Good Morning,
yesterday

You wake up and time has slipped away

And suddenly it's hard to find The memories you left behind

Do you remember the laughter and the tears,
The shadows of misty yesteryears?

The good times and the bad you've seen

And all the others in-between

Reach back for the joy and the sorrow
Put them away in your mind

For memories are time that you borrow
To spend when you get tomorrow

The seasons are passing one by one

So gather moments while you may

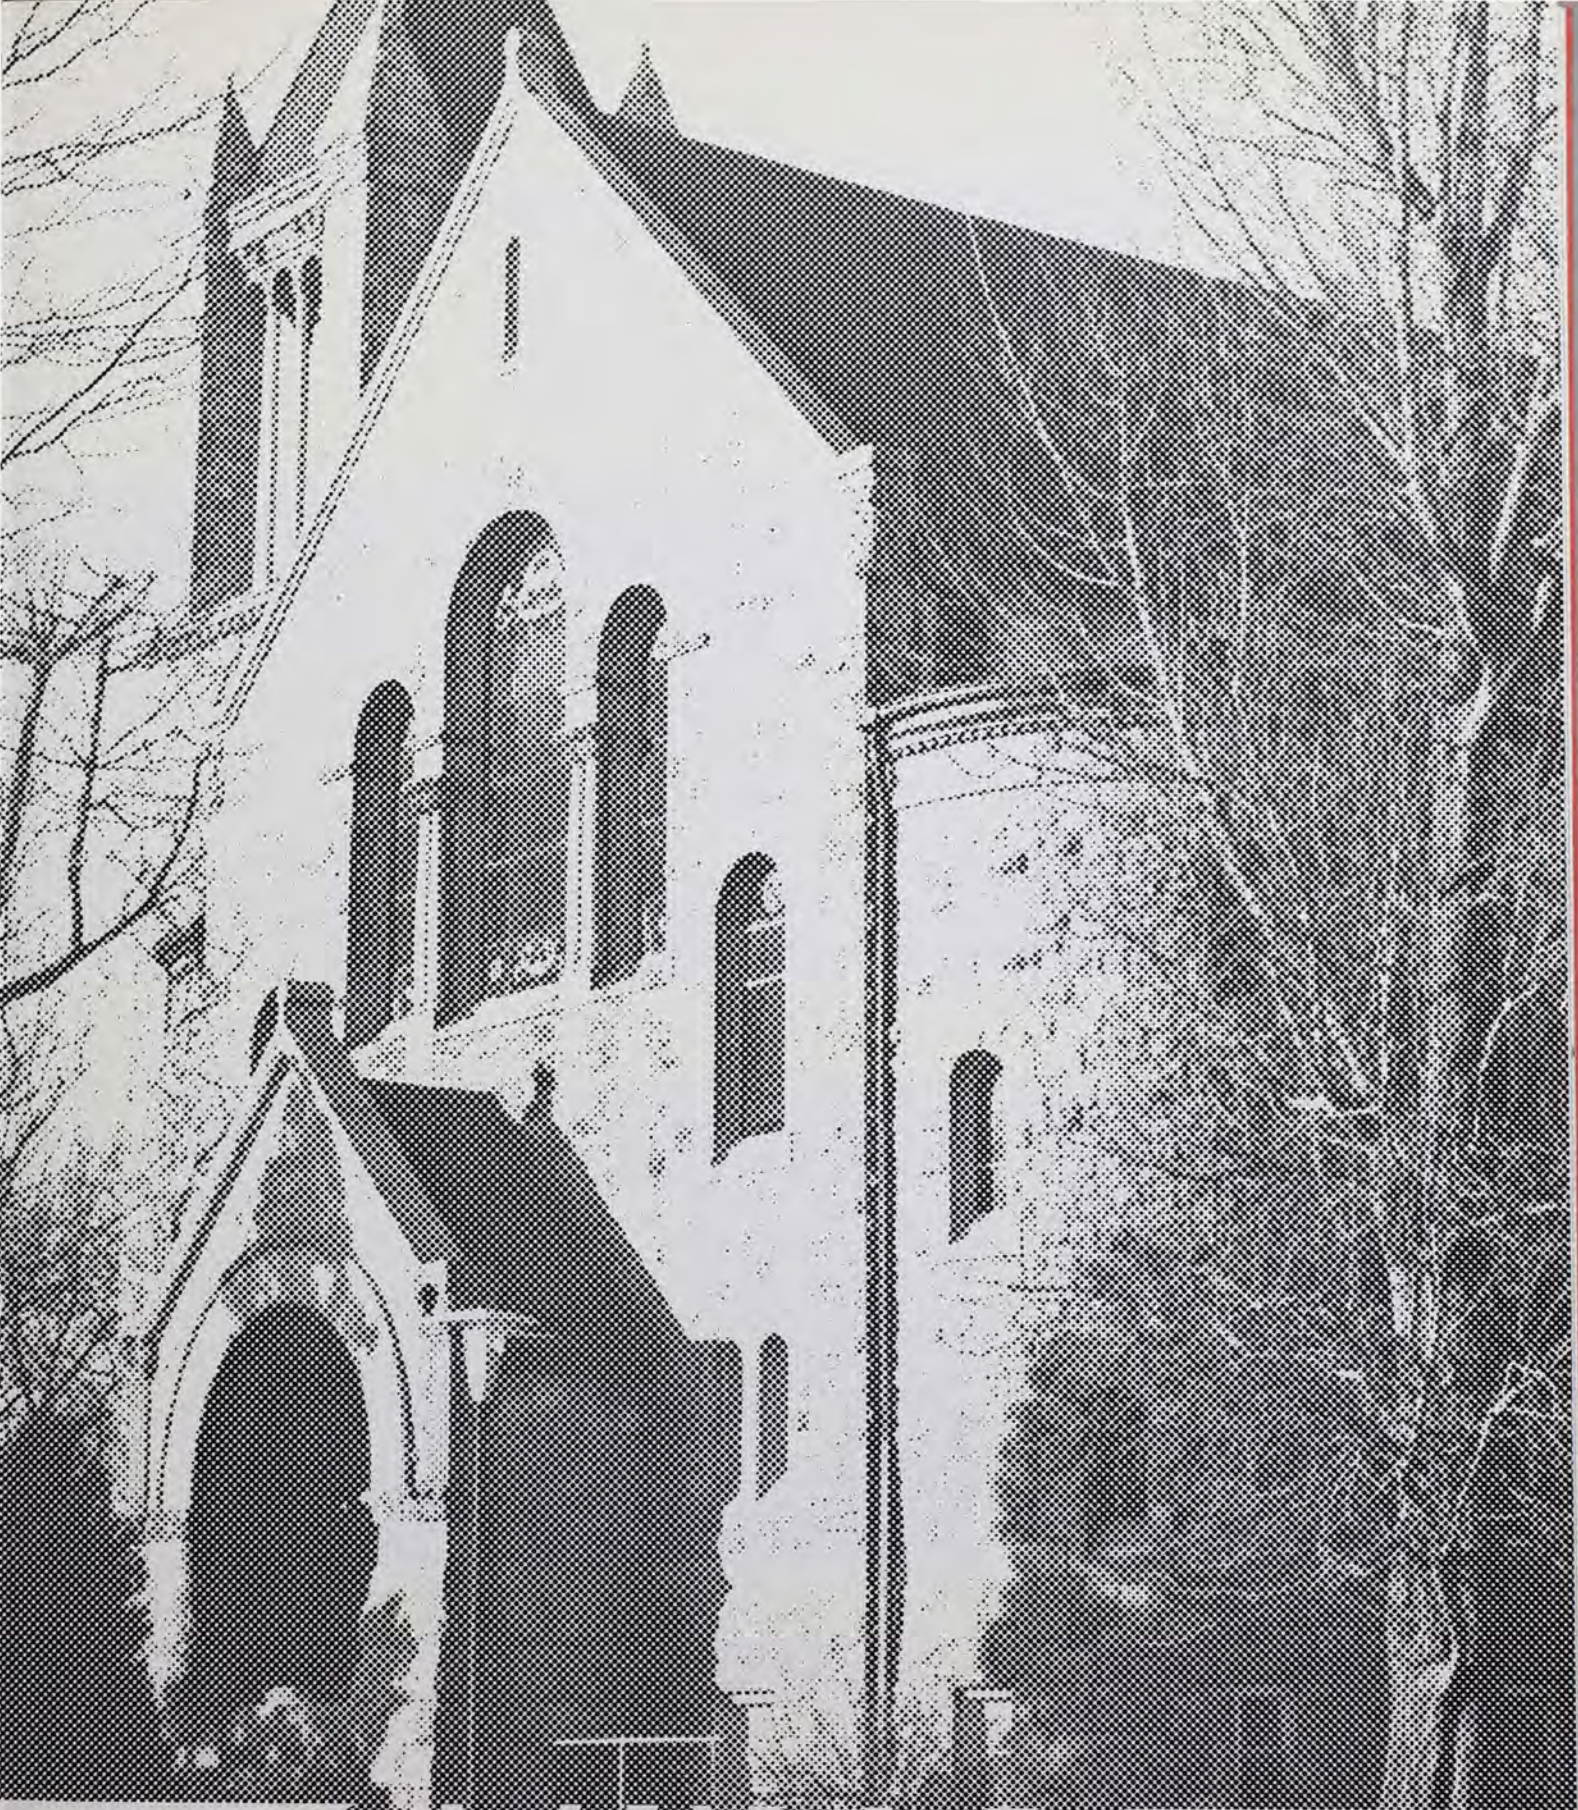

Collect the dreams you dream today

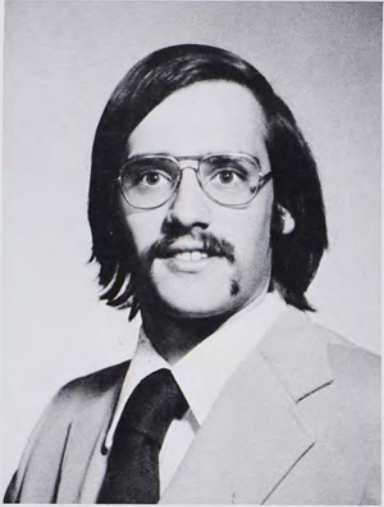

Remember . . .

WE SHOOT THE BULL.

We the members of the class of 1976 share in the pride that our parents and friends feel upon our graduation from Ursinus College. However, we would like to express our disappointment concerning the position of John Pambianco, a fellow senior who did not receive his diploma with us on May 30, 1976 because of arbitrary and inconsistent use of administrative policy. We wish to stress that as a group we by no means condone the use of marijuana. The issue seems much more clearly to be one in which excessively harsh measures have been taken against this particular offense.

A black and white photograph of a campus scene. In the background, a large, classical-style building with a portico and columns is visible. The foreground and middle ground are filled with numerous bare trees, their intricate branches creating a complex web against the sky. The ground appears to be a mix of dirt and snow, suggesting a winter or late autumn setting. The overall tone is somber and reflective, fitting the memorial nature of the text.

IN REMEMBRANCE

The Ursinus Community grieves that it has lost two professors during the 1975-76 academic year. Walter W. Marsteller '49, Associate Professor of Physics, and George W. Hartzell, Emeritus Professor of German, both passed away during the fall semester.

They will be sorely missed by their colleagues, students and friends at Ursinus College.
