Lettermen End Gridiron Season At Varsity Ball

Nordlund, McCoy Win Prize Dance; Large Crowd in Attendance

The first Varsity ball, sponsored by the Lettermen's club, Saturday evening at the Scottish Rite cathedral, was pronounced a success by the crowd of College students and alumni in attendance.

The Lettermen hope that the dance, a non-money-making function, can be made an annual affair to officially close the football season.

Prizes Awarded

The official football was awarded by the Washington Hardware company and autographed by Coach Roy Sandberg and the members of the varsity team. Winners of the prize dance, Judith Nordlund and Eddie McCoy were presented with a three-and-one-half pound box of candy donated by Brown and Haley Candy company.

Maroon and white footballs and other appropriate appointments predominated in the decorations.

Students Choose Pieces

The Rhythm Kings provided music for the affair, playing selections which had been voted most popular by the student body. This is the first time that students have had the opportunity of choosing the pieces to be played at an all-College dance.

Numbers played, in order of their votes, were: The Object of My Affections, Stars Fell on Alabama, Stay as Sweet as You Are, June in January, Sophisticated Lady, Sweetie Pie, Pop Goes Your Heart, P. S. I Love You, Lost in a Fog, Take a Number From One to Ten, Wild Honey, Continental, Be Still My Heart, An Earful of Music, Your a Builder-Upper, and Winter Wonderland.

The following old favorites, such as: St. Louis Blues, Dinah, Chinatown and Stardust were also included.

Demonstrations Claim Attention of Debaters

Extempore speeches and demonstration debates are the chief consideration of the debate teams at this particular part of the season, according to Jack Leik, debate manager.

Women's teams will give a demonstration debate before the Kiwanis club at Puyallup, January 17, while a men's team will give a debate before the presidents of various women's clubs at a meeting on the same day.

"The Use of Leisure Time" is the subject of speeches in the extempore which are being held at every regular debate meeting.

Prof. Williston Aids in State-Wide Poll on League of Nations Sentiment

Working together in a state-wide campaign, to discover sentiment of the people on the United States joining the League of Nations, Prof. Frank G. Williston is cooperating with Mrs. Overton G. Ellis, prominent international authority, in a project that they expect to finish by the end of January.

Organizations sponsoring the canvass are the National Education association, Parent-Teachers associations, the Federal Council of Churches and various Granges in the United States. They are reaching

Mrs. Cochran Passes After Long Sickness

College of Puget Sound faculty members and students mourn the death Wednesday, December 12, of Mrs. Ida N. Cochran, for many years head of the Art department of the College.

Mrs. Ida N. Cochran, a member of the faculty, was head of her department since 1921, and taught here previously in 1913 and 1914.

Surviving her are her husband, Herbert Cochran, Tacoma attorney, and four sons, John D., former student here, William A., freshman, Herbert N. and Robert Bruce all of Tacoma. Five sisters and two brothers are also left.

The late Mrs. Ida N. Cochran was well-known in educational and artistic circles and was a member of the Women's Faculty club of CPS, the Tuesday Study club, the North End Shakespeare club, Book club and the New York club.

She attended the John Herron Art institute in 1907, and studied under Miss Myrtle Taylor of Butler university and Edward Forkner of Chicago. She studied at the Teachers' college at Columbia and at the University of Washington, later taking two summer courses at the Carnegie Art center at the University of Oregon. For two years Mrs. Cochran taught at Whitworth college when it was located in Tacoma.

Until two years ago she was an adviser of Delta Alpha Gamma sorority.

Relief Administrator Speaks to Sociologists

Speaking Thursday to social workers and sociology majors of CPS of Dr. Marvin R. Schafer's classes, Arthur B. Comfort, emergency relief administrator of the third district of five counties of the state of Washington, told of "What is Ahead in the Field of Government Relief for Social Workers," especially emphasizing the future of the college trained social worker.

In regard to the future social worker, Mr. Comfort stated that the work divided itself into two distinct fields, namely, relief given to such as the unemployed and social problems such as disorganization of the family.

In this latter field the college trained worker is demanded. Mr. Comfort pointed out the difficulty in coordinating the relief activities of county, state and federal relief administrations.

citizens through schools, clubs and churches.

As a last step, a house to house canvass through the city of Tacoma will be made during the last months of the campaign. Any students of CPS interested in this forwarding of the League of Nations problem will receive instructions from Prof. Williston.

Numerous polls in colleges and universities have been taken during this past year showing a decided opinion in favor of the United States joining the League.

Student Body Casts Votes on Today's Religion

Polls Reveal Figures on Church as Leading Institution

Revealing a division of opinion on whether or not the depression could be ended by religion, whether religion was necessary in these times, and whether the church was one of the leading institutions of the present day, 200 ballots were cast in the Epworth Herald poll Friday by CPS students and faculty.

Although many of the ballots did not give reasons for the opinion, 96 thought that the depression could not be relieved by religion. Thirty-six of the 200 believed that religious faith was not necessary and 45 indicated that they did not think that the church was one of the leading institutions of the present day.

Some of the voters thought that the depression was economic and thus could not be overcome by religion. Some indicated that a lack of belief in a Supreme Being was the reason for their negative votes.

Others wrote that religious faith is not necessary in these times, but always. This question received the heaviest affirmative vote. Some of the voters, undecided as to what religious faith meant, inserted the word "Christian" before voting "yes." No distinction in religious denomination was made in the ballot.

Writers' Club Frames Constitution Tonight

To draft the formal constitution of the Writers' club, members of the constitution committee will meet at 7 o'clock tonight in room 209 in Jones Hall.

During the last meeting, December 10, two stories by Wilhelm Bakke, president, "Time Tells," an autobiographical sketch, "Powder and Caps," and a sequel to "Davie's Devil" called "Get That Rat" by Grace Trompen were read. Different characteristics of the author's writings were selected and discussed. Markets for "Powder and Caps" were suggested to the author.

Academy of Science Holds Annual Banquet

Speaking on "American Indians," Rodger Ernesti of the University of Washington will lecture at the annual banquet of the Puget Sound Academy of Science to be held January 17 at 6:30 p. m. in Weyerhaeuser hall of YWCA.

Mr. Ernesti will illustrate his speech with Indian dances, slides and some of the famous Curtiss Indian prints. An informal discussion will be held after the lecture during which members will question Ernesti on further points of interest.

Adelphians Present Handel's 'Messiah'

The Adelphian Choral society will give its fifth presentation of Handel's "Messiah," January 6 at the First Methodist church of Bremer-ton for the initial out-of-town program of this school year.

The choral society gave the "Messiah" twice yesterday at Jones hall 4 p. m. and at St. Mark's church at 7 in the evening. Both presentations were received with much enthusiasm.

During chapel period tomorrow, a group of Christmas carols will be sung to the College.

Announce Library Hours For Christmas Vacation

The first week of Christmas vacation, from Dec. 19 through Dec. 23, the CPS library will be open during its regular hours, namely, from Wednesday through Friday, 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., and Saturday from 8 to 12 a. m. It will then be closed until Wednesday, January 2.

Skit Advertises Lettermen's Ball

McNeil Island Educator Tells Of Crime, Criminals

Skillfully portraying Cinderella, Coke McConnell had the lead in the skit put on Friday by the Lettermen's club. Guy Bowers was Santa Claus and Melvin Miller was Prince Charming. Maurice Webster read the dialogue. Prof. Roland Truitt on the trumpet played "Concert Waltz" by Smith, "Gypsy Love Song" by Victor Herbert and "Jupiter Polka" by Soldman. Prof. Leonard G. Jacobsen, accompanied him on the piano.

"Crime and the Criminal" was discussed by J. Herbert Goeghegan chapel period Monday. Mr. Goeghegan, who is director of education at the Federal penitentiary at McNeil island, stressed the fact that it is maladjustment that produces the criminal.

During Thursday's assembly Leroy Sander's orchestra played and Miss Alyce Wilson sang a group of songs. A poll of popular song favorites to be played at the Varsity ball was taken.

Gonzaga Grid Clash Slated For Spokane

Although the CPS 1935 football schedule is not complete, a number of games have been definitely arranged. According to Coach Roy Sandberg, the Loggers will meet Gonzaga university of Spokane at Spokane October 19. The Lumberjacks are also slated to meet the Washington State team September 28 at Pullman, but as yet no arrangements have been made to play the University of Washington eleven.

Two home games which are definitely on the Logger's schedule are Whitman and Willamette but the dates for these two conference clashes have not been set as yet.

Dr. Todd, Church Senate Delegate, Leaves on Tour of Eastern Cities

To Dr. Edward H. Todd, this year's holiday period will be one of great activity, for he leaves Tacoma Christmas night on a 6,000 mile journey to Chicago, New York, Washington and Atlanta, Georgia.

Dr. Todd's first stop-over will be made at Chicago where he will attend a conference of the American Library association. While in the vicinity he will also visit the college of ministerial training at Evanston, Illinois on January 4, where he will speak on the CPS graduate summer school

Mrs. Hallen Teaches Dean Drushel's Classes

During the past week's absence of Dean Lyle Ford Drushel, dean of women, Junia Todd Hallen, former CPS teacher and daughter of Dr. Edward H. Todd, has been taking her place in the English department.

Mrs. Hallen graduated from CPS in 1917, and taught English and history here from 1926 to 1932.

'Why the Chimes Rang' To Herald Yuletide Season

Entire Dramatics Department Endeavors To Make Play Success

Heralding the Christmas season, Campus Playcrafters will present "Why the Chimes Rang" tomorrow morning in the last chapel service of the year. The Adelphian Choral society will sing Christmas carols at the chapel doors.

The entire Dramatic arts department is working to make this year's Christmas play full of striking and impressive with Christmas spirit.

Flynn Has Lead

The cast is composed chiefly of seasoned dramatists, headed by Creighton Flynn in the role of Holger. Flynn played the same part two years ago and is also remembered for his performances in "Journey's End" and "Children of the Moon."

Gladys Harding takes the part of an old woman; Kenneth Powers, dramatic manager, portrays Bertel, the uncle; and Marjorie Dews Smith plays the part of an angel. All are experienced collegiate actors and held prominent parts in previous productions.

Byrd Only Freshman

Robert Byrd, has the part of Steen, the peasant boy whose gift pleases the Christ Child more than rich men's treasures. Byrd is the only freshman in the play.

Non-speaking parts in a vision Steen has, will be Robert Eccles as the chaplain; Harwood Bannister, a rich young man; Robert Brandt, a courtier; Margaret Tilley, a proud lady; Jack Green, a scholar; Eunice Allen, a young girl; and Art Linn, king of the land.

Audience Will Not Applaud

As is traditional, the audience will not applaud at the close of "Why the Chimes Rang."

Miss Martha Pearl Jones, director, has on her staff Helen Howe, assistant to the director; Delmore Martin, scenery and program designer; Harold Pumphrey, stage manager; Jo Ann Grant, Ina Mae Lee and Lois Twaddle, property committee; Annie Laurie, costumes. Spurs will usher.

of ministerial training. This summer school is a new trend in ministerial work and much interest is being shown in its development.

Dr. Todd will then go east to New York where he will confer with officials of the Carnegie corporation and the Board of General Education of the Rockefeller foundation.

In Atlanta on January 14, Dr. Todd will attend a meeting of the Senate of Methodist Episcopal church to which he was appointed recently. He will also attend meetings of the CPS alumni associations in Chicago, New York and Washington.

Dr. Todd will return late in January.

CONFIDENCE

Results on the poll on religion taken in last Friday's chapel and sponsored by the Epworth Herald must certainly prove a mild shock to church leaders, since the balloting, although incomplete, may be taken as a barometer of the feelings of the students and faculty of this, a Methodist institution.

In answering the first question: "Can religion lead the way out of the depression?" the count was negative in proportions of over three to two. However, religion would lead us out of the depression if it could. If a strong majority of the people of the United States firmly believed in religion, religion would produce that psychological effect of confidence, which, we are told would break the back of the depression in short order.

If religion were to "lead the way out of the depression" the second and third questions: "Is a religious faith necessary in these times?" and "Is the church one of the leading institutions in the present day?" would need be answered affirmatively.

The greatest surprise in the voting came when the tallies gave an affirmative margin of four to one and three to one on the second and third questions. If the church is felt to be one of the leading institutions of today and if a religious faith is necessary in these times, why should the church not have the power to lead us out of the depression?

It is doubtful that the church is one of the leading institutions of the present day.

If it is, then it has certainly wandered from the Church that Jesus founded. If the church of today had grown from the church of nearly twenty centuries ago as Jesus intended it should, it would be easily the most influential institution of any area—there would be no depressions—there would be no wars—there would be Utopia.

People outside the church may blame churchmen for the inadequacy of the church. Churchmen may blame outside opposition. Yet neither would be entirely right nor entirely wrong—both would have well-grounded reasons for their feelings.

Outsiders would do well to consider the merits of the church as the church was meant to be and as some churchmen are trying to make it. Outsiders, and internal agitators as well, would do well to get behind the church of today and aid to the utmost its worthy attempts to remedy the depression.

And the same for anything.

No organization, no institution, can hope to accomplish any of its objectives without sufficient support. Our national leaders have pointed that out enough—the NRA—the New Deal—all must have real support.

Real support will produce confidence, and confidence alone will prove to be the vital part of any undertaking, including the ending of the depression.

SOOT

BATHTUB

We wanted to produce a super play production for this week but misfortune overtakes us at every turn. We had our star players lined up and everything in readiness to start work but it seems that we must have passed up a regiment of black cats.

First of all, Janet Cooks a dinner for the cast and Jack Burns his face drinking the coffee. We all Arthur to Comfort him but Dixie Tuck away the soothing salve so there is nothing left to do but have Carl Kuhl him off. We put Ted's Swans in Al's Winterhouse and Bob's Lyons in Ted's Kitchen but they ran away. Luckily, Catherine Strong-arms them into submission. So for safety first purposes, we cage them with Mildred's Brown cats in the little chapel off Times Square which is too bad for the animals. Then we get a bright idea that we would like to co-star Bill Adam and Eve Swanson, but Helen says, "Howe could anyone think of such a thing!" This reminds us that there are people that can act with all their Hardyn Soule but Joe simply Kent do it!

So we decide not to have a super play production . . . only selected short subjects of informational nature . . .

NEWS REEL

The latest psychological report has it that only one per cent of all blondes are dizzy . . . All I meet is that one per cent . . . It seems that Mary Lilleberg is the reason for Larry Hjorten's sudden interest for Day island . . . Next Friday night at the DeMolay dance, Ann Strobel will inaugurate a new series of dancing streaks with whom? . . . Coke McConnell is grooming his voice again in preparation for his public debut due soon in student chapel.

Overheard at the Varsity ball . . . "You know, Mildred, I don't think that I'm such a very good dancer but what's my opinion against thousands of others!"

There's a mystery afoot in this school. For over a month, a Mr. "X" has been mailing Margaret Boen, the CPS mystery, paper butterflies and bee-oofiful flowers. Evidently an ardent admirer who has never learned that he should never NEVER play with fire . . . Our tune detective, from latest reports, has a sweet hunch that Clark Gable may be the big butter-fly and egg man from the California Florists . . . The Lambdas and the Mu Chis are planning a Christmas party . . . Santa Claus is certainly going to be a busy man this year.

EDUCATIONAL RESEARCH

Life of a joke . . .

Birth—A freshman thinks it up in class and chuckles with glee, waking up 2 fraternity men in the back row.

Age 5 minutes—Freshman tells it to senior, who answers, "Yeah, it's funny, but I've heard it before."

Age 1 day—Senior turns it in to the "Soot from the Bathtub" column as his own.

Age 2 days—Magrini thinks it's terrible.

Age 10 days—Magrini has to fill column, prints joke.

Age 1 month—13 college papers reprint joke.

Age 10 years—76 radio comedians discover joke simultaneously, tell it, accompanied by howls of mirth from the boys in the orchestra ($5 a howl).

Age 20 years—Joke is printed in Literary Digest's "Spice of Life."

Age 100 years—Professors start telling joke in class.

Speaking of jokes, we nominate for the Hall of Silence . . . any "smarty aleck" who tries to tell a "little Aubrey" joke.

TRAILER

This column wishes to take this opportunity to wish a Merry, Merry Christmas and the very happiest of New Years to every one of it's readers . . . to every member of the faculty and every student of the College of Puget Sound . . . friend or enemy. May Santa Claus be an obliging visitor this year and may you come back to college after the New Year in the happiest of spirits and with a long list of resolutions to break.

Going Places and Doing Things

KATHERINE MUNROE doling out cookies to starving LAMBDA before their mothers could get a nibble—BOB WILSON burring the hat rack under his chapel seat, best substitute for machine gun sound effects on a Crime talk—TED JENSEN and KENNETH OHISER shadowing each other around the halls in sandwich boards and football regalia—DOLORES THEDA knitting—along with the other umpty-seven devotees of the clicking needles—FOSTER ALLEN at the Commons till, demonstrating how one loads—and empties—a tray—OTLAHS trying to keep tea hot on the long trek from Howarth to Jones—MARY FAY FULTON inveigling her boy friend into chopping down Christmas greenery to deck the halls—JANET JENNINGS and LELA SARGENT posting notes all over school in a frantic attempt to get together—OMICRONS winning their first game of the season, with wild whoops and hollas—JEAN McDONALD cutting up—no, cutting out imitation footballs for the big ball.

Miss Stevens Rests Following Operation

After a minor operation last week, Miss Blanche Stevens, head of the Home Economics department, is recovering in the Tacoma General hospital. During her absence, which will extend until after the Christmas holidays, cooking laboratories are being conducted by Ruth McGovern. Miss Leonard has charge of the recitation classes.

Webster Made 'Contact Man'

To Obtain Chapel Speakers Through City Groups

In the effort to establish better contacts with downtown organizations for the purpose of obtaining chapel speakers, Art Linn, ASCPS president, appointed Maurice Webster as "contact" man on the chapel committee, filling the vacancy left by the resignation of Jack Leik.

With the new appointment, the committee is now composed of the following eight members: Kenneth Powers, chairman, Maurine Henderson, Art Linn, Thelma Melsnes, Martha Forsyth, Prof. Walter A. Eichinger and Prof. A. L. Frederick.

The committee requests that any students or faculty members who have constructive criticism of the chapel programs, or who have suggestions as to speakers who would be available for programs, should notify one of the members of the committee.

All clubs or organizations who desire to put on one of the Monday or Friday programs should also notify the committee in sufficient time to make it possible.

Sandberg Speaks to Gyros; Boosts Skiing

Wishing to popularize the idea of skiing with the people of Tacoma through the activities of the CPS Ski club, four speakers, namely, Coach Roy Sandberg, Don Kruzner, president of the club, Paul H. Sceva, general manager of the Rainier National Park company, and Audsley M. Fraser, spoke of the importance of skiing to Tacoma and the College at the Tacoma Gyro club Wednesday noon at the Winthrop hotel.

Coach Sandberg and Don Kruzner told of the enthusiasm of the College for ski activities and the possibilities of the sport developing into a major activity at the College.

"CPS Ski club would lead in developing interest of the city in the sport," said Don Kruzner, president. Coach Sandberg acknowledged that it is the most active club on the campus that he knows. Mr. Sceva and Mr. Fraser told of the importance of the development skiing would be to Tacoma.

At the same meeting Jim Collins, slalom expert, spoke on the technique of skiing and answered questions of members of the club.

Classes Choose Casts of Three Spanish Plays

Each Spanish Student To Have Part in Productions

The "play's the thing" in the Spanish 31 and 21 classes now, according to recent announcement of Mrs. Bertha Robbins, head of the Spanish department. Casts are now memorizing parts in preparation for two Spanish programs to be presented after Christmas to all interested.

"The Mustard Plasters" and "Heavenly Bacon" are to be given by third-year Spanish students. Miss Mable Wittren portraying the widow, Dean Tuell, the colonel, and Jeanette Amidon, the maid, constitute the cast of "The Mustard Plasters," a one-act comedy. Bruce Persing, the father; Miss Frances McClain, the mother; Miss Garnet Paulsen, the daughter; Carl McConnell, hero; Rudy Anderson, the policeman; and Miss Floramae Davis, the maid, have been chosen to enact "Heavenly Bacon."

Spanish 21 students have prepared "The Luck of Isabelita" with Messrs. Taylor, Honeywell, Ronbeck, and Cobb as seniors; Frank Russo as the Belgian boss; Misses Ranck, Humber, Betz, and Boen as flower-makers; Dick Smith as the hero; and Miss Alyce Wilson, heroine.

Short plays have also been assigned so that every member of every class is to take part. Spanish students and all others interested are urged by Mrs. Robbins to watch for dates of the programs.

Dr. Todd Plans Ministers' School

Arrangements have been made finally by Dr. Edward H. Todd to hold the second graduate summer school of ministerial training at CPS this coming year.

The summer sessions which bring together ministers of Oregon, Idaho, Montana and Washington for special training, will be held here from July 24 to August 1, 1935.

Dr. Todd is dean of the school. Next year there will be four visiting members on the faculty, Bishop Titus Lowe, Prof. Edwin Lewis of Drew university in New Jersey, Chancellor J. M. M. Grey of American university at Washington D. C., and Dr. P. A. Eachman of Corvallis, Oregon. Members of the College faculty will also offer courses.

Choral Society To Sing At Lutheran Church

Giving the Advent and Christmas portion of George Fredrick Handel's "Messiah," a choir of 20 selected voices from the Adelpian Choral society will sing in Our Savior's Lutheran Church, Sunday evening, December 23 at 8 o'clock.

The soloists are John Paul Bennett, tenor; Mary Milone, Mrs. Alvin G. Lewis and Mrs. Charles Cheney, sopranos; and Von Zanner, bass. Prof. Walter A. Eichinger, organist and choir master, will play Christmas Choral preludes by Johann Sebastian Bach.

Miss Lorraine Hanson, group vice-president, presided at the formal initiation of Miss Jessamine Pugh in the afternoon.

Following was a potluck supper for which Miss Lois Andre was chairman. Pledges of the group presented the program

Announce Dance

At the business meeting, Miss Helen Howe announced that the sorority dance is to be held January 12.

An announcement was made that Mrs. Lona Huseby would present a recital at the College Friday, following which Mrs. Douglas Babcock and Miss Grace VanVectin, alumnae of the group, will entertain at a reception in her honor. Word was also received that the organization will receive new dishes as a Christmas present from the Mothers' club.

Alpha Beta Upsilon

Women of Alpha Beta Upsilon sorority met at the home of Miss Marion Davis, 3592 East Spokane avenue, for a Christmas party and dessert supper. The Misses Davis and Esther Stufft were in charge of the evening's entertainment, which included an exchange of gifts, and games played under the direction of Miss Mildred Grosser.

The Mothers' club of the organization also met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. J. E. Timmerman, 6309 South I street.

Kappa Sigma Theta

At the meeting of Kappa Sigma Theta sorority, plans for the dance to be held January 5 were discussed, as were plans for the Christmas meeting to be held this evening at the home of Miss Lucy May Spencer, 2202 North Alder street. Gifts will be exchanged and Christmas carols sung. Miss Dore Roberts read selections from "The Prophet" by Kahlil Gibran.

Mothers Guests At Annual Otlah Christmas Tea

Miss Mann in Charge of Program; Mrs. Todd, Miss Crasper Pour

Entertaining all mothers of CPS students, Otlah, senior women's honorary, held its annual Christmas tea Friday in the Jones Hall auditorium. Miss Katharine Mann, president, announced the program which consisted of a reading, "The Gift of the Magi," by Maurice Webster, a piano selection by Miss Grace Johnson, a violin solo by Miss Jean Beers and a group of Christmas carols by a women's trio.

Decorations included a large Christmas tree in the hall with corresponding appointments in the auditorium. The centerpiece for the tea table was a large silver star with red lighted candles at each point. Mrs. Edward H. Todd and Miss Ann Crasper presided over the tea service. Women of the faculty were special guests of the affair.

Otlah members are the Misses Katharine Mann, Thelma Melsnes, Gertrude Davis, Ellen Jorgensen, Elza Dahlgren, Lois Twaddle and Sarah Tierney. The Misses Twaddle, Melsnes and Jorgensen were in charge of all plans. They were assisted by the rest of the group.

Fraternities Hold Christmas Parties

Christmas parties are being given during the days preceding the holiday season by all of the organizations of the campus.

Sigma Zeta Epsilon fraternity will start its holiday activities with its regular Christmas meeting this evening, followed by a "fireside" at the fraternity house tomorrow evening.

Plan Ski Party

Prof. J. R. Roberts discussed "What's Wrong with College" at the Alpha Chi Nu fraternity meeting last Wednesday evening.

Arrangements were made for a ski party to be held December 27 with Jack Leik, chairman of the committee in charge of preparations. A Christmas party will be held at the house this evening.

Conference Grid Eleven Picked By Sports Staff

ALL CONFERENCE GRID SELECTION

Pos.	Player	Team
Right End	Phillips	Willamette
Right Tackle	Balcovic	Willamette
Right Guard	Weber	Col. of Idaho
Center	Douglas	Pacific
Quarterback	Oravec	Willamette
Right Half	Brooks	Puget Sound
Fullback	Weisgerber	Willamette

Since the closing of the grid season, everyone has been picking all-American and similar mythical teams. The members of the Trail sports staff following suit have collaborated to pick an all-conference team for the Northwest conference.

Members of the Willamette championship team predominate in the selections with six men being placed on the mythical eleven.

Powerful Backfield

In the backfield, the candidates were selected by their worth and value to their team, with little attention paid to the position they played on their squad. Consequently it may seem to the casual observer that there is an over-abundance of fullbacks.

While this shifting does not give as evenly balanced a team, yet the transferring of men from their positions gives a better, faster and more powerful backfield. Backfield selections were Oravec, Weisgerber, Brooks, and Maxwell. Both Oravec and Weisgerber were picked without a dissenting vote.

Honor Brooks

Jess Brooks, Logger fullback, was put in a halfback slot with Dick Maxwell of the College of Idaho at the other.

Other backs receiving consideration for posts were Corrigan and Killits of Pacific, Dietz of Whitman, Patch of Albany and Frantz and Mills of Willamette.

At the wing posts Phillips of Willamette and Parberry of Pacific stood out and were chosen for their all-around play.

Unanimous Choices

The two Willamette tackles, Weiser and Balcovic, both over two hundred pounds, were the talk of the conference with their fine defensive play. They, with Grannis, a guard, also from Willamette were the three unanimous selections for line berths. Weber, College of Idaho guard was chosen for the other guard position. Douglas of Pacific received the center berth with but slight competition.

INTRAMURAL BASEBALL STANDINGS

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Alpha Chi Nu	6	0	1.000
Sigma Mu Chi	6	1	.857
Sigma Zeta Epsilon	5	1	.833
Peter Pugets	3	4	.427
Delta Kappa Phi	3	4	.427
Terrible Swedes	1	4	.200
Delta Pi Omicron	1	5	.167
Tahomas	0	6	.000

INTRAMURAL BASEBALL SCHEDULE

Tuesday: 12:05, Tahomas vs. Delta Pi Omicron; 1:05, Alpha Chi Nu vs. Sigma Zeta Epsilon.

Along with numerous other sport fans of the Northwest, we wish that we could take in the Rose Bowl football clash New Year's day. Led by Hilliard "Dixie" Howell, Alabama's crimson tide will tangle with the Stanford Cardinals and that ace of Western aces, Bobby Grayson.

Both of these great backs have been picked on almost every all-American team and the offensive side of the New Year's game may result in an individual duel between these two players.

On the line both teams have outstanding men who have been named on many all-American squads. "Monk" Moscrip and "Horse" Reynolds on the Cardinal line and Hutson and Lee in the 'Bama forward wall are the equal of any linemen in the country when it comes to all-around play.

Ray Mahnkey, that diminutive forward who plays with the U. P. team in the church basketball league would be an asset to any basketball team in the city including the CPS varsity.

George Pollock, former CPS hooper, showed to advantage against his Alma Mater last week in a practice game while holding down a guard position for the Wheeler-Osgood quintet.

There are a few fellows turning out for track already. They will have a head start when the regular turnouts commence and will have an easier time rounding into tip-top shape when the regular season opens.

We notice that Vaughn "Deadpan" Stoeffel is up to his old tricks of nonchalantly swishing 'em in from all angles and positions on the floor.

The height of something or other occurred when a Sigma Zeta ball player told the umpire that he had called a good game.

Zete, Chi Nu Tilt Features Mural Baseball Tuesday

Chi Nus Can Cinch Title by Win; Three-Way Tie Possible

With a victory over the Sigma Mu Chi outfit under their belt, the league leading Alpha Chi Nu team will go into their final tilt next Tuesday at 1:05. Their opponents are the second place Zetes, and the game will determine whether there will be a three-way tie or an undisputed claim to the mural ball title for the Chi Nus.

The Mu Chi squad, which heretofore had a clean slate was given a mark on the wrong side of the ledger last Thursday when they bowed to the Chi Nus. Eddie McCoy pitched a fine game to give the Sixth Avenue outfit a 4 to 0 victory. He was given some fine support in the field, and at the plate.

Clarence "Mike" Mykland pitched for the Mu Chis, and did a fairly good job of it, but did not have everything on the ball that McCoy did. The Mu Chis could not hit, only about three or four of their men getting on base. Sid Eisenbeis did the best hitting for the losers, with Sammy Bertucci getting the best bingles for the winners. Both teams, especially the victors, featured the game with sensational fielding.

The Zetes put another one on the right side of the ledger by running away from the Peter Pugets, 18 to 2.

The winners started out with a bang and never let up. The Pugets bunched some hits in one inning for their two runs. Larry Ragan pitched for the Zetes, with Dick Smith and Frank McCallister doing the chucking for the losers.

The Omicrons won their first victory of the season, over the Delta Kapps, in the third game last Tuesday. This game saw the Omicrons begin to play good baseball and they won handily.

Art Linn's Swedes took another beating, Thursday, this time from the Delta Kapps. The Swedes were decidedly handicapped by lack of players, as they have been all season. Chuck Zittel, Bill Sherman, and Joe Kent did the pitching.

The Mu Chis handed the Tahomas a terrific beating. The Mu Chi score ran into the twenties, with the Tahomas barely able to score. Mykland pitched for the winners. F. Burrell and Eldon Billings tossed them up for the losers.

Continuing in their stride, the Chi Nus ran all over the Peter Pugets, winning by a score of 12 to 5. The strongest independent team of the year was no match for the Sixth Avenue boys, who had no trouble whatsoever. Valen Honeywell pitched for the winners, Dick Smith for the losers.

Women Hike Eight Miles

Last Sunday afternoon Sylvia Asp led a women's group hike. The hikers met in front of Jones Hall and walked eight miles. Women who attended were Evelyn Swanson, Regina Carrier, Alice Grimes, Harriet Gartley, Lois Twaddle, Ruth DeSpain, Lois Evanson, Jane Ramsby, Corrine Wassell, Isabel Hudson, Ruth Wheeler, Dorothy Smith, Janet Jennings, Annabel Norton, Margaretjo Conry, Rebecca Dugan, Alice Dugan, and Mildred Anderson.

There will be only one more hike this semester. It will be held some time in January.

Ralph Brindley Elected Head of Association

Ralph Brindley was elected as president of the College of Puget Sound Downtown association at a meeting of the group Thursday at the Tacoma hotel. He succeeds Dr. Henry Minton, who headed the association during the past year. Others elected to office for the coming year were: Melville Pugh, vice-president; Arthur H. Middleton, treasurer, and M. J. Muckey, secretary.

Coach Roy Sandberg addressed the association. He announced that for the first time in five years, the CPS football season showed a profit in gate receipts and that the number of season tickets sold was 1,181 compared to 44 in 1933. Coach Sandberg attributed this gain largely to the work of the association in selling tickets, and thanked them for their splendid cooperation.

CASABA CHATTER

The Zetes and Chi Nus, chief contenders for the Omicrons, basketball title defenders, are weaker this season than last, on paper. The Chi Nus are weakened by the loss of Paul Frederickson and Larry Hjorten who last year carried the brunt of their attack. The Zetes are without the services of Mike Leuenberger, Judy Davidson, Dick Zehnder and Bill MacMahon.

Em Piper, one of the three returning lettermen has been hindered thus far this year by a sprained ankle. Jim Ennis, who has been turning out regularly, has dropped from the squad because of an ankle injury received in football. Gene Millikan, the Pateras flash, has decided that along with football he can also be an asset to the basketball team. Gene, along with "Pinky" Doersch and Ralph Sandvigen, is a contender for the center position.

Numerous College of Puget Sound basketball players and ex-players are playing in the various city leagues this year. Roy Carlson, Ed McCoy, Bill Command and Ennis are playing for Totem Pole. Ed Kenrick is playing for Dr. Whetstone's five. Frank Plouf is a forward with Fisher's department store. George Pollock is holding down a guard position on the Wheeler-Osgood team and Bruce Hetrick is playing forward for Cammarano.

Logger Cagers To Play Union Oil Tomorrow

Plan Other Practice Tilts for Holidays; Cancel Proposed Trips

Inability of Coach Roy Sandberg to obtain contests in either section has resulted in the abandonment of the contemplated barnstorming tour of the Logger basketball squad through California or east of the mountains. Only two games were available in each section.

A number of practice tilts with teams of this vicinity will probably take the place of the proposed trip, which was to take up the greater part of the Christmas vacation.

Open With Union Oil

In their opening contest of the season, the Logger quintet will entertain the Union Oil company aggregation of Seattle tomorrow evening in the CPS gymnasium, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Coach Sandberg expressed his satisfaction at the way the squad performed in a pair of scrimmages with outside teams last week. The Lumberjacks engaged in strenuous sessions with the Wheeler-Osgood commercial league five Wednesday night and Cammarano Brothers' city league aggregation on Friday evening, with all members of the 20-man Logger squad seeing action.

Tentative First Team

The quintet which has shown to best advantage to date places John Milroy and Vaughn Stoeffel at the forward posts, Howard "Pinky" Doersch at center, and Captain Otto Smith and Erling Tollefson in the guard berths. Others making strong bids for first string positions are Louis Staples, Larry Hjorten and "Izzy" Halfon, forwards; Brennan King and Ralph Sandvigen, centers; and Gene Duncan, Roy Wonders and Walt Piper, guards.

With no seniors and only one junior on the squad, Sandberg is building a machine for the future as well as for the approaching campaign.
