

Petition Signed By 210 Objects To Rec-Room Changes

By Bill Baarsma

A petition of 210 signatures objecting to the spending of ASB funds for the proposed recreation room project was recently received by ASB officers Fred Golladay and Gary Thompson. The petition was circulated in Howarth Hall as a result of information and a picture about the rec-room which appeared in the Nov. 6 issue of the Trail.

Craig Anderson, graduate student, and head of the forces behind the petition stated in a letter to the Trail that the purpose of the petition was "to seek more information on the proposal from Central Board and then to allow the entire Student Body to decide if it was in favor of the redecoration."

The heading of the petition reads as follows: "In consideration of the factors involved and the prices publicized we the undersigned do hereby object to the expenditure of $8,500 of student body funds and $6,000 of general University funds for the redecoration of the recreation room (Rm 9) in the Student Union Building.

It is asked that the above expenditure of monies be placed as a referendum on the next general university ballot to be voted upon by the entire student body after complete facts are made public."

The recreation room changes have been in the works for several months. During the recent Fall Leadership Conference at Seabeck the project was discussed by many of the class and ASB leaders. The large majority felt that the project was needed.

The reason for the project is simple. The present recreation room was being utilized by only a very small number of UPS students. The ASB officers were faced with the problem of either finding some way of using the recreation room for a larger percentage of UPS students or having the Student Center committee change it into a meeting room. Members of the executive committee decided to propose a coffee house atmosphere as a answer. This idea has proved very successful at many other universities.

The money to finance this project will not be coming from either general ASB funds or general University funds. Several years ago the ASB sold ski lodge facilities at Deep Creek. This money (about $14,000) was placed in the reserve fund of the ASB. From this reserve fund will come the $8,500 for the recreation room. The $6,000 from the University will not come from the general University funds but will come from the Student Center budget.

Gary Thompson stated, "there has been some concern over the seemingly large sum of money ($14,500) proposed to complete this project. It must be realized that there is over 2,000 sq. ft. of area in the room. It is necessary to purchase not only booths, tables, chairs, etc., but also a food service station must be installed. In addition to these factors, the room must be redecorated as the petition implies. If this project is accepted by Central Board, it is imperative that an excellent job be done."

Central Board has made no final decisions yet because the recreation idea is only a PROPOSAL as was stated in the Trail. They have allocated $8,500 from the reserve fund to be placed in the rec-room budget so that final decisions can be made.

Thompson added in regards to the petition, "this petition is incorrect, it is completely out of order, it exhibits lack of knowledge of the workings of the associated student body, and its means of circulation (in the classroom and using classroom time) are highly unorthodox."

Anderson states in his letter, "the signers of the petition were not categorically opposing the spending of any money at any time for the student coffee shop, but were asking if the expenditure of so great amount was necessary at this time, if the area would be used by the student body, and if it was in the interest of the majority of students."

FRED GOLLADAY, ASB president, and Gary Thompson, ASB vice president, look over one of the many proposals for changes in the student recreation room. Presently the rec-room is closed and not being used.

Work Begins On Stadium ASB Officers Explain Rec-Room Changes

The final details of the plans for the new stadium have been worked out and actual ground-breaking should begin within two or three weeks. The contract has been signed with the Earley Construction Company for a final bid of $116,000. However, the total cost will approach $120,000 after other expenses have been met.

The playing field will be inside the track with the stadium along the south side, just across the street from the fieldhouse. Further expenses will include improved drainage and reworking of the crown of the new playing field and an increased amount of paved parking space.

Matters leading to the previous delay were varied in nature. The street running in front of the fieldhouse had to be slightly re-routed. Following the hearing on this proposed action, there had to be a ten-day interval before the first ordinance reading and another week before the second reading. The second ordinance reading dealt with the problem of building over the water main. The problem was solved by giving the city "air space." That is, the stadium is constructed so that it slants back and will thus not be obstructing to workmen who may have to get to the main.

The Board of Trustees met with the architect on Thursday and plans have been finalized for the go-ahead. All systems are GO for stadium construction.

(Letters both pro and con on the present petition controversy over the recreation room can be found on the editorial page under letters to the editor.)

The proposed remodeling of the rec-room into a coffee lounge has rapidly become an issue of great interest and controversy on the campus. We feel that there is a great deal of misinformation about this particular project and would like to comment to clear the air. The petition circulated through Howarth Hall last week typifies the misunderstanding.

First of all, this idea is not new to the campus but has been under consideration for five years by administration and student government. The project was accepted by the executive committee early this summer. There are several reasons why this project is under consideration now. 1) Interest of the university. There is not adequate space to serve students desiring only coffee during the noon meals in the north dining hall. As enrollment has increased, so has this problem. 2) Space is at a premium in the student union building and room 10 (the present rec-room) is not being utilized adequately. Furnishing a place for a small number of men to play pool does not justify the use of a room this size. Unless this room is better utilized, the administration will take it for use of their choice, most probably dining facilities. 3) Over the years a sizable reserve fund has accumulated in the student body budget. This is the reserve for contingencies account and at present contains $13,708. This money is stagnant in this account and should be invested in a project that will benefit the students over a period of years. This is student body money and should be used for student projects, not the science building, clock towers, or library books. 4) The UPS campus is situated in a residential community that affords no coffee facilities within a reasonable distance, except for the impersonal cafeteria atmosphere of the north dining hall. 5) We feel that the proposed coffee lounge is a justifiable investment of student funds benefiting the entire student body and would be a definite asset to the campus.

Central Board voted two weeks ago to limit student body participation in the project to $8,500. This action was taken at the request of the rec-room planning committee so that more specific planning could be done. There has been no other action taken by C. B. on this project. The decision to accept or reject the proposal is in the hands of the student body through their Central Board representatives. This decision cannot be made until the planning committee has final proposals to offer. When planning has reached this point it will be debated at Central Board, and all interested students will be free to participate. When drawings and bids have been received, the TRAIL has promised complete coverage to afford every student the opportunity to see complete plans and sketches.

Editorial Comment . . . .

Recently a petition objecting to spending of ASB and general University funds to change and utilize the student recreation was received in the ASB office. This petition proves how facts can be twisted and questionable methods be used in obtaining signatures.

The names were collected in Howarth Hall, many during science laboratory. Several of the people collecting the names were lab instructors. In fact many of the main forces behind the petition were either members of the faculty or graduate students, neither of which are members of the Associate Study Body.

The original purpose of the petition seemed to be a protest over the allocation of the $14,500 for a recreation room before science facilities. Not one of the people involved in the petition bothered to ask the ASB officers about the project. In fact these people did not even bother to find out where the student recreation room was located. In the petition, signed so freely by 210 students, it is stated that the rec-room is Room 9 of the Student Center. This room is presently being used by the Independent Student Association. The recreation room is Room 10!

When it was shown to many of the backers of the petition that to compare the science building project with a student coffee shop would be foolish, a new approach was used. Now it became an issue of the executive officers acting in secret over spending large sums of ASB and "University general funds." The money involved is neither general University funds nor general ASB funds (see story on page one). Again it should be stressed that not one of the people supporting this petition bothered to inquire about the project to the ASB executive officers.

Presently the rec-room committee, headed by Joel Thines, Mark Hutcheson and Beth Pederson, is working on a proposal with two companies to change and utilize the recreation room. CENTRAL BOARD WILL MAKE THE FINAL DECISION ON WHETHER TO MAKE THESE NEEDED CHANGES AND AT THAT TIME DEBATE WILL BE OPEN TO ANYONE INTERESTED!

It is the right of any member of the ASB to oppose a project or bill of Central Board and to Petition for a referendum. However, for a project of this nature to be initiated in the classroom of the University and backed by people other than members of the ASB seems highly questionable.

Letters Give Rec-Room Views

To the Editor:

When a story first appeared in the Trail concerning the redecoration of the Recreation Room in the basement of the SUB for over $14,000, general opinion over the coffee cup questioned whether this expenditure of money was perhaps extravagant, if not needless at this time. No action was taken at this time as more information was expected, but when it was learned that the committee planned to let contracts within the week (Nov. 11-15) the only possible delaying action was a student petition. A Central Board associate informed us that we would have until Thursday, November 14 to obtain 175 signatures. Eight students secured over 200 signatures in ONE day, after which no further signatures were sought.

The purpose of the petition was TO SEEK MORE INFORMATION ON THE PROPOSAL FROM CENTRAL BOARD AND THEN TO ALLOW THE ENTIRE STUDENT BODY DECIDE IF IT WAS IN FAVOR OF THE REDECORATION. Let it be said clearly and plainly that the petition was not questioning the motives of Central Board, but merely presenting to them a cross section of student opinion, which, it is believed, Central Board is interested in. It is hoped that the issue will not become one of petty accusations and insinuations, but rather remain that which the signers of the petition understood the petition to be for.

The signers of the petition were not categorically opposing the spending of any money at any time for a student coffee shop, but were asking if the expenditure of so great an amount was necessary at this time, if the area would be used by the student body, and if it was in the interest of a majority of students. The backers of the petition seek answers to these questions, and have no personal axe to grind; and in order to help find the answers, the backers of the petition extend an invitation to an open all-campus forum at which time the pros and cons of the issue can be discussed.

When the complete facts are made public and the entire student body allowed to vote, then the backers and signers believe that the purpose of the petition will have been fulfilled, irregardless of the outcome of the vote.

Craig Anderson

To the Editor:

I have in my possession, as chairman of elections committee, a petition that was circulated early last week concerning the proposed "re-decoration" of the rec-room. It is no wonder that much confusion exists over this issue, because this petition is based on false information and misunderstanding to the point where serious consideration of it is impossible. The petition was written and circulated by people who obviously know very little of the issue at hand, and accurate information concerning the project is easily obtained. This petition is incorrect, it is completely out of order, it exhibits lack of knowledge of the workings of the associated student body, and its means of circulation (in the classroom, using classroom time) are highly unorthodox.

First of all, the petition asks that the expenditure of moneys for the student coffee lounge be placed on the ballot as a referendum in the next general election. This could be normal procedure, except for the small fact that Central Board has made no decision as of yet for the student body to support or reject. Until such a decision is made by Central Board, the petition is meaningless. The project is still in early planning stages and the question hasn't been formally presented to the legislature. Secondly, it is not necessary to wait for the spring general election if such a vote becomes necessary (the petition stipulates this). A special election can be called at any time to decide this or any other referendum.

The main objection of those circulating the petition seems to be the "expenditure of . . . $6,000 of general University funds" for this proposed project. These people feel that no money should come out of the general University fund until the science building has been completed. To enlighten those concerned, the $6,000 promised by the administration toward this project is coming not out of the "general University fund", but rather a student union building maintenance fund which has absolutely nothing to do with the science building or any other building fund. The administration is quite aware of the importance of a science addition to the campus, but the additional "feeding stations" supplied by the proposed coffee lounge is also an important area of expansion.

Magee To Speak On Religions

Dr. John B. Magee will appear in a public talk on "The Coming Dialogue of World Religions," Tuesday evening Nov. 26.

There is also some concern over the seemingly large sum of money ($14,500) proposed to complete this project. It must be realized that there is over 2,000 sq. ft. of area in the room. It is necessary to purchase not only booths, tables, chairs, etc., but also a food service station must be installed. In addition to these factors, the room must be "redecorated" as the petition implies. If this project is accepted by Central Board, it is imperative that an excellent job be done. We can't afford to invest several thousand dollars in a coffee lounge and then have it go unused. Very careful study and endless hours of consultation have gone into determining this figure. It will take this much to have the kind of coffee shop the student body will desire.

I sincerely hope that many of the people who signed the petition will be present at the Central Board meeting when this proposal is debated. All opinions will be welcome. I am happy to see the interest that has developed in this project, but sorry to see it so poorly directed.

Carlos Montoya To Perform With Flamenco Guitar

By Jo BAXTER

Local aficionados of the Flamenco guitar have a rare treat in store for themselves on Dec. 5, at 8 pm, when Carlos Montoya will be appearing in Jones Hall auditorium. Tickets will be on sale beginning this Thursday at the bookstore for 75 cents.

Montoya, "a gypsy on all 4 sides," as the Spanish say, plays his music, Flamenco, with the true feeling and fervor required to make it great.

A guitarist from the age of eight, when his mother gave him his first instruction in playing, Montoya rapidly emerged as an expert in his field. His ability attracted the attention of the leading Flamenco singers and dancers of his native Spain, all of whom soon demanded that "the incredible Montoya" be their accompanist.

In 1945 he decided to take an unheard of step — appearing as a solo artist in a full evening's program of Flamenco music, something that had never been done, simply because it was thought that a Flamenco guitarist could not sustain himself for an entire evening without the help of singers or dancers. His first concert was like everyone he has since given — a huge success. His tours of the United States and throughout the world can only be described as triumphant.

Flamenco music comes from the Spanish gypsies; until now there has been no written music for it. The pieces Montoya will play at the concert are all his own arrangements of old themes, with his own compositions in typical gypsy rhythm.

As acclaimed by the Los Angeles Times, "The only way to launch a discussion of Carlos Montoya's recital is to echo the sentiments of the large and tremendously appreciative audience with a resounding 'ole!'"

The concert is sponsored by Artist and Lecture Committee.

Carlos Montoya will be presented by Artist and Lectures at a concert Dec. 5.

From The Corner

by CRUM

Recently, a local fourth grade teacher was giving her class a geography lesson. Before them was spread a map of the world. She was pointing out the locations of the major countries. Upon explanation of the national composition of Eurasia, she mentioned "Russia." The nine-year-old pupils reacted with agitation and hostility. The suggestions of this incident are not pleasing!

We are all aware of countless incidents that relate to the above event: that the right and privilege of free expression is undergoing a subtle transformation in the United States. Perhaps less obvious is the narrowing of human concern to a national level. "Bob's Place" thinks, however correctly or incorrectly, that fear, born of ignorance, is one cause for this dual atrophy of minds.

Looking at the Soviet Union, we see that it is comprised of more than jet aircraft, intercontinental rockets and atomic weapons. It also has people; these people have feelings, ranging from love to hate. So do we. Basically, they do not enjoy war, as we do not. They go to school to learn, just like we do. They take jobs in industry, business and the other professions of modern society. They marry, and raise families just as we do. Basically, the human beings of both the Soviet Union and the United States are much the same.

Patently obvious are the differances between their system of government and ours. Perhaps this fact alone places us mentally and emotionally on the defensive. But, if we compare the Soviet Union and the United States in historical terms of age, cultural heritage, middle class composition, ruling techniques, etc., it might be said that each country has a form of government probably best suited to it. The failure of both democratic and undemocratic forms of government in several of the emerging nations suggests that one form is not necessarily the best. Each case must be treated on the basis of the pertinent facts. And, as cases differ, so do the facts.

The preceding paragraphs are not declarations of anti-American "orientation." They are representative of "this corner's" concern for an apparently growing lack of human tolerance among Man for mankind. Does human concern need to know any national boundaries?

Students Will Suffer From Book Losses Says Library Head

By Desmond Taylor

The University Library conducted a comprehensive inventory of its catalogued book holdings in August and September this year. The losses discovered were appalling. There were 4,470 books found to be missing with no record of their being checked out.

Severe losses occurred in history, American and English literature, psychology, education and all other areas. The effect on the serious students and the faculty will be considerable. Many of the missing books are key works in their fields. This will drastically limit available materials for term papers, independent study and also handicap the students in locating sufficient resources for research in all courses.

In 1962 the average price of a book was five dollars and ninety cents. Therefore, replacement costs will run to about $37,000 including re-processing costs.

The inventory results mean that about 800 books have been taken per year since 1956. Not only is there a considerable loss in dollars but also in time. Students, faculty, and library staff are constantly frustrated by being unable to determine the whereabouts of books. Many professors have found that when they recommend titles in class these books will disappear from the library shelves without being checked out.

The problem is grave for all concerned. It seriously jeopardizes the entire academic program of the University because the library provides the basic tools and resources for all study and research. Any loss or lack in library materials will have profound effects on students and faculty.

Printed information is doubling in volume every ten years and in a very few years will double every five, it is estimated. This means that any loss in library materials will limit acquisition of new materials in order to replace missing resources.

Mutilation of library materials, especially pages ripped out or cut from magazines, books, and reference tools has also become an increasingly serious problem. For example, the new 1963 Encyclopedia Britannica has already had several pages removed. Reserve books such as Time, Tide, and Timber have had a number of pages torn out.

These problems are serious. Some books cannot be replaced because they are no longer available. Mutilated books and magazines greatly handicap the student or faculty member who requires a specific article or citation.

Contempt for others, irresponsible and disrespectful regard for private property in the nature of library resources which are intended to be available for all according to their need constitutes in the main the heart of the problem. The library earnestly appeals to the students and all users of the library to observe its rules and regulations so that everyone will benefit to the maximum during their days at this University.

All Greek Food Drive Is Set by IFC, Panhellenic

On Monday, Nov. 25, IFC and Panhellenic, headed by Rick Layton and Bev McCready, will coordinate an all-Greek welfare food drive. Members of all fraternities and sororities will canvas the neighborhoods within a 3-mile radius of UPS, asking for food donations for the Thanksgiving dinners of needy families.

Six groups will be arranged, each comprising one fraternity and one sorority, and will be dispatched to separate sections of Tacoma. The houses will shorten their regular Monday night meetings in an effort to allow ample time for the drive. Leaving campus by 7:30, they will be back at the SUB at 9:30 where refreshments will be served and the donated food will be assembled for the TNT to photograph. The Greek system is looking forward to a high degree of participation and cooperation in this their first community service project of the year.

In the near future IFC will be presenting an ultra Friday-at-Four. Watch for it.

AWS Presents Panhellenic Workshop Seeks 'Vertigo' Saturday To Improve Sorority System

By CHERYL HULK

Blue, purple and magenta set the tone for this year's AWS Tolo, "Vertigo," to be held this Saturday night in the south dining area of the Student Center.

"Mobiles and 'vertigotic' designs complete the 'inexplicable' decorations," says Voski Chakarian, decoration chairman.

Tickets for the semi-formal affair will go on sale Wednesday at $1.50 per couple in the Student Center.

Voting for Tolo King will take place Thursday and Friday. All girls are urged to vote for one of the candidates whose pictures will be posted in the voting area.

S.A.I. Helps in Music Program

Members of Sigma Alpha Iota ushered at the Theodore Ullman recital, and assisted at the reception which followed the performance on Nov. 6.

Beta Delta chapter met with the patronesses and alumnae of Sigma Alpha Iota Nov. 12. The combined meeting was held at the home of Mrs. John Soltman. Mrs. Philip Garland gave a talk on "the role of an alumnae" and reported on the SAI annual scholarship concert which was presented Nov. 9.

The program at last night's meeting was presented by Professor Raymond Wheeler of the UPS School of Music.

The general trend of opinion on mid-term testing seems to be that tests are much harder this year than in the past and many students are discontented with the testing program.

Seeking ways to improve the Greek sorority system, UPS Greek women met with faculty members at the annual Panhellenic workshop, Saturday. A panel discussion by five faculty members was followed by group discussions, in which both the faculty and sorority women took part.

Topics touched upon by faculty members Dr. Nathan Gross, Dean Norman Thomas, Mr. Thomas Sinclair, Mrs. Karen Allard and Mrs. Jean Bowers, included the lack of communications between sorority members and faculty and the role of the sorority in the lives of its members.

Sorority women and all students are participating in scholastic activities but are often missing out on intellectual growth by not communicating with faculty members outside of lecture halls and offices, the professors said.

The panel members emphasized that faculty members are human and should not be considered as demi-gods. They get up in the morning, have breakfast, fight with their families, and get behind in their work just like everyone else, panel members said.

To remedy this communication problem it was suggested that sororities occasionally invite professors from the various departments to speak at Monday night meetings. In this way the individual girls could get to know the professors as well as become acquainted with subjects outside their interest areas.

Sorority goals and the role the sorority should play in the lives of its members were also topics of discussion. Should the sorority strive to attain both social and intellectual fulfillment for its members or should it concentrate its efforts solely on the development of social graces? And if intellectual goals should be pursued, should the sorority only provide the opportunity for intellectual and cultural pursuit by encouraging the girls to attend lectures and discussions etc.; or should the girls be forced to attend lectures as they are forced to attend social functions? These questions and others were brought up in various discussion groups.

It was suggested that to stimulate intellectual growth, magazines such as Harpers and Saturday Review, and newspapers like The New York Times could be placed in the various dorm lounges. It was also suggested that one way to combine the social and intellectual elements would be to invite speakers to fraternity-sorority exchanges.

Sinclair, Hamner Attend Conclave

Dr. Homer Hamner and Mr. Thomas Sinclair of the business administration department recently attended the Northwestern Universities Business Association Conference in Portland, Oregon.

The main purpose of the conference was to exchange ideas on the relationship of business schools to the business community. The need for morals and ethics in business was the chief subject discussed by the group.

This conference was the first to which UPS has sent representatives as UPS was not a member of NUBAC until this year.

Loggers Gridders Finish Season With A Losing Effort

By PETE BUECHEL

A last gasp touchdown by the Eastern Washington Savages sent the University of Puget Sound down to a 16-14 defeat on the Cheney gridiron in the season's finale.

The loss left the Loggers with a 4 win 5 loss season mark. It was the first time in 38 years of coaching that the UPS head mentor, John Heinrich, has suffered through a losing season.

The Loggers led throughout most of the contest only to drop the decision in the final 40 seconds of play. Drawing first blood early in the second quarter the UPS eleven seemed headed for victory. The touchdown came on a 35 yard pass from quarterback Steve Maddocks to flankerback Jim Mancuso in the end zone. Mancuso added the extra point.

Not to be denied, the Savages came back with a drive of their own. The Logger defensive unit rose to the occasion when a fourth down off-side penalty forced Eastern to try a 25 yard field goal. The attempt was good and the teams left the field for the intermission with the Loggers leading 7-3.

The Savages took a short-lived lead mid-way through the third period when they marched eight yards for their first touchdown of the game. The extra point attempt was blocked and the score remained 9-7.

With seniors Harley Somers and Jack Sather leading the way

UPS drove 61 yards to a score and the lead. Mancuso added both the touchdown and the extra point to his collection to give him a day's total of 14 points, all that the UPS eleven was able to score. Maddocks again was on the other end of the scoring play, this time throwing five yards to Mancuso for the score.

With the score reading 14-9 in favor of the Loggers and time running out both squads battled to a standstill in the middle of the field. The wind, a major factor in the outcome of the game was at the backs of the Savages in the fourth quarter.

Dick Dornfeld, the league leading punter, had to fight off not only the wind but also a spirited rush put on by the Savages. With these two factors causing him problems he punted short twice, the second of which set up Eastern's 51 yard drive for the games final tally.

With sophomore halfback Mel Stranton doing most of the damage, as he had all day, the Savages moved down for the score. The extra point was added and with 41 seconds remaining in the game the score stood Eastern 16, UPS 14.

The Loggers were able to move past midfield before time ran out on them but were not in serious scoring position. As in all eight previous contests the Loggers out-gained their opponent but as has happened in the past they were on the short end of the scoreboard.

WRA Hockey Team Is Undefeated

The WRA hockey team returned undefeated from the 22 team hockey tournament held at Central Washington State College last weekend. Only one other team at the tourey can boast this record.

The team beat Skagit Valley College 3-0; Linfield College 7-0; Portland State College 5-0; and Oregon College of Education 10-0. The girls traveled to the tourney with the University of Washington team. The team's season record stands at eight and one.

A WRA volleyball tournament will begin Nov. 25. To qualify for the team a girl must turnout three times. Beth Pfeifer is chairman.

Sports Line

By Ron
Mann

In the bruising and often violent world of college football it takes a rare breed of young man to participate in the only body contact sport in the Evergreen Conference. To compete in a sport such as football a person must love contact. This means being hit as well as hitting the opposition. It takes guts, perseverance, dedication, a strong sense of pride, and an even stronger will to win. All of this is wrapped up in an individual who must not only compete on the football field but also in the classroom with fellow students who have much more time to study. However a true athlete's will to win in all areas of life usually carries him through. All of these things must go into college athletics.

It is true that there is some degree of glory involved in playing football, IF YOU ARE ON THE FIRST TEAM OR ARE A REGULAR PERFORMER! However the great majority of college football players, though they possess the above mentioned characteristics, have never been heard of. So where is the glory or recognition? To be truthful, there is none. In fact, on every college team there are men who do not even get the opportunity to play. They turn out every night, they do the same amount of work as the regulars and often more, they run through the oppositions' plays and let first teams practice their offense against them, and when Saturday comes around they have the privilege of watching the game from the bench or the stands with the rest of the students. To my way of thinking This type of individual epitomizes the true spirit of competition and love of athletics.

Bob Kain

John Whithead

The UPS Loggers have half a dozen individuals who would easily fit into the above bracket. Contributing an intregible, but unpublicized part to the Loggers' football team are Robin Andrea, Mike Burton, Bob Kain, Dick McKegney, Art McLarney, Don Stewart, and John Whithead. These young men deserve more credit than they will ever receive. They are the backbone of any team. It is their job to provide the competition for the starting eleven during practice. If this opposition is weak the results the following Saturday may be equally as weak. However at UPS it is not uncommon to find these lower echlon players defeating the starters in a practice scrimmage. Though this not always the case, it does serve to show the fire and determination that these men possess. The headlines and the credit will always go to the stars of the game, but if it were not for these individuals who give of their time and energy and are repaid with bruises and often discouragement, the team would have a hard time progressing. In short, their only reward is the victory and success of the team. To these individuals I, and all those who know anything about football, congratulate these unheralded heros of the gridiron.

Dorm Discussions To Be Held in Each Dorm Tonight

Calling all women's dorm students! Tonight is the night of the annual Mortar Board Dorm Faculty-Student Dismissions. From 9 to 10 pm in each of the dormitory lounges two professors will discuss two questions which students talk about the most: "Accent on Choosing: The Activities-Academics Balance; the Science-Humanities Balance." This is the chance for students to ask questions, take challenges, and get to know professors on a very informal basis.

The professors will be appearing in the lounges as follows: Dr. Phillips, Tri Delta; Prof. Lantz; Pi Beta Phi: Drs. Tomlinson and Alcorn; Harrington: Dr. Peterson and Dr. Anderson; Anderson-Langdon: Dean Thomas and Prof. Gross; Tenzler: Profs. Kingsley and Lowrie; South Dorm, in Chi Omega lounge: Drs. Krushke and Burk.

Mortar Board urges everyone to attend these unique discussions.

Engine trouble, and not a service station in sight

It was such a tiny speck on the ocean that our tanker almost missed it!

Far out in the Sulu Sea, beyond the direct ship lanes, the little Ermedita ran into trouble: a shattered crankshaft. The captain and some of the crewmen left in small boats for help—but help never came.

Seven days had gone by. There was no radio, just a white flag fluttering from the mast. Not a ship had passed. Supplies were running low. And hope, too.

Aboard our tanker, outbound to Sumatra, a lookout thought he saw a flash of white on the far horizon. The captain altered his course to investigate.

They found seven shocked, tired men, took them aboard, gave them medical care, and towed their stricken vessel to the Philippines, saving their means of livelihood.

It's only one of many times our tanker men have made friends for our Company by giving aid at sea.

On land, Standard men and women seek to make equally good friends for our Company—by the character of our public services, the integrity of our products, and our behavior as a citizen.

Depts. Donate Books to Sister Univ. in Japan

Currently, books are being gathered by members of Sister University Committee to be sent to Kitakyushu University in Japan. All books being sent are donations.

English is one of the two main subjects taught at UPS' sister university, Kitakyushu University. Eight hundred students are now taking English at the school, consequently leaving great demand for books in English. Kitakyushu is a postwar school, not yet completely self sufficient and on its feet.

"We want to do whatever we can to help, and this is one of the projects we feel they would greatly benefit by," said Mr. William Lindley, journalism professor, who is helping with the collection of books.

Nearly one hundred books were collected as donations from faculty members. Many books that are no longer being used were received from the library. Books are still needed and may be turned in to Mrs. Davies, secretary to Dean Thomas. Any kind of books are appropriate as long as they are not too technical or in bad taste.

World University Service will arrange transportation for the books.

St. Martin's and the semi-pro Federals will join the UPS Loggers and PLU in the two-day tournament beginning on Saturday, Nov. 30 and concluding on Monday evening, Dec. 2.

Clint Kelley, Arvid Anderson, Joe Wingard, UPS cross-country runners, finished their season by competing in the NAIA district one meet in Seattle last week.
