Topic of Marriage and Sex Discussed at YMCA Seminar

Wednesday evening, October 29, Dr. R. K. Greenbank, a member of the psychology department of Temple University, addressed Y members on the topic "The Sociological View of Marriage." Dr. Greenbank has studied at George Washington University, the Medical School of Virginia, and the University of Pennsylvania.

In opening his discussion, Dr. Greenbank pointed out that the topic of marriage is a living thing, and that when one speaks of marriage, he must necessarily include sex. He pointed out that from the time of the conception of a child and throughout that child's life, sex is involved. As Dr. Greenbank stated, "Psychiatrists didn't discover sex, but they're in favor of it. It's one thing everyone has but doesn't talk about... unless it's at hen parties or bull sessions."

Dr. Greenbank stressed the effect of sex on children from their earliest development, and took this effect on up through the child's growth to maturity. He pointed out the importance of the sexual development in the outlook of the child by the seemingly paradoxical statement, "To be happily married parents, choose happily married grandparents, because they'll raise your parents to raise you happy."

Dr. Greenbank observed that most people think sex is dirty. It is something hidden and whispered about. But by the nature of life, a person is able at an early chronological age to be a parent, but society doesn't permit parenthood until much later. Thus there is a conflict with biological preparedness and the approval of society, and nature is persistent. In actuality, the only things legally necessary to be a parent are a certain passage of chronological time and no trace of syphilis. This seems to show a lack of concern on the part of legal institutions for the improvement of parenthood.

Carrying his observations further, Dr. Greenbank went on to state that if marriage were just all sex, our approach to the institution would certainly be much different. However, he pointed out that there are certain factors of which one should be aware before entering into matrimony. First: Marriage is a 51-51 proposition—each person must give a little more than half. Second: One must accept his mate—change him before you marry him or find someone else. Third: Take time to find out whom you are going to marry—this process of discovery will take at least six months. Fourth: The person you marry ought to be something like yourself. Fifth: Find out about what marriage is before you become involved in it. Just as you expect to investigate a college before you make the final decision of becoming a part of it, so one should investigate as many characteristics of the person one is considering marrying before the final step is taken.

WSGA

At the WSGA council meeting on Wednesday, Oct. 22, in Dean Stahr's office, the motion was put through to allow the girls in the off-campus dormitories to use the laundry room in Paisley Hall on Wednesday of every week. The laundry room will be open from 8 until 10:30 and girls living in Beardwood, Paisley or Stauffer Halls will not be permitted to use the laundry room on that day of the week.

The girls in the new dorms will be permitted to use the fire doors during the day if there is a path outside of the door. This means that the fire door at the back of Paisley on Stauffer side may be used, as well as the door on the first floor of Stauffer that leads to the parking lot. However, the rear door should not be used after 8:30 in the evening because the fire alarm will ring. It is hoped that all the girls will use the doors but will comply with all regulations.

The council also decided to wait until Spring to donate a sum of money to the Band to help with the payment for the new blazers.

Following Dr. Greenbank's discussion, questions were raised, and an informal discussion period was held in the student union.

The Rev. Osborne Rowland of the Lower Providence Presbyterian Church will speak this Wednesday evening, Nov. 5, on "The Protestant Point of View of Marriage". Rev. Rowland's address will be given as the second of a series of marriage seminars sponsored by the YM-YWCA. The meeting will be held in Bomberger Chapel at 6:45 p.m.

A graduate of Mildmay College and of New College, London, England, Rev. Rowland first did youth work in a church in North Ireland. He was sent by the government of Ireland to the United States to make a study of how the United States handled its youth problems. In 1948 he took a church in Philadelphia, and then came to this area.

Following the address, an informal reception and questioning period will be held in the Student Union.

King of Swing to Be at Academy On November 14

Guber-Ford Productions, Lee Guber and Frank Ford, partners in Camden County, Valley Forge and Westbury Music Fairs, have booked the world famous Benny Goodman and his big band for a jazz concert on Friday evening, November 14, for one performance only, scheduled at 8:30 p.m. at the Academy of Music.

Benny Goodman, the King of Swing, is firing the opening gun of his Silver Jubilee by making his first road tour with a big band in some years. Just 49 years old and already an American legend, Goodman will bring the band that received such great acclaim at the Brussels World's Fair intact for his jazz concert on November 14 at the Academy of Music.

Accompanying Benny Goodman on the tour will be such noted instrumentalists as pianist Roland Hannah, drummer Roy Burnes, trumpeteers Allen Smith, Johnny Frok and E. V. Perry, trombonist Rex Peer, and saxophonists Gene Allen and Bob Wilbur, all of whom accompanied Goodman on his recent trip to the Brussels World's Fair. The admission prices for this outstanding jazz concert will be the lowest ever offered to Philadelphia jazz lovers. The prices will range from $2.00 to $4.25 top.

Dr. Calvin Yost Named Ursinus Library Head

Dr. Donald L. Helfferich, President of Ursinus College, has announced the appointment of Dr. Calvin Yost Jr., to the position of Head Librarian of the College. Dr. Yost, who assumed his new duties on September 1, continues also as Professor of English. Aiding Dr. Yost is Mrs. Roger P. Staiger, who continues in her position as Circulation Assistant.

Dr. Helfferich also announced that Miss Ethel Kay Kerper, a graduate of Ursinus in 1957 and of the School of Library Science of Drexel Institute of Technology in 1958, has been appointed Cataloguer.

INTER-SORORITY

Thursday, Oct. 16, the first meeting of the Inter-sorority Council was held, with president Linda Brenner presiding. The following officers were elected: vice president, Peggy Follet; secretary-treasurer, Rene deRyder; disciplinary chairman, Ginny Keller.

The topic of sorority membership was discussed and the question of whether to permit an increased number of openings in view of the increased number of women enrolled was presented to the representatives of each sorority. After further discussion by the individual sororities, an increase of five members per sorority was decided upon.

MSGA Revises Trial Procedure For Students

Last Monday, October 27, to hold trial proceedings for two men students. Before the council met, however, they passed regulations concerning trials which are printed below.

The results of the trial were that one man charged with rule 4 and 12 was found guilty and given five demerits and ten work hours to be completed by the end of the semester.

The other man was charged with breaking rule 12, but was found not guilty of the charge.

We the members of the Men's Student Government Association have closed trials for the following reasons:

1. Since the entire Men's Student Government Association is elected by the students, the students have thereby delegated both legislative and judicial authority.
2. In order to prevent the disorderly conduct which has been exhibited by students attending the trials and to insure that public embarrassment of those being tried be kept at a minimum, the Men's Student Government Association has ordered that all trials be closed to the student body. Only the witnesses, the defendant, the Dean of Men, and the members of the Men's Student Government Association will be permitted to be present.

Trial Procedure

1. Trial is opened by the President. (Trial is closed to student body).
2. Defendant is charged with violation in the presence of witnesses and council.
3. Defendant states plea.
4. Defendant states the facts about the case and explains details.
5. Witnesses are then called upon to testify in the presence of the defendant and council.
6. Questions are then asked by the council to both defendant and witnesses.
7. After questioning, the defendant and witnesses are excused from the room and council decides the charge.
8. If found guilty the council decides the degree of guilt and penalty is drawn up accordingly.
9. Defendant is brought back into the room and the verdict is read to him.

ATTENTION

Next week the Weekly will devote most, if not all, its Feature page to the inauguration of Doctor Donald Lawrence Helfferich which was held Sunday, Nov. 2. The Weekly will attempt to print the inaugural addresses of the speakers: The Rev. Sheldon Elias Mackey and Theodore August Distler. The Weekly feels that excerpts from these speeches will help both students, faculty and alumni, to understand the position of both the college and the church in relation to policy and education.

Curtain Club Members Rehearse Daily For "Joan of Lorraine" Prod.

On November 21 and 22 at 8 p.m. in the T-G gym, the Curtain Club is presenting its annual fall play. The faculty director is an Ursinus graduate of 1952, Bill Van Horne, who is presently dramatic coach and football coach at Springfield High School. Working with him are the student director, Katrinka Schnabel, and the student producer, Jack Elander. Katrinka, a junior and a member of Alpha Sigma Nu Sorority, belongs to Alpha Psi Omega and is the Curtain Club president. Jack Elander, who is a senior, is president of IRC and a member of Stars and Players.

The leads in the play, Joan of Lorraine, are two freshmen: Flora McQueen, playing Mary Grey, has had experience in summer stock and television; Tim Coombe, playing Masters, is a student who has come to us from England. Tim lived for a while in France, also.

Committee chairmen are Sally McSparren, costumes; Loretta Podolak, programs; Fred Gent-

Short Plays by Wilder & Thomas To Be Staged

"Short Happy Journey" a one act play by Thornton Wilder, will be presented Tuesday evening, November 11, in Bomberger Chapel. Those students in the cast are Dave Crisman, Lolly Strasser, Bill Gottschalk, Doty Lamm, Bea Hauer and Jack Day. Co-directors for the production are Dizzy Dearnaly and Jack Day.

The play will be presented on a representative set. The story is of a family which takes a trip from Trenton to Camden and of the events which take place in the life of the family while on this trip.

The second play presented the same night as the "Short Happy Journey From Trenton to Camden" will be one of Dylan Thomas' last works "Under Milkwood." It is a stream of consciousness type play. There is hardly any scenery and the stage is in semi-darkness for the entire production. In the original production which was a smash success in London and off Broadway, New York, there were sixty parts which were taken by twelve actors and actresses. In this production there are only about twenty-five parts and they are taken by nine students.

The characters in the production live in the town of Milkwood. Two narrators set the mood and carry it throughout the performance as they introduce the audience to the inhabitant of the town in a poetry-prose style found nowhere else in the Twentieth Century. The lines are flowing and melodic, yet Thomas' cutting wit permeated the atmosphere. Mr. Thomas, who was a symbolist and a satirist in some of his other works, uses these qualities to advantage once again. Even the names of his characters are symbolic of them; Mr. Pugh, Mr. Cut-Glass No-Good Boyo, and Bessie Big-head are only some of his hilarious and at the same time touching characters.

In essence what Thomas is trying to show in this production is the thought and lives of the characters of a typical small town in a period of one day's time—beginning in the early, darkly lit morning and ending at twilight. He brings out the hilarity and gaiety of life while, at the same time showing us the pettiness, prejudices, inanities and feelings of our useless existence.

FOOTBALL HOLIDAY

The office of the Dean announces that there will be a football holiday on Monday, November 10, if Ursinus wins the game with Haverford on Saturday, the 8th.

S. Eikner Homecoming Queen: Gala Weekend

Sally Delta Mu Sigma Queen; Rain Dampens Activities; Frosh Customs Terminated

Sally Eikner was elected the Homecoming Queen at the Wagner football game on November 1. She was one of five candidates who paraded around the field in convertibles during the halftime. Sally, a Sophomore representing Delta Mu Sigma fraternity, is a French major. She is a member of the Women's Athletic Association. Sally is also an active member of the Sextet and one of the prettiest girls on campus.

Sally was crowned at the junior class dance, "the Snare," which was held in the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium, by Tony Cianci, Varsity Club president.

During half-time the fraternities presented their respective queens to the stands. The following are the fraternities represented and the women chosen to represent them: Alpha Phi Epsilon—Sally McSparren; Beta Sigma Lambda—Joni Meszaros; Delta Mu Sigma—Sally Eikner; Delta Pi Sigma—Jane Gilinger;

Kallenbach, Brown Drummond, Megill Head '60 Ruby

On Oct. 21 the Junior elected the co-editors of the 1960 Ruby. Beverly Kallenbach and Lin Drummond were chosen.

Bev, former editor-in-chief of the Upper Dublin High School yearbook is now treasurer of Beardwood dormitory and Tau Sigma Gamma sorority. A biology major, Bev serves as a student waiter and also heads the publicity committee for the YWCA.

Lin, a chemistry major, also worked on the staff of his high school yearbook. Lin was secretary and is now vice president of the MSGA, secretary of Sigma Rho Lambda fraternity, and varsity pitcher for the Ursinus baseball team.

At the Oct. 28 meeting, the class voted for business managers. Elected were Bob Megill and Bernie Brown.

Bob is a cheerleader, a member of the spirit committee, and secretary of Delta Mu Sigma fraternity. A chemistry major, Bob served as co-chairman of the decorations committee for the Junior Class dance, The Snare.

Bernie, a business major, was elected with Bob as co-business manager and officer in the Beta Sigma Lambda fraternity.

Dr. D. L. Helfferich Inaugurated Nov. 2

Sunday, Nov. 2, at 2:30 p.m., the Convocation for the inauguration of Donald Lawrence Helfferich as president of Ursinus College and the awarding of degrees took place in Bomberger Chapel in front of an audience of over five hundred.

Presiding over the occasion was William Reimert, the first vice president of the Board of Directors. After the academic procession, the invocation was given by Rev. Alfred Creager, College chaplain. Dr. Norman E. McClure, president emeritus of the college, inducted Dr. Helfferich into his office as president. Following the inaugural address by Dr. Helfferich, greetings were extended from the church by Rev. Sheldon E. Mackey, secretary, United Church of Christ, and from the colleges by Theodore Distler, executive secretary, Association of American Colleges.

Dean Pettit then presented the candidates for degrees. Dr. Helfferich conferred the Bachelor of Arts degree on Shirley Anne Boyle, Robert Cauffman, Robert Gery and Robert Quinn; the Bachelor of Science degree on Donald Hartman; and the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws on Sheldon Elias Mackey and Charles Henry Noss.

Following the Benediction by Dr. Creager, Mr. Wallace Angstadt played the organ postlude, Postlude in G by Hosmer.

Sigma Rho Lambda—Jackie Robbins; Zeta Chi—Helen Pearson.

The crowning of Sally as Homecoming Queen ended two weeks of activities that began on Friday evening, Oct. 25. After Friday evening's dinner, the students of UC lined up outside Freeland Hall and paraded down the main pathway, led by an antique automobile and Ursinus' band. The parade's first stop was at Superhouse, the home of Dr. Helfferich. Dr. Helfferich, after listening to the cheers, introduced Mrs. Helfferich and then spoke to the students. The parade then moved down to an area behind the T-G Gym. Here a pile of wood was awaiting the matches struck by the freshmen boys and the hale cheerleaders. More cheering was then begun by the cheerleaders. The tug-of-war between the freshmen and the sophomore men was then held; the freshmen won. This meant that boys' customs were terminated.

After the bonfire, a dance was held in the T-G gym; this dance was sponsored by the Spirit Committee and the Ruby Staff. During the dance, Jack Haag, President of the Men's Student Government Association, awarded a trophy to Jay Heckler, head Soph Ruler, in honor of the Sophomore boys having won the three athletic events. During the dance's intermission, the freshman class also presented their Variety Show, which was well received by everyone.

On Saturday, Oct. 26, the day's activities began with the Junior-Frosh Breakfast held in Freeland's upstairs dining room at 8:30. The breakfast was held there instead of in the College Woods because of the rain.

The sorority luncheons were held by each sorority in honor of their sorority sisters who have graduated.

During the lunch in the college dining rooms, it was announced that the parade and election of the Homecoming Queen would be held on November 1 because of the rain. However, the football game with Swarthmore was still played. (story on 3rd page). A highlight of the game was the presentation of the Kenneth E. Walker Memorial Trophy to Michael Drewniak for his outstanding performance during the game. Mike, a senior who plays guard, is a member of the Varsity Club and a brother of Alpha Phi Epsilon Fraternity.

He is majoring in business administration. After the game, a Coffee Hour was held for the alumni, in the new gymnasium. Throughout the afternoon the three new girls' dormitories were opened to everyone for touring.

At 6:30 p.m. in Freeland's upper dining hall, the Loyalty

CANTERBURY CLUB

The Canterbury Club of Ursinus held its first formal meeting on Monday evening, Oct. 27, at 8 p.m. in the Girls' Day Study. Election of officers was held and Skip Bretzger, George Busler and Cathyrine Harrelson were respectively elected president, vice president and secretary-treasurer.

Outgoing president, Richard Maddock, then discussed the National Triennial Convention of Episcopal Young Churchmen that he attended at Oberlin College this past summer. Discussion was held on future programs, and it was pointed out that students who are not Episcopalians are also extended a cordial invitation to the meetings of the group.

Every Thursday morning cars will stop at Schreiner, Clamer, and the new dorms at 6:45 a.m. to pick up those students who wish to attend Holy Communion at 7 a.m. Cars will also pick up students Sunday mornings at these same locations at 7:45 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. Services are held at St. James' Episcopal Church, Evansburg.

EDITORIAL

"Answer"

In the SATURDAY EVENING POST there is a new series entitled "Adventures of the Mind". In the last article in this series the author discussed individuals and great men or heroes as he termed them. The author felt that our age is one that will not produce any "Giants" such as Hitler, Churchill, or Roosevelt. Men who have and can shape history. The author concludes that we do not wish to think anymore all we desire to do is come together in a group and have no distinctive traits. It seems that old saying "In numbers there is strength" is quite appropriate for our generation.

The author of the article in the POST was talking about our generation in general and not Ursinus College and its inhabitants. But the article can apply to Ursinus as well as it can apply anywhere else.

Taking a cue from the POST article the members of the WEEKLY would like to throw some questions at you and see if you have the intelligence and ambition to answer. These questions are pointed right at the student and certainly should arouse some emotion in him if he is a human being, which is at times a good question in itself.

What do you think college should do for the individual besides giving him the opportunity for learning? What has it done for you (besides making you into a drinker)? Does an individual have to fit into college? Is there room for an individual in college? Is there such a thing as non-conformity? What do YOU believe as far as religion, morals, ethics and do you know why? Must you believe? Is it easier not to THINK? Why think (you don't anyhow)? Does it solve anything? Who are you? Why JOIN organizations? Why do anything for anyone? What do you look for in a person? How do you judge his worth? Do you join organizations just for PRESTIGE. Why are you prejudiced? Why not be? Why do you believe what you believe? Why do you complain and do nothing? Why not just live it up? What would it matter? What's the USE of everything? Is ambition good? Why have fraternities and sororities? Do they serve any purpose? Is it only individual interests that they serve? If so, what's the matter with that? Does man have any dignity? Why make friends? Do you think you will be an adult when you graduate from Ursinus? What do YOU think is a criterion for maturity? What do you think of Customs, the student governments, and the administration? As to how you think, why not act accordingly? What's the purpose of life with or without a God? Do you consider a couple going steady after they have been seen going to the drug together? Why? What do you discuss most—sex or clothes? Why drink? Is it only an escape? Do you have to drink to be one of the fellows? Is this a requirement for fraternity or sorority membership?

We are writing this to give you, the student, the opportunity to express what you feel. If you have five extra minutes from all your work, pick up a pencil and tell us how you feel about some of these questions, if you give enough time to think of them at all. We'll pick up the letter C.O.D.

Downbeat

Thelonious Monk finally has been discovered. In a definitive profile of the jazz pianist in the Oct. 30 issue of Down Beat, Frank London Brown explores the myth and the man. A key quote comes from Monk's wife: "Thelonious was never like ordinary people, not even as a child", she told Brown. "He always knew who he was. Sometimes when he plays the blues, he goes way back to the real old time pianists. . . I'm always amazed, because I know he hasn't spent a lot of time listening to these pianists—yet it's there in his music. He has smaller hands than most pianists, so he had to develop a different style of playing to fully express himself."

Pianist Earl Hines is leading a comfortable, secure life these days. He lives in a home in a suburb of Oakland, Cal., and works steadily at San Francisco's Hangover club. Recently, he told Down Beat correspondent Dick Hadlock, "Cabarets were a pleasure in the old days, because the musician could relax without worrying about being analyzed by every customer in the place. At the same time, it was essen-

Dances

I. B. Bored

The question "Are you going to the dance on Friday?" is often heard on the Ursinus campus. However, I think the term "dance" is one which needs some clarification. This term has varied meanings among the female sex, but among the male sex I often wonder if the word is not grossly misunderstood or misinterpreted entirely.

The literal meaning of the word dance is "a social meeting for the purpose of dancing". However, one often wonders just how many Ursinus men are familiar with this definition. Of course, before we can discuss this topic any further, we must make some specific distinctions as to the "type" of dances held on campus.

The first and most informal is held on Friday evenings and is usually sponsored by the Ruby. This is appropriately named, for they may certainly be called "gems". Of course, this informal type of dances doesn't require a date. Students come and go as they desire, and the purpose of this occasion is to have someplace to go when you find yourself lacking a formal date invi-

"College Years"

Browsers—Lost, Beat, Silent, of Unclassifiable — singers of Gaudeamus Igitur, and all who have at one time or another frozen to death in a football stadium or dozed guiltily in nine o'clock class will be pleasantly shocked when they recognize themselves, professors, and fellow-classmates in the pages of "The College Years", which Hawthorn Books published on Oct. 17.

Although "Nostalgia" is the word that best describes this handsome 512 page collection of prose, poetry, drawings and photographs, anthologist A. C. Spector, Associate Publisher of PLAYBOY Magazine, author of "The Exurbanites" and editor of "The Book of the Sea," "The Book of the Earth," "The Book of the Sky" and "The Book of the Mountains," has chosen selections that capture college life in many different moods thru six different centuries.

Students riot at 14th Century Oxford; the Freshman advisor struggles with the eternal Freshman; Shelley is expelled; the GI's return to college; Dink Stover, "five-foot-ten, in perfect condition," becomes the hero of the Yale Freshmen; the coed rolls her stockings to the knee and is pursued along the brick walls of the American campus. Benjamin Franklin contemplates the education of Pennsylvania youth;

:: LETTERS TO THE EDITOR ::

Dear Editor:

The women of the Health and Physical Education Department and all other women who are participants in sports request this opportunity (1) to correct certain misstatements which have appeared in the Weekly and (2) to attempt to dispel the haze which fogs the impressions held by many students of the girl athlete and the Ursinus "phys-edder."

We appreciate the acknowledgement of our hockey team in "Sports Talk" in the Oct. 6 issue, but should like to set straight two facts. The first pertains to captaincies. Alice Irwin, a four year veteran and one of the most competent college players in the game today, leads the hockey aggregation. It is not junior Susie Wagner who, incidentally, is an outstanding performer in her own right. . . . Credit, please, where credit is due. Susie is the 1959 basketball captain; so, if you wish to leap ahead one season, you have the right gal.

The second concerns the much misunderstood function of the pre-school camp. This program is an integral part of the Health and Physical Education curriculum, not a coaching school for hockey players. Hockey practices start after the opening of the fall term. The girls who return to college early are Health and Physical Education majors. They come back for two weeks of grueling eight hour day activity classes, which are almost impossible to fit into the academic year. (We respectfully invite you to check the four year roster of any Health and Physical Education student. It includes 21 hours of physical and biological sciences, 43 hours in the major field, and 23 hours of psychology and education in addition to the usual 86-42 hours of liberal arts classes. Total that and you come up with 123-129 semester hours, exclusive of electives. Take another check and you will find that no other Ursinus group has so many prescribed courses.) To get back to the camp, hockey is one of twelve activities and is offered for the purpose of acquainting students with positions other than their own. If we don't get around the field, how can we hope to teach and coach others?

As to the cartoon in the Oct. 20 issue, we admit we had to laugh. It might have been a girl—a girl of another era or another campus, perhaps. We doubt it, but it might have been. For the uninitiated, we point out that no hockey player would carry her stick higher than her shoulder (it's a foul) and for the uninitiated, we add that no Ursinus distaff athlete would suffer the indignities of such unkemptness and obesity. We have too much pride in ourselves, our record and our school, too much satisfaction from our sports and too much awareness of the target we present to avid quipsters and cartoonists to fail to be groomed

A Satire

by Carol E. Schmidt

Wherever particular people congregate at a college or university, you have the forming of an institution where the local smart set can meet to exchange sophisticated commentary. The University of Pennsylvania has Houston Hall; Princeton has the House of Commons; Bucknell has the Burger; and Ursinus has the College Cut Rate.

Here, amid an atmosphere of grilled cheese fumes and cigarette smoke, are great discussions that are destined to have a profound effect on the history of the world. For here the leaders of tomorrow are matured. Amid this cosmopolitan atmosphere of people from all parts of Pennsylvania, discussions are carried on regarding the future of politics and fashions. Should the police force be decreased next year? Should next year's styles feature footwear by A. S. Beck or U. S. Ked?

In the exclusive club room with its "collegiate" atmosphere, you are given efficient, courteous service by charming hostesses. The friendly proprietor makes you feel right at home as he invites you to stay and chat for a while. Under the soft, indirect lights, one may see the local debutantes with their "tweedy" es-corts.

Ginger Ale flows like water, and everywhere there is a gay carnival atmosphere.

Finally in the wee small hours of the night, the festivities must come to an end. And as the sun sinks in the western sky, we say good-bye to the friendly natives of Collegeville.

SPORTS TALK

With the Fall sports season more than half over and the Winter season well on its way, I think the freshmen have by now come to the realization that Ursinus is not an athletic dynamo. Some of our teams are quite abt above average: Last year the baseball team won more than two-thirds of its games, the boys' wrestling team generally turns up one or more Middle Atlantic Champs and the Girls' teams generally have winning seasons.

But some of our teams do not fare quite so well. This disappoints many and discourages others. I feel that if the win and loss record of the team means that much, the entire purpose of athletics on campus ought to be re-evaluated.

Why athletics? For the athlete it means days of exercise and training for a team. It means working with others for the group good. It means extra work, but it also means extra pleasure. These things are independent of the win and loss record. Granted, they are heightened by a few wins, but they are not lost by losses. The game is played for itself alone, and it is the way you play it that counts and how hard you play it. Not the win. "It's the game, not the victory."

For the spectator, very much the same can be said. An athletic event gives the spectator a chance to get away from his books for an afternoon and into the fresh air for the first time in a week. If he has an interest in the game, so much the better. Some say that they can not be interested in the game when the team they root for loses more than its share. With that attitude, I find it hard to believe that they had any real interest in the game in the first place. The real, positive benefits do not disappear when a team does not win all of its games.

The main purpose of any sporting event is the enjoyment of both the spectator and the participant. Athletics here at U.C. meet this test. There will always be a football team and soccer team because there will always be enough boys who want to play the game. The basketball team will never play in an empty gym because there will always be students who enjoy watching basketball being played. That much at least can be said for sports at Ursinus. And that is all that has to be said.

Soccermen Whip Alumni, Mules; Lose to Garnet

On Friday, Oct. 31, the Ursinus soccer team beat Muhlenberg 2-1 on an overtime period for its first win of the current season.

With a strong wind blowing down the field in their direction the Muhlenberg eleven dominated most of the play in the first period. Fine mid-field ball handling by inside right Frank Csaszar set up many scoring opportunities for the Mules, but they failed to put any through the goal until late in the period. Then, on a corner kick, Csaszar spotted one past U.C. goalie Schumacher for the first goal of the game.

During the first quarter the only trace of Bear offense was shown on several fast breaks up the field which failed to capitalize.

During the second quarter the Bears had the wind and the sun to their backs. In spite of the fact that they failed to score during this period, the tide of the game changed in favor of the U.C. squad. They pressed the Mules against their own goal line for the entire quarter and were rarely on the defense themselves. That period the Bears had more scoring chances than they had during complete games during past seasons. But they could not push one through. At half time the score remained an ominous 1-0 with Ursinus on the short end once again.

During half time there was very little talking going on in the Ursinus locker room. The team was well aware that this was a game that they should win and they were very disappointed with themselves, to say the least, that they would be going into the second half second best. As a result it was a new team which emerged from the locker room to meet the Mules for the third quarter.

Once again the Bears found themselves going against the wind, but this time it did not prove to be quite the impediment which it was in the first quarter. The play this time was rather equal, each team controlling the ball an equal amount of the time. But this time the Bears were able to push one past the Mule backfield to tie the

Hockey Squad Places Five On All-College

On Tuesday, Oct. 28, the Varsity hockey team defeated Gettysburg for their second win of the season. Gettysburg was held to one goal while Ursinus scored four—two by Suzie Wagner, one by Betty Lou Hufnagle, and one by Judy Detweiler.

The next day, Oct. 29, two teams traveled to Stroudsburg. The outcome was not so favorable. The varsity scoring punch was gone, and the team lost by a score of 3-0. The JV team battled until darkness ended the game in a scoreless tie.

On Oct. 30, the third team lost to West Chester 3-0.

On November 1 and 2 the varsity team played in the All College Tournament at Swarthmore. They defeated Immaculata 7-0 and Temple 1-0 while they again lost to Stroudsburg 1-0. Ursinus was well represented in the selections for the All College teams. Alice Irwin, Suzie Wagner, and Faye Bardman made First All College. Betty Lou Hufnagle made Third All College. Carol Bentley made Fourth All College and Adele Statzel made Honorable Mention.

score. Mike Blewett, taking the ball from the halfback line moved it downfield into the right corner. From there he made a perfect cross to Ed Brookes who put the ball through the goal to tie the score.

In the third period, though both teams had chances to score, neither could break the tie. In the final seconds both teams had and missed good chances to win the game. With less than half of a minute to play, the Mules, taking a corner kick, put the ball right in front of the Bears goal. But Schumacher managed to get hold of it and clear it. From there the Bear's line picked the ball up and had it right in front of the Muhlenberg goal with a clear field ahead when the final buzzer blew.

The team then decided to play the double overtime period—five minutes in each direction. During the first overtime period neither team was able to break the deadlock. During the second overtime, playing in the twilight

Bear Eleven Lose two To Garnet and Wagner

U. C. Lose in Mud to Swarthmore; Score Touchdown in Loss to Wagner

Behind the running of Wally Pagan and the effective passing of John Cavalli, Wagner College (2-4) rolled to four touchdowns in the second half after a scoreless first half to defeat Ursinus (0-5), 26-6.

Ursinus still holds a 7-4 edge in the series which began in 1948.

Shortly after the second half began Tony Franchina recovered an Ursinus fumble on the Bears' 29-yard line and Wagner scored in seven plays with Pagan tallying from the three. The kick was blocked.

Later in the same quarter Wagner drove 65 yards in 11 plays—Cavelli passed to George Kling for 26 yards and Pagan plunged the final four. The pass attempt failed.

Shortly after the start of the fourth quarter, Bob Peterson recovered a Wagner fumble on Wagner's 42. The passing of Ted Kerschner to Jack McCrae and the running of both carried to the two. Ursinus scored its first points of the season when McCrae dove over. The kick failed.

Collegeville, Pa., October 25—Behind the effective running of sophomore halfback Carmine Cardillo, the little Quakers of Swarthmore College overwhelmed the Ursinus Bears 24-0 in the rain and mud which spoiled Ursinus' Old Timers' Day. Swarthmore (1-3) now leads Ursinus (0-4) 29-14-2 in the series which dates back to 1897.

Cardillo scored a touchdown in the first quarter on an eight yard run, passed 33 yards to end Bill Robinson for another in the second quarter, and ran for 2 point conversion in the third quarter after halfback Paul Meisel had scored on a 10 yard sweep. Cardillo led both teams in rushing by gaining 80 yards on 24 carries.

Swarthmore scored a safety in the early minutes of the game when tackle Herman Feldhusen blocked Ursinus quarterback Ted Kerschner's punt driving the ball through the end zone for an automatic two points.

Late in the first quarter Swarthmore drove 28 yards with Cardillo carrying most of the way for their first touchdown. Ed Steiner kicked for the extra point. In the second quarter Cardillo passed to Bill Robinson who went all the way for 33 yards and the second touchdown of the game. Steiner again kicked the P.A.T. In the third quarter Swarthmore drove 66 yards in 15 plays for a touchdown with Paul Meisel going for the last 10 yards. Cardillo then ran over for the two extra points to end the scoring for the day.

After the game Ursinus Senior guard, Mike Drueniak of Quakertown, Pa., was awarded the annual Kenneth E. Walker Memorial Trophy presented each year on Old Timers' Day to the outstanding Ursinus player in the game of the day. Drueniak's outstanding defensive play made him this year's choice for the honor.

SENATE

On Monday, Oct. 20, at 4:30 p.m. in Room 8 of Bomberger Hall, the bi-weekly Senate meeting was held. Rosalie Bellairs, WSGA president, presided. The attending preceptresses were Mrs. Towers and Mrs. MacMurray. The senators from each dorm reported complaints. These complaints were recorded by the secretary so that they can be looked into further.

Rosalie informed the senate members that a report of each senate meeting must be posted in the dormitories for the benefit of all UC women.

One of the important tasks of the meeting was the starting of the WSGA Constitution revision. Rosalie announced that the Senate and the YWCA will cooperate in this work. A revision committee was selected; this committee includes Tama Williams, Elsie Catlett, Mary Lozier, Barbara Pine, and a Y representative. The revision of the constitution is to start immediately; a progress report will be given at the Nov. 17 meeting.

OMEGA CHI

On Friday, Oct. 10, the sisters of Omega Chi spent an enjoyable afternoon together, feasting on a Smorgasbord luncheon at the Collegville Inn.

We wish to extend our congratulations to Carol Schreiner on her pinning to Robert Kurian and to Nancy Byrne on her pinning to Patrick Wiefly of West Virginia. Our best wishes also to Lee Meitzner on her betrothal to Mike Drenniak, and to Val Cross and Wes Dunnington; Ann Markland and Dick McWilliams and Gayle Livingston and Philip Howe on their recent marriages.

Omega Chi will welcome alumnae sisters at a luncheon at Bull Tavern in Phoenixville on Old Timer's Day, Oct. 25, 1958.

ALPHA SIGMA NU

The sisters of Alpha Sigma Nu sorority held their annual Old Timers' Day luncheon last Saturday at the Collegville Inn. Fifteen Sig Nu members returned to celebrate Homecoming with the sorority at this luncheon. Returning Sig Nu members included: Mrs. Wm. Hoffman, Linda Kulp, Janet Miller, Bev. Glodfelter and Ann Leger, class of '58; Mrs. Helen Zern, June Boeninghaus, Mrs. George Jenkins and Marilyn Welsh, class of '57; Mrs. Noble Smith, class of '56; Mrs. Brouse and Mrs. Hudnut, class of '54; and Mrs. Towers, Mrs. Mattern and Mrs. Heilemann, class of '32.

Orders are being taken for Hot Pots, which sell for $2.00. If you are interested in buying one of these handy utensils please contact any member of Sig Nu.

CHEMICAL SOCIETY

This evening at 7:30 in S12 of Pfahler, Mr. James Eckert of the United States Bureau of Mines will speak to the Beardwood Chemical Society on government careers in chemistry and chemical engineering.

Mr. Eckert is chief of utilization and preparation at the United States Bureau of Mines' Experimental Station at Schuylkill Haven, Pa. All students are invited to attend this meeting.

dusk, the Bears' Captain Bobby Angstadt broke the tie with a shot from the center of the line. This put the Bears ahead with less than three minutes to play in the game, and they just could not be stopped that late in the game. The final score of the first Bears win of the season was then 2-1.

The fellows group themselves decoratively around the gym and proceed to survey the female population. The women stand in small circles and wait to be surveyed. Both groups then enjoy an evening of fine, musical listening.

Another type of dance is of a slightly more formal character and is given the title of "fraternity party". This is a very accurate description, for it is just this—a party for fraternity brothers. In fact, a date for this affair is only an afterthought. The men make elaborate preparations for entertainment, refreshments and decorations. Suddenly, about four days before the big occasion, they realize they will look rather ridiculous dancing with a fraternity brother and decide perhaps they had better invite a lucky coed to share an evening with "the boys".

Finally there are the "big dances"—such as Homecoming, the Junior Prom, and the Senior Ball. These are all-out, bang-up affairs. A fellow decides he had better show all his "savoir-faire". He must ask a girl sufficiently in advance to create a favorable impression. Let's see—five days should do the trick. Fine! Next the preparations are made—a lovely corsage, the use of a car for the evening, dinner reservations etc. That should please the time of arrival at about 10:30 p.m. Not much time left to dance? But sir, you can dance anytime. This is a big week-end!

The chairman of staging is Lolly Strasser, who is also co-chairman of the Social Responsibilities Commission of the Y.

A freshman, Georgia Ferrell, is the page for this play. Georgia belongs to the WAA and the Weekly staff and plays on the hockey team.

College Years

Stephen Leacock wonders whether education is getting too long; Robert Louis Stevenson apologises for idlers; and Eugene Gant discovers Homer. Here, then, are the "college years" with all the excitement, humor, injustice, wonder and loneliness that somehow constitute an education.

Some of the illustrious students, faculty members and old grads contributing to the table of contents are: Geoffrey Chaucer, F. Scott Fitzgerald, Thomas Wolfe, Robert Benchley, William Makepeace Thackeray, Herbert Gold, Ogden Nash, Ruth McKenny, Robert Penn Warren, Frank Lloyd Wright, Edmund Wilson, Bernard de Voto, Jonathan Swift and James Thurber. A. C. Spector writes the instruction and biographical notes.

On Tuesday, Oct. 28, the Bears Soccer team traveled to Swarthmore College for their third game of the season and lost it 3-1.

The first period was hard fought and evenly played. Neither team was able to score in spite of several drives by each.

But early in the second quarter, Swarthmore broke through when center forward Kodjoe broke through for the first score of the game. At this point the Garnets began to press, but were unable to score again.

In the third period Swarthmore scored again. This time through a ball which headed past UC goalie Schumacher by fullback Russell. The score remained 2-0 for the rest of the period.

Early in the fourth period Ed Brookes broke through the Swarthmore defense for the lone Ursinus goal of the game. But shortly after Quarles put Swarthmore ahead by two again when he scored from inside the penalty area. The final score was 3-1.

On Saturday, Oct. 25, the Ursinus Soccer team played and defeated a team of illustrious alumni who had returned for the Homecoming week-end.

The varsity started off quickly by taking the ball down field after the opening kickoff for a short drive which culminated with a goal by Mike Blewett. But the varsity did not stop there. They kept the Old Timers' back to the wall for the next five minutes and did not relent during the first quarter until Angstadt scored the team's second goal and Blewett scored again for the third.

At the beginning of the second quarter the Old Timers' got together and took to the offense. Fine mid-field play by Ken Grundy '58 and good ball handling by the forward line, kept the varsity on the defense for a short while. But soon the youngsters got rolling again.

On this offensive drive the varsity rolled the score up to 5-0 when Mike Blewett scored two more goals. And that is how the score remained until halftime.

Towards the beginning of the second half there was a general rearranging of the line-ups for both squads. The varsity halfbacks and fullbacks exchanged positions with the forward line while the Old Timers' were making a few switches of their own. Even if this did not improve the calibre of play, it certainly made the game more interesting.

It did not take long for the Alumni club to break through the varsity's new defense. Shortly after the half began, Bright '54, pushed on through to shatter the shutout. Then in the fourth quarter the alumni scored again. Mike Blewett, varsity fullback at the time, hit one past goalie Schumacher while attempting to clear it. It was his fifth goal of the day.

In spite of the fact that the entire game was played in rain which varied from slightly more than a light drizzle to a heavy downpour, both teams certainly had a good entertaining morning.

ORCHESTRA

Thursday evening, Oct. 30, the Ursinus Orchestra held its first meeting. There were twenty-four members present. There was a discussion of the balance, and it was decided that there is a need for more string instruments. If any of the readers play instruments and are interested in joining, please see Sam Fogal, Jim Riddell or Pat Tucker.

Homecoming

Fund Kick-Off Dinner was held. Later, from 8:30 to 12:00, the Varsity Club presented its annual dance—the Varsity Drag. The dance was held in the T-G gym; music was by Norrie Elwell. Despite the rain throughout Saturday, many of the women's dormitories were still decorated in traditional UC fashion.

Ballots were passed out and collected by the members of Alpha Phi Omega fraternity throughout the game. The junior dance, with music by the Blue Notes, was held from 8:30 p.m. to 12 p.m. that evening. With the end of this dance, the round of Homecoming activities ended.

CUSTOMS

Ursinus College's Customs program for women ended officially on Monday, Oct. 27, at noon. Customs were supposed to be ended on Oct. 25; however, due to the inclement weather, the official announcement was not made until Oct. 27.

The Red and Gold teams, however, had to continue wearing their customs apparel because of their losing the competition. The competition included poster making, competitive cheering, step shows, and demerits for behavior and not knowing UC's songs and traditions. The Black team was exempted from this because of their winning.

All customs completely ended for everyone at the November 1 football game.

Sandy Motta, head Soph Ruler, reported that a similar program will be used next year. However, before a definite program is established, the Soph Rules Committee is open to new suggestions. Sandy also reported that this year's program was very successful.

PRE-MEDICAL SOCIETY

Thursday, Oct. 16, the Brownback-Anders pre-medical society held its opening meeting. After introducing Ben Hauser, the vice president and Jerry Malik, secretary-treasurer, president Walter Christ called on Dr. Paul Wagner, the society's faculty advisor, who welcomed all the freshmen and returning members and gave a talk on the benefits of belonging to the society.

After Dr. Wagner finished his welcoming address, Wally outlined the society's program for the following two months. In November, Dr. Donald Baker, a member of the Ursinus faculty will address the society and in December the pre-medders will hear Dr. Benjamin Souder, a Reading ophthalmologist and Ursinus graduate.

Wally closed the meeting by urging everyone to pay his dues and expressed his sincere desire that all pre-medical students take an active part in the Society's program for the coming year.

Composer - teacher - pianist Lennie Tristano recently returned to working in jazz clubs after an extended period of self-enforced semi-retirement. Observing the contemporary jazz scene, Tristano observed "These days the emphasis has changed from what people can do together to what one can do in his solo... He doesn't care about before his solo or after... Everybody's a star."

Pianist Hank Jones, in a Down Beat Cross Section, commented on a variety of topics. Here's a sample: Thad Jones... "The name sounds familiar. I understand he plays for Basie. People have told me I'm his brother. My brother Elvin says the same thing, so I guess it must be true. But I can't understand how; I have so little talent and they so much."

MUSIC NEWS: A work by Bill Russo will be among those performed by the New York Philharmonic orchestra, under the direction of Leonard Bernstein, this season... Saxophonist Herbie Fields swallowed an overdose of sleeping pills and died in his Miami, Fla. home in mid-September... Jazz found a new home in the nation's capitol in September, when 2,000 persons filled the plush hall of the Sheraton-Park hotel in Washington to hear the Modern Jazz Quartet, Mose Allison's trio, and the Charlie Byrd sextet... The American Federation of Musicians announced plans to conduct a national dance band competition... Jazz and basketball will share doubleheaders at St. Louis' Kiel auditorium this season, with Lionel Hampton, Louis Armstrong and the Dukes of Dixieland among groups set to appear as part of St. Louis Hawks basketball games... After an eight-year absence, Paul Weston returned to the Capitol Records fold.

HE'S OFF!

Dear President Helfferich, Last year, nearly 12,000 young people of college age were killed in traffic accidents. This is fully 25 per cent of all fatal accidents recorded in the United States.

One solution to this highway carnage is education. And, education in the hands of the students themselves can be effective. Our college newspaper (and other communications media) can help educate the young drivers of college age to respect traffic laws and drive safely. We are asking you to support the College Newspaper Contest on Safe Driving sponsored annually since 1948 by Lumbermens Mutual Casualty Company.

You and the editor of your campus newspaper already may have received the 1958 contest announcement folder. As a former student, I urge you to encourage the editor to join the campaign, if you haven't already done so. It may save student lives on our campus.

Sincerely, Harry M. Downs Class of '52
