Campus Chest Set To Begin April 6 Shorb and Riley Committee Heads

The annual Campus Community Chest will launch its 1964 campaign on Monday, April 6, to raise funds to aid local and national charities.

The charities to be supported total four: St. Gabriel's Hall for Boys in Phoenixville, the Association for Retarded Children in Norristown, the Royer-Greaves School for the Blind in Paoli and the World University Service.

Through the cooperation of the faculty and student body, many activities have been planned to raise the funds. Many of the dates have been officially approved for these events and will hold as follows: Activities begin Tuesday, April 7 with a dessert-card party to be held in Paisly Rec at 6:30. April 8, the scene will be set for the penny mile to take place at 12:30. April 9 is the date set for the bicycle race in which professors will compete to determine the best cyclist. This will be held after lunch.

The weekend promises great entertainment. One of the outstanding features of the campaign is the student-faculty show which will be held on April 10 at 8. Students are urged to participate in this event and sign up with either Jon Zizelman, Bobby Hiller or on the bulletin board in Bomberger. An added attraction to the program will be an auction which is to be held during intermission.

The following evening, April 11, a student-faculty basketball game will be held in the gymnasium at 8:30.

The fraternities and sororities are busy making plans for the coming event. An auction, bake sale, and shoe shine are among the many activities in prospective.

Solicitors will be coming to the dorms during the two-week period. Brenda Shorb and Rich Riley, co-chairmen of the drive urge everyone to take an active part in the campaign and give his share for the worthy cause.

Jeanne Dawson Crowned Prom Queen; Cub and Key Taps Seven Junior Men

Sunnybrook Ballroom was transformed into a piece of "Old Cape Cod" for the Junior Prom last Friday night. Al Raymond's band supplied the music. Arriving guests were greeted at the mouth of the bay by two buoy lights on the edge of the surf. Fish nets, decorated with various forms of colorful sea-life were draped across the walls and the stage, while a large lighthouse held the center of attention in the middle of a sea-floor, complete with rocks and a dinghy.

Cub and Key President, George Rutledge, with the organization's new members (l. to r.) Craig Heller, Jerry Rosenberger, James Scheirer, Pete Dunn, George Rutledge, Tim Cope, John Wirth, Mike Kelly.

The highlight of the evening came about midnight when President Helfferich crowned Jeanne Dawson queen of the prom. She had been elected earlier in the week by the junior men. Jeanne is a French major from Elmira, N. Y. She is vice-president of the Y and a cheerleader. Jeanne's court consisted of: Pat Goekmeyer, Joyce Maloney, Carol Ort, and Ann Shisler.

Ursinus Receives Gulf Oil Grant

Ursinus College received a generous check last Monday afternoon from the Gulf Oil Corporation when Kenneth P. Coe, sales manager for the Philadelphia area, visited the campus to make the presentation.

The grant was one of 692 awards totalling $500,000 which Gulf Oil is distributing this year as direct, unrestricted grants to universities and colleges under its Aid-To-Education Program.

James R. Rue, Norristown, 40-year veteran of the college treasurer's office of which he is now the manager, was designated to receive the Gulf check in the absence of Dr. D. L. Helfferich, president of the college.

"We are pleased to receive another check from the Gulf Oil Corporation, since we have benefitted from the corporation's generosity in the past and since Ursinus College steadily adheres to its policy of neither seeking nor accepting State or Federal aid in any form," Mr. Rue said in accepting the check.

"We are also proud of the fact that one of our distinguished alumni, Dr. Alexander Lewis, Jr., of Pittsburgh, recently climaxed a quarter-century service with Gulf Oil when he was made senior vice-president of the corporation last January," Mr. Rue added.

Mr. Rue, a native of Tennent, Monmouth County, New Jersey, and a graduate of Rider Business College, Trenton, came to

Three Co-Eds Make US Lacrosse Team Great Britain Scene of Games

Sue Honeysett, Enid Russell, and Judy Smiley, three Ursinus co-eds, have been chosen to accompany the U.S. Touring Lacrosse team which will visit Great Britain this summer and fall. The team will leave the United States of August 28 and will spend eight weeks in the British Isles.

This is the first time that three undergraduates from one college have been chosen for this honor. In addition, there will be several U.C. graduates on the team, bringing Ursinus participation to near 50 percent. The fifteen players will play about a game a day for the eight weeks. During the summer they will have to practice frequently and will have exhibition games in various sections of the country. Therefore, they will be unable to hold a steady job.

Mass Meeting of Students Planned For Wednesday

Details about the Spring Festival will be released at a mass meeting of the Student Body to be held this Wednesday, March 18, immediately after dinner in Pfahler Hall, S12. Movies of last year's Festival will be shown to acquaint the new students and remind the upperclassmen of the festival. Chairmen of the committees will explain the duties of each group. There will be an opportunity to sign up for committees and dates for dance try-outs will be announced. All men and women are urged to attend this very important mass meeting this Wednesday.

Basic plans for this year's Festival have been long in the making. Co-managers Bonnie Fisher and Gail Allebach have announced that the Spring Festival in 1964 will be at attempt at a musical, a giant step in the evolution of the Spring Festival.

This year there are more opportunities for student participation. Besides singing and dancing in the pageant itself, many people are needed to work on the large number of committees necessary to accomplish the work that has to be done behind the backdrop. Musicians, seamstresses, and artists have jobs cut out for them.

As always, the Spring Festival depends on the entire student body for its support.

Group Organizes Fund Campaign Will Defray Cost For Ursinus Girls On Lacrosse Team

A committee under Enos Russell has been organized to help defray the cost to the three Ursinus women who have been chosen to accompany the US Touring Lacrosse team when they visit Great Britain. The three students are Sue Honeysett, Enid Russell, and Judy Smiley.

The British Government will provide room and board for the team for the eight weeks they are in the British Isles. All transportation expense and spending money must be supplied by the players themselves. The minimum which travel alone will cost has been estimated at $700.

The committee has the support of campus organizations and hopes to repeat the success of 1955 when campus support sent two Ursinus hockey players on a tour of Australia. They plan a series of money making activities, such as contests, that will be scheduled not to conflict with the Campus Chest. The WAA is seeking means of raising some of the necessary funds also.

Being a member of this team is considered a great honor for the girls will be representing the college as well as the country. The committee hopes that there will be complete support from the campus. Anyone individual or organization interested in helping, should contact Enos Russell, Bonnie Fisher or one of the team members.

WSGA Approves Rule Change

The Womens Government, at their meeting on March 9, approved a rule change concerning the hours for women students.

This change was made in Section IX, General Regulations of the Rules and Customs. The rule previously read: All students who do not leave campus must be in the dormitory by 11:30 p.m. on Friday and 12:00 p.m., Saturday evenings, but may have social privileges in the Reception Room until the closing hour of 12:15. It now reads: sophomores, juniors, and seniors who do not leave the campus must be in the dormitory by 12:30 a.m. on Friday and Saturday evenings. Freshmen who do not leave campus must be in the dormitory by 11:30 p.m. Friday and 12:00 a.m. Saturday but may have social privileges in the Reception Room until the closing hour of 12:15 a.m.

Don't Walk on That Grass

The MSGA has recently announced a new rule which states that anyone who walks on the East or West Campus bordering Route 422 will be subject to a five dollar fine. This ruling has been necessitated by the fact that students now "cut-campus" in direct disobedience to the rules. Supposedly, the rule is meant to preserve the beauty of the front Campus. If strictly enforced, it will mean that no one may sit on the lawns of the front Campus. The MSGA has stressed that they hope enforcement of the regulation and imposition of the five-dollar fine will not be necessary. But they have also stressed that they will enforce the rule if necessary.

Compulsion Won't Do It

After two months under the new Chapel program, it is perhaps time to begin thinking about some more progress in that field. No one will deny, particularly not the freshmen and sophomores, that the effected changes are welcome. However, the Chapel program still remains as enforced religious indoctrination, non-sectarian to the extent that is is Christian. That means that only non-Christians are being indoctrinated, so to speak. Having compulsory Chapel is much like leading a horse to water; most students can't be forced to listen, pray or believe, as the horse cannot be forced to drink. There are students who are interested in Chapel and who would attend if it were not compulsory. These are the students that are benefiting from the program.

Religion, even in a church related school, should not be compulsory. Argued on strictly religious grounds, one would wonder if God is impressed by forced hymn singing, and prayers. One might think He would be offended. Could we not, as other church related schools have done, eliminate the compulsory "religious services" and have services for those students who are genuinely interested. We, of course, knew that Chapel was compulsory when we decided to attend Ursinus; perhaps it took a little while for us to grow up and realize the nature of the program.

Journalism Grants Available

For the first time more than 1,000 scholarships are available to college journalism students, a compilation from the 1964 edition of the Journalism Scholarship Guide reveals.

The Guide, published annually by The Newspaper Fund, lists 1151 scholarships, fellowships and assistantships worth $639,893. These are available to 15,000 undergraduate and graduate students studying journalism this year.

A breakdown of the scholarships in the 1964 Guide reveals 989 undergraduate grants worth $377,238 and 162 graduate awards with a minimum value of $262,655.

The number of undergraduate scholarships has increased by 260 since the first Guide was published in 1962. In the same period, grants for graduate students have increased to 162 from 68. The total value of scholarships rose $236,512 in this period.

New this year are 156 undergraduate grants worth $66,566. Graduate grants declined slightly to 162 but their value increased to $262,655 from $196,665 last year. The size of grants has increased as education costs rose. Graduate students, now at an all time high, represents approximately 10% of the current journalism enrollment.

Features of the Guide include: General information on hundreds of thousands of dollars in Loan Fund Programs from which needy students may borrow;

A section devoted to general scholarships not exclusively for journalism students but available to them competitively;

A bibliography of other reference sources which list financial aid for students.

Individual copies of the Guide are available free to interested students, teachers and counselors from the Newspaper Fund, 44 Broad St., New York, N. Y. 10004.

Charles I Trial Topic of Forum

Miss Cecely Wedgwood, Historian, Speaker

Miss Cecely Veronica Wedgwood, British historian, scholar, and lecturer, spoke on "Trial of Charles I" taken from her new book, A Coffin for King Charles, in Bomberger Hall last Wednesday night. Miss Wedgwood is currently in the United States on a six week visit. While in the United States she is serving as a lecturer in English history at Bryn Mawr College. In England she is a lecturer at University College, London.

At the forum Miss Wedgwood spoke on the trial and execution of Charles I and the events that led up to his death. On January 27, 1649, Parliament convicted Charles with treason and making war against his subjects. On January 30, 1649, Charles was executed. The trial held in Westminster Hall was for the purpose of making the public aware of Charles' crimes. It was decided before the trial even started that Charles would be found guilty.

An interesting sidelight that Miss Wedgwood presented is that this was the first trial in history to have full press coverage. Present-day historians have two sources of information concerning the trial: actual accounts of the proceedings and testimonies of the regicides who were later tried themselves. Apparently, the government censor presented those journalists who were covering the trial with a resume of the day's events. Nothing of what the king said was censored although no record of the disagreements among the Parliament men trying the king was allowed to seep through to the public.

Prosecution Foiled

Throughout the entire trial, Charles maintained that he was not being tried by a lawful court, therefore he would plead neither guilty nor not guilty. Thus, he foiled the plans of his accusers to publicize his alleged misdeeds in court. They were required to resort to proceedings that were not according to the law of the land. The king made a telling point when he asked the people if such a government as that which had brought him unlawfully and illegally to trial, would respect the laws of the land which it was purporting to defend.

Charles lost control of himself only once during the entire trial, and that was after he had been condemned and found himself unable to say a word to explain away the charges that had been made. But he soon regained the composure that had gained him sympathy throughout. And he went to his death as a cavalier should have.

A question and answer period followed during which she finally "took sides", as she had been completely impartial during her talk. She admitted that something had to be done with Charles since absolute government was not in line with the way in which the English government was developing.

The next forum will be held on April 8 at 8 p.m. in Bomberger Hall at which time Mr. Nelson Bortz will speak on "New Dimensions in Labor-Management Relations."

Dr. John R. Johnson of the Chemistry Department of Cornell University will speak to the Beardwood Chemical Society on Tuesday evening in S12 at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Johnson is probably best known for his contribution to the Organic Chemistry laboratory manual, various additions of which have been in use here for better than twenty years.

By the Way . . .

by John Bradley

There is deserved caution among the political analysts when they try to analyze the New Hampshire Primary results. Henry Cabot Lodge won by 12,000 votes, but New England is home ground. On the other hand, all of the votes cast in his name were write-ins. He had not campaigned, nor even expressed a desire to be a candidate. As in Pennsylvania, political organizations can do all in their power to try to prove to the people that the organization candidate is best, but in the final result, the people make the decision.

Richard Nixon has now said that he is willing to reverse the ticket of 1960, letting Lodge run as Presidential candidate and he as Vice Presidential candidate. If Lodge's popularity proves not to be provincial, as the California Primary will decide, his teaming up with the nationally known former Vice President might prove a formidable match for President Johnson.

Constitutional Rights

The Senate is preparing for the inevitable filibuster, which rears its ugly head whenever the position of the bigots in the south are threatened by talk of civil rights. Its truly amazing that a hate group can violate the Constitution by denying voting rights to a great many people, and then be protected by the Constitution for unlimited debate in the Senate.

Unlimited debate may be a good thing; only the politically minded can decide that. It probably permits thorough discussion of important matters. When it is misused to perpetuate a violation of the Constitution, and of Human Rights, it becomes a dangerous tool.

Filibusters can be stopped by a vote of the Senate. This legislative body dislikes to use it, however, because — well, it's anybody's guess. Protection of the prestige of the Senate, maybe? But what prestige will the Senate have if it allows this clearly ill-intended farce of American legislative procedure to occur?

Seek Art Exchange With Muhlenberg

Contact has been made with Mr. Alfred J. Colarusso, Chairman of the Department of Art at Muhlenberg College, regarding a proposed art exchange between Ursinus College and Muhlenberg. Mr. Colarusso, being very interested in an exchange, contacted several students at Muhlenberg for the Ursinus Weekly.

Christopher Moore, Muhlenberg, next year's Chairman of the Muhlenberg Cultural Exchange Committee has been in contact with Carl Peek, Feature Editor of the Ursinus Weekly, regarding the art exchange. Moore has informed the Weekly that it will not be possible for an exchange to be accomplished this year. He said, however, that this idea should be held over and acted upon next year.

It is hoped, Moore said, that arrangements can be successfully accomplished by student organizations on both campuses. The Weekly has contacted the present Chairman of the Public Affairs Commission of the YM-YWCA, Bill Lundgren, with whom it has been working to make arrangements for this exchange. It had been hoped by the present chairman of the PAC and by the Weekly that the exchange could have been accomplished this year in light of the first student art exhibit held this year on the Ursinus campus.

IRC Members Hear Barghoorn on Soviet Propaganda

by Jim Hake

Five members of the International Relations Club of Ursinus College journeyed to Lincoln University on March 3 to hear professor Barghoorn of Yale speak on Soviet propaganda. We went at the invitations of the IRC of Lincoln.

Following an explanation of the appeals by the Communists to mobilize the industrial and peasant masses, the peace, modernistic and nationalistic offenses were discussed by the speaker. He felt that peaceful conditions make it easier for the Soviet Government to conquer the world. The peaceful coexistence theory refers to governments, not ideologies. Russia has used arguments in an attempt to show the world that she is most realistic in her approach to disarmament.

The internal program to unite the population behind the Communist Government was the next major subject. The ideology must associate the Communist banner. So far, the proletariat represents the most influential sector in this drive to develop nationalism.

A campaign to associate the aspirations of the population with the Communist ideology has also been the third major approach in recent years. Examples in modernization of industry and the increase in the standard of living have been utilized to illustrate the success of the Communists.

Those of us who attended were impressed with his lecture and the keen interest shown by the students of Lincoln. Afterwards we saw some of the campus and had an opportunity to talk with many who were at the reception.

Kaffee Klatsch

Determinism-Free Will

This past Friday's Kaffee Klatsch brought Ursinus students out on quality but not in quantity. The subject was "Determinism vs. Free Will." Several faculty members appeared for the discussion. Those in attendance were Dr. Fletcher, Dr. Creager, Dr. Baker and Mr. Minnich.

The faculty members seemed to agree that though one can neither prove nor disprove the existence of free will, one will adopt the attitude which appeals most to him. A question was raised as to whether or not the actions would be similar in both instances. Although it was decided that the actions of the free man (who thought he was free) and those of the determined man (no matter what he thought) would be similar, the free man who thought his course was determined, would not produce similar results due to a striking change in attitude. Dr. Fletcher further illustrated this point with a personal example.

Dr. Creager pointed out that Paul had said something which indicated that although man knew what was right and wished to do it, he did not do the right thing. Dr. Baker then disagreed and sighted another authority. The example of an alcoholic was then brought up. Was such a man really free? Dr. Fletcher and psychology-major George Rutledge seemed to agree that he was originally free to develop his habits and

by Carl Peek

Several irate Ursinus females have requested that several of the men students be informed that their fire crackers at 2 a.m., are not appreciated.

I wouldn't be surprised if the senior class started kicking up its annual heels about the indoor commencement exercises that are held every year. The annual fuss, will, undoubtedly receive the annual answer.

There is a movement afoot to increase the length of time allotted by the waiters for people to eat their meals. Four minutes is a bit short, it would seem. However, if students want to eat more slowly, the only logical thing to do would be to eat more slowly and endure the knifing glances of the constituency. But, more could come of this revolution.

We understand that the Red Cross filled all the bottles it had on hand with lots of red blooded college student blood, so much, as a matter of fact, that the Bloodmobile people insisted in keeping 8 or 9 pints available for use of the local residents.

The charitable Ursinus student will soon be appearing on campus. He will be wearing dollar signs and stickers saying "I gave to the Campus Chest."

Seriously, this year we hope that all campus organizations realize that the Campus Chest was originated by earlier student generations at this college. The chest was instituted to keep solicitors off the backs of students. Support of the Campus Chest and the co-chairmen should be a prime objective of every student, for that good old capitalistic motive of self-gain through private charity if for no other more humanitarian reason.

We don't know how foolish some students think the Weekly is, but we do make sure that we are printing something at least closely resembling "truth" before it goes into the paper. This test is used on letters to the editor, as well as on material written by staff members.

thought patterns, although once they were firmly established, he was ruled by them. One freshman student then questioned whether the child was really free if his parents consistently channeled his thought patterns by means of physical force. Dr. Fletcher then described his "Fletcher Non-Clobber Principle."

The idea of two types of goals, servation, and bad goals, those good goals, those for self present on self destruction through resistance, aggression, and other methods of causing alienation were discussed. A hard core nucleus remained through dinner discussing these ideas in relation to pacifism and unilateral disarmament.

The Kaffee Klatsch, though small in size, was one of the best developed this year. Next week's Kaffee Klatsch will be devoted to "Sex Education in America."

URINUS GETS GRANT—Kenneth P. Coe, left, Gulf Oil Corporation, sales manager for the Philadelphia area, presents a check for a generous unrestricted financial grant for Ursinus College, to James R. Rue, 40-year veteran employee of the college treasurer's office of which he has been since 1951 the manager. This Gulf Oil contribution is one of a succession of such annual grants of which Ursinus College has been the beneficiary.

Gulf Oil Grant . . .

Norristown in 1923 after approximately four years employment with the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. At that time he began work as an assistant in the treasurer's office at Ursinus College, eventually became chief accountant there, and since 1951 has been manager of the office. He is a member of First Presbyterian Church, Norristown.

As the college's financial officer for so many years Mr. Rue says that he has "lived through the days when we were a million dollars and more in debt, and had much less than a half-million dollars endowment. In recent years, thanks to the support of business and industry, as instanced in the Gulf Oil gift, and the generosity of individuals, churches, and foundations, we have been able to acquire much-needed new buildings, wipe out our debt, and increase our endowment to more than four million dollars. If, however, the college is to meet the larger demands of the future we must continue to increase its financial resources," Mr. Rue added.

Enrolls 524

The Evening School of Ursinus College has a second-semester enrollment of 524 students from 97 southeastern Pennsylvania communities including Allentown and Reading, it was announced today by Dr. William J. Phillips, director of the school.

Those enrolled include employees from 217 business and industrial firms, school districts, social agencies, as well as municipal, state and federal employees in the area.

Among those enrolled are 27 housewives and 16 who are presently unemployed Dr. Phillips said.

Norristown residents lead with 124 enrolled; other communities represented including Pottstown, 51; Lansdale, 47; Phoenixville, 41; Collegeville, 29 and Royersford, 16.

Employing firms represented by the largest numbers of students enrolled include Merck, Sharp and Dohme, 35; Philco Corporation, 26; Bell Telephone Company, 16; Firestone Tire and Rubber, 13; and 12 each from Alan Wood Steel Company, Burrough's Corporation, and General Electric. There are 27 teachers from various school districts enrolled.

Dr. Phillips recalled that 628 were enrolled for the first semester but pointed out that a variety of factors "usually indicate that the second semester enrollment will not be quite so large."

The evening school at Ursinus College was opened in 1952 with an enrollment of only 45, but has grown steadily in the succeeding twelve years. Dr. Phillips attributes this growth to "the obvious fact that we are meeting a real need in the rapidly developing industrial complex between the Delaware and Schuylkill River valleys."

College Largely Negro

by Mary Ann Wuenschel

Lying within segregationist Mississippi, Tougaloo Southern Christian College is one of the few vocal institutions of the Deep South advocating a strong position on integration and civil rights. This institution, founded in 1869 by the American Missionary Association of New York, was "to be accessible to all, irrespective of their religious tenets, and conducted on the most liberal principles for the benefit of our citizens in general." This college is now associated with the United Church of Christ. It has maintained a bi-racial faculty and administrative staff, and its student body, although predominantly Negro, is also integrated.

Called "Cancer College"

Because of its integrated and outspoken nature, Tougaloo has become a great "sore spot" to Mississippians. The White Citizens' Council, unaffectionately refers to it as "Cancer College"; and state leaders have been pushing for an investigation of the college and "its role in racial unrest across the State."

State Seeks Revocation

On February 20, a bill was submitted to the Mississippi Senate recommending that Tougaloo's 94-year-old charter be revoked in the "public interest." This is a brazen attempt to strike down the one bastion of Negro rights in Mississippi.

The situation at Tougaloo has become grave. Hooded thugs are stopping cars as they leave the college; people in passing cars shoot volleys of bullets onto the campus; members of the college are harassed by telephone calls

Letters Sought

The Legislature is expected to pass the bill very soon. The question is—what can we do to delay its passage or execution? People closely involved with the problem feel that publicity in the form of letters to State officials, various Mississippi College officials, national newspapers and magazine writers, and Congressmen, would be of great help. Such publicity would be influential because of Mississippi's and, in particular, Gov. Paul Johnson's concern about the state's national image.

All students who are interested in the Tougaloo situation are urged to express their concern by writing such letters. On Tuesday evening at 6:30 in Rm. 7, the Human Relations Commission is meeting to discuss the situation to formulate letters. Those students who are unable to attend the meeting, but wish further information about the problem or about to whom the letters are to be written should see Bob Ilhoff, Valerie Moritz, Diana Wright, Mary Ann Wuenschel or any other member of the commission.

Agency Concert
Hailed as Fine Performance

by WEEKLY Reviewers

Last Saturday evening's concert presented by the Ursinus Agency, the second of the 1963-64 season, was well received by the audience.

The Agency, under president Lewis Linet, brought Lonnie Johnson, the noted Negro blues singer from the New York night spot where he is presently working. Gordon Bok, a summertime yacht captain and November to May folk singer, entertained the Ursinus audience with a wide selection of ballads.

Lonnie Johnson, blues singer, who appeared in the Second Agency Concert Saturday evening.

The audience, only relatively large for such an excellent performance, had enthusiasm and likewise expressed appreciation for such a fine performance with applause sounding of a far greater number.

Johnson, at age 64, is in love with the blues he plays; his affection for them immediately infects the audience which loses itself entirely in sad, dreamy, often sentimental blues.

Gordon Bok, bass-baritone ballad singer brought to UC by the Agency.

Gordon Bok, by far younger than Johnson, plays for his audience ballads taken from the heritages of England, Australia, Ireland, Scotland, and the USA. Bok sings in a deeply rich bass-baritone.

The Agency is to be commended for bringing this sort of talent to the Ursinus Campus. The Weekly Reviewers extend to all the members of the Agency congratulations for a fine organizational and production effort. Such performers as Johnson and Bok add greatly to the collegiate atmosphere on Campus. It is hoped that the third Agency concert will also be a success.

Beta Sigma Lambda

Once again a panel of impartial judges has met and overwhelmingly elected Beta Sig as the "Fraternity of the Week" for having, by far, the most outstanding group of pledges. These brave men are to be congratulated on their daring capture and kidnapping of our illustrious president, Bill "Barnegat" Mack and Sergeant at Arms Roger "100 pounds soaking wet" Hahn. Congratulations pledges for you have won the respect and admiration of the entire Ursinus community by knowingly accepting the consequences.

Kappa Delta Kappa

The sisters of KD extend best wishes to two sisters on their recent pinnings, Nancy Tarleton to Les Hyatt a brother of Delta Pi Sigma and Betsy Kleinginna to Terry Wagner a brother of Delta Sigma Phi of the University of Virginia.

Phi Alpha Psi

Congratulations to sister Jeanne Dawson, who was elected Queen of the Junior Prom by the men of her class and to Pat Goekmeyer who was a member of the Queen's Court. Saturday afternoon the sisters enjoyed a party with the Brothers of Zeta Chi. A great time was had by all.

Sigma Rho Lambda

The brothers welcome into the fold the following new members: Tom Garton, Larry Hamilton, Mike Kenefic, Andy Kippeny, John Leupold, and Ed Zamerin. The Brothers are waiting for this evening's meeting! Good Luck Pledges!! The Third Annual Manure Party was a great success. Where was Patty's mug found? All but John had fun at the stag. All but John had fun at the party. Isn't John having any fun? Great show last Saturday night. Hope you all can join in on the "fun in the sun" party next weekend. The more the merrier! If you can't make it for that weekend then be prepared for the week-end following Spring Vacation. We would like to remind every one that March 20 will be Pour More Beer In Vesuvius Day . . . Be prepared. This is advance warning. I was not at all pleased with the showing for Bat Cave Cleaning Day!

Gwynedd Mercy Falls to Ursinus Women's 3rd Team

The Ursinus women's third team split into two teams to take on the Varsity and Junior Varsity basketball teams of Gwynedd Mercy College on Thursday on the opponent's court. True to form, the UC girls dealt Gwynedd Mercy 2 decisive defeats.

In the first game, UC held the advantage from the start, the quarter scores being 18-4, 24-13 and 34-17 in UC's favor. Consistently good ball-handling clinched the UC victory at 44-29. The UC percentage of shots made from the floor stood slightly lower than usual at 57 per cent and usually weak percentage from the foul line held true to form at 35 per cent. Scoring honors go to sophomores Darlene Miller with 16 points and Sandy Weeks with 12 points. Both girls showed high from-the-floor percentage of shots made, Darlene with 67 per cent and Sandy high with 86 per cent. UC's obvious asset in ability made it a victory easily won.

UC's second string completely monopolized their game with the Gwynedd JV. Due to the late hour, the quarters were shortened to 6 minutes with the clock running on jump balls. UC held their baffled opponents to a mere five points and won the game 30-5. Scoring was spread among the players and substitutes; special credit goes to the team managers, Nancy Fraser and Marge Talmage, who both donned tunics and played.

Considering all games played by all three teams, the UC record stands at 11-3, with eight games remaining to be played. The Varsity, at 2-2 for the season, will be looking forward to improving its record in the two remaining games, with Immaculata on Tuesday and with arch-rival West Chester on Thursday, when the defeat of several weeks ago may be avenged. The JV remains undefeated at 6-0 and the third team at 3-1, with three games still scheduled to be played. The next two games, both at home, will be well worth a trip to the gym: against Immaculata, Tuesday, March 17, at 3:30; against West Chester, Thursday, March 19, at 3:30.

Basketball Team, Coach Honored

Everett M. Bailey, Director of Athletics at Ursinus College, recently honored his basketball team and head coach Warren Fry, along with assistant coach Bob Handwerk, with a banquet at Moorehead's in Trappe.

The basketball team's record of 10-7, gave Ursinus its first winning season in four years and its greatest number of victories in one season since 1951.

Varsity letters were awarded to Barry Troster of Lansdale, who led the team in scoring with 340 points, was top rebounder with 207 and among the top ten in the nation in field goal percentage. Senior co-captains Chuck Schaal of Oaklyn, N. J., lettered for the third straight year and was second in scoring with 300 points. Chuck led the team in free throws with a .819 percentage and Walt Korenkiewicz, Collegeville, who also lettered for the third straight year and was third in scoring with 191 pts., second in rebounds with 156. Junior Henry Hofmann of Rutledge, Pa., lettered for the third year and was fourth in scoring with 156 points. Hofmann, who recently was given the "unsung hero" award by the Philadelphia Sports Writers, was elected team captain for next year.

End of Volleyball Tournney Near

The great "be true to your dorm" crusade will be nearing its climax this Tuesday night when the semi-finalists in the women's dorms volleyball tournament meet in the tournament's next-to-last clash. Spirit is flying high with two of the dorms having an undefeated record, Shreiner and Beardwood 1. The winner of this game will face the team that emerges victorious in an elimination tournament that will be played off between the five teams still remaining that have lost only one game. These teams are Clamer, Paisley 1 and 2, Paisley 3, Stauffer 1 and Basement, and Stauffer 2.

For the past four weeks the 14 teams representing all the women's dorms have been converging on the gym on Wednesday evenings. The double elimination set-up has eliminated the 7 teams that have lost twice. The play-off between the 5 teams that have lost one game will be held this Tuesday night, as well as the play-off between Shreiner and Beardwood 1. The two victorious teams will face each other in the final clash next week.

Last year's winner was Stauffer 2. They still stand a chance of holding onto the trophy for another year if they can come through the play-off in good enough shape to face the Shreiner versus Beardwood 1 winner, either of which will be a hard team to beat.

The women's volleyball tournament is an annual event sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association and is run entirely on dorm spirit. Come see some real action on Tuesday night.

Beaver Falls to U.C., 61-38

The Ursinus girls' basketball teams conquered Beaver on Wednesday in a home game. The varsity team had little difficulty with their opponents. The final score was 61-38, Ursinus leading the entire game. It was the finest team effort put forth thus far. The passing and handling of the ball was much improved over the previous game. Regardless of the effort put forth by Beaver, they just couldn't display the skill and strength to overcome Ursinus.

The junior varsity also displayed their usual fine play and teamwork. They won with a score of 63-32 over Beaver's junior varsity. The junior varsity girls have shown fine skills and are improving with each game they play.

The two teams are looking forward of their last two games next Tuesday and Thursday against Immaculata and West Chester respectively. The girls would appreciate having a fine crowd out on both days to support them and give them added incentive.

Kratz Caps Career

by Bob Livingston

Ursinus College's only Senior wrestler, Dale Kratz, has completed his collegiate career as captain of a fine team. The Bears, under Coach Robert McCreary, compiled a 6-4 record and 7 points in the Middle Atlantic Conference Championships. Kratz matched the team record with a tally of 6 wins and 4 defeats and was an inspired leader of his young team.

Throughout his varsity years, Dale has played the game of "Musical Weights". This year he has wrestled at 157, 147, and finished the season with a 5-0 victory in the 137 pound class. Dale has had the ability to lose the required pounds when necessary and to fight hard and victoriously when outweighed.

In tournaments, Kratz has had a run of bad luck which hampered his chances. In two successive Wilkes Invitational Meets, he drew as his first round opponent the eventual winner of his class. He fared worse in this year's MAC meet at West Chester, drawing Lycoming's Knobel who not only won his class but was named the outstanding wrestler of the meet.

Captain Dale Kratz has completed his career. He was a fine wrestler and the leadership he provided to the younger members of the Ursinus College team will speak well of him in seasons to come. To Dale a well deserved "thanks" for a job well done.

U.S. Lacrosse Team . . .

She has played Lacrosse for seven years and is co-captain of the U.C. Lacrosse team. She is president of the WSGA, a sister of Tau Sigma Gamma, was selected for Who's Who, and runs the Gordon-Davis Linen concession. In the sports field, she was captain of the hockey team, is on the All College Team, and is a varsity swimmer.

Enid Russell, a sophomore Physical Education major, has also been playing Lacrosse for seven years. She is a sister of Omega Chi and plays hockey. She has been a member of the All-American Lacrosse Team for two years. Most of her interests center around her home and Darcy and Enos.

The third U.C. team member will be Judy Smiley, a junior Physical Education major, who is an all-round sports woman. She plays varsity hockey, basketball, lacrosse, and softball. She will be captain of the hockey team next year and is now Vice President of the WAA. She is Tau Sig's Rushing Chairman and was a Freshman Advisor. Judy has been honored by being selected as a member of the U.S. Reserve Hockey Team and of the U.S. Reserve Lacrosse team. She feels that "this will be a tremendous education in itself, living and traveling as a member of a United States team."

Seals vs. Bock in Intramural Championship

Intramural Basketball Final to be played this week will pit Dorm champ Bock Hall against runner up in the Dorm division, Curtis A. These two teams made it to the finals by winning their quarter and semifinal games of the post season playoffs which saw eight teams, the top four in each division, vie for the finals. The first game of the series saw Delta Pi take Zeta Chi for the frat divisions fourth playoff spot, 79-69 with Bob Naylor hitting for 26 points and Pete Dunn 22 in a losing effort. The first of the quarter-finals saw the biggest upset of the series. Little Fircroft-724, fourth place in the dorm division, fast broke past frat champ, Demas and, led by Bill Megill and John Mills, took the Beans 55-49. In other quarter-finals, Bock ran away from Delta Pi, 69-34, with all five starters in double figures; Maples-Leber forfeited to the Apes; and Ed Leister's 17 led Curtis A past Sig Rho 46-42. Sweatpants Bother Horses

Ursinus track stars Bill Cooper and Pete Dunn usually jog three miles a day over the hills, dales, and bogs of Collegeville. This is part of their daily drudgery devised to keep them in top-knotch condition. On their cross-country jaunts they have learned a couple of things. First, that the youngsters of Collegeville are pretty accurate snowball chuckers. And secondly, that the mild-looking horses that inhabit the surrounding pastures have a strange aversion to sweatpants. For that matter, one old mare got downright nippy about the whole thing and tried to take a chunk out of Cooper's seat as he light-footed it over her territory.

On the more serious side of the pasture fence, Cooper and Dunn expect this tedious training to pay off in low times and victories during the spring track season. Already Cooper has produced a number of meteorical times in the indoor-meets this winter. At West Chester on February 28, 'Coop' ran one of the fastest miles of his career: 4:26 on a tenth mile track. He and his coach, Ray Gurzynski, were "quite pleased" about this race because the many turns on the short track and the fact that flats instead of spiked shoes are used, tend to increase the participants' times. Coach Gurzynski stated that "a 4:26 indoors is worth about a 4:20 on an outdoor-cinder track." Coop also walked away with the half-mile at West Chester in another quick time of 1:57 (1:54 outdoors). And on top of these victories, Bill has glittered in meets at Delaware, the Inquirer meet in Philly, and in competition at New York.

A couple other performers have got Coach Gurzynski warbling about UC's track prospects for '64. Sophomore Bill Robart (4'6") and Al Hakanson (4'10") look ahead of form in the shot. Bob Gladstone and Tom Walter displayed mid-season form in broad jump. In running events, the coach has been impressed with frosh Walt Irvine in the sprints; John Hunsicker in the hurdles; Pete Dunn in the quarter; and Ray Ruberg and Milt Kale in the two-mile event. So, even though the Collegeville nags aren't impressed with Ursinus' chances of copping their second straight MAC title, it looks like another fine year for the UC cindermen.

This Tuesday evening, March 17, the Ursinus track team is participating in an indoor-meet at West Chester State College. It is to be an informal meet with such teams as PMC, Temple, McGuire Air Force Base, and West Chester sending representatives. All members of the UC track team are encouraged to come.

Making plans for spring vacation?

The home folks would love to know what you have in mind. Call them now—the holiday will be a lot more enjoyable if they know when to expect you and what you'll be doing.

gort On Gort...I've an idea I'd like to tell you about...
Greetings, Zeus. ...tho' I don't think you're gonna like it!

Well, it's this: rather than the haphazard Zeus-worship we now have, I'd like to see the Religious meet more regularly...and in specified places...
Speak!

Build Houses of Worship wherein those so inclined could hold, oh, say weekly prayer sessions...and hear My Word preached.
What gave you the notion I'd disapprove? I think it's a splendid suggestion!

Yes! I heartily approve of regular meetings of the Religious! It will keep them, for an hour or so each week, out of mischief!
You Do?
