In memory of . . .

DEAN WHORTEN A. KLINE who gave his life services to our school, we thoughtfully dedicate this book. Serving the college from which he was graduated for more than a half a century, Dean Kline became a familiar figure at Ursinus. Hundreds of students in the past have known him either as a schoolmate, teacher, or counselor. To us, the students of recent years, he was "the Dean"—a tall, stately, old gentleman, full of quiet dignity and friendly courtesy.

He was a scholar in the truest sense of the word. Although he had studied and taught Latin and Greek, his interests were not limited to the classics. An ardent lover of outdoor life, a fancier of birds and plants, he became known as an authority on the subject in this area. To him who loved flowers and trees Ursinus is much indebted for the beauty of its campus.

We are grateful to have had the leadership of such a man for so many years. The ideals of scholarship and refinement which he cherished are a part of Ursinus tradition. May the remembrance of his work, his faith, and his wisdom inspire us to fulfill these ideals.

PRECEPTRESSES

When the class of '48 leaves Ursinus this year, they will take with them many memories of their last school days and the close friendships that they have made. Each preceptress in the various girls' dorms has added inimitably to these memories.

These women have been more than just preceptresses; they have given words of encouragement and guidance to the girls, and it is to them that we owe a sincere debt of gratitude for all the kindness and patience that they have given us.

When we first entered Ursinus, the girls occupied Stine, Brodbeck, Freeland, and Derr. Gradually the enrollment increased with the men returning to college. The girls and their preceptresses were forced to vacate these dormitories and move off campus. Last year Rimby's was added to the list of women's dormitories. This year, with Ursinus having the largest enrollment in its history, it was necessary again to find new dormitories; and now we find Bancroft and Baird's added to our group of houses.

With the change in dormitories came a change in preceptresses. At Bancroft we find Mrs. Shryock; Mrs. Haller has been transferred to Lynnewood; and Mrs. Baird is presiding at her own home on Sixth Avenue in Collegeville.

This year too we find that "612" has lost its former name and has now become Duryea Hall, named for Mrs. Rhea Duryea Johnson, a member of the Board of Directors.

In leaving, the women of Ursinus will long remember this group of women—our preceptresses who have untiringly guided us through our pleasant dormitory life at Ursinus College.

The following group of preceptresses preside over these houses:

944—Mrs. Jacobson; Bancroft—Mrs. Shryock; Fircroft—Mrs. Dennis; Lynnewood—Mrs. Haller; Rimby's—Mrs. Staiger; Duryea—Mrs. Pancoast; Shreiner—Miss Stahr; Hobson—Mrs. Helfferich; Maples—Miss Lappin; Baird's—Mrs. Baird; South—Mrs. Jackson; Glenwood—Miss Morris.

Why THE RUBY?

SAMUEL VERNON RUBY, ESQ., A.M., Ph.D.

A great many Ursinus students have held the mistaken idea that our yearbook was named for the precious red stone. Actually, the title of the annual dates to 1897, when the junior class published the first yearbook in the history of the school. They decided to call it "The Ruby" in honor of Professor Samuel Vernon Ruby, Esq., A.M., Ph.D. Dr. Ruby was professor of English, literature, aesthetics, and social sciences at Ursinus from 1872 until his death in 1896. Before coming to Ursinus, he had taken college and graduate work at Franklin and Marshall, had been admitted to the practice of law at Carlisle, and had served as professor of Ancient Language and Belles Lettres at Palatinate College. The editor of this first yearbook, R. Mearns Yerkes, made the dedication as follows: "We soon decided to call it (the annual) "The Ruby" in honor, if it can be regarded as such, of our highly esteemed Professor whose recent death has saddened the hearts of all his students. Professor Ruby, who was devoted to his work of teaching, by his faithful labors in the interests of Ursinus and her students, won the respect of all."

HIGHLIGHTS

Seniors! Grads! Four years of striving is about to bring its reward—a diploma and irreplaceable pages for our memory albums. Our dedication page should certainly go to the first friendly “hellos” that made us Ursinusites too.

The Navy unit added glamour to our frosh year but made the humiliation greater when “Keyes Kingdom of Sophomores” took over. Soon, however, we got to know our fellow sufferers and elected Lou Monaco and then Bob Delheim to direct frosh activities. Our first recognition was our prize winning banquet table, next our Booby Dance and then the original Glenwood Quartet with Ken, Bud, Herb Dean, and Bob Delheim. May Day brought our first year to a close with Carol Schoeppe and Jane Henry as our attendants.

The fall saw many changes—no navy, women in Brodbeck and Sickbay, and Mrs. Wagner’s Snack Shop. With Ken Schroeder as president we planned the gala Soph Carnival and our Easter Ball. The big “U” boasted a championship basketball team, and we boasted Helen D.

and Pud Moister for the first of their two successive years as May Day attendants.

Summer vacation at Ursinus-by-the-sea, and then we were juniors with Archie Simons as class president. Bridge 1-2 became a Supply Store course, curtains disappeared from Brodbeck, the Annex became the hiking outpost, and our Junior Prom at Sunnybrook had Sue Bellis as queen.

Even our senior year called for some adjustments—men invaded Derr, Stine, and Freeland; a new gymnasium was erected; meal tickets, athletic tickets, and even parking tickets were issued. Archie again held the gavel, and our Senior Ball, under his direction, became the first formal dance since the war. We took banquet table honors again, and the Glenwood Quartet, now Ken, Bud, Ian, and Mike, are still making headlines.

But as Mary Carter reigned as May Queen, we realized that we too must say our farewells. Our friendships go with us as do the little remembrances like rain for every formal dance, mush boxes, and Ursinus in the snow. All these have made our years at college unforgettable.

As we bid farewell to our friends of the senior class, it is hard to realize that next year we will find ourselves in our last year at Ursinus.

It seems but yesterday that we first explored the campus and buildings so familiar to us now, and established ourselves as a class under the able leadership of Hap Hallinger and Bob Poole. The days of green bands and dinks will always be remembered, for with them began our four years at Ursinus.

Our sophomore year was crammed with activity, as Jim Kromka and Lee Grayson assumed the leadership of our class. The Bunny Hop was a tremendous success with "Humbug Harry, the Happy Hare" as our mascot; everyone had a "hopping" good time. The festive carnival yielded fortunes from lovely gypsies and intriguing sideshows for everyone.

As we began our year as juniors, we chose Dick Reid as our president; John Kajmo, vice-president; Floy Lewis, secretary; and Jim Kromka, treasurer. Things started off with a bang as we turned our united efforts toward organizing weekend "hops", selling chances for school rings, and sponsoring a basketball game between the "longs" and "shorts", so that we as a class could set a precedent with something new and different. Yes, the Junior Prom of 1948 will long be remembered. The very first name band at Ursinus provided perfect music for a night of dancing and fun that put stars in everyone's eyes. The Grand March was a sparkling event and the crowning of the Junior Prom Queen was the highlight of the dream come true. By our third year of college, we had learned that success follows hard work; everyone had pulled together to help the officers and committee chairmen lead the junior class through a successful and eventful year.

As our junior year ends, we gladly accept the challenge to assume the responsibilities of seniors, which you, the class of '48, extend to us. To you in return, we offer our sincerest wishes for success and happiness in all you do.

Sophomore Class

In the last days of September, 1947, our class arrived on the campus after their summer holidays. We greeted old friends and exchanged summer experiences. Some of the summer occupations proved the class's originality and ingenuity, and we now felt prepared for our second year at Ursinus.

The class president in our sophomore year was Ray Dippel, who competently guided the class through the two semesters and planned a host of social activities. He was ably assisted by Don Schultz, vice-president; Richard Kropp, treasurer; and Doris Neill, secretary.

In October an efficient Sophomore Rules Committee under the vigorous leadership of Edward Stefanowicz revived some old Ursinus traditions. A dutiful freshman class enlivened campus life by their antics until the chairman of the committee was incapacitated by a football injury.

Catherine Chomalou was no less capable in her rule of the frosh women.

The last weekend of October was well remembered as the Soph weekend. The Friday night social evening highlighted by square dancing was acclaimed a success by everyone present. It was followed the next night by a doggie roast in the college woods.

The Spring Frolic revived the old precedent of having the sophomore dance on the campus. The dance was held March 19th and ushered in the spring campus activities at Ursinus.

We sophomores participated to a great extent in all Ursinus athletic events, thus building a good foundation for our future teams.

Our class boasts the largest veteran enrollment in the school and it is inspiring to note the cooperation and fellowship that has always existed between the veterans and non-veterans in all class activities.

Freshman Class

Dear Seniors:

Today I can sit back with pride and review the many things that our class, the Class of 1951, accomplished in its first year at Ursinus. We gathered from all parts of the country in a body 241 strong, including 127 veterans and 114 students directly from high school, and elected an efficient governing group with Floyd Justice at the helm. We were strong in quality having been selected on the basis of examination and high school records.

Yes, today I can recall with pride those days of Frosh Customs and our first big break with the encouraging cry of "Come Ye Freshman Brothers". I can picture the Freshman Banquet and the eventful Freshman Show with its touch of burlesque, and I well remember the night we captured an innocent sophomore.

Our class was soon to realize the true value of school spirit and we instituted "More Spirit Week" and paraded our mascot, the Bear. The need for an Alma Mater led to the location of the original school song composed many years ago and long since forgotten.

We held monthly class meetings and published a news-sheet, the "Highlights of '51" as a means of bringing our day students into our class activities. Two big Frosh Dances were our main projects.

Our class took part in sports, dramatics, and musical organizations; and a hillbilly band and numerous harmony groups were sure signs of a freshman gathering.

The freshman class succeeded in reviving the old school spirit of Ursinus and we are looking forward to our sophomore year.

Sincerely,

A FRESHMAN

MEN'S STUDENT COUNCIL

The Men's Student Council is composed of representatives elected by the Men's Student Association. Its purpose, like that of any other democratic governing body, is to represent the students in such a manner as to be beneficial in both student activities and student government. It also endeavors to bring about closer cooperation between the student body and the administration of the College.

The composition of the council includes ten members of the student body; three seniors, two juniors, two sophomores, two freshmen and one day student. At least one member of the council shall be from the College Annex. The president of this year's governing body is John Dahlman, an able administrator; the duties of the Secretary-Treasurer rest upon Andrew Bain.

The Dean of Men, G. Sieber Pancoast, is faculty advisor of the body and has aided, by his constructive criticism, in improving decisions handed down by the council. Mr. Pancoast's years of experience in this capacity have been a boon in assisting the council in the administration of its judicial duties.

Activities of the council this year consisted of the annual Christmas banquet to which all members of the Men's Student Association were invited. Also the freshman reception was sponsored by the Men's Student Council and the Women's Judiciary Board acting jointly. The parking problem at Ursinus during the past year was one of the greatest problems confronting the council. Regulations were drawn up in an attempt to alleviate this pressing condition, and with adherence to these rules we hope that the situation will remedy itself.

WOMEN'S STUDENT COUNCIL

To make women students aware of their privileges and responsibilities as members of the Women's Student Government Association and to encourage participation of all women in activities—these have been the aims of the student council for the past year. The council forming the executive branch of the WSGA includes the officers elected by all the women, and representatives from the classes, the Day Study, and the Hall Presidents. Dorothy Marple served as president, Floy Lewis as vice-president, Susan Letson as secretary, and Pauline Mathers as treasurer. Representatives were Marian Bell, Barbara Yerkes, Barbara Shumaker, Marion Bosler, and Evelyn Moyer.

Besides fulfilling the executive duties of policy formation and enforcement, the council sponsors a few events which form part of the tradition of college life at Ursinus. Outstanding in memories of freshman women are the Junior-Frosh breakfast and Color Day at which time they receive the college colors. The Junior Advisory Committee directed by the council is largely responsible for these events. The Christmas banquet and May Day pageant, both enjoyed and worked upon by all students, represent other traditions which the council sponsors.

Endeavoring to broaden its scope of activities, the council has cooperated with the Men's Student Council to sponsor the Christmas dance, complete with Santa Claus and a huge Christmas tree. The Valentine Hop, a turnabout dance, given in place of the Lorelei and the IS-IF Ball had the joint backing of the Intersorority-Interfraternity councils and the WSGA.

Other projects sponsored by the council have been a college unit of the American Red Cross and a Girl Scout leadership training course.

WOMEN'S SENATE

Government "of the people, by the people, and for the people" is the keynote of the women's senate. Acting as a sounding board for criticism of rules and suggestions for changes, the senate fulfills the legislative branch of the women's student government. All changes and revisions of rules are legislated by the senate and passed on to the Dean of Women and the President of the College for their approval.

The outstanding feature of the legislative branch is its democratic organization. Each dormitory and the Day Study elect a senator. The YWCA, WAA, and Weekly each send a representative, while the chairmen of the Women's Dormitory Committee and the Booster Committee represent their respective groups. By having such a wide representation, the senate is able to hear many views and receive many constructive suggestions. The executive department, the Dean of Women, and three preceptresses act in an advisory capacity, but have no voting power.

Most of the discussion of the senate representatives, who met this year, revolved around proposed major changes in late permissions and social privileges. A senate committee composed of two preceptresses, the Dean of Women, three senators, and the president of the student council drafted several plans for discussion.

The judicial functions of student government have been carried out by the Judiciary Board composed of the hall presidents, the Sophomore Rules chairman, and the officers of the student council. Offenders of student government and administrative regulations are tried by the board. The presiding officer is the vice-president of the student council.

Interpreting rules in the dormitory is the task of the hall executive council consisting of the hall president, senator, secretary-treasurer, and preceptress. This council plays an important part in not only the judicial system but also in the entire program of student government by helping to develop wholesome group life. Meetings of hall presidents are held once a month to discuss common problems.

SOPHOMORE RULES COMMITTEE

Our Freshmen arrived with their heads tilted high.

*"So this is Ursinus," they exclaimed with a sigh.
But little they knew what awaited them here
From the almighty Sophs they soon learned to fear.*

Green bands and red dinks brightly colored the scene,

*Their names printed plainly for Katie the Queen.
Stripteases by Ed's men on old Freeland's stair,
While Juniors cried "Break! Don't be chicken!
We dare!"*

*And every so often right after lunch,
A meeting was called by Queen Katie's bunch.
"Fry like an egg; wipe that smile off your face!
We're not joking, freshmen; we're setting the pace."*

*Such proceedings went on for a number of weeks,
While Freshmen obeyed 'midst ungodly shrieks.
'Till finally the moment of freedom arrived—
Make-up restored; wavy tresses revived.*

*Yes, the banquet climaxed this four weeks affair.
Each Frosh was concerned with what she should wear*

*To rate the attention of some B.T.O.
Whom later that evening she might get to know.*

*Beautiful girls in formals were dancing
While the men in the stag lines sideways were glancing*

*At adorable faces and lovely hair styles
Which now were the object of approval and smiles.*

It's all over Freshmen! We're real glad you're here,

And hope that these memories may long remain dear.

*Good luck in the future, and don't be too cruel
On the freshmen next year who'll be under your rule.*

THE WEEKLY

For the past year we of the Weekly have striven to make the paper representative of better journalism by concentrating on two aims: (1) increasing the attractiveness of the layout, and (2) presenting as complete and thorough a news coverage as could possibly be realized.

In attempting to fulfill these intentions, we have been largely guided by observing and emulating the best features of other collegiate journals which we receive through an exchange process. We have studied those two titans of American journalism, the Christian Science Monitor and the New York Herald Tribune and, wherever practicable, have utilized the lessons taught by their superior make-ups. Lastly, we were influenced by a wonderful war-time newspaper put out by G. I.'s, the Stars and Stripes (London edition), which many of our ex-servicemen students will remember. Superb layout and design made the paper well worth imitating. Incidentally, it was of the same dimensions as the Weekly, and like our publication, varied from four to six pages.

All of this does not mean that we have been backward in applying our own initiative toward creating a more appealing paper. Several projects, such as the regular use of cartoons, and the employment of more pictures, have been instituted by this year's staff. As for the news coverage angle, the hustling reporters rate orchids for a thoroughly workman-like job. Their zeal and reliability contributed much toward the achieving of our second aim.

It is worth pointing out that during the past year, the Weekly has never been hampered by censorship of faculty or administration interference. We have maintained a self-imposed censorship which has led to greater accuracy in the presentation of news.

Putting out the Weekly has involved numerous trivial trials and tribulations, but through it all it's been great fun. May the next editor receive as big a "kick" from his endeavors as this one has during the past year.

THE LANTERN

The present staff of the Lantern is the fourteenth in the history of this college literary magazine. Founded by students as an outlet for contemplative poetry and prose, the Lantern continues to publish the finest works which the campus writers offer for the staff's consideration.

Through the years, however, the Lantern has been following the subtle change from philosophical, theological, and classical musing to the sometimes hard, sometimes surprisingly tender creativeness that is today's result of a decade of poor and commercial writing.

Yet this change has most often been demanded by the reading many rather than by the writing few, and magazines in general are, if they wish to be read, stuffed with hard-boiled desk-sergeants and cute female reporters; debutantes dancing in the moonlight with no necessity 'for earning a dollar; or peons sweating outside a slanted shack in order to portray "reality".

The Lantern has, of course, not escaped all this. It has, in fact, at times welcomed it as some indication as to what its writers may offer the readers in order to please them. Nevertheless the Lantern is still, on the whole, a genuinely literary magazine. Changes in format, type-size, composition, and cover design have been made in an effort to dress up the publication for this year's unusually fine offering of manuscripts.

Above all things, the Lantern has always been and shall continue to be the voice of the muse on the college campus.

Y. M. C. A. - Y. W. C. A

Welcoming into its membership all students of Ursinus, the YM-YWCA describes as its purpose "making available a Christian program including worship, study of problems in the light of Christian faith, and social action growing out of that faith". Active membership is granted anyone who pledges himself to this purpose and "affirms a faith in one God and his belief in the Christian way of life". All other students, however, are invited to participate in any activities; they are called associate members.

Through its use of worship in weekly vesper services and committee meetings, study of racial, economic, political, and religious problems in the commission meetings, and action in social service work and political action, the "Y" seeks to demonstrate the complete relevance of Christianity in our community life. Big and little sisters and brothers, fireside discussion groups, religious emphasis week, Lenten services, World Student Service Fund, and social activities emphasize the fellowship and personal growth Christianity offers. Monthly association meetings and special programs have brought foreign students and professors, radio speakers, students from other colleges and universities, and choral groups to the campus.

Initiative for the program is given by the "Y" cabinet, which is a joint executive committee of men and women. They are advised by the Rev. Charles Wallick, college chaplain, and Mrs. Wallick. Cabinet meetings are open to any student in the college.

The Ursinus YM-YWCA is affiliated with the national YMCA and YWCA and with the Student Christian Movement. Cabinet members have received training for their work by attending conferences, leadership training workshops, and program institutes sponsored by the Student Christian Movement. Students have served on councils and planning committees in the Middle Atlantic Region, making contributions to the programs of colleges throughout five states. Retaining membership in their denominational student groups, "Y" members have been delegates to conferences and have been elected to positions of leadership in these organizations.

CURTAIN CLUB

With fondness and regret we part after four years with the Curtain Club. The passage of time has witnessed our progress from Extra to Understudy, Player to Star, and eventually—with vote, attaining a place in Alpha Psi Omega.

College audiences can remember well the winter and spring plays produced regularly. There was "Night Must Fall" in '44, "Royal Family" and "Mr. and Mrs. North" in '45, while "Spring Again" and "Ten Little Indians" rounded out '46. Turning to comedy, the Curtain Club presented in '47 "The Man Who Came to Dinner". In the fall of the same year "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" followed.

The first production of '48 was "The Little Foxes" presented by the Experimental Group. These ambitious stage veterans gave their student acted, directed and produced performance in Bomberger Chapel.

The combined efforts of the Curtain Club and the musical department produced the following operettas in early spring: "Sweethearts", '45; "Countess Maritza", '46; "Very Good Eddie",

'47; and "The Mikado", '48.

Ever progressive, the Curtain Club amended its Constitution in '47 as the number of members towered over the one hundred mark. The club was divided into four groups headed by Jean Bartle, Marion Bell, Ronnie Sare, and Vangy Tilton. Each group was responsible for a one-act performance. Jean's group presented "If Men Played Cards As Women Do", and Ronnie ended the group season with the court scene from "Merchant of Venice" and "City Symphony".

Ursinus holds the Delta Tau Chapter in the National Dramatic Fraternity of Alpha Psi Omega which operates independently from the main Curtain Club. In '47 Alpha Psi started their social season with a theatre party, "I Remember Mama". A dinner-dance concluded the next semester.

All Curtain Club members will be forever grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Helfferich for making their dramatic productions a success. We add them to our host of Curtain Club memories.

SORORITIES AND FRATERNITIES

SORORITIES AND FRATERNITIES on the Ursinus campus are strictly local and for the most part are purely social. They have been organized over the years since 1907 when Phi Alpha Psi Sorority was founded. Fraternal organizations, however, were not officially recognized by the administration until 1930; up to that time, the disbanding, renaming and founding of Greek letter organizations were not infrequent. With the founding of Kappa Delta Kappa Sorority in 1938, the fraternities and sororities as we know them today were complete in organization and name. From that year on, we have had five sororities—Alpha Sigma Nu, Kappa Delta Kappa, Omega Chi, Phi Alpha Psi, and Tau Sigma Gamma—and five fraternities—Alpha Phi Epsilon, Beta Sigma Lambda, Demas, Sigma Rho Lambda, and Zeta Chi.

These organizations have weekly meetings and occasional social functions including Old Timers' Day luncheons, spring dinner dances, sorority weekends at the shore and fraternity stag parties. Each sorority and fraternity has its own motto, ideals, songs and colors. Several groups sponsor scholarship funds, support library projects and contribute to charitable work. The general function of these organizations is to promote social life on the campus and to foster a cooperative and friendly spirit among campus and alumni members.

The sororities sponsor rushing week each fall, during which first semester sophomore girls are bid; in the spring, rushing of upper-class women takes place. Fraternity rushing is held near the opening of the second semester.

In addition to these local organizations, there are two national honorary fraternities on our campus. Tau Kappa Alpha is the honorary debating fraternity and Alpha Psi Omega, the honorary dramatic fraternity. These organizations are limited to the best debaters and thespians of the college, and members are selected on the recommendations set up by the national organizations.

INTER-SORORITY COUNCIL

President..... Leroy Grayson
Secretary-Treasurer Richard Harris

In 1930 when the fraternal organizations on campus were recognized by the administration, the Inter-sorority and Inter-fraternity Councils were founded. They are entirely separate bodies with the purpose of fostering a spirit of cooperation among the sororities and fraternities. They act as arbitrators in all affairs of an inter-sorority and inter-fraternity nature. The councils regulate all rushing and bidding activities and see that the constitutions are adhered to and amended or revised if necessary.

The Inter-sorority Council consists of the president and vice-president of each sorority. The president of each fraternity and one elected representative compose the Inter-fraternity Council.

The presidency of both councils rotates among the sororities and fraternities.

The Inter-sorority Council includes Betty Adam and Mary Flad, Alpha Sigma Nu; Norma Veith and Anita Mann, Kappa Delta Kappa; Edith Hess and Anne Eysenbach, Omega Chi; Florence Cherry and Mary Arrison, Phi Alpha Psi; and Carol Schoeppe and Floy Lewis, Tau Sigma Gamma. The Inter-fraternity Council includes Richard Clark and Harry Collier, Alpha Phi Epsilon; Frank Pirazzini and Harold Buckner, Beta Sigma Lambda; John Dahlman and Peter Tenewitz, Demas; Leroy Grayson and Richard Harris, Sigma Rho Lambda; Millard Leute and Robert Baumgart, Zeta Chi.

THE SEASON ON

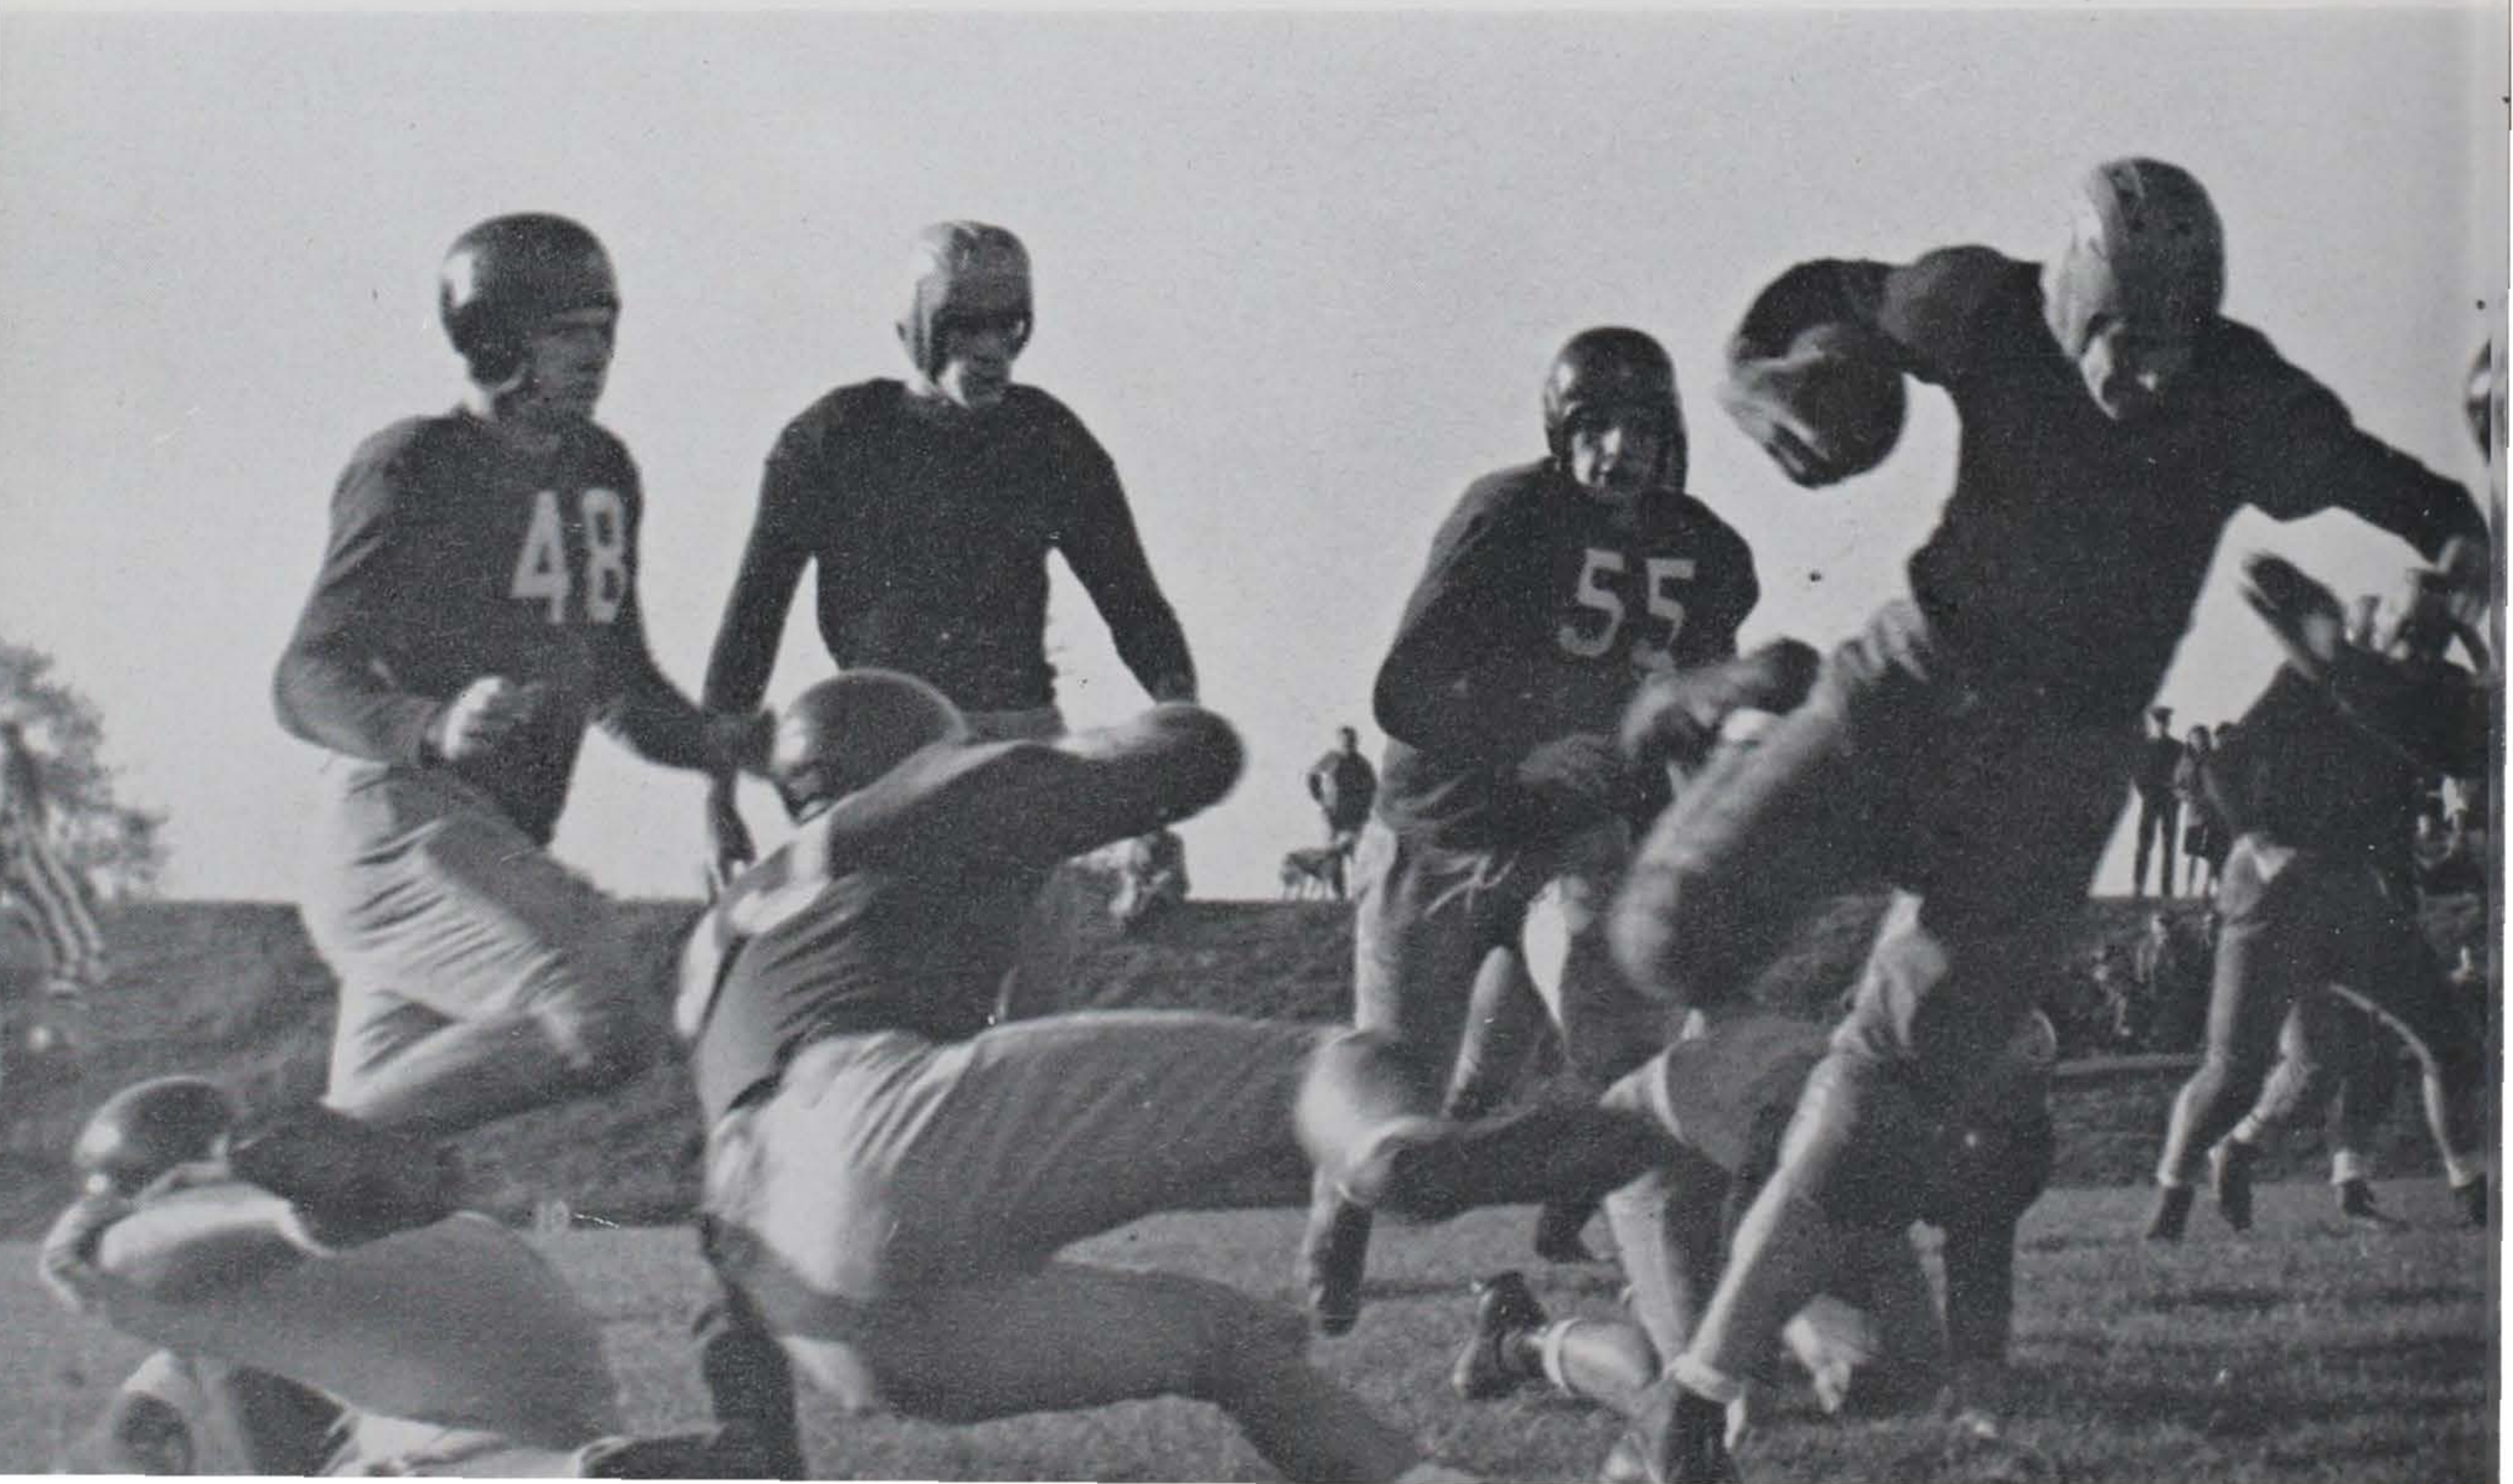

Coach Kuhrt Wieneke

The Ursinus line play of the unpredictable team of '47 showed itself to be exceptionally strong in every position. This forward wall outplayed every team until the heavy charges of the F & M Diplomats arrived on Patterson Field to dent an excellent record.

We cannot forget the goal line stands made by the bear line in the first half of our opening game against Drexel and our coming from behind to snatch a 6-0 victory. Nor can we forget how a bigger and heavier Haverford line was outplayed and outcharged to give us a 6-0 upset.

Three seniors played their grand finale on the Ursinus gridiron—Seth Bakes, one of the most outstanding ends ever to play at Ursinus; Bill Miksch, a hard charging guard; and Harlan Durfee, our fighting preacher.

It's a sure bet the '48 team will be a winner with the returning veterans Bain, Drobek, Landes, Kajmo, Reinhart, and Leander ready for victories.

THE GRIDIRON

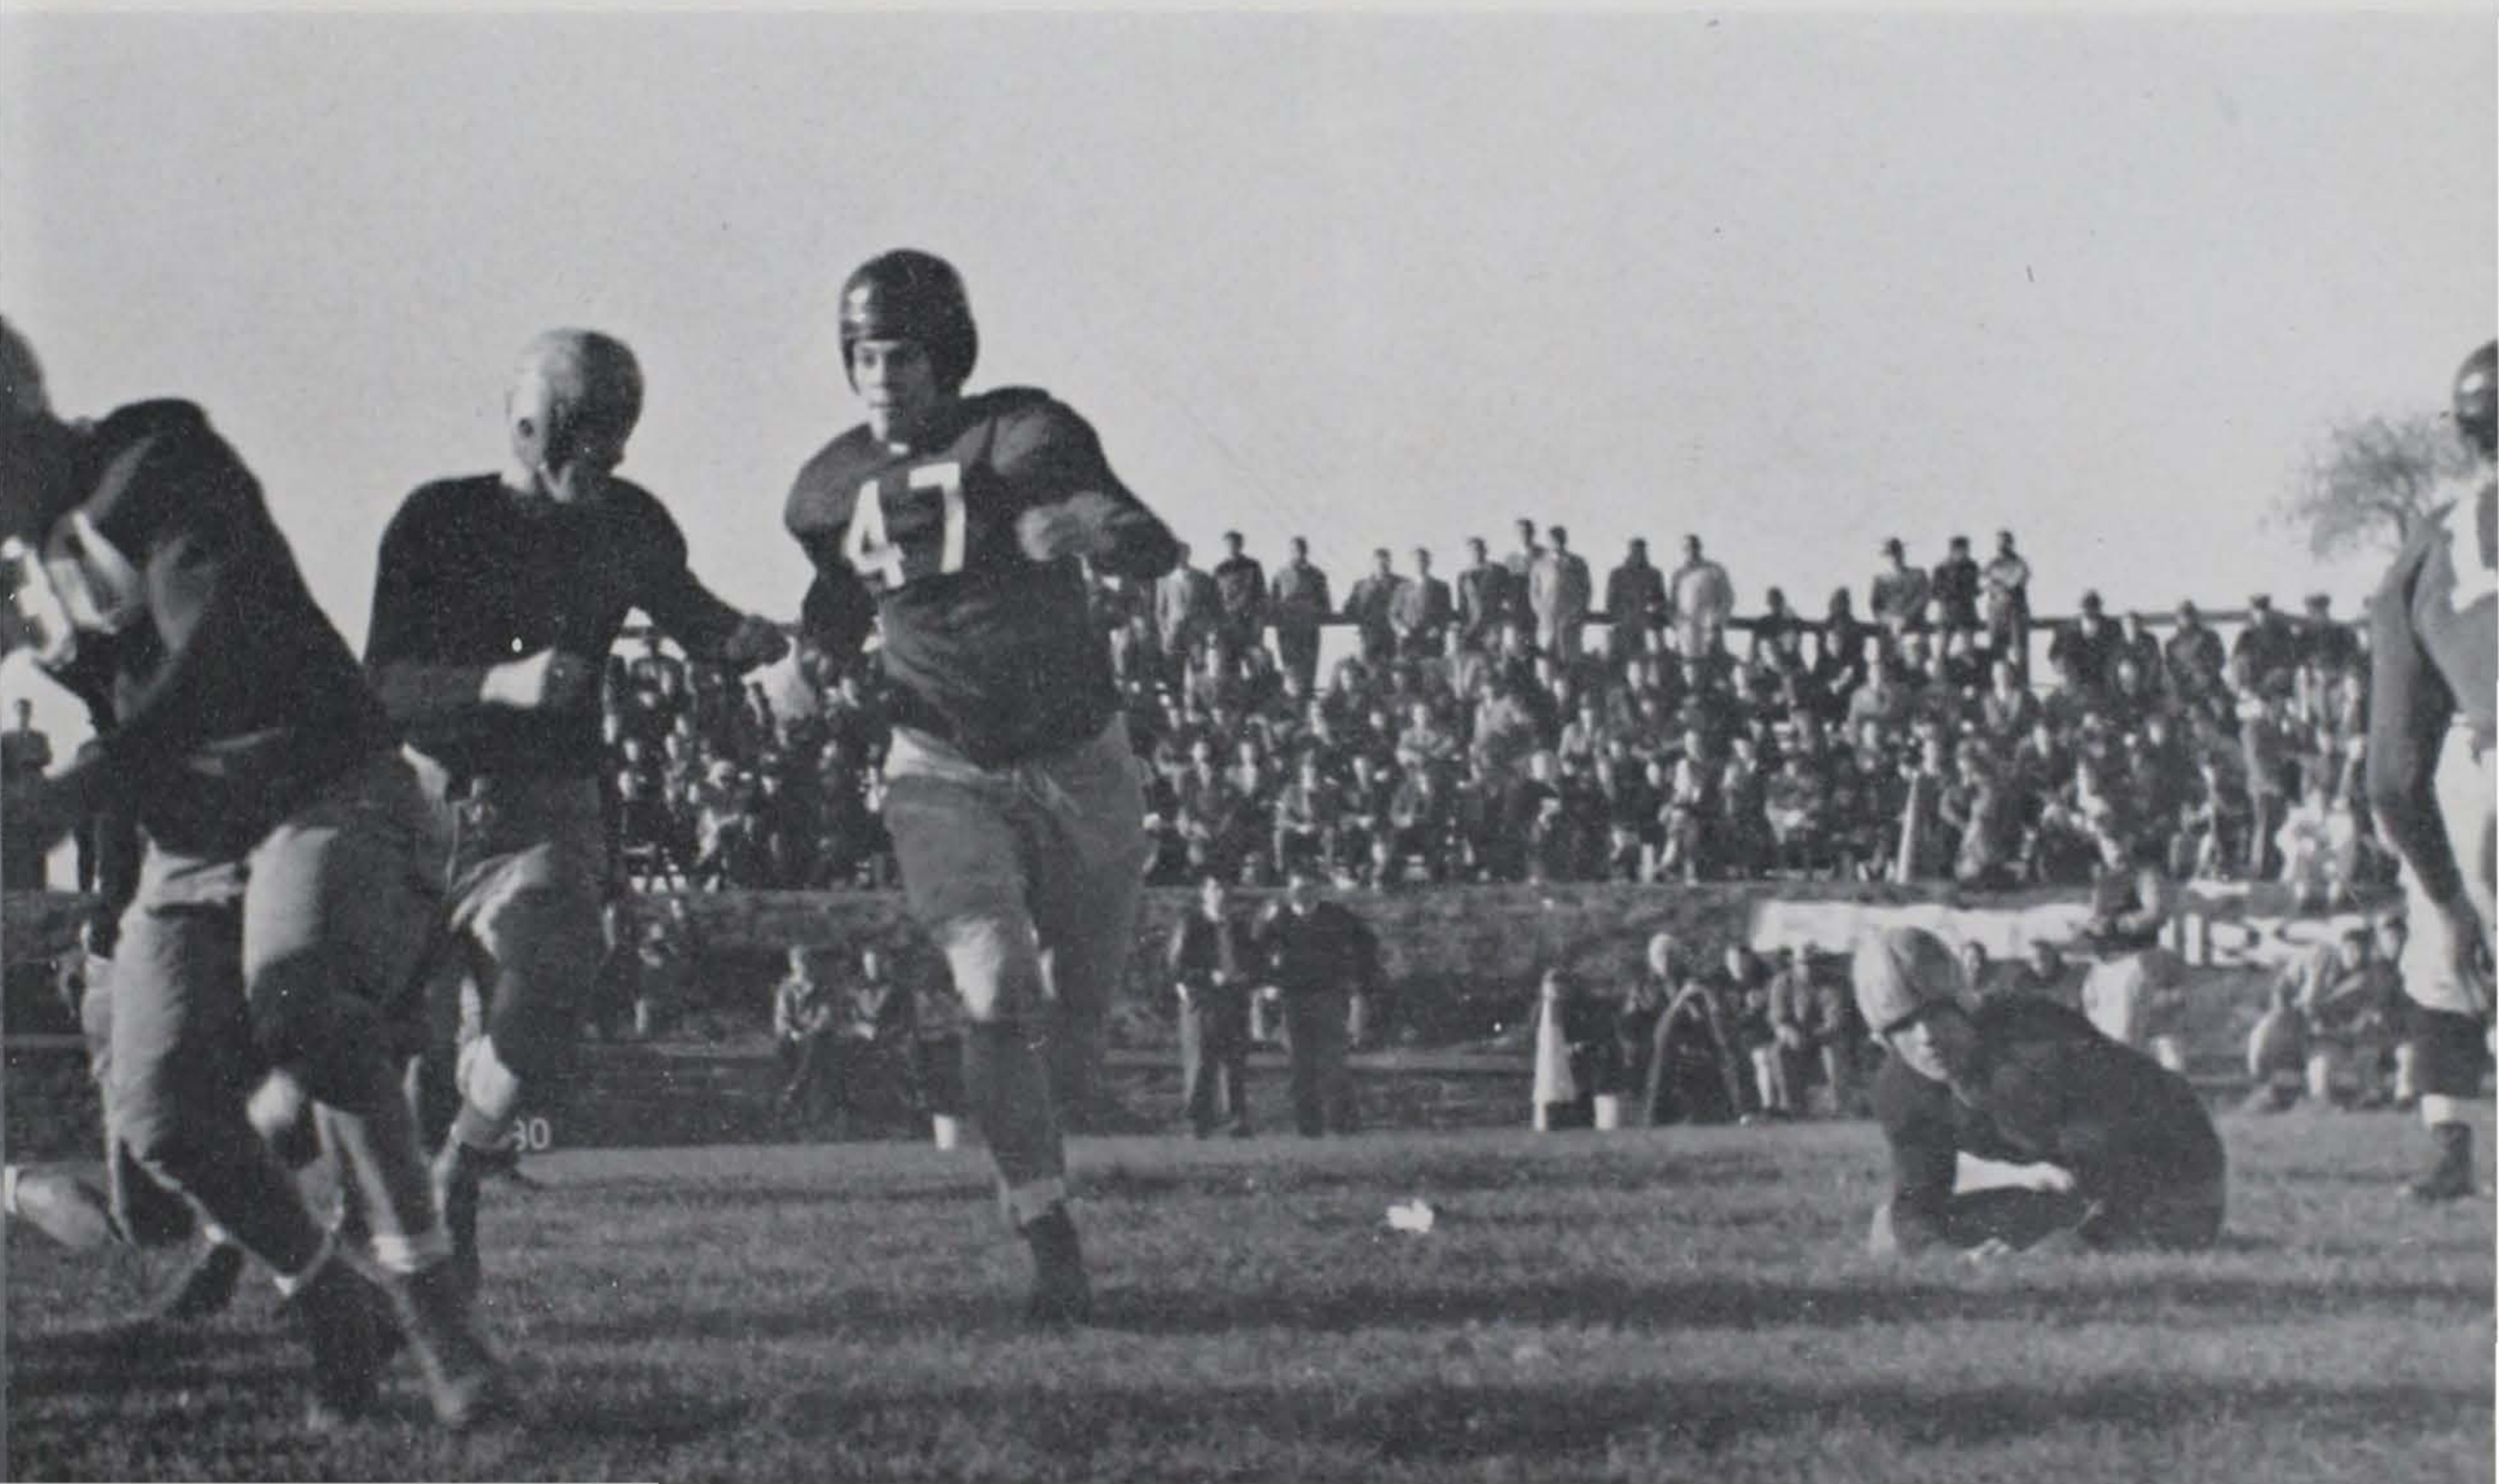

An overflow of backfield material seemed to cause more consternation than benefit to the Ursinus team. Fifteen backs were shifted to and fro until they could be molded into a spot most advantageous to the team. Out of this dogfight for positions came a versatile freshman Don Young, who passed, kicked, ran, called signals, and proved himself to be the outstanding performer of the season. Even a slight concussion could not discourage him.

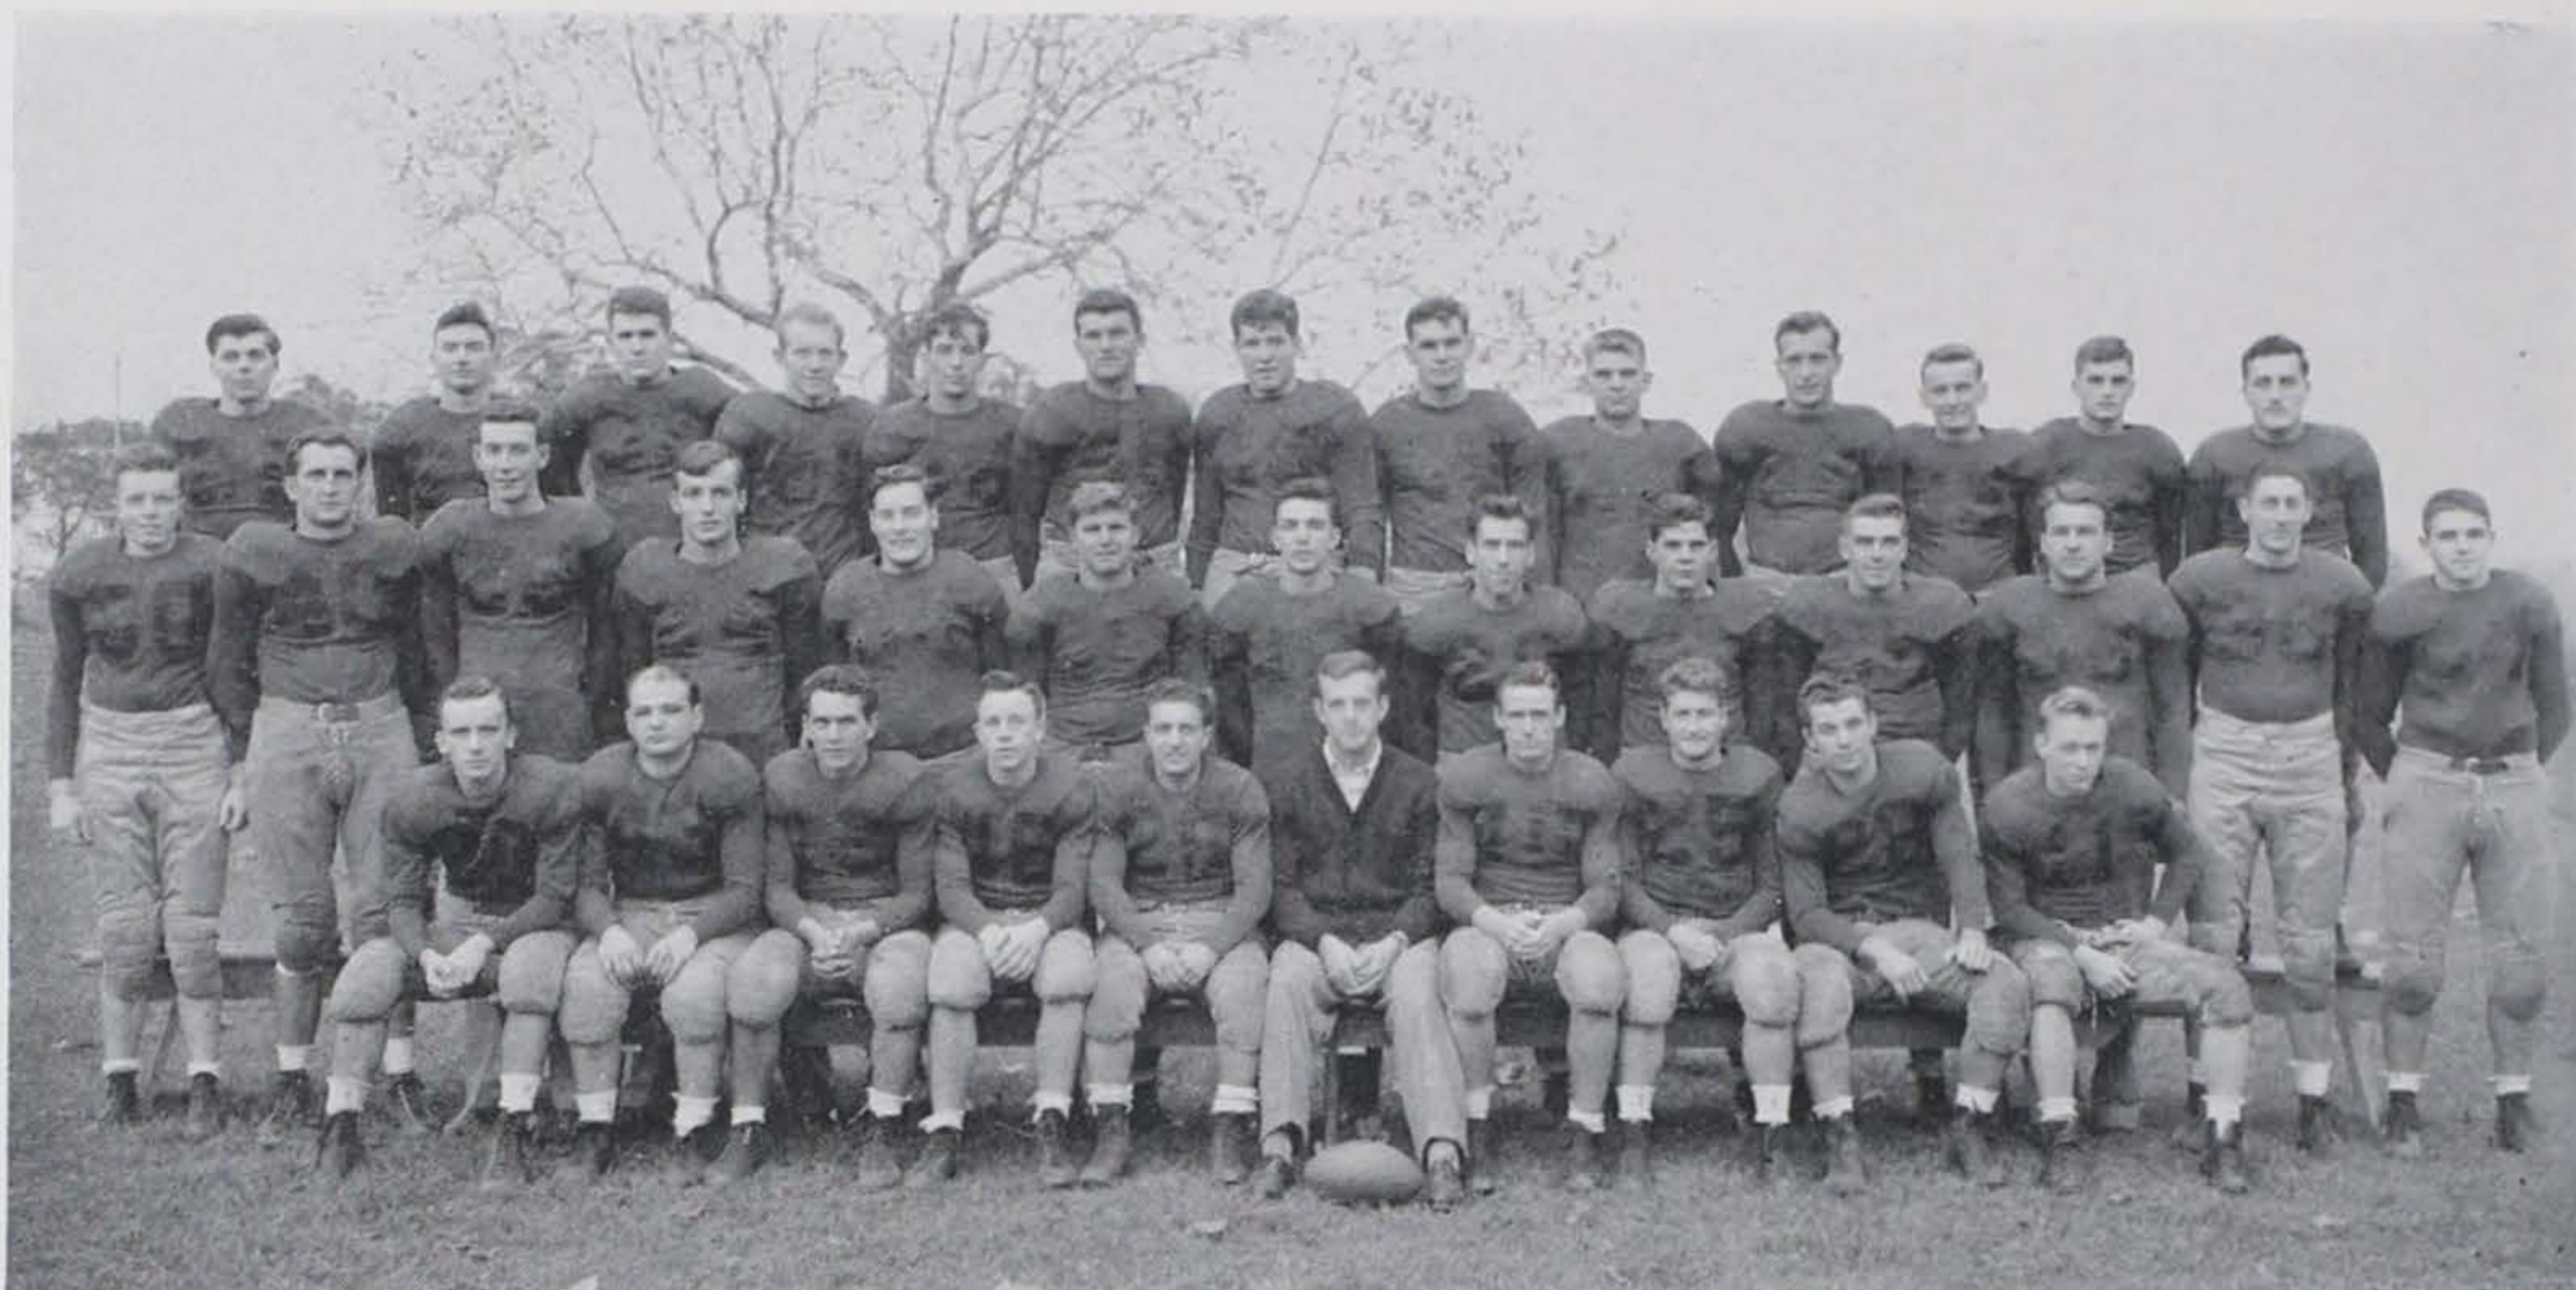

Ed Stefanowicz received a season setback in the Haverford game when he tore the muscles around his knee and was out for the remaining games.

We can look forward to a well experienced '48 club with Blydenburgh and Wilt, a pair of good blocking backs; Tenewitz, Miller, Scirica, and Saurman running the reverses; and a David and Goliath in Young and Kennedy doing the spinning. Pushing these veterans is a man to watch and remember—Don Stauffer.

Coach Ray Gurzynski

Coaches Wieneke and Gurzynski were beset with the usual problems involved in producing a winning team. A new double wing back system had to be unfolded and new names and signals remembered. What back could pass and kick? Who could call signals? How strong was the line? All these questions had to be answered in a short but hard three weeks of practice prior to the opening game.

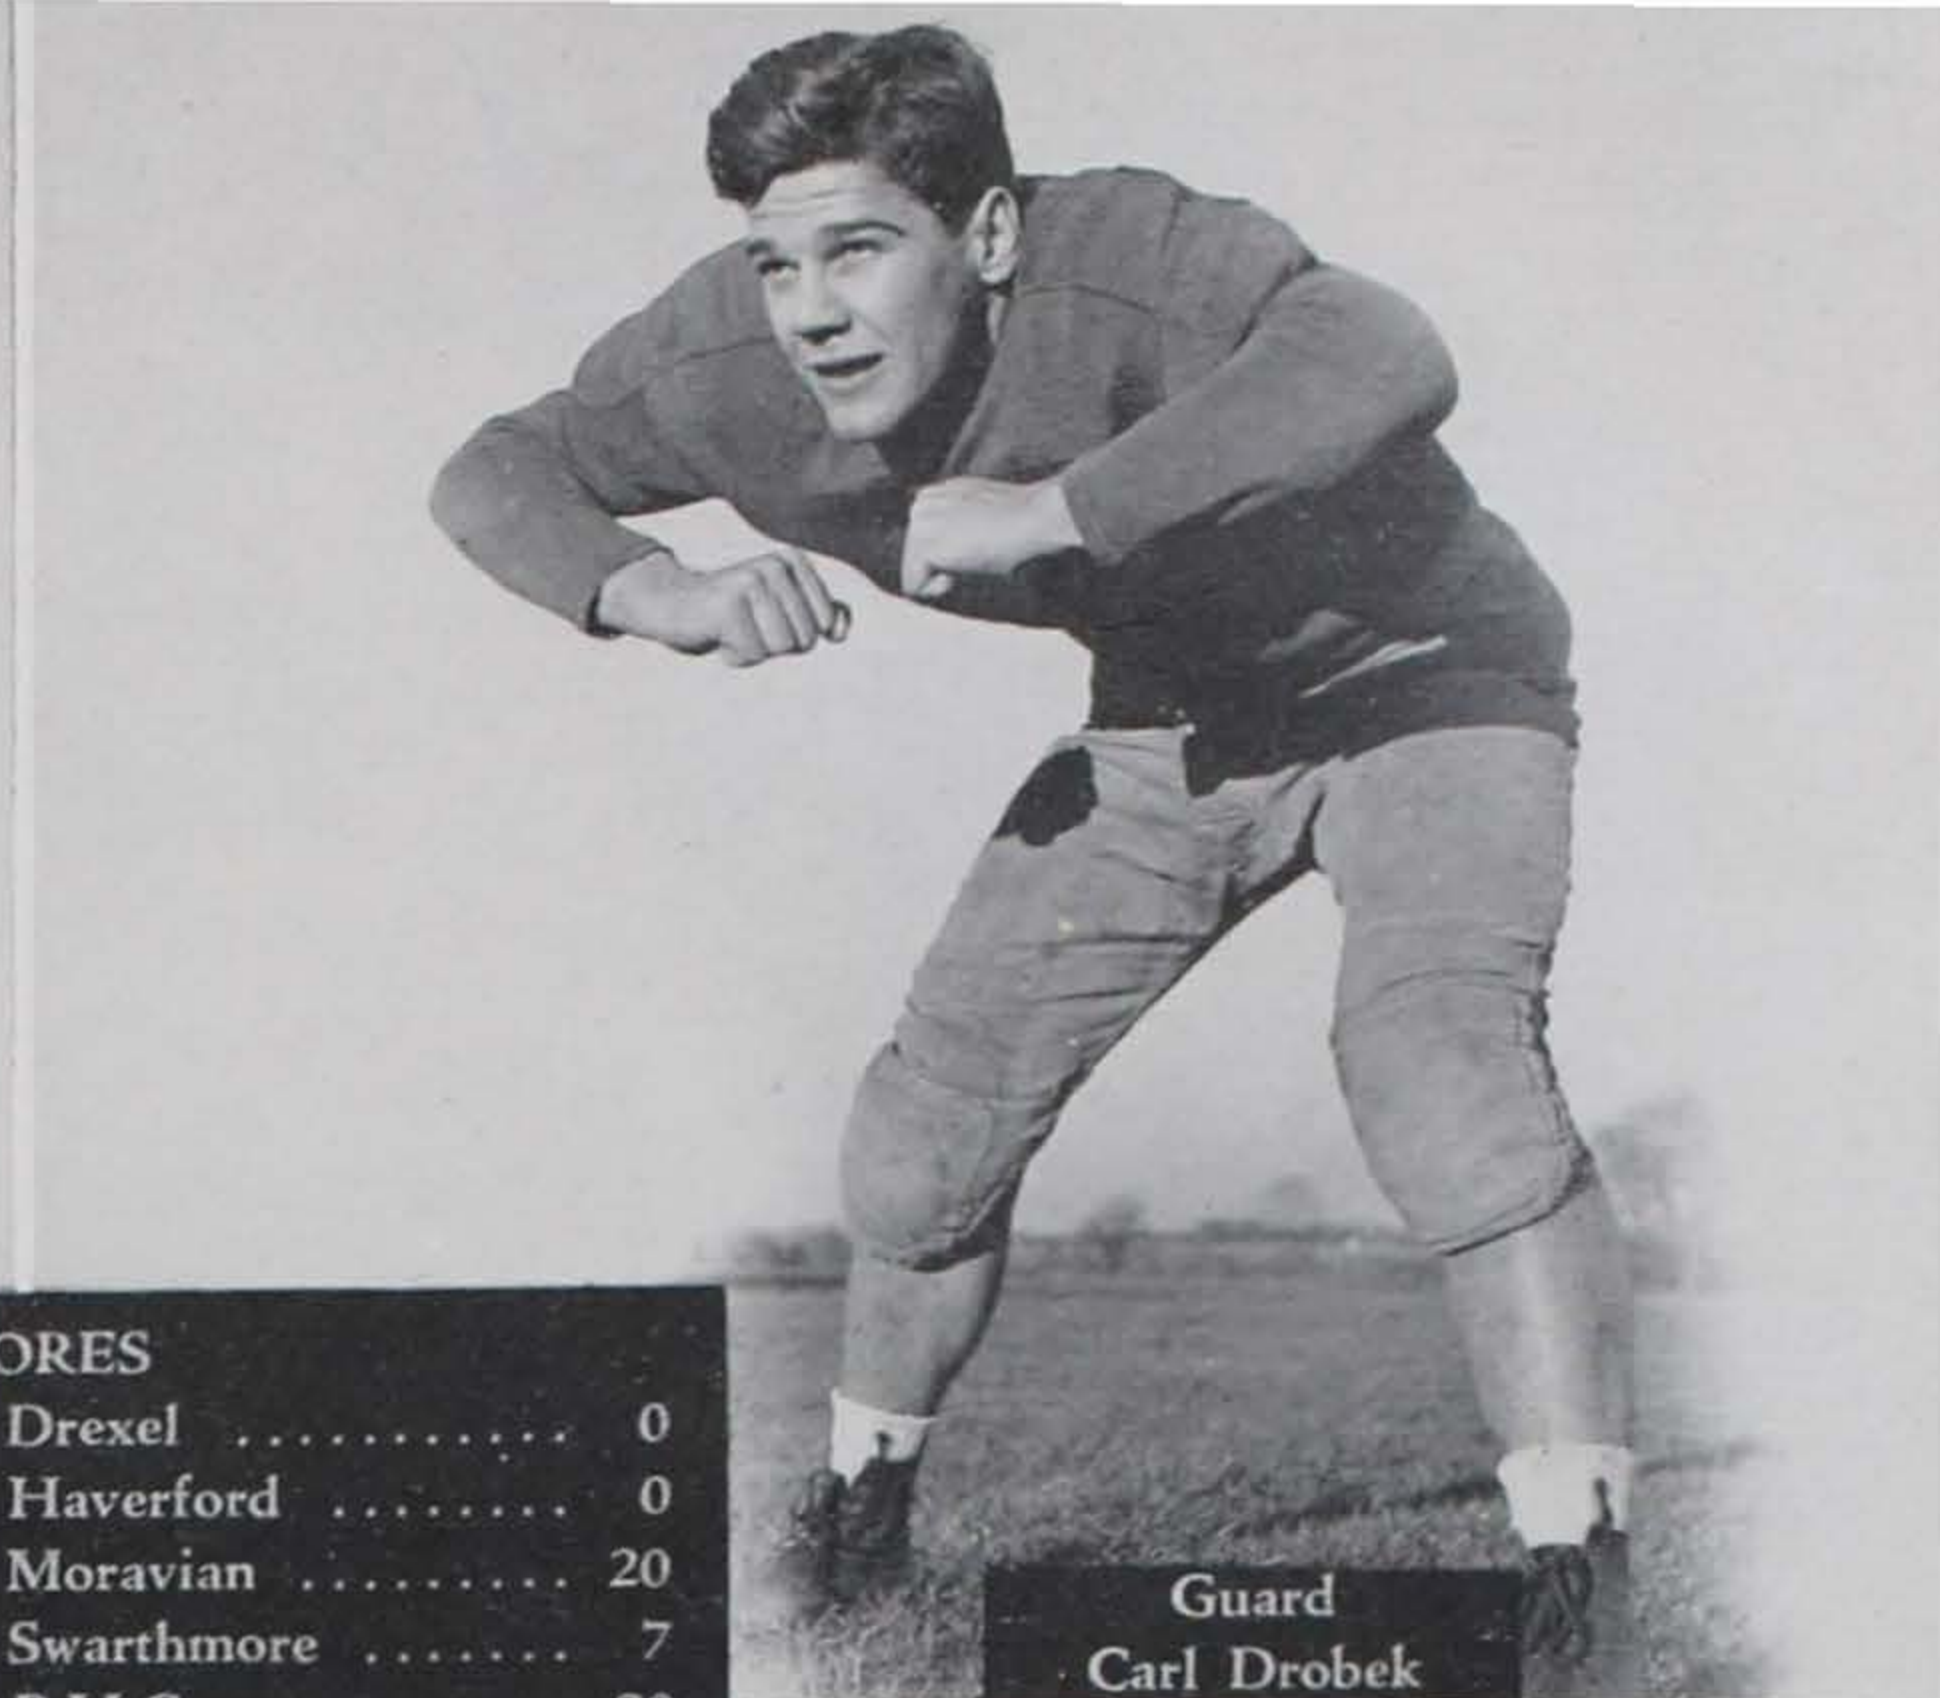

Injuries plagued the team. Reinhart and Turner sprained ankles, Stevens ruined his knee, Young suffered a concussion, Miller and Fleisher had shoulder separations, Bain injured his ribs and Kajmo broke a bone in his hand. These certainly explain in part the reversals suffered after the first two games. Undaunted, however, the squad looks forward to a more successful season in '48.

S O C C E R

Although prospects for a good season looked promising with the return of seven lettermen and the support of a fine crop of freshmen, "Doc Baker's" booters met with ill fortune in their 1947 season.

Opening their schedule against Lafayette, the Bears suffered a 4-1 setback. Following this in a nip and tuck battle against Stevens Tech, Ursinus finished on the short end of a 2-1 score. In their initial home game, Rutgers downed the team 6-2 by scoring four goals in the final quarter.

Playing their best game of the season against Swarthmore, the bears lost 3-0; however, the score failed to show the superb brand of soccer played by the entire team. The lone win of the campaign came at the expense of the Alumni 6-0.

Outstanding defensive players were Bahney, Wentzel and Peterson and offensive stars Fink and Simons, the latter being selected to participate in the Olympic tryouts.

A tense moment in the Lehigh game

BASKETBALL

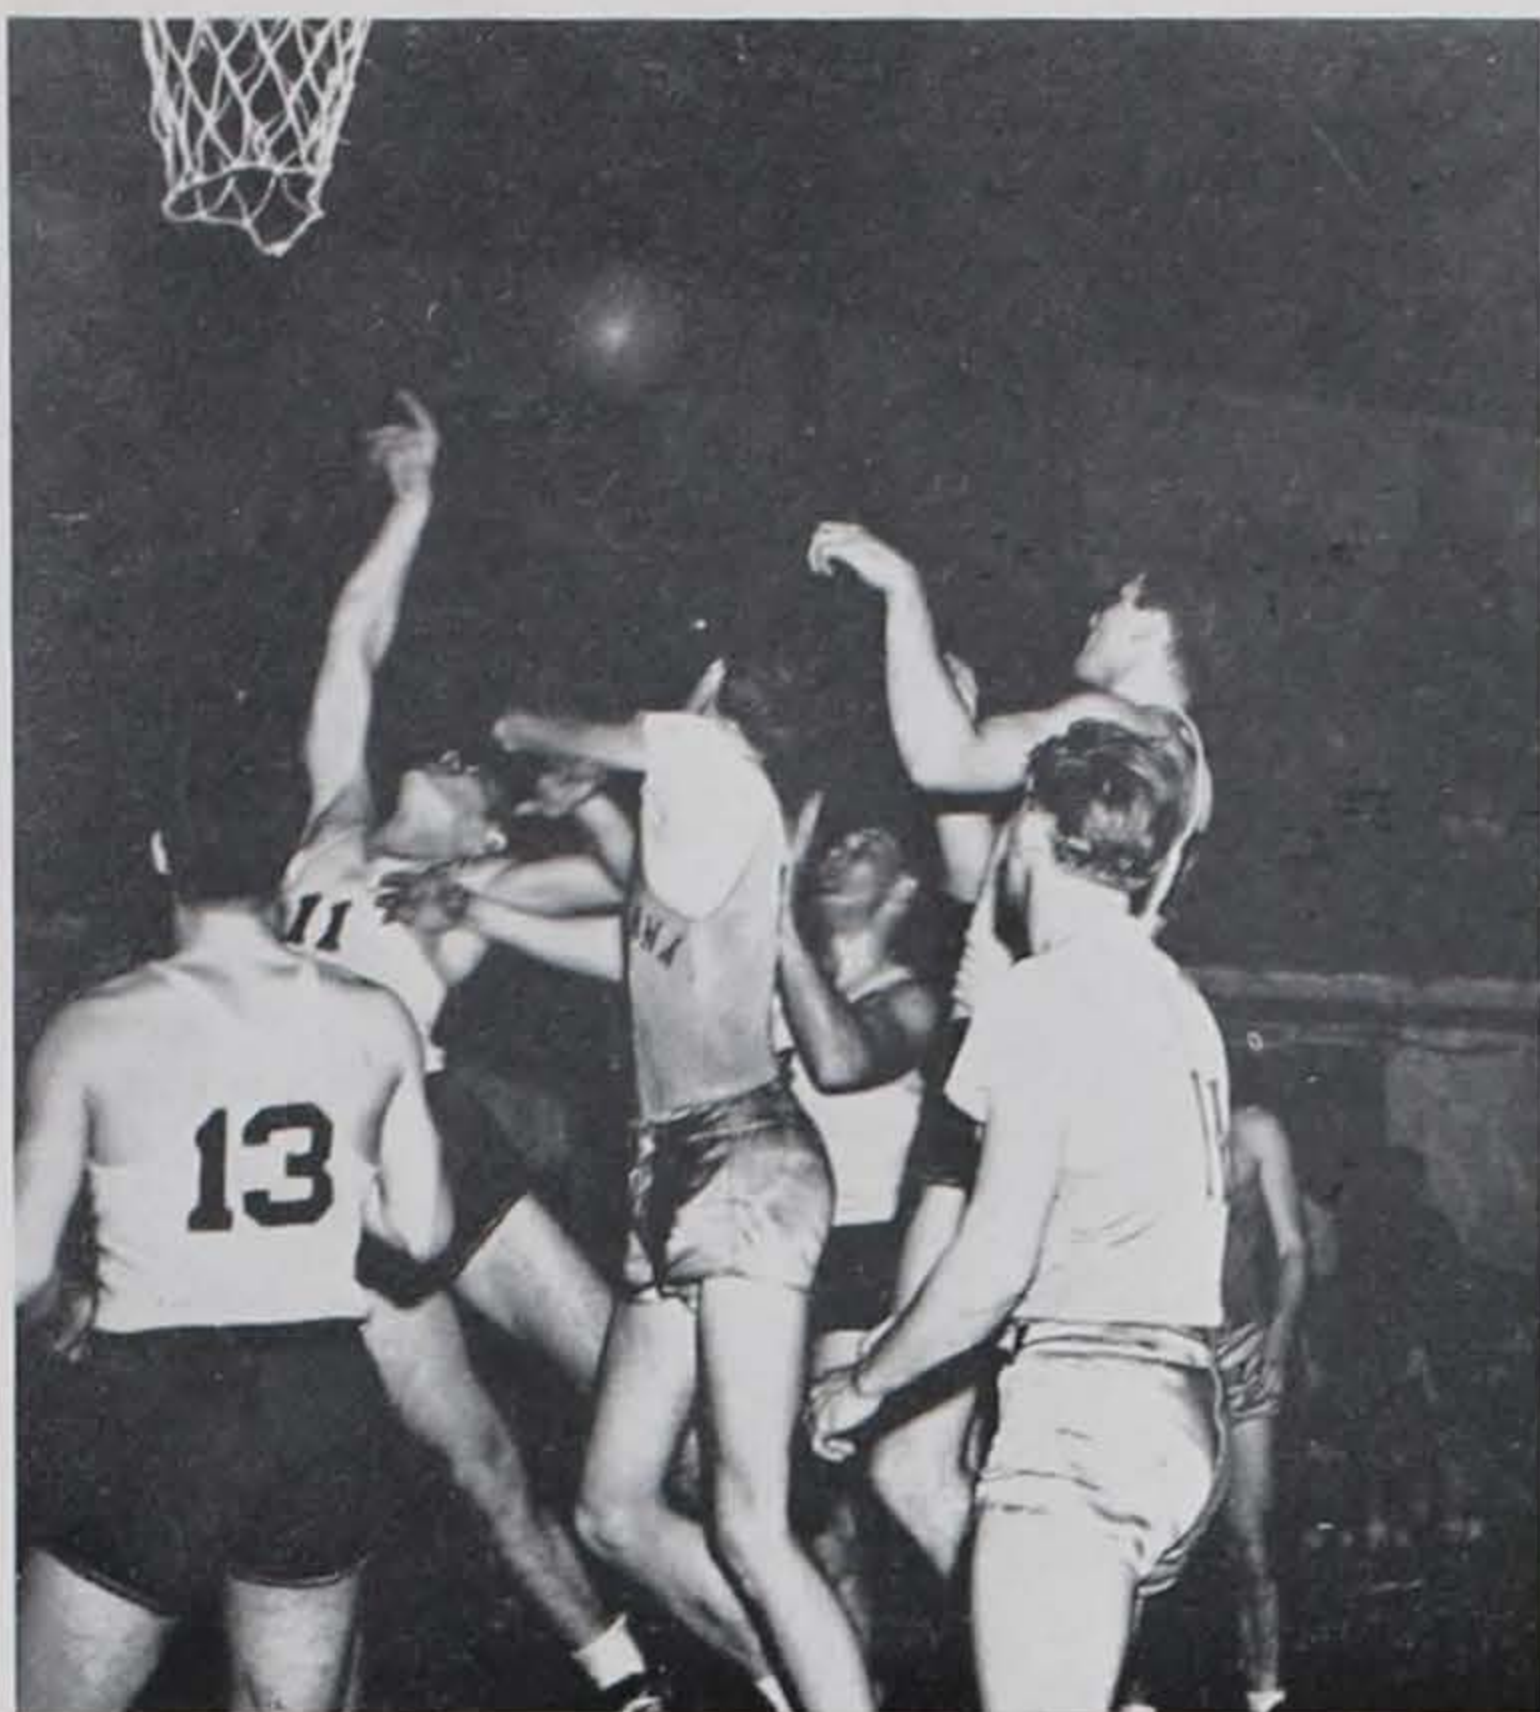

Coach Gerald F. Seeders

Possessing the pleasant ability to win against their important opponents, the Ursinus varsity basketballers fought through to a three way tie for championship in the Southern Division of the Middle Atlantic Conference. In the first of the playoff games, the Bears downed Swarthmore 49-37 but lost a hard fought battle to P.M.C. 48-41.

Opening the season with a victory over Elizabethtown College, the Bear quintet displayed the usual brand of early season basketball, complete with flashes of good and bad form. Perhaps realizing that the old adage "A bad beginning may make a good ending" can apply to sports as well as life, the squad lost its second contest by a close score within the cramped confines of the Philadelphia Pharmacy Court. Returning from Christmas vacation, the home aggregation was far from its season's best in its league game with P.M.C. The game was a rough and wild battle, and ended in defeat because of an inability to decipher a tight and unorthodox man to man defense.

Clockwise: Condi, Miller, Brandt, Bahney, Bronson, Davidson, Kromer.

Despite the outcome of these games, they did serve to endow a group of players with the indefinable qualities that make a team—a team whose passing and shooting improved vastly as the season progressed, and whose intangible will to win pulled them from behind in the closing moments of several crucial contests. Hard fought but decisive victories over Haverford, Delaware, Drexel and Swarthmore followed.

The success of the team was due largely to the abilities of Jaffe, Myers, Widholm, Forsyth and Bertel backed up by the strong reserve group composed of Brant, Gehman, Condi, Bahney, Davidson, Miller and Bronson. Since the first team is comprised solely of freshmen and sophomores, next year's season should be highly successful.

The varsity performer is usually developed through his experience gained on the junior varsity team. This separate branch of college basketball proves itself an invaluable asset in future campaigns. This season's team had little success in its encounters, but furnished the basketball patron with many close and thrilling games nonetheless. The squad succeeded in winning only four of its fifteen games. It must be added, however, that from the spectator's point of view, this is not so unhappy a circumstance as it might have been for the junior varsity defeats coincided with the varsity victories. We do wish the team better luck in next year's encounters.

WRESTLING

The wrestling team, coached by Kurt Wieneke and composed of only three members with previous wrestling experience, was the first Ursinus team since the war.

The first match against Haverford ended in an Ursinus defeat and produced only two scores—pins by Turner and Duncan. However, against Muhlenberg, rated the fourth strongest team in the East and fresh from three successive victories, the inspired Bears stunned their opponents with a 16-16 tie. Duncan and Pond pinned, and Turner and Collins gained decisions.

The grapplers then bowed to an experienced

Swarthmore team 22-10, Turner and Mitchell scoring the only wins by pins. During the match, Jim Duncan suffered a freak broken arm which put him out for the season. Perhaps the most polished wrestler on the team, Jim stubbornly refused to allow himself to be pinned despite the excruciating pain caused by the injury.

Regardless of setbacks, the squad defeated Drexel before a capacity crowd; Miller, Turner, Pond, Collins, and Mitchell scored to end the match 21-15. The season closed with the P.M.C. and C.C.N.Y. matches.

BASEBALL

Winning six out of their first eight starts, the Ursinus Bears closed their baseball season with a better than average 6-5 slate.

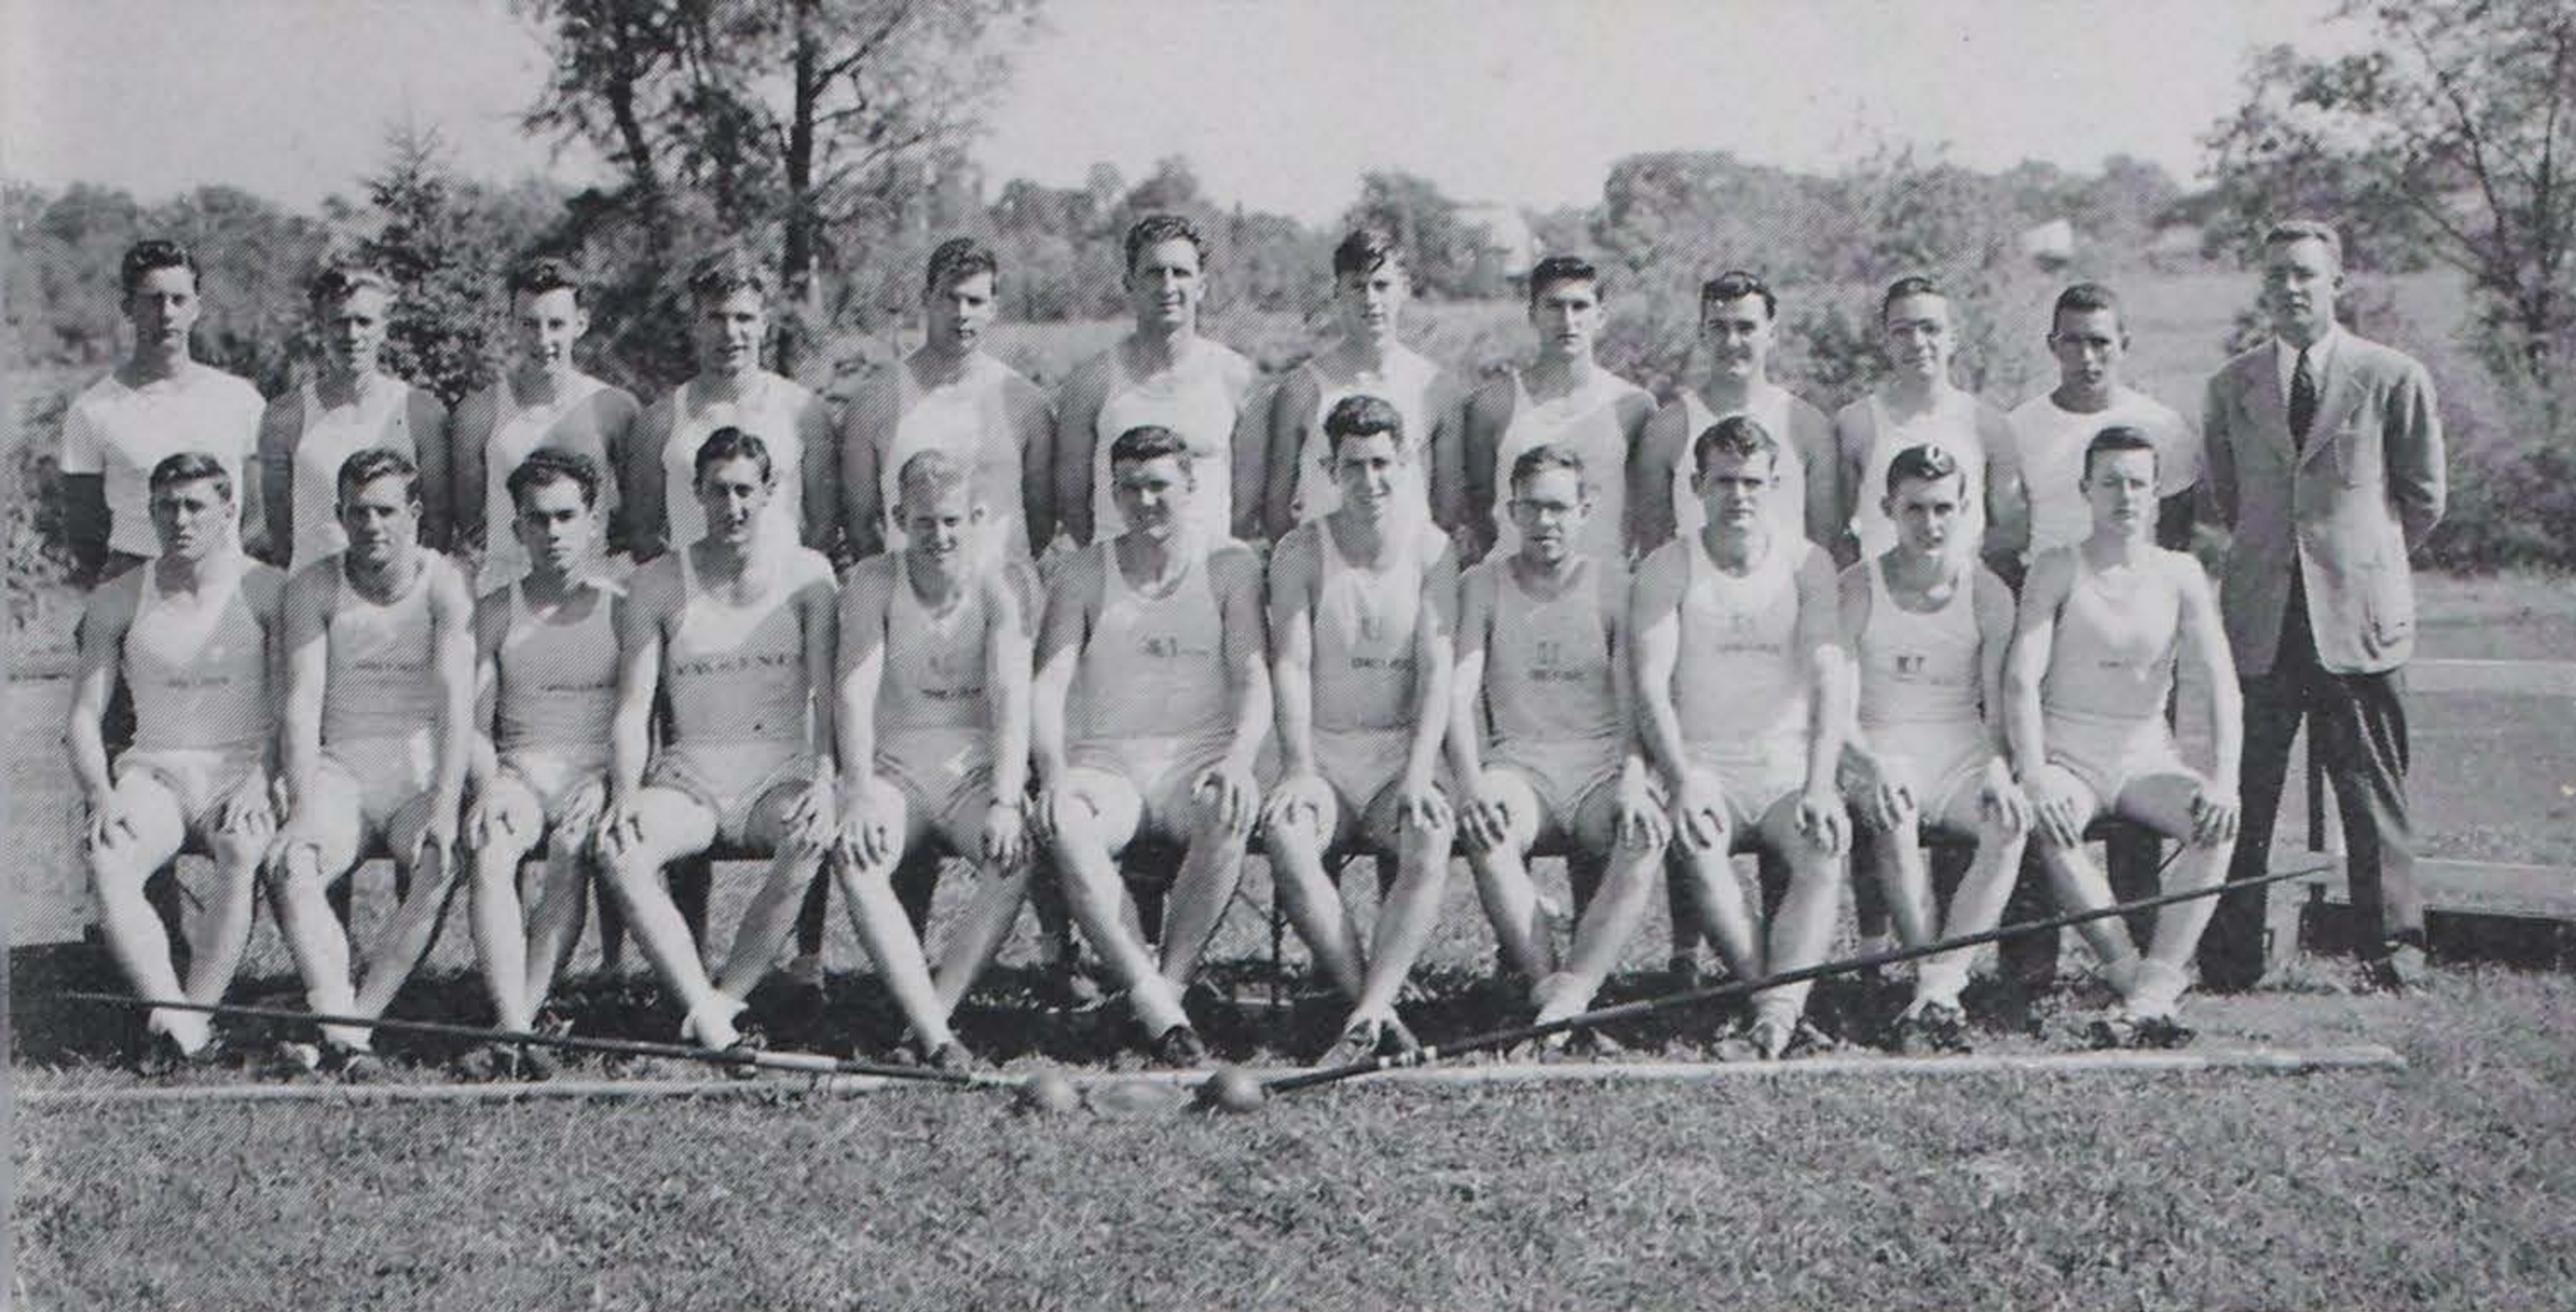

Occupying the mount during most of the season were Dave Ziegler with a 3-3 record and Ron Landes with two triumphs out of four starts. Buck Ross accounted for the other Bruin victory with a 7-3 verdict over Haverford.

John Snyder, giant first sacker, maced the horsehide to the merry tune of a lofty .404 average to top the Grizzly sluggers, while Jack Kemp, fleet shortstop, was runner-up with a .350 figure.

Rounding out the Bruin infield were Gehman and Simons at second, and Bakes and Troutman at third. Roy Todd performed the catching chores, ably assisted by Bakes and Miller. Dave Bahney, Dick Eckenroth, Dale White, and Dave Zeigler, when not toeing the slab, formed the Ursinus outer cordon.

Co-coaches Sieber Pancoast and Foster Dennis can consider their initial coaching venture a definite success and with the large influx of returned veterans, they can look forward to a successful season on the diamond in '48.

TRACK

Under their new and able coach, Ray Gurzynski, the Bear trackmen had a very successful season. Though lacking experience, the men brought track back to pre-war level.

Three records were set in field events during the season. Jerry Rotwein bettered the javelin mark with a heave of 167 feet 3 inches, while George Kennedy beat the discus and shot-put mark with 130 feet 3 $\frac{3}{4}$ inches and 42 feet 4 inches respectively.

Russ Binder turned in a 10.2 century at Muhlberg while Karlton Smith ran an unofficial 2:05:4 half mile. The other outstanding workhorses were Bill Turner—pole vault, high and low hurdles; Ken Reinhart—high jump; Dick Kropp and Dick Gradwohl—sprinters; and Ray Blydenburgh—shot-put and discus.

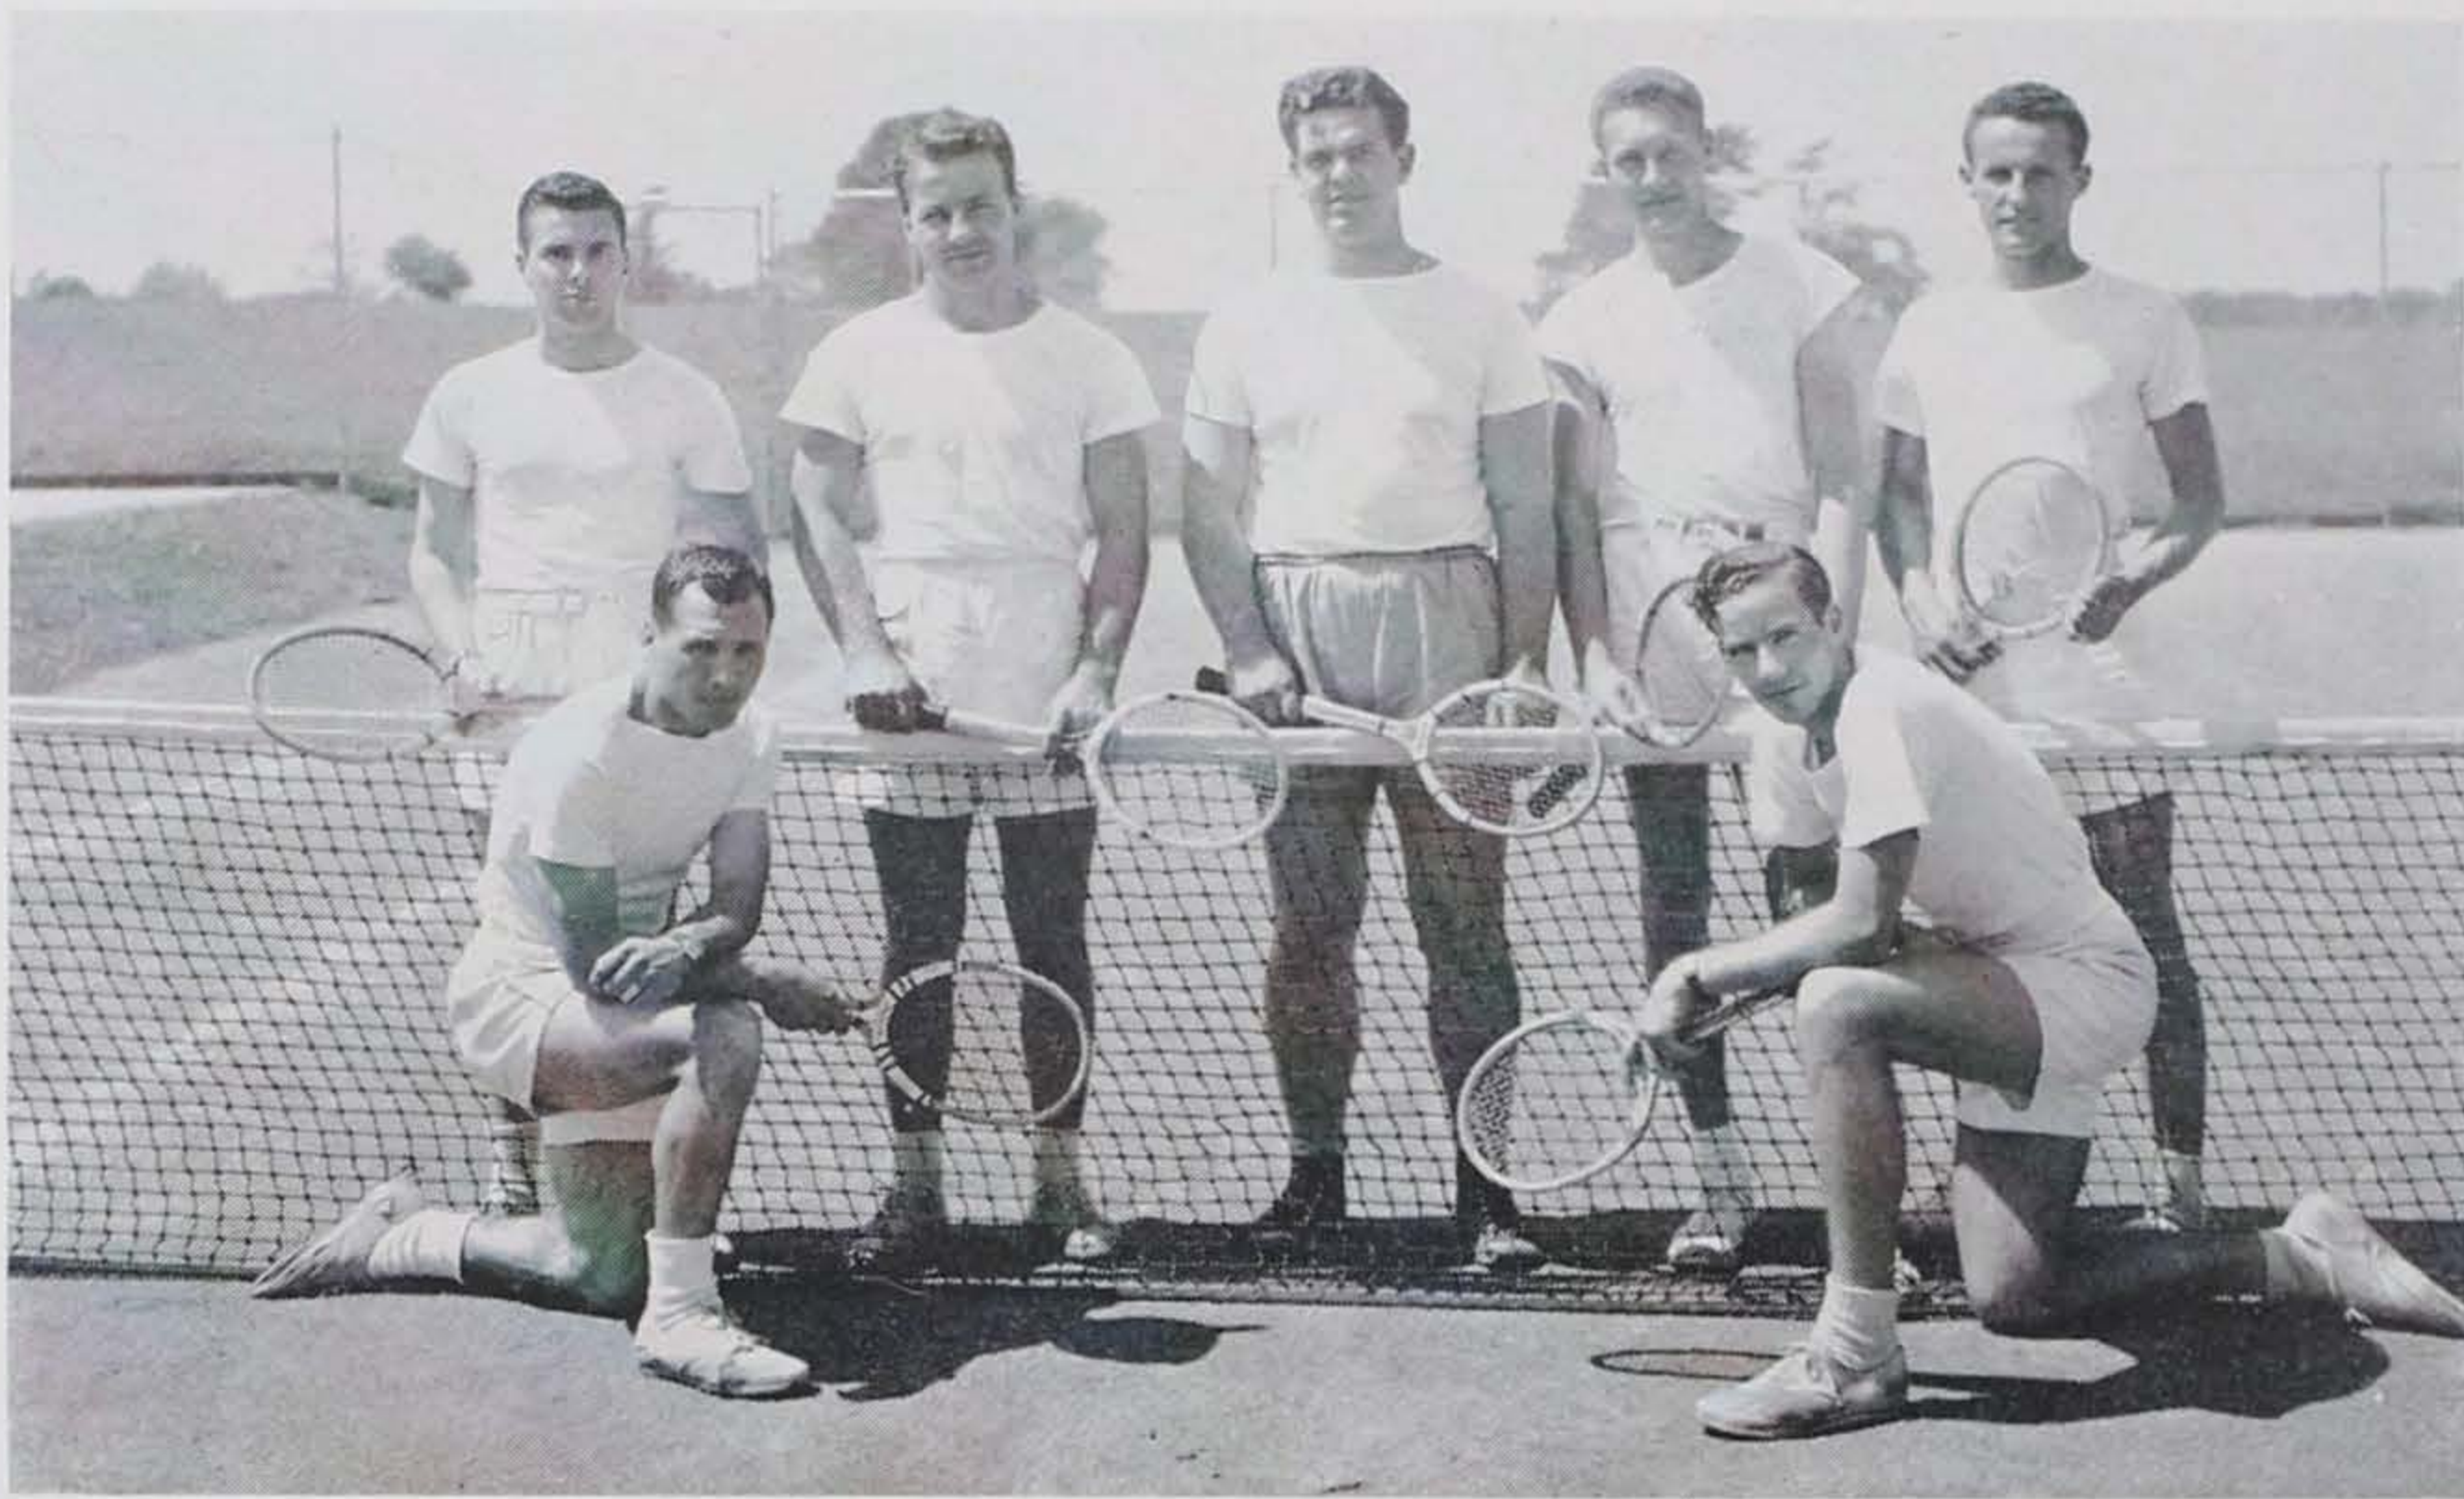

GOLF

Last spring a group of Ursinus golfers decided to formulate plans for intercollegiate competition. Shortly before golf season had its official start, they contacted Albright College and later added Delaware University to the schedule. Mr. Charles Steinmetz served as coach and much needed support was offered them by Mr. Everett Baily.

Now no longer a rumor on campus, a well-organized team has evolved. Manager Bob Buzzard has contacted Haverford, Princeton J.V., Swarthmore, and Delaware for the 1948 schedule. Mr. James Straub will make his debut as coach and with the added encouragement of new men, Graff, Hatch, Good, Jones, Troxell and Pfeifer have one aim: a championship team for the 1948 season.

TENNIS

Although handicapped by practice obstructions from the start, the 1947 tennis team made a creditable showing in compiling a record of three victories and four defeats.

Coached by Mr. Wallick and ably captained by Stan McCausland, who proved to be the most consistent winner on the team, the squad reached the climax of its season in the Haverford match. Against this team, which ranked high nationally, the Ursinus courtsters, though beaten, played inspired and aggressive ball to produce a match which left the Bear racquet wielders defeated but not humbled.

For his initial year as coach, Mr. Wallick was more than pleased with the showing of his charges and expects to build his 1948 squad around a nucleus from last year's team aided by promising freshmen.

VARSITY CLUB

The Varsity Club is composed of men students who have earned a letter in any recognized intercollegiate sport. This year's activities included the publication of the Grizzly Gridder, the official Ursinus football program, and the Old Timer's Day Dance. The club also sponsors a scholarship fund from which second semester seniors may borrow to complete their college course. The aim of the club is to encourage scholastic achievements among its members and to foster a spirit of cooperation among the wearers of the "U".

W. A. A.

The Women's Athletic Association is composed of women students who are interested in sports. The purpose of the Association is to promote the active participation of all college women in athletic activities. It sponsors the intramural sports of hockey and basketball.

Membership is based on points which may be obtained through participation on Varsity, J.V., and intramural teams; for work in the May Pageant as dancers, actors, or court attendants; and for hiking and other individual and group projects.

VARSITY HOCKEY

Our hockey team again turned in a successful record in spite of its usual tough schedule. Good teamwork and stickwork have been the main factors in contributing to our consistently fine teams. Much credit goes to the girls but even more is due Miss Eleanor Snell, veteran coach, for her patience, understanding, and ability. Only with the guidance of such an able person, can eleven girls be molded into a victorious team.

Co-captained by Hilda Anderson and Edna Daniels, the team boasted a strong forward line which outscored its opponents 37 points to 7. At the beginning of the season, the backfield lacked experience and strength, but these were added to its ability and speed as time went on.

One of the most exciting and undoubtedly one of the hardest games of the season was that with Temple. Both teams seemed evenly matched. Evie Moyer scored in the first half but Temple rallied to even up the score. Then ensued a nip and tuck battle, until in the last three minutes of play Andy took the ball up the field and flicked in the winning goal.

The only loss of the season came in the game with Penn. Only because of the numerous miraculous saves of our goalie, Sis Bosler, were the Quakers held to a 3-1 score.

In tryouts for the All-College Team, Ursinus was outstanding in at least two particulars. Not only were we honored in having more girls recalled than any other school represented, but also we were cited for unusually fine teamwork.

Although the All-College Team was beaten by every sectional squad, they did hold the All-Philadelphia Team, which boasted seven All-American players, scoreless for thirty minutes of play.

J. V. HOCKEY

All through the season, the Jayvee team, under the watchful eye of Coach Natalie Hogeland, remained undefeated; in fact, the only team which succeeded in scoring against them was Bryn Mawr. Captained by Puddie Moister, the team overwhelmed their opponents with spirit, aggressiveness, cooperation and unusual ability.

Time and again the speedy wings, Nancy Vadnor and Emilyanne Smith, carried the ball down the field for goal after goal or passed successfully to inners Ruthie Pettit and Anita Frick and center forward Betty Jean Moyer for potential goals.

The dependable playing of the defense contributed greatly to the successful season. With plenty of fight and consistent playing, Captain Moister and Edie Parry as fullbacks; Lyn Warren, Connie Warren and Betty Hahn as halfbacks repeatedly thwarted the attacks of the opponents. Polly Mathers, competent goalie, was greatly responsible for the fact that the team was scored upon only twice during the entire season.

One of the more recent teams for Ursinus girls is the swimming team started four years ago as a club. Interest picked up immediately, and the ambitious group went on to become a full-fledged competitive team. The 1945 and 1946 seasons saw them come through the collegiate competition with an undefeated record. From 1945 to 1947 they have been entered in the Intercollegiate Competition at Hutchinson Pool at the University of Pennsylvania where they are to be highly commended for their excellent record of placing first in 1946 and second in 1945 and 1947.

Last year, in the final meet of the season, the team suffered a heartbreaking loss at the hands of Temple, losing by a score of 29 to 28. This was the one defeat of the whole season.

This year's team coached by Betty Brown Dando has great possibilities with the return of veterans Marion Bosler, Ellen Estabrook, Anne Eysenbach, Pat Ellis, Rita Lieb and Pat Pattison. New strength has been added in the very good forms of Bobby Bossert, Dolores Meder and Mary McPherson.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Getting off to a good start by defeating East Stroudsburg 36-23, the girls' varsity team has high hopes of improving their last year's record of six wins and three losses. The varsity sextet coached by Miss Eleanor Snell is listed for a ten game schedule including Immaculata, Chestnut Hill, Albright, Rosemont, Beaver, Penn, Bryn Mawr, Temple, and Swarthmore.

Captaining Snell's Belles is Betty Jean Moyer, a veteran guard with two years' experience on the varsity squad. Helping her in the defensive positions are seniors Evie Moyer and Peg Hunter, junior Floy Lewis and sophomore Mary Evans all of whom have seen action on the court and are outstanding for their quick and aggressive playing.

On the scoring end of the floor are senior Hilda Anderson, juniors Connie Warren and Edith Calhoun, sophomores Anita Frick and Joanne Duncan and freshman Nancy Vadnor, the one newcomer on the team.

Coach Natalie Hogeland has great ambitions for this year's junior varsity squad. Led by the mighty forward trio, Manny Ballantyne, Ruthie Pettit and Emilyanne Smith, the team should chalk up many a victory. The quick passing and cutting of these three have enabled them to rack up the score on numerous occasions. Their faking has often left their opponents far behind. Manny's height, Ruthie's unerring aim and Smitty's speed will be a combination that is hard to beat.

Guards, Anne Moister, Doris Stierly and Carolyn Warren, have successfully developed a shifting man to man defense. They anticipate no trouble in keeping their opponents' score in the lower brackets. Their ability to get numerous interceptions is the answer to any coach's prayer, and their quick passes to the forwards give the scoring three the added seconds they need.

Substitutes, Marge Justice, Polly Mathers, Jane McWilliams and Sue Leinbach leave Nat with plenty of reserves.

SOFTBALL

Winding up her Ursinus softball career, Captain Erma Keyes led the 1947 squad undefeated through their six game collegiate schedule. The highlight of the season occurred when the coed avenged the previous year's setback by Temple in shutting them out 8-0.

Veteran hurler, Erma Keyes turned in a fine performance for the year by pitching five one hit games and averaging about eight strike-outs per game.

Besides the regularly scheduled contests, manager Jeanne Loomis also booked the annual father-daughter game as well as a post season title with the Atlantic City Jesters. In the May Day fracas, the girls defeated the fathers 12-0 while under the lights in Atlantic City, Ursinus came out on the short end of a 3-2 score in an extra inning contest.

Jane Brusch, Ginny Dulin, and Erma Keyes were the seniors on the team, while Hilda Anderson, Sis Bosler, Lois Cain, Anne Eysenbach, Evelyn Moyer, and Doris Stierly are the regulars back again this year.

TENNIS

The 1947 Women's Tennis Team, coached by Miss Snell and managed by Sid Sponaugle, had a comparatively successful season by winning half of their games. Captain Jackie Landes, Jane Bruschi, and Em Fischer, the only veterans of last year's team, played the first, second, and third singles positions with Anita Frick substituting in the latter position. Newcomers Manny Ballantyne, Eddie Daniels, "D.J." Hopensack, Anne Moister, and Mag Schafenacker admirably displayed their ability with the racket in the doubles positions.

A trip to Albright was rained out, making the Chestnut Hill Match the first one of the year. The "net-maids" came through with a 4-1 victory over their opponents. Traveling to Temple, the Ursinus team met with stronger competition and lost 3-2. After their tilt with East Stroudsburg, the girls brought home a victory of 3-2. The last match of the season was against the powerful Penn team on the home courts. Although five of the matches were lost that day, each was a hard fought battle.

Kneeling: Daniels, Landis, Fisher. Standing: Schafenacker, Bruschi, Sponaugle, Coach Snell, Ballantyne, Moister, Hopensack, Frick.

Sitting: Kock, Lill. Standing: Pharr, Lewis, Carter, Thomas, Taylor, Adam.

GOLF

The new golf team, under the direction of manager Betty Adam and coach Dorothy Porter was successful in placing second in the Philadelphia Intercollegiate Women's Competition. Plymouth Country Club of Norristown generously offered their course to the new group for their practices and home matches. In the course of the season, the team defeated Swarthmore, Temple and Penn and lost to Beaver.

No athletic contest is complete without cheerleaders to spur on the enthusiasm of the crowd. This year's squad added new life and pep to rallies and games with the introduction of new cheers and tumbling acts ably executed by Dick Davidson and Charlie Collins. The "iron men of old Ursinus" were well supported by this year's "rah-rah" squad.

ACTIVITIES

Notes from a Senior's Diary:

December 5th and our own Senior Ball! We had been anticipating this day ever since we had attended the dance given by the seniors back in 1944. Our hopes were high, for the committee chairmen, led by Archie Simons, had made grand plans for us. And so, that night, although the weather outside was rainy, all roads led from Ursinus to Sunnybrook.

It was a thrill to enter the ballroom! The lights were low, but we could still see the many couples gliding over the floor to the strains of Bob Shebley and his orchestra. We were all given beautiful red and silver Christmas ball programs, complete with a toast from our senior hosts. Everyone looked wonderful—the men in tuxedos and the girls in evening gowns with lovely corsages. We were quick to observe that the Ursinus women had adopted the “new look” even in their evening clothes.

It was fun to meet a lot of the old gang again, for many alumni had come back for the dance. We smiled at them across the floor and chatted together between dances. The dancing couldn't have been better; the orchestra played everything from waltzes to jitterbug numbers, from rumbas to the foxtrot.

With exception of time out for a portion of the Louis-Walcott heavyweight bout and a short intermission, dancing continued from nine until one. During intermission, we gathered at nearby eating establishments and continued socializing, making sure, however, that we got back to Sunnybrook for the last few dances.

And so the Senior Ball was a huge success—a wonderful date, a perfect place, and a good orchestra. It was hard to realize that it was all over when the soft notes of a waltz medley gradually faded away. As we left Sunnybrook, we couldn't help wishing that future senior classes would enjoy their Senior Ball as much as we had.

MESSIAH

One of our cherished Ursinus traditions is the annual Christmas presentation of Handel's Messiah. Under the direction of Dr. William F. Philip, a chorus, composed of students and faculty members, and an orchestra, consisting of campus talent supported by musicians from the Philadelphia Orchestra, combine their efforts to present the great oratorio. Mary Lee Sturgis has been the piano accompanist for the past four years.

This year a choral group of one hundred and fifty voices, the largest chorus in the school's history, commemorated the tenth annual presentation. As guest soloists, Stewart McCleary, tenor, replaced Steel Jamison of former years. Contralto Paula Hemminghaus made her third appearance at Ursinus, filling the vacancy left by Elizabeth Dunning. Martha Wilson, soprano, returned for her fourth successive year and Mr. Earle Styres, bass, for his third year.

This year's capacity crowd completely filled Bomberger Chapel. Because of the limited seating facilities, many people who wished to hear the Messiah were unable to procure tickets. As usual, the chapel was festively decorated; laurel, wreaths and tinsel changed the atmosphere to that of a Christmas cathedral, and the candlelight created a soft, reverent glow.

"The Therapy of Love" might easily be an alternate title for "The Barretts of Wimpole Street", which was the fall production of the Curtain Club. Rudolph Beiser wrote a romantic drama centering on Elizabeth Barrett, an invalid poetess of the nineteenth century. She lived in seclusion, dominated by a warped father who believed that love and marriage were sinful. The unhappiness of the home was reflected by her brothers and sisters who submitted to his tyranny. Only Henrietta was willing to incur her father's displeasure through her clandestine meetings with Captain Surtees Cook.

Bella Hedly, Elizabeth's cousin, momentarily brightened the older woman's life with her knowing remarks of "Wove, womance, and all that."

Robert Browning, a promising poet with a dynamic personality, inspired in Elizabeth the will to live. Slowly but surely she changed from a mere shadow, waiting impatiently for death, to a radiant woman holding fast to life.

When it was no longer possible to hide her feelings for Browning from her father, Elizabeth eloped. Her father, upon hearing the news, wished to avenge himself by killing her dog, Flush. But Flush had gone to Italy with her mistress. Father Barrett was alone with his remorse.

"A Christmas Village", the prize-winning table decoration of the Senior women is now another cherished memory.

CHRISTMAS BANQUET

No time of the year is richer in tradition than is Christmas week at Ursinus. The annual formal banquet, held this year on December 17 at 6:00 P.M., is characterized by delicious food, unique table decorations and beautiful coeds. The women of each class vie with each other to produce the most original and beautiful table. This year's winners were the seniors who fashioned a New England town at Christmas, drawn and built to scale and complete even to the electric street lights. The juniors portrayed the most familiar Christmas carols in detailed scenes; the sophomores developed the theme of "Ursinus College in the Future" and the freshmen depicted the interior of a church with a gold organ and haloed choirboys. During the meal, season's greetings were extended to the women by the president of the Men's Student Council; and after dinner, Miss Stahr presented her annual Christmas message. Following the banquet, girls and fellows went to the festively decorated gym for an evening of dancing.

With two years ahead of them, the Sophomores look toward "Ursinus in the Future."

Ursinus in the Spring means a lot to a co-ed, for it brings with it the annual May Day festivities resplendent with pageant, athletic activities, spring play and a May Queen to rule over the entire day. Last year Millie Wilson was crowned during the presentation of Phyllis Bright's "Nutcracker Fantasy".

East Campus was gayly decorated and became the stage for the charming tale of two children whose dolls come to life. Character dolls, wooden soldiers, a jack-in-the-box, graceful fairies and even a dashing prince made the fantasy complete.

The intricate maypole dance was almost the only feature of the fantasy that the boys did not attempt to copy a few weeks later when they gave their traditional comic version of the girls' pageant. For their May "queen" the boys chose Lew Ross as their dainty sovereign and crowned him with a balloon filled with milk. Both versions of the 1947 May Day are never-to-be-forgotten memories.

Now as seniors we have participated in our last May Day celebration as college students. This year we went to the polls and voted for one of our class beauties to serve as Queen. Mary Carter was our choice with Carol Schoeppe and Ann Moister serving as her senior attendants.

Our class has seen many innovations in its four years of college, and our last May Day brought still another. For the first time in Ursinus history the pageant was presented on the football field instead of on the traditional East Campus—still another indication of expanding enrollment. No longer could the lawn of the library accommodate the parents, friends and relatives who gathered for the occasion. The greater expanses of the football field offered an opportunity for a larger cast than had ever before been possible.

May Day brought graduation even closer, and as graduates we can look back on four years of beautiful and festive Spring celebrations.

Seated: Justice, Carter, Neill. Standing: Freking, Moister, McPherson, Lewis, Schoeppe.

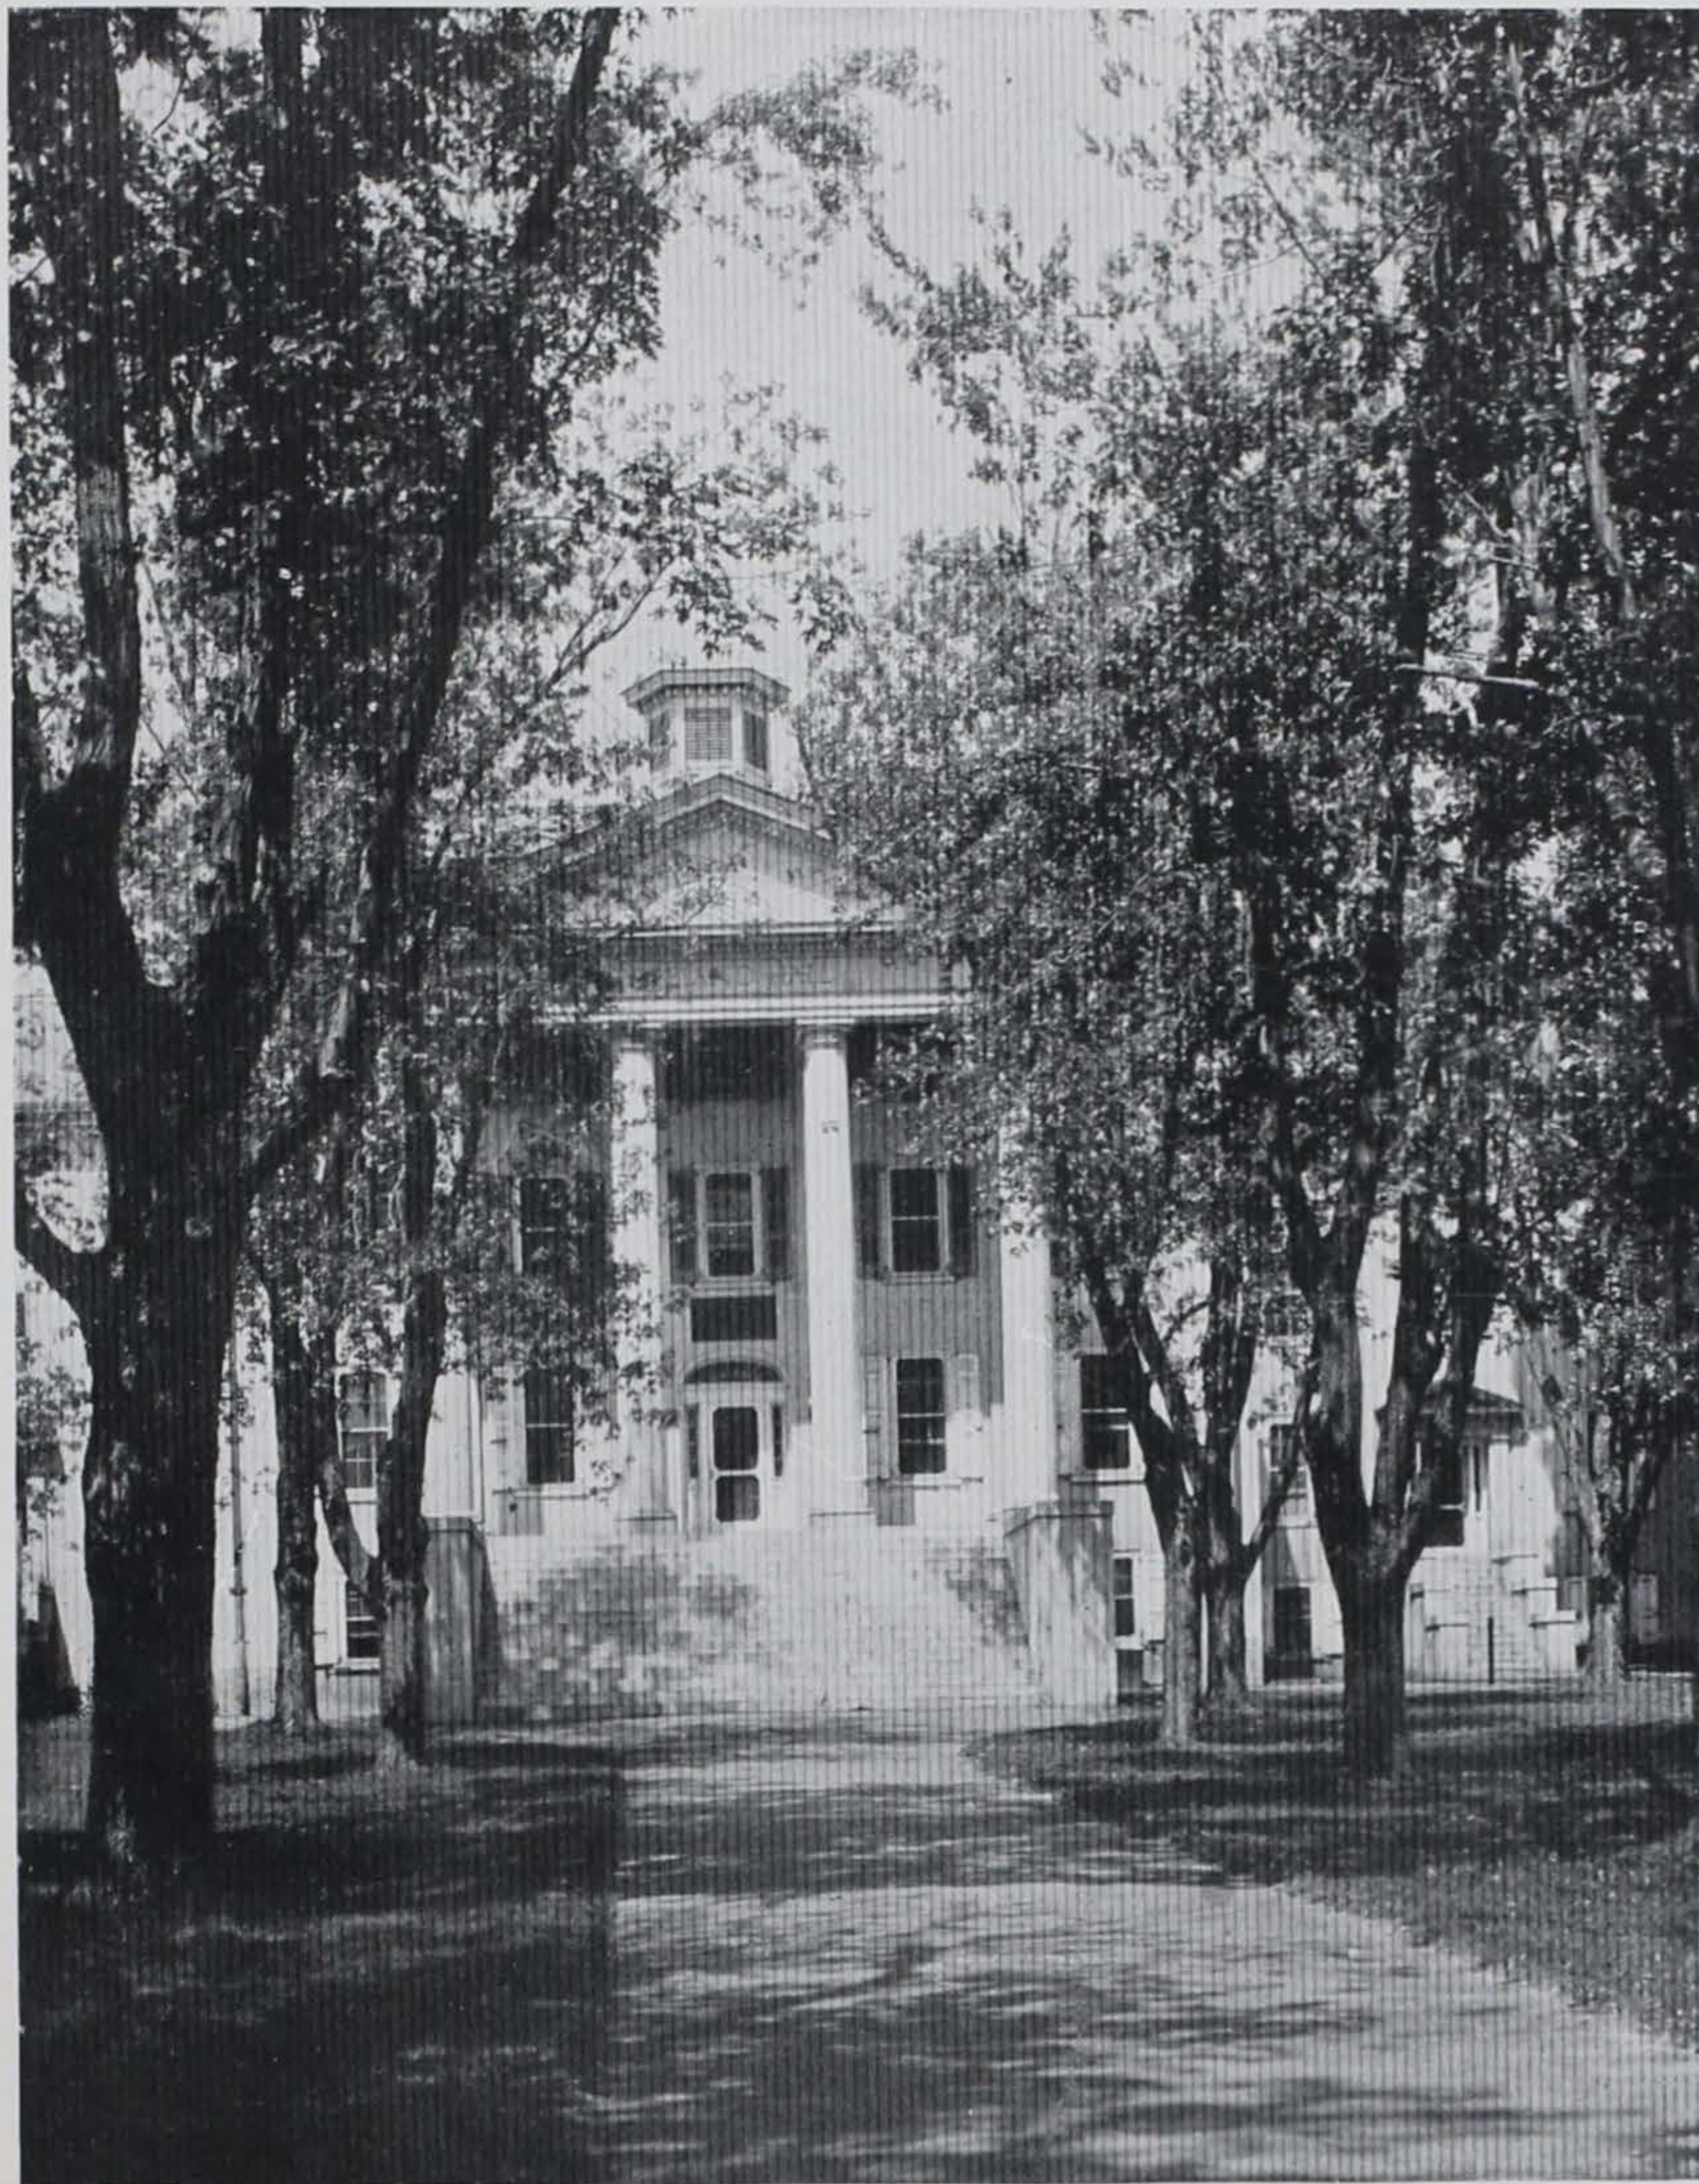

It is the sincere hope of the editors and the staff of the 1948 RUBY that this book will recall the many pleasant memories connected with college life. We have attempted to make it a faithful record of our four years spent at Ursinus.

To all those who have helped to make this book possible we extend our sincere thanks.

SUSAN BELLIS and FLORENCE CHERRY,
Co-editors.
