This is Ursinus, a four-year liberal arts college which recognizes the value and pursuit of an education. This pursuit is accompanied by varying degrees of apathy and participation in the college community. The students, the faculty, and the administration all have one thing in common—their presence on the Ursinus campus. Otherwise, the people here are individuals fulfilling their aspirations in different ways and seeking various goals.

As students of the 60's, we have been challenged by the internal college community and by the external world. It has not been an easy four years for us; we have questioned the philosophy of our campus traditions and rules, Vietnam, drugs, and sex. In meeting this challenge, we have expressed ourselves openly, whether it be through the arts, classroom discussion and procedures, athletics, student government, or voluntary protest. We have also expressed ourselves silently through personal relationships, unspoken poems, quiet prayers, or the infinite thoughts and feelings we embody.

In an effort to recognize the students of this campus, we, the editors, have looked for self-expression among the people here. It has been our goal to show Ursinus as it is. With this in mind, we hope that every student will be able to identify with at least one picture in this book.

football

the centennial year football team was led by co-captains tom branca and pete shuman to a 5-2-1 season. coaches richard whatley, ralph borneman, frank videon, norm reichenbach, and craig biendrann watched the team come from behind several times; the most important time was against dickinson, with the championship at stake, when the bears, losing 20-0 at half time, came through with a 21-20 win. recruiting, both by the administration and the bruins club, brought in the freshmen who made up most of the offensive line. although the loss of several seniors, especially walker trophy winners pete shuman and mike mangan, will be felt, the nucleus of a winning team remains. 1970 co-captains felix narog and jim wilcox will have the advantages of more freshmen recruits and the team spirit that comes from a winning season. hopes are high for an undefeated season in 1970.

co-captains clarke langrall and dave grau led the 1969 soccer team to a season of 5 wins, 5 losses, and 1 tie. coach "doc" baker saw his team practice and play under difficult conditions—trucks drilling holes in the field had to be dodged during practice and moved for the last three home games; the game against lafayette was played in a snowstorm, the one against f&m in three inches of mud, and the one against the university of scranton on top of a coal mine. in spite of the hazards, the team had a good season, aided by the efforts of high-scorer dan spencer and most valuable player dave grau.

wrestling

disappointment was the word for this year's wrestling team. little can be said for the 1-9 season except that there is no where to go but up. coach frank videon sees hope in the increased recruiting program which should yield results for next year. the team this year consisted largely of freshmen and sophomores; their return next year, with more experience, plus the return of several injured men, should mean a good year in 1971.

cross country

the ursinus cross-country team, under coach ray gurzynski, is perhaps the most successful team ursinus has ever had in any sport. its win streak looked as if it would go on forever, until it was stopped at thirty by f&m. over four years the team has had a 45-4 record. this year's captain ron herman led the team to a 10-1 season, highlighted by the winning of the mac championship. bruce albert was the hero of the day as he breezed in in first place. hopes are high for a continued championship team.

coach warren fry brought his team to an even 9-9 season in this his tenth year as basketball coach at ursinus. the team was largely composed of underclassmen; the only starter to graduate is captain marc zimmerman. top scorer was a freshman farney cattell, with 234 points in 17 games, a 13.8 average. in addition, the jv team, coached by bob handwerk, indicated by its 13-5 record that it will supply good material for next year's season.

a new coach and a team marked by lack of practice before the first game, opened this year's season. but ted taylor managed somehow, and the team had its best season in three years: 5-10-1. the team, under tri-captains mike mangan, vince scancelli, and pete shuman, started to work together toward the end of the season; the errors became fewer. ursinus not only scored more runs in 1970 than any other team in the mac, they also gave up more runs than any other team. with seventeen of the twenty-one members of the squad returning, hopes are high for the next season, with harvey pond, voted the most valuable player this year, and steve custer as co-captains.

1970 was a disappointing year for ray gruzynski and the ursinus track squad; despite the 10-0 record for the season, the hoped-for-win of the mac championship was not forthcoming. although the team as a whole was defeated that day, there were many individual victories and records. bryant heissinger held on to his record in the 100 yard dash; bart bennet, bruce albert, tom mc morrow, bob mosakowski, tom brown, and art elwood all ran some of their best times ever; but those times were only good enough for second, third, or fourth place. there is always next year!

badminton

the 1970 badminton team, coached by miss adele boyd, carried on the ursinus women's athletics tradition with an undefeated season. the most exciting event of the season was the second annual intercollegiate badminton tournament, at rosemont college. here ursinus girls carried away the honors; margie allen took first place in singles, with janet lipincott in second place. both first and second place also went to the girls in doubles: jean ramsey and betsy flynn (this years senior managers) in first place and gretchen myers and ruth allen in second place.

it was a season of away matches for the women's tennis team, but a good year with only one loss. the two big wins were over penn and west chester, and they were the only matches in which the three singles players, chris treiss, mary ellen tomasco and mary twentyman were all healthy at once. the key to the penn upset was the wins by the two double teams composed of margi allen-janet lefkoe, and betsy dickey-jean ramsey. miss boyd's prospects for next year's season are good since there are four returning varsity players and one returning freshman, sue jensen. if only there were some courts to practice on. . . .

despite the lack of a swimming pool on campus, the '69-70 girls' swimming team, co-captained by lindsay kneas and marion hunter, managed a 5-5 record for the season. coach van horn saw his team come from behind to win the last meet against swarthmore. with a score of 36-34 in favor of swarthmore before the last 200 yard free-style relay, the girls swam a good race and just touched on their opponents in extremely close laps. the team finished ninth among twenty-two teams at intercollegiates. the junior varsity's record, 3-2, indicates a good future for the team, particularly when they won't have to wait for a free hour at the "y."

softball

coach eleanor snell and captain mary ellen smith led the softball team to a 4-1 record this spring. it was the best season in years with wins over both penn state university and west penn state.

call for a vietnam moratorium

ending the war in vietnam is the most important task facing the american nation. over the last few years, millions of americans have campaigned, protested, and demonstrated against the war. few now defend the war, yet it continues. death and destruction are unabated; bombs and fire continue to devastate south vietnam. billions of dollars are spent on war while the urgent domestic problems of this country remain unattended. moreover, the war has had a corrupting influence on every aspect of american life, and much of the national discontent can be traced to its influence.

thus it is necessary for all those who desire peace to again become active and help bring pressure to bear on the present administration.

we call for a periodic moratorium on "business as usual" in order that students, faculty members and concerned citizens can devote time and energy to the important work of taking the issue of peace in vietnam to the larger community.

if the war continues this fall and there is no firm commitment to american withdrawal or a negotiated settlement on october 15, participating members of the academic community will spend the entire day organizing against the war and working in the community to get others to join us in an enlarged and lengthened moratorium in november. this process will continue until there is american withdrawal or a negotiated settlement.

we call upon our universities to support the moratorium, and we commit ourselves to organize this effort on our campus and in our community. we ask others to join us.

By JON WEAVER

On the weekend of November 14th, the nation's capital received its largest crowd ever in the form of at least 250,000 people, brought together by the bond of opposition to the continuing American war policy in Southeast Asia.

Demonstrators, mostly youthful, flocked to Washington from the remote parts of the United States, and some from Canada. The Mid-western states were well represented by many who had driven to Washington, picking up hitch-hikers as they came. Bus-loads came from Texas, suffering a 36 hour bus ride to march in the freezing streets of the District of Columbia to express their dissatisfaction with the war in Viet Nam. Chartered buses and trains brought thousands of students from the colleges and universities on the east coast.

March Against Death

For the majority of protestors, who arrived on Friday, the welcome was a hostile one from an unexpected quarter. Thunderstorms, icy winds, and small hailstones soaked, chilled, and pelted those continuing the observance of the March against Death. This march, which had begun at 6:30 p. m. on Thursday and continued for 40 hours, passed 40,000 marchers each representing an Am...

throughout the united states, april 22, 1970, was observed as earth day, a day of learning about the crisis of our environment. ursinus, too, observed earth day. the faculty was co-operative in cancelling tests and relating that day's lecture to the important topic of searching our environment. there was a schedule of events which included a speech of mr. vernon dame of the national park service on "environment and you," a speech on the population explosion by dr. louis of the albert einstein medical center, a lecture with slides about air pollution, delivered by mr. robert taylor, and a panel discussion of the crisis. an action committee was formed to find ways of stopping pollution locally; it is hoped that the seriousness of the problem was conveyed to all.

Campus Chest Committee Selects Student-Faculty Cast and Chorus

By LESA SPACEK

Ben Hair, the production for this year's Student Faculty Show, will be presented April 26 and 27, in the TG Gym. The script, written by Carley Lane and Les Schnoll, is concerned with the search for a new President at Ursinus and other minor problems associated with this fair institution. The outcome of this search is only known to a chosen few.

Son of Hair

The dialogue is brief; the music makes the greatest contribution to this show. Although many had desired to produce a musical, no one ever had because of limited funds and lack of support. This year it was thought that a musical could get enough support if associated with Campus Chest. Since Hair is the most popular musical according to college critics, it was chosen as the starting point for the Ursinus creation. From these ideas Ben Hair (Son of Hair) was born.

Cast

Ben Hair has everything a musical should have. It has a capable director in Carley Lane and a capable producer in Claude Hawkins. Like Carol Lawrence in West Side Story and Yul Brynner in the King and I, Ben Hair has some very fine soloists in Karen Dirks, Linda Mills, Carol Wasserman, Jeff Crandall, Bill Jenkins, Roger Mecouch, Gene Robbins, and Phil Snyder. Ben Hair also has many faculty members to add to its list of stars in Dr. Byerly, Miss Cope, Mrs. Lucas, Dr. Sharp, Mr. Rappuccio, and Mr. Vannucchi. One of the most important components a musical can have is the chorus. Louann Campanaro, Karen Dirks, Ruth Fawcett, Linda Harris, Marcia Knott, Linda Mills, Cynthia Peck, Kathy Powell, Lannie Pumo, Eileen Schrage, Carol Wasserman, Bill Jenkins, Bill Jones, Ed McCandless, Les Schnoll, and Phil Snyder are in the chorus. The non-singing roles are held by Bruce Ellsweig, Alan Gold, Claude Hawkins, and Rich Stiles. Naturally Ben Hair has an orchestra to provide background music. The musicians—John Fager, Karl Weiland, and Jack Lewis—were very good about transposing the songs to fit the singers. The dance number is not lead and choreographed by Jerome Robbins, but Donna Hadnagy, Jane Kuchar, Linda Fischl, and Susanne Yamamoto are the other dancers starring in the production.

Everyone is invited. Since the dialogue is short and the music is universal in nature, non-Ursinus women and non-Ursinus men will enjoy this spectacle.

Light Show, Ben Hair Campus Chest Events

By CHUCK CHAMBERS

This year's Ursinus Campus Chest runs from April 9th to 18th. The Student Faculty Show will be staged on three successive nights the following week, April 25-27.

The Co-chairmen, Joan Storer and Les Schnoll, hope to raise $3,000 to help support various charities which are not funded nationally. Most of the money will go to the Melmark Home, which rehabilitates retarded children. Five percent of the money will go to Biafra, since food is needed there.

Three Main Events

The Campus Chest will include three main events: a light show, a carnival, and the Student Faculty Show.

The Student Faculty Show this year is BEN HAIR—a combination of music from the Broadway Show Hair and the script by Carley Lane and Les Schnoll. The theme pictures the selection of a new President at Ursinus. The ending is top-secret. Claude Hawkins will produce the show.

Tentative Schedule of Events

On Thursday, April 9, there will be an O CHI donut sale in the morning, the Penny Mile in the afternoon, and a charity basketball game in the evening. Friday, April 10, will feature a Phi Psi shoeshine after lunch and a concert after dinner. Saturday, April 11, will include a Beta Sig car wash and a light show at 7:30 P.M. Monday, April 13, features an Ugly Man Ronald Hess, Professor of Chemistry, the other faculty co-sponsor of the 1970 charity program.

Contest at 12:30 P.M. Girls dorms will be open that night. On Tuesday, April 14, there will be a card tournament and a ZX slave sale in the afternoon followed by Demas waiting dinner, a magic act by Dr. Snyder at 7:30, and pre-med films at 8:00 P.M. Wednesday, April 15, will have C.M.P. Notes in the morning and a fashion show at 9:00 P.M. WRUC will hold a marathon all day. Thursday, April 16, will feature a dorm clean-up in the afternoon followed by a KDK spaghetti dinner and then the carnival at night. Friday, April 17, will include a Sig Nu hoagie sale and a College Bowl at 8:00 P.M. The events will end on Saturday, April 18, with the Road Rallye at 1:00 P.M.

a Special Relationship with

on april 30, 1970, it was announced that u.s. and south vietnamese forces were moving into cambodia to root out viet cong sanctuaries; on campuses throughout the country, a storm of protest arose. on may 4, four students at kent state university were shot to death by national guardsmen sent to quiet protestors on that campus. students everywhere felt the tragedy; some of our number had been cut down. at ursinus, tests were cancelled on May 7 and 8 so that students could attend demonstrations and memorial services. faculty and students shared in the mourning and protesting, demonstrating a heartening unity of sentiment.

dedication

We of the class of 1970 have had contact with Mr. Richard P. Richter in a variety of ways; some of us know him from a Freshman Comp course, some from his official position as Vice President for Administrative Affairs, some from one of the numerous committees of which he is a member: the Dining Hall Committee, the Staff-Student Vietnam Moratorium Committee, and many others. To some of us he is only a name, someone somehow connected with "the administration." But his name is always mentioned with some degree of respect, an honor not often conferred upon an administrator by this generation of students.

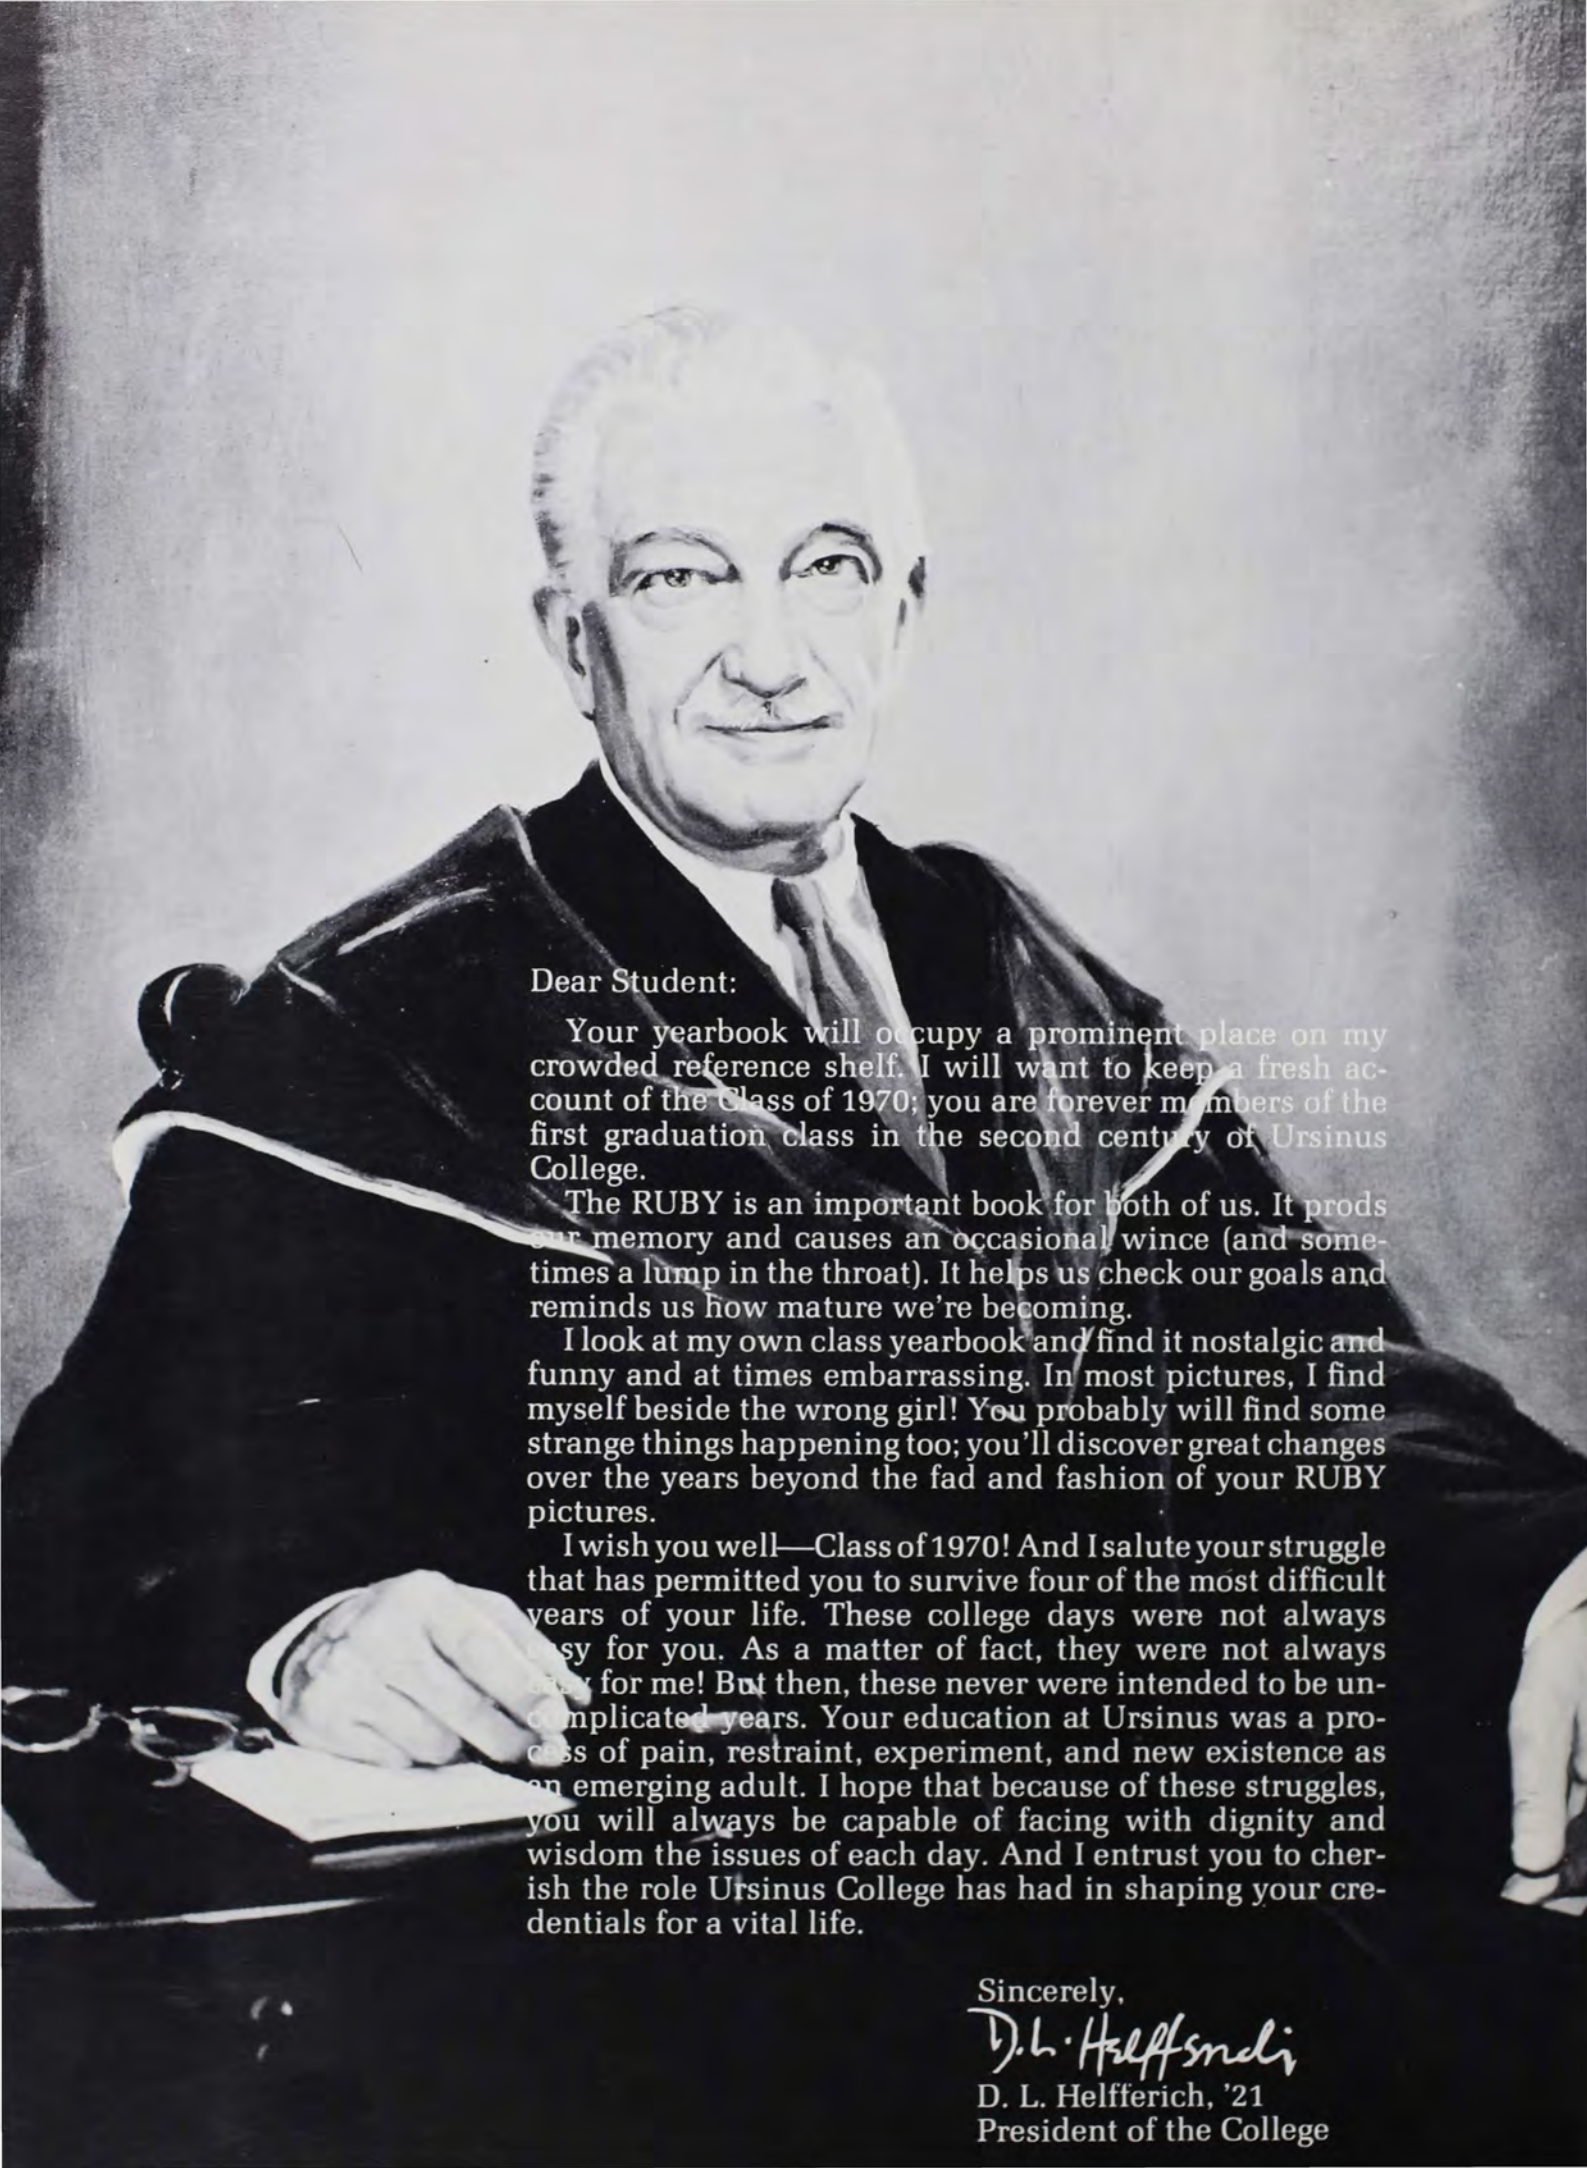

Ursinus College is Mr. Richter's concern, what it was, what it is, and what it will be are all of interest to him. His concern is partially that of an alumnus, a member of the class of 1953, partially that of a faculty member since his appointment to the English Department, and partially that of an administrator. Perhaps it is this combination of concerns which keeps him from becoming overly concerned with the past, as many alumni are, or overly concerned with the present, as many students are, or overly concerned with the future, as many administrators are.

Whatever the reason for his balanced perspective on the college, it has gained him a reputation as a man who will listen to any student be he a campus leader or one of the crowd.

Thus we, the hundreth graduating class of Ursinus College, in a period of change, dedicate our yearbook to a man who was characterized in his class' yearbook as a "quiet radical," Mr. Richard P. Richter.

Dear Student:

Your yearbook will occupy a prominent place on my crowded reference shelf. I will want to keep a fresh account of the Class of 1970; you are forever members of the first graduation class in the second century of Ursinus College.

The RUBY is an important book for both of us. It prods our memory and causes an occasional wince (and sometimes a lump in the throat). It helps us check our goals and reminds us how mature we're becoming.

I look at my own class yearbook and find it nostalgic and funny and at times embarrassing. In most pictures, I find myself beside the wrong girl! You probably will find some strange things happening too; you'll discover great changes over the years beyond the fad and fashion of your RUBY pictures.

I wish you well—Class of 1970! And I salute your struggle that has permitted you to survive four of the most difficult years of your life. These college days were not always easy for you. As a matter of fact, they were not always easy for me! But then, these never were intended to be uncomplicated years. Your education at Ursinus was a process of pain, restraint, experiment, and new existence as an emerging adult. I hope that because of these struggles, you will always be capable of facing with dignity and wisdom the issues of each day. And I entrust you to cherish the role Ursinus College has had in shaping your credentials for a vital life.

Sincerely,

D. L. Helfferich
