Dana III '65, Lloyd S. South '65, Keith K. Brooks '65, George R. Trank '65
THE BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY: Prof. W. D. Shipman, Prof. A. P. Daggett, W. Stephen Piper, Bruce M. Leonard, Spencer C. Hunt, Sidney W. Wollstadt, Robert L. Haggerty, John W. Halperin, William R. Higginbotham

Orient Reviewer Highly Praises UNH Play "Noon Wine" As An Excellent Adaptation, Narration, and Performance

by Marc Martinman
The actors themselves have an even more difficult job than the narrator, for they must from time to time be dramatic and then, to a degree, objective. They must go from the first to the third person in speaking of themselves and still remain in character. In this, the first performance of a production more demanding than most, the acting of the New Hampshire group was of a poth, quality and sensitivity that was a joy to observe.
While it is difficult to determine one performance as the finest of the evening, it must be said that Janice Plahive and Andrew Robinson as Mrs. and Mr. Thompson both did an excellent job. Their control of their very difficult parts was for the most part flawless. Robert Marshall as Helton was superb. One never doubted for a moment his authenticity, his genuineness. Richard Houle as Hatch was not quite as convincing as the rest; the problem is in the part. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson are content souls; she caught, sick, tired, trying to raise her boys, wanting to be like her husband; he bored by imaginary difficulties, a man whose unneeded action on her stifling day triggers his deterioration and suicide. Helton too is content; a Swede, slow of speech and action. But Hatch is a man of parts; he's rather mad. And the shift from relentless cackling to the pulling of knife, the basic insanity of the man just didn't quite get to us the way it should have.
Richard Dunham's set for the One-Act Play Contest will be presented at Yale University Theatre Rex's play will be the second Bowdoin production seen on the stage this Saturday at 10:30 a.m.
Maquette and Gown will be presented at the sixth annual Under-Floyd B. Barbour '66 was well-received Drama Festival by "With which the audience at last year's Sory Grace," an adaptation by John Festival.

son had been feeling uneasy" relief (a gun shot, something anything) left the play and its meaning Mr. Thompson's outside. The director's infuriating determination not to give us any sort of cathartic It was a superb evening.

BOWDOIN INVADERS SOUTHERN EXTREMITIES.

Winning Play To Be Given at Yale

The winning play in the recent Rex '63 of Chaucer's "Pardoner's Tale." Mr. and Mrs. Thompson are content souls; she caught, sick, tired, trying to raise her boys, wanting to be like her husband; he bored by imaginary difficulties, a man whose unneeded action on her stifling day triggers his deterioration and suicide. Helton too is content; a Swede, slow of speech and action. But Hatch is a man of parts; he's rather mad. And the shift from relentless cackling to the pulling of knife, the basic insanity of the man just didn't quite get to us the way it should have.

The Student Council

At most colleges, student government is an influential and forceful campus organization. And it is right that this should be so. Bowdoin's Student Council has not in the past, nor does it now, lack articulate or perceptive representatives; the office of Student Council Representative is one of the most important in every house. However, through no fault of its own, the Student Council here has been a peculiarly impotent force. The administration pays so little attention to it that one almost wonders why it is perpetuated year after year. As a result, the Council's main duty of late has been the deliberation of matters of very secondary importance to the students themselves and to the campus generally.
The Student Council's unenviable position is only one manifestation of the flippant indifference of Bowdoin's administrators toward student desires and thus — by definition — to their highest representative body. The Student Council could pass a resolution recommending the razing of Bowdoin and the establishment of a collective farm in its stead, and this would cause no more disturbance in Massachusetts Hall than many of the Council's previous statements (on fraternities, on the pentagonal agreement, and so forth). Why? Because no one pays any attention. After a while the man beating his head against the immovable wall either gives up or destroys himself; if the Student Council is not soon acknowledged as an important court of student appeals, the few pithy issues it is given to debate will be gone with the wind.
The resurrection of the Council should not be an act of conformity; instead, it should accompany a realization on the part of the powers that be that a liberal arts college, while not always a representative democracy, should certainly not be an oligarchy. Let us hope, for once, that the present trend does not continue.

John W. Halperin

Today's issue marks the conclusion of the ORIENT'S 91st consecutive year of publication. Printed first in 1871, the ORIENT has been published on a weekly basis longer than any other college newspaper. The student newspapers of Union College, Wesleyan University, and the University of Massachusetts, all of which started publishing weekly about the time of the Civil War, suspended publication during both World Wars. The ORIENT did not. The oldest college newspaper is the Harvard GRIMSON, which started as a weekly during the Civil War and then became a daily early in this century — and never suspended publication. The ORIENT can easily claim to be the oldest college weekly in the United States, but not the oldest of them all. We put in a strong bid for second place, however.

THE BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY: Prof. W. D. Shipman, Prof. A. P. Daggett, W. Stephen Piper, Bruce M. Leonard, Spencer C. Hunt, Sidney W. Wollstadt, Robert L. Haggerty, John W. Halperin, William R. Higginbotham

REPRINTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY College Publishers Representative 19 DEARBORN STREET NEW YORK, N. Y. Published weekly when classes are held during the fall and spring semesters by the students of Bowdoin College. Address news orders to the Editor and subscription communications to the Business Manager of the Bowdoin Publishing Company at the ORIENT Office in Moore Hall, Brunswick, Maine. Entered as second class postage paid at the post office at Brunswick, Maine. The subscription rate for one year is four dollars ($4.00).

OPINION POLL (Continued from Page 1)

Donald Goldsmith '65 — "I think that the editor should be allowed a lot of freedom. There should be no coercion or administrative force exerted to prevent the expression of his beliefs. This may be carried too far. Halperin should not write about something on which he has no information or knowledge. For instance, what knowledge does he have of Coach Watson's ability? I will defend his right to say what he believes as long as he can formulate an educated opinion and be fair. I would like to have seen more evidence of knowledge in the hockey controversy. Unfortunately, many people assumed the validity of the editor's knowledge and have prejudices, because of the Orient, against Coach Watson."
Tom Giacobbe '65 — "If the editor doesn't slander anyone or unduly criticize, he should be able to print whatever he wants. There should be sound, logical reasoning shown for all conclusions. It is good to have a certain amount of controversy. I don't agree with some of the positions he has taken. He could have been more tactful. He should remember that the Orient's editorials are taken as a representation of the views of the student body and Bowdoin College. The newspaper is circulated not only around campus, but also to townspeople and alumni."
Lowry Stephenson '65 — "It's good to have an active editorial policy, and criticism, if it is necessary. However, a newspaper can go too far and find fault with everything. At times it appears to me that John Halperin goes too far; but it is better than no controversy at all."
Ken Fontecchio '64 — "I think it's great. It's about time they stirred up some controversy and interest on this campus."
Nils Blatz '62 — "Mediocre. I'm neither for nor against it. Sometimes it's very good, however."
Steve Hand '63 — "I think it's very good. The comments to the letters to the editor are bad, and I didn't like the personal attacks, but otherwise it's a good paper."
Howie Levine '63 — "I disagree on fraternities, but agree in his putting it there to arouse opinion. I don't always agree with what he has to say, but I do approve of the manner of presentation."
Dave DeMoss '63 — "Some of the editorials have pinpointed problems which exist here at Bowdoin. However, the editor at times ignores the more fundamental issues of which problems such as chapel attendance are just a manifestation. Moreover, the editorials appear to lack a certain tact that should be employed in any controversial discussion."
Mitch Kalpakian '63 — "I haven't been keeping up with the Orient too thoroughly lately, but I did object to the Sid Watson article. But most of the questions raised are thought-provoking and interesting. I think the sports page is good."
Peter O'Dell '64 — "I think the Orient has really improved in the past few months — people are beginning to read it. I have found that the opinions expressed are not biased, and present a fair stand on most issues."
George Smith '63 — "I agree with some of the things the editor has to say, but don't always agree with the way he says them."
Bill Bates '64 — "I think that the purpose of a student newspaper is to stir up some controversy; the purpose of a newspaper is to read. I agree with the present policy."
Fred Brown '63 — "I think that the newspaper should approximately display student opinion, and that the present Orient didn't do this at first. I think that it has carried good controversial articles, however."
Frank Roman '63 — "Although I disagree with the attack on Sid Watson, I generally go along with the paper."
Sam Brink '63 — "Unfortunately, the editorials sometimes go beyond the bounds of good sense and are oc-asionally misplaced in the paper. But I like the idea of controversy; it creates interest in the paper."

Professor Thayer — "I find the editorials of the Orient interesting and provocative, and generally but not always sound arguments. I picked up a report from a very distinguished alumnus in New York, who said that he thought that the quality of writing in the Orient is the best he'd read in a long time."
Professor Helmreich — "I don't think they have any definite editorial policy, except to stir up controversy. I do, however, agree with some of his views. I think that this question is an impossible one to answer."
Professor Walker — "The editor seems to be going out of his way to take stands, but the editorials do help to stir up discussions. Past editorials have had a bland quality; the present policy is getting people to speak out on controversial subjects. I thought he took a good stand on the fraternity issue."
Professor Root — "I find his editorials very interesting, although I don't always agree with what the editor has to say. The Orient is generally a good paper."
Peter C. Barnard (Alumni Secretary) — "I confess that I view the Orient with mixed emotions, but I know of no student publication — at Bowdoin or elsewhere — that doesn't evoke mixed reactions.
"The present editorial policy of the Orient seems aimed at awakening reader interest, and in that I'm sure it is successful. Many alumni and students say they now look forward with anticipation to each new issue where formerly they were not always quite so intrigued. The Editor plainly states his objective in the March 15 issue: 'Starting out with the rather subversive feeling that a college newspaper should be interesting, provocative, and insightful, the Editorial Board of the Orient has had to junk the traditional, typical, fetid old Orient type of journalism just to get people to read the paper, not to mention the attempt to arouse a little interest on the side.'
"Any controversy that arises over the present editorial policy stems from the manner in which the Orient Editors make it 'interesting, provocative, and insightful' and not from their desire to get people to read the paper and to arouse a little interest on the side. This also raises the old question, 'Does the end justify the means?'
"The Editors should have a high degree of 'freedom to make the Orient interesting and readable. They should be complimented for their good, factual coverage of campus news. But they should not be complimented — rather they should be censured — when they overstep the bounds of courtesy and when they overlook the larger beyond-the-campus readership and the overall, general, long-range welfare of the College. The Orient is, after all, a part of the whole — Bowdoin — which exists primarily for the students but which also includes Faculty, Administration Officers, Alumni, and Governing Boards, as well as the peripheral but important groups: parents, community, and friends.

"The Editors are on solid ground when they attack student apathy, when they appeal for greater participation and involvement, and when they introduce and promote columns of literary, musical, and dramatic criticism. They are on thin ice, however, when they publish unsigned blasts (in the form of bold-faced announcements on the sports page), attacking a gentleman who is a Bowdoin coach but whose teams have not satisfied the Editors' standards. (We are still getting questions about that one, incidentally, but most alumni seem sympathetic for the coach and displeased with student irresponsibility.)
"The Editors should have a high degree of 'freedom of the press.' But they should also have a high degree of 'responsibility to the press.' The Editors should put every issue together with the knowledge that it will be read not only by students and faculty in Brunswick but also by many alumni, parents, and other friends of the College, many of whom live far away and have few other contacts with Bowdoin.
"Bowdoin is on the threshold of great things, and the Orient can play an important part in our future development. President 'Casey' Sills used to say that Bowdoin's best days are those that lie ahead. If he was right — as most of us believe — it behooves all of us to work together to make that prophecy come true. Each generation must work to improve the teaching, the learning, the scholarship, the facilities, and the support of alumni and friends if we are to discharge our obligation by building for those who come after us. The Orient can help by reflecting Bowdoin discussions judiciously. It can make certain, too, that the 'outside world' — alumni, parents, friends, and neighbors — gets the correct impression of what's going on 'inside.' In that way Bowdoin will have the moral, physical, and financial help it needs to fulfill its promise for the future."
Mr. Von Hendy — "I think that the editorials are very entertaining, but they seem to follow no consistent policy. I don't pay much attention to them."

FOR THE BEST IN CHOICE TABLE-RITE STEER BEEF GROCERIES — FRUIT AND VEGETABLES SHOP AT LIVERNOIS' IGA 51 HARPSWELL STREET DIAL PA 5-7122

PORTER - SHAW, INC. YOUR NEW FORD DEALER 157 Pleasant St. PA 5-5555 Brunswick SERVICE SPECIALS Fordomatic Transmission — Adjust & Inspect $700 Front End — Aligned & Balanced $1095

Benoit's 120 Maine Street Brunswick Enjoy the Best of NEW YORK ECONOMICALLY COMFORTABLY CONVENIENTLY Good accommodations for young men, groups at $2.00-$2.75 single, $4.20-$4.40 double — Membership Included. Cafeteria, laundry, barber shop, newsstand, laundromat, and tailor in building. Free programs. Tours arranged. WILLIAM SLOANE HOUSE Y.M.C.A. 326 West 58th Street New York, N. Y. 10019 (1 block from Penn. Sta.)

New Tabber Snap The authentic British tab collar. Have a college shirt with the distinctive tab collar minus the nuisance of a brass collar button to hold the tabs in place. The tabs snap together under the tie knot giving you the crisp, clean "mavor faire" look. Try Tabber Snap for a change of pace in striped oxford white and colors. $5.00 ARROW From the "Cam Lade Collection"

Polar Bearings

By Frank Deigman and Al Ryan

Now that the winter sports season is over and the annual lull between winter and spring athletics is here, let us pause a moment to indulge in the ancient game of comparative statistics. Bearing in mind that combinations of numbers can lead to almost any conclusion under skillful manipulation, we ask the reader to forgive our lack of interpretations, and invite him to draw his own conclusions on the information presented below.

The statistics are gathered from the varsity teams only, and are limited to the lettermen of the various groups. Admittedly, a more thorough study would have to include non-lettermen and the freshman teams as well.

The Zeta and Sigma Nu houses had the most lettermen of the winter season with ten each, followed by another tie for second among the Kappa Sigma, Beta, and the AD's — all with eight lettermen to impress credulous sub-freshmen. Last place was shared by the ARU's and the Independents, both organizations boasting (?) one letterman. Significantly, the Beta had the most hockey lettermen with six, with the Zetas (4), AD's (4), and the Sigma Nu's (3), dividing the remaining letterwinners.

If hockey was the most exclusive sport, drawing lettermen from only four houses, track was the most diversified in having eight fraternities represented by the award winners. The Kappa Sigma provided the track team with one third of its lettermen with five.

The swimming squad was dominated by Zetas (with five lettermen) and the basketball team awards were fairly well distributed among the Kappa Sigma, Psi U's, ARU's, Sigma Nu's, and Delta Sigma. Four of the eight rifle team lettermen were Sigma Nu's, and each of the skiing team's five lettermen came from different fraternities.

Twenty-four, or 35.3% of this winter's lettermen, will have graduated in June; the junior and sophomore classes will have twenty-one and twenty-two lettermen back next winter respectively. Basketball will suffer the greatest team loss, with half of this year's lettermen receiving their diplomas, while hockey will not be in a much better position with 47.1% of the lettermen leaving. Coach Sabastanski will lose only 26.6% of his lettermen, and Charlie Butt can happily anticipate having nine of his swimming stars back next year.

With the spring vacation just around the corner the baseball team is preparing for its annual spring tour. Now and in the past this southern trip has proved beneficial to both individual participants and overall team play.

First of all it is a morale builder. The prospect of dragging out early spring in the cage would be a dreary one, if the squad could not anticipate this enjoyable excursion. It also brightens the coach's outlook, giving him an early foundation to work from and an early goal. Secondly, and most important from the spectators point of view, it prepares the team for the regular season. Playing outdoors in warmer weather, gaining game experience, reacquainting former pin-point accuracy, and playing together as a single unit may be a necessary basis for adequate competition, but are impossible to attain in the cage. Finally, the chances of muscle injuries inflicted by Maine's cold weather, are lessened if a team has a chance to play its first games under milder conditions.

Because of these obvious reasons there will be an addition to Bowdoin's southern travelers this year. The lacrosse team, to take advantage of the milder weather and team building competition, has scheduled three games during the vacation. Because the trip is a non-subsidized affair, the squad members living in the Long Island area, where the games are to be played, have made arrangements to house and feed the rest of the team during the three day stay. Both off and on the field teamwork has been united to make this trip possible. With the enthusiasm and cooperation of coaches, players, and even parents shown thus far, all should be a success.

Far more important than the climatic advantages gained, is the fact that a sincere effort to play and improve lacrosse at Bowdoin, even at the personal expense of individuals, has been put forth. All the people concerned should be commended for the dedication, effort and organization contributed to this initial venture. It is this spirit of togetherness and cooperation towards a common goal that makes all athletics worthwhile.

If the results prove gratifying it would be to the advantage of the school in the future to make this an annual affair, and officially subsidize it, at least in part, as so many other schools are now doing.

Pat on the Back: to Pete Seaver for taking a third in the 1500 yard freestyle at the Easterns at Yale.

Lacrosse, Baseball Teams Head South Next Week

It is that time of year again when the hearts of rugged individuals again turn to the many pens of baggy-tailed ("lacrosse" to non-lacrosse). Coach Nels Corey is currently sending the team through regular workouts in the sheltered and rather narrow confines of the cage.

Bowdoin, since the sport was initiated in 1954, has been hampered by the all-too familiar late Maine spring that plagues all spring sports here. The first game has usually been scheduled for the third week of April, a time when most teams have already played at least three games. And on "green turf" in an effort to bypass this obstacle the Athletic Department (through the prodding of Coach Corey) has scheduled a non-subsidized trip to the New York City area for Spring Vacation. The team will then have the advantage of playing three games (Adephi, Stevens Tech, C. W. Post) which will provide valuable experience for the bulk of the 11 name season that begins April 21. Players will be staying at the homes of teammates in the area. It is hoped that the trip will provide successful results so that the College will appropriate funds to make the trip an annual event.

The season is still too young to make any accurate predictions on the possible fortunes of the '53 lacrosse team. The return of 10 lettermen, however, with the addition of 11 members of last year's frosh squad, plus several new initiates to the game, indicate a team that has the potential to improve the 3-4 record of last year. Unfortunately, Co-captain Dave Fernald and Paul Bertr remain intact from the spring trip on account of injuries.

Seven Lettermen Back In Tennis

Prospects for this year's tennis team appear to be excellent. Last year's state series championship team, led by the state's number one player, John Wyman, will be back in its entirety. In all, seven lettermen will be returning. Besides Wyman, they include the state's number two and three players, Seymour Ladd and Woody Silliman, Jim Warren Devereux, Gerald Levinson, Louis Schwartz, and Richard Stuart.

Other varsity players, including some of the school's outstanding freshmen, are Craig Magner, Robert Malloy, Arthur MacDonald, Tom Prior, Fred Stoddard, and Thomas Trior.

Coach Bob Donham stated that "there will definitely be a fight for spots on this year's team."

The team will open against Harvard on April 19 and will play M. S. T. the next day. According to Coach Donham, these will be "our two toughest matches." The team will meet Tufts on April 21, and then will begin its state series play in defense of its title.

The freshman team has an outstanding prospect, this year in Steve Hecht. In high school Steve was the number one junior player in Massachusetts and was ranked fifth in New England. He captained the New England championship Newton High school team. Other freshmen signed up are Ed Bailey, Steve Bloomberg, Steve Kay, Philip McIntire, Mike Richman, and Mick Shatzner.

Vaillancourt Bros. Body Shop
PAINTING — SIMONIZING — WELDING
Free Estimates All Work Guaranteed
We repair foreign as well as American cars
39 JORDAN AVENUE DIAL PA 5-7908

New Meadows Inn
Bath Road HI 3-3921
Hotel Sedgwick
Bath, Maine HI 3-3361
The Best in Foods, Lodging, and Cocktail Lounges

STUDENT PATRONAGE WELCOMED
FIRST NATIONAL BANK
Brunswick, Maine
Member of the Federal Reserve System and Member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

SMALL'S ESSO SERVICENTER
WE SPECIALIZE IN Engine Tune-Up and Wheel Alignment
BATH ROAD PA 9-3740

Track Outlook Good With Encouraging Frosh Performers

Despite a somewhat dismal meet performance due to the cancellation of the Colby contest and a loss at Bates, the Bowdoin varsity track squad came up with some fine and encouraging individual showings in the indoor season. Captain-elect Bruce Frost came into his own this season with a variety of accomplishments including a new school and state mark of 30.4 in the shot, a new Elks Cage record in the discus at 141.4, and a personal best of 64.4 in the 35 pound weight. Added to this were the Magee Trophy, a third in the Section X of C Meet, and a raft of meet records. Captain Jim Fisher won the Elks Cage record for being the most valuable track athlete of the season. Three iron men continually bested by the injury bug (Pete Mone, Dave Pitta, and Bill Round) of solid performance in the dashes, hurdles, relay, and broad jump. A most promising show, which augurs well for the future was provided over these dual meets and will be bolstered by several promising sophomores.

In previous years one of the biggest problems on the southern tour has been the lack of hitting; however, with the acquisition of a pitching machine this year, the hitters have had a good opportunity to get their hitting eyes in shape. This year's team is expected to only carry 19 on its roster for the southern trip, since Bowdoin's real strength this year lies in its depth. Coach MacFayden is in the unique position where he can start either all left-handed or all right-handed teams of almost equal caliber. This situation should be a definite advantage for the Polar Bears in their regular season play.

Coach MacFayden will have his attention primarily focused on the pitching staff, which he thinks should be the key to a successful season. The pitching staff is potentially very strong, with five returning lettermen and several good sophomores. Very Encouraging was the performance of a talented freshman contingent that should help in the future. Distance runners (Yale Chamberlin (4:37 for the mile), Bert Babcock (10:22 for the two mile), and Charlie Kahill (10:00 for the mile) were the stars of the competition this winter. King Hill in the weights and Gil Ekdhall in the heights and high jump came up with two three time titles in most of the meets. Frank Carson improved right along in the middle distances.

Sophomores To Help Golf Team In Coming Season

In spite of the graduation of four of Bowdoin's varsity golf squad, the Polar Bear linksters are anticipating a better than average season. With the return of its only letterman, Jack Milb, the Bowdoin squad will be reinforced with five capable sophomores — Bob Osterhout, Dave Tremlend, Grant Koppman, Fred Flicon and Dave Shaker, who combined last year to give the Bowdoin Frosh an un-

Sign up for Advanced Army ROTC...

And right away, you'll feel better about your Military Obligation...

Because you know, as an officer, your military service will be a stimulating and rewarding experience. You will enjoy the pay, the prestige, the traditional privileges of an officer... your military service can pay off handsomely in later life. For example, ROTC can be tremendously helpful when a man starts his climb up the civilian ladder. Success in the executive areas of business and industry comes earlier and more substantially to the man who can lead. Few are born leaders; but leadership can be learned. And Advanced ROTC is a great place to learn it...

During your 2-year Advanced Army ROTC course, there will be a subsistence allowance of $535. Uniforms and military textbooks are paid for. There is a $117 allowance for your six-week summer camp training, plus travel allowance. And when you're commissioned, a $300 uniform allowance.

And then, of course, there is the warm sense of accomplishment you will feel in June 1954 when the gold bars of a Second Lieutenant are pinned on your Army uniform.

Swimmers End Season As Seaver Takes Third

Bowdoin's 400 Yd. Freestyle Relay Team, a consistent winner this year, is comprised of (from left to right) Dick Merrill, Lenay Lee, Jim Coots, and Boyd Finck. All but Coots, next year's Captain-elect, are seniors whose loss will be felt.

The 1961-1962 Bowdoin College varsity swim team ended the year with a record of eight wins and no losses, completing its first undefeated season since 1952.

Coach Charlie East, former Springfield College swimming captain and All-American soccer player, in his first year at the helm, piloted the Polar Bears to seven new college records since a New England record in the 400 yd. medley relay. The team compiled a season total of 476 points surpassing the former record by 85 points. Six out of eight wins were accomplished without the leadership of captain Curt Tilton, defending New England Champion, who was injured in an automobile accident during Christmas vacation. Curt is now convalescing at his home.

Coach Butt acknowledges that next year's team, under captain-elect Jim Coots, will have trouble filling the spots vacated by this year's seniors. Freestyle sprinter will be especially weak with the departure of Boyd Finch, Lenay Lee, and Dick Merrill, all of whom have been part of the nucleus of the team for the past three years. The loss of breaststroker Walt Davis and all-around swimmer Chip Hastings, who have both gained points in almost every event in their three years of varsity competition, will be heavily felt. With the loss of these men the two record-breaking relay teams will be seriously handicapped next year.

At the Eastern Seaboard Intercollegiate Championships held at Yale University, Bowdoin's Pete Seaver captured third place in the 1000 meters freestyle with a time of 18:47, an excellent showing against stiff competition. Pete missed qualifying for the 440 by one-tenth of a second while turning in his second sub four minute forty-second time in a week. Tom Merrill out in a fine showing by placing 90th in the one meter diving competition. Among those that

OPERA HOUSE

Rock Hudson - Doris Day
TONY RANDALL
"LOVER COME BACK"
EDIE ADAMS JACK OAKIE
Note - Love Come Back Not shown Saturday Matinee
Sat. Mat. Special Kiddie's Show at 2 P.M.
5 B&G CARTOONS
plus "SECRETS OF MONTE CARLO"

A. Paquette
Fine Shoe Repairing by Modern Methods
Cushing Street Shopping Center

PHIL'S MEN'S STORE
78 Maine Street, Brunswick

The Arts Center
NEW POLICY
ALL PHONOGRAPH RECORDS at DISCOUNT PRICES
JAZZ — CLASSICAL — FOLK — POPULAR
See our complete selection of Travel Posters and Fine Art Reproductions at $1.99

STUDENT PATRONAGE WELCOMED
FIRST NATIONAL BANK
Brunswick, Maine
Member of the Federal Reserve System and Member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

SMALL'S ESSO SERVICENTER
WE SPECIALIZE IN Engine Tune-Up and Wheel Alignment
BATH ROAD PA 9-3740

New Schedule For WBOR Announced

WBOR Station Manager Peter M. O'Neil recently announced the new program schedule for the college radio station. The general schedule for WBOR programming is as follows: 11:00 p.m. to 1:00 p.m. — classical music; 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. — rock and roll; 3:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. — special events; 5:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. — jazz and folk music. Following is the entire week's schedule in detail: SUNDAY: 11:00-1:00 — Bill Eastman; 1:00-3:00 — Bill Eastman; 3:00-5:00 — Bill Eastman; 5:00-11:00 — Bill Eastman. MONDAY: 11:00-1:00 — Bill Eastman; 1:00-3:00 — Bill Eastman; 3:00-5:00 — Bill Eastman; 5:00-11:00 — Bill Eastman. TUESDAY: 11:00-1:00 — Bill Eastman; 1:00-3:00 — Bill Eastman; 3:00-5:00 — Bill Eastman; 5:00-11:00 — Bill Eastman. WEDNESDAY: 11:00-1:00 — Bill Eastman; 1:00-3:00 — Bill Eastman; 3:00-5:00 — Bill Eastman; 5:00-11:00 — Bill Eastman. THURSDAY: 11:00-1:00 — Bill Eastman; 1:00-3:00 — Bill Eastman; 3:00-5:00 — Bill Eastman; 5:00-11:00 — Bill Eastman. FRIDAY: 11:00-1:00 — Bill Eastman; 1:00-3:00 — Bill Eastman; 3:00-5:00 — Bill Eastman; 5:00-11:00 — Bill Eastman. SATURDAY: 11:00-1:00 — Bill Eastman; 1:00-3:00 — Bill Eastman; 3:00-5:00 — Bill Eastman; 5:00-11:00 — Bill Eastman.

Daggett At Parley

A Bowdoin professor will help inaugurate a new program by the Maine Department of Education to keep its staff members better informed of changing times and trends. Professor Daggett, Chairman of the Department of Government and Legal Studies, spoke before members of the State Education Department's staff and invited guests Monday morning in the State Office Building at Augusta. Professor Daggett commented on current events, the world situation, and the implications for the United States as he views them. He discussed the UN, NATO and the Alliance for Progress.

New Placement Booklet Published By College

How shall I go about choosing a career? This many-sided problem, which so vexes the average college student, is analyzed in a newly published College brochure. The brochure, titled "Placement Services at Bowdoin College," was written by Mr. Ladd, Placement Bureau director, and marks the first time a booklet of this nature has been issued by the bureau. Under numerous section headings, the attractive booklet — illustrated by Mrs. Margaret Stanwood, a college secretary — explains such factors as a "Career Planning Time Table," "Knowing Yourself," "Procedures," "Interviews," "Resumes," "Letters of Application," and others. "Job study is a four year program," the brochure says in its "Career Planning Time Table" section, which urges students to begin thinking of their eventual careers in their freshman year. Guide points and advice on various aspects of job consideration are listed for the freshman, sophomore, junior and senior years. An important section, "Knowing Yourself," suggests that the student make a careful appraisal of his own "assets and liabilities." A self-inventor, the brochure says, should help the student decide on his career and answer "many of the questions you will encounter on job applications." Offering a general breakdown of four main job classifications, a section headed "Know About Jobs" declares, "Ask yourself what kind of work you desire and why... The employer will expect you have some reasons for your selection and why you consider yourself qualified." Under "Procedures," the booklet discusses placement registration for seniors, alumni use of the Placement Service and summer job assistance for undergraduates. A good deal of space is devoted to interviews and interview preparation. In the job interview, the brochure cautions, "A friendly smile is one of your important assets." Cues are given for conduct of the student when he sits down with a recruiter. "Remember," the booklet says, "during an interview, you are trying to sell yourself and the interviewer is trying to sell an opportunity and his company to you." Among factors blamed for interview failures in a survey, the brochure reports, were: Poor personal appearance, overbearing, condescending, "know-it-all" attitudes, inability of self-expression, lack of purpose or goal, lack of interest in student activities, and overemphasis on money. Suggestions are given for preparation of a resume, or application record, and the brochure offers a reference list of vocational publications.

College Given Papers Of Late Dr. Langmuir

A 12-volume collection of the scientific papers of the late Dr. Irving Langmuir, eminent General Electric Company physicist, has been given to the college by General Electric, Schenectady, N. Y. The papers span the nearly 50-year career of Dr. Langmuir with G.E., where he was head of the research laboratory. Dr. Langmuir died in 1957. The collection, published by Pergamon Press, London, represents his work as a chemist, physicist and in the applied sciences. Professor Root said the works will be used as references in class studies.

Granite Farm DAIRY

For All Your Dairy Product Needs Brunswick, Maine Dial PA 9-3422

Drigotas Honored

The Bowdoin Athletic League of New York has announced establishment of a Bowdoin scholarship in honor of the late Charles B. Connor, a former president of the League and a member of the College's Board of Overseers. President Coles said the first Connor Scholar will be Frank M. Drigotas, Jr., a member of the Class of 1964. Drigotas, first recipient of the scholarship, entered Bowdoin as an Alumni Fund Scholar and currently holds a Winfield S. Hutchinson Scholarship. He has also held a Charles Irwin Travell Award, given to students "of high character and scholastic standing whose participation in extracurricular activities and whose 'campus citizenship' have contributed significantly to Bowdoin." As a freshman, Drigotas was awarded numerals in football and track. Last fall, as a sophomore, he started at end for Bowdoin's varsity football team. He is a Delta Phi Fraternity and a current co-sports editor of the Oriole.

Yamashita And Craig Receive Scholarships

President Coles announced last Thursday that two students have been selected to receive the first grants from the newly established George B. Knox Scholarship Fund. The students, both on the Dean's List, are Gary A. Yamashita '63 and John E. Craig '62. The Knox Scholarship Fund was created with a gift to Bowdoin by Mr. and Mrs. George B. Knox of Los Angeles. Mr. Knox is a College Overseer and graduate in the Class of 1929. Preference in awarding the scholarships goes to students from California and the Pacific Coast. Yamashita, who is majoring in mathematics, is president of his class and a member of Phi Upsilon Fraternity. He has played football at Bowdoin for three years, winning his letter last season. Craig, a history major, is secretary of White Key, the Bowdoin interfraternity athletic council. He has won letters in cross country and numerals in track. He is a member of Theta Delta Chi Fraternity co-sports editor of the Oriole.

Ladd Cites Opportunities

Employment opportunities and starting salaries for 1962 college graduates are exceeding those of a year ago, the Director of the Placement Bureau said recently. Mr. Ladd commented on an article he wrote for the current issue of the quarterly "Journal of College Placement." Mr. Ladd, who consulted placement directors of neighboring educational institutions for their views on the subject, said it is expected that "individual business firms will make more offers per visit" this year. Beside increased job opportunities for seniors, he wrote, salaries will advance slightly and most personnel directors look for a "closing of the gap between technical and nontechnical" wages. The stepped-up military demand and heightened interest in graduate schooling this year is reducing the number of seniors available for immediate employment. Favorable opportunities in engineering, retailing, insurance and banking exist, Mr. Ladd said, and "accounting majors this year are much in demand."

Skating Club Presents Show On March 24, 25

The Skating Club of Brunswick and the Bowdoin Arena will present their fifth annual ice show at the Arena on March 24 and 25. This year's production is entitled "Ball Aveling" and will feature a cast of 100 accomplished skaters in a sequence of colorful numbers which will depict various aspects of a gay Mediterranean cruise. The show, sanctioned by the United States Figure Skating Association, will open at 8 p.m. Saturday, March 24. A second performance is scheduled for the same time the following night. There will be a $1 admission charge. Tickets may be purchased in advance from club members or through the Athletic Office. "WITH THE APPOINTMENT of a 'colossal production,' so aptly directed from the White House, a step has been taken toward the internationalization of art in America; and the harmonious process, by its very nature, makes for a beautiful, a harmonious, depend on it, they say would have lived through the ages to posterity." — From the special issue of NATIONAL REVIEW, W.F. How from 1959, 1961, 1962, New York, N.Y.

Parkview Cleaners and Parkview Laundercenter "The Home Of Better Cleaning" 3 HOUR SERVICE AT THE CLEANERS No worry about lost clothing at the laundercenter when you do it yourself. OPEN 24 HOURS A DAY

Let us help you plan your printing as well as produce it... Our long experience in producing the following and other kinds of printing for Bowdoin men can show you short cuts in time and save you money. TICKETS • POSTERS • STATIONERY ALUMNI LETTERS • FRATERNITY FORMS THE RECORD OFFICE Paul K. Niven Stuart Sabean Printers Of The Orient

Kennebec Fruit Co. Newspapers — Magazines Cigarettes — Pipes — Tobacco Ice Cold Beverages OPEN SEVEN DAYS A WEEK 142 Maine Street

KING'S BARBER SHOP NEXT TO CAMPUS Bowdoin's Favorite Barbers SIX — BARBERS — SIX

Dear Val Dear Val FRIENDS AT The Stone House Maine's Finest Historic Inn Main Room 50 Rooms FEDERAL STREET BRUNSWICK, MAINE

PICK THE RIGHT ONE... THE BRACING BRIGHT ONE! PEPSI-COLA Auburn-Portland, Maine

The HOTEL EAGLE DINING ROOM EAGLE'S NEST LOUNGE Comfortable Accommodations PRIVATE DINING ROOM AVAILABLE FOR PARTIES CALL PA 5-5591

MOULTON UNION BOOKSTORE United Nations Sweat Shirts $2.95

Smith Photo Shop 146 Maine Street, Brunswick Photo Supplies Hallmark Greeting Cards Contemporary Cards CUMBERLAND THEATER Brunswick, Maine Fri-Sat-Sun-Mon-Tue. Mar. 23-24-25-26-27 5 DAYS 5 LOVER COME BACK with Derv's Day — Rock Hudson Wed.-Thurs. Mar. 28-29 INNOCENTS with Deborah Kerr Michael Redgrave Fri-Sat. Mar. 30-31 HITLER with Richard Basehart Cordula Trantow Sun.-Mon.-Tue. Apr. 1-2-3 MAJORITY OF ONE with Rosalind Russell Alec Guinness

How would you forecast your next few years? Today, the young man planning his life realizes as never before that in today's world his own future is tied inevitably to America's future. How can he serve both? Many college graduates, both men and women, are finding a rewarding answer on the Aerospace Team — as officers in the U.S. Air Force. Here is a career that is compelling in its challenge and opportunity. And it is a way of life that holds the unsurpassed satisfactions that come with service to country. As a college student, how can you become an Air Force Officer? If you have not completed Air Force ROTC, Officer Training School provides an opportunity to qualify for a variety of vitally needed jobs in the Aerospace Age. A graduate of this three-month course earns a commission as a second lieutenant. Also open to college men is the Navigator Training program. For full information—including the chance to obtain graduate degrees at Air Force expense—see the Air Force Selection Team when it visits your college. Or write: Officer Career Information, Dept. SC23, Box 805, New York 1, N. Y. U.S. Air Force FOR AMERICA'S FUTURE AND YOUR OWN... JOIN THE AEROSPACE TEAM.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES SALUTE: JACK MACLEAN Jack Maclean is a Computer Operations Supervisor in a Bell Telephone Electronic Accounting Center. Jack sees to it that his team of people and machines keeps accurate tabs on over 150,000 customer statements and an equal number of toll tickets. And soon, instead of 150,000 statements, the Center will handle 300,000! A lot of responsibility for a young engineer just three years out of college. Jack Maclean of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, and other young engineers like him in Bell Telephone Companies throughout the country, help bring the finest communications service in the world to the homes and businesses of a growing America. BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES TELEPHONE MAN-OF-THE-MONTH