Queen, Dances, Play Highlight of May Day

The traditional May Day activities, this year to be held on the tenth of May, feature again the Father - Daughter baseball game at 4:15 p.m. The pageant itself, May is Fair Time, written by Barbara Tucker, will be presented at Patterson Field at 2:30 in the afternoon. The story of this year's pageant is of the people who attend the Country Fair—Jake and Jennie, the wickel gambler, the intruding horse, and the many animals and the vegetables which help to complete any fair. The narrators for the pageant are Barbara Pine and Merle Thomas.

Chairman of the Day is Lynn Jewett, president of the WSGA. Gail Sangree has charge of Women's Dormitory Committee who take orders for flowers for the mothers. Becky Francis has charge of the Hospitality Committee who makes sure that the visitors are made to feel at home.

Following the baseball game there will be a buffet supper in Freeland Dining Hall, the charge being $1 per person. The Band will give its annual spring concert in Bomberger at 6:30 p.m. The day will be completed with

Band To Present Spring Concert May Day Week-end

On Saturday, May 10, the Concert Band will present their annual Spring Concert in conjunction with the May Day festivities. The concert will begin at 6:30 in Bomberger Hall.

The program will be quite varied this year. "March 'Granioso'", "Light Cavalry", "In a Persian Market", "Star Dust", and "Fanfare" are a few of the numbers the band will play. There will be a trumpet trio, "The Bugler's Holiday", a clarinet duet by Annabel Evans and Judy Powell, a piano duet by Mary Pennington and Laverne Joseph, and selection by the German Band.

Everyone is invited to attend the concert. The program is planned to allow plenty of time after the concert for people to get to the play by the Curtain Club.

Varsity Club

On Wednesday, April 23, the Varsity Club elected its new officers. The newly-elected President is Tony Cianci, a junior business administration major, who is active on the football team.

The Varsity Club's new secretary is Wally Christ, a junior chemistry major, who is a catcher on the baseball team.

Jim Wenhold, the new treasurer of Club, is a member of the basketball team. Jim is a sophomore chemistry major.

The Ursinus Women's Club is again holding a buffet luncheon in the library beginning at 12:30 for $1.50 per person.

One of the features of May Day is that Little Sisters rise early in the morning to go pick flowers and make a bouquet or corsage for their Big Sisters, just as traditional customs of leaving flowers before someone's door used to be.

Meistersingers' Spring Tour Proves Successful

This year the Meistersingers took their annual Spring Tour April 19-23. Concerts were presented at Chatham, N. J.; Waterbury and New Haven, Conn.; Brooklyn, N. Y., and Cedars, Pa. The group also sang in a public and private school.

The Meistersingers were received warmly in all the communities they visited. Lodging was provided for in private homes. The tour was the most successful the Meistersingers have taken. In New Haven the minister of the church told the group that "you have conquered New Haven on your first tour of New England." Other compliments were also received all along the way.

The group was filled with mixed emotions when they arrived at Ursinus. They were tired physically, but they were happy because of their many successes, and the friends they had made along the way.

A great deal of appreciation and thanks should be given to Dr. Philip, the conductor; Samuel Fogel, the student conductor and business manager; and Conrad Hoover, the president, for the fine job they did in leading the Meistersingers the past year.

The annual banquet, held at the Collegville Inn, Thursday evening, May 1, was a fitting way for the Meistersingers to end a successful year in vocal music at Ursinus.

Debating Club

The results of the Regional Tau Kappa Alpha debating tournament at Rutgers has been received. Marvin Koff, a junior pre-medical student, won first place in the discussion group sessions considering the problems of education. Jerry Crossley and Peter Schultz also participated.

The Ursinus debaters had a combined record of 5 and 7. The negative team of Ellen Delate and Jerry Bonn defeated Rutgers three, and N. Y. U, Emony and Henry College, and lost to Villanova and Fordham. The affirmatives encountered very seasoned opposition and defeated only Rhode Island University while losing to U. of Vermont, George Washington, Columbia, Dartmouth, and Rutgers.

The club will hold its annual luncheon on May 16, at the Collegville Inn.

IRC

On Monday, April 22, the IRC met to discuss the model United Nations Assembly, which took place at Wilkes College from March 30 to April 2. Six members of the IRC representing Iran, attended the conference.

Marilyn Meeker who represented Ursinus at a conference in Washington, told about her experiences there. The forthcoming banquet was also discussed.

French Club

Michel Jacquemine, at present, an announcer for the local radio station, WNAR, addressed the French Club on April 29 at Dr. Garrett's home. The young Frenchman worked as an entertainer in a Persian night club and spoke about both his work and his life in Paris. Also present at the meeting was Stewart Montgomery, a fellow announcer at WNAR.

Men's Student Government Assoc. Elections Held Wednesday, May 7

This Wednesday, May 7, at 12:30 in front of Freeland, Men's Student Government elections for the coming year will be held. Each male student is allowed to vote for as many MSGA candidates as there are representatives in his class. The Class of '59 may vote for four men, while the Classes of '60 and '61 may vote for only three men. The following are a list of those running for office:

Class of '59—Jack Haag, Ted Holcombe, Fred Glauser, Jerry Malick and Jack Schumacher.

Class of '60—Don Watson, Lin Drummond, Ron Shissler and Joe Proscoc.

Class of '61—Fred Bauman, Jim Sandercock, Bob Leonard and Jim Michael.

The MSGA will meet this Tuesday, May 6, to clear up all old business pertaining to the new rules. At this time the preface to the rules will be looked over and discussed. This preface contains the definition of work hours, demerits (permanent and temporary), suspension and expulsion. When this preface is passed, the rules will be complete and will then be issued to all students in booklet form. If this not accomplished this year, it certainly will be a reality by the time next year's freshmen arrive on campus. Along with the new rules, the booklet will contain dormitory regulations, proctor rules, traditions, and automobile registration and parking rules. Everyone will be held responsible for a working knowledge of these laws.

All applications for or proctors may be turned into the MSGA at a time to be specified in the near future. All men interested in applying for this job are urged to do so.

When the new MSGA is elected into office, they will have the duty of picking the proctors, giving out concessions, picking the sophomore men rulers for next year and helping them set up customs. This year's MSGA will bow out with a dinner to be held in the President's Dining Room.

"Conscience on Campus"

At the YM-YWCA Retreat this week-end at Fernbrook a new approach was taken to a very old problem . . . conscience on campus. The most heated discussion concerning conscience on campus dealt with religion, morals, and social standard and their relation to the collegiate social and sex life. This problem is pertinent and the Y discussion groups handled it, not with the kid gloves that is usually applied to it, but with a truthful, direct, open approach that is absolutely necessary. This is the only way in which this problem, or any other, can and must be attacked. Through its discussion groups the Retreat brought into the open what is too often hinted at and whispered about.

The groups discussed the personal and community aspects of boy-girl relationships. The forums included: How much liberty a couple may take before marriage; What going steady and pinning mean and what obligations are associated with them; How a girl evaluates a boy, and vice-versa! and many other pressing topics.

All of this is important to the life of a normal individual during any times, but especially during this age of atomic fallout, insecurity, and ever-changing standards. Our youth of today is uncertain. They have been called the "angry" generation. They should be titled the "frustrated" generation for they receive few answers to their many questions, they know not from where they came nor towards what they are heading. They need something to hang onto; to build upon. And they cannot be given a firm foundation when all they hear is rumors and whispers concerning all important matters. They are in the dark and the only way in which the light can reach them is if their questions are answered directly and honestly.

The Y did this simple feat and when the week-end closed those who had attended the Retreat felt that if they had not accomplished anything tangible, at least they brought to light one of the most important problems facing youth. We would like to congratulate the Y and certainly hope that it carries on in this same manner on the campus as well as off. —Ed.

THE ROAD TO WAR

Bob Sherman

Time: 1958.

Scene: A tavern in the vicinity of Washington, D. C.

Characters: A believer. A somewhat more open-minded passer-by.

Believer: I tell you, Communism is spreading like a cancer over the face of the earth, and, like a cancer, the only way to eliminate it is to kill it or cut it out, even if you have to damage a few healthy cells in the process. Look at how they have maltreated our prisoners of war in Korea. Look at what they did to Hungary. Look at how they have destroyed the church and replaced religion with godlessness.

Agnostic: The last point is the most important, no doubt.

B: Well, it is. I know you're being sarcastic, but nevertheless, it is most important. When you shut out God, you shut out Love, and without Love, Life is not worth living. I know that you, as an unbeliever, think that life on Earth is the absolute beginning and end, and that nothing is worth giving up. On the other hand, since I expect death to be only the beginning, I don't have to live like a worm in fear if it. If necessary, I would sacrifice my life and the lives of others to prevent this evil from spreading across the ocean. Believe me, Kruschew is nobody's fool, and if everyone were like you, we'd all soon be feeling our hearts pound everytime there was a knock on the door. How would you like that?

A: I wouldn't. I don't intend to let it happen. You're confusing your terms: I'm an agnostic, not an atheist; because I don't know what happens after death and have no way of finding out, I see no point in worrying about that bridge before I come to it. Therefore, I live by the particular codes of ethics I have set myself; this includes giving up my life if I am sure the circumstances warrant it. About the Russians' various treacheries, take a good look at United States history; we're not exactly snow-white either. As to love, I love my wife and children enough so that I feel nothing is worth the chance of their being hurt, which is more than I can say for you.

Listen to me! Do you realize that the long-range striking power of any major nation hopelessly exceeds her defense capacities?

B: That's been an accepted fact for more than 5 years.

A: Then what would you have us do, launch an all-out sneak H-warhead missile attack and hope to totally incapacitate them before they can launch anything against us?

B: That seems to be the only way.

A: A despicable move, but if it were practical I might consider it. But don't you see that the minute our first missile is detected, all their offensives might well be launched against us? We can't hope to get all their bases in time.

B: You refer to Khrushchev and the Communists as "evil". When will you learn that there are no such things as evil men, rather, there are merely frightened men? Kruschew is afraid that, if he doesn't take over us, we will take over him. And we would, too, just to prevent him from taking over us. Reverse our positions and you would see no difference. Sure, domestically they are pretty totalitarian, but that's no reason to get all of us killed. It simply becomes a matter of who panics and pushes a button first. If you would just forget your prej . . .

B (looking at his watch): You know, our argument is really quite academic. What I'm going to tell you now has been one of the nation's most closely guarded secrets for the past year, but five minutes ago it was given to the papers—matter of fact, the bulletin just came on the television set over the bar—so it's all right to tell you now. You see, I occupy a high position in the Pentagon.

Three hours ago, every operational heavy bomber and H-warhead missile we had was sent on its way to Russia. By now the enemy shall have been hopelessly . . .

BUT THE BELIEVER DIDN'T FINISH WHAT HE WAS SAYING; BOTH HE AND HIS LISTENER HAD BECOME LITTLE PUFFS OF RADIOACTIVE VAPOR. WITHIN TWELVE HOURS, THE NUMBER OF THOSE WHO HAD JOINED THEM WAS GREATER THAN THE NUMBER OF THOSE WHO REMAINED.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Dr. Mattern:

Re your handing over to your students the task of solving the future problem of over-population in the U.S. with subsequent depletion of cattle stock and, hence, "no more steaks", we are offering a possible solution to the dilemma: Why not begin freezing steaks at once? — millions and millions of them? They could be shipped and stored in strategic areas of the Arctic Circle. Then, in times of dire stress, there they would be!

We have anticipated the question raised by this proposed solution—"What happens in the event of temperature changes and the Arctic's becoming de-frigidized?"—and we feel confident that this would be no catastrophe. On the contrary, if there would be an Arctic Thaw, releasing our reserves, we visualize the great flow of steaks along the US seaboard. The steaks would not only be preserved by the salt in the oceans, but would also be the impetus for the opening up of a new era in sea-cow fishing.

This common-sense solution, we believe, may assume major proportions in the future. And, as it is the first of its kind, we feel safe in stating that though England was dubbed "The Workshop of the World" in the nineteenth century, America will be credited in the twentieth, with making the Arctic "The Meat-loaf of the World".

Logically yours,
Shirley Boyle
Carl Fontaine
Bev Glodfelter

Dear Friend:

Jay Salwen's interesting tableau, "The Road to War" in the Ursinus Weekly, on Monday, April 21, 1958, leaves me with two questions (I'd like to know Jay's real questions!). One, Is there no relevance to the life and action of an individual? Two, Is there no significance in the intellectual search for answers?

Those of us who are religious

Review of A 15 Act Comedy

by Fontaine, Miller & McCabe

In keeping with the fairly high (?) literary standards of the Weekly, the editorial staff will often publish good articles of exceptional news value on the front page rather than in the normal position within the construction of the paper, as directed by their literary classification. This week our special staff of special writers for special material (ah! this day of specialization) has done a write-up on the recent fifteen act comedy, entitled "Rules and Regulations", and presented for the students' pleasure by the MSCA, (Mediocre Students Comical Assembly), (See April 14 issue of the Weekly). This is front page material, but will be placed on the editorial page in hopes that no one reads it. We know that little more than the headlines and cartoons are read these days by our better educated college level citizens, but we have hopes.

A copy of the Programme for the recent presentation was well published on campus, and your special Weekly staff will make comments thereon. We should first mention that each of the fifteen acts enumerated, in order, listed not only the full name of the act, but also the minimum fine for each. The maximum limit was conspicuously omitted, but this has been the keynote of the MSCA for the past year, in which it has shown minimum organization and maximum ineffectiveness.

Although the acts were each listed by name, no explanation was given on the exact content of each, but we will correct this obvious oversight on someone's part, with the exception of those extremely controversial acts upon which any comment would be superfluous, and might end up getting your special committee on special matters an invite to appear in the next MSCA skit entitled "Speak up and forever hold your head — under your arm."

Act 1 (Firewater) Shades of the days of Prohibition. Always a handy thing for snake-bite.

Act 2 (Missiles) Don't throw stones when you live in a glass house. You who are without sin, cast the first stone.

Act 3 (Fireworks) This act will, and already has, gone over with a big bang. Does that include those people who have a habit of blowing their tops?

Act 4 (Fire extinguishers) "But Sir, Bomberger was on fire. . . " Act 5 (Fire arms) A precaution by those who might have fear for their lives, and for good reason.

Act 6 (Animals) An extensive list that should also include fleas, frogs from the bio labs, and some members of the student body.

Act 7 (Destruction) Boys will be boys! Want us to get a hidden complex?

Act 8 (Malicious decorations) A totalitarianistic attempt to squelch artistic endeavor and development in the bud.

Act 9 (Nuisance) Just who will have the final answer as to the accepted definition of "constitutes"? May we hope for Noah Webster, or must we accept a lesser authority . . .

Act 10 (Roofs) "A hot cat . . ." Act 11 & Act 12 (College Bell and Buildings) Insults upon our spotless integrity!

Act 13 (Morality) If we go home and get a leg cut off, does the school send us flowers, best wishes, and a check to cover the hospital bill? I should say not!

If we are home starving, does the college send over some of the excellent food for which the dining hall is noted? Never!

If we have not a pittance to spend on clothing, will the college send over a racoon coat and a Stutz Bearcat? Never in a million years!

BUT, if we should become involved in an indiscretion during vacation, does the college have the power to "extend punishment equivalent to the severity of the offense? So we hear. (Sub-title of this act, "Faulty Reasoning".)

Act 14 (Equal responsibility) Share and share alike.

Act 15 (Peddlers) An outrageous attempt to strangle the economic life of the campus. It will no longer be what you sell, but who you know.

A brighter side of the picture concerning the trial procedure, is that the practices employed violate only a few of the guaranties . . .

:: SPORTS TALK ::

During the two weeks since the last edition of the Weekly many things of note have taken place on the sporting scene. On the individual level Doc Lim has set what is, according to reliable sources, a new school batting record. Against Lehigh and Rutgers of S. J. Doc got seven consecutive hits, an amazing feat in any league. On the girls' side of the sports schedule Carol LeCato finished second in the Middle States Girls' Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament. And it took three sets in the final round before she was finally defeated.

On the team level the Baseball squad deserves special commendation for its all around good play. The batting has been so good that one player walked around campus for three days mumbling something under his breath. As the story gets back to us he could not understand why he was benched because of his batting when he was hitting .450. The fielding and pitching have been almost as good as the hitting which accounts for the fine 7-2 record.

The student body also has put on as fine a showing for its teams as the teams have put on for the student body. Their support of the teams has not only been great numerically but it has also been consistent. The teams which have not been able to win often have not been deprived of the support which they deserve. We would also like to thank the student body for helping to fight down the Frizby menace. Although the trend to Frizby was given some impetus by an Associate Professor of Psychology, there has been no serious threats to the college routine as originally feared.

UC Netmen Drop Matches; F & M, Haverford Victors

On Monday, April 21, Franklin and Marshall tennis squad defeated Ursinus, 6-3. The Bears dropped the decision to F & M netmen last year by a score of 7-2.

No. 1 man—Art Martella looked sharp as he smashed to an easy 6-2, 6-1 victory over Witner. Captain Gene Morita did not fare as well as he succumbed to Merl Clark, 6-0, 6-2. Larry Habgood played a good second set as he won 7-5, but dropped two other sets by a score of 6-2, 6-1. Shel Wagman playing solid tennis fought back gamely in his no. 4 match to win, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3.

At this point the Bears were behind 4-2. Going into the doubles they had numerical chance to win the match. But such was not to be as no. 1 doubles, Martella and Wagman lost 6-3, 6-2 and no. 3 doubles Gilgor and Habgood lost 6-3, 6-3. Morita and Broz took the final victory for UC as they eked out a 1-6, 6-4, 6-2 victory.

Haverford College had little trouble walking off with a 9-0 decision on Saturday, April 26. Art Martella met one of the top men in the east in Bob Pratt and though Art played well he was defeated 6-3, 6-3. Morita played very well also but didn't have enough to overcome Bob Kelly's consistent game as Gene went down to defeat 6-4, 6-4. Broz lost to Fullard, 6-0, 6-0. Gilgor lost to Lederer 6-0, 6-2. Habgood dropped his match 6-1, 6-1 and Rowe, playing last man was defeated 6-0, 6-0.

Women's Tennis Teams Win Opening Matches

Thursday, April 24, the Ursinus Tennis Team opened its 1958 Junior Varsity season with a 4-1 win over Gwynedd Mercy. First singles for Ursinus was Sandy Stevens who won her match against Carole Cook 4-6, 6-3, 6-4. The two players were evenly matched as is evidenced by the length of their match—two hours. Bev Kallenbach represented Ursinus in the second singles slot. Bev's opponent won 6-2, 6-4. Hub Carpenter wrapped up the singles play by a 6-3, 6-1 win. First doubles for Ursinus were Joanne Scholl and Carol Williamson. These girls had an easy victory over Gwynedd Mercy 6-1, 6-0. Tama Williams and Joyce Gilbert rounded out the afternoon with a 6-0, 6-1 victory.

The Women's Varsity Team opens its season Tuesday, April 29, at Rosemont. Both Varsity and Junior Varsity play their second match at home May 1 against West Chester.

On April 29 the varsity tennis team opened its season successfully by defeating Rosemont 4-1. Carol LeCato at first singles won easily 6-2, 6-0, as did Rene Rawcliffe 6-1, 6-0. Both doubles matches went to three sets, and in the middle of the third set they had to be called because of rain.

The next day the team returned to Rosemont to complete the match. Sandy Rinehart and Jeanne LeCato at first doubles dropped their match 2-6, 7-5, 7-5. Carol Williamson and Joanne Scholl proceeded to win

LeCato Takes 2nd In Middle States Girls' Tennis

On April 25, 26, and 27, four Ursinus girls—Carol LeCato, Rene Rawcliffe, Carol Heffelfinger and Jeanne LeCato—participated in the Sixteenth Annual Middle States Intercollegiate Girls' Tennis Championships held at Bryn Mawr. Carol LeCato was seeded third in the tournament.

There were fifteen colleges represented in the tournament, and out of the girls in the quarter-finals, three were from Ursinus. This was quite a distinction for the red, old gold and black.

Carol Heffelfinger easily won her matches in the first two rounds by the scores of 6-1, 6-1, and 6-2, 6-0. In the quarter-finals she was defeated by Adria Fisher, the first seeded player, 6-2, 6-2. Carol played a strong hard game while Adria was very steady and forced her into errors.

Rene Rawcliffe fared as well in the first two rounds defeating her opponents 6-0, 6-0 and 6-1, 6-1. Rene played beautifully and displayed some of the finest tennis of the tournament. In the quarter-finals she met Mary Gulbenkian, the second seeded player, and was defeated 6-3, 6-1. Both girls played a baseline game hitting deep, hard drives into the corners.

Carol LeCato defeated her first two opponents without dropping a game. In the quarter-finals she won easily over Vija Vuskalno 6-2, 6-1. Carol mixed her play in this match scoring points both at the net and from the baseline. In the semi-finals she upset Mary Gulbenkian 6-1, 6-2. On Sunday the finals, because of rain, were held at the indoor courts in Wynnwood. Carol had a lot of support from the twenty-five rooters that went down from Ursinus to cheer her on. Carol's opponent, Adria Fisher, was the first seeded player and had won the tournament last year. She played a very steady game and returned shots that looked impossible to get. Carol won the first set 6-4 after being behind 4-2. Adria seemed to get stronger as the match progressed and won the last two sets 6-1, 6-0. The scores of the last two sets are no indication of the match. The rallies were extremely long, and every game went to duce.

After the match both girls were awarded sterling silver bowls as trophies.

DRIVE CAREFULLY — The life you save may be your own!

Bear Cindermen Drop Four in Row

On April 23, F. & M. defeated a lame Ursinus team. Once again Ken Buggeln watched another track meet, this time accompanied by Vern Morgan and Mark Weand. Bob Peterson, despite a bandaged thigh, captured a second place in the pole vault. Freshman Fred Genter, who placed second and third in the 2 mile and 1 mile respectively, ran the three miles with taped shins.

The brighter side of the picture showed Cal Fox and Lynn Graburn forming a one-two punch in both the 100 and 220 dashes. Jerry Crossley broke the tape in the 440, while Dick Dickerson nosed out Bill Bingham from F. & M. in the 220 LH. Bob Brumfiel high jumped to a first place, and Al Walton's 134' 4" was unmatched in the discus.

One thing the meet showed was the weakness of the field team. In the running events F. & M. outscored U.C. 39-33, but in the field the margin was 38-16.

The Ursinus track team ended the month of April by losing its third consecutive meet to Swarthmore. In breezing to a 99 1/3-25 2/3 victory, the Garnets swept seven events and took first place in five others. The only first places credited to Ursinus were the 220-yd. dash, won by Fox and discus, Walton's specialty. Out of the 25 2/3 points scored by Ursinus, Cal Fox and Al Walton were responsible for 17 1/3. Besides winning the discus, Al placed second in the shot, missing first place by an 3/4 in., third in the javelin, and was in a three way tie for third place in the high jump. In addition to his 220 victory, Cal finished second in the 100-yd. dash.

Softball

The girls' softball team won their first inter-collegiate game of the season on April 21, when they overcame Beaver 15-4. Ursinus excelled in both batting and fielding. There were no home runs but the consistent hitting kept Ursinus on top. The fine pitching of Terry, Jacobs held Beaver's hits to a minimum.

Pancoast Wins 100th As Ursinus Coach, 5-0

Ursinus baseball coach, Sieb Pancoast, wore a broad smile as he entered the Bear dressing room after Ursinus downed Rutgers SJ 5-0 on Saturday, April 26. Not only did this victory bring the win streak to 6 for the Bears, but the coach himself now has a record of 100 victories since he started coaching baseball at Ursinus. The team was conscious of the occasion and helped celebrate the commendable record of their likeable coach by renching him in the showers fully clothed.

In gaining this victory, the Bears did not give pitcher Lin Drummond the high number of runs that pitchers of recent games had received. Lin made the 5 Ursinus runs a comfortable margin as he threw shut-out ball in gaining his second win (2:0); he allowed only two hits. Inky Wagner provided the offensive noise getting 2 hits, one a home run to center and his second of the year. Jim Wenhold also was a thorn in Rutgers' side as he collected 2 hits including a big triple to right center. Doc Lim had a perfect day at the plate for the second straight game when he had 3 hits in 3 trips.

Ursinus pounded out 12 hits at Haverford Wednesday, April 23, to defeat the home club 16-2. Bob Cauffman had 2 hits, one being a triple down the right field line driving in Inky Wagner with the first Ursinus run in the first inning. Wally Christ widened the margin in the fourth when he doubled to right center with the bases filled. The Bears continued to roll up the score with other extra base blows going to Jim Wenhold, a triple, and Ed Savastio, a double. Dick Chern pitched fine ball striking out 8 and allowing 4 hits in the 7 innings he worked. It was his second win. Jack Schumacher made his first mound appearance pitching shut-out ball through the eighth and ninth innings.

The Ursinus bats never cooled off as the Bears drubbed Lehigh 15-4 at Ursinus Thursday, April 24. Everyone but the pitcher hit safely in the 19 hit attack. Bob Cauffman hit safely 3 times out of 5, one being his second triple in 2 days. Bob Famous and Jack Strunk also tripled with Famous driving in 2 runs in the first inning. Doc Lim went four for four and Wally Christ, three for four. Elmer Haigh, who pitched the last 2 innings, got his first hit of the season in the 8th, a double driving in 2 runs. Larry Powell continued the excellent work of the Bear pitching staff fanning 5 and allowing Lehigh but 3 hits in gaining his third win (3-0).

Job Opportunities Are Available

Despite the fewer job opportunities predicted for college students and graduates this summer, there will be more openings for camp counselors in 49 nonsectarian and Protestant camps affiliated with the Federation of Protestant Welfare Agencies, New York City.

Because of the severe personnel shortage that has jeopardized many camping programs for deprived youngsters, the federation has launched a more intensive drive to recruit applicants as far west as Missouri and Illinois for summer work in New York, New Jersey, New Hampshire, Pennsylvania and Connecticut.

The minimum age for the jobs is 19, and college students or graduates are needed who have skills such as swimming, boating, riding, hiking, crafts, dramatics, nature lore and other hobbies that can be taught to boys and girls and teenagers.

Salaries range from $150 to $500 for the approximately nine-weeks season which opens late in June, and board and lodging are provided.

There are openings for married couples as well as individuals if both husband and wife can qualify as counselors.

Previous camp experience is preferred although not required, and many openings have no requirements as to race or religion.

Interested applicants are urged to write the federation at 251 Fourth Avenue, New York 10, N.Y., or telephone SPring 7-4800.

German Club

The German Club met on Wednesday, April 24, to study and learn German folk songs. The possibilities of attending a German movie in Philadelphia and going to another German church service were also discussed.

theirs 5-7, 6-1, 6-2. Carol Heffelfinger finished up the match by defeating her opponent in the third singles slot 6-0, 6-0.

May 1 saw the varsity score their second win of the season—West Chester 5-0. The entire varsity lost only ten games. Carol LeCato won 6-1, 6-1; Rene Rawcliffe 6-1, 6-2; Carol Heffelfinger 6-0, 6-0; Sandy Rinehart and Jeanne LeCato 6-0, 6-1; and Bunny and Gogo Alexander 6-1, 6-3.

The junior varsity fared not so well against West Chester losing 3-2. Sandy Stevens in a long hard match was defeated 3-6, 7-5, 3-6. Bev Kallenbach at second singles lost 6-2, 6-4. Linda Brenner also lost 4-6, 6-1, 6-0. Both of the doubles teams were more successful. Carol Williamson and Joanne Scholl won 6-1, 6-4, and Adele Statzel and Pat Hoehl defeated their opponents by the same score.

May 6 the teams meet their hardest opponent of the season on the home courts. Bryn Mawr looks strong this year, but the outlook for Ursinus is very bright.

pacifists are on the whole convinced of the relevance of the life and action of the individual. We also believe that ideas, on the basis of which men often act, are important. Therefore, we strive to do the best we can and to offer the solution, the limited light we have may show us in situations of difficulty. The trouble (probably) with both A (agnostic and B (believer) is that neither practiced, certainly not an unusual phenomenon.

Wednesday, April 30, Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Miller invited members of the Y to their home for a "work project". About twenty students helped to raise a wisteria tree, weed a garden and reset a flagstone path in the front of the Miller's home. Following this, the group was treated to a delicious Japanese dinner, with some American food on the side. The Y wishes to thank all faculty and students who contributed to the Korean book drive. Friday evening, May 9, the annual dinner dance will be held at Brookside Country Club in Pottstown. Music will be supplied by the Mello-men. The Sisters of Tau Sigma Gamma, as they traditionally do, will hold a picnic in the Poconos at the home of Mary Lou Adam, an alumna, on Sunday, May 11.

The sisters also enjoyed a party at the home of Sis Moyer on Thursday, May 1. Election of officers was held.

Track . . .

The doubles were no different as Martella and Morita lost 6-2, 6-2; Broz and Gilgor were felled 6-1, 6-3; and Habgood and Rowe were defeated 6-2, 6-0. Final score—Haverford 9—Ursinus 0.

In its first and last triangular meet of the season Ursinus found itself left in the dust. The long trip to Lewisburg netted the UC cindermen only 25½ points, while Albright had 42, and Bucknell 86½. The 220-yd. dash was the only first place won by the Bears as Cal Fox ran the distance in 24 sec. The rainy weather must have affected Walton's performance, since Al was not able to beat Francis of Albright, who won the discus with a mark of 113 ft. 2 3/8 in. One of the few gratifying aspects of the meet was the fact that Vern Morgan, competing for the first time since April 19, took a second place in the mile run.

Chem. Society

The Beardwood Chemical Society will conclude this year with its annual dinner meeting on Monday, May 5. It will be held at Moorehead's Restaurant, Trappe, at 6 o'clock. The turkey dinner will cost $2.50 and should be paid to any of the officers before May 5.

Elections for next year's officers was held on Thursday, May 1. The results will be announced at the dinner. One more trip is also planned for this semester. It will be announced in the near future.
