F. Glauser New Editor; Begins Duties April 1st

Linda Foard, Associate Editor; Shilton, Nicolai, Rowe, Salwen, LeCato on Staff

At a meeting of the Board of Managers of THE URSINUS WEEKLY held on Wednesday afternoon, March 5, Frederick L. Glauser was elected Editor-in-Chief of THE WEEKLY for the year beginning April 1, 1958.

Dr. Charles D. Mattern, president of the board, presided at the meeting, and Walter W. Montgomery, the present Editor-in-Chief, placed Glauser's name in nomination. Mr. Glauser, who is now the Associate News Editor of the Stuics, and a cheerleader. He is also a member of Delta Mu Sigma Fraternity as well as co-photography editor of the 1959 Ruby. In addition to the above activities, Glauser has been on class committees and a member of the executive committee for the Class of 1959. He is a Junior biology major, and will attend medical school after graduation from Ursinus.

Fred Glauser will succeed Walter W. Montgomery, a member of the senior class who became Editor of The Weekly on April 1, 1957. Montgomery is a psychology major, president of Delta Pi Sigma Fraternity, a member of the Cub and Key Society, on the editorial staff of The Lantern, the president of Alpha Psi Omega, the national dramatic fraternity, member of the Curtain Club, and was chosen to appear in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges for 1958.

Glauser presented his new staff at a second Board of Managers meeting on March 19. His nominations were accepted, and they include: Linda Foard, Associate Editor; Marla Shilton, News Editor; Catherine Nicolai, Associate News Editor; Philip Sterling Rowe, Feature Editor; Jay Salwen, Sports Editor; Jeanne LeCato, Associate Sports Editor. The remaining staff members will be announced in the next edition of The Weekly.

Naval Officer to Visit Campus Tues.

It has been announced that a Naval Officer will visit the campus on Tuesday, March 25th, to provide interested students with information concerning the many varied officer programs available in the Navy. He will be located in Coffee Shop from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

There is no obligation incurred by submitting an application. Obligation commences only after selection (which requires about three months time from date of initial application) after receipt of degree and then only if the applicant so chooses. In addition, the applicant is not exempt from the draft while the application is being processed.

In view of the above, it is strongly suggested for anyone interested in a naval commission in Line, Aviation, Supply, Engineering, etc., apply early. In this way you may be selected or rejected prior to graduation and can make plans accordingly.

You may choose any class you desire within a reasonable period. Classes will convene in June, August, and November for Officer Candidate School at Newport, R. I., and twice monthly for Aviation Officer Candidate School at Pensacola, Fla.

Student-Prof Show Climaxes Campus Chest Drive Mar. 14

On Fri., Mar. 14, the students and administrative members of Ursinus College were treated to a long and mirth provoking Student-Faculty Show. The show climaxed the Campus Chest drive for funds for charities. The original goal had been 1500 dollars but when all the money had been collected, it was found that the drive had fallen two hundred dollars short.

At the Student-Faculty show, the audience was treated to the music of Don Todd, Dave Williams (on the guitar), the Ursinus Quartet, and the Ursinus All-Girl Jug Band. Acts such as a monologue by Ellen Delete, a hula-dance by Barbara Bates, a commercial, and a fashion show by the Girl's Day Study were also applauded warmly by the audience.

The big moments of the show were the student awards to the profs, the auction (with two pies being thrown in Mr. MacMurray's face) and the faculty acts. The faculty half of the show brought down the house as the professors romped unrehearsed and fairy-like across the stage in two numbers—one a psychological play and the other a graceful ballet complete with a

Debaters Defeat Villanova, Mar. 13

On Thursday evening, March 13, the Ursinus Debating teams of Donald Bretzger, Edmond DeLuca (affirmative), and Ellen Delete and Jerrold Bonn (negative), defeated their opponents from Villanova on the question: "Resolved, that membership in a labor organization, as a condition of employment, should be illegal." The affirmative team successfully contended that since union shops are not really necessary for union survival, and since they actually help maintain conditions in which labor racketeering can flourish, the government should do away with them.

The Ursinus negative team was able to show that worker rights are sufficiently safeguarded by the Taft-Hartley Act, and that, therefore, it is foolhardy to provoke labor "obstructionism" by such hostile legislation as the passage of a "Right to Work" law.

Tournament Plans

Final plans have been made for Ursinus participation in the North-East Regional Tau Kappa Alpha Tournament at Rutgers University in New Brunswick, New Jersey, March 27-29. In addition to the above named debaters, Allen Matusow, Jerry Crossley, and Marvin Koff will attend and argue the question: "What can be done to improve the quality of education in our secondary schools and colleges?"

Second "Y" Forum On Art Features Talk on Sculpture

On Wednesday evening, March 19, the "Y" presented Mr. Raphael Sabatini as the lecturer for the second in their series of art seminars. Mr. Sabatini spoke about sculpture, adding that he himself works in all media. He explained and discussed a series of slides which depicted materials and tools used in sculpture and a wide array of examples of the various techniques and media a sculptor may employ in his work.

Mr. Sabatini began by showing the creation and processing of a clay piece, one of the commoner types of sculpture. Two types of clay often used are water and oil. The clay is modeled about a sort of wire or mesh foundation which may be flexible or rigid. The finished original is put through a casting process in which a "negative" in two halves is obtained by surrounding the original with plaster. Many reproductions can be obtained from the cast. Mr. Sabatini explained the importance of casting in protecting the original fragile work by providing a duplicate. Ceramics are pieces which are fired or baked from water clay.

Mr. Sabatini showed several beautiful wood sculptures and described a system whereby the piece is first done in clay. It is then reproduced exactly in hard wood by means of an apparatus with a system of adjustable

EDITORIAL

Last But Not Least

This "swan song" editorial is one of thanks to the editors and staff of THE WEEKLY. Their help was constant, their work diligent, and they gave to their readers an excellent paper.

The editor-in-chief's job was made easier this year by their dedicated work. Our Letters to the Editor column has been present in nearly every issue—proof that the students are interested in their paper and are willing to express opinions—being certain that they will be read.

Except for grumbling and mutterings from the editor-in-chief (which no one paid attention to), the staff worked well together trying to meet deadlines and assignments. The all-important typists never flinched when material was submitted late Sunday night, and the copy readers did their best (true, names were sometimes misspelled, but each member of the staff felt equal anguish with the offended individuals).

Thanks again to all the editors, reporters, typists, copy readers, circulation staff, business staff, and the student body for a most pleasant year of "newspaper work".

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir: It seems to me that for some weeks past your Letters to the Editor writers have been spending a good deal of time scolding each other. For a change, both as a person and a member of the Faculty, I would like to extend my heartiest congratulations to the Senior Class on having presented such a splendid Senior Show. Special commendation and thanks are due to Angie McKey and Bob Gilgore for a sterling job of directing and to every member of the cast, without exception, for spirited and delightful performances. The whole evening was a delight from beginning to end.

Cordially yours, H. Lloyd Jones, Jr. Assistant Professor of English

Dear Mr. Editor: In reference to Mr. Constantine's well-intentioned letter, and speaking for football only, I assume full responsibility for the season.

It was a privilege and a pleasure to work with the self-sacrificing, high caliber type of individual who represents Ursinus on the gridiron, and to have a captain who kept us in many a ball game with his fine all-around play.

While I am sure it was not Mr. Constantine's intent, it seemed to me he gave too little credit to Mr. Wieneke for the very successful wrestling season. With all due respect and credit to the fine athletes comprising the squad, it seems only fitting that the coach of a winning team be given at least a modicum of credit for its success.

Sincerely yours, Ray Gurzynski

Dear Editor: Under the heading—Cultural

Environment — in the Ursinus College Bulletin, the following statement appears: "Students at Ursinus have all the advantages of living in the country, and at the same time they are close enough to New York and Philadelphia to have easy access to such additional opportunities for culture as the symphony orchestra, grand opera, legitimate theatres, museums, lectures, and exhibits."

My objection to this sentence is centered on the phrase "to have easy access." This just is not true! There are many unnecessary obstacles put before the culture-minded student.

The bus service is one of them. Why isn't there a bus into Collegeville on Friday nights later than 9:15? On Saturday nights there are none after 6:15 and on Sundays the last college-bound bus leaves Norristown at 4:30 p.m.

There are two other methods of returning to Collegeville after an evening in Philadelphia. One must either use a taxi or own an automobile.

The taxi fare (two dollars, as compared to the twenty-five cent bus cost) is a little steep for only one or two persons.

Of course, many students own cars, but scholarship holders and those who have self-help jobs—students who, for the main part, want to attend symphonies, operas, and plays—are not allowed such conveniences. These students do not have easy access, as they should, to cultural opportunities in Philadelphia.

Women have cultural late permissions, but what good are they to a scholarship holder? She may not own a car and bus service at night is nil.

So Ursinus students remain isolated in Collegeville, forced to ignore the many fine opportunities available in Philadelphia.

Two Easter Sonnets for Our Times

by Art King

I
What man can live as well as he knows how? If Eastertime requires a special passion, we've missed the mark of things, as miss we must; the mark of Cain is on each human brow and we need pardon in some subtle fashion we cannot understand; for we are dust.

We dare not ask why punishment is borne to the third generation. Let us mourn, knowing that we are comforted; and let us find if truth be in our erring quest for happiness; for often we forget, and mock our wretched frailties with a jest; and darkness falls upon our hearts, as He saw the sky darken over Calvary.

II
Who has the right to be no moralist save him who takes life without questionings? It is the perquisite of guileless trust not to behold the clenched and threatening fist which fate holds poised above the mesh of things. Even faith will seek for truth because it must.

Allured by wants that bite while they entice, we yearn to find our proper sacrifice—oh, not to match Golgotha, but to share as best we can in its abundant pledge. When questioned at the tomb, "He is not there," the angel said; so let us, on the edge of Truth and Future, ponder, looking for the ethical equivalent of war.

In conclusion I suggest that either 'easy access to the symphony orchestra, grand opera, legitimate theatres, museums, lectures, and exhibits' be obtained or that such a misleading statement be taken from the Ursinus Catalog.

Sincerely, Gail E. Ford

Dear Mr. Editor: The Campus Chest Committee would like to thank the staff of The Weekly for the excellent publicity and support which they gave the recent Campus Chest Drive. We would also like to thank all of the campus organizations and the students who gave the drive their support and helped to make it a success. Our special "thank you" goes to Norm Abramson for his fine work on the Student-Faculty Show. Sincerely, Cora Lee Eddy Secretary, Campus Chest Committee

Dear Mr. Editor: We wish to thank Mr. Seabock (the article, "Hands" in The Weekly of 17 March 1958) for at least noticing our worth on (Continued on page 4)

:: WAGO'S CORNER ::

THE FINALE !

With this edition of the Weekly, this marks the final time that Wago's Corner will appear on the Sports Page. I wish to express my thanks to Hub Carpenter and all the other writers that were connected with the Sport Page.

I have just one thing to say to the Student Body. Sports at Ursinus College have degenerated somewhat, but the spirit that has been displayed by the Student Body has completely degenerated. "The Fightin'est College in the East" is no longer Ursinus College. Instead of looking at themselves and seeing just how much they support athletic teams, the students have nothing but complaints, grudges, and other arguments about the different teams. The fact that a team has a losing record means that the coach is no good and the players are not good enough. When is the student body going to realize the fact that the coach, the members of the team and the backing of the student body fit like a hand and a glove. When one part is torn, then the rest of the material falls apart also. Spring sports will be underway when we come back from the spring vacation, and I strongly urge that all, that's everyone, should get out and support the baseball team, the tennis team, and the track team. They need your support and if sports are to succeed at Ursinus College, they will succeed only with your one-hundred percent backing.

The Varsity and Junior Varsity Badminton Teams won their fifth scheduled match of the season Tuesday, March 18, at the University of Pennsylvania. The Varsity won all five of its matches and the JV's took four out of five of its matches.

As reported to the Weekly, all members of the badminton team and Mrs. Shillingford would like to see as many as possible at the closing match of the 1958 season this Tuesday, March 25 with Bryn Mawr. The match will be in the Old Gym at 4:00 p.m. This match will prove to be one of the best of the entire season and is all that stands between the girls having an undefeated season.

The coach and both teams would like to send through the Weekly quick recovery wishes to Liz Wheeler, team captain, who had an emergency appendectomy Wednesday, March 19, at Sacred Heart Hospital, Norristown.

Tennis Outlook Fair; Clinics Held

There were several tennis clinics scheduled this past week. Norm Brammall was supposed to hold a tennis clinic this past Thursday in the new gym; however, the storm postponed this clinic. As far as it is known, this clinic may be held at a later date.

On Saturday, March 22, there was another tennis clinic, held at Haverford College and sponsored by the Professional Coaches of the Middle Atlantic Association. The different coaches present the proper strokes, the different types of serving, and in general, the way to play a winning game. Along with these demonstrations there were movies and also a question period.

It is urged that all students (men or women) who plan to go out for the tennis teams, to get out and practice. The snow interfered a great deal; however, in the new gym there are walls which are properly marked according to the net height and a great deal could be accomplished if one practiced about one hour per day.

As far as the men's team is concerned, there are only four of the starting men back from last year. These are Captain Gene Morita, Art Martella, Bob Gilgor and Ed Clisby. There is a great opportunity for some freshmen to make the team if they can get into shape. The first tennis match is April 21, which leaves less than a month to practice.

Intramural B'ball Won By Curtis I

On March 12, 1958, the undefeated Curtis I Bums met the undefeated Brodbeck II Animals to determine which team would be the winner of the Intramural Basketball League for the season of 1957-58. In a very closely fought battle, the Bums of Curtis defeated the Animals of Brodbeck 49-40.

There was a great deal of tension as the game began. Each team looked quite tense and neither one could gain a sufficient lead. The Bums were playing a 2-1-2 zone defense while the Animals started out playing a zone which they later switched to man to man. The first half was drawing to a close, and with the Bums leading 21-20, Jerry Malick made a driving shot which gave the Bums a 23-20 lead at halftime.

The second half quickly started with Mike Becker making two quick baskets which gave the Bums a seven point lead, and of which they were never headed. Even though the Bums were never able to relax, they were able to maintain the lead to the end of the game.

Belle's Basketball Round-up: Tally 6 Wins and 3 Losses

The girls' varsity basketball team rounded out its season with a record of six wins and three losses. They ended the '58 basketball schedule with a close win over Temple on Wednesday, March 19, 1958. The Belles also defeated Albright on March 7, and Vassar on March 15. They lost to East Stroudsburg on the fourth of the month and to West Chester on the twelfth. The junior varsity team won its games with Albright and West Chester, while the third team also powered West Chester.

Stroudsburg Game

Ursinus' coeds met one of their strongest opponents, East Stroudsburg on our home court. The game was hard-fought and exciting, but East Stroudsburg's excellent shooting prevailed, and they won by a score of 50-43. Co-captain Pat Woodbury led in scoring for Ursinus with twenty-three points, followed by Sue Wagner with nine, Alice Irwin with five and Judy Brinton with four.

The girls drove up to Vassar for the week-end of the fourteenth. Pat Woodbury tallied 28 points to lead Ursinus to a 61-30 victory.

The Temple game rivaled the Beaver game (which Ursinus won 56-50) for closeness and excitement. By tradition Temple, Beaver, West Chester, and E. Stroudsburg are the teams to beat, and this year the Belles "batted 500" by winning the first two. During the first quarter of the Temple contest the lead changed continually. U. C.'s forwards showed good maneuvering and passing but were poor on rebounds. The quarter ended with Temple in the lead 12-11. At half time Ursinus had again gained the lead 27-26. Temple was once more ahead 41-40 as the teams went into the final quarter. The last spurt was very close. Ursinus scored two baskets in the last two minutes and won 53-47.

points which, when adjusted, first to the clay model and then to the piece of wood, guide the artist in reproducing the clay model almost exactly.
A variety of other techniques were showed and explained, among them bronze casting. Bronze pieces are oxidized in processing and take on various colors dependent upon the content of the atmosphere.
Beaten metal such as brass and iron, granite, enamel tiles laid in a clay base, and welded metal pieces were illustrations of the wide range of effects the artist may achieve and the character which different media lend to his work. Two very effective mobiles were shown. These are considered suspended sculpture.

JOB INTERVIEWS

All persons who had registered for the City of Philadelphia Civil Service interviews during February please note that a representative will be on campus in April. Please re-register if an interview is desired.

Mr. Sabatini mentioned the abstraction present in all of the forms shown, emphasizing that in all great works of art there must be some abstraction beneath, wherein lies the aesthetic value of the work.
The last in the series of art seminars will be held next month.

fairly godmother. Tom McCabe of Delta Pi Sigma, was named "Ugly Man" for 1958.

The Prof. Parson's combo caused much foot stomping and clapping as they "raised the roof". Mrs. Rice, in colorful costume, gave a rendition of a European song and Mrs. Doleman and Mrs. Pancoast also drew a well deserved round of applause for their routine.

Everyone present, including the cast, had a good time and found it well worth their while to attend. The Campus Chest, through The Weekly, would like to thank everyone who helped make the drive a success.

BUSINESS CLUB

The newly formed Business Organization Club will meet on Wednesday, March 26, at 8:00 p.m. in room 7, Bomberger Hall. Nominations will be held for 1958-59 officers at this time.

MSGA Reviews Rules and Penalties for Infractions

The MSGA met on March 10, 1958, to consider the rules and regulations which were composed at a previous meeting. Each rule that is to be enforced by the MSGA was considered separately and a minimum penalty suggested for the enforcement thereof. A list of the suggested penalties may be found on the bulletin board in Bomberger Hall.

The duties of the Vice-President were reviewed by the council, and it was decided that a monetary fine be placed on anyone not complying to a subpoena issued by him.
