Guide Overview

Welcome!

In this guide, you will learn about a standard evaluation criteria that will help you quickly and accurately evaluate information.

After completing this guide, you will have practiced using a standard evaluative criteria commonly employed by academic researchers.

What you will learn

After completing this guide, you will be able to:

- quickly analyze and critically evaluate information
- identify specific areas to pay close attention to when analyzing a resource
- build confidence in your ability to successfully evaluate your own research results

DATA NEVER SLEEPS

How Much Data is Generated Every Minute?

Big data is not just some abstract concept used to inspire and mystify the IT crowd; it is the result of an avalanche of digital activity pouring through billions and armies across the world. This data is being created every minute of the day through the most innocuous of online activity that many of us barely even notice, but with every vehicle tracked, status shared, or photo uploaded, we leave digital trails that continually grow the bulking mass of big data. Below, we explore how much data is generated in one minute on the Internet.

Platform/Activity	Amount Generated Every Minute
YouTube Users Upload	48 HOURS OF NEW VIDEO
Email Users Send	204,166,667 MESSAGES
Google Receives	2,000,000 SEARCH QUERIES
Facebook Users Share	684,478 PIECES OF CONTENT
Web Pages Received	217 NEW USERS
Web Pages Received	217 NEW BLOG POSTS

Why we use GOTS

Building Capacity

Provide opportunity to enrich student experience either before class or as reinforcement.

Interactivity

Exploration as a means of learning is reinforced through formative and summative quizzes.

Flexibility

Guides can easily be edited to reflect changes in emphasis or context.

How we Use GOTS

Pre-assignments for Working with Librarians

- Students are not encountering content for first time in class.
- Enable us to spend more class time on difficult concepts
