Dr. Maurice Armstrong was one professor at Ursinus kids could talk to—really get to know. Ask anyone. He probably spent as much time and concern counseling bio majors as he did those of history. Students were people to him.

There was no such thing as a conventional history course in his repertoire. Freshmen loved his lectures, upperclassmen gladly struggled with his Ren and Ref or History of Art, and this fall, the College's first course in the Fine Arts, inaugurated under his leadership, was mobbed with devoted participants. An "artist-in-residence" appointment, and a studio facility for student work in the plastic and pictorial arts were to follow in his plans as notable yet natural expansions of Ursinus' developing curriculum.

Dr. Armstrong expected us to think clearly and to combine our accumulated knowledge with the highest standards of performance so that we might move with greater confidence and usefulness in the world.

Well, what does all this mean? Who was this man? Someone you would label a good guy. Someone who represented what each of us should try to be. Someone whose blend of truth and tact, candor and kindness, wisdom and wit gained him respect that nothing will ever remove. It is out of this sense of fondest love and respect, and out of the belief that he will be a model for all of us, that we dedicate this, the 1968 RUBY, to Dr. Maurice W. Armstrong.

September 1967, the Routine begins anew. Vestiges of summer—shifts and sneakers, tans and bare toes—are reluctant to let go. The frosh figure it out in duplicate, while upperclassmen reunite.

The Class of 1968 was deeply grieved this year by the loss of a fellow classmate—F. Scott Pierce. Scott was a talented, dedicated, sincere individual, known to all by his friendly hello and effervescent smile. We will always remember Scott.

TO THE CLASS OF 1968:

First of all: thank you! We came to Ursinus College together in the fall of 1964, eager to begin a new phase of our lives, hopeful that we might both give to and receive from our new associates, and—yes—just a little anxious. For three of your four years, you gave me the pleasure of participating a little in your class life as your class advisor. This was a privilege, pleasure, and satisfaction for me, for which I am deeply grateful. Your four years here were spent in troubled times: our armed conflict in Vietnam, international tensions throughout the world, civil unrest at home, and stress and turmoil on the campuses of our nation. Yet, in spite of these disturbances to the “sheltered life within the ivied walls”, you spent your life at Ursinus constructively. Your mark on its history is positive and good.

Elsewhere in this Ruby your contributions to our total campus will have been detailed (to a degree!) and this is not the place for more specifics. But your life as a group was characterized by the fact that you defined your problems, sought and found possible alternative solutions, weighed their merits, and adopted one. Then—and this is vital—you worked to accomplish your goals. Your life, and that of the whole campus community, was richer for your efforts. You were recognized by the faculty as a stimulating and active group.

One would be a fool to predict for you a life of peace and calm, with ever-increasing “success symbols” as rewards for your achievements. But I am confident that the record will show that you have strength of mind and character to meet the challenges that life will surely bring you in a solidly constructive way. This you did while you were here, though the Class of 1968 on too many campuses yielded to the appeal of conspicuous destructiveness. Your lives showed that you brought a firm foundation from your homes, and that you found out how to select from the available materials and plans a way to build soundly while you were here. Though you may live through periods of limited materials and restricted choices of plans, I have every expectation that each Commencement Anniversary will mark the end of another year of good building. May the experiences and the teachings of these four years serve you well all your lives.

This is my wish for you. And this, too: that you may have all the luck you need, but with the inner resources not to need any. And, sincerely, may God be with you all your days, that you never stand alone.

— E. Vernon Lewis

Senior Class

Returning to campus in September, the members of the Class of 1968 found themselves in the enviable position of being Seniors. Stature as a class and success as an organization have been emphasized by the forward initiative of four-year President John Gabel. To his insistence that the Class of '68 should become the finest and most capable ever at Ursinus was added the fresh ideas and enthusiastic support of all class members. Within such an atmosphere, the Senior Class initiated several unique functions throughout its Ursinus experience.

Too soon the hectic days of student teaching, advanced history and biology courses, English comprehensives, and departmental papers were finished. Seniors finally realized that the four years, anticipated with some apprehension, were far behind them and that their ideas as freshmen had been radically altered. As graduation, marriage and careers rapidly approached, Seniors could proudly review the accomplishments achieved, the friendships shared, and the vital experiences remembered as The 1968 Class of Ursinus College.

DONALD L. HELFFERICH President of the College

I congratulate the class of 1968. You have completed four years of liberal learning. You have been challenged with old and new ideas, and in turn have challenged them. You have forged your own distinctive style of thought. You have made friendships, some short, some life-long. You may even have acquired a spouse. Most certain of all, you have established an irrevocable bond with this college.

Your experience at Ursinus was unique and it shows in the pages of this edition of the Ruby. You will look back in future years and smile at the dresses and shoes and hair styles that will then seem rather silly. But you will be refreshed at the same time by the reflection of the most intense and exciting years of your life.

That intensity and excitement you share in common with all who have spent four years on the Ursinus campus. This Ruby, then, mirrors the class of 1968 only in part; in a certain sense, it is a reflection of the student life of all of us who have preceded you.

Good health and good fortune!

Sincerely,

D. L. Helfferich

WILLIAM S. PETTIT Dean of the College

RICHARD J. WHATLEY Dean of Men

Where Deans' offices are concerned, Ursinus has four choices. Being called into any one of them produces a combination of apprehension and curiosity unexperienced anywhere else on campus. You can visit the fellow with glasses who teaches Organic, the tall, Don Quixote advocate, the energetic lady whose phone rings too often, or the chap with the light-framed specs and the clipboard. Despite any terror, however unwarranted, they may arouse, Deans Pettit, Vorrath, Rothenberger, and Whatley undeniably continue to keep Ursinus going.

The Class of 1968

Many congratulations on your achievement. Some of you I have had in English Composition and Literature, some of you have been my self-help assistants in the Evening School Office, and some of you I have met by chance. I have enjoyed my contacts with all of you.

John Darrah has worked in my office and has "conned" me into buying a Ruby. I shall cherish it and my associations with 1968.

Good Luck!

Cordially yours,

Under the direction of President Rick Todt, the Class of 1969 managed to pass the half-way point in their Ursinus careers. After sponsoring the Junior Prom in January and Campus Chest hot dogs and sodas in April, the class finds itself looking back on three years of Ursinus life and looking enviously forward to their own graduation next June.

Sophomore Class

Upon their fall return, sophomores, bequeathing inferiority complexes, red gym shorts, and the west entrance of Wismer Hall to incoming freshmen, accepted the challenge of English Lit and Levie, undertook a new attitude toward social life, and bravely faced the darkening syndromes of sophomore slump. In order to assuage this disease, sophomores took advantage of nearby Spring Mountain for skiing and New York City.

All for one; one for all! After a successful orientation program, the Class of 1971 soon became active in Ursinus campus activity. Their enthusiasm was displayed by the Parent's Day step show and the traditional march onto the field. Homecoming was celebrated with a ten-foot paper megaphone float, spirit hats and a 100 foot spirit scroll urging an Ursinus victory the length of the field.

The Thanksgiving mixer and the Paisley hat hop both proved to be successful in providing a pleasant weekend activity on campus.

February tenth marked the opening of "The Third Kingdom," an on-campus psychedelic night spot. Through the efforts of volunteer workers under the leadership of Stu Sweet, class president, "The Third Kingdom" provided the students with a unique experience.

The work of the Central Coordinating Committee starts in the spring, before freshmen arrive on campus. The committee's project entails choosing women and men to help carry out the program and selecting an ambitious list of events to keep the freshmen active with the start of the fall semester.

The purpose of freshman orientation is to assist the freshmen in developing the correct attitude and respect towards the freedoms (?) of college life. Through the aid of the C.C.C., the Class of 1971 has achieved school spirit and class unity.

The newly formed USGA demonstrated its potential as a strong voice of student desires. A foundation was built during 1967-68 for the most important student organization in Ursinus' history. The Student-Faculty-Administrative Relations Committee accomplished a great deal in bringing the three branches of the Ursinus community together while eliminating problems of common interest. Ground work was established toward areas of future significance, and efforts are going to be directed toward Dialogue, and the raising of the Student Activities Fee in order to attract more entertainment and activities on the campus.

This year's "Y", under the leadership of Margie Atkinson and Dick Behenna, presented a variety of programs concerned with areas of current interest to all. Freshman Camp enabled those who attended to meet professors and upperclassmen in an informal atmosphere. During the year, speakers included a Conscientious Objector who spoke on draft resistance; Dr. Pezzi, a M.D. recently back from Viet Nam; and Tom Skinner, on the Negro in the ghetto. The program for the year was a success.

Lantern

The Weekly, under the guidance of one Herbert Smith, made students aware of current events on the campus by printing many diversified news items and many not so diversified editorials. Many students took advantage of the "Letters to the Editor" to voice their own opinion, and consequently, created controversy among students and faculty alike.

As the campus literary publication, the Lantern attracts the creative elements of the Ursinus population and reveals them all in its fall and spring issues.

Arousing campus political opinion and interest through its issues, Focus' staff and contributors presented many varied views on national and international politics. Of particular interest to the staff in the spring were the activities of hopeful presidential candidates in their campaigns during the state primaries.

This year thirteen members of the Class of 1968 were named Chapter Scholars. The Chapter, organized by a group of Ursinus faculty holding Phi Beta Kappa keys, recognizes those members of the Senior Class who have attained high intellectual achievement.

The Stuics is a group of Junior and Senior men who, by means of regular meetings, try to improve student-faculty relations. It is interesting to note that the name Stuics represents "The Society to Transform Ursinus Into a College."

The Cub and Key is the honorary men's scholastic society. Its members, announced annually at the Senior Ball, are chosen from the Junior men with high averages who are active in extracurricular activities and have made a contribution to the college.

Each year at the Lorelei, Junior women await announcement of the new Whitians. The society is composed of those women who have shown outstanding scholarship, character, leadership and service. Each semester the Whitians hold a tea to honor women who have obtained a high average the preceding semester.

Economics Club

The Economics Club of Ursinus College exists to supplement the classroom activities by providing programs which enlighten students concerning careers and present-day business conditions. This year the main function was to sponsor and organize, in cooperation with the Placement Office, a two-day program designed to introduce students to the offerings of the business world. Representatives from all fields of business and governmental agencies attended these Career Conferences to make them one of the most successful and worthwhile events on campus.

The English Club usually meets at the home of Dr. Yost in an atmosphere of congenial discussion often not found in the classroom. With slide trips through the British countryside and general talks on all areas of literature, the Club members find a pleasant extension of their study.

Gamma Chapter of Pi Nu Epsilon, the national honorary music fraternity, tries to promote musical activities and organizations on the Ursinus campus. Two hootenannies, a reception for Dr. William F. Philip on his 30th Messiah Concert, the annual Inter-Fraternity and Inter-Sorority Song Fest, and the hosting of the National Convention of Pi Nu Epsilon highlighted this year's activities. Membership in the fraternity is determined by participation and leadership in musical organizations and academic average.

Sigma Xi is the national honorary fraternity for scholars of the sciences. The newly elected members are R. Tietjen, J. Kravitz, M. Fleishman, R. Niemeyer, C. Frost, R. Landis, R. Clouser, T. Lapsa, W. Frick, R. Holliday, C. Meredith.

Cheerleaders

The Cheerleaders and the Spirit Committee have seen the most support and enthusiasm that Ursinus has produced in years. Candee Clunan, as wacky Zacki the Bear, entertained young and old alike with her side-line antics; Pam Sell and her committee of decorators could be seen hanging from the goal posts along with their crepe paper streamers. Our winning basketball team was supported by the deafening beating of beer mugs, cans, pots, pans, and lids—but it was music to the ears of both the team and the cheerleaders. Thank you, Student Body.

For many years, the majorettes and the color guard have been an integral part of all Ursinus football games. Their colorful costumes enliven the half time shows. This year's majorettes, led by Kay Bergstresser, initiated many new twirling routines and dancing steps. Under the direction of Ellie Hyatt, the color guard performed precision drills and salutes.

The Ursinus Band presents itself on campus as a marching band in the Fall and as a concert band in the Spring. Directed by Mr. Thomas R. Middleton, the Band also this year played a joint concert with the Drexel Varsity Wind Ensemble of Philadelphia.

Alpha Psi Omega

With hard work and determination the Curtain Club fought the odds of Ursinus staging to present an excellent playbill for the 1967-68 season beginning in December with The Visit and culminating in The Matchmaker to make a "Wilder" spring than ever.

Throughout the year the campus saw guest production by professional and amateur groups, six one-act plays, some of which were by Ursinus playwrights, and the very difficult Luther performed three times in the Bomberger "Theatre".

A totally new concept was introduced when the club sponsored contests for set and costume designs for The Matchmaker, which further involved the campus in our constantly improving drama program.

To retain active member in the Women's Athletic Association, women must earn a certain number of points through participation in campus sports. The WAA sponsors intramural programs of volleyball and ping pong and naturally attracts its greatest turnout when, in the spring, it holds its annual steak and awards banquet.

Despite a general lack of interest in partisan politics this year, the Young Republicans and Democrats gave Ursinus students an opportunity to speculate and support prospective party candidates for November '68. For the YR this meant conventions in Lebanon and Norristown during the school year. Collegiate Young Democrats, likewise, participated in an organizing effort for McCarthy. Under the auspices of Time, both groups pooled their manpower to conduct a mock primary, Choice '68, on campus in April.

Hopefully, the spring will bring renewed success to the Agency's attempt to supply U.C. with outside professional entertainment.

The Mathematics Club presents a varied program of interest to all students regardless of their major field. With attendance swelled by the promise of bonus quiz points by a certain professor, interesting programs were planned by Skeeter Kapp. Featured in the schedule were outside speakers on current topics, informal gatherings with Dr. Lewis' dogs and a game night to test the laws of probability.

The Pennsylvania State Education Association is the campus organization for students who plan to enter the field of teaching. The members, by attending meetings, have an opportunity to learn about and discuss new trends in education.

The test tube kids did it again this year. Beardwood Chem had more of those speakers whose topics are Greek to the rest of the campus. They even had steak while we had beef cubes. President Eileen Toth did a fine job of organizing the programs—not to mention the picnic in October—and next year looks to be just as fine a chemical season.

Under the leadership of Dr.-to-be Rón Tietjen, the Brownback-Anders Pre-Med Society presented programs that delved into aspects of biology and medicine more specialized than those found in everyday classes. These links with the outside professional world will help students uncover new interests and information helpful to their own future careers.

This was the first full year of activity for the Ursinus chapter of Psi Chi, the national honor society in psychology. The officers, who were advised by Dr. Ridge, were Bronwen Umberger, president; John Corbin, vice-president and Betsy Miller, secretary-treasurer. The group held fall and spring initiation ceremonies, complete with dinners and guest speakers.

Moved from Derr basement to more spacious Bomberger, WRUC, the Ursinus radio station, has provided another year of varied and more sophisticated entertainment and service to the campus.

The siren goes off and the cross-campus sprint begins as the Ursinus members of Collegeville Fire Company No. 1 dash to the firehouse on Fifth Avenue. Not content to wonder where the fire is, these students joined the Company and are now an even more integral part of their temporary community.

A desire for waters beyond the Perk rallied captains and their crews to institute Ursinus' first sailing club. With increasing interest, they look forward to bigger and better things to come.

Under the leadership of Mr. Vannucchi, the debating club ventured forth from the protective shell of Collegeville to meet their smooth speaking competitors. This closely knit group traveled north and south to represent Ursinus College in a very creditable fashion.

The football team, captained by Rich DiEugenio, although not as successful as early reports had indicated, still performed with great team effort, a lot of spirit, and hard-nosed hitting. The highlight of the season was a 14-0 upset victory over a powerful Dickinson team. Stand-outs for the Bears in the '67 season were Joe Corvaia—MVP; Ed Fischer—first team all MAC; John Toutellote—outstanding freshman; and Rich DiEugenio—Senior Award.

The soccer team this year benefited greatly by the appearance of some new faces and the return of the "old ones." They defeated La Salle, Villanova, and Eastern Baptist. There were many tough losses and injuries, but, nevertheless, the team had spirit. Next year, with most team members returning, could be the year for soccer at Ursinus. The team has the potential and enthusiasm needed for a good season.

Soccer

Hockey

Field Hockey. These words mean many things to many people. At Ursinus, field hockey means quality on the field, a hard-fought victory, and, most of all, teamwork. Without this last magic ingredient you don't have an Ursinus hockey team.

This year's team made no effort to break the tradition of victory set forth in previous years. The team enjoyed its fifth undefeated season in the past six years. Pride in the team is a major factor in this record.

The team got off to a rather slow start against Penn and Wilson, with the Wilson game being won on a penalty goal by Captain Joan Moser. They then began to gather momentum and rolled over their next three opponents—Gettysburg, Glassboro, and East Stroudsburg. After defeating Temple, the stage was set for the final game of the season against West Chester. After sixty minutes of hockey, the score stood at 0-0. There were close calls for both teams, but no one seemed able to score that one golden goal. It was anybody's game to win.

In post-season play Ursinus sent four girls—Joan Moser, Sandy Wood, Gwen Steigelman, and Kim Brown—to the national tournament held in Baltimore, Maryland. As a result of the tournament, Joan was selected for the All-American Reserve Team of 1968.

The team will lose only three players this year—Joan, Josi, and Mackie—and is looking forward to carrying on the tradition of victory.

CAPTAIN JOAN MOSER

The J.V. Hockey team, under the coaching of Miss Adele Boyd, had a sparkling undefeated season. The key to their success was team work. The only game they did not win was with Beaver which ended 0-0. The crowning accomplishment of the season was their 1-0 victory over arch rivals West Chester.

The combination of Miss Adele Boyd as coach, Captain Joanne McNeer, experienced upperclassmen, energetic freshmen, and hard practices led to a very successful season for the badminton team. Finishing with a 6-1 record, the varsity lost only to Penn, while the J. V.'s came through with a perfect 8-0 season.

Despite the lack of facilities, the Ursinus girls' swimming team has managed to maintain a very successful record. This year the team was coached by Mr. Hepner F. Van Horn, under whose leadership the girls attained a record of four wins and four losses. The varsity was led by Captain Linda Van Horn. Harriet Metzgar led the diving, accompanied by freshman Ellen Soefer. While the J.V. team did not have a winning season, the girls did provide able depth to the Ursinus swimming team.

The year 1967 was the year of the Ursinus cross-country team. With hardly any fanfare, our hard working "Jets" captured the praise and admiration of all who watched them as they won victory after victory. Under the expert guidance of Coach Ray Gurzynski, the Ursinus team had an undefeated season (13-0) topped off with a near miss—second place—at the MAC championship. Combining amazing talent, youth, desire, and just plain guts, the "Jets" ran away with every meet. And as any member of the team will say, "You haven't seen anything yet!" Watch out for another great season next year.

This year was Coach Warren Fry's best season ever at Ursinus. With team determination and skill and the long-awaited advent of greater school spirit represented by the fraternity percussion bands, the Bears rose to second place in the Southern Division of the Middle Atlantic Conference.

In the league play-offs at Muhlenberg, the Ursinus Five broke a long-term jinx by defeating Drexel for the first time since 1951. While individual honors came to Ursinus players, high scorer, Bob Compton, was chosen for the All-MAC first team and co-captain Ed Schaal was honored as Ursinus' Unsung Hero.

This year was not begun as a building year but shortly after the season began it became apparent that this would be the trend. Following a good opening meet against Delaware, the team lost the services of Captain Eric Ruoss, junior letterman Mills Eure, and Sophomore letterman George Eure. These three top spots were filled by competent but inexperienced freshmen.

The highlight of the season was the second place finish in the MAC tournament by junior Jim Hoffmaster. Jim fought his way through five bouts in two days to secure the position. He will certainly be an asset to the team next season.

Varsity Basketball

The Ursinus tradition of winning went the way of all Ursinus traditions this year for the women's basketball team. The team came out of the season with a 5-4 record. They lost twice to East Stroudsburg and twice to West Chester.

Both East Stroudsburg games were lost in the last quarter of play. In both games Ursinus had the lead only to lose in the long run. Ursinus was no match for West Chester.

Leading the team were Co-captains Joan Moser and Linda McIntyre.

As usual the softball team had a winning season with a big win over Trenton State for a finale. The overall team record was four wins and two losses (both at the hands of West Chester). Graduating this year are Linda McIntyre, Josi Short and Captain Joan Moser.

Although the lacrosse team had a winning record, as Ursinus seasons go, it was below par with 4-2-2 log and a loss and a tie to West Chester. The heart-breaker of the season was the first game with West Chester. With a one goal lead and ten seconds to go, Ursinus' defenses failed and West Chester tied the game. The junior varsity squad also had a winning season with five wins and two losses. Missing on the field next year will be senior co-captains Joan Moser and Linda McIntyre and senior Josie Short.

The year 1968 will be remembered as an undefeated season for a young, but outstanding track team—ten wins and no losses. The 440 relay team set a new school record of 42.9 with Bryant Heisinger as anchor man. John Tourtellotte was the MAC champion pole vaulter. The one mile relay team of Brian Souerwine, Dave Whipp, Art Elwood, and Bryant Heisinger won a gold medal in the championships. When the results of the MAC Championship were announced, the Ursinus Trackmen won 19 MAC medals, scored 41 points, and were third in the team scoring.

Since most of the members are freshmen and sophomores, the team has built a foundation this year and will most certainly attain the pinnacle of excellence in form, endurance, and perseverance by their senior year.

Sparked by six returning lettermen, the baseball team swept to four victories in its first six games. Then disaster struck as the Bears dropped ten of their last twelve contests and finished with a 6-12 overall record and a 6-9 record in the MAC.

Individual standouts included captain and second baseman Fritz Light (who hit .370 and was elected the team's Most Valuable Player), third baseman Steve Custer (the club leaders in slugging percentage and RBI's), centerfielder Vic Tacconelli (a .320 hitter), and outfielder-pitcher George Taylor. Outfielder Barry Dickey was hitting well over .400 when sidelined near mid-season with illness.

With Light and Dickey the only graduating lettermen, the prospects for next year seem very good.

The 1968 Men's Varsity Tennis Team surprised both opponents and skeptics by producing the best season ever in well over a decade. This winning season was primarily the result of the great desire by entire team to improve and to win. Senior captain Ron Tietjen, at number one singles and doubles, performed admirably throughout the year, and Milt Jenkinson, Bob Magel, Rick Gibbons, Dave Jacob and Ed Lodge were all vital elements in the fine record of Dr. Howard's team.

If the unity, skill, and desire exhibited by the netmen continues next year, Ursinus could prove to be a MAC contender.

Mud or dust courts today? No matter what the weather, the women's tennis team persisted. A 4-4 record and a thrilling victory over Swarthmore were the results. Despite twisted ankles and misplaced persons, all girls were present and healthy and accounted for at the end of the season. Among the promising players for the future is freshman Mary Ellen Tomasco. Senior captain Jean Bonkoski will leave the only vacancy. Prospects are encouraging.
