Student-Faculty Talent Show to Finish Campus Chest Charity Drive Friday

Comedian Bob Vannucci to Act as Master of Ceremonies In Ursinus' Annual Fund Raising United Presentation

The climax of the Annual Campus Chest Drive will be presented Friday night in the Thompson-Gay gymnasium. The Student-Faculty Talent Show will feature various members of the student body as well as faculty members. Bob Vannucci, a senior, noted for a light-hearted and uninhibited approach to comedy, will act as the show's emcee.

Acts have been planned and are presently in rehearsal from many of the campus organizations. Omega Chi sorority, Demas fraternity, Phi Psi, KDK and some individual members affiliated with Beta Sigma Lambda will present novelty numbers.

Faculty Members

Messrs. Gurzynski, Kirkpatrick, Zucker, Jones, Staiger and Hudnut are expected to participate. The Girls' Day Study has worked out a parody sketch as have the girls of Shreiner and Durycia Halls. Some folk singing will undoubtedly creep into the proceedings as well as comedy from Cliff Kuhn.

Sophomore Meridy Murphy and Senior John Swinton are acting as co-producers of the annual Student-Faculty Talent Show. During the course of the lively evening, auctions will be held for artifacts and various edibles submitted for the occasion by faculty and administrative figures.

Officially the talent show will bring the Campus Chest Drive to a close although at least one party will be staged for the benefit of the Campus Chest after vacation.

Civil Liberty's Cox Visits U.C. Campus

by Joe Mastro

On Wednesday, March 7, Mr. Spencer Cox addressed the political science classes in the courses of American Government and Constitutional Law. Mr. Cox is a representative of the American Civil Liberties Union, a New York City-based organization intent upon guaranteeing each and every United States citizen due process of the law.

The motto of the ACLU (Eternal Vigilance is the Price of Liberty) was the underlying theme of his talk. In the course of his lecture, Mr. Cox emphasized several basic tenets of American justice. He insisted that no one should be punished without being informed as to the cause for his punishments, a right inherent in the fifth amendment to the Constitution. He also commented on the rights against unreasonable seizures and unreasonable searches, and the right to lawyer representation for the accused.

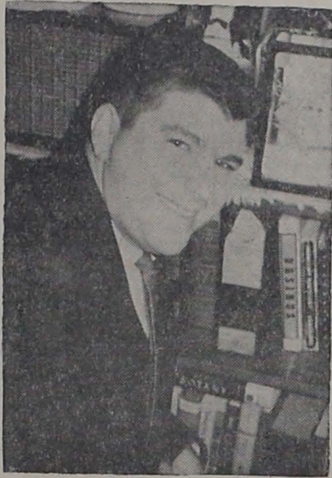

According to Cox, "The due process of law breaks down at the lowest court levels." He also pointed out that a great deal of this injustice is leveled against the poor of our nation.

'St. Pat's Twist' Theme Of Frosh Dance Saturday

"St. Patty's Day Twist" is the theme of the second dance to be held by the Freshmen Class this coming Saturday night, March 17, in the T-G Gym. The dance will be held from 8 until 11:30 p.m. and the price of admission is 35 cents stag and 50 cents drag.

Casually dressed, those in attendance will at one time during the evening be asked to participate in a twist contest. All dancing will be done to records. Coke and pretzels will be served by Ricki Klein, head of the Refreshment Committee. Rich Gorman is in charge of selling tickets; Ann Weisel and Barbara Hultz are Chairmen of the Decoration Committee; Sue Harmen is the Entertainment Chairman and Dutch Molen-dyke is in charge of Publicity.

When asked by the Weekly what the expectations were of the class, Bill Lettinger, the class president said, "We were a little discouraged about the last dance we held, but we hope that everyone will be able to attend this one and make it a success."

College's Concert Band To Perform Next Thursday

The Ursinus College concert band will give its first concert this Thursday evening, March 15, at 8 p.m. in Bomberger Chapel. The Overture from My Fair Lady, Toccata, and Bach's Sarebande are among some of the pieces which the band will perform.

In addition to the college band, three professional musicians, David Moore, Richard Roberts, and Gordon Williams will be featured soloists. This trumpet trio will do a solo by Handel with the piano accompaniment of the band's director, Damon Holton. They will also join with the band to play Bugler's Holiday. Donation for this concert is 25 cents.

Dr. Linus Pauling To Address Special Forum On "Science and International Relations"

UC Students Attend I. C. G. Convention

Eight delegates from the Intercollegiate Conference on Government of Ursinus College attended the I.C.G. Regional Convention at West Chester State College last Saturday. The theme of the convention was a model National Congress.

After a morning of politicking, Barbara Bogel of the Ursinus I.C.G., was elected clerk of the region and will be their nominee for clerk at the State Convention to be held in Harrisburg on April 5, 6 and 7. Ursinus College also received a regional office for next year. Other positions held by Ursinus' I.C.G. delegates were: Chairman of the Committee on Civil Rights and Judiciary, Val Weiss; Head Sergeant at Arms, Terry Farley; and an Assistant Sergeant at Arms, Phil Steeley.

Ursinus presented seven bills; five of these reached the floor of the model Congress. Danny Krauss was able to get his bill through without the coalitioning. Other delegates were Marion Leahy, Barbara Shearer and Izabets Shope. These women attended the conference for the first time.

Ursinus' chapter plans to take a larger delegation to the State Convention in April.

Lauderdale Braces For Spring Influx

This bustling lower Atlantic coast resort city, now the training home of the world champion New York Yankees, is making ready for the 1962 visitation of college students in March and April.

Public spirited citizens are working zealously with municipal officials to offer vacationing undergraduates an interesting and varied recreation and entertainment program. Even the Yankees will assist by playing 15 exhibition games in the new Fort Lauderdale baseball stadium. (Continued on page 2)

Book No More War! Dr. Pauling's Credo

Uses Atomic Energy Facts To Promote Peace Ideas

In his Bomberger Hall speech tonight, Professor Linus Pauling is expected to stress many of the facts, figures, and ideas put forth in his book, NO MORE WAR! Using figures gathered by the Atomic Energy Commission to support their work, Professor Pauling presents, in the 1958 book designed for the layman, a grim and realistic picture of what nuclear warfare itself would mean to humanity.

Dwelling on the harmful effects of radio active fallout, for example, Dr. Pauling writes, "I believe that the nations of the world that are carrying out the tests of nuclear weapons are sacrificing the lives of hundreds of thousands of people now living and of hundreds of thousands of unborn children, and that this sacrifice is unnecessary."

Super-Bomb Description

Describing the force of the weapons now available to man, Dr. Pauling also writes, "Several super-bombs have been detonated during the recent years. It has been estimated that the first super-bomb, exploded by the United States in Bikini in March 1954, had the fusion stage of about five megatons (five million tons of TNT, one ton of which Dr. Pauling says will destroy a large building) and a fission stage . . . of about twelve megatons. The largest Russian super-bombs, including those of March 1958, seem to have been about the same size.

Dr. Linus Pauling, world famous lecturer, chemist Nobel Prize winner and humanitarian, will address himself to the topic, "Science and International Relations" tonight at 8:00 p.m. in Bomberger Hall. A capacity crowd from the college and community is expected to hear Dr. Pauling, a scientist whose primary interest is to use his knowledge for the benefit of mankind.

Chemist-Humanitarian Linus Pauling

Dr. Pauling, a native of Portland, Oregon, received his Ph.D. from California Institute of Technology in 1925. In 1927 he became assistant professor of chemistry at the same school and assumed a professorship of chemistry and engineering in 1931. Pauling has also done graduate work at such schools as the Universities of Zurich, Munich, and Copenhagen.

The distinguished professor has received many awards for his contributions to science, including the Fermat Medal, the Pasteur Medal, and Paul Sabatier Medal. He has also earned the recognition of the National Nephrosis Foundation, and the American College of Physicians. In 1948 he received the Presidential Medal of Merit.

Royal Society Member

A former president of the American Chemical Society, he is also a member of the Royal Society of London, and holds honorary memberships to the academies of science in France, USSR, India, Italy, and Belgium. In 1960 Time Magazine made him one of ten American scientists to be chosen "man of the year."

Perhaps the greatest tribute was paid to him for his scientific progress when he was awarded the Nobel Prize in chemistry for the years of 1954. This award was presented to him for his research into the realms of chemical bonding. His book, The Nature of the Chemical Bond, proposed a new theory on the mysterious bonds. This knowledge has proved invaluable in many industries.

Exploring Proteins

The author of nearly 300 scientific papers, he is also exploring the complicated world of proteins. But, perhaps his most controversial work is his book entitled, No More Wars, published in 1958.

Wife Accompanies

Accompanying Dr. Pauling will be his wife, Ava, an expert on social and political questions, who won fame as a lecturer on peace and civil rights. She is currently vice president of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, and a member of the Southern California Board of the American Civil Liberties Union. Mrs. Pauling has lectured in various countries including England, India, Japan, Sweden, Mexico, and the United States. She spoke on the topic "Civil Liberties and Women's Role in Political Life" at a tea for junior and senior political science majors in Paisley Reception Room this afternoon. Following her husband's lecture, an informal discussion will be held in the Stude- (Continued on page 4) medical treatment for any blind person in Montgomery County.

The association gives glasses and special schooling to children who need them, helps blind housewives become accustomed to their positions, and conducts workshops to teach trades and crafts.

After lunch this afternoon, the brothers of Delta Pi held an auction for their brothers. Alpha Sigma Nu sorority continued to sell pastries.

Leukemia Society Tomorrow the Leukemia Society will present a description of its work in chapel. Mrs. Myrna Merron will address the students on behalf of the society which works to prevent leukemia by finding causes and cures through research.

The sisters to Tau Sig will begin their annual hat sale in Paisley recreation room from 3 to 9 p.m. All the hats which will be sold are spring hats. Tau Sig, in addition, will sell breakfasts in the new dorms as it did this past weekend. The late breakfasts, also in the recreation room of Paisley, include coffee and pastries.

Salvation Army Wednesday, Captain James Miller of the Salvation Army Community Center in Norristown will speak in chapel. This organization provides activities for the underprivileged children in Norristown through such facilities as a gym, a library, an activity room, playgrounds and a television room. Also included in their program are day trips and athletic contests as well as parties given by Ursinus fraternities and sororities.

After lunch on Wednesday the Faculty bike race will take place and the brothers of Sig Rho will be auctioned off as dates for a closed party.

Thursday after lunch the APE's will hold a car wash and an auction. Demas plans to send its brothers out on the sticky bun route all this week for the benefit of the Campus Chest.

Friday afternoon the traditional Ugly Man Contest will be held and the students will also have the opportunity to aim a few water balloons, pies, and other items at the Ugly Man of their choice.

Ursinus Invites Public To Use College Library

The Ursinus College Librarian, Dr. Calvin D. Yost Jr., has issued a reminder to local residents that the facilities of the college library are open to all.

"All earnest readers who wish to share the Library's rich resources" are welcome, Dr. Yost said.

Thousands of fine books, 300 periodicals, and a complete reference section awaits the reader who wishes to use the college facilities.

Library hours are from 8 a.m. to noon, 12:30 to 5 p.m., and evenings during the week from 6:30 to 10 p.m., except Friday night when the library does not reopen after 5 p.m. The Saturday morning hours are from 9 a.m. until noon and Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m. and 6:30 to 10 p.m.

Just This Once

To miss seeing and hearing Dr. Linus Pauling tonight in Bomberger Hall would seem to us to be a sin of negligence. To this institution, founded by men who placed high value upon intellectual integrity, some one who combines undeniable competence and an amazing knowledge of chemistry with the objective realization of and concern for the dangers it holds for his fellow man. He is, in short, a genius as well as a humanitarian of unusual conviction.

Our polite little campus should welcome the ideas—so much in tune with our own, yet so much broader in scope—of this man. We applaud the successful efforts of the YM-YWCA and the Forum Committee to procure Dr. Pauling for the evening.

A poor showing tonight would shame Ursinus.

Penna. Folk Festival Planned for Harrisburg

A Pennsylvania-themed Folk-song Festival will be held in Harrisburg, Sunday, April 1, at 8:30 p.m. under the joint sponsorship of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission and the Jewish Community Center of Harrisburg. The event will be held at the Center auditorium.

The festival features the Gateway Trio with popular ballad singer Vivien Richman. Appearing with her will be Jo Davidson, banjo, and Charles Cubelic, bass. The trio originates from Pittsburgh, and has won countryside attention for unique interpretation of the world's folksongs.

Avid Folklorists

The three musicians are avid folklorists and approach the study of history from what they call "the people's eye view." The focus on Pennsylvania will be one of three segments of the program, while the other sections—on folksongs of the world and nation—provide context.

The trio will sing about such themes as George Washington's trip to Fort LeBeouf; the Avondale mine disaster, a lament for the 110 men and boys who died in the Wilkes-Barre area tragedy.

"Oil on the Brain," a humorous commentary on the oil rush days in the Titusville region during the mid-1800's; a cold-blooded lumberjack who stirs coffee with his thumb; the adventures of early immigrants including Ole Bull and John Riley.

The troubles of a man with a leak in his bucket; and the difficulties of policing Pittsburgh's Soho district on a Saturday night.

The festival is the beginning of a "living" collection of Pennsylvania folksongs by the Commission. Text material will be distributed at the event to give the audience the lyrics and historical background of the events which inspired the song. The program also will be taped.

As a public service, the Jewdium between March 10 and April 7.

Beach Activities

With few exceptions, all other day and night activities will center on Fort Lauderdale's well groomed beach. A single special area east of Bahia Mar yachting center will be the focal point for live music and dancing during the peak periods. Also bonfires will be permitted under the supervision of the fire department.

Pedestrian and vehicular traffic congestion at the beach is expected to be lessened by the concentration of activity in an area several blocks removed from the intersection of Atlantic and Las Olas Boulevards.

The city's recreation department will construct a large stage-bandstand, which during the day will be utilized for bathing beauty contests and other forms of entertainment, including the popular twist and limbo. Competitive events will include beach basketball, volley ball, ocean swimming and "mailman carry." Other activities will be added as requested.

Hello Booths

On arrival students will be greeted at "Hello Booths" in three beach locations, where hospitality passes will be issued and housing information distributed. Here also bulletin boards will be maintained for lost and found information together with schedules of daily and special events.

The hospitality passes, issued on the presentation of college identification or current registration cards, will entitle students to admittance to all of the recreation and entertainment events. A nominal fee of 15 cents will be charged for the passes. The hospitality booths will be manned by volunteers enlisted by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and Panhellenic Association. It is estimated they will work 7,000 "man" hours.

Joining students here this spring will be the presidents and deans of several universities and colleges. The educators

Spring 1951

Fifteen selected students in 1951 could view the stars from the very top of Pfahler Hall, every Monday evening. The aluminum observatory building had recently been completed under the direction of Walter Marsteller, '49: it took two and a half years for Ursinus students to build it. For those who haven't taken Physics 11 and 12, the observatory is eighteen feet high with a diameter of twenty feet. It has a revolving dome with a louvered section so as to give access to the sky. The telescope is a ten and a half refracting one with lens ground by Elihu Thompson; this telescope was received free of charge as a permanent loan from the Franklin Institute.

UC Mentioned on Stage

"Even if only for a brief time, Ursinus was mentioned behind the footlights of the legitimate stage." The name of our college was mentioned in the 'new play', Gramercy Ghost, starring Sarah Churchill which "played at the Locust in Philadelphia before going on to New York." In the first act the male lead, Robert Sterling, a newspaperman who eventually marries Miss Churchill, "is discussing his college days with a few fellow journalist cronies." He said, "Why, yes—I played a good deal of football myself in college—at Ursinus College in Collegeville. In my senior year we even beat Muhlenberg." The article went on "John Cecil Holm, the playwright, is not an Ursinus alumnus and the names of the schools used in the course of the conversation might have been changed at the various cities on the road to gain a dash of local color."

Back Issues Yield

One article was entitled "Weekly Back Issues Yield Untold Wealth of Pertinent Advertisements." A choice sample of ad spaces filled with "refined" coming attractions of the Garrick Theatre—home of refined Vaudeville—in Norristown in the year 1921 were offered. Another was directed to the Phys. Ed Major of 1908—"An athletic girl wants a corset that will stand the hard wear and will accentuate the grace of bodily movements when in reposeful will be guests of the city's leading hotels.

Closer Relationship

Dr. Clem E. Bininger, chairman of the civic planning group, envisions the development of a closer relationship between students and residents in 1962 by offering the latter the opportunity to invite the young visitors into their homes, clubs and churches. A clearing house will be established to register residents who wish to extend hospitality of this type to students. The aim of the planning committee, Dr. Bininger states, is to "make the spring visitation of students pleasant for all concerned, including our residents and adult tourist visitors."

As in the past, the city will enforce its customary traffic regulations and ordinances governing good conduct. (Press Release from the City of Fort Lauderdale)

Lt. Governor From Here

The Lieutenant Governor this year was Lloyd H. Wood, who graduated from Ursinus in 1925. He graduated from Temple University Law School in 1934, and after being admitted to the Bar in 1936, he established a practice in Norristown. His first political office was representative to the General Assembly in 1938. At the close of his term as Lieutenant Governor, Mr. Wood will have served in one capacity or another as a member of the General Assembly for 16 years. He said of Ursinus, "I could never speak too highly of Ursinus as a fine college."

First Campus Chest

The Y Cabinet presented to the student body the proposal of an Ursinus Community Chest. This Community Chest Drive would replace the various drives—Red Cross, Cancer, WSSF, March of Dimes, etc.—which seemed continuous: "in most cases the student is not unwilling to give; he is irritated by always having to 'shell out'." The proposed drive was to be held once a semester and the proceeds were to be "apportioned among the various individual drives on a percentage basis, according to the comparative amounts raised by these drives in the past and as determined by the student group directing the campaign."

This trip will take place on Friday, April 6.

Curtain Club Offers Two Plays; One-Act Shows Given Last Thursday

"Where God Is"

by Dave Carter

The second dramatic offering of the evening was a morality play by the Russian literary giant, Leo Tolstoy, entitled Where Love Is, God Is. The plot concerned Martin, an old cobbler, played by Jim Barrett. Old Martin desires death because it has claimed his only son, until a monk-like pilgrim, played by Bob McClellan, comforts Martin, telling him to live for God.

Martin ponders the suggestion, then realizes that he must treat all men as if they were Christ, for men are God's creations. Next, a mysterious voice (that of Ben Fisher) communicates to Martin the cryptic phrase, "Look out into the street tomorrow."

The next day brings a succession of characters from the street into the cobbler's shop: Stepanich, a workman, played by Steve Wurster; an ethereal mother, played by Carol Heber, who carries an infant wrapped in swaddling clothes; an old applewoman, played by Elizabeth Kelly; and a girl (Caroline Moretz) who tries to steal one of the old woman's apples.

Martin befriends each person as best he can. Still puzzled about the voice he heard, suddenly he realizes that it was the voice of God, who is now a part of him because he loves his fellow man. The significance of Tolstoy's title, Where Love Is, God Is, is suddenly apparent.

The play was a simple one with a simple moral. The actors succeeded in conveying the moral—but nothing else. Somehow an acting flare was missing. Jim Barrett managed to feel the solemnity of his role, but the supporting players, with the exception of Carol Heber, did not give any such impression.

Consequently, audience imagination had to work overtime to fill the yawning gaps in the acting and acting was to have made up for the absence of costumes.

In short, the Curtain Club's admirable experiment attempted too much with too little.

"Shakespeare's Women"

Nancy Worden

The first of two plays presented on the evening of March 6, was entitled When Shakespeare's Ladies Meet. Charles George's one-act comedy is built around his conception of what would happen if six of Shakespeare's famous heroines were to meet, in this instance, to instruct Juliet in the art of romance.

Desdemona (Kay Taylor), Portia (Dee Walker), Ophelia (Anne Thorburn), Cleopatra (Jane Mikuliak) and Katherine (Meridy Murphy) confidently chatter away about their theories for success in romance, but find in the end that the youthful and sharp-witted Juliet is intuitively wise in matters of the heart and has no need for their advice.

The quick-paced dialogue was liberally sprinkled with plays on words and other rather obvious devices characteristic of the second-rate playwright. The characterizations thus had to rely upon added touches to be imparted by the actresses, some of whom met the challenge effectively. Anne Thorburn, as nervous and dithery as a March hare, seemed perfect for her part, as did Meridy Murphy. Each cast member actually contributed effectively toward making the play come alive.

Director Flora McQueen's added little touches sparked some of the duller moments; her efficient direction of stage flow was also evident. To appreciate a play of this nature fully (pun after pun after pun) a somewhat broad knowledge of Shakespeare's works is beneficial.

Spring sports enthusiasts have already begun to practice. Would - be diamond kingpins are throwing their arms out in the gym, and the members of the track team have been flexing their flaccid arms and legs in preparation for the new season.

Despite the loss of the unconquerable Vern Morgan and weight specialist Al Walton, Ray Gurzynski's chargers, beefed by promising freshmen Pete Dunn and Tom Walters, are in good shape for the '62 cinder season.

Baseball success may again be determined by Barrie Williamson. Wrist-injured during the basketball season, third baseman Williamson's return is a question mark. Even if he does return, his effectiveness may be hampered.

Even the tennis squad is practicing early this year. In the gym every Monday and Wednesday from one until four the team is making a desperate attempt to overcome a pitiful lack of talent. The team is lacking a solid number one man and, for that matter, a number two player. The flash and flare of a good male tennis player has not been seen on the campus for a good time.

THE GRASS IS ALWAYS GOLDER

The academic world, as we all know, is loaded with dignity and ethics, with lofty means and exalted ends, with truth and beauty. In such a world a heinous thing like faculty raiding—colleges enticing teachers away from other colleges—is not even thinkable.

However, if the dean of one college happens—purely by chance, mind you—to run into a professor from another college, and the professor happens to remark—just in passing, mind you—that he is discontented with his present position, why, what's wrong with the dean making the professor an offer? Like the other afternoon, for instance, Dean Sigafos of Gransmire Polytech, finding himself in need of a refreshing cup of oolong, dropped in quite by chance at the Discontented Professors Exchange where he discovered Professor Stuneros from the English Department of Kroveny A and M sitting over a pot of lapsang soochong and shrieking "I Hate Kroveny A and M!" Surely there was nothing improper in the dean saying to the professor, "Leander, perhaps you'd like to come over to us. I think you'll find our shop A-OK."

(It should be noted here that all English professors are named Leander, just as all psychics professors are named Fred. All sociology professors are, of course, named Myron, all veterinary medicine professors are named Rover, and all German professors are named Hansel and Gretel. All deans, are, of course, named Attila.)

But I digress. Leander, the professor, has just been offered a job by Attila, the dean, and he replies, "Thank you, but I don't think so."

"And I don't blame you," says Attila, stoutly. "I understand Kroveny has a fine little library."

"Well, it's not too bad," says Leander. "We have 28 volumes in all, including a mint copy of Nancy Drew, Girl Detective."

"Very impressive," says Attila. "Us now, we have 36 million volumes, including all of Shakespeare's first folios and the Dead Sea Scrolls."

"Golly whiskers," says Leander.

"But of course," says Attila, "you don't want to leave Kroveny where, I am told, working conditions are tickety-boo."

"Oh, they're not too bad," says Leander. "I teach 18 hours of English, 11 hours of optometry, 6 hours of forestry, coach the fencing team, and walk Prexy's cat twice a day."

"A full, rich life," says Attila. "At our school you'd be somewhat less active. You'd teach one class a week, limited to four A students. As to salary, you'd start at $50,000 a year, with retirement at full pay upon reaching age 29."

"I walk Prexy's cat twice a day."

"Sir," says Leander, "your offer is most fair but you must understand that I owe a certain loyalty to Kroveny."

"I not only understand, I applaud," says Attila. "But before you make a final decision, let me tell you one thing more. We supply Marlboro cigarettes to our faculty—all you want at all times."

"Gloryosky!" cries Leander, bounding to his feet. "You mean Marlboro, the filter cigarette with the unfiltered taste—Marlboro, the cigarette with better makin's—Marlboro that comes to you in pack or box—Marlboro that gives you such a lot to like?"

"Yep," says Attila, "that's the Marlboro I mean."

"I am yours," cries Leander, wringing the Dean's hand.

"Where do I sign?"

"At the quarry," replies Attila. "Frankly, we don't trust paper contracts any more. We chisel them in marble."

Stonecutters cut it in stone, woodcutters cut it in wood, seamstresses embroider it in doilies: you get a lot to like in a Marlboro—filter, flavor, pack or box.

Women's Hairbreadth Victories Mark Basketball Play; Sansenbach Stars

by Carol Taney

A last second clutch field goal by Anne Sansenbach in a sudden death overtime game gave the Ursinus women's basketball team a breath-taking 59 to 58 win over Immaculata College Thursday afternoon. Earlier in the week, the Bearettes took a close win from homestanding East Stroudsburg and an easy victory from Temple.

Immaculata held a 38 to 28 lead at halftime and the score at the end of the third quarter also saw the visitors well out in front. But with two minutes to go the Ursinus women staged a scoring spree which knotted the contest at the end of regulation play. Ursinus again came from behind in the first overtime period to tie the score and send the game into sudden death.

Anne Sansenbach, who scored the winning goal, was also high scorer for the game with 30 points. Lore Hamilton was second with 17, and Lynne Crosley, performing as both a guard and a forward in the course of the afternoon posted twelve points.

Stroudsburg Bows, 68 to 65

It as another come from behind day against East Stroudsburg on Thursday of last week. The hostess squad finally lost 68 to 65 to the visitors from Ursinus but not before the Ursinus team was forced to score fifteen points in the last two minutes of play. Lore Hamilton scored 23 points for the victorious Ursinus squad; Anne Sansenbach tallied 22; Lynne Crosley contributed 17, and Karen Kohn rounded out the scoring with six points.

The defensive unit of Sally Bastow, Lee Sphar, and Susie Gerhard was instrumental in the two nerve racking victories.

Temple Trampled, 54 to 20

The defensive team had little trouble, however, containing the girls from Temple University last Tuesday. The visitors from Philadelphia left the Ursinus gym vanquished by 34 points, 54 to 20. Anne Sansenbach again headed the list of scorers with 16 points. Lynne Crosley added 12; Lore Hamilton scored ten; and Judy Smiley and June Ritting accounted for the remaining ten points between them.

Jayvees Take 2 of 3

The women's jayvee team was defeated by Stroudsburg 45 to 41 but they handily beat Temple 39 to 8 and had much less trouble with Immaculata than did the varsity, winning 43 to 20.

Sports Publicist Evaluates Season

by W. S. Friedeborn
Athletic Publicity Director

Ursinus College has completed their winter sports program with a total of 9 victories and 16 defeats. Coach Richard Schellhase's wrestlers contributed six of the victories against three defeats, while Coach Warren Fry's basketball team could do no better than 3 and 13. However, a pessimistic view of the future would not seem to be completely in order.

The varsity wrestling squad returns intact for next year and includes some outstanding as well as rapidly improving grapplers. All members of the squad improved their records over last year with Don Smith turning in an 8-1 season dual meet mark at 130 lbs., Fred Powers 9-0 at 157 lbs. and Dick Dean with 9-0 at 147 lbs.

Good Showings

Despite a poor team point showing of 2 points in the Middle Atlantic Conference Championships (contributed by Dean on one advancement and one fall) many of the Ursinus entries made a good showing. Smith lost by just 4-3 to third place finisher Sweet of Bucknell; Dean lost 1-0 in double overtime in the semi-finals to second place finisher Coyle of Bucknell; Powers lost 6-4 to Jacobs of Lycoming, who came up with fourth place honors; Dale Kratz at 167 lost to fourth place winner Portnof of Bucknell by a 7-4 score and heavyweight Bill Siebenson lost to Stouffer of Lebanon Valley 3-1 in overtime.

In addition to a winning season record, the grapplers set a new school record when they recorded two consecutive shutouts by downing Johns Hopkins 34-0 then blanking PMC 32-0.

Mermaids Win Two In Week's Action

The Ursinus mermaids captured two victories last week to send their season record to five wins against two defeats.

Monday the maids gained a 41 to 21 decision over Temple. Sue Honeysett and Georgia Ferrell again managed a first and second in the fifty yard free style. Sue added another first in the butterfly as Sherry Clinchard added more points with her first in the backstroke and a second in the butterfly.

Grace Folwell copped five points with a first in the breaststroke event.

The medley team of Folwell, Denzer, Ferrell and Fisher won again and a first and second in the diving event helped to pile the points on the hapless Temple squad.

Stroudsburg Meet Close

The girls from East Stroudsburg made Ursinus work harder Wednesday, but the local mermaids won three of the last four events to gain a 41 to 34 victory.

Sue Honeysett and Sherry Clinchard breezed to triumphs in the butterfly while the medley team of Claire Denzer, Diane Eichelberger, Bonnie Fisher, and Georgia Ferrell and the diving of Bonnie Fisher and Judy Byrnes added the necessary points.

Today the mermaids swam against Beaver in the Ursinus home pool at Norristown. Wednesday they will meet Swarthmore at home and on Saturday they will travel to the University of Pennsylvania for the Intercollegiate championships.

High Scoring Continues; Intramural Finish Nears

Leber-South, Brodbeck I, Demas Lead Long List Of Powerful Post Season Tournament Entries

Records continued to topple in Intramural basketball last week as the Brodbeck I juggernaut stole the show. Bob Kenschaft broke Jack Parker's two-day old scoring record of 51 points when he netted 57 markers in Brodbeck's decisive 75 to 42 victory over Maples I, and he added 56 more as Brodbeck I trounced Freeland II 109 to 25 to break Sigma Rho Lambda's record total of 104 points set earlier this year. The 84 point margin tied the record held by Sig Rho, and Brodbeck I set these marks without the services of the league's third leading scorer, Tom Wise.

Intramural high scorer Bob Kenschaft at his desk in Brodbeck.

In a major upset, Zeta Chi topped the defending champs, Alpha Phi Epsilon, in a fraternity league game, 54 to 50, to earn a tourney qualification round slot with Sig Rho. Curtis I romped to two easy victories as Toby Gelfand notched 27 points in one of the encounters, and the team finished with a 5 and 2 record which was matched by Maples I. Demas continued unbeaten.

Freeland I gained some solace for Freeland Hall as they doubled the score against Stine, 56 to 28, and also topped Curtis I, 55 to 45, as they finished the regular schedule with a 5 and 2 record, qualifying for the championship tournament. Cooper and Evans with 36 and 35 points in the two games were the leading scorers.

The league's second leading scorer, Jack Parker hit for 44 points as Fetterolf-724 whipped Maples II to gain their fourth victory and an invitation to the championship tourney. In the season finale, undefeated Leber-South (7 and 0) prepped for the tournament by downing Fetterolf-724 by a 50 to 38 score as big Al Hakanson held Parker to 13 points, his low for the year. Doug Harper was high man for the losers with 19 while Bill Frazier's 17 topped the well-balanced Leber-South scoring column.

Sports Evaluation . . .

Close Games

The hard luck basketball team, beset by injury and ineligibility lost six of their 13 games by less than ten points (one in overtime) including two losses to Haverford (who finished second in the Conference last year) by a total of just 6 points and another 6 point loss to this year's Southern Division champ, PMC.

With seniors Larry Koch, Pete Wise, Dick Allebach and Bill Daggett out for next year, Coach Fry will, however, have returning his leading scorers including Walter Dryfoos with a 22.5 average; Mark Borak, 12.4; Chuck Schaal with 11.2; Barry Williamson, 7.7; and Walt Korenkiewicz, 6.9. Dryfoos (11.9), Korenkiewicz (8.1) and Borak (6.4) also are the team's leading rebounders.

Ursinus Cage Great

Team captain Walter Dryfoos of Hazelton, Pa., has established himself as one of Ursinus' all-time great basketball stars. Named to the All-Philadelphia District Five last year and two-time scoring champion of the Southern Division of the Middle Atlantic Conference, Dryfoos now holds three Ursinus College records. He bettered the most points in one season record of 313 by Bob Swett in 1951-52 in 17 games when last year, also in 17 games he scored 388. He also bettered the old record this year with 355 points. Dryfoos bettered Swett's seasonal scoring average of 21.33 points in 12 games in 1952-53 by averaging 22.8 points last year in 17 games and by averaging 22.5 points this year in 16 games.

With one more year to go, Dryfoos has already smashed the school record of the most points scored by an individual for all seasons. In four years, from 1951-55 in 66 games, Ralph Schumacher compiled 929 pts. In three seasons, from 1959-62 in 48 games, Dryfoos has scored 998 points to establish the new school record.

by The Weekly Sports Staff

Since the series of basketball stories was begun with a forecast for the year, it is only just that some reflections be made concerning the past sixteen games. The record was an unimpressive 3 and 13 and would seem to speak for itself except that it may shadow certain aspects. The squad, while winning only one home game, nevertheless played a good brand of basketball before its supporters.

With the possible exception of the Pharmacy game, the Bears were tough, and against PMC and Haverford, their play was almost spectacular.

Dryfoos Play

The play of Walter Dryfoos can only be appreciated if seen, and those students who regularly attended the games were seldom disappointed in him. His consistent rebounding and scoring are certain to draw attention when balloting for the MAC All-Star team occurs. Walt finished with a better than 20 point per game average which made him scoring king of the conference.

Walt's running mates, Chuck Schaal, Walt Korenkiewicz, and Larry Koch also deserve mention for their steady play.

The initial prediction was that this would be a successful year for the Bears, and as the record shows, this attempt at clairvoyance went somewhat astray. Whether or not injuries, scholastic ineligibility, coaching or player attitude was to blame can only be speculated upon and is not really important at this point. It is far better merely to end a season with a win than to offer excuses for the lack of one.

Cindermen Seem Strong As Five Lettermen Return

With a five meet winning streak carried over from last season, Coach Ray Gurzynski's cindermen have been participating in various indoor meets in order to be in top condition for the coming outdoor season which begins April 11 with a meet at Haverford College. Ursinus has never upended Haverford in a dual meet.

The field events appear to be Ursinus' strong point as all five returning letterwinners participate in these various events. Captain Pete Wise, who gained a third place in the high hurdles at the University of Delaware Invitational Indoor Meet, is the ranking high jumper as he tied for third in last season's MAC's.

High Jump Deep

Wise is backed up by Dave Bonner, Bob Barandon and Larry Worth. Lou Tartaglia is the returning letterman in the pole vault and newcomers Ron Ritz and Fred Powers should help to make this event strong.

The broad jump is a power-packed event for Ursinus with senior letterman Dick Woodruff the bronze metal winner in the MAC's on a seven meet winning streak. With Barandon, Tom Walter and Tony Sermarini also in the event, the Bears should sweep this event in many meets.

Two Record Holders

Letterwinner Sermarini, the school record holder, should once again dominate the javelin, while newcomer Bill Degenhart could also develop into a good spear chucker. With letterman Denny Wilson and school record holder Bob Carney, who has returned to school, the shot put and discuss should once again prove to be the strong events for accumulating points.

There are spots to be filled in the running events, particularly and Coach Gurzynski urges all those interested to report for a uniform.

Chief McClure Hustles Vagrant to County Jail

Steven Cunningham, about 55 years of age, no known address, was arrested Wednesday morning by Police Chief Richard McClure, Collegeville, when he entered several homes in the borough. He entered the home of Dr. and Mrs. Allan L. Rice and that of Dr. and Mrs. Alfred Leber, begging handouts.

The Police Chief was summoned and arrested the man and took him to the Montgomery County Prison. He was charged with vagrancy.

Faculty Hoopsters Triumph In Benefit Against Girls

The team of Gustavson, Parsons, Shearer, Fortnum, Hudson, Whatley, and Baker, took their revenge from the Ursinus women's basketball team for the thrashing the Bearett hoopsters administered to them in last year's Faculty-Girls' Basketball Game. The game, which drew $40 for the Campus Chest Fund, Friday, found this year's faculty representatives in the role of the winner by the narrow margin of forty-something to forty something (nobody at the game was too intent on the score, only on the antics of the combatants).
