Current CommentOld Timers' Day

Will fall this year on Saturday, November 1, and will be bigger and better than ever, thanks to the new administration of the Alumni Association. Besides the usual athletic events, featured this year by the football game with Muhlenberg, a number of special features are being planned. There will be a Meeting Post—that same popular rendezvous that high-lighted last Alumni Day—where alumni can congregate and meet their friends before and after the game. The various fraternities and sororities are being urged to hold noon-day reunions for their alumni members. If feasible, there will be a special alumni section in the stands (but this won't work out if you insist on sitting elsewhere). And then, after the game, the big event—a buffet supper in the gym, with a prominent speaker and a floor show, to be followed by dancing, all for the alumni and their friends. President Kichline is in personal charge of this feature, and those who know "Kick" can rest assured that everything will be of the best.

One of the criticisms of Old Timers' Day in recent years has justly been that there was nothing in particular for the returning alumnus to do but watch the game, shake hands with a few people, and go home. The Alumni Association is trying to remedy this situation and is planning a program which should be very attractive and which, if successful, is capable of expansion into a lively Homecoming Weekend. The plan has a lot of merit and deserves the hearty support of everyone. You can give this support by being present on Nov. 1. Plan now to come early and stay late. We'll be looking for you.

The Past Alumni Day

Was unquestionably the best in many, many years, from every standpoint. The weather was ideal. The class reunions were well-planned, well-attended, and really memorable events. The Alumni Meeting Post, on the center Campus, met a long-felt want and provided a most enjoyable feature. But best of all was the attendance. Never have so many sons and daughters of Ursinus been on the Campus at one time. Upward of five hundred graduates, from twelve states, to say nothing of wives, children and friends, were on hand. Every one of the classes from 1896 on was represented, with those two hardy perennials, Dr. A. B. Markley '76 and E. F. Slough '77, in the vanguard and very much present. Everybody seemed to be glad to be back at Ursinus and having a good time, which after all, is the way an Alumni Day should be. May we have many more like this one.

Ursinus Alumni May Take Pride

In the showing they made in the 1941 Loyalty Fund giving. This was the first time that this effort was made, and the solicitation was confined to a general mail appeal to all the alumni and a group of friends, followed up by a personal letter in certain selected instances. Over $5700 was received, all cash, no pledges, of which over $3100 was given by 262 graduates, an average contribution of nearly $12 apiece. There are colleges with whom Ursinus is often classed who have had annual giving funds for five, ten, or more years, and with a greater number of alumni, who have rarely, and in some instances, perhaps, never, attained either the total amount given or the per capita average which our fund reached in its first year. We have indeed much to be proud of.

But this is only the start. For example, there were 2,000 alumni who made no contribution. Had only half of them made the average gift, the College's financial problem would be greatly eased. It is not impossible, either. There are certainly a thousand graduates of this College who could average ten or twelve dollars apiece a year. Just let each do his or her part; not leave it to George. The Loyalty Fund is the simplest, surest, most sensible way of making provision for the work of the College that has been devised. Income from student fees varies with enrollment. The yield on invested funds is steadily diminishing. Costs are rising, and in many instances, cannot be controlled. Without the Loyalty Fund, Ursinus must slip backwards, or at the best, stand still. Help Ursinus to grow.

Ursinus alumni who knew James Lynn Barnard as teacher and friend will hear with sorrow the news of his death on August 10 at Binghamton, New York.

Twenty-one years of Dr. Barnard's long career as a teacher were spent at Ursinus College. After receiving the B. S. degree at Syracuse University and the Ph.D. at the University of Pennsylvania, Dr. Barnard was called to Ursinus by President Spangler in 1897. The older alumni who were in his classes in those early years remember the enthusiastic and stimulating young teacher and gratefully acknowledge their indebtedness to him. Those who heard the Commencement address last June will remember the gracious words of Dr. Charles Grove Haines in praise of his teacher of forty years ago.

Dr. Barnard left Ursinus in 1904, spent twenty-three years in educational work elsewhere, and returned to Ursinus in 1927. Since his return hundreds of Ursinus students have been helped by his ripe wisdom and his kindly interest in their welfare.

Dr. Barnard made a real and lasting contribution to Ursinus College. His former students and his colleagues in the Faculty are grateful to him for his work here. "Some there be who have no memorial, who are perished as though they had not been." James Lynn Barnard is not one of these; he is a man who will be long remembered.

71st ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT

Each Commencement has some characteristic feature which sets it apart from those of former years, and the distinctive mark of the 71st Commencement was the part played by the graduates of the College. The gentlemen who delivered the Commencement Address and the Baccalaureate Sermon and the recipients of honorary degrees were all loyal sons of Ursinus; there were more alumni on the Campus than ever before, and the ranks of the graduates were swelled by 114 members of the Class of 1941 who received their degrees.

Class Day

A luncheon in the upper dining room formed the setting for the class day exercises on Friday afternoon, June 6, at which time the traditional mantle ceremony and tree dedication took place. Toasts were given by President McClure, Fred Weiland, Jane Hartman, and John Rauhauser, president of the Class, who also presented the mantle to William Selfridge, president of the Class of 1942. The program was concluded by the tree dedication, on the West Campus, which was presided over by Dean Kline.

Woman's Club Meets

The annual meeting and banquet of the Ursinus Woman's Club were held on Friday afternoon, following the Class Day exercises. A full account of this meeting and the work of the Club is carried on another page.

"A Waltz Dream"

"Life, love and laughter" filled the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium on Friday and Saturday evenings, when the Ursinus musical organizations presented Oscar Straus' operetta, "A Waltz Dream." Leading roles were taken by Roy Snyder '41 and Gracemary Greene '42, and the entire production was under the direction of Dr. William F. Philip, who also conducted the Ursinus Little Symphony, supplying the musical accompaniment for the performance.

Annual Meeting of Board

The annual meeting of the Board of Directors was held in the Library on Saturday morning, June 7. Reports of committees were made and the officers of the Corporation were reelected.

Four members of the Faculty were promoted, as follows: Calvin D. Yost, Jr., Ph.D., from assistant professor to associate professor of English; Paul R. Wagner, Ph.D., from instructor to assistant professor of Biology; William S. Pettit, M.S., from instructor to assistant professor of Chemistry; Everett M. Bailey, M.A., from instructor to assistant professor of Physical Education. The resignations of Sarah Mary Hampson, instructor in Physical Education, and Donald S. Kellett, head coach of football, were accepted with regret.

Alumni Athletic Club

The annual business luncheon of the Alumni Athletic Club was held in the recreation room of the Library at noon on Saturday, with President Harry W. Snyder '08 in charge. The Club made an appropriation toward the cost of a new floor in the Gymnasium, and upon recommendation of the executive committee, voted to revive the mid-winter stag dinner, a popular event of several years ago.

Kichline Heads Alumni Association

Ronald C. Kichline '16, former Ursinus coach and well-known insurance executive, of Reading, Pa., was elected president of the Alumni Association for the coming year, as a result of the mail ballot conducted during the Spring. Thomas P. Glassmoyer '36, Philadelphia attorney, was chosen vice-president, and Dr. Calvin D. Yost, Jr., '30 and Walter R. Douthett '12 were reelected secretary-treasurer and alumni director, respectively.

Principal action was the appointment of a committee to arrange for an expanded program of activities for Old Timers' Day. An announcement of the tentative plans laid by the committee appears on the editorial page of this issue.

President's Reception

One of the most delightful events of the week-end, the informal reception by President and Mrs. McClure, was held in the Library between four and five o'clock on Saturday afternoon. A large number of alumni, faculty, students and guests were in attendance.

Alumni Banquet

The upper dining room was once more filled for the annual Alumni Banquet on Saturday evening. Rev. Dallas R. Krebs, D.D., '02, of Hamburg, Pa., retiring president of the Alumni Association, presided and called upon the members of the reunion classes to rise and be recognized. The address of the evening was delivered by Rev. Harold B. Kerschner, D.D., of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., representing the Class of 1916, which was celebrating its silver anniversary. Several baritone solos were rendered by Roy C. Snyder '41.

Alumni Day Great Success Meeting Post a Feature

Alumni Day this year was an overwhelming success. There were more alumni on the Campus than on any previous occasion, and the spirit of friendliness and good fellowship that prevailed was felt at once by the newcomer.

Largely contributing to the success of the occasion was the Alumni Meeting Post, sponsored jointly by the Alumni Association and the Ursinus Woman's Club. A large canopy was erected on the Campus near Bomberger Hall, equipped with tables and chairs, where representatives of the sponsoring organizations dispensed greetings, light refreshments, and information. A registration book, divided by classes, was kept, where the alumni could sign up and see who of their friends were already on the Campus. Early arrivals soon fixed the Meeting Post as a rallying point for rest, refreshment, and reminiscence, and it rapidly became one of the most popular spots on the Campus.

Hundreds Return for Class Reunions

Every year we say that the class reunions were the best yet, but that is the way they have been working out, and 1941 was no exception.

Rev. A. B. Markley, of Collegeville, was the sole survivor of the Class of 1876, but celebrated his sixty-fifth anniversary in his usual genial way with a host of his friends. This was the first sixty-fifth anniversary to be celebrated, but E. F. Slough '77 was present to see how it was done and promised to be on hand next year "if the Army doesn't draft him."

Another singleton celebration was held by Mrs. May Royer Rauch, who is one-half of the Class of 1886.

A group from 1891, consisting of Rev. Frank H. Fisher, D.D., Rev. J. G. Francis, Dr. William H. Knipe, Miss Anna May Kratz, and Dr. Calvin D. Yost, quietly observed their golden anniversary.

Dr. H. O. Williams, of Lansdale, Pa., and Rev. A. C. Thompson, D.D., of Tamaqua, reluctantly admitted that the Class of 1896 was graduated forty-five years ago.

1901, out forty years, was represented by Rev. Arthur C. Ohl, of Trappe. This class has lost many of its members by death in recent years.

Mrs. Mabel Hobson Fretz entertained her classmates of 1906 at her home opposite the Campus.

1911 held an informal reunion that started sometime during the day and was still in progress on Morvin Godshall's front porch at midnight.

1916 celebrated its twenty-fifth with a luncheon in Freeland Hall that really brought the folks back. Eva Sandt Kotz flew in from Cleveland just for the reunion, but was nosed out for the distance record by Sterling Light, from Newton, Mass., and Mildred Paul Rutledge, from Indianapolis, Ind. Several members of the class were prevented from returning by important defense work.

1921 also lunched in Freeland with a large, enthusiastic and hilarious crowd present. Everybody's past was thoroughly reviewed, and the progeny placed upon exhibit with creditable effect. The class was serious long enough to vote a contribution to the Loyalty Fund.

No formal observance of 1926's fifteenth anniversary was held, but quite a few members of the class were on hand, and attended the Alumni Banquet in a body.

An all-time attendance record was set by the 70 members, husbands and wives who turned up for the tenth reunion of 1931. A buffet luncheon was served in the recreation center in Bomberger basement from 12:30 to 3:30, somewhat to the detriment of the Alumni Association meeting being held in the Chapel above, but the reunion carried on past five o'clock. The George Roosens, from Chicago, set the distance record. 1931 also made a contribution to the Loyalty Fund.

The fifth anniversary of 1936 was observed informally, members of the class meeting on the Campus throughout the day and attending the Alumni Banquet together in the evening.

Baccalaureate Service

Speaking on the subject, "An Undefeatable Alliance," Rev. Charles F. Deininger, D.D., '15, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Glenolden, Pa., addressed the graduating class at the Baccalaureate Service in the College Chapel on Sunday morning, June 8. Dr. Deininger's daughter, Dorothea, was a member of the graduating class.

In answer to the graduate's question "What shall I do with my life?", Dr. Deininger advocated an alliance between dreams of rendering service and a power to make them come true. There are several types of alliances to be made, many of them ineffectual. To prove his point that "if they be of men, they will come of naught," Dr. Deininger explained that we may ally ourselves with acquisitiveness, which is a slave driver, an ally soon becoming master; with the desire for the praise of men—a consuming passion for the approval of others which may lead us to desert our ideals; with the desire for pleasure; or with the will to conquer. Such alliance, said Dr. Deininger, will result only in a strange sense of futility.

FRANK A. WOOD, JR.
Valedictorian, Class of 1941

Instead of these, the speaker urged an alliance with God, demanding an uncompromising loyalty to truth. "You cannot build an enduring life on shifting sands of opportunism," he reminded the graduates. "The Ten Commandments have not been repealed."

The effective alliance with such a Power will result in fostering honesty, integrity, faith and simplicity, instead of selfishness and dishonesty or lust for power. In conclusion, the speaker asked the question "Wherein lies your confidence that your life will be effectual?" And in answer he quoted, "God needs thee today. Move to the fore!"

Dean Kline delivered the invocation, President McClure read the Lesson, Rev. John Lentz, D.D., '02, offered prayer, and the music was furnished by the College Choir.

The Commencement

The Commencement exercises proper were held on the Campus in front of Freeland Hall on Monday morning, June 9. The clouds which early threatened the occasion passed away, and the day turned cool and pleasant. A crowd of approximately 900 people was in attendance.

The address of the day was delivered by Charles Grove Haines, Ph.D., '03, professor of Political Science in the University of California at Los Angeles, who took as his subject, "A Living Law for Modern Society."

In opening his speech, Dr. Haines paid special tribute to Dr. J. Lynn Barnard, since deceased, professor of Political Science at the College. A pupil of Barnard's when he attended Ursinus, the speaker testified that "no other teacher gave the stimulus and encouragement which has influenced our work in the professional field as did Dr. Barnard."

The main part of the address dealt with some of the shifts in legal analysis and legal thought within the last few decades. Dr. Haines showed that in this period there have been two concepts of law in conflict,—“the issue at stake has been whether it ultimately should belong to the courts or to the people to revise and control the legislative policies of the American Republic.”

Prior to its present stand, the Supreme Court had assumed the attitude that "law was supposed to be uniform, certain, and pure. It was an exact science, a fixed, immutable thing."

Gradually, the liberal concepts came to prevail, Dr. Haines showed, as he traced the trend from the time of the controversy over Brandeis' appointment by Wilson, through Roosevelt's "court-packing" attempt, up to the present time. The attitude of the court now is that "since nearly all legislation includes a weighing of relative social values, since government is not an exact science, prevailing public opinion concerning the evil and the remedy is one of the most important factors deserving consideration. Therefore, the law must constantly be in touch with life."

EMILY M. ZOLL
Salutatorian, Class of 1941

Admitting that the Supreme Court has been and probably will continue to be used as "a political agency to obtain political ends," Dr. Haines refused to express alarm. Instead, he pointed out that "by the very nature of our written constitutions, politics and law are continuously and often imperceptibly mingled."

His closing remarks Dr. Haines addressed to the graduates more directly. He showed that there is always something new, something not yet accomplished or even contemplated in almost any field of endeavor.

Degrees in course were conferred upon 114 graduates, 84 receiving the Bachelor of Arts degree and 30 that of Bachelor of Science.

Three graduates of Ursinus were awarded honorary degrees. Rev. Abraham Bertolette Markley '76, of Collegeville, retired Lutheran clergyman and the oldest living alumnus of the College, was granted the degree of Doctor of Divinity. William Hoy Stoner, M.D., '08, prominent biochemist and at present on the research staff of the Schering Corp., Bloomfield, N. J., received the degree of Doctor of Science, and the Doctor of Laws degree was conferred upon the speaker of the occasion, Dr. Haines. All of the candidates were presented by Dean Kline, and the degrees conferred by President McClure.

President McClure announced the establishment of a new prize, of $25.00, offered by Hon. J. William Ditter, LL.D., H'40, Member of Congress, to the member of the History-Social Science Group in the graduating class whose intellectual integrity, spirit of tolerance, and appreciation of constitutional safeguards give promise of contributing the most to the perpetuation of the substances of our faith in self-government. The award was made to Frank A. Wood, Jr., Conshohocken, Pa., valedictorian of the class.

Couched in tones of affectionate encouragement, Dean Kline's charge to the graduates was again one of the great moments of the day. The awarding of prizes and the benediction by the college pastor, Dr. Lentz, concluded the exercises.

Arthur Leeming '23 Elected Hoffman Orphanage Head

Rev. Arthur Leeming '23, pastor of the Evangelical and Reformed Church at Glenside, Pa., since 1932, has been elected superintendent of the Hoffman Orphanage, near Littlestown, Pa., succeeding Rev. A. P. Frantz S'96, who will retire after thirteen years of capable service. He expects to assume his new duties about Sept. 10.

Mr. Leeming was graduated from Central Theological Seminary in 1926 and became pastor of the Beaver Creek charge, Xenia, Ohio. In 1931 he was pastor pro tempore of Trinity Church, Philadelphia, going to Glenside the year following. He received the degree of Master of Sacred Theology from the Lutheran Theological Seminary, Mt. Airy, and has done advanced work at Temple University.

REPORT ON YOUR FUNDS

The Journal is glad to present in this number a report on the results of the 1941 Loyalty Fund and the progress to date on the George L. Omwake Memorial Scholarship Fund. A list of the contributors to these funds follows this article.

Ursinus alumni may be particularly proud of the showing made by the Loyalty Fund in its initial appeal. The idea of securing each year a sizeable sum through a large number of modest gifts from alumni and friends is now more than thirty years old, and has been adopted by an increasingly great number of universities and colleges, but was not adopted by Ursinus until the past year. Announcement was made in the Autumn number of the Alumni Journal, and a letter outlining the purpose of the Loyalty Fund was sent early in 1941 to all graduates of the College and to a selected list of friends. While the principal object was to secure funds for current expenses and for projects which could not be included in the year's budget, contributors were given the option of designating their gifts for specific purposes, such as the Woman's Building Fund, the Student Loan Fund, the Omwake Scholarship Fund, books for the Library, or for the payment of previous pledges.

The response was immediate and generous. For six months each mail brought its share of gifts from all over North America, in amounts from $1 to $400, until June 30, when the books were closed for the year, $5,766.36 had been received from 375 givers. Of these, 262 were graduates of the College, who contributed $3,109.76, or an average gift of $11.88, and 113 were members of the Board of Directors, Faculty, or friends of the College, who gave $2,656.50, or an average of $23.51. These figures compare more than favorably with similar funds in colleges in the same class as Ursinus, the more so when it is considered that those funds have been in operation for quite a few years.

The George L. Omwake Memorial Scholarship Fund was inaugurated a few weeks before Dr. Omwake's death in 1937, to provide a fitting memorial to a man who literally gave his life in advancing Ursinus College to a position of strength and influence. Dr. Omwake was always deeply interested in helping needy boys and girls to secure a college education, and hundreds of Ursinus alumni are the direct beneficiaries of his interest and efforts. Consequently it seemed most appropriate to raise to his memory a substantial scholarship fund which would be the means to carry on a work which was very close to Dr. Omwake's heart.

This project has been carried on over the last four years through a quiet and persistent solicitation of the alumni and friends of the College, both by mail and personal visits. High pressure methods have been avoided. Large gifts have been sought and received, but the object has been to make the establishment of this fund truly representative of the Ursinus family by securing a large number of gifts, regardless of the amount of each.

Up to the present, 338 alumni and 124 non-alumni donors have contributed a total of $19,212.17, of which $15,230.17 is in the form of cash and the balance in pledges. Gifts for this purpose are still coming in, and the effort to secure a greater amount is being continued.

URSINUS WOMAN'S CLUB ITEMS

Did you know we

1. Had a lovely Christmas reunion
2. Backed a campus bridge party
3. Present a $300 annual scholarship
4. Contributed toward a tea service for the women in college
5. Award an athletic prize of $20
6. Entertained senior girls at Coffee
7. Paid $250 more on "612"
8. Elected new officers and had the annual dinner in June
9. Originated the idea of the Alumni Meeting Post and registration on Alumni Day

DEAR FRIENDS OF URSINUS,

Now that the excitement of the Commencement festivities has subsided, we wish to inform those members who were unable to attend the meeting and dinner of the business transacted.

The meeting on June 6 was fairly well attended. We feel most encouraged by the condition of the finances and, what is more important, by the spirit of the group. Perhaps you know that the Club has only $859.47 to pay on our contracted obligation on "612," the large brick hall for girls on Main Street next to Shreiner. At the present we are also granting a $300 open scholarship to Gladys Heibel, now entering her senior year at Ursinus. You see your $1 membership fee is helping more than a little to keep things moving. If you've forgotten to send it to Mrs. Harold Brownback, at Trappe, Pa., be sure to send it now. Miss Florence Benjamin has just finished two years of efficient service as president, a fact commendable when you consider her duties as a member of the Chester High School Faculty.

The Club elected the following officers:

President	MRS. LEIGHTON K. SMITH, Collegeville, Pa.
Vice-President	MISS REBECCA PRICE, Norristown, Pa.
Secretary	MISS ELMINA BRANT, Norristown, Pa.
Treasurer	MRS. J. HAROLD BROWNBACK, Trappe, Pa.
	MISS FLORENCE BENJAMIN, Chester, Pa.
	MRS. ROBERT D. EVANS, Norristown, Pa.
Directors	MISS EDITH OBERHOLTZER, Philadelphia, Pa.
	MRS. EPHRAIM SMITH, Swarthmore, Pa.
	MRS. J. CALHOUN SMITH, Reading, Pa.

We enjoyed a delicious turkey dinner in the upper dining room. The senior girls were our guests and appeared to be a good group of recruits for the Club. Miss Grace Chandler, an alumna, now associate editor of the Doylestown newspaper, spoke on "Bucks County Writers." Her talk was clever, humorous, and most informative.

Now a shadow or two about coming events. We are hoping for at least three get-togethers during 1941-42, the first a card party somewhere on the College Campus. We plan to form organized groups of the Club members in localities where a number are living and thus keep them in closer touch with the organization here. More details will follow later. We would like so much to hear from you. Won't you write me of any name changes, address adjustments, or suggestions as to what you'd like to see the Club do as a part of its program? We want to hear from you, so sit down and do it now.

As a reminder, your membership is welcome, but most of all, we want to know about you. All these things help us build a little stronger the distaff side of the College we love so well.

Cordially,

MIRIAM BARNET SMITH
(Mrs. L. K. Smith)

SPRING SPORTS

Track

Coach Ken Hashagen's varsity track squad finished its most successful season in recent years by chalking up a total of three victories, two defeats, and a fourth place in the Eastern Conference meet.

Often without the services of potential point winners Joe Irvin, Jim Raban, and Frank Hyatt because of schedule conflicts with baseball and tennis, and handicapped by the loss of Captain Everett Conine by injury, the Bears set an impressive record and give hope of better days next year, only three men being lost by graduation.

Conine and Irvin amassed thirty-seven counters each to lead the individual scoring, followed by Ingham, Hartzell and Huckel, with 35, 24, and 21 points each.

Summary:

U	O
43 Gettysburg.....	83
65 Delaware.....	61
27½ F. & M.....	98½
64½ Albright.....	61½
81½ Drexel.....	44½

Baseball

The 1941 baseball season was a pleasant surprise from pre-season expectations, the team breaking even with seven wins and seven losses, three of the defeats being by a margin of one run.

Much credit belongs to Coach Jing Johnson, who, starting with only two first-string players from the 1940 championship team, built a smooth-working, aggressive ball club from a green and untried squad.

Shortstop Bob McFarland and Third Baseman Al Tkacz sparked the infield, with Captain Don Fetterman as the mainstay in the garden and Howard MacMahon as number one hurler. An unusual feature was the freshman twin brother battery of left-hander John Rorer on the mound with brother Tom behind the plate, a combination which turned in a very creditable job.

The results:

U	O
0 Villanova.....	19
4 Haverford.....	1
4 Penn A. C.....	9
12 Dickinson.....	2
2 Muhlenberg.....	3
10 Lehigh.....	9

2 Villanova.....	7

Won 7—Lost 7

The Jayvees followed in the Varsity's footsteps by breaking even, trouncing Haverford Jayvees 11-4, dropping two in a row to Hill School, 5-4, and Perkiomen School, 9-6, but taking the return game with Perkiomen 8-3.

The cricketers, playing their first season in the revived Intercollegiate Cricket League, did not fare so well as in former years, winning one and losing two. Pennsylvania was defeated 58-42, but Haverford and Princeton triumphed over the Grizzly wicketmen 67-31 and 35-20 respectively.

The men's golf team finished its first official season with one match won and two lost. West Chester was defeated 4-2, but the team lost to St. Joseph's and Pennsylvania by identical scores, 8-1. The women's team dropped all four matches played.

The girls organized a softball team, which soundly trounced the Penn co-eds 44 to 5, and thereafter was unable to secure any competition.

There was no intercollegiate competition in archery this year.

Stevens Succeeds Kellett as Head Football Coach

Peter P. Stevens, assistant football coach since 1935, was appointed head coach for the coming season, succeeding Donald S. Kellett, who resigned to accept the post of supervisor of freshman athletics at the University of Pennsylvania.

G. Sieber Pancoast '37, freshman coach for the past three seasons, will become Stevens' assistant. Appointment of a successor to Pancoast has been temporarily deferred.

While numerous applications, some from coaches of considerable reputation, were received for the post vacated by Kellett, the Athletic Council felt that it would be better to continue for the time being with the present members of the coaching staff because of the uncertainties arising from the draft and other aspects of the international situation.

A native of Nanticoke, Pa., Stevens attended Cheshire Academy before entering Temple University, where he was a star player at both center and fullback under Glenn Warner. He was captain of the undefeated 1934 team, which went to the Sugar Bowl game. He first came to Ursinus as line coach under Jack McAvoy in 1935, and continued in that position when Kellett took over the head coaching reins in 1938. For the past several years he has also coached the wrestling and golf teams.
