Dr. Alyea Speaks at Forum; Subject: Peaceful Atom Use

Dr. Alyea is shown demonstrating the arrangement and action of neutrons. —Photo by S. Wagman Smoke rose from a vigorously boiling mixture on the table in S-12 last Wednesday, October 9, as spectators filled the auditorium and balcony to hear Dr. Alyea discuss the Atomic bomb.

However, this was merely an example of the surprises that were yet to come. Dr. Alyea kept his audience in almost continual laughter for the full two hours that he spoke. Latecomers were greeted with a burst of compressed carbon dioxide from a fire extinguisher and the occupants of the first row were asked to move to avoid being sprayed with molten iron.

Dr. Alyea's use of chemistry for entertainment was not without reason. From his introduction he explained how the atomic bomb works and how it was developed in a manner the layman could easily understand. Through concise illustration and a series of chemical reactions, he explained explosives and the amount of energy released. His comparison of the electron volts of energy released from dynamite explosives and atomic explosives showed the amount of latent energy at hand.

He then went on with the staggering statistics that result-

Fall Retreaters Discuss One World; Plan Fall Program

On the weekend of October 11-13, a group of seventy-five students and faculty members attended the annual fall YM-YWCA Retreat. The theme for the retreat was "One World". On Friday evening, following a speech by Mr. Schellhase, the group held a hot dog roast and an echo sing.

Saturday morning the various commissions discussed the theme, "One World" and made their plans for the year. The World Relatedness Commission decided to center their interest on the Latin and South American countries. They have invited Mrs. Beatriz Couch to speak at a reception in the Student Union on Tuesday and Wednesday, October 15-16, at 4:30 p.m. She will also speak at the regular commission meeting, Wednesday night. Other speakers pertaining to their theme are being scheduled for the year. The commission is also sponsoring an International Christmas Party on January 8, and a trip to Washington during semester vacation.

The Student Worship Commission made their final plans for the seminar on the religions of the world. The Campus Affairs Commission decided to sponsor a bridge clinic. The social Responsibility Commission will sponsor trips to settlement houses and a visit to the International House.

Conrad Hoover, Nancy King, Becky Francis and Bill McQuoid gave short talks on the trips they had taken this summer. A discussion period followed. Saturday evening slides were shown on the various countries visited in Europe. At the vesper program, Mr. Lloyd Jones talked on the importance of love in breaking down international barriers. His talk was followed by square dancing, led by Mr. Francis Scheier.

The retreat was concluded by the guest speaker, the Reverend Mr. Walter Osborne Roland, at the Sunday morning worship service which was led by Lois Martyn.

Frosh Down Sophs In "Break", Oct. 11

On Friday, October 11, at 12:38, the freshmen class of Ursinus College perpetuated a custom that has prevailed for the last three years by attempting, and successfully accomplishing, a "break". At the sound of the famous infantry charge, the class broke from Freeland steps en masse, and when the dust had cleared, the sophomore rulers were wearing footprints on their backs and the frosh were not wearing their signs or dinks. But, as reported to The Weekly, order was restored and the freshmen will still undergo the rigors of customs until they are able to handle their own class affairs.

Alpha Phi Omega Elects New Sec'y; Makes Plans

Last week Alpha Phi Omega met to elect a new corresponding secretary, due to a vacancy in this position. Hank Steubing, a senior physics major, and an active member of the organization emerged victorious.

Due to a number of difficulties, the "Open Meeting" which had been planned was postponed until a more convenient time could be obtained. When the meeting is held everyone is invited, especially freshmen men.

Plans were discussed for this semester and also the spring semester. President Len Lubking and his officers have many new ideas and plans, such as holding class elections by the APO, which he hopes to put into effect.

The organization also picked Jane Mowry for their Homecoming Queen.

Spirit Committee Holds Dance-Rally Homecoming Eve

On Friday evening, October 18, at 8:30 in the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium the Spirit Committee and the Ruby will sponsor a pre-Homecoming dance. This is only one of the Friday night social events that both these organizations will give together in the coming months. The dances are presented every week to promote student relationships and to raise money for the 1958 Ruby.

The Spirit Committee, headed by Joanie Martin, also welcomes anyone to join their organization who is interested in promoting the Ursinus spirit on campus. This organization hopes to create more student support of the various sports activities, such as football, basketball, baseball, hockey, tennis, etc. The committee also is responsible for making the pep tags for all football games.

Meyers Elected V-P Of Soph Class

Jon Meyers was elected as Vice-President of the Sophomore class at the election on October 9. Other candidates were John Steele and Bob Turnbull.

A native of York, Pennsylvania, Jon is a chemical engineering major who is on the Ursinus football, basketball, and baseball teams. He is a member of the Alpha Phi Epsilon fraternity and is also on the Soph rules committee.

A class meeting is scheduled for Tuesday evening to further discuss plans for the forthcoming Sophomore Dance on October 26.

Ann Leger Representative To World Univ. Service

The National Student YWCA has recently chosen Ann Leger, of Ursinus, as one of the three representatives of the YWCA at the World University Service (W.U.S.) General Committee. The committee is the national body which determines the policy of WUS. The committee meets three times a year, the first meeting to be held on October 15.

The World University Service is an international agency which operates a program of material assistance and international education. It was founded after World War I to aid students and professors at war-devastated universities in Europe. Six national organizations, the B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation, The National Newman Club Federation, The United States National Student Association, The United States Christian Council, and The National Student Council YM-YWCA sponsor the service. Each organization sends six representatives to the General Committee each year.

WUS was one of the organizations included in last year's Campus Chest at Ursinus.

Students Rock and Roll At O Chi-Demas "Mixer"

On Saturday night, October 11, Omega Chi Sorority and Demas Fraternity sponsored a party at the S.H.A. Hall in Norristown. The Mixer, the traditional name for this social gathering, is given every year by a different sorority and fraternity on the second week-end of the fall term. This year's theme, The Sophisticated Swing, was suggested by the currently popular platter by the same name recorded by the Dorsey Brothers.

The crowded dance hall vibrated with the music of The Original Jones Boys, a band of recording fame.

Vesper Program, October 30

Bill McQuoid will lead the Vesper program Sunday, October 20. The speaker for the evening will be Sam Fogal. Laverne Joseph will accompany the soloist, Tom Benningus.

Old Timer's Day October 19; Organizations Ready Campus

Ursinus will once again be the site of reunions with fellow-classmates on Saturday, October 19. "Old Timers' Day", one of Ursinus' annual events, will provide an interesting program for a day back on the campus.

At noon the five sororities on campus will hold their reunion luncheons. The Cub and Key is sponsoring a buffet luncheon for all Cub and Key members, past and present.

Argentinean to be WRC Speaker Wed.

On Wednesday evening, the World Relatedness Commission of the YM-YWCA will have as its speaker, Mrs. Beatriz Melano Couch of Argentina. She is visiting colleges and universities on behalf of the Student Volunteer Movement to explain the nature and necessity of the church's mission in a revolutionary world. Mrs. Couch holds a B.S. degree from Esuela College, a B.A. degree from Tift College in Georgia, a Master's of Religious Education degree from Princeton Theological Seminary, and has three years graduate work at the University of Buenos Aires. She has also had experience as a teacher and worker at a social center in Buenos Aires as well as being a member of an Ecumenical Mission Team to Mexico. Because of her broad background in the U.S., Argentina, and Mexico, Mrs. Couch is deeply committed to work among students.

"Messiah" Rehearsals Begin; To be Given Dec. 12

The Messiah, written by George Frederick Handel, will be presented December 12 in Bomberger Chapel by two hundred members of Ursinus College. The chorus, directed by Doctor Phillip, will feature professional soloists and members of professional orchestras.

The chorus will meet every Monday and Wednesday immediately after lunch for general practice. On Tuesdays and Thursdays sectional practice will be held. Later in the year special practices will be held.

Any alumni who would like to sing in the chorus should contact the Music Department before November 15. Any student who would like to play in the orchestra should contact Doctor Phillip.

The Student Directors this year are Conrad Hoover, Ginny Keller, Tom Benningus and Sam Fogal. Sam acts in the capacity of Business Manager.

Meistersingers Organize

Because of the large turnout for the Meistersingers this year, there will be two rehearsing groups. The first group composed of new people will rehearse from 7 to 8 on Thursday night. The old members will rehearse from 8 to 9 o'clock. Dr. Phillip announced that both groups will perform in concerts this year.

SENIORS!

The senior class will have its first meeting Tuesday, October 15 at 6:30 p.m. in Room 7, Bomberger Hall. Plans for the year will be outlined and discussed. Full attendance is imperative.

The highlight of the day is the football game to be played at 2:00 p.m. The Bears meet the Colonels from Wilkes-Barre. At half time each fraternity presents its queen. Students vote for one of the young women, and in such a way the Homecoming Queen is chosen. She is crowned at the Varsity Club Dance.

In the afternoon, before the football game, the Ursinus Varsity Soccer team plays the Alumni. There is an Alumni Coffee Hour at 4:00 p.m.

The Alumni is also invited to visit and inspect the new women's dormitories in the afternoon from 5 to 6 o'clock.

In the evening the Fraternities will have their gatherings. There will also be a Loyalty Fund Kick-Off Dinner for class chairmen and vice chairmen.

The whole day will be climaxed by a Varsity Club Dance to be held in the T-G Gymnasium. At the dance the Homecoming Queen will be crowned. Those vying for the title are as follows: Alpha Phi Epsilon—Barbara DeGeorge; Beta Sigma Lambda—Gail Livingstone; Delta Mu Sigma—Barbara McClure; Delta Pi Sigma—Marlene White; Sigma Rho Lambda—Jackie Robbins; Zeta Chi—Joan Martin; Alpha Phi Omega, Jane Mowry.

MSGA Holds Meeting; Subject: Concessions, New Proctors' Rules

The Men's Student Government held their first meeting of the fall semester last Monday, October 7. This first meeting concerned proctors and concessions. Dr. G. Sieber Pancoast, Dean of Men, was present to explain the many rules to the new proctors. Among these rules include the following: no hot plates in rooms; no hanging of pictures with nails, thumbtacks, or scotch tape; no animals in the dorms; and no firecrackers. The proctors will only hold their jobs for one semester and must re-apply for second semester jobs by December 10. Proctors will work more closely with the MSGA this year than in any other previous years.

New concessions obtained by students were:

Pete Faye — Flower Concessions.

Alan Hutch—Laminated cards. Larry Powell—Ursinus jackets. John Deisinger—Television and hi-fi repairman.

It was announced that anyone interested in information concerning Mrs. Shrylock and her daily room inspection kindly consult any member of the MSGA. Protests will be acknowledged.

Comments on Customs

At the beginning of each school year the highly controversial subject of the value of customs arises. To a freshmen, customs seem to be a way in which the sophomores revenge the injustices done to them in their freshmen year. To a sophomore, waddling in his power and glory, the meaning of customs may sometimes be lost. A junior becomes apathetic about the whole affair and looks back on his custom days with reminiscence. A senior also has little concern about the outcome of the sophomore's project.

The ideas and attitudes of the juniors and seniors, as a whole, are of little importance in the present customs program. The ideas of the sophomores, especially the members of the Sophomore Rules Committee, are extremely important.

Several members of each freshman class see the mistakes of their sophomore rulers and have definite ideas on how to unite a class, but those with the best ideas on uniting a class are not necessarily those who have the toughest manner. The persons who choose the Sophomore Rules Committee have a very important duty.

The committee should be a functioning unit. The juniors and seniors on the committee are there for a definite purpose. They have the experience to make the program a success.

Showing a group of unorganized and rather aggressive freshmen who is "boss" takes more than a mean look and physical suppression. To control such a group takes understanding, sternness, ingenuity, and above all the respect of the freshmen class for the sophomore rulers.

A responsible leader, or leaders, planned the freshmen "break" last Friday. It took even more responsibility on the part of these leaders to bring the freshmen back to the steps to continue customs. The freshmen obviously have a good start in uniting themselves, but to discontinue customs at this time would not be wise. The success or failure of the freshmen class does not depend entirely upon customs. Each freshmen had some sense of responsibility before he entered Ursinus College and now is the time to use it.

Dating Traditions at Ursinus

by Trinka Schnabel

Couples strolling hand in hand over the campus, oh what a lovely setting for romance, but let me enlighten the Freshman Class as to the strict code governing that lovely scene.

The college dances are indeed enchanting as the strains of music float over the battle lines of the sexes which are thrown up at opposite ends of the gym. Boys and girls stand starry eyed, gazing across the no-man's land into which a few, very few, have dared to enter.

Freshmen women are fair game for upperclassmen, for although yellow dinks and no make up are not exactly beauty aides the girls are new material.

You will be thrilled walking home from dinner in Freeland under the arching trees but let me add one note of caution: any girl seen with one boy more than once or twice is classed as "his" and all others seem to forget she might still be dateable.

Following these hallowed traditions you, the class of '61, will fit nicely into the time worn system of dating at Ursinus. Have fun?

Sensible Punctuation

by Phillip Rowe

It's high time we brought our punctuation up to date. Men hate to be seen in an old beaten up car; women wouldn't be caught dead with last year's hat; yet we go on using the same tired old periods, commas, and question marks Billy Shakespeare learned in school.

Here are a few punctuation marks more suited to our modern use:

Deflation Point ($) It shows lack of enthusiasm; opposite of exclamation. Example of use: You ask the boss for a raise and shepherd-cut-it . . .

Never-mind Mark (‡) This is for the gossip who asks questions but never pauses long enough for an answer. Example of use: "I-was-talking-to-Mabel - Do - you-know-Mabel? Well-we-met-on-the-street - Have-you-seen-her-new-hair-do? Looks-like-a-shepherd-cut-it . . ."

Colosein (□) This is used in joining two unrelated sentences. Example of use: "We were watching television □ Gee, Mac, you're sure getting bald."

Sapostrophe ('-'-') This is for people like me who can't remember where to put the apostrophe—before or after the "S", when it is showing possession. Is it Huss's or Husses' or Huss'?

Answer: Huss's'
Up to now there hasn't been a way to promote this unique idea. But the problem is getting more thought.

The SERVICE . . . and YOU

by Carl Fontaine

Having been in the service, I realize the problems that face any young man who has yet to fulfill his obligation. Probably the biggest initial question to be answered is which branch of the service to enter. Usually this is answered by the influence of friends or relatives who have served in one branch or another. Some will tell you that the Navy is good for this or that reason, and others will champion the Army. Then there is the propaganda pressure that the various branches of the service bring to bear via posters, pamphlets, etc. In the end, it boils down to the cut of a uniform, a little glory, a few tales of adventure, and another recruit has been added to the ranks. This attitude is fine for wartime, not for today.

The young men of today should first evaluate carefully what each branch of the service has to offer, not in terms of glory or prestige, but in plain facts concerning individual training benefits. What have they that will be useful to you in the future? How extensive is their training program? Do they have the career field suited to your aspirations? These and other questions should be answered before a choice is made.

Citing a particular field, I would like to illustrate the possibilities open to anyone who enters it. What is true here is true in other technical fields as well, and this example is merely a guide to be used or applied to any of them.

:: Letters to the Editor ::

Dear Mr. Editor:

Once again the clamor of our parents' voices have reached the ears of the administration. The newly formed apron strings reach for miles and miles from each boy's home to his respective room. The form of this outrage is the newly installed all-campus dorm mother. Her job is to take up where your mother left off in the third grade of elementary school, namely to teach you to make your bed.

Above the upraised protests of every male student on campus, dorm inspections have become a reality. Her whipping switch is a twenty-five cent fine for each time your bed isn't made by ten o'clock. Who knows to what degree this outrage may reach. Before long there may be a 25c fine for each pinup in a bikini, and perhaps 50c for each pinup without a bikini.

She may even insist that every floor have a rug on it; for if not, she may get splinters in her knees looking for dust under the table.

So join the crusade men; fight this outrage. Put your heavy furniture in front of the door and enter and leave through the windows. We shall not lose.

The Voice of Stine Hall

this is the word . . .

Last Tuesday evening at midnight the upperclassmen of Ursinus were treated to the annual Nightly Track Meet presented by the Class of '61. The Frosh cooperated nicely and again did not choose to "break". Bucky Pielstick's squad captured four 1st places and two 2nds. Wally Kinderman's squad didn't quite finish.

The girls in the new quadrangle think that the late evening concerts on Monday and Thursday were much better, however, and they participated actively from the windows.

I don't know why exactly, but the telephone company listed the preceptresses' phone numbers under the heading of den mothers . . .

Cherrie Soper of Tau Sig, who is spending her junior year studying in Spain was a bit sick on the boat going over. I hope she learned the Spanish word for dramamine.

An apprentice to the apprentice working on the sidewalks of the new dorms was sent to get a 14" x 18" stone. He returned 15 minutes later with the report that he couldn't find any. He could, however, bring one 18" x 14" if it could be used. Seems like some students are as stubborn in their convictions.

Sig Rho is again out to gain the title of the most attached fraternity on campus. Last week's pinnings include Tom Bennisign '58 to Ruth Mercer '59, Al Daniels '59 to Jackie Robbins '59, and Fred Roedel '58 to Eileen Conner '57.

Mrs. Randy Sawyer, nee Peggy Cherry of Omega Chi, is dividing her time between college and an apartment in Lower Providence.

Our track star, Ken Buggeln of Apes, and Beth Davis were pinnned on Thursday night. Paisley, Beardwood, and her dorm-mates in Stauffer joined in a song of congratulations.

That was a great article on Bob Famous ("Father is a Half-back") in last Sunday's Inquirer. It's a shame that the front of Freeland in one picture looked so much like a Roman ruin.

THAT'S IT.

FOOTBALL PLAYER OF THE WEEK

Hats off to Ted Kershner this week for his very fine offensive and defensive game with Drexel. This was Ted's first start at quarterback for Ursinus, but by the way he handled the ball and called the plays one would be led to think that Ted is well experienced for his position. His touchdown pass to Clem Anderson in the first quarter was a thing of beauty! Ted's fine running and passing were a big factor in the outcome of the Drexel game. He made a very timely interception late in the fourth period which stopped Drexel once and for all.

Ted is a sophomore and is one of the soph rulers. He is a day student, a member of Alpha Phi Epsilon Fraternity and also plays baseball and basketball.

SOCCKER LAURELS

The soccer team opened its season this past Saturday with Stevens Tech. Although the team lost, coach Baker felt the team played as a team instead of any one individual shining above the rest. If there were any stars, Coach Baker felt that perhaps four men should be singled out for playing well, even though the team lost. Dr. Baker felt that most of the team did not play up to their capabilities. Those men who played well were Schmoyer, Harrison, Grundy and Settles. Let's get out and support the soccer team. The next home game will be with Swarthmore on Saturday, October 26.

HALF-TIME JOTTINGS

Saturday's victory over Drexel and the loss of Clem Anderson because of a hip injury, and the loss, for the season, of fullback Warren Rybak because of head injuries proves that in sports most silver linings attach themselves to very dark clouds.

Also to be noted was the fine punting of Bob Famous. Bob averaged better than 40 yards per kick, which was better than any kicker on Army or Notre Dame. Bob also had a fine punting average in the first game with Susquehanna. Well done Bob, and keep it up!

Stevens Downs Soccermen 4-2 in Second Half Rally

On Saturday, October 12, the Ursinus Soccer Team opened its season against Stevens Tech. Stevens travelled here from North Jersey and though the trip was long, it was not wasted. Stevens returned home with one more victory under its belt.

The game started off well and was played evenly for the entire first quarter. The score at the end of that time was 0-0. The game showed promise of being a rather slow, dull one. Early in the second quarter, Schulz, the cented halfback of Stevens broke the scoreless deadlock and put Stevens into the lead. The next fifteen minutes went by with neither team making any sustained efforts and with both teams missing several seemingly easy chances. Then with two minutes left to go in the half, Ben Settles broke through the Stevens defense and tied the score for the Bears.

The Bears now seemed ready to roll. During the third period they made several sustained drives but could not score. The fourth period opened with the Bears still pressing. Then the tide changed. Landreth and Schulz put through two quick goals and the Bears found themselves trailing 3-1. The time had come for the final effort. With ten minutes left in the game, Ken Grundy eased the ball past the Stevens' goalie and put U. C. within striking distance. The Bears pressed even harder. But with four minutes to go, Rocha, playing left inside, scored the clinching tally and insured the game for Stevens.

Though the Bears took a beating in the game, the outlook is far from pessimistic. The team got more openings and took more shots in this game than in any last year. With a little more work in the various fundamentals of the game, the soccer team should be a formidable opponent for any team they face this season.

The soccer team through The Weekly, would like to thank those who came to the game and gave the team their wholehearted support.

Anderson and Prutzman Score Against Drexel

The Ursinus eleven defeated Drexel last Saturday, 12-6 (for the first time since 1948) to end a series which has ben continuous since 1946. The series finds Drexel leading 16-8, with two ties.

Early in the first quarter a pass from Ted Kershner to Bob Famous was called back because of Ursinus off-side. After this Drexel took over and, led by quarterback Tom O'Connor, marched 70 yards on 19 plays for their first touchdown in three games. The march was dramatized by three first downs on fourth down gambles. The drive was capped by O'Connor sneaking over, from 18 inches out, for the score. The try for the extra point was partially blocked.

After taking the kickoff the Bears quickly replied by moving 80 yards for their first score. Bob Famous set up the score by running off tackle for 25 yards. On a bootleg pass, quarterback Ted Kershner hit end Clem Anderson in the end zone for the score. Famous' try for placement was blocked.

From here both teams battled to a stalemate until late in the third quarter when center Bob Petersen intercepted an O'Connor pass in the flat and ran 31 yards to the Dragon six yard line. After two tries at the line, fullback Jack Prutzman smashed off right tackle for the winning touchdown. This time Famous' try was wide.

Mid-way during the final quarter Petersen intercepted another Drexel pass to stop another Drexel drive. After trying to run out the clock, the Bears punted and were able to hold the Dragons for their second victory of the season.

Just before the final whistle Chestnut Hill got the point, beating Ursinus J. V. in their opener.

The 3rd team played a very nice game, winning 5-0. Captain Joyce Gilbert and freshman Gail Rice each scored 2 goals for their respective inner slots. Lee Meitzner scored the other goal from her position at center forward. All the scoring in this game was in the first half.

The Service and You . . .

The weather service is one of the technical fields found in the air branch of the armed forces. Any qualified recruit has his choice of fields of training, but if he selects meteorology he is sent to Chanute A.F.B. in Illinois. Once there, he will find himself exposed to a few months of intensive and extensive schooling. They will introduce him to every fundamental concerning weather. After his classroom indoctrination, he must prove his mettle during an on-the-job-training period. Successfully passing this, he is then assigned to another base as permanent personnel. Our friend is now a qualified weather observer, but his future does not stop there.

He next enrolls in forecasting school and there he learns to analyze the many charts and maps used in weather forecasting. With this fine technical background behind him, he re-enters the permanent personnel ranks as a full fledged forecaster. His hours are long and irregular, but whenever he hits an important forecast a great deal of satisfaction results.

Then comes the time when our friend has to make an important decision. Does he want to pursue his career field in the service or return to civilian life? Due to his technical training and experience, he has advanced in rank rapidly with more promotions in sight. However, he also realizes that a number of good positions are open to a man with his background in civil service or private weather bureaus. The decision is his, but whatever his choice, he can delight in the fact that his careful selection of a career field has made his future secure and certain.

I hope that this illustration has pointed out the value in being selective when entering the armed forces. Just as a college education is pointless if it can not be applied to your future, two or three years in the service can go for naught. That's why it's very important to look before you jump if a tour in the armed forces is in your future.
