Committees Busy as Indians As Fall Play Opening Nears

As the time draws nearer to the presentation of the fall play, "Ten Little Indians", the cast and the various committees may be seen working vigorously to make this play a success.

Running around the campus with a paint brush in her hand is Sally Garside, who is in charge of painting. The staging is the project of Alpha Psi Omega. Lining up ushers for the three evening performances is the job of the usher committee chairman, Loretta Podalak. The programs have been designed by Edward Gobrecht and his committee members and will be sent to be printed within the next week. Around the neighborhood properties are being gathered. Head of the properties committee is Carolyn Dearnaley. The members of the make-up committee are practicing their skills under the direction of their chairman, Joan Refford.

As chairman of the costume committee, Judy Sanders is busy making arrangements for each of the actor's wardrobe. The publicity committee, under the co-chairmanship of Sally McSparren and Sandy Motta is working hard to advertise the play. Tickets will be issued shortly by Edward Gobrecht and his committee. The prompter for the play is Merle Sybertsen and working behind the scenes with Merle is the page, Mary Ellen Seyler. The cast, made up of Val Cross, Jim Terry, Bob Gilgor, Newt Ruch, Lolly Strasser, Skip Burns, Dick Miller, Holland Fitts, Phil Rowe, Ellen Debate and Bill Hoffman, has been practicing continuously. The producer, Norm Abramson, the director, Ange McKey, and the technical advisor are steadily working hard to make "Ten Little Indians" a hit. Therefore all of you should attend one of the three performances.

On Thursday, December 5, all students may enter free of charge; outsiders must pay $1.00. Friday night admission is also free for students and $1.00 for outsiders, but students desiring a reserved seat must pay fifty cents. On Saturday everyone must pay $1.00 but it will be a well spent one.

THE YEARS GO BY . . .

50 Years Ago November 22, 1907

According to President Lancaster, of Olivet College, nine out of every ten college engagements result in unhappiness. He declares that if any of the students have any intention of an engagement while in college they will be requested to leave the institution. . . . No student who smokes cigarettes is eligible for a scholarship at Syracuse University.

30 Years Ago November 21, 1927

A visitor taking lunch in one of our dining rooms the other day, volunteered warm praise of the gentlemanly and lady-like decorum which prevailed throughout.

10 Years Ago November 17, 1947

Note to you gents around campus: The "new look" in skirt lengths is sweeping the campus. Don't take it too hard, though 'cause it seems that as the hemlines are going down, necklines are going with them.

Group Production Of Homicidal Thriller, Nov. 26

Starting off this year's play season is a group production, "The Shirkers". It will be presented in Bomberger Chapel at 8:00 p.m. on Tuesday evening, November 26. The directors of "The Shirkers", a tragedy, are Bev Gladfelter and Norm Abramson. Bev, a member of Alpha Sigma Nu, is active in the "Y", Stars and Players, and the IRC. She is also part of the Weekly staff. Norm is the producer of the fall play and a member of Stars and Players and the Pre-Med Society.

The cast, which is composed of three people, includes: Diana Vye, Phil Rowe, and David Williams. Diana, a Phi Psi girl, is cheerleader, a member of Alpha Psi Omega, and the Forum Committee. Phil, although busy writing for the Weekly and the Lantern, still finds time to be treasurer of Curtain Club and to be active in Stars and Players and the IRC. As a freshman, David Williams is making an early start in group productions. His major is Spanish and he is also a member of the IRC.

The scene opens in the country home of John Belper and his wife. In a fit of depression, John Belper decides to do away with himself and his wife. He has just stabbed his wife and is about to kill himself when he is interrupted by the timely appearance of Dick Murray a man from the city. Murray, having lived in the city all his life, has become thoroughly disgusted with himself also. Belper and Murray enter into conversation and finally reach a decision. They decide to change places for one year. When Belper has left, Murray examines his new resi-

Detweiler, Heckler Elected to MSGA

On Tuesday, November 12, the men of the class of '61 elected Jay Heckler and John Detweiler as representatives to the Men's Student Government Association. These new representatives were sworn into office on Wednesday at the meeting of the Student Council.

Jay Heckler is a chemistry major, hailing from Jenkintown, Pa. At Ursinus, Jay is a member of the band and an active member of his class.

John Detweiler is a Business Administration major and graduated from Quakertown High School. At Ursinus, John is a member of the football team, and it was he who was on the throwing end of the 91 yard pass against Lebanon Valley this past Saturday.

Now that the two freshmen representatives have been elected, it brings the council up to its full strength of thirteen members. Of these members four are from the senior class, three each from the sophomore and junior classes, two from the freshmen class, and one representative of the day students.

TRIP FOR PRE-MEDDERS

On Friday, November 16, 1957, Dr. Morton J. Oppenheimer, head of the Department of Physiology at Temple University Medical School, performed a series of experiments on the heart of a living dog for a group of Ursinus pre-medical students and Dr. Wagner (at the Temple Medical School). The unique demonstration included X-Rays of the dog's heart and simulation of a series of heart ailments comparable to those found in humans.

Dr. Oppenheimer, a graduate of Ursinus, also discussed the interpretation of electrocardiograms and illustrated with the live dog how abnormalities in the electrocardiograms are recorded.

Talk on South America

Gladys Kriese, contralto, won the 1953 Career Performance of the Chicago Theater of the Air, and in 1954 was awarded the Women's First Award of the "Singing Stars of Tomorrow" in Toronto, Canada. At present she is contralto soloist at the Rutgers Presbyterian Church in New York City and fulfills many oratorio and recital engagements throughout the East. Frederick D. Mayer, tenor, has had numerous concert, oratorio, opera and TV engagements. Several TV appearances include those on "Omnibus", "The Arthur Godfrey show" and "The Ed Sullivan Show". ## Frenchman to Tell Of Experiences in World War II, Tue.

Tuesday evening, November 19, at 7 o'clock, in Studio Cottage, east campus, the French Club will hear Monsieur Pierre Carlier speak about his experiences in the French Resistance during World War II. After the talk, an informal discussion will enable the members to learn also about life in France.

M. Carlier presently resides in Pottstown, and is employed as a chef at Lakeside Inn. He has not yet become an American citizen.

M. Pierre Carlier was a former member of the Maquis, and lived in Dunkirk where his father was an industrialist. Obligated to flee in the path of the Nazi army, the Carlier family went to the South of France where young Pierre, (then a student) joined the Maquis. The Carlier plant was completely destroyed and the family lost everything. After the Liberation M. Carlier determined to come to America, a dream which was realized in 1952. Since then he has been living in Pottstown, and his family in Monaco.

The meeting will begin at 7 o'clock when WFLN broadcasts a program of French songs. At 7:30 M. Carlier will speak.

This meeting of the French Club is open to all students, and will offer an opportunity to those who are interested in France—her language and history. To those who are planning a trip to Europe or France this summer this will offer an excellent opportunity to ask questions concerning the country and the peoples.

Final Seminar on Religions, Nov. 20

On Wednesday evening, November 20, at 6:45, the Student Worship Committee of the YM-YWCA will hold the third of a series of seminars on "Comparable Religions." The seminar will be in the form of a panel consisting of five Ursinus professors. The basic question for this particular seminar will be "What is a reasonable and believable authority for religion, how does one arrive at this authority, and what are the tests this authority must face?" Answers to such a question, and others, will be offered by Mr. Raymond Rafetto, Dr. Donald Baker, Dr. Calvin Yost, and Dr. John Heilemann. Dr. Maurice Armstrong will moderate the panel representing views of the Quaker, Unitarian, Moderate Reformed, and Christian Scientist.

As a conclusion to these seminars, Dr. Alfred Creager will sum up the aims and accomplishments of the seminars on Sunday, November 24, at the Vespers Service.

SENIOR INTERVIEWS

The Campus interviews will begin in December, with only two interviewers coming on Campus during the month. The major interviews will begin in January.

Watch the Bulletin boards in Bomberger and Pfahler Halls for the monthly schedule of interviews. They will also be published in the Weekly.

The purpose of the dinner is to familiarize students with the opportunities and problems of American industry. Following the dinner there will be a panel discussion in which the following executives will participate.

- Harleston R. Wood, President Alan Wood Steel Company Conshohocken
- Robert R. Titus, President Synthane Corporation Oaks
- John M. Taylor, Jr., President Taylor Fibre Company Norristown

- William S. West, Jr., Vice-Pres. The West Company Phoenixville (Manufacturers of medical supplies—representing small business)

Moderated by Curtin Winsor, Executive Director of ACES, the panel will discuss such questions as:

1. Whether or not big business drives out small business.
2. The effect of automation on jobs.
3. The extent to which organized labor contributes to rising living standards.

Following the formal discussion the panel will answer questions by the students from the floor. At the end of this question period, there will be an opportunity for the students to discuss job opportunities informally with the president of the company in the field of industry which most interests them. The program will end before ten o'clock.

ACES, a non-profit, non-political Pennsylvania citizens' movement in the field of economic education, headed by Theodore Roosevelt III, sponsors a many-sided program designed to demonstrate how our business system operates.

EDITORIAL

A Time for Thought

There occurs, in the course of a school year, episodes that are distasteful to the College and to the student alike. These incidents appear with annual regularity no matter how well the inevitable consequences of the actions are publicized. This semester has been no exception, and, as a result, one student is no longer a member of our college community.

Ursinus, like any PERMANENT institution, has rules that must be followed otherwise there could be no organization. Each student knows, before entering the College, that there are certain rules to be obeyed—especially one that is imposed upon the school by the state, and these cannot be ignored either by the College or the individual. If they are, the consequences must be faced.

As students we should not attempt to evade the rules that are made for the good of the group. They (the rules) have a purpose which, upon HONEST reflection, should be apparent to each of us. Furthermore, it is our duty as students to enforce these rules if we are in a position to do so. A few hours of surreptitious adventure is not worth the price that one of our students has been forced to pay.

Some have criticized the action of the disciplinary committee in their action this past week. If those individuals would have taken the trouble to learn facts instead of rumor, they would have seen that the final action of the committee was not based on one incident alone. The severity of their action was a necessity for the good of the individual. And, in this matter, the laws of the State of Pennsylvania was a factor that could not be ignored by the College.

It is the individual's responsibility to discern what is right and what is wrong. However, if he can't, the decision must then be made for him by others, for a successful community of peoples cannot function properly if there is no unity.

A constant criticism of administrative procedure seems to be a tradition, and, to an extent, a healthy action. However, criticism should not be a haphazard denouncement based on personal wants—the over-all picture must always be kept in focus. As men and women in a select environment, we cannot afford to barter the maturity that is expected of us for a transient moment of childishness, otherwise, how can we expect to gain our rights fully as the citizens who will make and enforce society's rules in the future?

Plans thoroughly thought-out, discussed and acted upon seldom reflect the child in man. With the knowledge that we all should have, coupled with a group (not individual) outlook, the events of the past week would not have happened. Honesty to ourselves and to others is of prime importance if we are not to make unhappiness for others. The individual seldom stands alone, and his actions, if wrong, affects others. The realization of this should make better student-citizens of us all.

Thanksgiving Verses for Our Times

by Art King

Be thankful. The sun does not "go down." The rhythms of life may be heard at any moment that the mind is still. Yes, and if self should drown while gazing at its image in a well, let there remain the Word before which petulancies of will dissolve.

Be thankful. Whatever fancies resolve through regions of darkness and light, we may elude their hypomolecular dance, knowing that nothing right has ever been completely left to chance. Thanksgiving joys are sent at their best with the faintest murmur, "Repent."

Be thankful. You've resources within. Love the whole pageant of human life cast on the framework of eternity. The subtle razor of sin has long since replaced the bloody, two-edged knife of natural enmity. That was the greatest gift, and you are heir. Rejoice. The seasons move. Growth and decay are frictions along time's groove.

Her First and Last Try

Once upon a time there was a circus and in that circus there was a little trapeze girl. Now this little girl had just joined the circus and everyday she practiced hard on her low trapeze and longed for the day when she would climb to the high trapeze and be recognized—she wanted so much to star in the show! One day the circus opened in a new town. Flags were flying, the band was playing and everyone was gay. Suddenly she realized now was her chance, she would go into the center ring, climb the ladder high above the crowd and stop the show with her daring act on the high trapeze. She didn't stop to think what the circus boss would say—all she thought of was finding her place in the spotlight. For a moment she wished she were out of the spotlight and over in her little private corner of the circus tent where she could practice alone on her low trapeze. She heard the drums rolling, louder, louder and knew that, inexperienced as she was, she had to prove herself. Well, she didn't. In fact, she fell, down, down into the net. The audience gasped. They wondered who this little girl was and why she had gone up on the high trapeze. Only the girl knew why. Low mutterances were heard from the crowd as the big circus boss came up and cruelly pulled her out of the ring. He could not tolerate or forgive any mistakes in his show. What would the people think of his show! He escorted her swiftly to the exit and left her alone to make her way. Back inside the tent, the crowd sat tense—they felt sorry for the poor little trapeze girl but what could they do about it? They had paid their fee to get into the circus and the show must go on!!

:: LETTERS TO THE EDITOR ::

Dear Editor, This is the answer to the letters from the Higher Heels and the French Heel. There have been frequent exclamations on seeing the immaturity of the female counterpart of this campus. First of all, with what were our judges casual clothing a little too far at times. However, why shouldn't we? The majority of our male classmates seem to pride themselves on the number of weeks they wear their khakis without changing to a clean pair. The men of Ursinus, and we use the term loosely, also do not change their shirts for weeks—and they look it. Why should we women get all dressed up for classes and other activities only to be compared to our male classmates who seldom wear ties? We would only make them seem twice as bad as they really look, if that is possible. We have also been accused of childish actions. As far as we know the women of Ursinus have never put chickens and alarm clocks in chapel, a dead moose in an obvious spot on campus, nor have we thrown empty bottles around. Perhaps a few of us are childish, but "people who live in glass houses should not throw stones". —The Loafers

FOOTBALL PLAYER OF THE WEEK

The outstanding football player in this past week's football game against Lebanon Valley was Mike Drewniak. He hails from Quakertown, Pennsylvania, where he played football and baseball. Mike is a junior and has been a regular on the Bear's line since his freshman year. His performance in this past week's game was magnificent. He made many tackles stopping many scoring attempts by Lebanon Valley. Offensively he made many fine blocks, helping the runners gain valuable ground.

Mike also excels off the field. He is a business major who has made the Dean's list. He is a member of the Varsity Club and of Alpha Phi Epsilon fraternity. Among his hobbies, Mike is an ardent weight lifter and he also enjoys "cool music".

With his drive, rugged playing and desire to win, Mike is a fine asset to the team.

Hats off to Mike Drewniak, football player of the week.

SOCCKER PLAYER OF THE WEEK

Ken Grundy played very well in this past week's soccer game against Lehigh. Ken, who is captain of the soccer team, was all over the field.

His offensive and defensive play was a stand-out in the victory. Ken is also a very fine student. He has been on the Dean's List (the honorable one) many times since his freshman year. Ken is a business major, member of the Men's Student Government, the Cub and Key Society, the Varsity Club, and Demas fraternity. Cheers for Ken Grundy, soccer player of the week.

OFF THE RECORD

The pass from John Detweiler to Chris Rohm which covered 91 yards was a thing of beauty.

Outstanding also in the soccer game was Bob Angstadt and Ben Settles who scored two and one goals, respectively.

TO THE URSINUS FOOTBALL PLAYERS

This Saturday Ursinus closes out its football season with a football game against Juniata. Everybody knows how strong Juniata is, and of course, the comment about Ursinus' chances are that they don't have a chance in the world to win. Well, Big White, let's get out there and show the world that those remarks are all wrong. Everybody knows you guys have the "guts", and the ability, so let's get together and show Juniata that they are not as good as they think they are. Just remember, you have everything to gain and nothing to lose so get together and show the spirit that many underdog Ursinus teams had when they upset teams that everybody thought were just too strong for Ursinus.

Bears Lose to Dutchmen 13 to 7; UC Scores With 91 Yard Pass-Run

The scene in the dressing room of the Ursinus soccer team after the Lehigh game last Wednesday was one of unusual jubilation. And there was good cause for such jubilation—the team had just broken a five game losing streak. On Wednesday the team was different. The forward line, sparked by two goals by right inside Bobby Angstadt worked together as they never have before. Perhaps that teamwork was the key to the whole game. For the first time this year the half-back line worked equally well with both the forwards and the fullbacks. Previously they had to concentrate more on one than the other, but against Lehigh, Spangler, Harrison, and Fulton reached the peak of their performance so far and covered the entire field expertly. The fullbacks, Bobby Schmoeyer and Al Kinloch, played their usual steady game. These two boys deserve special recognition for their play. If the Bears had fullbacks of a lesser calibre, the opposition would unquestionably have many more goals than they have so far this season. Goalie Barry Dempsey, playing behind the fullbacks did very well and made several last minute saves at the end of each of the quarters including one in the last ten seconds of the game which left everyone of the spectators spellbound.

The game, one of the most exciting and best played—from the Ursinus point of view, started off slowly enough with neither team threatening seriously. Suddenly the Bears broke through and Bobby Angstadt walloped one in between the Lehigh goal post. Lehigh took the ball from the center and on the same play scored the tying goal. Once again the game went into a deadlock which neither team could break until the second half.

When the second half opened the Bears came out with the feeling that victory was not far off, but they knew that they would have to work for it. Ben Settles hit for a goal early in the third quarter and put the Bears into the lead once again. This time the Bears were able to hold the one point margin a little longer than the first time, but Lehigh still came back and the score at the beginning of the last quarter, was 2-2. Both teams automatically tightened their defenses as the last twenty-two minutes started. And both did so successfully until Bobby Angstadt broke through the Bear defense. The Game ended 3-2.

The soccer team hopes to continue its winning streak when they play host to Franklin and Marshall this coming Friday.

UC Wins Two as Girls Top Beaver And Gettysburg

On November 12, the girls' varsity hockey team scored their third victory of the season over a hard-fighting Beaver team by the score of 2-1. The Ursinus Belles were given many anxious moments as the alert Beaver team led off in the scoring department with a flick by the center forward. The Belles quickly evened the score with a goal by the left inner, Nancy Kromboltz, and went ahead on a hard drive by the center halfback, Faye Bardman. The second half contained much fast exciting play as both teams had many opportunities to score but fail to capitalize on them, ending the game 2-1 in favor of Ursinus.

The junior varsity game was scoreless when darkness halted further play.

On November 14, the Belles traveled to Gettysburg to win their fourth victory of the season by a score of 6-0. The game was played on a water-soaked field and was characterized by many slips and falls on both sides. Pat Woodbury, standing in inches of mud, did a good job in keeping her footing and clearing the ball away from the Gettysburg line. The highlight of the game was the fall of the injured Alice Irwin from the top of the pile of raincoats on the bench. The scoring was led by the right inner, Susie Wagner, and center forward, Betty Lou Hufnagle, who each tallied for two goals. Left inner, Nancy Kromboltz, and right wing, Ingie Reiniger, both scored to end the game 6-0 for the Belles.

Lehigh Bows to Ursinus 3-2; Bears Break Tie in The 4th

The Bears dropped their fourth straight game on Saturday to the Flying Dutchmen of Lebanon Valley, 13-7, after winning their first two games.

The Lebanon Valley pass defense grabbed down five Ursinus aerials thus sparking the Flying Dutchmen to their third victory as opposed to three defeats.

Lebanon Valley started their first scoring drive late in the second quarter. Quarterback Bill DeLiberty sparked the drive with three completed passes, one to Halfback Irvin LeGay for 16, and two to halfback Les Holstein for 15 and 16 yards, respectively. Venard Magnuson capped the drive by smashing over from the three yard line.

After an exchange of punts, the Bears found themselves deep in their own territory; LeGay intercepted a Bob Famous aerial on the Bears 25 yard line and scampered into the Bears end zone for Lebanon Valley's final score.

Freshman quarterback John Detweiler gave the Bears some spark in the final quarter when he intercepted a pass, and then after an exchange of punts he unleashed a 46 yard pass from his own nine yard line to halfback Chris Rohm, who proceeded to outrun the Flying Dutchmen defenders for the remaining 45 yards to the Lebanon Valley goal line for the lone Bears score. The play covered 91 yards

If you answered "No" to all questions, you obviously smoke Camels—a real cigarette. Only 6 or 7 "No" answers mean you better get onto Camels fast. Fewer than 6 "No's" and it really doesn't matter what you smoke. Anything's good enough!

But if you want a real smoke, make it Camels. Only Camel's exclusive blend of costly tobaccos tastes so rich, smokes so good and mild. No wonder more people today smoke Camels than any other cigarette. How about you?

S. Siemal Speaks at Forum On "Jungle Babies"

On Wednesday, November 13, Mr. Sasha Siemal addressed the Ursinus Forum. Mr. Siemal, of Sunnyside, Pa., who gained world-wide fame as a hunter who speared jaguars in South America, visited the Ursinus campus several years ago and was enthusiastically received. This year his subject was "Capturing Jungle Babies". Last Wednesday night, the campus again enthusiastically welcomed Mr. Siemal and enjoyed the fascinating, picturesque, and unusual lecture given by the well educated hunter.

After demonstrating the use of the spear for hunting wild animals, Mr. Siemal recounted several of his adventures fighting wild tigers with the spear. He explained to us how the animals do not fear the spear as it is readily mistaken by them for a tree branch. Judging from Mr. Siemal's tales, courage, strength, and stamina are definite pre-requisites for spear fighting.

He closed his lecture with films on his travels in South America.

As one might expect, these two people fall in love. The manner in which this triangle is broken up is quite surprising. This play should completely thrill those who go to see it.

The committees of this play and the chairmen of each are: Staging and Lighting, Fred Genter and Jack Day; Program, Diana Vye; Prompter, Ruth Mercer; Makeup, Ann Leger and Marilyn Meeker; and Properties and Publicity, Joan Schaefer.

Reading

Preceding the play, "The Shirkers," selected readings from Cyrano de Bergerac, by Edmund Rostand, will be presented.

American Biographer To Speak at Forum Dec. 11

On December 11, at 8:00 p.m. in Pfahler Hall, the Ursinus Forum will present Mrs. Catherine Drinker Bowen, American biographer.

Mrs. Bowen, born in Haverford, Pennsylvania, is the daughter of the late Henry Sturgis Drinker, former President of Lehigh University. In 1919, she gave up a career in music.

Her first successful book Friends and Fiddlers, is a group of gay, anecdotal essays on the delights of music from an amateur's point of view. Two years later she made her first venture into the field in which she has achieved greatest success—popular biography—with Beloved Friends, the story of the stormy friendship—in-letters between Tchaikowsky and his patroness, Nadeja Von Meck. A recent book was the best-selling Yankee from Olympus, a lively and sympathetic portrait of the Chief Justice, Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr.

On November 15, Mrs. Bowen received the American Philosophical Society's annual Henry M. Phillips Prize. She is the first woman to win the award since its creation in 1888. For further information on Mrs. Bowen and her topic of discussion for the Forum see the December 9 issue of the Weekly.
