Dr. John H. Powell To Address Forum Tuesday

Dr. John H. Powell, author, historian and playwright will be the Forum speaker Tuesday evening in Bomberger Hall. His topic will be "Twelve Days to Destiny."

Band Concert Features Varied Musical Program

Approximately 125 people attended the Mid-Winter Band Concert, given by the Ursinus Band, on February 11 in Bomberger Chapel. The twenty-eight members in the band were ably led by Laverne Joseph, student director. Charles Haussner handled publicity, Pat Tucker and John Hope were in charge of tickets, and Marggie Cramer was program chairman.

The program was announced by Bob Kreisinger. The first number was a familiar march, "Semper Fidelis," by John Philip Sousa, followed by Olivadete's "Pacific Grandeur", and Yoder's arrangement of Vincent Youman's "Fantasy." A lively polka by Levy was played by Will Loretz, as a trumpet solo. The entire band again continued with Goldman's "Bugles and Drums", Bach's "Prelude and Fugue in D Minor", and Yoder's "The Midnight Sun". A special selection was played by Lou Mitchell on drums; Charles Haussner, clarinet; Larry Glass, trumpet; John Piston, trombone; John Raft, guitar; Ron Tempest, saxophone; accompanied by Laverne Joseph on the piano.

The concluding three selections were Anderson's "Sleigh Ride", complete with sound effects by Lou Mitchell and Bob McClellan; Rodger's rousing "Victory at Sea", and the march "Grandiose" by Seitz.

Miss Engarth Subs For Dr. Wilcox

As most students know, Dr. Alfred Wilcox has been in Montgomery Hospital in Norristown, ill with infectious hepatitis. Taking his classes until his recovery, will be Miss Annette Engarth. Miss Engarth has taught in Philadelphia high schools, at the University of Pennsylvania, the Middlebury College French School, the University of Colorado, to which she will return next summer, and Rosemont College. She has traveled extensively in Europe and in South America. While she was in France, she was decorated by the French Government. She resided in Europe for two years after her retirement from the West Phila. High School.

At the present time, Miss Engarth is President of the Modern Language Association of Philadelphia, Chairman of the State Curriculum Revision for Modern Languages, and a member of the Committee for Construction of Tests for Modern Language Teachers of French. Ursinus students are fortunate in having so qualified a woman as their teacher in this emergency.

This Tuesday evening, February 16, the French Club will have as its guest speaker Mrs. Jacqueline Gourevitch. Mrs. Gourevitch, a specialist on Impressionism who is with the Philadelphia Museum of Art, will address the group in Paisley Reception Room at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Gourevitch will discuss Impressionism and its representative painters in English and will show slides of and critically analyze the paintings of the impressionists.

Color Day Thurs.; Mrs. Pancoast to Address Women

Thursday, February 18, is Color Day at Ursinus College. At 4:30 p.m. in Bomberger Chapel the Freshmen women will receive the Ursinus colors and be welcomed officially into the college community. Mrs. Muriel B. Pancoast will be the speaker. She will discuss what the colors mean to her as a graduate of Ursinus College, on Color Day.

At the traditional Color Day ceremonies, the Freshman representatives to the WSGA, WAA, and YWCA will be installed. Also, the class charge will be presented to Dottie Detweiler, secretary of the Class of 1963. Sandra Motta, vice president of the WSGA will explain the meaning of the Ursinus colors.

Mrs. Pancoast, who is presently a teacher at Collegeville-Trappe High School, was very active as a student at Ursinus. She served as president of the WSGA, vice president of Phi Alpha Psi, chairman of the Soph Rules Committee, and vice president of her class. In addition, she was a Dean's Lister and was honored in Who's Who. Her other activities included May Day, debating, the Weekly, and the Curtain Club.

Color Day is among the finest and oldest of Ursinus traditions. All women students are cordially invited and urged to attend the Color Day exercises. Appropriate dress will include nylons and heels or flats.

Dr. Stein Awarded National Science Research Grant

The National Science Foundation has announced the award of a grant of $50,000 to Dr. Robert C. Stein, assistant professor of Biology at Ursinus College.

The grant will make possible a three-year study of the structure and function of the songs of thrushes, flycatchers and sparrows, a field in which Dr. Stein has done extensive research and field work, both in graduate school at Cornell and in British Columbia in the summers of 1958 and 1959 under grants from the National Science Foundation and from the American Philosophical Society of Philadelphia.

Dr. Stein will resign his position at Ursinus to become the Research Supervisor of the Laboratory of Ornithology at Cornell. He will have no classroom teaching duties but will be free to follow the birds as they arrive at their nesting grounds in the spring.

Dr. Stein is a graduate of St. Olaf College, Minn., and earned his advanced degrees at Cornell University.

Mrs. Stein, the former Alice Powers, is a graduate of Grinnell College, Iowa, and also did graduate work at Cornell. The Steins have been at Ursinus since 1956.

They have one child, Marian, now nearly two years old, who accompanied her parents on the 1959 tour to British Columbia.

PSEA Committee Plans for First UC College Day

The Executive Committee of PSEA met on Tuesday, February 9, to discuss plans for the First Annual College Day to be held April 9. The purpose of College Day is to acquaint high school students with the opportunities offered at a liberal arts college, particularly in the field of teaching. About one hundred and fifty students from schools in the surrounding area have been invited to participate in the program.

The plans are as yet tentative, but they will probably follow this pattern. The visitors will register in the Student Union. They then will be welcomed by the President of Ursinus' Student PSEA, Bob Hunsicker, and by Ursinus' President Helfferich. There will be group discussions led by PSEA members during which such topics as the comparison of college subjects to high school subjects and the advantages of a teaching career will be considered. Special Interest Discussion Groups are also planned. In these groups, the students will be able to ask questions concerning the field in which they are particularly interested. Following the discussions, the PSEA members will conduct tours of the campus and dormitories. At the conclusion of the program, the visitors will be invited to watch the Ursinus vs. Rider baseball game.

The next meeting of PSEA will be on Tuesday, February 17 in Room 7. All members are urged to attend.

Three faculty members from the School of Dentistry of the University of Pennsylvania will be on campus that same afternoon in Dr. Wagner's office from 3-5 p.m. Pre-dent students are urged to take advantage of this fine opportunity to direct any questions they might have to these faculty members from the University of Pennsylvania School of Dentistry.

Sale of Dr. Rice's Swedish Text Big; New Ed. Needed

Dr. Allan L. Rice, professor of German at Ursinus College, has learned that sales of his text, "Swedish, A Practical Grammar", published by the Augustana Press, Rock Island, Ill., in 1958, will soon make a revised edition necessary.

Neither author nor publisher had anticipated the demand that greeted the appearance of the simplified, paper-bound text which Professor Rice developed during years of teaching Swedish at the University of Pennsylvania and, since 1950, at Ursinus College.

Enrollments in Swedish courses at the several colleges and universities which offer the language are continually increasing. Many secondary schools in certain mid-western states also offer Swedish. The essential simplicity of the Rice grammar and its insistence on essentials has made it a favorite introductory text in a majority of these institutions.

Professor Rice plans no radical changes in the revised edition. Uniformly favorable reviews and the rapid sale of the first edition are ample evidence that the current edition needs no basic change.

Dr. Rice offers two years of Swedish at Ursinus in alternate years. Students admitted to the course must already have had some experience in language study. At the end of the second year they read not only Swedish but also its sister languages, Danish and Norwegian, with ease and have acquired the rudiments of a speaking knowledge.

Ruby Payments Due; Advertisements Requested

The second payment on the 1960 Ruby is due on Thursday, February 18. Students are asked to please give their money to their dormitory solicitor.

Furthermore, large corporations are no longer able to take advertising in the yearbook because of changes in company policy. For this reason, it is necessary that advertisements be obtained from students and parents of students in the college. It is requested that all students urge parents, grandparents, uncles, and friends to take an ad in the 1960 Ruby—the best Ursinus yearbook yet!

NEWMAN CLUB

On February 22, Father Louis P. Giorgi, pastor of SS. Cosmo and Damian Church in Conshohocken and a professor of Philosophy at Cabrini College in Radnor, will address the Newman Club in the Girls' Day Study. Meeting time will be 6:30.

Father Giorgi will speak on "The Theory of Evolution". All Newman Club members are urged to attend, and all other interested Ursinus students are cordially invited.

On Friday evening, February 12, the Men's and Women's Student Government Associations presented the annual Lorelei at Sunnybrook Ballroom. Bob Turnbull reigned as king of the ball and the following new members of the Whitians were announced: Barbara Gattiker, Coral Lee Koffke, Dorothea Lamm, Phyllis Longmire, Barbara Pine, Lynne Yonker.

The decorations followed a Valentine theme with red and white hearts encircling the ballroom. Amid the festive decorations couples danced to the music of Jules Helzner and his Orchestra. Honored guests in the receiving line included Dr. and Mrs. Helfferich, Dean and Mrs. Whately, Dean Rothenberger, Dr. and Mrs. Miller, Dr. and Mrs. Staiger, Dr. and Mrs. Stein, and Mr. and Mrs. Seelye.

The highlights of the ball were the crowning of the King of the Lorelei and the announcement of the new Whitians. Bob Turnbull, who was elected King by the women of Ursinus, was crowned by Mrs. Helfferich. Bob is a Business Administration major from Glenside. He is President of Zeta Chi and President of the Varsity Club. Bob is a member of the Wrestling Team and Business Administration Club. He is head waiter and Co-Subscription Editor of the 1960 Ruby.

After the "coronation", Nancy Springer, Secretary-Treasurer of the Whitians, explained the purpose of the Whitians and Dr. Helfferich announced the new members.

Those honored are as follows: Barbara Gattiker, who is from Glenside, is majoring in Chemistry. She has been chosen to work on the National Science Research Project. Barbara's other activities include membership in the Beardwood Chemical Society and International Relations Club. She is a Dean's Lister and an active participant in the Messiah.

Coral Lee Koffke, who has been on the Dean's List, is an English major from Reading. She is the Junior Representative.

Helmut H. Behling Given Scholarship

Helmut H. Behling, son of Dr. H. Behling, Mount Holly, N. J., and a senior at Ursinus College, has been awarded the Jefferson Medical College Scholarship for the final semester of his work at Ursinus.

The award is sponsored by Dr. Lewis C. Scheffey, alumnus of Ursinus and former professor at Jefferson, and given to a senior, already accepted for admission to Jefferson Medical College, who has been nominated by the Dean of Ursinus and the adviser to the pre-medical students.

Mr. Behling is sports editor of the Ursinus Weekly, photographic editor of the Ruby, a member of the track team and vice president of the Brownback-Anders Pre-Medical Society.

Elizabethtown Defeats Ursinus Grapplers 24-11

Ursinus' wrestling team opened the semester on the wrong foot as the Jays of Elizabethtown overwhelmed the Bears 23-11.

Behind, fifteen to nine, the Bears substituted Herb Murphy in the hundred and sixty-seven pound class, and moved Bob Petersen up to the hundred and seventy-seven, hoping to help the Bears to victory. Although Murphy looked good, especially in the first two periods, the surprise starter, out for wrestling for only four days, was not in top condition, and the energy consuming match ended with a six-two win for E-town. Next came Bob Petersen; but he ran into Galen Lehman, a proverbial stone wall. Lehman proved to be tough and with the aid of a body press gained five more points for the Jays. Will Abele, however, kept his win streak going with a pin in the first period, but not without trouble. U.C.'s heavy-weight, accidentally kicked in the head by Elizabethtown's Brian Seese, needed the assistance of some smelling salts before continuing with the match. But on returning to the mat, Abele avenged the "foot loose" Seese with a pinning body press.

In the opening class weight, Wayne Howells of E-town executed a nifty reverse body press pinning the Bears' Bob Hohn in one minute and twenty-eight seconds of the first period. Freshman Howie Collins gained an early lead over the Jays' Spencer Seros and coasted in for a close 3-1 win. "Bull" Turnbull tangled with co-captain Bill Kendig and was pinned on what seemed a quick whistle by the referee. Probably the best match of the day was in the hundred and forty-seven pound class when Ursinus' Freshman wonder, Dick Dean, clashed with Elizabethtown's star and Middle Atlantic runner up Jim Weaver. The two put on a show of wrestling skill that awed the crowd. It was a good, clean, tight match for three periods with Dean outwitting Weaver 3-0 for the win. However, Bob Neubauer, wrestling for the first time this season, was pinned in two minutes and six seconds of the second period.

Hopkins Holds Off Ursinus Rally

At Saturday's away game, Hopkins controlled the opening tap and converted their first attempt from the floor into a two-pointer. Hopkins got red hot, hitting four out of the next five shots from the floor. Hopkins continued to pull away until UC changed from its regular sag defense into a straight man for man. At the beginning of the second quarter a UC rally closed the gap to four points, but again Hopkins caught fire and pulled away. By half time, UC was again within striking distance.

Early in the second half, costly fouls provided Hopkins with a 10 point lead. Each time Ursinus slowly closed the gap, but fouls killed the rally. Wenhold, Dryfoos, and Gould again provided the scoring punch for UC with Gould's leading the way with 18 and Dryfoos and Wenhold scoring 14 and 13 respectively.

Bearettes Open Season With Win

The Ursinus Bearettes went on a scoring rampage as the squad bombed the Philadelphia College of Bible, 83-21 on the Friends' Select hardwood. Nearly everyone got into the scoring act as the gals of coach Snell breezed along the victory path. Faye Bardman led the scoring campaign with 21 markers. Pat Hoehl followed with 17 digits. Anne Sansenbach chipped in another 14 points and Lore Hamilton rounded out the double-column scoring with 11 points. Varsity starting forward, Lynne Crosley, added another four to account for the offensive attack. The Ursinus guards stepped out of the defensive role, which they had played so well, into the position of second squad forwards in the last half of the basketball action. Ace Burgoon and Susie Wagner walked away with scoring laurels by dumping in six points apiece for the Red, Old Gold, and Black cause. Ingie Reininger posted four digits and Winnie Miller chipped in two points. The "outsider" of the game was Luey Magness, who just couldn't get into the scoring range. However, Luey deserves credit in the defensive side of the U. C. success story.

The Ursinus squad took an impressive lead of 24-0 in the initial stanza of play and the gals from Philadelphia never quite recovered from the shock. At the end of the first half, the gals were way in front by a score of 44-4. PCB finally launched into the double figures in the third period of play, but Ursinus led by the wide, wide margin of 58-18. Posting a final attack from all sides, the UC varsity blasted a total of 83 points opposed by 21 points posted by PCB.

The complete women's basketball schedule is as follows:
 Feb. 17, Muhlenberg, away
 Feb. 18, Gettysburg, home
 Feb. 24, Temple, home
 Feb. 27, E. Stroudsburg, home
 Mar. 2, West Chester, away
 Mar. 10, Rosemont, away
 Mar. 16, Beaver, home

Bears Score 74-72 In Victory Over Haverford

Dryfoos Scores Again

After an absence of twenty-three days from league competition, the Bears of Coach Warren Fry came charging back into the limelight this past Wednesday night when they overran the Fords of Haverford, 74-72, on the home court. Playing what has been probably their best team effort of the season, the Bears were in trouble all of the way but were able to come through when the chips were down and pull this one out of the fire.

Before a minute had gone by, and before a single point was scored, Walt Dryfoos was charged with a personal foul by one of the two referees. This was the first of a string of four quick ones to be called against "The Animal," and necessitated his leaving the ball game for the majority of the first half.

With the loss, temporarily, of the freshman forward, the two teams were fairly matched, with Haverford having the height advantage. However, thanks to some real fine hustling on the part of Dennie Gould, the Bears stayed right in the thick of it, and were trailing by only three points when the first half ended, 38-35.

The second half proved to be a different story as Walt returned to the line-up. Shortly after the tap which opened up the second twenty minute period, the Bears went ahead 41-40, only to have the lead switch back and forth many times before the final buzzer.

In the first half it had been Dennie Gould who was leading the scoring parade for the hometowners, but the spotlights were focused on Walt Dryfoos and Jim Wenhold in the second half as they poured in a total of 24 points.

The closing minutes of the regulation game saw the lead change right up until the last minute when Haverford came from behind to tie the ball game up at 65-65 and send it into an overtime affair. The overtime, of five minutes duration, was featured by the Bears immediately going ahead 70-65, only to have the Fords come soaring back and tying it up — even though three of their starters had, by this time, been eliminated by the personal foul route.

With about a minute to go, Walt Dryfoos hit from the left side with a one-hander sending the Bears ahead, 72-70. Almost immediately the score was tied up again as Rich Gillmor drove in for two. As the seconds ticked off, the Bears brought the ball down the court. After weaving and passing, Dryfoos drove in for a lay-up, only to be fouled. With the same ease which he displayed all evening, Walt dropped both shots through the hoop, giving the necessary margin for victory.

In the Bears' seven wins of the season, against four losses, Gould was high with 20 points, while Dryfoos had 19 and Wenhold 18. The losers were headed in the scoring column by Larry Forman who had 20, as well as Bill Erb with 18 and Rich Gillmor with 17. An interesting observation was made concerning the officiating on this ball game. For once, there was virtually no cause to disagree with the referees, for these two gentlemen—one of whom is also serving as an official with the National Basketball Association — were really "on the ball."

The Junior Bears made it a perfect night for the hometown rooters as they went into overtime to defeat the Falcons (Little Fords) to the tune of 82-81. It was through the efforts of a new frosh, known to the scorers only as "Williamson," that the Bears won this one. In the ebbing seconds this young forward calmly walked to the foul line and sank two in a row to put us ahead for keeps. Dick Allebach, who was troubled with a Charlie-horse in the closing minutes of the game and had to leave the action, was the evening's high scorer with 26. He was followed by Doug Harper who had 18 and Bill Daggett and John Brackin with 11 each. The opponents placed three men in double figures as Dowort poured through 23, Dawlington 15, and Mervine 12. (Mervine also saw action in the varsity tilt.)

Hel's Corner

Well, here we are again; a new semester with new hopes and wishes and a renewed chance to make this the most successful spring season ever. To be sure, at present it looks more like Christmas outside, but spring is just around the corner as some people have it. Disregarding whatever outlook you may prefer, it is the middle of February already. In a month or so the boys dressed in their little white sweat suits will be seen running around the track trying to get into shape. We are convinced that they will try their best. Yet there is only one thing wrong with the whole thing; in a month from now it will be too late. The time to stop dreaming about all the great things that will happen this spring is NOW. The time to put an end to our procrastinations and rationalizations ("Who in the world expects us to get into shape in this kind of weather?") is NOW. There are only seven weeks until the first track meet. Today is the time to begin working out hard, not tomorrow or next week.

It is entirely within the realm of possibility to have a winning season in track this year if we can pick up more second and third places this spring than we did in past seasons. To accomplish this is something which depends on the willingness of the individuals on the track team to get their basic conditioning NOW. It is a well known fact that in past years half the team never got into shape until the last few meets came along. And for that very reason we lost track meets in the beginning of the season which we would have won had they been held towards the end of the season. Procrastination of practice until the weather is nice outside has been one of the major factors which contributed to many unnecessary losses in track at Ursinus.

Nothing? PARK GUARD—What did you start with?

We are on the brink of absolute certainty and we can go no further. There is only one alternative—we can accept a false conclusion.

FIRST PHIL.—Concerning our philosophy and that alternative—which is better?

LAST PHIL.—You must define your terms. What do you mean "better"?

FIRST PHIL.—Well, which one is right? Are not those God-seekers happier than we? They live in (hesitantly)—contentment and happiness.

FIRST PHILOSOPHER'S eyes brighten again, but again this is irrelevant.

We can search for pure truth and conclude with NOTHING, or we can accept a false conclusion and attain contentment.

LAST PHIL.—(in an equally loud voice)

You are getting away from the basic elements. You are thinking emotionally and not logically.

PARK GUARD—(sitting down between the two philosophers) Don't get upset now, fellows.

The park guard took a quarter from his hip pocket and tossed it high in the air. Both philosophers watched anxiously as the coin fell among a clump of weeds.

Hasn't he said that males are concerned with status, the relative situation of the self, and that females are little concerned with such thoughts?

I don't attempt to guess the underlying reason, but Mr. Levine has, for himself, condemned girls merely for their being female.

In his first consideration he commends the underlying feminine reasons for girls, attending college, seemingly appreciating femininity.

However, haven't men always tried to dominate females? And won't they always? For, in the words of Mr. Levine, the men do so to increase their egos.

Dear Editor:

A completely new Lantern staff has just been announced and many of the names must be extremely familiar to you.

No, to be quite honest with you, I have never written any material for the Lantern, except that I once, as a freshman, palmed off some rather mediocre essays on the unfortunate staff.

I am a Chem major and rarely write essays nowadays. Certainly all English majors should be urged to write at least one really first-class article for the Lantern.

Yours scientifically, A hopeless Lanternite

PERIODICALS:

by Cindy Buchanan

In the bibliotheque here at Ursinus are some fascinating and well kept magazines whose leaves are neatly in place, unsoiled and undisturbed.

The majority of these unused publications are written in a very familiar tongue and the cartoons are understandable.

If I believed that more persons read the objects in question, I might be able to say that they are offended or humbled by the thoughts between the lines of some of the foreign issues.

Book Review

The Saracen's Head is a gentle satire, poking fun at the Crusades and Crusaders. It is an adventure story based on a little-known episode in the early history of one of England's oldest and noblest families.

The hero, William de Littlehampton, vainly tries to live up to his dead father's famous reputation. His father was an example of the perfect knight, his prowess on the battlefield being known through all Europe.

At the age of twenty-one he was presented with the golden opportunity to go to the Holy Land and make a name for himself. William's career as a Crusader is one surprising success after another.
