

PETER, PAUL and MARY will be here tomorrow in the Fieldhouse at 8:15 p.m. Artist and Lectures is presenting the program.

Homecoming Events Kick-Off Tonight

by Cheryl Hulk

Tonight's Homecoming Play, "The Curious Savage", will kick off the 1963 Homecoming activities. The play, scheduled for 8 p.m. in Jones Auditorium, stars Kitty Zittle.

Tomorrow's activities begin with the Ole English dinner scheduled for 5:15 in the Student Center. Tickets for this event can be purchased by fraternity men and town students.

The Peter, Paul and Mary concert follows the banquet at 8:15. Intermission will feature the crowning of the 1963 Homecoming Queen and King, by Dr. Thompson.

An inter-fraternity bike race will begin Friday's event. A special faculty team, headed by Dr. Karlstrom and featuring KING disc jockeys Ray Court and Frosty Fowler will offer the fraternities competition.

Next on the Homecoming agenda will be a Hootenanny and salmon barbecue, featuring top Northwest talent. Fraternity men and town students may purchase tickets for the event for $1.30. The "hoot" will conclude at 6:30.

Following the second presentation of "The Curious Savage" will be the Torchlight Parade and Spirit Bonfire. Concluding the day's events will be a dance featuring the Solitudes.

An all-school brunch will premiere Saturday's activities. Brunch will be served from 10 to 11:30.

At noon a car caravan will leave from the Sub and wind its way through Tacoma and back to the field for the Spirit Roll-Call and Homecoming game. The halftime events will feature the introduction of Homecoming Royalty, the presentation of awards and a skit by the Chips and Choppers.

Saturday's biggest event will be the Homecoming Dance, "Camelot," featuring Cal Tjader Quintet, the Johnny Reitz Orchestra and the Shakey City Seven Dixieland group.

Homecoming will conclude with a special church service at Mason Methodist Church, Sunday. Dr. Thompson will deliver the sermon. Spurs will usher for this final event.

Johnny Reitz is well-known for his skillful use of the blacklight effect in musical arrangements: Although not a planned floor show, his "music in technicolor" shorts are a featured attraction in his program.

The Shakey City Seven originated in Lake City, near Seattle, in Shakey's Pizza Parlor. They are well known in the Northwest for their "hot jazz." The style of this group has distinguished it from conventional jazz musicians in that they couple the traditional approach with fresh material.

The Cal Tjader Quintet is well-known throughout the U.S. and overseas as well. Tjader first came to prominence as a member of the Dave Brubeck Trio and later toured with the George Shearing Quintet.

These three musical groups will provide a variety of tempos for dancing and listening for dance goers.

An old English motif will pervade the entire Sub for "Camelot." Decorations for the dance will include a huge canopy, a red carpet, coat of arms flags, and a stained glass window. Area Chairmen include Mary Ann Fletcher, Mary Ann Baird, and Ann Martin.

Faith in Life Week To Begin Next Monday

Father J. Irwin McKinney of St. Luke's Episcopal Church will open Faith in Life Week Monday morning with a worship service at 7:30 in Gail Day Chapel. Local ministers will be guests of campus living groups Monday evening to discuss the general theme "Faith in Life."

The Rev. John Soltman of Mason Methodist Church will lead Tuesday morning meditation at 7:30 in Gail Day Chapel. Jameson Jones, featured speaker for the week, will speak at convocation at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning in Jones Hall Auditorium. His topic will be "A Personal Faith: Words of Men and the Word of God." (Jones is director of admissions at Garret Theological Seminary, Evanston, Ill.)

Students and faculty are invited to a reception for Jones at 3:30 Tuesday afternoon in the Student Center lounge. At 4 p.m. two seminars will be held: the first, in SC 9, will discuss "The Church: A Community or Institution?" Dr. John Phillips, chairman of the Department of Religion, and the Rev. Lawrence Linneman, pastor at First Methodist Church, will lead the discussion. Dr. John Magee, professor of philosophy and religion, will lead the second group in discussion of "Christians in Reality," to be held in the Gamma Phi Beta chapter room. Kappa Phi, national organization for Methodist college women, will sponsor the film "Crowning Experience" at 7 p.m. Tuesday in Jones Hall. The film, which deals with moral rearmament, will be followed by a panel discussion.

The Rev. Robert Morton of LeSourd Methodist Church will lead

Mary Quits Stage for P.P. and M.

Peter, Paul and Mary will appear tomorrow night at 8:15 in the UPS fieldhouse. This article is the last in a series about the famous folksinging group.

Mary Travers is a tall, willowy blonde with a tall, willowy voice, who's been singing folk songs since her kindergarten classes taught by Charity Bailey.

"I went to a lot of New York progressive schools", she explains, "where there's plenty of art and music and the like."

Born in Louisville, Ky., in 1937, Mary came to New York with her parents, both newspaper people, after a Louisville paper went out of business.

She loved to sing in her high school chorus, "where I could really make a lot of noise, but now Peter has to quiet me down."

Mary sang with teen-age folk groups that made it to Carnegie Hall twice and cut three records. But I never dared sing on my own," she says. I was scared to death."

A spot in the chorus of "The Next President", with Mort Sahl, lasted only two weeks of Broadway's 1957 season, and Mary pretty much closes her career on the stage with this musical.

She took a series of jobs in literary and advertising agencies, utilizing her secondary talents. During high school she had a story published in "Seventeen", and later she studied for a year at the Art Institute of New York.

In 1961 in the Village, she met Paul Stookey, who got her up on the stage again. "Suddenly I was on my own", she recalls. "The first few times the whole stage shook. Then I got the feel of it. I was on my way."

Wednesday morning meditations. Students interested in theological school will be able to discuss graduate work with Jones between 10 and 3. (Sign-up sheet is on bulletin board outside SC 210.) Seminars on Wednesday will begin at 3 p.m. The Rev. William Ellington, pastor at Pacific City Methodist Church and instructor in religion, will meet with students interested in "New Trends in Theology." "The Academic World: Faith Included or Not?" will be the topic of the second seminar, led by Dr. Frank Peterson, chairman of the Department of Sociology, and Dr. Norman F. Thomas, dean of the undergraduate school.

An all-school dinner will be held at 5:30 Wednesday. At 6:15 faculty, students and residents of the community not able to attend the dinner are invited to hear Jones' second address: "A Personal Morality: Christians on Campus." A question and answer period will be held at 7:45 in the Student Center lounge.

President R. Franklin Thompson will serve Communion at 7:30 Thursday morning in Gail Day Chapel. At 10 a.m. Jones will make his third address: "A Personal Task: The Church and the World."

All students are especially encouraged to attend Jones' three addresses, according to co-chairmen Pat Kinney, Jim Gildersleeve and Hal Stoltz.

JOHNNY REITZ and his band will be one of the groups featured in this year's big Homecoming Dance.

Hootenanny Features Top Groups

Six top folk-singing groups will be featured in Friday's combination Hootenanny and salmon barbecue dinner. The "hoot" will be the Homecoming Friday-at-Four presentation. Groups performing will include the Funnies, Heather Hammond, Pat and Victoria, Beth Pederson and the Nordic Trio.

The Funnies, also known as the Upper University District Folk Music Association Mandolyn Society and Glee Club, are the "House Trio" at the Seattle Center. The group has appeared throughout the Pacific Northwest and has made numerous radio and television appearance. They are now in the process of cutting an album for a national record company.

Heather Hammond is a regular at the Center. She has appeared at coffee houses in Vancouver and Victoria Canada, Aberdeen and Seattle and has been requested to audition for two major record companies.

Pat and Victoria are in the Northwest for a limited stay. They recently returned from a three-month stint at Disneyland and a six week engagement at Sun Valley, Idaho.

The Nordic Trio, which has already appeared on the UPS campus has performed at Tacoma's Sabre Room, The End, and The Red Carpet Room in Seattle. Their reception has been excellent in all places. The Nordics are considered one of the fastest rising groups in the Northwest.

Beth Pederson, well-known campus folk-singer, will be featured with the Brennan Trio in which she worked this summer in Portland. Rosie Brennan, UPS sophomore, is also in the group.

United Nations Banquet to Honor Foreign Guests

A festival honoring the United Nations will be held in the Crystal Ballroom of the Winthrop Hotel Thursday, Oct. 24 at 7:30 p.m.

The banquet will honor more than 80 overseas guests residing in the greater Pierce County, including teachers, students, medical interns, and seamen. The program which is free, will include UPS student Kitty Zittle and Dr. Tomlinson, UPS professor and many UPS foreign students.

Refreshments for the event will come from six major areas in the world including Africa, Europe, the Orient, the Middle East, Central and South America and North America.

'Cities of the World' Is Homecoming Theme

"Cities Around the World" is the theme of the 1963 Homecoming displays, which will be judged Friday by five faculty members. The judging will be based on originality, crowd appeal, appropriateness to Homecoming, and integration of the welcome to alumnae. The winners in the men's and women's division will be announced during half time of the game on Saturday.

Each living group on campus will submit an entry that pertains to a famous city of the world. The living groups and their entries are: Chi Omega, Pisa; Delta Delta Delta, Paris; Alpha Phi, Hong Kong; Pi Beta Phi, Kyushu; Gam-

Hall Completion Set for August

The construction of a new business administration building, the MacIntyre Building, to be completed Aug. 15, 1964, was recently announced by Dr. R. Franklin Thompson, University president.

The building is to be constructed in the memory of Charles Edwin MacIntyre, a Sigma Nu alumnus who devoted much of his time to speaking to fraternity and dormitory men at UPS.

Mrs. George F. Jewitt, Mr. MacIntyre's daughter who was a Pi Beta Phi at UPS, was asked by administration officials to help the campus. The Jewitts agreed to donate three out of every four dollars that would be needed to construct a new building. Their donation was a challenge to the administration to build a new hall.

The building, which will be located behind the music building, will feature the latest interior design. The exterior will be the modified Tudor design the campus is known for. Sylus Nelson, who has been the campus architect for many years, designed the building.

ma Phi Beta, Rome; Kappa Alpha Theta, City of Hope; Harrington Hall, Egypt; Todd Hall, Alexandria; Theta Chi, Tacoma; Sigma Nu, Dodge; Sigma Chi, Innsbruck; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Tripoli; Kappa Sigma, Berlin; Phi Delta Theta, Moscow; and Beta Theta Pi, Chinese Tea House.

Displays will be set up beginning today at noon and must be completed by Friday at noon. Displays can be mechanical and electricity will be provided. Men students are allowed $50 for their projects and the women students are allowed $40.

Displays will be located on the traffic circle on Lawrence Street and in front of the fraternity houses.

Sigma Alpha Iota

Beta Delta chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota, music honorary, received the National College Chapter Achievement Award. This award is made annually to the most outstanding SAI chapter in the United States.

SAI held a fall rush tea October 6 in the faculty lounge in the Music Building. Chairman of the tea was Gwen Seales. Performing at the musical program were the following SAI's: Carmen Turner, Joy Wardin and Aileen Frater.

On Oct. 15 the SAI's had a dinner for their members, after which Dr. Leroy Ostransky gave a lecture on "Jazz."

The administration hopes to have all plans for the building completed by January so that construction bids can be accepted early in February.

Kingsley To Speak At Chapel

Professor Jack Kingsley and Dr. Robert Umphrey will lead student worship at University Chapel tomorrow at 10 in Recital Hall. Mr. Kingsley will speak on "God and the Avant Garde," emphasizing the realization that man does not really know God. The liturgist will be "freshly doctored" Robert E. Umphrey.

Gavel swinging John Meredith of Chapel Committee has officially applauded last year's attempts at progressive religion. He cited the student wedding and the jazz session as "most stimulating and beneficial for whatever ails ye." Any student found possessing the forward-look in revealing Christ should be sent to the Sub, room 212 at 12:30 every Thursday.

The new Spires' outfit will be a red skirt and white blouse with a red plaid tassled tam.

To acquaint UPS students with the Homecoming King and Queen candidates the Trail provides a brief biographical sketch on each candidate.

Delta Delta Delta — Linda Sizer is the Tri Delta choice for Homecoming Queen. Linda was born in Tacoma and lived at Brown's Point until three years ago when she moved to Sacramento, California. Her activities at UPS include Delta Delta Delta housing manager, UPS daffodil float attendant, Student Christian Council representative, Chips, and Chinook Club. Linda's major is elementary education and her minor is speech. She is presently student teaching a second grade class at Washington School in Tacoma.

Gamma Phi Beta — Bonnie Steussy who is an elementary education major from Olympia includes being UPS songleader, vice president of Angel Flight, vice president and social chairman of Gamma Phi Beta, UEA and Canterbury as her major interests.

Chi Omega — Joanne Williams, who is a major in elementary education, comes from Renton, Washington. Jo is interested in golf, swimming, sewing, and good books. Her activities at school include AWS Cabinet, Chips, Choral Society, and Spurs. Jo won the Chi Omega White Symphony Award last year and this year she is their pledge mother.

Independent Students Association — Joey Wright, a junior student who comes from Grangeville, Idaho. Joey is majoring in elementary education and minoring in history. She was elected treasurer of the Wesley Fellowship Student Christian Council, and is in ISA, and Spurs. She won the Spur of the Year award last year as well as being the club's president.

Pi Beta Phi — Sandy Seyler, whose parents now live in Port Townsend, lived in Aberdeen most of her life and graduated from Weatherwax High School there. In her freshman year Sandy participated in Model United Nations. Her sophomores and junior years activities included being the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi, UPS Snow Princess at the Portland State College Winter Carnival, secretary of the junior class and co-chairman of the Artist and Lecture series. This year she is secretary of Panhellenic.

Kappa Alpha Theta — Inger Eskildsen, Homecoming queen candidate from Kappa Alpha Theta, is a political science major in her junior year. She is a resident of Kelso, Washington, and came to the United States in 1952 from Aarhus, Denmark. Inger is active as secretary of Chips, representative to Central Board, and president of her pledge class. She is also a dorm counselor and works at the pool.

Theta Chi — Jack Cowan has lived in the Puget Sound area for 20 years. He graduated from Mercer Island High School in 1960. He has attended Olympic Junior College, University of Washington, Long Beach City College, and in the spring of 1962 he transferred to UPS. Jack's major in business administration and his minor is economics. He is presently the secretary of the Gamma Psi Chapter of Theta Chi and is their representative to IFC. He is interested in all sports, cars, and fraternity life.

Sigma Nu — Robin Roberts is the Sigma Nu choice for Homecoming King. Robin is a 22-year-old senior who is majoring in geology and chemistry. He plans to attend graduate school in geo-chemistry. His activities include: Intercollegiate Knights, Sigma Nu pledge trainer, and he has been on the Dean's List. Robin is interested in music and science.

Beta Theta Pi — Ron Sleight, who attended the University of Washington in his freshman year, and pledged Beta Theta Pi there, transferred to UPS in the spring of 1960. Ron was the founder and first president of the local chapter of Beta Zeta Pi which became the Delta Epsilon Chapter of Beta Theta Pi one year later. A charter member of the Choppers and an I.F.C. representative, Ron has been on the Dean's List for two years. Ron's major is history and his minor is sociology. His interests include water sports, skiing, music, art, and all social activities.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon — Al Petrich, from Tacoma, is a senior in business administration. His minors are history, journalism, and economics. Al has held the fraternity offices of rush chairman, social chairman, vice president, and Little Sister of Minerva chairman. The school activities he participates in are I.F.C., of which he was first and second vice president in his sophomore year; Phi Kappa Delta, national speech honorary; and Alpha Kappa Psi, national business fraternity.

Phi Delta Theta — John Whalley has served as president of Choppers and heads men's intramurals.

Alpha Phi — Carole Kangas, a junior from Anacortes, Washington, is majoring in Elementary Education and minoring in Social Studies and Music. As an active Alpha Phi, Carol has served as Social Chairman, Panhellenic Representative, and 1963 Pledge Reception Chairman. Spurs, Angel Flight, Rally Squad, Choral Readers, and the Spring Play of 1963 have kept her busy in her three years at UPS.

Kappa Sigma — Mike Tiernan is the candidate representing Kappa Sigma.

Independent Men — Russ Heglund is representing the Indee men. He was elected Little Abner at the recent Sadie Hawkins Dance.

Greek And Social News

Delta Delta Delta

Tri Delta's pledges accomplished a successful sneak last week by hiding in the tool room of the barracks for three hours. It was a late night for the gleeful pledges, however, who had to recover "misplaced" bedding from the Sigma Chi house.

Sophomore Lona Silverhorn announced her pinning to Sigma Nu president Ray Jones at last Monday's meeting. A hosing is scheduled for next week.

Tri Delta and Sigma Nus held an early Halloween party at the Sigma Nu house Saturday. The function was thoroughly enjoyed by both groups. The two living groups will collaborate on decorating a truck for the car caravan Saturday.

Tri Deltas held their annual scholarship banquet Monday. The award for the highest grades went to President Lisette Shaw.

Phi Delta Theta

Phi Delta Theta's candidate for Homecoming King is John Whalley.

"Pajama Party" was the theme of the pledge dance on Oct. 19.

The group had an exchange with the Alpha Phis last Friday.

Rick Nelson was chosen as freshman class representative and Ned Johnson and John Gruen are on the ASB committees for Homecoming.

Theta Chi

The fall pledge class was increased last week to 20 men with the initiation of Arnie Gutfeld, Pete Ramstedt and Dennis Dungan. Officers of the class are Dick Andrews, president; Mike Hinton, vice-president; Ernie Misner, secretary; Dennis Jones treasurer; and Tom Briwn, social chairman.

Recent group events include an unsuccessful pledge sneak, an exchange with the Alpha Phis and a Fireside.

Sigma Nu

Ninety-eight people danced and sang under the stars while they cruised on Lake Washington and Puget Sound with the Sigma Nu on Oct. 12.

Cliff Cunningham, Joel Thines, John Ullis, and Jim Wyman were formally initiated as members in ceremonies on Oct. 7.

The pinning of Ray Jones, Sigma Nu president, to Lona Silverhorn of Delta Delta Delta was announced Oct. 14.

A Sigma Nu-Tri Delta Halloween exchange was held last Saturday night at the Sigma Nu house. Good music, lots of pizza, apples, and apple cider made the evening very enjoyable. The Sigma Nu and Tri Delta pledges decorated the house in the morning. An informal fireside followed the exchange.

Pi Beta Phi

The Pi Beta Phi and Phi Delta Theta pledges combined efforts to make a successful sneak Oct. 14. Where did they hide? — on the Harbor Queen in Puget Sound.

The Pi Phis and Beta Theta Phis danced to a "winter ski" theme at their pledge dance at the Mountaineer Club last Friday.

Sigma Chi

Sigma Chi Derby Day was a success! Despite the rain, eggs and pies whooshed through the air as the sororities vied for points. Kappa Alpha Theta compiled the most points and won the Derby Day Trophy. Chi Omega won the coveted Spirit Trophy. Sigma Chi congratulates all the sororities for their enthusiastic participation. Thanks go to Jan Beck for her commentary on the style show and to all others who helped make Derby Day a success.

Alpha Phi

The Alpha Phi pledges outwitted the actives Oct. 14, when they made a successful sneak to an alum's house in Federal Way.

Amy Carlson and Janis Cratsenberg have been chosen as new Silver Seals.

Lynnette Kinderman recently announced her engagement to Seth Hansen.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"AFTER ALL YOU HEARD ABOUT HIM I'M SURPRISED YOU ACCEPTED THE DATE."

Independent Student Association

Nine members of the Independent Student Association and two advisors will attend the National ISA convention to be held in Yellowstone National Park next week. The convention is sponsored by the Montana State ISA in Bozeman, Montana, near Yellowstone. Those going are Pat Cunningham, Willa Ford, Dave Myers, Al Osanski, Bob Reese, Joanne Riehle, Dick Sloan, John Swayne, Barbara Williams, and Prof. and Mrs. Goman. The group will leave by car Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 29, and return Nov. 4.

The Independent Student Association seems to be well on its way to a busy and successful year. They have had an average attendance of 50 people at their weekly meetings since Sept. 30. Their first big project, the Sadie Hawkins Dance, was very successful, according to chairmen, because of all those who came to the work parties and the large attendance at the dance.

The next big project ISA is planning is Homecoming. Their candidates for Homecoming king and queen are Russ Heglund and Joey Wright. Many people are already at work preparing the display for Homecoming. The city they have chosen is Berlin.

All Independent students are invited to come and join in the fun of ISA by attending any of their Monday night meetings which are held in room 9 of the Student Center at 7 p.m. or any of their work parties.

Gamma Phi Beta

Bonnie Steussy is the Gamma Phi Beta candidate for Homecoming Queen.

Barbara Rothermahl, a transfer from WSU, announced her engagement to Vic Holmes at the Oct. 14 meeting.

Sylvia Shaw and Lillian Loerkey have been pledged by Gamma Phi.

Gamma Phi is proud of winning the tug-o-war at Derby Day.

Chi Omega

Yeh, Derby Day! Chi Omega is proud of winning the Derby Day Spirit Trophy and of Maile Crabb who was chosen Miss Derby Day.

The Sigma Nus were the guests of the Chi Omegas at a coffee hour Oct. 8.

Chi Omega went to the Sigma Chi house for a dessert exchange Oct. 7.

Kappa Alpha Theta

Kappa Alpha Theta has two new pledges, Rosie Brennan and Roni O'Donnell.

The Thetas are proud of winning the Derby Day trophy for the second year in a row.

Awards for the most scholastic improvement and the highest grades were presented at a banquet Oct. 14 at which Dean Thomas was a guest.

Kappa Sigma

The 33rd pledge class of Kappa Sigma elected its class officers last week. Elected were President Chuck Smith from Sumner, Vice President Steve Moore of Portland, and Secretary-Treasurer Larry Smyth from Kennewick.

Dean of the graduate school, Dr. John D. Register, gave an inspiring talk about Albert Sweitzer at the meeting Monday.

Campus Film Review Plans Ten Shows

Under the chairmanship of Joe Puckett, with his committee of Jay Thompson, Jan O'Farrell, Judi Lindberg, and Elsie Sherman, the Campus Film Review is again in full swing.

Two films, North by Northwest and Pal Joey, have already been screened in Jones Auditorium for the nominal fee of 15 cents.

Upcoming are nine more movies with a possible extra the night before closed period in May. The schedule for this year of the Campus Film Review is as follows.

- November 1—Caine Mutiny
- November 22—Breakfast at Tiffany's
- December 19—Raisin in the Sun
- January 31—Anatomy of a Murder
- February 8—Flower Drum Song
- February 29—The Hustler
- March 26—King and I
- April 24—Touch of Mink

Symphony to Play Concert Tonight

The UPS-Tacoma Symphony, under the direction of Edward Seferian, will present a concert this evening at 8:30 in the Mt. Tacoma Auditorium. Featured soloists in the "pop" concert are Jan Seferian, soprano, and Henry Aldrich, tenor.

The concert is complimentary to the public. UPS students are cordially invited to attend.

Tacoma Seniors Attend Conference

Fifteen hundred Tacoma high school seniors descended upon the University of Puget Sound campus last Wednesday, Oct. 16, to attend a conference sponsored by the Washington Council of High School-College Relations. Representatives from 24 Washington and Oregon colleges were available for consultation to help the seniors decide on their choice of a future campus.

The students attending hailed from Stadium, Wilson, Peninsula, and Curtis high schools, as well as Charles Wright Academy and Annie Wright Seminary. Each senior, who had already chosen two colleges on which he wanted additional information, attended two 50-minute conferences.

Conferences such as this are being held all over the state with teams of college representatives traveling to college campuses in the various areas. Next year the conferences will be held for students on the junior level to give them additional time for decision-making.

From The Corner

By Crum

If you recall, last week's "Bob's Place" concluded with a brief discussion of Kilbourn v. Thompson. This case left up in the air this question: whether or not Congressional investigating committees had the right to compel testimony for the purpose of obtaining facts for proposed legislation.

Although surrounded by grave doubt, Congressional investigations continued. However, during the Grant, Wilson and Harding administrations, two other purposes of Congressional investigations became apparent. One was to hold the executive office in check. Deliberate embarrassment of the President was often the result. Also, Congressmen became aware of the tremendous public relations potentialities of investigations. Investigations, by disseminating facts and ideas, exercised a major influence on public opinion. At election time, both representatives and senators found this helpful.

With the election of Roosevelt in the early 1930's, a subtle change in emphasis began to take shape. Roosevelt, blessed with a strong congressional majority, was committed to a legislative program centered on social change. Thus, such inquiries as those concerned with stock exchange practices and banking "reinforced recommendations by the President concerning major legislation." This was, clearly, aid to the administration via investigations. The results are seen in the Banking Acts of 1933 and 1935, the Securities Act of 1933 and the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934.

Backing up for a moment, it is well to consider McGain v. Daugherty, the second judicial milestone pertaining to Congressional investigations. Daugherty was the attorney general in the early 1920's. He was brought before a senate investigating committee on charges of failure "to prosecute and defend cases where in the government of the United States was interested." The Court decision, handed down in 1927, dispelled the doubts born out of the Kilbourn case. Either House of Congress, stated the Court, had the power to compel individuals to appear before their respective committees. Moreover, the major responsibility for preventing "misuse of the power of investigation rests on Congress itself." Investing Congress itself with this "... responsibility ..." has been seriously questioned over the years.

Until 1938 Congressional investigations had, in the main, concerned themselves with strict legislative questions. However, in 1938, the "Dies Committee" was formed. Today it is known as the House Special Committee on Un-American Activities — HUAC.

Next week, "From the Corner" will present the history of HUAC.

Curious Savage Debuts Tonight

By JO BAXTER

The 1963 Homecoming play, "Curious Savage," is in its final stages now, while an anxious cast prepares for tonight's premier performance.

Layne Alexander, set designer, has been working steadily with the production assistants to iron out all last minute details in stage preparation.

Although the flu has overtaken a few members of the cast, they are determined to "go on with the show," and shouts of "Hustle! Louder!" and "Curtain!" can still be heard during rehearsal.

The cast is looking forward to a fine production and hopes to see everyone out for the big performance. Remember the dates... tonight, Oct. 23, 8 o'clock, and Friday, Oct. 25, at 7:30 p.m., in Jones Hall Auditorium.

Spires

Ann Harvey, Danna Kingen, Naomi Misumi and Mary Ferguson are newly tapped members of the Freshmen Women's Scholastic Honorary, Spires. The girls were surprised with a sneak breakfast held at the home of Kitty Zittel.

The Spires, as little sisters of Mortar Board, will be working closely with that group this year. They hope to have a yearly project to benefit the school.

Loggers Spill Bearcats In Final Minute of Play

By PETE BUECHEL

Two last quarter touchdowns sparked the University of Puget Sound to a come from behind 27-20 victory over an inspired Willamette eleven on the Logger's home turf, last Saturday.

Recent returnee Steve Maddocks rewrote the UPS record books with a dazzling display of passing prowess. Completing 18 of 35 passes for a record setting 262 yards. The 35 attempted passes was also a school record.

An early Tony Gonzalves' fumble of a Willamette punt gave the Bearcats the ball on the Loggers' two yard marker. One play was all the visitors needed to chalk up the first score of the game.

Returning the favor, Willamette, on their only fumble of the ball game, turned the pigskin over to the opportunistic Loggers. Six plays were all that was necessary to put the contest back on an even note. The 28 yard drive was capped with a 15 yard toss from Maddocks to end Les Ross. Jim Mancuso knotted the game with his successful extra point conversion.

The Cats came back clawing and managed to score the go ahead touchdown taking a 13-7 lead with them into the dressing room. The final first-half touchdown came on a well-executed pass play that caught the UPS defense napping. The toss-run play covered 50 yards. The extra point try failed.

The second-half brought with it the dawning of a Logger offense that has been found lacking thus far this season. An adequate ground game coupled with the strong arm passing of Maddocks made it possible for UPS to score three second-half touchdowns.

Jack Sather, work horse full-back for the home forces, pushed the tying score across on a 13-yard off-tackle romp into the end zone. Sather's run was set up by a 42-yard pass play from Maddocks to Ross. The usually reliable toe of Mancuso failed and the score remained knotted at 13-13.

A momentary let-down by the Loggers defense after a second Gonsalves fumble of a punt gave the Bearcats all the impetus necessary to drive 47 yards in 11 plays and gain a short-lived 20-13 lead.

Nine minutes showed on the clock when UPS took over the ball on the Willamette 20. On the third play from scrimmage Ross took a 33 yard Maddocks aerial and galloped 42 yards in for the score. Mancuso this time hit on the extra-point to tie the score for the third time in the contest.

The Bearcats were bottled up deep in their own territory and forced to punt. With time running out the UPS eleven took possession on their own 32 yard stripe.

Mixing a few running plays in to keep the defense honest, Maddocks moved the ball club to the Willamette 12 yard marker on seven plays and a 15 yard penalty. The march was capped by a pass from Maddocks to freshman end standout Joe Peyton covering the final 12 yards.

Meet the Loggers

This weeks select seven include:

PAT HOONAN — A senior, Pat played for Grays Harbor JC for two years before coming to UPS. An all around athlete at Weatherwax HS in Aberdeen, Pat also played basketball and baseball in addition to being senior class president. His senior year he was named the Outstanding Player of the Year, an award based on all around athletic ability and scholarship. He is also one of the married players on the team.

MICKEY KALYK — A product of Seattle's Cleveland High School, Mick attended Everett JC and San Jose State before joining the Logger football team. A stalwart on defense, he is having one of his best years. Now in his second year at UPS Kalyk, a business major, plans on entering marketing research upon graduation this spring.

He has a long and impressive list of honors which include, all Seattle Metro League, Junior College Second Team All-American, and JC All-Conference.

LLOYD OWENS—A sophomore, Lloyd played in the Junior College Rose Bowl with the Columbia Basin JC team last fall. He also lists this as his greatest thrill in sports. A graduate of Tacoma's Stadium HS Owens was named to the All-City and All-Capital League teams. He was also captain of the Tiger's wrestling team.

A fishing enthusiast, Owens is a PE major who would like to become a teacher and coach. He and his wife, Diana, have been married over a year now.

HARLAN PATTERSON — This years Co-Chairman of Spring Weekend is also a guard on the Logger's football team. A rugged All-Conference selection last year as a sophomore Patterson has been injured this fall and has been forced into limited action until recently. A tackle last season Harlan maintains that he gets his biggest satisfaction by "making a good block to spring a back loose for a big gain."

"Big Harl", a quite, highly personable business major, has an extensive list of awards but most notable among them are Second team All-Conference at Edmonds HS in both his junior and senior years, best blocker, and participant in the All-State track meet.

Ralph Bauman once again led the UPS defenders. This time hitting a season high with 25 tackles. Bob Izzi and Ron Jensen had 13 and 12 stops respectively.

JOE PEYTON — A product of the Army, Peyton is off to a fast start this year and may eventually develop into one of the Logger's all time great ends. One of the steadiest members of the squad, this PE major was named to the All United States Army team twice in addition to being selected as the Most Valuable Player for the Fort Lewis Rangers in 1961.

In addition to football Peyton is expected to help the basketball and track teams while at UPS. Though only 6'2" Joe can dunk a basketball wearing full football equipment and has high jumped 6'7". Joe is married. His wife is a teacher at Gualt Junior High in Tacoma.

LES ROSS — Now a senior, Les has practically rewritten the record book under pass receiving, including the most passes caught in one season (25). A graduate of Seattle's Queen Anne HS Les claims that the 86 yard run after a completed screen pass against PLU earlier this season was his biggest thrill.

President of his senior class in high school Ross was also a member of the basketball team and played the outfield for the baseball team. Les was also named to the All Seattle Metro League All Star Team. Last season he was an honorable mention selection for the All-Evergreen Conference team.

HARLEY SOMERS — Now in his last season with the Loggers, "Little Harl" has earned a starting halfback position. At 5'8" and 170 lbs. he is one of the smallest members of the team. A business major from Shelton, Harley considers his NAIA record of a 92-yard return of a recovered fumble as his biggest thrill in sports. While presiding as ASB president in high school, he was also busy setting a Central League record in scoring, leading the league in scoring, being the captain of the track team, and playing basketball. In his senior year he not only won the Inspirational Award, but was named to the All-Conference team and was selected as an alternate on the All-State team.

Somers and his wife Judy, are the assistant head residents of Todd Hall.

Swimmers Prepare To Defend Championship

The UPS swimming team began preparation for defense of their Evergreen Conference championship last week as coach Don Duncan welcomed 19 swimmers to the opening workout.

Although the Loggers have nine returning lettermen to form the nucleus of this year squad the UPS meremen have lost several key members from the 1962-63 team. Graduation took John Seremeta, last years co-captain and a member of the Loggers 400 freestyle relay team that finished second in the NAIA meet in Bartsville, Okla. last spring. Also missing this fall are Conference record holder George Sickle who transferred to the University of Washington and breaststroker Bruce Barns. Probably the greatest disappointment to Logger swim fans was the decision of sprinter Rick Perkins to quit competing. Perkins was a member of the 400 freestyle relay team that placed third in last years National meet. He is a junior this year and has two years of eligibility left. This could possibly hurt the UPS National chances, but Duncan has the reputation of building champion swimmers and may come up with an adequate replacement.

Although the freshmen seem to be inexperienced and may take some time to improve there are a few who appear ready to step into a varsity spot now. Most prominent of the newcomers is Doug Hanna. A sprinter, Hanna has shown constant improvement and could fill one of the spots left open by the absence of Seremeta and Perkins.

Since the opening of the season the Loggers have spent most of their time on conditioning. Besides swimming Duncan's athletes have spent their time running, exercising, and lifting weights.

The Loggers first testing will come in the form of the Thunderbird Relay in Vancouver, B.C. on Dec. 1.

This Saturday the Whitworth Pirates invade the Puget Sound campus for an all-important Evergreen Conference game. It will also be the Loggers' homecoming tilt. The Pirates, winners of the EvCo title last year, are currently tied for second place in the standings, just one notch ahead of the Loggers. Last season the home forces defeated their eastern rivals 7-0 in Spokane before losing 27-6 on their own field. This year's game promises to be one of the year's most outstanding games. Currently Whitworth and UPS hold the top two spots in the passing offense statistics and this Saturday should see the air filled with pigskin; always exciting from the fans' point of view.

Last year at Homecoming time the Loggers were considered definite underdogs as they took the field against a strong Central Washington State team, however when the afternoon's battle was over, the scoreboard read UPS 9, Central 6. From this point on the Loggers were almost unbeatable as they rolled over the rest of their league opponents. Only a tie with PLU on a wet, nearly unplayable field, kept the Loggers from a share of the championship.

Coach John Heinrick and his staff are hoping the same thing will happen this year. Last week the Loggers appeared as though they were finally beginning to jell in the final quarter against Willamette. This weekend the Loggers will be out to not only improve upon their league standing, but to send an expected capacity homecoming crowd away happy. If the Loggers can add another win to their record this Homecoming, it is this column's opinion that they will have an excellent chance to finish the season without tasting defeat again.

JOE PEYTON grabs one of the seven passes he caught against Willamette for a substantial gain. The Loggers won the game 27-20.

A new addition to coach John Heinrick's coaching staff this fall is Larry Sanchez. A former three year letterman tailback at Oregon State University, Sanchez will be in charge of the Logger's backfield. At the present time he is a lieutenant in the Army, currently stationed at Fort Lewis.

In addition to playing on the OSU Pacific Coast Conference championship team of 1957 Sanchez was defensive backfield coach for the Beavers under Tommy Prothro in 1960 and was the baseball coach for the Fort Lewis Rangers this past summer.

SPORT SHORTS — Sophomore lineman Ed Kosnoski will be lost to the Loggers for the remainder of the season. He tore an achilles' tendon in the PLU game . . . Harlan Patterson was elected to the All-Evergreen Conference team last year while only a sophomore . . . Jon McGladrey and Pete Buechel, Logger linemen, are members of the TRAIL staff . . . Several Loggers show outstanding musical talent. Guard Joel Medicott announces that center Wayne Fisk and halfback Don Stewart will join him in a folk singing trio. They plan to call themselves the Finkston Trio!!! . . .

Sigma Chi's Remain Unbeaten

Sigma Chi escaped the second week of intramural football without a loss. With a 6-0 win over Sigma Nu and a drubbing of the Townies 23-0 they ran their record to four wins and no losses.

A big game this week will be when the Phi Deltas play Sigma Chis. A victory for the Sigma Chis would give them an inside track for the championship.

Bob Kain, a freshman from Willapa Valley High School, in addition to his football abilities, finished fourth in the high jump in the State Class A track meet last spring and was a member of his HS basketball team that played in the State Class B basketball tournament in Spokane last winter Andy Pazurski, Steve Maddocks, Jim Mancusco, and Harley Sommers all played freshman football at the University of Washington, while Joel Medicott and Paul Rushfeldt were playing for the Washington State frosh team . . .

Pardon me if I sound as if the executive position I've landed deals with the whole future of the world.

It does.

Certainly, there's no organization today conducting more vital business than the business of the United States Air Force. And very few organizations that give a college graduate greater opportunities for responsibility and growth.

As an Air Force officer, you'll be a leader on the Aerospace Team—with good pay, a 30-day paid vacation each year, educational opportunities.

How can you get started? For many, the best way is through Air Force ROTC. But if you missed out on AFROTC, or if there's no unit on your campus, you can still apply for Air Force Officer Training School. This three-month course leads to a commission as a second lieutenant in the United States Air Force.

For more information about Air Force OTS, see your local Air Force representative.

"Non-Jazz Artists Promoted as Jazz Performers" -- Ostransky

By Dennis Hale

Note—"Jazz in America, Present and Future", this week queries the significance of record sales, jazz background music and big bands in this second installment of a tape-recorded interview with Dr. Ostransky. Next week's interview will feature hootenannies, popularity polls and Dave Brubeck.

DR. OSTRANSKY

Question: Many big-band arrangements were featured in the A. & L. Jazz Concert with Bill Ramsey. Just what does the future hold for his big-band jazz?

Big-Band Jazz

Ostransky: There is very little future for big-band jazz in America, live the way we had it to the A. & L. series. The principle function of big bands and big-band arrangements now a days and for the last five or six years has been to make recordings. Economically it's unsound to have a big band play for a dance or even a concert. Back in the 30's when the big bands had their first impetus during the swing era the average pay of a musician playing one of the sessions would be nine dollars. You could have a 12-piece band for $108. We paid $600 for the other night for about the same size band. Now if you could sell this concert over and over, ten or fifteen times, you might get your money back. Otherwise, its a losing proposition.

Television, Records and Jazz

Question: Guest TV appearances and excellent record sales by certain jazz artists indicate a growing appreciation and demand for jazz. Is this statement true or is this new popularity merely a myth resulting from the popularity of a few pseudo-jazz or cocktail-jazz artists?

Ostransky: I think your question sort of answers itself. It's true because most people don't really know what jazz is. A great many non-jazz artists are promoted as jazz performers when essentially they're really not. There is really no rate increase now in the number of people who listen to true jazz than there was when jazz started out. It's always been the music of a small minority of the people. Such current musicians as jazz singers, Lambert, Hendricks & Ross, who had a vogue about three years ago, claim to be jazz singers. The whole idea is to get jazz into publicity or advertising and that brings up quite a few people that might not otherwise show up.

Question: Has the frequent use of jazz compositions for TV shows like "Peter Gunn" and "The Defenders" and movies like "Anatomy or a Murder," scored by Duke Ellington, influenced jazz?

Improvisation—Essential Ingredient

Ostransky: I don't think they had an influence upon jazz, I think that they were jazz influenced. It's one of those cases that I suggested in answering the other question: that in order to have jazz you have to have the essential ingredient, improvisation. It is obvious when you cut a tape recording of a background and simply play this thing over and over, you don't really have jazz. You have what could be called a jazz-oriented arrangement in which the arranger uses characteristic rhythmic devices, melodic devices taken from a genuine jazz improviser, and freezes this by writing it down. Somebody else comes along and plays it. When it was first played it was a result of creative imagination and improvisation. When these other people came along to do this thing it turns out to be a very pale imitation of jazz. For those people who don't understand what jazz is about they're not able to detect the difference between what is fake and what is the real thing.

Has anyone an old piano they would like to donate to Harrington Hall? It seems as though the girls feel they want to express some of their musical talents and a piano would certainly help. If all other other dorms have them, why can't Harrington?

Garbage Can Feature

Do you recall the noisemakers employed at last Saturday's half-time spiirt show? No, not the air horns or the sirens, the garbage can lids. Said lids were lifted from homes in the vicinity of Fraternity Row. In fact, all garbage cans within a four-block radius were stripped clean. Needless to say, complaints of smelly garbage were heard all the way to the offices in Jones, and the culprits were induced to return the noisemakers.

At Homecoming there shouldn't be a garbage can lid left in the city!
