PREFACE

Students created the Journal of Law, Technology & the Internet to provide academics, practitioners, and students with a forum to discuss topics relating to technology and the law. The Journal of Law, Technology & the Internet also provides its student editors with rigorous academic research and writing experiences that expose them to a wide variety of topics; the breadth of our subject matter is tremendous, ranging from scientific and social to commercial and political, on scales from the subatomic to the universal.

Furthermore, articles published in the Journal of Law, Technology & the Internet are peer-reviewed. Our peer-review process is used to ensure quality, accuracy, and that all our articles meaningfully advance legal scholarship. We thank the entire Case Western Reserve University School of Law community, especially the Center for Law, Technology & the Arts and Professor Raymond Ku, Professor Craig Nard, and Professor Jacqueline Lipton.
