

Welcome to the Survey!

Thank you for participating in a survey designed to provide insight on current practices for social media management for academic libraries. This research will help develop best practices and will inform libraries how to best leverage social media platforms for strategic advancement of their institutions and missions. The results of this survey will be published in Scholars Compass, VCU's institutional repository, and may be used in future publications or presentations.

You have been invited to participate in this study because you subscribe to a library email discussion list comprised of librarians or other faculty or professionals who are involved in public relations, communications, management, collections, technology, outreach or other work involving social media at an academic institution. We hope you will share your knowledge and ideas. We also invite you to forward the link to others at your library who have roles involving content creation or social media management.

The results of this survey will remain anonymous. There are no risks associated with this survey, and it does not require any identifying data. Participation is completely voluntary. Clicking on the next button below to begin the survey indicates that you have voluntarily agreed to participate. You may contact us if you have any questions about the survey.

This study has been reviewed by the Virginia Commonwealth University Review Board (IRB# H20004723). If you have questions pertaining to your rights as a research subject, please contact the Office of Research at Virginia Commonwealth University, Richmond, VA, (804) 828-0868.

We anticipate that it will take no more than 10-20 minutes of your time, and the survey will remain open until 07/1/2016.

Thank you for your participation.
