collegeville • pennsylvania to the student of today living in a period of transition paradoxically composed of searching and questioning and complacency and contentment, this record is dedicated.

we are of the generation of the organization man, of sputnik, and of the race to capture the mind of man; but as students we have been sheltered from much of the impact of these trends and events; we have spent our time learning and playing while we can—these short years which remain before our entry into the adult world are important, and we hope that the graphic account on the following pages of our eclectic college world may serve as a reminder of the fun and the folly of our bright college year.

books help make the full man, knowledge must ever be perpetuated by scholars, but the citizen of tomorrow is also a product of the experiences which shape him. the following pages depict the molding of a college student, the product of his time and the producer of the future.

the essential part of any college, our faculty and administration have proved themselves willing and capable persons both in and out of classroom activities. by being a small school, ursinus has been able to provide many opportunities in which the students can meet and discuss with the faculty and administration informally. many of them have also given some of their valuable time to co-operate in the sponsorship and promotion of our clubs and social activities and to help the student in many other invaluable ways.

Miss Camilla B. Stahr, A.B., is a graduate of Wilson College. Since 1938 Miss Stahr, as Dean of Women, has endeared herself to the women of Ursinus. This most charming and dignified woman has become both confident and counselor. Understanding and sympathetic, Miss Stahr has won a place in the heart of all who know her.

G. Sieber Pancoast, Ph.D., a graduate of Ursinus College in the Class of 1937, is a well-known figure on the campus, on the ball field, and in the classroom. As Dean of Men, an instructor of political science, and coach of the baseball team, Dr. Pancoast is both educator and companion to the students.

president

Ursinus College is honored to have as its President Norman Egbert McClure. Dr. McClure, Ph.D., L.H.D., L.L.D., was graduated from Ursinus College in the Class of 1915. He has served for many years not only as President of the college, but as Professor of the English Language and Literature. Those who have had the privilege of meeting Dr. McClure in the classroom or socially know him to be a venerable and humble gentleman whose ideas embody the traditions of the school.

vice-president

Donald L. Helfferich, Esq., H.B., LL.B., LL.D., a graduate of this college and of Yale Law School, has been the Vice-President of Ursinus since 1936. Dr. Helfferich is the man responsible for administering the financial and business needs of the college. For many years he was the faculty advisor for the Curtain Club and even today his enthusiasm and intelligent advice are a great assistance.

William S. Pettit, M.S., was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania. Serving as Dean of the College and Professor of Chemistry, Mr. Pettit has been a friend and a counselor to the students of the college. Even with his administrative and teaching duties, the doors of his office are always open to all and his sincere and understanding efforts have been an inspiration to many.

almost with a sense of regret we face what lies beyond 1958. four years have afforded much that was frivolous and short-lived. however, the advice of st. paul is now worth considering again. we must put away the ideas of children and face the realities for which we have been preparing. true wisdom will replace sophomorism, a more honest appraisal of our responsibility must supersede what we once mistook for pressing matters. yet, we can face the new experience with confidence for we have been prepared, and a generous portion of ursinusiana will remain with us in bringing to others the college of which we are now a part.

"It seems only yesterday that . . ." It's an old phrase and probably overworked but perhaps the same thought comes into your mind when looking back over our years at Ursinus. How else now can we view them really but as four of the most enjoyable years of our lives. Gone, as we look back, now are the memories of the games lost, the tests worried about, and the all-nighters we pulled. Remaining with us instead are the pleasant thoughts, the ones we will always carry with us.

How easy it is to think back to our arrival. The sophs made sure we didn't forget which rung of the ladder we were on, but as nothing can last forever, it wasn't long before even customs was over. Despite some anxious moments, our four officers, led by Bob Gilgór, arrived safely at the Freshman Banquet and at last we were a class. Our first dance, "Hawaiian Holiday," was a success and with it we concluded our activities for the first year and began looking forward to the second.

Our first task as sophomores was taking care of Freshman customs. This was well-handled by Lee Rigler and "radiant, regal, royal Rene." The class, now under the leadership of Hal Redden, presented "Le Chat Noir" complete with can-can dancers straight from Paris and the soph hop, "Oriental Fantasy." Other events sponsored by the class that year included an invitation to "Meet the Four Guys" down at the T. G. and a record dance in the Rec. Center for the benefit of Marge and Ruth.

In our Junior year, again led by Hal, we presented "Dar Arndt Tanz," a real Pennsylvania Dutch Harvest Dance. That spring we also tackled our first prom, "Fantasia" at Sunnybrook Ballroom. So well we remember how lovely Val looked as she was crowned and received her bouquet of roses as our queen. Then with the election of Tom and Ann as Ruby co-editors we realized that graduation would soon become a reality.

As seniors we had to face up to many new responsibilities. We had to complete our work while at the same time make preparation for our years after graduation. We presented our last dance, "Knight of Nights" at Sunnybrook. Happily we heard Tom Bennis and Joan Martin announced as Lord and Lady of the Senior Ball, a fitting "thank you" from the class for their many contributions of time and energy. Hal Redden, Ken Grundy, Gayle Livingston, and John Idler were made permanent class officers that night, a memorable one indeed as we danced to the smooth music of Bud Rader.

There are other events, of course, that hold fond memories for us. Some of them will fade as the years pass. Others will remain imprinted on our minds throughout our lives. Certainly, however, we shall always recall with much gratitude how lucky we were to attend and take part in the activities of so fine a school as Ursinus.

caught in a maze composed of both challenging and stimulating pursuits and lackadaisical and prosaic activities, the ursinus undergraduate is faced with choosing the path which will be a major influence in his life for the rest of his college career and afterwards. as an individual the underclassman is so confronted whether or not he realizes it, but in a collective sense the undergraduates are responsible for sustaining the traditions and spirit of ursinus college. improving and changing some of these elements when the situation demands it, but keeping always the indefinable essential spirit of that which is ursinus, these members will pass this intangible ursinus to the future citizens of our college community.

The Class of 1959 can look back on its three years at Ursinus with thoughts of accomplishments, excitement, and pleasure. It seems as though it were only yesterday when we were the "lowly Frosh of old U.C."

In our freshman year, under the leadership of Ben Hauser, the class presented the first of many successful dances, "Red Riot." Following this the class closed its year's activities with the "Mardi Gras," a carnival with a jazz band contest.

Our sophomore year was highlighted by the presentation of two dances, "The Dogpatch Drag" and the "Soph Hop," under the leadership of Ben Houser. With "elite, elegant, energetic Elaine" and "Mr." Schmoyer leading the way, the Class initiated the Frosh in our traditional customs.

Our class, this past year under the leadership of Allan Daniels, president; Ted Holcombe, vice-president; Linda Brenner, secretary; and Barbara DeGeorge, treasurer, had a very successful junior year highlighted by a dance in the fall entitled, "The Oriental Turnabout," and the Junior Prom which was held in the spring. With an early start on the 1959 Ruby, the class looks forward to another, and perhaps the best, year at Ursinus.

She does write a lovely letter, doesn't she?—Mike Drewniak, Inky Wagner, Tony Cianci, Jack Prutzman, and Ray Maestrelli.

October found us back again, more confident and more resolved. Having emerged from our successful freshman year, we organized the new Frosh, led by "serene, sagacious, sophisticated Sandy," "Mr. Gest, Sir," and our soph rulers.

Under the leadership of John Forrest, president; John Myers, vice-president; Helen Pearson, secretary; and Bruce Drobnyk, treasurer, we began to organize our class activities. The "Sophomore Sputnik," depicting a mock Russian invasion of outer space, was an entertaining and successful class dance. During the second semester we presented the annual Soph Hop. During this year many of our classmates were beginning to excel in the various phases of college life. In the classroom, on the athletic field, and in the fraternities, sororities, and campus organizations the sophomores began to assume important roles. As we progress through our college days, taking on new responsibilities and continuing to work together to produce successful class functions, we are demonstrating the enthusiastic spirit and unity of the Class of 1960.

Customs began for the Class of '61 soon after their arrival at Ursinus. We will long remember the voluminous commands and orders given us by "most honorable, serene, sagacious, sophisticated Sandy," by "Mr. Boggio, Sir," and by the other soph rulers. After several weeks of requirements such as dinks, namé cards, and step shows, customs came to a close on Homecoming Day much to the happiness of the Freshmen.

On October 28, 1957, the class became united as the election of class officers was held. This day was quite eventful, filled with skirmishes and "rumbles" with the sophomores. The junior class officers introduced the officers of the freshman class at the freshman banquet held that evening in spite of the sophomores' attempts to keep the newly elected freshman officers from attending.

The freshmen, now coordinated as a class, are looking forward to four years of success and achievement at Ursinus.

whether our interests lie in creative activities such as dramatics, music, or journalism, service projects to help our fellows, or spirited discussion about religion, politics, or philosophy, we are able to find a campus organization which will answer most of such demands. not only do these groups fulfill these specific needs, but also they provide an excellent outlet for our energies and a way to learn responsibility, leadership, and co-operation, qualities which will certainly be useful in our later years.

W. S. G. A.

The function of this council is to act in an executive capacity for the benefit of the students. The group is composed of ten girls, including four officers nominated by the central nominating committee, four class representatives, a representative from the girls' day study, and the chairman of the Hall presidents.

The council meets once every two weeks, and its functions include helping to welcome the new students and to organize the Christmas banquet and dance. This organization also has complete charge of May Day activities among its other business.

hall board

The Hall Board is the organization which acts in a judicial capacity for the W.S.G.A., and the membership of this group is composed of the dormitory presidents, the president of the girls' day study, the chairman of the freshman customs committee, and the officers of the W.S.G.A.

This group meets whenever it is deemed necessary, and the vice-president of the W.S.G.A. presides over these sessions. The Hall Board helps to enforce most of the College regulations and to deal with offenders of both the College rules and the student government rules.

m. s. g. a.

The Men's Student Government Organization, usually known as the M.S.G.A., is aided in its functions by Dean Pancoast, and it consists of representatives from each class.

The administrative duties of this organization include choosing proctors, awarding concessions, and improving campus conditions. The M.S.G.A. also serves in a judicial capacity, dealing with infractions of the rules governing men's conduct.

The Soph Rules Committee gave the freshmen an opportunity to get acquainted and build up their unity. Wearing dinks and name tags, the freshmen could be seen going through their paces. The women will not forget their "square meal" nor the men their "midnight track meet," and the sophs will remember the response of the class of '61 to the coaxing of the juniors and the sound of "charge."

Pause that refreshes—Frosh take a break at square dance sponsored by the "Y".

Plenty to eat at the annual spaghetti dinner for freshmen.

The YM-YWCA at Ursinus is faced with the task of fulfilling the major part of religious need on the campus. Therefore, the organization, of which every student is nominally a member, provides a program designed to meet student Christian needs with thought and fellowship.

The four commissions of the "Y" hold weekly meetings to plan the work they have been set up to do. Among the many projects performed by the commissions are the following: work camps, vespers programs, concentration on international relatedness, campus fellowship, et al.

Acting as a body the "Y" serves the College in numerous ways. The "rec" center, educational seminars, association meetings, discussion groups, cultural trips, week-end retreats, and so forth are typical projects.

This year the "Y" initiated two major projects, emphasis on religious thought and cultural accessibility and culminated its year with greater visions.

Chi Alpha is an organization for those who are interested in going into full-time Christian service, and any others interested in an intelligent approach to their Christian faith. Various phases of the Christian faith are discussed throughout the year, and many interesting speakers are heard. Chi Alpha sponsors the annual candle light communion service at Christmas and seeks in other ways to stimulate the religious life of the campus.

Pi Gamma Mu is the national honorary social science society which offers scholastic recognition to outstanding students in the field of social studies. Its lifetime members are chosen from among those students who have maintained a "B" average in twenty hours of social studies courses and fulfill certain other qualifications.

This year the group sponsored a political speaker in conjunction with the International Relations Club. One of the highlights of the year's activities is the banquet held during the spring semester.

This year the Debating Club argued the following question: "Resolved That Compulsory Membership in a Labor Organization as a Condition of Employment Be Illegal."

Affirmative charges that the union shop facilitated union corruption and trampled basic worker rights were challenged by the opposition who stated that a ban on union shops would seriously weaken the entire labor movement.

Active Ursinus debaters participated in tournaments at Temple and Rutgers as well as individual meets with LaSalle, St. Joseph's, and Villanova.

The Lambda Upsilon Chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, is an organization whose purpose is to assemble college men in the fellowship of the Scout Oath and Law, to develop friendship, and to promote service to humanity. Although established on campus only three years ago, the fraternity has become an integral part of college life and has never failed, when called upon, to aid the faculty and student body in various ways. This year the chapter presented its first annual Homecoming Queen, Miss Jane Mowrey. The fraternity is looking forward to enlarging its scope of activity in the near future.

This central committee for the united fund-raising program on the Ursinus campus is composed of interested students who organize and direct the Campus Chest campaign. Supported by the various campus organizations and the sororities and fraternities, the drive had as its 1958 goal $1,500. The money raised by personal solicitation, the Ugly Man contest, the student-faculty show with its traditional auction, and many other money-raising projects went this year to the following groups: World University Service, American Friends Service Committee, the American Cancer Society, and the Pennsylvania Association for Retarded Children.

The chapter for the German club, Die Germania, was reissued during the second semester of last year to provide an organization that would stimulate thought about German life, traditions, and customs. The group intended to offer topics of interest throughout the year that would be available to the entire campus. The year's activities include slide shows, the Christmas programs, trips to Philadelphia to see foreign films, and programs of appreciation of German music and literature.

The increasing amount of interest on the part of the students has enabled the French Club to enlarge its scope of activity. The function of this organization is not only to acquaint those on campus with the various aspects of French culture, but also to foster actual participation in activities which promote greater understanding between the two civilizations. Among its programs are songfests, guest speakers with slides of France, student speakers who have visited France, the Christmas party, and the Farewell Banquet.

The purpose and function of the International Relations Club is to stimulate an interest in world affairs and to provide a center for intelligent, informed discussions. Aided by their sponsor, Dr. Eugene H. Miller, and various national organizations, the club is able to secure outstanding speakers on current international problems. Through its affiliation with the Association of International Relations Clubs, the organization actively participates with other member colleges in the annual conventions and the model United Nations Assembly. The annual spring banquet climaxes the year's activities.

These Ursinus seniors were chosen to appear in the 1957-58 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. The students recognized in this annual publication of the national honorary organization are selected from approximately 700 colleges and universities and are nominated on the basis of the student's scholarship; his participation and leadership in academic and extra-curricular activities; his citizenship and service to the school; and his promise of future usefulness. The selection committee is composed of officers of the student government councils and of the college administration.

Founded in 1939 to give recognition to those men who have proved themselves worthy examples of the highest ideals of the College, the Cub and Key Society is limited in membership to seven men who are chosen in their junior year to serve during their senior year.

Membership in the society is based on character, scholastic achievement, and participation in extra-curricular activities.

Besides holding several social functions during the College year, the society sponsors a scholarship which is given at Commencement to an outstanding freshman man, and seeks to serve the College wherever possible. Cub and Key functions after graduation as an alumni body.

The Whitians is an honorary society for women, previously known as the Rosicrucians. It was given its present name in honor of its founder, Elizabeth B. White. Permanent membership is granted to junior and senior women who have maintained a scholastic average of 85 for four semesters and who are qualified on a basis of extra-curricular activities, leadership, and character. Temporary membership is granted to all women having an 85 average during the previous semester. Each semester permanent and temporary members are invited to a social event, which this fall was a Smorgasbord luncheon at the Colledgeville Inn. The organization has established a prize to be awarded each year to the woman student who at the end of the first year has the highest scholastic standing.

Dr. Philip and Sam Fogal, student conductor of the Meistersingers, discuss a minor problem before a concert in Bomberger Hall.

The Meistersingers is a mixed choral group under the direction of Dr. William Philip. Work is done in both secular and religious music and programs are presented by the group before various church groups, schools, and service clubs in the vicinity of the College.

Each year the group displays its musical talents before various churches and schools on the eastern seaboard in its spring tour which helps to make new friends for Ursinus.

A busy season is concluded as the Meistersingers don formal attire and present a varied program before the student body in the Annual Spring Concert.

The Meistersingers pose in front of their well-travelled bus and banner during the spring tour.

One of the musical traditions at Ursinus is the male quartet which is closely affiliated with the Meistersingers. Besides performing in concert with the Meistersingers, the quartet has a large amount of work of its own. The group services the College by presenting programs to campus organizations and alumni groups. Furthermore, the quartet gives the College a personal touch in concerts for church organizations and clubs throughout the area.

One of the largest and most active organizations on the Ursinus campus is the Brownback-Anders Pre-Medical Society. The aim of the society is to give an insight into the diverse aspects of modern medicine and to foster the ideals of the practicing physician.

Under the able leadership of Dr. Wagner, noted physicians in various fields speak to the society. Trips are also made to medical schools and hospitals.

Believing that serious studies should be tempered with a little recreation, the society also sponsors an annual spring dinner dance.

beardwood chemical society

The Society offers interested students an affiliation with the American Chemical Society and an opportunity to learn more about the practical aspects of chemistry. Monthly meetings featured a movie on the steel industry, a talk on "Chemicals from Ursinus Labs" by Dr. Staiger, and a discussion on "Jets, Rockets, Missiles, and Satellites" by Mr. Polishuk. During the year plant trips were taken, one of which was to Merck, Sharp and Dohme. The year concluded with a dinner meeting to which the alumni were also invited.

the 1958 ruby

Ruth Petraitis and Eugene Morita, Photography.

Hoping to present to the readers of the 1958 Ruby a pictorial record combined with much of the current thought about the student and his present and future role in the world, the co-editors have added a number of features in their attempt to attain this objective.

Besides the help of the indispensable literary staff the Ruby was greatly aided by the untiring effort of the efficient and capable business staff. Our staffs have enabled us to present what we hope is a more encompassing book which has caught some of all the aspects of our campus community. It may seem superfluous to name some of these additions but we feel that the modern type and artwork, the additional pictures, and the supplementary prose do capture the whole Ursinusiana.

literary staff

The literary magazine of Ursinus has a twofold purpose—to give interested persons a medium for literary expression, and to present works of exceptional merit in the fields of both poetry and prose. By publishing articles on a wide variety of topics, this publication has attained a diversity that appeals to many different types of readers. The Lantern staff endeavors to produce a magazine that is readable and of high quality, and has made considerable progress toward this end during the past year.

Open to all students interested in dramatics, the Curtain Club presents during the Ursinus theatre season a number of plays and other theatrical activities. Beginning the year with the annual reception at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Helfferich, this dramatic organization presents a number of one-act productions as well as the two three-act plays, one of which is presented in the fall and the other on May Day week-end.

The Curtain Club affords an opportunity to learn all aspects of dramatics including acting, staging, directing, producing, costumes, and makeup. Any student may become a member through actual participation in any of this myriad of activities.

Membership in the Delta Tau cast of Alpha Psi Omega, the national dramatic fraternity, is recognition of outstanding service in all aspects of college dramatics. The group helps to further all dramatic activities and serves on the casting committee for the Fall and Spring productions. This year the fraternity built the set for Ten Little Indians and participated in much of the acting, directing, and advising of the season's presentations. During the second semester the group witnessed West Side Story.

During the fall Alpha Psi gained four new members: Katrinka Schnable, Mary Ellen Seyler, Philip Rowe, and Norman Abramson. Additional members were taken in during the spring. Faculty sponsors of the fraternity include Dr. and Mrs. Helfferich, Mr. H. Lloyd Jones, and Mr. Geoffrey Dolman.

The discovery of Wargrave—"Five little Indian boys sitting in a row, One got in Chancery, and then there were four."

This year the Curtain Club successfully presented as its main fall production the thrilling mystery drama, Ten Little Indians, by the well-known Agatha Christie. Aably directed by H. Lloyd Jones, faculty director, and Angie McKey, student director, this play featured James Terry, Valerie Cross, and Robert Gilgor in the main roles.

group productions

The Curtain Clubbers are given an additional opportunity to exercise their talents in the numerous group productions. The season opened with two presentations: a one-act play, The Shirkers, directed by Norman Abramson and Beverly Glodfelter, and including in the cast Philip Rowe, David Williams, and Diana Vye; and a dramatic reading from Cyrano de Bergerac, directed by Katrinka Schnabel, and Philip Rowe, featuring Carolyn Dearnaley, William Hoffman, and Allen Matusow.

During the spring term two more group productions were presented.

closer than organizational ties, deeper and longer lasting than dormitory life is the fraternity or sorority experience. rather than the casual association which much of college life affords is the brother or sister relationship which continues long after graduation. bringing a warm camaraderie and light-hearted fellowship to the campus, fraternities and sororities furnish most of the college's social life and draw students together in a very real way. every activity, each orphan's party, the closed stag, the rushing season, hazing, and the reception of new members make the sense of brotherhood and sisterhood an element of increasing meaning.

Both these councils were formed to foster brotherhood and cooperation among the fraternities and among the sororities, to establish rules for all activities, and to settle any disputes.

Last year the I.F.C. sponsored the first I.F.C. weekend. This year the council sponsored a bigger and better weekend by using the dynamic ideas of the present council. One of the interesting events of the spring semester is the interfraternity track meet, which creates a feeling of brotherhood and friendship through competitive spirit. The I.S.C. sponsored a penny carnival for the benefit of the campus chest.

The I.F.C. and the I.S.C. are continually trying to improve the campus social life and to create a mutual respect, not only for the fraternities and sororities, but also for many of the other campus organizations.

nobody has ever been able to say what sport is, but life would hardly be the same without it. sport is not all things to all people, but today it is something in more different ways to more people than it has ever been before. it is play for many and work for a few. it is what no one has to do and almost everyone wants to do. it is exercise and rest. it is man exuberant and man content. sport is not art or religion, morals or ideals. but with all of these it shares values which are at least humanly high and always highly human.

This year the Bruins suffered their most disappointing football campaign in several years, finishing with a 2-6 record for the season. The gridgers took their two victories early in the season and had mild hopes of an undefeated year when the asian flu and other unforeseen circumstances allowed them to score only three touchdowns to their opponents' nineteen throughout the remainder of the season.

The Bears opened their 1957 campaign edging a strong Susquehanna eleven, 6-0, on two field goals by captain Bob Famous. The second week-end brought a morale-raising win over Drexel, 12-6, that placed center Bob Petersen on the All East team of the week.

Their first defeat came hard as the Bears fell to a 39-0 romp by Wilkes College before a large homecoming crowd. Bob Famous was awarded the Kenneth E. Walker trophy at the close of the game. The grid contest scheduled at Swarthmore was canceled on account of the flu conditions. The long trip to Staten Island met with the second straight shutout against the Bears when Wagner College copped a 13-0 victory.

The losing streak continued into November when the Ursinus eleven fell under, 19-6, to Haverford College and freshman Bob Ortman. Dick Dickerson and Mike Drewniak led the Bruin attack. Chris Rohm climaxed his football career for the "Red, Old Gold, and Black" in the contest with Lebanon Valley when he scored on a ninety-one yard touchdown pass and run. The Ursinus attack fell short in a 13-7 final score.

The season ended when an undefeated Juniata squad sent home the Bruins with a 42-7 defeat. Tackle Bill Rogers scored the first touchdown of his career after picking up a loose fumble.

During the first days of December, hopes were high for our Bruin courtmen. After suffering a backbreaking 0-18 record last year, the Ursinus cagers returned to open their 1957-1958 campaign with a well-deserved win over Rutgers of South Jersey, 67-52. The victory streak ended here. Seventeen losses followed. Under the experienced hand of Coach Paul Zdanowicz, the Bears put their all into every game in hopes that they would again meet victory. They came close, losing to Haverford, 66-63, Philadelphia Pharmacy, 71-69, and Delaware, 83-78. After suffering eleven straight defeats, the Bears still managed to trouble the Blue Hens of Delaware, tying the score at 72-72 with minutes remaining.

Junior "Inky" Wagner and sophomore Jim Wenhold led the Bruins in scoring, both averaging 13.8 points per game. Wenhold also led in rebounds with 9.7 per game, supported by seniors Dick Chern and Bill Delany.

At midpoint in the season added talent appeared in the form of freshmen Glen Snyder and John Detweiler, who filled the vacancies left by Wayne Williams and Tom Winchester at midsemester.

j. v. basketball

Under the watchful eye of Coach Curt Coull, the J.V. basketball team showed constant improvement throughout the campaign this year. The junior cagers, led by 6'4" freshman Dennis Gould and sophomore "Ding" Andrews, were much more impressive than their 3-12 record indicated. The squad copped their three wins early in the season, defeating Philadelphia Pharmacy, Haverford, and Swarthmore. Then came the loss of freshmen Glen Snyder and John Detweiler who were deemed more advantageous to the varsity. Showing great promise for the future were freshmen Jay Heckler, Larry Habgood, and Dave Emery.

Wrestling again stole the spotlight on sports this year, as it has in recent years. Led by Coach Kuhrt Wieneke and captain Jack Prutzman, the matmen went on to compile their most impressive record in several years, 6-1.

Both Prutzman (157) and sophomore heavyweight Wally Nielson went undefeated during season, with Prutzman going on to take a second place in the M.A.C. Championships. Nielson, also unscored upon during the season, managed to place fifth in his division.

Seniors Hal Redden (137) and Don Hartman (167) ended their collegiate wrestling careers with impressive records of 4-2 and 5-1 respectively. Both boys were eliminated in the M.A.C. semi-finals. Seniors Ed Marshall (123), Mark Weand (147), and Dick Blood (177) did more than their share in their highly competitive divisions, while sophomore Bobby Turnbull (130) added his 3-4 slate to the winning cause.

The loss of freshmen Pete Smith (147) and heavyweight Paul Simpson through ineigibility possibly prevented the undefeated season.

The Ursinus baseball squad entered the 1958 campaign confident of another winning season under coach Sieb Pancoast. Six lettermen returned to the squad, headed by captain Bob Famous; they consisted of juniors Wally Christ, Inky Wagner and Wayne Williams, and sophomores Jim Wenhold and Ed Savastio.

The offense was mainly centered around Famous, Christ, and Wenhold, while Dick Chern, Jack Haag, and Lynn Drummond handled the brunt of the pitching. A host of freshmen also helped the Bears in producing another outstanding team which started the season hoping to better its 11-7 record of last year.

The soccer season ended with a disappointing 3-8 record, but the scores were not indicative of the caliber of soccer displayed. The booters just lacked the finesse to score. Considering the difficult schedule, the Bakermen must be admired. Of the twenty-three league teams, Ursinus had games scheduled with such schools as Swarthmore, Drexel, and Franklin and Marshall which were in the first, second, and third places, respectively, in the Southern Division. Games were also played against Rutgers and Stevens which were in the first and fourth slots, respectively, in the Northern Division. Led by Captain Ken Grundy, the booters held Rutgers to a 1-0 score and frightened Swarthmore with a 2-2 halftime tie. The line, with Bob Angstadt getting five goals, Ben Settles four, and Ken Grundy and Ed Brookes three each, netted sixteen goals, while the opposition tallied thirty-one.

Paced by captain Ken Buggeln, the Ursinus cindermen awaited the opening of the track season with a great deal of optimism. Coach Ray Gruzynski welcomed seven lettermen back to the squad along with other hopeful candidates and promising freshmen.

Buggeln has excelled in dashes and middle-distance runs during his first three years, now holding school records in the 220 and the 440. The loss of weightman Bob Carney at midsemester severely weakened chances of a winning season.

Outstanding performances were noted by seniors Mark Weand, Warren North, Dick Dickerson, and Dick Brittain; juniors Bill McQuoid and Rudy Dipple; sophomores Bob Brumfield, Bob Petersen, and Lynn Graburn; and freshman Vern Morgan.

The 1958 tennis team coached by Sidney Quinn hopes to better its 5 won and 5 lost record of last year. The nucleus of the team will be centered around returning lettermen Art Martella, Robert Gilgor, and Eugene Morita. Ed Clisby, Phil Rowe, and Boris Broz should give the team additional support. With a few new prospects in the lineup, the team should have a successful season.

The girls' varsity hockey team, captained by senior Pat Woodbury, posted another winning season with a record of 5-1-1. They opened the year with a big win over Temple, the strongest team that the "Belles" met during the season. The only loss was to West Chester, 1-0. The strong West Chester defense proved to be too much for the Ursinus line which was hampered by sickness and inexperience.

The "Belles" made Ursinus proud by placing eight girls on the All College teams. Later four of these eight players distinguished themselves further by earning positions on the All Philadelphia teams: Alice Irwin and Pat Woodbury, Philadelphia II; and Ingie Reiniger and Sue Wagner, Philadelphia III.

All of the team showed the pep and drive which led to the ever present will to win and to improve over each previous game.

The freshman class was the main composite of this year's team, although the upperclassmen gave the team the added experience necessary and depth for winning. Despite the many obstacles met by a new team, the jayvees showed an impressive record of more wins than losses. It is felt that with their ability and experience the varsity next year will again have the material for a winning team. The team was captained by Gogo Alexander, who displayed good potential as a forward. The team progressed rapidly and did a good job of working towards preparing themselves to play varsity basketball next year.

Depending mainly on the five returning players Rene Rawcliffe, Pat Woodbury, Susie Wagner, Alice Irwin, and Gail Snyder, the basketball team developed into a well organized unit. The highlight of the season was the weekend trip to Poughkeepsie, New York, for the game with the girls of Vassar College. The Belles showed their spirit and determination in beating Beaver after losing their only game to them last year. Despite the fact of losing the first game, the Belles surged back to a winning team once more with a more than satisfactory record. Although the Stroudsburg game was a disappointing loss, also the team was rejuvenated and was able to bounce back again to do a good job. It is felt that the combination of Miss Snell's coaching and the team's spirited efforts produced a good season again this year.

Captain Merle Syvertsen and Coach B. Ruhr talk over the season after a close meet.

The 1957-1958 swimming team, coached by Mrs. Beverly Ruhr, made up for its small size with a large amount of spirit and determination. The return of veteran undergraduates and the addition of two freshmen to the team made possible a very successful season and provided the basis for building an even stronger team for next year.

Outstanding team members were freshman Doris Schachterle, Ann Irish, and Tama Williams in freestyle; Kathy Scheffley and captain Merle Syvertsen in breaststroke; Merle and Linda Wolf in backstroke; Jackie Robbins and Linda in butterfly breaststroke; Judy Berry and Stevie Nichols in diving; Merle, Linda and freshman Fritzi Lanan in the 75 yard medley; and Ann, Tama, Jackie, and Doris in the 200 yard freestyle relay.

The 1958 Ursinus softball squad began the spring campaign hampered by the loss of three outstanding players who held last year the important positions of catcher, second baseman, and short fielder.

Four returning varsity players, Pat Woodbury, Mary Schulz, Gail Snyder, and Susie Wagner, formed the nucleus for this season's Ursinus ten, and training and practice by the newer members under the capable instruction of Coach Eleanor Snell quickly filled the vacated positions. The Belles had an eventful though limited schedule against such opposition as West Chester, East Stroudsburg, and Reading.

tennis

The 1958 girls' tennis team, trying to equal last year's undefeated season, began early practice. The team, coached by Jen Shillingford, was fortunate in having six returning varsity players: Captain Carol LeCato, Rene Rawcliffe, Bunny Alexander, Jeanne LeCato, Sandy Rinehart, and Joanne Scholl. The successful season was greatly aided by the added power of freshmen Carol Heffelfinger and Georgia Alexander. The team worked hard and displayed the necessary drive and spirit which adds up to a winning team.

The Badminton team was under the supervision of Jen P. Shillingford. This year's squad having lost four of its varsity players tried hard to equal last years' undefeated season. Freshman Carol Heffelfinger, junior Bunny Alexander and sophomore Sandy Rinehart added spark and power to the returning varsity players including Carol and Jeanne LeCato, Carol Williamson, and captain Liz Wheeler. A highlight of the season was the defeat of Swarthmore on their home court—the first time this has happened for approximately eight years.

The 1958 lacrosse season showed a larger membership than in any other year since its introduction into the athletic program in 1955. Those returning from last year's varsity were seniors Sue Justice and Pat Woodbury; juniors Liz Wheeler, Tama Williams, and captain Alice Irwin; and sophomores Judy Brinton, Lucy Magness, and Susie Wagner. Several freshmen were able to fill the positions left by last year's seniors.

Another game was added to the schedule this spring making a total of four. The climax of the season was a trip to Goucher College.

varsity club

The Varsity Club this year was composed of sixty-two members, all of whom were Ursinus athletes who have earned a varsity letter in an intercollegiate sport. Officers of the organization were William Rogers, president; Hal Redden, vice-president; Robert Famous, secretary; and Walter Christ, treasurer.

This year was another successful one for the Varsity Club, from the organizing and selling of football programs to the spring show presented in combination with the W.A.A.

The Women's Athletic Association, the governing body of girls' athletics at Ursinus College, was led this year by Sue Justice. One of the main purposes of this organization is to stimulate interest and participation in girls' sports. A doggie roast was held in the college woods in the fall for freshmen. The "Shuffle" and the WAA Show were very successful events this year. The WAA activities end with an annual banquet given in the Spring when recognition is given for contributions to girls' athletics at Ursinus.

The majorette squad this year was composed of five girls under the leadership of Merle Syvertsen.

Marching at both the games and the post-game parades, the majorettes clad in their red, old gold, and black uniforms, helped to lend color and sparkle to the football season at Ursinus.

The twirling squad participated in the band formations and one of the highlights of their activities was the fire-twirling exhibitions which were presented by Sally Leshner.

S. Leshner, S. Eikner, C. Mallick, and M. Syvertsen.

During the football season the band helps to create a livelier school spirit, and in the spring of the year it prepares for the spring concert which is presented on May Day. This year the band was under the student directorship of Samuel Fogal with Wayne Kressley as field marshal. Although the band is small in size, it has a great deal of quality and is known as one of the better small bands in this area. At present the band is undertaking the project of obtaining new uniforms for the future.

The cheerleaders, headed this year by co-captains Hal Redden and Joan Martin, do their share to help build school spirit and to support the Ursinus teams. Shouts of "Fight, Bears, Fight" and " 'U' With a 'U' " can be heard rain or shine at every gridiron and court contest. Our peppy cheerleaders are an enthusiastic and attractive part of our sports scene as they lead the student cheering at the various athletic events.

"... when the saints go marchin' in."

The Spirit Committee is always on the job from the beginning of the football season to the last inning of the baseball season. Dances, pep rallies, pep tags, and ribbons are the main ways in which the committee helps to foster enthusiasm. This year money was raised by the group for its special project, "New color guard uniforms or bust." As one of the most active organizations on campus, the Spirit Committee lives up to its ideal of maintaining high spirit at Ursinus College.

one of the outstanding romantic poets mirrored the thoughts of a great many students when he called books a dull and endless strife. of course, this statement of intellectual heresy is not wholly true, but the need for relaxation is unmistakable, and the college answers it in an open manner. traditional events, social functions, and the casual get-togethers which mean so much to every student round out the college experience in a way in which pure academic pursuit is unqualified to do, and these activities add to the personality that essential facet which will carry the student beyond the here and now.

Homecoming—highlight of the fall season at Ursinus as the Old Timers revisited many of the familiar landmarks. At the Wilkes-Ursinus game and at the sorority luncheons, numerous friendships were renewed and faded memories were made alive once more. After the football game, at which Bob Famous was awarded the Kenneth Walker Memorial trophy as the outstanding football player, most of the grads attended the open house in the new girls' dormitory. Most of the Old Timers and students continued their homecoming celebrations at various fraternity functions or private parties, ending the day's activities at the annual homecoming dance in the Thompson-Gay gymnasium where Gayle Livingston was crowned Homecoming Queen.

Christmas is one of the happiest times at Ursinus and is the reason for many fond memories . . . a determined and spirited performance of the Messiah . . . crisp winter wind and the fresh smell of pine in the dorms . . . soft candlelight reflecting the warm glow of happy and contented faces . . . a twinkling, beckoning tree and a familiar looking Santa Claus . . . sometimes off key but beautiful caroling by the men of Ursinus . . . sleepy-eyed girls at an all-night dorm party . . . and the feeling of true friendship lasting through the years.

As Bud Rader played, we danced at our Senior Prom, "Knight of Nights," amid the decorations artfully arranged by Lois Molitor and Al Hutchko. The date of December 13, 1957, turned out to be a most lucky day, and every escort at Sunnybrook resembled the swash-buckling knight placed in the center of the floor. Dr. Helfferich escorted the Lord and Lady of the Ball, Tom Bennignus and Joan Martin, to their thrones, and shortly afterwards Dr. Staiger announced the permanent class officers. The Senior Ball was certainly a night to remember.

On February 21, the women of Ursinus feted their escorts at the annual Lorelei. True to tradition the women paid the expenses incurred during the evening and also made corsages for their dates. In a silver and pink Sunnybrook Ballroom, Bobby Dale and his orchestra provided the music, and a carousel with four hearts and cupids adorned the center of the floor. The King of the Lorelei and the new members of the Whitians were also announced.

the junior prom

We shall never forget "Fantasia," our Junior Prom, which was held on April 12, 1957, at Sunnybrook. The ballroom sparkled with pink angel hair, and a castle with blinking lights beckoned to all of us from the center of the floor, as we danced to the music of Bud Rader. Val Spencer was crowned Queen by Dr. Pancoast, and Hal Redden, Connie Hoover, Bill Montgomery, Ken Grundy, and Tom Bennisnus were announced as the new members of Cub and Key.

may day 1957

Magical Make-Believe was the title of last year's May Pageant. It was presented by the women of Ursinus on May 11 under the capable management of Marge Struth and the direction of Connie Poley. It featured such lovable fairyland characters as Snow White, Cinderella, Raggedy Ann, and Alice in Wonderland, all acclaiming the beauty of the May Queen, Sonnie Smith, and her court. The Curtain Club's presentation of Sabrina Fair ended the day's festivities.

An hilarious melodrama, Gold in the Hills, was presented by the Senior Class on March 7 and 8 to raise money for the 1958 Ruby. Produced by Al Hutchko and directed by Angie McKey and Bob Gilgor, the melodrama featured Bob Quinn as the villain, Ken Grundy as his cohort, Gayle Livingston as the innocent farm girl, Joan Martin as her sister, Bill Montgomery as the father, Jane Mowrey as the housekeeper, C. Hoover as the honest-hearted sweetheart, Don Todd as the constable, and Tom Benningnus as the little boy; Ann Leger was the promptress. Between-the-acts entertainment was provided by Al Matusow, Don Todd, Tom Bennisnus, Hal Redden, Bops Jackson, and Carl Hassler. The Campus Chest campaign was aided by the successful annual Student-Faculty Show directed by Norm Abramson and Richard Schellhase and produced by Joan Schaefer. Fred Glauser, master of ceremonies, introduced a number of variety acts and skits including two faculty skits, Pilgrim's Progress and The Ballet of the Black Sneakers, and a fashion show presented by the day women. Dr. Miller auctioned off many offbeat articles such as a burlesque garter donated by Mr. Rafetto and Dr. Staiger's exclusive perfume blend. An innovation was the presentation of student awards to Dr. Stein, Father of the Year; Mr. Wilcox, Best-Dressed Faculty Member; Mr. Pettit, the Medical Award; and Mr. Schellhase, Bachelor of the Year. A number of outstanding speakers were brought to the Ursinus campus this year, and they presented many interesting and varied programs. The Forum Committee sponsored Sasha Siemal, the distinguished

The three recently completed dormitories for women at Ursinus College, dedicated on Founders' Day, Sunday, November 10, provide accommodations for approximately 250 students. The north building is named Paisley Hall in honor of Dr. Harry E. Paisley of Philadelphia, Chairman of the Board of Directors at Ursinus since 1910 and member of the Board since 1907 and his wife Carrie Strassburger Paisley. The east building is named in honor of the Reverend George A. Stauffer, Ursinus 1894, and his wife, Laura M. Stauffer, whose gifts over a number of years have enabled the College to erect this building. The west building is named Beardwood Hall in honor of Hannah Beardwood, the sister of Mathew Beardwood, M.D. and Sc.D., Professor of Chemistry at Ursinus from 1903 to 1940; Dr. Beardwood bequeathed a large part of his estate to Ursinus for a women's dormitory to be named in honor of his sister. A sizeable grant from the Pew Foundation was also used towards the construction of these buildings.

Each room, with its cheerful interior and modern furnishings, provides a pleasant atmosphere for work or leisure.

what is ursinus? it is more, much more than the pictorial record we have presented in the preceding pages, for much of our college life has been imbued with intangibles. our life as students has included a great deal besides the outward participation in classroom activity, athletic events, and campus activities—our years have also been a period of gaining maturity, a new outlook on life, and a deeper understanding of the persons and situations around us. it has been a time of joy and sorrow, fellowship and loneliness, and adventure and fear.

what are the elements that make ursinus unique, even as every other college campus has a distinctive personality made up of both tangible and intangible qualities?

for many of us our student life began in an aura of anxiety and excitement as freshman customs bore down upon us, and an overwhelming number of new experiences introduced us to the intangible ursinus. once again, let us ask ourselves what ursinus is.

the whole ursinus includes the conglomeration of emotions and experiences which have subtly molded us throughout our stay. ursinus is the hurried cup of coffee at morning coffee "clutches" and the daily rush to chapel. it's the quick hand of bridge at the supply store between classes, the chance conversation at a drug coffee break, and the all-night cram session before that big test. it's the lazy afternoon spent listening to records or reading and the quiet work on a snowy night or a starry spring evening. it's the bull session in the dorm lasting until the early morning hours—the occasional break from the everyday conversation of clothes, dates, courses, and complaints when we search for solutions to the unanswerable big questions of religion, ethics, and life as well as the more concrete problems of ourselves and our future, politics, and society.

fun and fellowship also play an important role in the composition of the intangible ursinus. as freshmen many of us enter into a different world of social events and fraternity parties. as we continue in our college career many of us become a part of the social clubs and enjoy the many good times together at a closed party, an orphan's party at christmas or easter, or just an informal get together with some of our members.

much of this joviality can also be found in dormitory life which may range from water fights to an impromptu party or a few moments of leisure spent in a gab session. and, of course, we shall never forget the many pranks and practical jokes played in the dorm or on the campus and the traditional snowball battles in front of freeland. for some of us fellowship has also been found through our participation in campus activities—the camaraderie engendered by working together for a common goal, whether it be found at a retreat, a curtain club presentation, or a musical rehearsal, can be one of the answers in our search for security and understanding.

ursinus, objectively, is a group of buildings housing facilities to produce, in accordance with certain charter principles, educated young adults. but ursinus, subjectively, can be much more, for during our years of college we can find, if we really desire to do so, the answers to many of our questions and the spirit of ursinus which we shall never forget in the future.

we are a small and compact college, away from the flurry of urban activity, and although we may lack the great museums and facilities of a large university, ursinus is a sustantial college devoted to an adequate preparation for the future. looking back upon our many memories of unforgettable experiences, we feel that we have gained something unique here, and we shall never forget the little things: ursinus in the autumn when the campus is ablaze with brilliant color, and the bewildered freshmen rush about in a maze of confusion and excitement while the other undergraduates start a new year filled with plans and aspirations; ursinus on a quiet wintry evening when the entire campus is covered with gleaming newly fallen snow, and the dormitory lights shining in the still night tell the story of work and play; and ursinus in the spring when the dogwoods are in bloom—the whole campus seems to spring to life again for the final fling of the year, and the seniors prepare to say good-bye to college years but will carry the spirit of ursinus with them throughout life.

we have attempted to show something of what ursinus has meant to us during these past four years. it has been an oftentimes selective world away from the erratic pulse of the present, but our experiences shall remain wonderful memories even as they become less vivid with each passing year.

our generation has witnessed the first decade of a new era. this age poses a challenge, for each one of us is faced with the potential for either unparalleled achievement or unequalled catastrophe. the graduate is about to enter this changing milieu equipped with some measure of acumen, and it is hoped a large degree of understanding.

man has made a start towards conquering space—we hope that we may participate successfully in the struggle to achieve peace and maintain freedom.
