Thirteen Seniors to Appear in '56 Who's Who

February 20 Set As Deadline for May Day Pageants

by Faith Helmle '56

Ursinus women are reminded that May Day comes quickly once second semester begins. The biggest part is the presentation of the pageant, a tradition at Ursinus. All women students have an opportunity to participate in May Day as members of dance groups and committees.

Have you had any inspiring ideas about a theme for the May Day pageant yet? If not, you better hop to it, since the deadline for pageant entries is February 20. To be entered in the contest sponsored by the Ursinus Circle, all pageants must be turned in to Dean Stahr. A $25 prize is offered for the winning one. To make this May Day the best, many pageants must be submitted so that the judges have a variety from which to choose.

Original Theme

Pageants used in former years are on display in the library for students to read. The General Pageantry committee is looking for a pageant with a more original theme this year! Maybe this pageant could be based on well known characters, a fairy tale, operetta, or a novel. Past pageants have been too much alike, so get away from the toyshop idea. Do not get involved in writing a too complex theme, but have a good basic theme or skeleton into which dance groups and characters may fit.

Last Year's Winner

Last year's winning pageant, "The Magic Hour," was written by Betty Tayes '57. This theme was based on the happenings that took place in a toyshop from midnight to 1:00 a.m. During this magic hour, the toyshop elf crowned the Queen. The Queen then returned to the storybook with her court, and all the toys returned to their places at 1:00 a.m.

The date for May Day is May 12 this year. Deadline dates for pageants and petitions were set at a meeting of the General Pageantry Committee on January 11. The committee consists of Miss Camilla B. Stahr, Miss Mildred Morris, Mrs. Connie Warren Poley, Robin Blood '56 and Faith Helmle '56. We are proud to have Mrs. Poley as director of this year's pageant. She has done a wonderful job in the past.

Petitions

Petitions to nominate candidates for the roles of May Queen and of manager will begin on February 6 and must be completed by February 12. Any woman student may start a petition, on which she must get 50 signatures. Every woman student may sign one petition for May Queen and one for manager. Nominees must be members of the senior class. All girls are urged to consider carefully the selection of queen and manager, and to start petitions immediately after semester vacation. Election day for these positions is February 13. To avoid duplication, petitions must be checked at the office of the Dean of women before being circulated. When completed, petitions are to be given to Miss Stahr.

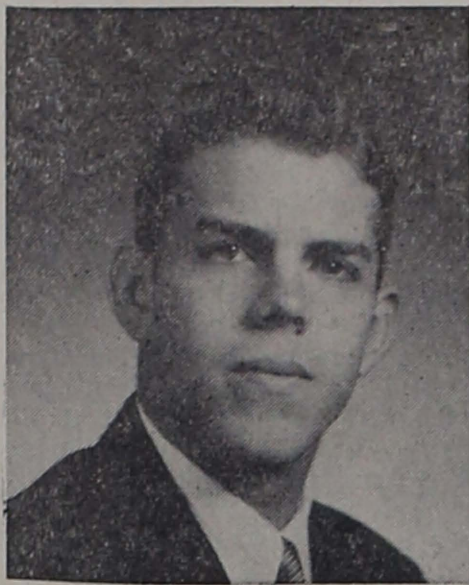

Bell Schedule for Finals

During the period of final examinations, beginning January 20, the school bell will be rung daily as follows:

Breakfast	8:00 a.m.
Morning Exams	8:50 a.m.
Lunch	11:55 a.m.
Afternoon Exams	1:00 p.m.
Dinner	5:25 p.m.

High School Hears U. C. Choral Group

The Meistersingers received a very enthusiastic reception at the Collegeville-Trappe High School when they presented their first concert for 1956 on January 12. The selections were: "Sons and Daughters of A Land Reborn," "Comin Through the Rye," "I Believe," "While We're Young," "Dream of Olwen," and "Tribute to Romberg."

Dr. William F. Phillip and John Hottenstein shared the conducting chores. Since the Meistersingers' choir gowns are in their 17th year, the choir has decided to buy new ones. The style and color will be decided by the members at a later date. Dr. Donald L. Helfferich and the Music Club will buy the gowns. The gowns, which will also be supplied for the Chapel Choir, will be ready for the Spring Tour.

The annual Spring Tour has been scheduled for April 15, 16, 17 and 18. Concerts will be performed in Reading, York, Baltimore, Annapolis and Wilmington. A special concert on Television Station WDEL, Channel 12, Wilmington, will probably be given. A date for the Spring Concert has not been set as yet but will be announced at a later date.

Dr. Miller's Class Visits Bryn Mawr

On Thursday, January 5, Dr. Miller's seminar class in International Law went to Bryn Mawr College to hear Mr. Arthur Link speak on "The Fruits of Leadership." The program was in commemoration of the one-hundredth anniversary of the year of Woodrow Wilson's birth. It was sponsored by the Woodrow Wilson Foundation of New York. Programs similar to the two day conference at Bryn Mawr, will be presented throughout the year by the Foundation. Bryn Mawr was chosen for the first one because President Wilson taught there for several years.

Bloodmobile Visits Ursinus Feb. 15

February 15th has been set aside as the date for the annual visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile to Ursinus College. This community service has been made available to the student body by the YM-YWCA, and will be organized under the co-chairmanship of Gayle Livingston, '58, and Bruce Holcombe, '57.

An appeal will be made to each Fraternity and sorority and to dormitories and both day studies to contribute to the blood bank of the American Red Cross. Application blanks will be distributed to all volunteers before the semester vacation.

The WRC and SRC are planning their annual trip to New York City. The dates are Jan. 30th, and 31st, and Feb. 1st. The trip will include a visit to the U. N. Building, a Broadway show, a trip to a Settlement House, and a tour of Brooklyn.

Tomorrow night in Room 8, the final meeting will be held concerning this trip. All those who are interested and have not signed up to go are urged to come.

The Student Worship Commission is planning a visit to a Catholic Church. The next meeting will include a talk by Rabbi Schorsch.

Thirteen members of the Ursinus student body have been nominated and elected to the 1955-56 Edition of Who's Who Among Students In American Universities and Colleges. Recognition in this publication is one of the highest honors a student of an American college can receive. Campus nominating committees, consisting of administrative, faculty, and student representatives, consider in making their selections, the student's scholarship; his participation and leadership in academic and extracurricular activities; his citizenship and service to the school; his promise of future usefulness. The Ursinusites elected are all seniors.

Cupid Hits U. C. Over Vacation

Anticipating a busy year, St. Valentine stopped off a month early to look in on the students of Ursinus, and the Ursinusites lived up to his expectations. The first stop he made was at the Broad Street Methodist Church in Philadelphia where, on December 26, 1955, Sue Holmes '56, became the bride of Naval Air Cadet Peter Hottenstein '55. Ushers at the ceremony were Carl Smythe '55 and Mel Aden '54.

St. Valentine then told his messenger, Dan Cupid, to shoot some arrows in the direction of the following "pre-med" students whose engagements were forthwith declared: Helen Ames '58 to William Jackson, Finley College '57; Ruth Bausler '56 to Gary Brewster, Hobart College '51; Robin Blood '56 to Gene "Taff" Harris, Ursinus '55; Gwen Bream '56 to Ray Drum '56; Doretta Brown '58 to Pfc. Gene Paskooff, Fort Devens, Mass.; Kay Fretz '56 to Rowland Hutchinson, U. of P. School of Dentistry '58; Mary Helen Hartlieb '56 to Pfc. Hank Jendricks, Fort Devens, Mass.; Jean Hunsberger '57 to Jack Hillegass, Lehigh University '56; Pat Jones '57 to John Hottenstein '56; Shirley Jones '56 to William Harry Selling; Alice LeFever '59 to the Rev. Eugene Schupp, Eden Theological Seminary '51; Nancy Paine '56 to Rodney Henrie, Lancaster Theological Seminary '58, Ursinus '55; Barbara Wagner '56 to Wilmer Cressman, Penn State '53.

Dan Cupid then took aim carefully and struck several men on campus who had up until that time been known to wear fraternity pins upon their sweaters. This marksmanship resulted in the following pinnings being announced: Kay Kerper '57 to Frank Green, U. of P. School of Medicine '59, Ursinus '55; Carole Robacker '59 to Ken Gray '58; Carol Scheidhauer to Jack "Rip" Townsend '57; June Stauffer, Russell-Sage College '57 to Bud Walker '57; Connie Thomas '56 to Jerry Nunn '57; Judy Thomas '59 to Vinton Fisher '56; Charlene Ziegler '58 to Karl Herwig '57.

The members of the Weekly staff join St. Valentine, Dan Cupid and the Ursinus student body in congratulating the newly-pledged couples.

EDITORIAL

How Strong the Foundation?

At a point in time, there was a man who built a house. The site he chose for a foundation was, to all outward signs, a good one, one of rock. This man proceeded to build his house, a towering structure which served well to protect him and his family.

You ask: "What has this to do with Ursinus College?" We answer: "This has everything to do with Ursinus and, more personally, with you, the Ursinus student. This story is purely analogous, but we feel that it is one that might straighten out certain thoughts in the minds of those of you who wonder why Ursinus is not "loaded" with what is commonly called "school spirit".

Let us analyze this story's meaning in connection with our college. Years ago, a group of men formed the organization now called Ursinus College. It evolved into an institution based on a rock foundation of purposeful traditions and high standards. An impressive structure was built, a combination of high scholastic standing and well supported, energetically produced dances, parties and athletic events. These things lasted for many years, but the latter has shown a definite collapse recently, while the scholastic phase is taking a less evident, yet marked, beating.

What is the cause of this situation? Let's just say that the foundation, that rock of good traditions and standards, has been eaten away from within by a hidden, yet powerful stream—a stream of apathy, a stream that could appear in no other way except it be carried by you, the Ursinus student.

This, then, is what we have determined to be the cause of our lack of "spirit", apathy on the part of our student body. The remedy is up to the students of this college. You ask why there is no "school spirit"? The answer lies in the reason for your not attending the last basketball game or not aiding the decorations for your class dance, or any number of other practical applications of this thing we lack—"school spirit". —Jos. W. Atkins, Jr.

The Bell Tower

by Larry Foard '57

(To all Freshmen about to take their first finals, and to all those goof-offs who may be taking their last, this poem is respectfully dedicated with apologies to Mr. Bryant.)

To him who in the love of folly holds Communion with her various forms, she speaks A different language for his every hour; She has a voice of gladness, and a smile And power of distraction, and she enters Into his evening hours, with some other Activity, that lasts through Their duration, ere he is aware. When thoughts Of that last, bitter hour come like a plight Over thy spirit, and sad images Of the test paper, and blue book, and questions, And empty mind, and harder questions yet, Make thee shudder and grow sick at heart; — Think: Yet not to thine final testing-place Shalt thou go alone, nor couldst thou wish Failure more magnificent. Thou shalt flunk out With patriarchs of thy college world — with pre-meditators. S. G. A. members—the loafer, the shirker, Fair forms, and venerable forty-year men, All in a single week.

Better: So work, that when thy summons comes to join The innumerable caravan, which moves To those dim-lit rooms, where each shall take His test in the silent class-building halls, Thou go not, like the quarry slave at night, Scourged to his dungeon, but, sustained by more Than one all-night cram, approach thy exam. Like one who wraps the drapery of his couch About him, and lies down to pleasant dreams.

Dillio Gives Some Advice to the T-G. Delinquents

This is the second time that I have been called upon to make a speech before you; some of you heard me the last time and some didn't. Now then, when we discuss a subject, we speak of it as a whole because there is always some exception to a rule.

I want to call your attention to what those exceptions will do sometime. You boys, as a whole are very well behaved and I am pleased with you, but it is some of those boys who are the exceptions that I am trying to reach. Remember this — people in the community, in general, are good upright citizens who obey the laws. The people in the community themselves lay down the laws that we must obey; but why must we have laws, if the people are upright citizens? In my opinion, it is because of those few exceptions, who challenge the people as a whole, that the law is passed. Now, how does this concern you and me? Well, that is the reason why we must have rules in the gym for everyone to obey. Some of you boys challenge me by taking the equipment that belongs to Ursinus College; it does not belong to you. It is my duty to protect the College property.

Some of you boys have made remarks, saying, "Bell, you don't pay for it, why do you squawk?" I will try to answer that question. You as individuals, are not paying for your education; it is your parents who have made sacrifices so that they could save some money to pay for your education. How would your parents feel if they found out that their son was a failure in college? It is the same way with me. What would my superior think of me if I failed to fulfill my duties? They would be disappointed too!

In my opinion, it is not so much of a question who pays for the equipment as it is the morality that is involved! It is our duty to teach you boys the right way of living. So my advice is don't take things that don't belong to you. You would be the first boy to squawk if someone should take something from you. I will close now, and I thank you for your close attention.

"The Boy Friend" Reveals Realities of the Roaring '20's

by Jim Morris '56

It is a known fact to everyone, well, at least legend to American History students at Ursinus—that the nineteen twenties were "roaring." Just how "roaring" we can never tell because we can never live again that faded wonderful era of the flapper, the Charleston, the hip flask, and Rudy Vallee. However, there is the possibility that we can see and hear it in the gay new musical comedy, "The Boy Friend," which is the closest recreation of the twenties without a time machine. "The Boy Friend" is completely saturated with the uninhibited spirit of those stylized, old-fashioned, wild and roaring years. What's more, it is a British musical comedy with national flavor and a detached perspective that politely tears apart the twenties in hilarious satire. Actually, the play is just one big musical joke—one which takes the older theater-goer back to his youth and folly and reminds the younger that the world once did exist without rhythm and blues and blue-jeans.

The satire is consistent in that the music, theme, and characters are all prototypes of the twenties. While the music is gay and performed with enormous vitality, it tends to overshadow the non-original theme and the rather lightly sketched "puppet-like" characters. While the scene is located on the gay, high spirited Riviera, the action of the play, built around a girls' finished school in quite bogged down by a rather dull commonplace theme — each female must have a boy-friend and must be happily united at the final curtain. In general, the enormous wit and humor can be attributed to no specific lines but to the grotesque "overdone" actions on the satirized characters and to the glorious re-living of fond old memories of the older theater-goers. The music which frames the theme predominantly outshines the satire and is more memorable and penetrating than the theme itself. Moreover, the characters are quite "wire-pulled" by the satire and its nineteen-twenty stereotype. Consequently with no heavy drawn human interest characters the comedy of the satire rests too much upon "slap-stick" and the exorbitant music. In fact, the music was so ingeniously prototyped that it made many an older theater-goer feel that they'd heard the music before. Some were so thrilled that they clapped and cheered for "Encores." The familiar sound of the musical prototype of the twenties deservedly brought the house down.

Therefore, with all its familiar sounds and sights and light hearted ridiculous humor, there is no question of this play taking place in any other era than those forgotten, lost years that are so naively and casually called "roaring" in history classes. Accordingly, I advisedly recommend "The Boy Friend" for not only a delightful evening's entertainment at the legitimate theater but also for an amusing British view of ourselves and our one and only "roaring" twenties. As one of the British actors, John Hower, quipped in Prologue, "... After all, we British, too, had the twenties. . ."

Bears Seek Victory Tonight After Dropping Four Straight

With a good chance for victory in sight, the Bears take the court tonight against the Phila. Pharmacy five on the home court.

The Bruins, victors in only one contest this year, are anxious to chalk up a victory tonight. Coach Yost will probably start a squad consisting of forwards — Jack Schumacher and Dick Churn, center — Jack Taylor, and guards — Paul Neborak and Bob Wagner.

The Drexel Dragons handed the Ursinus Basketball Squad their Sixth defeat in seven starts last Saturday night, 81-63, in the Gollegeville Gym.

Bob Buckley's 23 points and Ron Kleppinger's 16 along with notable aid from Joe Campbell and co-captains Bill Harley and John Loomis, spelled the downfall of the Bears. Jack Taylor led the home team offense with 21 counters and Inky Wagner contributed 18 points and an excellent floor game. Paul Neborak also had double figures with 13 points.

The Bears showed their usual fine first half play and came to within three points of their opponents when time ran out with the score 34-31 at halftime. Neborak's sharp eye and Wagner's hustle kept the Collegevillers in the running during the first session, but the spirited Dragons poured it on in the second half to run up the count.

Buckley and Kleppinger were hot from underneath while Harley played a whale of a floor game and Campbell almost refused to miss from outside.

PMC Nips Bears

Pennsylvania Military College topped the Bears last Wednesday night on the Cadet's court, 65-59.

Jack Taylor was high man once again for the Bruins with 21 points while Jack Schumacher added 14 and Paul Neborak netted 11.

The tightly contested game was decided by the well-rounded play of the Cadets, paced by Dunn with 14 counters and Ambrosine and Walsh with 13 apiece.

Bruins Topped by Garnet

On Saturday, January 7, Swarthmore College chalked up a victory at the expense of the Ursinus quintet, 71-64, at Swarthmore.

Fischer and Greenawalt were high men for the Garnet with the former netting 26 points to take game scoring honors. Neborak was top man for the Bears with 18 tallies while Schumacher aided with 13 and Taylor with 10.

F & M Victorious

Several weeks ago, Franklin and Marshall journeyed to Collegeville with a secret weapon in the person of Warren Chase. Chase contributed 35 points with an unbelievable one hand set which led the Diplomats to a one-sided, 82-60 victory over the hapless Bears.

Although Ursinus athletics hit a low ebb during the past week, several notable performances were turned in by determined Bruin athletes. This corner would like to call a time out and point out these contributions.

In wrestling, two freshman sensations have stolen the spotlight in their first few bouts in collegiate competition. Jack Prutzman and Tony Cianci, both from Reading, have already proven that they have what it takes to make winning grapplers.

Jack has won three straight, one in the 177 pound division, and has the distinction of beating Larry Dillon of Lafayette, runnerup to the Middle Atlantic champ last year.

Tony has scored two impressive decisions while losing to Hutchison of Lafayette, Middle Atlantic Champion last year.

Also outstanding on the mats was Dick Heydt. Sluggo has won three straight bouts and Saturday defeated his old rival, Hollis Price.

In basketball, Jack Taylor and "Inkey" Wagner have been the only bright spots in a dull campaign. Jack played a fine game against Drexel, netting 21 points and playing an excellent defensive game.

Belles Confident of Another Good Year

The girls' basketball team, under the expert coaching of Miss Eleanor Snell and Miss Jen Price, is looking forward to a promising season. The "Belles" are eager to equal or surpass the fine standard of excellence established by teams of past years, and they have been hard at work since before Thanksgiving.

On Saturday, January 6, 1956, the squad played the Cubs (an alumnae team) and came out with a fine 69-37 victory. They also scrimmaged with Reading on January 13.

The first official game is on February 6, at 4:00 p.m. on the home court. This will be a third team game with Gwynedd-Mercy. The season starts February 7 for the varsity and Jayvee with games at Rosemont.

Captain Marge Dawkins feels that if Saturday's game and performance during practices are any indication, the team and fans can look forward to an outstanding season.

It seems that the girls have the coaching, the "know-how", the skill, and the will; but there is one thing they need badly—your support. All but two of the scheduled games will be played on the Ursinus court, and the "Belles" are depending on plenty of cheering power. Don't let them down!

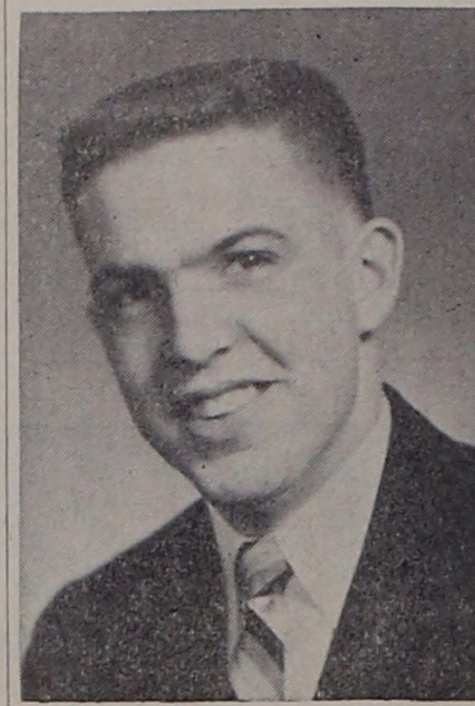

Inkey, the most colorful player on the floor in any contest, scored 18 points Saturday and played a sparkling floor game.

Paul Neborak has continued to play his steady brand of basketball.

Let's hope this mid-term vacation will serve as the needed tonic for the Bruin athletes and we can find winning ways when we return.

Dave Burger Receives All-American Honors

Dave Burger, Ursinus all-around athlete, has been named to the Second Team, All-American Soccer Squad selected by the National Coaches Soccer Association throughout the United States. This honor marks the second year in a row that Ursinus has managed to place a player on the All-American team. Last year, Larry Zartman won the same distinction.

Dave and Larry Shane of Swarthmore were the only players from colleges in the Middle Atlantic League to win places on the "All" squad this year.

Dave has been the spark and guiding light of this year's soccer team. Repeatedly this season Burg made 30 or more saves in one game. His sparkling work as goal tender acted as an equalizer between Ursinus and much more experienced teams.

His leadership has also been noticed as his teammates have elected him co-captain for next year along with Bill Rheimer. Dave is a real hustler and gives everything he has all of the time.

Burg is a phys-ed major and hopes to teach and coach after his graduation next year. He has been a frequent starter for the basketball team this year after playing Jayvee ball for two seasons. He also participates in track where his excellent coordination aids him in the high jumping event. Dave holds the Intramural high jump record at 5 ft., 8 in. Dave is a member of Demas Fraternity.

Dave will return to his cage next year to torment the forward lines of our opponents with his cat-like movements in the goal and his uncanny work at stopping what seems to be a perfect shot.

For the second straight year Ursinus can be proud to have an All-American, and none could be more worthy of the honor than Dave Burger.

Shreiner Set to Repeat as Champs

Last Tuesday Shreiner defeated Maples 33-17 in the semi-finals of the intra-dormitory volleyball tournament.

In two preliminary games Shreiner beat the Rimby's-Lynnewood team 36-14 and took the measure of South 29-12. Shreiner then went on to its third consecutive victory in giving Maples its first loss. As you can see it was a memorable night for Shreiner as its well-coordinated team outplayed the opposition teams consistently.

Fords, Leopards Drop Grapplers; Garnet Stopped by Bruins, 19-11

Haverford College scored two pins in the final bouts Saturday to give the Fords a thrilling, 20-14 victory over the Bruin grapplers on the main line mats.

Winson Baker pinned George Aucott in 1:40 of the second period with a half nelson and body press, ensuring the Fords victory after 177 pounder Tom Martenis had turned the same trick on the Bears Fred Godshall at 2:37 of the first period with a half nelson and bar.

The Bears had a shaky start, dropping the first two decisions on falls. Harry Lesser put Don Durr away in 57 seconds of the final period with a body press and the Ford's Grey Goggin followed with a quick, first period all over Hobson.

Captain Dick Padula put the Bruins in the win column with a last period fall over stagnant Steve Sardoff with a half nelson and crotch hold. The Haverford grappler "froze" throughout the entire bout, but Padula finally managed to turn him over and Sardoff got a better view of the gymnasium lights.

The three Reading high alumni then put the Bruins in the lead with three impressive decisions. 147 pounder freshman Tony Cianci tied up Haverford's co-captain, Lou Miller, 6-0; 157 pound sensation Jack Prutzman easily defeated Don Cahill, 5-0; and veteran 167 pounder Dick Heydt handed an old rival, Hollis Price, a hard-fought, 4-3 defeat.

This was the last chance for the Collegeville contingent to cheer, however, as the stage was set for the ending fiasco.

Bethlehem, Jan. 11

The Bears fell to strong Lafayette squad on Wednesday evening, 21-8, for their initial defeat of the campaign.

Only Jack Prutzman and Dick Heydt were able to walk off the mats with victories. "Prutz" handed MAC runnerup, (last year) Larry Dillon, a spine-tingling 3-2 loss, while "Sluggo" edged Don Cherry by the same score in another thriller.

The surprise of the evening came when Zarbatany of Lafayette held unbeaten Dick Padula a 7-7 draw. The 133 pound champion kept his unbeaten string intact but he failed to show his usual, exciting wrestling to the local fans.

The Leopards recorded the only two pins as 123 pound Heirly pinned Don Durr in 1:31 of the second period with a half nelson and crotch and heavy-weight monster Don Sayenga crushed George Aucott in 2:24 of the second period with a body press. The other losses came in the 130 pound class (Schleikon decisioned Hobson, 5-1) 147 pound class (Hutchison decisioned Cianci, 6-1) and 177 pound class (Sinibaldi decisioned Godshall, 7-3).

Collegeville, Jan. 7

The Bears defeated Swarthmore College 19-11 in their first bout of the year. Aucott and Padula recorded pins to highlight the action while Prutzman and Cianci captured their first bouts in Collegiate competition. Heydt scored the only other Ursinus victory.

The Summaries:

- 123—Rubin (S) decisioned Durr, 9-1.
- 130—Hawley (S) pinned Miyazaki in 1:55 of the second period (body press)
- 137—Padula (U) pinned Matson in 1:35 of 1st period (body press).
