Explained to WRC By Mr. Ray Arivo

by Ann Leger '58

A film and discussion were the features of the World Relatedness Commission meeting which was held this past Wednesday night. The film, "A Time for Greatness", was shown by Mr, Ray Arivo of the American Friends Service Committee.

Before the showing of the film, Mr. Arivo explained the Quaker doctrine which is based on the feeling that non-violence is a party man of the Publicity Committee of the 1955 Ursinus Campus Chest of worth in each individual. belief is supported by the humanitarian work which has always characterized the Quakers. Their opinion of war is that it is the supreme violation of God's love. After this brief explanation, he told about the film which would give the viewpoint of the Quaker in present American foreign policy.

The film, made at the end of the Korean War-before the beginning of Indo-China hostilities, severely criticized the present American policy of containment. It maintained that the attempts at world peace after World War II are being hopelessly overshadowed by the recent preparation for war. Today, the film maintained, Civil Defense drills and similar activities teach our children and adults fear, factories are producing planes and guns, and the Selective Service is putting our boys into uniform. This containment policy emphasizing military and economic aid started in 1947 and had become more and more an instrument for securing military alliances with our allies in return for bread.

The film pictured Asia as a field of foment where the natives are demanding the right to develop their natural resources themselves

Dean's List, Ineligibility Heads CAC Discussion

The Campus Affairs Commission is planning a discussion about the Dean's List and ineligibility (rules and restrictions concerning it) to be held this Wednesday, March 9, at the General Association meeting. The discussion is to be led by Dean W. S. Pettit with Larry Zartman as moderator. This will take the place of the previous-ly scheduled Volleyball Bounce.

The commission also announced that painting in the Rec Center was likely to be finished this past week-end. The grand opening may be held March 16.

Anyone interested in handing in any questions concerning the Dean's List or ineligibility should hand such questions no later than tonight to Larry Zartman, Jack Matlaga or Mary Gillespie.

DEBATING TEAMS VICTORIOUS

Ursinus' losing streak was broken this past week when the debating teams returned home with two victories and one draw on the collegiate question of the recognition of Red China.

The two victories were gained at Immaculata College last Thursday evening when both the Ursinus' negative team composed of Donna Speicher and Ann Leger and the Ursinus' affirmative team composed of Hope Coburn and Jerry Bonn of Freeland. There will be a charge won over their Immaculata opponents. Both teams showed a marked After the meal there will again be improvement over their previous more informal chats followed by debates.

Belles Wallop Drexel 60-36; Gros Gets 31

The girl's basketball team added another victory to the record of six wins and a lone defeat by defeating Drexel 60-36 last Wednesday at Drexel. The Belles led by five points at the end of the first quarter, pulled ahead to a 32-18 score in the second half, and had gained a comfortable 51-25 margin by the end of the third period. Vonnie Gros again scored impressively for the Belles with 31 points and was followed with 18 points by Captain Jo Kuhn and 10 points by Ruth

The Junior Varsity defeated the Drexel Jayvees by a narrow 42-40 margin to remain undefeated in five contests. Phyl Stadler, Ricky Knight Bauser, and Rebel Mason scored doubles. 15, 13, and 12 points respectively for Ursinus.

The Belles play at Temple tomor-row and entertain Pen at Ursinus on Saturday morning at 10:30.

Badminton Team Remains Unbeaten

The badminton team increased its winning streak this week to four straight victories and remained undefeated with two more matches

On Monday the team shut out Drexel 5-0 at Drexel. The one-sided score doesn't indicate the battle which Drexel gave the girls. Second singles Ricky Bauser, third singles Ruth Heller, and first doubles Vonnie Gros and Irene Rawcliff were extended to three games by their opponents. First singles Connie Cross and second doubles Jo Kuhn and Rebel Mason also added to the winning column.

Belles Top Swarthmore

The Belles entertained Swarthmore Tuesday and won by the narrow margin of 3-2. The three singles players won for Ursinus to remain undefeated in their individual records and to earn the fourth win for the team.

Javvees Lose First

The Junior Varsity team was defeated in its first match of the season by Swarthmore's Jayvees 5-0. The Jayvee lineup included Faith Helmle, first singles; Teddy Rapp, second singles; Janet Stewart, third singles; Phyl Stadler and Polly Taylor, first doubles; and Dot Mc-Knight and Jane Dunn, second

The badminton team journeys to Bryn Mawr this Thursday and closes the season with a Varsity and Jayvee match against Chest-nut Hill at Ursinus on March 15.

Dick Padula, and runner-up Al Gettysburg won the tournament Paolone, the Ursinus wrestling team with 39 and Lafayette finished secgarnered third place out of eight ond with 34. The Outstanding in the 17th annual Middle Atlantic Wrestler Award went to 177-pound-

Two Returning Champs

In individual performances Dawkins retained his 123-pound crown for the third straight year when he pinned runner-up Dale Boyd in the finals with a grapevine.

Paolone, co-captain and first seeded in the 130-pound class lost a double-overtime heartbreaker to Bob Walmsley of Gettysburg Padula won his 137-pound title for the second year in a row as he thrilled the large Ursinus turnout by pinning Gettysburg's Bob Turnbull with a cradle.

George Aucott, UC heavyweight, finished fourth by virtue of a 5-0 win over Muhlenberg's Grammis in the first round, and a referee's decision triumph over Beatty of Swarthmore in the consolations. Dick Heydt, 167-pounder lost a referee's decision to Price of Haverford in the semi-finals, but tallied one point for Ursinus when he pinned McMinn of Swarthmore in the first round.

Dawkins Pins Throughout

Dawkins pinned his way through the tournament, scoring a maximum of nine points (six for first place). His falls were against Browning of Bucknell in the open-er, and Paul of Muhlenberg in the semi-finals. Paolone decisioned Baur of Delaware 6-1 and Sangree of Haverford 6-2 in that order. Padula pinned Franzblau of Muhlenberg in the first round and crush-ed Miller of Bucknell 11-3 in the semi-windup.

(Continued from page 1) without help from the outside, including the U.S. whom, they think doesn't understand their problem. The film also maintained that while the American viewed the Korean War as a war to uphold principles, the Asian viewed it as a war which destroyed Korean permanently.

The film showed the Quaker's answer to the present situation—negotiation. While they admit it would be difficult to negotiate with Russia, they said it could be done with the presence of a neutral third party, such as the setup in the Korean truce talks. It failed to show the defeats that the UN suffered through the prolonged nego-

A discussion then followed. Mr. Arvio brought out the fact that as far as Quakers are concerned, Communist idealogy is simply a con-glomeration of outmoded ideas. The thing to fear is not Commun-ism but Russia's ruthless dictatorship. The majority of the audience seemed to agree with a few of its members who maintained that while the Quaker doctrine is wonderful idealism we have been taken advantage of many times by just such appeasing tactics. Instead, it is necessary to fight force with

The program as a whole was very educational and interesting. It provided plenty of food for thought by presenting a somewhat different pacifist view of the world situation.

Mr. Arvio also mentioned the work camps sponsored by Quakers. Literature concerning them may be obtained from Connie Ackerman or Tom Ely.
