Election Held For MSGA And Class Officers, May 9

Fred Glauser New MSGA President

The results of the Men's Student Government Association elections held last Thursday, May 9, were announced by President William Rheiner. The new officers for the coming year are Fred Glauser, president; Ted Holcombe, vice-president; and Clement Anderson, secretary-treasurer.

Fred Glauser, a biology major and pre-medder, will be serving his third year on the council. Fred is a sophomore, a member of the Brownback-Anders pre-medical society, assistant news editor of the Weekly and a Dean's Lister.

Ted Holcombe is a political science major, a member of the football team, vice-president of his class, assistant head waiter, and a member of Zeta Chi fraternity. Ted is also a sophomore and will be serving his second term on the council.

Clement Anderson, a Chemistry major, is a freshman, a member of the football team and Alpha Phi Epsilon fraternity. Clem will be serving his first year on the council.

Glauser Gives Platform

(Editor's Note: The following is the platform of Fred Glauser, 1957-1958 President of the MSGA, as given to the Weekly this past week.)

"I have been on the Men's Student Government for the last two years. Next year I have the honor of serving as president of this organization. During my two terms I have seen many good as well as bad ideas brought up before the members of the council. Some of these ideas took shape and have been put into effect. But there are many other excellent ideas and plans that have not as yet been realized. It is these ideas and plans, as well as my own, that I hope to have next year's council work on. I would like to abolish all the old, antiquated rules and replace them with modern, fairer rules. Once these rules are passed they would be enforced rigidly. I would like to see a joint MSGA and WSGA judiciary council to handle all joint infractions of the rules. In line with the judiciary procedure, I would like to see a complete overhauling of the trial procedure. Publicity, witnesses, and a defender (if necessary) would be a few of the new components of a trial. I also hope to gain more power from the administration for the MSGA. With this additional power and prestige, the council could rise to a much higher position on campus and gain the respect it deserves."

Sophomore Rulers Elected By Freshman Women

Last Monday the women of the freshman class of Ursinus met to elect the sophomore rulers for next year. Those chosen were Faye Bardman, Ginny Keller, Jean LeCato, and Sandy Rinehart. Gail Snyder the newly elected secretary of the Women's Student Government Association automatically becomes one of the rulers. Lois Molitor and Tic Spangler, senior and junior representatives to the WSGA, are also members of the Sophomore Rules Committee. After a short meeting of the newly chosen members, Sandy Rinehart was elected head sophomore ruler.

Clambake Planned by Sophomores for May 25

On May 25, from 2:00 to 12:00 p.m., the Sophomore Class will hold their spring Clambake at Shady Nook on the Perkiomen. The activities of the day include a men vs. women softball game, horseshoes, canoeing, and swimming. Music will be provided all day, and for the evening, arrangements are being made for a combo to play. Tickets are $1.50 stag and $2.75 drag. Bops Jackson will serve as chef and will serve clams, hot dogs, barbecue, potato salad, and cold drinks.

Results of Class Officer Elections

The results of the class elections held last Thursday, May 7, were announced by the MSGA President, William Rheiner. The new officers of the coming school year are as follows: Class of '58, Hal Redden, President; Pete Fay, Vice-president; Gayle Livingston, Secretary; and Bill Ruffing, Treasurer. Class of '59, Al Daniels, President; Ted Holcombe, Vice-president; Linda Brenner, Secretary; and Barbara DeGeorge, Treasurer. Class of '60, John Forrest, President; Ronald Dunk, Vice-president; Helen Pearson, Secretary; and Bruce Drobnyk, Treasurer.

CLASS OF 1958

President

Hal Redden, the new president, is a member of the Cub and Key Society, Delta Mu Sigma Fraternity, the wrestling team, and the cheer leading squad. He is a business administration major and has appeared in The Messiah Chorus.

Vice-president

Peter Fay, the present and newly elected vice-president of the class of '58, is a chemistry major and a member of Beta Sigma Lambda fraternity.

Secretary

Gayle Livingston, the new secretary, is the new president of both Omega Chi sorority and the Spirit Committee. She is a math major, and was this year's Homecoming Queen for Beta Sigma Lambda fraternity.

Treasurer

Bill Ruffing, the new treasurer, is a business administration major and a member of Sigma Rho Lambda fraternity.

Last Saturday Christopher A. Rohm was elected president of the Pennsylvania Future Teachers Association of America at the annual convention held at the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College. Chris, a physical education major, is a junior, treasurer of the campus F.T.A., secretary of Zeta Chi fraternity, and a member of the football team.

Between 500 and 600 F.T.A. members attended the two day convention at the East Stroudsburg school. Election of officers was a highlight of the statewide conclave. Other new officers are as follows: Joseph Ludgate, Bloomsburg State Teachers College, first vice-president; Jeffrey Smith, Hazleton High School, second vice-president; Barbara Skerrett, Shippensburg State Teachers College, secretary-at-large.

Delegates at large to the national convention: Jeannette Miller, East Stroudsburg State Teachers College; Frances Ruda, Chambersburg High School; Edgar Harris, Cheyney State Teachers College.

Fund Poll to Be Run This Week

During the mid-part of the present week, the central committee of the 1957 Ursinus Campus Chest Fund will conduct a "Student Opinion Poll" on matters relating to the fund, according to Joseph W. Atkins, Jr., the chairman of the committee.

Questionnaires, prepared by Atkins and Lawrence Foard, Jr., a member of the committee, will be distributed to the entire membership of the student body by the fund solicitors in the various dormitories and day studies. Atkins stated that the purpose of the poll is to determine student opinion on the value of the fund itself, on the best method for choosing the various charitable organizations to be aided, and on the conducting of the affairs of the fund in general. The results of the poll will be tabulated and turned over to Rebecca Francis and John Tomlinson, the co-chairmen of the 1958 Ursinus Campus Chest Fund, for use next year.

A meeting of all the dormitory and day study solicitors has been called for Tuesday, May 14, at 12:30 p.m., in room 4 of Bomberger Hall. At this time, they will be given copies of the "Student Opinion Poll Questionnaire".

A spokesman for the present committee said, "The questionnaire for the poll has been prepared with an eye to honesty and neutrality. It is hoped that the student body will give us forthright and constructive answers."

YM-YWCA Plan Picnic May 15; Dr. Helfferich to Speak At "Y" Meeting on May 22

The four commissions of the YM-YWCA will hold a picnic in the College Woods on Wednesday evening, May 15. The picnic will take the place of individual commission meetings usually held at this time. All commission members are asked to sign up with a member of the "Y" cabinet if they plan to attend.

An association meeting has been planned for May 22 at 6:35 p.m. At this time Dr. Helfferich will speak on his views about the future of Ursinus College.

This past Wednesday the four commissions held their regular meetings. The Student Worship Commissions started to plan a seminar on the great religions of the world that will be presented to the entire student body during the next school year. A movie on marriage and the choosing of a mate was presented by the Social Responsibilities Commission. After a short planning meeting the Campus Affairs Commission held a miniature golf party.

On May 19 Vespers will be held in Bomberger at 6:05. Speaker will be Pete Booke and the leader Beverly Garlick.

Chi Alpha To Meet Tues.

According to Conrad Hoover, moderator-elect of the Chi Alpha Society, there will be a meeting of the group at 4:30 p.m. on Tuesday, May 14, in the student union in Bomberger Hall.

The purpose of this meeting will be to make final plans for the society's annual picnic to be held on Saturday, May 18, from 2 p.m. until 8 p.m. at the "Daniel Boone Birthplace."

The Reverend Doctor David Dunn, dean of the Theological Seminary at Lancaster, Pennsylvania will speak at this special session of the Chi Alpha Society.

STUDENT LEADERS TO PLAN NEW CALENDAR

On Wednesday, May 15, at 7:00 p.m., representatives of all the campus organizations are to meet in room 8 of Bomberger Hall to plan the dates for the 1957-58 Activities Calendar.

If they have not done so already, the organizations can obtain a dummy activities calendar at the dean's office. The organizations are requested to select the desired dates plus alternates for the meeting Wednesday night.

May Day Shines Despite Showers; Pageant, Concert, Play Presented

Pageant: Magical Makebelieve Given

On Saturday, May 11, Ursinus was once again the scene of the traditional May Day Pageant. Parents and friends of students flocked to the football field to see the pageant, which began despite the rain at 2:30 p.m.

Sondra Smith May Queen

The land of "Magical Makebelieve" was the scene of this year's pageant and was presided over by the queen, Sondra K. Smith. Her attendants were representatives from all four classes: Seniors, Marilyn Welsh and Emma Edson; Juniors, Deanne Farese and Sue Berger; Sophomores, Barbara DeGeorge and Jackie Robbins; Freshmen, Barbara McClure and Helen Pearson.

All the inhabitants of fairyland had come to pay homage to their queen on the day of her coronation. Goldilocks and the three bears came first; followed by King Midas and his jesters, and King Midas presented his most valuable possessions, his cloak, to the queen. Raggedy Ann and Andy gave to the queen their most treasured gift, their hearts. Snow White and her dwarfs and then the three pigs came to visit. Ali Baba and his thieves and the ugly duckling then paid homage and gave their gifts of adventure and friendship. Alice in Wonderland, Peter Pan and Cinderella then followed and gave their special gifts of imagination, immortality and beauty. Leading all the farmers on a merry chase was the Gingerbread Man. Then the three kittens who had lost their mittens, were reprimanded by their mother. Unruly children were the problem of the "Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe". To add to her problems the Pied Piper tried to lead her children away.

Though the Pied Piper had been bad in trying to lure the children, the queen forgave him. The fairy princess celebrated the peace now reigning in fairyland and the traditional Maypole Dance followed.

The queen then led the procession of her court and was crowned, bringing to a close the most wonderful day in fairyland.

Active behind the scenes were Mrs. C. W. Poley, producer; Marge Struth, manager; Betty Taves, chairman of the day; Georgie Bryson, hospitality chairman; and Joan Bradley, women's dormitory committee chairman.

A buffet supper was then held at 5:30 p.m. in front of Freeland.

Social Science Society Bids Nine New Members

Ismar Schorsch, president of the Pennsylvania Sigma (Ursinus College) Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu the National Social Science Honor Society, has announced that nine persons have accepted bids, issued during the month of April, into the group. They are as follows: Louis Nemphos†, Patricia Jones, Ora-Westley Schwemmer, Conrad Hoover†, Allen Matusow†, Barbara Althouse, Christina Armstrong†, Marilyn Shelly†, and Allen Frank. (Those names which are followed by a dagger—thus,†—are members of the present Junior Class.)

Schorsch announced also that elections of officers for the academic year 1957-58 will be held on Wednesday, May 15, at 12:30 p.m. in room 5 of Bomberger Hall. At this time, a president, (Continued on page 4)

Pre-Medders Sponsor Play

On Tuesday evening, May 7, the Pre-medical society sponsored a short production entitled "Return to Thine Own House." The play presented by the Penn Centre Art Workshops dealt with the problem faced by people suffering from mental illness and their subsequent rehabilitation. "Return to Thine Own House" stressed the importance and necessity of tolerance and understanding when one comes in contact with the mentally ill.

"Sabrina Fair" Award to Millward Concert by Band And Meistersingers

Sabrina Fair, presented May 9, 10 and 11, proved to be one of the highlights of the school year. It was received enthusiastically by a large audience.

The four act comedy, with its setting at a fashionable Long Island Estate, centers around a young chauffeur's daughter's emotional conflict over her three suitors. The young lady repeatedly changes her pseudo-sophisticated mind as to whom she shall give her heart, but as the curtain is about to descend she finally realizes which of the suitors is her true love and reveals her choice.

Millward Gets Donald

Dr. Helfferich presented the "Donald" award to Wayne Millward at the Friday performance of "Sabrina Fair." The "Donald" is an award given by Alpha Psi Omega to the senior who is considered to be the most outstanding member of the Curtain Club. Wayne is president of Alpha Psi Omega and has worked on countless committees for Curtain Club as well as appearing in "Our Town," "The Valiant," and "Submerged."

Accreditation of Ursinus Re-affirmed by Commission

The Commission on Higher Education of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools has notified President N. E. McClure of the re-affirmation of the accreditation of Ursinus College.

The College was evaluated during the week of February 17, 1957, by a committee headed by President John C. Adams, of Hofstra College.

Ursinus was included among the approved colleges when the Middle States Association issued its first report and has always remained on the list. Our accreditation has now been re-affirmed.

The Ursinus College Band, directed by Sam Fogal, presented its fourth annual spring concert to a record May Day audience on Saturday, May 11. The program began at 6:30 p.m. in Bomberger Chapel.

The Meistersingers and band combined to present "Born To Be Free", "God of Our Fathers", and the new school song composed by Joe Donia and Mr. H. Lloyd Jones, Jr., that was given for the first time last year at the May Day band concert.

Included in the band program were: "The Drake Relays," "Pacific Grandeur," "Waggery For Woodwinds," "Pennsylvania Polka," "Allerseelen," "Gershwin's 'Strike Up The Band,'" and Vincent Youman's "Fantasy."

Ursinus' German Band, composed of the dutchmen, Sam Fogal, Fred Kurkowski, Wayne Kressley, Wilson Lorentz, and Stan Peters, presented a novelty selection to add to the evenings varied entertainment.

Demas Elects '57-'58 Officers

Last Thursday, May 9 Demas fraternity held their elections for officers. Those receiving offices were Bops Jackson, president; James Cooper, vice-president; Robert Moser, secretary; Charles Reid, treasurer; Bucky Pielstick, corresponding secretary; Merrill Anderson, Inter-Fraternity Council representative; and Richard Dickerson, sergeant-at-arms.

Tau Sig Officers Elected

The new officers of Tau Sigma Gamma were announced at their Dinner Dance, Friday, May 10. The new president is Joan Martin; vice-president, Deanne Farese; corresponding secretary, Faye Dietrich; recording secretary, Alice Irwin; treasurer, Jackie Robbins; Chaplain, Carolyn Carpenter.

New Band Officers Elected

On Thursday evening, May 9, the Ursinus band elected their officers for the 1957-58 season. The new officers are Samuel Fogal, president; Loretta Witmer, secretary; Wilson Lorentz, quartermaster and Martha Paxton, librarian.

EDITORIAL

Our Legacy

The manner of elections on Thursday, May 9, was a disgrace to this campus. It is time for the students to insist on their rights as part of the voting body.

On Thursday night word had gotten to the WEEKLY office that many of the students were dissatisfied—no, more—disgusted with the procedure that took place during the MSGA and class officer elections. On Friday there were too many protests to be ignored by this paper. Charges of not taking the names of the students voting, counting the ballots by other than MSGA representatives, and telling only a "select" few of the candidates the results of the elections were found, upon investigation, not to be false accusations.

The blame for this MUST fall upon those that conducted the election, and for the laxness on Thursday there is no excuse. We place our trust in our elected representatives, and their apparent disinterest in the welfare of the students and the school for NEXT YEAR is not only against all the principles of the MSGA, but reflects unfavorably upon all of us. There are enough MSGA members to count the ballots (some were not even asked). It is a simple matter to check-off a person's name as he votes—assuring one vote per student, and there is no reason whatsoever for telling only a few of the WINNING candidates the results, while ignoring the rest. If the election results were to be kept secret until a certain time, it should remain so to all, not just to some.

The MSGA cries for more power from the college administration. Who can blame the administration for their hesitancy in allowing the Government associations more say in matters pertaining to the students. The college does not die with each graduating class, and it is the duty of the leaders of one year to do all within their power to assure the remaining, and future students of Ursinus the very best that is possible. What's done is done, but there are enough students that will remember—and let us remember well!

Play Review:

"Sabrina Fair"

by Kenneth Grey

Last week-end the Curtain Club broke with tradition by presenting "Sabrina Fair," a modern romantic comedy, by Samuel Taylor. The typical girl-chooses-boy plot serves as a base for innumerable complications, both subtle and broad in their humor.

Sabrina, as played by Ann Markland, was sometimes sparkling and always convincing. Ann took full advantage of her title role, managing to share her happiness with the audience. What more can you ask of an actress?

Ed Sella, suavely handled the role of Linus Larabee, Jr., the bachelor builder of an empire. For someone who was a Wall Street financial wizard, however, Ed was a little too much a playboy and not enough a tycoon. Bobbe Hunt's pseudo-sophistication has mellowed, ripened and become "High Society" in the form of Maude Larabee. Bobbe played one of those ultra-rich, middle-aged women who have nothing to do but disagree with their ultra-rich families. Bobbe was delightfully disagreeable.

As the slightly senile father of the Larabee family, Phil Rowe was a riot. Phil's handling of the funny lines frequently made the audience howl; but for 69 years there was a little too much adrenalin carousing through his body. The pleasant and sprightly portrayal of Julia Ward McKinlock, by Angie McKey, was a definite asset to the pace and mood. It was a relief to see a naturally done role among so many eccentric characterizations.

David Larabee was the typical playboy son who seems to bless every rich family. Dick Hummel played the part in his usual witty, satirical manner, pumping laughs out of every possible line.

Bill Montgomery's characterization of Paul d'Argenson added a definite continental flavor to this play about the foibles of Americans. This Frenchman's zest for life rivaled that of Sabrina's.

May Day 2007 A.D.

... A Report

by Ann Leger

Last Saturday the Ursinus University coeds presented an enjoyable May Day pageant, The Fabulous Fifties, with special emphasis on the year 1957 in commemoration of the building of new dormitories which was the beginning of the emergence of Ursinus into a University. Clad in the startling fashions of that period, the girls danced to the popular songs of that era and demonstrated the collegiate pastimes of 1957.

Starting off with a tumbling act set to the music of Round and Round, the girls created much amusement in their odd-looking Bermuda shorts and knee socks. The pace changed as typical leisure time activities on the Perkiomen were demonstrated to the tune of On a Day Like Today. The old standard Beer Barrel Polka, used to show more of the typical customs of the fifties, was followed by an example of the rock 'n roll fad as the girls cavorted to Party Doll in the setting of a fraternity-sorority function. The scene then changed to an old-fashioned formal dance in which the girls, dressed in frilly "gowns" and sedate "tuxes", danced to Almost Paradise. The number All Shook UP, created many laughs when an antiquated cramming session was acted out. These dances were but a few highlights of the pageant that ended with the May Pole dance and the crowning of the Queen, also in the quaint 1957 style.

The theme of the pageant was a departure from the usual ones which have been based mainly on the myths and folklore of the other planets, but we certainly enjoyed seeing the collegiate styles of 1957, contrasting them with our modern, streamlined world of rockets, planetal colonies, and push-button service which was still only a dream fifty years ago.

Glueville Revisited

by Art King

At the beginning of Barley-corn all Glueville assembles on the commons to take part in the ceremonials of the season. The rites of this festivity belong to comedy and playfulness, for the deeper significance of the holiday lies buried in ancient lore, to be resuscitated only as verbosity. In colorful ribbons the happy maidens trip gaily over the lush grass, singing and dancing. Soon they are joined by the young men, in a riot of simple pageantry. May has arrived and young life is everywhere on the move.

The elders of the kingdom participate mostly as spectators. They come singly and in pairs, indulgent and affable, and they watch, chatting with their neighbors. They remember that this celebration of an awakened nature was formerly centered around prayers for good crops and plentiful game. The elders yield to the occasion without thought for the potency of its forgotten magic. They have learned the subordination of the statutes of chance. The laws of causation lie unexpressed within them, needless of consciousness.

In a distant land the exile also remembers Glueville and Barley-corn. With a pang he reflects that There is some corner of a foreign field That is forever Glueville.

The advent of spring has been a portent of his own half-wish; yet he knows there can be no return to the land where everything happens according to the heart's desire. A sterner realm holds him with a surer, more subtle magic. He gripped by the spring fevers of reality, and rejoices in his exile.

FRIENDSHIP — AN ANALYSIS

by Belfiore Dillio

(Editor's Note: The Weekly is privileged to publish, from time to time, speeches by "Bel" Dillio that have been given before various campus organizations.)

The title of my speech today is "Friendship" because a sincere friend is truly warm to our hearts. We know, "A friend in need is a friend indeed." I want to start with this friendship from the time when we were very small, let's say from three to six years old. At that age we could not travel very far from our homes; we depended on our neighbors' children for playmates. If we cannot remember about our childhood days, let's take a look at our kid brother or sister. Personally, I watch my grandchildren to see how they behave when they first meet each other. At first they are rather timid, afraid to make a move; but in a very short time they will start to play together like love birds, giving their toys to each other. Later, as days and months go by, one of them starts to get bolder or selfish, wants to get more of the other boys' or girls' toys, or wants to be a leader in playing. Finally there is jealousy; they begin to say offensive words to each other and trouble starts. One will say to another, "Get out; I will not play with you any more!" So they stay away from each other for a while, but during this time their consciences begin to bother them. Longing for friendship, they finally make up again. When we get older the little quarrels that we have with each other last longer. Why? Because we are getting to be more stubborn. We want the other person to come forward first to apologize; but as long as we live in the same neighborhood, sooner or later we make peace again. We start to see how foolish it is to break a friendship of long standing for a minor disagreement or a misunderstanding.

Now let's look to our man and womanhood. We move away from our old neighborhood and live in a different locality where people are all strangers, not for a long time, of course. We soon get lonesome and look for a friend. Finally we get acquainted with someone in the neighborhood.

Now then, we must remember that all our friendships started with being total strangers. We begin to take a liking to a person because of something he has that attracts us. It might be his smile, his looks, his wavy hair, his personality; there are a lot of things about him which we are unable to explain. It is like a magnet that draws us to him. Sometimes he is just opposite to us. I will never forget what happened one day not long ago while I was talking to a friend of mine. While we were talking another friend of mine happened to pass by. He saw me and said with a smile, "Hello, Bell," and I answered him in the same way with a smile. After he passed, this friend with whom I was talking said, "You know, Bell, I hate that man."

"No kidding," I answered. "Did he do something wrong to you?" "No."

"Then, why do you hate him?" "I cannot answer that, because I do not know how to explain it to you. There's a feeling in me that drives me away from him."

He was sincere about it. It takes a psychologist to answer that question. Fortunately, there are only a few like him. What I want to point out is this; here is how it all starts.

When we meet our neighbor for the first time we say, "Hello, Mr. So-and-so." Later on we invite him to our house to get better acquainted. Then as the years go by we make plenty of friends, but we cannot trust everybody. Then we start to think, "Who are our close friends?" We like them all; they are all good to us. It's a ticklish problem, but we must draw a line somewhere. I call it the outer circle and the inner circle. From the outer circle we start to pick the ones we would like to bring into the inner circle. The ones that you choose to come into the inner circle must be honest, reliable, trustworthy. To these people you will confide your secrets and your personal problems. These are the ones who will be at your side in times of need and times of sorrow. Every now and then some close friend will betray us. But we must never forget that even our Lord Jesus was betrayed by Judas, one of his apostles. Don't get discouraged because one has betrayed you; there are a lot of good friends left in your inner circle.

Sometimes we lose a friend because Ursinus College's diamond men went down in defeat to Haverford College last Wednesday by a 5 to 4 score. Haverford scored all of its runs in the first seven innings. Dick Chern, Linwood Drummond, and Jack Haag, all saw action on the mound. Chern got the loss; he has 1 win and 2 losses thus far in the season. Ursinus made a desperate rally in the 9th inning, but it fell short of victory. Bob Famous walked with two out and Jim Wenhold followed with a single. Wayne Williams, pinch hitting for Jack Strunk, walked to load the bases, and Dick Hause then walked forcing in the second run for Ursinus. Bob "Inky" Wagner singled, driving in two runs, making the score 5 to 4. The inning ended with men on first and second as Jim Myers popped to the short stop. Ursinus collected 12 hits, but just couldn't come up with the tying run. The umpires were Tyson behind the plate and Gallager on the bases.

On Friday, May 10, UC bounced back into the winner's column by a 10 to 8 victory over Franklin and Marshall, at Lancaster. The game went 11 innings. Linwood Drummond won his first victory of the season. He relieved Tom Aire in the 5th inning and gave up only 4 hits in 6 innings. Lin struck out 4 and walked 1. The Ursinus baseball team collected 11 hits. The big blow was Jim Wenhold's 9th inning home run, which sent the game into overtime. Jack Strunk had a triple in the 5th inning and Walt Christ had a double in the 6th inning.

Ursinus scored two runs in the top of the 11th inning to win the game. With one out, "Doc" Lem singled and went to 3rd base on an error. Bob Famous walked and stole second. With two out, Franklin and Marshall purposefully walked Jim Wenhold to get to Ed Savastio, and Savastio singled with the bases loaded scoring the two runs. This was the diamondmen's ninth victory in twelve starts.

This past Saturday the baseball team traveled up to Wilkes College in Wilkes Barre for the first time and lost their 4th game in 13 starts by a 4 to 3 score. The game was played in the Barons' stadium, and was touch and go at the end. Wilkes scored one run in the second, third and fourth innings, and led 3 to 0 going into the top of the ninth. Ursinus came fighting back by scoring 3 runs in the top of the ninth to tie up the game and send it into overtime. Barrie Ciliberti led off with a walk and Bob Famous followed with a double to left center. With men on 2nd and 3rd, Jim Wenhold singled, scoring Ciliberti and sending Famous to third. Ed Savastio singled in Famous, and Wenhold held up at third with one out. "Inky" Wagner drove in the tying run with a sacrifice fly to left scoring Wenhold.

Wilkes won it in the 12th inning with a single and an error. Ursinus' record now stands at 9 victories and 4 defeats.

Four Bears Score 12 Points in M.A.

Last Friday and Saturday, May 10 and 11, four Ursinus trackmen participated in the annual Middle Atlantic championships held at Franklin and Marshall College. The cindermen brought honor to Ursinus by placing fifth in a field of seventeen top-flight schools, among which were St. Josephs, LaSalle, and West Chester. Among the athletes present were Ira Davis, Olympic medal winner from LaSalle, and Joe Jackson, West Chester State Teacher's sprint champion.

Ken Buggeln running in his specialties, the 100 and 220, pressed Ira Davis the entire way to cop second place in these events. Ken's time was 9.9 for the 100, and 21.5 for the 220. He was only a fraction of a second behind Davis in the latter, and in the former had the exact same time. Lee Lawhead, who had run a 2:00.9 880 on Friday in the qualifying rounds, was forced out of the finals in this event when he dropped an arch running the mile. Even so, Lee managed to limp home 7th with the excellent time of 4:33, the best for him this year.

Bob Carney kept Ursinus' hopes alive in the field events by placing third in the discus with a throw of 146 feet. But Bob wasn't up to his usual standards in the shot put as he only got off a heave of 42' 11.5", good only for fifth place. This heave is four feet under Bob's usual distance. Bob Brumfiel was the other Bear that competed in the field events. Bob's best effort in the high jump was 5' 6", not quite good enough to qualify for the finals.

St. Joseph's led the field home while LaSalle, West Chester, and Delaware followed in that order.

Bears Beat Drexel; JV's Lose to Hill

On Monday, May 6, the Junior Varsity team journeyed up to the Hill School for a tennis match with the Junior Varsity of Hill School. Ismar Schorsch lost in the number one singles match in straight sets. Shel Wagman, playing number two also lost in straight sets. Bob Katinsky, number three man lost in three sets. The number four man, Ed Clisby lost in straight sets. Dave Subin, the number five man, lost in straight sets. Hal Redden, playing number six, lost a hard match in two sets. In the number one doubles, the Bears were able to come through with a victory. With Schorsch and Wagman leading 4-3 in the third set their opponents had to leave for dinner, seeding the match to the Bears. The number two doubles team of Clisby and Katinsky, fought hard, but were finally defeated. Redden and Subin, playing number three doubles, were also defeated. The final score of the match was 8-1 in favor of Hill School.

On Wednesday, May 8, the Varsity Tennis Team journeyed to Drexel for a match with the winless Dragons. The Bears were victorious, 6-3.

In the opening singles Art Martella defeated his man in straight sets.

In the number two singles Gene Morita finished off his man easily in straight sets. In the number three singles, Ismar Schorsch was defeated in straight sets. "Ding" Andrews, playing number four, came on strong to defeat his man in straight sets. In the fifth singles, Shel Wagman was defeated in a gruelling three set match. In the number six singles, Bob Gilgor overwhelmed his opponent in three sets.

In the first doubles match, Morita and Martella hammered out a victory. In the number two doubles, Andrews and Schorsch lost in three matches. In the final doubles, Gilgor and Wagman easily defeated their opponents in straight sets.

Lawhead, Buggeln Star in Meets With Albright, Bucknell and PMC

The Ursinus Bears played host to the Albright Lions and the Bisons of Bucknell in a triangular meet Saturday, May 4, at Patterson Field. Ursinus placed third with 42½ points as they lost number 4. Bucknell rallied to win the meet and Albright followed closely for second place with 59 and 52½ points respectively. On the whole the meet was close but lack of depth once again hurt the Bruins, although they still managed 6 first places.

The Big Two, Lee Lawhead and Ken Buggeln, once again came through with double wins and extended their undefeated streaks. Co-Capt. Lawhead ran brilliantly in the mile and with a great 200 yard kick took the measure of his opponents in 4:46. Lee ran even better in the half mile to tie the school record as he won the event in 2:03.8. Speedster Buggeln flashed across the line on the 100 yard dash as he ran a fast 10 seconds flat. Ken also returned later with a 21.7, 220 which found him well ahead of his opponents.

Two other Bears came through with first places as both were in the weight events. Soph Bob Carney won the discus event with a good 137 feet heave while co-capt. Skip Ruth captured his favorite event, the javelin. Ruth also took a second place in the shot and third in the discus, and Carney placed third in the shot.

Several other Bruin thinclads scored points in the meet as fourth place points were picked up by Jerry Crossley in 440, Bob Brumfiel in the high jump and Helmut Behling in 2 mile. Dave Burger took a second in the pole vault.

The Ursinus trackmen optimistically journeyed to Chester to tackle the "Kaydets" of P. M. C. Tuesday, May 7. The Bruins hit the winners circle 8 times but were only able to pick up a meager two second places and six third places. This lack of depth caused the sprinters to drop their fifth meet in a row by a score of 70-56. In at least three of the five meets the Bears have governed half of the fourteen first places, but have always lost out in the battle for the important second and third places.

Once again the two aces of the Bear squad, Lee Lawhead and Ken Buggeln, came through with double wins. Senior Lawhead re-vengeed last year's loss to P. M. C.'s Rayan and soundly trounced the same. In taking the mile in 4:45.7, Lee Lawhead established a meet record. Lee, "the Sprinter," came back to win the half mile. He was not pushed in either race. The towhead sprinter Ken Buggeln jumped up to the quarter mile and won easily with a new meet record of 52.4. "Bugel" ripped a great 21.7, 220 on one curve without very serious opposition. This, to, smashed a meet record.

Counting on more points in the weights events, the Bears were jarred as only Bob Carney could manage a win: Bob put the shot 44.7 to take first place, but later was upset in the draws by Wosluko of P. M. C. Skip Ruth, bothered by a bad knee, was held to two thirds in the shot put and javelin.

Soph Skip Bretzger looked good as he took his first place of this season. Skip was followed by another teammate Frosh Helmut Behling, who looks better in this event since he has shifted from the mile.

Two other Freshman picked up first places for Ursinus. Bob Peterson vaulted 10'9" to garner the pole vault. This was his first win. Bob Brumfiel tied for first in the high jump with two men from P. M. C. to round out the long line of Ursinus winners. Brumfiel also sprinted to a third place in the 100 yard dash.

The other points scored were all third places and were captured by Dick Dickerson in the low hurdles. Ray Paine in the 880, and senior Dave Burger in the pole vault.

The Bears were hurt when newcomer Jerry Crossley, a promising sprinter, was tripped up in the quarter mile and suffered a severely cut knee, but Jerry courageously finished the race and crossed the wire in under 60 seconds. The injury proved to be more serious than everyone expected and Crossley was taken to Sacred Heart Hospital in Norristown for hospital attention. It is hoped Jerry will be able to re-join the team for the last few meets.

The Bears are training hard for this week's meet with the Mules of Muhlenburg at home on Wednesday. Looking for second and third place strength, the thinclads of Ursinus feel they can turn from their losing ways against Muhlenburg. The Mules also have been unsuccessful in winning this season, so the Bruins are optimistic of finding their way to win number one.

 cause we don't agree with him on some subject. He may look at the subject from a different angle than you. What happens after this disagreement? You start to get cold to your friend and he notices your indifferent attitude. Gradually you begin to drift apart. A close friend slowly becomes an enemy.

Listen, mio amico, if you think that you can live without a friend in a community, you are a nut. As long as you and I live among people we need companionship. Listen, you married couples, don't you ever have an argument with each other. Look out for those flying dishes or rolling pins. Pipe down and say, "All right, honey, I was wrong."

Don't expect a friend to agree with you on all things; play the game of give and take. That's the best way of keeping a good friend near you.

That's all for now. Thank you for your close attention.
 Your amico,
 Bell

ERRATUM

By a printers error, the name of W. Lee Lawhead was omitted from the Chi Alpha article last week. Mr. Lawhead has been accepted at the Theological Seminary of the Evangelical and Reformed Church at Lancaster, Pennsylvania.

Play Review . . .

 given the undertaker touch by John Deisinger. The part which he had could have achieved more sympathy from the audience if he had been a little less stiff.

Diana Vye, as the maid, Mary Jo Turtzo as the cold-fish debutante, and the dancers, Katrinka Schnabel, Tom Rosenberg, Barbara Brecht and Peter Booke, provided background and amusement in the smaller parts.

It must be said that the Cockatoo, as portrayed by "Clinker," was the worst ham in the play.

The director, Wes Schwemmer, created a fast moving, accentuated pace for the play. The effect was humorous and sophisticated. The set, managed by Dick Menkus, brought Long Island closer to Collegeville than one would have thought possible. The student producer, Bob Gilgor, succeeded in performing the difficult feat of making money!

An extremely receptive audience was captivated by the well-timed, sometimes hilarious unfolding of the play. The players managed to maintain the brittle wit that makes Sabrina Fair such an entertaining bit of fluff.

Omega Chi Elects New Officers
