URSINUS

The progressive attitude of Ursinus is evidenced by the very diversity of its architecture. The contrast of the old and the new reveals that it is an institution anxious to grow with each new generation.

*U*rsinus is an institution where everyone has the opportunity for study and stimulation outside the classroom. But it is the invaluable contact between persons that makes Ursinus a truly educational institution.

*U*rsinus students come from every environment to play their individual roles in the Ursinus community. It is a liberal community in which students can learn together, worship together, and relax together.

Dedication

Ursinus College ninety years ago
Was founded; we, the ones who've known and loved
The campus for the so-short four years time,
We are not able to appreciate
What ninety years of influence can mean.
We do not know of all the people who
Have lived and learned here; and we cannot know
The total debt Society may owe —
A debt formed from the scholars, scientists,
The leaders, and just human beings — for
Some ninety years of them were graduated.
(A great, great debt — but we can only guess.)
Thus, taken in a view of ninety years,
Our four seems very small; and yet we know
What this small four has meant to each of us;
And further, (though we have no real perspective)
It isn't hard to think that here perhaps
A moment as important as our birth occurred,
A birth, in fact, that goes by other names:
Learning to think, learning to live and love.
"We are the sum of our experiences."
If this be true then we are very good.
And all of those events of campus life
Which total our experience — we print.

So to the dedication, can we now
Restrict our thanks to any thing or one?
Life is a process of regeneration:
Each year a freshman class appears which will
In time be but a heritage to others,
As happened to our fathers and to us,
A ninety year tradition — and we now
Are part of it, and more. We dedicate
This yearbook to the ones who've loved our college:
The students, teachers, workers, who are part
Of what we are — to them, and to ourselves,
And those who'll see it on some dusty shelves.

ACADEMIC LIFE

The Faculty procession in Bomberger chapel on Founder's Day.

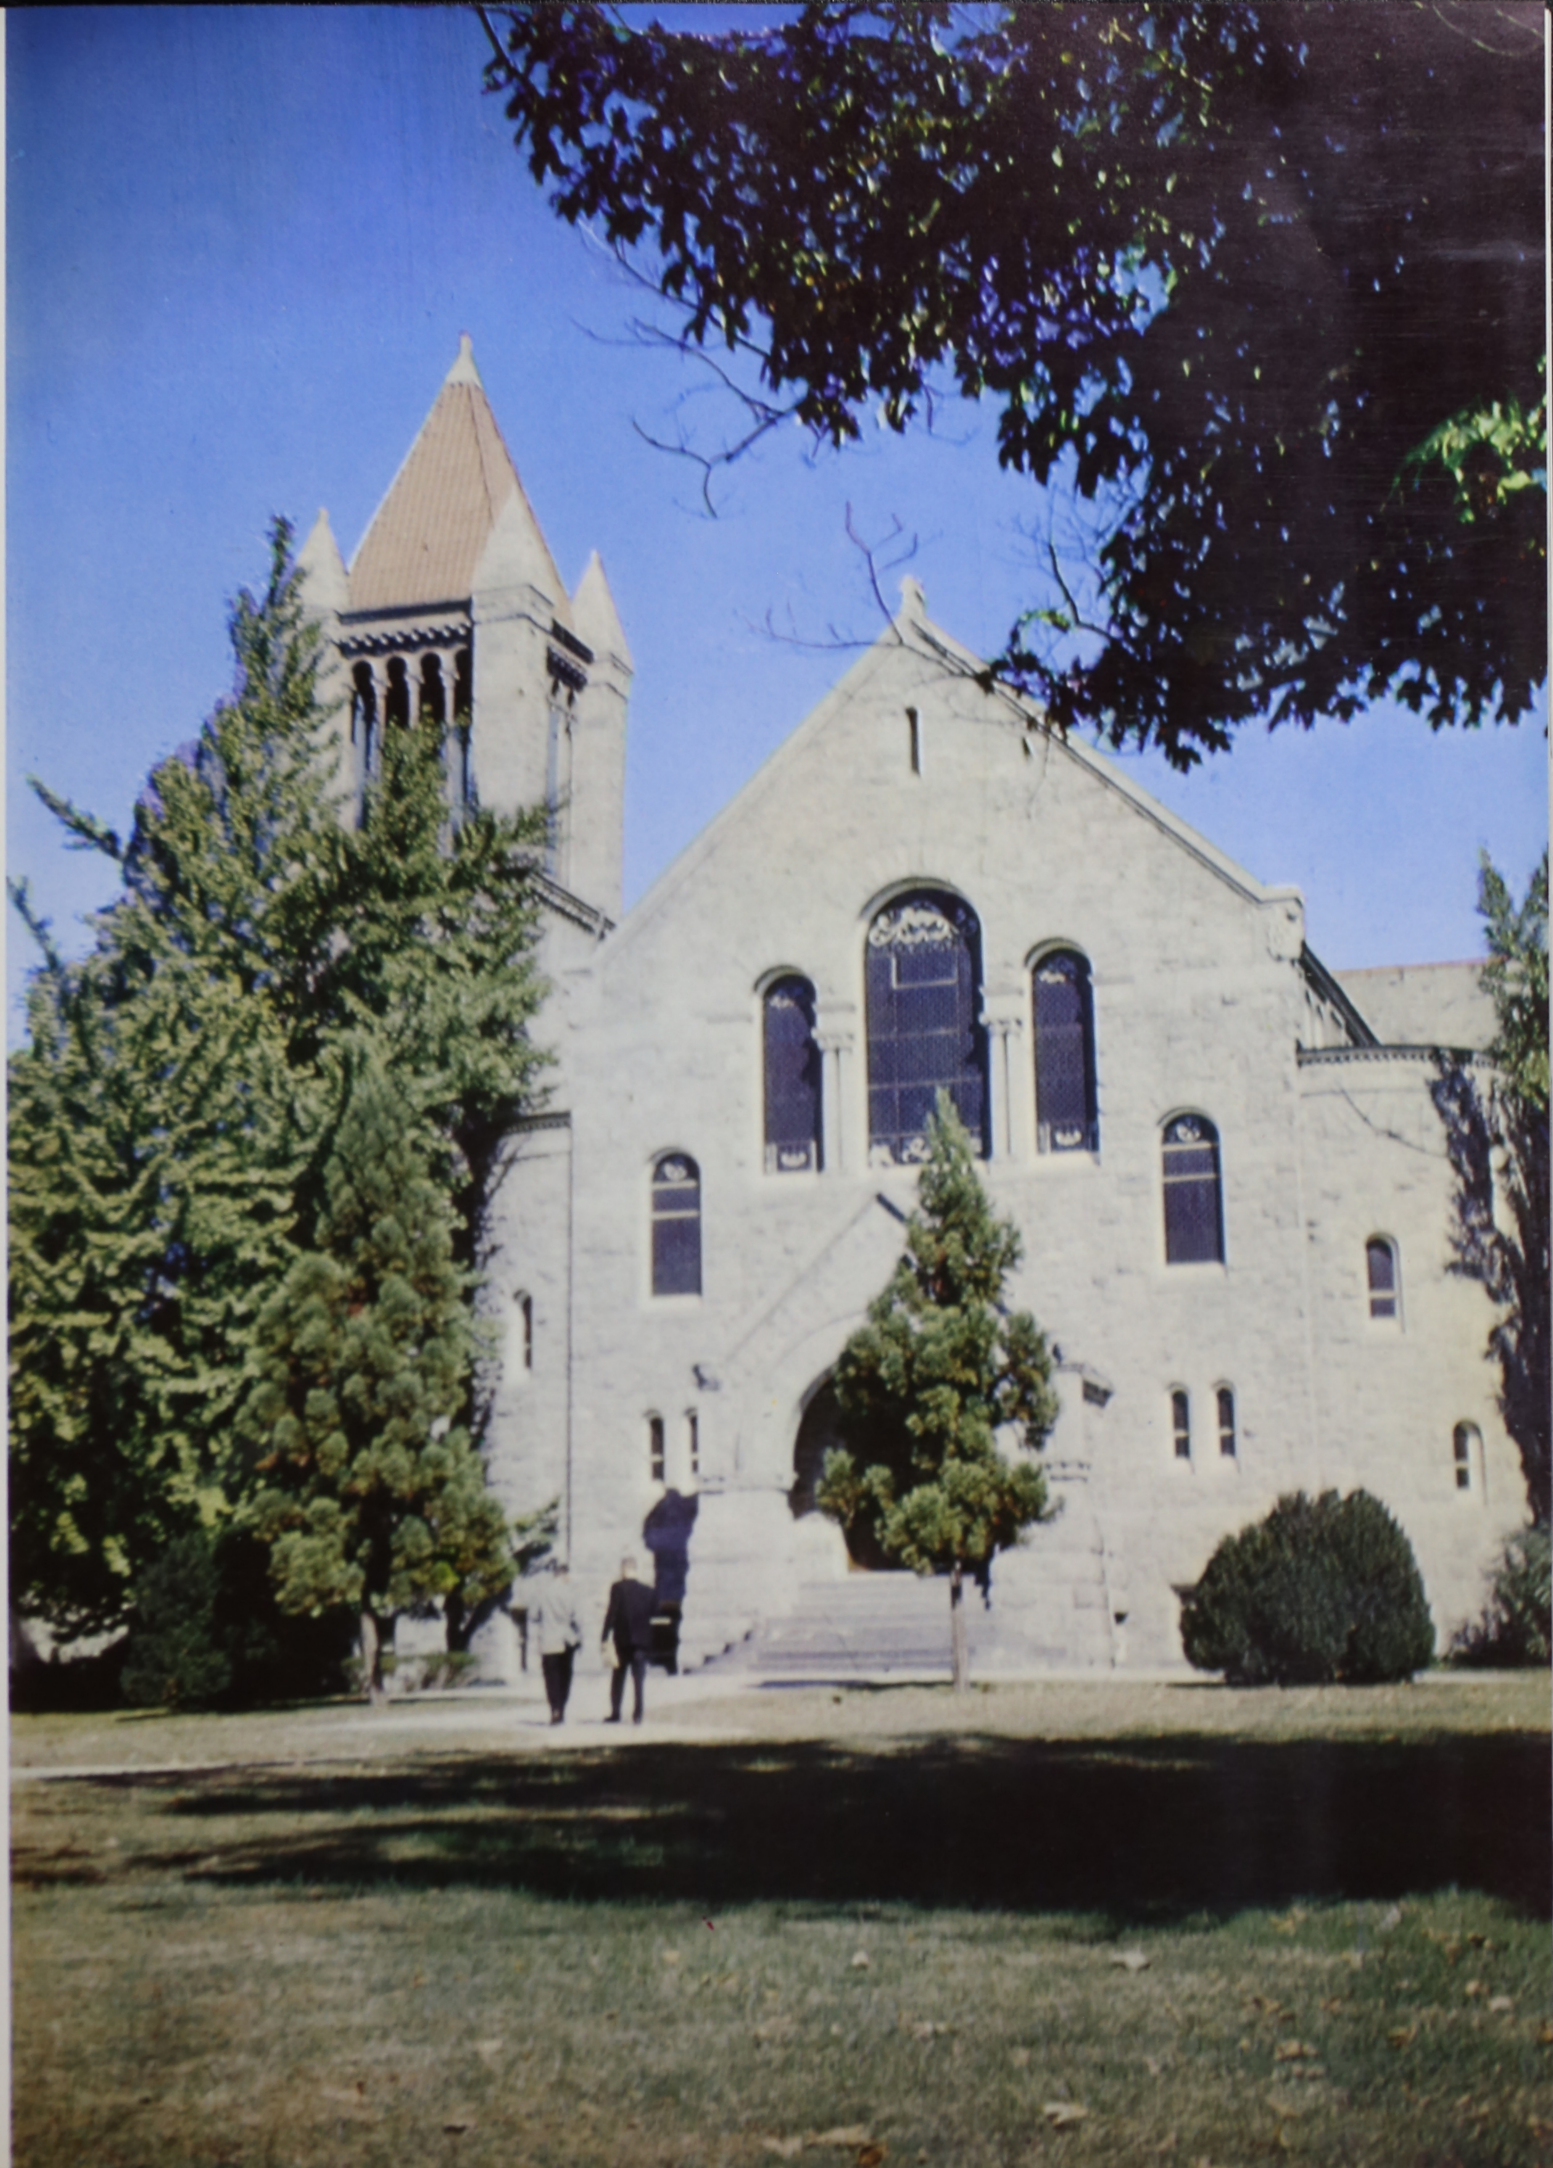

Ursinus is a community, and its main purpose is education. Education is a word which connotes a dull transference of facts from teachers to students. But Ursinus is a community, and the best aspects of community life are found in exchange and cooperation. Students come to Ursinus to learn. But the faculty members are aware that the students can also teach. The only way to keep a college out of the dry academic rut is to preserve a close association between students and faculty. Ursinus manages to do just this. Let us never forget that the sum of four years of education at Ursinus is no miracle. It is the result of a close community harmony which encourages thought in addition to, though not to the exclusion of, academic work. This harmony would be impossible if it were not the will of students and professors.

Informality is a pleasurable element in the relationship of a professor to his class.

The President

Dr. Donald L. Helfferich, H.B., L.L.B., L.L.D.

Dr. Donald Lawrence Helfferich, H.B., L.L.B., L.L.D., the eighth president in the ninety-year history of the college is a graduate of Ursinus College and Yale Law school. Dr. Helfferich served as Ursinus' vice-president from 1936 to 1958, when he became president.

"The president of the college shall be the administrative and executive head of the college, and shall have the direction of the instruction and discipline of the college. He shall be the usual medium of communication between the Faculty and the Board of Directors.

"The president of the college shall preside at public exercises and shall announce and confer degrees authorized by the Board of Directors.

"The president of the college shall preside at the meetings of the Faculty and shall have the power to call a meeting thereof whenever he may deem it necessary to do so.

"The president of the college, with the approval of the Committee on Government and Instructions, shall determine the appropriate duties of all members of the Faculty. With the approval of the Committee on Government and Instruction, he shall nominate to the Faculty all professors, associate professors, and assistant professors, before presenting these nominations to the Board of Directors, and shall nominate all other members of the Faculty.

"The president of the college shall make a report on the work and the needs of the college at every regular meeting of the Board of Directors. His annual report shall be presented at the fall meeting."

These duties of the president are enumerated in the Constitution and Charter of Ursinus College. Dr. Helfferich performs them efficiently and maintains a harmony among the various divisions of the college. More important, however, are the tasks of the president with regard to the liberal education of each student.

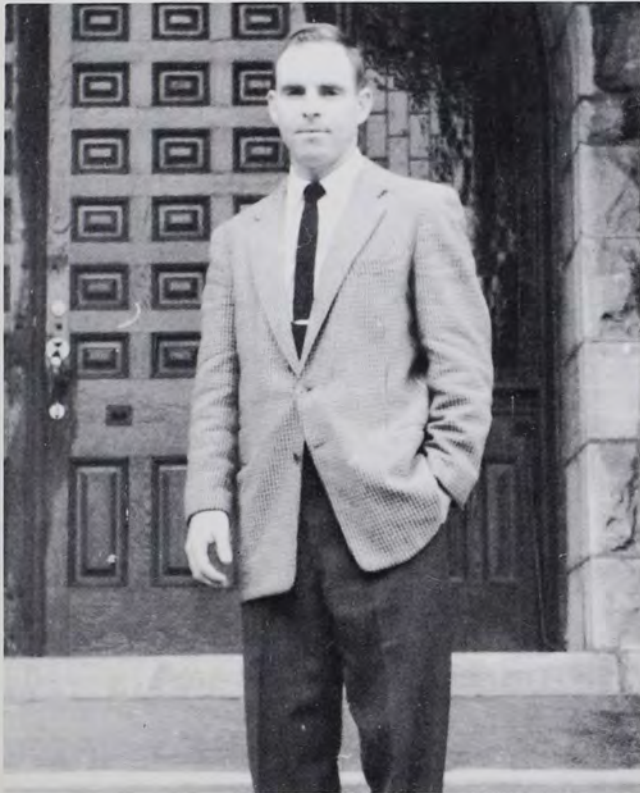

Founder's Day Ceremonies.

According to a recent speech by Dr. Helfferich, the liberal education will instill in each student intellectual curiosity and will develop a capacity to think critically and to weigh dispassionately. Ursinus is a college of the liberal arts. Liberal education is not precise; it is not like a right triangle or a four-minute egg. It requires each student, whatever his field of specialization, to study those subjects that are the core of our cultural heritage.

Dr. Helfferich explains to what purposes he will devote his energies in the future. He says, "There is no difficulty in seeing my course for the future. I have seen enough of the past to recognize the path. Ursinus College of the future must be built on the old foundations. The pervading influence must be Christian. The objectives must be to continue to produce men and women who are intellectually superior, men and women who will strive for excellence in their homes and in the business and social circles in which they move."

The Deans

Richard J. Whatley, M.S.

Miss Ruth H. Rothenberger, B.S.

William S. Pettit, M.S.

Dean of the College

For decades there has been an unstated feeling of harmony among students, faculty, and administration throughout the Ursinus community. William S. Pettit, M.S., Professor of Organic Chemistry, and Dean of the College, in addition to his ably performed task as chief student advisor and coordinator of academic policies, has been indispensable to the maintenance of this harmony.

Dean of Men

Richard J. Whatley, M.S., joined the Ursinus faculty in the threefold capacity of Dean of Men, football coach, and physical education instructor. Faced with the difficulties of these positions, this University of Maine alumnus has proved himself capable and responsible. The value of Dean Whatley's experience on several eastern colleges' coaching staffs has been demonstrated by his enthusiastic and effective participation in all college activities during his first year here.

Dean of Women

In upholding the dignity of her office, the Dean of Women, Ruth H. Rothenberger, exhibits an attitude of authority tempered with understanding and practicality; in addition she possesses a friendly, helpful spirit. Impressed by the students' seriousness, she hopes to help them become concerned with the art of living and of contributing positively to society. Dean Rothenberger, an Ursinus graduate, has certainly had a successful first year in this capacity.

 An aura imposing and traditional:
 Romanesque architecture, a bell-less tower,
 And a former Ursinus President;
 Roughly hewed stones shaded by gingkoes
 And the Chapel raised by number 63;
 Within the walls, ideas;
 This, the setting for teaching the Humanities.

The passing of this loved professor has deprived the Ursinus community of a vital and dynamic friend. The spirit of his humor, the stimulus of his intellect, and the depth of his personage enlightened both the minds and hearts of those whose lives he touched. Ursinus pays her tribute to him in that he give her so much to remember.

Progress

In the dormitories, in the offices, in all parts of Ursinus there are those who unflinchingly see to it that harmony pervades the college atmosphere. The school machinery runs smoothly and all phases of activity are coordinated because of these people who perform their tasks efficiently and devotedly. In his respective area, each person works not in direct contact with the students but quietly behind the scenes.

At first glance it may appear that the student body is not concerned with these specialized jobs; however, such is not the case. When the same students need assistance quickly, they turn to the specialists, who help everyone smilingly and competently.

Introduced to Ursinus via a vigorous customs program, we successfully installed our class officers at our banquet in Freeland Hall. Under the direction of President Steve Wurster, the class of 1963 planned a strenuous schedule of activities and class functions.

The first event for the class as a unit was the Variety Show, whose entertainment proved that we are a talented group of students. The Christmas Banquet, the next organized affair, involved only the women of the class. After the Christmas recess we held our first dance; advertised by patches of colored paper worn by each freshman, it was really "Unique"! Our spring dance, presented at the end of March was an equal success.

With everyone's cooperation and assistance we have made a good beginning at Ursinus. We certainly have spent an exciting and rewarding freshman year and hope to continue working together with the spirit of a unified class.

Sophomores

This fall all eyes were focused on the Class of 1962 as the upper classmen wondered whether the revised customs program had been successful. To everyone's surprise we experiments became capable sophomores, and led by scowling "Grand, Gay, Gracious, Glamorous Gayle" and hard, but cool, Mr. Bosniak, Sir, we improved customs. Unfortunately, however, we "allowed" our presidents to be captured and paraded before the freshmen at their banquet.

We daringly held our first class dance on Friday the thirteenth. "Bewitched" beckoned many unsuspecting couples to dance beneath hex signs, black cats, and ladders.

With Cal Griffin at the helm we sophs sailed through "sophomore slump". The success of our second dance in March gave us more steam, and we continued to navigate around hourlies, spring fever, and finals. At the approaching end of being a Sophomore Class, we set ashore for repairs but continued to look ahead to being upperclassmen.

Juniors

In retrospect, our years at Ursinus have proven to be dynamic. Three years of hard work and imagination have shown the Class of 1961 both prolific with ideas and ever ready for a good time. Our freshman year began with the inevitable — customs! After recovering from this initial shock, the class quickly oriented itself to the position of lowly frosh and began functioning as a unit. Our first two dances, Beneath the Sea and Bermuda Bound, were the highlights of the class's incipience at U.C.

As sophomores, we presented two unique dances, The Fowl Ball and Cafe Boheme, the latter featuring the "lovely" Sextet '61. Showing great spirit and determination, the girls displayed a Forest Fantasy at the Christmas Banquet and came away with first prize. Mr. Heckler, Sir, and sensational, sententious Sandy helped the faculty initiate the new customs program for the Class of '62.

The class embarked upon this year with great enthusiasm. First on the agenda was The Tender Trap, a turn-about complete with a mousetrap, fishing rods, and, of course, the jugband. Again involved in the custom fracas, the junior men safely guided the freshmen officers and "guest" to their banquet. The annual junior prom high lighted and successfully ended our social season for another year, leaving us with big plans for the future.

Seniors

"Suddenly, it's 1960", . . . a phrase used in 1956 by an automobile manufacturer in describing his product, called up a dim, misty concept of a year in the future. To the Freshman Class at Ursinus College, 1960 was part of a far-off future. Our most vivid image of the next four years was productive of nothing more tangible than indefinable horizons, stretching far into the distance.

And then began the whirl; dinks and customs meetings, dorm escapades and Homecoming decorations, history lectures and "bio" labs. By November, thanks to the successful workings of the traditional customs program, our class had become an integrated, working unit. We elected John Forrest president and, with bright hopes and unquenchable optimism, embarked on our Ursinus career.

One of the contributions we made, as Freshmen, was to provide publicity for the activities and projects of various campus groups through our Booster Committee. Presenting our first dance, "Showboat", we were hosts on an excursion through the deep South; and later, our "Golden Nugget" brought the West of the '49'ers to the T. G. Gym. How industriously we worked with decorations, trying to effect just the "right" atmosphere to carry out our theme.

With John still guiding our organization, we launched our "Soph Rules" program. "Serene, sagacious sophisticated Sandy" and "Mr. Gest, sir" commanded respect and used their authority to help the Class of '61 achieve unity. In step with the latest TV ratings, our "Soph Hop" depicted "Roland's Rendezvous".

As we entered our Junior year we were more settled, ready for the increasing demands of responsibility. We planned a big game hunt and were off to an aggressive start with our first turnabout, "The Snare". With the coming of spring, we prepared for our glittering, gala evening at Sunnybrook, where, amid Japanese cherry blossoms, we presented "Sho Shun", our Junior Prom. Our prom queen, Helen Pearson, tapped the men of our class chosen for membership in the Cub and Key society. That same semester, ten women of our class became members of the Whitians.

In the fall of 1959, under the leadership of our Senior class officers, President John Forrest, Vice President Jon Myers, Secretary Helen Pearson, and Treasurer Bruce Drobnyk, we assumed the diversified and complex responsibilities which are an integral part of Senior life. Enjoying the typical college activities for the last time, we suddenly realized that our college experience was slipping away — that phase of our life which we would experience again only in memory. Yet, a part of us was compelled to look ahead, to plan our future beyond the gates of Ursinus.

We were well prepared for the business at hand with our yearbook editors, Bev Kallenbach and Lin Drummond, working with their staff to form another Ruby record of activities at Ursinus. Our first outstanding activity of the year was the preparation of our Senior Ball, "Champagne for Two". It was a memorable night, starring the Senior Class. The members of the class chose to commend Lin Drummond and Loretta Podolak for their many unselfish contributions of time and energy toward class projects, naming them Lord and Lady of the Ball. John Forrest, Lin Drummond, Helen Pearson and Joseph Lutz were honored at the Ball as the permanent officers of the Class of 1960. Our final presentation at Ursinus was our Senior Show. Under the direction of Phil Rowe and Judy Sanders, the class staged a comedy variety show called "Old Spice".

Came the spring semester, and with it the nostalgic, fading impressions of our experiences at Ursinus; the dogwood in the spring — perhaps a class outside, the colorful autumn panorama as seen by a cheering grandstand crowd, the dark silhouettes of a twilight landscape, enjoyed when returning to the dorm from the library or a lab at five o'clock. Yes, we will take a part of Ursinus with us as we leave, for . . . "Suddenly, it's 1960".

COLLEGE LIFE

The highlight of the Christmas season at Ursinus is the annual inspiring presentation of Handel's Messiah.

The campus is the very center of our lives. And here we do everything. There is something happening all the time: dances are organized, debates are held, plays are produced. Campus activities are undertaken by over fifty organizations. In between, the students move around, now lazily, now excitedly.

Each student has a share in campus life, and its reason for being is each student. We know this, that without us there is no campus or even college. But the campus is an independent thing as well. Somehow it has a being all its own. All organizations center on the campus. The life of our community depends upon it.

Four faculty members line up at the starting line in a spirited bicycle race in order to raise money for the Campus Chest drive.

Features

What college memory could be complete without the big evening, the big day. At Ursinus such memories are numerous because such occasions are numerous. Homecoming day, the prom, May Day, all push in upon us with such numbers of delightful rememberings that it seems only a card index could ever file properly and properly recall. But each event is unique and we find to our surprise that after nearly four years filled with big days we have no difficulty after all in remembering them. "That was the night I" — "do you remember how funny" — and "and it just poured." This calling forth of phantom times, embroidering upon them, is more suited to the twentieth reunion than to now. And seeing how quickly it comes to even us, we can only acknowledge the fact and still stoutly reply "it was fun."

Old Timer's Day

Old Timer's Day dawned raining, thus postponing many of the day's activities to the following week. However, many alumni braved the foul weather to attend sorority luncheons and fraternity dinners and parties. In the latter part of the morning the alumni were defeated in their annual game against the present U. C. soccer team. That afternoon the Bears' football team defeated Haverford. This victory meant that the student body and the faculty would have no classes on the following Monday. The Varsity Club Dance in the T. G. gym brought to a close the second successive wet Homecoming Day.

On the following Saturday, which was warm and sunny, the off campus girls' dormitories arranged their decorations. The trophy for the best idea went to Shreiner Hall, whose theme was "Halt Haverford" and included a policeman whose mechanical arm warned the Haverford car to stop. During the half-time of the football game with Kings Point, the fraternity queens were presented on the field and all the spectators voted for their choice. That night at Alpha Phi Epsilon's party Helen Pearson, fraternity queen of Zeta Chi, was crowned Homecoming Queen.

Christmas at Ursinus

Christmas has a very special meaning for anyone who has ever attended Ursinus College. No former student is able to hear Luke 2:14 or Isaiah 53:5 read without his mind immediately being filled with thoughts of Messiah rehearsals.

Equally difficult to forget would be the Christmas Carols donated by the boys of Derr Hall to the dinner crowded or how discreetly the mistletoe is hidden among the reception room decorations of the girls' dormitories. The strain of mid-semester, coupled with the prospect of Christmas Vacation, adds an almost feverish excitement to the activities of Christmas week. What a marvelous feeling it is, after the banquet tables are decorated, to relax and enjoy the warm fellowship of the candlelit banquet, the Christmas dance, and the dorm parties.

The Senior Ball

The Senior Class was host for "Champagne for Two" on December 4, 1959 at Sunnybrook Ballroom. The responsibilities of being host were carefully fulfilled by four committees directed by artist Sally Leshner, musician Ron Tempest, publicity chairman Loretta Podolack, and salesmen Arlene Rittweiler and Laverne Joseph. The decoration theme centered on a top hat and gloves purposely left near two champagne glasses.

Lord Lin Drummond and Lady Loretta Podolack enjoyed their deserved royalty while everyone danced to the familiar music of Matt Gilespeie and his orchestra.

The announced election of John Forrest, Helen Pearson, Joseph Lutz, and Lin Drummond as permanent class officers brightened the festive evening for host and guests.

Lorelei

On Friday evening, February 12, at Sunnybrook Ballroom, the combined student governments presented the annual Lorelei Dance. As is the tradition, the Ursinus women escorted the gentlemen for the evening and adorned them with original corsages. Elected by the women, Bob Turnbull was crowned King of the Lorelei by Mrs. Helfferich. The Whitians, the women's honor society, announced the names of the six junior women who were honored as the new members for 1960. The theme of the dance was Valentine's Day and the couples danced amid hearts and cupids to the music of Jules Helyner and his orchestra.

The Junior Prom

The Juniors, featuring the music of Al Raymond, presented their prom on April 10, 1959, at Sunnybrook Ballroom. A twelve-foot pagoda in an oriental garden of cherry blossoms emphasized the theme "Sho Shun", a Japanese term meaning "Welcome to Spring".

A highlight of the evening was the crowning of the prom's queen, Helen Pearson. Escorted to the stage by President Helfferich, she was met by her court: Nancy Blickenderfer, Barbara Brecht, Jane Gilinger, and Gail Kleckner.

Four junior men were honored as new members of Cub and Key in a ceremony traditional to the prom. Lin Drummond, John Forrest, Robert Kreisinger, and Ronald Tempest were those recognized for leadership, character, service, and scholarship.

May Day 1959

In celebration of May Day and Mother's Day the women presented in the afternoon of May 9 their annual pageant. "Spring Comes to the Deeps" told the tale of a little girl, Kathy, who was rocked to sleep while peering through her glass bottom boat. She dreamt of fish, mermaids, pirates and people of many lands who once traveled in the now sunken ships. These creatures and people of the deep came to pay homage to their queen. The pageant ended with the traditional dance around the Maypole and the crowning of the queen, Jackie Robbins, by Kathy. This delightful pageant was composed, directed, and produced by Barbara Tucker.

Other events of the day were the gathering of wild flowers by the freshman women for their Big Sisters, the father-daughter softball game, open house in all of the dormitories, the buffet supper in front of Freeland Hall, and the band concert. As a climax to the day the Curtain Club presented their spring play, "Solid Gold Cadillac".

May Day 1960

May Day 1960 was celebrated as the "Tournament for Springtime", presented by the Ursinus women on May 7. The people of the English countryside had gathered in Collegevilleshire to receive poultry prizes, display archery skill, watch the antics of a trained bear, and prepare a feast, all in honor of the young noblewoman elected queen for the tournament. At her side were the other nobles' daughters who composed her court. The knights of the shire competed in a joust and the winner proudly crowned his Queen, Barbara Brecht. The traditional Maypole dance preceded the finale and exit of the countryfolk and their Queen. Spring had been officially welcomed in the shire.

Catherine Nicholai, author, and Marla Shilton, manager, were able to carry out the colorful and imaginative ideas of the pageant with the help of the committee chairmen and Junior assistants, an innovation this year.

A very pleasant day ended with the annual soft-ball game, the buffet supper, and the final presentation of the spring play, "Bell, Book, and Candle".

Fraternities and Sororities

Friendships form, they strengthen, and they continue long after sorority and fraternity members receive their diplomas. Our five local sororities and six local fraternities are social organizations which evoke much loyalty from their members. Assembling once a week for a business meeting, these groups continue their activities beyond the weekly meetings. Fraternity dances, and Easter and Christmas parties for orphans are examples of some of the undertakings of these closely knit organizations. Their overall objective is social and as is witnessed always on campus, they fulfill their function adequately. Showing their spirit throughout the entire year, they climax their activities by the dinner dances and IFC week-end in the spring. Never lacking closeness, the sororities and fraternities provide functions which yield pleasant memories for graduates.

Inter-Fraternity Council

The Inter-Fraternity Council made many accomplishments this year. The Council sponsored a picnic very early in the fall and one of their major projects was the revision of the constitution which proved to strengthen the governing body of the fraternities. To climax its social activities, the organization changed the I.F.C. Weekend, formerly sponsored by them alone, into a new and different Greek Weekend. Through the combined efforts of the I.F.C. and I.S.C. the students enjoyed a spectacular weekend.

The Inter-Sorority Council is composed of the president and vice president of each of the five sororities. As stated in its constitution, the council's purposes are to foster co-operation among the sororities, to establish rules for all sorority activities, and to settle disputes.

Under the leadership of its president, Mary Pennington, this year's council elected Barbara Brecht as vice-president, Helen Pearson as secretary-treasurer, and Loretta Podolak as disciplinarian. # Organizations

Ursinus students like all community members have a passion for forming and joining organizations. In these organizations participation in community life probably finds its most direct expression. Every student can find a group which interests him; there are organizations for scientists, art lovers, sports enthusiasts, Christians, politicians, even scholars. We learn cooperation in common interests. We learn the value of discovering when we have no common interests. In short, campus organizations are a valuable reflection in miniature of the various problems and advantages of coexistence.

What? "Y" presidents cutting campus! Presidents Loretta Witmer and Irv Moore.

Y membership is open to all students, and the program is flexible enough to meet varying student needs. The purpose of the YM-YWCA on campus is to make available to all students a Christian program which includes worship, study of problems in the light of Christian faith, and social action growing out of that faith. The Y carries out this purpose through four commission areas.

The Campus Affairs Commission is campus centered in its activity and attempts to meet the needs of the student for Christian fellowship, cultural expression, and recreation through the Community Concert Series, art discussions, student-faculty evenings, and reading nights.

The Intercollegiate Commission maintains social and intellectual contacts between the Ursinus student and students of other colleges by means of exchange programs, trips to International House, attendance at Student Conferences, and informal visits by foreign students.

The Student Worship Commission encourages student participation in activities such as Sunday evening vespers, student group visitations to neighboring churches, Sunday morning discussion classes, and Bible study classes.

The Social Responsibility Commission studies social problems and sets up projects through which students can take social action. The seminar on juvenile delinquency, projects at the Valley Forge and Norristown hospitals, volunteer work at Pennhurst School for Retarded Children, sponsorship of the blood and X-ray mobiles on campus, and participation in week-end work camps in the Philadelphia slums are all ways in which this commission carries out its purpose.

The Y also helps through its committee on membership and reception to welcome the new students in the Freshman Orientation Program. Each fall and spring the Y sponsors a Retreat in an effort to combine worship, recreation, fun, and study into a meaningful week end during which the Y's program may be revitalized.

Chi Alpha

Chi Alpha is the formal Christian organization of those who intend to dedicate their lives to Christian service. The bi-monthly meetings present an opportunity for service, education, fellowship, and worship in an inter-denominational atmosphere. Through group discussion and interesting speakers, the fellowship hopes to enlarge its understanding of Christian life. Chi Alpha sponsors the annual Candle Light Communion Service during the Christmas season and seeks in other ways to stimulate the religious life of the campus.

Newman Club

The Newman Club is a national organization composed of Roman Catholic college students. The Ursinus chapter meets bi-monthly with the Reverend Edward J. Convan, J.C.D., of Saint Eleanor's Church, Collegetown, acting as chaplain.

The object of the club is to provide opportunities for the students to discuss topics of interest concerning the Catholic faith. This year the club placed special emphasis on visits from guest speakers from area schools and missions who presented pertinent issues of Catholicism.

The Canterbury Club was formed to keep the Episcopal students on campus in contact with their church. It sponsors meetings twice a month, dinners, and an annual Corporate Communion and breakfast. The group also attends weekly Holy Communion services at St. James', Evansburg, and generally helps to serve the spiritual needs of the student while he is away from his home parish. Chaplain to the group is the Reverend Mr. Edward Platts.

Music Room

The operation of the Music Room is a project of Pi Nu Epsilon, the national honorary music fraternity. For the benefit and pleasure of Ursinus students the room is equipped with an AMFM radio, a hi-fidelity phonograph, and an expanding collection of recordings. Music-minded students donate their time during library hours to act as monitors.

I.R.C.

The International Relations Club has many purposes. It attempts to develop in an American college those sympathies with foreign peoples that come through understanding of their special problems. It seeks to promote in the student body an awareness of the importance of international cooperation and understanding. Throughout the year talks are given on various world situations and problems. In the spring the club participates in the national model U. N. Assembly. The I. R. C. is a composite of students interested in political science, history, languages, sciences, sociology and, most important sitting down with other people to discuss rather than to fight.

W.S.G.A

The Student Council is the executive branch of the Women's Student Government. Its function is the initiation and administration of any measures which benefit all women students.

The W.S.G.A. sponsors many of the campus activities, such as the Welcome Back Dance in the fall, the Freshmen dessert, the Junior-Frosh Breakfast, the Christmas Banquet and Dance, and jointly with the M.S.G.A., the Lorelei.

The Council has ten members: four officers, a representative from each of the four classes, a representative from the Girls' Day Study, and the Chairman of the Hall Presidents. The group meets bi-monthly with its advisor, the Dean of Women.

Hall Board

The Hall Board is composed of the dormitory presidents and the Day Study president. This group meets to keep the dormitories in contact with each other.

Combined with the Freshmen Customs chairman, the Student Council vice-president as presiding officer, and the Student Council president, treasurer, and secretary, the Hall Board serves as the judiciary branch of the Women's Student Government Association. This Board deals with infractions of college regulations and association rules and with cases referred from the Dormitory Councils or the Day Study. It considers cases at the request of the students, preceptresses, the Dean of Women, or the President of the College.

From these members a secretary is elected. The presiding officer is the Executive Council president; two preceptresses and the Dean of Women serve as advisors.

M.S.G.A.

The Men's Student Government Association is the governing body of the men of Ursinus College. All male students are automatically members of the M.S.G.A., and elect a small group of students to represent them at the weekly meetings. Thirteen members compose the 1959-60 M.S.G.A.: four seniors, three juniors, three sophomores, two freshmen, and one day student. Representing the Ursinus faculty, Dean of Men, Richard J. Whatley, is also a voting member of the association.

The administrative duties of the M.S.G.A. include choosing dormitory proctors, awarding concessions, and improving campus conditions. In cooperation with the Women's Student Government Association an annual dance is presented. The M.S.G.A. also serves in a judiciary capacity, dealing with infractions of the rules governing the conduct of Ursinus men.

S.E.A.P.

The Pennsylvania State Education Association is the student organization of the National Education Association. Co-sponsors Dr. Mark G. Messinger and Mr. J. Allen Minnich competently advise the organization.

Approximately 200 members were under the leadership of the club's officers: Robert Hunsicker, president; Louise Sperber, vice-president; Joan Meszaros, secretary; and Marlene White, treasurer. Joan Meszaros also held the position of secretary of the south-eastern district P.S.E.A.

Brownback-Anders Premedical Society

The Brownback-Anders Pre-Medical Society aims to aid pre-professional students who are entering a study of the healing arts and related fields of medical science by acquainting them with the world of medicine. Under the excellent guidance of Dr. Paul Wagner, faculty advisor, the organization works to achieve its goal.

At the regular meetings guests speak on various phases of medicine as a profession and a life's work. At the conclusion of the meeting members have the opportunity to talk informally with the guest. Once a year the whole group attends a symposium at one of the five medical schools in Philadelphia. Extensive tours of the institutions enable the pre-medical student to observe all aspects of medical education. Through these direct contacts the society presents an idea of the challenge of medicine.

Beardwood Chemical Society

The Beardwood Chemical Society is a student affiliate chapter of the American Chemical Society and is composed of students interested in chemistry and chemical engineering.

The objects of the Society are to give the students of chemistry at Ursinus the opportunity to become better acquainted, to secure the intellectual stimulation that comes from professional association, and to obtain experience in preparing and presenting technical information before groups of chemists. Thus the organization fosters professional spirit among its members and instills in them a professional pride in chemistry and chemical engineering.

During the school year the Society hears lectures on various aspects of chemistry from outstanding men sent by the American Chemical Society. Field trips are taken to nearby industries so that the students may see what chemistry is doing for modern living. The group also supports the reading room on the third floor of Pfahler.

French Club

Through its programs the French Club acquaints its members with the culture and language of France. At the first meeting of the year President Phil Houser, who spent his junior year at the Sorbonne, and two other members, who had studied in Paris during the summer, related their experiences in France, described the French educational system, and discussed Paris as a cultural center.

The club's activities were given an added French touch by the attendance of several members of this area's French Colony. They presented a soiree musicale and an evening of French dramatic readings. This year's highlights also included une fete de Noel, a guest's speech on French impressionistic art, and the annual banquet.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club provides students with an opportunity to view and discuss various aspects of Spanish culture. The meetings are conducted in Spanish in order to enable the student to improve his speaking and understanding ability. At the meetings the members discussed Spanish and Latin American culture, sang songs, listened to speakers and to folk music and learned Latin American dances, which were taught by Mrs. Seelye, wife of the faculty adviser Ned Seelye. Highlights of this year's activities included a student's talk on her trip to Europe, a program of different types of Spanish music, a Christmas party which featured dancing and the breaking of the pinata, discussions on Spanish customs, and the Spring banquet.

German Club

In the informal atmosphere of the home of Dr. Hartzell, its advisor, the German Club held its meetings. The members, who caroled in German during the Christmas season, are interested in German customs and culture.

The biggest undertaking this year was Schiller Abend, presented November tenth in Bomberger Chapel. This cultural program, given in honor of the two hundredth anniversary of Friedrich Schiller's birth, was a joint endeavor of the German Club and the German Department. The German Consul, Dr. Pelkmann, opened the presentation with illustrations of Schiller's importance today. A narration of Schiller's life being the framework, students read his poems and dramatic excerpts in German. A reception in the Student Union followed the proceedings.

Business Administration Club

Having been reorganized in 1958, the Business Administration Club is becoming an active group at Ursinus. Its membership being open to all business and economics majors, the club strives to make the student's education more complete by introducing him to the professional side of business through lectures by local business leaders and field trips to leading industries in this area.

One of the Business Administration Club's main responsibilities lies in placement. By maintaining a catalogued library on business opportunities and by working with the placement office, the club can help students secure summer jobs or permanent positions after graduation. In the Business Club the key note is the role of the individual in industry.

Debating Society

Under the inspired coaching of its advisor, Dr. Ammon Kershner, the Ursinus Debating Society practiced for its many contses and improved its forensic abilities. This year the team, which is chosen from the society's members, met the competition wth success and thus demonstrated the capabilities of the Ursinus group.

The season opened with a strong team being sent to the Temple University Novice Tournament. That debate was followed in close succession by contests with Villanova University and St. Joseph's College. In Baltimore on February fifth Mike Mehrer and Archie McKown represented Ursinus at the Johns Hopkins Debate Tournament. Competing with many other colleges and universities, the team participated in its last debate of the year at Rutgers of South Jersey.

Stuics

Organized five years ago, primarily as an eating club, the Stuic group is composed exclusively of junior and senior men. The group, limited to fifteen members, selects respected men of the campus whose interests are in accord with those of the society.

Among the activities of the Stuics is monthly luncheon at the Collegeville Inn. One of its goals being to foster closer student-faculty relations, the group invites a member of the faculty to be an honored guest at these gatherings. Informal discussions center around campus affairs and activities. Two luncheons this year were highlighted by the introduction of the new dean of men and dean of women to the members of the club.

The Ursinus Weekly is the student-published newspaper designed to inform the faculty, alumni, and students through evocative news, sports, and feature articles and thought-provoking editorials. Twenty-two issues are written and published yearly by a staff of forty students.

Controversial campus issues are discussed in letters to the Weekly editor, and professors present their ideas through interviews. The Weekly keeps students up to date on all campus activities, including meetings, forums, concerts, and elections, and cultural events in the Philadelphia area.

How long should a short story be? Does this poem say anything? How much art work do you think we should have in this issue? Well, there'll be lots of pros on this question, but who could write a good con essay? Is it really possible to meet the deadline? So who's creative? The Lantern staff has to deal with these questions, but behind all the head racking lies the hope that an original and interesting magazine will be produced.

Curtain Club

Anyone interested in dramatics may become a member of the Ursinus Curtain Club, which presents two major plays and several one-act plays each year. Beginning its activities early in the fall with the annual reception at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Helfferich, the Curtain Club had a busy and productive year.

As the highlight of the fall semester the club presented George Bernard Shaw's Major Barbara, a satirical comedy, Bell, Book, and Candle, by John Van Druten, was going to acquire new pieces of scenery and equipment to be used in future productions. During the mid-term recess the Curtain Clubbers themselves constructed new scenery and remodeled the "cage", the storage room.

Spring semester saw the Curtain Club continuing its project of refurbishing. The last major dramatic production for the school year was given on May Day. The gay comedy, Bell, Book, and Candle, by John Van Druten, was a fitting close to this successful Curtain Club year.

Stars and Players is a small group of Curtain Club members who have achieved their position by hard work. The members become eligible when they have attained the required number of points by participation in Curtain Club activities. It is necessary to acquire forty-five points to become a Player and seventy points to become a Star. The members of this group are the nucleus of the Curtain Club, and from this nucleus are drawn the officers of the club and usually the director and producer of each play.

The purpose of distinguishing Stars and Players as a separate group from the Curtain Club is to provide an incentive for Curtain Club members. Thus it is a goal toward which those students interested in dramatics work.

From the membership of Stars and Players, those students who have shown exceptional merit are chosen as candidates for membership in Alpha Psi Omega, the national honorary dramatic fraternity.

Group Productions

In addition to two major plays yearly, the Curtain Club presents group productions consisting of one-act plays and theatrical readings for industrious thespians and avid play-goers. On April seventh, two such productions were given in Bomberger Chapel. The first was a one-act play entitled "Parting at Imsdorf", directed by Katrinka Schnabel and Robert McClellan. The plot concerned the struggle of an elderly pastor, his daughter, and a young deserter during the Nazi invasion. The second was an ambitious presentation of the final act of The Heiress by Henry James, co-directed by Flora McQueen and Timothy Combe. It portrayed the dramatic climax of a woman's rejection of her unfaithful lover. Both presentations proved worthy of recognition.

Alpha Phi Omega

The Lambda Upsilon chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, a national service fraternity, is an integral part of campus life. The society serves the faculty, the student body, and the community by handling all campus elections, aiding the faculty at registration time, and providing campus tours. During the Christmas season, Alpha Phi Omega also brightens the campus with gay decorations.

For this year's special project the chapter sold paperback books and Watkins products. All was not work for the brothers, however, the social calendar included several swimming parties, square dances, a hike, and a weekend in Ocean City.

This year's officers were Dave Lindemuth, president; Joe Lutz and Dave Emery, vice-presidents; Ken Dages, treasurer; Dick Koch, recording secretary; Larry Glass, corresponding secretary; Ron Avery, sergeant-at-arms; and Al Brown, historian and alumni secretary.

Membership is granted as recognition of ourstanding service in all aspects of college dramatics, and is the highest honor accorded Ursinus Curtain Clubbers. Candidates receive invitations at the dress rehearsal of either of the two major productions.

Alpha Psi Omega helps to further all dramatic activities and composes the casting committee for the fall and spring productions. A member of the group usually supervises the directing and producing of each major presentation. This year cast activities were under the leadership of Director Philip Rowe, Stage Manager Katrinka Schnabel, and Business Manager Joan Refford.

Pi Nu Epsilon

The membership of Ursinus' Gamma Chapter of Pi Nu Epsilon swelled to unprecedented size this year as eight new members were initiated late in the first semester. As the local Chapter of the National Honorary Musical Fraternity, Pi Nu serves as the coordinating body for musical activities at Ursinus and more particularly as a fraternity which honors those upperclassmen who, in addition to high scholastic standing, have devoted time and ability to several of the campus musical organizations. Although Pi Nu is not primarily a service organization, members have undertaken several projects stimulating an interest in music affairs. Because of its active role, the fraternity has become the musical goal of many Ursinus students.

The seniors who appear on this page were chosen to be honored in the 1959-1960 edition of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Students recognized in this annual publication of the national honorary organization are selected from approximately 750 colleges and universities throughout America. Selection is based on scholarship, participation and leadership in academic and extra-curricular activities, citizenship and service to the college, and promise of future usefulness. A committee, composed of the officers of the student government and of the college administration, recommends Ursinus students to the national association, which is designed to act as an incentive to underclassmen, while giving compensation for outstanding performance to these members of our senior class.

Cub and Key

The Cub and Key Society observed its twentieth anniversary this past fall when it honored the seven founding members of the Class of 1939. Cub and Key membership, the highest recognition given to an Ursinus male student, is awarded to those men who exemplify the high ideals of the College. The members are chosen in the spring of the year from the men of the Junior class; the criteria for recognition being fine character, high scholarship and leadership in extra curricular activities.

The men of the society endeavor to personally maintain the ideals of the college through their own particular campus activities. Support of an annual scholarship fund and active participation to the college as an alumni body are secondary objectives of this honorary society.

Whitians

The Whitians is the Women's Honorary Scholastic Society of Ursinus. Permanent membership is recognition for scholarship, leadership, character, and service to the college. Qualifications include a minimum average of 85 for at least four semesters and participation in extra-curricular activities. New members, chosen from the junior women and limited to ten in number, are traditionally announced at the Lorelei.

In the fall the Whitians gave a dessert for the prospective members; in the spring, a tea. Led by president Marla Shilton, vice-president Jeanne LeCato, and secretary-treasurer Nancy Springer, the society widened its group activities and also presented a prize to the freshman woman attaining the highest average.

SPORTS LIFE

No one enjoys losing, but Ursinus College, over the past few years, has had more than its share of losses in intercollegiate competition. The past sports seasons appear to have broken the drought and success in athletics seems to be returning. If nothing succeeds like success, a more pleasant future should be ours in the world of sport. But if nothing fails like failure, how do we account for this change in fortune? The answer is — we never failed. However hackneyed be the thought, we have learned through bitter experience how much more important than winning is the spirit of a community which supports those who represent it. Neither student spectator nor student player really gave up.

Having discovered the pleasures of victory it is our hope that the future teams of our college will not forget the darker days and how much we profited from them. Intercollegiate sports at Ursinus, may continue to make a significant contribution to our community if the fortitude and spirit of both the participant and the spectator are at worst maintained and at best improved, from the present encouraging level.

Athletics at Ursinus consists of varied forms of expression. The purpose of these many forms has been stated for years in the college Bulletin which avers that "Ursinus recognizes the physical and moral benefit derived from athletic activity and accordingly offers a well balanced sports program open to all."

From the tense competition of an intercollegiate football game to the leisurely relaxation of an after dinner intermural softball contest, the purpose stated above is accurately carried out by the students of the college.

Athletics at Ursinus, asks only that its participants give willingly of themselves according to their ability, that they contribute in their own way to the betterment of their team "till the victory is won" or the loss be executed with continuing respect for both the self and the opponent.

The Bears in action...

Football

The tense pause before the play . . . a moment later . . . the line in the heat of conflict.

The extra point which ended a lengthy losing streak.

"Operation Comeback", the two year old slogan for the fortunes of the Ursinus College football team, was slow getting started. The significant contribution of the 1959 team was the commencement of this comeback via the sixth game of the season. Prior to that contest the Bears had run up an impressive string of eighteen straight losses over a three year period. Although the Bears, (2-6), were winless in the first five encounters, they finished the season on a possible optimistic trend for the future winning two of their last three games against heavy odds.

Although gaining eleven first downs to the visitors twelve, the Bears were swamped by a power-added Susquehanna eleven, 63-0. In the Johns Hopkins game a blocked kick by Ursinus and an early score on an eight yard pass play to end Jim Minnick threw a scare into the powerful Blue Jays who amid injuries, intercepted passes, and fumbles by the Bears, went on to score a 50-6 win. Ursinus dominated and led in the Wilkes game until the fourth quarter when they handed Wilkes two easy T.D.'s and a 25-5 win by allowing two blocked kicks. The Swarthmore game featured a strong Ursinus defense as the line stopped the Garnets three times within the 20 yard line. A short kick and a first down fumble gave Swarthmore two touchdowns in the third period, but Boggio kept the Bears in the game with a fourth quarter score on a seven yard run around right end. Swarthmore added another score to make the final 22-6.

Despite the 32-8 defeat by Wagner, the opening game of the second half of the season was well played by the Bears, for the line showed consistent good blocking as the Bears picked up 245 yards from scrimmage on a muddy, rainsoaked field.

Homecoming 1959 brought a favored Haverford squad to Patterson field. A scoreless first half ended with Ursinus in possession on the Fords ten yard line. Early in the third period Ursinus punted to Haverford's fifteen yard line. As Haverford's Freilich attempted to run to his left, right end John Forrest knocked him to the ground jarring loose the pigskin which was recovered by tackle John Brackin on the four yard line. Jack McCrae barreled over for the score and Kershner added the placement, making the score 7-0. Haverford, led by Bob Ortman, later roared back driving their way across the Ursinus goal. After Ortman scored, he attempted to put the Fords ahead by attempting a run for two points. Running the same play on which he had scored, Haverford's top back was thrown for a loss by the Ursinus forward line. The scoring ended here with Ursinus claiming a victory by a 7-6 margin.

On November 14, the Bears found themselves completely outclassed by Kings Points, as the team from the Merchant Marine Academy scored in every period to hand the Bears a 56-0 uproutng. The last game of the campaign found the Bears at Carlisle, Pa. where they upset favored Dickinson College by a 14-10 margin. Quarterback Kershner scored twice on one yard sneaks to climax two sustained team drives of 52 and 43 yards. The team was led in the last game by senior ends Myers and Forrest, guards Moyer and Peterson and tackle McGrath in the line and Kershner and Boggio in the backfield slots. The loss of these men's services will be hard felt by the 1960 Ursinus eleven which will have a nucleus of ten returning lettermen hoping to improve the recent fortunes of Ursinus' football endeavors.

Soccer

Although blessed with only six returning lettermen and further handicapped by the early loss of halfback Bob Fulton with a leg injury, Coach Donald "Doc" Baker's soccer squad managed to compile a record of four wins and six losses, the best soccer record in several years.

Newcomers Phil and George Brackin at fullback, Don Henry at halfback, and Karl Luck at the forward line added their talents to those of veterans Ed Brookes, Mike Blewett, and Bob Fernandez on the offense and Jack Bauman and John Schumacher on the defense to allow the Bears to inflict defeat on St. Josephs (3-2), Muhlenberg (3-2), La Salle (1-0), and Franklin and Marshall (3-0). With the majority of the games played in rain and mud, the Bears dropped games to Rutgers (5-1), Haverford (2-0), Delaware (3-1), Lehigh (8-2), Swarthmore (5-0), and Drexel (8-0).

Especially to be commended for their fine playing are Seniors Ed Brookes, left wing; Mike Blewett, center forward, high scorer with seven goals; and John "Shooey" Schumacher, who was an invaluable goalie; as well as Senior halfback Jack Bauman, who scored his first goal in four years in the Delaware game.

Perhaps the most spectacular display of the season was the La Salle game in which Ed Brookes' fourth quarter goal and the almost uncanny goal keeping efforts of "Shooey" allowed the Bears to defeat the La Salle squad 1-0 before the latter's rain-soaked Soccer Day crowd of five hundred.

. . . Basketball

The Ursinus basketball team ended the 1959-1960 season with its best record in over a decade. The 9-6 record, the highest winning percentage since the 9-5 season of 1946-47, enabled Ursinus to place second in the Southern Division of the Middle Atlantic States Conference, just one half game out of first place.

Much of the credit for the improvement of basketball at Ursinus is directly due to the new head coach, Warren Fry. Mr. Fry's ability to critically instruct the squad while engendering spirited play was evident by the results he produced from a team whose pre-season rating was in the last division of the league. The Ursinus five ranked as one of the top twenty in team defense among the small colleges in the nation, allowing their opponents an average of only 60.3 points per game.

The 1959-60 team established many commendable records. Ursinus' 77-51 win over F. and M. was the largest margin of victory in the entire series which began in 1915. The two thrilling overtime defeats of Haverford (55-51 and 74-72) were the first double wins over Haverford since 1954. The twenty-four point spread (68-44) of victory was the largest winning margin over arch rival Swarthmore since the series began in 1919. Likewise, the Ursinus cagers whalloped Juniata College was the biggest point spread in that series which began in 1922.

The consistent sharp playing of senior captain Jim Wenhold who scored 237 points in the season and the aggressive ability of freshman Walt Dryfoos who led the team in scoring and rebounds with 255 points (17.0 per game average) coupled with the height and goal shooting of junior Dennis Gould (237 points) formed the nucleus of a strong squad which reestablished Ursinus as a contending team in small basketball.

J. V. Basketball

The junior varsity basketball team ended the 1959-60 season with a 6-7 season record and a 4-6 record in the Southern Division of the Middle Atlantic Conference.

This team, which scored a total of 801 points on 295 field goals and 211 of 370 free throws, was led in scoring by the two co-captains Bill Daggett with 230 points and Dick Allebach with 162 points. Doug Harper ranked third in scoring with 108 points.

Under the direction of the new assistant coach, Robert Handwerk, this squad posted the best J.V. record since 1950-51. The underclass members of this group should make a significant contribution in future years to the presently improving condition of college basketball at Ursinus.

Wrestling

Senior Bob Turnbull watches as coach Richard Schellhase demonstrates a ride with an arm lock on captain Wil Abele.

Although ending the season with a 2-6-1 record, the 1960 wrestling team provided many thrilling moments for its enthusiastic followers as it battled its way through the nine match season and eventually crowned a new Middle Atlantic wrestling champion in the person of freshman Dick Dean.

The two wins of coach Dick Shellhase's grapplers were a 19-15 victory over rival Haverford (previously defeated in football and basketball this season) and a 20-17 defeat of P.M.C. The Lebanon Valley match ended in an 18-18 draw.

Dean, wrestling at 147 pounds, with a duel meet record of 8-1, scored 34 points during the season for the Bears' cause. This outstanding freshman registered a pin and three decisions in wrapping up the 147 lb. Middle Atlantic States Championship at Lebanon Valley College. The 14 points rolled up by Dean on his road to the Championship put Ursinus in 10th place in the field of 21 colleges.

Junior Wilber Abele, the captain of this year's squad, compiled an 8-1 season record while scoring 32 points in the heavy weight division. His only loss was to the 325 lb. Longnecker of Lebanon Valley. Seniors Bob Turnbull (137 lb.), with 16 points on four wins, and Bob Petersen (167 lb.) with 13 points on three wins and one draw, aided the Bears' scoring and provided exciting moments with several fine performances.

... Baseball

Under the direction of coach G. Sieber Pancoast, the Ursinus College baseball team faces the 1960 season with increased optimism. The baseball squad, the "winningest" men's varsity sport in the past four years, finished the 1959 season with a 12-5 record. The 1960 team has lost only three starters from last years season when they missed the NCAA playoffs by one half game and came within one game of the best record in the history of the college.

All three starting pitchers, Lin Drummond (3,0), Terry Shaner (4,4), and Elmer Haigh (4,1), will be available for regular mound duty. Seniors Ed Savastio (.265, cf.), Jim Wenhold (.323, lb), George Armstrong (.361, 3b), and Ted Kershner (.309, of.), all lettermen from a squad which averaged .295 at the plate, should contribute significantly in their particular positions on the diamond. Underclassmen Harper, Kock, Kohn, and several experienced freshmen will also be vieing for starting berths on the 1960 nine.

With this nucleus of veterans returning from last years fine team, the 1960 edition of the Ursinus baseball team will be counted on to give an excellent showing of its potential ability as it competes with opposing teams in the current 19 game season.

... Tennis

Under Coach Sidney Quinn, the 1960 Ursinus College tennis team shows good opportunity for improving the 1959 record of five wins and six loses. Returning as lettermen to form the nucleus of the squad are juniors Don Famous and Larry Habgood and sophomores Bob Hohn and Jerry Morita.

Jerry Leatherman, who will captain the '60 squad, should be in position to fill the vacancy left by Art Martella, last season's No. 1 man. With the additional support of new freshman talent Ursinus should look to an improved record in intercollegiate tennis competition.

Track

The 1960 Ursinus track team has good hopes of finishing the season with one of the best records of recent years. Judging by the 3-5 record of last year and the increasing interest in this spring sport on our campus, this season could see a fine record established after several preliminary years of developing underclassmen. Several promising freshmen and new talented upperclassmen will add their strength to the team. Vern Morgan, competing in the two mile, one mile, and half mile distance races, Al Walton in the field events, and Captain Cal Fox in the dashes, should again shoulder the greater part of the burden. If these and other veterans perform as expected, and the new members add their needed share of the points, the ten opponents of Coach Ray Gurzynski's 1960 thin clads should know that they have met one of the best Ursinus track teams of recent seasons.

Hockey

The girls' varsity hockey team finished the '59 season with a fair record of four wins and three losses. The three losses were to Gettysburg, Temple, and West Chester, — the last being played in six inches of mud and torrential rains. Captained by all college forward Susie Wagner, and coached by Miss Snell, the team suffered from early season injuries and inexperience both on attack and defense.

Eight of the Ursinus players distinguished themselves individually by earning a position on one of the all college teams. Faye Bardman, Judy Moyer, Debby Shaw, and Susie Wagner were selected for the first team, Adele Statzell on the second team, Lynne Crosley and Sue Andres on the third team, Carol Bentley on the fourth team and honorable mention was awarded to Lori Hamilton. Susie and Faye went on to the National Tournament in Washington as members of the third Philadelphia team.

... J. V. Hockey

The junior varsity hockey team went undefeated this year by winning six games and tying one for the second season in a row. Captained by senior Weezie Sperber, and coached by Mrs. McKinney the junior Bearettes were much too strong for most of their opposition. East Stroudsburg's JV seemed stronger than their varsity but the U. C. belles held them to a tie. The JV beat Beaver 1-0 while playing in the moonlight. The third team won two of their games and tied one to close its season successfully. There were many outstanding freshmen who may be the hope for next year's teams.

... Basketball

The Girls' Basketball Team, coached by Miss Snell had a successful season. The team won seven games and lost one. Returning letter winners were, forwards: co-captain Faye Bardman, Lynne Crosley, and Anne Sansenbach, guards: co-captain Ingie Reiniger, Susie Wagner, and Winnie Miller. Others on the squad included Pat Hoehl, Luey Magness, Lori Hamilton, Carol Bentley, and Gloria Burgoon.

There are only four seniors leaving on the squad, so that next years team should be a strong one and a successful one for coach Snell.

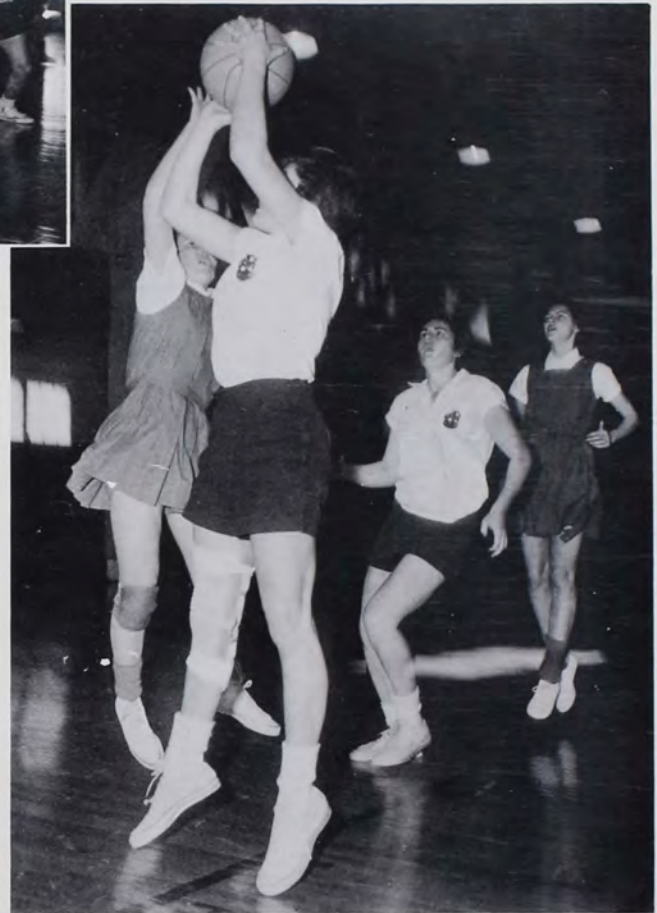

You're supposed to play on your feet, Anne.

. . J. V. Basketball

The J.V. basketball team won six games and lost two. There are a number of up and coming freshmen on the squad including Sue Gerhard, Judy Tignor, Sally Andrews, Flossie Jacobs, Fran Alspach, Carol Taney and Bev Von Kleeck. Returning letter winners were Sally Bastow, Gogo Alexander, Sandy Stevens, Pat Hoehl, Carol Bentley, Lori Hamilton, Gloria Burgoon and Luey Magness.

... Badminton

The badminton team under the supervision of Mrs. Betty Brown, brought home its fifth consecutive undefeated season. Four new varsity players — "Weezie Sperber," Janet Schnider, "Gogo" Alexander, and Joan Fry — added depth to the team which had only four returning varsity players. Three of these brought trophies home to Ursinus last year from the Intercollegiates. Carol Heffelfinger won the singles and Sandy Rinehart and Jeanne LeCato won the doubles. This is the second straight year the varsity defeated all five of its opponents 5-0. The J.V. won four out of five losing to Bryn Mawr 3-2. The large number of underclassmen on the squad this year should insure another successful season next winter.

... Swimming

The Ursinus varsity and junior varsity swimming teams coached by Mrs. Beverly Rorer completed a successful 1960 swimming season. The girls trounced Beaver 51-15 and defeated Swarthmore in a thrilling meet by a score of 35-31 after having lost two meets earlier by the same close score.

The team, losing only two swimmers, Captain Kathy Scheffley and butterfly Leanne Harten, looks forward to a promising season next year with many returning lettermen.

A high point of the season was the placing of two swimmers in the Intercollegiates — Joey Ferrell in free-style and Sallie Eikner in Butterfly. Other consistent winners were breaststroker Katrina Leslie, backstroker Julis Huttel and diver Judy Byrnes.

... Softball

The 1959 softball team enjoyed an undefeated season winning a total of six games. Seven returning lettermen, lead by captain Gail Snyder, provided a nucleus for the squad. Three outstanding freshmen rounded out the first team.

The highlights of the season were a pair of wins over E.S.S.T.C. Competition was keen, not only from the opponents, but from the elements as well, as the Wilson game was played virtually under water. May Day saw the girls completely overwhelm their somewhat older opponents in a game that provided many laughs.

This year's squad will feature an almost complete team of letter winners. With the spirit characteristic of other years, the girls are looking forward to another successful season.

... Tennis

The Varsity Tennis team brought their string of victories to 24 in the 1959 season by completing their third undefeated year. The team was captained by Eastern Intercollegiate runner-up Carol LeCato and stacked with experienced players. Bryn Mawr, always Ursinus' most formidable foe, once more produced the most exciting match which U. C. finally won 3-2. With only two varsity players lost through graduation the 1960 team co-captained by Sandy Rinehart and Jeanne LeCato should produce an equally favorable season.

. . . Lacrosse

The 1959 lacrosse team, captained by Alice Irwin, completed its season with an undefeated record. The good spirit and willingness to learn exhibited by the girls brought the team to its most successful season ever under the able coaching of Marge Watson. Working around the nucleus of experienced seniors and All-American Reserve, Lynn Crosley, the 1960 season should be just as successful.

Varsity Club

The Varsity Club is a group of Ursinus athletes who have won a varsity letter. New members write letters of application to be admitted. In addition to monthly meetings the group sponsors year-round activities — the fall Old Timers' Day Dance, the annual Spring Banquet. The Varsity Club also awards trophies to its senior members and each team's respective M.V.P.

W. A. A.

The Women's Athletic Association enjoyed a most active year at Ursinus. The W.A.A. Show was brought back this year and was a huge success. The W.A.A. also sponsored an intermural volleyball tournament which was won by second floor Beardwood. Through its activities the organization has tried to stimulate interest and participation in girls' athletics.

Band

Wearing their collegiate blazers for the second year, the Ursinus College Band, under the direction of Laverne Joseph, added their spirit to the football games and to various other campus activities. At the close of the football season the Band converts to a concert organization which seeks to present programs of good band music throughout the second semester. Also active within the band this year were a newly organized Dixieland band and a student dance orchestra.

Majorettes

In order to stir the fans' spirit and enhance the color of the football games the majorettes join the Ursinus band in its marching formation. This year the adept and snappy majorettes added flag twirling as a special feature of their routine. At the Homecoming game Sally Leshner and Joann Lewis thrilled the viewers with a fire baton exhibition.

Spirit Committee

The Spirit Committee's constitution cites these aims: "to create full student support of athletic teams by means of pep rallies, posters, pep tags, and a lively cheering section, and to help stimulate school spirit and an attitude of good sportsmanship toward opposing teams." Fulfillment of these purposes indebts Ursinus to the committee's work.

During the football season the group decorated the stands in red, old gold, and black, and awarded a trophy to the girl's dormitory with the most original Homecoming Day decoration. The committee sponsored a square dance in cooperation with Alpha Phi Omega and contributed other dances' profits to the Ruby and the band. The year's work ended with the fun of a doggie roast and the annual banquet.

Ursinus rooters - united by spirit.

So this is it — we've given here a sketch
Of life in our community; Its done.
Four years passed very quickly, and its over.
We learned; we had some fun, we grew a little;
And now we are all set to graduate.
So easy now for waxing sentimental,
So easy now to turn from all the jokes:
We used to say how glad we'd be to leave,
And now were not so happy as we thought.
The plain fact is — Ursinus was our home,
And there's an ugly world outside ahead;
And maybe it won't like us — but no matter.
We have to go, and maybe we're prepared.
It was a good community; it had its faults,
And many more some time ago than now.
That is, — its hard to see them now we're done.
Goodly, and thanks, Ursinus, thanks so much
For being part of us; and it was fun.
