Christmas In Africa

by Julia Holbrook

Christmas in Africa! What a strange and exciting thought. That is how it was for me this Christmas season.

My first impression on arriving in Rabat, since it was late at night, concerned the climate: delightfully cool and refreshing. The temperature rarely goes below the mid-forties at night. During the sunlight hours, however, the atmosphere is warmed by a very brilliant sun. In the southern part of Morocco, the temperature rises into the eighties in winter. One can imagine the overwhelming heat of summer in comparison!

The traffic laws are another remarkable, and fearful, subject. At an intersection, the vehicle on the right always has the right of way. However, if a vehicle on the left arrives at an intersection first, he has the right of way. It is not uncommon to find glass from smashed headlights at many intersections.

The day after my arrival in Rabat, I was taken to the Medina—the native portion of a city in which the people live and establish their market district. The market is usually composed of one street which is lined on both sides with tiny open shops. A thatched covering is built overhead to keep the blistering sun out or in case of rain. In the little shops many interesting articles are for sale, all of which are handmade: jewelry and other silver work; trays, pots and pans, ashtrays, leather goods of a great assortment, rugs, material, woolen caps, which are worn by many native Moroccans; native food, wooden products and many other artifacts. As one walks down this street, the salesman of each shop can be seen inviting the many passers-by, particularly foreigners, in to examine his wares. To add to this bustle of noise, donkeys pulling wagons are very frequently guided through the street.

When an obvious Westerner enters a shop to make a purchase, the prices are immediately doubled because the shop owners know from experience that most Westerners are rich and unknowing enough to pay almost any price. The shrewdest action is to argue the price with the shop owner. These wily characters enjoy bargaining and respect people who will call their bluffs. One day, for example, my sister and I approached a shop where they sold bed spreads and pillow cases. Immediately, the owner came out, escorted us in, and allowed us to look at his merchandise. I finally selected two pillow cases and asked him the price. When he said that they were four hundred francs apiece, we were astonished, and playing the game, we exaggerated our astonishment. My sister told him they were far too expensive, that she only had five hundred francs with her, and spoke a word or two in Arabic with great diplomacy. When he asked her to

Officer Selection Team
To Visit Ursinus College

The United States Air Force Recruiting Office in Norristown announced that an officer selection team would visit Ursinus College Thursday, January 14, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Supply Store.

Staff Sergeant Sartini stated that the team would interview interested applicants for the USAF "Officer Training School Program". Through its Officer Training School, the Air Force trains young college graduates to become commissioned officers who possess those skills and specialties needed by the Air Force. In most cases, those officer trainees who successfully complete the pre-commission training will enter an Aircrew (Pilot or Navigator) or technical training course.

College seniors may apply within 135 days prior to graduation. Women graduates can enroll in the Officer Training School program also.

EEP Offers Many Programs in Many Countries in 1960

Students who are interested in traveling and studying abroad this summer will be glad to learn that they can do so in summer, 1960, under a plan known as the European Extension Program. The EEP, which is a part of the Institute of European Studies, takes students from colleges and universities and provides them with a program under the guidance of their own faculty and administration, thus retaining traditions and requirements while abroad. The EEP advertises itself as "an extension of your campus abroad."

There are several preplanned programs offered, which are available in brochures, but other programs planned by individual colleges can be worked out. A program might include one specific plan of study or various integrated ones.

Among the Preplanned Programs are the Intercollegiate Language Programs, the Vienna Music Sessions, the Art and Music Festivals of Europe, Social Science Seminars and the Salzburg University Weeks.

The Language Programs offer study in language centers in France, Spain and Germany. Schools enrolled in the plan can have a center to themselves or join other colleges and universities. The program includes a brief tour of Europe concluded by six weeks residence in a major city of the chosen country. Courses are arranged for beginning, intermediary, or advanced study in language, as well as survey courses in art, history or literature under the direction of local instructors.

The Vienna Music Sessions include music courses by local instructors, field trips to Viennese Music collections, instruction in musical instruments and attending performances at various European Music Festivals. Students are housed in Viennese homes or residence halls.

The Art and Music Festivals of Europe stress music, painting, architecture, and sculpture through a program of travel and study in France, Germany, Italy, Austria, and Holland.

The Social Science Seminars will be conducted in Vienna and such major cities as London, Paris, Luxembourg, Brussels, and Berlin. This will include a study of comparative political parties in each of the countries and international economic policy in Europe.

The Salzburg University Weeks bring together students and scholars from many parts of the world to analyze and discuss some important theme. The topic of University Weeks, 1960, is "Confrontation of East and West in Europe". Some seminar topics will be Russian Art and the West and Politics and Economics in the East.

The cost for these various programs is estimated at $760 and up, depending upon the particular program undertaken. Final details are worked out by the school. Students who are interested in the program should contact Dr. Armstrong for additional information and details concerning the plan.

W.A.A. Variety Show Is

YM-YWCA

The Campus Affairs Commission of the YM-YWCA will sponsor Fireside Chats, Wednesday evening, January 13. Students will leave at 6:30 to visit the homes of Dr. and Mrs. Parsons and Dr. and Mrs. Staiger for an enjoyable evening of informal conversation.

"Unique"
Is Success

On Friday night, January 8, the Class of 1963 presented its first class dance "Unique", in the T-G Gym. The theme of the dance was carried out with modernistic decorations of blue and green. A huge abstract mobile was suspended from the ceiling, and the windows were adorned with blue and green murals. One mural, an abstract image of a face, was especially outstanding. The gym floor was decorated with easels painted to carry out the color scheme.

Music for the evening was supplied by the Nu-Tones, an eleven piece band. A program of entertainment, emceed by Jed Daly, featured the music of the celebrated Freshman Band, calypso songs by Marsha Griest, the singing of Lodie Kershner, and the pantomiming by the Four Fat Lips.

Prof. Armstrong
Addresses Meeting

Professor Maurice W. Armstrong, chairman of the Department of History, read a paper at one session of the meeting of the American Society of Church History in Chicago, Ill., Dec. 28-30.

The Rev. Dr. Armstrong spoke on "The Dissenting Deputies and the American Colonies."

The Protestant Dissenters Committee in London acted as a parliamentary "lobby" on behalf of Dissenters (those opposing the established, or Anglican, church) from 1735 until the early 19th century. In this capacity they were frequently appealed to by religious minorities in the colonies, especially Connecticut and Virginia.

For over three decades they were an unofficial embassy at the Court of St. James, representing both the religious and political interests of the Dissenters in the colonies.

The meeting of the Society of Church History is held in conjunction with the sessions of the American Historical Association.

Debating Club in Match
At St. Joseph's Tonight

The Ursinus Debating Club will be engaged in a match at St. Joseph's College this evening. Last Wednesday the group traveled to Villanova College to participate in another debate.

These debates are only a few of the series in which the group is participating, under the leadership of Archie McKown, president of the club.

Winning many of its matches, the group is gaining a good reputation and experience.

CHI ALPHA

In the height of the festivities of Christmas Week, some three hundred and eighteen Ursinus students, faculty members and friends took time out to partake of Holy Communion.

The service, which was sponsored by the members of Chi Alpha, the pre-theo society on campus, was led by the college chaplain, the Rev. Dr. Alfred Creager, and the Rev. Mr. Richard T. Schellhase.

In addition to the candlelight and Yuletide motif, the communicants were further inspired by two very beautiful Christmas choral numbers which were offered by the combined Chapel Choirs.

The members and advisors of Chi Alpha want to thank the student body for their fine turnout on that particular night.

CANTERBURY CLUB

This evening at 8 p.m. in the Girls' Day Study, the Canterbury Club of Ursinus will hear a June 1959 graduate, Skip Bretzger, speak on his work at St. Christopher's home for orphans.

All students are invited to attend.

British, Austrian
Summer Schools
Offer Study Plans

Four British and two Austrian summer schools are offering American students the opportunity to combine 1960 vacation travel abroad with six weeks of liberal arts study this July and August.

Under the British University Summer Schools program, students can apply for study at one of four schools. At Stratford-upon-Avon, the subject concentrated upon will be Elizabethan drama; at the University of London, the course will be the study of English literature, art and music of the 17th and 18th centuries; at Oxford the subject will be English history, literature and the arts from 1870 to the present; at Edinburgh School, the theme will be the political and economic history, philosophy and literature of Britain from 1559 to 1789. The courses are designed for graduate students, but undergraduates in their last two years at a university will be considered.

The Summer School fees, including full room, board and tuition, range between $245 to $254. A few scholarships which partially cover university fees of undergraduate students and a few full scholarships to graduate students are available.

The Salzburg Summer School in Austria emphasizes German language study, but courses in art and music and on foreign policy are taught in English. Also included, in addition to attendance at the Salzburg music festival, are a variety of conducted tours of Salzburg. The fee for the entire program is $190, with an optional three-day trip to Vienna costing $25. Applicants must be between the ages of 18 and 40, and must have completed at least one year of college work. A few full scholarships are available.

The aim of the University of Vienna is to enable English-speaking students to become acquainted with Austrian educational and social values. Courses being offered include German language, law and political science, education, arts and history. Students who have completed at least two years of college are eligible to apply for either a three or six-week program.

Courbet Exhibit
At Museum of Art
Until Feb. 14

Ursinus art-lovers have a rare treat awaiting them at the Philadelphia Museum of Art. An exhibition of the work of the 19th Century painter Gustave Courbet will be displayed there until February 14. This is the first major exhibition in many years of Courbet's work in the United States and it is the largest one ever assembled in the Western Hemisphere.

Eighty-six paintings will be exhibited—forty of them coming from European museums of world-wide renown. The sponsors of this showing hope to acquaint the American people with the works of one of the most brilliant of all painters through the display of this collection valued at over four million dollars.

Gustave Courbet is associated with the school of Realism during the mid-19th century. He was a fiery, dynamic painter who was a contributing inspiration to such later painters as Corot, Manet and Cezanne.

Along with the painting of Courbet, various personal articles of his life, as well as many caricatures of his paintings by contemporary artists will be shown. There will be special Sunday lectures at 2 p.m. at the museum and conducted tours on Wednesdays and Fridays at 11 a.m. College groups can arrange tours or lectures by appointment.

It is hoped that many Ursinus students will attend this worthwhile exhibition as it may be years before such a collection is again available.

Student Tours
Slated for Europe

Have you ever dreamed about traveling in Europe but always felt that you couldn't afford it? Stop dreaming! There are 24 budget-planned Student Tours to Europe listed for departure in June and July of 1960. There are both escorted and independent tours available. All of the tours include round trip sea or a combination of air and sea travel from New York.

The completely escorted tours cost $975 for a total of 61 days. The group will use a Volkswagen bus as transportation for most of the tour.

The semi-independent tours include round trip transportation by sea, or one way by sea and one way by air, and a 5-day all expense introductory tour upon arrival. After the introductory tour, the student has the unlimited use of a self-drive Volkswagen car to travel anywhere in Europe. Prices of these tours for 8 or 9 weeks start as low as $530 per person.

The semi-independent tours can also be arranged with durations of 44 or 62 days with round trip travel by air. For full details write to Wakefield, Fortune, Inc., 15 East 58th Street, New York 22, N. Y.

Spirit Committee Square
Dance Planned for Friday

On Friday, January 15, the Spirit Committee will hold a turn-about Square Dance in the T-G Gym. The "stag or drag" affair will feature the usual caller and decorations. Admission will be twenty-five cents.

MAY DAY

A Prize of twenty-five dollars is offered by the Ursinus Circle each year to the writer of the May Day pageant which is chosen by the committee for presentation.

All Ursinus women are urged to put their creative talents to work and to write a pageant. The judging will take place in February, so why not write your pageant during the semester vacation?

The pageants are judged by the following criteria: plot or theme and handling of the theme, including dramatic movement, costuming, music, background and narrative.

Hel's Corner

Things seem to have changed on this campus during recent weeks. The Ursinus student body is beginning to display an enthusiasm and spirit we never thought they possessed. Everyone who attended any of the home games (or some of the away games, for that matter) of the U.C. basketball team will have to concede that the indifferent or pessimistic attitude which up to this time had so characterized the average Ursinus student, has become a thing of the past.

Credit for this reversal of attitude, as all of us know, is due to the Ursinus basketball team. Good basic material, a fine spirit, and decent coaching have made Ursinus one of the toughest contenders in the league. It is hard to believe that only a year ago Ursinus had the worst team in the area.

It is with almost certainty that Ursinus will continue its winning streak throughout the rest of the season, provided none of the squad members become a victim of existing ineligibility rules here at Ursinus. Ineligibility, at this point, may prove to be a threat more to be feared than any of the opposing teams in the league.

The wrestling season got underway this past Saturday with a good start when Ursinus defeated Haverford 19-15. It was a close match, but what difference does it make; Ursinus won, and that's good enough. We would like to extend our sincere wishes for a successful season to coach Schellhase and the Ursinus wrestling team.

Grapplers Victorious In Match With Fords, 19-15 Bears Defeat Haverford, Conquer Swarthmore To Total Six U. C. Wins

Opening their season in good style, the Ursinus Varsity grapplers defeated Haverford on the loser's mats last Saturday by a 19-15 count. Will Abele's quick pin of Haverford's Tom Kessinger in the Unlimited class brought UC out of a 14-15 deficit. The Jayvees did equally as well, posting a 13-6 win in five matches.

Bob Hohn, in his first varsity match, got the Bears off to a good start on a 5-4 decision, by virtue of riding time. Hohn was aided twice by illegal clapping of the hands by his opponent Stark Jones. In the 130 lb class, Roger Dreyling, who like Hohn had never wrestled before, was not so lucky. He fought hard but was pinned by Mike Spring in 1:09.

Bob Turnbull immediately put us back in front with a 6-0 decision over Don Stone in the 137 lb class. Turnbull took his man down, reversed him and twice had him in predicaments as he completely controlled the match, but the stubborn Stone would not be pinned. Dick Dean then followed with the best performance of the day as he pinned Haverford's best wrestler, Bill Shermer in 5:25 of the 147 lb match. This freshman phenomenon, who should have a tremendous season for UC, overpowered his opponent for the fall and a resulting 11-5 lead.

The Bears received a bad break in the 157 lb match as Paul Hill, troubled by a rib injury all last year and throughout early season practice, re-injured them again, and was consequently pinned. It is feared that he will not be able to wrestle anymore this year. His absence will be sorely felt by the team.

Bob Petersen, in the 167 class put on the best show of the afternoon as he decided his man in a real thriller, 8-7. Pete's great strength and unorthodox manner of wrestling makes him very entertaining to watch, especially when he wins.

Al Walton, another inexperienced newcomer to the wrestling ranks, was pinned in the 177lb class by Dave Sedgwick in 1:37. The fall was a freak as Walton who had just reversed his opponent beautifully, was hiding too high and was pulled over on his shoulders by his alert opponent. Good things are expected from Al in the future, however; despite yesterday's loss to one of the best Haverford wrestlers. With the score at 15-14, everything was up to Abele. The match started out as a boxing match as his opponent started slapping Will in the face, but Wilber got mad and simply put away his opponent in 1:42 for the match and a season opening win for U. C.

The J.V. match was just as enjoyable for Ursinus rooters. Though newcomer Steve Bobb lost a tough 6-3 decision in the 130 lb class, Paul Hanzlik came back with a quick pin in the first period by virtue of a half nelson and crotch to put the Bears out in front 5-3. In the 157 lb match Jim Faust last a decision, 5-2, in a well wrestled match. All three of these boys had never wrestled before this year. Freshman Roy DeBeer then registered a second period pin in the 167 lb class. His fine showing shows the great promise expected of him. Tom Engel finished off the J. V. match with a 3-2 decision in the 177 lb class.

Ursinus opens its home season this Tuesday night as they encounter Swarthmore in what should be a real thriller. With experienced veterans such as Turnbull, Abele, and Petersen, excellent freshmen such as Dean and DeBeer, and newcomers like Hohn, Walton, Dreyling, Faust, and Hanzlik, this should be another excellent year for the Bear wrestling team.

Bears Stall Fords in Overtime

It was a perfect day for the Bears of Ursinus Saturday as they defeated the Fords of Haverford in four different contests—junior varsity wrestling, varsity wrestling, junior varsity basketball, and varsity basketball. All of the contests were thrillers, and results of the afternoon grappling sessions will be found elsewhere on this sports page.

In the basketball department it can be reported that the junior varsity Bears began the night's wrecking of the host Fords by winning a 58-56 decision. It was a nip-and-tuck ball game most of the way, and with little more than two minutes remaining the score was tied at 56-56. Then Dick Allebach, a stand-out for the Junior Bears all season, hit for two points, sending the Bears ahead to victory. However, it was after the final two points were scored that the Bears really showed their stuff, as they effected a "freeze" of nearly two minutes duration to win the ball game. Bill Daggett was the big gun for the Junior Bears as he hit for 29 points. Doug "Sweets" Harper gave able assistance as he dumped in 16 points and spearheaded the team in their defensive work.

As soon as the opening tap was taken by the Bears, Dick Saylor drove in for two points. However, that was the last time the Bears were to be ahead for what seemed to be a mighty long time.

Haverford came charging back, hitting from virtually every angle, running the score up to a point where they were ahead by nine points midway through the second quarter. With time rapidly running out in the first half, the men of Coach Warren Fry began to hit and brought the score up to 23-19, Haverford, at half time.

After the intermission the Bears began to roll, closing the gap to one point on several occasions. However, it was not until there were only 12:43 minutes remaining in the game that they were able to catch up to the Fords and go ahead, 27-26.

From this point on the lead seasawed back and forth until the clock showed 4:26 remaining and the score reading 41-41. From this point on it was a matter of which team would "blow up" first. With a little more than three minutes remaining the Bears went ahead 43-41, only to be tied later. Finally, with about 35 seconds remaining the boys from Collegeville dumped in their last basket of the regulation game thus going ahead 45-43.

With nine seconds remaining the Fords came down the court and Harris David drove in for a lay-up, only to miss. As the horn sounded Larry Forman got off a tap which went in, and in the process was fouled.

With everybody sitting on the edges of their seats, and with many an Ursinusite in prayer, Forman tossed up the foul, it hit the rim and bounced out, thus sending the game into overtime. The overtime of five minutes was marked by the Bears going ahead shortly after the tap and then the Fords repeatedly fouling the Bears in an attempt to get possession of the ball.

Needless to say, as the Bears were ahead they attempted a "freeze," as the Junior Bears had been able to effect earlier in the evening, and were virtually as successful. The final score, 55-51.

Surprisingly enough, it was not Walt Dryfoos who was the big man for Ursinus on Saturday night, Walt, who was being constantly hung on all evening, and who was fouled out early in the fourth quarter, did not even hit double figures for the evening, tossing in only eight points. It was Jim Wenhold who was the top scorer for the Bears, throwing in 16 points. Wes James, the "Little Fellow" of WCAM fame, was second top man for UC, dumping in 12 points, primarily from the outside. Larry Forman, Rick Gillmor and Harris David were the Fords who were in double figures. Forman had 16 points while the other two men had 13 and 11 points, respectively.

The basketball Bears of Coach Warren Fry made it four straight victories, and gave themselves a five and one record, this past Wednesday night when they romped over the Little Quakers of Swarthmore, 73-61.

It was a close game until midway through the second quarter, as the Quakers virtually matched the Bears point for point. However, led by Walt Dryfoos and Jim Wenhold, the Bears began to click, and led at half-time, 44-37.

At the beginning of the third quarter the Bears jumped ahead by a margin of some fifteen points and it seemed to many that this game could possibly end up in triple figures for the home team. However, with a relaxed form of play the hometowners began to cool off, thus holding the score down.

Midway through the fourth quarter, and with the Bears up by some twelve points, Coach Fry found himself able to substitute more freely, and did so immediately, thus giving every man in uniform a chance to play.

Walt Dryfoos led the Bears in the scoring attack with 22 points while Jim Wenhold with 15 and Dennie Gould with 16 gave able assistance. Wes James, as always, was outstanding on defense as he broke up the opposition's offense time and time again.

Bob Lande, Seth Many, and L. Christianson were the big guns for the Garnet as they poured in 21, 19, and 13 points respectively.

The Junior Bears made it a perfect night for the hometown fans as they turned back the Little Little Quakers, 74-61, in the opener. In the game which was marked with bloodshed and banged up ankles Dick Allebach led the attack for the boys in black. Dick dumped in 22 points while Bill Daggett had 16 and Dave Hall had 11. Three Swarthmore men hit double figures as McCrosson had 17, Sirman 13, and Von Til 11.
