TUESDAY, APRIL 24.

Help welcome the Vets to our city.

This will be the last opportunity for Chester to entertain the Confederate Veterans and we must make the occasion one long to be remembered.

If the Veterans in our midst today are a sample of the entire Confederate army it is not wonder that they lasted for four long years.

In discussing the European war many of the Old Vets say they are ready again to shoulder arms if their services are needed.

Says one Old Vet, "You've got to hand it to Chester. She does things up right."

Remember, a free lunch stand has been opened in the Eberhardt building on Wylie street.

The South Carolina U. C. V. has seized the city without any opposition.

NEWSPRINT SITUATION

The crisis in the news print situation has been reached in the judgment of the jury of seven men, who must now face trial on the charge of being the head and front of the price raising conspiracy that has crippled the newspaper owner in the United States and has driven hundreds of country publishers into bankruptcy and ruin.

Such a result has seemed inevitable for weeks. Despite the fact that there was on every side the strongest possible character pointing to a flagrant violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, despite the fact that newspaper publishers, instead of protesting for prosecution, remained quiet and pleaded simply and only for relief from the intolerable condition, nothing was done to afford any such relief.

After day after day, as the situation developed, moves were made that obviously were intended to play for time. There was a good deal of bucking and filling, indications were put out that prices "might" be lowered, that new conditions of affairs "possibly" might be brought about, but in the final analysis, nothing actual, was done, and the publishers stand today just where they were months ago—crippled by the throat.

WILSON APPROVES

SMITH PROPOSAL
If Matter is Not Within President's Jurisdiction, He Will Urge Resolution.

Washington, April 23.—President Wilson today gave his approval of the plan of Senator E. D. Smith of South Carolina to use the shipping facilities of the government to secure nitrates for the farmers at cost during the war with Germany.

The South Carolina senator had an extended interview with the president and called his attention to the fact that the resolution which he had introduced empowering the shipping board to use government vessels to bring nitrates from Latin-American countries was on the calendar and would be called up at any time. They agreed that a section of the urgent deficiency bill setting aside a hundred million dollars for the national defense and security of the nation, was the president ample authority to bring nitrates to this country without ministerial action, and the president named Senator Smith that every thing possible was being done to secure nitrates for the farmers at cost, and that should it be found that the president did not have this authority he would urge the passage of Senator Smith's resolution.

KEEPING WATCH ON GERMAN RESIDENTS
Three Thousand Are Under Close Surveillance of Department of Justice. Public Is Asked to Aid Secret Service.

Washington, April 20.—Approximately 3,000 German residents of the United States are under close surveillance of the department of justice officials, announced today because of their activities in behalf of the German government before America's entry into the war of their pro-German sympathies. The department's force of investigators is keeping so close a watch upon the small army of suspects that it would be impossible, it is authoritatively stated, to meet the demands of the increasing watch upon these individuals.

The department's bureau of investigation has been greatly charged. In addition to the 200,000 civilian employees on the government's pay roll in all departments, actively engaged in reporting information to the bureau, all sheriffs and their deputies throughout the country, Attorney General Gregory said tonight, are co-operating with the department.

Patriotic organizations and many other "genuis" societies also have formed their vigilance committees. To meet apparent confusion in the public mind as to which department of government is charged with the duty of enforcing the law, one proclamation relating to the enemy resident in the United States was issued at the department of justice, April 6, the enforcement of the terms of the proclamation.

Patriotic citizens desiring to place at the government's disposal information that they believe may aid in furthering out the activities of German agents should communicate with the department of justice.

NO SEPARATE PEACE SOUGHT FOR RUSSIA

Socialists of That County Make It Plain That They Expect to Continue Fight.

Petrograd (London), April 21.—The official news agency today gave out the following statement: "Replying to Congressman Meyer (London of New York) who asked a denial of the Russian Socialist-favored a separate peace." "As has been stated in a declaration of the council of workers and soldiers' delegates, entire Russian revolutionary democracy does not seek a separate peace without negotiations or without the consent of the people on the basis of the free development of nations and consideration of the interests of every country should be its aim, being about peace on the above basis."

RELIEF CRAFT SUNK

Two Sent Down While of Belgian Duty.

Amsterdam, April 21.—The relief ship Konings has been sunk by a mine or submarine. One member of the crew is missing, the remainder have been rescued.

The Konings was hit while in the scullied safe zone Friday night. The missing man was the second mate, a Norwegian. The others who were on board, 24 in number, of whom 19 are Americans, have been landed in Ymuiden.

The vessel was struck on the starboard side. Because of the lack of the cause of the explosion remained undetermined. The crew was rescued by trawlers.

MORE ENCOURAGING NEWS OF RUSSIAN GOVERNMENT

New Republic, State Department learns, is Thoroughly Determined to Press its Fight to Successful Conclusion. American Help Most Appreciated.

Washington, April 23.—More encouraging reports from Russia came today in a dispatch to the state department telling of the effect of President Wilson's war address and declaration that Russia under the new democratic provisional government, was no more likely to abandon the war without achieving her object, than is the United States.

Recalling that one of the impelling causes for the overthrow of the imperial regime was the belief that it was planning a separate peace, dispatch said the revolution "would expedite the defeat of Germany and the establishment of a general peace, and the establishment of a general peace, new government by the United States gave encouragement and help to the council of ministers and their supporters, the department was informed, while President Wilson's address, dress of congress made the Russian revolution in his mind, and having left lasting impression on the people. The address has been translated, and will be published with other of the president's utterances concerning American participation, is being given wide circulation.

No people, according to the report, so circumstanced ever have made greater sacrifices for freedom than the Russians, and they fully realize

Soloist With Creatore Band Coming Here

Miss Etta Harrington, Who Will Sing Here on Seventh Day of Our Chautauqua.

That a separate peace would jeopardize all they have gained. The American form of government has been taken as the model of the Russian people and the participating of the United States has infused a confident spirit and inspired them with a firm determination.

If Americans are interested at the intrigues and understand "machinations" of Germany in their country clares, the Russians, have fourfold cause for joy, resentment and pride, any sacrifice rather than conclude a separate peace.

SALE OF PERSONAL PROPERTY OF R. T. CLOUD, SR., DECEASED.

Notice is hereby given that on Saturday, April 23rd, 1917, at eleven o'clock A. M., at the late residence of R. T. Cloud, Sr., deceased near the Saluda Road, and near the corporate limits of the City of Chester, we will sell at public outcry, to the highest bidder all the personal property of the said R. T. Cloud, Sr., died intestate and possessed. The same consists of household and kitchen furniture, hogs, chickens, pork, 1 cow, 1 horse, 1 wagon, farming implements, and a few other articles of personal property as will appear from the inventory and appraisement of said estate. This sale is pursuant to an order of sale granted by the Judge of Probate for Chester County, S. C. Terms of sale CASH.

CHAUTAUQUA COMES SOON
Moving Pictures an Additional Night Attraction—Reserved Seats.
Mr. J. H. Glenn made the following statement this morning in regard to the approaching Chautauqua:

"There seems to be a slight misunderstanding as to the 'moving pictures' at the Chautauqua this year. Some patrons have the impression at the complete program each night is made up of nothing but moving pictures. This is a mistake. For instance, the night of the opening day by the Bohemian Orchestra, a lecture, 'The World and Tomorrow', by Dr. Harwin, then moving pictures. This means that there will be a concert of the same nature and duration as in previous years, a lecture of the same high standard and of the customary length of the Chautauqua speakers, and at the close there will be given as an additional attraction moving pictures for a short period, fifteen or twenty minutes. These pictures are of an educational nature and will be very interesting and instructive.

The cost of the season tickets remains the same, and the single admission charges are practically the same. So that by adding these moving pictures to the program the patrons of the Chautauqua are getting that much more for the money. The moving pictures, while an interesting part of the program each night, form only a small part of the entertainment, lecture or opera being the principal part of the program as in past years. The local committee will be glad for this to be explained, never there is any misunderstanding.

Reserved seats will be put on sale at the Chester Drug Store on Saturday morning, April 28th, nine o'clock. At the request of a number of patrons only five reserved seats will be sold to each person in the line. The price of reserved seats for the entire time will be fifty cents. The reserved seats will be roped off this year and also marked by a large sign, so that the reserved seats can be readily told from the unreserved. Even in the case of a good seat, and the advantage of having a reserved seat is to be sure of having your seat no matter what time the patrons come. A sufficient number of tickets will be supplied at all times to insure the seating of the audience without delay.

The lot will be scraped and rolled this year, so that it will be absolutely smooth. The loose rocks will be removed. A policeman will be requested to watch the cars while the patrons are inside of the tent."

With the Mother Goose Lady In Story Book Land

CONSISTENT of the universal appeal of operetta, the Redpath Chautauques aim to present this season a spectacular fantasy, a "Mother Goose Festival" in which local children will participate. Their old Mother Goose? The mythic magic world of childhood? The illumination tonic of maturity? The joy memory of age?

The days of preparation for the spectacle in each city instead of being lonesome are said to be for the little folks under the direction of the playground workers.

Designers have produced an adequate number of costumes which are at once correct, colorful and fanciful, and a unique setting has also been constructed.

"With the Mother Goose Lady in Story Book Land" is a rhythmic, fanciful narrative, introducing the child's favorite Mother Goose stories, characters and legends.

The time—childhood. The place—The Border of Dreamland.

The evening shades have fallen. The night has come. The children, snoring backward, pause but a moment to bid all "Good night!" As a symphony drops the silvery caraval "Sleep" vaults anchor, takes on its precious cargo and sails away to the "Land of Dreams."

Now comes the Queen of Night, with her troops of fairies frolicking, singing, and playing, until a myriad of Brownies and Kewpies finally succeed in opening the big Mother Goose book. Present! Out of its mystic leaves, emerges the quaint, pink haired dancer, followed by her scores of children, tripping rambly to the tuneful Mother Goose music.

In turn comes the hide to Bunbury crowd, the wonderful Blackbird Dick Jack and Jill, Little Bo Peep, Old King Cole, Little Boy Blue, Cinderella, Jack Horner, Miss Muffet, Tom the Piper's Son, with many others, and through every colorful scene the scolding, laughing, quaint but kindly old witch, tripping rambly to the tuneful Mother Goose music.

The spectacle is offered in the hope of centering community interest and encouraging and encouraging play of making vital to the children these imaginative but true and meritorious fictions and of diverting, for an hour at least, the minds of busy grownups from daily care to fanciful books of legend.

TEUTONS DASHED FOR LIFEBOATS

Their Behavior in Danger Quite Different from British.

London, April 22.—The story of the sinking of the hospital ship Lanfrance will rank with the undying histories of the Bismarck and Tyndarus, according to a British officer. The British soldiers stood at attention while the ship was slowly sinking beneath them. Their conduct was in marked contrast to that of the Prussian guards on board, who in a moment of danger, rushed for the lifeboats.

"The Lanfrance was attacked by a submarine about 5:30 o'clock Tuesday evening," said the officer. "The crash shook the liner violently. Within a few minutes the engines stopped and the vessel seemed to be sinking rapidly, but to our surprise she steadied herself and after a while remained motionless. We had aboard prisoners of the Prussian Guard and many British wounded, including some serious cases.

"The moment the orders struck the Prussians made a mad dash for the life boats. When they were ordered to await, their turn many showed a marked reluctance to leave their knees and imploring pity.

"The crew and staff went to their posts. The stretcher cases were lowered first to the boats. Meanwhile, in response to distress calls, many vessels came hurrying to our assistance. Even while wounded and helpless the Teutons lay unaided in their cots, the cowardly prisoners made another attempt and managed to crowd into a life boat, which, however, tipped over directly as it was lowered. Then they fought with each other to reach another boat containing some gravely wounded.

"I shall never forget the behavior of our own lads. They tried to stand at attention, crippled as they were, while the graver cases were being looked after. The crew and staff remained at their posts until the last man was taken off."

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR MAYOR.

At the request of my friends and supporters I hereby announce my candidacy for re-election as Mayor, subject to the rules and result of the approaching municipal election, to be held on the first day of May 1917. I appreciate the vote the people gave me two years ago and trust they will endorse the work of my administration by supporting me for a second term.

ATTEMPT TO ROB TILLMAN'S OFFICE

Effort Made to Secure Naval Secrets. Washington, April 19.—An effort apparently to secure secrets of the United States government bearing on the war situation, an attempt was made some time last night to break into the office of Senator Tillman, chairman of the senate committee on naval affairs. That the burglary was the work of a German spy, who learned the facts today. The spy escaped.

The heavy mahogany doors of the committee room here badly splintered and damaged. The marks of the jimmy used in prying the doors are plainly visible. So far as known the attempt to obtain naval secrets was unsuccessful. Nothing of value in a naval or military sense was obtained. The office was left in orderly condition.

NOTICE.

Pursuant to an order received from the Comptroller general, approved by the Governor of South Carolina, bearing date of April 16th and received this 19th day of April, based upon a petition filed by the Chester delegation for the revocation of the payment of road tax, I therefore notify you that under the authority of this order, the time for paying road tax in Chester County is extended until the 15th day of May, 1917.

S. E. WYLLIE,
County Treasurer
