Haag Prexy of Men's Student Government

On Wednesday, May 14, the men of Ursinus College elected the officers for next year's Men's Student Government Association. The final tabulations showed the president to be Jack Haag; vice-president, Lin Drummond; secretary-treasurer, Jim Michael. These men will lead the Council until the end of this school year and for the next two semesters.

Jack Haag is an economics major, serving his second term on the Men's Student Council. Jack pitches for the Ursinus nine and is also a member of Sigma Rho Lambda fraternity.

Lin Drummond is a chemistry major, a pitcher on the baseball squad, a member of the chemistry society, and an active member of his class. Lin was secretary-treasurer of this year's MSGA and is a member of Sigma Rho Lambda fraternity.

Jim Michael is a business administration major and is serving his first term on the council. Jim is an active member of his class and a brother of Sigma Rho Lambda fraternity.

At the last meeting of this year's council, a trial was held. The defendants were charged with violating rule 12 of the Men's Student Government Code. Both defendants were found guilty and sentenced to two hours in Curtis and Brodbeck to be completed before May 24. In this trial a new procedure was employed. Both the defendant and the accuser sat in on the trial at the same time. In this way both sides could hear what each was saying and be able to understand the proceedings better. This system also saves time in that there is no going over the same information. The system is still on a trial basis and will be employed in future trials until it proves to be an asset.

The new Men's Student Government was sworn in by the outgoing president Fred Glauser. Before this, Mr. Glauser brought up a motion to do away with the present Customs program and put an entirely new system in its place. He explained what could be done i.e. have a positive instead of negative program. This would involve competitive sports between frosh and sophomores; programs designed to have frosh work together... step shows, football cheering squads, etc. Mr. Glauser also pointed out that the faculty would be a hundred per cent behind the Council in their re-vamping procedures. After more discussion the question was called for. The vote showed the motion was passed by unanimous decision. Anyone interested in obtaining information concerning the details of this meeting or any other MSGA meeting should consult the bulletin board in Bamberger.

This revision of Customs will begin immediately and the program will carry on through the summer. A number of professors have volunteered their help and any other prof who would like to collaborate with the council is welcome. All students are urged to bring ideas to their MSGA representative. Anyone is invited to meetings.

Applications for proctor's jobs for next year must be turned in to Jack Haag or Dean Pancoast before Sunday night, May 25. Concessions for next year will also be chosen in the near future.

Fred Glauser asked permission of the Council to use the remaining funds in the treasury for rules and regulations booklets to be distributed to all students at the beginning of the Fall term. Permission was granted.

Annual Banquet Held By Varsity Club Tues., May 13

On Tuesday evening, May 13, the Varsity Club held its annual banquet in Freeland's upstairs dining hall. The guest speaker was Mr. Donald Yonker, soccer coach at Drexel Institute of Technology.

One of the highlights of the affair was the presentation of awards to senior Varsity Club members. Football Captain Bob Famous, top award winner, received the Thompson Memorial Award for the outstanding senior athlete and the most valuable football player award.

The winner of the most valuable soccer player award was Ken Grundy, who captained the team. Jim Wenhold was the recipient of the most valuable basketball player award. The award for the most valuable wrestler was presented to Jack Prutzman, captain of the wrestling team. Art Martella received the most valuable tennis player award.

Ken Buggeln, though unable to run on the track team because of an injury, received the award for the most valuable member of the track team. Ken greatly aided the team by coaching, timing, and managing it.

The most valuable baseball player award is to be presented at a later date because the baseball season has not been completed.

After the presentation of the awards, the banquet guests enjoyed movies of the Pan-American games.

Seniors Feted At Annual Banquet

The annual banquet for the seniors of Ursinus was held on Thursday evening, May 15, in the Upper Dining Room of Freeland Hall.

President of the college, Dr. Norman E. McClure, gave the keynote address. Dr. McClure pointed out that though a person may change his name, his job, or perhaps even his citizenship, he will never be able to change his undergraduate college. Thus a graduate of Ursinus is always a representative of Ursinus, whatever he may do upon graduation.

Also present at the banquet was Mr. Paul Guest, an Ursinus graduate of 1938, who is the president of the Alumni Association. Mr. Guest told of some of the activities of the association, such as the spring dinner dance which is held for alumni in the Philadelphia area, the class reunions, the work of the association in Old Timer's Day, and the organization of Alumni Day in June.

Executive secretary of the Alumni Association, introduced the permanent class officers who are as follows: president, Hal Redden; secretary, Gayle Livingston; reunion chairman, John Idler; Loyalty Fund chairman, Ken Grundy.

Toastmaster for the evening was Mr. Ray Gurzynski. Some of the alumni in attendance were Miss Blanche Schultz, Mr. G. Sieber Pancoast and Miss Agnes Donahue.

BETA SIG

At their annual dinner dance on Friday, May 16, the Brothers of Beta Sigma Lambda fraternity were proud to announce their new officers.

They are: president, Jack Phillips; vice president, Bernie Brown; treas., R. Shippee; recording secretary, Bruce Birch; corresponding secretary, Bruce Drobynyk; chaplain, Bill Gottschall.

The brothers wish these men the best of luck in their new duties which will start this week.

Special Editorial

"Customs"

Last Monday in the WEEKLY an editorial appeared calling for a complete revamping of customs. Practically before the paper was off the press the suggestion in the editorial had become a reality. On Wednesday of last week the Men's Student Government met and after a discussion lasting more than a half hour decided to throw out Ursinus' version of customs and called for a positive, not a negative, program. This the representatives realized would take time and a motion was made and passed to have a committee work on this program over the summer. A number of professors approached the president of the MSGA and volunteered to help the council in their project. At this time (after the motion ridding Ursinus of its archaic customs program and not before), it was discovered that a number of months ago the faculty had suggested that customs in their present form be discontinued. Both the faculty and Men's Student Government reached their decisions independent of each other. Surely this indicates that now is the time for a change... and not a slight change but a radical and complete change.

Any upperclassman who has witnessed customs for the past number of years and has taken any interest in the problem will realize that the council is absolutely right in their decision. Customs must be radically altered. A gradual or slight change is impossible. This has been tried in the past four years and each time nothing has been accomplished. Before the end of the custom period things have slipped back into their old, worn rut. Alteration is not the cure... a new system is.

It has been advanced that next year's sophomore class will not take kindly to this change, for they will lose their position of dominance. This will not be the case, for the sophomores will still have their rulers but instead of instilling hate and anger in the incoming freshmen they will command respect and admiration. This is what we are trying to achieve... a positive approach to customs. Sophomores will still be an integral part of customs but in a new capacity. A capacity that requires maturity, rationality, and leadership instead of a loud voice and a large frame.

But whether the sophomores accept this new program or not it will be realized. The Men's Student Government has the power to enforce the program. They will accomplish it with or without the help of next year's sophomores. The council hopes that the class will back them up and cooperate with them in a mature fashion for it will be to the advantage of both groups and the incoming freshmen if this is done. Before you let your emotions run away with you, consider what has been said above and what will be said to you in the future.

Dr. Cooke Speaks on Mental Difficulties of Our Children

Wednesday evening, May 14, Rev. Thomas Cooke, Chaplain of the Youth Study Center in Philadelphia, spoke on "The Mental and Emotional Problems of Children". The program was presented by the Social Responsibilities Commission of the YM-YWCA.

Most of the children who are committed to the Youth Study Center have emotional problems. At the center the problems of retarded and psychotic child are dealt with by committing the child to the center's full program—that of engaging, both the minds and bodies of the chil-

ren. The center is supposedly responsible for those who are awaiting trial, but because of the lack of mental institutions and corrective institutions, there are many in the center who have already been committed to these institutions, but these institutions are too full to receive the children. An example of this problem of over-crowdedness is the Pennhurst School, where there is a seventeen year waiting list. With the present facilities which are available in Pennsylvania at this time, it is impossible to procure psychiatric treatment for children except if they are extreme cases.

The center tries to meet the emotional needs of children; it tries to give recognition and identity to the child. This lack of identity in the children is the biggest problem to overcome. It is found that those children who have been affiliated with the Scouts and Settlement Centers

Ottenberg Speaks On the Problems Of Skid Rowers

Dr. Ottenberg, a member of the Philadelphia Tuberculosis Association, addressed a combined meeting of the Pre-Med Society and students of sociology and psychology classes last Monday evening in S12. Dr. Ottenberg's talk was based on his medical experiences with skid rowers. Dr. Ottenberg reviewed the possible reasons for the existence of skid row and, consequently, skid rowers and also tried to explain the role that society should play in ridding its cities of skid row areas with the possible establishment of decent housing and living conditions for the incorrigible skid rowers. It was pointed out that the majority of residents of cities such as Philadelphia are unaware of the types of people who inhabit skid row. Of course, to make any conclusive studies, either medical or social, of these people is hard due to their relative anonymity an transitoriness.

Skid rowers are always on the move, constantly going from one area to another although remaining in the same city. This transient mode of life greatly hampers doctors who try to increase the quality of medical care in those particular areas.

Dr. Ottenberg mentioned that after he had made several chest x-rays (even that was accomplished with difficulty) it was practically impossible to locate

IT COULD HAPPEN!

News from other colleges and our views.

From the Wesleyan Argus, Middletown, Conn.: You think Miami University has it easy? It seems that at Wesleyan, a course on fishing (this, of course, includes the highly intricate and complex aspects of casting and fly-tying) is being offered. Already enrollment for the 3 credit course exceeds sixty wet students. Because of the success of the fishing course this year, an "outdoor education skills" will also be added next year. If this keeps up they'll soon be giving courses on "How to turn a steering-wheel on a car that doesn't have power steering", and an extremely rough course on, "The proper attire to wear when you attend a cannibal dinner (provided you are not the meal)".

From the Skidmore News, Skidmore College, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.: Some people complain about the rules governing cars at Ursinus. Well let them take heed. At Skidmore it seems that not only do cars come under regulations, but also bicycles. The regulations are so strict that beside registering your bike with the police you are not allowed to lend it to anyone else. There are also certain places where a bike may not be parked or a fine will result. What is the world coming to? They'll probably amend the law and add that no necking is allowed on bikes; bikes must be inspected every fourth month; mufflers are not allowed; and any persons found "digging out" and "dragging" are liable to a fine and a jail term.

From the Hofstra Chronicle, Hofstra College, Hempstead, N.Y.: At this college when a student wishes to run for a class office he can do so in one of two ways: (1) he can run as an independent or (2) he can join a political party. One of these parties has the honorable name of POGO. What's wrong with POGO, you ask me. Nothing, it's a great comic strip. But as far as a name for a political party goes, it's terrible. Why, can you imagine what could happen? Before long names such as SMLIN' JACK, DONDI, TERRY AND THE PIRATES, and SAD SACK, will be applied to the different parties. Can you picture a party with the name ALFRED E. NEWMAN, alias MAD?

Tennis Team Picks Up First Two Wins; Loses Close Tilt

On Monday, May 12, the Ursinus tennis team fought for four hours before coming away with a hard-won 5-4 decision over Moravian College.

On Wednesday, May 14, LaSalle's Explorers invaded the Ursinus campus and eked out a rapidly won 5-4 victory.

Art Martella played well but didn't have enough to overcome a top-flight Al Gruber. Art lost a tough one 6-3, 7-5. Gene Morita played a virtual wall and lost his match 6-3, 6-3.

Coach Sid Quinn attempted to win the match by teaming Gilgor and Martella as number one doubles, Morita and Broz as number two and Wagman and Habgood as number three.

The Varsity match against Drexel on May 15 was rained out. On May 12 the Junior Varsity had a nerve racking match with Swarthmore as the Varsity had done.

On May 14 the Junior Varsity played Bryn Mawr, but the results were not so favorable. They lost 4-1, with Linda Brenner bringing home the only victory.

The final tennis match of the season is May 20 with Penn. away. After the match the teams will be entertained at a picnic dinner at the home of Carol LeCato.

matches. Art Martella, playing first singles, smothered Himmel 6-3, 6-1. Art's new service proved very effective in his win. Gene Morita followed Martella in fine style as he took Savitsky in two sets 6-3, 6-2. Shell Wagman had a bit harder time of it than the number one and two men, but finally defeated Bleifer 4-6, 7-5, 6-3. Boros Broz then smothered Thomas 6-3, 6-0, and Larry Habgood eked out a three set victory 6-3, 4-6, 6-2, while Phil Rowe completed the Bear sweep of the singles matches with a 6-1, 6-4 victory over Henningham.

In the doubles matches the Ursinus team did not fare as well. Martella and Morita kept the winning ways going through the first doubles when they defeated Savitsky and Ginader 6-2, 6-0. Broz and Habgood were not so fortunate as they lost to Thomas and Himmel 5-7, 8-6, 6-1. Rowe and Levitt were unable to pull the team back to its winning ways as they lost the final doubles match to Bleifer and Henningham 6-0, 6-3.

The Tennis Teams record now stands at two wins with three losses, and it has three matches and two cancellations left to be played. This week the team will play host to Albright on Thursday and Elizabethtown on Saturday.

Recently I have noticed my professors have been against me also. They pick on me and have been giving me bad marks. It's all their fault. It's everyone's fault . . . not mine.

are usually never at the center. The center is not a correctional institution, but it does try to do what it can in the short time it has to help the children. However, unless there is sufficient time to work with a child, the defense mechanisms of the child are not broken down. Therapy per se is not given in the program of the center. Of course, the drawback to all work is the fact that there is not enough time to carry out an effective, full scale program of correction.

In helping the children become aware of others, the interesting technique of "role reversal" is used where the adult will take the role of the boy or girl and one of the children will take the role of a supervisor. The "role boy" will hurl at the "role supervisor" all his gripes and complaints. The identification brought about by this method is usually the first contact the child has had with empathy or sympathy. Moreover, these units more often remember at later times the problems which the supervisor faces. In many instances, the units into which the children are divided are valuable for the protection they give to a weaker member.

Rev. Cooke pointed out that only 2.7% of the children in Philadelphia are delinquent and that many more than this percentage actually reside in the "asphalt jungle."

As chaplain of the center, Rev. Cooke is in charge of a religious program which is administratively recognized simply on the principle that religion is basic to security. Quite naturally the goals of the religious and of the social worker are different in their counselling. The goal of the religious worker is to help the children to internalize and integrate religious knowledge. There is a case of a fourteen year old boy who has a perfect Sunday School attendance record for thirteen years, and yet he is at the center. Why? Because he has not learned to internalize his moral religious values.

The court has just announced that now no mentally retarded children are to be judged delinquent. But the problem is now one of what to do with these children. There are not enough institutions to care for them, so as a result these children are sent back to their homes or allowed to wander the streets.

Of the children that the center handles, 60% of them are never brought in again. Of the 40% who return, many of them are truants or vagrants and not hardened delinquents. Many parents bring in their children for the center to handle if they feel that their children are incorrigible.

The biggest aid to combatting the juvenile problem is an alert and conscientious public, interested in providing enough facilities and centers to care for these children to give them identity.

PHI ALPHA PSI

On Thursday, May 8, and Wednesday, May 14, Phi Alpha Psi held election of officers for the coming year. Those elected were Nancy Owen, president; Kathy Scheffley, vice-president; Mary Pennington, recording secretary; Helen Baile, corresponding secretary; Marty Paxson, chaplain; and Millie Hartzell, sentinel.

Friday, May 15, Phi Psi held its annual Dinner Dance at the Phoenixville Country Club, Phoenixville. The music for the evening was provided by the Mello Men. We were pleased to welcome Mrs. G. Sieber Pancoast as our new sponsor. And is a special pleasure to have with us Mrs. Louis A. Krug, the former Marjorie Shaffer, president of Phi Alpha Psi in 1938. We hope to see more of Mrs. Krug in the future.

The sisters of Phi Alpha Psi would like to extend their much overdue but warmest best wishes to Faye Bardman on her pinnning to Bill Delany, a member of Apes Fraternity. Also best wishes to Lolly Strasser on her recent engagement to Ray Hamilton, Class of '57 and present graduate student at Temple University.

CHI ALPHA

At the Chi Alpha meeting on Monday, May 12, Dr. Walter Wiest, professor of theology at Western Theological Seminary, presented a discussion of Revelation vs. Reason. In Dr. Wiest's opinion, the conflict between the Christian and the Naturalistic philosopher is a "battle of the blinks." A blink, he explained, is the field of reference through which a person interprets his world. The Naturalist sees his world in the objective blink of facts and reason, while the Christian must allow his personal faith and revelation to help him interpret.

Officers for the 1958-59 year are: Moderator, Bill McQuoid; Vice moderator, Laverne Joseph; Secretary, Annabel Evans and Treasurer, Irv Moore.

the men whose positive x-rays indicated that tuberculosis was present; the men seemed to have vanished. However, these people should not be forgotten or ignored merely because they do not seem to respond to good care, but should be helped to become integrated with the "outside" world through half-way houses or settlement houses whereby the men are exposed to people other than skid rowers and are encouraged and counseled to lead better lives. Dr. Ottenberg believes that many skid rowers, if reached, could be lifted out of that environment.

LANTERN

In the last issue of the Weekly reporters from the Lantern made some errors and omissions in reporting on the staff of the Lantern. Robert Quinn was the manager of the business staff for this year. He is graduating this year, together with H. Clark Minter, the other member of the business staff whom we are losing. We also neglected to mention Walter W. Montgomery and Allen Matusow, graduating members of the editorial board. They have, one and all, done a fine job for our campus magazine. Jack Haag will not become Business Manager of the Lantern for the 1958-59 academic year. He has had to decline this position because of conflicting activities in other areas. The business staff next year will consist of Lew Dryfoos and Burt Pearl. More qualified persons are needed to work on this staff. Anyone interested contact the Lantern.

ATTENTION

Attention all students. All students interested are requested to meet either at the piano in Bomberger on Saturday or sign up. If you cannot make the meeting have one of your friends. If this is impossible kindly try to get word to us somehow. It is imperative that you do this for we must know how many are coming so we can make seating arrangements. All in all we expect to have a good time and urge you to join. The activities of the organization are varied and interesting. Besides what we did last year we will do more and different things this year. All our members agree that Winston tastes good like a cigarette should. However, we are not sure. We hope to see you at the next meeting if possible. We are a small group at the present but we wish to expand and become an integral part of life at UC. For information contact us.
