

Furman Magazine

Volume 48
Issue 1 Spring 2005

Article 27

4-1-2005

Cover story update

Furman University

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarexchange.furman.edu/furman-magazine>

Recommended Citation

University, Furman (2005) "Cover story update," Furman Magazine: Vol. 48 : Iss. 1 , Article 27.
Available at: <https://scholarexchange.furman.edu/furman-magazine/vol48/iss1/27>

This Article is made available online by Journals, part of the Furman University Scholar Exchange (FUSE). It has been accepted for inclusion in Furman Magazine by an authorized FUSE administrator. For terms of use, please refer to the FUSE Institutional Repository Guidelines. For more information, please contact scholarexchange@furman.edu.

Andrew and Karen Arnold White, a son, Josiah Arnold, January 3, Columbia, S.C.

83

Next reunion in 2008

Scott Bader of Matthews, N.C., is a software consultant with Bank of America. ■ Kathleen Smith Beal teaches English in Seoul, Korea, where her husband, Steve, is the defense attaché at the U.S. Embassy. ■ Bill Ellison of Piedmont, S.C., has earned a Master of Theological Studies degree from Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary. ■ After selling his first executive search firm, Bart Heres is now president of Atlanta Windward Search, Inc. With Neal Anderson '84, he is also involved with SupplyChainBrains.com, an Internet "niche" career site. ■ Pamela Huch LeNeave has joined Bank of America in Greenville as vice president and consumer market manager. She was previously market sales manager for SouthTrust Bank. ■ After 15 years as independent money managers, Michael Mohr and his partners sold their business to Mellon. He now is managing director of Mellon's Private Wealth Management group. ■ BIRTH: Deborah and Don Powe, a daughter, Riley Elise, February 7, Atlanta.

84

Next reunion in 2009

Christopher Ballard was scheduled to return to Fort Hood, Texas, this spring after being deployed to Baghdad with the Army's 1st Cavalry Division. ■ Julie Cheek is a pediatrician at a community health center in St. Petersburg, Fla. ■ Chip Frank of Cranford, N.J., is marine operations manager with Maher Terminals, Inc. He recently returned home after spending more than two years in Iraq and other areas with the U.S. Army in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom. ■ Kevin and Elizabeth Greulich Gilleland live in Raleigh, N.C. Kevin is a senior administrator in Wake County Public Schools and Elizabeth is preschool director for The Raleigh School. ■ Charles Hunter is special agent in charge of the Charlotte (N.C.) Field Office for the Internal Revenue Service Criminal Investigation Division. He previously served as deputy director of refund crimes with IRS-CID. ■ BIRTH: Michael and Larcy Graham, a son, Quinn, October 8, Arlington, Va. Michael is a registered financial consultant with LaSalle St. Securities, LLC.

85

This year is reunion!

After serving as a missionary in Germany for 10 years, Dean

Farmer, Jr., has enrolled in law school at Suffolk University in Boston. He is an attorney technology specialist with the Wilmer, Cutler, Pickering, Hale and Dorr firm. ■ David Kelley of Willow Springs, N.C., is a software manager with SAS Institute Inc. ■ Cynthia Hinchman Lyons has retired from Microsoft and now works as sales and services director of US Photo Lab, a start-up company in the Charlotte, N.C., area. ■ MARRIAGE: Pamela Jean McNab and Scott Gravatt, July 12. They live in Fredericksburg, Va., and Pamela is a high school Spanish teacher.

86

Next reunion in 2006

Penny Pinkus Haynes of Canton, Ga., is chief executive officer of Encouraging Enterprises, Inc., a company that provides digital media functions for consumers. She provides on-line tutorials to teach people how to create their own audio books and other multimedia content. Visit the Web site, www.encouragingaudiobooks.com. ■ Dianne Coleman Kuhl of Greer, S.C., is vice president of government relations with a consulting and development firm. She works with Greenville's Historic West End Association and was appointed last year by the South Carolina Senate to serve on the Greenville First Steps Board. ■ Steven and Catherine Fluck Price are co-pastors of Harvest United Methodist Church in Bradenton, Fla., a church they began in 1997.

Cover story update

The spring 2004 issue of Furman featured a cover article about Chad Hale '67 and his involvement with Georgia Avenue Community Ministries, which is working to revitalize the Atlanta areas of Grant Park and Summerhill.

The article, which detailed the triumphs and struggles of local residents as they tried to rebuild their lives and communities with the help of neighborhood food co-ops, included mention of GACM's plans to convert an old building into a restaurant that could provide employment opportunities and other services to the community. A nonprofit offshoot of GACM, called Georgia Avenue Coming Together, has since opened the restaurant.

Called Tummy and Soul, the restaurant, located on Fraser Street, is open daily from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., and has received a glowing review from Creative Loafing in Atlanta. The newspaper writes, "The notion that an eatery could enliven a neighborhood as well as provide livable salaries for members of that community isn't just a hopeful one, it's a promise put into action by Georgia Avenue Coming Together. This economic development organization's first business is Tummy and Soul, a cozy restaurant where scrumptious Southern cooking comes with a side of healthy pride."

Georgia Avenue Community Ministries, which depends on donations for its survival, produces a monthly newsletter describing its outreach programs. To subscribe, or to learn more about the group's work, e-mail Chad Hale at whale37@earthlink.net or visit the Web site, www.gacm.org.