Dedicated

TO ONE WHO

Although Mr. Witmer retired from his teaching duties at the end of our Sophomore year, he is fondly remembered by many hundreds of Ursinus students, past and present. His influence among us was not limited to the classroom, for the principles of a good job accurately and neatly done, his uncompromising yet infinitely fair manner, and his genuine interest in the growth of a student indelibly impressed him in our minds as a friend worthy of our respect and admiration.

Through the years Ursinus students have known him, Mr. Witmer's interests have been divided among his home where he spent many satisfying hours with his wife and two daughters, his church where he served faithfully for many years as an elder and influential layman, and his school where he taught English grammar and composition as well as a way of life for twenty-eight years.

As an indication of the esteem in which we hold him and in appreciation of the untiring devotion and effort which he contributed so generously to us and many, many others of the Ursinus family, we proudly dedicate the 1950 Ruby to Mr. Martin W. Witmer.

Our College

IT HAS BEEN PLEASANT TO

From chapel and classes to evenings in rec center, our college life centered around BOMBERGER.

PURSUE OUR STUDIES HERE

The buzzing DORMS offered friendships and gaiety, serious discussions, and a welcome atmosphere of belonging.

FREELAND meant meals in record time followed by lengthy conferences on the weather-beaten steps. Here we exchanged data on the smallest prank, the largest prom.

SURROUNDED BY THE FRIENDLY

The weekly trek to the POST OFFICE with the surprise for home was as regular as the morning mail. The U. S. Postal Service made home seem lots closer, vacations more remote.

ATMOSPHERE OF COLLEGEVILLE

The long-pealing bells of Trinity Evangelical and Reformed CHURCH invaded the Sunday morning's quiet to call us to worship.

Here's the BRIDGE — we're almost there." In Frosh days it meant on with the customs garb; after four short years, it represents the scene of past college days.

MEET OUR SINCERE AND

President of the College
DR. NORMAN EGBERT McCLURE
Ph.D., Litt.D., L.H.D.

The positions of president and vice-president of the college inevitably require a great deal of time and consideration. Yet Dr. McClure and Mr. Helfferich have also actively participated in other phases of campus life.

Dr. McClure is well-known as an authority and editor of Shakespeare and he has given this valuable knowledge to the students who subscribe to his English courses. Dr. McClure is also the advisor to the English Club.

The thespian enterprises of Ursinus owe much of their successful record to the directing ability of Mr. Helfferich, who also serves as advisor to the Curtain Club. The Pre-Legal Society also claims Mr. Helfferich as advisor.

The homes of the president and vice-president have been the scenes of many pleasant meetings and teas where the students could become well-acquainted with the administrators.

Vice-President of the College
DONALD L. HELFFERICH, Esq., LL.B.

CAPABLE ADMINISTRATORS

Since Dr. Clawson assumed the duties of Dean of Ursinus College, he has become a familiar figure to all Ursinus students. Previously, Dr. Clawson was in contact, primarily, with aspiring mathematicians; now, in addition to his teaching duties, he has undertaken the tremendous task of Dean. This includes administrative functions such as keeping averages for every student in school, scheduling classes, issuing transcripts, and many others, making this an important and responsible position.

Dean of the College
JOHN WENTWORTH CLAWSON, Sc.D.

The vital positions of Dean of Men and Dean of Women at Ursinus are held by Mr. G. Sieber Pancoast, and Miss Camilla B. Stahr. They are responsible for the educational as well as the social behavior and development of each individual. Through the wise and capable influence of these two leaders, Ursinus students have discovered a happier and more successful college life.

Dean of Women
CAMILLA B. STAHR, A.B.

Dean of Men
G. SIEBER PANCOAST, A.M.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Ursinus College was not the first educational institution to occupy its present site. In 1832 Todd's School opened after receiving the land as a donation from Andrew Todd, and in 1848 Freeland Seminary was established on a piece of adjacent land.

The actual beginning of our college came about in 1868 as a result of a theological controversy between the high and low groups of the Reformed church. The courageous low church group would not yield to what it considered false doctrine and this group of sincere believers in higher education and religion resolved to found an institution where a liberal education might be obtained under the influence of true Christian ideals.

The college was well named in honor of Zachariah Bär, whose name was the later Latinized to Ursinus, for he was the most distinguished scholar of the Reformed church in his day. The corporation of Ursinus College was organized at a meeting of the Directors held in Philadelphia in 1869 and instruction began during the following year. It was in 1881 that the doors of the college were first opened to women.

The present officers of the corporation are Dr. Harry E. Paisley, president; Dr. Thomas E. Brooks, first vice-president; Mr. Francis J. Gildner, second vice-president; Mr. Ralph F. Wismer, secretary-treasurer; Mr. D. Sterling Light, assistant secretary, and Mr. Stanley Omwake, assistant treasurer.

NURSES

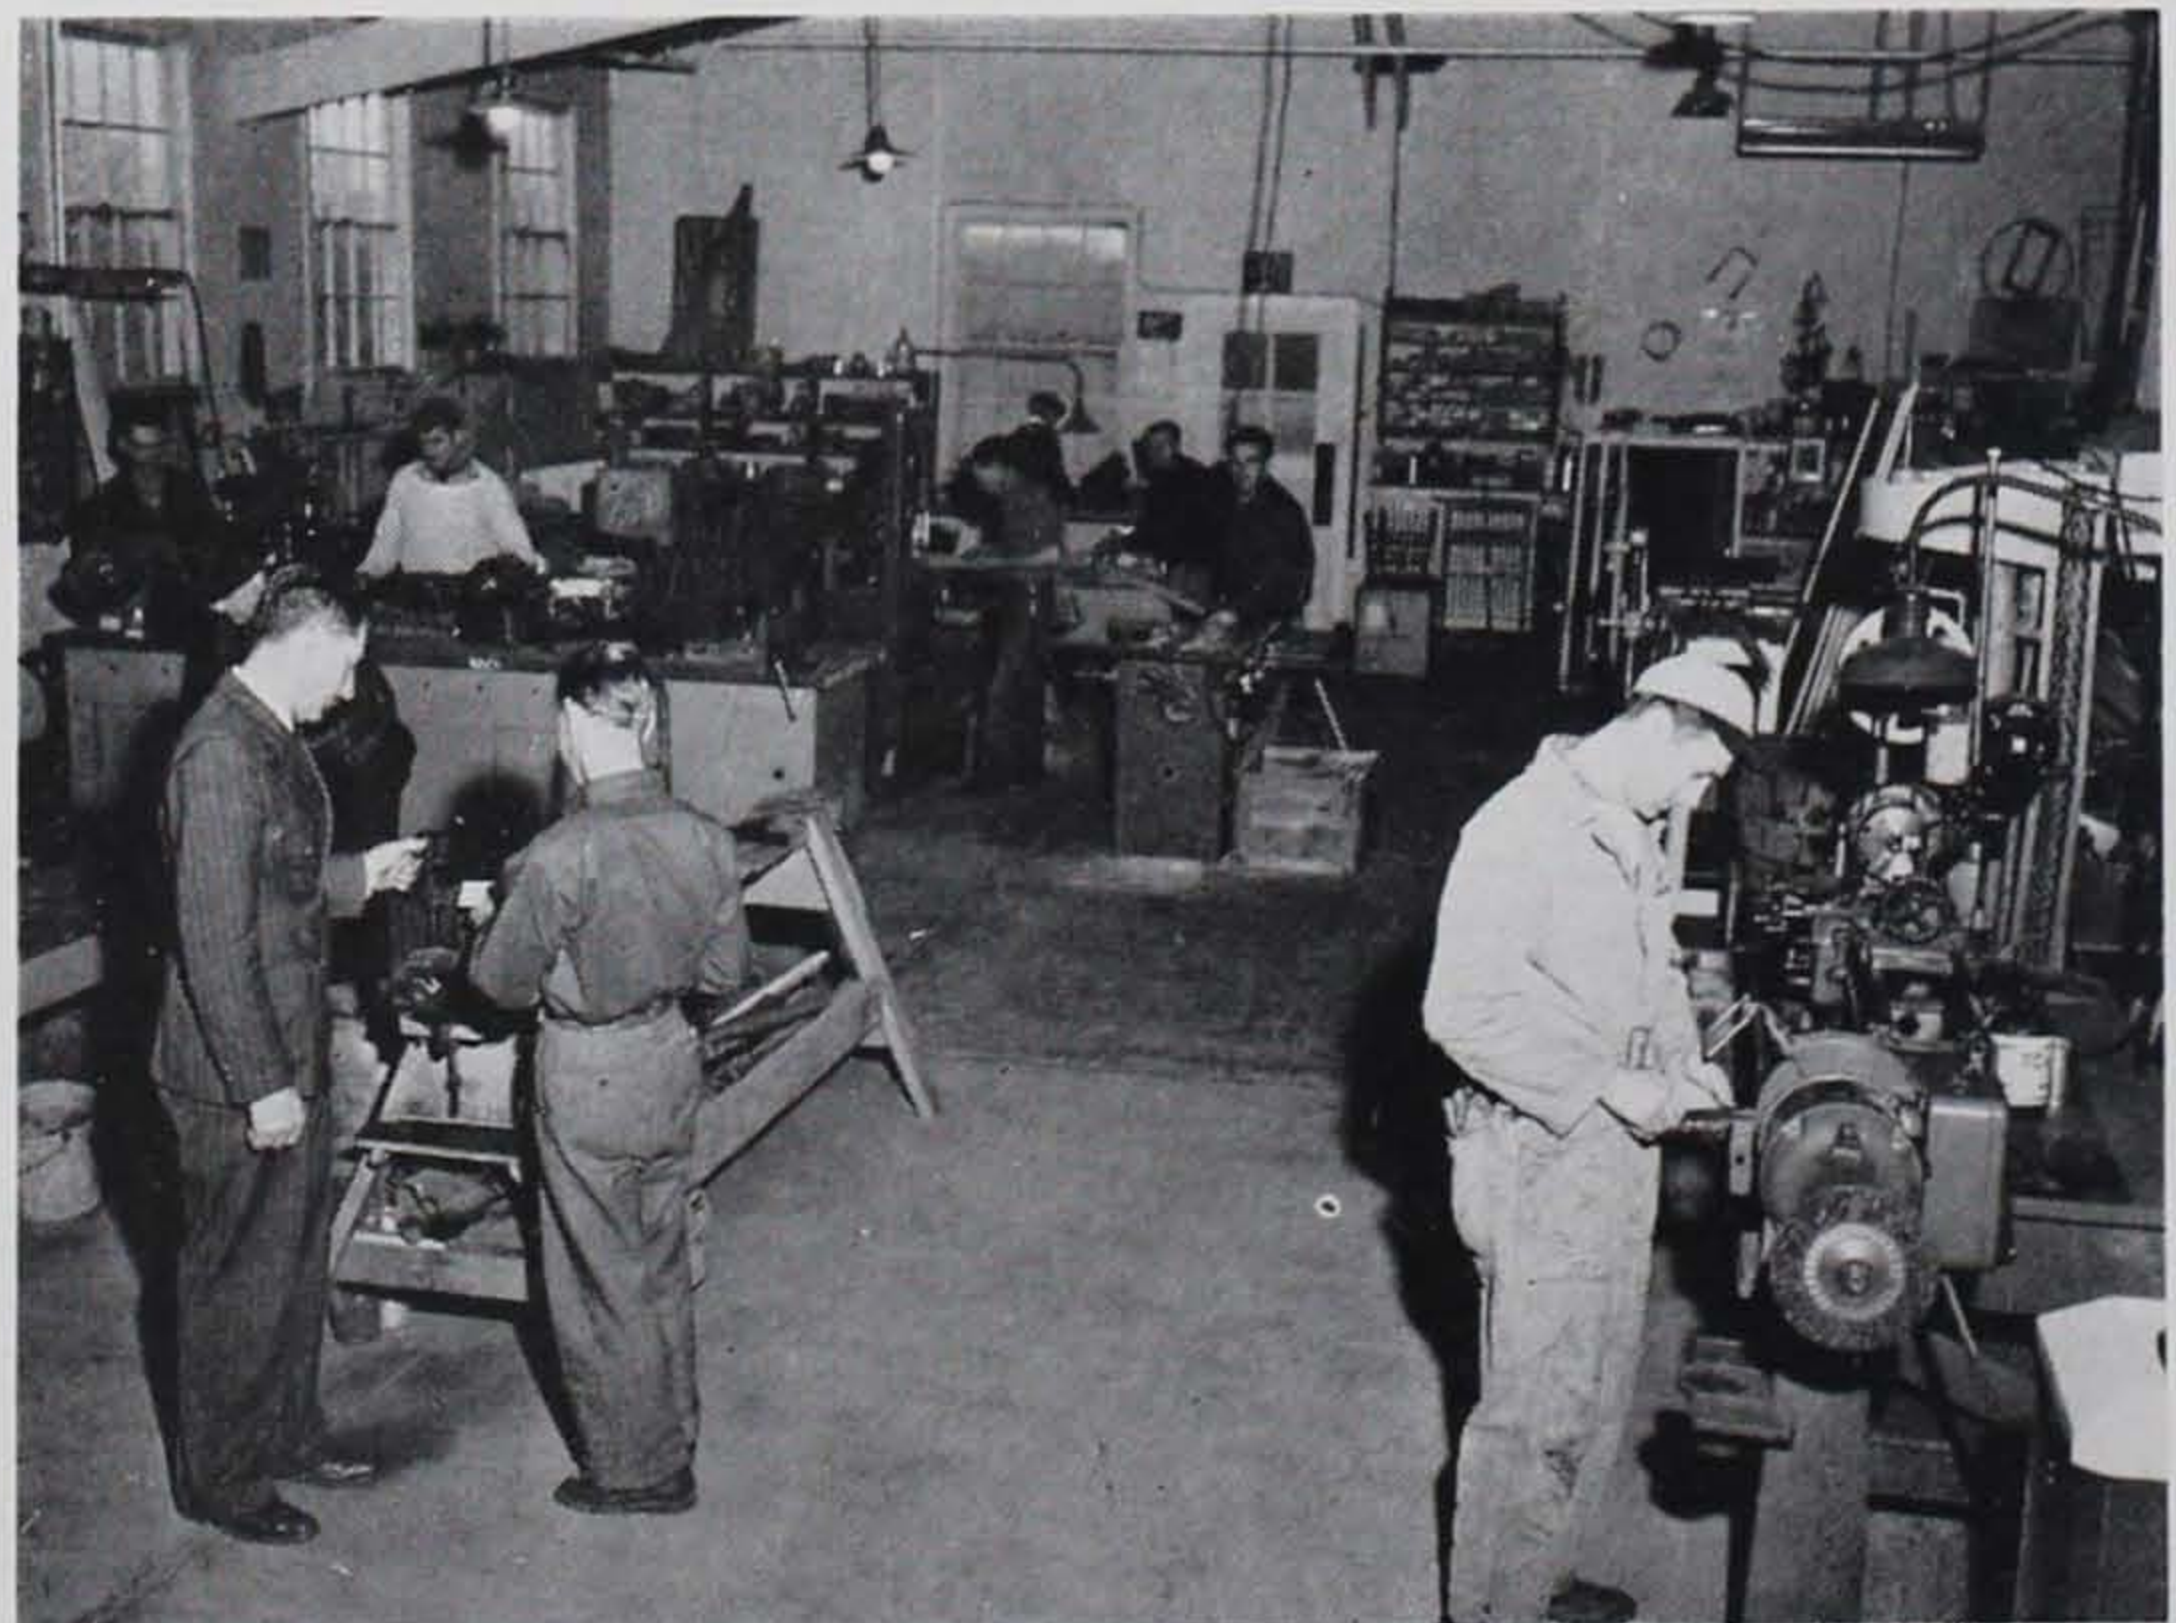

Mrs. Leonard Dilliplane, R.N., and Miss Helen M. Moll, R.N., administer treatment to the injured and ailing. In cooperation with the college physicians, Dr. John B. Price and Dr. E. G. Platte, the nurses provide around-the-clock service.

“Angels” of the infirmary, Miss Moll and Mrs. Dilliplane diagnosed our aches and pains, treated our whacks and sprains. They made over-night visits as pleasant as possible, and proved always to be “johnnys-on-the-spot”, games and such included. Mother may be best but our nurses were much-appreciated substitutes.

From the far-off Annex to the hub of campus the maintenance men disposed of the ordinary yet vital chores. They even switched our screens and storm-doors in proper season, rekindled balky lamps, and kept us warm in winter. Paths were clear and lawns were neat.

MAINTENANCE

The maintenance crew, under the direction of Mr. Horace Godshall and his assistant, Mr. Russell Remig, keep the buildings and the grounds of the campus in condition. This force of men conducts the improvements and repairs from the new maintenance building completed last fall.

KITCHEN PERSONNEL

Three times daily (twice for the sleepy ones) we tore for Freeland, food being a favorite part of our daily routine. And three times daily the kitchen staff, sleepy or not, had three meals ready.

The kitchen force including chefs, pantrymen, utility men, and assistants, is under the supervision of Mr. James Morrison, chief steward. Supplemented by students holding self-help jobs, the crew not only prepared daily meals, but organization banquets and holiday parties as well. Especially well remembered are our fellow student waiters, who kept the dining-room in smooth working order and satisfied our whims and fancies.

We're the Freshmen of Ursinus,
Greenest of them all.
We're the Freshmen of Ursinus,
And never on the ball.

Everyone we meet will shun us
Because we are so low,
But we know the Sophs are finest
And always in the know.

Sophs, we are so blue;
Wish we were like you;
Then we'd be terrific, too!

Sophs, we are so blue;
Wish we were like you;
Then we'd be terrific, too!

Sophs, we salute you.
We bow, we bow to you.
We crawl, we crawl to you.
Sophs, we love you!

Ursinus and Haverford Freshmen scrap for the Ursinus banner, providing an impromptu entertainment between the halves of the football game.

The Freshman Variety Show on the steps of Freeland Hall is always an eagerly anticipated event of Frosh customs. The usual "high grade" of entertainment was provided again this year.

FUN FOR

The dorms are always in a state of confusion before a big dance, with everyone frantically gathering up everything from bow ties and borrowed bracelets to black shoes and slippers.

The transformation of jean-clad coeds to glamorous sophisticates is a major operation. But in spite of all, the girls do manage to be on time.

The doorbell rings continually as escorts arrive in time to enjoy a dorm reception before joining the caravan to Sunnybrook. And so begins a wonderful evening.

ALL . . . DANCES

The highlight of the Starlight Ball was the silver-studded star through which the couples walked as they entered the spacious ballroom.

After refreshments at local night spots, the Cinderellas with their Prince Charmings dash home to meet the two o'clock deadline.

The climax of the Junior Prom was the crowning of our prom queen, Dos Neill, and the announcement of the new Cub and Key members.

CHRISTMAS COMES

BUT ONCE A YEAR

Wreaths, colored lights, and gayly decorated trees mark the beginning of the Christmas season at Ursinus. Weeks are spent in preparing for the presentation of the Messiah which is one of the most anticipated events of campus life during this season. The highlight of the festivities is the formal banquet at which coeds compete for honors on class table decorations. Immediately following the dinner, the WSGA sponsors a dance at which Santa Claus makes a special pre-

Christmas appearance. The traditional girls' all-night dorm parties make the evening complete. To the strains of "We wish you a Merry Christmas" by men carollers, we finally crawl into bed at 6 A.M. to dream of "visions of sugar plums" and two weeks' vacation. The inspiring Candlelight Communion Service brings one of the most wonderful weeks of college life at Ursinus to an end.

Santa Claus pays an informal visit to all the good little girls of Shreiner during an all night dorm party.

"The pause that refreshes" as carollers stop for sandwiches and cookies at Hobson before visiting the other women's dorms.

Knitting deadlines, yes, even bridge and canasta, are forgotten for a few minutes as the girls gather around the piano to sing carols.

Row 1—Neill, May Queen, sr. Row 2—Farquhar, soph.; Preston, sr.; Reed, fr.; Wilkinson, fr.; McPherson, jr.; Rilling, jr. Siegenger, soph. Young, sr.

The hope of every coed was fulfilled when King Sun reigned over the 1949 May Day festivities. The play was rehearsed, the costumes were donned, and colorful, lively performers presented "May is for U".

The queen of our choice was Floy Lewis, whose coronation was the impressive highlight of the pageant.

Betty Rilling was the author of "May is for U", which was produced under the able supervision of Barbara Yerkes and Miss Maribelle Waldo.

Sue Letson and Miss Maribelle Waldo accepted the responsibility of producing the 1950 May Pageant. Casting is one of the many important preliminaries for the production of a successful pageant.

Floy Lewis, our queen, was chosen "Miss U" to symbolize Utopia and Unity throughout the universe.

Among the representatives who came from many countries to vie for the coveted crown of Unity were the Parisian coquettes.

FOOTBALL

The outstanding feature of the '49 grid season was the unprecedented flow of spirit displayed by the student body. Kindled by senior cheerleader Jean Daniels and Gerald "Whistler" Donahue, the flame of surging cheers spread from the colorful Friday night pep rallies onto Patterson Field and even carried large crowds of enthusiastic Bruin rooters to distant stadiums in a futile effort to bring the Bears out of hibernation.

When the season opened and Ursinus held the renovated Drexel Dragons to a scoreless first half, it looked as though the installation of the T was the answer to Coach Wieneke's problems. But the new two-platoon system employed by Otis Douglas proved too much for the weary Bears, and the fresh Dragons garnered three quick touchdowns and two extra points to win 20-0.

In the initial contest on Patterson Field the Bruins ran all over Haverford College except in the scoring department. Even so, only an off-sides penalty which gave the Fords a second chance at the extra point enabled them to tie the Bears at 14-14.

From then on the Collegeville eleven sank fast. But the further down they went, the louder the cheering became. Finally, in the closing game of the season, the stage was set for victory. It just had to be that way, and the team finally gave the students the victory they so much deserved by downing Susquehanna 14-0.

At the close of the season, the lettermen elected Don Young to succeed senior George Saurman as captain. Young personally accounted for over half of the Bruins' total of 1667 yards gained for the season.

Among the other veteran gridders graduating this year are Bill Turner, Doug Leander, Bob Mitchell, and Sherwood Hewitt.

Row 3—Baker, Dimon, Rauenzahn, Buchanan, Satterthwaite, Swett, Monjar, Hedstrom, Mitchell, War, Lafferty, Roberts.

Probably no one felt the pang of defeat after defeat more than the coaches, nor tried any harder to remedy the situation. Pictured here are Ron Landes, Ray Gurzynski, Kurt Wieneke, and Harry Spangler who comprised the Bruin coaching staff.

OUR GRIDDERS FACED

Chick Scirica faces two to one odds after breaking temporarily into the clear.

John Ehnot and Bob Mitchell show the technique that made them outstanding tackles.

A TOUGH SCHEDULE

Replacements give coaches Landes and Spangler a chance to talk to senior wingman Bill Turner during victorious Susquehanna game.

Ted Yoder finds the going a bit tough on an off-tackle play.

AND NEVER GAVE UP

Freshman standouts included Harry Feulner, Bob Davis, Bill Bond, Herb Bennett, and Bill Dimon.

Important cogs in the Bruin forward wall were Frank Lafferty, Steve Muench, and Herb Fry.

SOCCER

The outburst of spirit around Ursinus crept out to Price Field and inspired an otherwise colorless soccer team to play some terrific games against unsurmountable odds.

Although the Bears failed to come through with a victory except in the Alumni game, they forced both Lincoln College and Franklin and Marshall into extra periods to defeat them.

Captain John Peterson

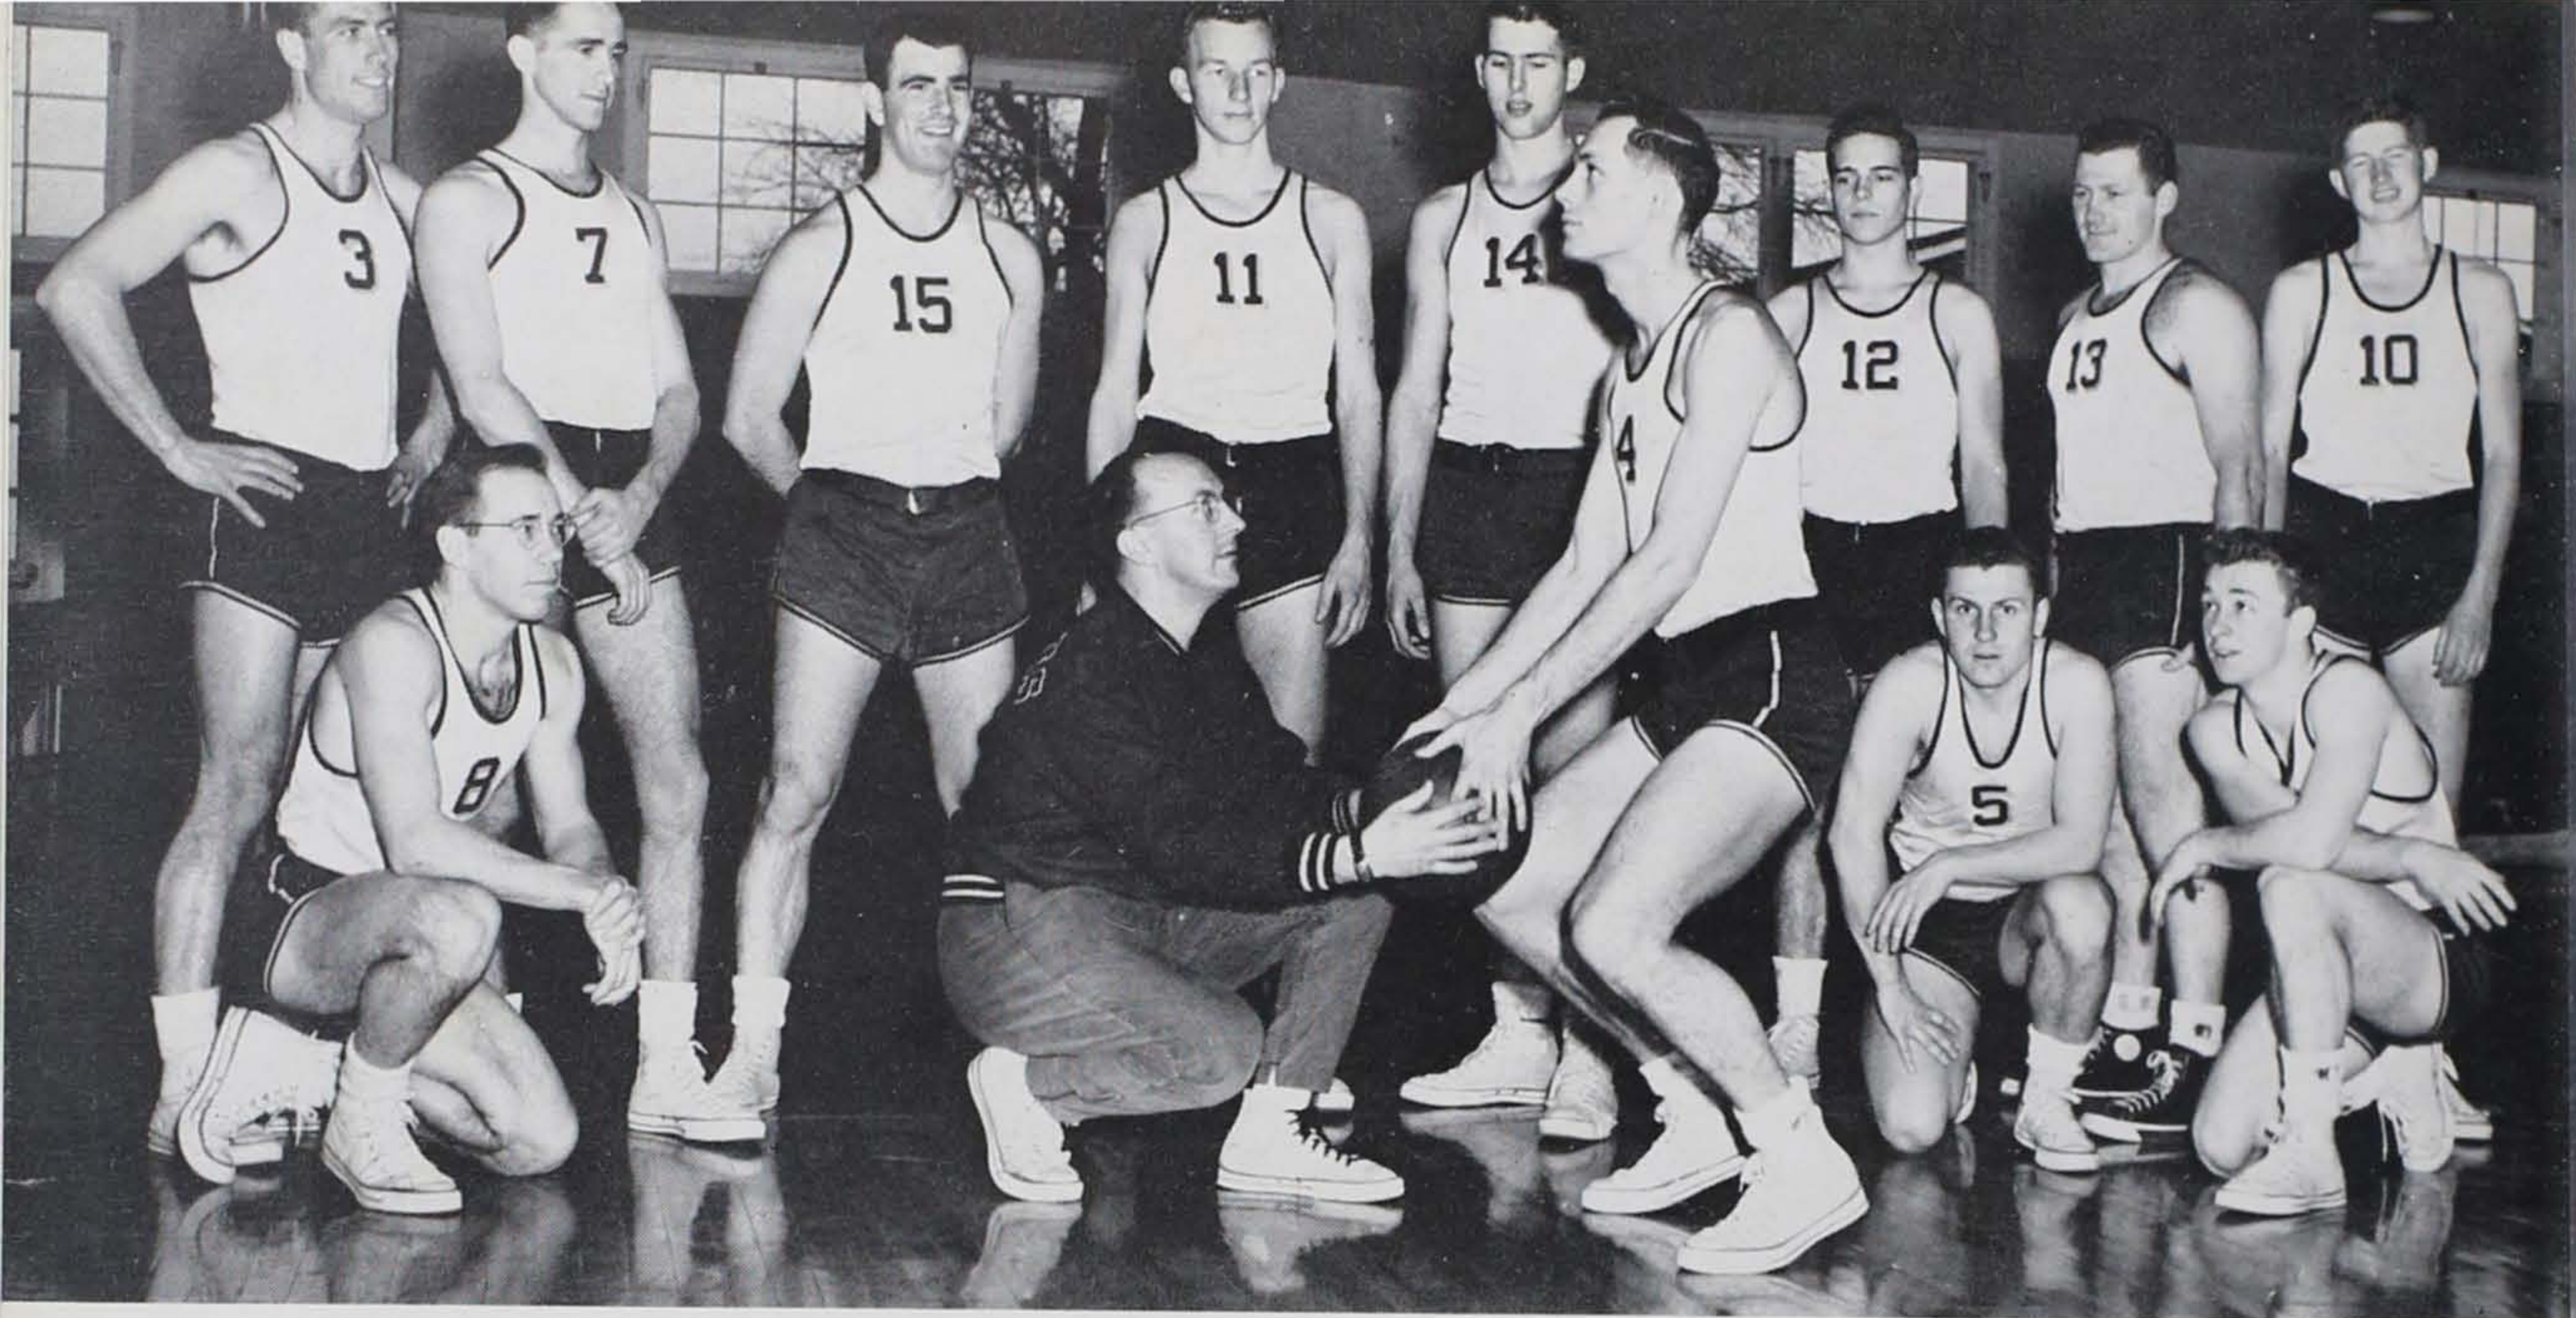

Heinel, Coach Baker, Pleet, Ely, Mammel, Captain Peterson, Eddleman, Schwendeman, Duncan, Arthur, Foster, Webb, Meyers, Light, Hanna, Powell, MacMurray.

Coach Donald Baker

Captain John Peterson headed an excellent defensive combination with the help of veteran John Powell and newcomer Harry Light. However, the Bruins lacked a scoring punch and the strain on goalie Larry Pleet was constantly heavy.

Graduation will claim a quartet of booters this year including Peterson, Jack Webb, Ed Meyers, and Dick Hanna.

BASKETBALL

Coach Jerry Seeder's spunky court quintet ended a disheartening season of four wins and fourteen losses by bowing 100-49 to the Garnet of Swarthmore in a contest which was highlighted by the accurate shooting of Jim Reilly, who scored 45 points for the victors, and the gigantic duet of Roger Pott and Dick Hall.

Suffering from lack of height and weakened by injuries, the Bears resorted to a blistering fast-breaking offense which was led by the combined efforts of captain Bill Forsyth and his scoring mate, Don Young.

Both Young and Forsyth were selected for the second team in the All-middle Atlantic Conference (Southern division) at the close of the season.

Along with Bill Forsyth, Bill Myers, Bob Gehman, Art Baron, and Malcolm Condie have completed their tour of service on the Collegeville hardwoods this season, leaving a sizeable gap in the squad for next year.

The injury of Bill Wimberg in the middle of the season and the loss of Phil Seibel did not do the Bruins any good. Both had been consistent double-figure men previously and had been expected to shoulder a large portion of the burden throughout the remainder of the schedule.

Coach Jerry Seeders

Phil Seibel and Bill Forsyth prepare for action under the backboards in case Bill Wimberg's jump shot misses the mark.

Upper right: Wimberg and Klein.
Lower left: Reice and Young.
Lower right: Bronson and Seibel.

Bill Wimberg defies superior numbers in a losing cause against Lehigh University while Dave Reice awaits the outcome.

Top: Condie, Myers, and Gehman.
Bottom: Baron, Wilson, and Swett.

Too many hands spoil the shot, but Jim Devlin is on hand to follow it up.

CUBS

The Ursinus Cubs performed far more admirably than the varsity if the win-loss column is to be consulted. The junior varsity won eight games while losing ten, several of which were decided by a one-point margin.

Used somewhat as a proving ground for Coach Jerry Seeders' varsity, several of the squad moved up as the season progressed. Some remained with the senior club, while others were returned for further experience.

Outstanding regulars for the Cubs included Jim Devlin, Paul Jones, Andy Carter, John Edleman and Chuck Klaus.

WRESTLING

Before almost capacity crowds the Ursinus College "winning" wrestling team won all but one of an eight match schedule. The Bruins proceeded to extend their long string of dual-meet victories which they began last year, and had reached ten straight when Swarthmore scored a 19-11 verdict to terminate the streak.

Ted Miller went through the entire circuit without a setback in the 145 pound class but yielded to Haverford's Gouvernor Cadwallader in the Middle Atlantic Tournament.

Heavyweight champion Bill Helfferich likewise went undefeated and retained the title he secured last year by decisioning Delaware's Ted Yeungling in the finals.

Captain Bill Turner lost a much disputed bout to Gettysburg's Russ Riegel in the Middle Atlantic which will long be remembered by Ursinus fans. Bill had to be content with a fourth place.

Inexperienced Loren Zimmerman, who wrestled only intramurals last year, lasted the entire season with only one setback at the hands of unbeaten Al Link of Drexel.

In addition to Turner, 165 pounder Galey Chandler and 175 pounder Frank Schiesser will leave open spots to be filled before next year's squad will be up to full strength.

Bill Helfferich, Middle Atlantic heavyweight champion, applies a pin hold to clinch the Drexel meet for Ursinus.

Ted Miller, 145 pounder, is showing his less-fortunate opponent a rather unusual view of the Ursinus gymnasium.

BASEBALL

In establishing a record of six wins and eight defeats, the diamond proteges of Coach Sieb Pancoast displayed an uncanny ability to upset their more worthy opponents while bowing to the mediocre clubs.

The Bruins played their best games of the season behind the slow-ball hurling of Don Stauffer in their 7-3 triumph over F. & M. and in support of fireballer "Lefty" Landes in defeating Lehigh 9-1.

GOLF

The 1949 golf team, coached by Dr. Dennis, was victorious in only one of six intercollegiate matches. That victory came in the contest with Moravian, who bowed to the Bruin golfers $7\frac{1}{2}$ to $11\frac{1}{2}$. In the Drexel and Swarthmore matches, Ursinus was defeated by one point, the score being 5-4 in both cases.

TENNIS

The luckless charges of Coach Charles Matlack managed to eke a 5-4 victory from the Greyhound tennismen of Moravian College to keep from being shut out for the season. On six other occasions the poor weather which delayed practice took its toll and the Bruins yielded.

JAYVEE HOCKEY

Once again the Ursinus Jayvees came through with a fine record, suffering only one defeat against four wins. The first defeat in three years was to Temple by a score of 4-3.

Co-Captains Jean Daniels, who capably filled the right wing position, and Pat Pattison, who played a fine defensive season at right fullback, did much to keep up the spirit and morale of the team.

In addition to these two girls, Gladys Miller, who did a beautiful job as goalie, will also leave in June.

Most of the credit for such a successful season goes to the coach, Mrs. William Whiting, who gave the team the desire to play a fair game—win or lose. Mrs. Whiting, better known to the girls as "Nat", has been the Jayvee coach at Ursinus since she first came and has the respect and admiration of every player on her squad.

With the loss of only three letter winners and with many experienced Jayvees and third team underclassmen coming up, the Jayvee team is looking forward to a bright and successful future.

Culminating another season of play the girls' field hockey team emerged with the fine record of four wins and one tie against two defeats. The Bearettes scored twenty-two goals as opposed to the thirteen scored by their opponents.

With only five returning letterwinners the girls spent many hours in hard practice in order to mold the eleven-player team into a compact unit. As in past seasons, much credit should be given to Coach Eleanor Snell. It was only through her keen strategy and invaluable tutelage that this success was possible.

Their opening game proved to be the most thrilling of the season. On the short side of a three-two score, Ursinus staged a rally late in the second half to defeat Bryn Mawr College four to three.

Only three members of this year's squad will be lost through graduation. They are Captain Anita Jonas, who played right wing; left wing, Joanne Duncan; and right inner, Mary Evans. Other members of the squad were Nancy Vadner, Marguerite Spencer, Margery Johnston, Betty Keyser, Jody Woodruff, Irene Schweitzer, Margaret Hooper, Jean Leety, Audrey Rittenhouse, and manager Jean Heron.

Participating in the annual All-College Tournament held at Swarthmore College, Ursinus won two games and tied a third. Mary Evans and Betty Keyser were rewarded for their ability by receiving positions on the All-College First Team, and Joanne Duncan and Margaret Hooper received places on the second team. The third squad was also filled with two Ursinus players, Marguerite Spencer and Nancy Vadner. Mary Evans and Joanne Duncan were chosen to go to the National Hockey Tournament in Baltimore on the second and fourth Philadelphia teams respectively.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

Nesbitt, Boyd, Vadner, Captain Evans, Coach Snell, Spencer, Parent, Keyser.

The amazing Ursinus girls' basketball team, coached by Miss Eleanor Snell, managed once more to turn in a better-than-average season record of six victories, one tie and three setbacks in spite of a slow beginning.

Taking full advantage of the new rule permitting the unlimited dribble, the Bruins coeds worked out a hot passing attack based on teamwork and close coordination. The system improved consistently as the season progressed and paid dividends in the four final contests.

Marguerite Spencer was high scorer among the forwards but received excellent support from Nancy Vadner, Joan Hitchner, Grace Nesbitt, Audrey Rittenhouse, and Shirley MacKinnon.

Captain Mary Evans, Sara Parent, Adele Boyd and Betty Keyser kept the opposing forwards to a bare minimum of points.

Having opened the season with a 22-31 loss to East Stroudsburg, the Belles went to Reading where they outscored Albright 38-31. The Immaculata sextet staged a strong second-half rally and came from behind to win 37-26, so that it was not until Rosemont fell that the home fans witnessed an Ursinus victory.

The Bruinettes and Penn's coeds battled to a thrilling 31-31 deadlock before the unbeaten Temple squad invaded Collegeville and walked off with a 31-24 verdict to keep their record intact.

It was at this point that Ursinus settled down to business and proceeded to set down Beaver 31-27, Chestnut Hill 34-12, Bryn Mawr 40-16, and Swarthmore 41-39 to turn a mediocre season into a very impressive one.

Ursinus guards move in fast as Immaculata forwards gain possession of the ball.

Nancy Vadner gets off a set shot before her opponent is able to block it.

JAYVEE BASKETBALL

Under the guiding wing of coach Natalie Whiting the girls' junior varsity basketball team waded through its entire nine game schedule without a single defeat.

While several of the games proved to be real thrillers, the Bearettes managed to emerge victorious in all of their encounters with the single exception of a 21-21 tie with Penn's junior varsity club. Ursinus led up until the closing seconds when a desperation shot paid off for Penn and knotted the score.

Sally Lumis, Margaret Hooper, Marion Kurtz, Marge Justice, co-captain Sue Leinbach and co-captain Jody Woodruff were among the talented court contenders who so valiantly carried the squad on to victory after victory.

Joan Hitchner and Shirley MacKinnon were also invaluable to the second team until they were moved up to the varsity to strengthen its offensive attack.

The wealth of experienced talent on this year's junior varsity squad should provide a lucrative source of material with which to supplement next year's first string combination.

Seated: Rittenhouse, Vart, Leety, Landis, Hooper, Co-Captain Leinbach.

Standing: Loomis, Unger, Hitchner, Seifert, Co-Captain Woodruff, Kurtz, MacKinnon.

SWIMMING

With a record of three wins and four losses for the season, the swimming spotlight falls on freshman Joan Compton who went through the entire season without being beaten in the fifty yard breaststroke event. In the Intercollegiate Meet held at Swarthmore, Joan placed first in this same event to give Ursinus their only score. Captain Pat Pattison did a fine job in the diving department and will be greatly missed next year.

Coached by Mrs. Natalie Whiting, the Ursinus coeds suffered a disastrous season in the gals' tennis department.

In spite of fine spirit and sincere effort, the Bruinettes proved no match for their more experienced opponents and managed to win but one match throughout the season. Excepting their 3-1 victory over Albright, the team was defeated by Swarthmore, Penn, Temple, East Stroudsburg, Rosemont and Bryn Mawr.

In the water: Borkey, Kiebler, Reinbrecht, Reed, McGrath. Seated: Garris, Rinear, Grauch, Pattison, captain, Marzahl, Linder. Standing: Waldo, coach, Daniels, Compton, Rilling, manager, Matteson, manager.

The 1949 Women's Softball team, coached by Miss Snell and managed by Jane McWilliams Kennedy, extended their undefeated season record to nine years.

Winding up her Ursinus softball career, Captain Polly Mathers led the squad undefeated through their six game collegiate schedule.

Veteran hurler, Betty Jean Moyer turned in a fine performance for the year. In the Bryn Mawr game, "Moe" struck out nine batters.

Besides the regularly scheduled contests, the team played the annual father-daughter game.

In the May Day fracas, the girls defeated the fathers 10-5.

The highlight of the season occurred when Snell's Belles traveled to Oak Lane and defeated the Temple softballers 9-4.

Polly Mathers and B. J. Moyer ended their collegiate careers with this season while Betty Keyser, Mary Evans, Shirley MacKinnon, Sue Leinbach, Jean Heron, Margaret Hooper, and Marguerite Spencer will continue playing next season.

SPIRIT

With the able talents of "Whistler" Donahue and Jean Daniels enthusiastically dedicated to the proposition that Ursinus would live again spiritually, the campus donned a new attire for the 1949 football season.

Ruth McCartney, Carol Lucas, and Laura Bechtle perform at a pep rally in Thompson-Gay gymnasium.

Gerald Donahue acts as anchor man while Buck Ross and Dave Winther complete the pyramid in one of the trio's tumbling specialties.

Featured in the new look were the creation of a well-coordinated tumbling trio, the inception of new songs and cheers, and inspired pep rallies before games, not to mention the barrage of signs and posters which literally covered the campus throughout the season.

Not to be forgotten were the high-stepping, baton-twirling drum majorettes, who, added to Norm Harberger's well-organized band, helped to make the entire enterprise a huge success.

Eddie Siegener, Mary Schoenly, Len Abel, Dos Neill, and Jean Daniels pause long enough from their pep rally duties to pose for the cameraman.

W. A. A. COUNCIL

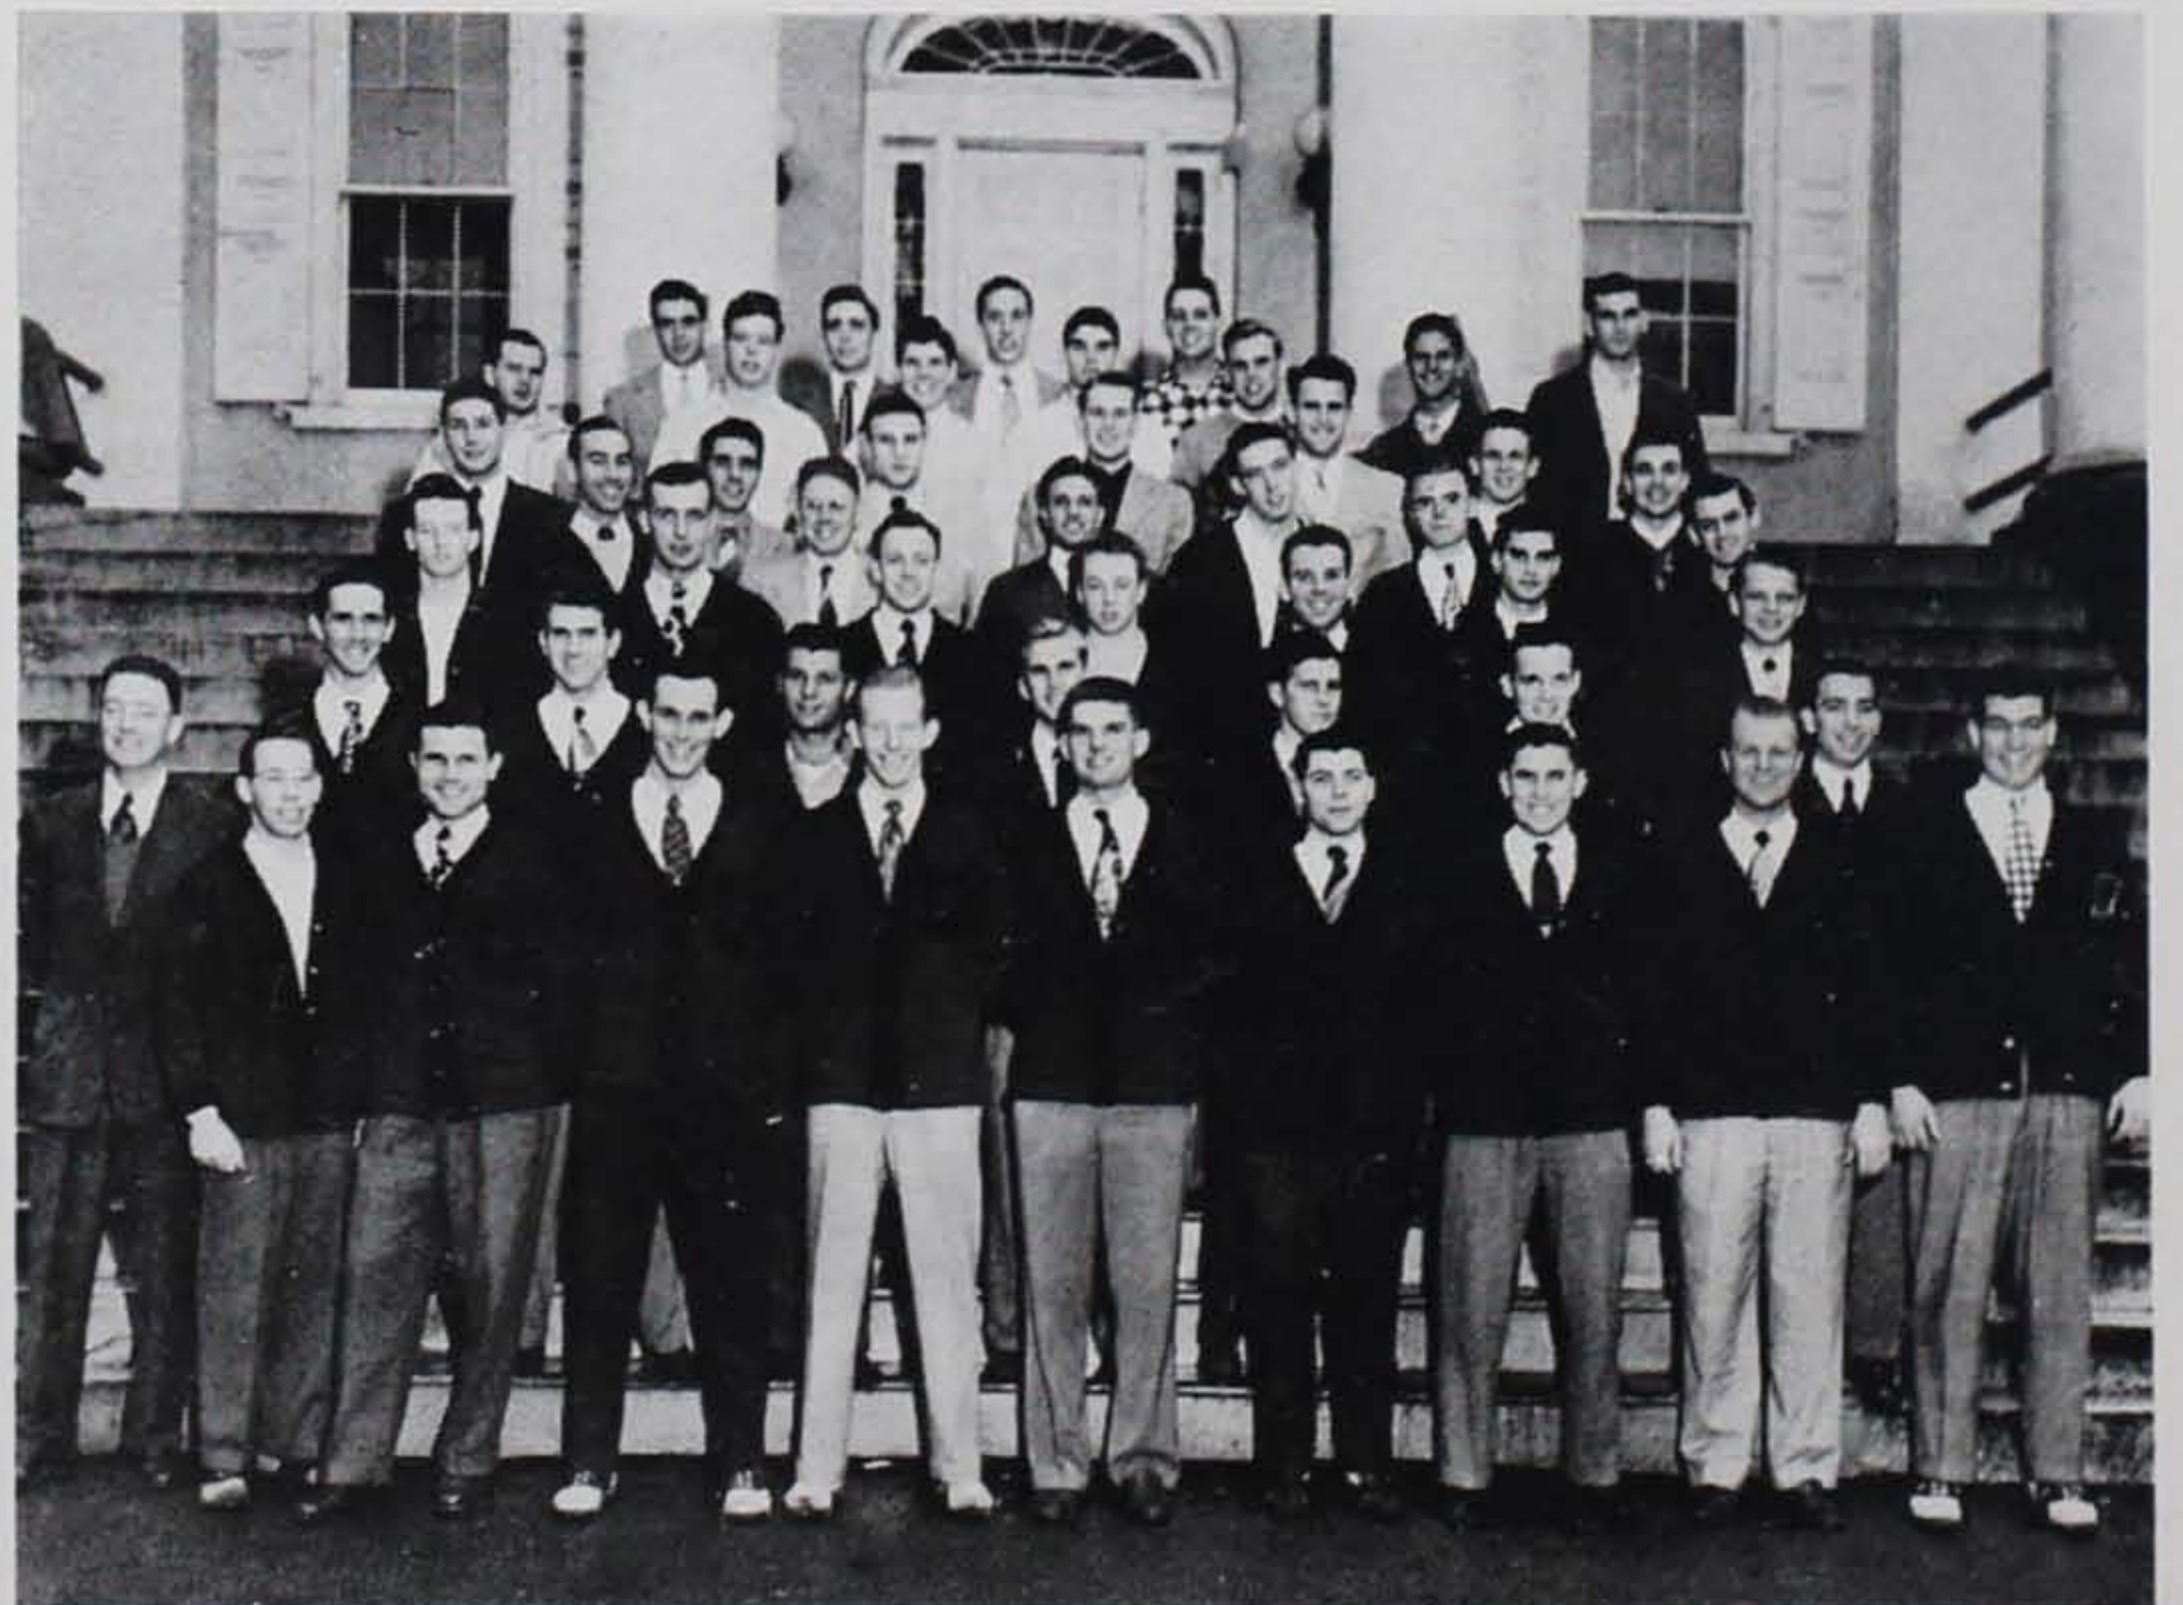

Led by Ron Landes the Varsity Club this year enacted a reorganization. Every varsity letterman is eligible to become a club member, but he must sign a pledge saying he will abide by their regulations. These pledges are enclosed in written letters sent out at the close of each season.

In addition to other miscellaneous activities, the club handles football programs, sponsors the Old Timers' Dance, and partakes of its annual banquet. This year the members elected Marge Justice as their Varsity Queen.

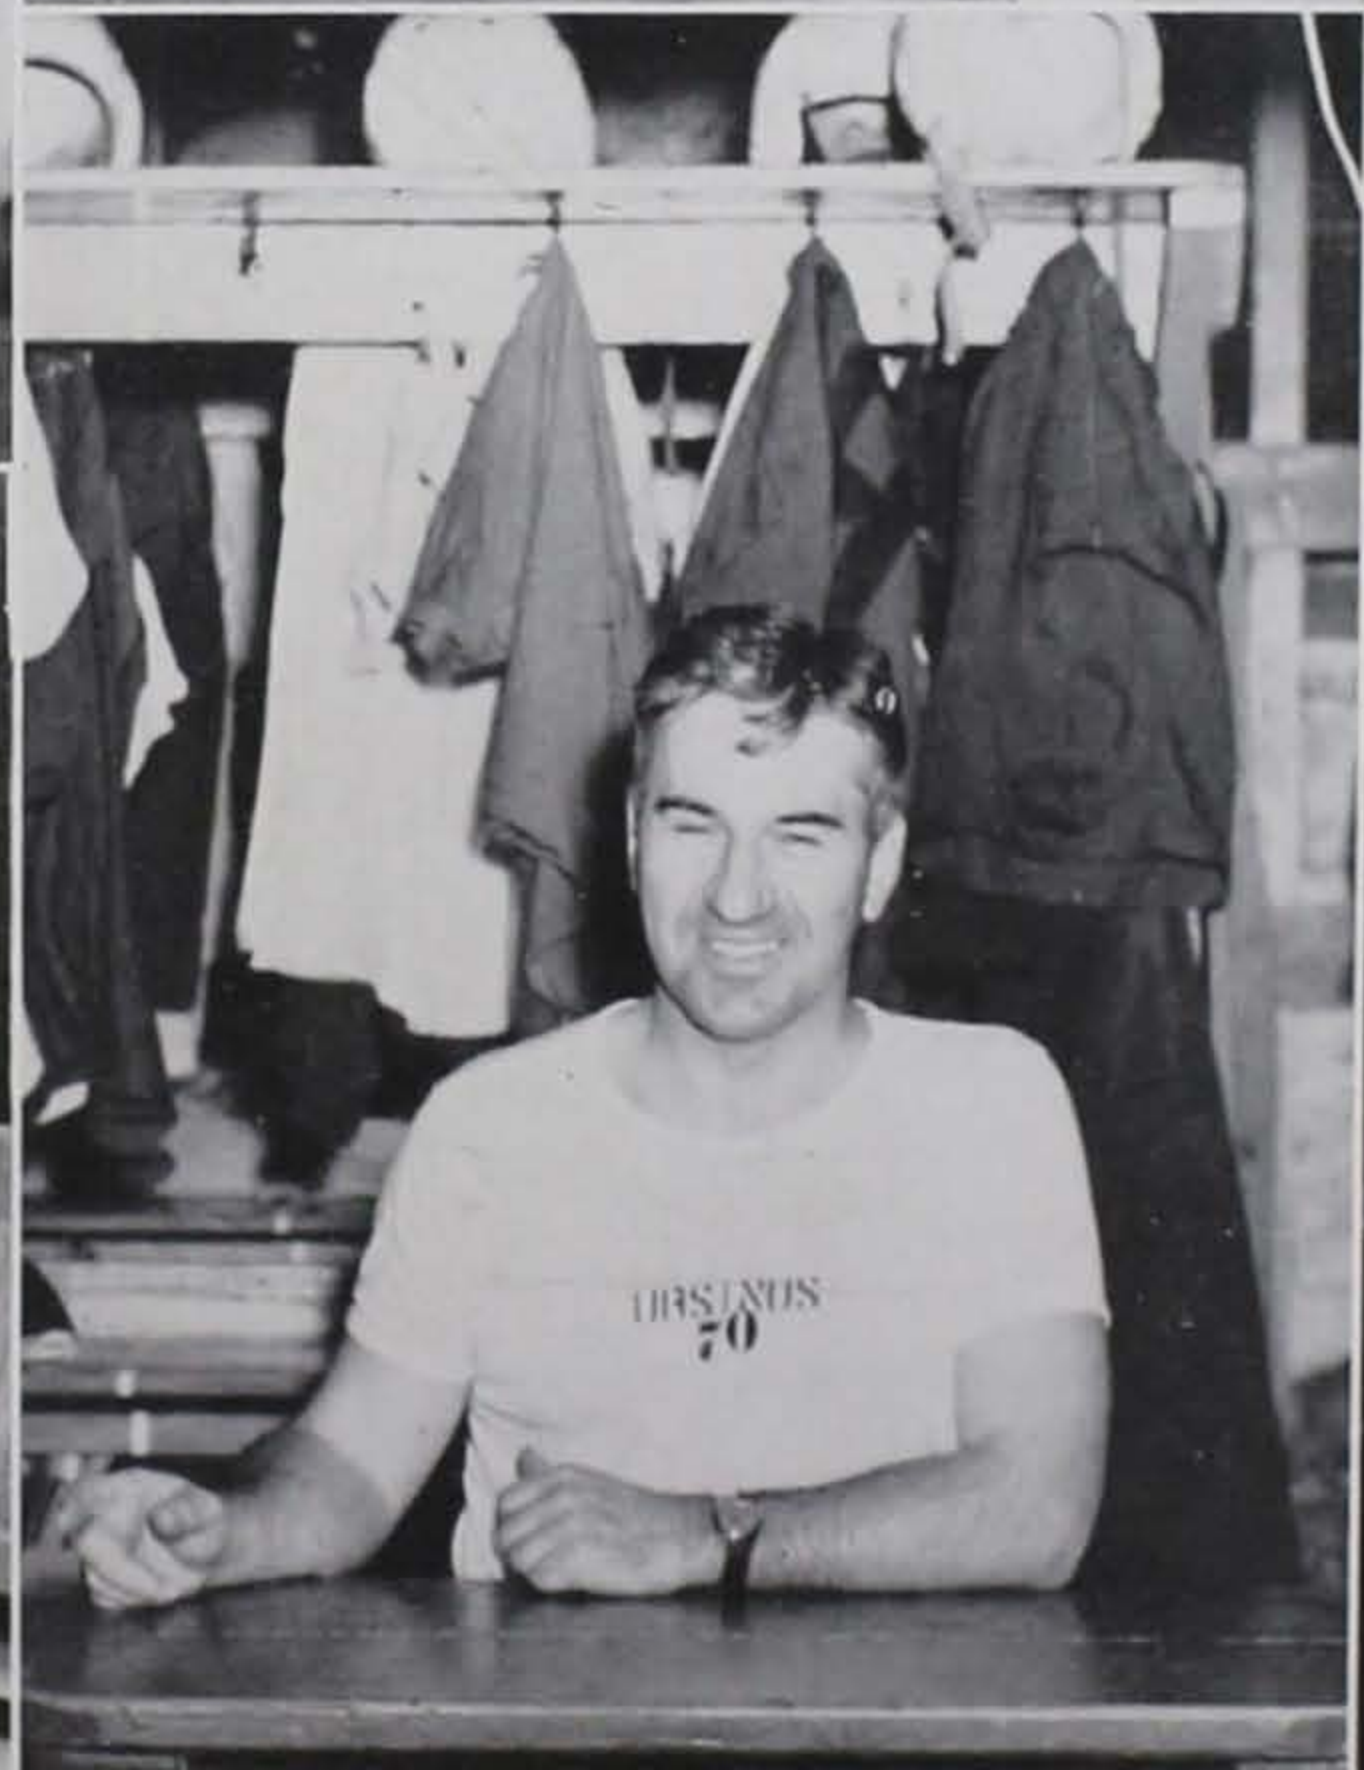

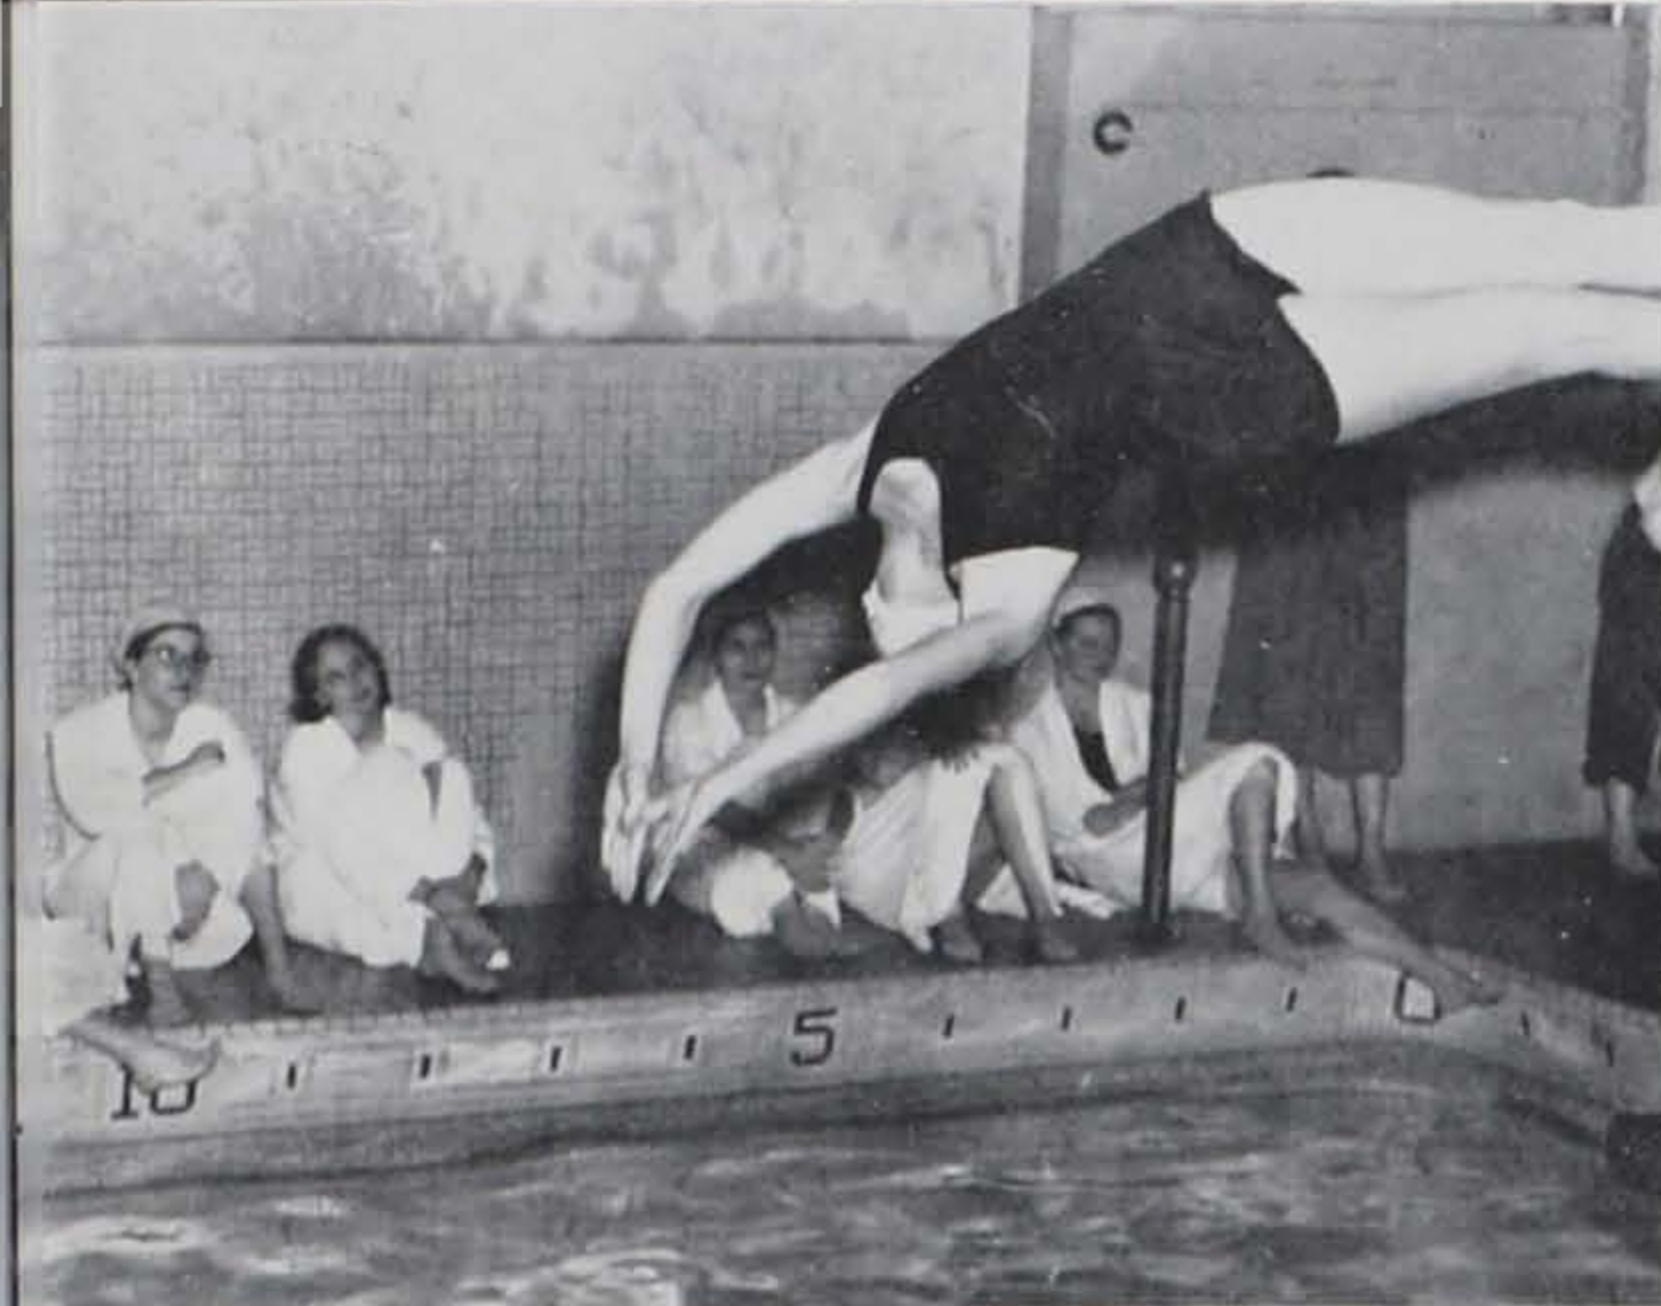

Regular meetings, doggie roasts, dances, and card parties have enabled the W.A.A. to draw a majority of its number into active membership. The main objective of the organization is to create a scholarship fund for needy women physical education students. To this end a Minstrel Show is produced annually by the group. Assisted by the Council, this body is also responsible for all awards and letters involving women's sports at the college. The Association has been capably led this year by Winifred Pattison.

Robert Swett, vice-president; George Ott, president; Harry Feulner, treasurer; William Bond, secretary.

Remember . . . how it took the combined efforts of the whole family to deposit us bag and baggage at college . . . the raft of tests thrown at us the first week . . . the President's tea and the "get acquainted" banquet . . . "Good morning, Noble Sir Pritchard" . . . those memorable meetings with "Petite Marguerite" every noon . . . dorm initiations . . . how the Junior-Frosh combination outwitted the Sophs by holding our class elections the afternoon of the banquet . . . George Ott, Harry Feulner, Bob Swett, and Bill Bond headed our class . . .

how startlingly lovely we were, wearing posters and lampshades . . . the pep rallies that shook the rafters . . . the football games when we alternately cheered and peddled cokes and hot dogs . . . a hayride, wet but good . . . first finals meant long faces as well as long nights . . . the day we received our colors . . . when at least half the class tried unsuccessfully to drop History at mid-semesters . . . our amazement upon learning in June that most of us were the proud possessors of thirty credit hours?

Final touches on the Weekly are applied by Harry Markley, Beverly Tuttle, and Jean Rinear, members of the circulation department, as they fold the issue before delivering it to Freeland for distribution to the students.

Joyce Derstine and Nancy Bare, associate editors of the Weekly, examine the layout checking the space still to be filled. To hold these jobs requires a great output of time and work which are repaid by experience and satisfaction.

The Weekly has a circulation of 1300 among students and alumni. It is supported by an appropriation from the Student Activities Fund and by the solicitation of ads from national and local business concerns.

After the assigned stories for the week have been proofed and edited, Betty Leeming, editor of the Weekly, gives the copy to Henry Muche who puts the story into print with his linotype.

LANTERN

For those of us who felt a yen toward literary expression the Lantern staff issued the challenge.

Culling from the quarterly submission of poetry and prose, heavy and light, mature and otherwise, the staff of editorial judges consistently produced an edition both popular and thought-provoking for its readers.

Vested with the position of editor-in-chief of the campus literary publication, Albert Mazurkiewicz reviews selected manuscripts for the current Lantern.

Seated: Keller, LeKernec, Nolt, Mazurkiewicz, editor; Schmidt. Standing: Reichley, Miglio, Clamer, Stefan.

BEARDWOOD CHEMICAL SOCIETY

THE 1950 RUBY

Co-editors Barbara Shumaker and George Saurman select pictures for the final dummy of the '50 Ruby. The editors share the responsibilities of assigning duties to the staff assistants, and of keeping the lengthy and involved process on schedule.

The annual publication of the senior class is the highlight of the final college year. It is also the most time-consuming project for the staff heads.

These assisted the editors in successfully completing a process of photography which records the college year. In addition each member conducted work on one phase of the editorial program.

This year the college administration section was handled by Doris Dalby, while Margaret Denham supervised the work on organizations. Jean Staker planned the activities pages, and Betty Sheffer and Fred Nicholls were in charge of the senior section. The sports department was compiled by Ray MacQueen. Jean Frederick was in charge of typing the material.

RUBY EDITORIAL STAFF

Bud Maser and Jack Webb total the tentative receipts of the Ruby business department. Serving as co-managers these seniors conducted the all-out financial campaign, which included numerous projects involving the entire class. The managers canvassed business concerns for ads.

Supporting the business managers in the long search for ads, subscriptions and unique events to sponsor, were the dorm representatives. These agents consulted each member of the student body, and devoted much time and effort to the pursuance of high-pressure sales practices in a co-operative campaign to meet the same deadline as the editorial staff with the correct sum of over $6,000. All of the projects of the senior year were aimed toward this goal. These included dances, concessions at athletic events, and original productions.

RUBY BUSINESS STAFF

Seated: Staker, Letson, Webb, co-business manager; Maser, co-business manager; Frederick, Marcon. Standing: Thompson, Halbert, Corcoran, Domm, Molvie, Morris, Seitzinger.

George Bernard Shaw's Pygmalion was selected for the Curtain Club's fall production. The talented cast, which scored another hit for the thespians' long record, featured the theatrical prowess of veteran Don Aikens and also brought to light the innate ability of Avis Allen.
