Loggers Prepare To Break Jinx Of Split Series

Continuing their 1938 Conference basketball schedule, the College of Puget Sound Loggers meet the College of Idaho Coyotes in a two-game series Friday and Saturday evenings at 8 p.m. in the college gymnasium.

Coach Pat Paige of the eastern aggregation has the strongest team to represent his institution in recent years. Included in the lineup are Walter Long, Del Burkhalter, Ace Coulter, Doug Anderson, Bob Haddock, Frank Dog Eagle, Bill Thomason, John De Geus, Dick Birdsall, and Don Herman. Haddock and Coulter have been the offensive stars while Eagle and Anderson have proven to be the defensive aces of the Coyote team.

The Coyotes hold victories over Lewiston Normal, Gooding College and Eastern Oregon Normal at La Grande, Oregon. It was EON that defeated the highly touted Willamette University and Oregon State squads. In turn Willamette holds victories over Portland U and Whitman College. Thus in comparative scores, C of I is rated over CPS. However, C of I is on a seven day road trip which culminates with the two CPS-games. This should prove to be the deciding point when the two teams meet this week end.

CPS meets Bellingham State Teachers at Bellingham this week as a preliminary to the Idaho games Friday and Saturday, and should be in top shape by game time.

The starting lineup will consist of Carpenter and Pollock at the forward spots, Stoffel and Tollefson at the guard positions, and Mac Fadden at center. Reserves likely to see action include Starkey, Mitchell, Smith, and Rowe.

The squad, which has been weakened by the loss of Gordon Fielder, will be gunning for its third conference win of the present season and should take both games by close scores.

CPS Ski Team Places Eighth

A jubilant varsity squad composed of Don Kruzner, Gordon Tuell, Don Rasmussen, and Bob McRae with Assistant Coach Warren E. Tomlinson, returned from the Pacific Coast Inter-collegiate Championships at Yosemite National Park, Wednesday morning after being snowed in at Reddings, California for two days.

The squad, which placed 8th out of 16 schools represented, defeated such schools as Oregon State, Oregon, Reed College, and California Tech.

Complete individual results in the meet were not available at the time of writing but incomplete placings were as follows:

Cross Country—Kruzner, 33rd out of 61; Rasmussen, 38th; McRae, 40th; Tuell, 52nd.

Downhill—McRae, 12th out of 65; Kruzner, 30th out of 65; Tuell, 43rd out of 65.

There were no results on Slalom and due to the fact that the only jumper on the squad was on a basketball trip, no jumpers were available.

Best Sport Shot of 1937

The above shot of the between-the-halves tipoff in the Albany College of Puget Sound basketball tussle was selected by the Trail sports staff as the outstanding sports shot of 1937. Albany and several other conference schools have asked for the privilege of running the same shot. Note how photographer, Chuck McNary, caught both centers at the top of their jumps, and also the different hoopsters of both teams breaking into position.

Mackmen Lose To Bellingham In Rough Game

A very tired-out Logger quintet dropped a 37-34 decision to Bellingham Normal last Tuesday night. The game, after the first minutes of play, resolved itself into one of the roughest battles the Loggers have participated in several seasons.

Joey Mack's Maroon and White clad quintet were unused to the size of the huge new Bellingham gym floor. When the going got particularly fast they tired quickly and began fouling with alarming rapidity. McFadden and Carpenter both went out of the contest with four personals before the second half was well started.

Bill McLaughlin, substituting for Bud McFadden, in the minutes he played got on the receiving end of a Bellingham player's elbow and had to be taken out of the game before he understood clearly what had happened to him.

Man-to-man fights held up the contest every once in a while. Erling Tollefson kept his scoring average up with 9 points to lead the Logger scoring. McFadden followed with 6 tallies.

Fox of the Western Washington quintet sparked the Puget Sound opponents.

Joey Mack substituted nearly everybody on the bench in an effort to get a winning combination, but the three-point margin was stubbornly maintained by the Bellingham Vikings throughout the contest.

This is the Maroon and White third successive setback in the last week.

Football Co-eds:

We can't help speculating as to what might happen if the fairer sex played football. We visualize a huddle conversation that would run something like this: "No! I will not carry the ball over that catty Mrs. Jones' tackle. Before the game she said she wouldn't have known me if I hadn't been wearing last year's helmet."

"Please don't ask me to make the try for extra point, I have a run in my stocking." "Will I have time to change my uniform before the next half? I feel simply grimy."

Sororities Hold Spring Rush Teas

Members and pledges of Lambda Sigma Chi, Kappa Sigma Theta, Delta Alpha Gamma, and Alpha Beta Upsilon were hostesses at split-date teas on Monday and Tuesday to welcome the incoming freshmen women.

Alpha Beta Upsilon and Kappa Sigma Theta were hostesses Monday afternoon. Calling hours for Alpha Beta Upsilon were from 3 to 3:45 p. m. Miss Sara Louise Doub was general chairman for her sorority's tea, assisted by the Misses Jean Jesperson, Helen Gates and Annabel Miller. Decorations were of flowers in the sorority colors. Special guests were Mrs. Raymond S. Seward and Mrs. Lyle F. Drushel. During the tea Miss Kathleen Sherrill played the piano.

Miss Shirley Scott was in charge of the arrangements for the Kappa Sigma Theta tea. Assisting her were the Misses Carol Pratsch and Dixie Thompson in charge of decorations. A valentine motif was featured. Miss Billie Acton, sorority president, presided at the tea table. Calling hours were from 4 to 4:45.

On Tuesday afternoon from 3 to 3:45, Lambda Sigma Chi honored freshmen women. Miss Virginia Leonard was chairman of the committee making arrangements. Miss Mildred Zigler and Miss Pat Williams assisted her with the plans. Decorations carried out a spring motif and tiny teacups were given as favors. Miss Doris Fickle presided at the tea table.

From 4 to 4:45 women of Delta Alpha Gamma were hostesses to the new girls. Miss Ina Marie Sewright, general chairman, Miss Mary Jane Roberts, and Miss Margaret Busselle were the committee planning the affair. Floral decorations on the table carried out a Valentine motif. Specially invited guests were Mrs. Lyle F. Drushel and Miss Linda Van Norden.

Club Notes

The Spanish Club gave a Spanish Valentine Party in the YWCA room Monday evening. Valentine games in Spanish were played under the direction of Jean Hartman. These were followed by the singing of Spanish songs led by Jean Smith and Harry Coleman on his accordion. A short business meeting was held and plans regarding the initiation on Feb. 14 discussed. Helen Gates served refreshments. Visitors were Jessie Willison, Betty Cook and Jane Ogden.

Independents To Elect New Spring Officers

Miss Katharine Love and Miss Lucia Gjuka were nominated for the presidency of the Independents by the nominating committee, consisting of Edrie Marguard (chairman), Katharine Love, and Gordon Wingard. Bob Hardy and George Forsyth were nominated for vice-president, and Eleanor Warne is the only candidate running for secretary-treasurer.

Virginia Newman and Lu Gibbons are the candidates for publicity chairman, and Masayae Jinguko and Edith Hammond were nominated for publicity chairman.

Elections will be held Monday through Thursday of next week, and a ballot box will be placed just outside the library for the votes. A list of the candidates will be placed above the ballot box.

Zetes Honor Spring Officers

Entertaining at a spring semi-formal, Sigma Zeta Epsilon honored their newly elected officers last Friday evening out at Lakewood Community center. Specially invited guests included the presidents of the other four campus fraternities, Maynard Carlson, George Fisher, Guy Bower and Robert Bond.

Working with Clarence Keating, chairman of the dance committee were Dick Sloat, Bob Sprenger, Hal Nelson. D. Robert Smith and Miss Marjorie Jenkins were patrons for the affair.

LOUIS MOSOLF NEW PRESIDENT

Robert Bond Resigns Delta Kappa Phi Office

Because of the resignation of Robert Bond, as president, Delta Kappa Phi unanimously elected Louis Mosolf to fill the vacancy last Wednesday evening. Mr. Mosolf is also head of the committee in charge of formal initiation to be held February 20. Others on the committee are Roger Mastreude, Terry Walker and Bob Myers.

Tentative plans are also being made for a dance to be held in March. Bill Burroughs is in charge of arrangements.

Helen Keho Marries James Stevens Woods

Coming as a great surprise and of wide interest to her friends was the marriage of Miss Helen Keho last Saturday morning to James Woods of Olympia, before a small group of close relatives and friends in St. Patrick's church.

Miss Keho's only attendant was Miss Dolores O'Connell, formerly of CPS while Richard Purtich acted as best man for Mr. Woods. While attending CPS last fall, Mrs. Woods was affiliated with Lambda Sigma Chi, and Mr. Woods is a graduate of St. Martin's College.

Women's Federation Sponsors Affair at King's Rink

Under the auspices of Women's Federation, an all-college skating party will be held Saturday, February 12, at King's Roller Rink, from 10 to 12 p. m. Evelyn Shaw is general chairman for the affair. This is the only rink in the world which has a lighting effect known as "moonlight lighting."

The party will follow the game with the College of Idaho. Admission will be 25 cents per person. "We want all that possibly can, to attend," stated Evelyn Shaw.

Delta Alpha Gamma Reelects Miss Griffin

Members of Delta Alpha Gamma recently reelected Miss Corabelle Griffin president of their sorority. Other officers selected were Miss Virginia Dougherty, vice-president; Miss Betty Noble, secretary; Miss Francis Cruver, sergeant-at-arms; Miss Betty Worden, Inter-sorority Council; Miss Mary Kisducak, historian.

Also choosing officers for the spring semester, the Alpha Chi Nus elected Guy Bowers, president of their fraternity. Richard Names was chosen vice-president; Dick Lemagie, secretary; Paul Barrick, treasurer; Bill Wood, sergeant-at-arms.

OPEN FOR'EM

The following is a letter received by the editor through the mail.

613 West Gambier Street
Mt. Vernon, Ohio
January 7, 1938.

Dear Editor:

All this talk about college outlines, and what a fine thing they are for the college student!

Why doesn't someone say something about what they do for the prof?

I know one prof who owes eighteen holes of golf a day to the fact that he uses outlines in preparing for his classes.

And, if the truth were known, those outlines eased the way to a de for many an instru or.

Another young prof I know boasts a mighty fine rumba and swings a pretty mean Big Apple. It seems the outlines give him time to get out and "swing it."

That same young prof swipes half of the campus queens right under our eyes. Not because there is something special to him, but because we have to spend our nights plugging assignments for the profs who don't use the outlines.

In common with many of my fellow collegians, there is the suggestion of the scallion in my Big Apple and there is something of the camembert in my Rumba. My grandmother regularly gives me ten strokes and whales the daylights out of me on the golf course. Also, like many of my fellow collegians, I've had my eye on a cute little freshman—but assignments are beating my time.

It's not too late yet for a student's New Year resolution. How about buttonholing the profs to plug the use of the outline in preparing classes? If more profs used short cuts in dishing out education, what a grand and glorious place this world would be.

Very truly yours,

ALBERT L. CRIDER.

AN OPEN LETTER

To Roosevelt, our Congressmen, the Peace Societies, and the Pacifists:

I have gone along with Roosevelt's efforts at planning, our legislative representative's progressiveness, the Peace Societies' energetic altruism, and the pacifist's enthusiasm and sincerity. I refuse to be duped any longer.

For who can hope for any gains in the face of a program which is preparing to drain the country and forego all else for war preparation? Indeed, all that has been gained will be lost when they get the war for which they are so anxiously preparing. And 800 billion dollars will undoubtedly secure the support of all those forces for war within our country. It will take more—much more—but that will start them. Is this to divert our attention from a failure perhaps? Has Roosevelt given up?

Our progressive representatives in Congress are either hypocrites, mice, or in political straight-jackets—all of which is treason.

The Peace Societies were continually in our midst last winter. They followed one another like the smash bits from Hollywood replace each other on the billboards. Now, they have all gone off into the hills to sleep. 800 billion dollars isn't much money, they have lost their voices, or they are the victims of the most unfavorable publicity imaginable. Why aren't they screaming to high heaven? Where are they?

And our pacifists—those boys with humanity in their hearts and unselfishness in their souls. Have they had a change of heart? Would they perhaps support a war against our first rate commercial competitor? Or has their sensitivity been so outraged by the thought of suffering China that they are forgetting their pledges and how much more a mess the war will be when we get into it, how it will solve nothing, but rather spread the misery? But if humanity has gone out of their hearts, and they have become selfish, why can't they be reasonably selfish and remember that war never was anything but a losing game?

Meanwhile, while I listen vainly for an opposing voice to all this war hysteria, I have only an ironic laugh for Roosevelt, our Congressmen, the Peace Societies, and pity for the wavering pacifists.

I will yet utter a prayer for reason. Sincerely,

FRANCIS GALBRAITH.

The above letter written for publication a week ago, is somewhat antiquated in view of the chapel programs of the last week. Something has been said. But the main thesis concerning the apathy is correct in view of this fact: "Mr. Roosevelt's Naval Program can be regarded only as a threat of an offensive war against Japan." (Nation, 5 Feb., 1938).

Observatory Hill

BY PAUL JUELING

(It seems that every radio program of any prominence features guest stars; in keeping with the general idea OBSERVATORY HILL is presenting a series of guest columnists. This week we present Joe "Scoop" Mitchell.)

When I first came to this country I was penniless. Now I am reech and have many friends. One of them is Professor Shelmidine. After the examinations I went to his room. There I asked him a question, and his answer made me smile. I realized that beneath his vest beat a kind heart.

The three screwiest guys in this school are Bob Corliss, Lyall (Archduke) Jamieson and Scoop Jueling. At the same time they are three of the finest fellows in this school. And how do you like that?

* * *

I guess all the inhabitants of the sororities are madder than heck because their names aren't being mentioned herewith. I wouldn't be surprised if they're reading this column this very minute. Caught you that time, didn't I? H-m-m-m-m . . . right now it looks like anybody's ball game.

* * *

Darrell Thomas (the handsome fellow in the bookstore) is quite a guy. His middle name starts with J—and no one knows what his middle name is. I asked him if it was Jehosaphat or Jeremiah, and he got madder than I did in Bermuda and started saying things in Spanish. I controlled my temper, calmly put a penny in the gum machine, and strolled out the door, without so much as rolling my eyes, like "Groucho Marx" McDonnell does.

* * *

Short Editorial: Roses to the Common's staff for the excellent food it prepares and the excellent manner in which it (the food) is served.

* * *

The guys on the Trail are big shots now. They all have press cards, which means they can barge into shows, wrestling matches and social functions. Jimmie Docherty went up to the doorman recently and shouted "press!" and the doorman came back with "I'll press you if you don't get out of here." And that's why we have swing.

* * *

Jess Dawkins says he is going to bet five shillings on War Admiral to win the Grand National Sweepstakes in England.

If today's column bores you let me refer you to Chaucer's Canterbury Tales, Bede's Ecclesiastical History, the Anglo-Saxon Chronicle, or Piers Plowman.

* * *

ADVICE: Alex Schwetz says the only girl to go out with is the working girl because she knows the value of the dollar.

* * *

During the past few weeks many comments have been made in regard to Observatory Hill. Ninety-nine per cent of these in effect refer to the Column as emitting a bad odor or stench. To all of you who are of the same opinion I can only say: Some things are so rotten you can't criticize them.

* * *

DEFINITION: Engagement: Is a partnership which one party is free to keep or to break, but which involves all the capital of the other.

* * *

PERSONALITY OF THE WEEK: A brick of delicious OLYMPIC ICE CREAM this week goes to Dean Lyle Ford Drushel. For seven years Mrs. Drushel has been Dean of Women at CPS in which time she has been advisor and counsellor not only for women but men as well. Through her pleasant manner, fair treatment and deep understanding of student problems she has gained and held the respect and admiration of all the students.

* * *

THINGS WE LIKE: Janet Hatch's smile; Brad Bannon and Ruth Raymond together; Kay Norris in bridal attire; Al Sirles repairing "Rat Hole Gulch"; Gail Sampson's bass singing; "Skinny" Bennett's wit; the pep and spirit of the Japanese basket ball team; Professor Battin's jokes; the Choral Society; Virginia Dougherty and Phyllis Albert dashing down the hall together.

* * *

SLIM AND SHORTY: Betty Warner will have to get stilts or Skinny Bennett will have to get down on his knees if their romance gets serious. Maynard Carlson and Jerry Alexander by mutual agreement have called the whole thing off. Pat Williams thinks Johnny Marble is swell but don't tell anybody.

Open Letter to Amy Lou Murray:

To you Tacoma may be a one-horse town and CPS may be a cow-college but please don't rub it in by wearing riding boots to school.

Scoop! Scoop! As George Mitchell has not been initiated into fraternity brotherhood yet and therefore does not have a fraternity pin Muriel Woods will have to be satisfied with his Ballard High School ring for the time being.

ENROLMENT IS RAISED TO 552

Coming from here, there and everywhere (but mostly the University) the enrolment of Alma Mater has been increased by 38, making the total 552. Of these 11 have attended CPS before.

From the University are: Bill Cummings, Amy Lou Murray and Marion LaGasa. Elinor Beechinor comes from Seattle College. Willis Penny is a former student of WSC.

New sophomores are: Mort Arnold, well-known in the field of skiing, Eleanor Brown and Alberta Le Mott.

F. ITTNER WINS IN SPEECH MEET

Winning first place in the after-dinner speaking contest held at Seattle Pacific College was Florence Ittner, as the only representative from CPS. Each school was permitted to send two students. Schools participating were: St. Martin's, Seattle Pacific, Seattle College sending a total of 7 competitors.

The general subject for girls was: "To Be or Not To Be Married," and for boys, "Excommunication from Alimony for Men." Florence spoke on "The Risks of Changing from Miss to Mrs. in 1938." The prize was a box of candy. Second place was won by John Bell of Seattle College who spoke on "The Pleasures of Being a Bachelor in 1938." Topics were drawn under the general topics and a speaking time of 5 to 6 minutes allowed.

Officers elected for the contest next year are President, John Peter, Seattle College; vice president, Paul Rossen, Seattle Pacific; secretary, Florence Ittner.

Hardison, Keating Win First Place In Oratory Meet

Dorothy Padfield and Charles Shireman Place Second With Speeches

Elizabeth Hardison and Clarence Keating were first place winners in the annual A. O. Burmeister oratorical contest held under the auspices of the dramatic department Thursday evening in Jones Hall Auditorium.

Second places were taken by Dorothy Padfield and Charles Shireman.

First places in each division receive cash prizes of $10.00 while second place winners receive $5.00 each, all prizes being awarded at senior chapel in May.

Men who entered the contest were Lyall Jamieson, Tom Ray, Dewane Lamka, Paul Seto, Clarence Keating, Richard Horr and George Forsythe. Women were Belle Ruth Clayman, Mary Ann Hawthorne, Katharine McConron, Phyllis Anderson, Margaret Gilstrap, Elizabeth Hardison, Florence Ittner, Beverly Peters and Dorothy Padfield.

Judges for the preliminaries held on Wednesday afternoon were Mrs. Edwin Carlson, Thor Tolleson, Emery Asbury, Mrs. Hunter Kennard, Reverend Rudy Anderson, John Cochran, Reverend McGinnis and Reverend Goodnough. Judges for the finals were William LeVeque, Harry Cain and Mrs. Locke Riehl.

Budget Reforms To Be Submitted To ASCPS Vote

That proposed budget reforms will be submitted to the entire student body at the election to be held in March has been announced by Barbara Beardsley, secretary of the student body. In charge of the elections will be Jane Anderson (chairman), Lou Grant and Dick Names.

Betty Bannister is chairman of the committee to present plans for improving the by-laws at the next Associated Students meeting, to be held February 14. She is assisted by James Docherty.

For the past two years Mr. Becker, who expects to receive a doctor of philosophy degree a year from June, has been assisting on various problems in the high-potential radiation laboratory at the Institute. At the present time he is working on a type of cloud-chamber, designed to facilitate photographic recording of alpha particles.

"Up to this time," he writes, "there hasn't been much of this work done, at least in a photographic manner."

Dr. Seward has also received a letter from Martin Nelson, who is now attending the University of Hawaii at Honolulu.

Adelphians Plan To Tour Eastern Section of State

Oregon To Be Included In March Tour

According to present plans, the Adelphian choral society will make its annual tour of eastern Washington and Oregon during the latter part of March, Prof. John Paul Bennett, conductor, announced this week. The choristers will present three different types of compositions, including music from the liturgy of the Orthodox Catholic church, and other sacred and secular selections.

The Adelphians have also accepted an invitation to sing at a banquet for employees of the Weyerhaeuser Timber Company of Everett. If arrangements are completed, they will make the trip February 19, all expenses being paid by the company.

A concert at the Japanese Methodist church on Sunday, March 13, will give Tacomans an opportunity to hear the choral society before it leaves on its tour.

3 GEOLOGISTS WILL LECTURE

Speakers Are Foremost In Their Field

Three of the foremost geologists in their fields will speak on the first day of the Anniversary Program as the contribution of the Geology department to the Fiftieth Anniversary, according to Prof. McMillin.

March 4, the Geology department will begin its activity with a dinner in the Commons, after which Dr. E. L. Packard, dean and director of the School of Sciences at Oregon State College, will speak on the "Paleontology of the Northwest." Dr. Packard is recognized as an outstanding man in this field.

Following Dr. Packard will be

Prof. George E. Goodspeed,

professor of Geology at the University of Washington, who will speak on

"A New Classification of Gold Quartz Veins."

His lecture will be illustrated with slides.

The third lecture will be presented by Dean W. A. Fahrenwald of the School of Mines, University of Idaho on the subject,

"Science and Art of the Floata-tion of Complexed Ores."

Professor McMillin has arranged the entire program for the Geology department. "The fact that these three men are coming to Tacoma is an honor to the city and the College. They are men whose services are highly sought as consultant Geologists and are recognized leaders of their field," he said.

Four Plays Will Honor Hi School Debaters, Coaches

Playcrafters To Present 'Game of Chess,' 'Jerry Joins In,' 'The Princess Marries The Page,' 'The Wedding'

Friday evening at 8:15 p. m. in Jones Hall Auditorium, Campus Playcrafters will present in honor of the fifth annual high school debate tournament four one-act plays of various types. As a general expression of good will for past support rendered, the Playcrafters are presenting this program to the student body and to the public with no admission charge.

"Game of Chess," a Russian drama of pre-revolutionary days presents the story of two men from different walks of life engaged in a battle of wits for existence. Staged with colorful Russian costuming, it is directed by Belle Ruth Clayman and includes in the cast Roger Mastrude, Richard McKnight, Gene Albertson and Clarence Keating. Property is being handled by Virginia Newman and Annabell Miller.

Ruth Reisner directs the ten-minute skit, "Jerry Joins In." This humorous production is novel in that all of the speeches are only one word in length. The players are Robert Byrd, Beverly Peters, Ronald Lorimer, Virginia Leonard, Phyllis Anderson, and Tom Ray. Assisting in production are Ruth Jensen and Beulah Eskildsen.

"The Princess Marries The Page" expresses the traditional romantic ending to the age-old tale of the love of a lowly page for a haughty and noble princess. A production of Edna St. Vincent Millay's Vassar days, it is a light fantasy with a picturesque fairytale setting. Cast in "The Princess Marries The Page" are Marguerite Barry, Richard Sloat, Robert Sprenger, Dewane Lamka, Howard Lynn and Richard Tuttle. Property committee consists of Doris Rosellini and Geraldine Martin.

Kay Norris as the bride and Lyall Jamieson as the groom in John Kirkpatrick's "The Wedding" discover a multitude of sins in one another shortly before the ceremony is to begin, with much consternation and comedy resulting. Others are James Arntson, James Docherty, Wilbur Baisinger, June Peele, Mary Ann Hawthorne, Wesla Jane Whealdon prompts, while Virginia Smyth and Eleanor Robison assist the director, Sally Jenson, on properties.

Prof. Smith Is Honored

Prof. D. Robert Smith presented a half hour prelude of organ music last Sunday evening, for the annual service of the Western Washington chapter of the American Guild of organists at Seattle. The meeting was held in the Plymouth Congregational church.

He chose four numbers from among those he presented in his recent recital.
