Visiting Group to Complete U. C. Evaluation This Week

Beginning today and continuing through Wednesday, February 20, Ursinus College is to be visited by an evaluation team consisting of teachers and administrative officers from a number of the collegiate institutions comprising the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Ursinus has requested that its present "approved" status be reaffirmed by the association. This visit represents the final stage in a program of evaluation of the college. For the past eighteen months, the college's faculty and administration have been engaged in a thorough "self-evaluation" of all phases of the college's program.

Now that this study has been completed and a very elaborate report prepared, the Middle States Association has been requested by Dr. Norman E. McClure, the president of the college, to send a team of administrators and teachers to the Ursinus campus.

The college has been notified that John C. Adams, Ph.D., the president of Hofstra College, Hempstead, New York, will be the chairman of the visiting group. Dr. Adams, who studied at Cornell University and King's College, Cambridge, formerly taught at both Syracuse University and Cornell University; he is the author of The Globe Playhouse (1942).

The other members of the evaluation team will be as follows: Joseph J. Romoda, Ph.D., formerly a member of the faculty at Syracuse University and now the dean of St. Lawrence University in Canton, New York; Willard G. Smith, Ph.D., the treasurer and business manager of Houghton College, Houghton, New York; Paul Hugh Emmett, Ph.D., who was a division engineer in the "Manhattan Project" (1943-1944), was the recipient of the Pittsburgh Award of the American Chemical Society in 1953, and is now professor of chemistry at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Maryland; Lucius Rogers Shero, Ph.D., Rhodes Scholar from Wisconsin to Oxford University in 1917 and since 1928; professor of Greek at Swarthmore College, Swarthmore, Pennsylvania; Lester Fremen Johnson, M.S., formerly the headmaster of York Collegiate Institute and at present deputy superintendent in the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania; Miss Helen Hagger, B.S., M.S., in L.S., who holds degrees in library science from both Syracuse University and the University of Illinois.

The team members will confer individually with members of the college staff and of the student body; they will review thoroughly the objectives of Ursinus College and the means employed by the college in the achievement of these ends. At the conclusion of its study, the visiting group will give a candid report of its findings. Word as to the re-accreditation of Ursinus College will be given out by the Middle States Association in several months.

During its stay at Ursinus, the evaluation team will use the faculty room of the library as its office.

Twenty Students Enter at Mid-Year

According to the office of the director of admissions of Ursinus College, twenty persons were either admitted or re-admitted to the college as students at the beginning of the present semester.

The following is a list of the names of those who were admitted or re-admitted (a dagger placed after a name signifies admission as a special student or admission to a class other than the Freshman Class): John Bobb, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; Malcolm Borff, Hackensack, New Jersey; Alan W. Brown, Sellersville, Pennsylvania; Edward F. Costello, Bridgeport, Pennsylvania; Bruce Cuthbert, Harleysville, Pennsylvania; Barbara Flaherty, Pottstown, Pennsylvania; Richard Heist, Collegeville, Pennsylvania; Alan Hill, Norristown, Pennsylvania; (Mrs.) Lorraine Raidman Kilpatrick, Norristown, Pennsylvania; Joseph F. Martini, Bristol, Pennsylvania; Elise Moennig, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; Stephen Lee Nichols, Easton, Pennsylvania; Warren Theodore Nielson, Toms River, New Jersey; Jon Paul Nunemaker, Downingtown, Pennsylvania; (Mrs.) Natalie Ottinger, Kimberton, Pennsylvania; Kenneth D. Poplack, Phoenixville, Pennsylvania; William D. Seasholtz, Perkiomenville, Pennsylvania; J. William Shinehouse, Phoenixville, Pennsylvania; James Turek, Pottstown, Pennsylvania; Joseph Wear, Cambridge, Maryland.

Complaints concerning smoking in the dining halls were registered. It was noted that smoking in the dining halls is not only illegal, but also dangerous. Voting procedures for MSGA elections were discussed, and it was suggested that a voting machine be used, that a system of dormitory voting be instituted, and that the period for casting ballots be extended.

The problem of inadequate heat in the men's "on campus" dormitories and of the poor condition of the parking lot at the rear of the library were discussed. A suggestion that washing machines be made available to the student body will be studied.

Suggestions concerning the posting of agendas for meetings of the council and the more advantageous use of the bulletin boards and the dining hall "PA system" will also receive careful study.

Orin Houser has been appointed a proctor for Brodbeck Hall.

W.F. Speilman, Member of UC Maintenance Staff, Dies

Mr. William F. Speilman (age, 71 years), an employee of the maintenance department of Ursinus College since 1940, died on February 2 after an illness of more than a month. Before coming to Ursinus, Mr. Speilman had been employed in Pottstown.

Mr. Speilman, who was a member of Emmanuel Lutheran Church in Pottstown, is survived by his wife, Mrs. Estella Rahn Speilman of Collegeville, and his daughter, Mrs. Helen Speilman Swartz of near Pottstown.

"Y" Association To Hear Refugees

Two Hungarian refugees, Francis and Valeria Csaboth will speak to an association meeting of the YM-YWCA in Bomberger Chapel at 7:00 on Wednesday evening, February 20. Accompanied by Udiko Salamon, the Csaboths will discuss the Hungarian crisis from a citizen's viewpoint.

Francis Csaboth is a graduate of the University of Budapest and is now employed at the Cochran Corporation in Philadelphia. His sister, Valeria Csaboth is a senior at Norristown High School and plans to pursue a career in medicine.

Presently living in Norristown, the Csaboths were sponsored by the Trinity Evangelical and Reformed Church in Norristown when they came from Sombatheil, twenty-five miles from the Austrian border, in December, 1956.

Udiko Salamon, who will interpret for the Csaboths, came to the United States in 1949 as a displaced person after spending five years in a DP camp in Germany.

Senate Decides on WSGA Revisions

On Monday, February 11, a special committee of the WSGA senate, chaired by Lynn Jewett, vice-president, decided on the government of the new women's dorms. The large number of women to be housed in the three-part building has made it necessary to make some revisions in the government system.

In their first meeting this committee of ten, representing all classes and elected by the Senate, decided that there would be a president elected in each of the three new dorms. In the sections, housing seventy-two, one hundred, and seventy-two girls respectively, there will be three house chairmen, one elected from each floor, who will take charge of floor meetings. Each dorm will have a secretary and treasurer.

This revision of dorm government will effect the membership in the women's senate and the judiciary board. A senator will be chosen from each dorm from among the three house chairmen by these girls themselves. The respective presidents will be the representatives to the judiciary board just as they are under the present system. The senate and judiciary board would then be diminished in membership. There are no plans to change the council, which is at present made up of the student government officers, class and day study representatives, and the chairman of the hall presidents board.

Frosh Women's Representatives Chosen; To be Installed on Color Day, Thursday

On Friday, February 15, 1957, a meeting of all freshman women under the direction of the Central Nominating Committee of the WSGA Council was held in Bomberger. The freshman representatives to the Women's Athletic Association, the Women's Student Government Association Council, and the Young Women's Christian Association were elected.

WAA Representative
Chosen to represent her class in the WAA was Jeanne LeCato. In high school, she was captain of her hockey team, played tennis and served as co-captain of the basketball team. At Ursinus, she plays hockey and badminton. She was also in charge of the Christmas banquet decorations for the Freshman Class.

WSGA Representative
Gail Snyder is the newly-elected Freshman representative to the WSGA. Active in sports, Miss Snyder played hockey, softball, basketball and tennis throughout her high school life. She was vice-president and student director of the band and a member of the yearbook staff; she plays in the band at Ursinus

St. John Terrell Addresses Forum on Drama History

On Wednesday, February 13, at 8:00 p.m., St. John Terrell, the noted theatrical entrepreneur, spoke on the topic, "A New Theatre from the Old." This was the first program of the Ursinus Forum for the second term.

Dr. Calvin D. Yost introduced the speaker. Mr. Terrell first gave the audience an idea of the development of the theatre. He made special mention of the use of an arena-type theatre to stimulate audience interest, an idea which he has successfully incorporated in his "music circuses" throughout the country.

Mr. Terrell said that primitive man performed ritual dances, and that these dances, along with early attempts at acting, took place in the center of a circle so that each member of the tribe could keep an eye on his enemy. Mr. Terrell then told of the influences of Egypt, Greece and Rome on the present theatre.

The speaker covered fully the rise of the theatre at the close of the Dark Ages from the strolling players and the Miracle Play to England's theatrical glory in the time of Elizabeth I. The Elizabethan actors eventually 'settled down' to form their own permanent theatres—intimate theatres in the form of a semicircle. These theatres, especially William Shakespeare's Globe Theatre in London, were efficiently run and represented a high spot in the history of the theatre and of acting itself.

Theatrical terms such as "off the nut," "box seat," "orchestra pit," and "stall," were shown to have had their origin in this period.

Since that time, continued Mr. Terrell, the theatre has gone downhill and has been crowded out, to some extent, by the motion picture and television. He said, however, that the theatre will never completely die, because people always enjoy an experience better in a large group—a situation that television cannot always produce.

After speaking about his early attempts to form a "music circus" while stationed with the U. S. Army in Manila, and his early experiences with the Lambertville Music Circus, Mr. Terrell answered questions asked by members of the audience.

Peirce-Pauli Engagement

and is a member of the basketball team.

YWCA Representative
Marla Shilton was elected Freshman representative to the YWCA. In high school, she was a representative to the National Association of Student Councils, senior class secretary, associate editor of the yearbook, and salutatorian of her class. At Ursinus, she is the secretary of the Canterbury Club, and a member of the color guard and the news staff of The Ursinus Weekly.

Color Day
The freshman women of Ursinus College will officially receive their "colors" on Thursday, February 21, at 4:30 p.m. at the program in the chapel of Bomberger.

Observance of Color Day was begun during the deanship of Dr. Elizabeth B. White. Color Day is a traditional ceremony, at which time the meaning and significance of the college colors—red, old gold, and black—are explained. Freshmen representatives to the student government organization, the YWCA, and the WAA will then be given their charges by the presidents of those organizations.

All freshmen women are required to attend.

Dave Burger Made 'King' of Annual Lorelei, Fri., Feb. 15

On Friday, February 15, Sunnybrook Ball room was the scene of the annual Lorelei, presented by the Interfraternity - Inter-sorority Councils and the Student Government. The music of Ben Napier's band filled the huge ballroom, drowning the din caused by the many couples that attended the affair.

The big moment of the evening was the crowning of the "King" of the Lorelei. MSGA President Bill Rheiner introduced Mrs. G. Sieber Pancoast who, in the absence of Mrs. Donald L. Helfferich, crowned David Burger, "King of the Lorelei."

Selective Service Rules Published By Administration

The college administration has requested The Ursinus Weekly to publish the following information concerning the Selective Service College Qualifications Test and the Selective Service Regulations.

Students who are eligible for the draft and who have not yet taken the College Qualification Test should arrange to do so when it is next administered—on Thursday, April 19, 1957. An application to take the test must be filed with the student's own local Selective Service Board before Tuesday, March 5, 1957.

The following regulations pertain to students who wish to qualify for deferment under law:

(1) Each student who is eligible for the draft is to notify the office of the dean of the college of his Selective Service Board. (This should be done when he attains his eighteenth year and registers for the draft.)

(2) Each student who is eligible for the draft is entitled statutory deferment for one year (Class I-S).

(3) Second, third and fourth year students who are eligible for the draft may claim further deferment (Class II-S) if they have fulfilled the following conditions:

(a) made grades in their college work which place them in (1) the upper one-half of the first year class, (2) the upper two-thirds of the second year class, or (3) in the upper three-fourths of the third year class.

(b) received a score of at least 70 on the College Qualification Test.

(4) The results of the College Qualification Test are available only to the student himself on application to his local Selective Service Board. Every student eligible for the draft should obtain a copy of these results and file them in the office of the dean of the college.

(5) On the basis of the student's college record, the dean (Continued on page 4)

S.R.C. Discusses "Mental Health"

On Wednesday evening, 13 February 1957, the Social Responsibilities Commission of the YM-YWCA held a fireside chat at the home of co-commission chairman Becky Francis. The group, which was joined by Dr. Creager and Mr. Schellhase, discussed the topic: "Mental Health and Me." Co-commission chairman Tom Bennis introduced the subject by listing several ways in which a person could maintain his emotional stability. Under the subject of "See Yourself as You Actually Are," the group discussed the honest approach one must take with himself if he is to find the source of emotional problems. It was also discussed, in relation to this topic, that one must take an unemotional look at himself whenever possible.

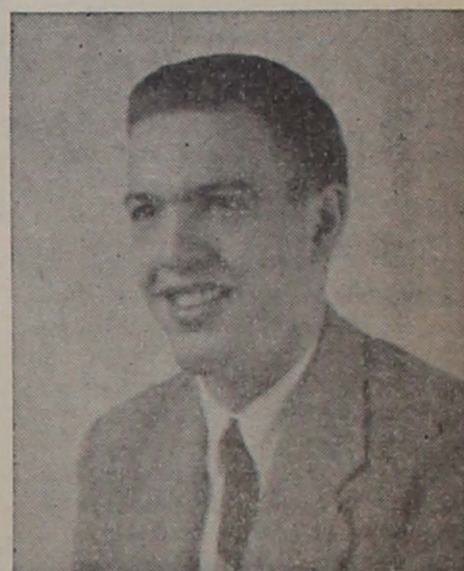

"Accept Yourself and Just was stated that a person must learn to accept his limitations and to work with his capabilities. Furthermore, it was maintained that one should become over anxious about trivial matters, because much of what we worry about now won't matter tomorrow.

After the discussion, refreshments were served, and a future fireside chat was planned.

CHESS CLUB PLAYS F. & M.

On Sunday, Feb. 17, the Ursinus College chess team traveled to Lancaster, Pa., for a match with Franklin and Marshall College. The result of the match was a draw.

'King of the Lorelei'

DAVID BURGER

Another feature of the evening was the usual display of corsages worn by the men of Ursinus and created by their partners. Included among them were many "This is Your Life" booklets, hearts with knick-knacks signifying the personality of the gentleman wearing it, hand bouquets and wrist corsages of lace and various mementoes, and many productions ranging from a boutonniere to a complete covering—such as the toga worn by Dick Hummel. Bill Shinehouse caught everybody's eye with his sparking Valentine. The TV set that Barbara DeGeorge created for Ed Savasto was also the center of attention. Another mechanical valentine was the Ferris Wheel that Bobbe Hunt gave to Wayne Millward.

Dave Burger, the 'king' for the evening, is president of Delta Mu Sigma fraternity. He is a physical education major and, among other activities, is a member of the Varsity Club, track, basketball and soccer teams. He is also a member of the Cub and Key Society, and was recently chosen to appear

Snyder Receives Ph.D. Degree, Feb. 9

Evan Samuel Snyder, Assistant Professor of Physics at Ursinus, was conferred the degree of Doctor of Philosophy at the winter convocation of the University of Pennsylvania on Saturday, February 9.

Dr. Snyder received the degree of Bachelor of Science from Ursinus College in 1944 and the degree of Master of Science from the University of Pennsylvania in 1951. He was a member of the special engineer detachment at the Los Alamos Atomic Laboratories in New Mexico during World War II.

Dr. Snyder's Ph.D. thesis, "The Decay of Hafnium 181," reports his research into the nature of active decay of this isotope—a subject of considerable interest in the field of nuclear physics.

Two UC Women Attend Confab on Religious Work

Rebecca Francis and Ruth McKelvie, students at Ursinus College, attended the Fifth Annual Conference on Religious Vocations for College Women at Union Theological Seminary in New York City on February 8, 9, and 10. The conference was instituted for college women who have not yet chosen a profession and who wish to secure information about religious vocations, and for those who plan to enter religious work but have not chosen a particular field.

The opportunities afforded in the fields of religious education, missions, and teaching were presented by a director of religious education, a missionary on furlough from Doshisha University, Kyoto, Japan, and a professor of religion at Mount Holyoke College.

A Word of Welcome...

On behalf of the student body of Ursinus College, we would like to welcome the members of the evaluation team from the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools who will be visiting the campus during the next two days. Though we realize that their purpose is certainly more in the nature of business than of pleasure, we hope that their short stay here will be an enjoyable one—and that the results of their study will be profitable to them as well as to us. —Ed.

...and Some Comments on Evaluation

In reviewing for an examination, one often becomes so involved in the study of countless particulars that he forgets the fundamental principles and pervading ideas of the course. In welcoming the team of seven college professors and administrators who will study and evaluate Ursinus College in these few days, it is important to think for a moment about the actual, deeper significance of the whole program of evaluation.

With six million college students predicted for the year 1970 and twelve million, for 1977, America is rapidly transforming the ideal of "higher education for as great a number as possible" into a reality, and, yet, this very accomplishment threatens the high academic standards of many, many fine schools.

This is the challenge to the colleges and universities: to find the resources, the teachers, and the means to educate an ever-growing student body without diminishing the quality and intensity of the education given. This is a challenge already confronting Ursinus, for, with the completion of the large new dormitories and with the resulting increase in student enrollment, the institution will obviously have to increase its educational quality without lowering its educational quality. A sincere and objective scrutiny of the entire college can be of definite benefit in determining how well it can meet this challenge.

The evaluation can be of value also in creating within the college community the awareness, too often dormant, that even in our twentieth century society—with its emphasis upon practicality and materialism, the essence of a college is still actually found in the calibre of its faculty and its students.

The medieval university was an unusual phenomenon: it lacked all the material substance that we so readily associate with institutions of higher learning today; with only a student body and a faculty, it managed to produce the finest thought of the period. The essence of learning was then, and still is, found in academic excellence and the intellectual character. All the emphasis of our time upon the material, the social, and the practical should not do away with our recognition of this fact.

Colleges and universities have assumed two basic obligations: one to the student, the other to the nation and to society in general. Colleges and universities seek to develop the potential gifts of the student into useful and creative skills that will make his life richer and more satisfying; they have become responsible too for training their students—the men and women who will, in the future, assume leadership in the many facets of public life. During this evaluation, as we try to measure the degree of success that Ursinus attains in trying to inculcate in each student "excellence in scholarship and in conduct," we shall also discover how well Ursinus is fulfilling its role in society.

:: MAY DAY ::

by Ruth McKelvie

Some time in the early part of May each year, the women of Ursinus College present the annual May Day pageant for the enjoyment of the students and their parents. Traditionally, the pageant itself is written, staged, and performed entirely by members of the 'weaker' sex.

Through the years, various themes have been used for the production. Last year's pageant, which was written by Robin Blood who graduated in June, 1956, portrayed the coronation of "Miss Democracy" as the 'queen' of the American people. The scene of the ceremony was Washington, D.C., and all the states and territories came to pay homage to their queen.

In 1955, the May Day pageant, written by Betty Tayes, concerned the adventures of two little girls who were accidentally locked in a toyshop overnight. The dolls and stuffed animals came to life, and the children and the toys romped and danced until morning.

Copies of the scripts of many of the pageants presented in former years are available in the college library for those who wish to read them.

Preparation for the pageant gives all the women an opportunity to co-operate on a single project. The dance rehearsals and the committee work bring the women together in an atmosphere where they can meet and work with a great number of their fellow women away from the routine of the classroom and the dormitory.

For the May Day program to be a success, it is necessary that each woman join a committee or dance group. There will be a mass meeting of all the women of the college in Pfahler Hall at 4:45 p.m. on Wednesday, March 6. At this time, the work of the various committees will be explained, and the committees themselves will be tentatively organized.

The deadline for the submission of pageants to the dean of women and the pageant judges is Friday, February 22. A prize of $25 is presented each year by the Ursinus Women's Circle to the woman who writes the pageant which, in the judges' opinion, best portrays the spirit of the May and of Ursinus.

Mrs. Connie Poley, an alumna of Ursinus College, has, with the help of a manager elected by the women, directed the pageant for the past several years. Mrs. Poley and the pageant judges from past years have drawn up a list of suggestions, as follows, to aid any aspiring pageant authors:

- (1) Make the action continuous and unified as to setting.
- (2) Include with the pageant suggestions for the accompanying dances. (Include as many persons as possible in each dance number.)
- (3) Suggest too the music which should be used in each phase of the pageant.
- (4) Sketch, or have an artistic friend sketch, the various costumes which might be used.
- (5) Remember that others can be called upon to aid in the writing of the pageant.

BROTHERHOOD WEEK

and the work of the

NATIONAL CONFERENCE OF CHRISTIANS AND JEWS

by Joan Schaefer

There's always a week being set aside in honor of something! You have undoubtedly heard of "Chiquita Banana Week" and "Clean Up, Fix Up, Paint Up Week," to cite two examples. Occasionally, a week is dedicated to a more important project; unfortunately, it is often treated with the same disdain that the public has become accustomed to accord the more frequent publicity stunts. This week, February 17-24, is 'Brotherhood Week!' This is not another publicity stunt: it is an honest attempt to stimulate interest in a worthwhile, a necessary project? Specifically though, what is meant by 'brotherhood'? Who is sponsoring the 'week' and why?

Brotherhood is nothing more than everyone giving to all others the same dignity and rights that he claims for himself! A national feeling of brotherhood can be achieved without seeking a union of religious bodies and without weakening the loyalties or modifying the distinctive beliefs of any group. It can and should be made a normal and natural part of our daily lives.

The honorary chairman for the observance of this 'week' is the President of the United States, and it is sponsored by The National Conference of Christians and Jews. The NCCJ was founded in 1928 for the purpose of promoting justice, amity, understanding, and co-operation among Protestants, Catholics, and Jews. The organization has attempted to analyze, moderate, and eventually eliminate intergroup prejudices which disfigure and distort religious, economic, social, and political relations. Its ultimate goal is to establish a social order in which the religious and ethical ideals of brotherhood and justice will become the standards for human relationships.

This organization was actually begun on a small scale in 1924 in order to aid in the campaign to dissolve the Ku Klux Klan. Amid the terrible hate engendered during the Al Smith presidential campaign in 1928, the NCCJ grew quickly into the strong, unified organization it is today. This group made the

An Age of Service

by Art King

If method were truly the soul of business, it might be argued that the abolition of industry, trade, and commerce should be sought on humanitarian grounds. Such, however, is not the case; in itself method is capable of being completely soul-less. Lacking the essential spark, method is only an attribute of business, having a necessary part in its processes. Utilitarianism in all its strivings has never quite managed to embrace the soul, which must have some merit beyond impersonal usefulness. Whenever we find it attached in some subtle manner to business, soul has been supplied by people.

Business without soul is extremely bad business, even perverting the doctrine of free will to extravagance and wastefulness. Russian emphasis on heavy industry at the expense of the needs of the people is a case in point. We need to consider diligently this aspect of the problems of economics, the soul. For example, how widely is it known that a nation is always bankrupt of adequate ideas before it can become bankrupt of monies? Inflation may be an ominous symptom that there is not enough sound thought in circulation. From the best business point of view, the consumers are themselves the wealth; for they are the receptacles of ideas. From production through profit to consumption, business consists of by-products, with a single exception. The soul is no by-product.

With prophecies of an age of automation ringing in our ears, we are told that occupational opportunities in the future will devolve from production to services. Here, then, is a preview of things to come. Machines are efficient, industrious and utterly indifferent; mankind must surpass its metal monsters with more than courtesy. A cigarette vending machine in working order is unable to be impolite. Yet, whoever saw a purchaser, sane and sober, apprise the contraption that he has a headache, or has been working too hard, or that his wife wants to sell the old homestead and move to Saskatchewan? In this age to come, we may be considerably challenged to demonstrate the unwritten dogma of the superiority of intelligence to instinct.

Behind the Sporting Scene!

by Bruce MacGregor, Sports Editor

For the first time in several years, the stands were quiet when wrestling captain Dick Padula left the mats to return to the bench. The fans seemed to know they had witnessed Pooch's first defeat in a few years, sixty dual meet competitions, to be exact. Boasting a win streak that dated back to his sophomore year at Upper Darby High School, Dick came out of his match on Saturday on the short end of a close 4-3 decision. His victor was Elizabethtown's 137 pounder and captain, Jon Hollinger, a junior undefeated thus far this year.

Hollinger, a defensive wrestler apparently looking for a counter, was warned and penalized two points early in the match, giving Padula a 2-0 lead at the end of the first period. Each wrestler accomplished an escape during the second period leaving Pooch with a 3-1 lead at the start of the third and final period. Hollinger then scored his second escape of the match, thus coming within one point of the Bruin captain. Late in the final period the Blue Jay Captain scored the only take-down of the bout, using a "cross-face". Padula's attempts for a reversal were unsuccessful, and Hollinger emerged the victor, 4-3.

Drexel Tech clinched its fourth straight Southern Division, Middle Atlantic league basketball title by beating Haverford College, 88-73, last Saturday night on the loser's court. The Dragons hold a 9-0 league log with their only remaining league game against the winless Bruins, February 27. Delaware, (6-3) tightened its hold on second place with a 95-82 victory over third place P.M.C., (3-3). Haverford (3-5) holds a one game lead over fifth place Swarthmore (2-5), while the Bruins of Ursinus bring up the rear with a 0-7 slate.

Cagers Lose to Fords in Overtime; Lose to Garnet Five Saturday, 84-64

by Chris Rohm

Haverford College (6-6) topped Ursinus for their eleventh straight defeat this year in a Southern Division game of the Middle Atlantic Conference last Wednesday, as Larry Forman tallied nine points in the second overtime period to give the Fords the win, 87-73.

It looked like a good night for the Bears, under their new coach Reid Watson, as they led at halftime, 35-32. Not until the second overtime was either team ahead by more than six points. Several times with the score tied, Haverford tried to freeze the ball, but at the end of the regulation time the score was knotted at 60-60.

Dick "Biggie" Chern tied the score in the last 10 seconds of the first overtime and the two teams went into a second period with the score 69-69.

In the second overtime period, the Fords were led by Forman as he scored nine of their 18 points, while Ursinus only tallied four points.

Swarthmore College was scene of another Ursinus defeat in the Middle Atlantic Conference last Saturday as the Garnets (2-5) swamped the U.C. five by a one-sided 84-64 contest. The Bears have thus far failed to come out of a contest victorious, losing 12 straight, seven in Middle Atlantic competition.

Ursinus took an early lead but soon fell behind as the Garnets seemed to be pulling strings on every shot, shooting a fabulous 43% from the floor and connecting with 16 out of 20 at the foul lane.

The "Ace" for the Swarthmore quintet was Kent Greenawalt who sank 9 out of 17 floor shots and 4 for 4 at the lane totaling 22 points for the evening. Don Sowers added 21 points for the Bears but with four other men for Swarthmore connecting for double figures the Garnets led almost all the way.

Belles Register Two Net Shutouts

The girls' badminton team, coached by Jen P. Shillingford, combined experienced veterans and promising freshman to register two 5-0 shutouts during the initial week of competition.

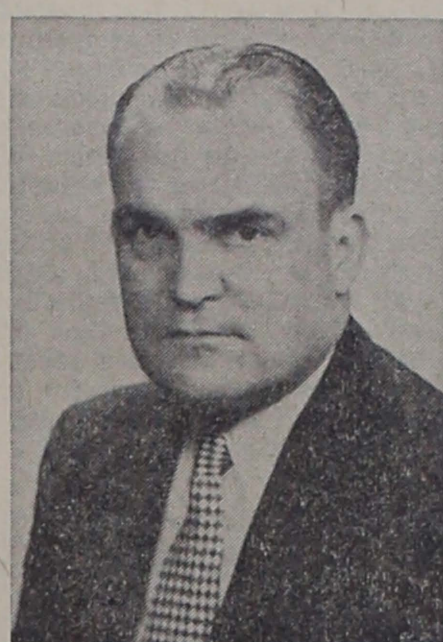

Last Friday the varsity journeyed to Philadelphia to defeat a spirited Drexel seven. First and second singles players, captain Connie Cross and Ronnie Gros were somewhat pressed; however, third singles Liz Wheeler, first doubles Carol LeCato and Pat Woodbury, and second doubles Faye Dietrich and Carol Williamson recorded easy victories.

On Monday the Varsity and J.V. disposed of Penn's teams by 5-0 margins. Penn appeared to be what the Belles might expect to be their easiest victims. A balanced Varsity and J.V. squad was shown down the line-ups of both teams as the Belles didn't even drop one game in the two Penn matches.

The Varsity line-up was the same as the previously mentioned team which opposed Drexel. The J.V. line-up consisted of the following: first singles—Bunny Alexander, second singles—Sandy Rinehart, third singles—Dolly Smith, first

Chi Alpha Hears Baker, Sponsors Weekly Talks

On Monday, February 11, at 7:30 p.m., the Chi Alpha Society held its first monthly meeting of the second semester in the Women's Day Study in Bomberger Hall. W. Lee Lawhead, the moderator of the society, presided.

The program for the evening's meeting was a talk by Dr. Donald G. Baker on the topic of the proper ethical relationships of the Christian to society.

Every Tuesday afternoon at 4:30, the society sponsors a discussion session on topics of a religious nature in the student union in Bomberger Hall.

On Sunday, February 17, three members of the society, Sam Fogal, Don West, and Fred Kurkowski, led a discussion on Christian vocations at a meeting of the youth fellowship of Trinity Evangelical and Reformed Church in Collegeville.

Newman Club to Hear Discussion on J.H. Newman

The first meeting for the second semester of the Newman Club of Ursinus College will take place on Monday, February 25. The program for the meeting will be a discussion, led by the Reverend Edward J. Conran and several members of the club, on the topic of the life and work of John Henry Newman, for whom the organization is named. This program will be in commemoration of the anniversary of Cardinal Newman's birthday.

Refreshments will be served following the body of the meeting.

In the near future, the Newman Club will sponsor a debate—open to the entire student body—on some matter of current interest on which the Roman Church has adopted a definite viewpoint.

"Y" Heads Discuss Activities, Plans At Retreat, Sat.

Plans for the coming YM-YWCA activities and an evaluation of the past semester's work were the topics of discussion at the "Y" cabinet retreat held on Saturday, February 16, at the Bala-Cynwyd Methodist Church in Bala-Cynwyd. This day-long meeting was attended by the "Y" officers, cabinet members, and the faculty advisers.

The following is a summary of the important programs in the near future.

On February 26, the Red Cross is again sending a 'bloodmobile' to the college. Those students under twenty-one years of age who wish to give blood must have their parents' permission to do so. It is important to sign up early so that permission may be obtained from home before Tuesday, February 26.

All freshmen and new students are invited to attend a free dinner and square dance on February 27, at 6:15 p.m. in the T-G Gym. The Reverend Francis Scheirer will be the 'caller.' All those planning to attend should fill out and return the invitation to the dormitory representatives or any other member of the "Y" cabinet.

The YM-YWCA week-end retreat will be held May 3-5, possibly at Camp Mensch Mill.

Pre-Med Society Hears Mercurio; Plans Dinner

On Tuesday evening, February 12, Dr. Frank Mercurio, a psychiatrist and the head of the incoming patient's division of the Veteran's Psychiatric Hospital in Coatesville, Pennsylvania, spoke to a large audience of Ursinus pre-medical and psychology majors. After briefly outlining the nature of his work at the hospital as well as the revolutionary impact of the new tranquilizing drugs on psycho-therapy, he gave the floor to questions. In the full hour in which Dr. Mercurio answered questions he was able to touch on most of the important aspects and problems of psychiatry today.

A follow-up trip to the Veteran's Hospital has been planned for the afternoon of March 1.

At the next meeting of the society, on Tuesday, February 26, the Medical College Aptitude Test and the coming pre-med dinner-dance will be discussed.

Fourteen Go on Mid-Year Trip to Washington, D. C.

A number of Ursinus students went on the bi-ennial "Y" Washington Trip, sponsored by the World Relatedness Commission of the Ursinus YM-YWCA, on February 4, 5, and 6.

The group's schedule included visits to the House of Representatives, where they met Mr. Samuel McConnell, the representative from Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, to the Supreme Court building, to the National Gallery of Art, to the Smithsonian Institute, to the Pan-American building, the headquarters for the Pan-American Union, and so forth.

The members of the group, which stayed at the Hotel Continental in Washington, included the following: Marty Paxson, Fusako Uno, Carolyn Dearnaley, Ruth Mercer, Rose Puleo, Philip Kivitz, Ray Hamilton, Conrad Hoover, and the co-chairmen of the WRC, Ann Leger, and John Tomlinson. They were accompanied on the tours by two Ursinus students who live in Washington: Tom Rosenberg and Tom Bannigus. Dr. Donald G. Baker, the faculty sponsor of the commission, and his wife chaperoned the group.

A bouquet of words is no more specious than a smile, yet both can enhance the atmosphere without physically or chemically altering it. Even scientifically considered, such reactions border on the miraculous. Fine words are priceless, yet they may be a gratuity. A smile is not a wholesale commodity, and its retail value cannot be calculated to the final penny. The cumulative wealth of transactions in these articles takes the form of a perishable dividend which must be bartered off directly. The complicated high finance involved remains behind the veil. We know only that the exchanges are made from a series of bottomless pitchers which continue to pour fresh milk if they are constantly emptied.—Or to place the entire matter on a local basis, what we are trying to say is that we appreciate the guys and gals working behind the counter.

Reed and Barton Contest To Run Through Feb., Mar.

During February and March, Reed and Barton, Silversmiths, are giving Ursinus women the opportunity to display their taste and to win scholarship awards totaling $1050.

Joan Martin is the campus representative for this national "Silver Opinion Contest" which closes March 31. Those women interested in entering may pick up an application blank at Shreiner Hall. Each contestant is asked to choose her favorite silver pattern and to match it with a crystal and china design; in as many words as she likes, the contestant is to tell why she chooses these particular patterns.

The first prize is a $500 scholarship; the second award, a $250 scholarship; and the third, fourth, and fifth awards, $100 scholarships. In addition, there will be one hundred other awards in which winners may choose between a $25 savings bond or a 'starter' set of sterling silver, china, and crystal.
