Re: GEBAUER, WERNER

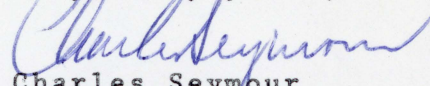

Dear Sir:

We have searched our files again in the light of the information supplied on our form which you recently returned, but we are still unable to locate a record for the captioned individual. If enrollment at Columbia University is definitely claimed, may we suggest that the student assist us in our search for a record. Will you, therefore, forward the enclosed information form to the student to be completed.

It is our experience that, after searching twice, only the student can provide the detailed information necessary to locate a record (if one does indeed exist).

Upon receipt of the completed form, we will again undertake to search our records.

Very truly yours,

Charles Seymour

Dear Sir:

Re: GEBAUER, WERNER

We are having difficulty locating a record under the above name. With more than a million records on file at Columbia, it is sometimes difficult for us to find one without more explicit information. It will facilitate our search if you supply this information by answering the following questions. If the space provided is insufficient, please use the reverse side of this letter.

Is the spelling of name as it appears above correct? Yes _____ No _____

If not, give correct spelling:

First and/or middle name should be given in full:

In case of a married woman give maiden name:

Has any change been made in the spelling or arrangement of name since last enrollment? Yes _____ No _____ If so, give name by which person was then known:

Date of birth: _____ Place of birth _____

Address while a student:

Parent's name:

Dates of enrollment claimed:

In what school or division of the University:

Subject of specialization:

Description of courses:

Names of Instructors:

Is graduation claimed? Yes _____ No _____

What degree: _____ Date of diploma _____

If this attendance was in any of Columbia's short-term, non-credit lecture series, please check here and then describe this program on the reverse side of this form. _____

A self-addressed envelope is enclosed for your convenience in returning this form. Upon receipt of the above information we shall make a further search of our records and shall do our utmost to expedite this matter.
