Thespians Pick 'Angel Street' As Fall Play

The playreading committee of the Curtain club has chosen for the fall production Patrick Hamilton's Angel Street, formerly known on the London stage and in the movies as Gaslight. The author has also written such well-known thrillers as Rope and Hangover Square. Angel Street is a psychological mystery which creates suspense as the audience wonders when the murder will be committed.

The plot includes a husband deliberately trying to drive his wife insane, and the desperate hunt of the detective for the murderer, but no place does it bog down to a common murder mystery. The cast contains five people.

Tryouts for the play will be held Oct. 18 and 19 at Super House under the supervision of Donald L. Helfferich. Play books will be in the Library. All those who plan to tryout are requested to read the play before coming to the tryouts.

French Club Sees Slides of France

Dr. Helen Garrett showed a series of colored slides illustrating her recent vacation in France to approximately 30 students and faculty members at a French club meeting Wednesday night in the day study.

The slides depicted scenes of the palace and park at Versailles, and of the Champs-Elysees, Notre-Dame, the Louvre, and the boulevards and gardens in Paris.

William Fairweather '51 presided and introduced the speaker and the other officers of the club, including Ann Knauer '53, vice-president; Thelma Lindberg '51, secretary; and Tom Zimmer '52, treasurer.

The French club offers membership to all students interested in improving their knowledge of the language conversationally and informally.

Anyone desiring to join the group should contact an officer. The next meeting will be held at 8 p.m., Oct. 18, at the Wilcox residence.

Alpha Phi Omega Frat Opens Second Year of Campus Activity

The Alpha Phi Omega fraternity for scouts and former Boy Scouts started its second year of activity with a meeting in Bomberger on Monday evening. On the agenda was a discussion concerning social plans to be added to the social calendar for the following term.

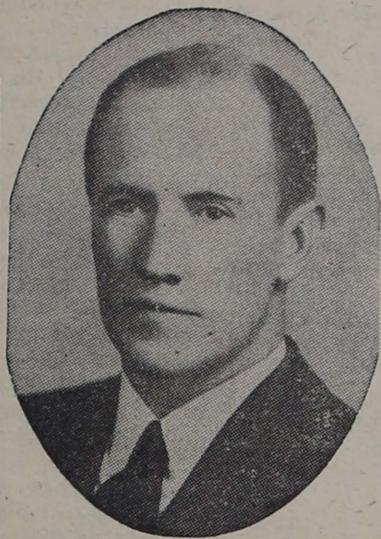

Plans were made for a membership drive to acquire a minimum of twenty-five members, a total which would enable the fraternity to obtain a national charter. Since this goal is desired as soon as possible, anyone desiring additional information should contact Jack Christ, Derr 215, immediately.

UN Delegate from India to Speak Friday at Philadelphia Forum

Dr. Gilbert F. White, president of Haverford college, announced recently that Sir Benegal Rau, head of the Indian delegation to the United Nations, will be one of the speakers at a forum, entitled "What Prospects for Peace?" to be held at the Academy of Music Friday, Oct. 13 at 8 p.m. The forum is presented under the auspices of the Joint Forum committee, of which Dr. White is chairman.

Other speakers will be: Roy Reuther, coordinator of political action for the United Automobile Workers (CIO), and brother of UAW president Walter Reuther; Clarence E. Pickett, honorary secretary of the American Friends committee (Quakers), and James F. Warburg, a former banker and author of the current book, "Faith, Purpose and Power."

The Joint Forum chairman said the purpose of the meeting is to investigate from various points of view, possible constructive methods of reconciling international conflicts.

Sigma Rho Formulates Plans For 1950-51 Terms

On Oct. 21 Sigma Rho Lambda will hold a buffet supper at the William Penn hotel previous to the Old Timers' day dance. Other plans for the year have been discussed, and several members have volunteered to donate blood for their president, Bob Rosenberger '51, who is confined to St. Joseph's hospital, Reading, following an auto accident.

Presiding in Rosenberger's absence is activities chairman, Jack Arthur '51. Other officers for this year are: vice-president, Dan Bomberger '51; secretary, Nelson Wenner '51; treasurer, Bill Poore '52; corresponding secretary, Jim Shiver '52; sgt. at arms, Bill Beckley '52.

Y to Conduct Week-end Retreat; Rally Held Wednesday

Plans for a week-end of fun, worship and fellowship at Camp Fernbrook highlight the Y calendar this week. Another of the much-talked-about retreats will take place this week-end, October 13-15.

An added attraction, tried for the first time this year, will be the return of the group to campus for the Dickinson football game.

The "retreaters" are scheduled to leave from in front of the Supply store Friday evening at 7:30. Discussions and activities fill the agenda until Sunday after dinner when everyone will collect his belongings and head back to school.

Chaperones will be the Bakers, Parsons, Staigers and Mr. Jones. Anyone who is interested in such a profitable week-end is cordially invited to join the group of campers.

Rally Held Wednesday

The officers and committeemen of the YM-YWCA were introduced to more than 150 students, many of them members of the class of '54, at a rally Wednesday night in Bomberger chapel.

The meeting opened with several songs led by Jack Christ '51, and Bill Van Horn '51, who in turn introduced the president of the YMCA, Bob Herber '51.

The heads of the various committees spoke briefly of their objectives for the school year. Jay Ely '52 and Marilyn Jean Miller

Relax Customs For Frosh Girls After Stunt Day

Friday, Oct. 6, was a day the freshmen women will long remember, for it ended the ten-day period of official customs, except for the wearing of dinks and signs.

Thursday, Oct. 5, was official stunt day. Freshmen women were required to wear clashing check blouses and plaid skirts, one sock and one stocking, a ribbon around one ankle and one around the neck, different shoes, and one pig-tail on either side of the head.

They were requested to carry life savers and M and Ms for the use of the sophomores.

But on Friday Jolly Jo Jo Nolt and the soph rules committee extended a welcome to the freshmen and declared the end of customs.

Combination socks were exchanged for white ones, make-up was applied to pale faces, and soph rules meetings were abandoned. However, dinks and signs are still required until further notice, so that freshmen may be identified.

IRC Hears Speech On Chinese Colleges

An enlightening insight into a Chinese Christian college under the present Communist regime was revealed to the International Relations clubs of Lehigh and Ursinus, at Lehigh on Thursday evening.

The speaker was John Christie, a Lehigh graduate who spent eight months of 1949 as a member of the administrative staff of Lingnan university in Kanton, China.

The students and teachers from Ursinus who attended the meeting were Major Bowen '51, Dr. Eugene Miller, Fred Bowen '51, Bob Herber '51, Lois Glessner '54, Dick McKee '51, Sarah Grater '53, Mary Ann Simmendinger '53, and Sarah Canan '53.

Christie said that, contrary to his expectations, the Communists did not move in immediately and start controlling the college. A few new courses were started and the students burst forth in fervent Communist rallies which subsided after a month. There was a vast enrollment in Russian courses which subsided after one lesson in

Four Conferences Held This Summer On Ursinus Campus

Ursinus College played host to four major conferences during the summer months, the chief one being the General Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, held from June 21, to June 28.

Present at the Synod's eighth triennial session were 160 pastors, 160 lay members, 50 other delegates, plus a special delegation of nine young people. Participants representing many foreign nations as well as all sections of the United States, discussed race relations and the separation of church and state, and also laid plans for the future. A highlight of the conference was the attendance of 2500 worshippers at Patterson Field on June 25.

The Eastern Leadership Training School of the Presbyterian Church, USA, held from July 10 to July 16, included instruction for adult leaders in the conducting of church programs and in the teaching of Sunday school classes. Organ, voice, and choral instructions were given in conjunction with the pro-

Varsity Club to Sponsor Old Timers' Day Dance

The annual Varsity Club dance will be held on Old Timers' day, Saturday, Oct. 21, from 8 to 12 p.m. in the Thompson-Gay gymnasium.

The entire student body is invited to dance to the music of Woody Leigh and his orchestra. Tickets are $1.80 a couple, tax included, and will be available from any member of the Varsity club.

Following the tradition started last year, a Harvest Queen will be selected prior to the dance by club members. She will be presented at the Swarthmore football game.

Czech to Speak At First Forum On October 17

The first Ursinus College forum event for the new season will be held jointly by the Ursinus Forum committee and the Lower Perkiomen Rotary Club on Tuesday, Oct. 17, at eight o'clock in Bomberger hall, Ursinus College. The general public is invited.

The speaker at the session will be Dr. Miroslav Kerner, an exile from Czechoslovakia, who held the post of Chief of the Czech office of Relief and Rehabilitation during World War II.

Dr. Kerner escaped to the U.S. zone in Germany after a Communist coup in his native country in February of 1948.

Before the war Dr. Kerner was an attorney and legal adviser on Czech railways.

When war came to his country he fought with the Czech army during the battle of France and then joined the country's army in Russia where he fought against the Russians from Kiev to Prague. After the collapse of his government he fled to France via Hungary, Yugoslavia, Greece, Turkey and Syria.

He has been in this country for little more than a year.

His timely topic, "Communism in Eastern Europe," has elicited great interest wherever he has appeared.

Curtain Club Adopts Use of Group System

Close to a hundred new and old members of the Curtain Club were present Tuesday evening at the annual reception of the club at Super House. During the reception old members explained some of the group's systems and plans to the new members.

At the Stars and Players meeting preceding the reception, President Emile Schmidt '51 announced that the group system, abandoned last year, has been reinstated for the coming year with tentative dates set for the four small productions given in the gym.

A general meeting for all members, new and old, will be held Oct. 17, at which more specific plans will be made and the assignment of members to the various groups announced.

Group leaders and the dates of their productions are as follows: Jacqueline Keller '51 and Marjorie Paynter '51, Oct. 31; Joni Graff '52 and William LeKerneck '52, Nov.

Pre-Legal Society Head Issues Call for People to Join the Group

Roger Drechsler '51, president of the Pre-Legal Society, has issued a call for new members. Anyone interested in joining the group should drop a line to Drechsler in Box 93 for information.

One of the current aims of the society is to stimulate campus interest in the national election Nov. 7th. Pending plans call for debates on national election issues between professors and possibly outside politicians.

To follow this up the society will sponsor a straw vote on campus the last week in October.

WAA to Sell Christmas Supplies In Girls' Dorms in Near Future

Few people have started to think about Christmas yet, but there is one campus organization that is planning now to make your Christmas a merrier one. In the near future representatives of the WAA will be selling Christmas cards, wrapping paper and Christmas books in all the girls' dorms. The proceeds will go towards the WAA Scholarship Fund which was set up many years ago, but which has not yet been used. A goal of $500 has been set for the year.

In addition to its sales program the WAA, under the leadership of Janet Hunter, is making plans for a new and different spring show and has undertaken a revision of the outmoded WAA constitution.

DEMOTED OR INSANE?—No, the above upperclassmen are the victims neither of demotion nor of an attack of insanity. When they donned freshmen customs at last week's Bomberger chapel Y Rally they were merely doing their share in introducing to the student body the YM-YWCA. Left to right are Jim Johnson '51, Jim Scott '53, Carolyn Herber '51, William Degerberg '52, and Susanne Deitz '51.

Confusion or Coordination?

A familiar problem has again arisen on campus. Each year tremendous confusion and overlapping occurs in the scheduling of meetings by campus organizations; this is especially true of noon meetings.

A group may, for example, call a meeting for freshmen to apply for membership, and then find that there is a freshmen class meeting at the same time. Or it may request a class meeting and find that a majority of the members of the class are obligated to attend other meetings.

This condition is the fault of none of these parties, but it is also a condition which could be at least partially remedied.

We feel that a coordination of activities is dictated by this situation. We realize that this is already being done to a certain extent by the faculty committee on student activities, especially for social activities; but the calendar which results from this coordination is prepared for long periods of time and cannot include all activity.

Each week, organizations should be required to obtain permission for their meetings during the following week (if they are not already listed on the calendar) from some central source.

This central source could take various forms. It might be the faculty committee on student activities or a portion thereof, or perhaps a committee set up by the Men's and Women's Student Governments for the purpose. The chairman would have to be authorized to permit special meetings to meet exigencies that might arise during the week.

We vote for coordination over confusion.

From Proposal to Project

Last spring we commended the YM-YWCA for its proposal to convert the "Rec" center into a bee-hive of college activity.

Friday night we were given abundant reason to change the label from proposal to project. A large segment of the Ursinus community enjoyed the already improved facilities of the center, proof of the fact that under the leadership of the Campus Affairs commission the Y has rolled up its sleeves and buckled down to work.

The glossy grandeur of the newly-painted floor was apparent to all, and the ice cream and soda dispensers had already been placed in service.

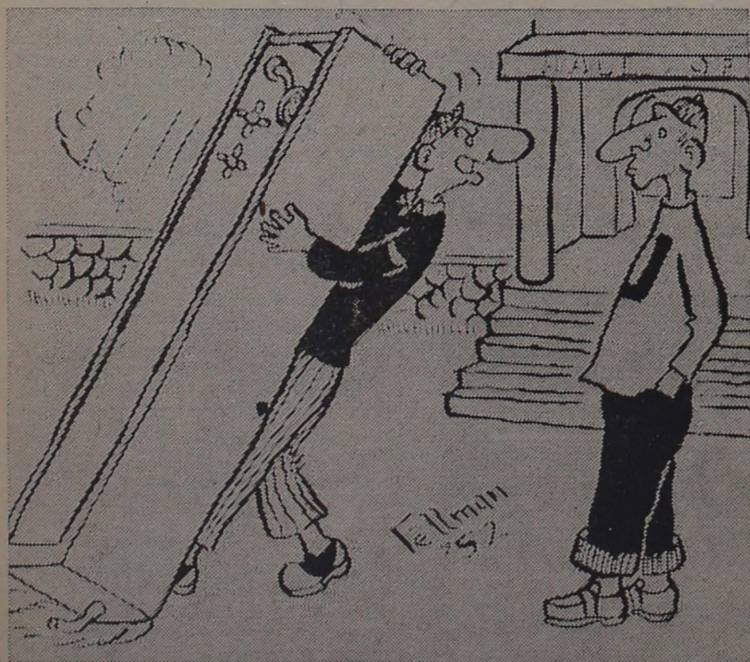

A proposal has become a project, and we are certain that what we have already been shown is concrete evidence that there is more to come.

Campus Chatter

People really got down to work this week, and everybody was busy as a bee—we better all be careful not to get stung . . . But speaking of bees, we hear English 1, 2 students are learning to spell . . . if that happens, we should soon have a spelling bee . . . And Steve Muench says not to forget to swarm with your honey to the Varsity club dance Oct. 21 . . . things will really buzz . . . at $1.80 a couple nobody gets stung . . . Who will the Harvest Queen be? . . . let's all make a bee line to the gym and help swell the colony . . . dance'll beetle 12 o'clock . . . But 'swarm outside I'd better be changing the subject . . . If you think this is flowery, please stalk along a bit longer . . . we'll soon leaf you alone . . . Do you see pal? . . . This is real dirt; we're really getting down to earth . . . I hope we don't have to change the style, because if we do somebody'll need a pistol—and we're not talking about those botany students who do not get the right anther . . . But we are talking about plants, and Bob Herb-er, YM prexy, claims the Y retreat this week-end will really move forward . . . and he should know; he's seed 'em before . . . We're not trying to plant another thought in your mind, "don't ya know," but we can't help observing that there's been much debate about the attractive freshmen women—as for us, we're all forum. Yes, we said all.

It's an Ursinus Fact . . .

- . . . that the Alumni Memorial Library contains 40,000 volumes, with a 1950 addition of over 1500 new books.
- . . . that 28,295 assigned readings passed over the main desk to undergraduates during the 1949-50 terms.
- . . . that the reserve circulation jumped from 12,082 in 1948-49 to 28,295 in 1949-50. Ursinus students are studying twice as hard.
- . . . that a visiting scholar from Wisconsin came this summer to examine the memoirs and papers of F. M. Huntington Wilson, ex-diplomat, whose records now belong to the Ursinus library.
- . . . that Jack Webb '50 studied in Oslo, Norway, this summer, obtained a job there, and intends to stay in Norway. How these Bears travel.
- . . . that Dr. Landor '46 and student in the pre-med department has been assigned to active duty in Korea in the Medical corps of the United States Marines. He was formerly stationed at St. Albans Naval hospital.

THE MAIL BOX

(Editor's Note:- These letters are presented in accordance with a long-established Weekly policy of printing student opinions in signed letters whenever possible.)

Oct. 7

Dear Editor,

We would like to express our appreciation to the students, both active and inactive in the Y, who gave so generously of their time to get the "Rec" center in a presentable condition for Friday night. Without their help the floor could not have been painted and the project engineered in the short period of two weeks.

We would like to give a special vote of thanks to Mr. Godshall and Russ Remig for their help, especially in supplying the paint; to Andy and Shorty, the two painters whose advice we could not have done without; to Bill and Ralph, who work in Bomberger hall; and to all the other maintenance men who cooperated with us. We know that this note of thanks will probably go unread by most of the above-named, but we want Ursinus to know that cooperation can be obtained if you get things started under your own steam.

Sincerely yours,

Marilyn Jeanne Miller & Jay Ely,

Co-chrm. of Campus Affairs Comm., YM-YW

Oct. 4

Dear Editor,

Before attempting to write this letter, I talked with other students and found that the thoughts which I wish to express are shared by many of them. Therefore, I feel that my idea should not be judged as unworthy of due consideration.

The problem of food has long been a sore issue here at Ursinus, and I realize fully the difficulty of preparing meals for a large group. As I have worked for six summers at a resort which successfully serves over 2100 plates in a single day, I am confident that we can overcome the food problem to everyone's satisfaction.

I believe that one of the main problems lies in the manner in which the food is prepared. The vegetables are tasteless, the potatoes hard, the "soft" boiled eggs either raw or else hard. The mush we had for breakfast today had no taste—a cook should be able to season the food to bring out its best flavor. The ham last night was discolored, and the steaks on Monday (at least those at our table) were either spoiled or pretty close to it. I'm sure the college buys its food from reputable wholesalers, and there should be no reason for the food to reach the table devoid of all taste. I enjoy a good meal, but when we are served food that has been improperly prepared or that has had all its nutritional value cooked out of it, I lose all desire to eat.

One other thing—desserts! I see no reason why we should have dessertless meals. Why can't we have pies and cakes? A dessert of a half pear or a few slices of peaches—why not cake and fruit? There are ovens in the kitchen—haven't we got a pastry cook who can use them?

The upshot of this letter may be better meals for a short time, but then we shall sink back into the old rut. Let's not let that happen! I challenge the kitchen staff to turn out meals that we, as members of the college community, can be justly proud of. I believe it can be done—now it's up to the kitchen staff to do it.

'Doc' Philip Keeps Ursinus Campus Musical

by Aubre Givler '51

Dr. William F. Phillip as head of the music department is a musician whose ability it is to make others enjoy music both actively and passively. His marvelous sense of humor and originality combine to make chorus rehearsals a pleasure, and he knows how to get the best results from a group of energetic college students.

"Doc" has had excellent training in all phases of music and is a favorite guest conductor in the east. He was born in Troy, New York, and received his training at the Troy Conservatory of Music; the State Academy of Church and School Music, Berlin, Germany; the Meissner Institute of Music, Chicago; he was also a pupil of Hans J. Maser and Max von Schillings.

Before coming to Ursinus in 1935, Dr. Phillip taught at the Troy Conservatory of Music and Callan Tall, and was musical director at the Trojan Choir School. He is the composer and arranger of many choral and orchestral selections, as well as a three-act Swiss operetta, In Springtime.

All you have to do is to come up to the east music studio some Thursday evening to see Doc in action. From the beginning downbeat to the dying strains of any song, his energetic conducting keeps the chorus, band or orchestra lively and ready to follow. This, plus his many jokes and facial expressions make learning under his direction a real pleasure.

Dr. Phillip assumes the duties of the director of music at a music camp in Maine during the summer months, but the rest of the year he is our capable and friendly maestro.

Freshman is Native of Spain

That suave, black-haired Spaniard sporting an undignified crimson dink around campus is Bingen de Arbeloa of Maracaibo, Venezuela. Bingen, although still speaking with a slight Spanish accent, is quite familiar with life among the Pennsylvanians, having attended Perkiomen Prep, in Pennsburg for the past four years.

Bingen was born in Bilbao, Spain, and lived there until he was forced to flee with his family in 1936 when France took over the country! With many other Spanish Republicans the de Arbeloa family sought refuge first in France, then Holland and finally in Venezuela. Bingen's first eight years of schooling were acquired in Maracaibo where his father is employed by the Caribbean Oil Company.

At the time of his arrival in the United States, Bingen did not know one word of English, but in his four-year stay here he has become quite proficient in the language. Even though he insists English composition will be his downfall at Ursinus, anyone who has heard him speak would doubt the necessity for his concern.

Bingen chose Ursinus as the college to attend because of his familiarity with the Philadelphia area and the excellence of the pre-medical course offered here. He already is enthusiastic in his approval of the students, the school and the town, his main complaint being the distance he must walk to campus each day. He lives in Trappe at 437 Main St.

United States politics are both confusing and unpredictable in Bingen's eyes, and he feels that most Americans place too much emphasis on money and material things. However, he does believe that many American habits and customs are basically similar to their South American counterparts.

Bingen looks forward to a career as physician among the natives of rural Venezuela. He feels the need for competent medical attention there is great, and he wishes to do all in his power to alleviate the situation.

Stagg's Granddaughter Enrolls in Junior Class

by Jean Heron '51

No doubt you too have heard the rumor that Amos Alonzo Stagg's granddaughter has arrived as an Ursinus student. It's true. Barbara Stagg, a junior, has transferred from Susquehanna in order to pursue studies in the physical education group.

Barbara's illustrious grandfather, at 88, is known as the "Grand Old Man of the Gridiron." Now assisting his son as coach at Susquehanna, Alonzo Stagg is widely known and revered for his success in developing championship teams at Chicago University and College of the Pacific. Selected on Walter Camp's first All-American team in 1889 at Yale, he has played, coached, and invented football all his life.

True to her family tradition, Barb is quite an athlete. From her days in Selinsgrove high school she has participated in sports—hockey, basketball and tennis. Her greatest prowess lies in the latter. This is proven by the fact that she was the first girl in ninety-three years to play on the men's tennis team at Susquehanna.

Talent Runs in Family

It seems that tennis talent runs in the family. Barb's grandmother participated in a woman's national tennis tournament; her father coaches tennis at a summer resort at Cacatawa, Michigan; and her brother, Amos Alonzo Stagg III, plays on the tennis squad at Michigan State University.

In answer to the question, "How do you like Ursinus?" Barb exclaims enthusiastically that she thinks, "It's wonderful!" While she is a student here at Ursinus Barb would like to take part in cheer-leading, the musical organizations and the curtain club.

HERB BENNETT

One of the most popular members of this year's "destiny team" is quiet, friendly Herb Bennett '53, a returning varsity letter man. During a brilliant high school career at Clifton Heights, Pennsylvania, Herb played football, basketball and baseball. He was the "iron man" on the gridiron, playing both offensive and defensive guard, and was twice selected on the All-Delaware County Team.

Herb entered Ursinus last year and immediately fitted into the starting array. Playing guard on offense and defense, he took part in all four quarters of every game last season. Although only five feet, eight inches tall, his overwhelming desire to win has marked him as one of the most aggressive members of the team.

A member of Zeta Chi fraternity and the Varsity Club Herb says that this year's team is potentially good. An aggravating ankle injury has sidelined him so far this year, but he hopes to get back into action soon.

HERM LINTNER

Ursinus football fans were gratified to see the return of popular Herm Lintner '52 to the gridiron this year. Herm was the offensive and defensive center last year until he suffered a broken leg in the Swarthmore game, which sidelined him for the rest of the year.

The 160-pound lineman attended Haddon Heights high school, New Jersey, where he won letters in basketball and football. In his senior year he was given honorable mention on the Group Three All-Conference Football Team of South Jersey, despite the fact that he played most of the season with a dislocated shoulder. Here at Ursinus, Herm is also a two-miler on the track team.

Off the field, Herm is a Varsity Club member, treasurer of the junior class, and belongs to Alpha Phi Epsilon fraternity. As to his future plans, Herm would like to teach mathematics and physics and coach on the sideline.

BILL POORE

One of the most important men in the make-up of this year's football squad is quarterback Bill Poore '52, who is starting his second year of varsity competition. Bill came to us from Pennington Prep, where he played two years of football as their ace signal-caller, besides earning varsity letters in baseball and basketball.

Bill was employed both offensively and defensively last year, alternating with Don Young at quarterback and playing defensive half-back. One of the hardest workers on the team, the 165-pound quarterback believes that this is the finest team Ursinus has had since he has been here, and he is anxiously looking forward to a winning year.

Bill, a member of the Varsity club and treasurer of Sigma Rho fraternity, is a mathematics major and is preparing for a life of teaching and coaching.

STUDENTS! MAKE MONEY WRITING LUCKY STRIKE "HAPPY-GO-LUCKY" JINGLES!

I really am a Lucky guy,
Just got my Ph. D.,
To prove to you how much I know,
L.S., sir, means F.T.

I study French and English lit;
I study Latin too,
But words that I like best to hear
Are Lucky Strike, don't you?

It's easy! It's fun! No box tops to send! No essays to write! Just write a simple four-line jingle, and you may make $25! Start today!

Write a "Happy-Go-Lucky" jingle, like those you see on this page, based on some phase of college life. If your jingle is selected for possible use in Lucky Strike advertising, we will pay you $25 for the right to use it and your name in our advertising. Start today. "Happy-Go-Luckies" will soon be running in your paper. Send in your jingles—as many as you like—right away, and $25 can be yours pronto if your jingle is chosen. Be the first to write a jingle in your school. Watch this paper for more "Happy-Go-Luckies."

READ THESE SIMPLE INSTRUCTIONS

1. Write your "Happy-Go-Lucky" four-line jingle on a plain piece of paper, or postcard, and send it to Happy-Go-Lucky, P.O. Box 67, New York 46, N. Y.
2. Be sure your name, college and address are included—and that they are legible.
3. Every student of any college or university may submit jingles.

Senior Quartet Wins Appearance on TV; 51'ers Celebrate Triumph by Singing

The 51'ers have done it again! That active quartet of seniors is going to have its television premier on October 21. This close-harmony group consisting of Russ Lord, Buck Ross, Whistler Donahue, and Russ Fisher auditioned for the "Stars in Your Eyes" program last Wednesday and discovered (much to their surprise, it seems) that they are to appear on that show two weeks from Saturday. The program is to have as its theme the football season, and there will be participants from several colleges in this area.

The way they celebrated their victory makes an interesting story, if we are to believe all we hear. Having decided that the public needed a little music from such virtuosos, they proceeded to serenade the pedestrians on Broad Street from a trolley stop in the middle of the street, to sing to three men in a gas station, and to present their final performance from atop a trailer truck. It all goes to show how success can go to your head.

The group is well-known on the Ursinus campus, having entertained at many of the social functions during the past three years. They have also won several prizes for their singing outside the school and are members of the S.P.E.B. S.Q.S.A. (Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America, to the uninitiated.)

So be sure to tune in Channel 3, station WPTZ, on the 21st to hear and see your favorite singing group.

James Herbsleb Chosen Pi Gamma Mu Advisor

James R. Herbsleb, instructor in economics, has accepted the position of faculty advisor of the local honor fraternity for social sciences, Pi Gamma Mu, according to an announcement made this week by Russ Mack '51, president of the Ursinus chapter, Sigma, of Pennsylvania.

Herbsleb, a graduate of the College of the Pacific and Temple University, joined the Ursinus faculty last year.

Tentative plans for the fraternity include the acceptance of new members in the fall. A dinner and an outside speaker are planned for the formal initiation ceremony.

ATTENTION!

Full time students who wish to postpone their entrance into the armed forces should request of their local boards postponement of induction and not deferment. It is the student's obligation to file in the Registrar's office his name, his local board number and its location.

If you have not yet registered with your local board it is your responsibility to report your board number and location to the Registrar's office as soon as you register. The office will automatically certify to local boards your status at the college.

This information applies only to men who are under the jurisdiction of their local boards.

Millers' Summer Mixes Work and Play; Enjoy Scenery and Local Peculiarities

Have you ever gone to an eight o'clock class and been late because on your way you met a farmer with his herd of oxen? Have you ever eaten fried codfish tongues?

"It has happened to me," says Dr. Eugene Miller, professor of political science at Ursinus. For a six weeks' summer school session Dr. Miller was visiting professor of political science at the University of Connecticut in Storrs, Connecticut. American Government and Political Theory were his courses at this large, modern university and he says he had a very pleasant summer.

Dr. Miller's one trouble was a common one—there just wasn't enough time for everything that he would have liked to have done. There was always an opportunity for swimming, riding, playing tennis or attending concerts. He does mention a golf course in Vermont which was enclosed by a barbed-wire fence to keep in the cows who kept the greens in shape. Storrs is a small town like Collegeville, but the university has about 6500 students and many new buildings; yet it was here that Dr. Miller encountered the herd of oxen.

The fried codfish tongues were one of the local delicacies eaten by Dr. Miller and his wife. After the school session, they found time to enjoy the spectacular scenery of the Gaspé Peninsula, of Vermont and Maine. A three weeks' stay in Maine with Mrs. Miller's sister gave them an opportunity to relax on a Maine farm, and, incidentally, to enjoy the fine food. Here Mrs. Miller acquired one more talent, for she learned to churn butter.

NEW PRECEPTRESS

Mrs. Charles King, formerly of New York state, is the new preceptress this year at 944. Before coming to Ursinus, she had worked with young people in church work, but this is the first dormitory position that she has ever held. Mrs. King likes all the girls in 944 very much, thinks Ursinus is a friendly place and considers her job to be very worthwhile.

We never should have lost this one. Last week there was some excuse in losing to a better team, but Haverford's club was no stronger than ours. We got most of the breaks but couldn't capitalize on them; Haverford took advantage of the few they got and went on to win.

As usual, the Bears had trouble pushing the ball across whenever they drew near pay dirt. In the first quarter a Bruin threat was halted in Haverford territory, when Bill Fischer crossed the double stripe only to have the referee claim that his knee hit the ground at the four. But that much-talked-about punch just wasn't there, so Haverford held, scored in the second quarter and led 6-0 at half-time.

In the second half two things happened—the Fords developed a severe case of "fumblyitis" and Ursinus decided to play football. Haverford bobbled the ball four straight times following intermission, and although we capitalized only once, it finally looked as if the Bears were beginning to roll. Our line was charging hard, and at last we got a glimpse of some vicious tackling and sharp blocking. We tied the score, and the Main Liners were having trouble getting their plays off before a desperation aerial clicked for 66 yards. After that the Bears roared back within one point but threw away too many opportunities to deserve to win.

Fischer Played Well

Battering Bill Fischer, who seems to do everything well on the gridiron, played a whale of a game. His slashing thrusts through the line made the Bruin offense click. The workhorse of the team, Fischer is the guy you can depend upon to get you those couple of yards whenever you need them. Besides his powerful running, Fischer blocked well, caught a couple of passes and played a swell defensive game.

Of course, the real surprise of the game was the work turned in by a pair of newcomers, Gene Glick and Dick Sharpe. In the first half quarterback Don Young was injured, and things really looked dark until Glick took over under center. With the former Central High athlete calling plays, our offense rolled. Glick is a "take charge guy" who can thread the needle with his passes. The senior has a wonderful arm and should prove valuable in the future.

Sharpe, six foot wingman from Drexel Hill, didn't even play last week, but after the show he put on Saturday he'll be seeing quite a bit of action from now on. He was Glick's favorite receiver and didn't seem to worry whether he was in the clear or not. On one long pass play he simply stole the ball from a host of pass defenders for the day's finest grab. Keep your eye on this freshman; he's a great prospect.

Others Looked Good

Last week's defensive standout, Bob Davis, also took a turn at running the ball Saturday and looked great. Paul Doughty took off on a couple of long jaunts and proved himself to be a tough man to bring down. Freshman Dick Glock ran equally well when he wasn't pulling in passes.

Our line played some rugged ball in the second half, especially Feulner, Loomis, Ehnott, Reich and Lintner. Don Stauffer and Bill Helfferich did fine jobs as line-backers, and the latter's kicking was very heartening. Orin Houser and Ed Sella, a couple of defensive ends, played terrific ball the entire game.

This Saturday the Red Devils of Dickinson invade Patterson Field, and if the Bears don't improve by then they're going to wish they had stayed in hibernation. The Grizzlies looked better against Haverford, but their work was still spotty. If this continues, it'll be a slaughter Saturday, not a football game. However, the Bruins have shown enough flashes of form for us to believe that when they start clicking consistently they're going to be rough, no matter who they play.

Garrison's Arm Carries Fords to 20-12 Triumph

Grizzlies Drop Second Game Despite Fine Quarterbacking by Glick; Fischer and Glock Score; Young, Fynon, Muench Suffer Injuries

by Roy Foster '51

Ursinus helped Haverford open their 1950 season at Wagner field on Saturday, but the Fords ungratefully handed their guests a 20-12 defeat. The Bears got just about every break in the books, and the Mainliners handled the sphere as if it was radioactive, but the Bears counteracted by dissipating most of their scoring chances.

In the absence of Don Young, who departed early with a shoulder separation, Gene Glick called a mighty good game. He passed for one six-pointer, and later crossed the line himself, only to have the play nullified and a penalty imposed for a forward-lateral. Bill Flynnon suffered torn cartilages when he was laid low by a blocker on Briod's touchdown jaunt in the second period. He will be out for the rest of the season. Steve Muench also was sidelined.

Bears Muff Chances

In the first quarter opportunity knocked twice for Ursinus when Haverford lost the ball on bad passes from center, but twice the Bears were lacking. The second time it happened Bill Fischer and Bob Davis carried from the 25 to the 5, and after a penalty Fischer went all but over. Haverford stopped a line smash, blocked a pass, and then punted out of danger. The Fords began to roll after Andre Briod intercepted an aerial on his own 40 and went down inside the Bruin 35. A penalty and a loss set them back to the 40, but then Harry Garrison tossed to John Hume and again to Phil Vance, after which Briod bulled through his own left-guard to make it 6-0. Al Adam's conversion was wide.

Ursinus kicked off to open the second half, and the Mainliners moved back to midfield, where John Ehnott recovered a fumble. Davis and Fischer lugged to the 35, and after two incomplete forwards, Bill Helfferich punted out of bounds at the ten. A second fumble was captured by Will Loomis at the 24. Al Miglio carried, and Glick flipped to Swett for a first down on the 12. A pass to Dick Sharpe was just shy, but Fischer found an opening in the left side of the line to tie the score. Ehnott's placement barely got off the ground.

Fords Continue to Fumble

The Grizzlies kicked, and the Fords were moving again when Loomis grabbed another loose ball. Starting on the 43, Dick Glock made eleven yards and Fischer nine. Two plays later, Glick took a lateral from Fischer and dashed 30 yards to paydirt, but the referees said it was illegal. Haverford took over but didn't hang onto the ball for long. Fischer recovered. Then Glick's pass went awry, and Hal Cragin grabbed it. Garrison then flipped to Hume, who went 65 yards for a score. Briod made it 13-6.

Sharpe ran a bad kick back to his own 40. The Bears reeled off a pair of first downs on two passes, Glick to Sharpe. The offense slowed down after a fifteen yard penalty, but on fourth down Sharpe stole a pass from two would-be interceptors and plunged to the ten. Again it was last down when Glick coolly layed one in the arms of Dick Glock, who took advantage of a great block by Fischer and skippered over. The conversion was bad.

Haverford Sews It Up

The Fords retaliated with a 72-yard drive, capped by Garrison's pass to Ed Hibbard. Hibbard went 15 yards to make it 20-12. Glick then completed 3 out of 5 attempts for a total of 70-odd yards. However, Cragin intercepted just before it ended. Glick made good on 11 out of 18 passes attempted.

English Professors to Take to the Stage In Presentation of a Series of Readings

by Doug MacMullan '53

Along with Theaters-in-the-Round, Musical Circuses and a revival of the Charleston, this summer saw the Champagne Hour at New York's Place d'Albert present literary readings as the chief attraction. Not only has the idle chit-chat of the uptown clubs given way to intonations of Shakespeare and Dickens, but Ursinus has initiated its own program of readings too . . . sans champagne.

The works to be read are those not usually included in the college curriculum, and will include some

T. S. Eliot, "Saki" and "Best in Modern Journalism". To further the innovation, the "dramatizing" (we were requested to put this in quotes) will be done by the members of the faculty. To those of us who have delivered a quavering classroom version of "Hedda Gabler," or "Anthony and Cleopatra," the turnabout will be relaxing and welcome.

First of the faculty to recite will be Mr. Dolman, at 7 p.m. Tues., Oct. 17, in the faculty room of the Library. Every two weeks thereafter, at the same time and same place, Dr. Yost, Mr. Jones, and Mr. Kershner will step into the limelight.

Four Conferences Held

gram. Present at this conference were 200 persons, hailing from the eastern United States.

The 43rd annual session of the Collegeville Summer Assembly, a week of religious study, was attended by 131 persons from the Middle Atlantic States representing many religious denominations. The assembly concluded with a youth rally.

The week-end of September 8, 9, 10, saw 100 members of the Wesleyan Service Guild present for the final summer conference held at Ursinus college.

McKee Plays Part of Invisible Rabbit During Summer with 'Barnstormers'

by Jeanne Stewart '52

Have you ever wondered who plays Harvey in the production of the same name? This summer, Dick McKee '51 had the part of the invisible rabbit when he worked as technical director for the "Barnstormers", a well-known summer theatrical group in New Hampshire.

This was the second summer that Dick had spent with the group which was organized in 1930 by Francis Cleveland, son of the late president. They presented many plays, including Born Yesterday, Arsenic and Old Lace, and, of course, Harvey. It seems that playing the rabbit entailed standing outside the set and opening and closing the door at the proper moment by means of a long wire. Dick says it all sounds easy until the wire slips out of place just as

Harvey is supposed to be leaving the set.

The job of technical director includes supervision of all backstage work, erecting the sets, arranging and checking the lights and taking care of all the small, but important details that are essential to any successful production.

Dick thinks the work is fascinating. He particularly enjoys meeting all the actors and actresses that belong to the group who, although they are not famous now, may someday be Broadway's biggest stars.

MAKE YOUR NEXT PACK CHESTERFIELD!

BEFORE YOU SMOKE THEM

WHILE YOU SMOKE THEM you get more pleasure than any other cigarette can give you—that's why millions of smokers say: THEY SATISFY.
