Campus Chest Activities Continue

Plans Include Student-Faculty Show, Demas Dinner, Car Wash, Penny Mile, Auction and Food Sales

There are still several activities remaining this week to wind up the Campus Chest Drive. Co-chairmen Bitsy Lamberton and Bill Graver told the WEEKLY that they would like to urge all members of the Ursinus community to join in as many as possible of the remaining activities.

Sororities will sponsor the following functions: Omega Chi will hold an auction on the steps of Freeland; Phi Upsilon will shine shoes or wash those dirty sneakers; Tau Sig is running the Paisley food concession on weekends; Sig Nu is selling baked goods; and KDK is selling soft pretzels, mustard included.

Tomorrow evening the brothers of Demas will serve dinner in the dining room. There will be additions to the regular fare, and all money donated as tips will be forwarded to the Campus Chest treasury.

The Penny Mile Contest will be held Wednesday after lunch.

The brothers of APO will sponsor a car wash at Nace's this Saturday from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., with the proceeds going to the Campus Chest. The cost is $1.25 per car with 25 cents extra charge for white-walls.

The annual Student-Faculty Show, which will climax the Campus Chest Drive at Ursinus, will be held on this Saturday in the T-G Gym. Directors Meridy Murphy and Anne Thorburn report that production is well under way.

The theme of the show is "Folk Jamboree." Many of the acts will feature folk music. Acts by Phi Psi and Sig Nu as well as a skit by the women day students and a specialty surprise act by the Beardwood "Ground-hogs" are planned. Certain faculty members are to play a part in the show also. At intermission a professional auctioneer, Ray Karpp, will conduct the traditional auction.

State to Complete Repair Work on Rt. 422 in Spring

According to reports from officials of the Penna. State Highway Department, the completion of repair work on Route 422 will get underway this spring as soon as the weather becomes suitable.

The Route 422 work was scheduled suddenly last year following outraged protests of motorists, government officials and police along the route. The deteriorating condition of the highway was blamed for inconvenience, auto damage and even collisions.

NO SMOKING

Students are requested not to smoke in the stacks and basement of the library. Smoking in the library is not only a violation of college rules; it is also a violation of the fire regulations of the Borough of Collegeville.

UCC Region Office Opens on Campus

Offices of the new Pennsylvania Southeast Conference of the United Church of Christ were recently opened on the second floor of 620 Main Street (Levegood Hall) by the Rev. Paul T. Slinghoff, D. D.

Location of the new Conference office on the Ursinus campus has ample precedent in the former Evangelical and Reformed Church. Hood College and Catawba College also have district offices on their campuses. All three campuses are historically related to the present UCC.

"Staring Match" Named Spring Play; Matusow, DeBeer, Murphy in Cast

The Curtain Club will soon go into rehearsal for the Spring Play, entitled "The Staring Match," which will be presented Spring Festival weekend, Friday and Saturday evenings, May 10 and 11.

This play takes place in a rural community during a drought. Linus Hobbs and his wife attend a meeting of the neighboring people in the local school house to pray for rain. During the meeting two men, first Mr. White and then Mr. Black, appear. Each claims to be an angel; each knows everyone's name; and each offers to dig a well. The people must now decide which is the angel and which is the devil so that they do not "endanger their souls."

The Cast

Director Betsi Thompson told the Weekly that the following people have received parts in the play: male leads—Don Matusow, Roy DeBeer, Larry Meyers, John Piston; female lead—Meridy Murphy; other players—Linda Potteiger, Jon Zizelman, Ginny Yates and Denny Wilson. Understudies are Jeanne Dawson, Barbara Cranmer, Lin McMullin and Neil Edgell. Committee chairmen are, staging—Anne Thorburn; publicity—Bill Lundgren; production and lighting—Jim Barrett; and make-up—Calvin Moyer.

Monday Morning Watch to be Held During Lent

Each Monday morning during Lent there will be a Morning Watch in Freeland Reception Room from 7:30 until 7:50 a.m. The brief and informal program consists of a Scripture reading, prayer and a meditation concerning one of the "Personalities of the Crucifixion."

The program starts after breakfast and will be over in time for those with eight o'clock classes to get to them.

PSEA Plans Film Tomorrow Evening

The PSEA will show a film in room 7 of Bomberger tomorrow evening beginning at 6:45 p.m. The film, which will be in color, is entitled "Freedom to Learn." A teacher, the target of community gossip based on misinformation, tells how and why controversial issues are taught in the classroom.

A short business meeting will precede the showing of the film.

Summer Job Guide Now Available

The 1963 Summer Employment Directory contains a comprehensive list of 1,485 organizations throughout the United States which want to hire college students this summer. Specific jobs with salary, name of employing official, and suggested procedure for making application are given.

The jobs are found at summer camps, resorts, national parks, summer theaters, hospitals, ranches, restaurants, pools and beaches, various departments of the government, business and industry, and other places. There are jobs for all classmen, freshmen through graduate; in addition, juniors, seniors, and graduate students can find summer jobs in their field of study.

Employers are included in the directory at their own request, and they invite students to make application directly to them.

The new Summer Employment Directory may be obtained by sending $3 to the National Directory Service, Dept. C, Box 32065, Cincinnati 32, Ohio. The College Placement Office also has a copy.

Political Film Planned Tomorrow Night by Young Republicans

Tomorrow night the Ursinus Young Republican Club will show a motion picture entitled "Political Trends of the Future." The film will begin at 8 p.m. in room S-12 of Pfahler.

President Dennis Krauss told the Weekly that this film is part of the club's 1962-63 drive to present informative political programs to the student body. Every student is invited to attend.

ICG Convention Held Saturday

The Southeast Region of the Intercollegiate Conference on Government held its annual regional convention at Ursinus this past Saturday.

Meeting as a constitutional revision convention on the Pennsylvania Constitution of 1873, the morning session was broken up into nine committees, each one dealing with one of the major topics of the Constitution. Each delegate present was assigned to a committee in an even distribution arrangement. The delegates each presented an idea for possible revision or addition to the present constitution. The committees debated the revisions and additions using parliamentary procedure. Each committee then wrote the article of the constitution dealing with its topic on the basis of its discussions.

The afternoon session was a General Assembly debate devoted to the reports of each committee following the election of a chairman and a secretary. Thomas Burke of Villanova University was elected Chairman and Marion Burns of Immaculata College was elected Secretary. During the afternoon session, many recommendations were made for changes in the present Pennsylvania Constitution.

Archaeologist Gordon Speaks At Forum Wednesday Night

Dr. Cyrus H. Gordon, professor of Near Eastern studies and chairman of the department of Mediterranean Studies at Brandeis University, Waltham, Mass., will be the speaker at the Forum program beginning at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the chapel. His topic will be "Adventures of an Archaeologist," and his address will be followed by a question and discussion period.

Dr. Cyrus H. Gordon will speak on "Adventures of an Archaeologist" Wednesday night at the Forum.

Before going to the Brandeis University faculty, Dr. Gordon was professor of Assyriology and Egyptology at Dropsie College, Philadelphia, and had previously taught at the University of Pennsylvania, Johns Hopkins University, and Smith College. He was a University of Pennsylvania classmate of Professor Allan Lake Rice.

Dr. Gordon spent many years in the Near East as an archaeologist, 1931-35 as a field worker with the American Schools of Oriental Research in Jerusalem and Baghdad, and in 1957, 1958, and 1961 conducted his own explorations in Israel, Cyprus, Crete and Cythera. He served in the US Air Force, 1942-46, part of which time he was on duty in the Near East, and since 1961 he holds a colonel's commission in the Air Force Reserve.

The lecturer is a native of Philadelphia, and is one of the great present-day American-Jewish scholars. He received his bachelor's, master's and doctor of philosophy degrees from the University of Pennsylvania in the three-year period 1927-30. He has written at least 10 books on Old Testament and linguistic subjects, his latest published in 1962 entitled Before the Bible: The Common Background of Greek and Hebrew Civilization.

Process Underway to Select UC's College Bowl Team

The Ursinus College Debating Club has been given the authority to begin preliminary preparations for a College Bowl team to represent Ursinus on the CBS television series. The club plans to start an intramural program toward the end of this year to give students an opportunity to become acquainted with the procedures of the program.

Next year a preliminary test will be given for those interested in participating on such a team. This test is designed to narrow the number of those on the team to workable number, possibly 10. Further eliminations will then take place after the college is given a date to appear on the program.

Fred Yocum, President of the Debating Club, told the Weekly that he is happy to learn that the college is working toward appearing on the College Bowl, but emphasized that student enthusiasm and participation is of the utmost importance, if the College is to have a successful team.

Political Intern Program Offered as Summer Work

Applications for internships in practical politics for the summer and fall of 1963 are now being accepted by the Pennsylvania Center for Education in Politics.

PCEP, which is located at Franklin and Marshall College, is offering three types of internships for students interested in political participation.

One type of internship will be set up for a period of eight weeks with Congressmen from

Is Taxation Necessary?

Taxation Topic of Panel Discussion Held Last Week

A lively and spirited panel discussion was held on the topic of "Taxation: Pseudonym for Robbery" last Wednesday evening in Bomberger Chapel. Sponsored by the public affairs commission of the Ursinus YM-YWCA, those on the panel included Dr. Donald Zucker and G. Sieber Pancoast of the political science department; Dr. James Boswell, Professor of Economics, Emeritus; Dr. Baker of the classics department, and Mr. Robert Gottshall, an area realtor and former Ursinus student.

Principal Conflict

The principal conflict of the evening was whether taxation should be compulsory for those who derive no benefit from it, or whether those who get no benefit should be exempt from such taxes. Dr. Boswell suggested that the robbing of the rich to feed the poor in the Robin Hood sense was what our tax structure had developed into and that he was against it. Dr. Zucker took the view that if the majority willed it through the proper rules—in other words, the laws and constitution—then the minority, or those who object, should acquiesce to pay their share.

Early in the program Dr. Zucker stated that we should all accept the ground rules of democracy. Dr. Boswell retorted that "I couldn't talk when I started in." Dr. Zucker drove home his point by showing that in our society you "Can't pick up your marbles and go home."

Taxes Necessary

The end result of the discussion was that the panel gen-

EDITORIAL

Should the "Weekly" Crusade?

There are those who would have the WEEKLY become a crusading newspaper. Strike out against the nasty old Administration, they cry. Strike out against the students in their complacency. Strike out against everything. They would have us become an angry young man.

How sophomoric, we say, in rebuttal. For we, too, have gone through this stage. We, too, have been in the past disillusioned with much at Ursinus. We, too, have sought to vent our anger over the heads of administrators, of students, of the world in general.

Certainly, there is much that is wrong with Ursinus. For that matter, there is much that is wrong with the world. We fear that these vocal students would have Ursinus become an ideal little community, geared to the whims and wishes of each dissatisfied student, wholly uncognizant of the fact that our little community, imperfect though it may be, offers satisfactory preparation for the world of hard knocks outside.

Granted, as we said before, there are many facets of campus life which merit improvement, which cry out for remedy. But little is accomplished by idealistic criticism, by striking out blindly, through every organizational voice offered the students. A wise reformer would tell us that reforms are instituted from within, that reforms take time, that reforms must be approached with a conservative attitude lest we find those whom we seek to reform turned against us, suspicious of our hasty suggestions and generalizations.

We are amused by those who feel that they, at the age of twenty years, have the solutions to our problems, by those who feel that they, God-given reformers, have such brilliant and workable solutions to problems which have been under surveillance from the higher echelon for 10 these many years. Onward and upward, they cry, stumbling over the obstacles which their uplifted eyes cannot see. Fight for reforms, they rally, their swords dulled by slicing the clouds of idealism.

In time, we trust, they will see that the shackles which time and imperfect conditions place on us hinder the enactment of sought-after reforms, limit our avenues of solution. In time they will realize that it takes more than a few idle suggestions, ideal as they may appear, to remedy our ills. In the meantime we say, relax—relax and enjoy the good, the really good, aspects of campus life. Seek not, angry young men, to correct that which you do not understand. Await the time when maturity will soften your anger, and insight will lead you to work from within for these reforms which your sophomoric eyes look up to.

We Get So Many Letters...

Dear Feature Staff:

Left out of your set of multiple-choice answers for improved library hours was what I consider the most important time: between five and six on week-day afternoons.

Under the present oppressive system, one no sooner arrives, bookladen, takes off his coat, finds the right spot in his notebook, and manages to become engrossed in the work at hand—than STEP ONE the library assistants move like risen spectres to straighten chairs STEP TWO ceiling lights begin to flick off with a vengeance

STEP THREE one is ominously politely ominously shooed.

Rigid, arbitrary compartmentalization of time makes no adequate provision for concentrated studying. The closed-at-five o'clock regulation looks like nothing so much as a tactic designed to compel us to forfeit an hour of excellent study time.

Hosteling Activities Lead To Exciting Experiences

by Hildegarde Wieneke

Hosteling has provided me with many exciting experiences ever since I became a junior member when I was 12 years old. That was in Germany; there our school organized small groups of boys and girls under the leadership of an adult.

Power to Choose Right or Wrong is God's Gift to Man

by Cindy Morris

How can a righteous God permit so much evil and suffering in the world? This is the question asked time and time again by believers and non-believers alike. Many times there is an unsatisfactory answer; often no answer at all. One can explore the famous arguments and proofs for the existence of God and read the philosophies of Aristotle, Descartes, Kant, and others and still not be any closer to the answer.

I believe we can begin to find an answer that is intellectually satisfactory by looking at the wisdom of the ancient Hebrew prophets. They, too, held the conviction that God was all-good, but that He did not abolish the moral laws of life for any favorites. The ancient prophets said, in effect, to the people of Israel, "God has established natural laws in the universe and He expects them to operate. He has also given you consciences and minds, and he expects you to use them. If you abuse them He will not set His world topsy-turvy in order to rescue you from the consequences of your deeds."

Deep Wisdom

There is deep wisdom in this message. We cannot expect God to be a father wheedled into (Continued on page 4)

Last year in France, near Dijon, I was guest in the most spacious youth hostel I have ever seen. A little triangular youth hostel sign pointed down a road in the woods. The road ended at a moat. To the clanging of a bell, the drawbridge clattered down.

That night there were hostellers in a massive fortress of 200 rooms. Among the 10 were a Swedish professor, an American student from Washington, D. C., an engineer and his wife from Holland, two German graduate students and a number of French students. The hostel father was a graduate student from Dijon and he insisted on taking us on a tour of the hostel, even though we were bone tired from clambering over Romanesque castles during the day.

With Flashlights

So we went through the labyrinthine fortress with flashlights. It had been built by Napoleon and there were additions during the first and second world wars to accommodate modern war equipment. Now it all stood empty under the blazing start. The hostel was in the smallest rooms, formerly the officers' quarters. The place was so big and strange that the Dutch girl got lost on the way back from the girls' washroom.

Shortly after 1900 some teachers and professors in Germany saw a great need for inexpensive, supervised accommodations for traveling students and (Continued on page 4)

Pennsylvania in their offices in Washington, D. C. Students will be paid at a rate of $60 per week. This internship will begin on June 10 or as soon thereafter as possible.

Former Participants

Among those Congressmen participating in last summer's internship program were Senators Hugh Scott and Joseph S. Clark and Congressmen Herman Toll, William W. Scranton, George M. Rhodes, George A. Goodling, and Herman J. Schneebeli.

A second type of internship will be in selected Pennsylvania counties in the county headquarters from mid-August through November 5. Work will be full time from mid-August until about September 13. From that time until the end of the campaign, the interne will be expected to spend 12 to 15 hours per week in the program. Compensation will be $375 for the entire period.

The third type of internship can be arranged in the offices of pressure groups or elected officials. Arrangements for such internships are subject to PCEP approval.

All three types of internships are open to students not graduating in June, 1963. Those graduating in June, 1963, may not apply for county internships.

The internship program is not restricted to those majoring in political science.

Out-of state students are encouraged to make inquiries of their Congressmen in regard to internships. PCEP will attempt to aid any student receiving encouragement from his Congressman.

Peek Around the Campus

by Carl Peek

"Peeking" around the campus one can find many paradoxes. For example, we are told that being a student is a full-time job, yet we are encouraged to support this, that or the other thing by participation in it; we are told that truth is the ultimate goal of the educated person, in reality we learn that truth, in many matters, goes only to a few; we are told we are adults now, yet notice how many rules and regulations suggest the opposite; we are told that academic excellence is our goal—that marks are secondary, but we are graded with percentage points.

We complain about school spirit, yet the sophs, for example, can't get 25 people to a class meeting; we complain about food, but our food is the best institutional food most of us have tasted; we say we live in a cultural desert, but how many people attend forums, student concerts, etc. Paradoxes are interesting.

Hal Fullam, a sophomore class representative to the MSGA, upon his recent election to that post says he feels that the MSGA should have more power. The MSGA should be a student government organization or it shouldn't exist at all. Many of us feel this way. What's going to happen?

erally agreed that taxes in some form were, of course, necessary, but generally the feeling was one of "We'll stick it out with a grin." A general desire for reduction of taxes was expressed. Dr. Pancoast ended the panel activity before questions were received from the floor, with a quote from Woodrow Wilson which pointed out the need for something to grumble about, and taxes served that purpose nicely.

If the answer is yes (i.e., unscrambled the words mean: "it was raining cats and dogs"), you are capable of reading regular type sentences anywhere from 3 to 10 times faster than you presently do! Which is terribly slow. About 300 words per minute is average for students. About 1500 is average for us. the PRESSBOX

by Carol Taney
Associate Sports Editor

Each year as the new freshman class is introduced to the various organizations on campus, the Women's Athletic Association adds its two cents to the propaganda. The goal of the WAA, supposedly, is to promote the interests of women's athletics here on campus. This seems to be a worthy enough goal to most people who take time out in their college years to discover the activities in which a member of the organization may participate.

Recently there has been much undue criticism of the WAA, which has come from a few who probably could not even name all the officers and who most likely could not care less. As is the fate of many good organizations, the selfishness of a few has spoiled a good thing for the WAA.

In a recent Stauffer dorm meeting a minority of apathetic and immature young "ladies" announced that any debt from the annual candy sale in the dorm should be assumed by the WAA, since it is the responsibility of "any business corporation" to assume its debts no matter how much service the organization has given in the past. In other years, it has been the policy of the dorms to provide for such a "misplacement" of funds, but this is a new twist to an old tune. It now seems to be the thing to do to get as much for free as one can without getting caught. Since one floor alone accumulated a debt of $8.82, thanks to some light-fingered coeds, the once appreciated service of the WAA is being denied to all.

All-Star Intramural Teams Named

Santucci, Bernstein, Degenhardt, Hakanson and Kohr Place on 1st Team; 2nd Team has Six Men

The Intramural Council's Second Annual All-Star Teams were chosen last week, with Tom Santucci and Mike Bernstein of the Champion Delta Mu Sigma squad receiving the most accolades. The remaining members of the All-Intramural First Team were Leber-South's Bill Degenhardt and Al Hakanson, and Sig Rho's Dave Kohr.

Bernstein tied for the League scoring title with 201 points, while Santucci was especially effective in the important clashes. He sparked the crucial win over Sig Rho with 27 points. Degenhardt ranks as the top defensive operator in a scoring-conscious league while Hakanson has no peers as a rebounder. Kohr was a consistent scorer throughout the year, as may be attested by his league leading 23.8 average.

Second Team
The All-Intramural Second Team consisted of six men. Steve Wurster (Fett-724) had a 20.4 average and Don Zulick (APES) a 15.7 Rich Hermann and Bill Cooper provided the board strength for the Curtis I team. Wally Knight (Maples) and Tony Sermarini (APES) were persistent all-around operators.

As has been the custom, the Council also selected all-Fraternity and All-Dormitory squads.

Netwomen Outplay Immaculata, Bow to West Chester

The Ursinus women's basketball team pushed their season's record to 4 and 1 by whipping Immaculata 49-41 on the Immaculata court last Tuesday. The women were paced by Karen Kohn's 34 points, scored mostly on jumpshots a few feet in front of the basket.

Both teams played a controlled game with Immaculata running quick plays off a pivot and defensively, a box zone. Ursinus employed set patterns offensively and an aggressive man-to-man defense which enabled them to make many key interceptions. Junior June Ritting played a fine defensive game with numerous interceptions and rebounds.

Only Real Threat
The third quarter presented Ursinus with its only real threat of the evening as Immaculata closed to within one point, 34-33. But the Ursinus women quickly regained their composure and by the final buzzer had the game well in hand.

The JV's also picked up a win to bring their record to 5 and 1. At the end of the regulation game, the score was knotted at 36-36. During the two minute overtime, Ursinus pulled out the victory as Judy Stitley scored a foul shot which provided the winning point. Marion Meade copped high-scoring honors with 29 points, while Judy Tignor with 12 and Carol Taney with 10 markers, added to the winning cause.

Unfortunately the winning streak was not sustained, as arch-rival West Chester invaded the home court Thursday and walked away with a hard-earned victory, 41-40. Fighting back from a five-point half-time deficit, Ursinus rallied numerous times in the second half, only to have the lead shift back again due to timely West Chester baskets. With but 50 seconds showing on the clock, Ursinus, down 3 points (39-36), put on a last minute rally, only to be stifled by West Chester's ball-freezing tactics.

Karen Kohn was again high scorer with 16 counters, followed by Sue Day with 8 and Diane Regester with 7.

Jayvees Lose, Too
The JV's also succumbed to their West Chester rivals by a score of 50-45. Trailing at the half by 15 points, their fourth quarter rally fell short, and their season tally went to 5 and 2.

Bill Scholl (Demas) and Denny Beacher (Maples) tied for high individual game honors with 38 points, while Maples 104-44 victory over Beta Sig was the greatest margin of difference. Curtis II had the stingiest defense, allowing a mere 46.3 points a game, while Demas and Maples had the most prolific offenses.

Mermaids Defeat Bryn Mawr Team

The Ursinus women's swimming team boosted its record to 4 wins, no defeats, and one tie this past week, as the girls turned back Bryn Mawr, 44½-21½. Sue Honeysett continued to pace the team when she swam to a first-place finish in both the free style and the butterfly.

Carol Aldinger captured a first in the back stroke; Bonnie Fisher took a first in the diving, followed by Joan Kleinhoff in a tight second place. Ursinus' free style relay team won in a time of 1:36.3. The medley team, after leading all the way, had to settle for a tie in 0:39.3.

With two more meets to go, the mermaids are turning in a good showing this season. Later in the year, Ursinus goes to the Intercollegiate.

"Gunner" Gustavson rebounds during Friday's doubleheader basketball game.

Results of Campus Chest's Doubleheader Friday:
Men's Varsity Swamps Intramural All-Stars 83-40,
Women's Varsity Clobbers Faculty All-Stars 51-29

The favorites prevailed in the Campus Chest's unique basketball doubleheader last Friday evening. The Men's Varsity team swamped the Intramural All-Stars and in the second game the Women's Varsity clobbered the Faculty All-Stars.

In the opening tilt, the superior height of the varsity squad enabled them to completely dominate both boards during most of the game. Mike Znotens, an Intramural graduate, came back to hound his former associates as he dumped 26 points through the nets to pace the varsity operators. Barry Troster and Walt Korengiewicz added 16 and 13 points respectively to the victors' scoring column and grabbed many rebounds between them.

Varsity Height Prevails
Don Zulick (APES) performed admirably in defeat as he netted 14 points and played a good all-around game. Al Hakanson (Leber-South) snared many rebounds, but as the game wore on, the varsity's superior height prevailed.

In the nightcap, "Gunner" Gustavson couldn't cope with the moves of Karen Kohn as she sparked the Women's Varsity to victory. "Frisivolous" Fortnum and "Hilarious" Hudnut both provided the fans with spectacular swishing set shots, while "Bomber" Baker, "Killer" Kirkpatrick, and "Sensational" Shearer sparked the professors' sieve-like defense.

Gustavson's entertaining antics were enjoyed by the crowd, but through the comedy it was noticeable that there was even a touch of ability prevalent in the "Gunner." Only Miss Kohn's adept shooting ability overshadowed him.

Intramural Season Comes to a Close

The regular season drew to a close in Intramural Basketball this past week with only the playoffs to be contested this week. Fetterolf-724 finally broke into the victory column as they downed Derr-Freeland - Stine, and the APES edged Leber-South 41-39 as both teams finished tied for second with 9-2 records. Demas was the league champion with a 10-1 record.

With Steve Wurster setting the pace by netting 20 points, Fetterolf-724 snapped a nine-game losing streak as they defeated Derr-Freeland-Stine 51-44. Bill Frazier paced the losers with 13 points. Maples romped to an impressive 104-44 victory over Beta Sig as the winners' Denny Beacher scored 38 points while Larry Snyder, Frank Kunc, and Wally Knight added 19, 18, and 17 points respectively.

Most Exciting Game
In the week's most exciting game, the APES edged Leber-South to tie the losers for second place. The winners outscored the losers 11 to 7 at the foul line, and that was the big difference. Dave Hall sparked the APES with 14 points and Don Zulick added 13 more, while Bill Degenhardt led the losers with 13 markers.

Leber-South downed the Day Students 64-56 as rookie Dick Dean dropped in 27 points to assure the victors of a second place tie. George Bonekemper dropped 21 points through the hoop in a losing cause. In the only other action of the week, Sig Rho blasted Fetterolf-724 69-42 despite a 26 point outburst by the losers' Len Greenbaum. Larry Worth sparked Sig Rho with 22 points while Marsh Genter added 18 more.

Did You Know . . .

by Fred Yocum

There are 14 groups of children of the same family here at Ursinus. There is one group of three brothers (the Brackins), six groups of two brothers, five groups of two sisters, and two groups of a brother and sister.

The average IQ (121) of this year's freshman class is the same as that of the two preceding classes, but the average College Board scores are higher this year.

Mr. Penna, new math instructor, received his higher education at the University of Toronto and at the Ontario College of Education.

At the beginning of this year, there were 74 undesignated freshmen, 38 biology majors, 31 mathematics majors, and 29 chemistry majors. These four majors had the most freshman members while Spanish stood fifteenth on the list with no freshmen at the beginning of the year.

The Ursinus Student YM-YWCA is the ninth largest organization affiliated with the National Student Council of the "Y". There are almost 300 student organizations in the US so affiliated.

violating the necessary principles of human life. The evil and suffering of the Jews during the time of Moses, and the other Biblical prophets produced the concept of the moral God. This truth was not discovered in time of triumph, but in a time of grave tragedy.

This very experience that now seems to make so many people atheistic is what made the prophets of Israel maturely religious. They went beyond a childish view of Divinity. At a time when thousands of Jews must have felt that there was no God, these prophets taught their new message: that God cannot do anything that will mock His moral law. He cannot be bribed into overlooking violations of the principles upon which the earth and human society must rest.

Is He Limited?

Perhaps we can come up with a workable solution if we say that God is not omnipotent; that He, too, is limited. This may sound somewhat heretical, but cannot God be limited by the very nature of the world He created? The usual idea of omnipotence is childish and unjust to God. We have to grow up to learn that God is not a magician who changes everything in the twinkling of an eye.

Maturity in our relation with our human parents means the gradual recognition of limitations and necessities to which they are subject. Maturity in the religious realm means surrendering our childish view of God and understanding that He, too, in building a predictable world, governed by law, voluntarily surrenders something of His sovereignty. This fact lies at the basis of much of the "evil" in the world. When God created water He endowed it with the properties of floating ships and turning millwheels. These are good. But in the very nature of water is its inherent capacity to drown us. It is the same in all the other laws of nature. Their very orderliness guarantees that God is. That orderliness, however, limits the range of His whim and caprice.

Powers of Good and Evil

Just as God created water with its powers for good and evil, so He created man and endowed him with unlimited powers of good and evil. The same force which gives man the ability to conquer adversity and overcome disaster can turn into rage that commits murder. Man's highest attributes are brought into action by the necessity of making moral choices.

The atheist may ask why God didn't make man incapable of doing wrong. If God had done this, man would have been deprived of his noblest faculty: the power to choose right instead of wrong. By giving all of us the power to work out our own destinies, God has shown His greatest wisdom. He has made us individuals when He could have made us robots, and it is this individualism, this divine gift of the capacity to follow one's own moral intuition and make one's own moral decisions, which is the true hope of the world.

also for young people starting on their first jobs. My father was one of the young professors who worked closely with Dr. Shirman who founded the first hostel council in 1910. The idea of hostels spread to many countries of Europe and to the United States. In each country, youth hostels are organized into an association which is supported by voluntary contributions and membership and program fees. Hosteling is international; hostels in other countries will honor your membership card from your home youth hostel association.

Chain Near Ursinus

The American Youth Hostel Association has a membership of 18,463 persons. Chains of youth hostels can be found in various parts of the country. Hostels along a chain are in easy hiking or biking distance of each other. The nearest hostel chain to Ursinus begins at Valley Forge and follows the Horse Shoe Trail through Pennsylvania Dutch country to Hershey. There the trail meets the north-south Appalachian Trail.

Hostels are supervised by a local council which helps set up hostels near historic or scenic places and encourages hosteling in general. Other hostels accessible to Ursinus are in the Poconos, at the shore, and in Bucks County.

This Saturday there will be a spelunking expedition to explore caves in the Reading-Kutztown area. A calendar of activities is issued every two months by the Philadelphia council.

Gain Greater Understanding

The American Youth Hostel Association is a member of the International Youth Hostel Federation. Its purpose especially is to help young people gain a greater understanding of the world and its people through outdoor activities, educational and recreational travel, and related programs. It aims to develop fit, self-reliant, well-informed citizens.

I found that having an international hostel pass pays off in the first few days abroad. Hostels often have private cafeterias which serve food at cost and they all have excellent facilities for touring and sight-seeing information. Passholders usually receive reductions of entrance fees to museums and concerts.

Anyone interested in hosteling activities should contact Mrs. Wiencek, an Ursinus student who lives at 1170 Woods Road in Southampton, Pa.—ed. note.

Some changes adopted include: elimination of jury trials for civil cases; adoption of a plan to guarantee reapportionment of the assemblyman districts after each decennial census; adoption of a plan to elect Pennsylvania Supreme Court judges from a list submitted by the Pennsylvania Bar Association.

Some of the recommendations voted down included: right of every citizen to bear arms in defense of himself; a plan to make the Pennsylvania Legislature a unicameral body instead of the two-house plan now in effect.

Chairman Burke did an admirable job of controlling the meeting although many delegates tried to hinder progress by using dilatory tactics of parliamentary procedure. The use of Roberts' system was put to a real test in an effort to test the qualifications of the chairman. Mr. Burke will be the Southeastern Regional candidate for chairman at the Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Conference on Government Convention to be held in Harrisburg on April 18 to 20.

A screening committee of faculty members selected Dennis Krauss of Ursinus and Richard Goldstein of the University of Pennsylvania to be the chairmen of the two committees assigned to the Southeastern Region at the state convention.

running into difficulty. Indications are that certain nefarious plots are afoot to interrupt its smooth running.

It ought to be remembered that if one cuts someone else's throat, the person doing the cutting usually comes out covered with the stains of the crime. Stains of this nature are hard to wash out and are usually detrimental in the long run. Looking and thinking before leaping are often advisable. Robert Burns seems to suggest that "the best laid plans of mice and men are wont to go astray."

Kaffee Klatches seem to be coming up in the world as a form of Friday afternoon diversion. Most of the discussions are lively and cover important topics. A three o'clock coffee break is a pleasant diversion after a week of classes. They are informal and pleasant.

pecially at night, the library is noisy because of people socializing and talking in loud voices. Quiet is not enforced by common courtesy or by library workers.

If someone wants a book, one on reserve in particular, it is not to be found because some selfish person took it out of the library without signing for it—and he might not even return it.

Do we need monitors to maintain quiet and see that books are properly signed out? Or can the students make the library a quiet place in which to study and read, leaving socializing for the Drug, and never stealing books?
