26 Men Join Frats After Rush Week

At noon today a total of 26 men accepted bids made by each of the fraternities on campus. The bidding was conducted in the basement of the library.

Acceptance of the bids follows a week of rushing parties given by the various fraternities. The next rushing period will not be held until early in the second semester.

Because of the decrease in enrollment this year each of the six fraternities will be permitted to have a total of 35 members.

Those signing bids were:

Apes: Orin Houser, Paul Schwab, Paul Carlson, John Anderson, Carmen Alamo.

ZX: Dick Eschbach, William McKeith, Eugene Haag, Martin Boyer.

Beta Sig: James Bright, Frank Keller.

Demas: Gordon Mella, Lee Schabler, Tito Cantafio, Robert Hartman, John Rohland, Warren Wheeler.

Delta Pi Sigma: Walter Kratz, Harold Schoup, Edward Costello, John Manning, Ellsworth Faust.

Sigma Rho: Howard Roberts, Raymond Rauenzahn, Eric Free-muth, George Vogel.

Library Used Book Sale Begins Today

Beginning today the library will conduct an old book sale that will last throughout the entire week.

The books that are to be sold are ones that the library feels are not essential to the collection, several old ones, and a number of books that are in duplicate in the collection. Today the price is 50 cents a book and will decrease ten cents each day. Anyone who is interested in purchasing the books should see one of the librarians. The sale is conducted on the first-come-first-served basis.

Chem Group Lists Water Program

Edward H. Benjamin '41 will be the speaker at the Chemical society meeting next Monday night at 7:15 in S-12.

His talk on Industrial Water Conditioning will be accompanied by slides. Mr. Benjamin, who is now a consultant on water problems for W. H. and L. D. Betz, is a former president of the Beardwood Chemical society.

The group is also planning a plant trip through the DuPont Experimental station in Wilmington, Del., on January 11.

'Light Up The Sky' Scores Hit As First Stage Offering

by Jean Stewart '52

The Curtain club scored a tremendous success with their presentation of the sophisticated comedy Light Up the Sky Friday and Saturday nights in the T-G gym. The casting for all the parts was excellent, and it is hard to point out any portrayal that stood out above the others.

All the characters in the play were supposedly taken from true life. Joni Graf was superb in the part of the chic, temperamental Broadway star, Stella Livingston, who is in reality the inimitable Tallulah Bankhead. She is one of the many who enthusiastically takes part in the "allegory" until she believes that it is not a success. Ron Frankel was the biggest surprise of the evening; although he

'MESSIAH' ARTISTS: Dr. William Philip, director; Paul King, bass; Anne Dawson, contralto; William Hess, tenor, and Martha Wilson, soprano, will be featured in the annual Messiah performance to be given Thursday night in Bomberger hall.

'Messiah' Features Highly-Rated Soloists

Christmas Plans Made By WSGA; Lights Needed

The approaching Christmas banquet and dance on December 12 were the chief matters discussed at the meeting of the Women's Student council last Monday night. The dance will feature the entrance of Santa Claus with his pack of candy canes, the singing of Ed Ruch '52 and the harmonizing of a quartet.

Christmas tree lights are urgently needed as decorations for the dance at the T-G gym. The strings of lights should be given to Alberta Barnhart '54 in Maples hall. Strings will be marked and returned immediately after the dance.

Tables in the upper dining room will be decorated by the girls of the four classes in competition for prizes to be awarded by the preceptresses. Women students will eat upstairs, while men will have their banquet in the lower dining room.

had a small part in Speak Easy last year, his other acting experience has been non-existent until now. As the hard-boiled backer of the show, Sydney Black, he was tremendous. Sydney was written to be Billie Rose. Perhaps some of the effectiveness of Ron's role was due to his only-too-natural New York accent. Dolores DeSola seemed perfect as the "gin" playing, ice skating wife of the backer who is not too happy about her share in the forthcoming production — her share being one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

Rhoda Blumenthal played the typical stage mother, hardened to the ways of the world. She managed to have "gin" at the most amaz-

Attention! All those who use the Rec Center are asked to help finish painting it this Saturday. About 15 or 20 students co-operated last week and the project is half-way completed.

'Private Lives' Given As Group Production By New Club Members

The first of the Curtain club's student directed group productions was presented before Thanksgiving at the T-G gymnasium.

Private Lives by Noel Coward was cleverly and excellently staged considering the walls of Light Up the Sky had to be concealed.

The novelty of this one-acter featured four novices to the Ursinus board. The sparkling comedy of Noel Coward was carried through consistently well, save for the noticeable memorization of the actors lines.

This quartet featured Roger Dedekind '55 and Priscilla Shinehouse '55 as one newly married couple and Edward Stauffer '54 and Nancy Bergman '55 in the role of the second couple.

Jane Hopple '53 and Bill Degerberg '52 were the groups co-directors.

English Club Takes In New Members

Seven new members attended the English club meeting last Monday at the home of Dr. Norman E. McClure, sponsor of the club. The new members, who joined upon invitation of the club, are Sally Canan '53, Bill Lukens '53, Marjorie Mersfelder '53, Anne Neborak '53, Dick Richter '53, Mary Sprenkle '53 and Mary Yost '52.

At the next meeting on December 10, the English club plans to continue the reading of Shakespeare's Hamlet, which it began last Monday.

Performance Set for Thursday Night at 8:15

by Evelyn Scharf '53

The four vocal soloists who will appear at the annual Ursinus presentation of the Messiah, Thursday night at 8:15 in Bomberger chapel have enjoyed distinguished careers.

Miss Martha Wilson is a veteran performer at Ursinus. Miss Anne Dawson, contralto, is soloist of the First Presbyterian church of New York. She has also been selected by addition to be a soloist for the Messiah with the New York Oratorio society and New York Philharmonic orchestra in Carnegie hall Christmas week.

William Hess, tenor mainstay of the New York Opera company, will appear with the Pittsburgh symphony on December 8. Paul King is the bass soloist for the Handel and Hayden society of Boston for all their oratorios.

Orders for tickets for friends and relatives who wish to attend the performance should be given to Shirley Fiedler or Ken Weisel. Tickets will cost $1.25. Students are urged to attend the matinee performance Thursday to accommodate more paying customers for the evening concert. Those who cannot do so may obtain tickets for the evening performance Tuesday and Wednesday at 6:30 o'clock in the Freeland reception room.

Students in charge of administration details for the Messiah are the following: Ken Weisel and Shirley Fiedler, tickets; Charles Summers, publicity; Ruth Fiedler, chorus seating arrangement.

FRENCH CLUB PLANS PARTY

The French club will hold its annual Christmas party on Wednesday in the West Music studio. The program will begin at 8:00 and consist of an assortment of Christmas activities.

A tableaux of Edith Piaf's songs will be featured along with short sketches and plays in French. Christmas carols and refreshments will add to the gaiety of the party. The traditional visit of St. Nicholas will climax the evening's get-together.

Senior Ball Theme Set For Friday

by Elsie Belz '55

Remember the time, the place, and the event—the high spot of the winter social calendar, the gala Senior ball, appropriately called the "Winter Whirl," to be held Friday night from 9 to 1 o'clock in the Sunnybrook ballroom. Dancing will be to the music of Clarence Fuhrman and his orchestra.

Tickets for the dance will be obtainable starting Wednesday at noon, in the Supply store, and programs may be purchased at that time for 35 cents or at the dance for 50 cents.

One of the features of the evening will be the drawing for the radio for which the seniors sold chances in order to finance their prom.

The committees for the dance include the following members: orchestra, Gene Pascucci and Dick Kizsonas; chaperones, Bob Meckelburg and Kay Loman; programs, Paul Doughty, fund committee, Gem Matthews and Harry Schwartz; and publicity, Phyl Bauman and Nels Fellman.

The seniors cordially invite and urge everyone to attend the "Winter Whirl" for an evening which will surely be a high spot of the entire Christmas season both at school and home.

Y Panel Discusses Army Conscription

The Y presented its third association meeting last Wednesday in the form of a panel by four Haverford college students discussing the pros and cons of the subject, "Is War in Harmony with the Christian Conscience?"

The members of the panel were William Bittel, Gordon Werner, Paul Scaver, and Amar Singh and the moderator was Dr. Donald Baker. The side professor that war was not in harmony with the Christian conscience brought out three main points: (1) Christian concept was defined as a way of life which must be practiced and is independent of the teachings of Christ; (2) pacifism is not passivism but active participation and work through Christ's training; and (3) We should live a life of love and understanding with men. The Christian concept is not against the purpose of war but the means by which it obtains its ends.

The opposition stated that society is constantly changing and Christianity changes with it. War

FTA to Hear Talk On Teaching Ways

Alfred Herr, science and economics teacher at Norristown High school, will explain some of his methods and the projects he uses in teaching industrial students at the next meeting of the FTA on December 11. Mr. Herr plans to bring some of his students to the meeting in order to give realistic demonstrations of the means he employs to teach them.

Plans for an important meeting of practice teachers and other FTA members at the Boyertown High school on January 8 have been announced by J. Allen Minnich, faculty adviser of the FTA. Demonstrations and explanations of visual aid devices will highlight the meeting. All prospective teachers are strongly urged to attend. Departure time and other details for the trip will be announced later.

At a meeting of FTA on November 20, Wesley Detwiler, assistant county superintendent of schools in Montgomery county, showed a film on methods and discipline in the elementary schools. In the talk which followed, Mr. Detwiler mentioned various techniques of discipline and methods of teaching, chiefly on the elementary school level.

Senior Prom Themes Remain Centered About Winter in Past Several Years

by Jean Stewart '52

Gazing into my dim and distant past, I look with mingled feelings at the Senior balls — don't get me wrong, the dances were all nice, but sometimes the circumstances were such that . . . Oh, well, let's not get sordidly personal. Every year the Weekly articles announcing the Senior Ball look the same. (No, I don't remember, I just looked it up.) There are nondescript pictures of the bandleader and sexy poses of the singers. They usually start, "The Ursinus social season will begin this year with the . . . Ball . . ."

When I was a mere freshman still wondering what exactly happened at a "strictly formal affair," we had Buddy Williams with Kay Justice as his soloist. The next year it was George Sommers with Lee Bennet, and last year, as most of you remember, we had Matt Gillespie and an innovation—two soloists: Margie Lee and Lou Reed. This year we have a repeat performance for Clarence Fuhrman and his smooth music. Over these years, the dances were called, in order, the Crystal ball, the Starlight ball, the Snow ball, and now, for a change Winter whirl. The programs were (as you may be able to guess) a crystal ball, a star, and a snowball. It is interesting to speculate on just what they will produce this time.

I was surprised to find that the Senior ball in '48 was only the second dance to be held at Sunnybrook, the first being the Lorelei in '47. It must have been quite an improvement over the T-G gym. Let us hope that rumors to the effect that we might have to return to that rock-bound icebox are false. For some reason there is a stigma attached to that place.

But I must resist the temptation to date myself so completely, and merely express the hope that this year's "introduction to the Ursinus social whirl" will prove as successful as Senior balls held in the past. As long as they are fun, who cares whether the vocalists never quite live up to their advance publicity. Here's to a gay evening—and do try to get to the dance for at least an hour. It's proper, you know.

Posters Now Made By Freshmen Girls For All Activities

by Joan Higgins '54

It wouldn't take a stranger on the Ursinus campus any length of time to know "what's doing" in the line of activities for the next two weeks. He should meet his informer the minute he lets his eyes rest upon the trees that line the walk to Freeland or any of the bulletin boards on campus. Naturally, the posters are the eye-catchers to which I refer.

The poster committee is responsible for the majority of the art work which appears on campus. The committee is composed entirely of freshmen women. Bunny Hockenbury heads the group and Peg Montgomery is the secretary and treasurer. There is a total of 45 members in the organization which are grouped into districts throughout the campus. At their monthly meetings the girls rotate their positions.

Any organization on campus may go to the committee and request a poster to advertise its activities. They are beautifully done at a cost of the materials only.

This is the first year the poster committee has been composed entirely of freshmen women. They would like to extend an invitation to the artistic male members of their class to join the committee. What do you say, boys?

Supply Store Improvements Came With Navy Moving to Ursinus Campus During War Years

by Barbara Powell '54

Can you imagine the Ursinus campus without the Supply store? We didn't always have one, you know. Pretend with me that we are living back in those "good old days" instead of in 1951.

The campus grounds would look very similar. Perhaps Bomberger chapel would have less ivy climbing up its walls but it would still be "Bomberger" to everyone. Freeland Hall would probably be a little whiter than it is today, minus the fluorescent signs, of course, but "Freeland," still as important and as symbolic to them as it is to us now. The gym wasn't quite as large and the Science hall wasn't quite broken in yet, but on the whole, Ursinus was the same then as it is today with one exception, the Supply store.

The meeting place for "the gang" was a sandwich shop called "Brad's," situated then next to Lynnwood where the antique shop now stands. The boys in their round-collared shirts and the girls in those long-waisted dresses squeezed in the door for that afternoon snack or a cup of coffee for breakfast. On Sunday the newspapers would be lying scattered about and knowing the girls were all in bed the boys would trot down to "Brad's" and many times in their pajamas, believe it or not.

On campus there was only the little five by five hole-in-the-wall building that was commonly called the post office. It represented the supply storehouse, and the ice cream fountain as well as the U.S. Mail.

Things were the same until the Navy visited Ursinus during World War II. The Navy lads took matters into their own hands and built a room in front of the post office building and placed, in the center of the floor, a crudely fashioned counter. After a few years, counters and showcases were built around the sides, and stacks for those precious text books were built in the back of the store. Things were really moving along. Furniture and a cooling system were installed and before very long it was 1951 and the "Supply" was completed as we know it.

I believe that everyone at sometime or another during the day walks into the "Supply". In the morning the newspapers are spread out on the tables; some people indulge in the front page but since it is usually early, Dick Tracy and Blondie are much easier digested. The counter is covered with cakes, sticky buns and jelly doughnuts. Things don't really start to liven up until 12:35. Cash registers ring up dozens of ice cream cones and if there's a huddle to one side of the room, never fear because it merely one of those "quickie" bridge games before class. All tests are discussed at the "Supply", just about every joke is told there at some time or another, and most of those Saturday night dates are transacted within those walls; so, meet you at the "Supply"!

No. 29...THE HYENA

Hysteria reigned from the moment he heard the details of those quick-trick cigarette mildness tests. First he giggled . . . then he guffawed . . . wound-up rolling in the aisle! He knew that the "single sniff" test or the "one puff" test didn't prove anything! Millions of smokers have reached the same conclusion — there's just one test that really proves cigarette flavor and mildness!

It's the sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke — on a pack-after-pack, day-after-day basis. No snap judgments! Once you've enjoyed Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .

Frank Merriwell Saves the Day

(Editor's Note:- This story is reprinted from the November issue of the Penn State humor magazine, Froth.)

by Dick Neuweiler

Two blows fell soundly on the little boy's head. Bozo Hauptman, the school bully, was engaging in his favorite sport — beating up grade school children. The little boy put his arms over his head to protect himself. "Oh, please don't hit me anymore," shrieked the tiny figure. In answer Bozo seized up one of the child's fallen crutches and "Socko" gave him a sound one across the nap of the neck. The little boy fell to the ground in agony. A gathering of academy students stood by in fascinated terror as the bully danced gleefully about his victim, kicking and beating him.

Suddenly a voice that brought hope to the hearts of all came booming into the crowd.

"That's a dastardly thing you're doing there!" Bozo stopped, crutch upraised, and turned slowly. Standing directly behind, jaw set and arms folded, was Frank Merriwell! Frank Merriwell, All-College President, Captain of the Football team, Editor of the Daily Revision, Skull and Drones, President of the Fat Societies Council, and the Social Chairman of the West Dorm Furnace Room.

"That's a dastardly thing you're doing there," Frank repeated.

"I didn't mean no harm," quavered Bozo.

"Nevertheless, it is my duty to give you a lesson you shall not soon forget," said Frank.

Frank assumed the proper stance, and faced Bozo squarely.

"Ready?"

Bozo nodded. Frank then reminded him of his custom of always permitting his opponent the first blow, which Bozo promptly took advantage of, bringing a swift end to the fight. Awakening a few hours later, Frank hobbled back to his quarters where he received a vigorous thrashing from the floor-master for missing dinner.

Frank, although badly injured, entered his room with a smile. His roommate, Chet, a cheery, fat little boy with a speech defect looked at him in amazement.

"Lood gord, you took lerrible . . . lerk toorible . . . look terrible," ventured Chet.

Frank patted Chet's hair. "Don't worry, I'll be all right."

"You look like you were bit by a reamstroller . . . sit by a cream-roller . . . beerthrower . . ."

"Steady Chet, I'll be all right."

"Gut bee, Frank, can you play in the pane tomorrow . . . a . . . flay in in the frame . . . play in the game?"

"I don't know. My shoulder should be better. I'll be all right."

The next day was the occasion of the big football game between the prep school and its traditional rival "Admiral Fairygut Military Academy". It was the final game of the season for both teams, and they both had succeeded in completing the season without encountering either a win or a tie. Thousands of avid fans thronged the field to see what promised to be a real thriller.

When the teams took to the field, however, Frank Merriwell's name was not to be found in the starting lineup. Rather Frank was forced to be sidelined because of his injury. Oh, how unhappy Frank was. Besides the team's chances without Frank did not look good.

Late in the third quarter the score was tied at 6-6. If ever the old school needed Frank Merriwell it was now. The coach scanned the faces of the players besides him. He looked at Frank and said to himself, "I know Merriwell can do it, even if he is hurt."

"Merriwell."

"Yes, sir?"

"Pardon?"

"Who?"

"You. Let's go!"

"I don't know . . . the old shoulder . . ."

"Yes, I know, but it's only for a couple of plays."

"Ned Wilson hasn't played much this season."

"C'mon, on with the old helmet, that's the old spirit!"

Frank yanked on his helmet and the crowd roared as his familiar 33 jersey flashed onto the field. In the huddle Frank once again encountered his old nemesis — Bozo Hauptman. Bozo was the team's fullback.

"Well, look who's back," snarled Bozo, "Old fake shoulder himself."

"We'll see who is a fake shoulder, Bozo Hauptman," answered Frank in his sternest voice.

"You're yellow and you know it," retorted Bozo.

"Watch your tongue, sir."

On the first play Bozo carried the ball through the tackle position for a gain of twenty-three yards.

"How did you like that?" sneered Bozo in the huddle.

"Glory hogs aren't wanted here, Bozo," replied Frank. On the next play Bozo went around end for thirty-five yards. Back in the huddle he leered at those about him, but Frank had already cautioned them to ignore him. The next play was a reverse in which Frank dropped the ball and Bozo picked it up and raced forty-five yards for a touchdown.

The rooters went wild and the whole team picked up Bozo and began to carry him off the field on their shoulders. It was truly a great moment—Bozo had scored the winning touchdown at the moment the gun went off signalling the end of the game.

But Frank Merriwell did not go unrewarded. He too received recognition for his day's work. Chet, Frank's roommate, had revealed Frank's plans to cooperate with a gang of hoodlums and throw the game, and as he came off the field he was met by members of the police force who arrested him. Chet, with tears in his eyes, looked

Jayvees Defeat Penn; Have Undefeated Year

Under their new coach, Miss Jane Platt, the Jayvees remain undefeated as they toppled University of Pennsylvania 2-0 on the home field November 20. From the opening whistle the Junior Varsity, with their usual spirit and aggressiveness, succeeded in monopolizing the play. Mid-way through the first half Ursinus' left inner, Ruthie Reeser, rushed the ball in to give Ursinus a 1-0 lead. Later in the first half Marty Daniels, Ursinus left wing, again by a rush, scored to put the locals ahead 2-0.

The Junior Bearettes took to a slightly icy field in the second half and in spite of many attempts were not able to tally and the score remained 2-0 in favor of Ursinus.

This year the Junior Varsity piled up 27 points in the seven game schedule, while its opponents scored but 4 points.

Graduating Seniors Vacate Five Positions on Ursinus Soccer Team

Friday, Nov. 16, five members of Dr. Baker's soccer squad marked their final game for the Ursinus Bruins. This years season was not too successful but the team showed much fight and spirit.

Leading the senior parade are co-captains Jay Ely and John Edleman. Jay played a sparkling game in the backfield for Ursinus. He came from an experienced Abington High team. In the F & M game Jay moved to the line for part of the game and helped to score one of the tallies for that contest. John Edleman, a practice teacher from Phoenixville, showed much pep in the Bruin line. This was John's third year at soccer. He never played before coming to Ursinus.

The other seniors who leave the Bruin team that supported Ely and Edleman include Charlie Pritchard, Ken Mammel and Bob Meckelnburg.

Pritchard, from Mt. Airy, play this year, his first, on the soccer team at center forward. Although a novice at the game he learned quickly and was second highest scorer this year. Charlie has also been a member of the wrestling squad for three years. As a pre-medder Charlie has also found time to be active in the campus musical groups.

Leaving the right wing position a vacancy next year is Ken Mammel. Ken came to Ursinus with four years experience at soccer from George School. Here at Ursinus Ken has been a four year letter man in soccer. Ken will long be remembered for his brilliant play in his freshman year against Lehigh. From that game Ursinus came out a 3-2 victor, Ken scored two of the three Ursinus points.

The last, but not least, senior is Bob Meckelnburg. Bob came from Lower Merion. For the Bakermen Bob occupied the left-fullback position. Bob, also a pre-medder, has played soccer for four years. The last two he held down the varsity post.

Swimming Team Loses One From Last Year's Squad

Fifteen Ursinus Mermaids broke the ice last Monday night and plunged into another swimming season with high hopes for a better record than last year's 3-4 slate. Coach Jane Platt has a full program planned, based on individual improvement and combined team effort.

Helen Lightfoot, manager, will be assisted by Martha Flickinger.

All but one of last year's regulars are returning. The veterans include Captain Jean Cilley, Pat Kiebler, Joan Compton, Annie Van Elswyck, Sallie Lumis, Kay Hood, Jean Strobe and Beverly Syvertsen. Promising underclassmen who are out for the first time are Evans Flickinger, Sally Mills, Nancy Bergman, June Elliott, Beverly Tyrrell, and Jane Skinner.

Bailey Elected

Everett M. Bailey, our genial Director of Athletics, has been honored with a very distinguished position in the realm of local sports. At a meeting of the Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic conference held in Gettysburg last week, Mr. Bailey was elected president. It is quite an honor for both Mr. Bailey and Ursinus, for both will receive recognition in the Eastern Seaboard states. The conference is for the benefit mainly of smaller colleges, but such better known institutions of learning as Princeton, Bucknell, Columbia, Lafayette, NYU and the University of Pennsylvania are also members. In all the conference consists of 36 colleges and universities.

Bailey succeeds Charles Havens of Western Maryland as the conference's Prexy. Mr. Bailey, or "Ace" as he is better known, was graduated from Springfield college in Massachusetts. He became a member of the Ursinus faculty 17 years and became athletic director in 1944. The other new officers are: Al Humphreys of Bucknell, vice president, and Dr. LeRoy Mercer of Penn, secretary-treasurer.

Davis Chosen

Last Thursday the football letter winners gathered in the inner sanctums of Bomberger hall to hold an election to name the 1952 grid captain. Emerging victorious was one Robert Davis. His teammates call him "Rocky" and the men who played the opponents side of the line can tell you why. He stands 6 ft. and tips the scales at 205. "Rocky", who plays at the tackle position, is one of the most outstanding linemen seen here in recent years. A junior, he hails from Sewickley Heights and is 19 years old. Bob will play his fourth year of varsity ball next season.

Congrats also to Adel Boyd, who was just elected hockey captain. Look for story elsewhere on this page.

NOTE OF THANKS

This is just to express a note of thanks on behalf of the sports publicity department to Ted Wenner for a job well done. Ted, as you may know, called the plays for you over the public address system at the home football games. Ted did the job gratis. His only reward was the pleasure he may have gotten from the announcing. The ribs for a slip of the tongue, the favors, orders, requests which were put to him on Saturday afternoons never phased him and he continued to do an excellent job. Thanks again Ted. I'd like also to thank Harry Toy, who acted as a faithful and efficient spotter throughout the season.

TID BITS

Mrs. Francis Vosters (also called Bunny) who is a graduate of Ursinus was recently listed number one in the women's singles of 1951 Middle States tennis rankings. Mrs. Vosters plays at the Merion Cricket Club and replaces Mrs. William du Pont who was unranked because of her lack of tournament play last year.

Congrats to senior John Ehnnot. Big John, who played a lot of tackle for the Bears was given honorable mention on the Associated Press All-State college football team.

Booter Pete Foreman was named on the all-opposition team as picked by the players of the Drexel soccer squad.

By the way the local soccer team finally found out why they were not winning. It seems that they were playing the wrong game. The Bakermen took up the game of Soccey (sometimes called hockey by the girls). With the above mentioned Pete Foreman and Floyd Fellows doing the scoring the soccer squad turned in a 2-0 victory over the women's hockey team, whose lineup was minus many regulars. It was one of those "a good time was had by all" affairs; however, the spectators could not have had all the fun that the players seemingly had.

COURT TIPS

The Ursinus basketball team gave us what we hope is not a preview of coming events. The local court team lost to a strong Gettysburg squad 91-64 at York in a bene-

Eleven Senior Men Bid Farewell to College Football Playing Careers

It comes time now to offer our final words of congratulations to the eleven seniors who just recently ended their football playing careers at Ursinus. It is only fitting to start with out two co-captains, Bill Fischer and Herm Lintner. Bill was, without much doubt, one of the hardest runners Ursinus has ever seen, especially in the last two years. Running from the halfback slot, Bill has always been one of the leading ground gainers on the squad. Herm Lintner was the offensive center this year and one of the best. Previous to this year, Herm had seen mostly defensive action in the licker-up position, but as co-captain, Herm's aggressiveness was needed most on offense.

There were two seniors playing in the backfield this year that really came up with a tremendous season, Bill Poore and Paul Doughty. Bill Poore held down the quarterback position every game this year and did an exceptional job of signal calling and for the first half of the season had a passing average close to .600. Paul Doughty was an offensive standout at fullback and had his finest year.

Switching to the line, we had one of the hardest charging linemen in the district in the person of Johnny Ehnnot, a four year man.

Defensive Men

Now we turn to defense where we have two men who turned in one of their best seasons, Gene Pascucci and Ted Yoder. Both these men had previously seen a lot of offensive action, but this year they formed the very important core of the defensive backfield.

The safety man this year was Bill Loomis, a senior playing his second year of ball. Bill also scored two important touchdowns this year. Another two year man was Ed Mewing who played defensive backer-up, but received a crippling injury late in the year. Last, but certainly not least, was Tom Davis who was playing his first year of ball for the Bears and turned in a fine defensive performance.

Albright Defeats Curtis Hall Team

Having swept honors in its own intramural league Curtis hall journeyed to Reading last Tuesday afternoon to challenge Albright's loop victor. This is the second year that of both these schools Ursinus and Albright have matched intramural teams. Last years dorm champions, Derr Hall, battled an Albright squad to a 6-6 deadlock. On this occasion Albright was able to score a 6-0 verdict by virtue of a sneak play engineered in the closing moments of the contest.

The teams were so evenly matched in their offensive and defensive skills that they held one another at bay for the three quarters. Both squads had chances to push across earlier tallies but determined defensive play usually halted progress. The game saw each team employing a two platoon system.

With less than three minutes playing time remaining Albright managed to get the ball at midfield after stalling a Curtis attack paced largely by the passing of Joe Totino and the receiving of Ed Klein. After two running plays failed to materialize Albright quarterback Bill Cohrs spotted end Lefty Leitham alone in the endzone. Used as a sleeper Leitham easily got behind the Curtis secondary. A Cohrs pass for the extra point failed.

Outscoring the victors in only one period, the Bruins were out-classed; however, three locals hit double figures. Frank Kiefaber and Bob Swett tabbed eleven points, while Herb Knull netted 18.

Penn Ties Belles In Final Contest

The Tuesday before Thanksgiving the Ursinus Girls' Hockey team battled to a 1-1 draw with the University of Pennsylvania squad. This tie gave the Belles a record of three wins, three ties and two losses for the 1951 season. The other two draws came at the hands of Bryn Mawr and West Chester.

Played on a wintry afternoon, the game was held on a frozen field. Footing was awkward, and a late afternoon sun made vision difficult for both squads.

The ball shifted up and down the field throughout the first half. Both teams had several chances to score, but neither squad was able to capitalize on their opportunities.

Early in the second period Marguerite Spencer countered for the Belles to put them out ahead by a slim margin. The Ursinus squad continued to attack in an effort to increase its lead. With two minutes to play Pat Werner broke through the Ursinus defense and, despite several last second attempts on the part of the Belles' backfield, she put the ball in the cage to even up the score.

Both teams tried to push ahead; however, when the final whistle sounded the score was deadlocked at 1-1.

Miss Snell Loses Six Hockey Girls

by Sally Lumis '53

The close of the 1950 hockey seasons brings to an end the hockey careers of ten seniors here at Ursinus. Commencement will claim six varsity and four jayvee players, who will remember hard play and lots of fun on the Ursinus hockey squad. These seniors helped the team to produce a record of 3 wins, 2 losses, and 2 ties for the varsity and 6 wins and 1 tie for the once-again undefeated jayvees. The excellent record of the jayvee gives promise of a great deal of material to fill in the gaps left after graduation. The seniors made up the majority of the eight players chosen to the All-College teams from the Ursinus varsity. The spirit and team work were exceptional throughout the season and the senior playing was an incentive for the rest of the squad.

The loss of Captain Margaret Hooper, varsity fullback for 3 years, leaves an opening that will be hard to fill. "Hoop's" speed and skilled stickwork made her play standout in many games. Although she has been unable to score from her backfield position, many goals were scored by others from plays set up by "Hoop's" passes. Besides hockey, "Hoop" plays jayvee tennis and varsity softball.

Backfield Vacancy

Another backfield vacancy will be created when Jody Wimbung receives her diploma. In fact, she finished her hockey season early for a honeymoon trip to the Poconos. Jody has been a regular varsity player for 3 years and on the All-College squad 2 of these years. She is also a veteran of three years varsity tennis and three years jayvee basketball. Here's hoping we can find a halfback just as consistent and hard-driving as Jody has been.

Marguerite Spencer, another three year regular, has played nearly every position on the forward line at one time or another. Her rushing and hard attack caused (Continued on page 6)

BOYD TO CAPTAIN HOCKEY SQUAD IN THE 1952 SEASON

Adele Boyd, leading scorer for two seasons and outstanding line player, has been elected captain of the 1952 hockey team. This year Adele was named on the All-College second and All-Philadelphia fourth teams during tournament play at Swarthmore. Her outstanding hockey ability and congeniality should prove to be an incentive when the team takes the field next fall.

Adele's all-around athletic ability has won her positions on the basketball varsity as a guard for two years, and on the softball, badminton and jayvee tennis teams for one year each. She is a member of Kappa Delta Kappa sorority and the WAA.

ed many headaches for the opposing goalie. Besides hockey, Spence has been on the varsity softball and basketball teams her three years here at Ursinus.

Goalie Graduates

Shirley MacKinnon will also be greatly missed on the forward line. "Mac" played right wing and inner this year and last to add push to the forwards attack. Her great skill in getting the ball down the field and persistent fight in the circle won her a berth on the first All-College eleven. Unfortunately, a knee injury kept "Mac" from playing in the Penn game and in further tournament play. "Mac" has played two years each of varsity basketball and softball and one year of tennis.

The indispensable goalie position has been filled for the past three years by Jean Leety, who so capably halted many scoring threats. Recognition for her outstanding play is evidenced by her two years as a member of the All-College Second team reserve All-Philadelphia in 1950 and fourth All-Philadelphia this year. On the All-College team, "Leety" was second only to the All-American goalie from Temple, Marie Kerstetter. Jean also plays softball and jayvee basketball.

Last, but not least, to come to our attention is Joan Kirby who stepped up from the jayvee forward line to the varsity halfback post which she handled beautifully. Joan played her best consistently to gain recognition as a dependable player. Before this year, Joan played jayvee hockey for two years, jayvee basketball, and two years on the tennis varsity.

YOUTH RALLY PLANNED

At a meeting of the Canterbury club held last Monday night, Gretchen Showalter '53, gave a talk on the Old Testament, including the books from Genesis to Ruth. Plans were made to attend a Youth rally for the Bryan Green Mission in Philadelphia on Friday, Nov. 30.

Day Students Slate Party

At a meeting of the women day students held recently, plans for the annual Christmas party were made. It was decided that the party should be held December 12 at 4 p.m. At this time gifts will be exchanged and refreshments will be served.

Each day student will decorate her locker door with an appropriate holiday theme and a prize will be awarded for the best decoration.

McCLURES TO ENTERTAIN

All Junior and Senior women are invited to the annual Candlelight party to be held at the home of President and Mrs. Norman E. McClure next Monday night immediately after dinner.

CONCERT LISTED

Plans are underway for the student concert to be presented January 10 sponsored by the Music club.

The Meistersingers and several student soloists will be featured. It is hoped that a choral arrangement of the Ursinus campus song will be ready for presentation at that time.

Students Must Return Ruby Proofs By Friday

All proofs of pictures taken for the 1952 Ruby must be returned to Marie Jansen or Don Mackensie by Friday at 12:30 in the Supply store.

Miss Jansen and Mackensie will be in the Supply store after noon meals all this week to accept proofs and also to take picture orders. Price lists were included with the proofs.

Students are asked to write Ruby on the reverse side of the proof which they want to appear in the yearbook.

is a basic part of society and therefore cannot be considered in conflict with Christian concepts.

A discussion period between the speakers and the Ursinus students followed the presentation of the two views.

Next Wednesday the commissions will hold their meetings in Bomberger hall at 6:45 p.m.

At the Political Action meeting Thomas H. W. Jones, state assemblyman from Montgomery county, will speak on loyalty oaths and how a small group of Christian students can better our State government. All students are invited.
