Ursinus Faculty Attends Education Meetings at U of P

Schoolmen's Week in Pennsylvania was held from October 12 thru 16 and was marked by numerous meetings of state educators. This week of meetings provides an opportunity for the teachers in Pennsylvania to gather together and discuss developments and problems of education.

Ursinus was represented by several members of its faculty, who participated in the many functions planned for the educators.

President Helfferich attended a special meeting of college presidents and administrators held in conjunction with Schoolmen's Week at the University of Pennsylvania on Oct. 14.

Between the morning and afternoon sessions of the meeting, President Gaylord Harnwell of the University entertained at a luncheon for the one hundred college executives from New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Eastern Pennsylvania and the District of Columbia who attended the meeting.

College financing was the major topic under discussion. Another feature of Schoolmen's Week was the luncheon for some 50 graduates of Ursinus. The luncheon was held in the Dining Room of Pennsylvania Station at noon on Friday, October 16.

The majority of these alumni are teachers and administrators in the schools of the Greater Philadelphia area who were attending the sessions of Schoolmen's Week at the University of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Robert Strine, Supervising Principal of the Upper Merion Schools, King of Prussia, presided at the luncheon. The Ursinus Alumni Secretary, the Rev. Richard T. Schellhase and Alumni President Paul I. Guest were the speakers.

Professors J. Allen Minnich, Mark Messinger and H. Lloyd Jones also represented the college at the luncheon.

Dr. Harvey R. Vanderslice, Professor emeritus of Education at Ursinus presided at a dinner meeting of the "75" Club held at the Penn Sherwood on Thursday, Oct. 15.

The "75" Club, with a limited membership of 75 persons, is an organization of Educators

Annual Dinner Given For Episcopal Students

The Canterbury Club of Ursinus College held its first meeting of the year at the annual dinner given at St. James' Episcopal Church in Evansburg. Approximately 50 Episcopal students were in attendance.

Rev. Mr. Edward Bennett, newly-appointed director of college work for the Diocese of Pennsylvania addressed the group. He pointed out the importance of the college students' of today realizing that their first task is to be a student. Not only as a student, but as a Christian, the college man or woman must seek to find the answers to the "whys" of today.

The next meeting of the group will be on Monday, Oct. 26, at 8 p.m. in the Girls' Day Study. At that time elections for officers will be held.

All Episcopal students are also reminded that this Wednesday, Oct. 21, the service of Holy Communion will be held at 7 a.m. in observation of and prayer for the academic community. Cars will pick up the students in front of the women's dormitory and Shreiner Hall at 6:45 a.m.

Inter-Sorority

On September 30, the members of the Inter-Sorority Council elected three of its four required officers. The positions filled by election are vice president, secretary, and disciplinarian. The office of president rotates each year, with every sorority holding the office once in five years.

The new officers for the 1959-60 season are: president, Mary Pennington; vice president Barbara Brecht; secretary, Helen Pearson; disciplinarian, Loretta Podolak.

which meets regularly in connection with educational conferences throughout the Commonwealth. Thursday's dinner was also given in conjunction with the events of Schoolmen's Week.

Professors William J. Phillips and J. Allen Minnich of Ursinus are also members of the Club and were with President Vanderslice at the dinner.

Dr. and Mrs. Donald Helfferich are attending another meeting of educators at the sessions of the 63rd annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Association of Colleges and Universities at Hershey, Sunday thru Tuesday, Oct. 18-20.

The meeting focused its attention on the constantly growing need for cooperation among the private liberal arts colleges of the Commonwealth.

Fellowship Grants Set by Foundation

The National Science Foundation is offering 1,000 graduate fellowships for the 1960-61 academic year. Applications will be evaluated by committees of outstanding scientists appointed by the National Academy of Science-Research Council. An examination designed to test scientific aptitude and achievement will be given on January 16, 1960. The deadline for the receipt of all applications is January 1 and final selections will be announced by the Foundation on March 15.

The annual stipends for graduate Fellows are as follows: $1800 for the first year; $2000 for the intermediate year; and $2200 for the terminal year. Limited allowances will also be provided to apply toward tuition, laboratory fees, and travel.

Open only to citizens of the United States and awarded solely on the basis of ability, the fellowships may be applied to advanced study in the mathematical, physical, medical, biological and engineering sciences including anthropology, psychology (excluding clinical psychology), and the following social sciences: geography, mathematical economics, econometrics, demography, information and communication theory, experimental and quantitative sociology and the history and philosophy of science.

Further information and application materials may be obtained from the Fellowship Office, National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council, 2101 Constitution Ave., N. W., Washington 25, D. C.

Business Group Observes City Banking Operations

Robert Turnbull, a senior Business Administration major, was chosen by Professor J. Allen Minnich of the Placement Bureau to accompany him on an all-day visit to the Fidelity Philadelphia Trust Co. on Wednesday, October 7.

Six Philadelphia banks invited the Placement Bureau Director and one student from each of the colleges and universities in the Philadelphia area to be their guests for the day. Upon their arrival in the city, the guests were divided into six groups, each spending the day at one of the host institutions. Here they observed at first hand the various operations of a modern banking house.

Bank officers were most gracious in explaining the activities of the host institutions and telling their guests of the opportunities that can be found in the field.

Bob reported his experiences to his colleagues of the Business Administration Club at the group's meeting on Tuesday, October 13.

YM-YWCA Fall Plans Include Tours, Seminars

The four commissions of the YM-YWCA began an active fall semester when the first meetings were held Wednesday, October 14.

Under the leadership of Bob Jones and Elaine Heasley, the Intercollegiate Commission will present a panel discussion on foreign study, October 21, in Room 7 of Bomberger Hall at 7 p.m. Three Ursinus students who spent their junior year abroad will speak of their experiences and study in Europe. Phil Houser spent a year in France, Phil Rowe a year in Scotland and Barbara Holtzman a year in Germany.

The Social Responsibility Commission has arranged tours at Pennhurst State School for the mentally retarded Tuesday and Wednesday, October 21 and 22. All those interested in volunteer work at Pennhurst should contact Sue Cohen or Bob McClellan.

The first of two seminars planned by the SRC on juvenile delinquency will be Wednesday, October 28. Mr. Charles Pratt from the Western Community House in Philadelphia will be the speaker. The second seminar on November 4 will be conducted by Mr. William Bussiere of the Friends' Neighborhood Guild. SRC also sponsors weekend work camps, volunteer work at the Valley Forge Veterans' Hospital, and faculty baby-sitting.

The Student Worship Commission, led by Pat Tucker and Bob Hunsicker, is planning to visit churches of different denominations.

On Sunday, October 25, all students are invited to attend the worship service at the Valley Forge Episcopal Chapel. SWC also sponsors a Sunday Discussion Group in the Student Union from 9:30 to 10:15 on Sunday morning and plans the evening vesper service Sunday, October 25. Bible study will begin October 30 at 12:30 in the East Music Studio. Leading this study throughout the year will be Dr. Baker, Dr. Armstrong, Dr. Creager, Dr. Heilemann, and Rev. Schellhase.

Chairmen of the Campus Affairs Commission are Bob Kreislinger and Doty Lamm. CAC will again sponsor student-faculty nights and informal art discussions. Tickets for the Community Concert Series are also available to students through this commission.

SENATE

On October 6, the Senate, the legislative body of the WSGA, held its first meeting in Paisley's reception room. Gail Snyder, WSGA President, presided.

The first order of business was the election of a secretary. Lore Hamilton, the senator from Beardwood, was elected.

It was announced at the meeting that all Senate meetings will be held on the third Wednesday of every month at 5 p.m. in Paisley's reception room.

Dr. Harlow Shapley Fabricates Universal Evolution at First Forum

What is outside everything? This was the question ridiculed Wednesday night, Oct. 7 at the first forum of the 1959-60 year. Dr. Harlow Shapley, noted astronomer presented what he described as a practice lecture on the evolution of the universe. Dr. Shapley demonstrated his versatility by borrowing heavily from most scientific areas and assimilating them into an interesting evolutionary theory. It occurred to some members of the audience that from a man who could describe the motions of unseen galaxies, perhaps the question of what is beyond, would not be as difficult as he seemed to believe. But Dr. Shapley kept this audience thinking, and this was perhaps his most important accomplishment.

Dr. Shapley illustrated his talk with slides ranging from chemical formulas to beautiful photographs of star clusters. He was rarely at a loss for words even under the inevitable misadventures which haunt so many Ursinus activities. When the slides failed, he told jokes. In fact, his talk was a cohesive and relevant collection of after dinner stories.

After concluding his lecture with a few words on the expanding universe theory, Dr. Shapley answered questions. And it was then that the complete circle of his interest variety was closed. An anecdote concerning Robert Frost was told and a poem "Fire and Ice" was recited.

Ursinus to Host Renaissance Group Parley Saturday

This Saturday, Oct. 24, Ursinus for the first time will be host to the Middle Atlantic group of the National Renaissance Society. A meeting of the Renaissance Society is held every year, at which time noted scholars of the Renaissance converge to discuss various aspects of this period in history.

Highlighting this year's conference will be the luncheon given by Dr. and Mrs. Helfferich for all visiting members of the group. Following this at 1:45 p.m., there will be a general meeting in Pfahler Hall. This year the group will consider "Aspects of the French Renaissance."

Speakers at the meeting are Rudolf Hirsch of the University of Pennsylvania who will discuss "The beginning of printing in Renaissance France"; Robert M. Walker of Swarthmore College, whose topic is "Jean Duvert: sixteenth century engraver"; and Alfred M. Wilcox, head of the romance languages department at Ursinus, who will present a paper on "An unknown admirer of Ronsard."

One of the highlights of the day will be the exhibit of French Renaissance prints lent by the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D. C. These prints are from the Lessing J. Rosenwald collection.

Following a short business meeting, tea will be served at 4:15 p.m.

Any interested Ursinus student is invited to attend the lecture session beginning at 1:45 p.m.

Mademoiselle College Bd. Tryouts, Assignments Set

Mademoiselle fashion magazine is offering an opportunity for any women students interested in working on the magazine, to apply for a Tryout assignment. The contest will give the girls a chance to test their ability—in writing and editing, art, fashion and merchandising, promotion and advertising—in competition with other college students—and to have their work noticed and judged by professionals.

College Board members are picked on the basis of satisfactory completion of a Tryout Assignment, and will be given only one additional assignment. Cash prizes are given for the best Tryout and Assignment, and there is always the possibility of publication in Mademoiselle. The highest reward for those demonstrating outstanding ability in the Contest is a Guest Editorship. Twenty from the Board are offered Guest Editorships and the chance to spend a salaried month (June) in New York working on Mademoiselle's August issue.

The deadline for Tryout assignments is Nov. 30. Watch for posters with further information about entering the contest.

MSGA Now Responsible For All Male Discipline

The Men's Student Government Association met for the second time at 7 p.m., Monday, Oct. 12 in the classics room of the library. Several important situations faced the 1959-60 council, which had met for the first time, largely for organizational purposes, only one week earlier.

The routine business, which consisted of granting a flower vending concession to Don Famous and recommending a loud speaker hook-up in the day study, was quickly disposed of.

The council then ruled that the traditional Sophomore custom of attempting to kidnap the Freshman Class officers would be allowed to continue, but the council members urged the student body to refrain from dangerous automobile excursions which might mar the event. The MSGA expressed its disapproval of the unidentified student who broke a window in the new gym Saturday in order to play basketball. It was emphasized that this type of behavior is subject to criminal statutes and, if uncovered, would be dealt with accordingly.

Cub and Key Fetes Charter Members, Observes Founding

The Cub and Key Society of Ursinus College celebrated on Saturday, October 17, the twentieth anniversary of its founding. This celebration was in the form of a banquet at the Lakeside Inn honoring the charter members of the organization.

The charter members are: William E. Wismer, Glen E. Eshbach, Fred E. Todd, Jr., William Power, Ray V. Gurzynski, Fred Glatfelter, and Allan S. Dunn.

Since its inception in 1939, the Society has honored the outstanding men of the college by their inclusion in its membership. Membership is limited to those who have attained the following requirements: The possession of an outstanding character and the promotion of the ideals and best interests of the college. 2. The rendering of distinctive and valuable service to the college in extra-curricular activities. 3. The maintenance of a satisfactory average.

Members, limited to seven, are tapped at the end of their junior year to serve during their senior year. The following men of the class of 1960 comprise the present organization: Lin Drummond, John Forrest, Robert Kreisinger and Ron Tempest.

The society fosters respect and promotion of college objectives and traditions, promotes the desire to achieve high scholastic standing, sponsors an annual scholarship, lends its service whenever possible, and functions actively as an alumni group.

$2,300 Science Grant Awarded for Research

President Donald L. Helfferich announced that the college has been given a grant of $2,300 by the National Science Foundation, Washington, D. C.

The grant will be used for support of basic research in Isotopic Anhydride, a field in which Dr. Roger P. Staiger, Associate Professor of Chemistry, has already done much research.

Dr. Staiger will be in charge of the investigations to be carried on under the grant by Ursinus seniors. Students will thus have an opportunity to familiarize themselves with the sort of work that will be expected of them in graduate school or in industry.

Dr. Alan T. Waterman, Director of the National Science Foundation, reveals in his letter to Dr. Helfferich that the grant will cover two years' work, effective from September 25, 1959.

SPANISH CLUB

The first meeting of the Spanish Club will be held on Oct. 27 at 7:30 p.m. in the day study. Lee Bussard, a sophomore, will discuss her recent trip to Europe. This year the Spanish Club is under the direction of Mr. Seelye who joined the Spanish Department this term. Through films, slides, discussions, and Spanish conversation the Club hopes to promote the language and increase interest in Spanish on Ursinus' campus.

gerous automobile excursions which might mar the event. The MSGA expressed its disapproval of the unidentified student who broke a window in the new gym Saturday in order to play basketball. It was emphasized that this type of behavior is subject to criminal statutes and, if uncovered, would be dealt with accordingly.

Officer Richard McClure of Collegeville, invited to the meeting and introduced by Dean of Men Richard Whatley, spoke of his concern over the growing amount of local misdemeanors attributed to Ursinus students. His talk was prompted by three weekend incidents: a Maples Hall frisbee game bridging route 422 and two cases of disorderly conduct, one involving disrespect to an officer. Officer McClure left the meeting early and was consequently represented by Dean Whatley during the ensuing trials. The Dean turned two of the cases over to the association. The charges against the Maples frisbee players had already been dismissed.

In the first case presented, Whatley, on behalf of Officer McClure, charged an Ursinus Junior with violation of MSGA rule 12. Specifically the charge read disorderly conduct and disrespect to an officer. The student, who had formerly pleaded guilty to both charges, reversed his plea on the second count.

The council, acting on the merits of the particular case, decided to recommend 14 temporary demerits to remain on the student's record until June plus a total of six work hours.

The second case, involving six Freshmen, one Sophomore, and one Junior also charged with violation of rule 12, was dismissed when all but two of the men pleaded not guilty. Officer McClure had informally suggested leniency, and it was felt that the offense did not warrant punishment. Two men, however, had been wearing pajamas when McClure stopped the group and these two were officially reprimanded.

"I was impressed by the way you men conducted these trials", commented Dean Whatley, who had stepped down as a voting member of the council at both trials and he went on to promise that he would refer all future disciplinary problems to the Council. The meeting was then adjourned by MSGA president Jim Sandercock.

The first meeting gathered exactly one week previous to the eventful Monday night. At this meeting, Barry Francis and Tom Stoudt were appointed to coordinate with the Women's Student Government Association. Also, John Swinton, who completes the trio of Sophomore representatives, was given the oath of office, and council members were made aware of all procedure changes.

The BEAR FACTS

WAA

Fall activities of the Women's Athletic Association got underway at the first semester meeting on October 6.

At the session new constitutions were distributed and Miss Eleanor Snell, new faculty advisor, was introduced. After discussing forthcoming activities, bracelets and letters which are given as awards were displayed.

Tonight the WAA is sponsoring a program about the All-American Women's Field Hockey Team tour of Europe. Jackie Westervelt and Vonnice Gros will discuss the trip and show movies.

Other activities planned are a Halloween Masquerade Dance on Oct. 30, in conjunction with the Varsity Club, a Gym Show, and a debate on "The Importance and Recognition of Physical Education at Ursinus."

Knowledge. This is a term that is used almost as freely as "democracy" in so many different connotations that it, too, has ceased to mean any one thing. Yet this "knowledge" is what we as college students are seeking.

In the many courses we pursue, we will be searching for this knowledge. Some men we study will tell us there is no such thing—that we can never know. Another group of men will tell us to forget what we can reason—to trust only to our "intuition". But to most men there are two kinds of knowledge to be considered. There is the knowledge that comes from the mind, and there is the knowledge that comes from the heart.

Today's college student of the modern type seems to regard himself as the cold, searching man of intellect. He must find the answers to this hectic, senseless, purposeless world through his intelligence. Yes, he thinks he should have enough power of mind to discover the meaning of this world and of this universe.

But what happens to this modern mental giant who feels that he has the power to discover the undiscoverable? He fails. He cannot answer his own questions with reason. Reason. Reason. Reason. He is like the men of the enlightenment—the men whose god was reason. They could not find the answer either. Are we just rounding out a cycle? Or is there another answer to the rationally unanswerable?

There is another kind of college student. He would not be classed as a modern one. Reason is not his god. He is the student who believes in the knowledge of the heart as well as the knowledge of the mind. His answer to his "modern" colleagues is one that goes like this: "Do not trust too much in yourself or your reason. For from where does your reason come? Can you explain your ability to reason? If you can not explain what you are using to try to explain other things, then does it not make sense that there must be numerous things in this world that reason cannot explain and that perhaps are never meant to be explained?" Remember, too, that this knowledge of the mind can be used beautifully to guide and complement the knowledge of the heart. Only when man sees the power of the unity of the two knowledges will he attain any degree of contentment. The student must grant that both of them are a gift—to be used together—to temper one another. When one type of knowledge grows, the other should grow with it. By developing both, the entire spirit of the man should itself become more complete.

NEWPORT SWINGS

by John Swinton

The jazz festival in Newport, Rhode Island, although a financial failure, has, for the past few summers, thrilled jazz enthusiasts as well as the opportunistic local merchants who gladly underwrite the annual loss. Picture, if you will, 20,000 jazz fiends descending upon Newport, each one (as Oscar Brand estimated recently) willing and able to spend a minimum of $10.00 a day. In a single day, the population of Newport jumps from 40,000 to 60,000. Clearly the merchants' problem was how to extend this tourist bonanza. The answer lay in coordinating jazz with folk music, a close musical relative and, in the case of Negro blues and work rhythms, an actual forerunner of the modern jazz idiom.

Unfortunately the weather was cloudy, rainy and windy during the days of the initial Newport Folk Festival. Oscar Brand, a New York City guitarist best known among the college set for his "Bawdy Songs and Backroom Ballads" series, hosted part of the festival. "America's tuning fork", Pete Seeger, acted as the second master of ceremonies, utilizing his five-string banjo and twelve-string guitar. Jimmy Driftwood, who introduced his "Battle of New Orleans" to a young but unresponsive audience in Carnegie Hall last spring, twanged the quaint piece as the dampened crowd hummed along.

The festival committee had invited many of the best known folk singers, varying styles being represented by Cynthia Gooding, Leon Bibb, and John Niles, but none were as well received as three ivy league performers from the West Coast. Stepping into the stadium and singing with its usual uninhibited gusto, the Kingston Trio made its audience forget for half an hour the rain and discomfort.

Consisting of three college grads and, in the background a jolly, bald, and essential bass player, the Kingston three relies on its keen sense of rhythm as much as actual musical ability. Bob Shane, crooning "Scotch and Soda" and rolling his guitar with the sea chanty "Santo Anno", comes as close as any of the trio to instrumental brilliance. Dave Guard's banjo is adequate but is usually reduced to a mere rhythm instrument, and the same can be said for little Nick Reynold's ukelele and conga drums.

Despite the fact that the trio thrives on Terry Gilkyson anguish ditties (ie: "Fast Freight"), Louis Gottlieb reconstructions and other popular songs like "Scarlet Ribbons" and "Remember the Alamo", they have been taken to the hearts of all but the staunchest of folk music purists. Robert Shelton, writing in The New York Times, finds fault with the ethnic distortion "Coplas" and the uninspired clinches like "Tom Dooley", "Hard Ain't It Hard", "Bay of Mexico" which make up much of the Kingston's repertoire.

The trio has, however, brought folk music out of the espresso coffee shops and small recital halls where it had descended following the decline of the Weavers, and has reintroduced it to large university stages and the swank night clubs. The Kingston Trio is too polished a group, its informal ivy league motif is too well cultivated for them to be considered authentic folk artists by even the most uneducated enthusiast, but the fact of its infectious style is apparent and makes the three boys, as they were at Newport, the top song group in show business.

Khrushchev and The College Student

by Cindy Buchanan

Prior to the arrival of Mr. Khrushchev in the United States, while Mr. Eisenhower was ending his historical trip in Europe, a printing company was busy preparing to make money on the irrational ideas of some Americans. Signs, similar to those seen sticking to the fenders of cars, were sold very soon—fluorescent orange on black—saying: Khrushchev NOT WELCOME HERE. Merchants, barbers, salesmen, some of them educated people, thought little wrong in displaying these signs of hatred.

Suppose, just suppose, that some of the advocates of prejudice of this sort are college graduates! That is true in the South; so perhaps it is too much to hope that college students are not re-assimilated in the ideologies and customs of the environment from which they have come to college. Where the blame lies I am not at all sure, but that the situation should exist or continue to exist is preposterous. More dangerous than the welcome visitation of a Communist leader with a Union, is the prospect that the educated people are not carrying on individual and careful thinking. It seems to me that this could cause the downfall of a civilization faster than any other factor.

Autumn Above the Horizon

The clawing trees rake clean the sky,
And make the clouds, like a mother's hands,
Rush on to find a warmer land to shade.

The piercing spires point man toward God,
Their crosses lost in mists of thought,

The chimney tops push earth toward heaven,
Their blackened tops like man's own soul.

The summer winds become so chilled,
Their anger shouts in fiercest tones.

And man must only stand in awe,
As God sends down upon his world
His love, His peace, His promise of new life.

BRASS

Some Ursinus students had a few questions on the administration of Ursinus College. An Ursinus Weekly staff member put these questions to Dean William S. Pettit.

- Q1. Do you think a combined student government would be more effective than are the independent MSGA-WSGA groups?
- A1. There are some things that should be discussed separately. Common problems could be discussed very effectively by the officers or an executive committee from each group.
- Q2. Is there any chance of organizing an English group, club, or fraternity similar to Pi Gamma Mu?
- A2. An English club is listed in the Ursinus College Bulletin. It seems it has dissolved because of lack of support.
- Q3. Why are the requirements for making the Dean's List based on a grade system of all B's and one A rather than on a straight average?
- A3. The honor student should have grades all of which are honorable. If the Dean's List requirements were based on a straight average, it would be possible for a student to do average or even poor work in a subject and balance this with excellent grades in other fields in order to make the Dean's List. Higher standards are maintained with the present system of all B's and one A.
- Q4. Will student enrollment continue to increase, or is it fairly stabilized?
- A4. At present the Board of Directors has set the maximum limit at nine hundred. It is felt that Ursinus can best meet the needs of its students by remaining a small college where a friendly relationship can still be attained between the professors and the students.

If you have any questions of this sort, why not list them along with the person of whom he would like to ask them. Deposit these lists in the Weekly's contribution box on the main table of the library.

Within Reach . . .

The Philadelphia stage this week will premiere at least two good plays and possibly more, since almost every current production is now bearing a "last two, three or four days" tag.

"Only in America" will open at the Forest on Thursday, Oct. 22, and will run for three and a half weeks. The title and the story are taken from Harry Golden's new book, which is an amusing collection of life-in-America stories. It will be interesting to see how the production is handled, since the book is basically a discussion, covering many diverse topics.

Paddy Chayefsky's new play, "The Tenth Man" opened last Tuesday at the Walnut, and received fairly good reviews. In synopsis, it is a tender allegory concerned with the "utter hopelessness of life without purpose or love, and the necessity of faith". As one of Paddy's characters philosophically observes: "It is better to believe in a dibbuk than to believe in nothing at all". The story alternates between the manifestation of a dibbuk and the humorous efforts of a synagogue sexton to obtain the necessary quorum for services (thus the need for a "tenth man"). There are Wednesday and Saturday matinees, and the evening performances begin at eight. See it if you can.

The Philadelphia Orchestra is still playing at two o'clock on Fridays and eight-thirty on Saturdays. This week Ormandy will conduct Prokofiev's "The Love for Three Oranges" and Strauss' "Sinfonia Domestica." Also on the program are selections from Zador, Mozart, and Roem.

Other than that, Joey Bishop and Judy Scott are at the Celebrity Room, for those of you who are interested in Mr. Bishop, Miss Scott, or merely the Celebrity Room. And if you're concerned with the whereabouts of George Shearing, he and his new eighteen piece band just finished a six-day stand at the Red Hill Inn last night, so you missed him.

Hel's Corner

A definite feeling of disappointment seems to have overcome many people of our college community when the topic of conversation turns to the success of our varsity teams this fall. Moreover, disappointment alone is not the only attitude encountered; in addition, do we notice among various students and other members of the college a growing tendency towards cynicism and sarcasm which finds its expression in many derogatory remarks and statements in regard to athletic activities at Ursinus. May this negative attitude be justified or not, it nonetheless exists on campus. People actually worry about what is going to happen to sports at this college.

Looking at the "problem" objectively, we must come to the conclusion that the whole thing is rather ridiculous. Certainly, to claim that we play sports not for the sake of winning but for the sake of playing them does sound like a beautiful rationalization. But, to let ourselves get worried over lost football or soccer games is absurd. Don't all of us have enough problems already? Are we too blind to see our other, more important problems, or do we consciously or subconsciously forget about them and leave off steam by criticizing athletics? It appears that if people don't seem to have any real problems, they set artificial ones about which they can worry. After all, people have a natural tendency to complain, and consequently they must always have something to criticize. It is to be regretted, indeed, that athletics here at Ursinus are the scapegoat.

Sports are not an end in themselves. Rather they are a means for accomplishing physical fitness and building character. This much has been accomplished at Ursinus, despite the fact that we have lost quite often. As long as coaches can make men out of boys and teach them discipline and build character, defeats are not too heavy a penalty to pay, and athletics have thus fulfilled their real purpose.

Ursinus Hockey Team Defeats Swarthmore 3-0

Another outstanding victory was recorded for the Ursinus hockey team when they played their second game of the season at Swarthmore on October 16.

During the opening minutes of play, Anne Sansenbach met with an injury and was replaced by Sue Andres, who played a beautiful game at left back. Credit should also be given to Debbie Shaw for her fine job at left half.

In the first half of the game, two goals were scored, one by Susie Wagner and the other by Faye Bardman, but Swarthmore was unable to cross the Ursinus goal. The team came back just as hard in the second half. The third goal was made by Lynn Crosley, and Swarthmore still remained scoreless.

The J.V. also brought back a victory with the score being 4-0. At the end of the first half, Von Kleck and Tignor had each scored a goal. Tignor again scored during the second half, and the fourth and last goal was made by Judy Detweiler.

On Saturday, Oct. 17, the Varsity played the Ursinus College Alumnae Team. Although the Varsity lost by a score of 3-2, they put up a good fight, and a demonstration of skillful hockey was displayed. Both Ursinus goals were made by Susie Wagner, and Phyll Stadler was responsible for two of the Alumnae goals.

Booters Defeated By Rutgers and Haverford Teams

On Oct. 14 the Ursinus soccer team journeyed to Rutgers University to initiate their 1959 season. Playing in a continuous rainfall the Bears were handed a 5-1 defeat.

Ursinus went scoreless until the fourth period. Then, last year's high scorer, Mike Blewett, came across from fifteen yards out with an accurate "direct" kick.

Co-captain John Schumacher seems to be the brick wall needed for our defensive unit at goalie position. Shoey came across with 35 saves which is a credit to any college goalie in the country.

The defeat by Rutgers proved even more costly with the loss of Bob Fulton, co-captain. Fulton was taken out with a torn cartilage of the knee with only two minutes remaining in the game. Fulton is expected to be out for several games.

Oct. 17 at Haverford Ursinus tried to even out the win and loss column. Despite the team's efforts, the Bears were defeated 2-0.

Once again Shoey distinguished himself as goalie with 36 saves. Thus, at the end of the Haverford game he had compiled a record of 71 saves after only two league games.

Though hampered by the loss of Fulton, the team had improved over their previous exhibition with Rutgers. However, their passing was not all that it should have been. Players Don Henry and George and Phil Brackin are to be commended for their performance in this encounter with Haverford.

Warren Fry to Coach Ursinus Basketball Team

Warren O. Fry, Director of Athletics at Boyertown High School, has agreed to lead the Ursinus Bears' hoopsters thru their 1959-60 season.

Everett "Ace" Bailey, Director of Athletics says that the Boyertown football and baseball coach will start practice sessions at Ursinus on Oct. 19. The first game of the season will bring together the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Ursinus on the latter's court at Collegeville on Dec. 3.

Mr. Fry, a three-letter man as an undergraduate of Temple University from which he was graduated in 1932, also holds a Temple M. Ed. degree. He coached all sports at Schwenksville High School until accepting his post at Boyertown about 12 years ago.

The new coach has been a prominent official in PIAA and collegiate basketball circles and has officiated at many a game on the same floor, where he will now watch his charges perform.

A former pro-football player, Fry was a scout for the Philadelphia A's until their move to Kansas City. He still does some bird-dogging for Milwaukee.

Coach Fry is married to the former Ella Kulp of Graterford. They have one daughter, Andrea, now a senior at the high school in Schwenksville where the family still resides.

Mr. Fry has been named Assistant in the Health and Physical Education Department of the college.

NOTICE

Men's basketball practice will start this Monday night, Oct. 19, in the new Gym. Report at 7 p.m. and come prepared to work-out.

All male students interested in playing basketball are urged to come out and help start molding a winning team for Ursinus College.

Ursinus Bows as Wilkes Holds Second Half Lead

Taking advantage of two blocked punts deep in U.C. territory, Wilkes picked up the two easy touchdowns they needed for a come-from-behind victory. It was the third straight loss for U. C. and the first win for Wilkes this year.

The Bears scored first, as a recovered fumble at the mid-field stripe started the drive. Roger Wiest ran for 18 yards to the 32. Runs by Dick Boggio and a pass from Ted Kershner to Jim Minnich were instrumental in bringing the ball to the one yard line where Kershner sneaked for the T.D. and then ran for the extra points.

Late in the first quarter, Wilkes took over on downs on their own 37 and drove to the Ursinus 16. A pass from quarterback Schuetter to end Marchakaitus resulted in the first Wilkes score. Only the clock stopped a Wilkes aerial attack that took them to the U. C. 10 at the close of the first half.

Lineman Fred Williams started things for Wilkes in the third period by blocking a Kershner punt and running 32 yards for the score. The extra point attempt again failed. U. C. immediately regained the lead as line-backer Bob Petersen picked off a Schuetter pass and ran it back 52 yards to the Wilkes 2 yard line. Quarterback John Detweiler ran for the TD and Kershner placed the extra point for a 15-12 Ursinus lead that held up into the fourth quarter.

Just as Ursinus fans started to sense a victory, the tide turned and the breaks started going to Wilkes. A clipping penalty stopped one of their drives, but another blocked Ursinus punt, recovered by John Makarabitz gave Wilkes a first down on the U. C. 2 where halfback Paul Aquiline carried it over. Wilkes was out in front to stay. They added a final touchdown to wrap things up after recovering a fumble on the U.C. 22. Marv Antinnes took it the final four yards and Yanchus added the extra point to close out the score at 25-15.

Standing out for U.C. were Kershner, Boggio, and Gary Leach in the back field and John Myers, Keith Moyer, John Brackin, and Bob Petersen in the line, both on offense and defense.

Ursinus finally played a team of its own calibre and with a few more breaks could have picked up its first victory in two years. The game proved a heartbreaker to lose, however, and the Bears will have to wait another week for its first win.

Girls' Hockey Team Victorious at Exhibition

It appears that the 1959 hockey team is off to another victorious start. On Saturday, Oct. 10, the girls played their first game of the season with the Finger Lakes Club Team at Rochester, New York, and they won by a score of 3-1. The goals were scored by Geogia Ferrell, playing center forward, Lynne Crosley, left inner, and Carol Bentley, left wing.

Due to the fact that hockey has only recently been introduced in that area, the game was a demonstration game for surrounding high schools. The inspectors were impressed by the skill and spirit displayed by Ursinus, as everyone will be when they come out to support the team.

Ursinus lost their second straight game of the season to Johns Hopkins, 50-6; but threw a real scare into the power packed Jays in the first half by hitting pay dirt first in the early moments of the game.

After receiving the opening kickoff, the Bears were forced to kick after three unsuccessful passes but stymied the Hopkins offense and forced the Jays into kick formation. With the snap of the ball, the entire forward wall came plunging in, blocking the kick on Hopkins 35 and recovering the elusive pigskin on the Jays 20. The Bears quickly capitalized on their heads-up ball playing and three plays later, Kershner hit Minnich in the end zone for the TD. The attempted extra point was unsuccessful. However, the Bears were out in front 6-0 and had the overconfident Jays baffled by the U.C. tight defense. But the victory-minded Hopkins eleven, couldn't be held for long. At the end of the second quarter the Jays were ahead 12-6 on a six yard run off tackle and a 15 yard pass play from Oz Garcia to Jerry Erdman culminating the two sustained drives.

In the third quarter the Bears gained only eight yards the entire time, while Hopkins playing possession football, piled up 142 net yards and pushed two more touchdowns over the Ursinus goal. In the last quarter, the injury riddled Bears made some costly errors in passing, having the Jays pick off two in a row for two more quick TD's. The game ended 50-6, but Ursinus showed that perhaps better things are to come.

UC Thinclads Face Hill, Leopards; Split First Meet

The newly organized Ursinus cross-country team ran its first meet Saturday, October 17, at the Hill School, Pottstown. Racing against the Hill harriers and also the Lafayette frosh in a triangular meet, Ursinus made a strong initial showing, losing to the Pottstown preps by eighteen points but running away from Lafayette easily. The scoring went Hill 26, Ursinus 44, Lafayette 64 with the lowest score winning. Vern Morgan, as expected, flashed through the football uprights first. Morgan traversed the two and one half mile course in 11:57 better than half a minute in front of the second runner, Hill's Bob McLevain. Bill Pratt, a smooth striding Ursinus freshman, finished sixth while Ziegenfuss, Swinton, and Stevenson came home 11th, 12th and 14th respectively in the field of twenty for the Bears.

Next week the Ursinus harriers will journey to Albright, and there a grueling four mile course will test the strength of the young squad.

Schedule

Oct. 24—2:30—S-more away
Oct. 31—2:00—P. M. C. away
Nov. 6—4:00—Albright

Do You Think for Yourself?

(THROW THESE QUESTIONS INTO THE POT AND SEE WHAT COOKS*)

If your studies led you to believe you could strike oil by drilling a hole right in the middle of the campus, would you (A) keep still about it so people wouldn't think you were nuts? (B) sell stock in the proposition to all your friends? (C) get an oil man interested in the idea, even if you had to give him most of the profits?

A B C

"A watched pot never boils" means (A) the man who made such a statement never watched a pot; (B) if you don't want the stew to boil over—watch it! (C) you can't hurry things by worrying about them.

A B C

If you saw a girl perched up in a tree reading a book, would you say, (A) "Timber!" (B) "Is the light better up there?" (C) "Will that branch hold two?"

A B C

Assuming cigarettes could talk, would you listen to (A) a filter cigarette that talks only about its taste? (B) a weak-tasting cigarette that talks about its filter? (C) a filter cigarette that lets its advanced filter design and full taste speak for themselves?

A B C

Next time you light up, take a moment to think about what you really want in your filter cigarette. Most men and women who think for themselves choose VICEROY, the cigarette with the most advanced filter design of them all . . . the one cigarette with a thinking man's filter and a smoking man's taste.

*If you checked (B) in three out of four of these questions, you're a pretty smart cooky—but if you checked (C), you think for yourself!

Familiar pack or crush-proof box.

ONLY VICEROY HAS A THINKING MAN'S FILTER... A SMOKING MAN'S TASTE!

decided to present to the faculty for consideration, an amendment in the constitution. This amendment would limit eligibility for membership in the group to junior women only, thus disallowing the possibility of women entering in their senior year.

It was decided that the annual dessert given for the women eligible for Whittan membership would be held on Monday evening, Nov. 9, at 6:30 p.m.

The group is planning a trip to Philadelphia on Oct. 31 to attend a concert of the Philadelphia Orchestra.

DEBATING CLUB

Archie McKown, President of the Debating Club, has announced that the Club will hold its first meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 20, 1959, at 6:30 p.m. in room 4 of Bomberger Hall. All those interested in debating are urged to attend. The first debate of the term has been scheduled for the first Saturday in December.

IRC

The annual International Relations Club reception will be held this evening at 7:30 in the home of Dr. Eugene Miller, of Ninth Ave. The social is for all members and interested persons. Speaker for the evening will be Philip Rowe who returned this fall from studying abroad last year.

IFC

The Inter Fraternity Council began its social activities of the 1959-60 college year on Sunday, Oct. 4, 1959, with a welcome back picnic, open to the entire college, at Orioles Meadow.

The picnic started at p.m. and featured many enjoyable events throughout the afternoon and early evening. In addition to the delicious ham sandwiches, baked beans, and cool, refreshing beverages, those who attended enjoyed a beautiful Indian summer afternoon of picnicking and socializing.

BETA SIG

The brothers of Beta Sig treated Ursinus students to an evening of 1½ tons of fun on Saturday, Oct. 17 at the L.A.M.

In order to solve the difficult problem of transportation out of Collegeville, the clever Betans chartered a bus and succeeded in filling it with fraternity party bound students.

Another innovation featured at the party was a door prize of a smorgasbord luncheon for two at the Collegville Inn.

SPIRIT COMMITTEE

The Spirit Committee met last Wednesday in Bomberger to make plans for fall activities and to discuss their recent dance.

Another dance is slated for Oct. 23 when the Freshman Variety Show will be presented and a door prize will be awarded.

Also, plans are being made for Homecoming, when the Committee will assist the Varsity Club with decorations.

Spirit Committee decorates for all home football games and President Gail Kleckner has announced that those who wish to help should come out on Saturday mornings.

Soon committee members will be selling football shakers for 25 cents to students.

FRENCH CLUB

The French Club will hold its first meeting this term on Oct. 27 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of the club adviser, Dr. Garret. A general discussion on Europe and Paris will be held at this meeting. Throughout the year there will be talks by French people who live in this area, films, slides and discussions. The Club got its activities underway on Oct. 8 when the members attended a play entitled "A Servant of Two Masters" presented by a company of French players at Temple University.

German Club

The German Club will hold its first meeting of the term during this coming week. This year the club will be working in close association with the German Department. One of the club's main projects will be the celebration of the 200th anniversary of the birth of Johann Christoph Friedrich von Schiller on Nov. 10. Watch the Weekly for further news or this event.

Beardwood Chemical Society

Dr. Roger P. Staiger was the main speaker at a Beardwood Chemical Society meeting last Monday evening. Bob Megill, president, conducted the session. Vern Morgan and Mary Ann Dempsey were introduced as vice president and secretary-treasurer, respectively, and the group heard the reading of the society by-laws.

Dr. Staiger's topic was student affiliation with the American Chemical Society. He is the Beardwood Society Adviser.

It was decided to meet the first and third Monday of each month. Professional men of the area will be guest speakers.

After adjournment, refreshments were served.

Miller, Sherman Elected '61 Ruby Co-Editors

Vicki Miller and Bruce Sherman have been elected co-editors of the 1961 Ruby. Elections were held on Oct. 12 by the junior class.

A Political Science major from Philadelphia, Vicki plans to enter government work after college. She is a Dean's Lister, senator of Duryea Hall and a member of the Spirit Committee, the Weekly Circulation Staff and various class committees.

At Frankford High School, she was editor of the yearbook, The Record.

Bruce is editor of this year's Lantern and a member of the Brownback-Anders Pre-Medical Society. A resident of Philadelphia, he is a biology major, Dean's Lister, and plans to attend medical school.

"J.B." Tickets Available Now At Discount Prices

For the final weeks of the run of the Pulitzer Prize winning play "J.B.", at the ANTA Theatre in New York City, students and faculty are offered seats at all prices at one-half price. These may be purchased by mail or at the box office.

Archibald MacLeish is the author of "J.B.", which has been directed by Elia Kazan and has an extraordinary cast headed by Basil Rathbone.

The one-half price student tickets are for Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights and Wednesday matinee only, and are available only thru Oct. 22, as thereafter "J.B." commences a national tour.

The price brackets at one-half prices are, in the evenings, $3.45, 2.20, 2.30, 2.05, 1.75 and 1.45 and at the matinee, $2.30, 2.05, 1.75, 1.45 and .90. Mail orders must be accompanied by a self addressed and stamped envelope.

PRE-MED

At the Oct. 7 meeting of the Brownback-Anders Society it was announced that a pre-medical symposium will be held at Womans Medical College and Eastern Pennsylvania Psychiatric Institute on Oct. 31.

The announcement was made by president, Ron Shisler. He told the group that the symposium is for any persons interested in attending medical or dental school. The day's activities will include a tour and discussions by representatives of medical schools in the Philadelphia area.

Other organization officers were introduced and it was decided to meet twice a month on Wednesday evenings. Officers are Helmut Behling, vice president and Harris Treiman, secretary-treasurer.

After the meeting, orders were taken for the book, Admission Requirements for American Medical Colleges. Those interested in ordering a copy should contact Helmut Behling.

The next Pre-Medical Society session will be Oct. 28 with Beardwood Chemical Society.

ALLOCATIONS

The committee on Student Activities announces the allocations which will be made to campus organizations for the 1959-60 school year. They are as follows: Athletics, Men, $4005 or 23.7%; Athletics, Women, $2738 or 16.2%; CSA Committee Sundry, $1140 or 6.8%; CSA Spirit Committee, $169 or 1%; Curtain Club, $17 or .10%; Senior Dances, $592 or 3.5%; Junior Dances, $592 or 3.5%; Sophomore Dances, $230 or 1.36%; Lorelei Dance, $592 or 3.5%; Debating, $169 or 1%; Forum, $695 or 4.05%; Lantern, $507 or 3%; Messiah and Meistersingers, $740 or 4.34%; Band, $240 or 1.42% Weekly, $2873 or 17%; MSGA, $242 or 1.43%; WSGA, $355 or 2.10%; YMCA and YWCA, $1014 or 6%. Total expenditures will be $16,900.00. An additional $325 has been allocated to the Curtain Club for new equipment. These funds will be taken from the balance of the 1958 sundry fund.

Stein Story Appears In Sunday "Inquirer"

Mrs. Robert Stein, wife of U.C.'s Dr. Stein, is the author of "Hunter with a Microscope" which appeared Sunday in Today, magazine supplement to the Sunday Inquirer.

The story concerns the adventures of the Stein family, Dr. Stein, the author and their one-year old daughter, Misty, in the wilds of British Columbia during the summer of 1959.

Professor Stein, holder of a grant from the National Science Foundation for a scientific study of Trill's Flycatcher, a species of bird found in the Canadian province, had also spent the summer of 1958 in the same area. The 1958 trip, made without wife or daughter, was sponsored by the American Philo-sophic Society of Philadelphia.

Professor Stein did his graduate work at Cornell University, whose Laboratory of Ornithology provides the electronic equipment needed for recording the bird songs which constitute a vital part of the research.

OMEGA CHI

The sisters of Omega Chi returned this fall to find that two of our members had become engaged. Belated congratulations are extended to our president, Judy Whittam, whose engagement was announced to Tris Coffin, a brother of Sigma Rho Lambda; and also to Nancy Blickenderfer and Jack Prutzman, a June graduate of Ursinus and a brother of Alpha Phi Epsilon.

One of our senior members, Gail Kleckner, attended summer sessions at the Sorbonne in Paris, and toured Italy and Switzerland after her studying was completed. Gail has many fascinating tales to tell of her European excursion.

Our first activity on the social agenda was our rushing party, given Tuesday, October 13, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Wagner. An Hawaiian luau was celebrated, with the rushees as tourists and the O Chi sisters acting as the natives and welcoming the visitors with the traditional lei. Vice-president Loretta Podolak organized the tropical party which was complete with palm trees and pineapples. Emcee for the entertainment was Lynn Ransom. Several alumnae returned to add their O Chi spirit to the luau.

Friday, October 16, the sisters enjoyed the annual smorgasbord luncheon at the Collegville Inn. We're all looking forward to our Homecoming luncheon, at which our newly-pledged members will be able to meet many alumnae.

This year's Ruby is the best ever so buy one soon, right Bev? What do you mean doing dishes is fun, Judy?

As soon as Customs is over, Ruler Coral Lee can spend all her time on poetry and similar interests.

Tau Sig "cellar dwellers" have been working hard lately as have the rest of us for the "spirit that never dies"!

Who almost lost her mustache at the rushing party Thursday night?

We all had a smash-up time and came home with unforgettable memories of our party of the year, as Tau Sig songs once more rang through the streets of Collegeville.

See you in two weeks.

Love,
Phoebe
