Homecoming Dance . . .

CPS students will dance and sway to the music of Benny Gill and his 11-piece orchestra at the Inaugural Ball, annual Homecoming dance, revealed Joanna Wilson and Don Charleson, dance co-chairmen. The affair will be held Saturday at 9 p. m. in the Fieldhouse.

Gill and his orchestra, a Portland, Ore. group, offers a program designed for listening and dancing pleasure, and for featuring new and unusual arrangements for the full band and featured artists. Gill maintains that the sidemen in the band are vitally important and has chosen his crew for their ability to create individual stylings on their instruments.

To make a program full and complete, he believes that ballads are needed. To provide these is the "Four Tones" vocal quartet, consisting of two boys and two girls. They are known for their smooth vocals on the sentimental side.

Making her first appearance at the College of Puget Sound will be vocalist Miss Judy McKay. Hailing from the state of Texas, Miss McKay's rendition of the hit tunes of the day and her special arrangements on the dreamy side are forecast to provide an evening of delightful listening and dancing.

A large fountain will serve as the centerpiece at the dance. Surrounding this will be davenport. Walls are to be draped in red, white, and blue colors. They will have on them large pictures of Eisenhower, Stevenson and Pogo. The orchestra is to be seated in a band shell near the far end of the building. A web of red, white, and blue streamers will be used for the ceiling.

Students wishing to buy tickets to the dance may get them at noon in the SUB or purchase them at the dance. Price of them is $2.00.

Patrons and patronesses for the Inaugural Ball are Dr. and Mrs. R. Franklin Thompson, Dr. and Mrs. John D. Regester, Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Powell, and Major and Mrs. Richard B. James. They will each be given a miniature donkey or elephant to signify their political preference.

Homecoming . . .

Set for this afternoon at 3 o'clock as a part of Homecoming is the "Primary and Mock Convention" in Jones hall auditorium. There, among political speech-making, baby kissing and vote selling, will be elected CPS' Presidential Candidate (Homecoming king) for 1952. To be elected by the co-eds on campus, the candidates will be judged on the basis of their beard growth.

At 7 p. m. a "Rally for the People's Choice—CPS Loggers," will take place at the women's play field. "Whistle stops" at sorority rooms and "swings" around the fraternity houses for house judging will begin at 8 p. m.

"Heaven Can Wait," CPS Homecoming play about a man who will not admit that he is dead, will start at 8:15 in Jones hall auditorium. Students with ASCPS tickets and alums giving advance notice of their attendance will be admitted free.

Saturday's events begin with the Homecoming parade. Starting at 17th and Broadway, the parade will march down through town, disband and go to Cheney field. The parade starts at 10 a. m. sharp.

At 1:30 p. m. a car-cade will leave CPS to journey to Cheney field, where the CPS Loggers will battle the Whitworth college gridiron squad. Game time is 2 p. m.

Ending "Political Stew in '52," theme of this year's Homecoming, will be the Inaugural Ball at 9 p. m. in the Fieldhouse. Featured at the dance will be Benny Gill and his 11-piece orchestra.

Chemical Society . . .

Charles Morrison, president of the Junior Affiliate of the American Chemical Society announced that a meeting will be called shortly after the first of November. The exact date will be announced later. All interested students with at least one semester of chemistry should contact him.

CENTRAL BOARD MINUTES

October 14, 1952 - Convocation

The meeting was called to order by President Fossen. Roll call was taken. The minutes were approved as corrected.

DEPARTMENTAL REPORTS

Men's Intramural—Two football teams have dropped out of the league and the schedule has to be changed. Men's Intramural's constitution is under revision.

Women's Athletic Association—Inter-class hockey starts Friday, October 17.

Drama—The Homecoming play, Heaven Can Wait, will be presented in Jones Auditorium at 8:15 p. m. on Thursday and Friday of next week.

Music—Recital of special students on Friday, Oct. 17 at 4:00.

Forensics—Intramural tournament is now in progress. The first inter-collegiate tournament will be held in about three weeks.

Deep Creek—Additional help is still needed on the woodpile.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE REPORTS

Insurance—Mr. Banks explained the difference between the two types of insurance in question. The $7.50 voluntary policy covers the student for all College activities with the exception of inter-collegiate athletics. The $4.00 compulsory policy would cover the student while participating in any school activity. Discussion was held with the entire student body participating. Gene Campbell moved that Central Board conduct an opinion poll to determine the feeling of the entire student body concerning compulsory insurance. The motion was seconded and carried.

Homecoming—Final plans have been made; and the complete program of events will be published in the October 17 issue of the Trail. Homecoming Committee will present the program in next week's Convocation.

Rally Committee—CPS vs. PLC Saturday, Oct. 18 at Lincoln Bowl. Lu Bradley was recommended as the fifth cheer leader. Mr. Bank moved the acceptance of this appointment. The motion was seconded and carried.

NEW BUSINESS

Bruce Jorgenson moved that we accept the recommendation of Ralph Mackey as Trail Business Manager and Janet Johnston and George Pearson as Tamanawas Business Managers. The motion was seconded and carried, thus ratifying these appointments. It was moved and seconded that we ratify the appointment of Don Rogers and Ruth Nichol森 as Campus Chest co-chairmen for this school year. The motion was carried.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Meeting of all student managers in Room 212 on Tuesday at 12:00. Judiciary Council meeting in the ASCPS office at 10:00 Thursday morning.

Next meeting of Central Board is scheduled for October 23 in the SUB Lounge. Any interested student body members are invited to attend.

The Senior Class disrupted the meeting by showing the hatchet so the meeting was automatically adjourned.

Central Board Notes . . .

Here we go again people, will the election of the new Homecoming Queen be constitutional?

People will just never learn. Article V, Section 1 of the present ASCPS constitution requires that any revision of the By-Laws be ratified by the Board of Trustees of the College. Article 11 of the By-Laws was amended Oct. 2, 1952 to read, "The Homecoming Queen shall be chosen from the Jr. or Sr. Class. It is doubtful if the Board of Trustees has ratified this as yet.

If this isn't sufficient, Article V of the By-Laws requires that voting machines be used in the election of, among others, the Homecoming Queen. Needless to say this wasn't done this year.

This article was not meant to cause hardship on any one but to bring home the fact that the ASCPS constitution should either be changed or lived up to. There has been a movement for some time to have the constitution revised but the general feeling is: "Oh well, it doesn't make any difference to me whether it is revised or not." Objections to the constitution as it now stands are: Obsolete, hard to amend, and possibly does not conform to rules set down in Roberts rules of order. In some cases such as yell team election the constitution has been ignored for years and every one just lets it go. Some laws are obsolete such as those concerning the Prince and Princess of melody, and the student activity committee. Others give rise to question of actual value such as the Student Affairs council which is composed of four students and four faculty members with a faculty member as chairman.

If this isn't at least sufficient reason for investigating a proposed change then there isn't enough interest in student government to make it worth keeping. This incidentally isn't true, witness the amount of student interest in the Central Board meeting held in Chapel last week. Convocation, 'scuse me. Hadn't noticed the change. It is to be hoped that Central Board will continue to meet in a place where more of the students can attend.

Richard Dunn.

AWS Representatives . . .

Representing the freshmen girls on the AWS executive council are Rylla Rockey for the Indees and Kathy Maguire for the Greeks. This is the result of a revote taken in Convocation on Tuesday, October 24.

Main job of these girls will be representing the Frosh at AWS meetings and keeping the AWS record collection straightened. Along with the representatives of the other classes Kathy and Rylla will also help sponsor the dime dances.

Student Housing . . .

Does your room have that "lived in look"? Some of the rooms offered to students each semester look like they have been lived in since the Revolutionary War. For the out-of-town student, along with other things, there is always the problem of finding a place to stay. At times there are vague mutterings at the accommodations offered.

We of the Trail would like to know if all of those who are living off campus in private rooms are satisfied with accommodations such as size, heat, bathroom facilities and price. If the majority are satisfied all is well. If not, perhaps a program of minimum requirements be set up, such as is done by other schools.

This would not be a program of the school telling the student where to live but a program to insure adequate housing at a fair price and a protection from those who cast an evil eye on the unsuspecting college pocket book.

A note to the Trail would help us find how the majority feels.

Modern Language Club . . .

The Modern Language Club, Deutsche Verein and La Mesa Redonda, had its first meeting of the year on Tuesday, Oct. 21, 1952.

The following officers were elected—President: John Rieman; Vice-president: Tom Gripp, representing the German Club; Vice-president: Joanne Ryan, representing the Spanish Club; Secretary - Treasurer: Juanita Fagertstrom.

The following were appointed to serve on committees:

James Chance, social chairman; Lawrence Jensen, transportation chairman; Fumiko Takahashi, publicity chairman.

Prof. O. G. Bachimont is faculty adviser of these organizations.

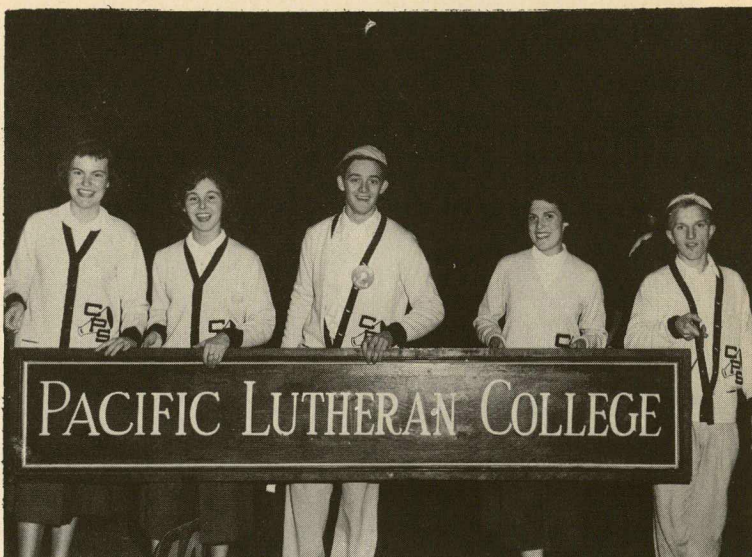

The next meeting will be held on Thursday, Nov. 6 at the home of James Chance at which time John Rieman will give an illustrated talk on his travels in Europe.

AWS MINUTES

October 9, 1952

The first mass meeting of the Associated Women Students of the College of Puget Sound for the year 1952-53 was called to order by the president, Joanne Lowry.

Joanne welcomed all the girls, especially the freshman girls who are new members this year, and expressed the hope that all would take an active part in AWS as this year has many varied activities coming up.

Joanne introduced the four committee chairmen, and these four girls gave brief speeches on the activities of their particular committee, so that the freshman girls could choose the committee she was most interested in. The four chairmen are: Marilyn Rosso, High School Relations; Fredda Lamp, Career Conference; Joanne Wood, Faculty; and Ruth Klovee, Social.

Joanne then introduced the other officers: Ruth Wallen, Vice President; Maris Anderson, Secretary; Neon Knöbel, Treasurer; Publicity, Janet Vroman; Sr. Inde. Representative, Gen Starkey Fisher; Sr. Greek Representative, Pat Parrett; Junior Inde. Representative, Glee Callahan; Junior Greek Representative, Ruth Nickelson; Soph. Inde. Representative, Jean Cameron; and Sophomore Greek Representative, Margie Berry.

Voting ballots were passed out, and five girls were voted on to be the new Freshman Greek Representatives to AWS. Those running were: Kathy McGuire, Phi Beta Phi; Sharon O'Brien, Lambda Sigma Chi; Diane Silver, Tri Delta; and Audrey Stenholm, Delta Alpha Gamma. Results of the election will be announced later.

Since there was no other business, the meeting was adjourned.

Respectfully submitted,

Maris Anderson, AWS Secretary

Hey Seniors . . .

All those seniors who plan to have their degrees in January, June or August and who plan on having their pictures appearing in the graduating section of the Tamanawas should secure a senior information blank for the Tamanawas at the switchboard box in Jones Hall.

After these blanks are filled out they should be returned to the same place immediately. In the event there are further additions or corrections to be made, the blanks may be secured in the Trail office for that purpose.

Indee News, Views, and Cues . . .

What caused the mysterious power failure at Mason's Lodge last Friday night? While the Indees were enjoying an Indian summer get-together at the homey, spacious lodge at Epworth Heights, the lights strangely (?) failed and the event was a fireside in the true sense of the word. A delightful evening of dancing and fireside singing was given a Hawaiian flavor by the trio of Donna Bell, Millicent Bulatao and Laureen Sakugawa. Again, many thanks to our swell chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Goman.

Hey! What happened to the clean-up crew Saturday morning? Only three swampers were on deck to put the Indee room in order.

Monday's meeting found the Indee room a virtual flower shop, with everyone present pitching in to make carnations for the float. All non-Greeks are invited to help with construction tonight at the J. D. Shotwell Company warehouse, 3113 So. Pine. Cars will leave the SUB at 6 o'clock.

!! Sadie Hawkins Day Is Coming !!

The difference between freshmen and sophomores is that when a professor enters a freshman class and says, "Good morning," they answer him. When he enters a sophomore class and says, "Good morning," they write in down in their notes.

Chinook . . .

Working out final plans for open house at Deep Creek November 2 will be accomplished at Chinook's meeting next Wednesday, announced Duane Wegner, president of CPS's outdoor recreation club.

Last weekend Chinook members cut additional wood for the winter's wood supply at the lodge.

Wegner pointed out that CPS students interested in joining the organization should come to the Wednesday open house and meeting.

The group meets at 4 p.m. in Room 215 in Howarth hall. Faculty adviser for the club is Dr. Sprenger.

Pi Beta Phi . . .

Homecoming decoration chairmen are: float, Doris Caldwell and Shirley Campbell; room, Ann Scafturon and Marilyn Wagner.

Co-chairman with Rich Dodds for the Pi Phi-Kappa Sig Pledge dance is Pat Lewis.

Pi Phi pledges and actives enjoyed dinner together at the SUB last Monday night before the meeting. This will be a monthly occurrence.

Sigma Nu . . .

At the last meeting Clarence Engell and Willis Peacock were elected IFC representatives. Jack Nelsen was elected as assistant alumni contact.

Sunday the Mother's Club held a tea at the house for the purpose of introducing the new pledges and their parents to the older members and their parents and to get them acquainted with the house. Entertainment was provided by the trio of Ted Vaughn, John Bartenetti, and Robert Burglin.

Monday the fraternity was honored by the presence of the sorority presidents Janet Erickson, Joanne Ryan Joanne Neff, and Marilyn Blanche at the noon lunch. The girls were well satisfied with Mom Steele's terrific cooking. They left contented and richer by two white roses and a I go Pogo pin.

Tuesday night the fraternity held an exchange fireside with the nurses at American Lake Veterans Hospital. Everybody had an exceptionally good time.

SAE . . .

Bill Donley, an active member of the Minerva House Corporation reports the SAE's hope to be in their new house within the next three weeks. Unless unforeseen circumstances do not permit it the SAE's will probably start redecorating and moving in on November 3rd. A big housewarming party will be held soon after they move in, with present plans calling for invitations to be sent to all sororities and fraternities on the campus, the neighbors in the immediate vicinity and also to the SAE and Pi Tau Omega alums in the city.

Red eyes, and yawning mouths won't be uncommon around the SAE house for the next couple of days as the brothers take on the task of preparing four entries for the Homecoming parade, and also setting up perhaps the most unusual house decorations ever to have been seen on this campus. Doug Muir (famous for his fabulous ideas and sarcastic writings) is in charge of house decorations.

While on the subject of Homecoming it might be interesting to note that SAE is also planning a big luncheon on Saturday afternoon for all SAE alums in town. After the luncheon the active members and the alums will go as a group to the game.

The phone number of the SAE chapter house as given in the log book recently issued is incorrect. The new number (new for over a year) is PROctor 1956. Incidentally this number is of particular significance to all SAE's as the year 1956 marks the 100th anniversary of the founding of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Bob Hogberg, an SAE alum recently on duty in Korea with the Navy returned home this past week.

Delta Delta Delta . . .

Last Monday night the pledges of Tri Delta held their sneak. And—the members found them! Sneak unsuccessful.

The members and pledges are busy on the Homecoming decorations. Barbara Kidder is chairman of the room and Shirley Skinner has the chairmanship of the float. Barbara Hill is over-all chairman for the sorority.

The Mother's Club held a beautiful tea Sunday afternoon. The new pledges and their mothers were the honored guests.

October 31st the Tri Deltas will attend an exchange given by the Sigma Nus.

Theta Chi . . .

Theta Chi nominated Ray Gosney as their candidate for Homecoming king, last Monday.

Plans were discussed for house decorations and floats in the parade.

The regional conference of Theta Chi will be held at CPS this year. Temporary chairmen were appointed to begin work on the project.

Delta Alpha Gamma . . .

The Gammas welcomed three new pledges Monday night. They are Marilyn Hanson, Jane Mueller and Elizabeth Terrien.

It was announced that the pledge dance, set for November 21, will follow a "Gay Nineties" theme.

Mrs. Rogers, who is to be our new adviser, was introduced at the meeting.

Although suffering from a few minor injuries, the Gammas are celebrating the triumphant victory over their opposition in last Sunday's football game. (6-0)

All members are now the proud possessors of fashionable checked hats.

Delta Kappa Phi . . .

As a sign of appreciation for coaching and supporting the Gammas in their football fracas with Tri-Delts last Sunday, the Delta Kaps received a miniature football player centerpiece from the sister sorority.

The DK's and Gammas combined forces at last Monday night's business meeting to discuss plans for Homecoming. The two groups decided to work together in building their floats. In charge of house decorations and float for the DK's are George Hoyer and Don Snyder.

Cigars were received by Delta Kappa Phi's with the announcement of Boyd Curtiss being pinned to Verla Wilson. Curtiss, a former student and DK at CPS, is now attending the University of Washington.

The DK and Gamma pledges are completing plans for their pledge dance slated for November 21.

Last Saturday after the PLC game the fraternity held an informal fireside at their house.

Sigma Chi . . .

Heading plans for Homecoming decorations and parade float are Jon Torgerson and Tom Baker. The annual pledge dance with the Lambdas held last Friday night was enjoyed by everyone. Stan Selden was given a birthday surprise at the dance with a paddle and the arms of twenty-one Lambdas.

The Mother's Club is planning a rummage sale for the near future. John Ramsey is the new Associated Editor.

The "MG's" are getting tuned up for the chase during the future planned pledge sneak.

Geology Club . . .

Want to see some U. S. jade?

One of the areas of the U. S. which has just been discovered as a source of jade is the Lander District in Wyoming. This area bids fair to be one of the world's leading jade districts. Through the courtesy of Dr. George Allan Odgers, the Geology Department has received eight specimens from Lander which illustrate the main types of jade from that area.

Versatility in Geology, as in many other fields, is not a handicap. Colored slides of mountain formations taken over different countries by three different people, were shown at Wednesday noon's meeting in Howarth 307. These three photographers are Don Jones, David Holmes, and Bob Walton.

International Relations Club . . .

Members and students interested in foreign affairs met at Ruth Metcalf's home last Tuesday. Dr. Philip Fahlandt spoke on Burma, today.

Dr. Fahlandt covered almost all of the geographical, economical, educational, and cultural background of that country. Among the facts we were mostly amazed at was that of the educational system. Each student is given a national examination. He is graded as either pass or fail. The highest possible grade is 45%. (Ed. note: the same as Mac's tests.)

Dr. Fahlandt showed many of the articles—wood carvings, stones and textiles—he brought home. Although we did not see them, he certainly did not fail to bring home some species of orchids to add to his collection.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 28. The subject is the United Nations. Everyone is invited to attend. We will meet at the SUB at 7:15 p. m.

Mermaids Ahoy . . .

Anybody seeing any young ladies with long tresses, scaley hides, and long, fishy tails flopping about the campus, please contact Miss Bond.

On the other hand, any girls interested in obtaining that mermaid look might also get in touch with Miss Bond and sign up for the Y.W.C.A. swim class that is now available for P.E. credit and W.A.A. points. The class meets at 3:30 each Thursday afternoon at the Y.W.C.A. pool.

The requirements for the course are a medical examination, a swimming cap, and a pair of clogs.

The benefits of the course are 100 W.A.A. points for satisfactory attendance and accomplishments—and most important, that aforementioned mermaid figure.

CAMPUS By-Line

DOUG MUIR

You can always tell when Homecoming season is here. The frost starts to form on the pumpkin and the crisp air brings out the sweaters. Then the sweaters bring out the girls. Football is in its glory, especially the color of the cheer leaders with their backfields in motion.

Yes, right in the middle of this wonderful autumn beauty is Homecoming. At this time all the grads lay down their shovels, park their garbage trucks, and leave their street cleaning to return to the good old alma mater. It's a terrific scene as we approach the campus and find Jones Hall swarming with eager alums, all congratulating one another on their failures in this torn world of strife.

A large bus will pull up and you will notice a long line of handcuffed individuals pour out. They will have a fiendish look on their face, and a few will probably start gnawing on the Color Post. This is the most interesting part of the three-day celebration. It is estimated that some 97½% of our grads have wound up in some mental institution. The administration does not condone the return visits of some of the more serious cases. The destruction caused by these mentally demented has taken a terrific toll on the CPS budget, buildings, and secretarial staff.

The state penal institutions have a considerable decline in our graduate's enrollment. It is expected that a very small portion of the returning alums will be able to make our festivities this year due to the seriousness of their sentence.

What type of impression will Puget Sound leave on these dear departed members of old alma mater? The usual one, we hope. The students in the classroom will naturally look the same, ever busy studying, and of course doodling and carving on their neighbor's seats. House decorations, float construction, and lavish welcoming blasts will occupy much of the students' time.

To be serious for a moment, is there any reason why the sororities could not build house decorations on the exterior of the SUB? It seems to me that the present method of room decorating is a makeshift attempt of sorority representation in the Homecoming festivities. The fact that the women's groups do not have houses on this campus should not restrict them from really putting on a bang-up show outside. There are two walls with street frontage at the SUB. Four sororities could put these to ample use, with plenty of elbow room. Little things like this could make the pre-game celebration far more effective, and boost Puget Sound Homecoming spirit to an even greater height.

Back to the lighter side, Saturday morning will prove spectacular in many ways. Each year when Tacoma hears about our Homecoming parade, the merchants board up their windows and local mothers keep their children indoors. Everyone scatters for the hills as CPS weaves its way through the downtown streets. About the only people left to witness the parade are a few hobos scattered here and there. When the parade ends, they are usually amidst the participants. Last year the Pi Phi's had a larger group finishing than starting.

It's almost time for the game, so let's head out for Cheney field. We arrive early and find the bloodthirsty spectators getting very impatient. The yell staff decides to spell out Massachusetts Institute of Technology, which doesn't make sense, but kills time. In fact, the game is half over by the time they finish.

Notice all the smiling alums in the stands, especially the bald-headed ones that persist in chasing freshman girls up and down the aisles. And the game! What a massacre! The going is so rough that coach Heinrick himself played quarterback along with the entire Gamma line in the last five minutes of play. We win!

The dance is always the highest spot of the gala weekend. Here many charming couples can be seen on the floor with the latest of fashions. Others were dancing to the music of Benny Gill and his orchestra. What a night. As the curtain falls on another Homecoming, the administration wipes its forehead in relief, while the students settle down to prepare for a bigger and livelier one next year.

Letter to the Editor . . .

Dear Sir:

I wonder is those "in the know" would answer these questions for my benefit?

1. Why have we not revived the Varsity Show or at least held an All College Review?

2. Why cannot the school set up its own accident insurance plan, along the same lines as those already proven by both small and large corporations, to take care of those who need such a plan?

3. Why are the Homecoming co-chairmen and their committee heads not appointed in the spring, in order to avoid the confusion and last minute rush that was evident this year?

4. Finally, why does it seem to be that the student officers who supposedly represent us in Our student government, when they get into session suddenly become timid and are afraid to challenge the wishes of the administration?

Each one of these questions has proven to be a mystery in the minds of many students, and a direct reply should be forthcoming.

Congratulations Mr. Editor on a very improved news sheet compared to the dribble we withstood last year.

Yours truly,

Judiciary Council . . .

Members of the Judiciary Council held their first meeting Thursday, October 16th. Appointed by President, George Fossen, the council consists of: Seniors—JoAnn Neff, Duane Wegner, Sail Hendricks; Juniors—Mary Ann Jugovich, Clarence Engell, Nancy Beeman; Sophomores—Florence Fleck, Don Chew, Jean Cameron.

The Judiciary Council will presently administer an examination to the elected officers of ASCPS on the constitution and on "Robert's Rules of Order." This council will meet weekly to organize needed changes, interpretations, and fulfillments in the ASCPS constitution.

The second meeting of the Judiciary Council was held Tuesday, Oct. 21. The test for the ASCPS officers on the constitution and "Robert's Rules of Order" is prepared. The council is reviewing the ASCPS constitution and is making revisions throughout.

Helser to Speak . . .

Securities and the stock market will be the topic of a speech by J. Henry Helser, founder and president of J. Henry Helser and Co., investment managers, Portland, Ore. The speech will be delivered to economics and business administration students during Dr. Battin's class at 9 a. m. Tuesday in Jones hall auditorium. Any students interested in attending the meeting are invited to do so, said Dr. Battin.

Born of a banking family and trained in the banking business, Helser attended Stanford university in 1921-24, where he graduated from the college's artillery school. At Stanford he played end for the varsity football squad.

After working for several business firms, Helser became manager of the Securities department, American National bank, Portland, Ore., in 1930.

Refusing an offer to continue with the bank, Helser established the firm of J. Henry Helser and Co., investment managers, on June 1, 1932. This was done against the advice of his colleagues, who argued against establishing a new business during the worst part of the depression.

During the first decade in business, the firm had 500 clients. Now it has over 3000 clients in the United States, Europe, and the Orient.

The company maintains a full-floor suite of modernly equipped offices in the Platt building, Portland, Ore., and has another principal office in San Francisco and has 15 offices in all in Oregon, Washington, and California. Many company representatives, elsewhere than in the coast states, work from their homes.

In World War II, Helser served as a company commander in the late Lt. General George Patton, Jr.'s Third army. At the close of the war he was discharged with the rank of major and awarded a bronze star.

Convocation...

After announcements and before beginning the Homecoming Preview for '52 in chapel Tuesday, Delores Kaiser was tapped for Spurs, making her the fifteenth Spur. Wally Tonstad was master of ceremonies of the preview and he first called out from behind the curtain Dick Lane, who told about the Homecoming play, "Heaven Can Wait." Several short scenes in the play were staged leaving everyone puzzled and curious as to what it is all about.

Dick Thayer popped out from behind the curtain to show what a mock convention is like. Long-legged gals paraded down the aisles looking for bearded males in the audience.

The five Homecoming candidates were introduced and escorted down the aisles. Next Jayne Strickland announced the band for the Homecoming dance will be Benny Gills. Thursday afternoon will see the Sophomore and Freshmen battle it out in a bag rush.

Topping off the Homecoming preview was a football rally lead by the cheer leaders.

Gamma-Pi Phi Football Game...

Is football strictly a boy's game or can girls play it too? This question was answered Sunday afternoon when the Delta Alpha Gamma and Pi Beta Phi sororities met on the Jefferson play ground.

With the aid of several male coaches, the two sororities managed to line up for an 11-woman football game. The Pi Phi's kicked off to the Gamma's and the game was under way.

The Gamma's made a TD on an aerial to Maris Anderson. The try for point, which was kicked by Margaret Heinrick, failed to clear the goal post by a few inches. At the end of the first half the score stood 6-0, Gamma's.

The second half was battled evenly, with neither team scoring. Both sororities were greatly hampered by rules and the referees. Bob Ehrenheim and Frank Buonomo.

Neither team suffered any serious injuries but it was noticed Monday that many of the players couldn't walk or raise their arms.

Intramural Football . . .

Monday afternoon the Theta Chis and Sigma Chis squared off on a rain-swept field up Sixth Avenue way. The combination of slippery ball and slick shoes made these contests very acrobatic.

The three o'clock game was a nip and tuck battle all the way, with the Theta Chis holding the 6-0 margin when the mud settled.

The first half was slopped through with neither team making a serious threat. Midway in the second half the Theta Chis uncorked a long pass play from Marr to Names which ended up in the end zone. The play covered some sixty yards.

As the game was drawing to a close the Sigma Chis gathered steam and had moved the ball down to the four yard line when the whistle blew ending the contest.

The wet, soggy jerseys were slipped on the backs of the four o'clock ball clubs and the second game of the afternoon was ready to start. As the referee wiped the fog and rain from his glasses, the Sigma Chis kicked off to the eager Theta Chis.

The Sigma Chis scored early in the contest on a seventy-five yard pay dirt gallop, over a slimy turf, by Chaney.

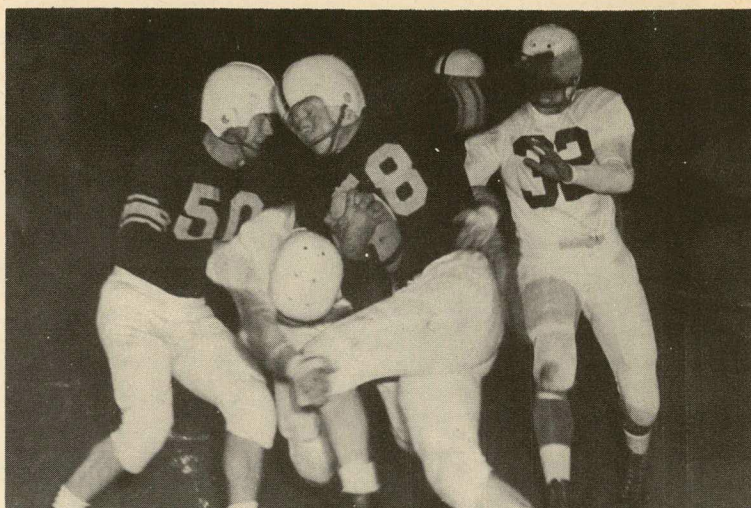

In the closing minutes, Mackey pulled down a pitch out and scampared fifty-five yards for the Sigma Chi's final TD. The second conversion of the game was good and the score ended up with a 14-0 margin for the Sigma Chis.

Wednesday afternoon the sod flew furiously as the Sigma Nu's and Delta Kap's battled it out at Jefferson field.

In the three o'clock game, the DK's kicked off. The Sigma Nu's immediately moved the ball toward the goal. DK's Hedland ended the threat with an interception on the one yard line. Two plays later the whole Sigma Nu line smothered Brown in the end zone for a safety and two points.

Later, Albertson of the Sigma Nu's turned juggler for a few seconds as he pulled down a Divan aerial on the five yard line. The next play Kraabel tossed a jump pass to Jorgenson for the Sigma Nu's first touchdown.

The Delta Kaps scored a little later when Hedland took a short pass from Dixon and went fifty yards to pay dirt.

Cartwright set up the final score for the Sigma Nu's when he grabbed a Kraabel heave deep down in the Delta Kap's territory. On the next play Jorgenson, not to be out done by his fellow end Albertson, came up with a circus catch of Kraabel's touchdown toss, to give the Sigma Nu's their 14 to 6 victory.

It was anybody's ball game until the last 15 seconds of play in the four o'clock game. DK's guard, Corwin, charged through to block a Sigma Nu punt in the end zone as the closing seconds ticked off. This gave the Delta Kap's their victory margin 8-6.

Delta Kap's scored first when Boesel intercepted a pass on the Sigma Nu's twenty. Two plays later, Miller hit Wright in the end zone for the DK touchdown.

In the second half a long pass from Spezia to Klinz accounted for thirty-five yards and the Sigma Nu touchdowns. From then on the game was knotted until the blocked kick.

Next week: Oct. 27—Kappa Sigma vs. Theta Chi; Oct. 29—Sigma Nu vs. Todd Hall.

Don Boesel.

Lute's Revenge . . .

Even the Heinrick jinx couldn't stop the PLC Gladiators last Saturday night at Lincoln Bowl as the Lutes gained a 7-0 decision over the Loggers.

Despite Viafore's passing and sensational pass snagging by Retallick and Meshke, it was a case of too much power in the Lutheran defensive line as the Loggers were repeatedly held for downs inside of the 20 yard stripe.

A word must also be said for the CPS defensive unit which never allowed the Lutes inside of the 50 yard line in the second half except for the one long gain by Art Swanson which set up the PLC touchdown.

PLC's Gladiators not only walked off with the "Totem Pole" and the city championship, but also knocked the Loggers out of contention for the league title.

Since Whitworth defeated Western 20-14 last Saturday, the only serious threat remaining to PLC's league title aspirations is Central.

Campus capers call for Coke

Win or lose, you'll get different opinions when the gang gathers to rehash the game. But on the question of refreshment, everyone agrees—you can't beat ice-cold Coca-Cola.
