DURHAM, N.H. -- The University of New Hampshire's Advising and Career Center, (UACC) is seeking employers to participate in a career fair scheduled for Thursday, February 3, 2005 for students in business, liberal arts and health sciences programs.

The career fair offers employers an opportunity to meet and interview sophomore, junior and senior students interested in advancing their careers through post-graduation employment, leadership programs and internships. More than 400 students are expected to attend. Employers will also have the opportunity to meet with faculty who attend the event to meet employers and learn more about staffing needs.

“Many seniors preparing to graduate in 2005 attend the fairs,” notes Bethany Cooper, manager of employer relations and recruiting at UACC. “Students are also interested in seeking summer internships and networking with potential future employers.”

Students attend career seminars sponsored by UACC during the semester to develop resumes and interviewing skills.

Employers interested in recruiting UNH students at this fair and future events are invited to register on-line at: <http://www.unh.edu/career-services/fairs.html> or contact Cooper at 862-2029 or Bethany.Cooper@unh.edu for more information.
