

Trail Sending 3 Students to UN Meet at S.F.

Three students from the College of Puget Sound will be sponsored by the Trail to attend the fifth Model United Nations assembly May 5-7 at San Francisco, announced Trail editor Terry Schick.

Two persons will be selected from the student body. A member of the Trail staff will complete the CPS delegation. Delegates from colleges and universities of the 11 western states of the United States, Hawaii, Alaska, Canada and Mexico will participate in the assembly.

Board Okays Funds

Central Board approved the Trail's request for $200 to send a CPS delegation to the affair. This amount will be taken from last year's Trail balance of more than $800.

The CPS student newspaper will pay travel costs, lodging, conference registration fees and half of the delegates' food expenses.

Students who wish to attend the conference must make written applications to the Trail. March 4 is the deadline for receiving applications. Any student carrying 12 or more hours and having a 2.0 or better cumulative grade point average may apply.

In their applications students must list their high school and college activities. Applicants are to give details of their background and any interests they believe will qualify them to go to the conference. They must in-dicade in their application their willingness to speak before groups about the conference upon their return from the two-day affair.

A formal statement consisting of 100-200 words telling why they wish to attend the model assembly must accompany the application. Application forms may be picked up at the Trail office in the SUB beginning Wednesday noon.

Selection Committee Given

Five faculty members, ASCPS President Jim Nelson and Schick will choose two students. The third delegate, a member of the Trail staff, will be selected by the student newspaper.

Three CPS professors have already agreed to serve on the selection committee. They are Dr. Warren Tomlinson, Dr. Lyle S. Shelmidine and Dr. Helen Fossum.

"It should be pointed out that students from any field are eligible to attend the conference," stressed Schick. "Because the affairs of government are important to persons engaged in all types of work, they should be given the opportunity to learn more about them through attendance at this conference," he added.

Can Get Preview Friday

All applicants are urged to attend a preview of the model assembly at 4:30 p.m. Friday at CPS during the Pacific Northwest regional meeting of International Relations clubs. There they will be able to get an idea of what will take place at the actual conference.

The delegation from this college will represent one of the nations not now a member of the United Nations. In order of their preference, they are Italy, Austria, Finland, or Cambodia. As delegates of one of these countries, they may sit on various UN committees and may apply for membership to the UN General Assembly at the meet.

The model General Assembly will meet in the San Francisco Opera House, birthplace of the United Nations. Other meetings will be held on the campus of San Francisco state college, host of this year's Model United Nations.

120 Expected At IRC Meet

The College of Puget Sound International Relations club will be host to the Pacific Northwest Regional conference of International Relations clubs Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. Dr. Warren Tomlinson, advisor to IRC, estimated that approximately 120 delegates from more than 20 colleges and universities will attend.

Bruce Berney and Carol Hahn are co-chairmen in charge of preparations for the conference.

Features Dance

A semi-formal dance "Evening in Hawaii" will highlight Friday evening's activities. Don Haas and Ken Hagen are co-chairmen for the affair, which will be held from nine until midnight in the SUB. Sandra Grondahl will handle decorations and Lauren Sakaguwa is in charge of refreshments.

Former Official To Speak

Principal speakers at the conference will include Dr. K. C. Wu, a former official of the Chinese Nationalist government; Dr. R. Franklin Thompson president of CPS; Dr. Kline Swygard, Oregon State College; Roger Mastude, a CPS graduate and representative of the Foreign Policy association; and Dr. John Maki, University of Washington.

In the past, IRC regional conferences have been held to facilitate working relationships between clubs. This conference, Dr. Tomlinson stated, will see an expansion of the conference program to a general consideration of international relations.

Two phases of international relations, security arrangements and improving human welfare, will be discussed by the conference.

Discuss Model Assembly

Conference participants will register at Jones hall Thursday. Friday afternoon they will hear several speakers and an explanation of the U.N. Model Assembly to be held in San Francisco in May.

Friday afternoon delegates will take part in round table discussions and special meetings. A banquet at the New Yorker cafe and the dance at the SUB complete the day's activities.

Films, more round table discussions, and a business meeting conclude the activities of the conference Saturday.

Representatives will be lodged in private homes and fraternity houses.

RON NEWGARD, (standing) Norm Lawrence, Bill Tudor, Jerry Hulscher, (left to right) are installing seats in the ski bus. The ski bus will make regular round trip runs to Chinook every Saturday and Sunday until the end of the ski season. Reservations may be made by signing the list on the Chinook bulletin board in lower Jones hall. Cost of a round trip is $1.50.

CPS to Host Methodist Youths; District Elections to Be Held

The midwinter Methodist Youth institute will be held at CPS Friday afternoon and Saturday. The Rev. Keith Mills, district youth director, estimated that about 200 Methodist high school students from the Seattle-Tacoma district will take part in the institute.

The purposes of the institute are election of district officers, inspiration, and fellowship stated the Rev. Don Utterback.

Those attending the two-day convention will bring sleeping bags. The college has made available the fieldhouse and women's gym for sleeping quarters.

Military Ball Set For March 25

The third annual CPS ROTC Military ball will be March 25 at the McChord Air Force Base Officers club.

A special feature of this year's dance will be the selection of a CPS girl to reign as Honorary Co-ed Colonel.

In order to qualify, a girl must be backed by a petition having 15 Cadet signatures. Any group of ROTC Cadets may sign a petition but they must sign only once, thus limiting the candidates to 10 or 12.

Candidates must submit an 8x10 glossy photograph of themselves. This will be used for publicity and final selection.

Deadline for petitions is Feb. 22. The Cadets will then pick the top three girls which will represent the queen and her court. The outcome will be announced during the dance intermission.

WAA, Intramural To Sponsor Dance

"Court Capers," sponsored by Womens' Athletic association and Men's intramural, will be held at the Womens' gym after the game with Eastern Washington until 12 p.m. on Feb. 19.

Admission and refreshments are free. Dance music will be played by records. Co-chairmen are Bill Medin and Roberta Elson. Master of Ceremonies will be Tom Sharon.

Serving on committees are: Shelly Gerarden; Jane Steeler, entertainment; Tom Sharon, decorations; and Roberta Elson, refreshments.

Undergraduate Education Grant Received by CPS

Receipt of a grant from the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey for undergraduate education at the College of Puget Sound was announced by Dr. R. Franklin Thompson last week.

The CPS president, declining to reveal the amount of the fund, said the college was one of 133 privately endowed institutions of higher learning to receive the SONJ grant. The fund will be applied to the college's budget.

The grant from SONJ was made as a part of a program of corporate businesses aiding privately endowed colleges and universities, Dr. Thompson added. The selections were made by a committee of outstanding businessmen and educators, he said.

Commenting on his company's gift, Chairman Eugene Holman of the SONJ board pointed out that more than half of the nation's 1,000 colleges and universities are privately supported and yet they carry about one-half of the load of higher level education.

250 Debaters Expected Here

Debaters and speakers from 25 colleges and universities in the Pacific Northwest will descend on the College of Puget Sound campus Thursday, Friday, and Saturday to take part in the 20th annual CPS Tyro Forensics tournament.

Approximately 250 contestants will enter the three-day tournament, Dr. Charles Battin, director of CPS forensics, estimated. The emphasis of the tournament is placed primarily on junior debaters and speakers.

The junior classification consists of freshmen and sophomores, and upperclassmen with less than a year of intercollegiate forensics experience. A revolving sweepstakes trophy will be awarded to the school winning the most points in the junior division.

Competition Listed

Competition will be held in senior men's debate, senior women's debate, junior men's debate, junior women's debate, one-man debate, oratory, impromptu speaking, interpretative reading, after-dinner speaking, discussion groups, and extemporaneous speaking.

At the conclusion of the tournament 23 trophies will be awarded. Each school is required to furnish one judge for every two teams it enters. Other judges will be selected from the CPS faculty.

To Debate Recognition

Debaters will argue the question, Resolved: That the United States should extend diplomatic recognition to the Communist government of China.

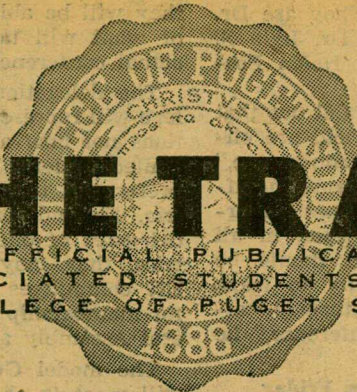

Contestants from other schools will make their own arrangements for food and lodging.

Student manager for CPS forensics is Frank Johnson.

PLC is expected to make a strong bid for the sweepstakes trophy. The Parkland delegation copped the junior division sweepstakes in Seattle Pacific College's forensics tournament last month. Pacific University is considered another strong contender.

It's Part of Our Job

On the front page of this issue of the Trail appears a story about the College of Puget Sound student newspaper planning to send three delegates to a Model United Nations Assembly.

Why should the Trail sponsor these persons to the San Francisco conference? Isn't it outside the realm of newspaperdom? We think not.

In his book, "Newspaper Business Management," Frank Thayer has this to say regarding the function of the fourth estate: "The success of a republic depends in a large measure upon the participation of its citizens in the expression of opinion . . . therefore, it is the business of the press to report accurately the political and governmental affairs of the day."

We concur with the opinion of this University of Wisconsin journalism professor. In addition to Thayer's statement, we believe it essential that students be given the opportunity to learn more about the affairs of all types of governmental bodies.

By sponsoring delegates to the Model United Nations, the Trail will be helping to keep alive the principles of an organization striving to establish world peace.

NEWS OF THE GREEKS

Mrs. Gladys Bennett, district governor, visited the CPS Zeta chapter of Alpha Phi last week. Nominated for Sweetheart of Sigma Chi from Alpha Phi were Peggy Smith and Alayne Fletcher.

Receiving the bracelet signifying her as the Pi Phi of the week was Mary Vlahovich. Candidates for Sweetheart of Sigma Chi are Donna Brinkman and Dianne Colwell.

The Mothers' Club of Sigma Chi will hold several teas for the candidates for queen of the annual Sweetheart of Sigma Chi dance.

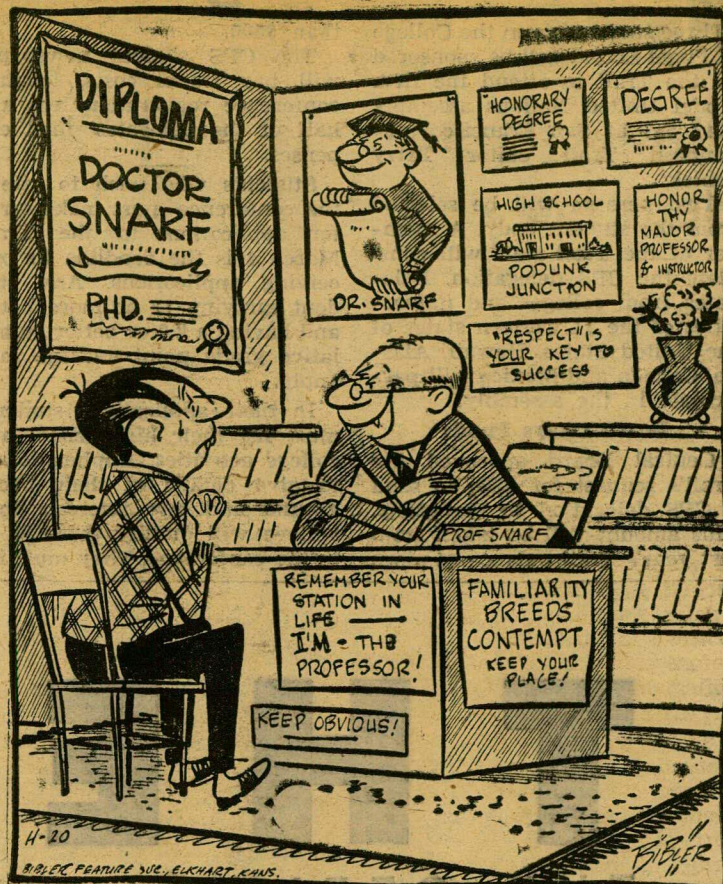

Between semesters Chi Omegas redecorated their room. Candidates for Sweetheart of Sigma Chi are Beverly Sales and Roberta Elson.

Robert Behnke, president of Pi Province North of Phi Delta Theta is scheduled to visit the CPS Phi Delt chapter Monday.

Delta Delta Delta sorority's candidates for Sweetheart of Sigma Chi are Joyce Tyler and Donna Mitchell.

Summer Tour to Europe Available to All Students

Reservations for the European Tour and International summer school are still open, announced Christian Miller, associate professor of German at CPS and in charge of preliminary arrangements for the trip.

May Earn Credits

The tour provides opportunity for combined study and travel for which college credits can be earned, stated Miller. Inquiries have already been received from Eastern states as well as from local persons interested in making the trip. Members of the CPS faculty will act as leaders for the tour.

Highlighting the trip will be four weeks spent in Gothenburg with students and teachers attending the Methodist community summer school there. In the past, students from England and the Scandinavian countries have termed the school a successful study period.

Dean John Register, Mrs. Register, and their daughter, Elizabeth, Anna Horan, Mrs. Horan, Dr. and Mrs. Bullock and Ruth Arlander are among local persons planning to take part in the tour and summer school.

On June 21 the group will sail on the Captain Cook from Montreal, Canada. Their first European contact will be at the port of Glasgow in Scotland and from that point the tour will continue across Scotland and the North Sea to Norway and Sweden. After summer school classes in July, the group will visit Denmark, Holland, Germany, Switzerland, France and England, returning home in the early part of September.

Cost Given

Cost of the entire tour is only $898 with an additional $230 for the summer school in Gothenburg. Travel seminars will also be offered at $40. Further information can be obtained by contacting Miller.

An orientation class will be offered in order to acquaint travelers with the history, customs and culture of the European countries as well as providing an acquaintance with the languages of these countries.

Violet Eckert To Perform

In a program Feb. 11 at 8:15 p.m. in the auditorium of the College of Puget Sound Music building Violet Eckert, pianist, will present her senior recital.

Miss Eckert, studying under a scholarship as a special student at CPS, has been working with John Cowell, professor of music at the college. She plans to graduate with a bachelor of music degree next spring.

In 1949 Miss Eckert was accepted for the Juilliard School of Music in New York and received a diploma in piano from that school in 1953.

In addition to awards received in Western Washington competition festivals, Miss Eckert won honorary mention and a recommendation for concert work after taking part in the nationwide auditions of the Associated Concert bureau.

Miss Eckert will also appear in concert with the Bremerton Symphony Orchestra Feb. 14.

Girls to Begin Semester Rush

Rush started Monday with open house in the four sorority rooms at the SUB. Approximately 20 girls signed up at the Panhellenic Office for the functions.

On Wednesday, a progressive dinner will be given by Delta Delta Delta and Pi Beta Phi fraternities. On Thursday the round robbin dinner will be given by Alpha Phi and Chi Omega.

Rushes may pick up their bids in the Panhellenic Office on Friday at 3 p.m.

Fire Chiefs Battle CPS Tonight

Pirates, Cats Beat Locals

By Robbie Peltola

The often trod-on College of Puget Sound Loggers got axed twice again this past week-end in Evergreen conference play but still came through with its two most impressive performances of the season, thus setting a somewhat brighter picture for tonight's invasion of Seattle University.

Friday night after trailing by 19 points at some stages of the second half, the Logger forces finally succumbed to the rangy Whitiworth Pirates 71-62 but not before giving the potent Spokane collegians anxious moments at the CPS Fieldhouse.

The Loggers travel to Central Thursday night for a return Evergreen conference engagement with the Wildcats. They return home to meet Western Saturday night at the Fieldhouse at eight. The Vikings dumped the Loggers in their Evergreen game after they had previously been beaten twice by CPS in practice games.

Press Battles Bucs

Down 31-21 at the intermission the Loggers fell behind 51 to 32 before a full court press administered by the host club put the Tacomans back in the contest.

Jack Thiessen, Pirate sharpshooter, showed the most in the scoring column with 17 counters. Bill Medin and Russ Wilkerson grabbed 12 apiece for the locals.

Wait Till Next Year

The Central tilt was closer with CPS only behind by a 37-32 margin at the half. With 18 seconds remaining, Wilkerson's two free throws brought the Puget Sounders within two points—69-67, but the Wildcats hung on by their claws to notch the win. Erle Tallman and Wilkerson had 21 and 16 respectively, while the mighty mite, Don Heacox pumped in 24 for the 'Cats.

Jan. 28 and 29 saw the Loggers journeying to Eastern Washington where they absorbed two licks. Whitiworth waltzed to a 97-57 triumph and the Eastern Washington Savages battered the Maroon and White hoopsters 91-75 in a contest that Medin collected 25 points.

All ASCPS activity cards must be validated for the second semester with a number two stamp at the bursar's office, ASCPS President Jim Nelson said, to be valid for basketball games, the spring play, song fest, and the yearbook.

BALLARD WRECKER—Pictured above is Babe Buholm, who will be starting at forward tonight against Seattle University. Buholm has been a starter since his return in January. The ex-Ballard flash has shown remarkable improvement in his shooting ability.

'MEETING the LOGGERS'

There are many adages concerning the generally accepted fact the practice and more practice makes perfect. It seems like this statement is somewhat kleshay but it certainly fits the case of the colorful Babe Buholm.

Starts Against Seattle

Buholm, starting forward on the Logger cage team that meets Seattle University tonight, has been known the past two years for his backboard and roughness. Since he became eligible last week, the six-foot-200 pounder has shown that he can score as well as most of the performers in the Evergreen Conference.

The big reason for the change: practice! practice!

Although not eligible until this semester, the "Ballard Wrecker" has been working on his shooting and ball handling since early November. Every afternoon the former Ballard of Seattle star was working hard at the Fieldhouse to show critics that he can score as well as he can dominate the boards.

His performances in the jay-vee games and the first four games of varsity competition have proven that the "Babe" has found the "touch." In jayvee contests he averaged nearly 21 points and has been doing almost as well in the varsity tussles.

Plays Three Sports

Buholm has been one of the bright spots in the Logger sports circles since he appeared on the Tacoma campus three years ago.

He has lettered in football, basketball and tennis for two years. Rival Evergreen conference grid coaches agree that Buholm has been a thorn in their sides.

At Ballard, the husky Scandinavian was a star in football and basketball.

He was an all-star center in football and played on the Ballard five that placed in the annual State Class A Tourney at Hec Edmundson Pavilion.

Besides working hard on his cage game, Buholm racked up a 2.75 on his first semester grades to show that study always helps your grades.

Co-Rec Volleyball Entries Due

Wednesday is the deadline to turn in entry blanks for the co-recreational volley ball tournament co-chairmen Ginny Weeks and Bill Medin have announced.

The tournament will be held in the Women's gym, 6:30-9 p.m., Feb. 15 and 17.

Teams will consist of four boys and four girls. Entry blanks and information are posted on the Greek, Independent and Women's Athletic association bulletin boards. Anyone interested may sign up.

The tournament schedule will be posted on the WAA bulletin board in lower Jones hall.

Entry blanks may be turned in to Bill Medin or Ginny Weeks via student mail.

The volley ball tournament is the first of a series of co-recreational activities sponsored jointly by men's intramural and WAAA. Other activities planned include a dance following the CPS - Eastern basketball game.

'TALKIN' IT OVER' ... with Ron Frank

Several years ago the College of Puget Sound basketball team walloped the Seattle University cagers by 20 to 30 points every game.

Today the situation seems to be quite reversed. The Fire Chiefs probably even dread playing the Loggers since they are playing for the most part strictly major colleges. Wichita, Oregon State and other large schools have been on the Seattleites' schedule for some time now.

What has brought about this tremendous change in the relative strength of the two teams?

John and Eddie O'Brien is the answer most people seem to believe. But there seems to be more behind Seattle University's success than the two Gold Dust twins from New Jersey.

Active alumni have scouted the country for prospects and a sports minded administration has provided substantial scholarships which attract sensational players. These give the Chiefs an always stable supply of top grade ball players that can fill the shoes of graduating stars.

Another big reason for the Chief's meteoric rise is the church influence. The school is Catholic and it is very natural for Catholic athletes to be attracted to the Seattle campus. Several starters in this year's five probably would not have come to the Seattle University if the school was other than a catholic institution.

Still the active alumni and sports minded administration have attracted many Protestants to the school. Freshman star Don Moseid from Stadium of Tacoma is one example. As the school's fame has spread, many cage stars have acquired a desire for Seattle U.

The school's basketball fame has not only done wonders for attracting more athletes but has had a catalytic effect on the school itself. The enrollment has increased in great proportions, and the fame of their various schools such as engineering and medical is now being recognized all over the nation.

This writer is not suggesting that we adopt all the tactics of our neighbors but that the school should reevaluate its present basketball setup.

This reporter's suggestions for a new basketball program follows point by point:

1. A more sports minded alumni association in the field of attracting athletes to CPS.
2. More substantial scholarships with provisions for either a job or room and board financial help.

3. Try to attract more Methodist athletes like Pacific Lutheran attracts Lutherans.

We are losing money on every basketball game that we play because of poor crowds. With this new program we undoubtedly could fill the Fieldhouse and make money.

There are approximately 2,000 polio patients now in iron lungs fighting to recover from the serious after-effects of this disease. Your help is needed. Give to the 1955 March of Dimes.

Trail Needs Reporters, Admen to Increase Staff

Students who could work as reporters and on advertising are needed by the Trail. Students who are not enrolled for 16 hours could register for one of two journalism classes by making arrangements with advisor Ed Garrison. Students with free time who are not in journalism are also urged to work for Trail.

The Trail will be published 10 more times this semester. The next issue will be Feb. 15, followed by four issues in March, two in May and three in April.

Terrence Schick will again edit the Trail with Joan Walsh as associate editor. Don Nagley will be spring semester news editor replacing Miss Walsh.

Also continuing with Trail work are sports editor Ron Frank; business manager, Gerald Aldridge; circulation manager, Carroll Schick; photographer, Buz Demarest; and reporters, Joan Anderson, Carter Lee, Bernie McCormick, Dale Wirsing, Pat McEwen, James Miller and Robbie Peltola.

Norm Lawrence, a senior, and freshman Nita Firman, are the two new members of the staff.

WA Council to Hear Ex-Formosa Chief

Dr. K. C. Wu, prominent figure in international politics, will present a lecture on "The Hope and Despair of Formosa" Thursday evening at eight in Jones hall auditorium in the current series sponsored by the Tacoma World Affairs Council.

Admission is by season ticket only, stated Russell Barber, student director at CPS. Tickets are available at the college bookstore.

Dr. Wu, former governor of Formosa and close advisor of Chiang Kai-shek has personal knowledge of conditions in that island as well as conditions on the mainland.

Dr. Wu's background of public service in China provides a springboard for his views and ideas on conditions in that country. He served as mayor of Hankow in 1934-38, mayor of Chung King in 1938, acting minister of foreign affairs and information in 1943-46, mayor of Shanghai in 1946, governor of Formosa in 1949-53 and in 1953, minister without portfolio to the United States.

Tamanawas Running on Schedule; Editor Plans May Distribution

Work on the College of Puget Sound year book, the Tamanawas, has been progressing on schedule and should be completed in March, said Tamanawas editor Evalyn Emert.

To date, layouts of senior, Greek, Home-coming and football pictures are completed. The basketball section and write-ups, as well as the pictures of all campus organizations, will be attended to this month. All spring sport sections will be dealt with in March, thus completing the make-up.

Staff Listed

Assisting Miss Emert are Roberta Elson, class editor; Karen Mortensen, activities editor; Don Nagley and Robbie Peltola, sports editors; Mary Ann Mika, organization editor; and Shelly Gerarden, art editor. Bonnie Jordahl is attending to social section, Wally Simms is serving as business manager and Buz Demarest is in charge of photography.

The Tamanawas is the annual publication of ASCPS. It will appear the last of May and will be issued to every bona fide member of the student body.

Must Show ASCPS Cards

Those who are carrying less than 12 credit hours and have not paid the $12.50 student fee each semester must order their year books through the business manager. ASCPS members must present their student body cards at the time of receiving their annuals.

Marsolais Recovers From Road Accident

Kenny Marsolais, College of Puget Sound sophomore, was released last week from the Swedish Hospital in Seattle and is now convalescing at home. Marsolais, 19, of Auburn, was severely injured when struck by an automobile on the Tacoma-Seattle Highway January 16, but he is now well on the road to recovery, Swedish Hospital officials said.

Miss Janice Pittman of Seattle, a first year coed at the College of Puget Sound, was killed in the accident which occurred as the couple crossed the highway at a lighted crosswalk after attending a dance at the Spanish Castle.

Three Fraternities Elect Officers

Three CPS fraternities, Kappa Sigma, Theta Chi, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, have elected new officers for the spring semester.

Gerald Sweeny was chosen grand master of Kappa Sigma fraternity. Other new officers are Tom Glump, grand procurator; Dale Platt, grand master of ceremonies; Roland Jackl, grand scribe; Bill Medin, grand treasurer.

The new president of Theta Chi is Wade Coykendall. David Nicholson was chosen vice president and Stan Johnson secretary. Other new officers of Theta Chi are Bob VanSlyke, marshal; Gerry Aldridge, house manager; Jerry Skaugset, social chairman.

Elected eminent archon of Sigma Alpha Epsilon was Bert Fisher. Gordon Holt will serve as eminent deputy archon.

Spring semester officers for Phi Delta Theta were listed in the last issue of Trail. Sigma Chi and Sigma Nu have not elected new officers.

Lund Made Cadet Colonel; Other Promotions Given

The CPS AFROTC department by order of Professor of Air Science Major Robert C. Owen has released a list of cadet promotions in preparing for spring semester flight drill.

Richard R. Lund was promoted to Cadet Colonel which is the head brass of the Cadets.

Cadet Lieutenant Colonels are

Cadet Captains, Thomas F. Glump, Gus W. Medin, James V. Spezia, Ronald B. Bailey, Robert C. Hough, Jack Hudspeth, Charles L. Preuss, Kenneth R. Stormans, Ray Tabor. Cadet First Lieutenants Dale G. ## Historian Merle Curti to Give Brown and Haley Lectures

Merle Curti, one of the best-known historians in the nation has been selected to present the 1955 series of Brown-Haley lectures at the College of Puget Sound this spring, announced CPS President Dr. R. Franklin Thompson.

The lectures, founded by Fred Haley of the Brown & Haley candy company of Tacoma, provide an unusual opportunity for anyone interested to hear outstanding historical lectures by prominent men in that field, stated Dr. Thompson.

To Be In April

The lectures, which will be presented April 18-20 in Jones hall auditorium, are open to students and to the general public.

Curti, who will present this third series of annual lectures, is the only author to have received a Pulitzer prize for a textbook. "The Growth of American Thought," published by the college department of Harper Bros., is the only textbook to have won this prize.

Historical Society President

Curti is currently serving as president of the American Historical society and his previously been president of the Valley Historical association and a former senator of Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honorary.

The well-known lecturer holds the Frederick Jackson Turner chair as professor of history at the University of Wisconsin. The chair was established in 1947 in commemoration of the role played by Curti in developing at Wisconsin the frontier and sectional interpretation of American history.

Curti is a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and the American Philological society.

Contributes to Magazines

Although best known for his Pulitzer-winning textbook, Curti has contributed to many learned journals and magazines such as the Yale Review and the American Scholar. In addition he has published several books on American history.
