Robin Blood Elected May Queen; Jody Myers is Mgr.

Robin Also Wins $25 Prize from the Ursinus Circle for Writing the Best Pageant

The 1956 May Day has two spotlights on Robin Blood as May Queen and writer of the winning pageant. Robin will receive the $25 prize for her pageant, "Cherry Blossom Jubilee", from the Ursinus Circle.

Activities

Robin Blood and Jody Myers were elected Queen and Manager, respectively, of May Day, held May 12. The election, directed by the Central Nominating Committee, was held Monday, Feb. 13. Our May Queen, Robin Blood, an English major from Ventnor, N. J., is president of the Women's Student Government Association. She is a cheerleader, a waitress in the dining room, a member of Future Teachers of America and of Tau Sigma Gamma sorority. Robin was in the May Court of 1953, was a Fraternity Queen, for Old Timer's Day in 1954 and 1955, and was Homecoming Queen last Fall.

A History major from York, Pa., Jody is president of Phi Alpha Psi, secretary of Intersorority Council, a member of Future Teachers of America and of the Messiah Chorus last year she was chairman of decorations of the Junior Prom, she works in the supply store, and is a Major-ette.

Use Your Lost and Found

The Lost and Found Department at Ursinus College is located in the Dean's Office. Many students seem to be unaware of this fact, or just don't care about their possessions for over the past few months a great variety of items have been turned in and have never been claimed.

Among the articles lost (or discarded) and available to anyone who can prove ownership are one Trueblood's "Logic of Belief", a green mitten with the initials "Q. W." on it, a mink-lined thermos half-filled with an amber fluid, and the Hope Diamond. Students are invited to come up at any time and claim their lost possessions.

Committee of the Freshman Class.

Committees

There will be a meeting this week of the General Pageantry Committee to appoint a chairman of committees and committee heads. Wednesday afternoon, March 7, is the day for the mass meeting of women students to be held in S12. Slides of previous May Days will be shown, and Robin will give a summary of the 1956 pageant.

Phila. Art Museum Holds Exhibition

"The Family of Man," an exhibition of creative photography, composed of 503 examples by 273 photographers from 68 countries will be shown at the Philadelphia Museum of Art from March 24th through April 29th, it has been announced by R. Sturgis Ingersoll, President of the Museum. This is the famous exhibition assembled by Edward Steichen for the Museum of Modern Art in New York where it was first shown to record-breaking crowds.

Edward Steichen, Director of the Department of Photography of the Museum of Modern Art, spent nearly three years selecting the pictures for the exhibition from more than two million photographs. The story of "The Family of Man" is told entirely in photographs and the subject is life, from birth to death, with emphasis on the daily relationships of man to himself, to the world he lives in. Mr. Steichen described the exhibition as "the most ambitious and challenging project photography has ever attempted."

The showing of "The Family of Man" at the Philadelphia Museum of Art is sponsored by the Philadelphia Inquirer Charities, Inc. The exhibition is being shown in other American Museums and cities in Central America and Europe.

Admission to "The Family of Man" is 50 cents. Mondays free. Ticket to the exhibition may be obtained in advance by sending a check and a stamped self-addressed envelope to "The Family of Man," Philadelphia Museum of Art, Parkway at Fairmount Avenue, Philadelphia 30. Arrangements for school groups at 25 cents per person may be made through the Division of Education of the Museum. POplar 5-0500.

The Philadelphia Museum of Art is open every day from 9:00 a.m. to 5 p.m. Closed holidays.

Dr. Rice Offers Non-Credit Course in Esperanto

An announcement of a course in Esperanto, the international language, has been offered to Ursinus students by Dr. Allan Rice, assistant registrar. This year, as last, it will be a non-credit course to be held once a week for four weeks beginning after spring vacation. Last year a total of sixty students took part in learning this international code with the green star as its symbol.

Esperanto had its official start in 1817 in Poland. Since then the language has been indorsed by many governments on both sides of the "iron curtain." An Esperanto newspaper is printed in Holland and postage stamps in honor of it have been issued. The United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization advocated the use of Esperanto at a conference in Montivideo last year. An interesting derivative from Esperanto is the possibility for the students to begin a correspondence with pen pals abroad.

Dr. Rice has also suggested that students with a weakness in foreign languages would find the course very helpful as well as other interested students.

All those interested are urged to sign up in the registrar's office before spring vacation and to leave a schedule with him. All students will be required to purchase an Esperanto beginner's kit for a dollar from the Esperanto Library in Middleton, Wisconsin before the start of the course.

Freshman Dinner, Buzz Groups on Marriage Highlight "Y" Activities

Last Tuesday night the "Y" cabinet gave a spaghetti dinner to the Freshmen students. Almost 165 people attended, including the special guests. After dinner Sidney Quinn told the group how a book jacket is planned and completed and also a brief sketch of his life.

Buzz Groups

This past Wednesday the "Y" had three "Buzz Groups on Marriage" in Bomberger Hall. There were three topics, the first, "Marriage and A Career"; the second, "Marriage and Religion"; the third, "Marriage and One Partner a College Graduate." The three groups were well attended by the students.

Dr. Eugene Miller spoke on the topic "Marriage and A Career". The group just discussed the type of wife a man wants: Japanese wife, a perfect husband; a partner. They then discussed whether the wife should consider the husband and see if he really wants his wife to have a career. The wife should also consider the children in the pre-school and school age and the effect her being away from them would have.

The discussion group agreed with all the rest of the points brought forth. They decided that with children it is better not to work because the mother should be home when the children come back from school. This reason is also an advantage psychologically. The mother should be home with the children until they are in high school. However, it would be possible to have a part-time job while raising a family because of the financial boost it would give.

Career

The husband may have a greater sense of security, knowing that the wife could or does work to help with the income status of the household. Also the future seems more secure in case of the husband's death. The wife has a career to follow.

Some women do not work for economic reasons, but merely because they are happier with employment outside the home. They may also work not so much for luxuries but to provide an education for their children.

The discussion group was in general agreement that grandparents should not take care of the children. Occasionally they may consider it a privilege to help out, but they should be allowed to live their own lives and not be held responsible for the care of the grandchildren.

Lawhead, Stevenson Editors for 1957 Ruby

Hummel and Scofield Elected Ruby Business Managers by Juniors at Recent Meeting

Editors for the 1957 Ruby have been selected. Lee Lawhead and Helen Stevenson, class of 1957, will co-edit the yearbook. The business management will be carried on by Dick Hummel and John Scofield.

Lee Lawhead

Lee, who is vice-president of the junior class had this to comment about next year's Ruby.

MSGA Plans New Activities Comm.

At the meeting of February 20, President Dick Hennessey, '56, gave a financial report on the "Lorelei", held Feb. 17. After the sale of programs it was found that the M.S.G.A., W.S.G.A. and Intersorority and Interfraternity Councils broke even on the dance.

Thefts in Boys' Dorms

Thefts in Brodbeck and Curtis Halls have been reported in the last few weeks. Both money and books have been stolen. Students are reminded to keep their doors locked when leaving the dormitory. The school is not responsible for stolen articles.

New Activities Set-up Proposed

The bulk of the meeting was taken up with a discussion of the proposed renewal of the pre-war set-up of the Student Activities Committee and the feasibility of re-adoption of such a set-up. It was decided that a joint meeting of the MSGA, W.S.G.A. and Faculty Committee on Student Activities should be held at which the proposal would be discussed. Students will receive a report after the joint meeting, by which time the various points of interest will have been decided.

Students, particularly those in the Stine Hall area, are reminded that water fights are illegal on campus.

Pre-Meds to Hear Mr. Nevin Kressley

Mr. Nevin Kressley, prominent physical therapist from Lansdowne, Pa., will address the Brownback-Anders Pre-Medical Society tonight at 7:30. Mr. Kressley is one of the society's few non-medical guests, and his visit here should prove extremely helpful to those individuals whose future is as yet undetermined. He will present an illustrated talk on "The Many Job Opportunities for Interested Students in Physical Therapy," and all students in all majors are invited.

The society has announced plans for their annual dinner-dance, and details of this project will be discussed tonight. All those people who plan to attend are advised to be present.

All junior class pre-meds are further advised to obtain and file applications for the Medical College Aptitude Test, if they have not already done so. Applications are available in the biology lab this week on Tuesday and Thursday of this week.

Work Begins on Charity Drive

At the second meeting of the Campus Chest Committee final arrangements for the coming campaign were discussed and planned. The list of Charities that the student body will vote on to determine which ones will receive some money is being made up.

The dorm solicitors for receiving the donations from the students have been selected and the final list will be chosen today. Chapel talks concerning the functions and meaning of the Campus Chest will also be held.

Work on the Student Faculty Show and "The Soc Hop" is progressing. The only thing left is the cooperation of the student body to make this campaign a successful one.

"I am quite appreciative of the confidence the junior class has in me to appoint me to such a responsible position. It will be quite a task to achieve as fine goals as those of this year's Ruby staff under the very capable leadership of Barbara Koch and Harvey Levin. However, with the cooperation of the unprecedented junior class, I hope to do all I can in making the '57 Ruby one of unsurpassable greatness."

Psych Major

Born in nearby Pottsville, Lee, a psychology major, is very much interested in art and architecture, and also in track. In fact he would like very much to break school records in the mile and 880. Other activities in which Lee participates are the Varsity Club, soccer team—he is manager, and the Zeta Chi Fraternity of which he is secretary.

Upon graduation from Ursinus Lee plans to enter the Lancaster Theological Seminary to study for the Christian Ministry. He will enter the United States Navy as a Chaplain and plans to make it a career.

Helen Stevenson

Helen Stevenson who has spent her summers working as a camp counselor, soda jerk, and tobacco clerk was very honored to be elected to her post. "I'd like to say that I hope our Ruby will be a lasting expression of the cooperation, unity, and spirit of the class of '57 for only by the combination of those three can we successfully follow the class of '56."

Very active at Ursinus, Helen participates in the Y Cabinet as Co-Chairman of the W.S.G.A., holds the vice-presidency of the W.S.G.A. and is a member of Tau Sigma Gamma sorority and the Forum Committee. In her "spare" time Helen tries her hand at painting, cooking, knitting, and swimming. She loves to read and to talk and listen to people talk.

Helen is an English major and thinks that she would like some sort of service work as a career. More or less as a secret desire she has always wanted to go to Spain. Perhaps some day this wish will come true.

Dick Hummel

Dick Hummel, co-business manager, feels that Ursinus would be improved of "a more complete and higher classed type of social activities which would include concerts and forums given by nationally prominent people" were included in the curriculum.

An economics major, Dick spent his past summer training at the Quantico School for Marine Officers, also as counselor at a boys camp in the Poconos. Next year he plans to receive his commission in the United States Marine Corps.

Outside of studies, Dick's free moments at U.C. are occupied with acting as in the fall Curtain Club production, being M.C. of the Student-Faculty show, and Vice-President of the Zeta Chi Fraternity. Discussing his newly-elected post Dick remarked, "The position of co-business manager is a very responsible one since over $4,000 must be obtained in order to publish an excellent yearbook. It is quite an honor to be elected to such a position."

John Scofield

John Scofield also feels that financial support is essential. He commented that "If the Ruby gets that support from everyone I am sure that the Ruby staff will produce a yearbook that we can all be proud of. Although this year's Ruby has not yet come out, from all reports I think that the editors have done an excellent job."

A member of the Sigma Rho Lambda Fraternity, and Business Administration Club, John is a Hi-Fi fan and enthusiast and "loves good music." Enjoying traveling, John has been to such places as Puerto Rico, Hawaii, and has covered most of the United States. For John, a math major, the future holds the possibility of working in industry, but this is not definite as yet.

Correction

The Selective Service Test will be given April 19, not March 5, as reported in the Feb. 20th issue of the Weekly.

EDITORIAL

The Other Side of the Coin

Several weeks ago, Joe Atkins wrote an excellent editorial for this space which described dramatically the general apathy and laxness on the Ursinus campus.

Actually, the core of school spirit is a feeling of unity, in spite of diversity. At Ursinus there seems to be nothing but diversity; and the various organizations on campus tend to heighten this diversity.

The Student Government Councils, for example, are split from the beginning into two separate governments. They lack that unifying control which they should have, through student-faculty committees, over the activities calendar and organizational financial appropriations.

The purpose of this editorial is to suggest that perhaps there is a need for a re-evaluation and revision of the existing structure of student life on campus.

Live, Love, and Learn; A Religious Ethic for College Men and Women

by Rev. Richard T. Schellhase Associate Professor of Religion

(Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of articles written by various clergymen and faculty members on the general subject of religion and ethics on the college campus.)

Robert Frost once wrote: "Don't join too many groups. Join few if any. Join the United States and join the family— and not much in between unless a college."

No matter what plans you now have for the future; no matter what, in the future, you may see still further ahead, you can never escape the eternal now. You are never in the past, nor ever in the future.

We're not interested in holding you in suspension, nor in seeing you hang in mid-air, so that, after four years of pumping and priming, we may unhook you from this unnatural or neutral position to send you out into the world with an A.B. or B.S., made ready for the day after tomorrow.

Faculty Places Blame for Dead Weekends on Students

by Jane Mowrey '58

There are two sides to every story the old saying goes. In its last issue, the Weekly staff printed an article on the topic of weekend activities. The information presented was comprised of the findings of a student poll. We'd like to present here a resume of the ideas of the faculty on the same question.

Compositely the faculty agrees that this so-called problem of dull weekends is an ancient one and that perhaps it is not as pronounced as we think. The professors say that Ursinus has not "slipped" so rapidly in this respect as other colleges in the East.

We are all becoming spectators and are forgetting the idea of participation. Because we are becoming mentally lazy, it behooves us to seek ready-made entertainment. Faculty members agree that we students have a responsibility to ourselves to use a little initiative and provide such entertainment for ourselves as walks, good music, and plain conversation.

Perhaps we have lost sight of the really good times we can have by just being companionable and entering into as many friendly relationships as possible.

A well-known faculty member is of the opinion that there is too much 'activism' on campus and that we should rethink our whole position. Simple, unplanned fun is more satisfying than the "elaborate program of entertainment" at Ursinus, another replies.

Especially interesting was an answer to the question of non-support of the present activities by our students. When asked what he thought on that topic, a professor countered with a vital thought. "If an activity does not satisfy a need on the part of the student, it will not be successful."

It is not the place of the educational institution to give entertainment. "More time in studying on weekends is more in harmony with the purposes of Ursinus College". These comments are challenging to our present views on the question.

We may conclude that there are two sets of opinions to be considered: the students' and the faculty's. However, it is up to the students to derive the best and most workable program from among these opinions and to put that program into effect.

He Ran Uneasily

— A Poem of Wartime — by C. D. Hudnut '57

He ran uneasily in his stretch of trench, feeling the nakedness of his head, helmeted but open, waiting unreasonably for the round he felt inevitable, perhaps then being dropped down its tube to rebound armed and well-set to kill at distance.

A little sixty mortar dropped a shell close by. He had earth before him—block for flat-flying steel—and behind him for things that carried past or fell short from the rear. but overhead the sky, nothing to slow or scatter the few pounds of explosive that could drop on his passage; in his mind he worked at outward presence, looked over trench-edges in semblance of his searching-work, but could only see his bleeding headless stump, split downward, mangled by something dropped noiselessly for him from a high quiet arch with origin behind that hill across the valley.

Tired of the Everyday Grind; Want To Get Away From It All: Try Flying

by C. D. Hudnut '57

Right across the creek and a few fields farther is Perkiomen Valley Airport—better known, I guess, as the place where the Prop Room is. When I was sixteen or so I used to—among other things aeronautical—sweep and wax the floor in the Prop Room to earn flying time. Private flying seemed to be enjoying a boom in the space between the Second World War and the Korean War.

single young guys, and if I could see well enough—I cannot—I would hesitate about .0002 seconds before signing on to one of the aviation cadet programs, Air Force or Navy. The services know nothing of this recruiting fetish of mine; I offer my song and dance free, gratis. Assuredly, there are more important things in life than flying—but in the art of war, which we must all practice, there is nothing more important. I'm getting this wrong, perhaps. What I mean is simply that I am absolutely grabbed by the mental seat of the pants everytime I hear a jet go by, making that beautiful searing sound, standing out in functional beauty against a very blue sky—and I would like to be in that thing. It doesn't seem inconceivable to me that some of you might share this emotion; I suggest you toss aside application for an interview with Scott Toilet Tissue Company and apply instead for a seat astride a J-57 jet engine.

Flight has meant a lot to me; that process of floating on thick soft air, of curving slowly down to tick wheels through grass is built right into my system, and I can be no happier than when I'm suspended in an open biplane about two thousand feet in the air on a warm summer Sunday morning. When I was sixteen, I was a tiger for flying; when the Korean War came I wanted to fly, but spent my service life being frustrated in this desire: I ended in the Army. Now if I were one of you

Bruins Win Tune-ups For MAC'S This Week

Cagers Clobbered Twice by Drexel, Haverford Quintets

Coach William Yost never should have taken his basketball team away from home!

As it turned out, the cagers were mauled in two visiting contests last week and fell into undisputed possession of the Middle Atlantic Conference cellar.

Fords, Dragons, Win

Drexel swamped the Bears with a 50-point second half on Wednesday evening, 96-66, and Haverford College, sparked by Phil D'Arrigo's record shattering performance, dashed to an 80-60 win on Saturday.

Wednesday's tilt saw the Dragons edging their way to a 46-36 halftime lead and then hitting from all angles in the second half to take their second straight from the Bears this year. Jack Schumacher was held to two field goals after the intermission after scoring 15 points in the first half. Paul Neborak had 14 counters.

Records Set

D'Arrigo scored 30 points in leading the Fords to victory, thus establishing a new season scoring record at Haverford with a total of 431 points in 15 games, surpassing the old mark of 402 made by George Montgomery in 1943.

Jack Schumacher and "Inkey" Wagner each collected 14 points for the Bears while Paul Neborak was held to 10. Dave Burger played a brilliant defensive game although he only managed to score one field goal.

The Bears have their final chance to better their 2-7 league record this Wednesday, when they host the Delaware Blue Hens.

Gettysburg, Lafayette Picked to Battle for MAC Crown; Padula, Prutzman to Win Division Titles

by Jack Townsend '57

The time has come for this reporter to stick his neck out even further than in the past. With the Middle Atlantic Championships coming up this weekend, I have taken a long look into my crystal ball and predicted the outcome of the mat clashes at Allentown.

The main reason I am doing this is to create the maximum interest in these wrestling championships held this year. Anyone who misses the MAC's this weekend will be very unfortunate.

If any Ursinus wrestler or fan feels as though I have displayed injustice or flagrant lack of spirit on the part of our contestants, I hope he realizes that I am basing my conclusions mainly on past records and common reasoning to arrive at my decisions — not wishful thinking. I, along with any other Ursinus fan, would love to see eight Bruin grapplers walk off with first place honors, but this would be a slight miracle.

Points are scored on a 6-4-2-1 basis. Also, one point is awarded to a team's total when a member of that team scores a pin.

Here they are — team scores first, followed by individual champions and a summary of each weight class.

TEAM	POINTS
Gettysburg	33
Lafayette	32
Ursinus	22
Bucknell	18
Delaware	14
Haverford	9
Muhlenberg	9
Swarthmore	4

123 — champion — Dale Boyd, Delaware

Boyd, hungry for a championship after losing the past two finals to Ed Dawkins, should finally reach the top prize although he will have his hands full with Lafayette's Ed Heirly. Ken Purdy (Gettysburg); Harry Lesser, (Hav.) and Steve Rubin, Swarth.) should round out the top five in that order.

130 — champion — Bob Wamsley, Gettysburg

Wamsley defeated Ursinus' Al Palone last year in an extra-period thriller to win the division title, but he shouldn't have that much trouble this year. Al Grande, (Bucknell); Bill Bauer, (Del.); John Hawley, (Swarth.) and Grey Goggin, (Hav.) appear to be the finishers in that order.

137 — champion — Dick Padula, Ursinus

"Pooch" was tied by Al Zarbatany of Lafayette this year, but I'm sure that he will defeat the Leopard grappler in the finals Saturday night to win his third MAC title in a row. Barry Kunkel, (Gettysburg) and Ed White, (Delaware), should battle for the third place spot.

147 — champion — Ralph Hutchinson, Lafayette

"Hutch", Middle Atlantic Champ last year, will be hard pressed by our own Tony Cianci. Nothing would please me more than to see Tony upset this leopard. But his experience gives him the nod in this contest. Don Simpson, (Muhlenberg); Lou Miller, (Haverford) and Stan Vorhees, (Del.) will give a strong battle for the top spot.

157 — champion — Jack Prutzman, Ursinus

I'm going far out on a limb and picking "Prutz" to upset the talented Charles Anderson of Bucknell and Larry Dillon of Lafayette and cop the crown in his Freshman year. Besides these two, he'll have to stop Bill Knup, (G-burg) and John Tyson, (Swarth.) on his way to the top. It's a long way, but I think Jack can do it.

167 — champion — Jerry Harrell, Gettysburg

Harrell and Stern of Lafayette had a terrific battle last year for the title and Jerry won a close decision. This year, with both contenders being pushed by Larry Dempster, (Bucknell); Dick Heydt, (Ursinus) and Hollis Price, (Haverford), this weight division promises to be the best of all. Any one of the five could win, so I'll have to stick with last year's winner, Harrell, and just hope for a "sluggo" victory.

177 — champion — Bill Sells, Gettysburg

This one is a definite toss-up between Sells and Paul Billy of Muhlenberg, and, unless some unforeseen miracle takes place, these two will meet in the final on Saturday night. I'll string along with Sells since Billy could be in much better physical condition than he is. Stan Ellison, (Bucknell); Tom Martines, (Hav.) and our own Don Knauff should round out the top 5.

Heavyweight — Champion — Don Sayenga, Lafayette

Sayenga shouldn't have too much trouble winning his second straight weight crown and one look at this monster will tell you why. Dick Mitchell, (Gettysburg); Tom Oves, (Del.); Bill Benton, Bucknell) and Winson Baker, (Hav.) should provide plenty of excitement in an effort to grab the runner-up points.

As you have already noted, I have picked Gettysburg and Lafayette to battle each other down to the final contest. Either team could be the eventual winner and every bout will be a decisive one.

Changes in the weight divisions could affect the entire outcome. Frank Gutierrez of Muhlenberg, last year's 157 pound king, is not expected to compete this year — but he might. Charles Anderson of Bucknell might possibly wrestle in the 157 pound class instead of 167. Upsets will no doubt occur. So, have a heart. After all, how much can one crystal ball show?

Well, that's about it. Best of luck to all of our grapplers at Muhlenberg this coming weekend. I hope all of the Bruin followers will travel to Allentown to see these contests — well worth the price of Admission.

Oh yes! One more champion will probably be "crowned" Saturday night. I will no doubt be honored as the "Champion Crystal-Ball gazer of the year".

IT'S IN THE WEEKLY

Beginning next week, the Ursinus Weekly will present a two-part Major League preview by a well-known baseball expert. Don't miss these important stories beginning next Monday, March 5.

The Bruins captured two matches last week on the road in preparation for the Middle Atlantic Championships this week-end at Muhlenberg. The Grapplers smashed the Muhlenberg wrestlers last Tuesday, 21-11 and then pinned Elizabethtown on Saturday, 26-8.

The Bears, who now own a 5-3 record, have one more warm-up test, meeting the Drexel matmen on Tuesday evening at home.

Bruins Kick Mules

In Tuesday's match, the Bruins leaped to a 13-0 lead in the first three bouts and then went on to victory. Don Durr won by decision, 7-2; Mark Weand surprised by pinning his opponent; and Captain Dick Padula added 5 more by scoring a third period pin after mangling his opponent for eight minutes.

Tony Cianci lost a heart-breaking 8-7 decision to Don Simpson on time after rallying from a 7-2 deficit. Don Knauff wrestled very well against Paul Billy in the 177 pound class before dropping a 5-2 decision. Knauff completely baffled Billy by rolling and twisting his way throughout the entire bout, reversing the Muhlenberg grappler in the final period and tying him up until the final whistle.

Ursinus' other two wins came when Jack Prutzman scored a pin and Dick Heydt won a decision for the Bears. Heavyweight Bops Jackson was pinned in the first period for the other Bruin loss.

E-town Dropped

On Saturday the Bears captured every bout except two, winning 3 by pins and one by forfeit.

Padula (8-0), Heydt (7-1), and Knauf (3-2), won on pins while Durr was awarded the forfeit victory. Prutzman and Cianci captured decisions to increase their season logs to 7-1 and 6-2 respectively.

Weand and Jackson were the only unfortunate matmen who failed to record an Ursinus victory.

Badminton Belles Win Two, 5-0, 4-1

The "racket-gals" defeated Drexel 5-0 and Bryn Mawr 4-1, this week for a score of three wins this season and a consecutive streak of nine victories.

In the shut-out against Drexel the Belles won with comparatively little difficulty, each of the three singles and two doubles being won in two straight games. A stronger Bryn Mawr team proved slightly troublesome for the girls. First singles Connie Cross dropped the first game 8-11 and then came back to win 11-5, 11-2. Second and third singles Vonnie Gros and Ricky Bauser registered easy wins, and first doubles Carol LeCato and Phyl Stadler squeezed out their first game 18-17 and took the second 15-10. Marge Dawkins and Pat Woodburg lost their second doubles match.

Liz Wheeler won the only J. V. match in the first singles position as the J. V. lost 4-1 to Bryn Mawr.

Bryn Mawr Edges Ursinus Swimmers

The Ursinus Mermaids were downed by Bryn Mawr, 31-25, in their meet at the latter's pool February 23. The Ursinus girls, who found Bryn Mawr to have a very balanced team, certainly competed well against the Mainliners throughout the meet.

Tama Williams took second place in the forty meter freestyle, Jackie Robbins came in first in the breaststroke, and Merle Syvertsen placed first in the backstroke. Lucy Fay, captain, took third place in the backstroke.

Merle, Jackie, and Alice Irwin, competing in the medley relay, placed second. Carol Hespeneide came in third in diving.

Lucy, Tama, Alice, and Jackie captured first place in the two-hundred yard freestyle relay.

When classes are through
And your girl's close to you
Here's a good thing to do—have a CAMEL!

—Man, that's pure pleasure!

It's a psychological fact:
Pleasure helps your disposition.

If you're a smoker, remember —more people get more pure pleasure from Camels than from any other cigarette!

No other cigarette is so rich-tasting, yet so mild!

Open Letter to The Student Body

February 22, 1956

As Student Director of the Student-Faculty Show, I wish to thank very much all those who have volunteered to help in this show. The response has been tremendous. However, practically all the talent volunteered thus far has been of the vocal type. If this is to be an all-school variety show, we need just that—variety. There must be somewhere on our campus persons who have specialty acts—acrobats, jugglers, spoon-players, tumblers, monologists, etc. No matter how offbeat you may consider your talent—VOLUNTEER; you may well be the hit of the show. We are also in need of accompanists for our singers.

Also, anyone who has any ideas or suggestions of any kind concerning the show, please feel free to come to me with them, so that we may make this THE campus show of the year.

college graduates, they may both have to work in order to satisfy their wants. Dr. Fletcher said that the best and most efficient way of getting along on a small income, say that of a beginning school teacher, is through careful budgeting. Of course, this is important whether the income is high or low.

A second aspect that was discussed was the type of environment the college graduate wanted to live in opposed to the type of environment that a non-college graduate would want to reside. The point was brought out that both mates have to adapt themselves to environments that they weren't used to. For example, if a college girl married a non-college man, and the girl wanted to live in a class of neighborhood that the man was unaccustomed to, the man would have to adapt himself if he wanted to make the marriage a success. This also deals with interests.

An interesting point was made that many male college graduates want to marry non-college females for they don't want a woman around who was smarter than they were and they also felt that a girl that didn't go to college would make a better house wife. An argument against this would be the fact that with the way foods are prepared now a days, almost any girl can fix a decent meal just by opening a couple of cans and wax paper containers.

A third and final point was brought forth dealing with sex. The point expressed here was one concerning the amount of pre-marital sex relations that one mate should expect from another. This point was only dwelled upon very lightly.

All through the discussion, questions were asked by the group.

Operation Car Wash Begins Mar. 5

by Hazel Okino '56

Tau Sigma Gamma Sorority will begin the Australia Bound campaign on Monday, March 5, with a two-week car washing project. Tau Sig girls will wash any car for one dollar ($1.00). The wash will include white wall tires and the cleaning of the car floor. Car washing will be done in back of the boiler house.

Half of the proceeds will be donated to the Australia Bound Girls, Marge Dawkins and Ruth Heller, to help defray expenses for their trip to Australia with the United States field hockey touring team. Ruth was selected for the All-American team and Marge for the All-American reserve at the National Field Hockey Tournament at Wilson College in November. Both girls will be leaving for Australia on May 17 with the United States touring team to play exhibition games until their return in early August.

Operation car wash will begin on March 5 and will extend for a two-week period to March 19. Car owners should see committee members Diane Farese, Nancy King, Joan Martin, or any Tau Sig member to sign up for day and time preferred for the car wash. Sign up as early as possible to prevent the last minute rush.

This coming Wednesday's commission meetings will be held in Bomberger at 6:30. We hope to see more students attend and participate in these commission meetings. We would especially wish to see a large number of freshmen students attend these commission meetings.

ATTENTION, SENIORS!

All seniors who plan to be graduated in June will please register at the Dean's office before March 1st.

March 6 is the Date of Curtain Club Production

For men only! Defend yourself against the dynamic secret of woman's power over you! What is this magic formula? The answer lies in the plot of "The Apollo of Bellac", by Jean Giraudoux, to be presented by the Curtain Club to Ursinus men at 7 p.m. in Bomberger on Tuesday, March 6.

This delightful and informative one-act comedy is packed with interesting features: the cast is composed mainly of new faces; the Helfferichs have returned to Ursinus dramatics to lend their incomparable hands in direction; and there is no long trek to the T-G gym to witness it. Heading the cast of characters is Becky Francis as Agnes, who learns and puts to effective use the fatal secret, and Bill Montgomery as the Man, who introduces her to it. The men of the world affected by the discovery are: Lee Lawhead, President; Dick Padula, Vice-president; Wes Dunnington, Chairman of the Board; Karl Billman, Mr. Schultz; Skip Ruth, Mr. Rasemutte; Pete Booke, Mr. Cracheton. Angie McKey as Chevrement, the secretary, and Bobbe Hunt as Therese, the President's wife, both of whom lack the secret, complete the list.

Student direction is capably handled by Jeanne Moore. Five one-man committees are handling the technicalities of production: staging, Jim Terry; make-up, Gayle Auchenbach; properties, Shirley Davis; costumes, Mary Wilson; and publicity, Bobbe Hunt. Ruth Mercer occupies the prompter's seat.

A special presentation of the play will be held for the Ursinus Circle and the faculty in Bomberger on Thursday, March 1, at 8 p.m.
