WE DEDICATE THIS BOOK

Having lived, worked, and played at Ursinus for four years we have come to know and to love our school for its good qualities and in spite of its faults. The complaints we've had—the dozens of them—have perhaps been louder than our praise, but seldom as sincere.

By now we know the weaknesses of our school and don't pretend that it's perfect. But there is a feeling among everyone here which binds us together and makes us strive toward the goal of perfection. This unifying influence is the Spirit of Ursinus and to this we, the senior class of Ursinus College, dedicate our book. All those intangibles which combine to make our College distinctive—they are the Spirit of Ursinus. It is the feeling that we have become part of Ursinus and that Ursinus is now part of us—a feeling of belonging. Our proudest tradition is the tradition of friendliness, and we are equally proud of the feeling we have that the faculty and administration are working for and not against us.

TO THE SPIRIT OF URSINUS

The way we cheered for number 11 . . . the work we did on committees without saying much . . . the way we yelled ourselves blue in the face and didn't leave the bleachers even though our feet were freezing . . . the times we helped the other fellow because he had to pass that test . . . the pep tags . . . the short talks between classes with the pros who bent over backwards to be fair . . . the Spirit Committee and the hours and hours they worked . . . the Wednesday off before finals . . . these are some of the things we mean when we say we don't need the help of Winston or Webster to make our College sound good. It has Spirit and we're proud of it.

ADMINISTRATION

DR. NORMAN EGBERT McCLURE, PH.D., LITT.D., L.H.D.

Ursinus is most fortunate to have at the head of its administration Dr. McClure and Mr. Helfferich, who not only devote themselves wholeheartedly and successfully to their administrative duties, but also actively participate in the college life. The positions of President and Vice-President of a college are offices of constant, time-consuming, and often thankless labor, yet there is no lack of contact between these two men and the students.

Many of us have had occasion to talk with Dr. McClure in his office or at his pleasant Collegeville home and to benefit from his thoughtful advice. He is appreciated and respected by every Ursinus student.

Also familiar is the busy figure of Mr. Helfferich, who finds time from his many official duties to direct the productions of the Curtain Club and give the benefits of his legal knowledge to the Pre-Legal Society.

DONALD L. HELFFERICH, Esq., LL.B.

Much credit is due Dean Clawson for his untiring efforts in conducting many of the important and necessary administrative functions of the college. Not only does he perform the innumerable duties expected of a Dean, but in addition he assumes the responsible position of professor of mathematics so that his curriculum is one of varied activity. Advisor to the entire student body, he is in contact with all phases of the college life and must endeavor to regulate them as he considers best. One of our most capable administrators, Dean Clawson is an outstanding figure on the college scene.

Dean of the College

JOHN WENTWORTH CLAWSON, Sc.D.

OUR LEADERS AND ADVISORS

Miss Camilla B. Stahr and Mr. G. Sieber Pancoast fill vital positions as Dean of Women and Dean of Men at Ursinus College. To help the students solve their individual problems of adjustment and to direct their personal life in the college dormitories require the Deans' undivided attention. Every women graduate will always remember Dean Stahr's kind understanding and her able guidance, while the men will recall Dean Pancoast's helpful influence in rendering their college life more happy and successful.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Although educational work on the Ursinus College grounds had been started as early as 1832 with the establishment of Todd's school, it was not until 1869 that the present institution opened its doors. The founding of this college was the work of a group of men who desired an institution for the liberal education of the youth of the land under the benign influence of Christianity. With this purpose in mind, they chose the name of Zacharius Ursinus for the college. Ursinus, of the University of Heidelberg, had been one of the most distinguished reformers and scholars of the period as well as the author of the Heidelberg Catechism.

The Act of Incorporation under which Ursinus College is conducted was granted February 5, 1869 and instruction was begun the following year. It was not until 1881, however, that the institution admitted women for instruction.

The present officers of the corporation are Dr. Harry E. Paisley, president; Dr. Thomas E. Brooks, first vice-president; Dr. Francis J. Gildner, second vice-president; Mr. Ralph F. Wismer, secretary-treasurer; Mr. D. Sterling Light, assistant secretary, and:

In Memoriam

It is with deep regret that we commemorate the passing of Mrs. K. S. Jacobson on August 20, 1950. Better known as "Mrs. J." to the student body, she served Ursinus College as a preceptress for five years. With her friendly smile and pleasant greeting, she was a familiar sight on the campus.

Although in poor health for a year before her death, she continued to return to her duties between periods of hospitalization. We sadly note the passing of an able worker and a fine woman.

CLASSES

Dan, active in many fields, led our class through the problems of planning and giving a senior prom. He was the leader also while we sketched RUBY ideas and experimented with money-making projects to pay for the Annual. His duties were never at an end until graduation ceremonies were over. Dan kept class meetings moving at a lively pace by using the "appointed volunteer" system.

OUR PAST IS NOW AN OPEN BOOK

Seniors, now, and—reluctantly—almost “safe in the wide wide world.” Four years have passed and, for most, they have been good, fast-moving years.

Amid the confusion of green bands and dinks we added our enthusiasm to the growing spirit of Ursinus. In spite of “Queen Katie’s” valiant efforts, we survived the first few weeks to band into a strong class unity. We published our own newspaper, The Hi-Lights of '51, brought Ursinus’ bear to the football field, printed the “Campus Song” and cheers, and sought in vain for an appropriate “Alma Mater.” Under the capable guidance of Floyd Justice we closed our first year with a dance in the beautifully disguised T. G. gym.

As Sophomores we enjoyed Ursinus’ first “class week-end”: a “Mardi Gras” dance, Saturday night banquet and private party in Norristown. Our class and school spirit rose even higher through the efforts of the 51’ers, our own quartet, who were soon much in demand.

Don Stauffer presided over our impetuous class in '49-'50. A new chapel regulation disillusioned us all. The Spirit Committee began working overtime, and Don Young continued his marvel-man feats on the football field. Margie Justice reigned on Old Timers’ Day. Combined hard work, ingenuity and artistry readied Sunnybrook for “April Showers,” our prom in pastel. Marilyn Miller made a charming queen.

During our all-important year Dan Bomberger took the reins. The “Destiny Team” gave us many a thrill as the school rallied behind the cheerleaders. The night was clear for our “Snow Ball”! Practice teachers slaved through the semester, skimmed through exams. “Mac” McPherson switched judicial duties to preside over the May Court. Remember the '51’ers on TV . . . the final evacuation of the Annex . . . “Dusty Halo” and “Speak Easy”? Only the boys leaving for the service dampened our enthusiasm for an otherwise successful and memorable year. And on June 4, we became alumni of the Ursinus College Class of 1951.

FIVE YEAR STUDENTS

ROBERT J. CALLAHAN, JR.

CHESTER J. HILGER

RONALD R. LANDES

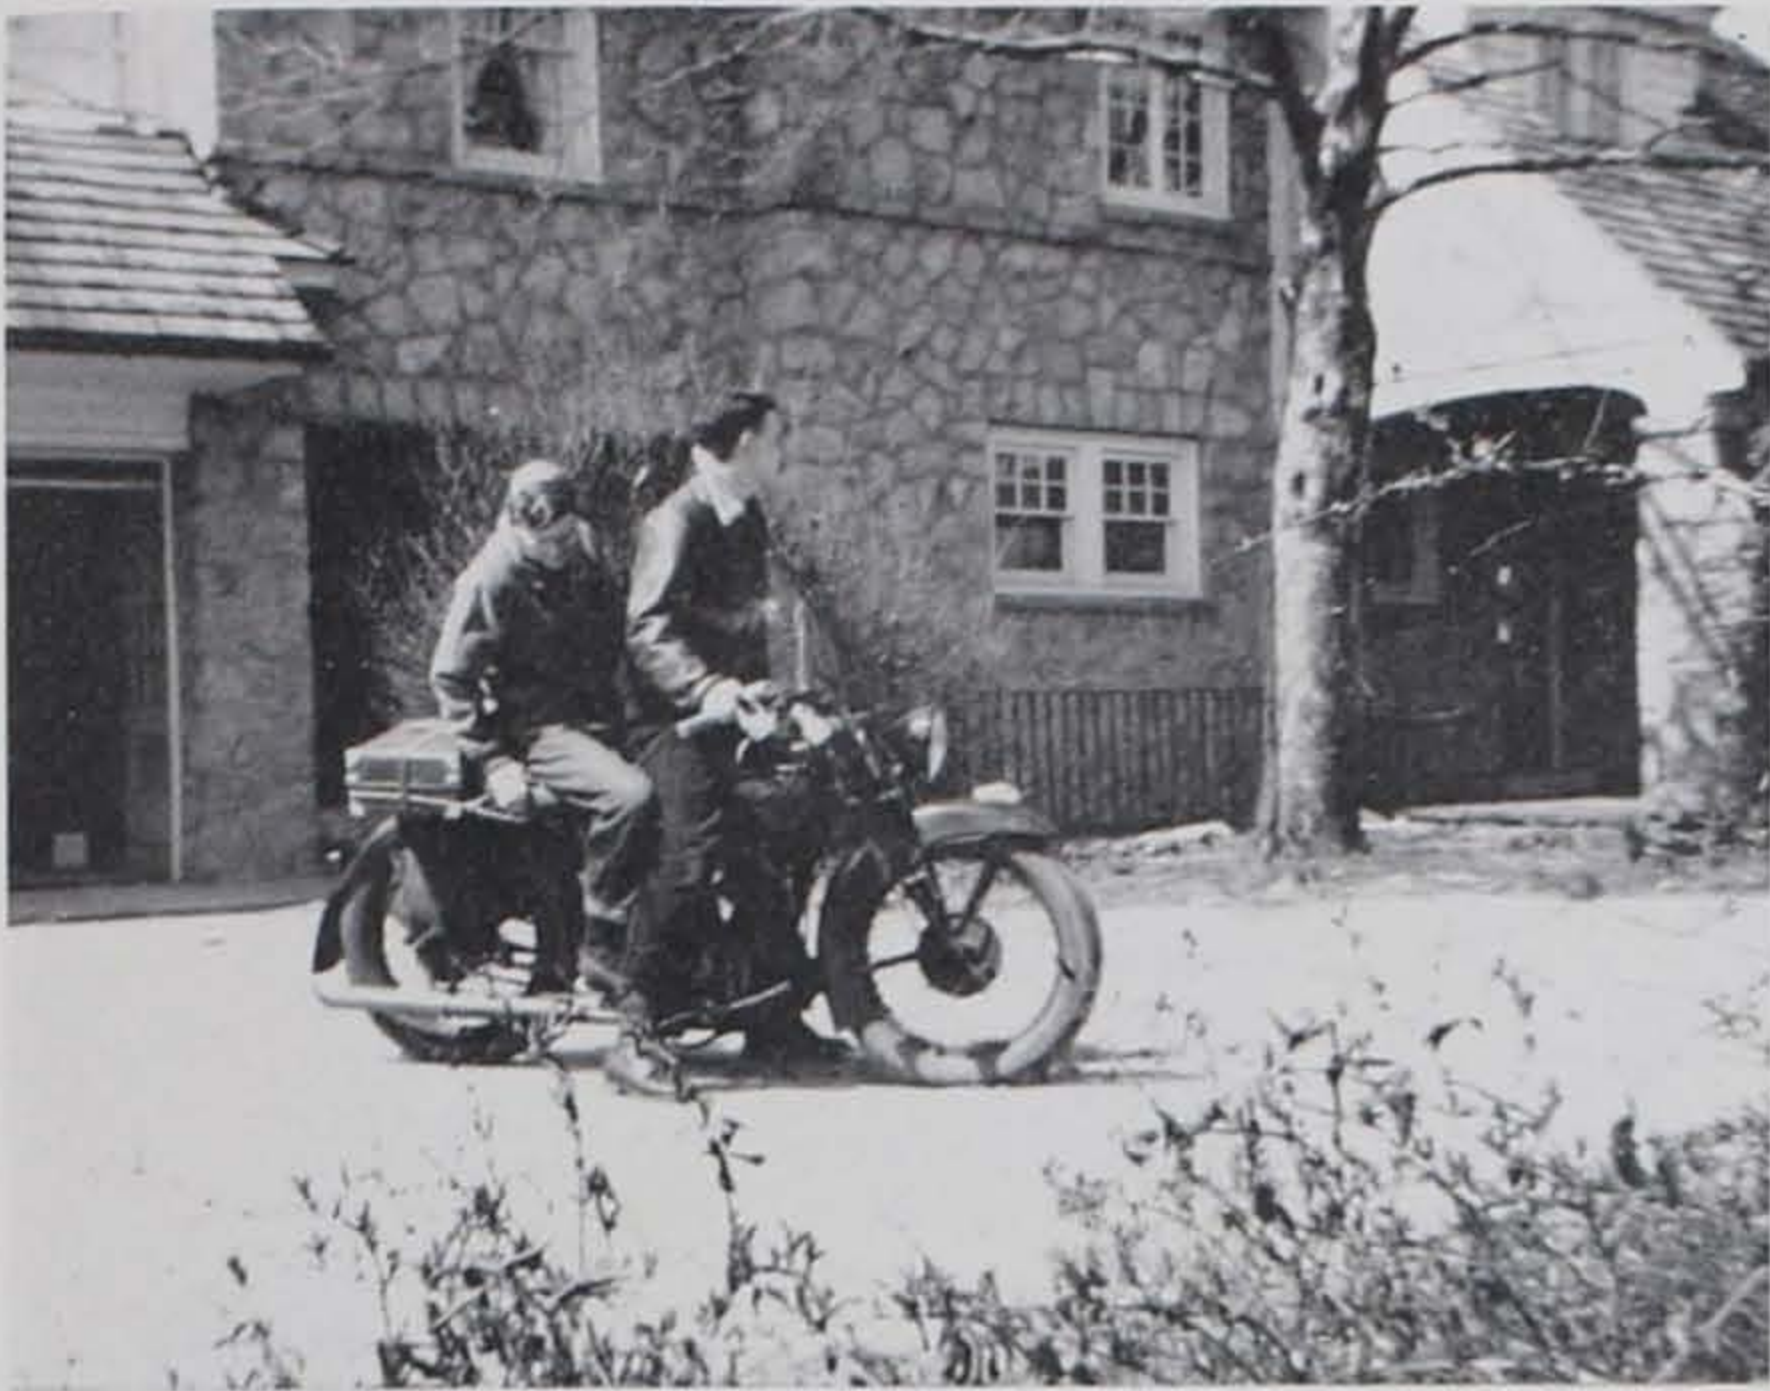

Three students, Robert J. Callahan, Jr., Chester J. Hilger, and Ronald R. Landes, comprise the first fifth year class at Ursinus. The newly instituted program, which provides the equivalent of a Master's degree after five years of study, enables prospective teachers to be certified in districts requiring more than four years of college preparation.

Robert J. Callahan, Ursinus '50, comes from Elkins Park, Pennsylvania. A diligent student and a fine friend, "Bob" is now headed for a career in the teaching field with social studies and biology as his specialties. As an undergraduate at Ursinus "Bob" was loyal to Beta Sig fraternity and was also active in the Pre-med society.

Chester J. Hilger, Ursinus '50, is extending his graduate studies over a number of years. A married veteran, "Chet" is studying physical education in the expectation of teaching when he receives his M.S. "Chet" will long be remembered as the warm-hearted trainer of all men's athletic organizations. He is numbered among the ZX brotherhood.

Ronald R. Landes, a physical education major with two years of coaching experience behind him, was outstanding as an undergraduate on Ursinus' football and baseball teams. Twice a father, "Lefty" presided the Varsity Club and ZX, and collected Cub and Key and Who's Who honors. At the completion of his courses here, "Lefty", too, plans to teach.

CLASS OFFICERS

Juniors! and the goal is in sight. Memories and anticipation combine as we near the long-awaited climax—our senior year.

The beginning was stormy. We sang and swayed under the reign of Soph Rules until we could seek a dubious shelter at the Freshman Banquet only to be pelted not much later by a merciless hail of final exams. The "Stardust Ball" brought clear weather and moonlight—the first of many successful activities.

"Petite Marguerite" and the "Most Noble Sir" deluged the Frosh with diabolical Soph devices while Prexy Bob Henderson directed our enthusiasm toward a colorful Mystery Ball and a slightly water-logged hayride. Our romantic daydreams floated us through spring fever in a "Velvet Mood," and with our last final, we knew we had somehow bridged the first half of our college career.

We wandered upon unknown sandy shores at our Junior "Shipwreck Dance." "Cafe Pigalle," with its floor show, dreamy music and dim lights, carried us to gay Paris. An early start on the RUBY, another exciting Christmas season, and then our attention centered on our biggest and best, the Junior Prom. Finals, summer, and then—Seniors!

SOPHOMORE CLASS

TOWNSEND, secretary, FEULNER, president, FISHER, treasurer.

Mighty Sophs—past our “foolish years” and ready for the second lap.

Bewilderment was our byword in our new roles as freshmen. Strange faces, rules galore, teas and exams whirled us through the first confusing weeks and set us down in a lusty Frosh cheering section at exciting but disappointing football games. By semester's end we could recite the bones and muscles of the frog backwards and forwards. Remember spring? Cinderella was queen of our “Fantasy Ball” and we were proud of the precedent we set. It was good to go home for summer vacation . . .

But we were glad to return in our elevated status as sophomores—with a new outlook, more social privileges and our own “Jolly Jo-Jo.” Under President Harry Feulner we planned our first activity of the year—a hayride—and shivered our way to social success. Transformed into a dreamworld, the gymnasium responded to our touch at the spring semi-formal. More fun, more tests and home again till fall.

FRESHMAN CLASS

CLARK, president, FRIEDLIN, secretary, MALIKEN, treasurer.

*"We are the fresh-men of this here col-lege,
They sent us he-e-re to get some know-ledge . . ."*

We moved in bag and baggage, thoroughly puzzled by the myriad activities of meeting deans and roommates, unpacking voluminous luggage, and deciphering mystifying regulations.

Before long, though, we had our directions straight: all roads led to Freshman Customs meetings. "Jolly Jo-Jo" put us through our paces and we really came into our own at the Freshman show. Ursinus found that our talents exceeded coke peddling and dink modeling.

Our newly-elected president, Jeff Clark, came out of hiding in time for our Frosh banquet and memory-filled dance. Such frivolities were soon buried under the cares of history mid-semesters and chem labs. Vacation revived us only to thrust us under the merciless hammer of final exams. Another revival, and then our last fling—the Freshman dance in March. Soon—Sophs!

LANTERN

Ursinus' literary magazine, the Lantern, gives those students with a flair for writing a chance to see their brain children in print.

Compiled thrice yearly, the publication is made up of material culled over and finally selected by the editorial staff. Mr. Geoffrey Dolman acts as faculty moderator for the magazine, which provides interesting reading for the entire student body.

The Lantern's business staff collects the advertisements which supplement a yearly financial allotment from the Student Activities Fund.

THE 1951 RUBY

Aubre Givler and Nancy Bare
Co-editors

The most ambitious project of each senior class is the publication of the year-book. The RUBY recounts the activities of the college year in an annual of interest to the whole school.

Assisting the editors in their task this year were committee heads on whom fell much of the work of gathering material. Susanne Deitz and Dolores Meyers prepared the senior section. Patricia Richardson and Roger Drechsler worked on organizations. Norma Marmor and Murray Grove planned the features, and Jean Heron and Roy Foster drew up the sports section. Nancy Brasch and Richard McKey were in charge of the administration section. Marjorie Paynter headed the typing committee. Len Nestor supplied the drawings.

RUBY EDITORIAL STAFF

Avid use of many money-making tactics labeled the 1951 business committee as hustlers. They solicited ads, pleaded for patrons, sold Ruby subscriptions, hawked wares at football game concession stands, and sponsored several special features.

Pushed by dormitory representatives, Ruby sales moved slowly but steadily. Arthur Kretzschmar headed this campaign.

The ingenuity department, composed mainly of Murray Grove, Emile Schmidt and Joe Beardwood, wrote and produced two original stage shows, which helped boost finances toward the formidable $6000 goal. Dances in the gymnasium combined hard work with satisfactory results.

A brigade of typists aided in the mammoth task of contacting possible advertisers and patrons.

Angel Street kept us on the edge of our seats as suspense mounted in the Manningham household.

Chief among the Curtain Club's Fall activities this year was production of the suspenseful drama, Angel Street. The well-portrayed cast of characters included:

Mrs. Manningham ..... Jonni Graf
a bit confused

Mr. Manningham ..... Howard Roberts bitter and mysterious

Nancy ..... Marjorie Paynter cheeky and nineteen

Elizabeth ..... Susanne Deitz cockney and efficient

Rough ..... Emile Schmidt middle-aged detective

Bobbies .. Burnett Eddy, Richard Kiszonas arms of the law

Directed by Mr. D. L. Helfferich, the Curtain Club's ever patient and helpful advisor, the play proved to be a great success. As always, Mrs. D. L. Helfferich contributed endless time and energy to supervise constructions and furnishing of an authentic setting for the action.

Other Curtain Club activities for the year included one-act productions by the various groups into which the large organization is divided.

A gala Spring comedy on May Day weekend closed with a flourish the major Curtain Club undertakings for the school year.

A system of "raises" as rewards for work done on any phase of a dramatic presentation enables club members to rise from a status of "extra" to the highest rank, "star." The Delta Tau Chapter of Alpha Psi Omega, the national dramatic fraternity, has been established at Ursinus. "Stars" who can meet certain qualifications may be inducted into this honorary group.

THE 51'ers

Closely associated with all our memories of college will always be the close harmony and hilarious antics of the 51'ers. The four met during their freshman days at the Annex, and before long they had banded into a hill-billy string quartet known as the Perkiomen Valley Boys.

Soon much in demand as entertainers, they gradually changed their style into the mellow voices which characterize them now. In 1949, "mostly for laughs" the boys entered the Inter-collegiate Quartet Contest and won second place. The next step was membership in SPEBQSA (the Barber Shoppers).

With a repertoire of new songs and arrangements, their enthusiasm and talent awarded them two appearances this year on the "Stars in Your Eyes" TV show. For its professional name the quartet chose "The Notecrackers."

For their many achievements the student body extends congratulations, but for their irreplaceable contributions to the Ursinus spirit the students offer their sincere thanks.

New coach Ray Gurzynski talks things over with Captain Don Young.

Ray Gurzynski took over as head coach this year and predicted four victories for Ursinus. His prognostication went awry, but the two games the Bears won, coupled with a tie, made the '50 season the most successful since 1944. The Destiny Team gave everyone something to cheer about, and achieved a lot toward pulling Ursinus up and out of the doldrums of the past decade.

Drexel breezed past Ursinus in the opener. After Haverford won a close one and Dickinson romped, the Bears smothered Swarthmore and then gave us a holiday by beating the Seahawks of Wagner. There followed a decisive loss at the hands of F. & M. and the next week Ursinus entertained a new foe when Adelphi College came down from Long Island to win. In the finale the Bears had to come from behind to tie Susquehanna.

The high point of the campaign was undoubtedly the victory over Swarthmore. The Bruins led 21-0 at halftime, and, after two quick Garnet touchdowns, scored twice in the final period to win 35-14.

That game with the Crusaders was the last for ten seniors. The biggest hole was left by the smallest man, Don Young, who spent four years making trouble for the opposition. In that time he gained about 2,000 yards on the ground and in the air. Graduation also snapped up backs Gene Glick, Don Stauffer, and Bob Davis, and from the line it took Joe Walker, John Law, Herb Fry, Frank Lafferty, Bill Helfferich, and Steve Muench. Injuries kept two other seniors, Chick Scirica and Reed Watson, out of uniform.

Notable amid all the emphasis on football is the fact that Ursinus kept on playing the game just for the fun of it.

Guard

DON YOUNG
Captain and Halfback

GENE GLICK
Quarterback

Ten men walked off the field in the gathering dusk at Susquehanna, and into the dressing room to tug off their jerseys for the last time. Captain Don Young pulled off number 11, a jersey that will be hard to refill. Diminutive Don for four years has been one of the outstanding small-college runners and passers in this area.

Another senior is Bob Davis, who played only one year for the Bears, but who made it a good year. Gone from quarterback is Gene Glick who replaced the injured Young and master-minded the team through the remainder of the season. Also leaving us is Don Stauffer, a four-year man and the bulldozer of the backfield.

The biggest gap on the line is left by Bill Helfferich who spent four years at the center breaking up the opposition's plays. Steve Muench retires without scoring the touchdown he always hoped for. The entire right side of the line is weakened by the graduation of end, Joe Walker, tackle, Frank Lafferty, and guard, John Law. And "Old Reliable" Herb Fry will also be missing from the field next year.

"Chick" Scirica was sidelined with injuries and Reid Watson's bad neck kept him out of uniform, but he turned manager and helped out from that end.

SOCCER

It was another bad year for the soccer squad. Offense and defense couldn't click at the same time. When the forward wall pushed across a score, the defense cracked, and when the back-field tightened up, the attack bogged down.

The booters played their best game against Lincoln. Ursinus scored three times in the last quarter but couldn't quite tie it, and the game ended 5-4. The team had to be satisfied with a 2-2 deadlock against the Alumni.

The whole squad suffered a loss when Captain John Powell broke his foot in mid-October and was sidelined for the rest of the season.

BASKETBALL

Not too much was expected of the basketball team. Except for Bob Swett, six-foot-eight sophomore, there was none of the super-height that many think necessary for success. Jerry Seeders, however, disproved the theory that only tall men can win games, as he used a fast-break and occasionally a full-court press to win 10 and lose 8, and finish third in the league with 5 and 5.

The Bears racked up 1200 points to set a new offensive record for one season. Against Susquehanna they scored 102 points for a new one-game standard.

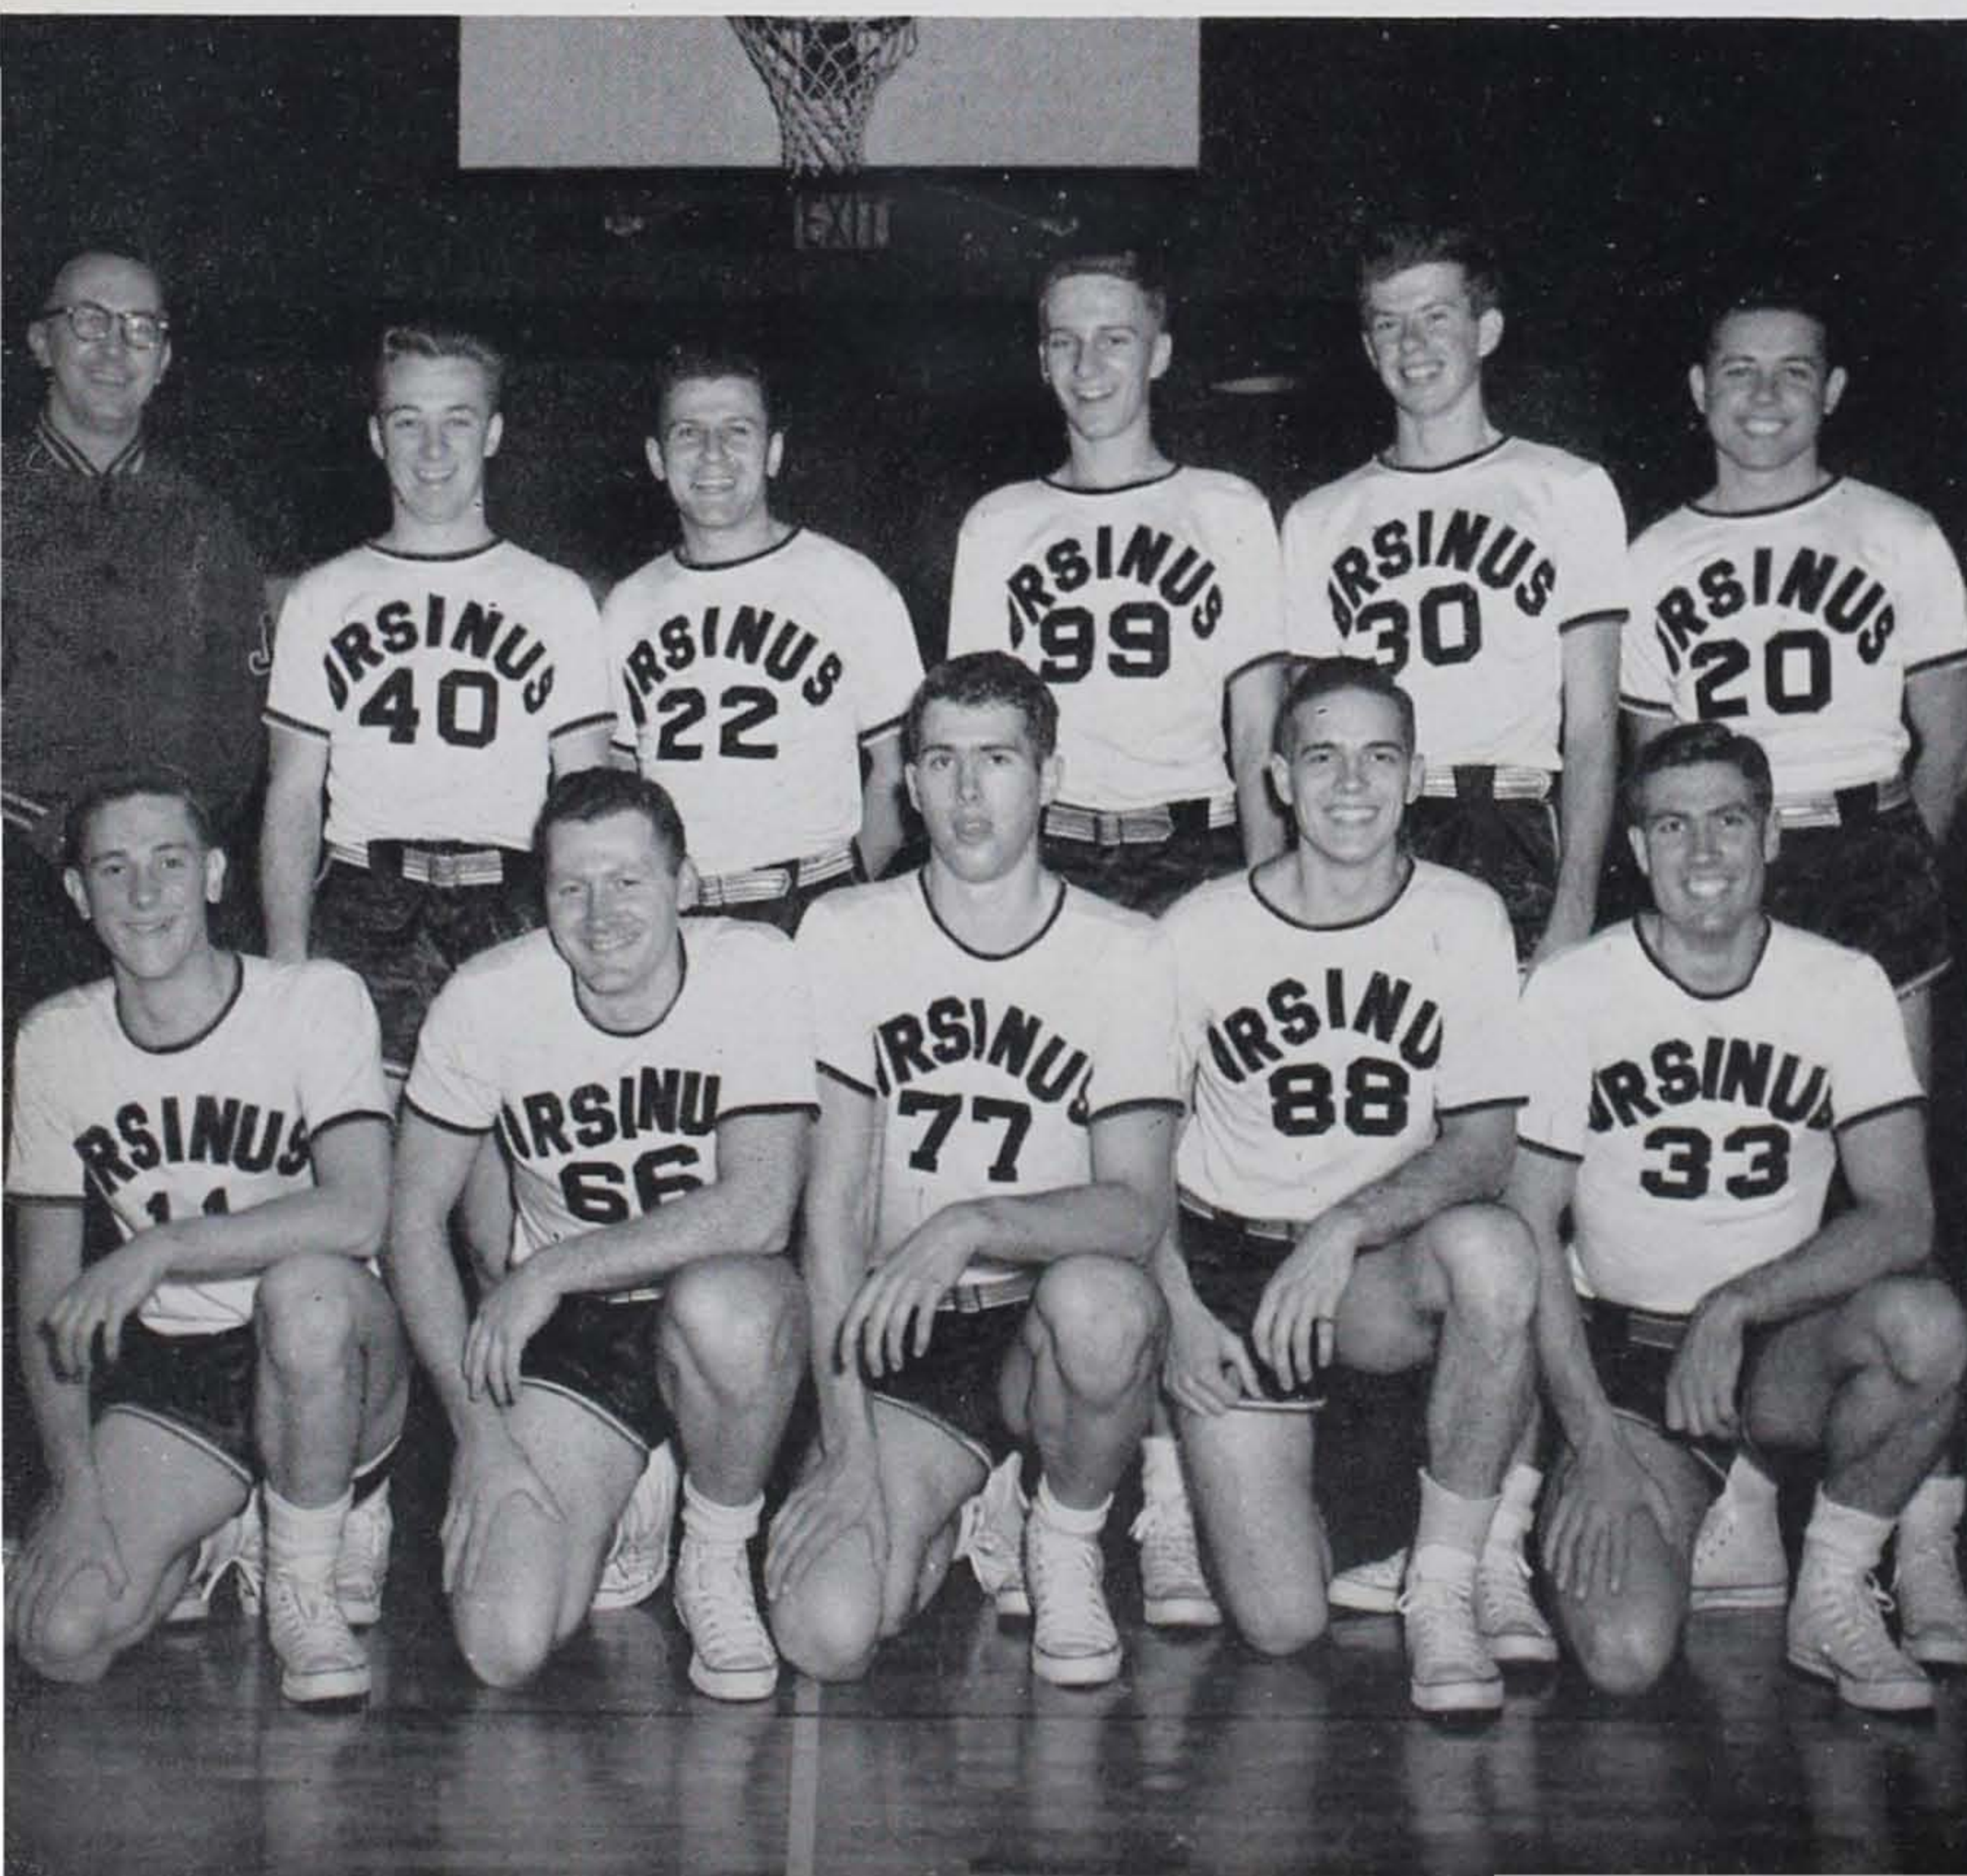

Bob Swett set the scoring pace with 272, followed by Will Wimberg (191), Don Young (174), Phil Seibel (160), Dave Reice (127), and Herb Knoll (126), a talented freshman.

The Bruins captured four and lost one before Christmas, their best game being the 73-55 mistreatment of the Diplomats from F. & M. Midway in the season they nipped Delaware 62-60 to take first place in the league. Toward the end of February they ran roughshod over P.M.C., but lost their last two contests and chance for the title.

There were four seniors on the squad: Don Young, Ira Bronson, Phil Seibel, and Will Wimberg.

Minus a few of the big names of past seasons, the grapplers went through a mediocre campaign, winning one match, tying two, and dropping four. After opening with a 22-9 conquest of power-packed Muhlenberg, the squad was considerably weakened by injuries, ineligibility, and the service. Freshman Ed Marshall, a promising lightweight, enlisted; Gene Glick and Jim Duncan were injured; and studies kept French Youngman out of action. But this depleted squad finished fifth in the Middle Atlantics ahead of Delaware, Haverford, and Swarthmore, teams they had lost to and tied in regular season competition.

Heavyweight Bill Helfferich rounded out his third year still undefeated, and was voted "outstanding wrestler" at the championships. Loren Zimmerman, a junior who tried all three of the lightest weights, was second highest scorer for the season.

BASEBALL

After losing to Quantico Marines and V.P.I. on a road trip south over Spring vacation, the Bruins came back to win ten and lose four in their best season since '22. Ed. Klein, batting .367 led the club in the hitting department, while compiling a 3-0 record on the mound. Big George Saurman pitched the most games winning four. Seniors on the squad were Saurman, Art Baron, Wayne Niedringhaus, Bob Gehman, Hap Hallinger, Dick Cherry, Don Weisel, and Bob Ziegler. Don Stauffer was elected captain for the 1951 season.

CROSS COUNTRY TRACK

With a lot of regulars back the track squad looked as though it were going places. But the Bears suffered from lack of depth. They had enough strength to take as many firsts as the competition; men like Russ Binder, Bill Turner, and Joe Shaw won consistently, but there was no depth in back of them. They closed with a 1-4 record beating P.M.C. 80-46, and finished second in a triangular meet and fifth in the Neighborhood Meet. Don Cumpstone, a javelin thrower with a couple of records to his credit was named captain for '51.

The still officially unrecognized cross-country squad in their second year of regular competition, failed to come close to winning, but it was a good opportunity for track men to keep in shape during the Fall. Nationally known two-miler Horace Ashenfelter spent some time as

After a 9-0 lacing at the hands of Delaware the golf team improved slowly until the Moravian match which went to Ursinus 5-4. On other occasions they didn't have quite enough, and in the finale Scranton eked out a 5-4 win giving the Bears one victory and six defeats. Mike Valerio was the most consistent winner, garnering 7½ points through the season. He was followed by Tom Swan. Graduation took Swan, Lew Hatch, Dick Hanna, and Earl Fargo.

The netmen wrapped two victories around three defeats, opening the season with an 8-1 conquest of Philadelphia Pharmacy, and finishing up with a 6-3 upset victory over La Salle, a sort of going away present for Coach Charlie Matlack. Bill McManimen was the big man with a racquet as he led the team in points scored. He teamed with Lane Dewees to take four of five doubles. Only Bob Walsh and McManimen left in June.

JAYVEE HOCKEY

The 1950 Junior Varsity played a schedule of six games ending with another undefeated season. The veteran squad, sparked by captain Marion Kurtz, who was high scorer for the season, showed tremendous scoring power.

In the Albright game the Bearettes went on a scoring spree by pushing eleven goals across while they held their opponents scoreless.

The J.V.'s proved to be a good team—enthusiastic and skilled—and showed a great deal of material for next year's varsity.

The 1950 hockey team enjoyed an up and down season ending with four wins and three losses. Under the leadership of captain Betty Keyser, the team started out with seven veteran players.

Outstanding play was shown throughout the season on the forward line by Adele Boyd, who scored more than any other player, Marjorie Merrifield and Audrey Rittenhouse. The entire backfield, led by veterans Jody Woodruff, Margaret Hooper, and Betty Keyser, did a neat job of guarding the back territory. The toughest position was filled by a skilled goalie, Jean Leety, who saved many potential goals.

The team reached its peak of performance and excitement in the East Stroudsburg and Temple games. In the opener against Stroudsburg, the team was victorious by a one-point margin. But in the Temple game Snell's Belles faced a defeat, in a thrilling game, by the same margin.

The highlights of the season included a trip to Williamsburg, Virginia, and a victory over the William & Mary coeds; and the placement of Nancy Vadner, Jean Leety, Marjorie Merrifield, Margaret Hooper, Betty Keyser, Jody Woodruff, and Audrey Rittenhouse on the All-College teams.

Coach Eleanor Snell not only produced a team that was skilled and determined, but one that showed true sportsmanship and spirit.

Led by Betty Keyser, the 1951 varsity basketball team recorded a good line-up of eight wins and one loss. With hopes and prospects for an undefeated season, the team got a fine start by downing Bryn Mawr 38-11. This was followed by victories over East Stroudsburg, Beaver, Penn, and Chestnut Hill.

The peak of the season was the Temple game. Unfortunately the Ursinus coeds were not up to their usual high standards of play and lost the game on foul shots. This proved to be the only blot in an otherwise outstanding season.

Scoring honors went to Nancy Vadner who accumulated a total of 135 points for a 15 point game average. Marguerite Spencer who amassed a total of 132 points secured second place.

The guards, Adele Boyd, Betty Keyser, Sal Parent, and Marge Merrifield, did a spectacular job of holding the opposing forwards to a total of 261 points. Adele Boyd deserves recognition for her fine performances in the Temple game when she held high-scoring Joan Paul to a total of 10 points. Many times Sal Parent out-jumped all opponents to control the backboards.

The loss of seniors, Betty Keyser and Nancy Vadner, will be a great one, but no doubt coach Eleanor Snell will produce an equally competent team.

JAYVEE BASKETBALL

The J.V. basketball team amassed a record of five wins against two losses. The team led by Barb Landis was able to defeat Bryn Mawr, Beaver, Ogontz Center of Penn State, Chestnut Hill, Rosemont, and Swarthmore.

However, the strong teams from Penn, and Temple prevented them from completing an undefeated season.

The fine shooting on the part of the forwards and the expert play of the guards proved to be too much for most of the opponents.

SWIMMING

The 1951 swimming team accumulated a successful record of four wins versus three losses. They fell prey to the skill and speed of the mermaids from Temple, Bryn Mawr, and the intercollegiate champions from Swarthmore. However, the Ursinus coeds showed their prowess by defeating Drexel, Chestnut Hill, Beaver and Penn.

Captained by Anne Marzahl, the team displayed unusually fine spirit and perseverance. These qualities enabled the team to make a grand showing in the intercollegiate meet by securing fourth place. With only Anne graduating we have high hopes for them next year.

TENNIS

Captained by Nancy Vadner, the 1950 tennis squad experienced a mediocre season by winning three and losing four.

The team opened its season with a victory over East Stroudsburg. Following this victory they dropped four matches to Swarthmore, Temple, Bryn Mawr, and Penn. The only other squads that they were able to defeat were Chestnut Hill and Albright.

In beating these two teams, the court girls showed great power by scoring 5-0 and 4-1 victories respectively.

Kneeling—Jonas, Vadner, captain, Woodruff. Standing—Kurtz, manager, Daniels, Christian, Landis, Kirby, Coach Whiting.

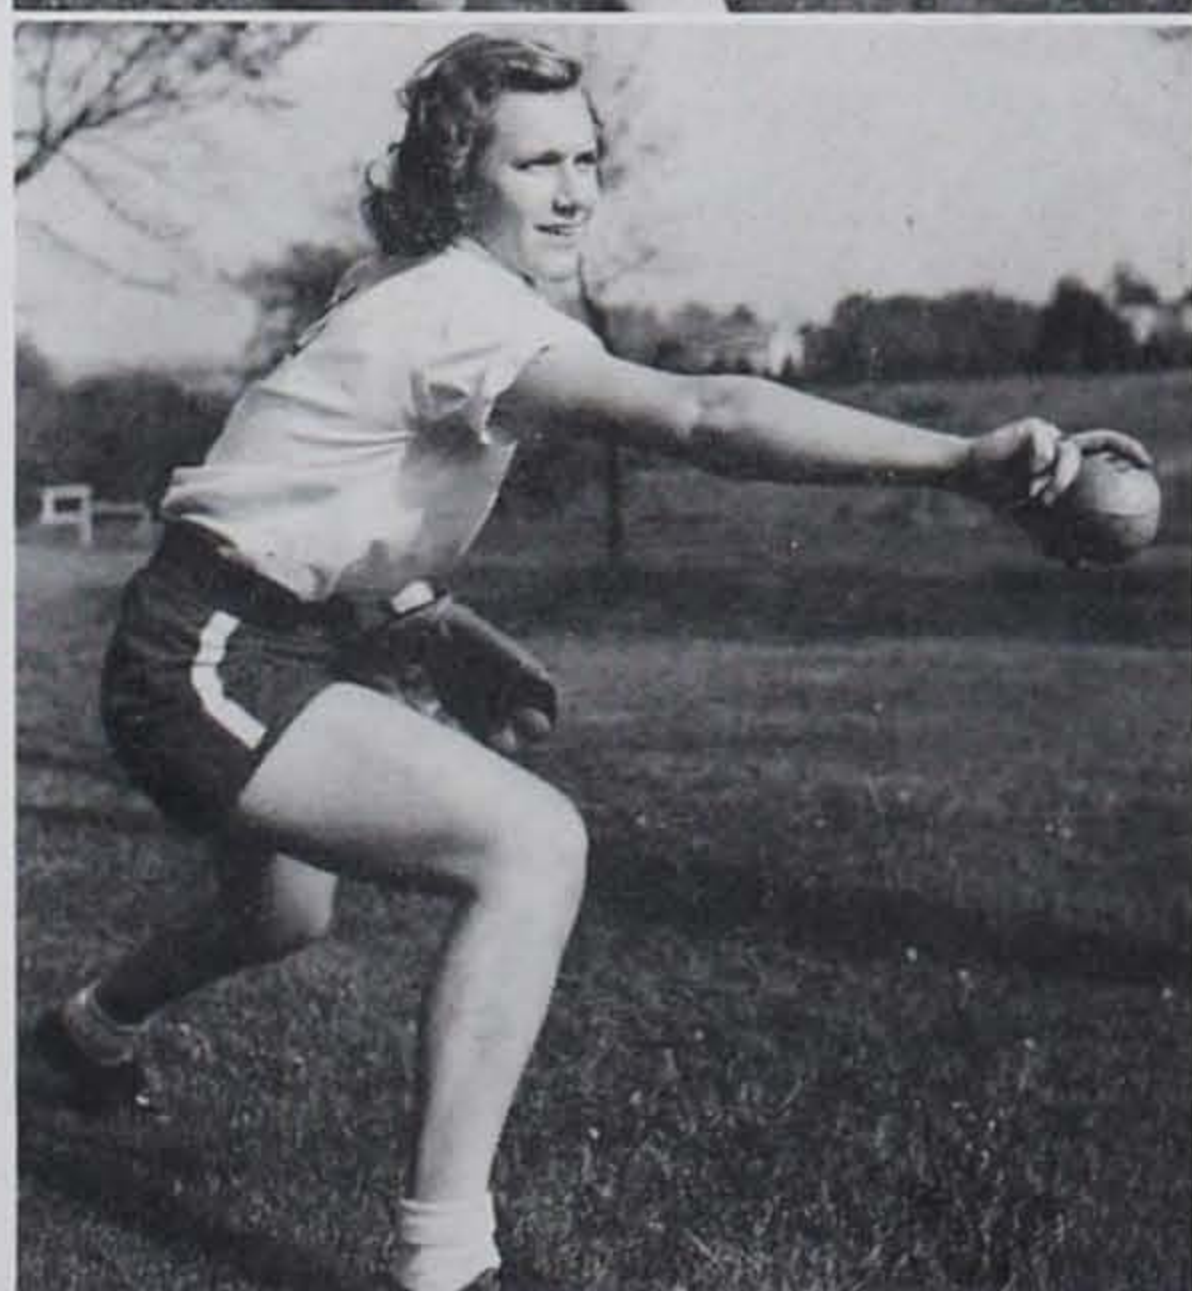

Last spring, captained by Sue Leinbach, the women's softball team had a successful season by winning six and losing one game. Such victories were made possible by the skill and cooperation of the battery which included Betty Keyser, catcher, and hurler Marguerite Spencer. If an opponent reached first base, Mary Evans, Shirley MacKinnon, and Audrey Rittenhouse made the going tough for her. Fielders Sal Parent, Nancy Vadner, and Grace Nesbitt did a fine job of guarding the out-lying territory.

Seated—MacKinnon, Duncan, Spencer, Leinbach, captain, Keyser, Rittenhouse, Evans. Standing—Vadner, Parent, Coach Snell, McPherson, manager, Leety, Nesbitt.

One of the first big senior activities, the Snow Ball, was a huge success. A clear night instead of the typical Ursinus dance weather, attractive decorations and snow ball programs, and a smooth orchestra were combined to make our prom memorable.

After much hard work and pooling of ingenuity, the girls exhibit their artistic talent in table decorations for the Christmas banquet. Seniors won first prize this year!

MAY DAY

Gay and formidable inhabitants populate the route which little Mary Ann and her faithful companion, Sniffles, must follow to liberate the captured queen in "The Land of Sunshine and Showers." Written by Dorothy Garris '51, the 1950 May pageant boasted a large cast, all beautifully clothed in student-created costumes. Sue Letson '50 filled the difficult capacity of May Day Manager while Miss Maribelle Waldo directed the pageant. As in previous years the entire program was planned and produced by Ursinus women students.

Mary McPherson was chosen queen for the 1951 pageant. With her court she reigns supreme over the May Day festivities directed this year by Marjorie Paynter as manager. A baseball game, pageant and Curtain Club production complete the annual May Day program.
