Faculty Show Begins Chest Drive, Nov. 15

Are Ursinus professors really human? Of course, everyone is entitled to his own opinion but before you decide, we advise that you sit in on the second annual Faculty show to be given this Saturday evening, Nov. 15, in the T-G gym.

Give the faculty a chance. Laugh, cry, hiss, or boo—do anything you like but when it comes to throwing things, why not substitute pennies for eggs? They're cheaper, harder to dodge, and less bulky; what's more, they'll help the cause.

All the profit from the Faculty show will be turned over to the Campus Chest fund. This Saturday night marks the beginning of the Campus Chest drive which you've been hearing so much about in the past week or so. Last year was the first time that such a project was attempted and, considering that, it was a success. Now that we've had some experience, we hope to make the 1952 drive even better.

There will be goals set for each class, based on the number of persons in the class, but the idea of competition in giving is not as important as giving in a spirit of charity. As members of a privileged class in society, you now have a chance to help others less fortunate than yourselves.

This is the only time this year that you will be solicited on campus to give to the foundations which you chose in the poll taken last Tuesday. The results of the poll and the percentage of donations to be given to each foundation will be announced later, but you can be sure that your money is going to a worthy cause.

The drive will run from November 17 to the 26 and has been organized according to dorms with a solicitor appointed to each dorm. Pledge slips will come out next week, so start saving your money now. When you are asked to give, remember the reason you are giving and give generously.

Jones Speaks to Freshman Class

H. Lloyd Jones Jr. spoke on "The Place of Religion at Ursinus College," at the freshman orientation meeting held on November 5. The final session of these weekly meetings presented by the YM and YWCA in connection with the Student council will be presented on Nov. 12.

Although there is a sentimental attachment to the Evangelical and Reformed church, Ursinus college has developed into a non-sectarian institution recognizing the close kinship with the Christian church, said Mr. Jones. There is no distinction between different denominations and religious minorities; the prime importance is the love of God and the following of His commandments.

The compulsory chapel service is sponsored and maintained by the college in order to re-create a student's sense of perspective when he is bogged down with tests, worries and disappointments and to provide a feeling of unity through prayer and the singing of hymns.

The activities of the Y emphasize Christian activities, social life and civic responsibilities. The Sunday night vesper services are conducted by the members of this organization. The annual presentation of the Messiah and the communion services during Christmas week also shows the importance of religion at Ursinus college.

In conclusion, Mr. Jones emphasized the student's responsibility of keeping Ursinus a Christian college by belief in God, the creator and organizer of the universe.

GERMAN CLUB MEETS

The regular meeting of the German club was held in the Music room of the library on November 5. It was highlighted by an informal talk by Elsie Gruber '53, who gave an account of her visit to Germany this summer. The next meeting will be held on Wednesday, November 19.

Pancoast, Miller Debate Merits of Ike and Adlai

Mr. Pancoast and Dr. Miller took firm stands behind Ike and Stevenson respectively in their pre-election debate last Monday night in Bomberger sponsored by the Pre-Legal society. Dr. Baker acted as moderator.

Mr. Pancoast first criticized the Democratic administration and then defended Ike's stand on the various issues. He likened Truman to Columbus: "He didn't know where he was going, he didn't know where he was when he got there, and he did it on borrowed money."

Dr. Miller, after reminding his audience he was a "Wilkie, ex-Stassen, low-tariff Republican," attacked Ike's capitulation to the Old Guard and praised Stevenson as a man of principle.

Mr. Pancoast said the Democrats have made excessive promises, have promised something for nothing, and have conducted a haphazard administration. The Democrats, he said, "fumble, stumble and tumble." He stood behind Ike as a "no-deal candidate," as a man who will clean up corruption, and as a man who understands the threat of communism.

Dr. Miller confessed he was "disillusioned" when he saw that liberal Young Republicans failed to kill the Old Guard of the party after the Chicago convention. He said Ike's capitulation to Jenner, McCarthy and company sealed his disillusionment over the Taft-Ike meeting in New York. He continued, saying Stevenson "placed principles above votes," by standing clearly on the issues of tax cuts, tariffs, Taft-Hartley, Point Four, aid to education and civil rights.

After the speakers gave a ten-minute rebuttal, questions from the audience were directed toward them.

Chem Society to Hold Meeting

The Beardwood Chemical society will feature a talk entitled "Developing a Chemical Product" by representatives of the Penn Salt Manufacturing Co., tonight at 7:15 in S-12.

Mr. William M. Lee will discuss the product development and market research phases of the subject and Mr. F. R. Lowdermilk will handle phases concerning initial research, process development, estimating costs, sample preparation and pilot and commercial scale plants. The combined talks will last about little more than one hour and should be of equal interest to both economics and chemistry majors. Everyone is invited.

FRENCH CLUB TO MEET

John Moser '55, who has lived in France, and Walter Kratz '53, who has visited there, will speak to the members of the French club, Thursday, November 13, in the faculty room of the library. Bob Williams '53 is in charge of the meeting, the theme of which is "Paris". All who are interested are invited to attend.

WOMEN DAY STUDENTS PRESENT FASHION SHOW

The Women's Day study will present "Winter Fashions of 1952-53," courtesy of the Charming Shop in Norristown, Monday night, Nov. 10, at 8:00 in the T-G gym. A wide selection of styles will be featured, including sportswear, dresses, coats, suits and formals. The models include dorm students as well as day students. The show is for the benefit of the Women's Day study.

Group Production Judged Success

by Milo Zimmerman '54

A rather small crowd attended the Group One production of The Flattering Word by George Kelly when it was given last Tuesday. Judging from the audience reaction, the play was definitely a success.

Ivy Leaman '53 and Nan Bergman '55 are to be commended for their job of directing the production which moved along swiftly to a satisfying end. Ed Abramson '54, who played Dr. Loring, a minister whose religion frowns upon the theater, portrayed the busy minister very well. His wife Mary (Tommy Thompson '54) was played with authority as the woman who loves the theater in spite of her husband's position. Special commendation should be given to Glenna Geiger '54 as Mrs. Zooker, and to Dolores DeSola '53 as her daughter Lena for the wonderful jobs of characterization they did. Charles Machett '55 played the part of the actor Eugene Tesh, an old school friend of Mary's, with increasing aptness as the play went along.

The various committees did a fine job and are not to be overlooked. Special praise should be given to the Staging Committee for the setting. The play should be a winner in the Cultural Olympics at the University of Pennsylvania.

Death Takes Holiday In Curtain Club Play

On December 5 and 6 the Curtain club will present as the fall production Death Takes a Holiday, by Alberto Casella. It is an Italian play which has been rewritten for the American stage by Walter Ferris.

The play is based on the poetic conception of Death (played by Howard Roberts '53) suspending all activities for three days during which period he falls in love with Grazin (Glenna Geiger '54), and through her realizes why mortals fear him. Death is characterized as a very human sort of person with none of the conventional claptrap that might easily have been dragged in for effect.

Besides providing the background of an appealing love story, the plot of Death Takes a Holiday presents a novel and optimistic, as well as thought provoking, philosophy on the problems of love and death.

FRATERNITIES BID MEN

Fraternity rushing ended today noon, when several underclassmen signed their final bids. This climaxed a week of rushing parties and conventional back slapping. The names of the new fraternity members are published on page two.

Seniors Plan For Show and Dances

Cabaret Rubee will be presented by the 1953 Ruby on Friday, Nov. 14. This will be an orchestra dance, presented in the atmosphere of a gay Parisian nightclub. Refreshments will be served and the cost will be one dollar a couple.

The Ruby is also presenting a show Friday, Nov. 21. Delores DeSola and Jane Hopple are co-directors. There will be several one-act plays, and vocal selections by Dot Schultz '54, Marilyn Engleman '54, the girls' quartet and the boys' quartet. Among other entertainments are a dance routine, and piano selections by Sherryl Mirgain '56. To top the evening of gaiety, a Hollywood star has also consented to visit the show as a special added attraction.

Stars in Your Eyes is the theme for the senior prom, December 12. Marion Caruso and Bob Harry's orchestra will provide the music. A senior class party is being planned for December 13.

Senior class meetings will be held every Monday night at 6:30 in room 7 until further notice. The class has many activities this year and President Fred Mras has requested that seniors attend as many meetings as possible.

Workers Net $40 For Campus Chest

Results of the YM-YWCA work day held Saturday, November 1, show that 16 students worked enough to earn over $41 for the Campus chest. This year the Y is giving full support to the Campus Chest drive.

At commission meetings last Wednesday the Student Worship commission had a discussion on variety in worship services in an effort to improve their vespers. Dr. Yost and Mr. Creager were present at the discussion. At vespers last evening Nancy Millheim was the leader and Jack Matlaga was the speaker.

Pat Condon, Anne Wertz, and Jack Argood of the Social Responsibility commission represented the Ursinus Y at the work camp in Philadelphia this past week-end. Janet Haines and Alberta Barnhart of the same commission are teaching local girl scouts to square dance. Bob Grant is making plans in the rec center for another ping pong tournament. Christian de la Roche will be a speaker for the Political Action commission.

Bob James will speak at the Y association meeting Wednesday night on the topic "What on Earth is God Doing?"

Cheerleaders to Take Over Plans for Future Pep Rallies

The Spirit committee decided Wednesday night to leave pep rally plans to the cheerleaders for the remainder of the football season. The final decision on the winning entry in the student cheer-writing contest will be made in the near future and an album of records will be awarded the writer of the top cheer.

PRE-MEDS TAKE TOUR

The Brownback-Anders Pre-Medical society went on a tour of Temple University Medical school in Philadelphia on Saturday, Nov. 8 and also to a symposium at LaSalle college.

At the Freshman banquet, which was held last Thursday evening in the Upper Dining room of Freeland hall, the results of the freshman class elections were announced and the officers were introduced. They are: president, Roland Hutchinson; vice-president, Ray Drum; secretary, Barbara Koch, and treasurer, Ben Settles.

Roland, better known to his classmates as "Hutch", is a graduate of Upper Darby High school. At Ursinus he is taking a pre-dental course but manages to find time from his books to participate in the Pre-Medical society and the Y. "Hutch" was also the director of the Freshman show.

Vice-president Drum is an alumnus of Ashland High school in Ashland, Pa., and is majoring in business. While in high school Ray participated in football, Hi-Y, chorus, and Glee club.

Orrville, Ohio, is the town Ben calls home. He is studying to become a secondary school teacher and is a member of the Future Teachers of America association. In addition Ben is a member of the Y and is out for soccer. In the spring he plans to join the track team.

Barbara hails from Short Hills, New Jersey, and is a graduate of Millburn High school. Her major here at Ursinus is English. After leaving college Barbara hopes to make a career of journalism and is therefore working as a reporter for the Weekly.

Guests at the banquet included Miss Camilla Stahr, Dean and Mrs. Pancoast, Dr. and Mrs. Armstrong, Rev. Creager, Dr. Helfferich, Jack Popowich, and Ed Sella, who acted as master of ceremonies.

The sophomores added several highlights to the evening in the form of hydrogen sulfide gas, a fire cracker, blackouts and various things thrown through the windows. Vice-president Ray Drum was seized by the sophomores about half an hour before dinner and was carried in by them after the meal was underway.

After the banquet, the traditional freshman dance was held in the T-G gym.

Tuesday evening the boys put on the traditional Freshman show in the Thompson-Gay gymnasium amid much booing, bean shooting, and egg throwing. "Hutch", the director of the show and the newly-elected class president, was carried off by the juniors before the curtain opened and wasn't heard from again until Thursday evening when he was returned safe and sound in time for the banquet. The show went off well despite the harassing of the sophomores and the loss of the director, and the freshman boys freed themselves once and for all from customs.

Steward Resigns

Mr. Morrison resigned his position as steward effective last Friday. His future plans are unknown. Mr. Joseph Lynch, presently employed in the kitchen, will assume the position temporarily. Mr. Morrison would have been at Ursinus seven years in March.

Former Ursinus Student Dies In Automobile Accident

David Monjar, a former Ursinus student, was killed in an automobile accident Saturday, three miles outside Downingtown on the Pennsylvania Turnpike. Dave, who lived near Pottstown, was stationed at Camp Kilmar. He left Ursinus in his junior year. In January of this year, after being discharged from the Army, he was planning to return and finish his studies.

WAS THIS FUN?

The traditional rivalry between the freshman and sophomore classes climaxed this week in the annual freshman show. At this affair, for nearly two hours, the freshman and sophomore men, with a few notable exceptions, threw insults at one another while other people in the audience threw rocks. The rest of the time was devoted to stage antics, featuring a little bit of genuine talent and a great deal of low humor. The audience was quiet for the singing and piano playing but boomed loudly at the jokes, and responded violently when an egg was thrown at a sophomore. Hardly anybody laughed.
What is the purpose of the freshman show? We have always thought that its only reason for existence was to entertain. The frosh-soph rivalry which leads up to it is supposed not only to give both classes feelings of unity but also to be funny. If these traditions cause bitterness and do not make people laugh, they should be abolished.
We didn't laugh very much Wednesday night, but maybe something is wrong with our sense of humor. We would like to ask the campus as a whole and the freshmen and sophomores who participated in this year's rivalry, "Was it fun?"

LET'S GO, BAND

After the announcement Friday noon that the band would be disorganized unless more people showed interest in it, twenty-three members appeared at the meeting. This number plus the color guard went to the F. & M. game on Saturday. This week is our last home game. It would be very nice to have a band for it and not to hear the same sort of announcement made this Friday noon.

The Innocent at Large

by William Lukens '53

NOBLE SPORTSMEN

One of the duties of a chief of state is to go out hunting or fishing at least once while holding his high office. Accordingly, King Baudouin of Belgium roared into Hertogenwald Forest one day last week for an "incognito" hunting trip. A squadron of beaters managed to maneuver one wild boar within six yards of the nearsighted King who, unfortunately, missed the animal completely. The "incognito" trip produced three wild boar and one hind. But poor Baudouin bagged nothing.
Well, in an article in a recent New Yorker, which discussed the hunting and fishing abilities of recent Presidents, the writer dismissed Vermont's favorite son by stating tersely that "Coolidge fished." A short and honest statement.
But then Mr. Donald Hough wrote in to the New Yorker and claimed that he is "perhaps the greatest living authority on President Coolidge's fishing;" and in his letter which appeared in the magazine's Department of Amplification Mr. Hough described how Coolidge was pushed into a fishing trip and did not go of his own will: Coolidge said that fishing was "a ridiculous waste of time, useful only to small boys and to old men with nothing better to do."
As evidence that Coolidge had little aptitude (or love) for fishing, Mr. Hough described a trip to Wisconsin that the President made with Herbert Hoover. Hough said that a correspondent asked Mr. Coolidge who had caught the most fish that morning, he or the Vice-President? With a little smile Coolidge replied, "Mr. Hoover is a better fisherman than I am."
So it is a tradition that the chief of state be a lover of The Hunt (fish or animal)—but not all chiefs are Teddy Roosevelts. And in time it will probably be equally traditional that the chief despise this recreation as being more embarrassing than healthful.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:
Last Saturday our football team was handed a 68-19 defeat by F and M college. In my opinion our football players deserve every credit in the world for the game they played. The odds against them were great. The F and M ball club was definitely out of our class in football for several reasons:
(1) They were chosen from a student body of approximately 1500 male students; (2) no freshmen on their squad because they have their own freshman squad; and (3) everyone knows or should know how different F and M's athletic policy is from our own.
We have been led to believe that Ursinus plays F and M year after year in football because of tradition. Tradition is a very fine thing but even tradition reaches a point where it should be stopped. Why should a fine fighting, spirited football eleven like Ursinus has this season be required to play a college which has an athletic power plant far above our heads? Let's drop schools like F and M from our athletic schedules and concentrate our efforts towards playing schools more in our own group.

New Patriotism Will Help Ike

by Richard Richter '53

An air of unity seems to pervade the air since the election. There is an overtone of genuine, healthy patriotism. The mass move to the polls last week seems to have ennobled and edified the electorate somehow. And it is good to see that this patriotism is not the kind that McCarthy and the "America-over-alls" peddle. It is the kind Adlai Stevenson expressed in his dignified concession speech:
"With a united people, with faith in democracy, with common concern for others less fortunate around the globe, we shall move forward with God's guidance toward the time when His children shall grow in freedom and dignity in a world at peace."

MUCH TO DO

Ike has much to do. He must learn as quickly as possible the unfamiliar duties he will have to perform—and he has a lot to learn. He will now have to formulate and execute concrete courses of action, whereas until now he has had only to criticize.
He will have to cope with the irresponsible right wing of his victorious party. Having accepted them on his team, he must now learn how to restrain and control them. Ike will find that Jenner and McCarthy usually will be opposed to the program he builds.

NEW BLOOD

Furthermore, Ike must choose a competent, responsible Department of State, since he apparently intends to inject new blood into our foreign policy. That injection must be a careful one, administered by specialists. The communist threat will not permit vacillation or irresponsibility on America's part. We can hope Ike knows what he's going to do before he does it.
The new spirit of unity and patriotism in the country will be a vital asset to Ike as he tackles these problems and many others. We can hope that it will give him confidence to act boldly and wisely—that it will enable him really to change America and the world for the better. We can hope.

By the Way

by Evelyn Scharf '53

Well, the election results are in and the mudslinging is over — at least for a while. Not that we want to announce our partisan leanings, but just in passing we'd like to note that only one man we voted for was elected. And that because he was the only candidate for the office of coroner. What really hit hard was the announcement that New Jersey had "buried" Stevenson! But bouquets to the defeated candidate for his graceful concession.

On the lighter side, it seems that certain men of distinction on campus boast such refinements as pillow cases with lace and rosebuds. We wonder if many of the girls could qualify for this genteel society on the basis of pillow cases used. Or maybe Gordon Nick has more of a monopoly among female subscribers, while those items are being fondly stored in hopechests.

Scoop! A distinguished member of the Ursinus administration took three charming coeds from said institution out to dinner after the F and M game. All three are vociferous in declaring the occasion a delightful and entertaining experience, as well as a marvelous morale-booster. For further details and application blanks, see D.L.H.

We feel that a word of commendation is due two aspiring girls. They are presently engaged in rigorous training for the jacks tournament despite almost insurmountable obstacles such as a rug, assorted furniture, and the use of a tennis ball.

We got a sneak preview of some of the senior write-ups, and we highly recommend them for sheer entertainment value. Virtues run rampant, and the number of sincere and loyal friends and budding successes is really staggering.

To pacify certain of our "Weekly" readers (even though a bit tardily), we would like to point out that Homecoming Queen Ellie Unger was sponsored by Apes. So, in the words of Ted Lewis, "Is everybody happy?"

Looking 'Em Over

THE PILL OF DEFEAT IS BITTER

It's better for all of us that we forget what happened to the Ursinus Bears this past Saturday at Franklin and Marshall. Because of the shortage of space in this week's paper, I am foregoing the usual write-up of the game, the details of which would hardly interest Ursinus fans at this point. This week it was the story behind the headlines that took some of the gloss off the unmerciful 68-19 trouncing of the Grizzlies. For one-half, an aroused and spirited group of grid-ders, played the vaunted Diplomats to a standstill, much to the surprise of many fans.

All Lancaster expected a rout, including the Franklin and Marshall players, one of whom saw fit to thumb the Ursinus defense after crossing the goal line on the Diplomats first score. But, the Bears, trailing 13-0, caught fire as Dick Glock darted for a second-period 12 yd. scoring jaunt and minutes later hit Ben Maliken with a pass that the brilliant line-smasher raced 50 yards to tie the score.

Bedlam broke loose in the Ursinus stands as an awed hush fell over the opposite side of the field. When the half ended, 13-13, there was an air of excitement as the fans settled back for the intermission.

But, it was too much. A very courageous but "very" tired Ursinus forward wall could no longer take the savage whip-lashing of the brutal F & M offense. Play after play clicked for the Diplomats as fresh reserves rotated with tiring linemen. Still, a battered and bruised Ursinus line could do nothing but catch glimpses of opposing backs as they slashed through the defensive set-up. Every once in a while a red shirted defender would rise to the occasion, but the constant strain was too devastating.

Still mention must be made of Frank Kolp and Howard Roberts, both of whom were as standouts as they could have been in such circumstances. Many others, such as "Hoody" Houser, Jimmy Groves, and Paul Schwab stuck it out to the end, even though the well-coached Diplomats continued to roll up a score. On offense, Dick Glock's 90 yard touchdown jaunt was a thriller, but was the only serious Ursinus threat of the second half.

This only goes to prove that the up-staters are a team much out of our class. Their prestige has been on a steady increase in the past few years and the fruits of excellent coaching are well-evident. We tried, we wanted to win, we were routed. Let that be no indication as to our strength. The pill of defeat is indeed a bitter one to swallow, while the test of a winner is the ability to rebound. Juniata College moves onto Patterson field this Saturday with a 6-1 record. The Bears may be a little down, but you can be assured, they're not out!

Bears Face Juniata In Last Home Tilt

by Dick Bowman '55

Smarting from a bitterly humiliating defeat at the hands of F & M, the Ursinus Grizzlies are determined to pour it on a promising Juniata eleven when the two teams meet Saturday on Patterson field. A victory would put the Bears over the .500 mark. To date Juniata has compiled a log of 6 wins and 1 loss. After losing their season's opener to Westminster 27-20, the visitors downed Moravian 13-7, Haverford 36-6, Dickinson 10-8, Susquehanna 12-7 and Grove City 7-0. Ursinus has won three and lost three.

The Ursinus 68-19 loss to F & M was one of those things that shouldn't have happened but did. A lack of reserve strength was the key factor, although the Diplomats are not to be underestimated, as shown by their undefeated status in six games.

As far as the Bears were concerned the game should have ended at halftime. Ursinus had fought a valiant up-hill battle to overcome a 13-0 first period deficit and knot the score at 13-13. Radio sportscasters were predicting an upset. Offensively, Glock's thirteen yard TD sprint around his own right end was on sheer speed alone. The star tailback's pass to receiver Ben Maliken was a beautiful play to watch, as the stocky halfback cut behind the safety man, caught the ball on the fifty yard line and out-raced the defenders to the goal. These scores evened things

Bakermen Lose To Haverford

by Dick Guldin '55

On Saturday the Bakermen were turned back by a powerful Haverford team here at Collegeville. The 'Fords took an early lead by punching a score into the net early in the first period. They scored one more in the second frame. Larry Zartman of Ursinus socked one into the nets in the same period.

Scoring two more goals in the third frame Haverford settled back to a comfortable 4-1 advantage. As they were settling, however, Ursinus substitute, Ben Settles eased one through the 'Ford defense for the second hosts' score. Haverford scored one more in the final period.

Although the Bakermen lacked their scoring punch they still showed plenty of teamwork. Offensive plays were set up and carried almost to completion.

up at half-time. The one other bright spot in the game occurred in the third quarter when Glock skirted his own right end, reversed his field and galloped 89 yards to paydirt. Bob Swett's key block on the Ursinus 25 yard line knocked down three defenders.

Outside of this lone play, the second half was a nightmare for Ursinus players and fans alike. Never has this reported seen a team play such a tremendous first half and crumble so completely in the second half. Perhaps the Bears just outdid themselves in the first two frames. Nevertheless, a rejuvenated Franklin and Marshall squad ran onto the gridiron and completely dominated every phase of play until the final whistle mercifully ended the game.

Star halfback Kenny Davis lived up to his great reputation by repeatedly shaking off would-be tacklers and dancing through holes like an elusive gust of wind. When hit he would twist and drive for additional yardage. He was well supported by ace passer and ball handler quarterback Dale Ritter whose aerials kept the Ursinus defenders loose the whole game. The hard line plunging of Bob Green and Walt Witmer gave the Dips a well balanced, powerful machine. Tom Hendrix also shone on offense.

F & M was the better team, of that there can be no doubt. But there was not the difference between the teams that the score would seem to indicate.

Bakermen Blast LaSalle In Home Soccer Tilt, 2-0

by Ted Wenner '53

The Ursinus Bears, displaying almost complete mastery of the game, pulled a stunning upset victory last Tuesday by dumping LaSalle college from the ranks of the unbeaten 2-0.

Sparked by the brilliant defensive work of Gary Cox and goalie Burnett Eddy, the Bears turned back every enemy attempt to score and supplemented this with a dazzling passing display to completely outclass their vaunted opponents on offense to name individual heroes would be impossible for it was a tremendous team effort that turned the tide and a fired-up hustle that constantly stoned LaSalle's every attempt to engineer a scoring thrust.

The first score of the game came on a well-placed corner kick by Pete Forman in the first period. With fifteen minutes gone, the hustling outer-right banged his kick directly in front of the LaSalle goal, where Larry Zartman neatly headed the ball past the bewildered Philadelphian's goalie.

Although this would have been enough to win, the outcome of the game was far from decided in the tingling excitement that followed, with each team threatening to score on numerous occasions. Only a stubborn and persistent LaSalle defensive line held the well-knit pass patterns of the Bakermen at bay, until finally, with fourteen minutes gone in the third period, Larry Zartman once again found the range with a beautifully placed kick from twenty yards out for the final score of the game.

The lineup: G, Eddy; RF, Frambes; LF, Cox; RH, Davis; CH, Aden; LH, Fellows; OR, Foreman; IR, Bright; C, Dawkins; IL, Zartman; OL, Williams.

Temple Drops Belles, 5-2

by Sally Lumis '53

The hockey team lost their third game out of six Friday at West Oak Lane, where Temple outscored them 5-2. The Belles have won 2 and tied 1 so far this season and have two more contests scheduled.

Although Ruthie Heller scored the first goal of the game after a minute and a half of play, Temple came back with 4 goals in the first half to make the half-time score 4-1. Ursinus and Temple added only one each in the second half to bring the total to 5-2.

Ursinus took the ball into scoring position in the Temple circle numerous times in the first half, but the offense was unable to penetrate Temple's staunch defensive players in spite of many attempts. The Temple line was more successful in getting passes through and driving into our goal.

Both teams displayed outstanding passing and teamwork, but the more aggressive play of Temple's hard-hitting eleven paid off in their decisive victory.

Rickie Bauser and Pat Garrow took the goalie position for a half each in place of Jan Price, regular goalie, who was unable to play. Both subs did well in holding down the Temple score. In the second half, Pat made some nice saves and helped to keep the Temple second half tally down.

The Jayvee team went on the field with several changes in the line-up that proved to be very successful. Kay Hood, former fullback, was switched to a left wing—and a fast one, too. Robin Blood played right half and Alberta Barnhardt left half and both helped tremendously to bring about a 3-0 victory for Ursinus. Bev Syvertsen, Rosa Rapp, Nancy Laib, and Teddy Rapp completed the defensive line-up that held Temple's jayvee scoreless.

Teddy Rapp, who just came along to see the game, did a very capable job in the goal cage as she stopped many Temple attacks.

Not to be overlooked is the fast, aggressive play of the jayvee line. The forward quintet put the pressure on Temple to the extent of three goals. Nesta Lewis broke through for two goals and Capt. Sal Parent added the third.

Write a Lucky Strike jingle!

No box tops! NO ENTRY BLANKS! It's easy!

Just write a 4-line jingle based on the fact that

LUCKIES ARE MADE BETTER

TO TASTE BETTER!*

I've heard the same in every class -
 In history, psych, and ec -
 For cleaner, fresher, smoother smokes,
 It's Lucky Strike, by heck!

I like a better-tasting smoke
 And mildness counts with me.
 So when I buy I keep in mind
 That L.S./M.F.T.!

Here's your chance to make yourself $25. Just write a 4-line Lucky Strike jingle, based on the fact that Luckies are made better to taste better.*

Then, if we select your jingle, we'll pay you for the right to use it, together with your name, in Lucky Strike advertising . . . probably in this paper.

Read the sample jingles on this page. Then get the gang together, break out the rhyming dictionary, and start writing. It's fun! And we're buying jingles by the bushel!
