Gertrude Lippincott Annual Music Festival Ends Today

To Dance Tuesday

Master Class Is Scheduled

Gertrude Lippincott, modern dance artist, will make a concert appearance in a program of dance selections to be presented at the College auditorium Tuesday night, April 19, at eight o'clock. This is being sponsored by the Modern Dance Club.

Monday afternoon at four o'clock Miss Lippincott will instruct a master class that is open to all Winthrop students who have some knowledge of modern dance. This is regardless of whether or not they are taking modern dance now. All girls are asked to wear leotards if possible. This class will be held in the gymnasium.

Included in the program Tuesday night will be the following numbers: "Derivade of the Serpents" which tells of an ancient legend that prophesied the birth of Derivade whose beauty will cause the ruin of men and cities; "The Devil Is Lonesome" a portrayal of an unhappy girl whose greatest fear is that of loneliness; and "Young Girl in a Garden," a study in the style of the Impressionist movement in painting and music.

Miss Lippincott is a solo performer, teacher, and group choreographer. She has combined concert and educational work in modern dance. During the year 1944-45, Miss Lippincott presented master lessons at such schools as the University of Ohio, Purdue, Cincinnati, Indiana, Mount Holyoke, and Ball State Teachers' college.

After receiving her master's degree in dance from New York University in 1943 she became head of dance at Mount Holyoke college from 1943 to 1946. During the fall of 1947, she was artist-in-residence at Hamline University in St. Paul, Minn., as a member of the fine arts department. Miss Lippincott was also founder and director of the Minneapolis modern dance center from 1937 to 1942.

Two of her other activities are that she is an editor of the Dance Observer and a contributing editor of Dance Magazine. Her latest article devoted to educational material appeared in the September, 1944, issue of the Journal of Health and Physical Education and was entitled "Choreographing for the Non-Professional Dance Group."

The price of admission to Tuesday night's program will be 25 and 75 cents.

Textiles Are On Display

A photographic display of the modern textile industry, some of its manufacturing processes and sheets showing textile workers at work, at home and at play will be on exhibit in Carnegie library this week and next week.

The exhibit of 88 enlarged photographs, mounted on screens, is by John Hugelmeier, New York photographer. The majority of the photographs were taken in the South and were a few of them in South Carolina.

The display has been shown at the recent annual convention of the National Cotton Council in Los Angeles and at the University of South Carolina. It has also been shown before a number of important trade bodies in the United States and is now being shown in art museums and universities.

The pictures tell something of the modern aspects of the textile industry which have been revolutionized by large scale modernization and research.

Bands Play At Three

With the baton twirling and marching band events at 3 o'clock this afternoon on the athletic field, the twenty-third annual high school music festival which began Wednesday at Winthrop comes to a close.

The festival is being attended by approximately 4,500 student musicians, with their directors and supervisors, representing more than 85 South Carolina junior and senior high schools. The contestants have participated in nearly 30 musical events, including piano, band, and choral activities. The various divisions have been judged and have received criticisms and ratings in accordance with the national association competition.

Judges for the events have been Dr. Edwin Hughes of New York city, piano; Dr. Harry Robert Wilson of Columbia university, choral; Prof. Mark H. Winkley of the University of Illinois, band; Clifford Sooms, Sallins Junior college, Louisa, Va., piano; and Earl Slocum of the University of North Carolina, piano.

Sessions beginning at 8:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. have been conducted throughout the festival.

Taking part in the baton twirling competition this afternoon are: Southland-Cayce, Welcome, Greer, Allendale, Hartsville, and Newberry high schools. The marching bands will include: Walterboro, Greer, Aiken county, Anderson, Florence, Belton, Inman, Rock Hill, Broadland-Cayce, and Newberry.

Also played were: "Cradle-Song" (Brahms-Grieg); "Cantata del Salvatore Ross" (Liszt); and "Concerto in E major" (Mozzkowski).

Dr. Walter Buchanan Roberts of the Winthrop music faculty played the orchestral parts on the second piano.

The actors are making an extensive tour of South Carolina and parts of North Carolina presenting intermittently "The Milky Way," "Macbeth," and "Twelfth Night."

She further explained, "It was the most confusing sensation I have ever experienced. Then on the front row we spied a little boy repeating each line. Not only did we have Macbeth's speech and echo, but also the boy's speech and echo."

The entire Winthrop audience was carried over from the tragedy into his comedy by a novel way of changing the scenery. In a true Shakespearean manner the clown of "Twelfth Night" came out on the stage, much to everyone's surprise, and in front of the whole audience began to move the prop around and nail up flowers completely oblivious to the laughter of the spectators.

The cast reported only one mishap on the tour so far. They had to enact most of "The Milky Way" by candlelight at Myrtle Beach after a storm put out the lights.

When asked the next stop, the one answer was "No bad until then."

Service Is Scheduled

Sponsored by the Winthrop Christian association, the special Easter sunrise service will be conducted Sunday morning at 8:30, announced Jean Campbell, president. Betty Ballenger, vice-president of WCA, is in charge of the program.

Speakers from local churches will take part in the service, and special music will be given by students from the Winthrop music department under the direction of Walter B. Roberts, head of the department.

Dr. J. Lem Stokes will deliver the invocation; The Rev. H. S. Petren, scripture; The Rev. Alfred Chambliss, prayer; Mr. W. P. Greer, Jr., main speaker; and Mr. G. D. Brown, benediction.

The presentation of the service is in cooperation with the Rock Hill Ministerial association.

What We Live By

The Johnsonian wants to denote a suggestion for accuracy, thoroughness, and fairness in covering the Winthrop college campus. You will do us a favor if you call our attention to any failure in measuring up to any of these fundamentals of good newspapering.

Casually

By MARTHA BRAY

Without looking at a calendar Winthrop is aware of another week hurrying by with a guest psychology lecturer, the observance of Pan American day by Spanish students, and the mass invasion of musicians claiming the busy day.

Dance News

The Modern Dance club will have as its guest Monday and Tuesday Miss Gertrude Lippincott, accomplished modern dancer. The student body will have an opportunity to see the artist perform at a program in the College auditorium Tuesday night.

Festival Bound

Barbara Lowe, freshman of High Point, N. C., as Miss Winthrop will depart Tuesday to take place in the numerous events of the Azalea Festival in Charleston. Barbara has our best wishes for a glorious time with all the other beauties who will be on hand for the colorful week.

Special Services

As the sun comes up around 6:30 Sunday morning Winthrop students and Rock Hillians will gather in the amphitheater for a special Easter sunrise service arranged by the Winthrop Christian association. Ministers of Rock Hill will be on hand and music students under the direction of Dr. Walter B. Roberts, host of the music department, will present Easter music.

This Week

From the President of the Student Government Association

Your next year's president and I have just completed a trip to Mary Washington college in Fredericksburg, Virginia, where we attended a conference of women's student governments from the South East. For several days we discussed problems commonly shared by each of us, and, of course, we benefited greatly from those discussions.

Can Winthrop Offer A Musical Comedy In Artial Series?

Books Of Tickets Suggested For Saturday Night Movies

Change Requested For Buying College Uniforms

"BROADWAY HIT" WOULD ADD MUCH TO ENTERTAINMENT PROGRAM OF WINTHROP

Dear Campus Town Hall, Three checks for the artist and lecture courses this year and also for the Shakespearean plays Saturday night.

The artist courses this year were wonderful as usual, but we would like to know the possibilities of having a musical comedy to Winthrop for the year of 1938-39.

We realize that such Broadway hits as "Oklahoma" and "Carousel" are accustomed to smaller theaters, but we feel that they could be presented in our auditorium without too much difficulty.

Few of us will be able to get to New York to see one of these productions and while Winthrop offers us much from the entertainment world, we are just questioning the possibility of bringing us here if it could be arranged while the shows were touring.

Hopefully, Nancy Chapman, Jill Shuler, Nancy Kendall

BOOK-TICKETS WOULD ELIMINATE CONFUSION AT SATURDAY NIGHT MOVIES

Dear Campus Town Hall,

In order to eliminate the confusion and congestion in the auditorium lobby at the Saturday night movies, I would like to suggest that books of tickets be sold in advance to students. Books containing five or ten tickets could perhaps be sold from the business office. Surely, during the nine months we spend at school, there is no girl who does not attend at least five movies. For dates, guests, and the infrequent "movie-goers," tickets could be sold in the box office under the present system.

I realize that it is too late to make such a change this year, but this suggestion could be considered for next year.

Sincerely, Ann Cole

WHY NOT LEAVE THE PURCHASE OF ANY OR NO COLLEGE UNIFORMS TO STUDENTS

Dear Campus Town Hall,

Winthrop students have voted in previous years to continue wearing uniforms, but how many of you have ever considered the practicality of wearing the uniform colors, navy and white, without being required to buy the actual uniform suits, dresses, etc.? Of course, students do not have to buy every uniform every year, but why not leave the buying of any at all up to the individual? Uniforms could be ordered according to the number of students who want them, and the ones who do not want them would not have to get any at all.

We feel sure that this idea could be worked out in a way that would be satisfactory to the students and school, without being economical for students to buy the uniforms and not wear them, and this seems to be true in many cases.

Sincerely, Martha Baker, Mattie Wallace

Reminder

Although the major officers for next year have already been elected our responsibility of choosing leaders is not over. Much of the success these girls have in office will depend on the minor officers who will be elected to help them.

special effort to attend. If we expect to take in club activities we should show an interest in the girls who lead them.

It's up to us to use our own initiative in these matters. We should not have to have someone else to prod us to do important things. A simple reminder should be enough.

The greatest part of our election responsibility will come in supporting the officers we elect. They can not do work that we expect of them if we forget about elections as soon as they are over - the election itself is only the beginning.

M.H.

A Welcomed Display

Visitors are always welcome on the Winthrop campus. We recall the recent meetings of the South Carolina college officials and the Junior Homemakers association convention as typical examples of this.

given guests a favorable impression and that our social etiquette has been above reproach.

A few kind words, a friendly smile, or a wave of the hand will mean much to those who are here for the first time. It doesn't take a surplus of energy to hold the door open a second longer rather than hit someone in the face.

Not only to create a favorable impression with visitors, but also to do our duty toward our friends should we be outward of our social standards. Let's keep them as high as possible.

S.H.

Grass Project

Upon returning to school after our recent week's abandonment, many of us were struck by the beautiful transformation of our Campus.

the trodden short cuts made by students who have disregarded the cement walks. We should be aware of trying to keep every spot of grass in good condition. At a neighboring men's college freshmen are not permitted to walk on the grass at all. It would be ideal if each of us would voluntarily follow this practice where walks are provided.

This is the time of year when cities are busy conducting garden tours. Winthrop's Campus is a garden, but we have no formal tour project. We should however, be proud of our surrounding beauty and strive to preserve it.

Squeaks From Eakes - - - By Frances Eakes

Signs of spring fever have already invaded the Campus. Just yesterday, Patsy Canapp dragged into her room, flopped onto the bed, and announced that she was too tired to kill the afternoon.

Betty Clark: "I think my voice is unique. Have you ever heard anything like it?" Dr. Roberts: "Not since I had the brakes on my car released."

According to a sign on one of the new screen doors in North, they were put there to keep flies and dates inside - Miss Jones is always looking out for her girls!

Statistics say college students give their parents enough gray hairs every six months to stuff 800,000 mattresses.

Our Spring holidays are over but not forgotten while some of the other colleges are just now getting out which reminds me of... VACATION POST CARD

A pinhead is seldom able to see the point.

Miss Rhain explains that women could never get to be President of the United States - they never get to be over 35.

Of course, it may be that they stand for kisses on the other hand. They somehow seem to hit his Double-crossed man!

AMERICANISM: Spending millions of dollars to make spectacular movies; sticking through them to see Mickey Mouse.

Happy blue is the best spring color, so we'll all shine on Easter Sunday.

While Winthrop girls were leaving the Campus for Spring holidays, another newsworthy event was happening in another part of the State. In Camden the nineteenth annual running of the Carolina Cup race was being held. One of the greatest sleight-of-foot events in the country, the Carolina Cup has come to be considered one of the classic sporting events in South Carolina. In many sports it is considered to be in the Spring what the Clemson-Carolina game is in the Fall - both being colorful occasions of state-wide prominence.

STATE MOM

This year, the distinction of being South Carolina Mother of the Year went to Mrs. Blanche Mobley Crech of Spartanburg. The mother of seven children, Mrs. Crech was selected recently by members of the State Mother committee at their convention in Columbia. At exercises on Mother's Day, Sunday, May 8, Mrs. Crech will be appropriately honored as State Mother of 1939. On being chosen State Mother she will automatically be the South Carolina nominee for the American Mother of the Year in 1950.

AWARD WINNERS

England came in for its share of recognition in the presentation of the Oscar by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences. The best picture of the year, "Hamlet," was produced in England, and the performance of Laurence Olivier in the Shakespearean drama was judged to be the best by an actor in 1948. Jane Wyman's performance in "Johnny Belinda" won her an Oscar for the best performance by a woman actress in that year.

HIS FINEST HOUR

If the people of the United States failed to realize the seriousness of England's situation when Germany had almost overrun the continent, Winston Churchill's recently published memoirs of those years should leave no doubt as to the desperation of that plight. And in "Their Finest Hour" Churchill, says Drew Middleton, the New York Times wartime foreign correspondent with the British forces, demonstrated very definitely that he was the man needed for that hour. He was an inspiration as well as a capable leader in the struggle. In what Churchill calls their "hardest hour," the people of England were literally trying to ward off invasion. Although Churchill as a conservative is no longer prime minister, it seems as if he will never be forgotten as the wartime leader.

RESULTS

After almost a year of Marshall Plan aid in Europe, the administrator of the aid, Paul Hoffman, has reported that "Communism in Western Europe has been stopped wherever it has collided with the Marshall plan." Mr. Hoffman who had the task of devising the day-by-day applications of the money appropriated by Congress, gave more specific results of the year's trial when Congressmen were debating over future aid to Europe. The economic aid, Hoffman said, has increased total output of factories and mines in ERP countries; electric power production is 85 per cent year-over-rewards; and food crops have relieved the acute food situation.

STATISTICS FROM THE MALE VIEWPOINT

According to statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, women now outnumber men in the United States for the first time in history. So there you are, males - women not only outstep, outpunch and outpace men, but they even outnumber them.

Abstract Design Posters Cause General Confusion

By Anne Marshall

The posters used in advertising Junior Fettes, the Modern Dance Festival and the Midwinter formal, created so much comment on the campus that one "TJ" reporter set out to see exactly where they were coming from and who was the cause of it all.

Quality Party
A little snooping around revealed that Mr. Kenneth Beitell's students in Layout Design were the proud producers of this modern advertising.

The class of four is run on an experimental basis in which the student is given a problem to solve. In a case of making a poster, the work is assigned but the outcome is the product of the individual's imagination.

Unusual Textures
One reason why the recent posters have had such a "eye-catching" ability is due to the use of textures. Such things as chicken wire, sheet metal, burlap, and steel wool can really make a person stop and stare.

Another unusual quality designed to attract attention is the three dimensional design. In drawings of this kind, the depth as well as surface is shown.

Commercial Advertising
The class has also been doing work in commercial advertising. To get actual experience, the girls have been re-designing advertisements in national publications and comparing them with the original. To test the value of their experiments, the re-designed ads were inserted in a magazine and given to an unknowing guinea pig. The results were exactly as desired. The reader immediately stopped to examine it.
A very interesting study recently conducted by Mr. Beitell was the process of photomontage. This word when cut down to a bare and literal translation means cutting and re-combing pictures in different ways.

Beitell Uses Psychology

This Social Whirl

By MARTHA SARRATT, Society Editor
BETTY BAKER, Assistant Society Editor

Spring holidays were filled with every possible activity. Dances, the beach, home, and "hot" took care of every precious moment. The universal comment about holidays in general, and spring ones in particular is, "too short." Even if they were short, they were busy. . . . There were pins, rings, and weddings galore.

Martha Ann Thurington, Nella Richardson, and Pat Herrick were married April 2. . . . Ray Pitts received a pin from Robert Grube. One more "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" is Lillian Adams who received her pin from Gene Spears of Union. Gene is now a student at the Baptist Seminary in Louisville, Ky.

Many new diamonds are lighting up the campus these holidays. Lilly Brown now wears Jerry Smith's ring. Margie Baker also sports a sparkle from Preston Ekanas. Margaret Ann Vaughan is another engaged gal. . . . Fred Triplett is the man.

Pat-A-Cake--Pat-A-Cake

The Winthrop Kitchen Holds An Interesting Story

By Betty Baker

Cakes, pies, rolls, muffins — the delight of every Winthrop girl at meal time! I wonder how many students on Campus know that these "goodies" are baked in our kitchen. Seeking information on the subject of food, I approached Colonel Mayfield, the head baker. After talking to him for a while, I was amazed to discover that he has been here, working in the bakery section of the kitchen, since 1912. When he first came to Winthrop, he was assigned to the position of helper to the head baker. After working at this post for a few years, he shifted to the post of meat cutter, where he stayed for two years. But after that time, he went back to baking and soon became head baker.

More Than 1000 Have you ever tried to guess how many rolls are baked by Mayfield in one day? Save your time and prepare for a shock — 1500 rolls are the daily quota and when they bake pies they make 150. Mayfield said that last year the number needed for one meal was 250 pies.

Another interesting item that he told me concerned the ovens. When Mayfield came to Winthrop in 1912, they were using the old Dutch ovens with an open fire. The system was changed to the modern one. Revolving ovens which Mayfield said did not prove satisfactory. Today, the kitchen is equipped with 6 Peteron ovens. Mayfield stated, "That's a good

Workers Are Faithful After talking to Mayfield, I discovered that the head cook, Sam Bailey, has been on the kitchen staff since 1917, and that John Thompson, store room staff, has been at Winthrop since 1914.

So Early Few of us realize how early things begin to "buzz" on the Campus in the mornings. Miss Zula Threlkeld, dietitian, who has been at Winthrop for four years, stated that the bread cook, Sam Bailey, comes to work every morning between 4:30 and 5 o'clock to get the ovens hot for breakfast. Those making the biscuits come between 8:30 and 9 o'clock in the morning, while the remainder of the staff arrive by 9:30. Miss Threlkeld has 30 members on her staff including the cooks and dishwashers.

One of the most amazing statements by Miss Threlkeld was the fact that Sam Bailey, head cook and Colonel Mayfield, head baker, have not missed a single day during the time that she has been here.

Miss Proctor Feted Miss Hilda Proctor, secretary of the music department, was recently entertained at a bridge party given in her honor by Mrs. Barron Nichols at her home on Eden Terrace.

Hilda, whose marriage to William Bullard will take place May 14, was editor of The Johnsorian last year.

"River Lady" Is Saturday Movie

"River Lady" starring Yvonne De Carlo, Don Duray, Rod Cameron, and Helenia Carter will be shown at the College auditorium Saturday night at 7:30. The technicolor melodrama is presented by Universal-International.

The colorful plot, based on the widely read novel by Souston Branch and Frank Waters, unveils the machination of an insidious gang which sets out to grab all the lumber interests along the big river. Duray plays the hard, ruthless front man for the crooks and Cameron is seen as the rugged lumberjack whose love for and subsequent yearning for revenge against Miss DeCarlo brings destruction to the conspirator.

George Sherman directed for Producer Leonard Goldstein and the photography was supervised by Irving Glassberg. "River Lady" was accredited by D. D. Beauchamp and William Bowers.

Westminster Fellowship Settlement Banquet

Reveling around the theme "Through the Looking Glass" the Sprink banquet of the Westminster Fellowship is to be given in the Oakland avenue Presbyterian church recreation room, April 21, from 5:30 to 7:15 p.m.

Following the tradition established last year, the seniors will be honor guests.

As is customary at Westminster Fellowship banquets, the program is not announced until the night of the banquet, but it has been revealed that the entertainment will include several sketches by Kent Wyrso. The quartet from Davidson will also be program guests.

By popular request, Mr. Kenneth Pflter, pastor of Oakland church, will serve as master of ceremonies. His after-dinner speech will feature "See Yourself As Others See You."

This is the first party to be given in the recreation room since the complete remodeling of the church basement. Small tables will be set up and the decorations will carry out the theme with flowers and mirrors.

Assisted by members of the Women's auxiliary of Oakland church, the food committee will serve the following menu: tomato juice cocktail, chicken a la king, lima beans, potato puffs with cheese, baked salad, hot rolls, strawberry ice cream, angel food cake, and iced tea.

Committee chairmen are: Ann Lewis and Libbie Siepp, planning; Nancy Neely and Barbara Anderson, food; Gloria Powell and Lorraine Williamson, decorations; Myrtle Dubose, invitations; Jane Rogers and Anne Bailey, place cards; Patie Colvert, programs; Kitty Lewis and Frances Lindler, entertainment; and Polly Mellette, costmistress.
