"Y" Retreat to be Held at Mensch Mill on May 4, 5, 6

During the weekend of May 4, 5, and 6, the annual Spring "Y" Retreat will be held at Camp Mensch Mill. The transportation committee, headed by Tom Kerr, has arranged for a car caravan to leave the Supply Store at 6:30 p.m. on Friday. Transportation to and from the camp will also be provided at specified times throughout the weekend. Those interested in obtaining information about this schedule of trips should contact Tom Kerr on Thursday of this week.

Food Committee

The food committee has secured the services of Mary Johnson as cook for the weekend. A menu has been prepared with the co-operation of the college kitchen. Arrangements have been made to serve five meals: three on Saturday; two on Sunday. There are plans, also, for a 'doggie roast' on Friday night. The total cost of the retreat per person will be $1.25. Those planning to leave the camp early will be assessed $.25 per meal.

Theme

The theme for the retreat is taken from the Gospel According to St. Matthew 25:21: His lord said unto him, well done, thou good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things.

The short devotional period on Friday evening, the "Walk with Your Thoughts" program on Saturday, and the Service of Worship on Sunday will all be centered about this theme.

Saturday

On Saturday, there will be discussion periods and recreation. In the morning, the Campus Affairs Commission and the World Relatedness Commission will meet to discuss plans for the ensuing school year. The Student Worship Commission and the Social Responsibilities Commission will do likewise that afternoon. There will also be a meeting of all the "retreaters" on Saturday to plan the association's program for next year.

Outdoor athletic equipment will be available on Saturday afternoon; there will be a square dance and an "echo sing" on Saturday night.

Faculty Guests

In past years, the faculty guests at the "Y" retreats have contributed greatly to the success of the weekend. This year, invitations to the retreat have been extended to Dr. and Mrs. William Parsons, Mr. H. Lloyd Jones, Jr., Mr. R. T. Schellhase, Dr. and Mrs. Calvin Yost, Dr. and Mrs. Donald G. Baker, Dr. and Mrs. Roger Staiger, Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Miller, Dr. Fletcher, Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Creager, Dr. and Mrs. M. W. Armstrong, and Dr. and Mrs. Paul Wagner.

Dorm Representatives

Dormitory representatives of the "Y" are making an effort to contact every student by Wednesday of this week. Questions

SRC China Drive

The Student Responsibility Commission of the YM-YWCA has announced that the goal of its China Drive has been reached and exceeded. There are now fifty-six place-settings, two serving platters, one sugar bowl, and one cream pitcher. However, the group has set a new goal of seventy-five units; there is a possibility that this number may be reached before the end of this semester. Receipts from the Collegeville Pioneer Super Market should be turned in at Dur-yea Hall or to any member of the SRC or placed in the envelopes on the dormitory bulletin boards. (Martyn)

Demas Formal Initiation May 1

Demas Fraternity will hold its formal initiation of new members at Lakeside on Tuesday, May 1.

The brothers have congratulated "Bops" Jackson on his pinning to Agnes Watson and "Otts" Stanley on his pinning to Lois Mollitor. (Grundy)

Frosh 'Mardi Gras' Men's Government Representatives to Be Chosen Wed.

The Freshman Class 'Mardi Gras' lasted from Friday evening, April 27 through Saturday evening, April 28. The week-end series of programs began on Friday with a dance in the T-G gym. It had been originally planned that this dance should be held on the parking lot behind Curtis Hall; however, it was moved inside because of the threatening nature of the weather.

On Saturday afternoon, the dormitory 'carnival' booths were made the center of attraction. Saturday evening, the Middle Atlantic Jazz Tournament was held under the sponsorship of the frosh. The Quaker City Rhythm Kings from the University of Pennsylvania were declared the winners. This group is noted throughout the east for its ability; it has played at Jimmy Ryan's night club and at schools such as Princeton, Bryn Mawr, Cornell, Swarthmore, Temple, and Dartmouth.

Following the jazz contest, there was a short variety show featuring some campus talent. The 'Mardi Gras' weekend was concluded by a dance.

Ben Houser, president of the Freshman Class, has expressed, on behalf of the class, thanks to all the members of both the student body and the faculty who in any way supported the 'Mardi Gras' program. (Achey)

Meistersingers Choose Officers; Plan Banquet

The Meistersingers held their weekly meeting at 8:00 p.m. on Thursday, May 26. Although they did practice one selection, the primary purpose of the meeting was to elect the officers for next year. They are as follows: president, Floyd Berk; vice-president, Bill Shearer; secretary, Barbara Althouse; treasurer, Connie Hoover; and business manager, Skip Ruth.

Plans for the remainder of the school year were also discussed at the meeting. The Meistersingers have planned a Smorgasbord dinner for Thursday night, May 3, at the Collegeville Inn. They plan also to sing at Vespers on Sunday, April 29.

On May Day, May 12, the Meistersingers will collaborate with the band in the Spring Band Concert. (D. Miller)

Waiters Hold Banquet; Padula, Blood New Heads

On Tuesday evening the waiters held their annual banquet in the waiters' dining room. After the meal had been served, Ted Sholl, head waiter, thanked all the waiters for their fine work and especially commended Dick Padula for his excellent work after taking over the duties of assistant head waiter during the middle of the year. Head waiter shall announce that Dr. C. D. Mattern, head of the Bureau of Student Employment, regretted that he could not attend the banquet, but that he sent the waiters his best wishes. (Cumplings)

Both Student Councils Approve Proposal To Create Student Senate

Monday night at a joint meeting of the MSGA and WSGA, the councils unanimously passed a proposal in the form of an amendment to the Student Government Constitution establishing a Student Senate under the co-chairmanship of the two presidents. The Senate is to consist of members of the Men's and Women's Councils and is hoped to be the first step toward a complete unification of the Student Government. However, in addition, the resolution must have student acceptance by vote of the student body, and the approval of President McClure, Dean Stahr, and Dean Pancoast.

The proposed amendment is the result of weekly meetings of Robin Blood and Dick Hennessey, Student Government presidents, correspondence with surrounding colleges, and discussions with both entire councils. It is the opinion of the Councils that a unified student government will unify and strengthen Elections for the Men's Student Government Association class representatives are to be held on Wednesday, May 2. Petitions for candidates must be given to Dick Hennessey, president of the MSGA, by May 1. Each petition must have fifteen signatures plus that of the candidate himself. Students are reminded that they can sign only as many petitions as there are representatives from their own class.

Following is a list of those running from the various classes as of 10:00 p.m. on April 29:

Class of 1957 (four openings): Dave Dickson, Bob Grenitz, Ray Hamilton, Karl Herwig, Bill Rheiner.

Class of 1958 (three openings): Dick Blood, Bob Gilgore, Ken Grundy, Carl Hassler, Ira Lederman, Herbert Perlman, Chris Rohm, 'Otts' Stanley.

Class of 1959 (Three openings): Fred Glauser, Ted Holcombe, Bill Miller, Larry Powell, Bob Schmoey, and Harry Zall. (As of this writing, no day students have turned in petitions.)

Class elections are to be held on May 9. Each candidate must submit a petition bearing twenty-five signatures plus his own; no person can sign more than one petition per office. All petitions must be turned in by May 7. (Perlman)

ISC Gives Dessert For Frosh Girls

On Thursday evening at 7:00 in the upstairs dining room, the Inter-Sorority Council held an after-dinner dessert for freshman women. Nesta Lewis, president of the ISC, welcomed the group, explained the council's purpose, and told the history of each sorority. After this opening speech, each sorority presented a skit.

Lucy Fay and Aggie Watson from Phi Psi posed as Mickey Mouse and Donald Duck, and gave a capsule history of the Mickey Mouse Club. The skit ended with the theme song of the television program of the same name.

Alpha Sigma Nu gave a pantomime of "I'm Gonna Wash That Man Right Out O' My Hair", as Joan Finney came into a dorm lamenting an ended romance.

"Three Cats Standing on the Corner, Watching All the Girls Go By" was presented by Omega Chi. The three cats were Angie McKey, Josie Carino, and Val Spencer.

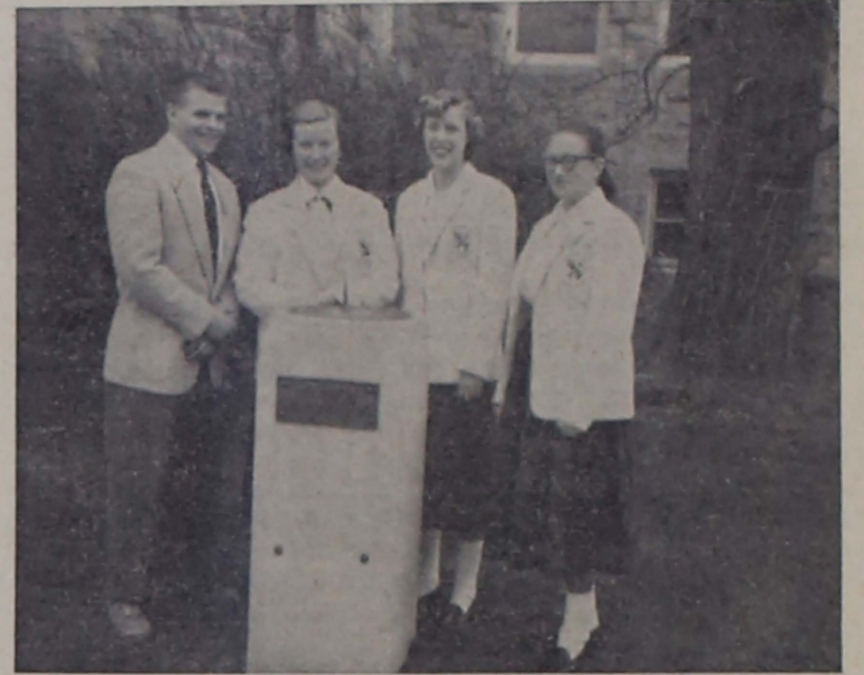

In the next skit, Kappa Delta Kappa featured Pat Condon, Barbie Althouse, Dolly Lamb, and Martha Bean singing "Foolish Questions".

Jane Mowrey read Alfred Noyes, "The Highwayman" while the other girls in Tau Sigma Gamma acted out the poem.

This final skit was followed by ice cream and pretzels for the freshman women. (Cumplings)

Censorship of "The Ursinus Weekly"

Probably ever since anyone who is presently a student at Ursinus can remember, the "word" on campus has been that the school paper is censored. Once, for example, when the editor-in-chief was called to the dean's office on a purely personal matter, another student asked him: "Do they (Who?) censor you very hard?"

According to rumor, the proofs of the paper are always read completely by an administrative official before the paper is even allowed to go to press. Anyone who knows anything about newspaper work will know that it is generally impossible for the staff—much less anyone else—to get through first and second proofs before press-time.

Likewise, those who are "in the know" will say that the editorials and features are all merely parts of the cruel administration's plot to turn UC into a prison. Of course those "in the know" are usually no part of the Weekly staff whatsoever. After all, they would not wish to become a "tool" of the administration. One person even refused to write a letter—to be published anonymously—to the editor questioning the opinion expressed in an editorial. His reason was: "It might prevent me from getting a recommendation to graduate school. You couldn't keep my name secret!"

T. M. McCabe's little poem on this page presents the true situation. Any feature worth the name and any letter to the editor will be published regardless of the topic or of the opinion expressed. This paper is free from all real restraints except those imposed by the standards of good taste, accurate reporting, and good writing.

A House Divided Against Itself

For quite a number of years, the students at Ursinus have been struggling along—or stumbling along—under an outmoded and sometimes unworkable system of student government. And, at last, steps are being taken to make it somewhat more practical! Progress is being made under the leadership of presidents Robin Blood and Dick Hennessey, the WSGA and the MSGA have approved the creation of a new Student Senate. The institution of this new body awaits only the approval of the president of the college, of the dean of men, of the dean of women, and of the students themselves.

There seems to be very little other than good in this proposed government revision. The Student Senate would assume many of the legislative duties of the two separate governments; thus the necessary high degree of co-ordination of campus government would be established. Confusion, indefiniteness, overlapping of legislative powers would all be eliminated. Student government would at last become centralized.

There is, however, one big "if." One of the criticisms that has been frequently leveled against both the WSGA and the MSGA is that their memberships (the student body) are often unwilling to take upon themselves the responsibilities inherent in their constituted powers. This criticism actually provides a challenge to the students. If the revision is finally approved, then, by assuming the responsibilities of citizens of the college community, the students can make Ursinus a house no longer divided against itself. Or, by apathy, neglect, and irresponsibility, they can prove themselves unworthy of any democratic government at all.

More About Dead Weekends

The past few week-ends have proven something! Dead week-ends need not be a problem at Ursinus. Ursinus students do, after all, have the ingenuity and industry necessary to create a good time for themselves.

The traditional Junior prom, the Sophomore Class dance, the student-faculty show, the Meistersingers' concert were all successful. The Frosh 'Mardi Gras' deserves some special comment, however. It was an innovation, something too often unorthodox at Ursinus. It showed originality as well as effort.

The success of each of these programs testifies to the fact that good, efficient leadership and a loyal, enthusiastic following are still the key factors in any human undertaking. It is this sort of co-operation—plus a great amount of ingenuity—that can solve the week-end problem.

Of course, there cannot be a 'Mardi Gras', or a Junior prom, or a Meistersingers' concert every single week-end. But there can be more group efforts by more groups to provide the campus public with something to do. There can be more concerts, more dorm 'open-houses', and more square dances.

Variety and ingenuity seem to be the answers! Here's hoping!

The opening sentence of the feature article entitled "Frosh Group Proposes Revisions of Present System of Freshman Customs" (by Linda Lee Odorizzi) which appeared in the edition of The Ursinus Weekly for April 23, 1956, should read as follows: "The class of '59 wants customs."

As was stated in a succeeding sentence in the same paragraph, this proposal is the result of the efforts of a group of the members of the present Freshman Class.

"Bubbling Over"

by T. M. McCabe

There are probably very few students at Ursinus who remember a certain soap product that was on the market for a good many years before the "Day of the Detergents". It was called "The Gold Dust Twins" and was packaged in a bright gold-colored box. Although it has been gone for more years than I care to admit to, recent developments on the international scene have recalled it to my mind. These developments, and big ones at that (not only in size, but also in importance), are new Soviet Gold Dust Twins, Premier "Foofoo" Bulgainin and Communist Party Chief Nikita "Googoo" Krushchev.

These Golden Boys of the Soviet Union, and Darlings of the international political set, have engaged in one of the largest soap-selling campaigns (soft-soap, that is) since Proctor and Gamble first placed FAB on the grocer's shelf. With these two proctors it is no little gamble, for they are out to really clean up, and they are working up quite a lather to see that no soviet linen (in Russia I believe that is spelled Lenin) is left soiled.

To prove that they mean business, they first washed all the peace doves that all commissars carry in large quantities. Most of these birds were pretty well smudged from their tours in Korea and Indo-China as carrier pigeons. To placate even the most critical, they also washed up the party line, and all the skeletons in the Communist family closet.

With the help of another well-known product from their bag of tricks, called PURGE-O, they also cleaned out some of the refuse drains of such waste materials as Stalin smudges and Beribulges. This product is not yet available at your local capitalistic grocers, but can be ordered by phoning Stalingrad -- sorry, that number is no longer listed -- try instead Siberia -- IM422. With each order comes a free 10 pound bag of salt.

With their straw hats, canes, and big smiles, these two comedians remind me of Bob Hope and Bing Crosby in "Road to Rio". I don't know who writes their jokes, but reliable reports say that the "Gold Dust Twins" are really slaying them back in Moscow.

These up-and-coming boys are going places, (I could suggest a few places) so keep your eye on them.

"Word of Honor"

by Bel Dillio

(Editor's Note: The following is a copy of a speech by Mr. Bel Dillio, who has been, for some years, property custodian at the college gymnasiums. This talk was delivered at the Varsity Club annual banquet last year.)

Gentlemen:

The subject of my speech this evening is going to be "The Word of Honor". These words are going to be very important for you boys when you graduate from Ursinus and start a new life to live outside of college and associate with fellow workers, neighbors and friends. By living up to your "Word of Honor" you will become popular in the community and that popularity will add toward your character.

There was a time in Europe when the majority of the people didn't know how to read or write, but their social function was going on the same as ours. They had a custom. Whenever they went to the bank to borrow money or asked their friends for a loan or borrow an article, to prove their honesty they would say, "I'll give you my 'Word of Honor'." That was as good as a contract. Those words to them were very sacred, and many duels were fought and lives lost because someone broke his "Word of Honor". So they made it their business to see that the article or loan was returned according to the promise they made. Even the banks are willing to give you a loan the first time providing you have a good character.

Now, here is where I come in. Some of you boys (fortunately in the minority) come to me and ask, "Bel, will you please do me a favor?" However, a few boys have little respect for their own honor. "What kind of a favor do you want?" I ask. "Well, I forgot my shorts or sneakers or socks or whatever article they left in their dorm." I don't have to give it to them if I don't want to, but I want to cooperate with the boys and help them whenever they are stuck. What do I get for helping? Most of these boys keep their "Word of Honor", but here is the thanks that I get from a few. They will promise me that they will bring it back the next evening. I wait for two days and nobody shows up. Finally I go in front of Freeland after lunch to see if I can spot him, and when I do he will say, "Oh, Bel, by golly, (Continued on page 4)

Prof's Point - of - View

What's the Real Meaning of Naval Armament?

by Dr. Donald G. Baker Professor of Greek

(Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of articles by various members of the college faculty and of the administrative staff on matters of particular interest or concern to them personally. "Prof's Point-of-View" will continue to appear irregularly as a feature article.)

Some years ago Charles Beard wrote a small book entitled The Navy, Defense or Portent? The question in the title is even more pointed today, though not much asked. It is considered unpatriotic to question the necessity of ever larger and larger military expenditures no matter how useless they may in reality be.

There seems to be fairly good evidence that we have today atomic bombs of considerable power. It is said, without contradiction as far as I know, that Russia has similar bombs, perhaps fewer and weaker, but still of considerable destructive power. It is also said that Russia has some submarines of fairly recent types.

The navy cannot go in bunches or the whole flotilla may be picked off by one bomb; it cannot go widely scattered or it will be picked off piecemeal. What is the navy good for anyhow? To have nice classic battles with other navies in the open seas? With whose? To lug around airplanes, which can today go faster and farther under their own power?

We speak of a need for schools, hospitals, highways. Scientists, teachers, linguists, engineers, many types of trained personnel are in seriously short supply. We say we have no money and can't find the men for these things. Yet we spend several billions annually on obsolete armaments and are so under the spell of the few who want to go on playing their expensive games of Bon Homme Richard vs. Serapis that resort is had to the traditional tool of dictators, conscription. Millions are spent and thousands employed to keep alive this big navy program. What is sillier than the presence in Bomberger Hall every so often of men in uniform who have had costly training at public expense, sent to do a recruiting job which doesn't need doing and which, even if it did, could be handled quite as well by any competent secretary!

If we were really interested in keeping America strong and free, we would get rid of two-thirds of the navy and put the rest of it to work at something at least remotely relevant to today's need. The money thus saved could produce real strength by creating a better educated and healthier population in this and other nations.

OPINIONium vs. POLICYium

by T. M. McCabe

Two minds seldom think alike
For each seeks to express its opinion
Even if your fancy it doesn't strike
Courtesy dictates you lend your attention.
Many and varied opinions are stressed
In this paper before you each week
Varied and different as students are dressed
Be they conformist, boisterous or meek.
A policy this paper must choose
This has been done by the staff
Without a plan your support we'd lose

For the paper would drift like a raft.
Consistency is certainly required
But opinions we cannot control
They're expressed or withheld as desired
Freedom of speech is worth it all.
At any time you disagree
Please let us know post-haste
For he who hesitates is lost
Your replies shan't go to waste.

Fellowships for Graduate Study Are Available, But Often Unused

by Ann Leger

The expense of graduate school scares many of us away from pursuing further work in a particular field. There are, however, many scholarships and fellowships as well as other financial aid available to make continuation of school here or abroad possible. These grants range from partial help to full scholarships.

The Fulbright program gives an opportunity for a college graduate to study or teach abroad in the country of his choice for one year, the award covering most expenses. Male graduates interested in college teaching have a chance to take advantage of Danforth Graduate Fellowships which grant full costs. Adequate fellowships from the National Science Foundation are available to students pursuing further study in most branches of the science field.

There are many opportunities for men and women interested in the study of law: the Law School of George Washington University offers a certain number of full-tuition scholarships; the University of San Francisco offers both full and part-tuition scholarships in the day and evening divisions of its law school; the College of William and Mary has both annual and triennial financial grants; the University of Pennsylvania awards approximately twenty-five scholarships in varying amounts to its entering class; and Rutgers also offers many opportunities to those persons with financial need.

Aid for Business Administration seniors is given by a number of institutions, among them Harvard Business School and Wharton School which grant varying amounts of financial help; the Department of Economics of Western Reserve University which grants teaching fellowships, graduate assistant-ships, and full-tuition scholarships; and the College of Business Administration of Pennsylvania State University which offers private and university-sponsored scholarships and teaching assistantships.

Many schools also offer aid for study in the graduate schools of arts and sciences. Brandeis University awards fellowships and teaching and research assistantships to persons interested in chemistry. Vassar provides fellowships and assistantships in chemistry, histology, psychology, zoology, and plant science. The University of Pennsylvania and Duke University have available awards for men and women in science and the arts. Long Island University offers various financial aids for students interested in the further study of biology. Princeton offers twelve fellowships, each with a normal value of $2000, in the Humanities and Social Sciences. Persons interested in work in some field of history are eligible for various degrees of financial help in the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences at Duke University. The University of Wyoming offers eight fellowships for graduate work in American studies. Those persons interested in Sociology have an opportunity to apply for several grants from the University of Rochester.

There are also opportunities in several other fields of study. The University of Denver offers a number of fellowships ranging from tuition to $1500 in the area of international relations. Three graduate fellowships are available at the Bologna Center of the School of Advanced International Studies in Italy. Full-tuition scholarships for study of Library Science are offered at the Drexel Institute of Technology.

All three girls survived the first round with Carol beating a player from William and Mary, 6-1, 6-0, Connie crushing Jean Lucenta, Temple, 6-0, 6-0, and Bunny defeating Bonnie Criscom from Drexel 6-4, 6-1.

Carol continued on to the finals after smashing Carol Luhrs, Swarthmore, 6-1, 6-1 in the second round, Pat Reeves, Rosemont, 6-0, 6-0 in the quarter-finals, and Margaret Bickley, the fourth seeded girl from Bryn Mawr, 6-3, 6-2 in the semi-finals.

Carol played well in the finals yesterday but lost 6-1, 6-4 to Mary Hudcovich from Penn State.

Connie defeated Pat Cain, Bryn Mawr, 6-2, 6-1 in the second round and Snookie Wood, Mary Washington College, 6-4, 6-3 in the quarter finals. She lost in the semi-finals to Mary Hudcovich, 3-6, 6-3, 6-1, the Penn State senior who finally won the tournament.

The final-round struggle went on for one hour and 45 minutes before Miss Hudcovich won the title after three unsuccessful tries. Carol did not come forward to cut off Miss Hudcovich's generally short backhand returns; and lost her big chance by yielding the ninth game after 15 hard points. Miss Hudcovich whipped a forehand down the line to break through for 5-4 and served a love game for the victory.

Trackmen Drop 3d Straight to F. & M. Netmen Suffer Two Straight Shutouts

The Diplomat runners from F. & M. took nine out of fourteen events in beating the Ursinus thinclads 73½-52½ in a dual meet last Wednesday at Patterson Field.

Middle Atlantic hurdle champ Don Martin turned in a sparkling performance for F. & M. He was a triple winner in the high and low hurdles and the high jump, besides setting a new field record in the high hurdles with an excellent 14.6 seconds. The meet was close for a while but in the later events, the bottom fell out for the Bruins and the Diplomats began to rack up insurance points.

All was not bitterness for Ursinus fans who witnessed the meet for several Bruins flashed winning form. Distance man Lee Lawhead ran two excellent races and broke the tape in both of them. Lee paced himself beautifully in the mile and came home a strong winner in 4:56.7. Lee had a more difficult time in the half mile as he just nipped F. & M.'s Charles Walters at the tape. Teammate Bill McQuaid trailed Lawhead for third place in the mile.

Skip Ruth also salvaged a double win in the shot put and discus. Skip got off a beautiful 44' 2" toss in the shot, and then came back to take the discus with a 121' 9" fling. He climaxed his scoring by gaining a second in the javelin throw. Bruin weightman Bob Grenitz took a second behind Ruth in the discus and a third in the shot and javelin.

Harry Donnelly flashed great speed and won the 100 yard dash in 10.4. Harry also took third places in the hurdles and a second in the high jump. Ken Buggeln took a second in the 440 while Karl Herwig placed second in the 220.

Clearing the bar at 9' 6", Dave Burger gained a tie for second in the pole vault, which was a bright spot in the Bruin's attack. Skip Bretzger amazed the fans with his final kick in the grueling two mile run, but had to settle for a second.

Freshman Rudy Dipple added to the Bruin's score by taking thirds in the 100 and 220.

This week the trackmen travel to Swarthmore on Wednesday and Albright for a triangular meet with Albright and Bucknell on Saturday. (A.F.)

The Ursinus net team journeyed to Swarthmore last Wednesday in high hopes of breaking the jinx that the Garnets have held over the Bruin netmen for a good many years. Swarthmore, however, was again the victor, 9-0.

In the number one singles match, Captain Pete Jespersion battled Swarthmore's Mike Shane, but was defeated 2-6 and 1-6. Number two man, Art Mantella, succumbed to a strong Al Coyle 4-6 and 0-6.

The Bears' Bob Gilgore took over number three spot and was beaten by the Garnets' Fred Berger, 0-6 and 1-6. In the number four singles match, Neil Kyde was soundly beaten by Harry Katz, 0-6 and 0-6, while number five man Shel Wagman dropped his match to Swarthmore's Tom Powers, 0-6 and 1-6.

In the final singles of the day, Bruce Bodkin easily topped Ursinus's Ed Clisby, 6-0 and 6-0.

In the doubles matches, the Bruin team of Jespersion and Mantella battled valiantly but were beaten by the sharper Shane and Berger, 2-6 and 1-6. Swarthmore's Coyle and Katz combined to defeat the Bear's Kyde and Wagman, 6-0 and 6-1. Gilgore and Clisby dropped the final match of the day to Bodkin and Powers, 1-6 and 0-6.

Over all, the Bruin netmen came out with a poor 14 games out of 108.

Drop 2nd Shutout

On Saturday the netmen traveled to Haverford College and dropped their second match of the week to the Fords by 9-0.

Captain Pete Jespersion was beaten in the first singles match by a superior Bob Pratt, 1-6 and 1-6. In the second and most hard fought match of the day, Ursinus's Art Mantella was edged by Phil D'Arrigo 3-6, 6-4, and 1-6.

Tom Ely dropped his fourth match of the year succumbing to sharp Geoff Steele, 0-6 and 1-6, while Rudy Celis was defeated by Carl Getty, 0-6 and 3-6.

The Ford's Hans Engelhart topped number five man Neil Kyde, 1-6 and 0-6. In the final singles match of the day freshman Shel Wagman was toppled by Haverford's Mike Heeg, 2-6 and 0-6.

Jespersion and Mantella teamed up for the first doubles match but were defeated by Pratt and D'Arrigo, 8-6, 4-6, and 4-6. Ely and Celis dropped their doubles match to Steele and Heeg, 0-6 and 0-6.

Kyde and Wagman were overcome in the final match of the day by Fullard and Wayne Lourthurst, 2-6 and 1-6.

The racketeers meet F. & M. on the home courts tomorrow, and then travel to Delaware for the Middle Atlantic on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. (S.W.)

Bruin Nine Tops Haverford; Dickinson Clobbered by 17-4

In a high scoring affair, the Ursinus diamondmen chalked up a 9-7 victory last Wednesday over Haverford College on the Ford's home diamond.

Famous Homers

The Fords got off to a good start in the first inning when three hits scored two runs off Bruin starter Bob Slotter. The Bears tied the game at two apiece in the fourth inning when Bob Famous smacked his third four bagger of the season with a runner on.

The Bears added two more in the fifth inning and four more in the sixth, with Arlon Lapp's pinch hit double being the most potent smash. The Fords scored once in the sixth and four times in the eighth inning, but their rally fell a run short.

The diamondmen led the game with an insurance run in the ninth, thus topping the Fords 9-7.

The Bears clicked with thirteen hits and errored twice in the field, while Haverford finished with ten hits and four errors.

Smash Dickinson

Last Saturday the Bruins played host of Dickinson College and compensated for their romp by Elizabethtown by handing Dickinson a 17-4 defeat.

It was a run marathon from the first inning for the Bears, as they scored twice in the first inning and brought across eight runs in the second, with Inky Wagner knocking his first four bagger of the season over the left field barrier.

The Bruins continued to click bringing home four more runs in the third inning, one in the sixth, and finished strong with two tallies in the eighth.

Dickinson's scoring was very sparse, scoring one run in the third, two in the fifth, and one final tally in the eighth.

Bob Slotter picked up his third win of the season, scattering only six hits during the contest.

This week the Bruins, who now stand with a 5-2-1 record, play host to Swarthmore on Wednesday, and then make the long trip to Delaware on Saturday. (H.Z.)

Bruin Relay Team Outclassed at Penn

Although the Penn Relay Carnival was dominated by Villanova's four victories and nine record breaking performances, the Ursinus mile relay team did their best to help make the Relays the world's largest and most exciting track and field meet.

On Friday, the Bruin team of Karl Herwig, Ken Buggeln, Lee Lawhead, and Bart Wilson (running in that order) ran sixth in the American College Class Mile Relay Championships. The loss of Harry Donnelly because of a knee injury greatly hampered the team's chances of finishing strong, although the foursome gave their all out effort to make up for the loss.

Saturday afternoon, amid an extravaganza of stellar performances and record shattering events, the Ursinus quintet turned in one of their fastest, respective 440's in giving another all out performance to place among the leaders in the Middle Atlantic Mile Relay Championship. Due to a poor position and unfortunate passing accident, the foursome ran tenth in the second fastest relay of the Carnival—3:19, won by St. Joseph's.

With a little more experience, the Ursinus relay team could have finished well up in the final standing. But, they did their best, and what more is to be expected? (L.L.)

"Word of Honor" . . .

I forgot it. I have it in my dorm. I will promise for sure to bring it down this afternoon. He puts his right hand over his heart to assure me that he means what he says. Like hell he does! What a "Word of Honor" that guy has. It was ten days before I got it back. And do you know how I got it back? Well, I went to his dorm and swiped his pants from his closet. I left a note on his desk that he will get his pants back when he brings my equipment down to the gym. Oh boy, how quick he came down. That's how I finally got it back.

In all seriousness, my boys, it's very important to cultivate your "Word of Honor" with your promises, and be sure to live up to your promises. Your bluff cannot go very far because the news of your character travels very fast among your neighbors and friends. Don't expect to get a return favor from your friends if you did not live up to your promise the first time. The second time he is going to bluff you by dodging and saying that he needs the article himself at the moment when really he doesn't. That's because you didn't live up to your promise.

Before I close my speech I want to remind some of you guys—don't try to swipe my good socks and put your bum socks in their place. I will not replace them. Remember the letter "U" on the socks. It's not being put there for beauty. That "U" means to me and all of you "Go back where you belong!"

Well, that's all for now. I hope I didn't put you to sleep. I will see you again at the gym. Good night and thank you, Mio Amico.
